Hi Andrew,
Hot off the presses are the marketing brochures for the new RPP pilots which include a description of the different pricing options as well as the rate (we just received approval on this from the OEB late last week). We'll include these brochures in our media kits tomorrow but they won't be distributed broadly until September.

I'm going to update my Q and A document with this new info and will share an updated version. Let me know if you wish to discuss the pricing. The Enhanced and Overnight are straightforward but the Dynamic is a bit complicated.

Thanks,
T
