Dear Gallery,

Please find below a copy of next week's draft legislative schedule, which as always is subject to change.

I wanted to flag that you may notice the Legislature sitting until midnight on certain days during the next two sitting weeks. This is to ensure all proposed legislation gets appropriate consideration.

You will also see that next week the government intends to introduce legislation that creates a non-resident speculation tax, which was announced as part of the Fair Housing Plan.

Finally, as we have seen procedural games throughout this session from the PCs, it is plausible that this schedule will change dramatically. I will update you as best I can should there be changes.
