So it is fair to say that

"Residents in rural and remote communities within the riding of Kenora could see hydro rate reductions of up to 50 percent based on their electricity consumption through Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan, including the expansion of the ~~Northerners Rural or Remote Rate Protection Program (RRRP)~~ Program."

You can say up to about 50 per cent, but it does depend on electricity consumption.

Thanks James,

I just saw this email and thank you for the update.

Does it run as high as 50% in any cases? Was there any mention of that at all?

Can you give me quick call when you get a minute.

Thanks, Julian

Hi Julian, as discussed, here's information for you:

Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan includes the expansion of social programs for some of the most vulnerable Ontarians [through the expansion of the Ontario Electricity Support Program (OESP)], those who live in more remote areas and First Nations on-reserve customers.

Ontarians with the highest distribution rates – those living in remote areas – will have their distribution costs harmonized at the lowest level among eligible Local Distribution Companies. These customers will see upwards of 40 per cent in reductions. More information on the broadening of the Rural or Remote Rate Protection (RRRP) program can be found at the hyperlink above.

Happy to clarify if needed.

Thanks!
