To pay my rent I have to go to Dundalk Ontario to my landlord's farm approximately 25 miles one way
To pay bills i.e. phone, utilities, etc.
To get Groceries
To take my daughter's to numerous functions i.e. birthday parties, sleep overs, shopping for school supplies
Emergency Hospital visits
Court attendance re the sexual assault case

In order to get the most reasonable prices for things like school supplies requires a trip to Owen Sound Ontario which costs $50.00 one way or $100.00 round trip by taxi. I see no logical reason as to why myself & my children should be put in this position as these expenses would have to come out of what little I have left for food.

I have been suffering from fibromyalgia for 9 years which sometimes is unbearable to control which requires hospital visit for a shot of pain medication.

I am also looking for another place to live as where I am I can no longer afford to stay as well I am renting month to month as the place is for sale. The heating costs alone last winter were $1600.00 for propane. Therefore I need a vehicle to access the newspapers and viewing potential of new rental property before the beginning of the school year.

Should you require any more documentation please contact me at home phone 519-986-4230.

In closing I would like to add that there is no possibility of the unlicensed driver accessing the car again as he will be under incarceration for the next 2 years. He is my ex boyfriend & the biological father of my two girls.

The vehicle registration is unavailable due to the fact it is in the glove box of the car in the impound yard.

Yours truly,

Pamela Tassie

At the Hearing the Applicant reiterated the statements made in the Notice of Appeal, that the vehicle is essential in order to enable the Applicant, not only to carry on the basic necessities of life such as grocery shopping and shopping for her children going back to school supplies, but more importantly to maintain weekly visits to her psychiatrist and physiotherapist.

The Applicant needs to see a psychiatrist once or twice a week as she is recovering from past incidents of rape and assault. As for the physiotherapist, the Applicant must go once a week to obtain relief from fibromyalgia.

The Applicant has been getting around with the assistance of her friend but because she does not want to impose, she has been forced to devise a series of priorities. According to the Applicant her friend "...has his own life ..." therefore she has determined that only Court related trips have preference.

In cross-examination, the Applicant asserted the fact that she has missed several medical appointments due to the impoundment, and that this has affected her health adversely.

Further, the Applicant clarified that if she fills the gas tank of her own vehicle, she will make sure that it lasts for as long as she needs, doing so, is less expensive than giving someone $15.00 each time they drive her. Similarly buying gas is still less expensive than taking a cab into town, which is a $30.00 round trip. Expenses are significant as the Applicant is the recipient of $830.00 a month Disability Assistance.

Mr. Edward J. Conway was called as a witness by the Applicant.

Mr. Conway confirmed that he drives the Applicant around as he feels responsible for her losing the vehicle. Nonetheless, Mr. Conway remarked that he has his own life and feels restricted by the responsibility of being required to drive the Applicant to her appointments.

In closing, the Applicant requested the return of her vehicle and a reduction in the cost of impoundment as she is not able to afford the $1,200.00.

The Applicant also raised the issue of physical safety, as she testified that the previous night someone had attempted to break into her home. The Applicant feels more secure having a vehicle, in that she feels she would be able to escape an intruder by driving away.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Gary W. Bruner;

3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving while Disqualified under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until January 11, 2003.

The Respondent offered no viva voce evidence at the hearing but relied on information previously submitted to the Tribunal.

In closing, the Respondent argued that the Applicant has not proven the exceptional hardship ground for appeal. The Respondent suggests that the Applicant may avail herself of an alternate vehicle but has chosen not to do so. Further, as long as the Applicant has an alternate means of transportation, her health is not at risk, thus the health and safety grounds may not be considered.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;

- (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The onus is on the Applicant to establish the exceptional hardship grounds of appeal as provided in subsection and 50.2 (d) of the Act, respectively.

Section 22 of Regulation 574, R.R.O. 1990 as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98 is very specific, in that it provides the Tribunal with criteria the Applicant must demonstrate to determine that exceptional hardship will result from the impoundment.

Section 22.1 (a) of the Regulation allows consideration in circumstances which could pose “a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle”. Nonetheless, in order for the Tribunal to apply Section 22(1)(a), it is necessary that no alternative to the impounded vehicle is available. Under section 22(4) of the Regulation, to show that no alternative is available, the Applicant must show that every reasonable option has been considered.

Also, subsection 22(3)(a) Regulation 574 as amended by O. Reg. 632/98 provided that this Tribunal may not consider financial or economic loss as a ground of appeal unless no alternative to the impounded vehicle is available.

The Applicant does not own another vehicle. She has on occasion been getting about with the assistance of her neighbour. That neighbour has indicated that he is only able to do this when he is available. According to the Respondent, this would preclude the Tribunal from considering Section 22(1)(a). The Respondent further contends that the Applicant missed appointments by “choice”, as she could have continued to rely on Mr. Conway's assistance.

The Tribunal does not concur with the Respondent. The Tribunal accepts that there are limits to the Applicant's reliance on Mr. Conway driving her around. Given the fact that the Applicant has been required to attend Court proceedings sometimes twice a week, the Tribunal understands the Applicant's need to prioritize her requests for assistance from Mr. Conway. The Applicant is under the medical care of her psychiatrist and physiotherapist. The Applicant's psychiatrist has stated in writing that the Applicant needs her vehicle to attend at the psychiatrist's office. As for the issue of security, the Tribunal also recognizes the Applicant's need to have the ability to escape from danger, particularly in the light of her past experience of having been raped and assaulted. The Tribunal accepts the Applicant's statement that the lack of access to her vehicle at home, creates significant anxiety, particularly when there has been an attempt to break into her home. In the unique circumstance in the Applicant's case, the Tribunal finds that there is no alternative to the impounded vehicle and its loss is a threat to her health and safety as set out in subsection 22(1)(a) of Regulation 632/98 which requires that there be "a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle."

The person ordinarily transported by the vehicle is the Applicant, and the Tribunal finds that there is enough evidence to substantiate a decision of exceptional hardship. The Applicant has missed several appointments both to her psychiatrist and physiotherapist. Given the past incidents in the Applicant's life, the Tribunal has no doubt that therapy is essential and if missed further mental and emotional anguish could result.

After assessing the evidence presented, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has established exceptional hardship ground for appeal, as required under section 50.2(3) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal sets aside the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: August 27, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: August 29, 2001 Hamilton

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on August 27, 2001, at Hamilton, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Maria Botelho (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	1997 Pontiac Grand Prix, plate no. AJTB 604 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	August 2, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver’s licence was not suspended and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on August 27, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing. The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver’s licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

July 21/01

Licence Appeal Tribunal

I am the mother of Eusebio Botelho who was driving my vehicle at the time of this incident. I had been aware of my son's prior suspension. However, it was my son's understanding and myself that he was reinstated January 2001. It was a shock to myself & my son to learn that he had a further suspension when the car was impounded.

As a result of this impoundment it is causing great hardship for myself and my 43 yr. Son who has Polio. I am a senior in poor health. My son with Polio has difficulty walking. We both need my vehicle for every day life needs.

When I purchased my vehicle I was refunded the taxes paid on the vehicle because it was used to transport my disabled son.

Enclosed is a copy of my son's disability sticker. I am sure you can also access your records which show the refund of taxes that were refunded.

I am pleading with your office to please release my vehicle for the above mentioned reasons.

Thank you very much for your consideration in this matter.

Yours truly
Maria Botelho

The Applicant was accompanied by her son, Manuel Botelho who explained that his mother, Maria Botelho, understood English but did not speak it and therefore he would provide the translation.

Through Mr. Botelho, the Applicant confirmed her knowledge of her son Eusebio Botelho as having been the driver of her vehicle when it was impounded and that she was aware of his licence suspensions. The Applicant also confirmed she had been informed by Eusebio, that he understood his suspension period had ended in January 2001 and that she had believed this to be the fact. The Applicant advised the Tribunal that had she known her son's licence was still suspended she would not have allowed him use of her vehicle.

The Applicant further confirmed that she required her vehicle for every day needs as she was a senior on disability pension and also used the car to transport her son Manuel, who had polio, to medical appointments and therapy sessions. The Applicant also confirmed that she had received a tax rebate from the Provincial Government as her vehicle was essential to transporting a handicapped person. The Applicant referred to the Provincial Parking Permit which a copy of which was entered as Exhibit 3.

Through translation, Mrs. Botelho confirmed her immediate need to have the vehicle released as it was causing her exceptional hardship.

The Applicant's son, Mr. Manuel Botelho, gave evidence as a witness in support of the Applicant's appeal and provided the following testimony.

Mr. Botelho described the Applicant's belief that the driver's licence was not suspended by explaining there was a question about when the suspension was to end or to have ended. The witness explained that Eusebio Botelho had entered into legal proceedings to clarify that question based on the view that the Crown had dropped the charges relating to the suspension period ending January 7, 2002. The witness then referred to several pages of documentation with a top-of-page date of June 12, 1997 and which described the charges and proceedings results.

Mr. Botelho stated that the Applicant's understanding of this documentation and asking the driver whether his licence had been reinstated was her means of exercising due diligence.

Mr. Botelho said that the need to have the vehicle returned was based on the fact that he had received a doctor's advice to do as little walking as possible and that he needed to attend therapy sessions four to five times a week. He confirmed that he was dependent upon his mother to transport him to all his outside appointments and it was essential for her to have her vehicle returned.

A summary of the Registrar evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Eusebio Botelho;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving while Disqualified under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until January 7, 2002.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,
- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
 - (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
 - (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
 - (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines “exceptional hardship” as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

(h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.

- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Regulation 632/98 provides specific criteria the Tribunal is to take into consideration in determining if the Applicant has exercised due diligence and/or suffered exceptional hardship as a result of the impoundment of her vehicle. Under section 22(1) of the Regulation, the Tribunal may consider the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported in the vehicle.

As to the first issue of due diligence, the Applicant acknowledged she had been aware of her son's licence suspension and that she had only asked him if he had a valid driver's licence. She acknowledged she had not asked to see the licence. The Applicant confirmed that she relied on his word and accepted the driver's statement that he had received a letter in November of 2000 which advised him his licence had been reinstated.

While the Tribunal sympathizes with the Applicant and the language difficulties the Applicant faced in understanding the licence suspension process, the Tribunal relies on the definition of 'due diligence' as being the exercise of "a measure of prudence, activity, ... as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised ... under the particular circumstances" where knowledge existed of prior licence suspensions.

As to whether any question exists about the January 2002 licence reinstatement date versus the Applicant's view of the January 2001 date, the Tribunal relies upon the evidence which is on the record.

Regarding the second issue of exceptional hardship or whether conditions of "severity...hardness of fate or circumstance...suffering, extreme privation" were being endured by the Applicant and those who were reliant upon her access to the impounded vehicle, there was no evidence that the Applicant or any member of her family had been unable to meet their medical or personal commitments.

There was no evidence to show that the absence of the impounded vehicle had posed a threat to the health or continued well being of the Applicant or any family member within her care.

In addition, the evidence provided by the witness established that an alternative means for transportation had been provided by a relative of the family and while it was described as an old and well-used vehicle, there was no evidence that this was not a viable vehicle. The witness also confirmed that one breakdown had occurred, a repair had been done and this loaned vehicle was still serving as a means of transportation. An alternative to the impounded vehicle being available to the Applicant, the loss of the impounded vehicle is not exceptional hardship as prescribed by Regulation 574, R.R.O. 1990 as amended by Regulation 632/98.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

In accordance with Section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, and subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, (hereinafter the "Act") the parties to the proceeding, Roger Nicolas Barakat (hereinafter referred to as "the Applicant"), and the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (hereinafter the "Registrar") waive the requirement of a hearing and hereby consent to an Order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (hereinafter the "Consent Order") based on the following terms and conditions to their registrations as a motor vehicle salesperson:

- 1) The Applicant agrees that if he is criminally charged or convicted in the future, he will immediately notify his employer in writing of the charges or convictions against him and provide a copy of the notification signed by his employer to the Registrar, giving the particulars of the charges or convictions.
- 2) The Applicant agrees that if he is convicted under the Criminal Code or convicted of any industry specific offences under any Statute in the future, he will be automatically revoked.
- 3) The Applicant agrees to provide full disclosure on all future applications.
- 4) The Applicant acknowledges that the Registrar is relying upon the accuracy of the disclosure provided in entering into these terms and conditions.
- 5) The Applicant agrees that he will provide written notification from his employer forthwith, stating that the Applicant has disclosed to them the circumstances of his pending charges.
- 6) The Applicant agrees that his explanation of the circumstances of his convictions, are substantially as set out in the disclosure provided to the Registrar.
- 7) The Applicant agrees not to be a partner, shareholder, officer, director or sales manager of a dealership.
- 8) The Applicant agrees not to be the final signatory on any sales contracts on behalf of the dealer.
- 9) The Applicant agrees not to transfer his registration as a motor vehicle Salesperson to another dealer without having first obtained the prior written consent of the Registrar.

- 10) The Applicant agrees that as soon as a disposition is made regarding his pending charge of "Possn for the Purpose", he will inform the Registrar of the result forthwith.

Roger Nicolas Barakat (initials)

- 11) The Applicant agrees to immediately enrol in the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council Certification Course and to be responsible for all fees in relation to enrolment. The Applicant further acknowledges that enrolment in the course entitles him to a sixty (60) day conditional registration period that allows for his successful completion of the course (including passing the exam).
- 12) The Applicant agrees not to be involved in the process of buying or selling motor vehicles without the benefit of registration.
- 13) The Applicant agrees that his registration will not prevent the Registrar from taking administrative action, including a proposal to revoke his registration, arising from matters that may have occurred or may occur in the future related to his financial circumstances and honesty and integrity.
- 14) The Applicant acknowledges that his registration as a motor vehicle Salesperson will not prevent the Registrar from taking legal action, including a Provincial Offences prosecution, arising from matters that may have occurred or that may occur in the future.
- 15) The Applicant agrees and acknowledges that should he breach any of the terms and conditions set out herein, in whole or in part, the Registrar is directed to and shall carry out the proposal.
- 16) The Applicant will provide a copy of this order to his employer forthwith.
- 17) The Applicant hereby consents to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, which may include the Terms and Conditions set out herein.
- 18) The Applicant hereby withdraws his appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.
- 19) The Applicant acknowledges that he has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to his consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

Signed in the City of _____, this _____ day of _____ 2001.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on July 31, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on August 1, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated July 10, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on July 10, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by certified cheque.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

This matter was before the Tribunal as the Applicant's Driver's Licence was suspended "01/01/19" as per Notice of Appeal (Exhibit # 1)

Applicant's Agent, from CLASP Community Services, stated that he was appearing on behalf of the Applicant for the sole purpose of requesting an "...adjournment without a date".

The grounds for adjournment as expounded by Applicant's Agent are that he was only made aware of this file on the prior Friday. Applicant's Agent feels that more time is required to enable the Applicant to obtain proper medical evidence from his physician to respond to the expert report from Physician # 1.

Applicant's Agent acknowledged that evidence tendered by the Applicant relates to injuries sustained at work, which occurred prior to the date of suspension. Applicant's Agent pointed out that since the Applicant had been unable to visit his physician prior to consulting with Legal Aid, time was now required to advise the Applicant to obtain further medical reports, showing the link between his injuries and his breathing difficulties.

The Respondent objected to the adjournment, as two Constables from the Ontario Police Services were available to testify. The Respondent noted that it would be not only inconvenient but also costly to re-call the two Constables as witnesses.

The Tribunal noted that the Applicant's Notice of Appeal on file, dated "Jul. 10, 2001", states that counsel has been sought.

The Tribunal further observed that page two of the Notice of Appeal was prepared by the Applicant's physician for "4 years 4 months", Physician # 2, and is dated "July 6, 2001". Physician # 2 states under the heading "Details and Diagnosis of patient's present condition"; that the Applicant "...has very severe problem with his back ... has shortness of breath...".

The Applicant had the assistance of Physician # 2 when the Applicant's appeal was filed and was aware that the Applicant's medical condition was the issue to be determined in this hearing. The Respondent provided the Applicant with the Respondent's documents within the disclosure time provided in the Tribunal's Rules of Practice. The Applicant's request for an adjournment was made with no prior notice and only at the opening of the hearing. The basis of the Applicant's request was to obtain more evidence. The Respondent was prepared to proceed with the hearing, had two police officers in attendance to give evidence, and objected that the request for an adjournment was unreasonable.

The Tribunal found that an adjournment was not warranted, denied the Applicant's request and asked the Applicant's counsel to proceed.

Once the decision to proceed was rendered, Agent for Applicant advised the Tribunal that he withdrew from the case. At the same time, the Interpreter present to assist the Applicant also stated that he was from CLASP and was also withdrawing as Interpreter.

After Agent for Applicant, the Interpreter and the Applicant had a moment to discuss the Tribunal's ruling on the adjournment, they informed the Tribunal that the Applicant was abandoning the Appeal.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

50.1 (1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.

(2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,

- (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1), (2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

15. (1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,

- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;
- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
- (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;
- (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;

- (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated June 19, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA"), the onus being on the Applicant to establish the merit of his appeal and the Applicant having withdrawn his appeal before this Tribunal;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on August 28, 2001, at Windsor, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on August 29, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated August 8, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on August 10, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by cheque.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

A thirty-minute grace period was afforded to the Respondent to allow for the attendance of two witnesses, who had conveyed the message that they would be delayed.

The Applicant stated that his lawyer would not be attending and consented to proceeding without the assistance of counsel. He did, however, sign a note authorizing the Tribunal to send the decision to his counsel.

The Representative of the Ministry provided the Tribunal with original certified copies of Ministry of Transportation documents on file.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1 Notice of Appeal Form - received August 8, 2001.

- b) Exhibit # 2 Notice to Registrar – dated June 23, 2001.
- c) Exhibit # 3 Medical Report from Leamington District Memorial Hospital - dated June 24, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 4 Ministry of Transportation submissions – received August 22, 2001.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1),(2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

15. (1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,

(2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.

(3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

FACTS:

The Applicant's Driver's Licence was suspended "01/06/24" as per Notice of Appeal (Exhibit # 1).

Physician # 1, the Applicant's physician for "20 years", prepared Page 2 of Notice of Appeal. Physician # 1 reports the Applicant's diagnosis as "... asthma ... recurrent panic disorder with obsessive compulsive disorder..." (Exhibit # 1).

In a typewritten letter under the letterhead of Four Oaks Family Care, Physician # 1 confirms that the Applicant was taken to "Leamington District Memorial Hospital ...breathless ...required a inhalation treatment of Ventolin and Atroven ...Prior to this event ...last seen December 28, 2000 for treatment of upper respiratory tract infection ...past significant medical history of asthma and obsessive compulsive disorder with panic attacks and this combination may have made it difficult for him to comply with the police instruction with regards to the breath analyser." (Exhibit # 1)

The Leamington District Memorial Hospital Emergency Department Clinical Assessment Record indicates, "...Slight ...wheezing heard ...Ventolin ...Atroven..." (Exhibit # 3)

The Respondent provided the following Documents: (Exhibit # 4)

1. Notice to the Registrar
2. Driving Record of the Applicant
3. Vehicle Record

The Applicant's driver's record according to the Ministry of Transportation, since 1988 shows several infractions. (Exhibit # 4)

At the hearing the Applicant testified he did not "...have the ability to blow...". The Applicant stated that he tried to blow "...as long and as hard..." as he could, but was not able to provide "...enough air...".

The Applicant attested that he was given two attempts to provide a breath sample, but denied the opportunity to provide a third sample.

Under cross-examination, the Applicant declared that he requested medical assistance due to the cuts and bruises that he had suffered not because he was feeling any respiratory distress.

The Applicant confirmed that he has lived with asthma all his life and that in his youth he did undergo some pulmonary function tests, but none recently. He suffers from shortness of breath particularly as a result of exertion or panic, which may require the use of an inhaler but does not carry an inhaler with him.

At the time of the breathalyzer session the Applicant stated that he was not feeling any particular breathing discomfort, wheezing was normal under the circumstances, as he was in an excited emotional state.

After being taken to hospital, the Applicant did not complain to the medical staff of any breathing discomfort. There were no immediate visits, by the Applicant, to the family physician regarding concerns about breathing difficulties.

The Respondent called Police Officer # 1 as a witness. Police Officer # 1 testified that he is an OPP Sergeant with the Essex Detachment and has been a Police Officer for “ 15 years”.

Police Officer # 1 related the circumstances leading up to the breathalyzer session. Throughout incident, Applicant was uncooperative, verbally abusive and defiant.

Although a qualified breathalyzer technician himself, Police Officer # 1 called upon a fellow officer to perform the test on the Applicant. While writing his notes Police Officer # 1 observed that the Applicant simply gave a “puff” but failed to seal the mouthpiece with his lips. The Applicant appeared to know the procedure and voluntarily offered a second “puff” when the machine did not register after the first attempt.

Police Officer # 1 testified that the Applicant was taken to hospital due to cuts and bruises sustained during the scuffle with the officers, not because of any apparent breathing difficulties.

At no time did Police Officer # 1 observe the Applicant suffering from severe breathing distress, nor did the Applicant indicate to him that he was unwell or required medical assistance for anything other than the bruises.

The Respondent also called Police Officer # 2 as a witness. Police Officer # 2 was able to testify as to the incidents that led to the breathalyzer session. She was called in to assist Police Officer # 1 in subduing the Applicant. Police Officer # 2 asserted that she observed the Applicant being unruly but at no time did she observe that the Applicant was having any difficulty breathing. Police Officer # 2 was present at the hospital when the Applicant was administered Ventolin by the physician, but according to Police Officer # 2 , the Applicant was merely “...wheezing...”.

Police Officer # 3, the attending breathalyzer technician, with the Ontario Provincial Police, Essex Detachment, was also called to testify on behalf of the Respondent.

Police Officer # 3 informed the Tribunal that after explaining the procedure, he gave the Applicant two opportunities to provide a breath sample. Each time the Applicant “...puffed his cheeks but the effort would not even blow out a children’s candle.”

Police Officer # 3 affirmed that both attempts were insufficient to cause the “R ...refuse” display to disappear from the machine. Police Officer # 3 explained that airflow of 15 centimeters would eliminate the display. In Police Officer # 3’s experience elderly people, people with severe asthma, even individuals with one lung are able to provide enough air to turn off the refusal display.

Police Officer # 3 stated that a third attempt was requested of the Applicant but he explicitly stated he would not be providing one. After being told that he would be charged, the Applicant did ask Police Officer # 3, for another opportunity. Police Officer # 3 felt there would be no purpose in allowing the Applicant to try again as, the Applicant has previously been disorderly, abusive, and when asked to provide a breath sample simply “tooted twice”, the third time the Applicant verbally expressed his refusal to cooperate.

At no time did Police Officer # 3, observe the Applicant being afflicted with shortness of breath or wheezing.

In closing, Applicant made a brief statement reiterating the fact that he had been given two opportunities to provide a breath sample, asked for a third but was refused.

Alluding to Physician # 1's report the Respondent accepts that the Applicant may be asthmatic, however disputes the fact that this was reason for the Applicant's inability to provide a breath sample. The Respondent argued that evidence indicates that the Applicant had been uncooperative from the beginning and had no intention to provide a breath sample.

The Respondent emphasized that the Applicant's physician has not seen a need for regular pulmonary function tests, that the Applicant has no need to carry an inhaler, that neither of the officers noted the Applicant having any trouble breathing, and that he was not taken to emergency due to respiratory distress but rather due to cuts and bruises.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

At issue is did the Applicant have a medical condition that could cause the Applicant to fail or not comply with the breath demand. If so, how does the medical condition of the Applicant relate to Section 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act. The onus is on the Applicant to provide the Tribunal with a medical reason as to why he was unable to provide a breath sample.

The Applicant provided the Tribunal with a letter outlining his physician's opinion “...past significant medical history of asthma and obsessive compulsive disorder with panic attacks and this combination may have made it difficult for him to comply with the police instruction with regards to the breath analyser.” (Exhibit # 1)

The Tribunal does not dispute Physician # 1's diagnosis or his judgment as to the Applicant's overall ability to provide a breath sample. The Tribunal also recognizes that the Applicant was in need of Ventolin upon his arrival at emergency. Nonetheless, the Tribunal concurs with the Respondent's position that the Applicant's behaviour throughout the event demonstrates an unwillingness to co-operate. The Applicant's vive voce evidence is crucial in substantiating the Tribunal's decision. By his own admission, the Applicant established that he was not suffering any particular breathing discomfort, and that he requested medical treatment for the cuts and bruises not because of any respiratory problems.

The Applicant's testimony is corroborated by the three officers, who were present during the incident and testified at the hearing. Neither officer observed the Applicant being afflicted with breathing difficulties. In fact, the officers testified, and the Applicant acknowledged, that he was " shouting ...yelling..." while in custody.

The Applicant did not seek further medical assistance and only visited his physician on July 29, for the purpose of having Form 2 of the Notice of Appeal prepared. The Tribunal finds this fact quite significant in that it clearly demonstrates that the Applicant did not view his condition as serious enough to warrant immediate attention.

The Applicant has not presented any evidence that Physician # 1 has ordered pulmonary function tests or prescribed any medication to alleviate the Applicant's breathing difficulties. Again, the Tribunal has no justification to conclude that the Applicant's condition is severe enough to prevent him from providing a breath sample, as it would appear his condition is not severe enough to necessitate further medical intervention.

The onus being on the Applicant to establish the merit of the appeal, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has failed to do so. Thus, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant does not meet the criteria of Section 50.1(2)(b), in that he was not able to demonstrate that he suffers from a medical condition, which would prevent him from providing a breath sample.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated June 24, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

TRIBUNAL: ROY MELVIN, M.D., Presiding Member

APPEARANCES: LUBA NEUWIRTH,

Applicant,

DATE OF
HEARING: August 9, 2001 Toronto

DECISION AND REASONS

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by the Applicant respecting a decision of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Respondent") pursuant to section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act (Ontario).

FACTS:

This 24 year old female has been diagnosed with idiopathic epilepsy. Seizures began at age 5. After investigation in hospital, she was started on anticonvulsive medication. During adolescence and into puberty she had several episodes requiring adjustment of her medication. She was seizure free from 1985-1990. In 1990 she stopped her medication - hoping that she had outgrown her disorder - as did happen with other members of her family. Unfortunately, she had recurrence of seizures, and medication was restarted. She remained seizure free until May 2001. Her neurologist had been reducing her drug dosage because she was doing well with negative EKG and CT Scan.

On May 21, 2001 she had a seizure. Contributing factors for this episode were fatigue and the omission of several doses of her medication. This episode led to her visit to the Grand River Hospital in Kitchener where the attending Doctor submitted the required report to the Ministry of Transportation resulting in this licence suspension.

The Applicant submitted medical reports as requested. Her neurologist Physician # 1 reports of September 2000 and March 2001 indicate her condition as stable - that her neurological and general medical examination is negative and that recent EKG and CT scan were normal. Drug blood levels in 1994 and in 1997 were within therapeutic levels. The Drug blood level of May 2000 was considerably lower than therapeutic range while she was seizure free. As a result Physician # 1 suggested the lowering of her drug dosage.

After her seizure of May 21, 2001 she saw Physician # 2, a neurologist in Toronto - because Physician # 1 was not available. He supports the diagnosis and suggests a daily maintenance dose of anticonvulsive medication and felt she was unlikely to have any seizures in the near future. She returned to Physician # 1, - her regular neurologist, on July 18, 2001 who reports a negative EKG of June 21, 2001 and states that he sees no reason why she cannot resume normal activities including driving a motor vehicle.

ISSUES:

Should the decision of the Registrar to suspend the Applicant's licence be confirmed, modified or set aside?

LAW:

Regulation 340/94, Section 14 states:

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffer from an mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely; and
- (b) be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

Section 47(1) states:

Subject to section 47.1, the Registrar may suspend or cancel,

- (a) the plate portion of a permit as defined in Part II;
- (b) a driver's licence; or
- (c) a CVOR certificate,

on the grounds of,

- (d) misconduct for which the holder is responsible, directly or indirectly, related to the operation or driving of a motor vehicle;
- (e) conviction of the holder for an offence referred to in subsection 210(1) or (2);
- (f) the Registrar having reason to believe, having regard to the safety record of the holder or of a person related to the holder, and any other information that the Registrar considers relevant, that the holder will not operate a commercial motor vehicle safely or in accordance with this Act, the regulations and other laws relating to highway safety; or
- (g) any other sufficient reason not referred to in clause (d), (e) or (f).

Section 50 of the Act states:

50.(1) Every person aggrieved by a decision of the Minister under subsection 17(2) or (3) or subclause 32(12)(b)(i) or a decision of the Registrar under section 47 may appeal the decision to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.

(2) The Tribunal may confirm, modify or set aside the decision of the Minister or the Registrar.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

The Canadian Medical Association's Guide to "Determining Medical Fitness to Drive" is used by the Ministry of Transportation to interpret whether a driver suffers from any disability likely to interfere with the ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

The Ministry's Medical Advisory report of July 23, 2001 applies to section 5.4.1. of this guide to recommend this licence suspension until the Applicant is seizure free for 6 months.

Section 5.4.1. Single, unprovoked seizure before a diagnosis

Private drivers: These patients should not drive for at least 3 months and until a complete neurologic examination including electroencephalography (EEG) and computer tomography (CT) has been carried out to determine the cause.

5.4.2. After a diagnosis of epilepsy

Drive if:

- 12 months seizure-free on medication and
- physician has insight into patient compliance
- physician caution against fatigue, alcohol.

This 12 months period may be reduced to 6 months on the recommendation of a neurologist.

It would appear that section 5.4.1 is not applicable to this case because her diagnosis of epilepsy was established years ago. A more relevant section of the guide is 5.4.5.

Section 5.4.5. Withdrawal of seizure medication or medication change

After seizures recur: When seizures recur after a physician has ordered a discontinuation or a change in anti-epileptic medication, patients can resume driving provided they take the medication according to the physician's instructions and have been seizure free for 6 months. This period may be reduced on the recommendation of a neurologist.

The Applicant fulfils all these conditions in that she had a long standing history of epilepsy and was seizure free for the past 10 years. The seizure of May 21, 2001 occurred because of gradually diminished dosage and accidentally missing several doses of her medication. She has since resume a therapeutic level of anticonvulsive medication under the guidance of her neurologist.

She finally realizes that she has this disease for life and will not be one of the lucky ones who may discontinue medication in adulthood. Her neurologist states that the likelihood of a seizure in the near future is remote and that she may resume driving a motor vehicle- implying that the CMA guideline regarding the 6 month waiting period may be shortened.

The test provided by section 14 of Regulation 340/94 is that the holder of a driver's licence must not suffer from a disability likely to significantly interfere with her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely.

This Tribunal has determined that nothing further can be gained in diagnosis compliance or treatment of this Applicant by withholding her driver's licence reinstatement for 6 months and that she does not suffer from any disability likely to significantly interfere with her ability to driver a motor vehicle safely.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the decision dated June 22, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles ("Registrar") to suspend her driver's licence pursuant to Section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA"), and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

IT IS THE DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50(2) of the Act that the decision of the Registrar be set aside.

TO APPEAL A SUSPENDED LICENCE

TRIBUNAL: ROY MELVIN, M.D., Presiding Member

APPEARANCES: KIM BEINTEMA,
Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

Applicant,
unrepresented

DATE OF
HEARING: August 23, 2001 Toronto

DECISION AND REASONS

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by the Applicant respecting a decision of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Respondent") pursuant to section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act (Ontario).

FACTS:

The Applicant's driver's licence was suspended by the Ministry of Transportation as a result of an unsolicited medical report from Physician # 1, neurologist dated January 6, 2001 detailing the assessment of this patient following a single first time seizure which occurred on December 25, 2000.

He was first taken to the emergency department of the Credit Valley Hospital - Mississauga where he was stabilized and sent home. Physician # 1's examination was neurologically negative and his seizure was diagnosed as alcohol related. A follow-up report dated February 22, 2001 reveals negative C.T. and E.E.G. tests. He was advised to abstain from alcohol.

The Applicant has a history of considerable alcohol consumption over many years and has had several failed attempts to stop in 1991 and 1992. He is now attending his family doctor. Physician # 2 to monitor his abstinence and states that he has not had any alcohol since the seizure of December 25, 2000. Blood tests in June 2001 are normal for alcohol related biochemical markers (M.C.V. & G.G.T). He attends "Alcoholics Anonymous" regularly.

His last visit with Physician # 1 was August 14, 2001 but this report has not been received by the Ministry.

ISSUES:

Should the decision of the Registrar to suspend the Applicant's licence be confirmed, modified or set aside?

LAW:

Regulation 340/94, Section 14 states:

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffers from an mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely; and
- (b) be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

Section 47(1) states:

Subject to section 47.1, the Registrar may suspend or cancel,

- (a) the plate portion of a permit as defined in Part II;
- (b) a driver's licence; or

(c) a CVOR certificate,

on the grounds of,

(d) misconduct for which the holder is responsible, directly or indirectly, related to the operation or driving of a motor vehicle;

(f) conviction of the holder for an offence referred to in subsection 210(1) or (2);

(f) the Registrar having reason to believe, having regard to the safety record of the holder or of a person related to the holder, and any other information that the Registrar considers relevant, that the holder will not operate a commercial motor vehicle safely or in accordance with this Act, the regulations and other laws relating to highway safety; or

(g) any other sufficient reason not referred to in clause (d), (e) or (f).

Section 50 of the Act states:

50.(1) Every person aggrieved by a decision of the Minister under subclause 32(12)(b)(i) or a decision of the Registrar under section 17 or 47 may appeal the decision to the Tribunal.

(2) The Tribunal may confirm, modify or set aside the decision of the Minister or the Registrar.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant's driver's licence was suspended on the basis of the Highway Traffic Act. Section 47(1)(g) - the sufficient reason being non compliance with Regulation 340/94. Section 14 "A holder of a driver's licence must not be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely".

For reinstatement, the generally accepted guideline is set out by the Canadian Medical Association "Determining Medical Fitness to Drive" - the relevant section under paragraph 3. Alcohol is:

3.3 Recommended driving restrictions after the assessment

Patients with a diagnosis of alcohol dependence, including those with alcohol withdrawal induced seizures, should not be allowed to drive any type of motor vehicle. These patients must complete a recognized rehabilitation program for substance dependence and remain alcohol free and seizure free for 12 months before recommencing driving.

The National Safety Code for Motor Carriers has a similar provision as per paragraph 6.3.5.

6.3.5. Alcohol and Seizures

An individual whose seizures are clearly precipitated by alcohol should not drive any motor vehicle until at least a 12 month seizure-free period while also abstinent from alcohol.

The Applicant has made excellent progress over the past six months. His neurologist has cleared him of any pathological reason for the seizure. Laboratory and other tests are negative and he is attending a compliance program. However, there is no compelling reason to deviate from the accepted medical guidelines in this case.

Because alcoholism, especially associated with a serious neurological complication (viz: seizure) is an insidious and difficult process to control or conquer - it is felt that a minimum period of 12 months freedom from seizure is necessary to assure ongoing abstinence and good health in order to be able to drive a motor vehicle safely.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the decision dated February 25, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles ("Registrar") to suspend his driver's licence pursuant to Section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA"), and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

IT IS THE DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50(2) of the Act that the decision of the Registrar be confirmed.

Toronto

DECISION AND REASONS

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by the Applicant respecting a decision of the Minister (the "Respondent") pursuant to section 32(12)(b)(i) of the Highway Traffic Act (Ontario).

FACTS:

The Applicant, a 52 year old 18 wheeler truck driver, had his driver's licence downgraded from "A-Z" to "G" following receipt of a cyclical medical report, dated March 8, 2001, from his family physician Physician # 1. Physician # 1 reported that the Applicant had suffered a myocardial infarction and congestive heart failure in May 1998.

A Medical Waiver Certificate, dated April 30, 2001 was subsequently received from Physician # 2, a cardiologist. Physician # 2 reported the Applicant's echocardiogram showed a Grade 2-3 left ventricle with the proximal third of the interventricular septum moving paradoxically, for some unexplained reason. Physician # 2 recommended that he maintain his present licence, stop smoking, take cholesterol lowering medications and an angiotension blocker.

Physician # 2 re-examined the Applicant on April 19, 2001 and performed an ECG Stress test. There were no ECG changes, but below average exercise tolerance with absence of angina or ischemic changes. The stress test was stopped after 4 minutes because of shortness of breath.

Physician # 2 concluded the Applicant has significant risk factors for further trouble and wants him to return for an echo and 24 hour Holter. If nothing unusual was found, he would probably support the request to maintain his driving licence.

On June 27, 2001 the Ministry informed the Applicant that his driver's licence was downgraded to a "G".

ISSUES:

Should the decision of the Minister to change the class or class of motor vehicles in respect of which the licence is issued in accordance with the result of the examination be varied, modified or set aside?

THE LAW

Regulation 340/94 states:

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffer from any mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely; and
- (b) be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

Regulation 340/94, Section 17 and 18 states:

17. (1) Qualifications required by an applicant for a holder of a Class A, B, C, D, E or F drivers licence are that the applicant or holder,
- (a) has no history or clinical diagnosis of diabetes that requires insulin for control;
 - (b) is not taking any drug that could, in the dosage prescribed or in the dosage recommended by the manufacturer, impair his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely;
 - (c) has no established medical history of myocardial infarction, angina pectoris, coronary insufficiency or thrombosis;
 - (d) has no established medical history of heart disease including arrhythmia or of respiratory dysfunction likely to interfere with the safe driving of a motor vehicle of the applicable class;
 - (e) is not suffering from an aortic aneurysm, whether resected or not;
 - (f) is not suffering from hypertension accompanied by postural hypotension resulting in giddiness when under treatment;
 - (g) has no established medical history of loss of consciousness or awareness due to a chronic or recurring condition;
 - (h) has no established medical history of a disorder of the musculoskeletal or nervous system that may interfere with the safe driving of a motor vehicle of the applicable class;
 - (i) has no established medical history of an intractable psychotic or psychoneurotic disorder, having particular regard for sustained hostile, aggressive, paranoid, suicidal or other destructive tendencies or depression unless it is medically determined that the condition from which the person has suffered is corrected or controlled;
 - (j) has a visual acuity by Snellen Rating, with or without the aid of corrective lenses, no poorer than 20/30 in the better eye and 20/50 in the weaker eye; and
 - (k) has a horizontal visual field of at least 120 degrees in each eye as measured by confrontation tests.

- (2) An applicant for or a holder of a Class A, B, C, D, E or F driver's licence who fails to meet the qualifications referred to in clauses (1)(a) to (i) may, despite the failure, qualify for the class of licence applied for or held if he or she demonstrated the ability to drive a motor vehicle in the applicable class as safely as any person who meets those qualifications.
- (3) An applicant for or a holder of a Class D driver's licence who fails to meet the qualification referred to in clause (1)(c) may, despite the failure, qualify for that class of licence if it is medically determined that he or she has made a full recovery and there is no established history of a second occurrence of myocardial infraction, thrombosis or recurring angina pectoris.
- (4) An applicant for or a holder of a Class B, C, E or F driver's licence whose hearing in one ear is better than in the other must be able to perceive in the better ear, with or without a hearing aid, a forced whisper at a distance of 1.5 metres or, if an audiometer is used to test the person's hearing, must not have a loss in the better ear of more than 40 decibels at 500, 1,000 and 2,000 hertz.
- 18. An applicant for or a holder of a G, G1, G2, L, M, M1, M2, or R driver's licence must have,
 - (a) in the case of a person whose vision in one eye is better than in the other, visual acuity in the better eye that is no poorer than 20/40 as measured by Snellen Rating; and
 - (b) a horizontal visual field of at least 120 degrees as measured by confrontation tests.

Section 32(12)(b)(i) states:

- 32 No person shall drive a motor vehicle on a highway unless the motor vehicle is within a class of motor vehicles in respect of which the person holds a driver's licence issued to him or her under this Act.
 - (12) An applicant for a driver's licence or a person who holds a driver's licence shall submit to the examinations that are authorized by the regulations relating to this section and required by the Minister at the time and places that the Minister may require and the Minister may,
 - (b) in the case of a person who holds a driver's licence,
 - (i) impose or remove the conditions or endorsements authorized by the regulations or change the class or classes of motor vehicles in respect of which the licence is issued in accordance with the result of the examinations, or

Section 50 states:

50(1) Every person aggrieved by a decision of the Minister under subclause 32(12)(b)(i) or a decision of the Registrar under section 17 or 47 may appeal the decision to the Tribunal.

The Tribunal may confirm, modify or set aside the decision of the Minister or Registrar.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant's present status is that of a Class "G" licence after being downgraded by the Registrar on June 27, 2001, following receipt of clinical information in a Medical Waiver from Physician # 2, a cardiologist. Notwithstanding the cardiologist's recommendation that the Applicant retain his licence, the Medical Review Committee recommended downgrading the licence from "A-Z" to "G".

The Minister could have suspended the licence under Section 340/94(a) which states "An Applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

(a) suffer from any-----or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely."

Instead of downgrading the Applicant's driver's licence under section 32(12)(b)(i) which states:

32 No person shall drive a motor vehicle unless the motor vehicle is within a class of motor vehicles in respect of which the person holds a driver's licence issued to him or her under this Act.

(b) in the case of a person who holds a driver's licence

(i) impose or remove the conditions or endorsements authorized by the regulations or change the class or classes of motor vehicles in respect of which the licence is issued in accordance with the result of examinations,

The Applicant had a Myocardial Infarction followed by an episode of Congestive Heart Failure in the summer of 1998. After his recovery period, he returned to highway truck driving for over two years before he received the notice of downgrading in June, 2001, a week after he had taken on a new driving job. His present job is strictly driving with no lifting. His heart attack occurred following an attempt to lift 250 lbs.

The Applicant has had a clear driving record, since he obtained his first licence in 1969.

Physician # 2 indicated in his letter of April 19, 2001, that he had some concerns about the Applicant's significant risk factors. Although he has no angina and no evidence of ischemic changes in his heart, some of his coronary arteries are occluded and partially occluded. Physician # 2 mentioned that he wanted the Applicant to return for another echo and 24 hour Holter and if there was nothing unusual he would probably support the request to maintain his driver's licence. It is unfortunate an update on the Applicant's cardiac status was not available to the Tribunal for this Appeal. Lacking that update, Physician # 2's April 19, 2001 letter stands, stating Physician # 2's concerns about the Applicant's significant risk factors.

Further, the Applicant is still smoking 3 packages of cigarettes per week, apparently not able to take anti-cholesterol medication, has a grade 2-3 left ventricle and severe coronary atherosclerosis.

On the evidence now before the Tribunal and the lack of a re-assessment by a cardiologist, the Tribunal finds that the Minister's decision to downgrade the Applicant's licence is appropriate.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the decision dated June 29, 2001 of the Minister ("Respondent") to change the class or classes of motor vehicle in respect of which the licence was issued pursuant to Section 32(12)(b)(i) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA"), and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Respondent and of the Applicant;

IT IS THE DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50(2) of the Act that the decision of the Minister be confirmed.

GLEN AND GINETTE SHARP

MOTION TO CONSIDER AN APPLICATION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME

TRIBUNAL: WILLIAM MCINTOSH, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES: GLEN AND GINETTE SHARP, representing themselves, NETANUS RUTHERFORD, Counsel, representing the Ontario New Home Warranty Program

DATE OF
HEARING: July 10 2001 via teleconference

REASONS FOR RULING AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is an application to the Licence Appeal Tribunal under Section 7 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act 1999 to extend the time for Glen And Ginette Sharp (the "Applicants") to file an appeal from a Decision Letter of the Ontario New Home Warranty Program (the "Program") dated January 17, 2001. The Decision Letter was sent pursuant to section 16(2) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act, R.S.O. 1990, chapter O.31 (the "Act").

At issue was the type of sash or side windows installed in the bay window placements. The Applicants took the position that the windows were not of the type contracted for and claimed they had a claim for breach of warranty under the Act against the builder and therefore a claim for compensation. The Applicants were informed by a field representative of the Respondent by letter of 10 January 2001 that the window installations did not constitute a warranted item under the Act. After being informed that the matter would be pursued further, the representative issued the formal Decision Letter of January 17, 2001 referred to above which is the basis of the present appeal. The letter was received by the Applicants on January 19, 2001.

The Applicants had, pursuant to the Act, 15 days from the receipt of the Decision Letter to deliver their Notice of Appeal. The Notice of Appeal was filed late on February 19, 2001.

The hearing of this matter proceeded on consent by teleconference. The Tribunal received material filed on behalf of the Applicants. On behalf of the Program, the Tribunal received the Affidavit of Filomena Cece and Paul Picard.

ISSUES:

The Tribunal must first ensure that the service requirements set forth in the Act have been met.

If the service requirements have been met and a Notice of Appeal was not filed by the Applicant within the 15 days prescribed by section 16(2) of the Act, the Tribunal must then decide whether this is this an appropriate case for leave to extend the time pursuant to the discretion granted to the Tribunal by section 7 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999.

Whether or not a case is one in which the Tribunal's discretion to grant an extension of time is dependant upon the Applicant satisfying the following four point test:

1. That there was an intention on the part of the Applicant's to exercise their right of appeal within the allotted time.
2. That the reason this right was not exercised on time was such that the Applicants should be excused from not doing so and allowed to do so later if they did so as soon as the true situation was apprehended.
3. That there is no overriding prejudice to the Respondent in allowing the late filing of the appeal.
4. That there is a substantial point in issue, and the Applicant has some reasonable chance of success.

EVIDENCE:

The Tribunal finds from the material filed that the service requirements have been met.

On the first part of the test there was evidence that the Applicant telephoned the Program within the 15 days allotted for the filing of the appeal. This communication was acknowledged and the first part of the test conceded.

The Applicant, Mr. Sharp, offered as a reason for not actually filing on time after his phone call to the Program, his ill health and the need to gather material to present his appeal. No illness was claimed by Mrs. Sharp. It was not asserted that the illness was incapacitating or in any way prevented the filing of the appeal on time.

It was conceded that there was no overriding prejudice to the respondent due to the late filing.

On the fourth part of the test, the Applicants submitted that they have a substantial point to be argued on appeal in that it is demonstrable that they can fit their claim as required under section 14(1)(b) of the Act.

That section reads:

14 Where:

“an owner has a cause of action against a vendor for damages resulting from a breach of warranty;

the person or owner is entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund the amount of such damage subject to such limits as are fixed by the regulations”

It is the position of the Applicants that the vendor wrongfully substituted two side sash windows. One as part of the living room bay window and another on a bedroom bay window. The Applicants claim that both bay windows sets should have had “operational” or opening side windows on both sides of both bay window installations instead of on only one side as they received.

It is the position of the Program that for the Applicants to have a valid claim they have to fit their situation within Part VI of Regulation 892 of the Act which deals with Warranties and in particular sections 18 and 19 dealing with substitutions.

Section 18 reads:

“Every vendor of a new home warrants to the owner that the vendor shall make no substitutions in those items of construction or finishing for which the purchaser is entitled to make selection pursuant to the purchase agreement without the written consent of the purchaser.

Section 19 reads:

“Every vendor of a new home warrants to the purchaser that, where the vendor makes a substitution with respect to an item referred to in the purchase agreement that is not an item that is to be selected by the purchaser, the item will be of equal or better quality than the item referred to in the purchase agreement.”

The Tribunal takes as a reasonable assumption that sash windows forming the sides of a bay window installation that open and shut are a superior installation to ones that do not. Accordingly, in order to determine whether the vendor has not lived up to the warranty obligations imposed upon him by the Act it is necessary to examine what was agreed to under the Agreement of Purchase and Sale. The executed copy of the Agreement provided states on page 13 of Schedule B:

“Vinyl clad casement windows, vinyl clad sliders in basement only and some fixed picture windows, according to plans. All windows double sealed thermal, with screens where applicable”

There is no reference in the Agreement, either in the body or attachments, as to whether the windows in question open and shut or not. As stated, the bay windows installed according to the plan have one side window that opens and shuts and one that does not.

Paragraph 3 of the Agreement states:

“The vendor agrees that on or before the closing date, it will have constructed and completed the unit in a good and workmanlike manner upon the real property in substantial conformity with the vendor’s draft plan and those specifications set out in schedule “B” hereto, which have been shown to and approved by the purchaser. The purchaser acknowledges and agrees that in the course of construction and completion of the unit, the vendor may make minor variations to the said plan or may substitute other materials than those specified in the said specifications and the purchaser agrees to accept any such variations or substitutions, so long as they are of equal or better quality and do not diminish the value of the real property or substantially alter the size or appearance of the unit.

Under the schedules section of the Agreement, paragraph 32 reads:

“This agreement, schedules “A” ‘B’ ‘C’ and “D” attached hereto and the plans and specifications referred to in this agreement are for all purposes part of this agreement whether contained in the body of the agreement or not and together constitute the entire agreement between the purchaser and the vendor. There is no representation, warranty, collateral agreement or condition which affects this agreement other than as expressed herein.”

The Applicants takes the position that they are entitled to windows described in documents which do not form part of the agreement of purchase and sale and to those they state were installed in a model home. As well, they refer to various conversations with representatives of the builder.

There were conciliation inspections arranged after the initial inspection of Paul Picard the field representative of the Respondent. As stated above the Applicants were informed that their claim regarding the window installations did not fit within the criteria set forth in the Act.

THE LAW:

Section 7 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act states:

7. Despite any limitations of time fixed by or under any Act for the giving of notice requiring a hearing by the Tribunal or an appeal from a decision or order of the Tribunal under section 11 or of any other Act, if the Tribunal is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for the applying for the extension and for granting relief , it may,

- (a) extend the time for giving the notice either before or after the expiration of the limitation of time so limited; and
- (b) give the directions that it considers proper as a result of extending the time.

The conditions under which extensions are granted has been outlined above as have the relevant sections of the Act and Regulations.

Turning to the case law, the Tribunal was first asked to look at the matter of Nicolini released by this Tribunal on February 20, 2001. As in the present matter, the Tribunal was dealing with leave to extend the time for filing an appeal and had to consider point 4, whether there was a substantial issue to go to appeal and whether the Applicant had a reasonable chance of success. In Nicolini the Tribunal was asked to find that there was a cause of action against the builder for breach of warranty for items that could not be found within a reading of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale. In that case the Tribunal was asked to find that a door from the garage to the outside should have been insulated. The Tribunal stated:

“The garage door is purely an issue within the sphere of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale. There is nothing in the wording which convinces the Tribunal that it would be a reasonable interpretation to hold that there should be an insulated door from an uninsulated garage to the outside. This again is a matter for other legal remedies.”

Another case referred to the matter of Pajor released by this Tribunal on July 16, 1998. In Pajor the relevant issue for present purposes was whether a furnace installed in the home which differed from the installation in the builder’s model home could give rise to a cause of action when there no reference to the difference in the Agreement of Purchase and Sale. The furnace actually in the home did not have a heat recovery ventilator; the model home did. On the issue of a cause of action arising from a representation not reduced into the wording of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale, the Tribunal stated:

“This is not a case of substitution. The item was not referred in any fashion in the Agreement of Purchase and Sale. The Agreement is in writing and is the basis of the deal to purchase the house. The Applicants now understand the importance of having everything clarified and put into writing. The Tribunal cannot rely upon a verbal representation.”

Finally on this point, the Tribunal was referred to the matter of Saporita released by this Tribunal on July 28, 1999 in which the Applicant asserted that the non inclusion of French doors in the completed home gave rise to a cause of action which allowed for a claim under the Act. It was stated that there had been verbal representations to the effect that French doors were to be installed but such representations had not been reduced into the Agreement of Purchase and Sale. The Tribunal found as in the present case that the Agreement specifically excluded all representations not set out in the Agreement. As a result, the reliance upon such representations was denied.

DECISION AND ORDER:

The foundation of the Applicants’ submissions appears to be that the installation of at least one opening sash window not called for in the Agreement of Purchase and Sale should of itself constitute evidence of the builder’s intention to include a higher standard in the Agreement and thereby give rise to an actionable warranty; if not duplicated in all of the window installations. The Applicants also rely on the fact that there are two opening sashes in the model home and rely on representations not contained in the Agreement of Purchase and Sale.

The Respondent argued that the installation of at least one opening sash is at best an upgrade or modification contemplated by the Agreement of Purchase and Sale and the Regulations and not evidence of some standard collateral to the contract. In any event, as the installations insisted upon by the Applicants are not included in the Agreement of Purchase and Sale, they cannot be relied upon to form the basis of a cause of action. In line with the case law, it is the position of the Respondent that for representations to be relied upon, they must form part of the written Agreement.

The Tribunal accepts the position of the Respondent and finds that the Applicants would not have a reasonable chance of success should the matter proceed to appeal. The Applicant therefore fails to satisfy the fourth requirement needed in order that the Tribunal exercise its discretion to extend the period of time required to file the Notice of Appeal.

The Tribunal therefore orders that the Applicants' motion for an extension of time to file their appeal is denied.

LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL

William McIntosh,
Vice-Chair

RELEASED: August 10, 2001

JACOBS

JOHN ROBERT JACOBS

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
UNDER THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REFUSE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: MARJORIE L. HILEY, Vice-Chair, Presiding
RICHARD C. DELANEY, Member

APPEARANCES: MALCOLM BENNETT, Counsel, representing the Applicant
AVIVA R. HARARI, Counsel, representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF HEARING: June 22, 2001 London

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

The Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Registrar" and the "Act", respectively) issued a Notice of Proposal dated February 1, 2001. With that Notice of Proposal was a Final Notice dated February 1, 2001. The Registrar in his Notice of Proposal states that the past conduct of John Robert Jacobs (the "Applicant") is inconsistent with the Act and therefore the Registrar refused to register the Applicant as a motor vehicle salesperson. In his statement of Particulars, the Registrar stated that the Applicant and his motor vehicle dealership had their registrations revoked in August, 1998; that the revocations were stayed pending a Divisional Court decision; that the Divisional Court dismissed the appeal in November, 2000 but granted continuation of the stay for a further 60 days; that the registrations were revoked on January 23, 2001; that the Applicant has been convicted of two counts of fraud on June 4, 1999; and that the convictions related to the Applicant's conduct while registered under the Act.

The Applicant filed his Notice of Appeal with the Tribunal on February 14, 2001. In it the Applicant disclosed his prior conduct and stated that he wishes to register as a motor vehicle salesperson, that he has reformed and that he was prepared to be registered under terms and conditions.

The hearing before this Tribunal was conducted on June 22, 2001 at London, Ontario with all parties in attendance. The Presiding Chair brought to the attention of Counsel for the Applicant and Counsel for the Registrar that the Tribunal's Vice-Chair, Richard C. Delaney, had been a member some years ago of the law firm which now forms part of the law firm belonging to Counsel for the Applicant. Both Mr. Delaney and Mr. Bennett stated they had not known each other at that time nor was there any prior knowledge of the matter that is now the proceeding before this Tribunal. The Presiding Chair asked both Counsel if there was any objections to Mr. Delaney sitting as a Vice-Chair in this hearing. Neither Counsel had any objections. Accordingly, Mr. Delaney continued as a Vice-Chair in these proceedings.

ISSUES:

Did the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, act reasonably in finding that the Applicant, due to his past conduct, should be refused to be registered as a motor vehicle salesperson?

EVIDENCE:

Opening Statement:

Counsel for the Registrar:

Counsel stated that this application comes under section 8 of the Act. The Applicant had been previously registered and then had his registration revoked. In the case of Hassan v Ontario (Registrar of Motor Vehicles)(2001) O.J. No. 421, the Ontario Court of Appeal stated that the Registrar cannot refuse to process the application but he can reject it if he feels the criteria in section 8 has not been met. Counsel stated that the onus is on the Applicant to establish new evidence or a substantial change in circumstances.

Counsel stated that the Applicant has been convicted of odometer misrepresentations. This is industry related and based on his past conduct he is not entitled to be registered.

Counsel for the Applicant:

Counsel stated that the Applicant was out of business for 3 and one half months in 1998 until a stay was granted by the Divisional Court in December, 1998. The Applicant has criminal convictions on 2 of the 6 counts and received a twelve month suspended sentence plus community service. His convictions were published in the local newspapers.

Counsel stated that one has to look at the factual basis for the convictions. In one instance it was the doing of the salesperson. The Applicant never had any dealings with the wronged customer, but the Applicant is responsible for the actions of his employee. In the other case, the odometer was not working properly and the true odometer readings was not known. It was a matter of the need for full and complete disclosure. At the time of this occurrence in 1997, there was still a practice among motor vehicle dealers to put TMU on the invoice and have the customer initial it. In this case, the customer of the Applicant did not put initials beside the TMU.

Counsel stated that the Applicant has not reoffended since 1997 and has changed his business practices as evidenced by the Divisional Court decision.

Counsel stated that revocation is the ultimate penalty. In this case it would be appropriate to consider terms and conditions. Mr. Jacobs wishes to be a salesperson at Goodwheel Motors which is a motor vehicle dealership owned by Mrs. Jacobs. The business of Jacob Sales and Servicing now is a garage business which mainly fixes vehicles to be sold by Goodwheel Motors. Their son, Craig Jacobs, has been helping his mother, but he will be attending school in September.

Counsel stated that there has been a significant change in circumstances in how the Applicant conducts himself and his business practices. The Applicant is seeking a licence as a salesperson.

Testimony of Laura Gordon:

Ms. Gordon is the director of compliance at the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") since April, 1997. Prior to that time, she had worked in the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations as an investigator and inspector. OMVIC was created in January, 1997.

Ms. Gordon stated that the purposes of the Ontario Motor Vehicle Dealers Act are: for registration; inspection; investigation; and complaint/mediation. The criteria for registration is found in section 5 of the Act.

Ms. Gordon testified that under the Notice of Proposal dated February 1, 2001 the Registrar refused to register Mr. Jacobs as a motor vehicle salesperson due to his conviction of two counts of fraud and the prior revocation of his registration which was upheld by the Divisional Court. On January 17, 2001 OMVIC received the application for registration of Mr. Jacobs. There is no issue as to disclosure.

Bev Jacobs, the wife of Mr. Jacobs, is the owner of KW Goodwheel Motors, which is the dealership where Mr. Jacobs wishes to work as a registered salesperson.

Ms. Gordon reviewed the charges and then ultimately the two convictions of Mr. Jacobs for odometer tampering. These occurred while he was registered under the Act and relate to industry specific misconduct. The Ontario Court of Appeal in March, 2000 dismissed his appeal from the convictions.

Ms. Gordon stated that consumers rely on odometer readings as to the value of the vehicle and safety issues. It is a serious breach of trust to misrepresent the odometer readings. Under Regulation 801, section 19 there are rules governing the changing of odometers. Under Regulation 801 section 16(2)(o) dealerships are required to list the distance travelled on the bills of sale.

Ms. Gordon stated that Mr. Jacobs was only out of business for 3 ½ months in the Fall of 1998 and she said that there are suspicions that he was selling cars in October, 1998. In any event, she did not think that length of time or even 6 months was sufficient time for a revocation.

Under cross-examination, she agreed that Bev Jacobs was granted registration as a motor vehicle dealer in 1999. She agreed that Mrs. Jacobs is bound by the Act and its regulations and if the Registrar had concerns about the conduct of Mrs. Jacobs, the Registrar could take action against her. Ms. Gordon agreed that there are a number of motor vehicle dealership run by women. She agreed that from the date of the Commercial Registration Appeal Tribunal ("CRAT") order in August, 1998, until the stay was granted in December, 1998 it was in order for Mr. Wagner, the OMVIC investigator, to permit Mr. Jacobs to consign the remaining vehicles to the Goodwheel dealership.

Ms. Gordon stated that the concept of TMU has been an issue of concern with OMVIC. Indeed OMVIC has worked with the Used Car Dealers Association on this matter. There are now certificate courses dealing with TMU and newsletters on the issue.

Ms. Gordon agreed that of the three cars mentioned in the August, 1998 CRAT decision, Mr. Jacobs was only criminally convicted on one of those cars, that being the 1990 Chevrolet. She is not aware of any other criminal charges since 1997.

Under cross-examination, Ms. Gordon stated that she has not personally spoken to Mr. Jacobs about his business practices and she is not aware that anyone else at the Registrar's office has done so. She stated that the decision of the Registrar to refuse to register Mr. Jacobs as a motor vehicle salesperson was based on the two criminal convictions and the appeal which was dismissed. She agreed that the Registrar has the authority to impose terms and conditions.

Ms. Gordon in answer to the questions by the Tribunal stated that Mrs. Jacobs was registered as a dealer and salesperson on January 14, 1999. Ms. Gordon feels that for a conviction of odometer tampering, there needs to be at least a couple of years of revocation of registration. She felt it would be too great a burden on the Registrar's office to have it check on Mr. Jacobs through terms and conditions on his registration.

Upon further cross-examination, Ms. Gordon stated that the Registrar has the authority to inspect premises but there is the issue of the practicality to do so. If there were terms and conditions, Ms. Gordon would like to see them address the issues of taking a certification course, having the invoices sent to the Registrar, having letters of credit, having undertakings by the dealership, having an independent audit of the dealership, having Mr. Jacobs with no direct or indirect interest in the dealership, and having an arms length relationship.

Testimony of John Robert Jacobs:

Mr. Jacobs testified that he is 47 years old and lives in the small town of Wellesley, Ontario with his wife, Beverley Jacobs, and his three grown up children. His youngest child, Craig, is a registered motor vehicle salesperson but will be going back to Georgian College this fall and probably can only work on a part time basis. Mr. Jacobs has been a licensed mechanic since 1975. He purchased Jacob Sales and Service Inc. in 1993. He received financial help for this purchase from his father and father-in-law. Mr. Jacobs is the director of the Wellesley Community Centre, a past president of the Optimist Club, a member of the Church and board of Trade and a volunteer with the Apple Butter Cheese Festival in September of each year. He was a licensed motor vehicle sales person at Jacob Sales and Service Inc.

Mr. Jacobs stated that his dealership had specialized in vans, pickup trucks and one ton trucks. Now it is a garage that fixes the used car to sell at the other company, Goodwheel Motors. In 1996 he had Elaine Gerber as his office staff who was responsible for the bookkeeping and record keeping, and another licensed mechanic and a person who reconditioned the cars. He was making money at the dealership. Then in 1997 he hired Michael Alpy as his first salesperson. He needed someone due to the long hours that he had been working. In February, 1998 he was charged with six counts of odometer tampering. This devastated him. His situation was on the television and in the newspapers. At that time he had over 50 cars at his dealership and he had to wholesale them. The Notice of Proposal from the Registrar was dated February 26, 1998 and the decision by CRAT happened in August, 1998. He did not have any consumers at his CRAT trial though customers did testify at his criminal trial.

Mr. Jacobs stated he did have a complaint from a Mr. Mehta in 1994 and he tried to satisfy that customer. His philosophy was that the customer is right so he went to mediation. Regarding the 1998 problems Mr. Jacobs stated that he gave the customers their money back if they requested he take back the car. Some of the charges related to paperwork issues.

After the CRAT decision in August, 1998 Mr. Jacobs arranged through Mr. Wagner to sell his vehicles or consigned them to Goodwheel Motors. Some of the sales were to other dealers or at auctions.

Prior to these charges, Mr. Jacobs was trying to establish a branch of his dealership in the Kitchener/Waterloo area. After the charges were laid, his bank called in his line of credit, and he had to mortgage his house. Mr. Jacobs estimated that he lost revenue of about two hundred thousand from the revocation of his registration. In June, 1999 Mr. Jacobs was put on probation of one year and required to do fifty hours of community work.

Mr. Jacobs stated that he terminated the employment of Mr. Alpy. He discovered that Mr. Alpy had been misrepresenting himself to the customers. Mr. Alpy was selling accident repair cars but that fact was not on the customer's bill of sale, only on the dealership's copy of the bill of sale.

Regarding his purchase of a 1990 Chev from Parkrow Auto Sales, Mr. Jacobs noticed that the odometer was not working so it was agreed between them to put TMU on the wholesale bill. Mr. Alpy dealt with the customer who bought this car, and Mr. Alpy did not get that customer's initials beside the TMU insertion. The customer thought he was getting a vehicle with a certain amount of mileage. Mr. Jacobs was convicted on this count.

Regarding the purchase of a 1990 Sierra GMC from Parkrow Auto Sales, Mr. Jacobs stated that the wholesale bill has TMU on it. The invoice from Ingersoll Motors to Parkrow has a mileage figure with TMU beside it. Mr. Jacobs did not know about that mileage figure as it was not on his wholesale agreement with Parkrow. That car was sold to a customer with a lower mileage and with no insertion of TMU nor did the customer initial the mileage. Another copy of the retail bill of sale for that vehicle does have TMU beside the mileage, but the customer had not initialed it.

Mr. Jacobs stated that the industry was struggling with what to do with these situations and even Mr. Wagner, an investigator with OMVIC, could not advise him on the use of TMU. Now OMVIC has a code of conduct. That happened in December, 2000. OMVIC is trying to clean up the industry and now dealerships and salespeople must be more careful with their paperwork and have more history on a vehicle.

Mr. Jacobs testified that since that time there has been no other charges against him. The charges and ultimately the convictions have cost him money and drained him emotionally. He has a large mortgage on the Queen Bush Road property, and he owed money to his family and other creditors.

Goodwheel Motors has moved to Wellesley. Mr. Jacobs works on the cars, but he has been advised by OMVIC not to deal with the customers. His wife is a manager, not a salesperson and the youngest son is going back to school. Basically, Jacob Sales and Services fixes up the cars that are then sold through Goodwheel Motors.

Mr. Jacobs stated that he had changed his business practices. He completed a course with the Used Car Dealers Association about two years ago. That course dealt with the Act and its Regulations. He testified that he would take any courses required by OMVIC and that he follows the business practices approved by OMVIC.

Under cross-examination, Mr. Jacobs stated that odometer readings are important and that the motor vehicle industry needs to clean up the odometer problem. Mr. Jacobs stated that Mr. Alpy worked for him probably just over a year. Mr. Alpy was never charged. He agreed that Mr. Mehta had the RCMP involved over a car purchase in 1995 and Mr. Jacobs went through a community justice initiative and bought back the car from Mr. Mehta.

Regarding the current operations, his wife, besides working part time at a grocery store, oversees the operations of Goodwheel Motors. Elaine, his sister acts as the general manager and does the licensing and registration and obtains the histories of the cars. He uses a program to check up on the history of a vehicle. He belongs to the Used Car Dealers Association. Goodwheel Motors gives much more history on the car to the prospective customers. Their used cars are bought from the big, reputable dealers in Milton, Brampton and Kitchener. His son Craig has been doing the buying, and Mr. Jacobs then checks out the car as the mechanic. They agree with the standards of business practices that are espoused by OMVIC.

Testimony of Mr. Pyne:

Mr. Pyne is a chartered accountant who does work for Jacob Sales and Service and for Goodwheel Motors. He prepares the financial statement and the tax summaries. He was aware of the six charges against Mr. Jacobs.

Mr. Pyne stated that for nine months after the charges were laid, the dealership had no customers.

Goodwheel Motors is under the control of Mrs. Jacobs. Jacob Sales and Service does the mechanical work for the dealership.

Mr. Pyne felt that there had been weaknesses in the document process under Jacob Sales and Service and that led to the problems with the bills of sale. Now, both businesses are in Wellesley. Mrs. Jacobs signs the cheques and authorizes the purchase of the used cars. There is a level of review in the paperwork that was not there prior to 1998. There has been a revamping of the accounting system. It is on computer and monthly statements are produced.

Mr. Pyne stated that Mr. Jacobs took out a $200,000.00 mortgage on his house to provide the business with a line of credit.

Mr. Pyne testified that he goes to the dealership probably once a month. He talks to Mr. Jacobs about business strategies and business priorities. The businesses are in new premises now and the usage of space is more efficient. As well, the office manager, Elaine, is now quite proficient with computers. She has taken on more responsibilities since 1998.

Mr. Pyne felt that the businesses could have a future if Mr. Jacobs were permitted to be a salesperson.

Under cross-examination, Mr. Pyne agreed that Mr. Jacobs oversees the activities of Craig. As well, a number of the documents such as odometer readings, and purchase and sales invoices are not computerized. He has been told by Mr. Jacobs that the company no longer uses TMU in dealing with odometer readings.

Testimony of Robert Harnack:

Mr. Harnack has known Mr. Jacobs for over twenty five years. He has a plumbing business which employs approximately sixteen employees. He considers himself a family friend of Mr. Jacobs. He feels that Mr. Jacobs put his faith in the wrong people, including Mr. Alpy. He thinks Mr. Jacobs has learnt from his mistakes.

Mr. Harnack stated that Mr. Jacobs now deals with more commercial people and deals more with trucks than cars. Mr. Jacobs has gone to some courses, not industry related.

Under cross-examination, Mr. Harnack agreed that it was important to disclose to customers about the mileage of cars, whether the car is accident repair and whether it has liens against it. He knew of the six counts of odometer tampering. He was not aware of the problem with Mr. Mehta.

Testimony of Ross Kelterborn:

Mr. Kelterborn has known Mr. Jacobs for over forty years. He was his teacher in elementary school. Mr. Kelterborn had been on the township Council. In that capacity he had dealings with Mr. Jacobs over environmental concerns with the property where the businesses are currently located. Mr. Jacobs met his obligations on these matters. He feels Mr. Jacobs is a good corporate citizen. He knows of Mr. Jacobs involvement with the Wellesley Community Centre. He feels Mr. Jacobs and his wife have raised an excellent family. Mr. Kelterborn knows of the criminal charges. He gave Mr. Jacobs a letter of reference in regards to the criminal charges. He felt the salesperson contributed to this situation. He would expect Mr. Jacobs to tell the truth.

Closing Statements:

By Counsel for the Registrar:

Counsel stated that you must consider the wording of section 8 of the Act. There must be a material change of circumstances or new or other evidence.

In this case, the Ontario Court of Appeal has held that there are two criminal convictions.

Counsel held that the evidence did not show any new business practices. There is nothing to support the Applicant's assertion that he has changed his business practices.

In this case, section 5 of the Act outlines the fact that it is important to consider the past conduct of the Applicant. The test is outlined in the case of Brenner v Ontario (Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers and Salesmen) (1983) O.J. No. 1017 which deals with the importance of considering the past conduct of the Applicant, not what are his good intentions for the future.

The case of Baldwin v Ontario (Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers and Salesmen) is concerned with the totality of the evidence and its cumulative effect. Counsel stated that there were three vehicles the subject of the previous CRAT decision.

Counsel cited the cases of Siba (c.o.b. Cardinal Agency) (re)(1998) O.C.R.A.T. D. No. 94, Zylawy (c.o.b. A.Z. Distributing) (Re) (1994) O.C.R.A.T.D. No. 101, and Harrison (Re)(1998) O.C.R.A.T.D. No.65 for the proposition that one should accept the convictions on their face. As stated in Registrar v Griese (1993) the Divisional Court stated: "a plea of guilty admits every element of the offence including knowledge".

Counsel stated that this was a case of odometer tampering which is a most serious infraction. There is a regulation dealing with this offence. Accurate disclosure is fundamental to the industry and the trust of the consumers.

Counsel cited Re Herman Motor Sales Inc. et al. And Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers 29 O.R. (2d) 431 as to the importance of odometers. The case of Ontario (Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers and Salesmen) v. Clermont (1974) O.J. No. 1028 stresses that one instance is sufficient to revoke the registration.

Counsel stated that not enough time has gone by since the convictions. In the case of Hanover Auto Wreckers Ltd.(Re) (1996) O.C.R.A.T.D. No.11. It was held that five years was not sufficient time to be registered after such convictions. The case of Ehsan Shalforoshzadeh LAT decision of March, 2001 held that four years was not sufficient. As stated in Hanover supra the overriding requirement is consumer protection. It should be noted that economic losses are natural consequences that flow from the breach of regulations.

Counsel stated that terms and conditions are completely inappropriate. The wife of the Applicant has a part time job outside of the motor vehicle industry. The office manager, Elaine, is the sister of the Applicant. There is a question of the extent of review of the actions of the Applicant by these parties.

The position of the Registrar is belief based on industry-specific past conduct. There is no arm's length control of this business. There is no faith that there will be meaningful monitoring of the business practices of the Applicant.

Counsel stated that the Tribunal needs to be concerned about the precedent value to the industry of the penalty to tamper with odometers.

By Counsel for the Applicant:

Counsel stated that Mr. Jacobs has done everything possible to satisfy the requirements that he has rehabilitated himself. It is submitted that the threshold under section 8 has been met. Mr. Jacobs has submitted a new application to be a salesperson under a new dealership. Though his wife is working part time in the industry this was approved by the Registrar. One cannot speculate that she will have bad behaviour.

Though Mr. Jacobs has serious industry specific convictions, the witnesses at the criminal court put a new light on the circumstances of the problems. Divisional Court felt Mr. Jacobs had reformed. Mr. Jacobs has taken courses and put into place different systems. Counsel stated that in looking at past conduct, one should look at the totality of the conduct, both good and bad. It is a balancing process. The public interest is important and compliance is important. One can look only at the penalties or look at the ways for reform.

Mr. Jacobs has changed how he conducts his paperwork. He has a new computer system and accounting system. He now has an office manager. He has changed his direction and now does not deal with some dealers. He is concentrating on being a dealership for trucks. Counsel stated that Mr. Jacobs has followed the directions of OMVIC. He has a business mentor, an accountant and double checks his documents. He works in Wellesley which is a small community.

Counsel stated that Mr. Jacobs has been penalized for nine and one half months. From August to December, 1998 and from January to June, 2001. Within that time frame, he has taken steps to change his business practices.

Counsel stated that one has to look at the whole of the time period and look at all of the circumstances. Now, Mr. Jacobs would be less likely to take a risk based on what he knows can happen for non compliance.

LEGISLATION:

The relevant legislation is the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.

Section 5:

- (1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,
 - (a) having regard to the financial position of the applicant, the applicant cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of business; or
 - (b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty; or

.....

Section 8:

A further application for registration may be made upon new or other evidence or where it is clear that material circumstances have changed.

Regulation 801

Section 16 (2) Where a used motor vehicle is sold, the sales or purchase order shall show,

.....

- (o) the distance travelled by the vehicle at the time of sale;

.....

- (2) Where a used motor vehicle is purchased or traded in, the sales or purchase order shall show,

.....

- (g) the recorded odometer reading at the time of purchase or trade in.

Section 19(1)

Except in the case of an exchange or repair of an odometer and subject to subsection (2), no motor vehicle dealer or salesperson shall alter, adjust, or permit any alteration or adjustment to the odometer on any motor vehicle in the dealer's or salesperson's possession or control in such a manner that as a result of the alteration or adjustment the total distance indicated on the odometer is other than the total distance travelled by the motor vehicle.

ANALYSIS:

This is a case where the Registrar is basically saying that sufficient time has not elapsed since the Applicant suffered revocation of his registration as a dealer and as a salesperson. Though the Registrar, through the capable argument of its Counsel, stated those cases whereby the Tribunal had felt that four years or five years of revocation was not sufficient for rehabilitation under the Act, those cases can be distinguished on their facts. In the Ehsan Shalforoshzadeh case, the Applicant was still a very young man with an extensive Young Offenders record and had not made full disclosure of his past offences. In the Golab (Re) case, the applicant had been convicted on two counts of odometer tampering, had not had his registration previously revoked and had not disclosed the conviction. In the Hanover Auto Wreckers Ltd (Re) case, the Applicant had been convicted on one count of substituting VIN plates in a pattern of behaviour that had continued over three years. He had made full disclosure of the conviction in his application for registration both as a dealer and as a motor vehicle salesperson. The RE Herman Motor Sales Inc. decision dealt with an appeal by the registrant against the revocation of his dealership registration. The Divisional Court held that odometer tampering was an extremely serious matter as it forms the basis for assessment in value of most motor vehicles. This Tribunal agrees with the Divisional Court that the public does use odometer readings to assess the value of motor vehicles. Indeed the Regulation 801 has specific sections, section 16.(2)(o), (3) (g) and section 19 which deal with the need for disclosure of mileage on odometers and any adjustment or alterations to odometers.

The facts are not in controversy in this case. The Applicant had his registration as a dealer and as a motor vehicle salesperson revoked by CRAT in August, 1998. The revocation was stayed by the Divisional Court until its decision in November, 2000 in which the appeal was denied and the revocation came into force again in January, 2001. The Applicant was found guilty of two counts of odometer tampering. Though he appealed, the higher court denied his appeal in March of 2000. Though the Applicant has mentioned that these incidents also involved a dishonest employee and improper paperwork, he has not denied that ultimately he, as the employer and as the motor vehicle dealer, is responsible for these breaches of trust to the car buying public.

The Act is based on protection of the car buying public. It sets out very exacting and specific responsibilities upon a motor vehicle dealer and a motor vehicle salesperson to ensure that consumers are aware of what they are purchasing. OMVIC has the responsibility of enforcing these measures through its investigation and registration functions. It is appreciated that this is an exacting and difficult task, particularly as OMVIC must work with limited resources and deal with thousands of dealers and many thousands of registrations each year.

It is an extremely important point to note that this Applicant in no way failed to disclose his past. Indeed, it is conceded by the Registrar that their case is not based in any fashion upon failure to disclose. As the Registrar must deal with thousands of renewals of registrations of dealerships and salespersons every year, it is essential that his office be given the correct facts upon which to make their decision.

It is well accepted that since the Divisional Court decision in Brenner that the Tribunal must carefully examine the past conduct of the applicant/registrant. As well, the Tribunal does not have carte blanche to give its own opinion whether or not the applicant/registrant should be registered. Instead, the Tribunal must consider whether or not the Registrar has acted in a reasonable fashion in making his decision on whether the applicant or registrant meets the criteria under section 5 of the Act.

In this case, the Applicant has the burden of meeting the requirements as outlined in section 8 of the Act. Here the previous salesperson registration was revoked by the Tribunal and that revocation was upheld by the Divisional Court. So this Applicant must satisfy the Tribunal, that the application is based upon new or other evidence or that the material circumstances have changed.

The Tribunal is of the opinion that the Applicant has met the test under section 8 of the Act. There is evidence before the Tribunal that the Applicant has changed his business practices. It would have been helpful to have had more documents outlining these changes, but the Tribunal does accept the evidence of the Applicant and his witnesses that he has revised his business practices since the charges were laid against him in February, 1998. His staff are better trained. He uses more computer technology. He has taken a course through the Used Car Dealers Association on the Act and Regulations and the responsibilities of those registered under the Act. He accepts the guidelines of OMVIC as to what are better business practices. He is familiar with articles in the Dealer Standard newsletter of OMVIC and the Front Line newsletter of UCDA which deals with such issues as dealer disclosure to consumers and the prohibition on the use of TMU on retail bills of sale. The Applicant stated clearly in his testimony that he now does not use the term TMU and that he utilizes the various internet services to obtain better histories on the used cars that he purchases.

The Tribunal agrees with Counsel for the Registrar that the fact that the Applicant has experienced economic loss is not a determining factor in this application. Any revocation of registration automatically has associated with it some economic loss. Dealers and salespersons are working within a regulated industry. Failure to abide by the terms and conditions of that industry can result in serious economic consequences.

It is always difficult to determine how long someone should be penalized for past mistakes. It is a matter that needs to be considered on a case by case fashion. The Tribunal does not agree with the statements of Ms. Gordon that there needs to be a certain time period of at least two years before the Registrar can look at applications under section 8 of the Act. The Registrar cannot act unfairly and must consider each application on its merits. The Registrar cannot be viewed as fettering his discretion. The Federal Court, Trial Division, in YHAP v MEI (1989) court # T-2543-89 held that the Minister of Immigration and her officials cannot arbitrarily use a set of criteria which constitute inflexible limitations on her discretion. This issue of fettering of discretion by administrative tribunals and officials has also been found to be improper by the Supreme Court of Canada in such decisions as Telecommunications Workers Union v Canada (Radio television and Telecommunications Commission) [1995] 2.S.C.R. 781 and Pacific National Investments Ltd. v Victoria (City) [2000] 2.S.C.R. 919.

In this case, the Applicant ceased to operate as a dealer or salesperson from August to December, 1998 and from late January, 2001 to the date of this decision. As well, this Applicant's charges and then convictions were well known in his small community. Indeed, his accountant spoke of a serious lack of business for many months after the charges were publicized via newscasts and in newspaper articles.

It is of significant importance that the Applicant is asking for registration only as a motor vehicle salesperson. Such a registration is significantly different from that of a motor vehicle dealer. A salesperson has to be supervised and does not have full authority. There can be more checks and balances to ensure the protection of the car buying public.

The Tribunal feels this is a case that requires terms and conditions. The Tribunal is concerned that the Applicant will be working for a dealership whose owner does not have a great deal of experience in the industry. While the owner is also the wife of the Applicant, that in itself would not be grounds for concern if she had significant experience in the industry. As well, the Tribunal is aware that both businesses, that of the dealership Goodwheel Motors and that of the car repair shop Jacobs Sales and Services, are dependent to a great extent upon the talents and experience of the Applicant. The Tribunal is encouraged that the office manager, though the sister of the Applicant, does have increased responsibilities in the paperwork of the business and obtaining the histories of the used cars being purchased for the business. As well, the accountant for the business has taken a greater role in attending on a monthly basis and reviewing paperwork that is not necessarily within his mandate as the accountant. But there needs to be more supervision on the activities of the Applicant to ensure that he abides by the business practices as espoused by OMVIC.

The Applicant needs to take the certification course offered by OMVIC for those wishing to register as motor vehicle salespersons. The Applicant needs to take this course within a year of being registered unless the course is not offered by OMVIC within that time frame.

In that case, the Applicant must take the course at the earliest time after a year that it is offered by OMVIC. Copies of the retail and wholesale sales invoices need to be sent to the Registrar on a monthly basis or less frequently if so decided by the Registrar for the first year after registration of this Applicant. The Applicant needs to find a mentor who has at least five years experience as a motor vehicle dealer, who is currently working in the industry as a motor vehicle dealer and who has no pending charges before the criminal courts and who is not under investigation by the Registrar. This mentor needs to agree to personally meet with the Applicant at least four times in the next year starting as of the date of this decision at the place of business of the Applicant to review business practices and provide guidance to the Applicant. This mentor is under no obligation to report the content of these discussions to the Registrar. The purpose of these meetings is to provide the Applicant with some guidance by someone with experience in the industry as KW Goodwheel Motors does not have such a person. The Registrar has the authority under the Act and its Regulations to do spot checks of the Applicant and the motor vehicle dealer for which he works, as is necessary.

ORDER:

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it by the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to register the Applicant as a motor vehicle salesperson subject to the following conditions:

1. The Applicant takes the motor vehicle salesperson certification course offered by OMVIC within a year of the date of this decision or as soon as possible as is offered by OMVIC if that occurs after one year from the date of this decision;
2. All wholesale and retail sales invoices of KW Goodwheel Motors are sent to the Registrar on a monthly basis or more infrequent than that if so decided by the Registrar. This will be done for a year from the date of registration of this Applicant.
3. The Applicant is to find a mentor who is currently a motor vehicle dealer, has at least five years experience as a motor vehicle dealer, has no pending criminal charges or criminal convictions, and is not under investigation by the Registrar. The Applicant is to have this mentor meet with him at least four times in the first year of his registration as a motor vehicle salesperson. The mentor is under no obligation to report the content of these discussions with the Registrar. These discussion are for the purpose of having the Application receive guidance on business practices from someone with experience in the industry.

DATE OF HEARING: September 4, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: September 6, 2001

By teleconference

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing by teleconference was held on September 4, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	891990 Ontario Inc. (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	2001 Chrysler Intrepid, plate # AJEF 122, (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 2, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended as provided in section 50.2(3) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 4, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

The Respondent offered certified true copies of their submissions which without challenge were included in Exhibit # 2.

The hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

Ms. Kim Beintema
Hearing Officer

Dear Ms. Kim

RE: Vehicle Impoundment Appeal of 891990 Ont Inc.
LAT File No: 0739/MVIA/01/173

Thank you for your response of Aug 10 with respect to the above mentioned appeal.

The reason for our appeal is as follows:

We had rented out the said vehicle to a Mr Nicholas Stowe under the company's due diligence guidelines, who in turn lent the said vehicle to his friend or acquaintance, without our knowledge or permission.

Furthermore we would greatly appreciate if you would expedite the release of this vehicle before the 45 day Impoundment period as we are losing money on it with no fault of our own.

A copy of the rental agreement is attached for your perusal.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely

Sukhwant Singh Thethi
Owner/Operator

The Applicant expanded little on the opinion expressed in his written submission filed with his application for Appeal. He did detail their standard practice in respect to the company's "due diligence" guide lines which did not include any direct inquiry to MTO to validate a driver's licence. He again pleaded that he had no control over the renter allowing someone else to driver the car save for his warning at the signing of the rental agreement which prohibits any other driver operating the rented car. The Respondent provided the Applicant with a validation procedure and suggested his financial loss might best be recovered by the use of Section 55.1 subsection 21 of the Act. It was determined that the credit card used by a third person involved was to provide the necessary approval level required to rent the car. No relationship of the credit card holder to the other parties was provided.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Blagojce Mustakinovski;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving While Disqualified under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until February 2, 2003.

The Respondent chose not to add any evidence but made reference to the Submission by the MTO entered as exhibit # 2. The Respondent's closing statement reiterated the position of the cause for impoundment as it relates to the Act and again suggested to the Applicant to seek his damages in another value.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time

- (d) in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(c).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(c) of the Act on the grounds that he exercised "due diligence" before he rented the car, and yet beyond a discussion in respect to the renter's statement that his licence was valid, no other proof of validation was pursued by the Applicant. The renter of the car in this case allowed a suspended driver to drive the rented car in spite of the warning given to him by the Applicant that he was the only authorized driver according to the Applicant's testimony. The Act does not provide grounds for appeals based on agreements between owners and drivers respecting a driver having a valid driver's licence. Here, the requirement is that the Applicant demonstrate due diligence in confirming the validity of the driver's licence. The evidence is that the Applicant was content with the renter's assurance that his driver's licence was valid. The Tribunal finds that this degree of effort for validation of the renter's licence does not meet the standards as described in section 50.2(3)(c) as it pertains to due diligence.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held by teleconference on August 30, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended (“HTA” or the “Act”).

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Anna Poleszuk (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1988 Pontiac Grand Prix, plate no. AKMM 693 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 13, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on August 30, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

I'm mother of Paul Poleszuk.

August 3th, 2001 I went after work to Toronto to my boyfriend. I left the car on parking lot in the basement of an apartment where I live. I left the key at home just in case if something happened. My son was at home. I even didn't think that he can take the car. He had suspended driver licence and never took the car before when I was in Toronto juring the weekend. I don't know what came to his head, why he took the car and drive to West of Mississauga? Saturday morning he called from Brathford, told me what happened. Answer on my question why he took the car was - I don't know - Happened is already done. He's got a new problems and me too. Now I have to walk to work 10 km. I start work at 5:45 A.M. - 6:00 p.m. to be at work at 6:45 a.m. I have to live home 4:45 a.m. I can take two buses and walk 0.5 km to the place where I work. I spend even more time to get to work by the buses. I work so hard every day by six day. Car make me easier and faster be at work and at home after work. Please let me took car back. My six working days make me very tire, but I must work very hard, because I have some debts pay back for the bank after when my ex husband divorce me 4 yers ago. I beg you, please help me my car back soon is possible.

I never have problems before with my car or driver licence. Thank God that he takes care of me when I work to my work in the morning in dark on empty streets. Please, try to understand and help me.

Thank you very much
Sincerely:
Anna Poleszuk

The Applicant read into her statement her original submission to the Tribunal with some enhancement but no material contribution. The questions asked by the Respondent in respect to alternative transit which might be an option to the Applicant were answered in conflict with the research presented by the Respondent especially the distance to travel and the public services available. Taxis and rental cars were dismissed by the Applicant as too costly as alternatives to her car although no direct contact of these sources by the Applicant was made.

It was also determined that the key to the Applicant's vehicle was available in the event it had to be moved as a result of some emergency in the apartment buildings underground garage during her absence.

The Applicant stated she was also aware of her son's driving record and warned him not to take her vehicle.

There was no other witnesses for the Applicant.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Paul Poleszuk;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until October 2, 2002.

The Respondent questioned the Applicant's contention that her work was 10 kilometers from her home and that the bus service would cause any exceptional hardship. The Respondent identified other options available to the Applicant such as borrowing a car from friends or relatives and sharing a ride with fellow employees none of which had been fully explored by the Applicant.

Neither the Applicant nor the Respondent offered any new evidence and only restated their original positions in their closing remarks.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or

- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has appealed under section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act on the basis that the impoundment of her vehicle will and has resulted in a severe hardship insofar as her ability to get to her place of employment. Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific and provides the Tribunal with clear criteria that must be met by the Applicant in order to establish exceptional hardship as a result of the impoundment. The Tribunal cannot consider any other factors arising from or directly related to the impoundment itself.

In order for the Applicant's claim to be considered under section 22(b) and (c), the Applicant must have demonstrated that all of section 22(3) has been met. Furthermore, section 22(4) of the Regulation requires demonstration that every reasonable option has been explored, including an alternative vehicle.

The Applicant has not presented the Tribunal with any evidence that would demonstrate any reasonable option to the impounded vehicle has been explored and inquired into as required under section 22(4) of the Regulation. The burden to provide evidence to support the test required under the Act is that of the Applicant.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: September 4, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: September 6, 2001 Written

REASONS FOR DECISION

A written hearing was held on September 4, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Superior Lawn Care Inc. (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1983 Ford Con, no plate # (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 13, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended as provided in section 50.2(3) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 4, 2001 and proceeded as a written hearing.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

THIS APPEAL IS BASED ON "THE ALL REASONABLE EFFORTS" WERE TAKEN TO ENSURE ONLY DRIVERS WITH VOID LICENCES OPERATE OUR VEHICLES. WE ARE RELYING ON THE ATTACHED SHEETS, SHOWING THAT IN JUNE 2001 MR. BENWELL SIGNED STATING HIS LICENCE WAS IN GOOD STANDING AND VOID UNTIL 12/02/02. OUR ONLY DOCUMENT IS ENCLOSED OTHER THAN MANY VERBAL REMINDERS ABOUT ENSURING THAT DRIVERS LICENCES REMAIN VALAD.

Also enclosed was a sheet entitled "sweepers/flushers/dump trucks monthly training and safety report." On this sheet, Mr. Kevin Benwell name appears along with his signature and it is dated 06-08-01.

Another form was enclosed, entitled "Superior Lawn Care, Employee Personal Information Update, dated June 08, 2001. On this form there is listed the biographical data along with licence and job description, i.e. name, address, date of birth, S.I. Number, Licence #, class type, licence in good standing, expire date, position, full/part time, signature and date."

No other documents were enclosed.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Kevin Benwell;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;

4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving While Disqualified under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until November 4, 2003.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(c).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

There is only one issue to be considered in this appeal and it is dealt with hereunder.

The Tribunal finds that Mr. Kevin Benwells' drivers licence was under suspension at the time of the impoundment and that he was driving the Applicant's vehicle at that time. The grounds of appeal under section 50.2(3)(c) of the Act requires that the Applicant show the Tribunal that he exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that Mr. Benwell's drivers licence was not suspended at the time of the impoundment of the Applicant's vehicle.

The Applicant has provided nothing to the Tribunal that indicated that any attempt was made to ascertain if in fact the driver, Mr. Benwell was in possession of a valid driver's licence other than accepting the employee's personal assurance that he had a licence that was in good standing. (Exhibit # 2, Personal Information Update). This form was filled in by Mr. Benwell. The form however was devoid of a driver's licence number which would have been needed to verify the validity of the licence via the Ministry of Transportation. The Applicant, Mr. Graham has not indicated that he even viewed the driver's licence.

The onus is upon the Applicant to establish that he in fact exercised due diligence. The Applicants submissions fail to substantiate his claim of due diligence.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: September 4, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: September 6, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 4, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Thuy Lan Tran (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	2000 Toyota 4-Runner, plate no. AFYR 1Z8 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	August 15, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 4, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

- I need the car to go to work.

In making her submission, the Applicant advised that she lived with her parents, her sister, and her two children. The children are ten and twelve years old respectively. The Applicant is divorced. She needs the car to go to work because there is no direct bus route to her workplace. The workplace is only fifteen minutes drive from her home.

The children are quite capable of walking to school, and in the past have been accompanied by their Grandmother. The Applicant stated that she also needs the car to buy her groceries.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Chi Hung Chan;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving with more than 80 MGS Alcohol under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until December 18, 2001.

The Representative for the Ministry of Transportation questioned the Applicant briefly. In response to the questions, the Applicant advised that her Grandfather owns a car, but it is presently being used by her sister who goes to the University in Toronto. She starts work at 6:30 a.m. Her sister Lyn Chan who works from 3:00 p.m. to midnight has been taking her to work. The children have not been inconvenienced thus far because they are only now returning to school after the summer vacation. Ms. Tran admitted that the only person who has been inconvenienced is her sister who has to wake up early to take her to work.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22
- (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
 - (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
 - (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
 - (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

As to issue filed, the evidence established that (a) there is no evidence of loss; (b) there is no educational loss, because the children can walk to school; (c) the Applicant's employment is in no immediate danger; and the Applicant has access to another vehicle in case of a medical emergency.

Section 22(1) of Ontario Regulation 632/98 Amending Reg. 574 Of R.R.O. 1990 states that in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the Tribunal shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,

- (a) a threat to the health and safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.

Also, under section 22(4), to determine that an alternative to the impounded vehicle is available, the Applicant must show that every reasonable option has been considered.

As to section 22(a), there is no evidence of a threat to the health or safety of a person transported in the impounded vehicle. There is only some inconvenience. The evidence in this case shows that 22(1)(b) is not relevant to the Applicant's appeal.

In any event, there are alternatives available to the Applicant.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL

RELEASED: September 6, 2001

REGINALD ALLEN HARDY

TO APPEAL AN ORDER TO IMPOUND A MOTOR VEHICLE ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES

DECISION RELEASED: September 10, 2001

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Reginald Allen Hardy (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1996 Ford COF, plate no. YM1977 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 15, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 5, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

Notice of Appeal

1. The applicant, is seventy years old. He is a foundry worker who suffers from Asbestosis , and regularly needs the care of a treating physician.
2. The applicant resides, by himself, on a farm of approximately fifty acres.
3. The applicant farms and raises:
 - 16 horses
 - 150 chickens
 - 7 Jack Russel breeding dogs
 - 28 ducks.
4. The farm upon which the applicant resides is located some fourteen (14) miles from the nearest municipality, that being the City of Sarnia.
5. The farm is located eight (8) miles from the Bridgen Feed Mill, which is where the applicant purchases feed for the afore mentioned animals.
6. The vehicle in question is a pick up truck that is regularly used for travel back and forth to the feed mill to obtain food for the animals.
7. The applicant makes his living by raising and selling horses, chickens, dogs, and ducks.
8. The horses are regularly sold at auction in Woodstock, Ontario area, approximately two hours by vehicle from the location of the farm.
9. Additionally, the applicant sells the garden produce at a farmers market in the Grand Bend area on weekends. The Grand Bend area is located approximately 1 1/2 hours north of the farm.
10. Lastly, the applicant grows a cash crop namely hay, at a rented location eight mile from the location of the farm.
11. The impounded vehicle in question, a pick up truck is used to transport the livestock to market. The vehicle is used to obtain feed for the livestock from the feed mill. The truck is also used to haul produce for sale, and to haul hay out of the rented field.

12. In short, the loss of use of the vehicle will provide an exceptional hardship to the applicant.

Name (print) "Reginald Hardy"
Date "August 9, 2001"

Signature "Reginald Hardy"

Mr. Ed Gresham, counsel for the Applicant, informed the Tribunal that his client would not be attending the hearing due to the difficulty of arranging transportation to Sarnia from his farm situated fourteen miles away. He submits that the Applicant is somewhat elderly and lives alone in a very rural part of Lambton County. The Applicant is not retired and makes his living raising farm animals for profit as well as selling garden produce on weekends at the Grand Bend Farmer's Market situated approximately one and one-half hours from his farm. Counsel submits that it would take a substantial effort for the Applicant to borrow or rent an alternative vehicle, and that his client already bears the financial burden for towing and storage costs for the impounded vehicle.

The Tribunal made it quite clear to counsel that the Owner's Position statement provides no evidence whatsoever to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded vehicle or to do without the vehicle during the impoundment.

Counsel stated that the Applicant did not plan on attending the hearing, citing transportation difficulties as the cause. Nevertheless, he was able to attend counsel's office on August 9, 2001 to complete and sign the Notice of Appeal and the Owner's Position documentation.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. J. Walter Scott;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;

4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until November 25, 2002.

The Registrar submitted that the criteria to establish exceptional hardship is cumulative and therefore the Applicant must meet all the requirements of the Regulation before his appeal can be considered. Mr. Hardy has failed to meet the conditions set out for demonstrating exceptional hardship, as prescribed in the Highway Traffic Act, Section 22(3) of Regulation 574, R.R.O., as amended by Regulation 632/98.

The Registrar further submitted that the Applicant presented no evidence, written or oral, to demonstrate that other options or alternatives have been considered and inquired into to replace the impounded vehicle. The Applicant did not indicate whether he had inquired into renting a truck or whether a 1985 Oldsmobile automobile registered to the Applicant and plated to May 17, 2002 could be utilized for personal transportation.

Further, it was submitted that on no evidence was provided as to whether the Brigden Feed Mill could deliver the animal feed, whether any horse auctions have been missed, or if any financial or economic loss is being experienced during the impoundment period and whether the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting. There was no evidence of the Applicant's monthly income and expenses compared with the amount necessary to perhaps rent a vehicle.

As to the Owner's Position, the Registrar submitted that for the Applicant's claims to be considered for exceptional hardship, he must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered for an alternative to the impounded vehicle. The Applicant has not met these requirements.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,
 - (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
 - (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
 - (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
 - (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines “exceptional hardship” as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

(h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.

- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has appealed on the grounds of exceptional hardship, in accordance with Section 55.2(3)(d). Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific in that it provides the Tribunal with particular criteria the Applicant must meet to determine if in fact exceptional hardship will result from the impoundment.

For the Applicant's claims to be considered under Section 22(2)(a), (b), and (c), he must demonstrate that all of Section 22(3) has been met. Furthermore, Section 22(4) of the Regulation requires the Applicant to demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered for an alternative vehicle. The Applicant has made no specific claims of exceptional hardship as described by Section 22(1)(a) or (b).

While the Owner's Position makes reference to the Applicant requiring his truck to transport feed for his animals, transport his animals to market, as well as travel to the Grand Bend produce market, the Applicant has not presented the Tribunal with evidence that would demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into as required under Section 22(4) of the Regulation. Without supporting evidence, the Tribunal cannot conclude that the Applicant's farming operation is in jeopardy, and that the impact of the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting.

The Tribunal recognizes that the Applicant is greatly inconvenienced by the loss of the vehicle, however, no evidence is provided that would support a finding of exceptional hardship.

The Tribunal finds that the Applicant has failed to meet the requirements of Section 22(4) of the Regulation, and the Tribunal is therefore precluded from considering the Applicant's claim of exceptional hardship under Section 22(2) of the Regulation.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DECISION AND REASONS

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by the Applicant respecting a decision of the Minister (the "Respondent") pursuant to section 32(12)(b)(i) of the Highway Traffic Act (Ontario).

FACTS:

The Applicant, a 45-year-old former T.T.C. motorman, had his driver's licence downgraded from a "BZ" to a "DZ" after the Ministry received information from a psychiatrist, Physician # 1, that the Applicant had been hospitalized several times for psychiatric problems.

The Applicant stated he had a lot of stress due to incidents at work involving passengers, in his relationship with his girlfriend, a kidney stone, an asthma flare up and heart palpitations. He visited the Humber River Regional Hospital on October 8, 1996 and was seen by Physician # 1, a psychiatrist, after confessing to suicidal thoughts. He was given a prescription for Ativan and referred to the Day Treatment Program at the hospital.

He was returned to the hospital October 10, 1996 after being found attempting to walk into the Humber River. When he was brought into the emergency, he claimed he had also taken an overdose of Ativan and Restoril. He was hospitalized under Physician # 1 for 12 days and discharged with a diagnosis of Major Depression and Pathological Gambling and again referred to the Day Treatment Program. In evidence, he said he only took a few pills as a gesture.

He was re-hospitalized December 3, 1996 because of depression and paranoid delusions. He claimed people were spying on his conversations and there was a camera attached to the wall of his room. He was discharged December 25, 1996 with a diagnosis of Bipolar Mood Disorder-mixed features and treated with Paxil, Lithium, Perphenazine and Ativan.

He continued to see Physician # 1 for the following six months and was again hospitalized on June 30, 1997 following another suicide attempt by an overdose. He was discharged July 21, 1997 with a diagnosis of Anxiety Disorder and Suicidal Attempt.

He was again hospitalized on October 6, 1997 with suicidal thoughts and Paranoid Delusions. He claimed someone had been tampering with his files and someone at the TTC really wanted to "mess me up". He was discharged on October 22, 1997 with a diagnosis of Delusional Disorder Paranoid Type.

In March 1998, he claimed the pills in a new prescription had been altered. He spoke to Physician # 1 about it, and he was alleged to have told him to give them to his girl friend. This finished him with Physician # 1.

In July 1998, an insurance psychiatrist recommended the Applicant return to transitional work for a 6-month period. After 2 weeks in a collector booth, a trainer expressed concern about his performance, and he was removed from the training program. He failed to respond to requests for information, because of his suspicion of physicians, so his LTD benefits were terminated and he was laid off by TTC in July 1999.

In August 2000, his family physician referred him to another psychiatrist, Physician # 2. His diagnostic impression was:

Major Depressive Disorder
No diagnosis, but Paranoid Personality Traits
Asthma
Occupational and Financial Problems - Severe

Physician # 2 stated the Applicant had been off all medication since 1998 and found him to be mentally stable, in spite of demonstrating paranoid traits, minimizing his former difficulties and presenting himself in a good light. On the basis of his mental status examination and interviews over 2 months, he saw no contradictions to his "B" licence being reinstated.

On February 5, 2001, the Medical Advisory Committee denied the Applicant's request for a "B" licence. The Committee found him to be an unsuitable candidate for a passenger carrying vehicle because of his paranoid traits and symptoms, in particular when under stress, which is current to driving passengers, children or adults.

On March 15, 2001 he consulted the Labour Board about his employment problems, but apparently has not had an answer yet. He found a job at a chicken factory, but the pay is low. He still believes the TTC is conspiring against him to prevent him from finding work, etc. Physician # 2 states he has remained preoccupied with his problems with the TTC and although there is a distinct paranoid flavouring to his beliefs, he did not believe they met the criteria for a diagnosis of paranoid delusional disorder.

In correspondence from Physician # 2 dated April 19, 2001 he reiterated the Applicant's conviction that he had been wronged by the TTC and it was a wrongful dismissal. The Applicant attempted to obtain help from his union, but said they were with the TTC. He has contacted several lawyers, but could not afford the retainer required. He has maintained that the TTC is continuing a conspiracy against him to deny him a job, to deny him his insurance disability benefits and to deny him his "B" licence.

May 30, 2001, the Medical Advisory Committee again denied the Applicant's request for a "B" licence. The Committee repeated that the Applicant was not suitable for a passenger carrying licence. He still continues to have issues with the TTC, which was considered evidence of psychotic symptoms as well as paranoid ideation. It was felt that since he was not being treated and continues to exhibit behaviour with paranoid traits, he is at risk for potential problems for himself and others if granted the requested licence.

In evidence, the Applicant expressed surprise at the amount of information contained in the Respondent's summary. He kept repeating that there were so many mistakes, but when asked to identify them, he could not be specific, but simply gave general statements that "it was all very damaging". He stated that the only physician he trusted was Physician # 2 and possibly his family physician Physician # 3.

The Applicant has no insight into his paranoid behaviour or his obsession with the TTC. He is convinced he deserves compensation from the TTC for the way they have treated him and mentioned amounts up to $250,000. He blames the TTC for his girl friend of 8 years leaving him in spite of the fact she called the police on him one day and 3 cruisers showed up and took him to the hospital for a psychiatric examination. He said he had no idea why she called them, because she left immediately and has never returned.

The Applicant claims the TTC turned his roommate against him, and that they then went through his house and took some of his personal possessions. Following this his roommate was promoted. Some inspectors were alleged to have played tricks on him trying to set him up so he would be caught looking like a thief. He said one inspector told him " when we get through with you, you'll need a life preserver." Physician # 4, a psychiatrist, retained by the TTC, interviewed him for 10 minutes and told him he was unfit.

ISSUES:

Should the decision of the Minister to change the class or class of motor vehicles in respect of which the licence is issued in accordance with the result of the examination be varied, modified or set aside?

LAW:

Regulation 340/94, Section 14 states:

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffer from any mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely; and
- (b) be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

Regulation 340/94, Section 17 and 18 states:

- 17. (1) Qualifications required by an applicant for a holder of a Class A, B, C, D, E or F driver's licence are that the applicant or holder,
 - (a) has no history or clinical diagnosis of diabetes that requires insulin for control;
 - (b) is not taking any drug that could, in the dosage prescribed or in the dosage recommended by the manufacturer, impair his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely;
 - (c) has no established medical history of myocardial infarction, angina pectoris, coronary insufficiency or thrombosis;

- (d) has no established medical history of heart disease including arrhythmia or of respiratory dysfunction likely to interfere with the safe driving of a motor vehicle of the applicable class;
 - (e) is not suffering from an aortic aneurysm, whether resected or not;
 - (f) is not suffering from hypertension accompanied by postural hypotension resulting in giddiness when under treatment;
 - (g) has no established medical history of loss of consciousness or awareness due to a chronic or recurring condition;
 - (h) has no established medical history of a disorder of the musculoskeletal or nervous system that may interfere with the safe driving of a motor vehicle of the applicable class;
 - (i) has no established medical history of an intractable psychotic or psychoneurotic disorder, having particular regard for sustained hostile, aggressive, paranoid, suicidal or other destructive tendencies or depression unless it is medically determined that the condition from which the person has suffered is corrected or controlled;
 - (j) has a visual acuity by Snellen Rating, with or without the aid of corrective lenses, no poorer than 20/30 in the better eye and 20/50 in the weaker eye; and
 - (k) has a horizontal visual field of at least 120 degrees in each eye as measured by confrontation tests.
- (2) An applicant for or a holder of a Class A, B, C, D, E or F driver's licence who fails to meet the qualifications referred to in clauses (1)(a) to (i) may, despite the failure, qualify for the class of licence applied for or held if he or she demonstrated the ability to drive a motor vehicle in the applicable class as safely as any person who meets those qualifications.
- (3) An applicant for or a holder of a Class D driver's licence who fails to meet the qualification referred to in clause (1)(c) may, despite the failure, qualify for that class of licence if it is medically determined that he or she has made a full recovery and there is no established history of a second occurrence of myocardial infarction, thrombosis or recurring angina pectoris.
- (4) An applicant for or a holder of a Class B, C, E or F driver's licence whose hearing in one ear is better than in the other must be able to perceive in the better ear, with or without a hearing aid, a forced whisper at a distance of 1.5 metres or, if an audiometer is used to test the person's hearing, must not have a loss in the better ear of more than 40 decibels at 500, 1,000 and 2,000 hertz.

18. An applicant for or a holder of a G, G1, G2, L, M, M1, M2, or R driver's licence must have,
- (a) in the case of a person whose vision in one eye is better than in the other, visual acuity in the better eye that is no poorer than 20/40 as measured by Snellen Rating; and
 - (b) a horizontal visual field of at least 120 degrees as measured by confrontation tests.

Section 32(12)(b)(i) states:

- 32 No person shall drive a motor vehicle on a highway unless the motor vehicle is within a class of motor vehicles in respect of which the person holds a driver's licence issued to him or her under this Act.
- (12) An applicant for a driver's licence or a person who holds a driver's licence shall submit to the examinations that are authorized by the regulations relating to this section and required by the Minister at the time and places that the Minister may require and the Minister may,
- (b) in the case of a person who holds a driver's licence,
 - (i) impose or remove the conditions or endorsements authorized by the regulations or change the class or classes of motor vehicles in respect of which the licence is issued in accordance with the result of the examinations, or

Section 50 states:

- 50(1) Every person aggrieved by a decision of the Minister under subclause 32(12)(b)(i) or a decision of the Registrar under section 17 or 47 may appeal the decision to the Tribunal.
- (2) The Tribunal may confirm, modify or set aside the decision of the Minister or Registrar.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

The Registrar had no alternative, but to downgrade the Applicant's driver's licence when they received information regarding the Applicant's psychiatric problems.

The Highway Traffic Act, Regulation 340/94, Section 14 states:

An Applicant or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffer from any mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely.

Section 17(1) states:

- (i) has no established medical history of an intractable psychotic or psychoneurotic disorder, having particular regard for sustained hostile, aggressive paranoid, suicidal or other destructive tendencies or depression unless it is medically determined that the condition from which the person has suffered is corrected or controlled:

The Applicant was hospitalized on five occasions in a two-year period for a total of 72 days. He was examined by at least five physicians, four of whom were psychiatrists and only one recommended reinstatement of his "B" licence. There are three suicide attempts documented in the medical records provided.

At the present time he is not taking any medication and yet he exhibited definite paranoidal traits and hostility during his evidence. He did not demonstrate any signs of insight into his problems. As Physician # 1 reported he presents himself in a good light and minimizes his former difficulties. Virtually all of his problems are blamed on the TTC.

He claimed in his evidence that he did not want to return to the TTC, but he wanted a "B" licence, so he could make better money working for a company such as Greyhound. He applied there, but he said the TTC interfered and he was not hired.

The Tribunal agrees with The Medical Advisory Committee's concern about the Applicant's mental stability affecting his ability to drive a bus or a subway train and handle passengers. The evidence presented confirms that the prohibitions set out in Regulation 340/94 apply to the Applicant.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the decision dated April 26, 1999 of the Minister ("Respondent") to change the class or classes of motor vehicle in respect of which the licence was issued pursuant to Section 32(12)(b)(i) of The Highway Traffic Act ("HTA"), and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Respondent and of the Applicant;

IT IS THE DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50(2) of the Act that the decision of the Registrar be confirmed.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 5, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on September 6, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated August 16, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on August 16, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by cash.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

The Applicant and his agent failed to appear before this Tribunal or notify the Tribunal in writing to request and adjournment. The hearing proceeded in the Applicant's absentia.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1 Notice of Appeal and medical information received August 16, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 2 MTO Submissions received August 29, 2001m consisting of 12 pages.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

50.1 (1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.

(2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,

- (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1), (2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

15. (1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,
- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;
 - (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
 - (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;

- (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner.”

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

“A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal”.

FACTS:

As no evidence was given by the Applicant, the Tribunal accepted the documents submitted by the Applicant into evidence. The Applicants’ medical documentation consisted of emergency room records from Humber River Regional Hospital. The date on these records was August 5, 2001. Along with these records was the Notice of Appeal.

The report from Humber River Regional Hospital indicated that the Applicant suffered a “3 cm laceration to the scalp” which was stapled closed By Physician # 1. The patient after treatment was discharged back to police custody.

The emergency room report indicated that the patient “smelled of alcohol” as well as the primary assessment indicated the airway was patent, breathing was regular and effortless, skin colour was normal with normal skin temperature, pulse was regular and the patient was alert/oriented.

The Tribunal accepts the documentary evidence as presented.

In an appeal of this nature, the onus is upon the Applicant to substantiate his position. The evidence presented does not substantiate his claim to the effect that he had a medical condition which precluded him from providing a breath or blood sample. The reports submitted do not address the issue.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

Reviewing the foregoing facts, it is obvious that the Applicant did not relate any medical condition to Regulation 574 and Section 50.1(2)(b).

The evidence is clear that the Applicant refused to provide an adequate sample of breath for no stated medical reason. The evidence submitted suggests that the actions of the Applicant were such as to lead this Tribunal to believe that he had no intention of giving a proper sample.

In the Tribunal's opinion, the Applicant's actions are more consistent with an attempt to prevent a suitable sample from being retrieved and than actions of someone having difficulty providing a sample because of a medical reasons.

Th Applicant has not discharged the onus to establish a valid medical reason for her failure to provide a breath sample when demanded under Section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada).

DECISION:

Upon the application by Randhir Mann to appeal the suspension order dated August 5, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

RELEASED: September 7, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 6, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on September 7, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO SET ASIDE the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated August 17, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on August 17, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by cash.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

The Solicitor for the Applicant provided the Tribunal with a brief containing reports written by various authors. There was no objection by the Ministry's representative to having this entered into evidence. The Respondents' representative also submitted the true and certified copies of the Notice to Registrar, vehicle and driver's search along with a copy of Police Officer # 1's note pad. There was no objection as to entering these documents into evidence.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1A-11 Submitted to the Tribunal September 6, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 2 Certified copies of Notice to Registrar, Vehicle Search, Drivers Search.
- b) Exhibit # 3 Medical Letter of Physician # 1.

- c) Exhibit # 4 Generic Medical Letter by neurologist Physician # 2.
- d) Exhibit # 5 Copy of Notes from Police Officer # 1.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

50.1 (1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.

(2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,

- (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1),(2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

15. (1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,

- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;

- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
 - (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;
 - (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

FACTS:

The Applicant was sworn and took the stand. She testified that on the evening of August 11, 2001 she was stopped by Police Officer # 1. She was asked to produce her identification but she was unable to do so as she believed she had left her purse at her daughters' home. Police Officer # 1 asked the Applicant if she had any alcohol to drink that evening to which she replied, yes "one drink". At that point Police Officer # 1 asked the Applicant to exit her vehicle and accompany him back to his cruiser to which she complied. The Applicant testified that she took longer than it would normally have taken to get into his vehicle because she was experiencing soreness in her back to which she claims to have informed the officer. Once in the vehicle, she was read the demand for breath sample and the officer demonstrated the use of the device. The Applicant testified that she attempted to provide a sample on four occasions, each registering EO, meaning error code and indicating that there was not sufficient air entering the device. The Applicant was told that she would have to blow continuously for 7 to 8 seconds to get an adequate sample. She testified that she simply could not blow for that long and gave the best attempts possible. The Applicant stated that she wanted desperately to provide a suitable sample but could not understand her inability to do so. She pleaded with the officer to allow her to try again, however the officer decided not to give her any more opportunities. She was subsequently charged and released.

The Applicant testified that her daughter, appeared on the scene and asked to officer to please allow her mother another opportunity to provide a sample. According to testimony, the Applicants' daughter indicated to the officer that the Applicant has some medical problems. However, the officer was determined to end the session and proceed to process and then release the Applicant. The Applicant testified that after her release, she attended at the Humber River Regional Hospital, Church Campus, where a blood sample was collected at 1:32 a.m. on August 12, 2001. The results of the tests indicated $<2.0\text{mmol/L}$. When asked by the Representative for the Respondent if the reason for her attendance at the hospital was for medical treatment, she responded "no, as she believed that there was nothing wrong with her". The Applicant testified that she was advised by her son to attend for the blood tests if in fact she knew that she was not impaired and had genuinely attempted to supply a proper breath sample.

The Applicant's daughter was called to the stand and was sworn. She confirmed that she attended at the scene and stated that she approached the officer. She indicated to him that her mother had several medical conditions and asked the officer to please give her another opportunity to provide a sample. The Applicant's daughter testified that the officer told her that her mother had already been charged and no further attempts were going to be given to her.

The Respondent called Police Officer # 1 to the stand. Police Officer # 1 was sworn and testified that on August 11, 2001 at 11:56 p.m., he stopped a 1990 VW as the driver was talking on a cell phone and it appeared that the driver was writing on a note pad. The driver was the Applicant. The officer asked the Applicant for her documentation, which she was unable to provide. She claimed to have left her purse at her daughter's home. She verbally identified herself by giving her name and address. The officer testified that he detected the odour of an alcoholic beverage and ask her if she had anything to drink? She responded "yes, 1 drink a few hours ago". The officer testified that the Applicant was brought back to the cruiser where a breath demand was made of her. She was asked if she understood and she responded "yes". The testing unit was demonstrated by the officer, and she was made aware of the consequences of not providing an adequate sample. After the second failed attempt, Police Officer # 1 asked the driver to write her name, date of birth and address. The reason for this according to the officer was that when an individual is nervous, it can affect the test so he wanted her to take some time and write her name, address and date of birth. According to his testimony, he again demonstrated the device and again explained the consequences of not providing a sample and asked her if she understood to which she replied, "yes". Again there was insufficient air and EO was recorded. The officer testified that he again demonstrated the device and again explained the consequences of not providing a sample and proceed with the next test using a new mouth piece. Again the results indicated insufficient sample. The driver was advised that she would be charged with failing to provide a suitable sample.

According to the officer, he asked and made notation in his book of four questions. He asked her if she had, "1. any medical condition, 2. on any medication, 3. a recent operation and 4. any reason why she was not able to provide a suitable sample." She replied "no" to all the above questions, and he issued her a form 9, fail to provide sample, section 254(5) of the Criminal Code as well as issuance of a 90 day ADLS. According to the notes of Police Officer # 1, the only complaint was that the driver complained of dry mouth after the final sample.

When asked by the Applicant's counsel if there were any other things complained about, the officer stated he did not think so as no other notations where in his notes. However, he did recall something about her back but did not pay too much attention to this as this was brought to his attention after he had already charged the Applicant. He also testified that he did not make mention of this in his note pad.

In an appeal of this nature, the onus is upon the Applicant to substantiate her position. The Tribunal has examined the medical information provided by various practitioners. As the criteria set out in section 15(1)(2) of Regulation 574 are very specific, some of these reports fail to meet the criteria and have been given the appropriate weight.

The information provided by Physician # 3, family practice indicates that he has seen the Applicant for the past 9 months. It is Physician # 3's opinion that the Applicant suffers from obstructive lung disease and that it cannot be expected that the patient would be able to sustain expiration effectively coupled with the history of smoking and recurrent bronchitis. Physician # 3 has provided recent spirometry readings which indicated FEV1 1.98 70% predicted, PEF 4.26 67% predicted and FVC 2.46 69% predicted.

The Respondent has entered a report prepared by Physician # 1. Physician # 1 had commented on reduced percentages of predictions and the ability to provide a suitable sample. He states, "The vast majority are able to complete a breath test." This report was not specific to the Applicant. Physician # 1 did not have the opportunity to examine the Applicant or to review the specific test results supplied by the Applicant. That being the case, it is uncertain whether the Applicant does or does not fall within that "vast majority" that Physician # 1 refers to in his report who could provide a breath sample.

The other "medical" evidence submitted at the hearing do not indicate how the Applicant's medical conditions would affect her ability to provide a suitable sample and are speculative in nature. These reports were considered and given little weight in the Tribunal's decision.

The Respondent expressed concern that Physician # 3 did not provide a sufficiently detailed history to substantiate her patient's condition.

The Tribunal after very careful and lengthy review has accepted the medical evidence as presented by the Applicants' Physician # 3.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

The onus is on the Applicant to establish that she had a medical reason for not providing a breath sample when requested. The Applicant attempted to provide a breath sample, and she was surprised that she would not provide a sufficient amount of breath to comply with the demand. The fact that the Applicant attended immediately after her being charged to have a blood sample taken, indicates that she had nothing to gain by not supplying a suitable sample when requested by Police Officer # 1. The Tribunal accepts the opinion of Physician # 3 that the Applicant could not provide a breath sample and finds that this is for a medical reason. Based on the evidence before the Tribunal, and on the balance of probabilities, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant meets the criteria of Section 50(1)(2)(b), that she was able to demonstrate that she suffers from a medical condition which prevented her from providing a breath sample when requested.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated August 12, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal orders the suspension set aside.

ORDER

Following attendances on September 7, 2001 at a pre-hearing by teleconference before this Tribunal of Al Pawluk, representing himself and on behalf of 1059294 Ontario Inc. (the "Applicants") and Patrick Moore, Counsel, on behalf of the Director of Vehicle Inspection Standards ("the Director");

The Tribunal makes the following Order respecting the hearing scheduled to commence at 9:30 a.m., on Thursday, October 4, 2001 at the Cindy Jones Verbatim Reporting Service, 1 King Street West, Suite 1504, Hamilton, Ontario.

1. The Parties to the hearing are:

- (a) 1059294 Ontario Inc.;
- (b) Al Pawluk; and
- (c) The Director of Vehicle Inspection Standards

2. The parties present at the prehearing agreed that there is no resolution of the issues raised in the Director's Notice of Proposal. There are three issues:
 - a) Inspections in connection with the five listed safety standard certificates were either incompetently performed or not performed in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act, and its Regulations;
 - b) 1059294 Ontario Inc. failed to provide copies of the safety standard certificates or records of the vehicles inspected at the station when requested by an Inspector of the Ministry of Transportation on or about February 27, 2001.
 - c) The two listed safety standard certificates were issued by the 1059294 Ontario Inc. and signed by Al Pawluk contrary to the Highway Traffic Act and its Regulations.
3. The parties agreed that all documents to be entered as Exhibits for the hearing will be disclosed to all parties in accordance with the Rules of Procedure of the Tribunal.
4. The Director intends to call three witnesses, all of whom are Ministry of Transportation Inspectors. All of these inspectors are qualified mechanics. They will give evidence on the three issues stated in the Director's Notice of Proposal.
5. The Applicant is unsure if he will call witnesses. He has agreed to inform counsel for the Director at least 10 days prior to the hearing of the names of those witnesses and the nature of their testimony at the hearing.
6. It is agreed by the parties that the name Allen Pawluk, as listed on the Notice of Proposal of the Director be changed to Al Pawluk.
7. The Applicant understands that if he wishes to retain counsel that person must be available for the hearing date of October 4, 2001 in Hamilton.

Pursuant to subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act Fadi Fahmi Darwish (hereinafter referred to as "the Salesperson") and the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, (hereinafter referred to as "the Registrar"), in accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, do hereby waive the requirements of a hearing and consent to an Order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal based upon the following Terms and Conditions:

1. The Salesperson agrees not to transfer his registration as a salesperson under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act to another dealer without the prior written consent of the Registrar.
2. The Salesperson shall not be an officer, director, owner or partner in a dealership unless he is granted registration as a motor vehicle dealer.
3. The Salesperson agrees to address any payments claimed by the Ontario Government's Family Responsibility Office within 60 days of the date of this Order.
4. The Salesperson agrees not to invite the public to deal at a place other than his employer's registered premises.
5. The Salesperson agrees not to be involved in the process of buying or selling motor vehicles without the benefit of registration.
6. The Salesperson agrees that he is under a positive obligation to disclose all material facts about the vehicles he sells to his customers. The Salesperson agrees to make reasonable efforts to research the history of all vehicles he sells prior to sale to ensure all material facts are disclosed in writing to the purchaser.
7. The Salesperson acknowledges and understands that his registration will not be used to buy or sell motor vehicles where the salesperson knows that the purchase or sale of those motor vehicles will facilitate an illegal or unethical practice.
8. In the event that the salesperson purchases motor vehicles on his own account or on behalf of the dealer, the Salesperson will accurately represent the purpose of the purchase.

9. The Salesperson will only buy or sell motor vehicles on behalf of the dealer to whom the Salesperson is registered.
10. The Salesperson will not act as an unregistered dealer.
11. The Salesperson will not purchase vehicles on his own account for the purpose of resale.
12. The Salesperson acknowledges that the Registrar may take administrative action, including a proposal to revoke his registration as a motor vehicle salesperson arising from any matters that have occurred or that may occur in the future related to his financial circumstances and his honesty and integrity.
13. The Salesperson acknowledges that the Registrar may take legal action, including a Provincial Offences prosecution, arising from his actions related to the sale of motor vehicles that may have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future.
14. The Salesperson agrees and acknowledges that should he breach any of the terms and conditions set out herein, in whole or in part, or if he is convicted under any relevant provision of the Criminal Code or convicted under any relevant law of an industry-specific offence, the Registrar may carry out the proposal, provided however that the Registrar shall not act unreasonably.
15. The Salesperson will provide a copy of this order to his employer forthwith.
16. The Salesperson hereby consents to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, which may include the Terms and Conditions set out herein.
17. The Salesperson hereby withdraws his appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.
18. The Salesperson hereby acknowledges that he has obtained or has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to his consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

Appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap.H.8 as amended (the "Act"), from the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the Act.

TO APPEAL AN ORDER TO IMPOUND A MOTOR VEHICLE
ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES

TRIBUNAL: SIMON DANN,
 Presiding member

APPEARANCES: KIM BEINTEMA,
 Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

 RHONDA L. WINANT, Applicant
 unrepresented

DATE OF HEARING: September 7, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: September 11, 2001 By teleconference

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing by teleconference was held on September 7, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO SET ASIDE the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Rhonda L. Winant (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	2000 Nissan Quest Van, plate no. AANS 580 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	August 15, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 7, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

License Appeal Tribunal
1 St. Clair Ave West, Suite 1200
Toronto, Ont.
M4V 1K6

Dear Sir/Madame,

We are requesting that our 2000 Nissan Quest Van's (Vin#4N2XN11T3YD80150) impoundment be set aside on the following grounds:

Exceptional hardship: The people directly injured as a result of this impoundment are the victims, not the accused.

Rationale: After an argument/altercation following a golf game, Mr. Nemeth (Brother-In-Law) severely damaged, and then took off in our vehicle without our permission, having previously spirited away the vehicle's keys. The Halton Police later arrested Mr. Nemeth for impaired driving (refer to police report attached) resulting in his section DWI offence and our vehicle being impounded. Prior to this, my Wife and I were unaware that Mr. Nemeth's license was under suspension for a similar incident that occurred this past spring.

The impoundment of our vehicle has resulted in the immediate, significant and lasting loss of our only form of transportation. Our entire family (myself, my wife Rhonda and our 4 small children) (all of which are 5yrs old and younger, one of which is a new born)) depends upon this vehicle to get food and medical attention. Renting a similar vehicle is not an option as I am currently unemployed and the $3000.00 cost to rent a Minivan, combined with the impoundment fee of $950.00+along with the estimated cost of $2500.00 + to repair our vehicle is very onerous, and we simply cannot afford it at this time. Borrowing a vehicle is not an option as neither my wife nor I have family in the area. Moreover, the loss of our vehicle directly impacts my ability to attend interviews so I can get back to work. Most Importantly, this impoundment does not punish the accused. Mr. Nemeth (a resident of London, Ont.), as he and his family retain control of their vehicles. Given the forgoing, I am requesting a teleconference hearing at your earliest convenience to have this impoundment set aside as per Section 22 of Regulation 574, R.R.O. 1990, amd. Ont. Reg 632/98 22(1)a, 22(3) a,b,c,d,(i), (ii) & 22(4).

Best Regards
"Alex and Rhonda Winant"

The Applicant spoke at the commencement of the hearing and advised the Tribunal that her husband, Alex Winant, would have to speak for her as she was under her Doctor's care for pneumonia and was unable to participate. Mr. Winant then proceeded to restate the details contained in the Applicant's Notice of Appeal with additional details about how the impounded vehicle came to be in Mr. Tom Nemeth's (the driver) possession, who is also Mr. Winant's brother-in-law and the damage done to it by Mr. Nemeth. In addition, the vehicle damage would take about a week to repair and the Applicant did not expect to receive any assistance from Mr. Nemeth for the costs to complete the repairs.

Mr. Winant explained how the impoundment was and is causing the family exceptional hardship for the following reasons:

- the family only has one vehicle;
- the Applicant (Mrs. Winant) currently has pneumonia and with nursing a new baby she has a double strain on her health; one child also has bronchitis and is on antibiotics; Mr. Winant also explained that his wife had a difficult pregnancy and was confined to bed during that time;
- the Winants have four children ranging in ages from 10 weeks to 5 years;
- Mr. Winant has been out of work for eight months and has only just obtained new employment with a start date of September 11th - Mrs. Winant does not work;
- two of the children should be starting Jr and Sr Kindergarten classes in another week but they may not be able to attend without a vehicle for Mrs. Winant to drive them to school and pick them up (the school is located about 1.6 kilometres away and with Mrs. Winant being ill and Mr. Winant starting a new job, there would be no one to walk with the children); there are no family relations in the area as Mr. Winant is from New York and Mrs. Winant from London, Ontario;
- there is no local bus service in their neighbourhood and due to the Applicant's financial position, she is unable to afford a taxi shuttle service;
- Mr. Winant explained the family is new to the neighbourhood and the neighbours are mature families with no other young children on the street so there is no car pool opportunity and they do not really know anyone well enough to ask for help or to whom they would entrust their children;
- while Mr. Nemeth (the driver at the time the vehicle was impounded) owns a vehicle which he is unable to drive, he has not offered to loan his vehicle to Mr. Winant during the impound period; Mr. Nemeth has not offered any assistance to the Applicant;
- due to Mr. Winant's loss of employment, the family has had difficulty continuing to meet their financial obligations, including missed mortgage payments, and their credit cards have been maximized;
- for alternate transportation, they have only been able to rent a vehicle on three occasions for medical and job interview reasons (on one occasion having to call a taxi to get to the rental location as there was no local bus service);

- while doctor appointments have been missed during the impound period, Mr. Winant acknowledged ambulance service was available for medical emergencies;
- for his new job, he advised the Tribunal that he would be using a bicycle to travel the two kilometres or so to get to the GO Transit station and into downtown Toronto;
- Mr. Winant stated the loss of the vehicle had also impacted his ability to accept job interview appointments and influenced his acceptance decision, which he felt may not have been the best one but he could no longer afford to be selective due to the family's immediate financial needs;
- if Mr. Winant had not found new employment, which will only provide him with a first pay check a month from his start date, he claimed the family would be looking to put the house up for sale by the end of September.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. John Tommy Nemeth;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Blood Alcohol content in excess of .08 under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until July 9, 2002.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,
- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
 - (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;

- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.

- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

As to the Applicant's appeal to have the impounded vehicle returned on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship, the evidence presented was considered on whether or not it met the definition of "exceptional hardship" and if it clearly established the Applicant will experience/is experiencing an unusual circumstance and severe hardship based on the following.

Whether there is "a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle";

The evidence confirms the Applicant's argument on the basis that she is suffering from pneumonia and has four young children in her care, one with bronchitis. While it is acknowledged emergency ambulance services are available, in this instance, the Tribunal accepts that the need to reach and obtain medical attention, either for herself or for her child, would be better served if she were able to immediately use her own transportation.

Whether there is “a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used”;

The evidence establishes there is none.

Whether “no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available”;

The evidence presented establishes that the Applicant is enduring the impoundment as a severe circumstance due to the facts that (1) there is no local area public transit, (2) while the Applicant has been able to rent an alternate vehicle on three daily occasions, she does not have the financial resources to pay for a vehicle rental during the full impound period; (3) the Applicant does not have neighbours or accessible family relations to assist with an alternative arrangement during the impound period; (4) the Applicant's brother-in-law, whose driving of the vehicle resulted in the impoundment, has refused to provide the Applicant with any compensation or vehicle alternative.

Whether the “loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;”

The evidence establishes that the loss has been immediate and significant due to the impact it has had on the Applicant's ability to best deal with and remedy (1) the health of the Applicant and one of her children, (2) the adverse circumstances of the Applicant and her family.

The evidence does establish the loss will not be lasting.

Whether the “the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle”;

The evidence establishes the loss of the vehicle will impact two of the Applicant's children who would be dependent upon their mother to transport them to and from school based on the facts that...(1) there is no public transit to the school which is about 1.6 kilometers distant; (2) the Applicant is ill and unable to walk with her children; (3) the Applicant's husband is starting a new job and unable to take the children to and from school in place of his wife; (4) the Applicant and her family are new to the neighbourhood, in which there are no other young children, and she has not established any neighbourhood support relationships.

Whether the impact of the loss “will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle”;

The evidence clearly establishes that there is loss to the Applicant, a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, who due to the loss of her vehicle, is unable to meet and thereby failing to meet all of the immediate family obligations for which she is responsible.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal sets aside the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: September 6, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: September 11, 2001 Belleville

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 6, 2001, at Belleville, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	1311311 Ontario Limited o/a Performance Sales and Leasing (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1999 GMC Pickup SLE, plate no. WT NEXT (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 17, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 6, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

The Respondent filed certified copies of Ministry of Transportation documents, previously submitted as part of the Respondent's evidence.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

NOTICE OF APPEAL

OWNERS POSITION IN APPEAL

Position # 1

I did in fact exercise due diligence to determine that Billy Harrison has in his possession a valid Ontario drivers license. Mr. Harrison has sporadically worked for Performance Sales & Leasing for approximately 1 year, driving to and from work daily. I have seen in person his actual valid drivers license. Due to the fact he drives every day, I've personally seen his license and he believes he truly has a valid license, I had not reason to inquire any further.

I feel that anyone that drives daily, with no reservations, to and from work, drives for work, and is willing to drive virtually anywhere in Ontario towing vehicles certainly has a valid drivers license.

Further more Performance currently has 6 full time and 4 part-time employee's, all with current valid drivers licenses that easily could perform these tasks that Mr. Harrison performed, we certainly wouldn't have a non-licensed driver to drive for us.

Position # 2

This order of impoundment will result in exceptional hardship to both myself and most importantly my business. On average I personally purchase 5-10 salvage/irreparable vehicles through Impact Auto Auctions weekly. These vehicles are located at different locations throughout Ontario.

This vehicle is outfitted with a wheel lift in order to pick-up these vehicles. I have a driver in this truck 5-6 days per week retrieving vehicles. Basically I will be unable to retrieve these vehicles physically or financially without this truck. These vehicles are purchased to repair and/or for parts. Most vehicles are priced well under $500.00. Most pick ups are located at such distances that paying a tow company would cost more than we pay for the vehicle being retrieved. I would figure approximately $500-$700/day.

As well this vehicle is also my personal driver for weekends, and to & from work.

Name (please print) "R. Terence Albert"
(owner of company)

Date: Aug 15/01

At the hearing Mr. Ronald Terence Albert appearing on behalf of 1311311 Ontario Limited—Performance Sales and Leasing, re-iterated the comments in the letter attached Notice of Appeal.

Mr. Albert testified that he assumed the driver of the vehicle at the time of the impoundment, had a valid driver's licence as he was driving on a daily basis. Mr. Albert stated that he had sometime ago seen Mr. Harrison's licence, but did not ask to see it on the day in question.

In cross-examination, Mr. Albert confirmed that Mr. Harrison was only a part-time driver and did not have to be registered with the insurance company.

As for expenses, Mr. Albert testified both in evidence in chief and in cross-examination that he had incurred extra costs and loss of revenue, but nothing significant or long lasting.

Mr. Albert has managed to continue carrying on business not only by arranging alternate transportation for the vehicles he purchases, but also by buying fewer vehicles.

The Applicant, in closing, confirmed that although he thought he had carried out due diligence, he now recognizes that in fact he had not.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. William R. Harrison;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving with more than 80 MGS Alcohol in Blood under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension for life.

The Respondent offered no viva voce evidence at the hearing choosing to stand on the information provided.

In closing, the Respondent asked the Tribunal to confirm the decision of the Registrar and uphold the impoundment, on the grounds that "due diligence" requires an Applicant to do more than assume the driver has a valid driver's license.

As for hardship the Respondent maintained that the Applicant's testimony amounted to inconvenience but did not constitute hardship.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,
- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
 - (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;

- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).

- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The onus is on the Applicant to establish due diligence and exceptional hardship ground of appeal as provided in subsection 50.2(3)(c) and 50.2(3) and (d) of the Act, respectively.

The Tribunal will address the matter of due diligence first. Section 50.2 (3) (c) is clear in the requirement:

“that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver’s licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension.”

The above ground of appeal is the only ground on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound on the basis of the owner's due diligence. In this case, the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was William R. Harrison. To succeed in this hearing on the basis of due diligence, therefore, the Applicant must establish that due diligence was exercised in attempting to determine that Mr. Harrison’s driver’s licence was not under suspension.

Due diligence requires that “all reasonable efforts” be made. By the Applicant’s own admission he now realizes that “Assumption” does not constitute due diligence. Thus the Tribunal finds that the Applicant did not satisfy the criteria of Section 50.2(3)(c).

With respect to undue hardship as per subsection 50.2(3)(d) of the Act, the Tribunal will proceed to review the criteria required to meet the onus for consideration of financial loss.

Is there no alternative to the impounded vehicle?

Subsection 22(3)(a) Regulation 574 as amended by O. Reg. 632/98 provided that this Tribunal may not consider financial or economic loss as a ground of appeal unless no alternative to the impounded vehicle is available.

The Applicant has managed to carry on business by making alternate arrangements to transport the vehicles purchased, as such the Tribunal may not consider the provisions of 22.1 of Regulation 574.

Is the loss immediate, significant and lasting?

The Applicant does not meet the criteria of O. Reg. 632/98, Subsection 22(3)(b) which provides that the Tribunal may not regard economic loss unless the Appellant shows proof that loss will be immediate, significant and lasting.

The Applicant stated that he incurred the cost of tow truck rentals as well as loss of revenue due to being forced to purchase fewer vehicles. Nonetheless neither the extra expenses nor the losses are significant and long lasting.

Thus, the Tribunal may not consider O. Reg. 632/98, Subsection 22(3)(b).

The Applicant having an alternative vehicle and the loss due to the impoundment not being immediate, significant or lasting, it is not necessary to review further criteria set out in the Regulation.

The individual affected by the impoundment, has an alternative method of transportation, and has incurred no significant or permanent loss.

After assessing the evidence presented, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not established exceptional hardship ground for appeal, as required under section 50.2(3) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

APPEARANCES: No one appearing for the Applicant
CAROL STREET, Counsel, representing the Registrar, Ontario New Home Warranty Program

DATE OF HEARING: August 24, 2001 Windsor

ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This matter had been commenced by a Notice of Proposal from the Registrar, Ontario New Home Warranty Program ("the Program") dated February 23, 2001. In that Proposal the Registrar stated that the Applicants had failed to execute the Vendor and Builder Agreements and had failed to provide updated personal net worth statements together with documentation to substantiate the assets listed.

By their Notice of Appeal dated February 28, 2001 Charles Bray and Deborah Bray o/a Chuck Bray Construction (the "Applicants") requested a hearing before the Tribunal. The Applicants stated that signing the Agreements was an infringement of their constitutional rights. They stated that they had an excellent building record and had always provided proper documentation.

The Tribunal has not been provided with a Notice of Constitutional Question nor has there been filed any proof of service upon the Attorney General of Canada and the Attorney General for Ontario. This procedure is outlined in the Rules of Practice which are provided by the Tribunal to every applicant.

There was no prehearing. The matter was scheduled for hearing on July 4 and 5th, 2001. It was adjourned on consent of parties to August 24, 2001.

On August 24, 2001 Counsel for the Program and witnesses were in attendance. There was no one in attendance on behalf of the Applicants.

Counsel for the Program stated that she had a telephone conversation with the Applicant, Mr. Bray on the evening of August 22, 2001. At that time Mr. Bray stated that he was under the impression that the matter was to be adjourned on August 24th to some date to be determined in the Fall of 2001. Mr. Bray stated that he was starting his holidays and he and his wife would be outside of the Province of Ontario on August 24th, the scheduled date of the hearing. From his statements Counsel for the Program assumed that Mr. Bray wished for an adjournment of the hearing. The Program was opposed to the granting of the adjournment and had attended with two out of town witnesses in order to present its prima facie case to the Tribunal.

ISSUE:

Would the Tribunal grant the adjournment request of the Applicants?

If not, how would the Tribunal proceed on this case?

If the adjournment was granted would it be granted under terms and conditions?

If so, what would be the terms and conditions for the granting of the adjournment?

EVIDENCE:

By the Applicants:

The Applicants were not in attendance nor had they sent an agent to represent them on their request for an adjournment. The fax from Mr. Bray dated August 22, 2001 and received by the Tribunal on August 23, 2001 was entered as an exhibit. In it Mr. Bray states that the Program told him the August 24th hearing would not proceed and on that basis he has booked a holiday with his family. He stated that if the hearing proceeded without him and his witnesses, he would seek action through his local M.P.

The Registrar for the Tribunal responded to Mr. Bray on August 23, 2001 by a letter sent via the fax. In it she stated that the Program had denied telling Mr. Bray that the August 24th hearing date would not take place. The Registrar stated that the parties have been informed several times by the Tribunal that the hearing was to proceed on August 24th and that the Tribunal had not granted an adjournment. The Registrar concluded her letter by stating that the hearing was to commence at 9:30 am on Friday, August 24th, 2001 at the Holiday Inn Select in Windsor, Ontario.

Ms. Street, Counsel for the Program, was in attendance on August 24th, 2001. She informed the Tribunal that in the evening of August 22nd, 2001 she had a telephone conversation with Mr. Bray. He told her that he felt the Program had been telling him that the hearing was not to proceed on August 24th. He was starting a trip with his family for outside of the Province of Ontario that evening of August 22nd and he would not be in attendance on the date of the hearing. He told her he would object if the hearing proceeded in his absence. Ms Street asked him to have someone attend on his behalf at the hearing date of August 24th, but he replied that no one would be attending at the hearing.

Those documents and the comments by Ms. Street concluded the evidence on behalf of the Applicants.

By the Program:

Ms. Street as Counsel for the Program stated that the Program was opposed to another adjournment. Ms. Street stated that this matter was originally to proceed at a hearing date in early July. Just prior to that hearing date, there had been discussions between the Program and Mr. Bray. At that point Mr. Bray had signed the Vendor Agreement and the Builder Agreement. The only point outstanding was the provision of documentation to substantiate the personal net worth statement of Mr. Bray.

Counsel stated that Mr. Bray informed the Program that he wanted to be registered under his corporate name, not under his personal name. He was prepared to provide security to the program for registration as a corporation. On that basis it was agreed that the matter needed to be adjourned to permit Mr. Bray and the appropriate representatives of the Program to work on the registration of the corporation. The adjournment was requested on the consent of the parties. The Tribunal adjourned the hearing to August 24th, 2001. Exhibit A to the affidavit of Ms Cece filed at the Hearing on August 24th by the Program is a letter from Ms. Street to Mr. Bray outlining the consent to the adjournment and what would be required to proceed with registration under the corporate name.

After those discussions, the Program was informed of a number of conciliations involving Mr. Bray when he had been building new homes in Cornwall, Ontario. It was only recently that Mr. Bray moved over to the Sarnia area. Due to the claims being made against the Fund, the Program moved to amend its Proposal against Mr. and Mrs. Bray. The Supplemental Proposal is dated July 19, 2001 and it has been served on the Applicants. In that Proposal the Registrar provided particulars on a number of breaches of warranties for homes in the Cornwall area. In one instance, the Program has made a cash settlement with the homeowners. The Registrar alleged that the Applicants had not corrected matters which had been found at the conciliations to be breaches of warranties.

Counsel stated that as of the hearing date the Applicants had neither provided the documentation originally requested on the personal net worth statement nor provided the necessary documentation to permit the processing of the registration under the corporate entity.

Due to the additional issues as set out in the Supplementary Proposal of the Registrar, it was felt by the Program that more than one day would be required for the hearing. Accordingly, Counsel stated that the Program wrote to Mr. Bray asking if he was in agreement to request an adjournment of the August 24th hearing date and to provide them with dates for a multi day hearing in October or November. This was a letter dated August 7th and faxed to Mr. Bray. It is found as Exhibit B to the affidavit of the Ms Cece filed with the Tribunal on August 24th. Mr. Bray's response is found as Exhibit C to that same affidavit. In it Mr. Bray said he had reorganized himself to attend on August 24th and he stated he could not guarantee a date in November much less a whole week. He said he would let the Program know of his plans as soon as he can. There was a further communication via fax by Mr. Bray to the Program dated August 21, 2001. That is Exhibit D to the affidavit of Ms Cece. In it Mr. Bray states that the Program requested the adjournment and he will not be in Ontario that week. He wished there to be communication between the Program and the Tribunal and a date set with 2 or 3 months notice to him.

Counsel filed as evidence at the hearing the affidavit of Ms Cece dated August 23, 2001 in which she outlines the role of the Program in its discussions with Mr. Bray since late June, 2001. It basically reiterates the litany of events as described by Counsel for the Program.

Counsel for the Program stated that the Tribunal can proceed in the absence of the Applicants. There is a duty of fairness. Natural justice requires notice of the hearing and the opportunity to respond.

Counsel for the Program initially argued for the Tribunal to proceed without the Applicants. She had her witnesses in attendance. She was concerned about the Applicants continuing to build homes as he is still an active registrant. The Tribunal needs to hear evidence to determine if the public interest is being protected. In the alternative, if the Tribunal was to give an adjournment then she requested that it be on a peremptory basis, there be three days of hearing set aside and the venue be changed to Toronto or Ottawa or Kingston as a number of witnesses on the breach of warranties issues resided either in Ottawa or Kingston.

The Tribunal raised the issue of terms and conditions to an adjournment. After the break Counsel for the Program stated that she would consent to an adjournment if based on stringent terms and conditions.

LEGISLATION:

Section 7 of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act states:

- 7.(1) An applicant is entitled to registration by the Registrar except where,
- (a) having regard to the applicant's financial position, the applicant cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of the applicant's undertakings;
 - (b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on the applicant's undertakings in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty;
 - (c) the applicant is a corporation and,
 - (i) having regard to its financial position, it cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of its undertakings, or
 - (ii) the past conduct of its officers or directors affords reasonable grounds for belief that its undertakings will not be carried on in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty; or
- (2) A registration is subject to such terms and conditions to give effect to the purposes of this Act as are consented to by the applicant or imposed by the Tribunal or prescribed by the regulations.
- (3) A registration is not transferable.

Section 8 of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act states:

- 8.(1) Subject to section 9, the Registrar may refuse to register an applicant where in the Registrar's opinion the applicant is disentitled to registration under section 7.
- (2) Subject to section 9, the Registrar may refuse to renew or may suspend or revoke a registration for any reason that would disentitle the registrant to registration under section 7, if the registrant were an applicant, or where the registrant has a record of breaches to complete performance of contracts or is in breach of a term or condition of the registration.

Section 9 of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act states:

9.(1) Where the Registrar proposes to refuse to grant or renew a registration or proposes to suspend or revoke a registration, the Registrar shall serve notice of the proposal, together with written reasons therefore, on the applicant or registrant.

(2) A notice under subsection (1) shall state that the applicant or registrant is entitled to a hearing by the Tribunal if the applicant or registrant mails or delivers, within fifteen days after service of the notice under subsection (1), notice in writing requiring a hearing to the Registrar and the Tribunal.

(3) Where an applicant or registrant does not require a hearing by the Tribunal in accordance with subsection (2), the Registrar may carry out the proposal stated in the notice under subsection (1).

(4) Where an applicant or registrant requires a hearing by the Tribunal in accordance with subsection (2), the Tribunal shall appoint a time for and hold the hearing and, on the application of the Registrar at the hearing, may by order direct the Registrar to carry out the Registrar's proposal or refrain from carrying it out and take such action as the Tribunal considers the Registrar ought to take in accordance with this Act and the regulations, and for such purposes the Tribunal may substitute its opinion for that of the Registrar.

ANALYSIS AND DECISION:

The Tribunal was quite concerned that the public interest be protected, especially upon reviewing the supplementary notice of Proposal. It was not impressed that the Applicants had not since late June, 2001 proceeded with their request to register their corporate entity with the Program, instead of being registered under their personal names. There was nothing before the Tribunal on this matter except the assertion by Counsel for the Program that there was indeed a corporate entity and that it had been created in the early part of 2001. The Program had done a corporate search after the request was made by the Applicants in late June, 2001.

Upon review of the letters and faxes, the Tribunal does not see how the Applicants were in any way misled by the Program or were being told that another adjournment had been or was to be granted by the Tribunal. The letter from the Registrar for the Tribunal is quite clear that there had been no adjournment granted by the Tribunal and the hearing was to proceed on August 24, 2001. Accordingly the Tribunal was reluctant to delay this matter as it was not an issue of lack of notice or of a failure to provide an opportunity to be heard.

This Tribunal is only prepared to adjourn the hearing date on stringent terms and conditions. There is no need to set another hearing date. If the Applicants fail to comply with the terms and conditions, they lose their right to a further hearing. If the Applicants do comply with the terms and conditions, then this Notice of Proposal does not proceed as the Applicants will be pursuing corporate registration rather than registration under their personal names.

In considering what terms and conditions need to be set, the Tribunal reviewed the Notice of Proposal, the Supplementary Notice of Proposal, the Appeal request by the Applicants following the initial Notice of Proposal, the fax by the Applicants to the Tribunal of August 23, 2001, the response by the Registrar of the Tribunal dated August 23, 2001 and the affidavit of Ms Cece dated August 23, 2001 and its Exhibits.

ORDER:

After considering the submissions and evidence before it, the Tribunal makes the following order:

1. On or before September 28, 2001 the Program will be provided with an application for registration in the corporate name in which the current Applicants intend to carry on business along with all the required fees, supporting documents and materials required by the Registrar to fully assess the application for registration. By doing this, the current Applicants will have changed their application from registration under their personal names to registration under their corporate name.
2. The Program is to be paid in full the amount of all invoices that the Program has issued to the current Applicants up to and including September 21, 2001.
3. If the current Applicants comply with these conditions #1 and #2, then the Notice of Proposal dated February 23, 2001 and Supplemental Notice of Proposal dated July 19, 2001 is hereby withdrawn by the Program.
4. If the current Applicants fail to comply with these conditions #1 and #2, then the registration of the current Applicants is refused effective October 1, 2001.

5. The hearing before this Tribunal respecting the current Applicants, Charles Bray and Deborah Bray o/a Chuck Bray Construction, is hereby concluded before this Tribunal.

CARL ALBERT VIOLA

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
UNDER THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REVOKE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: F. BRUCE FITZPATRICK, Vice-Chair, Presiding

APPEARANCES:

CARL ALBERT VIOLA, Applicant
AVIVA R. HARARI, Counsel, representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF HEARING: September 6, 2001 Kingston

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

The Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Act") issued a notice of proposal dated June 7, 2001, in which the Registrar proposed to revoke the registration of Carl Albert Viola ("Viola" and the "Applicant") under the Act. The proposal is based on the opinion of the Registrar that the Applicant cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of business and that past conduct of the Applicant provides a reasonable ground for the belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Applicant requested the hearing before this Tribunal.

THE FACTS:

At the commencement of the hearing, counsel for the Registrar and the Applicant indicated that they have agreed on a number of facts. They are as follows:

1. Viola is currently registered as a salesperson under the Act. He was first registered on or about September 17, 1994.

2. Viola is currently working as a salesperson for a motor vehicle dealer in eastern Ontario. He has been working there since April 18, 2001. That dealer has no knowledge of these proceedings.
3. Viola was employed with Black Palm Aviaries of Canada Inc. operating as the Loan Arranger (the "Loan Arranger") from December 11, 2000 to March 7, 2001.
4. While working as a registered salesperson for the Loan Arranger, Viola misappropriated for his personal use funds intended for the dealership.
5. The amount misappropriated was $2,620.65.
6. The funds were misappropriated from some fourteen (14) separate transactions which occurred between January 1, 2001 and March 1, 2001.
7. No repayments of the funds misappropriated by Viola have been made to the date of the hearing.
8. There is no written agreement with respect to a repayment schedule between Viola and the Loan Arranger.
9. Viola did not keep specific records of the amount he misappropriated and did not dispute the documentary evidence tendered by the Registrar in respect of the misappropriations.

At the opening of the Registrar's case, the Applicant confirmed the above noted facts and candidly admitted that he did not contest 99.9% of the Registrar's case, but was simply appearing before the Tribunal to explain his situation. Based on those admissions, the Registrar rested their case in chief.

The Tribunal then heard evidence from Mr. Viola. Mr. Viola indicated he had been employed with the Loan Arranger on one other occasion in the past, that is prior to his employment from December 11, 2000 to March 7, 2001. Mr. Viola apologized to the owners of the Loan Arranger for what he had done. He indicated that his reasons for misappropriating the funds were set out in a letter he sent to the owners of the Loan Arranger dated March 4, 2001, which appeared at Tab 3 of Exhibit 3, Book of Disclosure, filed by the Registrar. Essentially, Mr. Viola got in trouble with some "loan sharks" (his words) and was stealing the money from the Loan Arranger to cover the exorbitant interest rate on the loans.

Mr. Viola again candidly admitted that no one at his present employer knew of this proceeding. Mr. Viola indicated he had sold some sixty (60) cars since moving over to the new employer. During the course of his testimony, Mr. Viola offered to make repayments to the Loan Arranger in the order of $300.00 to $400.00 a month. Mr. Viola indicated that no criminal charges were laid as a result of the incident.

The Registrar in reply called Chris Euale, the sales manager for the Loan Arranger. Mr. Euale testified on a very narrow point concerning the criminal charges. He testified that he had approached the Metropolitan Toronto Police requesting that criminal charges be laid. While his evidence was clearly hearsay, Mr. Euale indicated that the police were not prepared to lay charges in respect of allegations of fraud in the circumstances given the amount of money at issue.

THE ISSUE:

The issue in this proceeding is whether the Registrar has sufficient grounds to revoke the registration of Viola as a sales person under the Act.

THE LAW:

Section 6 of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act provides:

Section 6

- 6.(1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,
 - (a) having regard to the applicant's financial position, the applicant cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of business; or
 - (b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and integrity and honesty;
- 6.(2) A registration is subject to such terms and conditions to give effect to the purposes of this Act as are consented to by the applicant, imposed by the Tribunal or prescribed by the regulations.

Section 5 of the Act disentitles an applicant to registration where:

- (a) having regard to the financial position of the applicant, the applicant cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of the business; or
- (b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty;

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

In a proceeding under Section 7(4) of the Act, the Registrar has the burden of proving the reasonableness of his grounds for proposing to revoke the Applicant's registration under the Act. The Registrar proposes to revoke the registration on the grounds that Viola cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible and the past conduct of Viola forms reasonable grounds for the belief that Viola will not carry on business in accordance with law. Viola's personal integrity and honesty were put in issue by evidence admitted by Mr. Viola. He quite candidly acknowledged his wrongdoing. Proper and due notice of this position was given to Mr. Viola prior to the hearing.

1. Can Viola reasonably be expected to financially responsible in the conduct of business?

Clearly, Mr. Viola made a gross error in judgment in respect of his prior conduct at the Loan Arranger. In fact, it appears to the Tribunal that the misappropriations could reasonably be considered a breach of the Criminal Code notwithstanding the fact that no charges have been laid to date. The Tribunal is of the opinion that Mr. Viola acted contrary to law in the course of his employment as a registrant. Again, Mr. Viola was quite candid in admitting his wrongdoing and did explain that it was as a result of personal circumstances.

The Tribunal was concerned by the fact that the present employer was not aware of these proceedings. Certainly, to the extent that one disposition of this matter might involve imposition of a registration on terms, that would require some supervision by a senior person in the industry to ensure that on a day to day basis Mr. Viola was not again tempted to help himself to monies that were not his as a result of his own personal financial circumstances.

Mr. Viola did not provide any specific evidence of his financial situation at present. The only indicator of his financial circumstances in evidence is his failure to have made any repayments whatsoever or committed himself to anything specific with respect to repaying the Loan Arranger. From this evidence, the Tribunal draws the conclusion that Mr. Viola is still not "out of the woods" with respect to his prior dealings with "loan sharks" (his description) and therefore cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of his business on an ongoing basis.

2. Will Viola be able to carry on business in accordance with Law?

The Tribunal must look at the past conduct of Viola in totality in determining the reasonableness of the Registrar's grounds. In this case, Viola did not seek to be excused from his behaviour and acknowledged, again quite candidly, that the Tribunal could accept the proposal based on the totality of what he had done. The fact that the misappropriation occurred over a substantial period of time and on a number of occasions indicates that the misconduct was not a "one time event". Mr. Viola was "caught" by his employer at which time he admitted his wrongdoing. This circumstance does not give the Tribunal confidence that in future Mr. Viola will act in accordance with law.

DECISION:

Pursuant to the authority vested in it by Section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, the Tribunal hereby directs the Registrar to carry out his proposal to revoke the registration of Carl Albert Viola.

In accordance with Section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, and subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, (hereinafter the "Act") the parties to the proceeding, Norton Michael Gabriel (hereinafter referred to as "the Applicant"), and the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (hereinafter the "Registrar") waive the requirement of a hearing and hereby consent to an Order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (hereinafter the "Consent Order") based on the following terms and conditions to their registrations as a motor vehicle salesperson:

- 1) The Applicant agrees that if he is criminally charged or convicted in the future, he will immediately notify his employer in writing of the charges or convictions against him and provide a copy of the notification signed by his employer to the Registrar, giving the particulars of the charges or convictions.
- 2) The Applicant agrees that if he is convicted under the Criminal Code or convicted of any industry specific offences under any Statute in the future, he will be automatically revoked.
- 3) The Applicant agrees to provide full disclosure on all future applications.
- 4) The Applicant acknowledges that the Registrar is relying upon the accuracy of the disclosure provided by the Applicant in entering into these terms and conditions.
- 5) The Applicant agrees that he will provide written notification from his employer forthwith, stating that the Applicant has disclosed to them the circumstances of his pending charges.
- 6) The Applicant agrees that his explanation of the circumstances of his convictions, are substantially as set out in the disclosure provided to the Registrar.
- 7) The Applicant agrees not to be a partner, shareholder, officer, director or sales manager of a dealership.
- 8) The Applicant agrees not to be the final signatory on any sales contracts on behalf of the dealer.
- 9) The Applicant agrees not to transfer his registration as a motor vehicle Salesperson to another dealer without having first obtained the prior written consent of the Registrar.

- 11) The Applicant agrees to immediately enrol in the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council Certification Course and to be responsible for all fees in relation to enrolment. The Applicant further acknowledges that enrolment in the course entitles him to a sixty (60) day conditional registration period that allows for his successful completion of the course (including passing the exam).

DATE OF HEARING: September 10, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: September 17, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 10, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Brampton Leasing and Rentals Ltd. (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	2001 Pontiac Sunfire, plate # AKXV 489 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 23, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended as provided in section 50.2(3) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 10, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

The Respondent submitted a set of copies of documents bearing original certification seals, which were entered into evidence as exhibit # 3.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

My business is Hertz Rent A Car.
We have been in business for 41 years.
The customer "Don Morrison" presented an ONTARIO Drivers Licence with a valid signing date and a credit card in his name. This is the required documents we require and we rented The car to him on a one week basis. Mr. Morrison represented to us that he had a "valid drivers licence". We followed industry practice and rented him the car upon presentation of his documents.

David A. Rider

Mr. David A. Rider, Agent for the Applicant and co-owner for Brampton Leasing and Rentals Ltd. stated that the Applicant operates a Hertz rental car business, and that they had rented the vehicle to Mr. Morrison, who was the driver of the vehicle at the time of the impoundment. Mr. Rider stated that at the time the vehicle was rented, Mr. Morrison was asked for two pieces of identification, which was the standard practice in the rental industry. Mr. Morrison produced a credit card which was then successfully authorized, and an Ontario driver's licence which appeared to be valid, showing an expiry date for 2002.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Donald C. Morrison;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;

4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Ability Impaired under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until January 22, 2003.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(c).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

The statement of the Applicant's representative, Mr. Rider, is that at the time his firm rented its vehicle to Mr. Morrison, his staff asked to see Mr. Morrison's credit card and his driver's licence as part of its standard operating procedure. Mr. Morrison then produced an apparently current and valid credit card and driver's licence. The staff then confirmed the validity of the credit card with the relevant financial institution. The staff did not apply any checking procedure for the driver's licence. The vehicle was rented to him. The Applicant argued that this action constituted due diligence as prescribed by the Act.

This driver's licence apparently was a then valid replacement card issued to Mr. Morrison just prior to the date of the offence that caused his licence to be suspended. Even though his licence has been suspended at the time he rented the car, he retained the invalid licence card in his possession.

Even though the act of merely viewing a licence cannot ever insure it is valid, the fact that Applicant asked to see this licence constitutes an action on its part to ensure that Mr. Morrison had a valid driver's licence. Though further measures could have been taken to actually validate the status of Mr. Morrison's licence, such as contacting the Ministry directly, no such further steps are required of the Applicant under the Act. The issue is whether the Applicant's failure to do more than view the driver's licence is an exercise of due diligence.

Under the circumstances, at the time of renting the car, the Applicant's staff had no prior knowledge of Mr. Morrison. They treated him as they would any other customer. He produced an apparently valid and current credit card and driver's licence. They checked one but not the other, when both could be invalid. They made no further enquiries into the licence's status other than to view it and record the particulars on it for their records. The Tribunal finds that the Applicant's own procedure of checking a credit card to determine its validity indicates that a similar degree of prudence should apply to a driver's licence.

The Tribunal finds that in this case, the action of the Applicant's staff who ask to see a person's driver's licence and actually views it, is "attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension" as per section 50.2(3)(c) of the Highway Traffic Act, but does not amount to due diligence as required by that subsection.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL

Stuart Cork, Presiding Member

RELEASED: September 17, 2001

DAVID G. BARNARD

TO APPEAL AN ORDER TO IMPOUND A MOTOR VEHICLE ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	David G. Barnard (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1989 Ford PGL, plate # 062ZWH (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 20, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 13, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

The cost of removing my car is such a high cost for me because I'm raising my children on my own as a single parent. My oldest child lives with me full time and my youngest part time. My youngest has ADHD, and if I have any health problems I don't have my car for the doctor's or counselling for him etc.

Most of my job's I work at are out of town no buses to the job, I need my car to get to my jobs.

I'm losing out on work in Petrolia which is half hour drive from Sarnia for a company name Deck's Unlimited, doing renovation job's for Mr. Mike Preece. He calls me when there is work.

When I don't have my car I can't look for any work full time without my car.

Mr. David G. Barnard

Mr. Barnard testified that he is a single parent with full responsibility for two sons, ages fourteen and seventeen. He stated his fourteen year old is currently under a doctor's care for a learning and behaviour disability. However, as long as his son continues to take his prescribed medicine, he can attend school and function as a normal child. Neither Mr. Barnard nor his sons have missed any medical appointments during the impoundment period.

The Applicant testified that he owns a second vehicle, namely a 1978 GMC pick up truck that is both insured and plated for the current licensing period. However, for the past two months, the motor has had a tendency to overheat and cannot be used as backup to his impounded vehicle. He has been using the City of Sarnia Transit Service, his bicycle and taxi service to keep appointments and travel to the grocery store during the impoundment period.

Nevertheless, he remains unemployed at this time due to the current job situation in Sarnia and the difficulty of arranging transportation to a temporary job in Petrolia and other job opportunities that may exist in the City of London.

The Applicant stated that he is currently claiming social assistance and receiving child tax credits for his two school age sons. He believes he is eligible for Employment Insurance, however, a backlog in the Sarnia Employment Office has delayed the processing of his claim. Mr. Barnard testified that his social assistance allowance and government child tax credits provide him with an income of $1,384.00 monthly. His monthly rent, which includes heat, hydro and cable, is $750.00 per month.

Mr. Barnard testified that he has not received any financial or transportation assistance from his parents living in Sarnia. However, he has had three close friends that have been quite helpful with his transportation needs within the City of Sarnia.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner.
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Robert A. Black;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Fail to remain at Accident under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until September 8, 2001.

The Registrar submitted that the criteria to establish exceptional hardship is cumulative and therefore the Applicant must meet all the requirements of the Regulation before his appeal could be considered. Mr. Barnard has failed to meet the conditions set out for demonstrating exceptional hardship, as prescribed in the Highway Traffic Act, Section 22(3) of Regulation 574, R.R.O., as amended by Regulation 632/98.

The Registrar further submitted that the Applicant has been able to keep all family medical appointments during the impoundment period including looking after their normal shopping needs. The Applicant was able to do this by utilizing taxis, his bicycle, and friends. While the Applicant's ability to seek employment outside the City of Sarnia during the impoundment period has been somewhat impacted, the Registrar submitted that no evidence was presented to demonstrate that other options or alternatives have been considered and inquired into to replace the impounded vehicle. The Applicant simply assumed that no car pools were available and a rental vehicle was too expensive to pursue employment opportunities outside the City of Sarnia.

As to the Owner's Position and the oral evidence provided, the Registrar submitted that for the Applicant's claims to be considered for exceptional hardship, he must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered for an alternative to the impounded vehicle. The Applicant has not met these requirements.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,
- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
 - (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
 - (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
 - (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

- (4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.

- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has appealed on the grounds of exceptional hardship, in accordance with Section 55.2(3)(d). Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific in that it provides the Tribunal with particular criteria the Applicant must meet to determine if in fact exceptional hardship will result from the impoundment.

For the Applicant's claims to be considered under Section (22)(a), (b), and (c), he must demonstrate that all of Section 22(3) has been met. Furthermore, Section 22(4) of the Regulation requires the Applicant to demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered for an alternative vehicle. The Applicant has made no specific claims of exceptional hardship as described by Section 22(1)(a) or (b).

While both the Owner's Position statement and the Applicant's oral evidence refers to employment opportunities outside the City of Sarnia, the Applicant has not presented the Tribunal with evidence that would demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into as required under Section 22(4) of the Regulation. Without supporting evidence, the Tribunal cannot conclude that a rental vehicle is not possible due to the initial deposit requirements or that car pools are unavailable, without making reasonable enquiries.

The Tribunal finds that the Applicant has failed to meet the requirements of Section 22(4) of the Regulation, and the Tribunal is therefore precluded from considering the Applicant's claim of exceptional hardship under Section 22(2) of the Regulation.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

HEARING: September 4, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") by Otonas Kymantas and Irma Kuschnerait (the "Applicants") respecting a decision by the Ontario New Home Warranty Program (the "Respondent") dated May 1, 2001, wherein the Applicants' claim for compensation was disallowed. As set out herein, the Tribunal found that there was an error in the denial of the claim. Accordingly, the Applicants are entitled to succeed in the claim against the Respondent for the reasons hereinafter set out.

ISSUE:

The Applicants' notice of appeal form filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicants' appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside, confirm, or modify the decision of the Ontario New Home Warranty Program to disallow the Applicants' claim for compensation under s.14(1) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act?

FACTS:

The evidence introduced by the Applicants consisted of the testimony of the Applicants Otonas Kymantas and Irma Kuschnerait. In addition, the Applicants introduced documentary evidence through the above parties.

TESTIMONY OF OTONAS KYMANTAS

Mr. Kymantas said that the Applicants wanted a house closer to Ms. Kuschnerait's relatives. He then gave a chronology of events.

Mr. Kymantas stated that the Applicants signed the Agreement of Purchase and Sale on March 12, 2000. The agreement included schedule "F" entitled "Financing Condition". The Applicants paid a deposit of $15,000. The offer was accepted by the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited.

After consulting their lawyer a second time, the Applicants asked the sales agent if they could make the offer conditional on the sale of their current house. Ms. Clark, the sales agent, gave them a form, which the Applicants signed at the sales office (Exhibit 3, Tab 3), and which states in part: "This offer is conditional upon the sale of the purchaser's property known as 1040 Highbrooke Court in the town/city of Oshawa until September 30, 2000." The sales agent saw the Applicants sign on April 17, but did not sign as a witness. The Applicants inquired many times about the form. Eventually, the sales agent told them that the form was lost.

Mr. Kymantas testified that on May 21 another form (Exhibit 3, Tab 4) was signed by the Applicants and witnessed by Ms. Clark, the sales agent. The form had been filled in by the sales agent and stated in part: "This offer is conditional upon the sale of the purchaser's property known as 1040 Highbrooke Crt. in the town/city of Oshawa until 30 August." According to Mr. Kymantas, a few days later, Ms. Clark, the sales agent, called the Applicants and asked them to pick up the form. When the applicants came, they were given a photocopy of the form, apparently signed on behalf of Sunfield Homes Limited. Mr. Kymantas stated that all the documents that they received back were photocopies rather than originals.

Sometime in August, according to Mr. Kymantas, the Applicants received a telephone call from Ms. Bernhardt, the new sales agent, asking whether they want to extend the date of the condition on the Agreement of Purchase and Sale. The Applicants stated "no", because they had not received any offers to purchase their current house in Oshawa. Ms. Bernhardt then asked the Applicants to come sign a release. On August 20, 2000, the Applicants signed a form entitled "General Release and Authorization" (Exhibit 3, Tab 6), which was witnessed by Ms. Bernhardt, the sales agent. The release was never signed by the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited, as vendor.

Soon after August 20, the Applicants received a telephone call from Mr. Lecce of Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited and Ms. Clark, the former sales agent. Mr. Lecce stated that signature on form dated May 21 (Exhibit 3, Tab 4) is a photocopy and that the form was never signed by him. According to Mr. Kymantas, Ms. Clark said that that is ridiculous, that the signature on the form is that of Mr. Lecce. During the telephone call, Mr. Lecce arranged a meeting. The next day his office cancelled the meeting. The Applicants called Mr. Lecce several times, but he did not call them back.

The Applicants did not sign the amendment, that would have changed the closing date from November 8, 2000 to December 8, 2000, attached to letter from the Added Party dated August 24 (Exhibit 3, Tab 7).

Various letters were then exchanged among the parties, including the Respondent Ontario New Home Warranty Program, (Exhibit 3, Tabs 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15, Exhibit 4). By letter dated September 4 (Exhibit 3, Tab 8), the Applicants requested return of their deposit of $15,000 in full. In a letter dated September 14, 2000, Mr. Lecce of Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited claimed that the agreement of purchase and sale is firm. Said letter (Exhibit 3, Tab 9) stated in part: "Alternately I will re-market the property at full price and try to sell it. I will then deduct from your deposit the amount I need to discount the house to sell it." By letter dated February 12 (Exhibit 3, Tab 17), lawyers for the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited offered a settlement of $10,000 to the Applicants. No explanation was received by the Applicants of why $10,000 rather than $15,000 was offered in settlement. The offer of settlement was not accepted. No monies have been received by the Applicants, although the house was resold by the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited, with a new closing date of December 20, 2000.

A Proof of Claim asking for deposit refund (Exhibit 3, Tab 16) was filed on or about January 25, 2001. The decision of the Ontario New Home Warranty Program dated May 1, 2001 (Exhibit 3, Tab 21) denied the Applicants' claim. The decision was appealed to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by Notice of Appeal (Exhibit 3, Tab 22).

Upon cross-examination by counsel for the Respondent, the Ontario New Home Warranty Program, with respect to Schedule "F" entitled "Financing Condition", Mr. Kymantas stated that other than putting his house up for sale, the Applicants made no efforts to obtain financing. Mr. Kymantas testified that he and his wife Ms. Kuschnerait are both pensioners with limited incomes and that they would require financing for almost the entire purchase price in order to complete the purchase from the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited, without selling their house in Oshawa. The Applicants did not receive any offers to purchase their existing home in Oshawa.

Mr. Kymantas also testified that a purchase in the same subdivision contemplated by his sister-in-law had nothing to do with the purchase by the Applicants.

Further, Mr. Kymantas stated under cross-examination that the signature of Mr. Lecce on the document dated May 21 (Exhibit 3, Tab 4), purporting to make the agreement conditional upon the sale of the Applicants' house, could be forged. Mr. Kymantas testified that he did not know how the document dated May 21 got into the sales agent's files.

Upon cross-examination by counsel for the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited, Mr. Kymantas stated that, when the Applicants signed the Agreement of Purchase and Sale, they thought that the condition as to financing was the same as a condition as to sale of their current house.

Also, Mr. Kymantas stated that the Applicants' house in Oshawa has now been sold for close to the listing price of $275,000. He admitted that the house was listed for more than the sale price of some of the other houses in the subdivision, but stated that the reason was upgrades of about $40,000, and a lot containing woods, a pond, and a ravine.

The evidence introduced by the Respondent, the Ontario New Home Warranty Program, consisted of the testimony of Judy Kruse and of documentary evidence introduced through Ms. Kruse.

TESTIMONY OF JUDY KRUSE

Ms. Kruse testified that she is a customer service representative and has worked for the Respondent, the Ontario New Home Warranty Program, in various capacities for about twelve years.

Ms. Kruse said that she made the decision dated May 1, 2001 (Exhibit 3, Tab 21) denying the Applicants' claim. The decision states in part under reasons in paragraph number 7: "The builder had a firm offer...". Ms. Kruse stated that she denied the Applicants' claim because she could not decide whether there was a contract.

Upon cross-examination by counsel for the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited, Ms. Kruse answered that she did not conclude that the signatures, apparently of Mr. Lecce, on the first page of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale and on document (concerning condition regarding sale of current house of Applicants) dated May 21 (Exhibit 3, Tab 4) were exactly the same. She thought that they just looked similar.

The evidence introduced by the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited, consisted of the testimony of Karen Clark, Larry Lecce, and Marnie Bernhardt, together with documentary evidence introduced through said parties.

TESTIMONY OF KAREN CLARK

Ms. Clark stated that she worked for Sunfield Homes from February 1999 to August 2000 as the only sales agent at the Georgetown sales office. She testified that she has worked in real estate for twelve years.

Ms. Clark testified that she prepared the Agreement of Purchase and Sale (Exhibit 6). She was present when Mr. Lecce signed the acceptance on the first page of the agreement on behalf of Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited.

Regarding document dated April 17 (Exhibit 3, Tab 3), Ms. Clark stated that she remembers that the Applicants requested that the agreement be made conditional on the sale of their existing house, and that she said that she would approach the builder and would ask the builder for them. Ms. Clark testified that she gave a blank of the form to the Applicants and that it was never returned filled out by the Applicants.

Concerning the document dated May 21 (Exhibit 3, Tab 4), Ms. Clark states that she presented it to Mr. Lecce, who said "no", and who made no notation on the document.

Ms. Clark recalls a telephone conversation in August in which she was informed that the new sales agent found the document dated May 21 (Exhibit 3, Tab 4) with signature apparently of Mr. Lecce in the sales agent file.

Upon cross-examination by counsel for the Respondent, the Ontario New Home Warranty Program, Ms. Clark stated that she does not know how the document dated May 21 (Exhibit 3, Tab 4) ended up in a file in the Georgetown sales office.

Upon a question from the Tribunal, Ms. Clark stated that she has no knowledge of Mr. Lecce's file. She also testified that there was no condition on the Agreement of Purchase and Sale while she was at the Georgetown sales office. Ms. Clark also asserted that the Applicants never paid for requested upgrades and nothing came of the purchaser's extras. Ms. Clark stated that she prepared only one original of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale.

TESTIMONY OF LARRY LECCE

Mr. Lecce stated that he is the president of Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited.

He has no recollection of the April 17 document (Exhibit 3, Tab 3) purporting to make the agreement conditional on the sale of Applicants' current house.

As to the May 21 form (Exhibit 3, Tab 4), seeming to make the agreement conditional on sale of the existing home of the Applicants, Mr. Lecce testified that he does not recall the document being presented to him. He stated that it is his signature on the paper, but that he did not sign the document and that it was not his original signature. He did not have an original or a copy in his file. The matter first came to his attention when he received a release dated August 20 signed by the Applicants (Exhibit 3, Tab 6) from the sale site. At that time Ms. Bernhardt told him that there was a conditional form in the file. Mr. Lecce stated that he did not sign the release, because he had an accepted offer. He said that he never made an agreement conditional after it was signed.

Mr. Lecce also testified that at the time only one original of all documents was being prepared at the sales office. His office then made photocopies that were distributed. The original stayed in his file.

Mr. Lecce also said that he does not remember particulars of any of the deals.

He believes that offer of settlement of $10,000 was made as a goodwill gesture.

Upon cross-examination by the Applicant Mr. Kymantas, Mr. Lecce stated that he does not know when the house was resold, that he does not know if it was built by December 8, and that he does not remember if any of the extras requested by the Applicants were put into the house.

When Mr. Lecce was asked by Mr. Kymantas why he did not return telephone calls of the Applicants, Mr. Lecce stated that the matter was then with his lawyers.

Mr. Kymantas asked Mr. Lecce whether he agreed that by the end of August he was aware that the Applicants were not able to sell their existing house. Mr. Lecce replied "yes".

Upon being questioned by the Tribunal, Mr. Lecce confirmed that his initials were at the bottom of schedule "F", dealing with the financing condition. Mr. Lecce also confirmed that schedule "F" was prepared by his lawyer. He also stated that he does not know what the blank in schedule "F" means. Mr. Lecce said that the date that was usually filled in the blank was 5 business days.

Mr. Lecce testified that the sales agent at the Georgetown site was employed by Nordale Realty and not by Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited. He also said that the sales agent would take a draw directly from Sunfield when sales were slow and that such draw was not paid back until matters were adjusted at the end of the year.

TESTIMONY OF MARNIE BERNHARDT

Ms. Bernhardt testified that she has been in real estate for twenty-five years. She stated that she started work for Nordale Realty at the Georgetown sales office in August 2000, around August 3.

Ms. Bernhardt stated that she first met the Applicants on Sunday of the first weekend on the job. She stated that the Applicants had come to meet with the person who installs the security system in the new house. Ms. Bernhardt claimed that she saw Ms. Kuschnerait behind her desk. When Ms. Bernhardt questioned Ms. Kuschnerait, she stated that she had to use the telephone. Ms. Bernhardt also said that Ms. Kuschnerait used the stapler and left. Ms. Bernhardt testified that at that time, sales agent files were piled up behind her desk.

Ms. Bernhardt testified that the May 21 form (Exhibit 3, Tab 4) concerning the condition of selling the purchasers' house first came to her attention when she looked through the sales agent file for a fax from Norma, of head office, requesting an amendment changing the elevation of house to be signed by Applicants. Ms. Bernhardt found the May 21 document stapled to the agreement of purchase and sale. Norma said that she knew nothing about it and later called that she could not find the May 21 form in the head office file and requested that Ms. Bernhardt fax it to her.

Ms. Bernhardt testified that she told head office that the Applicants must be called in to sign an amendment or a release, because of the May 21 document. Ms. Bernhardt stated that she telephoned Ms. Kuschnerait, who indicated that the Applicants could not sell their current house. On August 20 the Applicants signed at the sales office a release (Exhibit 3, Tab 6). Ms. Bernhardt witnessed the signatures of the Applicants. She told Ms. Kuschnerait that she will send the form to head office, but that it is up to them what they will do with it.

After receiving instructions from head office to resell the house, Ms. Bernhardt resold it in September with a new closing date of December 20.

Upon cross-examination by Ms. Kuschnerait, Ms. Bernhardt stated that the house was resold for about the same price. She said that some additional extras requested by the new purchasers were included in the sale price - a backsplash in the kitchen and hardwood floors.

TESTIMONY OF MS. KUSCHNERAIT IN REPLY

Ms. Kuschnerait testified that she and Mr. Kymantas had met Ms. Bernhardt only once, when they signed the release (Exhibit 3, Tab 6) on August 20. At that time, the house was framed, had the front door, but no windows and no floors. She stated that she would not use the sales agent's telephone, because she has a cellular phone.

Ms. Kuschnerait pointed out that the items that were mentioned by Ms. Bernhardt as extras included in the price of the home upon resale - backsplash in kitchen and hardwood floors - were included in the Applicants' agreement of purchase and sale on schedule B(3) as items 6 and 9.

Upon cross-examination by counsel for the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited, Ms. Kuschnerait stated that the Applicants never met the person who installs the security system in the new homes. She said that she called Ms. Bernhardt several times to ask whether the house has been resold, because Ms. Bernhardt told her that if the house were resold, she would probably get the deposit back.

Ms. Kuschnerait also stated that she did not go behind the desk of Ms. Bernhardt.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

The Tribunal found both the Applicants, Mr. Kymantas and Ms. Kuschnerait, credible witnesses. In case of conflict in the evidence, the Tribunal accepts the evidence of the Applicants.

The Tribunal finds, pursuant to the evidence given in the hearing, the following to be facts found proven:

1. There is an Agreement of Purchase and Sale dated March 13, 2000 between the Applicants, Mr. Kymantas and Ms. Kuschnerait, and the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited. The agreement was prepared by the lawyer for the Added Party, the vendor, and was filled in (except for address and telephone number of Applicants) by a sales agent that had close ties with the Added Party, the vendor. The agreement contained schedule "F", entitled financing condition, with no date filled in. The agreement was thus conditional on financing. Applicants paid a deposit of $15,000.
2. The Applicants listed and attempted in good faith to sell their current house.
3. No offer to purchase the Applicants' current house was received. Bridge financing could not be applied for. Being unable to sell their current house, the Applicants reasonably concluded that they were unable to arrange financing.
4. The Added Party did not return telephone calls of the Applicants. Submission of the release dated August 20 (Exhibit 3, Tab 6) by the Applicants, Mr. Kymantas and Ms. Kuschnerait, to the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited, through the sales agent constituted giving notice by the purchasers to the vendor that they were unable to arrange financing.

5. The Added Party, the vendor, had not arranged suitable financing for the Applicants, the purchasers.
6. No part of the deposit of $15,000 has been returned by the Added Party, the vendor, to the Applicants, the purchasers. The Applicants suffered financial loss.
7. Neither forgery nor fraud has been proved.

THE LAW:

Section 14(1) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act stated in part:

"Where,

"a person who has entered into a contract with a vendor for the provision of a home has a cause of action in damages against the vendor for financial loss resulting from the bankruptcy of the vendor or the vendor's failure to perform the contract ...

"the person or owner is entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund the amount of such damage subject to such limits as are fixed by the regulations."

Section 6(1) of Regulation 892 under the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act states:

"A purchaser who has a claim under clause 14(1)(a) of the Act in respect of a purchase agreement entered into after the 30th day of June, 1988 is entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund an amount for damages arising from the breach of the agreement by the vendor that does not exceed $20,000."

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Schedule "F" of the agreement of purchase and sale states in part: "This agreement of purchase and sale is conditional until _____ on financing approval."

Where a contractual provision is sufficiently ambiguous, and reasonably capable of more than one construction, it will be construed against the party responsible for drafting and tendering the contract and in favour of the opposite party. If reasonable alternatives are available, then the interpretation least favourable to the stipulator may be chosen (McCann v. Temiskaming Hotel Co., [1943] O.R. 337 (Ont. C.A.), contract drafted by corporate solicitor).

The agreement of purchase and sale including Schedule "F" was drafted by the Added Party's, the vendor's, lawyer. The agreement was filled in by a sales agent who stated that she worked for the Added Party, Sunfield Homes (Georgetown) Limited. The president of the Added Party, the vendor, testified that sales agents would be paid a draw directly by the Added Party on occasion. Clearly, there was a close relationship between the sales agent and the Added Party, the vendor. There is no suggestion that the Applicants authorized either the sales agent or the Added Party to fill in the blank in Schedule "F" and the blank was not filled in.

By reason of schedule "F", the agreement of purchase and sale was conditional at all relevant times up to and including the closing date. The condition was never waived. The Applicants, the purchasers, were unable to arrange financing and so notified the Added Party, the vendor, by submitting a general release signed on August 20. The release was presented to the Added Party, the vendor. The Added Party, the vendor, did not arrange financing. By schedule "F", the agreement is null and void and the deposit is to be returned to the Applicants, the purchasers, without interest or deduction. The Applicants paid a deposit of $15,000 and have not received any of it back. As a result of the vendor's, the Added Party's, failure to return the deposit pursuant to its contract with the Applicants, the purchasers, the Applicants, suffered financial loss, which is payable by the Program to the Applicants under section 14(1) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act.

Thus, the Ontario New Home Warranty Program erred in denying the Applicants' claim.

DECISION:

By virtue of the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 16(3) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act, the Tribunal directs the Ontario New Home Warranty Program to allow the Applicants' claims in the amount of $15,000.

DATE OF HEARING: September 14, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: September 18, 2001 By teleconference

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing by teleconference was held on September 14, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Marilyn E. Hobbs (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1994 Dodge Dakota, plate no. 9327EZ (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 27, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 14, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

1. The driver of the vehicle has known to be for a period of time, and he has driven my truck on previous occasions. On the day in questions, he and I were driving together helping his mother to move from one apartment to another in the City of Ottawa. There was certainly an understanding which led me to believe that he was qualified to drive not only on this occasion, but on previous occasions, and had I had any suspicions otherwise, I would not have permitted him to drive.
2. I live as a sole single person in an isolated rural area and work as a seamstress at a home industry approximately five miles from where I reside for a very minimal wage. I am not able to maintain employment which I require for my daily sustance without a vehicle.
3. I am 43 years of age and have had heart surgery, and it is essential that I not live for any period of time without a vehicle at my disposal.
4. It is my wish because of my financial situation to have a telephone conference, and I should be obliged if the date of that could be given to me in advance so I will be present at the time.

The following is a summary of the Applicant's affirmed testimony.

The Applicant lives alone in Montaque Township, which is approximately a 20-minute drive to Smith Falls. Her husband passed away 2 ½ years ago. She has 2 unlicensed children, 1 resides in Kingston and the other resides in Arnprior. Montaque Township is not "911" accessible and the closest hospital and g rocery store is 20 minutes away in Smith Falls. There is also no public transit in this community.

The Applicant is employed by "We So" as a seamstress approximately 5 miles from her home. She commenced employment with this home industry in August, 2001. Her hourly wage is $8 per hour. Due to heart surgery last year, the Applicant is unable to stay seated for long periods of time. Therefore, her usual hours of employment are from 4 a.m. to 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Since the impoundment of her vehicle, she has missed 4 or 5 days of work. The Applicant's employer is aware of his situation and at no time has there been any implied threat of being terminated.

The Applicant's elderly neighbours have been kind enough to lend the Applicant her vehicle whenever the need arises or they drive her to her destination. For example, the Applicant borrows their vehicle to go to work for her early morning shift (4 a.m. to 8 a.m.). Her neighbours have also driven the Applicant to her doctor's appointments. The Applicant, on occasion, obtains a ride from a fellow co-worker if this co-worker is working the same shift. The Applicant has looked into renting a vehicle, but cannot afford it on an income of $198 per week. She has not been able to pay her phone bills, utility bills, Visa or her income tax since the impoundment.

With respect to the surrounding circumstances of the impoundment, the mother of Carl Leafloor (Mr. Leafloor being the driver of the impounded vehicle), asked the Applicant if she and Mr. Leafloor could use the Applicant's truck to assist her in an apartment move in the Ottawa area.

As the Applicant is not familiar with the Ottawa area, she suggested that Mr. Leafloor drive while she was the passenger. The Applicant only knowing Mr. Leafloor since April, 2001 did not know he was a suspended driver and at no time did she ask to see his driver's licence. She testified that she only assumed he was a valid driver as he made his final payment on his own vehicle this past June and has driven it since the impoundment of her vehicle.

Since the Applicant's vehicle has been impounded, Mr. Leafloor allowed the Applicant to use his vehicle, but on the day the Applicant used it, it had to be towed home. Mr. Leafloor has indicated to the Applicant that he will assist her financially with the release of the impounded vehicle. They have arranged to split the cost of the impoundment fees equally.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows (Exhibits 3 and 4):

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Carl L.K. Leafloor;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;

4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving with more than 80 MGS Alcohol in Blood under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until April 30, 2002.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines “exceptional hardship” as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

(h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
- (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
- (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or

- (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Appeal under Due Diligence

One issue to be considered in this appeal is whether the Applicant exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that Mr. Leafloor's driver's licence at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension.

The Applicant testified that she is the owner of the vehicle that has been impounded and at the time of impoundment Mr. Leafloor was driving the vehicle.

The onus of proof is on the Applicant to establish that due diligence was performed which is required under Section 50.2(3)(c) of the Act.

The evidence before the Tribunal, in the Applicant's own testimony, was that the Applicant at no point in time asked Mr. Leafloor if he possessed a valid driver's licence. She merely assumed that Mr. Leafloor had a valid driver's licence and the thought never crossed her mind to check. She relied on his honesty and integrity. Unfortunately, the Applicant did not take any measures to ensure that he had a valid driver's licence. Furthermore, there was no evidence heard that would confirm the Applicant's actions were anything but passive in nature.

The Tribunal therefore has no evidence that the Applicant exercised due diligence as required by section 50.2(3)(c) of the Act.

Appeal under Exceptional Hardship

The Applicant has requested an appeal on the grounds of “exceptional hardship” under section 50.2(3)(d). Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific, in that it provides the Tribunal with the criteria the Applicant must meet to determine if in fact “exceptional hardship” will result from the impoundment. The Applicant in this case has argued that the impoundment will result in hardship as described by section 22(2). In order for her claim to be considered under section 22(2), the Applicant must have demonstrated that all of section 22(3) has been met. Furthermore, section 22(4) of the Regulation provides the criteria for demonstrating that every reasonable option has been considered for an alternative to the impounded vehicle.

The Applicant has testified that there are two other alternative vehicles, an elderly neighbour’s vehicle and Mr. Leafloor’s vehicle. She could use a taxi if needed, but cannot afford the $30 charge. She also, on occasion, gets a lift to or from work from a co-worker.

With regard to possible threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle, it was noted that the community in which the Applicant resides is not “911” accessible. As stated previously, the Applicant had heart surgery last year. She visits her doctor once every 2 to 3 weeks. Since the impoundment, she has kept all of her appointments. If, hypothetically speaking, the Applicant had a heart attack, the Tribunal does not feel that she would be in a position to drive herself to the hospital.

The Applicant has not proven that the loss of the vehicle will be immediate, significant and lasting since there is no threat of loss of employment and she has been able to get to work and has only missed 4 or 5 days since the impoundment.

Evidence was heard that the Applicant has incurred some financial hardship as a result of the loss of the vehicle. The Applicant may pursue compensation from the suspended driver, Carl Leafloor, as is stated in section 55.1(21) of the Highway Traffic Act:

“The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under this section may bring an action against the driver of the motor vehicle at the time the order was made to recover any costs or other losses incurred by the owner in connection with the order”.

After considering the above requirements, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant albeit inconvenient to get to her place of employment, has alternatives to the impounded vehicle and the impact of the loss will not be immediate, significant and lasting as required by section 22(3) of Regulation 574 as amended by Regulation 632/98.

Accordingly, after considering the criteria set out in section 22(3) and (4) of Regulation 340 as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, the Tribunal finds the Applicant has not established exceptional hardship as set out in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

MOGHADDAM, ALRIEZA AND JKA MOTORS LTD.

JKA MOTORS LTD. AND ALIREZA MOGHADDAM

MOTION TO CONSIDER A STAY OF AN ORDER OF THE LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL

TRIBUNAL: DEREK ISRAEL, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES: G. PETER ABRAHAM, Counsel representing the Applicants
AVIVA R. HARARI, Counsel representing the Registrar

DATE OF MOTION: September 14, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR RULING

1. BACKGROUND:

The Applicants bring a motion to this Tribunal in which they seek an order granting the stay of the Tribunal's decision dated July 25, 2001, to revoke the registrations of JKA Motors Ltd. ("JKA") as a motor vehicle dealer under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Act") and Alireza Moghaddam ("Moghaddam") as a motor vehicle salesperson under the Act.

2. THE FACTS:

A. GROUNDS OF APPEAL

The Applicants have filed a Notice of Appeal with the Ontario Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court. The grounds of appeal read as follows:

1. The Tribunal erred when he appeared to have accepted and gave full weight to uncorroborated and hearsay evidence tendered by the Respondent to demonstrate dishonesty on the part of the Appellants.

2. The Tribunal erred when he failed to take into account evidence given by the Appellant, Alireza Moghaddam, and corroborated by the Respondent's own witness that the Appellant, Alireza Moghaddam, oftentimes did assist customers who had problem with their purchased vehicles.
3. The Tribunal erred by not taking into consideration a previous decision of the Tribunal which dealt with identical facts and circumstances.
4. The Tribunal erred by placing too onerous a evidentiary burden on the Appellants and too lenient a evidentiary burden on the Respondent.
5. The Tribunal erred in effect depriving the Appellants the right and opportunity to cross examination and thereby depriving the Appellants of fundamental fairness.
6. The Tribunal erred in failing to apply the principles enunciated by the Statutory Procedures Act.
7. The Tribunal erred by giving full weight to questionable and inconsistent evidence tendered by the Respondent.

B. GROUNDS FOR STAY OF PROCEEDINGS

The Applicants rely on the following grounds for a stay of the Tribunal's decision;

1. The Applicants/Registrants have a meritorious Appeal;
2. There are serious issues to be tried;
3. There would be irreparable and irrevocable harm to the Applicants;

C. AFFIDAVIT EVIDENCE

Applicants' motion for a stay is supported by an affidavit of Moghaddam in which he deposes as follows:

1. I am one of the Applicant in this proceeding and the Director of the other Applicant, JKA Motors Ltd.
2. I am a citizen of Canada, born in Iran on April 18, 1958. I came to Canada on July 3, 1989.
3. I hold a master degree in the science of geology from Kashmir University but I am very much interested in motor vehicles having obtained valuable experience in the mechanics of motor vehicles from assisting my father who was a motor vehicle mechanic. My experience was bolstered when I assisted my brother in his motor vehicle sales business.

4. Upon my arrival in Canada I ran a fast food business and took a computer course at the George Brown Community College. I applied for registration as a car salesman and for my company JKA Motors to be a dealer. I obtained the necessary licence in May 1999.
5. I leased premises at 395 Dundas Street East and set up my motor car dealership in March 1999. I employed 3 persons.
6. The inspector with the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC) attended at my registered premises on September 30, 1999 to conduct an inspection. We were a very young and inexperienced dealership at the time and not every facet of the industry's requirement was in place. For instance, we did not have a garage register. The inspector attended again on September 6, 2000 and on October 27, 2000.
7. On December 28, 2000 the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act ("MVDA) issued a proposal to revoke the registration of JKA Motors Ltd. as a dealer and myself as a salesperson.
8. The hearing into this proposal took place on May 18, 2001. At the hearing it became clear that none of the witnesses called by the Registrar had come forward spontaneously but were rather contacted and prepared by the Registrar to give evidence against me and my business.
9. Secondly, quite a number of the documentary evidence tendered by the Registrar did not have the support of their respective authors. The documents were tendered and identified but could not really be proven because the authors of them did not testify. There was not opportunity for my lawyer to cross examine on these documents. The tribunal however in his decision seemed to have given full evidentiary weight to these hearsay evidence in deciding that I was dishonest and unworthy of continuing to be a motor vehicle salesperson.
10. Further it seems that the fact that almost all of the witnesses who did show up indicated that I assisted them with any and all follow up problems was of no evidentiary significance to the tribunal. This was particularly troubling from a legal and jurisprudential point of view because it seems that the tribunal had somehow decided to give little or no credit or weight to evidence in my favor but full weight and credence to evidence against me even though the evidence against me was uncorroborated, hearsay evidence.
11. The Tribunal failed to follow or give reasons why it did not follow or distinguished a previous decision of the tribunal which dealt with identical facts and circumstances, and in which case the Tribunal decided that terms and conditions were appropriate.
12. If I am unable to stay in business I will be forced to go into bankruptcy. I have a child whom I have to support, and I have three employees who depend on me and on this business continuing. I have filed an appeal which I believe has significant merits of both procedure and substance. Irreparable harm would befall me if a stay was not granted. Even if I won my appeal I would have been financially crippled if a stay was denied at this time.

13. I ask the tribunal grant me a stay from the decision of the Tribunal of July 25, 2001, until the consideration of my appeal filed with the Divisional Court of Ontario.
14. I swear this Affidavit in support of my Motion to stay the Decision of the Tribunal dated July 25, 2001 and for no other or improper purpose.

The Registrar has filed an Affidavit of Mary Jane South in response to the Affidavit of Moghaddam. Mary Jane South deposes as follows:

1. I am the Deputy Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act and as such have knowledge of the matters hereinafter deposed.
2. By Proposal dated December 28, 2000 the Registrar sought to revoke the registration of JKA Motors Ltd. as a motor vehicle dealer and further sought to revoke the salesperson registration of Alireza Moghaddam, the sole officer and director of the corporate dealership.
3. Following a hearing before the Tribunal, at which the Applicants were represented by counsel, the Tribunal directed the Registrar to carry out the Proposal to Revoke the registrations of JKA Motors Ltd. as a motor vehicle dealer and to revoke the salesperson registration of Alireza Moghaddam. The decision dated July 25, 2001. Annexed hereto and attached as Exhibit 'A' is a true copy of the Tribunal's decision dated July 25, 2001.
4. Attached hereto as exhibits 'B', 'C' and 'D' respectively are copies of the written submissions of the Registrar, the applicant and the Registrar's subsequent reply.
5. At all material times Moghaddam was the sole officer and director of the corporate dealership.
6. Despite having been advised by the registrar's office of certain disclosure requirements, the applicants failed to make full and honest disclosure to purchasers with respect to the history and condition of vehicles being purchased.
7. Four consumers attended at the hearing and provided evidence that certain material information had not been disclosed to them by the Dealer at the time of purchase. The consumers were not cross-examined on their evidence confirming the lack of full and honest disclosure at the time of purchase.
8. At no time did the dealer deny knowledge of the true history and condition of the vehicles sold which were referred to in the Proposal.
9. I have reviewed the affidavit of Alireza Moghaddam sworn August 15, 2001. While the dealer may have assisted consumers with complaints subsequent to the purchase, the Registrar is concerned with the failure to make full and honest disclosure to consumers at the time of purchase. Any subsequent assistance provided to consumers does not mitigate the lack of disclosure.

10. During inspections conducted by a representative of the Registrar's office, the dealer provided copies of false documents, in particular the dealer provided copies of bills of sale with certain disclosures. However upon further follow up by the Registrar's office, it was discovered that copies of the bills of sale given to consumers did not have any similar disclosure. This is particularly troubling to the Registrar as these documents are carbon copies.
11. Despite repeatedly being advised by a representative of the Registrar' office to maintain an up to date Garage Register, the dealer failed to comply.
12. Given the dealer's and Moghaddam's past conduct I verily believe that the dealer and Moghaddam will not comply with any terms that may be imposed by the Tribunal if the stay motion is granted.
13. I make this affidavit in support of the motion herein and for no other or improper purpose.

In this motion, Exhibit "B" referred to in paragraph 4 of Mary Jane South's above affidavit (Respondent's Motion Record – Tab B) contains the Registrar's written submissions made to the Tribunal which heard the Applicants' appeal to the Registrar's Proposal. Exhibit "C" referred to in Mary Jane South's affidavit above (Respondent's Motion Record – Tab C) contains the Applicants' written submissions made to the Tribunal which heard the aforesaid appeal. Exhibit "D" also referred to in paragraph 4 of Mary Jane South's affidavit is the Registrar's written reply to the Applicants' written submissions contained in Exhibit "C".

No further or other affidavits were filed by either the Applicants or the Registrar.

3. THE LAW:

Section 25(1) of the Statutory Powers and Procedures Act reads as follows:

25.(1) An appeal from a decision of a tribunal to a court or other appellate body operates as a stay in the matter unless,

- (a) another Act or a regulation that applies to the proceeding expressly provides to the contrary; or
- (b) the tribunal or the court or other appellate body orders otherwise.

The above quoted section results in an appeal from a Tribunal operating as a stay unless it is expressly provided to the contrary in the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.

Section 7(9) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act reads as follows:

- 7(9) Although a registrant appeals from an order of the Tribunal under section 11 of the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations Act, the order takes effect immediately, but the Tribunal may grant a stay until disposition of the appeal.

In the matter of Metropolitan Stores (MTS) Ltd. v. Manitoba Food & Commercial Workers, Local 832 (1987) 38 D.L.R. (4th) 321, the court adopted a 3-stage test for courts to apply when considering an application for a stay. This decision was followed in RJR-Macdonald Inc. v. Canada (A-G) (1991) 82 D.L.R. (4th) 385 at 405.

FIRST TEST

A preliminary assessment must be made of the merits of the case to ensure that there is a serious question to be tried.

SECOND TEST

It must be determined whether the Applicant would suffer irreparable harm if the application were refused.

THIRD TEST

An assessment must be made as to which of the parties would suffer greater harm from the granting or refusal of the remedy pending a decision.

4. ANALYSIS:

In terms of Section 7(9) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, the decision of the Tribunal dated July 25, 2001 takes immediate effect and an appeal from that decision does not operate as a stay of such decision. However, the Tribunal may grant a stay of the decision until the disposition of the appeal.

The motion now before this Tribunal is for an order staying its decision of July 25, 2001, pending disposition of the Applicants' appeal.

The Tribunal will now consider each of the tests referred to above and in so doing will apply those tests to the facts presented in this matter.

CONSIDERATION OF THE FIRST TEST

The House of Lords held American Cyanamid Co vs. Ethicon Ltd. [1975] A.C. 396, that for an appellant to meet this first test it must satisfy the Court that there is a serious question to be tried, as opposed to a frivolous or vexatious claim. The decision in the American Cyanamid case has been followed on this particular point in many Canadian cases and is followed by this Tribunal in this matter.

In the matter of RJR MacDonald Inc. vs. Canada (A-G) 111 D.L.R. (4th) 385, heard before the Supreme Court of Canada on March 3, 1994, it was held that there are no specific requirements which must be met in order to answer the question as to what is a serious question to be tried. The threshold is a low one.

The Registrar has the burden of proving the existence of facts which afford reasonable grounds for his belief that the Applicants' registration should be revoked under section 6(2) of the Act. The Registrar based his proposal on the past conduct of the Applicants giving rise to reasonable grounds for his belief that the Applicants will not carry on business in accordance with law, and with honesty and integrity.

In the matter before the Tribunal and applying what was held in both the aforementioned cases, insofar as the first test is concerned, the Tribunal finds that with respect to the vehicles sold by JKA to purchasers Spaczynski, Guzman, Trieu and Razdan the decision arrived at by the Tribunal may raise serious or substantial issues for argument before the Appeal Court. The Tribunal notes that none of the abovementioned four purchasers gave viva voce evidence at the hearing of this matter. The Registrar relied entirely on documentary evidence that those purchasers were not aware of, or had been informed of, accident damage to the vehicles they purchased. The Registrar was entitled to rely on documenting evidence by virtue of section 15 of the Statutory Powers and Procedures Act and to weight such evidence. The weight applied by the Tribunal to this documentary evidence may well have been too high having regard to the fact that none of the four purchasers had testified at the hearing thereby denying the Applicants of the opportunity of cross-examining those purchasers. On this basis, and in regard to the allegations pertaining to those four purchasers, the Tribunal believes that the Applicants have met the first test, in that there is a justiciable question that has been presented to the Tribunal.

However, in relation to the vehicles that were sold by JKA to purchasers Musiychuk, Sheik, Cybelius and Roberts, those four persons did attend before the Tribunal at the hearing and did give viva voce evidence and in each instance testified that there had been no disclosure to them as to accident damage to the vehicles they purchased. The Registrar's counsel in her written submissions to the Tribunal that heard this matter (Respondent's Motion Record at Tab B) and in her submissions made to the Tribunal hearing this motion stated that none of the above four purchasers were cross-examined at the hearing "regarding any information or disclosure made to them at the time of purchase". In the Applicants' counsel's written submissions in reply to the Registrar's written submissions at the conclusion of the hearing he conceded that "from the facts it is clear that the Registrant failed to make adequate disclosure to customers in a number of occasions". (Respondent's Motion Record at Tab C, page 1)

The Applicants' counsel did not deny that there had been non disclosure in the four abovementioned purchaser's matters, but contended that the punishment imposed by the Registrar was too harsh and that the imposition of terms and conditions would have been appropriate. This approach is, in the opinion of the Tribunal, not justified.

It is of important to note what Southey J. said in his decision in Brenner reported at (1983 Div. Ct.) CRAT 19 (1971-1989) SCO Decisions and Orders, page 59:

... the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

The proper question at the rehearing remains, however, whether the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that he will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Unless the Tribunal can find that it does not, the Tribunal should not order the Registrar to refrain from carrying out his proposal.

The decision of the Court in Brenner, confirms that it is the Registrar that has discretion in reaching a conclusion as to whether past conduct affords reasonable grounds for belief that Applicants will not carry on business as envisaged and required by the Act. In this matter, the Applicants have been shown to have clearly breached the Act. The Registrar's decision based on that breach was a reasonable one, and he exercised his discretion reasonably and correctly. It is not the Tribunal that has the discretion but the Registrar. For the Registrar's decision to be reversed, the Court in Brenner requires that the Tribunal must be able to conclude that the Registrar was in error in his conclusion and that the past conduct of the Applicant does not afford reasonable grounds for the Registrar's decision to revoke.

The Applicants have conceded that in the four matters referred to above there was no disclosure to the four purchasers. Accordingly, applying Southey J.'s decision in Brenner, the Tribunal finds the Applicants have not met the first test and that in relation to those four matters there is no serious or justiciable question for consideration by the Court of Appeal.

CONSIDERATION OF THE SECOND TEST

The Registrar's counsel conceded during the hearing of this Motion that the Applicants would suffer irreparable harm if a stay of the Tribunal's decision of July 25, 2001 is not granted to the Applicants. The Tribunal accordingly concludes that the second test has been met by the Applicants.

CONSIDERATION OF THE THIRD TEST

The third test to be applied was described by Beetz J. in Metropolitan Stores (MTS) Ltd. vs Manitoba Food and Commercial Workers, Local 832 (1987) 38 D.L.R. (4th) 321 at page 334 as:

A determination of which of the two parties will suffer the greater harm from the granting or refusal of an interlocutory injunction, pending a decision on the merits.

The balance of convenience and public interest considerations must be taken into account. It was held in Ainsley Financial Corp. v. Ontario Securities Commission (1993) 106 D.L.R. (4th), 507 at page 530 that:

Interlocutory injunctions involving a challenge to the constitutional validity of legislation or to the authority of a law enforcement agency stand on a different footing than ordinary cases involving claims for such relief as between private litigants. The interests of the public which the agency is created to protect, must be taken into account and weighed in the balance, along with the interests of the private litigants.

The Act regulates the motor vehicle industry and is a consumer protection statute. Considerations of public interest are of great importance and were no doubt behind the rationale for bringing the Act into existence.

The Registrar under the Act is empowered to ensure that the public interest is safeguarded. The Registrar has a duty to deal with motor vehicle dealers and salespersons who he reasonably perceives to be acting contrary to the public interest and who may cause harm to the consumer. Considerations of public interest are of great importance having regard to the tenor of the Act, and its Regulations.

According to the undisputed testimony of OMVIC inspector Gingras' evidence, the Applicants ignored advice and warnings delivered by her to Moghaddam during her inspections at JKA premises on September 20, 1999, September 6, 2000 and October 27, 2000. The September 20, 1999 inspection revealed that a Garage Register was not being maintained by JKA as required by section 60 of the Act and by section 2 of Regulation 595 to the Act. Gingras not only supplied the Applicants with a Garage Register but personally reviewed with Moghaddam how it was to be completed. On Gingras' inspection of September 6, 2000 she noted that there was, as yet, no Garage Register being kept by the Applicants and observed that on a subsequent visit by her to JKA's premises on October 27, 2000 the Garage Register was still not current.

Furthermore, according to the undisputed testimony of Gingras on her visit to the Applicants' premises on September 20, 1999 she discussed with Moghaddam the necessity of making written disclosure on the bill of sale of the fact that a motor vehicle was an accident repair vehicle. On Gingras' visit to JKA's premises on September 6, 2000 she removed copies of bills of sale for inspection. On her subsequent visit of October 27, 2000 she noted that the Applicants had failed to make disclosure on certain bills of sale regarding accident repair.

The uncontroverted evidence in this matter is that the Applicants, despite having been warned by an OMVIC inspector on more than one occasion, continued to contravene the Act and regulations insofar as maintaining a Garage Register and continued in their failure to disclose material information to at least four purchasers regarding the vehicles they were purchasing from the Applicants.

Having regard to the material non disclosures by the Applicants, coupled with a continued failure to maintain a Garage Register as required by the Act and the regulations, the Tribunal is not imbued with any confidence that if permitted to continue in business pending the appeal, the Applicants will comply with the requirements imposed upon them by the Act and its regulations. If the Applicants were permitted to continue to trade, the public would be placed at risk in their dealings with the Applicants and the public interest would suffer harm.

The Tribunal is therefore of the opinion that the Registrar does have a well founded fear that the Applicants, if permitted to carry on business pending the hearing of the appeal, would not conduct themselves within the law and with honesty and integrity.

In the matter of RJR MacDonald at page 409 the court stated:

..In the case of a public authority, the onus of demonstrating irreparable harm to the public interest is less than that of a private applicant. This is partly a function of the nature of the public authority and partly a function of the action sought to be enjoined. The test will nearly always be satisfied simply upon proof that the authority is charged with the duty of promoting or protecting the public interest and upon some indication that the impugned legislation, regulation, or activity was undertaken pursuant to that responsibility. Once these minimal requirements have been met, the court should in most cases assume that irreparable harm to the public interest would result from the restraint of that action.

The acts and omissions of the Applicants have either been admitted by the Applicants or have not been dealt with or contested by them. Accordingly, when it comes to balancing the harm that may be caused to the public interest and the interest of the Applicants, the Tribunal finds the public interest as represented by the Registrar is paramount and takes precedence over the Applicants' interest.

The Tribunal is therefore of the opinion that the Applicants fail to meet the third test.

DECISION:

For the reasons stated above, pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 7(9) of the Act, the Tribunal directs that the Applicants' motion for a stay of the Tribunal's decision of July 25, 2001 until the disposition of the Applicants' appeal to the Superior Court of Justice be and is hereby refused.

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. The motor vehicle described in Order to Impound #1504921 was impounded in accordance with subsection 55.1(3) of the Highway Traffic Act, RSO 1990, c. H. 8 as amended, on August 6, 2001.

The applicant, Tina Shilling, whose name is shown on the plate portion of the permit for the impounded motor vehicle, is the owner of the said vehicle.

No other order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act has ever previously been made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the applicant.

The applicant filed an appeal to the impoundment order, in accordance with the grounds permitted under clause 50.2(3)(d) of the Highway Traffic Act, stating that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension.

Investigations conducted by the Registrar revealed that the driver of the motor vehicle at the time the impound order was made was not then under suspension.

The applicant has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to consent to this Order.

The parties agree that this agreement does not bind the Ministry of Transportation or the Registrar of Motor Vehicles in any way, with respect to future hearings or consent orders.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsection 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act that the Tribunal set aside the order to impound.

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

BACKGROUND

1. Cynthia Burgher o/a Cynthia's Bus Charter (hereinafter referred to as the "Registrant") has been registered as a travel agent (registration number 50007136/R) under the Travel Industry Act, R.S.O., c. T-19, as amended (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") since March 16, 2000. The Registrant has a fiscal year end of December 31st.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS – GROUNDS FOR THE PROPOSAL

2. Subsection 24(2) of the Regulation states that if a registrant had sales of less than $10 million during the previous fiscal year, the registrant shall file within three months of the end of the fiscal year annual financial statements with a review engagement report by a public accountant licensed under the Public Accountancy Act.
3. By letter dated November 22, 2000, TICO requested that the Registrant file its financial statements for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2000 by March 31, 2001.
4. On April 10, 2001, TICO sent a second request for the Registrant's financial statements for its December 31, 2000 year-end, which gave the Registrant a deadline of April 30, 2001.
5. By letter dated May 1, 2001, the Registrar, Travel Industry Act informed the Registrant that if it did not provide its financial statements by May 16, 2001, the Registrar would initiate administrative action including a proposal to revoke registration.
6. By June 11, 2001, the Registrant had failed to submit its financial statements. On that date, the Registrar issued a Proposal to Revoke the Registrant's registration.

EVENTS AFTER THE ISSUANCE OF THE PROPOSAL

7. On June 20, 2001, the Registrant submitted an Income and Loss Statement for its year-ended December 31, 2000. The Statement was not acceptable because it was not accompanied by a "Review Engagement Report" or signed by a licensed public accountant, as required by section 24 of the Regulation.
8. By letter dated June 26, 2001, TICO advised the Registrant that the financial information submitted was deficient.
9. To date, the Registrant has not filed its financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2000, as required by section 24 of the Regulation.
10. The parties agree that the facts set out in the above-noted document are true.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsections 6 (4) and (5) of the Travel Industry Act directing that:

1. the Registrar refrain from carrying out the Proposal to Revoke Registration dated June 11, 2001;
2. the Registrant's registration is to be subject to the following terms and conditions:
 - (a) The Registrant shall file complete financial statements, as required by section 24 of the Regulation, for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, no later than September 30, 2001;
 - (b) The Registrant shall file complete financial statements, as required by section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time, for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2001, no later than March 31, 2002;
 - (c) The Registrant shall file complete financial statements, as required by section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2002, no later than March 31, 2003;
 - (d) If the above-noted financial statements as filed are incomplete and/or reveal an insufficient working capital amount, the Registrant will have 30 days from the date of notice of the amount of the deficiency to fully and completely address any deficiency and produce proof of such correction to the Registrar. Notice of the working capital deficiency, if any, shall be sent by registered mail to the Registrant.
3. Should the Registrant fail to comply with conditions listed in paragraphs (2) (a) to (d) inclusive, the Registrar shall revoke the Registrant's registration on five (5) days written notice sent via hand delivery or by registered mail.
4. This order shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of each of the parties to this order.

INDEPENDENT LEGAL ADVICE

The Registrant further acknowledges by its signature below that it has obtained or has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to its consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

DATE OF HEARING: September 18, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: September 21, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 18, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	1282868 Ontario Ltd. (First Choice Rent A Car) (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1992 Chevrolet Impala (Cav) plate no. AFKT 947 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 31, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended as provided in section 50.2(3) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 18, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

- 1) The vehicle was rented to Szczeblewski Grzegorz up until Aug 7/2001. The vehicle was not returned to company and the company cannot get in touch with the renter.
We want the vehicle back ASAP.
A/ see attached rented agreement
B/ see attached letter from company president
We would like to have our vehicle removed from the towing company as to minimize our mounting expenses.

The Agent Mr. Pop did not produce any witnesses. He began his submission by proclaiming emphatically that the Ministry of Transportation should not have let the matter get to the point of an appeal. The Ministry, he stated, should have released the vehicle based on the Company's statement that it cannot find the renter, and that it would like to have the vehicle removed from the pound in order to minimise mounting expenses.

Mr. Pound went on to say that he was only able to speak to Grzegorz Szchlewski, the renter by telephone, and that he had been told that Mr. Szchlewski and Mr. Alexander Vrabel were friends and roommates. According to Mr. Pop, the friends had gone fishing and Mr. Vrabel had insisted on driving home. Mr. Szchlewski did not know that his friend did not have a valid driving licence.

According to Mr. Pop, the Company is operated by immigrants who are not sophisticated businessmen. They only place liability coverage on their cars. They are usually more than two years old. The impounded vehicle is a 1992 Chevrolet. Mr. Pop went on at length about the fairness of the legislation, claiming that there should be some remedy in the legislation to allow the Ministry to release the automobile. At this point the Presiding Member had to point out to the Agent that this was neither the occasion nor place for changing the law. He was asked to concentrate on the issue at hand, that is, the ground of appeal, due diligence.

Mr. Pop explained that the President of the Company had called the police to report the car stolen. He said that the police suggested that because the car was being rented on a monthly basis it could be that the renter was late in returning the automobile and therefore reporting the car stolen was not warranted. Mr. Pop also stated that he had gone to City Hall, Toronto, to report the car stolen and was advised by a Justice of the Peace that he should not declare that the car had been stolen.

During his submission, Mr. Pop was at pains to point out that he had never seen Mr. Szcblewski and could not swear that the person he had spoken to on the phone had in fact been the man who had rented the car.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Alexandre Vrabel;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Fail to provide Breath or Blood under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until February 14, 2001.

The Respondent first advised Mr. Pop that although he had a lot to say about the legislation, financial hardship to the Company, etc., her purpose as the representative of the Ministry of Transportation was to deal with the subject of the appeal, which was whether or not the Company had exercised due diligence.

Mr. Pop was asked whether he was employed by the Company. He replied that he was not. According to Mr. Pop, the Company neither checks the authenticity of a person's driver's licence when renting a car nor makes a copy of the renter's driver's licence. He asserted that the Company did not have any means of checking the validity of a driver's licence. The Respondent then showed him a document which explained how to access the Ministry records. On examining the document, Mr. Pop pointed out that even though the Company could check drivers' records, it had no way of knowing that Mr. Vrabel would be driving the car and therefore was not culpable.

The Respondent then referred to the Rental Agreement and asked whether it showed that the renter was the only person authorized to drive the car. Mr. Pop was unable to substantiate this.

Once again, without prompting, Mr. Pop began to detail the financial hardship the Company was experiencing. When asked why the Company had not made an Appeal on the basis of Undue Hardship, he stated that when he was filling out the Appeal form he was advised by a staff member of the Licence Appeal Tribunal that choosing more than one option would only confuse matters. When Mr. Pop told that this was not the case and that the employee would be asked why that advice had been given, Mr. Pop stated that he would not be able to point out the person who had given him that advice.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(c).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Section 50.2 (3)(c) states that the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound if the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension. Mr. Pop was not able to demonstrate that the Company had exercised due diligence. It was not the Company's policy to seek to confirm the validity of a driver's licence when renting its automobiles.

Accordingly, there is not basis on which the Applicant could establish that due diligence was exercised to determine the validity of its renter's driver's licence or the validity of any subsequent driver, such as, Mr. Vlabel.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

BACKGROUND:

1. On October 12, 1988, the Registrant, 794658 Ontario Ltd. was approved for registration as a travel agent under the Act.
2. On October 2, 1991, the Registrant was approved for registration as a travel wholesaler under the Act. On this date, the Registrant also opened a retail branch office.
3. On July 16, 1996, and September 9, 1996, the Registrant registered two additional branch offices.

COMPLAINTS:

4. TICO has received consumer complaints, which indicate that the Registrant has made unwanted changes to passengers' bookings without their authorization. While the Registrant eventually addressed many of the complaints, the Registrant has not been fully cooperative and has not provided a written response to complaints in a timely fashion, despite an earlier undertaking by the Registrant to reply promptly to complaints, as summarized in paragraphs 4 through 39.
5. By letter dated July 11, 1996, John R. Ward, the Registrant's counsel, gave an undertaking to the Registrar, Travel Industry Act on the Registrant's behalf that the Registrant would respond to complaints on a timely basis. The undertaking was given in relation to the Registrant's application for a branch office registration. It stated:

794658 Ontario Limited, operating as Travel Media / Jet-a-way Vacations and Chellakadum Varghese Paulson hereby undertake to respond to all correspondence and faxes from the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations relating to consumer complaints within twenty days of the Ministry having requested a response.

MCFARLANE AND JONES COMPLAINTS

6. On March 30, 1999, Ms Veronica McFarlane filed a consumer complaint with TICO relating to travel services purchased through the registrant.
7. By letter dated April 8, 1999 TICO advised the Registrant of Ms McFarlane's complaint and requested the Registrant to respond to the complaint within fourteen days.
8. On April 16, 1999, Mr. Paul Jones filed a complaint with TICO. By letter dated April 27, 1999, TICO advised the Registrant of Mr. Jones' complaint. The Registrant was requested to respond to the complaint within fourteen days.
9. By letter dated April 27, 1999, TICO advised the Registrant that no response had been received to the complaint filed on March 30, 1999, by Ms McFarlane.
10. By letter dated May 18, 1999, TICO advised the Registrant it had not responded to the complaint of Ms McFarlane. TICO asked the Registrant to confirm receipt of this letter within twenty-four hours, and to advise TICO of when a written response could be expected by the Registrar within fifteen days.
11. By letter dated May 18, 1999, TICO advised the Registrant that it had not responded to Mr. Jones' complaint. TICO requested the Registrant to respond within fourteen days.
12. On June 9, 1999, Ms Rachel Palozzi, an Inspector designated by the Registrar, under the Act, made a site inspection at the premises of the Registrant, as the Registrant had not responded to the two outstanding consumer complaints. Mr. Paulson advised that a response to the outstanding complaints should be received by June 14, 1999.
13. On June 25, 1999, Ms Palozzi contacted the Registrant by telephone as no response to the outstanding complaints had yet been received. The Registrant advised that a response would be made by June 28, 1999.
14. By letter dated July 12, 1999, TICO advised the Registrant no response had been received to the outstanding consumer complaints from Mr. Jones and Ms McFarlane. The Registrant was requested to provide an immediate response.
15. By letter dated July 12, 1999, Mr. Paulson responded to the outstanding consumer complaints.

JAMES COMPLAINT

16. On June 23, 1999, Mr. Powell James filed a consumer complaint with TICO alleging that travel services advertised by the Registrant, which were not available to Mr. James as advertised.
17. By letter dated July 6, 1999, TICO advised the Registrant of Mr. James' complaint. The Registrant was requested to provide a response to the complaint within fourteen days
18. By letter dated August 26, 1999, the Registrant responded to Mr. James's complaint and stated that there were no seats available on the dates requested by Mr. James, who was not willing to travel on an alternate date.

HAYWOOD COMPLAINT

19. On October 6, 1999, Mr. Keith Haywood made a complaint by telephone to TICO alleging that the travel services, which he had booked with the Registrant for air travel without his consent and to his dissatisfaction.
20. On October 14, 1999, the Registrant refunded the deposit paid by Mr. Haywood for his booking.

MCINTYRE COMPLAINT

21. On March 9, 2000, Ms Joan McIntyre filed a complaint with TICO alleging that on September 19, 1999, she had purchased a charter flight from Jamaica to Canada for her son, which her son was unable to use because of a restriction relating to the charter flights, which required passengers to be Canadian citizens to use a one-way northbound charter flight to Canada originating in Jamaica. Ms McIntyre alleged that the Registrant did not advise her of this restriction.
22. By letter dated March 10, 2000, TICO advised the Registrant of Ms McIntyre's complaint and requested the Registrant to provide a written response within fourteen days.
23. By letter dated March 27, 2000, TICO advised the Registrant that no response had yet been received with respect to Ms McIntyre's complaint. The Registrant was requested to provide a written response within fourteen days.
24. By letter dated April 18, 2000, TICO advised the Registrant that it had still not responded to Ms McIntyre's complaint. The Registrant was requested to provide a written response within 15 days.
25. By letter dated May 8, 2000, the Registrant advised TICO that Ms McIntyre had purchased two round trip tickets from Toronto to Montego Bay, Jamaica and the tickets were issued to her accordingly. The Registrant stated that issues arising after the issuance of the tickets were not the responsibility of the Registrant.
26. During a site inspection of the Registrant on May 12, 2000, Mr. Greg Robinson, an inspector with TICO, advised the Registrant that its response to Ms McIntyre's complaint was insufficient. The Registrant was requested to provide a response to the complaint by May 19, 2000.
27. On May 24, 2000, TICO contacted the Registrant by telephone and ask the Registrant to respond to Ms McIntyre's complaint, as no further response had been received to the complaint by May 19, 2000. The Registrant indicated that Ms McIntyre had requested two two-way tickets to Jamaica and did not give any further information regarding her son.

BHAJAN COMPLAINT

28. On May 4, 2000, Ms Myna Bhajan filed a consumer complaint against the Registrant alleging that she booked and paid for travel services which included several flights to Trinidad departing from Toronto and that the flights and departure times had been changed by the Registrant without her authorization.
29. By letter dated May 19, 2000, TICO advised the Registrant of Ms Bhajan's complaint, and requested to respond to the complaint within fourteen days.
30. By letter dated June 7, 2000, TICO advised the Registrant that it had not yet provided a written response to Ms Bhajan's complaint. The Registrant was requested to provide a written response within fourteen days.

31. On June 23, 2000, the Registrant responded to Ms Bhajan's complaint and advised that it had made its best efforts to book the dates requested and obtain the travel documents from the airline, but it was subject to the airline being able to provide the seats on the dates requested and then provide the travel documents in a timely fashion.

FRANSON COMPLAINT

32. On July 12, 2000, Ms Annette Franson called TICO to complain about the Registrant, alleging that she booked and paid for travel services from Toronto to Montego Bay Jamaica departing July 15, 2000 and returning July 29, 2000 and advised by the Registrant shortly before the date of departure that her flight was overbooked. The Registrant offered to re-book Ms Franson on a different date or provide her with a refund.
33. On July 12, 2000, Ms Cindy Mirochnick, Client Services Representative with TICO, contacted the airline and wholesaler, who provided the travel services for which Ms Franson had paid, and was advised that the travel services for Ms Franson had not been booked. Ms Mirochnick questioned Mr. Paulson about why the booking was not made and he responded in a discourteous manner. The Registrant did provide Ms Franson with a full refund.

CADOGAN COMPLAINT

34. On October 17, 2000, Ms Linda Cadogan called TICO and alleged that she and her husband had purchased travel services from the Registrant to travel non-stop from Toronto to Kingston Jamaica departing on October 19, 2000. Shortly before departure, the Registrant advised Ms Cadogan and her husband that their flight was unavailable and gave them two options. They could travel on October 19, 2000, via Montego Bay with a change of planes, or they could travel on any other day, via Montego Bay with a change of planes. Neither option was acceptable to Ms Cadogan and Mr. Dennis, because they were seniors and a long stop-over would be too much for them.
35. On the afternoon of October 17, 2000, Ms Mirochnick contacted Mr. Paulson by telephone to follow-up on the Cadogan complaint. While speaking with Ms Mirochnick, Mr. Paulson became irate and gave his position that Ms Cadogan and her husband could travel on a different day, via Montego Bay, travel on the original date with a fare increase, or obtain a refund. Ms Mirochnick advised Mr. Paulson that she would relay this information to Ms Cadogan and call him back.
36. Ms Cadogan advised Ms Mirochnick that she wanted a refund, because she no longer wished to deal with the Registrant. The Registrant provided Ms Cadogan with a refund.

MILLER COMPLAINT

37. On December 15, 2000, TICO received a complaint from Ms Esther Miller alleging that she had, on November 25, 2000, paid the Registrant in full for seven seats to Panama City departing on December 18, 2000 and returning on January 9, 2001, but had not yet received the tickets.
38. Ms Mirochnick contacted the Registrant and spoke to Mr. Paulson about the Miller Complaint. Mr. Paulson told Ms Mirochnick to leave him alone. He said that he did not have time for this and that Ms Mirochnick should stop bugging him. Ms Mirochnick asked Mr. Paulson to call her by the end of the day to advise her of when Ms Miller could pick up her tickets. Mr. Paulson again told Ms Mirochnick to leave him alone and hung-up on her.

39. After speaking to Mr. Paulson, Ms Mirochnick contacted Amanda Stafford at Skylink, who advised her that the Registrant had not sent payment for Ms Miller. So, the file automatically cancelled. The Registrant never secured the space and only put it on option. Ms Stafford informed Ms Mirochnick that it could provide Ms Miller with seven seats to Panama departing on December 17, 2000 and returning on January 12, 2001. Ms Miller accepted these flights.

IMPROPER ADVERTISING:

40. The Registrant has placed advertisements in newspapers that do not comply with the Act and the Regulation and has continued to do so despite an order by the Registrar, under section 14 of the Act, to cease and desist such advertising, as summarized in paragraphs 41 through 59.
41. By letter dated January 29, 1999, TICO advised the Registrant that a newspaper advertisement appearing in the December 17, 1998 edition of Share newspaper did not comply with the Regulation, because it failed to include the air carrier, the Registrant's registration number and address, or the terms and conditions of availability of the advertised price.
42. By letter dated October 28, 1999, TICO again advised the Registrant that an advertisement appearing in the October 21, 1999 edition of Share newspaper did not comply with the Regulation, because it did not include the air carrier, hotel and travel wholesaler (where applicable), the Registrant's registration number, or the terms and conditions, if any, that limit the availability of the price.
43. After receiving a consumer complaint that fares advertised by the Registrant in the Share newspaper were not available, Mr. Robinson telephoned the office of the Registrant on December 14, 1999 and was advised that prices advertised for travel services to Montego Bay and Kingston, Jamaica were not presently available. That day, TICO cautioned the Registrant that failure to ensure that advertisements are compliant might result in administrative action against the Registrant.
44. On February 21, 2000, Mr. Robinson telephoned the Registrant to inquire about the availability of advertised prices to Montego Bay in the February 17, 2000 edition of Share newspaper. The price advertised was not available and the Registrant advised Mr. Robinson that the price would not be available until some months in the future.
45. By letter dated February 25, 2000, the Registrar, Travel Industry Act advised the Registrant that its newspaper advertisements were false and misleading and did not comply with the Regulation. Pursuant to section 14 of the Act, the Registrar ordered the Registrant to immediately cease and desist making false and misleading statements in its advertising. The Registrar also directed the Registrant to provide Mr. Robinson with copies of advertisements that have been corrected to contain the information required by the Regulation by March 3, 2000.
46. On March 10, 2000, Mr. Paulson, advised TICO that the advertised price for travel services to Montego Bay would be amended in order to represent a price currently available.
47. On March 13, 2000, TICO advised the Registrant by telephone that it had received the Registrant's response on March 10, 2000.

48. The Registrant's advertisement in the May 11, 2000 edition of the Share newspaper advertised an unavailable $299 fare to Montego Bay and failed to include the information required by the Regulation.
49. On May 12, 2000, Mr. Robinson made a site inspection at the premises of the Registrant during regular business hours. After the inspection, Mr. Robinson provided Mr. Paulson with a written list of the compliance issues and consumer complaint that had prompted the inspection and that remained outstanding.
50. On May 16, 2000, Mr. Paulson advised TICO by telephone that he was still not clear of the compliance issues that were of concern to the Registrar. The Registrant was advised to respond in writing and identify the items of concern.
51. The Registrant's advertisement in the June 1, 2000 edition of the Share newspaper advertised travel services to Montego Bay, which did not clearly identify the terms and conditions of availability and which failed to include the additional information required by the Regulation.
52. By letter dated June 12, 2000, the Registrar advised the Registrant that its advertisements in the Share newspaper continued to fail to comply with the Act for the reasons that TICO had previously outlined. The Registrant was further advised that if it failed to bring its advertising into compliance with the Act by June 29, 2000, TICO would initiate an Interim Suspension Order and a Proposal to Revoke Registration.
53. On June 12, 2000, Mr. Paulson telephoned the Registrar and stated that he did not understand the non-compliance issues as stated in the letter dated June 12, 2000. The Registrar advised Mr. Paulson that he would issue a letter detailing the compliance issues of concern.
54. By letter dated June 13, Mr. Robinson itemised for the Registrant the specific compliance issues that had to be corrected and requested the Registrant to provide a response to these issues by no later than June 29, 2000.
55. The Registrant's advertisement in the June 29, 2000 edition of the Share newspaper was not in compliance with the Regulation.
56. The Registrant's advertisement in the August 24, 2000 edition of the Share newspaper was not in compliance with the Regulation.
57. The Registrant's advertisement in the September 7, 2000 edition of the Share newspaper was not in compliance with the Regulation.
58. The Registrant's advertisement in the October 19, 2000 edition of the Share newspaper was not in compliance with the Regulation.
59. The Registrant's advertisement in the March 8, 2001 edition of the Share newspaper was not in compliance with the Regulation.

FORM 1 FILING

60. The Registrant has not always filed its Form 1 filings promptly and in accordance with the Regulation as summarized by paragraphs 61 through 66.

61. The Registrant's Form 1 filing for the period ended February 28, 1998, and due by April 14, 1998, was received on April 21, 1998
62. The Registrant's Form 1 filing for the period ended August 31, 1998, and due by October 15, 1998, was received on December 7, 1998.
63. The Registrant's Form 1 filing for the period ended February 28, 1999, and due by April 14, 1999, was received on June 1, 1999.
64. The Registrant's Form 1 filing for the period ended August 31, 1999, and due by October 15, 1999, was received on November 16, 1999.
65. The Registrant's Form 1 filing for the period ended February 28, 2000, and due by April 14, 2000, was received on April 25, 2000.
66. The Registrant's Form 1 filing for the period ended August 31, 2000, and due by October 15, 2000, was received on November 1, 2000.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND WORKING CAPITAL

67. The Registrant has been consistently late in filing its financial statements, as summarized in paragraphs 68 through 95.
68. On March 17, 1995, a site inspection was conducted at the business premises of the Registrant to determine why the financial statements for the fiscal years ending August 31, 1993, and August 31, 1994, had not yet been filed.
69. By letter dated July 20, 1995, the Registrant was requested to file the financial statements for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1995, on or before November 30, 1995.
70. By letter dated September 15, 1995, the Registrar requested the Registrant to file the financial statements for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1994, on or before September 29, 1995. The statements had been due by November 30, 1994.
71. By letter dated September 28, 1995, the Registrant requested an extension to file the financial statements for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1994, until October 15, 1995.

96. The parties agree that the facts set out in the above-noted document are true.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsections 6 (4) and (5) of the Travel Industry Act directing that:

5. the Registrar refrain from carrying out the Proposal to Revoke Registration dated March 26, 2001;
6. the Registrant's registration is to be subject to the following terms and conditions:
 - (e) The Registrant shall provide each customer with a completed invoice relating to his or her travel purchase, in a form and format approved by the Registrar. Such invoices shall include the information outlined in subsection 20(1) of Ontario Regulation 806/93 ("the Regulation"), a booking number to readily identify the travel service purchased, and an acknowledgement by the customer that he or she has been advised by the conditions relating to the travel purchase as outlined in subsection 21(2) of the Regulation. The invoices are to be sequentially numbered.
 - (f) The Registrant shall make available to TICO copies of any and all of its invoices, upon request, to ensure compliance with clause 2(a) above.
 - (g) The Registrant shall not make any changes to a customer's travel service purchase without prior written authorization by the customer.
 - (h) When credit cards are used to purchase travel services, the Registrant shall obtain written authorization from the credit card holder permitting the use of his or her credit card for the transaction.
 - (i) By September 30, 2001, the Registrant shall provide the Registrar with an authorization and direction appointing Mr. Varghese Podur as a Customer Relations Officer for the purpose of liaising with TICO to address any future complaints relating to the Registrant. The Registrar shall be advised of any change to Mr. Podur's appointment.

- (j) The Registrant shall respond to TICO's request regarding information relating to complaints in a timely manner. An oral response shall be provided within three (3) business days and a written response shall be provided within ten (10) business days, unless such lesser time may be necessary in matters involving imminent departure or other such urgency.
 - (k) The Registrant shall not place an advertisement for travel services without prior written authorization from TICO. Such authorization will not be unreasonably withheld.
 - (l) The Registrant shall file all future financial statements on time and in accordance with section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time.
 - (m) The Registrant shall file its future Form 1 filings on time and make the corresponding payments to TICO, as required by section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time.
 - (n) By September 30, 2001, the Registrant shall provide the Registrar with a business plan outlining its intended operations.
7. Should the Registrant fail to comply with conditions listed in paragraphs (2) (a) to (i) inclusive, during the one (1) year period immediately following the date of this Consent Order, the Registrar shall revoke the Registrant's registration on five (5) days written notice sent via hand delivery or by registered mail.
8. This order shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of each of the parties to this order.

INDEPENDENT LEGAL ADVICE

The Registrant further acknowledges by its signature below that it has obtained or has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to its consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A written hearing was held on September 18, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the appeal of the Applicant pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on September 19, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated August 8, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on August 23, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by cash.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

There were no additional or late filings from either the Applicant or the Respondent. The hearing proceeded based on the submissions already received.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1 Notice of Appeal Form received by the Tribunal August 23, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 2 MTO submissions, received by the Tribunal September 10, 2001, 32 pages in total.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

50.1 (1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.

(2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,

- (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1),(2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

15. (1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,

- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;
- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
- (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;

- (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

FACTS:

On July 28, 2001 at approximately 2:00 a.m., Toronto Police stopped a Honda Civic plate number ADJD626. The driver of this vehicle was identified as the Applicant.

The vehicle was stopped by Toronto Police for apparent speeding, erratic driving as well as making a right turn through a red light. Police Officer # 1 approached the vehicle and spoke with the driver. According to the sworn statement of Police Officer # 1, he stated that during his conversation with the Applicant, he detected the odour of an alcoholic beverage. The Applicant was asked if he had consumed any alcohol. The Applicant replied, "yes, I had three beers an hour and a half ago at the Peel Pub."

The Applicant was escorted to the police vehicle and placed in the rear passenger seat. Police Officer # 1 requested an Alcotest unit to his location. Along with Police Officer # 1 that morning was Police Officer # 2. A demand to provide a breath sample was made of the Applicant by Police Officer # 1. At approximately 2:20 a.m., the Applicant was instructed on the use of the machine and he acknowledged that he understood what was required of him. The Applicant attempted to provide a sample at least six times. Each of these attempts ended in failure with no adequate sample being retrieved. According to Police Officer # 1 and Police Officer # 2, the Applicant either blew around the mouthpiece not forming a tight seal or blew short breaths into the machine.

The Applicant was cautioned numerous times about not providing a proper sample and what the consequences would be if he did not provide a suitable sample. Police Officer # 1 asked Police Officer # 2 to demonstrate the unit to the Applicant on how to provide a suitable sample. According to the statements of both Officers, the Applicant began waving his arms in the air and stating that he had a chest problem. The Applicant again attempted to provide a sample and on these next three attempts, (tries 7,8,9) a proper seal was formed around the mouthpiece, however the Applicant provided only short puffs of air into the unit.

The Applicant was placed under arrest at 2:26 a.m. for failing to provide a proper sample. On further questioning by police of the Applicant, the Applicant informed the police that he had chest problems and did have a puffer but the puffer was at home. When asked by Police Officer # 2 when was the last time that he used the puffer, he could not tell her. Police Officer # 1 and Police Officer # 2 did not observe the Applicant having any difficulty, the Applicant did not request or seek medical attention.

The Tribunal accepts the evidence of Police Officer # 1 and Police Officer # 2 as set out above.

The Applicant submitted the report of Physician # 1, of the Dawes-Halsey Medical Clinic. Sr. Espiritu is the Applicant's general practitioner.

The Respondent has provided the Tribunal the medical opinion from Physician # 2. Physician # 2 is a respirologist and the Director of the University of Toronto Respiratory Program in Rehabilitation.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

In an appeal of this nature, the onus is on the Applicant to substantiate his position. The Applicant has appealed under Section 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act on the grounds that he was unable to provide a breath sample for a medical reason. The medical reason stated is "hyperactive airway disease." The document submitted by the Applicant do not substantiate his claim to the effect that he had a present medical condition which precluded him from providing a breath or blood sample.

Physician # 1's report fails to meet the specific requirements of Section 15(1) of Regulation 574 (amended) of the Highway Traffic Act as set out below. It does not provide any test results i.e. pulmonary function tests or measurements to indicate a reduce air way capacity. The diagnosis of hyperactive airway disease is not supported by any objective means only a subjective history as relayed by the Applicant to him. Also, the examination of the 30 July 2001, which was 4 days after the supposed exposure to fibreglass, is essentially negative and the Applicant is reported as "almost fully recovered".

No initial examination findings were reported. There is no mention of any history to airway problems or heart problems as indicated by the Applicant to the police nor has the physician indicated any medication that the Applicant is taking or had been prescribed or is taking with respect to any "hyperactive airway disease."

Physician # 2, whose report is filed by the Respondent, reviewed the medical documentation provided, and he concluded "The diagnosis: "hyperactive airway disease" is without any substantiating history or findings.

The Tribunal after very careful review believes Physician # 1's report lacks relevant detail to substantiate the medical condition claimed to be existing that would have precluded the Applicant from providing the necessary breath sample. Accordingly, the Tribunal can attach very little weight to this report respecting the issue under appeal.

After reviewing all of the foregoing facts, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not related his medical condition to Regulation 574(amended) and Sections 50(1)(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act.

During all of the attempts to provide a sample, the Applicant either blew around the mouth piece or when he finally made a proper seal with his lips, he blew with short puffs as not to allow sufficient air into the machine to get a proper reading. The Tribunal can only conclude, based on the evidence presented, that the actions taken by the Applicant were not those of someone who has unable to provide a breath sample, but rather the actions of someone who was unwilling to provide the sample because of the negative consequences of providing that sample.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated July 28, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 21, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Michele Moore(the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1991 Ford Thunderbird, plate no. AKBK 230 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	August 30, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the motor vehicle was stolen at the time it was being driven as provided in section 50.2(3) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 21, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the motor vehicle was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

The vehicle was taken without consent. I was not home at the time. I had no reason to believe Richard would take the car because I have always driven him around. I would even get my children out of bed so we could drive him to work in the morning. The police have a sworn, videotaped statement. Constable Dave Starcevic, Timmins Police 705-264-1201 was the arresting officer who took my statement.

Michele Moore

The Applicant opened her testimony by re-iterating her written submission. She also introduced into evidence a copy of a Promise to Appear form, dated August 31, 2001, (Exhibit #4) which indicated that the driver of the vehicle at the time of the impoundment, Richard Gamelin, had been charged with taking the vehicle without the permission of the owner under Section 335(1) of the Criminal Code of Canada. This information had been received by the Licence Appeal Tribunal on September 18, 2001, and was introduced into evidence with the concurrence of the Respondent.

Under questioning by the Respondent, the Applicant indicated that she was in a common-law relationship with Mr. Gamelin at the time of the vehicle impoundment, and had been since June of 2001, but that she was no longer in this relationship. She further testified that she had gone out for the evening, and left her car keys in their "usual place" in the house. Mr. Gamelin had taken her car to go and look for her, and had been stopped by the police in the driveway of their home. She testified that she was aware of Mr. Gamelin's driving record, and that he had not driven her car before this incident.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Richard Allen J. Gamelin;

3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence Driving while licence suspended under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until August 8, 2003.

The Respondent offered no new evidence. In her concluding remarks, she pointed out that the definition of stolen in Black's Law Dictionary [Sixth Edition] indicates that stolen implies the intention of depriving the owner of the benefit of ownership "permanently". She added that, according to the Applicant's testimony, Mr. Gamelin had taken the Applicant's vehicle to look for the Applicant which would support the position that there was no intent to deprive the Applicant of the vehicle on a permanent basis.

At this point, the Applicant posed a question about appealing on the basis of exceptional hardship. In her testimony, the Applicant had indicated that not having her car was inconvenient, but offered no indication that it had created exceptional hardship. The Tribunal, therefore, responded that it was not prepared to permit the grounds for appeal to be amended to include exceptional hardship to allow for arguments under the condition of exceptional hardship.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(a).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(a) alleging that the vehicle was stolen, the meaning of "stolen" is not provided in The Highway Traffic Act.

The Shorter Oxford Dictionary, provides the definition of "stolen" as follows:

Stolen: 1. Obtained by theft. 2. Accomplished or enjoyed by stealth; secret. 3. Of time: obtained by contrivance

Theft: 1. The action of a thief; the felonious taking away of the personal goods of another; larceny 2. That which is or has been stolen; the proceeds of thieving.

Black's Law Dictionary (Sixth edition), page 1419-1420 provides the definition of "stolen" as follows:

Stolen: Acquired, or possessed, as a result of some wrongful or dishonest act or taking, whereby a person willfully obtains or retains possession of property which belongs to another, without or beyond any permission given, and with the intent to deprive the owner of the benefit of ownership (or possession) permanently.

The word "stolen" as used in the crime of interstate transpiration of stolen motor vehicles includes all wrongful and dishonest taking of motor vehicles with the intent to deprive the owner of the rights and benefits of ownership, regardless of whether theft constitutes common-law larceny; and felonious taking may be effected by diverse means known to both common and statutory law, such as larceny, embezzlement, false pretenses, larceny by trick and other types of wrongful acquisition. Lake v. U.S., Colo, 338F.2d 787,788. It is not necessary that the taking of the vehicle be unlawful. Even if possession of the vehicle is lawfully acquired, the vehicle will be deemed "stolen" if the defendant thereafter forms the intent to deprive the owner of the rights and benefits of ownership, and converts the vehicle to his own use. United States v. Turley, 352 U.S. 407, 417, 77 S.Ct. 397, 402. 1 L.Ed.2d 430.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

As to the appeal on the basis of the vehicle having been stolen, the evidence established that Mr. Gamelin had taken the Applicant's vehicle without her permission, and, as a result, had been charged with this offence under the Criminal Code of Canada. He has not been charged with stealing the Applicant's vehicle.

The definition of stolen as outlined in Black's sets out what can be described as conditions for theft. Stolen involves acquisition or possession as a result of some wrongful or dishonest act of property which belongs to another person with the intent to deprive the owner of possession permanently. Although the evidence supports the position that the Applicant's vehicle had been acquired by Mr. Gamelin without permission, it does not indicate that there was any intent to deprive the Applicant of the possession of her vehicle on a permanent basis. In fact, according to the Applicant's testimony, Mr. Gamelin was stopped at 52 Fairway Village in the City of Timmins at 3:40 a.m. In other words, he was stopped at the residence that he shared with the Applicant at that time. In addition, the Applicant indicated that the driver intended to drive the car to find the Applicant. This is not evidence of an intention to deprive the Applicant of the car and is not evidence that it was stolen.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

INTERIM ORDER

BACKGROUND:

The hearing of this appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal was scheduled for September 17 and 18, 2001 and was adjourned at the end of the first day at the request and on the consent of all three parties.

Douglas Swerbrick and Jennifer MacIntyre (the "Applicants") are appealing a decision of the Ontario New Home Warranty Program (the "Program") set out in a decision letter dated April 30, 2001. That letter denied warranty coverage for the Applicants on seven items. A subsequent letter dated September 6, 2001 reiterated the denial on the seven items. Recognizing that other issues could be appealed, the letter suggested that the Applicants advise the Program in writing if they wished to seek warranty coverage for the rear/side wall or any other issue. The Applicants did not do so.

The Applicants bought a new 3 bedroom two storey house in Kingston for $149,000.00 and took possession on December 10, 1999. At that time there were numerous problems. Some seven months later, in July 2000 the Applicants still had 33 unresolved problems, which prompted them to write to the Program and ask for conciliation. This took place some time after November 27, 2000.

The Program issued two conciliation reports, one report respecting the items that it considered warranted and another report respecting 19 items that it considered not warranted. The items noted as not warranted were reduced to seven in the Program's decision.

The hearing on September 17, 2001, Douglas Swerbrick appeared without counsel at the hearing. He was unable to cope with the complexity of the issues and process. For instance, on the form requesting an appeal there are only four numbered lined paragraphs, and he concluded that he was limited to appealing four items although the decision letter had seven. He also wrongly assumed his appeal covered any complaints dealt with in the conciliation report.

After a little more than half a day of hearing, realizing that the Applicants could raise other matters for a further appeal, the other two parties asked that the matter be put over to get all appealable issues heard together by the Tribunal. Also, an adjournment was requested by the Applicant, Douglas Swerbrick, to retain a lawyer. The Applicant stated that the particular counsel he wished to retain is out of the country, apparently until October 10, 2001.

It also became clear that expert opinions respecting engineering will be essential to resolve a number of technical, contentious issues. The Applicants have already obtained an engineering report; the other two parties will require time to obtain theirs.

All parties agreed that a telephone conference conducted by the Tribunal would be helpful, during which time the Tribunal would set a date to continue the hearing of the Applicants' appeal.

ORDER:

Accordingly, THE TRIBUNAL ORDERS:

- 1) By October 24, 2001 the Applicants will confirm in writing to this Tribunal, with a copy to the other parties, whether or not they have retained counsel.
- 2) By November 10, 2001, the Applicants will be allowed to submit an amended notice of appeal to the Tribunal, with a copy to the other parties, identifying any additional items in the Program's decision letter of September 6, 2001 which the Applicants wish to appeal to this Tribunal.

- 3) By December 19, 2001 each party retaining the services of an engineer shall make full disclosure to the other parties, in the manner required by Rule 6.4 of the Tribunal's Rules of Practice and shall deposit any resulting report with this Tribunal.
- 4) On January 7, 2002 a telephone conference will be conducted by the Tribunal with the parties or their counsels. The telephone conference will be conducted by a Tribunal member other than this Vice-Chair. The purpose of this telephone conference will be to set a date for the continuation of the hearing before this Vice-Chair and to consider:
 - (1) the identification of facts or evidence that may be agreed upon;
 - (2) the identification and simplification of the issues;
 - (3) issues relating to disclosure and the exchange of information;
 - (4) the settlement of any or all of the issues;
 - (5) the dates by which any steps in the proceeding are to be taken or begun;
 - (6) the estimated duration of the hearing; and
 - (7) any other matter that may assist in the just and most expeditious disposition of the proceeding.

DECISION AND REASONS

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by the Applicant respecting a decision of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Respondent") pursuant to section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act (Ontario).

EXHIBITS:

Exhibit # 1 - Notice of Appeal from Applicant received at Tribunal August 15, 2001.

Exhibit # 2 - Notice of Suspension from Registrar dated February 16, 2001.

Exhibit # 3 - File Summary received from Respondent September 21, 2001.

Exhibit # 4 - Applicant's Driving Record from the Registrar dated August 22, 2001.

FACTS:

The Applicant, a fifty one year old Real Estate Agent, had her driver's licence suspended February 2, 2001, for medical reasons under Section 47(1) of The Highway Traffic Act, after the Ministry received a Medical Condition Report from Physician # 1, at St. Michael's Hospital. Dr. Horak stated he witnessed the Applicant have a generalized clonic seizure in St. Michael's emergency department on January 22, 2001.

On August 28, 2001 the Applicant was convicted of driving while under suspension and her licence was suspended under The Highway Traffic Act until December 28, 2001. The Applicant claims she had never been informed of the Medical Suspension in February because it had been sent to a former address.

The Applicant's first seizure occurred in 1976, following which a left frontal meningioma was surgically resected. Apparently seizures continued and she was prescribed Dilantin and Clobazam and remained seizure-free from 1988 until July 12, 1996. Her neurologist, Physician # 2 stated in a Medical Report, that she had blacked out while driving and struck a pole. She probably had a subsequent seizure at St. Joseph's Hospital Emergency. Physician # 2 attributed the seizures to inadequate anti-epileptic drug treatment due to missing several doses of her medication.

The Applicant's driver's licence was suspended from August 27, 1996 until October 7, 1996. The Medical Advisory Committee received assurances from Physician # 2 that she was usually very compliant taking her medication and it had occurred due to circumstances beyond her control.

Physician # 2 notified the Ministry on October 1, 1997 that the Applicant had suffered a seizure on September 30, 1997, after missing two doses of her medication. The Applicant's driver's licence was again suspended on December 3, 1997 under Section 47(1) of The Highway Traffic Act. This suspension notice was never claimed by the Applicant and was returned by Canada Post. It was later served by a police officer. The licence was reinstated on March 10, 1998.

On April 27, 2000, a Traffic Inspector from Toronto Police Services reported to the Ministry that the Applicant had been involved in a collision with a transport truck on April 7, 2000. While at the Collision Reporting Centre she was recognized, because she had been there approximately eight times in the previous two years. The Inspector recommended that her driving privileges should be reviewed. No action was apparently taken at that time.

Nine months later, Physician # 1, from St. Michael's Hospital reported the Applicant's generalized clonic seizure in the hospital ER and her driver's licence was suspended again. A Dilantin blood level at the hospital that day, was reported to be 49. Subsequent levels two and four weeks later were 98 and 86 respectively, which Physician # 2 said indicated she had not been compliant in taking her medication at the time of the seizure. A neurological examination was normal and a CT scan did not show any evidence of any tumour recurrence.

The Applicant's first seizure occurred in 1976 as a result of a frontal meningioma, which was resected. She remained seizure-free from 1988 until 1996, controlled by Dilantin and Clobazam.

On July 12, 1996 the Applicant suffered a seizure while driving her car and struck a pole. Physician # 2 stated in a medical report that she had missed taking several doses of medication in the previous two days. He said this was an unusual occurrence because she was usually very compliant.

The next seizure reported was on September 30, 1997, which Physician # 2 again attributed to the Applicant missing two doses of her medication. Her driver's licence was suspended again under section 47(1), until March 9, 1998

During the following two years the Applicant was convicted of several driving offences:

- improper drive on divided highway lane change
- disobey traffic signal light-red
- pass on right-unsafe condition
- driving while licence is suspended
- suspended licence re, unpaid fines, twice.

The next seizure was on January 22, 2001, which led to the present suspension.

The Applicant could not understand why her licence could not be reinstated, since she had completed six months seizure free and her neurological examinations and tests were all normal.

ISSUES:

Should the decision of the Registrar to suspend the Applicant's licence be confirmed, modified or set aside?

LAW:

Regulation 340/94, Section 14 states:-

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffers from an mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely; and
- (b) be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

Section 47(1) states:

Subject to section 47.1, the Registrar may suspend or cancel,

- (a) the plate portion of a permit as defined in Part II;
 - (b) a driver's licence; or
 - (c) a CVOR certificate,
- on the grounds of,
- (d) misconduct for which the holder is responsible, directly or indirectly, related to the operation or driving of a motor vehicle;
 - (e) conviction of the holder for an offence referred to in subsection 210(1) or (2);
 - (f) the Registrar having reason to believe, having regard to the safety record of the holder or of a person related to the holder, and any other information that the Registrar considers relevant, that the holder will not operate a commercial motor vehicle safely or in accordance with this Act, the regulations and other laws relating to highway safety; or
 - (g) any other sufficient reason not referred to in clause (d), (e) or (f).

Section 50 of the Act states:

- 50.(1) Every person aggrieved by a decision of the Minister under subclause 32(12)(b)(i) or a decision of the Registrar under section 17 or 47 may appeal the decision to the Tribunal
- (2) The Tribunal may confirm, modify or set aside the decision of the Minister or the Registrar.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

Regulation 340/94 Section 14(a) is very specific that a holder of a driver's licence must not suffer from any mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely.

The Registrar acted appropriately in suspending the Applicant's licence when the Ministry received a medical report from Physician # 1 stating the Applicant had suffered a seizure in St Michael's Hospital ER on January 22, 2001. Physician # 2 determined her Dilantin blood level was very low at the time of the seizure and diagnosed non compliance in taking her medication.

The Applicant repeatedly stated in evidence that she did not know whether she required Dilantin, since the tumour had caused the seizures in the first place and the tumour had been removed.

Nevertheless, she claimed she was always compliant in taking her medication and does not know why Physician # 3 and Physician # 2 said the seizures were a result of missed doses of Dilantin. She also said she never told anyone that she had missed doses, so how would they know? She believed the drop in her Dilantin blood level and the seizures were a result of stress from her divorce and going into bankruptcy, although no doctor has ever told her that was a possibility.

Discrediting the medical diagnoses and advice she has been given over 25 years indicates she has no real insight into her recurring seizures and associated problems. Coupling this with her apparent disregard for rules of the road and road safety, the Tribunal finds the suspension is justified and should continue.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the decision dated February 2, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles ("Registrar") to suspend his driver's licence pursuant to Section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA"), and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

IT IS THE DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50(2) of the Act that the decision of the Registrar be confirmed.

DATE OF HEARING: September 25, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: September 27, 2001 London

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 25, 2001, at London, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Debbie Devine (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1992 Chevrolet Cavalier RS, plate no. 542 JDM (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	September 6, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the driver's licence was not under suspension, the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended, and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(b)(c)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 25, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

A request was made for a ruling as to whether the Applicant's witness is authorized to represent the Applicant in the capacity of Co-counsel during the proceedings. The Respondent objected and the Applicant withdrew the submission. In addition, the Respondent requested that the Applicant's witness leave the room while the Applicant was giving her testimony. The Applicant consented to the Respondent's request and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

TO: LICENCE SUSPENSION BOARD
Suite 1200
1 St. Clair Avenue West, 12th Floor
Toronto, Ontario M4V 1K6

ATT: Impoundment Appeals Hearing Co-ordinator Wednesday September 5, 2001

I am writing this letter to ask you to reconsider your decision to impound my vehicle for 45 days, for the sole reason the driver (Russell Himbury) was operating my vehicle and was charged with Disqualified Operation of A motor Vehicle under section 259(4) c.c.

I am a 45 year old responsible adult who had absolutely no idea Russell Himbury's drivers license was not valid, and there was absolutely no way that I could even have known Russell was under a drivers license suspension when even Russell did not know about the license suspension until being stopped by London Police for the head light being out Saturday morning on September 1, 2001.

I explained to the police I knew he had lost his license for one year I even picked him up the day his license was suspended by the judges order for one year only. I read the paper work he received that day showing me there was a one year suspension (please see attached copy of what I read the day May 25, 2000.) as far as I knew I had no reason to believe that Russell was an unlicensed driver 16 months later.

I never would have left Russell drive my car under any circumstance at all, had I been aware Russell did not have a valid drivers license, I assure you this is the truth.

I would also like to point out to you at this time as well, the direct hardship not having my vehicle back will cause in my life and directly to my parents living with me whom I am their only person to assist in care giving, errands, and doctors appointment, groceries, etc.

The hardship this would cause in my life would be devastating to me for many reasons which I can only begin to name a few, many I am sure would become more and more apparent as time went on and I could not in any way be able to keep up with my continued obligations.

I have a full time job for 4 years as a service co-ordinator for Para-med Health Care Services, and I need my car to be able to continue my employment. Further to that I have moved my elderly parents into my home so I would be able to assist them as their only care giver, they are 79 & 83 years old. My mom has Spinal Sclerosis and my step dad has emphysema with oxygen 24 hours a day. Because of the medical problems both of them have there are a lot of appointments with doctors and specialists. I help them attend at Hospitals and different clinic's. I also have to do all the errands, pick-up groceries, and for sometimes for a social gathering. I am the only person who can do any of these things and both my parents are totally dependent on me.

P.S. I have never been involved before with the M.T.O. for even a demerit point or traffic ticket, nor have I ever even been pulled over by police in 29 years of driving. I respect my license and my car both as much as the other. In your pamphlet you mention that only one time can the owner of the car asked to be considered a hardship case this would be the first and only time you would ever have to make that decision for me because no one will ever drive my car again.

OWNER'S POSITION IN APPEAL

- THERE ARE 3 SEPARATE GROUNDS FOR MY APPEAL
With each one having multiple reasons for each of the appeals grounds.
- 2 COPIES OF THE COURT SUSPENSION for one year not two years.

Another reason/"Drivers license was not under suspension".

Russell is going to plead not guilty at trial because he was not notified of the suspension by the ministry of transportation, he was not illegally driving while being disqualified if he had no intent to do so.. (If this is true that means at the time of my car being impounded he would have not been a disqualified driver until notified that morning of September 1, 2001.).

The problem here is the trial for Russell will be after 45 days of my car impoundment, (the M.T.O. Data Access & Control Centre has already told Russell on the phone today that they have no card in Russell's file and that there should have been if he had been notified, Russell is sending $6.00 and a request in to ask for a copy of this information and I will be faxing to you a copy immediately when I receive my copy.)

OR

There is also the fact that Russell faxed the driver control centre on May 25, 2000. explaining there were grounds for an appeal and asked if they would not proceed with any possible actions until the appeal was dealt with in the higher court. (He was told this would be alright by his lawyer while awaiting his appeal.) there will also be a fax sent of this information, as soon as I receive it

OR

Maybe you could possibly speak direct to the M.T.O. Data Access Centre

Another reason for an appeal/"the vehicle owner exercised due diligence.

I witnessed documentation stating only A 1 year suspension (this was a legal document, see attached), also I personally know that Russell Himbury at no time ever (over the 1 year court suspension) would never drive a car until after the time of his suspension. Russell has just bought a car and was telling me he would be getting insurance and a safety check a.s.a.p. this is another reason I thought for sure he was a licensed driver besides the fact of giving me his word.

Please leave me a telephone message telling me what to do or maybe what you can do. Thank you.

REASON FOR TELEPHONE CONFERENCE

This is a written request asking for a TELEPHONE CONFERENCE for the following reasons.

There are several reasons why I would request to have a telephone conference.

- I'm hoping it would be the fastest process to get my car back.
- I work all day, and it would be hard for me to get to Toronto to meet with you.
- I don't have a car to get to the location you may choose.

If this is a problem please notify me as soon as possible.

Debbie Devine

Ms. Devine testified that she has known Russell Himbury, “the driver”, for the past nineteen years. She further testified that she has full responsibility for her elderly parents, ages seventy-nine and eighty-three. Her mother has spinal stenosis and her stepfather has emphysema with a need for oxygen twenty-four hours a day. Since both parents reside in her home, she is required to assist them with their medical appointments, run errands and pick up their groceries.

In respect to the reasons for her appeal, she checked off three boxes and believes that her “Owner’s Position” statement, supported by today’s oral evidence, justifies the immediate return of her impounded vehicle.

In respect to “the driver’s licence was not under suspension”, Ms. Devine submitted that the driver, Mr. Russell Himbury, informed her that he would be pleading not guilty to the “driving while disqualified charge” since he was not properly notified of the suspension by the Ministry of Transportation. She further testified that based on her personal knowledge of Mr. Himbury, he would not knowingly operate a motor vehicle while disqualified.

In respect to “the vehicle owner exercising due diligence to determine that the driver’s licence was not suspended”, the Applicant testified that she had questioned Mr. Himbury on August 1, 2001 about his driver’s licence and was shown a Temporary Driver’s Licence for the Province of Ontario with an expiry date in late September or October 2001.

Based on this information and remembering that the Criminal Court conviction provided for a one year suspension, which should be fully served in May 2001, Ms. Devine allowed Mr. Himbury to drive her vehicle. However, when stopped by the London Police on September 1, 2001 with Mr. Himbury driving, Ms. Devine was made aware that Mr. Himbury’s driver’s licence was under suspension until May 25, 2002.

In respect to “exceptional hardship”, Ms. Devine admitted during cross-examination that she has full access to her stepfather’s vehicle for work purposes as well as providing any transportation for her elderly parents. The Applicant testified that the impoundment has not resulted in any financial loss or any loss of employment. Nevertheless, the impoundment has caused considerable stress for herself and her parents.

The Tribunal believes that the Applicant’s evidence on one very significant point, namely the Temporary Driver’s Licence, was rehearsed and lacked credibility. This conclusion was reached by the Tribunal due to the fact that this significant point was not included in the Owner’s Position supporting statements.

Mr. Russell Himbury, driver of the impounded vehicle and a friend of the Applicant’s for the past twenty years, testified without hesitation that “he lied” to the Applicant about his driver’s licence and admitted to showing her a copy of a valid Temporary Driver's Licence for the Province of Ontario. Mr. Himbury testified that his memory of the facts was quite vague in respect to how he obtained the Temporary Driver's Licence, the whereabouts of the original document, or where he was when he showed this document to the Applicant.

Mr. Himbury testified and produced documentation indicating that he had filed or was in the process of filing appeals in the Superior Court of Justice concerning the charge "failing to remain at the scene of the accident" and the impaired driving charge. He further testified that he had received approval from the London Legal Aid Office on these appeals. The majority of this information has either been faxed or discussed with officials at the Ministry of Transportation, Driver Control Office in Toronto as well as their legal department.

Mr. Himbury's testimony, except for the point where "he lied" to the Applicant, was both vague and argumentative during cross-examination. For this reason, the Tribunal cannot give weight to much of his testimony.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as Owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Russell M. Himbury;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until May 25, 2002.

The Respondent submitted that the Criminal Court document referred to by the Applicant showing a one year suspension also mentions that upon conviction your driver's licence may be suspended longer under the Highway Traffic Act.

The Respondent further submitted that the Temporary Driver's Licence referred to by the Applicant was a photocopy and based on the number sequence was issued in and around 1996. It is the Respondent's position that in order to claim the ground, "the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended", the Applicant must carefully review any documents she has access to as well as check with the Ministry of Transportation before allowing someone else to drive your vehicle.

In respect to "exceptional hardship", the Respondent submits that the Applicant has had the full use of her stepfather's vehicle, both for work and transportation such as medical appointments and picking up groceries for her elderly parents. The Applicant has noted that there has been no loss of employment, no medical appointments missed, and no financial loss experienced.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(b), (c) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(b) alleging that the driver's licence of the driver driving at the time of the impoundment order was not under suspension, section 55.1(2) of the Act states:

Where a police officer or officer appointed for carrying out the provisions of this Act is satisfied that a person was driving a motor vehicle on a highway while his or her driver's licence is under suspension under section 41 or 42 or 43, even if it is under suspension at the same time for any other reason, the officer shall,

- (a) notify the Registrar of the fact or cause the Registrar to be notified; and
- (b) detain the motor vehicle that was being driven by the person whose driver's licence is under suspension until the Registrar issues an order under subsection (3).

Section 41 of the Highway Traffic Act identify the type of appeals for which a licence is suspended in sections 41(1)(a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) and 41(7) and 42(1) and 42(5) as follows:

Section 41(1) Subject to subsections 41.1 (1), (2) and (3), the driver's licence of a person who is convicted of an offence,

- (a) under section 220, 221 or 236 of the Criminal Code (Canada) committed by means of a motor vehicle or a street car within the meaning of this Act or a motorized snow vehicle within the meaning of Motorized snow vehicle Act;
- (b) under section 249, 252, 253 or 255 of the Criminal Code (Canada) committed while driving or having the care, charge or control of a motor vehicle or street car within the meaning of this Act or a motorized snow vehicle within the meaning of the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act;
- (c) under subsection 254 (5) of the Criminal Code (Canada) committed in relation to the driving or having the care, charge or control of a motor vehicle or street car within the meaning of this Act or a motorized snow vehicle within the meaning of the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act;
- (d) under a provision that is enacted by a state of the United States of America and that is designated by the regulations; or
- (e) referred to in a predecessor to this sub-section, is thereupon suspended

Section 42.(1) The driver's licence of a person who is convicted of an offence under subsection 259 (4) of the Criminal Code (Canada) or under a provision that is enacted by state of the United States of America and that is designated by the regulations is thereupon suspended for a period of,

- (a) upon the first conviction, one year; and
- (b) upon a subsequent conviction, two years, in addition to any other period for which the licence is suspended and consecutively there to.

- (4) This section applies in the same manner as if a person were convicted of an offence if the person pleads guilty to or is found guilty of an offence referred to in subsection (1) and,
 - (a) an order directing that the accused be discharged is made under section 730 of the Criminal Code (Canada) or under a provision that is enacted by a state of the United States of America and that is designated by the regulations; or

- (b) a disposition is made under section 20 or sections 28 to 32 of the Young Offenders Act (Canada), including a confirmation or variation of the disposition. R.S.O. 1990, c.H.8, s.42 (1-4).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of “due diligence” as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, “due diligence” in Black’s Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines “exceptional hardship” as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

- (4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
- (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
- (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
- (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
- (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
- (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
- (d) the impact of the loss,
- (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
- (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The relevant sections of the Highway Traffic Act permits an appeal of the Registrar's order on specific grounds.

In respect to Section 52.2(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time, in respect to which the order was made, was clearly under suspension. While the Applicant and driver allege a service problem with the notice of suspension and intend to pursue this matter, the licence remains under suspension at this time.

In consideration of Section 50.2(c) of the Highway Traffic Act, the Tribunal cannot conclude that the Applicant exercised due diligence by simply reading the judge's order resulting from a Criminal Code Conviction, and assuming that a driver's licence will be reinstated one year following without reading all of the document wherein it clearly mentions upon conviction, your driver's licence may be suspended longer under the Highway Traffic Act.

In respect to the Temporary Driver's Licence shown to the Applicant on August 1, 2001, the Tribunal is not convinced that the Applicant clearly examined or questioned Mr. Himbury regarding the origin or the legality of this document. Since this is such a significant point, the Tribunal cannot understand why it was not referred to in the Owner's Position statement.

While the Applicant is convinced that Mr. Himbury would not drive while his licence was under suspension, Mr. Himbury readily admits that he misled the Applicant by showing her what has since been deemed a doctored photocopy of a 1996 Temporary Driver's Licence.

In respect to Section 50.2(d) of the Act regarding exceptional hardship, the Applicant readily admits that an alternative to the impounded vehicle is available during the impoundment period, and she has not experienced any employment or financial loss. However, it has been a major inconvenience for her and her stepfather to deal with the loss of the vehicle during the impoundment period.

The Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not established the three grounds of appeal as prescribed under Section 50.2(b)(c)(d) of the Highway Traffic Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

In accordance with Section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, and subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, (hereinafter the "Act") the parties to the proceeding, Stephane Denis LeFebvre o/a S.L. Garage (hereinafter referred to as "the Dealer"), and the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (hereinafter the "Registrar") waive the requirement of a hearing and hereby consent to an Order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (hereinafter the "Consent Order") based on the following terms and conditions to his registration as a motor vehicle dealer:

1. The Dealer agrees, if he is charged in the future, to immediately notify the Registrar in writing.
2. The Dealer agrees if he is convicted under any law of an industry specific offence or if he is convicted under the Criminal Code, the Registrar is directed to and shall carry out the proposal.
3. The Dealer agrees to provide full and complete disclosure on all future applications and discussions with the Registrar, regardless of whether disclosure has been previously provided to the Registrar.
4. The Dealer confirms that the circumstances surrounding the conviction(s) are substantially as disclosed to the Registrar.
5. The Dealer acknowledges and understands that he will not retain the services of a salesperson unless the salesperson is registered as a salesperson to the Dealer.
6. The Dealer further acknowledges that the restrictions concerning the activities of a salesperson referred to in these terms and conditions applies to buying, selling and leasing on behalf of a dealer. "Buying, selling and leasing" refers to showing a vehicle to a prospective purchaser or any form of negotiation concerning the purchase, sale or lease of a motor vehicle and is not limited to the signing of contracts. This further includes attendance at auctions on behalf of the Dealer.
7. The Dealer agrees to maintain a garage register in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act and will maintain all books and records as required by the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act. The Dealer further agrees to provide free access to the books and records of the Dealer to any authorized representative of the Registrar.
8. The Dealer agrees that all books and records shall be kept at the Dealer's registered premise, and shall be available to an inspector or investigator appointed by the Registrar, at all reasonable times.

9. The Dealer agrees to maintain a sign at the Dealer's registered premise that will be visible to the public.
10. The Dealer agrees to operate exclusively from the location approved by the Registrar. The Dealer agrees to apply for the Registrar's approval, by way of prior written notice, of any change in location in the form required by the Registrar.
11. The Dealer agrees not to invite the public to deal at a place other than his approved location.
12. The Dealer will not conduct any purchases with anyone who is in the business of buying, selling and leasing motor vehicles without confirming that the person is registered as a Dealer under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.
13. The Dealer will ensure that all advertisements placed by or on behalf of the Dealer will identify the registered name and the address of the location approved by the Registrar.
14. The Dealer will ensure that any vehicle sold is registered in the name of the purchaser in the records of the Ministry of Transportation before releasing the vehicle to the purchaser.
15. The Dealer will not purchase a vehicle without ensuring that the vehicle is registered to the seller in the records of the Ministry of Transportation.
16. The Dealer agrees to register all vehicles purchased within 6 days in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act.
17. The Dealer agrees that he is under a positive obligation to disclose in writing, on the bill of sale, all material facts about the vehicles he sells to his purchasers. Purchasers include both retail and wholesale buyers. Material facts such as, but not limited to: salvage, previous salvage, accidented and repaired, theft recovery, previous taxi cab, previous police car, previous daily rental, write off, unibody damage, frame damage and any other material fact that may affect one's decision whether or not to purchase said vehicle. The Dealer agrees to make reasonable efforts to research the history of all his vehicles prior to sale to ensure all material facts are disclosed. The Dealer agrees that should any information come to light, which the Registrar deems to be a material fact concerning a vehicle the Dealer has sold, the Dealer will comply with all reasonable requests made by the Registrar to provide compensation to the purchaser.
18. The Dealer acknowledges and understands that his registration will not be used to buy or sell motor vehicles where the Dealer knows or ought to know that the purchase or sale of those motor vehicles will facilitate an illegal or unethical practice.
19. The Dealer will comply with all aspects of the Retail Sales Tax Act with regards to filing, and ensuring all tax collections are accurately reported and remitted to the Minister of Finance when due.
20. The Dealer agrees he will not be involved in the process of buying, selling or leasing motor vehicles without the benefit of registration.
21. The Dealer will comply with the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council's Code of Ethics and Standards of Business Practice.

22. The Dealer understands that his registration will be conditional for 60 days and may be cancelled by the Registrar, in accordance with Section 13(3) of Regulation 801. For the purpose of Section 13(3) of Regulation 801, these Terms and Conditions are part of the Dealer's application.
23. The Dealer acknowledges that the Registrar may take further administrative action in the form of a proposal to revoke his registration, arising from any matters that have occurred or may occur related to honesty, integrity, financial position and/or compliance with these terms and conditions.
24. The Dealer acknowledges that the Registrar may take legal action, including Provincial Offences prosecution arising from actions related to the purchase, sale or lease of motor vehicles that may have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future.
25. The Dealer agrees and acknowledges that should he breach any of the terms and conditions set out herein, in whole or in part, the Registrar is directed to and shall carry out the proposal.
26. The Dealer hereby acknowledges that he has obtained or has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to the Dealer's consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

Signed in the City of _____ this _____ day of _____ 2001.

Stephane Lefebvre o/a S.L. Garage

Following attendances on September 11, 2001 at a prehearing before the Licence Appeal Tribunal of Brian Campbell, Counsel representing J.R. Diamond Homes Inc. (the "Applicant"), and Carol Street, Counsel representing the Registrar, Ontario New Home Warranty Program (the "Respondent");

The Tribunal makes the following Order:

- 1) The Parties to the hearing at this time are the Applicant and the Registrar. There is some discussion that the Applicant may wish to bring a motion to add a Third Party. The Counsel for the Applicant undertakes to inform the Counsel for the Registrar by October 15, 2001 if there will be a motion to add a Third Party.
- 2) There was no resolution of the issues between the parties. There could be a resolution of some issues at a later date. Counsel for the Applicant and Counsel for the Registrar will continue their discussion on the issues. If they feel it would be helpful, another prehearing conference can be scheduled at a later date after there has been full disclosure of all documents.

- 3) The parties shall fully comply with the Tribunal's Rules of Practice respecting disclosure. Counsel for the Registrar has advised that a number of warranty representatives will be called as witnesses. Counsel for the Applicant is unsure as to what witnesses will be called at the hearing. It is agreed that Counsel for the Registrar will make full disclosure of documents and witnesses by December 3, 2001. It is agreed that Counsel for the Applicant will make full disclosure of documents and witnesses by December 13, 2001.
- 4) The hearing will commence at 9:30 a.m. at the Tribunal's Chambers, 1 St. Clair Avenue West, 12th Floor, Toronto, Ontario on Monday, January 7, 2002 and continue January 8, 9, 10, and 11, 2002 and to further continue on Monday, January 21, 2002 and continue January 22, 23, 24 and 25, 2002, if necessary.

ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES

TRIBUNAL: NIVES MONTANO,
Presiding member

APPEARANCES: LUBA NEUWIRTH,
Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

BRUNO BRIAN BUCHHOLZ, Applicant, unrepresented

DATE OF HEARING: September 27, 2001 By teleconference

DECISION RELEASED: October 1, 2001

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 27, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario by way of teleconference, to consider the Applicant’s appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended (“HTA” or the “Act”).

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Bruno Brian Buchholz (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1999 GMC Sierra, plate no. (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	September 6, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on September 27, 2001 and proceeded by way of teleconference.

The Tribunal would like it noted that the Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles forwarded her submissions to both the Applicant and the Tribunal by facsimile less than 24 hours before the hearing commenced. According to the Licence Appeal Tribunal's Rules of Practice, Section 6.5(1) and (2)(c)(i) specifically stipulates the disclosure requirements:

6.5(1) A party to the hearing shall

- (i) disclose to all parties the existence of every document and thing that the party will refer to or tender as evidence at the hearing and shall deliver a copy of such documents to the other parties, and
- (ii) disclose and make available for inspection by every other party all things, other than documents that the party will refer to or tender as evidence, within the time for disclosure set out in Rule 6.5(2)

6.5(2)(c) where the hearing is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Act,

- (i) by the party requesting a hearing before the Tribunal at least ten (10) days prior to the hearing, and
- (ii) by any other party at least five (5) days prior to the hearing.

The Tribunal asked the Applicant the following questions: (i) if he had sufficient time to review and understand all the documentation received; (ii) if he wished to proceed with today's hearing; (iii) or would he want to seek legal counsel. The Applicant acknowledged that some of the documentation was a bit technical, but wanted to proceed and did not want to adjourn today's hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

I Brian Buchholz request an telephone hearing as I am out of town.
Appeal is based on (iv) Due hardship; as the vehicle is used for company reasons, primarily by my daughter who lives up North. I was un aware her husband was a suspended driver.

The following is a summary of the Applicant's affirmed testimony.

The Applicant is the owner and operator of a masonry restoration company, which is run from his home office in Scarborough. He has been in business since 1977 when he incorporated his company. He has 2 other employees, his brother and his daughter who resides in Brantford.

The Applicant owns 2 vehicles, one registered in the company's name, which is driven by the Applicant and the other registered to him personally, which is driven by his daughter. The daughter also has another vehicle registered in her name, being a GMC Jimmy.

The Applicant's daughter uses the Applicant's vehicle in her capacity as Project Co-Ordinator which includes meeting customers and providing them with estimates, transporting material and some equipment to job sites and does all the paperwork. Her hours are flexible.

Although unsure of what transpired the day the vehicle was impounded, the Applicant testified that his daughter asked her husband to run an errand for her. Mr. Lambe, the suspended driver, took the Applicant's vehicle instead of the GMC Jimmy because there was something wrong with it. Although the Applicant's daughter has been with her common-law husband for the past 6 years, the Applicant is of the opinion that she may not have known that he was a suspended driver. The Applicant was unaware and had no idea that Mr. Lambe was a suspended driver.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows (Exhibits 3 and 4):

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Gary W. Lambe;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until January 22, 2006.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,
- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
 - (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
 - (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
or
 - (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

(h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22
- (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
 - (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
 - (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;

- (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has requested an appeal on the grounds of "exceptional hardship" under section 50.2(3)(d). Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific, in that it provides the Tribunal with the criteria the Applicant must meet to determine if in fact "exceptional hardship" will result from the impoundment. The Applicant in this case has argued that the impoundment will result in hardship as described by section 22(2). In order for his claim to be considered under section 22(2), the Applicant must have demonstrated that all of section 22(3) has been met. Furthermore, section 22(4) of the Regulation provides the criteria for demonstrating that every reasonable option has been considered for an alternative to the impounded vehicle.

The Applicant has testified that there are two other alternative vehicles, the company vehicle which is driven by himself and his daughter's GMC Jimmy.

The Applicant testified that there is no possible threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle.

The Applicant has not proven that the loss of the vehicle will be immediate, significant and lasting. There is no threat of loss of employment or income. He has incurred some additional expenses because he has had to carry on the duties of his daughter position while the vehicle is impounded.

The Applicant may pursue compensation from the suspended driver, Gary Lambe, as is stated in section 55.1(21) of the Highway Traffic Act:

“The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under this section may bring an action against the driver of the motor vehicle at the time the order was made to recover any costs or other losses incurred by the owner in connection with the order”.

The Tribunal finds the Applicant is faced with a hardship that does not amount to exceptional hardship. He continues to operate his business although not with the same level of productivity as when there were 2 trucks available. His daughter uses her personal vehicle to carry on her day-to-day duties of her employment unless, of course, there is a large volume of materials to be transported, which cannot be done by her vehicle. If this is the case, the Applicant must perform double duty.

After considering the above requirements, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant, albeit inconvenient to carry on his day-to-day operations, has alternatives to the impounded vehicle and the impact of the loss will not be immediate, significant and lasting as required by section 22(3) of Regulation 574 as amended by Regulation 632/98.

Accordingly, after considering the criteria set out in section 22(3) and (4) of Regulation 340 as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, the Tribunal finds the Applicant has not established exceptional hardship as set out in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. The motor vehicle described in Order to Impound #V1505740 was impounded in accordance with subsection 55.1(3) of the Highway Traffic Act, RSO 1990, c. H. 8 as amended, on September 12, 2001.
2. The applicant, Janet Viola Mulvihill, whose name is shown on the vehicle portion of the permit for the impounded motor vehicle, is the owner of the said vehicle.
3. The applicant filed an appeal to the impoundment order, in accordance with the grounds permitted under clause 50.2(3)(a) of the Highway Traffic Act, stating that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made.
4. Having received information from the police, the Registrar is satisfied that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made.
5. The applicant has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to consent to this Order.
6. The parties agree that this agreement does not bind the Ministry of Transportation or the Registrar of Motor Vehicles in any way, with respect to future hearings or consent orders.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsection 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act that the Tribunal set aside the order to impound.

TRIBUNAL: ROSS C. BENNETT, M.D., Presiding Member

APPEARANCES: LUBA NEUWIRTH,
Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

Applicant

DATE OF
HEARING: September 27, 2001 Toronto

DECISION AND REASONS

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by the Applicant respecting a decision of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Respondent") pursuant to section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act (Ontario).

EXHIBITS:

Exhibit # 1 - Notice of the Appeal filed by the Applicant and received September 4, 2001.

Exhibit # 2 - Notice of the Suspension dated May 22, 2001.

Exhibit # 3 - Applicant's Driving Record.

Exhibit # 4 - File Summary from the Respondent received September 27, 2001.

FACTS:

The Applicant, a 59 year old Eastman Kodak worker had his driver's licence suspended on May 22, 2001, after the Ministry received a Medical Condition Report on April 30, 2001, from Physician # 1. She reported that the Applicant had suffered a "seizure" on April 18, 2001. The report also stated the Applicant had a long history of alcohol dependence with blackouts, memory problems and falls.

The Applicant stated in evidence that he had been a social drinker for years, but had been drinking more the past two to three years. He usually drank beer in the large cans. He considered heavy drinking to be seven to ten cans in a day. The "blackouts" and "falls" referred to in the letter were when he passed out when drunk. Following one of these episodes in June 2000, he fell off of his bicycle, hit his head and lay unconscious for some time. Someone stole his bicycle and wallet while he was unconscious.

Following the above noted episode, the Applicant applied to "Donwood". He completed three weeks of treatment in September, 2000. Following this, he stated he had a relapse and started drinking again, but only one or two cans a day. He did not have any beer at home and his wife was apparently unaware that he was drinking.

The Applicant worked twelve hour shifts, from 4:00 to 4:00 on a regular rotation. On April 18, 2001, he was working the night shift and came home after 4:00 a.m. He slept for 4-5 hours and when he got up to go to the bathroom, he had a dizzy spell. He fell down striking his chin on the toilet bowl and then fell back hitting his head on base of the shower stall. His wife heard him fall and came upstairs immediately. He was conscious, lying on his back with his hands twitching slightly. He had a deep gash on his chin, which was bleeding profusely, so his wife called 911. The laceration was sutured and a physical examination was negative, although some alcohol was detected in his blood.

He saw Physician # 1 on April 25, 2001, who reported the incident to the Ministry. She believed the "seizure" was related to his alcohol use. He was prescribed Disulfiram (Antabuse) and referred to a neurologist, Physician # 2. A CT scan, EEG, neurological examination and liver enzymes were all normal. Physician # 2 believed the "seizure" was a result of alcohol withdrawal or head trauma. Neither physician thought it was epilepsy.

The Applicant had remained abstinent since April 18, 2001, takes Antabuse regularly and sees Physician # 1 every two weeks. His wife substantiated his evidence and said she was monitoring his activities and ensuring he takes his medication.

ISSUES:

Should the decision of the Registrar to suspend the Applicant's licence be confirmed, modified or set aside?

LAW:

Regulation 340/94, Section 14 states:

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffers from an mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely; and
- (b) be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

Section 47(1) states:

Subject to section 47.1, the Registrar may suspend or cancel,

- (a) the plate portion of a permit as defined in Part II;
- (b) a driver's licence; or
- (c) a CVOR certificate,

on the grounds of,

- (d) misconduct for which the holder is responsible, directly or indirectly, related to the operation or driving of a motor vehicle;
- (e) conviction of the holder for an offence referred to in subsection 210(1) or (2);
- (f) the Registrar having reason to believe, having regard to the safety record of the holder or of a person related to the holder, and any other information that the Registrar considers relevant, that the holder will not operate a commercial motor vehicle safely or in accordance with this Act, the regulations and other laws relating to highway safety; or
- (g) any other sufficient reason not referred to in clause (d), (e) or (f).

Section 50 of the Act states:

- 50.(1) Every person aggrieved by a decision of the Minister under subclause 32(12)(b)(i) or a decision of the Registrar under section 17 or 47 may appeal the decision to the Tribunal

- (2) The Tribunal may confirm, modify or set aside the decision of the Minister or the Registrar.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

Regulation 340/94, Section 14 states:

"An applicant or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

(a) suffer from a mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely.

(b) be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

Section 47(1) states:

"Registrar may suspend -----licence,

(g) any other sufficient reason not referred to -----"

The Registrar acted appropriately in suspending the Applicant's licence after receiving the Medical Condition Report from Physician # 1 stating that "the Applicant had a long standing history of alcohol dependence and suffered a seizure which was likely alcohol related."

The Applicant admits to a two to three year history of alcoholism, but during that period he never missed a days work or drove his car when he had been drinking. After receiving treatment at the Donwood, when he started drinking again, his wife was apparently not aware of it, because he never drank at home. From this, the Tribunal concludes that the Applicant could not have been drinking very much.

On review of the April 18, 2001 incident, the Tribunal has a problem trying to decide which came first, the seizure or the fall and also, was this really a seizure?

The Applicant said he got out of bed, went into the bathroom, felt dizzy and fell. This could have been a postural hypotensive episode causing the dizziness and the fall. Evidence presented did not suggest he had been drinking excessively at the time, and there was an undisclosed alcohol blood level, which is inconsistent with an alcohol withdrawal seizure.

The Applicant remained conscious after the fall, inspite of receiving two blows to the head. The neurological examination and tests did not reveal any evidence of epilepsy and both Physician # 1 and Physician # 2 questioned the aetiology of the so called seizure. Physician #

1 has been seeing the Applicant every two weeks and has recommended that his driver's licence be reinstated.

The Applicant has remained alcohol-free and seizure-free since April 18, 2001 and states he has no desire to drink again. Considering the circumstances, the Tribunal does not find any reason why the licence should not be reinstated at this time, since the evidence presented does not verify a disability that falls under Regulation 340/94 or Section 47(1) of the HTA.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the decision dated June 1, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles ("Registrar") to suspend his driver's licence pursuant to Section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA"), and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

IT IS THE DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50(2) of the Act that the decision of the Registrar be set aside.

TRIBUNAL: CHARLES J. SANDIFORD,

APPEARANCES: KIM BEINTEMA,
Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

DEBORAH J. WALES, Applicant

DATE OF HEARING: October 2, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: October 4, 2001 Belleville

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on October 2, 2001, at Belleville, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Deborah J. Wales (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	1997 Chevrolet Cavalier, plate no. ARVJ801 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	September 10, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on October 2, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

My Car is my means for work. I am employed with the Red Cross and I travel from Client to client.

On the evening before I had done my laundry and it was in the car which I always keep locked.

I asked my son to take it out and hang it on the line. I went to Kingston (drove my mother's van with her and three other elderly ladies to Bingo). We stayed quite late so I stayed at my mother's for the night. I received the call from Constable Clapp there about 4:00 a.m. The incident happened near my house 5-10 min walking distance. The officer never fully completed the impound order. No signatures.

I would like a oral hearing because of the distance to travel. We live on a farm out by Kingston and my good travelling car has been impounded. I have borrowed a van from my mother. I stay at her place most nights when working so I don't put too many miles on it. It is an older van that burns oil and gas (1988 Plymouth Voyager).

- My son took my car without my permission.
- I thought I'd have to go to Toronto.

The Applicant was aware that her son's driver's licence was under suspension but left the keys to her car with her son to remove some laundry. The Applicant then left for Kingston with others in her mother's van.

About 4:00 a.m. the Applicant was advised by the police the details of the impoundment of her car. The Applicant did not provide the reason why her son was stopped but did state that in another few minutes he would have been in their lane and safe from the law.

The Applicant received a copy of the Notice to Registrar of the impoundment without the officers signature, however the Applicant received a fully signed and complete notice a short time later from the Registrar.

The Applicant is now using her mother's van and is currently working as usual although in an older vehicle.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Corey L. Wales;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension for life.

The Respondent reviewed with the Applicant the necessary evidence that must be presented or disclosures that must be made to support her application for appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act. The Respondent also advised her of the provisions in the Act, section 55.1 subsection 21 to assist in recovery of any costs she might sustain. It was also pointed out to the Applicant that the driver, her son, was stopped and was again charged with driving with an alcohol level beyond the legal limit. It was then disclosed by the Applicant that her son was in court in Napanee while her appeal was being heard in Belleville.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,
- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
 - (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
 - (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
 - or
 - (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

- (4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).

- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has appealed under section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act on the basis that the impoundment of her vehicle will and has resulted in exceptional hardship and has caused her difficulty in doing her work. Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific and provides the Tribunal with clear criteria that must be met by the Applicant in order to establish exceptional hardship as a result of the impoundment.

The Tribunal cannot consider any other factors arising from or directly related to the impoundment itself.

In order for the Applicant's claim to be considered under section 22(2)(b)(c) the Applicant must have demonstrated that all 22(3) has been met. Furthermore, section 22(4) of the Regulation requires demonstration that every reasonable option has been explored, including an alternative vehicle.

The Applicant has another vehicle available to her. Also, she has not presented the Tribunal with any evidence that would support exceptional hardship, which is her ground for appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act. The burden to provide evidence to support her appeal under the Act is on the Applicant.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

In accordance with Section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, and subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, (hereinafter the "Act") the parties to the proceeding, Davy Gopaul (hereinafter referred to as the "Applicant"), and the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (hereinafter the "Registrar") waive the requirement of a hearing and hereby consent to an Order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (hereinafter the "Consent Order") based on the following terms and conditions to their registrations as a motor vehicle salesperson:

1. The Applicant agrees not to be involved in the process of buying or selling motor vehicles without the benefit of registration.
2. The Applicant agrees to provide full and complete disclosure on all future applications and discussions with the Registrar, regardless of whether disclosure has been previously provided to the Registrar.
3. The Applicant acknowledges that the Registrar is relying upon the accuracy of the disclosure provided by the Applicant in entering into these terms and conditions.
4. The Applicant agrees to make reasonable efforts to resolve the outstanding amount claimed by the Ministry of Community and Social Service's Family Responsibility Office.
5. The Applicant agrees not to apply for registration as a motor vehicle dealer under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.
6. The Applicant agrees not to be involved in the process of buying or selling motor vehicles without the benefit of registration.
7. The Applicant agrees not to invite the public to deal at a place other than his employer's registered premises.
8. The Applicant agrees that he is under a positive obligation to disclose all material facts about the vehicles he sells to his customers. The Applicant agrees to make reasonable efforts to research the history of all vehicles he sells prior to sale to ensure all material facts are disclosed in writing to the purchaser.

9. The Applicant agrees not to be a partner, shareholder, officer, director or sales manager of a dealership.

AND WHEREAS during the hearing in the afternoon of October 3, 2001, the Applicant requested that an affidavit that he had filed on September 26, 2001 with the Tribunal and that had been delivered on October 2, 2001 to the Respondent be marked as an Exhibit in the proceedings, and the Tribunal made that document Exhibit 15;

AND WHEREAS later in the hearing the Applicant requested that Exhibit 15 be marked by the Tribunal as confidential, to which Counsel for the Respondent had no objection;

AND WHEREAS Exhibit 15 is an affidavit of the Applicant containing medical confirmation;

AND WHEREAS during the afternoon of October 4, 2001 the Applicant filed the originals of the documents contained in Exhibit 15 and the Tribunal made the originals Exhibit 28;

NOW THEREFORE, the Tribunal orders that:

- (a) Exhibit 15 and Exhibit 28 in these proceedings shall not be accessible to the public;
- (b) Exhibit 15 and Exhibit 28 shall be kept separate from the public record;
- (c) Access by the public to Exhibit 15 and Exhibit 28 shall only be by written order of the Tribunal or as otherwise authorized by law;
- (d) The Registrar of the Tribunal shall separate Exhibit 15 and Exhibit 28 from other exhibits filed in these proceedings, place it in a sealed envelope and mark that envelope "Confidential".

PETER S. SOLTY

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR OF
MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS AND SALESPERSONS
UNDER THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REFUSE THE REGISTRATION OF PETER S. SOLTY
AS A SALESPERSON

TRIBUNAL: TERENCE A. WARDROP, Q.C, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES: EARL LEVY, Q.C., Counsel, representing the Applicant
AVIVA R. HARARI, Counsel, representing the Registrar of Motor Vehicle
Dealers and Salespersons

DATES OF
HEARING: August 27, 28 and 31, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This hearing arises from a Notice of Proposal dated April 25th, 2001, (the "Original Proposal"), issued by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles Dealers and Salespersons (the "Registrar"), to refuse the registration of Peter Solty (the "Applicant"), as a salesperson under the provisions of Section 6(1) of the Motor Vehicles Dealers Act R.S.O. 1990. Ch. M.42 (the "Act"), and which said Notice was issued and served on the Applicant pursuant to Section 7(1) of the Act. The Registrar is appointed pursuant to Section 2 of the Act to exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred or imposed under the Act. The Registrar issued a Notice of Further and Other Particulars dated August 10th, 2001, (the "Supplemental Proposal") which, by adding information and statements supplemental to the Original Proposal, had the effect of making the Original Proposal current as at the date of the Supplemental Proposal. This hearing dealt with the Original Proposal and the Supplemental Proposal together, as a single proposal (collectively the "Proposal").

The Applicant by a Notice of Appeal (the "Appeal") dated May 3, 2001, requested a hearing before the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") respecting the Proposal pursuant to the provisions of sections 7(2) and 7(4) of the Act.

ISSUES:

The Registrar issued the Proposal under Section 7(1) of the Act based upon the Registrar's opinion that the Applicant is disentitled to registration as a salesperson pursuant to Section 5(1)(b) of the Act. It is the opinion of the Registrar, as stated in the Proposal, that the Applicant's past conduct is inconsistent with the intention and objective of the Act and that the has failed to act with honesty and integrity during such time as he was formerly registered as a salesperson under the Act.

The Applicant in his Appeal stated that his past conduct as alleged by the Registrar was not industry related and disputed the alleged facts contained in the Original Proposal.

EVIDENCE:

The Respondent presented evidence by way of the testimony of several independent witnesses to support the opinions of the Registrar as stated in the Proposal.

Brian Locke (an employee of Ford Credit Canada Limited) and Edward Sullivan (a salesperson with Erinwood Ford Sales Limited) gave evidence respecting thirteen motor vehicles identified in Exhibits #3 and #4 purchased by Erinwood Ford Sales Limited ("Erinwood") through the wholesale auction facilities operated by Canadian Auction Group at Brampton, Ontario (the "Brampton Auction") and the sale of such vehicles through the facilities of the used car division of Erinwood to both wholesale and retail purchasers. In the case of several of such vehicles purchased and sold in the spring of 2000 while the Applicant was the Used Car Manager of Erinwood, it was apparent that words had been obliterated in the declaration section of the sales agreements from the Brampton Auction which disclosed "accidented and repaired" and/or "frame damage", so that any salesperson of Erinwood would be unaware of such disclosure when dealing with the sale of vehicles to unsuspecting purchasers. In addition, Mr. Sullivan gave general testimony as to the usual procedures and circumstances at Erinwood respecting the sale of used motor vehicles and the particular instances in which he was involved in the repurchase of vehicles from, or settlements with dissatisfied customers unaware of such disclosures.

Staff Sergeant Corey Smith of the Halton Regional Police Service gave testimony on behalf of the Respondent concerning a cooperative investigation by several police forces and the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council under the code name "Project Phantom". This investigation involves an alleged scheme to avoid payment, or a possible conspiracy to defraud governments in Canada, of tax exigible on commercial sales of motor vehicles and heavy equipment in which the Applicant was a participant, either innocently or not. In its simplest form, the scheme involves the legal exemption from tax available to native persons resident on a reserve and the deduction of the equivalent amount allowed to the vendor. The investigation even suggests that the motor vehicles and heavy equipment involved in this scheme were fictitious and did not, in fact, exist at all but was mere paper documentation of sales of nonexistent personal property by non-locateable number companies to a purchasing company owned by a native person on a reserve through a middle corporation, in this case Erinwood, which could utilize the GST rebate, and hence the description “phantom”. Sergeant Smith referred to a recorded and videotaped statement under oath by the Applicant which was filed as an exhibit at the hearing respecting the Applicant’s participation in the scheme. An inordinate amount of time at the hearing was taken up with an understanding of the “Project” and, although fascinating, did little to help this Tribunal decide whether or not the Applicant was, indeed, a co-conspirator in the alleged fraud. Nevertheless, the evidence did establish that the Applicant, and hence Erinwood, was an essential participant in the scheme as the “middle-man”, whether legal or fraudulent. Criminal charges with respect to the scheme have been laid against the alleged co-conspirators, including the Applicant, and are pending but will not be heard for sometime as the investigation and preparations for trial are still ongoing.

Mary Jane South, as Deputy Registrar to the Respondent, gave testimony respecting the various inspections carried out by the Respondent at Erinwood which disclosed faulty and/or inadequate documentation and which, in turn, led to the opinion reached by the Registrar and the decision noted in the Original Proposal.

A former employee at Erinwood, Eric Stein, also gave evidence respecting the procedures adopted at Erinwood respecting the purchase of motor vehicles at the Brampton Auction (and other auctions), delivery of the same to the Erinwood premises and the sale thereof by the used car division at Erinwood. He became the Assistant to the Manager of Used Cars at Erinwood and was familiar with the physical layout of the Erinwood environment and personnel.

Bruno Beltrame, a wholesale motor vehicle dealer, gave evidence on behalf of the Applicant and endorsed the security and integrity of all business dealings which he transacted with the Applicant.

The Applicant himself, Peter Solty, gave lengthy testimony respecting all of the issues raised by the Registrar in the Proposal, including the circumstances of his participation (and that of Erinwood) in the scheme described by Sergeant Smith as Project Phantom.

The evidence given by witnesses at the hearing was in the most part straight forward, clear and precise, thus giving this Tribunal little trouble in understanding the facts which give rise to the Proposal. However, by contrast, the testimony presented by the Applicant himself was evasive, disdainful and competitive and likewise assisted this Tribunal in understanding the Proposal. Mr. Solty, particularly under cross-examination, frequently challenged the questions put to him and even, on several occasions, responded by answering the question asked with a question.

THE FACTS:

From all of the evidence given at the hearing, this Tribunal finds as facts the following:

1. The Applicant was first registered as a salesperson pursuant to the Act on November 15, 1982;
2. The Applicant was registered as a salesperson to Erinwood pursuant to the Act from August 11, 1997, until June 9, 2000;
3. The Applicant as at the date of the Original Proposal was not registered as a salesperson pursuant to the Act, having applied for such registration on January 29, 2001;
4. The Original Proposal was issued by the Registrar on April 25, 2001, and the Applicant's Appeal was dated May 3, 2001;
5. The Supplemental Proposal was issued by the Registrar on August 10, 2001, to which the Applicant has not responded;
6. The Applicant was the Used Car Sales Manager of Erinwood at all material times during which motor vehicles identified in the material filed at the hearing as part of the Exhibits were purchased by the Applicant on behalf of Erinwood at the Brampton Auction for resale to customers of, or purchasers from, Erinwood;
7. Photocopies of the Original Sales Agreements from the files of Erinwood for each of the motor vehicles disclose obliterations of portions of the said Sales Agreements and photocopies of duplicate copies of such Sales Agreements obtained from the Brampton Auction disclose that the said obliterations deleted the words "FRAME DAMAGED, ACCIDENTED & REPAIRED" or words of similar purport;
8. The Applicant has participated with others in a scheme which has led directly to criminal charges being laid against the Applicant for Fraud and Conspiracy to Commit Fraud.

THE LAW:

Pursuant to section 6(1) of the Act, the Registrar may refuse to register the Applicant as a salesperson for any reason that would disentitle the Applicant to registration under section 5(1)(b) of the Act:

“6 (1) Subject to section 7, the Registrar may refuse to register an applicant where in the Registrar’s opinion the applicant is disentitled to registration under section 5.”

Pursuant to section 5(1)(b) of the Act, the Applicant is entitled to registration by the Registrar except where the past conduct of the Applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty:

“5. (1) An applicant is entitled to registration ... by the Registrar except where,
(a) ...;
(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty;”

Based upon the above noted facts, the Registrar has reached the decision that there are reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Pursuant to sections 7(1) and 7(2) of the Act, the Registrar is required to serve a notice of proposal on the Applicant:

“7. (1) Where the Registrar proposes to refuse to grant ... a registration ..., the Registrar shall serve notice of the proposal, together with written reasons therefor, on the applicant
(2) A notice under subsection (1) shall state that the applicant ... is entitled to a hearing by the Tribunal if the applicant ... mails or delivers, within fifteen days after service of the notice under subsection (1), notice in writing requiring a hearing to the Registrar and the Tribunal, and the applicant ... may so require a hearing.”

The appeal comes to this Tribunal by virtue of section 7(4) of the Act, which provides:

“7. (4) Where an applicant ... requires a hearing by the Tribunal in accordance with subsection (2), the Tribunal shall appoint a time for and hold the hearing and, on the application of the Registrar at the hearing, may by order direct the Registrar to carry out the Registrar’s proposal or refrain from carrying it out and to take such action as the Tribunal considers the Registrar ought to take in accordance with this Act and the regulations, and for such purposes the Tribunal may substitute its opinion for that of the Registrar.”

DECISION:

This Tribunal finds that the Applicant has little or no perception of the disclosure requirements of the motor vehicle industry, or if he does, he has set his own standards of compliance.

By way of explanation, he admitted that a motor vehicle being auctioned fell into one of two categories or markets, one of “frame damage” and/or “accident repair”, and the other was free of any such damage. Indeed, at the hearing, testimony was given that at the moment of a vehicle’s auction sale in the arena, a set of coloured lights flash intermittently to signal to all potential purchasers that the particular vehicle has suffered “frame damage” or “accident repair” and immediately a lower price range is anticipated since many buyers do not participate in the auction sale of such a vehicle. Mr. Solty stated that this labeling is often in error and he disregards it when purchasing an auctioned vehicle since he himself is capable of over-ruling this determination based upon his own later inspection of the vehicle. His superior knowledge of “frame damage” and/or “accident repair” then displaces the earlier determination made by a mechanic at the auction. It follows then that it is unnecessary to make any disclosure to a purchaser and the price differential is subverted to the unsuspecting purchaser unless later discovered.

That such an earlier mechanical determination was obliterated in Erinwood’s copy of the sales agreement was either known, or ought to have been known by the Applicant as Manager of the Used Car Sales at Erinwood, particularly since he purchased the vehicles at the auction. There was no direct evidence given at the hearing as to who actually obliterated the disclosure words but certainly the obliterations were known by other employees at Erinwood though perhaps not the actual words that were obliterated.

Further, the Applicant saw no reason to disclose such prejudicial information since by his own opinion such was inaccurate or otherwise not material due to the warranty being offered to purchasers of used vehicles by Erinwood. The past conduct of the Applicant thus strikes at the very centre of the disclosure requirements that the legislation seeks to enforce and the theory of consumer protection the Act embodies. Not only did the Applicant not realize the duty upon him as Manager of the Used Car Division of Erinwood to disclose the past condition of the vehicles to purchasers, but also he prevented other salespersons from complying by condoning the deletion of disclosure words from the vehicles' history available to such other salespersons.

As stated above, there was a great deal of evidence presented at the hearing on the subject of the criminal charges laid against the Applicant and his alleged past conduct related thereto. Although the allegations were interesting, this Tribunal finds no evidence to support any findings of fact on the Applicant's participation in the scheme underlying these charges. However, it is equally clear that the Applicant's brokering participation in and of itself in such a scheme for easy immediate profits tends to show a lack of due diligence on his part and thus reflects adversely on his integrity as an issue of past conduct that the Registrar is entitled to consider. The evidence of the Applicant at the hearing indicated the Applicant was aware of more information than he disclosed respecting this business undertaking.

Based upon all the evidence presented at the hearing, this Tribunal is in accord with the Registrar's conclusions set forth in the Proposal.

ORDER:

The onus of proof that the Proposal is correct lies with the Respondent, and this Tribunal finds that this onus has been discharged in light of all of the evidence given at the hearing and for the reasons hereinbefore stated. Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 7(4) of the Act, this Tribunal directs the Registrar to carry out the Proposal to refuse the registration of the Applicant as a salesperson under the Act.

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
UNDER THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REFUSE THE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: DEREK ISRAEL, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES:

ARASH LESANALSHARIYATI, representing himself
A. MICHAEL ROTHE, Counsel, representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF
HEARING: October 5, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This hearing arises from a written Notice of Proposal dated June 18, 2001, issued by the Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Act") to refuse the registration of Arash Lesanalshariyati ("Lesanalshariyati") as a motor vehicle salesperson under the provisions of the Act.

THE ISSUES:

The Registrar bases his proposal to refuse the registration of Lesanalshariyati as a motor vehicle salesperson under section 7(1) of the Act which states as follows:

7.(1) Where the Registrar proposes to refuse to grant or renew a registration or proposes to suspend or revoke a registration, the Registrar shall serve notice of the proposal, together with written reasons therefore, on the applicant or registrant.

The Registrar also bases his proposal to refuse registration of Lesanalshariyati under section 6(1) and section 5(1)(b) of the Act which state as follows:

6.(1) Subject to section 7, the Registrar may refuse to register an applicant where in the Registrar's opinion the applicant is disentitled to registration under section 5.

and

5(1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,

(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty; or

In support of his Notice of Proposal to refuse registration of Lesanalshariyati (Exhibit 1, Tab 1) the Registrar furnished particulars, which read verbatim as follows:

PARTICULARS

The reasons for this proposal are:

1. Robinson Arash Lesanalshariyati (hereinafter referred to as the "Applicant"), applied for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson on or about April 30, 2001. He proposes to work for Canadian Fine Motors.
2. On the application to become a registered salesperson question 9 asks:
"Have you ever been found guilty or convicted of an offence under any law or are any charges pending? (This includes those instances where an absolute discharge has been ordered). If yes, list all charges and/or convictions and the circumstances surrounding each (attach additional sheets if necessary)."
The Applicant said "no".
3. A criminal record search found that the Applicant has the following charges pending:
Living on the avails of prostitution
Exercising ctrl for the purpose of prostitution, January 15, 2000.
4. On or about June 15, 2001 in response to a written request by the Registrar's Office, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act dated June 4, 2001 the Applicant provided a letter disclosing the pending charges and the circumstances surrounding same.
5. The Applicant failed to make full disclosure on his application for registration submitted to the Registrar.
6. The Applicant has failed to comply with the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act and in particular with section 5.

THE EVIDENCE:

The evidence introduced by the Registrar consisted of documentary evidence and the testimony of Police Constable Aaron Masnaghi and Laura Gordon. Their evidence is summarized hereunder:

Aaron Masnaghi

Aaron Masnaghi ("Masnaghi") testified that he is a police constable with the Peel Regional Police with whom he has been for the past 11 years. He was assigned as a constable in the vice unit of the Peel Regional Police at the time of the incident on January 14, 2000.

On January 14, 2000 he received a complaint regarding an allegation of a female person working as a prostitute for an escort agency, which agency operated under the name of Classique Escort Services ("Classique"). The complainant provided Masnaghi with the telephone number of Classique and Masnaghi directed a police officer to communicate with Classique for the purpose of obtaining the services of a prostitute. The police officer telephoned Classique and then spoke with a male person when arrangements were made for the services of a prostitute to be provided by Classique at the Ramada Inn hotel in Mississauga for 7:00 p.m. on January 14, 2000. Masnaghi obtained a copy of the Toronto Sun newspaper of January 14, 2000 (Exhibit 4) and referred the Tribunal to page 77 of that newspaper where Classique had placed an advertisement under the heading of "Adult Entertainment" in the classified advertisement section. After the police constable spoke with the adult male at Classique at the telephone number given by the complainant, Masnaghi telephoned the number given in the Classique advertisement appearing in the Toronto Sun and confirmed it was the same telephone number as that given to him by the complainant.

The police officer who telephoned Classique to arrange the services of a prostitute informed Masnaghi that he was quoted "a rate of $170.00 for one hour full service". Masnaghi stated that "full service" is a term to describe "full intercourse". Arrangements were made by Classique to reserve a hotel room at the Ramada Inn Hotel in Mississauga from 7:00 p.m. on January 14, 2000.

At about 7:00 p.m. on that day, surveillance officers were placed outside of the hotel. At approximately that time, Masnaghi received a number of calls from a male who stated he was calling from Classique and that the female person "was somewhat delayed" and identified such female person as "Ursula".

Masnaghi went on to testify that at 7:57 p.m. on January 14, 2000 a motor vehicle was observed to enter the Ramada Inn's property. The motor vehicle was driven by a male and alongside him was a female passenger who was seated in the passenger seat. The female passenger was dropped off at the hotel's entrance and the male driver then parked the motor vehicle in the hotel's parking lot. The female entered the hotel upon being dropped off at the entrance.

The female and an undercover officer met. They spoke at the bar in the hotel lobby and negotiated the fee payable to the female for her services. The officer was informed by the female that he would have to pay her $170.00 for sexual intercourse and that he would have to wear a condom. The officer paid the female $170.00 whereupon the officer and the female proceeded to room 127 of the hotel where Masnaghi was waiting. Masnaghi then arrested the female for communicating for the purpose of prostitution after she was advised of her right to Counsel and was also cautioned by Masnaghi.

After having been cautioned by Masnaghi as to her rights the female made a statement to Masnaghi. She identified the male driver of the motor vehicle who drove her to the hotel as "Rash", stated that she worked for him and that he owned Classique. She also informed Masnaghi that she was to pay "Rash" $80.00 from the $170.00 she was to be paid for her services. "Rash", she informed Masnaghi, set the price with the customer and also arranged her "dates". He would telephone her when he had a customer for her and arranged to pick her up, transport her to the arranged location where she was to be with the customer and would wait for her until she is finished with the customer. She pays "Rash" his $80.00 then and he drives her home. On her arrest, the female further stated she responded to an "adult help wanted" advertisement in which female escorts were sought. Pursuant to the advertisement, she was interviewed by Lesanalshariyati. She also stated that when "dates" were arranged for her, Lesanalshariyati made all the arrangements and that on all "dates" intercourse took place with customers.

After receiving the aforementioned information from the female person, Masnaghi arrested Lesanalshariyati while he was still seated in his motor vehicle at the Ramada Inn hotel. He identified the driver as Lesanalshariyati. At the time of his arrest, documents were found in the car and were seized by Masnaghi. Among the documents seized were bills that had been paid by Lesanalshariyati to the Toronto Sun newspaper for advertising charges for Classique; also, there were paid telephone bills addressed to Classique. Furthermore, he seized a book containing dates and addresses of locations to which Lesanalshariyati had brought females and a record of break downs relating to various monetary transactions involving females who worked for Classique.

While Lesanalshariyati, upon his arrest, confirmed to Masnaghi that he was to receive $80.00 from the female he also stated that he was only acting as a driver and was watching over the business for a friend.

Laura Gordon

Laura Gordon ("Gordon") testified that she is the Director of Compliance with the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") and that OMVIC oversees the administration of the Act which is a consumer protection statute.

She reviewed the Notice of Proposal (Exhibit 1, Tab 1) as well as Lesanalshariyati's written application for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson (Exhibit 1, Tab 4). She observed that Lesanalshariyati's answer to question 9 in his application caused her concern as a result of which a C.P.I.C. report was called by OMVIC and was duly received (Exhibit 1, Tab 7).

Upon reviewing the C.P.I.C. report she observed that Lesanalshariyati had a pending criminal charge which he had failed to disclose in answer to question 9 of his application for registration. Accordingly, she addressed a letter dated June 4, 2001 to the motor vehicle dealership when Lesanalshariyati was employed as a salesperson under a conditional registration in terms of section 13(3) of Regulation 801 to the Act (Exhibit 1, Tab 5).

Lesanalshariyati wrote in response to the Registrar's letter of June 4, 2001. Lesanalshariyati's letter reads as follows:

In January 2000 I worked as a driver for an escort service agency. I only worked during the weekend. Two weeks later police close down the agency and because I worked as a part time driver police took us to the court and since then which is almost one year and half I'm still waiting for the court date, however my lawyer has already told me that the case against me will be discharged because I was only a driver and also the case is taking too long. He also ensured me that before the court date (August 28, 2001) he is going to fill out an application and have the case cancelled. He said the case will be cancelled for sure. Should you have any question regarding this matter please call my lawyer at :905-238-1411 Michael J. Bukovac

Gordon further testified that the Registrar relies on the good faith and honesty of all Applicants and registrants to fully and truthfully answer all questions when they complete their application forms.

Arash Lesanalshariyati

Lesanalshariyati gave evidence on his own behalf. He called no witnesses.

He stated in testimony that he "did not read the question properly" when referring to question 9 in his application. He stated that he had been working for Mr. Sub and was trying to improve his position by becoming a driver for Classique. He further stated that he only "drove" for Classique and beyond that he has no connection with Classique.

Under cross-examination, he confirmed that he completed and signed the application for registration as a salesperson (Exhibit 1, Tab 9). He further stated that he “did not understand what was meant” in question 9 of his application. He did not seek assistance from either OMVIC or his employer when completing his application for registration.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

The following are the facts found by this Tribunal to have been proven:

1. Lesanalshariyati completed and signed his application for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson dated April 20, 2001 (Exhibit 1, Tabs 3 and 4).
2. At the time that Lesanalshariyati completed and signed his application for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson dated April 20, 2001, he had criminal charges pending against him for living on the avails of prostitution and exercising control for the purposes of prostitution.
3. At the time that Lesanalshariyati completed and signed his application for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson dated April 20, 2001, he was aware that the criminal charges referred to in paragraph 2 above were pending against him.
4. Lesanalshariyati failed to disclose in his application for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson dated April 20, 2001 that the criminal charges referred to in paragraph 2 above were pending against him.
5. Lesanalshariyati was to receive $80.00 from the female whom he drove on January 14, 2000 to the Ramada Inn Hotel, Mississauga.

DECISION AND REASONS:

The issue for decision is whether the Registrar erred in his decision that Lesanalshariyati should have his application for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson refused.

Section 6(1) of the Act states the Registrar may refuse to register an applicant where in the Registrar’s opinion the Applicant is disentitled to registration under section 5.

Section 5(1)(b) of the Act entitles an Applicant to registration by the Registrar except where the past conduct of the Applicant affords the Registrar reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

The Registrar has the onus of proof to satisfy the Tribunal that he has reasonable grounds to believe that the registration of Lesanalshariyati ought to be refused. The proper question is whether Lesanalshariyati's past conduct affords reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

In the leading case of Brenner 19 CRAT SCO Decisions and Orders (1971–1989) page 95 Southey J. held that a Tribunal should only refuse to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thinks the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of an Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that such Applicant would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

Brenner 19 CRAT SCO Decisions and Orders (1971-1989), page 59, is a decision issued on April 7, 1983 where the Divisional Court overruled a decision of this Tribunal. Southey J. states that the Registrar proposed to refuse registration because of the existence of the specific circumstances set out in Section 5(1)(b) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act:

The effect of Section 7(4) is that the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Board does not appear to have directed itself to this question and makes no finding that, in its view, the past conduct of Brenner did not afford reasonable grounds for the belief that Brenner would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Instead, the Board appears to have been preoccupied with sympathetic concern as to whether or not Brenner had genuinely reformed, and appears to have decided that it ought to give him a second chance because there was a possibility that he, indeed, might have reformed himself.

In the Brenner case, due to the particular facts in this case Southey J. sent it back for a rehearing, however, he adds in the third last paragraph:

The proper question at the rehearing remains, however, whether the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that he will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Unless the Tribunal can find that it does not, the Tribunal should not order the Registrar to refrain from carrying out his proposal.

To overrule the decision of the Registrar, the Tribunal must conclude that he was wrong in his decision and that the conduct of an Applicant does not afford reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that the Applicant will in the future carry on activities in contravention of the Act and its Regulations. This was confirmed by Divisional Court in the matter of Albert Fascenda (1994) 26 CRAT Part II 1050 where that court on appeal quashed the Tribunal's decision to direct a Registrar not to carry out his proposal and in sending the matter back for re-hearing stated at page 1051.

It follows that the Tribunal should have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal only if it thought the Registrar was in error in his belief.

On an examination of the evidence placed before the Tribunal, it is clear that he did not answer question 9 on his application for registration honestly. Lesanalshariyati, in his evidence in chief, stated that he did not read question 9 properly while under cross-examination he stated he did not understand what question 9 meant.

The Tribunal had the opportunity of listening to Lesanalshariyati testify and found that his grasp and appreciation of English was more than adequate. He was observed to have no difficulty in following the proceedings which were conducted in English and in fact stated, in answer to a question put to him by the Tribunal, that he attained grade 12 at school. The Tribunal therefore finds that Lesanalshariyati would have found no difficulty in either reading or understanding question 9 in his application. The Tribunal also finds that he knew of the pending charges when he completed and signed his application for registration. The Tribunal is of the opinion that he deliberately did not disclose the pending charge for fear of jeopardising his chances of being registered as a motor vehicle salesperson. His non disclosure of this obviously material fact is dishonest and reflects a lack of integrity. It amounts to conduct that, in the opinion of the Tribunal, justifies the conclusion of the Registrar that such conduct affords the Registrar reasonable grounds for belief that Lesanalshariyati will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

The Tribunal, quite apart from the material non disclosure by Lesanalshariyati in answering question 9 on his application for registration, is satisfied having listened to Lesanalshariyati's testimony and the testimony of Masnaghi that the latter's testimony was the more acceptable and persuasive. In his cross-examination, Lesanalshariyati did not even question the great majority of Masnaghi's testimony and admitted to the latter when he was placed under arrest that he was to receive $80.00 from the female whom he drove to the Ramada Inn hotel.

While the evidence given by Masnaghi was to a large extent hearsay, the Tribunal is permitted to admit such hearsay evidence in terms of section 15 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act. In admitting such hearsay evidence the Tribunal accepts the veracity of Masnaghi's testimony more particularly in that his testimony was not placed in contention by Lesanalshariyati.

On the basis of Lesanalshariyati's material non disclosure coupled with the fact that his testimony was neither compelling nor persuasive, the Tribunal is of the belief that his conduct does afford the Registrar reasonable grounds for the belief that Lesanalshariyati has not conducted himself in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

DECISION:

Accordingly, the Tribunal pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 7(4) of the Act, directs the Registrar to carry out his proposal dated June 18, 2001 to refuse the registration of Lesanalshariyati as a motor vehicle salesperson under the Act.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on October 9, 2001, at Bracebridge, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO SET ASIDE the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Andy Hillo Advertising Ltd. (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1986 Ford Pickup (F150), plate no. 813 8CD (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	September 19, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the driver's licence was not under suspension as provided in section 50.2(3) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on October 9, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

The Applicant requested that the Tribunal enter into evidence two further documents, previously not provided to the Ministry. There was no objection from the Respondent's representative and the documents were received and subsequently entered.

The documents presented by the Applicant and Respondent were entered into exhibit with the consent of both parties.

The hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

I did possess a drivers licence on Sept. 7, yet a MTO computer did not show it. A May 29th stay of charges (on a impaired conviction Dec 6.00) was successful and Hon. Judge Maclean had at that time reinstated my driving privileges. The mistake between the court & MTO (licence control) showed no such stay, therefore the police impounded. I have a copy of the stay of charges by Hon. Maclean.

Exhibit # 2 Notice of Appeal dated September 19, 2001.

Exhibit # 4 Order of Stay dated April 12, 2001.

Exhibit # 5 Disposition.

Exhibit # 6 Letter from Mr. W. Williams LLB to Mr. Hillo dated April 16, 2001.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Andrew Hillo;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;

Mr. Hillo took the stand and was sworn. He testified that he was under the impression by his Attorney that everything was taken care of and that he in fact has his driving privileges returned to him as indicated in his letter of April 16, 2001 (Exhibit # 6). In fact he had been stopped by police in June 2001 and was charged with failure to have his documents. The police were also in the process of impounding his vehicle when the Applicant was able to contact the Crown who had been involved in his stay. The Crown indicated to the police at that time that in fact Mr. Hillo was not a suspended driver and the vehicle was released from the tow truck hoist. On July 10, 2001 he was stopped by the same police officer and was told that he was driving while suspended and that the vehicle was impounded and to take it to court.

The Respondent asked Mr. Hillo if he had informed the Ministry of the Court's ruling as the Ministry is the licensing agency that licenced drivers in the Province of Ontario? Mr. Hillo responded that he took it for granted that the Courts would inform the Ministry and the appropriate documents would be forward to him. The Ministry was informed on September 15, 2001 however Mr. Hillo is still not in possession of the specific documentation namely a temporary permit or permanent permit. The Applicant had no further information to present and was excused from the stand.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(b).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(b) alleging that the driver's licence of the driver driving at the time of the impoundment order was not under suspension, section 55.1(2) of the Act states:

Where a police officer or officer appointed for carrying out the provisions of this Act is satisfied that a person was driving a motor vehicle on a highway while his or her driver's licence is under suspension under section 41 or 42 or 43, even if it is under suspension at the same time for any other reason, the officer shall,

- (a) notify the Registrar of the fact or cause the Registrar to be notified; and
- (b) detain the motor vehicle that was being driven by the person whose driver's licence is under suspension until the Registrar issues an order under subsection (3).

Section 41 of the Highway Traffic Act identify the type of appeals for which a licence is suspended in sections 41(1)(a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) and 41(7) and 42(1) and 42(5) as follows:

Section 41(1) Subject to subsections 41.1 (1), (2) and (3), the driver's licence of a person who is convicted of an offence,

- (a) under section 220, 221 or 236 of the Criminal Code (Canada) committed by means of a motor vehicle or a street car within the meaning of this Act or a motorized snow vehicle within the meaning of Motorized snow vehicle Act;
- (b) under section 249, 252, 253 or 255 of the Criminal Code (Canada) committed while driving or having the care, charge or control of a motor vehicle or street car within the meaning of this Act or a motorized snow vehicle within the meaning of the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act;
- (c) under subsection 254 (5) of the Criminal Code (Canada) committed in relation to the driving or having the care, charge or control of a motor vehicle or street car within the meaning of this Act or a motorized snow vehicle within the meaning of the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act;
- (d) under a provision that is enacted by a state of the United States of America and that is designated by the regulations; or
- (e) referred to in a predecessor to this sub-section, is thereupon suspended

Section 42.(1) The driver's licence of a person who is convicted of an offence under subsection 259 (4) of the Criminal Code (Canada) or under a provision that is enacted by state of the United States of America and that is designated by the regulations is thereupon suspended for a period of,

- (a) upon the first conviction, one year; and
- (b) upon a subsequent conviction, two years, in addition to any other period for which the licence is suspended and consecutively there to.

- (4) This section applies in the same manner as if a person were convicted of an offence if the person pleads guilty to or is found guilty of an offence referred to in subsection (1) and,
 - (a) an order directing that the accused be discharged is made under section 730 of the Criminal Code (Canada) or under a provision that is enacted by a state of the United States of America and that is designated by the regulations; or
 - (b) a disposition is made under section 20 or sections 28 to 32 of the Young Offenders Act (Canada), including a confirmation or variation of the disposition. R.S.O. 1990, c.H.8, s.42 (1-4).

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The evidence presented has established that in fact, the Applicant Mr. Hillo was not suspended at the time of the impoundment order. The Tribunal finds that in this case, there has been a breakdown in communications between the Applicant and the Ministry with respect to the process involved in updating Ministry records respecting the Applicant's driver's licence and the appropriate steps needed to be taken by the Applicant to facilitate matters.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal sets aside the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

JOSEPH WESLEY IRWIN, Applicant

DATE OF HEARING: October 10, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: October 12, 2001 Peterborough

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on October 10, 2001, at Peterborough, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended (“HTA” or the “Act”).

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Joseph Wesley Irwin (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	1997 Chrysler CX1, plate no. AHCV 482 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	September 20, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on October 10, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

The Respondent filed certified copies of Ministry of Transportation documents, previously submitted as part of the Respondent’s evidence.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

I AM THE PRINCIPLE DRIVER AND HAVE NO ALTERNATIVE TO THE AVAILABILITY OF THE IMPOUNDED VEHICLE.
I AM A FARMER AND FREE LANCE LABOURER.
I MUST HAVE THE VEHICLE TO GET TO PLACES OF EMPLOYMENT.
THE FARM IS UNDER TRANSFER TO ORGANIC FARMING AND HAS LITTLE INCOME AT PRESENT.
THIS IS THE REASON FOR THE NECESSITY OF MY OFF FARM INCOME.
WE STILL HOLD A SUBSTANTIAL MORTGAGE/LOAN AGAINST THE FARM. WE CAN NOT BORROW ANY MORE MONEY.
WE HAVE RAISED FIVE CHILDREN. THREE HAVE RECENTLY GRADUATED FROM UNIVERSITY BUT WE STILL HAVE TWO DEPENDANTS AT HOME.
I MUST WORK AND MAKE OFF FARM INCOME ON A MONTHLY BASIS JUST TO SUSTAIN CASH FLOW. IF I AM UNABLE TO GENERATE CASH FLOW, IT COULD RESULT IN DECLINED CREDIT RATINGS AND ULTIMATELY BANKRUPTCY.

J. WESLEY IRWIN

At the hearing the Applicant reiterated the statements contained in his letter to the Tribunal, testifying that the impounded vehicle is needed as he must freelance and take odd jobs outside the farm in order to support his family.

The Applicant lives on a farm that is in the process of changing to organic farming. At the moment given his present financial situation and outstanding debts, the Applicant feels that it would be probably impossible to arrange a new loan.

The Applicant is registered with the Labourer's work force and has missed work because of not having a vehicle to get to and from the jobs. The Applicant also freelances, and has done some work for a neighbour that is within walking distance, but the possibility of finding others clients is hindered by the lack of a vehicle.

The teen-age children still at home are also affected. Although they are able to get to and from school in the school bus, they are unable to carry out extra curricular activities, as they would have no transportation to return home.

The Applicant explained that the impounded vehicle was actually purchased by his father so that he could drive him to medical appointments. The Applicant and his wife are responsible for "four seniors", the Applicant's father, aunt and in-laws.

No member of the family has missed any appointments. When required the Applicant uses either his aunt's car or his mother-in-law's.

As for expenses, Mr. Irwin testified both in evidence in chief and in cross-examination that there may have been extra costs and definitely loss of revenue, but nothing significant or long lasting.

The Applicant admitted to owning another vehicle but although maintaining current licence plates, said vehicle is not road worthy, as it has no seat belts. The Applicant is questioning whether the truck, being a 1988 vehicle, is worth the cost of the seat belts and the necessary repairs required for emission control.

The Applicant, in closing, confirmed his need for the vehicle.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

- 1) Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
- 2) Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by David Irwin;
- 3) Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
- 4) Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving with more than 80 MGS Alcohol in Blood under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until April 4, 2002.

The Respondent offered no viva voce evidence at the hearing, choosing to stand on the information provided.

In closing, the Respondent read out the applicable legislation and asked the Tribunal to confirm the decision of the Registrar and uphold the impoundment, on the grounds that the Applicant's testimony amounted to inconvenience but did not constitute hardship.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.

- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The onus is on the Applicant to establish exceptional hardship ground of appeal as provided in subsection 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

The Tribunal will proceed to review the criteria required to meet the onus for consideration of financial loss.

Is there no alternative to the impounded vehicle?

Subsection 22(3)(a) Regulation 574 as amended by O. Reg. 632/98 provided that this Tribunal may not consider financial or economic loss as a ground of appeal unless no alternative to the impounded vehicle is available.

The Applicant testified that whenever necessary he has used both his aunt's and in mother-in-law vehicle. The Tribunal understands the Applicant's desire not to inconvenience his family or relatives but as there are alternative means of transportation available to the Applicant, the Tribunal may not consider the provisions of 22.1 of Regulation 574.

Is the loss immediate, significant and lasting?

The Applicant does not meet the criteria of O. Reg. 632/98, Subsection 22(3)(b) which provides that the Tribunal may not regard economic loss unless the Applicant shows proof that loss will be immediate, significant and lasting.

The Applicant stated that he has lost some work and may lose more until the vehicle is returned but the losses are not significant and long lasting. Thus, the Tribunal may not consider O. Reg. 632/98, Subsection 22(3)(b).

The individual affected by the impoundment, has an alternative method of transportation, and has incurred no significant or permanent loss.

The Applicant having an alternative vehicle and the loss due to the impoundment not being immediate, significant or lasting, it is not necessary to review further criteria set out in the Regulation.

After assessing the evidence presented, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not established the exceptional hardship ground of appeal, as required under section 50.2(3) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

TO APPEAL AN ORDER TO IMPOUND A MOTOR VEHICLE ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES

TRIBUNAL: MALCOLM FEALING,
Presiding member

APPEARANCES: KIM BIENTEMA
Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

SVETLANA KNORR, Applicant not represented

DATE OF HEARING: October 10, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: October 12, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on October 10, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Svetlana Knorr (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1994 Acura Integra, plate no. 282 AESE (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	September 21, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the motor vehicle was stolen at the time it was being driven and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(a) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on October 10, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the motor vehicle was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

- I, Svetlana Knorr, the owner of the Acura Integra (plates # AESE 282) would like to repossess my vehicle because I'm a victim of somebody's irresponsibility.
- On Wednesday September 19, my ex-boyfriend took the keys of my car without any of my permission. He was pulled over by OPP on the way to Toronto, and the car was towed away because he is a suspended driver.
- I would like to get my car back because I am a full time 3rd year York University student and I need my car to get to school everyday. I am also a bartender at the PCYC in Mississauga. My sister and mother also use this car. In addition to that I need this car for my basic daily routine such as go grocery shopping, go to the library to study, etc. It is going to affect and cause a big impact on my way of living. I don't believe that I should be suffering for other people's mistakes.
- I would like you to take this in consideration, and I thank you, for taking your time to read this letter. I hope you will understand my situation and make the right decision.
- If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at(cell phone)
.....(home)

Sincerely yours
Svetlana Knorr

September 20/2001

In giving evidence, Miss Knorr explained that she had been staying with her boyfriend Eduard Ponomarenko on a boat in Newmarket. She knew that Eduard's driving license was suspended. As a precaution, she had hidden the car keys inside the car. On September 19, while Miss Knorr was asleep, Eduard opened the car, found the keys and drove off. Svetlana, (Miss Knorr), found out that the car had been impounded on the 20th. She called the police on the same day and attempted to charge her boyfriend with theft, but the police did not accept the charge. The police said that since there was no evidence that Eduard did not intend to return the automobile and that he would therefore be charged with taking the car without consent.

Miss Knorr's claim of exceptional hardship was based on the fact that because it took nearly two hours to go from Jane Street to Mississauga where she worked, she sometimes could not get to work on time. Consequently she lost the job. She also found it difficult to travel back and forth to York University by bus. She lives with her mother and cannot take her shopping. This makes everyday living very difficult.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Eduard Ponomarenko;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until August 28, 2002.

On being questioned by the Respondent, Miss Knorr stated that she had not been able to speak with Eduard. She had spoken to his parents, but they had not offered to help her. She stated that she was not sure whether the boy friend would return with the automobile.

She had worked in Mississauga, at the Port Credit Yacht Club for three years. She took home approximately $200.00 per week. This money was used to supplement her OSAP. Now that she was unemployed she had to use some of her savings to get by. She had also borrowed money from her mother.

She was asked why she did not use a second car which was registered in the family name. She claimed that the car belonged to her sister, who is presently in Russia. In any case the sister did not want to help her, because she felt that Svetlana's problems were of her own making and that she should solve them herself.

Svetlana agreed that she had not attempted to get one of her friends to take her to work. She had not missed school, but having to use public transportation was very tedious. She felt quite certain that she would be able to get her job back once she had her car.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or

(d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(a) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(a) alleging that the vehicle was stolen, the meaning of “stolen” is not provided in The Highway Traffic Act.

The Shorter Oxford Dictionary, provides the definition of “stolen” as follows:

Stolen: 1. Obtained by theft. 2. Accomplished or enjoyed by stealth; secret. 3. Of time: obtained by contrivance

Theft: 1. The action of a thief; the felonious taking away of the personal goods of another; larceny 2. That which is or has been stolen; the proceeds of thieving.

Black's Law Dictionary (Sixth edition), page 1419-1420 provides the definition of “stolen” as follows:

Stolen: Acquired, or possessed, as a result of some wrongful or dishonest act or taking, whereby a person willfully obtains or retains possession of property which belongs to another, without or beyond any permission given, and with the intent to deprive the owner of the benefit of ownership (or possession) permanently.

The word “stolen” as used in the crime of interstate transpiration of stolen motor vehicles includes all wrongful and dishonest taking of motor vehicles with the intent to deprive the owner of the rights and benefits of ownership, regardless of whether theft constitutes common-law larceny; and felonious taking may be effected by diverse means known to both common and statutory law, such as larceny, embezzlement, false pretenses, larceny by trick and other types of wrongful acquisition. Lake v. U.S., Colo, 338F.2d 787,788. It is not necessary that the taking of the vehicle be unlawful. Even if possession of the vehicle is lawfully acquired, the vehicle will be deemed “stolen” if the defendant thereafter forms the intent to deprive the owner of the rights and benefits of ownership, and converts the vehicle to his own use. United States v. Turley, 352 U.S. 407, 417, 77 S.Ct. 397, 402. 1 L.Ed.2d 430.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines “exceptional hardship” as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

As to the first issue filed, the evidence established that the automobile had not been stolen.

The shorter Oxford Dictionary defines stolen, "As obtained by theft."

Black's Law dictionary defines stolen as, "acquired or possessed as a result of some wrongful or dishonest act or taking, whereby a person willfully obtains or retains possession of property which belongs to another, without or beyond any permission given, and with true intent to deprive the owner of the benefit of ownership permanently."

Although Miss Knorr testified that she was not sure whether Eduard would return the car, she did indicate that he had driven the car before, and she was not positive that he did not intend to return it.

In addition, she advised that the police had not been convinced that the car had been stolen, and had decided to lay a charge of "taken without consent."

Consequently, the Tribunal finds that subsection 50.2 (3) (a) of the Highway Traffic Act has not been proven.

As to the second issue filed, Section 22 (2) of Ontario Regulation 632/98 amending Reg. 574 of R.R.O. 1990, states that in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the Board shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,

- (a) inconvenience to any person;
- (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
- (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
- (d) loss of education or training of an educational or training opportunity to any person.

All of the evidence provided by Miss Knorr relates to inconvenience, and financial loss as a result of losing her job. She has been able to attend school.

She has not demonstrated under Section 22.(3) that no alternative to the impounded vehicle is available or that the loss will be permanent and lasting.

The only other person to be inconvenienced is her mother who finds it difficult doing her grocery shopping without the car. Inconvenience, however, is not exceptional hardship.

In view of the evidence given, the Tribunal finds that the claim of exceptional hardship has not been substantiated.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

In accordance with Section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, and subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, (hereinafter the "Act") the parties to the proceeding, Bernie Katzberg (hereinafter referred to as "the Applicant"), and the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (hereinafter the "Registrar") waive the requirement of a hearing and hereby consent to an Order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (hereinafter the "Consent Order") based on the following terms and conditions to his registration as a motor vehicle salesperson:

1. The Applicant agrees not to be the final signatory on any sales contracts on behalf of the dealer.
2. The Applicant will not be allowed to deposit or authorize cheques or payments of any kind on behalf of a motor vehicle dealer.
3. The Applicant agrees to comply with the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council's Code of Ethics and Standards of Business Practice.
4. The Applicant agrees not to be an officer, director, owner, partner, shareholder or to be the person in charge of a dealership.
5. The Applicant agrees to comply with the "Minutes of Settlement" entered into with Rochelle Goldstein on August 24, 2001.
6. The Applicant agrees to pay $1,200 per month towards the outstanding judgement in favour of Segal Motarcar Co. Inc. Said payments will be made by certified funds and will commence on or before July 1, 2002.
7. The Applicant agrees to pay $300 per month towards the outstanding judgement in favour of Trans Canada Credit. Said payments will be made by certified funds and will commence on or before July 1, 2002.

8. The Applicant agrees to pay $500 per month to the Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund in respect of a claim paid out to Daniela Zanini on behalf of 1183000 Ontario Inc. O/A Thornhill Auto (1996). Said payments will continue until the indebtedness of 1183000 Ontario Inc. O/A Thornhill Auto (1996) to the Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund has been extinguished. Said payments will be made by certified funds and will commence on or before July 1, 2002.
9. The Applicant agrees not to transfer his registration as a salesperson under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act to another dealer without the prior written consent of the Registrar.
10. The Applicant agrees not to be involved in the process of buying, selling or leasing motor vehicles without the benefit of registration. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Applicant acknowledges and understands that his registration will be terminated if the Registrar receives notice from his sponsoring dealer of a termination of his employment or authorization and the Applicant has not complied with clause 10 above with respect to transferring his registration to another dealer.
11. The Applicant agrees not to negotiate the purchase, sale or lease of a motor vehicle accept on behalf of the dealer to whom he is registered.
12. The Applicant agrees to provide full disclosure on all future applications to the Registrar and will ensure that he provides complete and truthful information on any statement or other document provided to the Registrar or his representative.
13. The Applicant will provide a copy of this Order to his employer forthwith.
14. The Applicant hereby acknowledges that in the event of a breach of any of the terms and conditions set out herein or if the Applicant is convicted under the Criminal Code or convicted of any industry specific offences under any Statute in the future, the Registrar is directed to, and shall revoke the registration of the Applicant.
15. The Applicant acknowledges that the Registrar may take administrative action, including a proposal to revoke his registration as a motor vehicle salesperson arising from any matters that have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future related to his financial circumstances and his honesty and integrity.
16. The Applicant acknowledges that the Registrar may take legal action, including a Provincial Offences prosecution, arising from his actions related to the sale of motor vehicles that may have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future.

17. The Applicant hereby consents to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, which may include the Terms and Conditions set out herein.

18. The Applicant hereby withdraws his appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.

19. The Applicant hereby acknowledges that he has obtained or has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to his consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This hearing arises from a written Notice of Proposal (the "Proposal") dated June 26, 2001, issued by the Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Act") to refuse the registration of Vinh Thuan Ngo (the "Applicant") as a motor vehicle salesperson under the provisions of the Act.

THE ISSUES:

The Registrar bases his proposal to refuse the Applicant's registration under section 6.(1) of the Act which reads as follows:

6.(1) Subject to section 7, the Registrar may refuse to register an applicant where in the Registrar's opinion the applicant is disentitled to registration under section 5.

The Registrar further bases his proposal under sections 5(1)(b) and section 7.(1) of the Act which reads as follows:

5(1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,

(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty; or

and

7.(1) Where the Registrar proposes to refuse to grant or renew a registration or proposes to suspend or revoke a registration, the Registrar shall serve notice of the proposal, together with written reasons therefore, on the applicant or registrant.

In support of his Notice of Proposal to refuse, the Registrar furnished the following Particulars:

The reasons for this proposal are:

1. The Applicant was first registered as a motor vehicle salesperson on or about February 17, 1993. The Applicant's registration was terminated on or about January 24, 2001.
2. The Applicant applied for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson on or about April 30, 2001. He proposes to work for 1076634 Ontario Inc. o/a Dave Nicholls Toyota.
3. On the application to become a registered salesperson question 9 asks:
"Have you ever been found guilty or convicted of an offence under any law or are any charges pending? (This includes those instances where an absolute discharge has been ordered).
The Applicant said "no".
4. A criminal record search found that the Applicant has the following convictions:
Aggravated Assault – September 22, 1989
Assault with a Weapon – September 18, 1990
Escape Lawful Custody – September 18, 1990
5. The Applicant has provided false and misleading information on applications previously submitted to the Registrar.

THE EVIDENCE:

The evidence of the Registrar consisted, in addition to documentary evidence, of the testimony of Mary Jane South ("South") and Louise Gingras ("Gingras"). The evidence of South and Gingras is summarized hereunder.

Mary Jane South

South testified that she is the deputy Registrar under the Act and is employed by the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC"). OMVIC is delegated with responsibility to administer the Act which is a public protection statute. South's duties include overseeing the process of registration that relate to motor vehicle dealers and salespersons.

South first became familiar with the Applicant when she spoke to him by telephone on July 3, 2001. She stated that on that date she responded to a telephone message the Applicant had left on her voice mail on June 29, 2001. When she spoke with the Applicant he stated that he did not understand what was going on regarding the Registrar's proposal which he had received. He contended that he had been registered since 1993 without a problem. South asked the Applicant whether he had disclosed his previous criminal convictions in his 1993 application for registration, to which he replied he had disclosed those convictions to his manager and thought he had also disclosed them when completing his 1993 application. When South asked the Applicant if he had disclosed his criminal convictions on his applications that he made subsequent to 1993, he replied that his manager had completed such forms and he had signed them without reading the contents. Further, when South told him he was required to disclose his convictions in all his applications he informed South that his non disclosure was "just a mistake". South told the Applicant she did not believe he had made an honest mistake.

The Applicant did not take issue with South's testimony and upon being invited by the Tribunal to question South in regard to her testimony, he advised that he had no questions which he wished to put to South.

Louise Gingras

Gingras testified that she is an inspector with OMVIC and has been for the last four years. She reviewed the proposal and stated that basically the reason for the Registrar's refuse to grant the Applicant registration was due to this failure to disclose past criminal convictions registered against him.

She confirmed that the Applicant was initially registered as a motor vehicle salesperson pursuant to his written application of 1993. In January 1995, the Applicant made a written application for renewal of his registration which was granted, as were his written renewal applications of January 1997 and January 1999. Until recently, there were no criminal background checks of Applicants who were applying for renewal of their registrations. At present, criminal background checks are made, albeit randomly. When the Applicant's registration expired in 2001 without his making written application for renewal, his registration terminated and he was obliged to file a renewal application. This he did when he filed his application dated April 27, 2001 which was received by the Registrar on April 30, 2001.

In regard to the written applications by the Applicant made by him in 1993, 1995, 1997 and 1999, no criminal background checks were made, reliance being placed on the good faith and integrity of the Applicant to make a full and honest disclosure in response to all questions in the application forms. However, when in April 2001 the Registrar received the Applicant's application for renewal of his registration, a C.P.I.C report was requested. This C.P.I.C. report, when received by the Registrar, revealed the following three convictions:

THE CRIMINAL RECORD HELD IN THE CPIC IDENTIFICATION DATA BANKS

(Exhibit 1, Tab 7)

Upon receipt of the CPIC report, the Registrar wrote to the Applicant's employer informing the latter that the Registrar had cancelled the Applicant's conditional registration that had been issued to the Applicant in terms of section 13(3) of Regulation 801 to the Act. Both the employer and the Applicant were invited to respond to the Registrar's letter and to offer an explanation (Exhibit 1, Tab 5).

The Applicant did respond to the Registrar's letter in a written unsigned note stating as follows:

JUN 15, 2001

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I write this letter on behalf of renewal my sales license. I do aware about my criminal records now that happened almost 11 years ago, I have had a good intention to straighten up my life ever since and I have been cleared with no further criminal convictions nor charges against me since the 1990. I entered to automobile industry in 1992 with Downtown Toyota and had been granted a sales license and then I moved to join Downtown Mazda and then Markham Mazda. I currently work for Dave & Nichol Toyota for about 2 months when this issue came up and I was not awared of its at all until I spoke with Ms Thaya Genga about my sales license has been under reviewed. I hope that my sales license would be renewed at as early possible date.

Here are the details as much I can remembered:

First charge dating back on sept 22.1989 was a dispute over the pool game and I had quite a few drinks, after it over I had been charged because the other person got hurt more than I do. The second and third charges were also happened in the bar and I was trying to help a friend got jumped by few guys. I picked up anything that I could and hit them then I took off from the scence.

I had learnt over the incidents and realized that not worth it at all but cost myself a great deal of problems. From there I stayed very much away from drinking because drinking make me hyper.

The last thing I would like to ask OMVIC is looking at my situation since 1990 to now I have been clean with no criminal records and importantly is I have had turned my life around with cars industry and I am good at.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

In each of the Applicant's written applications sent by him to the Registrar from 1993 through 2001, the Applicant was asked if he had ever been found guilty of or convicted of an offence under any law. To these questions in each application form signed by the Applicant, the repeated answer was "no".

The evidence for the Applicant consisted solely of his testimony. He called no witnesses to testify on his behalf.

Vinh Thuan Ngo

The Applicant confirmed that he spoke with South on July 3, 2001 as he wished "to follow up" on his April 27, 2001 renewal application. Prior to speaking with South, he had been advised by his employer's manager that his employer had received OMVIC's letter advising of the cancellation of his conditional registration as a salesperson. After this conversation with South, he wrote to OMVIC (Exhibit 1, Tab 6).

The Applicant went on to state that he was "not aware that convictions would appear" on his record. He did not deny the criminal convictions as recorded on the C.P.I.C. record (Exhibit 1, Tab 7) but stated that the convictions were now eleven years old since which time he has had no further trouble with the law. He stated that he has been careful since his convictions not to contravene the law and jeopardise his career.

He went on to state that he has held the position as manager at two car dealerships since he was first registered as a motor vehicle salesperson. In 1999, he acted as manager of Downtown Mazda and thereafter he was the manager of Markham Mazda. While he was manager of Downtown Mazda, he hired two salespersons to work for that dealership, both of whom faced pending criminal charges.

Under cross-examination, the Applicant confirmed that, prior to signing, he reviewed all his applications for registration or renewal. He was aware of his convictions as recorded in the CPIC report. He also stated that he cautioned two salespersons who work for him and who had previous convictions registered against them, that they had to disclose those convictions to OMVIC when completing the applications required by OMVIC.

In conclusion, the Applicant stated that he is now married and has two children ages 10 years and 6 years.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

The following are the facts found by this Tribunal to have been proven:

1. Pursuant to the Applicant's written application for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson, he was initially registered as such on February 17, 1993.
2. The Applicant made written applications for renewal of his registration as a motor vehicle salesperson in January 1995, January 1997 and January 1999. Pursuant to the aforementioned applications, the Applicant's registration as a motor vehicle salesperson was renewed.
3. In April 2001, due to the lapse of Applicant's registration as a motor vehicle salesperson, he made written application for reinstatement of his registration as a motor vehicle salesperson.
4. In all the aforesaid applications for registration, renewal or reinstatement by the Applicant as a motor vehicle salesperson he was asked whether he had been found guilty or convicted under any law and in each instance he answered "no".
5. The Applicant was convicted on September 22, 1989 of aggravated assault under section 268 of the Criminal Code of Canada and was sentenced to 12 months imprisonment.
6. The Applicant was convicted on September 18, 1990 of assault with a weapon under section 245.1(1) of the Criminal Code of Canada and of escape lawful custody and was sentenced to 5 months imprisonment on the assault with a weapon conviction and to 2 months imprisonment with probation for 2 years on the escape from lawful custody conviction.
7. At all times when the Applicant completed and signed his applications for registration, renewal or reinstatement as a motor vehicle salesperson, he was fully aware of the convictions as stated in paragraphs 5 and 6 above.
8. The Applicant has had no further or other convictions registered against him since September 1990.

DECISION AND REASONS:

The issue for decision is whether the Registrar erred in his decision that the Applicant should have his application for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson refused.

Section 6.(1) of the Act states the Registrar may refuse to register an Applicant where in the Registrar's opinion the Applicant is disentitled to regulation under section 5.

Section 5.(1)(b) of the Act entitles the Applicant to registration by the Registrar except where the past conduct of the Applicant affords the Registrar reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Registrar has the onus of proof to satisfy the Tribunal that he has reasonable grounds to believe that the registration of the Applicant should be refused as his past conduct affords reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

In the leading case of Brenner 19 CRAT SCO Decisions and Orders (1971–1989) page 95 Southey J. held that a Tribunal should only refuse to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thinks the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of an Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that such Applicant would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

Brenner 19 CRAT SCO Decisions and Orders (1971-1989), page 59, is a decision issued on April 7, 1983 where the Divisional Court overruled a decision of this Tribunal. Southey J. states that the Registrar proposed to refuse registration because of the existence of the specific circumstances set out in Section 5(1)(b) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act:

The effect of Section 7(4) is that the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Board does not appear to have directed itself to this question and makes no finding that, in its view, the past conduct of Brenner did not afford reasonable grounds for the belief that Brenner would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Instead, the Board appears to have been preoccupied with sympathetic concern as to whether or not Brenner had genuinely reformed, and appears to have decided that it ought to give him a second chance because there was a possibility that he, indeed, might have reformed himself.

In the Brenner case, due to the particular facts in this case Southey J. sent it back for a rehearing, however, he adds in the third last paragraph:

The proper question at the rehearing remains, however, whether the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that he will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Unless the Tribunal can find that it does not, the Tribunal should not order the Registrar to refrain from carrying out his proposal.

To overrule the decision of the Registrar, the Tribunal must conclude that he was wrong in his decision and that the conduct of an Applicant does not afford reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that the Applicant will in the future carry on business in contravention of the Act and its Regulations. This was confirmed by Divisional Court in the matter of Albert Fascenda (1994) 26 CRAT Part II 1050 where that court on appeal quashed the Tribunal's decision to direct a Registrar not to carry out his proposal and in sending the matter back for re-hearing stated at page 1051.

It follows that the Tribunal should have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal only if it thought the Registrar was in error in his belief.

On an examination of the evidence placed before the Tribunal, it is clear that the Applicant was aware of his convictions when he signed and completed his applications for registration, renewal or reinstatement as a motor vehicle salesperson. His answer to the question, repeated in each application form, as to whether he had ever been charged or found guilty or convicted under any law, was always "no". These answers were not only incorrect and false but were repeatedly made knowing them to be false. The Registrar was deliberately misled by the Applicant who on his own admission knew he should disclose any convictions; he had counselled two of his salespersons to disclose their previous convictions when he was manager of a motor vehicle dealership. The Applicant's dishonesty in not disclosing his convictions was ongoing and repeated.

While it agrees with the Registrar that the past conduct of the applicant was dishonest in that he repeatedly failed to disclose his previous convictions, the Tribunal does not agree with the Registrar that this past conduct will be indicative of the applicant's future business conduct.

The question that concerns the Tribunal is whether the past conduct of the Applicant, both as to his actual convictions and the repeated non disclosure of such convictions, indicates that the Applicant will in the future not carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty.

The actual convictions were recorded in 1989 and 1990. Those convictions are some twelve years and eleven years old respectively, since which time the Applicant has been conviction free. Furthermore, the convictions were not industry related and occurred before the Applicant was initially registered as a salesperson in the motor industry. The Applicant since being registered as a motor vehicle salesperson in 1993 has had an unblemished record both within and outside of the motor industry. The Act is directed to the protection of consumers in their dealings with motor vehicle dealers and salespersons and in this matter there is no evidence to show that the Applicant has jeopardised consumers' rights. All the aforementioned facts mitigate in favour of the Applicant.

The following facts however stand in contradiction of the mitigating facts listed above. These are the repeated, false and misleading denials in his 1993, 1995, 1997, 1999 and 2001 applications of his criminal convictions. The Applicant knew his denials were false and misleading, yet he persisted in such denials until the hearing before the Tribunal at which time he conceded the falsehood of his repeated denials as to his convictions.

It is upon the repeated false and misleading statements made by the Applicant on his applications that the Registrar bases his contention that the past conduct of the Applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

The Tribunal has considered the above facts, both those that weigh in favour of the Applicant and those that weigh against the Applicant. The fact that the Applicant has been clearly dishonest when denying his previous convictions in his applications to the Registrar does not however lead the Tribunal to the conclusion that in the future he will "not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty." The Applicant's conduct since 1990 when his last conviction was registered and his conduct in the industry since 1993 when he became a registered motor vehicle salesperson show that he has carried on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty. Since 1993 the conduct of the Applicant in his business of a motor vehicle salesperson has given the Registrar no cause for concern. His activities in business have been beyond reproach, and he has advanced his position in the business to that of manager of car dealerships.

The test under section 5 of the Act is directed to the Applicant's future business conduct and particularly whether that conduct will be in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Applicant's conduct with respect to his completion of applications for renewal of registration is relevant but is not determinative in predicting his future business conduct.

The Tribunal believes that the conduct of the Applicant during the last eleven or twelve years has been exemplary and that this fact coupled with the other facts in the Applicant's favour outweigh the negative aspect of the Applicant's non disclosure in his applications. The conduct of the Applicant over the period since his convictions indicate that he has conducted himself in business in accordance with the law and with honesty and integrity.

The Tribunal believes in this instance that the Registrar is in error when he equates dishonesty in the completion of applications for renewal by the Applicant with dishonesty in the future conduct of business by that Applicant. In other cases with different facts this may have been appropriate for the Registrar to draw such a conclusion. However such a conclusion is not justified in this particular matter having regard to eleven or twelve years of business activity having been conducted without blemish by the Applicant.

Viewing the Applicant's conduct within the industry over the past eleven or twelve years the Tribunal does not believe there are reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that the Applicant will not carry on the business of a motor vehicle salesperson with law and with integrity and honesty. The particular facts in this matter lead the Tribunal to the conclusion that a refusal to register the Applicant under the Act is too severe a penalty and that terms and conditions to that registration are appropriate.

Accordingly, the Tribunal believes that the Applicant is entitled to registration as a motor vehicle salesperson, subject to terms and conditions.

DECISION:

Accordingly, the Tribunal pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, directs the Registrar to refrain from carrying out his proposal dated June 26, 2001 to refuse the Applicant's registration subject to the Applicant complying with the following five terms and conditions.

1. If the Applicant at any time in the future shall be charged with, found guilty of or convicted of any offence under any law he shall forthwith advise the Registrar.
2. If the Applicant at any time in the future is convicted of any charge under the Criminal Code of Canada the Registrar shall be entitled to forthwith revoke the Applicant's registration as a motor vehicle salesperson.
3. The Applicant shall at no time in the future, unless with the Registrar's prior written consent, become an officer, director or partner in a motor vehicle dealership.
4. The Applicant shall not transfer his registration as a motor vehicle salesperson without the prior written consent of the Registrar.
5. The Applicant, in all his future applications for registration, renewal or reinstatement as a motor vehicle salesperson, shall fully and honestly answer all questions in his application forms. Should he fail to do so, the Registrar shall be entitled to forthwith revoke the Applicant's registration as a motor vehicle salesperson.

DATE OF HEARING: October 16, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: October 22, 2001 By Teleconference

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing by teleconference was held on October 16, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant’s appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended (“HTA” or the “Act”).

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Doan Bui Nguyen (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	1990 Toyota Camry, plate no. AKSR 237 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	September 28, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on October 16, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

I live with my mother and my three younger siblings at the ages of 15, 13, 12 who are going to school;

My mother was involved in a motor vehicle accident and is currently injured and her daily activities are seriously restricted by the injury;

My mother needs help in house cleaning, house keeping, and cooking and other activities;

My mother needs the car to go to the doctor's appointment for her on-going treatment;

I need the car to go to work;

For a family of five members that lives on Social Assistance, it is financially impossible to use the public transportation;

For a family of five members that lives on Social Assistance, it is extremely difficult without the car;

I make this declaration for my application to appeal from the Registrar's impoundment decision pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act;

and

I make this declaration for my application to appeal on the ground that the loss of the vehicle has resulted in exceptional hardship to my whole family pursuant to Section 22 of Regulation 574, R.R.O. 1990 as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98.

The hearing was conducted via telephone conference call and while the Applicant was understood to be in Counsel's office, the evidence in the hearing was provided by the Applicant's Counsel, Mr. Hung Tan Trong.

Mr. Trong commenced by restating the details presented in the Applicant's Notice of Appeal. Additional evidence presented was as follows:

- The Applicant's mother had been injured in two separate automobile accidents, the first in June 2000, the second in January 2001. She experienced injuries to her spine, right arm and shoulder and as a result she has been in some pain and discomfort which are said to affect her physical mobility and require her to use a cane; she is also receiving specialist treatment every two weeks and periodically visits her family doctor to obtain treatment for her discomfort.
- Counsel advised that the Applicant's mother needed the vehicle for travel and "once in a while" the other children would need a ride. In subsequent evidence, Counsel indicated the kids would need a ride if they were late for school, had missed their bus or had to attend other activities but no school had been missed.

- While Counsel confirmed the Applicant needed the vehicle for work, it was also revealed that the Applicant had (i) lost his job on October 4, 2001 and (ii) that the Applicant's license had been suspended on September 9, 2001.
- Therefore, by the time of impoundment, the Applicant was already dependent upon others for transportation to and from his work; evidence was given that during this ten day period (between Sept. 9th and 19th), he had on several occasions walked to work (a distance that required either a 90 minute walk or 1.0 hr bus ride), he had received a ride from someone else and had also been driven by his mother;
- Evidence showed the Applicant lost his job on October 4, 2001 because he had been late for work every day after the impoundment; Counsel stated the Applicant worked the afternoon 3:30p.m. to midnight shift and was unable to change his shift (he had been with the company for three months) and that no one was available to provide an afternoon ride;
- When asked by Ms Neuwirth, Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, if the job loss was more a result of the Applicant's driver license suspension, Counsel answered "yes".
- Evidence provided to the Tribunal by Counsel showed the Applicant's mother had used a taxi on two occasions as well as received a ride from her nephew; the Tribunal was advised that this nephew was not always available as he lived across town, attended school full-time and also had a part-time job. There were no neighbours to assist the family with their transportation requirements.
- The number of specialist treatment appointments was stated as being three with only one remaining during the balance of the impound period; visits to the family doctor were irregular and related to the day-to-day condition of the Applicant's mother. Evidence provided by Counsel showed that no doctor's appointments had been missed and the family did have access to 911 for emergency ambulance service though Mr. Trong stated these costs would not be covered by social assistance payments.
- The Tribunal learned that there was one other vehicle in the family, which was registered to the Applicant's mother but as it was a manual transmission she was unable to manage the gear shift motions due to her arm and shoulder injuries.
- Counsel advised that taxis had been used but the cost was not a viable alternative because of the family's financial position;
- On questioning by Ms Neuwirth, evidence showed the average weekly fuel cost for the impounded vehicle was about $80.00 a week. Therefore, the use of taxis as alternate transportation for the Applicant's mother, from home to her specialist appointments, at about $22.00 each way, could be off-set by the fuel savings.

- Evidence showed the Applicant's family received $1,200.00 per month in combined social assistance and federal child payments; the Applicant's income from his last job was $9.90 per hour. The income from these sources was compared to the family's housing cost of $700.00 per month.
- Evidence regarding the relationship of the driver of the impounded vehicle, Duc Ngoc Le, to the Applicant's family was given by Counsel directly as well as from information he received from the Applicant and his mother, who were in attendance in Mr. Trong's office.
- The Tribunal was advised that while Mr. Le had been described as a "babysitter and general helper", the Applicant had erred in describing Mr. Le as a 'babysitter' because there were no children young enough to need a babysitter and Mr. Le should have been referred to as a family helper;
- Mr. Le did not live in the family home;
- The Applicant's mother had originally hired Mr. Le to help her around the house and that he was hired on a credit arrangement and would be paid by the insurance company once the automobile accident claim was settled.

Mr. Trong advised the Tribunal that his representation of the Applicant was not being adequately compensated due to the family's financial situation, and it was expected that the Applicant's mother would be able to cover all the costs she was incurring once the insurance company paid under the injury claim. While Mr. Trong stated the Applicant's mother was diligently keeping expense records related to her accident injuries, there were no receipts available for Ms Neuwirth, who asked to see them as supporting evidence.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Duc Ngoc Le;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;

4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until April 11, 2002.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,

- (a) a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

As to the Applicant's appeal to have the impounded vehicle returned on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship, the evidence presented was considered on whether or not it met the definition of "exceptional hardship" within the meaning prescribed by the Highway Traffic Act and its Regulations.

Whether there is “a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle”;

Evidence presented showed that while there is considered inconvenience in having to rely on other means of transportation than that of the Applicant or his family's choosing, there was no evidence to show circumstances or personal conditions existed to pose “a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle”.

Whether there is “a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used”;

There was no evidence to show that there was such a threat.

Whether “no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available”;

The evidence presented establishes that while the Applicant's mother has experienced some difficulty and inconvenience resulting from the vehicle impoundment, she has been able to find alternatives for the occasions when transportation was required for medical appointments.

The evidence does not clearly establish that there were no alternatives for the Applicant to arrive at work on time. There was no evidence regarding the specifics of alternatives such as using an early bus or arranging with the Applicant's employer to cover a late arrival during the impound period.

Whether the “loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;”

There is no evidence to clearly establish that the loss has been immediate and significant. The evidence is clear that the loss will not be lasting.

Whether “the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle”;

The evidence does not clearly establish the loss of the vehicle was a factor in the Applicant's job loss. There was also no specific evidence presented to show what role the availability of the vehicle would have, as a means of transporting the Applicant to and from work and in finding new employment.

Whether the impact of the loss "will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle";

The evidence of loss on the Applicant and his family has been established, but is not exceptional hardship.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: October 19, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: October 22, 2001 By teleconference

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on October 19, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Doris Luella Ann Snow (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1984 Buick Park Avenue, Unplated (the "impounded vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	October 3, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on October 19, 2001 and proceeded by way of teleconference.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows (Exhibit 2).

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

To whom it may concern,

Following is the events that led to my car becoming impounded and the hardship that this will cause me.

Since I purchased this vehicle I have had a very difficult time getting it to pass emissions. I had it fixed and retested four times, all failing. I felt my only resource was to take it to the Ministry and have them look at it and all my documentation.

I do not like to drive in larger cities and on Oct 2/01. I asked a friend, Al Duxbury if he could drive me down. At this time I was under the assumption that Mr. Duxbury was employed as a driver for Plaks Plus in Barrie. So I trusted he would get me there safely. On our way down we were stopped and my car was impounded.

Not having my car will cause me great hardship. I am currently on disability pension and without a car will be confined to my house. I cannot afford a rented car or taxis. I am very sorry for what has happened and I have learned a valuable lesson. Please could you release my vehicle before the required 45 days impoundment.

Sincerely
Luella Snow

The following is a summary of the Applicant's affirmed testimony.

The Applicant lives alone on the outskirts of Barrie. She has been unemployed since 1987 and has been receiving a disability pension. She has a hard time getting around due to the pain in her back and legs. Her last surgery was in 1998 and is currently scheduled for unrelated surgery in January 2002. Her area of residence is "911" accessible and there is also public transit in this community.

With respect to the surrounding circumstances of the impoundment, as stated above in the Applicant's written submission, the Applicant was having a difficult time in having the used vehicle she recently purchased pass the emissions tests. After numerous repairs, she decided to take the vehicle to the Ministry of Transportation in Toronto and have them determine why the vehicle kept failing the emissions test. Since the Applicant is not comfortable in driving in large cities, Mr. Duxbury, the driver at the time the vehicle was impounded, volunteered to drive the Applicant and her vehicle to Toronto. The OPP pulled the impounded vehicle over due to the temporary sticker/temporary plate not being visible.

The Applicant only knowing Mr. Duxbury as a friend/acquaintances, did not know he was a suspended driver and at no time did she ask to see his driver's licence. She testified that she only assumed he was a valid driver since he was employed as a driver in Barrie.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows (Exhibits 3 and 4):

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Allan J. Duxbury;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until August 13, 2002.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,
 - (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
 - (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
 - (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
 - (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, “due diligence” in Black’s Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines “exceptional hardship” as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

(h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.

- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Appeal under Due Diligence

The issue to be considered in this appeal is whether the Applicant exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that Mr. Duxbury's driver's licence at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension.

The Applicant testified that she is the owner of the vehicle that has been impounded and at the time of impoundment Mr. Duxbury was driving the vehicle.

The onus of proof is on the Applicant to establish that due diligence was performed which is required under Section 50.2(3)(c) of the Act.

The evidence before the Tribunal, in the Applicant's own testimony, was that the Applicant at no point in time asked Mr. Duxbury if he possessed a valid driver's licence. She merely assumed that Mr. Duxbury had a valid driver's licence and the thought never crossed her mind to check. She relied on his honesty and integrity. Unfortunately, the Applicant did not take any measures to ensure that he had a valid driver's licence. Furthermore, there was no evidence heard that would confirm the Applicant's actions were anything but passive in nature.

The Tribunal therefore has no evidence that the Applicant exercised due diligence as required by section 50.2(3)(c) of the Act.

Appeal under Exceptional Hardship

The Applicant has requested an appeal on the grounds of "exceptional hardship" under section 50.2(3)(d). Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific, in that it provides the Tribunal with the criteria the Applicant must meet to determine if in fact "exceptional hardship" will result from the impoundment. The Applicant in this case has argued that the impoundment will result in hardship as described by section 22(2). In order for her claim to be considered under section 22(2), the Applicant must have demonstrated that all of section 22(3) has been met. Furthermore, section 22(4) of the Regulation provides the criteria for demonstrating that every reasonable option has been considered for an alternative to the impounded vehicle.

The Applicant testified that she purchased the impounded vehicle during this past summer (either July or August, 2001) at a cost of $850. She is also the owner of a 1985 Chevrolet 4x4, which is currently off the road since it requires a new transmission at an estimated cost of $600. The Tribunal was given an unclear span of time wherein the Applicant was without a vehicle.

In her testimony, the Applicant has affirmed that she has not missed any doctors' appointments and has managed to get to her appointments and has been able to purchase groceries and pay visits with the assistance of her friends. The generosity of her friends have been a constant, before she purchased the second vehicle as well as during this impoundment period. She has also been taking public transportation to and from town.

The Applicant has not proven that the loss of the vehicle will be immediate, significant and lasting.

If the Applicant has incurred some financial hardship as a result of the loss of the vehicle, she may pursue compensation from the suspended driver, Allan Duxbury, as is stated in section 55.1(21) of the Highway Traffic Act:

"The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under this section may bring an action against the driver of the motor vehicle at the time the order was made to recover any costs or other losses incurred by the owner in connection with the order".

After considering the above requirements, the Tribunal finds that although the Applicant has been inconvenienced by the impoundment, she does have alternatives to the impounded vehicle. Therefore the impact of the loss will not be immediate, significant and lasting as required by section 22(3) of Regulation 574 as amended by Regulation 632/98.

Accordingly, after considering the criteria set out in section 22(3) and (4) of Regulation 340 as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, the Tribunal finds the Applicant has not established exceptional hardship as set out in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

BACKGROUND

1. 1163954 Ontario Inc. o/a The Ultimate Travel Brokers (hereinafter referred to as the "Registrant") has been registered as a travel agent (registration number 4415899/R) under the Travel Industry Act, R.S.O., c. T-19, as amended (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") since January 30, 1996. The Registrant has a fiscal year end of December 31st.

GROUND FOR THE PROPOSAL

2. Subsection 24(2) of the Regulation states that if a registrant had sales of less than $10 million during the previous fiscal year, the registrant shall file within three months of the end of the fiscal year annual financial statements with a review engagement report by a public accountant licensed under the Public Accountancy Act.
3. By letter dated November 24, 2000, TICO requested that the Registrant file its financial statements for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2000 by March 31, 2001.

4. By letter dated April 2, 2001, the Registrant's accountants requested an extension to May 21, 2001 to file the Registrant's financial statements.
5. On April 10, 2001, TICO sent a second request for the Registrant's financial statements for its December 31, 2000 year-end, which gave the Registrant a deadline of April 30, 2001.
6. By letter dated May 1, 2001, the Registrar, Travel Industry Act informed the Registrant that if it did not provide its financial statements by May 16, 2001, the Registrar would initiate administrative action including a proposal to revoke registration.
7. By facsimile dated May 14, 2001, the Registrant requested an extension to June 8, 2001 to file its financial statements.
8. By facsimile dated June 15, 2001, the Registrant was advised by TICO that its financial statements had not been received and they must be filed by June 19, 2001.
9. By facsimile dated June 19, 2001, the Registrant requested a further extension to June 26, 2001 to file its financial statements.
10. By August 8, 2001, the Registrant had failed to submit its financial statements. On that date, the Registrar issued a Proposal to Revoke the Registrant's registration.
11. The Registrant filed its financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2000, which were due by March 31, 2001, on August 15, 2001. The statements, which were prepared under an Auditor's Report, revealed that the Registrant had a deficiency of $240,639.00 in its trust account as at December 31, 2000. The Registrant apparently transferred $299,640.00 to correct this deficiency by July 20, 2001.
12. On September 4, 2001, Mr. Jack Foster, an Inspector designated by the Registrar, Travel Industry Act conducted an inspection of the Registrant to determine if the Registrant was maintaining sufficient working capital and funds to cover its customer obligations. The inspection revealed that the Registrant had transferred $105,000 from its trust account to its general account on July 24 and July 25, 2001, without preparing a customer position report to support those transactions. The Registrant was to prepare an interim financial statement by October 15, 2001 to demonstrate that it was maintaining minimum working capital and complying with the trust accounting provisions of the legislation.
13. The Registrant's interim financial statements, as filed on October 19, 2001, revealed that the Registrant was not maintaining minimum working capital as required by section 25 of the Regulation.

14. The parties agree that the facts set out in the above-noted document are true.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsections 6 (4) and (5) of the Travel Industry Act directing that:

1. the Registrar refrain from carrying out the Proposal to Revoke Registration dated August 8, 2001;
2. the Registrant's registration is to be subject to the following terms and conditions:
 - (a) The Registrant shall at all times maintain sufficient funds to cover its customer obligations. Such funds shall be maintained in a properly designated "Travel Industry Act Trust Account" and in accordance with the trust accounting requirements as stipulated in section 36 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;
 - (b) The Registrant shall submit a monthly trust account reconciliation with corresponding bank statements to the Registrar beginning with the month of October, 2001, no later than 30 days after the end of each calendar month, for so long as the Registrar shall so require or concluding Dec 31 2002 whichever the registrar so deems most appropriate.
 - (c) The Registrant shall correct any working capital deficiency by fiscal year- end December 31, 2001 and at all times thereafter maintain the minimum working capital as required by section 25 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;
 - (d) The Registrant shall file complete financial statements as required by section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time, for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2001, no later than March 31, 2002;
 - (e) The Registrant shall file complete financial statements as required by section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2002, no later than March 31, 2003;
 - (f) The Registrant shall file quarterly interim financial statements by May 15th, August 15th, and November 15th of year 2002.

(g) If the above-noted financial statements as filed are incomplete, the Registrant will have 14 days from the date of notice of the deficiency to fully and completely address the deficiency and produce proof of such correction to the Registrar. Notice of the deficiency, if any, shall be sent by registered mail to the Registrant.

3. Should the Registrant fail to comply with conditions listed in paragraphs (2) (a) to (g) inclusive during the two (2) year period immediately following this order of the Tribunal, the Registrar shall revoke the Registrant's registration on five (5) days written notice sent via hand delivery or by registered mail.
4. This order shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of each of the parties to this order.

INDEPENDENT LEGAL ADVICE

REGISTRAR, TRAVEL INDUSTRY ACT

Respondent

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

BACKGROUND

1. Nugget Travel & Tours Inc. (hereinafter referred to as the "Registrant") has been registered as a travel agent (registration number 5000033/R) under the Travel Industry Act, R.S.O., c. T-19, as amended (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") since July 21, 1999.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS – GROUNDS FOR THE PROPOSAL

2. Subsection 24(2) of the Regulation states that if a registrant had sales of less than $10 million during the previous fiscal year, the registrant shall file within three months of the end of the fiscal year annual financial statements with a review engagement report by a public accountant licensed under the Public Accountancy Act.

3. By letter dated November 24, 2000, TICO requested that the Registrant file its financial statements for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2000 by March 31, 2001.
4. On April 10, 2001, TICO sent a second request for the Registrant's financial statements for its December 31, 2000 year-end, which gave the Registrant a deadline of April 30, 2001.
5. By letter dated May 1, 2001, the Registrar, Travel Industry Act informed the Registrant that if it did not provide its financial statements by May 16, 2001, the Registrar would initiate administrative action including a proposal to revoke registration.
6. On May 6, 2001, the Registrant telephoned TICO and advised that its financial statements would be submitted by May 31, 2001.
7. On May 30, 2001, the Registrant telephoned TICO and advised that its financial statements would be submitted by June 30, 2001.
8. By August 8, 2001, the Registrant had failed to submit its financial statements. On that date, the Registrar issued a Proposal to Revoke the Registrant's registration.
9. On August 23, 2001, the Registrant filed its financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2000, which were due by March 31, 2001.

COMPLIANCE HISTORY – LATE FORM 1 FILING

10. Section 47 of the Regulation states that within forty-five days after the end of the Registrant's fiscal year and fiscal half-year the Registrant shall make payments to the Ontario Travel Industry Compensation Fund and said payment shall be accompanied by a completed return, in the form ("Form 1") provided by the Travel Industry Council of Ontario ("TICO") indicating the sales of the Registrant for the reporting period and the amount owing to TICO.
11. The Registrant filed its Form1 and made the corresponding payment to the Fund for its fiscal year ended September 30, 1999, which were due by November 15, 1999, on December 10, 1999.
12. The Registrant filed its Form1 and made the corresponding payment to the Fund for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1999, which were due by February 15, 2000, on July 4, 2000.
13. The Registrant filed its Form1 and made the corresponding payment to the Fund for its fiscal half-year ended June 30, 2000, which were due by August 15, 2000, on September 8, 2000.

14. The Registrant filed its Form1 and made the corresponding payment to the Fund for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2000, which were due by February 15, 2001, on March 15, 2001.
15. The Registrant filed its Form1 and made the corresponding payment to the Fund for its fiscal half-year ended June 30, 2001, which were due by August 15, 2001, on September 21, 2001.
16. The parties agree that the facts set out in the above-noted document are true.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsections 6 (4) and (5) of the Travel Industry Act directing that:

5. the Registrar refrain from carrying out the Proposal to Revoke Registration dated August 8, 2001;
6. the Registrant's registration is to be subject to the following terms and conditions:
 - (h) The Registrant shall file its financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2001 by March 31, 2002 and in accordance with section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;
 - (i) The Registrant shall file its financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2002 by March 31, 2003 and in accordance with section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time
 - (j) The Registrant shall file its Form 1 and make the corresponding payments to TICO for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2001 by February 15, 2002 and in accordance with section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;
 - (k) The Registrant shall file its Form 1 and make the corresponding payments to TICO for its fiscal half-year ending June 30, 2002 by August 15, 2002 and in accordance with section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;
 - (l) The Registrant shall file its Form 1 and make the corresponding payments to TICO for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2002 by February 15, 2003 and in accordance with section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time; and

(m) The Registrant shall file its Form 1 and make the corresponding payments to TICO for its fiscal year ending June 30, 2003 by August 15, 2003 and in accordance with section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;

7. Should the Registrant fail to comply with conditions listed in paragraphs (2) (a) through (f) inclusive, the Registrar shall revoke the Registrant's registration on five (5) days written notice sent via hand delivery or by registered mail.
8. This order shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of each of the parties to this order.

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. On October 6th, 2001, the motor vehicle described in Order to Impound #1607405 was impounded in accordance with subsection 55.1(3) of the Highway Traffic Act, RSO 1990, c. H. 8 as amended.
2. The applicant, Shabeeroon Freitas, whose name is shown on the plate portion of the permit for the impounded motor vehicle, jointly with Christiano Freitas, is, for the purposes of the appeal, the owner of the said vehicle.
3. No other order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act has ever previously been made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the applicant.
4. The applicant filed an appeal to the impoundment order, in accordance with the grounds permitted under clause 50.2(3)(d) of the Highway Traffic Act, stating that the order will result in exceptional hardship.
5. Materials provided to the Registrar indicate that the said motor vehicle is needed for health and safety reasons for the transportation of a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle.
6. The applicant has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to consent to this Order.
7. The parties agree that this agreement does not bind the Ministry of Transportation or the Registrar of Motor Vehicles in any way, with respect to future hearings or consent orders.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsection 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act that the Tribunal set aside the order to impound.

DECISION AND REASONS

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by the Applicant respecting a decision of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Respondent") pursuant to section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act (Ontario).

FACTS:

On September 27, 2000 the Applicant was driving to Toronto from Novar, Ontario where she had purchased a home in order to arrange moving her belongings. She was stopped by the O.P.P. and given a ticket for speeding. Later that day on the return trip she was again stopped by the O.P.P. near Huntsville and an altercation took place. The Tribunal is unable to elicit from her exactly what took place but she was restrained and taken to the Huntsville General Hospital, kept overnight and transferred the next day to the North Bay Psychiatric Hospital.

Her 2 children were put into the care of the Children's Aid Society and later released to relatives.

She was in the North Bay Psychiatric Hospital from September 28, 2000 to December 11, 2000 under the care of Physician # 1, a psychiatrist. The Ministry of Transportation received a letter from Physician # 1 dated December 1, 2000 stating that the Applicant was medically unfit to drive, which triggered a letter from the Medical Review Section, asking The Applicant to present a detailed up-to-date psychiatric assessment for review to determine her ongoing privilege to drive.

On January 11, 2001 Physician # 1 wrote to the Ministry of Transportation to confirm his opinion that the Applicant's mental state was inconsistent with the safe operation of a motor vehicle because of her diagnosis of Bipolar disorder and that she was not taking medication as prescribed.

On January 17, 2001 she was notified of her licence suspension with reconsideration of her case upon receipt of detailed psychiatric review and other options such as Administrative Review and/or appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.

Physician # 1 attended the Applicant after her discharge from hospital until December 19, 2000 when by mutual arrangement her case was transferred to Physician # 2 in Toronto who had been her attending psychiatrist for many years. He sent Physician # 2 a letter to this effect on January 9, 2001. Apparently there are no concerns regarding her care of her children but "her status continues to be consistent with an incapacity to consent to decisions regarding the treatment of her mental illness". He also offered a hospital discharge summary upon receipt of proper authorization from the Applicant on the prescribed Form 14.

On June 8, 2001 Physician # 2 sent a brief note to the Ministry of Transportation stating that his patient the Applicant was improving and ready to assume the responsibilities of driving a motor vehicle on psychiatric grounds.

On June 26, 2001 the Medical Review Section notified her that a new detailed psychiatric assessment was required.

On July 10, 2001 Physician # 2 sent a follow-up letter to the Medical Review Section to state that the Applicant has been under his care for more than 10 years with a diagnosis of Paranoid Personality and has not been hospitalised until the recent episode. He has attended her three times since her hospital discharge noting the considerable distance from her present residence. He reports "The patient presently and since discharge has not been prescribed medication. She presents as a functioning mother of twin six year old daughters. She does not appear depressed nor a threat to herself or others. Her memory and concentration are good and she demonstrates emotional stability during my three visits. Assessment of her motor vehicle acumen would be best assessed by your motor vehicle testing department. I expect that the results of such tests would be satisfactory".

On August 3, 2001 The Medical Review Section informed the Applicant that a more up-to-date report was required of the attending psychiatrist to include a discharge summary from the North Bay Psychiatric Hospital and confirmation of her stability for at least six months.

On August 24, 2001 The Medical Review Section repeated the above request.

On September 10, 2001 the Applicant submitted an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.

On October 17, 2001 the hearing was by electronic means and so it was not possible to get any visual impression of the Applicant's conduct, demeanour or personality. However, she made a number of highly inflammatory derogatory and accusatorial statements about the O.P.P., the doctors at the North Bay Psychiatric Hospital, the legal system, the Mental Health Act and other concerns.

For example she stated several times that lawyers and doctors are intimidated by the police who are mentally ill and thieves. She used the words "blackmail", "coersion" and "robbery" with various undetermined references. She referred to Physician # 1 as a "strange doctor". She referred to the September 27, 2000 incident as "another stick-um-up by the O.P.P. to support the Taxi industry in the area as well as the local thieves" and "that the doctors wish to appear supportive of the local police whom they just might fear".

She has laid a number of complaints against the police at O.P.P. headquarters and also against the doctors of the North Bay Psychiatric Hospital through the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario.

ISSUES:

Should the decision of the Registrar to suspend the Applicant's licence be confirmed, modified or set aside?

LAW:

Regulation 340/94, Section 14 states:

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffers from an mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely; and
- (b) be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

Section 47(1) states:

Subject to section 47.1, the Registrar may suspend or cancel,

- (a) the plate portion of a permit as defined in Part II;
 - (b) a driver's licence; or
 - (c) a CVOR certificate,
- on the grounds of,
- (d) misconduct for which the holder is responsible, directly or indirectly, related to the operation or driving of a motor vehicle;
 - (f) conviction of the holder for an offence referred to in subsection 210(1) or (2);
 - (f) the Registrar having reason to believe, having regard to the safety record of the holder or of a person related to the holder, and any other information that the Registrar considers relevant, that the holder will not operate a commercial motor vehicle safely or in accordance with this Act, the regulations and other laws relating to highway safety; or
 - (g) any other sufficient reason not referred to in clause (d), (e) or (f).

Section 50 of the Act states:

- 50.(1) Every person aggrieved by a decision of the Minister under subclause 32(12)(b)(i) or a decision of the Registrar under section 17 or 47 may appeal the decision to the Tribunal
- (2) The Tribunal may confirm, modify or set aside the decision of the Minister or the Registrar.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

When the Ministry of Transportation was informed that the Applicant was a patient in the North Bay Psychiatric Hospital suffering from a mental disorder and that the attending doctor recommended that she not drive a motor vehicle after discharge from hospital, her licence was suspended according to Section 47(1) and Regulation 340/94 of the Highway Traffic Act. Section 14(a) which states:

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffers from an mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely; and

Reconsideration of her licence would be according to the requirements of the medical review committee – a detailed psychiatric assessment to include history, diagnosis, treatment, with special reference to judgement, concentration behaviour, emotional stability and current level of function.

The Applicant has not provided accurate information regarding her apprehension by the police on September 27, 2000 or medical information about her hospital stay of ten weeks. A complete hospital discharge summary has not been provided. There appears to be a difference of opinion regarding drug therapy between the hospital psychiatrist and Physician # 2, the current attending psychiatrist. Physician # 1 states that she was discharged from the hospital with prescribed medication. Physician # 2 states that she is not taking medication, but it is not clear whether this is his recommendation or that she refuses drug therapy, as she stated on direct questioning.

From the evidence before this hearing, the Tribunal finds the Registrar correct in deciding that the Applicant is not in complete control of all her judgemental, emotional and mental faculties and to a degree likely to significantly interfere with her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely. This is in contravention of the Ontario Highway Traffic Act, Regulation 300/90 Section 14(a).

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the decision dated January 27, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles ("Registrar") to suspend her driver's licence pursuant to Section 47(1) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA"), and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

IT IS THE DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50(2) of the Act that the decision of the Registrar be confirmed.

TO APPEAL AN ORDER TO IMPOUND A MOTOR VEHICLE
ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES

TRIBUNAL: SIMON DANN,
Presiding member

APPEARANCES: LUBA NEUWIRTH,
Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

STEPHEN DOUGLAS RICHARDS, Applicant
unrepresented

DATE OF HEARING: October 22, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: October 24, 2001 Hamilton

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on October 22, 2001, at Hamilton, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Stephen Douglas Richards (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1996 Ford Aspire, plate ABZF 373 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	October 4, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on October 22, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

I cannot afford to have my car impounded. I haven't enough income at present time to pay for it. I need to have a chance to speak please & Thank you to keep my car financially it will ruin me.

Thank you
Steve D. Richards

Mr. Richards confirmed the information provided with his Notice of Appeal and added the following information:

Mr. Richards explained that he had thought the licence suspension he had received in 2000 was only for one year but he acknowledged he had not contacted anyone to confirm that belief at the end of the one year time frame. He stated his understanding that he should not have been driving but on September 19, 2001, he had no other way to get to work and felt he had to do what was needed so he would not miss work.

He works in the Pearson Airport area and it is his first job in ten years as he has been on disability with spinal problems, he also requires a leg brace and his doctor has frequently told him he should not be working at all.

Without confirming details about his therapy appointment schedule or the frequency of these appointments, Mr. Richards stated he receives heat and vibration therapy at his doctor's office, which is located in Port Dover. Mr. Richards also mentioned he had Hepatitis C.

Mr. Richards explained that even though his home is in Simcoe, he spends weeknights at his mother's home in Brampton and gets a ride back to his home on Fridays with a friend. When he has medical or other appointments, he explained that either his girlfriend or mother use his car to drive him, He stated he did not actually need the vehicle and due to his disability, it was difficult for him to drive. He confirmed to the Tribunal that he had alternate means to meet his transportation needs.

Mr. Richards advised the Tribunal that his vehicle was always parked at his home in Simcoe and that he always spent his week nights at his mother's home in Brampton, so he could easily travel to work during the week days. This was inconsistent with the fact that he was in Simcoe on Wednesday, September 16, 2001. He did not explain this apparent inconsistency.

The Tribunal was advised by Mr. Richards that his hardship was not for the loss of the vehicle but rather about the cost of the impound and that he could not afford the impound fee as he was just starting to work and after the costs of his housing, car loan, day-to-day living costs and child support payment order from a previous relationship, he did not have enough money to get the car out of the impound facility. He did not provide the details of his income or costs.

Mr. Richards said the impound cost was putting him “this close to losing my house”; he stated he lived alone and that his girlfriend lived in a house right behind his own. In explaining the reference to his girlfriend, Mr. Richards said he helped look after her daughter as his girlfriend was a single parent, and he tried to fill in as a father to the child. His girlfriend, who could not afford her own vehicle, also used his vehicle as she had need.

It was essential for Mr. Richards to have the vehicle returned because his mother had co-signed for the original purchase and it was now worth less than the amount still owed so he could not afford to sell it. He did not provide any supporting background or confirming details.

He advised the Tribunal that he had found out he could take steps to have his license suspension reviewed due to his disability circumstances and the Tribunal was given to understand court or review dates had been set for this purpose.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar’s evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Stephen Douglas Richards;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle (Exhibit #1);
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of driving with more than 80 mgs alcohol in blood under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver’s licence of the driver was then under suspension until February 1, 2003.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.

- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

To be successful in this appeal, the Applicant must establish that exceptional hardship, as described in subsection 50.2(3)(d) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act") will result from the order to impound the motor vehicle.

As the Applicant is one and the same as the person who was found to be driving, he therefore does not meet the criteria set out in 22(3)(d)(i)(ii) and the Tribunal is unable to consider any such loss with respect to him.

It should be noted that while this does not prevent the Applicant, subject to certain limitation in the Act, from establishing that the impoundment may result in exceptional hardship to a person other than himself, the evidence presented with respect to the Applicant's girlfriend and mother did not establish exceptional hardship. There was no evidence to show that any loss they suffer would be immediate, significant and lasting.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

PRELIMINARY MATTERS:

There were no preliminary matters heard at this hearing.

FACTS:

The Director's Grounds for Revocation:

By Notice dated July 3, 2001, the Director of Vehicle Inspection Standards revoked pursuant to subsection 91(8)(a), (b) and (e) and section 93(a), (b) and (c) of the Highway Traffic Act R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended:

(a) Motor Vehicle Inspection Station Licence No. 23-36958 issued to 1059294 Ontario Inc., and;

(b) the registration of Motor Vehicle Inspection Mechanic, Al Pawluk who holds a Trade Certificate No. 310S-124683 and 310T-124683.

on the grounds that the licensee and registrant have made false statements and failed to comply with the Act and Regulations in the issuance of safety standards certificate as follows:

1. Certificate number 4606268, issued on or about June 23, 1995.
2. Certificate number 1859015, issued on or about January 18, 2001.
3. Certificate Number 1858982, issued on or about February 15, 2001.
4. Certificate Number 1858983, issued on or about February 19, 2001.
5. Certificate Number 1858984, issued on or about February 20, 2001.

And further on the grounds that 1059295 Ontario Inc. failed to produce copies of the safety standards certificates it issued or records of the vehicles inspected at the station when requested by an inspector of the Ministry of Transportation on or about February 27, 2001 contrary to paragraphs 10(a) and 10(b) of Ontario Regulation 601.

And further on the grounds that Certificate number 4606268, dated June 23, 1995, and Certificate number 7732960, dated February 17, 1998 were issued by the station after having been countersigned by Allen Pawluk who was not authorized to do so contrary to section 90(3)(b)(ii) of the Highway Traffic Act.

The Director's witnesses were: Provincial Offences Officers and MTO Inspectors Cheryl Flynn, Mark Horton, and Larry Grimaldi, whose evidence follows. All the Director's witnesses were qualified by the Tribunal as Expert Witnesses for this hearing. The Curriculum Vitae for each of these witnesses was submitted by the Respondent, and entered into evidence as Exhibit #4.

Officer Flynn testified that she had dealt with the application for a MVIS licence for the Applicant in 1994. At that time, she attended at the location of the Applicant's place of business for the purpose of inspecting the facility to determine its compliance with the requirements for a licence, which was ultimately granted. At that time Sharon Pawluk, who was then married to the Applicant Al Pawluk, was identified as the President as sole corporate officer of 1059294 Ontario Inc., which was doing business as AP Automotive Specialties (Exhibit #3, tab 2).

Officer Flynn further testified that she had acted on a complaint dated July 18th, 1995 from the owner of a vehicle that had been certified and given a Safety Standards Certificate ("SSC") by the Applicant, and she subsequently initiated an investigation of the Applicant. Her investigation involved a 1984 Mercury Cougar that was found to have eight serious defects, including brake, steering and suspension systems of the vehicle. Each of the defects would have prevented the vehicle from meeting the standards for the issuance of a SSC. Officer Flynn determined that the vehicle did not meet the standards for a SSC at the time of the inspection and the SSC was issued. The Applicant was subsequently issued a caution as per section 90(3)(a) of the HTA for a vehicle that was not in compliance (Exhibit #3, tab 7).

The SSC for the above mentioned 1984 Mercury (Exhibit #3, page 32), bears the signatures of Mr. Al Pawluk on both sides of the bottom of the form, indicating that he was signing as the Inspecting Mechanic and the Licensee/Agent. Upon further inspection, it was discovered that Mr. Pawluk did not have the authority to sign a SSC on behalf of the company (Exhibit #3, tab 7) as his wife Sharon Pawluk was the sole Corporate Officer of the company. Nor had Mrs. Pawluk given Mr. Pawluk the authority to sign on her behalf. Officer Flynn issued a second caution to the Applicant and informed him that his wife must complete the standard MTO form authorizing him to sign the SSC's on her behalf (Exhibit #3, tab 8).

In April of 1998, Officer Flynn attended at the premises of the Applicant further to a notice regarding expired Motor Vehicle Inspection Station ("MVIS") licences. Officer Flynn testified that the Applicant's MVIS licence had expired on December 31st, of 1997, and that the Applicant had continued to issue SSC's even though the MVIS licence had expired. A total of 15 SSC's were issued by the Applicant during this period, and they were dated from January 7th to February 17th, 1998.

Officer Flynn also learned that in spite of the caution issued two years earlier, Mr. Pawluk had yet to obtain signed authorization from his wife to sign the SSC's as an agent of 1059294 Ontario Inc. Furthermore, Mr. Pawluk had signed the MTO List of Signing Authorities for giving another mechanic, a Mr. Bob Hannah authority to sign the SSC's, even though at that time Mr. Pawluk did not have authority to sign them, or the authorization form, himself. Four days after Officer Flynn visited the premises, Mrs. Pawluk signed the form authorizing Mr. Pawluk to sign the SSC's as an agent and licensee (Exhibit #3, tab 9). Officer Flynn subsequently charged the Applicant under section 91(1) of the Act, for issuing SSC's without a valid MVIS licence, and under section 90(3)(b)(ii) for failing to have the proper signing authority.

The second witness for the Director was Officer Mark Horton. Responding to a complaint dated January 31st, 2001, from the owner of a 1992 Chevrolet that had been issued an SSC by the Applicant (Exhibit #3 tab 10), an Officer Morris Brock of the MTO forwarded his inspection of said vehicle to Officer Horton, and advised that the MVIS that had issued this SSC should be audited. The vehicle was found by Officer Brock to have several defects relating to exhaust, rust perforation, front end, and braking systems rendering the vehicle as unfit, and which were determined by Officer Brock to have been present at the time that the SSC had been issued.

Officer Horton testified that on February 27th 2001, he and Officer Larry Grimaldi performed a Facility Audit on the premises of the Applicant. The officers discovered that the Applicant did not have any completed SSC books or related work orders for SSC's that had been issued. Officer Horton stated that, based upon the serial numbers of the SSC books issued by the MTO to the Applicant, there should have been twenty-seven completed SSC books (with twenty SSC's per book) on the Applicant's premises and over four hundred corresponding work orders covering the previous two years. The officers were informed by the Applicant that the documents had been stored in a room next to the facility, and had been accidentally thrown away.

Officer Horton explained to the Tribunal that the MTO does not currently have any way of determining what vehicles would have been issued SSC's by the serial numbers of the SSC's alone. Even though the MTO knew the serial numbers of the SSC's of the books that were missing, this information was insufficient in determining what vehicles each of those SSC's would have been issued to. Therefore, the only vehicles that could be identified and subsequently inspected, were those five vehicles that happened to have had SSC's issued to them from the one book of SSC's that was on the premises of the Applicant at the time of the facility inspection.

Officer Horton was able to locate a single SSC book on the premises that had five SSC's issued from it, though there were no corresponding work orders for these vehicles. The vehicle owners of three of the five vehicles for which these SSC's were issued were subsequently located, and their vehicles inspected. These vehicles were located in Fort Erie, London and Brantford, which are jurisdictions that are relatively far away from the Applicant's premises. (Exhibit #3 tabs 11,12,13).

On March 3rd, 2001, Officer Horton eventually met with both Al and Sharon Pawluk at the Applicant's premises. He testified that Mrs. Pawluk told him that as part of the divorce arrangement between Al Pawluk and her, she believed that she was no longer with the company and provided letters from her legal counsel to support this (Exhibit #3 tab 4 page 11,12). She also indicated to Officer Horton that the signature on file at the Applicant's premises giving Al Pawluk the authority to sign the SSC's as an agent on behalf of 1059294 Ontario Inc. was not her signature.

Officer Horton stated that he sent the file on one of the three vehicles, a 1987 Chevrolet, to Officer Bob Lickers who performed the inspection, since it was currently located in Officer Licker's jurisdiction. It had been issued an SSC by the Applicant on February 15th, 2001, and the vehicle was found to have several defects relating to its windshield, brakes, fuel lines, front end, steering components, and suspension. Any one of these defects would have rendered the vehicle unfit, and ineligible for an SSC. These defects appeared to Officer Lickers to have been present on the vehicle when it had been inspected for its SSC by the Applicant 15 days earlier (Exhibit #3 tab 11).

Officer Horton further testified that he sent the file on another of the three vehicles, a 1988 Ford, to Officer Brock who subsequently attended at the owner's residence to inspect the vehicle. Officer Brock reported that the vehicle had several defects relating to brakes, rust perforation and exhaust. Each of these defects should have prevented the vehicle from passing a safety inspection and receiving an SSC, as these defects were undoubtedly present at the time the SSC had been issued by the Applicant (Exhibit #3 tab 13).

As a result of these incidents, the Applicant was charged for certifying a vehicle that was not to standards as required by section 90(3)(a) of the Act, failure to keep work orders on the premises for one year as required by Regulation 601 10.(b), and failure to keep SSC records on the premises for one year as required by Regulation 601 10.(a). The Applicant pleaded no contest, and was convicted on all counts (Exhibit #3 pages 24,25)

The final witness for the Director was Officer Larry Grimaldi. He testified that he inspected a 1978 Ford that had been issued an SSC by the Applicant on February 19th, 2001. Officer Grimaldi stated that he found the vehicle to have several defects relating to brakes, exhaust, and severe corrosion damage. Each of the defects should have prevented the vehicle from qualifying for an SSC, and they were present at the time that the SSC was issued by the Applicant (Exhibit #3 tab 12).

Each of the vehicles inspected by the Officers had been issued SSC's by the Applicant that were signed solely by Al Pawluk. Photographs showed the extent of defects (Exhibits 6 and 7), and it appeared that the defective components, such as the brakes, exhaust, body and frame, had been in a condition of disrepair for a considerable length of time. Furthermore, Officer Grimaldi testified that when he attended at the premises of the Applicant, he asked Mr. Pawluk what was the colour of the 1978 Ford that he had issued an SSC for two weeks earlier. Mr. Pawluk did not recall that the vehicle was bright red in colour.

The Applicant's witness was Mr. Al Pawluk. His evidence follows.

At the hearing, Mr. Pawluk presented the Tribunal with two additional documents that he wished to be considered as evidence at this hearing. The first document was a letter dated September 19th, 2001 from his former wife, Sharon Pawluk. The second document was a letter dated August 13th, 2001 from H. Fennema of the Ministry of Finance Retail Sales Tax office. With the consent of the Respondent, both of these documents were entered into evidence as Exhibits #8 and #9 respectively.

Mr. Pawluk testified that from the years of 1986 until 1993 (when he formed 1059294 Ontario Inc. with his wife), he had operated another automotive repair business in which he was the sole proprietor. He stated that he had always been in control of the business and as such, had been accustomed to signing as the mechanic and as an agent for the MVIS. He argued that since the form giving him authorization to sign on behalf of the MVIS remained on the premises and was not required to be filed with the MTO, he did not feel it was of consequence to have his wife sign it, as it could have been signed by her at any time.

Mr. Pawluk further testified that he has other employment activities besides 1059294 Ontario Inc., including commercial snow plow operations and heavy equipment repairs for Domtar. As a result of these obligations outside of his shop, he hired Mr. Todd Allen to perform mechanical repairs on vehicles at the Applicant's facilities. Mr. Pawluk stated that Mr. Allen was not a licenced mechanic, however he assigned him the task of performing safety inspections on vehicles on his behalf. Mr. Pawluk also stated that it was Mr. Allen who actually did the safety inspections on the vehicles mentioned in the MTO officers Facility Audit reports. Mr. Pawluk indicated to the Tribunal that Mr. Allen turned out to be incompetent, and that he takes full responsibility for Mr. Allen's mistakes.

Mr. Pawluk challenged the testimony of the MTO officers by stating that in his opinion, several of the defects related to rust scaling on brake lines of the vehicles in question, did not constitute a condition that would have made them unfit for a SSC. Mr. Pawluk also stated that he later corrected the defective components of several of the vehicles when they were later returned to his garage by their owners. The Applicant did not challenge any other testimony from the Director's witnesses at this hearing.

Mr. Pawluk explained that the missing completed SSC books that had been issued to him but were not on the premises at the time of Officer Horton and Grimaldi's Facility Audit had been stored in a unit next to his garage. The unit had been rented to a restaurant operation, and it was they that had inadvertently thrown out the Applicant's records.

The Tribunal finds the following facts to be proven on the evidence:

1. 1059294 Ontario Inc. d/b/a AP Automotive Specialties (the "Applicant") was registered as a motor vehicle inspection station under the Highway Traffic Act and Regulations to issue Safety Standard Certificates in respect of motor vehicle's.
2. Al Pawluk (the "Applicant") was at all relevant times employed as an Inspecting Mechanic under the Highway Traffic Act and Regulations and was authorized to inspect motor vehicles prior to the issue of SSC's and to sign and complete such certificates.

3. The aforementioned vehicles as described by the Notice of the Director of Vehicle Inspection Standards (Exhibit #1) and listed herein, were issued Safety Standard Certificates by the Applicant, and contained various safety defects relating to key mechanical and structural components of those vehicles that were present at the time of the issuance of their respective SSC's. Each of these defects should have precluded the related vehicles from being issued an SSC.
4. The Applicant, after repeated cautions through the course of several contacts with MTO officers, was found to have consistently lacked the necessary authority to sign SSC's as an agent on behalf of 1006525 Ontario Limited.
5. Through the course of a facility Audit, the Applicant was found to be missing records of operation for the MVIS, including books of completed SSC's and corresponding vehicle work orders.

ISSUES:

The issues in this case may be summarized as follows.

Should the decision of the Director of Vehicle Inspection Standards to revoke the Motor Vehicle Inspection Station licence be carried out?

Should the decision of the Director of Vehicle Inspection Standards to revoke the Motor Vehicle Inspection Mechanic licence be carried out?

LAW:

The Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 Chap H.8 as amended, provides as follows:

Motor Vehicle Inspection Station Licence:

- 91(1) No person shall establish, operate or maintain a motor vehicle inspection station except under the authority of a licence issued by the Director under this Act and the Director may issue a licence for a motor vehicle inspection station subject to the conditions that the Director may specify in the licence.
- 91(2) Subject to subsection (3), any person who applies in accordance with this Act and the regulations for a licence to establish, operate or maintain a motor vehicle inspection station and who meets the requirements of this Act and the regulations and who pays the prescribed fee is entitled to be issued the licence

Revocation of a Licence

- 91(8) The Director may revoke or refuse to renew a motor vehicle inspection station licence

where,

- (a) any person has made a false statement in the application for the licence or a renewal thereof or in any safety standards certificate signed by the licensee or a person authorized in writing by the licensee or in any report, document or other information required to be furnished by this Act or the regulations or any other Act or regulation that applies to the motor vehicle inspection station;
- (b) any inspection authorized by the licence is incompetently performed;
- (c) the licensee or any motor vehicle inspection mechanic employed in the motor vehicle inspection station has misrepresented the condition of a vehicle with respect to the standards of equipment and performance prescribed by the regulations upon an inspection of the vehicle in the station for the purpose of determining whether or not to issue a safety standards certificate, sign a vehicle inspection record or affix a vehicle inspection sticker;
- (d) there is a breach of condition of the licence;
- (e) the licensee does not comply with this Act or the regulations;
- (f) the inspections that can be performed by the motor vehicle inspection station are misrepresented; or
- (g) a change in the officers or directors of any corporation that is a licensee would afford grounds for refusing to issue a motor vehicle inspection station licence under clause (3)(a)

Motor Vehicle Inspection Mechanic:

92(1) No person shall sign a vehicle inspection record as mechanic or certify in a safety standards certificate that a vehicle complies with the standards of equipment and performance prescribed by the regulations unless the person is registered by the Director as a motor vehicle inspection mechanic in a motor vehicle inspection station and the Director may so register any person for whom application is made under subsection (2).

- (2) Where a licensee or an applicant for a motor vehicle inspection station applies for the registration as a motor vehicle inspection mechanic in the motor vehicle inspection station of the licensee or in the proposed motor vehicle inspection station of the applicant for a licence, as the case may be, of any person who meets the requirements of this Act and the regulations, the person is entitled to be registered as a motor vehicle inspection mechanic in the motor vehicle inspection station.

93 The Director may revoke the registration of a motor vehicle inspection mechanic where,

- (a) the registrant or the licensee has made a false statement in the application for registration of the registrant or in a safety standards certificate or in any report, document or other information required to be furnished by this Act or the regulations or any other Act or regulation that applies to the registrant;

- (b) any inspection performed under the authority of the mechanic's registration is incompetently performed by the registrant; or
- (c) the registrant does not comply with this Act or the regulation.

Appeal before the Licence Appeal Tribunal:

95(1) Where the Director proposes,

- (a) to refuse to issue or renew a licence;
- (b) to refuse to make a registration; or
- (c) to revoke a licence or registration,

the Director shall serve notice of his or her proposal, together with written reasons therefor,

- (d) in the case of a proposal to refuse to issue a licence, upon the applicant;
- (e) in the case of a proposal to revoke or to refuse to renew a licence, upon the licensee;
- (f) in the case of a proposal to refuse to make a registration, upon the applicant or licensee and upon the proposed registrant; and
- (g) in the case of a proposal to revoke a registration, upon the registrant and the licensee of the motor vehicle inspection station in which the registrant is employed.

(2) A notice under subsection (1) shall inform the person who is the applicant, licensee, registrant or proposed registrant, as the case may be, that the person is entitled to a hearing by the [Tribunal] if the person mails or delivers, within fifteen days after receiving service of the notice under subsection (1), notice in writing to the Director and the [Tribunal] requiring a hearing by the [Tribunal] and the person may so require the hearing.

(4) Where the applicant, licensee, registrant or proposed registrant requires a hearing by the [Tribunal] in accordance with subsection (2), the [Tribunal] shall appoint a time for and shall hold the hearing and may by order direct the Director to carry out his or her proposal and to take the action that the [Tribunal] considers the Director ought to take in accordance with this Act and the regulations, and for such purposes the [Tribunal] may substitute its opinion for that of the Director.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO THE FACTS:

Under the HTA, the relevant sections dealing with revocation state:

91 (8) The Director may revoke or refuse to renew a motor vehicle inspection station licence where,

- (a) any person has made a false statement in the application for the licence or a renewal thereof or in any safety standards certificate signed by the licensee or a person authorized in writing by the licensee or in any report, document or other information required to be furnished by this Act or the regulations or any other Act or regulation that applies to the motor vehicle inspection station;
- (e) the licensee does not comply with this Act or the regulations;

93. The Director may revoke the registration of a motor vehicle inspection mechanic where,

- (a) the registrant or the licensee has made a false statement in the application for registration of the registrant or in a safety standards certificate or in any report, document or other information required to be furnished by this Act or the regulations or any other Act or regulation that applies to the registrant;
- (b) any inspection performed under the authority of the mechanic's registration is incompetently performed by the registrant; or
- (b) the registrant does not comply with this act or the regulations.

As to the revocation of the motor vehicle inspection licence, the evidence has established that the Applicant's facilities lacked the required authorizations, records and documentation necessary under the regulations for the performance of safety inspections.

As to the revocation of the registration of the motor vehicle inspection mechanic, the evidence has established that the vehicles that have been shown to have had SSC's issued by the Applicant all had safety defects present at the time of their inspections and SSC issuance. Furthermore, the veracity of the testimony of the MTO inspectors has been well supported by photographic evidence of the subject vehicles. These defects were of a very serious nature and include defects in braking and control systems, as well as vehicle structural integrity. In the Tribunal's opinion, these defects constitute an immediate safety hazard to both the vehicle owners and the motoring public.

The Tribunal is unimpressed with the explanations of the Applicant, who has placed the blame for these unsafe vehicles being issued with SSC's on an unqualified employee. Though the Tribunal recognizes the Applicant's efforts to accept responsibility for the situation, it finds that the Applicant abandoned his responsibilities as a licenced mechanic when he entrusted duties of inspecting vehicles to Mr. Allen, who the Applicant refers to as incompetent.

Furthermore, the Tribunal rejects the Applicant's contention that the authorization forms giving him the authority to sign as an agent on behalf of 1059294 Ontario Inc. were not of major significance since they remained on the Applicant's premises and could have been signed by his wife at any time. On these facts, it would have taken little effort for the Applicant to have had the authorizations properly signed; it should not have taken two years following repeated interventions from the MTO to do so. The failure of the Applicant to perform this relatively simple task, which is a requirement under the Act, does not give the Tribunal any substantial confidence in the willingness of the Applicant to operate an MVIS in accordance with the Act.

The Tribunal finds that the Director has shown the Applicant to have acted in a manner that defeats the integrity of the MVIS system. The Tribunal rejects the notion as presented by the Applicant, that some of the defects described as present on the vehicles at the time of inspections were insufficiently serious to make them unfit during a safety inspection. The Tribunal accepts the evidence contrary to this.

Each SSC bears the statement above the Applicant's signature: "We hereby certify that the above described motor vehicle has been inspected in accordance with the provisions of Sections 88 to 100 of the Highway Traffic Act and Regulations issued thereunder, and that the items inspected met the prescribed standards on the Date of Inspection."

In this case, the Director has shown that the Applicant, in signing SSC's for vehicles which have been shown to have had numerous and serious safety defects at the time of issuance, has made a false statement on each of the SSC's that Al Pawluk and 1059294 Ontario Inc. issued. This gives the Director the necessary grounds for the revocation of the MVIS Licence of the Applicant under sections 91(8)(a) and 93(a) and (c) of the Highway Traffic Act.

Furthermore, as Mr. Pawluk is currently both the licenced mechanic for 1059294 Ontario Inc. as well as its sole corporate officer, the Tribunal finds that the Director has demonstrated justification for his Order on the grounds that the actions of the Applicant have clearly shown that "the past conduct of the applicant or, where the applicant is a corporation, is of its officers or directors affords reasonable grounds for belief that the motor vehicle inspection station will not be operated in accordance with the law and with honesty and integrity;" as described by section 91(3)(a).

DECISION:

IT IS THE DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL to confirm the Order of the Director to revoke the MVIS License issued to 1059294 Ontario Inc, and to revoke the Motor Vehicle Inspection Mechanic registration issued to Al Pawluk.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on September 5, 14, and 26, and October 1, 3 and 4, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on October 5, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated August 17, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on August 17, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by cash.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters and Remarks

The facts set out hereinafter are a summary of the evidence. The Tribunal will refrain from making any comments on the conduct of the parties to this hearing, and will not transcribe any of the Applicant's complaints about the Respondent and the staff of this Tribunal, which could be deemed to be of a personal nature, or construed as threats of further legal proceedings against all involved in this matter.

The Tribunal recognizes that several issues were raised more than once. In the interest of simplification and clarification, the Tribunal will endeavour to present the arguments in the order in which they were heard, avoiding repetitions.

The Tribunal has reviewed all the material submitted by both parties, but will refer herein only to the material relevant to this appeal.

Throughout the course of these proceedings, as well in his written submissions, the Applicant made a plea for his costs in making his appeal and compensatory damages. The Applicant was advised and this Tribunal emphasizes that it has no jurisdiction to award such costs or damages.

On the first day of hearing on September 5th 2001, the panel hearing this matter consisted of Mr. David Hunt, who presided as panel chair, Dr. Antoine Aouad and Mr. Clarke Wallace. Mr. Hunt later withdrew from the panel due to illness.

The Representative of the Ministry provided the Tribunal with original certified copies of Ministry of Transportation documents on file.

Informing the Tribunal that he was a member of “two Bars”, the Applicant represented himself.

The Applicant introduced several Motions with respect to the Constitution of Canada, the Ontario Magna Carta, as well as allegations of misconduct on the part of the Tribunal, Ministry of Transportation, the Ontario Provincial Police and the Respondent. As these matters are not germane to the grounds for appeal under section 50.1, the Tribunal will deal with these issues under Preliminary Matters.

The Applicant objected to receiving the Respondent’s disclosure package on the morning of the hearing. Mr. David Milner, the solicitor for the Registrar, pointed out that the Applicant had stated “No fixed address” on his Notice of Appeal and therefore the Registrar had no way of delivering the documents and the videotape of the breathalyser session.

The Applicant also requested, and recommended, that the Tribunal proceed with a two member panel, consisting of Mr. Hunt and Mr. Wallace, as he believed that given the shortage of physicians in the province of Ontario, Dr. Antoine Aouad’s time would be better spent exercising the duties of a physician. The panel rejected this request.

While discussing the lack of jurisdiction of the Tribunal, the Applicant pointed out that he had not been charged with any offence, and the Promise to Appear previously signed by him, was “...null and void...”

An attempt was made by an OPP Constable to serve the Applicant with a document while the Applicant was in the body of the Tribunal. Although, a quasi-judicial body and not a Court of Law, the Tribunal must adhere to certain rules of decorum, thus the Constable was advised that service upon the Applicant would have to be effected outside the hearing room.

The Tribunal heard arguments from both the Applicant and the Respondent on the introduction and admissibility of the Applicant’s Driver’s Abstract as an Exhibit in the proceedings.

The Applicant argued that given the fact that the Ministry of Transportation Driver Record Search showed previous convictions for which the Applicant was pardoned in 1995, said record was inadmissible. The Applicant also alluded to Exhibit 2, his draft Notice of Action in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice relating to a Class Action Suit being commenced by the Applicant on behalf of the “Pardonee Class”.

As a reply, and throughout the course of the proceedings, the Respondent's solicitor countered that there was no evidence, other than the Applicant's word, that the Applicant had been pardoned. The solicitor for the Respondent further attempted to have the record admitted as a means of establishing the identity of the Applicant, at the time, and the fact that he was the holder of a valid Ontario driver's licence.

With respect to the admissibility of the Applicant's Driver's Record, the Tribunal ruled the abstract inadmissible. The Tribunal concurred with the Respondent's solicitor that there is no evidence that the Applicant has been pardoned. Nonetheless, at issue is not the Applicant's previous record, but the possibility of an existing medical condition which may have prevented the Applicant from failing or complying with the demand for a breath sample. The Applicant's Driver's Record is thus irrelevant to the proceedings.

On the matter of the Applicant's request for a number of blank subpoenas to be given to him, Section 12(2)(b) of the Statutory Powers Procedures Act prescribes that:

"A summons issued under subsection (1) shall be in the prescribed form (in English or French) and,

(b) where the tribunal consists of more than one person, shall be signed by the chair of the tribunal or in such other manner as documents on behalf of the tribunal may be signed under statute constituting the tribunal."

The Applicant requested a summons for:

1. Tom Long
2. Paul Rhodes
3. Five (5) blank Summons for members of the so-called "CENTRE" of the Ontario PC Government, also sometimes called the "Harris Government"
4. Michael Harris, Premier of Ontario
5. Chris Hodgson, member of PPC of the Ontario Cabinet
6. Robert (aka "Red Neck Rob") Runciman, MPP
7. David Yong, Attorney General
8. James Flaherty, former Attorney General, now Minister of Finance
9. Rob Sampson, Minister of Correctional Services
10. Elizabeth Witmer, former Minister of Health
11. Tony Clement, former Minister of Transportation, now Minister of Health
12. David Turnebull, Solicitor General

13. Brad Clark, Minister of Transport
14. Clerk of the Cabinet
15. Registrar of Motor Vehicles
16. All Members of the Licence Appeal Tribunal of Ontario
17. Commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police
18. Constable (?given name?) Watt (spelling) of the OPP
19. Blank Summons for five (5) other members of the OPP
20. Blank Summons for ten (10) Driver Examination Centre Supervisors
21. Blank Summons for ten (10) legally qualified medical practitioners.

The Tribunal stated that it would consider the relevance of the requested witnesses prior to the issuance of any summons to attend.

By fax received by the Tribunal on September the 10, 2001, the Applicant provided the Tribunal with copies of letters addressed to the Attorney General for Canada and Attorney General for Ontario, serving notice of Constitutional issues to be raised, as required by Rule 8 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal's Rules of Practice.

In his written submissions, the Applicant alleges that "The legal basis for the Federal Constitutional questions include, but are not limited to (1) Provincial encroachment into areas of exclusive Federal Criminal Law powers; and (2) The following Charter provisions: Preamble, sections 1, 2, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 15, 14, 25, 26, 28 and such other provisions as counsel may advise. The legal basis for the Provincial constitutional and human rights questions include but are not limited to various and sundry provisions of the Statutory Powers and Procedures Act, Human Rights Code, and other relevant provisions, laws, regulations of the province of Ontario".

The Applicant's September 10, 2001 facsimile transmission entered as Exhibit 8 also contains the following:

- a letter addressed to Mr. David Milner, solicitor for the Ministry of Transportation requesting disclosure of information
- notice of issues to be raised, i.e.
 - "1. Loss of Jurisdiction,
 - 2. Breach of Privacy,
 - 3. Prosecutorial Misconduct
 - 4. Unreasonable Delay;
- a dissertation entitled "Part 1 – Provincial Constitutional Issues;
- a letter addressed to the Applicant signed by "Michael D. Harris, MPP"

The Tribunal resumed on September 14, 2001. Due to illness, Mr. David Hunt withdrew from the panel. The panel continued with Dr. Antoine Aouad and Mr. Clarke Wallace. Dr. Antoine Aouad presided as panel chair.

In his opening remarks, the presiding Member informed the parties that due to personal medical reasons Mr. David Hunt was unable to continue with the hearing. Section 4.4 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act dealing with the issue of "Incapacity of Member" was read into the record: "If a member of a tribunal who has participated in a hearing becomes unable, for any reason to complete the hearing or to participate in the decision, the remaining member or members may complete the hearing and give a decision."

The hearing proceeded and new documents filed with the Tribunal were entered as Exhibits.

In reviewing the documents submitted by the Applicant in the facsimile transmission of September 10, 2001, filed as Exhibit 8, the Applicant noted that the letter from Mr. Harris to the Applicant had been stapled in error, and asked that the Tribunal remove said letter as part of the Exhibits.

The Tribunal considered the Applicant's Motion requesting that the Respondent disclose documents in the Applicant's list in Exhibit 8. The Tribunal noted that pursuant to the provisions of Rule 6.5 (1)(a) of the Licence Appeal Tribunal's Rules of Practice, the Respondent is required to disclose only those documents which the Respondent intends to rely upon or enter as evidence. The documents listed by the Applicant were not documents the Respondent intended to rely on or enter as evidence. Thus, the Respondent was not required to disclose the documents as requested by the Applicant.

The Tribunal addressed the Applicant's concerns regarding his allegation of Tribunal bias, constitutional challenge, and prosecutorial misconduct.

The Applicant objected to the order of presentation of issues stipulated by the Tribunal, insisting that the panel deal first with the Constitutional issue, then with the Prosecutorial Misconduct and lastly bias.

The Respondent's solicitor argued, that the issue of bias clearly needed to be addressed first, as the Tribunal would be relieved of jurisdiction were the Applicant successful in his argument.

The Tribunal agreed with the Respondent's view and directed the Applicant to present his evidence and submissions respecting his allegation of bias.

The Applicant proceeded by arguing that the suspension of his driver's licence was contrary to the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms (the "Charter") and the provisions referred to by the Applicant as the Ontario Great Charter, or Ontario Charter or the Constitution of Ontario, or Ontario Magna Carta. Given that his fundamental rights were violated, the Applicant intends to initiate a Class Action Suit against the Respondent and the Tribunal, and “...expose the Board Members for disobeying the Charter...”. Thus, the Applicant argued, due to the personal liability of the panel members as they are “being sued personally”, they could not hear this matter as they would be “...deciding their own case...”

The Respondent countered by highlighting that the “...test for the apprehension of bias must be reasonable...” The Applicant’s suggestion that he has sued, or may sue the Tribunal and its members is insufficient. Besides, the Statutory Powers Procedures Act renders the members of a Tribunal immune from liability.

Both the Respondent and the Applicant referred to several case law references to substantiate their positions.

This Tribunal considered the submissions of both parties respecting the Applicant’s allegation of bias on the part of the Tribunal based on the Applicant’s indication that he will be suing a number of people including the Tribunal and the Tribunal’s members individually. The panel did not agree with the Applicant’s submission that they are biased in this matter or that there is any reasonable apprehension of bias. The Tribunal asked the Applicant to continue.

Exhibits 8 and 9 specify the Applicant’s argument with respect to the Ontario Magna Carta.

At the hearing, the Applicant detailed the history of the Ontario Magna Carta, tracing it back to England and the “...governing Crown in 1215...” to Lord Simcoe, who agreed to incorporate parts of the Magna Carta into the Ontario Charter, and the fact that this law never having been repealed is “still on the books”.

The Applicant interprets the Magna Carta as granting the right for every individual to have a hearing prior to a privilege being denied. The Applicant pointed out that such hearing was denied him prior to his driving privileges being suspended under the Highway Traffic Act.

In concluding his argument, the Applicant asked that the Tribunal “...declare the licence suspension programme illegal and null and void ...and re-instate the licence...”

The Respondent asked that the Tribunal dismiss the Applicant’s claim on the following bases: the legislation in the Revised Statutes of Ontario to which the Applicant referred is general and did not contemplate driving privileges, there were no driver’s license in 1897 or 1902, the Highway Traffic Act specifically deals with the issue of licences, and later statutes supersede older ones.

The Tribunal heard and considered the Applicant’s position that the Ontario Magna Carta prohibits the taking of a franchise without a hearing and that this prohibition would apply to a suspension under section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act.

The Tribunal appreciates the thoughtful argument of the Applicant. However, the Tribunal ruled that the Magna Carta does not apply to this matter.

The franchise referred to by the Magna Carta and a driver's licence are not one and the same. The franchise referred to in the Magna Carta is a higher bundle of legal rights than a driver's licence, thus the Magna Carta's prohibitions do not apply.

Further, the taking of a franchise has a finality that is not present in this matter. In this matter, the licence is not taken permanently; it is not cancelled, but simply suspended for a period of time, under section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act. The degree of finality not being the same, the Magna Carta provisions, therefore, do not apply.

The Applicant raised an objection, under Rule 7 of the Tribunal's Rules of Practice regarding spectators sitting in the body of the Tribunal. The Applicant contended that in the course of the hearing he had dealt with and would be dealing with personal issues.

Although the Applicant later withdrew his objection to members of the public attending the hearing, the Tribunal noted the Applicant's objection and referred to Rule 7.2 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal's Rules of Practice which states that:

"An oral hearing shall be open to the public... unless

(2) intimate financial or personal matters or other matters may be disclosed ...of such nature ...that the desirability of avoiding disclosure thereof ...in the interests of any person affected ...outweighs the desirability of adhering to the principle that the hearings be open to the public."

The Applicant had ample opportunity to raise his concerns at the beginning of the hearing, but he chose not to do so until well after he had testified in the public hearing and provided the details of his medical condition. Thus, the Tribunal ruled that the hearing would remain open to the public.

Prior to making his submission on the applicability of various sections of Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms to this hearing, the Applicant requested that a ruling be made after each submission.

The Respondent objected and submitted that a ruling on each section should be made only after the entire argument was heard.

The Tribunal ruled that the complete argument on the Charter should be presented, and that there would be one ruling, referring to each section at the end of both arguments.

The first clause of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms argued by the Applicant was "S.8 – SEARCH AND SEIZURE – Everyone has the right to be secure against unreasonable seizure".

The Applicant condemned the 90 day suspension as illegal because there is no relationship between the suspension and the “evil” it is trying to prevent, there is no proof the Applicant would be driving impaired for 90 days, and there is “...no iota of evidence of alcohol consumption”. The Applicant concluded that the “seizure” of the driver’s license was “unreasonable” because it was totally “arbitrary”.

The Applicant suggested that alcohol detectors available today could be installed in all motor vehicles to prevent impaired driving. This technology costing under $100.00 would eliminate, in the Applicant’s view, the need for the suspension of licences.

The Applicant next referred to the application of Section 12 of the Charter, dealing with “TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT - Everyone has the right not to be subjected to any cruel and unusual treatment or punishment”. The Applicant’s contention that due to the technology available to prevent impaired driving, the suspension of a driver’s licence is “...unusual punishment...”. Referring to his own situation, the Applicant called attention to the fact that a vehicle is necessary for “...professional continuity...” and that he has been forced to hire a driver at considerable expense, and thus, was subject to unusual punishment.

Section 15 of the Charter relates to “Equality Rights” granting “EQUALITY BEFORE AND UNDER THE LAW AND EQUAL PROTECTION AND BENEFIT OF LAW.” The Applicant pointed out that section 15 is supported by section 28 which ensures “RIGHTS GUARANTEED TO BOTH SEXES - Notwithstanding anything in this Charter, the rights and freedoms referred to in it are guaranteed equally to male and female persons.”

To substantiate his position, the Applicant introduced a document entitled “Drinking and Driving in Ontario Statistical Yearbook 1997. (Exhibit # 11).

According to the Applicant, “...90% of the persons charged with impaired driving are males ...only 10% are females...” The Applicant claimed that these statistics demonstrate that the Police Force definitely discriminates against males.

The Applicant went on to allege that because most officers in the R.I.D.E. program are males, women who are stopped have an unfair advantage over males. The Applicant posits that when women are placed in squad cars with young virile male officers, certain favours may be exchanged, i.e. “...women give blow jobs to officers instead of blowing into the machine...”

The Applicant closed his dissertation on the Charter by underlining the reason for his challenge. The Applicant desires only to “...protect society...” and believes that “... one cop off the streets puts 2 teachers in the classroom...”

In his reply, Mr Milner, commented that the “...issues raised by the Applicant are inappropriate ...onus on Applicant to prove case ...Charter arguments fail for lack of evidence.”

Regarding Section 8, the Respondent stated that Section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act provides for the suspension of driver's licences and "...once the conditions exist the Registrar has no discretion..." The Respondent's counsel further submitted that this situation does not fall within search and seizure.

The suspension of a driver's licence is a sanction resulting from an offence, thus, according to the Respondent's counsel, section 12 dealing with unusual treatment or punishment does not apply.

The Respondent's counsel submitted that the Applicant's argument that he is discriminated against because he is male is invalid. Inequality of balance is not enough to support the argument that someone has been denied his rights. The Respondent's counsel maintained that Section 15 has not been proven.

The Tribunal considered the submissions of the parties respecting the Applicant's position that section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act, contravenes the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, particularly sections 8,12,15.

During his arguments, the Applicant made reference to the fact that on the night the breath test demand was made, the officers had absolutely no evidence of alcohol consumption on his part. The Tribunal notes that this appeal does not pertain to the issue of concentration of alcohol in the blood, but rather to suspension of a driver's licence under section 48.3(2) which allows the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to suspend a driver's licence in the event a "...person failed or refused to provide a breath or blood sample made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada)."

Also, the Tribunal appreciates the Applicant's desire to "...protect society..." However, the issue this Tribunal must adjudicate is whether the Applicant had a medical reason for refusing or failing to provide a breath sample. The determination of that is not advanced by the Applicant's argument that impaired driving detector technology can be installed in all motor vehicles.

Section 8 of the Charter provides that everyone has the right to be secure against search and seizure, and the Applicant argued that the suspension of his driver's license is a seizure which violates section 8. The Tribunal does not share this view. The Tribunal finds that the suspension of the Applicant's driver's licence under section 48.3 is not an unjustified state intrusion upon the Applicant's private property or domain as contemplated by section 8, and section 8 of the Charter does not apply.

Section 12 of the Charter provides that everyone has the right not to be subjected to any cruel and unusual treatment or punishment. The Tribunal finds that the suspension of a driver's license for failure to provide a breath sample as provided by section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act is not a punishment so excessive as to be grossly disproportionate to what is appropriate and is not such a punishment as to outrage standards of decency. Accordingly, section 12 of the Charter does not apply.

Section 15 of the Charter provides that every individual is equal before the law and is entitled to equal protection and equal benefit of the law, without discrimination. The Applicant argues that suspension of driver's licences is disproportionately against men and therefore is discriminatory. There is no evidence before the Tribunal of discrimination or that being male is the basis of such suspension. The statistics introduced by the Applicant reflect an average based on the number of people driving on highways which could be presumed to be predominantly male. In any event, such data does not establish that there is a contravention of the right to be equal before the law.

With respect to the Applicant's request for the Tribunal to issue a number of summons to attend this hearing, the Applicant quoted Rule 6.2 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal's Rules of Practice, which pertain to "Character, Conduct or Competence Issues", to substantiate his request for several summons to attend.

According to the Applicant, it was his intention to serve several medical experts to testify as to the symptoms found in a person afflicted with his condition. The Applicant also wanted to ensure that the police officers and individuals involved in the incidents of July 25th, that led to the suspension of the Applicant's driver's licence, would be present at the hearing.

The Respondent pointed out that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to issue a summons to attend to witnesses outside the Province, as requested by the Applicant, and further that the Tribunal has a duty to summons only those witnesses that are immediately relevant to the matter.

The Applicant was instructed to provide the Tribunal with the name and address of all possible witnesses by noon on Monday, September 17, 2001. Should he choose to do so, the requested subpoenas would be available by Tuesday, September 18th, and could be picked up at his convenience.

A formal Interim Order with respect to the Applicant's request for summons to attend was issued and released by the Tribunal on September 17, 2001.

A third day of hearing convened on September 26, 2001. The presiding Member, Dr. Antoine Aouad, was unable to attend due a medical emergency and after documents filed by the Applicant were entered as Exhibits 14 and 15, the matter was adjourned on consent of the parties by the panel member, Mr. Clarke Wallace to 9:30 a.m. October 3, 2001.

Following the attendance of the parties before the Tribunal on September 26, 2001, the Respondent requested that the Tribunal postpone the start of the hearing on October 3, 2001 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

On September 28th, 2001, at approximately 2:15 p.m., a member of the Tribunal's staff, Ms. Stacy Murphy left a voicemail for the Applicant informing him that a Teleconference was scheduled for 11:00 a.m. on October 1st, 2001 and that the Tribunal was to consider the request of the Respondent to change the commencement time from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on October 3rd, 2001 (Exhibit #12). This means of notice was chosen by the Applicant who would not give his address for service. With the Respondent in attendance by teleconference, a telephone call was placed by the Tribunal to the Applicant at 11:00 a.m. on October 1st, 2001. The Applicant's answering machine picked up, but the Applicant did not come to the phone. After hearing submissions from the Respondent's counsel, the Tribunal issued an Interim Order changing the commencement time of the hearing from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on October 3, 2001. The order was issued by the Tribunal and released on October 2nd, 2001.

On October 3, 2001, the hearing resumed, with the two panel members, Dr. Antoine Aouad and Mr. Clarke Wallace, Dr. Antoine Aouad presiding. The Tribunal asked the Applicant to address the panel respecting his complaints as stated in Exhibits 8 and 14:

1. Loss of Jurisdiction,
2. Breach of Privacy,
3. Prosecutorial Misconduct
4. Unreasonable Delay;

Prior to commencing his arguments, the Applicant requested that Exhibit #15, an Affidavit from the Applicant containing several attachments, be considered as an omnibus Motion. The Tribunal asked the Applicant to proceed.

For the record, the Applicant asked that copies of his driving record, attached to the Respondent's submissions, filed as Exhibit 16, be destroyed. The Tribunal re-iterated its ruling that his driving record was inadmissible and would not be considered by the Tribunal in these proceedings.

At this time, the Applicant submitted further documents, which on consent were entered as Exhibits. The Applicant offered to provide the Tribunal with a 107-page research paper, written by a Speaker of the Ontario Legislation outlining the Ontario Magna Carta, as the first legislation. As the matter of the Magna Carta was already ruled on, the document in question was not entered as an Exhibit.

Referring to Rules 7 and 7.2 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal's Rules of Practice, the Applicant requested that the Tribunal's record be sealed after the hearing, as it contained private information regarding his medical condition.

The Respondent's counsel objected to the Applicant's request. He pointed out that no one is forced to provide private medical information and that the Applicant voluntarily submitted the documents in question, knowing that hearings were public.

The Tribunal ruled that Exhibit #15, due to the personal nature of the contents, would be marked confidential.

With respect to “Loss of Jurisdiction”, the Applicant reiterated the points made in Exhibits 8 and 14, asserting that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction as “...at the commencement of the ...proceedings, no criminal charges (impaired, failure to blow or fail to stop) whatsoever were outstanding in relation to the appellant ...null and void Promise to Appear... “. Further, according to the Applicant as there was no previous record the officers had “...no reason to make the demand in the first place...”

To substantiate his position, the Applicant introduced case law regarding loss of jurisdiction by the Courts.

The Respondent's counsel noted that the Applicant was “...confused as to forum.” The Tribunal deals with suspension for failing to provide a breath sample, not drinking and driving. Further, there is no connection in law between a previous record and a Ministry suspension for failing to provide a breath sample.

The Tribunal noted that this appeal was initiated by the Applicant, as is his right pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, and that he now argues that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction. Whether or not criminal charges were laid against the Applicant is of no relevance to the issue before this Tribunal. That is a matter for a court of law to decide. The Tribunal is clearly mandated to deal with the issue of the suspension of his driver's licence under section 48.1, which is the matter brought to this Tribunal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act by the Applicant. The Tribunal ruled that it has the jurisdiction to proceed.

The Applicant offered no arguments with respect to his allegation of “Breach of Privacy and Unreasonable Seizure”, as the Tribunal ruled his Driver's Record inadmissible.

The Applicant made his submission respecting “Prosecutorial Misconduct”. The Applicant's complaint dealt with the failure to provide information and the untimely provision of information, as required by Rule 6 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal's Rules of Practice. The Applicant referred specifically to the 16 items listed in Exhibits 4 and 8, and to the fact that the Respondent's original submissions were received late.

Mr. Milner, the Respondent's counsel, responded that these are civil proceedings, the Applicant will not be convicted of anything, there is no prosecution, and that there is not the same obligation, regarding disclosure, as in criminal proceedings.

The Respondent's counsel continued by stating that where an Applicant steps forwards and appeals, the onus is on him to prove his case. There is no obligation on the Respondent towards the Applicant respecting disclosure, other than to disclose information directly pertinent to the issue. In this case the issue is straightforward: “...did he blow or not...”

The Tribunal considered the submissions of the parties. There can be no doubt that this is a civil law Tribunal. The Applicant is not being prosecuted and consequently there is no “Prosecutor”. This matter has been brought forward by the Applicant, and the onus is on him to prove the merits of his appeal. Disclosure, as previously stated, by the Respondent to the Applicant is only mandatory in so far as the Respondent must provide the Applicant with information which the Respondent will be relying on or introducing as evidence. Rule 6.5 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal's Rules of Practice, was complied with and the Tribunal found no basis in the Prosecutorial Misconduct argument put forth by the Applicant and dismissed that argument.

“Unreasonable Delay” was the next and final argument raised by the Applicant prior to dealing with the grounds for appeal under section 50.1.

The Applicant maintains that his “...right to fundamental justice has been infringed by way of unreasonable delay...” The Applicant bases his claim on four points: “... (i) July 25th, 2001 to about August 20th, 2001...could not find LAT; (ii) August 20th, 2001...denied ...of right and ability to issue summons to witness in order to prepare ...full answer and defence; (iii) August 20th, 2001 – September 5th, 2001 ...awaits hearing; (iv) September 5th, 2001 – Prosecutor ...not made any timely or meaningful disclosure ...necessitating an adjournment...”

The Applicant reiterated his position that his rights under the Charter were infringed due to delays, and requested the Tribunal order the issuance of a temporary licence.

In summary the Applicant concluded that there were three main reasons for the delays: “lack of information on the Tribunal ...lack of expedited hearing ...delays due to health...”

In order to prove his argument, the Applicant requested Mr. Kent McClure, Chair of the Tribunal be called as witness.

The Respondent's solicitor, Mr. Milner, denounced the Applicant's request to call Mr. McClure as a witness as a “...dilatatory tactic ...another attempt to delay...” The Respondent accentuated that the reason for the delays were the Applicant's failure to deal with grounds for appeal.

The Tribunal noted that usually hearings of this nature are heard in one day of proceedings. This matter has taken longer in order to accommodate the Applicant and allow fair and proper hearing time for all motions brought forth by the Applicant.

As for the Applicant's request to have Mr. Kent McClure testify as a witness, Section 12(1) of the Statutory Powers Procedures Act states that:

“ A tribunal may require any person, including a party, by summons,

- (a) to give evidence oath or affirmation at an oral or electronic hearing...
...relevant to the subject matter of the proceedings..."

The Tribunal found that Mr. McClure testimony was not relevant to the reason for appeal, being the suspension of the Applicant's driver license pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act.

The Applicant protested that he was unable to contact the Licence Appeal Tribunal due to "...false, out dated, and incorrect phone number information..." Information on the Licence Appeal Tribunal can be easily obtained by calling the Province of Ontario Information number and by accessing the Government of Ontario website on the internet. Thus, the Applicant's argument that "unreasonable delay" was caused due to lack of information about the Tribunal is dismissed.

The Applicant moved to exclude witnesses which the Tribunal granted.

The Applicant then introduced the issue of tampering of the police videotape of the breathalyser session.

The Applicant filed a website page headed "OWL Investigations, Inc." which the Tribunal entered as Exhibit #23. The Applicant indicated that he had "...not had the time to spend the $5,000.00 fee to get the video properly analysed..." Nonetheless, the Applicant pointed out that he has experience in matters of tampering of audio-visual tapes. In his opinion, a preliminary review of the videotape of the breathalyser session indicates that said tape has been tampered with.

According to the Applicant, had it not been for an illegal search of his driver's record, which indicted previous convictions, the tape would not have been made. Further, as the evidence exonerated the Applicant, "...the officer turned on other instruments to cause static interference so that the appellant's voice does not come through..."

In conclusion, the Applicant maintained that the videotape should not be viewed as it "...destroys the credibility" of the Applicant, is "...highly prejudicial" and is "...fabricated evidence..." Instead, the Applicant argued that a transcript of audio portion of the video tape should be made and admitted, as it would make clear that the Applicant informed the officers that he was refusing to blow for medical reasons.

The Respondent's solicitor argued that the Applicant's demeanour came through in the video and it is an essential piece of evidence to determine the Applicant's state at the time.

The Tribunal considered all the arguments. At issue is whether or not the Applicant had any medical reasons that would preclude him from complying with the breath demand. The onus is on the Applicant to provide medical grounds to corroborate his grounds for Appeal. Unless the Applicant was struggling for breath, or having a seizure, it would be difficult for the Tribunal to assess, from the videotape, the Applicant's state of health at the time of the demand and the video would not be determinative of that question. The Applicant believes that the video tape was tampered with, which, if true, does not support its audio component's veracity. In any event, no transcript of the audio portion has been made available to this Tribunal. Little turns on the evidence that could be provided to the Tribunal by the tape, either video or audio. Thus, the Tribunal ruled that the videotape be excluded as evidence and refused the Applicant's request that a transcript of the videotape be made and be entered as evidence.

Exhibit #13, previously submitted by the Applicant, is a photocopy of what appears to be newspaper articles regarding hospital lists and higher medical salaries leading to delays in medical care. The Applicant referred to this Exhibit to support his argument that Applicants "...are in an awkward position because it is impossible ... to come up with medical reports because it takes thirteen weeks. Thus ...rights denied due to lack of ability to obtain reports ...provisions limiting rights are contrary to Charter..."

The Applicant also pointed out that Section 15 of the Charter prohibits discrimination based on medical reasons. The Highway Traffic Act, discriminates because "...disabled people automatically lose their licences..."

The Applicant asked the Tribunal to review and acknowledge paragraph #34 of Exhibit #15. The Applicant raised an objection to a member of the panel making a determination in this matter, as it is "...conduct unbecoming of a physician to discriminate against the disabled..."

After the lunch break, the Applicant informed the Tribunal that he had observed a member of the panel, Mr. Clarke Wallace, speaking to the police officers involved in this matter. The Applicant enquired as to the subject matter of the conversation. The panel member, Mr. Clarke Wallace made a statement for the record confirming that he "did walk along St. Clair with the officers, talked about the weather, former job and out of town hearings."

The Applicant reiterated his request to have the file sealed after completion of the procedures. The Respondent's solicitor renewed his objection to the Applicant's request.

The Tribunal notes that the Interim Order released by the Tribunal incorrectly stated that counsel for the Respondent had no objection to the Applicant's request, and that typographical error is hereby corrected.

The Tribunal having already ruled on the confidentiality of Exhibit #15 now added Exhibit #28, to its Interim Order released October the 5th, 2001. Exhibit # 28 contains originals of documents in Exhibit # 15.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act (“HTA”) states:

50.1 (1) “A person whose driver’s licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.

(2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,

- (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or

- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason”.

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1),(2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

15. (1) “a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,

- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;

- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;

- (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver’s licence under section 50.1 of the Act;

- (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;

- (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and

- (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.

(2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.

(3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner.”

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

“A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal”.

FACTS:

The Applicant's Driver's Licence was suspended "July 25/01" and noted in the Applicant's Notice of Appeal (Exhibit # 1)

Page 2 of the Notice of Appeal requiring a "History of Diagnosis" and "Type of Measurements or recent test taken " which could be filled in by the Applicant's physician, has been left blank except for the Applicant's remarks: "Contrary to Charter".

The Applicant attached to the Notice of Appeal a typewritten sheet, entitled "SUMMARY OF MEDICAL ISSUES – THE APPLICANT" setting out the "Diagnosis" and "Treatment" of the Applicant's medical grounds for appeal:

"Diagnosis:

1. Hypothyroidism (Secondary – Pituitary)
2. Narcolepsy
3. Consequential Bio-based Major Depression

Treatment (respectively)

1. 75 to 300 mg Syntroid daily
2. 10 to 60 mg of Adderall daily
3. 75 to 150 mg of Effexor daily."

The Applicant also tendered in evidence two Gamma Dynacare laboratory results. (Three Gamma Dynacare are attached to the Notice of Appeal, however the last sheet is a duplicate of the first.) The Service Date is "2001/01/08". Physician # 1 made the request from the Patient Centred Clinic, 72 Main Street, Waterdown, Ontario. The laboratory results appear to be addressed to the Applicant at the same address as that of Physician # 1.

Several receipts for prescriptions made out to the Applicant are attached to the Notice of Appeal, together with hard copies of Internet downloads containing information on the prescriptions taken by the Applicant and on "Rescue Remedy".

In an Affidavit sworn September 25th, 2001, received by the Tribunal on September 26th, 2001, the Applicant details his medical history and medications (Exhibit #15). Exhibit 15 is confidential.

Under the Heading "Diagnosis and Medications Prior to July 25th, 2001", the Applicant states his information as to his diagnosis.

Attached to the Applicant's Affidavit are copies of recent prescriptions and receipts for medication, copies of drug manufacturer's information from Knoll Pharmaceutical Company and Wyeth-Ayerst Canada Inc. and Shire Pharmaceuticals.

In paragraph 12 of his Affidavit, the Applicant refers to a quote from the notes of Police Officer # 1.

Paragraph 17, states that as a result of the motor vehicle collision he suffers a number of injuries and lists them.

The Applicant alleges, in paragraph 18 that due to Police Officer # 1's refusal to allow the Appellant medication or medical attention after the collision, the Applicant immediately consumed 2 full 2 ounce bottles of an aroma therapy, referring to it by name.

The Applicant lists various subsequent treatments he sought and/or received.

The Applicant declares that the first reason for his referral to give a breath sample was medical inability which he summarizes. Further, the Applicant refers to a number of post-collision medical services he required.

The Applicant provided photocopies of bills from dental practitioners. (Exhibit # 27)

The Respondent provided the following Documents:

1. Notice to the Registrar.
2. Driving Record of the Applicant.
3. Vehicle Record of plate ADRR051

The portion of the hearing dealing with the grounds for appeal under Section 50.1 commenced in the afternoon of October 3rd and continued through October 4th, 2001.

The Applicant called Police Officer # 2 as his witness.

Prior to questioning his witness, the Applicant insisted on verifying the documents brought by the officer, that is, to confirm that the police officer's notes were the same as those already in the possession of the Applicant.

The Applicant, by leading questions to the witness and by stating the facts according to his view, attempted to establish that it was clear his inability to provide a breath sample was due to three reasons: "1. trauma due to the collision; 2. thyroid/adrenal deficiency; 3. torture".

The Applicant also alluded to the fact that he had broken several gold inlays in his mouth, and that this was causing him quite a bit of discomfort, at the time.

In reply to questions posed by the Applicant in examination in chief and in cross-examination by the Respondent's solicitor, Police Officer # 2 testified that he is an experienced breathalyser technician.

Police Officer # 2 recalled being told by the Applicant that his reasons for refusing a breathalyser test were medical, but at no time did the Constable observe the Applicant in dire need of medical assistance, nor did the Applicant request medical assistance. There are strict guidelines that need to be adhered to in order to obtain a blood sample, instead of a breath sample. Police Officer # 2 saw no need to request a blood sample of the Applicant as there was no indication that he would not be able to provide a breath sample.

Police Officer # 2 is trained in first aid and testified to being able to recognize the symptoms of a person in shock; he noticed no such symptoms in the Applicant. Police Officer # 2 observed no breathing difficulties on the part of the Applicant, and obtained no reply from the Applicant when he posed the question of whether the Applicant "...could form a tight seal over the mouthpiece..."

Police Officer # 2 testified that when asked to provide a breath sample the Applicant replied, "How do I know you will not torture me as you did with the handcuffs."

The Applicant called Police Officer # 1 to testify, who gave evidence as to the incidents that led to the breathalyser session.

At no time did Police Officer # 1 observe the Applicant suffering any type of physical discomfort, nor did the Applicant advise him he was in pain, or request medical attention. The Applicant did inform Police Officer # 1 that he was late in taking his medication.

Police Officer # 1 had stood nearby while Police Officer # 2 made the demand for a breath sample from the Applicant. Police Officer # 1 testified that he heard the Applicant reply to Police Officer # 2 that he was refusing to provide a breath sample because he had been "tortured by the handcuffs"

The Applicant took the stand to testify on his own behalf. Having suggested that the Tribunal adopt his omnibus motion as statements of fact, the Applicant proceeded to offer the Tribunal a "background" to his Affidavit.

The Respondent's solicitor objected, saying that the Applicant could not "...have it both ways ...make a choice ...provide Affidavit or give evidence..."

On the basis that the Tribunal is a somewhat informal forum, the Tribunal allowed the Applicant leeway to articulate his position.

The Applicant gave a synopsis of his medical condition since childhood.

The Applicant explained, “...as the pituitary does not communicate with the thyroid ...medication is prescribed...”. The symptoms of hypothyroidism are “...degeneration of the nerves and a higher pain threshold than other people...” This, the Applicant suggested, is the reason for his demeanour on the night of in question, and the fact that he demonstrated no pain.

The Applicant referred to the dental bills pointing out that this evidence is relevant as the Applicant has “...$25,000.00 worth of gold inlays in his mouth”.

As a consequence of the collision, the Applicant “...gritted his teeth and broke the seals of overlays and inlays exposing nerves to air and causing pain...”.

As he began his cross-examination, the Respondent's solicitor, Mr. Milner, asked if the Applicant had “...the original stapled version of the Affidavit filed as Exhibit 15,” and whether the copies made available to the Tribunal were true copies of the original. Mr. Milner referred to and questioned the Applicant with respect to the correction of the lettering of the order of exhibits attached to his Affidavit. “Exhibit 'K'”, appeared to be a correction, but was not initialled by the commissioner, as required, for the proper swearing of documents.

The Applicant replied that he did show the Commissioner a complete stapled document, but he was unable to provide this version to the Tribunal.

Mr. Milner took this opportunity to impugn the Applicant's credibility by noting that the copies the Applicant claimed had been originally stapled together “...had no staple holes...”

Under questioning by Mr. Milner, the Applicant testified that he was “...fit to drive at the time but would not have been very much longer...” and that “...when medication is withdrawn ...shows signs of fatigue ...systems begin to shut down ...lethargic in speech ...may become comatose...”. The Applicant further stated that medication needs to be constantly adjusted, and that his was changed approximately one month after the accident.

In his closing submissions, the Applicant repeated his request that the rulings concerning his challenges to the Charter be made in writing, and reminded the Tribunal that it had not ruled on the Section 15 dealing with discrimination of disabled individuals.

With respect to the medical reasons for the refusal to provide a breath sample, the Applicant restated the three reasons offered during his viva voce evidence: “...trauma after injury; severe hypo and adrenal deficiencies, was without life sustaining medication for some time ...improper treatment by the officer who excessively failed to push the button of the handcuffs causing nerve and tissue damage of the hands...”

The Applicant remarked that it was important that the Tribunal realize there had been a long-standing illness and that he needs at least two “...life sustaining medications...”

Referring to previous decisions of the Tribunal, the Applicant noted that everything from panic disorders to nose and palate problems have been accepted by the Tribunal as grounds for reinstatement.

The Applicant clarified that he refrained from serving the physicians with the Tribunal's summons to attend to give evidence at this hearing, although he had originally intended to do so, as he did not “...wish to deprive a young person or an older person of medical services.”

The Applicant asserted that there is sufficient evidence to warrant the return of his driver's licence.

The Respondent offered no viva voce evidence at the hearing but relied upon the evidence given by the witnesses at this hearing and the documentation filed during the hearing.

Mr. Milner, counsel for the Respondent, in his closing remarks, submitted that despite the length of the hearing, the matter “...was not complex...”. There is no connection with most of the issues raised by the Applicant and his ability to provide a breath sample.

Mr. Milner said the issue was whether there was a medical reason for the Applicant's refusal to provide a breath sample. According to Mr. Milner, there is no relation between the Applicant's long-standing illness and his reasons for refusing to provide a breath sample when it was requested. The Applicant has been on medication for years, and it is “too far fetched” to believe that a few hours delay would cause the effect claimed by the Applicant. In fact, if one is to accept that the Applicant's condition was as severe as he describes, then one has to agree that he would have been incapable of operating a motor vehicle.

During the course of the evening, when the Applicant was asked by the police for a breath sample, the Applicant talked normally, behaved normally, did not appear to be in physical distress or shock and did not ask for medical assistance. Both officers testified that the primary reason by the Applicant for refusing the breathalyser test was “torture”.

Mr. Milner asked that the Registrar's decision to suspend the Applicant's driver's licence be upheld by the Tribunal.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

Throughout the presentation of evidence with respect to the grounds for appeal under Section 50.1 (2) (b), the Applicant veered off course several times, reiterating his previous arguments of unfair treatment, “torture” and incompetence on the part of all involved in this matter. The Applicant also renewed his attempts to have a transcript of the audio part of the videotape produced and read into testimony. The Applicant stated that the video was tampered with. The Tribunal ruled that the videotape would not be introduced into evidence.

In assessing the evidence before this Tribunal, where there is any conflict between the Applicant and the two police officers called as witnesses, the Tribunal accepts that of the two police officers.

As to the Applicant's argument on section 15 of the Charter, introduced late in the course of the hearing, that section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act discriminates against the disabled, the Tribunal finds that it does not, in that it offers all members of the public the same rights.

The issue to be determined by this Tribunal is whether the Applicant had a medical condition that caused the Applicant to fail or not to comply with the breath demand within section 50.1 (2) (b) of the Highway Traffic Act.

As emphasized by this Tribunal several times throughout the hearing, the onus is on the Applicant to provide the Tribunal with a medical reason as to why he was unable to provide a breath sample.

Section 50 (2) (b) of the Highway Traffic Act, allows an appeal on the grounds:

“... person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason...”

The Applicant admits to refusing to provide a breath sample but asserts that he refused, as he knew that his medical condition would prevent him from providing an adequate sample.

An Affidavit outlining the Applicant's medical condition, together with several attachments detailing the effects of prescribed and homeopathic medications was provided by the Applicant. Yet, the Applicant did not support his Affidavit with corroborating medical reports. No medical expert was called by the Applicant to give evidence. The Applicant did request blank summons for the physicians, but did not provide the Tribunal with any names and addresses although given a specified date to do so.

The Applicant explained that the reason for his inability to provide medical reports to support his appeal was due to the delays in obtaining appointments to consult with a physician. The Tribunal understands and accepts the notion that there are delays involved in obtaining appointments with specialists. Nonetheless, the Applicant's contention for not providing medical reports is vague and unconvincing. By the Applicant's own admission, his condition requires constant monitoring and modification of medication. In fact, the Applicant testified that his dosage was changed a month or so after the accident. As prescribed medication can only be altered with the consent of a physician, it would appear the Applicant had occasion to see a physician around that time. Thus, there is no basis to accept the Applicant's justification for not providing supporting medical reports.

The appointment card with the neurologist Physician # 2 indicates that the Applicant had an appointment on August 9 (Exhibit # 15). This contradicts the Applicant's argument that he had difficulty in seeing a physician.

The Applicant introduced a letter from N.G., from Physician # 2's office. The Tribunal questions the substance and pertinence of this letter, in light of the fact that, as previously stated, the Applicant had an appointment scheduled with Physician # 2 on the 9th of August (Exhibit # 15).

The Applicant testified that he had been without "life sustaining medication" for some time and was suffering some of the effects of lack of medication at the time of the incident. Mr. Milner retorted that if the condition was as severe as described, the Applicant would have demonstrated the need for immediate medical assistance. The Tribunal concurs. There is no evidence that the Applicant requested assistance or went to an Emergency facility after being released.

Further, in the absence of supporting medical reports the Tribunal is forced to rely on the eye witness observations of the two officers involved. Neither officer observed the Applicant afflicted with any particular physical or traumatic distress which would prevent him from providing a breath sample.

The Applicant argues that the powers of section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act, allow the officers to obtain a blood sample. Obtaining a blood sample is a discretionary measure. Police Officer # 2, testified that he saw no reason as to why the Applicant would not be able to provide a breath sample. In fact, Police Officer # 2 asked the Applicant if he was able to form a tight seal over the mouth piece. The Applicant opted not to reply.

The Tribunal does not dispute the fact the Applicant has long standing illnesses requiring medication on a regular basis, but sees no relation between the Applicant's health difficulties and his refusal to comply with the breath sample demand.

The Tribunal finds that the Applicant has failed to establish the merit of his appeal. Thus, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant does not meet the criteria of Section 50.1 (2) (b), in that he was not able to demonstrate that he suffers from a medical condition which would prevent him from providing a breath sample when it was demanded of him.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated July 25, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

BACKGROUND

1. 1018369 Ontario Inc. o/a Travel Mart (hereinafter referred to as the "Registrant") has been registered as a travel agent (registration number 4163275/R) and travel wholesaler (registration number 4163267/W) under the Travel Industry Act, R.S.O., c. T-19, as amended (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") since May 31, 1993.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS – GROUNDS FOR THE PROPOSAL

2. Subsection 24(2) of the Regulation states that if a registrant had sales of less than $10 million during the previous fiscal year, the registrant shall file within three months of the end of the fiscal year annual financial statements with a review engagement report by a public accountant licensed under the Public Accountancy Act.
3. By letter dated November 24, 2000, TICO requested that the Registrant file its financial statements for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2000 by March 31, 2001.
4. On April 10, 2001, TICO sent a second request for the Registrant's financial statements for its December 31, 2000 year-end, which gave the Registrant a deadline of April 30, 2001.
5. By letter dated May 1, 2001, the Registrar, Travel Industry Act informed the Registrant that if it did not provide its financial statements by May 16, 2001, the Registrar would initiate administrative action including a proposal to revoke registration.
6. By letter dated May 11, 2001, the Registrant requested an extension to file its financial statements by May 30, 2001.

7. By letter dated May 14, 2001, TICO reminded the Registrant of its obligation to file its financial statements and noted that the Registrant had been late filing its 1998 and 1999 financial statements.
8. By facsimile dated June 15, 2001, TICO again reminded the Registrant that its financial statements were due.
9. By August 8, 2001, the Registrant had failed to submit its financial statements. On that date, the Registrar issued a Proposal to Revoke the Registrant's registration.
10. On August 24, 2001, the Registrant filed its financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2000. The statements, as filed, were unacceptable, because they were not prepared under a Review Engagement Report as required by the Regulation.
11. By letter dated August 28, 2001, TICO advised the Registrant that its financial statements were deficient.
12. On October 15, 2001, the Registrant filed its financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2000, which were due by March 31, 2001.

COMPLIANCE HISTORY – LATE FILING

13. The Registrant has a history of late filing as summarized by paragraphs 14 through 16.
14. The Registrant's financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1995, which were due by March 31, 1996, were filed on May 27, 1996
15. The Registrant's financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1998, which were due by March 31, 1999, were filed on May 10, 1999.
16. The Registrant's financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1999, which were due by March 31, 2000, were filed on June 12, 2000.
17. The parties agree that the facts set out in the above-noted document are true.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsections 6 (4) and (5) of the Travel Industry Act directing that:

9. the Registrar refrain from carrying out the Proposal to Revoke Registration dated August 8, 2001;
10. the Registrant's registration is to be subject to the following terms and conditions:
 - (n) The Registrant shall file its financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2001 by March 31, 2002 and in accordance with section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;
 - (o) The Registrant shall file its financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2002 by March 31, 2003 and in accordance with section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time; and

(p) If the above-noted financial statements as filed are incomplete, the Registrant will have 14 days from the date of notice of the deficiency to fully and completely address the deficiency and produce proof of such correction to the Registrar. Notice of the deficiency, if any, shall be sent by registered mail to the Registrant.

11. Should the Registrant fail to comply with conditions listed in paragraphs (2) (a) through (c) inclusive, the Registrar shall revoke the Registrant's registration on five (5) days written notice sent via hand delivery or by registered mail.

12. This order shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of each of the parties to this order.

INDEPENDENT LEGAL ADVICE

The Registrant further acknowledges by its signature below that it has obtained or has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to its consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

LAURIE IRENE SMITH, Applicant

DATE OF HEARING: October 29, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: October 31, 2001

By Teleconference

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on October 29, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Laurie Irene Smith, (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	1990 Ford Aerostar, plate no. 618Z0R (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	October 11, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on October 29, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of her appeal states:

I am writing this appeal under the exceptional hardship claim for the impoundment of my only vehicle. I am the soul owner and driver of a 1990 Aerostar Van. I purchased the vehicle for use of transportation for our four children to and from school, this is my only means of transportation to my employment and to drive my husband to and from work. We have been supporting ourselves with my only means of finance which is my employment of 22 years at a Nursing home in our home town of Chatham. My husband was recently hired at a factory in nearby Ridgetown, which is approximately 30 minutes away, after he had been unemployed with no income for 8 months. In the past 2 months I have paid a great amount of money out in repairs to my van to keep it running which has added to my financial situation. Since my husbands license suspension I drive him to and from his employment. The day my vehicle was impounded I was ill in bed and was willing to attempt to drive my husband to work, because of his new employment he could not afford to miss anytime in fear of loosing his job. My husband knew I was too ill to drive that far and there was no other way of him getting to work, so he took it upon himself to take my van and leave for work. He left without me knowing or permission. Since my vehicle has been impounded I have no transportation for my four children or myself to get to work. We are currently seeking residents in Ridgetown therefore my husband can walk to work, but I need my vehicle to drive to and from work and transportation for my children. The officer involved was very helpful and came to my home the next day to explain how I could retrieve my vehicle sooner out of impound because of my financial situation and hardship for getting to my job. I spoke to the company where my van was taken and it will cost $900 to retrieve my van after 45 days. She also explained because of the situation in which the van was impounded I should definitely send in an appeal as soon as possible. If I cannot get my vehicle released as soon as possible I am in fear of loosing my job and my husband will also loose his.

I must also request a telephone hearing appeal because I have no type of transportation to another city for an oral hearing. Myself and the driver at the time of impoundment (Mark Smith) can be present for a telephone hearing.

Any decision made or documents can be faxed to the O.P.P. station in Chatham Kent at 519-352-3573. After I (Laurie Smith) have been notified of the station receiving any documents they will allow me to pick them up, as to not delay the impoundment.

Telephone hearing number 519-358-7491 which is my address in Chatham. I have enclosed my sales receipt from a few years ago as my ownership has been lost in the process of towing and impoundment it cannot be found. I will purchase another ownership from the MTO office as soon as I can.

Oct. 11/01
Laurie Smith

After reading her original statement the Applicant went on to explain that her husband worked from 1530 to 0200 or 10.50 hours per day. Most shift periods are from 1600 to 2400 or 8.00 hours and no explanation was offered for this departure from the "norm". Apparently, bus service locally does not begin until 0700 hrs and as a result she must walk to work which takes her 40 minutes. No distance in kilometres was offered. The Applicant could not explain her husband's refusal to sign the Notice to the Registrar but suggested he was very frustrated by the police officer and his predicament. She was well aware of the driver's licence suspension and poor driving history of her husband Mark Joseph Smith who has had a series of driving convictions dating back to 1978 and whose licence is currently under suspension until May 2, 2002.

She stated that taxi fare to her job was $8.00 each way. Her children take the school bus but for the older child who is involved with after school activity and has no apparent means of getting home but her mother's van. Without a credit card she did not attempt to rent a car nor get someone else to rent it for her.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Mark J. Smith;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Fail to Provide Breath or Blood Sample under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until May 2, 2002.

The Respondent questioned the Applicant respecting her efforts to find a substitute vehicle at which time the Applicant disclosed that she had been driving her father's car since the suspension but he will need it himself after November 7, 2001. It was at this point that the Respondent disclosed that the Applicant's driver's licence expired in June 2001 and had not yet been renewed. The Respondent also pursued the unexplored options for substitute transportation. The Applicant had sought few alternatives with any conviction, particularly fellow employees and neighbors.

The Respondent also reviewed with the Applicant the necessary evidence that must be presented or disclosures that must be made to support her application for appeal under the section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.

- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has appealed under section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act on the basis that the impoundment of her vehicle will and has resulted in exceptional hardship and has caused her difficulty in getting to her job and other family needs. Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific and provides the Tribunal with clear criteria that must be met by the Applicant in order to establish exceptional hardship as a result of the impoundment.

The Tribunal cannot consider any other factors arising from or directly related to the impoundment itself.

Under section 22(2) of Regulation 632/98, the Tribunal cannot consider financial or economic loss or loss of employment or employment opportunity unless the Applicant demonstrates that all the criteria set out in section 22(3) apply. One of those criteria is that no alternative to the impounded vehicle is available.

Furthermore section 22(4) of the Regulation requires the Applicant to demonstrate that every reasonable option has been explored including an alternative vehicle.

In this case, the Applicant has not shown that she has explored every reasonable alternative to the impounded vehicle. In any event, exceptional hardship can not be established as a result of the impoundment if the Applicant has an alternative and here the Applicant has been using her father's car to this date and will continue until November 7, 2001 at least.

Also, the Applicant has established that the impoundment of her vehicle is very inconvenient, but she has not presented the Tribunal with any evidence that would support exceptional hardship, which is her ground for her appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act. The burden to provide evidence to support her appeal under the Act is that of the Applicant.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

STEVEN MAHADEO

APPEAL FROM A DECISION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS
COMPENSATION FUND

TRIBUNAL: MARJORIE L. HILEY, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES: STEVEN MAHADEO, representing himself
AVIVA R. HARARI, Counsel, representing the Board of Trustees, Ontario Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund

DATE OF
HEARING: September 10, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

The Board of Trustees, Ontario Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund (the "Board") issued a decision letter on May 11, 2000 refusing the Applicant's claim on the basis that it was a loan as a commercial creditor, that at the time of the transaction the Applicant was registered as a salesperson, and that the dealership in question was taking steps to have the judgment set aside. The Applicant by his Notice of Appeal dated May 15, 2000 requested a hearing before the Tribunal. The matter came before the Tribunal at a hearing on August 1, 2000, but the Tribunal in its decision dated August 2, 2000 declined jurisdiction because the judgment was not final.

The Board issued a second decision on June 6, 2001. It denied the Applicant's claim because the claim arose from a loan as a commercial creditor and at the time of the transaction the Applicant was a registered salesperson. The Applicant appealed by Notice of Appeal dated June 20, 2001.

The Tribunal scheduled a hearing date for August 7, 2001. By motion heard on July 31, 2001 the Tribunal granted an adjournment of the hearing date to September 10, 2001.

At the beginning of the hearing on September 10, 2001, Counsel for the Board withdrew the allegation that the Applicant was not a salesperson at the relevant time. Accordingly, the only issue before the Tribunal was whether or not the transaction would be considered a commercial loan.

ISSUE:

Is the Applicant entitled to recover his claim from the Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund or is his claim to be denied on the basis that the Applicant was a commercial creditor of the motor vehicle dealer?

EVIDENCE:Testimony of Steven Mahadeo:

The Applicant, Steven Mahadeo, testified that his claim is based on a retail sale set out in a Bill of Sale for a 1991 Bonneville motor vehicle with B & J Auto Sales. Although the registration of the dealer is that of a wholesale dealer, the Applicant stated that B & J Auto Sales was nonetheless representing itself as a retail dealer and had its name on a sign outside its offices.

The Applicant stated that he paid a $10,000.00 deposit to B & J Auto Sales, but he did not get a car. The dealer had said the car was not coming off lease in October, 1997 as expected, and he needed to get another car for the Applicant. The dealer suggested that the Applicant come to a motor vehicle auction. To do that, however, the Applicant had to be registered. The Applicant stated that the dealer sent in an application for him to be registered as a salesperson in late October, 1997, and the Applicant was subsequently registered as a motor vehicle salesperson.

After being registered, the Applicant said that he went to an auction in Oshawa at least two and maybe three times, but he did not buy a car during those visits. He asked for his money back from the dealer. The dealer said he did not have to give it back for ninety days, but after that time had expired the dealer did not return the Applicant's deposit.

The Applicant further testified that he worked as a salesperson for the dealer from October, 1997 to May, 1998. He received a commission on sales during this time.

The Applicant obtained a judgment in Small Claims Court in February, 1999 in the amount of six thousand dollars plus costs. The dealer filed an appeal. On appeal, the judgment was reduced to three thousand dollars. The Applicant explained that on appeal there were witnesses who testified that the Applicant did not work for the dealer. As well, the judge looked at the accounting prepared by the dealer and found that the dealer had already paid him about seven thousand dollars of the debt, leaving a debt of three thousand dollars. The Applicant stated that he had not appealed this decision nor to his knowledge had the dealer.

The Applicant referred to a cheque for $1698.00 (Exhibit 4, Tab 5) which had written on it, "return of investment". The Applicant alleged that the words "return of investment" were written on the cheque after the cheque had been cashed.

Regarding a cheque dated April 4, 1998 (Exhibit 4, Tab 4, page 4) the Applicant alleged that the cheque was forged and that it was for the amount of two hundred dollars and not forty-two hundred dollars.

Regarding a receipt dated March 23, 1998 (Exhibit 4, Tab 4, page 3) the Applicant stated that he had not signed it, it was not his signature and he did not obtain the four thousand dollars.

The Applicant stated that he knew Mr. Darling, the owner of B & J Auto Sales. Mr. Darling was in business with the Applicant's brother in a business called Bud and Roy's. This business operated from the same location as B & J Auto Sales. It was a mechanic shop.

The Applicant stated that his payment of $10,000.00 to B & J Auto Sales was not a commercial loan. The Bill of Sale had no interest rate or maturity date.

The Applicant testified that he saw the 1991 Bonneville, referred to in the Bill of Sale, in the dealer's parking lot. He did a test drive of the car. He testified that at that time the dealer had not obtained the VIN number for the car.

The Applicant reiterated that a receipt for four thousand dollars was not a separate receipt but just a poor copy of the March 23, 1998 receipt.

Under cross-examination, the Applicant stated it was not his responsibility to take down the VIN number. The mileage of the car was on the dealer's computer so it became part of the agreement. The full VIN number was not on the computer.

The Applicant testified that he had found the car to be in excellent condition. The Bill of Sale is dated October 16, 1997 after he had test driven the car. He stated that he asked the dealer many times for his deposit and sent the dealer one letter. The Applicant does not have a copy of that letter.

The Applicant made his first claim to the Compensation Fund in October, 1999. He had obtained a judgment in Whitby Small Claims Court on September, 1999 for $6,160.00.

The Board of Trustees of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund refused his claim by letter of May 11, 2000. Their reasons were: 1. It was a business venture; 2. He was a registered salesperson for the dealership at the time of the transaction; 3. The dealership was moving to set aside the Small Claims Court judgment.

The Applicant testified that he had been reassured by the dealer that he would get his deposit back. However, as he thought there were problems getting his deposit, he decided to work for the dealership. He started working for B & J Auto Sales as of October 27, 1997. The Applicant did not know why a 1989 Jetta was registered in his name after being transferred from B & J Auto Sales in September 16, 1998.

Testimony of Buddy Ray Darling:

Mr. Darling testified that he was the owner of B & J Auto Sales. In October, 1997 he was the only registered salesperson. He stated that he did not sell Mr. Mahadeo a 1991 Bonneville.

Mr. Darling stated that he had a business with Mr. Mahadeo's brother. It was an auto mechanic business. Mr. Mahadeo suggested that they do a fake bill of sale so that there was some way of showing the loan by Mr. Mahadeo to Mr. Darling of $10,000.

Mr. Darling testified that the December 17, 1997 cheque in the amount of $1800.00 was a payment on the loan. There was also a receipt dated March 23, 1998 for $4000.00 and a receipt dated April 4, 1998 for $4200.00.

Mr. Darling stated that the 1991 Bonneville SSE motor vehicle never existed. There is no RIN history in his dealership of such a car.

Under cross-examination, Mr. Darling stated that the RIN history of his dealership shows every car that was in the name of B & J Auto Sales. Every car that is serviced is entered into his computer. Mr. Darling stated that he never sold this car to Mr. Mahadeo, but he did sign a retail bill of sale listing this car.

Mr. Darling stated that he had not changed anything on the cheque. He does not remember if the receipts were for cash payments. The listing of transactions for Steve Mahadeo include a variety of matters including the payment to Mr. Mahadeo for commissions on the sale of cars.

Testimony of Sonya Martina Shanks

Ms. Shanks testified that she was employed as the office manager of B & J Auto Sales for five years, from 1995 to 2000. The brother of Mr. Mahadeo has an auto mechanics shop there. She also worked for that business. Steve Mahadeo wanted to get into the sales business.

Ms. Shanks stated that to her knowledge Steve had wanted to put money into B & J Auto Sales, and the bill of sale was evidence of it in writing.

Under cross-examination, Ms. Shanks stated that the April 4, 1998 receipt had the words "B & J Auto Sales" and two hundred in her handwriting. She cannot say if this is an original or an imprint. The receipt books had the carbon copy with them. The March 23, 1998 receipt was in the handwriting of Mr. Darling. He would normally keep large amounts of cash at the dealership.

Ms. Shanks remember being at the dealership when the Bill of Sale was made for the 1991 Bonneville. She saw Mr. Darling and Mr. Mahadeo talking. Then Mr. Darling explained to her about the intent of the retail purchase agreement for the 1991 Bonneville as being a loan agreement.

CLOSING STATEMENTS:

By the Applicant:

Mr. Mahadeo stated that he put a deposit of ten thousand dollars on a 1991 Bonneville. He understood it was coming off a lease. He had difficulty in recovering this money. He then worked for that dealership.

Mr. Mahadeo stated that the receipts have been altered. He would not have started the claim and gone to this hearing if he had got the money. There is no documentation to show this is a loan.

Mr. Mahadeo stated that Ms. Shanks was not in the room when the deal was made with Mr. Darling. He stated that Mr. Darling has made up a story, told that story to OMVIC, and that OMVIC has believed Mr. Darling's story and not what he told them. Mr. Mahadeo stated that he never received his money and the money was not a loan.

By the Respondent:

Counsel stated that the judgment by itself does not mean that Mr. Mahadeo gets money from the Compensation Fund. The applicable section under Regulation 801 is section 12(4)(b), and that the Applicant is a commercial creditor of the dealer.

Counsel stated that Mr. Darling is no longer a registrant. He and Ms. Shanks have no interest in these proceedings. They both testified that the retail purchase agreement was security for Mr. Mahadeo's investment in the dealership. The bill of sale was created by Mr. Mahadeo to support his loan to B & J Auto Sales. It does not make sense that someone as experienced as Mr. Mahadeo would sign a bill of sale for a vehicle without having the vehicle's VIN number on that bill of sale.

Counsel stated that the Anvari (Re) (2000) O.C.R.A.T.D.no. 32 case found that the facts supported the decision of the Board of Trustees that the relationship between the Applicant and the dealer was a commercial relationship. Accordingly the Applicant was excluded under the legislation.

LEGISLATION:

The relevant legislation was the Motor Vehicles Dealers Act RSO 1990 as amended, and in particular Regulation 801.

Regulation 801

12 (3) a customer may make a claim against the Fund where the customer gives written notice of the claim to the Registrar within two years of the participant's refusal or failure to pay, even if the motor vehicle dealer with respect to whom the claim is being made ceased to be a participant after the refusal or failure to pay; and where the claim meets one of the following requirements:

1. The customer has recovered in any court in Ontario a judgment in respect of the claim and the judgment has become final by reason of the expiration of the time for appeal or of having been confirmed by the highest court to which an appeal may be taken and the customer makes an application, supported by the judgment and statement of claim for payment of the unsatisfied portion of the judgment and costs as assessed.

.....

4. The customer has made payment by way of deposit, down payment or otherwise to a participant with respect to an undelivered motor vehicle and the customer has not received the motor vehicle contracted for or an alternative motor vehicle that is acceptable to the customer and the claim is for a refund of the payment made to the participant where the customer has made a demand for payment from the participant and the participant has refused without legal justification to make the payment or is unable to pay by reason of bankruptcy or insolvency, but is not a claim for a refund of money paid by the customer to a participant where the customer has been provided with the motor vehicle contracted for and the demand for a refund is based on the cost, value or quality of the vehicle provided.

.....

(4) No person shall have a claim against the Fund where the claim is based on a judgment in favour of a person who,

(a) is a motor vehicle salesperson;

(b) is a commercial creditor of the motor vehicle dealer;

.....

15(1) Where the Board determines that a claim or any part of it made under section 12 of this Schedule is not a proper claim, it shall serve notice of its decision, together with written reasons, on the claimant and the notice shall inform the claimant that the claimant is entitled to a hearing by the Tribunal if the claimant mails or delivers to the Registrar and the Tribunal within fifteen days after the notice is served on the claimant, notice in writing requiring a hearing.

.....

(3) Where a claimant requires a hearing before the Tribunal under subsection (1) the Tribunal shall appoint a time and hold the hearing and, after affording the claimant an opportunity to be heard, may confirm the determination of the Board or may set aside the determination of the Board with respect to all or any part of the claim and direct the Trustee to pay the amount determined by the Tribunal.

.....

ANALYSIS OF FACTS AND DECISION:

This is a claim by Steve Mahadeo under Regulation 801, section 12, for compensation under the Compensation Fund under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act. The onus of proof is on the Applicant to establish his claim against the Fund.

Initially, Mr. Mahadeo wished to have $10,000.00 from the Fund, but after two Small Claims Court actions the judgment he finally received was for $3,000.00. He put his revised claim before the Board of Trustees in June, 2001 and it was rejected on the basis that the transaction was that of a commercial creditor. If that is the case, Mr. Mahadeo's claim can not be made against the fund under section 12(4)(b).

All parties have agreed that at the time of the transaction, Mr. Mahadeo was not a motor vehicle salesperson.

Mr. Mahadeo characterizes the transaction as that of a deposit on a car where he has not received the car and not received a refund of the deposit.

The Tribunal found a number of difficulties with Mr. Mahadeo's characterization of the transaction. Credibility plays a major part in this matter. When there were differences between the account by Mr. Mahadeo and that of the other witnesses, Mr. Darling and Ms. Shanks, the Tribunal favoured the account of the other witnesses.

Mr. Mahadeo presented a retail bill of sale for the purchase of a 1991 Bonneville. There was no VIN number for this car. Throughout the testimony of the witnesses and Mr. Mahadeo, no one was able to present a RIN history for this vehicle. The Tribunal accepts the explanation of Mr. Darling that no such vehicle ever existed. Mr. Darling, with verification by Ms. Shanks, stated that the retail bill of sale was a sham, a device by Mr. Mahadeo to put in writing that he had given ten thousand dollars to B & J Auto Sales. Mr. Darling stated that the money was an investment by Mr. Mahadeo in the dealership. This explanation of the documents must be weighed against the Applicant's.

Mr. Mahadeo states that he worked at the dealership in order to protect his chances of receiving back the deposit for the purchase of a motor vehicle. But the explanation by Mr. Darling that Mr. Mahadeo had invested in the dealership is a more satisfactory answer to why Mr. Mahadeo had worked at the dealership. By working at the dealership, Mr. Mahadeo hoped to improve the dealership's profitability, which in turn would allow Mr. Darling to repay Mr. Mahadeo's investment. That is a more sensible explanation of why someone would work for another person after paying a large sum of money to that person. Also, the Tribunal finds it incredulous that someone like Mr. Mahadeo with his depth of experience in the motor vehicle industry would pay ten thousand dollars for a car without having its VIN number. It is obvious the car is a fabrication.

The Tribunal was told by Mr. Mahadeo that a number of the receipts and cheques were fraudulent. Either words like "return on investment" had been written on them or numbers had been added to the amount of the receipt or cheques. Mr. Mahadeo was unable to offer any details on how and when such alterations occurred. He did not provide any expert evidence on this point. The Tribunal does not give any weight to these unproven allegations by Mr. Mahadeo.

It is significant that at the second Small Claims Court action, the only one in which any evidence was presented vive voca to the court, the judge found against Mr. Mahadeo's version of events and found that he had received significant amounts of money back on his investment. That was when the award was reduced to three thousand dollars. The award was against the dealership, B & J Auto Sales. That business has not been registered with the Registrar's office since January 17, 2001. It is likely that the Compensation Fund is the only viable means by which Mr. Mahadeo can collect whatever he feels is owed to him by Mr. Darling.

The Tribunal does not find the evidence of Mr. Mahadeo credible. The explanation offered by the Registrar fits the facts and is collaborated by two witnesses. There is no demand in writing by Mr. Mahadeo to the dealership for the return of his deposit. Mr. Mahadeo waited fifteen months after the date on the Bill of Sale and nine months after his last date of employment with B & J Auto Sales before he started his first Small Claims Court action in February, 1999. That time frame does not fit with someone who wants a car and has lost a substantial deposit. Nor did Mr. Mahadeo ask for help from OMVIC over the loss of this large deposit. The Tribunal finds this transaction to be in the nature of a commercial creditor transaction. As such it is not eligible for reimbursement under the Motor Vehicle Compensation Fund.

ORDER:

Accordingly under the authority given to the Tribunal by section 15(3) of Regulation 801 of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, the Tribunal confirms the decision of the Board of Trustees of the Ontario Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund dated May 11, 2000 and June 6, 2001 to deny the Applicant's claim.

Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

GEORGE THOMSON,
CRAWFORD ADJUSTERS CANADA,
Agent for the Applicant

DATE OF HEARING: October 9, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: November 6, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing by teleconference was held on October 9, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant’s appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 as amended (“HTA” or the “Act”).

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Dale E. Looby (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1999 Chevrolet Silverado, plate no. 9467A5 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	September 14, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the motor vehicle was stolen at the time it was being driven as provided in section 50.2(3) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on October 9, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the motor vehicle was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

- Vehicle was stolen
- Police report is attached
- Ownership copy "
- Signed proof of loss regarding settlement paid to owner by the insurer
- Impound order
- Insurance appraisers "information of total loss"

Sometime prior to the impoundment, Mr. Justin Best was released on bond while awaiting trial on unknown charges. He was released under the supervision of his uncle and aunt, the Applicant and his wife. The Applicant lives with his family in Caledon East, Ontario.

Sometime prior to August 11, 2001, the Applicant and his family went to their cottage somewhere near Barrie, Ontario. Mr. Best accompanied them. At approximately 11:00 p.m. on August 10, 2001, the Applicant noticed that Mr. Best was still awake in his room. The Applicant suggested to him that it was time to go to sleep, and the Applicant and others soon retired for the night. Sometime later, Mr. Best left the cottage and drove away in the Applicant's pickup truck. The vehicle was subsequently involved in a traffic accident on Highway 400 when Mr. Best apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The truck rolled over and was irreparably damaged.

Mr. Best was subsequently charged under sections 259(4) and 335(1) of the Criminal Code of Canada. He is currently incarcerated awaiting trial.

The Applicant subsequently filed an insurance claim with Dufferin Mutual Insurance Co. of Shelburne, Ontario. On August 27, 2001, the insurance claim was settled and the Applicant received $30,240. The amount slightly exceeds the 1999 purchase price of the vehicle. Thereupon, Dufferin Mutual took ownership of the impounded vehicle.

Dufferin Mutual retained Crawford Adjusters Canada to settle this claim. Mr. George Thomson is employed by Crawford Adjusters and appeared before the Tribunal acting as the agent for the Applicant with the consent of the Applicant and Dufferin Mutual.

The Applicant was not present at the hearing and provided no direct evidence. All of the oral evidence for the Applicant was rendered by his representative. Unfortunately, the Applicant's representative was not present at the cottage on the night of the impoundment, thereby limiting his understanding of the events surrounding the impoundment.

In particular, when asked by the Tribunal if he knew the intended destination of the driver at the time of the impoundment, the Applicant's representative said that he did not know. He stated that he had not spoken with Mr. Best.

The Applicant's representative's contention was that the police had charged the driver with stealing the vehicle. When the Registrar's representative noted that the driver had been charged with "taking motor vehicle...without consent", he asserted that "stealing", "theft" and "taking without consent" are all the same. He stated that the circumstances in this case met the insurance industry's definition of theft and that the insurance claim had been paid as a "theft claim."

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

- 1) Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner.
- 2) Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Justin W. Best;
- 3) Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
- 4) Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was placed under suspension until December 1, 2002.

The Registrar's agent asserted that a charge under Section 335(1) of the Criminal Code, "Taking Motor Vehicle...Without Consent" does not imply that the vehicle was stolen. Relying on Black's Law Dictionary's definition of "stolen" as cited below, she contended that the Applicant had failed to establish that the vehicle was taken "with the intent to deprive the owner of the benefit of ownership (or possession) permanently."

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(a).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(a) alleging that the vehicle was stolen, the meaning of "stolen" is not provided in The Highway Traffic Act.

The Shorter Oxford Dictionary, provides the definition of "stolen" as follows:

Stolen: 1. Obtained by theft. 2. Accomplished or enjoyed by stealth; secret. 3. Of time: obtained by contrivance

Theft: 1. The action of a thief; the felonious taking away of the personal goods of another; larceny 2. That which is or has been stolen; the proceeds of thieving.

Black's Law Dictionary (Sixth edition), page 1419-1420 provides the definition of "stolen" as follows:

Stolen: Acquired, or possessed, as a result of some wrongful or dishonest act or taking, whereby a person willfully obtains or retains possession of property which belongs to another, without or beyond any permission given, and with the intent to deprive the owner of the benefit of ownership (or possession) permanently.

The word "stolen" as used in the crime of interstate transpiration of stolen motor vehicles includes all wrongful and dishonest taking of motor vehicles with the intent to deprive the owner of the rights and benefits of ownership, regardless of whether theft constitutes common-law larceny; and felonious taking may be effected by diverse means known to both common and statutory law, such as larceny, embezzlement, false pretenses, larceny by trick and other types of wrongful acquisition. Lake v. U.S., Colo, 338F.2d 787,788. It is not necessary that the taking of the vehicle be unlawful. Even if possession of the vehicle is lawfully acquired, the vehicle will be deemed "stolen" if the defendant thereafter forms the intent to deprive the owner of the rights and benefits of ownership, and converts the vehicle to his own use. United States v. Turley, 352 U.S. 407, 417, 77 S.Ct. 397, 402. 1 L.Ed.2d 430.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has appealed the impoundment of his vehicle on the grounds that it was stolen.

The Highway Traffic Act does not define the term stolen used in section 50.2(3)(a). However, the Criminal Code of Canada and Black's Law Dictionary with the case law cited above do provide definitions.

The evidence before the Tribunal clearly suggests that the vehicle was being driven without the knowledge or consent of the owner by a driver who's licence was under suspension at the time of the impoundment.

Therefore, the question before the Tribunal in this case is:

Was the impounded vehicle borrowed without the owner's consent OR was the vehicle "stolen"?

The Applicant contended that the fact that the driver was charged under the Criminal Code of Canada (CCC) established that the truck was stolen. While the laying of charges under the CCC is noteworthy, the laying of a charge of taking without consent does not ipso facto constitute a legally binding finding that the vehicle was stolen.

Section 2 of the Criminal Code of Canada ("CCC") reads, in part: "steal" means to commit theft. Theft is rigorously defined in section 322 of the CCC.

Here the driver was charged under section 335(1) of the CCC. Section 335(1) is "Taking Motor Vehicle or Vessel Without Consent." He was not charged with the more serious offence of theft under section 322(1). Therefore, it appears that the police did not believe that the evidence in this case supported a charge of theft, under the CCC or that the vehicle was stolen.

Black's Law Dictionary's definition of stolen highlights the vital distinction between borrowed without consent and stolen. A stolen item is "acquired...with the intent to deprive the owner of the benefit of ownership (or possession) permanently." By contrast, the Funk & Wagnalls Standard College Dictionary (Canadian Edition, 1978) defines borrow as "to take or obtain (something) with the promise or understanding that one will return it or its equivalent."

In other words, the question before the Tribunal is: Did the Applicant's nephew take the vehicle with the intent to deprive the Applicant of the benefit of ownership or possession permanently or was he intending to return to the cottage with the vehicle after taking a motorized journey?

No evidence regarding the suspended driver's motives or intentions is available to the Tribunal. When asked by the Tribunal if he knew the intended destination of the driver at the time of the impoundment, the Applicant's representative said that he did not know.

Therefore, the Applicant's representative was unable to establish that the vehicle was taken with the intent to deprive the Applicant of the benefit of ownership or possession permanently. Since the onus to establish the fact that the vehicle was stolen rests with the Applicant, the Tribunal must conclude that the allegation that the vehicle was stolen is unproven.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal by the Applicant, Hassan Kassem Hassan, to the Licence Appeal Tribunal from a proposal dated July 7, 2000 by the Registrar under the Motor Vehicles Dealers Act ("the Act") to refuse registration as a motor vehicle salesperson under the Act.

The Applicant, Hassan Kassem Hassan, whose forbears were Iranian, was born in Iraq in 1964. He finished high school and first year engineering at university but was expelled from Iraq because of his Iranian family roots. He was allowed into Iran and stayed there until the authorities refused to renew his visa and so, stateless, he came to Canada as a refugee in 1987. He obtained his Canadian citizenship in 1995. He has a wife and three children under the age of five. His wife works in a jewellery store.

Two years after his arrival in Canada in 1989 he became registered as a motor vehicle salesperson under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Act"). For about one year after that he worked for a dealer known as The Auto Clinic and then left for other work.

Although he claims he was not fluent in English in 1995, he was able to obtain registration as a motor vehicle dealer at that time. The name he used for his business was I-Deal Wheels Wholesales.

Within the next year, in June 1996, the Registrar proposed to revoke his registration. He appealed the proposal without the assistance of counsel, to the Commercial Registration Appeal Tribunal ("CRAT"), this Tribunal's predecessor. CRAT gave its decision on September 25, 1997 and confirmed the revocation.

Mr. Hassan bought and sold vehicles from January to August 1996 which led to 31 charges which were laid in March 1997 under the MVDA and the Business Practices Act (for odometer tampering). There were five other co-accused on some of the charges. In particular, one of them was the Applicant's step brother, Abdul Kareem Hassan, with whom the Applicant was later implicated in the present proposal issued by the Registrar.

All the 31 charges were disposed of in January 1999 when, with the assistance of counsel, the Applicant pleaded guilty to four of the charges. The total of the fines was $3,500 and he was ordered in addition to pay $8,000 restitution.

Mr. Hassan re-applied for registration as a dealer under the Act in November 1999, using the name of "The Car Store". The Registrar returned his application without issuing a proposal. The Registrar considered there was no new or other evidence or clear change in material circumstances as required by section 8 of the Act in any further application for registration.

A lengthy process ensued which ended up in the Ontario Court of Appeal. The Court's decision was that the Registrar could not just refuse to process Mr. Hassan's application on the basis of section 8 but had to advise Mr. Hassan that he was entitled to a hearing by the Tribunal. But before the Court's decision, the Registrar had already issued the present proposal.

THE ISSUES:

There are two issues to be determined in this appeal. The first question is whether the Applicant has satisfied the requirements of section 8 of the Act for a further application for registration. To do so, he has to show that there is new or other evidence or that material circumstances have changed.

The second issue is whether the Applicant's past conduct affords reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

THE FACTS:

On the first issue, Mr. Hassan claims that there is new evidence and a change in material circumstances. The essence of his claim relates to two improvements. He has successfully taken the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council (OMVIC) course and has received a certificate to that effect. This course was only instigated in the last few years so he could not have taken it before. It is given for dealers and salespersons to instruct them on the law and their obligations under the Act. Mr. Hassan says as a result of completing this course he now understands the requirements of the law which he did not before.

In addition, Mr. Hassan said that until recently his command of English was lacking but he can now read and write. He says he has matured and gained experience when he was working as a bookkeeper with a clothing store Khad-Oh Direct. He believes he is now familiar with running a business but had not been so previously.

That is the plus side he presented. But there is another side. The Tribunal has to look at the whole situation after his revocation by CRAT, as set out in its decision released on September 25, 1997.

The first event after the CRAT decision was confirmation in a final notice from the Registrar dated 30th September 1997 which was sent to Mr. Hassan. It reads as follows:

... TAKE NOTICE THAT PURSUANT TO SECTION 7(4) OF THE ACT, THE REGISTRAR IS CARRYING OUT THE PROPOSAL TO REVOKE THE REGISTRATION OF HASSAN KESSEM HASSAN O/A IDEAL WHEELS WHOLESALAS AS A MOTOR VEHICLE DEALER UNDER THE ACT

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE THAT section 3 of the Act provides that no person shall carry on business as a motor vehicle dealer unless he or she is registered under the Act and any person operating without such registration is liable to prosecution and on conviction is liable to a fine and/or imprisonment.

In addition, a letter from the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") accompanied this notice. It reads as follows;

You are cautioned that as you are not currently registered, you are prohibited from carrying on the business of buying or selling motor vehicles either directly or indirectly as a motor vehicle dealer or salesperson.

Yet within eight months, in May 1998, the Applicant began buying cars in Quebec using the name of his revoked registration, I-Deal Wheels Wholesales and an obsolete address.

Mr. Hassan in his testimony said as he was only selling wholesale and not selling to the public, he believed he was entitled to do so. This is far-fetched particularly as he never checked this with OMVIC or with legal counsel. Making every allowance for his background, Mr. Hassan's conduct amounts at least to willful blindness.

In spite of the notice from OMVIC, he continued to conduct a significant amount of business. From May to November 1998 he bought 29 cars at auctions in Quebec, paying over $170,000 for them. Of these cars, 27 were bought at car auctions held by Adesa Montreal Inc. The other two were bought elsewhere in Quebec. He used the Adesa computer card issued to I-Deal Wheels Wholesales by Adesa before the revocation of his registration. The Adesa card had not been cancelled because OMVIC did not notify Adesa of the revocation until nearly the end of 1998, and Mr. Hassan took advantage of that.

Mr. Hassan gave no reason why he only bought vehicles in Quebec although evidence was given that there are a number of car auctioneers in Ontario. Perhaps he felt he was less likely to be discovered doing so in Quebec, which is supported by his application for registration dated February 1, 2000. Although he was buying vehicles in Quebec, under the application's caption, "Employment or other activities for the last three years", he indicated "out of a job since 1997". The 1998 activities at Adesa were also not declared in an affidavit he made. The relevant part of the affidavit reads:

"Since leaving the motor vehicle industry, I have been employed by a clothing store known as Kad-Oh Direct"

There also is an interesting pattern to his buying in Quebec. Only one car was purchased in May. Only one was purchased in June. Only one was purchased in July. But when this escaped attention, he purchased ten cars in August, seven in September and eight in October ending abruptly with one in November, presumably when the revocation came to the attention of Adesa.

The Applicant sold these cars, with a couple of exceptions, to Ramada Fine Cars Inc. owned and operated by his step brother, Abdul Kareem Hassan (his co-accused on three of the counts of unfair practices for odometer tampering). These vehicles were resold by Ramada with a number of them having the odometers rolled back. Mr. Hassan denies he had anything to do with that. But one bill of re-sale with odometer tampering appears to bear the distinctive writing of the Applicant and the Applicant's initials, "KH". This, his counsel pointed out is at odds with his initials "HK" marked on the application form. However, the evidence in the police report submitted shows he uses two names:

Hassan KASSEM
aka: Kassem HASSAN

So it may well be he writes his initials two ways. In any event, he admitted he was not honest with Adesa.

Of deep concern is that during this hearing Mr. Hassan never produced his records covering his dealings at Adesa although he testified that he had them. His excuse, which is not accepted, is that he was never asked for them. This is curious as it is his appeal.

The Registrar was reduced to obtaining records from Abdul Hassan, the step brother, because there is no jurisdiction to order the Applicant to hand over his bills of sale at the time when he was no longer registered.

The second issue the Tribunal considers is whether the past conduct of the Applicant affords reasonable grounds for the Registrar to believe that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The whole conduct of Mr. Hassan has to be reviewed to decide this issue.

In addition to the above facts relating to section 8, there is other evidence that has to be considered. Of considerable significance are the findings made by CRAT in September 1997. In its decision CRAT stated that "Mr. Hassan shows a total disregard for the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act and its regulations and on a cumulative basis one must conclude that he cannot play by the rules". In the decision it was noted that in Mr. Hassan's 1992 application for registration he indicated that he had no criminal record. Yet as a result of a CPIC check it was shown that he had been convicted of theft under $1000 in 1990.

Following the CRAT decision, Mr. Hassan pleaded guilty in January 1999 as follows:

Failing to identify the name under which he was registered and the address from which he was authorized to operate	fined	$500
Retaining the services of a salesperson, Abdul Hassan, who was not registered under the MVDA	fined	$500
Inviting the public to deal at a place other than that authorized with respect to the sale of a motor vehicle	fined	$500
Unfair practice with respect to the sale of a motor vehicle	fined	$2,000

The significance of the fines was explained by the Deputy Registrar, Mary Jane South. She reviewed Mr. Hassan's guilty pleas and noted that the usual high water mark for fines on these counts is a maximum of $500 each. Three of the counts were of that calibre, and one count was four times the maximum high water mark. She stressed the importance of the charge of unfair practice related to winding back an odometer. She said the average vehicle is driven 20,000 Km a year making the charge carrying the $2,000 fine particularly significant and a more serious breach of the requirements under section 5 the Act (for honesty and integrity).

Moreover, as already related, these fines were also combined with an order for $8,000 restitution.

On the subject of the deals in Quebec, Ms. South was quite clear. Wholesale dealers have to be registered. Once a registration is revoked, wholesale operations, as well as retail operations, are forbidden.

To counter all this evidence, Mr. Hassan says he will accept any conditions to become registered again. He brought forward a witness, Mr. Moheballi, who is a dealer and was prepared to supervise Mr. Hassan and would put up a $50,000 bond for him. But Mr. Moheballi would not be a particularly desirable supervisor as he too has a significant criminal record. Mr. Hassan says this is the only thing he can do, although he presently operates two different businesses, a car rental and an employment agency.

THE LAW:

The relevant sections of the Motor Vehicles Dealers Act to this appeal are as follows:

3. (1) No person shall,
 - (a) carry on the business of a motor vehicle dealer unless the person is registered under this Act; or
 - (b) act as a salesperson of or on behalf of a motor vehicle dealer unless the person is registered as a salesperson of such dealer and such dealer is registered as a motor vehicle dealer under this Act
 - (3) a registered motor vehicle dealer shall not carry on business in a name other than the name in which it is registered or invite the public to deal in a place other than that authorized by the registration
4. A motor vehicle dealer shall not retain the services of a salesperson who is not registered under this act.
- 5(1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where, ...

(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty

8. A further application for registration may be made upon new or other evidence or where it is clear that material circumstances have changed.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO THE FACTS:

The recent Ontario Court of Appeal case on the Applicant's rights under section 8 of the Act was dated 5th February 2001. The relevant portions state as follows:

[1] The issue in this appeal is the process to be followed by the Registrar, Motor Vehicles Dealers Act, when an application is made under the Act for registration following a prior rejection or the suspension or revocation of a registration by the Registrar.

[8] The issue... is not whether the respondent has satisfied the requirements of section 8 in requiring "new or other evidence" or a change in the respondent's circumstances. It does not mandate the procedure. The process must be in accordance with the procedure stipulate under the Act, and that, in turn, requires procedural compliance with section seven

[11] The Registrar cannot therefore refuse to process the respondent's application. He is, of course free to propose to reject it on the basis that the criteria in s. 8 have not been met, but if he does so, he must, in accordance with s. 7. advise the respondent that he is entitled to a hearing by the Tribunal to review the Registrar's decision.

Respecting section 8, Mr. Hassan is asking for a second chance. He politely stressed the improvements he has made. His able counsel argued that Mr. Hassan has overcome the onus upon him in this section. But the Tribunal has a duty to balance the pros and the cons. The devious conduct of Mr. Hassan has a cumulative effect and has to be set against the modest reforms he has made in comparison. His perception of honesty and integrity are seriously lacking. Also of some concern is his choice of business associates. Consequently, Mr. Hassan's new evidence has failed to persuade the Tribunal on that issue.

The Tribunal has considered the second issue, under section 5 of the Act, relating to the past conduct of Mr. Hassan. He is obviously a pleasant person, easy to be sympathetic with. But that, unfortunately, does not overcome his difficulties or help discharge his onus in this appeal.

The leading case is Brenner v Registrar of Motor Vehicles and Salesmen 1983 19 CRAT Divisional Court which confirms how the Act should apply:

"The effect of s. 7(4) is that the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for the belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Board does not appear to have directed itself to this question. Instead the Board seems to have been pre-occupied with sympathetic concern as to whether or not Brenner had genuinely reformed, and appears to have decided that it ought to give him a second chance because there was a possibility that he, indeed, might have reformed himself."

After putting sympathetic concern to one side the evidence against Mr. Hassan is serious and shows a continuous sequence of inappropriate behaviour. The Registrar has a duty to the industry to ensure consumer protection and confidence and that is a remedial function for consumer protection. The Registrar is not a supervisor and is not set up to be so. On the evidence before it, the Tribunal finds no error with the decision of the Registrar to refuse the Applicant registration under the Act.

ORDER:

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 7(4) of the Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to carry out his proposal dated July 7, 2000 to deny Mr. Hassan registration as a salesperson under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.

ORDER

PURSUANT to the provisions of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8 as amended, Carlos M. Santos (the "Applicant"), appealed a decision of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar") as set out in the Order to Impound, dated October 9, 2001;

WHEREAS the Tribunal set a hearing for November 8, 2001 at the Tribunal's Chambers, 1 St. Clair Avenue West, 12th floor, Toronto, Ontario at 1:30 p.m., which did proceed;

AND WHEREAS the Applicant was duly notified by Notice of Hearing, dated October 24, 2001, was delivered by courier to the Applicant on October 24, 2001, and proof of service filed. At 1:30 p.m., the hearing was adjourned until 2:30 p.m. to allow the Applicant more time to arrive or make contact by telephone if they wished to participate.

AND WHEREAS the evidence was given by Ms. Stacy Murphy, the Tribunal's Group Leader, Hearings Supervisor, that the Applicant telephoned her to advise that he may not attend the hearing;

AND WHEREAS at 2:30 p.m. there being no communication from the Applicant, the hearing commenced in the Applicant's absence.

AND WHEREAS KIM BEINTEMA, representing the Registrar of Motor Vehicles was present at the hearing on November 8, 2001 and no one appeared on behalf of the Applicant;

AND WHEREAS ON READING the Applicant's Notice of Appeal, Owner's Position, Ministry of Transportation's submissions, no one appearing for the Applicant although properly served as appears from proof of service filed, this Tribunal finds that due to non-attendance and failure to proceed on the part of the Applicant, the Applicant has abandoned these proceedings;

THIS TRIBUNAL ORDERS that the appeal by the Applicant is dismissed and pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, the Tribunal confirms the Registrar's Order to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: November 6, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: November 9, 2001 Written

REASONS FOR DECISION

A written hearing was held on November 6, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended (“HTA” or the “Act”).

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	David Batchelor (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	1991 Chevrolet Cavalier, plate no. AHDZ 948 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	October 12, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on November 6, 2001 and proceeded as a written hearing.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant’s evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

I HAVE ENCLOSED A BRIEF LETTER WRITTEN BY MY COMMON-LAW WIFE CONNIE ROFFEY. I WAS IN CUSTODY FOR CHARGES INCURRED DUE TO ACCIDENT UNTIL OCT 9/01.

THEREFORE I AM FILING THIS APPEAL A.S.A.P. WITHIN THE 15 DAYS MY APPEAL IS BASED SOLELY ON HARDSHIPS FINANCIALL, & EMOTIONALY DUE TO HAVING NO USE OF ANY VEHICLE BY HER TO SUPPORT ME.

Oct 11- 2001

By not having the car has caused undo hardship for our family.
Dave lives at the south end of Oshawa and has to commute to his job in Whitby every day (sometimes six days a wk). Each day it costs $15.00 cab fare one way.

He has counselling meetings to attend at Pinewood twice a week.

He has to attend "A"- "A" meetings twice a week.

He has Community Service once a week.

I have chronic asthma and sometimes I have to get to the hospital immediately.
My mother lives in Minden, Ont. and she has heart problems and I cannot get there when I need to.

We are not within walking distance to the Banks- Doctors- Hospital- Grocery Stores- Drug Stores. Where we live we are not on an accessable bus route.

We are undergoing financial hardships now having Lawyer's costs and T.A.P. costs in order for Dave to get to work.

If the car remains impounded for the full 45 days that is another financial hardship we will have to deal with, not to mention the repairs to the car to get it road worthy again.

The car will be sold to me Connie Roffey (Commonlaw Wife) and be insured in my name.

Thank you.
Connie Roffey.

(As per owner) David Batchelor

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;

2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by David Batchelor;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving while disqualified under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until May 9, 2005.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and

- (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Tribunal notes that according to the Ministry of Transportation Plate Search, the Applicant is the sole legal entity responsible for the vehicle under the Plate Number AHDZ 948.

The onus is on the Applicant to establish the exceptional hardship ground of appeal as provided in subsection 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

The Applicant and his common-law wife reside in the City of Oshawa which is a large metropolitan area with public transportation and availability of taxi service.

As the driver's licence of the Applicant was under suspension, much of the expenses detailed by the Applicant would ordinarily be incurred had the vehicle not been impounded.

The submissions of the Applicant state that the loss would be upon his common-law wife who has submitted her own letter containing reasons which are flimsy and do not support the allegations of loss. Therefore the requirements under O. Reg. 632/98, Subsection 22(3)(c) are not met.

After assessing the evidence presented, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not demonstrated exceptional hardship as circumscribed by section 22 of Ontario Regulation 632/98 amending Ontario Regulation 574 under the Highway Traffic Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on October 31, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on November 1, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO SET ASIDE the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated October 2, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on October 2, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by cash.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

There were no preliminary matters and the hearing proceeded. The following documents were entered into evidence with the consent of both parties.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1 Notice of Appeal dated October 2, 2001.
- b) Exhibit # 2 Medical Letter from Physician # 1, received October 31, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 3 MTO Submissions, 23 pages received October 26, 2001.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

50.1 (1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.

(2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,

- (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1),(2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

15. (1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,

- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;
- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
- (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;

- (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner.”

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

“A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal”.

FACTS:

The Applicant took the stand and was sworn in. He testified that on September 6, 2001 he was going to see his daughter in Goderich, Ontario. He testified that he had just retired from his work and believed that this was the reason why he was feeling very elated. He testified that he had not eaten that day and had consumed 1/3 of a bottle of beer but did not drink any more than that as he was not feeling himself. At that time he was taking medication called Effexor which is an antianxiolytic.

The Applicant testified that he was at a R.I.D.E. spot check and was asked to perform a breathalyser test. According to the Applicant, he had previous experience with providing a breath sample which caused him pain and did not want to go through it again. He claims to have periodontal disease and did not want to put the mouthpiece into his mouth. The Applicant also testified that he did not relay this information to the police officers. As well, The Applicant testified that in retrospect he believed that he was in a manic state the time, which was heightened by the combination of medication and alcohol. The Applicant had poor recollection of events as detailed in the affidavits submitted by the representative for the Respondent. The Applicant concluded his testimony by adding that he was taken to his daughter's home in the early morning hours of September 6, 2001. His daughter realizing that her father was not in normal state, she took him to the Alexandra Marine and General Hospital where he was immediately admitted and received treatment over the next 3 week period. He was diagnosed as having bipolar disorder. His current medications are Lithium and Risperidone. The report provided from Physician # 1, Chief of Psychiatry outlined the details of his medical condition and confirmed the current stability of the Applicant. The Applicant had nothing further to add and was excused from the stand.

The representative for the Respondent asked the Tribunal to give great weight to the affidavits submitted by Police Officers' #1 and # 2. Both of the affidavits confirmed that the Applicant refused to provide a breath sample when a demand for breath was made. Neither officer stated that they observed any medical reason why he could not provide a sample. However, neither officer asked the Applicant if he suffered from any medical conditions. Police Officer # 2 did elude to a medical condition which was reported to him by the Applicant's daughter who told the officer that her father was a manic depressive. As neither officers have medical training, they may not have been aware that perhaps the Applicant was in a manic state and may have required medical attention.

The Tribunal after very careful review and deliberation has accepted the testimony of the Applicant and believes that he was in fact suffering from a medical condition at the time that the demand for a breath sample was made. This condition was confirmed by Physician # 1. The Tribunal accepts the evidence of Physician # 1.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has appealed the suspension under Section 50.1(2)(b) whereby he stated that he had a medical condition which prevented him from providing a sample of breath. The report from Physician # 1 provided the Tribunal with a diagnosis of Bipolar Disorder. The Applicant was hospitalized from September 6, 2001 until his release some three weeks later. Physician # 1 indicated that the Applicant had been treated successfully and his last visit of October 23, 2001 confirmed his stability. According to Physician # 1, the Applicant was very compliant with taking his medications as well as recommendations for follow up care.

On the basis of this medical evidence, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant was in a disoriented state and did not understand the demand made on him to provide a breath sample when the demand was made by the police officer.

The Respondent expressed concern with the observations of both police officers and the statements of both officers that the Applicant simply refused to provide a breath sample on the grounds that he did not have to because he was a citizen. Neither officer expressed the possibility that the Applicant was ill as both of the officers stated that they did not observe any illness. However, the Tribunal accepts the diagnosis of bipolar disorder which in fact does not present readily as a more traditional "acute illness" i.e. acute asthmatic attack and would be easily missed to the untrained medical personnel.

Based on the evidence before the Tribunal, the Tribunal finds on a balance of probabilities that the Applicant meets the criteria of Section 50.1(2)(b) in that he was able to demonstrate that he suffered from a medical condition which prevented him from providing a breath sample when requested.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated September 6, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal orders the suspension set aside.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

The documents presented before the Tribunal were entered as exhibits with the consent of both parties.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit #1 Notice of Appeal received by the Tribunal on 16 October 2001 consisting of 5 pages.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit #2 MTO Submissions.
- b) Exhibit #3 Report of Police Officer # 1.
- c) Exhibit #4 Report of Police Officer # 2.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1), (2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

15. (1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,

- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;
- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;

- (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;
 - (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

FACTS:

The Applicant took the stand and was sworn. He testified that on the 24th of September 2001 he had finished work and stopped by a friends to have a drink. He testified that he left his garage at 12:30 a.m. He testified that he stayed at his friends for about 1 to 1 1/2 hours. He left his friends to go home. He testified that at around 2:00 a.m. he believed someone he knew was following him in a police car. According to the Applicant, there was a movie being filmed around his garage, and he believed that it was one of the movie crew that was playing a joke on him. He stated he drove around and eventually pulled his car into a lane and tried to leave the scene. According to the Applicant, there were seven police officers, who arrested him. He testified that he was handcuffed, and while on the ground, the officers kicked him in the ribs, broke his nose and broke his leg.

The Applicant testified that after he was placed in the police vehicle, he requested to be taken to the Hospital. The Applicant was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital. The Applicant testified that while at the hospital, he was x-rayed and treated for broken ribs. The Applicant also testified that he tried to provide a breath sample to another officer, Police Officer # 2. The Applicant stated that he tried to blow and was given only one chance to blow. The Applicant claimed that the officer told him to blow for eight to twelve seconds. The Applicant continued that when he got a reading after 3 seconds, he stopped blowing. According to the testimony of the Applicant, the police would not give him another chance.

The Applicant then testified that he signed the promise to appear notice as well as the notice to Registrar and was released from police custody.

The Applicant also testified that he saw Physician # 1 on September 26, 2001. Physician # 1 provided a letter dated September 28, 2001 which was transposed onto the Notice of Appeal form. According to the letter, it stated that "The Applicant suffered contusions (bruises) to his ribs in an altercation on September 23, 2001. This would create pain with any attempts to take deep breaths and would therefore impair his ability to blow into a breathalyser".

The Respondent provided the occurrence reports from Police Officer # 1 and Police Officer # 2. The Report of Police Officer # 1 gave a chronological report of the events that led to the issuance of the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension. On Monday, September 24, 2001 at approximately 2:23 a.m. The Applicant was observed by the arresting officer operating a motor vehicle, a 1985 GMC 927 7DW. The Applicant was southbound on Royal York Road in the City of Toronto. At this time the officer observed that the Applicant was travelling slow, 20km/hr, and weaving for no apparent reason. The officer then observed the Applicant make an improper right turn (wide and no indication) and continued westbound in the eastbound lanes of Judson Street. The officer activated his roof lights. The Applicant continued westbound in the eastbound lane, still driving slowly. He then approached the intersection of Harold Street and suddenly accelerated made a wide right turn northbound on Harold Street and accelerated to approximately 60km/hr. The officer activated his siren and came up on the left side of Mr. Kennedy, who made eye contact with the officer. The officer then signalled the Applicant's vehicle to stop. The Applicant refused and then made a right turn onto Newcastle Street. The Applicant continued to Royal York Road where he slowed but proceeded into the intersection disobeying the red traffic signal at approximately 40km/hr and then made a left turn northbound on Royal York Road and then made a left turn onto Portland Street. He then made a right turn southbound on Windsor Street and approached the intersection at approximately 40km/hr. The Applicant disobeyed a stop sign, failing to stop and continued westbound on Newcastle Street to Royal York Road where he again disobeyed a red traffic signal at approximately 30km/hr. The Applicant continued to Portland Street where he made a right turn. The Applicant was going around the block, and he did this three times, disobeying stop signs and traffic signals (same stop and same traffic signal). The fourth time the Applicant proceeded southbound on Windsor Street, he suddenly turned into a private lane driving between two factories. He travelled south in the lane as he approached Newcastle Street. He turned off the motor, jumped out of the vehicle and fled on foot.

The Applicant was apprehended a short distance from the scene. The Applicant and the arresting officer suffered what appeared to be minor injuries. The officer suffered a knee injury. The Applicant suffered minor fascial cuts on his face. The arresting officer observed that the Applicant's eyes were red and glassy, speech slurred incoherent, very unsteady on his feet (fell twice while trying to run away). The officer detected an obvious odour of an alcoholic beverage on the Applicant's breath. At 2:45 a.m. the Applicant was transported to St.

Joseph's Hospital at request of Applicant. At 3:03 a.m. Applicant was asked to provide a breath sample. An attempt was made, however the Applicant had the mouth piece up in his lips but was not blowing into it. He was told to blow harder, blew but then quit. After being cautioned as to a refusal, the Applicant said he was trying but would not supply a proper sample. At 3:41a.m. the Applicant refused to provide a sample of breath.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has appealed the suspension under Section 50.1(2)(b) whereby he stated that he had a medical condition which prevented him from providing a sample of breath. The report provided from Physician # 1 falls short in addressing the Applicants' condition and her patient's ability to provide a breath sample. Physician # 1's report has provided the Tribunal no insight into what the Applicant's medical condition is and how that medical condition would have precluded the Applicant from providing that breath sample. In testimony provided by the Applicant to the Tribunal the Applicant led this Tribunal, to believe that he suffered fractured ribs. However, the report of Physician # 1 indicates no fracture but only bruises to his ribs. Physician # 1's report provides no report of physical examination findings and no supporting lab or xray reports.

Physician # 1's report does not establish why the Applicant was precluded from providing a breath or blood sample. The Applicant has the onus of establishing the merit of his appeal as set out in Section 13 of Regulation 574. The Tribunal finds that the medical evidence present is not sufficient to meet that onus and the Applicant has not established the merits of his appeal.

The Tribunal believes that the evidence leads to the conclusion that the Applicant was able to provide a suitable sample of breath but did not provide one due to lack of effort and concern about possible recrimination from the results of providing a proper sample.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated September 24, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on November 2, 2001, at Sudbury, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on November 5, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated October 12, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on October 15, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by money order.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

The Representative of the Ministry provided the Tribunal with original certified copies of Ministry of Transportation documents on file.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1 Notice of Appeal- received October 15, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 2 Ministry of Transportation submissions – received October 30, 2001.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

50.1 (1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.

(2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,

- (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1), (2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

15. (1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,

- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;
- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
- (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;

- (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner.”

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

“A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal”.

FACTS:

The Applicant’s Driver’s Licence was suspended “September 15, 2001” as per Notice of Appeal (Exhibit # 1)

Applicant’s Evidence

Page 2 of the Notice of Appeal, was prepared on October 12th, 2001, by Physician # 1, who has been the Applicant’s family physician for “8 years 2 months.

Physician # 1 indicates under the category requiring information as to the “Details and Diagnosis of the patient’s present condition” that the Applicant suffers from “...Bronchitis – Acute, June 19/01.” As to the “History of condition”, although Physician # 1’s writing is quite illegible, “Chronic Bronchitis” is noted. Under the Heading “Type of Measurement or recent tests taken...”, Physician # 1 answers “Pulmonary Function Tests ...140 l/min. 21/09/01 in office test”. As far as the “Relevant details of last visit and when ...patient was last seen” the reply from Physician # 1 is “reassessed Oct 15/01 ...mild bronchitis...” (Exhibit # 1).

A short note, handwritten on a prescription pad, signed by Physician # 1, dated “02/10/01” forms part of the Notice of Appeal. Under the heading of Blind River Family Medical Clinic, the physician reiterates the Applicant’s diagnosis as “...a medical condition, which prevents ...adequately completing a breathalyser test.” (Exhibit # 2)

At the hearing the Applicant was represented by counsel. He called the Applicant to take the stand and she gave her answers under oath.

During the examination-in-chief, the Applicant testified as to the events leading up to the demand for a breath sample.

The Applicant stated that after working all day at the car lot, owned by her, she went home to make supper, and that after putting the children to bed and calling a baby sitter, she went to the "...Iron Horse for a couple of beers..."

At the pub, the Applicant met her friend, who had been drinking and playing pool. At approximately ten o'clock the Applicant and her friend left the pub and noticed that the lights on his car were "...going on and off...". The Applicant suggested to her friend that she should go ahead of him and give him a lift in case anything happened to his car.

Looking back in her rear view mirror, the Applicant noticed that her friend had stopped. Thinking that he might be in need of assistance, she stopped as well. Shortly, thereafter an Ontario Provincial Police Officer, approached her and demanded a breath sample.

The Applicant was walked back to the police cruiser and told to "blow", but was not given any instructions, on how to do so.

Each attempt to provide a breath sample became increasingly more difficult as the Applicant began to feel "...light headed and dizzy...".

After the sixth attempt, the Applicant told the officers she did not want to try again. When informed that she would be placed under arrest for "failure to provide, the Applicant agreed to try again. During the 7th attempt, the mouthpiece fell to the ground; she tried again, but was still unable to provide an adequate breath sample.

The Applicant testified that she has a hard time breathing because she smokes "...2 packs a day".... In June of this year she went to emergency and was diagnosed with chronic bronchitis. At that time the Applicant was advised to "...stop smoking or the bronchitis would turn into emphysema." For that reason, she could not blow for "15 seconds" as the officer suggested was required.

The Applicant was prescribed Ventolin in June but had been using her son's for about one year, as she felt she needed it. The Applicant told the officers that she had "asthma", but did not request medication, medical assistance, nor did she inform the officers that she was feeling "...light headed and dizzy...".

The Applicant's first visit to her physician after the incident was about one week later, because no appointment could be had earlier. Physician # 1 recommended that the Applicant consult a respiratologist. Since there was no appointment available at the time of the specialist's quarter-yearly visit to Blind River, the Applicant was advised to stay home "...on stand by..." in case of a cancellation. The Applicant was unable to consult with the specialist as no appointment became available.

In cross-examination, in reply to questions posed by the Respondent the Applicant confirmed that was prescribed a "puffer" in June of this year.

The Applicant also testified that after the sixth attempt the Applicant walked back to her car to get her keys and her purse but not the "Ventolin", which was on the seat of the car. The Applicant explained that she is only allowed to use the inhaler four times a day and that she had used it, two hours prior, at the bar.

The Applicant admitted that she was still "light headed" while she was being transported to the station, but she was neither "...coughing nor wheezing..." nor did she ask to be taken to emergency.

When asked by the Respondent why she did not go to emergency or to a walk-in clinic, since her own physician was too busy to see her, the Applicant replied: "Why would I want to do that?"

At the time the Applicant also required 2 pills a day for severe headaches. Upon arriving at home, the Applicant took the headache pills but did not need to use the "puffer."

The Applicant detailed that it took seven attempts to provide the three samples required for the Pulmonary Function Tests. The nurse administered the test, and the Applicant is not aware if in fact a specialist interpreted the results. As to the meaning of the results, the Applicant was not told what the normal volume should be, or how her own results measured up.

Respondent's Evidence

The Respondent provided the following Documents:

1. Certified Copy of Notice to the Registrar, sealed October 18, 2001.
2. Certified Copy of Driving Record of the Applicant, sealed October 18, 2001.
3. Certified Copy of Vehicle Record as of occurrence date, sealed October 18, 2001.
4. Affidavit of Police Officer # 1, Ontario Provincial Police, sworn October 22, 2001.

5. Medical Report Review, Physician # 2, MB, ChB, FRCP (UK) FRCP(C) FCCP (C) FCCP.

An Affidavit sworn by Police Officer # 1, of the Ontario Provincial Police states:

- 1." I observed the female attempt to blow into the apparatus but she would stop blowing before a sample registered (point 13)
2. I observed the female continue to be uncooperative and was still not providing a suitable sample. (Point 17)
3. After the eight attempt I heard the female say " I am not doing it anymore, I refuse to blow into that thing again" and started to walk away again. (Point 18)
4. During my investigation of the female I observed nothing to suggest any medical problem. (Point 26)
5. The female was never short of breath or had trouble breathing that I observed.... (Point 27)"

In a report dated October 29 2001, Physician # 2, MB,ChB,FRCP (UK)FRCP(C) FCCP (C), Director of Program in Respiratory Rehabilitation - University of Toronto, states that he has "...been the medical advisor to the pulmonary function laboratories for over 16 years..." and is "...familiar with the Alcotest and the Intoxilyzer 5000C..."

Dr. Goldstein concludes that the "...pulmonary function ...test ...does not provide support of a lung condition of such severity that the subject would be unable to complete a breathalyser test..."

The Respondent called Ontario Provincial Police Officer # 2 as a witness.

Police Officer # 2 testified that he instructed the Applicant on how to blow into the breathalyser machine, but she informed that she "used it before".

The Applicant had the capability to provide an adequate breath sample, but, according to the officer, she "...purposely chose not too...". She would blow for "...five or ten seconds ...another 2 seconds and a sample would have been obtained....". The Applicant was able to blow strongly enough for the machine to register. Then she would "...purposely removed the mouthpiece out of her mouth with her breath...". This was reason that the mouthpiece fell to the ground during one of the attempts.

Police Officer # 2 testified that the Applicant was extremely “...irate, angry and swearing ...had lots of energy ...no respiratory distress at all ...at all ...at all...” The Applicant informed Police Officer # 2 that she had asthma. Police Officer # 2 stated that his experience and knowledge has proven that the breathalyser is designed to accommodate people with breathing difficulties “...even with one lung...”

Police Officer # 2 has been a Registered Nurse for ten years. As such he has come across individuals with respiratory conditions. At no time did the officer observe the Applicant with any symptoms of breathing difficulties, i.e. “...coughing ...wheezing...”

In cross-examination, Counsel for the Applicant asked the officer whether this information was all in his notes. Police Officer # 2 replied that the “...night in question was vivid in his mind...”.

The Applicant's counsel, asked Police Officer # 2 if he remembered the Applicant offering to provide a urine sample. Police Officer # 2 answered that he did, but explained that to the best of his knowledge alcohol is not processed by the kidneys and therefore cannot be obtained in a urine sample. The Highway Traffic Act does allow for a blood sample to be obtained. However, this was not a situation requiring a blood sample to be taken. In order to warrant drawing blood from a suspect, there needs to be serious physical incapacity.

In closing, the counsel for the Applicant, stressed that Ventolin is not an over the counter medication, but can only be obtained by prescription. Counsel for the Applicant remarked that he has ascertained that the normal lung capacity volume is 300 ml, the Applicant registered 142. Even after three weeks the Applicant continued to be diagnosed with mild bronchitis.

In conclusion, Counsel for the Applicant noted that the Applicant has had a driver's licence since she was sixteen, and has only had two speeding infractions. As the Applicant is the owner of a car lot, she knows better than anyone the consequences of drinking and driving. Further, Counsel for the Applicant pointed out, the Applicant was not stopped; she stopped voluntarily to assist her friend.

The Respondent opened closing remarks by noting the Applicant's demeanour at the time. The Applicant was belligerent, swearing and uncooperative. According to the Respondent, this behaviour indicates that the Applicant had no intention of providing a breath sample. The Applicant had enough breath to walk away shouting obscenities, she had enough energy to resist arrest, and it is unlikely that she did not have enough breath to provide a breath sample. Police Officer # 2 is a Registered nurse, and at no time did he see observe the Applicant exhibiting any of the usual symptoms.

The Respondent suggested that Physician #1's report be given "little weight ", not only because it is mostly illegible, but also because there is no interpretation for the Pulmonary Function Test results. There is no history of referrals to a specialist.

While it is true that Physician # 2 did not examine the Applicant, he is quite cognizant of the rates and was able to conclude that according to the Applicant's reading, there is no medical reason as to why the Applicant failed to provide an adequate breath sample.

In conclusion, the Respondent reminded the Tribunal that the onus is on the Applicant to prove the grounds for appeal. In this matter, it is the Respondent's contention that the Applicant failed to prove that her medical condition prevented her from providing an adequate breath sample, and asked the Tribunal to uphold the suspension.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

Section 50.1 (2) (b) of the Highway Traffic Act, states:

"...person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason..."

Thus, at issue is did the Applicant have a medical condition that could cause the Applicant to fail or not comply with the breath demand.

The Tribunal does not dispute that the Applicant suffers from periodic bouts of bronchitis. This finding is substantiated by Physician # 1: "...Bronchitis – Acute, June 19/01 ...reassessed Oct 15/01 ...mild bronchitis..." (Exhibit # 1).

The question remains, how does the medical condition preclude the Applicant from providing an adequate breath sample.

The medical evidence available to the Tribunal is contained on page 2 of the Notice of Appeal, the brief handwritten note prepared by Physician # 1, and Physician # 2's expert report.

The Applicant's counsel, suggests more credence be awarded to Physician # 1's report as Physician # 2 did not examine the Applicant. Counsel for the Applicant, further emphasizes that since Ventolin is not an over the counter medication, the Applicant's condition must be severe enough to merit the doctor issuing a prescription for this type of inhaler. The Respondent contests the Applicant's counsel's premise and adopts the opposite position. The Tribunal was requested to give more weight to Physician # 2's respiratologist report, as Physician # 1's report is mostly illegible and does not interpret the results of the Pulmonary function Tests.

The Tribunal concurs with the Respondent. According to Physician # 1 the Pulmonary Function Tests results "...140 l/min..." constitute "...a medical condition, which prevents ...adequately completing a breathalyser test.", Physician # 2 disagrees. With all due respect to Physician # 1, she is not a specialist in the field of pulmonary disorders, Physician # 2 is, and his credentials are impeccable: "...Director of the University of Toronto, Respiratory Divisional Program in Rehabilitation, ...medical advisor to the pulmonary function laboratories for over 16 years..."

Further, Physician # 2 is "...familiar with the Alcotest and the Intoxilyzer 5000C...". After reviewing the results of the Applicant's Pulmonary Functions Tests as described by Physician # 1 and Physician # 2 concludes that the "...pulmonary function ...test ...does not provide support of a lung condition of such severity that the subject would be unable to complete a breathalyser test..."

The Tribunal accepts Physician # 2's expert conclusion, that the Applicant's Pulmonary Function Tests results were not significant to prevent the Applicant from complying with the demand for a breath sample.

To corroborate its decision, the Tribunal also relies on the visual observations of the officers and on the testimony of the Applicant.

Police Officer # 1' in her sworn Affidavit asserts:

"During my investigation of the female I observed nothing to suggest any medical problem. (Point 26) ... The female was never short of breath or had trouble breathing that I observed... (Point 27)"

Police Officer # 2 a Registered Nurse, familiar with situations of respiratory distress, remembers the Applicant as having "...lots of energy..." and in "...no respiratory distress at all... at all... at all..."

The Applicant, by her own admission, established that she manifested none of the expected visible physical symptoms of asthma or bronchitis, but did feel "...light headed ...dizzy...". The Applicant testified that she did not feel it was necessary to inform the officers of her state of health at the time.

Further, the Tribunal notes that the Applicant's condition was not severe enough to warrant seeking medical assistance within the next few days. In response to the Respondent's question as to why she did not attend emergency or a walk-in clinic while waiting one week to see her physician, the Applicant replied: "Why would I want to do that?"

Mention was made by the Applicant and her counsel of the possibility of determining the alcohol level in the blood through a urine sample. Subsection 48.3(3)1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H-8 as amended is clear in its provision the concentration of alcohol in the blood may be obtained "...by an analysis of the person's breath sample or blood taken...", not urine. Nonetheless, the decision to request a blood sample is at the discretion of the officers, according to established policy. At the time, the Applicant showed no visible signs of respiratory impairment, such as wheezing, coughing or choking. Thus, the issue of a blood sample is not an issue requiring determination by this Tribunal.

The onus being on the Applicant to establish the merit of the appeal, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has failed to do so. Thus, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant does not meet the criteria of Section 50.1 (2) (b), in that she was not able to demonstrate that she suffers from a medical condition, which would prevent her from providing a breath sample.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated September 15, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

TO APPEAL AN ORDER TO IMPOUND A MOTOR VEHICLE ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR

TRIBUNAL: NORMAN MEALING,
Presiding member

APPEARANCES: KIM BEINTEMA,
Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

WILLIAM WOOLSEY, Applicant
GERALD JACKSON, Witness

DATE OF HEARING: November 9, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: November 15, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on November 9, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO SET ASIDE the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	William Woolsey (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1997 GMC Sierra, plate no. 8910CS (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	October 25, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on November 9, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

A request was made for a ruling with respect to (a) hearing the testimony of a witness, namely Gerald Jackson, an employee of Brookside Roofing Limited, and (b) introducing additional material into evidence, namely Profit and Loss Statements for Brookside Roofing Limited for the periods October 2000, and October 2001, and payroll and time records for the period October 14, 2001 to November 8, 2001 for Mr. Jackson.

The Tribunal made its ruling on the preliminary issues which follows:

With the concurrence of the Representative of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, it was ruled that (a) Mr. Jackson would be allowed to testify following the opening statements by the Applicant and the Respondent, and would be excluded from the hearing until called to testify, and (b) the additional material offered by the Applicant would be entered into evidence as Exhibits 3 through 6, inclusive.

The hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

BROOKSIDE ROOFING LIMITED

October 25, 2001

Licence Appeal Tribunal

To Whom It May Concern:

Re Impoundment # 1506305

On Sunday, October 14, 2001, my brother Richard Woolsey requested that he use one of my company trucks to assist in his personal move of residence.

Upon asking him about his driver's license, he assured me that it was valid. Therefore trusting that he was telling the truth, I allowed him the usage of my company vehicle to make his move. Our normal practice is to screen all employees who will have access to any Company Vehicle.

My brother Rick informed me, on the evening of Sunday, October 14, 2001, that there had been a problem and that the truck had been impounded.

Arriving at work on Monday morning there was a message from Constable Vaness (#8141) from Metropolitan Toronto Police Divisions 55, informing us, of the altercation and the impounding of the vehicle.

On October 18, 2001, we pulled a Drivers Abstract on Richard Woolsey, and at this point could understand why his licence was suspended and he believed that his licence was not suspended. On 00/01/24 his licence was reinstated and probably returned to him, at which time it was never removed from his person. Constable Vaness, as mentioned above, did inform me that he physically removed Rick's Driver's Licence from his possession on the night of October 14, 2001. Therefore giving everyone the belief that his licence was still active.

We cannot get a Police Report in regards to the incident as it must be gotten by Richard Woolsey, the person involved. This we were informed by the police & records department. Even though it is a company vehicle and owned by myself, we are not entitled to the incident report.

At this time, we have an address of 1691 Gerrard St., E., Apartment # 1691, Toronto, Ontario, M4L 2B1 and his drivers licence number as W6494 50176 40620, as given to us by the impoundment company, Abrams/S&V at 30 Ashwarren Rd. We were also able to obtain a phone number of 416-778-9863 for Bell Canada Information (411). This is the last known address and phone number on record.

I would like to put forth and request that the company vehicle be released from impoundment as soon as possible, as the business of Brookside Roofing Limited, and it's employees livelihoods depend on this vehicle. We have had to delay work that has already been signed for and cannot go forward with new work due to the fact that we have lost the use of one (1) company vehicle and a crew of roofers have been sent home until further notice.

This therefore will cause a hardship to not only the income of Brookside Roofing Limited, but to its employees, who with the lack of cash flow to the business, may suffer a layoff.

Yours truly,
BROOKSIDE ROOFING LIMITED,

William Woolsey,
Owner

In addition to the written information submitted prior to the hearing, the Applicant also offered evidence indicating the impact of the impoundment on his business, and Mr. Gerald Jackson, an employee of his business. He further explained that he was not in regular contact with his brother, and that he had not been able to contact his brother since the incident which resulted in the impoundment of his vehicle. In response to questioning by the Respondent, and the Presiding Member, the Applicant indicated that he had questioned his brother with respect to his possession of a valid driver's licence, but that he had not asked him to produce a copy of the licence. He indicated that he was not aware of his brother's driving record, which included previous suspensions, and that he accepted his brother's statements concerning his licence. He further indicated that it was the established practice for Brookside Roofing Limited to require employees who would be driving company vehicles to produce their driving licences which were photocopied and kept on file by the company.

The Applicant was questioned with respect to the impact of the impoundment on his business. He explained that, under normal circumstances, Brookside Roofing Limited would employ two vehicles, and two crews, comprising from 10 to 12 people on a fulltime basis. Since the impoundment, the company employs only one vehicle and one crew. The number of people working at any one time is to 4 to 5. There have been no layoffs as such inasmuch as the company has opted to "spread the work around" in order to lessen the impact on any one individual, and retain experienced staff. The Applicant indicated that the Profit and Loss Statements entered into evidence illustrated the impact of the impoundment on his business. Although both statements show an operating loss, the loss for October 2001 was significantly greater, approximately $4000.00, than was the loss for the October 2000 time period, approximately $1500.00. The Applicant also indicated that Brookside Roofing Limited had eight [8] outstanding orders which, given the weather-dependent nature of the roofing business, had to be completed within the next few weeks. He further stated that, although the company had these confirmed orders, the customers were questioning when the work would be done, and that his company's customer service reputation was at risk.

The Applicant was questioned with respect to the availability of alternatives to the impounded vehicles. He indicated that he had been able to transport work crews to the site using public transit and his own personal vehicle, but that the company was not able, due to financial considerations, to rent a replacement vehicle. He also indicated that, in his experience, rented vehicles were not an option given the damage which normally occurs in the transport of roofing materials, generators, and ladders.

At this point in the proceedings, Mr. Gerald Jackson was called, and sworn in as a witness for the Applicant. Mr. Jackson stated that, under normal circumstances, he could expect to work between 25 and 50 hours per week, and that, since the impoundment, he had worked an average of one and one-half days per week. Although the time sheet entered into evidence showed 32 hours of work during the first week of November, Mr. Jackson explained that he had not worked between October 14th and November 1st, 2001. In response to questioning by the Respondent, Mr. Jackson indicated that he had not sought other employment, and that he was relying on family members for support.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Richard M. Woolsey;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until November 16, 2001.

The Respondent offered no additional evidence. During the questioning of the Applicant, the Respondent offered an explanation as to why the driver of the vehicle would have a driver's licence in his possession even though it had been suspended [see Applicant's written statement]. She indicated that, upon conviction, the courts are to request that the driver's licence be surrendered to the court but that this is not always done. In situations such as this, it is the driver's responsibility to return the licence to the Ministry of Transportation.

In her concluding remarks, the Respondent indicated that, in the opinion of the Registrar, the conditions surrounding both due diligence and exceptional hardship had not been met. With respect to due diligence, the point was made that, although the Applicant had asked his brother whether or not he had a valid driver's licence, he had not asked that he show him the licence. With respect to exceptional hardship, the Respondent put forward the position that all of the conditions outlined in the legislation pertaining to exceptional hardship had not been met.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

- (3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,
 - (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
 - (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
 - (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
 - (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of “due diligence” as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, “due diligence” in Black’s Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines “exceptional hardship” as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

(h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section

55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

As to the issue of due diligence, the evidence established that the Applicant had, in fact, asked his brother whether or not he had a valid driver's licence. The evidence also established that he had not asked his brother to show him that licence. As a matter of company practice, Brookside Roofing Limited requires employees to produce a driver's licence if they are to operate company vehicles. The importance of this latter fact is that it shows that, in dealing with persons at "arms-length" from the Applicant, he exercises appropriate care and caution. However, the exercise of due diligence with respect to a family member should be viewed in a different context. On the particular facts of this case, honesty and trust in this context, and that, within that assumption, simply asking the question concerning the driver's licence constituted due diligence. Moreover, it should be noted that, had the Applicant asked his brother to show him his driver's licence, his brother could have done so inasmuch as the court had not requested him to surrender it, and he had not returned it to the Ministry of Transportation. The Applicant had no indication that his brother had any problems respecting his driver's licence.

As to the issue of exceptional hardship, the legislation requires that certain conditions be met. The legislation requires that there are no alternatives available, and, in this regard, the Applicant indicated that the financial situation of his company, and his experience in the roofing business precluded the rental of a replacement vehicle. The legislation also requires that the loss resulting from the impoundment be immediate, significant, and lasting. There is no doubt that the losses experienced by Brookside Roofing were immediate, and significant. This is illustrated by the Profit and Loss Statements entered into evidence. Whether or not they will be lasting cannot be definitively stated, but it can be argued that the impact of not being able to meet the outstanding orders in a timely fashion could have long term implications for Brookside Roofing Limited. Exceptional hardship also requires that the loss of the vehicle impact upon a person ordinarily transported in the vehicle, and that person be other than the driver. The testimony of Mr. Jackson clearly demonstrates a loss of income as a result of the impoundment, and that loss would be much greater if the Applicant had chosen to layoff the staff affected rather than attempt to 'spread around' the available work among the regular workforce of Brookside Roofing Limited.

In conclusion, therefore, the Tribunal finds that the conditions of due diligence and exceptional hardship have been met.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal sets aside the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

Pursuant to subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, Daugava Auto Sales. and Valery Moskvitin hereby consent to the following terms and conditions to their registration as a motor vehicle dealer and salesperson:

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedures Act, the parties hereto hereby waive the requirements of a hearing and consent to a decision of the Licence Appeal Tribunal based upon the following Terms and Conditions:

1. The Dealer acknowledges and understands that it will not retain the services of a salesperson unless the salesperson is registered as a salesperson to the Dealer.
2. The Dealer further acknowledges that the restrictions concerning the activities of a salesperson referred to in these terms and conditions applies to buying, selling and leasing on behalf of a dealer. "Buying, selling and leasing" refers to showing a vehicle to a prospective purchaser or any form of negotiation concerning the purchase, sale or lease of a motor vehicle and is not limited to the signing of contracts. This further includes attendance at auctions on behalf of the Dealer.
3. The Dealer agrees to maintain a garage register in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act and will maintain all books and records as required by the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act. The Dealer further agrees to provide free access to the books and records of the Dealer to any authorized representative of the Registrar.

4. The Dealer agrees that all books and records shall be kept at the Dealer's registered premise, and shall be available to an inspector or investigator appointed by the Registrar, at all reasonable times.
5. The Dealer agrees to maintain a sign at the Dealer's registered premise that will be visible to the public.
6. The Dealer agrees to operate exclusively from the location approved by the Registrar. The Dealer agrees to apply for the Registrar's approval, by way of prior written notice, of any change in location in the form required by the Registrar.
7. The Dealer agrees not to invite the public to deal at a place other than its approved location.
8. The Dealer will not conduct any purchases with anyone who is in the business of buying, selling and leasing motor vehicles without confirming that the person is registered as a Dealer under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.
9. The Dealer will ensure that all advertisements placed by or on behalf of the Dealer will identify the registered name and the address of the location approved by the Registrar.
10. The Dealer will ensure that any vehicle sold is registered in the name of the purchaser in the records of the Ministry of Transportation before releasing the vehicle to the purchaser.
11. The Dealer will not purchase a vehicle without ensuring that the vehicle is registered to the seller in the records of the Ministry of Transportation.
12. The Dealer agrees to register all vehicles purchased within 6 days in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act.
13. The Dealer and/or Salesperson agree not to alter or cause to be altered the odometer of any motor vehicle sold by the Dealer and/or Salesperson. In the event that an odometer must be repaired or replaced, it shall be done in accordance with law. If an odometer is changed or altered in accordance with law, or if the distance travelled by the vehicle is different than the odometer reading, the Dealer and Salesperson agree to make full written disclosure of same to a purchaser, on a Bill of Sale, and to have the purchaser initial the written disclosure. Full disclosure shall include the odometer reading at the time the odometer was repaired or replaced or other explanation for the odometer discrepancy. All disclosures regarding the odometer and the distance travelled shall be in compliance with the OMVIC Standards of Business Practice.

14. The Dealer shall maintain copies of all documents related to any odometer replacement or alteration.
15. All applications submitted by the dealer to a third party warranty company shall include full and honest disclosure as to the distance travelled by the vehicle and if there is a difference between the distance travelled by the vehicle and the odometer reading, same shall be disclosed to the warranty company with an explanation for the discrepancy.
16. The Dealer and Salesperson agree that they are under a positive obligation to disclose all material facts in writing about the vehicles it sells to customers. They agree to make reasonable efforts to research the history of all the Dealer's vehicles prior to sale to ensure all material facts are disclosed. They agree that should any information come to light, which the Registrar deems to be a material fact concerning a vehicle the Dealer has sold, the Dealer will comply with all reasonable requests made by the Registrar to provide compensation to the purchaser.
17. The Dealer acknowledges and understands that its registration will not be used to buy or sell motor vehicles where the Dealer knows or ought to know that the purchase or sale of those motor vehicles will facilitate an illegal or unethical practice.
18. The Dealer will comply with all aspects of the Retail Sales Act with regards to filing, and ensuring all tax collected is accurately reported and remitted to the Minister of Finance when due.
19. The Dealer agrees it will not be involved with the buying and selling of motor vehicles without the benefit of registration.
20. The Dealer will comply with the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council's Code of Ethics and Standards of Business Practice.
21. The Dealer acknowledges that the Registrar may take further administrative action in the form of a proposal to revoke its registration, arising from any matters that have occurred or may occur related to honesty, integrity, financial position and/or compliance with these terms and conditions.
22. The Dealer acknowledges that the Registrar may take legal action, including Provincial Offences prosecution arising from actions related to the purchase, sale or lease of motor vehicles that may have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future.
23. The Dealer and Salesperson agree that should either the Dealer or Salesperson breach any of the Terms and Conditions set out herein the Dealer and Salesperson shall have their registrations revoked.

24. The Dealer and Salesperson hereby withdraw their appeals to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.

25. The Dealer and salesperson hereby acknowledge that they have obtained or have had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to their consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

Appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap.H.8 as amended (the “Act”), from the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the Act.

TO APPEAL AN ORDER TO IMPOUND A MOTOR VEHICLE
ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES

TRIBUNAL: NEIL J. MACPHEE, Q.C.,
Presiding member

APPEARANCES: LUBA NEUWIRTH,
Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

HELENA KLASSEN, Applicant
JOHN HUTCHINSON, Agent for Applicant

DATE OF HEARING: November 9, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: November 15, 2001 Windsor

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on November 9, 2001, at Windsor, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended (“HTA” or the “Act”).

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Helena Klassen (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	1988 Buick Park Avenue, plate no. AFR3593 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	October 23, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on November 9, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

19 Oct 2001

Dear Sirs

I am writing to state why I need my car. I need it to take my children to appointments at the doctor. Also I need it to get my groceries and to get my children to school and pay bills and my youngest to go to the dentist. And I want to look for a job.

Yours truly
Helena Klassen

The Applicant Helena Klassen testified that she presently has only the one vehicle which is now impounded. However, on cross-examination by counsel for the Respondent she admitted that she did own another vehicle, which is still registered in her name, until several months ago when she was in an accident which was not her fault. She also stated that she and her husband were paying the expenses to operate both vehicles. The Tribunal concludes from this that until the accident she and her husband could afford two automobiles.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by James Klassen;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;

4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving While Disqualified under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until November 18, 2003.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The grounds for the appeal are that the impoundment of her vehicle will result in exceptional hardship to the Applicant and her family. For this to succeed, the Tribunal must find first that there is no alternative to the impounded vehicle. Based on the facts as evidence, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant does in fact have alternative transportation to the impounded vehicle. But if the Tribunal did not so find, the Tribunal also finds that the Applicant has not brought herself within the circumstances set out in Ontario Regulation 574, Section 22(2) and (3).

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
UNDER THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REVOKE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: SHEENA MACASKILL, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES:

LEO ADLER, counsel, representing the Applicant
MARY JANE SOUTH, agent, representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATES OF

HEARING: June 1, 2001 and September 21, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This hearing arises from a Notice of Proposal dated December 28, 2000, issued by the Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act ("the Act") to revoke the registration of Mahmoud Yoneci-Melerdi ("the Applicant") as a motor vehicle dealer under the provisions of the Act. The Applicant appeals the Notice of Proposal to the Tribunal.

The Registrar's Notice of Proposal states that the reasons for the proposal are:

1. The Applicant O/A A.R. Auto Wholesale Network has been registered as a motor vehicle dealer since November 24, 1989.
2. The Applicant has engaged in conduct that resulted in the following charges being laid against him: assault with a weapon, use of a firearm to commit, possession of firearm with altered serial number, possession of firearm while prohibited, possession of restricted firearm with ammunition, careless storage of a firearm.

3. The Applicant failed to make full disclosure on applications submitted to the Registrar's office.
4. The Applicant was convicted on July 23, 1993 pursuant to the Immigration Act. The Applicant was further convicted on two counts of assault on April 27, 1995.

THE LAW:

The relevant portion of the Act that is applicable to these proceedings is section 5(1) which reads:

1. An Applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,
 - (b) the past conduct of the Applicant affords reasonable grounds for the belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty,...

As established by the Divisional Court of Ontario in the decision R.G. Brenner v Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers, March 9, 1983, unreported,

....the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty.

THE EVIDENCE:

REGISTRAR'S CASE

The first witness for the Registrar was Detective Donald Wilson, 32 Division, Toronto Police Services. Detective Wilson has been a police officer for over thirty years and a detective since 1980.

Detective Wilson testified that he conducted the investigation relating to the charges pending against the Applicant (Exhibit 4, Tab 7). Detective Wilson is the officer in charge of the investigation and did personally interview the Applicant.

On December 28, 1999 at approximately 1:00 p.m., a 911 call was received by Emergency Services from Nadia Mabsoud, age 36 years ("Ms. Mabsoud"). Ms. Mabsoud reported that her one year old daughter had been abducted at gunpoint by the Applicant.

Detective Wilson arrived at the Applicant's place of business, A.R. Auto Wholesale Network, 1100 Finch Ave. West, Unit 201B, Toronto. He was informed by Ms. Mabsoud that she and her daughter had attended at A.R. Auto Wholesale Network ("A.R. Auto") earlier that day. She also informed Detective Wilson that the Applicant was her ex-common law spouse. Upon informing the Applicant that she intended to use his family name to register the child, the Applicant became enraged, threatened the complainant and told her to leave. When the complainant refused to leave, the Applicant opened a desk drawer, removed a towel and revealed a gun. Ms. Mabsoud, fearing for her safety, fled the premises leaving her child with the Applicant.

Detective Wilson stated that when the police entered the premises at A.R. Auto, the Applicant was not there. A search of the premises revealed a loaded Smith and Wesson 22 calibre handgun in the drawer of a desk located in one of three offices. There were no fingerprints on the gun and the serial numbers had been obliterated. Subsequently, tests conducted at the Centre of Forensic Sciences found the gun to be in working order.

Detective Wilson testified that the Applicant and child were located by the police at the Applicant's residential address, 58 Nipigon Avenue, Toronto. According to Detective Wilson, the Applicant came out of the house and surrendered to police without incident.

Detective Wilson reviewed the various counts in the certified Information sworn December 28, 1999 (Exhibit 4, Tab 7):

Count 3 alleges that the Applicant did have in his possession a Smith and Wesson 22 calibre revolver "knowing that the serial number thereon had been defaced contrary to the Criminal Code."

Count 4 alleges that the Applicant "did have in his possession a firearm to wit a Smith and Wesson 22 calibre revolver while he was prohibited from doing so by reason of an order made pursuant to section 100(1) of the Criminal Code." Following a 1995 conviction for assault, an order was made prohibiting the Applicant from possessing firearms or ammunition for ten years.

Count 5 alleges that the Applicant "was not the holder of an authorization or licence under which he may possess a firearm."

Count 6 alleges that the Applicant stored the firearm in a "careless manner without reasonable precaution for the safety of other persons."

In cross-examination, Detective Wilson agreed that forensic tests confirmed that the gun was never fired. Further, while one serial number had been removed, a second serial number was found underneath the grip frame of the gun. Using this serial number police were able to confirm that the gun had not been used in a Criminal Code offence nor was the gun traceable to the Applicant.

Detective Wilson also agreed that the premises at A.R. Auto consist of a large indoor garage and three cubicle offices. Each office has windows and a door with a window. The gun was found by police in a drawer, in a desk in one of the three offices. The door to the office was unlocked and the desk and drawer were unlocked.

A search of the Applicant's home at 50 Nipigon Avenue revealed no articles or material relating to the storage, cleaning or maintenance of a gun. Similarly, a search of the Applicant's car and the premise at A.R. Auto revealed no evidence of a gun or materials relating to a gun.

Detective Wilson testified that he interviewed the Applicant after his arrest. The Applicant stated that on December 28, 1999 Ms. Mabsoud and her child showed up at A.R. Auto. Ms. Mabsoud was demanding money and he refused to pay. Ms. Mabsoud made a threat against the Applicant, then left the premises leaving the child with the Applicant. The Applicant did not know what to do with the child so he called the Childrens Aid Society. The Applicant denied any involvement or knowledge of the Smith and Wesson 22 calibre revolver.

Detective Wislon also testified that one witness, Shaham Laghai, was present when Ms. Mabsoud arrived at A.R. Auto. He apparently observed her carrying the child and a bag or briefcase. She was asked to wait for the Applicant in one of the three offices. She was alone with the child in the office for a period of time. Mr. Laghai reported that he overheard the Applicant and Ms. Mabsoud arguing about financial matters. He then saw Ms. Mabsoud leave the office without the child. According to witnesses/employees, this particular office is a common office area used by the three or four employees at A.R. Auto for eating or faxing. It is not the Applicant's personal office. It should be noted that Mr. Laghai and the other witnesses interviewed are all employees of the Applicant.

All of the employees denied seeing a gun or having any prior knowledge of a gun in the desk drawer. Further, none of the witnesses saw Ms. Mabsoud enter the office carrying a gun.

The second witness for the Registrar was Mary Jane South, Deputy Registrar of OMVIC since January, 1997. Ms. South is responsible for overseeing OMVIC's registration program and the licensing of dealers and salespeople.

According to OMVIC's records, the Applicant has been registered as a motor vehicle dealer since November 24, 1989 (Exhibit 4, Tab 3).

On October 5, 2000 OMVIC received an application from the Applicant for renewal of his dealer's registration. At question 1 a) of the application, the Applicant responded "yes" to the question "Are there charges pending or has the applicant been found guilty or convicted under any law?" A copy of a letter to the Applicant from his lawyer, Leo Adler, was provided to OMVIC. This letter states in part (Exhibit 4, Tab 5):

"With respect to the question about whether there are any charges pending, this letter will confirm that there are charges pending but that you have not been found guilty or have been convicted under any law

The charges are as follows: assault with weapon, use of firearm, possess firearm serial number altered, possession of firearm while prohibited, possession of a restricted firearm with ammunition and firearm careless storage.

This letter will also confirm that you have instructed me that you are pleading not guilty and that these allegations arise out of an incident involving your former wife who made these allegations."

By letter dated October 30, 2000 the Ontario Provincial Police wrote to OMVIC to provide the results of a CPIC data bank search using the Applicant's name and date of birth:

Jul 22 93 Brampton	Aid & Abet sec 94(1) (M) Immigration Act	Fined $500
Apr 27 95 Toronto	Assault sec 266 CC (2 chgs)	30 days plus probation For 3 yrs proh Possessing Firearms Ammun or Explosive Substance for 10 yrs

The pending charges as described above are also listed on the CPIC data bank report.

On March 16, 1994 the Applicant submitted an application for renewal of his dealer's registration (Exhibit 4, Tab 12). In response to the question "Has the applicant ever been found guilty or convicted of an offence under any law or are any charges now pending?", the Applicant answered "no". It is the position of the Registrar that the Applicant misled the Registrar by failing to disclose the 1993 Immigration Act conviction.

On August 2, 1996 the Applicant submitted an application for renewal of his dealer's registration (Exhibit 4, Tab 11) on which he did disclose the 1995 assault conviction, but not the Immigration Act conviction.

On September 30, 1988, the Applicant applied for renewal of his dealer's registration (Exhibit 4, Tab 10). In response to the question "Are there any charges pending or has the Applicant been found guilty or convicted under any law?", the Applicant answered "no". It is the Registrar's position that the Applicant again attempted to mislead the Registrar by failing to disclose the 1993 Immigration Act conviction and the 1995 assault conviction.

In cross-examination, Ms. South stated that upon receipt of the 1994 application (Exhibit 4, Tab 12), no attempts were made by OMVIC to contact police to determine if the Applicant had a criminal record. Ms. South stated that in 1994, CPIC data bank searches were not done with respect to renewal applications unless the Applicant made disclosure.

With respect to the 1996 renewal application (Exhibit 4, Tab 11), Ms. South stated that a CPIC search was requested and conducted, however she is unable to state whether the CPIC search listed the 1993 Immigration Act conviction. According to Ms. South, CPIC information received by OMVIC must be destroyed immediately and therefore no CPIC records are kept by OMVIC. She agreed that it is impossible to know when the 1993 Immigration Act conviction first appeared on the CPIC data bank. The only evidence before the Tribunal is that this information did appear on the CPIC search done in 2000.

APPLICANT'S CASE

The Applicant gave evidence on his own behalf and did not call any other witnesses. He testified that he was born on September 11, 1955 in Iran and immigrated to Toronto in May, 1993. He is a Canadian citizen. The Applicant is divorced with two children ages fifteen and twelve. He is the owner/operator of A.R. Auto Wholesale Network located at 1100 Finch Ave. W., Unit 210, Toronto.

The Applicant stated that he has never owned or possessed a gun, nor has he ever kept a gun at his place of business. He denies ever showing Ms. Mabsoud a gun or pointing a gun at her on December 28, 1999.

With respect to the 1993 Immigration Act conviction, the Applicant concedes that he did not disclose this conviction to OMVIC. According to the Applicant, the circumstances giving rise to this offence occurred when he was returning to Canada from a vacation on a flight from Turkey. His ex-wife's sister was on the flight with him. When his sister-in-law was questioned by a Canadian Immigration official, she indicated that she was travelling with the Applicant. The Applicant told the Immigration officials that he was travelling alone when he was, infact, accompanying his sister-in-law.

The Applicant stated that he sought legal advice with respect to the Immigration Act offence from a para-legal. He stated that he asked the para-legal if an Immigration Act conviction would result in a criminal record, and if so, he wished to plead not guilty. According to the Applicant, the advice that he received was that the Applicant would not be convicted in a criminal court. Counsel for the Applicant has advised the Tribunal that attempts to locate the para-legal have been unsuccessful.

The Applicant stated that it was his understanding that he was only required to disclose Criminal Code charges or convictions on the renewal applications to OMVIC. Consequently, as he did not believe that the Immigration Act conviction was a criminal conviction, he did not disclose it.

In cross-examination, the Applicant conceded that he was convicted under the Immigration Act for misleading an Immigration official. He also conceded that his sister-in-law was a citizen of Iran, who was attempting to gain entry into Canada illegally by using his wife's passport. Exhibit 4, Tab 9 indicates that the Applicant was prosecuted summarily, did plead guilty and was fined $500.

The Applicant was cross-examined closely on his failure to fully disclose his criminal record to OMVIC and on the wording of the question in the 1994 application (Exhibit 4, Tab 12). Specifically, the Applicant was asked why he did not disclose the Immigration Act conviction when the question states:

“Has the applicant ever been found guilty or convicted of an offence under any law or are any charges pending?”

The Applicant reiterated that it was his understanding and belief that he was only required to disclose Criminal Code charges and convictions.

With respect to the 1996 application and disclosure of the assault conviction, the Applicant stated that the facts giving rise to this conviction relate to a domestic dispute. According to the Applicant, he was invited to his ex-wife's home. Upon arrival at the door, he saw his brother in the house. He stated that he became very angry and he and his brother started to fight. The Applicant's ex-wife also became involved in a physical altercation with the Applicant. The police were called and the Applicant was charged with two counts of assault.

The Applicant was also questioned about his failure to disclose his criminal record on the September 30, 1998 application for renewal to OMVIC. He stated that he did not disclose the 1995 assault conviction because he had already provided this information to OMVIC in 1996. The Tribunal accepts this explanation and finds that there is insufficient evidence to conclude that the Applicant was attempting to mislead the Registrar with respect to the 1998 application.

On cross-examination, about the events of December 28, 1999, the Applicant stated that he was sitting in the north office at A.R. Auto Wholesale Network with a mechanic and one of his friends when he saw Ms. Mabsoud enter the building carrying a child and some bags. The Applicant confirmed that he is the father of this child. The Applicant asked Ms. Mabsoud to wait in the office until he finished his business meeting. Approximately ten or fifteen minutes passed, then the Applicant returned to the office to speak to Ms. Mabsoud. No one else was in the room. It is the Applicant's evidence that Ms. Mabsoud was demanding more child support. The Applicant stated that at that time, he was making voluntary payments to Ms. Mabsoud of $300 per month for the support of the child. She was demanding $600 per month.

The Applicant testified that he told Ms. Mabsoud that he could not afford to pay more money. He also told her that if she could not support the child, then she should think about putting the child into foster care. Ms. Mabsoud then left the office, leaving the child with the Applicant. The Applicant maintains that at no time was a gun involved or mentioned in his conversation with Ms. Mabsoud.

It is the Applicant's theory that Ms. Mabsoud planted the Smith and Wesson 22 calibre revolver in the unlocked desk drawer while she was alone in the office. The Applicant asserts that Ms. Mabsoud knew that he was prohibited from owning or possessing a gun and that she wanted to get revenge against him. It was not clear to the Tribunal why Ms. Mabsoud would wish to have the Applicant arrested for assault and possession of a gun. According to the Applicant's own evidence, Ms. Mabsoud came to A.R. Auto that day seeking more child support. It would not be in her best interests to have the Applicant arrested and jailed, without an ability to earn income or pay child support. However, the Applicant did testify that Ms. Mabsoud has since waived child support payments and the Applicant has not made any payments to her for several months.

The Applicant's counsel advised that the criminal trial on the pending charges is scheduled to take place in the spring, 2002.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO THE FACTS:

The Registrar bases her refusal on two grounds: first, the non disclosure by the Applicant on two separate applications to OMVIC and second, the pending charges and the circumstances surrounding those charges which the Registrar says goes straight to the issue of the Applicant's ability to carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty.

The Tribunal is not satisfied that the Applicant intentionally mislead the Registrar by failing to disclose the 1993 Immigration Act offence. The Applicant testified that he understood that he was only required to disclose criminal offences. He further stated that based on the advice given to him by a para-legal in 1993, the Immigration Act offence was not a criminal offence. Given the Applicant's rudimentary command of the English language, which was demonstrated during his evidence, the Tribunal accepts that he did not fully understand his disclosure obligations.

The question posed in the 1994 application (which is similar to the question posed in the other applications) states:

“Has the applicant ever been found guilty or convicted of an offence under any law or are any charges now pending?”

The words ‘guilty’ and ‘convicted’ suggest offences or charges of a criminal nature. It follows that OMVIC routinely requests a CPIC check on each applicant to determine if he or she has a criminal record. OMVIC did obtain CPIC checks with respect to the 1996 and 1998 applications however no issue was raised by the Registrar concerning the Immigration Act offence until 2000. It must be concluded that the CPIC checks performed in 1996 and 1998 did not list the Immigration Act offence as part of the Applicant's criminal record. This characterization of the Immigration Act offence would tend to support the Applicant's belief that the 1993 conviction did not form part of his criminal record. In other words, the Applicant's failure to disclose this information was based on his understanding that the offence was of a non-criminal nature as opposed to any attempt to mislead OMVIC.

The Registrar also alleges that the Applicant failed to list his 1995 assault conviction on his 1998 application. The Applicant testified that he did not disclose the 1995 assault conviction because he had already provided this information to OMVIC in 1996. As previously stated, the Tribunal accepts this explanation and finds that there is insufficient evidence to conclude that the Applicant was attempting to intentionally mislead the Registrar.

The second ground relates to the gun possession charges. Section 5(1)(b) of the Act mandates that an Applicant's integrity and honesty can only be assessed in light of ‘past conduct’. At the time of this hearing, the Applicant faces criminal charges based on allegations or facts that remain unproven. The Applicant has pleaded not guilty to these charges. It is not for this Tribunal to try the Applicant on the criminal charges. Mere allegations, no matter how serious, do not constitute facts upon which this Tribunal may assess past conduct.

The Registrar submits that it is appropriate for the Tribunal to consider the circumstances that give rise to the criminal charges, even when those charges are ultimately withdrawn at trial or the conviction is under appeal. In John D. Coward (1989) 18 CRAT 418, the issue was whether the hearing should proceed and not be delayed pending termination of the Applicant's appeal against conviction and the Crown's appeal as to sentencing. The Tribunal stated at page 422:

“It should also be noted that even in the event that Mr. Coward should succeed in his appeal, the facts that give rise to the initial conviction, might still be such that they did not demonstrate honesty and integrity as contemplated by the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.”

The reasoning of the Tribunal in Coward is based on the fact that the evidentiary burden on charges under the Criminal Code is beyond a reasonable doubt which is a higher threshold to meet than the test before this Tribunal which is on the balance of probabilities. Moreover the facts giving rise to the conviction in the Coward case had been tested and proven at trial.

In the present case, there is a very real dispute between the Applicant and Ms. Mabsoud as to what transpired in the office on December 28, 1999. The only relevant issue is whether the Applicant possessed a gun and threatened Ms. Mabsoud. The evidence indicates that there were no fingerprints on the gun and there was no independent evidence connecting the Applicant to the gun other than it was found in a desk drawer at the premises of A.R. Auto. In order to make a proper determination of this issue, the trier of fact will need to assess the credibility of both Ms. Mabsoud and the Applicant. This task is for the criminal court and not this Tribunal.

The standard of proof is as summarized by the Divisional Court in Coates v Ontario (Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers) (1988), 65 OR (2d) 526 at p. 536:

“Nothing short of clear and convincing proof based upon cogent evidence will justify an administrative tribunal in revoking a licence to practice medicine or to gain a livelihood in business.”

It is the Tribunal's view that the Notice of Proposal to revoke the registration of the Applicant is premature pending the disposition of the gun possession charges. At the time of this hearing there is insufficient evidence to support the Registrar's conclusion that the Applicant's past conduct affords reasonable grounds for the belief that he will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

DECISION:

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it by Section 7(4) of the Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to refrain from carrying out the Notice of Proposal dated December 28, 2000 to revoke the registration of the Applicant.

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
UNDER THE ONTARIO NEW HOME WARRANTIES PLAN ACT

TO REFUSE TO RENEW REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL:

TERENCE A. WARDROP, Q.C., Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES:

No one appearing for the Applicant,

ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This hearing arises from a Notice of Proposal dated May 29, 2001, (the "Proposal"), issued by the Registrar of the Ontario New Home Warranty Program (the "Registrar"), to refuse to renew the registration of Lillina Family Construction Ltd. (the "Applicant"), as a vendor or a builder under the provisions of Section 8(2) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act R.S.O. 1990. Ch. 0.31 (the "Act").

The Applicant by a notice dated June 22, 2001, (the "Appeal") requested a hearing before the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") respecting the Proposal pursuant to the provisions of sections 9(2) and 9(4) of the Act.

DECISION AND ORDER:

At the hearing, Counsel for the Respondent stated that as a result of recent discussions between the Parties, a settlement of the issues had been reached and Minutes of Settlement had been executed. Counsel further stated that with the consent of Counsel acting on behalf of the Applicant, she was authorized to speak to the settlement of the matter exclusively on behalf of both Parties and file with the Tribunal a copy of the Minutes of Settlement. It was proposed that no evidence would be produced or testimony given at the hearing save for the filing of the Minutes of Settlement.

Subsequent to hearing from Counsel and reviewing the Minutes of Settlement in light of the remarks made by Counsel, the Tribunal marked the Proposal, the Appeal and the Minutes of Settlement as exhibits and gave an oral decision subject to the release of this written order.

Accordingly, this Tribunal, pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 9(4) of the Act:

1. Directs the Applicant to pay on or before the close of business on December 14, 2001, the sum of $10,380.75, together with the 7% Goods and Services Tax thereon in the amount of $726.65 to the Ontario New Home Warranty Program in full settlement of the amounts claimed by the Registrar in the Proposal; provided that in default of payment by the Applicant as aforesaid, the Registrar shall carry out the Proposal to refuse the renewal of the registration of the Applicant as a vendor/builder under the Act effective as at the close of business on December 14, 2001;
2. Directs the Registrar to refrain from carrying out the Proposal in the event that the Applicant makes payment of the full sum of $11,107.40 as hereinbefore provided and shall thereupon renew the registration of the Applicant as a vendor/builder under the Act for the period ending at the close of business on Tuesday, February 5, 2002; provided that upon payment as aforesaid, the Proposal shall be null and void ab initio; and
3. The Applicant may apply for a further renewal of its registration as a vendor/builder under the Act in the normal course without prejudice from or reference to the reasons stated in the Proposal.

TO REVOKE THE REGISTRATION

Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATES OF HEARING: September 24, 2001 and November 15, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") by Gurnek Singh ("Singh") operating as Sarwan Auto Sales from a Notice of Proposal (the "Proposal") dated January 23, 2001 issued by the Registrar to revoke the registration of Singh as a motor vehicle dealer, under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Act");

The proposal was issued in terms of Section 7(1) of the Act, which reads as follows:

7.(1) Where the Registrar proposes to refuse to grant or renew a registration or proposes to suspend or revoke a registration, the Registrar shall serve notice of the proposal, together with written reasons therefore, on the applicant or registrant.

The reasons given by the Registrar in his Notice of Proposal are stated as follows:

The intention and objective of the Act is to protect the public interest. The requirements of the Act include that Registrant be financially responsible in the conduct of business and that Registrant carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty. The Registrant's conduct is inconsistent with the intention and objective of the Act, and therefore warrants disentitlement to registration under the Act.

The Proposal sets out the following Particulars upon which the Registrar bases his proposal to revoke Singh's registration as a motor vehicle dealer:

- 1) Singh Gurnek o/a Sarwan Auto Sales (hereinafter referred to as the "Registrant") is a sole proprietorship, which was registered as a motor vehicle dealer on or about March 10, 1994.
- 2) On the January 18, 1994 application to become a registered dealer question 10 asks:

"Have you ever been found guilty or convicted of an offence under any law or are any charges pending? (This includes those instance where an absolute discharge has been ordered"
The Registrant said "no".
- 3) By letter dated February 22, 1994 the Registrar was informed by the Registrant's lawyer that the Registrant had two charges pending: Assault with a weapon; and attempted obstruction of Justice.
- 4) On the June 18, 1996 application, to become a registered dealer question 10 asks:

"Have you ever been found guilty or convicted of an offence under any law or are any charges pending? (This includes those instances where an absolute discharge has been ordered)".
The Registrant said "no".
- 5) On the renewal application dated April 25, 1998, question 1(a) in section A asks:

"Are there any charges pending or has the applicant been found guilty or convicted under any act?"

The Registrant said "no".
- 6) A criminal record search found that the Applicant has the following convictions:
 - a. Conspiracy to commit indictable offence fraud, January 13, 1997
 - b. Fraud over $5,000.00, January 13, 1997
- 7) The Registrant failed to make full disclosure on applications for registration submitted to the Registrar.

THE EVIDENCE FOR THE REGISTRAR:

The evidence presented by the Registrar at the hearing upon which the Registrar relies in support of his proposal are dealt with hereunder.

Evidence of George Scerbovic

George Scerbovic ("Scerbovic") testified that he is a constable with the Oxford Community Police. Prior to being with the Oxford Community Police he was with the Peel Regional Police.

Scerbovic stated that he was the Officer in charge of a criminal investigation involving Singh and he was assisted in this investigation by another officer. Following upon Scerbovic's investigation, Singh was indicted on 21 counts under the Criminal Code of Canada. When the matter came before the Provincial Court, Brampton, Ontario on January 12, 1998 Singh plead guilty to 2 of the 21 counts, namely counts 9 and 17.

Count 9 of the indictment to which Singh plead guilty alleged that he had "by deceit, falsehood or other fraudulent means" defrauded Progressive Casualty Insurance Company of a sum exceeding $5,000.00 contrary to section 380(1)(a) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

Count 17 of the indictment to which Singh also plead guilty alleged that he had unlawfully conspired and agreed with other unindicted co-conspirators and with a person or persons unknown, to commit the indictable offence of fraud, contrary to section 465(1)(c) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

Singh was fined the sum of $7,500.00 on each of the two counts to which he plead guilty. Singh has paid these fines.

Scerbovic testified further that his investigation revealed that Singh purchased motor vehicles at automobile auctions. The vehicles purchased by Singh at the auctions were insurance "write offs", having suffered damages. After purchase at the auctions, the vehicles were taken to Singh's auto body shop in Brampton which he operated under the name of Brampton Auto Collision Centre and were repaired to meet "the minimum standard to put them on the road". After such repairs had been carried out, the vehicles were sold by Singh through his motor vehicle dealership to various friends of Singh. Within a short time after sale, the vehicles were involved in "staged accidents". Scerbovic explained to the Tribunal that a "staged accident" is one in which both parties involved in the accident knew in advance that an accident would occur. Pursuant to the "staged accidents" the vehicles involved would be taken to Brampton Auto Collision Centre for repair, and the persons involved in the accidents then claimed compensation for "soft issue" damage. After the various motor vehicles were taken to Brampton Auto Collision Centre "the damages were increased". The increased damages were inconsistent with the police reports taken pursuant to the "staged accidents". Insurance claims were then made for the repair costs not only for the damage incurred on the "staged accidents" but also for the damages subsequently sustained by the vehicles after they were taken to Brampton Auto Collision Centre.

Furthermore, the investigation by Scerbovic revealed that Singh himself had claimed compensation from an insurance company when Singh was not present at the motor accident.

Scerbovic further stated in his evidence in chief that the police investigation arose following a report to the police by Singh's sister-in-law that her motor vehicle insurance premiums had increased markedly following an accident involving her motor vehicle. On querying the increase with the insurance company, she was told that the reason was due to her having filed 5 separate accident claims with the company pursuant to which the company had paid such claims to Brampton Auto Collision Centre. Singh's sister-in-law denied making 5 separate claims to her insurance company.

Scerbovic concluded his evidence by stating that Singh appeared to be the leader of the activities which resulted in criminal charges being laid against him and other co-accused and that the police had limited their investigation to 15 accidents as further accident investigations would have proved too intensive to undertake. However, the total value of claims made to insurance companies have thus far totalled $250,000.00 with 3 investigations still ongoing.

In cross-examination by Singh's counsel, Scerbovic stated that his investigations revealed that in regard to count 17 to which Singh plead guilty, Brampton Auto Collision Centre received $5,000.00 in repair costs after it had submitted such a claim to the insurer of the motor vehicle.

Additionally, the parties who claimed personal injuries arising from the "staged accidents" were paid $55,000.00 by the insurance company. The parties who claimed damages for personal injuries were not present at the time of the actual collision.

Evidence of Laura Gordon

Laura Gordon ("Gordon") testified that she is the Director of Compliance with the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") which is a non-profit corporation entrusted with the administration of the Act including ensuring compliance with the terms of the Act and its regulations.

Gordon reviewed the Proposal and confirmed that a written application for registration as a motor vehicle dealer dated January 10, 1994, had been received from Singh. (Exhibit 4, Tab 4)

She referred to paragraph 10 of that application which reads as follows:

Has the applicant ever been found guilty or convicted of an offence under any law or are any charges now pending? This includes where a conditional discharge or an absolute discharge has been ordered. If you, attach full particulars on a separate signed and dated statement. Note: Where the applicant has been previously registered, list only those convictions, conditional discharges, absolute discharges or charges which have not been previously disclosed.

This question was answered with "No".

Subsequent to receipt of this application, a police background check of Singh was initiated, which disclosed pending criminal charges against him. Following this disclosure, a letter was addressed to Singh requesting an explanation regarding the criminal charges. In answer Singh replied by letter dated February 22, 1994 through his solicitor. (Exhibit 4, Tab 5)

Singh's solicitor's letter indicated that Singh was awaiting trial on charges of Assault with a Weapon and Attempt Obstruct Justice that arose out of a December 1992 incident and to which charges Singh professed his innocence and his intention to contest both charges. Gordon made particular reference to the following portion of the letter:

It is clear that these charges were outstanding against Mr. Singh when he filled out the forms in connection with his application for an Automobile Dealership Licence. It is also clear that his answer to question 10 of the form, which dealt with prior convictions, findings of guilt and outstanding charges, was incorrect. I have spoken with Mr. Singh about this matter at some length and I have also spoken with one, Roger Kanda, his cousin, who is a university student who apparently assisted Mr. Singh in originally filling out these forms.

Mr. Singh thought the question referred to only prior convictions or at least to situations where he had been to Court and been found guilty. He said that was the way the question was put to him by Mr. Kanda who was assisting him with the form due to Mr. Singh's problems with the English language. In my conversation with Mr. Kanda this was confirmed. He states that when he read the question to Mr. Singh, he put it to him as to whether he had been previously convicted or found guilty of any offence. He says he overlooked or at least did not realize that the question went on to deal with the matter of pending charges.

Singh was registered as a motor vehicle dealer pursuant to his January 10, 1994 application.

By written application dated March 7, 1996, Singh applied for renewal of his registration as a motor vehicle dealer. (Exhibit 4, Tab 6) In answer to question 10 therein, Singh again answered "No". The wording of question 10 in this written application was identical to the wording on Singh's 1994 application for registration (Exhibit 4, Tab 4)

At the hearing, Singh's counsel conceded that the signatures appearing on both the 1994 and 1996 applications are those of Singh.

Gordon further stated that although the written application of Singh was dated March 7, 1996, it was stamped as received in the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Affairs offices on June 18, 1996.

By way of written application dated April 25, 1998 Singh once again applied for renewal of his registration and this application was received in OMVIC's offices on May 1, 1998. (Exhibit 4, Tab 7)

Question 1(a) of Section A to this renewal application reads as follows:

Are there any charges pending or has the applicant been found guilty or convicted under any law?

To this question the answer “No” has been indicated.

By way of written application, which is undated but stamped as having been received by OMVIC on May 29, 2000, Singh again applied for renewal of his registration and once again in answer to question 10 on that application form the answer “No” was marked. (Exhibit 4, Tab 8) Question 10 on this application is identical in its wording to the previous application of April 25, 1998 (Exhibit 4, Tab 7).

In concluding her testimony in chief, Gordon stated that full and honest disclosure in all applications is considered to be essential as the information sought is material and goes to the very root of an Applicant’s honesty and integrity. The convictions, such as those registered against Singh, as well as their non-disclosure reflect a lack of honesty and integrity and a failure to act in accordance with law. The repeated non-disclosures by Singh of his convictions in all his applications for registration reflect an ongoing course of conduct that is contrary to Section 5 of the Act.

Under cross-examination, Gordon stated that no consumer complaints have been registered against Singh in connection with his motor vehicle dealership. Her concern, however, was that in looking at Singh’s 1994 application, as well as his 1996, 1998 and 2000 applications, a pattern of non-disclosure is evident.

Evidence of Singh, Roger Singh and others

Singh’s testimony was given in the Urdu language and was translated into English by an Interpreter.

Singh stated that he attained grade 8 at school in India where the language of instruction was Punjabi. He left India in 1980 and went to Dubai and then to England where he resided from 1984 to 1989. While in England he went to school two days per week otherwise he trained in auto body repair work.

Singh testified that he is 41 years of age and married with two children. His wife works in his motor vehicle dealership business. He stated that he is the sole proprietor of the dealership which he has operated since 1994. He is also the principal of Brampton Auto Collision Centre.

Singh was shown the application for registration dated January 10, 1994 (Exhibit 4, Tab 4) and confirmed the signature that appeared thereon as his signature. However, he denied that the handwriting elsewhere on the five page application is in his handwriting and specifically denied having marked the "Xs" on page 2 and at the bottom of page 1 of the application.

As to the March 7, 1996 application (Exhibit 4, Tab 6), Singh admitted the signature at the foot of page 5 thereof is his signature but denied that any other handwriting on that document is his handwriting.

As to the April 25, 1998 application (Exhibit 4, Tab 7), Singh acknowledged that the signature that appears twice at the foot of that application, is his signature. However, he said that the handwriting that appears in the block at the top right of the application and the handwriting that appears in "Section B" of the application is not his handwriting. Further, the marks made in answer to the questions in "Section A" of the application were not made by him.

Singh further stated that in his application received by OMVIC on May 29, 2000 (Exhibit 4, Tab 8) the two signatures that appear on that application form are his signatures, but no other handwriting that appears on the form is his handwriting and the marks opposite the questions in "Section A" were not made by him.

In referring to his written application for registration dated January 10, 1994 (Exhibit 4, Tab 4), he stated that the application was completed in the handwriting of his cousin Roger Kanda. He does not remember who completed the written application form of March 7, 1996 (Exhibit 4, Tab 6) but does recollect that the application April 25, 1998 (Exhibit 4, Tab 7) and the application of May 1998 (Exhibit 4, Tab 8) were completed in the handwriting of Manjinder Singh. Manjinder Singh presently lives in New York City, and Singh stated he is not able to contact him.

Singh further stated that when he filed his application form on January 10, 1994 (Exhibit 4, Tab 4) he was then the subject of criminal charges but that he did not know he had to answer question 10 therein as Roger Kanda did not read the form to him.

Singh further stated that as at March 7, 1996 when he signed his application form he was not subject to any criminal charges and had not been convicted of criminal charges. He conceded that he did plead guilty to two criminal charges on January 12, 1998 (Exhibit 4, Tab 9) and was convicted and fined $7,500.00 on each charge. He admitted he had committed fraud. Insofar as the April 25, 1998 application form is concerned (Exhibit 4, Tab 7), he stated that the handwriting thereon as well as the "ticks" to the answers in "Section A" of the form are not his. Furthermore, the questions posed in the application form were not put to him by Manjinder Singh, the person completing the form for him, nor was a translation of the questions given to him by Manjinder Singh.

Singh confirmed that his wife and one other employee work for him at his dealership (Sarwan Auto Sales). He testified that the motor vehicle's that he sells in the course of his business have been purchased by him as insurance write offs at auction sales. The vehicles purchased as write offs are then repaired at Brampton Auto Collision Centre.

Under cross-examination, Singh testified that besides his wife, he employs one other person in his motor vehicle dealership, who cleans cars and shows motor vehicles that are for sale when Singh himself is not present at the business.

Singh also testified that in advance of an auction he will view the motor vehicles that will be on auction and at the auction he receives a bill of sale. Bills of sale contain information as to the particular vehicles' identity number (VIN), its mileage, price and if it is "branded as salvage".

Singh was shown certain bills of sale by the Registrar's counsel. These bills of sale were marked Exhibits 6, 7 and 8.

Insofar as Exhibit 6 is concerned, Singh confirmed his signature appears on the bill of sale as vendor of the motor vehicle. In addition, he conceded that all other handwritten information that appears on the bill of sale was in his handwriting save and except the handwriting under the heading of "customer information" which contains the name of the insurance company, the insurance policy number and the driver's licence number of the purchaser.

Insofar as Exhibit 7 and 8 are concerned Singh confirmed that he signed as vendor on both bill of sales and that all the written insertions that appear on those bill of sales are in his handwriting.

Singh also confirmed in his testimony that he is the sole officer and Director of Brampton Auto Collision Centre.

Manmohan Roger Singh ("Roger Singh") who testified on behalf of Singh, stated that he is a second cousin of Singh and that in 1994 he was studying at McMaster University. When Singh commenced business he asked Roger Singh to assist in completing the January 1994 application form (Exhibit 4, Tab 4) as Singh's English was then very poor.

In referring to Exhibit 4, Tab 4, Roger Singh stated that what appears on the first page under paragraph 1 is in his handwriting, as is the handwriting on page 2 in paragraph 3 as well as the handwriting on page four and at the bottom of page 5. In addition, all "Xs" that appear on the form in answer to various questions were made by Roger Singh.

Gurnial Gill, Baldwin Singh Gill and Rajinder Kishan gave character evidence on behalf of Singh. Individually they stated that they had known Singh for some six to eight years and have had business dealings with him in his motor vehicle dealership. They all found Singh to be ethical and honest in his dealings with them.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

The following were the facts found to have been proven in this matter.

1. Singh was registered as a motor vehicle dealer on March 10, 1994.
2. In Singh's application form for registration as a motor vehicle dealer, which was signed by him and submitted to the Registrar on January 18, 1994, he denied that any charges were then pending against him.
3. There were in fact two charges pending against Singh when he signed and submitted the January 18, 1994 application from to the Registrar.
4. On January 13, 1997 Singh plead guilty to two criminal charges, was found guilty and convicted on those two charges and was fined $7,500.00 on each charge.
5. The two charges to which Singh plead guilty and was convicted and fined were:
 - (a) On or about the 16 day of June in the year 1995, at the City of Brampton in the said region, unlawfully did, by deceit, falsehood or other fraudulent means defraud Progressive Casualty Insurance Company of a sum of money exceeding five thousand dollars contrary to section 380(1)(a) of the Criminal Code of Canada;
 - (b) On or about the 23 day of July in the year 1994, at the City of Brampton in the said region, and elsewhere in the province of Ontario, did unlawfully conspire and agree together one with the other, with the following unindicted co-conspirators:
 - 1) Majinder SINGH;
 - 2) Randhi AUJLA;
 - 3) Harjinder AUJLA;And with a person or persons unknown, to commit the indictable offense of fraud, contrary to section 465(1)(c) of the Criminal Code of Canada;
6. On April 25, 1998 Singh signed and submitted to the Registrar a written application for renewal of his registration as a motor vehicle dealer. In that renewal application, in answer to question 1(a) which asked whether Singh had been found guilty or convicted under any law, the answer given was "no".
7. On or about May 29, 2000 the Registrar received a renewal application from Singh under his signature. In that renewal application, in answer to whether Singh had been found guilty or convicted under any law, the answer given was "no".

8. Singh completed in his own handwriting the Bills of Sale between Sarwan Auto Sales and Boughan, Li and Kaur (Exhibits 6, 7 and 8).

THE LAW:

The Act's relevant portions are:

5.(1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,

.....

(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty;

7.(1) Where the Registrar proposes to refuse to grant or renew a registration or proposes to suspend or revoke a registration, the Registrar shall serve notice of the proposal, together with written reasons therefore, on the applicant or registrant.

DECISION AND REASONS:

The onus of proof falls upon the Registrar to show that the past conduct of Singh affords the Registrar reasonable grounds for belief that Singh will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

The Tribunal should only refuse to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thinks the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of Singh afforded reasonable grounds for belief that Singh will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. This was clearly indicated in the case of Brenner v. Ontario (Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers and Salesman) [1983] O.J. No. 1017, April 7, 1983. To overrule the decision of the Registrar, the Tribunal must conclude that he was wrong in his decision and that the conduct of Singh does not afford reasonable grounds for belief that Singh will in the future carry on activities in contravention of the Act and its Regulations.

The Tribunal's conclusions and the reasons for its conclusion based upon the evidence, are set out hereunder.

FAILURE TO DISCLOSE

The evidence discloses that Singh in his 1994 application for registration as a motor vehicle dealer did not disclose that there were two criminal charges pending against him. Singh admitted through his then solicitor that he failed to disclose the pending charges against him and claimed to have a poor understanding of English which resulted in him misunderstanding the question in the application. The question in the application was "Have you ever been found guilty or convicted of any offence under any law or are there any charges pending?" The answer given was "no". The Registrar appears to have given Singh the benefit of the doubt as to whether the non-disclosure was deliberate or an innocent oversight and proceeded to register Singh.

However, the Tribunal notes that when Singh's solicitor interceded on his behalf when the Registrar initially queried the non-disclosure in the 1994 application, Singh's solicitor stated in his letter to the Registrar that "I have spoken to Mr. Singh about this matter at some length" and went on to state that "Mr. Singh thought the questions referred to only prior convictions or at least to situations where he had been to Court and been found guilty" (Exhibit 4, Tab 5). As far back as 1994, Singh therefore conceded that he knew he had to disclose "prior convictions" or where he had "been found guilty".

Despite Singh having stated to his solicitor that he knew of the requirement to disclose previous convictions, he did not when signing his 1998 and 2000 renewal applications disclose the two convictions registered against him in January 13, 1997.

The Tribunal places no credence regarding Singh's statements that when signing the 1998 and 2000 renewal applications, the relevant questions regarding prior convictions were not read to him or explained to him by the person or persons then filing in the details on the application forms. The Tribunal believes that Singh, well aware of the two 1997 convictions coupled with his previous experience knew he had the obligation to disclose previous convictions but deliberately withheld that information from the Registrar as he feared that the consequences of disclosing the convictions would result in a refusal of his application for registration.

From having observed him during the hearing, Singh's grasp of English, while by no means perfect, is sufficient to understand the questions posed in the various application forms. The Tribunal is lead to this belief having regard to the admission by Singh that he completed in his own handwriting, the three bills of sale in the transactions with purchasers Bougham, Li and Kaur. (Exhibits 6, 7 and 8). All three bills of sale bear the signature of Singh as salesperson and as the "official" who acted on behalf of the Vendor.

The Tribunal is of the opinion that the actions of Singh in failing to disclose his 1997 convictions in his 1998 and 2000 applications were no innocent oversight or due to a lack of proficiency in English but were deliberate acts undertaken with the intent to withhold material and relevant information from the Registrar.

As was stated in Cooke (1999) O.C.R.A.T.D. No. 4 released on January 13, 1999;

The question asked of the Applicant in both applications is highly relevant and of great importance to the Registrar in his consideration as to whether or not an applicant is a worthy candidate for registration. The Applicant when signing both applications certified that the information provided in support of those applications was to the best of his knowledge and belief true. The Registrar's faith in and belief in the integrity and honesty of the Applicant must understandably be destroyed when such Applicant not only once, but on a second occasion conceals relevant information specifically requested of him in the application for registration.

The Tribunal is of the opinion that the twice repeated dishonest answers to the questions, being #10 in both applications, afforded the Registrar with reasonable grounds for his belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

CONVICTIONS

Singh plead guilty to and was convicted on two charges, one under section 380(1)(a) of the Criminal Code of Canada and the other under section 465(1)(c) of that Code. Both convictions were the result of guilty pleas by Singh to two serious criminal charges of an economic nature that were industry related.

The first charge of fraud under section 380(1)(a) of the Code and his plea of guilt and consequent conviction are evidence of deceit, falsehood or fraud. The large fine imposed on Singh speaks to the serious nature of the economic crime committed by Singh.

The second charge of conspiracy to commit a crime under section 465(1)(c) of the Code and Singh's plea of guilty and consequent conviction together with Constable Scerbovic's evidence that Singh was the leader of the conspiracy itself and the nature of the conspiracy leads the Tribunal to the conclusion that he not only planned criminal acts but caused such acts to be carried out.

Both convictions are recent in time and indicate a lack of honesty and integrity on Singh's part. The failure to disclose the 1997 convictions in both the 1998 and 2000 applications for renewal, particularly when Singh was aware of the obligation to disclose such convictions as was so clearly stated in his solicitor's letter of February 22, 1994, are reflective of his repeated disregard of the necessity to be honest and ethical.

Both the convictions and the repeated non-disclosure of such convictions, affords the Registrar reasonable grounds for his belief that Singh will not carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty as required by section 5(1)(b) of the Act. The evidence of the three character witnesses was general in nature and in balancing their evidence against the facts presented in this matter, the Tribunal is not persuaded that the Registrar was wrong in his conclusion respecting Singh being a registered as a motor vehicle dealer.

DECISION:

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to carry out his proposal dated January 23, 2001 to revoke the registration of Gurnek Singh o/a Sarwan Auto Sales.

LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL

Derek Israel, Vice-Chair

RELEASED: November 19, 2001

KALSATOS

ALEXIOS KALSATOS

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
UNDER THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REFUSE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: BRIAN K. MAROTTA, Vice-Chair
ANTOINE AOUAD, M.D., Member

APPEARANCES:

ALEXIOS KALSATOS, the Applicant representing himself
A. MICHAEL ROTHE, Counsel representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF HEARING: November 1, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is a hearing before the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") arising out of a Notice of Proposal issued by the Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Registrar", and the "Act" respectively). The Notice of Proposal dated June 12, 2001 proposed to refuse the registration of Alexios Kalsatos (the "Applicant"), as a motor vehicle salesperson under the provisions of the Act. The Applicant appealed the proposal to refuse registration to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by Notice of Appeal dated June 26, 2001.

ISSUE:

The Registrar's Notice of Proposal to refuse registration stated that the Applicant's past conduct was inconsistent with the intention and objective of the Act, and therefore warranted disentitlement to registration under the Act. The requirements of the Act included that registrants be financially responsible in the conduct of their business and that they carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty.

The issue in this proceeding is whether the Registrar had sufficient grounds to support the belief that the Applicant would not be financially responsible or carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty.

THE LAW:

5. (1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,

(a) having regard to the financial position of the applicant, the applicant cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of business; or

(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty;

6. (1) Subject to section 7, the Registrar may refuse to register an applicant where in the Registrar's opinion the applicant is disentitled to registration under section 5.

EVIDENCE:

The evidence of the Registrar was presented by Joseph A. Persaud, John Taylor and Mary Jane South. Mr. Persaud was a Field Collection Officer with the Ministry of Finance, Collections and Compliance Branch who gave evidence regarding the prior convictions of the Applicant and amounts outstanding and owed to the Minister of Finance. Mr. Taylor was an Inspector for the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") during the relevant time period and conducted inspections on the premises where the Applicant was employed. Mary Jane South is the Deputy Registrar of OMVIC and gave evidence regarding the prior history of the Applicant and the reasons for the Registrar's proposal to refuse registration of the Applicant as a Salesperson.

The Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, gave evidence on his own behalf as well as cross-examining the Registrar's witnesses.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

Based upon the oral and documentary evidence presented at the hearing, the following are the facts found by the Tribunal to have been proven:

1. The Applicant was registered as a motor vehicle salesperson on or about January 20, 1983.
2. The Applicant was the directing mind and sole officer and director of 515652 Ontario Ltd. operating as Alex Sales & Service which, was registered as a motor vehicle dealer on or about January 20, 1983.
3. According to the Applicant's evidence and statements in his prior Application for Registration in 1999, the Applicant had been the owner and operator of Alex Sales & Service since 1973. This did not coincide with the information from the Ministry, and the discrepancy was not explained to the Tribunal.
4. In 1975 the Applicant was convicted on two counts of uttering and three counts of forgery and received a suspended sentence and probation for one year. The Tribunal accepts the explanation of the Applicant that those convictions related to signing safety certificates while he was young and foolish and an apprentice mechanic and that no further convictions of that nature had been repeated in the last twenty-five years.
5. In or about 1983, the Applicant expanded his business and 515652 Ontario Ltd entered into new business ventures including heavy trucks, freight and tractor trailers.
6. While operating the freight business, the Applicant kept current the registration of Alex Sales & Service and personally as a salesperson.
7. The Applicant's trucking and freight business expanded quickly, and by 1989 he had sixty-five employees and a fleet of thirty trucks.
8. The Applicant ran into financial difficulty and used money that was withheld from the employees payroll deductions and money collected under the Retail Sales Tax Act for the purposes of keeping his business going.
9. On or about April 22, 1994, the Applicant was convicted for nine charges of breaching the Income Tax Act and sentenced to fourteen days on each charge consecutively.
10. On September 12, 1995, the Applicant was convicted of further breaches of the Income Tax Act, although the Applicant disputes that date and thinks that the convictions were in 1994.

11. On July 9, 1992, an audit was completed on Alex Sales & Service covering the period August 1, 1986 to April 30, 1992. As a result of Retail Sales Tax collected and not remitted, 515652 Ontario Ltd. operating as Alex Sales & Service was convicted in Provincial Offences Court.
12. As sole officer and director and the controlling mind of 515652 Ontario Ltd. operating as Alex Sales & Service, the Applicant was personally liable for Retail Sales Tax collected and not remitted under the Retail Sales Tax Act.
13. The amount currently outstanding to the Minister of Finance including interest and penalties is $351,825.83.
14. To date no payments have been made on the outstanding amount directly by the Applicant, although $19,000.00 was received from a third party seizure through the Court.
15. On December 6, 1996, the registration of Alex Sales & Service as a motor vehicle dealer was revoked.
16. On December 6, 1996, the registration of the Applicant as a motor vehicle sales person was revoked.
17. The Applicant had given evidence in this hearing that he was up to date in his Retail Sales Tax remittances until 1990 when free trade started to deteriorate his business. This Tribunal takes note that the amount owing to the Province of Ontario for Retail Sales Tax arrears as a result of the audit completed on July 9, 1992 was for Retail Sales Tax collected but not remitted covering the period of the audit of August 1986 to April 1992.
18. In June of 1999, the Applicant applied for individual registration as a salesperson under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act. In that application the Applicant listed his employer as Centre City Auto Sales Inc. Since March of 1998 to the time of the Application. Centre City Auto Sales Inc. was owned by the Applicant's brother, Gus Kalsatos and the Applicant's position there was listed as a ARunner@.
19. On or about the 22nd day of July 1999, the Registrar issued a Notice of Proposal to refuse registration of Alexios Kalsatos as a salesperson under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.
20. Alexios Kalsatos did not exercise his rights to a hearing in accordance with Section 7 (2) of the Act. The Registrar issued a Final Notice on September 27, 1999.

21. The Final Notice sent to Alexios Kalsatos contained the statement that A...no person shall act as a salesperson of or on behalf of a motor vehicle dealer unless registered as a salesperson of such dealer and any person operating without such registration is guilty of an offence and on conviction is liable to a fine and/or imprisonment.@
22. On January 30, 2001, the application of Evelyn May Watling as a salesperson and Centre City Quality Cars Inc. as a dealer was approved. Evelyn May Watling was the only officer and director of Centre City Quality Cars Inc.
23. Evelyn May Watling is the common law spouse of the Applicant.
24. The Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, filed an Assignment in Bankruptcy on January 22, 2001.
25. On February 28, 2001, John Taylor, a representative of the Registrar, attended at the registered premises of Centre City Quality Cars Inc. for the purpose of conducting a new vehicle dealer inspection.
26. With the cooperation of Mr. Kalsatos, Mr. Taylor contacted the owner, Watling at home and she faxed over three vehicle purchase agreements as requested by Mr. Taylor.
27. One vehicle purchase agreement dated January 15, 2001, bearing the name of Georgina Tackor as purchaser, had the signature of the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, as authorized representative of Centre City Quality Cars Inc.
28. The second vehicle purchase agreement dated February 10, 2001, bearing the name of Nuno Vaz as purchaser, was also signed by the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, as authorized representative of Centre City Quality Cars Inc.
29. The third vehicle purchase agreement dated February 14, 2001, bearing the name of Josie Mare as purchaser, was also signed by the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, as authorized representative of Centre City Quality Cars Inc.
30. It was also noted that on the agreements of purchase and sale that contained the notations that they had been paid in full and/or delivered, the notations were made by the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, with his initials beside the notations.
31. The Registrar's representative found the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, was the only person on the premises and had been left in charge of the dealership.

32. Mr. Taylor filled out a New Dealer Report which contained the notation "only people registered to the dealership may buy, sell, lease or represent vehicles on behalf of the dealer. Mr. Alexios Kalsatos is not registered and is, therefore, not permitted to buy, sell, lease or represent vehicles". The Inspection Findings were signed by the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos.
33. The Applicant had business cards in the name of Centre City Quality Cars Inc. with the address and phone number of the dealership with the name Alexios Kalsatos imprinted on the business cards.
34. On March 20, 2001, the registration of Centre City Quality Cars Inc. and Evelyn May Watling was canceled in accordance with Section 13 (3) of Regulation 801 to the Act.
35. On April 25, 2001, the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, applied for registration under the Motor Vehicles Act as a salesperson. He proposed to work for Centre City Quality Cars Inc.
36. On the application to become a registered salesperson, question 9 asked: "Have you ever been found guilty or convicted of any offence under any law or are any charges pending?" To this question, the Applicant answered "Yes - only what your office has on file".
37. The Registrar did not have all of the Applicant's convictions on file nor did the Applicant disclose same.
38. The Applicant had written to his original lawyer to obtain details of the charges for the purpose of forwarding same to the Registrar, however, no such communication with the details was received by the Registrar.
39. Question 8 on the application to become a registered salesperson asked: "Are there any unpaid judgments or outstanding court orders pending against you? If yes, submit a copy of each judgment and/or court order. State amount outstanding and repayment arrangements." The Applicant answered, "Yes" and stated in the space provided "see attached". The Applicant provided an AICON Inquiry Subsystems Outstanding Payment Update with an asterisk beside "Balance owing" indicating that there were two amounts of $1,020.00 outstanding. The Applicant did not disclose any further amounts.
40. On March 7, 2001, Centre City Quality Cars Inc. sold a motor vehicle to Judith Bush. Although Evelyn Watling had signed a vehicle purchase agreement as authorized representative, the notations on the agreement that the amount due had been paid by cheque and that the vehicle was delivered, were the notations of the Applicant in the Applicant's handwriting and initials. The Applicant had talked to the purchaser about the vehicle and had taken the purchaser for a test drive in the vehicle. The Applicant had also delivered the vehicle and received the money for payment of the vehicle by cheque.

41. On March 7, 2001, Centre City Quality Cars Inc. sold a motor vehicle to Sharon Mills. The vehicle purchase agreement was signed by E. Watling as authorized representative but the notations on the vehicle that it was paid and delivered were made by the Applicant in his hand writing and with his initials.
42. The Applicant stated that his wife was gone each afternoon at various times to care for their child. When his wife was not present at the dealership, the Applicant would deal with the customers.
43. The Application for Registration under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act contained the statement:

?I understand that I may not buy or sell vehicles for a motor vehicle dealer unless I am registered under the Act as a Salesperson to that dealer. I acknowledge that ?buying or selling? refers to any form of negotiation concerning the purchase or sale of a vehicle and it not limited to the signing of contracts. I know that this also includes attendance at wholesale auctions or the positions commonly referred to as sales manager, finance and insurance manager, and business manager. I confirm that I will not buy or sell vehicles for any dealer until I receive confirmation from OMVIC that I am registered as a salesperson.?
44. Underneath the above acknowledgment, the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, signed his name and inserted the date of April 25, 2001.
45. On May 5, 2001, Centre City Quality Cars Inc. sold a motor vehicle to Maria Carneiro. The vehicle purchase agreement was signed by the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, as authorized representative of the dealership. The vehicle purchase agreement also had a notation in the handwriting of the Applicant that the vehicle was delivered on May 8, 2001.
46. On June 12, 2001, Centre City Quality Cars Inc. sold a motor vehicle to an individual named Gonsalves. The vehicle purchase agreement had the signature of the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, as authorized representative of Centre City Quality Cars Inc. The agreement also contained a notation in the Applicant's handwriting as to its delivery on June 12, 2001 and that it was paid in full.

DECISION AND REASONS:

The onus of proof rests upon the Registrar to satisfy the Tribunal that he has reasonable grounds to believe that the registration of the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, ought to be refused based upon his activities carried on in contravention of the Act and Regulations and that his past conduct afforded reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant would not carry on business in compliance with Section 5 of the Act.

The leading authority, which has been followed in numerous cases, is the Divisional Court decision of Brenner, reported in 19 CRAT 58. This decision held that the Tribunal should only refuse to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it is of the opinion that the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of an Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that such Applicant would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The authority of the Tribunal under Section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act respecting the proposal of the Registrar was reviewed by Southey J. where he stated at page 60:

The effect of Section 7 (4) is that the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Board does not appear to have directed itself to this question and makes no finding that, in its view, the past conduct of Brenner did not afford reasonable grounds for the belief that Brenner would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Instead, the Board appears to have been preoccupied with sympathetic concern as to whether or not Brenner had genuinely reformed and appears to have decided that it ought to give him a second chance because there was a possibility that he, indeed, might have reformed himself.

This Decision was confirmed by the Divisional Court in Albert Fascenda (1994) 26 CRAT Part II 1050, where it stated at page 1051:

. . . that the Tribunal should have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal only if it thought the Registrar was in error in his belief.

As the result of the above and a line of cases following that reasoning, to overrule the decision of the Registrar, the Tribunal must conclude that the Registrar was wrong in his decision. It must find that the conduct of the Applicant does not afford reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that the Applicant will carry on activities in contravention of the Act and its regulations. The Tribunal must not concern itself with its own opinion of whether or not the Applicant has reformed. It must look at the past conduct of the Applicant and at the decision of the Registrar to come to a conclusion as to whether or not the past conduct of the Applicant would afford reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that such Applicant would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty in the future.

In reviewing the evidence before the Tribunal, the Applicant has several convictions dating back to 1975. The 1975 convictions for fraud and uttering were not afforded very much weight by the Tribunal considering the length of time that has passed since those convictions and the fact that they have not been repeated in subsequent years.

What is of great concern to the Tribunal is the Applicant's and his prior companies convictions under the Income Tax Act and the Retail Sales Tax Act in 1994 and 1995. The Applicant had admitted the convictions as set out by the Registrar and placed the blame for his actions on the coming into force of Free Trade. The Applicant stated that was the cause of the downturn of his business. That was the reason that he gave for using the money collected for Retail Sales Tax and the money withheld from his employees as deductions, for the purposes of keeping his business running.

The funds collected and not remitted by the Applicant were trust funds held by the Applicant and were not his funds to use for any purpose except to remit to the Government. The Applicant's use of trust funds for his own business purposes is a completely unsatisfactory and irresponsible approach to the conduct of business. A business downturn is no excuse for a person to misappropriate another person's funds. To do so is not acting with honesty and integrity or in accordance with the law.

The Applicant's non disclosure in his application to be registered as a salesperson is also of great concern to the Tribunal. The Motor Vehicle Dealers Act is a public protection statute and the Registrar bases his decision on whether or not to grant or refuse a licence, in part, on the responses given by the Applicant. The Applicant's non disclosure amounts to material misrepresentation to the Registrar and thus to the public.

Also of great concern to this Tribunal is the Applicant's actions concerning his participation in Centre City Quality Cars Inc. both before and after his application to the Registrar.

The Applicant had previously been the holder of a salesperson's registration under the Act and was familiar with the Act and the regulations under the Act. His registration as a motor vehicle salesperson was revoked on December 6, 1996. In June of 1999, the Applicant applied for individual registration as a salesperson. Above his signature on the application was a statement acknowledging that he understood that he could not act as a salesperson until he received confirmation from OMVIC that he was registered as a salesperson. The Registrar issued a Notice of Proposal to Refuse Registration on July 22, 1999, which proposal was not appealed by the Applicant. The Applicant was issued a final notice on September 22, 1999 which notice again stated to the Applicant that he could not act as a Salesperson unless registered as a Salesperson under the Act. Despite all of the above mentioned warnings and notices, the Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos, was involved in the sale of a motor vehicle to Tackor on January 15, 2001, Vaz on February 10, 2001 and Mare on February 14, 2001.

On February 8, 2001, a representative of the Registrar attended at Centre City Quality Cars Inc. to conduct a new vehicle dealer inspection. The Applicant, Alexios Kalsatos was the only person on the premises and in charge of the dealership at that time. A New Dealer Report was filled out which contained another warning that only people who were registered to the dealership could act on behalf of the dealer and that since Mr. Kalsatos was not registered he was not permitted to buy, sell, lease or represent vehicles. Mr. Kalsatos was aware of that New Dealer Report and signed it.

Despite the above, the Applicant Alexios Kalsatos was subsequently involved in further motor vehicle sales to Bush on March 7, 2001, Mills on March 8, 2001, Koufos on April 20, 2001, Carneiro on May 5, 2001 and Gonsalves on June 12, 2001.

By continuing to act as a salesmen, the Applicant was continuing to violate the provisions of the Act. His involvement in the sales were industry-specific offences, relating to the very type of commercial activity which is regulated by the Act. The present Notice of Proposal to Refuse Registration was issued by the Registrar as a result of a second application for registration by the Applicant made on April 25, 2001. Above the Applicant's signature, he again acknowledged the statement that he understood that he was not to act as a salesperson unless he was registered under the Act as a salesperson to that dealer. He further acknowledged that buying or selling referred to any form of negotiation and was not limited to the signing of contracts. One of the sales in which the Applicant was involved was only five days prior to that statement and two of the sales were subsequent to that statement.

Upon all of the evidence presented, the Tribunal concludes that the past conduct of the Applicant affords the Registrar reasonable grounds for his belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty.

The Tribunal further finds that the Applicant was, both before and after the submission of his application for registration, carrying on activities in contravention of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act by continuing to act as a salesmen while not registered to do so.

Having carefully considered all of the evidence presented, this Tribunal finds no ground to interfere with the Registrar's proposal.

ORDER:

Pursuant to the authority vested in it by Section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to carry out his proposal dated June 12, 2001 to refuse the registration of Alexios Kalsatos as a motor vehicle salesperson under the Act.

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. On November 8th, 2001, the motor vehicle described in Order to Impound #1506515 was impounded in accordance with subsection 55.1(3) of the Highway Traffic Act, RSO 1990, c. H. 8 as amended.
2. The Applicant, Centennial Trucking (Niagara) Inc., whose name is shown on the plate portion and vehicle portion of the permit for the impounded motor vehicle, is the owner of the said vehicle.
3. No other order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act has ever previously been made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the Applicant.
4. The Applicant filed an appeal to the impoundment order, in accordance with the grounds permitted under clause 50.2(3)(d) of the Highway Traffic Act, stating that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension.
5. Investigations conducted by the Registrar revealed that the driver of the motor vehicle at the time the impound order was made was not then under suspension.
6. The Applicant has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to consent to this Order.
7. The parties agree that this agreement does not bind the Ministry of Transportation or the Registrar of Motor Vehicles in any way, with respect to future hearings or consent orders.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsection 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act that the Tribunal set aside the order to impound.

ORDER

A motion was heard by teleconference on November 14, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the request of Randy Crowe (the "Applicant") for an extension of time to appeal the impoundment order of the Registrar affecting the Applicant's motor vehicle. The motion is brought pursuant to Section 20(7) of Ontario Regulation 632/98 amending Regulation 574 of the Revised Regulations of Ontario, 1990 made under the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990. c.H.8 amended ("HTA").

SUBMISSIONS OF WRITTEN MATERIAL:

The Applicant submitted the following documents:

1. Copy of Impound Order dated September 25, 2001, relating to the impoundment of the motor vehicle for 45 days. (Exhibit # 1)
2. Original Notice of Appeal, including Applicant's position on Appeal, dated October 5, 2001, received by the Tribunal on October 16, 2001. (Exhibit # 2)
3. Letter from the Applicant received by the Tribunal November 2, 2001.

THE FACTS:

The Applicant is the owner of a motor vehicle impounded for a period of 45 days pursuant to section 55.1 of the Highway Traffic Act.

The motor vehicle was ordered impounded on September 16, 2001 while being driven by Mike York, whose driver's licence was under suspension at the time of the impoundment. The Applicant stated that the vehicle was taken by Mr. York without the knowledge or consent the Applicant.

The fifteen-day deadline for filing an appeal with the Tribunal was October 10, 2001. The Applicant's Notice of Appeal was received by the Tribunal on October 16th, 2001, twenty-one days into the impoundment period, and 6 days past the appeal deadline date.

The Applicant testified that he was not aware of the impoundment, and was informed when he received the Order to impound on September 25th, 2001. He was subsequently informed by the impound facility of the procedures for filing an appeal, though he was aware of the appeal process from the information contained in the Order. The Applicant assumed that the fifteen-day deadline for filing his appeal was measured from the date he received the appeal information package from the Tribunal.

The Applicant was unsure of the exact date that the Notice of Appeal was mailed to the Tribunal, but believed it was either the 10th, 11th or 12th of October, 2001. The Tribunal noted that the Applicant's letter to the Tribunal's Registrar dated October 30th, 2001 was received at the Tribunal on November 2nd, 2001, only two days later.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Applicant said he received the Order to Impound on September 25th, 2001, which was nine days after the impoundment, it took the Applicant an additional twelve days to file the appeal. The Applicant testified that he made his best effort to pursue the matter, and that he had difficulty scheduling the time to complete the forms and obtain a money order, as well as a general misunderstanding of the process. The Applicant acknowledged that "it was his fault if it was a little bit late". The Applicant did not provide the Tribunal with any evidence to support his testimony that these reasons prevented him from filing his appeal within the prescribed fifteen-day filing period.

THE LAW:

Section 20(1) of Regulation 632/98 states:

20. (1) An appeal to the Tribunal under section 50.2 of the Act shall be commenced by filing a notice of appeal with the Tribunal within 15 days of the issuance of the order to impound, together with a fee of $100 payable to the Minister of Finance.

Section 20(7) of Regulation 632/98 states:

20. (7) Despite subsection (1), the Tribunal may extend the time for commencing an appeal if the owner establishes that the owner, acting in good faith, was unable through accident, illness, or other cause beyond the owner's control to bring the appeal within the prescribed 15 days.

Section 7 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999 states:

7. Despite any limitation of time fixed by or under any Act for the giving of any notice requiring a hearing by the Tribunal or an appeal from a decision or order of the Tribunal under section 11 or any other Act, if the Tribunal is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for applying for the extension and for granting relief, it may,

- (a) extend the time for giving the notice either before or after the expiration of the limitation of time so limited; and
- (b) give the directions that it considers proper as a result of extending the time.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Section 20(7) of Regulation 632/98, provides the Tribunal with the specific criteria that the Applicant must meet to satisfy the Tribunal that an extension of the time for commencing an appeal ought to be granted. The Applicant must establish that he, acting in good faith, was unable through accident, illness or other cause beyond his control, was not able to bring the appeal within the prescribed 15 days in circumstances where the Registrar does not give his or her consent in writing for an appeal to be commenced after the expiry of the prescribed time. Though the Tribunal acknowledges the desire of the Applicant to accept fault in this matter, the Tribunal is precluded from considering other factors not arising from or directly related to these criteria.

The criteria listed in Section 20(7) which the Tribunal should consider in granting an extension are matters outside the Applicant's control. The testimony of the Applicant was that the initial nine-day delay was due to his receipt of the Order to Impound. However the specific reasons for the further twelve-day delay in submitting his Notice of Appeal form to the Tribunal remained unclear. A variety of reasons were given, including a misunderstanding of the intent of the regulations regarding the date of which the fifteen day Notice of Appeal filing period was to commence. Though the Applicant's Notice of Appeal was dated October 5th, 2001, it was not received by the Tribunal until October 16th, 2001, and it is the date at which the Notice is received at the Tribunal that establishes the filing of an appeal.

The Tribunal is not satisfied that the evidence before it is sufficient to show that the Applicant was unable through a cause beyond the Applicant's control, to bring the appeal within the prescribed fifteen days.

The evidence presented does not establish that the Applicant's delay in appealing the order impounding the vehicle under Section 55.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was the result of accident, illness or other cause beyond the Applicant's control.

ORDER:

Accordingly, the motion herein of the Applicant requesting an extension of time to appeal, pursuant to section 20(7) of Ontario Regulation 632/98 amending Regulation 574, R.R.O. 1990, is dismissed.

DECISION AND REASONS

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by the Applicant respecting a decision of the Minister (the "Respondent") pursuant to section 32(12)(b)(i) of the Highway Traffic Act (Ontario).

EXHIBITS:

Exhibit # 1 – Notice of Appeal from Applicant dated October 22, 2001.

Exhibit # 2 - Notice of licence downgrading dated October 10, 2001.

Exhibit # 3 - Letter from Applicant's family physician dated November 16, 2001.

Exhibit # 4 - Case summary received from the Respondent.

FACTS:

The Applicant, a 44 year old sales manager and truck driver, had his driver's licence downgraded on October 10, 2001 after the Ministry received a medical report from Physician # 1, a neurologist. The report detailed the Applicant's medical history from 1992 until the present including a seizure in March 2000 and a diagnosis of sleep apnea.

In 1992, the Applicant was admitted to hospital with noted behavioural changes and somnolence. After suffering several seizures and periods of delirium, he was diagnosed as having an encephalitis-like illness although it could not be proven. Several EEGs, CT scans and a MRI were normal. He was finally prescribed Valproic Acid and Ativan following his final seizure on December 22, 1992.

His "A" driver's licence was suspended and he was given a "G" licence in April 1993. The "A" licence was reinstated in August 1995 after the Ministry received several medical reports from Physician # 1 updating his condition.

On August 29, 1997, the Applicant was driving on the 401 to Windsor when an OPP officer observed his truck drive off the highway. The truck went through a ditch, over a ramp through another ditch and into a wire fence before stopping. He was arrested, but not charged, although he appeared to be impaired, but with no odour of alcohol. The officer recommended a medical review.

Physician # 1 examined the Applicant on September 12, 1997 and no abnormalities were found. The doctor accepted the Applicant's explanation that he had felt tired and was pulling off the road when he lost control of the truck. The Medical Advisory Committee ("MAC") recommended monitoring the Applicant, but allowed him to retain his "A" licence.

In March and April 2000, the Ministry received letters from Physician # 1 and a Physician # 2 from the Brampton Hospital. They both indicated the Applicant was a risk driving a motor vehicle for medical reasons.

On June 19, 2000, Physician # 1 reported to the Ministry that the Applicant had sustained an episode of unconsciousness in May of that year. He stated this disturbance was associated with being tired and taking over the counter preparations for a cold. His neurological examination, CT scan and an EEG were negative. He recommended it would seem reasonable for him to maintain his motor vehicle privileges as he has had no seizures for several years.

On April 11, 2001, Physician # 1 reported that the Applicant had been seizure free since March of 2000, at which time he had a grand mal seizure while at home. He went on to say he has been subject to sporadic seizures for about a decade. He again reported his neurological examination and tests were all normal.

Physician # 1 again recommended, from a neurological perspective, the Applicant should be permitted to maintain his current motor vehicle licence status because he has been asymptomatic for more than a year. The MAC felt there was an unclear history of seizures in that it appeared there had been a seizure in March 2000 and another in May 2000.

Another report dated August 8, 2001 was received from Physician # 1 with additional medical history. He stated there were sporadic infrequent seizures, the last being in March 2000. In addition, there were several episodes associated with flashing lights at the onset. The penultimate one was in 1997, but it was not clear whether it was a seizure or not. He also mentions the Applicant's history has been complicated because he has been subject to sleep apnea, which has not been successfully treated. Physician # 1 again refers to the last spell in March of 2000, when the Applicant blacked out after a spell of confusion. Prior to going to the hospital he took 2 tablets of Valproic Acid. It was noted that he had bitten his tongue, but an EEG and CT scan were normal.

The Applicant explained this episode quite differently. He testified that he was at home when he suddenly felt very ill. He told his son to get his mother, who was visiting a neighbour, but the son called 911, because he thought his father was having a heart attack.

The Applicant was taken to the Brampton Hospital in spite of the fact he was conscious.

The MAC was concerned about the history of another seizure and the Applicant having sleep apnea, and it recommended his licence be downgraded to "GM2". There was also concern expressed about possible non-compliance, because he took two pills of Valproic Acid before being taken to the hospital. MAC recommended a five-year seizure free period before considering reinstatement of his "A" licence.

ISSUES:

Should the decision of the Minister to change the class or class of motor vehicles in respect of which the licence is issued in accordance with the result of the examination be varied, modified or set aside?

LAW:

Regulation 340/94, Section 14 states:

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffer from any mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely; and
- (b) be addicted to the use of alcohol or a drug to an extent likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle safely.

Regulation 340/94, Section 17 and 18 states:

- 17. (1) Qualifications required by an applicant for a holder of a Class A, B, C, D, E or F driver's licence are that the applicant or holder,
 - (a) has no history or clinical diagnosis of diabetes that requires insulin for control;
 - (b) is not taking any drug that could, in the dosage prescribed or in the dosage recommended by the manufacturer, impair his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely;
 - (c) has no established medical history of myocardial infarction, angina pectoris, coronary insufficiency or thrombosis;
 - (d) has no established medical history of heart disease including arrhythmia or of respiratory dysfunction likely to interfere with the safe driving of a motor vehicle of the applicable class;
 - (e) is not suffering from an aortic aneurysm, whether resected or not;
 - (f) is not suffering from hypertension accompanied by postural hypotension resulting in giddiness when under treatment;
 - (g) has no established medical history of loss of consciousness or awareness due to a chronic or recurring condition;
 - (h) has no established medical history of a disorder of the musculoskeletal or nervous system that may interfere with the safe driving of a motor vehicle of the applicable class;

- (i) has no established medical history of an intractable psychotic or psychoneurotic disorder, having particular regard for sustained hostile, aggressive, paranoid, suicidal or other destructive tendencies or depression unless it is medically determined that the condition from which the person has suffered is corrected or controlled;
 - (j) has a visual acuity by Snellen Rating, with or without the aid of corrective lenses, no poorer than 20/30 in the better eye and 20/50 in the weaker eye; and
 - (k) has a horizontal visual field of at least 120 degrees in each eye as measured by confrontation tests.
- (2) An applicant for or a holder of a Class A, B, C, D, E or F driver's licence who fails to meet the qualifications referred to in clauses (1)(a) to (i) may, despite the failure, qualify for the class of licence applied for or held if he or she demonstrated the ability to drive a motor vehicle in the applicable class as safely as any person who meets those qualifications.
- (3) An applicant for or a holder of a Class D driver's licence who fails to meet the qualification referred to in clause (1)(c) may, despite the failure, qualify for that class of licence if it is medically determined that he or she has made a full recovery and there is no established history of a second occurrence of myocardial infraction, thrombosis or recurring angina pectoris.
- (4) An applicant for or a holder of a Class B, C, E or F driver's licence whose hearing in one ear is better than in the other must be able to perceive in the better ear, with or without a hearing aid, a forced whisper at a distance of 1.5 metres or, if an audiometer is used to test the person's hearing, must not have a loss in the better ear of more than 40 decibels at 500, 1,000 and 2,000 hertz.
- 18. An applicant for or a holder of a G, G1, G2, L, M, M1, M2, or R driver's licence must have,
 - (a) in the case of a person whose vision in one eye is better than in the other, visual acuity in the better eye that is no poorer than 20/40 as measured by Snellen Rating; and
 - (b) a horizontal visual field of at least 120 degrees as measured by confrontation tests.

Section 32(12)(b)(i) states:

- 32 No person shall drive a motor vehicle on a highway unless the motor vehicle is within a class of motor vehicles in respect of which the person holds a driver's licence issued to him or her under this Act.

- (12) An applicant for a driver's licence or a person who holds a driver's licence shall submit to the examinations that are authorized by the regulations relating to this section and required by the Minister at the time and places that the Minister may require and the Minister may,
 - (b) in the case of a person who holds a driver's licence,
 - (i) impose or remove the conditions or endorsements authorized by the regulations or change the class or classes of motor vehicles in respect of which the licence is issued in accordance with the result of the examinations, or

Section 50 states:

- 50(1) Every person aggrieved by a decision of the Minister under subclause 32(12)(b)(i) or a decision of the Registrar under section 17 or 47 may appeal the decision to the Tribunal.
- (2) The Tribunal may confirm, modify or set aside the decision of the Minister or Registrar.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

In downgrading the Applicant's driver's licence from "A" to "G" pursuant to Section 32(12)(b)(1) of The Highway Traffic Act, the Registrar is relying on Regulation 340/94, Section 14, which states:

An applicant for or a holder of a driver's licence must not,

- (a) suffer from any mental, emotional, nervous or physical disability likely to significantly interfere with his or her ability to drive a motor vehicle of the applicable class safely---

and Section 17(1), which states:

Qualifications required by an applicant for a holder of a Class A, B, C, D, E or F driver's licence are that the applicant or holder,

- (g) has no established medical history of loss of consciousness or awareness due to a chronic or recurring condition;

There is no doubt that the Applicant had several seizures in 1992 when he suffered with what was described as an encephalitis-like illness. There were apparently no problems for the next five years until he drove his tractor-trailer off the highway in 1997. This may have been a seizure, but no one involved in the investigation labelled it as such.

Although the medical reports received from Physician # 1 contain inconsistencies, he states in the last two reports that the Applicant suffered a seizure in March 2000. The facts that the Applicant bit his tongue, took two Valproic Acid tablets immediately and went to the hospital, in spite of testifying that he believed it was an anxiety attack, tend to verify that it was a seizure. Physician # 2, who treated him in the emergency, and Physician # 1 were concerned enough to notify the Ministry.

The Tribunal is concerned about Physician # 1's report dated June 19, 2000, which stated an episode of unconsciousness in May of 2000 could be attributed to fatigue and the effect of over the counter medication for a cold. This report was written two months after he had notified the Ministry that the Applicant might be a risk when driving for neurological reasons and recommending investigations and therapy.

The Tribunal considered the Applicant to be a credible witness, but he did not appear to appreciate the significance or importance of certain things that happened. He stated in evidence that he did not really know if it was necessary for him to still take the anticonvulsant medications. He introduced a note from his family doctor (Exhibit #3) which states the Applicant had not had a seizure since 1992. The Tribunal did not give too much weight to this, because this doctor did not appear to be involved in the Applicant's treatment, according to the medical reports received.

The Tribunal believes the Registrar acted correctly in downgrading the Applicant's driver's licence according to Regulation 340/94, since the final medical reports clearly state the Applicant suffered a seizure in March 2000, which would be difficult to dispute.

The Canadian Medical Association's guide for physicians "Determining Medical Fitness to Drive", regarding professional drivers, states after an epilepsy diagnosis - resume driving if 5 years seizure free off medication and 10 years if seizure free on medication.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the decision dated October 15, 2001 of the Minister to change the class or classes of motor vehicle in respect of which the licence was issued pursuant to Section 32(12)(b)(i) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA"), and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the parties;

IT IS THE DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50(2) of the Act that the decision of the Registrar be confirmed.

FIACCO

LIVIO FIACCO

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
UNDER THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REVOKE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: BRIAN K. MAROTTA, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES:

LIVIO FIACCO, the Applicant, appearing on his own behalf
YOVANKA McBEAN, Agent, representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF
HEARING: November 15, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is a hearing before the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") arising out of a Notice of Proposal issued by the Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Registrar", and the "Act" respectively). The Notice of Proposal dated April 6, 2001 (the "Proposal") proposed to revoke the registration of Livio Fiacco (the "Applicant"), as a salesperson under the Act.

The Registrar's reasons for his Proposal were that the Act required registrants to be financially responsible in the conduct of business and to carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty. The Registrar alleged that the Registrant's past conduct was inconsistent with the intention and objective of the Act and, therefore, warranted disentitlement to registration under the Act.

The particulars given were that the Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund (the "Compensation Fund" or "Fund") approved payment of a consumer claim in the sum of $1,495.00 with respect to a warranty that was sold by Traxx Auto Sales and Leasing Inc. ("Traxx") and never submitted to the warranty company. As the Applicant was an officer and director of that Traxx and had made no arrangements to repay the Fund, he failed to act with honesty, integrity or financial responsibility.

On April 17, 2001, the Applicant appealed the proposal to revoke his registration to the Licence Appeal Tribunal on the basis that he was not the person who sold the vehicle or warranty and was one of only three partners and, therefore, should not be totally responsible himself. On July 20, 2001, the matter came before the Licence Appeal Tribunal for a hearing, however, Counsel for the Registrar applied for and obtained an adjournment on the basis that Notice of Hearing had not been received. The matter was adjourned to November 15, 2001.

On October 31, 2001, the Registrar issued a Notice of Further and Other Particulars. This Notice alleged that one, Douglas Hewitt, had received a Judgment of $1,899.00 against Traxx Auto Sales and Leasing Inc. on February 24, 2000. This was also a result of Traxx neglecting to submit warranty money paid by the purchaser for an extended warranty. A claim was made to the Compensation Fund, and the Applicant had made no arrangements to resolve the outstanding judgment. There was no written response from the Applicant.

THE ISSUE:

The issue in this proceeding is whether the Registrar had sufficient grounds to support the Registrar's belief that the Applicant would not be financially responsible or carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty and that therefore the Applicant's registration as a salesperson under the Act should be revoked.

THE LAW:

The Motor Vehicle Dealers Act provides the following:

5. (1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,
 - (a) having regard to the financial position of the applicant, the applicant cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of business; or
 - (b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty;

.....

6.(2) Subject to section 7, the Registrar may refuse to renew or may suspend or revoke a registration for any reason that would disentitle the registrant to registration under section 5 if the registrant were an applicant, or where the registrant is in breach of a term or condition of the registration. R.S.O. 1990, c. M.42, s. 6.

Regulation 801 under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act provides:

12.(1) The Fund is established as of the 1st day of July 1986, to stand in the place of a participant for the payment out of the Fund of claims of customers of the participant where the transactions occurred during the period when the participant was registered under the Act and where the participant has refused after demand or is unable to pay the claims.

(3) A customer may make a claim against the Fund where the customer gives written notice of the claim to the Registrar within two years of the participant's refusal or failure to pay, even if the motor vehicle dealer with respect to whom the claim is being made ceased to be a participant after the refusal or failure to pay, and where the claim meets one of the following requirements:

1. The customer has recovered in any court in Ontario a judgment in respect of the claim and the judgment has become final by reason of the expiration of the time for appeal or of having been confirmed by the highest court to which an appeal may be taken and the customer makes an application, supported by the judgment and statement of claim, for payment of the unsatisfied portion of the judgment and costs as assessed.

.....

5. The customer has made payment for an extended warranty or service plan to a participant where the warranty or plan is not underwritten by an insurer and the term of the warranty or plan has not expired and the claim is for a non-earned premium or for a repair under the warranty or plan.

EVIDENCE:

The evidence of the Registrar was presented by Ms. Mary Jane South. Ms. South is the Deputy Registrar of the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") which has the duty of administering the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act. Ms. South explained how OMVIC was created on January 7, 1997 by the Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs for the purpose of protecting consumers against dealers who would not or could not honour their financial responsibilities. She explained what steps a consumer had to take to make a claim to the Compensation Fund and on what conditions the Fund would make payment to the consumer.

Ms. South gave evidence regarding the particulars set out in the proposal of the Registrar and the further notice given by the Registrar. The evidence included the fact that the Applicant is an officer of Traxx Auto Sales and Leasing Inc. which was registered under the Act for a two-year period but did not apply to renew its registration. She reviewed the evidence regarding the claims of Mr. Bernardo and Mr. Hewitt and the negotiations with the Applicant to try and obtain satisfaction of amounts paid by the Compensation Fund. She advised that the Registrar was concerned that there may be others who had purchased extended warranties from Traxx but have not yet had any problems and, therefore, have not noticed that they did not have coverage.

The Applicant, Livio Fiacco, declined to cross-examine the Deputy Registrar, although given the opportunity to do so. He gave evidence on his own behalf. The Applicant did not produce any witnesses. The main thrust of the Applicant's argument was that he was only one of three partners in the business so he should only be one-third responsible. The Applicant also stated that he was not the one who sold the vehicle or the warranty and, therefore, was not completely aware of all of the circumstances. In respect to Mr. Bernardo, he stated that his claim was for radiator repairs were not covered under the warranty in any event.

In regard to Mr. Hewitt, Mr. Fiacco was aware of the warranty problem. He and his nephew, Claudio Fiacco, went to a pre-trial with a Paralegal retained by Mr. Hewitt, and Mr. Fiacco said he was advised that he had a certain length of time to resolve the problem with Mr. Hewitt or the matter would go to trial. He said he never followed up on that because the business closed the year after. He did not remember when the pre-trial was. He stated that when he found out about the judgment, he had spoken to someone at OMVIC who wanted to discuss what he was going to do and if he could make any payments. He did not get back to OMVIC because he thought he could resolve the matter here, at the Tribunal.

He admitted that he and his nephew, Claudio Fiacco, were both Presidents of Traxx and both were responsible for maintaining the books and records of the company. Sebastiano Fiacco, the third owner of Traxx but was not involved much in the business.

The Applicant, Livio Fiacco stated that he was prepared to resolve the problems relating to Hewitt and Bernardo at this time. When asked why it had not been resolved before this time, he stated that his partners were waiting for the outcome of this hearing to see what they would do. He testified that neither former partner was then registered under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

Based upon the oral and documentary evidence presented at the hearing, the Tribunal finds the following are the facts to have been proven:

1. The Applicant was registered as a motor vehicle salesperson on or about May 28, 1996.
2. Traxx was registered under the Act as a motor vehicle dealer on or about June 4, 1998 for a two-year period. Its registration lapsed on June 5, 2000 and was not renewed.
3. The officers and directors of Traxx are the Applicant, Livio Fiacco, his nephew, Claudio Fiacco, and his cousin, Sebastiano Fiacco.
4. Sebastiano Fiacco had little to do with the activities of the business.
5. Claudio Fiacco was the main salesperson for the business with some responsibility for keeping Traxx's books and records.
6. The Applicant, Livio Fiacco, did some sales when his Claudio Fiacco was not there and also had some responsibility for keeping the books and records of Traxx, attending at auctions and doing the banking.
7. Traxx is still listed with the Companies Branch as an active company, however, it closed its doors as a motor vehicle dealer in June 2000 and its registration under the Act has lapsed.
8. The registration of Claudio Fiacco under the Act has lapsed, and he has not applied to his registration.
9. The Applicant transferred his registration as a motor vehicle salesperson from Traxx to another motor vehicle dealer in Toronto.
10. On or about May 13, 2000, Traxx sold a 1996 Integra to Albert Bernardo. Along with the vehicle, Mr. Bernardo purchased a two year/40,000 kilometer Secure Drive Warranty for an extra cost of $1,300.00. The salesperson was Claudio Fiacco.
11. The purchaser, Mr. Bernardo, required some repairs on his motor vehicle and contacted the warranty company. It advised him that it had not received an application or funds and that his vehicle was not covered by any extended warranty. The purchaser was required to pay for his vehicle repairs in the sum of $596.85.

12. On December 5, 2000, the purchaser, Mr. Bernardo, completed an Application for Claim to the Compensation Fund. The claim was made under Regulation 801, Section 12(3)5, relating to claims for extended warranties.
13. On December 5, 2000, Mr. Bernardo completed a Subrogation Agreement, assigning to the Compensation Fund all claims that he had against Traxx.
14. On January 5, 2001, the Administrator of the Compensation Fund wrote to the Applicant and advised him of the claim of Mr. Bernardo. The Applicant's attention was drawn to Section 5 (1)(a), (b) and (c) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act relating to carrying on business in accordance with law, honesty, integrity and financial responsibility. A response was requested on or before January 15, 2001.
15. There was a discussion with a representative at the Compensation Fund, and the Applicant was to advise of his position and/or repayment method. The Applicant did not get back to the Compensation Fund.
16. On February 16, 2001, the Administrator for the Compensation Fund again wrote to the Applicant requesting his written response regarding the claim of Mr. Bernardo and again drawing his attention to sections of the Act. A response was requested by February 23, 2001.
17. On February 20, 2001, the Applicant wrote to the Compensation Fund advising that he was not the one who sold the vehicle so he was not 100% familiar with the deal and felt that he should not be responsible for the whole matter. He continued to say that his expenses were at their maximum level and that he could not afford any other expense.
18. On April 18, 2001, the Compensation Fund paid Mr. Bernardo the sum of $2,091.85 representing the amount paid for the warranty and for the repairs made to the vehicle.
19. On March 4, 1999, Douglas Hewitt purchased a motor vehicle from Traxx and paid an extra amount of $1,899.00 for a thirty-six month/60,000 kilometer Gold Warranty. The salesman on behalf of Traxx was Claudio Fiacco.
20. On June 23, 1999, Mr. Hewitt had a Paralegal write to Traxx to demand return of his money for the extended warranty as the warranty company had not been paid or contacted by the dealership to extend his warranty.
21. Mr. Hewitt's claim was not resolved and on July 15, 1999, Mr. Hewitt commenced an action in Small Claims Court against Traxx and Claudio Fiacco.

22. The Applicant was aware of the claim by Mr. Hewitt and attended with Claudio Fiacco in Court at a pre-trial in 1999. The Applicant was told that he had a certain amount of time to resolve the problem with Mr. Hewitt, and he was aware that if he did not resolve the problem that it would go to trial.
23. The endorsement record of the Small Claims Court shows that the matter was ordered to pre-trial on August 27, 1999, and on February 24, 2000, judgment was entered in favor of the Plaintiff (Hewitt) in the sum of $1,899.00 plus pre-judgment interest and costs. The endorsement states that no one appeared for the Defendants.
24. On or about May 11, 2000, a Notice of Garnishment was issued. On or about June 4, 2000, the registration under the Act of Traxx and Claudio Fiacco lapsed and was not renewed. The Applicant closed the business of Traxx.
25. The Applicant stated that he was well aware of the Judgment against Traxx but did not follow up on resolving it as Traxx was later closed.
26. On or about September 11, 2001, Mr. Hewitt applied to the Compensation Fund and completed the subrogation form assigning his rights against Traxx to the Compensation Fund, to the extent of payments made.
27. On September 25, 2001, the Administrator of the Compensation Fund wrote Mr. Fiacco, the Applicant, asking him to contact the Fund to discuss resolving this matter.
28. The Applicant spoke to the Administrator, and the Applicant was to get back to the Administrator to discuss making payment. The Applicant did not contact the Administrator again as he thought he could settle the matter here before the Tribunal.
29. On November 9, 2001, the Compensation Fund approved the claim of Mr. Hewitt against Traxx in the sum of $466.50.

DECISION AND REASONS:

The onus of proof rests upon the Registrar to satisfy the Tribunal that he has reasonable grounds to believe that the registration of Livio Fiacco ought to be revoked based upon the particulars set out in the Notice of Proposal dated April 6, 2001 and the Notice of Further and Other Particulars dated October 31, 2001.

The leading authority, which has been followed in numerous cases, is the Divisional Court Decision of Brenner, reported in 19 CRAT 58. This decision held that the Tribunal should only refuse to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it is of the opinion that the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of an Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that such Applicant would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The authority of the Tribunal under Section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act respecting the proposal of the Registrar was reviewed by Southey J. where he stated at page 60:

The effect of Section 7 (4) is that the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Board does not appear to have directed itself to this question and makes no finding that, in its view, the past conduct of Brenner did not afford reasonable grounds for the belief that Brenner would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Instead, the Board appears to have been preoccupied with sympathetic concern as to whether or not Brenner had genuinely reformed and appears to have decided that it ought to give him a second chance because there was a possibility that he, indeed, might have reformed himself.

This Decision was confirmed by the Divisional Court in Albert Fascenda (1994) 26 CRAT Part II 1050, where it stated at page 1051:

. . . that the Tribunal should have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal only if it thought the Registrar was in error in his belief.

Considering the above and a line of cases following that reasoning, to overrule the decision of the Registrar, the Tribunal must conclude that the Registrar was wrong in his decision. It must find that the conduct of the Applicant does not afford reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that the Applicant will carry on activities in contravention of the Act and its regulations. The Tribunal must not concern itself with its own opinion of whether or not the Applicant has reformed. It must look at the past conduct of the Applicant and at the decision of the Registrar to come to a conclusion as to whether or not the past conduct of the Applicant would afford reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that such Applicant would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty in the future.

There is no doubt that the Applicant was a director of Traxx Auto Sales and Leasing Inc. and in fact, he described himself as one of the three presidents. Accordingly, he had a position of authority in Traxx, but he did not have majority control in shares or authority. In such circumstances, the Registrar has not established that he was the directing mind of Traxx. The officer and director dealing with Bernardo and Hewitt who suffered the loss for which they have been compensated by the Compensation Fund was Claudio Faccio, not the Applicant.

Traxx through subrogation, can be pursued by the Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund for all amounts that it had paid out, although this remedy may not be practical. Also, the Registrar can no longer effectively regulate Traxx or Claudio Faccio as they were no longer registered under the Act. The Applicant is still registered as a salesperson under the Act. The issue then becomes one of whether the Registrar had reasonable grounds to believe that the actions of the Applicant in the Bernardo and Hewitt matters afforded reasonable grounds for the Registrar to believe that the Applicant would not in the future carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity, honesty and financial responsibility.

The Tribunal is mindful of the decision in Josef Reznik (1990) 20 CRAT 65 referred to in Udel (1995) CRAT No. 4, which held that judgments against an Applicant which remain unpaid provide evidence that the Applicant is not capable of satisfying the test of financial responsibility set forth in Section 5(1)(a). Here, however, there is no evidence to show that there is a judgment against the Applicant.

In the present case, the judgment was against Traxx and Claudio Faccio and not against the Applicant personally. Although the Applicant was aware of the claim by Hewitt and the Small Claims Court action against the dealership and Claudio Faccio, it was his position from the time of first notification up to the time of this Hearing that he should only be partially responsible as he was not the sole director of the corporation. He added to that the fact that he did not sell the vehicle or the warranty to Mr. Hewitt. The Applicant appeared to be totally ignorant of the law and his legal obligations under the Act. He stated that it was his belief that he was coming to the Hearing before the Tribunal to decide who should be responsible for repaying the Compensation Fund and in what proportions. He came prepared to settle the matter and appeared to think that would be the end of it.

In the present case, the Applicant has been registered as a salesperson since May 28, 1996. There was no evidence put forth by the Registrar of any complaints filed against the Applicant during that entire period to the present except for the Registrar's complaints presently before the Tribunal. Although the Applicant had access to all books and records of Traxx and was partially responsible for keeping those books and records, there was no evidence presented by the Registrar that the Applicant was aware that the warranty money was not forwarded to the warranty company.

Although the Registrar was concerned that there may in the future be more claims of this nature, there was no evidence produced that this may be the case or that these two particular instances were anything more than an oversight. In any event, the evidence connecting the Applicant to the two transactions is tenuous at best. Without the opportunity to review the books and records of Traxx and in the absence of any further complaints, the Registrar had no ability to support this concern. Therefore, the Registrar's opinion must only be based on the Applicant's non payment of the Hewitt and Bernardo claims.

In the Hewitt matter, the Applicant was aware of this claim while Traxx was registered under the Act, but that does not establish personal liability on the Applicant, either for the conduct leading to the claim or its payment. In the circumstances of this particular case, the Applicant was only one of the three directors of Traxx. He had no significant role in the two transactions that resulted in claims against the Compensation Fund. The lack of registration in a regulated industry is a significant penalty. For the Registrar to deny registration to the Applicant there must be a reasonable basis to conclude that the Applicant will not be financially responsible in the conduct of business or in accordance with the law and with integrity or honesty or will carry on activities in contravention of the Act or regulations. This has not been established in this case. In view of this, the Tribunal finds that the Registrar did not have sufficient reasonable grounds to believe that the Applicant would not in the future be financially responsible in the conduct of business or that he would not carry on business in accordance with the law and with honesty and integrity.

ORDER:

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, the Tribunal directs that the Registrar refrain from carrying out his proposal dated April 6, 2001 respecting Livio Fiacco.

ORDER

A motion was heard by teleconference on November 20, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's request for an extension of time to appeal the impoundment order of the Registrar affecting the Applicant's motor vehicle. The motion is brought pursuant to Section 20(7) of Ontario Regulation 632/98 amending Regulation 574 of the Revised Regulations of Ontario, 1990 made under the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990. c.H.8 amended ("HTA").

SUBMISSIONS OF WRITTEN MATERIAL:

The Applicant submitted the following documents:

3. Copy of Impound Order dated October 5, 2001, relating to the impoundment of the motor vehicle for 45 days. (Exhibit # 1)
4. Original Notice of Appeal, including Applicant's position on Appeal, dated October 29, 2001, received by the Tribunal on October 31, 2001. (Exhibit # 2)
3. Letter from the Applicant's Counsel received by the Tribunal November 7, 2001.

THE FACTS:

The Applicant is the owner of a motor vehicle impounded for a period of 45 days pursuant to the above-captioned legislation.

The motor vehicle was ordered impounded on October 3, 2001 while being driven by Peter Hecimovich, whose driver's licence was under suspension at the time of the impoundment. The vehicle was taken by Mr. Hecimovich without the knowledge or consent the Applicant.

The fifteen-day deadline for filing an appeal with the Tribunal was October 18, 2001. The Applicant filed her Notice of Appeal with the Tribunal on October 29, 2001, twenty six days into the impoundment period, and eleven days past the appeal deadline date.

The Applicant was represented by Mr. John Bracewell, Solicitor. Both Mr. Bracewell and the Applicant were sworn in. Mr. Bracewell explained that his client could barely express herself in English and would have to be prompted. He said that he had to use the services of an Interpreter when Mrs. Hecimovich went to see him on October 29, 2001.

The Applicant testified that she received the Order to Impound on October 5, 2001. Her husband read the forms to her. They both saw the telephone numbers on the back of the form, but they did not call to ask for assistance. Mrs. Hecimovich testified that it did not occur to her to speak to anyone else about the forms because she always left these matters to be dealt with by her husband.

Mrs. Hecimovich did nothing further respecting an appeal until October 16, 2001 when she called Mr. Bracewell's law office. She tried to express the nature of the matter to the secretary, but because of her inability to speak the language, the secretary thought she was calling about a family matter and made an appointment for October 29, 2001.

It was only when Mr. and Mrs. Hecimovich attended at his office that Mr. Bracewell realised the true nature of the problem. He filed out the Notice of Appeal immediately, and sent it to the Tribunal where it was received on October 31, 2001.

THE LAW:

Section 20(1) of Regulation 632/98 states:

20. (1) An appeal to the Tribunal under section 50.2 of the Act shall be commenced by filing a notice of appeal with the Tribunal within 15 days of the issuance of the order to impound, together with a fee of $100 payable to the Minister of Finance.

Section 20(7) of Regulation 632/98 states:

20. (7) Despite subsection (1), the Tribunal may extend the time for commencing an appeal if the owner establishes that the owner, acting in good faith, was unable through accident, illness, or other cause beyond the owner's control to bring the appeal within the prescribed 15 days.

Section 7 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999 states:

8. Despite any limitation of time fixed by or under any Act for the giving of any notice requiring a hearing by the Tribunal or an appeal from a decision or order of the Tribunal under section 11 or any other Act, if the Tribunal is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for applying for the extension and for granting relief, it may,

(c) extend the time for giving the notice either before or after the expiration of the limitation of time so limited; and

(d) give the directions that it considers proper as a result of extending the time.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Section 20(7) of Regulation 632/98, provides the Tribunal with the specific criteria that the Applicant must meet to satisfy the Tribunal that an extension of the time for commencing an appeal ought to be granted. The Applicant must establish that she, acting in good faith, was unable through accident, illness or other cause beyond her control to bring the appeal within the prescribed 15 days in circumstances where the Registrar does not give his or her consent in writing for an appeal to be commenced after the expiry of the prescribed time.

The criteria listed in Section 20(7) which the Tribunal should consider in granting an extension are matters outside the Applicant's control. The Applicant clearly has a problem with the English language. As a result she defers business matters to her husband. She asked her husband about the notice of impoundment. Her husband did not tell her about the appeal deadline. In the unique circumstances of the Applicant, it would not be reasonable to expect her then to seek assistance from a third party. However, she did call the lawyer's office in a state of urgency on October 16, 2001. She could not say why her husband did not make the call himself.

It should also be noted that Mrs. Hecimovich was able, with a little prompting, to answer the questions put to her by her solicitor. However, the Tribunal finds that this only established an understanding of spoken English.

The Registrar's representative referred to the Tribunal's decision re Latimer 2001 OLATD-225, released June 15, 2001. It is noted that in this case, Mrs. Latimer suffered from a serious illness, and only found a "yellow copy" of the notice of registrar in her home sometime after the impoundment. She also had to have the assistance of her personal care worker and occupational care therapist in preparing the appeal forms. That case and the case here each depend on their own particular facts. Here, Mrs. Hecimovich relied on her husband because of her inability to understand written English. He did not inform her of the right of appeal and its deadline. This reliance was reasonable in her unique circumstance, and it resulted in the delay being beyond her control.

The Tribunal is satisfied that the evidence before it is sufficient to show that the Applicant was unable through a cause beyond the Applicant's control, to bring the appeal within the prescribed fifteen days.

ORDER:

Accordingly, the motion herein of the Applicant requesting an extension of time to appeal, pursuant to section 20(7) of Ontario Regulation 632/98 amending Regulation 574, R.R.O. 1990, is granted.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on November 26, 2001, at Kitchener, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on November 27, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated November 5, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on November 7, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by certified cheque.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"This is a case of mistaken identity. I am not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken."

Preliminary Matters

Prior to commencing the Hearing the Tribunal asked the Applicant if his command of the English language was sufficient to allow him to proceed without the presence of an interpreter. The Applicant confirmed that he understood and that he wished to proceed.

The Representative of the Ministry provided the Tribunal with original certified copies of Ministry of Transportation documents on file.

Also at this time, the Representative of the Ministry advised the Tribunal that Police Officer #1 would not be attending the hearing. The Representative of the Ministry sought to introduce a "Subject Profile" from the Guelph Police Services depicting a picture of the Applicant, as well as an Affidavit from Police Officer # 1.

The Tribunal asked the Applicant if he had had any objections, and as he did not, both items were entered in evidence.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1- Notice to Registrar dated October 21, 2001.
- b) Exhibit # 2- Notice of Appeal Form – received November 7, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 3- Ministry of Transportation submissions – received November 20, 2001.
- b) Exhibit # 4- Affidavit of Police Officer # 1 – Received November 26, 2001.
- c) Exhibit # 5- Subject Profile – received November 26, 2001.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(a) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Was the Applicant whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

- 50.1(1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.
- (2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,
 - (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
 - (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1),(2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

- 15.(1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,
 - (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;
 - (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
 - (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;
 - (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

FACTS:

As per Notice to the Registrar, the Applicant's Driver's Licence was suspended on October 21 2001.

Applicant's Evidence

On page 1 of the Notice of Appeal the Applicant marked "mistaken identity", as the reason of appeal.

At the Hearing the Applicant confirmed that he was in fact stopped by the police on October 21, 2001 and that he is the person from whom a breath sample was demanded.

The Applicant further testified that he is the person who provided the breath sample and to whom the documents attached to the Notice of Appeal were given: Notice to the Registrar; Promise to Appear; Certificate of Qualified Breath Technician; Notice of Intention to Produce Certificates; Certificates of an Analyst.

In closing the Applicant confirmed that he appealed because he needs his licence to drive to work.

Respondent's Evidence

The Respondent provided the following Documents:

1. Certified Copy of Notice to the Registrar, sealed November 9, 2001
2. Certified Copy of the Driving Record of the Applicant, sealed November 9, 2001
3. Copy of Vehicle Record as of Occurrence date, sealed November 9, 2001
4. Copy of 1994 Licence Renewal, sealed November 19, 2001
5. Copy of 1996 Licence Renewal, sealed November 19, 2001
6. Copy of 2000 Licence Renewal, sealed November 19, 2001

Police Officer # 1 attests in an Affidavit sworn on November 23, 2001 that she verified the identity of the Applicant as "...he handed ...valid driver's licence with photo ...identified him, as Minh-Hai PHAM".

The Respondent offered no viva voce evidence, opting to rely on the information provided for the hearing.

In closing, the Respondent emphasized the fact the Applicant testified that there was in fact no mistaken identity.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

At issue is whether the Applicant is the one and the same as the individual from whom a breath sample was demanded as per Section 50.1(2)(a).

The Tribunal notes that the Applicant confirmed he entered the wrong date on the Notice of Appeal and that October 21, 2001 is in fact the date of the suspension.

Based on the evidence, the Tribunal finds that it is evident that Mr. Phan was the person from whom a breath sample was demanded and from whom a breath sample was taken. This finding is corroborated by the Applicant's own admission that he is one and the same as the individual stopped by the police and the one who provided a breath sample.

Regulation 574 as amended, particularly Section 13, provides that the Applicant has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal. The Tribunal finds that the Applicant, Minh-Hai Pham failed to do so.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated October 21, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

HUNT, GARY O/A GARYS

GARY HUNT O/A GARYS

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
OF THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REFUSE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: E. ALAN GARBE, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES: EDWARD W. CLAXTON, Counsel, representing the Applicant
AVIVA R. HARARI, Counsel, representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF HEARING: August 7, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This hearing arises from a written notice of proposal dated May 11, 2001, issued by the Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Act") to refuse the registration of Gary Hunt o/a Garys (the "Applicant") as a motor vehicle dealer under the provisions of the Act.

REGISTRAR'S POSITION

It is the position of the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Registrar") that the past conduct of the Applicant is inconsistent with the intention and objectives of the Act for the following reasons:

1. The Applicant, when applying for a registration as a motor vehicle dealer on or about January 24, 2001 (the "Application"), failed to disclose, while previously registered, that he was an officer and director of a corporation that had declared bankruptcy.

2. Prior to the bankruptcy, the corporation of which the Applicant was an officer and director, Grandview Ford Lincoln Sales Ltd. ("Grandview"), was in default with respect to remittance of taxes due pursuant to the Retail Sales Tax Act and Grandview failed to remit payment of approximately $82,927.68 for remittances filed for October, November and December 2000, which moneys were held in trust by Grandview pursuant to the Retail Sales Tax Act.
3. The Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund (the "Fund") has paid out $22,226.84 on behalf of Grandview and there are further claims which have been submitted but have not yet been considered by the Board of Trustees of the Fund and to date, no moneys have been repaid to the Fund.
4. An execution search revealed that the Applicant is indebted to Canada Customs and Revenue Agency in the amount of $81,280.00.
5. On or about February 8, 2001, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce obtained a judgment against the Applicant and Donna Hunt in the amount of $277,350.00 plus costs of $3,500.00.
6. On or about February 22, 2001, the Bank of Nova Scotia obtained a consent judgment against the Applicant and Donna Hunt in the amount of $794,924.74.

APPLICANT'S POSITION

It is the Applicant's position that the bankruptcy of Grandview and his financial problems were not a result of any action by him but that when he acquired an interest in Grandview the company was already in financial difficulty.

THE EVIDENCE:

The evidence introduced by the Registrar consisted of the testimony of William J. Assini, Thomas W. Everett and Mary Jane South. Documentary evidence was introduced by the above parties and the respondent's Book of Disclosure was made Exhibit 3 in these proceedings.

TESTIMONY OF WILLIAM ASSINI

Mr. Assini is a chartered accountant, licenced trustee and a senior partner with PriceWaterhouseCoopers Inc. ("PWC") in their insolvency section. Mr. Assini testified that the trustee had difficulty serving the receiving order on Mr. Hunt but that Mr. Everett, who was also an officer, was served and subsequently notice was given to Mr. Miles O'Reilly who was the solicitor for Mr. Hunt. Mr. Assini explained that PWC was appointed by the Bank of Nova Scotia (the "Bank") in October or November 1999 to act as a monitor of Grandview as the BNS was concerned about the operations of Grandview. As the monitor, PWC was not to interfere with the day-to-day operations of the business. On December 10, 1999, the role of PWC was changed from that of monitor to receiver/manager and on December 22, 1999, BNS made a petition for a receiving order for Grandview. On January 12, 2000, Grandview was adjudged bankrupt and, PWC was appointed trustee.

Mr. Assini stated that the BNS originally became involved with Grandview when it was owned and operated by Harry Edward Learn and Thomas W. Everett. However, the BNS had lost confidence since Mr. Hunt had taken over management of the dealership. It was Mr. Assini's information that Mr. Hunt became involved in February 1999 when he purchased an interest in Grandview. However, the BNS did not wish to finance Mr. Hunt. Through the period of October and November 1999, PWC's people were on site and Mr. Hunt was in charge as general manager. It was Mr. Assini's testimony that at that point in time Messrs. Everett and Learn appeared to have no operational role with the dealership.

Mr. Assini referred to PWC's report to the first meeting of creditors dated February 1, 2000 (Exhibit 3, Tab 8) and particularly page 3 of that report wherein reference is made to the fact that approximately ten vehicles were sold-out-of-trust ("SOT Vehicles") and explained that the proceeds from the sale of the vehicles were to be paid to the BNS within 24 hours of settlement after a vehicle is sold. With respect to the aforementioned ten vehicles, they had been sold, but the BNS had not received funds which was one of the reasons why BNS was concerned about Grandview. The BNS estimated that the amount for the SOT Vehicles sold but for which it had not received payment to be between $332,000.00 and $338,000.00.

Mr. Assini testified that as the role of a receiver/manager is not as wide as that of a trustee, it was decided that PWC's role would be converted to that of a trustee by petitioning Grandview into bankruptcy. Efforts were then made to trace the SOT Vehicles and to determine to whom they were sold and the amounts paid.

Mr. Assini testified that there was a transaction which occurred on or about November 30, 1999, pursuant to which a group of vehicles were sold to Bay Ford at an invoice price of $177,693.00, however only $65,270.00 was paid by cheque which was delivered to 924747 Ontario Limited, a company to whom Mr. Hunt owed money. A settlement was made with respect to this transaction by the numbered company repaying the sum of $32,000.00 to the trustee. It was Mr. Assini's evidence that the signature on the invoices was that of Mr. Hunt and that Mr. Hunt had arranged for the cheque to go a numbered company, 924747 Ontario Limited.

Mr. Assini testified that there were other reviewable transactions including the sale of several vehicles on December 3, 1999, also to Bay Ford for which settlement was made with a payment to the trustee of $12,000.00.

Mr. Assini stated that the records of Grandview indicated various payments by Grandview from its credit card accounts; one payment was for $40,000.00 to Donna Hunt and payments were made for various personal expenses of the Applicant. Mr. Assini referred to a payment marked as a bonus for which no T-4 slip had been issued. Mr. Assini did indicate that such payment could have been reversed at year-end and treated as income.

Mr. Assini's attention was directed to the proof of claim (Exhibit 3, Tab 9). He acknowledged that the Ministry of Finance for the Province of Ontario had filed a proof of claim for provincial sales tax with respect to the bankruptcy and that the amount set forth in the proof of claim was approximately $82,000.00.

On cross-examination, Mr. Assini was asked as to the period for which a trustee can review arm's length and non-arm's length transaction and asked if he had reviewed any transactions in June, July and August 1999 or earlier. Mr. Assini testified that the trustee had only gone back to September 1, 1999. Mr. Assini stated that he understood that Mr. Hunt left the dealership on November 30, 1999, but had no information as to the reason for such departure.

Mr. Assini testified that he was not aware of an agreement with Grandview with respect to the "boat loan" and did not review the records of the previous year to see how payments purportedly for Mr. Hunt on his boat loan were treated by Grandview. Mr. Assini stated that the trustee did not issue a T-4 slip with respect to payments for the boat loan.

When asked about the litigation between Mr. Hunt and the Bank, Mr. Assini testified that he knew that Mr. Hunt had sued the BNS and that the matter had been settled but did not know any of the details of the settlement.

TESTIMONY OF THOMAS W. EVERRETT

Mr. Everett testified that he is a chartered accountant with experienced in the motor vehicle industry. He stated that while articling, one of his firm's clients was Mr. Learn and that he subsequently worked for Mr. Learn and later became general manager at Ed Learn Ford in St. Catharines and Phoenix Ford in Guelph prior to becoming involved with Grandview . Mr. Everett became a partner with Mr. Learn in 1988.

Mr. Everett testified that he was not involved with the day-to-day operations at Grandview but did visit Grandview weekly to review its operations.

Mr. Everett stated that when Mr. Learn indicated that he wanted to dispose of his interest in Grandview and as Mr. Everett did not wish to take it over, Mr. Everett began to look for someone who might be interested in acquiring the dealership and who would be approved by Ford. Mr. Everett knew of Mr. Hunt and knew that he was managing a large dealership in Barrie and that Mr. Hunt was in line for a dealership with Ford.

Mr. Everett testified that in his discussions with Mr. Hunt, he understood that the Applicant was looking for a smaller dealership in the same geographical area as the Barrie dealership. Mr. Everett had received glowing reports about Mr. Hunt and it appeared that Mr. Hunt would be acceptable to Ford Motor Company.

On or about January 31, 1998, an agreement was reached with Mr. Hunt regarding Grandview and on or about February 18, 1998, Mr. Hunt was made president, general manager and a director of Grandview. This was done because Mr. Hunt wanted a firm commitment from Grandview and its owners before leaving the Barrie dealership.

Mr. Everett testified that at the beginning of the Applicant's involvement with Grandview, Mr. Everett was involved, but very quickly Mr. Hunt took over because of his experience and after approximately 1½ months Mr. Everett reverted to his previous role of dropping in at Grandview once a week on Wednesdays for about 2 to 2½ hours for consulting purposes.

Mr. Everett testified that Mr. Learn was even less involved with the dealership than Mr. Everett. Mr. Everett stated that in March 1998, an agreement was drawn up between the Applicant and Messrs. Everett and Learn. On or about April 3, 1998, a letter was received from Ford of its intention to approve Mr. Hunt and documents were signed on April 30, 1998, at which time Mr. Hunt acquired a 20% interest in Grandview. Mr. Everett testified that the Applicant had his own lawyers and accountants with respect to this transaction. The original proposal provided for Mr. Hunt to become a 100% owner within five years, however this was never completed.

Mr. Everett testified that Grandview experienced a net loss of approximately $49,300.00 in 1997 and that was turned around such that by December 31, 1998, there was net income of approximately $40,000.00 which was attributed to the management skills of Mr. Hunt. Mr. Everett acknowledged that there had been an amendment to the Dealer Sales and Services Agreement some time around April 14, 1998, which reflected that Mr. Everett's company held 40%, Mr. Learn's company held 40% and Mr. Hunt's company held 20%.

Exhibit 5 is a copy of the Amendment to Dealer Sales and Service Agreement which sets forth the foregoing percentages and indicates that Gary Hunt was the president and Tom Everett was the secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Everett testified that a dividend in the amount of $593,984.00 was paid in early 1998 at a time when Mr. Everett's company owned 51% and Mr. Learn's company owned 49%. It was Mr. Everett's testimony that the acquisition by Mr. Hunt was based on the retained earnings of Grandview being zero and the dividend of $593,984.00 was paid to "clear out" the retained earnings. Mr. Everett stated that subsequently there was a dividend on December 31, 1998, of which Mr. Everett's company received 40% and Mr. Learn's company received 40% and Mr. Hunt's company received 20%.

Mr. Everett acknowledged that in March 1998 Grandview borrowed $350,000.00 from the BNS and that the proceeds of the loan were paid out proportionately to Everett's company and Learn's company with the result that the long-term debt of Grandview was increased by $350,000.00.

A letter from the BNS dated September 1, 1999, addressed to Grandview to the attention of Mr. Ed Learn, Vice President, was acknowledged by Mr. Everett as being with respect to the aforesaid loan. He acknowledged that according to the letter the loan was in default as of September 2, 1998 and that a default letter had been sent as of that date and another default letter was sent on May 5, 1999.

When asked, Mr. Everett could not recall a period of time when the Applicant was not able sign cheques alone but needed a second signature. A letter addressed to the BNS dated July 15, 1999, was entered as Exhibit 9 which indicated that, effective immediately, there was a change in the signing authority such that the president or office manager along with either the vice president or secretary-treasurer, or the vice president or secretary alone were authorized to sign on behalf of Grandview.

In reply, Mr. Everett testified that the Applicant was aware of the $593,984.00 dividend because it was part of the March 18, 1998, agreement of purchase and sale for the shares and that the $350,000.00 loan was required by Ford Motor Company of Canada to meet its capitalization requirements which required a debt to equity ratio of one to one.

TESTIMONY OF MARY JANE SOUTH

Ms. South, the Deputy Registrar, referred to the Notice of Refusal dated May 11, 2001 (Exhibit 3, Tab 1) and confirmed that the Registrar was unwilling to register the Applicant because of concerns with respect to his integrity and honesty and specifically the Applicant's dealings with the bankruptcy of Grandview and his failure to answer honestly the question on the Application.

Ms. South referred to the Application (Exhibit 3, Tab 3) and specifically Question No. 7 which asks if the Applicant had been an officer, director or majority shareholder of a corporation which has been declared bankrupt to which the Applicant had responded "No" and stated that the Applicant had not answered this question truthfully.

Ms. South testified that the truthful completion of an application was a key test in establishing an applicant's integrity and honesty and that by not truthfully answering Question No. 7, the Applicant failed that test.

Ms. South stated that when the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") realized, as a result of a bankruptcy search, that Grandview had gone into bankruptcy, it contacted PWC and was provided with a statement of affairs. Ms. South stated that further investigations revealed that the Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund had paid out a total of $22,226.84 on claims submitted by consumers with respect to Grandview as indicated by the letter at Exhibit 3, Tab 10. Further, OMVIC learned that the Applicant was indebted to Canada Customs and Revenue Agency in the amount of $81,280.00 as indicated by the certificate addressed to the Sheriff at Waterloo (Exhibit 3, Tab 11) and the certificate addressed to the Federal Court of Canada, Trial Division from Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (Exhibit 3, Tab 12) and that a writ of seizure and sale in this amount had been issued out of the Federal Court of Canada, Trial Division (Exhibit 3, Tab 14).

Ms. South testified that OMVIC's investigations indicated that a writ had been issued in favour of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce ("CIBC") to the Sheriff at Waterloo in the amount of $277,350.35 plus $3,500.00 in costs as indicated on the certificate at Exhibit 3, Tab 15.

Ms. South referred to the judgment at Exhibit 3, Tab 18 dated February 8, 2001, of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice against the Applicant and Donna M. Hunt in favour of the CIBC. Referring to Exhibit 3, Tab 16, Ms. South advised that according to the letter from Kronis, Rotsztain, Margles, Cappel, as of May 8, 2001, the amount of $290,519.03 remained outstanding on the judgment in favour of the CIBC.

Ms. South referred to Tab 21 of Exhibit 3 which is a copy of a judgment dated February 23, 2001 pursuant to which the BNS obtained judgment against the Applicant and Donna Hunt in the total amount of $794,924.74.

Ms. South confirmed that the Registrar maintains its position that the Applicant should not be registered under the Act.

Ms. South acknowledged receiving a letter of the Applicant (Exhibit 8) in response to questions raised by OMVIC with respect to the Application, explaining why he did not answer Question No. 7 in the affirmative and responding to other matters including the judgment of the CIBC and the payments by the Compensation Fund. She acknowledged that the Applicant did not deny that he was an officer and that the letter to OMVIC from the Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund did not indicate as to when or who was involved in connection with the claims submitted to the Fund by customers of Grandview.

In response to questions regarding the Applicant's personal loans, Ms. South noted that the letter from the Applicant (Exhibit 8) made no mention of the BNS matter even though the judgment would have been given prior to the letter from the Applicant.

When it was suggested to Ms. South that there was no conduct prior to December 1999 with respect to the Applicant, reference was made to the employment by the Applicant of an unregistered salesperson and certain transactions with respect to another dealership where the Applicant was the used car manager, however no formal complaint was ever made with respect to these matters and they do not form part of the Registrar's proposal.

TESTIMONY OF GARY HUNT

The Applicant testified that he was 54 years old and had been in the automobile industry since 1971. He had initially worked with Brant County Ford from 1971 to 1980 and had been out of the industry for approximately six years and returned in 1986 to Brant County Ford where he stayed for five years reaching the position of general sales manager. The Applicant then worked for Phil Walker Ford (previously Huronia Ford) which at the time was losing money, however within a period of 7½ to 8 years when the Applicant was general sales manager and then general manager from 1993, the dealership became number one in used car sales, number five in new car sales and number three in customer satisfaction.

The Applicant stated that he was interested in acquiring his own dealership and that several were available. Mr. Everett approached him about purchasing Grandview and although the financial statements showed that Grandview had suffered losses, the Applicant believed that he could turn this dealership around. The Applicant stated that he had known Mr. Learn for many years.

It was the Applicant's understanding that he would be the general manager and that Tom Everett would be responsible for finance. As general manager, the Applicant would be responsible for sales, the body shop and hiring. In order to improve the financial position of Grandview, the Applicant needed to deal with the problem of used cars on the lot for 200 days or longer, the need to hire better salespeople and streamline the repair shop operation. As a result of these changes, expenses were approximately $100,000.00 less in 1998 than in 1997. The Applicant stated that he had started off at Grandview with a loss of $35,000.00 and had reached a profit of $50,000.00 a year later.

The Applicant testified that in order to buy the 20% interest in Grandview for which the Applicant paid $135,000.00, he had to have Ford Motor Company's approval which was obtained in April 1998.

The Applicant stated that as a result of the money taken out as retained earnings and a $350,000.00 loan to Grandview, it was never in a positive cash flow position and by December 31, 1998 the dealership owed $818,000.00.

The Applicant stated that he was not privy to financial information for the dealership and that most of the information that he did receive came from Tom Everett who would advise the Applicant that the BNS wanted this or that and that Grandview had to respond.

It was the Applicant's evidence that Messrs. Everett and Learn wanted $1,000,000.00 for Grandview but the Applicant did not think that the dealership was worth that much money. Further, the Applicant testified that he had a meeting with the BNS and when he asked if the BNS would support him if he purchased Grandview, the Applicant was told that the BNS would support him. The Applicant testified that notwithstanding that the purchase money had been paid, as far as he was aware the shares had never been transferred to him. The next day following the payment of his money, the BNS lowered the credit line by $100,000.00.

Subsequently, the BNS took $170,000.00 out of Grandview's account and there were daily calls from the account manager regarding the operations of the dealership.

The Applicant testified that in mid-October, Mr. DeBokx, deputy manager of the BNS's branch, asked the Applicant to sign a form permitting PWC to come in as a monitor otherwise the BNS would close the dealership. PWC was in the next day and was there from opening of the dealership in the morning until closing every day thereafter. With the presence of PWC personnel, the Applicant stated that morale fell and sales fell off because no one was working. Further, it was a struggle to find money to pay salaries and on one occasion, the Applicant had three different bids for a group of cars, accepted one and used the money to meet the payroll.

The Applicant testified that by the end of November, he felt that it was impossible for him to effectively run the dealership, and he gave his resignation to the general sales manager. The Applicant stated that when he received calls from PWC regarding vehicle sales, he assisted PWC in tracing the vehicles. Further, he advised that his father and wife had each purchased a demonstrator which had been sold at a profit with the moneys going to Grandview.

With respect to the Ministry of Finance and payment of Provincial Sales Tax, the Applicant stated that the company had been indebted to the Ministry of Finance over the past years and in 1997, had owed the Ministry of Finance the amount of $280,000.00; in 1998, $140,000.00 and in 1999, $60,000.00. The Applicant believed that quarterly amounts had been paid up to November, however PWC was in charge and he was not aware of what took place after he left.

The Applicant testified that in July 1999, Tom Everett met with him and advised that the BNS was not happy with Grandview and that either Tom Everett or Ed Learn would have to sign cheques for Grandview.

With respect to the CIBC judgment, the Applicant testified that in 1997 he had a loan for $477,000.00 for a boat and he sold the boat, reduced the loan by $200,000.00 and purchased a motor home which was subsequently seized by the trustee. The Applicant told his account manager at the CIBC, that until the motor home was returned, Mr. Hunt was not paying any further moneys on the CIBC loan.

The Applicant subsequently learned that the CIBC had not registered any security interest against the motor home. When the CIBC found out that the BNS could sell the motor home, the CIBC served the Applicant with a statement of claim together with a motion for summary judgment, and it was the Applicant's understanding that the purpose of the summary judgment was to obtain an order so that CIBC could block the sale of the motor home. The Applicant testified that he had a 10-year relationship with the CIBC during which he had never missed a payment on any loan and that the CIBC advised the Applicant that the loan would be rewritten.

The Applicant stated that during this period his wife was suffering from a nervous breakdown and was in the hospital and that it was difficult to handle the family finances.

The Applicant stated that the BNS commenced an action against him and that he commenced an action against the BNS. It was as a result of this court action that he obtained more financial information about Grandview and learned that it was in jeopardy at the time that he purchased shares. The court action between the BNS, PWC and the Applicant and his company has been settled and the lawyers were drawing up the settlement papers.

With respect to the income tax issue, the Applicant testified that he was in regular communication with the Canada Custom and Revenue Agency and that he had previous losses to offset against income. The Applicant stated that the Canada Custom and Revenue Agency had not taken further steps with respect to collection and had lifted the writ in order to permit the sale of his house, as had the BNS.

The Applicant testified that between 1987 and 1988 he wrote a weekly article called "On the Road" about buying and selling motor vehicles for a local paper. In 1995, the Applicant was asked by the dean of Georgian College in Barrie why his dealership did not hire their graduates. As a result, the Applicant prepared a curriculum for a co-op program for the automobile business, designed the qualifications and interviewed the students for the program. One hundred and sixty students graduated from the program and all obtained jobs. In 1997, funding stopped and the course was cancelled, however the Applicant believes that the course is being used elsewhere.

The Applicant testified that in 1997 he was instrumental in obtaining ISO 9002 certification for his dealership which was the first to obtain such certification and that it was the Applicant who did the qualification work. In addition, the Applicant testified that he received awards for the top sales team in Ontario, was given Ford's highest award for customer service, was a member of Rotary and has spoken at various schools regarding the automobile industry.

The Applicant stated that when he wrote the OMVIC examination, he obtained a 93% average.

The Applicant responded to the various other matters raised which do not form part of the Registrar's proposal and need not be further addressed here.

The Applicant testified that he read Question No. 7 incorrectly and believed that the question asked if he ever been an officer, director and shareholder of a bankrupt company. Further, the Applicant stated that he believed that he had resigned prior to the bankruptcy of Grandview and had not been notified of the bankruptcy even though PWC knew where to find the Applicant.

With respect to the vehicles sold out of trust, the Applicant testified that this was a fleet order and that he was not aware that, until seven to ten days later, that all of the money was to be paid to the BNS.

The Applicant stated that the $4,000.00 monthly payment for the boat loan was part of his compensation package and was to be reflected in the employment contract which was to have been attached to the March 18, 1998 agreement of purchase and sale (Exhibit 7) as part of the shareholders' agreement but the shareholders' agreement was not included in the agreement or purchase and sale.

On cross-examination, the Applicant stated that when he agreed to purchase an interest in Grandview, he was given the title of president and general manager, however his true job was that of general manager. The Applicant testified that he was responsible for what the Applicant referred to as "front end" and that Tom Everett was responsible for the financial operations of Grandview and that the officer manager had told the Applicant that the office manager worked for Tom Everett.

The Applicant stated that because he knew Ed Learn, he had been satisfied that the financial statements were correct.

The Applicant testified that from February 1998 through August 1999, he was involved with running the dealership and was aware of vehicle purchases and sales. The Applicant stated that he resigned because, in his mind, the BNS was running the dealership. After he resigned, the Applicant never went back to Grandview.

The Applicant testified that there was an agreement with the BNS regarding payment for vehicles went they were sold out of trust. The agreement was made sometime in 1998, but the Applicant was not sure as to exactly when.

When asked about the November 17, 1999 letter which is Exhibit 10, the Applicant stated that he never knew that 17 vehicles were sold out of trust but admitted that he gave no written response to the November 17th letter but did state that he was talking to the BNS every day.

With respect to the letter from the Applicant to Ms. South (Exhibit 8), the Applicant acknowledged that it was the first time he advised OMVIC of the error and did so a couple of days after receiving a notice of concerns from Ms. South.

With respect to moneys paid to the numbered company, the Applicant testified that he could not recall who was behind the numbered company. The Applicant admitted that he did not have a copy of any correspondence from Canada Customs and Revenue Agency with respect to the losses nor did he have any documents with him regarding the lifting of the writ by Canada Customs and Revenue Agency.

When asked about the statement appearing at Tab 2, Schedule "A", No. 14, the Applicant testified that he did not realize that the taking of the moneys from Grandview would jeopardize the financial position of the company.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

The following facts are found by this Tribunal to have been proven:

1. The Applicant was an officer of Grandview as of the date of bankruptcy.
2. The Applicant told a person in a management position at Grandview that he was resigning as of December 1, 1999.
3. A petition for a receiving order against Grandview was made on December 20, 1999 and Grandview was adjudged a bankrupt on January 12, 2000.
4. The Applicant answered Question No. 7 on the Application incorrectly.

ISSUE:

The issue before this Tribunal is whether or not the Registrar has erred in proposing to refuse the registration of the Applicant under the Act.

LAW:

The authority granted to the Registrar is provided in subsections 5(1)(b) of the Act which states:

5.(1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,

.....

(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty;

.....

The Registrar has the onus of proof to satisfy the Tribunal that the Registrar has reasonable grounds to believe that the registration of Gary Hunt should be refused.

For the Tribunal to carry out its responsibilities pursuant to the Act, the Tribunal must review the decision of the Registrar by examining the allegations of the Registrar with respect to the activities of the Applicant and to consider such allegations in light of the evidence given by the Registrar and the Applicant with respect to those allegations.

In the leading case of Brenner 19 CRAT SCO Decisions and Orders (1971-1989), page 59, is a decision issued on April 7, 1983 where the Divisional Court overruled a decision of this Tribunal. Southey J. states that the Registrar proposed to refuse registration because of the existence of the specific circumstances set out in Section 5(1)(b) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act:

“The effect of Sec. 7(4) is that the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Board does not appear to have directed itself to this question and makes no finding that, in its view, the past conduct of Brenner did not afford reasonable grounds for the belief that Brenner would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Instead, the Board appears to have been preoccupied with sympathetic concern as to whether or not Brenner had genuinely reformed, and appears to have decided that it ought to give him a second chance because there was a possibility that he, indeed, might have reformed himself.”

Due to the particular facts in that case, Southey J. sent it back for a rehearing, however, adding in the third last paragraph:

“The proper question at the rehearing remains, however, whether the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that he will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Unless the Tribunal can find that it does not, the Tribunal should not order the Registrar to refrain from carrying out his proposal.”

Therefore, it is not sufficient for the Tribunal to reach a conclusion that it would have exercised the discretion differently from the way in which the Registrar did. Clearly, in order to overrule the Registrar the Tribunal must conclude that the Registrar was wrong in his decision and that the conduct of the Applicant does not afford reasonable grounds for his belief based upon it.

The above principle was affirmed by the Divisional Court in Faccenda [1994] 26 CRAT Part II 1050. In Faccenda, the Divisional Court, again on appeal from this Tribunal quashed a decision to direct a Registrar not to carry out his Proposal. At page 1051, the Court held:

“It follows that the Tribunal should have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal only if it thought that the Registrar was in error in his belief.”

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Registrar based his refusal on the grounds that the Applicant failed to truthfully answer the question on the Application and that the past conduct of the Applicant with respect to his involvement with Grandview and his personal affairs indicated that the Applicant is not financially responsible and would not carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty.

The Applicant's response to the first issue is that the Applicant believed that in order to answer the question in the affirmative you had to be not only an officer of the bankrupt company but also a director and shareholder. Further, the Applicant believed that he had resigned as an officer prior to the bankruptcy of Grandview which did not occur until the granting of the receiving order on January 12, 2000.

Although the Tribunal recognizes the need for honesty and complete disclosure on an application by an applicant, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant's failure to answer the question in the affirmative in this matter did not provide reasonable grounds for the Registrar's to refuse registration.

The financial issues which led to the bankruptcy of Grandview and the Applicant's involvement in those matters is more troubling. The Applicant testified that he was a "front end" person which would indicate that throughout his career there was always someone else in the various dealerships for which he was involved who would look after the financial details. Tom Everett, a chartered accountant, was involved with Grandview at least on a weekly basis and certainly must have known of problems within the dealership in September 1998 as a result of the default letter from the Bank and again in May 1999. Indeed, steps were taken in July 1999 to place controls on who could write cheques for Grandview. In addition, the BNS had PWC acting as a monitor of the activities of the dealership on a daily basis. The allegations that moneys were improperly paid either to or for the benefit of the Applicant or his wife were not proven to be examples of wrongdoing by the Applicant.

It is the Applicant's position that the payments made to him or on his behalf during a fiscal year are, at year-end, treated as salary and this is what was to have occurred with respect to what is referred to in these proceedings as the "boat loan." It is less clear what the treatment was to have been with respect to the $40,000.00 payment to Donna Hunt.

The issue of the vehicles sold out of trust has not been clearly established as an unlawful or dishonest act by the Applicant.

It must be noted that the Registrar's proposal does not refer to the alleged diversion of Grandview funds for the personal use of the Applicant nor the sale of vehicles out of trust.

In the Registrar's proposal, reference is made to the failure of Grandview to pay retail sales tax for October, November, December 1999 (misstated in the proposal as 2000) however, this failure was not directly linked to the Applicant. The Applicant's ability to write cheques had been altered as of July 1999 and Tom Everett who had cheque signing authority with Ed Learn was still involved, and PWC was monitoring the activities of Grandview throughout most of this period.

With respect to the payments made by the Motor Vehicle Dealers Compensation Fund, no evidence was adduced in these proceedings to show that the Applicant was responsible for these payments being made or that the Applicant was directly responsible for the bankruptcy of Grandview.

As to the Applicant's indebtedness to Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, it is difficult, given the change in circumstances that the Applicant experienced with respect to the failure of Grandview and the Applicant's evidence that there are offsetting losses, to conclude that the Applicant is financially irresponsible and the same applies with respect to the Applicant's indebtedness to the CIBC.

With respect to the judgment against the Applicant to the Bank with respect to Grandview, this matter has been settled on terms that were not disclosed to the Tribunal.

The Applicant has been registered under the Act for approximately 24 years without a formal complaint being made against him and during that time has achieved certain recognition for his work directly and indirectly in the automobile industry.

The Applicant's involvement in acquiring an interest in Grandview may raise questions about the Applicant's business judgment, however it cannot be ignored that at the time that the Applicant became involved in Grandview, it was losing money and subsequently to his involvement began to show a profit. Further, the letter of September 1, 1999 (Exhibit 6) indicates that the loan arrangement accepted on March 12, 1998, was in default by September 2, 1998, during which period Tom Everett and Ed Learn owned 80% of Grandview and Tom Everett initially had daily involvement with the operations of Grandview and continued to be involved at least weekly as a person authorized to sign cheques.

In conclusion, the Tribunal finds that the Registrar has not satisfied the onus of proof that the Registrar has reasonable grounds to believe that the registration of Gary Hunt should be refused.

DECISION:

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealer Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to refrain from carrying out the notice of proposal dated May 11, 2001, to refuse the registration of Gary Hunt as a motor vehicle dealer under the Act.

Developments Ltd. o/a Arista Homes

DATES OF HEARING: February 19, 2001 and June 8, 2001
and November 19 and 20, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") by Robert Voll and Daniella Franco (the "Applicants") from a written decision of the Ontario New Home Warranty Program (the "Program") set out in a decision letter dated October 17, 2000.

The Program's decision letter dealt with three claims of the Applicants. Two of those claims were resolved by the parties prior to the hearing. The remaining claim was denied by the Program in its decision letter and is the sole issue upon which the Tribunal was called to adjudicate. This claim related to:

Crumbling and cracked grout, kitchen floor, foyer, outside powder room, kitchen floor has now been re-grouted 3 times but contains to crumble.

The Program's observation/comment which is recorded in its decision letter under this claim is as follows:

Observation/Comment: The builder and the flooring contractor Dama Tile on six occasions as noted in your correspondence have addressed with you the issue of deteriorating and shade variations of grout in your ceramic tile floor areas. As stated in your correspondence, Dama Tile replaced all grout in kitchen, breakfast area and foyer with epoxy-latex additive grout on November 16-19, 1999. The areas of ceramic tile floor grout viewed during the re-inspection on August 23, 2000 at your home were consistent with damage caused by improper maintenance or cleaning of the tile. The areas of grout damage were only visible under close examination requiring viewing from within one to two feet of the floor surface to clearly see the extent referred to by the owner during the re-inspection.

The admixture of epoxy as a hardening agent is intended to impart improved hardness and durability to the cementitious based grout material. It is not engineered to meet the same durability and hardness of the fire glazed ceramic tile itself. No cracking of the grout was observed, indicating the grout remained intact. Further, water was unable to penetrate the grout joints during cleaning operations indicating the grout installation was performed in a good and workmanlike manner.

The house was constructed pursuant to the requirements of Section 9.3.0.6. Flooring Ceramic Tile of the Ontario Building Code. All visible structural members were sound and securely fastened. No noise or squeaking of the floor assembly was evident consistent with good building practices of the industry.

The Program in denying the Applicants' claim gave as its reason:

Pursuant to Section 13(2) of the Act which states "A warranty under subsection (1) does not apply in respect of; damage resulting from improper maintenance".

Further, a defect in work or materials supplied by the builder was not apparent pursuant to Section 13(1) of the Act.

The Applicants appealed the decision of the Program to deny their claim and their appeal is based upon Section 14(1)(b) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act (the "Act") which reads as follows:

14.(1) Where,

.....

(b) an owner has a cause of action against a vendor for damages resulting from a breach of warranty; or the person or owner is entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund the amount of such damage subject to such limits as are fixed by the regulations.

.....

.....

(3) The Corporation may perform or arrange for the performance of any work in lieu of or in the mitigation of damages claimed under subsection (1).

THE EVIDENCE:

The Evidence of the Applicants

The evidence presented by the Applicants consisted of their oral testimony and certain documentary evidence. Their evidence follows.

The Applicants took possession of their home from Islington Woods Development Ltd. carrying on business as Arista Homes ("Arista") on February 25, 1999. Upon taking possession, a predelivery inspection was held and a written description of deficiencies in the home was noted. Among the deficiencies noted was the ceramic floor tile grout in the ensuite bathroom and the ceramic floor tile grout in the kitchen. (Exhibit 4, page 1) No variation in the colour of the grout was noted in Exhibit 4. One week after taking possession Dama Tile, Arista's tiler, made repairs to the grout.

On March 5, 1999 Ms. Franco addressed a letter to Arista regarding deficiencies in which she noted that there was a cracked floor tile near the tub in the ensuite bathroom and, in regard to the kitchen floor, the grout had not dried in a few spots as it appeared darker in colour in some places (Exhibit 6). On April 1, 1999 Dama Tile made repairs to the grout in the kitchen as well in the ensuite bathroom.

On June 3, 1999, Ms. Franco again wrote to Arista that "there seems to be a problem with the grout on the floor in the kitchen and in the ensuite bathroom" and that "the grout is cracking and in the kitchen and ensuite and a large piece of grout has come out of the kitchen floor". (Exhibit 3, Tab 8)

Dama Tile sent Vince, an employee, to the Applicants' home to inspect the grout. Pursuant to this inspection, Dama Tile on June 15, June 17 and June 18, 1999 sent a further employee to the Applicants' home to make repairs to the grout.

On June 21, 1999 Ms. Franco once again wrote to Arista (Exhibit 3, Tab 10) that she noticed that the grout that was replaced in the kitchen floor by Dama Tile earlier in June was different in colour to the original grout. On July 23, 1999 Agostino Gatto, the owner of Dama Tile, and Vince reinspected the grout in the Applicants' home.

On September 13, 1999 Ms. Franco wrote to Arista reminding Arista that the grout problem remained unresolved despite the grout in the ceramic tile floor in the kitchen having been twice removed and reinstalled during Dama Tile's attendances at the Applicants' home on April 1, June 15, June 17 and June 18, 1999. (Exhibit 3, Tab 18)

Not being successful in having the grout problem resolved, the Applicants completed a conciliation request form on October 11, 1999 and forwarded the form to the Program on October 15, 1999. (Exhibit 3, Tab 22) The complaints of the Applicants in respect of which they required a conciliation inspection related to numerous items, including the grout problems. All items, other than the grout problems, were subsequently resolved between the parties.

However, the grout problems persisted and were noted on the conciliation request form as crumbling and cracked grout in the homes' "kitchen floor, foyer and outside powder room".

During October, 1999, following a discussion between the Applicants and Arista it was arranged that Dama Tile would remove all the ceramic tile grout on the kitchen floor and foyer and regrout with epoxy latex grout. This was scheduled to be done on November 16, 17 and 18, 1999. (Exhibit 3, Tab 25) During the period November 16 to November 18, 1999 the kitchen floor and the foyer were regrouted by Dama Tile after they had removed all the grout in those areas.

On November 24, 1999, after the repairs of November 16 through 18 had been completed by Dama Tile, a meeting and reinspection was held at the home at which the Applicants were present as well as Vince of Dama Tile and Gail Dombrowski of Arista. The Applicants expressed concern and dissatisfaction in regard to the colour variation in the grout, and Vince explained that the colour problem was due to the grout not yet having "cured" and that it would take about a month to cure and become even in colour. It was arranged that, while waiting for the one month to pass to allow the grout to cure, no sealant would be applied to the ceramic tile floor or grout.

On December 29, 1999, Ms. Franco wrote to Arista that there was no change in the colour of the grout and "it has not cured in a month to become one even colour". (Exhibit 3, Tab 29) On March 6, 2000 Gail Dombrowski on behalf of Arista wrote to the Applicants that it, in conjunction with Dama Tile, had concluded that the grout on the main floor "is acceptable in that it is good, solid and not cracking". Arista also contended that "the grout as installed may have some shading differences, which are acceptable and therefore it is our decision to leave the grout as it is". (Exhibit 3, Tab 32)

On April 17, 2000, the previously requested conciliation inspection was held at the Applicants' home at which the Applicants were present as well as Arista's representatives, Gail Dombrowski and George Iadipaolo, and the Program's warranty representative, Philip Humphreys. Pursuant to the inspection, a conciliation inspection report authored by Philip

Humphreys was issued on April 21, 2000. The report, concludes that the grout problem is not covered under warranty, and states as follows:

1 Complaint: - (Item # 1, from Conciliation Request Form)
Crumbling and cracked grout, kitchen floor, foyer outside powder room, kitchen floor has now been re-grouted 3 times but grout continues to crumble.

Observation/Comment:

The owner acknowledged that the builder had completed the repair to the cracked grout. The owner stated that the color of the grout was excessively uneven and not acceptable.

There was some minor variation in the color of the grout however the variation was acceptable.

The Applicants were dissatisfied with the conciliation inspection report and requested a reinspection to review the grout problem. On August 23, 2000 a conciliation reinspection was held at the Applicants' home at which were present Ms. Franco, two representatives of Arista, Gail Dombrowski and George Iadipaolo as well as warranty representatives Philip Humphreys and Lance Gibson. On September 13, 2000 the conciliation reinspection report authored by Lance Gibson was issued by the Program which concluded the grout problem was not covered under warranty and which report stated as follows:

Complaint: (Item # 1, from Conciliation Request Form)

Crumbling and cracked grout, kitchen floor, foyer outside powder room, kitchen floor has now been re-grouted 3 times but grout continues to crumble.

Observation/Comment:

1. The kitchen/breakfast nook ceramic tile (12"x12") floor areas approximately 12'-6" x 10' and 8' - 10" x 12' - 4" respectively were installed in a good and workmanlike manner. In the kitchen area, no tiles were loose or cracked and the grout was secure. Approximately five locations of the grout totalling less than two lineal feet or less than 1% of total floor area exhibited signs of missing grout at the upper edge of the tile and the grout line. The grout was not cracked and the owner indicated it was difficult to detect and required close examination while scrubbing the floor to determine the extent of the damage. Further, the owner indicated the method of scrubbing the floor consisted of applying a volume of water to the surface of the tile and scrubbing with a stiff bristle brush to thoroughly clean the surface of the floor. The remedial grout replacement included the addition of an approved hardening additive to improve the characteristics of the base material in bonding and durability as indicated by the builder and confirmed by the owner. Although porosity is one of the properties of cementitious grout there was no apparent infiltration of water at the minor damaged grout areas of the floor.

The largest area of damage was located above a return air plenum for the heating/air conditioning/ventilating system of the house. The plenum was located in the space between the "Glulam" beam and the adjacent 2"x10" floor joist of the basement area in a good and workmanlike manner, as per common residential construction practice.

2. The front entrance foyer ceramic tile (12" x 12") floor area approximately 7' x 5' was installed in a good and workmanlike matter. No visible damage was observed at the inspection.

3. The main floor powder room/laundry ceramic tile (12" x12") floor area approximately 10'x 10' was installed in a good and workmanlike manner. The open floor area in front of the laundry appliances did not have any damage to the grouting. Minor damage not readily visible to the floor area grout at the powder room was evident totalling less than 1% of the total floor area.

Reason: This observed condition does not represent a defect in either materials or workmanship. It is minor in nature and not readily visible.

This complaint of damage is consistent with improper maintenance on the part of the owner and is specifically excluded from warranty coverage pursuant to Section 13(2)(f) of the Act. Further, the kitchen floor structure was designed and constructed pursuant to Section 9.3.0.6. of the Ontario Building Code.

When the Applicants received the conciliation reinspection report Ms. Franco, by letter dated September 18, 2000, wrote to the Program denying that she had informed Lance Gibson that she had scrubbed the surface of the ceramic tile floor using a stiff bristle brush. (Exhibit 4)

Ms. Franco went on to testify that she was present in January 2001 when her husband, Robert Voll, took photographs of the ceramic tile floor and grout in the kitchen and foyer areas. (Exhibit 5(a), (b), (c) and (d)). Also at that time a videotape of those areas was taken.

Under cross-examination, Ms. Franco stated that the areas of her present concern regarding the ceramic tile grout, are on the main floor (first floor) of the home in the foyer, kitchen/breakfast dinette, powder room and laundry. There is no longer a complaint regarding the grout in the ensuite bathroom on the second floor of the home as it was replaced to the Applicants' satisfaction.

Ms. Franco also stated that on the recommendation of Dama Tile she used sealer to keep water from penetrating the grout used in the ceramic tile floors. When Philip Humphreys, the Program's warranty representative was present at the conciliation inspection, the grout was cracked and this was pointed out to him. As Humphreys failed to note this in his conciliation inspection report, she requested the August 23, 2000 reinspection of the home, at which reinspection Humphreys and Gibson were present. She also stated that in cleaning the ceramic tile floors, she used a damp sponge and denied she used a bristle brush. The ceramic tile flooring had been satisfactorily repaired between November 16 and November 18, 1999, and it was only in December 1999 that the variation in the colour of the grout was first noticed by her.

The Evidence of the Program

Evidence presented by the Program consisted of that of warranty representatives Philip Humphreys and Lance Gibson.

Humphreys stated that he has been a warranty representative with the Program for the past 13 years and that prior to that he had been an inspector with Canada Housing and Mortgage Corporation (C.M.H.C.) for 13 years. Prior to working for C.M.H.C. he had earned a college diploma in building technology and had worked in the building industry.

Humphreys testified that he set up the April 17, 2000 conciliation meeting after having received the Applicants' complaint regarding crumbling and cracked grout in their home's ceramic floor tile. At that meeting he inspected the grout which in the previous November had been entirely regouted by Arista. He was satisfied from his visual inspection that there was no problem with crumbling and cracked grout.

It was pointed out to him by Ms. Franco at the conciliation inspection that there was a colour or shade variation of the grout. He observed that there was a minor difference in the colour of the grout, but it was so minor that he deemed it to be acceptable. He issued the Program's conciliation inspection report in which he confirmed the above and stated that there was no defect in work or materials used by Arista as well as no violation of the Ontario Building Code. Accordingly, he considered the Applicants' complaint concerning the ceramic tile grout not to be covered under warranty. Humphreys went on to state that minor variations in the colour of grout can be expected. He also stated that, on reinspection of the grout on August 23, 2000, he did notice that in the kitchen near the dining door there were three or four ceramic floor tiles where the grout itself had separated from the tile. The total area of ceramic tile in the Applicants' home was over 500 square feet and the approximate two lineal feet of tile where he noted the grout had separated from the tile was not, in his opinion, excessive.

Lance Gibson also testified for the Program.

He stated that he had been employed as a warranty representative with the Program from December 1999 until April 2001 when he left the employ of the Program to become a commercial pilot.

He further testified that he had been in the construction industry for twenty-five years during which time he had personally laid ceramic tile on different construction jobs and has particular knowledge of ceramic floor tiles and the manner of their installation.

When the Applicants requested a reinspection of their home, he was instructed to attend at this reinspection with Humphreys. The Program had instructed Gibson to attend the reinspection due to his practical experience with the use of ceramic tiles in the building industry, as well as the actual laying of such tiles. On August 23, 2000 he met with the Applicants at their home when the conciliation reinspection took place.

He testified that he explained to Ms. Franco that the purpose of the reinspection was to review the grout issue. He requested that Ms. Franco point out the areas of concern regarding the grout. Ms. Franco pointed out an area containing approximately four square feet of ceramic tile in the kitchen. Initially, Gibson could not see what Ms. Franco was pointing and that was of concern to her. Ms. Franco, when asked to show Gibson the area of concern, explained that she had noticed discolouration in the grout itself and when she noticed the discolouration "she had scrubbed it". It was the area which she stated she had scrubbed to which Ms. Franco pointed. Gibson stated that when standing, he could not see the area of Ms. Franco's concern but when he "got down closer to floor level" he noted an area of about six inches that was causing concern to Ms. Franco. He saw no loose tiles and no evidence that grout had failed in the power room, laundry, kitchen and breakfast eating area. In the kitchen area he noted - which he pointed out on photograph marked Exhibit 5(a) - grout about 1 1/2" in length that was darker in colour when compared with the colour of grout elsewhere. His assumption was that coffee or something of an acidic nature, such as milk or fruit juice, had been spilled upon that portion of grout and had affected its original colour. He also contended that the use of a stiff bristle brush would, over time, cause the grout surface to deteriorate. He noted that on closer examination of the darker coloured grout there appeared to be no depth to the discoloured grout and that the discoloured grout appeared as if the grout surface had been scrubbed or scratched away and that this had lead to the discolouration.

Gibson also stated that the portion of grout shown in photograph Exhibit 5(b) was pointed out to him by Ms. Franco. She contended that it appeared that there had been chipping of the ceramic tile where the tile meets the grout. In fact, there was no chipping or any damage according to Gibson and what she pointed to was generally common in the appearance of ceramic tile. To illustrate his point he handed in as an exhibit a ceramic tile (Exhibit 16) which during the firing and manufacturing process commonly takes on the appearance of a tile to which Ms. Franco pointed. There was nothing defective in such a tile or in its manufacturing process and the tile was in no way damaged or chipped.

The Evidence of the Added Party

The evidence of the Added Party consisted of the testimony of Nat Brioschi, Gail Dombrowski, Bruno Zaffino and George Iadipaolo.

Nat Brioschi (Brioschi) stated that he was a supervisor with Arista at the time of the construction of the Applicants' home. After July 1999 he had no involvement in the development in which the Applicants' home is situate as he was transferred by Arista to another site.

In March 1999 the Applicants came to Brioschi complaining of colour variances in the grout in the home's kitchen and "pin holes" and cracking in the home's ensuite washroom. He went to the home to inspect the complaints and saw no problem in the colour of the grout although he did see some variation in the shade or colour of the grout in the ensuite washroom and kitchen. He had to get on his hands and knees to enable him to see the "pin holes" in the grout in the kitchen and in the ensuite toilet. There was no cracking in the grout in the kitchen or dinette area that he observed.

After the inspection, Brioschi spoke with Vince of Dama Tile who told him that colour variations were not warranted. However, to appease the Applicants regarding the colour variations complaint, Dama Tile was prepared to regrout the floor in the washroom and the kitchen which was done in November 1999.

Brioschi did note a colour variation in the grout in the foyer area of the home. The variation that he noticed was that the area of grout around the perimeter of the floor mat was darker than the grout under the mat itself. He stated that the grout used was a natural grey grout which by the very nature of being a natural product shows slight variance in shading or colour.

In answer to a question put to him in cross-examination by Voll, Brioschi stated that if there was no heat on in the home, the tiller will not lay the ceramic floor.

Gail Dombrowski (Dombrowski) testified that since September 17, 2001 she has been employed by the Ontario New Home Warranty Program and prior to that was employed by Arista as customer service manager. She has had 15 years of experience in the building industry, both in the field and in office administration and has taken some building courses.

Dombrowski's first dealings with the Applicants was in March 1999 when she and Voll went through the reported deficiencies on closing. Voll complained of cracking of floor grout in the ensuite washroom. This was attended to by Dama Tile in April 1999. The next occasion she had dealings with the Applicants was in April 1999 when they complained of colour variations in the grout and the grout "lifting up". She went to the home and inspected the kitchen/dinette floor and the floor of the foyer. She did notice a minor area of grout in the kitchen measuring approximately 1 ½" to 2" in length where there was a colour variation in the grout. She also noted a minor colour difference in the grout in the foyer floor where there was a mat. Under the mat there was a different shade of grout to the area of grout around the mat.

Repairs were affected to the ensuite washroom floor by Dama Tile. In June 1999, the Applicants called Dombrowski complaining that the grout in the kitchen floor was of two different colours. Dombrowski determined that two different colours were caused by an error and this error had to be rectified. Accordingly, Arista would redo the entire floor in the kitchen/dinette area and the foyer. These were done in November 1999.

After November 1999, Ms. Franco called Ms. Dombrowski complaining that there was still a colour variation in the grout. Dombrowski went to the Applicants home with a representative of Dama Tile. There it was agreed that the matter of the colour variation would be held over for one month to allow the grout to cure. The colour variation noticed by Dombrowski were "minimal" and that was the only complaint of Ms. Franco.

On March 6, 2000 Dombrowski signed a letter on behalf of Arista that was sent to the Applicants. (Exhibit 3, Tab 32) That letter stated;

“Arista Homes along with Dama Tile have come to the decision that the grout on the main floor of the house is acceptable. We did regrout the entire floor area and the grout is good, solid and not cracking which was the original problem. The grout as installed may have some shading differences, which are acceptable and therefore it is our decision to leave the grout as it is”.

This was the conclusion that was reached by Arista. The opinion of Dombrowski from her inspection regarding the grouting in the foyer was that the colour variation was dark towards the quarter round as shown in Exhibit 5(c). She also noted that in the kitchen floor area there was no crumbling of the grout although there was a barely visible minor surface crack in the grout which was only visible if she bent down to inspect the crack closely. She testified that Exhibit 5(a) is a magnified photograph of the area in the kitchen floor grout where the minor surface crack was pointed out to her and the darkened area near the crack is what she terms “spalling” or flaking of the surface of the grout. Spalling occurs when natural grout is used.

Dombrowski further stated that she attended at the conciliation inspection of April 17, 2000. (Exhibit 3, Tab 34) The complaint at that stage was the variance of the colour of the grout in the kitchen/dinette area and the foyer. Variation in grout colour is normal and not unusual. The hairline crack in the grout in the kitchen was difficult to observe and was a minor shrinkage or surface crack.

As to the foyer, Dombrowski observed warranty representative Humphreys lift up the mat that was on the floor of the foyer. When the mat had been removed from the floor, variation in the colour of the grout could be observed in the area covered by the mat and that area not covered by the mat. There was a darker variation in colour in the areas not covered by the mat due to the foyer being a high traffic area.

There was no loose tiles observed in all the floors and this did not form part of the Applicants' complaint.

At the conciliation reinspection of the Applicants' home on August 23, 2000 (Exhibit 3, Tab 37), only Ms. Franco was present, not Mr. Voll. The complaint at the conciliation reinspection was the same complaint that was raised at the conciliation inspection. The same variation in grout colour existed as well as the same hairline cracks in the kitchen floor grout. These cracks were at the side of the grout where the grout meets the ceramic tile. The cracks do not penetrate the grout itself. Dombrowski was obliged to get down on her knees before she could observe any crack in the grout. The observations made in the foyer area regarding grout colour variation were the same observations as were made at the conciliation inspection. No loose floor tiles were observed.

Dombrowski stated that she was present at this reinspection and the conversation included how Franco maintained the ceramic tile floors. Ms. Franco had been asked this by Gibson of the Program, and she answered that she used water and a brush to maintain the floors.

On cross-examination by Mr. Voll, Ms. Fracno stated that the renewal and regrouting of the kitchen floor tile and the use of an epoxy latex grout was done to prevent any further complaint by the Applicants regarding the grout.

Between November 16 and November 19, 2000 Dama Tile removed and regrouted the kitchen and foyer.

On November 24, 2000, as a result of Franco reporting a colour variation in the newly relaid grout, Dombrowski attended with Vince of Dama Tile at the Applicants' home. She noted some colour variation in the grout and as it had been so recently laid it was suggested by Vince that a month should be allowed for the grout to cure. She stated that grout, like concrete, takes time to cure.

On cross-examination by the Program's counsel, Dombrowski stated that what is stated in the conciliation reinspection report of August 23, 2000 (Exhibit 3, Tab 37) under the heading of "Observation/Comment" to item 1 of the "Items not covered under warranty" is consistent with her observations at the reinspection meeting.

She further stated that the extent of spalling in the grout as reflected in Exhibit 5(a) is no more than 1" in length, that spalling in the grout is not caused by defective work or due to defective materials and that the spalling is aesthetics and such minor spalling was acceptable as it is barely visible.

She further stated that hairline cracks do occur in natural products such as grout. This is due to shrinkage which is normal in the drying process that takes place in a home after construction. She also stated that the minor colour variation in the grout is not indicative of a defect in materials or of defective workmanship. The colour variations noted were minor and not unpleasing.

The next witness was Bruce Zaffino who has been employed by Dama Tile since April 1999 as construction manager. Prior to joining Dama Tile, he has also worked for 5 years for two construction companies. He has also taken a two year course in building technology at Seneca College.

In November 1999, Dama Tile did a "complete repair" to the grouting at the Applicants' home. The repair entailed grinding out the grout which the Applicants complained contained colour variations. After removal of the old grout, new grout with epoxy latex was applied. The epoxy latex was used to give the grout added strength and to ensure a strong bond between the grout and the floor itself.

In February/March 1999, he went to the Applicants' home with Dombrowski to inspect the floors including the upstairs ensuite washroom floor. He observed no colour variations in the grout. The kitchen floor grout was normal. He had to go down on his knees to see the Applicants' complaint regarding minor surface cracks in the grout. In his opinion, the cracks were due to shrinkage of the grout which was normal with the drying of the grout.

On cross-examination by Mr. Voll, Mr. Zaffino stated in reference to photograph Exhibit 5(a), that the area of the kitchen floor shown on that photograph was a small localized area. If there had been no heat in the home when the floor was laid and when the grouting was applied, cracking would occur everywhere and not only in the minor area shown in the photograph. The hairline crack along the edge of the ceramic tile and the grout, as shown on the photograph, is not due to lack of heat when the grout was applied. Furthermore, the middle photograph on Exhibit 5 is like Exhibit 5(a) a magnified area of the same tile and grout and also reflects the localized area of hairline crack which is not continuous and is not a long crack.

Zaffino spoke to the use of epoxy latex in the grout applied in the kitchen. Epoxy latex creates a strong bond and was used in the kitchen so as to have Dama Tile avoid having to revisit the Applicants' complaint regarding the kitchen grout.

Zaffino also testified that he was in the Applicants' home in February 2000, and at that time he noticed no crumbling of the grout in the ceramic tile floors.

In cross-examination by the Program's counsel, Zaffino stated that when the home was occupied the grout was replaced in the Applicants' home in November 1999.

He also stated that photographs marked Exhibits 5(c) and 5(d), which show the foyer of the Applicants' home's floor, indicate some discolouration in the grout, and this could be the result of normal day to day traffic in that area. He also stated that the same cracks shown on the middle photograph of Exhibit 5 and Exhibit 5(a) are due to shrinkage of the grout, and the flaking is due to the drying process. To see the shrinkage crack and flaking on site, he was obliged to get down on his knees.

The final witness for the Program was George Iadipaolo (Iadipaolo) who has been employed as construction manager by Arista for the past 3 years. He has been in the building industry for the past 20 years and has during that time been a construction manager.

In April 1999, he and Dombrowski went to the Applicants' home to inspect the complaints of the Applicants which related to discolourization of the grout. At the home he observed the grout used in the ceramic floor tiling. It was natural grey grout and there were some areas of discolourization which was not unusual for natural grey grout. The area of discolourization was in the kitchen and front foyer where the mat had created the difference in colour.

In June or July 1999, Iadipaolo again visited the Applicants' home. In November of that year the decision was made by Arista to remove the grout and regrout so as not to have to deal with this complaint again. The reason given by Iadipaolo for the November decision, was that the repair done to the floors in April 1999 had caused problems that were then rectified by the November 1999 repair work.

In April 2000 he was again at the Applicants' home when he attended the conciliation inspection. The main issue at that conciliation inspection was the colour of the grout. The cracked kitchen grout had been repaired prior to the inspection. Iadipaolo saw nothing wrong with the grout's colour in the kitchen. A further complaint of grout discolourization in the foyer area was raised. Upon Iadipaolo lifting the mat on the floor of the foyer, the portion of the floor not covered by the mat appeared to be discoloured.

Iadipaolo reviewed Humphrey's conclusions contained in the conciliation inspection report of April 21, 2000 and concurred with those conclusions as well as the Observations/Comments" noted in that report under item 1 under the heading "Not covered under warranty". (Exhibit 3, Tab 34, page 1 of 7)

Iadipaolo stated that when Gibson attended at the conciliation reinspection on August 23, 2000, the grout in a small area in the kitchen floor and in the foyer was of concern to the Applicants. No loose ceramic floor tiles were observed in the home and various tiles were "knocked" to see if there were loose ceramic tiles.

Iadipaolo heard Gibson speak with Ms. Franco in the kitchen during the reinspection. He questioned Ms. Franco as to how the floor in the kitchen was cleaned and Ms. Franco replied that she "scrubbed the floor to make it clean".

Iadipaolo was shown by counsel for the Added Party a series of six photographs (Exhibits 18(a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f). All these photographs were taken by Iadipaolo after Arista received Exhibits 5 and 5(a), (b), (c) and (d) from the Applicants.

Iadipaolo stated that Exhibit 18(a) shows the ensuite washroom in a model home being displayed by Arista. In the photograph, Iadipaolo is shown pointing to natural grout in a ceramic tile floor. The grout contains 2 barely visible "pinpoints" which Iadipaolo identified as air holes in the grout and which he stated is a common condition found in natural grout.

Exhibit 18(b), magnified for effect, again shows another area of natural grout in the ceramic floor of the model home's washroom. The grout contains a "pinpoint" which Iadipaolo identified as an air hole in the grout.

Exhibits 18(c) and 18(d) were photographs of the ceramic tile floor of the model home's ensuite bathroom. Iadipaolo indicated that these two exhibits were the same, except that Exhibit 18(c) was a magnification of what appears on Exhibit 18(d), which was taken without magnification. Upon magnification as shown in Exhibit 18(a), the grout line between two ceramic tiles is shown. A hairline crack is visible in the natural grout running along the edge of the grout where it meets the ceramic tile. Without magnification as shown in Exhibit 18(d), the same hairline crack is not visible. This photograph (Exhibit 18(d)) was taken from a standing position.

Exhibits 18(e) and 18(f) were also taken in the model home of ceramic floor tile with natural grout. Both photographs are of the same area and both were taken from a standing position. Exhibit 18(f) was taken without magnification and Exhibit 18(e) with magnification. Exhibit 18(e) shows barely visible areas of what Iadipaolo described as “still air pockets” in the grout. Exhibit 18(f) does not show the “still air pocket”.

Iadipaolo finally stated that the construction of the Applicants' home received the approval of the City of Vaughan after it was inspected by that City. Furthermore, an occupancy permit was issued by the City. The kitchen floor was a designed engineered product which complied with the Building Code requirements.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

The following are the facts proven in this matter.

1. The Applicants and Arista entered into a written Agreement of Purchase and Sale dated July 23, 1998 in terms of which Arista was to construct a residential home for the Applicants on a lot in the City of Vaughan, Ontario.
2. The home was constructed in accordance with the terms of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale.
3. The Applicants took possession of the home on February 25, 1999.
4. The home was constructed according to the building plans submitted to and approved by the City of Vaughan and was constructed in accordance with the Ontario Building Code and was and is fit for habitation.
5. An occupancy permit respecting the home was issued by the City of Vaughan.
6. By way of a written conciliation request form dated October 11, 1999 Applicants requested the Program to hold a conciliation inspection at the Applicants' home to consider 21 complaints regarding the construction of the home.
7. A conciliation inspection took place at the Applicants' home on April 17, 2000 and a conciliation inspection report was issued by the Program on April 25, 2000.

8. A conciliation reinspection took place at the Applicants' home on August 23, 2000, and a conciliation reinspection report was issued by the Program on September 13, 2000.
9. The ceramic floor tiles throughout the Applicants' home are free from defects in material and are securely and properly laid in a workmanlike manner and are not loose.
10. All and any deficiencies or defects in the ceramic floor tiling in the home's ensuite washroom has been fully rectified by Arista and or Dama Tile and the ceramic floor tiling including the grouting thereof is constructed in a workmanlike manner and is free from defects in material.
11. The difference in the colour of the grout used in the home's foyer is due to dirt or wear and tear in a high traffic volume area of the home and is not due to defects in material used by Arista and/or Dama Tile nor is it due to construction of the ceramic floor being done in an unworkmanlike manner.
12. The grout in the ceramic tile floor in the home's kitchen does contain a few locations where the grout, on close scrutiny, does exhibit hairline cracks.
13. The hairline cracks in the kitchen floor grout are consistent with shrinkage of the grout pursuant to the normal drying process of the grout. The hairline cracks in the kitchen floor grout are not due to the floor being constructed in an unworkmanlike manner and the grout itself is free from defects in the material.
14. The area of hairline cracks identified by the parties is minimal and in extent is no more than a few inches in total.
15. Where spalling or flaking of floor grout was observed, this occurred to the surface of the grout itself and there was no significant depth or penetration to the spalling or flaking of the grout. The spalling or flaking of the grout is not due to or indicative of a defect in material nor is it indicative of poor or inadequate workmanship.
16. The ceramic floor tile and grouting in the home's main floor powder room/laundry had been constructed in a workmanlike manner and is free from defects in material.

THE LAW:

The Act's relevant portions are:

14.(1) Where,

(f) damage resulting from improper maintenance;

DECISION:

The onus of proof in this matter is upon the Applicants.

To succeed in their claim, the Applicants must prove that their claim falls into Section 14(1)(b) of the Act which has been set out above in this decision.

The Applicants must prove;

(a) they have a cause of action against the builder for damages resulting from a breach of warranty by the latter, and

(b) they have suffered financial loss due to the builder's breach of warranty.

The Tribunal's finding is that the Applicants have failed to discharge the onus for the reasons that follow.

The single issue in this matter relates to the Applicants' allegations regarding the cracking/crumbling grout and discolourization of grout in the kitchen/dinette area and the foyer of the home. The grout problem that existed in the ensuite washroom ceramic tile floor is no longer an issue as Arista has satisfactorily remedied the Applicants' complaint regarding that problem.

ANALYSIS OF EVIDENCE:

The evidence shows that on taking possession of the home on February 25, 1999 the Applicants reported in the pre-delivery inspection report that "a small section of grout in kitchen" required repair. Arista had attended at the home on April 1, 1999 to repair the floor in the ensuite bathroom and kitchen. The Applicants informed Arista by letter dated June 3, 1999 that there was a grout problem in the floor of the kitchen and ensuite bathroom. The problem complained of was that the grout was cracking and a "large piece of grout" had come out of the kitchen floor. Arista attended at the Applicants' home and on June 15, June 17 and June 18, 1999 the grout in the kitchen floor was removed and reinstalled.

Still not satisfied with the grout repairs, on October 11, 1999 the Applicants requested a conciliation inspection and noted in their request for such conciliation inspection that the complaint was of "crumbling and cracking grout" and the locations of the grout complaint was stated to be "kitchen floor, foyer outside powder room". Prior to the conciliation inspection, Arista agreed to have the grout problems repaired and between November 16 and November 19, 1999 the grout in the kitchen ceramic floor as well as in the foyer was removed and regouted.

On November 24, 1999 the Applicants complained that the regouted kitchen floor contained unacceptable colour variations in the grout itself and pursuant to an inspection at the Applicants' home it was agreed the complaint remain in abeyance for about a month in order to allow the grout "to cure". On December 29, 1999 the Applicants reported to Arista that there was "no change" in the colour of the grout and it had not cured to become "one even colour". A meeting was held at the Applicants' home to reinspect the flooring and the grout. As a result of that meeting, Arista and its tiling sub-contractor came to the conclusion that the entire floor area that had been regouted was acceptable and that "the grout is good, solid and not cracking” and that while the grout “may have some shading differences”, they were acceptable. The conclusions were communicated by Arista to the Applicants by letter dated March 6, 2000.

On April 17, 2000 the Program's warranty representative Philip Humphreys conducted the conciliation inspection at the Applicants' home. Humphreys stated in his conciliation report that “the owner acknowledged that the builder had completed the repair to the cracked grout” but “the owner stated that the colour of the grout was excessively uneven and not acceptable”. Humphreys concluded that the Applicants' complaint was not covered under warranty and that the minor variation in the colour of the grout was acceptable. He also concluded that there was no violation of the Ontario Building Code, nor were there any defects in work or materials provided by Arista.

Dissatisfied with Humphreys' conclusions, the Applicants requested a conciliation reinspection, and this reinspection was held at the home on August 23, 2000. The warranty representatives present at the reinspection were Humphreys and Lance Gibson with the latter person authoring the conciliation reinspection report dated September 13, 2000. The findings of Gibson have been fully referred to in the evidence of Gibson dealt with earlier in this decision.

Both Humphreys and Gibson have had considerable experience in the building industry. Gibson was called in by the Program to give a second opinion regarding the Applicants complaint in connection with the floor tile grout installed by Arista. Both gave evidence in a forthright manner. Gibson, has had particular experience in ceramic floor tiling and the laying of such tiling. His expertise and testimony were in no way impugned by the Applicants, and the Tribunal accepts the testimony of both Gibson's testimony and Humphreys.

The Applicants conceded they had no expertise in construction or residential building. Their evidence in support of their views and contentions was not based upon expertise but upon their personal concerns and opinions. The lack of any expert opinion to support their views inevitably resulted in the failure of the Applicants to discharge the onus of proof that rested upon them.

The cracking the Applicants raised in their claim is present in certain very minor portions of the grout in the kitchen floor and it is consistent with normal shrinkage of the grout caused by drying out after construction. The photographs tendered in evidence by the Applicants greatly magnify the shrinkage cracks which are not apparent to an average observer when standing and viewing the floor. The great magnification of the photographs is an abnormal enlargement of hairline cracks that are, in fact, barely perceptible when viewed in the usual manner.

The spalling and cracking of the grout is confined to an area of the kitchen floor that according to the testimony of witnesses Humphreys and Gibson does not extend in total to more than 2 lineal feet in a total floor area of some 500 square feet. The spalling is barely visible, if at all, when standing and viewing the floor. Only when, as with the hairline cracks, the spalling is shown with magnification does it become apparent. The evidence of the warranty representatives that the spalling was only superficial and did not extend into the grout is an indication that it did not fail. Indeed, although denied by Ms. Franco, the spalling was indicative of and consistent with improper maintenance of the floor by Ms. Franco. The Tribunal accepts that Ms. Franco told Gibson at the conciliation reinspection that she had scrubbed the kitchen floor with a bristle brush. The Tribunal accepts the evidence of Gibson that the spalling of the grout was indicative of the grout having been subject to scrubbing with a bristle brush which is indicative of improper maintenance.

The Tribunal also accepts the evidence of Gibson as to his observations of the appearance of the grout on the ceramic floor in the foyer of the Applicants' home. Gibson stated that the floor in the foyer area of the Applicants' home being a high volume area exhibited some minor discolourization in the grout used on that ceramic floor. The area of discolourization was minor and was confined to the outer periphery of the floor area that was not covered by a mat on the foyer floor. The nature of the minor discolourization of the grout and the extent and situation of the discoloured grout is indicative of dirt having been brought into the foyer from the outside and having been trodden into grout where not covered by the floor mat. This is the result of normal wear and tear.

The Tribunal accepts that the ceramic tile floors throughout the Applicants home are constructed in a workmanlike manner and are free of defects in material. The Tribunal also accepts that there is no violation of the Ontario Building Code and that the floors are constructed in accordance with that Code.

The Applicants expected perfection in the construction of their home. Indeed, Voll in his final submissions stated he expected and was entitled to 100% perfection. The Tribunal does not agree with this submission. As was stated in MARK TEITELMAN (1987) 16 CRAT 178 at page 181:

The Teitelmans were not the authors of the defects and the Tribunal understands that they are a constant source of irritation to them. However, they must accept the fact that no house, new or old, is perfect or is warranted to be perfect. Floors and stairs will squeak, wood will shrink and warp, cracks will appear and paint will peel. All that can be done is to keep these imperfections at reasonable acceptable levels. The limited warranty provided by the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act recognized these facts, and this Tribunal is obligated to make findings in accordance with the statutory provisions and not otherwise.

Quite apart from the fact that the imperfections claimed by the Applicants are found by the Tribunal to fall outside the ambit of the warranties covered by section 13(1) of the Act, and fall into the warranty exclusions covered by section 13(2) of the Act, the imperfections were only visible on abnormally close inspection as revealed by magnified photographs. As was stated in the BREEN decision (1999) CRAT released on April 15, 1999 at page 17:

The mark is only visible on an extremely close inspection. A microscopic examination is not the appropriate standard of testing. In law this type of mark could be considered "de minimis non curat lex" meaning that the law does not take notice of nor care about very small or trifling matters.

On the evidence, the Tribunal finds that the Applicants have not proven their claim.

ORDER:

Accordingly, by virtue of the authority vested in it under Section 16(3) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act, the Tribunal directs the Ontario New Home Warranty Program to disallow this claim.

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. On November 13th, 2001, the motor vehicle described in Order to Impound #1605210 was impounded in accordance with subsection 55.1(3) of the Highway Traffic Act, RSO 1990, c. H. 8 as amended.
2. The applicant, Enterprise Rent A Car Canada Limited, whose name is shown on the vehicle portion of the permit for the impounded motor vehicle, is the owner of the said vehicle.
3. The applicant filed an appeal to the impoundment order, in accordance with the grounds permitted under clause 50.2(3)(a) of the Highway Traffic Act, stating that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made.
4. Having investigated this matter, information from the police, the Registrar is satisfied that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made.

5. The applicant has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to consent to this Order.
6. The parties agree that this agreement does not bind the Ministry of Transportation or the Registrar of Motor Vehicles in any way, with respect to future hearings or consent orders.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsection 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act that the Tribunal set aside the order to impound.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on November 28, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended (“HTA” or the “Act”).

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Elijah Succar (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	1992 Chevrolet COL, plate no. AEAJ 851 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	November 8, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on November 28, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

I live in a single parent home and have a job that helps support my family. I need my car to get to work, because there is no bus routes. I have an elderly grandmother that also lives with me, she relies on me for transportation. I am asking for forgiveness in this matter. I made a mistake by not ensuring that the driver of this vehicle had a license. I will never make this mistake again. I have a letter from my family to back me up. Also enclosed is a letter from my employer.

Elijah Succar

To whom it may concern:

My son Elijah plays a very important role in our family. I myself work long hours during the day and am unable to provide transportation for him. Also in our home live his sister and grandmother who rely on Elijah and his vehicle for various needs and errands. He provides his sister with a ride to school, which is quite a distance from where we live, and also his grandmother to frequent medical appointments as well as church during the week. I am pleased with my sons kind-heartedness, but without a vehicle, our entire family suffers.

Sincerely,

V. Macdonald.

To whom it may concern:

Elijah has been employed here at Remax Delmar for approximately six months and arrives to work by vehicle. We appreciate his punctuality, and often call on him to travel to different sites in and around the city. Without his automobile he is incapable of fulfilling many duties. He is a very reliable employee, and releasing his vehicle will allow him to maintain his good status here with us.

S.S.

The Applicant testified that he lives with his mother, sister and grandmother in north Burlington.

He provides the second family income to the household working for ReMax Delmar in Hamilton. Mr. Succar testified that he fixes up properties for agents. The impounded vehicle is used to transport him from house to house along with his tools and supplies. The Applicant testified that it would be impossible to take the bus from Burlington to Hamilton and Ancaster with his type of work. Taxi cabs have been used about 15 to 20 times but this is too expensive. Mr. Succar has lost about $2,000.00 in income, plus $500.00 to $600.00 for the costs of cabs. The cost of the impoundment fees will also be another financial burden. He has investigated rental cars, but he does not have a credit card, and the cost was restrictive.

Mr. Succar also stated that his sister is transported in the vehicle to school and to appointments and his grandmother to medical appointments. The vehicle is the second car in the household, Mr. Succar's mother uses her car to go to work in Hamilton, but she starts work early and often works late so sharing rides does not work.

The Applicant testified that since the impoundment, he has relied on friends sometimes to drive him to work or pick him from job sites. That this has been a tremendous inconvenience. The impoundment has caused him difficulty in maintaining his employment schedule, and he is falling behind in his workload. He cannot always rely on others for rides.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Shane Edward Fifield;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Dangerous Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until May 9, 2002.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or

- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

The Applicant has appealed on the grounds of exceptional hardship, in accordance with the section 50.2(3) of the Act. Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific, in that it provides the Tribunal with the specific criteria the Applicant must meet to determine if exceptional hardship under the Act will result from the impoundment.

The Tribunal is precluded from considering other factors not arising from or directly related to the impoundment itself. It is unfortunate that the impoundment of the Applicant's vehicle makes it more difficult for the Applicant's sister or grandmother to get to their appointments. The difficulties they experience, however, are matters of inconvenience rather than exceptional hardship. There is no evidence that the difficulties they have experienced amount to loss of education for his sister or threat to health for his grandmother. An alternative to the vehicle is available. The Applicant under cross-examination testified that alternatives to the impounded motor vehicle are available including, transport by taxi cab, his mother's car and friends cars.

Though inconvenienced, the Applicant has not suffered any permanent loss of employment as a result of the impoundment. The Applicant has not presented any evidence that would indicate that the loss of the vehicle would be immediate, significant and lasting as required by section 22(3)(b) of Regulation 574 as amended by O. Reg. 632/98.

The Tribunal finds that the Applicant has failed to meet the onus required by the Act to establish exceptional hardship under section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

WILLIAM JANECZEK

APPEAL FROM A DECISION OF THE CORPORATION
DESIGNATED FOR THE PURPOSE OF THE ONTARIO NEW HOME WARRANTIES PLAN ACT

TO DISALLOW A CLAIM

TRIBUNAL: TERENCE A. WARDROP Q.C., Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES:

WILLIAM JANECZEK, appearing on behalf of himself, Applicant

KAREN JONES, Counsel, representing the Ontario New Home Warranty Program, Respondent

DATE OF
HEARING: September 10, 2001 Sudbury

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is an Appeal by the Applicant, William Janeczek (the "Applicant") pursuant to his Request for a Hearing dated December 2, 2000, to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal"), from a decision of the Respondent, Ontario New Home Warranty Program (the "Program") which denied his claim in its Decision Letter dated October 27, 2000, (the "Program's Decision"). The Applicant is appealing pursuant to Section 16(2) and (3) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act (the "Act"), R.S.O. 1990. Ch. 0.31 and bases his claim on the provisions of Section 13(1) and clauses (b) and (c) of Section 14(1) of the Act.

The Applicant, by an undated letter received by the Program on June 26, 1991 (the "Original Complaint"), claimed that the vendor/builder, 844289 Ontario Limited carrying on business under the firm name and style of BSM Contractors (the "Builder") was in breach of several of its warranties to construct the new home at 419 Moonrock Avenue, in the City of Sudbury (the "home"), which it contracted to build in a workmanlike manner and free from defects in material, and also that the home was free of major structural defects, as part of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale entered into between the Builder as vendor, and the Applicant and Margaret Janeczek as purchasers, dated April 3, 1990 (the "agreement"). The Applicant and Margaret Janeczek closed the transaction contemplated in the Agreement pursuant to its terms and took possession of the home on July 4, 1990.

EVIDENCE:

At the hearing, three witnesses gave evidence, the Applicant, on behalf of himself and his wife as purchasers and owners of the home, and Kevin Blacklock and Denis Faubert, on behalf of the Program. The evidence on behalf of the Program consisted largely of the documentary material contained within Exhibit #4, the Respondent's Book of Documents, as supplemented by the recollections of the witnesses as to the meetings, events, discussions and circumstances respecting the home some ten years ago up to the date of the Program's Decision. The Applicant, without Counsel acting on his behalf, likewise gave testimony respecting that which transpired from the date of possession of the home and responded to the questions put to him by the Tribunal to elucidate the facts and issues in dispute. In addition, the Applicant, with the acquiescence of Counsel for the Program, produced eight photographs taken recently to illustrate the current condition of the home. With but one exception, the evidence was consistent and gave rise to little difficulty in the determination of factual aspects of the dispute.

FACTS:

Subsequent to the Original Complaint, conciliation services were requested by the Applicant and performed in the presence of the Applicant on July 22, 1991 by Robert Plourde on behalf of the Program, which issued a report respecting the inspection of the home. The Applicant informed the Program that he was dissatisfied with the inspection and a re-inspection of the home was conducted by Kevin Blacklock on behalf of the Program on September 19, 1991. The said report was re-issued following the said re-inspection and dated as of July 22, 1991 (the "Inspection Report"), being a listing of some fifty-five complaints made by the Applicant which the Program decided were either deficient, as noted in Schedule A-1 thereof, or compliant, as noted in Schedule A-2 thereof, with respect to the several warranties made by the Builder to the Applicant pursuant to the Agreement and/or under the Act.

From the Inspection Report, the Program issued a letter dated August 1, 1991, and re-issued on October 8, 1991, (the "Conciliation Report") requesting the Builder to deal with some thirty-eight items which required rectification by the Builder and related to those items listed in Schedule A-1 of the Inspection Report.

Due to the default by the Builder in responding to the Conciliation Report, the Program entered into a contract dated February 3, 1992 with L. Pen Construction to complete the items required of the Builder in the Conciliation Report. The Applicant thence delayed the commencement of such remedial work due, in part, to his reluctance to approve of the contractor and/or his dissatisfaction with the procedures adopted by the Program and did not respond to the requests made by the Program that the proposed remedial work should proceed.

The Program thence addressed the dissatisfaction of the Applicant and entered a new contract dated July 13, 1992 with Kingsley Homes (Sudbury) Ltd. (the "Remedial Contractor") to complete the remedial work consisting of the thirty-eight items as noted in the 12 pages of the work schedule attached to the said new contract (the "Work Schedule").

The Work Schedule was revised twice during the performance of the new contract on August 31, 1992, and on November 5, 1992, respectively, in order to complete additional work as demanded by the Applicant and as noted in the revised work schedule (the "Revised Work Schedule"). On March 22, 1993, a further contract was executed between the Program and Kingsley Homes (Sudbury) Ltd. in order to complete the Revised Work Schedule and the Program remitted full payment to the Remedial Contractor upon completion of all remedial work included in the Work Schedule and the Revised Work Schedule.

The Program tendered a form of release to the Applicant for his signature so as to confirm that the remedial work had been performed to the satisfaction of the Applicant and for the purpose of making payment to the Remedial Contractor. The Applicant refused to sign the said release form and it became clear to the Program that the Applicant would not execute the release or any other document to evidence that the remedial work had been completed. The Applicant stated that he wanted to delay his acceptance of the remedial work so as to assure himself that there was no latent defect in the construction of the home by the Builder or the remedial work performed by the Remedial Contractor to correct any such defect.

On May 17, 1993 an inspection of the new home was carried out by Kevin Blacklock, on behalf of the Program, in the presence of the wife of the Applicant, Margaret Janeczek, and in the presence of Leo Kingsley representing the Remedial Contractor. It is notable that the Applicant had ample notice of this May 17th meeting and inspection but was absent when it took place. A field inspection report of even date respecting the May 17th inspection was issued by Kevin Blacklock on behalf of the Program, in order to manifest the satisfactory completion of the remedial work (the "Field Inspection Report").

Some time passed subsequent to the Field Inspection Report and it was not until on or about March 28, 2000, that the Applicant made an oral complaint to the Program that the Builder was still in breach of not only its warranties to construct the home pursuant to the Agreement but also was in default of other statutory warranties under the provisions of the Act. Subsequent to further discussions between the Applicant and Denis Faubert on behalf of the Program respecting the alleged further breaches of warranties, the Applicant issued his claims in writing on August 11, 2000 (the "Later Complaint") and the Program's Decision was issued.

The only real conflict in the testimony given at the hearing was as to the condition of the cracks and gaps in the exterior brickwork and/or masonry subsequent to the remedial work being completed and the written statements made in the Field Inspection Report. The photographs taken by or under the direction of the Applicant in the late spring and summer of 2001 show clearly that there are jagged cracks in the brickwork running down the mortar joints of the exterior wall at the front of the home proximate to the garage entrance. These gaps are of varying widths, the largest of which appears to be up to an inch and a half in width. These photographs also indicate that the door frames, doors and brickwork in the vicinity of the said cracks and gaps are markedly out of plumb utilizing a vertical contractor's level to illustrate the comparison.

The evidence of Kevin Blacklock on behalf of the Program is that there were no cracks or gaps in the brickwork as at the date of the Field Inspection Report, as the admittedly pre-existing cracks and gaps had been properly repaired by the remedial work carried out by the Remedial Contractor. The Tribunal questioned the Applicant quite closely and repeatedly as to the cracks and gaps subsequent to the Field Inspection Report and each time the Applicant insisted that the said cracks and gaps were there in November of 1992 prior to the remedial work, but refused to be specific as to a date subsequent to the Field Inspection Report or, indeed, when such reappeared as shown in the photographs.

The Program was made aware of the reappearance some seven years later on the telephone complaint made by the Applicant on March 28, 2000 and as noted in the Later Complaint. In the absence of any evidence to the contrary, the Tribunal must thus conclude that the current state of the brickwork, door frames and doors as shown in the photographs occurred after the Field Inspection Report and before March 28, 2000.

ISSUES:

The main issue to be decided by this Tribunal is whether or not the current condition of the home as shown in the photographs and as noted in the Later Complaint was as a result of a breach of warranty by the Builder which is covered under the Act within the time limits prescribed and otherwise not rectified by the Program as noted in the Original Complaint. A subordinate issue is whether or not the Applicant's refusal to execute the release form tendered or any other acknowledgement of remedial work performed by the Program extends indefinitely the time limits prescribed in the Act and the Regulations promulgated thereunder.

ISSUES OF LAW:

The Applicants are appealing the Program's Decision to the Tribunal under Section 16(2) of the Act and this hearing and this decision of the Tribunal is issued pursuant to Section 16(3) of the Act.

16.(2) A notice under subsection (1) shall state that the person or owner served is entitled to a hearing by the Tribunal if the person or owner mails or delivers, within fifteen days after service of the notice under subsection (1), notice in writing requiring a hearing to the Corporation and the Tribunal.

(3) Where a person or owner gives notice in accordance with subsection (2), the Tribunal shall appoint a time for and hold the hearing and may by order direct the Corporation to take such action as the tribunal considers the Corporation ought to take in accordance with this Act and the regulations, and for such purpose the Tribunal may substitute its opinion for that of the Corporation.

Section 13(1) of the Act specifies certain warranties and sets out a list of circumstances in Section 13(2) in respect of which such specified warranties do not apply.

13.(1) Every vendor of a home warrants to the owner,

(a) that the home,

- (i) is constructed in a workmanlike manner and is free from defects in material,
- (ii) is fit for habitation, and
- (iii) is construction in accordance with the Ontario Building Code;

(b) that the home is free of major structural defects as defined by the regulations; and

(c) such other warranties as are prescribed by the regulations.

(2) A warranty under subsection (1) does not apply in respect of,

- (a) defects in materials, design and work supplied by the owner;
- (b) secondary damage caused by defects, such as property damage and personal injury;
- (c) normal wear and tear;
- (d) normal shrinkage of materials caused by drying after construction;
- (e) damage caused by dampness or condensation due to failure by the owner to maintain adequate ventilation;
- (f) damage resulting from improper maintenance;
- (g) alterations, deletions or additions made by the owner;
- (h) subsidence of the land around the building or along utility lines, other than subsidence beneath the footings of the building;
- (i) damage resulting from an act of God;
- (j) damage caused by insects and rodents, except where construction is in contravention of the Ontario Building Code;
- (k) damage caused by municipal services or other utilities;
- (l) surface defects in work and materials specified and accepted in writing by the owner at the date of possession.

It is notable that provision is made in Section 13(1)(c) of the Act for these specified statutory warranties to be expanded by regulation, and Part VI of Ontario Regulation 892 (Sections 14 to 24, inclusive) provides for such additional specific warranties by regulation together with terms, conditions, exceptions and exclusions which attach to these regulatory warranties.

Section 13(1)(b) of the Act defines the term "major structural defects" as referenced in the said Regulations as follows:

1. In this Regulation, ...

"major structural defect" means, for the purpose of clause 13(1)(b) of the Act, any defect in work or materials,

(a) that results in failure of the load-bearing portion of any building or materially and adversely affects its load-bearing function, or

(b) that materially and adversely affects the use of such building for the purpose for which it was intended, including significant damage due to soil movement, major cracks in basement walls, collapse or serious distortion of joints or roof structure and chemical failure of materials, but excluding flood damage, dampness not arising from failure of a load-bearing portion of the building, damage to drains or services, damage to finishes and damage arising from acts of God, acts of the owners and their tenants, licencees and invitees, acts of civil and military authorities, acts of war, riot, insurrection or civil commotion and malicious damage."

Section 13(1)(c) of the Act refers to "warranties as are prescribed by the regulations" and Section 15(4) of Regulation 892 specifies that "the warranties described in subsection (2) are prescribed under clause 13(1)(c) of the Act." Section 15 (2)(e) of Regulation 892 specifies "that the home is free of major structural defects."

Section 13(3) of the Act provides that the vendor of a home shall deliver to the owner a certificate specifying the date upon which the home is completed for the owner's possession and the warranties take effect from the date specified in the certificate.

13(3) The vendor of a home shall deliver to the owner a certificate specifying the date upon which the home is completed for the owner's possession and the warranties take effect from the date specified in the certificate.

Section 13(4) of the Act provides that a warranty under subsection (1) applies only in respect of claims made thereunder within one year after the warranty takes effect, or such longer time under such conditions as are prescribed.

13(4) A warranty under subsection (1) applies only in respect of claims made thereunder within one year after the warranty takes effect, or such longer time under such conditions as are prescribed.

Section 13(6) of the Act not only provides that all such specified statutory warranties and specified regulatory warranties apply despite any agreement or waiver to the contrary, but also recognizes that the owner may have other rights and other agreed warranties in addition to the warranties specified in Section 13(1) of the Act and the regulatory warranties prescribed in Section 13(1)(c).

13(6) The warranties set out in subsection (1) apply despite any agreement or waiver to the contrary and are in addition to any other rights the owner may have and to any other warranty agreed upon.

Under clauses (b) and (c) of Section 14(1), where an owner has a cause of action against a vendor for damages resulting from a breach of warranty, or the owner suffers damage because of a major structural defect, such an owner is entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund the amount of such damage. The right to make a claim is set out in Section 14(1) in the Act.

14.(1) Where,

- (a) a person who has entered into a contract with a vendor for the provision of a home has a cause of action in damages against the vendor for financial loss resulting from the bankruptcy of the vendor or the vendor's failure to perform the contract;
- (b) an owner has a cause of action against a vendor for damages resulting from a breach of warranty; or
- (c) the owner suffers damage because of a major structural defect as defined in the regulations for the purposes of section 13, and the claim is made within four year after the warranty expires or such longer time under such conditions as are prescribed,

the person or owner is entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund the amount of such damage subject to such limits as are fixed by the regulations.

A warranty is a defined term under the Act. Section 1 provides:

1. In this Act, ...

"warranty" means a warranty set out on section 13.

Section 16 of the Regulations extends the time for a claim due to major structural defects to seven years for new homes enrolled after December 31, 1990.

16. Where a home was enrolled after the 31st day of December, 1990, the claim for damages because of a major structural defect may be made within seven years of the date specified in the certificate of completion and possession.

The combined effect of the provisions in the Act and Regulations stated above is that the warranty period extends to one year after the date of possession and in the case of "major structural damage" such period is extended to five years from possession for "homes that were enrolled" prior to January 1st, 1991.

Section 14(3) of the Act provides that the Program may perform or arrange for the performance of any work in lieu of or in mitigation of damages claimed by the Applicant, as an owner.

(3) The Corporation may perform or arrange for the performance of any work in lieu of or in the mitigation of damages claimed under subsection (1).

The Applicant is an owner as defined by the Act and the Tribunal finds him so to be as a fact. The Tribunal also finds as a fact that the owners took possession of the home on July 4, 1990. As such, the Applicant is entitled to compensation or remedies from the assets of the guarantee fund for any and all damages by virtue of Section 14(1)(b) and (c) thereof, subject only to the limitation of amount as set out in the regulations thereto.

The Applicant claimed breaches of warranty within the time limits prescribed and the Program arranged for the performance of all remedial work required to rectify the Builder's breaches of warranty and the remedial work was completed to the satisfaction of the owners as noted in the Field Inspection Report. Subsequent to the Field Inspection Report, the owners made no further claim until March 28, 2000, well beyond the expiration of the warranty period. In the absence of any direct evidence or any expert testimony, the Tribunal is in some doubt that the defects shown in the photographs and described above fall within the definition of "major structural damage". However, even giving the Applicant the benefit of any Tribunal doubt, it still remains that the warranty period for any major structural damage expired on July 3, 1995, as provided in the Act and Regulation.

DECISION AND ORDER:

With respect to the issues presented by the Applicant to this hearing and pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal by section 16(3) of the Act, it is the decision of the Tribunal that the Program completed satisfactorily all work required to rectify the defects claimed by the Applicant in the Original Complaint in accordance with section 14(3) of the Act and as noted in the Field Inspection Report dated May 17, 1993. The Applicant in his discussions with the Program subsequent to March 28, 2000, as confirmed by the Later Complaint and shown in the photographs produced at the hearing has failed to satisfy the onus of proof required by this Tribunal that the claim respecting the current condition of the home falls within the warranty provisions of the Act. No evidence was presented either by an expert witness or otherwise that the defects claimed by the Applicant were within the definition of a "major structural defect" pursuant to the Act, nor was there any evidence to show that such defects, latent or otherwise, occurred within the warranty periods and time limits prescribed by the Act or the Regulations promulgated thereunder. Indeed, there was no evidence before this Tribunal as to the probable cause of the very evident and significant condition of the home as shown in the recent photographs produced at the hearing.

The reluctance by the Applicant and/or his refusal to execute a form of release tendered to him by the Program does not in any way extend the warranty periods or the time limits prescribed by the Act or the Regulations. A signed release, or the absence thereof, would at best be merely written evidence to support the facts, understandings and circumstances of all Parties at the time of its execution, or non-execution. As such it, or its absence, cannot alter statutory provisions. It was equally apparent to the Tribunal that the Applicant was never of a mind to sign any document, a release or otherwise, that would bind him to any fixed position no matter how reasonable the request to sign might be.

ORDER:

The Tribunal, therefore, orders that the Appeal by the Applicant to the Tribunal of the Program's Decision as set out in the Original Complaint and in the Later Complaint fails and is dismissed.

BIJAN TEHRANI O/A FRIENDLY AUTO

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
OF THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REVOKE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: E. ALAN GARBE, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES:

BIJAN TEHRANI, representing himself, the Applicant
MICHAEL ROTHE, Counsel, representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF
HEARING: August 13, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This hearing arises from a written notice of proposal dated May 14, 2001, issued by the Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Act") to revoke the registration of Bijan Tehrani o/a Friendly Auto (the "Applicant") as a motor vehicle dealer under the provisions of the Act.

REGISTRAR'S POSITION

It is the position of the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Registrar") that the past conduct of the Applicant is inconsistent with the intention and objectives of the Act for the following reasons:

1. The Applicant was convicted on February 21, 2000, on four counts of providing false statements on a safety standards certificate contrary to section 99(2) of the Highway Traffic Act.
2. On the Applicant's application to renew his registration submitted to the Registrar on February 6, 2001, the Applicant failed to disclose the above-noted convictions.

By Notice of Further and Other Particulars dated July 9, 2001, the Registrar provided additional particulars for his proposal to revoke the registration of the Applicant as follows:

3. On or about October 25, 2000, the Applicant sold a 1991 Mazda MPV (VIN: JM3LV5223M0310005) to Magdi Kaldas who also purchased an Auto Guard warranty for an additional fee, however the Applicant failed to submit the warranty with payment to the warranty company.

By a further Notice of Further and Other Particulars dated July 27, 2001, the Registrar gave notice of further reasons for his decision:

4. On or about November 16, 1998, the Applicant sold a stolen 1997 Ford Crown Victoria (VIN: 2FALP7364TX106125) to Bahman Dadui and in so doing, misrepresented the true distance travelled by the vehicle.
5. The Applicant failed to comply with Act and in particular with sections 3 and 5 thereof.

APPLICANT'S POSITION

It is the Applicant's position that he did not personally do anything wrong and at the court hearing he was not represented by counsel. Also, he said that the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") prosecutor told the Applicant that if he pleaded guilty there would be no further action taken by OMVIC. Further, it is the Applicant's position that the sanction sought by the Registrar is disproportionate to the offences alleged.

THE EVIDENCE:

The evidence introduced by the Registrar consisted of the testimony of Magdi Kaldas, Bahman Dadui, Hamidrizza Pourmin and Mary Jane South. Documentary evidence was introduced by the above parties and the respondent's Book of Disclosure was made Exhibit 5 in these proceedings.

TESTIMONY OF MAGDI KALDAS

Mr. Kaldas testified that he purchased a 1991 Mazda MPV on October 24, 2000 and the dealer purchase agreement at Tab 8, Exhibit 5 is a copy of the agreement of purchase for the said vehicle. The vehicle was sold certified with a one-year warranty for which Mr. Kaldas paid $149.00. The witness testified that the Applicant said he would mail the warranty papers into the warranty company.

Mr. Kaldas stated that after approximately four months the motor seized in the vehicle. When he attempted to report the problem to the Applicant, the witness was told that the Applicant was away, and the salesperson who took the call looked through the files and advised the witness that there was no record of a warranty and asked for a copy of the vehicle purchase agreement. Mr. Kaldas was told by the salesperson that he would call the Applicant.

The witness testified that it was subsequently acknowledged that there was a warranty and the witness was told to call Auto Guard; however, when the witness spoke to Auto Guard, they indicated that they had no records of a warranty.

Mr. Kaldas testified that the Applicant arranged to take the vehicle and have the engine replaced, however according to the witness, they replaced it with the wrong engine. The Applicant advised the witness that he could not find the warranty but, in any event, the warranty only covers $750.00 of the costs of any work and the balance must be paid by Mr. Kaldas. The witness was told by the Applicant that he was too busy to look for the warranty at that time.

The witness subsequently went to Friendly Auto and asked for a copy but was told that a copy was not available and that the witness should return later that week. When the witness returned, the Applicant was abusive to the witness and it was after this incident that the witness contacted OMVIC.

The witness testified that after numerous discussions with the Applicant the witness finally arranged, with the assistance of the police, to retrieve his vehicle only to subsequently discover that there was approximately $2,300.00 worth of parts missing.

The witness testified that he was concerned about the car and would not have purchased the vehicle without a warranty. Mr. Kaldas testified that he did not feel that he had been dealt with in a fair and honest manner.

On cross-examination, the witness testified that the car had been towed to a company called "Auto Rally" and from there was taken to "Speed Line Auto Repair Ltd." The witness confirmed that he had been advised by the salesperson that the one year warranty covered the problem, and it was the witness's understanding that the salesperson was in touch with the Applicant.

Mr. Kaldas testified that he was told that the vehicle was moved from Auto Rally to Speed Line Auto Repair Ltd. because the amount that Auto Rally estimated for the work was too high. The witness was told that the cost of a re-built engine would be approximately $4,000.00.

TESTIMONY OF BAHMAN DADUI

Mr. Dadui testified that he had been a taxi driver for three years and leased a taxi licence. The witness stated that it was the practice within the taxi industry that the party leasing the licence would buy the car but that the car would be put in the name of the owner of the license who, in this case, was Serjio Guerrero.

The witness identified the Consumer Questionnaire appearing at Tab 10, Exhibit 5 and acknowledged his signature on the second page. The witness testified that he purchased the vehicle for $16,500.00 paying $10,500.00 by certified cheque and $6,000.00 in cash on November 17, 1998.

Mr. Dadui stated that the document appearing on the second page of Tab 9, Exhibit 5, was an acknowledgment that he requested to show that he had paid for the vehicle. The witness explained that he had taken the bill of sale to Serjio Guerrero who signed it, and the witness returned it to the Applicant.

The witness testified that the document appearing at the second page of Tab 9 has Mr. Dadui's signature as buyer, Hamidrizza Pourmin as the seller and the Applicant signed as witness and owner because it was the witness's understanding that the Applicant was the owner of the car.

When asked about the difference between the amount shown on the purchase agreement and the amount on the document at Tab 9, the witness stated that it had something to do with saving tax.

The witness testified that he went to the Applicant as a result of a suggestion of a friend of the witness who told him that the Applicant had a car that might meet the witness's requirements. When Mr. Dadui met the Applicant at Auto Plus 2001, the Applicant did have the car which the witness purchased.

Mr. Dadui stated that when he inquired why the key was loose, he was told that the key was lost. When he asked about scratches around the door lock, the Applicant had no explanation. The witness testified that when he purchased the vehicle it was showing that it had travelled approximately 44,000 kilometers, however the speedometer was not registering in kilometers but was registering in miles and when the witness told the Applicant, the Applicant appeared surprised.

The witness stated that, approximately nine months after he purchased the car, he was stopped for speeding and when the police did a vehicle check, the witness was told that the vehicle was stolen.

The witness testified that he would still have purchased the car knowing that it had travelled 44,000 miles rather than 44,000 kilometers.

The witness testified that he spoke to the Applicant in an attempt to get his money back, however he never received any refund. The witness stated that throughout the entire matter, he dealt only with the Applicant.

The witness stated that he did not believe that he had been dealt with fairly and with honesty.

TESTIMONY OF HAMIDRIZA POURMIN

Mr. Pourmin testified that he was the owner of Auto Plus 2001 Inc. which he had owned for approximately two years. The witness stated that he still had the company, but it was not active.

The witness testified that, shortly after he opened his lot, he was approached by the Applicant who said that he wanted to work for the witness. Mr. Pourmin stated that he was looking for a partner, however the Applicant did not have money but was willing to be trained. The witness stated that the Applicant worked as a lot man picking up cars, etc., but did not do any sales because he did not know the business.

With asked about the bill of sale appearing at Tab 9, the witness testified that the buyer of the car needed a warranty and in order to obtain a warranty, the transaction had to be done through a dealer so the buyer and the car were brought to Auto Plus 2001 by the Applicant. The customer took the vehicle for a test drive and indicated that he was prepared to purchase the car. In order to complete the transaction, the ownership of the vehicle was transferred to Auto Plus 2001 and then to the customer.

The witness testified that the information on the bill of sale was provided by the Applicant and that witness did not know that the vehicle was going into the name of someone other than the person he understood to be the buyer until the document appearing at page 2 of Tab 9 was signed.

The witness testified that he was only involved because of the warranty. Mr. Pourmin stated that the bill of sale was in his hand-writing but that he had not filled in the serial number because at the time he completed the bill of sale, he did not have the ownership. The witness stated he was not concerned about the transaction because he trusted the Applicant.

TESTIMONY OF MARY JANE SOUTH

Ms. South, the Deputy Registrar, stated that it was her responsibility to oversee the OMVIC program and to make recommendations with respect to revocations. Ms. South referred to Tab 1 of Exhibit 5 and the convictions for false statements on the safety standard certificates. Ms. South also made reference to the possible tax fraud in which the Applicant was involved as a result of the testimony of the witness, Bahman Dadui, who had stated that the difference between the amount shown on the bill of sale and the amount actually paid was to save tax.

Ms. South referred to the certificate at Tab 5 of Exhibit 5 and confirmed that the Applicant was presently registered under the Act. Referring to Tab 7, Exhibit 5, the witness identified the convictions under section 99(2) of the Highway Traffic Act.

Ms. South referred to the renewal form at Tab 6 of Exhibit 5 dated February 5, 2001 and particularly questions 1 a) and b) to which the Applicant answered "No" which Ms. South stated was a failure by the Applicant to honestly inform OMVIC of the convictions. It is the Registrar's position that such non-disclosure is a major issue.

The witness testified that tampering with safety certificates is similar to tampering with speedometers and is considered to be a significant breach of an important aspect of the consumer protection for the automobile industry.

With respect to the bill of sale at Tab 8, Exhibit 5, Page 3, the witness testified that the Registrar is concerned that the Applicant sold a warranty but failed to live up to the terms of the warranty and did not act honestly in dealing with the consumer.

Ms. South testified that the Dadui transaction, which occurred when the Applicant was not registered, involved a potential tax fraud and involved the sale of a stolen vehicle. Although the Applicant may not have known the vehicle was stolen, there was the question of the lost key and the failure of the Applicant to compensate the purchaser for the loss of the vehicle after it was seized by the police.

Under cross-examination, Ms. South testified that question 1 a) on the renewal form refers to "any law" and not just criminal matters. When asked with respect to OMVIC's concern regarding the Kaldas warranty, Ms. South testified that it is of concern to OMVIC that a consumer receives from a registrant what the consumer paid for and that in the case of a third party warranty a copy should be in the purchaser's file and registered with the warranty company. Ms. South further testified that if it is a dealer warranty, the dealer must honour it and the terms of such warranty must be disclosed in the bill of sale.

TESTIMONY OF BIJAN TEHRANI

The Applicant testified that the convictions with respect to the safety certificate related to things done by the mechanic at the garage where the vehicles were taken to be certified and that the Applicant knew nothing about false statements made by the mechanic.

The witness testified that he thought that there were two types of convictions, one for criminal offences and another for all others matters and he did not realize that the convictions with respect to the safety certificates counted as convictions for the purposes of the renewal form.

The Applicant stated that, with respect to the warranty issue, he tried to help get the car fixed for Mr. Kaldas. The garage to which the vehicle was taken had a regular arrangement with the Applicant to do warranty work. The Applicant stated that the warranty was the Applicant's warranty.

With respect to the sale of the vehicle through Auto Plus 2001, the Applicant testified that this occurred at a time when he was not registered and did not know how things were to be handled. The Applicant testified that it was the dealer, Auto Plus 2001 Inc., who collected the money and that the vehicle was transferred by the dealer. The Applicant stated that he was merely a witness. At that time, the Applicant was only a lot man and that it was Auto Plus 2001 Inc. who handled the transaction, wrote the letter signed by the purchaser, did the bill of sale and that the Applicant had done nothing wrong.

On cross-examination, the Applicant testified that from the time he came to Canada until February 1999, he worked as a convenience store clerk, truck driver and taxi driver for three to four years.

The Applicant testified that with respect to the safety certificates, he had gone to a licenced garage run by a licenced mechanic and that it was not he who signed the certificate but the garage owner and the mechanic that signed the certificate.

With respect to the Dadui transaction, the Applicant stated that he did not purchase the vehicle nor did he sell the vehicle and had no knowledge about scratches around the lock or the lost key.

The Applicant did acknowledge that he had made the statement appearing as Exhibit 7 and that it was his initials in the lower right corner of the various pages of Exhibit 7. The Applicant admitted that the statement was correct. The witness stated that he acted as an intermediary between parties buying cars and made a little money that way.

The Applicant admitted that he had never given a written warranty to Mr. Kaldas nor had he ever paid any money back to Mr. Dadui.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

The following facts are found by this Tribunal to have been proven:

1. The Applicant was convicted on February 21, 2000, of providing false statements on safety certificates contrary to section 99(2) of the Highway Traffic Act.
2. The Applicant did not disclose such convictions on the renewal of his application dated February 5, 2001.
3. The Applicant failed to process the warranty which he sold to Magdi Kaldas nor did the Applicant honour such warranty.
4. The Applicant was directly involved in the sale of a stolen 1997 Ford Crown Victoria at a time when the Applicant was not registered under the Act in contravention of section 3 of the Act.
5. The Applicant was part of the transaction where the purchase price for the 1997 Ford Crown Victoria was misrepresented to avoid the payment of taxes.

ISSUE:

The issue before this Tribunal is whether or not the Registrar has erred in proposing to revoke the registration of the Applicant under the Act.

LAW:

The authority granted to the Registrar is provided in subsections 5(1)(b) of the Act which states:

5.(1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,

.....

(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty;

.....

The Registrar has the onus of proof to satisfy the Tribunal that the Registrar has reasonable grounds to believe that the registration of the Applicant, Bijan Tehrani, should be revoked.

For the Tribunal to carry out its responsibilities pursuant to the Act, the Tribunal must review the decision of the Registrar by examining the allegations of the Registrar with respect to the activities of the Applicant and to consider such allegations in light of the evidence given by the Registrar and the Applicant with respect to those allegations.

In the leading case of Brenner 19 CRAT SCO Decisions and Orders (1971-1989), page 59, is a decision issued on April 7, 1983 where the Divisional Court overruled a decision of this Tribunal. Southey J. states that the Registrar proposed to refuse registration because of the existence of the specific circumstances set out in Section 5(1)(b) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act:

“The effect of Sec. 7(4) is that the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Board does not appear to have directed itself to this question and makes no finding that, in its view, the past conduct of Brenner did not afford reasonable grounds for the belief that Brenner would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Instead, the Board appears to have been preoccupied with sympathetic concern as to whether or not Brenner had genuinely reformed, and appears to have decided that it ought to give him a second chance because there was a possibility that he, indeed, might have reformed himself.”

Due to the particular facts in that case, Southey J. sent it back for a rehearing, however, adding in the third last paragraph:

“The proper question at the rehearing remains, however, whether the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that he will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Unless the Tribunal can find that it does not, the Tribunal should not order the Registrar to refrain from carrying out his proposal.”

Therefore, it is not sufficient for the Tribunal to reach a conclusion that it would have exercised the discretion differently from the way in which the Registrar did. Clearly, in order to overrule the Registrar the Tribunal must conclude that the Registrar was wrong in his decision and that the conduct of the Applicant does not afford reasonable grounds for his belief based upon it.

The above principle was affirmed by the Divisional Court in Faccenda [1994] 26 CRAT Part II 1050. In Faccenda, the Divisional Court, again on appeal from this Tribunal quashed a decision to direct a Registrar not to carry out his Proposal. At page 1051, the Court held:

“It follows that the Tribunal should have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal only if it thought that the Registrar was in error in his belief.”

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

It is clear from the evidence before this Tribunal that the Applicant has not acted in accordance with the requirements of the Act and has repeatedly conducted his business in a fashion which shows disrespect for the law and the Applicant's customers.

When confronted with the need to honour the warranty given to Magdi Kaldas, the Applicant provided different explanations as to the terms of the warranty and failed to honour the warranty in a satisfactory manner with the result that the consumer has suffered frustration and monetary loss.

The Applicant's testimony with respect to the transaction involving Mr. Dadui is inconsistent with the version of events provided by Mr. Dadui and Mr. Pourmin which coincides with the statement given by the Applicant in September 1999 (Exhibit 7). The Applicant's involvement in this matter demonstrates a lack of integrity and respect for the law.

The Tribunal does not accept the Applicant's explanation as to why he failed to disclose the convictions regarding the safety certificates. It is fundamental to the operation of a lawful business to appreciate the ramification of contravening the laws that govern that business.

The Tribunal finds that the Registrar has satisfied the onus of proof that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the Applicant's registration should be revoked.

DECISION:

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealer Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to carrying out the notice of proposal dated May 14, 2001, to revoke the registration of Bijan Tehrani o/a Friendly Auto as a motor vehicle dealer under the Act.

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

The Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the “Registrar” and the “Act”, respectively) issued a Notice of Proposal on May 25, 2001 refusing to grant registration under the Act to Formula Fine Cars Ltd. and Ahmad El Masri (the “Applicants”). The Applicants requested a hearing with this Tribunal. Their Notice of Appeal was dated June 6, 2001 and sent to the Tribunal by their counsel with his letter of June 8, 2001 with a number of attachments. The documents were received at the Tribunal on June 12, 2001.

The hearing was held on September 19, 2001 and continued on September 28, 2001. Counsel completed their oral submissions on October 2, 2001.

ISSUE:

Does the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, have reasonable grounds to refuse to register Formula Fine Cars Ltd. as a motor vehicle dealership and Ahmad El Masri as a motor vehicle salesperson under the Act?

EVIDENCE:

Opening Statements:

Registrar:

Counsel for the Registrar stated that the Registrar refuses to register the Applicants due to the past conduct of the Applicants which does not meet the criteria as set out in section 5 of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act. The reasons of the Registrar are: 1. The Applicants misrepresented the number of kilometres to a customer; 2. The Applicants did not make full disclosure to a second customer; 3. The Applicants did not provide the Registrar with full access to the books and records; 4. The Applicants have shown disregard for the law.

Applicants:

Counsel for the Applicants stated that Formula Fine Cars Ltd. is a new corporation which wishes to be registered as a motor vehicle dealer. Mr. Ahmad El Masri had previously been registered as a salesperson to Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. Accordingly to its corporate records, Ahmad El Masri was the secretary of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc., but Mr. El Masri has no responsibility for the management of this company.

Counsel stated that Ahmad El Masri's involvement as a salesperson in the allegations of misrepresentation of the number of kilometers and the lack of full disclosure would be explained in his evidence.

It was the submission of counsel that Ahmad El Masri did not have personal control of the books or records of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. Counsel stated that Ahmad El Masri cooperated with the investigators to the best of his ability.

Testimony of Sirous Safaei:

Mr. Safaei is currently a motor vehicle salesperson and owns a motor vehicle dealership. He has worked in the motor vehicle industry since 1993.

Mr. Safaei testified that he personally knows Ahmad El Masri and his brother Mohamed El Masri. He had sold them a 1996 Honda Civic. The terms of that sale were as follows: they were to give him a 1991 Eagle Talon valued at $1800.00 and a 1992 Oldsmobile valued at $1800.00 and a cheque for $2450.00 to make the deal worth $6050.00.

Mr. Safaei referred to the bill of sale which is found at Tab 17 of Exhibit 3. He testified that the Ahmad El Masri's handwriting is on that bill of sale. He testified that he thought the comment "true mileage unknown" was referring to the 1992 Oldsmobile.

Mr. Safaei testified that he tried to sell the Eagle motor vehicle but when his prospective customer took it to a mechanic, that mechanic said the car was smoking and the turbo was not working. Mr. Safaei then took the Eagle to Associated Auction in London, Ontario for sale. That auction house found a lien registered against the car and told him to remove the car from the auction. The auction house also discovered odometer problems with this vehicle.

After being informed of these problems, Mr. Safaei wanted Ahmad El Masri and his brother to take back the vehicle. Mr. Safaei stated that Ahmad El Masri told him that the lien had been put on by a former partner, a person called Hasfar. After some time, Ahmad El Masri and his brother did pay Mr. Safaei for both the cost of the Eagle and the costs from the auction house. Mr. Safaei testified that he had "a hell of a time getting his money back".

On cross-examination, Mr. Safaei stated that the odometer on the Eagle was working. He knew this because he had driven the Eagle to his lot. He did not know that Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. had replaced the odometer. He did not know there was an $8000.00 lien on the vehicle until told by Associated Auction. Associated had sold the car for $2650.00 at auction on November 30th. It was after that sale that the lien was discovered.

Mr. Safaei stated that he had told Ahmad El Masri on the evening of November 30th that the car had been sold at auction. Only after that did Ahmad El Masri state that there was a lien on the vehicle because they owed money to Hasfar. Ahmad El Masri and his brother blamed Hasfar for the odometer problems.

Testimony of Neil Wells:

Mr. Wells is the operations manager for the London Ice Hockey Club. He has held that position for six years. He stated that he purchased a 1994 Honda Accord from Ahmad El Masri and Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. The retail bill of sale is dated December 22, 2000. It was purchased with a safety certificate.

Mr. Wells testified that he had asked both Ahmad and Mohamed El Masri if the car had been in an accident. They both told him no. When he asked if the car had a safety certificate, they told him yes.

Mr. Wells stated that the safety certificate is dated December 27, 2000. Mr. Wells took possession of the vehicle on December 28, 2000.

Mr. Wells stated that on January 14, 2001 he took the vehicle to London Honda for an inspection as he had not liked the way it was handling. London Hondo told him to contact the Ministry of Transportation as the car has been in an accident. They told Mr. Wells that the frame had been welded in two places, the air bag had been deployed and the right side driver's seat was broken. Mr. Wells stated the cost of the repairs to be $1391.49. He still has problems with the wiring of the car.

After this, Mr. Wells contacted the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC"). He did not approach Ahmad El Masri or his brother.

Mr. Wells testified that if he had known that the car had been in an accident, he would not have bought the car. He still did not think the car was safe. He felt he had not been dealt with fairly by Ahmad El Masri and his brother.

Under cross-examination, Mr. Wells agreed that there was written on the retail bill of sale the words "as is condition and appearance". Although he was buying as is, he said he was getting a safety certificate.

It was the opinion of Mr. Wells that the repairs needed for the tailpipe and ball joints should be part of the safety certificate as were the repairs to the muffler and the front and rear brakes.

It was about three weeks after Mr. Wells' initial complaint to OMVIC that Ahmad El Masri contacted him. Mr. El Masri offered to buy the car. Mr. Wells did not want to do that until he had heard directly from OMVIC. Mr. El Masri was to call back in a couple of days, but he never did.

Mr. Wells agreed that he is not knowledgeable about air bags. He stated that London Hondo had found the switch had been pulled off and the air bag cover was now a different colour than that on the dashboard.

Testimony of Galynni Cini:

Ms. Cini is an inspector with OMVIC and has held this position since January, 2001. Prior to that time, Ms. Cini had three years of experience as a business sales manager at a motor vehicle dealership.

Ms. Cini testified that on February 1, 2001 she and Amanda Dempsey attended at the offices of Ultimate Fine Autos at 129 Exeter Road in London. They met Ahmad El Masri at that time. Mohamed El Masri was not at the dealership.

Ahmad El Masri told them the records for the dealership were locked in a cabinet. He telephoned his brother Mohamed El Masri but ignored the request of Ms Dempsey that she speak to Mohamed.

After his telephone conversation with his brother, Mohamed, Ahmad El Masri became agitated in appearance. He stated that he had done nothing wrong. He wondered why they were bothering him when OMVIC had not taken action on his recent complaint against another dealership. When Ms. Dempsey asked for particulars from him, he refused to give any.

Ms. Cini testified that she heard Ms. Dempsey explain the requirements for the books and records to Ahmad El Masri. Ms. Dempsey told him that there was a duty to supply the records to the investigators. Ms. Cini remembers him stating that he was refusing to provide the books and records for their inspection. A further appointment was scheduled for February 2, 2001 at 11:00 a.m.

Ms. Cini stated that she and Ms. Dempsey attended again at the offices of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. on February 2, 2001. Ahmad El Masri told them that his brother Mohamed was not available and that they would have to return the following Tuesday.

Ms. Cini stated that both on February 1st and 2nd no books or records were provided for their inspection.

Under cross-examination, Ms. Cini stated that she had gone to the dealership in the role of an observer. She made no notes. Ms. Dempsey did make some notes, and Ms. Cini read those notes prior to her testimony.

Ms. Cini noticed on February 1, 2001 that Ahmad El Masri had gone into another room and tried to open some cabinets. She agreed that he never said he was in control of the records.

Ms. Cini stated that there was no further inspection of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. prior to its registration being revoked on March 14, 2001.

Testimony of Mohamad El Masri:

Mr. Mohamad El Masri is the brother of the Applicant, Ahmad El Masri. He is an officer and director of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. and is a registered motor vehicle salesperson. Mr. El Masri stated that his brother Ahmad had been an officer and director of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. since its conception as well as a registered salesperson with Ultimate. It was only after the revocation of the registration of Ultimate that Mohamad El Masri had Ahmad El Masri's name removed as an officer and director of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc.

Mr. El Masri stated that he does not know the person named Hasfar that had been mentioned by Mr. Safaei.

Mr. El Masri stated that he obtained his motor vehicle salesperson registration in June, 2000. Prior to that time, his brother Ahmad did all of the buying and selling of vehicles. After Mohamad El Masri was registered, Ahmad El Masri continued to do the majority of the buying and selling as Mohamad was often not at the dealership.

Mohamad El Masri testified that he does not remember if he told OMVIC that Ahmad was an officer and director of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. He was unsure if his brother Ahmad signed the incorporation documents or if the lawyer told Ahmad at that time about being an officer and director. Mohamad does remember that Ahmad knew of his responsibilities about three months after the incorporation. He said that Ahmad had not seen or signed the document from OMVIC outlining the conditions of registration. Mohamad had signed that document. Mohamad did the paperwork and Ahmad went to the auctions.

Mohamad El Masri testified that if Ahmad saw a car to buy, Ahmad would call him on his cell telephone and they would discuss the purchase. Sometimes they made decisions together and sometimes they made decisions separately. If an odometer was to be replaced, he said Ahmad would call him. Mohamad El Masri also testified that he always told his brother Ahmad to disclose everything to the customer.

Mohamad El Masri recalled that Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. would buy or sell about three cars in an average week. Ultimate could own from twenty five to fifty cars at a time, but the average was more like thirty to forty cars. He said that his brother Ahmad would know the details of these cars, as he was the person who would have bought them.

Mohamad El Masri stated that Ultimate was registered to purchase cars at Impact Auto. He did not remember filling out a number of the administrative forms required for registration at Impact Auto. These forms included the bank account history and the buyer application form. He said he might have filled out the Ontario Retail sales tax form. He knew of the calendar of auction dates.

Mohamad El Masri said that he did not think Impact Autos dealt only with insurance write offs or theft recovered vehicles. Some of the cars he had seen were perfectly okay. He said that such a car must be bought under the dealer's registration number, and he felt that Impact Autos also required other documents for the GST and the city business licence. He could not remember if Impact Autos asked about the purchaser's driver's licence.

Mohamad El Masri testified that he had seen Brad Bond, an inspector for OMVIC, in May, 2000 when Mr. Bond inspected Ultimate Fine Autos. He had shown Mr. Bond the dealer's books and records. He said that Mr. Bond would usually make an appointment and then Mohamad would wait for him. Sometimes both Ahmad and Mohamad El Masri would be present when Mr. Bond did his inspections and sometimes only Ahmad.

Mohamad El Masri stated that due to a back problem he had not been at the dealership on February 1st and 2nd. He left a message at some point for Amanda Dempsey asking her to re attend at the dealership the following Tuesday. He remembered his brother Ahmad telling him that Ms. Dempsey had been at the dealership, but he did not remember Ahmad telling him she was returning on the Friday, Feb. 2nd. He told Ahmad that he would call Ms. Dempsey. Also, he said that Ahmad did not ask him for a key to the cabinet which contains the books and records of the dealership.

Mohamad El Masri reviewed the documents found at Tabs 12, 13, 14 of Exhibit #3 and recognized his signature at Tab 13. He had seen Tab 14. He stated that Ahmad had purchased the Eagle motor vehicle, that the odometer for the Eagle was shaking, that the speedometer was broken and that Ahmad wrote TMU on the retail bill of sale.

Mohamad El Masri said he recalled speaking to Mr. Wells regarding the Honda Accord, which he said Ahmad had purchased and driven to the dealership. After his initial conversation about the car, Mr. Wells had left the dealership as the price was too high. Mohamad and Ahmad talked and decided to set the price at $7400.00. Mr. Wells contacted Mohamad, came into the dealership and purchased the car. Ahmad El Masri prepared the bill of sale, but he did not discuss the car with Mr. Wells.

Mohamad El Masri testified that he could not recall Mr. Wells asking him if the car had been in an accident. He had noticed damage to the side and front headlight while he was driving the car to the service station for its safety certificate. Under cross-examination, he stated that the fender and headlight was fixed and the car painted. These repairs were done by Denny Autobody. There was no structural damage to the car. Mohamad El Masri testified that he did not feel he had an obligation to mention these repairs to Mr. Wells, as the vehicle was not reported as branded. He said that if a vehicle is a salvage vehicle then he must disclose the damages and get a structural safety certificate, but if the vehicle is not branded there is no obligation to disclose any damages. Mr. El Masri stated that OMVIC had not imposed terms or conditions on the dealership stating that such disclosure had to be given to customers.

Respecting the purchase of the 1996 Honda Civic for Mr. Safaei, Mohamad El Masri stated that he knew that the true mileage of the Eagle was 261,000. He was unsure if Mr. Safaei knew of that mileage. Mr. El Masri said he bought the cluster for the Eagle and had a mechanic install it. The cluster stated 142,000 km. He had no records for the repairs done to the Eagle or any records to verify the structural soundness of the Honda Accord. Mohamad El Masri felt that TMU on the bill of sale (Tab 17, Exhibit 3) referred to the 1992 Oldsmobile which was part of the purchase of the 1996 Honda Civic from Mr. Safei.

Mohamad El Masri stated that he was the one with the control of the books of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. and that Ahmad had no access to the books. He further stated that if he is aware of an inspection date, he ensures that the records are available for inspection. He testified that at the time of OMVIC's inspection of February 1st and 2nd, he was on painkillers for his back. He did not until Saturday, February 3, 2001 see the inspection notice dated February 1st stating that Ms. Dempsey would be back the next day to inspect the books and records.

Mohamad El Masri stated that he checked the premises and cleaned the cars, and that Ahmad El Masri did most of the buying and selling. Ahmad was not responsible for the paperwork even though he was listed as the Secretary for the company.

Testimony of Amanda Dempsey:

Ms. Dempsey has been the manager of inspections for OMVIC since December, 1999. She oversees the inspection team.

Ms. Dempsey stated that the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act is a public protection statute. It deals with registration, complaints, mediation between dealers and consumers, inspection of books and records, and premises and investigations.

Ms. Dempsey stated that the core of the Registrar's Proposal was that the Applicants had failed to disclose mileage and accident repairs and had obstructed the inspectors. Ahmad El Masri was registered as a salesperson with Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. from May 15, 1999 to March 14, 2001. Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. was registered as a dealer from April 24, 1999 to March, 14, 2001 when its registration was revoked.

Ms. Dempsey testified that OMVIC did not know that Ahmad El Masri was an officer and director of Ultimate until a corporate search was done. They knew only that Mohamad El Masri was an officer and director of Ultimate.

Ms Dempsey was concerned by the application of Ahmad El Masri to be registered as a salesperson and of Formula Fine Cars Ltd. to be registered as a dealership.

Mr. El Masri stated on his application form that he has a valid driver's licence, but a criminal check showed that his driver's licence had been suspended. Ms. Dempsey stated that the print out of the history of his driver's licence shows he has had four suspensions, nine convictions and one collision since he was first licensed on September 4, 1996. In the opinion of Ms. Dempsey, a registrant needs a valid driver's licence because the auction houses require it. As well, a registrant must be able to insure dealer plates.

Ms. Dempsey stated that on May 10, 2000 she and Brad Bond attended at the offices of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. At that time Ahmad El Masri provided them with the garage registry. He also informed them that his brother Mohamad El Masri was buying and selling cars although Mohamad at that time was not registered as a motor vehicle salesperson. Ahmad El Masri did not have access to the dealership's books and records so a notice was left for another appointment. As well, Ms. Dempsey informed Ahmad El Masri that the books and records must be kept at the offices of the dealership. Brad Bond did the follow up appointment on May 16, 2000.

On December 11, 2000, Brad Bond inspected Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. and found some records were missing.

On February 1, 2001 Ms. Dempsey visited Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. with Ms. Cini. Ahmad El Masri was there. He told her that she and Ms. Cini could not see the books and records. He was angry that they had come on this inspection. He said he had filed a complaint about another dealer, but OMVIC had done nothing. He wanted appointments to be booked ahead. He said the books and records were there but were locked in a cabinet.

Ms. Dempsey testified that she made another appointment for the next day, February 2, 2001 at 11:00 a.m. When she and Ms. Cini attended that day, only Ahmad El Masri was present. He said Mohamad would not be coming in, and he did not have the key to open the cabinet.

Ms. Dempsey stated that under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act inspectors need free access to the books and records to check on the conduct of the business. The ability to do a spot check is an important inspection tool. In the case of Ultimate Fine Auto Inc., however, appointments had to be booked in advance to ensure that the books and records were there. It would take numerous appointments to see the books and records.

Ms. Dempsey reviewed a number of the documents entered as exhibits. Tab 17 of Exhibit 3 is the bill of sale dated October 19, 2000 from Toronto Auto Auctions to Ultimate Fine Auto Inc. of the Eagle motor vehicle with an odometer reading of 261,154 km. It had the signature of Ahmad El Masri. But the wholesale bill of sale from Ultimate to London Dega Wheel on November 18, 2000 had an odometer reading of 142,000 km. It also had the signature of Ahmad El Masri. Under Regulation 801 section 19, the dealer is required to give disclosure and keep repair invoices. Here, the dealer should have put TMU 261,000 for the Eagle motor vehicle. The Registrar wants full disclosure of the last known mileage on the odometer, and if the odometer is repaired, the previous reading and the new reading. This information is important as it affects the value of the car and its safety.

Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. bought the 1994 Honda Accord at Impact Auto Auctions, which sold it on behalf of Personal Direct Insurance. The retail bill of sale by Ultimate to Mr. Wells does not say it was an insurance write off. Nor does it give any particulars on damage to the vehicle except saying "as is condition and appearance". Ms. Dempsey stated that the Registrar requires all material facts be disclosed. As well, she testified that the terms and conditions of registration for Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. required that they disclose all material facts.

Under cross-examination, Ms. Dempsey stated that she never received Mohamad El Masri's voice mail message but that Mr. El Masri's voice mail message was left on the voice mail of a Brenda Lacroix. Ms. Dempsey stated that she never scheduled a further appointment with Ultimate as the file went to a liaison committee for further review.

Ms. Dempsey stated that Mohamad El Masri being ill was not unreasonable but that some arrangements could have been made for him to give the cabinet key to Ahmad El Masri, particularly as they both lived at the same address.

She recalled that on February 1st Ahmad El Masri was quite angry with them and said he was refusing to let them look at the books and records. She could not think of anything that she or Ms. Cini had said or done which would have provoked this kind of a reaction.

In the past, the inspectors have only seen Ultimate's books and records when an appointment has been scheduled, and she recalled that on May 23, 2000 the inspector did see the books and records of Ultimate.

Ms. Dempsey stated that she was not aware of any dealers operating without a driver's licence. She does know that the franchise dealers require all staff to have valid driver's licences.

Ms. Dempsey agreed that when filling out his application which was submitted on May 1, 2001, Ahmad El Masri would not have had knowledge of the current suspension of his licence as the offence notice is dated May 12, 2001.

Ms. Dempsey felt that the word TMU written on the bill of sale to Mr. Safaei referred to the Oldsmobile only, as it was not written beside the 142, 000 km for the Eagle.

Ms. Dempsey stated that written disclosure is best as it avoids any issue of credibility which may arise with verbal disclosure. She agreed that the document from Impact Auto Auctions says the 1994 Honda Accord is not branded, but branding is a voluntary action by insurance companies. Ms. Dempsey felt that Ahmad El Masri should have considered the price of the car and should have made full disclosure about the car when selling it to a consumer.

Testimony of Ahmad El Masri:

Mr. Ahmad El Masri testified that he is 21 years of age. He is originally from Syria, and he has lived in Canada since 1990. He completed his high school education and worked as a car detailer and a clerk prior to working for his brother Mohammad at Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. Ahmad El Masri filed a registration form to be a dealer under the name of Formula Fine Cars Ltd. Formula was incorporated on April 6, 2001 with Ahmad El Masri as its sole officer and director and shareholder. Ahmad also applied for registration as a salesperson with Formula Fine Cars Ltd.

Mr. El Masri stated that he had no involvement in setting up Ultimate and was not aware until after March 14, 2001 that he had been a director and officer of that corporation. Despite his statements in page 3A of his application for registration as a salesperson (Tab 2 of Exhibit 4), he stated he had not been aware that he was the Secretary of Ultimate until after the revocation of registration of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. He did not know until September 19, 2001 that the Secretary of a corporation is responsible for the paperwork.

Mr. El Masri testified that he bought and sold cars for Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. and that his brother Mohamad also bought cars. He stated that he had no management responsibilities for Ultimate. He did have signing authority on the bank account of Ultimate. If he was purchasing a car worth more than $3000.00, he would discuss the purchase with Mohamad. He stated that Mohamad controlled the business records, that all records were locked in a cabinet and that Mohamad had the key to that cabinet.

Ahmad El Masri testified that the registration of Ultimate Fins Autos Inc. was revoked due to lack of inspection of the records.

Ahmad El Masri stated that true mileage unknown applies to both the Eagle and the Oldsmobile. The words "broken not working" applies to the Oldsmobile only. The repair bill to replace the odometer on the Eagle (Exhibit 6) shows the reading as 261,254 km. That bill was given to Mr. Safaei. Mr. El Masri stated that he got a call from London Deal a Wheel stating that the auction house told them there was a problem with the Eagle burning oil and the auction house wanted London Deal a Wheel to buy back the car. Ahmad El Masri stated that he was worried that the auction house would just take the car so he put a lien against the car to prevent that. He eventually paid London Deal a Wheel for the cost of the car and the arbitration fee. In light of these experiences, Ahmad El Masri now feels he would put on the bill of sale that the mileage was 261,000 but that the new odometer shows 142,000. He stated that tab 18 exhibit 4, the retail bill of sale to Dookeran, shows his new approach as it states very clearly true mileage unknown and the kilometres as 270,000.

Ahmad El Masri testified that he does not know what Mr. Safaei was speaking of regarding a former partner named Hasfar. He does not know such a person.

Regarding the 1994 Honda Accord sold to Neil Wells, Mr. Ahmad El Masri stated that the car had been involved in a fender bender with repairs required to the driver's side fender, the headlight and the left hub cap. Mr. Wells first spoke to Mohamad El Masri and then to him, and Ahmad El Masri wrote up the bill of sale. There was no representations to Mr. Wells about the car, and Mr. Wells did not ask him if the vehicle had been in an accident. The safety inspection of the car was done by Des Mathews. Ahmad El Masri stated that now he knows that whether or not the car is branded, he should disclose all information about the accident. He stated that it is his knowledge that all cars with airbags have computers and if the airbag is deployed the computer ensures that the car will not start. He drove it himself to the repair shop.

Regarding the inspection reports by OMVIC, Ahmad El Masri stated he did not sign the Inspection Findings report dated May 10, 2000, but he signed the ones dated December 11, 2000 and February 1, 2001. He remembers Brad Bond coming to Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. about two times per month. He said that Mr. Bond would call to make an appointment.

Regarding the comments by Ms. Cini and Ms Dempsey on the February 1, 2001 inspection, Ahmad El Masri stated that he had not been angry but that he had two customers waiting. He does not remember telling Mohamad that OMVIC was coming back to the dealership on February 2nd. He was not at home the night of February 1st.

Mr. El Masri stated that he has not driven since being told on May 11, 2001 that his licence was suspended. Also, he stated that he would fight the red light charge in court in November, 2001. He said he would get his father, who is retired to, drive the cars to the mechanic and would hire a salesperson to do the test drives. He had a quote of $387.00 per month for insurance for Formula from Brookman Associates. He had a vendor's permit for Formula Fine Cars Ltd. at 129 Exeter Road, and he has been paying the rent on that location.

Mr. El Masri felt he and his brother Mohamad were treated differently by OMVIC due to cultural reasons. He thought it was unfair to have had his salesperson's registration revoked when the registration of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. was revoked. Ahmad said he had the experience to operate his own dealership, would hire an accountant, and, if necessary, submit his records to OMVIC on a weekly basis.

Under cross-examination, Ahmad El Masri stated that he found out about the suspension of his licence on May 12, 2001 when he was given the offence notice. He had not been informed prior to that time. He did not know that the suspension had commenced as of September 13, 2000.

He stated that he had cooperated with OMVIC. His corporate lawyer had sent a letter regarding his licence suspension. He had gone to the London police to get the criminal record certificate after having a discussion with Mary Jane South of OMVIC.

Regarding his salesperson application of 1999, Ahmad El Masri stated that the form was completed by his corporate lawyer who asked him if he had any criminal record, to which he had said no. Mr. El Masri did not realize that the form was asking about charges, as there was an outstanding charge for assault at that time. Mr. El Masri stated that he accepted responsibility for that error.

Ahmad El Masri agreed that he did the majority of the buying and selling at Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. He had signing authority at the dealership for the banking. He agreed that he had sole authority up to $3000.00 and then he would discuss a purchase with his brother. He stated that he did not know he was an officer and director of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc., but he only thought he was a salesperson. He acknowledged that his statement to OMVIC when applying in May, 2001 said that he had assisted the company in the positions of Secretary/Treasurer. He could not remember his brother Mohamad telling him three months after Ultimate was incorporated that he was the Secretary of the corporation. He stated that Mohamad did all of the paperwork for the corporation.

Regarding his licence suspensions, Ahmad El Masri testified that he knew of the first suspension and ultimately knew of the third suspension. He has had three suspensions. He did not know of one suspension and continued to drive after July, 2000. He has at least eight convictions.

Not having a driver's licence, he will get help from his father and hire a salesperson. He said that he pays $1500.00 plus GST for rent for the dealership's location, and has about $42,000.00 as capital for his corporation.

To determine the condition of a car, Ahmad El Masri testified that he looks at the car himself and asks about it from the seller.

Ahmad El Masri disagreed with the testimony of Mr. Safaei that Ahmad did not provide disclosure on the mileage of the Eagle. He supplied Mr. Safaei with a copy of the bill to replace the odometer via the fax. He did not know that the Regulations provide that when he replaced an odometer he must put on the bill of sale the last known highest reading.

He also disagreed that he said someone else put the lien on the Eagle. He placed the lien even though he had no property interest in the Eagle at that time because he was afraid the car would be lost to the auction house. That did happen, as was shown in the history of the Eagle. Ahmad El Masri later transferred the car to Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. and sold it to a consumer. He provided full disclosure of 270,000 km on that bill of sale. Ahmad El Masri said it took 2 or 3 weeks to get rid of the lien on the car after that sale, but the lien was definitely off by September, 2001.

Ahmad El Masri disagreed with the testimony of Mr. Wells that Mr. Wells had asked if the car was in an accident. He stated that he thought he did not have to make disclosure if the car was not branded. Though Mr. Wells was concerned about the air bag light, Mr. El Masri thought the light would come on for the 120,000 km service because he knows that dealers will service air bags at a certain mileage. He himself had an accident where his airbags were deployed. When shown Exhibit 8, which is a letter from Honda stating that having the air bags deployed does not mean the car will not work, Mr. El Masri stated he was not a mechanic.

Ahmad El Masri stated that he had not signed the inspection findings report of May 10, 2000. He signed for the February 1, 2001 inspection. He thought he had told his brother about OMVIC, but he did not get the keys from him at that time.

Ahmad El Masri stated that both he and his brother are registered to buy cars at Impact Auto. He does not recall doing any of the paperwork required by Impact. He felt some cars at Impact Auto were on consignment.

Testimony of Najib Haymour:

Mr. Haymour is 35 years of age and owns his own business, an auto mechanic repair shop. He has had his business for about 2 years. He has prior experience working at Shaw's Auto Recycling as a mechanic. He is a licensed mechanic.

Mr. Haymour did repairs on an Eagle Talon on October 21, 2000 at the request of Ultimate. Fine Autos Inc. The complaint was that the needle was shaking. He was given a replacement odometer by Ultimate. That replacement odometer had 140,000 km on it. A few weeks after doing this repair, he got a telephone call from someone at London Deal a Wheel who asked if he had replaced an odometer. He said yes. There was no discussion of the reading of the odometer.

Testimony of Desmond Matthews:

Mr. Matthews is a licensed mechanic. He has had his own business, the Matthews Auto repair shop, for the past eight years. He was trained in Ireland and worked as a mechanic for over twenty-five years.

Mr. Matthews did the safety check on the 1994 Honda Accord. He did not remember the car but did check his records. His records showed an inner fender cover missing. The driver's window was tight and work was needed on the right CV boot on axle. This work was not required under the safety inspection. He did fix the right tie rod and installed the fender cover. He passed the rotors and drums.

His procedure is to test drive a vehicle, then put it on the hoist. He would check the lights and the framework. If the car had been welded and the welding was done properly, he would not have made a note of it. He only made notes if something was not right. He ensured the emergency brake was working, checked the tires and wheels and took measurements of the brakes and rotors. He would look at the ball joints which are difficult to measure in a Honda. He checks the power steering, looks at the seals on the wheel rear cylinders and the muffler. Not all oil leaks in cars are safety related. He does not check the air bags but does check the seat belts. If the air bag light was on, he usually would mark that down.

Mr. Matthews stated that after a car's air bag has been deployed, although the air bag pulls off part of the steering wheel, the vehicle can still be driven.

Under cross-examination, Mr. Matthews stated that the safety inspection contained the minimal requirements for a vehicle to be on the road. A car in a major accident could be repaired and then a safety inspection certificate could be obtained.

Mr. Matthews felt that if the inner fender cover was off, there must have been some bodywork done. He said that the repair to the left outer tie rod of the 1994 Honda Accord could be for wear and tear, although that is not normal for a 1994 car, or moisture damaged. Also, the driver's window could have problems due to an accident or if the car had not been used for a period of time.

Testimony of Christna Dookeren:

Mr. Dookeren is 43 years of age with a family. He bought the Eagle motor vehicle from Ahmad El Masri at Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. on January 5, 2001. His signature is on the retail bill of sale and his initials are on the conditions of sale and the optional equipment areas of that bill of sale. Mr. Dookeren did not remember seeing the information on the bill of sale under optional equipment as to mileage unknown. When he bought the car, he thought the mileage was that on the odometer, that being 140,000 km. After about one week of driving the car, the motor went on it. Ahmad El Masri said he could not help him.

Some months later, Mr. Dookeren went to his bank and was told there was a lien on the car which had been put on prior to its sale to him. He had not known of this lien.

Mr. Dookeren felt he had not been dealt with in an honest fashion by Ahmad and Ultimate. He would not have paid $3450.00 for the car if he knew the mileage was 270,000 km.

Under cross-examination, Mr. Dookeren stated he could not find the original invoice for the car. He did not know what TMU meant. When he bought the car, he was most interested in the price, and he remembered the comment on the car being "as is". He signed the bill of sale and initialed it in the places he was told to by Ahmad El Masri.

Testimony of Brad Bond:

Mr. Bond is 30 years of age with a family. At the time of this hearing, he was employed by a company other than OMVIC. However, he had been an inspector for OMVIC and had inspected Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. He went with Amanda Dempsey who was training him. He was at the inspection of May 10, 2000, and he took notes. He saw Ahmad El Masri sign the inspection findings form for May 10, 2000.

When he would go to Ultimate Fine Autos Inc., he would telephone to ensure they would have the books and records there. It was his practice to complete his notes immediately after he did an inspection.

Mr. Bond stated that he went to Ultimate on December 11, 2000 after receiving a complaint from Mr. Safaei at London Wheel a Deal. He asked Ahmad El Masri why there was a lien on the Eagle, and Mr. El Masri replied that he was afraid the auction house was going to sell the car.

Mr. Bond stated that he would normally only visit a dealer once in an eight month period unless there were problems. He was assigned to the London/Windsor/Sarnia area.

Mr. Bond said that there being no books and records available of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. on May 10th, and he went back on May 16th. He went back on another occasion as there had been some errors on bills of sale, wrong use of TMU and some items missing from the garage register. He remembered that Ultimate used TMU for other cars besides the Eagle. He remembered that in December 2000, the records were disorganized, but they were at the dealership.

Mr. Bond remembered Ahmad El Masri signing the May 10, 2000 inspection findings report. He recalled that Ahmad had several different signatures, and he would sign his name differently on the bills of sale.

Submissions:

By the Registrar:

Counsel for the Registrar stated that the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act is a public protection statute. It deals with past conduct which must be in accordance with law, honesty, and integrity. In reviewing an application for registration, the Registrar must consider all relevant evidence.

The Registrar wished to refuse the applications on four basis:

- 1) the applicants misrepresented the true kilometres travelled to consumers
- 2) there has been no fair and full disclosure to consumers
- 3) the Applicant Ahmad El Masri did not provide full access to the books and records when he was a salesperson, officer and director of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc.
- 4) there has been disregard for the law

On the issue of misrepresentation of the kilometres on the odometers, OMVIC got involved due to the complaints of consumers. Mr. Safaei of London Wheel a Deal stated he did not know the kilometres for the Eagle other than that provided on the bill of sale. That bill of sale stated the kilometers for the Eagle were 142,000, when in fact, they were over 162,000. The bill of sale document is consistent with Mr. Safei's testimony as TMU is only written beside the Oldsmobile.

The Applicant has stated that he provided Mr. Safaei with a copy of the repair bill for the odometer, but this was never put to Mr. Safaei in his testimony.

The Applicant did not comply with Regulation 801 section 19(2) which states that the dealer shall record the former kilometres on the old odometer and the new kilometres on the new odometer.

Despite the position of the Applicant that he made disclosure to Mr. Dookeren, there is the testimony of Mr. Dookeren that the disclosure was not put on his invoice.

Counsel relied on 1280953 Ontario Limited O/A Morato Cars and Radomir Miljkovic, a decision the Tribunal released June, 2001. This was a case where the applicants bought cars at auction with odometer readings or TMU and sold them without disclosing the true odometer readings or saying the odometer readings were unknown. As well, the applicants in that case bought branded cars at Impact Auto Auctions and sold them without full disclosure to the consumer. The registrations were revoked.

Regarding the non disclosure of material facts, Mr. Wells was not told of the true condition of his motor vehicle and subsequently he had problems. The evidence of Mr. Wells is not inconsistent with that of Mr. Matthews as the safety inspection is minimal in its standards. Mr. Matthews said he would not have noticed the frame repairs if done properly.

Counsel for the Registrar submitted that the bill of sale to Mr. Wells did not adequately disclose the problems with the car. Both Ahmad and Mohamad El Masri testified that they knew the car had been in an accident but neither told Mr. Wells, although he had asked both of them. Ahmad El Masri testified that he did not know he had to disclose if the car was in a minor accident. Again counsel relied on the Morato decision. Though this car was not branded, Ms. Dempsey testified that branding is a voluntary program by insurance companies. Here, the purchase of the Accord had an adverse economic impact on Mr. Wells. Also, there is a safety issue, as Mr. Wells has stated that he does not trust the car.

Regarding the issue of books and records, Regulation 801 sections 9,10,11,15 speak of access to books and records of dealers. OMVIC needs to have such access in order to protect the consumer. Ahmad El Masri testified that he did not know he was an officer and director of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. But when he applied in May, 2001 to be a salesperson, he stated he did know and did some of those responsibilities. His brother stated that Ahmad El Masri knew this about three months after the company was incorporated.

Ms. Cini and Ms. Dempsey testified that Ahmad El Masri refused to provide them with access to the dealer's books and records. Yet, when given an extra day to obtain that access, Ahmad El Masri does not tell his brother nor get the key to the cabinet from his brother.

Mr. Bond and Ms. Dempsey state it is the signature of Ahmad on the May 10th Inspection Findings Report document. Even his brother, when looking at the wrong tab, identified the signature as being that of Ahmad El Masri.

Ahmad El Masri said he had no control of the books and records, yet he did most of the buying and selling of cars and had signing authority on the bank account. He had authority to buy cars up to $3000.00 in value before conferring with his brother. Ahmad El Masri was a controlling mind of the dealership.

As to disregard for the law, Ahmad El Masri put a lien on the Eagle motor vehicle when he did not own the vehicle and when he had no property interest in that car. Even after the car was sold to Mr. Dookeren, the lien remained on the vehicle, and Mr. Dookeren was told this by his bank. This violates the Sale of Goods Act.

The driving record of Ahmad El Masri shows further disregard for the law. Although Ahmad El Masri was not aware of the suspension when he first sent in his application in early May, 2001, he should have told the Registrar once he knew this, when he got his Notice of Offence on May 12, 2001. The driving record itself shows a disregard for the law with eight convictions since 1996 and four suspensions. The violations were not all minor ones and included fail to yield, fail to remain, unauthorized plate, and fail to stop at intersection. His licence is currently under suspension so there is nothing to show that his driving record has improved.

There is an impact on his ability to run a dealership without having a valid driver's licence. The Applicant spoke of having help from his father who did not testify. He spoke of hiring a salesperson but did not show his financial plan for that.

Counsel for the Registrar submitted that where the testimony of the witnesses and that of Mr. Ahmad El Masri differ, the Tribunal should prefer that of the witnesses. Mr. Ahmad El Masri's testimony, counsel submitted, has been inconsistent.

Counsel referred to the Brenner v Ontario (Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers and Salesmen) (1983) O.J.No. 1017. In that case the Ontario Supreme Court held that the test was a reasonable one and that the Tribunal before finding against the Registrar must find that the Registrar was wrong in his reasons for refusal of the registration.

By Counsel for the Applicants:

Counsel for the Applicants submitted that Mr. Ahmad El Masri has prior experience as a salesperson. He is experienced in buying and selling cars and is ready to operate his own used car dealership.

The Proposal deals with the financial responsibility of the Applicants in the conduct of business and that the past conduct of the Applicants shows them unable to carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

Here, the Applicant Ahmad El Masri has testified that he has over $40,000.00 to use as capital for his dealership. This test deals with the financial position of the Applicants and their financial responsibilities. It is submitted there is no evidence under section 5(1)(a) of the Act.

Regarding the past conduct, it is the position of the Applicants that Mr. Ahmad El Masri did not show an inability to carry on business with honesty and integrity. At worst he showed some carelessness.

Regarding the issue of disregard to the law, the driving record of the Applicant is indicative of him obeying the rules as the block of offences are not recent. Most of the offences occurred in 1998. He has grown up since then and shows more responsibility.

Regarding the odometer of the Eagle motor vehicle, the issue is whether Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. told London Wheel a Deal of the odometer being replaced. It was replaced on October 21, 2000, and it is the testimony of Mr. Ahmad El Masri that he verbally and by paper told London Wheel a Deal of that. The bill of sale states true mileage unknown and it refers to both cars, according to the testimony of Ahmad El Masri and his brother. Also, there is the evidence of Mr. Matthews that some weeks after replacing the odometer in the Eagle, he received a telephone call from someone at London Wheel a Deal, and he told them of the replacement. London Wheel a Deal was told verbally, got a repair bill with the mileage on it and spoke to the mechanic who replaced the odometer.

The lien on the Eagle motor vehicle was done at a time when Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. had a beneficial interest on the car as they had agreed to provide a full refund. They were concerned that the auction house would sell the car. The history on the Eagle shows that as of December 1, 2000 the auction house was the owner of the car. This was a way by which Ultimate could enforce its rights. Subsequently, Ultimate sold the Eagle to Mr. Dookeren on January 5, 2001. Mr. Ahmad El Masri says he told Mr. Dookeren about the TMU and there are the purchaser's initials beside TMU. Mr. Dookeren's signature is under the comments on the mileage of this car. Although Mr. Dookeren denies the comments were there, he has not supplied the Tribunal with a copy of his invoice. This is a question of credibility and the purchaser has been fully appraised of the mileage issue. The lien remaining on the Eagle was an oversight by Ultimate and it was taken off. That is an issue of carelessness not dishonesty.

Regarding the Honda Accord motor vehicle, Ahmad El Masri knew the car had been in a minor accident. He drove it to the repair shop. The vehicle was not branded. Mr. Ahmad El Masri was not aware that branding was a voluntary practice and thought that if the car had been in a serious accident, it would be branded. The vehicle was certified by Mr. Matthew and got its safety certificate. The vehicle was sold "as is", and Mr. Wells could have done his own inspection. It is the position of Mr. Ahmad El Masri that some vehicles bought at Impact Auto come from other dealers and are not in serious accidents. Counsel submitted that there is only hearsay evidence that the frame has been welded and the air bags deployed. No one was called to give evidence from London Honda. Even with this, Mr. Ahmad El Masri offered a refund but that offer was rejected. Although Mr. Ahmad El Masri did not know then that he should disclose the history of a vehicle, he would do so now.

Regarding the books and records, Mr. Ahmad El Masri was not in control of them at Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. He did not have access to the key to the cabinet. Although he was the secretary of the corporation, that was a fact in title only.

Regarding the February inspections, Ahmad El Masri felt he had informed his brother of the matter. His brother was to contact Ms. Dempsey. If they had scheduled an appointment, the books and records would be provided.

Counsel submitted that the defects do not justify the penalty of having the registrations revoked. There should be some middle ground.

Counsel referred to the cases cited by counsel for the Registrar.

In Brenner the court held there could be “no other conclusion”. However, in this case there are facts which justify a result other than the revocation of registration.

In the Morato Cars case the applicants had tampered with five vehicles and failed to disclose on a further five vehicles. They had altered records and had criminal convictions. There the dealer was not suitable, and his conduct went beyond carelessness. Here, there is one allegation of odometer non disclosure and one of non disclosure of a vehicle being in an accident. Here, Mr. Ahmad El Masri has provided reasonable explanations. If necessary, conditions could be put on the registrations.

Counsel referred to Shahidi (c.o.b GTA Auto) (re) (2000) O.L.A.T.D.no.278 whereby the Tribunal spoke of the balancing of entitlement to registration with the protection of the consumer. There, the Tribunal permitted the registration upon conditions.

In Shine Cars Sales Inc (Re) (2001) O.L.A.T.D.No. 286 the dealer was convicted of two provincial offences of odometer tampering, and the Tribunal permitted registration upon conditions.

Counsel submitted that this is a case whereby conditions should be imposed. The Applicants did not intend to deceive the public and should at best be given a warning, not a revocation.

Reply by Registrar:

The civil standard of balance of probabilities is the standard for these cases. It is the position of the Registrar that the allegations have been proven on this basis.

The cases relied upon by counsel for the Applicants dealt with revocations. Here, this is the case of a refusal. Statutory entitlement differs between refusals and revocations. There is a higher standard of entitlement for revocation than for refusals.

Counsel submitted that motor vehicle sales is a regulated industry and one cannot ignore the Act or its Regulations and operate in a vacuum.

One cannot put a lien based on a beneficial interest. The PPSA and the Sale of Goods Act are based on legal interests.

Counsel relied upon K.W.Used Car Sales Ltd. and Krzystof Wawryka v Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act LAT decision July, 2001. There the Tribunal revoked the registration. The Tribunal stated on page 16,

“A motor vehicle dealer or salesperson deals with members of the public who are purchasing products of substantial value. Customers depend on the motor vehicle dealer or salesperson not to withhold material information that would affect the value or quality of the vehicles . A dealer or salesperson who withholds material information about a motor vehicle that is crucial to potential purchasers is not conducting business with honesty and integrity.”

Counsel submitted that the testimony of the consumers in this case reflects that they feel they have not been given the information to allow them to determine the proper price or whether or not to purchase the vehicle.

LEGISLATION:

The relevant legislation is the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act:

Section 5(1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,

- (a) having regard to the financial position of the applicant, the applicant cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of the business: or
- (b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty; or
- (c) the applicant is a corporation and,
 - (i) having regard to its financial position, it cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of its business, or
 - (ii) the past conduct of its officers or directors affords reasonable grounds for belief that its business will not be carried on in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty; or
 - (iii) the applicant is carrying on activities that are, or will be, if the applicant is registered, in contravention of this Act or the regulations.

(2) A registration is subject to such terms and conditions to give effect to the purposes of this Act as are consented to by the applicant, imposed by the Tribunal or prescribed by the regulations.

.....

Section 7 (4) Where an applicant or registrant requires a hearing by the Tribunal in accordance with subsection (2), the Tribunal shall appoint a time for and hold the hearing and, on the application of the Registrar at the hearing, may by order direct the Registrar to carry out the Registrar's proposal or refrain from carrying it out and to take such action as the Tribunal considers the Registrar ought to take in accordance with this Act and the regulations, and for such purposes the Tribunal may substitute its opinion for that of the Registrar.

(5) The Tribunal may attach such terms and conditions to its order or to the registration as it considers proper to give effect to the purposes of this Act.

Section 10(1) The Registrar or any person designated by him or her in writing may at any reasonable time enter upon the business premises of the registrant to make an inspection to ensure that the provisions of this Act and the regulations relating to registration and the maintenance of trust accounts are being complied with.

.....

Section 11 (1) Upon an inspection under section 9 or 10, the person inspecting,

(a) is entitled to free access to all books of account, cash, documents, bank accounts, vouchers, correspondence and records of the person being inspected that are relevant for the purposes of the inspection; and

Regulation 801

Section 16(2) Where a used motor vehicle is sold, the sales or purchase order shall show,

.....

(o) the distance travelled by the vehicle at the time of sale,

.....

Section 19(1) Except in the case of an exchange or repair of an odometer and subject to subsection (2), no motor vehicle dealer or salesperson shall alter, adjust or permit any alteration or adjustment to the odometer on any motor vehicle in the dealer's or salesperson's possession or control in such a manner that as a result of the alteration or adjustment the total distance indicated on the odometer is other than the total distance travelled by the motor vehicle.

(2) Where a motor vehicle dealer exchanges an odometer or effects any repairs to the odometer of a motor vehicle in the dealer's possession or control or to any other part of the motor vehicle that is directly related to the odometer, the dealer shall record in the reconditioning record of that motor vehicle the reading in miles or kilometres that was on the odometer prior to the exchange or repair and shall ensure that the identical reading appears on the odometer of the motor vehicle after the exchanges or repairs have been effected.

ANALYSIS:

This case involves the refusal of the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, to register Ahmad El Masri as a salesperson and Formula Fine Cars Ltd. as a dealership under the Act.

As stated in the Brenner case, the Tribunal cannot substitute its opinion for that of the Registrar unless the Tribunal feels that the Registrar did not have reasonable grounds under section 5 of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act to refuse to register the Applicants.

In considering the matter, the Tribunal can have regard to the evidence that was before the Registrar as well as that presented at the hearing. The Tribunal needs to look at the cumulative effect of this evidence in arriving at its decision. The standard of proof in these cases is the civil one, on a balance of probabilities.

There is case law which has distinguished between a refusal to register and the revocation of registration. The courts have held that it is more difficult to revoke a registration, an existing right, than it is to refuse a registration, a future privilege. There is a slightly greater burden on the revocation than on the refusal. The Tribunal agrees that there is a higher degree of onus when one takes away the right to earn one's livelihood in a regulated industry than when one does not permit someone commence work in a regulated industry.

The Motor Vehicle Dealers Act protects the consumer while providing regulatory criteria for those who wish to work within the motor vehicle industry. The Registrar and the Tribunal must consider the balancing of the ability to work within a regulated industry with the protection of those purchasing vehicles.

The Registrar has stated four reasons why he feels it is reasonable to refuse the registration of the Applicants: 1. Misrepresentation of mileage; 2. Failure to make full disclosure; 3. Not providing full access to books and records; 4. Disregard for the law. The Tribunal will review all of these reasons.

1. Misrepresentation of mileage:

The Registrar is concerned with the purchase of a 1991 Eagle Talon by London Wheel a Deal. The bill of sale listed both the Eagle and a 1992 Oldsmobile. The initials, TMU, appear beside the mileage of the Oldsmobile but not by the mileage of the Eagle. The Applicant Ahmad El Masri testified that the words written on the bill of sale “sold true mileage unknown broken not working (oldsmobile only)” apply as to the mileage comment to both vehicles and as to the broken comment to the oldsmobile.

The Tribunal disagrees with this characterization of the bill. The initials TMU are deliberately put beside the Oldsmobile. There was no need to put those initials beside the Oldsmobile if the words “true mileage unknown” as written were to apply to both vehicles. The mileage listed on the bill of sale for the Eagle is wrong. The 142,000 km was the mileage for the replacement odometer. The bill of sale from Toronto Auto Auctions shows the mileage as 261,154 km.

The Applicant Ahmad El Masri stated that he verbally told London Wheel a Deal of the correct mileage of the Eagle, that a copy of the repair bill for the replacement of the odometer has the true mileage listed on it, and that this repair bill was faxed to London Wheel a Deal. But no copy of the fax was produced at the hearing nor was this matter put to Mr. Safaei, owner of London Wheel a Deal, at his testimony at the hearing. Where there is a conflict between the testimony of either Mohamad or Ahmad El Masri and Mr. Safaei the Tribunal finds the evidence of Mr. Safaei to be more credible.

The Tribunal finds that Mohamad and Ahmad El Masri misrepresented to Mr. Safaei the mileage on the Eagle. It was only due to the dissatisfaction of a potential buyer of the vehicle that this discrepancy came to the attention of Mr. Safaei.

The evidence of Mr. Dookeren is not as compelling on this point. Though Mr. Dookeren stated that his copy of the bill of sale did not contain disclosure of the true mileage of the Eagle, he could not produce that copy at the hearing. He had initialed the bill of sale in several places. Without the disclosure being on the bill of sale, there would have been no purpose in putting his initials in those places. His evidence is of more value when considering the issue of disclosure.

2. Lack of full disclosure:

The Registrar states that Mohamad and Ahmad El Masri did not disclose to Mr. Wells that his vehicle had been in an accident and that failure to do so is a material misrepresentation. The Applicants hold that Mr. Wells bought his car “as is” and that his car came with a safety certificate. The car was not branded. It is still a voluntary process for insurance companies to brand such vehicles.

It would have been helpful to have heard the testimony from the repairman at London Honda as to his/her observations of the condition of this Honda Accord. The evidence of Mr. Wells on this point is hearsay and though the Tribunal can accept hearsay evidence, the weight to be given to the evidence of Mr. Wells on this matter is not great.

The safety certificate does not certify that the vehicle can be driven. It only certifies that certain pieces of equipment on the vehicle are working. The Tribunal accepts the evidence of Mr. Matthews that he did a proper safety check of the vehicle before issuing the safety certificate.

The evidence of Mr. Wells by itself is not sufficient to show a failure of full disclosure. But one needs to consider Mr. Wells evidence with that of Mr. Dookeren. Mr. Dookeren bought the Eagle and never was told it had a large lien against it. It was only when he wished to have it refinanced that his bank informed him of the existence of this lien.

Counsel for the Applicants states that the failure to remove the lien was evidence of carelessness not dishonesty. The Tribunal disagrees with that characterization. The lien had been attached by Ahmad El Masri some months previous to the purchase by Mr. Dookeren of the Eagle. It would have been prominent in the memory of Ahmad El Masri. Though Mr. Dookeren bought the vehicle "as is" it is not an unfair assumption for a consumer to expect that when he purchases a car from a motor vehicle dealer the car will not have a previous lien by that dealer still attached to it.

The cumulative effect of the evidence of Mr. Wells and Mr. Dookeren leads the Tribunal to the conclusion that Ahmad El Masri did fail to disclose material facts to consumers.

3. Access to books and records:

The evidence adduced at the hearing shows that Mohamad and Ahmad El Masri were subject to a number of inspections during the short life of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. This dealership was registered less than two years. Throughout those two years Mohamad and Ahmad had problems providing the books and records at ad hoc appointments and the books and records still had deficiencies when viewed at arranged appointments. It is the evidence, accepted by this Tribunal, by Mr. Bond, Ms. Cini and Ms Dempsey that it took a number of inspections to obtain required information.

The Motor Vehicle Dealers Act and its regulations are clear that motor vehicle dealerships must maintain proper books and records and have them available so they can be inspected at will by the inspectors of OMVIC. The inspectors need not make an appointment. As Ms. Dempsey testified, it is necessary to have ad hoc appointments to be sure as to the true condition of books and records.

Ahmad El Masri is an officer and director of Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. He acknowledges that in his application to be registered as a salesperson for Formula Fine Cars Ltd. The Tribunal cannot understand why he did not have access to the books and records. Besides being an officer and director, he is the brother of Mohamad El Masri. They have testified that they worked closely together at the dealership, and it was evident that Mohamad trusted his brother in such vital responsibilities as being the main buyer and seller of the cars. It was Ahmad El Masri who had the full time responsibility at the dealership.

The Tribunal also cannot understand why Ahmad El Masri who lives at the same place as his brother, could not have obtained the key to the cabinet from Mohamad. Ahmad knew that Ms. Cini and Ms. Dempsey were making a return visit the next day. He had confirmation in writing. Yet he testified that he did not ask Mohamad for the key. The Tribunal finds the evidence of Ms. Dempsey and Ms. Cini credible. They both observed Ahmad El Masri to be angry that they had come to inspect the books and records. He stated that he did not want to provide them with the books and records. He was not cooperative with the inspectors at their visits in February.

The Tribunal finds that Ahmad El Masri did not provide access to the books and records of Ultimate Fine Cars Inc. as required by law.

4. Disregard for the law:

The Tribunal finds that the driving record of Ahmad El Masri shows a disregard for obeying the law. In less than five years Ahmad had accumulated four suspensions, and at least eight convictions. Currently his licence is under suspension. The Tribunal agrees with Ms. Dempsey that it would be extremely difficult for Ahmad El Masri to operate a dealership without a driver's licence. His plans to use his father or hire a salesperson are without corroboration.

The cumulative effect of Ahmad's driving record is that it shows a disrespect for the law. Another example of Ahmad's disregard for the law is the attachment of a large lien to a vehicle in which he had no proprietary interest at the time of the attachment. The Tribunal is concerned with the ability of Ahmad El Masri to work within the regulatory structure as set out in the legislation.

Counsel for the Applicants argued eloquently that the penalty of refusing to register the Applicants is disproportionate to their transgressions. The Tribunal is sensitive to the need to balance the desire to work in a regulated industry with the need to protect the public and provide the consumer with some assurances that those working in the industry are trustworthy.

The Tribunal finds in this case that the balance favours the protection of the car buying public. Ahmad El Masri through his past conduct has not demonstrated honesty, integrity and regard for the law. The Tribunal finds that the Registrar acted reasonably in refusing to register the individual and corporate Applicants. This is not an appropriate case to order terms and conditions on registration.

ORDER:

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it by Section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to carry out his Proposal dated May 25, 2001, to refuse to register Ahmad El Masri as a motor vehicle salesperson and to refuse to register Formula Fine Cars Ltd. as a motor vehicle dealer.

HEARING: November 26, 2001 and November 28, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") by Logathasan and Celia Tharmathurai (the "Applicants") from a written decision of the Ontario New Home Warranty Program (the "Program") set out in a decision letter dated June 22, 2001.

The Program's decision letter dealt with seven claims of the Applicants. At the commencement of the hearing the Applicants abandoned their appeal in regard to their third claim set out in the Program's decision letter. The hearing was accordingly confined to six claims all of which were denied by the Program. The six claims together with the Program's observations/comments and its reasons for denying these six claims are set out hereunder:

1. Claim: Coloured brick mortar not used – throughout house – Builder denies that coloured mortar was used.

Observations/Comments: Schedule “A” of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale (the APS) reads in part “1.....and coloured mortar throughout.” The vendor/builder claimed that the trade used a small amount of red tint in the mortar mix. The owners claims that the mortar does not have the same amount of tint as the mortar in another subdivision that was to be representative of their mortar.

Reasons: Pursuant to Section 13 of the Act there is no defect in work, material or violation of the Ontario Building Code. Pursuant to Section 19, Regulation 892 the builder did not substitute an item of lesser quality, the mortar used is not defective in any manner and you did not pay a premium for a certain colour of mortar. Notwithstanding that any claims exists, pursuant to Section 14 subsection (3) (b) of the Act you did not suffer any damages and are not entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund.

2. Claim: Shower head not properly installed – ensuite bath – Dissatisfied with Builder’s reply.

Observation/Comments: The shower stall is approximately 4 feet by 7 feet with 2 side walls intersected by an angled wall. The vendor/builder installed the shower head on the right hand wall. The owner wanted the shower head installed on the center (angled) wall. The APS does not specify the location of the shower head.

Reasons: Pursuant to Section 13 of the Act there is no defect in work, material or violation of the Ontario Building Code or any other warranty as prescribed by the Regulations. This matter is beyond the scope of warranty coverage. Notwithstanding that any claim exists, pursuant to Section 14 subsection (3) (b) of the Act, you did not suffer any damages and are not entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund.

4. Claim: Pre-cast stones are damaged – exterior – Builder said work is done. But still outstanding.

Observation/Comments: The owners reported to the vendor/builder that the pre-cast architectural stones on the exterior of the home were damaged. The manufacturer of the pre-cast carried out a repair to the stones that included sandblasting of the surface to blend the repaired areas with the existing. The surface of the pre-cast was dulled by the process when comparing similar pre-cast work on other homes in the sub division. ONHWP did not inspect the home before the repair work was carried out.

Reasons: Pursuant to Section 13 of the Act there is no defect in work, materials or violation of the Ontario Building Code. The pre-cast stone work is acceptable and to industry standard.

5. Claim: Plumbing was done outside of the wall – July 17/00 – Dinette/family room - Dissatisfied with builder’s reply.

Observations/Comments: The ABS plastic wastes and vents and the copper water supplies for the first and second floor plumbing fixtures are located within a series of bulkheads in the kitchen and dinette ceilings. The owners claim that the design of the bulkheads are different from similar houses in the sub division. The bulkheads are constructed in a workmanlike manner and are free of defects in material.

Reasons: Pursuant to Section 13 of the Act there is no defect in work, material or a violation of the Ontario Building Code. This complaint is of a design nature and beyond the scope of warranty coverage. Notwithstanding that any claim exists, pursuant to Section 14 subsection (3) (b) you did not suffer any damages and are not entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund.

6. Claim: Electrical box was installed in wrong side of house – exterior electric meter – Dissatisfied with builder's reply.

Observations/Comments: The exterior electrical service to the home is installed on the front wall of the home. The developer for the subdivision is responsible for the location of the municipal connection of the electrical service. The vendor/builder connects at the developer's location.

Reason: Pursuant to Section 13 of the Act there is no defect in work, material or a violation of the Ontario Building Code. This complaint is of a design nature and beyond the scope of warranty coverage. Notwithstanding that any claims exists, pursuant to Section 14 subsection (3) (b) you did not suffer any damages and are not entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund.

7. Claim: Only 2 foot gap entrance to the living room – July 17/00 – Living room- Dissatisfied with builder's reply.

Observations/Comments: The interior front entry to the home is one step lower than the surrounding floor area. When entering the home one can proceed to the east or west into living area or directly ahead into the laundry room. When one is within the home and wishes to proceed east to west or vice-versa the distance from the edge of the landing step to the laundry room wall is 24 & ½ inches wide.

Reasons: Pursuant to Section 13 of the Act there is no defect in work, material or a violation of the Ontario Building Code. This complaint is of a design nature and beyond the scope of warranty coverage. Notwithstanding that any claim exists, pursuant to Section 14 subsection (3) (b) you did not suffer any damages and are not entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund.

The Applicants appealed the decision of the Program to deny their claims and their appeal is based upon Section 14(1)(b) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act (the "Act") which reads as follows:

14.(1) Where,

.....

- (b) an owner has a cause of action against a vendor for damages resulting from a breach of warranty; or

.....
the person or owner is entitled to be paid out of the guarantee fund the amount of such damage subject to such limits as are fixed by the regulations.
.....

The Applicants and Rosehaven Homes Limited ("Rosehaven") entered into a written Agreement of Purchase and Sale in which Rosehaven agreed to sell to the Applicants certain lands situate in the City of Richmond Hill, Ontario and to erect thereon a residential dwelling (the "home") for an agreed price of $305,000.00. The date of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale was March 15, 1999 and the home was completed for possession on August 25, 1999.

Pursuant to the closing of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale and the Applicants taking possession of the home on August 25, 1999, the Applicants noted certain deficiencies and brought them to the notice of Rosehaven. The Applicants were not satisfied with Rosehaven's response regarding the deficiencies, and the Applicants accordingly enlisted the assistance of the Program and requested a conciliation inspection in an attempt to resolve the issues. The Program held the conciliation inspection at the home on January 26, 2001 and on January 31, 2001 issued its conciliation inspection report. That report dealt with nine complaints of the Applicants. The Program in its conciliation inspection report held that two of the Applicants' nine complaints were covered by warranty while the remaining seven were not. The Applicants, dissatisfied with the Program's conclusions in the conciliation inspection report, requested that the Program issue its formal decision letter. The Program accordingly issued its decision letter dated July 27, 2001. The Applicants having abandoned one of the issues when the appeal commenced, the hearing proceeded on the remaining six issues.

THE EVIDENCE:

The evidence in this matter was both oral and documentary.

The Applicants' evidence was the testimony of Logathsan Tharmathurai, ("Tharmathurai") the Program's evidence was the testimony of its warranty representative, Jim Fortune ("Fortune") and Rosehaven's evidence was the testimony of its construction manager, Michael Puzzolanti ("Puzzolanti").

A summary of the evidence follows.

ISSUE #1 – COLOUR OF BRICK MORTAR USED

At the commencement of his evidence, Tharmathurai produced a letter from Foley Restoration dated September 12, 2001 and tendered that letter as an exhibit. Tharmathurai advised the Tribunal he was not calling Mr. Foley the author of the letter to testify. Counsel for the Program and the Added Party objected to the letter's admissibility in the absence of testimony from Mr. Foley. After considering the submissions of the parties, the Tribunal, ruled that the letter was admissible under Section 15 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act R.S.O., and the Tribunal would give it the appropriate weight. (Exhibit 7)

Mr. Tharmathurai stated that he and his wife, Ms. Celia Tharmathurai, were shown a model home by Rosehaven prior to the sale being entered into (Exhibit 8). The mortar colour of the model shown to him (Exhibit 9) was not the colour of the mortar that he received on his home which he stated had no colour in it. Under cross-examination by counsel for the Program, Mr. Tharmathurai was referred to the Agreement of Purchase and Sale (Exhibit 1, Tab 2) and conceded that Schedule "A" to the agreement of purchase and sale stated "coloured mortar throughout" without specifying the colour of the mortar. Mr. Tharmathurai conceded that Schedule "X" to the Agreement of Purchase and Sale also contained clause 8 which states:

8. The Purchaser acknowledges that he has purchased the Dwelling on the basis of plans which he has viewed and not from a model. The Purchaser acknowledges that the model home, if any, are for display purposes only, and that same or all of the features contained therein may not be included in the Dwelling unless same is specifically provided for in any schedule forming part of this Agreement.

Mr. Fortune stated that he has been employed as a warranty representative by the Program since 1989 and has been conducting conciliation inspections since that date. Prior to joining the Program, he was a building inspector, and prior to that he had his own business doing home renovations.

Mr. Fortune went on to state that at the conciliation inspection, the Applicants told him that they were expecting a "redder colour similar to another subdivision". Fortune contended that there was no defect in the mortar as to work or materials and there was no violation of the Ontario Building Code. There was no question of a substitution pursuant to Regulation 892 as the Agreement of Purchase and Sale only stated "coloured mortar" was to be used and there was colour added to the mortar that was used on the Applicants' home. Mr. Fortune referred to Foley's restoration's letter of April 12, 2001 (Exhibit 7) where Mr. Foley stated that he explained to his client, the Applicant, "that there is a small amount of tint which has been added to the mortar".

Mr. Puzzolanti testified that he is employed as Construction Manager with Rosehaven and is responsible for construction operations at various sites where Rosehaven builds homes. Prior to holding his present position, he has been site superintendent at various subdivisions where Rosehaven has constructed homes. He has been a site superintendent for some eighteen years, and prior to that he had experience in masonry construction. He has attended numerous industry-related seminars and lectures.

Mr. Puzzolanti stated Rosehaven was not the developer of the subdivision upon which the Applicants' home was built. The developer was Rowena Developments, which had bought the raw land and had installed the infrastructure of the subdivision. Rowena had then sold serviced lots in the subdivision to three builders, one of which was Rosehaven.

Mr. Puzzolanti went on to refer to clause 3(a) of Schedule "X" to the Agreement of Purchase and Sale which reads:

The vendor will construct (if not already constructed) and complete upon the Property a dwelling (the "Dwelling") of the type hereinbefore indicated in accordance with the plans and specifications already examined by the Purchaser and filed or to be filed with and approved by the Municipality.

Mr. Puzzolanti referred to the ground floor and basement plans of the Applicants' home, which is referred to as the "Vienna" model. The plans are referenced in Schedule "X" to the Agreement of Purchase and Sale. (Exhibit 1, Tab 8, last 2 pages)

Mr. Puzzolanti stated that the Applicants could not have viewed a "Vienna" model prior to executing the Agreement of Purchase and Sale as there was then no model of a "Vienna" home that had been constructed. The first "Vienna" model home built by Rosehaven in the subdivision was the Applicants' home.

Mr. Puzzolanti, referred to claim 10 in Schedule "X" to the Agreement of Purchase and Sale which clause contained the following sentence:

There is no representation, warranty, collateral Agreement or condition affecting this Agreement or the Property, or supported hereby except as set forth herein in writing.

In dealing with the mortar colour, Mr. Puzzolanti stated that:

- die or colour pigmentation was added to the mortar by Rosehaven in all the homes that it built in the subdivision that required mortar colour;
- the amount of die or pigmentation in the mortar varied from home to home according to the shade or colour of the brick used in the home, with darker shade of brick having more die or pigmentation added while a lighter shade of brick required less;
- while no two mortars would be identical as to colour, all homes that required coloured mortar and received such coloured mortar; and
- the Applicants' home received mortar that contained die or pigmentation, which he confirmed when he reinspected the Applicants' home on November 24, 2001.

ISSUE # 2 – SHOWER HEAD

The evidence of Mr. Tharmathurai was that the shower head in the shower of a neighbour's home was in a more convenient location than in the Applicants' shower. He described the shower as being partly glass enclosed. Upon entering the shower cubicle one faces a wall directly ahead. Adjacent to this wall are two further angled walls. The shower head was placed, not on the centre wall, but on the adjacent left hand wall. The Applicants claimed this to be uncomfortable to use, and caused water to splash against the shower cubicle's glass door. Although there was no leakage of water due to the splashing of water on the door, the Applicants believe this may occur in the future. According to Tharmathurai, the position of the shower head is reflective of poor workmanship.

In his written report (Exhibit 7, page 1) Mr. Foley states that "the shower still functions properly, however, excessive water splashes onto the shower door and eventually could be the source of a water leak around the door itself". Mr. Foley continues that Mr. Tharmathurai "would like the shower head taps and spout moved to the centre wall" at an estimated cost of $1,000.00 plus G.S.T.

Under cross-examination by the Program's Counsel, Mr. Tharamthurai confirmed his original complaint addressed to Rosehaven, dated July 17, 2000 read:

Shower head was installed all the way to the left (see picture). It should have been installed in the middle of the shower. It is inconvenient while taking shower and the bathroom looks weird.

Under cross-examination by Counsel for the Program, Mr. Tharmathurai conceded that in his written complaint dated July 17, 2000 to Rosehaven (Exhibit 1, Tab 11) he made no mention of water leakage or splashing and merely stated that "it is inconvenient while taking shower and the bathroom looks weird". He did state that the shower head functions properly.

Mr. Fortune testified in regard to this issue that on the Applicants' written request form, his complaint was:

Shower head not properly installed.

Mr. Fortune also stated that when attending the conciliation inspection he observed no defect in workmanship and no damage due to the location of the shower head. At the time of the conciliation inspection no mention was made by Mr. Tharmathurai of water splashing on the door. Mr. Fortune contended further that there would be no discomfort in using the shower cubicle.

Mr. Puzzolanti testified that it was his responsibility to determine the location of the shower head. It was not referenced on the plans. Placing the shower head on a wall that is not directly opposite to the door would result in less water being splashed onto the glass shower door. He stated that where the shower head was placed on an adjacent wall is standard practice within the industry and that the majority of homes have their shower heads installed as it was installed in the Applicants' home.

ISSUE #4 – PRE-CAST STONES

In his testimony, Mr. Tharmathurai referred to sixteen photographs that he took of the exterior pre-cast stone cladding to the home (Exhibits 3(a) to 3(p)). He claimed that after the pre-cast stone cladding had been installed by Rosehaven, it was sandblasted and the sandblasting removed the sheen finish of the stones and resulted in the chipping of the stones.

Mr. Tharmathurai referred in particular to two photographs (Exhibits 3(a) and 3(b)). He stated that Exhibit 3(a) showed the damage to the pre-cast stone which had been repaired by Rosehaven using cement filing and that Exhibit 3(b) showed the dulled surface of stone due to sandblasting. Both these photographs appear to have been taken within inches of the surface of the stones and magnify both the stones and the repair to the stones.

Mr. Tharmathurai also referred to a photograph, Exhibit 3(p), which he took of one pre-cast stone with a dark rust coloured mark on the edge of the stone where the mortar meets the stone and a streak of rust colour staining emanating from the dark rust coloured mark.

In his written report (Exhibit 7, page 2) Mr. Foley stated that the sandblasting "has definitely shortened the life expectancy of the stones as well as making them porous and susceptible to moisture pitting or spalding (sic) during the winter months". He recommended the pre-cast stones be replaced at a cost of $2,000.00 plus G.S.T.

Under cross-examination by the Program's Counsel, Tharmathurai stated that the sixteen photographs taken by him of the home's pre-cast stones were taken two to five feet away from the stones. Photographs, Exhibits 3(a) to 3(j) were taken approximately two feet from the stones.

Under cross-examination by Counsel for Rosehaven, Mr. Tharmathurai stated that other homes in the subdivision were, like his home, sandblasted. He acknowledged that prior to the sandblasting of the pre-cast stones, he received written notification (Exhibit 22) from Rosehaven that sandblasting would be done to all homes constructed by Rosehaven in the subdivision so as to remove excess dirt and mortar.

Mr. Fortune testified that the Applicants' written request for conciliation stated that "the pre-cast stones are damaged". (Exhibit 1, Tab 13, item 16). At the conciliation inspection, Mr. Fortune's "Observation/Comments" note the following:

Prior to the expiration of the first year warranty it was reported that the Eagle pre-cast stones were damaged. The builder has since returned to the home and made repairs to small chips and imperfections in the stone. The stone was sand blasted. Much of the smooth shiny appearance of the stone has been removed.

Mr. Fortune was of the opinion that at the conciliation the Applicants' complaint was that sandblasting had removed the sheen on the surface of the pre-cast stones. He stated that it is typical of pre-cast stone that a shiny appearance does not last for more than one to two years and that weather dulls the shiny surface. He also stated that the Canadian Standards Association has determined that stone or brick should not be viewed from close up and that viewing should take place from no less than seven meters from the stone and brick. The Canadian Standards Association has also determined that when viewing and assessing brick or stone from seven meters away there is a 10% permissible allowance for apparent defects. Accordingly, with brick or stone viewed from seven meters, 10% of the brick or stone may reflect defects, such as chipping, and still be considered acceptable. Having regard to this standard, Mr. Fortune stated that the pre-cast stone in the Applicants' home meets the standard of the Canadian Standards Association.

Mr. Fortune went on to state that some defects are inherent to pre-cast stone. Unlike wood, where there is no "chippage" when cut, pre-cast stone can typically have "chippage" when it is handled or cut. The chippage of the pre-cast stone installed at the Applicants' home was satisfactorily repaired, after installation and there is presently no evidence of poor workmanship, defects in material or violation of the Ontario Building Code.

Mr. Fortune concluded his evidence by producing Exhibits 13 through 21 which were photographs of the pre-cast stone installed at the Applicants' home. All these photographs were taken by him in July/August 2001. Other than Exhibit 19, which was taken from a distance of approximately ten feet from the pre-cast stone, the remaining photographs were taken from between twenty and thirty feet from the pre-cast stone. All the photographs, according to Mr. Fortune, show an acceptable standard of workmanship and materials and when viewed from twenty feet the pre-cast stone is acceptable. In cross-examination by Mr. Tharmathurai, Mr. Fortune stated that some 17 months have passed since possession of the home, and it is to be expected that the natural effects of weathering, as far as surface sheen is concerned, would be evident at this stage. He also stated that the natural look of pre-cast stone is not intended to have a shiny appearance to its surface but to rather have a dull weathered look, which it attains from the effect of weathering over a period of one to two years of exposure to the elements.

The testimony of Mr. Puzzolanti followed that of Mr. Fortune. Mr. Puzzolanti stated that pre-cast stone, as used in the Applicants' home, is a manufactured product and contain a concrete-like mix. The mix is poured into fibreglass forms and left to cure. The pre-cast stone when newly manufactured has a sheen on the surface. In the manufacturing process, the stone is normally subjected to "knocks" and "nicks". After installation, the manufacturer of the stone hires a special team that do repairs where necessary and another team sandblasts the stone. Sandblasting is standard practice and was done to the pre-cast stone that had been installed at the Applicants' home. Sandblasting acts as an abrasive and removes the sheen. It is employed for a number of reasons; the main reason is to achieve a uniform weathering or texture to the stone's appearance and correct possible differences in the shade of the stone blocks.

Mr. Puzzolanti was referred to Foley Restoration's letter of September 12, 2001 (Exhibit 7) and disagreed with Mr. Foley's statement that:

The sandblasting has definitely shortened the life expectancy of the stones as well as making them porous and susceptible to moisture pitting or spalding during the winter months.

Mr. Puzzolanti explained that pre-cast stone is a porous material and sandblasting does not make it any more porous nor does sandblasting affect the life expectancy of the stone. He reinspected the Applicants' home's pre-cast stone on November 24, 2001. From that inspection, he came to the conclusion that the stone was perfectly acceptable, within the standards of the building industry and no better or worse than other homes in the subdivision, which he also viewed. He confirmed that pre-cast stone blocks, like bricks, are not designed to be viewed close up but from a reasonable distance.

Mr. Puzzolanti stated that there was one pre-cast stone block that exhibited what appeared to be a rust spot and streak on that block. (Exhibit 3(p)). He was of the opinion that the masonry brick tie used during construction to affix the pre-cast block to the mortar bed had become exposed to the air. Oxidization has set in and consequently rust is now exhibited on the face of the block. The tie should have been set in the mortar itself but was probably not, hence the rust. To rectify this problem Mr. Puzzolanti suggested removal and replacement of the existing pre-cast stone block with a new correctly set metal tie and new grouting. He conceded that the cause of the problem was defective workmanship due to the metal tie being installed too near the surface of the grout. Rosehaven was prepared to correct the problem by replacing the block.

ISSUE # 5 – PLUMBING DONE OUTSIDE WALL

Mr. Tharmathurai stated that he inspected a neighbour's home and noticed that the bulkhead in the Applicants' home's dinette/family room was different than his neighbours' home's bulkhead. The Applicants' home's bulkhead reflected sloppy work and was unsightly. (Exhibit 10(a)). The bulkhead in his neighbours home, which was the same model home as the Applicant's home, was neater in appearance. (Exhibit 10(b)). He also stated that someone from Rosehaven had told him the bulkhead's construction "was due to the duct in the upstairs bathroom having been installed on the wrong side" of the toilet. (Exhibit 10(c)). He referred to Foley Restoration's letter (Exhibit 7) which stated that the heat register in the upstairs bathroom was put on the left side of the toilet, rather than on the right side. If the register was placed to the right of the toilet, the bulkhead extension would be eliminated, and both his neighbour's bulkhead and his home's bulkhead would look the same. The cost of moving the heating duct would be $1,050.00 plus G.S.T. according to Foley Restoration.

Under cross-examination by Counsel for the Program, Mr. Tharmathurai contended his complaint is poor workmanship and that he does not like the appearance of the bulkhead.

Under cross-examination by Counsel for Rosehaven, Mr. Tharmathurai stated that he was present when Mr. Foley inspected the home and noted that Mr. Foley "did not go into the bulkhead to inspect inside" in order to ascertain what services are contained within the bulkhead the services carried in the bulkhead.

Mr. Fortune testified that all homes contain bulkheads which take on different shapes. Bulkheads are designed to cover and contain "heating rims" or plumbing. The bulkheads that he observed in the Applicants' home did not evidence poor workmanship, were free from defects in material and their construction did not contravene the Ontario Building Code. He disputed the statement of Mr. Foley that the heat register in the bathroom was incorrectly positioned and contended that it could be situated on either side of the toilet depending on different factors.

Mr. Puzzolanti stated in his testimony that it was not always possible to place plumbing and heating rims within the wall cavity itself. The cavity may have limits due to wood beams in the wall cavity used to ensure the integrity of the structure. As Mr. Foley did not open the bulkhead to see what was contained within it, and he is not justified in concluding that the heat register in the bathroom is incorrectly situated.

ISSUE # 6 – ELECTRICAL BOX INSTALLED ON WRONG SIDE OF HOME

Mr. Tharmathurai stated that the exterior electric meter has been installed at the front of the Applicants' home and that he considers the installation to be insightful (Exhibit 11(a)). He stated that the Applicants' home is the only home in the subdivision where the meter has been so placed. The meters of all other homes are situated to the side or back of the homes. He also stated that during construction Rosehaven made a hole at the top of the foundation wall on the side of the home for the purpose of having the electric box positioned there. Prior to the Applicants' possession, this hole was closed by Rosehaven (Exhibits 11(d) and 11(c)). He contended the present location of the electrical meter at the front of the home is reflective of poor workmanship by Rosehaven.

Under cross-examination, Mr. Tharmathurai stated that Richmond Hill Hydro had told him that he had to have the electrical meter placed at the front of the home.

Mr. Fortune referred the Tribunal to clause 3(a) in Schedule "X" to the Agreement of Purchase and Sale which reads:

The vendor will construct (if not already constructed) and complete upon the Property a dwelling (the "Dwelling") of the type hereinbefore indicated in accordance with the plans and specifications already examined by the Purchaser and filed or to be filed with and approved by the Municipality.

The basement plan of the Applicant's home clearly indicated the position of the "proposed hydro service location", and this location is precisely where the electrical meter has been installed at the front elevation of the home. (Exhibit 1, Tab 8, second last page).

Mr. Fortune further stated there is no question of poor workmanship or defective materials having been used nor has there been any breach of the Ontario Building Code. The position of the meter is a question of design and as such is beyond the scope of the warranties under the Act.

Mr. Puzzolanti testified that the positioning of the electrical meter was in accordance with the basement plan submitted to and approved by the Municipality of Richmond Hill. (Exhibit 1, Tab 8, second last page) That basement plan indicated where the hydro service was to be located and the location of the electrical meter and meter base is in accordance with the plan.

Mr. Puzzolanti stated that the electrical meter was originally intended to be located at the side of the Applicants' home. In anticipation of such location, a hole was made through the home's side foundation wall. However, the Municipality of Richmond Hill objected to that location due to a previous experience where a meter was installed at the back or side of a home and access to such meter was often restricted due to the homeowner erecting a fence which interfered with the meter reader's access to the meter. The Applicants' home was the first “Vienna” model constructed and occupied in the subdivision. Many complaints were received by the Municipality from subsequent home owners in the subdivision who did not wish to have their electrical meter boxes positioned at the front of their homes. Due to these complaints, the Municipality agreed that it would no longer enforce the requirement that electrical meters be on the front elevation of future homes and agreed, as far as future home’s were concerned, to the meter’s installation at the side or rear of homes. However, by the time the Municipality agreed to this , the Applicants and certain other home owners with meters located at the front of their homes were already in possession.

ISSUE # 7 – 2 FOOT GAP AT ENTRANCE TO LIVING ROOM

Mr. Tharmathurai testified that the interior foyer floor at the front door entry to the Applicants’ home is one step lower than the floor in the living room and other adjoining areas on that floor. He referred the Tribunal to photographs of the sunken entry floor in his home (Exhibit 12(a)) and in a neighbour’s home (Exhibit 12(b)). He considers construction of the sunken area of his neighbour’s home to be preferable to his own. He stated that the Applicants’ home is constructed in such a way that the width of the floor at the entry to the living room is only 2 foot and is a hazard for the Applicants’ children who could fall down the step into the sunken foyer. He states the design and construction of such a narrow gap is indicative of poor workmanship by Rosehaven.

Under cross-examination by the Program’s counsel, he was shown the plan of the home’s ground floor. (Exhibit 1, Tab 5 and Exhibit 1, Tab 8). He disagreed with counsel that a two foot gap is reflected on the plans of the Applicants’ home.

In his testimony, Mr. Fortune stated that there is no breach of the Ontario Building Code regarding this aspect of construction and that there is no defect in workmanship or materials used. He stated that normally the Municipality would ensure that the home is safe for occupancy. The fact that they inspected the home, approved the home’s plans and issued an occupancy permit is indicative of the fact that the Municipality had no concern.

Mr. Puzzolanti testified that the Applicants’ home was built precisely to the approved plans. In particular he referred to the ground floor plan of the Applicants home (Exhibit 1, Tab 8, last page) and indicated by reference to that plan why he was of the opinion that Rosehaven had constructed according to that plan. The Applicants’ home and its construction was inspected by the Municipality so as to ensure compliance with the plans and the Ontario Building Code. The Municipality would not have issued an occupancy permit had they believed there was non-compliance with the approved plans and if there was a safety issue. He concluded his evidence by stating that there was no defect in the workmanship or in the materials used and there was no breach of the Ontario Building Code.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

The following are the facts which the Tribunal has found proven:

1. The Applicants and Rosehaven entered into a written Agreement of Purchase and Sale dated March 18, 1999 in terms of which Rosehaven was to construct a residential home for the Applicants on a lot in the Town of Richmond Hill, Ontario.
2. The home was constructed in accordance with the terms of the Agreement of Purchase and Sale, and the building plans submitted to and approved by the Town of Richmond Hill, Ontario.
3. An occupancy permit respecting the home was issued by the Town of Richmond Hill, Ontario.
4. The Applicants took possession of the home on August 25, 1999.
5. A conciliation inspection of the home was held on January 26, 2001 and a conciliation report dated January 31, 2001 was issued.
6. Seven complaints were dealt with by the Program in its conciliation report under the heading "Items not covered by warranty".
7. The Program issued a written decision dated June 22, 2001 dealing with the aforesaid seven complaints and denied the Applicants' claims in respect of the seven complaints.
8. The Applicants appealed the Program's decision of June 22, 2001 to the Tribunal. At the commencement of the hearing before the Tribunal, the Applicants withdrew their appeal to complaint three in the Program's decision letter but proceeded with their appeal on the other six complaints.
9. The mortar for the exterior brickwork used by Rosehaven in the construction of the Applicants' home contained die or pigmentation sufficient for such die or pigmentation to colour the mortar.
10. The shower head installed in the bathroom of the Applicants' home was constructed and installed in a workmanlike manner, is free from defects in material and is not constructed or installed in contravention of the Ontario Building Code. The shower head as installed was fit for use.

11. The pre-cast stone installed on the exterior of the Applicants' home contained minor surface imperfections that were satisfactorily repaired by Rosehaven. The pre-cast stone is constructed and installed in a workmanlike manner and is free from defects in material save and except for one block of pre-cast stone which contains evidence of rust due to the incorrect installation of a metal tie by Rosehaven.
12. The bulkhead constructed by Rosehaven in the kitchen/dinette ceiling is constructed in a workmanlike manner and is free of defects in material. The bulkhead does not contravene the Ontario Building Code.
13. The electrical meter installed on the exterior front elevation of the Applicants' home has been installed according to the approved plans of the Applicants' home and the location specified by the Town of Richmond Hill. The installation of the electrical meter has been done in a workmanlike manner, is free from defects in material and does not contravene the Ontario Building Code.
14. The construction of the floor area of the Applicants' home at or near the front door entrance including the sunken floor at the front door does not contravene the Ontario Building Code. The construction of the ground floor of the Applicants' home, including the sunken foyer area of the home and the area leading from the foyer to the living room, conforms to the building plans submitted to and approved by the Municipality of Richmond Hill. The construction of the ground floor of the Applicants' home was done in a workmanlike manner, and is free from defects in material.

THE LAW:

The Act's relevant portions are:

14.(1) Subject to the regulations, a person who has entered into a contract to purchase a home from a vendor is entitled to receive payment out of the guarantee fund for the amount that the person paid to the vendor as a deposit to be credited to the purchase price under the contract on closing if,

(3)(b) the person has a cause of action against the vendor or the builder, as the case may be, for damage resulting from the breach of warranty.

.....

13.(1) Every vendor of a home warrants to the owner,

(d) that the home,

- (i) is constructed in a workmanlike manner and is free from defects in material,
- (ii) is fit for habitation, and
- (iii) is construction in accordance with the Ontario Building Code;

.....

DECISION AND REASONS:

The onus of proof in this matter is upon the Applicants.

To succeed in their claims, the Applicants must prove that their claims fall into section 14(1)(b) of the Act, set out above.

The Applicants must prove;

- (a) they have a cause of action against Rosehaven, for damages resulting from a breach of warranty by the latter, and
- (b) they have suffered financial loss due to Rosehaven's breach of warranty.

The Tribunal finds that the Applicants have failed to discharge the onus of proof for the reasons that follow.

The Tribunal admitted to evidence the written report of Foley Restorations. This report was admitted by virtue of the authority given to the Tribunal by section 15 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act R.S.O. as amended. However, the report was admitted subject to appropriate weight being given to such report. The Applicants, although being cautioned by the Tribunal at the commencement of the hearing as to the evidentiary value of the document in the absence of the oral testimony of its author, chose not to have Mr. Foley, the author, testify at the hearing.

Certain conclusions drawn by Mr. Foley and contained in his report were disputed by both Mr. Fortune and Mr. Puzzolanti. Both the latter persons testified as to their considerable experience in the construction industry.

The failure of Mr. Foley to attend at the hearing and to give oral testimony denied the Program and Rosehaven the opportunity of testing Mr. Foley's opinions and conclusions. Furthermore, Mr. Foley's qualifications and experience were not disclosed to the Tribunal.

Accordingly, in the absence of Mr. Foley's oral testimony at the hearing the Tribunal gives no weight to his conclusions and opinions in his written report where such conclusions and opinions contradict to those of Mr. Fortune and Mr. Puzzolanti.

ANALYSIS OF EVIDENCE:

ISSUE # 1- COLOUR OF BRICK MORTAR USED

The Agreement of Purchase and Sale which the Applicants signed did not specify the shade or amount of colour to be used in the mortar. All that was stated in the Agreement was that there was to be "coloured mortar throughout". The Agreement clearly states that the Applicants were not purchasing their home based on any model that they had viewed prior to the Agreement. According to the evidence of Puzzolanti, which the Tribunal accepts, there was no "Vienna" model in existence for viewing at the time the Applicants entered into the Agreement of Purchase and Sale or at the time they took possession.

The evidence of Puzzolanti was that there was dye or pigmentation in the mortar used in the Applicants' home. This was accepted by Mr. Foley in his report when he stated "there is a small amount of tint which has been added to the mortar."

The Tribunal finds that there is "colour mortar throughout" the Applicants' home and finds that there is no breach of warranty under section 13(1) of the Act. Accordingly, the Applicants have no cause of action against Rosehaven or the Program for damages resulting from breach of warranty.

The Applicants' appeal on this issue fails.

ISSUE # 2- SHOWER HEAD

The complaint of the Applicants relates to where the shower head was installed. They believe it should have been installed in the middle wall of the shower cubicle and not on a side wall which makes it "inconvenient" while showering and looks "weird". The Agreement of Purchase and Sale and the approved plans of the Applicants' home make no reference to where the shower head was to be installed. The evidence of Mr. Fortune and Mr. Puzzolanti is that the shower operated without a problem. The Applicants agree that the shower operates properly but expressed concern that with water splashing on the glass door of the shower there may be future problems with leakage. At this stage they conceded there are no problems with water leakage.

Mr. Fortune and Mr. Puzzolanti said that from their inspections and observations there is no discomfort in using the shower. Furthermore, with the current location of the shower head, there is less likelihood of water splashing against the shower door than if the shower head had been located on the middle wall which directly faces the shower door.

The shower head is constructed in a workmanlike manner, is free from defects in material and is constructed according to the Ontario Building Code.

Accordingly, the Tribunal finds that there is no breach of warranty under section 13(1) of the Act and that the Applicants have no cause of action against Rosehaven or the Program for damages resulting from breach of warranty.

The Applicants' appeal on this issue fails.

ISSUE # 4 – PRE-CAST STONES

The Tribunal finds that there were chips and blemishes on some of the pre-cast stones installed in the Applicants' home. The Tribunal also finds that this is not an unusual occurrence and that such chips and blemishes were repaired. Further, it is common practice after installation of pre-cast stones and the repair of chips and blemishes, that the stones are sandblasted to achieve uniformity in the appearance of the different stones and correct any differences in the shade of the stones. The Tribunal further finds that the effect of weather on pre-cast stone is the same as the effect of sandblasting as both give the stone a more weathered and natural look and that sandblasting does not affect the life of the stone nor does it make the stone more porous.

The photographs tendered in evidence by the Applicants relating to the pre-cast stone do show imperfections. However, the photographs do not reflect what an average observer would see if he viewed the pre-cast stone from a reasonable distance. The Applicants' photographs were taken in close proximity to the stone and thereby greatly magnify minor blemishes and imperfections. The Tribunal finds that the blemishes and imperfections are only visible on an extremely close inspection and refers to the matter of BREEN (1999) CRAT released on April 15, 1999 in which it was held:

A microscopic examination is not the appropriate standard of testing. In law this type of mark could be considered "de minimus not curat lex" meaning that the law does not take notice of nor care about very small or trifling matters.

Furthermore, the Tribunal notes the principle set out in the matter of MARK TEITELMAN (1987) 16 CRAT at page 181:

The Teitelmans were not the authors of the defects and the Tribunal understands that they are a constant source of irritation to them. However, they must accept the fact that no house, new or old, is perfect or is warranted to be perfect. Floors and stairs will squeak, wood will shrink and warp, cracks will appear and paint will peel. All that can be done is to keep these imperfections at reasonable acceptable levels. The limited warranty provided by the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act recognized these facts, and this Tribunal is obligated to make findings in accordance with the statutory provisions and not otherwise.

The Tribunal also observes and associates itself with what is stated in the decision of SAPORITA (199) CRAT released on July 28, 1999.

Those few complaints that were not resolved and which have now come before this hearing to the Tribunal that the Applicants were seeking unrealistic standards of perfection and were not always reasonable in their expectations. Perfection and nothing less than perfection is not a reasonable expectation when dealing with what can be termed a standard home. One does not live in a perfect world and allowances must be made for minor imperfections. If imperfections exist in the Applicants' home they are, from the evidence tendered, minor in nature and do not result in aesthetically displeasing results.

While the evidence may not indicate absolute perfection in workmanship, the Tribunal accepts the evidence of Mr. Fortune that here both workmanship and materials meet the industry standards and were satisfactory except for the installation of the pre-cast stone.

The one pre-cast stone, with surface rust is to be removed and is to be replaced by Rosehaven installing a new pre-cast stone together with the necessary metal tie properly set in fresh mortar containing the necessary dye or pigmentation.

Save for one exception dealt with above the Tribunal accepts that the pre-cast stone in the Applicants' home was constructed in a workmanlike manner, is free from defects in material and that there has been no breach of the Ontario Building Code. Accordingly, the Applicants' appeal on this issue fails save for what is stated above.

ISSUE # 5 – PLUMBING DONE OUTSIDE WALL

The Tribunal does not accept that the heat register in the upstairs bathroom was placed on the incorrect side of the toilet and that the bulkhead's not aesthetically pleasing. No evidence has been placed before the Tribunal to satisfy the onus that rests on the Applicants.

The evidence was that the Applicants and Mr. Foley did not open the bulkhead to ascertain what was within the bulkhead. The only complaint of the Applicants was that they do not like the appearance of the bulkhead. The Tribunal has found no failure in the workmanship of Rosehaven in regard to the construction of the bulkheads. There is no defect in the materials used by Rosehaven in the bulkhead's construction. The construction of the bulkhead does not contravene the Ontario Building Code.

Having regard to the above and the evidence the Tribunal finds there has been no breach by Rosehaven of section 13(1) of the Act. Accordingly, the Applicants' appeal on this issue fails.

ISSUE # 6 – ELECTRICAL BOX INSTALLATION

The basement plan of the Applicants' home clearly indicates that the electrical meter is to be installed at the front of the home. The evidence of Mr. Puzzolanti is that the Town of Richmond Hill insisted on the front of the home being the location of the electrical meter. This leaves the Tribunal in no doubt that the meter is correctly located as specifically required by the Town. From the evidence adduced, the Tribunal believes the Applicants were aware that the Town had specifically required the meter to be installed where it is installed in the front of the home.

The Tribunal finds no failure in workmanship by Rosehaven, no defect in materials it supplied and no violation of the Ontario Building Code.

The Applicants' appeal on this issue accordingly fails.

ISSUE # 7 – 2 FOOT GAP AT ENTRANCE TO LIVING ROOM

The ground floor plan indicates that the sunken floor of the foyer was constructed according to that approved plan. This plan was available to the Applicants. This issue is an issue that relates to the Applicants being unhappy with the design of the sunken foyer floor. They are unhappy with the narrow two foot "gap" into the living room which they feel could have been better designed. It is possible that the foyer floor may have been designed differently. However, this is not an issue that falls within the ambit of the Act and is beyond the jurisdiction of the Tribunal. There is no evidence that the construction of the foyer or the sunken floor was not carried out in a workmanlike manner, used defective materials or contravened the Ontario Building Code.

The Applicants appeal on this issue is denied.

DECISION:

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 16(3) of the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act, the Tribunal directs the Ontario New Home Warranty Program:

1. as soon as weather permits and in any event no later than June 30, 2002, to remove the one pre-cast stone on the exterior of the Applicants' home that evidences rust and shall replace it with a pre-cast stone of the same or better quality, replace the mortar surrounding the stone with the same or similar colour mortar so as to match as closely as possible the colour of the original mortar used by Rosehaven, replace the existing metal brick tie with the installation of new metal brick tie; and
2. in all other respects to disallow the Applicants' claims in this matter.

TO REFUSE REGISTRATION

APPEARANCES:

DATE OF HEARING:

December 4, 2001

Toronto

This hearing arises from a Notice of Proposal dated June 18, 2001, (the "Proposal"), issued by the Registrar of Collection Agencies (the "Registrar"), to refuse to register the Applicant as a collector under the provisions of Section 7(1) of the Collection Agencies Act R.S.O. 1990, Ch. C.14 (the "Act").

The Applicant by a notice dated July 22, 2001, (the "Appeal") requested a hearing before the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") respecting the Proposal pursuant to the provisions of sections 8(2) and 8(4) of the Act.

A Prehearing Conference was held on October 21, 2001, and the Tribunal made an Order dated October 24, 2001, wherein the allegations and statements of fact contained in Section C, background, and in Section D, particulars, of the Proposal were agreed and the Respondent was not required to prove such allegations or facts at the hearing scheduled for December 4, 2001.

DECISION AND ORDER:

At the hearing, Counsel for the Applicant stated that as a result of recent discussions between the Parties, a settlement of the issues had been reached and Minutes of Settlement dated December 4, 2001, (the "Minutes of Settlement") had been executed and were tendered for filing with the Tribunal. It was proposed that no evidence would be produced or testimony given at the hearing save for the filing of the Proposal, the Appeal and Minutes of Settlement as exhibits.

Subsequent to hearing from Counsel and reviewing the Minutes of Settlement in light of the remarks made by Counsel, the Tribunal gave an oral decision subject to the release of this written order.

Accordingly, this Tribunal, pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 8(4) of the Act, makes the following Order:

1. The Applicant shall continue to perform an agreement made between the Applicant and the Crown whereby the Applicant agreed to make, in good faith, full restitution to his former employer as the alleged victim of the outstanding criminal charge laid against the Applicant in or about the City of Oshawa, Ontario, at the rate of at least Five Hundred ($500) Dollars each and every month from the date hereof until full restitution to such victim has been made;
2. The Registrar shall refrain from carrying out the Proposal and shall grant the Applicant registration as a collector under the Act on or before August 24, 2002, (the "registration date") subject to the terms and conditions set out in section 4 hereof, provided that,
 - (a) the Applicant has, before the close of business on the registration date made full restitution as set out in section 1 hereof,
 - (b) the Applicant is not on the registration date charged with, or convicted of committing an offence other than a By-law offence, and
 - (c) the Registrar has, before the close of business on the registration date received confirmation satisfactory to the Registrar that the criminal charge set out in section 1 hereof has been withdrawn;

3. In case of default by the Applicant of any one or more of the three conditions set forth in section 2 of this Order, the Registrar shall carry out the Proposal to refuse the registration of the Applicant as a collector under the Act effective as at the close of business on August 24, 2002;
4. It shall be a term and condition of the Applicant's registration as a collector under the Act that for a period of two years subsequent to the registration date, the Applicant shall continue to be subject to the obligation to disclose to the Registrar any further charges of any kind, including a By-law offence, laid against the Applicant within 20 days of such a charge being laid, provided that in default of such disclosure, the Applicant's registration shall be revoked forthwith by the Registrar.

This hearing arises from a Notice of Proposal dated June 18, 2001, (the “Proposal”), issued by the Registrar of Collection Agencies (the “Registrar”), to refuse to register the Applicant as a collector under the provisions of Section 7(1) of the Collection Agencies Act R.S.O. 1990, Ch. A Prehearing Conference was held on October 21, 2001, and the Tribunal made an Order dated October 24, 2001, wherein the allegations and statements of fact contained in Section C, background, and in Section D, particulars, of the Proposal were agreed and the Respondent was not required to prove such allegations or facts at the hearing scheduled for December 5, 2001.

DECISION AND ORDER:

At the commencement of the hearing, the Applicant requested an adjournment for the purpose of dealing with some of the issues, some of which were the subject matter upon which the Registrar based the Proposal, prior to the hearing of his Appeal. Counsel for the Registrar opposed the Applicant's request for an adjournment and stated that it would be more appropriate to proceed at this time with the issues as stated in the Proposal or otherwise withdraw the Appeal and make a new application for registration as a collector under the Act. In response, the Applicant concurred with Counsel for the Registrar and withdrew the Appeal.

The Tribunal, accordingly, refuses the Applicant's request for an adjournment and orders that, insofar as the Appeal has been withdrawn by the Applicant, the hearing is terminated and these proceedings are concluded.

Auto Sales S.K. Limited
AVIVA R. HARARI, Counsel representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF

HEARING:

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is a hearing before the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") arising out of a Notice of Proposal issued by the Registrar under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Registrar", and the "Act" respectively). The Notice of Proposal dated July 17, 2001 proposed to revoke the registration of Jehad Nazem Kadri ("Kadri"), as a motor vehicle salesperson and the registration of Buyrite Auto Sales S.K. Limited ("Buyrite"), as a motor vehicle dealer under the provisions of the Act. Kadri and Buyrite (the "Applicants") appealed the proposal to revoke the registrations to the Licence Appeal Tribunal by Notice of Appeal dated July 27, 2001.

ISSUE:

The Registrar's Notice of Proposal to revoke registration of the Applicants stated that the Applicant's past conduct was inconsistent with the intention and objective of the Act, and therefore warranted revocation of registration under the Act. The requirements of the Act include that registrants be financially responsible in the conduct of their business and that they carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty.

The Registrar issued a Notice of Further and Other Particulars on November 6, 2001 stating that Buyrite had sold vehicles which had liens registered against them without disclosing the existence of the liens to the consumers. The Notice also stated that Buyrite had been registered subject to Terms and Conditions. Buyrite is alleged to have breached those Terms and Conditions by selling the vehicles without disclosing the existence of the liens to the consumer.

There are two issues in this proceeding. The first is whether the Registrar had sufficient grounds to support the belief that the Applicant would not be financially responsible or carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty. The second issue is whether the Applicants were in breach of a Term and Condition of their registration.

THE LAW:

5. (1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,

(a) having regard to the financial position of the applicant, the applicant cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of business; or

(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty;

6. (2) Subject to section 7, the Registrar may refuse to renew or may suspend or revoke a registration for any reason that would disentitle the registrant to registration under section 5 if the registrant were an applicant or where the registrant is in breach of a term or condition of the registration.

EVIDENCE:

Several consumer witnesses, Walter Pevcevicius, and Mary Jane South presented the evidence of the Registrar. Mr. Pevcevicius is a Senior Collection Officer with the Ministry of Finance, who gave evidence regarding the outstanding monies owed to the Minister of Finance in respect of Provincial Sales Tax (PST). Mary Jane South is the Deputy Registrar of the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") and gave evidence regarding the history of the Applicants and the reasons for the Registrar's proposal to revoke registration of the Applicants as a dealer and salesperson.

The Applicant, Kadri, gave evidence on behalf of the Applicants, as well as cross-examining the Registrar's witnesses. Mr. Kadri did not call any additional witnesses for the Applicants nor did he provide additional documentary evidence for the Tribunal.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

Based upon the oral and documentary evidence presented at the hearing, the following are the facts found by the Tribunal to have been proven:

1. The Applicant Kadri was registered as a motor vehicle salesperson on or about September 3, 1998.
2. The Applicant Buyrite was registered as a motor vehicle dealer on or about September 3, 1998.
3. The Applicant Kadri was the directing mind and sole officer and director of 001287125 Ontario Ltd. operating as Buyrite Auto Sales S.K. Limited which was incorporated on or about April 24, 1998.
4. The Applicant Buyrite consented to Terms and Conditions (Exhibit 4, Tab 18) with respect to its registration as a dealer. The Applicant Kadri on or about September 2, 1998 executed those Terms and Conditions on behalf of Buyrite.
5. Among the various terms and conditions of registration were the following:
 - l) The Dealer agrees that he is under a positive obligation to disclose all material facts about the vehicles he sells to his customers. The dealer agrees to make reasonable efforts to research the history of all his vehicles prior to sale to ensure all material facts are disclosed...*
 - p) The Dealer acknowledges that the Registrar may take further administrative action, including a proposal to revoke its registration, arising from any matters that have occurred or may occur related to honesty and integrity of financial position.
6. The Applicant Buyrite has collected Provincial Sales Taxes on the sale of motor vehicles. As a result of an audit assessment conducted by the Ministry of Finance, Buyrite was found to owe $71,010.53 for taxes collected and not remitted, penalties and interest as of July 12, 2001. Some collection activity and adjustments have resulted in that balance being reduced to $46,132.22 as of the date of the hearing.

7. Any amounts received by the Ministry of Finance since July 12, 2001 on account of the outstanding balance have been obtained primarily through collection activities undertaken by the Ministry. The Applicants have made no serious attempts to negotiate a repayment schedule nor have the Applicants directly remitted any monies towards the reduction of the outstanding balance.
8. The Applicants have been current with their regular PST remittances since August 2001.
9. On November 30, 1999, the Ministry of Finance registered a blanket lien against the assets of Buyrite. The lien also specifically included eleven vehicles registered to Buyrite and identified by their vehicle identification numbers (VINs) (Exhibit 4, Tab 16).
10. On January 24, 2001, The blanket lien was amended to add a list of specific vehicles (Exhibit 4, Tab 16, page 13). Two of those vehicles were subsequently sold to Mr. Sertovic and Mr. Ng.
11. On March 1, 2001, The blanket lien was amended to add eleven specific vehicles (Exhibit 4, Tab 16, page 17). Three of those vehicles were subsequently sold to Mr. Spruyt, Mr. Armer and Ms. McLean.
12. It is the practice of the Ministry that the liens, including the initial blanket lien, are registered on-line into the Personal Property Security (PPSA) database from the Ministry Office. The original lien is received by the Ministry from the PPSA about 7 days later. Within 2 to 3 days thereafter, the lien is sent out to the owner of lien property. It is sent by Purolator to the property owner. In this case, none of the lien notices alleged to have been sent by the Ministry to the Applicant Buyrite were returned.
13. In early March, 2001, Richard Andrew Spruyt purchased a 1991 Plymouth Voyager from Buyrite. The VIN of the Plymouth bore the final six numbers 142339. At the time the vehicle was sold to Mr. Spruyt it was subject to the Ministry of Finance lien. Buyrite did not disclose this lien to the consumer and the Applicants made no efforts to assist Mr. Spruyt in removing the lien. The consumer would not have purchased the Chevrolet had he been made aware of the lien.
14. In March, 2001, Christopher John Armer purchased a 1995 Chevrolet Lumina from Buyrite. The VIN of the Chevrolet bore the final six numbers 336064. At the time the vehicle was sold to Mr. Armer it was subject to the Ministry of Finance lien. Buyrite did not disclose this lien to the consumer and the Applicants made no efforts to assist Mr. Armer in removing the lien. The consumer would not have purchased the Chevrolet had he been made aware of the lien.

15. On March 26, 2001, Amir Sertovic purchased a 1994 Ford Tempo from Buyrite. The VIN of the Ford bore the final six numbers 211897. At the time the vehicle was sold to Mr. Sertovic it was subject to the Ministry of Finance lien. Buyrite did not disclose this lien to the consumer and the Applicants made no efforts to assist Mr. Sertovic in removing the lien. The consumer would not have purchased the Ford had he been made aware of the lien. Mr. Sertovic also paid $500.00 for a warranty that, according to the consumer, "is frozen". The warranty company advised the consumer that the dealer had not remitted the $500.00 paid for the coverage.
16. On June 13, 2001, Rhona McLean purchased a 1990 Mazda MPV from Buyrite. The VIN of the Mazda bore the final six numbers 206045. At the time the vehicle was sold to Ms. McLean it was subject to the Ministry of Finance lien. Buyrite did not disclose this lien to the consumer and the Applicants made no efforts to assist Ms. McLean in removing the lien. The consumer would not have purchased the Mazda had she been made aware of the lien.
17. On June 26, 2001, Dick Leung Ng purchased a 1999 Acura from Buyrite. The VIN of the Acura bore the final six numbers 806775. At the time the vehicle was sold to Mr. Ng it was subject to the Ministry of Finance lien. Buyrite did not disclose this lien to the consumer and the Applicants made no efforts to assist Mr. Ng in removing the lien. The consumer would not have purchased the Acura had he been made aware of the lien.
18. The consumers Ng, Armer, McLean, Spruyt, and Sertovic were not aware of the existence of liens against their property until Ralph Bayley contacted each consumer. Mr. Bayley is a desk inspector at OMVIC. He contacted each of the consumers by letter from October 18 to October 28, 2001.
19. As sole officer and director and the controlling mind of Buyrite, the Applicant Kadri was personally liable for Retail Sales Tax collected and not remitted under the Retail Sales Tax Act.

DECISION AND REASONS:

The onus of proof rests upon the Registrar to satisfy the Tribunal that he has reasonable grounds to believe that the registration of the Applicants ought to be revoked under Section 6(2) based upon their activities carried on in contravention of the Act and Regulations and that their past conduct afforded reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicants would not carry on business in compliance with Section 5 of the Act.

The leading authority, which has been followed in numerous cases, is the Divisional Court decision of Brenner, reported in 19 CRAT 58. This decision held that the Tribunal should only refuse to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it is of the opinion that the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of an Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that such Applicant would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The authority of the Tribunal under Section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act respecting the proposal of the Registrar was reviewed by Southey J. where he stated at page 60:

The effect of Section 7 (4) is that the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Board does not appear to have directed itself to this question and makes no finding that, in its view, the past conduct of Brenner did not afford reasonable grounds for the belief that Brenner would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Instead, the Board appears to have been preoccupied with sympathetic concern as to whether or not Brenner had genuinely reformed and appears to have decided that it ought to give him a second chance because there was a possibility that he, indeed, might have reformed himself.

This Decision was confirmed by the Divisional Court in Albert Fascenda (1994) 26 CRAT Part II 1050, where it stated at page 1051:

. . . that the Tribunal should have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal only if it thought the Registrar was in error in his belief.

As a result of the above and a line of cases following that reasoning, to overrule the decision of the Registrar, the Tribunal must conclude that the Registrar was wrong in his decision. It must find that the conduct of the Applicant does not afford reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that the Applicant will carry on activities in contravention of the Act and its regulations. The Tribunal must not concern itself with its own opinion of whether or not the Applicant has reformed. It must look at the past conduct of the Applicant and at the decision of the Registrar to come to a conclusion as to whether or not the past conduct of the Applicant would afford reasonable grounds for the Registrar's belief that such Applicant would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty in the future.

What is of concern to the Tribunal is that the Applicant collected Retail Sales Tax and then used it for the purposes of keeping his business running. The Retail Sales Tax Act provides at section 22(1) that any amount collected on account of tax under the Act is "...to be held in trust for Her Majesty in right of Ontario and held separate and apart from the vendor's property...". The vendor under that Act is the Applicant Buyrite and the controlling mind of Buyrite is the Applicant Kadri.

The funds collected and not remitted by the Applicant were trust funds held by the Applicant and were not funds to use for any purpose except to remit to the Government. The Applicant's use of trust funds for its own business purposes is a completely unsatisfactory and irresponsible approach to the conduct of business. Mr. Kadri testified that a family illness had preoccupied him during the relevant period. However, although the Tribunal is sympathetic to such crises in life, they offer no excuse for one person to misappropriate another person's funds. To do so is not acting with honesty and integrity or in accordance with the law.

The Registrar also presented further and other particulars to their proposal to revoke on November 6, 2001. These further allegations essentially dealt with the alleged contravention of the Terms and Conditions of registration signed by the Applicants and the sale of vehicles that were subject to Personal Property Security Act liens.

In that regard, while the Tribunal accepts that Mr. Kadri did receive some notifications from the Ministry, there was no evidence presented to establish which notices were actually sent and actually received. The Tribunal finds that the Registrar has not satisfied the evidentiary burden required to establish that the Dealer knowingly sold vehicles that were subject to liens.

However, upon all of the remaining evidence presented, the Tribunal concludes that the past conduct of the Applicants afforded the Registrar reasonable grounds for his belief that the Applicants would not carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty.

Having carefully considered all of the evidence presented, this Tribunal finds no ground to interfere with the Registrar's proposal.

ORDER:

Pursuant to the authority vested in it by Section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to carry out his proposal dated July 17, 2001 to revoke the registration of Jehad Nazem Kadri as a motor vehicle salesperson under the Act and to revoke the registration of Buyrite Auto Sales S.K. Limited as a motor vehicle dealer under the Act.

GERALD FLEWITT

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR OF
THE COLLECTION AGENCIES ACT

TO REFUSE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: BRIAN K. MAROTTA, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES: BERNARD GASSEE, Counsel, representing the Applicant
JAMES STEBBING, Counsel, representing the Registrar, Collections Agencies Act

DATE OF
HEARING: December 11, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

This hearing arises from a Notice of Proposal dated July 17, 2001, issued by the Registrar of the Collection Agencies Act (the "Act") to refuse the registration of Gerald William Flewitt as a collector under the Act. By Notice of Appeal dated August 1, 2001, the Applicant requested a hearing before this Tribunal.

THE FACTS:

On the evidence presented before it, the Tribunal finds the following facts to have been proven:

1. The Applicant, Gerald William Flewitt, has been a collector from time to time since 1969.
2. For approximately ten years of that time he was employed by various private companies as a first party collector and, therefore, was not required to be registered under the Act.

3. October 6, 1992, the Applicant completed an application for registration as a collector under the Act. This was not the first time that the Applicant had applied for and been granted registration as a collector.
4. Question number 10 on the application contained a request for information regarding previous convictions. The question read as follows:

“Have you ever been found guilty or convicted of an offence under any law or are there any charges pending? This includes where a conditional discharge or an absolute discharge has been ordered. If yes, attach full particulars on a separate signed and dated statement.

Note: Where the Applicant has been previously registered, list only those convictions, conditional discharges, absolute discharges or changes which have not been previously disclosed.”

The Applicant answered this question by checking the box “No”.

5. The application filed by Mr. Flewitt contained a Certificate of Employer, which indicated that the Applicant intended to be employed by Total Credit Recovery Ltd. The Certificate was signed by the Controller of Total Credit Recovery Ltd. and contained the following certification:

“I hereby certify that I have personally and fully discussed the response to each question of this application with the applicant prior to executing this document and am satisfied that the information given by the applicant is to the best of my knowledge and belief true, and request that the application be granted. I further certify that I will not employ the Applicant as a registrant until I receive his/her certificate of registration.”

6. Relying upon the information contained in the application, the Applicant was registered as a collector on November 18, 1992.
7. On November 23, 1994, the Applicant’s registration as a collector was terminated as no application to renew the registration had been received by the expiry date of the then existing registration, November 18, 1994.

8. The Applicant was notified that his registration had expired by letter from the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations dated November 23, 1994. That letter was returned to the Ministry with the notation that the Applicant was "not at this address".
9. On December 11, 1995, the Applicant completed an application for registration as a collector under the Act, which application was received by the Registrar on January 2, 1996.
10. Question 10 on the application form, relating to prior convictions and pending charges had the box marked "No" checked. The question and answer was the same as on the application of October 1992.
11. The application also contained a Certificate of Employer identical to the 1992 application and in this application it was signed by the manager of Common Collection Agency Inc.
12. The application signed by the Applicant certified that the information provided in support of the application was true to the best of his knowledge and belief.
13. In the course of processing Mr. Flewitt's application, the Registrar carried out a criminal records search of the Applicant. A reply to this inquiry was received from the Ontario Provincial Police which indicated that one, Gerald Wm. Flewitt, had the following record of criminal convictions:

DATE	LOCATION	OFFENSE(S)	DISPOSITION
December 3, 1970	Bracebridge, Ont.	Possession of narcotics	$150.00 or 60 days
May 9, 1978	Oshawa, Ont.	Possession of narcotics	$150.00 or 14 days
May 9, 1978	Oshawa, Ont.	Causing a disturbance	$100.00 or 10 days
October 4, 1985	Toronto, Ontario	Driving with more than 80mgs of alcohol in blood	14 days intermittent and probation
September 20, 1993	Toronto, Ontario	Fail to comply with recognizance	$200.00

September 24, 1993	Toronto, Ontario	Assault CBH	Suspended sentence and probation 2 years
December 21, 1993	Toronto, Ontario	Assault	Suspended sentence and probation 12 months

14. By letter dated February 13, 1996, the Ministry wrote to Mr. Flewitt asking if he was the same person who had those charges before the Court and if so, to explain why the information was not disclosed.
15. By letter dated February 15, 1996, Mr. Flewitt wrote back to the Ministry acknowledging that he was the same person referred to in the criminal record search.
16. On or about February 26, 1996, the Registrar registered the Applicant as a collector with terms and conditions. The terms and conditions were as follows:
 1. Gerald William Flewitt shall be employed by Common Collection Agency Inc. only. The registration shall not be transferable.
 2. Gerald William Flewitt shall be employed the supervision of Mr. Dennis Hickey, and during which he shall conduct himself in a professional and presentable manner at all times.
 3. Should Gerald William Flewitt leave the employ of Common Collection Agency Inc. both Gerald William Flewitt and Common Collection Agency Inc. are to advise the Registrar, in writing, within 3 days of the termination date.
 4. Gerald William Flewitt acknowledges that he has informed Common Collection Agency Inc. of the reasons why his reinstatement as a collector is subject to these terms and conditions and Common Collection Agency Inc. acknowledges the same.

5. Gerald William Flewitt acknowledges that he will inform the Registrar immediately, in writing, if he is convicted of any further criminal offence.
 6. Gerald William Flewitt acknowledges that he will notify both the Registrar and Common Collection Agency Inc., in writing, within 5 days or any change of his residential address and phone number.
 7. Common Collection Agency Inc. acknowledges that it is fully responsible for the actions of Gerald William Flewitt should the terms and conditions of registration not be complied with.
17. By letter dated April 25, 1996, the Applicant advised the Registrar that he had terminated his employment with Common Collection Agency Inc. effective April 18, 1996 and that the terms and conditions be transferred to his new employer, Collectcom Credit Inc..
 18. Collectcom Credit Inc. completed a Notice of Employee Change April 26, 1996 and sent same to the Registrar. It indicated a starting date of April 26, 1996.
 19. On June 4, 1996, Collectcom Credit Inc. wrote to the Ministry and advised that the Applicant, Gerald Flewitt, was no longer employed by that Company and that the application "abandoned".
 20. The Applicant was employed by Collectcom for a period of approximately one week in 1997 as the Applicant had produced a paystub from Collectcom for approximately $600.00, but not indicating the length of time that he was employed.
 21. On June 22, 1996, the Applicant was charged with assault, resulting in a conviction on July 17, 1996 with the sentence being time served of 26 days, plus 12 months probation.
 22. On January 21, 1997, the Applicant was convicted of fail to comply with probation order with a sentence of 1 day, plus time served of 58 days, plus 3 years probation.

23. On December 4, 2000, the Applicant completed an Application for Employee Registration or Reinstatement as a collector. Paragraph 10 of the application was identical to the prior applications relating to the question regarding prior convictions and pending charges. The Applicant on this occasion checked the box "Yes" and indicated as "previously disclosed".
24. The Certificate of Employer, which was also identical to the previous applications was signed by the President of Motivation Collections Inc.
25. In the course of processing Mr. Flewitt's application, the Registrar carried out a criminal record search of the Applicant. In the response to the Registrar's inquiry, the Registrar was made aware of the convictions for assault in 1996 and fail to comply with probation order in 1997.
26. By letter dated December 19, 2000, the Registrar wrote to the Applicant requesting an explanation for non disclosure of the convictions subsequent to the expiration of his registration on November 18, 1994 and confirmation from his employer that material submitted by the Applicant in response to that letter had been reviewed and discussed.
27. On December 20, 2000, the Manager of Motivation Collections Inc. forwarded a letter to the Registrar requesting cancellation of their previous application with the Applicant until this matter was resolved.
28. By letter dated December 29, 2000, the Applicant responded to the Registrar admitting the subsequent convictions. The Applicant stated that in September of 1997 he was applying to be a collector with Collectcom Credit Inc. and disclosed all additional offences to them. He was of the impression that Collectcom Credit Inc. had been in touch with the Registrar and that Registrar, therefore, had notice of the subsequent convictions. He also stated that a copy of that letter had been sent to Motivation Collections Inc.
29. On January 22, 2001, the Registrar wrote to the Applicant advising that they had no application from Collectcom Credit Inc. in September of 1997 nor any record of a conversation with the Registrar. The Applicant was again required to address the issues with an explanation for each of the charges.
30. On January 25, 2001, the Registrant replied to the Registrar via facsimile. The Registrant stated that the July 17, 1996 assault conviction arose as the result of a domestic dispute with a former live in girlfriend and that there were no physical injuries. One of the terms of his probation was that he was to have no contact with this girlfriend without her written consent. After his release, the parties decided to carry on the relationship and his girlfriend provided him with a written consent which was given to his Probation Officer. On January 21, 1997, a different Judge did not think that the consent was sufficient and he was convicted of failing to comply with Probation Order. He also noted that, as had been previously stated in his letter of December 29, 2000, those matters had been discussed and disclosed to Motivation Collections Inc. He also stated that he was applying for a Pardon.

31. The Registrar obtained Occurrence Reports from the Toronto Police Service which indicated, regarding the assault, that the Applicant had struck a female numerous times with a piece of driftwood causing significant bruising and lumps. Regarding the breach of probation, the report indicated that the Applicant had been removed from that female's residence once and later returned, entering through a locked window, and smashing a number of articles inside of the residence.
32. On May 11, 2001, the Registrar spoke with the Applicant by telephone and advised him that he was unwilling to register the Applicant as a collector.
33. On May 11, 2001, Motivation Collections Inc. wrote to the Registrar requesting that the application for a collector's licence for Gerald Flewitt immediately be cancelled and requesting a refund of their licence fee since the licence had never been approved.
34. On June 18, 2001, the Registrar received an application made on May 18, 2001, for registration of the Applicant as a collector under the Act. Question 10 on the application form, relating to prior convictions and pending charges had the box marked "yes" checked and the Applicant enclosed a letter from the York Regional Police attaching the complete list of convictions of the Applicant going back to December 1970.
35. The Registrar felt that the material facts upon which he originally was unwilling to register the Applicant had not changed and, therefore, the Registrar issued a Notice of Proposal to Refuse Registration on July 17, 2001. The Applicant requested a hearing before this Tribunal by Notice of Appeal dated August 1, 2001.

THE ISSUE:

The issue in this proceeding is whether the Registrar had sufficient grounds to refuse registration to the Applicant as a collector under the Collection Agencies Act.

THE LAW:

Under Section 6(1) of the Collection Agencies Act, an Applicant is entitled to registration by the Registrar, except where:

6.(1)(b) the past conduct of the Applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

Section 7(1) of the Act states as follows:

7.(1) Subject to Section 8, the Registrar may refuse to register an Applicant where in the Registrar's opinion the Applicant is disentitled to registration under Section 6.

Sections 8(4) and 8(5) set out the powers of the Tribunal at a hearing:

8(4) Where an Applicant or Registrant requires a hearing by the Tribunal in accordance with subsection (2), the Tribunal shall appoint a time for and hold the hearing and, on the application of the Registrar at the hearing may by order direct the Registrar to carry out the Registrar's proposal or refrain from carrying it out and to take such action as the Tribunal considers the Registrar ought to take in accordance with this Act and the regulations, and for such purposes the Tribunal may substitute its opinion for that of the Registrar.

8(5) The Tribunal may attach such terms and conditions to its order or to the registration, as it considers proper to give effect to the purposes of the Act.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

In these proceedings, the Registrar proposes to refuse registration to the Applicant on the basis of Section 6(1)(b) of the Act. Specifically, the Registrar maintains that the past conduct of the Applicant affords the Registrar reasonable grounds for belief that he will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

The Registrar gave evidence in this hearing that it was not so much the criminal record of the Applicant which gave him concern, but it was the Applicant's failure to disclose his criminal record on his application in 1992 and 1995. As well, the Applicant misled the Registrar in his December 4, 2000 application where he stated "as previously disclosed" and the Registrar had no information that the 1996 and 1997 convictions for assault and breach of probation were disclosed. In addition, the Applicant had materially mistated the fact as they relate to those criminal convictions in 1996 and 1997.

The Registrar stated that it was his responsibility to decide if the type of offences related to business activities or not and if they should have an effect on the Applicant obtaining a licence. Generally, the Registrar will look for criminal charges that involve dishonesty and fraud or theft and that is what the Registrar is most interested in as it concerns the Applicant's ability to carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Registrar will also consider crimes of violence because of the contact that a collector has with the public.

On behalf of the Applicant, Ellen Mae Sullivan, gave evidence regarding the convictions in 1996 for assault and 1997 for failure to comply with the Probation Order. She disagreed with the contents of the Police Occurrence Report, which stated that she was struck on the head with a piece of driftwood and suffered major bruises. Her evidence was that she has a very bad alcohol and drug problem and that she is very difficult to deal with while on drugs or intoxicated. It was her opinion that the bruises on her head were likely done by herself while in a drunken state and that the bruises on her arm were from Mr. Flewitt trying to restrain her. In relation to the conviction for failure to comply with the Probation Order, she stated that she had given Mr. Flewitt permission to see her again and that they had moved back in together and were trying to reconcile. On the night in question, Mr. Flewitt did not break in to the residence as the lock on the sliding door to the residence had already been broken and that the Applicant had a right to be there. Furthermore, the television that the Applicant broke was his own television.

The Applicant also gave evidence on his own behalf. The Applicant produced a transcript of the proceedings in criminal court on July 17, 1996. The Applicant's counsel, Mr. Gassee, represented to the Tribunal that a sentence in the transcript that the Court said "...there will not be a conviction on a finding of guilt" meant that there had been no conviction of Mr. Flewitt. The Tribunal does not agree with this submission of Mr. Gassee. It is evident on a reading of the transcript of the proceedings that the Crown had no evidence that a piece of driftwood was used during the assault and, therefore, they amended the charge by crossing out "causing bodily harm". There was, however, a conviction on common assault with a sentence of time served, which was twenty-six days and probation for twelve months. The Applicant on cross examination did not disagree with the 1996 conviction for assault, but maintained there was no driftwood involved and that it had occurred as Ms. Sullivan had testified.

Mr. Flewitt testified that he had been in the collection business since 1969. He had been licenced several times, but there were also many other times when he worked as a first party collector which did not require a collector to be licenced. Some of these times included five years with the Royal Bank and four years with Long & McQuade Music. He also indicated during all of the time that he was licenced that the Ministry had no record of any complaints on file about his conduct or performance. The Registrar had confirmed in his evidence that they had no record of any complaints against the Applicant.

The Applicant maintained that when he first started to be registered, the Registrar was not concerned about any criminal record except for those which involved fraud, theft or dishonesty.

When he had answered "no" to question 10 on the application regarding convictions, he thought that he was complying with the spirit of the law as the convictions which he had were non-industry related. It was only in 1995 that he became aware of his duty to disclose all convictions. Subsequent to that he did disclose all convictions.

The Applicant produced a paystub showing that he was employed for a short time in 1997 with Collectcom Credit Inc. and said while there he had filled out an application for registration and disclosed the 1996 and 1997 convictions. He maintained that there was a conversation between someone at Collectcom Credit Inc. by the name of Manju Jain and the then Registrar and that the application had been forwarded to the Registrar. That is why, when he completed the application on December 4, 2000, that he had marked "yes" as "previously disclosed". He had no knowledge that Collectcom Credit Inc. had not submitted the application. He stated that for the three months prior to this hearing he had been working as a trainer for Collectcom Credit Inc., teaching other collectors.

The leading case in this area is Brenner v. Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers and Salesmen 19 CRAT SCO Decisions and Orders (1971-1989) which was considered by the Divisional Court March 19, 1983, released on April 7, 1983. In overturning the Tribunal's granting of conditional registration to the Applicant and granting the Registrar's appeal, the Divisional Court stated, per Southey J.:

"The effect of Sec. 7 (4) is that the Tribunal should only have refused to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thought the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the Applicant afforded reasonable grounds for belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The Board does not appear to have directed itself to this question and makes no finding that, in its view, the past conduct of Brenner did not afford reasonable grounds for the belief that Brenner would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. Instead, the Board appears to have been preoccupied with sympathetic concern as to whether or not Brenner had genuinely reformed, and appears to have decided that it ought to give him a second chance because there was a possibility that he, indeed, might have reformed himself”.

The Divisional Court made it clear that the Tribunal is to review the Decision of the Registrar in order to determine whether or not he was in error coming to his conclusion. In the hearing before the Tribunal, the Tribunal steps into the shoes of the Registrar and makes a determination based upon all of the evidence produced at the hearing. The review includes an examination of the criminal record of the Applicant and a consideration of the explanations given by the Applicant regarding the prior convictions and may also take into account the reasons provided by the Applicant for his failure to disclose the prior convictions to the Registrar.

In the present case, the Applicant explained that he was of the opinion that he was complying with the spirit of the law in answering “no” to the question regarding prior convictions in his 1992 and 1995 application. It was his belief that since none of the convictions involved fraud, theft or dishonesty that the Registrar was not concerned with these convictions. It was a submission by the Applicant’s Counsel, Mr. Gassee, that the non disclosure was only a minor matter which should not affect the Applicant’s entitlement to registration. With this submission, the Tribunal does not agree. Non disclosure of a prior criminal record and misrepresentation in an application to that effect is a very serious matter. Because of the sheer volume of applications which are received by the Registrar, he may not always have the resources available to investigate every application. The Registrar, therefore, relies greatly upon the honesty of the applicants in answering the questions contained in the application. It, therefore, follows that if the Registrar grants registration to the an applicant based upon the applicant’s answers to the questions in his application, that non disclosure or misrepresentation becomes critical to the Registrar’s decision in granting or refusing registration.

The Applicant in the present case gave an explanation that he thought that he was complying with the law because at one time the Registrar may not have been overly concerned with any convictions that were not related to fraud, theft or dishonesty. The Tribunal does not consider ignorance of the registration procedure as an excuse for not complying with the requirements under the Act. Nonetheless, the Tribunal must balance this against other factors, such as, in this instance the absence of any complaints against the Applicant relating to his conduct and honesty in the industry. It will also take into account the Registrar’s position that he is not as interested in the Applicant’s record itself as he is in the non disclosure by the Applicant.

In the Applicant’s answer on the December 4, 2000 application, he answered “yes” to the question regarding prior convictions and included: as disclosed”. If the Applicant had not disclosed the 1996 and 1997 convictions, this would also have been considered as a very material misrepresentation by the Applicant. In the present case, however, the Applicant was under the belief that his previous employer had forwarded an application in 1997 which disclosed both of these offences and convictions. The Tribunal is somewhat concerned that the Applicant did not produce a witness from Creditcom Collect Inc. to verify the application at that time, however, he did produce a paystub to show that he was employed by that Company for a short time during 1997. It was also noted by the Tribunal that the Applicant was forth right in all responses to the Registrar's letters in a timely manner. With no evidence to contrary, the Tribunal accepts that the Applicant was under the impression that he had fully disclosed the two subsequent convictions to the Registrar by filling out the convictions on his 1997 application and it was through his employer's neglect that the Registrar had not received that application.

The Applicant is not completely without fault as he was mistaken in his belief requiring complete disclosure of all criminal convictions, not following up completely in providing details of all convictions, not advising the Registrar within five days of his changes of address as required under the Act and not following up with his employer on his 1997 application. In consideration of all evidence presented at the hearing, however, the Tribunal is of the opinion that the Registrar erred in his complete refusal to register the Applicant on the basis that the Applicant's past conduct afforded reasonable grounds for the belief that he would not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. On the evidence presented at this hearing, the Tribunal finds that the Registrar should have registered the Applicant on terms and conditions.

DECISION:

Pursuant to the authority vested in it by Section 8 (4) and (5) of the Collection Agencies Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to refrain from carrying out the Notice of Proposal dated July 17, 2001 and to grant registration to the Applicant upon the following terms and conditions:

1. Should the Applicant leave the employ of Collectcom Credit Inc., both the Applicant, Gerald William Flewitt and Collectcom Credit Inc. are to advise the Registrar, in writing, within three days of the termination date.
2. The Applicant, Gerald William Flewitt, will inform the Registrar immediately, in writing, if he is convicted on any further criminal offence.
3. The Applicant, Gerald William Flewitt, will notify both the Registrar and Collectcom Credit Inc. in writing, within five days of any change of his residential address and phone number.

4. Within thirty (30) days of being granted registration as a collector, the registrant shall certify to the Registrar, in writing, that he has studied the Collection Agencies Act and Regulation 74 and is familiar with all obligations of collectors and in particular sections 20 and 21 of Regulation 74.

PROKOFIEW

EWARYST PROKOFIEW

APPEAL FROM A PROPOSAL OF THE REGISTRAR
UNDER THE MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS ACT

TO REFUSE REGISTRATION

TRIBUNAL: DEREK ISRAEL, Vice-Chair

APPEARANCES: PETER COPELAND, Counsel, representing the Applicant
AVIVA R. HARARI, Counsel, representing the Registrar,
Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF
HEARING: December 10, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

Ewaryst Prokofiew (the "Applicant") appeals the Notice of Proposal of the Registrar of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Act") to refuse the registration of the Applicant as a motor vehicle salesperson. The Proposal was issued on July 30, 2001 pursuant to section 7(1) of the Act.

The reasons given by the Registrar in his Proposal for refusing the registration of the Applicant are as follows:

The intention and objective of the Act is to protect the public interest. The requirements of the Act include that Registrants be financially responsible in the conduct of business and that Registrants carry on business in accordance with the law and with integrity and honesty. The Applicant's past conduct is inconsistent with the intention and objective of the Act, and therefore warrants disentitlement to registration under the Act.

(Exhibit 4, Tab 1)

The particulars given by the Registrar in his Proposal to refuse the Applicant registration are as follows:

1. Ewaryst (Ed) Romuald Prokofiew submitted an application for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson to the Registrar on or about June 18, 2001.
2. Ewaryst (Ed) Romuald Prokofiew was convicted of possession of property obtained by crime on April 21, 1987.
3. There are currently 15 fraud charges pending against Prokofiew.

(Exhibit 4, Tab 1)

Subsequent to the Proposal, the Registrar issued a Notice of Further and Other Particulars dated November 27, 2001 which states as follows:

Paragraph 3 of the proposal dated July 30, 2001, is deleted and replaced with the following:
The applicant currently has the following charges pending:
Conspiracy to commit fraud x 2
Fraud x 8.

(Exhibit 4, Tab 2)

Counsel for the Applicant by written notice dated August 12, 2001, appealed the Registrar's Proposal in terms of Section 7(2) of the Act and gave as his reasons the following:

1. re: Refusal of Registration
There are no reasonable grounds to believe that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.
2. The Applicant is prepared to consent to reasonable terms and conditions being placed upon his registration.

(Exhibit 4, Tab 3)

THE EVIDENCE:

The evidence of the Registrar consisted of the testimony of Detective Constable Carey Smith and Ms. Mary Jane South. The Applicant did not testify at the hearing, but Mr. Robert Semblay did testify on his behalf. In addition to the oral testimony, there was documentary evidence introduced at the hearing.

The testimony of Detective Constable Carey Smith ("Smith") was that for the past 24 years he has been with the Halton Regional Police Service and since 1998 has been the lead investigator in an investigation titled "Project Phantom". This investigation involves the joint forces of the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC"), the R.C.M.P., the O.P.P., Revenue Canada and the Halton Regional Police Service.

Detective Constable Smith stated that the investigation has resulted in a preliminary inquiry being held to consider charges of fraud and conspiracy to commit fraud contrary to the Criminal Code of Canada which were brought against the Applicant and others. Pursuant to the inquiry, the Applicant has been ordered to stand for trial on two counts of conspiracy to commit fraud and eight counts of fraud. The Applicant has been released pending trial on the charges, having entered into a recognizance in terms of which he provided securities of Margaret and Robert Semblay in the amount of $300,000.00.

Detective Constable Smith described at some length the "Project Phantom" investigation which revolves around an alleged scheme to defraud the Federal Government of General Sales Tax (G.S.T.) on the sale of motor vehicles and heavy equipment. In support of these allegations, Detective Constable Smith described how the scheme operated and that the Applicant was a prime mover in the scheme.

Smith also testified that on April 21, 1987 the Applicant had been found guilty of possession of stolen property and was sentenced to pay a fine of $400.00 and in default thereof imprisonment for 30 days.

Ms. Mary Jane South testified that she is the Deputy Registrar appointed under the Act and has been employed by OMVIC since January 1995. She described OMVIC as a non-profit organization that was established to administer the Act and in so doing, to oversee and regulate all applicants for registration.

Ms. South stated that the basis for the Registrar's Proposal was the pending fraud charges brought against the Applicant and the 1987 criminal conviction against the Applicant. She reviewed the Applicant's written application for registration dated June 12, 2001 and stated that the Registrar makes no allegations of non disclosure by the Applicant in his application for registration. She conceded that the 1987 conviction and the pending charges had been disclosed by the Applicant in his application for registration. (Exhibit 4, Tab 4)

Ms. South did state that her concerns were the pending criminal charges against the Applicant and his alleged conduct that led to the pending charges. She also stated that the Applicant was originally registered as a motor vehicle salesperson in 1982 (Exhibit 4, Tab 7) and that on December 4, 1996 that registration was terminated when it lapsed. She also testified that there have been no complaints concerning the conduct of the Applicant that have been directed to the Registrar.

Upon the conclusion of the testimony of Detective Constable Smith and Ms. South the Registrar closed his case and the Applicant's counsel called Mr. Robert Semblay to testify on behalf of the Applicant.

Mr. Semblay testified that he is the owner/operator of an auto parts supplier and also sells and repairs used motor vehicles. He is a registered salesperson under the Act. He confirmed that he is a surety for the Applicant's bail in the sum of $300,000.00.

Mr. Semblay testified that he now employs the Applicant as a marketer of used auto parts. Mr. Semblay wishes to expand the scope and nature of his business. Subject to the registration of the Applicant as a salesperson, he wishes to utilize the services of the Applicant to generate used vehicle sales. He stated that he has previous dealings with the Applicant and his association with the Applicant spans close to 20 years, involving his selling motor vehicles to the firm or firms that employed the Applicant.

FACTS FOUND PROVEN:

The following are the facts the Tribunal has found proven.

- 1) The Applicant was originally registered as a motor vehicle salesperson under the Act on July 24, 1982.
- 2) The Applicant's registration as a motor vehicle salesperson was terminated on December 4, 1996 when his registration lapsed.
- 3) The Applicant applied to the Registrar for registration as a motor vehicle salesperson by written application dated June 12, 2001.
- 4) On April 21, 1987 the Applicant was convicted on a charge of possession of property obtained by crime and was sentenced to pay a fine of $400.00 and in default of payment to 30 days imprisonment.
- 5) The Applicant, pursuant to a preliminary inquiry, has been ordered to stand trial on
 - (a) unlawfully conspiring to commit two indictable offences to defraud the Government of Canada of monies of a value exceeding $5,000.00 contrary to sections 380(1)(a) and 465(1)(c) of the Criminal Code of Canada and
 - (b) defrauding the Government of Canada of monies of a value exceeding $5,000.00 contrary to section 380(1)(a) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

- 6) No complaints have been directed to the Registrar regarding the conduct of the Applicant respecting his activities as a motor vehicle salesperson.

THE ISSUE:

The issue to be decided by the Tribunal is whether the pending criminal charges against the Applicant and the 1987 conviction against him constitute past conduct that affords the Registrar reasonable grounds in terms of section 5(1)(b) of the Act for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

THE LAW:

7.(1) Where the Registrar proposes to refuse to grant or renew a registration or proposes to suspend or revoke a registration, the Registrar shall serve notice of the proposal, together with written reasons therefore, on the applicant or registrant.

(2) A notice under subsection (1) shall state that the applicant or registrant is entitled to a hearing before the Tribunal if the applicant or registrant mails or delivers, within fifteen days after service of the notice under subsection (1), notice in writing requiring a hearing to the Registrar and the Tribunal, and the applicant or registrant may so require a hearing.

.....

5(1) An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration by the Registrar except where,

(b) the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty; or

.....

(d) the applicant is carrying on activities that are, or will be, if the applicant is registered, in contravention of this Act or the regulations.

.....

6.(1) Subject to section 7, the Registrar may refuse to register an applicant where in the Registrar's opinion the applicant is disentitled to registration under section 5.

.....

DECISION AND REASONS:

The onus of proof rests upon the Registrar to prove the past conduct of the Applicant affords him reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

The two grounds upon which the Registrar basis his Proposal are:

- (a) The 10 pending criminal charges of fraud and conspiracy to commit fraud upon which the Applicant has been indicted, and
- (b) The April 21, 1987 criminal conviction registered against the Applicant when he was convicted of possession of property obtained by crime.

The Registrar does not allege that the Applicant failed to disclose the April 21, 1987 criminal conviction of possession of property obtained by crime. Further, the Registrar does not allege that the Applicant failed to disclose the criminal charges pending against him for fraud and conspiracy to commit fraud. Both the Applicant's 1987 criminal conviction and the pending charges against him were disclosed by the Applicant in his written application for registration dated June 12, 2001. (Exhibit 4, Tab 4)

The Tribunal should only refuse to direct the Registrar to carry out his proposal if it thinks the Registrar was in error in concluding that the past conduct of the Applicant afford reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. This was clearly stated in Brenner v. Ontario (Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers and Salesman) [1983] O.J. No. 1017, April 7, 1983. To overrule the decision of the Registrar, the Tribunal must conclude that he was wrong in his decision and that the conduct of the Applicant does not afford reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will in the future carry on activities in contravention of the Act and its Regulations.

The Tribunal's conclusions and the reasons for its conclusions, based upon the evidence, follow.

CRIMINAL CONVICTION OF APRIL 21, 1987

This conviction was recorded against the Applicant more than 15 years ago. Since this conviction the Applicant has had no criminal convictions registered against him. There is no evidence to indicate whether or not this conviction is industry related. The evidence indicates that the Applicant was originally registered as a motor vehicle salesperson on July 24, 1982 and that registration continued until it lapsed in December 1996. During the period of his registration, some 14 years, there was no complaint made to the Registrar as to his conduct as a motor vehicle salesperson. Ms. South, the Deputy Registrar under the Act conceded in her testimony that there have been to the best of her knowledge no complaints concerning the Applicant's conduct in the industry. The Act is a consumer protection statute and its purpose is to protect consumers in their dealings with motor vehicle dealers and salespersons. There is no evidence to indicate that consumers have been placed in jeopardy due to the 1987 conviction of the Applicant. The Applicant's conduct as a motor vehicle salesperson within the industry does not indicate that he will not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. In fact, his conduct in the industry, while he was registered, indicates he acted without the Registrar having any cause for concern.

The Tribunal finds that the 1987 criminal conviction of the Applicant, does not provide the Registrar with a reasonable ground to conclude that the Applicant will in the future not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

PENDING CRIMINAL CHARGES

There are presently 10 criminal charges pending against the Applicant. These charges relate to allegations of fraud and conspiracy to commit fraud.

According to the testimony of Detective Constable Carey Smith, these charges became the subject of a preliminary inquiry before Mr. Justice Morrison. The charges brought against the Applicant are of a serious nature with allegations that the Applicant participated a scheme to defraud the Government of Canada of general sales tax. Detective Constable Smith testified that prior to the various charges being brought against the Applicant and other co-conspirators, certain persons gave sworn and videotaped oral statements to the authorities. The transcripts of these statements were disclosed by the Registrar at the Tribunal's hearing into this matter.

None of the persons who made the sworn statements were called by the Registrar to testify at the hearing. The Tribunal was referred by the Registrar's counsel to certain pages of the sworn statements with the suggestion that it read such pages to familiarize itself with what was contained in the statements.

Neither the record of the proceedings at the preliminary hearing nor the Judge's reasons were given to the Tribunal. The Tribunal was only informed that at the conclusion of the preliminary inquiry the Applicant was committed for trial on 10 allegations of fraud and conspiracy to commit fraud. There have been no convictions registered against the Applicant in regard to any of the charges, they await trial. The fact that the Applicant has been committed for trial does not mean that there has been a finding of guilt on the charges. An order committing an accused for trial pursuant to a preliminary hearing establishes that there is evidence upon which a reasonable jury properly instructed could convict. A conviction may or may not follow.

There are various cases that have dealt with "directed verdicts" when an accused is committed for trial after a preliminary hearing. In the matter of R v. Mezzo [1985] 1 S.C.R. 802 the Court held that in deciding whether to grant a motion for a directed verdict, the trial judge must determine "whether or not there is any evidence upon which a reasonable jury properly instructed could return a verdict of guilty". The Court went on to hold that a trial judge is not entitled to withdraw a case from a jury where there is admissible evidence which could, if believed, result in a conviction, notwithstanding the frailties of the evidence.

At that point, it is not the judge's function to weigh or consider the quality of the evidence. The weight that should be given to the evidence, like questions of credibility, are matters for the jury only.

In the matter of Monteleone v. The Queen 35 C.C.C. (3d) 193 it was held that on an application for a directed verdict of acquittal the court is not concerned with the issue of guilt or innocence but merely whether there is before the court any admissible evidence, whether direct or circumstantial which, if believed by a properly charged jury acting reasonably, would justify a conviction. If there is, then the trial judge is not justified in directing a verdict of acquittal. It is not the function of the judge to weigh the evidence, to test its quality or reliability once the determination of its admissibility has been made. It is not for the judge to draw inferences of fact from the evidence before him.

Here, the Applicant's indictments following upon the preliminary inquiry are allegations which still have to be tested at trial. The charges under the indictments remain charges which will be dealt with at trial. Convictions may or may not follow.

The Tribunal is of the opinion that the Registrar has been incorrect in concluding that pending criminal charges which have not been proven in court give him reasonable grounds for belief that the Applicant will in the future not carry on business in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty.

DECISION:

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 7(4) of the Motor Vehicle Dealer Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to refrain from carrying out the Registrar's proposal to refuse registration of the Applicant under the Act.

In accordance with Section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, and subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, (hereinafter the "Act") the parties to the proceeding, Mohamad El Masri and Ultimate Fine Autos Inc. (hereinafter referred to as "the Applicants"), and the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (hereinafter the "Registrar") waive the requirement of a hearing and hereby consent to an Order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal based on the following terms and conditions:

1. The Applicants acknowledge and understand that they will not retain the services of a salesperson unless the salesperson is registered as a salesperson to the Applicants.
2. The Applicants acknowledge that Ahmad El Masri will in no way, either directly or indirectly be involved with the operation or financing of the business. The Applicants further acknowledge and understand that Ahmad El Masri will not be permitted on the Applicant's registered premises.
3. The Applicants further acknowledge that the restrictions concerning the activities of a salesperson referred to in these terms and conditions applies to buying, selling and leasing on behalf of a dealer. "Buying, selling and leasing" refers to showing a vehicle to a prospective purchaser or any form of negotiation concerning the purchase, sale or lease of a motor vehicle and is not limited to the signing of contracts. This further includes attendance at auctions on behalf of the Applicants.
4. The Applicants agree to maintain a sign at the Applicants' registered premise that will be visible to the public stating the name and toll free telephone number for The Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council ("OMVIC") informing the public that they have the right to forward their complaints to OMVIC. The Applicants further agree to stamp a similar disclosure on all copies of their bills of sale.
5. The Applicants agree to operate exclusively from the location approved by the Registrar. The Applicants agree to apply for the Registrar's approval, by way of prior written notice, of any change in location in the form required by the Registrar.
6. The Applicants agree not to invite the public to deal at a place other than their approved location.

7. The Applicants will not conduct any purchases with anyone who is in the business of buying and selling motor vehicles without confirming that they are registered as a Dealer under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.
8. The Applicants will ensure that all advertisements placed by or on behalf of the Applicants will identify their registered name and the address of the location approved by the Registrar.
9. The Applicants will ensure that any vehicles sold are registered in the name of the purchaser before releasing the vehicle to the purchaser.
10. The Applicants will not purchase vehicles without ensuring that the vehicle is registered to the seller.
11. The Applicants agree to register all vehicles purchased within 6 days in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act.
12. The Applicants acknowledge and understand that their registration will not be used to buy or sell motor vehicles where the Applicants know or ought to know that the purchase or sale of those motor vehicles will facilitate an illegal or unethical practice.
13. The Applicants agree to provide full and accurate disclosure on any applications, documents, statements or other form of communication/information provided to the Registrar or her authorized representatives regardless of previous disclosure.
14. The Applicants agree that they are under a positive obligation to disclose all material facts in writing about the vehicles they sell to their customers. Material facts include but are not limited to salvage, previous salvage, frame and unibody damage, rebuilt, accident repair, theft recovery, prior use as a police cruiser or taxicab and branded vehicles. The Applicants agree to make reasonable efforts to research the history of all their vehicles prior to sale to ensure all material facts are disclosed. The Applicants agree that should any information come to light, which the Registrar deems to be a material fact concerning a vehicle the Applicants have sold, the Applicants will comply with all reasonable requests made by the Registrar to provide compensation to the purchaser.
15. The Applicants agree that where a vehicle's odometer reading is unknown the Applicant's are under a positive obligation to disclose in writing the last known mileage and that the true mileage is unknown. The Applicant's further agree that if they exchange or repair an odometer they will do so in accordance with the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act and ensure that the identical reading appears on the new odometer.
16. The Applicants will comply with the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council's Code of Ethics and Standards of Business Practice.

17. The Applicants agree to maintain a garage register in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act and will maintain all books and records as required by the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act. The Applicants agree that all books and records relating to motor vehicles sold or leased by or on behalf of the Applicant before and after registration shall be kept at the Dealer's registered premises and be readily available for inspection. The Applicants further agree to provide free access to his books and records to any authorized representative of the Registrar without any prior notice being given.

Mohamad El Masri (Initials)

18. The Applicants agree that they will not be involved with the buying and selling of motor vehicles without the benefit of registration.
19. Mohamad El Masri agrees to immediately enrol in the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council's Automotive Certification Course and to be responsible for all fees in relation to enrolment. The Applicant further acknowledges that he will pass the certification course within 60 days of having his registration reinstated pursuant to this Order.
20. The Applicants acknowledge that the Registrar may take administrative action, including a proposal to revoke their registration as a motor vehicle salesperson arising from any matters that have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future related to their financial circumstances and their honesty and integrity.
21. The Applicants acknowledge that the Registrar may take legal action, including a Provincial Offences prosecution, arising from their actions related to the sale of motor vehicles that may have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future.
22. The Applicants agree and acknowledge that should they breach any of the terms and conditions set out herein, in whole or in part, the Registrar is directed to and shall carry out the proposal.
23. The Applicants hereby consents to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, which may include the Terms and Conditions set out herein.
24. The Applicants hereby withdraw their appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.
25. The Applicants hereby acknowledge that they have obtained or have had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to his consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

UNDER THE TRAVEL INDUSTRY ACT

TO REVOKE REGISTRATION

APPEARANCES: STEVEN EWING-CHOW, Agent, representing the Applicant
TREVOR BRANION, Counsel, representing the Registrar,
Travel Industry Act

DATE OF HEARING: November 29, 2001 Toronto

REASONS FOR DECISION AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") from a Notice of Proposal (the "Proposal") issued by the Registrar of the Travel Industry Act (the "Registrar") pursuant to Section 6 of the Travel Industry Act (the "Act"). The Proposal, dated September 5, 2001, seeks to revoke the registration of 1017864 Ontario Inc. o/a Comforts in Travel (the "Registrant") under the Act. The Registrar alleges that the Registrant has failed to adhere to the trust accounting requirements of Regulation 806/93 made under the Travel Industry Act (the "Regulation"), has failed to meet its financial obligations to tour operators, has failed to submit its financial statements as required by the Regulation, and has a history of failing to comply with the Form 1 filing requirements of the Regulation.

ISSUE:

Does the Registrar have sufficient grounds for revoking the registration of the Registrant under the Act?

FACTS:

The evidence presented by the Registrar consisted of the testimony of Pamela Stout and Scott Alexander McBride as well as documentary evidence introduced through them. The Registrant introduced evidence through the testimony of Steven Ewing-Chow.

TESTIMONY OF MS. PAMELA STOUT:

Ms. Stout stated that she is a financial inspections coordinator and inspector for the Travel Industry Council of Ontario ("TICO"). She testified that on July 19, 2001 she received a complaint from Suvara Travels Canada Inc., a registered travel wholesaler, alleging that it was owed monies as a result of NSF cheques from the Registrant. Ms. Stout stated that she attempted to call the Registrant, but both the business and the home telephone numbers of the Registrant were out of service.

Ms. Stout also said that on July 23, 2001 she received a complaint from Skylink Holidays Ltd., a registered travel wholesaler, alleging that it had not received payment from the Registrant for a passenger that was due to depart Toronto on July 30. Ms. Stout reached the Registrant at its business telephone number and spoke to Mr. Ewing-Chow. When she asked Mr. Ewing-Chow where the money went, she was told: "I have to live.". Ms. Stout then scheduled an inspection of the Registrant by Mr. McBride for July 30, 2001.

Ms. Stout further testified that a complaint was received by TICO from G.G. Travel Agency Ltd. enclosing an NSF cheque issued by the Registrant to G.G. Tours dated July 11, 2001 for $1,190.00. A copy of the cheque was provided to Ms. Stout.

Ms. Stout stated that she spoke to Mr. Ewing-Chow of the Registrant on or about July 31, 2001, after the inspection by Mr. McBride. She asked Mr. Ewing-Chow when he could look after the NSF cheques, and he replied that he would take care of them the week of August 6, 2001. Ms. Stout testified that on August 13 she saw Mr. Michael Pepper, Registrar, Travel Industry Act, sign the letter set out at tab 11 of exhibit 4. The letter states in part: "You advised Pamela Stout, of this office, on July 31, 2001, that you would replace any and all NSF cheques to suppliers, 'the week of August 6.' It has been brought to our attention that payment has not been received by the suppliers.". No response was received from the Registrant to that letter.

On August 16, Ms. Stout testified, she telephoned Skylink Holidays Ltd. to ask about the total owing from the Registrant. In response she received the printout set out at tab 12 of exhibit 4 showing $1,891.57 as owing for over 21 days.

Ms. Stout said that she also telephoned Suvara Travels Canada Inc. and asked how much the Registrant still owed to them. She received a letter dated August 28, 2001 set out at tab 13 of exhibit 4 stating that $2,835.55 is owed.

Ms. Stout further testified that TICO had received a cheque for $100 improperly drawn on the trust account of the Registrant, apparently the fee for this appeal.

On May 22, 2001 and again on October 15, 2001, Ms. Stout sent letters to the Registrant requesting financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2001. Those financial statements have not been received to date.

On September 2, 2001, Ms. Stout faxed to the Registrant a request for Form 1 and the associated payment to TICO for the period ending May 31, 2001 that was due July 15, 2001. Neither the completed form nor the payment has been received to date.

Ms. Stout also stated that the Registrant has repeatedly filed Form 1 and the associated payment late in prior years. She submitted supporting computer printouts, set out at tab 18 of exhibit 4.

Ms. Stout further identified the document at tab 2 of exhibit 4 as the acknowledgement of terms and conditions of registration signed by Mr. Ewing-Chow on behalf of the Registrant. That document refers to various requirements including holding all monies that the Registrant receives from the public for travel services in trust, operating trust accounts in accordance with section 36 of Ontario Regulation 806/93, and filing financial statements in accordance with section 24 of the Regulation.

TESTIMONY OF MR. SCOTT ALEXANDER McBRIDE:

Mr. McBride stated that he is a Certified General Accountant and an inspector designated by the Registrar to conduct on-site inspections. He testified that he has done 300 - 400 inspections.

Mr. McBride said that on July 27, 2001 he performed an inspection of the Registrant. From information provided by Mr. Ewing-Chow, Mr. McBride stated that he concluded that the general account of the Registrant was overdrawn and was not being used. By comparing information on trust account cheque stubs with a computer printout of transactions in the trust account, Mr. McBride said that he found numerous instances of cheques to travel service providers being returned NSF. He also found cheques drawn on the trust account for operating expenses such as rent, payroll, and telephone charges. Mr. McBride drew these irregularities to the attention of Mr. Ewing-Chow. Mr. McBride testified that he was told by Mr.

Ewing-Chow that due to a cash shortage, all transactions were being processed through the trust account.

TESTIMONY OF MR. STEVEN EWING-CHOW:

Mr. Ewing-Chow stated that the Registrant employs two travel agents, including himself. He testified that he is the president and director of the Registrant.

Mr. Ewing-Chow admitted that he still owes about $2,400 to travel service providers. He stated that he should be able to pay the outstanding sums in full by the end of spring.

Also, Mr. Ewing-Chow admitted that he wrote cheques on the trust account for operating expenses.

Mr. Ewing-Chow said that he still has not made a Form 1 filing and associated compensation fund contribution based on financial statements for last year. He stated that he does the book-keeping for the Registrant and that he is behind.

Mr. Ewing-Chow said that no customer was hurt by the irregularities in his trust account.

THE LAW:

Section 5(2) of the Travel Industry Act states:

"Subject to section 6, the Registrar may refuse to renew or may suspend or revoke a registration for any reason that would disentitle the registrant to registration under section 4 if he, she or it were an applicant, or where the registrant is in breach of a term or condition of the registration."

Section 4 of the Act states in part:

"An applicant is entitled to registration or renewal of registration as a travel agent or travel wholesaler by the Registrar except where...

"the applicant is a corporation and, ...

"having regard to its financial position, it cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of its business, or

"the past conduct of its officers or directors affords reasonable grounds for belief that its business will not be carried on in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty...".

Section 24(1) of Ontario Regulation 806/93 states:

"Every registrant shall file with the Registrar the financial statements required by this section for each fiscal year."

Section 24(2) of the Regulation adds in part:

"If the registrant had sales of less than $10 million during the pervious fiscal year, the registrant shall file, within three months of the end of the fiscal year,

"annual financial statements with a review engagement report...or annual financial statements with an audit opinion...".

Section 44 of the Regulation states in part:

"Every registrant shall participate in the Compensation Fund and shall comply with the terms of the Fund set out in this Part."

Section 47(1) of the Regulation sets out in part:

"A travel agent shall, twice a year, make payments to the Council in the amount that is the greater of the following...".

Section 47(5) adds:

"A payment under this section shall be accompanied by a completed return, in the form provided by the Council, indicating the sales of the registrant for the reporting period and the amount of payments owing to the Council." In other words, filing of Form 1 is required with the payment.

Section 36(1) of the Regulation partly states the following:

"A registrant shall maintain a trust account to protect customer funds...".

Section 36(3) adds:

"A registrant required to maintain a trust account under subsection (1) shall hold all customer funds in trust...".

Section 36(6) further adds:

"No registrant shall disburse or withdraw any money held in a trust account under subsection (1) until payment is made to the supplier of the travel services for which the money was received."

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The Tribunal finds that:

- 1) the Registrant failed to file financial statements in accordance with section 24 of Ontario Regulation 806/93,
- 2) the Registrant failed to file a return and failed to make payment in accordance with section 47 of the Regulation,
- 3) the Registrant did not operate its trust account in accordance with section 36 of the Regulation,
- 4) the Registrant breached its terms and conditions of registration,
- 5) the general account of the Registrant did not have sufficient funds to meet the Registrant's financial obligations,
- 6) the Registrant owes money to travel service providers, and
- 7) the Registrant used trust funds to pay operating expenses.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Counsel for the Registrar appropriately referred to Brenner v. Ontario (Registrar of Motor Vehicle Dealers and Salesmen), [1983] O.J. No. 1017 as authority for the legal test to be used by the Tribunal being: "Was the Registrar in error?".

On the facts as found, the Tribunal finds that the decision by the Registrar was not in error. The Registrant is in breach of its terms and conditions of registration. The Registrar does have reasonable grounds for belief that the Registrant's business will not be carried on in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty, and that, having regard to the financial position of the Registrant, it cannot reasonably be expected to be financially responsible in the conduct of its business. Thus, under sections 5 and 6 of the Act, the Registrar does have sufficient grounds to revoke the registration of the Registrant.

DECISION:

Accordingly, by virtue of the authority vested in it under section 6(4) of the Travel Industry Act, the Tribunal directs the Registrar to carry out his proposal to revoke the registration of 1017864 Ontario Inc. o/a Comforts in Travel as a travel agent under the Act.

DATE OF
PRE-HEARING: November 30, 2001 Toronto

ORDER

Following attendances on November 30, 2001 at a pre-hearing before this Tribunal of James K. deRoux, Agent on behalf of Charles Meek DBA Meek Motors and Charles Meek (the "Applicants") and Patrick Moore, Counsel, on behalf of the Director of Vehicle Inspection Standards ("the Director");

The Tribunal makes the following Order respecting the hearing scheduled to commence at the Tribunal's Chambers, 1 St. Clair, Avenue West, 12th Floor, Toronto, Ontario at 9:30 a.m., on Tuesday, January 15, 2002;

1. The Parties to the hearing are
 - (a) Charles Meek DBA Meek Motors;
 - (b) Charles Meek; and
 - (c) The Director of Vehicle Inspection Standards
2. The Respondent will present testimony and evidence from four witnesses, all of whom are MTO Inspectors: Officer John Tomasone, Officer Ron McGee, Officer Glen Mckee, and possibly former Inspector Helmut Beintner (retired). Each witness will testify as experts to give information regarding vehicle safety standards, vehicle inspections, annual inspection stickers, and facility inspections that led to convictions or cautions against the Applicant. The Respondent's witness will rely upon notes, Field Inspection Reports, and MTO records from the Ministry computerized data base.
3. The Applicant will call three witnesses: Mr. Charles Meek, Mr. Bev Matthews, and perhaps Michael matthews. Bev Matthews operates a business in conjunction with the Applicant. The Applicants' witnesses will testify that the circumstances of this case are not appropriate for the revocation of Charles Meek Motors licences as a motor vehicle inspection station and the revocation of the registration of Charles Meek as a motor vehicle inspection mechanic.
4. At issue for the Applicants is whether there are sufficient grounds for the revocations, and the Respondents position is that the body of evidence is sufficient for the revocation.

The parties present at the pre hearing recorded that there was no resolution of the issues between them.

5. It was confirmed at the Prehearing Conference that the Director has issued a Notice to Revoke Charles Meek d/b/a Meek Motor's licence as a Motor Vehicle Inspection Station pursuant to clause 91(8)(a) and (e) of the Highway Traffic Act (the "Act") and Charles Meek's registration as a Motor Vehicle Inspection Mechanic and clauses 91(8)(a) and (e) and clauses 93(a) and (c) of the Highway Traffic Act, the Notice to Revoke being dated August 15, 2001.

6. It was determined that the filing dates with the Tribunal of submissions and documents to be used in the hearing by both parties would occur on or before Friday January 4, 2002.

Both parties will file five copies with the Tribunal and deliver one copy to all parties. It was confirmed that the Tribunal requires full disclosure 10 days prior to the hearing.

DATE OF
PRE-HEARING: December 7, 2001

ORDER

A Pre-hearing between the parties was held on December 7, 2001 in Toronto at 1 St. Clair Avenue West, 12th Floor as set forth in the Tribunal's Notice of Pre-hearing Conference dated November 27, 2001.

The Tribunal makes the following Orders respecting the hearing:

1. The hearing date has been set for 9:30 a.m. on Monday, January 28, 2002 and to continue January 29, 2002, if necessary at the Tribunal's Chambers, 1 St. Clair Avenue West, 12th Floor, Toronto, Ontario.
2. It was determined that the filing dates with the Tribunal of submissions and documents to be used in the hearing by both parties would occur on or before Friday, January 18, 2002.

Both parties will file five copies with the Tribunal and deliver one copy to all parties. It was confirmed that the Tribunal requires full disclosure 10 days prior to the hearing.

3. The Respondent will present evidence and testimony from one witness, Carrier Safety Rating Administrator Louis Janetos. Officer Janetos will introduce all documents, and analyses on file with the MTO. His evidence will focus on the involvement of the MTO with the Applicant over the past two years, as well as the history of several related companies prior to 1995. The evidence will include the Applicant's CVOR record, facility audit results, and accident records.
4. The Applicant expects to present three witnesses, including Mr. Joe Nunes who is a principle of the company, a consultant from Canadian Safety Compliance Consulting, and possibly Mr. Victor Bento, a dispatcher for the Applicant.

Mr. Nunes will testify to the management of the company, and to the kinds of initiatives being done to improve the safety record of the Applicant. He will also explain the situation regarding the non-payment of fines, and to the history of the problems with the earlier companies.

The witness from the Canadian Safety Compliance Consulting firm will detail the plan implemented and the steps taken by the Applicant to bring the company into a higher state of compliance.

Mr. Bento will give evidence regarding his role as a dispatcher for the Applicant at the time of an accident, and the steps taken following the incident, including a summary of the processes and administrative procedures of the Applicant.

5. Among the issues to be raised by the Respondent will be the safety record of the Applicant as per the Notice, the unpaid fines, and the connections between the Applicant companies and the other companies related to the Applicant that had experienced earlier problems with compliance.
6. Among the issues to be raised by the Applicant is that in their view, the sanction being imposed upon them is overly harsh, and inappropriate, and that there did not appear to be any warning given by the MTO or any pro-active measures taken by the Ministry to justify the sanction.
7. The Applicant agreed at this pre-hearing to provide the Respondent with a letter detailing specifically what are the alleged factual errors on the Applicant's CVOR record, as referred to in the Notice of Appeal. This letter is to be provided to the Respondent as part of the Applicant's disclosure.
8. The parties present at the prehearing recorded that there was no resolution of the issues between the parties.
9. It was outlined at the prehearing Conference that:

The Registrar has issued a 21 day Suspension and Seizure Order dated October 11, 2001 pursuant to section 50(1) of the Highway Traffic Act, as of October 22, 2001 for Ferrel Equipment Leasing, and thereafter until such time as all out standing fines are paid.

Respondent

WAIVER AND CONSENT

In accordance with section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, the parties hereto waive the requirement of a hearing and consent to a Decision in writing based upon the following Agreed Statement of Facts and Joint Submission.

AGREED STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. Amral's Travel Canada Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as "the Registrant") has been registered as a travel agent (registration number 1549537/R) under the Travel Industry Act, R.S.O., c. T-19, as amended (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") since March 21, 1983. The Registrant is also registered as a travel wholesaler (registration number 4542676/W). The Registrant's fiscal year end is December 31st.
2. The Registrant was late filing its Form 1 and making the corresponding payment to the Travel Industry Council of Ontario ("TICO") as summarized by paragraphs 3 through 8.
3. The Registrant's Form 1 filing for its fiscal half-year ended June 30, 2001 was due by August 15, 2001.
4. By August 15, 2001, the Registrant did not submit its Form 1 filing along with the corresponding payment to TICO.
5. By letter dated August 21, 2001, TICO advised the Registrant that it had failed to file its Form 1 for the period ended June 30, 2001. TICO also advised the Registrant to make the required filing and payment by September 4, 2001.
6. On September 7, 2001, TICO sent a second request, which gave the Registrant until September 21, 2001 to make its filing, failing which a proposal to revoke the Registrant's registration would be issued.

7. By October 9, 2001, the Registrant had failed to make its Form 1 filing. On that date, the Registrar issued a Proposal to Revoke the Registrant's registration.
8. On October 12, 2001, the Registrant made its Form 1 filing.
9. The Registrant has a history of late filing and failing to maintain minimum working capital as summarized by paragraphs 10 through 33.
10. By letter dated June 6, 1994, the Registrant gave an undertaking that shareholder advances to the Registrant would not be removed until such time as it could be done without creating a working capital deficiency.
11. The Registrant's financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1994, which were due by March 31, 1995, were received on May 2, 1995. These statements revealed a working capital shortfall of $9,393.00 based on the Registrant's reported sales of $1,228,744.00.
12. By letter dated May 2, 1995, the Ontario Travel Industry Inspections Office advised the Registrant of the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 1994 financial statements and that the shortfall must be corrected.
13. On May 16, 1995, the Registrant provided evidence of a capital injection to correct the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 1994 financial statements.
14. The Registrant's financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1995, which were due by March 31, 1996, were received on May 17, 1996. These statements revealed a working capital shortfall of $37,461.00 based on the Registrant's reported sales of $1,744,669.00.
15. By letters dated June 18th and July 10th 1996, the Ontario Travel Inspections Office advised the Registrant of the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 1995 financial statements and that the shortfall must be corrected.
16. On July 27, 1996, the Registrant provided evidence of a capital injection to correct the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 1995 financial statements.
17. The Registrant's financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1996, which were due by March 31, 1997, were received on May 13, 1997. These statements revealed a working capital shortfall of $38,070.00 based on the Registrant's reported sales of $1,881,005.00.
18. By letter dated May 15, 1997, the Ontario Travel Inspections Office advised the Registrant of the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 1996 financial statements and that the shortfall must be corrected.
19. On June 16, 1997, the Registrant provided evidence of a capital injection to correct the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 1996 financial statements.
20. On January 20, 1998, the Registrant consented to Terms and Conditions of Registration, which required, among other items, that the Registrant maintain a minimum working capital of $15,000.00.
21. The Registrant's financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1997, which were due by March 31, 1998, were received on May 12, 1998. These statements revealed a working capital shortfall of $33,898.00 based on the Registrant's reported sales of $441,821.00.

22. By letters dated June 17th and September 16th 1998, the Travel Industry Council of Ontario ("TICO") advised the Registrant of the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 1997 financial statements and that the shortfall must be corrected.
23. On September 18, 1998, the Registrant provided evidence of a capital injection to partially address its working capital shortfall. It required an additional injection of $14,928.00 to comply with the working capital requirements as consented to by the Registrant on January 20, 1998.
24. By letter dated September 28, 1998, TICO advised the Registrant that its working capital still reflected a shortfall.
25. On November 27, 1998, the Registrant provided evidence of a capital injection to correct its working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 1997 financial statements.
26. The Registrant's financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1999, which were due by March 31, 2000, were received on May 30, 2000. These statements revealed a working capital shortfall of $21,444.00 based on the Registrant's reported sales of $1,160,433.00.
27. By letter dated June 6, 2000, TICO advised the Registrant of the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 1999 financial statements and that the shortfall must be corrected.
28. On June 25, 2000, the Registrant provided evidence of a $10,000.00 shareholder advance to partially address the working capital shortfall and advised TICO that interim financial statements would be provided.
29. By letter dated August 1, 2000, the Registrar advised the Registrant that TICO had not received evidence that the Registrant had corrected its working capital shortfall. If the Registrant did not present such evidence by August 11, 2000, the Registrar would initiate a proposal to revoke the Registrant's registration.
30. On August 14, 2000, the Registrant provided interim financial statements for the period ended June 30, 2000. The statements, as submitted, revealed a working capital shortfall of $1,487.00. The Registrant also provided evidence of a capital injection to bring its working capital into compliance.
31. The Registrant's financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2000, which were due by March 31, 2001, were received on June 29, 2001. These statements revealed a working capital shortfall of $51,484.00 based on the Registrant's reported sales of $1,605,660.00.
32. By letters dated July 18th and August 8th 2001, TICO advised the Registrant of the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 2000 financial statements and that the shortfall must be corrected.
33. To date, the Registrant has not provided satisfactory evidence that it has corrected the working capital shortfall reflected in its December 31, 2000 financial statements.
34. The parties agree that the facts set out in the above-noted document are true.

JOINT SUBMISSION

Accordingly, the parties consent to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal under subsections 6 (4) and (5) of the Travel Industry Act directing that:

1. the Registrar refrain from carrying out the Proposal to Revoke Registration dated October 9, 2001;
2. the Registrant's registration is to be subject to the following terms and conditions:
 - (a) The Registrant shall correct any and all working capital deficiencies and provided proof of such correction to the Registrar's satisfaction by January 31, 2002;
 - (b) The Registrant shall file complete financial statements as required by section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time, for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2001, no later than March 31, 2002;
 - (c) The Registrant shall file complete financial statements as required by section 24 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2002, no later than March 31, 2003;
 - (d) If the above-noted financial statements as filed are incomplete and/or reveal an insufficient working capital amount, the Registrant will have 30 days from the date of notice of the amount of the deficiency to fully and completely address any deficiency and produce proof of such correction to the Registrar. Notice of the working capital deficiency, if any, shall be sent by registered mail to the Registrant;
 - (e) The Registrant shall complete its Form 1 filing for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2001 and make all applicable payments to TICO by February 15, 2002, as required by section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;
 - (f) The Registrant shall complete its Form 1 filing for its fiscal half-year ending June 30, 2002 and make all applicable payments to TICO by August 15, 2002, as required by section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;
 - (g) The Registrant shall complete its Form 1 filing for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2002 and make all applicable payments to TICO by February 15, 2003, as required by section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time;
 - (h) The Registrant shall complete its Form 1 filing for its fiscal half-year ending June 30, 2003 and make all applicable payments to TICO by August 15, 2003, as required by section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time; and
 - (i) The Registrant shall complete its Form 1 filing for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2003 and make all applicable payments to TICO by February 15, 2004, as required by section 47 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time.
 - (j) The Registrant shall at all times maintain sufficient funds to cover its customer obligations. Such funds shall be maintained in a properly designated "Travel Industry Act Trust Account" and in accordance with the trust accounting requirements as stipulated in section 36 of the Regulation or such subsequent provision as may be in force from time to time.

3. Should the Registrant fail to comply with conditions listed in paragraphs (2) (a) to (j) inclusive, the Registrar shall revoke the Registrant's registration on five (5) days written notice sent via hand delivery or by registered mail.
4. This order shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of each of the parties to this order.

INDEPENDENT LEGAL ADVICE

The Registrant further acknowledges by its signature below that it has obtained or has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to its consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

PREHEARING

IN THE MATTER OF an application by Green Way Ltd. dated October 26, 2001 for a hearing before the Licence Appeal Tribunal pursuant to section 50(1) of the Highway Traffic Act, to consider the appeal of the Suspension and Seizure Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles dated October 16, 2001;

AND IN THE MATTER of the Commercial Vehicle Operator's Registration
CVOR # 128-193-377 issued to Green Way Ltd.;

AND IN THE MATTER of the safety record of Green Way Ltd.;

APPEARANCES: PATRICK MOORE, Counsel for the Respondent
RANDALL BURCH, Agent for the Applicant

A Pre-hearing between the parties was held on November 26, 2001 in Toronto at 1 St. Clair Avenue West, 12th Floor as set forth in the Tribunal's Notice of Pre-hearing Conference dated November 9, 2001.

The Tribunal makes the following Orders respecting the hearing:

1. The hearing dates have been set for 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, January 30, 2002 and to continue on January 31, 2002, if necessary at the Tribunal's Chambers, 1 St. Clair Avenue West, 12th Floor, Toronto, Ontario.
2. It was determined that the filing dates with the Tribunal of submissions and documents to be used in the hearing by both parties would occur on or before January 21, 2002.

Both parties will file five copies with the Tribunal and deliver one copy to all parties. It was confirmed that the Tribunal requires full disclosure 10 days prior to the hearing.

3. The Respondent will present evidence and testimony from one witness, Carrier Safety Rating Administrator Brenadette McKenna. Ms. McKenna will evidence of all the Applicant's records and information, including the Applicant's CVOR, accident and conviction history, facility audit report and show cause meeting notes, as well as detail the procedural steps taken by the MTO.
4. The Applicant will present evidence and testimony from three witnesses: Mr. Alex Sheremtov, an owner of the Company, Mr. Alex Bluvshiteyn, the Safety Officer for Greenway Ltd, and Mr. Peter Suess, a transportant consultant.

Mr. Suess will present evidence that the Applicant has gone ahead with the installation of a computer system that will track internal safety and administrative functions of the Company, including driver training, maintenance, and records. Mr. Seuss will also present internal log audits, and DOT records.

Mr. Alex Bluvshiteyn will give testimony regarding the random audits and checks being done on drivers. He will also testify that as the company grew and drivers aquired new vehicles, they were unaware that the MTO did not automatically update the Applicant's CVOR records, and that the increasing number of trucks was not reflected in the CVOR records.

5. Among the issues to be raised by the Respondent will be the safety record of the Applicant as the basis of the Registrar's October 16, 2001 Order, including, conviction, out of service rates, and accidents.

6. Among the issues to be raised by the Applicant will be the point weighting of an accident, the calculation of the fleet size for the purposes of the CVOR, and the Applicants record since December of 2000.
7. It was outlined at the Prehearing Conference that:

The Registrar has issued a 21 day Suspension and Seizure Order dated October 16, 2001 pursuant to section 50(1) of the Highway Traffic Act, as of October 29 , 2001 for Greenway Ltd.
8. The parties present at the prehearing recorded that there was no resolution of the issues between the parties.
9. The Applicant will provide, at its own expense, a Certified Court Interpreter who is accredited through the Provincial Court System, to provide translation services in the English and Russian languages.
10. At the hearing of this matter, the Tribunal will be asked to review in detail a time period of approximately two years prior to the Suspension Order, from approximately January, 1999, until the date of the Order.

In accordance with Section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, and subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, (hereinafter the "Act") the parties to the proceeding, Joanne May Walsh o/a Alpine Auto Sales (hereinafter referred to as the "Dealer"), and the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (hereinafter the "Registrar") waive the requirement of a hearing and hereby consent to an Order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal based on the following terms and conditions:

1. The Dealer agrees to comply with any repayment arrangements entered into with the Ministry of Finance.
2. The Dealer agrees to comply with all aspects of the Retail Sales Tax Act, and with regards to filing, will ensure all future tax collections are accurately reported and remitted to the Minister of Finance when due and with payment.
3. The Dealer acknowledges and understands that she will not retain the services of a salesperson unless the salesperson is registered as a salesperson to the Dealer.
4. The Dealer further acknowledges that the restrictions concerning the activities of a salesperson referred to in these terms and conditions applies to buying, selling and leasing on behalf of a dealer. "Buying, selling and leasing" refers to showing a vehicle to a prospective purchaser or any form of negotiation concerning the purchase, sale or lease of a motor vehicle and is not limited to the signing of contracts. This further includes attendance at auctions on behalf of the Dealer.
5. The Dealer agrees to maintain a sign at the Applicant's registered premise that will be visible to the public.
6. The Dealer agrees to operate exclusively from the location approved by the Registrar. The Dealer agrees to apply for the Registrar's approval, by way of prior written notice, of any change in location in the form required by the Registrar.

7. The Dealer agrees not to invite the public to deal at a place other than her approved location.
8. The Dealer will not conduct any purchases with anyone who is in the business of buying and selling motor vehicles without confirming that they are registered as a Dealer under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.

Joanne Walsh (initials)

9. The Dealer will ensure that all advertisements placed by or on behalf of the Dealer will identify her registered name and the address of the location approved by the Registrar.
10. The Dealer will ensure that any vehicles sold are registered in the name of the purchaser before releasing the vehicle to the purchaser.
11. The Dealer will not purchase vehicles without ensuring that the vehicle is registered to the seller.
12. The Dealer agrees to register all vehicles purchased within 6 days in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act.
13. The Dealer acknowledges and understands that her registration will not be used to buy, sell or lease motor vehicles where the Dealer knows or ought to know that the purchase, sale or lease of those motor vehicles will facilitate an illegal or unethical practice.
14. The Dealer agrees that she is under a positive obligation to disclose all material facts in writing about the vehicles she sells or leases to her customers. The Dealer agrees to make reasonable efforts to research the history of all her vehicles prior to sale/lease to ensure all material facts are disclosed. The Dealer agrees that should any information come to light, which the Registrar deems to be a material fact concerning a vehicle the Dealer has sold/leased, the Dealer will comply with all reasonable requests made by the Registrar to provide compensation to the purchaser.
15. The Dealer will comply with the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council's Code of Ethics and Standards of Business Practice.
16. The Dealer agrees to maintain a garage register in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act and will maintain all books and records as required by the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act. The Dealer further agrees to provide free access to her books and records to any authorized representative of the Registrar.
17. The Dealer agrees that all books and records shall be kept at the Dealer's registered premise.
18. The Dealer agrees that she will not be involved with the buying, selling or leasing of motor vehicles without the benefit of registration.
19. The Dealer acknowledges that the Registrar may take administrative action, including a proposal to revoke her registration as a motor vehicle dealer arising from any matters that have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future related to her financial circumstances and her honesty and integrity.

20. The Dealer acknowledges that the Registrar may take legal action, including a Provincial Offences prosecution, arising from her actions related to the sale of motor vehicles that may have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future.
21. The Dealer agrees and acknowledges that should she breach any of the terms and conditions set out herein, in whole or in part, the Registrar is directed to and shall carry out the proposal.
22. The Dealer hereby consents to an order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, which may include the Terms and Conditions set out herein.

Joanne Walsh (initials)

23. The Dealer hereby withdraws her appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.
24. The Dealer hereby acknowledges that she has obtained or has had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to her consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

TRIBUNAL: ELMER MERKLEY,

DAVID WARNER, Applicant
by Written submission only

DATE OF HEARING: December 13, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: December 17, 2001 Written

REASONS FOR DECISION

A written hearing was held on December 13, 2001, at London, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	David Warner (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1987 Ford Bronco II, plate no. 205 1HM (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	November 13, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on December 13, 2001 and proceeded as a written hearing.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

My name is David Warner and my truck was impounded because a so called "friend" had a licence but didn't tell me it was suspended. I am licenced and insured. I had a few too many drinks so I didn't want to drive, so I figured I would let him drive. We got pulled over and he got arrested but I had no record and at the time there was nothing I thought I did wrong, only to find out that I shouldn't have let him drive. I'm staying at my parents and just starting working again and then this happened after telling my parents I should be out by the end of the month.

Nov. 4/01

Att. Hearing Co-ordinator

My name is David Warner and I own a 87' Bronco II which was impounded Nov 1/01. I went to get the release form from the police station only to find out that I couldn't, and that it was impounded in Oakville for 3 months unless I appeal. The driver of my vehicle was Rick Heemskerk and he was driving because I figured I had too much to drink. I am licenced and insured therefore I let him drive. I knew he had a licence but did not know it was recently suspended so I let him drive. I want to know what I did wrong when I felt I did the right thing. I would appreciate it if I could get my truck back instead of having to go through a tribunal and a 3 month wait which I cannot afford.

Sincerely Dave Warner.

The Applicant did not provide the Tribunal or the Respondent with any reply after receiving the Respondent's submissions and supporting evidence.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner.
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Richard Heemskerk;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until November 22, 2002

In reference to the grounds of due diligence, the Registrar submitted that the Applicant has not provided any evidence that would indicate that he took reasonable efforts to ensure that the driver of his vehicle, Mr. Richard Heemskerk, had a valid driver's licence. In the Owner's Position, Mr. Warner states, "I knew he had a driver's licence but did not know it was recently suspended, so I let him drive". Mr. Warner fails to mention what type of due diligence he exercised to determine that Mr. Heemskerk was not under suspension or that he held a driver's licence.

In reference to the ground of exceptional hardship, the Registrar submitted that the criteria to establish exceptional hardship are cumulative and therefore the Applicant must meet all the requirements of the Regulation before his appeal can be considered. Mr. Warner has failed to meet the conditions set out for demonstrating exceptional hardship, as prescribed in the Highway Traffic Act, Section 22(3) of Regulation 574, R.R.O., as amended by Regulation 632/98.

In the Owner's Position, Mr. Warner has presented no evidence that would indicate that there is no alternative to the impounded vehicle. He has not indicated whether the impounded vehicle would result in any financial, employment or educational loss, nor whether the loss would be immediate, significant and lasting. The Applicant fails to mention whether the impoundment would cause a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the impounded vehicle. In addition, no evidence has been provided that would demonstrate that the Applicant has inquired into any reasonable options that would adequately mitigate or eliminate any potential losses.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines “exceptional hardship” as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

(h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
- (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
- (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or

- (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The first issue to be considered in the appeal is whether Mr. Warner, the motor vehicle owner, exercised due diligence to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended.

The onus of proof, based on the balance of probabilities, rests with the Applicant.

In the Owner's Position statement, Mr. Warner states, "I knew he had a licence but did not know it was recently suspended so I let him drive." The Owner's Position statement fails to mention what type of due diligence he exercised to determine that Mr. Heemskerk's driver's licence was not then under suspension.

The Tribunal finds that the owner of the motor vehicle in accordance with Section 50.2 (3)(c) of the Highway Traffic Act, did not exercise due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at that time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension.

The Applicant also requested an appeal on the grounds of exceptional hardship, in accordance with Section 55.2(3)(d). Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific in that it provides the Tribunal with the specific criteria the Applicant must meet to determine if in fact exceptional hardship will result from the impoundment.

For the Applicant's claims to be considered under Section 22(2)(a), (b) and (c), he must demonstrate that all of Section 22(3) has been met. This has not been done by the Applicant. Furthermore, Section 22(4) of the Regulation provides the criteria for demonstrating that every reasonable option has been considered for an alternative vehicle. The Applicant has shown the Tribunal that he has considered options to the impounded vehicle. The Applicant has made no specific claims of exceptional hardship as described by Section 22(1)(a) or (b).

With regard to the Applicant's ground of appeal that the impoundment will result in exceptional hardship, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not established exceptional hardship, as prescribed under Section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

In accordance with Section 4.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, and subsection 5(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, (hereinafter the "Act") the parties to the proceeding, of 1448833 Ontario Corp. o/a Power Auto ("the Dealer"), and Thayabaran Jeyanathan ("the Salesperson") and the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (hereinafter the "Registrar") waive the requirement of a hearing and hereby consent to an Order of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (hereinafter the "Consent Order") based on the following terms and conditions to be attached his registration as a motor vehicle dealer and salesperson:

1. The Dealer and Salesperson agree, if either party is charged in the future, to immediately notify the Registrar in writing.
2. The Dealer and Salesperson agree, if either party is convicted under any law of an industry specific offence or if either party is convicted under the Criminal Code, the Registrar is directed to and shall carry out the proposal.
3. The Dealer and Salesperson agree to provide full and complete disclosure on all future applications and discussions with the Registrar, regardless of whether disclosure has been previously provided to the Registrar.
4. The Dealer acknowledges and understands that he will not retain the services of a salesperson unless the salesperson is registered as a salesperson to the Dealer.
5. The Dealer further acknowledges that the restrictions concerning the activities of a salesperson referred to in these terms and conditions applies to buying, selling and leasing on behalf of a dealer. "Buying, selling and leasing" refers to showing a vehicle to a prospective purchaser or any form of negotiation concerning the purchase, sale or lease of a motor vehicle and is not limited to the signing of contracts. This further includes attendance at auctions on behalf of the Dealer.

6. The Dealer agrees to maintain a garage register in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act and will maintain all books and records as required by the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act. The Dealer further agrees to provide free access to the books and records of the Dealer to any authorized representative of the Registrar.
7. The Dealer agrees that all books and records shall be kept at the Dealer's registered premise, and shall be available to an inspector or investigator appointed by the Registrar, at all reasonable times.
8. The Dealer agrees to maintain a sign at the Dealer's registered premise that will be visible to the public.
9. The Dealer agrees to operate exclusively from the location approved by the Registrar. The Dealer agrees to apply for the Registrar's approval, by way of prior written notice, of any change in location in the form required by the Registrar.
10. The Dealer agrees not to invite the public to deal at a place other than his approved location.
11. The Dealer will not conduct any purchases with anyone who is in the business of buying, selling and leasing motor vehicles without confirming that the person is registered as a Dealer under the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act.
12. The Dealer will ensure that all advertisements placed by or on behalf of the Dealer will identify the registered name and the address of the location approved by the Registrar.
13. The Dealer will ensure that any vehicle sold is registered in the name of the purchaser in the records of the Ministry of Transportation before releasing the vehicle to the purchaser.
14. The Dealer will not purchase a vehicle without ensuring that the vehicle is registered to the seller in the records of the Ministry of Transportation.
15. The Dealer agrees to register all vehicles purchased within 6 days in accordance with the Highway Traffic Act.
16. The Dealer agrees that he is under a positive obligation to disclose in writing, on the bill of sale, all material facts about the vehicles he sells to his purchasers. Purchasers include both retail and wholesale buyers. Material facts such as, but not limited to: salvage, previous salvage, accidented and repaired, theft recovery, previous taxi cab, previous police car, previous daily rental, write off, unibody damage, frame damage and any other material fact that may affect one's decision whether or not to purchase said vehicle. The Dealer agrees to make reasonable efforts to research the history of all his vehicles prior to sale to ensure all material facts are disclosed. The Dealer agrees that should any information come to light, which the Registrar deems to be a material fact concerning a vehicle the Dealer has sold, the Dealer will comply with all reasonable requests made by the Registrar to provide compensation to the purchaser.
17. The Dealer acknowledges and understands that his registration will not be used to buy or sell motor vehicles where the Dealer knows or ought to know that the purchase or sale of those motor vehicles will facilitate an illegal or unethical practice.
18. The Dealer will comply with all aspects of the Retail Sales Tax Act with regards to filing, and ensuring all tax collections are accurately reported and remitted to the Minister of Finance when due.

19. The Dealer agrees he will not be involved in the process of buying, selling or leasing motor vehicles without the benefit of registration.
20. The Dealer will comply with the Ontario Motor Vehicle Industry Council's Code of Ethics and Standards of Business Practice. The Dealer further agrees to make full disclosure with respect to "AS IS" vehicles and to include the required disclosure as set out in the Standards of Business Practice.
21. The Dealer and Salesperson understand that the registrations will be conditional for 60 days and may be cancelled by the Registrar, in accordance with Section 13(3) of Regulation 801. For the purpose of Section 13(3) of Regulation 801, these Terms and Conditions are part of the Dealer's application.
22. The Dealer and Salesperson acknowledge that the Registrar may take further administrative action in the form of a proposal to revoke the registrations, arising from any matters that have occurred or may occur related to honesty, integrity, financial position and/or compliance with these terms and conditions.
23. The Dealer and Salesperson acknowledge that the Registrar may take legal action, including Provincial Offences prosecution arising from actions related to the purchase, sale or lease of motor vehicles that may have occurred in the past or that may occur in the future.
24. The Dealer and Salesperson agree and acknowledge that should either party breach any of the terms and conditions set out herein, in whole or in part, the Registrar is directed to and shall carry out the proposal to revoke the registrations of the Dealer and Salesperson.
25. The Dealer and Salesperson hereby acknowledge that they have obtained or have had the opportunity to obtain independent legal advice with respect to their consent to the terms and conditions set out in this document.

Signed in the City of _____ this _____ day of _____ 2001.

TO APPEAL AN ORDER TO IMPOUND A MOTOR VEHICLE ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES

TRIBUNAL: CHARLES J. SANDIFORD,
Presiding member

APPEARANCES: LUBA NEUWIRTH,
Representative for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles

JODIE CHARLES JOYCE, Applicant
unrepresented

DATE OF HEARING: December 12, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: December 17, 2001 By Teleconference

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on December 12, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Jodie Charles Joyce (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1995 Mercury MGS, plate no. AFWR 422 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	November 22, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on December 12, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

To Whom This May Concern,

I am appealing the impoundment of my car on the grounds that the loss of my vehicle will result in exceptional hardship and that I have exercised due diligence to determine that the license of the driver was valid.

If I was to lose my car for the entire impoundment term it will jeopardize my position at Q104 as my employer Scott Sexsmith indicates in the enclosed letter. My job in broadcasting is not only my career but also something I have worked at and loved for many years. Due to the fact that this is a very competitive field, jeopardizing my job may damage my entire career. I also do not currently do not have a doctor in Sault Ste. Marie and because I am on medication, I rely on the visits to my doctor in Sudbury, Ontario. It can be confirmed that I am a current patient of Doctor R H M Nanka-Bruce, 30 Durham St. Sudbury, (705) 674-0880. This also causes hardship because the majority of my family friends resides in Espanola, Ontario and with Christmas approaching it creates a strain on my finances to arrange for alternative transportation.

For my second defense, I have been friends and roommates with Ernest Skinner for a little over a year now. Since he is over the age of twenty-five I had no problem lending him my car to occasionally run small errands. I was under the impression that Ernest had a valid driver's license, as he produced one on numerous occasions including showing identification at the Canada/US border and when asked to prove age of majority at nightclubs. After this incident occurred I was shocked to learn that he did not have a valid license, because being close friends and roommates I had a lot of trust in him. Mr. Skinner has included a letter confirming my lack of knowledge that he did not currently have a driver's license.

The loss of my car due to the actions of Ernest Skinner is deeply impacting my life in a negative way. I ask that you take into consideration my plea for the return of my vehicle.

Thank You For Your Consideration.

To Whom it May Concern:

RE: Jodie Charles Joyce – Vehicle Requirements

Please accept this letter as written confirmation regarding Jodie Joyce and his need for a vehicle as a condition of employment.

As someone who is considered to be in the "public eye" as a result of being a radio personality, there are numerous occasions that take JC out of the office, representing the radio station. Although many of these community minded initiatives are done on his own time, his efforts still contribute to the overall success of Q104. At times there is a company vehicle that he has access to, but due to scheduling conflicts, it is not always at his disposal and therefore he requires another mode of transportation.

For JC to be without a vehicle puts an obvious strain on his capability to effectively do his job and represent the radio station in the capacity that is acceptable.

Best regards,

To Whom It May Concern,

I, Ernest Skinner, have been roommates and good friends with Jodie Joyce for the past year. Jodie occasionally let me use his car since we became roommates. During this period of time I lost my license and failed to inform him of it due to embarrassment. I have used an old license of mine, which I found for identification purposes for such places as nightclubs. I know Jodie saw the license from a distance, which gave him the impression that it was my current license. This indicates that Jodie had no idea that I had a suspended license. I would like to apologize for any inconveniences I caused Jodie due to these actions.

Thank you for your time.

Ernest Skinner.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Ernest Skinner;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Impaired Driving under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until April 25, 2002.

During the Respondent's examination of the witness it was determined that he and Skinner were visiting friends where there was alcohol available. Apparently Joyce had gone to sleep and it was at this juncture that Skinner left the scene in Joyce's vehicle. This suggests that Skinner had his own keys or he obtained them from Joyce in some manner. The car was stopped at 5:15 a.m. which would suggest a very long night.

The Respondent explored with the Applicant alternative vehicles. Rental cars were too expensive. His mother used her vehicle for her own job. The station manager would not let him service which would seem an ideal alternative given the size of Sault Ste. Marie.

The matter of his health problem identified his need for his visits to Sudbury where his doctor is monitoring him as he is on a prescribed but controlled drug. His effort to have his file moved to a doctor in Sault Ste. Marie did not match the urgency reflected in his submissions.

Joyce's own driving record was produced by the Respondent but it is deemed irrelevant to this hearing.

The Respondent elaborated on the means by which an interested party can confirm the validity of some one's driver's licence and the Applicant made note of the details.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

(h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
- (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
- (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
- (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
- (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
- (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;

- (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
- (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant has appealed under section 50.2(3)(c) and (d) of the Act on the basis that he did exercise diligence before lending his vehicle and the impoundment of his vehicle will and has resulted in exceptional hardship and has caused him difficulty in doing his work. Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific and provides the Tribunal with clear criteria that must be met by the Applicant in order to establish as a result of the impoundment.

The Tribunal cannot consider any other factors arising from or directly related to the impoundment itself.

In order for the Applicant's claim to be considered under section 22(2)(c) and (d) the Applicant must have demonstrated that all 22(3) has been met. Furthermore, section 22(4) of the Regulation requires demonstration that every reasonable option to the impounded vehicle has been explored, including an alternative vehicle.

The burden to provide evidence to support the Applicant's appeal under the Act is that of the Applicant.

The Applicant offered no further evidence to support his argument that he exercised due diligence to determine that his roommate's driver's licence was valid except that he observed his roommate use his driver's licence certificate to show other's his identity. In fact, contrary to showing due diligence, the Applicant's evidence was that he was never close enough to his friend's driver's licence form to observe that it had expired. Also, given the closeness of the relationship as roommates, it is difficult for this Tribunal to accept that the Applicant would not have been aware of the driver's very poor driving record, particularly when his roommate's driver's licence was suspended while they were roommates.

While the loss of the Applicant's vehicle has been an inconvenience his attempts at an alternative vehicle have been limited. The Radio Station where he works has a company car which he can use when it is available. No mention of using a taxi to cover on the scene news items or other demands for his parents was mentioned which would seem to be a very economic alternative to his own vehicle. Car rental, public transit, or the assistance of friends was not dealt with by the Applicant. His direct financial loss can be recovered from his roommate who has admitted by his letter that the Applicant's loss was his fault.

Considering the above, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not proven due diligence or exceptional hardship as defined by the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: December 13, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: December 13, 2001 Oshawa

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on December 13, at Oshawa, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made a n order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Peleshok Motors (Ajax) Ltd. (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1986 Pontiac LeMans, plate no. AHEA 287 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	November 15, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the driver's licence was not under suspension as provided in section 50.2(3) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on December 13, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time i n respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

This vehicle was offered as a temporary means of transportation so that full time employment could be arranged by Dan Poirier.

The Applicant indicated that he had loaned the impounded vehicle to Dan Poirier in order that he might be able to travel to Toronto to seek full-time employment. The vehicle in question was an older car which was used as a "courtesy car" by Peleshok Motors. The Applicant also indicated that he had asked Mr. Poirier for his driver's licence number, and that Mr. Poirier had given him a number. He further stated, however, that he did not verify that the licence was in fact valid.

The Applicant also stated that the value of the impounded vehicle was "around $400.00", and that it did not make sense to retrieve the vehicle from the impound yard since the cost of impounding the vehicle exceeded its value. His purpose in appealing was to regain the vehicle and eliminate the impound fee.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Joseph Daniel Poirier;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;

4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence Driving with more than 80 MGS Alcohol in Blood under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until December 13, 2001.

The Respondent's representative offered no additional evidence. She did, however, indicate that the Applicant had recourse to Small Claims Court and could proceed in that manner to attempt to recover the costs associated with the impoundment from Mr. Poirier.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(b).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(b) alleging that the driver's licence of the driver driving at the time of the impoundment order was not under suspension, section 55.1(2) of the Act states:

Where a police officer or officer appointed for carrying out the provisions of this Act is satisfied that a person was driving a motor vehicle on a highway while his or her driver's licence is under suspension under section 41 or 42 or 43, even if it is under suspension at the same time for any other reason, the officer shall,

- (a) notify the Registrar of the fact or cause the Registrar to be notified; and
- (b) detain the motor vehicle that was being driven by the person whose driver's licence is under suspension until the Registrar issues an order under subsection (3).

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The evidence established that, although the Applicant asked Mr. Poirier for his driver's licence number, he did not ask to see the licence, nor did he attempt, in any way, to validate the information given. This is an interesting omission on the part of the Applicant given the fact that the car was normally used as a "courtesy car", and one assumes that, in those cases where the car was loaned for that purpose, more care would be taken to ensure the prospective driver was properly licensed. It is also interesting in light of the fact that a Private Licence Issuing Agency shares the showroom of P eleshok Motors. One can also assume that a check on the validity of Mr. Poirier's licence could have been done quite easily.

Also, the evidence offered by the Respondent was not in dispute, namely, that, on the date the vehicle was impounded, Mr. Poirier's licence was under suspension. The Applicant offered no evidence to contradict that fact. Accordingly, the Tribunal finds that the driver's licence was under suspension at the time of the impoundment and that the Applicant has not established its ground of appeal.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: December 14, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: December 20, 2001 By Teleconference

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on December 13, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended (“HTA” or the “Act”).

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Vesna Hecimovich (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1990 Pontiac Bonneville, plate no. AJAX 398 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	November 26, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the motor vehicle was stolen at the time it was being drive and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(a) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on December 14, 2001 and proceeded as an electronic hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

Counsel for the Applicant, Mr. Bracewell asked if he could fax 12 pages of reference material to the Tribunal. There was no objection from the Registrar's Representative, Ms. Luba Neuwirth. The Tribunal permitted a short adjournment to allow for time to receive the fax pages.

When the hearing proceeded, Mr. Bracewell informed the Tribunal that the purpose of the fax information was to support his contention that the Tribunal's interpretation of "stolen" was "erroneous" in that it was based on Black's Law Dictionary, 6th edition (BLD-6th ed), whereas the 4th edition made no reference to 'stolen' and that the Criminal Code of Canada (CCC) used the term "theft" to define the offence. Mr. Bracewell advised he would refer to this material later in the hearing.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the motor vehicle was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

- 1) I ordered my husband not to drive my car and I usually keep the vehicle with me but on the 3rd of October my boss stopped at my house before work for a discussion and my boss offered to drive me to work. This was an out of the ordinary event and it never occurred to me that my husband would be stupid enough to drive my vehicle.
- 2) It is an extreme hardship for me not to have my car because I work full time at a delicatessen's. Public transit is limited and I suffer from back pain which limits my ability to use the public transit that is available.
- 3) I ask for an extension because I did not understand the details of this impoundment. My first language is Croatian and I tried to get a lawyers appointment but was unable to see him until today.

Mrs. Hecimovich testified that she was aware that her husband, the driver at the time of the impoundment, had lost his licence through suspension and that she generally tried to hide or keep the car keys with her. She confirmed she had asked her husband to not drive the car and he had never taken it before October 3rd, the date of impoundment.

The Applicant, through her interpreter, confirmed that she unusually took the car to work but on the morning of October 3rd when she had called her employer to say she was having difficulty with her back, he offered to come by and pick her up. Mrs. Hecimovich confirmed she worked at a Croatian delicatessen as a meat slicer and received a minimum wage salary. She further confirmed she had been there for about 5 years and during this period her employer, though he lived in an opposite end of town, had driven her to work on 5 or 6 other occasions. When asked by her counsel if the Applicant considered it unusual for her employer to drive her to work, she replied that it was not.

When Mrs. Hecimovich returned home, her husband told her about the impoundment of her car. He never told her he would take the car. She said she never called the police to report that the car had been stolen at the time it was impounded because she did not want to have her husband charged.

Mrs. Hecimovich said her husband was retired, living on a pension of about $20-25,000 a year and was not looking for work.

The Applicant testified that she suffers from arthritic back pain and is under a doctor's advice to limit her walking. She thought her doctor could provide a letter saying she should not be walking too much if she asked for such a letter. Her counsel, Mr. Bracewell said that it was difficult to obtain such a letter in the time available.

Mrs. Hecimovich confirmed she takes two types of medication daily for her back pain and it is a half kilometre walk to and from the bus stop. She feels this extra walking has had a detrimental impact on her health.

The Applicant confirmed she works 30 hours a week and earns a minimum wage. All of her income goes into the family's living expenses. She said she was unable to afford the impound fee of $1,303.26 but managed to borrow it from a friend though she is unsure about how she will pay it back on her income. She confirmed that she and her husband own their home, that there is no mortgage outstanding and that he would not help her pay the impound fee. She explained their affairs are separate and she does not know what he has.

Mrs. Hecimovich confirmed she did not miss any work during the impound period. She took the bus each day because she could not afford to miss any work. She said that she did not have the option of obtaining rides from anyone else nor was she able to rent a vehicle.

When the Registrar's Representative, Ms. Luba Neuwirth, asked why Mrs. Hecimovich had not called the police to charge her husband with stealing the vehicle, the Applicant replied that he was her husband. Ms Neuwirth then asked why the Applicant was appealing on "stolen" if no charges had been placed. At this point, the Applicant's counsel argued that the word "stolen" required a different definition than that implied by the question asked by the Respondent's representative. Counsel argued that the Criminal Code of Canada's use of the term "theft" was the proper guide. Counsel's argument is set out in more detail later in this decision.

Based on questions from the Registrar's Representative, it was established that on the day Mr. Hecimovich took the car, the keys had been in plain sight, on the fridge where the Applicant had left them when she took a ride with her employer. The Applicant said that in future she would always keep the keys with her. Mr. Bracewell stated that because the Applicant had taken medication, she was a bit dizzy and not thinking about the car keys on the fridge when she left.

There were no other witnesses for the Applicant.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Peter Hecimovich;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving with more than 80 MGS Alcohol in Blood under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until December 9, 2002.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant appealed the impoundment of her vehicle on the grounds that it was stolen and that the impoundment caused exceptional hardship.

(a) The Appeal Ground of "Stolen"

The Highway Traffic Act does not define the term "stolen" used in section 50.2(3)(a). In its interpretation of the word "stolen", the decisions of this Tribunal, to date, have relied upon the definition of "stolen" as found in the Oxford Dictionary and Black's Law Dictionary.

Black's Law Dictionary (Sixth edition), page 1419-1420 provides the definition of "stolen" as follows:

Stolen: Acquired, or possessed, as a result of some wrongful or dishonest act or taking, whereby a person willfully obtains or retains possession of property which belongs to another, without or beyond any permission given, and with the intent to deprive the owner of the benefit of ownership (or possession) permanently.

The word "stolen" as used in the crime of interstate transportation of stolen motor vehicles includes all wrongful and dishonest taking of motor vehicles with the intent to deprive the owner of the rights and benefits of ownership, regardless of whether theft constitutes common-law larceny; and felonious taking may be effected by diverse means known to both common and statutory law, such as larceny, embezzlement, false pretenses, larceny by trick and other types of wrongful acquisition. Lake v. U.S., Colo, 338F.2d 787,788. It is not necessary that the taking of the vehicle be unlawful. Even if possession of the vehicle is lawfully acquired, the vehicle will be deemed "stolen" if the defendant thereafter forms the intent to deprive the owner of the rights and benefits of ownership, and converts the vehicle to his own use. United States v. Turley, 352 U.S. 407, 417, 77 S.Ct. 397, 402. 1 L.Ed.2d 430.

The Respondent's representative relied on the foregoing definition to show that the Applicant's motor vehicle was not stolen by the Applicant's husband, and accordingly argued that the Applicant had not established the ground of appeal under section 50.2(3)(a) of the Highway Traffic Act.

Counsel for the Applicant, in the other hand, argued that the foregoing definition was not the correct one. Mr. Bracewell argued that the meaning of "stolen" is defined by the Criminal Code of Canada's term "theft". He referred to the material he had faxed to the Tribunal (a copy being provided to the Registrar's Representative). The material consisted of an excerpt from Martin's Criminal Code 2001, 's.2 – "steal" means to commit theft;' and s.322 "Theft" and a copy of the QUICKLAW report of the Supreme Court of Canada, R. v. LaFrance, [1975] 2 S.C.R. 201. Counsel submitted that the use of the word "permanently" in the definition of "stolen" in Black's Law Dictionary (6th ed) ignored the reference to "temporarily" in the definition of "theft" in the Criminal Code of Canada.

Counsel argued that the meaning of the word "stolen" in section 50.2(3)(a) of the Highway Traffic Act should be the same as the definition of "theft" in section 322 of the Criminal Code of Canada. His argument is that "theft" in the Criminal Code includes a temporary taking, "stolen" in the Highway Traffic Act is the equivalent of "theft" in the Criminal Code, therefore "stolen" in the Highway Traffic Act must include a temporary taking. He argued that since the vehicle has been taken on a temporary basis by her husband, therefore it must have been stolen by her husband.

The Tribunal has considered the argument of counsel, but it disagrees that the meaning of “theft” under section 322 of the Criminal Code of Canada (the “Code”) should govern this Tribunal’s interpretation of the word “stolen” under section 50.2(3)(a) of the Highway Traffic Act.

The word “theft” in the Code and the word “stolen” in the Act are different words. Had the provincial Legislature wished to use the same words, it would have done so. Also, the Criminal Code of Canada and the Highway Traffic Act are separate statutes, the Criminal Code being a federal statute and the Highway Traffic Act being a provincial statute. There is no cross-referencing in section 50.2(3)(a) of the Act to the term “theft” in the Code. In certain sections of the Act, reference is made to the Code, such as section 50.1 of the Act, but that is not done in section 50.2(3)(a). This leads the Tribunal to the conclusion that not referring to the Code was intentional.

An ancillary argument of counsel was that the word “stolen” did not appear in the 4th edition of Black’s Law Dictionary and therefore the Tribunal should give it little weight when it appears in the 6th edition as its use in the 6th edition is erroneous. The Tribunal sees no merit in this argument. It must proceed on the basis that it should rely on the updated version. The Tribunal also notes that the reference in Black’s Law Dictionary (6th edition) to the word “theft” is defined as follows:

Theft. A popular name for larceny. The act of stealing. The taking of property without the owner’s consent. People v. Sims, 29 Ill.App.3d 815, 311 N.E.2d 178, 179. The fraudulent taking of personal property belonging to another, from his possession, or from the possession of some person holding the same for him, without his consent, with intent to deprive the owner of the value of the same, and to appropriate it to the use or benefit of the person taking.

It is also said that theft is a wider term than larceny and that it includes swindling and embezzlement and that generally, one who obtains possession of property by lawful means and thereafter appropriates the property to the taker’s own use is guilty of a “theft”. Kidwell v. Paul Revere Fire Ins. Co., 294 Ky. 833, 172 S.W.2d 639, 640; People v. Pillsbury, 59 Cal.App.2d 107, 138 P.2d 320, 322.

Theft is any of the following acts done with intent to deprive the owner permanently of the possession, use or benefit of his property. (a) Obtaining or exerting unauthorized control over property; or (b) Obtaining by deception control over property; or (c) Obtaining by threat control over property; or (d) Obtaining control over stolen property knowing the property to have been stolen by another.

Were “stolen” omitted from the 6th edition and only “theft” were left, that definition also contains the element of “intent to deprive the owner permanently of the possession, use or benefit of his property...”.

On reviewing the facts, the Tribunal finds no evidence the vehicle was stolen. While there is evidence to suggest it was used without specific consent of the Applicant, there is also no evidence regarding the intent of the driver to deprive the Applicant of the use of her motor vehicle. The evidence before the Tribunal is that

- (a) the relationship of the Applicant to the driver is that of a married couple living together,
- (b) the key to the motor vehicle was in plain sight on the fridge in the kitchen, when Mr. Hecimovich decided to use the vehicle while the Applicant was at work,
- (c) Mr. Hecimovich was at home to tell the Applicant of the impoundment on her return home from work, and
- (d) the Applicant never called the police to request charges be laid against her husband.

The reasonable conclusion to draw from this is that the Applicant's husband temporarily borrowed the vehicle. There is no evidence of intent to deprive her of its use, permanently or otherwise.

On the evidence before it, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not established that the vehicle was stolen at the time of the impoundment.

(b) The Appeal Ground of "Exceptional Hardship"

With regard to the Applicant's appeal on the basis of exceptional hardship, counsel for the Applicant contended that the loss of her vehicle placed a substantial physical strain on the Applicant due to an arthritic back problem as well as a financial burden due to her having to borrow monies for the impound fee, which she did not have and would have difficulty to repay on her income.

The Registrar's representative contended that the criteria of hardship had not been met as alternative transportation through public transit had been available and the Applicant had not missed any work. The Applicant also had the option of suing her husband for the costs.

Under section 22(1) of Regulation 632/98, amending O. Regulation 574 under the Highway Traffic Act, if no alternative to the impounded vehicle is available, the Tribunal shall consider whether the impoundment will result in a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported in the motor vehicle. In this case, an alternative was available to the Applicant and there was no evidence of loss to any other person. She used public transit to get to work and did not miss any work. Even were there no alternative, there is little evidence that would support the Tribunal drawing the conclusion that the impoundment caused any threat to the health to the Applicant or any other person.

In the evidence presented, counsel for the Applicant described how the Applicant suffered from back pain and took 2 types of medication on a daily basis. Counsel also argued that as Mrs. Hecimovich was under a doctor's advice to limit her walking, the vehicle's loss forced her to walk a half kilometer twice a day, to and from the bus stop. While counsel confirmed, through questions to the Applicant, that her doctor would provide a letter to confirm his advice to limit her walking, no such letter was available as evidence. Mrs. Hecimovich also confirmed her feeling that having to do this extra walking had a detrimental effect on her health. There was no supporting evidence.

Under section 22(2) of Regulation 632/98, the Tribunal may consider financial or economic loss under section 22(2)(b) if all of the requirements of section 22(3) are met. One of the requirements of section 22(3) is that no alternative to the impounded vehicle is available, and section 22(4) requires that the Applicant demonstrate that no alternative is available by demonstrating that she has considered any inquired into every reasonable option. This has not been demonstrated by the Applicant in this case. In any event, as stated above, there was an alternative to the impounded vehicle.

Further, the evidence of financial loss given by the Applicant is not a full account of her situation. Mr. Bracewell reviewed the Applicant's financial hardship as working a 30 hour week at minimum wage and using her entire income for the family's living expenses. However, there was no evidence of any debts or obligations or evidence that would permit the Tribunal to assess the Applicant's overall financial status. No specific details were presented regarding the financial impacts resulting from the vehicle impoundment, beyond the facts that the Applicant and her husband owned their home, there was no mortgage, that he had an annual income of $20-25,000 and that he was not looking for work.

Also, counsel referred the Tribunal to the Tribunal's decision of September 11, 2001 in the case of Winant, in which the burden of the impound fees was considered. That case has a number of differences from this case. For example in the Winant case, Mr. Winant lost his employment, the family had no income and were at risk of losing their home, there was illness and there was no local transit to transport the children to school.

The evidence given by the Applicant does not establish a financial loss that is exceptional. The evidence showed the Applicant had been able to get to work every day. Although the Applicant may not wish to do so, she has the option of financial help from her husband to meet the impound costs if she so chooses.

On the evidence given by the Applicant to support the claim of exceptional hardship, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has failed to prove exceptional hardship as required by the Act and Regulations.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: December 27, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: December 31, 2001 London

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on December 27, at London, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to Section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to Section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the "Act").

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the "Registrar"), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Jennifer Dolber (the "Applicant")
Motor Vehicle:	1990 Pontiac Transport, plate No. AAWB 162 (the "vehicle")
Date of Appeal:	December 7, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the vehicle owner exercised due diligence (i.e. all reasonable efforts) to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended and the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on December 27, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

ISSUE:

The Applicant's request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #2) identifies the basis of the Applicant's appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension?

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar's order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

To Whom It May Concern,

- 1) First of all I would like to say that as you noticed on the previous or preceding form that it was neither my husband nor myself that was driving while under suspension, but family friend Rick Heckman. My husband and I were both under the impression that Mr. Heckman has a valid driver's licence. Mr. Heckman had received an impaired driving charge some time ago, but had called us at home after his court date and explained to us that through a technicality he had beaten the charge and that his licence would not be revoked. Mr. Heckman is a friend and we had no reason to doubt his story. He has repeated this story to us both time and time again, which gave us both no real reason to suspect any suspensions. We obviously were misled through no fault of our own and in my opinion should not be held responsible for and suffer for Rick's deception.
- 2) Also regarding the "exceptional hardship" resulting from the impoundment, I am 8 ½ months pregnant with my fourth child. My husband and I live in a small community about 25 minutes from our family doctor, and the hospital where I will be delivering our child in Strathroy. My husband has a vehicle he can drive, however he works shift work as well as being a part-time farmer. His job is the same distance away as the hospital (Strathroy), which once again is about 25 minutes away. I am prone to deliver my babies early, as the previous three have all been early. Our last child being 15 days early. Also in the last pregnancy my water broke 7 weeks early and there were complications resulting in hospitalization. With the loss of the use of the van I have no way to get to doctor's appointments, to take my son to his pre-school or to re-act to any emergencies which may occur while having small children in a household. Also as I mentioned, we are miles away from the nearest hospital or doctor, not to mention grocery store or pharmacy. If I were to have problems near the end of this pregnancy as in the past, I hate to think of what may happen without the use of a vehicle to respond to problems etc., while my husband is at work with our only other vehicle. Please understand our concerns about the good health of our family and re consider this impoundment. My children are 9, 3, 1 ½ years old.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Rick Heckman;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Driving While Licence Suspended under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until August 1, 2002.

In reference to the grounds of due diligence, the Registrar submitted that the Applicant has not provided any evidence that would indicate that she took reasonable efforts to ensure that the driver of her vehicle, Mr. Rick Heckman, had a valid driver's licence. In the Owner's Position, Ms. Dolber states, "Mr. Heckman had received an impaired driving charge some time ago, but had called us at home after his court date and explained to us that through a technicality he had beaten the charge and that his licence would not be revoked". "Mr. Heckman is a friend and we had no reason to doubt his story". Ms. Dolber fails to mention what type of due diligence she exercised to determine that Mr. Heckman was not under suspension or that he had a driver's licence.

In reference to the ground of exceptional hardship, the Registrar submitted that the criteria to establish exceptional hardship are cumulative and therefore the Applicant must meet all the requirements of the Regulation before her appeal can be considered. Ms. Dolber has failed to meet the conditions set out for demonstrating exceptional hardship as prescribed in the Highway Traffic Act, Section 22(3) of Regulation 574, R.R.O., as amended by Regulation 632/98.

In the Owner's Position, Ms. Dolber mentions that her husband has a vehicle, however he works shift work along with part time farming. The Registrar submits that routine doctor visits, trips to the grocery store and pharmacy could be scheduled around her husband's shift work. Ms. Dolber has not indicated whether the impounded vehicle would result in any financial, employment or educational loss, nor whether the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting. She merely speculates that an emergency could develop during her pregnancy or due to her other children requiring medical aid during the impoundment period. The Registrar further submits that there is no evidence to demonstrate that the Applicant has inquired into any reasonable options to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available that would adequately mitigate or eliminate any potential threat or loss.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

(1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of sections 50.2(3)(c) and (d).

With respect to an appeal under subsection 50.2(3)(c) alleging that the owner exercised due diligence prior to releasing the vehicle to the driver, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary provides the definition of "due diligence" as follows:

Due: A. adj. 1. That is owing or payable, as a debt. 2. Belonging or falling to by right. 3. That ought to be giving or rendered; merited. 4. Such as ought to be; fitting; proper; rightful. 5. Such as is requisite or necessary; adequate. 6. To be ascribed or attributed; owing to, caused by, in consequence of. 7. Under engagement or contract to be ready or arrive (at a defined time).

Diligence: 1. The quality of being diligent; industry, assiduity. 2. Speed, dispatch. 3. Careful attention, heedfulness, caution. 4. Law. The attention and care due from a person in a given situation....

Also, "due diligence" in Black's Law Dictionary (sixth edition) at page 457 is as follows:

Due diligence: Such a measure of prudence, activity, or assiduity, as is properly to be expected from, and ordinarily exercised by, a reasonable and prudent man under the particular circumstances; not measured by any absolute standard, but depending on the relative facts of the special case.

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines “exceptional hardship” as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

(h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) a threat to the health or safety or any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
- (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
- (a) inconvenience to any person;
- (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
- (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or

- (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).
- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The first issue to be considered in the appeal is whether Ms. Dolber, the motor vehicle owner, exercised due diligence to determine that the driver's licence was not suspended.

The onus of proof, based on the balance of probabilities, rests with the Applicant.

In the Owner's Position statement, Ms. Dolber states that she was aware that Mr. Rick Heckman, the driver, had an impaired driving charge some time ago but was under the impression, based on Mr. Heckman's comments, that the charges had been dropped due to a technicality. The Owner's Position statement fails to mention what type of due diligence she exercised to determine that Mr. Heckman's driver's licence was not then under suspension.

The Tribunal finds that the owner of the motor vehicle in accordance with Section 50.2(3)(c) of the Highway Traffic Act, did not exercise due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at that time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension.

The Applicant also requested an appeal on the grounds of exceptional hardship, in accordance with Section 55.2(3)(d). Section 22 of Regulation 632/98 is very specific in that it provides the Tribunal with the specific criteria the Applicant must meet to determine if in fact exceptional hardship will result from the impoundment.

For the Applicant's claims to be considered, she must demonstrate that all of Section 22(3) has been met. This has not been done by the Applicant. Furthermore, Section 22(4) of the Regulation provides the criteria for demonstrating that every reasonable option has been considered for an alternative vehicle. The Applicant has not provided any evidence to the Tribunal to show that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into as required under Section 22(4).

With regard to the Applicant's ground of appeal that the impoundment will result in exceptional hardship, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not established exceptional hardship as prescribed under Section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal confirms the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

DATE OF HEARING: December 28, 2001

DECISION RELEASED: December 31, 2001 Ottawa

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on December 28, 2001, at Ottawa, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA" or the "Act").

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO SET ASIDE the Order to Impound imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 55.1(3) of the HTA.

BACKGROUND:

This is an appeal under section 50.2 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H.8, as amended (the “Act”).

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles (the “Registrar”), made an order under section 55.1 of the Act to impound a motor vehicle. That order has been appealed by the owner. The owner, motor vehicle, and date of appeal are as follows:

Owner:	Vera Skof (the “Applicant”)
Motor Vehicle:	1991 Chevrolet GM4, plate no. YC6 230 (the “vehicle”)
Date of Appeal:	December 12, 2001

The Applicant filed an appeal of this impoundment order with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) together with supporting documentation and the required $100.00 fee payable to the Minister of Finance.

The owner appeals on the basis that the loss of the vehicle will result in exceptional hardship as provided in section 50.2(3)(d) of the Act.

This matter came before this Tribunal on December 28, 2001 and proceeded as an oral hearing.

The Tribunal asked the parties if they wished to make any submissions prior to the Tribunal commencing the hearing.

Prior to the commencement of the Hearing the Respondent provided the Tribunal with original certified copies of the documents on file.

There were no preliminary matters in dispute between the parties and the hearing proceeded.

ISSUE:

The Applicant’s request for a hearing filed with this Tribunal (Exhibit #1) identifies the basis of the Applicant’s appeal.

Should the Tribunal set aside the Registrar’s order to impound the vehicle on the basis that the order will result in exceptional hardship?

FACTS:

The Tribunal heard the evidence given in support of the Applicant and the Respondent.

Evidence for the Applicant

A summary of the Applicant's evidence follows.

Applicant's written submission filed with the Tribunal in support of appeal states:

Due to my health and my husbands health we require the use of our only vehicle. To make doctor's appointments, get medications or even to go to the grocery store for living we need the use of a vehicle. My husband and I both have retired, we are both in bad health and rely on the impounded vehicle for our transportation.

I suffer from asthma and never know if I need to go to the hospital for treatment. My son the driver of the vehicle at the time of impoundment is 33 and did not inform us of the status of his licence.

At the Hearing the Applicant was represented by her daughter Ms Susanne Skof. The Applicant explained that she allowed her son to driver the vehicle as on the day he was stopped she did not trust herself to be on the road due to a "...terrible migraine..."

In evidence the Applicant reiterated the statements made in the Notice of Appeal, that the vehicle is essential in order to enable the Applicant, to seek treatment in case of emergency, as she is an asthma sufferer.

Both the Applicant and her husband are retired and on small disability pensions. The Applicant is not able to afford the cost of rental, nor to take taxis to go into town to do her grocery shopping.

The Applicant's two daughters do not live near the Applicant's trailer Park.

The Applicant is able to ask her neighbour to lend her his vehicle but does not want to impose.

In cross-examination, the Applicant asserted the fact that she and her husband have missed several medical appointments due to the impoundment, and that this has affected her health adversely. Her asthma is getting worse. The Applicant is using the "puffers" but requires treatment. In fact she feels she should have gone to the hospital on Christmas Eve but did not want to bother anyone. The cost of the ambulance is prohibitive as it costs around $ 40 to $45.

Public Transportation is available to the Applicant but the bus stop is twenty minute walk, and the cold aggravates the Applicant's asthma. Further it is necessary, for the Applicant to take two buses in order to visit her physician.

In closing, the Applicant requested the return of her vehicle, although she is able to ask her neighbour to lend her his car, she feels that he does so unwillingly. He does not like the vehicle to be driven in icy conditions. She is also concerned that sometimes he does not open the door, and in the case of an emergency, she would not want to disturb him during the night. All the neighbours are older people.

The Applicant's agent, her daughter, Ms Susanne Skof further commented that her brother had assumed no responsibility for the incident, and that he had not even provided his parents with the $100.00 appeal fee. She noted that her mother has no one near by to assist her in case of an emergency.

Evidence for the Registrar

A summary of the Registrar's evidence follows.

The documents tendered by the Registrar and admitted into the record on consent of the Applicant were as follows:

1. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that, among other things, the impounded motor vehicle herein is registered in the name of the Applicant as owner;
2. Copy of Notice to the Registrar indicating, among other things, that the vehicle at the time it was detained was being driven by Mr. Michael Skof;
3. Copy of the Order by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the vehicle;
4. Copy of the Ministry of Transportation records indicating that the driver at the time of impoundment had been convicted of the offence of Blood/Alcohol content in excess of .08 under the Criminal Code of Canada pursuant to which the driver's licence of the driver was then under suspension until April 12, 2002.

The Respondent offered no viva voce evidence at the hearing but relied on information previously submitted to the Tribunal.

In closing, the Respondent agreed that asthma is a severe illness, but argued that the Applicant has not proven the exceptional hardship ground for appeal. The Respondent suggests that the Applicant may avail herself of an alternate vehicle. Further, as long as the Applicant has an alternate means of transportation, her health is not at risk, thus the health and safety grounds may not be considered.

LAW:

Section 55.1 of the Act provides that the Registrar may make an order that a motor vehicle be impounded, and section 50.2 provides the motor vehicle owner's right of appeal to the Tribunal. The Tribunal on the appeal may, pursuant to subsection 50.2(5) of the Act, confirm or set aside the order to impound, and the decision of the Tribunal is, pursuant to subsection 50.2(8) final and binding.

Subsection 55.1(3) of the Act states:

(3) Upon notification under subsection (2), the Registrar may, without a hearing, issue an order to release the motor vehicle or issue an order to impound the motor vehicle that was being driven by the driver whose driver's licence is under suspension, as follows:

1. For 45 days, if an order to impound under this section has not previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
2. For 90 days, if one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.
3. For 180 days, if more than one order to impound under this section has previously been made, within a prescribed period, with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the owner of the vehicle currently being impounded.

Ontario Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 631/98 provides that the prescribed period, referred to above, is two years.

The right of the owner to appeal to this Tribunal where that owner's motor vehicle has been impounded is provided in section 50.2 of the Act, with subsection 50.2(1) stating:

- (1) The owner of a motor vehicle that is subject to an order to impound under section 55.1 may, upon paying the prescribed fee, appeal the order to the Tribunal.

By subsection 50.2(2) of the Act, the parties to an appeal are the owner and the Registrar. The "owner" for the purposes of the section is defined in subsection 50.2(11), as amended December 6, 2000. "Owner" is defined as:

"Owner" means each person whose name appears on the certificate of registration for the vehicle but in subsection (4) "owner" means the person whose name appears on the plate portion of a permit in cases where the certificate of registration consists of a vehicle portion and a plate portion and different persons are named on each portion.

The owner may appeal the Registrar's order on only four specific grounds set out in subsection 50.2(3):

(3) The only grounds on which an owner may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may set aside the order to impound are,

- (a) that the motor vehicle that is subject to the order was stolen at the time in respect of which the order was made;
- (b) that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension;
- (c) that the owner of the motor vehicle exercised due diligence in attempting to determine that the driver's licence of the driver of the motor vehicle at the time in respect of which the order was made was not then under suspension; or
- (d) that the order will result in exceptional hardship.

The Applicant here appeals on the basis of subsection 50.2(3)(d).

With respect to an appeal under section 50.2(3)(d) alleging that the impoundment results in exceptional hardship, the Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines "exceptional hardship" as follows:

Exceptional : Of the nature of or forming an exception; unusual.

Hardship: 1. The quality of being hard to bear; hardness; severity. 2. Hardness of fate or circumstance; severe toil or suffering; extreme privation.

Also, where the owner appeals on the ground of exceptional hardship, subsection 50.2(4) provides:

(4) Clause (3) (d) does not apply if an order to impound under section 55.1 was previously made with respect to any motor vehicle then owned by the same owner.

Further, subsection 55.1(28) of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations, and specifically provides in clause (h) of subsection 55.1(28),

- (h) prescribing criteria to be considered, and criteria not to be considered, by the Tribunal in determining in an appeal under section 50.2 whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound that is made under this section.

Section 22 of Regulation 574 R.R.O. 1990, as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98, provides for criteria to be considered and criteria not to be considered by the Tribunal in determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 as follows:

- 22 (1) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall consider whether no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available and, if no alternative is available, whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; or
 - (b) a threat to the public health and safety or to the environment or property of a community in whose service the motor vehicle is ordinarily used.
- (2) In determining whether exceptional hardship will result from an order to impound under section 55.1 of the Act, the [Tribunal] shall not, subject to subsection (3), consider whether the impoundment will result in,
 - (a) inconvenience to any person;
 - (b) financial or economic loss to any person;
 - (c) loss of employment or employment opportunity to any person; or
 - (d) loss of education or training or of an educational or training opportunity to any person.
- (3) The [Tribunal] may consider the criteria set out in clauses (2) (b), (c) and (d) if the owner demonstrates that,
 - (a) no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available;
 - (b) the loss will be immediate, significant and lasting;
 - (c) the impact of the loss will be upon a person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle; and
 - (d) the impact of the loss,
 - (i) will be upon a person other than the person whose driving while his or her driver's licence was under suspension resulted in the order to impound the motor vehicle, and
 - (ii) will not be a result of a loss by the suspended driver of the type set out in clause (2)(b), (c) or (d).

- (4) In order to show that no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available under subsection (1) or clause (3) (a), the owner must demonstrate that every reasonable option has been considered and inquired into that could eliminate or adequately mitigate any threat or loss to the person, including using another vehicle to replace the impounded motor vehicle and making arrangements to do without the impounded motor vehicle or a replacement during the impound period.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The onus is on the Applicant to establish the exceptional hardship grounds of appeal as provided in subsection 50.2(d) of the Act.

Section 22 of Regulation 574, R.R.O. 1990 as amended by Ontario Regulation 632/98 is very specific, in that it provides the Tribunal with criteria the Applicant must demonstrate to determine that exceptional hardship will result from the impoundment.

Section 22(1)(a) of the Regulation allows consideration in circumstances which could pose “a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle”. Nonetheless, in order for the Tribunal to apply subsection 22(1)(a), the criterion must be met that “no alternative to the impounded motor vehicle is available”. To show this, subsection 22(4) requires the owner to demonstrate that “every reasonable option has been considered...”.

Is there no alternative to the impounded vehicle?

Public transportation is a twenty-minute walk from the Applicant's home in a Trailer Park. The Applicant is on a disability pension and does not own another vehicle. She has no nearby family that could assist her in the case of an emergency. The Applicant is able to ask to borrow her neighbour's car, but the Applicant is very reluctant to do this and the neighbour will sometimes not open the door. According to the Respondent, this would preclude the Tribunal from considering Section 22(1)(a). The Respondent suggested that the Applicant missed appointments by “choice”, as she could have continued to rely on her neighbour's car.

The Tribunal does not concur. The Applicant has no right to use her neighbour's vehicle. The availability of the vehicle is tenuous and not a reasonable option considering the Applicant's vulnerable medical condition.

The Applicant and her husband are on a Disability pension. The rental of vehicle or the continuous use of taxis would be a severe burden.

Is there "a threat to the health or safety of any person ordinarily transported by the motor vehicle"?

The person ordinarily transported by the vehicle is the Applicant, and the Tribunal finds that there is enough evidence to substantiate a decision of exceptional hardship. The Applicant has missed several physician's appointments. Further, asthma is a condition worsened by anxiety. It is natural for the Applicant to feel more secure having a vehicle in the driveway, particularly since she worries that she may not have the cash necessary to pay for an ambulance if one were needed.

Thus, the Tribunal finds the Applicant has no alternate means of transportation, the impoundment is a threat to the health of the Applicant and the Applicant has met the criterion of Section 22(1)(a).

After assessing the evidence presented, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has established the exceptional hardship ground for appeal, as required under section 50.2(3) of the Act.

DECISION:

After considering the evidence, pursuant to the authority vested in the Tribunal under section 50.2(5) of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H8 as amended, the Tribunal sets aside the Order of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to impound the Applicant's motor vehicle.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on December 5, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the Applicant's appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA").

The Tribunal released its Decision on December 6, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated November 8, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on November 13, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by money order.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

Counsel for the Applicant presented a letter from the Applicants' employer and requested it to be added to the documents submitted. There was no objection from the Representative for the Respondent and the document was added to the file. The Representative for the Respondent also submitted the true and certified copies of the Notice to Registrar, Vehicle and Drivers' abstracts. These documents were added to the existing MTO submissions. The documentary file was then entered as exhibits with the consent of both parties.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1 Notice to Registrar Dated November 1, 2001.
- b) Exhibit # 2 Notice of Appeal Form received by the Tribunal Dated November 13, 2001.
- c) Exhibit # 4 Letter from Atripco received by the Tribunal December 5, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 3 MTO Submissions, received by the Tribunal November 30, 2001.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

- 50.1(1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.
- (2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,
- (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1),(2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

- 15.(1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,
- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;

- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
 - (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;
 - (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
 - (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

FACTS:

The Applicant was sworn and took the stand. He testified that on November 1, 2001 at approximately 1:30 a.m., he was driving home from work and he was stopped by police. He testified that he had entered onto the 401 Eastbound at Weston Rd. and was stopped by OPP just west of Keele St. Once he was pulled over he produced his identification to the officer and the driver was identified as the Applicant. According to the Applicant, he was asked by the officer if he had been consuming any alcohol that evening, to which he replied no. He was asked to accompany the officer back to her cruiser. He was placed in the front of the cruiser. He was read the demand for a breath sample and the road side screening device was demonstrated to him by the officer.

According the Applicant's testimony, he attempted to provide a sample and after two times he started gagging or choking. He then testified that he asked to officer to take him to the hospital to get a blood test to prove that he had not been drinking. After his failed attempts to provide a suitable sample, the Applicant was charged with failure to provide a sample, and he was released. His motor vehicle was hooked up to a tow truck. He asked the tow truck operator to take him to the hospital so that he may get a blood test. The operator instead took him home, and the Applicant subsequently returned to the hospital. According to the Applicant he was seen by the duty nurse and when he explained his situation, the duty nurse contacted the duty doctor, Physician # 1 who in turn ordered the blood work. The Applicant left the hospital at 5:00 a.m. with the results.

The Applicant testified that he had provided reports with regards to his gagging or choking. Two "medical: " letters that were submitted. These letters were both written by Dentists. The first report by Physician # 2, indicated that the Applicant was seen between November 1998 through January 1999, Physician # 2 has not seen the Applicant since that time. The report indicated that on documentary review of the file it was noted that the Applicant was a severe gagger and it proved difficult to examine his mouth and subsequent surgery. Physician # 2 stated that the Applicant was admitted to the hospital where he underwent extensive oral surgery. Physician # 2 goes on to say that the Applicant stated to him that "any time an object comes near his lips or oral cavity it results in severe gagging." The second report, written by Physician # 3 confirms that the Applicant suffers from severe gagging reflex when objects are placed in his mouth making routine check-ups and cleaning very difficult. Physician # 3 comments that based on "the Applicant's history of gagging, it is my belief that his might physically prevent him from blowing properly on the roadside breathalyzer test. His failure to blow properly might be due to this physical disability." There was no other medical evidence presented to the Tribunal

The Applicant was asked by the Representative for the Respondent if he could demonstrate to the Tribunal, how he attempted to provide the sample by blowing into the mouthpiece which was provided to him. The Applicant took the mouthpiece and proceeded to make a seal with his lips and blow into the mouthpiece. This action alone did not cause an increase gag reflex. Upon blowing, the Applicant made a slight coughing sound. He indicated to the Tribunal that this was the choking that happens. However, the Applicant further testified that he is able to smoke cigarettes, eat, place a fork in his mouth and brush his teeth without invoking this gagging response. The Applicant said he could do this because these objects were not in his mouth for a long time. The Applicant was asked if he has sought an medical attention for this condition. The Applicant testified that he had not consulted his family physician nor had he had been seen or referred for a specialist's consultation. The Applicant was asked by the Representative for the Respondent "how long did the officer ask you to blow into the device?" The Applicant replied, "20 seconds" The Applicant had nothing further to add and was excused from the stand.

The next witness, Police Officer # 1 of the OPP Toronto detachment. The officer testified that on November 1, 2001 she was working the R.I.D.E. team. The officer testified that she was on patrol eastbound on Highway 401 when she observed a red Pontiac sunbird switch lanes and weave in and out of the lane. The officer testified that she followed the vehicle which was travelling at 80km per hour in a 100 km/h zone. The vehicle again changed lanes and was again weaving in and out of the lane. The officer testified that she believed that this may have been a sign that the driver was either fatigued or impaired. She activated her lights and the Applicant pulled off on the right side of the shoulder of the road. The officer also testified that the driver had not completely pulled on the shoulder and had to instruct him to pull completely off of the roadway. Upon speaking with the driver, the officer testified that she observed two things. First, the driver's eyes were bloodshot and glassy. Secondly, there was a distinct odour of an alcoholic beverage coming from the driver. Police Officer # 1 asked the driver if he had been drinking, to which the Applicant replied no. The officer requested the Applicant's drivers' licence and he was identified as the Applicant. The officer then read the demand for a breath sample. The Applicant accompanied the officer back to her cruiser where he was placed in the front passenger seat. The officer then demonstrated the use of the Dragger alcotest 7410GLC road side screening device. The Applicant stated that he understood the instruction. The officer then set the machine, placed a new mouth piece into the device and proceeded to blow into the machine. She blew for approximately 6 seconds. A tone was heard and a reading of 000 was obtained indicating that a suitable sample was retrieved and that there was no alcohol in her system.

The device was reset and a new mouth piece was placed in the machine. The officer then gave the Applicant 7 opportunities to provide a suitable sample. On each occasion, in spite of her continuous coaching to blow until told to stop, the Applicant each time began to blow, the machine sounded which indicated sufficient volume of air was entering the machine, however the Applicant stopped blowing before a suitable sample could be retrieved. According to the testimony of the officer, on the last two attempts, the Applicant began to blow, which lasted approximately 3 seconds, stop blowing and then continue again for another 3 seconds without removing his lips from the mouth piece. However, once the flow of air has stopped, an EO was registered which means unsuitable sample and the machine again had to be reset. The officer cautioned the Applicant about the repercussions of not providing a suitable sample. The Applicant was subsequently charged and released. The Applicant asked the officer to take him to the hospital for blood tests to prove he was not drinking. However, the officer testified that she did not see any reason why he could not perform the breathalyser test as demanded and saw no medical reason why he should have his blood drawn. The officer testified that she believed the only time that a blood sample would be taken was if the driver of a vehicle was unable to provide a breath sample due to injury.

The officer had no other testimony and was excused from the stand.

The Tribunal after very careful review of the evidence and after much deliberation, accepts the evidence of Police Officer # 1.

Counsel for the Applicant argued that the reports submitted over that of the Applicant to the Tribunal were sufficient to substantiate the Applicant's medical condition and that the testimony provided by the Applicant and the reports provided, met the onus on the Applicant to establish the merits of his appeal.

In an appeal of this kind, the onus is on the Applicant to substantiate his position. The Tribunal finds that the documents submitted by the Applicant do not substantiate his claim that he had a medical condition which precluded him from providing a breath sample.

The report from Physician # 2 and Physician # 3, fails to meet the very specific requirements of Section 15(1) of Regulation 574 of the Highway Traffic Act, namely that the report be from and signed by a legally qualified medical practitioner, which Physician # 2 and Physician # 3 are not. Further, both reports are address “to whom it may concern”, but section 15(1)(c) requires a statement that the “medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used in support of an appeal to the Board from the suspension of a driver’s licence under section 50.1 of the Act. Further, neither of these two reports indicate any current clinic testing. They provide no results of testing the Applicant’s condition or how this condition precludes the Applicant from providing a breath sample. The Tribunal finds that the reports submitted in support of the Applicant’s position fails to meet the requirements of section 15(1), and the Tribunal attaches very little weight to these reports.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

Reviewing the foregoing facts, the Applicant did not relate his medical condition to the requirements of Regulation 574 and section 50.1(2) of the Highway Traffic Act.

The evidence is clear that the Applicant refused to provide a breath sample, but for no stated medical reason. The evidence submitted of the actions of the Applicant suggests that the Applicant had no intention of giving a proper sample. The evidence presented by Police Officer # 1 was quite clear in that the Applicant was able to form a tight seal with his lips around the mouthpiece of the screening device and began to provide adequate amounts of air into the machine but started and stopped. This stopping and then continuing to blow rendered an error message each time. At no time did the Applicant indicate to the officer that there was a medical problem which made it impossible to provide an adequate sample.

The Applicant has not discharged the onus to establish a valid medical reason for his failure to provide a breath sample when a demand was made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada).

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated November 1, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on December 10, 2001, at Orillia, Ontario, to consider the appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA") of the Applicant.

The Tribunal released its Decision on December 11, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO SET ASIDE the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated November 9, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on November 20, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by cheque.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

The Representative of the Ministry provided the Tribunal with original certified copies of Ministry of Transportation documents previously submitted.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1 Notice to Registrar Dated November 8, 2001.
- b) Exhibit # 2 Notice of Appeal Form – received November 20, 2001.
- c) Exhibit # 4 Medical Report from Physician # 1 – received November 29, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 3 Ministry of Transportation submissions – received December 4, 2001.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath because she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

- 50.1(1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.
- (2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,
- (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
- (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1), (2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

- 15.(1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,
- (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;

- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
 - (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;
 - (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

FACTS:

The Applicant's Driver's Licence was suspended "November 8th, 2001" as set out in her Notice of Appeal (Exhibit # 1)

Applicant's Evidence -

Page two of Notice of Appeal refers to a short typewritten note addressed "To Whom It May Concern", dated November 14, 2001, under the signature of Physician # 1.

Physician # 1 states that he has been the Applicant's family physician since 1987 and has "...been acquainted with ...medical history... of psychiatric disturbances characterized by depressive and panicky affect. Stressful situations, both physical and emotional, have been known to cause anxiety, hysteria and hyperventilation. When excessive, hospitalization and medication have been necessary..." (Exhibit # 1)

At the Hearing, the Applicant testified that she is asking for the return of her licence, as she did not refuse to blow. She was unable to provide the demanded breath sample due to her inability to breathe.

The Applicant explained that as set out in her doctor's statement, stressful situations are upsetting and cause panic attacks and anxiety, which instigate hyperventilation. The cell doors closing behind her, made her feel uncomfortable and she "begged" to be let out for air. The Applicant also called for a female officer, but was told that none was available.

In these situations the Applicant would normally use an inhaler, but the inhaler she carries with her was on the floor in the car, by the roadside.

In both in chief testimony and in cross-examination, the Applicant attested that she did not ask for medical assistance as she felt that if she was given some "...space and some air..." she would compose herself and be "fine".

The Applicant believes that she was pulled over because the car weaved as she was trying to take off her shoes. The Applicant attested that she is aware of how much alcohol she can consume as she has taken the "Smart Serve" Course. The "Smart Serve" Course "...is something that most people who serve alcohol have to take... to notice the signs of impairment and body weight vs alcohol limits...". The Applicant serves alcohol twice a year when she volunteers with the Lyons Club.

The Applicant "...knew..." that she was not over the limit, and therefore believes it would be "...stupid..." to refuse to provide a breath sample.

In cross-examination, the Applicant reiterated her previous testimony that at the time she was suffering from: "...hysteria, anxiety and hyperventilation...". The Applicant clarified her definition of "hysterical" by describing her behaviour as "...begging ...to be out of the room, for air ...for a female officer ...curling up into a tiny ball ...in the cell".

Once out of the cell, the Applicant endeavored to control herself, but the fact that the officer was "...being rude to the point of being ignorant..." did not help the situation.

During the breath test session the Applicant asserted that she "...repeatedly..." told the officers that she was not refusing, but that she could not breathe, but that they just kept telling her "...to do it right...".

The Applicant remembers speaking to the Duty Counsel "...haltingly..." and not going into diatribes during the sessions, as she was not able to speak too much.

As for being able to create a seal around the mouthpiece, the Applicant maintains that she was hyperventilating and therefore attempting to gasp for air. Thus, she felt it difficult to close her mouth around the mouthpiece.

The Applicant did visit her family physician on the same of the incident, but it was just for conversation. There was no need at the time for further tests or medication.

In reply to the Ministry's Representative question as to when the last time a similar incident of hyperventilation occurred, the Applicant described an occasion in "...1998 or 99..." when, while waiting for the physician, in a small room with the door closed, she had to be taken directly to the hospital.

With respect to asking for medical assistance, the Applicant stated that she believes assistance would not have been provided a "...one cannot expect anything from anybody...".

In her closing remarks, the Applicant was adamant in her assertion that that she did not refuse to provide a breath a sample but that she was not able to do so due to the circumstances at the time.

The Applicant explained that she "...cannot handle being trapped...", but what was making her feel anxious was not just the fact that she "...was sitting in a police cell, at night...". "...More stress..." was being exerted by what was going on in her mind. She "...needed to get home ...get children to school ...get babysitter home ...get to a job just gotten ...already late ...babysitter angry".

The Applicant reiterated her previous statement, that the presence of a "...female officer would have made the male officers less intimidating..." and that she would have been "...calmed down...".

Respondent's Evidence

The Respondent provided the following Documents:

1. Notice to the Registrar, certified November 23, 2001.
2. Driving Record of the Applicant, certified November 23, 2001.
3. Vehicle record of occurrence date, certified November 23, 2001

The Respondent called Police Officer # 1a Detachment as a witness. Police Officer # 1 has been a police officer for twelve years.

During examination in chief, Police Officer # 1, testified as to the grounds that led up to the demand for a breath sample.

Police Officer # 1 noticed that when the Applicant was stopped, she had at least one shoe off, and that she had to do the buckles of her shoes, prior to getting out of the car.

There is not a lot of room in the back of the patrol car, but the Applicant did not appear "...excited..." She was crying, and cried "...through out the investigation...".

In his notes, Police Officer # 1 noted: "...hesitation...". It appeared to Police Officer # 1, that the Applicant "...did not want to be put into the cell...". Police Officer # 1 added that the "...cell area is about the size of the table ...maybe a little less...".

Police Officer # 1 was present during the breathalyzer session. He testified that the Applicant was "...crying ...upset ...but at no time hyperventilating ...or breathing excessively...". The Applicant was not making a seal around the mouthpiece. She puffed her cheeks, but no air went through the instrument, except for one brief moment, when the machine sounded a brief note, but stopped.

Police Officer # 1 confirmed the Applicant's testimony that no medical assistance was requested. In his opinion, the Applicant was able to provide a breath sample.

The Respondent also called as a witness, Police Officer # 2 of the Ontario Provincial Police. Police Officer # 2 has been with the Orillia Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police since June of this year, previously having been with the Toronto Police Services since 1988. Police Officer # 2 became a qualified intoxilyzer technician in October 2000.

Police Officer # 2 testified that he checked the machine prior to the breathalyzer session, and that he instructed the Applicant on the proper procedure for the provision of an adequate breath sample.

The Applicant was given five opportunities to provide a breath sample and Police Officer # 2 described each attempt separately.

In her first attempt the Applicant took a deep breath "...put her mouth around the mouthpiece, without making a seal and blew completely past the mouthpiece...".

Police Officer # 2 testified that in his opinion, the Applicant in subsequent attempts deliberately blocked the mouthpiece with her tongue to prevent air from going into the machine. During one of the attempts, a brief tone was heard, indicating that some air was flowing into the instrument, but it was not enough to register an adequate breath sample.

Police Officer # 2 stated that he did not observe the Applicant to be under physical distress, although "...she seemed visibly upset...". Asked whether he felt that the Applicant could communicate easily, Police Officer # 2 replied that the Applicant did not speak much but "...she did say the odd thing ...request for a female officer..."

Police Officer # 2 did not remember the Applicant crying during the session, but mentioned an incident where the Applicant "...jumped up from her chair ...to get a roll of paper towels from the wall to blow her nose...".

As for requesting a blood sample, Police Officer # 2 stated, that this measure is totally discretionary and is to be used only in instances where the individual is physically incapacitated. This was not a situation he believed warranted such a request.

In reply to the Applicant's question as to how he knew that she was blocking the mouthpiece with her tongue, Police Officer # 2 replied, that he based his opinion on the fact that he "...could somewhat see...".

The Applicant asked Police Officer # 2, if he remembered being intimidating and using the words: "Blow ...surely you know how to blow...". Police Officer # 2 responded that he behaved in a "professional" manner and stressed that he did not recall, "...if ...used those specific words..." but acknowledged, "...I probably used words to that effect..."

In his closing remarks, the Ministry's Representative contended that at no time during the ride to the detachment nor at the detachment did the Applicant request medical assistance nor inform either of the officers that she was in any physical distress.

The Ministry's Representative, Mr. Biel suggested that Physician # 1's report is inadmissible in that it fails to conform with the requirements of "...section 13 of Regulation 574...".

Mr. Biel further pointed out the report's deficiencies: does not describe specific incidents; does not relate the condition to the incident; is not corroborated by a psychiatric report; gives no indication of treatment or medication required and "...speaks in the past...". Mr. Biel suggests that the last panic attack occurred in 1999 and there is no indication of a recurrence, the inference being, it is safe to assume that panic attacks are now "...behind her...".

The Tribunal was asked to accept the evidence of both officers which according to Mr. Biel, was "...consistent and forthright..." in specifying that the Applicant was visibly upset but "...not hysterical nor hyperventilating...".

Mr. Biel suggests that the Applicant's behaviour was no different than anyone in her situation, who knowing they had been drinking did not wish to incriminate themselves by providing a breath sample.

The Ministry's Representative urged that the Tribunal confirm the Registrar's decision to suspend the Applicant's driver's licence, as there was no visible indication that the Applicant was unable to provide a breath sample for any other reason than the fact that she blocked the mouth piece with her tongue.

Prior to the conclusion of the hearing and in reply to Mr. Biel's comments about the medical report, the Applicant provided the Tribunal with a copy of a new report from Physician # 1. According to the Applicant this report was faxed "...12:44 November 29 ...". As Mr. Biel had no objection, a copy of the report was accepted and filed as Exhibit # 4.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

The Applicant alluded to the fact that a blood sample could have been obtained. Subsection 48.3(3)1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter H-8 as amended is clear in its provision, the concentration of alcohol in the blood may be obtained "...by an analysis of the person's breath sample or blood taken..." However, the decision to request a blood sample is at the discretion of the officers, according to established policy. At the time, the Applicant showed no visible signs of respiratory impairment, such as wheezing or choking. Thus, the issue of a blood sample is inconsequential.

Throughout the hearing, evidence was introduced by the Respondent to suggest that the Applicant was driving under the influence. Determination of impairment is not an issue for this Tribunal, nor does the Applicant's state of sobriety have any bearing on this Tribunal. The Tribunal's mandate rests with Section 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, states:

"...person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason..."

Thus, at issue is did the Applicant have a medical condition that could cause the Applicant to fail or not comply with the breath demand.

The Applicant contends that she was not able to provide a breath sample due a medical condition. She supports her grounds for appeal referring to Physician # 1's report. The Respondent argued that Physician # 1's report does not comply with the requirements of section 15 of Regulation 574 under the Highway Traffic Act.

Sections 15(1) and (2) of Regulation 574 provides:

15(1)(c)

" that the medical practitioner had prepared the report or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the Tribunal from the suspension of a driver's license under section 50.1 of the Act."

15(2)

“The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath sample including the results of any related tests.”

The Tribunal concurs with the Respondent’s argument in that the Tribunal not give significant weight to the report. The report entered as Exhibit #4, conforms with the provisions of Section 15(1)(c), but its general nature and does not fully comply with the requirements of Section 15(2).

Nonetheless, the condition attributed to the Applicant cannot be considered as a typical respiratory deficiency, where the patient is commonly referred to a respiratologist, and where there are recognized and accepted tests available, such as the Pulmonary Function Test.

The Applicant is diagnosed by Physician # 1 with a disorder characterized by panic attacks and anxiety. The condition diagnosed by Physician # 1 is one that is unpredictable and can manifest itself with or without apparent reason, but does usually occur during stressful situations. This statement is corroborated by description found in the Glossary of Technical Terms on page 769 of the Diagnostic and Statistic Manual of Mental Disorder – DSM IV:

“panic attacks Discrete periods of sudden onset of intense apprehension, fearfulness ...during the attacks there are symptoms such as shortness of breath.... Panic attacks may be unexpected (uncued), in which the onset of the attack is not associated with a situational trigger (“cue”); and situationally predisposed, in which the panic attack is more likely to occur on exposure to a situational trigger...”.

Further information provided by the Diagnostic and Statistic Manual of Mental Disorder – DSM IV, confirms that panic attacks can vary in severity and incidence.

Not being provided detailed information by Physician # 1’s report, the Tribunal must rely on the evidence presented with respect to the events that transpired on the night in question, as well as on visual observation of the Applicant’s demeanour during the hearing.

Both officers testified steadfastly that the Applicant was not hysterical nor hyperventilating. The Applicant gives her version of “hysterical” as “begging”. Police Officer # 1 observed “...hesitation...” as he was placing the Applicant in the cell. He noticed that the Applicant “...did not want to be put into the cell...”. This behaviour is consistent with the fear of “being trapped.”

There is a discrepancy in the testimony of the two officers. Police Officer # 1 remembers the Applicant as crying "...through out the investigation...", Police Officer # 2 emphatically stated that he would not perform a breathalyzer test on someone crying, but described an incident where the Applicant "...jumped up from her chair...to get a roll of paper towels from the wall to blow her nose...". There is no evidence that the Applicant had a cold, blowing a nose is a common reaction of someone crying. In fact, throughout this hearing, the Applicant did not stop tearing and had the constant need to blow her nose.

The Representative of the Ministry noted that if the Applicant had been hyperventilating for a solid two hours, she would have passed out. This assumption is accurate. DSM IV confirms that one of the symptoms of panic is "shortness of breath". This fact, together with the fact that the Applicant cried "...through out the investigation...", makes it feasible to accept that her breathing would be altered to some extent.

The Applicant also provided several reasons as to why the situation she found herself in was particularly stressful. In her testimony and in her closing remarks, the Applicant stated: she was worried about her children, the babysitter, her job; she was upset and "...repeatedly..." told the officers that she could not breathe; she "begged" to be let out of the cell; she alluded to the rude treatment by Police Officer # 2. It is evident that the Applicant with or without reason, felt intimidated by the male officers, and asked for a female officer.

It is quite conceivable that the combination of events that took place on the night in question, could bring on anxiety and panic. As the degree of manifestation varies, it is quite possible that the officers were not aware of what was happening. Nonetheless, the Tribunal is satisfied that the Applicant was suffering from a condition at the time of the incident which precluded her from providing an adequate breath sample.

Based on the evidence before the Tribunal, and on a balance of probabilities, the Tribunal finds that the Appellant meets the criteria of Section 50.1(2)(b), in that she was able to demonstrate that she suffers from a medical condition which would prevent her from providing a breath sample.

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated November 8, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal orders the suspension set aside.

REASONS FOR DECISION

A hearing was held on December 7, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the appeal pursuant to section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chap. H.8 amended ("HTA") of Senthil Kumaran Subramaniam (the "Applicant").

The Tribunal released its Decision on December 10, 2001, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant, by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated November 2, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on November 5, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by money order.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

There were no preliminary matters and the hearing proceeded. The hearing was delayed as the Applicant failed to attend. The Tribunal adjourned for 30 minutes and the Applicant was called by telephone. The hearing re-convened at 10:00 a.m. As the Applicant was not present, the documents which had been filed with the Tribunal were entered into evidence. The hearing continued with the representative for the Respondent calling a witness to the stand. The witness was sworn and proceeded to give testimony. The Applicant arrived at 10:40 a.m. The hearing proceeded.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1 Suspension notice dated October 30, 2001.
- b) Exhibit # 2 Notice of appeal form dated November 5, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 3 MTO submissions received December 4, 2001.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

- 50.1(1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.
- (2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,
 - (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
 - (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1),(2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

- 15.(1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,
 - (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;

- (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;
 - (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;
 - (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

FACTS:

Police Officer # 1, Toronto Police Service was sworn and gave the following testimony. Police Officer # 1 testified that on October 25, 2001 he was in the curb lane on Finch Ave at Markham Rd. in the City of Toronto. He observed a vehicle in his rear view mirror. This vehicle approached his vehicle, changed into the bus lane and proceeded to go through the intersection against a red light. Police Officer # 1 activated his roof lights, caught up to the vehicle and pulled the vehicle over. The vehicle was a 1996 Acura Integra licence plate number AHYE748 and driven by the Applicant.

Police Officer # 1 testified that he detected an odour of an alcoholic beverage on the drivers' breath. He read the driver the breath demand from the back of his note pad. The Applicant accompanied the officer back to his cruiser where he provided a sample into the approved roadside screening device. The Applicant failed that road side test. He was arrested and transported to the police station whereby he was turned over to the breath technician, Police Officer # 2.

The Applicant was again read the demand for breath and explained what was going to take place. The Applicant replied that he understood and would co-operate. The Applicant provided an adequate breath sample and blew 106mg which was over the legal limit. The Applicant was able to have a sustained expiration which lasted at least 10 seconds. This was evidenced in the video tape provided. The Applicant was told that he would be required to provide another adequate sample after a 15 minutes hiatus. The Applicant was brought back into the breath room and attempted to provide a further breath sample. The Applicant on each attempt either blew for short periods of time or inhaled from the tube thus causing the machine to register an error message. Police Officer # 2 after the third failed attempt, concluded that the Applicant was not going to comply and supply an adequate sample and he was subsequently charged.

The Applicant had no questions of the officer. The officer was excused from the stand.

The Applicant took the stand and was affirmed. He testified that he suffered from a medical condition, i.e. he had trouble breathing. He also testified that he was unable to give the officer a breath sample because of his breathing problems. The Applicant was asked if he had seen the video tape provided by the Representative for the Respondent. He said no and was shown the tape. The tape clearly indicated that the Applicant did in fact provide an adequate breath sample and was able to expire his air continuously for 10 seconds. However, he stated that on the next attempts he had trouble with his breathing.

The Applicant provided a "medical letter" in support of his position. The Notice of Appeal form, page 2 was not completed by the physician. Instead a letter was attached to the form. Upon questioning, the Applicant acknowledged that the physician was not made aware that the letter was going to be used in an Appeal brought before the Tribunal nor had the Applicant informed the physician that he had been charged with impaired and refusal to provide a proper breath sample.

The Applicant continued to state that he needed his licence as his father could not see out of one eye and had to be taken to the hospital regularly for treatment. The Applicant had no further information to add and was excused from the stand.

The Tribunal finds as fact the documentary evidence presented by the representative for the Respondent as well as the testimony presented by Police Officer # 1.

The Tribunal does not accept the evidence as presented by the Applicant.

In an appeal of this nature, the onus is on the Applicant to substantiate his position. The documents submitted by the Applicant do not substantiate his claim to the effect that he had a medical condition which precluded him from providing a breath or blood sample.

The report from Physician # 1 the Applicant's medical practitioner, fails to meet the specific requirements of Section 15(1) of Regulation 574 of the Highway Traffic Act in the following respects. Physician # 1 does not indicate 1) if he is family physician or specialist 2) there is no history of present medical condition 3) there is no indication of any treatments afford to this patient 4) there is no indication that the physician is unaware that this report will be used in a hearing before the Licence Appeal Tribunal; and 5) the report does not provide any details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report

This report does not meet the requirements of section 15 of Ontario Regulation 574 and therefore the Tribunal can give this report little weight.

Also, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant's testimony lacked credibility.

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

The onus of proof is on the Applicant in this appeal to establish that he did not provide a breath sample because of a medical reason. The evidence before this Tribunal does not establish this.

The Tribunal after weighing all of the evidence presented can only conclude that the Applicant was not suffering from any medical condition that would have precluded him from providing a proper breath or blood sample.

The Applicant has not discharged the onus to establish a valid medical reason for his failure to provide a breath sample when demanded under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada).

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated October 26, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

The Tribunal released its Decision on December 20, with Reasons to follow.

THE TRIBUNAL RULED TO CONFIRM the suspension imposed by the Registrar pursuant to section 48.3 HTA for the following reasons.

REASONS

BACKGROUND:

Notice of Appeal and Prescribed Fee

This appeal comes before the Tribunal on behalf of the Applicant by way of a Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990 as amended, chapter H.8. The Applicant elected that his appeal be decided by the Tribunal by way of an oral hearing. The form of Notice of Appeal under section 50.1 of the Highway Traffic Act was dated October 30, 2001, and was received by the Tribunal on November 26, 2001, together with the prescribed fee of $100.00, paid by cheque.

Reason for the Appeal

The reason for the appeal cited by the Applicant was stated as follows in the said notice:

"I was unable to provide the required breath sample because of a medical reason."

Preliminary Matters

Counsel for the Applicant asked that his client be able to have an interpreter present. There was no objection from the representative for the Respondent. The interpreter was identified as Mr. Manbreet Dhillon. Mr. Dhillon was affirmed. Both parties gave consent to having the documents submitted entered into evidence. The hearing proceeded.

Submissions of Written Material

By the Applicant:

- a) Exhibit # 1 Notice to Registrar.
- b) Exhibit # 2 Notice of Appeal received by the Tribunal on November 26, 2001.

By the Respondent:

- a) Exhibit # 3 MTO Submissions received by the Tribunal December 12, 2001.

ISSUE:

Having established that this appeal falls within subsection 50.1(2)(b) of the Highway Traffic Act, and the Tribunal thereby having jurisdiction, the question to be answered is: Did the Applicant fail or refuse to comply with a demand made to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason?

LAW:

The legislation governing the Administrative Drivers Licence Suspension (ADLS) under subsection 50.1(1) and (2) of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") states:

- 50.1(1) "A person whose driver's licence is suspended under Section 48.3 may appeal the suspension to the Tribunal.
- (2) The grounds on which a person may appeal under subsection (1) and the only grounds on which the Tribunal may order that the suspension be set aside are,
 - (a) that the person whose licence was suspended is not the same individual to whom a demand for a sample of breath or blood was made, or from whom a sample of breath or blood was taken, as the case may be, under or pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Code (Canada) referred to in subsection 48.3(3); or
 - (b) that the person failed or refused to comply with a demand made under section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada) to provide a sample of breath or blood because he or she was unable to do so for a medical reason".

The HTA states under Section 50.1(4):

The [Tribunal] may confirm the suspension or may order that the suspension be set aside.

Regulation 574 (amended), Highway Traffic Act at subsection 15(1),(2) and (3) requires that a medical report must contain:

- 15.(1) "a report of a legally qualified medical practitioner that is to be submitted in evidence shall clearly state,
 - (a) the name, telephone number and address, with the postal code, of the medical practitioner;
 - (b) the name, date of birth and address of the person who is the subject of the report;

- (c) that the medical practitioner has prepared the report, or is aware that the report may be used, in support of an appeal to the [Tribunal] from the suspension of a driver's licence under section 50.1 of the Act;
 - (d) the length of time and frequency with which the medical practitioner has attended upon the person who is the subject of the report, including the date of the most recent examination of the person that supports the findings set out in the report;
 - (e) whether the medical practitioner is the family physician of the person who is the subject of the report; and
 - (f) whether the medical practitioner is a specialist and, if so, the field of speciality.
- (2) The report shall provide the details of any present condition, diagnosis and history of the condition that precludes the person who is the subject of the report from providing a breath or blood sample including the results of any related tests.
- (3) The report shall be signed by the medical practitioner."

Finally, section 13 of Regulation 574 (amended) provides:

"A person appealing a suspension has the onus of establishing the merit of the appeal".

FACTS:

The Applicant was called to the stand and was affirmed. He testified that on October 20, 2001 he was stopped by police. He thought that the police had stopped him because of a broken tail light which had apparently happened early that day. The Applicant testified that the police asked him if he had anything to drink to which he responded no. He then testified that he was put into the police cruiser and asked to provide a breath sample. He stated that he tried to provide a sample but could not because of his asthma.

According to the Applicant, he was arrested then placed in handcuffs. The Applicant testified that he started to have a viral infection earlier that day and was not feeling well. He also testified that he had a "rash and pimples" start that day as well. The Applicant testified that he has seen Physician # 1 since 1993 and has stated that he has had asthma since early childhood and is currently taking two puffers and tablets. The Applicant testified that he has asthma attacks, "sometimes once per week or 3 to 4 times per week or once every few weeks". The Applicant was asked what happened when he attempted to provide the breath sample?. The Applicant stated that he "began to choke and cough". The Applicant testified that he asked the officer if he could do other tests such as "walk a chalk line or count backwards from 100 to prove he was not drinking"? According to the Applicant, the response of the officer was that he relied on an approved screening device to determine if he had alcohol in his system or not. He was asked by counsel if he had told the officer that he suffered from asthma or any other medical conditions? The Applicant responded, "no". The Applicant also testified that during his attack while trying to provide a breath sample, he was suffering from "shortness of breath" and was coughing and he went on to state that he "did not want to throw up in the car".

The Applicant testified that he did not see Physician # 1 until the 24th October as it was the weekend. The Registrar's representative pointed out that the 24th of October was a Wednesday and again asked why the Applicant did not see his physician on the Monday, October 22, 2001? The Applicant responded that he went home and "treated himself" with his puffers and a "machine with a mask". He testified that he has had asthma since childhood as well his wife and children also "suffer from asthma and everyone is on medication." He also testified that he did not see the physician immediately because he is "told the same thing every time, that is to continue with his medications". The Applicant testified that he had not seen a specialist or Respiriologist in the past but had gone for tests on December 6, 2001. However, the Applicant did not provide any confirmation that he attended such testing nor were there any results of PFT submitted to the Tribunal.

Counsel for the Applicant asked the Tribunal to consider the medical evidence provided by the Applicants' Physician # 1. Counsel pointed out that Physician # 1 states that the Applicant has a history of asthma, is on medications for this asthma and that asthma is exacerbated by viral infection or by acute emotional stress. According to Physician # 1, "when he was pulled over by the police he got anxious and it triggered his asthma, this prevented him from giving an appropriate breath test." The Applicant had nothing further to add and was excused from the stand.

Police Officer # 1 was called to the stand, was sworn and gave the following testimony. Police Officer # 1 testified that he has been with the Toronto OPP since January of 2001. Police Officer # 1 testified that he was travelling northbound on Highway 427 south of Derry Road. He observed a green jeep Cherokee plate number 210 XKK travelling in lane four cross onto the shoulder and then correct back into the lane. Police Officer # 1 observed this three more times. The police cruiser's lights were activated and the vehicle was stopped. Police Officer # 1 exited his vehicle from the passenger's side and approached the jeep on the driver's side. He testified that he detected the odour of an alcoholic beverage. As well, the driver's eyes were red and glassy. Police Officer # 1 asked the driver, who was identified as the Applicant if he had anything to drink that evening? The driver responded, "No, only a coke". The officer asked the driver to get out of the vehicle and to step to the rear of the jeep. According to the testimony of Police Officer # 1, he again asked the Applicant "did you have anything to drink?", to which, according to Police Officer # 1, the Applicant responded, "Two beers". Police Officer # 1 again stated that he smelled an alcoholic beverage on the driver's breath and at that point he formed an opinion that the Applicant had alcohol in his system. Police Officer # 1 read the demand for breath to the driver and the driver responded "yes, OK". The Applicant was placed in the rear of the cruiser. At approximately 12:32 a.m. the demand for breath was again made to which Police Officer # 1 asked the Applicant if he understood to which the driver replied, "yes".

Police Officer # 1 explained the test to the Applicant. He then demonstrated what the Applicant had to do and what was expected to happen. The Applicant indicated to the Officer that he understood and would comply. The Applicant was given eight opportunities to provide a breath sample. On these attempts, the Applicant either puffed out his cheeks and blew no air into the machine, or failed to form a seal around the mouth piece thus allowing air to escape and not enter the device.

According to Police Officer # 1, only on two of the eight attempts was there an audible tone emitted from the machine; however, on both of these attempts, the tone lasted no more than 2 seconds which caused the machine to register an EO code, which indicates an insufficient sample of air. At one point, the Applicant was given a mouth piece and asked to blow, to which he did and air was felt exiting the mouth piece. The mouth piece at this time was not in the machine. Once placed into the device, an insufficient sample was provided. Police Officer # 1 testified that at no time did the Applicant indicate to him that he had a medical condition or that he was in need of medication or medical attention. Police Officer # 1 testified that on the 7th attempt, the Applicant began to cough which lasted a few seconds. The Applicant was provided an 8th attempt; again the Applicant's breath sample unable to register on the device. It was at this point the Applicant was arrested and charged with failure to provide. Police Officer # 1 was excused from the stand.

The Tribunal accepts the evidence of Police Officer # 1 that he did not observe the Applicant having any difficulty breathing or talking and that he was not wheezing or gasping for air.

The Applicant's physician has indicated that the Applicant has a long history of asthma and is on "inhaled steroid and bronchodilators". The physician also stated that "Patient is presently stable".

APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO FACTS:

In an appeal of this nature, the onus is on the Applicant to substantiate his position. The Tribunal has examined the medical evidence submitted by the Physician #1. The document submitted by Physician #1 does not substantiate the Applicant's claim that he had a medical condition at the time of the breath demand which precluded him from providing a breath sample. Physician #1 stated that 'the asthma was triggered by anxiety when his patient was pulled over by police'. However, the Applicant stated to the contrary that "I had virus, which started in the morning" and that is what caused me to have an asthma attack". According to Physician #1, the Applicant has had asthma since childhood but has not felt it necessary to refer him to a specialist or to have specific pulmonary function tests until after the Applicant had been charged when an appointment was made to have testing done. This test was to be conducted on December 6, 2001. The Tribunal did not receive any results of this test.

The Tribunal after very careful review gives little weight to the medical report of Physician #1 with respect to the Applicant's failure to provide a breath sample when demanded by Police Officer # 1.

After reviewing the foregoing facts, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant has not established that his medical condition is that required by Regulation 574 and Section 50(1)(2)(b).

The evidence is clear that the Applicant attempted to provide a sample, however an adequate sample was not provided for no apparent medical reason.

The Tribunal finds that the Applicant's medical status was within acceptable and normal functional limits and can only conclude that the actions taken by the Applicant were actions taken by someone who was unwilling to provide an adequate sample. The evidence of Police Officer # 1 that the Applicant consistently repeatedly puffed out his cheeks and blew no air into the instrument or failed to provide a tight seal around the mouth piece repeatedly do not show the actions of someone having difficulty providing a sample because of a medical reason.

The Applicant has not discharged his onus under section 50.1 of the HTA to establish a valid medical reason for his failure to provide a breath sample when demanded by P.C. Barker under Section 254 of the Criminal Code (Canada).

DECISION:

Upon the application by the Applicant to appeal the suspension order dated October 21, 2001 of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles pursuant to section 48.3 of the Highway Traffic Act ("HTA") and having considered the evidence filed with the Tribunal, and the submissions of the Registrar and of the Applicant;

Pursuant to the authority vested in it under section 50.1(4) of the HTA, the Tribunal confirms the suspension.

ORDER

A motion was heard by teleconference on November 29, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario, to consider the request of Brian Christiansen (the "Applicant") for an extension of time to appeal the impoundment order of the Registrar affecting the Applicant's motor vehicle. The motion is brought pursuant to Section 20(7) of Ontario Regulation 632/98 amending Regulation 574 of the Revised Regulations of Ontario, 1990 made under the Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1990. c.H.8 amended ("HTA").

SUBMISSIONS OF WRITTEN MATERIAL:

The Applicant submitted the following documents:

1. Copy of Notice to Registrar dated October 4, 2001, as issued by the Ministry of Transportation, relating to the impoundment of the motor vehicle for 45 days (Exhibit # 1).
2. Original Notice of Appeal, including Applicant's position on Appeal, dated October 26, 2001, received by the Tribunal on October 30, 2001 (Exhibit # 2).
3. Copy of letter from the Applicant dated November 8, 2001 and received by the Tribunal on November 14, 2001 (Exhibit #3).

THE FACTS:

The Applicant is the owner of a motor vehicle impounded for a period of 45 days pursuant to section 55.1 of the Highway Traffic Act. The Applicant is a long-distance highway truck driver.

The motor vehicle was ordered impounded on October 4, 2001 while being driven by James F. Canning, whose driver's licence was under suspension at the time of the impoundment. The Applicant's girlfriend and Mr. Canning, one of the sons of the Applicant's roommate, took the vehicle without the knowledge or consent of the Applicant. The vehicle was stopped by the OPP just south of North Bay and the driver and occupant were arrested for being impaired. The vehicle was then impounded.

The Applicant's Notice of Appeal to the impoundment was dated October 26, 2001 and was received by the Tribunal by mail on October 30, 2001, 26 days after the vehicle was impounded. The motion presently before the Tribunal is for an Order requesting an extension of the time for the filing of the Notice of Appeal.

The following is the Applicant's affirmed testimony and explanation for not filing an appeal of the impoundment of his vehicle within the required 15 days.

The Applicant testified that he left the keys to his vehicle with his girlfriend to give to his ex-wife so she could bring their ill son to the doctor for some tests.

The following is the Applicant's chronological itinerary for the month of October 2001:

DATE	DESCRIPTION
October 2, 2001	Applicant drove to Winnipeg.
October 4, 2001	As Applicant is leaving Winnipeg to return to Toronto, receives a phone call from his girlfriend advising that his vehicle had been impounded in North Bay.
October 5, 2001	Applicant arrived in North Bay. Was informed by the impound facility of the phone number for the Licence Appeal Tribunal to obtain package for filing an appeal. Applicant obtained a photocopy of the Notice to Registrar (front page only) from the OPP. The Tribunal is unclear when the Applicant received the original Notice to Registrar.
October 6, 2001	Applicant was picked up in North Bay to proceed to his next destination.
October 12, 2001 10 a.m.	Applicant drove to Winnipeg.
October 12, 2001 3 p.m.	Appeal package from Licence Appeal Tribunal arrived by mail at the Applicant's home.
October 19, 2001 3 p.m.	Applicant returned to Ontario. Applicant's roommate provided Applicant with his mail. Applicant testified he saw the package, but did not have a chance to review and complete the forms.
October 20, 2001 9 a.m.	Applicant left for Moncton, New Brunswick. Before his departure, the original Order to Impound was not yet received by the Applicant.
October 22, 2001 4 a.m.	Applicant returned to Ontario and stayed in Toronto until truck was loaded for departure at 1 p.m. (approx.)

DATE	DESCRIPTION
October 22, 2001 1 p.m. (approx.)	Applicant left for Winnipeg (single run).
October 25, 2001 6:30 p.m.	Applicant arrived at Toronto Pearson and took a taxi home to Barrie.
October 26, 2001	Applicant reviewed, completed and forwarded appeal forms to the Licence Appeal Tribunal.
October 30, 2001	Appeal forms received by the Licence Appeal Tribunal (Exhibit #2).

THE LAW:

Section 20(1) of Regulation 632/98 states:

20. (1) An appeal to the Tribunal under section 50.2 of the Act shall be commenced by filing a notice of appeal with the Tribunal within 15 days of the issuance of the order to impound, together with a fee of $100 payable to the Minister of Finance.

Section 20(7) of Regulation 632/98 states:

20. (7) Despite subsection (1), the Tribunal may extend the time for commencing an appeal if the owner establishes that the owner, acting in good faith, was unable through accident, illness, or other cause beyond the owner's control to bring the appeal within the prescribed 15 days.

Section 7 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999 states:

7. Despite any limitation of time fixed by or under any Act for the giving of any notice requiring a hearing by the Tribunal or an appeal from a decision or order of the Tribunal under section 11 or any other Act, if the Tribunal is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for applying for the extension and for granting relief, it may,

- (a) extend the time for giving the notice either before or after the expiration of the limitation of time so limited; and
- (b) give the directions that it considers proper as a result of extending the time.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

Section 20(7) of Regulation 632/98, provides the Tribunal with the specific criteria that the Applicant must meet to satisfy the Tribunal that an extension of the time for commencing an appeal ought to be granted. The Applicant must establish that he, acting in good faith, was unable through accident, illness or other cause beyond his control, to bring the appeal within the prescribed 15 days in circumstances where the Registrar does not give his or her consent in writing for an appeal to be commenced after the expiry of the prescribed time. Though the Tribunal acknowledges the desire of the Applicant to accept fault in this matter, the Tribunal is precluded from considering other factors not arising from or directly related to these criteria.

The criteria listed in Section 20(7), which the Tribunal should consider in granting an extension, are matters outside the Applicant's control.

The owner of a vehicle must expeditiously inquire and/or file the necessary paperwork for an appeal process as stipulated on the reverse of the Notice to Registrar. A complete copy of that form inadvertently was not provided to the Applicant by the Ontario Provincial Police in response to the Applicant's inquiry respecting the impoundment. There is no evidence before the Tribunal that the Applicant received original Notice to Registrar which sets out the Applicant's appeal rights. In his testimony, the Applicant provided a number of reasons that precluded a timely filing.

As outlined above, the Applicant is a long-distance highway truck driver. The appeal package was received on October 12th after the Applicant left for Winnipeg. The Applicant arrived home at 3 p.m. on October 19th to leave again at 9 a.m. October 20th for New Brunswick. He returned to Ontario in the early morning hours of October 20th to once again leave a few hours later for a one-way trip to Winnipeg, flying back to Toronto on October 25th. Therefore, the Applicant was not home long enough to sit down, read, complete and file the necessary appeal forms until October 25th, 13 days after the receipt of the appeal package.

The Applicant testified that he made his best effort to pursue the matter and file the appeal as quickly as possible as there are no fax machine at truck stops or weight stations along the route.

Based on the foregoing, the Tribunal finds that the Applicant was acting in good faith and to the best of his ability in filing his appeal.

The Tribunal is of the view that the Applicant has provided a satisfactory reason beyond his control to explain his delay in completing and filing the appeal within the prescribed fifteen days, as required under section 20(7) of Ontario Regulation 632/98.

ORDER:

Accordingly, the motion herein of the Applicant requesting an extension of time to appeal, pursuant to section 20(7) of Ontario Regulation 632/98 amending Regulation 574, R.R.O. 1990, is granted.

LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL

Nives Montano, Presiding Member

RELEASED: December 4, 2001

CONTINENTAL LEASING SERVICES INC. AND PETER CARL VERBEEK

CONTINENTAL LEASING SERVICES INC. AND PETER CARL VERBEEK

MOTION TO CONSIDER AN APPLICATION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME

TRIBUNAL: JOHN ORT, Member

APPEARANCES: PETER CARL VERBEEK, Agent, representing himself and on behalf of Continental Leasing Services Inc.,
Applicants
A. MICHAEL ROTHE, Counsel, representing the Registrar, Motor Vehicle Dealers Act

DATE OF
HEARING: November 22, 2001 Via Teleconference

REASONS FOR RULING AND ORDER

BACKGROUND:

A motion was heard by the Licence Appeal Tribunal by teleconference on November 22, 2001, at Toronto, Ontario. Continental Leasing Services Inc. and Peter Carl Verbeek (the "Applicants") have filed an appeal with this Tribunal from a Notice of Proposal (the "Proposal") by the Registrar of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act (the "Registrar" and the "Act", respectively). The Proposal dated August 3, 2001, seeks to revoke the registrations of Continental Leasing Services Inc. as a motor vehicle dealer and of Peter Carl Verbeek as a motor vehicle salesperson. The Registrar's position is that the Applicants failed to request a hearing before this Tribunal within the prescribed time. The Applicants' position is that they have filed within the prescribed time or alternatively request an extension of time under section 7 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999.

ISSUES:

Have the requirements for service of a notice requiring hearing under section 7 of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act been met in this case?

If the Notice of Appeal was not filed with the Licence Appeal Tribunal within the time prescribed by statute, is this an appropriate case for an extension of that time pursuant to section 7 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999?

THE FACTS:

The Registrar submitted the affidavit dated November 7, 2001 of Amanda Lee-Dempsey, including attached exhibits "A" to "E". Paragraph 2 of that affidavit states in part: "I have been advised by Yovanka McBean and do verily believe that on August 3, 2001 Ms. McBean sent a Notice of Proposal to Revoke the Registration of Continental Leasing Services Inc. and Peter Carl Verbeek ... to the latest address for service appearing on OMVIC's records...". Further, paragraph 3 of that affidavit states in part: "On or about August 7, 2001 I had a telephone conversation with Peter Verbeek at which time he confirmed that he was in receipt of the Proposal...".

The Applicants, Continental Leasing Services Inc. and Peter Carl Verbeek, submitted Notice of Application for Extension of Time for Appeal together with Statement of Facts in Support of Application for Extension of Time for Appeal, both dated October 11, 2001. In paragraph 1 of his affidavit Mr. Verbeek claims: "The Notice of Proposal to Revoke Registration was received by the Applicant by way of registered mail, on or about the 17th day of August, 2001, being the date that it was picked up by the Applicant at the postal station in Brampton." Mr. Verbeek did not present any evidence of absence, accident, illness or other cause beyond his control as a reason for not picking up the registered mail letter sooner.

TESTIMONY OF PETER CARL VERBEEK

The Applicant, Peter Carl Verbeek, stated that he delivered the Notice of Appeal to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") by personally sliding it under the locked door of the Tribunal on August 21, 2001, at 4:45 p.m. Through inadvertence, the Applicant failed to enclose a cheque to the Tribunal for the required fee. The cheque was delivered to the Tribunal by a process server on August 22, 2001.

THE LAW:

Rule 4.2 of the Rules of Practice of the Licence Appeal Tribunal states in part: "For documents other than a summons issued by the Tribunal as provided in Rule 4.1, the following rules apply: ... (2) Documents delivered after 4:00 p.m. shall be deemed to have been served on the next day that is not a holiday."

Section 20 of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, R.S.O. 1990, states:

"(1) Any notice or order required to be given or secured under this Act or the regulations is sufficiently given or served if delivered personally or sent by registered mail addressed to the person to whom delivery or service is required to be made at the latest address for service appearing on the records of the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations.

"(2) Where service is made by registered mail, the service shall be deemed to be made on the third day after the day of mailing unless the person on whom service is being made establishes that the person did not, acting in good faith, through absence, accident, illness or other cause beyond the person's control receive the notice or order until a later date...".

Section 7 of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, R.S.O. 1990, states:

"(1) Where the Registrar proposes to refuse to grant or renew a registration or proposes to suspend or revoke a registration, the Registrar shall serve notice of the proposal, together with written reasons therefor, on the applicant or registrant.

"(2) A notice under subsection (1) shall state that the applicant or registrant is entitled to a hearing by the Tribunal if the applicant or registrant mails or delivers, within fifteen days after service of the notice under subsection (1), notice in writing requiring a hearing to the Registrar and the Tribunal, and the applicant or registrant may so require a hearing....".

Section 7 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999 states:

"Despite any limitation of time fixed by or under any Act for the giving of any notice requiring a hearing by the Tribunal or an appeal from a decision or order of the Tribunal under section 11 or any other Act, if the Tribunal is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for applying for the extension and for granting relief, it may,

"(a) extend the time for giving the notice either before or after the expiration of the limitation of time so limited; and

"(b) give the directions that it considers proper as a result of extending the time.".

APPLICATION OF LAW TO FACTS:

The Tribunal accepts the statement in the affidavit of Ms. Lee-Dempsey that the Notice of Proposal was sent on August 3, 2001, and the statement in the affidavit of Mr. Verbeek that the Notice of Proposal was received by registered mail. Section 20(2) of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act, deems that service by registered mail to be made on the third day after the day of mailing. Three days after August 3, 2001, is August 6, 2001. However, August 6, 2001 was a civic holiday and both parties agreed that service of the Notice of Proposal is, therefore, deemed made on the next day, August 7, 2001.

Section 7 of the Motor Vehicle Dealers Act states that the applicant is entitled to a hearing by the Tribunal if he delivers, within fifteen days after service of the notice (notice of proposal) notice in writing requiring a hearing (Notice of Appeal). August 7, 2001, is the date of deemed service of the Notice of Proposal. August 8, 2001 is the first day "after service", August 9, 2001 is the second day "after service" and so forth to August 22, 2001 which is the fifteenth day "after service". The Tribunal rejects the argument of counsel for the Registrar that August 7, 2001 can be both the day of service and the first day "after service" and that the fifteenth day after service is August 21, 2001.

Mr. Verbeek testified that the door of the Licence Appeal Tribunal was locked when he slid the Notice of Appeal under it on August 21, 2001 and that it was after 4:00 p.m. In accordance with Rule 4.2(2) of the Rules of Practice of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, which states that documents delivered after 4:00 p.m. shall be deemed to have been served on the next day, the Tribunal finds that the Notice of Appeal was served on the Licence Appeal Tribunal on August 22, 2001.

The Tribunal therefore finds that Notice of Appeal was filed on time with the Licence Appeal Tribunal.

B.E. Chandler Co. v. Mor-Flo Industries Inc. (1996) 30 O.R. (3) 139 and Frey v. MacDonald (1989), 33 C.P.C. (2d) 13 (Ont. C.A.), cited by counsel for the Respondent, both concerned situations where an appeal was not filed on time, and, therefore, do not need to be considered in this case.

ORDER:

For the reasons set out above, the Tribunal finds that the Applicants filed their requests for a hearing within the prescribed time.
