

For Approval by 10am Saturday: Posts for the Weekend

From: "Dibble, Jennifer (OPO)" <jennifer.dibble@ontario.ca>
To: "Rivers, Grahame (OPO)" <grahame.rivers@ontario.ca>, "Pattillo, Ian (OPO)" <ian.pattillo@ontario.ca>, "MacKenzie, Rebecca (OPO)" <rebecca.mackenzie@ontario.ca>, "Foerster, Carly (OPO)" <carly.foerster@ontario.ca>, "Byberg, Ann (OPO)" <ann.byberg@ontario.ca>, "Forgione, Andrew (OPO)" <andrew.forgione@ontario.ca>
Date: Fri, 10 Mar 2017 17:41:56 -0500

Hi everyone,
Please see the posts below for approval by 10 am tomorrow. Included Andrew because there are a few articles we'd like to link to.

Thanks!
Jen

Saturday

Twitter – McConaghy Seniors' Centre - PHOTO

It's so important for our aging loved ones to stay engaged & active in their community. McConaghy Seniors' Centre helps them do just that.

Twitter – St Phillips Bakery - PHOTO

Talked hydro at St Phillips Bakery. Such a valuable conversation. Successful small businesses are essential for our communities & economy.

Instagram – PHOTO

I stopped by St Phillips Bakery today to talk hydro, and ask how we can help them and other small businesses in the community continue to grow & succeed. Ensuring fair hydro costs is one way we're supporting their ambitions.

Facebook – PHOTO

Small businesses are essential to our economy — and to the surrounding community. Today I stopped by St Phillips Bakery to talk with the staff and learn how we can help them and other small businesses continue to succeed (and create delicious treats!).

Ensuring fair hydro costs is one way we're supporting ambitious entrepreneurs. Small businesses struggled with the financial burden of rising hydro costs, and it wasn't fair. We're fixing that starting this summer — with an average of 25% off of hydro bills — so that owners across the province have a fair shot at success.

LinkedIn – PHOTO

Small businesses are essential to our economy. I asked St Phillips Bakery how we can help them & other small businesses continue to succeed.

Sunday

Twitter – PHOTO from article:

We're lowering hydro bills by 25% starting this summer. My op-ed on finding this solution that is fair & lasting:

<https://www.thestar.com/opinion/commentary/2017/03/07/reducing-hydro-bills-the-fairer-way-forward-wynne.html>

Facebook – PHOTO from article:

Last week I announced that we're lowering hydro bills by 25% starting this summer, and that your bill won't rise past the rate of inflation for at least 4 years.

I don't expect a celebration. Real relief from rising bills should have arrived sooner. Hydro rates climbed too much and too quickly. It wasn't fair. We simply had to fix it, and that required some fundamental changes to the entire system. Read my op-ed about how we found a solution that fixes the mistakes of the past to deliver the significant and lasting rate relief that's needed:
<https://www.thestar.com/opinion/commentary/2017/03/07/reducing-hydro-bills-the-fairer-way-forward-wynne.html>

LinkedIn – PHOTO from article

Home construction in Canada picked up last month & Ontario is paving the way! Our economy is building momentum: <http://business.financialpost.com/personal-finance/mortgages-real-estate/home-building-picks-up-offering-latest-sign-canadas-economy-is-on-upswing>