Thanks for your feedback, Michael. How about something like this:

Twitter:

Ontario & Michigan are partners with deeply integrated economies. Terrific meeting w/ Governor Snyder on how we'll continue to work together

LinkedIn:

Governor Snyder & I had a terrific meeting on how Ontario & Michigan will continue to work together as strong partners with deeply integrated economies

In the Snyder meeting - could we add something like 'Terrific meeting with Gov Snyder'. I think we need a positive descriptor of the meeting itself.

Hi everyone,
Please see the posts below for approval by 2PM. I'd like to get the Governor Snyder tweet up sooner rather than later since he has already tweeted, and we have a few tweets to go out today. The op-ed copy is almost identical to the copy that was approved over the weekend (which will be posted this evening) – I just changed a couple of words so that it no longer says we announced hydro last week.

Thanks!
Jen

We're lowering hydro bills by 25% starting this summer. My op-ed on finding this solution that is fair & lasting:

Two weeks ago I announced that we're lowering hydro bills by 25% starting this summer, and that your bill won't rise past the rate of inflation for at least 4 years.

I don't expect a celebration. Real relief from rising bills should have arrived sooner. Hydro rates climbed too much and too quickly. It wasn't fair. We simply had to fix it, and that required some fundamental changes to the entire system. Read my op-ed about how we found a solution that fixes the mistakes of the past to deliver the significant and lasting rate relief that's needed:
