Good Afternoon:

Do you think they will have any audio - visuals?

Would love to finally use the new jumbo-tron in the Executive Boardroom.

Hi Andrew,

We will work on a revised script.

Also yes, Rain43 will be producing a paper creative product for the meeting.

Thanks,
Martin

Good Afternoon:

I'm not inclined to over-rule CO legal. They are typically among the sharpest legal minds going.

To that end, we should revise accordingly.

Perhaps we can develop some options for discussion at Friday's meeting?

Further - will Rain43 be preparing any products / AV for this Friday's conversation?

Many thanks, in advance.

Hi Andrew,

Yes, CO legal has been in contact with our legal. They have advised that the 8% overlay doesn't have to be included, but that the messaging around the 25% needs to be clear and not misrepresent what people are receiving. Given that it would be difficult from a script perspective to do so, we would recommend that we still include the 8% overlay.

Please let us know how you would like to proceed.

Thanks,
Martin

Good Morning:

Apparently CO Legal (Bromm) has been in contact with ENE LSB (name unknown) and a compromise text has now been brokered.

If someone has access to this new script and could share with MO would be wonderful.

Many thanks, in advance.

Hi Andrew,

In response to PO's request to make changes to the TV script for the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan, we wanted to confirm your direction to reference the 25% rate reduction without acknowledging that the 8% reduction, which came into effect on January 1, 2017, is part of the overall 25% total. We also wanted to remind you of the recent request we received from the Advertising Standards Council to respond to a complaint that the previous radio advertisements were misleading (see attached). While we are still developing our response, the complaint alleges that the advertisement is misleading because it claims that rates are being reduced by 25% without acknowledging that the already announced 8% is part of this reduction.

Please let us know how you would like to proceed.

Thanks,
Martin
