Thanks Colin. Considering where he works, I think we should do some outreach.

Craig – do you want to take the call?

This might be an item to flip to ministry?

Hello Mr. Nekolaichuk,

I recently read your government's announcement about the Fair Hydro Plan and I am curious to learn more details about rate reductions for businesses. The backgrounder on the global adjustment said that many small businesses will benefit from the refinancing of the global adjustment. I am unclear on the exact mechanics of this, so could you explain how a small business will know if it is eligible for global adjustment reductions? i.e. which businesses will benefit from these changes and which businesses will not?

Also, does this imply that medium and large businesses will continue to pay the same global adjustment charges?

Many thanks for your response,

Bryan Heystee
