TV NEWS SUMMARY (NOON EDITION)

Stations Surveyed: CFTO, CHCH, CKCO, CJOH, MCTV

CFTO (Toronto)

The completion of the York-University Subway Station is resulting in cost overruns. These costs are driving the push for fare hikes and tolls. Mayor John Tory is confident that road tolls will contribute towards building transit in Toronto. Also the upkeep of the Gardiner expressway is expected to be over a billion dollars.

There is speculation that the Ontario government may get rid of time-of-use pricing to reduce hydro costs and replacing it with a type of flat fee. Premier Wynne has vowed to lower hydro costs but it is not yet known when this will happen. Videoclips from Question of PC leader Patrick Brown, NDP MPP Peter Tabuns and Minister Glenn Thibeault.

A Nanos poll finds 20.5% of Ontarians' most important provincial issue of concern is about hydro rates.
