Not for a minute, not for a second would I consider it. We're trying to help people get ahead and it's just not fair to even consider this.

At a time when Ontario is making the largest infrastructure investment in the history of the province we would not increase the cost on families.

I hear the call from municipalities for investment in roads and bridges. We're investing over $190 billion over next 13 years. To put that in perspective, the federal government is investing about that same amount, but spread across the entire country. We're also increasing payments to municipalities and continuing to upload services.

I'm working on making things fairer and provide opportunity. That's we cut hydro bills by 25 per cent. It's why we're boosting the minimum wage. It's why we have free tuition and we're rolling out free prescription drugs for kids and youth. People are trying hard to get ahead. We've got to help them.
