Christine – thanks for think of us at your conference.

Tom – would you have time for a conversation either later today (after 6 pm) or tomorrow morning before 9:30 am or between noon and 1 pm.

Thanks again to both of you,

Cindy

Hi Cindy,

I attended a conference this past weekend, and had the chance to mention your situation to my director, Thomas Scott. He is a former academic member of the Accounting Standards Board and has written several research papers on pension accounting. He is also very thoughtful about these kinds of things and has a strong sense of fairness. I thought the chances of him having the time to take this on were very low, but when I described the situation, he explained that this is the kind of work he would like to get more involved with as he looks ahead to the end of his directorship here at the School of Accounting and Finance. He also thought the 100-hour work commitment was feasible.

I strongly recommend that you consider him for the role. I think he would be a wonderful resource on an expert panel I am including his contact information below.

Hi Christine,

Nickie Young provided me with your name. I am the Provincial Controller for the Province of Ontario (and a Waterloo alum) and we are forming an expert panel to look at a specific pension accounting issue related to the recognition of net pension assets. We are currently assembling a list of potential panel members and would like to speak to a few potential panelists from the academic community who have expertise in the pension area.

Could you let me know if you would be interested in speaking for a few minutes sometime in the next day or two.

Thanks,

Cindy Veinot
