Hi Steve,

I can explain how the global adjustment and HOEP works and show that the $37 billion is part of the forecast cost of the commodity going forward. We can show the 2013 LTEP module projections.

Serge,

Thanks for pulling this together. This will help during the technical briefing.

What happens if the $37B issue comes up?

Hi Steve,

This is what our MO asked us to produce. You may recall M's response to the previous year's AG audit was contentious. We were asked to focus on the recommendations, which were less contentious than the text.
