Hi Alan. Quick call first thing this morning would be great. My cell is 4163174584. I have a meeting at 8:00. Not sure if you can call before then?

Useful

One of the issues is that Margaret is way over her head here.

Simple concepts are beyond her, because this is not her world.

Thanks for doing that

Hi – Margaret K asked me to give her a call this evening. She says that W doesn't understand the proposal and she wants to see our model on rate payer impact. I told her that earlier meetings were held where Ontario's modelling was explained. I said we didn't have more modelling to show her. She said that she is not clear on Ontario's proposal. I explained that we are asking them to think about a higher level of equity within the envelope left by Canada's capital contribution. She said that the 60/40 ratio is required and I explained that it is not. I said I was thinking of ways to help them with regulatory risk (and that I am not talking to the OEB when she pointedly asked). I told her that she received Ontario's proposal at the last meeting and that we are looking for them to come to the meeting on Monday with a real proposal. I said it felt like she was asking me to negotiate with myself. I also told her that the window to achieve this is closing and I emphasized that we need to hear from them. We wound up our conversation by agreeing on the importance of the project and I emphasized the need to think creatively to get it done.

Margaret said that the last 2 meetings were postponed because of the death of her nephew.

Alan, nothing came up about W at the Leaders in the Legislature or COO meeting yesterday.
