7:00 p.m. Life in the Freezer

The Race to Breed (CC)

It's summer in Antarctica, and with 24-hour daylight, the race to breed is on. Two million fur seals crowd the beaches of South Georgia. When the pups are born, ferocious bulls attack any intruders who challenge their females. Meanwhile, chinstrap penguins cross glacial streams and climb near-vertical cliffs to feed their chicks as formidable leopard seals lurk.

7:30 p.m. Life in the Freezer

The Door Closes (CC)

Autumn stirs up harsh seas that batter the islands of Antarctica, leaving penguins to struggle ashore to feed their young. Leopard seals pounce at unsuspecting fledglings, fur seal pups take their first swim, and young wandering albatrosses rehearse their amazing courtship dance.

7:00 p.m. The Future Is Wild
New World (CC)
Two hundred million years in the future, all the continents have fused into one huge landmass, surrounded by a single global ocean. Birds are extinct, replaced by strange flying creatures evolved from fish. In the ocean microscopic organisms have grown to large sizes and have replaced many fish. Most of the land is a barren desert where few creatures survive, but a tree-dwelling squid shows a glimmer of social intelligence and could form the basis of Earth's next civilization.

Forces of Nature (1780 - 1832) (CC) (R)
Radical thinkers like Thomas Paine and William Wordsworth saw revolution as part of nature. The Romantic generation embraced the politics of sympathy with the common man, Mary Wollstonecraft became a voice for women's rights. Events in France seemed to point the way for Britain, but the cruel reality of the French Revolution divided sympathies. However, a desire for reform, if not revolution, was entrenched. 14+
