I am reading the information on the website and this is stated Overview As of July 1, 2017, your electricity bill will be reduced by 25% on average if you're a residential consumer. This includes all households across Ontario. As the rebate does not include the charges for delivery, how can you state that the bill will be reduced by 25%. That is inaccurate. The TOI portion will be decreased by 17% and there will be a 8% GST portion removed. Am I correct? Is the delivery charge portion exempt?
