Not 100% percent sure but the budget black out may be a factor. In case you aren't aware, from the moment the budget day is announced to the release of the actual release of the budget document all public communications are suspended - typically this means no news releases or public statements of any kind unless cleared by PO. I understand the budget date will be announced Thursday so even if we wanted to go before budget day we can't because it would fall in that restrictive time period.

Thanks Sofie – what's the basis for the timing?

Hi Karen and Cindy,

Circling back re: the Pension Asset Expert Panel Supplementary report to let you know that MO has decided to post as a link in the budget and will do a walk around to the gallery a week or so post budget.

As a side, panel member Uros Karadzic (actuarial expert) reached out to me last week asking about report release timing and I let him know no decisions had been made yet ;with this new direction, I will follow up with him after the budget date is announced publicly.

Our lead planner Erin Ovenden will connect with your team on the comm plan and logistics.

Happy to chat if you have any questions or concerns.
