Table 7 shows the minimum, median, and maximum dollar and percent impacts that a customer would face based on a specified monthly consumption level. Each row can be considered a range of possible impacts faced by customers, so the first row 'says' that a customer who consumes 50 kWh a month can expect to see a total bill impact ranging from 4.97 to 32.5 dollars (excluding Hydro One). Rows are independent from one another, as separate distributions were constructed for monthly consumption levels.

Figure 1, illustrates the impacts of Tables 6 and 7, by showing the range of total bill impacts customers will be facing under a fully fixed option, under various consumption levels. Typically, customers who are consuming between 500 to 1000 kWh a month should be seeing very small changes in their total bill.
