SECOND DAY

JEUDI 20 NOVEMBRE 2003

DEUXIÈME JOUR

3:00 P.M.

15 H

The members having assembled:-

His Honour the Lieutenant Governor entered the Chamber and took his seat upon the Throne.

The Speaker addressed His Honour as follows:-

“May it please Your Honour,

The Legislative Assembly has elected me as their Speaker, though I am but little able to fulfill the important duties thus assigned to me.

If, in the performance of those duties, I should at any time fall into error, I pray that the fault may be imputed to me and not to the Assembly whose servant I am, and who, through me, the better to enable them to discharge their duty to their Queen and Country, hereby claim all their undoubted rights and privileges, especially that they have freedom of speech in their debates, access to your person at all seasonable times, and that their proceedings may receive from you the most favourable consideration."

The Government House Leader said:-

"Speaker, I am commanded by His Honour the Lieutenant Governor to declare to you that he freely confides in the duty and attachment of the Assembly to Her Majesty's Person and Government and, not doubting that the proceedings will be conducted with wisdom, temperance and prudence, he grants and upon all occasions will recognize and allow the constitutional privileges.

I am commanded also to assure you that the Assembly shall have ready access to His Honour upon all suitable occasions, and that their proceedings, as well as your words and actions, will constantly receive from him the most favourable construction."

His Honour the Lieutenant Governor was pleased to open the First Session of the Thirty-eighth Parliament by making the following gracious speech:-

I. THE CHALLENGE WE FACE TOGETHER

Mr. Speaker, members of the Legislative Assembly, citizens of Ontario:

Canada lists among its hallmarks peace, order and good government.

Ontario has a parliamentary tradition that allows for a peaceful and orderly transition from an old government to a new one.

Following the recent election, I asked Dalton McGuinty to form the Government of Ontario.

I then presided over the swearing-in of the new Premier and the Executive Council.

Today, it is my privilege as Her Majesty's representative to deliver this new government's first Speech from the Throne.

Your new government looks to the future with high hopes.

It knows what Ontarians can do because it has seen what Ontarians have done.

There have been pulls on the seams in our social fabric — but this fabric has refused to tear.

There have been challenges to the health of our economy — but this economy remains strong.

There have been those who would dismiss our values as out of date — but these values have proven timeless.

Ontarians can do anything, when they work, and dream, and build together.

What they ask of their government is honesty, responsibility, hard work, innovation, and a genuine commitment to the future.

Your new government is honest enough to tell you about the challenges we face.

So here are the facts: Ontario faces a major problem, one that stands in the way of a better future for all of us.

And it's urgent that we fix it.

It threatens the important public services we have now, and our opportunity to improve them in the future.

This isn't lofty rhetoric. This is down-to-earth reality.

Your new government asked former Provincial Auditor Erik Peters to give you the straight goods on Ontario's budgetary position.

He reported that Ontario faces a $5.6 billion inherited deficit.

Irresponsible tax cuts have meant that, since the year 2000, program spending has grown more than ten times faster than tax revenue.

Ontario's economy is strong, but the provincial government's finances are weak, and that threatens the public services we all need to keep our economy strong.

The state of the province's finances is simply not sustainable or affordable — not for Ontario families, and certainly not for their children and grandchildren.

Your new government will take this challenge on, working with you.

It will not paper over this problem with money it does not have.

It will not try to make it disappear with accounting tricks.

And it will never sit on its hands and do nothing.

If it did nothing, the $5.6 billion inherited deficit would grow to $7.7 billion next year, and nearly $8.6 billion in 2007.

That's not an option, not when the amount Ontario already spends on servicing the provincial debt — $8.7 billion — is almost as much as we spend on our schools.

That's not an option, when doing nothing would mean less and less support for the public services Ontarians depend on.

Your new government was elected to improve our health care and our schools, to build stronger communities and an even stronger economy.

And it will deliver real, positive change in all of these areas.

It will do so relentlessly, but responsibly.

The first improvements it makes will make a real difference. But they will be affordable and they will be responsible.

A contractor hired to add rooms to the second floor of your house would be negligent if he discovered a fire in the basement — and failed to put it out.

A government elected to improve health care and education would be negligent if it discovered a deficit large enough to threaten the hospitals and schools we have now — and chose to ignore it.

Your new government chooses to tackle this problem for the right reasons — not so it can hand out tax cuts to a few, but so it can provide opportunity for all by preserving and then improving Ontario's important public services.

II. DECISIVE ACTION ON THE DEFICIT — ENGAGING ONTARIANS

In this session, this Legislature will be asked to take immediate action on the inherited $5.6 billion deficit.

Our corporate taxes are already competitive, so your new government made a commitment to roll back the latest portion of the tax cut for corporations.

Legislation will be introduced to keep that commitment.

Ontario families have told your new government not to reduce their taxes at this time, because it cannot afford tax cuts without adding to the deficit and threatening public services.

So this new government made a commitment to maintain personal income tax rates at the current level.

Legislation will be introduced to keep that commitment.

Our seniors want good schools for their grandchildren, so this new government made a commitment to eliminate the seniors' education tax credit.

Legislation will be introduced to keep that commitment.

Our public schools have fallen into disrepair and discord, and require new resources and a fresh approach, so this new government made a commitment to cancel the tax credit for private schools.

Legislation will be introduced to keep that commitment.

Ontarians want their hard-earned tax dollars used to serve them — not spin them.

So your new government made a commitment to eliminate the waste of taxpayers' dollars on partisan, political advertising.

Legislation will be introduced to keep that commitment.

Ontarians want everyone to do their part, so this new government made a commitment to ensure corporations that have not been paying their taxes start paying their fair share.

That commitment will be kept.

Ontarians want the government to spend their tax dollars wisely, so this government made a commitment to reduce what the Provincial Auditor has called an over-reliance on highly paid consultants.

That commitment will be kept.

Ontarians want the government to live within its means, so your new government made a commitment to have a responsible approach to the province's finances, for a change.

In the face of what we now know is a $5.6 billion inherited deficit, the current electricity price freeze is neither sustainable nor responsible.

It keeps prices artificially low and makes Ontarians pay the difference. It threatens our ability to improve our education and health care.

Your new government will present an electricity pricing plan that better reflects the true cost of electricity — and the true state of Ontario's finances — while giving Ontarians an incentive to conserve.

Taken together, these measures will take your new government a long way towards keeping one of its core commitments: achieving a truly balanced budget.

But the job will not be done, and it can only be completed with the help of millions of Ontarians.

The new year will see this new government engage Ontarians in a new dialogue.

Your new government will ask Ontarians to help write next spring's Budget, by putting before them the real choices facing this province.

It will put before the public ideas that are big and bold and even controversial.

Ontarians understand that you cannot tackle a big problem by tinkering around its edges, and you can't deliver real, positive change by doing things the same, old way.

We need to change how government works so it works for Ontarians in a way that's responsible, affordable, and sustainable.

This is not exactly the job your new government applied for, but it is the job it has been given to do.

And it will get the job done.

It will get the job done because it's the right thing to do: this year's deficit alone would cost Ontarians an additional $280 million in additional interest payments.

By the end of year four of this mandate, that number would grow to $1.1 billion — enough to pay for 15,000 nurses, 16,000 teachers, or 1,000 MRIs.

Your new government will get the job done so that it can provide more nurses, teachers, and MRIs for Ontario families — instead of additional interest payments for Ontario's creditors.

Your new government remains determined to deliver real, positive change by improving the public services Ontarians depend on.

It is equally resolute that it must first secure the fiscal foundation upon which those services are built.

It is a foundation we must secure together, in the public interest.

Your new government will ask its partners in health care, education, and the broader public sector to temper their requests for more with the realization that what we have now is at risk.

If Ontarians work together today, in a responsible way, we can build an even brighter future tomorrow.

Your new government knows we can only achieve great things when we work, and dream, and build together, for a change.

And it is confident that Ontarians will respond to the challenge before us.

III. DELIVERING REAL, POSITIVE CHANGE

This challenge will affect the pace of change.

But your new government will make change happen.

That change has already started, and it will continue in this session of the Legislature.

These changes will be affordable, gradual, and practical.

They will make a real, positive difference in the lives of Ontarians.

They will reflect Ontarians' values, and Ontarians' priorities.

Excellence For All In Public Education

Your new government's first and most important priority will always be excellence in public education.

Its goal is to make Ontario's public education the world's best education.

The groundwork for this shared accomplishment will be set in this session.

Your new government will keep its commitment to introduce legislation designed to cancel the reckless private school tax credit that drains dollars and hope away from better public education.

It will keep its commitment to bring stability and peace to a system that has been racked by turmoil for too long.

It proposes to form a genuine education partnership with this province's school boards, principals, teachers, the wider community, and most important, parents and students.

Your new government will work with schools to make real improvements in children's reading, writing and math skills.

It will keep its commitment to make our schools safer.

School councils will be invited to conduct safety audits to evaluate their need for enhancements such as security cameras at school entrances to keep out intruders.

A provincial anti-bullying hotline will be established and anti-bullying programs developed at all schools.

Communities will be asked to help define citizenship values for Ontario's new character education program in their local school boards to strengthen our students' education experience.

Your new government will treat educators with the respect they deserve as the single most important influence, apart from family, in terms of shaping the future of our children and our province.

The Premier will institute the "Premier's Awards for Teaching Excellence" to celebrate exceptional teachers and the work they do for their students.

New programs to ensure teaching excellence — designed in cooperation with a revitalized Ontario College of Teachers — will replace the expensive and unproductive "teacher testing" program.

Schools belong to parents, children, and the communities in which they live and learn.

That is why your new government has already kept its commitment to restore the principle of local democracy in our school boards.

It acknowledges the urgent need for a francophone education strategy and will strike a task force immediately to ensure that all Ontario children receive an excellent education.

The path to a better society, and a more prosperous economy, runs through our public schools.

Your new government believes that, for too long, that path has been strewn with conflict, cuts, and chaos.

It's time to begin to build a new path, with cooperation, creativity, and a genuine commitment to what's best for our children.

By tackling the inherited deficit, your new government will strengthen the foundation for its Excellence for All Education plan, including smaller class sizes in the early grades, learning until age 18, and its Best Start plan for early childhood education.

The Health Care We Need

Ontario's commitment to public education is a measure of our foresight.

Our commitment to medicare is a measure of our insight.

Ontarians understand that we are all made stronger by our system of universal, public medicare.

Ontarians want to be competitive — and compassionate.

Medicare makes us both.

The Romanow Commission confirmed that Canadians do not want one system for the wealthy, who can buy their way to the front of the line, and another for everyone else, who would be forced to wait at the back of it.

In fact, your new government will be entering into new agreements for publicly owned hospitals in Brampton and Ottawa. This will ensure that these facilities are not privately owned.

It will keep its commitment to introduce the Commitment to the Future of Medicare Act.

If passed, it will protect and improve universal, public medicare for all Ontarians by making two-tier, pay-your-way-to-the-front-of-the-line health care illegal in Ontario.

If passed, it will enshrine in provincial law the five principles of medicare: universality, portability, comprehensiveness, public administration, and accessibility.

And it will add a sixth principle: accountability.

If a health care dollar is wasted, a patient waits. If a health care dollar is spent wisely, a patient benefits.

Legislation will also be introduced to keep this government's commitment to give the Provincial Auditor new powers to examine how public funds are spent by transfer partners in education and health care, including hospitals and other health care organizations.

Your new government will propose changes to give the Chief Medical Officer of Health the independence required to protect Ontarians.

New legislation will be introduced to create a new health quality council.

This independent council will report directly to Ontarians on how well their health care system is working — and how well their government is working to improve health care.

Your new government understands it can only hold others to a higher standard if it subjects itself to the same standard.

It is keeping its commitment to work with other governments to create a national health council.

It is keeping its commitment to work cooperatively with the federal government on health care, in the interests of Ontarians.

Already, this new approach is finding success. There is more money coming for health care. And the federal government committed this week to cover half of the true health care costs associated with SARS. This is welcome news, but there is much more to do, and your new government will continue to work with Ottawa to fix health care, instead of merely affixing blame.

Your new government understands that money alone will not save medicare. Nor will legislation alone. Real, positive reform is needed, starting with primary health care.

It will keep its commitment to improve primary care through the creation of family health teams, made up of health care professionals who will protect and promote the health of Ontarians.

These teams will ensure patients get care closer to home and health care dollars are spent wisely.

Your new government understands that promoting good health is as important as treating illness.

It will make cigarettes more expensive to prevent young people from lighting up, and it will make public and work places in Ontario smoke-free within three years.

Like public education, medicare is at a crossroads. Ontarians have told your new government which direction they want chosen — the one that protects and improves universal medicare.

By tackling the inherited deficit, your new government will strengthen the foundation for the Health Care We Need plan, including more family doctors, nurses, and hospital beds.

An Economy That Achieves Our Potential

Ontario's economy is strong and vibrant, but it faces challenges from beyond our borders, and a threat from within.

Other jurisdictions are working hard to invest in building workforces that can attract the most investment and the best jobs.

Ironically, the province's own finances threaten to hold back our economy, by draining more dollars into servicing our debt, and limiting our ability to improve our workforce, and our prosperity.

Ontario's colleges, universities, and skills training programs are critical to creating prosperity.

Your new government will put in place a long-term plan that ensures the quality and accessibility of higher education for generations to come.

While that plan is put in place, tuition fees will be frozen for two years.

Your new government believes our province's diversity is a tremendous source of strength.

It will work with the federal government to finalize immigration and labour market development agreements that build on this strength.

It will keep its commitment to ensure that highly qualified, internationally trained tradespeople and professionals can work in their chosen field, here in their chosen province.

Your new government will celebrate the hard-working entrepreneurs who create jobs and attract investment, and support their endeavours here at home and abroad.

It will work to support and protect our hard-working farmers, and promote their products by promoting food safety.

It will take the necessary steps to assure Ontarians their meat is safe.

Your new government will do its part to ensure all of our businesses can operate in a stable climate, by delivering reliable, affordable electricity.

It will begin to bring new supply online, and pave the way for new electricity generation, by introducing a new, responsible plan for electricity pricing.

It will give Ontario businesses and families the information and tools they need to conserve electricity — and save money.

Trade with other provinces and other countries, particularly the United States, is our lifeblood. Our economy depends on it.

Your new government has already begun talks with other provinces, aimed at breaking down interprovincial trade barriers. And it will work with the federal and U.S. state governments to ensure our borders are safe, efficient, and open to trade.

A commitment was made to help hard-working families make ends meet before they reach their wits' end. That commitment will be kept.

For the first time in eight years, there will be an increase in the minimum wage.

Legislation will be introduced to end the 60-hour workweek.

And action will be taken on auto insurance.

Your new government has already acted to stop new applications for rate hikes, and will now work to bring rates down.

Your new government understands that for Ontario to succeed in a highly competitive and global economy, we need every Ontarian, from our youngest citizens to our seniors, at their best.

Your new government will keep its commitment to treat seniors with respect and dignity. Its first step will be to set high standards for nursing homes.

Your new government will work with Ontarians with disabilities on meaningful legislation that will allow them to fully participate in building a stronger province.

Growing Strong Communities

The strength of our province depends, too, on the strength of our communities.

Yet our communities are not all they can be.

Ontarians want cleaner air, their water protected, and their greenspace preserved.

They want their communities to be more livable, safer, stronger.

Your new government will strengthen our communities and work with other governments to create a new deal for cities.

It will keep its commitment to introduce legislation that will establish a permanent greenbelt across the Golden Horseshoe, and a new commission to protect it.

It will introduce legislation to establish a Greater Toronto Transportation Authority, which will improve public transit, reduce gridlock, and improve the air we breathe.

Your new government will keep its commitment to ban the disposal of untreated toxic sludge.

It will keep its commitment to stop the practice of giving away our precious fresh water resources.

It will keep its commitment to implement the O'Connor recommendations, starting with the hiring of more water inspectors and stronger protection of our drinking water at source.

Shortly, your new government will take the first steps towards replacing our biggest polluters by phasing out Ontario coal-fired electricity generating plants.

Communities will be encouraged to grow smart.

Your new government will introduce legislation that will give the Ontario Municipal Board a new direction — one that encourages sustainable growth instead of sprawl.

It will keep its commitment to intensify growth within our cities by rehabilitating brownfields.

Your new government will make our communities safer.

More will be done to protect women and children from domestic violence, including improvements in the provision of second-stage housing for victims.

Your new government will work with the federal government to amend the Criminal Code to make it more difficult for accused abusers to make bail.

It will work with the police to develop risk assessments for those accused of domestic violence.

Deadbeat parents who fail to support their children will be held to their family responsibilities.

New measures will be put in place to ensure children get what they need and what they are owed.

Pregnant women on social assistance will get the nutritional supplements they need.

Your new government will introduce legislation to protect tenants with real rent control.

This government congratulates the newly elected municipal leaders across Ontario and invites them to work with this government, as partners.

It will keep its commitment to introduce legislation that ensures a strong voice for the north, by keeping 11 northern representatives in this chamber.

Your new government will create northern development councils as a direct link from northern communities to the Minister of Northern Development and Mines.

One of the first issues to be examined by these councils will be how to best encourage young northern Ontarians to stay in northern Ontario.

This new government's commitment to govern for all Ontarians — those from cities and towns, from north and south — will be kept.

Ontarians have said they do not want their province divided by region or area code.

They want to build a strong province by building strong communities. By tackling the inherited deficit, your new government will strengthen the foundation for the Growing Strong Communities plan, including better public transit and more affordable housing.

Government That Works For You

Ontarians want a government that works for them.

Your new government has made a commitment to bring an open, honest and transparent approach to government.

It is keeping that commitment.

In this session, it will introduce the most ambitious democratic renewal legislation ever seen in Ontario.

It will open up government and its agencies, bring the voices of Ontarians to Queen's Park, and make the entire public sector more transparent and responsible to Ontarians, because transparency and accountability are the best safeguards of public services.

Already, this new government has appointed a new Minister for Democratic Renewal.

It has given every government MPP a role on the powerful cabinet committees that help guide government policy.

In the months ahead, this new government will give all members an opportunity to do more on behalf of their constituents.

All ministers of the Crown will be expected to consistently attend Question Period, and be accountable to the Legislature.

The spring Budget will be held in this chamber. Every budget will. And every budget will reflect what Ontarians have told this new government they want done.

We have the best-informed citizenry in the history of this province. Your new government is going to call upon Ontarians to share their ideas, to describe how government can work better for them.

Ontario is fortunate to have a hard-working public service that is second to none. Your new government is going to call upon public servants to share their ideas on how we all can best serve the public.

IV. MAKING ONTARIO THE ENVY OF THE WORLD

Your new government will do what needs to be done.

It will tackle the $5.6 billion deficit it has inherited — responsibly, but relentlessly.

It is clear-eyed but optimistic.

Your new government understands its job.

It will be honest with Ontarians, giving them the straight goods on the challenges we all face.

It will be responsible enough to tackle those challenges, instead of running away from them, or hiding them, or passing them on to our children and grandchildren.

It will work as hard as the people it is privileged to serve.

It will be innovative, fixing our finances in a way that's in keeping with Ontarians' values.

Your new government will get the job done, so it can deliver real, positive change for the people of Ontario.

In this historic chamber, in the woodwork that adorns the government side of the House, an artisan has carved three words.

They are: integrity, industry, and intelligence.

As we begin to write a new chapter for Ontario, let us be mindful of them.

Your new government believes strongly:

We can have excellence for all in public education.

We can deliver the health care we need.

We can grow strong communities.

We can change how government works.

We can build a prosperous economy, in which every Ontarian can reach his or her full potential ...

If we have the integrity to tell people the truth about the challenges we face.

If we are industrious enough to work as hard as the people we are privileged to serve.

If we are intelligent enough to realize that we can only lead the people of Ontario by listening to the people of Ontario ...

Then, together, we can make Ontario the envy of the world, once again.

Let's get to work.

I. LE DÉFI À RELEVER

Monsieur le président, Mesdames et Messieurs les membres de l'Assemblée législative, citoyennes et citoyens de l'Ontario,

La paix, l'ordre et une gestion saine des affaires publiques sont des signes distinctifs du Canada.

La tradition parlementaire de l'Ontario prévoit une transition sans heurt entre un gouvernement et son successeur.

À la suite des dernières élections, j'ai demandé à Dalton McGuinty de former le gouvernement de l'Ontario.

J'ai ensuite présidé à l'assermentation du nouveau premier ministre et des membres du Conseil exécutif.

Aujourd'hui, j'ai le privilège, à titre de représentant de Sa Majesté, de prononcer le premier discours du Trône de ce nouveau gouvernement.

Votre nouveau gouvernement regarde vers l'avenir avec beaucoup d'espoir.

Il sait ce dont les Ontariennes et Ontariens sont capables parce qu'il sait ce dont ils ont été capables par le passé.

Notre tissu social a été mis à mal – mais il a refusé de rompre.

Notre économie a été menacée – mais elle est restée vigoureuse.

D'aucuns ont rejeté nos valeurs, les jugeant dépassées – mais ce sont des valeurs qui perdurent.

Il n'y a rien que les Ontariennes et Ontariens ne puissent faire quand ils travaillent, qu'ils rêvent et qu'ils bâtissent ensemble.

Ce qu'ils attendent de leur gouvernement, c'est l'honnêteté, la responsabilité, l'effort, l'innovation et un réel engagement envers l'avenir.

Votre nouveau gouvernement est assez honnête pour ne pas vous cacher les défis auxquels il doit faire face.

Voici donc ce qu'il en est : l'Ontario se heurte à un problème majeur, un problème qui vient entraver notre espoir d'un avenir meilleur.

Et il faut le régler d'urgence.

Ce problème menace non seulement la possibilité d'améliorer les services publics à l'avenir, mais l'existence même des importants services dont nous disposons actuellement.

Et il ne s'agit pas d'une figure de style. C'est tout simplement la réalité.

Votre nouveau gouvernement a demandé à Erik Peters, ancien vérificateur provincial, de vous dire toute la vérité sur la situation financière de l'Ontario.

M. Peters a révélé que l'Ontario a hérité d'un déficit de 5,6 milliards de dollars.

Par suite de réductions d'impôt irresponsables, les dépenses au chapitre des programmes ont augmenté, depuis 2000, plus de dix fois plus vite que les recettes fiscales.

L'économie de l'Ontario est vigoureuse, mais les finances du gouvernement provincial sont fragiles, et cela représente une menace pour les services publics dont nous avons besoin pour soutenir l'économie.

La situation financière de la province n'est tout simplement pas viable pour les familles de l'Ontario, et moins encore pour leurs enfants et leurs petits-enfants.

Le nouveau gouvernement travaillera avec vous pour relever ce défi.

Il ne dissimulera pas le problème en faisant miroiter de l'argent qu'il n'a pas.

Il n'aura pas recours à des tours de passe-passe comptables pour le faire disparaître.

Et il ne restera jamais à ne rien faire.

S'il ne faisait rien, le déficit hérité de 5,6 milliards de dollars passerait à 7,7 milliards l'année prochaine, et à près de 8,6 milliards en 2007.

Il n'en est pas question alors que le service de la dette provinciale – qui s'élève à 8,7 milliards de dollars – est déjà presque égal à ce que nous dépensons pour nos écoles.

Il n'en est pas question puisque cela reviendrait à réduire toujours davantage le financement des services publics sur lesquels compte la population ontarienne.

Votre nouveau gouvernement a été élu pour améliorer les services de santé et les écoles, et pour créer des communautés plus dynamiques et une économie encore plus vigoureuse.

Et il apportera des changements réels et positifs dans tous ces secteurs.

Il le fera sans faillir, mais de façon responsable.

Ses premières améliorations auront un impact considérable, mais elles resteront dans les limites de ses moyens.

Un entrepreneur chargé de rénover le premier étage d'une maison ferait preuve de négligence si, découvrant que le sous-sol brûle, il ne commençait pas par éteindre le feu.

Un gouvernement élu pour améliorer les services de santé et l'éducation ferait preuve de négligence si, découvrant un déficit si grave qu'il menace les écoles et les hôpitaux, il décidait de passer outre.

Votre nouveau gouvernement a décidé de s'attaquer à ce problème pour les bonnes raisons – non pour concéder des réductions d'impôt à certains, mais pour pouvoir offrir des possibilités à tous, en préservant puis en améliorant les importants services publics de l'Ontario.

II. À L'ASSAUT DU DÉFICIT – AVEC L'AIDE DE LA POPULATION

Les députés seront invités, au cours de la présente session, à prendre des mesures immédiates pour faire face au déficit de 5,6 milliards de dollars dont le nouveau gouvernement a hérité.

L'impôt des sociétés est déjà concurrentiel. En conséquence, le nouveau gouvernement s'est engagé à annuler la dernière étape de la réduction de l'impôt des sociétés.

Le gouvernement proposera une loi pour respecter cet engagement.

Les familles de l'Ontario ont dit au nouveau gouvernement de ne pas diminuer leurs impôts pour le moment parce que toute réduction d'impôt augmenterait le déficit et menacerait les services publics.

En conséquence, le nouveau gouvernement s'est engagé à maintenir le taux d'imposition du revenu des particuliers à son niveau actuel.

Le gouvernement proposera une loi pour respecter cet engagement.

Les personnes âgées veulent de bonnes écoles pour leurs petits-enfants. En conséquence, le nouveau gouvernement s'est engagé à éliminer le crédit d'impôt foncier scolaire pour les personnes âgées.

Le gouvernement proposera une loi pour respecter cet engagement.

Nos écoles publiques ont sombré dans le déclin et la discorde, et elles ont besoin de ressources nouvelles et d'un nouveau départ. En conséquence, le nouveau gouvernement s'est engagé à éliminer le crédit d'impôt accordé aux parents qui envoient leurs enfants à l'école privée.

Le gouvernement proposera une loi pour respecter cet engagement.

La population de l'Ontario veut que l'argent durement gagné par les contribuables soit utilisé pour les servir – non pour les manipuler.

En conséquence, le nouveau gouvernement s'est engagé à éliminer le gaspillage de fonds publics que représente la publicité politique et partisane.

Le gouvernement proposera une loi pour respecter cet engagement.

La population de l'Ontario veut que chacun fasse sa part. En conséquence, le nouveau gouvernement s'est engagé à obliger les sociétés qui n'ont pas acquitté leurs impôts à payer leur part.

Le gouvernement respectera cet engagement.

La population de l'Ontario veut que le gouvernement dépense les fonds publics judicieusement. En conséquence, le nouveau gouvernement s'est engagé à réduire ce que le vérificateur provincial a appelé un recours abusif aux consultants chèrement rémunérés.

Le gouvernement respectera cet engagement.

La population de l'Ontario veut que le gouvernement vive selon ses moyens. En conséquence, le nouveau gouvernement s'est engagé à gérer les finances de la province de façon responsable – pour changer.

Compte tenu de ce que nous savons maintenant être un déficit hérité de 5,6 milliards de dollars, le gel actuel du prix de l'électricité n'est ni viable, ni responsable.

Il maintient les prix à un niveau artificiellement faible et fait payer la différence à la population de l'Ontario. Il compromet la capacité du gouvernement d'améliorer l'éducation et les soins de santé.

Votre nouveau gouvernement présentera un plan d'établissement du prix de l'électricité qui correspondra mieux au coût véritable de l'électricité – et à l'état véritable des finances de la province – tout en encourageant la population ontarienne à faire des économies d'énergie.

Ensemble, ces mesures feront beaucoup pour aider votre gouvernement à respecter l'un de ses engagements fondamentaux, à savoir l'établissement d'un budget vraiment équilibré.

Mais la tâche ne pourra être menée à bien qu'avec l'aide de millions d'Ontariennes et Ontariens.

La nouvelle année sera l'occasion pour le gouvernement d'inviter la population de l'Ontario à participer à un nouveau dialogue.

Votre nouveau gouvernement demandera aux Ontariennes et Ontariens de l'aider à dresser le budget du printemps en tenant compte des véritables choix qui s'offrent à la province.

Il proposera au public des idées dont certaines sont fort hardies et peuvent même prêter à controverse.

La population de l'Ontario comprend que ce n'est pas en bricolant qu'on peut réparer un problème grave. Et ce n'est pas en continuant à agir comme par le passé qu'on apportera des changements réels et positifs.

Nous devons changer la façon dont le gouvernement fonctionne pour qu'il serve la population de façon responsable et soutenue, dans les limites de ses moyens.

Ce n'est pas exactement l'emploi qu'a postulé votre nouveau gouvernement, mais c'est le travail qu'on lui a donné à faire.

Et ce travail, il le fera.

Il le fera parce qu'il le faut : à lui seul, le déficit de cette année coûterait aux Ontariennes et Ontariens 280 millions de dollars de plus en intérêts.

À la fin de la quatrième année du présent mandat, ce chiffre atteindrait 1,1 milliard de dollars – de quoi payer 15 000 infirmières, 16 000 enseignants ou 1 000 appareils d'IRM.

Votre nouveau gouvernement fera son travail de manière à augmenter le nombre d'infirmières, d'enseignants et d'appareils IRM au service des familles de l'Ontario – et non les intérêts versés aux créanciers de la province.

Votre nouveau gouvernement est toujours déterminé à apporter des changements réels et positifs en améliorant les services publics sur lesquels comptent les Ontariennes et Ontariens.

Il est également convaincu qu'il faut commencer par consolider les bases financières sur lesquelles reposent ces services.

Ce sont des bases que nous devons affermir ensemble dans l'intérêt public.

Votre nouveau gouvernement demandera à ses partenaires des secteurs de la santé et de l'éducation ainsi que du secteur parapublic de réfléchir, avant de réclamer des améliorations, au fait que nous risquons de perdre ce que nous avons déjà.

Si les Ontariennes et Ontariens travaillent ensemble aujourd'hui de façon responsable, nous pourrions bâtir un avenir encore meilleur.

Votre nouveau gouvernement sait que nous ne pouvons faire de grandes choses que si nous travaillons, que nous rêvons et que nous bâtissons ensemble – pour changer.

Et il sait que les Ontariennes et Ontariens se montreront à la mesure du défi qui se pose.

III. PLACE AUX CHANGEMENTS RÉELS ET POSITIFS

Ce défi va ralentir le rythme des changements prévus.

Mais votre nouveau gouvernement apportera ces changements.

Les changements ont déjà commencé et ils se poursuivront pendant la présente session de l'Assemblée législative.

Ils seront graduels et pratiques, et ils resteront dans les limites de nos moyens.

Ils auront un impact réel et positif sur la vie des Ontariennes et Ontariens.

Ils témoigneront de leurs valeurs et de leurs priorités.

L'excellence pour tous et toutes dans le secteur de l'éducation publique

L'excellence dans le secteur de l'éducation publique restera la grande priorité de votre nouveau gouvernement.

Son objectif est de faire de l'éducation publique de l'Ontario la meilleure éducation du monde.

Le travail de base à effectuer pour atteindre ensemble cet objectif sera défini au cours de la présente session.

Votre nouveau gouvernement respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris de proposer une loi visant à annuler le crédit d'impôt accordé de façon irréflectie aux parents qui envoient leurs enfants à l'école privée, crédit qui détourne les fonds de l'éducation publique et sape les espoirs d'amélioration dans ce secteur.

Il respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris d'apporter la stabilité et la paix à un système livré depuis trop longtemps à la confusion.

Il se propose d'établir un véritable partenariat avec les conseils scolaires, les directrices et directeurs d'école, le personnel enseignant, le public et, ce qui est le plus important, les parents et les élèves de la province.

Votre nouveau gouvernement travaillera avec les écoles pour veiller à ce que les enfants améliorent sérieusement leurs compétences en lecture, en écriture et en mathématiques.

Il respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris de rendre les écoles plus sécuritaires.

Les conseils d'école seront invités à procéder à des vérifications de la sécurité pour évaluer la nécessité de renforcements tels que la pose de caméras de surveillance à l'entrée des bâtiments pour décourager les intrus.

Un service provincial d'assistance téléphonique en cas d'intimidation sera établi, et des programmes de lutte contre l'intimidation seront mis en place dans toutes les écoles.

Pour renforcer l'éducation des élèves, les collectivités seront invitées à participer à la redéfinition, au sein de leur conseil scolaire, des valeurs civiques sur lesquelles fonder le nouveau programme de formation du caractère.

Votre nouveau gouvernement traitera les éducatrices et éducateurs avec le respect qu'ils méritent, eux qui, après la famille, ont l'influence la plus marquée sur l'avenir de nos enfants et de notre province.

Le premier ministre instituera le « Prix du premier ministre pour l'excellence en enseignement » pour honorer les membres exceptionnels du personnel enseignant et souligner le travail qu'ils font pour leurs élèves.

De nouveaux programmes visant à assurer l'excellence de l'enseignement – conçus en collaboration avec un Ordre des enseignantes et des enseignants de l'Ontario renouvelé – remplaceront l'onéreux et inutile programme d'évaluation du personnel enseignant.

Les écoles appartiennent aux parents, aux enfants ainsi qu'aux collectivités où ils vivent et étudient.

C'est pourquoi votre gouvernement a déjà respecté l'engagement qu'il a pris de restaurer le principe de la démocratie locale dans les conseils scolaires.

Votre gouvernement reconnaît l'urgente nécessité d'adopter une stratégie en matière d'éducation en français, et il va immédiatement constituer un groupe de travail chargé de veiller à ce que tous les enfants de l'Ontario reçoivent une excellente éducation.

Le chemin vers une société meilleure et une économie prospère passe par nos écoles publiques.

Votre nouveau gouvernement estime que ce chemin est depuis trop longtemps miné par les conflits, les compressions budgétaires et le chaos.

Il est temps d'entrer dans une ère nouvelle marquée par la coopération, la créativité et un engagement réel à l'égard du bien de nos enfants.

En s'attaquant au déficit dont il a hérité, votre nouveau gouvernement consolidera les assises de son plan en matière d'éducation, L'excellence pour tous et toutes, qui prévoit une réduction de la taille des classes dans les premières années d'études ainsi qu'un prolongement de la scolarité obligatoire jusqu'à 18 ans et une stratégie Meilleur départ pour l'éducation de la petite enfance.

Les soins de santé qu'il nous faut

L'engagement de l'Ontario envers l'éducation publique n'a d'égal que son engagement envers le régime d'assurance-santé.

La population de l'Ontario comprend que notre système universel d'assurance-santé est une source de force pour nous tous.

Elle veut un système qui soit à la mesure de nos moyens – mais qui laisse place à la compassion.

Et c'est ainsi que fonctionne notre régime d'assurance-santé.

La commission Romanow a confirmé que les Canadiennes et Canadiens ne veulent pas d'un système de santé pour les riches, capables de s'acheter les premières places, et d'un système pour les autres, forcés de faire la queue et d'attendre leur tour.

En fait, votre nouveau gouvernement conclura de nouvelles ententes pour l'installation d'hôpitaux publics à Brampton et Ottawa, ce qui évitera que ces emplacements ne soient utilisés à des fins privées.

Il respectera sa promesse de proposer une loi sur l'engagement d'assurer l'avenir de l'assurance-santé.

Si elle est adoptée, cette loi permettra de protéger et d'améliorer le système de santé publique universel en rendant illégal en Ontario un système à deux vitesses qui accepte que l'on paie pour se retrouver en tête de ligne.

Si elle est adoptée, la loi consacrera dans la législation provinciale les cinq principes du régime d'assurance-santé : universalité, transférabilité, intégralité, gestion publique et accessibilité.

Et elle en établira un sixième : l'imputabilité.

Chaque fois qu'un dollar affecté aux soins de santé est gaspillé, un patient attend. Chaque fois qu'un dollar affecté aux soins de santé est dépensé judicieusement, un patient y gagne.

Votre nouveau gouvernement proposera une loi pour respecter l'engagement qu'il a pris de conférer au vérificateur provincial le pouvoir d'examiner la façon dont les organismes des secteurs de l'éducation et de la santé bénéficiant de paiements de transfert, y compris les hôpitaux et les autres organisations de soins de santé, dépensent les fonds publics.

Il proposera aussi des changements pour donner au médecin hygiéniste en chef l'autonomie dont il a besoin pour protéger la population ontarienne.

Enfin, il proposera une loi pour créer un nouveau conseil de la qualité des services de santé.

Ce conseil indépendant rendra compte directement à la population du fonctionnement du système de santé – et des mesures que le gouvernement prendra pour améliorer le système.

Votre nouveau gouvernement est conscient qu'il ne peut pas s'attendre à ce que les autres respectent des normes élevées s'il ne les respecte pas lui-même.

Il respecte l'engagement qu'il a pris de participer avec d'autres gouvernements à la constitution d'un conseil national de la santé.

Il respecte aussi l'engagement qu'il a pris de travailler de façon concertée avec le gouvernement fédéral dans le domaine de la santé afin d'agir dans l'intérêt de la population ontarienne.

Cette nouvelle façon de faire remporte déjà du succès. Par exemple, l'Ontario recevra des crédits supplémentaires au chapitre de la santé, et le gouvernement fédéral s'est engagé cette semaine à couvrir la moitié des dépenses réelles de santé liées au SRAS. Ce sont là d'excellentes nouvelles, mais il reste encore beaucoup à faire. Votre nouveau gouvernement continuera de collaborer avec le gouvernement fédéral pour améliorer le système de santé au lieu de se contenter de jeter le blâme sur les autres.

Votre nouveau gouvernement comprend que l'argent – ou une loi – ne peuvent, à eux seuls, sauver notre régime d'assurance-santé. Il faut apporter des changements réels et positifs au système, en commençant par les soins primaires.

Il respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris d'améliorer les soins primaires en créant des équipes de santé familiale composées de professionnels de la santé qui auront pour mission de protéger et de promouvoir la santé des Ontariennes et Ontariens.

Ces équipes veilleront aussi, d'une part, à ce que les malades reçoivent plus près de chez eux les soins dont ils ont besoin et, d'autre part, à ce que les fonds affectés aux soins de santé soient dépensés judicieusement.

Votre nouveau gouvernement comprend que la promotion de la santé est tout aussi importante que le traitement des maladies.

Il augmentera le prix des cigarettes afin d'empêcher les jeunes de commencer à fumer, et il interdira d'ici trois ans la consommation de tabac dans les endroits publics et les lieux de travail de l'Ontario.

À l'instar du système d'éducation publique, le régime d'assurance-santé est à la croisée des chemins. Les Ontariennes et Ontariens ont indiqué à votre nouveau gouvernement la direction à prendre. C'est celle qui vise la protection et l'amélioration du système universel d'assurance-santé.

En s'attaquant au déficit dont il a hérité, votre nouveau gouvernement consolidera les assises de son plan Les soins de santé qu'il nous faut, qui prévoit l'augmentation du nombre de médecins de famille, d'infirmières et d'infirmiers, et de lits d'hôpital.

Une économie qui réalise son potentiel

L'économie de l'Ontario est vigoureuse et dynamique, mais elle fait face à des défis, tant de l'étranger que de l'intérieur.

D'autres compétences territoriales sont en train de prendre des mesures énergiques pour investir dans la formation d'une main-d'oeuvre capable d'attirer le plus de capitaux possible et les meilleurs emplois qui soient.

En fait, la situation financière même de la province menace de freiner notre économie, car des sommes supplémentaires doivent être affectées au service de la dette, ce qui limite notre capacité de mieux former notre main-d'oeuvre et d'accroître notre prospérité.

Les collèges et les universités de l'Ontario, de même que les programmes de formation professionnelle, sont indispensables à la prospérité de la province.

Votre nouveau gouvernement instaurera un plan à long terme visant à assurer la qualité de l'éducation supérieure qui sera dispensée aux générations à venir, de même que son accessibilité.

Les frais de scolarité seront gelés sur une période de deux ans, pendant la mise en oeuvre de ce plan.

Votre nouveau gouvernement croit que la diversité de notre province est une incroyable source de dynamisme.

Dans cette perspective, il collaborera avec le gouvernement fédéral pour finaliser des ententes en matière d'immigration et de développement de la main-d'oeuvre.

Il respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris de veiller à ce que les gens de métier et les professionnels hautement qualifiés formés à l'étranger puissent travailler dans leur domaine ici, dans la province où ils ont choisi de s'établir.

Votre nouveau gouvernement rendra hommage aux entrepreneurs qui travaillent dur, créent de l'emploi et attirent des capitaux. Il appuiera leurs efforts en Ontario et à l'étranger.

Il prendra des mesures pour appuyer et protéger les agriculteurs, ces travailleurs inlassables, et pour promouvoir leurs produits en assurant la salubrité des aliments.

De plus, il prendra les mesures nécessaires pour veiller à ce que la viande mise en marché soit saine.

Pour aider toutes nos entreprises à fonctionner dans un climat stable, votre nouveau gouvernement assurera une distribution d'électricité fiable et abordable.

Pour accroître l'alimentation en électricité et trouver de nouvelles sources d'électricité, il instaurera dès maintenant un plan nouveau et responsable pour l'établissement des tarifs.

Il donnera aux entreprises et aux familles de l'Ontario les renseignements et les outils dont elles ont besoin pour conserver l'électricité – et épargner de l'argent.

Les échanges commerciaux avec les autres provinces et les pays étrangers, en particulier les États-Unis, sont d'une importance capitale, car notre économie en est vraiment tributaire.

Votre nouveau gouvernement est déjà entré en pourparlers avec d'autres provinces afin de supprimer les obstacles aux échanges interprovinciaux. Il collaborera aussi avec le gouvernement fédéral et divers États américains pour assurer la sûreté et l'efficacité de nos frontières et favoriser le commerce.

Votre nouveau gouvernement s'est déjà engagé à aider les familles qui ont de la difficulté à joindre les deux bouts avant qu'elles ne perdent tout espoir. Il respectera cet engagement.

Pour la première fois en huit ans, le salaire minimum sera majoré.

Le gouvernement proposera aussi des mesures législatives pour mettre fin à la semaine de travail de 60 heures.

Et il interviendra dans le domaine de l'assurance-automobile.

Il a déjà pris des mesures pour interdire toute nouvelle demande d'augmentation des taux d'assurance automobile et il cherchera désormais à diminuer ces taux.

Votre nouveau gouvernement sait que, si l'Ontario veut réussir dans une économie mondiale de plus en plus concurrentielle, il doit compter sur la participation optimale de tous les Ontariens et de toutes les Ontariennes, des plus jeunes aux plus âgés.

Votre nouveau gouvernement respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris de traiter les personnes âgées avec respect et dignité. Il commencera par adopter des normes élevées à l'égard des maisons de soins infirmiers.

Il collaborera aussi avec les personnes handicapées à l'élaboration d'une importante loi qui leur permettra de participer pleinement à l'édification d'un Ontario plus fort.

Des collectivités fortes

Le dynamisme de notre province est également fonction du dynamisme de nos collectivités.

Et pourtant, nos collectivités sont loin de réaliser tout leur potentiel.

La population veut que le gouvernement améliore la qualité de l'air, assure la salubrité de l'eau et préserve les espaces verts.

Elle veut que les collectivités deviennent plus agréables, plus sécuritaires et plus dynamiques.

Votre nouveau gouvernement renforcera nos collectivités et collaborera avec les autres pouvoirs publics à l'élaboration d'une nouvelle loi municipale.

Il respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris de proposer une loi qui créera une ceinture verte permanente dans la région du Golden Horseshoe, et il constituera une nouvelle commission qui devra la protéger.

Il proposera une loi pour mettre sur pied une régie des transports de la région du grand Toronto qui devra améliorer les transports en commun, réduire l'engorgement routier et contribuer à purifier l'air que nous respirons.

Votre nouveau gouvernement respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris d'interdire l'élimination des boues toxiques non traitées.

Il respectera aussi l'engagement qu'il a pris de faire cesser l'exportation de nos précieuses ressources en eaux douces.

Enfin, il respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris de donner suite aux recommandations du rapport O'Connor. Il commencera par engager un nombre supplémentaire d'inspecteurs de l'eau et il prendra des mesures pour accroître la protection de notre eau potable à la source.

Votre nouveau gouvernement interviendra bientôt pour remplacer les plus gros pollueurs en fermant graduellement les centrales électriques alimentées au charbon.

Votre nouveau gouvernement encouragera la croissance intelligente des collectivités.

Il proposera une loi qui imprimera une nouvelle orientation à la Commission des affaires municipales de l'Ontario axée sur la promotion de la croissance durable, et non sur l'étalement urbain.

Il tiendra l'engagement qu'il a pris d'intensifier la croissance dans nos villes grâce au réaménagement des friches contaminées.

Votre nouveau gouvernement rendra nos collectivités plus sécuritaires.

Des mesures supplémentaires seront prises pour protéger les femmes et les enfants contre la violence familiale en améliorant, par exemple, le réseau de refuges de deuxième étape pour les victimes.

Votre nouveau gouvernement collaborera avec le gouvernement fédéral pour modifier le Code criminel afin que les personnes accusées d'agression aient plus de difficulté à obtenir leur liberté sous caution.

Il collaborera avec les forces de police pour mettre au point des évaluations de risques à l'égard des personnes accusées de violence familiale.

Les parents défaillants seront tenus de s'acquitter de leurs obligations alimentaires.

Votre nouveau gouvernement prendra de nouvelles mesures pour que les enfants reçoivent ce dont ils ont besoin et qui leur est dû.

Les femmes enceintes bénéficiaires de l'aide sociale recevront les suppléments nutritifs dont elles ont besoin.

Votre nouveau gouvernement proposera une loi pour protéger les locataires grâce à des mesures réelles de contrôle des loyers.

Le gouvernement félicite les dirigeants municipaux nouvellement élus en Ontario et les invite à travailler en partenariat avec lui.

Il respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris de proposer une loi qui permettra au Nord de mieux se faire entendre grâce au maintien de 11 députés représentant cette région.

Votre nouveau gouvernement créera des conseils de développement du Nord qui serviront de liens directs entre les collectivités de cette partie de la province et le ministre du Développement du Nord.

Ces conseils auront notamment pour mission, dès le début de leur mandat, de trouver des façons d'encourager les jeunes du Nord à rester dans cette région.

Votre nouveau gouvernement respectera l'engagement qu'il a pris de gouverner pour toutes les Ontariennes et tous les Ontariens, ceux des villes et des villages, ceux du Nord et du Sud.

La population a dit qu'elle ne voulait pas que la province soit divisée selon les régions ou les indicatifs régionaux.

Elle veut bâtir une province dynamique en bâtissant des collectivités dynamiques. En s'attaquant au déficit dont il a hérité, votre nouveau gouvernement consolidera les assises de son plan Créer des communautés fortes, qui prévoit l'amélioration du transport en commun et la construction d'un plus grand nombre de logements à prix abordable.

Un gouvernement qui travaille pour vous

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens veulent un gouvernement qui travaille pour eux.

Votre nouveau gouvernement s'est engagé à faire en sorte que l'administration publique soit ouverte, honnête et transparente.

Il respecte cet engagement.

Au cours de la présente session, il proposera la plus ambitieuse loi en matière de renouveau démocratique jamais déposée en Ontario.

Cette loi permettra aux Ontariennes et Ontariens de se faire entendre à Queen's Park et accroîtra la transparence et la responsabilité du secteur public tout entier, ce qui est essentiel à la sauvegarde des services publics.

Votre nouveau gouvernement a déjà nommé un ministre responsable du Renouveau démocratique.

Il a donné à chaque député du parti au pouvoir un rôle au sein des puissants comités du Conseil des ministres qui participent à l'orientation des politiques gouvernementales.

Dans les mois à venir, le nouveau gouvernement donnera à tous les députés la possibilité d'intervenir encore plus au nom de leurs électeurs.

Nous nous attendons à ce que tous les ministres de la Couronne assistent régulièrement à la période des questions et répondent de leurs décisions et de leurs actions devant l'Assemblée législative.

Le budget sera déposé au printemps dans la présente enceinte. Tous les budgets le seront. Et tous refléteront les souhaits et les désirs de la population.

Les citoyennes et citoyens de notre province sont mieux informés que jamais. Votre nouveau gouvernement leur demandera de lui communiquer leurs idées et de lui décrire la façon dont il pourrait mieux travailler pour eux.

L'Ontario a la chance de pouvoir compter sur une fonction publique insurpassable. Votre nouveau gouvernement demandera aux fonctionnaires de lui communiquer leurs idées et de lui dire de quelle façon il pourrait mieux servir la population.

IV. L'ENVIE DU MONDE

Votre nouveau gouvernement prendra les mesures qui s'imposent.

Il s'attaquera de façon responsable au déficit de 5,6 milliards de dollars dont il a hérité, et il y travaillera sans relâche.

Il a une vision réaliste, mais optimiste, de la situation.

Votre nouveau gouvernement sait ce qu'il a à faire.

Il sera honnête avec la population et ne lui cachera pas les défis auxquels il fait face.

Il sera assez responsable pour relever ces défis, au lieu de les fuir, de les dissimuler ou de les transmettre à nos enfants et à nos petits-enfants.

Il travaillera aussi fort que les citoyennes et citoyens qu'il a le privilège de servir.

Il fera preuve de créativité et assainira les finances de la province d'une façon compatible avec les valeurs de la population.

Votre nouveau gouvernement remplira son mandat afin d'offrir des changements réels et positifs à la population de l'Ontario.

Un artisan a gravé trois mots dans les boiseries qui décorent la section réservée au gouvernement de la magnifique salle dans laquelle nous nous trouvons.

Ces trois mots signifient: intégrité, industrie et intelligence.

N'oublions pas ces mots au moment où nous abordons un nouveau chapitre de l'histoire de la province.

Votre nouveau gouvernement croit fermement que:

Nous pouvons offrir l'excellence pour tous et toutes dans le secteur de l'éducation publique.

Nous pouvons offrir les soins de santé dont nous avons besoin.

Nous pouvons contribuer au dynamisme des collectivités.

Nous pouvons changer la façon dont le gouvernement fonctionne.

Nous pouvons assurer la prospérité de notre économie et aider ainsi toutes les Ontariennes et tous les Ontariens à réaliser pleinement leur potentiel...

Si nous sommes assez intègres pour dire à la population toute la vérité sur les défis que nous devons relever.

Si nous sommes assez industriels pour travailler aussi fort que les citoyennes et citoyens que nous avons le privilège de servir.

Si nous sommes assez intelligents pour nous rendre compte que nous ne pouvons gouverner la province que si nous écoutons la population.

Ensemble, nous pourrions alors faire en sorte que l'Ontario suscite de nouveau l'envie du monde entier.

Au travail!

His Honour was then pleased to retire.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 2003JEUDI 27 NOVEMBRE 2003*NINTH DAY*NEUVIÈME JOUR*PRAYERS*PRIÈRES*1:30 P.M.*13 H 30

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg to inform the House that I have today laid upon the Table the 2002-2003 Annual Report of the Environmental Commissioner of Ontario (Sessional Paper No. 13).

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On November 24, 2003, the member for Niagara Centre (Mr. Kormos) rose on a point of order concerning the seating arrangements in the Chamber. The member objected that the seating plan places the Rump -- that is, the group of government members who cannot be accommodated in the seats to the Speaker's right -- to the Speaker's left, between the members of the Official Opposition and the 7 members who are not affiliated with a recognized party. According to the member, the Rump should have been placed at either end of the left side of the Chamber, with a view to ensuring that all Opposition members were seated as a bloc as opposed to being physically separated by the Rump. The Opposition House Leader (Mr. Runciman) and the Government House Leader (Mr. Duncan) also spoke to this matter.

On November 25, 2003, the member for Niagara Centre rose on a separate, but related point of order. He objected to the characterization of himself and 6 other members not affiliated with a recognized party as Independents, and asked that the group be referred to as members of the New Democratic Party. The Government House Leader and the member for Nepean-Carleton (Mr. Baird) also spoke to this matter.

I have had an opportunity to reflect on what members said, and to review the parliamentary precedents and authorities in Ontario and other parliamentary jurisdictions.

In response to the first point of order, let me say that, for many decades in this Chamber and in most other parliamentary jurisdictions, the Whips of the recognized parties have made the initial seating assignments for members of their respective parties shortly before the commencement of the first session of a new Parliament; the Speaker has then assigned the seats for any other members. As the member for Niagara Centre rightly points out, however, the Speaker has the final say over the seating plan.

Centre rightly points out, however, the Speaker has the final say over the seating plan.

In the case at hand, it should be noted that shortly before the commencement of the first session of this Parliament, the Speaker approved the current seating plan, after following the normal consultative process. The question before me now is whether there is a valid reason why that plan should be altered.

At this point in my ruling, I want to make the following observations:-

- First, in light of what I have already indicated about how seating assignments in this Chamber and the Chambers of other parliamentary jurisdictions are traditionally made, the issue is less the placement of the Rump than the placement of members who are not members of a recognized party.
- Second, even if the issue was the placement of the Rump, it is not at all self-evident that a Rump can never physically divide Opposition members. In fact, right now, there are three Canadian parliamentary jurisdictions -- the Senate of Canada, the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia, and the National Assembly of Quebec -- where members not affiliated with a recognized party are not assigned seats that are physically adjacent to other Opposition members: in each case, the Rump physically separates such members from other Opposition members.
- Third, references to historical seating arrangements in this Chamber have limited relevance to today's circumstances because they pre-date amendments made to the Standing Orders and the Legislative Assembly Act since the 1970s. Those amendments have had the effect of enhancing the role of parties of a certain size in House procedures and House administration. In previous Parliaments, the member for Niagara Centre and his colleagues have benefited from those amendments. In the current Parliament, they do not benefit from these provisions. Ultimately, this state of affairs was not dictated by any member of this House, but rather by the outcome of the most recent general election.
- Fourth, before the current seating plan was approved by the Speaker, members not affiliated with any of the recognized parties were allowed to be seated together in one bloc of seats; they were allowed to decide among themselves where in that bloc they wanted to sit; and they requested and were allowed some seats in the front row as opposed to being placed in the back row.
- Fifth, no member is disadvantaged by virtue of the seat that the member has in this Chamber. In other words, every seat in this Chamber is a good seat.
- And finally, the current seating plan does not prevent any Opposition member from collaborating with and consulting with another Opposition member.

In light of these observations, I am ruling that the current seating plan appears to be a fair and reasonable accommodation between the rights of the majority and the rights of the minority.

As for the second point of order, the member for Niagara Centre and his 6 colleagues object to being referred to as "Independents", the traditional parliamentary moniker for members not affiliated with a recognized party. According to the member, they should be referred to as members of the "New Democratic Party".

I do not take issue with the member that he and 6 other members of this House are members of the same political party. However, they are not members of a "recognized party" within the meaning of the Legislative Assembly Act and the Standing Orders. It takes at least 8 members to be a recognized party, and they are only 7. The Speaker did not create that requirement; the Legislature and the House (as the case may be) did, and only they can change it.

Having said this, I note that Speaker Parent of the Canadian House of Commons, in his June 16, 1994 ruling, accommodated those members who were not affiliated with a recognized party by allowing the members of one political group to be seated near each other and to be identified by their group's traditional name, by allowing the members of another political group to be seated near each other and to be identified by their group's traditional name, and by then assigning other Independent members the remaining seats according to their seniority. In keeping with the thrust of that ruling, I too am able to make some accommodation, and so I am ruling that, in this Chamber, the member for Niagara Centre and the other 6 members not affiliated with a recognized party may collectively be referred to as the "Third Party". Further, since party identification is permissible in certain Assembly print and electronic publications, such as Hansard and ONT-PARL, they may be referred to as the "New Democratic Party" in those publications in accordance with usual practice and policy.

However, I want to be absolutely clear that this accommodation does not confer any substantive rights -- administrative, financial, procedural, or otherwise -- beyond those rights that an Independent member already has. (For example, this ruling does not confer on any member of the Third Party any status as Leader, House Leader or Whip.) In other words, the Third Party is still not a recognized party within the meaning of the Standing Orders and the Legislative Assembly Act. As I have said, only the House and the Legislature has the authority to alter the threshold needed for recognized party status.

I thank the member for Niagara Centre, the Government House leader, the Opposition House Leader, and the member for Nepean-Carleton for their thoughtful and helpful submissions.

On a point of order being raised, the Speaker recessed the House for 20 minutes.

On his return, the Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

I would like to thank the Member for Niagara Centre, the Member for Nepean-Carleton and the Government House Leader for their submissions with respect to the orderliness of Government Notice of Motion number 13.

Let me say at the outset that the motion in question cannot be styled as a time allocation motion within the meaning of our Standing Orders. Standing Order 46 sets out the criteria under which an item of business is eligible to be subject to a time allocation motion, and not all of the items being dealt with in the Government notice of motion meet those criteria.

In any case, the motion on the Order Paper does not purport to be a time allocation motion at all under our rules as it is not to be moved under Standing Order 46. However, a question to be decided is whether a time allocation motion under Standing Order 46 is the only vehicle that exists to order House business.

When faced with a similar situation in which no Standing Order existed to provide for the timetabling of House business, Speaker Edighoffer ruled as follows on January 23, 1989, as the Member for Nepean-Carleton pointed out in his submission: "[t]he House has adopted the Standing Orders which are the permanent rules for the guiding and the control of the House in the conduct of its business. The Standing Orders do not form a complete code of procedure for the House to discharge its functions. They may be supplemented from time to time by Sessional Orders or special resolutions to facilitate the progress of business through the House. The Standing Orders are not safeguarded by any special procedure against amendment, repeal or suspension. They are passed by the House by a simple majority and may be altered, supplemented or deleted by a simple resolution in the same way."

Speaker Edighoffer went on to note that, in 1988 in the Canadian House of Commons, Speaker Fraser ruled that it is always in order for such a motion seeking to set out a special procedure to be introduced as it is always in order for the House to make the appropriate decisions relating to its procedures.

I concur with Speakers Edighoffer and Fraser. I do not consider it fatal to the orderliness of a motion that it sets out a novel procedure for which no specific Standing Order provision exists.

Where such a motion is brought before the House, it must be considered a substantive motion and subject to the rules which govern such motions. Standing Order 2 sets out these requirements in the definition of "substantive motion", as follows: "Substantive motion means a motion that is not incidental or supplementary to any other business of the House, but is a self-contained proposal capable of expressing a decision of the House. Examples of such motions are: the motion for an Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne, the Budget motion, want of confidence motions on allotted days, resolutions and motions for returns or addresses. Such motions require notice and must be submitted to the Speaker in writing when moved, before being put to the House for debate. No motion shall be prefaced by recitals or preambles."

I am of the view that the motion meets the procedural requirements of Standing Order 2. The motion before us is therefore a substantive government motion, not governed by debate under Standing Order 46.

Is the motion otherwise, though, abusive of the rights of members? I have considered the following issues in arriving at a decision:-

Debate on this motion is not 'artificially' limited and may continue for quite some length of time, until either (a) all members wishing to speak have done so; (b) the motion itself is time-allocated under Standing Order 46, or (c) a motion for closure is moved and permitted by the Speaker. Therefore, the threshold for debate time on this motion may be more extensive than a pure time allocation motion.

Further, in reviewing the provision for debate time on the 6 items, I note they are at least as generous as what recent history in this Legislature, under its current rules, suggests would occur separately on each of the items in the absence of time allocation motions or other procedures to shorten debate. If time allocation under Standing Order 46 is somehow the standard, or threshold, or litmus test if you will, then this motion is not lacking in that regard.

The motion provides one sessional day of debate on an Opposition Day motion, exactly what would occur otherwise under Standing Order 42 (indeed, the motion is making provision for an Opposition Day debate to occur when the Standing Orders otherwise proscribe such an event).

The motion also provides for one day of debate on 2 other motions - one providing for the appointment of the Deputy Speaker and the other presiding officers of the House, and one simply providing for an Order to be placed on the Orders and Notices Paper to provide for a debate on an Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne. In my experience, and as the records indicate, these motions have typically been seen as pro forma housekeeping matters that have been agreed to without any debate at all. The timetabling motion therefore provides for more debate time on these 2 motions than has historically been used.

Finally, the representations made on this point of order convinced me that there is obvious support among the vast majority of members of this House for proceeding this way, this time. The 2 recognized Parties have indicated support for proceeding this way, and the fact that this support comes from both sides of the House is a very significant element in helping me to arrive at a decision in this matter. While I must take into account the rights and the will of the minority, so must the rights and will of the majority bear at least equal weight in my consideration.

Therefore, in the circumstances before us at this time, and for the reasons stated above, I find the motion to be in order.

A debate arose and after some time, Mr. Kormos moved the adjournment of the debate, which motion was lost on the following division:-

TWENTY-NINTH DAY

PRAYERS

1:30 P.M.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

I have had an opportunity to reflect on the submissions that were made yesterday concerning developments in the Standing Committee on Finance and Economic Affairs in respect of its consideration of Bill 5, An Act to temporarily freeze automobile insurance rates for private passenger vehicles and to provide for the review and regulation of risk classification systems and automobile insurance rates for private passenger vehicles.

MERCREDI 17 DÉCEMBRE 2003

VINGT-NEUVIÈME JOUR

PRIÈRES

13 H 30

While our practice is that matters that arise in committee should be considered in and disposed of by that committee, I appreciate that the matter before this particular committee, and the committee proceedings itself, were the subject of a December 4, 2003 Order of the House.

The committee met on the morning of December 15, 2003. It convened again that afternoon and in the course of that meeting it adjourned for lack of quorum. In reviewing the December 4, 2003 order of this House, I note that it directs the committee to meet for 2 days to consider Bill 5. I want to point out here that committee meeting days are differently defined and not necessarily equivalent to "sessional days". In fact, in the next section of the House Order the permissive form "may" is used in setting out the times for the committee to meet. Thus, meeting for any amount of time within the timeframe established for those two days has the committee acting in compliance with the House Order. That it did not meet yesterday afternoon, does not detract from the fact that it met on that day.

Clearly, adjourning for lack of quorum was an unexpected and less than favourable outcome for this committee. It does not however in any way abrogate the motion passed by this House on December 4, 2003.

Having said that, I want to impress upon all Members that committee work is a fundamentally important component of our Parliamentary process. A working committee system affords an opportunity for Members to become familiar with issues and to understand more fully the impact of proposed policy decisions. Perhaps more importantly, it provides an essential liaison between we in this place and the people we serve. All Members should consider carefully their committee obligations and be vigilant about living up to them.

I wish to thank the members who spoke to this matter for their submissions.

REPORTS BY COMMITTEES

Mr. Hoy from the Standing Committee on Finance and Economic Affairs presented the Committee's report as follows and moved its adoption:-

Your Committee begs to report the following Bill without amendment:-

Bill 5, An Act to temporarily freeze automobile insurance rates for private passenger vehicles and to provide for the review and regulation of risk classification systems and automobile insurance rates for private passenger vehicles.

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg the indulgence of the House to allow me to address you briefly on the matter of the presiding role of the Speaker.

Let me first say that I have been getting tremendous co-operation from all Members in my quest to improve decorum in this House, and I greatly appreciate it.

As a long-serving parliamentarian and a keen observer of the proceedings of this House, I have arrived at certain opinions with respect to order and decorum and effective methods of preserving it.

While the Speaker is the servant of the House, he also has the delicate responsibility of maintaining order in such a way as to facilitate the business of the House while respecting the rights of all Members.

As Erskine May notes, "it is absolutely necessary that the Speaker should be invested with authority to repress disorder and to give effect promptly and decisively to the rules and orders of the House." In this regard, the Speaker has significant powers. Among these is the power to "name" a member. It is my view that "naming" is the most severe disciplinary tool at my disposal and one that should be reserved and applied as a last resort. It should be held, not only by the Speaker, but by the House itself, as a profoundly serious consequence of disregard for the authority of the Chair.

It is my opinion that the Chair has exercised the "naming" option so frequently in recent years that its effectiveness has been eroded. In fact, at times it has become a method of demonstration, even garnering applause from Members themselves. When a Member is named, it should be understood that the Speaker is exercising that option only as a last resort and that the infraction is one that is an affront not just to the Chair but to this institution as well.

Naming therefore has its unfortunate place, but in somewhat less serious circumstances, where the firm intervention of the Speaker is nevertheless still required, I see much merit in the approach used occasionally by Speakers of this House, and more frequently by Speakers of the Canadian House of Commons, as set out in Marleau and Montpetit's House of Commons Procedure and Practice, as follows:

"If the Speaker has found it necessary to intervene in order to call a Member to order, he or she may then choose to recognize another Member, thus declining to give the floor back to the offending Member. On occasion, a Member who is called to order by the Speaker may not immediately comply with the Speaker's instructions; in such a case, the Speaker has given the Member time to reflect on his or her position and upon the duty of the Chair, exercising in the meantime the prerogative of the Chair not to "see" the Member if he or she should rise to be recognized."

In my view, these other options, when applied judiciously, can be more effective methods by which to preserve order and decorum.

Recently, I have employed these methods in this House and it is my intention to continue to do so. "Naming" will not be my first inclination when addressing instances of disorder. Instead, if Members will not heed my requests, I may just move on to another Member, as the House witnessed last week. In other cases, I may simply decline to recognize the offending Member.

In clarifying this matter, my purpose is to be as effective, balanced and fair as possible in my presiding role.

Finally, I want to say that in hindsight I recognize that it may have been prudent of me to formally advise you of my intent at the outset, and I will endeavour to do so in the future.

M. Sergio.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Tuesday, April 20, 2004, the Member for Erie-Lincoln (Mr. Hudak) rose on a question of privilege concerning an incident that occurred immediately after the adjournment of the House on Wednesday, April 14.

As Members well know, just prior to the adjournment of the House on April 14, the Deputy Speaker was presiding over a recorded vote on a motion of non-confidence in the government. The atmosphere in the House at the time of the vote was raucous, and immediately after the vote the Deputy Speaker made a statement to the House on the situation. However, emotions continued to run high after the ensuing adjournment of the House. According to the Member for Erie-Lincoln, it was at this time that the Deputy Speaker, who was in the undergallery on his way out of the Chamber, directed gestures and facial expressions toward him. The Member was of the view that these gestures and expressions amounted to a contempt of the House, and so he asked the Speaker to rule that a prima facie case of contempt exists.

The Member for Haldimand-Norfolk-Brant (Mr. Barrett), the Member for Niagara Centre (Mr. Kormos), and the Government House Leader (Mr. Duncan) also spoke to this matter.

Then, on April 22, the Member for Essex, during a point of personal explanation, indicated to the House his position that what he was attempting to do at the time in question was to invite the Member for Erie-Lincoln behind the dais to discuss what had occurred during the vote that had just taken place.

I have had an opportunity to reflect on this matter, and I am now ready to rule. Since it is not appropriate to question the conduct, suitability or impartiality of the Chair on a point of privilege – which the Member for Erie-Lincoln has acknowledged – I will address only the contempt issue in this ruling.

Erskine May defines contempt in the following terms (at pages 108, 117, and 120 of the 22nd edition):

Generally speaking, any act or omission which obstructs or impedes either House of Parliament in the performance of its functions, or which obstructs or impedes any Member or officer of such House in the discharge of his duty, or which has a tendency, directly or indirectly, to produce such results may be treated as a contempt even though there is no precedent of the offence. It is therefore impossible to list every act which might be considered to amount to a contempt, the power to punish for such an offence being of its nature discretionary....

Indignities offered to the House by words spoken or writings published reflecting on its character or proceedings have been punished by both the Lords and the Commons upon the principle that such acts tend to obstruct the Houses in the performance of their functions by diminishing the respect due to them.

Other acts besides words spoken or writings published reflecting upon either House or its proceedings which, though they do not tend directly to obstruct or impede either House in the performance of its functions, yet have a tendency to produce this result indirectly by bringing such House into odium, contempt or ridicule or by lowering its authority may constitute contempts.

That is what Erskine May says on contempt.

In our own House, there have been several occasions on which a Member has alleged that another Member threatened or intimidated that Member. For example, on December 5, 2000, a question of privilege was raised concerning an allegedly threatening and intimidating remark made by a minister to another Member, while the minister was leaving his seat in the Chamber. The Acting Speaker ruled (at page 6103 of the Hansard for that day) as follows:

I understand there's a difference of opinion here as to what was and what wasn't said. None of what has been alleged to be said is on the record so we don't have the privileges of being able to take a look at that. I would ask all honourable Members in this place to respect the privilege of each other, as we are expected to do or are wont to do or are understood to be doing when we're sent here by the electorate, and that in future we will act accordingly.

Later the same day, a Member rose on a point of order to indicate that, during a recess for grave disorder, another Member had crossed the floor and approached him at his desk in a physically intimidating and threatening manner. The Acting Speaker ruled (at page 6123 of the Hansard for that day) as follows:

[W]hile all that happened, the House was in recess and I wasn't here. I have no reason to doubt the scenario you've painted. However, I would expect all Members in this place, duly elected by their constituents, to assume to be honourable and that they would carry themselves in that manner in this place.

And finally, on October 23, 2001, a point of order was raised concerning a Member's alleged challenge to another Member, as the former was leaving the Chamber at the end of Question Period, to meet him outside the Chamber. The Speaker dealt with the point of order by indicating (at pages 2929 and 2930 of the Hansard for that day) as follows:

I know that occasionally Members do get rather heated in here. I'm sure the Member will agree that the Sergeant at Arms does all he can. In circumstances like this, if Members could realize that we are honourable Members -- and in fact on that particular occasion, it could have been a discussion taken outside. I would ask all Members to act honourably, which I'm sure they will do.

I say to Members of this House that, in a proper case, threatening or intimidating behaviour by a Member against another Member can amount to a contempt of the House. In assessing whether the alleged behaviour in the case at hand establishes a prima facie case of contempt, I have to say that there are different ways to interpret what actually occurred. Indeed, these differences were reflected in the various submissions and statements that were made in the House concerning this question of privilege: what the Member for Erie-Lincoln claims was threatening and intimidating conduct, the Member for Essex claims was an invitation to explain a rule. The competing claims of the honourable Members lead me to the view that, in this case, the Speaker is not in a position to make a preliminary finding as to the nature and intention of the conduct in question. Therefore, I find that a prima facie case of contempt has not been made out.

In closing, I want to thank the Member for Erie-Lincoln, the Member for Haldimand-Norfolk-Brant, the Member for Niagara Centre, the Government House Leader, and the Member for Essex for their thoughtful and helpful contributions on this matter.

13 H 30

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Wednesday, May 5, 2004, the member for Durham (Mr. O'Toole) introduced Bill 75, An Act to amend the Retail Sales Tax Act, which seeks to increase exemptions from a tax. After first reading of the bill, the Government House Leader (Mr. Duncan) asked that the bill be reviewed as to its orderliness.

I have had an opportunity to review Standing Order 56 -- the provision in our Standing Orders that deals with money bills -- together with the relevant parliamentary authorities and precedents.

Marleau and Montpetit's House of Commons Procedure and Practice states (at page 898) that "private Members' bills which reduce taxes, reduce the incidence of a tax, or impose or increase an exemption from taxation are acceptable."

I also note that, in our own House, on December 12, 2002, the Speaker ruled that a bill that would increase exemptions from assessment for senior citizens and disabled persons did not offend Standing Order 56.

In light of these authorities and precedents, I find that Bill 75, which seeks to increase exemptions from a tax, is in order.

I thank the Government House Leader for raising his concern.

And to recognize that Premier McGuinty made a specific campaign promise to, "invest in better nursing home care, providing an additional $6,000 in care for every resident",

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Yesterday, the Member for Toronto Danforth (Ms. Churley) rose on a point of order concerning Ministerial Statements. Specifically, the Member referred to Standing Order 35(c). The Member contended that the statement made by the Minister of the Environment did not correspond with the advance copy of the written statement provided to her and that the inconsistency was substantial in nature, thus impacting on the Member's ability to respond appropriately. The Member was joined in her assertion by the Member for Nickel Belt (Ms. Martel) and the Member for Nepean Carleton (Mr. Baird), both of whom claimed that the inconsistency between written and oral Ministerial Statements had in fact occurred on other occasions. The Government House Leader (Mr. Duncan) also spoke to this point.

It will likely not come as a surprise to Members that this issue has been raised previously in this House. Speaker Edighoffer noted in 1990 that the Speaker does not receive a copy of Ministerial Statements and is therefore unable to follow along. On October 19, 1992, Speaker Warner added to that when he stated the following:

"I would add that, even if the Speaker were required to receive copies of written statements, it would not be her or his responsibility to determine whether a discrepancy is substantial in nature or whether it is an embellishment of no consequence.

"While the powers of the Speaker in this regard are circumscribed, surely it is in keeping with the spirit of the Standing Order that ministers adhere closely to the written text when making statements so as to avoid possible misunderstandings. It may be that on occasion, changing circumstances require that the oral statement differs in some respect from the written statement. In such a situation, I would expect that any minister would wish to advise the House of the departure from the prepared text."

The matter was again raised on June 25, 2001 at which time Speaker Carr concurred with the opinion of the previous Speakers.

I am inclined to agree as well with my predecessors. I do not receive copies of Ministerial Statements and thus am not in a position to determine if the text is followed precisely, and as Speaker Warner said, even if I did receive copies, it would not be up to me to determine whether discrepancies are substantial or inconsequential. Having said that, I would add that I expect Ministers to follow the Standing Orders and that if, of necessity, there are consequential changes to the text of a Ministerial Statement they advise the House at the outset of the statement itself.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Tuesday, June 1, 2004 the Member for Burlington (Mr. Jackson) raised a point of order bringing to the attention of the House his view that the printed Hansard for Thursday, May 20, 2004 contained a correction that caused him to question the degree to which statements made in the House can be altered on their way to the final version of Hansard. Specifically, the Member queried whether there have been any changes in the policy relating to the ability of a Member to alter Hansard.

I want to deal first with the request for an explanation of what the Member for Burlington referred to as "changes in the ability for members to change what is put in Hansard". The very simple answer is that there has been no change. Hansard continues, as it has in the past, to act upon Members' requests only in the case that Hansard has actually made a mistake in the transcription. Hansard does not allow Members to make corrections to their own remarks otherwise.

In the case at hand, it was pointed out that on the date in question the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing (Mr. Gerretsen) used the phrase "What we are doing couldn't be further from the truth", but that in the printed version he is recorded as having said "What the member is suggesting couldn't be further from the truth." I have checked into this matter and find that both phrases were used in succession by the Minister and that Hansard did edit the remarks to remove the first phrase.

The editing practices of our Hansard Branch are derived from Westminster practice and call upon editors to make certain corrections in certain circumstances. Two of the cases where Hansard will edit are: false starts and repetitions; and references that are obvious misstatements understood by all to have been just that. In this case, the statement made by the Minister was judged by the Hansard editors to be: i) a false start after which the Member stopped and rephrased his opening remarks, and ii) a verbal mistake mentally corrected by those listening. The Member for Burlington made reference to the latter of these in his point of order and I would venture to say that the reaction by many Members in the House at the time of the 'misstatement' would confirm it to have been understood as such.

As I am sure Members can appreciate, the editing of Hansard requires the exercise of a great deal of judgement in converting speech to text. This ensures that the text in its final form is clear and comprehensible. Such judgement is exercised regularly according to established policy and practice and without influence from anyone. This, I believe, is as it should be and as all Members would expect. In the case at hand, the Hansard editors employed their usual standards within the bounds of our usual practice. There have been no changes to any of the policies and procedures governing Hansard editing and the House can be assured that Hansard remains as always apolitical and impartial in its reporting.

In closing I want to indicate that next week Members will find on their desks a one page document summarizing Hansard editing conventions which may assist in better understanding what those conventions are.

With unanimous consent, the Routine Proceedings were extended by 15 minutes.

Pendant la période des «Questions orales», le président ordonne une pause de 5 minutes à l'Assemblée.

Upon his return, the Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

Let me start by saying that it is most helpful to me as Speaker if all Members would be cognizant of the decorum in this place both in respect of their actions and their words. Question Period is often in this place somewhat raucous and given the nature of some of the subject matter that is to an extent to be accepted. It is this very nature of Question Period though that causes some difficulty for the Speaker in terms of being able to maintain an appropriate level of decorum. That is nevertheless my goal and my motivation. Having said that, I have reconsidered my earlier decision with respect to language used by the Member for Simcoe Grey and I am prepared now to hear his supplementary.

With unanimous consent, notwithstanding Standing Order 30(b), the House continued to meet past 4:00 p.m. in order to complete the Routine Proceedings.

MARDI 15 FÉVRIER 2005

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SECOND DAY

CENT CINQUANTE-DEUXIÈME JOUR

PRAYERS

1:30 P.M.

PRIÈRES

13 H 30

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg to inform the House that during the adjournment a vacancy has occurred in the membership of the House by reason of the resignation of Ernie Eves, as Member for the Electoral District of Dufferin–Peel–Wellington–Grey, effective February 1, 2005.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On December 16, 2004, the Member for Whitby-Ajax (Mr. Flaherty) rose on a question of privilege to allege that ministry political staff had made unauthorized audio tapings of briefings given by civil servants to Opposition Members and their staff. The Member claimed that the actions amounted to a breach of the privileges of individual Members and of the House, and that they also amounted to a contempt of the House. The Member for Erie-Lincoln (Mr. Hudak), the Member for Burlington (Mr. Jackson), the Member for Niagara Centre (Mr. Kormos), the Member for Toronto-Danforth (Ms. Churley), and the Member for Timmins-James Bay (Mr. Bisson) also spoke to the matter.

According to the Member for Whitby-Ajax and the Member for Erie-Lincoln, the taping of the briefings they attended was conducted openly; according to the Member for Burlington, the taping of the briefing he attended was conducted without his knowledge or consent.

The Government House Leader (Mr. Duncan) and the Minister of Finance (Mr. Sorbara) responded to the allegations.

I have had an opportunity to review the Hansard for December 16, as well as the Assembly's precedents and the relevant parliamentary authorities.

Members made submissions on various legal matters, on access to information, on freedom of speech, on intimidation and obstruction, and on the authority and dignity of the House and its Members. I shall address each issue in turn.

First, with respect to the legal issues, the Member for Whitby-Ajax indicated that section 184 of the federal Criminal Code "has prohibitions with respect to tape recording and other interception of private communications...." In addition, the Member for Burlington indicated that the Speaker should examine certain ministry legal opinions that would assist the Speaker in making a ruling on the question of privilege.

In response, I have to say that the Speaker cannot deal with legal issues in a ruling or give legal advice concerning the laws of Canada; courts are better equipped to address such matters. For examples of the many Speakers' rulings that stand as authority for this proposition, I refer Members to rulings by Speaker Stockwell on January 28, 1997 (at page 6538 of the Hansard for that day) and again on February 26, 1997 (at pages 510 and 511 of the Journals for that day), and a ruling by Speaker Carr on April 30, 2001 (at page 36 of the Journals for that day). Speakers have avoided addressing legal issues in rulings; it follows therefore, that examining legal opinions is not necessary in order to determine whether a prima facie case of privilege has been established.

The second issue raised by the question of privilege deals with Members' access to government information that is provided by the civil service. Various Members indicated that they have a right to such information, and that the government cannot specify how civil service briefings are to be provided to Members.

Let me begin my response to this submission by indicating that there are two kinds of parliamentary privilege: there is a set of 'individual' privileges (for example -- freedom of speech, and freedom from arrest in civil actions), and there is another set of 'collective' privileges that belong to the House as a whole (for example -- the power to discipline, the regulation of its own internal affairs, and the right to institute inquiries).

Marleau and Montpetit's House of Commons Procedure and Practice states (at page 71) that "[t]he rights, privileges and immunities of individual Members of the House are finite, that is to say, they can be enumerated but not extended except by statute or, in some cases, by constitutional amendment, and can be examined by the courts." In other words, the Speaker cannot create a brand new privilege where none now exists.

My review of our precedents and the parliamentary authorities suggests that there is no discrete category of parliamentary privilege that accords to Members a right to information from the government or civil servants. I note, for example, that at page 427 of the Journals for December 13, 2000, Speaker Carr ruled on a question of privilege dealing with allegedly intimidating information on a government website, as follows:

[T]he right of Members to government information is limited to what the Standing Orders provide. The Standing Orders do not provide Members with a right to information -- reliable or otherwise -- from a government website.

I do not want to leave the impression that Members cannot access information. On the contrary, the Standing Orders give Members certain rights to seek and receive information, and the Speaker has a duty to uphold those rights as a matter of order. However, an entitlement to a ministry briefing is not one of these rights.

This brings me to the third issue, freedom of speech, which is related to the previous issue because, according to various Members, their right to government information is a component of Members' freedom of speech. On this issue, the Member for Burlington said the following:

My freedom of speech, my voice in Parliament, and, by extension, the voice of my constituents on the floor of this Legislature is predicated on my ability and my right to access information that the government is obliged under the law to share, and public servants take an oath in order to uphold that.

In response, let me say that Members of this House do enjoy freedom of speech, which is often said to be the most important of Members' individual privileges. House of Commons Procedure and Practice states (at page 74) that "[f]reedom of speech permits Members to speak freely in the Chamber during a sitting or in committees during meetings while enjoying complete immunity from prosecution for any comment they might make." The same text indicates (at page 71) that "privilege does not exist 'at large' but applies only in context, which usually means within the confines of the parliamentary precinct and a 'proceeding in Parliament'."

In the case at hand, the briefings did not revolve around words spoken by Members in the House or in one of its committees. The briefings, then, are not parliamentary events capable of being protected by the privilege of freedom of speech. To this, let me add that Members were able to exercise their freedom of speech and hold the government to account on this incident because, in the Question Period that followed immediately after the question of privilege on this incident, they were able to place oral questions about the very same subject-matter.

The fourth issue raised in the question of privilege deals with the allegation that the taping of the briefings amounted to an attempt to intimidate and obstruct Members and the civil service.

In response, let me say that the obstruction and intimidation of Members in the exercise of their parliamentary duties is a matter of contempt. Erskine May states (at page 128 of the 23rd edition) the following:

Generally speaking, any act or omission which obstructs or impedes either House of Parliament in the performance of its functions, or which obstructs or impedes any Member or officer of such House in the discharge of his duty, or which has a tendency, directly or indirectly, to produce such results, may be treated as a contempt even though there is no precedent of the offence.

And House of Commons Procedure and Practice states (at page 84) that "Speakers have consistently upheld the right of the House to the services of its Members free from intimidation, obstruction and interference", and that (quoting a ruling by Speaker Lamoureux) "parliamentary privilege includes the right of a member to discharge his responsibilities as a member of the House free from threats or attempts at intimidation'."

The same authority (at pages 84) refers to a 1986 ruling by Speaker Bosley of the Canadian House of Commons, where he indicates that for there to be a prima facie case, "the threat or attempt at intimidation cannot be hypothetical, but must be real or have occurred."

It also indicates (at pages 91 and 92) as follows:

In some cases where prima facie privilege has not been found, the rulings have focussed on whether or not the parliamentary duties of the Member were directly involved. While frequently noting that Members raising such matters might have legitimate complaints, Speakers have regularly concluded that Members have not been prevented from performing their parliamentary duties.

In our own Assembly, I note that on June 19, 2001, Speaker Carr made the following ruling dealing with freedom of information requests by Opposition Members:

I understand that the Member for Niagara Centre and the Member for Elgin-Middlesex-London contended that their effectiveness as Members of Provincial Parliament was being compromised by delays in receiving information that they had requested from the Government. However, it is very clear to me that the Government's management process on contentious issues did not obstruct the Members in their strictly parliamentary duties in this Chamber.

Thus, while I do agree that ministry briefings enable Members to carry out their parliamentary duties in this House and its committees, the tenor of the authorities I have just referred to suggests that the briefings themselves do not amount to a parliamentary proceeding.

Furthermore, in respect of the alleged conduct in the case at hand, the Member for Erie-Lincoln made a helpful reference to a 1984 ruling from the Canadian House of Commons. In that case, Speaker Francis had ruled that a prima facie case was established when a Member alleged that his office had received threats and insults in an abusive telephone call from an employee of a Crown corporation, because the Member had not pre-cleared with the employee an oral question that he had placed to a government minister on the previous day. In the case at hand, however, no Member alleges that this kind of threatening language was uttered. I note that the Member for Erie-Lincoln refers to the taping as an "implied threat"; he also indicates that at one of the briefings a tape recorder was turned off when objection was taken to its use. In other words, there does not appear to have been a real, overt, or demonstrated threat.

As for the allegation that civil servants were being intimidated or obstructed, there is no evidence to support the allegation. In any event, while there are rare circumstances when civil servants are entitled to the protection of parliamentary privilege (for example, when testifying before a committee of the House), such circumstances do not exist in the case at hand.

The fifth and final issue, raised by the Member for Burlington and the Member for Niagara Centre, was that the taping of the briefing was inherently offensive to the authority and dignity of the House and its Members.

In response, let me first refer to the applicable authorities. House of Commons Procedure and Practice states (at page 52) as follows:

Any conduct which offends the authority or dignity of the House, even though no breach of any specific privilege may have been committed, is referred to as a contempt of the House. Contempt may be an act or an omission; it does not have to actually obstruct or impede the House or a Member, it merely has to have the tendency to produce such results.

In addition, Maingot's Parliamentary Privilege in Canada states (at page 250 of the 2nd edition) the following:

There are actions that, while not directly in a physical way obstructing the House of Commons or the Member, nevertheless obstruct the House in the performance of its functions by diminishing the respect due it. As in the case of a court of law, the House of Commons is entitled to the utmost respect....

In the case at hand, given that the briefings were not parliamentary events, a prima facie case of contempt of the House on the basis that the tapings were an offence to the inherent authority and dignity of the House is not established.

Although I find that neither a prima facie case of privilege nor a prima facie case of contempt has been established, I do not want to leave the impression that the government of the day should do as it pleases when it comes to providing information to Members of this House. The government is entitled to establish reasonable ground rules for briefings that it sponsors or provides. In some instances, Speakers of this Assembly have not intervened when a Member has complained about the denial of access to government information or about the government's imposition of certain conditions concerning a briefing. In other instances, however, Speakers have stated that the Member who raised the matter had a grievance or complaint of which the government should take note.

I am inclined to take the latter approach in the case at hand. When it comes to electronically recording information, Members, like most people, have a heightened sense of awareness or concern because of the purposes to which the recording could be used. In retrospect, it would have been prudent for the government to predict or better address the concerns of Members attending the briefings. In any event, it is unlikely that there will be another occasion on which similar concerns will be raised because the Premier has indicated that the practice of taping briefings given to Opposition Members is not acceptable and that it will be discontinued.

In closing, I thank the Member for Whitby-Ajax, the Member for Erie-Lincoln, the Member for Burlington, the Member for Niagara Centre, the Government House Leader, the Minister of Finance, the Member for Toronto-Danforth, and the Member for Timmins-James Bay for their thoughtful and helpful submissions on this matter.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On February 15, 2005, the Member for Oak Ridges (Mr. Klees) rose on a question of privilege concerning letters written to school boards and teachers' federations by the Minister of Education (Mr. Kennedy). The letters, together with a related press release, contained Ministry initiatives on education funding and on the length of collective bargaining agreements for teachers. According to the Member, the documents amounted to a matter of contempt in that they anticipated the passage of legislation and budgetary approval by the House, and they reflected adversely on the parliamentary process because they presumed that the House would pass a bill and approve a budgetary measure.

The Government House Leader (Mr. Duncan) and the Minister of Education responded to the allegations.

I have had an opportunity to review the written materials supplied by the Member for Oak Ridges, the Hansard for February 15, the Assembly's precedents, and the relevant parliamentary authorities.

Let me say several things about the Member's allegations. First, my reading of the documents suggests that the Minister was taking pro-active measures dealing with matters touching on his Ministry. There is a line of Ontario rulings to the effect that civil servants can take reasonable planning measures in advance of the passage of requisite legislation. So too can the minister.

Second, the facts in a 1989 ruling by Speaker Fraser of the Canadian House of Commons, a 1994 ruling by Speaker Warner of our own House, and a 1997 ruling by Speaker Stockwell were different than the facts raised by the Member for Oak Ridges. Those three cases dealt with government advertising to a broader public audience in circumstances where there was already a bill before the House; in the case at hand, the letters and press release were not advertising, they were primarily addressed to interested stakeholders, and there was no bill before the House.

The Minister appears to have made an announcement (outside the House) that anticipates a bill and a budgetary measure. But there is nothing wrong with anticipation per se – it happens a lot; the issue is whether the announcement goes further and reflects adversely on the parliamentary process.

In my opinion, the wording and the tone of the documents are not dismissive of the legislative role of the House. On the contrary, they indicate that the government had plans and proposals that require not only negotiation, but also the introduction and passage of legislation. In particular, the board letter and press release contain conditional phrases such as “intends to introduce legislation”, “we are proposing”, and “Legislation that, if passed.”

With respect to the word “guaranteed” in the documents, I note that it is not used in the sense that passage of enabling legislation was a foregone conclusion, but rather in reference to proposed payments to transfer partners and a proposed provision in future collective bargaining agreements.

For these reasons, I find that a prima facie case of contempt has not been established.

I want to thank the Member for Oak Ridges, the Government House Leader, and the Minister of Education for their thoughtful submissions on this matter. Each of them has done a service to the House by reminding Members of the importance of showing respect for the parliamentary process.

Following remarks by Mr. McGuinty, Mr. Tory and Mr. Hampton, the House observed a moment of silence in respect of the death of His Holiness Pope John Paul II.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Tuesday, March 29, 2005, the Member for Simcoe North (Mr. Dunlop) rose on a question of privilege concerning the circumstances surrounding a public announcement by the Minister of Community Safety and Correctional Services (Mr. Kwinter) on March 22, 2005. According to the Member, only government Members received advance notice of the announcement, and the Ministry ignored or rebuffed Opposition requests for information about the announcement, contrary to the custom and tradition of the House.

I have had an opportunity to review the Hansard for that day, together with our precedents and the relevant parliamentary authorities.

Our precedents indicate that although the Speaker has a duty to preserve Members' rights to seek information under the Standing Orders, there are limits to the Speaker's authority. For example, on October 9, 1997, at page 801 of the Journals of that day, Speaker Stockwell made the following remarks concerning Ministry financial information that was released to Opposition members only after it had been released to government Members and the media:

... I appreciate that the member would have preferred that all members could have received the information at the same time. However, the Speaker cannot require the government to release such information -- or to release it at a certain time. There is nothing in our rules or our practice that would permit the Speaker to control the dissemination of that kind of information. It is clear from any number of previous Speakers' rulings that these types of situations do not amount to a prima facie case of privilege.

I agree with this view and find therefore that a prima facie case of privilege has not been established.

In closing, I thank the Member for Simcoe North for raising his concern.

REPORTS BY COMMITTEES

RAPPORTS DES COMITÉS

Mrs. Jeffrey from the Standing Committee on General Government presented the Committee's Report which was read as follows and adopted:-

M^{me} Jeffrey du Comité permanent des affaires gouvernementales présente le rapport du comité qui est lu comme suit et adopté:-

Your Committee begs to report the following Bill as amended:-

Votre comité propose qu'il soit permis de faire rapport sur le projet de loi suivant avec des amendements:-

Bill 3, An Act to protect anaphylactic students, the title of which is amended to read "An Act to protect anaphylactic pupils. Ordered for Third Reading.

Projet de loi 3, Loi visant à protéger les élèves anaphylactiques, dont le titre est modifié comme suit «Loi visant à protéger les élèves anaphylactiques». Ordonné pour la troisième lecture.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On May 4, 2005, the Member for Barrie-Simcoe-Bradford (Mr. Tascona) rose on a question of privilege concerning a list of intended appointments to yet-to-be-created government bodies known as Local Health Integration Networks. This list was recently submitted to the Standing Committee on Government Agencies. According to the Member, the government was in contempt of the House for presupposing the passage of enabling legislation when it advertised publicly for persons to be appointed to the Networks, and when it then went ahead and hired people as if the Networks were a fait accompli. The Member for Niagara Centre (Mr. Kormos), the Government House Leader (Mr. Duncan), and the Member for Erie-Lincoln (Mr. Hudak) also spoke to this matter.

Having had an opportunity to review the relevant precedents and authorities, I will now address the points that were raised by the Member for Barrie-Simcoe-Bradford. The Member indicated that government advertisements presupposed that enabling legislation would pass. Additionally, the Member indicated that the government's submission of the list of the intended appointments to the Standing Committee on Government Agencies presupposes the existence of enabling legislation because the outcome of the hiring process was based on the incorrect premise that the legislative or regulatory framework existed.

Let me say at the outset that I do not interpret the referenced statements, seen in context, as undermining the authority of the House or its legislative function: the statements are rather innocuous, they make no connection to a bill before the House, they do not presume the existence of a specific legislative or regulatory regime, and they must be balanced with the other statements on the government's website that make specific mention of the government's intention to introduce enabling legislation. For example, the May 2, 2005 "Bulletin 11" document mentioned by the Member indicates that the government "intends to introduce legislation" to effect the requisite changes, and that "[l]egislation will be needed to enable [the Networks] to perform certain functions that are envisioned for [them]...." The use of the words "intends", "legislation will be needed", and "envisioned" suggests that the government was aware of and showing consideration for the legislative function of the Assembly.

As to the issue of the appointments themselves, it must be noted that Speakers of this Assembly have not found fault with broadly similar intended appointments to bodies that have yet to be created. In this regard, I refer to the following precedents:

- In 1997, Speaker Stockwell ruled that it was not a matter of privilege or contempt that the government had sent to the Standing Committee on Government Agencies a notice of an intended appointment to the Education Improvement Commission in circumstances where the bill creating the Commission was still before the House. That ruling can be found at page 6577 of the Hansard for January 29, 1997.
- In 2000, Speaker Carr ruled that a prima facie case of privilege was not established in circumstances where the government's Public Appointments Secretariat was recruiting appointments to the Post-secondary Education Quality Assessment Board, despite the fact that the bill creating that body was still before the House. Speaker Carr stated that "various Speakers have made it clear that the public service has a responsibility to prepare itself and stand in readiness for the possible passage of legislation." He found the circumstances to be an exercise of "due diligence on the part of the public service in preparation for pending legislation." That ruling can be found at pages 5799 and 5800 of the Hansard for November 27, 2000.

- In 2002, Speaker Carr had to deal with a situation where a proposed university or the government had created a website and hired university staff in circumstances where the legal existence of the university was contingent on the passage of a bill that was currently before the House. In ruling that a prima facie case of contempt was not established, Speaker Carr found that it had not been shown that the impugned actions were something other than planning for the proposed university. According to Speaker Carr, the hiring of staff and the creation of a website did not suggest contempt. That ruling can be found at page 549 of the Hansard for June 3, 2002.

For these reasons, I find that a prima facie case of contempt has not been established.

This leaves one final matter for consideration. According to the Member for Barrie-Simcoe-Bradford, the Standing Committee on Government Agencies has no jurisdiction to consider the appointments to the Networks because of the absence of enabling legislation. I have given careful thought to this jurisdictional issue, and although it is really a matter of order on a potential item of business before a forthcoming meeting of the standing committee, in view of the fact that today is the deadline to select intended appointments for review, I will rule on the matter. In this regard, I note that at page 6577 of the above-mentioned January 29, 1997 ruling dealing with intended appointments to the Education Improvement Commission, Speaker Stockwell stated the following:

I find nothing in the referral of a certificate of intent to appoint these two candidates which would in any way limit or compromise the ability or rights of a committee to conduct a review under the terms of the standing orders.

The fact that the appointments are contingent on the passage of legislation does not impact on the committee's review. I want to note here that this is not the first time the committee has reviewed an intended appointee prior to passage of legislation which establishes the agency, board or commission.

In 1991 the committee reviewed and concurred in the intended appointment of the Employment Equity Commissioner. Some members who were here during that period of time may recall that the legislation that provided for the Employment Equity Commissioner was not passed in this Legislature until 1994, but the appointment took place in 1991.

In closing, I would like to thank the Member for Barrie-Simcoe-Bradford for raising these matters, and the Member for Niagara Centre, the Government House Leader, and the Member for Erie-Lincoln for their helpful submissions.

Following remarks by Mr. McGuinty, Mrs. Witmer and Mr. Hampton, with unanimous consent, the House observed a moment of silence in remembrance of those Canadian veterans who lost their lives fighting for the liberation of Europe.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

Debate was resumed on the motion that this House approves in general the Budgetary Policy of the Government.

After some time,

Mr. Tory moved that the motion moved by the Minister of Finance on May 11, 2005: "That the House approves in general the budgetary policy of this government" be amended by deleting the words after "That this House" and adding thereto the following:

"Recognize that this budget is the latest in a series of ever-changing fiscal plans and that:

The government has provided inadequate support to Ontario's hospitals, putting timely access to care in jeopardy;

The government is failing Ontario's farmers by cutting funding by 23.1% this year, on top of the 20% budget cut last year;

That the government has laid out no specific plan for meeting Ontario's infrastructure needs, and has not explicitly budgeted for those needs;

That taxpayers will pay double the amount in health taxes this year, despite a promise by the Premier not to raise taxes at all;

That the government has done little to nothing specific to meaningfully attack waste and mismanagement in the government on a budget of $80 billion; and

That these failures, these broken promises, these high taxes, high deficits, wasteful spending and burdensome regulations will harm Ontario's economy and create a climate which will discourage investment and jobs in Ontario.

Therefore, this House has lost confidence in this government."

On motion by Mr. Kormos

Ordered, That the debate be adjourned.

ORDRE DU JOUR

Le débat reprend sur la motion portant que la présente Assemblée adopte en général la politique budgétaire du gouvernement.

Après quelque temps,

Le débat reprend sur la motion portant que la présente Assemblée adopte en général la politique budgétaire du gouvernement.

"Reconnaitre que ce budget est le dernier d'une série de plans financiers toujours changeants et que :

Le gouvernement a fourni un soutien inadéquat aux hôpitaux de l'Ontario, mettant en péril l'accès en temps opportun aux soins;

Le gouvernement échoue à soutenir les agriculteurs de l'Ontario en réduisant de 23,1 % le financement cette année, en plus de la coupe budgétaire de 20 % de l'année dernière;

Le gouvernement n'a pas présenté de plan spécifique pour répondre aux besoins de l'infrastructure de l'Ontario, et n'a pas explicitement budgété pour ces besoins;

Les contribuables paieront le double des taxes de santé cette année, malgré une promesse du Premier ministre de ne pas augmenter les taxes;

Le gouvernement a fait peu ou rien de spécifique pour attaquer de manière significative les déchets et la mauvaise gestion dans le gouvernement, avec un budget de 80 milliards de dollars; et

Ces échecs, ces promesses non tenues, ces hautes taxes, les déficits élevés, les dépenses gaspillées et les réglementations onéreuses nuiront à l'économie de l'Ontario et créeront un climat qui découragera l'investissement et les emplois en Ontario.

Par conséquent, cette Assemblée a perdu confiance en ce gouvernement."

Sur la motion de M. Kormos

Il est ordonné que le débat soit ajourné.

With unanimous consent, the Speaker recessed the House for 5 minutes.

Avec le consentement unanime, le Président ordonne une pause de 5 minutes à l'Assemblée.

The Amendment to the motion as follows:-

That the motion moved by the Minister of Finance on May 11, 2005: "That the House approves in general the budgetary policy of this government" be amended by deleting the words after "That this House" and adding thereto the following:

"Recognize that this budget is the latest in a series of ever-changing fiscal plans and that:

The government has provided inadequate support to Ontario's hospitals, putting timely access to care in jeopardy;

The government is failing Ontario's farmers by cutting funding by 23.1% this year, on top of the 20% budget cut last year;

That the government has laid out no specific plan for meeting Ontario's infrastructure needs, and has not explicitly budgeted for those needs;

That taxpayers will pay double the amount in health taxes this year, despite a promise by the Premier not to raise taxes at all;

That the government has done little to nothing specific to meaningfully attack waste and mismanagement in the government on a budget of $80 billion; and

That these failures, these broken promises, these high taxes, high deficits, wasteful spending and burdensome regulations will harm Ontario's economy and create a climate which will discourage investment and jobs in Ontario.

Therefore, this House has lost confidence in this government."
