Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan is lowering electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for all residential consumers. Alectra, the utility serving customers in Hamilton, St. Catharines, Mississauga, Vaughan, Barrie, Brampton and Markham has provided an illustrative sample of customer bills, before and after these significant rate mitigation measures are implemented.

I like it, but we're saying 'by 25 per cent on average for all residential consumers'

How is this:

Ok, then why don't we just say something like:

'Samples of real customer bills from Alectra, before and after Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan'

I think it's just meant to be a disclaimer that it was someone else's product from government.

I think the bills should be self explanatory. And if an explanation is required, better to do it verbally in the room with enough context.

PO would like to stand down on the blurb, but continue with the sample bills for tomorrow's media kits. Please advise of any concerns. Draft blurb PO wants to leave out below.

Through the Fair Hydro Plan, a residential consumer using 750 kWh per month connected to Toronto Hydro would save 25 per cent. There will be variances across the province due to differences in consumption (e.g. : a consumer with electric heat would likely receive a greater reduction). Delivery rates also vary depending on the local distribution company. As an example, a sample bill from Alectra has been provided.
