"The Fair Hydro Plan's enhanced measures for low-income and other vulnerable Ontarians will make a real difference in their daily lives. Access to energy is essential for an adequate standard of living. But low-income electricity consumers have been paying a disproportionate amount of their household income on electricity bills and have had to make difficult choices about whether to keep the lights and heat on, or pay for rent, food, medicine, clothing, transportation and other basic necessities. This plan will significantly reduce electricity bills for those least able to pay high costs for necessary energy services."

Hi Matt: Mary and I are back at the office now. When and from whom can she come collect her phone?
