Thanks, Bryant. The one thing that jumped out at me is the average savings for the urban ratepayer. Why are we specific to urban... it begs the question is the savings significantly less or more for non-urban.

We are providing extra support for rural and low-income families because we want to make life more affordable for all families in this province. Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan is delivering monthly savings of $41 for a typical urban ratepayer.

Thanks.

Subject: For Cindy/Vivienne Review: G&M Statements & QsAs

Hi Cindy and Vivienne,

Per our call yesterday, our team has prepared the attached two statements, one for Minister use and one for SoC use. These have been reviewed by the comms directors at Energy and Finance.

We've also prepared some TBS-specific Qs, using mostly pre-approved material, to respond to the allegations in the article. We've added these to the existing issue note so everything is in one place for the Minister. Energy is currently working on some additional Qs specific to their responsibilities, and we'll add those in once ready.

Would you mind giving these products a look before I distribute them to the broader group, including the three DMs, prior to this afternoon's call? I'd like to distribute materials around 2pm if possible.

Thanks
Bryant
