(ii) after the Security Interest has become enforceable, sanction the selling of the Collateral or any part thereof or interest therein;

(iii) after the Security Interest has become enforceable, authorize the Indenture Trustee or any other Person to bid or tender at any sale of the Collateral or any part thereof and take such actions in connection with such sale as it determines to be in the best interests of all Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations;

(vi) require the Indenture Trustee (subject to receipt by the Indenture Trustee of reasonable funding and indemnity) to exercise or refrain from exercising any other powers conferred upon it by this Indenture of general application to all ~~Series~~Classes of Issuer Funding Obligations, including the exercise of any rights of the Issuer under any of the Program Agreements upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, or cancel any declaration of acceleration made pursuant to Article VIII upon such terms and/or conditions as may be decided;

The Issuer shall give the Rating Agency notice of any Extraordinary Resolution adopted.

In any case where notice to Registered Noteholders is given by mail, facsimile or electronic transmission, neither the failure to mail, send by facsimile or send by electronic transmission such notice, nor any defect in any notice so mailed, to any particular Noteholders will affect the sufficiency of such notice with respect to other Noteholders and any notice that is mailed, sent by facsimile or sent by electronic transmission in the manner herein provided shall conclusively have been presumed to have been duly given.

(b) No notice will be given by mail, facsimile, email transmission or otherwise delivered to a holder of Bearer Notes or coupons in bearer form. In the case of any Class, Series~~, Class~~ or Tranche with respect to which any Bearer Notes are Outstanding, any notice required or permitted to be given to holders of such Bearer Notes will be published in an Authorized Newspaper within the time period prescribed in this Indenture or the Related Supplemental Indenture.

(c) In case, by reason of the suspension of regular mail service as a result of a strike, work stoppage or otherwise, it will be impractical to mail notice of any event to any holder of a Registered Note when such notice is required to be given pursuant to any provision of this Indenture, then any method of notification as will be satisfactory to the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer will be deemed to be a sufficient giving of such notice.

(e) Where this Indenture, any Supplemental Indenture or any Registered Note provides for notice in any manner, such notice may be waived in writing by the Person entitled to receive such notice, either before or after the event, and such waiver will be the equivalent of such notice. The Indenture Trustee, by entering into this Indenture, and each Specified Creditor by accepting its rights as a third party beneficiary hereunder, agrees, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, that at no time until one year and one day following repayment in full of all Issuer Funding Obligations shall it commence, or join in commencing, a bankruptcy case or other insolvency or similar proceeding under the laws of any jurisdiction against the Issuer.

16.02 Withholding Rights

The right of any Person to receive amounts described in this Indenture, including rights of a Noteholder to receive interest on or principal of a Note, or the rights of a Person to receive payments described in Section 7.04 and 8.13, shall be subject to any applicable withholding or deduction imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act or other applicable tax law, including foreign withholding and deduction. Any amounts properly withheld or deducted shall be treated as actually paid to the appropriate recipient, provided that such deduction or withheld amounts are actually remitted in accordance with applicable law to the appropriate Governmental Authority.

16.03 ~~16.02~~ U.S. Tax Treatment

The Issuer and each Noteholder that is a United States Person agree that the Notes are intended to be debt for United States federal, state and local income and franchise tax purposes and agree to treat the Notes accordingly for all such purposes, unless otherwise required by a taxing authority. Each Noteholder that is a United States Person further agrees that it will cause any Note Owner that is a United States Person acquiring an interest in a Note through it to comply with this Indenture as to treatment as indebtedness for United States federal, state and local income and franchise tax purposes as described in this Section 16.02.

16.04 ~~16.03~~ Alternate Payment Provisions

Notwithstanding any provision of this Indenture or any of the Notes to the contrary, the Issuer, with the written consent of the Indenture Trustee, may enter into any agreement with any Noteholder providing for a method of payment or notice that is different from the methods provided for in this Indenture for such payments or notices. The Issuer will furnish to the Indenture Trustee a copy of each such agreement and the Indenture Trustee will cause payments or notices, as applicable, to be made in accordance with such agreements.

16.05 ~~16.04~~ Final Distribution

(a) The Issuer shall give the Indenture Trustee at least 30 days written notice of the Payment Date on which the Noteholders of any Class, Series~~, Class~~ or Tranche may surrender their Notes for payment of the final distribution on and cancellation of such Notes. Not later than the fifth day of the month in which the final distribution in respect of such Class, Series~~, Class~~ or Tranche is payable to Noteholders, the Indenture Trustee shall provide notice to Noteholders of such Class, Series~~, Class~~ or Tranche specifying (i) the date upon which final payment of such Class, Series~~, Class~~ or Tranche will be made upon presentation and surrender of Notes of such Class, Series~~, Class~~ or Tranche at the office or offices therein designated, (ii) the amount of any such final payment, and (iii) that the Record Date otherwise applicable to such Payment Date is not applicable, payments being made only upon presentation and surrender of such Notes at the office or offices therein specified (which, in the case of Bearer Notes, shall be outside the United States [and Canada]). The Indenture Trustee shall give such notice to the Note Registrar and the Paying Agent at the time such notice is given to Noteholders.

(b) Notwithstanding a final distribution to the Noteholders of any Class, Series~~, Class~~ or Tranche of Notes (or the termination of the Issuer), except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, all funds then on deposit in any ~~Issuer~~Series Account allocated solely to such Noteholders shall continue to be held in trust for the benefit of such Noteholders, and the Paying Agent or the Indenture Trustee shall pay such funds to such Noteholders upon surrender of their Notes, if certificated. In the event that all such Noteholders shall not surrender their Notes for cancellation within 6 months after the date specified in the notice from the Indenture Trustee described in paragraph (a), the Indenture Trustee shall give a second notice to the remaining such Noteholders to surrender their Notes for cancellation and receive the final distribution with respect thereto (which surrender and payment, in the case of Bearer Notes, shall be outside the United States [and Canada]). If within one year after the second notice all such Notes shall not have been surrendered for cancellation, the Indenture Trustee may take appropriate steps, or may appoint an agent to take appropriate steps, to contact the remaining such Noteholders concerning surrender of their Notes, and the cost thereof shall be paid out of the funds in the Collection Account or any ~~Issuer~~Series Account held for the benefit of such Noteholders. The Indenture Trustee and the Paying Agent shall pay to the Issuer any monies held by them for the payment of principal or interest that remains unclaimed for 2 years. After payment to the Issuer, Noteholders entitled to the money must look to the Issuer for payment as general creditors unless an applicable abandoned property law designates another Person.

16.06 ~~16.05~~ Force Majeure

In no event shall the Indenture Trustee or the Issuer Trustee be responsible or liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations hereunder arising out of or caused by, directly or indirectly, forces beyond its control, including, without limitation, strikes, work stoppages, accidents, acts of war or terrorism, civil or military disturbances, nuclear or natural catastrophes or acts of God, and interruptions, loss or malfunctions of utilities, communications or computer (software and hardware) services; it being understood that the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer Trustee shall use reasonable efforts which are consistent with accepted practices in the banking industry to resume performance as soon as practicable under the circumstances.

3.7 Servicing and Maintenance Standards

Subject to Section 3.6, the Servicer shall discharge its duties, responsibilities and obligations hereunder with reasonable care and in material compliance with the Requirements of Law, including the Act and the Regulations and, in doing so, shall follow standards, policies and procedures in performing its duties as Servicer hereunder that are customary for an electricity market operator and administrator that regularly performs settlement functions.

3.8 Appointments

The Servicer may at any time appoint any Person to act as its agent to perform all or any portion of its obligations as Servicer hereunder; provided however, that the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied in connection therewith; and provided further that the Servicer shall remain obligated and be liable for the performance of its obligations under this Agreement without diminution of such obligation and liability by virtue of the appointment of such Person and to the same extent and under the same terms and conditions as if the Servicer alone were performing such obligations. The fees and expenses of any such Person shall be as agreed between the Servicer and such Person from time to time, and the Issuer shall not have any responsibility therefor or right or claim thereto. Any such appointment shall not constitute a resignation of the Servicer under Section 3.10.

When any Person that is a Permitted Successor acquires the properties and assets of the Servicer substantially as a whole or otherwise becomes the successor, by merger, conversion, consolidation, sale, transfer, lease or otherwise, to all or substantially all the assets of the Servicer in accordance with the terms of this Section 3.11, then, upon satisfaction of all of the Notice of any such determination permitting the resignation of the IESO as Servicer shall be communicated to the Issuer and each Rating Agency at the earliest practicable time (and, if such communication is not in writing, shall be confirmed in writing at the earliest practicable time), and any such determination shall be evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel to such effect delivered to the Issuer and each Rating Agency concurrently with or promptly after such notice. No such resignation shall become effective until a Successor Servicer that is a Permitted Successor has assumed the servicing obligations and duties hereunder of the Servicer in accordance with Section 7.2.

5.8 Further Assurances

Upon the request of the Issuer, the IESO shall execute and deliver such further instruments and do such further acts as may reasonably be necessary to carry out the provisions and purposes of this Agreement.

5.9 Access to Certain Records and Information

The IESO shall provide to the Issuer access to all records relating to the IESO Deferral, the Fair Hydro Variance Account, the IESO Segregated Account and Servicer CEA Receipts, as is reasonably required for the Issuer to confirm compliance by the IESO with its obligations under this Agreement. Access shall be afforded without charge, but only upon reasonable request and during normal business hours at the offices of the IESO. Nothing in this Section 5.9 shall affect the obligation of the IESO to comply with any Requirement of Law prohibiting disclosure of information, and the failure of the IESO to provide access to such information as a result of such obligation shall not constitute a breach of this Section 5.9.

5.10 Maintenance of Operations

Subject to Section 3.11, the IESO agrees to continue, unless prevented by circumstances beyond its control, to operate as the electricity system operator in the Province of Ontario so long as it is acting as the Servicer under this Agreement.

ARTICLE 6
IESO INDEMNITIES

6.1 Liability of the IESO; Indemnities

(a) The IESO shall indemnify the Issuer and each of its trustees, officers, directors and employees (each, an "Indemnified Party"), for, and defend and hold harmless each such Person from and against, any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, payments and claims, and reasonable costs or expenses, of any kind whatsoever (collectively, "Indemnified Losses") imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Person, as a result of (i) the failure of the IESO to perform its covenants and other obligations under this Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party; or (ii) the breach by the IESO of any of its representations or warranties under this Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party and, except to the extent of Indemnified Losses resulting from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Person seeking indemnification hereunder; provided that, in each case, the IESO shall not be required to indemnify an Indemnified Party for any amount paid or payable by such Indemnified Party in the settlement of any Proceeding or investigation without the written consent of the IESO, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Promptly after receipt by an Indemnified Party of notice of the commencement of any Proceeding or investigation, such Indemnified Party shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the IESO under this Section 6.1(a), notify the IESO in writing of the commencement thereof. Failure by an Indemnified Party to so notify the IESO shall relieve the IESO from the obligation to indemnify and hold harmless such Indemnified Party under this Section 6.1(a) only to the extent that the IESO suffers actual prejudice as a result of such failure. With respect to any Proceeding or investigation brought by a third party for which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a), the IESO shall be entitled to conduct and control, at its expense and with counsel of its choosing that is reasonably satisfactory to such Indemnified Party, the defence of any such Proceeding or investigation (in which case the IESO shall not thereafter be responsible for the fees and expenses of any separate counsel retained by the Indemnified Party except as set forth below); provided, that the Indemnified Party shall have the right to participate in such Proceeding or investigation through counsel chosen by it and at its own expense. Notwithstanding the IESO's election to assume the defence of any Proceeding or investigation, the Indemnified Party shall have the right to employ separate counsel, and the IESO shall bear the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of such separate counsel, if (i) the defendants in any such action include both the Indemnified Party and the IESO and the Indemnified Party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defences available to it that are different from or additional to those available to the IESO, (ii) the IESO shall not have employed counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party to represent the Indemnified Party within a reasonable time after notice of the institution of such action, or (iii) the IESO authorizes the Indemnified Party to employ separate counsel at the expense of the IESO. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the IESO shall not be obligated to pay for the fees, costs and expenses of more than one separate counsel for the Indemnified Parties other than one local counsel, if appropriate. The IESO will not, without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Party, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to any pending or threatened claim or Proceeding in respect of which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a) (whether or not the Indemnified Party is an actual or potential party to such claim or action) unless such settlement, compromise or consent includes an unconditional release of the Indemnified Party from all liability arising out of such claim or Proceeding.

(b) For purposes of Section 6.1(a), in the event of the termination of the rights and obligations of the IESO (or any successor thereto pursuant to Section 3.11) as Servicer pursuant to Section 7.1, or a resignation by such Servicer pursuant to Section 3.10 of this Agreement, the IESO shall be deemed to be the Servicer pending appointment of a Successor Servicer pursuant to Section 7.2.

(c) Indemnification under Section 6.1(a) shall include reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses of investigation and litigation (including reasonable legal fees and expenses), except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement.

(d) Indemnification under this Section 6.1 shall survive any repeal of, modification of, or supplement to, or judicial invalidation of, the Act and shall survive the termination of this Agreement and will rank pari passu with other general, unsecured obligations of the IESO.

(e) The IESO shall not be required to indemnify any party under this Section 6.1 for any losses resulting from changes in law after the date hereof, whether such changes in law are effected by means of any legislative enactment or any final and non-appealable judicial decision.

ARTICLE 7
SERVICER DEFAULT

7.1 Servicer Default

If any one or more of the following events (each, a "Servicer Default") shall occur and be continuing:

(a) any failure by the Servicer to remit to the Collection Account any required remittance that shall continue unremedied for a period of [two/three] Business Days after written notice of such failure is received by the Servicer from the Issuer or after discovery of such failure by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(b) any failure on the part of the Servicer or, so long as the Servicer is the IESO, any failure on the part of the IESO, as the case may be, duly to observe or to perform in any respect any covenants or agreements of the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, set forth in this Agreement or in any other Program Agreement to which it is a party (other than as provided in Section 7.1(a)), which failure shall (i) materially and adversely affect the rights of the Specified Creditors and (ii) continue unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (A) written notice of such failure, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been given to the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, by the Issuer or (B) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(c) any representation or warranty made by the Servicer in this Agreement, any other Program Agreement to which it is a party, any Transfer Notice or any Monthly Report shall prove to have been incorrect when made, which has a material adverse effect on the Issuer and which remains unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (i) written notice thereof, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been delivered to the Servicer by the Issuer or (ii) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(d) an Insolvency Event occurs with respect to the Servicer or the IESO; or

(e) any additional "Servicer Default" as specified in any Co-Owner Agreement occurs;

then, and in each and every case, the Issuer may, subject to the terms of any Co-Owner Agreement, by notice then given in writing to the Servicer (a "Termination Notice"), terminate all the rights and obligations (other than the obligations set forth in Section 6.1 and the obligation under Section 7.2 to continue performing its functions as Servicer until a Successor Servicer is appointed) of the Servicer under this Agreement and under the Co-Owner Agreement. In addition, upon a Servicer Default described in Section 7.1(a), Issuer shall be entitled to apply to a court of appropriate jurisdiction for an order for sequestration and payment of revenues arising with respect to the Issuer. On or after the receipt by the Servicer of a Termination Notice, all authority and power of the Servicer under this Agreement, whether with respect to the Investment Interest, the Clean Energy Adjustments or otherwise, shall, without further action, pass to and be vested in such Successor Servicer as may be appointed under Section 7.2; and, without limitation, the Issuer is hereby authorized and empowered to execute and deliver, on behalf of the predecessor Servicer, as attorney-in-fact or otherwise, any and all documents and other instruments, and to do or accomplish all other acts or things necessary or appropriate to effect the purposes of such Termination Notice, whether to complete the transfer of all documents and records related to the Regulatory Asset, the Fair Hydro Variance Account and related documents or records, or otherwise (the "Records"). The predecessor Servicer shall cooperate with the Successor Servicer and the Issuer in effecting the termination of the responsibilities and rights of the predecessor Servicer under this Agreement, including the transfer to the Successor Servicer for administration by it of all Records and all cash amounts that shall at the time be held by the predecessor Servicer for remittance, or shall thereafter be received by it with respect to the Investment Interest or the Clean Energy Adjustment. As soon as practicable after receipt by the Servicer of such Termination Notice, the Servicer shall deliver the Records to the Successor Servicer. If a Successor Servicer has been appointed as a result of a Servicer Default, all reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred in connection with transferring the Records to the Successor Servicer and amending this Agreement and any Co-Owner Agreement to reflect such succession as Servicer pursuant to this Section 7.1 shall be paid by the predecessor Servicer upon presentation of reasonable documentation of such costs and expenses. Termination of the IESO as Servicer shall not terminate the IESO's rights or obligations under this Agreement (except rights thereunder deriving from its rights as the Servicer hereunder).

7.2 Appointment of Successor Servicer

(a) Upon the Servicer's receipt of a Termination Notice pursuant to Section 7.1 or the Servicer's resignation or removal in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the predecessor Servicer shall continue to perform its functions as Servicer under this Agreement, until a Successor Servicer shall have assumed in writing the obligations of the Servicer hereunder as described below. In the event of the Servicer's removal or resignation hereunder, the Issuer may, but subject to the provisions of the applicable Co-Owner Agreement, appoint a Successor Servicer and the Successor Servicer shall accept its appointment by a written assumption in form reasonably acceptable to the Issuer. If, within 30 days after the delivery of the Termination Notice, a Successor Servicer shall not have been appointed, the Issuer may petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a Successor Servicer under this Agreement. A Person shall qualify as a Successor Servicer only if (i) such Person is permitted under the Act to perform the duties of the Servicer, (ii) the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied with respect to such appointment, (iii) such Person enters into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer having substantially the same provisions as this Agreement and (iv) such Person agrees to perform the obligations of the Servicer under any Co-Owner Agreement. In no event shall the Issuer be liable for its appointment of a Successor Servicer..

(b) Upon appointment, the Successor Servicer shall be the successor in all respects to the predecessor Servicer and shall be subject to all the responsibilities, duties and liabilities arising thereafter placed on the predecessor Servicer and shall be entitled to all the rights granted to the predecessor Servicer by the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

7.3 Waiver of Past Defaults

The Issuer may waive in writing any default by the Servicer in the performance of its obligations hereunder and its consequences. Upon any such waiver of a past default, such default shall cease to exist, and any Servicer Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been remedied for every purpose of this Agreement. No such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereto.

7.4 Notice of Servicer Default

The Servicer shall deliver to the Issuer, promptly after having obtained knowledge thereof, but in no event later than five Business Days thereafter, written notice of any event that, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a Servicer Default under Section 7.1.

7.5 Cooperation with Successor Servicer

The Servicer covenants and agrees with the Issuer that it will, on an ongoing basis, cooperate with the Successor Servicer and provide whatever information is, and take whatever actions are, reasonably necessary to assist the Successor Servicer in performing its obligations hereunder.

ARTICLE 8
MISCELLANEOUS

8.1 Amendment

This Agreement may be amended in writing by the IESO and the Issuer, and with satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition, such satisfaction to be confirmed by the Issuer at the time of such amendment. Promptly after the execution of any such amendment, the Issuer shall furnish copies of such amendment to each of the Rating Agencies.

8.2 Withholding Rights

The parties shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from amounts payable under this Agreement such amounts as each is required to deduct and withhold with respect to such payment under the Income Tax Act (Canada) or any provision of any applicable federal, provincial, territorial, state, local or foreign tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes as having been paid to the recipient of the payment in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made, provided that such withheld amounts are actually remitted in accordance with applicable law to the appropriate taxing authority.

8.3 No Partnership

Each party expressly disclaims any intention to create a partnership, and none of the Issuer or the IESO will be deemed to be carrying on business in partnership by reason of its execution and delivery of this Agreement or the exercise or performance by it of its respective rights and obligations hereunder.

8.4 Notices

Each party hereto may, by notice given in accordance herewith to the other party or parties hereto, designate any further or different address to which subsequent notices, reports and other communications shall be sent. Any notice, report or communication required to be given by the IESO hereunder to a Rating Agency shall be given to the address provided by the Issuer from time to time.

8.5 Assignment

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, except as provided in the provisions of this Agreement concerning the resignation of the Servicer, this Agreement may not be assigned by the IESO.

8.6 Limitations on Rights of Third Parties

The provisions of this Agreement are solely for the benefit of the IESO and the Issuer, and such Persons shall have the right to enforce the relevant provisions of this Agreement. Nothing in this Agreement, whether express or implied, shall be construed to give to any other Person any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim in the Issuer Investment Interest or under or in respect of this Agreement or any covenants, conditions or provisions contained herein.

8.7 Severability

Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remainder of such provision (if any) or the remaining provisions hereof (unless such construction shall be unreasonable), and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.

8.8 Separate Counterparts; Electronic Delivery

This Agreement may be executed by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument. Delivery of an executed signature page to this Agreement by a party by electronic transmission will be as effective as delivery of a manually executed copy of this Agreement by such party.

8.9 Governing Law

This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein, and each party to this Agreement attorns to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Ontario.

8.10 Grant of Security Interest to Indenture Trustee

The IESO hereby acknowledges and consents to the grant of a Lien by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the benefit of the Specified Creditors against all right, title and interest of the Issuer in, to and under this Agreement, the Investment Interest and the proceeds thereof and the assignment of any or all of the Issuer's rights hereunder to the Indenture Trustee for the benefit of the Specified Creditors.

8.11 Limitation of Liability of the Issuer Trustee

(a) It is expressly understood and agreed by the parties hereto that the Issuer Trustee is acting solely in its capacity as trustee of the Issuer, and not in any other capacity. The Issuer solely shall be responsible for the performance of the Issuer's obligations hereunder and the assets of the Issuer solely shall be subject to levy or execution in satisfaction of such obligations.

(b) The Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability whatsoever, in tort, in contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, to the Issuer's beneficiaries or to any other Person, for any action taken or permitted by the Issuer Trustee to be taken, or the Issuer Trustee's failure to compel in any way any former or acting Issuer Trustee to redress any breach of trust with respect to the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, provided that the foregoing limitation will not apply in respect of action or failure to act arising from or in connection with dishonesty, bad faith, willful misconduct, gross negligence or reckless disregard of a duty by the Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee, in doing anything or permitting anything to be done in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, is, and will be conclusively deemed to be, acting as trustee of the Issuer and not in any other capacity. Except as to the extent provided in this Section 8.11, the Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or for or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities and resort will be had solely to the Issuer's property for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the Issuer Trustee owned in its personal capacity will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Agreement.

(c) The holders of the units of the Issuer will not be subject to any liability whatsoever, in tort, in contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, to the Issuer's beneficiaries or to any other Person, for any action taken or permitted by it to be taken. The holders of the units of the Issuer will not be subject to any liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or for or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities and resort will be had solely to the Issuer's property for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the holders of the units of the Issuer owned in their personal capacity will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Agreement.

8.12 Waivers

Any term or provision of this Agreement may be waived, or the time for its performance may be extended, by the party or parties entitled to the benefit thereof. Any such waiver shall be validly and sufficiently authorized for the purposes of this Agreement if, as to any party, it is authorized in writing by an authorized representative of such party, with prompt written notice of any such waiver to be provided to the Rating Agencies. The failure of any party hereto to enforce at any time any provision of this Agreement shall not be construed to be a waiver of such provision, nor in any way to affect the validity of this Agreement or any part hereof or the right of any party thereafter to enforce each and every such provision. No waiver of any breach of this Agreement shall be held to constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach.

When any Person that is a Permitted Successor acquires the properties and assets of the Servicer substantially as a whole or otherwise becomes the successor, by merger, conversion, consolidation, sale, transfer, lease or otherwise, to all or substantially all the assets of the Servicer in accordance with the terms of this Section 3.11, then, upon satisfaction of all of the other conditions of this Section 3.11, the preceding Servicer shall automatically and without further notice be released from all of its obligations hereunder (except for responsibilities for its actions prior to such release).

3.12 The IESO Not to Resign as Servicer

Subject to the provisions of Section 3.11, the IESO shall not resign from the obligations and duties imposed on it as Servicer under this Agreement except upon a determination that the performance of its duties under this Agreement shall no longer be permissible under applicable Requirements of Law. Notice of any such determination permitting the resignation of the IESO as Servicer shall be communicated to the Issuer and each Rating Agency at the earliest practicable time (and, if such communication is not in writing, shall be confirmed in writing at the earliest practicable time), and any such determination shall be evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel to such effect delivered to the Issuer and each Rating Agency concurrently with or promptly after such notice. (c) Power and Authority. The IESO has the requisite corporate power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to carry out its terms. (e) No Violation. The consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms hereof by the IESO do not conflict with, result in any breach of any of the terms and provisions of, or constitute (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) a default under, the IESO's by-laws, or any indenture, or other material agreement or instrument to which the IESO is a party or by which it is bound, result in the creation or imposition of any Lien upon any of the IESO's properties pursuant to the terms of any such indenture, agreement or other instrument or violate any existing law or any order, rule or regulation applicable to the IESO issued by any Governmental Authority having jurisdiction over the IESO or its properties, except, in each case, where such breach would not reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the performance by the IESO of its obligations under~~,~~ this Agreement or the Act or the validity or enforceability of~~,~~ this Agreement ~~or the Act~~.

(f) No Proceedings. To the IESO's knowledge, except as disclosed in writing to the Issuer, there are no Proceedings pending or threatened against the IESO or its properties: (a) asserting the invalidity of this Agreement or the Act, (b) seeking to prevent the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Act, or (c) seeking a determination or ruling that could reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the performance by the IESO of its obligations under~~,~~ this Agreement or the Act or the validity or enforceability of~~,~~ this Agreement ~~or the Act~~.

(g) Approvals. No approvals, authorizations, consents, orders or other actions or filings with any Governmental Authority are required for the IESO to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement except those which have previously been obtained or made.

(i) The Transfer. After the completion of the Transfer on the applicable Closing Date, the IESO will have no right, title or interest in the Investment Interest related to the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice, and the related Investment Interest shall not form part of the estate of the IESO in the event of an Insolvency Event in respect of the IESO.

(j) No Transfer. Except for Permitted Transfers, the IESO has not sold, transferred, assigned or otherwise conveyed any interest in the Regulatory Asset to any Person.

(k) Liens. IESO has not pledged or otherwise granted a Lien to any Person in the Regulatory Asset and to the IESO's knowledge (after due inquiry), there is no registered financing statement listing the IESO as debtor covering or extending to the Regulatory Asset.

(l) Tax Liens. The IESO (i) is not aware, after due inquiry, of any judgment or tax lien filing against the IESO, and (ii) is not a non-resident of Canada for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada).

5.2 No Transfer or Liens

Except for Transfers under this Agreement to the Issuer or Permitted Transfers, the IESO will not Transfer the Regulatory Asset or any portion thereof to any person. The IESO will not grant, create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Lien on the Regulatory Asset or any portion thereof. The IESO will not at any time assert any Lien against or with respect to the Issuer Investment Interest, except for any Lien granted by the Issuer to the IESO.

The IESO shall notify the Issuer promptly after becoming aware of any Lien on any portion of the Regulatory Asset.

5.4 Compliance with Law

The IESO will comply with all Requirements of Law applicable to, and binding upon, the IESO or relating to the Regulatory Asset, except to the extent that failure to so comply would not materially adversely affect the Transfer of Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset or the IESO's performance of its obligations under this Agreement; provided, however, that the foregoing is not intended to, and shall not, impose any liability on the IESO for non-compliance with any Requirement of Law that the IESO is contesting in good faith in accordance with its customary standards and procedures.

5.5 Covenants Related to the Investment Interest

(a) So long as any Issuer Funding Obligations are outstanding, the IESO shall treat the Issuer Investment Interest as the Issuer's property for all purposes.

(c) The IESO shall disclose the effects of all transactions between the IESO and the Issuer in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (for government entities).

(d) (i) In all Proceedings relating directly or indirectly to the Issuer Investment Interest, the IESO shall affirmatively certify and confirm that it has Transferred all of its rights and interests in and to the Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset giving rise to the Issuer Investment Interest, (ii) the IESO shall not make any statement or reference in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest that is inconsistent with the ownership interest of the Issuer, and (iii) the IESO shall not take any action in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest except solely in its capacity as the Servicer thereof pursuant to this Agreement.

5.6 Non-petition Covenants

Notwithstanding any prior termination of this Agreement or the Indenture, the IESO shall not, prior to the date that is one year plus one day after termination of the Indenture and the payment in full of all Issuer Funding Obligations and any other amounts owed under the Indenture, petition or otherwise invoke the process of any Governmental Authority for the purpose of commencing or sustaining a Proceeding against the Issuer under any Canadian bankruptcy, insolvency or similar law, appointing a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, custodian, sequestrator or other similar official or any substantial part of the property of the Issuer.

5.7 Disclosure

The IESO shall provide such non-confidential information regarding IESO, the Regulatory Asset and the services provided by the Servicer hereunder (collectively, the "IESO Disclosure") as may be reasonably requested by the Issuer for inclusion in any offering document of the Issuer from time to time, including but not limited to offering memoranda, prospectuses, registration statements and continuous disclosure documents (the "Offering Documents"), provided that the IESO has been given a reasonable opportunity by the Issuer to review any such Offering Documents. The IESO represents that, except in respect information provided by a third party, all IESO Disclosure, as at the respective dates of delivery to the Issuer, is true and correct in all material respects and contains no misrepresentation.

5.8 Further Assurances

Upon the request of the Issuer, the IESO shall execute and deliver such further instruments and do such further acts as may reasonably be necessary to carry out the provisions and purposes of this Agreement.

5.9 Access to Certain Records and Information

The IESO shall provide to the Issuer access to all records relating to the IESO Deferral, the Fair Hydro Variance Account, the IESO Segregated Account and Servicer CEA Receipts, as is reasonably required for the Issuer to confirm compliance by the IESO with its obligations under this Agreement. Access shall be afforded without charge, but only upon reasonable request and during normal business hours at the offices of the IESO. Nothing in this Section 5.9 shall affect the obligation of the IESO to comply with any Requirement of Law prohibiting disclosure of information, and the failure of the IESO to provide access to such information as a result of such obligation shall not constitute a breach of this Section 5.9.

5.10 Maintenance of Operations

Subject to Section 3.11, the IESO agrees to continue, unless prevented by circumstances beyond its control, to operate as the electricity system operator in the Province of Ontario so long as it is acting as the Servicer under this Agreement.

ARTICLE 6
IESO INDEMNITIES

6.1 Liability of the IESO; Indemnities

(a) The IESO shall indemnify the Issuer~~, the Manager~~ and each of ~~their respective~~its trustees, officers, directors and employees (each, an "Indemnified Party"), for, and defend and hold harmless each such Person from and against, any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, payments and claims, and reasonable costs or expenses, of any kind whatsoever (collectively, "Indemnified Losses") imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Person, as a result of (i) the failure of the IESO to perform its covenants and other obligations under this Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party; or (ii) the breach by the IESO of any of its representations or warranties under this Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party and, except to the extent of Indemnified Losses resulting from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Person seeking indemnification hereunder; provided that, in each case, the IESO shall not be required to indemnify an Indemnified Party for any amount paid or payable by such Indemnified Party in the settlement of any Proceeding or investigation without the written consent of the IESO, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Promptly after receipt by an Indemnified Party of notice of the commencement of any Proceeding or investigation, such Indemnified Party shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the IESO under this Section 6.1(a), notify the IESO in writing of the commencement thereof. Failure by an Indemnified Party to so notify the IESO shall relieve the IESO from the obligation to indemnify and hold harmless such Indemnified Party under this Section 6.1(a) only to the extent that the IESO suffers actual prejudice as a result of such failure. With respect to any Proceeding or investigation brought by a third party for which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a), the IESO shall be entitled to conduct and control, at its expense and with counsel of its choosing that is reasonably satisfactory to such Indemnified Party, the defence of any such Proceeding or investigation (in which case the IESO shall not thereafter be responsible for the fees and expenses of any separate counsel retained by the Indemnified Party except as set forth below); provided, that the Indemnified Party shall have the right to participate in such Proceeding or investigation through counsel chosen by it and at its own expense. Notwithstanding the IESO's election to assume the defence of any Proceeding or investigation, the Indemnified Party shall have the right to employ separate counsel, and the IESO shall bear the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of such separate counsel, if (i) the defendants in any such action include both the Indemnified Party and the IESO and the Indemnified Party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defences available to it that are different from or additional to those available to the IESO, (ii) the IESO shall not have employed counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party to represent the Indemnified Party within a reasonable time after notice of the institution of such action, or (iii) the IESO authorizes the Indemnified Party to employ separate counsel at the expense of the IESO. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the IESO shall not be obligated to pay for the fees, costs and expenses of more than one separate counsel for the Indemnified Parties other than one local counsel, if appropriate. The IESO will not, without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Party, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to any pending or threatened claim or Proceeding in respect of which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a) (whether or not the Indemnified Party is an actual or potential party to such claim or action) unless such settlement, compromise or consent includes an unconditional release of the Indemnified Party from all liability arising out of such claim or Proceeding.

(b) For purposes of Section 6.1(a), in the event of the termination of the rights and obligations of the IESO (or any successor thereto pursuant to Section 3.11) as Servicer pursuant to Section 7.1, or a resignation by such Servicer pursuant to Section 3.10 of this Agreement, the IESO shall be deemed to be the Servicer pending appointment of a Successor Servicer pursuant to Section 7.2.

(c) Indemnification under Section 6.1(a) shall include reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses of investigation and litigation (including reasonable legal fees and expenses), except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement.

(d) Indemnification under this Section 6.1 shall survive any repeal of, modification of, or supplement to, or judicial invalidation of, the Act and shall survive the termination of this Agreement and will rank pari passu with other general, unsecured obligations of the IESO.

(e) The IESO shall not be required to indemnify any party under this Section 6.1 for any losses resulting from changes in law after the date hereof, whether such changes in law are effected by means of any legislative enactment or any final and non-appealable judicial decision.

~~[Note to Draft: The Indenture Trustee has been removed as a party to this Agreement on the understanding that a separate acknowledgement and indemnity will be entered into between the IESO and the Indenture Trustee in which the IESO acknowledges the Indenture Trustee's right to enforce this Agreement, and in which the IESO provides an similar indemnity to that above in favour of the Indenture Trustee on behalf of the Specified Creditors.]~~

SERVICER DEFAULT

7.1 Servicer Default

If any one or more of the following events (each, a "Servicer Default") shall occur and be continuing:

(a) any failure by the Servicer to remit to the Collection Account any required remittance that shall continue unremedied for a period of [two/three~~] [NTD: Rating Agencies will expect 2-3 days~~] Business Days after written notice of such failure is received by the Servicer from the Issuer or after discovery of such failure by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(b) any failure on the part of the Servicer or, so long as the Servicer is the IESO, any failure on the part of the IESO, as the case may be, duly to observe or to perform in any respect any covenants or agreements of the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, set forth in this Agreement or in any other Program Agreement to which it is a party (other than as provided in Section 7.1(a)), which failure shall (i) materially and adversely affect the rights of the Specified Creditors and (ii) continue unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (A) written notice of such failure, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been given to the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, by the Issuer or (B) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(c) any representation or warranty made by the Servicer in this Agreement, any other Program Agreement to which it is a party, any Transfer Notice or any Monthly Report shall prove to have been incorrect when made, which has a material adverse effect on the Issuer and which remains unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (i) written notice thereof, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been delivered to the Servicer by the Issuer or (ii) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(d) an Insolvency Event occurs with respect to the Servicer or the IESO; or

(e) any additional "Servicer Default" as specified in any Co-Owner Agreement occurs;

then, and in each and every case, the Issuer may, subject to the terms of any Co-Owner Agreement, by notice then given in writing to the Servicer (a "Termination Notice"), terminate all the rights and obligations (other than the obligations set forth in Section 6.1 and the obligation under Section 7.2 to continue performing its functions as Servicer until a Successor Servicer is appointed) of the Servicer under this Agreement and under the Co-Owner Agreement. In addition, upon a Servicer Default described in Section 7.1(a), Issuer shall be entitled to apply to a court of appropriate jurisdiction for an order for sequestration and payment of revenues arising with respect to the Issuer. On or after the receipt by the Servicer of a Termination Notice, all authority and power of the Servicer under this Agreement, whether with respect to the Investment

Interest, the Clean Energy Adjustments or otherwise, shall, without further action, pass to and be vested in such Successor Servicer as may be appointed under Section 7.2; and, without limitation, the Issuer is hereby authorized and empowered to execute and deliver, on behalf of the predecessor Servicer, as attorney-in-fact or otherwise, any and all documents and other instruments, and to do or accomplish all other acts or things necessary or appropriate to effect the purposes of such Termination Notice, whether to complete the transfer of all documents and records related to the Regulatory Asset, the Fair Hydro Variance Account and related documents or records, or otherwise (the "Records"). The predecessor Servicer shall cooperate with the Successor Servicer and the Issuer in effecting the termination of the responsibilities and rights of the predecessor Servicer under this Agreement, including the transfer to the Successor Servicer for administration by it of all Records and all cash amounts that shall at the time be held by the predecessor Servicer for remittance, or shall thereafter be received by it with respect to the Investment Interest or the Clean Energy Adjustment. As soon as practicable after receipt by the Servicer of such Termination Notice, the Servicer shall deliver the Records to the Successor Servicer. If a Successor Servicer has been appointed as a result of a Servicer Default, all reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred in connection with transferring the Records to the Successor Servicer and amending this Agreement and any Co-Owner Agreement to reflect such succession as Servicer pursuant to this Section 7.1 shall be paid by the predecessor Servicer upon presentation of reasonable documentation of such costs and expenses. Termination of the IESO as Servicer shall not terminate the IESO's rights or obligations under this Agreement (except rights thereunder deriving from its rights as the Servicer hereunder).

7.2 Appointment of Successor Servicer

(a) Upon the Servicer's receipt of a Termination Notice pursuant to Section 7.1 or the Servicer's resignation or removal in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the predecessor Servicer shall continue to perform its functions as Servicer under this Agreement, until a Successor Servicer shall have assumed in writing the obligations of the Servicer hereunder as described below. In the event of the Servicer's removal or resignation hereunder, the Issuer may, but subject to the provisions of the applicable Co-Owner Agreement, appoint a Successor Servicer and the Successor Servicer shall accept its appointment by a written assumption in form reasonably acceptable to the Issuer. If, within 30 days after the delivery of the Termination Notice, a Successor Servicer shall not have been appointed, the Issuer may petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a Successor Servicer under this Agreement. A Person shall qualify as a Successor Servicer only if (i) such Person is permitted under the Act to perform the duties of the Servicer, (ii) the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied with respect to such appointment, (iii) such Person enters into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer having substantially the same provisions as this Agreement and (iv) such Person agrees to perform the obligations of the Servicer under any Co-Owner Agreement. In no event shall the Issuer be liable for its appointment of a Successor Servicer..

(b) Upon appointment, the Successor Servicer shall be the successor in all respects to the predecessor Servicer and shall be subject to all the responsibilities, duties and liabilities arising thereafter placed on the predecessor Servicer and shall be entitled to all the rights granted to the predecessor Servicer by the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

7.3 Waiver of Past Defaults

The Issuer may waive in writing any default by the Servicer in the performance of its obligations hereunder and its consequences. Upon any such waiver of a past default, such default shall cease to exist, and any Servicer Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been remedied for every purpose of this Agreement. No such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereto.

7.4 Notice of Servicer Default

The Servicer shall deliver to the Issuer, promptly after having obtained knowledge thereof, but in no event later than five Business Days thereafter, written notice of any event that, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a Servicer Default under Section 7.1.

7.5 Cooperation with Successor Servicer

The Servicer covenants and agrees with the Issuer that it will, on an ongoing basis, cooperate with the Successor Servicer and provide whatever information is, and take whatever actions are, reasonably necessary to assist the Successor Servicer in performing its obligations hereunder.

This Agreement may be executed by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument. 8.11 Limitation of Liability of the Issuer Trustee

(a) It is expressly understood and agreed by the parties hereto that the Issuer Trustee is acting solely in its capacity as trustee of the Issuer, and not in any other capacity. The Issuer solely shall be responsible for the performance of the Issuer's obligations hereunder and the assets of the Issuer solely shall be subject to levy or execution in satisfaction of such obligations.

(b) The Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability whatsoever, in tort, in contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, to the Issuer's beneficiaries or to any other Person, for any action taken or permitted by the Issuer Trustee to be taken, or the Issuer Trustee's failure to compel in any way any former or acting Issuer Trustee to redress any breach of trust with respect to the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, provided that the foregoing limitation will not apply in respect of action or failure to act arising from or in connection with dishonesty, bad faith, willful misconduct, gross negligence or reckless disregard of a duty by the Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee, in doing anything or permitting anything to be done in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, is, and will be conclusively deemed to be, acting as trustee of the Issuer and not in any other capacity. The holders of the units of the Issuer will not be subject to any liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or for or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities and resort will be had solely to the Issuer's property for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the holders of the units of the Issuer owned in their personal capacity will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Agreement.

8.12 Waivers

Any term or provision of this Agreement may be waived, or the time for its performance may be extended, by the party or parties entitled to the benefit thereof. Any such waiver shall be validly and sufficiently authorized for the purposes of this Agreement if, as to any party, it is authorized in writing by an authorized representative of such party, with prompt written notice of any such waiver to be provided to the Rating Agencies. The failure of any party hereto to enforce at any time any provision of this Agreement shall not be construed to be a waiver of such provision, nor in any way to affect the validity of this Agreement or any part hereof or the right of any party thereafter to enforce each and every such provision. No waiver of any breach of this Agreement shall be held to constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach.

3. COVENANTS OF THE GRANTOR

3.1 Covenants

The Grantor hereby covenants and agrees with the Secured Party as follows:

4.1 Grantor's Rights

Until the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2, the Grantor shall be entitled to deal with the Collateral in the ordinary course of business, provided however, that no such action shall be taken which would impair the effectiveness of the security interests created hereby, the provisions of this Agreement or any other written agreement between the Secured Party and the Grantor.

5. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

5.1 Representations and Warranties

The Grantor hereby represents and warrants to the Secured Party, the matters set out below:

(a) Incorporation and Qualifications – The Grantor is a statutory corporation amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, with requisite power and authority to own its properties, to conduct its business as such properties are currently owned and such business is presently conducted by it, and to execute, deliver and carry out the terms of this Agreement.

All representations and warranties of the Grantor made in this Agreement shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and shall continue in full force and effect without time limit. The Secured Party shall be deemed to have relied upon each such representation and warranty notwithstanding any investigation made by or on behalf of the Secured Party at any time.

(f) to enjoy and exercise in respect of the Collateral all of the rights and remedies of a secured party under the PPSA;

(g) to notify the account debtors or obligors under any Accounts which constitute part of the Collateral of the assignment of such Accounts to the Secured Party and to direct such account debtors or obligors to make payment of all amounts due or to become due to the Grantor thereunder directly to the Secured Party and to give valid and binding receipts and discharges therefor and in respect thereof and, upon such notification and at the expense of the Grantor, to enforce collection of any such Accounts, and to adjust, settle or compromise the amount or payment thereof, in the same manner and to the same extent as the Grantor might have done; and

(h) to commence, continue or defend proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction in the name of the Secured Party, the Receiver or the Grantor for the purpose of exercising any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Section, including the institution of proceedings for the appointment of a receiver, manager or receiver and manager of the Collateral.

(c) third, in payment of the Statutory Obligation, provided that if there are not sufficient Moneys to fully pay and perform the Statutory Obligation, the Secured Party may apply the Moneys available to such part or parts thereof as the Secured Party, in its sole discretion, may determine; and

(d) fourth, in payment of any surplus in accordance with applicable law.

6.9 Grantor Liable for Deficiency

If the Moneys received by the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 are not sufficient to pay the claims set out in Section 6.8, the Grantor shall immediately pay the Secured Party the amount of such deficiency.

6.10 Restriction on Grantor

Upon notification of the account debtors or obligors under any Accounts which constitute part of the Collateral of the assignment of such Accounts to the Secured Party or the appointment of a Receiver in respect of the Collateral, all the powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor with respect to the Collateral shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be suspended unless specifically continued by the written consent of the Secured Party; however, all other powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor shall be unaffected by such events.

6.11 Rights Cumulative

All rights and remedies of the Secured Party set out in this Agreement shall be cumulative and no right or remedy contained herein is intended to be exclusive but each shall be in addition to every other right or remedy contained herein or in any existing or future security document or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or by statute.

7. GENERAL

7.1 Waiver

Any default by the Grantor in the observance or performance of any covenant or condition required to be observed or performed by the Grantor hereunder, may only be waived by the Secured Party in writing, provided that no such waiver by the Secured Party shall extend to or be taken in any manner to affect any subsequent breach or default or the rights resulting therefrom.

7.2 The Secured Party as Attorney

At any time that the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2, the Grantor hereby irrevocably appoints the Secured Party and any person further designated by the Secured Party to be the attorney of the Grantor for and in the name of the Grantor to execute and do any deeds, documents, transfers, demands, assignments, assurances, consents and things which the Grantor is obliged to sign, execute or do hereunder and, to commence, continue and defend any proceedings authorized to be taken hereunder and generally to use the name of the Grantor in the exercise of all or any of the powers hereby conferred on the Secured Party. These powers are coupled with an interest, have been given for valuable consideration (the receipt and adequacy of which is acknowledged), survive, and do not terminate upon, the bankruptcy, dissolution, winding up or insolvency of the Grantor, and are irrevocable until the Statutory Obligation has been satisfied in full and this Agreement is terminated and the security interest created herein has been released. This power of attorney extends to and is binding upon the Grantor's successors and permitted assigns. The Grantor authorizes the Secured Party to delegate in writing to another person any power and authority of the Secured Party under this power of attorney as may be necessary or desirable in the opinion of the Secured Party, and to revoke or suspend such delegation.

7.3 Further Assurances

The Grantor shall do, execute, acknowledge and deliver or cause to be done, executed, acknowledged and delivered, such further acts, deeds, mortgages, transfers and assurances as the Secured Party shall reasonably require for the better assuring, charging, assigning and conferring unto the Secured Party a security interest in the Collateral, or which the Grantor may hereafter become bound to charge in favour of the Secured Party, for the purpose of accomplishing and effecting the intention of this Agreement.

7.4 Amalgamation of the Grantor

7.5 Continuing Security

The security interest constituted hereby shall be deemed to be a continuing security for the Statutory Obligation until the Statutory Obligation is paid and performed in full.

7.6 Notices

All notices and other communications provided for herein shall be in writing and shall be personally delivered to an officer or other responsible employee of the addressee or sent by facsimile, charges prepaid, at or to the applicable address or facsimile number, as the case may be, of the party set opposite its name below or at or to such other address or addresses or facsimile number or numbers as either party may from time to time designate to the other party in such manner. NOTE PURCHASE FACILITY

3.1 Purchase of Notes by the Purchasers

(a) Initial Purchases. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Supplemental Indenture, including delivery of notice in accordance with Section 3.3, (i) each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall purchase, and each CP Conduit Purchaser may, in its sole discretion, purchase a Series 2017-1 Senior Note in an amount equal to all or a portion of its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount on any Business Day during the period from the date hereof to and including [December 15, 2017], and if any such CP Conduit Purchaser shall have notified the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser that it has elected not to fund a Series 2017-1 Senior Note in an amount equal to its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount on the Closing Date, the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall fund on the Closing Date that portion of such Series 2017-1 Senior Note not to be funded by such CP Conduit Purchaser; and (ii) thereafter, (A) each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall maintain its Series 2017-1 Senior Note, subject to increase or decrease during the period from the Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in accordance with the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture, (B) if a CP Conduit Purchaser shall have purchased a Series 2017-1 Senior Note on the Closing Date, such CP Conduit Purchaser may, in its sole discretion, maintain its Series 2017-1 Senior Note, subject to increase or decrease during the period from the Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in accordance with the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture, and (C) the Group Bank shall maintain its Series 2017-1 Senior Note with respect to its Related Purchaser Group, subject to increase or decrease during the period from the Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in accordance with the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture. Payments by the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers and/or the Group Bank with respect to the CP Conduit Purchasers shall be made in immediately available funds on the Closing Date in accordance with Section 3.3(d).

(b) Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Supplemental Indenture, at no time shall a Purchaser Group be required to make the initial purchase of a Series 2017-1 Senior Note or increase its Purchaser Group Principal Amount if the sum of (x) Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group, after giving effect to such purchase or increase, and (y) the sum of any unfunded Delayed Amounts with respect to such Purchaser Group, would exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group at such time.

3.2 Delivery

(a) On the Closing Date (or on any later date that any Purchaser Group becomes a party to this Supplemental Indenture), Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall be executed, authenticated and delivered by the Issuer in accordance with Section 4.03 of the Trust Indenture (i) in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, in the name of the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group (or as otherwise requested by such CP Conduit Purchaser Group and agreed to by the Issuer) in an amount equal to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group and delivered to such Funding Agent; or (ii) in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, in the name of the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser in an amount equal to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Related Non-Conduit Purchaser Group and delivered to such Related Non-Conduit Purchaser.

(b) The Administrative Agent shall maintain a record of the actual Purchaser Group Principal Amount outstanding with respect to each Purchaser Group and the actual Series 2017-1 Principal Amount outstanding on any date of determination, which, absent manifest error, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the outstanding Purchaser Group Principal Amounts and outstanding Series 2017-1 Principal Amount from time to time. Upon a written request from the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent shall provide in writing the identity of the Purchaser Groups, the related Funding Agents for each CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the Purchaser Group Principal Amount for each Purchaser Group and the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group to the Indenture Trustee.

3.3 Procedure for Initial Issuance and for Increasing the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount

(a) (i) On any Business Day prior to [December 15, 2017], in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit Purchaser in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, that it will purchase a Series 2017-1 Senior Note for an initial purchase price equal to the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount upon the request of the Issuer (the date on which the initial purchase occurs being referred to as the "Closing Date"); provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable written notice (effective upon receipt), by email communication, substantially in the form of Schedule C no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the third Business Day prior to the Closing Date. The written notice of the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall state (x) the Closing Date, and (y) the initial total purchase price to be paid for the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes (the "Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount"); and (ii) subject to Section 3.3(e), on any Business Day during the period from the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes hereunder to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit Purchaser in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees that the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group may be increased by an amount equal to the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group of the Increase Amount (an "Increase"), upon the request of the Issuer (each date on which an increase in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount occurs hereunder being herein referred to as the "Increase Date" applicable to such Increase); provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable (other than as specified in Section 3.3(e)) written notice (effective upon receipt), by email communication, substantially in the form of Schedule C (an "Increase Notice") no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on (A) with respect to a Deferrable Increase Notice, the third Business Day prior to such Increase Date, or (B) with respect to a Non-Deferrable Increase Notice, the second Business Day prior to such Increase Date. Each Increase Notice shall state (x) the Increase Date, (y) the proposed amount of the increase in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount (an "Increase Amount"), (z) whether a Delayed Funding Notice may be delivered in connection with such Increase pursuant to Section 3.3(e) and whether the Increase is to fund a Transfer (a "Transfer Increase") or is in respect of a Refinancing (a "Refinancing Increase"). The Commitment Percentage with respect to any Purchaser Group of the Increase Amount set forth in any Non-Deferrable Increase Notice shall not exceed such Purchaser Group's Non-Deferrable Draw Amount as of the related Increase Date.

(b) If a CP Conduit Purchaser elects not to fund the full amount of its Commitment Percentage of a requested Increase, such CP Conduit Purchaser shall notify the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall fund the portion of the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Related Purchaser Group of such Increase not funded by such CP Conduit Purchaser.

(c) No Purchaser Group shall be required to increase its Purchaser Group Principal Amount on any Increase Date hereunder unless:

(i) such Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of such Increase Amount is (A) equal to $[1,000,000] or more, or (B) if less than $[1,000,000], the difference between the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group and the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group; and

(ii) after giving effect to such Increase Amount, the sum of the (x) the Purchaser Group Principal Amount, and (y) any unfunded Delayed Amounts with respect to such Purchaser Group would not exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group;

(d) Upon receipt of any notice required by Section 3.3(a) or permitted by Section 3.3(e) from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall forward (by email communication) a copy of such notice to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group (or, with respect to any notice pursuant to Section 3.3(e) requiring a Delayed Funding Purchaser Group to decrease its Delayed Amount, the applicable Non-Conduit Purchaser or Funding Agent), no later than [5:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the Business Day received. After receipt by any Funding Agent with respect to a CP Conduit Purchaser Group of such notice from the Administrative Agent, such Funding Agent shall, so long as the conditions set forth in Sections 3.3(a) and (c) and Article 4 are satisfied, promptly provide notice by email communication to the related CP Conduit Purchaser and the related Group Bank, of the Increase Date and of such CP Conduit Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of the Closing Date or Increase Amount, as applicable. Subject to Section 3.3(e), if such CP Conduit Purchaser elects to fund all or a portion of its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or the Increase Amount, as applicable, such CP Conduit Purchaser shall pay in immediately available funds its Commitment Percentage (or any portion thereof) of the amount of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or Increase Amount, as applicable, on the Closing Date or the related Increase

Date, as applicable, to the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group for remittance to the Issuer for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h). Subject to Section 3.3(e), if such CP Conduit Purchaser does not fund the full amount of the Commitment Percentage of such CP Conduit Purchaser Group of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or an Increase Amount, as applicable, and the related Group Bank is required to fund the portion thereof not funded by the CP Conduit Purchaser, such Group Bank shall pay in immediately available funds such portion on the Closing Date or the related Increase Date, as applicable, to the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Each Funding Agent shall remit the amounts received by it from its CP Conduit Purchaser or the related Group Bank pursuant to this Section 3.3(d) to the Issuer for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h). Subject to Section 3.3(e), so long as the conditions set forth in Sections 3.3(a) and (c) and Article 4 are satisfied, each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall pay in immediately available funds the Commitment Percentage of such Non-Conduit Purchaser of the amount of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or Increase Amount, as applicable, on the Closing Date or the Increase Date, as applicable, to the Issuer for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h).

(e) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser who shall have previously notified the Issuer in writing that it or any related Program Support Provider may, in the absence of the Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser having the ability to deliver Delayed Funding Notices hereunder, incur charges under, or in anticipation of, Basel III (which may include external charges incurred by the Group Bank, Non-Conduit Purchaser or Program Support Provider or internal charges incurred by any of their businesses) in respect of its Commitment hereunder or any agreement to support such Commitment, or in respect of its interest in the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, based on its "liquidity coverage ratio" calculated under Basel III, may, upon receipt of any Deferrable Increase Notice pursuant to Section 3.3(a), notify the Issuer in writing (a "Delayed Funding Notice") on or prior to [12:00 noon] (Toronto time) on the second Business Day preceding the related Increase Date, of its intent to fund an amount up to its Commitment Percentage of the related Increase Amount (such amount, subject to any adjustment described below, the "Delayed Amount") on a Business Day that is on or before the thirty-third (33rd) day following the Increase Date specified in such Deferrable Increase Notice (the "Delayed Funding Date") rather than on such Increase Date. If any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer following the Issuer's delivery of an Increase Notice pursuant to Section 3.3(a), the Issuer may with written notice to the Administrative Agent delivered prior to 3:00 pm on the second Business Day preceding such Increase Date, (x) decrease the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice (or revoke such Deferrable Increase Notice by decreasing the Increase Amount to zero), and/or (y) require any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser who has provided a Delayed Funding Notice to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase by an amount no greater than the Non-Deferrable Draw Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group as of the related Increase Date. In the event that the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice is reduced, but not to zero, then any Delayed Amount with respect to any Purchaser Group shall be reduced on a pro rata basis unless otherwise specified by the Issuer pursuant to clause (y) above. No Purchaser Group that has provided a Delayed Funding Notice in respect of an Increase (each a "Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") shall be considered to be in default of its obligation to fund its Delayed Amount pursuant to this Section 3.3 unless and until it has failed to fund the Delayed Amount (and/or the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount) on or before the Delayed Funding Date. [NTD: the definition of "Non-Deferrable Draw Amount" includes a percentage (currently [10]%) that represents the amount that cannot be deferred by the dealers. OPG should make a proposal as to this percentage.]

(f) If (i) one or more Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer in respect of any Increase Date; and (ii) the Issuer shall not have decreased the related Increase Amount to zero or required each such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase to zero, in each case, pursuant to Section 3.3(e), the Administrative Agent shall, by no later than [12:00 noon] (Toronto time) on the Business Day preceding such Increase Date, direct each Purchaser Group that is not a Delayed Funding Purchaser Group with respect to such Increase Date (each a "Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") to fund an additional portion of such Increase Amount on such Increase Date equal to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group's proportionate share (based upon the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group relative to the sum of the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts with respect to all Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups) of the aggregate Delayed Amounts with respect to such Increase Date; provided that no Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall be required to fund any portion of the aggregate Delayed Amounts that would cause its Purchaser Group Principal Amount to exceed its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount. Subject to Section 3.3(a), in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a Non-Conduit Purchaser, such Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or, in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group hereby agrees, to fund such portion of the Increase Amount on such Increase Date.

(g) After the Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups fund a Delayed Amount on any Increase Date in accordance with Section 3.3(f), the Delayed Funding Purchaser Group in respect of such Delayed Amount will be obligated to fund the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount on or before its Delayed Funding Date, irrespective of whether the Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date shall have occurred on or prior to such Delayed Funding Date or the Issuer would be able to satisfy the conditions set forth in Section 3.3(c) to an Increase in an amount equal to such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date. Such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall fund such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date by paying such amount to the Administrative Agent in immediately available funds, and the Administrative Agent shall distribute such funds to each such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group, pro rata based on the relative amount of such Delayed Amount funded by such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group on such Increase Date pursuant to Section 3.3(f).

(h) The Issuer shall apply amounts paid to it pursuant to Sections 3.3(d) and 3.3(f) in the following order of priority:

(i) As to an amount equal to ●% of the amounts paid to pursuant to Sections 3.3(d) and 3.3(f), by deposit to the Program Cash Reserve Account; and

(ii) as to the balance, in respect of the proceeds of the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Notes or a Transfer Increase, by application to payment of the purchase price payable by the Issuer to the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement in respect of the related Transfer and, in respect of the proceeds of a Refinancing Increase, by deposit to the Refinancing Account.

3.4 Procedure for Decreasing the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount; Optional Termination

(a) In the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, and in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, each of the CP Conduit Purchasers and the Group Bank in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group hereby agrees, that the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group may be decreased on any Payment Date by such Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of a Decrease Amount (a "Decrease"), upon the request of the Issuer. Each Payment Date on which a Decrease in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount occurs hereunder being herein referred to as the "Decrease Date" applicable to such Decrease; provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable written notice (effective upon receipt), by email communication, substantially in the form of Schedule D (a "Decrease Notice") no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the second Business Day prior to any Payment Date that is a Decrease Date. Each Decrease Notice shall state (x) the Decrease Date, and (y) the proposed amount of the decrease in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount (a "Decrease Amount").

(b) Upon each Decrease, the Administrative Agent shall indicate in its records such Decrease and the Purchaser Group Principal Amount outstanding with respect to each Purchaser Group after giving effect to such Decrease. Upon receipt of any notice required by Section 3.4(a) from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall forward (by email communication) a copy of such notice to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group, no later than [1:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the Business Day received.

(c) On any Business Day, the Issuer shall have the right to deliver an irrevocable written notice (an "Optional Termination Notice") to the Administrative Agent in which the Issuer declares that the Commitments shall terminate on the date (the "Optional Termination Date") set forth in such notice (which date, in any event, shall be a Payment Date not less than twenty (20) Business Days from the date on which such notice is delivered). Upon receipt of any Optional Termination Notice from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group thereof.

3.5 Increases and Reductions of the Commitments

(a) The Issuer may from time to time request that any Purchaser Group agree to increase its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount. An increase in such amount shall be effective hereunder if such Purchaser Group shall have agreed in its sole discretion to such increase.

(b) On any Business Day, the Issuer may, upon two (2) Business Days' prior written notice to the Administrative Agent (effective upon receipt) (with copies to the Indenture Trustee) reduce the Series 2017-1 Maximum Principal Amount in an amount equal to $[10,000,000] or a whole multiple of $[1,000,000] in excess thereof; provided that no such termination or reduction shall be permitted if, after giving effect thereto and to any reduction in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount on such date, the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to any Purchaser Group would exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group then in effect. Any reduction in the Series 2017-1 Maximum Principal Amount shall be made on a pro rata basis to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts with respect to the Purchaser Groups, based on the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to each Purchaser Group. Once reduced, the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts may not be subsequently reinstated without each such Purchaser Group's prior written consent, which consent shall be granted or not in the sole discretion of such Purchaser Group.

(c) The Issuer may extend the Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date only with the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent, each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each Funding Agent.

3.6 Interest; Fees and Other Amounts

(a) Interest shall be payable on the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes on each Payment Date.

(b) The Issuer shall pay to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser, on each Payment Date, a commitment fee with respect to the preceding Billing Period (the "Commitment Fee") during the period from the Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date in an amount equal to the sum of the following amounts calculated for each day during such Billing Period: (x) the Commitment Fee Rate, multiplied by (y) the amount by which Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on such day exceeds the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on such day, and divided by (z) 365. The Commitment Fees shall be payable monthly in arrears on each Payment Date.

3.8 Indemnification by the Issuer

The Issuer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent, each Funding Agent, each CP Conduit Purchaser, the Group Bank, each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each of their respective officers, directors, agents and employees (each, an "Issuer indemnified person") from and against any loss, liability, expense, damage or injury suffered or sustained by such Issuer indemnified person by reason of (a) any acts, omissions or alleged acts or omissions arising out of, or relating to, activities of the Issuer pursuant to the Program Agreements to which it is a party; (b) a breach of any representation or warranty made or deemed made by the Issuer (or any of its officers) in any Program Agreement; or (c) a failure by the Issuer to comply with any applicable law or regulation or to perform its covenants, agreements, duties or obligations required to be performed or observed by it in accordance with the provisions of the Program Agreements, including, but not limited to, any judgment, award, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other reasonable costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, proceeding or claim, except to the extent such loss, liability, expense, damage or injury resulted from the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of such Issuer indemnified person or its officers, directors, agents, principals, employees or employers as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction in a final non-appealable judgement or includes any Excluded Taxes; provided that any payments made by the Issuer pursuant to this Section 3.8 shall be made solely from funds available pursuant to Section [7.04] or [8.13] of the Trust Indenture, as applicable, shall be non-recourse other than with respect to such funds, and shall not constitute a claim against the Issuer to the extent that such funds are insufficient to make such payment.

3.9 Funding Agents

(a) The Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group is hereby authorized to determine the Group Monthly Interest and Group Monthly Fees and Other Amounts with respect to each Payment Date and such CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Any such determination by a Funding Agent, absent manifest error, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the accuracy of the calculation. Furthermore, the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group will maintain records sufficient to identify the percentage interest of the related CP Conduit Purchaser and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group holding an interest in the Series 2017-1 Senior Note registered in the name of such Funding Agent and any amounts owing thereunder.

(b) Upon receipt of funds on each Payment Date, each Funding Agent shall pay such funds to the related CP Conduit Purchaser and/or the related Group Bank owed such funds. If a Funding Agent shall have paid to any CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank any funds that (i) must be returned for any reason (including bankruptcy); or (ii) exceeds that which such CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank was entitled to receive, such amount shall be promptly repaid to such Funding Agent by such CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank.

3.10 Taxes

(a) All payments by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder shall, to the extent allowed by law, be made free and clear of, and without deduction or withholding for or on account of Taxes, excluding (i) income taxes (including branch profit taxes, minimum taxes and taxes computed under alternative methods, at least one of which is based on or measured by net income), franchise taxes (imposed in lieu of income taxes), or any other Taxes based on or measured by the net income of any person legally entitled to receive such payments (each a "Recipient") as a result of a present or former connection between the Recipient and the jurisdiction of the Governmental Authority imposing such Taxes (other than any such connection arising solely from the Recipient having executed, delivered or performed its obligations or received a payment under, disposed of, or enforced, this Supplemental Indenture); (ii) any withholding or deduction imposed pursuant to (A) Sections 1471 to 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("FATCA"), or any successor version thereof, or any similar legislation imposed by any other Governmental Authority, or (B) any treaty, law or regulation or other official guidance enacted by Canada implementing FATCA or any intergovernmental agreement with respect to FATCA or any similar legislation imposed by any other Governmental Authority, including, for greater certainty, the Canada-United States Enhanced Tax Information Exchange Agreement Implementation Act (Canada) and Parts XVIII and XIX of the Income Tax Act (Canada), as amended (collectively, and including FATCA, the "AEOI Legislation"); and (iii) any interest, penalties and additions to Taxes in respect of (i) and (ii) (all such excluded Taxes being hereinafter called "Excluded Taxes"). If any Taxes, other than Excluded Taxes, are required to be withheld from any amounts payable to a Recipient hereunder, the amounts so payable to the Recipient shall be increased, and the Recipient shall be entitled to be paid by the Issuer the amount of such increase to the extent necessary to yield to the Recipient (after payment of all such Taxes other than Excluded Taxes) interest or any such other amounts payable hereunder or thereunder at the rates or in the amounts specified hereunder. Where the amount payable by the Issuer is increased in accordance with the previous sentence, the Group Monthly Interest shall be increased by the amount of such increase. Whenever any Taxes are payable on or with respect to amounts distributed to a Recipient, as promptly as possible thereafter the Issuer shall send to such Recipient a certified copy of an original official receipt showing payment thereof.

(b) If a payment by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder would be subject to withholding Taxes under any AEOI Legislation if the Recipient were to fail to comply with the applicable reporting requirements of any AEOI Legislation, such Recipient shall deliver to the Issuer at the time or times prescribed by law and at such time or times reasonably requested by the Issuer such documentation prescribed by applicable law and such additional documentation reasonably requested by the Issuer as may be necessary for the Issuer to comply with its obligations under any AEOI Legislation and to determine that such Recipient has complied with its obligations under any AEOI Legislation, or to determine the amount to deduct and withhold from such payment. If any form or certification it previously delivered by a Recipient expires or becomes obsolete or inaccurate in any respect, the Recipient shall update such form or certification or promptly notify the Issuer in writing of its legal inability to do so.

(c) If a Recipient is legally entitled to receive a refund of any Taxes (other than Excluded Taxes) as to which it has been indemnified or with respect to which additional amounts have been paid to it hereunder or it is legally entitled to receive a credit or deduction with respect to such Taxes or with respect to such additional amounts that have been paid hereunder (in each case pursuant to Section 3.10(a)), it shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain or claim such refund, credit or deduction and pay over such refund or the value of such credit or deduction to the Issuer, together with any interest thereon.

3.11 Increased Costs

(a) (i) If any Regulatory Change (x) subjects any Affected Party to any charge or withholding on or with respect to any Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture or an Affected Person's obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or changes the basis of taxation of payments to any Affected Person of any amounts payable under any Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture Agreement (except for changes in the rate of tax on the overall net income of an Affected Person or Excluded Taxes) or (y) imposes, modifies or deems applicable any reserve, assessment, fee, tax, insurance charge, special deposit or similar requirement against assets of, deposits with or for the account of, or liabilities of an Affected Person, or credit extended by an Affected Person pursuant to a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture or (z) imposes any other condition the result of which is to increase the cost to an Affected Person of performing its obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to reduce the rate of return on an Affected Person's capital or assets as a consequence of its obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to reduce the amount of any sum received or receivable by an Affected Person under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to require any payment calculated by reference to the amount of interests or loans held or interest received by it, then, upon written request by such Affected Party (through the Funding Agent for its Purchaser Group if the Affected Party is a Program Support Provider, CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank) of a written request therefore to the Issuer, such Affected Party (through the Funding Agent for its Purchaser Group if the Affected Party is a Program Support Provider, CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank) shall be entitled to be paid, such amounts charged to such Affected Party or such amounts to otherwise compensate such Affected for such increased cost or such reduction, no later than the Payment Date following receipt by the Issuer of such request for compensation under this Section 3.11(a)(i), if such request is received by the Issuer no later than five (5) Business Days prior to the end of the Interest Period related to such Payment Date, and otherwise on the following Payment Date.

(ii) The Issuer acknowledges that any Affected Party may implement, as an internal institutional matter, measures in anticipation of a final or proposed Regulatory Change (including, without limitation, the imposition of internal charges on such Affected Party's interest or obligations under any Support Agreement or this Supplemental Indenture) and may commence recognizing the incurrence of charges by seeking compensation under Section 3.11(a)(i) in connection with such measures, in advance of the effective date of such final or proposed Regulatory Change, and the Issuer agrees that such charges or compensation shall be payable, to the related Funding Agent, for the benefit of Affected Party, following demand therefor without regard to whether such proposed Regulatory Change has been adopted or whether such effective date has occurred; provided, that (I) the Affected Party shall provide thirty (30) days prior written notice to the Issuer of its intent to impose or incur any such charges or compensation, (II) an Affected Party shall not be compensated for any such amount pursuant to this subsection 3.11(a)(ii) relating to any period ending, and of which such Affected Party has had knowledge, more than one year prior to the date that such Affected Party provided the Issuer with the written notice contemplated by the preceding clause (I) of this subsection 3.11(a)(ii), (III) if, after the payment by the Trust of any charges or compensation pursuant to this subsection 3.11(a)(ii), either (A) the Issuer requests in writing that the applicable Affected Party re-compute any such charge or compensation in light of differences between a proposed Regulatory Change and the final effective version thereof or (B) the applicable Affected Party determines that the amount of the charge imposed on and required to be compensated by the Issuer exceeds the amount necessary to compensate it for the applicable Regulatory Change as contemplated by subsection 3.11(a)(i), then (x) the amount of such charge or compensation shall, from and after such determination, be reduced by the amount of such excess and (y) such Affected Party shall, within thirty (30) days of such determination, either repay the amount of such excess or credit the amount of such excess against future charges under this subsection 3.11(a)(ii). The Issuer further acknowledges that any charge or compensation demanded hereunder may take the form of a monthly charge to be assessed by such Affected Party.

(b) Each Affected Party claiming increased amounts described in subsection 3.11(a) of this Supplemental Indenture will furnish to the Issuer (together with its request for compensation) a certificate prepared in good faith setting forth the basis and the calculation of the amount (in reasonable detail) of each request by such Affected Party for any such increased amounts referred to in subsection 3.11(a) hereof. Any such certificate shall be conclusive absent manifest error. Failure on the part of any Affected Party to demand compensation for any amount pursuant to subsection 3.11(a) hereof with respect to any period shall not constitute a waiver of such Affected Party's right to demand compensation with respect to such period.

AGENTS

7.1 Administrative Agent

(a) Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Administrative Agent as the agent of such Person under this Supplemental Indenture and irrevocably authorizes the Administrative Agent, in such capacity, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to the Administrative Agent by the terms of this Supplemental Indenture, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Supplemental Indenture, the Administrative Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent, and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Supplemental Indenture or otherwise exist against the Administrative Agent.

(b) The Administrative Agent may execute any of its duties under this Supplemental Indenture by or through agents or attorneys in fact and shall be entitled to advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties. The Administrative Agent shall not be responsible for the negligence or misconduct of any agents or attorneys-in-fact selected by it with reasonable care.

(c) Neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates shall be (i) liable for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such Person under or in connection with the Trust Indenture, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement (except to the extent that any of the foregoing are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from its or such Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct) or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks or the Funding Agents for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by the Issuer, the IESO, the Manager or any officer thereof contained in this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement, or for any failure of any of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO to perform its obligations hereunder or thereunder. The Administrative Agent shall not be under any obligation to any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement or to inspect the properties, books or records of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO.

(e) The Administrative Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Termination Event unless the Administrative Agent has received written notice from a Non-Conduit Purchaser, a CP Conduit Purchaser, a Group Bank, a Funding Agent, the Issuer or the Manager referring to the Trust Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture, describing such Termination Event and stating that such notice is a "notice of a Termination Event". In the event that the Administrative Agent receives such a notice, the Administrative Agent shall give notice thereof to the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the Funding Agents, the Issuer Trustee and the Manager.

(f) Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents expressly acknowledges that neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by the Administrative Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by the Administrative Agent to any such Person. If no successor administrative agent has accepted appointment by the date which is thirty (30) days following a retiring Administrative Agent's notice of resignation, the retiring Administrative Agent's resignation shall nevertheless thereupon become effective and Manager shall assume and perform all of the duties of the Administrative Agent hereunder until such time, if any, as the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders appoint a successor administrative agent as provided for above. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Supplemental Indenture, each Funding Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Supplemental Indenture or otherwise exist against each Funding Agent.

(b) Each Funding Agent may execute any of its duties under this Supplemental Indenture by or through agents or attorneys-in-fact and shall be entitled to advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties. Each Funding Agent shall not be responsible to the CP Conduit Purchaser or any Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group for the negligence or misconduct of any agents or attorneys in fact selected by it with reasonable care.

(c) Each Funding Agent and any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates shall not be (i) liable for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such Person under or in connection with the Trust Indenture, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement (except to the extent that any of the foregoing are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from its or such Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct) or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the CP Conduit Purchasers and/or Group Banks for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO, or any officer thereof contained in this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by such Funding Agent under or in connection with, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement, or for any failure of any of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO to perform its obligations hereunder or thereunder. Each Funding Agent shall not be under any obligation to the CP Conduit Purchaser or any Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement or to inspect the properties, books or records of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO.

(d) Each Funding Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter or electronic message, statement, order or other document or conversation believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper Person or Persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including, without limitation, counsel to the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO), independent accountants and other experts selected by such Funding Agent. Each Funding Agent shall be fully justified in failing or refusing to take any action under this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement unless it shall first receive such advice or concurrence of the Related Purchaser Group, as it deems appropriate or it shall first be indemnified to its satisfaction by the Related Purchaser Group against any and all liability and expense which may be incurred by it by reason of taking or continuing to take any such action.

(e) Each Funding Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Termination Event unless such Funding Agent has received written notice from a Non-Conduit Purchaser, a CP Conduit Purchaser, a Group Bank, the Issuer, the Manager or the Administrative Agent referring to the Trust Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture, describing such Termination Event and stating that such notice is a "notice of a Termination Event," as the case may be. In the event that any Funding Agent receives such a notice, such Funding Agent shall give notice thereof to the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Such Funding Agent shall take such action with respect to such event as shall be reasonably directed by the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group, provided that unless and until such Funding Agent shall have received such directions, such Funding Agent may (but shall not be obligated to) take such action, or refrain from taking such action, with respect to such event as it shall deem advisable in the best interests of the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group.

(f) Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks expressly acknowledge that neither its Funding Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by such Funding Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by such Funding Agent to any such Person. Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks represents to its Funding Agent that it has, independently and without reliance upon such Funding Agent and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own appraisal of and investigation into the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO and made its own decision to enter into this Supplemental Indenture. Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks also represents that it will, independently and without reliance upon its Funding Agent and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements, and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other conditions and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO.

(g) Each Group Bank in a CP Conduit Purchaser Group agrees to indemnify its Funding Agent in its capacity as such (to the extent not reimbursed by the Issuer and without limiting the obligation of the Issuer to do so), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements of any kind whatsoever which may at any time be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Funding Agent in any way relating to or arising out of this Supplemental Indenture, any of the other Program Agreements or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or therein or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or any action taken or omitted by such Funding Agent under or in connection with any of the foregoing; provided that no Group Bank shall be liable for the payment of any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements that are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from such related Funding Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct. The agreements in this Section shall survive the payment of all amounts payable hereunder.

GENERAL

8.1 Successor and Assigns

(a) This Supplemental Indenture shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns, except that (i) the Issuer may not assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture without the prior written consent of all of the Series 2017-1 Noteholders; (ii) no Non-Conduit Purchaser may assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture other than pursuant to paragraph (e) or (f) below; (iii) no CP Conduit Purchaser may assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture other than to the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser or a Program Support Provider with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser or pursuant to clause (b) or (e) below of this Section 8.1; and (iv) no Group Bank may assign or transfer any of its rights or obligations under this Supplemental Indenture except to a Program Support Provider or pursuant to clause (c), (d) or (e) below of this Section 8.1.

(b) Without limiting the foregoing, each CP Conduit Purchaser may assign all or a portion of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser and its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture to a Conduit Assignee with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser. Prior to or concurrently with the effectiveness of any such assignment (or if impracticable, immediately thereafter), the assigning CP Conduit Purchaser shall notify the Administrative Agent and the Issuer. Upon such assignment by a CP Conduit Purchaser to a Conduit Assignee, (i) such Conduit Assignee shall be the owner of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount or such portion thereof with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser; (ii) the related administrative or managing agent for such Conduit Assignee will act as the administrative agent for such Conduit Assignee hereunder, with all corresponding rights and powers, express or implied, granted to the Funding Agent hereunder; (iii) such Conduit Assignee and its liquidity support provider(s) and credit support provider(s) and other related parties shall have the benefit of all the rights and protections provided to such CP Conduit Purchaser herein (including, without limitation, any limitation on recourse against such Conduit Assignee as provided in this paragraph); (iv) such Conduit Assignee shall assume all of such CP Conduit Purchaser's obligations, if any, hereunder with respect to such portion of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount and such CP Conduit Purchaser shall be released from such obligations; (v) all distributions in respect of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount or such portion thereof with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall be made to the applicable agent or administrative agent, as applicable, on behalf of such Conduit Assignee; and (vi) if requested by the Administrative Agent or the agent or administrative agent with respect to the Conduit Assignee, the parties will execute and deliver such further agreements and documents and take such other actions as the Administrative Agent or such agent or administrative agent may reasonably request to evidence and give effect to the foregoing. No assignment by any CP Conduit Purchaser to a Conduit Assignee of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall in any way diminish the obligations of the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser under Section 3.3 to fund any Increase.

(c) Any Group Bank may, in the ordinary course of its business and in accordance with applicable law, at any time, sell all or any part of its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture and the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, with the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Issuer (in each case, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), to one or more banks (an "Acquiring Group Bank") pursuant to a transfer supplement, substantially in the form of Exhibit H (the "Transfer Supplement"), executed by such Acquiring Group Bank, such assigning Group Bank, the Funding Agent with respect to such Group Bank, the Administrative Agent and the Issuer and delivered to the Administrative Agent. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Group Bank shall so sell its rights hereunder if such Acquiring Group Bank is not an Eligible Assignee.

(d) Any Group Bank may, in the ordinary course of its business and in accordance with applicable law at any time sell to one or more financial institutions or other entities ("Group Bank Participants") participations in its Commitment Amount with respect to its related CP Conduit Purchaser Group, its Series 2017-1 Senior Note and its rights hereunder pursuant to documentation in form and substance satisfactory to such Group Bank and the Group Bank Participant; provided, however, that (i) in the event of any such sale by a Group Bank to a Group Bank Participant, (A) such Group Bank's obligations under this Supplemental Indenture shall remain unchanged, (B) such Group Bank shall remain solely responsible for the performance thereof, and (C) the Issuer and the Administrative Agent shall continue to deal solely and directly with such Group Bank in connection with its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture; and (ii) no Group Bank shall sell any participating interest under which the Group Bank Participant shall have rights to approve any amendment to, or any consent or waiver with respect to, this Supplemental Indenture, the Trust Indenture or any Program Agreement, except to the extent that the approval of such amendment, consent or waiver otherwise would require the unanimous consent of all Group Banks hereunder. A Group Bank Participant shall have the right to receive compensation pursuant to Sections 3.10 and 3.11 but only to the extent that the related selling Group Bank would have had such right absent the sale of the related participation and, with respect to amounts due pursuant to Sections 3.10 and 3.11, only to the extent such Group Bank Participant shall have complied with the provisions of Sections 3.10 and 3.11 as if such Group Bank Participant were a Group Bank.

(e) Any CP Conduit Purchaser and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser may, at any time, sell all or any part of their respective rights and obligations, and any Non-Conduit Purchaser may, at any time, sell all or any part of its rights and obligations, under this Supplemental Indenture and the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, with the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Issuer (in each case, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), (x) to a multi-seller commercial paper conduit and one or more banks providing support to such multi-seller commercial paper conduit, or (y) to a financial institution or other entity (an "Acquiring Purchaser Group") pursuant to a transfer supplement, substantially in the form of Exhibit I (the "Purchaser Group Supplement"), executed by such Acquiring Purchaser Group (including the CP Conduit Purchaser and the Group Banks, if any, with respect to such Acquiring Purchaser Group), the Funding Agent, if any, with respect to such Acquiring Purchaser Group, such assigning Purchaser Group (including the Group Banks, if any, with respect to such assigning Purchaser Group), the Funding Agent, if any, with respect to such assigning Purchaser Group and the Administrative Agent and the Issuer and delivered to the Administrative Agent.

(f) Any Non-Conduit Purchaser may, in the ordinary course of its business and in accordance with applicable law, at any time sell to one or more financial institutions or other entities ("Non-Conduit Purchaser Participants") participations in its Commitment, its Series 2017-1 Senior Note and its rights hereunder pursuant to documentation in form and substance satisfactory to such Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant; provided, however, that (i) in the event of any such sale by a Non-Conduit Purchaser to a Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant, (A) such Non-Conduit Purchaser's obligations under this Supplemental Indenture shall remain unchanged, (B) such Non-Conduit Purchaser shall remain solely responsible for the performance thereof, and (C) the Issuer and the Administrative Agent shall continue to deal solely and directly with such Non-Conduit Purchaser in connection with its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture; and (ii) no Non-Conduit Purchaser shall sell any participating interest under which the Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant shall have rights to approve any amendment to, or any consent or waiver with respect to, this Supplemental Indenture, the Trust Indenture or any Program Agreement, except to the extent that the approval of such amendment, consent or waiver otherwise would require the unanimous consent of all Series 2017-1 Noteholders hereunder. A Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant shall have the right to receive compensation under Sections 3.10 and 3.11 but only to the extent that the related selling Non-Conduit Purchaser would have had such right absent the sale of the related participation and, with respect to amounts due pursuant to Sections 3.10 and 3.11, only to the extent such Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant shall have complied with the provisions of Sections 3.10 and 3.11 as if such Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant were a Non-Conduit Purchaser.

(g) The Issuer authorizes each Group Bank and Non-Conduit Purchaser to disclose to any Group Bank Participant, Acquiring Group Bank, Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant or Acquiring Purchaser Group (each, a "Transferee") and any prospective Transferee any and all financial information in such Group Bank's or Non-Conduit Purchaser's possession concerning the Issuer, the Issuer Investment Asset and the Program Agreements which has been delivered to such Group Bank by the Issuer or the Manager in connection with such Group Bank's credit evaluation of the Issuer and the Issuer Investment Asset.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Supplemental Indenture to the contrary, any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Program Support Provider may at any time pledge or grant a security interest in all or any portion of its rights under its Series 2017-1 Senior Note and this Supplemental Indenture to secure obligations of such Non-Conduit Purchaser, such Group Bank or such Program Support Provider to a Federal Reserve Bank or the Bank of Canada, without notice to or consent of the Administrative Agent, the Issuer or the Administrator; provided that no such pledge or grant of a security interest shall release a Non-Conduit Purchaser or an Group Bank from any of its obligations hereunder or substitute any such pledgee or grantee for such Non-Conduit Purchaser or such Group Bank as a party hereto.

8.2 Waiver

Without limiting the requirements of Section [11.02] of the Trust Indenture which shall be applicable to this Supplemental Indenture, no waiver of any provision of this Supplemental Indenture or consent to any departure by the Issuer from any provision of this Supplemental Indenture will be effective (in whole or in part) unless in writing and signed by the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders. Such waiver will be effective only in the specific instance, for the specific purpose and for the specific length of time for which it is given by the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders.

The rights and remedies herein provided are cumulative and not exclusive of any remedies provided by applicable law.

8.5 Entire Agreement

This Supplemental Indenture, the Fee Letter, the Trust Indenture and the other Program Agreements contain the entire agreement between the parties relative to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements, term sheets, commitments, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written. 8.10 Confidentiality

(a) Each Purchaser Group and the Administrative Agent covenants and agrees that any non-public information obtained by it pursuant to this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements shall be held in confidence except that the Purchaser Groups or Administrative Agent may disclose such information (i) pursuant to the order of any court or administrative agency or in any pending legal or administrative proceeding (whether or not having the force or effect of law) provided that, unless prohibited by applicable law, a Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent, as applicable, shall provide prompt notice of such order to the affected party; (ii) upon the request or demand of any regulatory authority having or claiming jurisdiction over any Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent; (iii) as required by applicable law including, without limitation, all applicable securities laws; (iv) to the extent that such information becomes publicly available other than by reason of improper disclosure by a Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent; (v) to its affiliates, officers, directors, employees, legal counsel, independent auditors, accountants, advisors, investors, potential investors, commercial paper dealers, providers of surety, guaranty, credit or liquidity enhancement (including the directors, officers and accountants of such surety, guaranty, credit or liquidity enhancement provider), legal counsel of any of the foregoing and other experts or agents who need to know such information and are informed of the confidential nature of such information (provided that the Persons permitted to make such disclosures under clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) of this Section 8.10 shall also include credit or liquidity enhancers of a CP Conduit Purchaser); (vi) for purposes of establishing a "due diligence" defense; (vii) which was available to a Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent on a non-confidential basis from a source other than the affected party, provided that such source was not to the knowledge of the Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent, as applicable, bound by a confidentiality agreement with the affected party; (viii) has been independently acquired or developed by a Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent without violating any of the Purchaser Group's or the Administrative Agent's obligations under this Supplemental Indenture; (ix) if such disclosure has been approved in writing in advance by the Issuer or the Manager; (x) regarding the existence of this Supplemental Indenture, but not the financial terms thereof; and (xi) to DBRS and Moody's and any other Rating Agencies.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Supplemental Indenture or in any other Program Agreement, arrangement or understanding among any such parties, each party hereto acknowledges that any liability of any EEA Financial Institution arising under this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement, to the extent such liability is unsecured, may be subject to the write-down and conversion powers of an EEA Resolution Authority and agrees and consents to, and acknowledges and agrees to be bound by:

(a) the application of any Write-Down and Conversion Powers by an EEA Resolution Authority to any such liabilities arising hereunder which may be payable to it by any party hereto that is an EEA Financial Institution; and

(b) the effects of any Bail-in Action on any such liability, including, if applicable

(i) a reduction in full or in part or cancellation of any such liability;

(ii) a conversion of all, or a portion of, such liability into shares or other instruments or ownership in such EEA Financial Institution, its parent undertaking, or a bridge institution that may be issued to it or otherwise conferred on it, and that such shares or other instruments of ownership will be accepted by it in lieu of any rights with respect to any such liability under this Supplemental Indenture or any other Facility Agreement; or

(iii) the variation of the terms of such liability in connection with the exercise of the write-down and conversion powers of any EEA Resolution Authority.

8.12 Limitation of Liability of Issuer Trustee

Each party hereto other than the Issuer acknowledges that the Issuer is a trust, and that ● Trust Company of Canada is the Issuer Trustee. the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the Issuer Trustee, whether owned in its personal capacity or otherwise, will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Supplemental Indenture. Nothing contained in this Section 8.12 shall be construed so as to limit the liability of the Issuer under this Supplemental Indenture. This Supplemental Indenture, and every deed, transfer, assignment, agreement or other instrument made pursuant hereto including, without limitation, the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, made or purporting to be made by or creating an obligation of the Issuer or the Issuer Trustee on behalf of, or as trustee of, the Issuer shall be deemed and construed for all purposes as if made by the Issuer Trustee, in and only in its capacity as trustee of the Issuer. Any obligations of the Issuer Trustee hereunder or thereunder are non-recourse to the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity.

8.13 Execution in Counterparts

This Supplemental Indenture may be executed in several counterparts, each of which when so executed shall be deemed to be an original and the counterparts together shall constitute one and the same instrument. This Supplemental Indenture may be executed and delivered by email or other electronic transmission of a manually signed counterpart.

THIS AGREEMENT made as of November 22, 2017.

BETWEEN:

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, as represented by the Minister of Energy

(the "Province")

- and -

ONTARIO POWER GENERATION INC., a corporation established under the laws of the Province of Ontario

("OPG")

Background

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP"). The Act's purpose is, among other things, to ensure that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits are fairly allocated among present and future specified consumers.

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") creates certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets will be acquired from the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") by the special purpose financing entity established by OPG to implement the financing plan to fund the deferral under the Act (the "Financing Entity").

3. The Financing Entity will acquire the Assets periodically from IESO and finance them in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Province has agreed to fund up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the Financing Entity's debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG will amend its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares"). The Province will subscribe for Class A Shares periodically in accordance with the process set forth in this Agreement and OPG will, in turn, invest these amounts in debt of the Financing Entity.

6. OPG will be entitled from time to time to redeem or buy back outstanding Class A Shares in connection with repayment of the Financing Entity debt or other purposes as may be approved by the OPG board of directors.

7. The parties desire to set out in this Agreement the process and mechanisms by which the equity injections and share purchases will occur and their respective roles and responsibilities in the Equity Injection Plan.

NOW THEREFORE the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Confirmation of Equity Injection and Use of Funds

1.1 The Province commits to fund up to 44% of the total financing required by the Financing Entity, to acquire Assets from the IESO under the Act and Regulations, by way of equity subscriptions in OPG.

1.2 OPG agrees to use the funds from the equity received from the Province solely to lend to the Financing Entity to fund the Financing Entity's obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement between the IESO and the Financing Entity, and the Act and Regulations.

2. Share Subscription Process

2.1 The Province will subscribe for and purchase Class A Shares from OPG, in an amount, and for a value, as determined by OPG in accordance with paragraph 2.2 below.

2.2 Periodically, coincident with the asset acquisitions to be made by the Financing Entity from the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, OPG will provide notice to the Province of the amount of equity injection required and the corresponding number of shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed by the Province. This notice will be substantially in the form of the Share Subscription attached as Exhibit A. OPG will also provide reasonable supporting information for the values and amounts set out in the Share Subscription, substantially in the form of the Subscription Supporting Information attached as Exhibit B.

2.3 For purposes of providing the reasonable supporting information required under paragraph 2.2 above, OPG agrees that:

(i) the amount of each equity injection/share subscription will reflect the funding requirements of the Financing Entity acquisitions under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement; and

(ii) the Class A Shares will be issued to the Province at a per share price equal to the value of Shareholder's Equity, as determined by the last approved quarterly financial statements of OPG, divided by the aggregate number of issued and outstanding Common Shares and Class A Shares.

2.4 Within five Business Days of receipt of the notice and supporting information described in paragraph 2.2, the Province will deliver the executed Share Subscription to OPG and wire transfer, in immediately available funds, the required equity funds in accordance with the payment instructions set out in Exhibit D or as may be otherwise provided by OPG from time to time. For purposes of this Agreement, "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day on which banking institutions in Toronto, Ontario are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

2.5 OPG will issue a receipt to the Province, substantially in the form of Exhibit C attached, confirming receipt of the equity amount and certifying as to the update of OPG's corporate share register with issue of the shares in the name of the Province.

2.6 The first equity injection/share subscription is expected to occur in the fourth quarter of 2017. Equity injections will continue periodically so long as the Financing Entity is purchasing assets and incurring debt obligations, including debt in favour of OPG, pursuant to the Act and Regulations.

3. Equity Requirement Forecasts and Approvals

3.1 OPG will prepare and submit forecasts of equity requirements for the applicable business planning period as part of its business plan submissions to the Province in accordance with the Memorandum of Agreement between the Province and OPG effective July 17, 2015 (the "MOA") as amended, restated or replaced from time to time. For clarity, OPG will submit annually, as part of its business plan submissions, the FHP equity requirements forecast for the upcoming 3 years.

3.2 OPG's equity requirement forecast submissions will include all reasonable supporting information and documentation.

3.3 The Province confirms that OPG's equity requirement forecasts submitted with OPG's business plans will not require concurrence by the Province as set out in the MOA.

3.4 In accordance with the submissions made under paragraph 3.1 above, the Province will seek appropriations for the upcoming 3 year period to support the equity injections.

4. Share Redemption Process

4.1 The Province and OPG will agree to the required process for any future redemption by OPG of outstanding Class A Shares before the first share redemption, and in any case no later than 90 Business Days before the effective date of such redemption.

MASTER SHARE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of ~~October~~ November 22, 2017.

BETWEEN:

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, as represented by the Minister of Energy

(the "Province")

- and -

ONTARIO POWER GENERATION INC., a corporation established under the laws of the Province of Ontario

("OPG")

Background

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP"). The Act's purpose is, among other things, to ensure that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits are fairly allocated among present and future specified consumers.

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") creates certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets will be acquired from the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") by the special purpose financing entity established by OPG to implement the financing plan to fund the deferral under the Act (the "Financing Entity").

3. The Financing Entity will acquire the Assets periodically from IESO and finance them in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Province has agreed to fund up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the Financing Entity's debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG will amend its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares"). The Province will subscribe for Class A Shares periodically in accordance with the process set forth in this Agreement and OPG will, in turn, invest these amounts in debt of the Financing Entity.

6. OPG will be entitled from time to time to redeem or buy back outstanding Class A Shares in connection with repayment of the Financing Entity debt or other purposes as may be approved by the OPG board of directors.

7. The parties desire to set out in this Agreement the process and mechanisms by which the equity injections and share purchases will occur and their respective roles and responsibilities in the Equity Injection Plan.

NOW THEREFORE the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Confirmation of Equity Injection and Use of Funds

1.1 The Province commits to fund up to 44% of the total financing required by the Financing Entity, to acquire Assets from the IESO under the Act and Regulations, by way of equity subscriptions in OPG.

1.2 OPG agrees to use the funds from the equity received from the ~~Minister~~Province solely to lend to the Financing Entity to fund the Financing Entity's obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement between the IESO and the Financing Entity, and the Act and Regulations.

2. Share Subscription Process

2.1 The Province will subscribe for and purchase Class A Shares from OPG, in an amount, and for a value, as determined by OPG in accordance with paragraph 2.2 below.

2.2 Periodically, coincident with the asset acquisitions to be made by the Financing Entity from the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, OPG will provide notice to the Province of the amount of equity injection required and the corresponding number of shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed by the Province. This notice will be substantially in the form of the Share Subscription attached as Exhibit A. OPG will also provide reasonable supporting information for the values and amounts set out in the Share Subscription, substantially in the form of the Subscription Supporting Information attached as Exhibit B.

2.3 For purposes of providing the reasonable supporting information required under paragraph 2.2 above, OPG agrees that:

(i) the amount of each equity injection/share subscription will reflect the funding requirements of the Financing Entity acquisitions under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement; and

(ii) the Class A Shares will be issued to the ~~Minister~~Province at a per share price equal to the value of Shareholder's Equity, as determined by the last approved quarterly financial statements of OPG, divided by the aggregate number of issued and outstanding Common Shares and Class A Shares.

2.4 Within five Business Days of receipt of the notice and supporting information described in paragraph 2.2, the Province will deliver the executed Share Subscription to OPG and wire transfer, in immediately available funds, the required equity funds in accordance with the payment instructions set out in Exhibit D or as may be otherwise provided by OPG from time to time. For purposes of this Agreement, "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day on which banking institutions in Toronto, Ontario are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

2.5 OPG will issue a receipt to the Province, substantially in the form of Exhibit C attached, confirming receipt of the equity amount and certifying as to the update of OPG's corporate share register with issue of the shares in the name of the Province.

2.6 The first equity injection/share subscription is expected to occur in the fourth quarter of 2017. Equity injections will continue periodically so long as the Financing Entity is purchasing assets and incurring debt obligations, including debt in favour of OPG, pursuant to the Act and Regulations.

3. Equity Requirement Forecasts and Approvals

3.1 OPG will prepare and submit forecasts of equity requirements for the applicable business planning period as part of its business plan submissions to the Province ~~Shareholder~~ in accordance with the Memorandum of Agreement between the ~~Minister~~Province and OPG effective July 17, 2015 (the "MOA") as amended, restated or replaced from time to time. For clarity, OPG will submit annually, as part of its business plan submissions, the FHP equity requirements forecast for the upcoming 3 years.

3.2 OPG's equity requirement forecast submissions will include all reasonable supporting information and documentation.

3.3 The Province confirms that OPG's equity requirement forecasts submitted with OPG's business plans will not require concurrence by the Province ~~Shareholder~~ as set out in the MOA.

3.4 In accordance with the submissions made under paragraph 3.1 above, the Province will seek appropriations for the upcoming 3 year period to support the equity injections.

4. Share Redemption Process

4.1 The Province and OPG will agree to the required process for any future redemption by OPG of outstanding Class A Shares before the first share redemption, and in any case no later than 90 Business Days before the effective date of such redemption.

Dear Alena and Malle,

Please find attached a draft of the protocol agreement relating to the determination of interest rates on the subordinated and junior subordinated debt to be issued to OPG by the Fair Hydro Trust. Most of this debt will be funded through equity injections by the Province into OPG. OPG's Treasury team has been working with Carlos Yep of the OFA on this agreement. I understand that Alena has previously seen a term sheet setting out the main terms of the agreement.

Let us know if you have any questions or comments on the draft.

For any Series of Subordinated Notes or Junior Subordinated Notes that are issued only to OPG or its Affiliates, the interest rate shall be the aggregate of the applicable Base Rate and the Applicable Spread.

2.03 Base Rate

(a) For Subordinated Term Notes and Junior Subordinated Term Notes, the "Base Rate" shall be an annual rate of interest comprised of the applicable yield for the Benchmark Government of Canada bonds listed at the time and with the same term as that of the Series of Subordinated Notes or Series of Junior Subordinated Notes, as applicable. In the event that there are no such Benchmark Government of Canada bonds listed at the time of issuance, the applicable Base Rate of interest shall be established by interpolating on a straight line basis the terms of the two Benchmark Government of Canada bonds that are closest to the term of the applicable Series of Subordinated Term Notes or Series of Junior Subordinated Term Notes, as applicable, one being for a longer term and the other being for a shorter term; and

(b) For Subordinated Warehouse Notes and Junior Subordinated Warehouse Notes, the "Base Rate" shall be an annual interest rate equal to the all-in funding costs under the related Warehouse Obligations, expressed as a rate per annum, as determined by the FSM acting reasonably, or at any time when there are no Warehouse Obligations outstanding the "Base Rate" shall be the average of the posted "prime rate of interest" published by the five largest Canadian banks at such time.

2.04 Applicable Spread

(a) Prior to the issuance of any new Subordinated Term Notes or Junior Subordinated Term Notes, the FSM will solicit from at least five investment dealers in Canada, a survey of indicative spreads over the applicable Base Rate (collectively, the "Indicative Spreads" and each an "Indicative Spread") applicable to capital market debt issuances having features comparable to each of the proposed Series of Subordinated Term Notes and Junior Subordinated Term Notes, having regard to the expected credit rating and tenor. Such solicitation of Indicative Spreads shall occur on the pricing date of the applicable Series of Subordinated Term Notes and Junior Subordinated Term Notes and may, at the FSM's option, also occur on other dates selected by the FSM provided that no such date is more than one week prior to the pricing date. The Applicable Spread for Subordinated Term Notes or Junior Subordinated Term Notes, as applicable, will be the simple average of the respective Indicative Spreads after excluding the highest and the lowest Indicative Spread for each day (not more than one week prior to the pricing date) that Indicative Spreads were provided;

(b) For Subordinated Warehouse Notes the FSM will solicit from time to time, but no less frequently than on an annual basis, from at least five investment dealers in Canada, a survey of Indicative Spreads over the applicable Base Rate applicable to commercial paper issuances having features comparable to the Subordinated Warehouse Notes including credit rating and tenor. The Applicable Spread for Subordinated Warehouse Notes will be the simple average of the respective Indicative Spreads, after excluding the highest and the lowest Indicative Spread;

(c) The Applicable Spread for Junior Subordinated Warehouse Notes shall be equal to the Applicable Spread derived from Section 2.04(b) for the Subordinated Warehouse Notes, provided the Junior Subordinated Term Notes are rated Investment Grade. If the Junior Subordinated Term Notes are rated below Investment Grade, the Applicable Spread for the Junior Subordinated Warehouse Notes will equal to the Applicable Spread for the Subordinated Warehouse Notes plus 100 bps.

For the purposes of this section "Investment Grade" means an "approved rating" from at least one "designated rating organization" (as such terms are defined for securities law purposes).

2.05 Credit Ratings

In order to facilitate the survey of Indicative Spreads, the FSM will solicit from time to time, from an approved rating organization (as such term is defined for securities laws purposes), a credit rating, which may include a shadow rating, for the Subordinated Notes and the Junior Subordinated Notes.

Dear Alena and Malle,

Please find attached a draft of the protocol agreement relating to the determination of interest rates on the subordinated and junior subordinated debt to be issued to OPG by the Fair Hydro Trust. Sunita,

As discussed at the meeting today, the OFA would prefer if Energy use IFIS to make such payments, especially as they will be routine and under $99M. In those cases where a payment will be greater than $99M, it can be split in two.

While the OFA has made the occasional payment on behalf of Energy in special cases, it is not in our mandate to do so. We don't rightfully want to draw criticism from the OAG that we our stepping outside our mandate and routinely circumventing the established system in place, IFIS, that is designed to make regular payments and is the government's system of record. We believe OPCD can make payments within 24 hours notice and suggest contacting the director of operations there, Joe Liscio, who can assist in setting up the process.

While the process with OPCD is being developed, Ken will grant a short grace period and allow the OFA to make payments, especially the pending one for August as you mentioned.

Thanks.

Hi Ken, hope this finds you well (copying Ron here as well). Can we chat about OFA's role in helping with the payments related to the Fair Hydro Plan? As you know, this is a really important program that needs to run smoothly and am hoping that OFA can help ensure that happens. Copying Ron here who is part of the weekly meetings related to the Fair Hydro Plan and can perhaps give you some additional context on these programs. I'm happy to chat further, but believe our teams chatted last week about this (I've been away for the past two weeks), hoping that we can connect to ensure that payments continue to the IESO on a monthly basis.

Thanks, hope to chat soon

Hi All

We discussed a number of options with TDS yesterday on the type of equity to be issued by OPG to the Province in relation to the equity injection.

While the preferred equity option did present some attractive features from the perspective of tracking and perhaps an increased level of assurance to the Province with regard to dividend payments, Gadi suggests that we move forward with the common equity option from the twin objectives of simplicity as well as safeguarding the 20% of common equity limitation on the value of preferred equity. The latter is an important criteria from the perspective of the Rating Agencies.

There are a couple of issues yet to be resolved with regard to the common equity option:

- The possibility of issuing common equity as “Class B” shares thus differentiating the share issued by OPG under the equity injection from the existing shares owned by the Province. This makes it easier to track and to accrue dividends.
- The share price attributable to each share issued under the equity injection; approximate book value or some other methodology. Note that OPG’s annual report does not indicate a share price, however, the notes to the F/S provide the number of shares and the value of the Province’s original investment allowing the reader to work out a per share value of $20 which corresponds to what the Province carries in its own books.

We will work with all of you and consult with TDS on developing options on the above.

Thanks

Ken k

Hi Shruti,

Attached is the latest version of the MOU that our Legal just provided. I have removed the word "subordinate" in the attached copy on paragraph 4 based on our discussion last Friday.

Here's a summary of the changes:

- Remove the word "subordinate" in paragraph 4
- Added a definition of business day
- Added an acknowledgement of possible future changes to the wire transfer instruction
- Added schedule C and reference to schedule C in the MOU.

Could you please take a look and let me know if you are good with the attached version?

Thanks,
Gavin He

My comments on the most recent draft of the MOU which you have provided to me, including my comments on the proposed payment authorization form are attached.

I note that not all of the concerns from MoE of which I am aware (such as the desire to remove the reference to subordinated debt in Recital 4) are reflected in this draft. Please ensure that any further comments by MoE are made on this draft.

Agreed. The sample was not meant to replace Schedule A; but to have language incorporated into Schedule A to make it into a payment request.

Am repeating my concern indicated in the message I just sent:

> My concern is that there is no request from the ministry to the OFA to process the payment. Neither Section 2 nor the Schedule A contains any language requesting OFA to effect the wire transfer to OPG.

The attached sample payment request does not address either of the two issues addressed by the current Schedule A. i.e. it does not certify that there is sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment and does not provide the required certificate under Section 11.4 of FAA. As such it may not be used to replace the current Schedule A.

A form of payment authorization could be added as a separate schedule. The language of the MOU would have to be modified to make appropriate referenced to this new Schedule.

Hi Ken Russell,

Asokan Sadasivan sent us the below email last week (I was away and Joe Pedota didn't know who was involved in drafting the MOU between OFA and MOE). He is the Controller for MOE. He would like to replace Schedule A with the sample type document and his senior executives need an answer today by 12:00 noon. Is it possible to make this change or can we add the same as another Schedule?

I'm working from home today, but I can call you if you would like to discuss.

Thanks,

Joe,

It has been confirmed that Schedule A – Certificate is the document that is referenced in Section 2 – Copy of each Share subscription executed and approved for payment (see highlight in below message).

I would rather have this replaced with something similar to the attached sample payment request. The attached can be modified to cover the legal aspects covered in Schedule A.

Let me know your thoughts please.

I am at an offsite meeting today. Hence we may not be able to connect; however, if you leave me a voice message I shall get back to you when I get a break.

Joe,

Further to our telecon (in the absence of Risa), attached is the draft MOU for payments to be made by OFA on behalf of the ministry re Fiir Hydro Plan.

Section 2) Payment process indicates that ministry will deliver:

- Copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by Minister or Delegate
- Copy of certificate that there is sufficient appropriation for the payment to OFA to process payment on behalf of the ministry.

Please also refer Schedule A – Certificate in this regard.

Would appreciate if you could kindly advise if the above mentioned two documents are sufficient for OFA to process payment on behalf of the ministry please?

Memorandum of Understanding
Relating to the Fair Hydro Plan

Dated: November , 2017

Between:

Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario
as represented by the Minister of Energy (the "Ministry")

And:

Ontario Financing Authority
an agency of the Province of Ontario (the "OFA")

Whereas:

1. On June 1, 2017, ~~T~~the Legislative Assembly of Ontario ~~Government of Ontario~~ enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") which was introduced by the Government to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP").

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act ~~(the "Regulations")~~ provide~~s~~ the right for the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") to create certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets may be acquired from the IESO by one or more special purpose financing entities, under the Act established by Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG") to implement the FHP (each an "OPG Financing Entity"), which are expected to include a Fair Hydro Trust.

3. An OPG Financing Entity is expected to acquire the Assets monthly from the IESO and will finance the Assets in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Ministry has agreed to provide up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the OPG Financing Entity's ~~subordinated~~ debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG has, having received shareholder consent, amended its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares") for the purposes of facilitating the contemplated equity injections.~~.~~

6. In accordance with the Equity Injection Plan, ~~T~~the Ministry will subscribe for Class A Shares on a monthly basis.

7. Each month OPG will deliver to the Ministry a share subscription form (the "Share Subscription") in the form consistent with that provided for in Schedule A to this Memorandum of Understanding (the "MOU"), setting out the amount of equity injection required (the "Subscription Payment") and the corresponding number of Class A Shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed for by the Ministry.

8. The Ministry is required to pay the Subscription Payments out of amounts appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose for the fiscal year in which the payment is made (the "Appropriated Amount"), consistent with the requisite approval for the appropriations, which have already been obtained and any future appropriations approvals processes to be obtained. .

9. The Ministry has advised the OFA that the Ministry is required to make the Subscription Payments within [*] five (5) business Business days Days of the receipt by the Ministry of the Share Subscription (the "Share Subscription Payment Date"). For the purposes of this MOU "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day on which banking institutions in Toronto, Ontario are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

10. The Ministry considers it advisable for the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA has agreed to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

11. The Ministry and the OFA wish to enter into this Memorandum of Understanding (the "MOU") to confirm their agreement regarding the terms on which the OFA will make the Subscription Payments.

Therefore:

The Ministry and the OFA agree as follows:

1) Payment Authorization

a) The Ministry authorizes the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA agrees to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

b) It is agreed by the Ministry and the OFA that the OFA is acting as an agent, on behalf of the Ministry, for the purposes of:

   i) transacting with the Ontario Shared Services "IFIS" system in order to access funds appropriated for the Ministry in respect of the Fair Hydro Plan, and

   ii) making the required Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry as further described in this MOU.

2) Payment Process

a) The Ministry will take all necessary steps to provide the OFA with a clear and legible unapproved electronic copy of each Share Subscription, on the same day the Ministry receives the Share Subscription from OPG to allow the OFA to begin the procedures for making the Subscription Payment.

b) The Ministry will deliver to the OFA at least three ~~business~~ Business ~~days~~ Days before the Share Subscription Payment Date, electronic copies of the following:

a. a clear and legible electronic copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved ~~for payment~~ by the Minister of Energy or a delegate, ~~and~~

b. a clear and legible electronic copy of a certificate (the "Certificate") confirming that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment and, under Section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act (the "FAA"), that OPG is entitled to receive the Subscription Payment. The form of the Certificate is attached as Schedule A to this MOU. Upon receipt of the executed and approved Share Subscription and the Certificate, the OFA will make the Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry, in the amount of the Share Subscription~~.~~, and

~~b.~~c. a ~~P~~payment ~~A~~authorizs~~s~~ation approved by Deputy Minister of Energy or delegate in the form attached as ~~(~~Schedule C~~)~~ to this MOU (the "Payment Authorization").

c) The OFA shall not be required to make any Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry if the Ministry has not delivered to the OFA an executed and approved Share Subscription, ~~and~~ the Certificate and the Payment Authorization as provided in paragraph b) above.

d) The Subscription Payments will be made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the amount of each Subscription Payment will be entered by the OFA via a journal entry into the Province's IFIS system under a pre-defined Ministry account immediately upon the completion of the Subscription Payment or shortly thereafter.

e) The OPG wire transfer information for the Subscription Payments ~~is~~ shall be as set out in ~~attached as~~ Schedule B attached to this MOU, or as the Ministry may otherwise provide from time to time by notice in writing to the OFA.

f) The Ministry shall deliver to the OFA certified copies of any

a. delegations under paragraph b) above made by the Minister of Energy to authorize persons to execute the Share Subscription,

b. delegations under paragraph b) above by the Deputy Minister of Energy to authorize persons to execute the Payment Authorization, and

c. authorizations under Section 11.4 (2) 1. of the FAA by the Minister of Energy or the Deputy Minister of Energy of persons to execute the Certificate.

3) Reporting Requirements and Records

Please see attached; added "c. Payment Authorisation" under Section 2 and included Schedule C.

Not sure if Ken would be able to combine the Certificate and Payment Authorisation into one document.

Agreed. The sample was not meant to replace Schedule A; but to have language incorporated into Schedule A to make it into a payment request.

Am repeating my concern indicated in the message I just sent:

> My concern is that there is no request from the ministry to the OFA to process the payment. Neither Section 2 nor the Schedule A contains any language requesting OFA to effect the wire transfer to OPG.

The attached sample payment request does not address either of the two issues addressed by the current Schedule A. i.e. it does not certify that there is sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment and does not provide the required certificate under Section 11.4 of FAA. As such it may not be used to replace the current Schedule A.

A form of payment authorization could be added as a separate schedule. The language of the MOU would have to be modified to make appropriate referenced to this new Schedule.

Hi Ken Russell,

Asokan Sadasivan sent us the below email last week (I was away and Joe Pedota didn't know who was involved in drafting the MOU between OFA and MOE). He is the Controller for MOE. He would like to replace Schedule A with the sample type document and his senior executives need an answer today by 12:00 noon. Is it possible to make this change or can we add the same as another Schedule?

I'm working from home today, but I can call you if you would like to discuss.

Thanks,

Joe,

It has been confirmed that Schedule A – Certificate is the document that is referenced in Section 2 – Copy of each Share subscription executed and approved for payment (see highlight in below message).

I would rather have this replaced with something similar to the attached sample payment request. The attached can be modified to cover the legal aspects covered in Schedule A.

Let me know your thoughts please.

I am at an offsite meeting today. Hence we may not be able to connect; however, if you leave me a voice message I shall get back to you when I get a break.

Thanks,

Joe,

Further to our telecon (in the absence of Risa), attached is the draft MOU for payments to be made by OFA on behalf of the ministry re Fiir Hydro Plan.

Section 2) Payment process indicates that ministry will deliver:

- Copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by Minister or Delegate
- Copy of certificate that there is sufficient appropriation for the payment to OFA to process payment on behalf of the ministry.

Please also refer Schedule A – Certificate in this regard.

Would appreciate if you could kindly advise if the above mentioned two documents are sufficient for OFA to process payment on behalf of the ministry please?

Thanks,

Memorandum of Understanding
Relating to the Fair Hydro Plan

Dated: XXXXXXX

Between:

Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario
as represented by the Minister of Energy (the "Ministry")

And:

Ontario Financing Authority
an agency of the Province of Ontario (the "OFA")

Whereas:

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP").

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") provides the right for the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") to create certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets may be acquired from the ~~Independent Electricity System Operator ("~~IESO~~")~~ by one or more special purpose financing entities, under the Act established by the Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG") to implement the FHP (each an "OPG Financing Entity"), which are expected to include a Fair Hydro Trust.

3. An OPG Financing Entity is expected to acquire the Assets monthly from the IESO and will finance the Assets in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Ministry has agreed to provide up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the~~an~~ OPG Financing Entity's subordinated debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG has amended its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares").

6. The Ministry will subscribe for Class A Shares monthly.

Commented [TS(1]: The Master Share Subscription agreement doesn't specify that the equity injections would go to fund "subordinated debt." I understand there is another agreement between OFA and OPG on this issue. Do we need to be specific here?

7. Each month OPG will deliver to the Ministry a share subscription form (the “Share Subscription”) setting out the amount of equity injection required (the “Subscription Payment”) and the corresponding number of Class A Shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed for by the Ministry.

8. The Ministry is required to pay the Subscription Payments out of amounts appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose for the fiscal year in which the payment is made (“Appropriated Amount”).

9. The Ministry has advised the OFA that the Ministry is required to make the Subscription Payments within [*] business days of the receipt by the Ministry of the Share Subscription (the “Share Subscription Payment Date”).

10. The Ministry considers it advisable for the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA has agreed to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

11. The Ministry and the OFA wish to enter into this Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”) to confirm their agreement regarding the terms on which the OFA will make the Subscription Payments.

Therefore:

The Ministry and the OFA agree as follows:

1) Payment Authorization

a) The Ministry authorizes the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA agrees to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

b) It is agreed by the Ministry and the OFA that the OFA is acting as an agent, on behalf of the Ministry, for the purposes of:

   i) t~~T~~ransacting with the Ontario Shared Services “IFIS” system in order to access funds appropriated for the Ministry in respect of the Fair Hydro Plan, and

   ii) m~~M~~aking the required Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry as further described in this MOU.

2) Payment Process

a) The Ministry will take all necessary steps to provide the OFA with a clear and legible ~~good quality~~ unapproved electronic copy of each Share Subscription, on the same day the Ministry receives the Share Subscription from OPG to allow the OFA to begin the procedures for making the Subscription Payment.

b) The Ministry will deliver to the OFA at least three business days before the Share Subscription Payment Date, electronic copies of the following:

a. a clear and legible electronic ~~good quality~~ copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by Minister or a delegate ~~Energy~~ ~~[insert appropriate MoE official]~~, and

b. a clear and legible electronic copy of a certificate (the "Certificate" ~~confirming~~) confirming that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment and, under Section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act, that OPG is entitled to receive the Subscription Payment. ~~(the "Certificate").~~ The form of the Certificate is attached as Schedule A to this MOU. Upon receipt of the executed and approved Share Subscription and the Certificate, the OFA will make the Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry, in the amount of the Share Subscription.

~~b.~~c. Payment Authorisation approved by Deputy Minister or delegate (Schedule C)

c) The OFA shall not be required to make any Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry if the Ministry has not delivered to the OFA an executed and approved Share Subscription and the Certificate as provided in paragraph b) above.

d) The Subscription Payments will be made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the amount of each Subscription Payment will be entered by the OFA via a journal entry into the Province's IFIS system under a pre-defined Ministry account immediately upon the completion of the Subscription Payment or shortly thereafter.

3) Reporting Requirements and Records

a) The OFA will deliver a notice by e-mail to the Ministry's contact person to confirm the completion of each Subscription Payment in the amount of the Share Subscription.

b) The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to the Share Subscriptions for a period of seven (7) years.

c) The requirements under this section shall survive the ~~any~~ termination of this~~he~~ MOU.

d) The Public Accounts, Volume 3 reporting related to the Subscription Payments will be performed by the Ministry.

5) Review and Termination

a) The Ministry and the OFA will review this MOU as necessary.

c) Upon termination of this MOU, provided the OFA has the power and authority to make such Subscription Payments, the OFA will make Subscription Payments in respect of executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Ministry to the OFA on or before the date of termination in accordance with subsection 2(c) of this MOU, but will not be obligated to make any further Subscription Payments on any executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Ministry to the OFA after the date of termination of this MOU. Hi Ken Russell,

Asokan Sadasivan sent us the below email last week (I was away and Joe Pedota didn't know who was involved in drafting the MOU between OFA and MOE). He is the Controller for MOE. He would like to replace Schedule A with the sample type document and his senior executives need an answer today by 12:00 noon. Is it possible to make this change or can we add the same as another Schedule?

I'm working from home today, but I can call you if you would like to discuss.

Thanks,

Risa Thau

Joe,

It has been confirmed that Schedule A – Certificate is the document that is referenced in Section 2 – Copy of each Share subscription executed and approved for payment (see highlight in below message).

I would rather have this replaced with something similar to the attached sample payment request. The attached can be modified to cover the legal aspects covered in Schedule A.

Let me know your thoughts please.

I am at an offsite meeting today. Hence we may not be able to connect; however, if you leave me a voice message I shall get back to you when I get a break.

Thanks,

Asokan

Joe,

Further to our telecon (in the absence of Risa), attached is the draft MOU for payments to be made by OFA on behalf of the ministry re Fiir Hydro Plan.

Section 2) Payment process indicates that ministry will deliver:

- Copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by Minister or Delegate
- Copy of certificate that there is sufficient appropriation for the payment to OFA to process payment on behalf of the ministry.

Please also refer Schedule A – Certificate in this regard.

Would appreciate if you could kindly advise if the above mentioned two documents are sufficient for OFA to process payment on behalf of the ministry please?

Thanks,

Asokan

Memorandum of Understanding
Relating to the
Fair Hydro Plan

Dated: XXXXXXX

Between:

Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario
as represented by the Minister of Energy (the "Ministry")

And:

Ontario Financing Authority
an agency of the Province of Ontario (the "OFA")

Whereas:

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP").

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") provides the right for the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") to create certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets may be acquired from the ~~Independent Electricity System Operator ("~~IESO~~")~~ by one or more special purpose financing entities, under the Act established by the Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG") to implement the FHP (each an "OPG Financing Entity"), which are expected to include a Fair Hydro Trust.

3. An OPG Financing Entity is expected to acquire the Assets monthly from the IESO and will finance the Assets in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Ministry has agreed to provide up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the~~an~~ OPG Financing Entity's subordinated debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG has amended its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares").

6. The Ministry will subscribe for Class A Shares monthly.

Commented [TS(1]: The Master Share Subscription agreement doesn't specify that the equity injections would go to fund "subordinated debt." I understand there is another agreement between OFA and OPG on this issue. Do we need to be specific here?

7. Each month OPG will deliver to the Ministry a share subscription form (the “Share Subscription”) setting out the amount of equity injection required (the “Subscription Payment”) and the corresponding number of Class A Shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed for by the Ministry.

8. The Ministry is required to pay the Subscription Payments out of amounts appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose for the fiscal year in which the payment is made (“Appropriated Amount”).

9. The Ministry has advised the OFA that the Ministry is required to make the Subscription Payments within [*] business days of the receipt by the Ministry of the Share Subscription (the “Share Subscription Payment Date”).

10. The Ministry considers it advisable for the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA has agreed to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

11. The Ministry and the OFA wish to enter into this Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”) to confirm their agreement regarding the terms on which the OFA will make the Subscription Payments.

Therefore:

The Ministry and the OFA agree as follows:

1) Payment Authorization

a) The Ministry authorizes the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA agrees to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

b) It is agreed by the Ministry and the OFA that the OFA is acting as an agent, on behalf of the Ministry, for the purposes of:

   i) t~~T~~ransacting with the Ontario Shared Services “IFIS” system in order to access funds appropriated for the Ministry in respect of the Fair Hydro Plan, and

   ii) m~~M~~aking the required Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry as further described in this MOU.

2) Payment Process

a) The Ministry will take all necessary steps to provide the OFA with a clear and legible ~~good quality~~ unapproved electronic copy of each Share Subscription, on the same day the Ministry receives the Share Subscription from OPG to allow the OFA to begin the procedures for making the Subscription Payment.

b) The Ministry will deliver to the OFA at least three business days before the Share Subscription Payment Date, electronic copies of the following:

a. a clear and legible electronic ~~good quality~~ copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by Minister or a delegate ~~Energy~~ ~~[insert appropriate MoE official]~~, and
b. a clear and legible electronic copy of a certificate (the "Certificate" ~~confirming~~) confirming that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment and, under Section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act, that OPG is entitled to receive the Subscription Payment. ~~(the "Certificate").~~ The form of the Certificate is attached as Schedule A to this MOU. Upon receipt of the executed and approved Share Subscription and the Certificate, the OFA will make the Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry, in the amount of the Share Subscription.

c) The OFA shall not be required to make any Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry if the Ministry has not delivered to the OFA an executed and approved Share Subscription and the Certificate as provided in paragraph b) above.

d) The Subscription Payments will be made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the amount of each Subscription Payment will be entered by the OFA via a journal entry into the Province's IFIS system under a pre-defined Ministry account immediately upon the completion of the Subscription Payment or shortly thereafter.

3) Reporting Requirements and Records

a) The OFA will deliver a notice by e-mail to the Ministry's contact person to confirm the completion of each Subscription Payment in the amount of the Share Subscription.

b) The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to the Share Subscriptions for a period of seven (7) years.

c) The requirements under this section shall survive the ~~any~~ termination of this~~he~~ MOU.

d) The Public Accounts, Volume 3 reporting related to the Subscription Payments will be performed by the Ministry.

4) Limited Role of the OFA

The OFA will only be responsible for making the Subscription Payments in accordance with section 2 of this MOU and reporting and record keeping in accordance with section 3 of this MOU. For greater clarity, the OFA will not be responsible for auditing or otherwise verifying the correctness of the Share Subscriptions; monitoring the OPG's application of the Commented [TS(2]: I believe this is defining the certificate in this section, and not the subscription payment.

Subscription Payments; monitoring the balance from time to time of the Appropriated Amount; or ensuring the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.

5) Review and Termination

a) The Ministry and the OFA will review this MOU as necessary.

b) This MOU may be terminated by either party at any time, on ninety (90) days' notice.

c) Upon termination of this MOU, provided the OFA has the power and authority to make such Subscription Payments, the OFA will make Subscription Payments in respect of executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Ministry to the OFA on or before the date of termination in accordance with subsection 2(c) of this MOU, but will not be obligated to make any further Subscription Payments on any executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Ministry to the OFA after the date of termination of this MOU. All provisions of this MOU relating to Subscription Payments made by the OFA will continue to apply with respect to such Subscription Payments made by the OFA after the termination date, notwithstanding termination of this MOU.

d) The parties will cooperate to help to ensure a smooth transition of the payment function upon termination.

6) No Service Charges

The OFA will not charge the Ministry for the OFA's services or for its disbursements or other expenses incurred under this MOU.

7) Contacts

a) Each party shall designate a member of its staff to be a contact person for the purposes of administering this MOU.

Agreed. The sample was not meant to replace Schedule A; but to have language incorporated into Schedule A to make it into a payment request.

Am repeating my concern indicated in the message I just sent:

> My concern is that there is no request from the ministry to the OFA to process the payment. Neither Section 2 nor the Schedule A contains any language requesting OFA to effect the wire transfer to OPG.

The attached sample payment request does not address either of the two issues addressed by the current Schedule A. i.e. it does not certify that there is sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment and does not provide the required certificate under Section 11.4 of FAA. As such it may not be used to replace the current Schedule A.

A form of payment authorization could be added as a separate schedule. The language of the MOU would have to be modified to make appropriate referenced to this new Schedule.

Joe,

It has been confirmed that Schedule A – Certificate is the document that is referenced in Section 2 – Copy of each Share subscription executed and approved for payment (see highlight in below message).

I would rather have this replaced with something similar to the attached sample payment request. The attached can be modified to cover the legal aspects covered in Schedule A.

Let me know your thoughts please.

I am at an offsite meeting today. Hence we may not be able to connect; however, if you leave me a voice message I shall get back to you when I get a break.

Subject: MOU between OFA and Energy

Joe,

Further to our telecon (in the absence of Risa), attached is the draft MOU for payments to be made by OFA on behalf of the ministry re Fiir Hydro Plan.

Section 2) Payment process indicates that ministry will deliver:

- Copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by Minister or Delegate
- Copy of certificate that there is sufficient appropriation for the payment to OFA to process payment on behalf of the ministry.

Please also refer Schedule A – Certificate in this regard.

Would appreciate if you could kindly advise if the above mentioned two documents are sufficient for OFA to process payment on behalf of the ministry please?

Thanks,

Asokan

Memorandum of Understanding
Relating to the Fair Hydro Plan

Dated: November , 2017

Between:

Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario
as represented by the Minister of Energy (the "Ministry")

And:

Ontario Financing Authority
an agency of the Province of Ontario (the "OFA")

Whereas:

1. On June 1, 2017, ~~T~~the Legislative Assembly of Ontario ~~Government of Ontario~~ enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") which was introduced by the Government to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP").

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act ~~(the "Regulations")~~ provide~~s~~ the right for the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") to create certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets may be acquired from the IESO by one or more special purpose financing entities, under the Act established by Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG") to implement the FHP (each an "OPG Financing Entity"), which are expected to include a Fair Hydro Trust.

3. An OPG Financing Entity is expected to acquire the Assets monthly from the IESO and will finance the Assets in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Ministry has agreed to provide up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the OPG Financing Entity's ~~subordinated~~ debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG has, having received shareholder consent, amended its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares") for the purposes of facilitating the contemplated equity injections.~~.~~

6. In accordance with the Equity Injection Plan, ~~T~~the Ministry will subscribe for Class A Shares on a monthly basis.

Commented [GH1]: Not sure if this makes sense.

7. Each month OPG will deliver to the Ministry a share subscription form (the "Share Subscription") ~~in the form consistent with that provided for in Schedule A to this Memorandum of Understanding (the "MOU"),~~ setting out the amount of equity injection required (the "Subscription Payment") and the corresponding number of Class A Shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed for by the Ministry.

~~8.~~ The Ministry is required to pay the Subscription Payments out of amounts appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose for the fiscal year in which the payment is made (the "Appropriated Amount"), ~~consistent with the requisite approval for the appropriations, which have already been obtained and any future appropriations approvals processes to be obtained.~~

9. The Ministry has advised the OFA that the Ministry is required to make the Subscription Payments within ~~[*]~~ five (5) ~~business~~ Business ~~days~~ Days of the receipt by the Ministry of the Share Subscription (the "Share Subscription Payment Date"). For the purposes of this MOU "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day on which banking institutions in Toronto, Ontario are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

10. The Ministry considers it advisable for the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA has agreed to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

11. The Ministry and the OFA wish to enter into this Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") to confirm their agreement regarding the terms on which the OFA will make the Subscription Payments.

Commented [GH2]: I don't think this is correct. Schedule A is a s.11.4 FAA Certificate, not a share subscription.

Commented [KR3]: I agree. Schedule A is not the share subscription form Commented [GH4]: What's the purpose of this sentence?

Commented [KR5]: I agree. This statement is not relevant for the purposes of the MOU.

Formatted: Numbered + Level: 1 + Numbering Style: 1, 2, 3, … + Start at: 1 + Alignment: Left + Aligned at: 0.25" + Indent at: 0.5"

Commented [KR6]: Memorandum of Understanding should appear in full and then be defined as "MOU"

Therefore:

The Ministry and the OFA agree as follows:

1) Payment Authorization

a) The Ministry authorizes the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA agrees to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

b) It is agreed by the Ministry and the OFA that the OFA is acting as an agent, on behalf of the Ministry, for the purposes of:

i) transacting with the Ontario Shared Services "IFIS" system in order to access funds appropriated for the Ministry in respect of the Fair Hydro Plan, and

ii) making the required Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry as further described in this MOU.

2) Payment Process

a) The Ministry will take all necessary steps to provide the OFA with a clear and legible unapproved electronic copy of each Share Subscription, on the same day the Ministry receives the Share Subscription from OPG to allow the OFA to begin the procedures for making the Subscription Payment.

b) The Ministry will deliver to the OFA at least three ~~business~~ Business ~~days~~ Days before the Share Subscription Payment Date, electronic copies of the following:

a. a clear and legible electronic copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved ~~for payment~~ by the Minister of Energy or a delegate, ~~and~~

b. a clear and legible electronic copy of a certificate (the "Certificate") confirming that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment and, under Section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act (the "FAA"), that OPG is entitled to receive the Subscription Payment. The form of the Certificate is attached as Schedule A to this MOU. Upon receipt of the executed and approved Share Subscription and the Certificate, the OFA will make the Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry, in the amount of the Share Subscription~~.~~, and

~~b.~~c. a ~~P~~payment ~~A~~authori~~z~~sation approved by Deputy Minister of Energy or delegate in the form attached as ~~(~~Schedule C~~)~~ to this MOU (the "Payment Authorization").

c) The OFA shall not be required to make any Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry if the Ministry has not delivered to the OFA an executed and approved Share Subscription, ~~and~~ the Certificate and the Payment Authorization as provided in paragraph b) above.

d) The Subscription Payments will be made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the amount of each Subscription Payment will be entered by the OFA via a journal entry into the Province's IFIS system under a pre-defined Ministry account immediately upon the completion of the Subscription Payment or shortly thereafter.

e) The OPG wire transfer information for the Subscription Payments ~~is~~ shall be as set out in ~~attached as~~ Schedule B attached to this MOU, or as the Ministry may otherwise provide from time to time by notice in writing to the OFA.

f) The Ministry shall deliver to the OFA certified copies of any

a. delegations under paragraph b) above made by the Minister of Energy to authorize persons to execute the Share Subscription,

b. delegations under paragraph b) above by the Deputy Minister of Energy to authorize persons to execute the Payment Authorization, and

c. authorizations under Section 11.4 (2) 1. of the FAA by the Minister of Energy or the Deputy Minister of Energy of persons to execute the Certificate.

3) Reporting Requirements and Records

a) The OFA will deliver a notice by e-mail to the Ministry's contact person to confirm the completion of each Subscription Payment in the amount of the Share Subscription.

Formatted: Font: (Default) Arial

Formatted: Indent: Left: 0.5", No bullets or numbering

b) The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to the Share Subscriptions for a period of seven (7) years.

c) The requirements under this section shall survive the termination of this MOU.

4) Limited Role of the OFA

The OFA will only be responsible for making the Subscription Payments in accordance with section 2 of this MOU and reporting and record keeping in accordance with section 3 of this MOU. For greater clarity, the OFA will not be responsible for auditing or otherwise verifying the correctness of the Share Subscriptions; monitoring the OPG's application of the Subscription Payments; monitoring the balance from time to time of the Appropriated Amount; or ensuring the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.

5) Review and Termination

a) The Ministry and the OFA will review this MOU as necessary.

b) This MOU may be terminated by either party at any time, on ninety (90) days' notice.

c) Upon termination of this MOU, provided the OFA has the power and authority to make such Subscription Payments, the OFA will make Subscription Payments in respect of executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Ministry to the OFA on or before the date of termination in accordance with subsection 2(c) of this MOU, but will not be obligated to make any further Subscription Payments on any executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Ministry to the OFA after the date of termination of this MOU. All provisions of this MOU relating to Subscription Payments made by the OFA will continue to apply with respect to such Subscription Payments made by the OFA after the termination date, notwithstanding termination of this MOU.

d) The parties will cooperate to help to ensure a smooth transition of the payment function upon termination.

6) No Service Charges

The OFA will not charge the Ministry for the OFA's services or for its disbursements or other expenses incurred under this MOU.

7) Contacts

a) Each party shall designate a member of its staff to be a contact person for the purposes of administering this MOU.

Hi John,

FYI. Alex was asking why there was such a discrepancy between the Budget 2018 number that we carried for GA in the financing table versus the actual amount. It's bad timing considering we locked in the numbers for the Document on Friday.

As an FYI…..We'll see what happens on this, but $853M may have to be reduced by $333M (forecast for March 2018) for 2017-18 (highlighted in purple below)?

According to the latest update from OPG, they are not expecting to purchase the regulatory assets from IESO until next month, so I don't think there will be an equity injection for this month.

Please let me know if we could book a quick meeting to discuss this with them.

Hi Ken,

In addition to the question below, Energy updated the language in the MOU Section 3. (b) to be:

"The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to the OREC for a period of seven (7) years, and will provide the Ministry with electronic copies (or paper copies, if requested by the Ministry) of such of those records as the Ministry may request from time to time."

Can you please let us know if you are okay with the revised language?

Thanks,
Gavin He

Hi Ken,

Quick question in the attached MOU. In bullet #2, "reimbursements" was defined, and then in #3, "reimbursements" was re-defined as "payments". Can we not just use the term "payments" across the whole document? Could you please let us know what your thoughts are on this?

Thanks,

Hi John,

See Kens comment in the attached. He has a good point in the sense as to what sort of "are in agreement" looks like, especially since we seen that Energys PRRT didn't really mention the OFA as playing a role in the forecasting.

We have received a marked up version of the MOU between the OFA and MoE related to the OREC regulation. I did a quick blackline and there were actually other changes that were not highlighted and was advisable to check with you whether you see any issues/comments. The changes seem to revolve around the definitions of the program etc.

V3_clean = what we had last sent over
DAP Nov 25 = the latest markup we received Track changes to v3_clean - quick blackline to show additional changes not shown in the markup received.

Hoping you can take a quick look.

Hi Kaitlin,
Yes, there is still some work to be done on the Sub-Debt.

The OFA has not seen any revised documents from OPG. With Attached is the email from Ken Kandeepan to Sheen Liu at OPG on July 31 that dealt only with the Sub-Debt and Performance Fees with one major change and some other recommendations, Ken did clarify with Sheen that the OFA could not comment on the fix fee.

The main point is that it should be between OPG, Fair Hydro Trust and the Ministry of Energy.

Hi Ken,

My name is May Lapira and I'm the newest addition to the Treasury team. Jenny has been working hard to get me updated on the accounting aspects of the Fair Hydro Plan so we can transition future correspondences over to me.

Per our discussion during the call earlier today, we have reached out to EY to obtain concurrence on our interpretation of their accounting position. Please see attached the email trail from EY's senior manager Brittany Keenan confirming that excluding the equity injection component from the definition of a 'benchmark bond' would result in non-commercial terms and could ultimately result in OPG not being able to consolidate the financing entity.

Please let me know if you have any follow up questions on this matter.

I look forward to working with you,
May

Fair Hydro Plan – Subordinated Debt Loan Arrangement
Term Sheet

- Parties: OPG, Fair Hydro Trust, ~~OFA~~, Ministry of Energy

- In accordance with the Master Subscription Agreement among OPG, ~~OFA~~ and Ministry of Energy, the Province agrees to inject 44% of total funding of GA asset by way of equity subscriptions in OPG, and OPG agrees to use the equity subscription amounts solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt (Equity Injection Plan) requirements as part of the Fair Hydro Plan

- OPG will lend the equity injection from the Province to Fair Hydro Trust by way of subordinated debt (one or more mezzanine level)

- Initial credit rating will be assigned to the subordinated debt of Fair Hydro Trust

- Based on monthly funding requirement of GA asset, the Trust will use short term financing, such as bank facilities, and take out bonds once accumulative short term funding reaches certain levels.

- The mechanism to implement Equity Injection Plan will be based on monthly equity injections reflecting funding requirements of GA asset

- Interest rates on the subordinated debt will be established as follows:

    - During the Trust short term financing period when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt

    - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. The process will be similar to the one established for pricing of OPG debt drawn from OEFC facilities.

Commented [KK1]: The OFA is not part of the master subscription agreement and hence should be removed.

Commented [KK2]: OPG can simplify (only set rates once) and reduce financing risk (there is no certainty as to the timing or term structure of the senior debt issuance) of the suggested process by terming out the subordinated debt at the time of each monthly equity injection from the Province

TORYS/OPG COMMENTS: JUNE 22, 2017

Fees, subs. 19 (3) of the Act

(x.1) For the purposes of this section, "incremental annual funding obligation" means the aggregate of all funding obligations issued by all financing entities in a calendar year.

10xx. (1) For the purposes of subsection 19 (3) of the Act, the Financial Services Manager may establish and charge fees to financing entities in relation to the following matters:

1. The services provided by the Financial Services Manager to financing entities, which may include services related to planning, financing, negotiation and execution of agreements, the payment of costs and expenses on behalf of a financing entity, front office services and administrative services.

2. The costs of doing anything that the Financial Services Manager is required or permitted to do under the Act.

(2) The fees mentioned in subsection (1) shall be established annually and shall be comprised of a fixed fee and a variable fee based on performance.

(x.2) The fixed fee referred to in (2) shall be payable monthly and calculated as follows:

$$(A \times B) / 12$$

Where,

A = a percentage, expressed as a per annum rate, based on market comparable fees determined by the Financial Services Manager charged by service providers for similar services, and

B = the average of the opening and closing balances of the aggregate principal amount of outstanding funding obligations issued by all financing entities in the previous calendar month.

(x.3) The variable fee referred to in (2) shall be calculated as the sum of the amounts calculated, using the following formula, for all tranches of funding obligations issued by all financing entities in the relevant year:

$$(A \times (B - C)) \times D$$

Where,

A = the principal amount of the applicable tranche of net incremental annual funding obligations,

B = the forecast interest rate for the applicable tranche of incremental annual funding obligations, as determined by the Financial Services Manager on or before the end of the calendar year prior to the calendar year in which the fee is being determined and based on the term of the applicable tranche of incremental annual funding obligations,

C = the actual interest rate for the applicable tranche of incremental annual funding obligations,

(3) The variable fee payable for any calendar year shall not be:

1. more than 1% of (D × the incremental annual funding obligations), or

2. less than -1% of (D × the incremental annual funding obligations).

(3.x) If the variable fee is a negative amount, such amount shall be deducted from the fixed fee payable in the following calendar year in twelve equal monthly instalments.

Board approval of fees, subs. 19 (4) of the Act

11xx. (1) The Financial Services Manager shall submit its proposed fees, together with the methodology used for determining its proposed fees, to the Board for approval no later than August 31, 2017. [NTD: Need to determine how to deal with the 1st fee. Understand that OPG is proposing a fixed fee for this year. OPG: There will not be a variable fee for the 1st year.]

(2) The Board may approve the fees proposed under (1) and the methodology used to determine those fees or it may refer the proposal back to the Financial Services Manager for further consideration with the Board's recommendations.

(3) The Financial Services Manager may from time to time, but not more than once in any 12 month period, submit proposed amendments to the approved methodology for determining fees, together with its proposed fees based on such proposed amendments, to the Board and the Board may approve the proposed amendments and the proposed fees or may refer the proposal back to the Financial Services Manager for further consideration with the Board's recommendations.

Commented [A1]: Pls note that as it stands it appears to include all of the borrowings in any given year which is both new borrowings and refinancing maturities. Including the word "net" ensures that the performance fee is limited to new borrwoings only.

(4) If the Financial Services Manager submits proposed amendments to its approved methodology for determining fees, the proposed amendments together with the proposed fees based on such proposed amendments shall be submitted to the Board for approval no later than 120 days before the Financial Services Manager intends for the fees, determined on the basis of the amended methodology, to commence being charged.

(5) Section 10 applies with such modifications as the context may require to any application by the Financial Services Manager for approval to amend the approved methodology for determining fees and for approval of the resulting fees.

(6) The Financial Services Manager may annually establish and charge fees to financing entities in accordance with the methodology approved by the Board under (2) or (3), as applicable, and such fees shall be deemed to have been approved by the Board for purposes of subsection 19(4) of the Act provided that, in each year where the Financial Services Manager establishes and charges fees that are deemed to have been approved under this subsection, the Financial Services Manager shall submit to the Board, for information purposes, a report setting out the fees that have been established for the year and demonstrating that the approved methodology has been appropriately applied.

(7) When the Financial Services Manager submits its proposed fees and methodology under (1), or its proposed amendments to the approved methodology and resulting proposed fees under (3), the Financial Services Manager shall provide the Board with the following:

1. The methodology that the Financial Services Manager has used to calculate its fixed and variable fees.

2. The methodology that the Financial Services Manager has used to benchmark the market comparable fees charged by service providers for similar services.

3. The identity of the financing entities that are liable to pay the proposed fees.

4. Such other information as the Board may require.

(x.1) Fees established by the Financial Services Manager and approved by the Board shall be included in the definition of “expenses” for the purposes of determining finance amounts under the Act.

(4) If the Financial Services Manager submits proposed amendments to its approved methodology for determining fees, the proposed amendments together with the proposed fees based on such proposed amendments shall be submitted to the Board for approval no later than 120 days before the Financial Services Manager intends for the fees, determined on the basis of the amended methodology, to commence being charged.

(5) Section 10 applies with such modifications as the context may require to any application by the Financial Services Manager for approval to amend the approved methodology for determining fees and for approval of the resulting fees.

(6) The Financial Services Manager may annually establish and charge fees to financing entities in accordance with the methodology approved by the Board under (2) or (3), as applicable, and such fees shall be deemed to have been approved by the Board for purposes of subsection 19(4) of the Act provided that, in each year where the Financial Services Manager establishes and charges fees that are deemed to have been approved under this subsection, the Financial Services Manager shall submit to the Board, for information purposes, a report setting out the fees that have been established for the year and demonstrating that the approved methodology has been appropriately applied.

(7) When the Financial Services Manager submits its proposed fees and methodology under (1), or its proposed amendments to the approved methodology and resulting proposed fees under (3), the Financial Services Manager shall provide the Board with the following:

1. The methodology that the Financial Services Manager has used to calculate its fixed and variable fees.

2. The methodology that the Financial Services Manager has used to benchmark the market comparable fees charged by service providers for similar services.

3. The identity of the financing entities that are liable to pay the proposed fees.

4. Such other information as the Board may require.

(x.1) Fees established by the Financial Services Manager and approved by the Board shall be included in the definition of “expenses” for the purposes of determining finance amounts under the Act.

Ken,

Thanks for providing your concurrence in the Trust's approach to performance benchmarking. In order to move forward with completing all Fair Hydro Plan related legal documents, could you please also confirm your agreement to the methodology/process as illustrated in the other two documents provided to you in the past (both attached above for your reference)? Specifically, we would appreciate your confirmation re the following items:

1. Fee Structure, including both fixed and variable fees (as described in FHPA Regulations – Fees.docx)
2. The process of (a) taking out subordinated loan from OFA; and (b) establishing relevant pricing (as described in Draft subordinated Debt Term Sheet.doc)

If you have other outstanding comments relating to Fair Hydro Plan, please also let us know so that we could incorporate them before finalizing the structure and legal documents.

Your timely response will be appreciated.

Subject: EY concurrence re: Draft Trust Performance Fee Recommendations

Hi Ken,

My name is May Lapira and I'm the newest addition to the Treasury team. Jenny has been working hard to get me updated on the accounting aspects of the Fair Hydro Plan so we can transition future correspondences over to me.

Per our discussion during the call earlier today, we have reached out to EY to obtain concurrence on our interpretation of their accounting position. Please see attached the email trail from EY's senior manager Brittany Keenan confirming that excluding the equity injection component from the definition of a 'benchmark bond' would result in non-commercial terms and could ultimately result in OPG not being able to consolidate the financing entity.

Please let me know if you have any follow up questions on this matter.

I look forward to working with you,
May

Fees, subs. 19 (3) of the Act

(x.1) For the purposes of this section, "incremental annual funding obligation" means the aggregate of all funding obligations issued by all financing entities in a calendar year.

10xx. (1) For the purposes of subsection 19 (3) of the Act, the Financial Services Manager may establish and charge fees to financing entities in relation to the following matters:

1. The services provided by the Financial Services Manager to financing entities, which may include services related to planning, financing, negotiation and execution of agreements, the payment of costs and expenses on behalf of a financing entity, front office services and administrative services.

2. The costs of doing anything that the Financial Services Manager is required or permitted to do under the Act.

(2) The fees mentioned in subsection (1) shall be established annually and shall be comprised of a fixed fee and a variable fee based on performance.

(x.2) The fixed fee referred to in (2) shall be payable monthly and calculated as follows:

$$(A \times B) / 12$$

Where,

A = a percentage, expressed as a per annum rate, based on market comparable fees determined by the Financial Services Manager charged by service providers for similar services, and

B = the average of the opening and closing balances of the aggregate principal amount of outstanding funding obligations issued by all financing entities in the previous calendar month.

(x.3) The variable fee referred to in (2) shall be calculated as the sum of the amounts calculated, using the following formula, for all tranches of funding obligations issued by all financing entities in the relevant year:

$$(A \times (B - C)) \times D$$

Where,

A = the principal amount of the applicable tranche of incremental annual funding obligations,

B = the forecast interest rate for the applicable tranche of incremental annual funding obligations, as determined by the Financial Services Manager on or before the end of the calendar year prior to the calendar year in which the fee is being determined and based on the term of the applicable tranche of incremental annual funding obligations,

C = the actual interest rate for the applicable tranche of incremental annual funding obligations,

(3) The variable fee payable for any calendar year shall not be:

1. more than 1% of (D × the incremental annual funding obligations), or

2. less than -1% of (D × the incremental annual funding obligations).

(3.x) If the variable fee is a negative amount, such amount shall be deducted from the fixed fee payable in the following calendar year in twelve equal monthly instalments.

Board approval of fees, subs. 19 (4) of the Act

11xx. (1) The Financial Services Manager shall submit its proposed fees, together with the methodology used for determining its proposed fees, to the Board for approval no later than August 31, 2017. [NTD: Need to determine how to deal with the 1st fee. Understand that OPG is proposing a fixed fee for this year. OPG: There will not be a variable fee for the 1st year.]

(2) The Board may approve the fees proposed under (1) and the methodology used to determine those fees or it may refer the proposal back to the Financial Services Manager for further consideration with the Board's recommendations.

(3) The Financial Services Manager may from time to time, but not more than once in any 12 month period, submit proposed amendments to the approved methodology for determining fees, together with its proposed fees based on such proposed amendments, to the Board and the Board may approve the proposed amendments and the proposed fees or may refer the proposal back to the Financial Services Manager for further consideration with the Board's recommendations.

(4) If the Financial Services Manager submits proposed amendments to its approved methodology for determining fees, the proposed amendments together with the proposed fees based on such proposed amendments shall be submitted to the Board for approval no later than 120 days before the Financial Services Manager intends for the fees, determined on the basis of the amended methodology, to commence being charged.

(5) Section 10 applies with such modifications as the context may require to any application by the Financial Services Manager for approval to amend the approved methodology for determining fees and for approval of the resulting fees.

(6) The Financial Services Manager may annually establish and charge fees to financing entities in accordance with the methodology approved by the Board under (2) or (3), as applicable, and such fees shall be deemed to have been approved by the Board for purposes of subsection 19(4) of the Act provided that, in each year where the Financial Services Manager establishes and charges fees that are deemed to have been approved under this subsection, the Financial Services Manager shall submit to the Board, for information purposes, a report setting out the fees that have been established for the year and demonstrating that the approved methodology has been appropriately applied.

(7) When the Financial Services Manager submits its proposed fees and methodology under (1), or its proposed amendments to the approved methodology and resulting proposed fees under (3), the Financial Services Manager shall provide the Board with the following:

1. The methodology that the Financial Services Manager has used to calculate its fixed and variable fees.

2. The methodology that the Financial Services Manager has used to benchmark the market comparable fees charged by service providers for similar services.

3. The identity of the financing entities that are liable to pay the proposed fees.

4. Such other information as the Board may require.

(x.1) Fees established by the Financial Services Manager and approved by the Board shall be included in the definition of “expenses” for the purposes of determining finance amounts under the Act.

Fair Hydro Plan – Subordinated Debt Loan Arrangement
Term Sheet

- Parties: OPG, Fair Hydro Trust, OFA

- In accordance with the Master Subscription Agreement among OPG, OFA and Ministry of Energy, the Province agrees to inject 44% of total funding of GA asset by way of equity subscriptions in OPG, and OPG agrees to use the equity subscription amounts solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt (Equity Injection Plan) requirements as part of the Fair Hydro Plan

- OPG will lend the equity injection from the Province to Fair Hydro Trust by way of subordinated debt (one or more mezzanine level)

- Initial credit rating will be assigned to the subordinated debt of Fair Hydro Trust

- Based on monthly funding requirement of GA asset, the Trust will use short term financing, such as bank facilities, and take out bonds once accumulative short term funding reaches certain levels.

- The mechanism to implement Equity Injection Plan will be based on monthly equity injections reflecting funding requirements of GA asset

- Interest rates on the subordinated debt will be established as follows:

    - During the Trust short term financing period when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt

    - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. The process will be similar to the one established for pricing of OPG debt drawn from OEFC facilities.

Hi Graham,

Thank you very much for the feedback. We have reviewed and included our comments in the attached version. Please note that we prefer not to include your proposed paragraph concerning conflicts between the MOU and the MSA. As we pointed out in the meeting as well, OFA's role in this process is to facilitate the payment on behalf of ENERGY. If ENERGY has concerns about specific issues where conflict may arise, our expectation is that ENERGY should address that directly. For example, if the MSA called for a payment schedule which the OFA cannot meet, the OFA could not agree that the MOU be subject to those provisions of the MSA.

Please let us know if you are okay with this.

Hi John,

Thanks for meeting with us yesterday on the equity injection process. It was helpful to have everyone together in one place.

I hope to get the ENERGY-OFA MOU completed and ready for approvals by the end of next week. In order to do that, these are the following outstanding pieces. Right now, the OFA is holding the pen on the document, so it makes sense for you to include these items in the version you are working off and we can review next week:

1. Template for the FAA Section 11.4 certificate. I propose we include this as a schedule to the MOU. Also, please confirm the timing of when the certificate should be provided to OFA each month i.e., alongside the share subscription form, or after the payments have been made.
   OFA: This has been reflected in the updated version of the MOU.

2. Identify how ENERGY should confirm that there is sufficient Appropriated Amount for the payments each month. The need for this is identified in 2b of the draft MOU. As discussed yesterday, it would be ideal if this could be done in the same certificate mentioned above.
   OFA: This has been reflected in the updated version of the MOU.

3. Confirm the following:
   - OFA has OPG's wire transfer information (suggest including this information as a separate schedule)
     OFA: Could you please provide us with the updated OPG's wire transfer information?
   - Scanned electronic copies for the share subscription form & FAA certificate are acceptable

- Every month, the OFA will inform the Ministry of Energy via email once the payments have been made.
  OFA: Yes, the Settlements team of OFA can do that. Could you please provide a contact for this?

Let us know if you have any questions. We are working with our legal on the delegation memos. Also as discussed at yesterday's meeting, we will update the flowchart and circulate.

My comments are attached.

As I have noted my view is that the OFA can not agree to the proposed paragraph concerning conflicts between the MOU and the MSA. If MoE has concerns about specific issues where conflict may arise they should be addressed directly. As an example if the MSA called for a payment schedule which the OFA can not meet the OFA could not agree that the MOU be subject to those provisions of the MSA.

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") provides the right for the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") to create certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets may be acquired from the ~~Independent Electricity System Operator ("~~IESO~~")~~ by one or more special purpose financing entities, under the Act established by ~~the~~ Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG") to implement the FHP (each an "OPG Financing Entity"), which are expected to include a Fair Hydro Trust.

3. An OPG Financing Entity is expected to acquire the Assets monthly from the IESO and will finance the Assets in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Ministry has agreed to provide up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the~~an~~ OPG Financing Entity's subordinated debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG has amended its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares").

6. The Ministry will subscribe for Class A Shares monthly.

Commented [TS(1]: The Master Share Subscription agreement doesn't specify that the equity injections would go to fund "subordinated debt." I understand there is another agreement between OFA and OPG on this issue. Do we need to be specific here?

Commented [KR2]: This recital does not specifically reference the MSA. The fact that there is an agreement separate from the MSA for this obligation does not affect the recital.

7. Each month OPG will deliver to the Ministry a share subscription form (the "Share Subscription") setting out the amount of equity injection required (the "Subscription Payment") and the corresponding number of Class A Shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed for by the Ministry.

8. The Ministry is required to pay the Subscription Payments out of amounts appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose for the fiscal year in which the payment is made ("Appropriated Amount").

9. The Ministry has advised the OFA that the Ministry is required to make the Subscription Payments within [*] business days of the receipt by the Ministry of the Share Subscription (the "Share Subscription Payment Date").

10. The Ministry considers it advisable for the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA has agreed to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

11. The Ministry and the OFA wish to enter into this Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") to confirm their agreement regarding the terms on which the OFA will make the Subscription Payments.

Therefore:

The Ministry and the OFA agree as follows:

1) Payment Authorization

a) The Ministry authorizes the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA agrees to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

b) It is agreed by the Ministry and the OFA that the OFA is acting as an agent, on behalf of the Ministry, for the purposes of:

   i) tTransacting with the Ontario Shared Services "IFIS" system in order to access funds appropriated for the Ministry in respect of the Fair Hydro Plan, and

   ii) mMaking the required Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry as further described in this MOU.

2) Payment Process

b) The Ministry will deliver to the OFA at least three business days before the Share Subscription Payment Date, electronic copies of the following:

   a. a clear and legible electronic ~~good quality~~ copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by the Minister Energy or a delegate ~~Energy~~ ~~[insert appropriate MoE official]~~, and
   b. a clear and legible electronic copy of a certificate (the "Certificate" ~~confirming~~) confirming that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment and, under Section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act, that OPG is entitled to receive the Subscription Payment. ~~(the "Certificate").~~ The form of the Certificate is attached as Schedule A to this MOU. Upon receipt of the executed and approved Share Subscription and the Certificate, the OFA will make the Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry, in the amount of the Share Subscription.

c) The OFA shall not be required to make any Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry if the Ministry has not delivered to the OFA an executed and approved Share Subscription and the Certificate as provided in paragraph b) above.

d) The Subscription Payments will be made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the amount of each Subscription Payment will be entered by the OFA via a journal entry into the Province's IFIS system under a pre-defined Ministry account immediately upon the completion of the Subscription Payment or shortly thereafter.

e) The OPG wire transfer information for the Subscription Payments is attached as Schedule B to this MOU.

3) Reporting Requirements and Records

a) The OFA will deliver a notice by e-mail to the Ministry's contact person to confirm the completion of each Subscription Payment in the amount of the Share Subscription.

b) The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to the Share Subscriptions for a period of seven (7) years.

c) The requirements under this section shall survive the ~~any~~ termination of this~~he~~ MOU.

d) The Public Accounts, Volume 3 reporting related to the Subscription Payments will be performed by the Ministry.

4) Limited Role of the OFA

The OFA will only be responsible for making the Subscription Payments in accordance with section 2 of this MOU and reporting and record keeping in accordance with section 3 of this Commented [TS(3]: I believe this is defining the certificate in this section, and not the subscription payment.

Commented [Kamala4]: Transactions recorded through inter-ministry journals are not captured for Public Accounts Volume 3 reporting.

For greater clarity, the OFA will not be responsible for auditing or otherwise verifying the correctness of the Share Subscriptions; monitoring the OPG's application of the Subscription Payments; monitoring the balance from time to time of the Appropriated Amount; or ensuring the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.

5) Review and Termination

a) The Ministry and the OFA will review this MOU as necessary.

b) This MOU may be terminated by either party at any time, on ninety (90) days' notice.

Hi Ken and Mike,

Last week, we attended a meeting with Energy and OPG to discuss the Master Subscription Agreement for the equity injection process. Ken Russell drafted a MOU between OFA and Energy before about making the equity injection payments on Energy's behalf. Also, Ken R. drafted a FAA section 11.4 certificate form as well. After the meeting, Ken R. has updated both document, see attached, based on the discussion.

Could you please kindly review and let us know if you have any comments/concerns by noon tomorrow, Wednesday, November 15th, 2017? In addition, could you please review and confirm questions 2&3 from Energy in below email?

Please let me know if you would like to discuss this in person, and we can set up a brief meeting. Thanks in advance for your cooperation.

Thanks,
Gavin He

Subject: OFA/Energy MOU - Follow up from Nov 9 meeting

Hi John,

Thanks for meeting with us yesterday on the equity injection process. It was helpful to have everyone together in one place.

I hope to get the ENERGY-OFA MOU completed and ready for approvals by the end of next week. In order to do that, these are the following outstanding pieces. Right now, the OFA is holding the pen on the document, so it makes sense for you to include these items in the version you are working off and we can review next week:

1. Template for the FAA Section 11.4 certificate. I propose we include this as a schedule to the MOU. Also, please confirm the timing of when the certificate should be provided to OFA each month i.e., alongside the share subscription form, or after the payments have been made.

2. Identify how ENERGY should confirm that there is sufficient Appropriated Amount for the payments each month. The need for this is identified in 2b of the draft MOU. As discussed yesterday, it would be ideal if this could be done in the same certificate mentioned above.

3. Confirm the following:
    - OFA has OPG's wire transfer information (suggest including this information as a separate schedule)
    - Scanned electronic copies for the share subscription form & FAA certificate are acceptable
    - Every month, the OFA will inform the Ministry of Energy via email once the payments have been made.

Let us know if you have any questions. We are working with our legal on the delegation memos. Also as discussed at yesterday's meeting, we will update the flowchart and circulate.
Thanks,
Shruti

Hi Ron,

We have landed on the final version of the MOU between OFA and ENERGY. It has been reviewed by OFA Legal, FTD, and CMD. Please let me know if you are good with this.

Here's a summary of the key changes since the last version you saw:

1. A new schedule (Schedule C) was added at the end of the document, as a confirmation of payment authorisation from ENERGY. Section 2) Payment Process was updated to add reference to schedule C as well.
2. Removed the word "subordinate" in paragraph 4 to be consistent with the Master Share Subscription Agreement executed between OPG and ENERGY. OFA Legal is good with this change too.
3. Added a definition of business day and number of days allowed to complete the payment, consistent with the MSA.
4. Added an acknowledgement of possible future changes to the wire transfer instruction.
5. For section 7 & 8, ENERGY decided to keep the names and contacts information, so we reserved the edits.

ENERGY will move forward with the sign-off from their ADM first and send the original to us. I will put together a blue sheet package with the required signatures once I receive the original.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Gavin He

Hi Ron,

ENERGY just told me that their CAO suggested we remove the names in the contact section of the MOU – essentially only referring to the contacts by title. This will eliminate updates when the contacts change. FTD and OFA Legal are good with that suggestion. ENERGY will send me an updated version of the MOU and I will share that with you once I have it.

Thanks,

have attached a clean copy for your review and approval. I can start putting together the approval package.

Are you good with the clean version going back to ENERGY so that they can start their approval process?

Hi Ron,

One of the principles that guided us, which was an input from Ken R., was that if we are more involved, then we are more accountable. We wanted this to be a responsibility of Energy to keep track of the appropriation amount and that they are requesting payments within it. Ken K. had suggested getting more detailed information and was convinced otherwise. So things were kept simple but to meet the legal test under the Financial Administration Act.

Energy is looking for the draft documents today (SNAP), would it be okay to send to them caveating that we may have further changes to the Certificate?

Thanks,

John

Thanks Gavin. That appears to meet my request on certification on the appropriation room as well.

I would note that OPG's certificate for disbursements under ONFA is somewhat more detailed. Would some of its components (an example is attached) have been considered for inclusion in the certificate for the equity injection?

Hi Ron,

Following the OFA/Energy MOU meeting regarding the equity injection last week, Ken Russell has updated the MOU and the Certificate form based on the discussion, and the attached have been reviewed by FTD and CMD's. Below are some key comments from the discussion/review:

- The MOU should include timing on when the Subscription Form and Certificate Form are required before the payments can be made.
- Ken Kandeepan had a comment that we should have mechanism to confirm that Energy has enough Appropriated Amount for the payment. Ken Russell is of the view that this takes the OFA's role beyond payment agent to monitoring and that the MOU should maintain the process from previous MOUs and require only that MoE certify that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount for the payment. Therefore, Ken R. added a confirmation language in the Certificate Form to address this. Ken K. agreed and was good with this approach.
- Ken K. also suggested adding OPG's wire transfer information as a separate schedule in the MOU.

CMD also reviewed and they don't have any comments.

Also, getting back to your question previously on whether OPG is entitled to receive the payment from MoE under FAA. Ken R. responded that the language of the Certificate Form tracks the language of the statute, and he included wording in the Certificate Form to get Energy to confirm that OPG is entitled to the payment. However, if you like, he said we could add some wording such as "OPG is entitled to the payment since MoE is required to subscribe for the Class A shares under the Master Subscription Agreement."

Could you please review the draft and let us know if we can share this with Energy? They would like to get this approved by the end of this week.

Gavin He

From a cash management perspective Alfonso would like to have a contact in energy who can provide on a monthly basis the cash outflow with regard to this payment. Much appreciated if you can follow up with Energy and provide him with the contact details.

Hi Ken and Mike,

Last week, we attended a meeting with Energy and OPG to discuss the Master Subscription Agreement for the equity injection process. Ken Russell drafted a MOU between OFA and Energy before about making the equity injection payments on Energy's behalf. Also, Ken R. drafted a FAA section 11.4 certificate form as well. After the meeting, Ken R. has updated both document, see attached, based on the discussion.

Could you please kindly review and let us know if you have any comments/concerns by noon tomorrow, Wednesday, November 15th, 2017? In addition, could you please review and confirm questions 2&3 from Energy in below email?

Please let me know if you would like to discuss this in person, and we can set up a brief meeting. Thanks in advance for your cooperation.

Thanks,

Subject: OFA/Energy MOU - Follow up from Nov 9 meeting

Hi John,

Thanks for meeting with us yesterday on the equity injection process. It was helpful to have everyone together in one place.

I hope to get the ENERGY-OFA MOU completed and ready for approvals by the end of next week. In order to do that, these are the following outstanding pieces. Right now, the OFA is holding the pen on the document, so it makes sense for you to include these items in the version you are working off and we can review next week:

1. Template for the FAA Section 11.4 certificate. I propose we include this as a schedule to the MOU. Also, please confirm the timing of when the certificate should be provided to OFA each month i.e., alongside the share subscription form, or after the payments have been made. Settlements would like updated wire transfer information from OPG and adding it as a separate schedule is a good idea.

3. Identify how ENERGY should confirm that there is sufficient Appropriated Amount for the payments each month. The need for this is identified in 2b of the draft MOU. As discussed yesterday, it would be ideal if this could be done in the same certificate mentioned above. Agreed, the certificate as it stands does provide for this.

4. Confirm the following:
    - OFA has OPG's wire transfer information (suggest including this information as a separate schedule)
    - Scanned electronic copies for the share subscription form & FAA certificate are acceptable
    - Every month, the OFA will inform the Ministry of Energy via email once the payments have been made. Yes, Settlements can do that.

Let us know if you have any questions. We are working with our legal on the delegation memos. Also as discussed at yesterday's meeting, we will update the flowchart and circulate.
Thanks,
Shruti

("OPG") to implement the FHP (each an "OPG Financing Entity"), which are expected to include a Fair Hydro Trust.

3. An OPG Financing Entity is expected to acquire the Assets monthly from the IESO and will finance the Assets in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Ministry has agreed to provide up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the OPG Financing Entity's debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG has, having received shareholder consent, amended its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares") for the purposes of facilitating the contemplated equity injections.

6. In accordance with the Equity Injection Plan, the Ministry will subscribe for Class A Shares on a monthly basis.

7. Each month OPG will deliver to the Ministry a share subscription form (the "Share Subscription") setting out the amount of equity injection required (the "Subscription Payment") and the corresponding number of Class A Shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed for by the Ministry.

8. The Ministry is required to pay the Subscription Payments out of amounts appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose for the fiscal year in which the payment is made (the "Appropriated Amount").

9. The Ministry has advised the OFA that the Ministry is required to make the Subscription Payments within five (5) Business Days of the receipt by the Ministry of the Share Subscription (the "Share Subscription Payment Date"). For the purposes of this MOU "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day on which banking institutions in Toronto, Ontario are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

10. The Ministry considers it advisable for the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA has agreed to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

11. The Ministry and the OFA wish to enter into this Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") to confirm their agreement regarding the terms on which the OFA will make the Subscription Payments.

Therefore:

The Ministry and the OFA agree as follows:

1) Payment Authorization

a) The Ministry authorizes the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA agrees to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

b) It is agreed by the Ministry and the OFA that the OFA is acting as an agent, on behalf of the Ministry, for the purposes of:

   i) transacting with the Ontario Shared Services "IFIS" system in order to access funds appropriated for the Ministry in respect of the Fair Hydro Plan, and

   ii) making the required Subscription Payments on behalf of the Ministry as further described in this MOU.

2) Payment Process

a) The Ministry will take all necessary steps to provide the OFA with a clear and legible unapproved electronic copy of each Share Subscription, on the same day the Ministry receives the Share Subscription from OPG to allow the OFA to begin the procedures for making the Subscription Payment.

b) The Ministry will deliver to the OFA at least three Business Days before the Share Subscription Payment Date, electronic copies of the following:

   a. a clear and legible electronic copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved by the Minister of Energy or authorized delegate;
   b. a clear and legible electronic copy of a certificate, in the form attached as Schedule A to this MOU (the "Certificate"), confirming that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment and, under section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act (the "FAA"), that OPG is entitled to receive the Subscription Payment; and
   c. a clear and legible electronic copy of a payment authorization approved by the Deputy Minister of Energy or authorized delegate in the form attached as Schedule C to this MOU (the "Payment Authorization").

c) Upon receipt of the executed and approved Share Subscription, the Certificate and the Payment Authorization, the OFA will make the Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry, in the amount of the Share Subscription.

d) The OFA shall not be required to make any Subscription Payment on behalf of the Ministry if the Ministry has not delivered to the OFA an executed and approved Share Subscription, the Certificate and the Payment Authorization as provided in paragraph b) above.

e) The Subscription Payments will be made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the amount of each Subscription Payment will be entered by the OFA via a journal entry into the Province's IFIS system under a pre-defined Ministry account immediately upon the completion of the Subscription Payment or shortly thereafter.

f) The OPG wire transfer information for the Subscription Payments shall be as set out in Schedule B attached to this MOU, or as the Ministry may otherwise provide from time to time by notice in writing to the OFA.

g) The Ministry shall deliver electronically to the OFA certified copies of any

   a. delegations under paragraph b) above made by the Minister of Energy to authorize persons to execute the Share Subscription,
   b. delegations under paragraph b) above by the Deputy Minister of Energy to authorize persons to execute the Payment Authorization, and
   c. authorizations under section 11.4 (2) 1 of the FAA by the Minister of Energy or the Deputy Minister of Energy of persons to execute the Certificate.

3) Reporting Requirements and Records

a) The OFA will deliver a notice by e-mail to the Ministry's contact person to confirm the completion of each Subscription Payment in the amount of the Share Subscription.

b) The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to the Share Subscriptions for a period of seven (7) years.

c) The requirements under this section shall survive the termination of this MOU.

4) Limited Role of the OFA

The OFA will only be responsible for making the Subscription Payments in accordance with section 2 of this MOU and reporting and record keeping in accordance with section 3 of this MOU. For greater clarity, the OFA will not be responsible for auditing or otherwise verifying the correctness of the Share Subscriptions; monitoring the OPG's application of the Subscription Payments; monitoring the balance from time to time of the Appropriated Amount; or ensuring the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.

5) Review and Termination

a) The Ministry and the OFA will review this MOU as necessary.

b) This MOU may be terminated by either party at any time, on ninety (90) days' notice.

c) Upon termination of this MOU, provided the OFA has the power and authority to make such Subscription Payments, the OFA will make Subscription Payments in respect of executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Ministry to the OFA on or before the date of termination in accordance with subsection 2(c) of this MOU, but will not be obligated to make any further Subscription Payments on any executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Ministry to the OFA after the date of termination of this MOU. All provisions of this MOU relating to Subscription Payments made by the OFA will continue to apply with respect to such Subscription Payments made by the OFA after the termination date, notwithstanding termination of this MOU.

d) The parties will cooperate to help to ensure a smooth transition of the payment function upon termination.

6) No Service Charges

The OFA will not charge the Ministry for the OFA's services or for its disbursements or other expenses incurred under this MOU.

7) Contacts

a) Each party shall designate a member of its staff to be a contact person for the purposes of administering this MOU.

John

It seems to me that if the OFA was to take on delegated operational responsibility it would in effect have responsibility under the MSA and an argument would exist that it should be a party.

My view is that we should have an internal discussion about the role of the OFA before speaking to MoE.

The high-level idea is that while ENE will be responsible for getting the annual appropriations, there is no monthly approval process/role for ENE. ENE will be one of the parties to receive notice, but it makes sense for the Subscription notice to go directly to OFA so ENE isn't a middle man adding time pressure. I was hopeful that this agreement could act as sort of a delegation of authority to some extent.

Hi everyone,

As a follow up to today's meeting there are a couple items I think can move forward at this point.

1. Equity Injection Mechanics (draft term sheet attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would draft Master Subscription agreement, OFA/ENE would develop service level agreement for cash management services and ENE legal would move forward with amendment to OPG articles to facilitate new class of shares
2. Performance Fee Recommendation (OPG recommended approach attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would assist ENE in developing regulation language

My proposed next steps, subject to your agreement, would be to share these documents with ENE legal today and then table them at a Thursday morning meeting with ENE DMO/MO (along with an updated "business issues" note, which I'll send around for everyone's input in the next day or so). After that meeting I would send the same materials /update to MOF DMO along with any new updates received at that meeting.

Could you please confirm you have no further comments and that you agree with this approach and also that there's no other materials/terms that you think need to move up through approvals at this point in time?

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

FINANCING TRUST – PERFORMANCE FEE TO OPG

BACKGROUND

Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) has been appointed the Financial Services Manager under the Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 to, among other things evaluate whether funding obligations should be incurred by the Trust for the purpose of acquiring and financing an investment interest. A performance fee relating to the funding obligations will be meaningful and allow OPG to make decisions that will significantly impact its return. The Act as drafted enables OPG to achieve its accounting objective of consolidation of the Trust with OPG, and the ability to earn a return and take on risk, through its control of the Trust.. The objective therefore is to recommend a reasonable variable performance fee structure for OPG to earn a return from the Trust, and meet the accounting requirement.

ANALYSIS OF ACCOUNTING REQUIREMENT

To support the accounting consolidation, OPG's variable performance return will be accomplished through the followings:

a. The cash flow from the investment asset shall include interest determined based on a relevant benchmark that is appropriate relative to the investment asset, plus an appropriate margin consistent with the relevant market and other risks
b. OPG shall have the authority to determine the financing strategy, which will vary the financing costs with the objective of enabling the Trust to achieve a more favorable return compared to the benchmark for interest on the investment asset
c. The Trust shall establish different classes of debt (senior, subordinated and the most subordinated). The classes would allow the Trust to delineate financing of lower risk investment and investment that would bear higher residual risk. The delineation would limit OPG's self-funded investment to a reasonable level in order to allow OPG to remain a self-sustaining entity.
d. OPG shall, through its ownership of the most subordinated liability, be able to capture and retain the pricing difference between cost of financing and benchmark for interest on the investment asset, or any residual risk of investment asset. The targeted return of the subordinated debt should be reflective of the underlying risks and compensate holders for active management that would be required.

PERFORMANCE FEE ANALYSIS

Based on the accounting requirements, the recommendation is for OPG to establish a variable performance fee structure as follows:

As the Trust may issue both long term bonds and medium term notes, benchmarks based on various terms, will be established on an annual basis, subject to the following methodology:

- Benchmarks will be established as the sum of (1) reference rate, and (2) spread
    - Both reference rate and spread will be term dependant

- For bond/note issuance, reference rate will be GOC rate of equivalent term
- Reference rate will be based on consensus forecast provided by various financial institutions

- Benchmarks will be established based on the weighted average rate of incremental debt issuance at the Trust level
- If the actual weighted average rate is lower than the corresponding benchmark, OPG will realize a gain, otherwise a loss
- Variable performance fee, i.e. gain/loss, is applicable only to OPG's investment in the Trust (5% of the funding requirement), and is capped at benchmark weighted average rate +/-1%

The illustration is based on the expected Trust debt structure as follows:

	Risk Profile	Source	% of Total Funding Requirement
Tranche A Senior Debt	the least risky	Capital Markets	51%
Tranche B Sub Debt	In between A&C	OPG via OEFC	39%
Tranche C Sub Debt	the most risky	OPG via OEFC	5%
		OPG via Capital Markets	5%

1. Benchmark is to be established at each year end for Trust issuance next year. In this example, assuming the following benchmark is established as of end of Yr 1

		Benchmark
Tranche A	51%	4.25%
Tranche B Sub Debt	39%	5.50%
Tranche C Sub Debt	10%	6.50%
Weighted Average Rate		5.0%

2. By the end of Yr 2, OPG will calculate the actual weighted average rate for all incremental issuance for the year. If the actual weighted average rate is lower than the corresponding benchmark, OPG will realize a gain, otherwise a loss.

	Allocation	Benchmark	Actual
Tranche A	51%	4.25%	5.0%
Tranche B Sub Debt	39%	5.50%	5.60%
Tranche C Sub Debt	10%	6.50%	6.60%
Weighted Average Rate		5.0%	5.4%
		Loss	0.4%

3. Variable management fee, i.e. gain/loss, is applicable only to OPG's investment (5% of the Trust funding requirement), and is capped at benchmark weighted average rate +/-1%.

   Based on the example above and assume incremental Trust issuance is $2B, OPG will realize loss of variable performance fee of 0.4M ($2B*5%*0.4%)

Sarah and John

Has Gadi signed off on this?

My most significant concern with the draft master subscription agreement is its lack of specificity.

In Section 1.1 the Minister of Energy commits to fund 44% of the total financing required by the Fair Hydro Trust. At this point there is no provision in the agreement to establish how that amount is determined. Section 2. of the draft agreement provides only that the monthly subscription amount will be determined by OPG and based on supporting information provided by OPG to be set out in as yet undrafted attachments to the agreement.

Section 11.4 (1)(c) of the Financial Administration Act requires that a certificate be issued confirming that OPG is entitled to or eligible for the payment. My understanding of the current practice of the OFA as reflected in the NIER MOU is to require that this certificate be provided by the Ministry in question. The proposal that the OFA be a party to the master subscription agreement suggests that authorisation would have to be obtained under section 11.2 of the FAA for OFA personnel to issue the certificate. Is that desired?

My initial view is that the provision of the certificate that OPG is entitled to the payment would require a determination that the amount is correct. The current draft of the master subscription agreement does not provide a basis for making that determination. The attachments to the agreement are intended to provide supporting information for the calculation. Further comments on this issue can be made once drafts of these attachments are prepared.

Hi – There's a strong interest in proceeding with the OFA as a party to the MSA. In terms of the significant reworking that you mentioned to make this agreeable I'm happy to take back any edits to the document– ENE legal has some edits to make as well but I think it would be helpful to see what works from the OFA's perspective first. I don't see any major policy issues popping up in this document its more just mechanics.

Happy to discuss,

Ok I'll run that by ENE and see if there's any major concerns. Couple follow ups:

1. Can we still have a contact at OFA listed in the MSA that OPG can provide notice to?
2. When do you expect a draft SLA/MOU to be ready for ENE legal review?
3. Will ENE need to give OFA approval every month to issue the equity or can we delegate that authority for "up to xxB annually"?

Thanks,
Kaitlin

Hi Kaitlin,

Following our call, I had an internal discussion. Our preference is that the OFA not be a party to the Master Subscription Agreement. If we are to be a party, the agreement would need to reviewed and reworked fairly materially. If there is a strong view on wanting to see the OFA as party to it, then let's go down that path and have that discussion.

Whether it be an MOU or SLA, the OFA and Energy would be able to set out the terms of the equity injection.

Happy to discuss.

It's based on a high-level term sheet that the policy areas were comfortable with (attached), though this wasn't ever formally approved or moved up the chain it was more just to get staff aligned so not locked into anything by any means.

I have not seen the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement - I have heard it mentioned a couple times through so suspect ENE legal would have a copy.

I think the purpose of having OFA be a direct party is to make sure OPG, OFA and ENE are all fully aware of each of their roles and to formalise the authority for OPG to deal directly with the OFA on the item. The high-level idea is that while ENE will be responsible for getting the annual appropriations, there is no monthly approval process/role for ENE. ENE will be one of the parties to receive notice, but it makes sense for the Subscription notice to go directly to OFA so ENE isn't a middle man adding time pressure. I was hopeful that this agreement could act as sort of a delegation of authority to some extent.

I agree the SLA is duplicative in this regard - my preference would be to scrap the SLA and just have the master agreement if it can accomplish the above intention, but if there is a preference to have a separate SLA and make the Master agreement just between OPG and ENE then happy to proceed on that basis.

Happy to discuss,
Kaitlin

Hi John,

Both OFA Legal and I have reviewed the subscription agreement on a preliminary basis. Why has the OFA been made a direct party to the agreement as it seems that the OFA has a "service" type function here which could be accommodated by a service level agreement between the Ministry Energy and the OFA.

Do you know who prepared this draft and is it based on a term sheet or another document that sets out what the roles of the various parties in this would be.

Thank you.

Hi John,

Since OFA is directly being made a party to the subscription agreement, we should also get OFA legal's input so I will send this to Sarah Neville for her review too if that's ok. As well I would like to discuss the northern service level agreement with them and whether there are other situations where the OFA acts as an agent to make payments out of the CRF. I agree that some type of service level agreement would

I notice that the subscription agreement mentions that the first equity injection/share subscription will occur August 2017. Is this a realistic timeframe?

The commitments in section 1 seem very broad and open-ended – The Minister of Energy commits to fund up to 44% of the total financing required by the Fair Hydro Trust, to acquire Assets from the IESO under the Act and Regulations by way of equity subscription in OPG. The Master Sale and Servicing Agreement is in square brackets. Is a draft copy of this agreement available for review?

Also not sure what the purpose of s. 3.4 is and whether the Minister of Energy can agree to this process. I note that there is a note to draft there already.

Tom McKinlay of Energy Legal is also reviewing this draft and called to discuss it with me.

Thanks.

Hi Toby,

Just wanted to get something going with an introductory email and to provide you with some context.

Pls. take a look at the Fair Hydro Master Subscription Agreement and the way the equity injection mechanism is envisioned, the operational set up with be under some sort of a service level agreement between Energy and OFA to facilitate the proposed monthly equity injection.

I have a type of service level agreement or MOU in this instance for the Northern Industrial Electricity Rate program as attached. We are hoping something similar could be put in place between Energy and the OFA for this purpose. (The MOU had been drafted by OFA Legal a few years ago when NIER first came into place and have been revised a few times since)

Happy to discuss.

Thanks Ken – Are you aware how the potential timing issue with appropriations is handled on the credit side? OPG seemed to think that the OFA had some process in place so that even though only 1 year of appropriations is approved at a time there is always coverage post March 31, 2017 in the event the budget is delayed but OPG needs to borrow. I was just hoping to incorporate something similar on the ENE side so that we don't run into any issues.

OPG provided a draft Master Subscription Agreement based on the term sheet. I will run this by legal as well but please feel free to provide comments/edits.

Hi everyone,

As a follow up to today's meeting there are a couple items I think can move forward at this point.

1. Equity Injection Mechanics (draft term sheet attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would draft Master Subscription agreement, OFA/ENE would develop service level agreement for cash management services and ENE legal would move forward with amendment to OPG articles to facilitate new class of shares
2. Performance Fee Recommendation (OPG recommended approach attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would assist ENE in developing regulation language

My proposed next steps, subject to your agreement, would be to share these documents with ENE legal today and then table them at a Thursday morning meeting with ENE DMO/MO (along with an updated "business issues" note, which I'll send around for everyone's input in the next day or so). After that meeting I would send the same materials /update to MOF DMO along with any new updates received at that meeting.

Could you please confirm you have no further comments and that you agree with this approach and also that there's no other materials/terms that you think need to move up through approvals at this point in time?

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

Hello –

My strong preference and recommendation is that the OFA not be a party to the Subscription Agreement and that its role as cash flow facilitator/service provider along with a clear delineation of the authorities under which the OFA is acting be established in a separate MOU with Energy (e.g. the term sheet contemplates that a completed/signed subscription form will be provided to OPG from the OFA, is the OFA receiving the subscription form from Energy or is it anticipated that OFA will be executing the form on behalf of Energy? If so, what is the source of the authority for Energy to sign and how is it anticipated that MOE's authority will be delegated to the OFA? The term sheet provides that OFA will receive a share certificate confirming issuance of shares/update of share register sent to OFA and Energy. Why is the OFA receiving this? Is it anticipated that the OFA will have some on-going responsibility/role in respect of the shares/due diligence in ensuring that the shares are issued in exchange for the funds or maintaining records in respect of these transactions beyond flowing the "equity injection" and receiving a receipt?).

I think the arrangement and documentation needs to be clear that OFA is not providing services to OPG as a function of this arrangement (and OPG is not a public body, so OFA cannot provide services to OPG).

If there is a desire for OPG to be aware of the obligations and procedures established in arrangement between the OFA and Energy, the MOU can be attached as a schedule to the Subscription Agreement and the Ministry of Energy can undertake in the Subscription Agreement not to change or amend the MOU without prior written notice to OPG.

Happy to discuss further if there is more context/detail as to what the OFA's role is that I am not aware of beyond the term sheet.

Thanks very much,

Sarah

It's based on a high-level term sheet that the policy areas were comfortable with (attached), though this wasn't ever formally approved or moved up the chain it was more just to get staff aligned so not locked into anything by any means.

I have not seen the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement - I have heard it mentioned a couple times through so suspect ENE legal would have a copy.

I think the purpose of having OFA be a direct party is to make sure OPG, OFA and ENE are all fully aware of each of their roles and to formalise the authority for OPG to deal directly with the OFA on the item. The high-level idea is that while ENE will be responsible for getting the annual appropriations, there is no monthly approval process/role for ENE. ENE will be one of the parties to receive notice, but it makes sense for the Subscription notice to go directly to OFA so ENE isn't a middle man adding time pressure. I was hopeful that this agreement could act as sort of a delegation of authority to some extent.

I agree the SLA is duplicative in this regard - my preference would be to scrap the SLA and just have the master agreement if it can accomplish the above intention, but if there is a preference to have a separate SLA and make the Master agreement just between OPG and ENE then happy to proceed on that basis.

Happy to discuss,
Kaitlin

Hi Malle,

My understanding is that OPG staff drafted the draft agreement. Clara Greco at OPG is the contact person.

Looping Kaitlin in as she has been in contact with OPG on this one.

Thanks,

Hi John,

Both OFA Legal and I have reviewed the subscription agreement on a preliminary basis. Why has the OFA been made a direct party to the agreement as it seems that the OFA has a “service” type function here which could be accommodated by a service level agreement between the Ministry Energy and the OFA.

Do you know who prepared this draft and is it based on a term sheet or another document that sets out what the roles of the various parties in this would be.

Thank you.

Hi John,

Since OFA is directly being made a party to the subscription agreement, we should also get OFA legal’s input so I will send this to Sarah Neville for her review too if that’s ok. As well I would like to discuss the northern service level agreement with them and whether there are other situations where the OFA acts as an agent to make payments out of the CRF. I agree that some type of service level agreement would

I notice that the subscription agreement mentions that the first equity injection/share subscription will occur August 2017. Is this a realistic timeframe?

The commitments in section 1 seem very broad and open-ended – The Minister of Energy commits to fund up to 44% of the total financing required by the Fair Hydro Trust, to acquire Assets from the IESO under the Act and Regulations by way of equity subscription in OPG. The Master Sale and Servicing Agreement is in square brackets. Is a draft copy of this agreement available for review?

Also not sure what the purpose of s. 3.4 is and whether the Minister of Energy can agree to this process. I note that there is a note to draft there already.

Tom McKinlay of Energy Legal is also reviewing this draft and called to discuss it with me.

Thanks.

Hi Toby,

Just wanted to get something going with an introductory email and to provide you with some context.

Pls. take a look at the Fair Hydro Master Subscription Agreement and the way the equity injection mechanism is envisioned, the operational set up with be under some sort of a service level agreement between Energy and OFA to facilitate the proposed monthly equity injection.

I have a type of service level agreement or MOU in this instance for the Northern Industrial Electricity Rate program as attached. We are hoping something similar could be put in place between Energy and the OFA for this purpose. (The MOU had been drafted by OFA Legal a few years ago when NIER first came into place and have been revised a few times since)

Happy to discuss.

Thanks,

John

OPG seemed to think that the OFA had some process in place so that even though only 1 year of appropriations is approved at a time there is always coverage post March 31, 2017 in the event the budget is delayed but OPG needs to borrow. I was just hoping to incorporate something similar on the ENE side so that we don't run into any issues.

Hi all – just following up on the equity injection term sheet. I'm going to send this to ENE legal now so that they can start to digest given that the next step will be preparation of the Master Subscription Agreement. I'm assuming there aren't any major concerns but if there are items you'd like to modify if you could pass those along this week I'd appreciate it. Please note that there is a question embedded in the document regarding appropriations that I'm hoping one of you will have insight on.

At the meeting with OPG a few weeks back you had mentioned that there would likely need to be some sort of Service Level Agreement between OFA and ENE – is there a similar agreement you already have in place that we could work from?

Thanks,
Kaitlin

Hi everyone,

As a follow up to today's meeting there are a couple items I think can move forward at this point.

1. Equity Injection Mechanics (draft term sheet attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would draft Master Subscription agreement, OFA/ENE would develop service level agreement for cash management services and ENE legal would move forward with amendment to OPG articles to facilitate new class of shares

2. Performance Fee Recommendation (OPG recommended approach attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would assist ENE in developing regulation language

My proposed next steps, subject to your agreement, would be to share these documents with ENE legal today and then table them at a Thursday morning meeting with ENE DMO/MO (along with an updated "business issues" note, which I'll send around for everyone's input in the next day or so). After that meeting I would send the same materials /update to MOF DMO along with any new updates received at that meeting.

Could you please confirm you have no further comments and that you agree with this approach and also that there's no other materials/terms that you think need to move up through approvals at this point in time?

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

Commented [KC1]: Technically appropriation authority doesn't come into effect until the Budget passes. In the event of a post-March 31 Budget, we would need to seek a temporary allocation from OPCD until the budget is approved. Is this handled differently on the loan side at OFA?

I went through this quickly and I don't have any comments; I believe that the actual transfer of funds to OPG for the equity injection will be governed by a SLA between OFA and the Ministry of Energy and we of course need to review that carefully. However, I would like you take a quick look and let me know if you have any comments.

MASTER SHARE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of ■, 2017.

AMONG:

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, as represented by the Minister of Energy

(the "Minister")

- and -

ONTARIO POWER GENERATION INC., a corporation established under the laws of the Province of Ontario

("OPG")

- and -

ONTARIO FINANCING AUTHORITY, a [ ]

(the "OFA")

Background

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP"). The Act's purpose is, among other things, to ensure that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits are fairly allocated among present and future specified consumers.

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") creates certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets will be acquired from the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") by the special purpose financing entity established by OPG to implement the financing plan to fund the deferral under the Act (the "Fair Hydro Trust") [NTD: use "Financing Entity"??].

3. The Fair Hydro Trust will acquire the Assets monthly from IESO and finance them in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Minister has agreed to fund up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG [will amend] [has amended] its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares"). The Minister will subscribe for Class A Shares monthly in accordance with the process set forth in this Agreement and OPG will in turn invest these amounts in subordinated debt of the Fair Hydro Trust.

6. OPG will be entitled from time to time to redeem or buy back outstanding Class A Shares in connection with repayment of the Fair Hydro Trust subordinated debt or other purposes as may be approved by the OPG board of directors.

7. The Minister and the OFA have entered into a service level agreement (the "SLA") which provides the OFA with authority to provide cash management services to facilitate the share purchases on an ongoing basis on behalf of the Minister.

8. The parties desire to set out in this Agreement the process and mechanisms by which the equity injections and share purchases will occur and their respective roles and responsibilities in the Equity Injection Plan.

NOW THEREFORE the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Confirmation of Equity Injection and Use of Funds

1.1 The Minister commits to fund up to 44% of the total financing required by the Fair Hydro Trust, to acquire Assets from the IESO under the Act and Regulations, by way of equity subscriptions in OPG.

1.2 OPG agrees to use the equity received from the Minister solely to lend as subordinated debt to the Fair Hydro Trust to fund the Fair Hydro Trust's obligations under the [Master Sale and Servicing Agreement][NTD: confirm name] between the IESO and the Fair Hydro Trust, and the Act and Regulations.

2. Monthly Share Subscription Process

2.1 The Minister, through the OFA, will subscribe for and purchase Class A Shares from OPG monthly, in an amount, and for a value, as determined by OPG in accordance with paragraph 2.2 below.

2.2 Each month, coincident with the asset acquisition to be made by the Fair Hydro Trust from the IESO under the [Master Sale and Servicing Agreement], OPG will provide notice to the Minister and the OFA of the amount of equity injection required and the corresponding number of shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed by the Minister. This notice will be in the form of the Share Subscription attached as Exhibit A. OPG will also provide reasonable supporting information for the values and amounts set out in the Share Subscription, in the form of the Subscription Supporting Information attached as Exhibit B.

2.3 For purposes of providing the reasonable supporting information required under paragraph 2.2 above, OPG agrees:

(i) that the value of the monthly equity injection/share subscription amount will reflect the monthly funding requirements of the Fair Hydro Trust acquisitions under the [Master Sale and Servicing Agreement],; and

(ii) Class A Shares will be issued to the Minister at a value per share equal to their book value as determined from OPG's last approved quarterly financial statements. [NTD: do we need any more specificity here?]

2.4 Within [five] Business Days of receipt of the notice and supporting information described in paragraph 2.2, the OFA will deliver the executed Share Subscription to OPG and wire transfer, in immediately available funds, the required equity funds in accordance with the payment instructions set out in Exhibit D or as may be otherwise provided by OPG from time to time. For purposes of this Agreement, "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day on which banking institutions in Toronto, Ontario are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

2.5 OPG will issue a receipt to the Minister and the OFA, in the form of Exhibit C attached, confirming receipt of the equity amount and certifying as to the update of OPG's corporate share register with issue of the shares in the name of the Minister.

2.6 The first equity injection/share subscription will occur [August x 2017] (the "Initial Equity Injection"). Equity injections will continue monthly so long as the Fair Hydro Trust is purchasing assets and incurring debt obligations, including subordinated debt in favour of OPG, pursuant to the Act and Regulations.

3. Equity Requirement Forecasts and Approvals

3.1 OPG will prepare and submit forecasts of equity requirements for the applicable business planning period as part of its business plan submissions to the Shareholder in accordance with the Memorandum of Agreement between the Minister and OPG effective July 17, 2015 (the "MOA") as amended, restated or replaced from time to time. For clarity, OPG will submit annually, as part of its business plan submissions, the FHP equity requirements forecast for the upcoming 3 years.

3.2 OPG's equity requirement forecast submissions will include all reasonable supporting information and documentation. [NTD: any more specificity required?]

3.3 The OFA and the Minister confirm that OPG's equity requirement forecasts submitted with OPG's business plans will not require concurrence by the Shareholder as set out in the MOA.

3.4 In accordance with the submissions made under paragraph 3.1 above, the Minister will update the appropriations for the upcoming 3 year cycle through the PRRT process, including 3 year rolling estimates along with supporting information as provided by OPG through its business planning process.[NTD: clarify that purpose of this clause is to confirm Energy will seek out and obtain required appropriations]

4. Share Redemption Process

5.1 The Minister and OPG agree to set out the required process for any future redemption by OPG of outstanding Class A Shares in an appendix to this Agreement and attach it as Exhibit E. Exhibit E will be finalized before the first share redemption [and in any case no later than [90] Business Days before the effective date of such redemption].[NTD: confirm if need timeframe]

6. Miscellaneous

Any notice, report or other communication to be given under this Agreement will be in writing and will be effective (a) upon receipt when sent by mail or courier, (b) on the date personally delivered to an authorized officer of the party to which sent, or (c) on the date transmitted by electronic transmission with a confirmation of receipt in all cases, addressed as follows:

This what you're looking for?

I sent to Ken/Mike/you last week but also sent it to Bruno afterwards as I noticed you were out of the office.

ENE legal is reviewing as well but they've been tied up on the fee discussion so I haven't got comments back.

Happy to take any edits you have on it.

Is MOF legal able to develop the service level agreement between ene/ofa? More of an internal matter so probably less priority but would be good to get that moving through the system.

My apologies for the delay in responding, just going through my emails from last week, I am ok with the term sheet, you had however, raised a comment re the appropriations. Note that since the OFA will simply be a service provided in this arrangement, i.e.,

We will not be able to provide cash management services including the transfer of the funds from the Province to OPG for the equity injection until the appropriations are approved.

Thanks

Hi all – just following up on the equity injection term sheet. I'm going to send this to ENE legal now so that they can start to digest given that the next step will be preparation of the Master Subscription Agreement. I'm assuming there aren't any major concerns but if there are items you'd like to modify if you could pass those along this week I'd appreciate it. Please note that there is a question embedded in the document regarding appropriations that I'm hoping one of you will have insight on.

At the meeting with OPG a few weeks back you had mentioned that there would likely need to be some sort of Service Level Agreement between OFA and ENE – is there a similar agreement you already have in place that we could work from?

Thanks,
Kaitlin

Hi everyone,

As a follow up to today's meeting there are a couple items I think can move forward at this point.

1. Equity Injection Mechanics (draft term sheet attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would draft Master Subscription agreement, OFA/ENE would develop service level agreement for cash management services and ENE legal would move forward with amendment to OPG articles to facilitate new class of shares
2. Performance Fee Recommendation (OPG recommended approach attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would assist ENE in developing regulation language

My proposed next steps, subject to your agreement, would be to share these documents with ENE legal today and then table them at a Thursday morning meeting with ENE DMO/MO (along with an updated “business issues” note, which I’ll send around for everyone’s input in the next day or so). After that meeting I would send the same materials /update to MOF DMO along with any new updates received at that meeting.

Could you please confirm you have no further comments and that you agree with this approach and also that there’s no other materials/terms that you think need to move up through approvals at this point in time?

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

MASTER SHARE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of ■, 2017.

AMONG:

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, as represented by the Minister of Energy

(the "Minister")

- and -

ONTARIO POWER GENERATION INC., a corporation established under the laws of the Province of Ontario

("OPG")

- and -

ONTARIO FINANCING AUTHORITY, a [ ]

(the "OFA")

Background

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP"). The Act's purpose is, among other things, to ensure that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits are fairly allocated among present and future specified consumers.

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") creates certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets will be acquired from the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") by the special purpose financing entity established by OPG to implement the financing plan to fund the deferral under the Act (the "Fair Hydro Trust") [NTD: use "Financing Entity"??].

3. The Fair Hydro Trust will acquire the Assets monthly from IESO and finance them in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Minister has agreed to fund up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG [will amend] [has amended] its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares"). The Minister will subscribe for Class A Shares monthly in accordance with the process set forth in this Agreement and OPG will in turn invest these amounts in subordinated debt of the Fair Hydro Trust.

6. OPG will be entitled from time to time to redeem or buy back outstanding Class A Shares in connection with repayment of the Fair Hydro Trust subordinated debt or other purposes as may be approved by the OPG board of directors.

7. The Minister and the OFA have entered into a service level agreement (the "SLA") which provides the OFA with authority to provide cash management services to facilitate the share purchases on an ongoing basis on behalf of the Minister.

8. The parties desire to set out in this Agreement the process and mechanisms by which the equity injections and share purchases will occur and their respective roles and responsibilities in the Equity Injection Plan.

NOW THEREFORE the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Confirmation of Equity Injection and Use of Funds

1.1 The Minister commits to fund up to 44% of the total financing required by the Fair Hydro Trust, to acquire Assets from the IESO under the Act and Regulations, by way of equity subscriptions in OPG.

1.2 OPG agrees to use the equity received from the Minister solely to lend as subordinated debt to the Fair Hydro Trust to fund the Fair Hydro Trust's obligations under the [Master Sale and Servicing Agreement][NTD: confirm name] between the IESO and the Fair Hydro Trust, and the Act and Regulations.

2. Monthly Share Subscription Process

2.1 The Minister, through the OFA, will subscribe for and purchase Class A Shares from OPG monthly, in an amount, and for a value, as determined by OPG in accordance with paragraph 2.2 below.

2.2 Each month, coincident with the asset acquisition to be made by the Fair Hydro Trust from the IESO under the [Master Sale and Servicing Agreement], OPG will provide notice to the Minister and the OFA of the amount of equity injection required and the corresponding number of shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed by the Minister. This notice will be in the form of the Share Subscription attached as Exhibit A. OPG will also provide reasonable supporting information for the values and amounts set out in the Share Subscription, in the form of the Subscription Supporting Information attached as Exhibit B.

2.3 For purposes of providing the reasonable supporting information required under paragraph 2.2 above, OPG agrees:

(i) that the value of the monthly equity injection/share subscription amount will reflect the monthly funding requirements of the Fair Hydro Trust acquisitions under the [Master Sale and Servicing Agreement],; and

(ii) Class A Shares will be issued to the Minister at a value per share equal to their book value as determined from OPG's last approved quarterly financial statements. [NTD: do we need any more specificity here?]

2.4 Within [five] Business Days of receipt of the notice and supporting information described in paragraph 2.2, the OFA will deliver the executed Share Subscription to OPG and wire transfer, in immediately available funds, the required equity funds in accordance with the payment instructions set out in Exhibit D or as may be otherwise provided by OPG from time to time. For purposes of this Agreement, "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day on which banking institutions in Toronto, Ontario are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

2.5 OPG will issue a receipt to the Minister and the OFA, in the form of Exhibit C attached, confirming receipt of the equity amount and certifying as to the update of OPG's corporate share register with issue of the shares in the name of the Minister.

2.6 The first equity injection/share subscription will occur [August x 2017] (the "Initial Equity Injection"). Equity injections will continue monthly so long as the Fair Hydro Trust is purchasing assets and incurring debt obligations, including subordinated debt in favour of OPG, pursuant to the Act and Regulations.

3. Equity Requirement Forecasts and Approvals

3.1 OPG will prepare and submit forecasts of equity requirements for the applicable business planning period as part of its business plan submissions to the Shareholder in accordance with the Memorandum of Agreement between the Minister and OPG effective July 17, 2015 (the "MOA") as amended, restated or replaced from time to time. For clarity, OPG will submit annually, as part of its business plan submissions, the FHP equity requirements forecast for the upcoming 3 years.

3.2 OPG's equity requirement forecast submissions will include all reasonable supporting information and documentation. [NTD: any more specificity required?]

3.3 The OFA and the Minister confirm that OPG's equity requirement forecasts submitted with OPG's business plans will not require concurrence by the Shareholder as set out in the MOA.

3.4 In accordance with the submissions made under paragraph 3.1 above, the Minister will update the appropriations for the upcoming 3 year cycle through the PRRT process, including 3 year rolling estimates along with supporting information as provided by OPG through its business planning process.[NTD: clarify that purpose of this clause is to confirm Energy will seek out and obtain required appropriations]

4. Share Redemption Process

5.1 The Minister and OPG agree to set out the required process for any future redemption by OPG of outstanding Class A Shares in an appendix to this Agreement and attach it as Exhibit E. Exhibit E will be finalized before the first share redemption [and in any case no later than [90] Business Days before the effective date of such redemption].[NTD: confirm if need timeframe]

Hi Toby,

Just wanted to get something going with an introductory email and to provide you with some context.

Pls. take a look at the Fair Hydro Master Subscription Agreement and the way the equity injection mechanism is envisioned, the operational set up with be under some sort of a service level agreement between Energy and OFA to facilitate the proposed monthly equity injection.

I have a type of service level agreement or MOU in this instance for the Northern Industrial Electricity Rate program as attached. We are hoping something similar could be put in place between Energy and the OFA for this purpose. (The MOU had been drafted by OFA Legal a few years ago when NIER first came into place and have been revised a few times since)

Happy to discuss.

Thanks,

John

Thanks Ken – Are you aware how the potential timing issue with appropriations is handled on the credit side? OPG seemed to think that the OFA had some process in place so that even though only 1 year of appropriations is approved at a time there is always coverage post March 31, 2017 in the event the budget is delayed but OPG needs to borrow. I was just hoping to incorporate something similar on the ENE side so that we don't run into any issues.

OPG provided a draft Master Subscription Agreement based on the term sheet. I will run this by legal as well but please feel free to provide comments/edits.

As a follow up to today's meeting there are a couple items I think can move forward at this point.

1. Equity Injection Mechanics (draft term sheet attached)

ii. Making the required Payments on behalf of the Ministry as further described in this MOU.

2. Payment Process

Thanks Ken – Are you aware how the potential timing issue with appropriations is handled on the credit side? OPG seemed to think that the OFA had some process in place so that even though only 1 year of appropriations is approved at a time there is always coverage post March 31, 2017 in the event the budget is delayed but OPG needs to borrow. I was just hoping to incorporate something similar on the ENE side so that we don't run into any issues.

OPG provided a draft Master Subscription Agreement based on the term sheet. I will run this by legal as well but please feel free to provide comments/edits.

Hi Kaitlin

My apologies for the delay in responding, just going through my emails from last week, I am ok with the term sheet, you had however, raised a comment re the appropriations. Note that since the OFA will simply be a service provided in this arrangement, i.e.,
We will not be able to provide cash management services including the transfer of the funds from the Province to OPG for the equity injection until the appropriations are approved.

Thanks

Hi all – just following up on the equity injection term sheet. I'm going to send this to ENE legal now so that they can start to digest given that the next step will be preparation of the Master Subscription Agreement. I'm assuming there aren't any major concerns but if there are items you'd like to modify if you could pass those along this week I'd appreciate it. Please note that there is a question embedded in the document regarding appropriations that I'm hoping one of you will have insight on.

At the meeting with OPG a few weeks back you had mentioned that there would likely need to be some sort of Service Level Agreement between OFA and ENE – is there a similar agreement you already have in place that we could work from?

Thanks,
Kaitlin

Hi everyone,

As a follow up to today's meeting there are a couple items I think can move forward at this point.

1. Equity Injection Mechanics (draft term sheet attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would draft Master Subscription agreement, OFA/ENE would develop service level agreement for cash management services and ENE legal would move forward with amendment to OPG articles to facilitate new class of shares
2. Performance Fee Recommendation (OPG recommended approach attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would assist ENE in developing regulation language

My proposed next steps, subject to your agreement, would be to share these documents with ENE legal today and then table them at a Thursday morning meeting with ENE DMO/MO (along with an updated "business issues" note, which I'll send around for everyone's input in the next day or so). After that meeting I would send the same materials /update to MOF DMO along with any new updates received at that meeting.

Could you please confirm you have no further comments and that you agree with this approach and also that there's no other materials/terms that you think need to move up through approvals at this point in time?

Thanks in advance,

Kaitlin

MASTER SHARE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of ■, 2017.

AMONG:

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, as represented by the Minister of Energy

(the "Minister")

- and -

ONTARIO POWER GENERATION INC., a corporation established under the laws of the Province of Ontario

("OPG")

- and -

ONTARIO FINANCING AUTHORITY, a [ ]

(the "OFA")

Background

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP"). The Act's purpose is, among other things, to ensure that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits are fairly allocated among present and future specified consumers.

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") creates certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets will be acquired from the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") by the special purpose financing entity established by OPG to implement the financing plan to fund the deferral under the Act (the "Fair Hydro Trust") [NTD: use "Financing Entity"??].

3. The Fair Hydro Trust will acquire the Assets monthly from IESO and finance them in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Minister has agreed to fund up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG [will amend] [has amended] its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares"). The Minister will subscribe for Class A Shares monthly in accordance with the process set forth in this Agreement and OPG will in turn invest these amounts in subordinated debt of the Fair Hydro Trust.

6. OPG will be entitled from time to time to redeem or buy back outstanding Class A Shares in connection with repayment of the Fair Hydro Trust subordinated debt or other purposes as may be approved by the OPG board of directors.

7. The Minister and the OFA have entered into a service level agreement (the "SLA") which provides the OFA with authority to provide cash management services to facilitate the share purchases on an ongoing basis on behalf of the Minister.

8. The parties desire to set out in this Agreement the process and mechanisms by which the equity injections and share purchases will occur and their respective roles and responsibilities in the Equity Injection Plan.

NOW THEREFORE the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Confirmation of Equity Injection and Use of Funds

1.1 The Minister commits to fund up to 44% of the total financing required by the Fair Hydro Trust, to acquire Assets from the IESO under the Act and Regulations, by way of equity subscriptions in OPG.

1.2 OPG agrees to use the equity received from the Minister solely to lend as subordinated debt to the Fair Hydro Trust to fund the Fair Hydro Trust's obligations under the [Master Sale and Servicing Agreement][NTD: confirm name] between the IESO and the Fair Hydro Trust, and the Act and Regulations.

2. Monthly Share Subscription Process

2.1 The Minister, through the OFA, will subscribe for and purchase Class A Shares from OPG monthly, in an amount, and for a value, as determined by OPG in accordance with paragraph 2.2 below.

2.2 Each month, coincident with the asset acquisition to be made by the Fair Hydro Trust from the IESO under the [Master Sale and Servicing Agreement], OPG will provide notice to the Minister and the OFA of the amount of equity injection required and the corresponding number of shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed by the Minister. This notice will be in the form of the Share Subscription attached as Exhibit A. OPG will also provide reasonable supporting information for the values and amounts set out in the Share Subscription, in the form of the Subscription Supporting Information attached as Exhibit B.

2.3 For purposes of providing the reasonable supporting information required under paragraph 2.2 above, OPG agrees:

(i) that the value of the monthly equity injection/share subscription amount will reflect the monthly funding requirements of the Fair Hydro Trust acquisitions under the [Master Sale and Servicing Agreement],; and

(ii) Class A Shares will be issued to the Minister at a value per share equal to their book value as determined from OPG's last approved quarterly financial statements. [NTD: do we need any more specificity here?]

2.4 Within [five] Business Days of receipt of the notice and supporting information described in paragraph 2.2, the OFA will deliver the executed Share Subscription to OPG and wire transfer, in immediately available funds, the required equity funds in accordance with the payment instructions set out in Exhibit D or as may be otherwise provided by OPG from time to time. For purposes of this Agreement, "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day on which banking institutions in Toronto, Ontario are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

2.5 OPG will issue a receipt to the Minister and the OFA, in the form of Exhibit C attached, confirming receipt of the equity amount and certifying as to the update of OPG's corporate share register with issue of the shares in the name of the Minister.

2.6 The first equity injection/share subscription will occur [August x 2017] (the "Initial Equity Injection"). Equity injections will continue monthly so long as the Fair Hydro Trust is purchasing assets and incurring debt obligations, including subordinated debt in favour of OPG, pursuant to the Act and Regulations.

3. Equity Requirement Forecasts and Approvals

3.1 OPG will prepare and submit forecasts of equity requirements for the applicable business planning period as part of its business plan submissions to the Shareholder in accordance with the Memorandum of Agreement between the Minister and OPG effective July 17, 2015 (the "MOA") as amended, restated or replaced from time to time. For clarity, OPG will submit annually, as part of its business plan submissions, the FHP equity requirements forecast for the upcoming 3 years.

3.2 OPG's equity requirement forecast submissions will include all reasonable supporting information and documentation. [NTD: any more specificity required?]

3.3 The OFA and the Minister confirm that OPG's equity requirement forecasts submitted with OPG's business plans will not require concurrence by the Shareholder as set out in the MOA.

3.4 In accordance with the submissions made under paragraph 3.1 above, the Minister will update the appropriations for the upcoming 3 year cycle through the PRRT process, including 3 year rolling estimates along with supporting information as provided by OPG through its business planning process.[NTD: clarify that purpose of this clause is to confirm Energy will seek out and obtain required appropriations]

4. Share Redemption Process

5.1 The Minister and OPG agree to set out the required process for any future redemption by OPG of outstanding Class A Shares in an appendix to this Agreement and attach it as Exhibit E. Exhibit E will be finalized before the first share redemption [and in any case no later than [90] Business Days before the effective date of such redemption].[NTD: confirm if need timeframe]

Commented [KC1]: Technically appropriation authority doesn't come into effect until the Budget passes. In the event of a post-March 31 Budget, we would need to seek a temporary allocation from OPCD until the budget is approved. Is this handled differently on the loan side at OFA?

   - Next Steps:
     - OPG and OFA have discussed a draft term sheet and the OFA, MOF and Blakes will work together to provide comments
     - Timing: Guarantees are required to support rating agency review which is expected by the end of July.

2. Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILs) Exemption
   - Provincial staff, with OPG's concurrence, recommends minimizing, to the extent possible, the PILs payable by the OPG financing vehicle, as those costs will be recovered from ratepayers.
   - The Province is considering regulation changes to exempt from PILs the income arising to the OPG financing vehicle / OPG as a consequence of the Fair Hydro Plan.
   - As part of the OFHP, the financing entity will raise debt and acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. Given the unique nature of the investment assets, there are no specific rules which govern the manner which investment assets should be treated for tax purposes, and further analysis is required to ensure the cost of the investment assets are appropriately recognized as a deduction or offset in computing the income of the financing entity.
   - Next Steps:
     - The MOF, OFA and OPG are working together to determine required regulation changes.
     - Torys prepared a memo on the item
     - Timing: MOF will be setting up a call with tax policy, OPG and Torys to discuss a memo Torys prepared on the item in the next few days

3. Fair Hydro Plan - Master Subscription Agreement Term Sheet (Equity Injection Process)
    - OPG will require equity injections on a monthly basis, to match the timing of the purchase of the IESO regulatory asset, as applicable, in order to maintain its capital structure, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares as needed by the Province.
    - The Ministry of Energy received appropriation for a fiscally-neutral operating asset expenditure of $1.1B through PRRT to support equity injections for the 2017-18 period, and will continue to provide multi-year forecasts each year through PRRT.
    - Next Steps:
        - ~~The Ministry of Energy, OFA and OPG are working through the short term mechanics of this process, which will ultimately feed into a Master Subscription Agreement. A draft term sheet is underway.~~Approval of the draft term sheet (see note).
        - Once term sheet is approved, this will serve as the basis for the Master Subscription Agreement between OPG/ENE and OFA
        - OFA and ENE to develop Service Level Agreement for monthly cash management services
        - Amendment to OPG articles required to facilitate issuance of new class of shares
        - Timing: OPG will require the ability to issue equity in ~~July~~August, so mechanics and agreements should be finalized in ~~June~~July.

4. Management Fees
    - OPG will be providing all required services to the Trust as part of the OFHP, including planning, strategy, financing, deal execution etc.
    - The legislation allows OPG to establish and charge a management fee for those services in accordance with the regulations, which are currently in development.
    - ~~OPG and OEB are currently working together on a management fee structure that balances the interests of minimizing costs and satisfying accounting consolidation requirements.~~
    - There are two components to the management fee model proposed by OPG:
        - Base fee: the structure will allow OPG to earn a commercial fee, an accounting consolidation requirement, with periodic OEB review of the commercial basis of that fee. OEB and OPG are in discussions in order to develop a model that satisfies the accounting requirements and is consistent with OEB's processes.
        - Performance ~~management~~ fee: OPG has the ability to gain or lose depending on the actual financing cost relative to a benchmark, which would be shared equally between ratepayers and OPG. Gain/loss is capped at 1% of annual incremental issuance amount.
    - Next Steps:

- Base fee: OEB to provide comments on OPG's proposed base fee framework.
- Performance Fee: ~~OPG and OEB will bring forward a recommended framework for developing management fees.~~Approval of the draft framework (see note).
- Timing: ~~TBD~~For incorporation into the June 27th regulations

5. Subordinated Debt Loan Agreement
   - OPG will lend the equity injection from the Province to the Fair Hydro Trust by way of subordinated debt
   - Based on monthly funding requirements of the GA asset, the Trust will use short term financing and take out bonds once short term funding reaches certain levels
   - OPG and OFA are working on a Debt Loan Arrangement that would establish the interest rates on the subordinated debt
   - Next Steps:
     - OPG and OFA will bring forward a recommended framework for determining interest rates
     - Timing: TBD

6. IESO – Increased OFA Credit Facilities
   - THE OPG financing entity is not expected to be immediately operational, so the IESO will need to have transitional financing in place to manage the difference in the payments to generators and other service providers vs payments from loads / LDCs.
   - There may also be on-going monthly cash flow timing differences that the IESO will need a credit facility for.
   - In addition, the OPG financing entity has the right to purchase the regulatory asset from IESO but is not required to purchase it.
   - IESO is working with the OFA to increase the credit facilities in the event that the OPG financing entity does not purchase the regulatory asset
   - Next Steps:
     - OFA is drafting a new agreement for a $2 billion credit facility for the OFA to lend funds to IESO for FHP purposes. Concurrently, the OFA is seeking the Minister's approval for an LRC submission to approve an OIC for an additional $2 billion in borrowing capacity, as well as a Directive from the Minister of Finance, which are both necessary for the OFA to lend funds to IESO under the requested new Credit Facility.
     - Timing: The OIC is scheduled for the June 27, 2017 LRC meeting. The Directive and Credit Facility Agreement are currently being drafted, to be in place by July 1st, 2017

7. OPG Indemnity
    - OPG (and IESO) are asking for the Province to indemnify the IESO, OPG (the entities) and their respective directors, officers and employee in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan and primarily the Global Adjustment refinancing.
    - Indemnification will need to ensure separation between the Province and OPG is maintained
    - Next Steps:
        - Staff in Ministry of Finance and Treasury Board Secretariat have received initial documents and are currently reviewing.
        - Depending on the structure of the indemnity requested, an OIC may be required to provide authority to the Minister of Finance
        - Timing: If an OIC is required this would be included in the June 27th, 2017 submission

Hello –

My strong preference and recommendation is that the OFA not be a party to the Subscription Agreement and that its role as cash flow facilitator/service provider along with a clear delineation of the authorities under which the OFA is acting be established in a separate MOU with Energy (e.g. the term sheet contemplates that a completed/signed subscription form will be provided to OPG from the OFA, is the OFA receiving the subscription form from Energy or is it anticipated that OFA will be executing the form on behalf of Energy? If so, what is the source of the authority for Energy to sign and how is it anticipated that MOE's authority will be delegated to the OFA? The term sheet provides that OFA will receive a share certificate confirming issuance of shares/update of share register sent to OFA and Energy. Why is the OFA receiving this? Is it anticipated that the OFA will have some on-going responsibility/role in respect of the shares/due diligence in ensuring that the shares are issued in exchange for the funds or maintaining records in respect of these transactions beyond flowing the "equity injection" and receiving a receipt?).

I think the arrangement and documentation needs to be clear that OFA is not providing services to OPG as a function of this arrangement (and OPG is not a public body, so OFA cannot provide services to OPG).

If there is a desire for OPG to be aware of the obligations and procedures established in arrangement between the OFA and Energy, the MOU can be attached as a schedule to the Subscription Agreement and the Ministry of Energy can undertake in the Subscription Agreement not to change or amend the MOU without prior written notice to OPG.

Happy to discuss further if there is more context/detail as to what the OFA's role is that I am not aware of beyond the term sheet.

Thanks very much,

Sarah

It's based on a high-level term sheet that the policy areas were comfortable with (attached), though this wasn't ever formally approved or moved up the chain it was more just to get staff aligned so not locked into anything by any means.

I have not seen the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement - I have heard it mentioned a couple times through so suspect ENE legal would have a copy.

I think the purpose of having OFA be a direct party is to make sure OPG, OFA and ENE are all fully aware of each of their roles and to formalise the authority for OPG to deal directly with the OFA on the item. The high-level idea is that while ENE will be responsible for getting the annual appropriations, there is no monthly approval process/role for ENE. ENE will be one of the parties to receive notice, but it makes sense for the Subscription notice to go directly to OFA so ENE isn't a middle man adding time pressure. I was hopeful that this agreement could act as sort of a delegation of authority to some extent.

I agree the SLA is duplicative in this regard - my preference would be to scrap the SLA and just have the master agreement if it can accomplish the above intention, but if there is a preference to have a separate SLA and make the Master agreement just between OPG and ENE then happy to proceed on that basis.

Happy to discuss,
Kaitlin

My understanding is that OPG staff drafted the draft agreement. Clara Greco at OPG is the contact person.

Looping Kaitlin in as she has been in contact with OPG on this one.

Hi John,

Both OFA Legal and I have reviewed the subscription agreement on a preliminary basis. Why has the OFA been made a direct party to the agreement as it seems that the OFA has a "service" type function here which could be accommodated by a service level agreement between the Ministry Energy and the OFA.

Do you know who prepared this draft and is it based on a term sheet or another document that sets out what the roles of the various parties in this would be.

Thank you.

Hi John,

Since OFA is directly being made a party to the subscription agreement, we should also get OFA legal's input so I will send this to Sarah Neville for her review too if that's ok. As well I would like to discuss the northern service level agreement with them and whether there are other situations where the OFA acts as an agent to make payments out of the CRF. I agree that some type of service level agreement would

I notice that the subscription agreement mentions that the first equity injection/share subscription will occur August 2017. Is this a realistic timeframe?

The commitments in section 1 seem very broad and open-ended – The Minister of Energy commits to fund up to 44% of the total financing required by the Fair Hydro Trust, to acquire Assets from the IESO under the Act and Regulations by way of equity subscription in OPG. The Master Sale and Servicing Agreement is in square brackets. Is a draft copy of this agreement available for review?

Also not sure what the purpose of s. 3.4 is and whether the Minister of Energy can agree to this process. I note that there is a note to draft there already.

Tom McKinlay of Energy Legal is also reviewing this draft and called to discuss it with me.

Thanks.

Hi Toby,

Just wanted to get something going with an introductory email and to provide you with some context.

Pls. take a look at the Fair Hydro Master Subscription Agreement and the way the equity injection mechanism is envisioned, the operational set up with be under some sort of a service level agreement between Energy and OFA to facilitate the proposed monthly equity injection.

I have a type of service level agreement or MOU in this instance for the Northern Industrial Electricity Rate program as attached. We are hoping something similar could be put in place between Energy and the OFA for this purpose. (The MOU had been drafted by OFA Legal a few years ago when NIER first came into place and have been revised a few times since)

Happy to discuss.

Thanks,

John

Thanks Ken – Are you aware how the potential timing issue with appropriations is handled on the credit side? OPG seemed to think that the OFA had some process in place so that even though only 1 year of appropriations is approved at a time there is always coverage post March 31, 2017 in the event the budget is delayed but OPG needs to borrow. I was just hoping to incorporate something similar on the ENE side so that we don't run into any issues.

OPG provided a draft Master Subscription Agreement based on the term sheet. I will run this by legal as well but please feel free to provide comments/edits.

Hi Kaitlin

My apologies for the delay in responding, just going through my emails from last week, I am ok with the term sheet, you had however, raised a comment re the appropriations. Note that since the OFA will simply be a service provided in this arrangement, i.e.,
We will not be able to provide cash management services including the transfer of the funds from the Province to OPG for the equity injection until the appropriations are approved.

Thanks

Hi all – just following up on the equity injection term sheet. I'm going to send this to ENE legal now so that they can start to digest given that the next step will be preparation of the Master Subscription Agreement. I'm assuming there aren't any major concerns but if there are items you'd like to modify if you could pass those along this week I'd appreciate it. Please note that there is a question embedded in the document regarding appropriations that I'm hoping one of you will have insight on.

At the meeting with OPG a few weeks back you had mentioned that there would likely need to be some sort of Service Level Agreement between OFA and ENE – is there a similar agreement you already have in place that we could work from?

Thanks,
Kaitlin

Hi everyone,

As a follow up to today's meeting there are a couple items I think can move forward at this point.

1. Equity Injection Mechanics (draft term sheet attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would draft Master Subscription agreement, OFA/ENE would develop service level agreement for cash management services and ENE legal would move forward with amendment to OPG articles to facilitate new class of shares
2. Performance Fee Recommendation (OPG recommended approach attached)
    a. If comfortable, OPG would assist ENE in developing regulation language

My proposed next steps, subject to your agreement, would be to share these documents with ENE legal today and then table them at a Thursday morning meeting with ENE DMO/MO (along with an updated "business issues" note, which I'll send around for everyone's input in the next day or so). After that meeting I would send the same materials /update to MOF DMO along with any new updates received at that meeting.

Could you please confirm you have no further comments and that you agree with this approach and also that there's no other materials/terms that you think need to move up through approvals at this point in time?

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

Share Redemption Process

Commented [KC1]: Technically appropriation authority doesn't come into effect until the Budget passes. In the event of a post-March 31 Budget, we would need to seek a temporary allocation from OPCD until the budget is approved. Is this handled differently on the loan side at OFA?

Hi all,

ENE MO asked for a quick note on 4 of the outstanding business issues that are being worked through and are hoping to see something tomorrow morning.

I've pulled together a high level explanation of each of the items and next steps/timing (to the extent I know).

Would greatly appreciate if you guys could take a look and provide any edits/comments today/early tomorrow if possible. I'm also not too involved in a few of these discussions so if there's others within OFA you think should review feel free to pass along.

Outstanding Business Issues – Ontario Fair Hydro Plan
Briefing Note

PURPOSE
Provide an overview of a few of the key remaining outstanding business issues that OPG and the Province are working through

BUSINESS ISSUES

1. Provincial Support Agreement Term Sheet (~~Service and~~ Performance and Payment Guarantees)
   - As part of the OFHP, the IESO will create and sell a regulatory asset to the OPG financing entity
   - In order to provide assurances to those with claims against the Financing Entity (eg. Holders of debt), and support credit ratings, the Province is providing both a Service Guarantee and a Performance Guarantee to ensure that the obligations of the IESO are carried out including obligations related to collecting and remitting clean energy adjustments.
   - Next Steps:
     - OPG and OFA and working towards the development of a term sheet
     - Timing: Guarantees are required to support rating agency review which is expected by the end of July

2. Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILs) Exemption
   - The Province would like to minimize to the extent possible , the PILs payable by the OPG financing vehicle, as those costs will be recovered from ratepayers
   - The Province is considering regulation changes to exempt the income arising as a consequence of the Fair Hydro Plan from PILs
   - As part of the OFHP, the financing entity will raise debt and acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. Given the unique nature of the investment assets, there are no specific rules which govern the manner which investment assets should be treated for tax purposes, and further analysis is required to ensure the cost of the investment assets are appropriately recognized as a deduction or offset in computing the income of the financing entity
   - Next Steps:
     - The Ministries of Finance, OFA and OPG are working together to determine required regulation changes
     - Timing: [Next steps for a decision / when is a decision required / when would these regulation changes occur]

3. Fair Hydro Plan - Master Subscription Agreement Term Sheet (Equity Injection Process)

- OPG will require equity injections on a monthly basis in order to maintain its capital structure, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares as needed by the Province
- The Ministry of Energy received appropriation for $1.1B through PRRT to support equity injections for the 2017-18 period, and will continue to provide multi-year forecasts each year through PRRT
- Next Steps:
    - The Ministry of Energy, OFA and OPG are working through the short term mechanics of this process which will ultimately feed into a Master Subscription Agreement. A draft term sheet is underway.
    - Timing: OPG will require the ability to issue equity in July, so mechanics and agreements should be finalized in June

4. Management Fees

- OPG will be providing all required services to the Trust as part of the OFHP, including planning, strategy, financing, deal execution etc.
- The legislation allows OPG to establish and charge a management fee for those services in accordance with the regulations which are currently in development
- OPG and OEB are currently working together on a management fee structure that balances the interests of minimizing costs and satisfying accounting consolidation requirements
- Next Steps:
    - OPG and OEB will bring forward a recommended framework for developing management fees
    - Timing: For incorporation into regulations being brought forward in June

5. Subordinated Debt Loan Agreement

- OPG will lend the equity injection from the Province to the Fair Hydro Trust by way of subordinated debt
- Based on monthly funding requirements of the GA asset, the Trust will use short term financing and take out bonds once short term funding reaches certain levels
- OPG and OFA are working on a Debt Loan Arrangement which would establish the interest rates on the subordinated debt
- Next Steps:
    - OPG and OFA will bring forward a recommended framework for determining interest rates
    - Timing: TBD

6. IESO – Increased Credit Facilities

- The OPG financing entity has the right to purchase the regulatory asset from IESO but ~~does~~is not ~~have~~mandated to purchase it.

- IESO is working with the OFA to increase the credit facilities in the event that the OPG financing entity does not purchase the regulatory asset
- Next Steps:
    - OFA is drafting a new agreement for a $2 billion credit facility for the OFA to lend funds to IESO for FHP purposes. Concurrently, the OFA is seeking LRC approval for a new $2 billion OIC, as well as a Directive from the Minister of Finance, which are both necessary for the OFA to lend funds to IESO under the new Credit Facility. .....
    - Timing: The OIC is scheduled as item for the June 27, 2017 LRC meeting. The Directive and Credit Facility Agreement are currently being drafted, to be in place by July 1st, 2017.....

7. OPG Indemnity

- OPG (and IESO) are asking for the Province to indemnify the IESO, OPG (the entities) and their respective directors, officers and employee in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan and primarily the Global Adjustment refinancing.
- Depending on the structure of the indemnity requested, indemnity would be provided either under section 22 or under section 28 of the Financial Administration Act. [CEFD staff are assessing the request.]
- Consideration will need to be given as to how providing an indemnity will be perceived given that the GA refinancing structure is meant to be independent of the Province.
- Next Steps:
    - Staff in Ministry of Finance and Treasury Board Secretariat have received initial documents and are currently reviewing.
    - If the Province is to provide the indemnity, section 22(1) of the FAA specifies that an OIC will be required to authorize the Minister of Finance.
    - Upcoming Cabinet date is June 27, 2017, for which documents are past due. Next possible LRC/Cabinet date is scheduled for July 26, 2017.

Hi all,

ENE MO asked for a quick note on 4 of the outstanding business issues that are being worked through and are hoping to see something tomorrow morning.

I've pulled together a high level explanation of each of the items and next steps/timing (to the extent I know).

Would greatly appreciate if you guys could take a look and provide any edits/comments today/early tomorrow if possible. I'm also not too involved in a few of these discussions so if there's others within OFA you think should review feel free to pass along.

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

Outstanding Business Issues – Ontario Fair Hydro Plan
Briefing Note

PURPOSE
Provide an overview of a few of the key remaining outstanding business issues that OPG and the Province are working through

BUSINESS ISSUES

1. Service and Performance Guarantees
   - As part of the OFHP, the IESO will create and sell a regulatory asset to the OPG financing entity
   - In order to provide assurances to those with claims against the Financing Entity (eg. Holders of debt), and support credit ratings, the Province is providing both a Service Guarantee and a Performance Guarantee to ensure that the obligations of the IESO are carried out including obligations related to collecting and remitting clean energy adjustments.
   - Next Steps:
     - OPG and OFA and working towards the development of a term sheet
     - Timing: Guarantees are required to support rating agency review which is expected by the end of July

2. Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILs) Exemption
   - The Province would like to minimize to the extent possible , the PILs payable by the OPG financing vehicle, as those costs will be recovered from ratepayers
   - The Province is considering regulation changes to exempt the income arising as a consequence of the Fair Hydro Plan from PILs
   - As part of the OFHP, the financing entity will raise debt and acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. Given the unique nature of the investment assets, there are no specific rules which govern the manner which investment assets should be treated for tax purposes, and further analysis is required to ensure the cost of the investment assets are appropriately recognized as a deduction or offset in computing the income of the financing entity
   - Next Steps:
     - The Ministries of Finance, OFA and OPG are working together to determine required regulation changes
     - Timing: [Next steps for a decision / when is a decision required / when would these regulation changes occur]

3. Equity Injection Process
   - OPG will require equity injections on a monthly basis in order to maintain its capital structure, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares as needed by the Province

- The Ministry of Energy received appropriation for $1.1B through PRRT to support equity injections for the 2017-18 period, and will continue to provide multi-year forecasts each year through PRRT
- Next Steps:
    - The Ministry of Energy, OFA and OPG are working through the short term mechanics of this process which will ultimately feed into a Master Subscription Agreement. A draft term sheet is underway.
    - Timing: OPG will require the ability to issue equity in July, so mechanics and agreements should be finalized in June

4. Management Fees

- OPG will be providing all required services to the Trust as part of the OFHP, including planning, strategy, financing, deal execution etc.
- The legislation allows OPG to establish and charge a management fee for those services in accordance with the regulations which are currently in development
- OPG and OEB are currently working together on a management fee structure that balances the interests of minimizing costs and satisfying accounting consolidation requirements
- Next Steps:
    - OPG and OEB will bring forward a recommended framework for developing management fees
    - Timing: For incorporation into regulations being brought forward in June

Hi,

I'm assuming our branch has no deliverables related to other parts of the OFHP, so I've created a "Implementation" folder in the "Debt Financing the GA" since all of these related to the GA part of the OFHP. Happy to move around and reorg.

Z:\Users\CEF\Hydro 2017\Electricity Prices\Mitigation Proposals\Debt Financing the GA\Implementation

I've created a deliverables list there as well. Feel free to add.

Hi John

Did you notice the wording change on the timing of the OIC regarding OPG indemnity. It now says June 27. Our wording was not committal to the June 27 date, but to . I don't think there is that urgency for this OIC. Per our teleconference earlier this week, there are still internal discussions to be had regarding the Province's position.

This was our wording

- Upcoming Cabinet date is June 27, 2017, for which documents are past due. Next possible LRC/Cabinet date is scheduled for July 26, 2017.

We're pulling together a product summarizing all the outstanding business issues including status/next steps with respect to the Fair Hydro Plan for the Minister of Energy

I've attempted to fill out as much as possible (Hilary there's a couple placeholder slides where I had no content but I think those would be for ESP? Please correct me if I'm wrong).

Each of you are involved in various aspects of these issues so I'm hoping you can take a look to ensure we're accurately capturing each item.

I'm away next week but if you could provide your suggested edits to Keley by next Wednesday we would appreciate it. The briefing has not yet been set up so we will keep you posted if that timing needs to change.

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

OFHP Business Issues

DRAFT – September 11, 2017

CONFIDENTIAL & COMMERCIALLY SENSITIVE

Context: GA Financing

- The Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017, enables the IESO to establish a variance account to record the deferral amounts from the difference between collections from current ratepayers and payment obligations to generators and conservation, and to create a regulatory asset to recover the balance in the variance account
  - The IESO can then sell the regulatory asset – the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future
  - OPG, as the Financial Services Manager, is authorized to establish one or more financing entities that may incur funding obligations
  - The Financing Entity will purchase the regulatory asset, effectively financing the shortfall in current rates not received from ratepayers
- In order to support the establishment of a financing entity, facilitate ongoing funding requirements of the Global Adjustment and optimize ratepayer impacts, OPG and the Province are working on finalizing the details for a number of business issues, including:
  - A regulation to minimize Payments in Lieu (PILs) of taxes by the financing entity
  - An equity injection by the Province to OPG that OPG would use to lend to the financing entity
  - A subordinated debt agreement related to OPG lending to the financing entity

PILs Exemption

Overview:

- It is currently contemplated that the first financing entity to be established by OPG, in its capacity as financial services manager will be a Trust
- The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (ITA) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007 (TA)
- The beneficiary of the Trust will be a corporation that will be directly or indirectly wholly-owned by OPG
  - The corporation, given it is owned by OPG, would be exempt from federal and provincial corporate taxes and property taxes payable by private sector companies, and instead make payments in lieu of taxes (PILs) to the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC)
  - PILs are used by the OEFC to help pay down the stranded debt of the former Ontario Hydro
- In order to mitigate the cost to ratepayers, the Province plans to bring forward a regulation under the Electricity Act that would exempt the corporation from paying PILs
- The Province will also consider similar regulations in the future should OPG establish another financing entity in its role as the Financing Entity

Next Steps:

- Draft letter from the Minister of Finance to OPG in development that will provide comfort that the financing entity will be exempt from PILs
- The Ministry of Finance is working with OPG on a draft regulation which will be brought forward in the Fall

Equity Injections

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, the Financing Entity must borrow funds from the following:
  - Capital markets (51%)
  - Subordinated OPG debt, financed through equity injections from the Province (44%) and capital markets (5%)
- OPG will require equity injections on an ongoing basis in order to keep its capital structure in line, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares as needed
- The Ministry of Energy will be responsible for seeking approval for the investment envelope each year
  - On a monthly/quarterly basis, OPG will send a notice of share subscription to the Province, requesting a certain amount of equity based on the amount of the regulatory asset it plans to purchase; the Ontario Financing Authority will flow the funds

Next Steps:

- OPG is seeking Board approval on September 29th
- The Province is working with appropriate parties internally to ensure a mechanism is in place to provide the equity injection to OPG

Subordinated Debt Agreement

Overview:

- OPG intends to lend the equity injection from the Province to the Trust by way of subordinated debt
- OPG, the Fair Hydro Trust and the OFA will enter into a subordinated debt loan agreement which outlines the terms of the subordinated debt
- Interest rates on the subordinated debt will be established as follows:
  - During the Trust short term financing period when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt
  - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate.

Next Steps:

- OPG to incorporate the Province's comments into the next draft of the Subordinated Debt Agreement which is tracking to be finalized by the end of September

1. On the performance fees – Did Scott share an ENE note with 3 options for your review last week? No
2. On the Sub-Debt – could you share the latest term sheet and what is the status of this one? Is it over to OFA to provide comments back to OPG or are we waiting on OPG for something? To the best of my knowledge we didn't have any major issues with the latest term sheet.

Is this something that you are working on with OPG?

I didn't quite get the request so touched base with Kaitlin/Kaitlin and they clarified that it's some sort of debt/loan term sheet for subordinated debt.

Hi everyone,

We're pulling together a product summarizing all the outstanding business issues including status/next steps with respect to the Fair Hydro Plan for the Minister of Energy

I've attempted to fill out as much as possible (Hilary there's a couple placeholder slides where I had no content but I think those would be for ESP? Please correct me if I'm wrong).

Each of you are involved in various aspects of these issues so I'm hoping you can take a look to ensure we're accurately capturing each item.

I'm away next week but if you could provide your suggested edits to Keley by next Wednesday we would appreciate it. The briefing has not yet been set up so we will keep you posted if that timing needs to change.

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

OFHP Business Issues

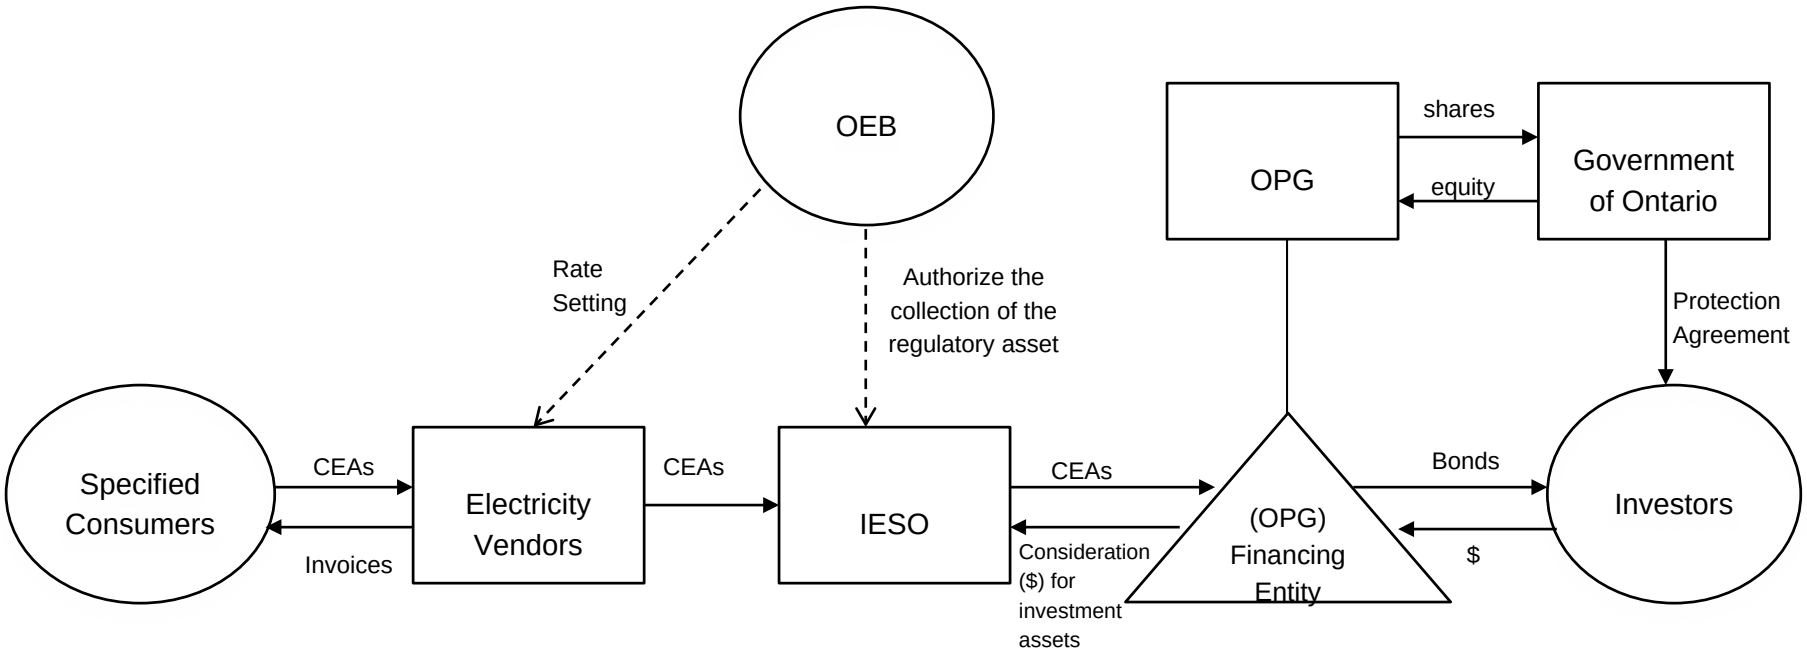
DRAFT – September 11, 2017

CONFIDENTIAL & COMMERCIALLY SENSITIVE

Context: GA Financing

- The Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017, enables the IESO to establish a variance account to record the deferral amounts from the difference between collections from current ratepayers and payment obligations to generators and conservation, and to create a regulatory asset as the Act provides the IESO the right to recover the balance in the variance account
  - The IESO can then sell the regulatory asset – the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future
  - OPG, as the Financial Services Manager, is authorized to establish one or more financing entities that may incur funding obligations
  - A financing entity purchasing the regulatory asset would effectively finance the IESO's shortfall in current rates not received from ratepayers
- In order to support the establishment of a financing entity, facilitate ongoing funding requirements of the Global Adjustment and optimize ratepayer impacts, OPG and the Province are working on finalizing the details for a number of business issues, including
  - Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement (PPAA)
  - Fair Allocation Amount (FAA)
  - Management Fees Regulation
  - Moratorium Period Interest and Fee Recovery
  - Equity Injections
  - Subordinated Debt Agreement
  - PILs Exemption

Global Adjustment Refinancing – Roles and Responsibilities



Note: CEAs are “clean energy adjustments”

Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, the Financing Entity must borrow a portion of the funds from capital markets (planned to be 51%, with other financing to come from OPG and, indirectly, the Province)
  - OPG's financial advisors have indicated that without adequate protection against legislative, judicial and organizational risk, the debt would not be financeable or would result in higher financing costs, to be passed on to ratepayers
- Upon receiving TB/MBC approval, and as contemplated under the Act, the Ministers of Energy and Finance have the authority to negotiate and enter into a protection agreement that supports the Financing Entity and prospective debt holders such that the Province would take over the funding obligations of the Financing Entity, under certain circumstances, including
  - Actions of the Legislative Assembly that undermine the financing arrangement; i.e., repeal or amendment of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, or new legislation that adversely affect the Financing Entity
  - A court decision that declares the rights of the Financing Entity to recover amounts from ratepayers to be invalid or unenforceable

Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement (Con't)

- In the event the protection agreement is triggered, the Province will be required to pay the obligations of the Financing Entity including principal and interest payments on debt issued to date, any payments to derivatives counterparties and any outstanding payments to service providers
  - The Province could potentially service the debt and other obligations and could replace OPG as the financial services manager
- The protection agreement may need to be revised at a future date, or approval from the Province may be required, if the financing entity must access the U.S. market as investors in that market will likely require additional compensation if the assumption agreement is triggered
- The Province will take on a contingent liability, which will increase over the duration of the Fair Hydro Plan and peak at an estimated $20B of debt (final cost forecasts TBC), including principal and accumulated interest
- In the event the protection agreement is triggered, the Province's net debt will most likely increase by an amount equal to the contingent liability at that point in time
  - The Province's interest payments will also increase by the debt interest servicing of the debt payment obligations it has assumed under the protection agreement
  - IOD expense may increase between $0.8B and $1.0B per annum, assuming the protection agreement is triggered when debt is at its peak, and depending on the interest rate at which the Financing entity will be able to borrow at

Next Steps:

- Province to work with OPG and external legal counsel to finalise the Protection Agreement

Fair Allocation Amount

Overview:

- xx

Next Steps:

- xx

Management Fees Regulation

Overview:

- Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) has been appointed the Financial Services Manager under the Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 to, among other things evaluate whether funding obligations should be incurred by the Trust for the purpose of acquiring and financing an investment interest.
- The Act enables OPG to achieve its objectives of consolidation of the Trust with OPG, and the ability to earn a return and take on risk, through its control of the Trust.
- The fee will have a fixed and variable component and be determined by formulas set out in a regulation, which as currently drafted includes:
    - Base fee: Monthly fee calculated as 7.5 basis points on monthly funding obligation. The base fee will be independently reviewed in 2018.
    - Variable fee: Annual fee of 5% of the difference difference between forecast and actual interest rates achieved for each of its funding tranches. The variable fee in any one year will be no more than 5 basis points of the net annual borrowing and can be no less than -5 basis of the net annual borrowing. If the variable fee is a negative amount, such amount will be deducted from the base fee in the following calendar year in twelve equal monthly payments
- The OEB will have a role in reviewing OPG's fees to ensure that the fees are consistent with prevailing market comparators

Next Steps:

- The Province is working with the OEB and OPG to develop a regulation setting out how the fees would be calculated including appropriate comparators for the OEBs review

Moratorium Period Interest and Fee Recovery

Overview:

- xx

Next Steps:

- xx

Equity Injections

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, an OPG financing entity would be established and borrow funds from the following:
  - Capital markets (51%)
  - Subordinated OPG debt, financed through equity injections from the Province (44%) and OPG, financing from capital markets (5%)
- OPG will require equity injections on an ongoing basis in order to provide the 44% share of financing for the financing entity to acquire the regulatory asset from IESO and keep its capital structure in line, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares to the Province as needed, under a share subscription agreement
- The Ministry of Energy will be responsible for seeking approval for the investment envelope each year and managing the share subscription arrangement with OPG
  - On a periodic basis, OPG will send a notice of share subscription to the Ministry of Energy, requesting a certain amount of equity based on the amount of the regulatory asset it plans to purchase in a fiscal year; the Ontario Financing Authority will flow the funds

Next Steps:

- OPG and the Ministry of Energy have approved the Master Subscription Agreement and will proceed to execute in the coming weeks
- The Ministry of Energy will work with the OFA to ensure a mechanism is in place to flow the funds within the required timeframes after the request is made by OPG

Subordinated Debt Agreement

Overview:

- OPG intends to lend the equity injection from the Province to the Trust by way of subordinated debt
- OPG proposes that OPG, the Fair Hydro Trust and the OFA will enter into a subordinated debt loan agreement, which outlines the terms of the subordinated debt [TBD]
- OPG has proposed that interest rates on the subordinated debt be established as follows:
  - During the Trust short term financing period, when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt [TBD]
  - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. [TBD]

Next Steps:

- OPG to incorporate the Province's comments into the next draft of the Subordinated Debt Agreement, which is tracking to be finalized by the end of September [TBD]

PILs Exemption

Overview:

- It is currently contemplated that the first financing entity to be established by OPG, in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, will be a trust (Trust).
- The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007.
- The beneficiary of the Trust will be a corporation (Subco) that will be directly or indirectly wholly-owned by OPG.
  - Subco, as a subsidiary of OPG, would be exempt from federal and provincial corporate taxes payable by private sector companies. Instead, Subco would be subject to tax under the payments in lieu of taxes (PILs) regime under the Electricity Act, 1998 (EA), and would pay PILs to the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC);
  - PILs are used by the OEFC to help pay down ~~its~~ debt and other liabilities – OEFC is the legal continuation of the former Ontario Hydro.
- In order to mitigate the cost to ratepayers, a recommendation will be made to the Minister of Finance ~~to~~ to make a regulation under the EA that would exempt Subco from PILs on income received by Subco as beneficiary of the Trust.
- Should OPG, as Financial Services Manager, establish other financing entities in the future for purposes of the OFHP, the Ministry of Finance will ~~also~~ consider making similar recommendations to the Minister of Finance.

Next Steps:

- Letter to OPG provide comfort that Subco will be exempt from PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust.
- The Ministry of Finance is working with OPG on a draft regulation, which is intended to be made by the Minister of Finance in the Fall of 2017.

  - Capital markets (51%)
  - Subordinated OPG debt, financed through equity injections from the Province (44%) and OPG, financing from capital markets (5%)
- OPG will require equity injections on an ongoing basis in order to provide the 44% share of financing for the financing entity to acquire the regulatory asset from IESO and keep its capital structure in line, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares to the Province as needed, under a share subscription agreement
- The Ministry of Energy will be responsible for seeking approval for the investment envelope each year and managing the share subscription arrangement with OPG
  - On a periodic basis, OPG will send a notice of share subscription to the Ministry of Energy, requesting a certain amount of equity based on the amount of the regulatory asset it plans to purchase in a fiscal year; the Ontario Financing Authority will flow the funds

Next Steps:

- OPG and the Ministry of Energy have approved the Master Subscription Agreement and will proceed to execute in the coming weeks
- The Ministry of Energy will work with the OFA to ensure a mechanism is in place to flow the funds within the required timeframes after the request is made by OPG

Subordinated Debt Agreement

Overview:

- OPG intends to lend the equity injection from the Province to the Trust by way of subordinated debt
- OPG proposes that OPG, the Fair Hydro Trust and the OFA will enter into a subordinated debt loan agreement, which outlines the terms of the subordinated debt [TBD]
- OPG has proposed that interest rates on the subordinated debt be established as follows:
  - During the Trust short term financing period, when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt [TBD]
  - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. [TBD]

Next Steps:

- OPG to incorporate the Province's comments into the next draft of the Subordinated Debt Agreement, which is tracking to be finalized by the end of September [TBD]

PILs Exemption

Overview:

- It is currently contemplated that the first financing entity to be established by OPG, in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, will be a trust (Trust)
- The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007
- The beneficiary of the Trust will be a corporation (Subco) that will be directly or indirectly wholly-owned by OPG
  - Subco, given it is owned by OPG, would be exempt from federal and provincial corporate taxes and property taxes payable by private sector companies, and instead make payments in lieu of taxes (PILs) to the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC)
  - PILs are used by the OEFC to help pay down its debt and other liabilities – OEFC is the legal continuation of the former Ontario Hydro
- In order to mitigate the cost to ratepayers, the Ministry of Finance plans to bring forward a proposed Minister of Finance's regulation under the Electricity Act , 1998 that would exempt Subco from paying PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust
- The Ministry of Finance will also consider similar regulations in the future should OPG establish another financing entity in its role as the Financial Services Manager

Next Steps:

- Draft letter from the Minister of Finance to OPG is in development that will provide comfort that Subco will be exempt from PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust.
- The Ministry of Finance is working with OPG on a draft regulation, which will be brought forward in the Fall

Hi Ron,

To TPD's question, I believe the answer is yes, the interest needs to be tax exempt too. I'm not sure how they would segregate one source of income vs. another.

John,

Do you know if the interest on the money OPG intends to lend to the Fair Hydro Trust needs to be tax exempt too? We were told that incidental income may arise in the trust and would have to be payable to OPG (or an OPG sub) in order that the Fair Hydro Trust pays no tax. Otherwise the tax (or PILs) would have to be passed on to rate payers.

The Province appears to be buying shares of OPG to inject the capital. OPG then plans to lend the capital to the trust at market interest rates. Seems to me that OPG will profit from this funding and ought to be taxable on interest received.

Please let me know what you think.

Rob

Keley.

Rob asked that I forward this slightly amended slide deck (attached) and these general comments to you. Our amendments have been keyed directly into this copy in red font (page 3). One edit adds words. One edit replaces words.

Other comments.

1. A Trust is mentioned as part of the financing entity structure (page 3, top). Then a specific trust is named (page 5, the Fair Hydro Trust) but it is not explained whether this named trust is, or isn't, the Trust that is part of the financing entity structure.
2. The term financing entity is used eleven times but it seems that there are different meanings and different contexts (i.e., capitalized/not capitalized, specific entity/generic entity). This is confusing. In one instance perhaps the term "financial services manager" is meant (page 3, just before the heading 'Next Steps.')
3. We note that acronyms for the Income Tax Act (Canada) and Ontario Taxation Act are provided, but not used elsewhere in the document. Perhaps these two acronyms are not needed.

If questions, please do not hesitate to ask.

Regards.

OFHP Business Issues

DRAFT – September 11, 2017

CONFIDENTIAL & COMMERCIALLY SENSITIVE

Context: GA Financing

- The Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017, enables the IESO to establish a variance account to record the deferral amounts from the difference between collections from current ratepayers and payment obligations to generators and conservation, and to create a regulatory asset as the Act provides the IESO the right to recover the balance in the variance account
  - The IESO can then sell the regulatory asset – the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future
  - OPG, as the Financial Services Manager, is authorized to establish one or more financing entities that may incur funding obligations
  - The financing entity will purchase the regulatory asset, effectively financing the IESO's shortfall in current rates not received from ratepayers
- In order to support the establishment of a financing entity, facilitate ongoing funding requirements of the Global Adjustment and optimize ratepayer impacts, OPG and the Province are working on finalizing the details for a number of business issues, including:
  - A regulation to minimize Payments in Lieu (PILs) of taxes by the financing entity
  - An equity injection by the Province to OPG that OPG would use to lend to the financing entity
  - A subordinated debt agreement related to OPG lending to the financing entity
- The above are in addition to a "Change of Law Protection Agreement" under which the Province would provide a guarantee to support the financing entities' debt under certain limited events such as a change in law or adverse court decision that would materially adversely affect the financing entities' ability to service debt.

PILs Exemption

Overview:

- It is currently contemplated that the first financing entity to be established by OPG, in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, will be a trust (Trust)
- The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007
- The beneficiary of the Trust will be a corporation (Subco) that will be directly or indirectly wholly-owned by OPG
  - Subco, given it is owned by OPG, would be exempt from federal and provincial corporate taxes and property taxes payable by private sector companies, and instead make payments in lieu of taxes (PILs) to the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC)
  - PILs are used by the OEFC to help pay down its debt and other liabilities – OEFC is the legal continuation ~~the stranded debt~~ of the former Ontario Hydro
- In order to mitigate the cost to ratepayers, the Ministry of Finance ~~Province~~ plans to bring forward a proposed Minister of Finance's regulation under the Electricity Act , 1998 that would exempt Subco from paying PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust
- The Ministry of Finance ~~Province~~ will also consider similar regulations in the future should OPG establish another financing entity in its role as the Financial Services Manager

Next Steps:

- Draft letter from the Minister of Finance to OPG is in development that will provide comfort that Subco will be exempt from PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust.
- The Ministry of Finance is working with OPG on a draft regulation, which will be brought forward in the Fall

Equity Injections

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, a financing entity must borrow funds from the following:
  - Capital markets (51%)
  - Subordinated OPG debt, financed through equity injections from the Province (44%) and OPG, financing from capital markets (5%)
- OPG will require equity injections on an ongoing basis in order to provide financing for the financing entity to acquire the regulatory asset from IESO and keep its capital structure in line, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares to the Province as needed, under a share subscription agreement
- The Ministry of Energy will be responsible for seeking approval ~~through the PRRT process~~ for the investment envelope each year and managing the share subscription arrangement with OPG
  - On a monthly/quarterly basis, OPG will send a notice of share subscription to the ~~Province~~ Ministry of Energy, requesting a certain amount of equity based on the amount of the regulatory asset it plans to purchase in a fiscal year; the Ontario Financing Authority will flow the funds ~~following receipt of a certificate from the Ministry of Energy, as required under s.11.4 of the Financial Administration Act~~

Next Steps:

- OPG is seeking its Board approval on September 29th of any required steps for the equity subscription
- The Province is working with appropriate parties internally to ensure a mechanism is in place to provide the equity injection to OPG

Subordinated Debt Agreement

Overview:

- OPG intends to lend the equity injection from the Province to the Trust by way of subordinated debt
- OPG, the Fair Hydro Trust and the OFA will enter into a subordinated debt loan agreement, which outlines the terms of the subordinated debt [TBD]
- Interest rates on the subordinated debt will be established as follows:
  - During the Trust short term financing period, when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt [TBD]
  - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. [TBD]

Next Steps:

- OPG to incorporate the Province's comments into the next draft of the Subordinated Debt Agreement, which is tracking to be finalized by the end of September [TBD]

Rob asked that I forward this slightly amended slide deck (attached) and these general comments to you. Our amendments have been keyed directly into this copy in red font (page 3). One edit adds words. One edit replaces words.

Other comments.

1. A Trust is mentioned as part of the financing entity structure (page 3, top). Then a specific trust is named (page 5, the Fair Hydro Trust) but it is not explained whether this named trust is, or isn't, the Trust that is part of the financing entity structure.
2. The term financing entity is used eleven times but it seems that there are different meanings and different contexts (i.e., capitalized/not capitalized, specific entity/generic entity). This is confusing. In one instance perhaps the term "financial services manager" is meant (page 3, just before the heading 'Next Steps.')
3. We note that acronyms for the Income Tax Act (Canada) and Ontario Taxation Act are provided, but not used elsewhere in the document. Perhaps these two acronyms are not needed.

If questions, please do not hesitate to ask.

Regards.

OFHP Business Issues

DRAFT – September 11, 2017

CONFIDENTIAL & COMMERCIALLY SENSITIVE

Context: GA Financing

- The Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017, enables the IESO to establish a variance account to record the deferral amounts from the difference between collections from current ratepayers and payment obligations to generators and conservation, and to create a regulatory asset as the Act provides the IESO the right to recover the balance in the variance account
  - The IESO can then sell the regulatory asset – the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future
  - OPG, as the Financial Services Manager, is authorized to establish one or more financing entities that may incur funding obligations
  - The financing entity will purchase the regulatory asset, effectively financing the IESO's shortfall in current rates not received from ratepayers
- In order to support the establishment of a financing entity, facilitate ongoing funding requirements of the Global Adjustment and optimize ratepayer impacts, OPG and the Province are working on finalizing the details for a number of business issues, including:
  - A regulation to minimize Payments in Lieu (PILs) of taxes by the financing entity
  - An equity injection by the Province to OPG that OPG would use to lend to the financing entity
  - A subordinated debt agreement related to OPG lending to the financing entity
- The above are in addition to a "Change of Law Protection Agreement" under which the Province would provide a guarantee to support the financing entities' debt under certain limited events such as a change in law or adverse court decision that would materially adversely affect the financing entities' ability to service debt.

PILs Exemption

Overview:

- It is currently contemplated that the first financing entity to be established by OPG, in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, will be a trust (Trust)
- The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007
- The beneficiary of the Trust will be a corporation (Subco) that will be directly or indirectly wholly-owned by OPG
  - Subco, given it is owned by OPG, would be exempt from federal and provincial corporate taxes and property taxes payable by private sector companies, and instead make payments in lieu of taxes (PILs) to the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC)
  - PILs are used by the OEFC to help pay down its debt and other liabilities – OEFC is the legal continuation ~~the stranded debt~~ of the former Ontario Hydro
- In order to mitigate the cost to ratepayers, the Ministry of Finance ~~Province~~ plans to bring forward a proposed Minister of Finance's regulation under the Electricity Act , 1998 that would exempt Subco from paying PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust
- The Ministry of Finance ~~Province~~ will also consider similar regulations in the future should OPG establish another financing entity in its role as the Financial Services Manager

Next Steps:

- Draft letter from the Minister of Finance to OPG is in development that will provide comfort that Subco will be exempt from PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust.
- The Ministry of Finance is working with OPG on a draft regulation, which will be brought forward in the Fall

Equity Injections

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, a financing entity must borrow funds from the following:
  - Capital markets (51%)
  - Subordinated OPG debt, financed through equity injections from the Province (44%) and OPG, financing from capital markets (5%)
- OPG will require equity injections on an ongoing basis in order to provide financing for the financing entity to acquire the regulatory asset from IESO and keep its capital structure in line, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares to the Province as needed, under a share subscription agreement
- The Ministry of Energy will be responsible for seeking approval ~~through the PRRT process~~ for the investment envelope each year and managing the share subscription arrangement with OPG
  - On a monthly/quarterly basis, OPG will send a notice of share subscription to the ~~Province~~ Ministry of Energy, requesting a certain amount of equity based on the amount of the regulatory asset it plans to purchase in a fiscal year; the Ontario Financing Authority will flow the funds ~~following receipt of a certificate from the Ministry of Energy, as required under s.11.4 of the Financial Administration Act~~

Next Steps:

- OPG is seeking its Board approval on September 29th of any required steps for the equity subscription
- The Province is working with appropriate parties internally to ensure a mechanism is in place to provide the equity injection to OPG

Subordinated Debt Agreement

Overview:

- OPG intends to lend the equity injection from the Province to the Trust by way of subordinated debt
- OPG, the Fair Hydro Trust and the OFA will enter into a subordinated debt loan agreement, which outlines the terms of the subordinated debt [TBD]
- Interest rates on the subordinated debt will be established as follows:
  - During the Trust short term financing period, when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt [TBD]
  - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. [TBD]

Next Steps:

- OPG to incorporate the Province's comments into the next draft of the Subordinated Debt Agreement, which is tracking to be finalized by the end of September [TBD]

Hi everyone,

We're pulling together a product summarizing all the outstanding business issues including status/next steps with respect to the Fair Hydro Plan for the Minister of Energy

I've attempted to fill out as much as possible (Hilary there's a couple placeholder slides where I had no content but I think those would be for ESP? Please correct me if I'm wrong).

Each of you are involved in various aspects of these issues so I'm hoping you can take a look to ensure we're accurately capturing each item.

I'm away next week but if you could provide your suggested edits to Keley by next Wednesday we would appreciate it. The briefing has not yet been set up so we will keep you posted if that timing needs to change.

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

DRAFT – September 11, 2017

CONFIDENTIAL & COMMERCIALLY SENSITIVE

Context: GA Financing

- The Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017, enables the IESO to establish a variance account to record the deferral amounts from the difference between collections from current ratepayers and payment obligations to generators and conservation, and to create a regulatory asset as the Act provides the IESO the right to recover the balance in the variance account

  - OPG, as the Financial Services Manager, is authorized to establish one or more financing entities that may incur funding obligations

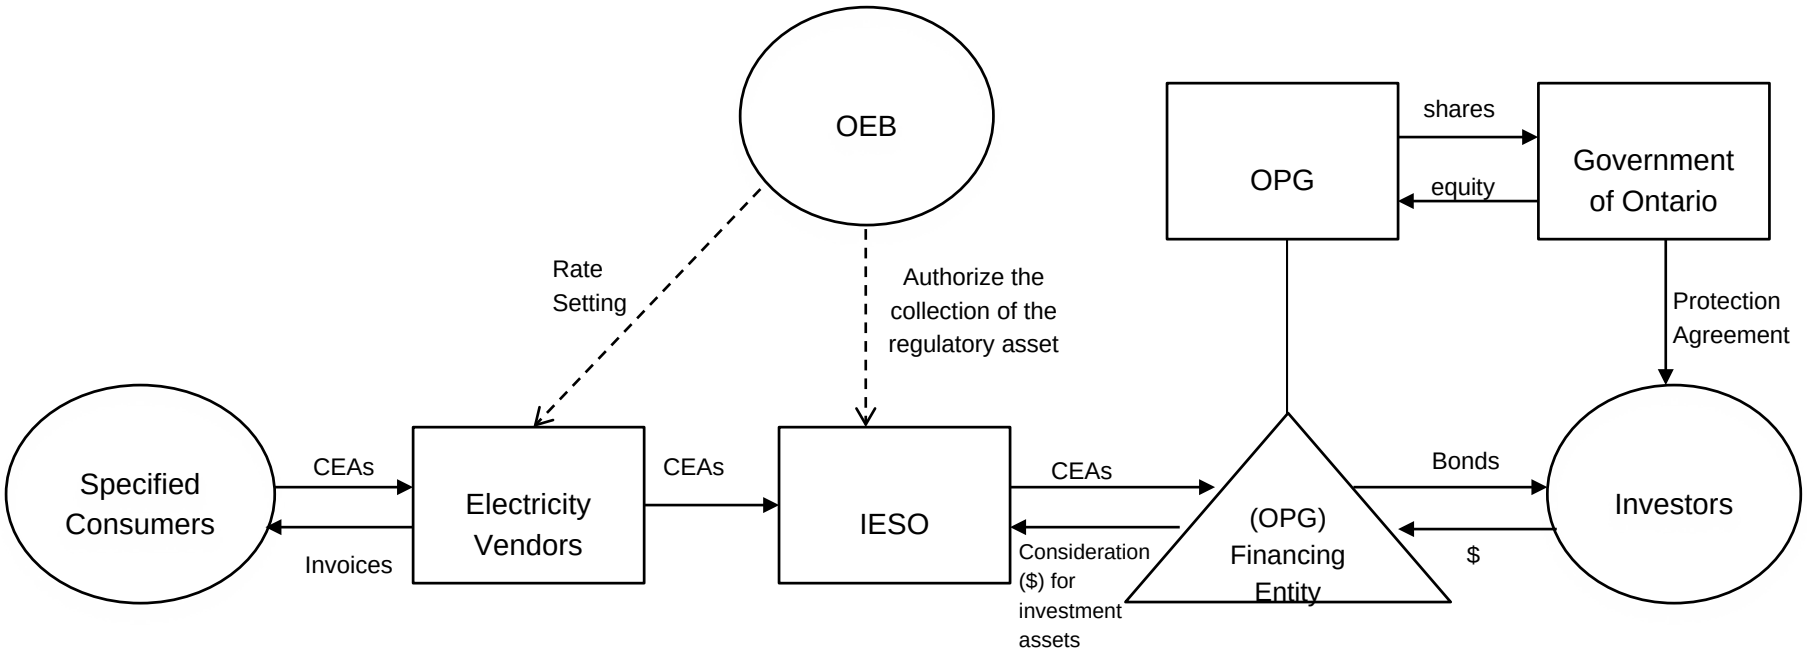
- In order to support the establishment of a financing entity, facilitate ongoing funding requirements of the Global Adjustment and optimize ratepayer impacts, OPG and the Province are working on finalizing the details for a number of business issues, including
  - ~~Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement (PPAA)~~ Change of Law Protection Agreement
  - Fair Allocation Amount (FAA)
  - Management Fees Regulation
  - Moratorium Period Interest and Fee Recovery
  - Equity Injections
  - Subordinated Debt Agreement
  - PILs Exemption

Global Adjustment Refinancing – Roles and Responsibilities



Note: CEAs are “clean energy adjustments”

~~Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement~~Change of Law Protection Agreement

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, the Financing Entity must borrow a portion of the funds from capital markets (planned to be 51%, with other financing to come from OPG and, indirectly, the Province)
  - OPG's financial advisors have indicated that without adequate protection against legislative, judicial and organizational risk, the debt would not be financeable or would result in higher financing costs, to be passed on to ratepayers
- Upon receiving TB/MBC approval, and as contemplated under the Act, the Ministers of Energy and Finance have the authority to negotiate and enter into a protection agreement that supports the Financing Entity and prospective debt holders such that the Province would take over the funding obligations of the Financing Entity, under certain circumstances, including
  - Actions of the Legislative Assembly that undermine the financing arrangement; i.e., repeal or amendment of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, or new legislation that adversely affect the Financing Entity
  - A court decision that declares the rights of the Financing Entity to recover amounts from ratepayers to be invalid or unenforceable

~~Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement~~Change of ~~Law Protection Agreement~~ (Con't)

- In the event the protection agreement is triggered, the Province will be required to pay the obligations of the Financing Entity including principal and interest payments on debt issued to date, any payments to derivatives counterparties and any outstanding payments to service providers
  - The Province could potentially service the debt and other obligations and could replace OPG as the financial services manager
- The protection agreement may need to be revised at a future date, or approval from the Province may be required, if the financing entity must access the U.S. market as investors in that market will likely require additional compensation if the assumption agreement is triggered
- The Province will take on a contingent liability, which will increase over the duration of the Fair Hydro Plan and peak at an estimated $20B of debt (final cost forecasts TBC), including principal and accumulated interest
- In the event the protection agreement is triggered, the Province's net debt will most likely increase by an amount equal to the contingent liability at that point in time
  - The Province's interest payments will also increase by the debt interest servicing of the debt payment obligations it has assumed under the protection agreement
  - IOD expense may increase between $0.8B and $1.0B per annum, assuming the protection agreement is triggered when debt is at its peak, and depending on the interest rate at which the Financing entity will be able to borrow at

Next Steps:

- Province to work with OPG and external legal counsel to finalise the Protection Agreement

Fair Allocation Amount

Overview:

- xx

Next Steps:

- Xx

Management Fees Regulation

Overview:

- Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) has been appointed the Financial Services Manager under the Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 to, among other things evaluate whether funding obligations should be incurred by the Trust for the purpose of acquiring and financing an investment interest.
- The Act enables OPG to achieve its objectives of consolidation of the Trust with OPG, and the ability to earn a return and take on risk, through its control of the Trust.
- The fee will have a fixed and variable component and be determined by formulas set out in a regulation, which as currently drafted includes:
    - Base fee: Monthly fee calculated as 7.5 basis points on monthly funding obligation. The base fee will be independently reviewed in 2018.
    - Variable fee: Annual fee of 5% of the difference difference between forecast and actual interest rates achieved for each of its funding tranches. The variable fee in any one year will be no more than 5 basis points of the net annual borrowing and can be no less than -5 basis of the net annual borrowing. If the variable fee is a negative amount, such amount will be deducted from the base fee in the following calendar year in twelve equal monthly payments
- The OEB will have a role in reviewing OPG's fees to ensure that the fees are consistent with prevailing market comparators

Next Steps:

- The Province is working with the OEB and OPG to develop a regulation setting out how the fees would be calculated including appropriate comparators for the OEBs review

Moratorium Period Interest and Fee Recovery

Overview:

- xx

Next Steps:

- Xx

FTD OFA Comment: Is the recovery limited to IESO's interest costs on the credit line or does it extend to the interest costs of the financing entity over the four years in question?

Equity Injections

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, an OPG financing entity would be established and borrow funds from the following:
  - Capital markets (51%)
  - Subordinated OPG debt, financed through equity injections from the Province (44%) and OPG, financing from capital markets (5%)
- OPG will require equity injections on an ongoing basis in order to provide the 44% share of financing for the financing entity to acquire the regulatory asset from IESO and keep its capital structure in line, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares to the Province as needed, under a share subscription agreement
- The Ministry of Energy will be responsible for seeking approval for the investment envelope each year and managing the share subscription arrangement with OPG
  - On a periodic basis, OPG will send a notice of share subscription to the Ministry of Energy, requesting a certain amount of equity based on the amount of the regulatory asset it plans to purchase in a fiscal year; the Ontario Financing Authority will flow the funds

Next Steps:

- OPG and the Ministry of Energy have approved the Master Subscription Agreement and will proceed to execute in the coming weeks
- The Ministry of Energy will work with the OFA to ensure a mechanism is in place to flow the funds within the required timeframes after the request is made by OPG

Subordinated Debt Agreement

Overview:

- OPG intends to lend the equity injection from the Province to the Trust by way of subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt
- OPG proposes that OPG, the Fair Hydro Trust and the OFA will enter into a subordinated debt loan agreement, which outlines the terms of the subordinated debt [TBD]
- OPG has proposed that interest rates on the subordinated debt be established as follows:
  - During the Trust short term financing period, when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt [TBD]
  - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. [TBD]

Next Steps:

- OPG to incorporate the Province's comments into the next draft of the Subordinated Debt Agreement, which is tracking to be finalized by the end of ~~September~~November [TBD]

PILs Exemption

Overview:

- It is currently contemplated that the first financing entity to be established by OPG, in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, will be a trust (Trust).
- The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007.
- The beneficiary of the Trust will be a corporation (Subco) that will be directly or indirectly wholly-owned by OPG.
  - Subco, as a subsidiary of OPG, would be exempt from federal and provincial corporate taxes payable by private sector companies. Instead, Subco would be subject to tax under the payments in lieu of taxes (PILs) regime under the Electricity Act, 1998 (EA), and would pay PILs to the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC);
  - PILs are used by the OEFC to help pay down ~~its~~ debt and other liabilities – OEFC is the legal continuation of the former Ontario Hydro.
- In order to mitigate the cost to ratepayers, a recommendation will be made to the Minister of Finance ~~to~~ to make a regulation under the EA that would exempt Subco from PILs on income received by Subco as beneficiary of the Trust.
- Should OPG, as Financial Services Manager, establish other financing entities in the future for purposes of the OFHP, the Ministry of Finance will ~~also~~ consider making similar recommendations to the Minister of Finance.

Next Steps:

- Letter to OPG provide comfort that Subco will be exempt from PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust.
- The Ministry of Finance is working with OPG on a draft regulation, which is intended to be made by the Minister of Finance in the Fall of 2017.

-you may want to change the references of “Provincial Protection and Assurance Agreement” to the “Change of Law Protection Agreement”

re: slide#9

-is this correct: OPG and the Ministry of Energy have approved the Master Subscription Agreement

re:Slide#10

-need to add “and junior subordinated debt” after OPG intends to lend the equity injection from the Province to the Trust by way of subordinated debt “

-need to change by the end of “November” finalized by the end of September

Hi everyone,

We're pulling together a product summarizing all the outstanding business issues including status/next steps with respect to the Fair Hydro Plan for the Minister of Energy

I've attempted to fill out as much as possible (Hilary there's a couple placeholder slides where I had no content but I think those would be for ESP? Please correct me if I'm wrong).

Each of you are involved in various aspects of these issues so I'm hoping you can take a look to ensure we're accurately capturing each item.

I'm away next week but if you could provide your suggested edits to Keley by next Wednesday we would appreciate it. The briefing has not yet been set up so we will keep you posted if that timing needs to change.

Thanks in advance,

Kaitlin

OFHP Business Issues

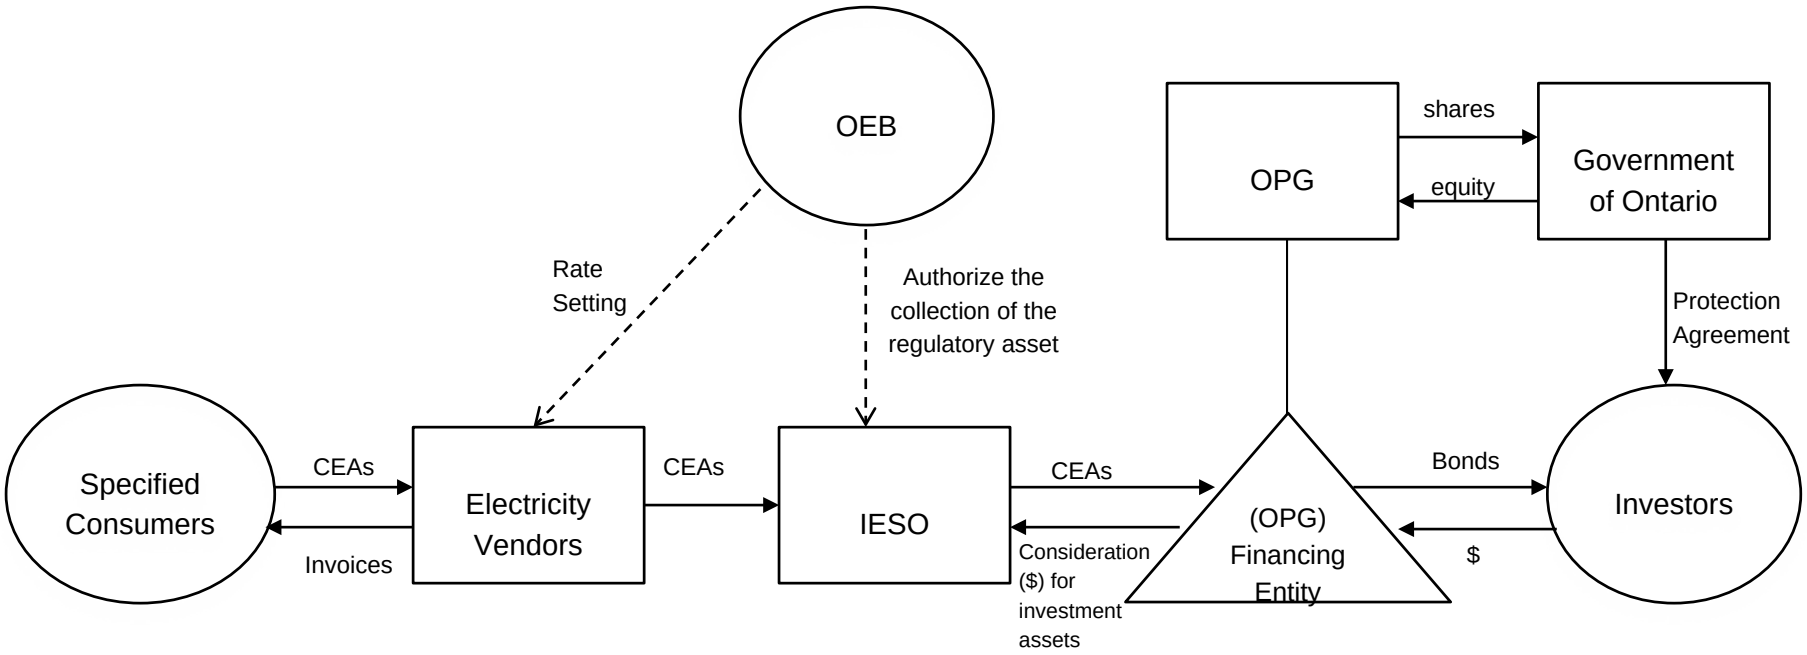
DRAFT – September 11, 2017

CONFIDENTIAL & COMMERCIALLY SENSITIVE

Context: GA Financing

- The Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017, enables the IESO to establish a variance account to record the deferral amounts from the difference between collections from current ratepayers and payment obligations to generators and conservation, and to create a regulatory asset as the Act provides the IESO the right to recover the balance in the variance account
  - The IESO can then sell the regulatory asset – the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future
  - OPG, as the Financial Services Manager, is authorized to establish one or more financing entities that may incur funding obligations
  - A financing entity purchasing the regulatory asset would effectively finance the IESO's shortfall in current rates not received from ratepayers
- In order to support the establishment of a financing entity, facilitate ongoing funding requirements of the Global Adjustment and optimize ratepayer impacts, OPG and the Province are working on finalizing the details for a number of business issues, including
  - ~~Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement (PPAA)~~ Change of Law Protection Agreement
  - Fair Allocation Amount (FAA)
  - Management Fees Regulation
  - Moratorium Period Interest and Fee Recovery
  - Equity Injections
  - Subordinated Debt Agreement
  - PILs Exemption

Global Adjustment Refinancing – Roles and Responsibilities



Note: CEAs are “clean energy adjustments”

~~Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement~~Change of Law Protection Agreement

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, the Financing Entity must borrow a portion of the funds from capital markets (planned to be 51%, with other financing to come from OPG and, indirectly, the Province)
  - OPG's financial advisors have indicated that without adequate protection against legislative, judicial and organizational risk, the debt would not be financeable or would result in higher financing costs, to be passed on to ratepayers
- Upon receiving TB/MBC approval, and as contemplated under the Act, the Ministers of Energy and Finance have the authority to negotiate and enter into a protection agreement that supports the Financing Entity and prospective debt holders such that the Province would take over the funding obligations of the Financing Entity, under certain circumstances, including
  - Actions of the Legislative Assembly that undermine the financing arrangement; i.e., repeal or amendment of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, or new legislation that adversely affect the Financing Entity
  - A court decision that declares the rights of the Financing Entity to recover amounts from ratepayers to be invalid or unenforceable

~~Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement~~Change of ~~Law Protection Agreement~~ (Con't)

- In the event the protection agreement is triggered, the Province will be required to pay the obligations of the Financing Entity including principal and interest payments on debt issued to date, any payments to derivatives counterparties and any outstanding payments to service providers
  - The Province could potentially service the debt and other obligations and could replace OPG as the financial services manager
- The protection agreement may need to be revised at a future date, or approval from the Province may be required, if the financing entity must access the U.S. market as investors in that market will likely require additional compensation if the assumption agreement is triggered
- The Province will take on a contingent liability, which will increase over the duration of the Fair Hydro Plan and peak at an estimated $20B of debt (final cost forecasts TBC), including principal and accumulated interest
- In the event the protection agreement is triggered, the Province's net debt will most likely increase by an amount equal to the contingent liability at that point in time
  - The Province's interest payments will also increase by the debt interest servicing of the debt payment obligations it has assumed under the protection agreement
  - IOD expense may increase between $0.8B and $1.0B per annum, assuming the protection agreement is triggered when debt is at its peak, and depending on the interest rate at which the Financing entity will be able to borrow at

Next Steps:

- Province to work with OPG and external legal counsel to finalise the Protection Agreement

Fair Allocation Amount

Overview:

- xx

Next Steps:

- Xx

CEFD Comment: Does the FAA include any interest on the deferred GA amount? Does the equity injection from the Province also covers those interest costs?

Management Fees Regulation

Overview:

- Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) has been appointed the Financial Services Manager under the Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 to, among other things evaluate whether funding obligations should be incurred by the Trust for the purpose of acquiring and financing an investment interest.
- The Act enables OPG to achieve its objectives of consolidation of the Trust with OPG, and the ability to earn a return and take on risk, through its control of the Trust.
- The fee will have a fixed and variable component and be determined by formulas set out in a regulation, which as currently drafted includes:
    - Base fee: Monthly fee calculated as 7.5 basis points on monthly funding obligation. The base fee will be independently reviewed in 2018.
    - Variable fee: Annual fee of 5% of the difference difference between forecast and actual interest rates achieved for each of its funding tranches. The variable fee in any one year will be no more than 5 basis points of the net annual borrowing and can be no less than -5 basis of the net annual borrowing. If the variable fee is a negative amount, such amount will be deducted from the base fee in the following calendar year in twelve equal monthly payments
- The OEB will have a role in reviewing OPG's fees to ensure that the fees are consistent with prevailing market comparators

Next Steps:

- The Province is working with the OEB and OPG to develop a regulation setting out how the fees would be calculated including appropriate comparators for the OEBs review

Moratorium Period Interest and Fee Recovery

Overview:

- xx

Next Steps:

- Xx

OFA Comment: Is the recovery limited to IESO's interest costs on the credit line or does it extend to the interest costs of the financing entity over the four years in question?

Equity Injections

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, an OPG financing entity would be established and borrow funds from the following:
  - Capital markets (51%)
  - Subordinated OPG debt, financed through equity injections from the Province (44%) and OPG, financing from capital markets (5%)
- OPG will require equity injections on an ongoing basis in order to provide the 44% share of financing for the financing entity to acquire the regulatory asset from IESO and keep its capital structure in line, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares to the Province as needed, under a share subscription agreement
- The Ministry of Energy will be responsible for seeking approval for the investment envelope each year and managing the share subscription arrangement with OPG
  - On a periodic basis, OPG will send a notice of share subscription to the Ministry of Energy, requesting a certain amount of equity based on the amount of the regulatory asset it plans to purchase in a fiscal year; the Ontario Financing Authority will flow the funds

Next Steps:

- OPG and the Ministry of Energy have approved the Master Subscription Agreement and will proceed to execute in the coming weeks
- The Ministry of Energy will work with the OFA to ensure a mechanism is in place to flow the funds within the required timeframes after the request is made by OPG

Subordinated Debt Agreement

Overview:

- OPG intends to lend the equity injection from the Province to the Trust by way of subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt
- OPG proposes that OPG, the Fair Hydro Trust and the OFA will enter into a subordinated debt loan agreement, which outlines the terms of the subordinated debt [TBD]
- OPG has proposed that interest rates on the subordinated debt be established as follows:
  - During the Trust short term financing period, when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt [TBD]
  - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. [TBD]

Next Steps:

- OPG to incorporate the Province's comments into the next draft of the Subordinated Debt Agreement, which is tracking to be finalized by the end of ~~September~~November [TBD]

PILs Exemption

Overview:

- It is currently contemplated that the first financing entity to be established by OPG, in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, will be a trust (Trust).
- The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007.
- The beneficiary of the Trust will be a corporation (Subco) that will be directly or indirectly wholly-owned by OPG.
  - Subco, as a subsidiary of OPG, would be exempt from federal and provincial corporate taxes payable by private sector companies. Instead, Subco would be subject to tax under the payments in lieu of taxes (PILs) regime under the Electricity Act, 1998 (EA), and would pay PILs to the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC);
  - PILs are used by the OEFC to help pay down ~~its~~ debt and other liabilities – OEFC is the legal continuation of the former Ontario Hydro.
- In order to mitigate the cost to ratepayers, a recommendation will be made to the Minister of Finance ~~to~~ to make a regulation under the EA that would exempt Subco from PILs on income received by Subco as beneficiary of the Trust.
- Should OPG, as Financial Services Manager, establish other financing entities in the future for purposes of the OFHP, the Ministry of Finance will ~~also~~ consider making similar recommendations to the Minister of Finance.

Next Steps:

- Letter to OPG provide comfort that Subco will be exempt from PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust.
- The Ministry of Finance is working with OPG on a draft regulation, which is intended to be made by the Minister of Finance in the Fall of 2017.

Thanks John, I don't have any major issues. I do note that the slide on the recovery of interest over the moratorium period remains blank, I understand a reg was crafted on this issue with IESO recovering these amounts from the Global Adjustment. Not sure whether the recovery is limited to IESO's interest costs on the credit line or extends to the interest costs of the financing entity over the four years in question.

Clarification from you or Energy will be much appreciated.

Slide 10: one small point it says the sub debt agreement includes the OFA as a party, my understanding is that the OFA will review the sub debt agreement and make sure we are comfortable with the terms, but will not be a signatory, you may want to communicate this to Energy.

Thanks

TD Securities

A Confidential Presentation

Capital Injection Discussion

April 25, 2017

Presented By

Introduction

- The Province of Ontario (the "Province") is considering alternatives to fund its capital injection (the "Capital Injection") into Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG"), which represents 44% of the Global Adjustment deferral financing requirement
- When evaluating the Province's alternatives, TD Securities Inc. ("TD Securities") understands that the Province's objectives are:
  1. Equity Treatment: Ensuring that the Capital Injection is treated as equity so as to mitigate the credit rating impact to OPG associated with 100% consolidation of the Special Purpose Vehicle ("SPV")/Trust
  2. Managing Cash Flows for Interest Payments: Timing, size, and priority of cash flows to repay interest used to fund the Capital Injection
  3. Managing Cash Flows for Debt Repayments: Timing, size, and priority of cash flows to repay the maturing principal for debt used to fund the Capital Injection
- In addition, simplicity is preferred to a complex structure

Capital Injection Options

	Common Equity	Preferred Equity	Fixed-to-Floating Sub. Notes, Convertible to Preferred Equity[1]	Mandatory Convertible Preferred Equity
Characteristics
Instrument	▪ Equity instrument with no fixed dividend	▪ Preferred equity instrument with a fixed, floating, or resettable dividend	▪ A fixed income instrument with a fixed rate, which automatically converts into floating rate preferred shares, subject to an issuer cash redemption feature	▪ A preferred equity instrument that pays fixed, floating, or resettable dividends, which automatically converts into common equity
Capital Structure Ranking	▪ Lowest priority	▪ Priority to common equity	▪ Until converted, usually ranks higher than preferred equity, but lower than other fixed income instruments	▪ Priority to common equity until converted
OPG Tax Treatment	▪ Dividends are not tax-deductible	▪ Dividends are not tax-deductible	▪ Initial interest payments tax-deductible	▪ Dividends are not tax-deductible
DBRS Equity Treatment Methodology	▪ Considered equity	▪ Allocated an equity percentage (100% to 0%) based on (1) permanence, (2) subordination, and (3) legal implications (default considerations) ▪ Any less "equity-like" features reduce equity weighting allocated to the instrument ▪ Hybrid instruments[2] can receive 100% equity treatment, but limited to a quantity proportionate to 20% of common equity ▪ 100% of preferred dividends or interest payments are subtracted from cash flow credit metrics, regardless of equity treatment ▪ Cannot have a investor cash redemption provision to be considered equity
S&P Equity Treatment Methodology	▪ Considered equity	▪ Hybrids placed into one of three categories based on equity content for purposes of calculating credit metrics: • High: 100% equity; Intermediate: 50% equity, 50% debt; Minimal: 0% equity ▪ Key considerations are: (1) ongoing payments, (2) permanence, and (3) subordination / credit default cushion ▪ Generally, equity content treatment applies to hybrids in proportions equal to or below 15% of total capitalization ▪ Same equity treatment methodology is applied in calculating cash flow credit metrics ▪ Must have at least 20 years or more remaining to the effective maturity to be given any equity content, subject to other features
Objectives
1. Equity Treatment	▪ Considered equity	▪ Typically given 50% and 100% equity treatment by S&P and DBRS, respectively, subject to quantity limits	▪ Recent hybrid sub-debt offerings given intermediate equity content by S&P ▪ Quantity limited by DBRS & S&P	▪ Typically given 100% equity treatment, depending on conversion length ▪ Quantity limited by DBRS & S&P
2. Cash Flows for Interest Payments	▪ By way of dividends ▪ Dividend Timing: flexible (monthly, quarterly, yearly) ▪ Dividend Size: flexible ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely	▪ By way of preferred dividends ▪ Dividend Timing: fixed ▪ Dividend Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends • Cumulative or non-cumulative	▪ By way of fixed interest payments until converted ▪ Interest Timing: flexible at initiation ▪ Interest Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Interest Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends	▪ By way of preferred dividends until converted ▪ Dividend Timing: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends until converted
3. Cash Flows for Debt Principal Payments	▪ Special dividends can be utilized to match timing of principal repayments	▪ Little incentive for principal repayment unless other features are added	▪ Interest rate step-up incentivizes redemption by the issuer at conversion, but may affect equity treatment	▪ Once converted, special dividends can be utilized to match timing of principal repayments

(1) Also referred to as U.S. Hybrids, with recent examples including TransCanada's US$1.25B offering in February 2017 and Emera's US$1.2B offering in June 2016
(2) Instruments that have both debt-like and equity-like features

Discussion

- Common equity provides the most flexibility to OPG with respect to:
  - Greater certainty in attaining equity treatment by credit rating agencies
  - Cash flow timing in the event that SPV/Trust payments are delayed
- Hybrid instruments(1) are an alternative in satisfying the Province's Capital Injection into OPG
  - Companies usually issue hybrids for specific purposes related to access to capital markets, credit rating, equity dilution, and tax considerations
- Two considerations required for OPG to consolidate the SPV/Trust that may directly affect the timing and amount of cash available to pay the Province are:
  - Decision Making – OPG needs to make funding / dividend decisions independent of the Province
  - Business Risk – OPG needs to demonstrate that it has variability of returns
- The two above considerations may result in cash not being distributed from the SPV/Trust to OPG, such that OPG cannot pay a dividend or special dividend to the Province
- Additionally, the dividend / interest rate on the Province's Capital Injection relative to the interest rate of the debt issued by the Province and the debt issued to OPG by the SPV/Trust determines where the excess cash will accumulate

(1) Instruments that have both debt-like and equity-like features, including the preferred equity, fixed-to-floating sub. notes, convertible to preferred equity, and mandatory convertible preferred equity discussed on page 3

Discussion (cont'd)

- Hybrid instruments(1) can be used to increase the Province's certainty of cash flows to cover the interest and principal payments on the underlying debt the Province issues
  - Subordination is less of a concern as the Province owns 100% of OPG
  - Direct trade-off exists between adding debt-like features to the hybrid instruments and reducing their degree of equity treatment for OPG by credit rating agencies
  - However, the instruments have to demonstrate some degree of permanency to warrant equity treatment and the total amount that receive equity treatment is limited by credit rating agencies
- At its simplest, the Capital Injection could take the form of common shares to the Province
  - Normal dividends set by the OPG Board, which the Province has the ability to direct, to equal the interest payments on the underlying debt
  - Repayment of principal through special dividends as cash becomes available at OPG after receiving distributions from the SPV/Trust
- Investing at market value as opposed to book value is more of a concern when allocating value between new and existing shareholders, which in not applicable in this case

The Province should have a detailed discussion with OPG and its auditors, and ultimately, the credit rating agencies when evaluating its alternatives in the context of its objectives

(1) Instruments that have both debt-like and equity-like features, including the preferred equity, fixed-to-floating sub. notes, convertible to preferred equity, and mandatory convertible preferred equity discussed on page 3

Good question, the appendix to the MOE cabinet submission includes an opinion from E&Y where this point is very forcefully made. That is why the debt from the Province option is no longer on the table.

Hi Ken,

Thanks for these helpful comments. I do have a question on your first comment. I haven't been as close to the accounting discussion as you have been - why would providing debt from the Province to OPG, for this purpose, affect its status as a GBE, if the loan is provided at a market rate. I haven't gone through this deck carefully yet but wanted to clarify this point.

I do recognize that ultimately OPG would want to make a commercial decision so we are looking to be educated on various structures.

Happy to chat in the lock-up tomorrow.

Carlos, and others

I believe the discussion with TDS will be scheduled for either Thursday of Friday and I am not available on both days so here are my comments.

- Page 3: Option#3 is not feasible since it is essentially a type of debt from the Province to OPG and may impact the latter's GBE status, which jeopardizes the entire arrangement.
- Options 2 and 4 are superior to 1 from the Province's perspective providing a greater assurance of dividends, which means less cash flow risk for the province.
- The last bullet on page 4 is a little confusing especially the phrase; "and the debt issued to OPG by the SPV/Trust". It's actually the other way around, OPG uses the cash flow from the equity injection to issue debt to the Trust.
- The cash flow from the equity injection is essentially cost free for OPG however, the Trust will generate interest income on 100% of its debt, as such when the trust is consolidated with OPG, the latter will show a net interest income. This income can be paid out as dividends to the Province and in essence defray the Province's interest payments on the debt incurred to fund the equity injection.

Thanks and as always happy to discuss.

Hi Ken,

Thanks for these helpful comments. I do have a question on your first comment. I haven't been as close to the accounting discussion as you have been - why would providing debt from the Province to OPG, for this purpose, affect its status as a GBE, if the loan is provided at a market rate. I haven't gone through this deck carefully yet but wanted to clarify this point.

I do recognize that ultimately OPG would want to make a commercial decision so we are looking to be educated on various structures.

Happy to chat in the lock-up tomorrow.

John

Carlos, and others

I believe the discussion with TDS will be scheduled for either Thursday of Friday and I am not available on both days so here are my comments.

- Page 3: Option#3 is not feasible since it is essentially a type of debt from the Province to OPG and may impact the latter's GBE status, which jeopardizes the entire arrangement.
- Options 2 and 4 are superior to 1 from the Province's perspective providing a greater assurance of dividends, which means less cash flow risk for the province.
- The last bullet on page 4 is a little confusing especially the phrase; "and the debt issued to OPG by the SPV/Trust". It's actually the other way around, OPG uses the cash flow from the equity injection to issue debt to the Trust.
- The cash flow from the equity injection is essentially cost free for OPG however, the Trust will generate interest income on 100% of its debt, as such when the trust is consolidated with OPG, the latter will show a net interest income. This income can be paid out as dividends to the Province and in essence defray the Province's interest payments on the debt incurred to fund the equity injection.

Thanks and as always happy to discuss.

Good thing Ken sent something back as I had overlooked this one in my inbox. I will send comments back but after the Document tomorrow.

Ideally, a call with TD next week as I'm off Friday too and I'd advise keeping Kaitlin in the mix as Mike pointed out last week.

Capital Injection Discussion

April 25, 2017

Presented By

Introduction

- The Province of Ontario (the "Province") is considering alternatives to fund its capital injection (the "Capital Injection") into Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG"), which represents 44% of the Global Adjustment deferral financing requirement
- When evaluating the Province's alternatives, TD Securities Inc. ("TD Securities") understands that the Province's objectives are:
  1. Equity Treatment: Ensuring that the Capital Injection is treated as equity so as to mitigate the credit rating impact to OPG associated with 100% consolidation of the Special Purpose Vehicle ("SPV")/Trust
  2. Managing Cash Flows for Interest Payments: Timing, size, and priority of cash flows to repay interest used to fund the Capital Injection
  3. Managing Cash Flows for Debt Repayments: Timing, size, and priority of cash flows to repay the maturing principal for debt used to fund the Capital Injection
- In addition, simplicity is preferred to a complex structure

Capital Injection Options

	Common Equity	Preferred Equity	Fixed-to-Floating Sub. Notes, Convertible to Preferred Equity[1]	Mandatory Convertible Preferred Equity
Characteristics
Instrument	▪ Equity instrument with no fixed dividend	▪ Preferred equity instrument with a fixed, floating, or resettable dividend	▪ A fixed income instrument with a fixed rate, which automatically converts into floating rate preferred shares, subject to an issuer cash redemption feature	▪ A preferred equity instrument that pays fixed, floating, or resettable dividends, which automatically converts into common equity
Capital Structure Ranking	▪ Lowest priority	▪ Priority to common equity	▪ Until converted, usually ranks higher than preferred equity, but lower than other fixed income instruments	▪ Priority to common equity until converted
OPG Tax Treatment	▪ Dividends are not tax-deductible	▪ Dividends are not tax-deductible	▪ Initial interest payments tax-deductible	▪ Dividends are not tax-deductible
DBRS Equity Treatment Methodology	▪ Considered equity	▪ Allocated an equity percentage (100% to 0%) based on (1) permanence, (2) subordination, and (3) legal implications (default considerations) ▪ Any less "equity-like" features reduce equity weighting allocated to the instrument ▪ Hybrid instruments[2] can receive 100% equity treatment, but limited to a quantity proportionate to 20% of common equity ▪ 100% of preferred dividends or interest payments are subtracted from cash flow credit metrics, regardless of equity treatment ▪ Cannot have a investor cash redemption provision to be considered equity
S&P Equity Treatment Methodology	▪ Considered equity	▪ Hybrids placed into one of three categories based on equity content for purposes of calculating credit metrics: • High: 100% equity; Intermediate: 50% equity, 50% debt; Minimal: 0% equity ▪ Key considerations are: (1) ongoing payments, (2) permanence, and (3) subordination / credit default cushion ▪ Generally, equity content treatment applies to hybrids in proportions equal to or below 15% of total capitalization ▪ Same equity treatment methodology is applied in calculating cash flow credit metrics ▪ Must have at least 20 years or more remaining to the effective maturity to be given any equity content, subject to other features
1. Equity Treatment	▪ Considered equity	▪ Typically given 50% and 100% equity treatment by S&P and DBRS, respectively, subject to quantity limits	▪ Recent hybrid sub-debt offerings given intermediate equity content by S&P ▪ Quantity limited by DBRS & S&P	▪ Typically given 100% equity treatment, depending on conversion length ▪ Quantity limited by DBRS & S&P
2. Cash Flows for Interest Payments	▪ By way of dividends ▪ Dividend Timing: flexible (monthly, quarterly, yearly) ▪ Dividend Size: flexible ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely	▪ By way of preferred dividends ▪ Dividend Timing: fixed ▪ Dividend Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends • Cumulative or non-cumulative	▪ By way of fixed interest payments until converted ▪ Interest Timing: flexible at initiation ▪ Interest Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Interest Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends	▪ By way of preferred dividends until converted ▪ Dividend Timing: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends until converted
3. Cash Flows for Debt Principal Payments	▪ Special dividends can be utilized to match timing of principal repayments	▪ Little incentive for principal repayment unless other features are added	▪ Interest rate step-up incentivizes redemption by the issuer at conversion, but may affect equity treatment	▪ Once converted, special dividends can be utilized to match timing of principal repayments

(1) Also referred to as U.S. Hybrids, with recent examples including TransCanada's US$1.25B offering in February 2017 and Emera's US$1.2B offering in June 2016
(2) Instruments that have both debt-like and equity-like features

Discussion

- Common equity provides the most flexibility to OPG with respect to:
  - Greater certainty in attaining equity treatment by credit rating agencies
  - Cash flow timing in the event that SPV/Trust payments are delayed
- Hybrid instruments(1) are an alternative in satisfying the Province's Capital Injection into OPG
  - Companies usually issue hybrids for specific purposes related to access to capital markets, credit rating, equity dilution, and tax considerations
- Two considerations required for OPG to consolidate the SPV/Trust that may directly affect the timing and amount of cash available to pay the Province are:
  - Decision Making – OPG needs to make funding / dividend decisions independent of the Province
  - Business Risk – OPG needs to demonstrate that it has variability of returns
- The two above considerations may result in cash not being distributed from the SPV/Trust to OPG, such that OPG cannot pay a dividend or special dividend to the Province
- Additionally, the dividend / interest rate on the Province's Capital Injection relative to the interest rate of the debt issued by the Province and the debt issued to OPG by the SPV/Trust determines where the excess cash will accumulate

(1) Instruments that have both debt-like and equity-like features, including the preferred equity, fixed-to-floating sub. notes, convertible to preferred equity, and mandatory convertible preferred equity discussed on page 3

- Hybrid instruments(1) can be used to increase the Province's certainty of cash flows to cover the interest and principal payments on the underlying debt the Province issues
  - Subordination is less of a concern as the Province owns 100% of OPG
  - Direct trade-off exists between adding debt-like features to the hybrid instruments and reducing their degree of equity treatment for OPG by credit rating agencies
  - However, the instruments have to demonstrate some degree of permanency to warrant equity treatment and the total amount that receive equity treatment is limited by credit rating agencies
- At its simplest, the Capital Injection could take the form of common shares to the Province
  - Normal dividends set by the OPG Board, which the Province has the ability to direct, to equal the interest payments on the underlying debt
  - Repayment of principal through special dividends as cash becomes available at OPG after receiving distributions from the SPV/Trust
- Investing at market value as opposed to book value is more of a concern when allocating value between new and existing shareholders, which in not applicable in this case

The Province should have a detailed discussion with OPG and its auditors, and ultimately, the credit rating agencies when evaluating its alternatives in the context of its objectives

(1) Instruments that have both debt-like and equity-like features, including the preferred equity, fixed-to-floating sub. notes, convertible to preferred equity, and mandatory convertible preferred equity discussed on page 3

Cash Flows for Interest Payments	▪ By way of dividends ▪ Dividend Timing: flexible (monthly, quarterly, yearly) ▪ Dividend Size: flexible ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely	▪ By way of preferred dividends ▪ Dividend Timing: fixed ▪ Dividend Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends • Cumulative or non-cumulative	▪ By way of fixed interest payments until converted ▪ Interest Timing: flexible at initiation ▪ Interest Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Interest Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends	▪ By way of preferred dividends until converted ▪ Dividend Timing: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends until converted
3. Cash Flows for Debt Principal Payments	▪ Special dividends can be utilized to match timing of principal repayments	▪ Little incentive for principal repayment unless other features are added	▪ Interest rate step-up incentivizes redemption by the issuer at conversion, but may affect equity treatment	▪ Once converted, special dividends can be utilized to match timing of principal repayments

(1) Also referred to as U.S. Hybrids, with recent examples including TransCanada's US$1.25B offering in February 2017 and Emera's US$1.2B offering in June 2016

Discussion

- Common equity provides the most flexibility to OPG with respect to:
  - Greater certainty in attaining equity treatment by credit rating agencies
  - Cash flow timing in the event that SPV/Trust payments are delayed
- Hybrid instruments(1) are an alternative in satisfying the Province's Capital Injection into OPG
  - Companies usually issue hybrids for specific purposes related to access to capital markets, credit rating, equity dilution, and tax considerations
- Two considerations required for OPG to consolidate the SPV/Trust that may directly affect the timing and amount of cash available to pay the Province are:
  - Decision Making – OPG needs to make funding / dividend decisions independent of the Province
  - Business Risk – OPG needs to demonstrate that it has variability of returns
- The two above considerations may result in cash not being distributed from the SPV/Trust to OPG, such that OPG cannot pay a dividend or special dividend to the Province
- Additionally, the dividend / interest rate on the Province's Capital Injection relative to the interest rate of the debt issued by the Province and the debt issued to OPG by the SPV/Trust determines where the excess cash will accumulate

(1) Instruments that have both debt-like and equity-like features, including the preferred equity, fixed-to-floating sub. notes, convertible to preferred equity, and mandatory convertible preferred equity discussed on page 3

- Hybrid instruments(1) can be used to increase the Province's certainty of cash flows to cover the interest and principal payments on the underlying debt the Province issues
  - Subordination is less of a concern as the Province owns 100% of OPG
  - Direct trade-off exists between adding debt-like features to the hybrid instruments and reducing their degree of equity treatment for OPG by credit rating agencies
  - However, the instruments have to demonstrate some degree of permanency to warrant equity treatment and the total amount that receive equity treatment is limited by credit rating agencies
- At its simplest, the Capital Injection could take the form of common shares to the Province
  - Normal dividends set by the OPG Board, which the Province has the ability to direct, to equal the interest payments on the underlying debt
  - Repayment of principal through special dividends as cash becomes available at OPG after receiving distributions from the SPV/Trust
- Investing at market value as opposed to book value is more of a concern when allocating value between new and existing shareholders, which in not applicable in this case

The Province should have a detailed discussion with OPG and its auditors, and ultimately, the credit rating agencies when evaluating its alternatives in the context of its objectives

(1) Instruments that have both debt-like and equity-like features, including the preferred equity, fixed-to-floating sub. notes, convertible to preferred equity, and mandatory convertible preferred equity discussed on page 3

Capital Injection Discussion

April 25, 2017

Presented By

Introduction

- The Province of Ontario (the "Province") is considering alternatives to fund its capital injection (the "Capital Injection") into Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG"), which represents 44% of the Global Adjustment deferral financing requirement
- When evaluating the Province's alternatives, TD Securities Inc. ("TD Securities") understands that the Province's objectives are:
  1. Equity Treatment: Ensuring that the Capital Injection is treated as equity so as to mitigate the credit rating impact to OPG associated with 100% consolidation of the Special Purpose Vehicle ("SPV")/Trust
  2. Managing Cash Flows for Interest Payments: Timing, size, and priority of cash flows to repay interest used to fund the Capital Injection
  3. Managing Cash Flows for Debt Repayments: Timing, size, and priority of cash flows to repay the maturing principal for debt used to fund the Capital Injection
- In addition, simplicity is preferred to a complex structure

Capital Injection Options

	Common Equity	Preferred Equity	Fixed-to-Floating Sub. Notes, Convertible to Preferred Equity[1]	Mandatory Convertible Preferred Equity
Characteristics
Instrument	▪ Equity instrument with no fixed dividend	▪ Preferred equity instrument with a fixed, floating, or resettable dividend	▪ A fixed income instrument with a fixed rate, which automatically converts into floating rate preferred shares, subject to an issuer cash redemption feature	▪ A preferred equity instrument that pays fixed, floating, or resettable dividends, which automatically converts into common equity
Capital Structure Ranking	▪ Lowest priority	▪ Priority to common equity	▪ Until converted, usually ranks higher than preferred equity, but lower than other fixed income instruments	▪ Priority to common equity until converted
OPG Tax Treatment	▪ Dividends are not tax-deductible	▪ Dividends are not tax-deductible	▪ Initial interest payments tax-deductible	▪ Dividends are not tax-deductible
DBRS Equity Treatment Methodology	▪ Considered equity	▪ Allocated an equity percentage (100% to 0%) based on (1) permanence, (2) subordination, and (3) legal implications (default considerations) ▪ Any less "equity-like" features reduce equity weighting allocated to the instrument ▪ Hybrid instruments[2] can receive 100% equity treatment, but limited to a quantity proportionate to 20% of common equity ▪ 100% of preferred dividends or interest payments are subtracted from cash flow credit metrics, regardless of equity treatment ▪ Cannot have a investor cash redemption provision to be considered equity
S&P Equity Treatment Methodology	▪ Considered equity	▪ Hybrids placed into one of three categories based on equity content for purposes of calculating credit metrics: • High: 100% equity; Intermediate: 50% equity, 50% debt; Minimal: 0% equity ▪ Key considerations are: (1) ongoing payments, (2) permanence, and (3) subordination / credit default cushion ▪ Generally, equity content treatment applies to hybrids in proportions equal to or below 15% of total capitalization ▪ Same equity treatment methodology is applied in calculating cash flow credit metrics ▪ Must have at least 20 years or more remaining to the effective maturity to be given any equity content, subject to other features
1. Equity Treatment	▪ Considered equity	▪ Typically given 50% and 100% equity treatment by S&P and DBRS, respectively, subject to quantity limits	▪ Recent hybrid sub-debt offerings given intermediate equity content by S&P ▪ Quantity limited by DBRS & S&P	▪ Typically given 100% equity treatment, depending on conversion length ▪ Quantity limited by DBRS & S&P
2. Cash Flows for Interest Payments	▪ By way of dividends ▪ Dividend Timing: flexible (monthly, quarterly, yearly) ▪ Dividend Size: flexible ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely	▪ By way of preferred dividends ▪ Dividend Timing: fixed ▪ Dividend Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends • Cumulative or non-cumulative	▪ By way of fixed interest payments until converted ▪ Interest Timing: flexible at initiation ▪ Interest Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Interest Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends	▪ By way of preferred dividends until converted ▪ Dividend Timing: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Rate: flexible at initiation ▪ Dividend Priority: can be deferred indefinitely, but prioritized above common dividends until converted
3. Cash Flows for Debt Principal Payments	▪ Special dividends can be utilized to match timing of principal repayments	▪ Little incentive for principal repayment unless other features are added	▪ Interest rate step-up incentivizes redemption by the issuer at conversion, but may affect equity treatment	▪ Once converted, special dividends can be utilized to match timing of principal repayments

(1) Also referred to as U.S. Hybrids, with recent examples including TransCanada's US$1.25B offering in February 2017 and Emera's US$1.2B offering in June 2016

Hi Ken, Carlos,

Members of EFB dug up some information which might be relevant.

Need more assessment but involving consolidated entities, the threshold may not apply.

I, for one, am not sure if the all the additional hybrid features are necessary but wanted to ensure we are informed. This may require a follow up question or two to the experts to confirm.

Thanks,

John

Here is S&P's handbook – although there have been various amendments issued since 2008 that would need to be checked. It states the following but need to review in more detail:

Pg 33.
We include any hybrid capital issuance in excess of 15% in the numerator of our leverage calculations. We do not generally recognize hybrid issuance of operating companies (reflected also as hybrid capital in the relevant parent's consolidated financial statements) as such in our consolidated capital adequacy analysis (see table 4)

Financing with common stock (i.e., common shares) is the best alternative from the perspective of an issuer's credit quality. Common stock has no maturity. If dividends are paid at all, they are discretionary--at least for most types of entities, in most countries. Moreover, common stock is subordinated to all the company's debt obligations and other liabilities. Yet, common stock is expensive in the eyes of issuers, since dividends are generally not tax deductible. Also, stockholders, as owners, have full participation in the company's upside, and issuing common stock dilutes existing shareholders' ownership interest.

Hybrid capital instruments have been developed with the goal of gaining recognition as being equity-like—that is, being granted "equity content" by Standard & Poor's Ratings Services and by other rating agencies--and, in some cases, being treated as capital by regulators. At the same time, these instruments are generally more cost-effective (e.g., by being tax deductible) than common stock, and typically do not affect the earnings-per-share denominator.

In assessing equity content, we pay close attention to the instrument's individual features. Ultimately, though, we take a holistic approach, considering the overall effect of the issue on the issuer's credit profile. In some cases, the issue's strengths can offset its weaknesses.

In assessing equity content, we use a common analytical framework across all sectors and geographic regions, categorizing equity content as "high," "intermediate," or "minimal" based on guidelines we have developed. We have a somewhat different perspective on issues of investment-grade issuers as compared to speculative-grade issuers, given differences in the relevant time frame and other pertinent rating considerations. Importantly, we always take account of the issuer's particular circumstances, including management's financial policies. In assessing the credit implications of any actual transaction, issuer-specific considerations can always trump any generalized conclusions we might reach about an instrument.

Inevitably, across different sectors, there are varying approaches to incorporating conclusions reached about the instrument into the quantitative analysis, given differences in financial characteristics and measures. In any case, ratios tell only part of the story.

In assessing an instrument's equity content, we try to look past form, and focus on the economic substance. The past few years have seen a proliferation of instrument types and features. Some issues, in seeking to meet the varying preferences of different constituents, have become exceedingly complex. From our perspective, complexity often detracts from equity content: As it becomes more and more difficult to fathom how matters could play out under different scenarios, the potential for unintended consequences increases. Once there is a longer track record with such structures, our comfort level could grow.

In determining an issuer credit rating (ICR), the utilization of hybrid capital is just one of many factors that need to be considered. In fact, it is rare for this one factor in and of itself to be critically significant to the ICR outcome.

In their most common forms, hybrid capital instruments afford equity benefit to issuers, in part, by having ongoing payment requirements that are more flexible than interest payments associated with nondeferrable senior debt, and by being contractually subordinated to such debt. Obviously, these characteristics make the instruments more risky for investors than nondeferrable debt. In assigning issue ratings to equity hybrids, we seek to reflect the incremental risks associated with the issue in terms of payment timeliness and principal recovery compared to nondeferrable debt. We typically reflect these risks in our issue ratings on equity hybrids by assigning them ratings that are lower than those on nondeferrable debt.

We continually reassess our hybrid capital criteria as instrument structuring innovations and other market developments warrant. Please check RatingsDirect for subsequent criteria updates.

Working With Standard & Poor's On Hybrid Capital Matters

We formed our New Instruments Committee (NIC) in early 2006, primarily to centralize our criteria-setting with respect to hybrid capital-related matters. The NIC is comprised of senior analysts across all relevant sectors and regions. Analysts closely involved in our hybrid capital criteria development activities are listed in table 1.

Anyone with questions about our hybrid capital criteria should feel free to contact any of the individuals listed. In addition, the NIC offers feedback to investment bankers and issuers who are developing new instrument structures. We provide a preliminary and generic assessment of the equity content, and the notching that would be applied in rating the issue, on a confidential basis. Such feedback is subject to our review of the final terms and conditions of the issue, if there is an actual transaction, as well as to consideration of issuer-specific factors.

To have a new structure assessed, investment bankers and issuers should contact any of the individuals listed. It facilitates the discussion if the instrument is described in the form of an indicative term sheet. The NIC seeks to provide feedback expeditiously. The NIC routinely meets twice per month, but additional meetings can generally be convened to address pending priority matters, as necessary. In the overwhelming majority of cases, we communicate our conclusions informally; however, we provide formal, written feedback in certain circumstances, as appropriate. If an issuer is proposing an issue of a structure for which close precedents already exist, it is most efficient to contact the primary analyst responsible for the issuer, or others on the coverage team. Members of the NIC will be involved, as necessary, in assisting with the review of the instrument terms and to ensure the consistent application of criteria.

If the issuer is contemplating financing strategies involving issuance of different hybrid capital instruments, and wants to have definitive formal feedback regarding the potential rating ramifications, this exercise lends itself to our Rating Evaluation Service. The issuer can obtain information about this service by contacting their respective Client Business Manager or the following regional contacts:

Equity Content: Guiding Principles

What constitutes equity in the first place? Traditional common stock--the paradigm equity instrument--sets the standard. But equity is not a monolithic concept; rather, it has several positive characteristics:

- Equity requires no ongoing payments that could lead to default;
- It has no maturity or repayment requirement, and is expected to remain as a permanent feature of the enterprise's capital structure; and
- It provides a cushion for creditors in case of bankruptcy.

Equity hybrids possess some--or all--of these characteristics to some degree. Yet, because equity has these several defining attributes, a specific security can have a mixed impact. Hybrid securities, by their very nature, can be equity-like in some respects and debt-like in others. Moreover, the specific features may provide the positive characteristic only to a limited extent.

In any event, the security's economic impact is most relevant; its nomenclature is a secondary consideration. A transaction labeled debt for accounting or tax purposes may still be viewed as equity for rating purposes, and vice versa.

In the case of regulated banks and insurance companies, aside from our own analytical views about the characteristics of a given hybrid capital instrument, we must also take account of the regulators' views. Indeed, this can be a key consideration. In many jurisdictions regulators have the authority and power to intervene in the operations of a bank or insurance company, and they determine whether to do so based, in part, on their own assessment of capital adequacy. Regulators' capital policies strongly influence bank hybrid capital issues' terms--and this is increasingly the case in insurers' issues. Not only will the structure of a hybrid instrument be influenced by regulatory treatment, but the redemption of hybrid capital instruments typically is also subject to regulatory review. Regulators can intervene to enforce the suspension or nonpayment of hybrid coupon payments, restrict the amount of hybrids that an entity can issue, and require any redeemed hybrid to be replaced with an instrument of equivalent equity content. Thus, as explained below, our analytical assessment of regulated issuers' hybrid capital instruments is typically anchored in the regulator treatment.

Equity Content: Ongoing Payments

A company generally pays dividends on its common stock only at its discretion: There is no fixed requirement to do so that could lead to default and bankruptcy if the common dividend were cut or eliminated.

In practice, though, once a company has established a record of paying a common dividend, it will be loath to reduce the payment, given management's likely concerns about capital markets perceptions. Common dividend reductions are seen as a signal that the company's prospects are clouded, and market perception can be a powerful consideration in management's decision making. As a consequence, some distressed companies continue paying their common dividends, even though they arguably have more pressing uses for the cash. In this way, the common dividend can act like a fixed charge, draining the company, over time, of funds needed to bolster operations. Yet, whatever the pressure to pay common dividends, the company always retains some discretion, whatever the pressure to pay common dividends.

Most types of hybrid capital instruments have a stated dividend or coupon rate, but the payment either may be deferred or forgone at the discretion of management or a regulator, or must be deferred or forgone with the breach of a predefined trigger, or both. We assume that management or a regulator would always have greater reluctance to pass on the hybrid payment than to reduce or eliminate the common dividend. This is the hybrid capital market's clear expectation, as reflected in issue pricing, and borne out by historical experience. Accordingly, this distinguishes hybrid capital issues from common equity, in terms of the benefit to the issuer.

The longer a company can defer or skip payments, the better. An open-ended ability to defer or skip payments until financial health is restored is optimal. As a practical matter, the ability to forgo payments for up to five years or so is most critical in helping to prevent a general default. If the company cannot restore financial health in five years, it probably never will.

In addition, the fewer restrictions imposed on the company's ability to defer or forgo payments, the better. For example, some issues include a "look-back" provision under which the company can only defer or forgo payments after some minimum period of time has elapsed since the last common dividend was paid. In other instances, there is a requirement—for example, under the corporate charter or the national corporate legal framework-–that any dividend changes be approved at the annual shareholders' meeting. Or there may be other preconditions that must be satisfied, such as the breach of certain financial tests. With any such restrictions, the company's ability to react to worsening circumstances by deferring or forgoing payments can be considerably hampered, and so such features undermine equity content. (See section "Issue Features: Dividend Stoppers, Look-Backs, And Pushers.") (Note: It is typical for a hybrid capital issue to include a so-called "common dividend stopper"--a provision under which the company is prohibited from paying common dividends while it is deferring or forgoing hybrid issue payments. We generally view such a stipulation as a neutral factor from a credit perspective. On the one hand, eliminating both the common dividend and the hybrid payment together maximizes the overall cash conserved. On the other hand, the link between the two may increase the reluctance of the issuer to forgo paying on the hybrid. Thus, a common dividend stopper is not essential to our assessment of the equity content afforded the hybrid issue.)

In the case of hybrid capital issues with optional deferral provisions, we are generally indifferent to the choice between instruments with cumulative payments (which, when deferred, still accrue, and ultimately must be made up) and noncumulative payments (where there is no obligation to address missed payments). With noncumulative instruments, it may be easier for the issuer to recover after deferring, since there is no arrearage to be repaid. However, given the more severe consequences for investors, the company may be somewhat more reluctant to forgo payments on noncumulative instruments in the first place.

Naturally, any instrument feature that discourages the issuer from exercising the right to defer optionally is detrimental to equity content. This is one of the key aspects that we analyze when we assess hybrid capital securities' equity content. Such features include:

- Penalty rates. In the case of cumulative issues, if deferred payments accrue at a rate that is higher than the normal payment rate, we view this as clearly intended to discourage deferral.
- Alternative payment mechanisms (a.k.a., alternative coupon settlement mechanisms; see section "Issue Features: Alternative Payment Mechanisms/Alternative Coupon Settlement Mechanisms (APM/ACSM)"). In the case of some cumulative issues, the company must issue stock--common or preferred--once it has deferred for a certain period of time. If this requirement only becomes effective after five years of deferring, we don't view this as a significant negative. When management (or a regulator) is first weighing the decision to defer, this limitation is unlikely to be a significant consideration. However, if the requirement becomes effective earlier—especially if it is only after one or two years--companies might well want to avoid such a requirement, and so be even more reluctant than usual to defer in the first place.
- Nomenclature. In some cases, instruments with virtually identical credit features can be variously defined as debt or preferred stock. Although the distinction may be only one of nomenclature, we believe the identification of a security as debt constrains the company's practical discretion to defer payments, given the greater "headline risk" that may be associated with deferring payments on the debt form of the security. However, this does not necessarily preclude the instrument being viewed as having significant equity content if there are other mitigating features.

Finally, various case-specific considerations can enter into the assessment of payment flexibility. Other things being equal, a company with heavy ongoing funding requirements-–and hence a need to access the capital markets regularly—might be more reluctant than others to pass on making payments for fear of the capital markets' reaction. Such a company's regulator could well have the same reservations. Also, if the amount of cash that would be conserved is small relative to the company's near-term cash requirements, the company might rationally chose not to defer or forgo payments, since little would be gained from doing so.

By removing the discretionary element, mandatory trigger mechanisms can increase confidence that payments will be deferred or forgone when the issuer's circumstances make this desirable from the creditors' perspective. (Historically, income bonds--i.e., where interest payment is contingent on achieving a certain level of earnings--were designed with this in mind. However, to the extent that cash flow diverges from earnings measures, income bonds tend to be imperfect instruments.) The equity content of such instruments is significantly influenced by the trigger levels used to determine when payments are eliminated. For example, if the level of cash flow that triggers payment curtailment is relatively low, reducing the likelihood of deferral, that instrument does not support high ratings. Credit quality might already have deteriorated drastically before the trigger would be breached. Conversely, though, if the trigger level is set close to the expected performance level, and at a level where the company is still very strong, we would have to consider the headline risk that forced deferral might pose.

A different mandatory approach entails linking interest payments to the company's common dividend, creating a common equity-mimicking bond. (A number of international financial institutions issued such bonds in the late 1980s.) Of course, a company having an inordinate amount of dividend-linked issues outstanding could ultimately be reluctant to curtail its common dividend.

Equity Content: Permanence

Capital should be sufficiently permanent that it is available to preserve cash and absorb losses when needed. Obviously, retaining funds in perpetuity offers the company the greatest flexibility. Extremely long maturities are next best. Accordingly, 100-year bonds possess an equity feature in this respect (and only in this respect) until they get much nearer their maturity. (To illustrate the point, consider how much, or how little, the company would have to set aside today to defease or handle the eventual maturity.) However, in 100-year bonds, interest payments are not deferrable and cross-default provisions could lead to these bonds being accelerated.

Hybrid capital issues usually come with a maturity. Having a limited life is a clear shortcoming in terms of equity permanence. If the maturity happened to coincide with a period of stress for the issuer, the need to refinance could add to financial pressures. Even if we expect the issue to be refinanced successfully at maturity, the potential for using debt in the refinancing would concern us.

As a practical matter, we view an issue with a remaining time to maturity of 20 years (15 years for 'BB' rated issuers and 10 years for 'B' rated issuers) as sufficient to support credit quality. However, even 20 years is a very long time for many issuers and investors. Different features have been introduced that further limit the likely life of the issue--and thereby constrain the extent of the equity content the issue affords.

Thus, the ability to call always gives reason for pause (see section "Issue Features: Call Provisions"). Will the issue remain outstanding beyond the call date? It is common for hybrid capital issues to be callable, either starting on a certain date and continuing for a defined period (often referred to as an "American-style" call) or on certain specified, discrete dates (i.e., "European-style" call). Calls exercisable after five years are the most common in certain markets, and we would question the rationale for an issuer including a call date sooner than five years after issuance. We have not placed much emphasis on call features as limiting equity content—that is, if we believe the issuer has good reasons for maintaining hybrid capital in its capital structure (e.g., to meet regulatory capital requirements, or because the issue is tax deductible and therefore is a cost-effective form of funding). Indeed, call provisions can even be beneficial from a credit perspective, because they afford the issuer the opportunity to refinance the issue at more favorable rates, market conditions permitting. Moreover, in many instances, the issuer could repurchase the issue on the open market or through a tender offer, even in the absence of a call provision.

Where an issue contains a call provision, the issuer has the option to redeem the issue, but no obligation to do so. Thus, in our assessment of equity content, we don't generally penalize instruments with call provisions, unless, in the case of unregulated issuers, the initial call date is less than five years after issuance—which heightens our skepticism about the issuer's intentions with respect to the issue. We may also be concerned when the issue is only callable on discrete dates followed by a long noncall period. Where an issuer is regulated and we believe the regulator will ensure that any refinancing would not be credit-harming, we do not penalize issues with call dates earlier than five years. (See section "Issue Features: Call Provisions.")

In recent years, more hybrid capital securities have included terms whereby the issuer has the right to call the instrument at par on the same future date that the coupon rate increases, or steps up, by a preset amount. Step-ups (and similar penalty-rate provisions) question the permanence of issues that incorporate them, and so undermine the equity content of a hybrid capital security (see section "Issue Features: Step-Ups, Resets, Remarketing"). The call and step-up are expressly designed to prompt issuers to retire the issue. Moreover, in certain circumstances, the issuer could incur significant reputational fallout if it did not call. Indeed, investors strongly rely on step-up provisions to incentivize a call. We view these types of hybrid capital instruments as a form of long-term capital if:

- The amount of the step-up is limited, such that if the issuer chose, for whatever reason, not to refinance the issue, it would not be burdened by onerous financing costs; and
- There is a high degree of assurance that if the issue were called, it would be replaced with another issue warranting an equal or higher degree of equity content.

We see no need for any replacement provision (legally enforceable or otherwise) if the issue does not have a step-up, even if the issuer has call rights. The issuer's option to retire hybrid capital issues is similar to its option to repurchase common equity. But, if a hybrid issue has a significant step-up or a discrete call followed by five or more years during which it is not callable, we presume the issue will be called--either at the time of the step-up/discrete call or before it. The presumed temporary nature of the issue begs the question of how it will be replaced. Legally binding replacement language reinforces the permanency of the capital raised by rendering replacement highly likely, particularly when the issuer would need the capital to maintain its creditworthiness. In our view, mere expression of intent regarding replacement is insufficient when there is a workable alternative that more strongly enforces the permanence of the equity. To be sure, legally enforceable replacement capital covenants (RCCs) can pose their own problems--especially those that are complex or unduly restrict a company's future choices (see section "Issue Features: Replacement Capital Covenants"). But we view RCCs as the lesser of two evils. RCCs offset the clear motivation to call and retire the hybrid security created by the step-up, and reestablish sufficient permanence to allow the security "intermediate" or "high" equity content under Standard & Poor's methodology. We believe that legally binding RCCs can be crafted to introduce flexibility and thus render them more acceptable to issuers.

At any time, a company can choose either to repurchase equity or to issue additional shares. However, some securities are more prone to being temporary than others. Our analysis tries to be pragmatic, looking for insights as to what may ultimately occur. For example, auction-rate or remarketed preferred stock is designed for easy redemption. Even though the terms of this type of preferred provide for its being perpetual, failed auctions or lowered ratings typically prompt the issuer to repurchase the shares. (They are sold as commercial paper equivalents, which heightens the potential for failed auctions if credit quality ever falls to 'A-3'--or even 'A-2'--levels, or if market conditions deteriorate. Although the company has no legal obligation to repurchase the paper--i.e., the last holder could be left with this "perpetual" security--the issuer sometimes bows to market pressures and chooses to repurchase the preferred. Accordingly, such frequently remarketed preferreds are treated as debt.)

Another important consideration is the issuer's tax-paying posture. It may be difficult for an issuer that is currently not paying taxes to assert that it will continue to finance with nontax-deductible preferred stock once it becomes a taxpayer, and that it can lower its capital cost by replacing the preferred with debt.

Other clues can come from who invests in the issue (e.g., money market, as opposed to long-term fixed-income investors) and the mode of financing that is typical of the company's peer group. For example, U.S. utilities traditionally finance with preferred stock, and industry regulators are comfortable with it; therefore, the usual concern that limited-life preferred stock will be refinanced with debt is less of an issue for utilities.

There is always the risk that tax-deductible instruments' favorable tax status could be overturned by tax authorities, or through legislative changes. If we had particular concerns about the continuation of favorable tax treatment, and loss of tax deductibility would make the economics unfavorable for the issuer, we would have significant reservations about viewing the instrument as permanent, unless we had reason to believe that the issue would be refinanced in another equity-like form.

In assessing any issuance's degree of permanence, management intent is always an important consideration. Through discussion of financial policy with senior management, we seek insight into potential future retirement and replacement of hybrids. We also take into account a company's track record in this regard. We always must be aware that management intent can become diluted over time—for example, as there are changes in management.

Equity Credit: Subordination/Cushion For Creditors In The Event Of Default

What happens in bankruptcy also pertains to the avoidance of bankruptcy and default, albeit indirectly. That is, companies' access to debt capital depends on providers feeling secure about the ultimate recovery of their loans in the event of a default. Debt-holders' claims have priority in bankruptcy, while equity holders are relegated to a residual claim on the assets. The protective cushion created by such equity subordination can facilitate the company's access to capital, helping enable it to stave off a default in the first place. (In the case of some European bank, insurance, and corporate issues, mechanisms exist that can result in loss absorption outside of bankruptcy or reorganization by reducing the principal owed to investors—for example, following the recording of a net loss, when directed by the regulator.)

Regulators virtually always insist that instruments be subordinated to qualify for capital treatment. Apart from this consideration, in our framework subordination typically is a secondary factor compared with other beneficial aspects of equity, although lack of subordination would always weigh somewhat on equity content. Thus, if an instrument is senior, but ongoing payments are deferrable and it has a long-dated maturity, we could well view it as having meaningful equity content. On the other hand, if an instrument is subordinated, but lacks the other equity-like traits, it would be viewed as predominantly debt-like.

The distinction between subordination and deep subordination generally is not significant in our analysis, although deep subordination incrementally is somewhat more supportive of credit quality. However, many U.S. securities--to meet IRS guidelines for tax deductibility--may be termed subordinated while providing pari passu status to trade creditors. This is a shortcoming--albeit not one that we view as significant.

Equity Content Categories

To facilitate our analysis, we classify qualifying hybrid capital issues into three categories, based on our assessment of their equity content: "high," "intermediate," and "minimal." In our financial institutions practice (excluding insurance), where matters pertaining to quality of capital assume particular importance, we further distinguish between "intermediate-strong" and "intermediate-adequate." As discussed more fully in the section "Applying Hybrid Capital Equity Content Assessment In Credit Analysis: Financial Institutions Methodology (Excluding Insurance)," for regulated U.S. financial institutions, we only give equity credit to issues that qualify for Tier 1 regulatory capital treatment.

"High" equity content

"High" equity content hybrids have very strong equity-like characteristics. They include features that help protect credit quality near the current level, and if they substitute for plain vanilla debt, they improve the overall quality of the issuer's capitalization. Investors in "high" issues typically bear equity-like risk, and we would expect the value of such instruments to have a high correlation with the value of equity.

We have identified three potential types of "high" equity content instruments:

- The issue converts mandatorily to common equity within a fairly short time horizon;
- The issue has a coupon or dividend that varies directly with changes in the common stock dividend or with earnings or cash flow; or
- The issue is mandatorily deferrable upon the breach of financial triggers or rating triggers that are set close to the expected performance level/existing rating level.

"High" equity content due to mandatory convertibility. "High" mandatorily convertible issues provide for the deferred, but mandatory, issuance of common stock, while raising proceeds immediately. (See section "Issue Features: Conversion Into Common Stock.") There are several varieties of this structure, including instruments that convert directly into common stock and units comprised of a contract providing for the forward sale of common stock, coupled with an initial security with a maturity or call date that may or may not match the common stock issuance date under the forward contract. In either case, the instrument initially takes the form either of preferred stock, with optional deferability of payments, or debt, with fixed payments. (Naturally, we view the former form somewhat more favorably from a credit perspective. In the bank sector, regulators require that the initial instrument qualify as Tier 1 capital.)

To meet our standard for "high" equity content (indeed, to be viewed as having any equity content), investment-grade issuers must issue common stock within no more than approximately three years (issuers with issuer credit ratings in the 'BB' category must issue within two years; issuers with issuer credit ratings in the 'B' category must issue within one year).

Also, the security must include a conversion price floor, and this floor must be no less than the common share price at the time of initial issuance. For example, if the stock price is $50 per share when the convert is issued (a $1,000 note is equivalent to 20 shares), at conversion the note may not be convertible into more than 20 shares, regardless of the then-current stock price. Importantly, for us to believe that such an issue warrants "high" equity content, we must be convinced that the company will be sufficiently satisfied with the outcome of common stock issuance that it will not reverse the result with share repurchases. While necessarily arbitrary, the maximum three-year time frame and presence of a floor price are essential, in our view, to warrant equity content. We believe management's assurances today about their willingness to issue common stock in the future inevitably have little credibility beyond the three-year time period. Moreover, while it's reasonable that a company would want to retain some upside in ultimately being able to issue fewer common shares if the share price appreciates, if the conversion ratio were fully variable or required the issuance of shares at a price significantly discounted compared to the Day 1 share price (like the RHINOs issued a number of years ago), the dilution would increase as the company's share price declined, testing management's resolve at the very time when enhancement of the capital base might be most needed. (Although we generally view longer dated mandatorily convertible issues as debt-like due to the long time to conversion, these may be reclassified as "high" when the remaining period to mandatory conversion falls to within three years or less, depending on our then-understanding of management's intentions.)

In the case of mandatorily convertible instruments, where the interim issue converts directly into common stock, or where, in the unit version, the initial issue matures at the same time as the receipt of the common stock proceeds, no other security remains outstanding once the common stock issuance has occurred. In contrast, in the mismatched version of the unit structure, the initial security survives the common stock issuance, and the common stock issuance results in the company raising a second set of proceeds. Although the company will then possess cash that could be used to repay debt, we would not automatically net such cash against debt; rather, we would account for the debt and equity components separately at the outset. However, the issuer can often make the case that it will actually use the second set of proceeds (that is, the equity proceeds) to pay down debt immediately and permanently. Such debt reduction could apply to a debt maturity that coincides with the equity issuance--or to short-term debt (such as commercial paper), assuming the company carries a sufficient permanent layer of such debt. In these instances, we adopt a "net" approach, which leaves the company with only the common equity proceeds. (Note: In corporates [as opposed to financial institutions] where equity content leads to an adjustment of interest expense in coverage ratios, the treatment of ongoing payments in the initial preconversion period are treated as if they were common dividends.) In any event, the company can receive recognition for the deferred equity issuance in leverage ratios, even if we view the interim issue as debt-like.

"High" equity content through linkage to common shares. In theory, an instrument could also achieve the "high" designation by mimicking some of the characteristics of common stock–-by being perpetual (or at least with a remaining life of 20 years or more) and subordinated (albeit senior to common stock), and having interest or dividend payments that are tied directly to the common stock dividend. It is acceptable for "high" equity content if the distribution is tied to the common dividend only within a certain range, with some small portion of the payment being fixed. (We would not be concerned about a ceiling on the payout.) Of course, if such an issue were sufficiently material, it could become a significant disincentive for the company to cut its common dividend. In practice, though, there seems to have been very little issuer interest in such an approach, or in issues where the payment is tied to some other indicator of financial health, such as earnings or cash flow.

"High" equity content due to mandatory deferrability. Finally, the equity content we attribute to hybrid capital issues that rely on optional deferral is constrained by our assumption that managements (and regulators, where relevant) will always be loathe to utilize the option to defer or forgo payments--perhaps until it is too late for the deferral to make any difference to the company. By removing the discretionary aspect, issues with mandatory deferral triggers can potentially achieve "high" equity content (see section "Issue Features: Mandatory Deferral"). Mandatorily deferrable securities that would warrant "high" equity content recognition would entail the following features.

High thresholds. The mere existence of a mandatory deferral provision is meaningless. Everything depends on the thresholds that define the deferral trigger. To illustrate: If the trigger for nonpayment is 10 years of losing money, that provision is virtually worthless. The company would probably have defaulted prior to the deferral provision going into effect. To be included in the "high" equity category, an instrument's trigger must go into effect at a level relatively close to the current credit profile of the issuer. One approach is to use a rating trigger. To qualify for "high" equity content, the trigger must be set at a level within three notches of the initial rating level. A threshold defined in terms of crossing over to noninvestment grade does not suffice--unless, of course, the issuer credit rating happens to be within three notches of that level. A variety of financial benchmarks can also serve as a proxy for the appropriate threshold level. These always need to be crafted to fit the specific issuer's context. In any event, we need to be mindful that a single ratio cannot entirely be relied upon to capture all of the business and financial changes the credit may have undergone by the time the trigger activates. As noted below, we do not view this type of issue as warranting "high" equity content if the issuer is confidence-sensitive, or if the trigger could be breached when the issuer is still investment grade because risks outweigh the intended benefits.

No loopholes. For example, some deals stipulate that the mandatory deferral must be simultaneous with or only occur following the cessation of common dividends (a look-back period). As long as the company chooses to pay even a paltry dividend, the security continues to pay. Obviously, such an instrument is "mandatory" in name only.

No back-door payment mechanisms. Many proposed high-equity structures provide for requiring payment or allowing payment in common stock while mandatory deferral is in effect, under the terms of so-called alternative payment mechanisms (APM; see section "Issue Features: Alternative Payment Mechanisms/Alternative Coupon-Settlement Mechanisms (APM/ACSM)"). While appealing on the surface, we believe such provisions could defeat the purpose of mandatory deferral. The likelihood is that the company will feel pressured--if not actually obliged--to make the payment, and then turn around and repurchase the stock it issued (unless it were otherwise inclined to issue common stock for whatever reason). Ironically, the higher the threshold of the instrument, the greater the likelihood the company would pay and repurchase. To meet our requirements for "high" equity content, APMs are acceptable only if they take effect five years or more after the initial breach of the trigger.

Permanence. Excluding mandatorily convertible issues, to qualify for "high" or "intermediate" equity content, there must be assurance that the issue—or a successor issue warranting a similar or higher degree of equity content-—will be a component of the issuer's capital base for a long time. We apply a common standard regarding remaining time to maturity to all investment-grade financial institutions (including insurance companies) and corporates, in all regions. Under this standard, we require a hybrid capital issue to have a remaining term of at least 20 years to receive our "intermediate" or "high" equity content designation. (See section "Issue Features: Maturities/Scheduled Maturities.") The ability to call can give reason for pause, since it puts into question whether the issue will remain outstanding beyond the initial call date. However, where an issue contains a call provision, the issuer has the option to redeem the issue, but no obligation to do so.

As long as we believe the issuer intends either to keep the issue outstanding or refinance it with the proceeds of another issue warranting comparable equity content, we do not view the call date as an effective maturity (see section "Issue Features: Call Provisions"). In recent years, many hybrid capital issues have coupled calls with mechanisms clearly designed to penalize the issuer if the call is not exercised, such as step-ups. While such provisions can enable the issuer to benefit from lower funding costs, since investors assume the issue will be called, they can fly in the face of any notion of permanence, absent mitigants, such as legally binding replacement capital covenants. We have developed guidelines for assessing such provisions (see sections "Issue Features: Call Provisions," "Issue Features: Step-Ups, Resets, Remarketing," and "Issue Features: Replacement Capital Covenants").

Subordination. Subordination (i.e., subordination to all conventional debt) is necessary to meet the criteria for the "high" or "intermediate" equity content category, when based on tight mandatory deferral. The original premise of modern, tax-deductible preferreds was that they would provide deep subordination. However, in reaction to some tax authorities' apparent sensitivity to full subordination, this feature was watered down. Virtually all U.S. trust-preferred securities, for example, are subordinated to indebtedness--but pari passu with trade creditors. While the lack of full subordination weakens the equity content for all such securities, we have not automatically excluded those securities from the "high" or "intermediate" equity content category.

With mandatorily deferrable issues, investors are taking substantial risk--well beyond the corporate default risk--and this risk is reflected in relatively low ratings on the securities themselves (as discussed in "Rating The Issue (Notching)" below).

The benefits of mandatorily deferrable issues could be offset by exposing the company to negative market responses, in the event of a looming or actual deferral. This is more pronounced in times of market turbulence, when "headlines" can dramatically affect financial institutions' funding flexibility, whatever the state of credit fundamentals otherwise. We believe that for companies that are confidence-sensitive--notably, financial institutions, including insurance companies--deferrals driven by mandatory triggers could result in more harm than the benefit realized by reduction in debt service obligations. Accordingly, we do not consider hybrids with tight mandatory triggers as eligible for "high" equity content for confidence-sensitive issuers.

More broadly, even for issuers in less confidence-sensitive sectors, if the triggers halt payment while the company is still far from being incapable of making the payments, the benefits of reduced debt service could turn out to be small relative to the potential headline risk and investor reaction--especially in cases where the trigger threshold is at a level where the company is investment grade. The company could pay a price in terms of its financial flexibility. (Alternatively, the company would be motivated to avoid the deferral by retiring the issue.) These risks associated with mandatory deferrals are recognized in qualitative aspects of our analysis, no matter how the security is treated for ratio-calculation purposes.

Specific features of the security could mitigate or heighten the risk--and recent proposals for securities structured to achieve high equity content have included features that are pertinent to the issues we have raised in this section. In this regard, the trigger must not be opaque or overly complex. It can be defined by a ratings downgrade or breach of various financial benchmarks that serve as a proxy for credit quality. Any metrics used in defining the triggers need to be straightforward and highly transparent. But they also must be customized for the specific context of the issuer. Complexity may be hard to avoid, especially given the interplay of business risk with financial indicators of credit quality. (This can be especially challenging in sectors such as regulated utilities, where the business risk profile plays an outsize role.)

Some structures shift deferral risk from the investors by introducing a financial counterparty to stand in for the company at the point of deferral. By effectively dealing with the direct risk to investors, market reaction might arguably be muted. Still, the need for third-party intervention could produce similar negative responses. Moreover, the relationship of such a counterparty vis-à-vis the issuer could give it special clout to avoid or undo the cash savings of any deferral.

"Intermediate" equity content

This category encompasses a wide range of instrument types and accounts for the overwhelming majority of hybrid issues. "Intermediate" equity content hybrids have substantial equity-like characteristics. These include features that help protect credit quality in the event of financial distress. If such hybrids substitute for plain vanilla debt, they improve the overall quality of the issuer's capitalization. Nevertheless, an "intermediate" equity content hybrid is also debt-like in some respects, typically due to the relatively fixed nature of the dividend/interest on an ongoing basis, given investor expectations. Noncumulative perpetual preferred stock (noncumulative in the sense that where the company passes on a dividend, there is no obligation to eventually make this up) is the most equity-like of the instruments we view as warranting "intermediate" equity content. As the name suggests, such an issue has no maturity date or repayment obligation, so the equity benefit does not diminish over time. It is subordinated to all debt and other liabilities of the company. And the company can choose not to declare dividends at its discretion, with no limitation on the length of time it can do so-—except that it cannot pay common dividends while it is deferring on the preferred dividend--and no obligation to make up missed payments. (In some cases, after a certain period of time, such as six quarters, during which dividends are not declared, preferred shareholders have the right to appoint a small number of directors to the company's board of directors. However, while this board representation is enough to pose a nuisance to the company, the preferred stockholders still have only limited ability to pressure the company for compensation.)

Yet, we don't generally view noncumulative preferred stock as warranting more equity content, given our assumption that managements are loath to exercise the right to defer payments (except in the case of regulated companies where this affects the regulatory capital treatment). Investors expect to be paid, and, short of severe financial distress, companies will be reluctant to disappoint investors, for fear of the capital markets' reaction. (In the case of regulated issuers, the regulator, in theory, could be more proactive about insisting that payments be forgone. Historical evidence is lacking, however, that this has been the case.) While, on balance, we believe noncumulative distributions are more supportive of credit quality than are cumulative payments, we recognize that the greater potential harm to investors-–since missed payments are never made up—could make companies even more reluctant than otherwise to exercise the right not to pay. Moreover, in cases where dividends on noncumulative perpetual preferred are not tax deductible (as in the U.S., but not in the U.K.), the relatively high after-tax cost of the issue could motivate the company to refinance it under certain circumstances-–belying the nominal perpetual life.

(Note: We also don't make a distinction in our analytical treatment of cumulative issues between those where deferred payments accrue interest and those where it doesn't. The latter are more equity like in that the payments the issuer ultimately must make up are smaller. However, the difference is unlikely to affect the issuer's financial profile meaningfully.)

Since 1993, U.S. companies have been issuing what we term "conventional" trust-preferred stock. This term is used to refer to a class of instruments that take different legal forms--being issued via a trust, via a partnership, or directly by the company. Trust-preferred structures can differ in other regions, but in the U.S., the common features from a credit perspective are as follows:

- A term of 30 to 40 years;
- Deep subordination, although senior to noncumulative perpetual preferred stock in certain cases; and
- Optional deferral of dividends for up to five years, at which point any arrearage has to be paid, or a legal default results.

Conventional trust-preferred stock, as defined above, is somewhat less equity-like than is noncumulative preferred stock, but nonetheless still warrants "intermediate" equity content under our criteria. Although a term of 30-40 years is less supportive of credit quality than a perpetual term, 30-40 years is nonetheless a long time in the life of any issuer, generally being longer term than the overwhelming majority of its debt obligations. We don't believe different degrees of deep subordination are significant from creditors' perspective. And while the longer the company can defer or forgo payments the better, five years should be long enough for most companies that fall on hard times to effect a turnaround—if the company is going to survive at all.

Since 2005, U.S. companies have been issuing what we term "enhanced" trust-preferred stock, typically having the following features:

- A term of 40 to 60 years;
- Deep subordination—in some cases with the issue being junior to conventional trust-preferred issues; and
- Optional deferral of dividends for up to 10 years, and, in some cases, no legal default even if there is continuing nonpayment after 10 years.

The longer the ability to defer or forgo payments, the better, from the perspective of equity content. To highlight this point, as we apply our framework to financial institutions (excluding insurance companies), we distinguish between instruments where deferral is limited to five years, which instruments potentially receive our "intermediate-adequate" equity content designation; and instruments where deferral or nonpayment can exceed five years, which potentially receive our "intermediate-strong" equity content designation (as is the case with most trust-preferred instruments issued in Europe). We don't make such a distinction in other sectors.

Just as in the case of "high" equity content instruments, as discussed above, an instrument must have a remaining life of 20 years or more to continue receiving the "intermediate-strong" or "intermediate-adequate" equity content designation. Myriad "bells and whistles" are found in conjunction with the basic structures described here. Some of these can qualify the extent to which the instrument can be viewed as permanent or semipermanent.

Many issues completed in recent years have included call provisions that are combined with step-ups or other repricing mechanisms that are clearly designed to motivate the issuer to call the issue—even if it is not optimal for the issuer to do so at that point, from a credit perspective. Where the call date is at least five years from the initial issuance date, the increase in cost is moderate, and there are adequate offsetting provisions (e.g., a legally binding replacement capital covenant), the instrument can nonetheless qualify for "intermediate" equity content under the guidelines we have developed (see sections, "Issue Features: Step-Ups, Resets, Remarketing," and "Issue Features: Replacement Capital Covenants).

In addition, many recently completed issues have included provisions designed to limit the extent to which investors bear the risk of deferral. Conventional U.S. trust preferred has "unfettered deferrability," by which we mean that the company can optionally defer for the full five-year period without being required to undertake any issuance of common stock or additional hybrid capital. In some other cases, APMs are included that require the issuer, under certain circumstances, to undertake the issuance of common stock or additional hybrid capital, and utilize the proceeds to make the dividend/interest payment that it would otherwise defer.

We believe such a requirement--becoming effective at a point when the issuer's common stock price quite possibly would be depressed and its ability to issue new preferred stock on acceptable terms dubious--undermines the value of optional deferrability, since it could lead the issuer to be even more reluctant to exercise the deferral option than would otherwise be the case. We have developed guidelines for determining when such provisions are still consistent with "intermediate" equity content (see section "Issue Features: Alternative Payment Mechanisms/Alternative Coupon Settlement Mechanisms (APM/ACSM)").

Some issues seek to strengthen equity content through the use of mandatory triggers by decreasing reliance on management's discretion (see section "Issue Features: Mandatory Deferral"). However, if the triggers are set at a level so remote that the company, at the point the triggers were breached, would likely be contemplating optional deferral anyway, they may add little to the optional deferral provision alone. In some cases, mandatory triggers are coupled with APMs, as discussed above. Unlike with "high" equity content instruments, we believe it is acceptable in the case of "intermediate" issues if the APM becomes effective immediately upon the breach of the trigger or after some fixed time short of five years. However, where this is the case, we believe that it is necessary for there to be restrictions on the company's ability to repurchase any securities issued under the APM, or the objective of cash conservation could be thwarted.

"Minimal" equity content

The "minimal" category includes some instruments with significant equity attribute(s), but which, as a whole, fall short of our standards for "intermediate." This category includes, for the most part, either subordinated issues with deferrable payments, but where there are fewer than 20 years remaining until the maturity, or long-lived subordinated issues with deferrable payments, but where the ability to defer is limited to fewer than five years or otherwise restricted. One example of the latter is certain Tier 2 or Tier 3 subordinated issues of banks on which the interest payments are not subject to optional deferral, but where the payments can be restricted by a relatively loose earnings test. Another example would be corporate issues that have all the main features of conventional trust preferred, except that they carry debt nomenclature-–which we believe could cause management to be even more reluctant than usual to exercise the right to defer payments, given the added headline risk of not paying on a debt instrument. (Such instruments can achieve "intermediate" equity content when in the form of enhanced trust preferred, given the offsets of the extended deferral feature and longer term.)

While, as discussed below, instruments with "minimal" equity content are treated as debt for ratio calculation purposes, that isn't to say that we disregard their equity-like characteristics in our analysis. Rather, we take account of them qualitatively. Given the varied attributes of any hybrid capital instrument--however categorized--financial ratios, at best, tell only part of the story.

Instruments structured as hybrid capital issues that fail to meet our standards for "high" or "intermediate" equity content do not necessarily warrant even the "minimal" equity content designation, in our view. Some are predominantly debt-like, and so are viewed as such. Examples include:

- Subordinated debt, where there is no deferability of payments. Here, we believe the inflexibility of the ongoing payments far outweighs the equity-like aspects.
- Very long-dated or perpetual senior debt, where there is no deferability of payments. Again, we believe the inflexibility of the payments more than offsets the equity-like aspects.
- Auction-rate preferred stock. Although nominally perpetual and subordinated, and having dividends that are deferrable, this instrument has a dividend rate that is reset through an auction process at very short-term intervals. Given a failed auction, the issuer is likely to come under intense pressure from investors to retire the issue.

- Mandatorily convertible issues where conversion into common occurs more than three years from the current time, or where there could be greater share dilution than permitted under our guidelines. In such cases, we would be concerned that a repurchase of the shares would follow the share issuance, and that the risk of this occurring could be greater the more depressed the issuer's share price.
- Instruments-–where adequate equity-like features are otherwise lacking--that can convert into common stock at the option of the holder, and where the conversion option becomes attractive to investors only when there is share price appreciation (see section "Issue Features: Conversion Into Common Stock And Share Settlement").
- Certain instruments that could convert into common stock-–mandatorily or at the option of investors-–but where the issuer then has the alternative of redeeming the issue for cash.

Applying Hybrid Capital Equity Content Assessment In Credit Analysis

Different attributes of equity hybrids are relevant to different dimensions of our analytical methodology. The aspect of ongoing payments is considered in fixed-charge coverage and cash-flow adequacy; equity cushion is considered in leverage, capital adequacy, and asset protection; the need to refinance upon maturity is considered in liquidity; and the potential for conversion is considered in financial policy. The before- and after-tax cost of paying for the funds also is a component of both earnings and cash flow analysis.

In our analytical methodology, we take account qualitatively of a hybrid capital issue's varied effects on the issuer's credit profile. We have also developed techniques for factoring in hybrid capital in our calculation of certain financial ratios-–knowing, though, that any such adjusted ratios represent a simplified view, and certainly do not tell the whole story.

In assessing hybrid capital issues' equity content, we use a common framework across our Corporate and Financial Services practices and across regions. In applying our conclusions, though, there are significant differences, reflecting the different nature of the companies and in our rating methodologies among sectors.

In our analysis of corporates, we have found that among all the possible ways to represent "intermediate" issues in financial ratios, the most effective is to split hybrid-related amounts 50%-50% between debt and equity.

Compared to the norm for corporates, most types of financial institutions (aside from insurance companies) are highly leveraged and have heavy funding appetites. In our analysis, the quality of capital is an important consideration. In considering regulated financial institutions (including insurance companies), we must pay particular attention to the matter of capital adequacy relative to regulatory capital requirements. In turn, the hybrid methodology does not follow the "partial credit" approach used for corporates; rather, for capitalization ratio calculation purposes, it grants full equity content within certain threshold limits, which are set depending on the degree of equity content.

Applying Hybrid Capital Equity Content Assessment In Credit Analysis: Corporate Methodology

Under our corporate methodology:

- Hybrids with "minimal" equity content are treated entirely as debt for ratio purposes;

- Amounts relating to "intermediate" category hybrids are split into 50% debt and 50% equity; and
- Hybrids with "high" equity content are treated entirely as equity for calculating ratios.

This approach is followed in our analysis of capital structure, as well as of cash flows and fixed-charge coverage. That is, for "minimal" equity content instruments, all related dividend or interest payments (however defined legally) are treated as a fixed charge; for "intermediate" equity content instruments, 50% of the related payment is treated as a fixed charge and 50% as the equivalent of a common dividend; and for "high" equity content instruments, all related payments are treated as if they were the equivalent of a common dividend—i.e., they are not included in fixed charges. (See also "Standard & Poor's Encyclopedia of Analytical Adjustments for Corporate Entities," published July 9, 2007, on RatingsDirect.)

As discussed above, in assessing a hybrid capital instrument's equity content, we consider the financial reporting treatment of the issue, since this can influence management's actions and the market's perception. However, in performing our ratio calculations, we reallocate as necessary between debt and equity, and between interest expense and dividends, in accordance with our analytical methodology, and our treatment is not driven by the accounting treatment.

We know our approach to calculating ratios is a simplified one, inevitably leading to some distortions. So, for example, as discussed above, we don't view "minimal" equity content issues as fully debt-like, nor do we view "high" equity content issues as the exact equivalent of common stock. And, for intermediate issues, there are cases where the 50%/50% allocation will skew ratios in a positive or negative direction (depending on the initial financial profile of the issuer and the use of proceeds), where our overall analytical interpretation of the hybrid issuance would be the opposite. Moreover, in the case of "intermediate" issues, the company will generally either pay the stipulated amount or defer it; it is rare for there to be a partial payment.

These drawbacks speak to the limited value of financial ratios where hybrid capital issues are concerned. These instruments represent a bundling together of different features, which have a varied effect on the issuer's credit profile. We haven't devised a means of calculating financial ratios that better captures such subtleties.

Prior to mid-2006, for hybrids with intermediate equity content, we computed financial ratios both ways-—viewing them alternatively as debt and as equity, i.e., we calculated two sets of coverage ratios--to display deferrable ongoing payments entirely as ordinary interest and alternatively as an equity dividend. Similarly, two sets of balance-sheet ratios were calculated for the principal amount of the hybrid instruments, displaying those amounts entirely as debt and entirely as equity. For hybrids in the middle category, analytical truth lies somewhere between the two, and we sought to interpolate between the two sets of ratios to arrive at the most meaningful depiction of an issuer's financial profile. However, this methodology also had drawbacks, including the challenges for issuers in appreciating the potential impact on our view of their financial profile. Therefore--notwithstanding the issues mentioned above--we decided to calculate ratios with the amounts relating to intermediate category hybrids split 50%-50%. This is the set of ratios we now emphasize as the basic adjusted measures, and these are the ratios we publish in our reports. We believe this approach has greater transparency and ease of comparability-—thereby outweighing the negatives. We continue to encourage analysts to view hybrids from all perspectives.

Under our corporate methodology, there is no hard-and-fast limit to the amount of hybrid capital for which we recognize equity content. Nonetheless, without drawing any bright lines, we would, indeed, be sensitive at a certain point. That is not because the character of the security changes when a lot of it is issued. Rather, beyond a certain point, a company's nonstandard, complex, or over-engineered balance sheet begins to put its financial policies in a negative light. In turn, this could lead to market pressures to restructure or normalize company finances. This concern would be compounded to the extent that a company also uses various off-balance-sheet financing vehicles, derivatives, and long-term contracts, and/or other techniques that contribute to an overall opaque financing structure. The perception of financial aggressiveness--by us or by the investment community--would certainly overshadow any theoretical benefit from the equity content that might be afforded to hybrid securities. It helps to focus on measures that would indicate little or no concern. In simple terms, there should be no problem with issuing conventional hybrids in an aggregate amount up to 15% of capitalization. (Capitalization is defined as debt + hybrids + book equity, adjusted for goodwill and also making all our other standard adjustments.)

For corporates and financial institutions (excluding insurance companies), ratio calculations incorporate capital only after it is issued—or its issuance is mandatory within a relatively short period. Even though a company has contracted for the right to sell equity at its discretion and even has fixed a price, we do not include such contingent capital in advance. This treatment applies whether the contingent capital is provided by a financial counterparty or structured vehicle, whether prefunded or not.

That said, contracting for contingent capital can be very valuable as a credit support in specific situations. For example, a company might find its credit rating under pressure because of a potential acquisition or expansion; and management's stated intention to issue equity to finance such activity may not be entirely convincing. Arranging contingent equity capital in advance could be just what is needed to allay any concerns regarding a credit-harming outcome. The company would not want to issue equity prior to the transaction materializing. But locking in the availability and cost on a contingent basis makes sense as an "insurance policy." In the insurance sector, given the "lumpiness" of potential losses, we give formal recognition in capital ratios to certain contingent capital structures (see section "Applying Hybrid Capital Equity Content Assessment In Credit Analysis: Insurance Methodology").

Corporate methodology: Corporates' operating subsidiaries issuing equity hybrids

Many corporates structure their operating units as distinct legal entities, owned, controlled, and consolidated by the parent company. (This is especially the case in the utility business, where the operating subsidiaries are regulated entities. It is also the case for financial institutions [including insurance companies], but this note relates only to corporate issuers.) If such operating subsidiaries issue equity hybrids, the rating benefit extends to the parent company and the larger consolidated entity--inasmuch as our analysis focuses on the consolidated economic entity.

Issuance at the subsidiary level raises some questions regarding how the equity aspects help parent company creditors. In particular, the lack of subordination from the perspective of the parent's creditors and the potential for trapping funds at the subsidiary are two concerns that differentiate subsidiary issuance from parent issuance. However, we believe the equity content for the parent is generally deserved, as explained below.

A critical element of equity is subordination--and equity hybrids feature deep subordination (with the occasional exception of trade payables). The significance of subordination is twofold. It creates a cushion to absorb losses prior to bankruptcy, which leads to higher recovery (loss given default) on senior issues. In turn, the better recovery prospects for senior issues allow the company greater access to (senior) capital, enabling it to stave off a default in the first place. It is precisely this latter consideration that is important for the corporate credit rating.

In the case of subsidiary issuance, the subordination pertains to other claims against that subsidiary--but the hybrid's claim actually is senior to claims of parent company creditors. This priority of claims is referred to as structural subordination (of parent company creditor claims, even senior debt claims).

Nonetheless, equity issued by a subsidiary enhances capital access by reassuring potential debt providers to the subsidiary itself. As long as the subsidiary is positioned to raise additional funds--and it can direct those funds to its parent or affiliates--the default risk for the entire consolidated entity, including the parent, is lower. (As far as recovery prospects, parent company debt issues are indeed disadvantaged by adding to operating company claims. Our recovery ratings and notching of parent issue ratings reflect such priority claims.)

As noted, we normally assume that parents and subsidiaries are free to direct cash at will throughout the consolidated group. (Indeed, in cases where this is effectively restricted--for example, by regulators or covenants--we do not apply the consolidated rating methodology.) Thus, the ability to defer payments on the equity hybrid is beneficial, not just for the immediate subsidiary that issued the hybrid, but also for the group as a whole, since the cash conserved can be directed to affiliates as needed.

There is a concern, however, that cash conserved by the subsidiary from dividend deferral may not be available to its affiliates by virtue of the typical dividend-stopper provisions in the hybrid security. These provisions force the cessation of common dividends as long as the hybrid periodic payments are being deferred. If the dividend stopper pertains to dividend payments by the subsidiary to its parent, the cash conserved may be trapped at the subsidiary, limiting the equity benefit associated with the hybrid.

There are, however, mitigating considerations regarding the dividend stopper.

- There is no requirement that a dividend stopper should apply to intercompany dividends. Some utilities have issued subsidiary securities that restrict payment of dividends by the parent on parent common stock; the subsidiary is free to pay dividends to the parent. (The linkage to parent company dividends adds a disincentive to defer. However, this consideration applies broadly to equity hybrids issued by the parent company. Accordingly, the issuance via a subsidiary is no more problematic than if the parent were the issuer.)
- There usually are ways other than common dividends to transfer cash intercompany, including, for example, loans and advances. Moreover, the dividend-stopper clauses of some utility hybrids have actually spelled out and permitted the upstreaming of cash payments to the parent for specific operating needs. (Of course, if there are constraints in individual situations--such as tax-related issues--our analysis will take the specific fact pattern into account.)
- The scenarios under which hybrid payments are deferred could well involve stress at the issuing subsidiary itself. (Indeed, the more significant the role of a particular operating subsidiary relative to its group, the more likely that the group's distress emanates from that operating subsidiary.) In that case, the cash conserved directly assists the subsidiary in meeting its various obligations. Indirectly, the parent benefits by avoiding the need to downstream cash to help its subsidiary.

Note: We analyze hybrid capital issues of corporates' finance subsidiaries utilizing our financial institutions framework.

Corporate methodology: Leveraged buy-out equity hybrids: Too good to be true

For the past few years, leveraged acquisition activity has employed ever-greater financial leverage. To stretch still more, equity hybrids have been introduced for such buyouts.

A recently popular hybrid security for this purpose provides leveraged buy-outs (LBOs) with a modicum of equity--or, at least the appearance of equity. The security is a preferred stock held by owners of common stock, and has the following terms:

- Perpetual;
- High dividend yield;
- Option of payment-in-kind (PIK), at the discretion of the company, for life of security;
- Some versions provide for PIK only, with no cash payments of dividends for life of security;
- Deeply subordinated; and
- Needs to be redeemed only upon change of control.

At first blush, the security is extremely equity-like. However, we are skeptical about this security's benefit for the company's long-term credit quality. We do not assign it any equity content, and treat it as debt in calculating credit ratios.

We specifically are concerned about the incentives created by this structure to pay the dividend in cash where possible--even when not required--and/or orchestrate a change of control. The LBO context (i.e., very aggressive financial policies of owner/sponsors) heightens our concerns. In the case of aggressive LBO owners, common equity itself is ephemeral: Indeed, for most LBOs, the overarching rating consideration is the risk associated with future owner actions, rather than the specifics of the current balance sheet. (Please see "Credit FAQ: Knowing The Investors In A Company's Debt And Equity," published April 4, 2006, on RatingsDirect.)

Roadmap for redemptions

The current genre of equity sponsors, to generalize, has a track record of taking out its investment in owned entities very quickly, via cash dividends and fees of all types. We should not expect these controlling shareholders to defer cash payment of dividends on preferred securities they hold. Rather, the preferred should be seen as a vehicle--apart from other ways to extract cash--for owners to cash out. The yield on these securities is usually quite robust. Thus, the preferred is a roadmap for one avenue owners can use to take out significant amounts of cash.

If there is no cash payment option, there will be no cash payments, of course. But the owners will still want to see a return on the investment represented by the preferred stake--especially as the value of the preferred investment accretes quite rapidly, given the high dividend accrual rate. The change-of-control redemption provision can provide the mechanism for doing just that.

Change-of-control redemption

Even though the common share owners can cash out in various ways, there is often a growing incentive to realize the value of their preferred stake. Indeed, their investment will shift to the preferred stock--as taking out common dividends reduces the common equity, while paying the preferred dividends in kind leads to an ever-larger preferred investment. Ultimately, the preferred value may exceed the common value many times over.

This sets the stage for recapitalizing. The owners can orchestrate a change of control to trigger payment of the preferred. The change can be bona fide or contrived. Either way, the preferred likely will be replaced with debt.

Because the entity will be saddled with the takeout debt upon the expected change of control, we view this security as eventual debt, rather than equity, and include that debt immediately in metrics such as debt/cash flow.

In other instances where there are incentives to replace hybrid equity securities, we similarly are concerned that they will be replaced with debt, and we grant no equity content. For example, we presume hybrids with a substantial step-up will be called and replaced with debt in the absence of any specific replacement commitment.

Note that we ordinarily treat potential change-of-control as event risk. Change of control instigated not from within the company, but from without, is unpredictable and deemed to be beyond the pale of ratings analysis. However, regarding the context addressed here, change-of-control is foretold by the terms of the security and the structure of the capital base.

Corporate methodology

Real estate investment trusts REITs have become increasingly popular in a growing number of countries. A defining characteristic of a REIT is that it does not pay income taxes, but holders of REIT equity, including both common and preferred stock, pay taxes on the dividends received. Tax rules typically require REITs to pay dividends equal to a very high percentage of their earnings.

Similar to the way we view other unregulated corporates, we are concerned about the permanence of REIT hybrid capital. U.S. equity REITs have often refinanced "perpetual" preferred stock with debt. We attribute "minimal" equity credit to most REIT preferred securities, fully burdening the fixed-charge coverage metrics with the preferred dividend.

We have concluded that although REITs may be less likely to defer payment of preferred dividends because of their special dividend payout characteristics, the difference in deferral risk generally does not warrant a different rating outcome for the instrument. (See "Issue Features: Dividend Stoppers, Look-Backs, and Pushers," below.)

Applying Hybrid Capital Equity Content Assessment In Credit Analysis: Financial Institutions Methodology (Excluding Insurance)

In assessing financial institutions' hybrid capital securities, we employ the same broad equity content categories as with corporates-–"high," "intermediate," and "minimal." To reflect certain finer distinctions linked to regulatory capital, within the "intermediate" category we differentiate between "strong" and "adequate" issues.

Two sector-specific considerations significantly influence our approach to assessing equity content in the case of financial institutions.

First, in the case of regulated financial institutions, regulators have the power to intervene in companies' operations, and they typically determine whether to do so based, at least in part, on their own definitions of capital adequacy. Consequently, and due to the importance of regulatory capital, when assessing individual instruments and their specific features, we take account of the regulators' view. We don't follow the regulators exactly. Rather, we have developed generalized guidelines that vary somewhat from regulators' to facilitate cross-border comparisons.

Qualification as regulatory capital (Tier 1 or Tier 2) is a mandatory requirement for us to include a hybrid security in our total capital measures for regulated companies. If the regulator excludes an instrument from regulatory capital, the instrument provides no cushion between minimum capital and regulatory action, which could include closure. Whereas we are sometimes more conservative than regulators as to where we place a hybrid security in our hierarchy of equity content (compared to regulators' own classification hierarchy), we are rarely more liberal.

The home country financial regulators' capital policy is inscribed in the terms of most bank hybrid capital issues. Not only will the regulatory treatment influence the chosen structure of a hybrid instrument, but the redemption and refinancing of hybrid capital instruments typically is subject to regulatory review. Regulators typically can intervene to enforce the suspension of hybrid coupon payments, restrict the amount of hybrids that an entity can issue, and require any redeemed hybrid to be replaced with an instrument of equivalent strength. Regulators define and accept hybrid capital instruments to allow financial groups to build and manage regulatory capital. They seek instruments that rank below debt in liquidation and that absorb losses while permitting the financial institution to continue to operate. Bank regulators in mature and emerging countries around the world have adopted the Tier 1 and Tier 2 categories of hybrid instruments developed and defined by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision to rank the instruments by relative capital strength and to regulate capital and leverage in the industry. Bank regulators distinguish between "plain vanilla" subordinated debt, which provides protection to depositors and senior creditors in liquidation, and stronger types of regulatory capital, which defer or eliminate coupon payment under defined circumstances. In many countries, and notably in the EU, regulators further define Tier 2, setting specific standards for eligibility as upper and lower Tier 2 capital. Consequently, when we review a financial institution's hybrid capital instrument, the regulatory intent with respect to the instrument is a dominant factor in our analysis of equity content and payment deferral risk.

The second sector-specific consideration that influences our approach to this sector is that financial institutions are typically characterized by a high degree of financial leverage and heavy ongoing funding requirements. The quality of capital and its ability to provide a cushion against insolvency and liquidity risks are of paramount importance.

Consequently, we apply varying limits to the inclusion of hybrid securities in our capital measures for financial institutions. This parallels the regulatory approach and best fits the highly leveraged nature of financial services companies. These limits vary by degree of equity content: high equity content hybrid securities are subject to higher limits than are intermediate-strong hybrid securities, which are subject to higher limits than are intermediate-adequate hybrid securities (see table 2).

*Maximum amounts are cumulative of lower-designated securities. For example, an issuer that had already issued "intermediate-adequate" hybrids in an amount equal to 12% of ACE could get equity credit for additional "high" issuance up to 38% of ACE (thereby totaling 50%) or up to 21% of ACE in the form of noncumulative perpetual preferred stock (an intermediate-strong instrument, which, by itself, would receive equity credit up to 33% of ACE), thereby aggregating 33% of ACE. Enhanced trust preferred of regulated N.A. financial institutions is limited to 18%.

Like the regulators, we limit the proportion of hybrid securities in our capital ratios because excessive reliance on hybrid securities increases financial leverage due to the fixed cost of servicing the hybrids and potential concentrations in the redemption dates of dated or callable instruments. The servicing cost of hybrids is less flexible than that of common equity, and many hybrids are less permanent than common equity. Investors expect hybrid securities to pay a fixed coupon. Hybrids often contain features that create incentives for management to retire the instrument, or to repurchase common shares that might be issued as a result of a conversion clause. Moreover, many hybrid securities include highly complex combinations of different features and are still relatively novel and untested, making it difficult to foresee how the securities would perform for issuers in different scenarios--and may cast doubt over how they would absorb losses on a going-concern basis. Thus, a prudent financial policy dictates a degree of caution about reliance on capital in this form.

In the same vein, banking regulators impose restrictions on call and step-up features to limit the incentives to retire regulatory capital that is intended to be permanent. In 1998, the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision issued a notification for regulators to limit acceptance of "innovative capital instruments" with calls and step-ups to a maximum of 15% of Tier 1 capital and to subject innovative hybrids to stringent conditions:

- The call option with step-up should be a minimum of 10 years after the issue date;
- The step-up should be less than or equal to 100 basis points (bps), less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis; or the step-up should be less than 50% of the initial credit spread, less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis;

- There should be no more than one rate step-up during the life of the instrument; and
- The swap spread should be fixed as of the pricing date and reflect the differential in pricing on that date between the initial reference security or rate and the stepped-up reference security or rate.

Regulators in mature banking markets around the world generally have implemented the 15% Tier 1 limit on innovative hybrids broadly in line with the conditions suggested by the Basel Committee (although there are some exceptions based on the "grandfathering" of previous regulatory agreements).

The following are noteworthy points about our financial institutions methodology:

- As shown in Table 2, we express our caps in terms of percentages of "adjusted common equity" (ACE), as defined. In our capital measures, hybrid capital is included in "adjusted total equity" (ATE), which is a broader form of capital than ACE. Defining our caps in terms of ACE avoids the circularity that otherwise would result if the cap definitions were based directly on ATE.
- We differentiate the equity content of hybrid securities with deferrable payments limited to five years or less (such as conventional trust preferred) and instruments with longer deferral (such as enhanced trust preferred and noncumulative perpetual preferred). The former are typically "intermediate-strong" and the latter "intermediate-adequate."
- Given regulators' role in overseeing and authorizing any refinancing, we are not as concerned about call provisions as with unregulated issuers. Where an issuer is regulated and we believe the regulator will ensure that any refinancing would not be credit-harming, we do not penalize issues with call dates earlier than five years. And even where a call is coupled with a moderate step-up, we do not require a legally binding replacement capital covenant, unless the call date is less than 10 years from the date of the initial issuance. (See sections "Issue Features: Call Provisions" and "Issue Features: Step-Ups, Resets, Remarketings.")
- Hybrid securities with mandatory deferral triggers are never viewed as warranting "high" equity content in the case of confidence-sensitive entities (i.e., financial institutions, including insurance companies). Given financial institutions' heavy funding requirements and need to preserve access to capital markets, hybrid securities with mandatory deferral triggers could result in more harm--stemming from negative market responses--than the benefit derived from reducing debt service obligations. (See section "Issue Features: Mandatory Deferral.")

The following are noteworthy points regarding our approach to U.S. financial institutions in particular:

- The Federal Reserve is considered the leading regulatory authority with respect to hybrid securities by the other bank and securities regulators, who lack detailed frameworks of their own. Thus, we generally assume that the Federal Reserve framework is applicable to all regulated U.S. banks and securities firms.
- Unlike bank regulators in most other countries, the Federal Reserve does not allow issues with step-ups less than 30 years from the initial date of issuance as regulatory capital. This is the approach we take, then, to issues of regulated U.S. financial institutions.
- Our perception is that the Federal Reserve draws a sharp distinction between Tier 1 and Tier 2 capital, placing much greater emphasis on the former in its assessment of capital adequacy (see Table 3). As a consequence, for regulated U.S. financial institutions, we give equity credit only to issues that qualify for Tier 1 regulatory treatment, whatever their characteristics otherwise.
- Generally, in the case of instruments in the intermediate–strong category, we allow for inclusion of the amount outstanding up to 33% of ACE. In the case of U.S. regulated financial institutions, we have a limit of 18% for enhanced trust preferred. (Conventional trust preferred, which we classify as intermediate–adequate, is limited to 12%. Noncumulative perpetual preferred can still qualify for intermediate-strong, up to 33% of ACE.) This special treatment is driven by U.S. regulatory considerations. Specifically, under new rules for determining Tier 1 capital that the Federal Reserve adopted in 2005 and that take effect in first-quarter 2009, so-called "restricted core capital elements," which include trust preferred and other cumulative preferred, are to be limited to 15% of the sum of "core capital components," net of goodwill, for bank holding companies deemed to be "internationally active" (see Table 3). While the Federal Reserve's restriction is limited to internationally active banks (i.e., those with $250 billion or more of consolidated assets or having $10 billion or more of on-balance-sheet foreign exposure), given the caution of the Federal Reserve with respect to including trust preferred in Tier 1 capital, even in its enhanced form, we think it is prudent to depart from our normal numeric guidelines. We also believe that for our analytic purposes it is more prudent to hold all U.S. regulated financial institutions to the same standard. Indeed, it is at the smaller, less-diversified banks where matters of capital adequacy assume greater importance. Thus, in our framework, we limit enhanced trust preferred to 18% of ACE for all regulated U.S. financial institutions.

For all financial institutions, the analysis of hybrid capital must be placed in the context of the broader analysis of capital, and of a bank or insurer's creditworthiness. Formulaic ratio-driven analysis represents only part of the overall quantitative and qualitative assessment of capital, which in turn can only be analyzed within the broader commercial and financial profile of the rated company. Capital ratios are visible shorthand signals of balance-sheet strength, but are not closely correlated with credit rating levels. Qualitative analysis of capital policy is fundamental to the global assessment of banks' and insurers' creditworthiness. No single measure fully captures the breadth of information needed to evaluate an entity's capital adequacy. Industry participants--investors, securities analysts, and the company management itself--at times focus excessively on the management of bank and insurance capital with respect to a specific ratio, to the detriment of analysis of broader issues such as risk profile and management. Capital ratios based on historical data are also less meaningful than expectations of future capitalization under various scenarios. Components in the qualitative analysis of capital include: unrealized capital gains or losses and hidden reserves or losses, access to capital and liquidity from third parties, the nature and extent of minority interests, dividend policy, potential for earnings generation and retention, and management strategy with respect to acquisitions, disposals, and investments.

Applying Hybrid Capital Equity Content Assessment In Credit Analysis: Nonbank Financial Institutions Methodology

U.S. broker-dealers

We apply the same analytical framework for U.S. securities brokers that we have developed for banks. We believe the guidelines we utilize for banks capture our notion of what is prudent for securities brokers, despite the differences in business characteristics and fundamentals. Moreover, in the U.S., there has been a convergence of the regulatory standards applied to banks and those applied to brokers. In June 2004, the SEC established a framework for supervising the parent holding company of a SEC-registered broker-dealer. Four firms--Goldman Sachs, Lehman Brothers, Merrill Lynch, and Morgan Stanley--have opted into this supervisory regime, and have thereby become "consolidated supervised entities" (CSEs). The CSE status includes SEC oversight of capital adequacy. In this regard, the SEC has indicated it will abide by the Federal Reserve's standards for inclusion of hybrid capital issues in regulatory capital. Likewise, then, as with U.S. banks, we cap inclusion of enhanced trust preferred in ATE at 18% of ACE.

Finance companies

In assessing the equity content of finance companies' hybrid capital issues and calculating their capital ratios, we apply the same framework as for banks. Finance companies' asset composition and leverage characteristics are broadly similar to those of banks. While bank regulators' tolerances for hybrid capital issuance are not directly applicable to finance companies, we believe the guidelines we utilize for banks nonetheless capture our notion of what is prudent for finance companies. However, finance companies' enhanced trust-preferred are included in ATE up to 33% of ACE. We do not impose the 18% cap we apply to U.S. banks, since this tighter limitation is based strictly on regulatory considerations. On the other hand, without the external oversight of a regulator to help ensure that prudent capital levels will be maintained, we believe it is appropriate to apply stricter standards for replacement in cases where issues are callable and there is a step-up in the interest or dividend rate if the issue is not called. Here, we utilize the same guidelines as we do in considering corporates. Thus, if the step-up is material, we require an RCC for "intermediate" or "high" equity content, in jurisdictions where RCCs are legally valid and practical (see section "Issue Features: Replacement Capital Covenants").

Asset managers

In assessing equity content and calculating financial ratios of independent asset managers' hybrid capital issues, we essentially use the corporate model rather than the framework applied to banks, finance companies, and broker dealers. There are three reasons for this. First, commercial banks are highly leveraged, asset-intensive financial institutions; traditional asset managers are not. At most banks, loans and deposits are the largest items on the balance sheet. In contrast, asset managers have relatively small balance sheets. Second, as a result of the nature of their balance sheets, credit metrics differ between banks and traditional asset managers. Third, as banks, brokers, and insurance companies are heavily regulated financial institutions, our approach toward hybrid securities for these entities parallels that of the relevant regulators, whereas, where matters of capital are concerned, asset managers are largely unregulated.

Stock and commodity exchanges

Similar to asset managers, in the case of stock and commodity exchanges, we also employ the corporate model rather than that applied to banks, finance companies, and broker dealers. Our approach toward rating stock and commodity exchanges focuses on the cash flow generated from operations to service their financial obligations. Monoline exchanges that only provide trade execution and ancillary services (e.g., price dissemination) are less capital-intensive than other financial institutions such as banks and brokers. However, more diversified exchanges that also provide clearing and settlement, securities custody, and even banking, require some additional capital to support these more risky businesses.

Applying Hybrid Capital Equity Content Assessment In Credit Analysis: Insurance Methodology

We apply compatible methodologies when assessing the capital strength of banks and insurers, while recognizing the different nature of business risk and regulation in the two industries. We also reflect different national regulators' varied regulatory practices.

Regulatory policy in the insurance sector is generally less developed than in the bank sector; thus, many insurance regulators look to banking regulators for guidance in establishing policy on inclusion of hybrid instruments, including securities with calls and step-ups, in regulatory capital. In some countries, from the U.K. to The Netherlands and to the regulators in some countries of the Gulf Cooperation Council, the combination of bank and insurance regulation under one roof (e.g., the Financial Services Authority in the U.K.) has facilitated a convergence of bank and insurance regulatory policy with respect to hybrid capital. Furthermore, outside the U.S., there is a trend toward more consolidated group supervision—-e.g., by 2012, we expect this to apply to the whole EU under the Solvency II Directive. Still, in other parts of the world, insurance holding companies are rarely formally regulated, unlike bank holding companies. Most hybrid issuance is now from holding companies to give the consolidated groups optimal financial flexibility.

When we rate a regulated insurance or reinsurance company, we take account of the risk of full, formal regulatory intervention and presumed wind-up of the institution. Consequently, the amount of hybrid capital allowable in our capital analysis of insurers and reinsurers can vary according to local regulatory practice as regards eligible solvency capital, though we are rarely more generous than the local regulators. (In jurisdictions where the insurance regulators have expressed no view on a specific hybrid capital instrument issued by an insurance group, Standard & Poor's establishes its own stance on likely regulatory policy with respect to the instrument.)

To better reflect the often significant regional variations in the nature of insurance regulation as well as the many local differences in the regulatory eligibility of diverse forms of capital, we have differentiated criteria in respect of our hybrid capital and double-leverage tolerances. We focus on two analytic variables that are used to establish appropriate tolerances for hybrid capital and for the proceeds of ordinary debt-funded double leverage–-that is, the extent to which regulators are likely to enforce structural subordination on a company-by-company basis, and also the local regulatory tolerance of debt capital in eligible solvency.

For this reason, in line with local regulatory practice and given the extraordinary force of structural subordination that prevails, capital credit may be given in the U.S., for example, for ordinary debt-funded double leverage whereby an insurance holding company raises conventional senior or subordinated debt and downstreams the proceeds of that debt as equity at the regulated subsidiary operating level. In such circumstances, the additional tolerance for "intermediate" hybrid leverage is normally constrained at a maximum of 15% of operating group total adjusted capital (TAC; plus 10% for "high" equity content issues) given the capital credit already allowed for debt-funded double leverage.

Meanwhile, in much of the rest of the world, regulators calculate insurance and reinsurance solvency on a fully consolidated group basis, and generally exclude all leverage and double leverage except that which is funded by eligible hybrid equity. Standard & Poor's analysts in most parts of the world outside the U.S. do not recognize equity content in their group capital analyses for ordinary or subordinated debt, and instead only allow capital credit for explicitly hybrid equity leverage, normally up to 25% of TAC for "intermediate" hybrid issues, or up to 35% of TAC for "high" issues. This difference in regulatory policy is also reflected in holding company notching where, for example, U.S. holding companies are normally rated three notches lower than the counterparty credit rating of the core operating companies in the group. A two-notch differential normally applies to European groups.

For capital models that are based on operating company statutory balance sheets, we deduct the excess over the double-leverage tolerances from TAC. For capital models that are based on consolidated GAAP balance sheets, we add qualifying hybrid capital to TAC, subject to the tolerances referred to in table 4. However, we include any hybrid capital issuance in excess of 15% in the numerator of our leverage calculations. We do not generally recognize hybrid issuance of operating companies (reflected also as hybrid capital in the relevant parent's consolidated financial statements) as such in our consolidated capital adequacy analysis (see table 4).

*The definition of "capital" in regard to the maximum tolerance varies by region. In the U.S. and Bermuda, capital is defined as [U.S. GAAP consolidated equity + total hybrids + debt] with no adjustments to the reported numbers. In Europe and Canada, capital is defined as [total adjusted capital (TAC) + regulatory qualifying hybrids]. Note that TAC is a measure of adjusted equity capital and excludes debt. In Europe and Canada, the hybrid tolerance is higher (e.g. 35% versus 25% for high equity content) to normalize for the smaller denominator, which excludes holding-company debt.

In the insurance sector, we continue to review a variety of prefunded contingent capital arrangements and, assuming acceptable security features, have viewed these as eligible hybrid equity up to 5% of the capital structure for investment-grade issuers. This 5% is a subset of the traditional 15% capital bucket. For example, a trust issues perpetual or long-dated pass-through securities, with the proceeds ultimately used to purchase eligible assets that reside in a Regulation 144 Trust. For these securities, the insurer has a put option giving it the right to put the insurer's preference shares having a liquidation value equivalent to the assets owned by the trust to a special-purpose entity. We would expect a trigger to be included in the securities, requiring mandatory exercise of the put if the insurer's credit strength falls below investment grade for these securities to be viewed as equity currently.

We would accept the instrument, when drawn, as equity subject to the guidelines of any hybrid security. As with other hybrid instruments viewed as equity, they must have an appropriate long-term maturity, cannot be funded with an auction-preferred mechanism, and cannot have any feature that would cause management to make them a short-term security.

Bond insurers

Our approach to the so-called monoline bond insurers differs somewhat from our approach to multiline insurance companies.

What is the equity treatment for hybrid securities issued by a bond insurance holding company, and is there a limit on the amount of hybrid securities that can be part of its capital structure?

In the case of bond insurers, securities with "high" or "intermediate" equity content receive 100% equity treatment subject to limitations, while "minimal" equity content issues receive zero equity treatment and are treated as debt.

There are two ratios in our bond insurance rating criteria that limit the amount of hybrid securities that can be part of an insurers' capital structure:

- Holding company hybrid security tolerance ratio: Hybrid securities are limited to a maximum of 15% of the holding company capital structure. For this ratio, hybrid securities exclude contingent capital facilities. The formulaic expression of the hybrid security tolerance ratio for a bond insurance holding company is: hybrid securities/(capital + hybrid securities); in this ratio, capital is defined as shareholder equity plus long-term debt.
- Holding company total hybrid tolerance security ratio: Hybrid securities plus contingent capital facilities cannot exceed 20% of a holding company's capital structure. Contingent capital facilities are included in this calculation even though they may be "issued" by a subsidiary. The formulaic expression of the total hybrid security tolerance ratio for a bond insurance holding company is: (hybrid securities + contingent capital)/(capital + hybrid securities + contingent capital).

If a bond insurance holding company exceeds its tolerance ratios, how would the amount that exceeds the tolerance ratios be treated?

Analytical treatment will differ in situations where a holding company exceeds tolerance ratios:

- If the level of consolidated hybrid securities exceeds the tolerance ratios due solely to contingent capital facilities, the overage of the contingent capital facility would be treated as neither debt (for holding company capitalization analysis) nor equity (for operating company capital modeling exercise).
- If the level of consolidated hybrid securities exceeds the hybrid equity tolerance ratio but not the total hybrid equity ratio, the overage of the hybrid equity tolerance ratio would be treated as debt (for holding company capitalization analysis) and the operating insurance company would receive full credit for any contingent capital facility, subject to limitations imposed on the insurance operating company. For example, if a holding company had $3.2 billion of capital, the hybrid security tolerance limit would be $565 million and the total hybrid security tolerance limit would be $800 million. If there were $650 million of "high" or "intermediate" equity content hybrid securities outstanding, only $565 million would receive appropriate equity treatment and the remaining $85 million would be viewed as debt. The presence of a $200 million contingent capital facility would not exceed the total hybrid security tolerance limit.
- If the level of consolidated hybrid securities exceeds the limit due to the combination of contingent capital facilities and other hybrid securities, the amount of hybrid security tolerance consumed by the contingent capital facility would first be evaluated. The remaining hybrid security tolerance cushion would be measured against any remaining hybrid securities to determine the amount of equity treatment for the hybrid securities. For example, if a holding company had $2.8 billion of capital, the total hybrid security tolerance limit would be $700 million. The presence of a $600 million contingent capital facility would leave a cushion of $100 million. If there were $400 million of "high" or "intermediate" equity content hybrid securities outstanding, only $100 million would receive appropriate equity treatment, and the remaining $300 million would be viewed as debt.

What effect does the use of debt and hybrid securities issued by a holding company have on the funding of an operating bond insurance company's capital?

Bond insurance holding companies typically issue debt or equity securities to fund the capital needs of their bond insurance subsidiaries. Once the proceeds from these securities are downstreamed to the operating insurance company, they are viewed as equity for capital adequacy purposes. However, we have criteria that limit the amount of financial leverage a holding company can employ. In determining a holding company's financial leverage, we consider the amount of long-term debt (including hybrid securities over the tolerance ratio) and equity (including hybrid securities under the tolerance ratio). The capitalization ratio is defined as: long-term debt/(long-term debt + equity). For bond insurance holding companies, a capitalization ratio of 20% or less is thought to be appropriate.

What effect does the establishment of a contingent capital facility have on the various insurance operating company capitalization ratios?

When looking at a bond insurance operating company's capital structure, the overall tolerance for contingent capital is 20% of total adjusted capital across all rating categories. Total adjusted capital is defined as statutory surplus plus contingent capital. The formulaic expression of the contingent capital tolerance ratio for an operating insurance company is: contingent capital/(statutory capital + contingent capital).

If a bond insurer had statutory capital of $3.6 billion, contingent capital would be limited to $900 million. Even if a contingent capital facility totaled $1.0 billion, there would only be recognition of equity content for the $900 million in capital adequacy testing.

Any contingent capital in excess of 20% of total adjusted capital will not be considered in capital adequacy modeling. In addition, these types of capital markets instruments are a component of the reliance-on-soft-capital ratio, which should not be greater than 33%. Fees paid on the entire amount of the contingent capital facility are included as interest expense in the evaluation of the holding company's GAAP interest coverage ratio. The GAAP interest coverage is defined as: (GAAP pretax operating income + interest expense)/interest expense.

In terms of the equity treatment a bond insurer receives in Standard & Poor's capital adequacy model for contingent capital structures, does it matter what type of security would be issued once the bond insurer exercises its put?

First and foremost, the security issued by the bond insurer once it exercises its put must be viewed as equity by the insurance regulator for us to consider recognizing any equity content. Any security viewed as debt does not add to statutory capital, and therefore will receive no recognition of equity content in the capital adequacy model. To date, preferred stock and surplus notes have been the only put securities for which the bond insurers have received any recognition of equity content in the capital model, as regulators view these securities as equity. A contingent capital structure in which the insurer has the option to issue either surplus notes or senior notes once it exercises its put option will receive no recognition of equity content in the capital adequacy model. However, choosing to issue surplus notes would add to statutory capital, while opting to issue senior notes creates a liability and does not add to statutory capital.

Issue Features

In this section we focus on some selected instrument features that tend to play an important role in our determination of equity content. It bears repeating, though, that while detailed assessment of a specific hybrid capital security is obligatory to classify the security by its relative equity value, we ultimately take a holistic approach. Also, it is rare that the detailed features of a hybrid instrument have a material impact on an issuer's overall creditworthiness.

Issue Features: Optional Deferral

We believe issuers' option to defer dividend or interest payments under the terms of most hybrid capital instruments affords significant equity benefit. Such a feature provides issuers with the ability to conserve cash at a time of financial stress, without triggering a legal default.

The longer a company can defer payments, the better. An open-ended ability to defer until financial health is restored is best. As a practical matter, we believe the ability to defer dividend payments for up to five years is most critical in helping to prevent a general default. If the company cannot restore financial health within that period, it probably never will. The ability to defer payments for shorter periods may be valuable, but equity content diminishes quickly as constraints on the company's discretion increase. We give no more than "minimal" equity content for instruments where the maximum deferral period is less than five years.

Issue Features: Mandatory Deferral

Certain securities have mandatory triggers that force deferral of distributions, conserving cash for a company that is experiencing reverses in its business or funding capabilities. With the use of mandatory triggers, concerns about management's reluctance to exercise the right to defer are avoided. When triggers are set at a level we would equate with the company possibly exercising its right to optionally defer payments, instruments typically warrant "intermediate" equity content, providing they are adequately equity-like in other respects.

When triggers are set at a level close to the company's current rating level (i.e., within two or three rating notches of the current rating), these securities can support the current level of credit quality, and thereby potentially qualify for our "high" equity content designation, providing they are adequately equity-like in other respects. Obviously, though, investors are taking substantial risk--well beyond the issuer default risk--and this risk is reflected in relatively low ratings on the securities themselves (see section "Rating The Issue: Deferral").

On the other hand, we have been concerned that these benefits could be offset by exposing the company to negative market responses. Such "high" equity content instruments may not work as intended--especially if investor reaction to payment deferral is very negative. That concern has become more pronounced in light of recent mortgage-related capital market turbulence, which has underscored the extent to which "headline" factors can dramatically affect financial institutions' (including insurance companies') funding flexibility, whatever the state of credit fundamentals otherwise.

We believe that for companies that are confidence sensitive--such as financial institutions (including insurance companies) --deferrals driven by mandatory triggers could result in more harm than the benefit realized by reduction in debt service obligations. Accordingly, we do not consider hybrids with tight mandatory triggers as eligible for "high" equity content for confidence-sensitive issuers.

More broadly, even for issuers in less confidence-sensitive sectors, if the triggers halt payment while the company is still far from being incapable of making the payments, the benefits of reduced debt service would generally be small relative to the potential headline risk and investor reaction, such as where the trigger threshold is at a level where the company is investment grade. The company could pay a price in terms of its financial flexibility. (Alternatively, the company could be motivated to avoid the deferral by retiring the issue.) We recognize these risks associated with mandatory deferrals in qualitative aspects of our analysis, no matter how the security is treated for ratio calculation purposes.

Specific features of the security could mitigate or heighten the risk--and recent proposals for securities structured to achieve high equity content have included features that are pertinent.

In this regard, the trigger must not be opaque or overly complex. It can be defined by a downgrade or breach of various financial benchmarks that serve as a proxy for credit quality. Any metrics used in defining the triggers need to be straightforward and highly transparent. But they also must be customized for the specific context of the issuer. Complexity may be hard to avoid, especially given the interplay of business risk with financial indicators of credit quality. (This can be especially challenging in sectors such as regulated utilities, where the business risk profile plays an outsized role.)

Some structures shift deferral risk from the investors by introducing a financial counterparty to stand in for the company at the point of deferral. By effectively dealing with the direct risk to investors, market reaction might arguably be muted. Still, the need for third-party intervention could produce similar negative responses. Moreover, the relationship of such a counterparty vis-à-vis the issuer could give it special clout to avoid or undo the cash savings of any deferral.

Issue Features: Maturities/Scheduled Maturities

We apply a common standard regarding remaining time to maturity to all investment-grade financial institutions (including insurance companies) and corporates, in all regions. Under this standard, we require a hybrid capital issue to have a remaining term of at least 20 years to receive our "intermediate" or "high" equity content designation--unless the issue mandatorily converts into another type of equity-like issue in a shorter time frame. Other things being equal, we view undated (i.e., perpetual) and very long-dated securities as superior instruments from the perspective of equity content. But, as a practical matter, we believe an issue having a remaining life of 20 years or more is sufficiently permanent to warrant our "intermediate" equity content classification when other issue features are consistent with this designation. In the case of financial institutions, we do not use the remaining term of the issue-–beyond 20 years--to differentiate between "intermediate-strong" and "intermediate-adequate" issues. (These subcategories are not used with insurance companies.) Rather, such differentiation would reflect other issue features, such as the flexibility of payments.

"Intermediate" or "high" issues with initial maturities of greater than 20 years that subsequently fall to less than 20 years of remaining maturity are reduced to "minimal" equity content at that point, and as such do not receive any formal equity treatment in our calculation of financial ratios. There is no amortization period. Nevertheless, as a qualitative matter, we are still sensitive to the benefits afforded by such issues–-for example, the deferability of ongoing payments-–even where the "intermediate" or "high" equity content determination is not warranted because the condition of a long remaining term is no longer met.

For speculative-grade issuers, where debt maturities are typically far shorter than with investment-grade credits--and where, more broadly, the scope of our analysis necessarily extends fewer years--we do not apply the same standard. Here hybrid capital issues with maturities shorter than 20 years can still achieve the "intermediate" or "high" equity content designation, assuming other features make this appropriate. Generally, 15 years of remaining life suffices for issuers rated in the 'BB' category, and 10 years for issuers in the 'B' category.

Some issues have so-called "scheduled maturities," where the issuer is required to undertake all "commercially reasonable efforts" to refinance the issue. If the issuer is unsuccessful at refinancing the issue, it must repeat the attempt periodically. We treat scheduled maturities as effective maturities, even where accompanied by legally binding replacement provisions. The latter do not mitigate scheduled maturities, which still expose the issuer to a sharp increase in financing costs if its credit spreads have widened. (We lower the issue rating to 'C' when it is not redeemed at the scheduled maturity as a result of the issuer's financial distress.)

(Note: We announced the current standards for minimum remaining terms and scheduled maturities on Feb. 20, 2007. Previously, we had different remaining-term standards in different sectors, and did not view scheduled maturities as effective maturities where there was a legally binding replacement provision in place. We stated that our new approach would not be applied to then-outstanding issues or to any then-pending issue where we had already reviewed the terms. Such preexisting issues of banks will continue to receive unchanged recognition of equity content until five years are remaining until maturity, and the equity content will then be amortized down at 20% per year. Such preexisting issues of insurance companies will continue to receive unchanged recognition of equity content until 10 years are remaining, and equity content will then be amortized down at 20% per year. We attribute no equity content when there are five years or less to maturity. Permanence of the instrument remains an essential and enduring criterion for equity content.)

Issue Features: Call Provisions

The ability to call can give reason for pause, since it puts into question whether the issue will remain outstanding beyond the initial call date. However, where an issue contains a call provision, the issuer has the option to redeem the issue, but no obligation to do so. Importantly, there hasn't been any significant market stigma associated with an issuer not calling an issue when there is no step-up. From a credit perspective, it might even be advantageous for the company to retain the flexibility to exercise a call provision—-to take advantage of issuing a similar equity-content hybrid at lower cost if the opportunity presents itself. Thus, typically we have not placed much emphasis on the inclusion of a call provision, especially if the instrument is truly low-cost-—such as with tax-deductible instruments-—and, therefore, shouldn't make the company feel pressed to refinance. However, we consider a hybrid with a longer period to the call date to be more equity-like than one with a shorter period to the call, all else being equal. This reflects the longer period that the former will remain in the capital structure on an obligatory basis.

As long as we believe the issuer intends either to keep the issue outstanding or refinance it with the proceeds of another issue warranting comparable equity content, we do not view the call date as an effective maturity. Still, in the case of unregulated issuers, we are highly skeptical of issuers' intentions in cases where the initial call date is less than five years after issuance: We generally do not give more than "minimal" equity consideration for issues in such cases. When a discrete call date is followed by more than five years during which the issue may not be called, an RCC can mitigate the unregulated issuer's incentive to call. If an issuer is regulated and we believe the regulator will ensure that any refinancing would not be credit-harming, we generally do not penalize issues that may be called earlier than the fifth anniversary or with discrete call dates.

Issue Features: Step-Ups, Resets, Remarketing

We view call provisions that are coupled with step-ups in the dividend/interest rate-—or with other mechanisms that can likewise increase the cost to the issuer--very differently from simple calls. Where call provisions are combined with material step-ups, they are specifically designed to motivate calling of the issue to avoid the step-up. The idea, obviously, is to convince the market to price the issue as if the term were no longer than the period to the initial call—rather than until the final maturity. Because of investor expectations, the issuer could face reputational risks if it were ultimately to choose not to call the issue (which investors, for their part, have referred to as "extension risk"). This could pressure the issuer to call, even when it were not economically or otherwise optimal for it to do so. Clearly, this is incongruent with the notion of permanence that underlies equity content.

Currently, we view a step-up in the dividend/interest rate of 25 bps or less as not material, and thus not requiring any particular offsetting feature to preserve equity content.

In typical interest rate environments, we view step-ups in the range of 26 bps-100 bps in the case of issues of investment-grade issuers as material, but still moderate. At present, 100 bps is the de facto regulatory limit for banks, in most cases, as well as the norm for investment-grade issuers in most markets. (Under our criteria, we allow up to 200 bps for noninvestment-grade issuers, given that the initial financing cost is relatively higher.) Here, notwithstanding the disincentives, we view it as at least possible that the issuer would choose not to refinance if circumstances were unfavorable: in that event, the resulting higher rate would not be onerous. Still, to preserve the notion of permanence and thus qualify for "intermediate" or "high" equity content, we generally require issues of unregulated issuers with moderate step-ups to have legally binding RCCs. The RCC can restore sufficient assurance of permanence by stipulating that any refinancing be with proceeds of a similarly equity-like issue.

In some cases, bank and insurance regulators accept step-ups set at 50% of the initial credit spread of the issue, as defined. Where regulators have explicitly approved such an approach, we would generally view the step-up as moderate. Although if the step-up appears to us to be onerous (e.g., seemingly reflective of a temporary spike in market pricing), we could still conclude it is not consistent with equity content. Outside of regulated sectors, we would be open to flexible approaches to determining the step-up, but would need to be convinced that the results would not be punitive for the issuer.

Some instruments provide for a step-up in the coupon if the company issues similar capital within a specified time period with a higher coupon. This type of "make-whole" reset burdens the issuer with higher payments when it is likely to be under stress and increases the aversion to issue more capital when it might otherwise be prudent.

We are less concerned about explicit replacement provisions for callable issues of regulated entities, which include banks and bank holding companies in most countries, European insurance groups, North American insurance operating companies, and U.S. broker dealers. In this context, we treat such issuers as U.S. insurance holding companies, regulated utilities, asset managers, securities exchanges and clearinghouses, and unregulated finance companies as effectively unregulated. (Note that while unregulated finance companies require an RCC to offset a moderate step-up, the application of equity content treatment generally follows the methodology applied to regulated financial institutions. See section "Applying Hybrid Capital Equity Credit Assessment In Credit Analysis: Nonbank Financial Institutions.")

In regulated sectors, issues with moderate step-ups but lacking legally binding RCCs qualify for "intermediate" equity content (but not "high" equity content), provided that the issues meet the standards for "intermediate" equity content in other respects. The spirit of financial institution regulation is to maintain a sound level of capital. Consequently, the oversight powers of the regulators generally include the authority to prevent a call and/or force the issuance of other equally strong capital as a replacement. This, combined with our understanding of the incentives that generally drive financial institutions' (including insurance companies') financial policies, ensures permanence. (Although regulators may in some cases focus only on whether minimum solvency requirements are met, the regulatory authority remains more important analytically, and the presence of a replacement provision would only provide incremental comfort). Under our criteria, when an RCC is not required, we do not look at the RCC expiration date or the other terms as defining the effective maturity or as otherwise being detrimental to equity content. Although we generally look to the regulator to ensure replacement where appropriate, where regulators allow short-dated calls combined with step-ups (we define short-dated as less than 10 years), we would require a legally binding RCC to cure the overwhelming lack of permanence even if the national regulator classifies the issue in question as regulatory capital. On the flipside, where the regulator objects to a step-up or other feature, such as a step-up before year 30 for U.S. bank holding companies, we generally follow that more stringent regulatory approach.

For regulated and unregulated issuers alike, where issues have step-ups of more than 100 bps (or 200 bps in the case of speculative-grade issuers), we view the call/step-up date as the effective maturity of the issue. Also, we do not generally classify securities with call and step-ups of less than five years from the date of issuance as "intermediate" or "high" equity content even if the securities have an RCC. We believe such a short noncall period puts in question the issuer's intentions.

Other repricing mechanisms

We increasingly are skeptical about features that seemingly try to obscure their purpose of provoking the issuer to call the issue. Thus, many long-dated equity hybrids have a fixed rate for the first 10 years, then convert to a variable rate. That variable rate may incorporate a penalty feature, other than a step-up, that is designed to motivate the issuer to call the issue: We then likewise question the permanence of the issue.

One example of such a penalty involves the payment of the highest of various rates that could fluctuate relative to each other. We have accepted as consistent with equity content some approaches that employ two or three rates tied to points on the yield curve, the highest of which determines the instrument's yield for each dividend period. Because the yield curve is normally upward-sloping, we presume the rates will not fluctuate--rather, that the long-term benchmark will pertain.

However, using a long-term benchmark for a security that resets at short intervals would itself be a penalty if not appropriately adjusted. Any long-term benchmark rate must be modified to make it economically comparable with a more appropriate short-term benchmark rate, to eliminate the penalty aspect. For example, the applicable rate could be a percentage of the long-term benchmark rate or "x" bps below the benchmark rate.

We presume that use of a long-term benchmark, on its own or in combinations, is an inherent penalty rate--unless there is an adequate pricing modification that equates it with the short-term benchmark rates ordinarily used for variable-rate debt. We will evaluate securities that incorporate such pricing modifications to a long-term benchmark rate individually. Our acceptance of the specific modified rate will require a rigorous statistical analysis of whether the modification is adequate. Such analyses should be provided by the structuring bank.

RCCs can remedy a penalty-rate situation, to a point. We are sensitive to the size of the penalty involved, as noted above. If the penalty is greater than moderate (typically, if it exceeds 100 bps in investment grade), we do not recognize equity content even where an RCC is in place. Because of the difficulty in calculating the penalty associated with use of long-term benchmarks, given the constantly fluctuating variables involved, we cannot presume the penalty is 100 bps or less. Therefore, RCCs are insufficient to remedy this feature, without the aforementioned modifications and accompanying statistical analysis.

Other repricing mechanisms that we view as greater than a moderate penalty, and thus inconsistent with equity content, even with the presence of an RCC and/or regulatory oversight, include the following:

- Where there is a reset based on the then-relevant credit spread of the issuer—rather than on the issuer's initial credit spread—such that any deterioration in perceived credit quality would be reflected in a higher cost to the issuer;
- A reset to a floating rate from a fixed rate, but with a pre-established floor, is generally deemed inconsistent with equity content because calling and refinancing the issue may be less expensive than leaving the issue outstanding. However, an exception is sometimes made for instruments that are treated as Tier 1 capital of a regulated financial institution, if we are convinced that the reset mechanism does not represent more than a moderate penalty;
- Discrete calls that are followed by extended periods when the issue is not callable. For unregulated issuers, where that period is longer than five years, an RCC is required. The lengthy period during which the issuer must live with the current terms creates an incentive to redeem on the call date. This mechanism is especially onerous when combined with a coupon step-up because the issue is then subject to the penalty rate for an extended period; and
- Incentives to call that are qualitative, fluctuate, or are otherwise difficult to value will be assessed case by case. Our policy is to view almost every incentive or penalty, when combined with a 100-bps coupon step-up, as problematic, since the coupon step-up is already at the ceiling of the acceptable range for a moderate penalty. Examples could include a loss of favorable accounting treatment, higher cash flows, higher after-tax cost, or loss of peripheral tax benefits.

We do not, however, view the reduction of equity content to "minimal" as increasing the incentive to call, given the qualitative benefits we continue to attribute to issues with minimal equity content, and the paradoxical circularity of that logic.

Under the terms of some initially convertible issues, at some point the issue becomes nonconvertible and the rate increases—supposedly to the rate that would have been in place if the issue initially had not been convertible. We must assess each such case to determine if the increase is indeed consistent with the loss of the option value, and whether the increase in interest expense should be viewed in the same light as a step-up.

Issue Features: Replacement Capital Covenants

An RCC is a legally enforceable commitment by the issuer to replace a hybrid capital issue upon its call, redemption, or repurchase with an instrument having specified characteristics. To be effective in helping to preserve credit quality, the RCC must commit the issuer to replace a hybrid security, if it is called, redeemed, or repurchased, with an instrument having similar equity-like characteristics in terms of payment flexibility, degree of subordination, and permanence. In July 2005, First Tennessee Bank N.A. first demonstrated the feasibility of providing a legally binding replacement clause when it made a "declaration of covenant" in connection with its preferred stock issuance. The covenant favors holders of the bank's covered debt. Where appropriately structured, an RCC can alleviate our concerns regarding the permanence of an issue having a call provision that is coupled with a moderate step-up: This is the only situation where we have any specific requirement for an RCC under our hybrid capital framework.

With respect to limitations on refinancing, covenants contained in the issue itself have dubious efficacy. After all, investors in the hybrid issue are likely to be indifferent to what the credit quality of the issuer is once their issue has been retired. The RCC addresses this by being structured for the benefit of holders of certain designated "covered" long-term debt of the issuer, giving these debt holders the right to pursue remedies against the issuer if terms of the covenant are not satisfied. Thus, in the legal sense, the replacement covenant is a separate agreement, not part of the hybrid issue indenture.

Beneficiaries of the covenant should be comprised of debtholders with significant amounts outstanding (excluding, of course, any amounts held by the company or its affiliates). If the RCC runs to a specific covered debt issue, the RCC should provide for transfer to another issue upon maturity or repayment of the original covered debt issue. Covered debt is preferably unsecured (senior or subordinated), since unsecured debt holders would ordinarily have the greatest incentive to enforce the covenant. However, even secured debt holders can be expected to act to enforce the RCC on their own behalf-—and we would rely on that in the absence of appropriate unsecured issues to serve as the covered debt.

In addition, the replacement issue should equal at least the amount redeemed. There is one exception: As a practical matter, we take a mix of 50% common equity and 50% debt to be an acceptable alternative to refinancing with 100% hybrid capital, for issues receiving "intermediate" equity content. (Common stock here refers to equity issuance with cash proceeds that can be used to partially refinance the hybrid, not retained earnings or equity issued as payment for acquired assets.) This is based on the rough generalization that the positive impact of common on the company's credit profile is double that of intermediate instruments. We do not generally consider less than full replacement by another hybrid capital issue to be adequate.

Replacement instruments need to warrant at least the original equity content designation ("intermediate" or "high"), in terms of payment flexibility and subordination. It suffices, though, for the term to extend only through the issue's initial effective maturity. In this regard, we recognize the full measure of equity content only so long as an issue has at least a 20-year remaining life. So, in this respect, a 20-year replacement issue would not achieve recognition of equity content received upon the original issuance. While issuing a new security that has limited equity content from day one may not be intuitive at first glance, the effect is identical to all cases where the original is not called. And, the alternative--that no such replacement was to occur—-would imply that no equity content should be granted in the first place. To illustrate: A 30-year security gets equity treatment for only 10 years. (The reasons for this are the company will enjoy a substantial period during which it can defer payments, and the payment of principal is still far enough in the future that it hardly factors into the current rating.) In effect, all nonperpetual hybrids that remain outstanding until maturity will exist for 20 years during which they no longer receive recognition of equity content (the 20 years prior to maturity). If a 30-year security were replaced in year 10 with a new 20-year instrument, that would replicate the initial instrument and be consistent with recognition of equity content for the initial 10 years, and no equity content thereafter.

Finally, the new replacement capital should be raised well in advance of the planned call to avoid incentives to redeem early and bypass the refinancing requirements.

Although RCCs can alleviate concerns regarding the permanence of the issue, they can give rise to new concerns if they are overly rigid and detailed—given the potential for unintended, unforeseeable consequences. For our criteria, issuers can incorporate flexibility in the choice of replacement securities. It is satisfactory for the covenant to commit in general terms that the issue be replaced with a security having similar equity-like characteristics. Moreover, we view as acceptable "carve-outs" that would excuse the issuer from the replacement obligation under certain circumstances, as follows:

- There is no material debt outstanding to serve as covered debt.
- Change of control. The issuer's undergoing a potentially radical transformation of this type is a form of "event risk" that we typically don't factor into either our issuer credit ratings or issue ratings.
- Tax law changes. Without tax deductibility, the cost/benefit of certain equity hybrids changes significantly, and the issuers should be able to call them (or not replace them with hybrids when they have the right to call for other reasons). While this possibility raises a cloud over the permanence of the hybrid, the risk can be assessed through understanding the potential for tax-law changes. Indeed, we would not initially recognize equity content in hybrid issues that faced significant tax risk, given both the potential cost penalty and/or the incentive for the issuer to somehow get out of the security.
- Market disruption. See below.
- Credit quality improvement subsequent to the time of issuance that obviates the need for the hybrid to support rating. The potential measures of credit quality improvement are varied. Any rating upgrade above the rating level at the time of issuance would provide prima facie evidence that the security is no longer needed. Alternatively, we would be willing to consider approaches that relied on indicative financial ratios instead of ratings. Another acceptable indication, albeit indirect, would be the consent to terminate the covenant by holders of the majority amount of covered debt outstanding--excluding amounts held by the issuer or its affiliates.
- Rating-agency criteria change leading to a reduction in the equity content for the security originally issued. Some covenants call for replacement with whatever security would qualify at that time. But since it is impossible to predict in advance what, if anything, would qualify, it is unreasonable to expect replacement on such an open-ended basis. (This carve-out would have to exclude criteria refinements of an incremental or technical nature, since such changes would not justify the issuer's jettison of the hybrid.)

While we accept the aforementioned termination events in the RCC, if one of the termination events were to occur, such that the provisions of the RCC were no longer binding, we would then cease to view the issue as warranting recognition of equity content, given the then lack of permanence. Where the provision is structured to allow the issuer to reelect the obligations of the RCC, and if it were to opt to do so, recognition of equity content could continue to be appropriate.

In countries where RCCs have no legal basis or are otherwise not practicable, such as under Japan's current legal framework, we would consider accepting a statement of intent in its place, providing such statement of intent was straightforward, visibly communicated to the market, was broadly consistent with the issuer's financial policy, and if the step-up was moderate and at least 10 years from the time of issuance. In Japan, the law requires that, for an agreement made for the benefit of a third party to be enforceable, the beneficiary must "express intent to enjoy such right." We believe requiring issuers to solicit such consent from bondholders would be cumbersome. Moreover, such consent would likely become ineffective once the bonds are traded or transferred to a new investor. Similarly we would consider accepting a nonbinding statement for any issuer with no eligible covered debt.

Issue Features: Market Disruption Events (MDEs)

The MDE concept initially arose in the context of mandatory alternative-payment mechanisms (APMs/ACSMs; see below). The MDE addressed the risk that a company faced legal obligations to pay with proceeds of common equity issuance, but was unable to execute its obligations due to market disruption. Scenarios such as the closure of financial markets after Sept. 11, 2001, were the focus of this concern. The MDE allowed the company to defer its obligations until the disruption passed.

In the context of RCCs, MDEs also provide flexibility in the event of such "force majeure" scenarios. If an issuer has redeemed an outstanding hybrid issue (or legally committed itself to redeem) in a way that requires replacement, it must be allowed to defer that replacement as long as there is no practicable possibility of doing so. It should go without saying that it is unacceptable for such provisions to effectively create an opportunity for an issuer, upon an MDE, to redeem the hybrid and completely negate the replacement obligation.

The definition of such disruption needs to be very clear and objective, and limited to scenarios that are remote. Poor economic conditions, depressed financial markets, distressed pricing for the company's securities, and so on do not fit the definition of an acceptable MDE as we conceive it.

Most issues with RCCs provide for the replacement securities to be issued before the call and before serving redemption notice to bondholders. The proceeds of the new securities are meant to be used to fund the call. Accordingly, in such cases, the MDE provisions are irrelevant.

Issue Features: Dividend Stoppers, Look-Backs, And Pushers

Many types of hybrid capital instruments include so-called dividend stoppers, whereby if there is an optional or mandatory deferral of dividends/interest on the hybrid issue, the company is prohibited from making payments on any pari passu or more junior issues--including making dividend payments on common stock--until the arrearage, if any, has been cured. We generally view such a stipulation as a neutral factor from a credit perspective. On the one hand, eliminating both the common dividend and the hybrid payment maximizes the overall cash conserved. On the other hand, the link between the two may increase the reluctance of the issuer to forgo paying on the hybrid. Indeed, in cases where shareholder expectations or tax considerations (for REITs) increase the reluctance to suspend common dividends, omitting the dividend stopper could significantly increase the issuer's willingness to defer payments on the hybrid issue. This could enable a REIT's hybrid instrument to merit intermediate equity content, assuming other terms meet Standard & Poor's criteria. In general, the presence or absence of a common dividend stopper is not essential to our recognition of equity content.

Some instruments incorporate so-called look-backs, which we view as detrimental from a credit perspective. In these instruments, the right to optionally defer applies only after a period of no share repurchases or payment of common dividends. The main point of deferrable payment securities is to accommodate a company that has a crisis and needs to save cash. Look-backs constrain this flexibility, as a practical matter, if the company had recently paid a dividend or repurchased any stock.

The details of the look-back provision dictate the extent of the potential problem. For example, does even the repurchase of a trivial amount of stock in conjunction with an employee option plan violate the look-back? Is the look-back period a quarter? Six months? One year? How do the frequency and juxtaposition of common and preferred dividend payment dates affect the possible delay?

The existence of a look-back that could impose a delay of one or more years would disqualify a security for our "intermediate" equity content category. (In the case of hybrid issuers that are speculative grade, even a potential delay of six months would rule out "intermediate" equity treatment.) Importantly, even where a look-back period is shorter and does not in itself disqualify the security, the potential for delay is still problematic--and, in combination with other features of the security, can affect its equity content categorization.

With respect to mandatory-deferral instruments, look-backs (sometimes termed "pushers") undermine the nondiscretionary aspect of the deferral. The company can choose to short-circuit the deferral by paying a paltry common dividend, for example. Such issues would, therefore, never qualify for our "high" equity content category.

Issue Features: Alternative Payment Mechanisms/Alternative Coupon-Settlement Mechanisms (APM/ACSM)

Optional deferral

Certain hybrid capital instruments combine optional deferral with a requirement that the company, at some point following the initial deferral, issue common stock, more of the same hybrid issue, or some other hybrid security, and utilize the proceeds to make up the arrearage and resume payments. Such mechanisms are variously referred to as APMs or ACSMs. We believe such a requirement significantly undermines the value of the optional deferral provision. The prospect of having to sell even a small amount of additional securities at a point when their pricing would likely be depressed could well serve as a disincentive for the company to defer in the first place.

Therefore, when such a requirement becomes effective within five years of the initial deferral, we would generally view such an instrument as warranting "minimal" equity content under our framework. (The base five-year requirement has long been our standard for an interval when the company can reasonably be expected to effect a turnaround, if it is to do so. We would not be as concerned about a requirement to issue shares that only becomes effective beyond five years: Such a requirement is unlikely to be a significant consideration for management when first weighing the possibility of deferring.)

Nevertheless, we would make an exception--and view the issue as compatible with "intermediate" treatment, depending on our holistic view of the instrument--if doubts about the company's willingness to defer were addressed by appropriately structured mandatory deferral triggers, thereby removing discretion from management (see below).

We would also make an exception where all three of the following conditions were met:

- Prior to five years, there is no requirement to issue additional securities unless hybrid payments are resumed. In this way, management retains some control of the timing of the capital raising.
- Before five years of deferral have elapsed, the additional common shares that are required to be issued to meet the dividend or interest requirement are limited to a relatively modest amount: for corporate and other unregulated issuers, no more than an aggregate of 2% of the total number of shares outstanding during the period the deferral continues. This mitigates concerns about dilution avoidance as a motive weighing on management. (Note: out-of-the money warrants to purchase common shares could be used as an alternative to directly issuing shares. This may be marginally more acceptable to management because the share price would have to appreciate before the warrants were exercised. Nevertheless, the same tight limit on the number of shares covered by the warrants would still be appropriate. In the case of certain regulated financial institutions, we have accepted what is sometimes a looser standard--warrants capped at 2% of market value, rather than 2% of shares outstanding.)
- The company has the option of issuing more of the hybrid or of another hybrid, and if it does so, the company is required to issue no more than 25% of the initial principal amount. This provides further assurance about dilution concerns, since the company will have an alternative that could well be seen as more attractive than common stock issuance. Moreover, there will be protection against the company's being burdened by a substantial amount of new obligations with uneconomic terms.

Direct allocation of additional hybrid securities, commonly referred to as "PIK payment," to the initial hybrid investors (requiring no new market issuance) would be even less problematic, at least when the basis of valuation is the nominal value as opposed to the market value.

Mandatory deferral

In certain instruments, an APM/ACSM-type mechanism is coupled with a mandatory deferral provision. For example, some issues define mandatory deferral triggers in terms of financial tests, such as the following:

- Cumulative consolidated net income for the two half-year periods ending six months prior to the coupon date must be less than zero; and
- Adjusted consolidated shareholders' funds must decline by 10% or more during the four half-year periods ending six months prior to the coupon date; and
- Six months after the prior two triggers have been activated, total adjusted capital (including mandatory convertibles and/or hybrid securities) must have declined by more than 10% during the preceding five half-year periods.

However, with the breach of these conditions, the issuer has the option to issue common stock or other specified securities before the payment date-–in sufficient amount to fund the payment owed, or, in other cases, in sufficient amount to offset the decline in capital–—and thereby avoid the payment deferral. We believe such an optional capital-raising feature undermines some of the equity benefit of the mandatory deferral provision. We see a risk that in cases short of financial distress, companies might succumb to investor pressure to utilize the capital-raising option—even if, from a credit perspective, the company's capital markets access would best be utilized for other purposes, or conserved. Lest there be any doubt, some companies have actually made explicit "best endeavors undertakings," in which they state in the issue offering materials that they would always undertake to raise fresh capital as needed to avoid a deferral. In other instruments, there is not an option, but rather a contractual requirement to undertake the sale of common stock or other equity-like issues immediately upon the breach of defined financial tests.

We have accepted such provisions as consistent with "intermediate" equity content, but not with "high" equity content. To warrant the "high" equity content designation, no forced or "best efforts"–based (or even optional) settlement of mandatorily deferred amounts must be allowed to take place until the earlier of five years from the initially scheduled payment date or the point at which the breach is cured. For both "intermediate" equity content issues, there must be a prohibition against repurchasing the settlement currency (other than payment-in-kind at face value) extending at least 12 months from the cure date. Otherwise, through share repurchases, the issuer could well thwart the cash conservation on which our determination of equity content relies. (See section "Equity Content Categories.")

Issue Features: Conversion Into Common Stock And Share Settlement

We do not recognize equity content, per se, for a provision whereby an issue can convert into common stock at some premium, at the option of the investor. While, historically, many such issues have ultimately converted, we view this feature as a positive contingency. That is, if the company fares well and this is reflected in significant share price appreciation, then conversion would likely occur. (In theory, if the share price had appreciated well above the conversion price, there was only a short time remaining before the issuer could call the issue and thereby force conversion, and we were confident the issuer intended to do just that, we could then view the situation as warranting recognition of some amount of equity content. However, we have been reluctant to formalize this approach, given the rapidity with which share price volatility can erase even seemingly unassailable stock price gains.) On the other hand, if the issuer is struggling, this is highly likely to be reflected in a depressed share price, making the conversion uneconomic for investors. Of course, investors value the conversion option, and this should translate into lower interest cost for the issuer—something beneficial for the issuer, regardless of whether the issue ultimately converts. And if the conversion feature is combined with other features that qualify the instrument for "intermediate" or "high" equity content, the conversion feature certainly does not detract from equity content, in our view.

Likewise, we don't recognize equity content for a provision whereby the company has the option to repay an issue upon redemption or maturity by issuing common shares to the holders at the then-share price, instead of using cash. Although such a provision may save the company an underwriting fee, our assumption is that it could always choose to finance the maturity with a separate common stock offering, if inclined to issue common stock. Of course, if the local equity market were relatively underdeveloped or dormant, then such a provision would perhaps deserve more recognition.

Although leaving it up to the company to determine how to settle a convertible instrument does not necessarily detract from credit quality, if investors' exercise of an optional conversion provision means the issuer is required to repay the principal amount in cash—with only the appreciation settled in shares—we view that as the equivalent of a put. The instrument is more debt-like than equity-like. Share appreciation ordinarily being correlated with good performance by the company does not mean that maintaining capital adequacy is irrelevant to the company's credit profile.

As discussed above, we view mandatory conversion into common stock in a very different light. If the issuer's share price at the outset is used as a floor to limit the extent of shareholder dilution, if the ultimate conversion is no more than three years from the time of issuance in the case of investment-grade issuers (two years for issuers with issuer credit ratings in the 'BB' category; one year for issuers with issuer credit ratings in the 'B' category), and if various other conditions are met, an issue with such a feature can achieve "high" equity content. Otherwise, such issues are generally viewed as debt-like, given the concern that the shares issued would be repurchased.

Some instruments provide for a change in the conversion or exchange ratio if the company issues common shares within a specified time period at a lower price. (In lieu of changing the conversion ratio, some issues call for a cash payment to the hybrid holders.) This type of "make-whole" feature increases the aversion to issue more capital when it might otherwise be prudent and may burden the issuer with more dilution.

We do not consider an issue that converts or exchanges into common stock of a company other than the issuer as having equity content. Rather, we treat such an issue as an asset monetization, in that the issuer exchanges one asset (its equity stake in the third party) for another--the proceeds of the issue--albeit with a significant time delay between the latter and the former. The overall impact of the transaction can be positive, neutral, or negative, depending on such factors as the value realized for the equity stake relative to our expectations, our perception of the risks related to the equity stake, the cost of the financing (taking account of tax considerations), and the use of proceeds.

Rating The Issue

In the corporate and financial institutions sectors, we assign two types of credit ratings--one to issuers and the other to individual issues. The first type is called variously an issuer credit rating (ICR), counterparty credit rating, or corporate credit rating. It is our current opinion of an issuer's ability and willingness to meet its financial commitments on a timely basis. In contrast, while issue ratings address timeliness, they also address the potential for recovery of principal in the event of a bankruptcy or liquidation of the issuer--that is, the ranking of the issue.

Most types of hybrid capital instruments afford equity benefit to issuers by having ongoing payment requirements that are more flexible than interest payments associated with conventional debt, and by being contractually subordinated to such debt. Obviously, these characteristics make the instruments riskier for investors than debt. In assigning issue ratings to hybrid capital issues, we seek to assess the incremental risks associated with the issue in terms of payment timeliness and principal recovery compared to the ICR and to nondeferrable debt. We reflect these risks in the ratings of hybrid capital issues by assigning them ratings that are "notched down" from the ICR. Owing to the unpredictable nature of some of the risks to which hybrid capital issue ratings are subject, the ratings are potentially more volatile than the ratings on conventional debt issues.

We utilize a common framework across our corporate and financial institutions practices and across regions. However, the rating dynamics can work differently. For example, in the banking sector, most instances of companies deferring payments on trust preferred have reflected the intervention of regulators. In theory, given banks' high funding needs and the importance of maintaining confidence in the specific bank and the entire financial sector, the regulatory order to defer may occur when the company's credit quality is still stronger than the point where most corporates would consider such an action. So, in certain circumstances, where a bank is experiencing deteriorating credit quality, we may decide to widen the gap between the ICR and hybrid capital issue rating at an earlier point than for a corporate on a similar trajectory.

We also utilize this framework across the rating spectrum. In the case of highly rated issuers, the prospect of financial distress is, by definition, extremely distant. Still, issue ratings reflect our relative assessment of how different instruments in the issuer's capital structure might fare, should the downside case materialize. Some highly rated issuers have argued that in their particular cases, the risk of deferral is so remote that it should not be reflected in a lower issue rating than for subordinated debt. If we accepted this argument, we would not notch down for deferral risk, but we would also see little basis for recognizing equity content in the issue.

Rating The Issue: Subordination

Subordination adversely affects the ultimate recovery prospects of subordinated obligation holders in a bankruptcy, since claims of priority creditors must be satisfied first. For issuers with investment-grade ICRs, we assign a rating one notch below the ICR for issues that are subordinated (but not deferrable). We typically rate subordinated instruments with deferrable coupons two notches below the ICR when it is investment grade (see details in next section). We do not distinguish in the notching between gradations of subordination: Junior subordinated issues and senior subordinated issues are rated the same. Experience has shown that, in bankruptcy, ultimate recoveries for different classes of subordinated instruments tend to be similar--and poor. (Likewise, other things being equal, we don't distinguish between hybrid capital issues that are cumulative and those that are noncumulative, since there is little reason to suppose recovery prospects of the two are materially different.)

Historically, in the case of issuers with speculative-grade ICRs, we automatically rated the issue two notches below the ICR just to reflect subordination (apart from the incremental notching for deferral risk). Under the updated Issue Rating and Recovery Analytics framework published on May 30, 2007 ("Recovery Analytics Update: Enhanced Recovery Scale And Issue Ratings Framework"), hybrid capital issues of speculative-grade issuers (except banks) can be notched down based on issuer-specific and instrument-specific recovery prospects in countries where we have adopted this issue rating approach and extended it for hybrid capital instruments. (Elsewhere, the two-notch differential for subordination remains automatic.) However, as a practical matter, this makes little difference to our rating conclusions: We expect the vast majority of nondeferrable subordinated instruments of speculative-grade issuers to receive a recovery rating of '6' on the revised scale (0%-10% recovery of principal post default), which would imply the same two-notch differential from the ICR that these instruments would otherwise be assigned just for subordination.

When a holding company issues the hybrid capital instrument, as is common for U.S. financial institutions, the notching is relative to our ICR on the holding company, which is typically lower than the ICR on the main operating unit.

Rating The Issue: Deferral

Payment risk can be heightened in the case of hybrid capital issues due to:

- The right of optional deferral, where management has the option under the terms of the instrument to suspend or cancel distributions without triggering a default (see section "Issue Features: Optional Deferral");
- Mandatory deferral, where, with the breaching of one or more predetermined triggers, the issuer is required to suspend payments (see section "Issue Features: Mandatory Deferral"); and
- Regulators' ability, in certain cases, to order companies to defer or cancel payments.

Our objective is to fully reflect payment deferral risk in hybrid capital issue ratings, whatever the potential driver of the deferral. As deferral becomes an increasingly likely prospect, the gap between the ICR and the hybrid capital instrument would widen to reflect the heightened risk of deferral.

Optional deferral

We assume that issuers will be loath to exercise their right of optional deferral, given the negative reaction this evokes among investors and hence the ramifications it can have for the issuer's future access to capital markets. Deferral risk is heightened when the issuer faces increased prospects of financial distress, such that management's reluctance to defer may ultimately be overcome in favor of the need to conserve cash. As referred to above, the "pressure points" may differ for different types of issuers, meaning the consideration of deferral may come at earlier or later stages in the course of credit deterioration. One danger sign is when a company curtails or eliminates its dividend on common stock: This is sometimes a precursor to a deferral on equity hybrids. (Most equity hybrids have a "dividend stopper" that prevents the company from making any distributions to its common stockholders while it is deferring distributions on the hybrid; see section "Issue Features: Dividend Stoppers, Look-Backs, And Pushers.")

If a corporate has an unusually large proportion of equity hybrids in its capitalization, it may have an added incentive to defer, due to the significance of the cash flow savings that would result and perhaps pressure from senior lenders. However, in the case of large, regulated financial institutions, we believe this could cut both ways: the greater the amount of outstanding hybrids, the greater the potential for a systemic disruption or a backlash in the capital markets. This could give the issuer more of an incentive to continue payments under all circumstances.

Mandatory deferral

Triggers for mandatory deferral vary. Some consist of earnings-, cash flow-, or capitalization-based financial ratio tests; others refer to the issuer's incurrence of a loss during a defined period or the failure to meet specified minimum regulatory capital requirements. Still others tie the payment of the distribution on the equity hybrid directly to the company's payment of the common stock dividend.

Obviously, the payment deferral risk for the hybrid capital issue investor is higher when it would take only a minor and temporary shortfall in profitability to cause the deferral, for example. On the other hand, if it would take circumstances so dire for the trigger to be breached that the issuer would likely be on the brink of bankruptcy, then the payment risks for the hybrid capital issue investor would not be materially different than they would be for debt holders.

Triggers for mandatory deferral may be included in the terms of the hybrid capital issue. Alternatively, they may be included in the terms of other financing agreements or indentures of the issuer—for example, in the form of a financial covenant under a committed credit facility prohibiting the payment of dividends on all common and preferred stock if certain tests are breached. In our surveillance of hybrid capital issue ratings, we are alert to any changes in the issuer's financing agreements or indentures that could bear on its ability to make payments on a hybrid issue.

Regulatory deferral

In some regulated financial services sectors, regulators have the authority to direct companies to defer payments on equity hybrids based on the regulators' own assessment of what is prudent. In certain cases, banks have been ordered to defer even when they met all regulatory capital requirements (for example, Riggs National Corp., a bank holding company that was required to defer payments on trust-preferred securities in December 2004). Assessing the risk of deferral in the case of a regulated company requires careful consideration of sector- and country-specific factors, including precedents of deferral ordered by the regulatory body in question. Especially important is the identification of financial measures to which the regulator is particularly sensitive.

The authority and intent of financial regulators to order deferral of payments in certain circumstances--whether or not clearly defined--means that most hybrid capital securities of regulated financial institutions can be viewed as having de facto mandatory deferral. Regulated financial institutions structure hybrids according to rules established by national regulators for regulatory capital measures. This includes the definitions of the capital ratios or performance measures that would trigger payment deferral if breached. The triggers for deferral--typically the regulatory minimum capital ratio for banks and insurers--are usually made explicit in the covenants of the hybrid security. Less often, the trigger is not explicit in the document but is understood by both issuer and regulator.

Rating The Issue: Factoring Payment Risk Into Issue Ratings

In reflecting payment/deferral risk in hybrid capital issue ratings, we evaluate the different sources of deferral risk that are present and seek to assess their combined significance. Where deferral is possible but we believe the prospect of a deferral is relatively remote for the foreseeable future, we take one notch from the ICR in setting the issue rating, whether the ICR is investment grade or speculative grade (subordination will increase the notching, as explained in the prior section). A one-notch differential is the typical treatment for issues that have optional deferral alone. For example, the subordinated and optionally deferrable issue of an issuer rated 'BBB+' would generally be rated 'BBB-'--one notch for subordination and one notch for payment deferral risk. If the issue were senior and deferrable (a rare but not unheard of combination), the issue would be rated 'BBB'. We take the same approach even at the highest rating levels. (Note that a subordinated and deferrable issue of a 'AAA' rated issuer is typically rated 'AA'. Because there is no 'AAA-' rating in our rating scale, 'AA' is two notches below 'AAA'.)

When we have heightened concerns that the issuer may defer--whether due to the exercise of its right to defer optionally, the breaching of a mandatory deferral trigger, or the exercise of a regulator's prerogatives--we increase the gap between the ICR and the issue rating. We do not impose any arbitrary limit on the size of the gap. So, in an extreme example, if the ICR of an issuer were investment grade, but we believed that there was a substantial risk that the payment on the issuer's trust-preferred securities could be deferred within a few quarters, the issue would have a low speculative-grade rating. On the other hand, if the issuer faced the immediate prospect of financial distress, yet we believed management remained determined-–for whatever reason-–not to exercise the right to optionally defer, we could, at least in theory, narrow the notching for deferral risk.

Combinations of different forms of deferral may or may not increase deferral risk. For example, if an issue has mandatory and optional deferability, and the mandatory triggers are defined so that they could be breached without there necessarily having been fundamental erosion in the issuer's credit quality, then the risks to investors would be greater than if there were optional deferability alone. The same would be true if the triggers were more reflective of fundamental credit quality, but could be breached before the point where the issuer would contemplate optional deferral. In either of these cases, a lower issue rating would be warranted than if there were optional deferability alone. In these circumstances we generally add to the gap between the issue rating and the issuer credit rating. On the other hand, if the mandatory trigger were sufficiently remote that we believed it would be unlikely to be breached before the company would otherwise have optionally deferred, then we would not take away additional notches for the mandatory deferability compared to what would be appropriate for the optional deferability alone.

For example, MetLife Inc. issued $2.1 billion of noncumulative perpetual preferred in 2005 that was rated 'BBB', three notches below the ICR. The issue has both optional and mandatory deferral. The mandatory deferral is breached by the triggering of either of the following:

- Consolidated net income during any consecutive four quarters is zero or less AND shareholders' equity declines 10% or more during the most recent eight quarters AND MetLife cannot reduce the decline in shareholders' equity within the subsequent two quarters to less than the 10% threshold through equity issuance; or
- The risk-based capital ratio of Metlife's largest U.S. life insurance subsidiaries falls below 175% of the company action level.

Analytically, it was deemed reasonably possible, while not expected, that MetLife could have an atypical earnings event or a decline in its GAAP equity that would cause the first trigger to be breached, even while the company remained financially strong. More importantly, the second trigger relates only to measures of solvency for a portion of Metlife's U.S. life insurance operations, while the ICR reflects the diversity afforded by the company's U.S. property and casualty operations and its growing presence outside the U.S.

We have rated a number of mandatory deferrable issues where, as in the first trigger in the MetLife transaction, triggers are defined to give the issuer the chance to make up for a decline in shareholders' equity by issuing new equity. Some issuers of these instruments have argued that this completely mitigates mandatory deferral risk, since it would always be their company's intention to take whatever actions were necessary to forestall the breach of the trigger, barring cases where they would want to exercise the right to optionally defer. Some issuers have even put such assertions in the form of "best endeavors" undertakings included in offering documents or other filings. We must be skeptical about such assertions, just given the remoteness of the prospect of deferral, and the adverse changes the issuers might have undergone by the time that point was reached. However, if we were convinced that the company, apart from situations where it would optionally defer, would always avail itself of whatever capital markets access it had to avoid a breach of the mandatory trigger, then we would not notch down incrementally for the mandatory deferral risk; rather, we would only notch once, for the risk of optional deferral. However, there would then be little basis for ascribing any extra value in terms of equity content (beyond that warranted due to the optional deferral feature alone) to the mandatory deferral feature.

If a mandatory deferral trigger is defined in such a manner that we believed the trigger would always be breached before the company would otherwise consider deferring optionally, and if the company is legally required to issue common shares immediately upon the breach of the trigger, then we could conclude that deferral risk had been effectively eliminated, and not notch down for deferral risk.

In the case of regulated financial institutions, explicit mandatory deferral triggers do not add to deferral risk stemming from regulation if--as is generally the case--the triggers just replicate the capital standards that a regulator applies in determining whether to order a deferral. Also, in the case of banks, we consider it particularly unlikely that a company would exercise unilaterally its right to defer optionally. Moreover, we would generally presume that bank regulators would act preemptively to force banks to raise capital (or divest some activities) to prevent regulatory capital guidelines from being breached. Thus, in most instances we take away only one notch for deferral risk in rating hybrid capital issues of investment-grade banks, even where there is a combination of optional deferral and regulatory deferral risk.

For example, certain Spanish and Australian banks' hybrid capital issues contain relatively narrow earnings tests, which link the payment of a coupon to the existence of profits in the previous fiscal year. However, we do not believe that the local regulators will apply these tests mechanistically. Rather, we expect there to be situations where the issuer reports a loss, but where the regulator still allows the issuer to pay a coupon. (The terms and conditions allow this flexibility.) We believe that the likelihood of regulatory intervention will depend on the circumstances that have given rise to the reported loss and that the probability of regulatory intervention on these hybrids is not materially affected by the existence of the tests. Yet, as indicated above, we would notch to a greater extent in cases we view as exceptional. Examples would be where we perceive that the likelihood of a reported loss has increased materially, or if we come to believe that the regulatory approach to the narrow earnings test would be more mechanistic.

Rating The Issue: Default And Distress

On July 23, 2008, we expanded the definition of our 'C' long-term issue credit rating to include issues on which cash coupon payments have been deferred, eliminated, or in some cases, paid in-kind, as permitted under the terms of the issue. The definition expansion only affects the rating that we assign to a hybrid capital issue when the cash coupon on the instrument is no longer being paid, but the issuer is not bankrupt or insolvent and our credit rating [ICR] on the company is not 'D', 'SD', or 'R'. We will generally continue to assign a 'D' rating to issues that are in payment default, to issues that have been subject to a distressed exchange, or when the issuer has filed for bankruptcy or taken similar action.

Some issues with mandatory deferability have clauses that require the issuer to undertake the sale of common or preferred stock and utilize the proceeds to make the distribution. If the payment can be made on a timely basis, we would not view this as a default. In such circumstances, we believe a grace period of up to 30 calendar days is appropriate—equivalent to the grace period commonly found in conventional debt issues. However, there is the risk that the company would be unable to complete the required share issuance, depending on the company's circumstances and conditions in the capital markets. So far, we have not notched down a second notch for mandatory deferability in cases where "best efforts" share issuance (or issuance of other securities) would then be immediately required. However, we could reassess this approach as we gain more insight into the practicability of this requirement. In any event, we will notch down when we believe that under the most likely scenario where a deferral could occur, the issuer's financial strength and share price would have declined so precipitously that the issuer's ability to complete even a modest-size common stock issuance (or issuance of other securities) could be dubious.

In theory, if we were convinced that the deferral of payments was highly unlikely to occur absent a default by the company on all of its obligations and/or a bankruptcy filing, then we would not notch at all for deferral risk, only for subordination.

Rating The Issue : Government Support

The policy for rating the hybrid equity securities of government-supported entities deserves particular mention. When Standard & Poor's expects the government to support a government-supported entity's debt obligations but has less confidence that the support would be extended to the government-supported entity's equity hybrids, then the base for the notching of the equity hybrid issue rating is not just the ICR (which factors in the imputed government support). The issuer's stand-alone profile (absent government support factors, including extraordinary intervention and rescue) is also a relevant rating factor in these situations.

This indeed was the case in Japan in the late 1990s and early in the current decade, when Japan's government provided massive support to the private banking sector to maintain confidence and prevent the failures of many institutions. The government support did not extend to all hybrid capital securities of Japanese banking groups during that period, however, and some of the bank hybrids, notably the operating company (opco) preferred securities, deferred payments. Two prominent cases of deferral were those of Resona Bank and UFJ Bank (through opco Tokai Preferred Capital Co.). During this period, we widened the notching of hybrid equity securities, including opco preferred securities, up to six notches below the ICR of the issuing groups. In the cases cited, the banks avoided liquidity problems after the payment deferrals: UFJ was merged with higher-rated Mitsubishi Tokyo Financial Group, and Resona Bank was under the direct control of the government.

A more recent example is the U.K. bank Northern Rock PLC, which has received significant liquidity support from the U.K. government since September 2007 and was nationalized in February 2008. The liquidity support includes a government guarantee arrangement that covers Northern Rock's deposits and senior unsecured wholesale funding, but explicitly excludes its subordinated capital issues. Northern Rock's preference shares (a Tier 1 capital instrument) were included within the nationalization, and ownership of them has consequently transferred to the government, with compensation to be determined by an independent valuer. These preference shares are now rated 'D' to reflect the impact on the prenationalization investors, who have not, to date, received any compensation for the change in ownership. Northern Rock's two other Tier 1 issues remain with their existing owners and are up-to-date with coupon payments.

Our approach would be similar in the case of an entity whose ICR benefited from support of a strong parent, but where we doubted whether parental support would be extended to the subsidiary's hybrid capital.

Rating The Issue: The Rating Approach To PIK Debt

PIK debt can pay interest in cash or in-kind in certain circumstances. These obligations are typically issued by speculative-grade corporates. PIK means that the investor, in lieu of cash, receives more of the same note, or that the note's principal is increased. There are several forms of PIK debt. In their simplest form, PIK notes pay interest in kind from the outset and for the life of the instrument. These are similar to zero-coupon bonds. Although such issues can help highly leveraged companies conserve cash, the generally steep interest rate and rapid accretion give the issuer a strong incentive to refinance the issue. Our ratings for such issues are not notched down to reflect default risk to a greater extent than for ordinary debt issues of the company-—only to reflect subordination (if applicable).

Some PIK debt initially requires cash interest payments, but gives the issuer the option of paying in-kind later. Such an issue is analogous to deferrable payment equity hybrid securities. Although the PIK option is contractually permitted, the expectation is that the company will pay cash unless it faces severe financial distress. Accordingly, we reflect that risk with additional notching (for deferral risk) at the time of issuance.

Toggle notes are somewhat different from the two types described above, in that they are designed to facilitate switching back and forth between cash payment and PIK distributions, according to the preferences of the issuer. (In some cases mixed cash/PIK payments are also permitted.) When the PIK option is utilized, there is a bump-up in the interest rate, intended to make the investor relatively indifferent. With appropriate disclosure at the time of issuance, the investor knows to expect a toggling cash/PIK payment pattern. The fact that the issuer is noninvestment grade also helps to support this expectation. Where we are satisfied that disclosures are sufficient to give investors the expectation of receiving PIK at various stages of the security's life, and where the issuer is noninvestment grade at the time of issuance, we will not treat utilization of the PIK option as warranting the 'C' rating. In other words, we do not treat it as a payment deferral and we do not notch down for this PIK feature. For other forms of PIK debt, we believe that a shift from paying cash to paying in-kind indicates severe financial distress and warrants a 'C' rating. Previously, we assigned a 'D' to the issue in these situations.

Toggle notes may be senior, and even secured. We take account of this in assessing recovery prospects. In analyzing recovery prospects, however, we expect the PIK option would likely be utilized prior to a bankruptcy, and that this would thus translate into higher debt at time of default-—and so must be added when calculating recoveries.

All types of PIK notes provide a measure of flexibility that is a positive consideration with respect to issuer liquidity. We do not formally recognize equity content in toggle notes, though, given the incentive to pay in cash, and the relatively short maturities and senior ranking of the instruments-–at least as seen in the issues done to date.

Rating The Issue: Equity Unit Ratings

Companies continue to issue mandatorily convertible debt, structured as a unit that bundles two pieces:

- A corporate debt (or preferred stock) security; and
- A forward contract that requires the investor to purchase--and the company to sell--the company's common shares at a predetermined price (or formula).

Standard & Poor's may be asked to rate the underlying debt (or preferred) piece--or the unit. Such debt and/or a unit incorporates substantial equity risk.

The investor winds up with common stock--if not via conversion, strictly speaking--by fulfilling the contract obligation. Sometimes the debt is remarketed, but the company gets the new money, while unit holders still receive the stock to satisfy the terms of the equity contract.

The ratings we assign do not opine on the totality of the equity risk, but neither do we ignore the equity nature of these instruments, as explained below.

Under the current policy, the rating of the debt and/or unit is normally two notches below our corporate rating on investment-grade companies, or three notches in the case of speculative-grade companies. This level equates to the ordinary rating of a company's preferred stock, which is also an equity security of the company (although the risks incorporated in preferred ratings are, of course, somewhat different). Given the market risk that the investor takes, the assigned rating could arguably be lower; however, sizing the risk of share price changes is beyond the scope of rating analysis.

Thus, the rating on the unit applies to the company's obligation to service the debt component, as well as its obligation to issue common shares under the forward contract. The rating does not pertain to the safety of principal or the units' value. The units' ultimate value is a function of the market value of the company's common shares, and is not addressed by our rating.

Note that we apply a different approach where the purchase contract relates to shares of another company that are owned by the issuer, rather than the issuer's own common shares. In line with our market-linked bond policies, the rating on such exchangeable debt or preferred will be that of the issuer--even if the issuer is disposing of shares of a company with a very different credit profile. And, if the obligation is senior, it will carry the same senior debt rating as the issuer.

How Have Hybrid Capital Issues Performed?

Apart from the need to do so for our normal rating surveillance purposes, we monitor closely the deferral experience of rated hybrid capital issues with a view to validating our analytical perspective on hybrid capital issues. Among the characteristics of such issues, the flexibility of payments (i.e., the contractually permitted ability to defer interest or dividend payments) is generally the key to our recognition of equity content. Thus, it is important to look at the extent to which companies under stress actually avail themselves of the option to defer payments. We also seek validation of our notching policy, since, in setting the rating on hybrid issues, we notch down more than with conventional subordinated debt, under the assumption that there is incrementally greater payment risk. Under our rating definitions, if a payment is deferred or omitted, the issue rating would be lowered to 'C' (assuming the issuer is not bankrupt or insolvent).

Our findings have been mixed. Here, we consider the experience from 1995 to the present, taking account of all rated hybrid capital issues, in all regions and sectors, and including most types of conventional preferred stock, since they have deferral features similar to those in the newer forms of hybrid capital.

Corporates have accounted for the dominant share of all cases where the hybrid capital issue rating was lowered to 'C' (or the then-equivalent). We have identified 101 corporate groups that deferred or defaulted on 179 separate rated issues. The vast majority of the issuers–-95-—have been U.S. companies, and the majority of these issuers were speculative grade when the hybrid issue rating was first assigned. Only nine issuers deferred when their issuer credit ratings were higher than the 'B' category (this excludes Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, which did not have ICRs). In 49 cases, the issuers never deferred in advance of a bankruptcy filing or default on conventional debt. In nine cases where issuers went bankrupt or defaulted on conventional debt, they deferred hybrid payments one year or more before this occurred. In 21 of the 101 cases, the issuers deferred but did not subsequently file for bankruptcy or default on conventional debt—at least as of yet.

We have noted 14 instances of insurance companies that deferred or defaulted on issues--all but one U.S.-based. In eight of the cases—including, most notably, Conseco Inc.--the default occurred effectively concurrent with either a bankruptcy filing by the issuer or with the main operating units being placed under regulatory supervision. In five of the other six cases (Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Co., Southwestern Life Holdings Inc., Lasalle Re Holdings Ltd., Gerling Global Finance Alpha B.V., and Scottish Re Group Ltd., which is currently deferring), deferral commenced before the issuer ceased ongoing operations or filed for bankruptcy. In some of these cases, the holding companies' hybrids defaulted, whereas the operating companies did not. This shows that the hybrids provided a degree of protection to the operating companies. In another current example, Syncora Holdings Ltd., formerly Security Capital Assurance Ltd., deferred on its series A perpetual noncumulative preference shares: it remains current on its debt obligations. Many Japanese insurers maintained payments on their hybrids through periods of stress. One insurer, Asahi Mutual Life, deferred payment on its unrated "kikin" hybrids in 2003, while remaining current on its senior financial obligations.

In financial institutions (excluding insurance), we have observed 13 examples of deferral or default on rated hybrid capital issuers. Four were U.S. finance companies: Dynex Capital Corp. deferred for an extended period and never defaulted on conventional debt, FINOVA Capital Corp. and New Century Financial Corp. filed for bankruptcy, not having previously deferred, and Thornburg Mortgage, despite modifying the terms of its hybrid, continues to remain current on its conventional debt. Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, government-related entities that the U.S. Treasury recently took into conservatorship, accounted for two notable instances. Payments were halted on a combined 38 hybrid issues ($36 billion). We also identified seven instances of deferral at banking groups—two Japanese (Resona Bank Ltd. and UFJ Bank Ltd.), one Thai (TMB Bank Public Co. Ltd.), three U.S. (Bay View Capital Corp., Riggs National Corp., and IndyMac Bank) and one European (Northern Rock plc). Interestingly, in only one of those seven--IndyMac--was there a default on other obligations following deferral on hybrid securities. The case of Riggs is noteworthy in that the company was not in immediate danger of violating regulatory capital standards. Rather, the company was mired in scandal, and the Federal Reserve exercised its broad authority to intervene in an institution it viewed as troubled.

Also noteworthy is Northern Rock plc. Its preference shares were included in the February 2008 nationalization of the bank, which meant that ownership mandatorily passed to the U.K. government from the investors. To date, the investors have not received any compensation. Our rating on this issue is 'D', not the 'C' rating we typically apply where interest is deferred as permitted in the terms of the agreement. This is because of the forced transfer of the preference shares to the U.K. government. We believe that any compensation to the original investors will be limited because it will be based on the estimated worth of the preference shares if Northern Rock had not been supported by the U.K. authorities. On July 4, 2008, Northern Rock announced that it will not declare or pay a dividend on the noncumulative preference shares until further notice, and the annual coupon was not paid on that date. Payments on debt have continued without interruption.

Among unrated U.S. bank holding companies, City Holding Co. deferred payments on its preferred shares in July 2001 and resumed in July 2002. Smaller unrated institutions are exhibiting an uptick in hybrid deferrals. We are aware of cases of unrated hybrids of German banks that deferred payments--e.g., certain hybrid securities of Allgemeine Hypothekenbank Rheinboden AG (now named Correal), Westdeutsche Landesbank, and Sachsen LB.

In interpreting financial institutions' results during the past decade, it is important to keep in mind that senior debt performed very well during 1995-2006 (and in 2007, too, excluding unregulated U.S. finance companies). Indeed, in mature markets, no regulated banks' rated senior debt defaulted during this time.

We have pondered why companies under pressure haven't been more proactive in utilizing the deferral option under outstanding hybrid capital issues. We believe it is most likely due to some combination of the following factors:

- The decline in the company's fortunes was too rapid for deferral to be possible. Examples of this include PG&E, Enron, Parmalat, and more recently, New Century.
- Management might have been too concerned about the "headline risk" associated with deferring, particularly as it could affect its ability to maintain capital markets access.
- The company might not have had enough hybrid capital outstanding for the potential cash-flow savings resulting from a deferral to be meaningful.
- Management was unrealistic in its assessment of its financial condition.

We believe it is unwise to read too much into our historical observations, given limitations of the data and the uptick of deferrals we are seeing in the current environment. While past utilization of the deferral option is less frequent than we might have expected, companies are loath to curtail or eliminate even their common dividends for many of the same reasons cited above—and the equity-like features of common stock set the standard against which we assess hybrid capital instruments. Perhaps future experiences will be different, given the representations that have been made about the equity benefits of the new generation of hybrids. In the sizable area of hybrid capital of regulated financial institutions, the widespread tendency for bank regulators to favor market discipline may lead to a higher incidence of payment deferral during the next decade compared to the 1995-2006 period. One conclusion we draw is that the deferral feature's value is more tangible in the regulated context and/or where there are mandatory triggers. We expect a higher incidence of coupon deferrals and suspensions on hybrid securities of regulated financial services companies in the future, as the amount of issuance grows. We will continue to track the performance of hybrid capital issues in all sectors to help us gauge the appropriateness of our conclusions regarding equity content and payment risk.

Provisions In Hybrid Instruments Viewed As The Equivalent Of Maturity

Hybrid equity content treatment in our ratios ends when less than 20 years remain until the "effective maturity." At that point it is treated as debt for ratio purposes, with the benefits incorporated qualitatively in our analysis. This table summarizes which maturity-like provisions are viewed as an "effective maturity."

	Call (with no step-up)	Call with moderate step up or equivalent* (For investment-grade issuers 26 bps-100 bps is viewed as moderate. "Moderate" can vary depending on local interest rates.)		Scheduled maturity (co. is required to make best efforts to redeem)	Final maturity (nonpayment upon maturity is a default)
Standard & Poor's approach	Not viewed as an effective maturity, unless the call is within five years of the issuance date.	For unregulated issuers: This is viewed as an effective maturity unless there is a replacement capital covenant (RCC). (The expiration date of the RCC would be viewed as an effective maturity).	For regulated issuers:: This is not viewed as an effective maturity (and no RCC is needed) because the regulator ensures replacement where appropriate. For a step-up with a call before year 10 (even where the regulator accepts that), we require a legally binding replacement covenant.	Always viewed as an effective maturity	Always viewed as an effective maturity

Rationale	Issuer calls are standard in almost all long-term instruments and there is no obligation to redeem that inflicts costs (the market does not assume it will be called, so there is limited headline risk if it is not called). A call before five years is unusual and we take it to be an indication of a lack of permanence, even with a RCC.	The step-up presents an incentive to call and a penalty rate if not called, which undermines permanence. Given that the potential increase in cost is limited to a moderate step-up, the RCC is adequate to offset concerns about permanence. (In contrast, an RCC does not offset the lack of permanence in a short-dated issue.)	For regulated issuers, the regulatory oversight is viewed as adequate to ensure it will be replaced when its benefits are needed. However, where the call is before year 10, we require the even stronger RCC, as regulatory oversight doesn't ensure permanence to the extent an RCC does.	Unless there is a market disruption event, the company is obligated to redeem, which can impose onerous costs on the issuer. This is therefore viewed as an effective maturity.	The instrument must be repaid at this time or else an event of default is triggered.
How the company is likely to react under varying circumstances
Doing well	Might or might not call, depending on its view of future interest rates	Will redeem	Will redeem	Will redeem	Will redeem
Under moderate stress	Won't retire the instrument (it's equity-like when needed)	Will redeem	Will redeem	Will redeem	Will redeem
Under heavy stress	Won't retire the instrument (it's equity-like when needed)	Won't retire the instrument (it's equity-like when needed)	Won't retire the instrument (it's equity-like when needed)	Will redeem	Will redeem

*"Step-up equivalents" are features that, similar to an increase in the coupon, motivate the issuer to call the issue. For example, a discrete call followed by a non-call period longer than five years would moderately motivate a call and an RCC would be required to achieve equity content, otherwise we would view that as an effective maturity. Features deemed to present a greater-than-moderate motivation to redeem cannot be remedied by an RCC. For example, a rate composed of the "higher of" a specified short-term, mid-term, and long-term interest rate after the first call (e.g. at year 10) is not curable by an RCC unless the rate is haircut to compeltely eliminate the penalty rate. Similarly, we would view a rate comprised of the "highest of" various uncorrelated interest rates such as Treasury (U.S.), Libor (U.K.), and the like as an effective maturity, even with an RCC. We also view a floating interest rate combined with a floor following the call date as an effective maturity even with an RCC (with an exception made in certain instances in regulated sectors).

 Unregulated issuers include North American insurance holding companies, most corporates, utilities, asset managers, security exchanges and clearinghouses. We also view finance companies as unregulated in this respect. (However, for tolerance limits and treatment in ratios, finance companies follow the regulated approach. See table below.)

Regulated issuers include banks, U.S.-based securities brokers, most insurance issuers outside North America, and insurance operating companies in North America.

Table 7

Equity Unit Structures (Mismatched Mandatory Convertibles)

				Treatment in year #
Maturity of front end (security issued at outset)	Forward contract is exercised at:	Mismatch	Treated as dual financing of debt and equity	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9 five years	three years	yes	yes	($100 debt) + ($100 debt w/ equity content)			$100 debt + $100 equity		$100 equity eight years	five years	yes	yes	$100 debt		($100 debt) + ($100 debt w/ equity content)			$100 debt + $100 equity			$100 equity five years	five years	no	no	$100 debt		$100 debt with equity content			$100 equity
three years	three years	no	no	$100 debt with equity content			$100 equity

© Standard & Poor's 2008.

The mechanics of a typical unit structure: A unit is made up of two components: (a) a debt issue and (b) a forward contract obligating the investor to purchase common shares in three years. At year three, the debt owned by the initial investors is replaced with common stock and the debt is separately remarketed to new investors (for new proceeds). To achieve tax deductibility the structure typically separates (mismatches) the date of the debt maturity and the date of the exercise of the stock purchase/issue contract by at least two years.

The equity unit involves two sets of proceeds. It starts as $100 in debt and in three years becomes a total issuance of $200, made up of $100 in debt plus $100 in equity. In respect to capital ratios, we roll the clock forward three years and apply both the resulting debt and equity issuances to the ratios today. Where our understanding is that the second set of proceeds will be used for debt repayment, we ignore the second set of proceeds and apply "high" equity content, without the dual financing treatment, similar to our approach for the basic mandatory convertibles.

How Equity Content Is Applied In Capital Ratio Analysis, Across Sectors

		Corporates (Includes regulated utilities, asset managers, security exchanges and clearinghouses)		Insurance (Excludes bond insurers that have similar, but slightly different tolerance limits)	Financial institutions (Includes securities brokers and unregulated finance companies)
		Debt/equity	Maximum allowed	Treated as 100% equity, up to allowable limits	Treated as 100% equity, up to allowable limits
High		Equity = 100% Debt =0%	General guideline is 15%	Up to 25% of TAC (35% in Europe & Canada*)	Up to 50% of ACE
Intermediate	Strong	Equity = 50% Debt = 50%	General guideline is 15%	Up to 15% of TAC in US & Bermuda (25% for European and Canadian insurers*)	Up to 33% of ACE (preferred with unlimited deferral)
					Up to 18% -or- 33% of ACE (enhanced trust preferred i.e., more than five years deferral)
	Adequate				Up to 12% of ACE (upper tier 2, trust preferred, five years deferral)
Minimal		Equity = 0% Debt = 100%	NA	NA	NA

© Standard & Poor's 2008.

ACE = Adjusted common equity (common equity + minority interests - unaccrued dividends - revaluation reserves - goodwill - interest only strips - tax loss carry forwards +/- pension benefits +/- other adjustments).

TAC = Total capitalization (total shareholders' equity + preferred shares + minority interest + debt -appreciation on fixed-income securities).

Note: The higher caps (maximum allowed) are cumulative of amounts in the lower caps. E.g. in applying the caps for financial institutions, we would first look at intermediate adequate instruments up to 12% (ignoring adequate instruments that were over the 12% cap), then apply enhanced trust preferred from that amount up to 18%, etc.

*In the U.S. & Bermuda where structural subordination is high, regulators allow holding company debt to fund operating company capital. So our tolerances are 25% and 15% of TAC for high and intermediate instruments, respectively. In Europe and Canada where structural subordination is low, regulators exclude holding company debt from groups' solvency, so tolerance limits are higher at 35% and 25% of TAC for high and intermediate instruments, respectively.

The 18% basket for financial institutions only applies to North American banks and security brokers, due to regulation. For non-N.A. banks, and for all unregulated finance companies (even in N.A.) enhanced trust preferred is treated like preferred stock, i.e. up to 33%.

In the corporate/industrial sector only, the interest payments are treated (partially) as common dividends. For "intermediate" issues, they would be treated as 50% interest and 50% common dividends (which are excluded from coverage ratios). In the financial and insurance sector all distributions are treated as interest, and only capital ratios are modified to reflect equity credit.

N.A.--Not applicable.

	Optional deferral	Mandatory deferral	Optional deferral	Mandatory deferral
Subordination	1	1	2	2
Deferral	1	Typically 2	1	Typically 2

* The overwhleming majority of hybrid issues are investment grade with optional deferral and are rated two notches below the ICR.

Where there is a mandatory trigger the notching for DEFERRAL would typically be 2 (or more if there is a greater-than-usual likelihood of the trigger being breached). Where there is a mandatory trigger and (a) the company credibly says it will make its best efforts to settle with common shares and (b) the risk of the trigger being breached is relatively remote, the notching for DEFERRAL would typically be 1.

Notching of mandatory convertibles and equity units: Notching of the issue rating mirrors our approach to notching of preferred stock (even if the coupons are not deferrable and the debt host is senior). Our rating on the issue does not opine on the totality of the equity risk to investors.

There is an exception to preferred share 20% rule:

"There are cases where a parent may invest in a subsidiary through deeply subordinated debt for tax or other reasons with the intention that the security mirrors the attributes of equity. DBRS would typically assess a range of factors to establish if the latter has been achieved, such as cross-default trigger covenants, term and ability to defer interest. Regardless of these factors, the parent-subsidiary relationship is key and represents the only reason that DBRS would consider these debt instruments for high equity treatment. In these cases, the 20% cap rule does not apply."

Scope and Limitations

This criteria represents the current DBRS approach to preferred shares and hybrid securities (hybrids) for corporate issuers other than financial institutions. The methods described herein may not be applicable in all cases; the considerations outlined in DBRS methodologies are not exhaustive and the relative importance of any specific consideration can vary by issuer. This criteria applies to all non-banking/non-financial corporate sectors across the rating spectrum, investment-grade and non-investment grade issuers. Further, this criteria is meant to provide guidance regarding the DBRS methods used in the areas outlined and should not be interpreted with formulaic inflexibility, but understood in the context of the dynamic environment in which it is intended to be applied.

Overview

"Hybrid" is a term used by DBRS to describe financial instruments that combine both debt and equity characteristics. There is a wide variety of hybrids combining numerous features in the marketplace, with new versions emerging from time to time.

The following criteria outlines the DBRS approach to preferred shares and hybrids for corporate issuers other than financial institutions, with a primary focus on the equity treatment assigned by DBRS to these instruments. For non-banking financial institutions (insurance companies, finance companies, etc.), the main Equity Weightings section is not applicable but, in some cases, the Rating the Instruments section may still be applicable. For banking-related issuers, DBRS would instead typically use the criteria entitled Rating Bank Capital Securities – Subordinated, Hybrid, Preferred and Contingent Capital Securities. This criteria would not generally have any application to sovereign or public finance issuers since they do not generally issue such instruments. Also, with respect to considerations applied by DBRS to subordinated debt instruments in public-private partnership transactions, while some of the same broad principles discussed below will apply, given the nature of these transactions, DBRS applies a specific set of criteria to these subordinated debt instruments (see Appendix 1 to the Rating Public-Private Partnerships methodology).

This criteria is divided into two major sections summarized below:

Equity Weightings

- DBRS assigns to hybrids and preferred shares one of five potential equity weightings (0%, 25%, 50%, 75% or 100%) based on the extent of equity characteristics that are exhibited by each instrument.
- DBRS uses a two-stage determination process: the instrument is first scored based on primary considerations, after which secondary factors are incorporated into the analysis to finalize the equity weighting.
- DBRS generally caps the combined equity treatment assigned to all hybrid and preferred securities of an issuer to 20% of common equity (as adjusted by DBRS); the remainder is treated as debt. One exception in which the 20% rule does not apply is when the security is held by the parent of the issuer, as discussed in more detail in the Cap on Use of Hybrids and Preferred Shares section.
- Equity weightings are used by DBRS to adjust debt and equity levels in several leverage metrics, such as debt-to-EBITDA and cash flow-to-debt. Except for subordinated debt instruments qualifying for 100% equity weighting, however, no relief is provided to coverage ratios linked to interest expenses and preferred share dividends, such as interest and fixed-charge coverage ratios, as a result of equity treatment considerations.

Rating the Instruments

This section discusses the key considerations related to assigning an instrument rating to a given hybrid or preferred share security.

Equity Weightings

The determination of the equity treatment given to hybrid debt or preferred equity instruments is an important step in the assessment of an issuer's creditworthiness because it contributes to a more precise measurement of the financial burden carried by an issuer as those instruments are typically more flexible than traditional debt. When assessing hybrids or preferred shares for equity treatment, DBRS is guided by the following key question: how closely does the instrument replicate the attributes of common equity that are beneficial to the issuer and higher-ranking bondholders and creditors? In DBRS's view, those beneficial attributes include:

1. Subordination – equity provides a buffer or loss-absorption mechanism for all other creditors;
2. Permanence in the capital structure – there is no maturity date and therefore no liquidity or repayment risk posed at maturity; and
3. Servicing flexibility/cash flow relief – There are no ongoing payment obligations that could trigger default or cross default if missed.

The extent to which these aforementioned characteristics are present in a hybrid largely determines which of DBRS's 0%, 25%, 50%, 75% or 100% equity weightings is allocated to the instrument. As explained below, however, other factors can also influence the final determination.

Primary Factors

While the terms of hybrids can vary widely across issuers, certain fundamental characteristics are normally expected to be found in hybrids in order to justify any equity treatment. Such characteristics include:

i. Subordination in right of payment and security to all unsecured debt.

ii. A minimum assumed remaining term to maturity (as explained in the next section) of more than five years unaffected by issuer redemption rights with coupon step-up exceeding a certain threshold or debtholder redemption rights, except for hybrids where conversion to longer-term and/or more junior capital is a key factor.

iii. Ability to defer interest payments with no default for at least five years in order to provide operating flexibility.

The following provides details on the primary factors used by DBRS to assign equity treatment to hybrids.

i. Subordination

Although generally not as low-ranking as common equity, most hybrid instruments are deeply subordinated, typically ranking just above any traditional outstanding preferred shares. To qualify for equity treatment, DBRS generally expects a hybrid to be subordinated in right of payment and security to all other debt classes to provide loss absorption benefiting higher-ranking debt holders and creditors upon bankruptcy. The subordination requirement is the same for all equity weighting categories.

ii. Tenor and Redemption Rights

Term to maturity is an important consideration in the assessment of equity treatment of a hybrid and reflects the potential for equity-like permanence. Early redemption dates, however, particularly when combined with interest rate step-ups or triggers tied to rating agency downgrades or accounting changes, detract from the concept of permanence. Where an early redemption feature exists, DBRS will typically assume this early redemption date (rather than the contractual maturity) to be the maturity date for equity treatment purposes, subject to the discussion below.

Replacement Language

DBRS may consider the assumed remaining term to maturity to be later than a contractual early redemption date,[1] provided that there is written replacement language indicating an issuer's intention to replace notes that are redeemed at an early redemption date, with new notes having features that provide comparable rating agency equity treatment. Such replacement language need not be a contractual covenant; DBRS will accept written language in the offering documentation, provided that the language is sufficiently clear, transparent and has minimal exceptions. DBRS may also take into account qualitative considerations in the context of the issuer's past and expected future capital structure plans when gauging the issuer's intent to maintain the permanence of the hybrids in the capital structure.

Provided that there is proper written replacement language, DBRS may still extend the assumed maturity date beyond the contractual early redemption date even if there is no make-whole premium and even if the early redemption is triggered by changes in income tax treatment or weaker equity treatment resulting from a change to, or interpretation of, a rating agency's hybrid methodology or criteria. The contractual language describing income tax or rating agency triggers, however, must be narrowly defined. Early redemption triggers that have a broad scope, include a rating downgrade or entail a change in accounting rules seriously detract from permanence and may cause DBRS to assume that the maturity date will be the contractual early redemption date. In addition, where such triggers are present, DBRS may cap any equity treatment to 0% or, at most, 25%.

Step-Up in Coupon Rate

Even in the presence of replacement language, if there is a cumulative step-up in the hybrid note coupon of more than 1%, DBRS will assume the date of the 1% cumulative step-up to be the maturity date of the notes. For example, a hybrid (with suitable replacement language) that has a 60-year term, subject to an early redemption and step-up first exercisable in year ten but for which the step-up only reaches 1% in year 20, would be assumed to have a 20-year term for equity-treatment purposes.

Minimum Remaining Term to Maturity

Per the table below, for an equity weighting of 25%, DBRS requires an assumed remaining term to maturity of more than five years. Longer perceived permanence is expected for higher equity weightings, namely more than ten, 50 and 100 years for the 50%, 75% and 100% equity weightings, respectively.

iii. Interest Deferral

Interest deferability can provide significant shock absorption capability to an issuer's financial flexibility. The most favourable type of deferability is when accrued interest is non-cumulative and is cancelled when the issuer is unable to pay. In DBRS's view, this type of deferability is the closest to preferred equity and is required for equity weightings of 75% or 100%. To achieve 100% equity treatment, however, the deferral feature must be mandatory as opposed to optional and must be based on a meaningful test (e.g., cash flow-to-debt or debt service coverage) that forces deferability before the issuer's financial position gets unduly eroded. The second type of deferability occurs when interest is cumulative but payable with preferred or common equity. This form of deferability attracts the same equity treatment by DBRS as non-cumulative deferability as it also relieves the issuer of the liquidity pressure resulting from debt servicing obligations. The third and least favourable type of deferability occurs when interest is cumulative but payable with cash at the end of the grace period. While this feature provides relief, it is limited to the length of the grace period. As such, for hybrid notes with deferrable interest payable with cash, minimum grace periods of five years for 25% equity treatment and ten years for 50% equity treatment are required. A grace period shorter than five years results in a 0% equity weighting. To achieve equity treatment for the ability to defer interest, DBRS would expect restrictions in place that prevent dividend and/or interest payments to more junior instruments and the repurchase of common shares until the deferral period ends and all deferred payments are made.

The table below summarizes the primary characteristics used by DBRS to assign equity treatment to hybrids; however, the equity weighting can also be influenced by a wide range of secondary factors, some of which are described in the next section. While a negative consideration may sometimes be offset by a positive one, the absence of a primary characteristic is generally difficult to offset with any other consideration.

1. Acceptable replacement language can extend the maturity date beyond an early redemption date for all but the 100% equity weighting category. Acceptable replacement language is only of benefit up to the 75% equity weighting category; DBRS will not assign a 100% equity weighting benefit to any note with an early redemption feature.

Additional Factors

In addition to the primary factors described above, other considerations have the potential to influence DBRS' assessment of hybrid notes. The list below is not meant to be exhaustive, but outlines factors generally subject to enhanced scrutiny by DBRS. If deemed material, these additional factors are incorporated into the analysis to establish the final equity weighting. These factors are typically secondary in importance, but can be important considerations in selective cases.

Covenants and Events of Default: Events of default and covenants should be relatively benign and very limited in scope. Broad-reaching or unduly stringent debt terms may introduce vulnerability into the capital structure and can reduce the equity weighting of the hybrid notes.

Cross-Default: DBRS expects there to be no events of default that could automatically trigger a cross-default or cross-acceleration to higher-ranking debt noting, however, that the failure to pay amounts after application of all permitted deferral periods may trigger a wider default to higher-ranking debt, in which case lower equity treatment would likely result.

Standstill on Remedies: Standstill provisions prohibit holders of certain types of subordinated debt from taking any action upon an event of default to enforce their rights and remedies or to accelerate payment as long as senior debt is outstanding. This feature can provide resilience to an issuer and isolate senior bondholders from financial stress affecting lower-ranking debt instruments. Hybrids rarely carry a standstill provision as it significantly dampens the marketability of the notes, but DBRS requires it to achieve 100% equity treatment.

Voting Rights: By virtue of voting rights or required consent, subordinated debtholders should typically not be in a position to influence the issuer's decisions or its capital structure to the detriment of higher-ranking debtholders.

Lookback Provisions/Dividend Pushers: There can be provisions that may delay the issuer's ability to defer payments on a hybrid note because of the timing of common dividends or other capital instruments that rank in parity with the hybrid notes and, in some cases, the latter can also apply with declaration of such payments. DBRS would typically view these provisions as negative considerations in determining the equity weighting that would otherwise be possible. The degree of impact would depend on factors such as the length of time that deferral could be affected and the number of other securities to which the provision relates.

Payment in Kind (PIK) and Conversion Features: There are various types of securities with PIK or conversion features. From an equity treatment perspective, the most favourable structures involve mandatory payments with common equity or mandatory conversion to common equity at a future date. The sooner the conversion to common equity occurs, the more predictable it is and the more equity credit can be given to the hybrid; however, securities where conversion to equity depends on the ability of a trustee to sell common shares in the open market can be problematic in weak markets or when major company issues exist. As such, DBRS gives no equity consideration when this feature is present since the potential for the trustee to sell in an open market cannot be relied on. Securities where the conversion is at the option of the debtholder may attract partial equity treatment when the conversion price is deep in the money and the conversion is both possible and likely in the near term; however, a high level of equity treatment is normally precluded by the volatile nature of the stock market, which can quickly change an in-the-money position to one that is out of the money.

Preferred Shares

Preferred shares are normally less complicated than hybrids and, next to common equity, typically hold the ranking as the most junior security. Preferred shares are by, definition, equity and typically command a very high level of equity weighting. Preferred shares generally attract a 100% equity weighting, provided that DBRS is satisfied that the issuer has no intention to eventually replace the preferred shares with debt. This acknowledges the key features of the instrument such as permanence, the generally light terms (i.e., non-cumulative, contains no events of default or covenants) and the ability to defer dividends despite typical reluctance among issuers to suspend them. While issuers generally maintain the ability to redeem preferred shares with debt at any time after an initial non-call period, this element of uncertainty is more than offset by the broad above-mentioned benefits contributed by the instrument. Moreover, common stocks can also be bought back at any time. A reversal in the issuer's intention to preserve its preferred equity base would be treated by DBRS as an event, with potential implications for the rating(s) and any equity weightings assigned to the issuer's financial instruments. All preferred share dividend payments (not just those in excess of the 20% cap explained in the next section) are considered in coverage metrics as the fixed-charge coverage ratio and in the analysis of free cash flow.

It is not an event of default for preferred share dividends to be undeclared; however, failing to declare a preferred share dividend does not typically occur until a company is under severe stress. The same holds true for common dividends. As noted above, DBRS assesses both in the context of free cash flow. Preferred share dividends are seldom the leading factor for cash flow issues, which are more commonly the result of items such as reduced business prospects, high debt levels, common dividends and capital expenditure requirements.

Cap on Use of Hybrids and Preferred Shares

Even when all of these factors are satisfied, DBRS may still assign little or no equity treatment to a hybrid if an issuer uses such securities excessively. Accordingly, irrespective of the equity weighing assigned to a specific instrument, DBRS will treat as debt all incremental preferred shares and hybrids that lead the ratio of preferred equity and hybrids to common equity to exceed 20%. The amount of common equity will typically be the unadjusted figure reported by the issuer on its audited balance sheet, noting that DBRS retains flexibility to make certain adjustments to the numbers as deemed appropriate, such as for the accounting treatment of certain items (e.g., inclusion of non-cash marked-to-market derivative gains (losses) in retained earnings and in accumulated other comprehensive income).

There are cases where a parent may invest in a subsidiary through deeply subordinated debt for tax or other reasons with the intention that the security mirrors the attributes of equity. DBRS would typically assess a range of factors to establish if the latter has been achieved, such as cross-default trigger covenants, term and ability to defer interest. Regardless of these factors, the parent-subsidiary relationship is key and represents the only reason that DBRS would consider these debt instruments for high equity treatment. In these cases, the 20% cap rule does not apply.

Ratio Analysis

Where the amount of hybrids and preferred shares is material, DBRS will make adjustments to some of its key leverage ratios such as debt-to-EBITDA and cash flow-to-debt to reflect some of the flexibility contributed by these instruments. Except for deeply subordinated debt instruments qualifying for 100% equity treatment, DBRS does not make any adjustments to interest expenses and preferred share dividends for the purpose of calculating coverage ratios. Until an entity exercises its discretion to defer or adjust its payments per the terms of the instrument, DBRS expects payments to be made. As a result, related coverage ratios should include such payments.

Rating the Instruments

Relationship between the Instrument Rating and its Equity Weighting

Excluding normal notching considerations related to the ranking of securities, there is no direct correlation between the rating of a hybrid instrument and the level of equity weighting that it is assigned. This is because DBRS views the embedded covenants and other terms carried by hybrids as not materially affecting credit risk and, as such, does not penalize the rating of the instrument.

Nomenclature

As with the choice of rating scale, the name of the instrument is not to be viewed as a determining factor in DBRS's decision regarding equity value. Hybrids may be referred to as debt equivalents for tax, accounting or regulatory reasons, but this label does not preclude the fact that they may have significant equity value.

Choice of Rating Scale – Canadian-Only Issue

DBRS uses a separate rating scale for preferred shares issued in the Canadian securities market (Pfd-1 to Pfd-5) while debt hybrid instruments are rated using the global DBRS Long-Term Obligations Ratings Scale (AAA to C). Typically, there is a standard ranking relationship between debt and preferred share ratings whereby an entity with an "A" issuer rating will usually have its preferred shares rated as Pfd-2 and an entity with a BBB issuer rating will have a preferred shares rating of Pfd-3, and so on.

In those rare cases in which it is not automatically clear which scale should be used in rating a security, DBRS will look to elements such as the legal status of the instrument, whether payments are dividends or interest, the tax treatment of payments, the relative ranking of the issue in relation to other debt and outstanding preferred share issues and other relevant factors. It is thus possible that instruments with very similar underlying attributes could be rated on different scales. In these types of cases, DBRS believes that the choice of rating scale is independent of the decision on equity weighting and that securities with similar underlying attributes should receive similar equity weighting.

The sections that follow discuss situations in which ratings may deviate from the standard rating mapping.

Lower-than-Standard Mapping to Debt Ratings

When preferred shares become a proportionately large segment of the capital structure, the preferred share dividends will absorb a higher proportion of cash and earnings. DBRS may, in some situations, consider it appropriate to rate the preferred share rating one notch lower than suggested in the standard mapping; however, a very high level of preferred equity (and related dividend payments) could also be an issue for the issuer rating, which would in turn have an impact on all debt and preferred share ratings of the issuer. Because any preferred equity in excess of 20% of common equity (as adjusted) is already treated as debt, an additional notch reduction would only be considered necessary in unique circumstances where the ratio of preferred shares to common equity is at a high enough level that an issuer who is under pressure may have an additional incentive to pass on preferred dividends simply because of the relative size of the cash savings. DBRS approaches these situations on a case-by-case basis and would typically not consider such action unless the ratio of preferred to common equity is at least in the 40% to 50% range (based on preferred shares outstanding, not the amount that is given equity weighting) and the fixed-charge coverage ratio is considered weak. Credits with issuer ratings in non-investment grade territory are also more likely to encounter wider-than-typical notching differences.

Higher-than-Standard Mapping to Debt Ratings

In a case where an issuer has no or very minimal debt outstanding and no plans to issue in the future (including subordinated debt and intermediate hybrid instruments), the preferred shares may warrant a rating that is one notch higher than is typical as there are no debt obligations senior to it. The issuer would ideally document such intention in a covenant although, absent such covenants, DBRS may also consider management comments, past actions and whether the situation at hand supports making an exception; however, most issuers have non-debt unsecured obligations ranking higher than preferred equity, such as accounts payable and off-balance sheet liabilities, which are also factored into the analysis. This situation is rare and should not be considered the norm.

Hi Bruno,

I'm going to leave a bit early today.

On this one, good thing I worded my email to Carlos and Ken in a very measured way.

Yes there is a distinction accounting wise – but we ultimately will not know how the rating agency will treat the transaction unless a conversation is opened about it with them.

Perhaps there's a distinction on the way it's consolidated? Eg. Subsidiaries (like OPG Trust to OPG) get consolidated line by line. Whereas for the province OPG is consolidated in a single line?

That's what Salman had stated earlier – wouldn't know for sure but it's not the typical parent-sub relationship since OPG is not technically a sub as a GBE. It would be up to the rating agency's interpretation.

I have a question on this though…..would this parent and consolidated entity assessment still hold for the government context? It just occurred to me we're not talking money from OPG to OPG Trust but from the Province to OPG.

Here is S&P's handbook – although there have been various amendments issued since 2008 that would need to be checked. It states the following but need to review in more detail:

Pg 33.
We include any hybrid capital issuance in excess of 15% in the numerator of our leverage calculations. We do not generally recognize hybrid issuance of operating companies (reflected also as hybrid capital in the relevant parent's consolidated financial statements) as such in our consolidated capital adequacy analysis (see table 4)

There is an exception to preferred share 20% rule:

"There are cases where a parent may invest in a subsidiary through deeply subordinated debt for tax or other reasons with the intention that the security mirrors the attributes of equity. DBRS would typically assess a range of factors to establish if the latter has been achieved, such as cross-default trigger covenants, term and ability to defer interest. Regardless of these factors, the parent-subsidiary relationship is key and represents the only reason that DBRS would consider these debt instruments for high equity treatment. In these cases, the 20% cap rule does not apply."

Ken R.,

Thanks for your email, and the chat last Friday morning to clarify the proposed process for the first transaction. As you know it is important to Ministry to ensure that we follow the proper process at all times, particularly for the first transaction. Here is the proposed process as I understand it from our chat.

1) IESO asset to be transferred is the balance as of November 30. I understand the projected balance is ~$1.2B of which 44 per cent which will covered by the request for the equity injection.
2) On Dec 7 or 8, IESO will get confirmation of the November 30 balance and relay to OPG
3) On Dec 7 or 8, OPG to send Ministry of Energy an unofficial, unsigned Transfer Notice indicating the balance, and the amount requested for equity injection along with the Share Subscription form. This notice will be missing the closing date but all other information will be complete and accurate.
4) Ministry of Energy to commence reviewing the request on the assumption that a formal signed Transfer notice will be provided between Dec 12 –15.
5) Ministry of Energy to make formal request to the OFA under an MOU, once the formal signed Transfer Notice is received by the Ministry from OPG. Only once the formal signed Transfer Notice is received by the Ministry of Energy from OPG, will the 5 day period starts, but we will endeavour to expedite, although only 2 of the 5 days are under our control.
6) OFA staff to process the payment within three business days as per the terms of the MOU and wire funds to the appropriate account as per the MOU

From a Ministry of Energy perspective, we are ok with the above approach for this transaction. Our main concern, legal and policy, is ensuring that we have the formal signed Transfer Notice in hand before making any request to the OFA.

I understand that the closing date of the equity injection is the same as the closing date for the external financing which makes it challenging to provide the formal Transfer Notice within the 5 days. Going forward, you mentioned the warehousing facility may help with this timing issue.

Mike M and Ken K may have additional comments from an OFA perspective.

Subject: Preliminary notice of first asset purchase and debt issuance under Fair Hydro Program

Shruti / Mike / Ken K,
Just wanted to give you a preliminary notice of expected funding requirements over the next month to facilitate the first purchase of the asset from the IESO and corresponding debt issued by the Trust, a part of which is supported by the equity injection from the Province. A formal notice will be provided in accordance with the relevant processes but given that this is the first transaction during a month when many people are away then we are providing this preliminary notice to help with lining up the relevant approvals.

The timing of the asset purchase will correspond to the debt issuance by the Trust. The exact timing will depend on completing the items required to market to investors – program documents and credit rating are the key elements.

In terms of dollar amount we anticipate the Trust purchasing the entire variance account balance. This is expected to be about $1.2 billion. As of the end of October, the account is just over $1 billion. It is expected that the senior debt for this first transaction will be both term debt and warehouse debt.

Since this is the first transaction in this structure and there are a number of moving parts at the current time then we will need to have some flexibility on the 5 business day requirement between notification and funding. One of the challenges is to include the Transfer Notice as part of the request for the equity since there is a similar 5 business day notice requirement. We may need to issue the equity request without the Transfer Notice attachment which would follow shortly after.

At the current time the expected dates are:
Pricing of term debt issuance – current target is sometime between Dec 12 to 15
Closing of debt issuance – Dec 19 to 22 (standard for securitization is T+5)

Closing date would correspond to the date for OPG to issue Class A shares to the Province in exchange for the corresponding funding from the Province.
Thanks,
Ken R

Hi all,

We are also putting together an issues list for discussion with Energy Legal and Blakes and will share it with you as well.

Is there any type of draft term sheet for the proposed financing transaction itself or the master sales and servicing agreement? Any general description of the proposed transaction would be helpful to us.

Thank you.

CONFIDENTIAL AND PRIVILEGED LEGAL ADVICE

ISSUES LIST – PROVINCIAL SUPPORT AGREEMENT DRAFT MAY 12, 2017

1. Guarantor will be the Minister of Energy and the Minister of Finance on behalf of the Province (see. 5(3) of proposed Fair Hydro Act, 2017).

2. Description of proposed beneficiaries of guarantee is very broad. Provides that beneficiary is Indenture trustee under master trust indenture on behalf of itself and all persons that have claims against a Financing Entity secured under the master trust indenture. Persons range from the Financial Services Manager (OPG) to holders of various types of debt and hedge counterparties. Need to clarify which obligations the Province is being requested to guarantee and under what various agreements to determine scope and limit of guarantee. Is there a term sheet for the proposed financing to be issued by the Financing Entity? Is there a request for a guarantee of payment on other back-up or ancillary borrowing and obligations other than those issued in the market? Is there a draft of the Master Trust Indenture?

3. Why does the term of the guarantee continue for one year after the obligations have been repaid?

4. Performance Guarantee – This is also a very broad guarantee of performance of the IESO and all electricity services providers in favour of the same broad group of beneficiaries. How can the Province ensure that these entities perform their obligations practically? Also the Province is to protect beneficiaries from any commingling risk. It is noted that in the event the performance guarantee is unenforceable against the Province, there would be a separate legal obligation in the provincial support agreement to indemnify beneficiaries for any losses. Would there be any trigger events applicable to the obligation to indemnify as there are for the payment guarantee. If not, is this an issue for accounting treatment purposes? Also, is there an overlap between the performance and payment guarantee? So long as the funding obligations are paid on time by the financing entity, is there a need for other guarantees from the Province? Note that the Province does have immunity from specific types of enforcement under the Proceedings against the Crown Act. Is there a sample term sheet for the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement? Which provisions of the proposed bill are being relied on for this – is it section 5(2)? section 33. There doesn't seem to be a mechanism in the Act to replace the IESO as servicer. Should the Guarantee specify that the Province can appoint a replacement servicer?

5. Payment Guarantee Event – Regarding (B) and (C), the interpretation of when the triggering event has occurred will be an issue – is there a way to make it more objective or how can this be handled if there is a dispute? Regarding (D), think that there is going to be more discussion of the need for this provision from a business perspective. However, is this assuming, that the Province is guaranteeing both long term and short term funding obligations? Need to clarify when and which obligations the province will be guaranteeing?

6. Payment Guarantee – Again it will be necessary to clarify which obligations the province is guaranteeing to understand what the range of payments to be made are. Also, (y) does not seem acceptable to the Province from a business perspective.

7. Limits under Guarantee – The guarantee wording should be clear so that the Province is guaranteeing payment of certain debt or specific obligations only and the Province's liability should be capped. Province should not be exposed to the risk of any other types of damages or losses.

8. Priority of Payments – Until we know who the beneficiaries are and with respect to what obligations, it is difficult to comment on this.

9. Subrogation – Need to ensure that the Province has appropriate recovery rights and not sure that it is appropriate that all beneficiaries are paid in full before Province gets subrogation rights. Also there is no acceleration here and Province really pays on an ongoing basis so how should subrogation work in such a case.

10. Conditions Precedent – Need to know what they are proposed to be.

11. Representations – Need to know what they are proposed to be as Province does not typically provide representations in connection with guarantees it provides.

12. Confidentiality Obligations – Thought the guarantee is part of a public financing so wouldn't the terms all be known?

13. Legal Opinions – Content, who will be providing them and to whom would they be provided.

General Questions on proposed legislation and interaction with guarantee:

14. General review of relevant sections would be appreciated and how the provisions fit with the requirements of the financing. In particular, s. 5, 13, 19, 21, 22, 33, 41 par 7

Hi Ron,

Would you agree that this is best answered by FTD and/or CMD?

I am not certain if the distinction matters given increased equity investment (part of assets in the B/S) and increased borrowing (liabilities in B/S) but not sure about the ratings practices.

Thanks,

John

Subject: Question about the province's equity injection in OPG

DBRS is wondering if we have any details on how the province will recoup its equity investment. Do we have any details on this.
"The Province has indicated that it intends to recoup the equity investment over time but has not clarified its required return on the equity or the timing of the repayment. The Province will borrow to fund this equity investment, and in the absence of further information, DBRS considers this debt to be tax-supported debt, consistent with established practice."

OPG Management Fees / OPG Fees and Interest Recovery	• OPG is allowed to charge a management fee for its services, which will account for the amount of debt issued, OPG performance, fees charged for comparable services, and ensure OPG operates on a commercial basis.	• Amendments to Ontario Regulation 206/17 (General) • Amendments to O. Reg. 206/17 (General)	• ENE, OPG, OEB and OFA finalized regulatory amendments to enable OPG to establish and charge fees in its role as Financial Service Matter (FSM), provide a methodology for the calculation of those fees and define the role of the OEB in reviewing and approving those fees • Regulatory amendments were also finalized to enable the FSM to recover fees and interest amounts from IESO

	• OPG accounting advice that interest and fees must be recovered during "inflationary cap" period for GA Refinancing to proceed as planned under the OFHPA. Note: Net impact on ratepayers during the inflationary cap period will be zero		during the inflationary cap period, and would enable IESO to record such amounts in the variance account Timing: LRC on October 30, 2017

Hi John,

I checked in with Ken R. and he said that the subscription form is a schedule to the subscription agreement between MoE and OPG, so it seems that Energy would provide us with that. Do you agree that's the case?

Thanks,

The subscription form is a schedule to the subscription agreement between MoE and OPG. I do not have a current draft of that agreement.

Section 11.4 of the FAA does not specify a time for the delivery of the certificate. In the case at hand the certificate could be provided at the time the subscription form is executed by MoE. The certificate cannot be executed prior to that time because the certificate will state that OPG is entitled to the payment which will not be the case until the subscription form is executed.

A copy of the certificate could be provided to the OFA at the same time as OFA is provided a copy of the executed subscription form, and this would in fact be the best practice.

Hi Ken,

IESO has a question about the s.11.4 certificate. Currently, our draft MOU says:

"(ii) The Minister shall ensure that the certificate under section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act (reproduced as Schedule A to this MOU) required for each of the Subscription Payments is obtained, and shall provide the OFA with a copy of such certificate within [*] days after the Subscription Payment is made."

Is there a reason why the certificate is to be delivered after the subscription payment is made but not before?

Thanks,
Gavin He

John

Am I right that you want me to prepare a draft that includes the revisions which are not objectionable?

I want to reiterate that the draft received back from MoE substantially changes the role from what I understand that the OFA has agreed.

Under the MoE draft

1. The subscription form is provided by OPG to MoE and the OFA. I note that since the OFA is not a party to the master subscription agreement and OPG is not a party to this MOU the source of this obligation for OPG is not clear.
2. The OFA then agrees to pay the amount requested by OPG based on an annual payment direction provided by MoE unless MoE notifies the OFA that the payment is not to be made.
3. The provision in the OFA draft for MoE to deliver a copy of the signed subscription form to the OFA is deleted.
4. The OFA is to deliver the s. 11.4 FAA certificate.
5. The limited responsibility of the OFA set out in s. 4 of the OFA draft is deleted.

This process takes the OFA far beyond the simple payments function contemplated in the OFA draft MOU.

It seems to me that MoE is attempting to avoid responsibilities which it cannot avoid.

The share subscription transaction requires that the subscription form be executed by MoE. To execute the form MoE will be required to confirm that the amount requested is appropriate. Having done this there is no reason why MoE should not also execute the s. 11.4 certificate. I also do not understand why this process could not easily include the provision of notice to the OFA to make the payment.

The process proposed by MoE appears to contemplate that the request by OPG is in the nature of an invoice which could simply be paid by the OFA. This fails to recognise the necessity for the subscription form to be executed before payment can be made. The subscription form can only be executed by MoE.

Would it be worthwhile to pursue these issues with MoE before preparing a further draft or do you prefer to send over the OFA draft, modified to reflect the MoE terminology changes?

There are some changes in terminology in the MoE draft which could could be incorporated into the OFA draft if you wish if the direction of the OFA draft is confirmed.

Hi Gavin,

I hope you are the correct contact for this as we worked through the OREC MOU together. If not can you please direct me to the correct contact?

The Ministry is aiming to revise its Memorandum of Understanding with the OFA to include provisions to give the OFA authority to make payments for the new Fair Hydro Plan programs. We will provide the cost centre information and payment information. The payments will work similar to how they currently work for the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers. The document is based on the OREC MOU and has been updated to include provisions for the Fair Hydro Plan.

We are on a bit of a time crunch as we would like to have this in place before payments need to be made (mid-August). Can you please review the attached MOU and provide any comments/requested changes by Monday, July 24 EOD?

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Hi John,

I proposed some edits in the MOU but Ken rejected those edits as he feels that those 2 bullets I added in were already covered in the MOU. He also mentioned that Ken K. will look for an example of a certificate, but I just followed up with him this morning, and he said he hasn't heard anything back from Ken K. yet.

For now, do you think we can just wait to hear back from Energy for their feedback on MOU? I think from our side, we are pretty clear on how the process is going to be. Also, it seems that Ken R. confirmed my understanding in below email that, once Energy is good with OPG's requested amount, their Deputy or the Minister will provide us a copy of the certification under s.11.4 of the FAA, and OFA will then process the payment. So OFA will not process the payment until we received the subscription form and certificate from MOE.

Am I right that you want me to prepare a draft that includes the revisions which are not objectionable?

I want to reiterate that the draft received back from MoE substantially changes the role from what I understand that the OFA has agreed.

Under the MoE draft

1. The subscription form is provided by OPG to MoE and the OFA. I note that since the OFA is not a party to the master subscription agreement and OPG is not a party to this MOU the source of this obligation for OPG is not clear.
2. The OFA then agrees to pay the amount requested by OPG based on an annual payment direction provided by MoE unless MoE notifies the OFA that the payment is not to be made.
3. The provision in the OFA draft for MoE to deliver a copy of the signed subscription form to the OFA is deleted.
4. The OFA is to deliver the s. 11.4 FAA certificate.
5. The limited responsibility of the OFA set out in s. 4 of the OFA draft is deleted.

This process takes the OFA far beyond the simple payments function contemplated in the OFA draft MOU.

It seems to me that MoE is attempting to avoid responsibilities which it cannot avoid.

The share subscription transaction requires that the subscription form be executed by MoE. To execute the form MoE will be required to confirm that the amount requested is appropriate. Having done this there is no reason why MoE should not also execute the s. 11.4 certificate. I also do not understand why this process could not easily include the provision of notice to the OFA to make the payment.

The process proposed by MoE appears to contemplate that the request by OPG is in the nature of an invoice which could simply be paid by the OFA. This fails to recognise the necessity for the subscription form to be executed before payment can be made. The subscription form can only be executed by MoE.

Would it be worthwhile to pursue these issues with MoE before preparing a further draft or do you prefer to send over the OFA draft, modified to reflect the MoE terminology changes?

John and Gavin

There are some changes in terminology in the MoE draft which could could be incorporated into the OFA draft if you wish if the direction of the OFA draft is confirmed.

The draft MOU attached to your e-mail (v.6 clean) is the last draft on which I have signed off.

Subsequent to that draft the attached marked up draft was provided to me. My view is that this draft contains a revised structure which is unacceptable to the OFA. I have not provided any comments on this draft pending further discussions with OFA staff.

Hi Ken,

Hope all is going well! Just want to refresh the OFA MOU with Energy on the Fair Hydro Plan. Attached is the latest draft we have, are you aware of any updates that we should make to the MOU?

Energy is likely to reach out to us again on this MOU.

The current plan is to enter into a separate MOU for the Fair Hydro Plan. A draft of that MOU is currently with John Kim and Ken Kandeepan for comment.

<OREC-Fair Hydro MOU - Energy-OFA Draft 07-20-2017 Clean.docx>

Memorandum of Understanding
Relating to the
Fair Hydro Plan

Dated: XXXXXXX

Between:

Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario
as represented by the Minister of Energy (the "Minister")

And:

Ontario Financing Authority
an agency of the Province of Ontario (the "OFA")

Whereas:

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP").

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") provides the right for IESO to create certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets may be acquired from the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") by one or more special purpose financing entities, under the Act established by OPG to implement the FHP (each an "OPG Financing Entity"), which are expected to include a Fair Hydro Trust.

3. An OPG Financing Entity is expected to acquire the Assets monthly from the IESO and will finance the Assets in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Minister has agreed to provide up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding an OPG Financing Entity's subordinated debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG has amended its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares").

6. The Minister will subscribe for Class A Shares monthly.

7. Each month OPG will deliver to the Minister a share subscription form (the "Share Subscription") setting out the amount of equity injection required (the "Subscription Payment") and the corresponding number of Class A Shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed for by the Minister.

8. The Minister is required to pay the Subscription Payments out of amounts appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose for the fiscal year in which the payment is made ("Appropriated Amount").

~~Upon receipt of the Share Subscription, the Ministry of Energy will conduct the necessary due diligence to ensure that the documentation supports the Subscription Payment and that the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.~~

~~8. The Minister will provide a copy of the certificate for the Subscription Payment to the OFA, under section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act.~~

9. The Minister has advised the OFA that the Minister is required to make the Subscription Payments within [*] business days of the receipt by the Minister of the Share Subscription (the "Share Subscription Payment Date").

10. The Minister considers it advisable for the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Minister and the OFA has agreed to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Minister.

11. The Minister and the OFA wish to enter into this MOU to confirm their agreement regarding the terms on which the OFA will make the Subscription Payments.

Commented [KR1]: The obligation to ensure that the Appropriated Amount is sufficient is already included in Section 2 (b). In my view it is beyond the scope of the OFA's responsibilities as payment agent to require MoE to carry out due diligence.

Commented [KR2]: This is already addressed on section 1. (ii).

Therefore:

The Minister and the OFA agree as follows:

1. Payment Authorization

(i) The Minister authorizes the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Minister and the OFA agrees to make the Payments on behalf of the Minister.

(ii) The Minister shall ensure that the certificate under section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act (reproduced as Schedule A to this MOU) required for each of the Subscription Payments is ~~obtained~~completed, and shall provide the OFA with a copy of such certificate within [*] days after the Subscription Payment is made ~~by~~to OPG.

(iii) It is agreed by the Minister and the OFA that the OFA is acting as an agent, on behalf of the Minister, for the purposes of

i. Transacting with the Ontario Shared Services "IFIS" system in order to access funds appropriated for the Minister in respect of the Fair Hydro Plan, and

ii. Making the required Subscription Payments on behalf of the Minister as further described in this MOU.

2. Payment Process

a) The Minister will take all necessary steps to provide the OFA with a good quality unapproved electronic copy of each Share Subscription, on the same day the Minister receives the Share Subscription from OPG to allow the OFA to begin the procedures for making the Subscription Payment.

b) The Minister will deliver to the OFA a good quality copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by [insert appropriate MoE official] at least three business days before the Share Subscription Payment Date. The approval for payment shall include confirmation that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment. Upon receipt of the executed and approved Share Subscription, the OFA will make the Subscription Payment on behalf of the Minister, in the amount of the Share Subscription.

c) The OFA shall not be required to make any Subscription Payment on behalf of the Minister if the Minister has not delivered to the OFA an executed and approved Share Subscription as provided in paragraph b) above.

d) The Subscription Payments will be made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the amount of each Subscription Payment will be entered by the OFA via a journal entry into the Province's IFIS system under a pre-defined Minister account immediately upon the completion of the Subscription Payment or shortly thereafter.

3. Reporting Requirements and Records

a) The OFA will deliver a notice by e-mail to the Minister's contact person to confirm the completion of each Subscription Payment in the amount of the Share Subscription.

b) The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to the Share Subscriptions for a period of seven (7) years.

c) The requirements under this section shall survive any termination of the MOU.

d) The Public Accounts, Volume 3 reporting related to the Subscription payments will be performed by the Minister.

4. Limited Role of the OFA

The OFA will only be responsible for making the Subscription Payments in accordance with section 2 and reporting and record keeping in accordance with section 3. For greater clarity, the OFA will not be responsible for auditing or otherwise verifying the correctness of the Share Subscriptions; monitoring the OPG's application of the Subscription Payments;

monitoring the balance from time to time of the Appropriated Amount; or ensuring the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.

5. Review and Termination

a) The Minister and the OFA will review this MOU as necessary.

b) This MOU may be terminated by either party at any time, on 90 days' notice.

c) Upon termination of this MOU, provided the OFA has the power and authority to make such Subscription Payments, the OFA will make Subscription Payments in respect of executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Minister to the OFA on or before the date of termination in accordance with subsection 2(c) of this MOU, but will not be obligated to make any further Subscription Payments on any executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Minister to the OFA after the date of termination of this MOU. All provisions of this MOU relating to Subscription Payments made by OFA will continue to apply with respect to such Subscription Payments made by the OFA after the termination date, notwithstanding termination of this MOU.

d) The parties will cooperate to help to ensure a smooth transition of the payment function upon termination.

6. No Service Charges

The OFA will not charge the Minister for the OFA's services or for its disbursements or other expenses incurred under this MOU.

7. Contacts

a) Each party shall designate a member of its staff to be a contact person for the purposes of administering this MOU.

b) As of the date of this MOU the OFA's contact persons are:

Hi John,

Energy is asking for comments on the MOU. We can review, but considering this is FHP, I assume other areas of the OFA are involved, no?

I think I bought some time, but at the very least we can give other areas a heads up. I remember reviewing the OREC MOU, but forgot who we had to deal with outside our branch. Gavin, I know Salman was working on it, would you know as well?

Thanks,
Shajee

Hi Shajee,

Please find the document attached. The timeline has some leeway, but we would like to get through this process as soon as possible. Also for reference, the mechanics of the Fair Hydro Plan processes that will involve the OFA are quite similar to the OREC.

Thank you for following up on this.

Hi Robert,

I didn't get the attachment in the previous email.

On the timeline for July 24 EOD, please note we may have to involve other areas of the OFA (legal, capital markets, or treasury division), particularly as unlike the OREC MOU which had the prior OCEB MOU to be based on, the mechanics behind the FHP may be different. If it's a hard deadline, it might be helpful to send this via more senior channels.

We'll do what we can for now.

Thanks,
Shajee

Hi Gavin,

I hope you are the correct contact for this as we worked through the OREC MOU together. If not can you please direct me to the correct contact?

The Ministry is aiming to revise its Memorandum of Understanding with the OFA to include provisions to give the OFA authority to make payments for the new Fair Hydro Plan programs. We will provide the cost centre information and payment information. The payments will work similar to how they currently work for the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers. The document is based on the OREC MOU and has been updated to include provisions for the Fair Hydro Plan.

We are on a bit of a time crunch as we would like to have this in place before payments need to be made (mid-August). Can you please review the attached MOU and provide any comments/requested changes by Monday, July 24 EOD?

8. Reimbursement for OREC, FNDC, RRRP, DRP and OESP (collectively "Reimbursement") will flow to the persons or entities entitled to receive it ("Payment Recipients") through the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") in accordance with the ORECA and the OEBA;

9. Under the ORECA and the OEBA, the Ministry will be required to pay amounts to the IESO on account of the Reimbursement (the "Payments") out of the moneys appropriated for that purpose by the Legislature ("Appropriated Amounts");

Therefore:

The Ministry and the OFA agree as follows:

1. Payment Authorization

(i) The Ministry authorizes the OFA to make the Payments on behalf of the Ministry and the OFA agrees to make the Payments on behalf of the Ministry.

(ii) The Ministy shall ensure that the certificate under section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act required for each of the Payments is obtained.

ii. Making the required Payments on behalf of the Ministry as further described in this Amended MOU.

2. Payment Process

b) To enable the OFA to make the Payments on behalf of the Ministry, the Ministry will take all necessary steps to provide the OFA with access to the IESO Portal so that the OFA will have access to each IESO invoice and settlement statement to the Ministry, at the same time the IESO issues the invoice or settlement statement to the Ministry.

c) The OFA will make each Payment on behalf of the Ministry, in the amount of the applicable IESO invoice, upon receiving authorization from the Ministry to do so. Authorization will be given by way of an e-mail to the OFA contact person at their e-mail address as provided in section 8.

d) The Payments will be made in accordance with the IESO Market Rules and IESO Manuals for settlements and billing of market participants, as amended from time to time.

b) The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to Payments in respect of the OREC, FDNC, RRRP, DRP and OESP Assistance for a period of seven (7) years, and will provide the Ministry with electronic copies (or paper copies, if requested by the Ministry) of such of those records as the Ministry may request from time to time.

c) The requirements under this section shall survive any termination of this Amended MOU.

d) The Public Accounts reporting related to the Payments will be performed by the Ministry.

4. OREC Cost Forecasting

a) The Ministry and the OFA will work together to prepare and review cost forecasts, estimates, and analysis related to the OREC.

b) The OFA will be entitled to use, for the purposes contemplated in paragraph 4 a), the IESO invoices and settlement statements relating to the OREC that are accessed by the OFA through the IESO Portal. The Ministry will also provide to the OFA, for the same purposes, any OREC related reports to the IESO from Payment Recipients ("OREC Payment Recipients"), that are received by the Ministry. The Ministry will also provide the OFA with electronic portal access to OREC related data and reports by OREC Payment Recipients as provided to the Ministry through its electronic portal reporting process.

c) The OFA and the Ministry will collaborate to prepare fiscal year cost estimates and monthly cashflow estimates for OREC.

d) The OFA and the Ministry will ensure senior management in their respective organizations are briefed and updated on the OREC forecasting on a regular basis to ensure there is mutual understanding and agreement on the forecasts.

e) The Ministry and the OFA acknowledge and agree that the actual costs of OREC may not be the same as the forecasted costs, and that the OFA bears no liability for any differences between the forecast and actual costs of OREC, nor does the OFA have any responsibility for any application to Treasury Board for the Appropriated Amount or for a change in the Appropriated Amount for OREC.

5. Limited Role of the OFA

The OFA will only be responsible for making the Payments in accordance with section 2 and assisting in OREC cost forecasting in accordance with section 4. For greater clarity, the OFA will not be responsible for auditing or otherwise verifying the correctness of the IESO invoices, monitoring the IESO's application of the Payments, monitoring the balance from time to time of the Appropriated Amount, or ensuring the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.

6. Review and Termination

a) The Ministry and the OFA will review this Amended MOU annually.

b) This Amended MOU may be terminated by either party at any time, on 90 days notice.

c) Upon termination of this Amended MOU, the OFA will cease to make any Payments.

I have prepared the attached draft certificate.

Energy would like to have a chat with us on Thursday, so we are trying to proactive on getting things ready prior to that meeting. While waiting for Ken K. to looking for an example of certificate, I just crafted one up. Would you mind taking a look and let me know if something like this would work at all?

The subscription form is a schedule to the subscription agreement between MoE and OPG. I do not have a current draft of that agreement.

I added some more wording on the process based on our conversation, to state that, OPG will send the subscription form to MOE, which MOE will review and complete their due diligence. Once that's done, their Deputy of the Minister will provide us a copy of the certification under s.11.4 of the FAA, and OFA will then process the payment.

Please let me know if there's anything I misunderstood. Have a great weekend.

Thanks,

Section 11.4 of the FAA does not specify a time for the delivery of the certificate. In the case at hand the certificate could be provided at the time the subscription form is executed by MoE. The certificate cannot be executed prior to that time because the certificate will state that OPG is entitled to the payment which will not be the case until the subscription form is executed.

A copy of the certificate could be provided to the OFA at the same time as OFA is provided a copy of the executed subscription form, and this would in fact be the best practice.

Hi Ken,

IESO has a question about the s.11.4 certificate. Currently, our draft MOU says:

"(ii) The Minister shall ensure that the certificate under section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act (reproduced as Schedule A to this MOU) required for each of the Subscription Payments is obtained, and shall provide the OFA with a copy of such certificate within [*] days after the Subscription Payment is made."

Is there a reason why the certificate is to be delivered after the subscription payment is made but not before?

John

Am I right that you want me to prepare a draft that includes the revisions which are not objectionable?

I want to reiterate that the draft received back from MoE substantially changes the role from what I understand that the OFA has agreed.

Under the MoE draft

1. The subscription form is provided by OPG to MoE and the OFA. I note that since the OFA is not a party to the master subscription agreement and OPG is not a party to this MOU the source of this obligation for OPG is not clear.
2. The OFA then agrees to pay the amount requested by OPG based on an annual payment direction provided by MoE unless MoE notifies the OFA that the payment is not to be made.
3. The provision in the OFA draft for MoE to deliver a copy of the signed subscription form to the OFA is deleted.
4. The OFA is to deliver the s. 11.4 FAA certificate.
5. The limited responsibility of the OFA set out in s. 4 of the OFA draft is deleted.

This process takes the OFA far beyond the simple payments function contemplated in the OFA draft MOU.

It seems to me that MoE is attempting to avoid responsibilities which it cannot avoid.

The share subscription transaction requires that the subscription form be executed by MoE. To execute the form MoE will be required to confirm that the amount requested is appropriate. Having done this there is no reason why MoE should not also execute the s. 11.4 certificate. I also do not understand why this process could not easily include the provision of notice to the OFA to make the payment.

The process proposed by MoE appears to contemplate that the request by OPG is in the nature of an invoice which could simply be paid by the OFA. This fails to recognise the necessity for the subscription form to be executed before payment can be made. The subscription form can only be executed by MoE.

Would it be worthwhile to pursue these issues with MoE before preparing a further draft or do you prefer to send over the OFA draft, modified to reflect the MoE terminology changes?

There are some changes in terminology in the MoE draft which could could be incorporated into the OFA draft if you wish if the direction of the OFA draft is confirmed.

Hi Gavin,

I hope you are the correct contact for this as we worked through the OREC MOU together. If not can you please direct me to the correct contact?

The Ministry is aiming to revise its Memorandum of Understanding with the OFA to include provisions to give the OFA authority to make payments for the new Fair Hydro Plan programs. We will provide the cost centre information and payment information. The payments will work similar to how they currently work for the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers. The document is based on the OREC MOU and has been updated to include provisions for the Fair Hydro Plan.

We are on a bit of a time crunch as we would like to have this in place before payments need to be made (mid-August). Can you please review the attached MOU and provide any comments/requested changes by Monday, July 24 EOD?

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Hi Ron,

At the end of last month, Energy reached out to EFB to touch base on the MOU between MOE and OFA for the service agreement on FHP. In the previous draft version of the MOU, it was mentioned that OFA would get confirmation of the equity injection amount from MOE via the Subscription Form and the Certificate Form under section 11.4 of the FAA. So Energy has reached out to see if we have an example of the Certificate that we can share with them. Ken Russell said that OFA does not have a precedent section 11.4 certificate, so he drafted the attached certificate to be shared with Energy.

In the previous draft of the Master Subscription Agreement, it seems the templates of those two forms will be included, Energy has invited us to a meeting today to discuss questions with OPG re Master Subscription Agreement. Ken Russell, John, and myself are attending the meeting today.

Are you okay with us sharing the attached draft Certificate Form with Energy at a staff level? Also, I have attached the previous draft of the MOU provided by OFA Legal for your reference.

Memorandum of Understanding
Relating to the
Fair Hydro Plan

Dated: XXXXXXX

Between:

Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario
as represented by the Minister of Energy (the "Minister")

And:

Ontario Financing Authority
an agency of the Province of Ontario (the "OFA")

Whereas:

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP").

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") provides the right for IESO to create certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets may be acquired from the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") by one or more special purpose financing entities, under the Act established by OPG to implement the FHP (each an "OPG Financing Entity"), which are expected to include a Fair Hydro Trust.

3. An OPG Financing Entity is expected to acquire the Assets monthly from the IESO and will finance the Assets in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Minister has agreed to provide up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding an OPG Financing Entity's subordinated debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG has amended its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares").

6. The Minister will subscribe for Class A Shares monthly.

7. Each month OPG will deliver to the Minister a share subscription form (the "Share Subscription") setting out the amount of equity injection required (the "Subscription Payment") and the corresponding number of Class A Shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed for by the Minister.

8. The Minister is required to pay the Subscription Payments out of amounts appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose for the fiscal year in which the payment is made ("Appropriated Amount").

9. The Minister has advised the OFA that the Minister is required to make the Subscription Payments within [*] business days of the receipt by the Minister of the Share Subscription (the "Share Subscription Payment Date").

10. The Minister considers it advisable for the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Minister and the OFA has agreed to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Minister.

11. The Minister and the OFA wish to enter into this MOU to confirm their agreement regarding the terms on which the OFA will make the Subscription Payments.

Therefore:

The Minister and the OFA agree as follows:

1. Payment Authorization

(i) The Minister authorizes the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of the Minister and the OFA agrees to make the Payments on behalf of the Minister.

(ii) The Minister shall ensure that the certificate under section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act (reproduced as Schedule A to this MOU) required for each of the Subscription Payments is ~~obtained~~completed, and shall provide the OFA with a copy of such certificate within [*] days after the Subscription Payment is made ~~by~~to OPG.

(iii) It is agreed by the Minister and the OFA that the OFA is acting as an agent, on behalf of the Minister, for the purposes of

i. Transacting with the Ontario Shared Services "IFIS" system in order to access funds appropriated for the Minister in respect of the Fair Hydro Plan, and

ii. Making the required Subscription Payments on behalf of the Minister as further described in this MOU.

2. Payment Process

a) The Minister will take all necessary steps to provide the OFA with a good quality unapproved electronic copy of each Share Subscription, on the same day the Minister receives the Share Subscription from OPG to allow the OFA to begin the procedures for making the Subscription Payment.

b) The Minister will deliver to the OFA a good quality copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by [insert appropriate MoE official] at least three business days before the Share Subscription Payment Date. The approval for payment shall include confirmation that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment. Upon receipt of the executed and approved Share Subscription, the OFA will make the Subscription Payment on behalf of the Minister, in the amount of the Share Subscription.

c) The OFA shall not be required to make any Subscription Payment on behalf of the Minister if the Minister has not delivered to the OFA an executed and approved Share Subscription as provided in paragraph b) above.

d) The Subscription Payments will be made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the amount of each Subscription Payment will be entered by the OFA via a journal entry into the Province's IFIS system under a pre-defined Minister account immediately upon the completion of the Subscription Payment or shortly thereafter.

3. Reporting Requirements and Records

a) The OFA will deliver a notice by e-mail to the Minister's contact person to confirm the completion of each Subscription Payment in the amount of the Share Subscription.

b) The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to the Share Subscriptions for a period of seven (7) years.

c) The requirements under this section shall survive any termination of the MOU.

d) The Public Accounts, Volume 3 reporting related to the Subscription payments will be performed by the Minister.

4. Limited Role of the OFA

The OFA will only be responsible for making the Subscription Payments in accordance with section 2 and reporting and record keeping in accordance with section 3. For greater clarity, the OFA will not be responsible for auditing or otherwise verifying the correctness of the Share Subscriptions; monitoring the OPG's application of the Subscription Payments; monitoring the balance from time to time of the Appropriated Amount; or ensuring the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.

5. Review and Termination

a) The Minister and the OFA will review this MOU as necessary.

b) This MOU may be terminated by either party at any time, on 90 days' notice.

c) Upon termination of this MOU, provided the OFA has the power and authority to make such Subscription Payments, the OFA will make Subscription Payments in respect of executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Minister to the OFA on or before the date of termination in accordance with subsection 2(c) of this MOU, but will not be obligated to make any further Subscription Payments on any executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by the Minister to the OFA after the date of termination of this MOU. All provisions of this MOU relating to Subscription Payments made by OFA will continue to apply with respect to such Subscription Payments made by the OFA after the termination date, notwithstanding termination of this MOU.

d) The parties will cooperate to help to ensure a smooth transition of the payment function upon termination.

6. No Service Charges

The OFA will not charge the Minister for the OFA's services or for its disbursements or other expenses incurred under this MOU.

Background

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP"). The Act's purpose is, among other things, to ensure that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits are fairly allocated among present and future specified consumers.

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") creates certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets will be acquired from the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") by the special purpose financing entity established by OPG to implement the financing plan to fund the deferral under the Act (the "Financing Entity").

3. The Financing Entity will acquire the Assets periodically from IESO and finance them in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. The Province has agreed to fund up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding the Financing Entity's debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG will amend its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares"). The Province will subscribe for Class A Shares periodically in accordance with the process set forth in this Agreement and OPG will, in turn, invest these amounts in debt of the Financing Entity.

6. OPG will be entitled from time to time to redeem or buy back outstanding Class A Shares in connection with repayment of the Financing Entity debt or other purposes as may be approved by the OPG board of directors.

7. The parties desire to set out in this Agreement the process and mechanisms by which the equity injections and share purchases will occur and their respective roles and responsibilities in the Equity Injection Plan.

NOW THEREFORE the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Confirmation of Equity Injection and Use of Funds

1.1 The Province commits to fund up to 44% of the total financing required by the Financing Entity, to acquire Assets from the IESO under the Act and Regulations, by way of equity subscriptions in OPG.

1.2 OPG agrees to use the funds from the equity received from the Province solely to lend to the Financing Entity to fund the Financing Entity's obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement between the IESO and the Financing Entity, and the Act and Regulations.

2. Share Subscription Process

2.1 The Province will subscribe for and purchase Class A Shares from OPG, in an amount, and for a value, as determined by OPG in accordance with paragraph 2.2 below.

2.2 Periodically, coincident with the asset acquisitions to be made by the Financing Entity from the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, OPG will provide notice to the Province of the amount of equity injection required and the corresponding number of shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed by the Province. This notice will be substantially in the form of the Share Subscription attached as Exhibit A. OPG will also provide reasonable supporting information for the values and amounts set out in the Share Subscription, substantially in the form of the Subscription Supporting Information attached as Exhibit B.

2.3 For purposes of providing the reasonable supporting information required under paragraph 2.2 above, OPG agrees that:

(i) the amount of each equity injection/share subscription will reflect the funding requirements of the Financing Entity acquisitions under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement; and

(ii) the Class A Shares will be issued to the Province at a per share price equal to the value of Shareholder's Equity, as determined by the last approved quarterly financial statements of OPG, divided by the aggregate number of issued and outstanding Common Shares and Class A Shares.

2.4 Within five Business Days of receipt of the notice and supporting information described in paragraph 2.2, the Province will deliver the executed Share Subscription to OPG and wire transfer, in immediately available funds, the required equity funds in accordance with the payment instructions set out in Exhibit D or as may be otherwise provided by OPG from time to time. For purposes of this Agreement, "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day on which banking institutions in Toronto, Ontario are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

2.5 OPG will issue a receipt to the Province, substantially in the form of Exhibit C attached, confirming receipt of the equity amount and certifying as to the update of OPG's corporate share register with issue of the shares in the name of the Province.

2.6 The first equity injection/share subscription is expected to occur in the fourth quarter of 2017. Equity injections will continue periodically so long as the Financing Entity is purchasing assets and incurring debt obligations, including debt in favour of OPG, pursuant to the Act and Regulations.

3. Equity Requirement Forecasts and Approvals

3.1 OPG will prepare and submit forecasts of equity requirements for the applicable business planning period as part of its business plan submissions to the Province in accordance with the Memorandum of Agreement between the Province and OPG effective July 17, 2015 (the "MOA") as amended, restated or replaced from time to time. For clarity, OPG will submit annually, as part of its business plan submissions, the FHP equity requirements forecast for the upcoming 3 years.

3.2 OPG's equity requirement forecast submissions will include all reasonable supporting information and documentation.

3.3 The Province confirms that OPG's equity requirement forecasts submitted with OPG's business plans will not require concurrence by the Province as set out in the MOA.

3.4 In accordance with the submissions made under paragraph 3.1 above, the Province will seek appropriations for the upcoming 3 year period to support the equity injections.

4. Share Redemption Process

4.1 The Province and OPG will agree to the required process for any future redemption by OPG of outstanding Class A Shares before the first share redemption, and in any case no later than 90 Business Days before the effective date of such redemption.

Gavin He has just provided to me a markup from MoE of the OREC MOU to include Fair Hydro Plan payments. I have advised him that the current plan is to have a separate MOU for the Fair Hydro Plan.

One thing I note in the draft I received is that it contemplates payments directly from MoE to the IESO. Can you confirm to me that there are no such payments contemplated under the Fair Hydro Plan.

Hi All

We discussed a number of options with TDS yesterday on the type of equity to be issued by OPG to the Province in relation to the equity injection.

While the preferred equity option did present some attractive features from the perspective of tracking and perhaps an increased level of assurance to the Province with regard to dividend payments, Gadi suggests that we move forward with the common equity option from the twin objectives of simplicity as well as safeguarding the 20% of common equity limitation on the value of preferred equity. The latter is an important criteria from the perspective of the Rating Agencies.

There are a couple of issues yet to be resolved with regard to the common equity option:

- The possibility of issuing common equity as "Class B" shares thus differentiating the share issued by OPG under the equity injection from the existing shares owned by the Province. This makes it easier to track and to accrue dividends.
- The share price attributable to each share issued under the equity injection; approximate book value or some other methodology. Note that OPG's annual report does not indicate a share price, however, the notes to the F/S provide the number of shares and the value of the Province's original investment allowing the reader to work out a per share value of $20 which corresponds to what the Province carries in its own books.

We will work with all of you and consult with TDS on developing options on the above.

Thanks

Ken k

Hi John, looks like there are some staff level discussions happening on this. As you can appreciate, the Fair Hydro Plan programs are significant and we need to ensure that rebates are provided in a timely manner.

Please let me know what the next steps are. We shared an MOU at the staff level a few weeks back on this

Briefing Note: Payment of Programs under the Fair Hydro Plan

ISSUE:

- The Ministry of Energy is requesting the office of the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) to process the payments for the programs implemented under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan, 2017, similar to the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2017. (OREC) These Fair Hydro Plan programs are critical to the successful deliverance of the Government's priority of helping Ontarian's to manage their electricity bills. If payments are not made in a timely manner, there will be a number of cash flow and communications issues that will affect the Government and its agencies, and potentially all eligible Ontarians.

SUMMARY:

Purpose of the Payment

- The Ministry of Energy is seeking to process payments through the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) for the monthly costs of the programs for the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan (OFHP) for approximately $15,000,000 monthly (split across 3 programs, First Nations Delivery Credit, Distribution Rate Protection, Rural or Remote Electricity Rate Protection) to be payable to the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO).
    - A fourth program will require payments at a later date (OESP).
- Currently the OFA processes the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers (OREC) in this manner and this request is being made to use the same process to ensure the smooth transition of implementation as well as the transferring of the funds to the applicable entities that have implemented the programs as per legislation.

Method of Payment

- The payment will be done in the same manner as what is being done for OREC.
- One invoice will be issued by the IESO through their portal and will be sent to the OFA for payment. (See Appendix A for sample of new invoice)
- The appropriate IFIS account codes will identify the correct allocation of the funds
- . These IFIS account codes will be provided to the OFA in advance of the first payment.
- All payments for the FHP programs will need to be issued on the same date, once a month.

Background

- This payment approval is being sought so as to ensure the timely payment of these funds to the IESO to be returned to the Local Distributors who have already applied the credits to their customers' bills.
- The request is being made because of the tight timelines that are established by the IESO for payment by/to the Local Distributors. This process has been in place for a long time and it has proven to be effective and efficient.
- The OFA also historically made payments for the Ontario Clean Energy Benefit which is expected to have no further payments past August 2017.

Deliverables:

- The Ministry of Energy, Strategic, Network and Agency Policy (SNAP) Division has a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the OFA to process the OREC payments according to the above request.
- This approval is seeking to add the OFHP program payments to the same process and/or to the MOU if necessary.

Risk Analysis:

- The approval is being sought to avoid the risk of delayed payment to the IESO.
- The costs associated with a delayed payment process would impact the IESO and the Local Distributors in a negative manner and could cause cash flow issues with all entities.
- The Ministry will also be subject to interest charges for any delayed payments.
- Other options available for making these payments to the IESO are currently unknown.

Timeframe:

- As per the current process with the OREC and the OCEB, the Ministry receives the reports and invoice from the IESO through their portal.
- This is received on the 10th business day of the month.
- It is then processed for approval and the OFA issues the payment directly to the IESO within the following 2 business days.
- It is important that the funds are received by the IESO in accordance with the IESO market rules and settlements calendars so that the credits can be applied to the appropriate Local Distributors.
- In most cases, save for holiday interruptions, payment is required by the IESO on the 12th business day.

Costs and Funding:

- The Ministry has an agreement with the IESO that they will not charge us for the processing of the collecting of information as well as disbursing the funds appropriately. The Ministry is managing the approval process and sending the invoice to the OFA.

- Under the current MOU, the OFA does not charge the Ministry for its services or for its disbursements incurred under the MOU agreement. The update to the MOU would not incur any further administration on the part of the OFA. All charges will be on one invoice. (See Appendix A)
- The funding of these programs has been reassigned to the tax base as per the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

OFHP Business Issues

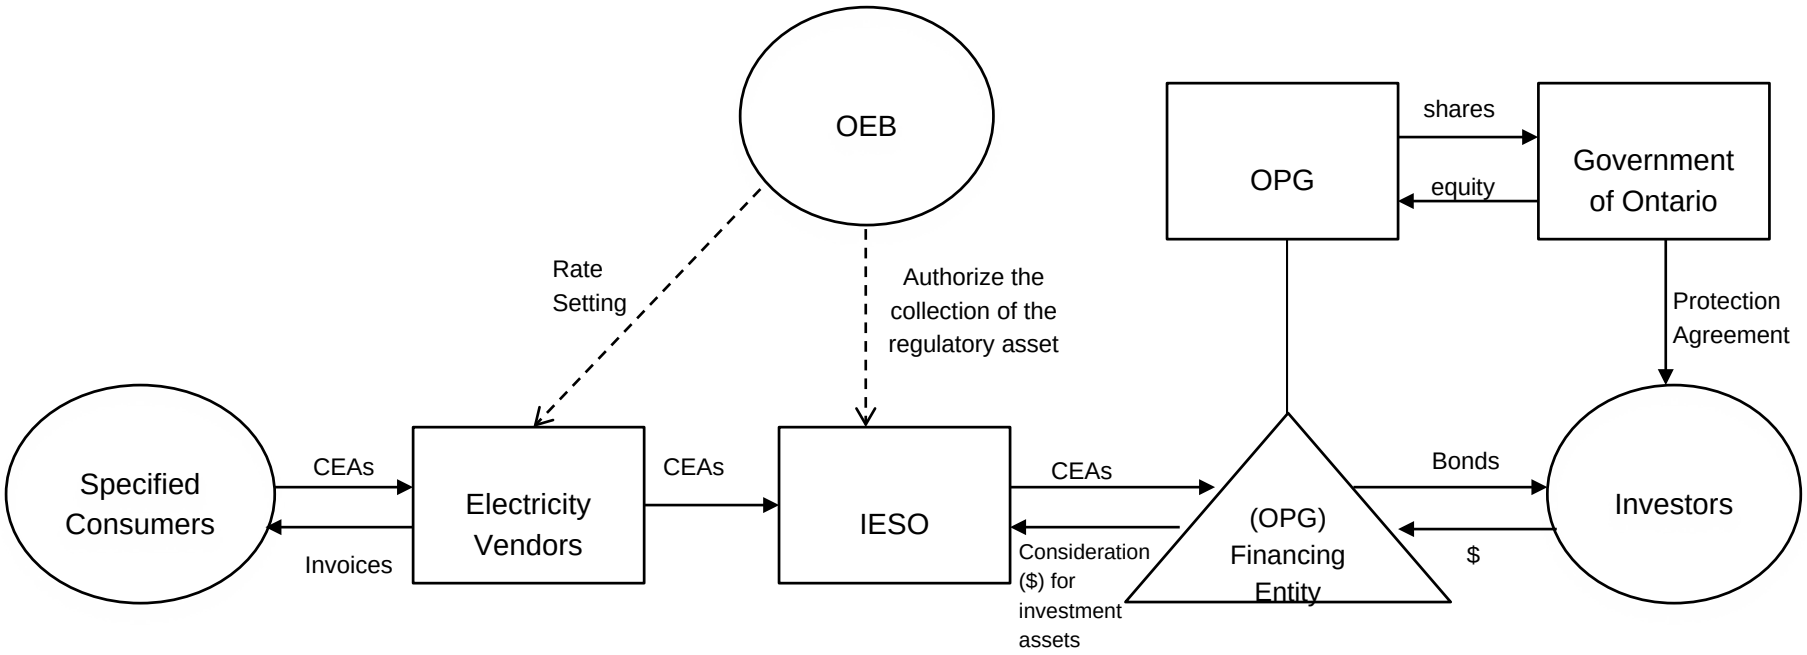
DRAFT – September 11, 2017

CONFIDENTIAL & COMMERCIALLY SENSITIVE

Context: GA Financing

- The Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017, enables the IESO to establish a variance account to record the deferral amounts from the difference between collections from current ratepayers and payment obligations to generators and conservation, and to create a regulatory asset as the Act provides the IESO the right to recover the balance in the variance account
  - The IESO can then sell the regulatory asset – the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future
  - OPG, as the Financial Services Manager, is authorized to establish one or more financing entities that may incur funding obligations
  - The financing entity will purchase the regulatory asset, effectively financing the IESO's shortfall in current rates not received from ratepayers
- In order to support the establishment of a financing entity, facilitate ongoing funding requirements of the Global Adjustment and optimize ratepayer impacts, OPG and the Province are working on finalizing the details for a number of business issues, including:
  - Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement (PPAA)
  - Fair Allocation Amount (FAA)
  - Management Fees Regulation
  - Moratorium Period Interest and Fee Recovery
  - Equity Injections
  - Subordinated Debt Agreement
  - PILs Exemption

Global Adjustment Refinancing – Roles and Responsibilities



Note: CEAs are “clean energy adjustments”

Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, the Financing Entity must borrow a portion of the funds from capital markets (planned to be 51%, with other financing to come from OPG and, indirectly, the Province)
    - OPG's financial advisors have indicated that without adequate protection against legislative, judicial and organizational risk, the debt would not be financeable or would result in higher financing costs, to be passed on to ratepayers
- Upon receiving TB/MBC approval, and as contemplated under the Act, the Province has agreed to provide a protection agreement that supports the Financing Entity and prospective debt holders such that, under certain circumstances, the Province would take over the funding obligations of the Financing Entity, including:
    - Actions of the Legislative Assembly that undermine the financing arrangement, i.e., repeal or amendment of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, or new legislation that adversely affect the Financing Entity
    - A court decision that declares the rights of the Financing Entity to recover amounts from ratepayers to be invalid or unenforceable

Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement (Con't)

- In the event the protection agreement is triggered, the Province will be required to pay the obligations of the Financing Entity including principal and interest payments on debt issued to date, any payments to derivatives counterparties and any outstanding payments to service providers
    - The Province could potentially service the debt and other obligations and could replace OPG as the financial services manager
- The protection agreement may need to be revised at a future date, or approval from the Province may be required, if the financing entity must access US market as investors in that market will likely require additional compensation if the assumption agreement is triggered
- The Province will take on a contingent liability, which will increase over the duration of the Fair Hydro Plan and peak at an estimated $20B of debt (final cost forecasts TBC), including principal and accumulated interest
- In the event the protection agreement is triggered, the Province's net debt will most likely increase by an amount equal to the contingent liability at that point in time
    - The Province's interest payments will also increase by the debt interest servicing of the debt payment obligations it has assumed under the protection agreement
    - IOD expense may increase between $0.8B and $1.0B per annum, assuming the protection agreement is triggered when debt is at its peak, and depending on the interest rate at which the Financing entity will be able to borrow at

Next Steps:

- Province to work with OPG and external legal counsel to finalise the Protection Agreement

Fair Allocation Amount

Overview:

- xx

Next Steps:

- xx

Management Fees Regulation

Overview:

- Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) has been appointed the Financial Services Manager under the Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 to, among other things evaluate whether funding obligations should be incurred by the Trust for the purpose of acquiring and financing an investment interest.
- The Act enables OPG to achieve its accounting objective of consolidation of the Trust with OPG, and the ability to earn a return and take on risk, through its control of the Trust.
- The fee will have a fixed and variable component and be determined by formulas set out in a regulation, which as currently drafted includes:
    - Base fee: Monthly fee calculated as 10 basis points on monthly funding obligation when the annual funding obligation is less than $10B, and 8 basis points on the monthly funding obligation when the annual funding obligation is greater than $10B.
    - Variable fee: Annual fee of 5% of the difference difference between forecast and actual interest rates achieved for each of its funding tranches
- The OEB will have a role in reviewing OPG's fees to ensure that the fees are consistent with prevailing market comparators

Next Steps:

- The Province is working with the OEB and OPG to develop a regulation setting out how the fees would be calculated including appropriate comparators for the OEBs review

Moratorium Period Interest and Fee Recovery

Overview:

- xx

Next Steps:

- xx

Equity Injections

Overview:

- To purchase the regulatory asset from the IESO, an OPG financing entity would be established and borrow funds from the following:
  - Capital markets (51%)
  - Subordinated OPG debt, financed through equity injections from the Province (44%) and OPG, financing from capital markets (5%)
- OPG will require equity injections on an ongoing basis in order to provide the 44% share of financing for the financing entity to acquire the regulatory asset from IESO and keep its capital structure in line, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares to the Province as needed, under a share subscription agreement
- The Ministry of Energy will be responsible for seeking approval for the investment envelope each year and managing the share subscription arrangement with OPG
  - On a periodic basis, OPG will send a notice of share subscription to the Ministry of Energy, requesting a certain amount of equity based on the amount of the regulatory asset it plans to purchase in a fiscal year; the Ontario Financing Authority will flow the funds

Next Steps:

- OPG and the Ministry of Energy have approved the Master Subscription Agreement and will proceed to execute in the coming weeks
- The Ministry of Energy will work with the OFA to ensure a mechanism is in place to flow the funds within the required timeframes after the request is made by OPG

Subordinated Debt Agreement

Overview:

- OPG intends to lend the equity injection from the Province to the Trust by way of subordinated debt
- OPG proposes that OPG, the Fair Hydro Trust and the OFA will enter into a subordinated debt loan agreement, which outlines the terms of the subordinated debt [TBD]
- OPG has proposed that interest rates on the subordinated debt be established as follows:
  - During the Trust short term financing period, when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt [TBD]
  - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. [TBD]

Next Steps:

- OPG to incorporate the Province's comments into the next draft of the Subordinated Debt Agreement, which is tracking to be finalized by the end of September [TBD]

PILs Exemption

Overview:

- It is currently contemplated that the first financing entity to be established by OPG, in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, will be a trust (Trust)
- The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007
- The beneficiary of the Trust will be a corporation (Subco) that will be directly or indirectly wholly-owned by OPG
  - Subco, given it is owned by OPG, would be exempt from federal and provincial corporate taxes and property taxes payable by private sector companies, and instead make payments in lieu of taxes (PILs) to the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC)
  - PILs are used by the OEFC to help pay down its debt and other liabilities – OEFC is the legal continuation of the former Ontario Hydro
- In order to mitigate the cost to ratepayers, the Ministry of Finance plans to bring forward a proposed Minister of Finance's regulation under the Electricity Act , 1998 that would exempt Subco from paying PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust
- The Ministry of Finance will also consider similar regulations in the future should OPG establish another financing entity in its role as the Financial Services Manager

Next Steps:

- Draft letter from the Minister of Finance to OPG is in development that will provide comfort that Subco will be exempt from PILs on income received as beneficiary of the Trust.
- The Ministry of Finance is working with OPG on a draft regulation, which will be brought forward in the Fall

Fair Hydro Plan – Subordinated Debt Loan Arrangement
Term Sheet

- Parties: OPG, Fair Hydro Trust, OFA

- In accordance with the Master Subscription Agreement among OPG, OFA and Ministry of Energy, the Province agrees to inject 44% of total funding of GA asset by way of equity subscriptions in OPG, and OPG agrees to use the equity subscription amounts solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt (Equity Injection Plan) requirements as part of the Fair Hydro Plan

- OPG will lend the equity injection from the Province to Fair Hydro Trust by way of subordinated debt (one or more mezzanine level)

- Initial credit rating will be assigned to the subordinated debt of Fair Hydro Trust

- Based on monthly funding requirement of GA asset, the Trust will use short term financing, such as bank facilities, and take out bonds once accumulative short term funding reaches certain levels.

- The mechanism to implement Equity Injection Plan will be based on monthly equity injections reflecting funding requirements of GA asset

- Interest rates on the subordinated debt will be established as follows:

    - During the Trust short term financing period when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt

The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. The process will be similar to the one established for pricing of OPG debt drawn from OEFC facilities.

Hi Ken and Mike,

Last week, we attended a meeting with Energy and OPG to discuss the Master Subscription Agreement for the equity injection process. Ken Russell drafted a MOU between OFA and Energy before about making the equity injection payments on Energy's behalf. Also, Ken R. drafted a FAA section 11.4 certificate form as well. After the meeting, Ken R. has updated both document, see attached, based on the discussion.

Could you please kindly review and let us know if you have any comments/concerns by noon tomorrow, Wednesday, November 15th, 2017? In addition, could you please review and confirm questions 2&3 from Energy in below email?

Please let me know if you would like to discuss this in person, and we can set up a brief meeting. Thanks in advance for your cooperation.

Thanks,
Gavin He

Subject: OFA/Energy MOU - Follow up from Nov 9 meeting

Hi John,

Thanks for meeting with us yesterday on the equity injection process. It was helpful to have everyone together in one place.

I hope to get the ENERGY-OFA MOU completed and ready for approvals by the end of next week. In order to do that, these are the following outstanding pieces. Right now, the OFA is holding the pen on the document, so it makes sense for you to include these items in the version you are working off and we can review next week:

<!--[if !supportLists]-->1. <!--[endif]-->Template for the FAA Section 11.4 certificate. I propose we include this as a schedule to the MOU. Also, please confirm the timing of when the certificate should be provided to OFA each month i.e., alongside the share subscription form, or after the payments have been made.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->2. <!--[endif]-->Identify how ENERGY should confirm that there is sufficient Appropriated Amount for the payments each month. The need for this is identified in 2b of the draft MOU. As discussed yesterday, it would be ideal if this could be done in the same certificate mentioned above.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->3. <!--[endif]-->Confirm the following:

- <!--[if !supportLists]-->● <!--[endif]-->OFA has OPG's wire transfer information (suggest including this information as a separate schedule)
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->● <!--[endif]-->Scanned electronic copies for the share subscription form & FAA certificate are acceptable
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->● <!--[endif]-->Every month, the OFA will inform the Ministry of Energy via email once the payments have been made.

Let us know if you have any questions. We are working with our legal on the delegation memos. Also as discussed at yesterday's meeting, we will update the flowchart and circulate.

Hi everyone,

We're pulling together a product summarizing all the outstanding business issues including status/next steps with respect to the Fair Hydro Plan for the Minister of Energy

I've attempted to fill out as much as possible (Hilary there's a couple placeholder slides where I had no content but I think those would be for ESP? Please correct me if I'm wrong).

Each of you are involved in various aspects of these issues so I'm hoping you can take a look to ensure we're accurately capturing each item.

I'm away next week but if you could provide your suggested edits to Keley by next Wednesday we would appreciate it. The briefing has not yet been set up so we will keep you posted if that timing needs to change.

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

Hi Lisa,

I understand that John shared this draft MOU with you. Per Investment Governance Branch email below, I'm following up. My understanding is that the key issue that had been discussed was whether formal authorization would be required each month from the Minister of Energy for subscription payments. OFA preferred this approach, but Energy preferred an annual approval. I understand also that responsibility for due diligence was a key factor. In the attached Energy has edited to clarify that it would conduct the necessary due diligence (see 9. Below). The MOU also notes that OPG would notify both Energy and OFA of monthly subscription amounts, and that Energy would notify OPFA within 3 days if there were any issues with subscription payment to be made.

> 9. Upon receipt of the Share Subscription, ENERGY will conduct the necessary due diligence to ensure that the documentation supports the Subscription Payment and that the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.

Let me know if you have had a chance to review, and if so, what you think. I'm not sure if this was also being discussed with/reviewed by Mike Manning or Ken.

Thanks
Bruno

Memorandum of Understanding
Relating to the
Fair Hydro Plan

Dated: XXXXXXX

Between:

Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario
as represented by the Minister of Energy (~~the~~ "~~Minister~~ENERGY")

And:

Ontario Financing Authority
an agency of the Province of Ontario (the "OFA")

Whereas:

1. The Government of Ontario enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act") to implement its Fair Hydro Plan (the "FHP").

2. The Act and the regulations promulgated under the Act (the "Regulations") provides the right for IESO to create certain assets related to the deferral of electricity charges (the "Assets"), which Assets may be acquired from the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") by one or more special purpose financing entities, under the Act established by OPG to implement the FHP (each an "OPG Financing Entity"), which are expected to include a Fair Hydro Trust.

3. An OPG Financing Entity is expected to acquire the Assets monthly from the IESO and will finance the Assets in accordance with the financing plan, which includes both senior debt (minimum of 51%) from external sources and subordinated debt (up to 49%) from OPG.

4. ~~The Minister~~ENERGY has agreed to provide up to 44% of the total funding requirement for the Assets through equity injections in OPG and OPG has agreed to use the equity injections solely for funding an OPG Financing Entity's subordinated debt (the "Equity Injection Plan").

5. For purposes of the Equity Injection Plan, OPG has amended its articles to create a new class of non-voting, redeemable shares (the "Class A Shares").

6. ~~The Minister~~ENERGY will subscribe for Class A Shares [monthly].

7. Each [month] OPG will deliver to ~~the Minister~~[ENE Representative and OFA representative] a share subscription form (the "Share Subscription") setting out the amount of equity injection required (the "Subscription Payment") and the corresponding number of Class A Shares to be issued by OPG and subscribed for by ~~the Minister~~ENERGY. OPG will also include supporting documentation, including the Transfer Notice from the IESO outlining the amount of the regulatory asset to be purchased by OPG, as well as the calculation to determine the Subscription payment required at that time.

~~7.~~

8. ~~The Minister~~ENERGY is required to pay the Subscription Payments out of amounts appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose for the fiscal year in which the payment is made ("Appropriated Amount").

9. Upon receipt of the Share Subscription, ENERGY will conduct the necessary due diligence to ensure that the documentation supports the Subscription Payment and that the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.

~~8.~~10. ~~The Minister~~ENERGY has advised the OFA that ~~the Minister~~ENERGY is required to make the Subscription Payments within [*] business days of the receipt ~~by the Minister~~ of the Share Subscription (the "Share Subscription Payment Date").

~~9.~~11. ~~The Minister~~ENERGY considers it advisable for the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of ~~the Minister~~ENERGY and the OFA has agreed to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of ~~the Minister~~ENERGY.

~~10.~~12. ~~The Minister~~ENERGY and the OFA wish to enter into this MOU to confirm their agreement regarding the terms on which the OFA will make the Subscription Payments.

Therefore:

~~The Minister~~ENERGY and the OFA agree as follows:

1. Payment Authorization

(i) ~~The Minister~~ENERGY authorizes the OFA to make the Subscription Payments on behalf of ~~the Minister~~ENERGY and the OFA agrees to make the Payments on behalf of the ~~Minister~~ENERGY.

(ii) ENERGY will provide payment directions to the OFA on an annual basis enabling OFA to authorize payments up to the Appropriated Amount.

(iii) ENERGY commits to indicate within 3 days after receipt of the Share Subscription to notify the OFA in the event a Subscription Payment should not be made, otherwise the OFA is to proceed with the Subscription Payment each [month].

~~(i)~~

~~(ii)~~(iv) In accordance with 11.4 (2) of the Financial Administration Act (reproduced as Schedule A to this MOU), the Minister of Energy authorizes the OFA to ~~The Minister shall ensure that~~provide the certificate under section 11.4 of the Financial Administration Act ~~(reproduced as Schedule A to this MOU)~~ required for each of the Subscription Payments ~~is obtained, and shall provide the OFA with a copy of such certificate within [*] days after the Subscription Payment is made.~~

Commented [KC1]: The intent here is that ENE will do all the necessary due diligence, and monitor the payments etc. just trying to give OFA comfort/authority to move forward each month without requiring us to provide instructions each month to do so.

~~(iii)~~(v) It is agreed by ~~the Minister~~ENERGY and the OFA that the OFA is acting as an agent, on behalf of ~~the Minister~~ENERGY, for the purposes of

i. Transacting with the Ontario Shared Services "IFIS" system in order to access funds appropriated for the Minister in respect of the Fair Hydro Plan, and

ii. Making the required Subscription Payments on behalf of ~~the Minister~~ENERGY as further described in this MOU.

2. Payment Process

~~a) The Minister will take all necessary steps to provide the OFA with a good quality unapproved electronic copy of each Share Subscription, on the same day the Minister receives the Share Subscription from OPG to allow the OFA to begin the procedures for making the Subscription Payment.~~

Formatted: Normal, Indent: Left: 0.25", No bullets or numbering

Formatted: Font: (Default) Arial

~~b) The Minister will deliver to the OFA a good quality copy of each Share Subscription executed and approved for payment by [insert appropriate MoE official] - at least three business days before the Share Subscription Payment Date. The approval for payment shall include confirmation that there is a sufficient Appropriated Amount from which to make the Subscription Payment. Upon receipt of the executed and approved Share Subscription, the OFA will make the Subscription Payment on behalf of the Minister, in the amount of the Share Subscription.~~

~~c) The OFA shall not be required to make any Subscription Payment on behalf of the Minister if the Minister has not delivered to the OFA an executed and approved Share Subscription as provided in paragraph b) above.~~

Commented [KC2]: OFA will be on the subscription notice that comes from OPG.

~~d)~~a) The Subscription Payments will be made from the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the amount of each Subscription Payment will be entered by the OFA via a journal entry into the Province's IFIS system under a pre-defined ~~Minister~~ ENERGY account immediately upon the completion of the Subscription Payment or shortly thereafter.

3. Reporting Requirements and Records

a) The OFA will deliver a notice by e-mail to the ~~Minister's~~ ENERGY contact person to confirm the completion of each Subscription Payment in the amount of the Share Subscription.

b) The OFA will keep and maintain all records related to the Share Subscriptions for a period of seven (7) years.

c) The requirements under this section shall survive any termination of the MOU.

d) The Public Accounts, Volume 3 reporting related to the Subscription payments will be performed by ~~the Minister~~ENERGY.

~~4. Limited Role of the OFA~~

~~The OFA will only be responsible for making the Subscription Payments in accordance with section 2 and reporting and record keeping in accordance with section 3. For greater clarity, the OFA will not be responsible for auditing or otherwise verifying the correctness of the Share Subscriptions; monitoring the OPG's application of the Subscription Payments; monitoring the balance from time to time of the Appropriated Amount; or ensuring the Appropriated Amount is sufficient.~~

Commented [KC3]: Don't think this is required anymore since I've outlined ENE is responsible for this above.

~~5.~~4. Review and Termination

a) ~~The Minister~~ENERGY and the OFA will review this MOU as necessary.

b) This MOU may be terminated by either party at any time, on 90 days' notice.

c) Upon termination of this MOU, provided the OFA has the power and authority to make such Subscription Payments, the OFA will make Subscription Payments in respect of executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by ~~the Minister~~OPG to the OFA on or before the date of termination in accordance with subsection 2(c) of this MOU, but will not be obligated to make any further Subscription Payments on any executed and approved Share Subscriptions delivered by ~~the Minister~~OPG to the OFA after the date of termination of this MOU. All provisions of this MOU relating to Subscription Payments made by OFA will continue to apply with respect to such Subscription Payments made by the OFA after the termination date, notwithstanding termination of this MOU.

d) The parties will cooperate to help to ensure a smooth transition of the payment function upon termination.

~~6.~~5. No Service Charges

The OFA will not charge ~~the Minister~~ENERGY for the OFA's services or for its disbursements or other expenses incurred under this MOU.

~~7.~~6. Contacts

1.02 Compliance Certificates and Opinions

Upon any application or request by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee to take any action under any provision of this Indenture, the Issuer will furnish to the Indenture Trustee (i) an Issuer's Certificate stating that all conditions precedent, if any, provided for in this Indenture relating to the proposed action have been complied with, and (ii) an Opinion of Counsel stating that, in the opinion of such counsel, all such conditions precedent, if any, have been complied with, except that in the case of any such application or request as to which the furnishing of such documents are specifically required by any provision of this Indenture relating to such particular application or request, no additional certificate or opinion need be furnished.

1.04 Actions by Noteholders

(a) Any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, resolution, waiver or other action (collectively, an "Action") provided by this Indenture to be given or taken by Noteholders of any Class, Series or Tranche may be embodied in and evidenced by one or more instruments of substantially similar tenor signed by such Noteholders in person or by an agent duly appointed in writing. In addition, any Action provided by this Indenture to be given or taken by such Noteholders may, alternatively, be embodied in and evidenced by the record of such Noteholders voting in favor thereof, either in person or by proxies duly appointed in writing, at any meeting of Noteholders duly called and held in accordance with the provisions of Article X or a combination of such instruments and any such record. Except as herein otherwise expressly provided, such Action will become effective when such instrument or instruments or record are delivered to the Indenture Trustee, and, where it is hereby expressly required, to the Issuer. Proof of execution of any such instrument or of a writing appointing any such agent, or the holding by any Person of a Note, will be sufficient for any purpose of this Indenture and (subject to Section 9.01) conclusive in favor of the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer, if made in the manner provided in this Section 1.04. The record of any meeting of Noteholders shall be proved in the manner provided in Article X.

(b) The fact and date of the execution of any such instrument or writing, or the authority of the person executing the same, may be proved in any manner which the Indenture Trustee deems sufficient.

(c) (i) The ownership of Registered Notes will be proved by the Note Register.

(ii) The ownership of Bearer Notes or coupons will be proved by the production of such Bearer Notes or coupons or by a certificate, satisfactory to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, executed, as depositary, by any bank, trust company, recognized securities dealer, as depositary, wherever situated, satisfactory to the Issuer. Each such certificate will be dated and will state that on the date thereof a Bearer Note or coupon bearing a specified serial number was deposited with or exhibited to such bank, trust company or recognized securities dealer by the Person named in such certificate. Any such certificate may be issued in respect of one or more Bearer Notes or coupons specified therein. The holding by the Person named in any such certificate of any Bearer Note specified therein will be presumed to continue for a period of one year from the date of such certificate unless at the time of any determination of such holding (A) another certificate bearing a later date is issued in respect of the same Bearer Note or coupon produced, (B) the Bearer Note or coupon specified in such certificate is produced by some other Person or (C) the Bearer Note or coupon specified in such certificate has ceased to be Outstanding.

(d) The fact and date of execution of any such instrument or writing, the authority of the Person executing the same and the principal amount and serial numbers of Bearer Notes held by the Person so executing such instrument or writing and the date of holding the same may also be proved in any other manner which the Indenture Trustee deems sufficient; and the Indenture Trustee may in any instance require further proof with respect to any of the matters referred to in this Section 1.04.

(e) If the Issuer will solicit from the Noteholders any Action, the Issuer may, at its option, by an Issuer Certificate, fix in advance a record date for the determination of Noteholders entitled to give such Action, but the Issuer will have no obligation to do so. If the Issuer does not so fix a record date, such record date will be the later of 30 days before the first solicitation of such Action or the date of the most recent list of Noteholders furnished to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to Section 13.13 before such solicitation. Such Action may be given before or after the record date, but only the Noteholders of record at the close of business on the record date will be deemed to be Noteholders for the purposes of determining whether Noteholders of the requisite proportion of Outstanding Notes have authorized or agreed or consented to such Action, and for that purpose the Outstanding Notes will be computed as of the record date; provided that no such authorization, agreement or consent by the Noteholders on the record date will be deemed effective unless it will become effective pursuant to the provisions of this Indenture not later than 6 months after the record date.

(f) Any Action by a Noteholder will bind the holder of every Note issued upon the transfer thereof or in exchange therefor or in lieu thereof, in respect of anything done or suffered to be done by the Indenture Trustee or the Issuer in reliance thereon whether or not notation of such Action is made upon such Note.

(g) Without limiting the foregoing, a Noteholder entitled hereunder to take any Action hereunder with regard to any particular Note may do so with regard to all or any part of the principal amount of such Note or by one or more duly appointed agents each of which may do so pursuant to such appointment with regard to all or any part of such principal amount. Any notice given or Action taken by a Noteholder or its agents with regard to different parts of such principal amount pursuant to this paragraph shall have the same effect as if given or taken by separate Noteholders of each such different part.

(h) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, unless otherwise specified pursuant to one or more Supplemental Indentures, a Noteholder, including a Depository that is the holder of a Global Note, may make, give or take, by a proxy or proxies duly appointed in writing, any Action provided in this Indenture to be made, given or taken by Noteholders, and a Depository that is the holder of a Global Note may provide its proxy or proxies to the beneficial owners of interests in or security entitlements to any such Global Note through such Depository's standing instructions and customary practices.

(i) The Issuer may fix a record date for the purpose of determining the Persons who are beneficial owners of interests in or security entitlements to any Global Note held by a Depository entitled under the procedures of such Depository to make, give or take, by a proxy or proxies duly appointed in writing, any Action provided in this Indenture to be made, given or taken by Noteholders. If such a record date is fixed, the Noteholders on such record date or their duly appointed proxy or proxies, and only such Persons, shall be entitled to make, give or take such Action, whether or not such Noteholders remain Noteholders after such record date. No such Action shall be valid or effective if made, given or taken more than six months days after such record date.

1.05 Actions of Other Specified Creditors

Any Action provided by this Indenture to be given or taken by any Specified Creditor (other than Noteholders) may be embodied in and evidenced by one or more instruments of substantially similar tenor signed by such Specified Creditor in person or an agent duly appointed in writing. Proof of execution of any such instrument or of a writing appointing any such agent will be sufficient for any purpose of this Indenture and (subject to Section 9.01) conclusive in favour of the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer, if made in the manner provided in Section 1.04(b).

1.06 Effect of Headings and Table of Contents

The Article and Section headings herein and the Table of Contents are for convenience only and will not affect the construction hereof.

1.07 Successors and Assigns

All covenants and agreements in this Indenture by the Issuer will bind its successors and assigns, whether so expressed or not. All covenants and agreements of the Indenture Trustee in this Indenture shall bind its successors, co-trustees and agents of the Indenture Trustee.

1.08 Severability

In case any provision in this Indenture or in the Notes will be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions will not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

1.09 Governing Law

THIS INDENTURE WILL BE CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH AND GOVERNED BY THE LAWS OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO AND THE FEDERAL LAWS OF CANADA APPLICABLE THEREIN, AND THE OBLIGATIONS, RIGHTS AND REMEDIES OF THE PARTIES HEREUNDER SHALL BE DETERMINED IN ACCORDANCE WITH SUCH LAWS. EACH PARTY SUBMITS TO THE EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF ANY ONTARIO COURTS SITTING IN TORONTO IN ANY ACTION, APPLICATION, REFERENCE OR OTHER PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS INDENTURE. THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY WAIVE ANY RIGHT THEY MAY HAVE TO REQUIRE A TRIAL BY JURY OF ANY PROCEEDING COMMENCED IN CONNECTION WITH THIS INDENTURE.

1.13 Interest Act

For the purpose of disclosure pursuant to the Interest Act (Canada), the yearly rate of interest to which any rate of interest payable under this Indenture that is calculated on any basis other than a full calendar year is equivalent may be determined by multiplying such rate by a fraction, the numerator of which is the actual number of days in the calendar year in which such yearly rate of interest is to be ascertained and the denominator of which is the number of days comprising such other basis. The parties further agree that for the purposes of the Interest Act (Canada), (i) the principle of deemed reinvestment of interest shall not apply to any interest calculation under this Indenture or the Notes, and (ii) the rates of interest stipulated in this Indenture or the Notes are intended to be nominal rates and not effective rates or yields.

1.14 Currency

Unless stated otherwise, all amounts herein are stated in Dollars.

1.15 References to Acts of the Issuer

For greater certainty, where any reference is made in this Indenture, or in any other instrument executed pursuant hereto or contemplated hereby to which the Issuer or the Issuer Trustee, as trustee of the Issuer, is party, to an act to be performed by, an appointment to be made by, an obligation or liability of, an asset or right of, a discharge or release to be provided by, a suit or proceeding to be taken by or against, or a covenant, representation or warranty (other than relating to the constitution or existence of the Issuer) by or with respect to (i) the Issuer or (ii) the Issuer Trustee, such reference shall be construed and applied for all purposes as if it referred to an act to be performed by, an appointment to be made by, an obligation or liability of, an asset or right of, a discharge or release to be provided by, a suit or proceeding to be taken by or against or a covenant, representation or warranty (other than relating to the constitution or existence of the Issuer) by or with respect to, the Issuer Trustee as trustee of the Issuer.

The obligation of the Issuer in respect of any Original Currency due from it to the Indenture Trustee under this Indenture shall, notwithstanding any judgment or payment in such other currency, be discharged only to the extent that, on the Business Day following receipt of any sum so paid or adjudged to be due under this Indenture in the Second Currency, the Indenture Trustee may, in accordance with normal banking procedures, purchase in the New York foreign exchange market the Original Currency with the amount of the Second Currency so paid or so adjudged to be due; and if the amount of the Original Currency so purchased is less than the amount originally due in the Original Currency, the Issuer shall indemnify the Indenture Trustee against such loss.

(v) preserve and defend title to the Collateral and the rights of the Indenture Trustee in the Collateral against the claims of all Persons; or

(vi) pay all Taxes levied or assessed upon the Collateral when due.

(d) The Issuer will from time to time promptly pay and discharge all PPSA recording and filing fees, charges and Taxes relating to this Indenture, any amendments hereto and any other instruments of further assurance.

(e) Without limiting the generality of subsection 2.02(c) or (d):

(i) The Issuer will cause this Indenture, all amendments and supplements hereto and all financing statements and all amendments to such financing statements and any other necessary documents covering the Indenture Trustee's right, title and interest in and to the Collateral to be promptly recorded, registered and filed, and at all times to be kept recorded, registered and filed, all in such manner and in such places as may be required by applicable law fully to preserve and protect the right, title and interest of the Indenture Trustee in and to all property comprising the Collateral. The Issuer hereby authorizes the filing of financing statements (and amendments of financing statements) that name the Issuer as debtor and the Indenture Trustee as secured party and that cover all personal property of the Issuer. The Issuer also hereby ratifies the filing of any such financing statements (or amendments of financing statements) that were filed prior to the execution hereof.

(ii) The Issuer shall not change its name, its jurisdiction of formation or its type of organization unless it has first (A) made all filings and taken all actions in all relevant jurisdictions under the PPSA and other applicable law as are necessary to continue and maintain the first priority perfected Security Interest of the Indenture Trustee in the Collateral, and (B) delivered to the Indenture Trustee an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that all necessary filings have been made under the PPSA (and where applicable, the equivalent thereof) in all relevant jurisdictions as are necessary to continue and maintain the first priority perfected Security Interest of the Indenture Trustee in the Collateral.

2.04 Suits To Protect the Collateral

Subject to the provisions of this Indenture, the Indenture Trustee will have the power to institute and to maintain such suits and proceedings as it may deem expedient to prevent any impairment of the Collateral by any acts which may be unlawful or in violation of this Indenture, and such suits and proceedings as the Indenture Trustee may deem expedient to preserve or protect the interests of the Specified Creditors and the interests of the Indenture Trustee in the Collateral (including the power to institute and maintain suits or proceedings to restrain the enforcement of, or compliance with, any legislative or other governmental enactment, rule or order that may be unconstitutional or otherwise invalid if the enforcement of, or compliance with, such enactment, rule or order would impair the Security Interest or be prejudicial to the interests of the Specified Creditors or the Indenture Trustee).

2.05 Purchaser Protected

In no event will any purchaser in good faith of any property purported to be released hereunder be bound to ascertain the authority of the Indenture Trustee to execute the release or to inquire as to the satisfaction of any conditions required by the provisions hereof for the exercise of such authority or to see to the application of any consideration given by such purchaser or other transferee; nor will any purchaser or other transferee of any property or rights permitted by this Article II to be sold be under any obligation to ascertain or inquire into the authority of the Issuer to make any such sale or other transfer.

2.06 Powers Exercisable by Receiver or Indenture Trustee

In case the Collateral shall be in the possession of a receiver or trustee lawfully appointed, the powers conferred in this Article II upon the Issuer with respect to the release, sale or other disposition of such property may be exercised by such receiver or trustee, and an instrument signed by such receiver or trustee shall be deemed the equivalent of any similar instrument of the Issuer or of any officer or officers thereof required by the provisions of this Article II.

2.07 Determinations Relating to Collateral

In the event (i) the Indenture Trustee shall receive any written request from the Issuer for consent or approval with respect to any matter or thing relating to any Collateral or the Issuer's obligations with respect thereto, (ii) there shall be due to or from the Indenture Trustee under the provisions hereof any performance or the delivery of any instrument, or (iii) the Indenture Trustee shall become aware of any nonperformance by the Issuer of any covenant or any breach of any representation or warranty of the Issuer set forth in this Indenture, then, in each such event, the Indenture Trustee shall be entitled to hire experts, consultants, agents and attorneys to advise the Indenture Trustee on the manner in which the Indenture Trustee should respond to such request or render any requested performance or response to such nonperformance or breach (the expenses of which will be reimbursed to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to Section 9.05). The Indenture Trustee will be fully protected in the taking of any action recommended or approved by any such expert, consultant, agent or attorney, or agreed to by Extraordinary Resolution of Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations.

2.08 Satisfaction and Discharge of Indenture

(a) The Issuer may at any time, for the purpose of obtaining the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture with respect to any Class, Series or Tranche of Notes or for any other purpose, pay, or by an Issuer Certificate direct any Paying Agent to pay, to the Indenture Trustee all sums held in trust by the Issuer or such Paying Agent in respect of each and every Class, Series or Tranche of Funding Obligations as to which it seeks to discharge this Indenture or, if for any other purpose, all sums so held in trust by the Issuer in respect of all Notes, such sums to be held by the Indenture Trustee upon the same trusts as those upon which such sums were held by the Issuer or such Paying Agent; and, upon such payment by any Paying Agent to the Indenture Trustee, such Paying Agent will be released from all further liability with respect to such money.

(b) This Indenture will cease to be of further effect with respect to any Class, Series or Tranche of Funding Obligations (except as to any surviving rights of transfer or exchange of Notes of that Class, Series or Tranche expressly provided for herein or in any form of Note for that Class, Series or Tranche), and the Indenture Trustee, on demand of and at the expense of the Issuer, will execute proper instruments acknowledging satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture as to that Class, Series or Tranche, when:

(i) all Notes of that Class, Series or Tranche theretofore outstanding (other than (A) Notes of that Class, Series or Tranche which have been destroyed, lost or stolen and which have been replaced or paid as provided in Section 16.05(b), and (B) Funding Obligations of that Class, Series or Tranche for whose payment money has theretofore been deposited in trust or segregated and held in trust by the Issuer and thereafter repaid to the Issuer or discharged from that trust, as provided in Section 16.05(b)) have been delivered to the Indenture Trustee for cancellation or been cancelled;

(ii) the Issuer has paid or caused to be paid all other sums payable under the Indenture (including payments to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to Section 9.05) by the Issuer with respect to the Funding Obligations of that Class, Series or Tranche; and

(iii) the Issuer has delivered to the Indenture Trustee an Issuer Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel each stating that all conditions precedent herein provided for relating to the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture with respect to the Notes of that Class, Series or Tranche have been complied with.

Notwithstanding the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture with respect to any Class, Series or Tranche of Notes, the obligations of the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee with respect to that Class, Series or Tranche of Notes under Section 9.05 and the obligations of the Indenture Trustee under Sections 7.12 and 16.05(b) will survive such satisfaction and discharge.

2.09 Release of all Collateral

(a) Subject to the payment of its fees and expenses pursuant to Section 9.05, the Indenture Trustee shall, at the request of the Issuer or when otherwise required by the provisions of this Indenture, execute instruments to release Collateral from the Security Interest of this Indenture, or convey the Indenture Trustee's interest (which is held by the Indenture Trustee for the benefit of the Specified Creditors) in the same, in a manner and under circumstances which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Indenture. No party relying upon an instrument executed by the Indenture Trustee as provided in this Article II will be bound to ascertain the Indenture Trustee's authority, inquire into the satisfaction of any conditions precedent or see to the application of any funds.

(b) Upon delivery of an Officer's Certificate of the Issuer certifying that all Issuer Funding Obligations and all other Obligations Secured have been satisfied and discharged by complying with the provisions of this Article II and all applicable Program Agreements, the Indenture Trustee shall execute and deliver such releases, termination statements and other instruments (in recordable form, where appropriate) as the Issuer may reasonably request evidencing the termination of the Security Interest created by this Indenture.

(c) The Issuer and the Specified Creditors shall be entitled to receive at least 10 days' written notice when the Indenture Trustee proposes to take any action pursuant to clause (a), accompanied by copies of any instruments involved, and the Indenture Trustee shall also be entitled to require, as a condition to such action, an Opinion of Counsel, stating the legal effect of any such action, outlining the steps required to complete the same, and concluding that all conditions precedent to the taking of such action have been complied with. Counsel rendering any such opinion may rely, without independent investigation, on the accuracy and validity of any certificate or other instrument delivered to the Indenture Trustee in connection with any such action.

2.10 Certain Commercial Law Representations and Warranties

The Issuer hereby makes the following representations and warranties. Such representations and warranties shall survive until the termination of this Indenture. Such representations and warranties speak of the date that a Lien in the Collateral is granted to the Indenture Trustee and shall not be waived by any of the parties to this Indenture unless the Rating Agency Condition is satisfied.

(a) This Indenture constitutes the grant of a first priority perfected Lien by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee in the Collateral which, in the case of the existing Collateral and the proceeds thereof, is enforceable upon execution and delivery of this Indenture or, with respect to after-acquired property, as of the date such property is acquired, and which will be enforceable with respect to the Collateral hereafter and thereafter created and the proceeds thereof upon such creation. Upon the filing of the assignments, financing statements and continuation statements (and other documents where applicable) and, in the case of after-acquired Collateral and the proceeds thereof, upon its creation, the Indenture Trustee shall have a first priority perfected Lien in such property and proceeds.

(b) At the time of its grant of any Lien in the Collateral pursuant to this Indenture, the Issuer owned and had good and marketable title to such Collateral free and clear of any Lien of any other Person (other than Permitted Liens).

(c) The Issuer has caused the filing of all appropriate financing statements in the proper filing office in the Province of Ontario under applicable law in order to perfect the Security Interest.

(d) Other than the Security Interest, the Issuer has not pledged, assigned, sold, granted a Lien in, or otherwise conveyed, the Collateral. The Issuer has not authorized the filing of and is not aware of any financing statements against the Issuer that include a description of the Collateral other than any financing statement relating to the Security Interest or that has been terminated. The Issuer is not aware of any judgment or Tax lien filings against the Issuer.

Any form of Note approved by or pursuant to an Issuer Certificate must be acceptable as to form to the Indenture Trustee, such acceptance to be evidenced by the Indenture Trustee's authentication of Notes in that form or a certificate signed by a Responsible Officer of the Indenture Trustee and delivered to the Issuer.

3.04 Notes Issuable in the Form of a Global Note

(a) If the Issuer establishes that the Notes of a particular Class, Series or Tranche are to be issued in whole or in part in the form of one or more Global Notes, then the Issuer will execute and the Indenture Trustee or its agent will, in accordance with Section 4.03 and the Issuer Certificate delivered to the Indenture Trustee or its agent thereunder, authenticate and deliver, such Global Note or Notes, which, unless otherwise provided in the Related Supplemental Indenture (i) will represent, and will be denominated in an amount equal to the aggregate Stated Principal Amount (or in the case of Discount Notes, the aggregate Stated Principal Amount at the Principal Payment Due Date of such Notes) of the Outstanding Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche to be represented by such Global Note or Notes, or such portion thereof as the Issuer will specify in an Issuer Certificate, (ii) in the case of Registered Notes, will be registered in the name of the Depository for such Global Note or Notes or its nominee, (iii) will be delivered by the Indenture Trustee or its agent to the Depository or pursuant to the Depository's instruction, (iv) if applicable, will bear a legend substantially to the following effect: (A) "Unless this Note is presented by an authorized representative of The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), to Fair Hydro Trust (the "Issuer") or its agent for registration of transfer, exchange or payment, and any Note issued is registered in the name of Cede & Co. or in such other name as is requested by an authorized representative of DTC (and any payment is made to Cede & Co. or to such other entity as is requested by an authorized representative of DTC), any transfer, pledge or other use hereof for value or otherwise by or to any Person is wrongful inasmuch as the registered owner hereof, Cede & Co., has an interest herein", or (B) "Unless this Note is presented by an authorized representative of CDS Clearing and Depository Services Inc. ("CDS"), to Fair Hydro Trust (the "Issuer") or its agent for registration of transfer, exchange or payment, and any Note issued is registered in the name of CDS & Co. or in such other name as is requested by an authorized representative of CDS (and any payment is made to CDS & Co. or to such other entity as is requested by an authorized representative of CDS), any transfer, pledge or other use hereof for value or otherwise by or to any Person is wrongful since the registered owner hereof, CDS & Co., has a property interest in the securities represented by this Note and it is a violation of its rights for another Person to hold, transfer or deal with this Note", and (v) may bear such other legend as the Issuer, upon advice of counsel, deems to be applicable. [NTD: Indenture Trustee to review forms of legends.]

(b) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Section 3.04 or of Section 4.05, and subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) below, unless the terms of a Global Note or the Related Supplemental Indenture expressly permit such Global Note to be exchanged in whole or in part for individual Notes, a Global Note may be transferred, in whole but not in part and in the manner provided in Section 4.05, only to a nominee of the Depository for such Global Note, or to the Depository, or a successor Depository for such Global Note selected or approved by the Issuer, or to a nominee of such successor Depository.

(c) With respect to Notes issued within the United States or Canada, unless otherwise specified in the Related Supplemental Indenture, or with respect to Notes issued outside the United States and Canada, if specified in the Related Supplemental Indenture:

(i) If at any time the Depository for a Global Note notifies the Issuer that it is unwilling or unable to continue as Depository for such Global Note or if at any time the Depository for the Notes for such Class, Series or Tranche ceases to be a clearing agency registered under the Securities Exchange Act, or other applicable statute or regulation, in the case of Notes issued within the United States, or ceases to be a clearing agency registered under the Securities Act (Ontario), or other applicable statute or regulation, in the case of Notes issued within Canada, the Issuer will appoint a successor Depository with respect to such Global Note. If a successor Depository for such Global Note is not appointed by the Issuer within 90 days after the Issuer receives such notice or becomes aware of such ineligibility, the Issuer will execute, and the Indenture Trustee or its agent, upon receipt of an Issuer Certificate requesting the authentication and delivery of individual Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche in exchange for such Global Note, will authenticate and deliver, individual Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche of like tenor and terms in definitive form in an aggregate Stated Principal Amount equal to the Stated Principal Amount of the Global Note in exchange for such Global Note.

(ii) The Issuer may at any time and in its sole discretion determine that the Notes of any Class, Series or Tranche or portion thereof issued or issuable in the form of one or more Global Notes will no longer be represented by such Global Note or Notes. In such event the Issuer will execute, and the Indenture Trustee, upon receipt of a written request by the Issuer for the authentication and delivery of individual Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche in exchange in whole or in part for such Global Note, will authenticate and deliver individual Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche of like tenor and terms in definitive form in an aggregate Stated Principal Amount equal to the Stated Principal Amount of such Global Note or Notes representing such Class, Series or Tranche or portion thereof in exchange for such Global Note or Notes.

(iii) If any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing and Noteholders holding more than 50% of the unpaid Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of the Global Notes of all Series advise the Indenture Trustee and the Depository that Global Notes are no longer in the best interest of the Noteholders, the holders of Global Notes may exchange such Notes for individual Notes.

(iv) In any exchange provided for in any of the preceding three paragraphs, the Issuer will execute and the Indenture Trustee or its agent will authenticate and deliver individual Notes in definitive registered form in authorized denominations. Upon the exchange of the entire Stated Principal Amount of a Global Note for individual Notes, such Global Note will be canceled by the Indenture Trustee or its agent. Except as provided in the preceding paragraphs, Notes issued in exchange for a Global Note pursuant to this Section 3.04 will be registered in such names and in such authorized denominations as the Depository for such Global Note, pursuant to instructions from its direct or indirect participants or otherwise, will instruct the Indenture Trustee or the Note Registrar. The Indenture Trustee or the Note Registrar will deliver such Notes to the Persons in whose names such Notes are so registered.

3.05 Temporary Global Notes and Permanent Global Notes

(a) If specified in the Related Supplemental Indenture for any Series, all or any portion of a Global Note may initially be issued in the form of a single temporary global Bearer Note or Registered Note (the "Temporary Global Note"), without interest coupons, in the denomination of the entire aggregate principal amount of such Series and substantially in the form set forth in the exhibit with respect thereto attached to the Related Supplemental Indenture. The Temporary Global Note will be authenticated by the Indenture Trustee upon the same conditions, in substantially the same manner and with the same effect as the Notes in definitive form. The Temporary Global Note may be exchanged as described below or in the Related Supplemental Indenture for permanent global Bearer Notes or Registered Notes (the "Permanent Global Notes").

(b) Unless otherwise provided in the Related Supplemental Indenture, exchanges of beneficial interests in or security entitlements to Temporary Global Notes for beneficial interests in or security entitlements to Permanent Global Notes will be made as provided in this subsection 3.05(b). The Manager will, upon its determination of the date of completion of the distribution of the Notes of such Series, so advise the Indenture Trustee, the Issuer, the Foreign Depository, and each foreign clearing agency forthwith. Without unnecessary delay, but in any event not prior to the Exchange Date, the Issuer will execute and deliver to the Indenture Trustee at the office of its designated agent outside Canada and the United States Permanent Global Notes in bearer or registered form (as specified in the Related Supplemental Indenture) in an aggregate principal amount equal to the Outstanding Currency Specific Dollar Principal Amount of such Series of Notes. Bearer Notes so issued and delivered may have coupons attached. The Temporary Global Note may be exchanged for an equal aggregate principal amount of Permanent Global Notes only on or after the Exchange Date. A United States Person may exchange its beneficial interest in or security entitlement to the Temporary Global Note only for an equal aggregate principal amount of Permanent Global Notes in registered form bearing the applicable legend set forth in the form of Registered Note attached to the Related Supplemental Indenture and having a minimum denomination of 500,000 units of the applicable currency, which may be in temporary form if the Issuer so elects. The Issuer may waive the 500,000 minimum denomination requirement if it so elects. Upon any demand for exchange for Permanent Global Notes in accordance with this subsection 3.05(b), the Issuer will cause the Indenture Trustee to authenticate and deliver the Permanent Global Notes to the Noteholder (x) outside Canada or the United States, in the case of Bearer Notes and (y) according to the instructions of the Noteholder, in the case of Registered Notes. Upon receipt of such certification, the Indenture Trustee will cause the Temporary Global Note to be endorsed in accordance with subsection 3.05(d). Any exchange as provided in this Section 3.05 will be made free of charge to the Noteholders and the beneficial owners of the Temporary Global Note and to the beneficial owners of the Permanent Global Note issued in exchange, except that a Person receiving the Permanent Global Note must bear the cost of insurance, postage, transportation and the like in the event that such Person does not receive such Permanent Global Note in person at the offices of a foreign clearing agency or Foreign Depository.

(c) The delivery to the Indenture Trustee by a foreign clearing agency or Foreign Depository of any written statement referred to above may be relied upon by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee as conclusive evidence that a corresponding certification or certifications has or have been delivered to such foreign clearing agency or Foreign Depository pursuant to the terms of this Indenture.

(d) Upon any such exchange of all or a portion of the Temporary Global Note for a Permanent Global Note(s), such Temporary Global Note will be endorsed by or on behalf of the Indenture Trustee to reflect the reduction of its principal amount by an amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of such Permanent Global Note(s). Until so exchanged in full, such Temporary Global Note will in all respects be entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture as Permanent Global Notes authenticated and delivered hereunder except that the beneficial owners of such Temporary Global Note will not be entitled to receive payments of interest on the Notes until they have exchanged their beneficial interests in or security entitlements to such Temporary Global Note for Permanent Global Notes.

3.06 Beneficial Ownership of Global Notes

Until definitive Notes have been issued to the applicable Noteholders pursuant to Section 3.04 or as otherwise specified in any Related Supplemental Indenture:

(a) the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee may deal with the applicable Depository and the Depository's participants for all purposes (including the making of distributions) as the authorized representatives of the respective Note Owners; and

(b) the rights of the respective Note Owners will be exercised only through the Depository and the Depository's participants. Unless and until Notes in definitive form are issued pursuant to Section 3.04, the Depository will make book-entry transfers among the Depository's participants and receive and transmit distributions of principal and interest on the related Notes to such Depository's participants in accordance with the Depository's applicable procedures from time to time.

For purposes of any provision of this Indenture requiring or permitting Actions with the consent of, or at the direction of, Noteholders evidencing a specified percentage of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of Outstanding Notes, such direction or consent may be given by Note Owners (acting through the Depository and the Depository's participants) owning interests in or security entitlements to Notes evidencing the requisite percentage of principal amount of Notes in accordance with the applicable procedures of the Depository.

3.07 Notices to Depository

Whenever any notice or other communication is required to be given to Noteholders with respect to which book-entry Notes have been issued, unless and until Notes in definitive form will have been issued to the related Note Owners, the Indenture Trustee will give all such notices and communications to the applicable clearing agency or Depository.

3.08 CUSIP Numbers

In issuing the Notes, the Issuer may use "CUSIP" numbers (if then generally in use), and, if so, the Indenture Trustee shall use such CUSIP numbers in notices of redemption as a convenience to Noteholders; provided that, subject to Section 9.01, any such notice may state that (a) no representation is made as to the correctness of such CUSIP numbers as printed on the related Notes or as contained in any notice of redemption, (b) reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers, if any, printed on the Notes and (c) any such redemption shall not be affected by any defect in or omission of such CUSIP numbers. The Issuer will promptly provide the Indenture Trustee with written notice of any change in the CUSIP numbers for any Outstanding Note.

(xiii) whether or not application will be made to list such Series or Tranche of Notes on any securities exchange;

(xiv) any Events of Default with respect to such Series or Tranche of Notes, if not set forth herein and any additions, deletions or other changes to the Events of Default set forth herein that will be applicable to such Series or Tranche of Notes (including a provision making any Event of Default set forth herein inapplicable to the Notes of that Series or Tranche);

(xv) if such Series or Tranche of Notes will be issued in whole or in part in the form of a Global Note or Global Notes, the terms and conditions, if any, upon which such Global Note or Global Notes may be exchanged in whole or in part for other individual Notes, and the Depository for such Global Note or Global Notes;

(xxi) any other terms of such Notes as stated in the Related Supplemental Indenture;

all upon such terms as may be determined in or pursuant to the Related Supplemental Indenture.

(g) The Notes of each Class, Series or Tranche will be distinguished from the Notes of each other Class, Series or Tranche in such manner, reasonably satisfactory to the Indenture Trustee, as the Issuer may determine.

(h) Any terms or provisions in respect of the Notes of any Class, Series or Tranche issued under this Indenture may be determined pursuant to this Section 4.01 by providing in the Related Supplemental Indenture for the method by which such terms or provisions will be determined.

4.02 Denominations

The Notes of each Series or Tranche will be issuable in such denominations and currency as will be provided in the provisions of this Indenture or in or pursuant to the Related Supplemental Indenture. In the absence of any such provisions with respect to the Registered Notes of any Series or Tranche, the Registered Notes of that Series or Tranche will be issued in denominations of 100,000 units of the applicable currency and integral multiples of 1,000. In the absence of any such provisions with respect to the Bearer Notes of any Series or Tranche, the Bearer Notes of that Series or Tranche will be issued in denominations of 1,000, 5,000, 50,000 and 100,000 units of the applicable currency.

4.03 Execution, Authentication and Delivery and Dating

(a) The Notes will be executed on behalf of the Issuer by a Responsible Officer of the Issuer. The signature of any Responsible Officer of the Issuer on the Notes may be manual or facsimile or may be given by other electronic means.

(b) Notes bearing the manual, facsimile or other electronic signatures of individuals who were at any time a Responsible Officer of the Issuer will bind the Issuer, notwithstanding that such individuals or any of them have ceased to hold such offices before the authentication and delivery of such Notes or did not hold such offices at the date of issuance of such Notes.

(c) At any time and from time to time after the execution and delivery of this Indenture, the Issuer may deliver Notes executed by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee for authentication; and the Indenture Trustee will, upon request by an Issuer Certificate, authenticate and deliver such Notes as provided in this Indenture and not otherwise.

(d) Before any such authentication and delivery, the Indenture Trustee will be entitled to receive, in addition to any Officer's Certificate and Opinion of Counsel required to be furnished to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to Section 1.02, the Issuer Certificate and any other opinion or certificate relating to the issuance of the Series or Tranche of Notes required to be furnished pursuant to Section 3.02 or Article V.

(e) The Indenture Trustee will not be required to authenticate such Notes if the issue thereof will adversely affect the Indenture Trustee's own rights, duties or immunities under the Notes and this Indenture.

(f) Unless otherwise provided in the form of Note for any Series or Tranche, all Notes will be dated the date of their authentication.

(g) No Note will be entitled to any benefit under this Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose unless there appears on such Note a Certificate of Authentication executed by the Indenture Trustee by manual signature of an authorized signatory, and such certificate upon any Note will be conclusive evidence, and the only evidence, that such Note has been duly authenticated and delivered hereunder.

4.04 Temporary Notes

(a) Pending the preparation of definitive Notes of any Series or Tranche, the Issuer may execute, and, upon receipt of the documents required by Section 4.03, the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver, temporary Notes which are printed, lithographed, typewritten, mimeographed or otherwise produced, in any authorized denomination, substantially of the tenor of the definitive Notes in lieu of which they are issued and with such appropriate insertions, omissions, substitutions and other variations as the Issuer may determine, as evidenced by the Issuer's execution of such Notes.

(b) If temporary Notes of any Series or Tranche are issued, the Issuer will cause definitive Notes of such Series or Tranche to be prepared without unreasonable delay. After the preparation of definitive Notes, the temporary Notes of such Series or Tranche will be exchangeable for definitive Notes of such Series or Tranche upon surrender of the temporary Notes of such Series or Tranche at the office or agency of the Issuer in a Place of Payment, without charge to the Noteholder; and upon surrender for cancellation of any one or more temporary Notes the Issuer will execute and the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver in exchange therefor a like Stated Principal Amount of definitive Notes of such Series or Tranche of authorized denominations and of like tenor and terms. Until so exchanged the temporary Notes of such Series or Tranche will in all respects be entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture as definitive Notes of such Series or Tranche.

4.05 Registration, Transfer and Exchange

(a) The Issuer will keep or cause to be kept a register (herein sometimes referred to as the "Note Register") in which, subject to such reasonable regulations as it may prescribe, the Issuer will provide for the registration of Registered Notes, or of Registered Notes of a particular Class, Series or Tranche, and for transfers of Registered Notes or of Registered Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche. Any such register will be in written form or in any other form capable of being converted into written form within a reasonable time. At all reasonable times, the information contained in such register or registers will be available for inspection by the Indenture Trustee at the office or agency to be maintained by the Issuer as provided in Section 13.03.

(b) Subject to Section 3.04, upon surrender for transfer of any Registered Note of any Class, Series or Tranche at the office or agency of the Issuer in a Place of Payment, the Issuer will execute, and, upon receipt of such surrendered Note, the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver, in the name of the designated transferee or transferees, one or more new Registered Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche of any authorized denominations, of a like aggregate Stated Principal Amount, Principal Payment Due Date and Principal Payment Default Date and of like terms.

(c) Subject to Section 3.04, at the option of the Noteholder, Notes of any Class, Series or Tranche may be exchanged for other Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche of any authorized denominations, of a like aggregate Stated Principal Amount, Principal Payment Due Date and Principal Payment Default Date and of like terms, upon surrender of the Notes to be exchanged at the office or agency of the Issuer in a Place of Payment. Registered Notes, including Registered Notes received in exchange for Bearer Notes, may not be exchanged for Bearer Notes. At the option of the holder of a Bearer Note, subject to applicable laws and regulations, Bearer Notes may be exchanged for other Bearer Notes or Registered Notes (of the same Class, Series and Tranche of Notes) of authorized denominations of like aggregate fractional undivided interests in the Noteholders' interest, upon surrender of the Bearer Notes to be exchanged at an office or agency of the Note Registrar located outside Canada and the United States. Each Bearer Note surrendered pursuant to this Section 4.05 will have attached thereto all unmatured coupons; provided, however, that any Bearer Note, so surrendered after the close of business on the last day of the month preceding the relevant Payment Date need not have attached the coupon relating to such Payment Date. Whenever any Notes are so surrendered for exchange, the Issuer will execute, and the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver (in the case of Bearer Notes, outside Canada and the United States), the Notes which the Noteholders making the exchange are entitled to receive.

(d) All Notes issued upon any transfer or exchange of Notes will be the valid and legally binding obligations of the Issuer, evidencing the same debt, and entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture, as the Notes surrendered upon such transfer or exchange.

(e) Every Note presented or surrendered for transfer or exchange will (if so required by the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee) be duly endorsed, or be accompanied by a written instrument of transfer in form satisfactory to the Issuer and the Note Registrar duly executed, by the Noteholder or his attorney duly authorized in writing.

(f) Unless otherwise provided in the Note to be transferred or exchanged, no service charge will be made on any Noteholder for any transfer or exchange of Notes, but the Issuer may (unless otherwise provided in such Note) require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any Tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection with any transfer or exchange of Notes before the transfer or exchange will be complete, other than exchanges pursuant to Section 4.04 or Section 11.05 not involving any transfer.

(g) None of the Issuer, the Note Registrar or the Indenture Trustee shall be required (i) to issue, register the transfer of or exchange any Notes of any Class, Series or Tranche during a period beginning at the opening of business 15 days before the day of selection of Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche to be redeemed and ending at the close of business on (A) if Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche are issuable only as Registered Notes, the day of the mailing of the relevant notice of redemption of Registered Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche so selected for redemption or (B) if Notes of the Class, Series or Tranche are issuable as Bearer Notes, the day of the first publication of the relevant notice of redemption or, if Notes of the Class, Series or Tranche are also issuable as Registered Notes and there is no publication, the mailing of the relevant notice of redemption or (ii) to register the transfer or exchange of any Notes or portions thereof so selected for redemption.

(h) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the exchange of Bearer Notes into Registered Notes shall be subject to applicable laws and regulations in effect at the time of exchange; none of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or the Note Registrar shall exchange any Bearer Notes into Registered Notes if it has received an Opinion of Counsel that as a result of such exchanges the Issuer would suffer adverse consequences under the Canadian or United States federal income tax laws and regulations then in effect, or the income tax laws of the jurisdiction of the holder of the Bearer Note, and the Issuer has delivered to the Indenture Trustee an Issuer Certificate directing the Indenture Trustee not to make such exchanges unless and until the Indenture Trustee receives a subsequent Issuer Certificate to the contrary. The Issuer shall deliver copies of such Issuer Certificates to the Note Registrar.

(i) None of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee, any agent of the Indenture Trustee, any Paying Agent or the Note Registrar will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial ownership of a Global Note or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership.

(j) The Issuer initially appoints the Indenture Trustee to act as Note Registrar for the Registered Notes on its behalf. The Issuer may at any time and from time to time authorize any Person to act as Note Registrar in place of the Indenture Trustee with respect to any Class, Series or Tranche of Notes issued under this Indenture.

(k) Registration of transfer of Notes containing the following legend or to which the following legend is applicable:

THIS NOTE HAS NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE "SECURITIES ACT"), OR ANY OTHER APPLICABLE U.S. STATE SECURITIES LAWS AND, ACCORDINGLY, MAY NOT BE OFFERED OR SOLD WITHIN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, U.S. PERSONS EXCEPT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TRUST INDENTURE AND THE INDENTURE SUPPLEMENT AND PURSUANT TO AN EXEMPTION FROM REGISTRATION UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OR PURSUANT TO AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT.

will be effected only if such transfer is made pursuant to an effective registration statement under the U.S. Securities Act, or is exempt from the registration requirements under the U.S. Securities Act. In the event that registration of a transfer is to be made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements under the U.S. Securities Act other than Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act or Rule 903 or Rule 904 of Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act, the transferor or the transferee will deliver, at its expense, to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, an investment letter from the transferee, substantially in a form appended to a Supplemental Indenture authorizing the applicable Series of Notes or such other form as the Issuer may determine, and no registration of transfer will be made until such letter is so delivered.

Notes issued upon registration or transfer of, or Notes issued in exchange for, Notes bearing the legend referred to above will also bear such legend and any other legends required by the Related Supplemental Indenture unless the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Note Registrar receive an Opinion of Counsel, satisfactory to each of them, to the effect that such legend may be removed.

Whenever a Note containing the legend referred to above is presented to the Note Registrar for registration of transfer, the Note Registrar will promptly seek instructions from the Issuer regarding such transfer and will be entitled to receive an Issuer Certificate prior to registering any such transfer. The Issuer hereby agrees to indemnify the Note Registrar and the Indenture Trustee and to hold each of them harmless against any loss, liability or expense incurred without negligence or bad faith on their part arising out of or in connection with actions taken or omitted by them in relation to any such instructions furnished pursuant to this clause. The Indenture Trustee shall have no obligation or duty to monitor, determine or inquire as to compliance with any restrictions on transfer imposed under this Indenture, the Related Supplemental Indenture, or under applicable law with respect to any transfer of any interest in any Note other than to require delivery of such certificates and other documentation or evidence as are expressly required by, and to do so if and when expressly required by the terms of, this Indenture, and to examine the same to determine substantial compliance as to form with the express requirements hereof.

(l) By acquiring a Note, each Noteholder that is a United States Person will be deemed to represent, warrant and covenant that either: (i) it is not acquiring the Note (or any interest therein) with the assets of a Benefit Plan or a governmental, church or non-U.S. plan that is subject to any federal, state, local or other non-U.S. law that is substantially similar to Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code ("Similar Law"); or (ii) (A) the Note is rated at least "BBB-" or its equivalent by a nationally recognized statistical rating agency at the time of purchase or transfer, and (B) the acquisition, holding and disposition of the Note will not give rise to a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code or a violation of any Similar Law.

4.06 Mutilated, Destroyed, Lost and Stolen Notes

(a) If (i) any mutilated Note (together, in the case of Bearer Notes, with all unmatured coupons, if any, appertaining thereto) is surrendered to the Indenture Trustee or the Note Registrar, or the Issuer, the Note Registrar or the Indenture Trustee receive evidence to their satisfaction of the destruction, loss or theft of any Note, and (ii) there is delivered to the Issuer, the Note Registrar or the Indenture Trustee such security or indemnity as may be required by them to save each of them harmless, then, in the absence of notice to the Issuer, the Note Registrar or the Indenture Trustee that such Note has been acquired by a protected purchaser, the Issuer will execute and upon its request the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver (in the case of Bearer Notes, outside the United States), in exchange for or in lieu of any such mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Note, a new Note of like tenor, Class, Series or Tranche, Principal Payment Due Date, Principal Payment Default Date and Stated Principal Amount, bearing a number not contemporaneously Outstanding.

(b) In case any such mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Note has become or is about to become due and payable, the Issuer in its discretion may, instead of issuing a new Note, pay such Note.

(c) Upon the issuance of any new Note under this Section 4.06, the Issuer may require the payment of a sum sufficient to cover any Tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in relation thereto and any other expenses (including the fees and expenses of the Indenture Trustee) connected therewith.

(d) Every new Note issued pursuant to this Section 4.06 in lieu of any destroyed, lost or stolen Note will constitute an original additional contractual obligation of the Issuer, whether or not the destroyed, lost or stolen Note will be at any time enforceable by anyone, and will be entitled to all the benefits of this Indenture equally and proportionately with any and all other Notes of the same Class, Series or Tranche duly issued hereunder.

(e) The provisions of this Section 4.06 are exclusive and will preclude (to the extent lawful) all other rights and remedies with respect to the replacement or payment of mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Notes.

(c) Title to any Bearer Note, including any coupons appertaining thereto, shall pass by delivery. The Issuer, the Indenture Trustee, the Manager and any agent of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or the Manager may treat the Person who is proved to be the owner of such Note pursuant to subsection 1.04(c) as the owner of such Note for the purpose of receiving payment of principal of and (subject to this Section 4.07) interest on such Note and for all other purposes whatsoever, whether or not such Note be overdue, and none of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee, the Manager or any agent of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or the Manager will be affected by notice to the contrary.

(d) Delivery of a Note to the Paying Agent by the holder of such Note shall, upon payment thereof, be a good discharge to the Issuer of all obligations evidenced by such Note. The Paying Agent shall not be bound to enquire into the title of any such Noteholder, save as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction or as required by statute, nor shall it be bound to see to the execution of any trust affecting the ownership of any Note or be affected by notice of any equity that may be subsisting in respect thereof.

(e) In the case of the death of one or more joint registered owners, the principal money of and interest, if any, on a Note may be paid to the survivor or survivors of such registered Noteholders whose receipt thereof, accompanied by the delivery of such Note, shall constitute a valid discharge to the Issuer and the Paying Agent.

(f) Any payment of principal or interest on any Note which is due on a day other than a Business Day shall be payable on the next succeeding Business Day without adjustment for interest thereon and such payment shall be deemed to have been made with the same force and effect as if made on the due date.

(g) Upon the Paying Agent's reasonable request therefor, the Issuer will (i) provide the Paying Agent with any information in its possession or (ii) assist the Paying Agent (to the extent necessary and it is commercially reasonable for the Issuer to do so) to obtain information, in each case, to the extent such information is required by the Paying Agent to comply with its tax reporting and withholding obligations under applicable law with respect to payments to be made to Specified Creditors pursuant to this Indenture and the other Program Agreements, unless the Issuer is prohibited from doing so by applicable law or an obligation of confidentiality by which the Issuer is bound.

4.08 Cancellation

All Notes surrendered for payment, redemption, repurchase, transfer, conversion or exchange will, if surrendered to any Person other than the Indenture Trustee, be delivered to the Indenture Trustee and, if not already canceled, will be promptly canceled by it. The Issuer may at any time deliver to the Indenture Trustee for cancellation any Notes previously authenticated and delivered hereunder which the Issuer may have acquired in any manner whatsoever, and all Notes so delivered will be promptly canceled by the Indenture Trustee. No Note will be authenticated in lieu of or in exchange for any Notes canceled as provided in this Section 4.08, except as expressly permitted by this Indenture. The Indenture Trustee will dispose of all canceled Notes in accordance with its customary procedures and will deliver a certificate of such disposition to the Issuer.

The Indenture Trustee shall acknowledge receipt of the Notes so delivered by signing and returning to the Issuer an acknowledgement of receipt of the Notes, such acknowledgement to be in a form satisfactory to the Issuer.

(b) The Indenture Trustee's responsibility for any Notes held in its custody hereunder shall be limited to using the same diligence in physically safeguarding such Notes as it does for its own securities. The Indenture Trustee shall account for the unissued Notes held in its custody whenever so required by the Issuer. If at any time the Indenture Trustee shall discover that any of such Notes have been lost, damaged, destroyed, stolen or misappropriated, it shall promptly advise the Issuer thereof and identify, to the extent practicable, such Notes.

4.10 New Issuances of Notes

(a) There are no restrictions on the timing or amount of any additional issuance of Notes of an Outstanding Series or Tranche of a Class of Notes, so long as the conditions described in Article V are satisfied. As of the date of any additional issuance of Notes of an Outstanding Series or Tranche of Notes, the Stated Principal Amount and Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of that Series or Tranche will be increased to reflect the principal amount of the additional Notes. (b) All funds from time to time credited to the Issuer Accounts pursuant to this Indenture and the Funding Obligation Agreements, and all investments made with such funds, if any, are property of the Issuer until such time as they are allocated or paid to satisfy Obligations Secured and will be held by the Indenture Trustee in the Issuer Accounts as part of the Collateral as herein provided, subject to withdrawal by the Paying Agent or the Indenture Trustee for the purposes specified herein.

(c) Funds and other property in any of the Issuer Accounts will not be commingled with any other funds or property of the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee.

ARTICLE VIII
EVENTS OF DEFAULT AND REMEDIES

8.01 Events of Default

[NTD: to be determined if certain events of default should be triggered on a series by series basis.]

"Event of Default," wherever used herein, means any one of the following events (whatever the reason for such Event of Default and whether it will be voluntary or involuntary or be effected by operation of law or pursuant to any judgment, decree or order of any court or any order, rule or regulation of any Governmental Authority):

(a) a default by the Issuer in the payment of any interest on any Controlling Class Obligations when such interest becomes due and payable, and continuance of such default for a period of [5] days following the date on which such interest became due and payable;

(b) a default by the Issuer in the payment of any principal of any Controlling Class Obligations at its Principal Payment Default Date;

(c) any representation or warranty contained in Section 12.01 proves to be incorrect in any material respect when made and such incorrect representation or warranty if capable of being remedied by the Issuer, has not been remedied for a period of 60 days after notice thereof has been given, by registered or certified mail, to the Issuer by the Indenture Trustee or to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee by Debtholders holding at least 25% of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of all Controlling Class Obligations, a written notice specifying such default or breach and requesting it to be remedied and stating that such notice is a "Notice of Default" hereunder and, as a result of such default, the interests of such Debtholders are materially and adversely affected and continue to be materially and adversely affected during the 60-day period;

(d) a default in the performance, or breach, of any covenant of the Issuer in this Indenture in respect of any Controlling Class Obligations (other than an agreement, covenant or warranty a default in the performance of which or the breach of which is elsewhere specifically dealt with in this Section 8.01), all of such covenants in this Indenture which are not expressly stated to be for the benefit of a particular Series of Issuer Funding Obligations being deemed to be in respect of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations for this purpose, and continuance of such default or breach for a period of 60 days after notice thereof has been given, by registered or certified mail, to the Issuer by the Indenture Trustee or to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee by Debtholders holding at least 25% of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of all Controlling Class Obligations, a written notice specifying such default or breach and requesting it to be remedied and stating that such notice is a "Notice of Default" hereunder and, as a result of such default, the interests of such Debtholders are materially and adversely affected and continue to be materially and adversely affected during the 60-day period;

(e) an Insolvency Event in respect of the Issuer;

(f) the Change of Law Protection Agreement ceases to be in full force and effect against the Province and if the Province does not, within 10 days of receipt of notice of such agreement not being in full force and effect, cause such agreement to be in full force and effect or replace such agreement with a new agreement that is in form and substance satisfactory to Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations, acting reasonably, pursuant to an Ordinary Resolution;

(g) the validity of the Change of Law Protection Agreement or the applicability thereof to the Province or to any Controlling Class Obligations or any other obligations purported to be secured thereby or any material part thereof shall be disaffirmed in writing by or on behalf of the Province; or

(h) any additional event of default specified in a Funding Obligation Agreement in respect of Controlling Class Obligations.

For greater certainty, failure to pay amounts owing pursuant to a Derivative Agreement shall not constitute an Event of Default.

8.02 Acceleration of Maturity; Rescission and Annulment

[NTD: to be determined if acceleration should be determined on a series by series basis.]

(a) If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default described in clause (e), (f) or (g) of Section 8.01) occurs and is continuing, then and in each and every such case, unless the principal of all the Controlling Class Obligations shall have already become due and payable, either the Indenture Trustee or Debtholders holding not less than 50% of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of all Controlling Class Obligations (treated as one class), by notice in writing to the Issuer (and to the Indenture Trustee if given by such Debtholders), may declare the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of all Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations) and all interest accrued or principal accreted and unpaid (if any) thereon to be due and payable immediately, and upon any such declaration the same will become and will be immediately due and payable, notwithstanding anything in this Indenture or any Funding Obligation Agreement to the contrary.

(b) If an Event of Default described in clause (e), (f) or (g) of Section 8.01 occurs and is continuing, then all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations) will automatically be and become immediately due and payable by the Issuer, without notice or demand to any Person, and the Issuer will automatically and immediately be obligated to pay off the Issuer Funding Obligations.

(c) At any time after such a declaration of acceleration has been made or an automatic acceleration has occurred with respect to the Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations) and before a judgment or decree for payment of the money due has been obtained by the Indenture Trustee as hereinafter provided in this Article VIII, Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations may, by Extraordinary Resolution, rescind and annul such declaration and its consequences if:

(i) the Issuer has paid or deposited with the Indenture Trustee a sum sufficient to pay (A) all overdue installments of interest on the Controlling Class Obligations, (B) the principal of any Controlling Class Obligations which have become due otherwise than by such declaration of acceleration, and interest thereon at the rate or rates prescribed therefor by the terms of the Related Funding Obligation Agreements, to the extent that payment of such interest is lawful, (C) interest upon overdue installments of interest at the rate or rates prescribed therefor by the terms of the Related Funding Obligation Agreements, to the extent that payment of such interest is lawful, and (D) all sums paid by the Indenture Trustee hereunder and the reasonable compensation, expenses and disbursements of the Indenture Trustee, its agents and counsel and all other amounts due to the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.05; and

(ii) all Events of Default other than the nonpayment of the principal of the Controlling Class Obligations which has become due solely by such acceleration, have been cured or waived as provided in Section 8.03.

(d) If, at any time, any Event of Default capable of being remedied has been remedied by the Issuer to the satisfaction of the Indenture Trustee: (i) the Security Interest will no longer be or be deemed to be enforceable by reason of such Event of Default; (ii) any rights which had become vested in the Indenture Trustee by virtue thereof will be and be deemed to be cancelled as fully and to the same extent as though no such Event of Default had occurred; and (iii) the Indenture Trustee will, or will instruct any receiver appointed pursuant to this Indenture to restore to the Issuer any Collateral in the possession of the Indenture Trustee or receiver, as the case may be.

(e) No such rescission will affect any subsequent default or impair any right consequent thereon.

8.03 Waiver of Past Defaults

Subject to Section 8.02(c), Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations may, by Ordinary Resolution, waive any past default hereunder and its consequences. Upon any such waiver, such default will cease to exist, and any Event of Default arising therefrom will be deemed to have been cured, for every purpose of this Indenture; but no such waiver will extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereon.

8.04 Notice of Defaults

(a) Within 90 days after the occurrence of any Event of Default of which the Indenture Trustee has received written notice:

(i) the Indenture Trustee will transmit by mail to all Registered Noteholders, as their names and addresses appear in the Note Register, notice of such default;

(ii) the Indenture Trustee will notify all holders of Bearer Notes by publication of notice of such default in an Authorized Newspaper, or as otherwise provided in the Related Supplemental Indenture;

(iii) the Indenture Trustee will give prompt written notification thereof to the other Debtholders and all other Specified Creditors; and

(iv) the Indenture Trustee will give prompt written notification thereof to the Rating Agencies, unless such default will have been cured or waived; provided, however, that, except in the case of a default in the payment of the principal of or interest on any Issuer Funding Obligations, the Indenture Trustee will be protected in withholding such notice if and so long as a Responsible Officer of the Indenture Trustee in good faith determines that the withholding of such notice is in the interests of the Specified Creditors.

(b) When such notice of an occurrence of an Event of Default has been given and the Event of Default is thereafter cured, notice that the Event of Default is no longer continuing shall be given by the Indenture Trustee to Persons to whom notice was sent pursuant to Section 8.04(a) within a reasonable time, but not exceeding 30 days in any event, after the Indenture Trustee receives notice from the applicable Debtholders that the Event of Default has been cured.

8.05 Remedies Generally

Subject to subsections 8.02(c) and (d), and Section 8.03, if, with respect to any Controlling Class Obligations, such Controlling Class Obligation has become due and payable pursuant to Section 8.02 and the Issuer has failed to pay such Controlling Class Obligation, the Indenture Trustee (subject, however, to compliance with the provisions of Section 9.02(d) with respect to the giving of indemnity and funds) may proceed to realize upon the Security Interest and to enforce the rights of the Indenture Trustee and of the Specified Creditors to whom Obligations Secured are owed by (i) application to any court of competent jurisdiction for an order of sequestration and payment of amounts in respect of clean energy adjustments, collections or remittances in accordance with the Act, (ii) possession of the Collateral, (iii) appointment of a receiver with respect to the Collateral, (iv) proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a receiver or for sale of the Collateral or any part thereof, or for foreclosure, (v) subject to Section 10.02, exercise any of the rights of the Issuer under any of the Program Agreements, including the right to replace the Manager or the Servicer in accordance with Section 8.10, or (vi) any other action, suit, remedy or proceeding authorized or permitted by this Indenture or by applicable law or by equity.

8.06 Default Interest and Expenses

The Issuer covenants that if:

(a) the Issuer defaults in the payment of interest on any Series of Issuer Funding Obligations when such interest becomes due and payable and such default continues for a period of 65 days following the date on which such interest became due and payable, or

(b) the Issuer defaults in the payment of the principal amount of any Series of Issuer Funding Obligations on the Principal Payment Default Date thereof;

the Issuer will, upon demand of the Indenture Trustee, pay (subject to the allocation provided in this Article VIII and any Related Funding Obligation Agreement) to the Indenture Trustee, for the benefit of the Debtholders of any such Issuer Funding Obligations, the whole amount then due and payable on any such Issuer Funding Obligations for principal and interest, with interest, to the extent that payment of such interest will be legally enforceable, upon the overdue principal and upon overdue installments of interest, (i) in the case of interest-bearing Issuer Funding Obligations, at the rate of interest applicable to the principal amount thereof, unless otherwise specified in the Related Funding Obligation Agreement; and (ii) in the case of Discount Notes, as specified in the Related Supplemental Indenture, and in addition thereto, will pay such further amount as will be sufficient to cover the costs and expenses of collection, including the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Indenture Trustee, its agents and counsel and all other amounts due to the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.05.

If the Issuer fails to pay such amounts forthwith upon such demand, the Indenture Trustee may, if the Issuer Funding Obligations have been accelerated in accordance with Section 8.02, take immediate steps to enforce the Security Interest, including instituting, in its own name and as trustee of an express trust, a judicial proceeding seeking the appointment of a receiver or a judicial proceeding for the collection of the sums so due and unpaid, and may directly prosecute such proceeding to judgment or final decree, and the Indenture Trustee may enforce the same against the Issuer and collect the money adjudged or decreed to be payable in the manner provided by applicable law out of the Collateral, wherever situated.

8.07 Indenture Trustee May File Proofs of Claim

In case of the pendency of any receivership, insolvency, liquidation, bankruptcy or other similar proceeding relative to the Issuer or the property of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee (irrespective of whether the principal of the Issuer Funding Obligations will then be due and payable as therein expressed or by declaration or otherwise) will be entitled and empowered by intervention in such proceeding or otherwise:

(a) to file and prove a claim for the whole amount of principal, interest, fees and other amounts owing and unpaid in respect of the Issuer Funding Obligations and to file such other papers or documents as may be necessary and advisable in order to have the claims of the Indenture Trustee (including any claim for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Indenture Trustee, its agents and counsel and all other amounts due to the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.05) and of the Specified Creditors allowed in such judicial proceeding, and

(b) to collect and receive any funds or other property payable or deliverable on any such claims and to distribute the same;

and any receiver, assignee, trustee, liquidator or other similar official in any such proceeding is hereby authorized by each Specified Creditor to make such payment to the Indenture Trustee, and in the event that the Indenture Trustee will consent to the making of such payments directly to the Specified Creditors, to pay to the Indenture Trustee any amount due to it for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Indenture Trustee, its agents and counsel, and any other amounts due to the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.05.

Nothing herein contained will be deemed to authorize the Indenture Trustee to authorize or consent to or accept or adopt on behalf of any Specified Creditor any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Issuer Funding Obligations or the rights of any Specified Creditors, or to authorize the Indenture Trustee to vote in respect of the claim of any Specified Creditor in any such proceeding.

8.08 Indenture Trustee May Enforce Claims Without Possession of Notes

All rights of action and claims under this Indenture or the Notes of any Class, Series or Tranche may be prosecuted and enforced by the Indenture Trustee without the possession of any of the Notes of such Class, Series or Tranche or the production thereof in any proceeding relating thereto, and any such proceeding instituted by the Indenture Trustee will be brought in its own name as trustee of an express trust.

8.09 Indenture Trustee May Elect to Hold the Collateral

Following an acceleration of Issuer Funding Obligations in accordance with Section 8.02, the Indenture Trustee may elect to continue to hold the Collateral and apply distributions on the Collateral in accordance with the distribution provisions of Section 8.13.

8.10 Termination by Indenture Trustee of Manager and Servicer

Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, the Indenture Trustee shall have the right to (and, upon receipt of an Extraordinary Resolution of Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations to that effect, shall) terminate the appointment of the then existing Manager under the Management Agreement and/or the Servicer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, and appoint new Persons under such agreements in accordance with such direction, provided that the Issuer shall have the right to reinstate any appointee under such agreements at such time as the Event of Default is no longer continuing.

8.11 Control by Debtholders

Subject to Section 10.02(b), Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations will, by Ordinary Resolution, have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Indenture Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Indenture Trustee with respect to all Issuer Funding Obligations, provided that:

(a) the Indenture Trustee will have the right to decline to follow any such direction if the Indenture Trustee, being advised by counsel, determines that the action so directed may not lawfully be taken or would conflict with this Indenture, or if the Indenture Trustee in good faith determines that the proceedings so directed would involve it in personal liability or be unjustly prejudicial to the Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations not taking part in such direction; and

(b) the Indenture Trustee may take any other action permitted hereunder deemed proper by the Indenture Trustee which is not inconsistent with such direction.

8.12 Limitation on Suits

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, no Specified Creditor will have any right to institute any proceeding, judicial or otherwise, with respect to this Indenture, or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee or similar official, or for any other remedy hereunder, unless:

(a) the Issuer or a Debtholder has previously given written notice to the Indenture Trustee of a continuing Event of Default;

(b) Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations, by way of Ordinary Resolution, have made written request to the Indenture Trustee to institute proceedings in respect of such Event of Default in the name of the Indenture Trustee hereunder;

(c) such Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations have offered to the Indenture Trustee (when so requested by the Indenture Trustee) indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it against the costs, expenses and liabilities to be incurred in compliance with such request; and

(d) the Indenture Trustee, for 60 days after the Indenture Trustee has received such notice, request and offer of indemnity has failed to institute any such proceeding;

it being understood and intended that no one or more Specified Creditors will have any right in any manner whatsoever by virtue of, or by availing of, any provision of this Indenture to affect, disturb or prejudice the rights of any other Specified Creditor, or to obtain or to seek to obtain priority or preference over any other Specified Creditor or to enforce any right under this Indenture, except in the manner herein provided and for the benefit of all Specified Creditors.

8.13 Application of Money Following an Event of Default

Subject to the following paragraph, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default which has been accelerated in accordance with Section 8.02, any money or other property standing in each Issuer Account or otherwise received by the Indenture Trustee pursuant to this Article VIII will be applied in the order of priority specified in this Section 8.13, pro rata in proportion to the claims represented by each subclause, except as otherwise specifically provided below:

(a) First, to the payment or remittance of all Taxes exigible for which a Governmental Authority is given priority over the Specified Creditors under the laws of the applicable jurisdiction;

Notwithstanding the foregoing, amounts on deposit in a Series Account established solely for the benefit of one or more Series of Issuer Funding Obligations shall first be used to satisfy all obligations owing to those Specified Creditors for whom such Series Account was established. If any amounts remain following such application, such amounts shall be applied in accordance with the priorities set out above.

8.14 Limited Recourse

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture to the contrary, the obligation to pay principal of or interest on any Issuer Funding Obligation or any other amount payable to any Specified Creditor will be without recourse to the Indenture Trustee, the Issuer Trustee, the Manager or any Affiliate, officer, employee, member or director of any of them, and the satisfaction of the obligation of the Issuer to pay principal of or interest on any Issuer Funding Obligation or any other amount payable to any Specified Creditor will be subject to the allocation and payment provisions of this Indenture and any Related Funding Obligation Agreement, and limited to amounts available from the Collateral.

(b) No recourse may be taken, directly or indirectly, with respect to the obligations of the Issuer under the Issuer Funding Obligations or under this Indenture, or any certificate or other writing delivered in connection herewith or therewith, against (i) the Issuer Trustee in its individual capacity, (ii) any owner of a beneficial interest in the Issuer or (iii) any partner, owner, beneficiary, agent, officer, director, employee or agent of the Issuer Trustee in its individual capacity, any holder of a beneficial interest in the Issuer or the Issuer Trustee or of any successor or assign of the Issuer Trustee in its individual capacity, except as any such Person may have expressly agreed (it being understood that the Issuer Trustee has no such obligations in its individual capacity).

(c) Under no circumstances shall the Manager or any of its Affiliates be deemed an obligor or guarantor or otherwise deemed to be responsible for payment from its own funds of principal, interest, dividends or other amounts due on the Collateral, the Issuer Funding Obligations or any other Obligations Secured.

8.15 Restoration of Rights and Remedies

If the Indenture Trustee or any Specified Creditor (to the extent and in the manner provided for in Section 8.12) has instituted any proceeding to enforce any right or remedy under this Indenture and such proceeding has been discontinued or abandoned for any reason, then and in every such case the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Specified Creditors will, subject to any determination in such proceeding, be restored severally and respectively to their former positions hereunder, and thereafter all rights and remedies of the Indenture Trustee and the Specified Creditors will continue as though no such proceeding had been instituted.

8.16 Rights and Remedies Cumulative

No right or remedy herein conferred upon or reserved to the Indenture Trustee or to the Specified Creditors is intended to be exclusive of any other right or remedy, and every right and remedy will, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be cumulative and in addition to every other right and remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or otherwise. The assertion or employment of any right or remedy hereunder, or otherwise, will not prevent the concurrent assertion or employment of any other appropriate right or remedy.

8.17 Delay or Omission Not Waiver

No delay or omission of the Indenture Trustee or of any Specified Creditor to exercise any right or remedy accruing upon any Event of Default will impair any such right or remedy or constitute a waiver of any such Event of Default or an acquiescence therein. Every right and remedy given by this Article VIII or by applicable law to the Indenture Trustee or to the Specified Creditors may be exercised from time to time, and as often as may be deemed expedient, by the Indenture Trustee or by the Specified Creditors, as the case may be.

8.18 Waiver of Stay or Extension Laws

The Issuer covenants (to the extent that it may lawfully do so) that it will not at any time insist upon, or plead, or in any manner whatsoever claim or take the benefit or advantage of, any stay or extension law wherever enacted, now or at any time hereafter in force, which may affect the covenants or the performance of this Indenture; and the Issuer (to the extent that it may lawfully do so) hereby expressly waives all benefit or advantage of any such law, and covenants that it will not hinder, delay or impede the execution of any power herein granted to the Indenture Trustee, but will suffer and permit the execution of every such power as though no such law had been enacted.

8.19 Indenture Trustee Appointed Attorney

The Issuer irrevocably constitutes and appoints the Indenture Trustee and any officer or employee thereof, with full power of substitution, as its true and lawful attorney coupled with an interest with full power and authority in the name of the Issuer or in its own name, in its discretion, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default, for the purpose of carrying out the terms of this Indenture to take all appropriate action and to execute any and all documents and instruments which may be necessary or desirable to accomplish the purposes hereof, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, hereby gives the Indenture Trustee the power and right on behalf of the Issuer, without notice to or assent by the Issuer, to the extent permitted by applicable law, to do the following:

(a) to ask for, demand, sue for, collect and receive all and any monies due or becoming due with respect to the Collateral;

(b) to receive, take, endorse, assign and deliver any and all cheques, notes, drafts, acceptances, documents and other negotiable and non-negotiable instruments, documents and chattel paper taken or received by the Indenture Trustee in connection therewith and herewith; and

8.20 Disclaimer of Marshalling

In the event that the Security Interest shall become enforceable and the Indenture Trustee shall have determined or become bound to enforce the same, the Issuer covenants not to invoke the doctrine of marshalling or any other equitable principle for the purpose of requiring the Indenture Trustee to realize or to have realized on any particular asset forming part of the Collateral.

ARTICLE IX
THE INDENTURE TRUSTEE

9.01 Certain Duties and Responsibilities

(a) The Indenture Trustee undertakes to perform such duties and only such duties as are specifically set forth in this Indenture with respect to the Obligations Secured, and no implied covenants or obligations will be read into this Indenture against the Indenture Trustee.

(b) In the exercise of the rights and duties prescribed or conferred by the terms of this Indenture, the Indenture Trustee will act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Specified Creditors as a whole and exercise that degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent trustee would exercise in comparable circumstances.

(c) In the absence of bad faith on its part, the Indenture Trustee may, with respect to any Obligations Secured, conclusively rely, as to the truth of the statements and the correctness of the opinions expressed therein, upon certificates or opinions furnished to the Indenture Trustee and conforming to the requirements of this Indenture; but in the case of any such certificates or opinions which by any provision hereof are specifically required to be furnished to the Indenture Trustee, the Indenture Trustee will be under a duty to examine the same to determine whether or not they substantially conform to the requirements of this Indenture (but need not confirm or investigate the accuracy of any mathematical calculations or other facts stated therein).

(d) No provision of this Indenture will be construed to relieve the Indenture Trustee from liability for its own negligent action, its own negligent failure to act, or its own willful misconduct, except that:

(i) this clause (d) will not be construed to limit the effect of subsection 9.01(a);

(ii) the Indenture Trustee will not be liable for any error of judgment made in good faith by a Responsible Officer of the Indenture Trustee, unless it will be proved that the Indenture Trustee was negligent in ascertaining the pertinent facts;

(iii) the Indenture Trustee will not be liable with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in good faith if so directed by Extraordinary Resolution, relating to the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Indenture Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred upon the Indenture Trustee, under this Indenture with respect to the Obligations Secured; and

(iv) no provision of this Indenture will require the Indenture Trustee to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of any of its duties hereunder, or in the exercise of any of its rights or powers.

(e) Whether or not therein expressly so provided, every provision of this Indenture relating to the conduct or affecting the liability of or affording protection to the Indenture Trustee will be subject to the provisions of this Section 9.01.

9.02 Certain Rights of Indenture Trustee

Except as otherwise provided in Section 9.01:

(a) the Indenture Trustee may conclusively rely and will be protected in acting or refraining from acting upon any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, direction, consent, order, bond, debenture or other paper or document (whether in its original, facsimile or other electronic form) believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties;

(b) whenever in the administration of this Indenture the Indenture Trustee will deem it desirable that a matter be proved or established before taking, suffering or omitting any action hereunder, the Indenture Trustee (unless other evidence be herein specifically prescribed) may, in the absence of bad faith on its part, rely upon an Officer's Certificate;

(c) the Indenture Trustee may consult with counsel of its own selection and the advice of such counsel or any Opinion of Counsel will be full and complete authorization and protection in respect of any action taken, suffered or omitted by it hereunder in good faith and in reliance thereon;

(d) the Indenture Trustee will be under no obligation to exercise any of the rights or powers vested in it by this Indenture at the request or direction of any of the Specified Creditors pursuant to this Indenture, unless such Specified Creditors shall have offered to the Indenture Trustee security or indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it against the costs, expenses and liabilities which might be incurred by it in compliance with such request or direction;

(e) the Indenture Trustee will not be bound to make any investigation into the facts or matters stated in any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, direction, consent, order, bond, debenture or other paper or document, but the Indenture Trustee, in its discretion, may make such further inquiry or investigation into such facts or matters as it may see fit, and, if the Indenture Trustee will determine to make such further inquiry or investigation, it will be entitled to examine the books, records and premises of the Issuer, personally or by agent or attorney;

(f) the Indenture Trustee may execute any of the trusts or powers hereunder or perform any duties hereunder either directly or by or through agents or attorneys and the Indenture Trustee will not be responsible for any misconduct or negligence on the part of any agent or attorney appointed with due care by it hereunder;

(g) the Indenture Trustee will not be responsible for filing any financing statements or continuation statements in connection with the Obligations Secured or the Security Interest, but will cooperate with the Issuer in connection with the filing of such financing statements or amendments to such financing statements;

(h) the Indenture Trustee shall not be deemed to have notice of any default (including any Servicer Default or Event of Default) unless a Responsible Officer of the Indenture Trustee has actual knowledge thereof or unless written notice of any event which is in fact such a default is received by the Indenture Trustee at the Corporate Trust Office of the Indenture Trustee, and such notice references the Issuer Funding Obligations and this Indenture;

(i) the rights, privileges, protections, immunities and benefits given to the Indenture Trustee, including, without limitation, its right to be indemnified, are extended to, and shall be enforceable by, the Indenture Trustee in each of its capacities hereunder, and each agent, custodian and other person employed to act hereunder;

(j) the Indenture Trustee shall not be liable for any action taken, suffered or omitted to be taken by it in good faith and reasonably believed by it to be authorized or within the discretion or rights or powers conferred upon it by this Indenture;

(k) the Indenture Trustee shall be entitled to and may rely absolutely upon the Payment Instruction and the Indenture Trustee will have no obligation to calculate any amount due or owing or to be allocated as provided in this Indenture, including interest or principal for any Issuer Funding Obligations;

(l) the Indenture Trustee will be entitled to rely and act upon any direction, order, instruction, notice or communication provided to it under this Indenture which is sent to it by Electronic Methods. The Indenture Trustee shall have no liability for any losses, liabilities, costs or expenses incurred by it as a result of such reliance upon or compliance with such instructions or directions. The Issuer agrees: (i) to assume all risks arising out of the use of such Electronic Methods to submit instructions and directions to the Indenture Trustee, including without limitation the risk of the Indenture Trustee acting on unauthorized instructions, and the risk of interception and misuse by third parties; (ii) that it is fully informed of the protections and risks associated with the various methods of transmitting instructions to the Indenture Trustee and that there may be more secure methods of transmitting instructions than the method(s) selected by the Issuer; and (iii) that the security procedures (if any) to be followed in connection with its transmission of instructions provide to it a commercially reasonable degree of protection in light of its particular needs and circumstances; and

(m) the Indenture Trustee will not be liable for any consequential, punitive or special damages.

9.03 Not Responsible for Recitals or Issuer Funding Obligations

The recitals contained herein and in the Funding Obligation Agreements, except the Certificates of Authentication, will be taken as the statements of the Issuer, and the Indenture Trustee assumes no responsibility for their correctness. The Indenture Trustee makes no representations as to the validity or sufficiency of this Indenture or of the Funding Obligation Agreements. The Indenture Trustee will not be accountable for the use or application by the Issuer of Notes, Borrowings or the proceeds thereof.

9.04 May Hold Notes

The Indenture Trustee, the Issuer Trustee, any Paying Agent, the Note Registrar, the Manager or any other agent of the Issuer, in its individual or any other capacity, may become the owner or pledgee of Notes and, subject to subsection 9.07(e) and applicable legislation, may otherwise deal with the Issuer with the same rights it would have if it were not Indenture Trustee, Issuer Trustee, Paying Agent, Note Registrar, Manager or such other agent.

9.05 Compensation and Reimbursement; Limit on Compensation Reimbursement and Indemnity

(a) The Issuer agrees:

(i) to pay to the Indenture Trustee from time to time reasonable compensation (or, for so long as BNY Trust Company of Canada is the Indenture Trustee, such amount as has been mutually agreed upon in writing) for all services rendered by it hereunder (which compensation will not be limited by any provision of law in regard to the compensation of a trustee of an express trust);

(ii) except as otherwise expressly provided herein, to reimburse the Indenture Trustee upon its request for all reasonable expenses, disbursements and advances incurred or made by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with any provision of this Indenture (including the reasonable compensation and the reasonable expenses and disbursements of its agents and counsel), except any such expense, disbursement or advance as may be attributable to its own negligence or bad faith; and

(iii) to indemnify the Indenture Trustee for, and to hold it harmless against, any and all loss, liability, expense, claim, damage or injury incurred without negligence or bad faith on its part, arising out of or in connection with the acceptance or administration of the trusts hereunder, including the costs and expenses of defending itself against any claim or liability (whether asserted by the Issuer, any Specified Creditor or any other Person) in connection with the exercise or performance of any of its powers or duties hereunder.

The Indenture Trustee will have no recourse to any asset of the Issuer other than funds available pursuant to Section 7.04 or 8.13, or to any Person other than the Issuer.

(b) This Section 9.05 will survive the termination of this Indenture and the resignation or replacement of the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.07.

9.06 Corporate Indenture Trustee Required; Eligibility

There will at all times be an Indenture Trustee hereunder which will be either a bank, a trust company or a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of Canada or of any province or territory thereof, authorized under such laws to carry on a trust business as contemplated hereby in each of the provinces and territories of Canada. The Issuer may not, nor may any Person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the Issuer, serve as Indenture Trustee. If at any time the Indenture Trustee will cease to be eligible in accordance with the provisions of this Section 9.06, it will resign immediately in the manner and with the effect hereinafter specified in this Article IX.

9.07 Resignation and Removal; Appointment of Successor

(a) No resignation or removal of the Indenture Trustee and no appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee pursuant to this Article IX will become effective until the acceptance of appointment by the successor Indenture Trustee under Section 9.08.

(b) The Indenture Trustee may resign at any time by giving written notice thereof to the Issuer. If an instrument of acceptance by a successor Indenture Trustee shall not have been delivered to the Indenture Trustee within 30 days after the giving of such notice of resignation, the resigning Indenture Trustee may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee.

(c) The Indenture Trustee may be removed at any time by Ordinary Resolution of the Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations delivered to the Indenture Trustee and to the Issuer. If an instrument of acceptance by a successor Indenture Trustee shall not have been delivered to the Indenture Trustee within 30 days after the giving of such notice of removal, the Indenture Trustee being removed may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee.

(d) If at any time:

(i) the Indenture Trustee ceases to be eligible under Section 9.06 and fails to resign after written request therefor by the Issuer or by any Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations, or

(ii) the Indenture Trustee becomes incapable of acting, or

(iii) the Indenture Trustee is adjudged bankrupt or insolvent or a receiver of the Indenture Trustee or of its property is appointed, or any public officer takes charge or control of the Indenture Trustee or of its property or affairs for the purpose of rehabilitation, conservation or liquidation, then, in any such case, (A) the Issuer may remove the Indenture Trustee, or (B) subject to Article XI, any Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations who has been a bona fide Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations for at least six (6) months may, on behalf of itself and all other Debtholders, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Indenture Trustee and the appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee.

(e) The Indenture Trustee shall resign if a material conflict of interest arises in its role as a trustee under this Indenture that is not eliminated within 90 days after the Indenture Trustee becomes aware that it has such a material conflict of interest. Forthwith after the Indenture Trustee becomes aware that it has a material conflict of interest, it shall provide the Issuer with written notice of the nature of that conflict. If, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection 9.07(e), the Indenture Trustee has such a material conflict of interest, the validity and enforceability of this Indenture and of the Funding Obligation Agreements shall not be affected in any manner whatsoever by reason only of the existence of such material conflict of interest. If the Indenture Trustee contravenes the foregoing provisions of this subsection 9.07(e), any interested Person may apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for an order that the Indenture Trustee be replaced as trustee hereunder. The Indenture Trustee represents to the Issuer that at the time of the execution and delivery hereof no material conflict of interest exists in the Indenture Trustee's role as a fiduciary hereunder.

(f) If the Indenture Trustee resigns, is removed or becomes incapable of acting, or if a vacancy shall occur in the office of the Indenture Trustee for any cause, the Issuer will promptly appoint a successor Indenture Trustee. If, within one (1) year after such resignation, removal or incapacity, or the occurrence of such vacancy, a successor Indenture Trustee is appointed by Ordinary Resolution of Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations delivered to the Issuer and the retiring Indenture Trustee, the successor Indenture Trustee so appointed will, forthwith upon its acceptance of such appointment, become the successor Indenture Trustee and supersede the successor Indenture Trustee appointed by the Issuer. If no successor Indenture Trustee shall have been so appointed by the Issuer or Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations and accepted in the manner hereinafter provided, any Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations who has been a bona fide Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations for at least six (6) months may, on behalf of itself and all other Debtholders, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee.

(g) The Issuer will give written notice of each resignation and each removal of the Indenture Trustee and each appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee to each Specified Creditor as provided in Article XV and to each Rating Agency. To facilitate delivery of such notice, upon request by the Issuer, the retiring Indenture Trustee shall provide to the Issuer a list of all Specified Creditors. Each notice will include the name of the successor Indenture Trustee and the address of its Corporate Trust Office.

(h) Upon such resignation, the Indenture Trustee shall be discharged from all further duties and liabilities under this Indenture.

9.08 Acceptance of Appointment by Successor

Every successor Indenture Trustee appointed hereunder will execute, acknowledge and deliver to the Issuer and to the predecessor Indenture Trustee an instrument accepting such appointment, with a copy to the Rating Agencies, and thereupon the resignation or removal of the predecessor Indenture Trustee will become effective, and such successor Indenture Trustee, without any further act, deed or conveyance, will become vested with all the rights, powers, trusts and duties of the predecessor Indenture Trustee; but, on request of the Issuer or the successor Indenture Trustee, such predecessor Indenture Trustee will, upon payment of its reasonable charges, if any, execute and deliver an instrument transferring to such successor Indenture Trustee all the rights, powers and trusts of the predecessor Indenture Trustee, and will duly assign, transfer and deliver to such successor Indenture Trustee all property and money held by such predecessor Indenture Trustee hereunder, subject nevertheless to its Lien, if any, provided for in Section 9.05. Upon request of any such successor Indenture Trustee, the Issuer will execute any and all instruments for more fully and certainly vesting in and confirming to such successor Indenture Trustee all such rights, powers and trusts.

No successor Indenture Trustee will accept its appointment unless at the time of such acceptance, such successor Indenture Trustee will be qualified and eligible under this Article IX.

9.09 Merger, Conversion, Consolidation or Succession to Business

Any corporation into which the Indenture Trustee may be merged or converted or with which it may be consolidated, or any corporation resulting from any merger, conversion or consolidation to which the Indenture Trustee shall be a party, or any corporation succeeding to all or substantially all of the corporate trust business of the Indenture Trustee, will be the successor of the Indenture Trustee hereunder, provided such corporation shall be otherwise qualified and eligible under this Article IX, without the execution or filing of any paper or any further act on the part of any of the parties hereto. The Indenture Trustee shall give prompt written notice of such merger, conversion, consolidation or succession to the Issuer and the Rating Agencies. In case any Notes shall have been authenticated, but not delivered, by the Indenture Trustee then in office, any successor by merger, conversion or consolidation to such authenticating Indenture Trustee may adopt such authentication and deliver the Notes so authenticated with the same effect as if such successor Indenture Trustee had itself authenticated such Notes.

9.10 Trust Indenture Legislation

(a) In this Article IX, the term "applicable legislation" means the provisions, if any, of the Trust and Loan Companies Act (Canada) and any other statute of Canada or a province thereof, and of regulations under any such statute, in each case, as amended, restated or re-enacted from time to time, relating to trust indentures and to the rights, duties and obligations of trustees under trust indentures and of entities issuing debt obligations under trust indentures, to the extent that in the opinion of counsel to the Issuer such provisions are at the time in force and applicable to this Indenture.

(b) If and to the extent that any provision of this Indenture limits, qualifies or conflicts with a mandatory requirement of applicable legislation, such mandatory requirement shall prevail.

(c) The Issuer and the Indenture Trustee agree that each will at all times in relation to this Indenture and any action to be taken hereunder, observe and comply with and be entitled to the benefits of applicable legislation.

9.11 Representations and Covenants of the Indenture Trustee

The Indenture Trustee represents, warrants and covenants that:

(a) the Indenture Trustee is a trust company organized, existing and in good standing under the laws of Canada;

(b) the Indenture Trustee has full power and authority to execute, deliver and perform this Indenture and has taken all necessary action to authorize the execution, delivery and performance by it of this Indenture and other documents to which it is a party;

(c) each of this Indenture and the other documents to which it is a party has been duly executed and delivered by the Indenture Trustee and constitutes its legal, valid and binding obligation in accordance with its terms; and

(d) the Indenture Trustee is authorized to carry on the business of a trust company in each of the provinces and territories of Canada. If, notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection 9.11(d), the Indenture Trustee ceases to be so authorized to carry on business, the validity and enforceability of this Indenture and the Funding Obligation Agreements shall not be affected in any manner whatsoever by reason only of such event.

9.12 Indenture Trustee's Application for Instructions from the Issuer

Any application by the Indenture Trustee for written instructions from the Issuer may, at the option of the Indenture Trustee, set forth in writing any action proposed to be taken or omitted by the Indenture Trustee under and in accordance with this Indenture and the date on and/or after which such action shall be taken or such omission shall be effective; provided that such application shall make specific reference to this Section 9.12. The Indenture Trustee shall not be liable for any action taken by, or omission of, the Indenture Trustee in accordance with a proposal included in such application on or after the date specified in such application (which date shall not be less than five (5) Business Days after the date the Issuer actually receives such application, unless the Issuer shall have consented in writing to any earlier date) unless prior to taking any such action (or the effective date in the case of an omission), the Indenture Trustee shall have received written instructions in response to such application specifying the action be taken or omitted.

9.13 Appointment of Co-Trustee or Separate Indenture Trustee

(a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Indenture, at any time, for the purpose of meeting any legal requirements of any relevant jurisdiction, the Indenture Trustee shall have the power and shall execute and deliver all instruments, subject to the prior written consent of the Manager, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, to appoint one or more Persons reasonably acceptable to the Issuer to act as a co-trustee or co-trustees, or separate trustee or separate trustees, of all or any part of the Issuer's property, and to vest in such Person or Persons, in such capacity and for the benefit of the Specified Creditors, such title to the Issuer's property, or any part thereof, and, subject to the other provisions of this Section 9.13, such powers, duties, obligations, rights and trusts as the Indenture Trustee may consider necessary or desirable. No co-trustee or separate trustee hereunder shall be required to meet the terms of eligibility as a successor trustee under Section 9.06 and no notice to Specified Creditors of the appointment of any co-trustee or separate trustee shall be required under Section 9.07.

(b) Every separate trustee and co-trustee shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be appointed and act subject to the following provisions and conditions:

(i) all rights, powers, duties and obligations conferred or imposed upon the Indenture Trustee shall be conferred or imposed upon and exercised or performed by the Indenture Trustee and such separate trustee or co-trustee jointly (it being understood that such separate trustee or co-trustee is not authorized to act separately without the Indenture Trustee joining in such act), except to the extent that under any law of any jurisdiction in which any particular act or acts are to be performed, the Indenture Trustee shall be incompetent or unqualified to perform such act or acts, in which event such rights, powers, duties and obligations (including the holding of title to the Issuer's property or any portion thereof in any such jurisdiction) shall be exercised and performed singly by such separate trustee or co-trustee, but solely at the direction of the Indenture Trustee;

(ii) no trustee hereunder shall be personally liable by reason of any act or omission of any other trustee hereunder; and

(iii) the Indenture Trustee may at any time accept the resignation of or remove any separate trustee or co-trustee.

(c) Any notice, request or other writing given to the Indenture Trustee shall be deemed to have been given to each of the then separate trustees and co-trustees, as effectively as if given to each of them. Every instrument appointing any separate trustee or co-trustee shall refer to this Indenture and the conditions of this Article IX. Each separate trustee and co-trustee, upon its acceptance of the trusts conferred, shall be vested with the estates or property specified in its instrument of appointment, either jointly with the Indenture Trustee or separately, as may be provided therein, subject to all the provisions of this Indenture, specifically including every provision of this Indenture relating to the conduct of, affecting the liability of, or affording protection to, the Indenture Trustee. Every such instrument shall be filed with the Indenture Trustee.

(d) Any separate trustee or co-trustee may at any time appoint the Indenture Trustee, its agent or attorney-in-fact with full power and authority, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, to do any lawful act under or in respect of this Indenture on its behalf and in its name. If any separate trustee or co-trustee shall die, become incapable of acting, resign or be removed, all of its estates, properties, rights, remedies and trusts shall vest in and be exercised by the Indenture Trustee, to the extent permitted by applicable law, without the appointment of a new or successor trustee.

9.14 Preservation of Information; Communications to Debtholders

(a) The Indenture Trustee will preserve, in as current a form as is reasonably practicable, the names and addresses of Registered Noteholders contained in the most recent list furnished to the Indenture Trustee as provided in Section 13.13 and the names and addresses of Registered Noteholders received by the Indenture Trustee in its capacity as Note Registrar. The Indenture Trustee may destroy any list furnished to it as provided in Section 13.13 upon receipt of a new list so furnished. The Indenture Trustee will also preserve, in as current a form as is reasonably practicable, the names and addresses of all other Specified Creditors received by the Indenture Trustee pursuant to subsections 5.01(f) and 5.03(b).

(b) If three or more Debtholders of any Class, Series or Tranche (hereinafter referred to as "applicants") (or, if there are less than three such Debtholders, all of the Debtholders) apply in writing to the Indenture Trustee, and furnish to the Indenture Trustee reasonable proof that each such applicant has owned an Issuer Funding Obligation of such Class, Series or Tranche for a period of at least six (6) months preceding the date of such application, and such application states that the applicants desire to communicate with all Debtholders (or such subset thereof as will be specified) with respect to their rights under this Indenture or under the applicable Issuer Funding Obligations and is accompanied by a copy of the form of proxy or other communication which such applicants propose to transmit, then the Indenture Trustee will, within five (5) Business Days after the receipt of such application, at its election, either:

(i) afford such applicants access to the information preserved at the time by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with subsection 9.14(a), or

(ii) inform such applicants as to the approximate number of Debtholders of all Issuer Funding Obligations (or such subset thereof as will be specified), as the case may be, whose names and addresses appear in the information preserved at the time by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with subsection 9.14(a) and as to the approximate cost of mailing to such Debtholders the form of proxy or other communication, if any, specified in such application.

If the Indenture Trustee shall elect not to afford such applicants access to such information, the Indenture Trustee shall, upon the written request of such applicants, mail to each applicable Lender and to each holder of a Registered Note of the applicable Classes, Series and Tranches whose names and addresses appear in the information preserved at the time by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with subsection 9.14(a), a copy of the form of proxy or other communication which is specified in such request, with reasonable promptness after a tender to the Indenture Trustee of the material to be mailed and of payment, or provision for the payment, of the reasonable expenses of mailing, unless, within five days after such tender, the Indenture Trustee shall mail to such applicants, together with a copy of the material to be mailed, a written statement to the effect that, in the opinion of the Indenture Trustee, such mailing would be contrary to the best interests of the Debtholders for which such mailing is intended or would be in violation of applicable law. Such written statement will specify the basis of such opinion.

(c) Every Debtholder agrees with the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee that neither the Issuer nor the Indenture Trustee will be held accountable by reason of the disclosure of any such information as to the names and addresses of the Debtholders in accordance with subsection 9.14(b), regardless of the source from which such information was derived, and that the Indenture Trustee will not be held accountable by reason of mailing any material pursuant to a request made under subsection 9.14(b).

9.15 Acceptance of Trusts by Indenture Trustee

The Indenture Trustee hereby accepts the trusts in this Indenture and agrees to perform the same upon the terms and conditions herein set forth.

9.16 Paying Agent

(a) The Paying Agent, on behalf of the Indenture Trustee, will make distributions to Specified Creditors from the Collection Account or other applicable Issuer Account pursuant to the provisions of this Indenture and any applicable Program Agreement and will report the amounts of such distributions to the Indenture Trustee. Any Paying Agent will have the revocable power to withdraw funds from the Collection Account or other applicable Issuer Account for the purpose of making the distributions referred to above.

(b) The Indenture Trustee may revoke such power and remove the Paying Agent if the Indenture Trustee determines in its sole discretion that the Paying Agent has failed to perform its obligations under this Indenture in any material respect. The Paying Agent upon removal will return all funds in its possession to the Indenture Trustee.

(c) The Issuer will cause each Paying Agent (other than the Indenture Trustee) to execute and deliver to the Indenture Trustee an instrument in which such Paying Agent will agree with the Indenture Trustee (and if the Indenture Trustee acts as Paying Agent, it so agrees), subject to the provisions of this Section 9.16, that such Paying Agent will:

(i) hold all sums held by it for the payment of principal of, interest, fees or other amounts in trust for the benefit of the Persons entitled thereto until such sums will be paid to such Persons or otherwise disposed of as herein provided;

(ii) if such Paying Agent is not the Indenture Trustee, give the Indenture Trustee notice of any default by the Issuer in the making of any such payment of principal or interest on any Issuer Funding Obligations;

(iii) if such Paying Agent is not the Indenture Trustee, at any time during the continuance of any such default, upon the written request of the Indenture Trustee, forthwith pay to the Indenture Trustee all sums so held in trust by such Paying Agent;

(iv) open and maintain appropriate records with respect to each Note; record by appropriate entries therein each payment made on account of interest, principal, fees and other amounts owing with respect to each such Note. For the purposes thereof, the Paying Agent shall provide to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee satisfactory evidence of each payment as soon as practicable after making such payment. The failure to record, or any error in recording, any such payment shall not, however, limit or otherwise affect the obligations of the Issuer as to the principal amount or accrued interest owing with respect to any Note. Such records of payment shall be conclusive evidence of the unpaid principal balance and interest owing in respect of the Notes in the absence of demonstrable error;

(v) immediately resign as a Paying Agent and, if such Paying Agent is not the Indenture Trustee, forthwith pay to the Indenture Trustee all sums held by it in trust for the payment of Issuer Funding Obligations if at any time it ceases to meet the standards described in this Section 9.16 required to be met by a Paying Agent at the time of its appointment; and

(vi) comply with all requirements of the Income Tax Act or any other applicable tax law with respect to the withholding from any payments made by it on any amounts contemplated under this Indenture of any applicable withholding taxes imposed thereon and with respect to any applicable reporting requirements in connection therewith.

(d) Each Paying Agent, if not OPG, will at all times have, or be a wholly owned subsidiary of a corporation which has, a combined capital and surplus of at least $50,000,000 and be subject to supervision or examination by a Canadian federal, provincial or territorial authority or be regulated by or subject to the supervision or examination of a Governmental Authority of a nation that is a member of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development. If such Paying Agent publishes reports of condition at least annually, pursuant to law or to the requirements of the aforesaid supervising or examining authority, then for the purposes of this subsection 9.16(d), the combined capital and surplus of such Paying Agent will be deemed to be its combined capital and surplus as set forth in its most recent report of condition as so published.

ARTICLE X
MEETINGS

10.01 Conduct of Meetings

Meetings of Debtholders of any Class, Series or Tranche, of all Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be, may be convened, held and conducted in the following manner:

(a) At any time, and from time to time, the Indenture Trustee or the Issuer may, and the Indenture Trustee shall, on receipt of a written request of the Issuer or a requisition signed by Debtholders of a particular Class, Series or Tranche, of all Issuer Funding Obligations, [of Controlling Class Obligations of a Series] or of all Controlling Class Obligations (each of such groups of Debtholders being a "Debtholder Group"), as the case may be, holding at least 25% of the aggregate Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of that Debtholder Group, convene a meeting of the Debtholders of that Debtholder Group. If the Indenture Trustee fails to convene a meeting after 30 days of being duly required by the Issuer or such Debtholders, the Issuer or such Debtholders may themselves convene such meeting and, in the case of a meeting called by such Debtholders, the notice calling such meeting may be signed by such Person as those Debtholders specify. Every such meeting shall be held in the City of Toronto or such other place in Ontario, Canada as the Indenture Trustee may in any case determine or approve.

(b) At least 7 days' prior notice of any meeting shall be given to the Debtholders of the applicable Debtholder Group to which such meeting relates and to the Issuer, unless the meeting has been called by the Issuer, and such notice shall state the date, time and the place the meeting is to be held and shall specify, in general terms, the nature of the business to be transacted. It shall not be necessary to specify in the notice the text of the resolutions to be passed. Subject to Section 10.01(c), notices shall be given in the manner set forth in Article XV and a copy thereof shall be delivered to the Indenture Trustee unless the meeting has been called by it. It shall not be necessary to specify in the notice of any adjournment of a meeting the nature of the business to be transacted at the adjourned meeting. The non-receipt of any such notice by a Debtholder shall not invalidate any resolution passed at such meeting.

(c) At any meeting of a Debtholders Group, subject as herein provided, a quorum shall consist of two or more Persons present in person or by proxy holding either personally or as proxies not less than 25% of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of the Issuer Funding Obligations of the applicable Debtholder Group entitled to vote at such meeting. If a quorum is not present on the date for which the meeting is called within 30 minutes after the time fixed for the holding of such meeting, the meeting shall be adjourned to be held at a place and upon a date and at an hour to be fixed by the Indenture Trustee who shall give not less than 7 days' notice of the date and time to which such meeting is to be adjourned and at such adjourned meeting a quorum shall consist of the Debtholders of that Debtholder Group then and there represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote at such meeting.

(d) An individual, who need not be a Debtholder, nominated in writing by the Indenture Trustee shall be chairman of the meeting (a "Chairman"). If no individual is so nominated or if the individual nominated is not present within 25 minutes after the time fixed for the holding of the meeting, the Debtholders and proxies for Debtholders present shall choose one of their number to be Chairman.

(e) Every question submitted to a meeting, except matters requiring an Extraordinary Resolution, shall be decided by a majority of the votes given on a show of hands or, if a poll shall be requested as hereinafter provided, by a majority of the votes cast on the poll (in either case, an "Ordinary Resolution") and shall be binding on all Debtholders of the Debtholder Group. On a show of hands, each Debtholder who is present, whether in person or by proxy, will have one vote for every $1,000 of Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of applicable Issuer Funding Obligations of which he or she shall be the Debtholder. A poll shall be taken on every Extraordinary Resolution and otherwise whenever requested by a Debtholder or its proxy. On a poll, each Debtholder shall have one vote for every $1,000 of Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of applicable Issuer Funding Obligations of which he or she shall be the Debtholder. Votes may be given in person or by proxy and a proxy need not be a Debtholder. If at any meeting a poll is so demanded as aforesaid on the election of a Chairman or on a question of adjournment, it shall be taken forthwith. If at any meeting a poll is so demanded on any other question, or an Extraordinary Resolution is to be voted upon, a poll shall be taken in such manner and either at once or after an adjournment as the Chairman directs. The result of a poll shall be deemed to be the decision of the meeting at which the poll was demanded and shall be binding on all Debtholders of the applicable Debtholder Group. In the case of joint Registered Noteholders, any one of them present in person or by proxy at the meeting may vote in the absence of the other or others but, if more than one of them is present in person or by proxy, they shall vote together in respect of the Notes of which they are joint Registered Noteholders.

10.02 Powers Exercisable by Ordinary Resolution and Extraordinary Resolution

(a) In addition to any powers hereinbefore given, Debtholders of a Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations shall by Ordinary Resolution have the power to:

(i) require the Indenture Trustee (subject to receipt by the Indenture Trustee of reasonable funding and indemnity) to exercise or refrain from exercising any of the powers conferred upon it by this Indenture insofar as they apply solely to such Class, Series or Tranche or by the Related Funding Obligation Agreement;

(ii) sanction, insofar as they apply to the Class, Series or Tranche, the release of the Issuer from its covenants and obligations hereunder;

(iii) subject to the provisions of this Indenture or of the Related Funding Obligation Agreement, sanction any change whatsoever to any provision of the Issuer Funding Obligations of such Class, Series or Tranche which shall be agreed to by the Issuer and any modification, alteration, abrogation, compromise or arrangement of or in respect of the rights of the Debtholders of such Class, Series or Tranche or the Indenture Trustee against the Issuer, whether such rights shall arise under the provisions of this Indenture or otherwise;

(iv) subject to the provisions of this Indenture, assent to any modification of or change in or addition to or omission from the provisions contained in this Indenture, a Related Supplemental Indenture or any instrument ancillary or supplementary hereto or thereto, in each case, insofar as they apply to the Class, Series or Tranche, which shall be agreed to by the Issuer and to authorize the Indenture Trustee to concur in and execute any deed, instrument or agreement embodying any such modification, change, addition or omission or any other deeds, documents or writings authorized by such Ordinary Resolution; provided that no such assent shall be necessary for any modification of or change in or addition otherwise permitted hereunder or under a Related Supplemental Indenture; and

(v) take any other Action authorized by this Indenture or a Related Supplemental Indenture to be taken by Ordinary Resolution of the Debtholders of a Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations.

(b) In addition to any powers hereinbefore given, Debtholders of the Controlling Class Obligations shall by Extraordinary Resolution have the power to:

(i) after the Security Interest has become enforceable, authorize the Indenture Trustee to accept, in satisfaction or partial satisfaction, all or any part of the Collateral;

(ii) after the Security Interest has become enforceable, sanction the selling of the Collateral or any part thereof or interest therein;

(iii) after the Security Interest has become enforceable, authorize the Indenture Trustee or any other Person to bid or tender at any sale of the Collateral or any part thereof and take such actions in connection with such sale as it determines to be in the best interests of all Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations;

(iv) assent to any compromise or arrangement by the Issuer with any creditor, creditors or class or classes of creditors or with the holders of any securities of the Issuer whose claims are payable from the Collateral;

(v) restrain any Debtholder from taking or instituting any suit, action or proceeding for the purpose of realizing on the Collateral or for the execution of any trust or power hereunder or for the appointment of a liquidator, receiver or trustee in bankruptcy or to have the Issuer liquidated or for any other remedy hereunder and to direct such Debtholder to waive any Event of Default on which any suit or proceeding is founded;

(vi) require the Indenture Trustee (subject to receipt by the Indenture Trustee of reasonable funding and indemnity) to exercise or refrain from exercising any other powers conferred upon it by this Indenture of general application to all Classes of Issuer Funding Obligations, including the exercise of any rights of the Issuer under any of the Program Agreements upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, or cancel any declaration of acceleration made pursuant to Article VIII upon such terms and/or conditions as may be decided;

(vii) authorize the Indenture Trustee, in the event of the Issuer making an authorized assignment or proposal or in the event of an administrator, trustee, receiver or liquidator being appointed under any applicable bankruptcy or insolvency legislation for and on behalf of all Specified Creditors and, in addition to any claim or debt provided or made for its own account as Indenture Trustee hereunder, to file and prove a claim or debt against the Issuer or its property for an amount equivalent to the aggregate amount which may be payable in respect of all Issuer Funding Obligations, to value the Collateral, and to vote such claim or debt at meetings of creditors and generally act for and on behalf of all Debtholders in such proceedings as such Extraordinary Resolution may provide;

(viii) appoint a committee with power and authority (subject to such limitations, if any, as may be prescribed in such Extraordinary Resolution) to exercise, and to direct the Indenture Trustee to exercise, on behalf of all Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations, such of the powers of such Debtholders as are exercisable by Extraordinary Resolution or other resolution as shall be included in the Extraordinary Resolution appointing the committee. The Extraordinary Resolution making such appointment may provide for payment of the expenses and disbursements of and compensation to such committee from the Collateral. Such committee shall consist of such number of Persons as shall be prescribed in the Extraordinary Resolution appointing it and the members need not themselves be Debtholders. Each such committee may elect a chairman and may make regulations respecting its quorum, the calling of its meetings, the filling of vacancies occurring in its number and its procedures generally. Such regulations may provide that the committee may act at a meeting at which a quorum is present or may act by minutes signed by the number of members thereof necessary to constitute a quorum. All acts of any such committee within the authority delegated to it shall be binding upon all Debtholders. Neither the committee nor any member thereof shall be liable for any loss arising from or in connection with any action taken or omitted to be taken by them in good faith;

(ix) take any other action authorized by this Indenture to be taken by Extraordinary Resolution; and

(x) permit the creation of any Lien on the Collateral that is prior to the Security Interest.

(c) The foregoing powers shall be deemed to be several and cumulative and not dependent on each other and the exercise of one or more of such powers, or any combination of such powers, from time to time, shall not be deemed to exhaust the rights of the Debtholders to exercise such power or powers, or combinations of powers, thereafter from time to time. No powers exercisable by Extraordinary Resolution shall derogate in any way from any rights of the Issuer under or pursuant to this Indenture. The Issuer shall give the Rating Agency notice of any Extraordinary Resolution adopted.

10.03 Extraordinary Resolution

An Extraordinary Resolution, adopted in accordance with the provisions hereof, shall be binding upon each and every Debtholder and each other Specified Creditor and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns, whether present or absent, and the Indenture Trustee (subject to the provisions for funding and its indemnity herein contained) shall be bound to give effect thereto accordingly.

Except as expressly provided to the contrary in this Indenture, no action shall be taken at a meeting of the Debtholders of a Debtholder Group which changes any provision of this Indenture or changes or prejudices the exercise of any right of any Debtholder except by Extraordinary Resolution of the Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations.

10.04 Declaration by Chairman of Result of Vote

At any meeting of the Debtholders of any Debtholder Group in cases where no poll is required or requested, a declaration made by the Chairman that a resolution has been carried, or carried by any particular majority, or lost, shall be conclusive evidence thereof.

10.05 Minutes

Minutes of all resolutions and proceedings at every such meeting, as aforesaid, shall be made and duly entered in books to be provided from time to time for that purpose by an agent of the Issuer at the expense of the Issuer and any such minutes, as aforesaid, if signed by the Chairman of the meeting at which such resolutions were passed or proceedings had shall be prima facie evidence of the matters therein stated and, until the contrary is proved, every such meeting in respect of the proceedings of which minutes shall have been made shall be deemed to have been duly held and convened and all resolutions passed or proceedings had thereat to have been duly passed and had.

10.06 Signed Instruments

Any resolution or instrument signed in one or more counterparts by (a) Debtholders holding not less than 50% of the aggregate Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of Issuer Funding Obligations of a Debtholder Group, in the case of matters capable of being decided by Ordinary Resolution, and (b) Debtholders holding not less than 66⅔% of the aggregate Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of Issuer Funding Obligations of all Controlling Class Obligations in the case of matters required to be decided by Extraordinary Resolution, shall, in either case, have the same force and effect as a resolution duly passed at a meeting of such Debtholders by the affirmative vote of all of the votes cast upon a poll. Notice of any Ordinary Resolution or Extraordinary Resolution passed in accordance with this Section 10.06 shall be given by the Indenture Trustee to all applicable Debtholders within 30 days of the date on which such Ordinary Resolution or Extraordinary Resolution was passed.

10.07 Persons Who May Attend

Each Debtholder, by their respective officers, directors, employees, and the legal advisers of such parties, may attend any meeting of Debtholders.

10.08 Binding Effect of Resolutions

Every Ordinary Resolution and every Extraordinary Resolution passed in accordance with the provisions of this Article X at a meeting of Debtholders of a Debtholder Group will be binding upon all of the Debtholders of such Debtholder Group whether present at or absent from such meeting, and every instrument in writing signed by Debtholders in accordance with Section 10.06 will be binding upon all of the Debtholders of such Debtholder Group, whether signatories thereto or not, and the Indenture Trustee will be bound to give effect accordingly to every such Ordinary Resolution, Extraordinary Resolution and instrument in writing. For greater certainty, any Extraordinary Resolution shall bind all Debtholders in accordance with Section 10.03.

10.09 Notes Regarded as Not Outstanding for Certain Purposes

If, in the opinion of the Indenture Trustee and upon receipt of an Issuer Certificate in respect of the following, any business to be transacted at any meeting of Debtholders or any action to be taken or power exercised by instrument in writing under Section 10.06 does not materially adversely affect the rights of the Debtholders of one or more particular Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations, the provisions of this Article X shall apply as if the Issuer Funding Obligations of that Class, Series or Tranche were not outstanding, and no notice of any such meeting need be given to the Debtholders of that Class, Series or Tranche.

ARTICLE XI
SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURES

11.01 Supplemental Indentures and Amendments Without Consent of Specified Creditors

Without the consent of Specified Creditors but with 10 Business Days' prior notice to each Rating Agency, the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, at any time and from time to time, and upon delivery by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee of an Issuer Certificate to the effect that the Issuer reasonably believes that such amendment will not have an Adverse Effect and is not reasonably expected to have an Adverse Effect at any time in the future, the Issuer may amend this Indenture, including any Supplemental Indenture or enter into one or more Supplemental Indentures, in form satisfactory to the Indenture Trustee, for any of the following purposes:

11.02 Supplemental Indentures and Amendments with Consent of Debtholders

In addition to any amendment permitted pursuant to Section 11.01, with prior notice to each Rating Agency and the consent of Debtholders of each Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations affected by such amendment of this Indenture, including any Supplemental Indenture, by Ordinary Resolution delivered to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee may enter into an amendment of this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture for the purpose of adding any provisions to, or changing in any manner or eliminating any of the provisions of, this Indenture or of modifying in any manner the rights of the Debtholders of each such Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations under this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture; provided, however, that no such amendment of this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture will, without the consent of each Debtholder of Issuer Funding Obligations affected thereby:
