3. Revisions to existing fee code descriptors

In keeping with the provisions under Appendix K of the 2004 Physician Services Agreement, a number of revisions will be made to the wording/definitions of some existing fee codes in order to reflect revised insurability criteria for certain procedures effective January 1, 2008. These revisions are summarized in Chart 3.

4. Changes to the payment of operative anaesthesia services

Effective January 1, 2008, time units should be billed for each 15 minutes or part thereof:

Up to and including the first hour	1 unit
After the first hour up to and including the first 1.5 hours	2 units
After 1.5 hours	3 units

Time units are calculated on the basis of time spent by the anaesthesiologist and commence when the anaesthesiologist is first in attendance with the patient in the operating room for the purpose of initiating anaesthesia and end when the anaesthesiologist is no longer in attendance (when the patient may safely be placed under customary post-operative supervision). In addition, the basic unit fee will be increased from $12.51 to $13.24.

5. Surgical assistant base units

Effective January 1, 2008, the minimum basic units provided by surgical assistants for a number of surgical procedures will increase from five to six units and the basic unit fee will be increased from $10.40 to $11.40.

6. Deleted fee codes

In keeping with the provisions under Appendix K of the 2004 Physician Services Agreement, a number of fee schedule codes will be deleted effective January 1, 2008. In most circumstances, the service will now be claimed using a new or existing fee schedule code. These deleted fee codes are listed in Chart 4.
