Dear Mr. Speaker,

It is my pleasure to submit the annual report covering the affairs of my office under the Election Act and Election Finances Act during the 2011 / 2012 fiscal year.

In this period, my office delivered the 2011 General Election and has prepared for a constant state of readiness to administer a by-election or a general election on relatively short notice.

Sincerely,

MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF ELECTORAL OFFICER

When I look back at the work that Elections Ontario completed this past year, I am filled with a sense of excitement for the transformation that is beginning to occur to Ontario's provincial electoral process.

With the successful delivery of the 2011 General Election, Elections Ontario demonstrated that it is possible to make changes and to put the needs of electors first, without sacrificing integrity. Special ballots, assistive voting technology, hospital and home visits, all helped to provide choice to electors in how they cast their ballots. Our rebranded approach to communications and revamped outreach strategy informed electors, in an easy to understand format, of who, how, where and when they could vote.

While I am proud of what we have accomplished, there is still more work to be done. We need to continue to break down potential barriers to the voting process and balance the responsibility of delivering accessible elections to all Ontarians with a more flexible administrative model that ensures the integrity of the process. Detailed information about the preparation and the delivery of the 40th Provincial General Election can be found in my previously submitted report entitled TellMeAboutThe2011OntarioElection.ca.

The outcome of the 2011 General Election was the election of a minority government – the first in 25 years. We had to immediately adapt and transform our internal planning process to be in a constant state of election readiness, instead of having approximately four years to prepare. The move to more days and ways for voting further complicated the election readiness planning since we are required to provide electors with a special ballot the day after the writs are issued. The impact of the need to be election ready for a call at any time cannot be overstated – it has caused a paradigm shift to all aspects of our planning and budgeting processes.

With this paradigm shift comes a great opportunity for Elections Ontario to further refine and perfect our management frameworks. Over the course of the next twelve months, we will be undertaking a strategic planning exercise and will be releasing our new strategic plan in 2013. Our need to be in a constant state of election readiness can be used as a catalyst for our future modernization efforts.

In looking to the future, this report ends with a section on the legislative change that is required to build toward a longer-term vision for elections in Ontario that would truly put the elector first.

Working with all of our partners, we can make the changes that modernize the electoral process and make Ontario a leader in the field of election management.

WHAT WE DID IN 2011 – 2012

We have grouped the activities of the organization into four broad categories that will be discussed in greater detail in this section. The four categories are:

- High Level Review of the 2011 General Election
- Election Finance Activities
- Overview of Compliance Issues
- Preparing for Constant State of Election Readiness

HIGH LEVEL REVIEW OF THE 2011 GENERAL ELECTION

Delivering an election in Ontario is a tremendous, multi-faceted undertaking. We are required to connect more than 8.5 million electors with approximately 8,000 voting locations that are staffed by more than 70,000 election workers.

Elections Ontario administers elections through a decentralized system with 107 returning officers and 107 election clerks – one for each of the Province's electoral districts.

For the 2011 General Election, we built a solid foundation for an accessible and customer service driven election by applying government best practices in the areas of project management as well as governance and accountability frameworks.

Where possible, we have been working to build stronger relationships, and in some cases establishing partnerships, with entities within the broader Ontario Public Service. For example, by July 2011, we had fully migrated our data centre to the Ontario Ministry of Government Services new, high security Guelph Data Centre. We have also adopted Ontario Public Service best practices in procurement and have been able to take advantage of the government's approved vendor lists. This has allowed us to reduce our procurement timelines and to achieve significant cost efficiencies.

Our efforts resulted in an election that had:

More days and ways to vote

In 2011, for the first time, electors could cast a ballot over a 28-day period, using a variety of options. Beginning the day after the writs were issued, electors had two more ways to vote, using a special ballot either in person at their local returning office or by mail-in ballot. In addition, for the first time, Returning Officers had the ability to move advance polls from location to location for different lengths of time which provided added flexibility and choice to electors seeking an advance voting option.

Focus on accessibility

For the 2011 General Election, Elections Ontario worked to make Ontario's provincial voting process more accessible. Our comprehensive accessibility program aimed to ensure that accessibility was incorporated into all aspects of our business, from conception to implementation.

Because of the changes introduced in the Election Statute Law Amendment Act, 2010, we were able to remove some barriers to voting by introducing new services such as home visits, hospital visits and assistive voting technology.

As required by the changes in legislation, we also attempted to remove physical barriers through a comprehensive review of potential voting locations. Across the province, in late 2010 and early 2011, returning officers and their teams inspected more than 11,000 potential locations. On April 6, 2011, six months before the election, the list of proposed voting locations was posted to our website for public review. These efforts to comply with the new legislation resulted in voting being held in many non-traditional locations across the province such as grocery stores and shopping centres.

For our efforts at integrating accessibility into our policies, procedures and services, Elections Ontario was honoured with a 2011 Excellence Canada Accessibility Award for commitment to excellent customer service for people with disabilities.

In July 2012, the International Association of Business Communicators (IABC) honoured the vendor that we collaborated with to create our accessible customer service training videos. Our accessible customer service training videos won two awards: one for excellence in video production, and a second for media that influences employee behaviour.

Focus on putting the elector first

As we continued our transformation into an organization that recognizes the importance of quality customer service and places the needs of our stakeholders first, we reached out to a number of groups well in advance of Election Day to get input on the needs of their stakeholders and to find effective ways of keeping them informed.

Our outreach and communication efforts helped to ensure that all interested parties had the tools and information that they needed to participate in the election. We used both traditional communication channels (paid print, radio and television advertisements) as well as new channels (such as Twitter and Facebook) to make electors aware of the opportunities to take part in the election, and to ensure that they knew that participating would be easy, no matter who they were or where they were located.

The 2011 General Election “More Days, More Ways: Elections Ontario Makes Voting Easy” media campaign was honoured with an IABC Ovation Award of Excellence and a Canadian Public Relations Society (CPRS) Ace Award. Our award-winning, proactive regional media relations campaign was designed to inform voters of the many days and ways available for voting in the provincial general election. Combining a regional media road tour with proactive pitches, editorial board meetings and a webcast media event, the More Days, More Ways campaign provided the opportunity to reach communities and media outlets outside of the GTA and to effectively convey Elections Ontario’s message.

In addition, our rebranding efforts — which featured a wide variety of elements including ads and signage, tote bags, online tools and illustrated maps — won a Gold Pencil in the Corporate Identity category at the prestigious One Show international design competition.

The 2011 General Election was a record-breaking event in terms of political activity. There were 655 candidate names on the 107 ballots across Ontario. This is the largest number of candidates to run in any provincial election since Confederation. In addition, by the end of the nomination period, eight new political parties had registered, bringing the total number of registered political parties in Ontario up to twenty-one.

The significant increase in the number of registered political parties may be partly attributed to changes that were made to the legislation in 2007. At that time, the rules were revised to make it easier for political parties to register. A prospective political party has two methods available to them. During a campaign period, a political party intending to register needs to nominate, endorse and complete the required paperwork to run candidates in at least two electoral districts. At any time other than a campaign period, a political party intending to register must submit a petition to the Chief Electoral Officer with the names, addresses and signatures of at least 1,000 eligible voters who endorse the registration of the political party.

The following table summarizes the number of registered candidates for each political party:

On Election Day, Elections Ontario hosted a group of international observers who were interested in learning more about our services and initiatives.

Representatives from Sweden, Australia, New Zealand, the United States (Chicago and Kansas), as well as from other Canadian electoral agencies (such as Elections Canada, Elections BC, Elections Saskatchewan, Elections Nova Scotia, and Elections Nunavut) participated in workshops and travelled to returning offices and voting locations to observe how the day unfolded.

Observing how other jurisdictions administer their elections is a beneficial learning opportunity and chance to gain insight into how other organizations have responded to common challenges and trends, and share best practices.

Another method that Elections Ontario uses to learn and share is through involvement in professional organizations and conferences. Our staff are involved with the Conference of Canadian Election Officials, the International Association of Clerks, Records, Election Officials and Treasurers (IACREOT) and the Council on Governmental Ethics Laws (COGEL). In December 2011, the Chief Electoral Officer was appointed as President-elect of COGEL.

ELECTION FINANCE ACTIVITIES

Under the Election Finances Act, the Chief Electoral Officer is responsible for overseeing the registration of Ontario's political parties, constituency associations, candidates, leadership contestants, and third parties. Our office is also responsible for reviewing financial statements to ensure compliance with the limits on contributions and campaign expenses, distributing subsidies for audit and campaign expenses, issuing tax credit receipts for contributions to parties, constituency associations and candidates and publishing on the Internet the contributions made to political parties as well as the financial statements of all the registrants under the Election Finances Act.

With the 2011 General Election, a number of activities took place under the Election Finances Act. This section of the report will provide:

- a high level overview of the election finances activities for the 2011 General Election, and
- an account of the public funding provided for certain expenses.

More detailed Election Finances Act information can be found in the report appendices. The appendices include:

Appendix B	Registered Political Parties as of December 31, 2011
Appendix C	Requests to Register the Name of a New Political Party During 2011

OVERVIEW

Elections Ontario helps registered political entities meet their obligations under the Election Finances Act. As part of this effort, our staff spent the past two years clarifying and simplifying the guidelines and training materials we provide to political parties, constituency associations, candidates, leadership contestants and registered third party advertisers.

The effort spent in consulting with stakeholders in developing and rolling out the revised products was appreciated. In the post-election survey, nine out of ten CFOs commented favourably on the service and information they received. Our online financial resources, including the website and email support, were also rated very highly by CFOs, with 83% saying they are excellent or good.

In terms of a summary of the political campaign financial activity for the 2011 General Election, the two tables below summarize the campaign contributions and expenses.

PUBLIC FUNDING OF EXPENSES

The Chief Electoral Officer provides reimbursement for certain expenses:

Audit subsidy

The Election Finances Act provides for the Chief Electoral Officer to subsidize the cost of auditors' services for the examination and reporting on the financial statements by paying to the auditor the lesser of the total auditor's fee and an indexed amount. The indexed amount is amended every five years and is currently $1,488 for political party financial statements, $744 for constituency association financial statements, $1,240 for candidate campaign financial statements, and $992 for leadership contestants. During the 2011–2012 fiscal year, the Chief Electoral Officer paid out $344,821 in audit subsidies.

Campaign expense subsidies

Campaign subsidies are paid to each candidate who received at least 15 per cent of the popular vote in his or her electoral district. The subsidy paid is the lesser of 20 per cent of the expense limit in that electoral district or 20 per cent of the actual subject to limit campaign expenses that were paid. In addition, campaign subsidies are paid to parties whose candidates received at least 15 per cent of the popular vote in any electoral district. The party subsidy is calculated by multiplying by $0.05 the number of electors entitled to vote in each electoral district where the party received at least 15 per cent of the popular vote.

Campaign expense subsidies relating to the 2011 General Election totalled $3,275,463 to the 283 eligible candidates and $1,187,729 to three of the twenty-one parties.

Forfeitures of contributions

The Chief Electoral Officer received $26,757 in forfeiture of contributions during the fiscal year 2011–2012.

The table below summarizes the 2011 General Election campaign entitlements and subsidies.

OVERVIEW OF COMPLIANCE ISSUES

The failure to file financial statements on a timely basis is the most common compliance problem faced by Elections Ontario. This past year, there were over 500 late filers and 41 non-filers. The table below provides more detailed information regarding the late and non-filings.

Filing Statistics – As of January 11, 2013

	Form	Required to be Filed	Filed by the deadline	Late	Late Less Than 30 days	Late More Than 30 days	Not filed as of Jan. 11, 2013
Political Parties	CR-4	21	16	5	2	3	0
	AR-10	21	19	2	1	1	0
Constituency Associations	CR-3	431	217	207	67	140	7
	AR-1	431	318	104	77	27	9
Candidates	CR-1	654	433	207	76	131	14
Withdrawn Candidates	CR-1	11	9	0	0	0	2
Third Party Advertisers	TPAR	22	15	7	4	3	0

Delays in filing of financial returns by political entities are problematic because this hinders the compliance review of returns and delays the payment of campaign expense subsidies. It also delays public access to information pertaining to the activities of political entities in a timely fashion which has the potential to negatively affect the integrity and transparency of the political process. Appendices G, I, K, M and O provide a list of the entities who filed late or failed to file their statements.

Between April 1, 2011 and March 31, 2012, we received 178 complaints under the Election Finances Act. Of the 178 complaints, 146 are closed because there was deemed to be no infringement of the statute and 32 remain open.

The most common complaints received were those related to Section 37(2) of the Election Finances Act which is the provision related to political advertising during a blackout period.

The table below provides a breakdown on the type of complaints received and the outcome of the complaint.

Complaints Received from April 1 2011 to March 31 2012 under the Election Finances Act

Number of complaints received	Type of Complaints Received (section of the EFA)	Status
		Closed	Open
36	Section 22(9) – Information to be included in political advertisement (authorization)	26	10
26	Section 37(5) - Registration for third parties	16	10
10	Section 16 - Contributions	5	5
66	Section 37(2) - Political Advertising during blackout period	61	5
40	Non EF related	38	2

Total = 178

In addition to compliance matters under the Election Finances Act, the Chief Electoral Officer may receive complaints regarding the administration of the Election Act. At the time of writing this report, the Chief Electoral Officer was reviewing a complaint with respect to the administration of the election in the electoral district of Scarborough—Rouge River.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS UPDATE

In June 2009, the Progressive Conservative Party of Ontario (PCPO) and its funding arm, the PC Ontario Fund, brought an application for judicial review against the Chief Electoral Officer of Ontario in respect of:

1. the advertising activities and registration of an interest group that registered as a third party in the Province of Ontario's 2007 General Election; and,
2. the results of the Chief Electoral Officer's investigation into the third party's activities.

The matter was heard on April 27, 2011 by the Divisional Court. The court dismissed the application and released its reason on May 18, 2011. The citation for the case is PC Ontario Fund v. Essensa, 2011 ONSC 2641.

The PCPO obtained leave to appeal the decision and the appeal was heard by the Court of Appeal on June 21, 2012. The Court of Appeal dismissed the appeal and released its reasons on June 27, 2012. The Court of Appeal upheld the decision of the Divisional Court; it agreed that the impugned actions of the Chief Electoral Officer relating to the investigation into the PCPO's complaint are not subject to judicial review and that the challenge of the decision to register the interest group as a third party for the 2007 General Election is moot. The citation for the case is PC Ontario Fund v. Essensa, 2012 ONCA 453.

PREPARING FOR A CONSTANT STATE OF ELECTION READINESS

The outcome of the 2011 General Election was the election of a minority government. In a minority government, no political party holds a majority of seats which means that the government may have to resign on a vote of confidence. Historically, minority governments have tended to have shorter terms than majority governments.

The uncertainty of an election date in a minority government situation requires Elections Ontario to be in a constant state of election readiness. Immediately after the election, we consulted with Elections Canada and Elections Quebec to learn best practices in managing event readiness given their extensive and recent experiences managing in a minority government scenario.

We determined that we would use the 2011 General Election framework, with limited modifications, to administer the next election. Each division was required to immediately recalibrate their event activities following the 2011 General Election and ensure the organization's ability to be ready to administer an unscheduled general election at any time. We also engaged with returning officers in a number of activities to ensure that they maintained a state of readiness in the field.

During the recalibration, we looked for opportunities to seek out cost efficiencies. As a public sector agency, we recognize the need to exercise fiduciary restraint. For example, we adopted strategies that demonstrate cost efficiencies such as the production and use of evergreen materials for event marketing and advertising and enhancements to the special ballot process.

The organizational effort required to move our planning and budgeting frameworks to align with the realities of a non-fixed date general election cannot be overstated. The recalibration resulted in a significant workload because we had to be ready to run an election, at any time, with little notice. The choices to electors introduced in the 2011 election further complicated the election readiness planning since we are required to be able to provide electors with a special ballot the day after the writs are issued.

Over the course of the next year, we will refine our election readiness program to ensure that it allows us to continue to make improvements to the services we deliver while maintaining cost efficiencies. Future areas of consideration could include efficiencies within our field staffing model and the need to look for additional opportunities to introduce technology in our processes.

WHERE WE ARE GOING

INTRODUCTION

Elections Ontario is evolving so that continuous improvement and change become a core part of our culture. The Canadian and global economy have been transformed by rapid changes in technology and the introduction of electronic service channels. There is a growing expectation that electoral agencies will be employing some of these solutions to increase efficiency, reduce costs, and increase the integrity, accessibility and participation in the electoral process.

We have embarked on key initiatives that support the modernization of our election management and voting processes including the development of a new strategic plan and undertaking an Alternative Voting Technology research study.

The new strategic plan will be released in 2013 and the report on Alternative Voting Technology will be tabled with the Legislative Assembly by the end of June 2013.

In all that we do, Elections Ontario needs to put the elector first while maintaining integrity and our fiscal responsibility and accountability. We need to adapt and build for the future – a future that includes choice in how our services are accessed.

It will take time to implement these changes and will also require legislative amendments. Historically, the rules that govern elections are slow to evolve. Many rules are carried over from one generation to the next. In part, the transfer happens because of the importance of the integrity of the electoral process. Recent events during the 2011 Federal Election illustrate the increased scrutiny and focus on the protection of integrity in the electoral process.

The election needs to be administered with proven, well-tested, and secure processes. For this reason, we will be using by-elections as opportunities to pilot new ways of doing business. The pilots will allow us to test, on a small scale, options for improving and modernizing the electoral process. We will report on these pilots to the Legislative Assembly.

With the Election Statute Law Amendment Act, 2010, the Legislative Assembly signalled its willingness to create more flexibility for voters. We hope that this willingness will continue when discussing future potential amendments. To that end, we would like to use this annual report to begin to provide a road map for the Legislative Assembly to consider in its deliberations on changes to Ontario's election laws.

GUIDELINES FOR LEGISLATIVE AMENDMENTS

We would like to create a modern electoral process for all Ontarians, one that protects integrity and builds choice for electors in how they access our services.

To get there, Elections Ontario needs to have the ability and flexibility to prepare, administer and deliver elections in ways that are responsive to the needs of citizens and their local communities

As mentioned in his report to the Select Committee on Elections², the Chief Electoral Officer recommends legislative amendments that:

- Use clear language
- Employ permissive rather than prescriptive legislation
- Modernize the electoral process
- Ensure cost effectiveness

RECOMMENDED LEGISLATIVE AMENDMENTS

The following seven legislative amendments are being recommended because they will pave the way for the modernizing the electoral process. For example, amending the Representation Act, and creating a regular, scheduled process for reviewing electoral district boundaries would improve the integrity of the electoral process by ensuring that all votes are weighted as equally as possible. Amending the Representation Act is particularly important to allow a timely response to the redistribution activities underway at the federal level.

In a similar manner, combining the Election Act and the Election Finances Act and writing it in clear language would assist in modernizing the legislative framework that underpins Ontario's electoral process. A clear language, unified statute would clarify roles and responsibilities and improve the integrity of the electoral process since all stakeholders would have a common understanding of the rules.

A single address authority for the province would also enhance the integrity of the electoral process by improving the accuracy of the Permanent Register of Electors for Ontario from which the voters list is compiled.

Changing voting day to a time when schools are not in session and recognizing the need of registered political parties for centralized delivery of election materials would help to simplify the administration of the election.

2. The Chief Electoral Officer submitted the report "Modernizing Ontario's Electoral Process: Recommendations for Legislative Change" to the Select Committee on Elections on February 4, 2009. The report can be found in the Publications section of our website.

With respect to the Election Finances Act, reviewing the rules surrounding third party advertisers and taking measures to improve compliance with the statute would help to improve the integrity of the financing of the electoral process.

A list of additional technical legislative amendments that Elections Ontario has previously recommended be made to the Election Finances Act can be found in Appendix P.

Electoral District Redistribution

The Chief Electoral Officer recommends that the Representation Act, 2005 be amended to provide a regular, scheduled process for reviewing electoral district boundaries.

For the democratic process to be truly representative, a system for maintaining the fair and balanced distribution of electoral district boundaries is essential.

The Representation Act, 2005 provides that Ontario's electoral map has 107 electoral districts, but it does not explain how the map will be adjusted in the future. The process and timetable for the future redistribution of provincial electoral districts needs to be established. Every other jurisdiction in Canada has a regular schedule and process for future redistribution.

At the federal level, an electoral district redistribution began in February 2012. Based on Ontario's population growth since the last decennial census and the formula established in federal legislation, the number of federal electoral districts allocated to the province has increased from 106 to 121. There is no current process, timetable or decision on whether the provincial electoral districts will be altered to reflect the new federal boundaries.

Redistribution is a major undertaking that affects not only election planning and staffing, but also requires extensive efforts from the registered political parties that manage their constituency associations and their finances before an election.

Combine the Election Act and Election Finances Act into One Statute

The Chief Electoral Officer recommends that the Election Act be combined with the Election Finances Act to streamline and clarify the electoral process.

A new clear language statute can clarify and correct a number of inconsistencies that have arisen from the incremental legislative changes that have occurred over the years. Some provisions of the Election Act need to be repealed because either the courts have struck them down or they are spent.

The Election Act is a "patchwork quilt" of numbering given that so many provisions have been added and repealed since the last consolidation of the law in 1990. For example, Sections 18, 18.1, 18.2 and 18.3 address enumeration.

In addition, there are areas, such as those related to the returning office advance poll, where some “housekeeping” amendments would assist in simplifying the process.

These inconsistencies make the law unnecessarily complex and confusing for the public, parties, and administrators alike.

We would be happy to work with the Legislative Assembly to identify these types of improvements in the drafting process for any new legislation.

Single Address Authority

The Chief Electoral Officer recommends that a single address authority be established for Ontario.

In Ontario, municipalities are responsible for creating the addressing conventions for the land parcels in their regions. The result is 444 different naming conventions across the province – since each municipality establishes its own practice.

The lack of a central address authority in Ontario creates significant challenges for an electoral registration process. Without accurate addressing information, it becomes almost impossible in certain parts of the province to adequately ensure that an elector has been placed at the appropriate location for them to exercise their democratic franchise.

Part of the addressing difficulty arises because people provide different versions of their address to different service providers. For example, an elector may use the 9-1-1 version of their address when completing their taxes, but use the rural route version of the address on their driver’s licence and use their Canada Post mailing address on their health card. That one elector could appear in the voters’ list, in any one of three different ways makes it very difficult for Elections Ontario to determine where they actually reside and to assign them to the most convenient voting location for their address.

By establishing a single address authority in Ontario, inconsistent naming conventions of land parcels would be reduced and more accurate register information could be maintained. This would reduce voter confusion and frustration as electors could be assigned to the correct polling division.

A single address authority would also improve the accuracy of the information provided to parties and candidates. In the 2011 General Election, the post-event survey found that the most common problem cited from candidates and campaign managers related to concerns about the quality of the voters lists they received.

The single address authority would not only benefit Elections Ontario, but also other parts of the government that require up-to-date addressing information such as the Ministry of Transportation and the Ministry of Health and Long Term Care.

Change Voting Day

The Chief Electoral Officer recommends amending Subsection 9.1(5) of the Election Act to change voting day to a time when schools are not in session (e.g. weekend or school holiday).

Access to schools for use as locations for voting was again a last minute challenge in one school board during the 2011 General Election. While this particular problem was ultimately resolved at some cost, it could have been eliminated if schools were closed to students, either through the use of Professional Development days, or by moving election day to the weekend.

Schools best fit the criteria set out by the Election Act for the establishment of voting locations: they are conveniently located, they usually provide a large space such as a gymnasium, electors are familiar with their location and they usually provide access for persons with disabilities.

Many democracies around the world hold their elections on the weekend. As voter turnout declines, it may be worth noting that other democracies hold their elections on the weekend and have a much higher voter turnout rate than Canada. For example, Quebec's municipal elections are held on a Sunday, New Zealand holds its general elections on a Saturday and France holds its general elections on a Sunday.

Centralized Campaign Administration

The Chief Electoral Officer recommends that the Election Act be amended to allow for registered political parties to have access to all products and services provided to candidates.

For many elections, Elections Ontario has provided access to the information given to registered candidates to registered political parties as a customer service.

For the parties that field 107 candidates, it appears as though the management of political campaigns has become more centralized and sophisticated. We are having challenges fulfilling information and service requests from political parties because our systems are not designed to support a centralized model.

The Election Act is structured for a decentralized model where election products and services are distributed via the 107 returning officers to candidates. We need to work with the registered political parties to clarify the information that they require and determine the most efficient method for them to access the information and services that we recognize are essential to their campaigns.

A legislative amendment would assist in this clarification and would also authorize us to invest in updating our technology systems.

Third Party Advertising Rules

The Chief Electoral Officer recommends that an independent body be established to investigate options to strengthen third party advertising rules in Ontario. The review should provide specific recommendations on how Ontario can:

- Adopt third party spending limits
- Adopt third party contribution limits
- Strengthen the reporting requirements for third parties, and
- Adopt stricter registration and anti-collusion provisions

As part of a comprehensive review of the Election Finances Act, rules regarding third party advertising should be considered to align Ontario with the best practices in other provinces. Currently, at least five jurisdictions (Canada, Quebec, British Columbia, Alberta, and New Brunswick) have adopted controls over third party advertising.

The 2011 General Election was the second general provincial election that required third parties to register with Elections Ontario. In 2007, only one third party raised and spent more than $1 million on political advertising. In 2011, this number increased with three third parties raising and spending more than $1 million, and one of those parties raising and spending more than $2 million. The table below provides a comparison of the amount raised and spent by registered third parties in 2007 and 2011.

Table Comparing the Amount Raised and Spent by Registered Third Parties in 2007 and 2011

	2007	2011
$0	2	3
$1 - $5,000	5	5
$5,001 - $40,000	6	6
$40,001 - $99,000	3	4
$99,001 - $999,999	3	1
$1,000,000 - $1,999,999	1	2
MORE THAN $2,000,000	0	1
TOTAL INCOME	$2,776,698	$6,767,743
TOTAL EXPENSES	$1,847,659	$6,084,470

In one election cycle, third party advertising spending has more than tripled and third party income has more than doubled. For comparison purposes, in the 2011 General Election, out of 21 registered political parties, only two spent more than $2 million on advertising.³ The biggest third party advertiser spent more on advertising than nineteen political parties combined. The table below summarizes the amount spent by the 21 registered political parties on advertising in the 2011 General Election.

Table: Amount Spent by the Registered Political Parties on Advertising in the 2011 General Election

$0	11
$1 - $999	4
$1,000 - $9,999	3
MORE THAN $1 MILLION	1
MORE THAN $5 MILLION	2
TOTAL SPENT	$11,976,602

The current rules for third parties are inconsistent with how other political entities are treated under the Election Finances Act. Candidates, constituency associations and political parties are all subject to annual and campaign reporting requirements, as well as campaign period spending limits and annual and campaign contribution limits.

Third parties participate in the democratic process by sponsoring advertising the same way as candidates and parties. They advertise before and during campaigns to deliver messages designed to support or oppose a specific party or candidate.

The legislation that governs third party advertisers should be consistent with how other political entities are treated under the Election Finances Act.

Improving Compliance with the Election Finances Act

The Chief Electoral Officer recommends that the Election Finances Act be amended to:

- rationalize the financial reporting requirements for parties, candidates, and constituency associations
- provide a party with the authority to deregister a constituency association it no longer endorses
- provide the Chief Electoral Officer the power to levy administrative penalties.

3. Advertising expense information taken from the 2011 campaign financial statements filed by the registered political parties. Advertising expenses taken from the advertising line item.

The Election Finances Act should be amended to include measures designed to improve compliance with the statute. This recommendation will examine three potential methods to improve compliance, they are:

- rationalizing financial reporting requirements
- providing a party with the authority to deregister a constituency association it no longer endorses, and
- introducing administrative penalties.

Rationalizing Financial Reporting Requirements

There are two ways in which the financial reporting requirements for parties, candidates and constituency associations can be rationalized: by changing the length of the campaign period and by reducing the number of statements filed.

Having a fixed-date election in early October results in the campaign period ending in early January of the following year. Having a campaign period spread over two calendar years presents significant difficulties for chief financial officers for candidates and constituency associations.

It means that chief financial officers for candidates cannot report on the whole campaign period until the following calendar year even if they have no financial activity following December 31st. Consequently, deficits and surpluses in connection with a fixed date general election are not reported by the chief financial officer for a constituency association to Elections Ontario and reimbursements are not distributed until May of the second year after that election.

These requirements are unhelpful for chief financial officers and also impede timely compliance reviews of election finances by Elections Ontario. Adjusting the campaign period for a fixed-date general election to end on December 31, so that the campaign period is contained within a single calendar year, would resolve these problems.

A second way to rationalize financial reporting requirements is by reducing the number of statements that candidates, parties and constituency associations are required to file in an election year. Currently, the law requires separate filings for annual filings and campaign filings.

With the adoption of fixed date elections, and the consequent change in spending patterns, central party income and spending for campaign and campaign years should be reported together – not at different times and in separate statements as the law currently requires.

Similarly, the multiple filings required at the local level for candidates and for constituency association income and spending for campaign and campaign years should be revisited. Currently, these reports can be filled out by different chief financial officers and can be filed at different times. In practical terms, many of these filings are filled out by the same person, who is usually a volunteer, and filed with Elections Ontario at the same time. From the perspective of Elections Ontario, it does not assist the review process to review three separate filings.

Having the same chief financial officer report on annual, campaign, and candidate income and expenses would reduce the work that may be performed by as many as three separate people. It could also reduce the need and expense of having three separate auditors review a return before it is filed.

Providing a Party with the Authority to Deregister a Constituency Association it No Longer Endorses

A second way that compliance with the Election Finances Act could be strengthened is by amending the Act to permit a registered party to apply to the Chief Electoral Officer for deregistration of a constituency association that it no longer endorses. The Election Finances Act already allows for the Chief Electoral Officer to deregister a constituency association on application by the constituency association and the party. Registration of a constituency association requires the endorsement of the registered party, yet the party may not apply for deregistration without the joint application of the constituency association. Recent experience has highlighted the need to clarify the sponsorship relationship between constituency associations and the registered parties.

Introducing Administrative Penalties

As mentioned earlier, late filing of financial reports remains a problem under the Election Finances Act. This past year, there were over 500 late filers and 41 non-filers. Apart from being prosecuted and fined upon conviction, there is no proportionate sanction for those who fail to comply with the law because of carelessness or lack of attention. For example, the campaign that files six months late gets the same public subsidy as the campaign that files on time.

It would put Elections Ontario on par with other provincial regulators and with other electoral agencies if it had the authority to issue reprimands, suspensions, or other administrative sanctions without having to recommend formal prosecutions for relatively minor infractions.

CONCLUSION

Elections Ontario is working to create a future where the voters of Ontario have choices in how they cast their ballot. The electoral process should be easy and accessible.

Elections Ontario is transforming into an agency that, through continuous improvement, strives for excellence in the services provided to electors and other stakeholders.

Responsibility for Financial Reporting

The accompanying financial statements under the Election Act have been prepared in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and are the responsibility of management. The financial statements have been properly prepared within reasonable limits of materiality and in light of information available up to January 30, 2013.

Management is responsible for the integrity of financial statements and maintains a system of internal controls designed to provide reasonable assurance that the assets are safeguarded and that reliable financial information is available on a timely basis. The system includes formal policies and procedures and an organizational structure that provides for appropriate delegation of authority and segregation of responsibilities.

The financial statements have been audited by the Auditor General. The Auditor General's responsibility is to express an opinion on whether the financial statements are fairly presented in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards. The Independent Auditor's Report, which appears on the following page, outlines the scope of the Auditor's examination and opinion.

Greg Essensa
Chief Electoral Officer

January 30, 2013

Office of the Auditor General of Ontario
Bureau du vérificateur général de l'Ontario

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Chief Electoral Officer

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer under the Election Act, which comprise the statements of financial position as at March 31, 2012, March 31, 2011 and April 1, 2010 and the statements of fees, expenses, revenue and accumulated surplus, change in net financial assets and cash flows for the years ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audits. I conducted my audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained in my audits is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer under the Election Act as at March 31, 2012, March 31, 2011 and April 1, 2010 and its fees, expenses, revenue and accumulated surplus, changes in its net financial assets, and its cash flows for the years ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011 in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Office of the Chief Electoral Officer — Election Act

Notes to Financial Statements

For the Years Ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011

1. Nature of Operations

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer (Elections Ontario) was established under the Election Act to conduct any election of Members to the Legislative Assembly. Elections Ontario coordinates the training and payment of all election officials and the provision of all polling places, equipment and supplies. As well, Elections Ontario directs and supervises the local returning officer in each electoral district.

There was a General Election held on October 6, 2011. There were no by-elections administered during the years ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011.

Salaries and employee benefits for the Chief Electoral Officer and for permanent staff of Elections Ontario are not defined as election fees and expenses under the Election Act and consequently are excluded from these financial statements. Elections Ontario also administers the Election Finances Act, for which separate financial statements are produced.

2. Conversion to Public Sector Accounting Standards

Commencing with the 2011/2012 fiscal year, Elections Ontario has adopted Canadian public sector accounting ("PSA") standards. These financial statements are the first financial statements for which the Elections Ontario has applied Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Two adjustments to previously reported figures resulted from the adoption of these accounting standards. Previously, Election Ontario's deferred revenue used to acquire tangible capital assets and recognized this revenue over the same period as the expected life of the asset. PSA standards require that there must be funding conditions, such as how the revenue is to be used, and a resulting obligation by the province to provide funding. There are no conditions associated with the funding of tangible capital assets and no resulting obligation by the province. Therefore, a retroactive adjustment has been made to recognize all deferred capital contributions and restate the prior period results. Similarly, deferred revenue related to prepaid assets also does not meet the applicable requirements under PSA standards and therefore a retroactive adjustment has been made to recognize all deferred revenue and restate the prior period results. The following table summarizes the impact of the transition to PSA on the annual deficit and the accumulated surplus.

Annual Deficit:

As previously reported under Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, March 31, 2011	—
Deferred capital contributions now recognized as revenue	(899,527)
Deferred revenue in year now recognized as revenue	128,772
Restated for the year ended March 31, 2011	(770,755)

Accumulated Surplus:

As previously reported under Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, March 31, 2010	—
Deferred capital contributions in prior years now recognized as revenue	9,242,994
Deferred revenue now recognized as revenue	200,740
Restated, April 1, 2010	9,443,734

3. Significant Accounting Policies

(A) BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

These financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles established by the Canadian Public Sector Accounting Board. The significant accounting policies used to prepare these statements are summarized below.

(B) REVENUE RECOGNITION

Revenue is recognized in the same period as the underlying expenses are incurred and committed.

(C) EXPENSE RECOGNITION

Expenses are recognized on an accrual basis. The cost of all goods consumed and services received during the year is expensed.

(D) TANGIBLE CAPITAL ASSETS

Tangible capital assets are recorded at historical cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the assets; with a half year provision in the year the asset is acquired and available for use, as indicated below:

Computer hardware and software	3 years
Furniture and equipment	5 years
Leasehold improvements	5 years

Assets in development are not amortized until the asset is available for productive use.

Tangible capital assets are written down when conditions indicate that they no longer contribute to Elections Ontario's ability to provide services, or when the value of future economic benefits associated with the tangible capital assets are less than their net book value. The write-downs are accounted for as expenses in the statement of fees, expenses, revenue and accumulated surplus.

(E) FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Elections Ontario's financial assets and financial liabilities are accounted for as follows:

- Cash is subject to an insignificant risk of change in value so carrying value approximates fair value; and
- Accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and due to/from the Province of Ontario are recorded at cost.

Elections Ontario does not use derivative financial instruments. It is management's opinion that Elections Ontario is not exposed to significant interest rate, currency, liquidity or credit risk arising from its financial instruments due to their nature.

Office of the Chief Electoral Officer — Election Act

Notes to Financial Statements

For the Years Ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011

3. Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

(F) PREPAID EXPENSES

Prepaid expenses, such as software licenses, are charged to expense over the periods expected to benefit from it.

(G) MEASUREMENT UNCERTAINTY

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards requires management make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of fees, expenses and revenue during the reporting period.

Estimates are based on the best information available at the time of preparation of the financial statements and are reviewed annually to reflect new information as it becomes available. Measurement uncertainty exists in these financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

4. Source of Funds and Miscellaneous Revenues

Under the Election Act, the Province pays the election fees and expenses out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund. An accountable warrant, in the form of cash advances, has been provided to Elections Ontario for payments of expenses as they are incurred. Periodically, Elections Ontario requests from the Province, replenishments of the amounts spent and drawn down from the accountable warrant balance. The accountable warrant balance as at March 31, 2012 was $10,000,000 (2011 – $5,000,000).

Miscellaneous revenues received, including amounts recovered from other governments for costs incurred on their behalf, are not retained by Elections Ontario. They are remitted to the Ministry of Finance to the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and have been excluded from revenues under the Election Act. The amounts transferred during the year are as follows:

	2012 $	2011 $
Interest revenue	8,264	536

5. Accounts Receivable

	March 31, 2012	March 31, 2011	April 1, 2010
Accounts receivable	127,068	10,307	30,943
HST receivable	220,901	513,386	—
	347,969	523,693	30,943

Accounts receivable largely relate to refunds that have been received from vendors subsequent to year end and HST receivable. As a result, provisions for doubtful accounts are not necessary.

7. Tangible Capital Assets (Continued)

The majority of the tangible capital assets related to the in-house development of the Election Management System (EMS). At the end of March 31, 2012, the total capitalized cost for the development of the EMS is $14,359,809, of which $1,542,397 has been allocated to tangible capital assets needed to administer the Election Finances Act. The total net book value as of March 31, 2012 for the EMS is $4,234,667, of which $434,047 has been allocated to tangible capital assets needed to administer the Election Finances Act. The cost of the modules currently not in use is included in software in development. The total net book value is net of a $1,125,000 write-down, of which $125,000 has been allocated to tangible capital assets needed to administer the Election Finances Act. The EMS modules will continue to be developed and management plans to utilize this system to administer the 2015 general election.

8. Related Party Transactions

Elections Ontario provides certain administrative services such as accounting, human resources and information technology support for the administration of the Election Finances Act without charge.

Elections Ontario paid the Ontario Realty Corporation $1,040,558 (2011 – $1,028,152) for the use of office premises, $48,178 of which was allocated for space needed to administer the Election Finances Act (2011- $47,603).

Elections Ontario also paid the Ministry of Finance $2,234,226 (2011 - $1,944,235) for the migration of data centre, information technology and other services, to the Province's Guelph Data Centre, $240,774 of which was allocated to the Election Finances Act (2011- $208,324)

9. Lease Commitments

In June 2004, Elections Ontario extended the lease agreement for its current premises for a further term of 10 years to May 31, 2015. Elections Ontario shares office space with the Office administering the Election Finances Act and the leasing costs are shared based on the square footage occupied by the respective offices.

The minimum lease payments for Elections Ontario, net of the amount allocated to the Election Finances Act, for the remaining term of the lease are as follows:

	$
Year ended March 31, 2013	961,482
2014	961,482
2015	961,482
2016	160,247
	3,044,693

10. Budgeted Figures

Budgeted figures were approved by the Chief Electoral Officer. It is presented for information purposes only and has not been audited. The budget has been presented on a modified cash basis.

11. Reconciliation to Public Accounts Volume 1 Basis of Presentation

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer – Election Act expenses as presented in Volume 1 of the Public Accounts of Ontario was prepared on a basis consistent with the accounting policies followed for preparation of the Estimates submitted for information to the Board of Internal Economy, under which purchases of tangible capital assets are expensed in the year of acquisition rather than being capitalized and amortized over their useful lives. Volume 1 also excludes accrued expenditures payable and a write down of a capital asset recognized in these financial statements. A reconciliation of total expenses reported in Volume 1 to the total expenses reported in these financial statements is as follows:

	2012 $	2011 $
Total Statutory Expenses per Volume 1	88,822,410	18,642,613
Purchase of capital assets	(4,846,098)	(2,888,585)

Responsibility for Financial Reporting

The accompanying financial statements under the Election Finances Act have been prepared in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and are the responsibility of management. The financial statements have been properly prepared within reasonable limits of materiality and in light of information available up to January 30, 2013.

Management is responsible for the integrity of financial statements and maintains a system of internal controls designed to provide reasonable assurance that the assets are safeguarded and that reliable financial information is available on a timely basis. The system includes formal policies and procedures and an organizational structure that provides for appropriate delegation of authority and segregation of responsibilities.

The financial statements have been audited by the Auditor General. The Auditor General's responsibility is to express an opinion on whether the financial statements are fairly presented in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards. The Independent Auditor's Report, which appears on the following page, outlines the scope of the Auditor's examination and opinion.

Greg Essensa
Chief Electoral Officer

January 30, 2013

Office of the Auditor General of Ontario
Bureau du vérificateur général de l'Ontario

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Chief Electoral Officer

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer under the Election Finances Act, which comprise the statements of financial position as at March 31, 2012, March 31, 2011 and April 1, 2010 and the statements of operations and accumulated surplus, and cash flows for the years ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audits. I conducted my audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained in my audits is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer under the Election Finances Act as at March 31, 2012, March 31, 2011 and April 1, 2010 and the results of its operations and accumulated surplus, and its cash flows for the years ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011 in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Office of the Chief Electoral Officer — Election Finances Act

Notes to Financial Statements

For the Years Ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011

1. Nature of Operations

The Chief Electoral Officer is responsible for administering the Election Act and Election Finances Act. These financial statements reflect the activities conducted under the Election Finances Act [Act]. Under that Act, the Chief Electoral Officer registers and reviews filings from Ontario political parties, constituency associations, candidates and leadership contestants for purposes of monitoring compliance with contribution and expenditure limits established by the Act. The Chief Electoral Officer also pays subsidies to eligible recipients as provided for under the Act.

There was a General Election held on October 6, 2011. There were no by-elections or leadership contests administered during the year ended March 31, 2012. There were no by-elections administered during the year ended March 31, 2011.

Eligible expenses and asset acquisitions under the Act are paid by the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer and are reimbursed out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the maximum of the voted appropriation.

2. Conversion to Public Sector Accounting Standards

Commencing with the 2011/2012 fiscal year, the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer - Election Finances Act ("Office") has adopted Canadian public sector accounting ("PSA") standards. These financial statements are the first financial statements for which the Office has applied Canadian public sector accounting standards.

One adjustment to previously reported figures resulted from the adoption of these accounting standards. Previously, the Office deferred revenue used to acquire tangible capital assets and recognized this revenue over the same period as the expected life of the asset. PSA standards require that there must be funding conditions, such as how the revenue is to be used, and a resulting obligation by the province to provide funding. There are no conditions associated with the funding of tangible capital assets and no resulting obligation by the province. Therefore, a retroactive adjustment has been made to recognize all deferred capital contributions and restate the prior period results. The following table summarizes the impact of the transition to PSA on the annual deficit and the accumulated surplus.

Annual deficit:

As previously reported under Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, March 31, 2011	—
Deferred capital contributions now recognized as revenue	337,286
Restated for the year ended March 31, 2011	337,286

Accumulated surplus:

As previously reported under Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, March 31, 2010	—
Deferred capital contributions in prior years now recognized as revenue	1,047,987
Restated, April 1, 2010	1,047,987
As previously reported under Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, March 31, 2011	—
Restated, April 1, 2010	1,047,987
Annual deficit, restated for the year ended March 31, 2011	(337,286)

Notes to Financial Statements

For the Years Ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011

3. Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles established by the Canadian Public Sector Accounting Board. The significant accounting policies used to prepare these statements are summarized below.

(A) ACCRUAL BASIS

These financial statements are prepared on an accrual basis whereby expenses are recognized in the fiscal year that the events giving rise to the expense occur and resources are consumed.

(B) VOTED APPROPRIATIONS

The Office is funded through annual voted appropriations from the Province of Ontario. As the voted appropriation is prepared on a modified cash basis, a surplus or deficit arises from the application of accrual accounting, including the capitalization and amortization of capital assets and the recognition of employee benefit costs earned to date that will be funded from future appropriations.

(C) TANGIBLE CAPITAL ASSETS

Tangible capital assets are recorded at historical cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets; with a half-year provision in the year the asset is acquired and available for use, as indicated below:

Computer hardware and software	3 years
Furniture and equipment	5 years
Leasehold improvements	5 years

Assets in development are not amortized until the asset is available for productive use.

Tangible capital assets are written down when conditions indicate that they no longer contribute to the Office's ability to provide services, or when the value of future economic benefits associated with the tangible capital assets are less than their net book value. The write-downs are accounted for as expenses in the statement of operations and accumulated surplus.

(D) FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Office's financial assets and financial liabilities are accounted for as follows:

- Accounts receivable are recorded at cost;
- Accounts payable and accrued liabilities are recorded at cost; and
- Accrued employee benefits obligation is recorded at cost based on the entitlements earned by employees up to March 31, 2012. A fair value estimate based on actuarial assumptions about when these benefits will actually be paid has not been made as it is not expected that there would be a significant difference from the recorded amount.

It is management's opinion that the Office is not exposed to significant interest rate, currency, liquidity or credit risk arising from its financial instruments due to their nature.

Office of the Chief Electoral Officer — Election Finances Act

Notes to Financial Statements

For the Years Ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011

3. Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

(E) REVENUE RECOGNITION – PROVINCIAL FUNDING

Revenue from the Province is recognized in the same period as the underlying administrative and operating expenses and subsidies are incurred. As a result, the total of accounts payable, accrued liabilities, and accrued employee benefits obligation are equal to the amount of accounts receivable – consolidated revenue fund.

(F) REVENUE RECOGNITION – ANONYMOUS AND EXCESS CONTRIBUTIONS

Under the Act, anonymous contributions received by a registered political party, constituency association, candidate or leadership contestant must be remitted to the Chief Electoral Officer. In addition, excess contributions over the maximum limits specified in the Act must be remitted to the Chief Electoral Officer unless the recipient is able to refund the excess contribution to the contributor. Due to the unpredictable nature of such contributions, they are recognized when received.

(G) SUBSIDIES

Campaign expense subsidies and audit fee subsidies for campaign returns are recorded in the fiscal year in which the election was held. Leadership contestant audit fee subsidies are recorded in the fiscal year in which the event took place. Annual returns audit fee subsidies are recorded in the fiscal year to which the returns relate.

(H) MEASUREMENT UNCERTAINTY

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards requires that management make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of the revenues and expenses during the reporting period.

Estimates are based on the best information available at the time of preparation of the financial statements and are reviewed annually to reflect new information as it becomes available. Measurement uncertainty exists in these financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

4. Related Party Transactions

Certain administrative services such as accounting, human resources and information technology support needed to administer the Act are provided by the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer without charge.

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer allocated $48,178 (2011 - $47,603) for the use of office premises needed to administer the Act.

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer allocated $240,774 (2011 - $208,324) for the migration of the data centre, information technology and other services to the Province's Guelph Data Centre.

Accrued vacation	51,524	33,400	34,656
	6,243,969	700,556	832,213

The Subsidies payable includes amounts owing to registered parties and registered candidates. Administrative and operating liabilities relate to normal business transactions with third-party vendors and are subject to standard commercial terms. Accrued benefits are recorded based on employment arrangements and legislated entitlements.

6. Tangible Capital Assets (Continued)

The majority of the computer software relates to the in-house development of the Election Management System (EMS). At the end of March 31, 2012, the total capitalized cost for the development of the EMS is $14,359,809 of which $1,542,397 has been allocated to tangible assets needed to administer the Act. The total net book value as of March 31, 2012 for the EMS is $4,234,667, of which $434,047 has been allocated to tangible capital assets needed to administer the Act. The cost of the modules currently not in use is included in software in development. The total net book value is net of a $1,125,000 write-down, of which $125,000 has been allocated to tangible capital assets needed to administer the Act. The EMS modules will continue to be developed and management plans to utilize this system to administer the 2015 general election.

7. Employee Future Benefits

(A) PENSION BENEFITS

The Office's full-time employees participate in the Public Service Pension Fund (PSPF), which is a defined benefit pension plan for employees of the Province and many provincial agencies. The Province of Ontario, which is the sole sponsor of the PSPF, determines the Office's annual payments to the fund. As the sponsors are responsible for ensuring that the pension fund is financially viable, any surpluses or unfunded liabilities arising from statutory actuarial funding valuations are not assets or obligations of the Office.

The Office's annual payments of $58,715 (2011 - $49,296), are included in salaries and employee benefits expense in the Statement of Operations and Accumulated Surplus.

(B) ACCRUED EMPLOYEE BENEFITS OBLIGATION

Although the costs of any legislated severance and unused vacation entitlements earned by employees are recognized by the Province when earned by eligible employees, these costs are also recognized in these financial statements. These costs for the year amounted to $24,221 (2011 - $25,009) and are included in salaries and employee benefits expense in the Statement of Operations and Accumulated Surplus. The total liability for these costs is reflected in the accrued employee benefits obligation, less any amounts payable within one year, which is included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities, as follows:

	March 31, 2012	March 31, 2011	April 1, 2010
Total liability for severance and vacation	195,786	155,492	158,482
Less: Due within one year and included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities	51,524	33,400	34,656
Accrued employee benefits obligation	144,262	122,092	123,826

(C) OTHER NON-PENSION POST-EMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

The cost of other non-pension post-retirement benefits are determined and paid for by the Ministry of Government Services and accordingly are not included in these financial statements.

Office of the Chief Electoral Officer — Election Finances Act

Notes to Financial Statements

For the Years Ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011

8. Subsidies

The Act requires payment of various subsidies. The subsidy amounts noted below are effective from January 1, 2009 until December 31, 2013.

- Candidate campaign expenses to every registered candidate who receives at least 15% of the popular vote in an electoral district. The reimbursed amount is the lesser of 20% of the candidate's campaign expenses or 20% of the allowable maximum campaign expenditure limit of $1.19 per eligible voter. Candidates in designated northern electoral districts may receive an additional $8,680.
- Campaign expenses to every registered party that receives at least 15% of the popular vote in any electoral district. The reimbursed amount is five cents per eligible voter in each electoral district.
- Audit fees for annual and campaign returns of each registered constituency association to a maximum of $744 per return.
- Audit fees for annual and campaign returns of each registered party to a maximum of $1,488 per return.
- Audit fees for campaign returns of each candidate to a maximum of $1,240 per return.
- Audit fees for campaign returns of each leadership contestant to a maximum of $992 per return.

9. Lease Commitments

Annual charges by the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer for office rent are based on the square footage occupied and the amounts for future lease commitments related to space needed to administer the Act are as follows:

	$
Year ended March 31, 2013	46,678
2014	46,678
2015	46,678
2016	7,780
	147,814

10. Reconciliation to Public Accounts Volume 1 Basis of Presentation

The Office's Statement of Expenses presented in Volume 1 of the Public Accounts of Ontario was prepared on a basis consistent with the accounting policies followed for preparation of the Estimates submitted for approval to the Board of Internal Economy, under which purchases of tangible capital assets are expensed in the year of acquisition rather than being capitalized and amortized over their useful lives. Volume 1 also excludes the accrued subsidy fees payable, employee future benefit costs, other administrative expenses paid after late April 2012 and a write down of a capital asset recognized in these financial statements. A reconciliation of total expenses reported in Volume 1 to the total expenses reported in these financial statements is as follows:

	2012 $	2011 $
Total Expenses per Volume 1	2,400,311	2,497,039
Accrued subsidy fees payable	5,503,963	(331,725)
Change in accrued administrative expenses	173,847	26,860
Write-down of capital asset	125,000	—
Amortization of capital assets	112,559	357,716
	5,915,369	52,851
Total Net Expenses per audited financial statements	8,315,680	2,549,890

For the Years Ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011

11. Comparative Figures

Certain comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation.

12. Budgeted Figures

Budgeted figures were approved by the Board of Internal Economy. They are presented for information purposes only and have not been audited.

13. Statement of Change in Net Financial Assets

A statement of change in net financial assets was not presented as the information for which it would provide is readily available from these financial statements.

APPENDIX A

OVERVIEW OF ELECTIONS ONTARIO

ORGANIZATION OVERVIEW

The Chief Electoral Officer of Ontario is appointed under the province's Election Act and is an officer of the Legislative Assembly. The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer, operating as "Elections Ontario," is a non-partisan office of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario and is responsible for the conduct of general elections, by-elections and referenda. Elections Ontario also oversees the registration and regulation of the financial activity of Ontario's provincial political parties, constituency associations, candidates, leadership contestants and third party advertisers.

The activities of the Office are governed by the Election Act, the Election Finances Act and several other statutes.

VISION

Elections Ontario's vision is to set the standard for electoral process excellence. In meeting its vision, Elections Ontario will continue to innovate and lead in defining key benchmarks for electoral administration.

MISSION

Elections Ontario's mission is to protect the integrity and accessibility of the electoral process and to administer elections in a fair and impartial manner.

MANDATE

Elections Ontario is mandated to administer the electoral process in Ontario in accordance with provincial legislation.

DIVISION DESCRIPTIONS

Chief Electoral Officer's Office (CEO):

The CEO's Office is responsible for supporting the Chief Electoral Officer, the Deputy Chief Electoral Officer and the Chief Operating Officer. The CEO's Office administers Elections Ontario's legislative and regulatory relationships, as well as its strategic communications and partnerships management. The CEO's Office works with key stakeholders including the Legislative Assembly, registered political parties, other electoral agencies, and government agencies and ministries to provide overall management for Elections Ontario. The CEO's Office also focuses on policy research and development, accessibility program management, executive administration, and operational oversight.

Electoral Event Services (EES):

Electoral Event Services is the operational division supporting the delivery of electoral events. This division ensures the planning, development, implementation and management of by-elections, general elections and referenda. EES is also responsible for supporting returning officers and maintaining the Permanent Register of Electors for Ontario.

Communications:

The Communications Division advances Elections Ontario's mandate by developing clear, consistent and targeted messages through programs, activities and services that foster two-way communications to internal and external stakeholders. The division provides corporate and event communications and is also responsible for marketing, advertising, web content, election event training, media relations, outreach, education and customer service.

Technology Services (TS):

Technology Services deploys, maintains and supports the technological needs of the organization on an ongoing basis, as well as specific requirements during electoral events. This includes developing IT policies, infrastructure, testing and quality control, as well as security and administration. Technology Services is also responsible for integrating data obtained from Elections Ontario's data partners as well as defining and reporting on quality measures to assess the coverage, accuracy and net currency of the Permanent Register of Electors for Ontario.

Corporate Services (CS):

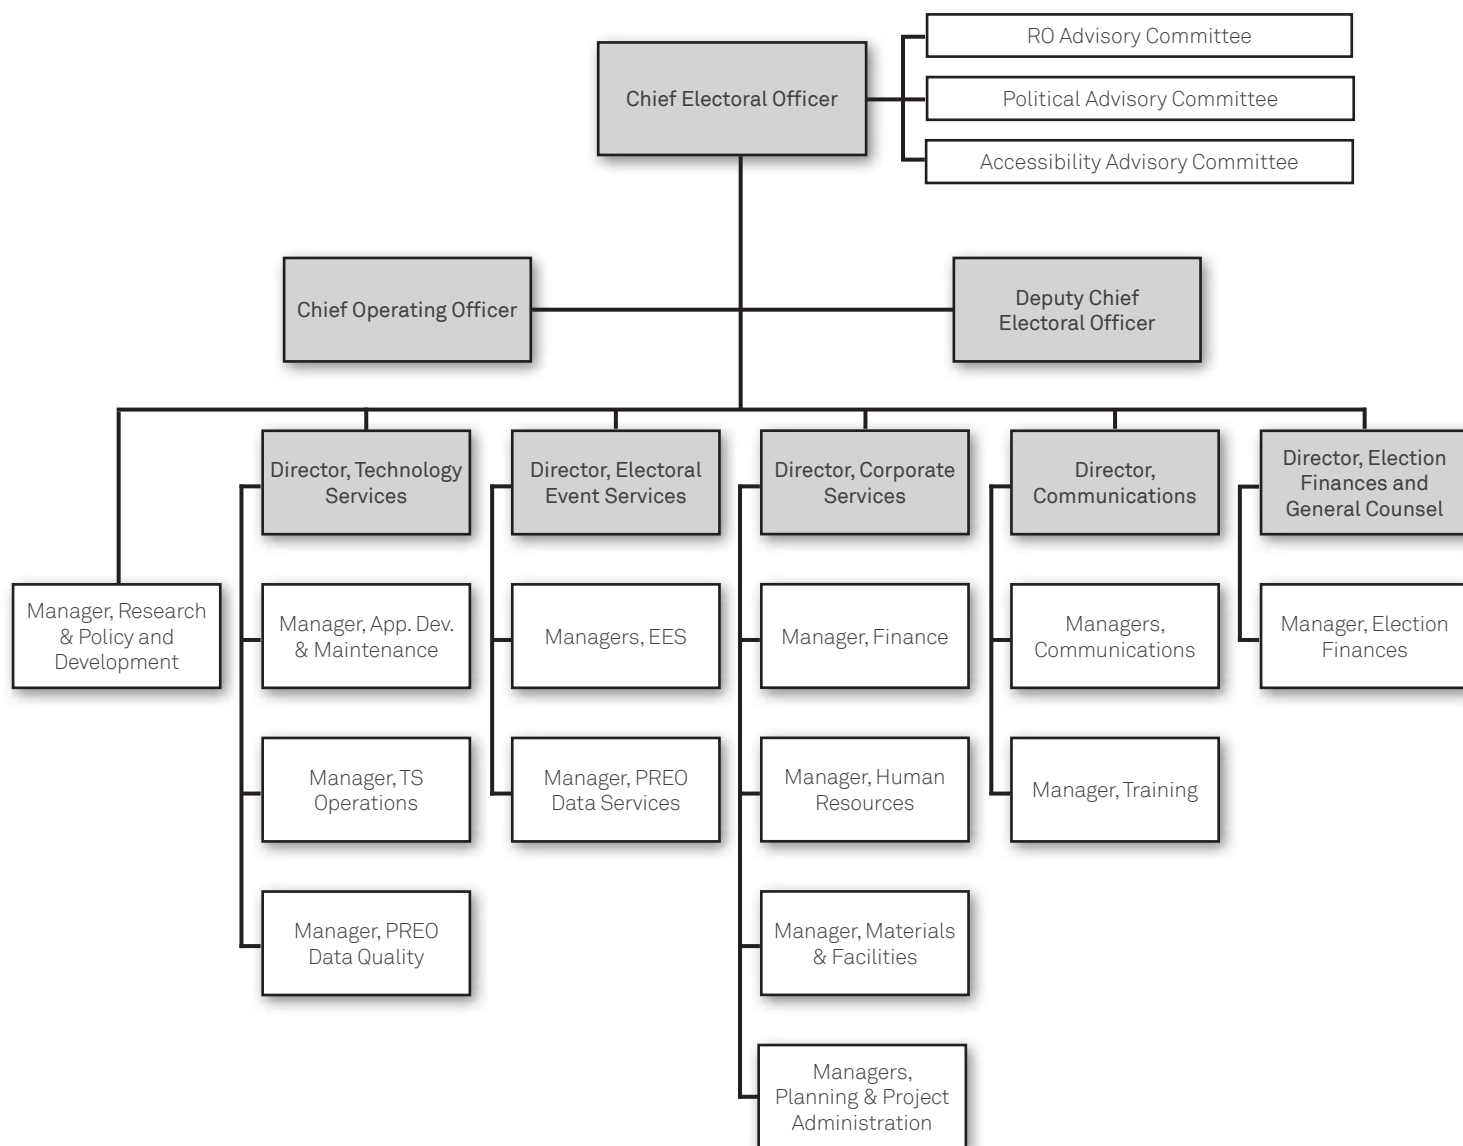

Corporate Services supports Elections Ontario in protecting the integrity and transparency of the organization's business administrative functions. CS provides the core unit of administrative services required to support Elections Ontario's business activities. This includes overseeing and executing corporate-wide matters around financial administration, human resources, facilities management, business continuity and disaster recovery and procurement. CS also oversees corporate-wide planning, project management, and business process management.

Election Finances (EF):

Election Finances' mission is to support the Chief Electoral Officer in protecting the integrity of the electoral process by assisting stakeholders and regulating political finance requirements in a diligent, fair, and transparent manner. The Election Finances Division:

- Oversees the registration of political parties, constituency associations, candidates, leadership contestants and third parties
- Publishes on the Internet financial statements of people and entities governed by the Election Finances Act
- Reviews financial statements to ensure compliance
- Distributes publicly-funded subsidies
- Investigates and reports apparent contraventions, and
- Recommends legislative reforms.

DESCRIPTION OF FINANCIAL RETURNS AND CONTRIBUTION LIMITS

FINANCIAL RETURNS

Elections Ontario is responsible for the review and approval of all financial statements submitted by registered political parties, candidates, constituency associations, leadership contestants and third party advertisers registered under the Election Finances Act. All returns filed with Elections Ontario are available to the public at our headquarters and summary statements are presented on the Elections Ontario website.

All financial statements (including the list of contributors over $100) are posted to the website on an 'As Submitted' basis within 30 business days of the filing deadline. Revisions to the information submitted, that may be identified during the compliance review process, are ultimately reflected in the 'Final' version of the documents that are also posted to the website when approved.

All financial reports filed with Elections Ontario are reviewed to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Election Finances Act. The financial information in this report and the accompanying appendices, reflect the information as filed with the Chief Electoral Officer and are subsequently revised to the date of publication. Review of some filings continues and, as a result, some of the information in this report may be revised after this publication. Election Finances information within the Elections Ontario website will be updated as revisions become available.

Contribution limits

In any year not including any campaign period, contributions may be made to a registered political party up to a limit of $9,300. In any campaign period, contributions may be made up to an additional limit of $9,300 in relation to the election in that period.

There are also limits on contributions that may be accepted by a registered constituency association or candidate:

- In any year not including any campaign period, contributions may be made to any one registered constituency association up a limit of $1,240 and a total contribution to all constituency associations of the same registered political party up to $6,200.
- In any campaign period, contributions may be made to any one registered candidate up to a limit of $1,240 and a total contribution to all registered candidates of the same registered political party up to $6,200.

Table: Contribution limits

Contribution limits from January 1, 2009 to December 31, 2013

	To a political party	To a constituency association		To a candidate
		Each	To the associations of one party	Each	To the candidates of one party
Annual contribution limit	$9,300	$1,240	$6,200	Not permitted
Limit during a campaign period	Extra amount of $9,300 over the annual limit	No extra amount over the annual limit		$1,240	$6,200

APPENDIX P

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATIVE AMENDMENTS PREVIOUSLY RECOMMENDED THAT HAVE NOT YET BEEN ENACTED

ADDITIONAL AMENDMENTS TO THE ELECTION FINANCES ACT

In previous annual reports, the Chief Electoral Officer has recommended that the Election Finances Act undergo a comprehensive review. In addition to the legislative amendments recommended earlier in this report, there are a number of technical amendments to the Election Finances Act that would improve clarity and streamline operations. The Chief Electoral Officer recommends that when the Legislative Assembly of Ontario completes a comprehensive review of the Election Finances Act that they adopt the technical changes recommended below at the earliest opportunity.

Candidates

The status of “candidate” is essential to the conduct and administration of an election. Within the Election Finances Act, a candidate may be a person nominated by a registered party’s constituency association, a person who has filed nomination papers in accordance with the Election Act, or a person who declares that he or she is an independent candidate.

Within the Election Act, a candidate is a person elected to the Legislative Assembly, a person nominated as a candidate, or one declared to be a candidate after the writ of election, by himself or herself, or by others.

Regardless of the route followed to achieve candidate status, every candidate must file an application for registration. Likewise, to appear on the ballot, candidates must file nomination papers with the Returning Officer by 2 p.m. on Nomination Day as set by the Election Act. Failure to register as a candidate under the Election Finances Act denies a candidate the opportunity to accept contributions or incur expenses. Failure to file nomination papers under the Election Act denies a candidate the right to have his or her name appear on the ballot. If a candidate does not file nomination papers, they are considered to have withdrawn and must still file audited financial statements covering the period from the date they registered to nomination day.

Inconsistent references in parallel legislation make it challenging to understand the obligations and benefits that flow from candidate status and possibly compromise the integrity of the electoral process.

Clarification of legislation covering expenses

Amendments to the Election Finances Act are recommended to provide that only parties, associations, candidates, third parties and leadership contestants registered under the Act are authorized to accept contributions and incur expenses. Registered status allows them to accept contributions. It is widely understood that registration must also have occurred in order to incur expenses, although this is not clear in the language of the Act.

References to registered parties

Subsection 26(3) contains the term “political party.” Throughout the rest of the Act, it is clear that reference to “party” means a reference to a political party registered under the Election Finances Act. Possible misinterpretation could be avoided in the section of the Act that governs group contributions by changing “political party” to “registered party,” which is defined as a political party registered under the Election Finances Act.

Filing deadline for annual returns

The current deadline extends for five months beyond the end of the reporting period. The need for such an extended period should be reviewed, particularly from the perspective of openness and transparency.

Campaign expense exclusions

The lack of clear definition for campaign expense exclusions, particularly for the term, “research and polling” and a review of campaign expense exclusions, would contribute significantly to improvements in the administration of this important feature of the legislation.

References to goods and services

Paragraph 29(1) (b) prohibits certain transfers of “funds.” Section 27 describes permitted transfers, but refers to “... funds, goods and services ...” Working with these related provisions has highlighted difficulties with the inconsistent references. While this is an apparent inconsistency, paragraph 29(1) (b) should be reviewed to more clearly reflect the intent of legislators, either to include or to exclude “goods and services” in the list of prohibited transfers.
