After 3.5 years with the Ministry, Justin Malecki is moving on to new opportunities. Justin has spent all of that time in the Energy Economics group and its various heirs and successors. Over the past two years he's led the development of the Plexos Ontario Energy Model and more recently conducted the analysis underpinning Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan.

Since he joined the branch, I've come to rely on Justin greatly for his problem solving and analysis skills, as well as his optimistic outlook and sense of humour.

Justin's last day is April 24th, at which point Robin Macpherson will take over most of Justin's duties in the system planning group. Please join me in thanking Justin for his service to the Ministry, and wishing him the best in the future.
