Hey Shelley, how low does usage have to get before we see a savings of, say, 23%?

Hi all;

Here is the breakdown for a residential customer, not on OESP

750 kWh

December 2016	$146.56
July 2017	$105.77
Savings = $40.78 or 27.8%

500 kWh

December 2016	$106.43
July 2017	$78.63
Savings = $27.81 or 26.1%

As all of the proposed changes are consumption based, more kWh = more "savings"

Ok thanks Tamar, and Shelley. If you can let us know what the % reduction on the bill turns out to be for 500kWh, that will help us know whether this will be a top priority or not.

Hi David,

I just spoke to Shelley. She will go ahead and get the calculations ready for the 500 kwh and will try to get an IT person in tomorrow am as early as possible to do the bill mockup (the IT staff have all left for the night).

Shelley knows about the 8am technical briefing deadline. We'll do our absolute best.

Thanks,
T

Hi Tamar, tried calling but phone was busy.

Don't hate me, but we have another request. Would it be possible to quickly put together another bill? We're thinking an average customer again, but this time at only 500kWh. Same distribution across TOU is fine.

We want to make sure journalists understand why some bills will see a greater reduction than 25%, while some will see less.

Sample bills.

Let me know what you think if there's anything else we can do.
