In its administration of the IAM, the IESO directs the investment of market funds in highly rated, short-term investments throughout the settlement cycle. The IESO is entitled to receive the investment interest and investment gains, net of investment losses earned on funds passing through the real-time market settlement accounts. The IESO is not entitled to the principal on real-time market investments.

The IESO recognized investment income earned in the market settlement accounts of $3,441 thousand in 2017 (2016 – $ 2,508 thousand).

13. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Province of Ontario is a related party as it is the controlling entity of the IESO. The OEFC, OEB, Hydro One, OPG and the MOECC are related parties of the IESO, through the common control of the Province of Ontario. Transactions between these parties and the IESO were as follows:

The IESO holds a note payable and an unsecured credit facility agreement with the OEFC (Note 8). Interest payments made by the IESO in 2017 for the note payable were $2,018 thousand (2016 – $1,841 thousand) and for the credit facility were $nil (2016 – $nil). As of December 31, 2017, the IESO had an accrued interest payable balance with the OEFC of $nil (2016 – $315 thousand).

Under the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998, the IESO incurs registration and license fees. The total of the transactions with the OEB was $3,146 thousand in 2017 (2016 – $1,747 thousand).

The IESO performed connection and bulk electric system exception assessments for Hydro One in 2017. In 2017, the IESO invoiced Hydro One $694 thousand (2016 – $610 thousand).

The IESO procures short circuit studies and protection impact assessments as part of connection assessments, approvals and meter services on IESO-owned interconnected revenue meters from Hydro One. In 2017, the IESO incurred costs of $184 thousand (2016 – $188 thousand) for these services. As of December 31, 2017, the IESO had a net receivable balance with Hydro One of $137 thousand (2016 – $4 thousand).

The IESO performs connection assessment and approvals for OPG, delivers telecommunication services to market participants to connect to the real-time market systems and provides market-related training courses. In 2017, OPG was invoiced $92 thousand (2016 – $124 thousand). As of December 31, 2017, the IESO had a net receivable balance with OPG of $61 thousand (2016 – $5 thousand).

For 2017, the IESO invoiced MOECC $2,257 thousand (2016 – $nil). As of December 31, 2017, the IESO had a net receivable balance with MOECC of $4,101 thousand (2016 – $nil).

14. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The IESO is exposed to financial risks in the normal course of its business operations, including market risks resulting from volatilities in equity, debt and foreign currency exchange markets, as well as credit risk and liquidity risk. The nature of the financial risks and the IESO's strategy for managing these risks has not changed significantly from the prior year.

a) Market Risk

Market risk refers to the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate to cause changes in market prices. The IESO is primarily exposed to three types of market risk: currency risk, interest rate risk and equity risk. The IESO monitors its exposure to market risk fluctuations and may use financial instruments to manage these risks as it considers appropriate. The IESO does not use derivative instruments for trading or speculative purposes.

i) Currency Risk

The IESO conducts certain transactions in U.S. dollars, primarily related to vendors' payments, and maintains a U.S. dollar-denominated bank account. From time to time, the IESO may utilize forward purchase contracts to purchase U.S. dollars for delivery at a specified date in the future at a fixed exchange rate. In addition, the IESO utilizes U.S. dollar spot rate purchases in order to satisfy any current accounts. As at December 31, 2017, the IESO did not have any outstanding forward purchase contracts.

ii) Interest Rate Risk

The IESO is exposed to movements or changes in interest rates primarily through its short-term variable rate credit facility, cash equivalents' securities and long-term investments. Long-term investments include investments in a pooled Canadian bond fund. The potential impact to the securities' value had the prevailing interest rates changed by 25 basis points, assuming a parallel shift in the yield curve with all other variables held constant, is estimated at $659 thousand as at December 31, 2017 (2016 – $602 thousand).

iii) Equity Risk

The IESO is exposed to changes in equity prices through its long-term investments. Long-term investments include investments in pooled equity funds. A 30% change in the valuation of equities as at December 31, 2017, would have resulted in a change for the year of approximately $8,440 thousand (2016 – $7,468 thousand). The fair values of all financial instruments measured at fair value are derived from quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets.

b) Credit Risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that one party to a financial instrument may cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to meet its obligations under the terms of the financial instrument. The IESO is exposed directly to credit risk related to cash equivalents' securities and accounts receivable, and indirectly through its exposure to the long-term investments in a Canadian bond pooled fund. The IESO manages credit risk associated with cash equivalents' securities through an approved management policy that limits investments to primarily investment-grade investments with counterparty-specific limits. The accounts receivable balance as at December 31, 2017, included no material items past due and substantially all of the balance was collected within 30 days from December 31, 2017. The long-term Canadian bond pooled fund is comprised of primarily investment-grade securities.

Market participants are required to provide non-voluntary pre-payments to reduce their electricity financial exposures as determined by the IESO. If collateral is not sufficient to remedy a default amount, the IESO undertakes a default allocation process that recovers the default amount from all remaining non-defaulting market participants.

c) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk refers to the risk that the IESO will encounter financial difficulty in meeting obligations associated with its financial liabilities when due. The IESO manages liquidity risk by forecasting cash flows to identify cash flows and financing requirements. Cash flows from operations, short-term investments, long-term investments and maintaining appropriate credit facilities help to reduce liquidity risk. The IESO's long-term investments are normally able to be redeemed within two business days; however, the investment manager of the pooled funds has the authority to require a redemption in-kind rather than cash and has the ability to suspend redemptions if deemed necessary.

i) Market Settlements

In cases where a market participant fails to pay, the IESO will utilize credit facilities to settle the market. If the IESO has exhausted the availability of its credit facilities, then the IESO will pay market creditors on a pro rata basis in proportion to the amounts owed to each market creditor.

ii) Fair Hydro – regulatory asset

In accordance with the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017,

- the IESO will establish a regulatory asset as it continues to settle the market and recover Global Adjustment from customers, but as a result of the fair hydro adjustment applicable to specified consumers the IESO collects less than the full amount of the Global Adjustment. The IESO records the shortfall together with the costs of financing the shortfall, the amounts charged to the IESO by the Fair Hydro Trust in respect of the carrying costs of the Fair Hydro Trust, when applicable, and certain other amounts, in a Deferred Global Adjustment Variance account (such amount a regulatory asset)
- the IESO utilizes its credit facilities to fund the amounts recorded in the Deferred Global Adjustment variance account, and
- the IESO is permitted to: a) transfer all or a portion of the regulatory asset to a financing entity, and b) after May 2021 fully recover any non-transferred asset from specified consumers.

As a result of the Fair Hydro Plan, the IESO will be required to borrow the amounts to be recorded in the Deferred Global Adjustment Variance Account (see the bulletin above). The IESO has a current $2 billion line of credit with the OFA (see Debt Note 5) with a maturity date of September 30, 2022, to fund these amounts. The IESO expects to continue to transfer the regulatory asset to the financing entity and use the funds of such transfer to reduce the amounts borrowed. However, the financing entity is not obligated to purchase any transfer(s) offered by the IESO, and therefore the IESO is potentially subject to liquidity risk.

Pursuant to regulation the IESO will pay carrying costs to the Fair Hydro Trust monthly during the period beginning on December 1, 2017 and ending on July 31, 2021.

The IESO has provided security for the IESO's current monthly obligation to pay these carrying costs. The security provides the Fair Hydro Trust first priority over IESO receivables due from LDCs and electricity retailers.

15. COMMITMENTS

Operating commitments

The obligations of the IESO with respect to non-cancellable operating leases over the next five years are as follows:

As at December 31 (thousands of Canadian dollars)

16. CONTINGENCIES

The IESO is subject to various claims, legal actions and investigations that arise in the normal course of business. While the final outcome of such matters cannot be predicted with certainty, management believes that the resolution of such claims, actions and investigations will not have a material impact on the IESO's financial position or results of operations.

17. COMPARATIVE FIGURES

Certain of the comparative figures have been amended to reflect adjustments made in the current year. As a result, cash has increased and accounts receivable has decreased by $5,909 thousand. There was no impact to the annual surplus for the year ended December 31, 2016, or the net liabilities and accumulated deficit at December 31, 2016. Other figures have been reclassified to conform with the current year's presentation.

Executive Compensation at the IESO

Program Objectives

The IESO compensation program for executives was designed to attract, retain and motivate the calibre of executives required to support the achievement of the IESO's statutory mandate, business objectives and corporate vision. Accordingly, the compensation philosophy and programs were built on the following objectives:

- to focus executives on meeting the IESO's business objectives
- to attract and retain qualified employees needed to carry out the IESO's mandate
- to have the flexibility to reward results and demonstrated competencies
- to have compensation levels that are reasonable, responsible and in compliance with provincial regulations.

The philosophy underlying these objectives is that total compensation for executives should be adequate enough to attract and retain the skills and competencies necessary to carry out the IESO's mandate.

Program Governance

The IESO Board establishes the compensation objectives for the following year's program. It delegates the responsibility to thoroughly review the compensation objectives, policies and programs to the Human Resources and Governance Committee of the Board (HRGC), which makes recommendations to the full Board for approval.

The Board is comprised of 10 independent, external Directors, appointed by the Minister of Energy, with broad experience in the electricity industry and public sector organizations, and the President and Chief Executive Officer of the IESO. Their experience includes many years of dealing with human resource matters including the setting and implementation of compensation policies and programs.

In carrying out their mandate the Board members have access to the Management's analysis and recommendations as well as those of expert consultants in the compensation field. These programs are reviewed annually with regard to business needs, program objectives and design, industry compensation trends, internal compensation relativities and external market relativities.

The Board also assesses risks associated with the establishment and implementation of compensation policies and programs. Annually the Board presides over and approves the IESO's Business Plan. An important component of this process is consideration of, and the implementation of mitigating actions associated with, Enterprise Risk Management. This latter overarching process includes the assessment of all significant risks to the IESO, including risks associated with its compensation policies and programs.

In addition to the formal governance and oversight structure in place for compensation matters, the IESO discloses compensation levels annually for staff earning $100,000 or more as part of its public sector salary disclosure. For the IESO, a further level of public review and assurance is provided through a statutorily required annual review of the IESO's expenditures, revenue requirements and fees. Information related to compensation matters, including Executive/Management compensation and market relativities, is subject to the Ontario Energy Board review. A range of small and large consumers, assisted by their legal and professional advisors, are represented in these public proceedings.

Market Comparisons

The IESO reviews the competitiveness of the executive compensation levels in relation to a peer group of Canadian organizations and general industry companies every other year at a minimum. The objective is to compare IESO executive compensation levels to those in the marketplace particularly in relation to the median of the market.

Prior to the amalgamation of the IESO with the OPA, the Ministry of Energy had retained the Korn Ferry Hay Group, a global management consulting firm, to evaluate and market price the CEO position for the new organization. Subsequent to the CEO's appointment on January 1, 2015, the decision was made to adopt a similar approach to evaluate and market price all other executive roles using the Hay point system.

As part of this process, the comparator group was redefined consistent with the recommendations of the Agency Review Panel (the Arnett report) and is currently comprised of 13 public sector and 11 private sector organizations, with the comparator data weighted on a 50/50 public/private sector basis. The comparator group represents a range of industries, core business activities and roles that are similar to IESO: electricity, energy, asset management, financial services, infrastructure procurement, engineering and large-scale, complex IT functions. The list of organizations can be viewed in the 2015 Annual Report. As part of the 2016 Executive Compensation Framework Regulation, the IESO completed a review of its executive compensation against public sector organizations. The document is available on the IESO website and will replace the current compensation plan for executives in 2018.

The job evaluation was independently conducted by the Hay Group using its point system and the following executive positions were covered by this review:

- President & CEO;
- VP Corporate Services & CFO;
- VP Market & Resource Development;
- VP Market & System Operations & COO;
- VP Conservation & Corporate Relations;
- VP Information and Technology Services and CIO;
- VP Planning, Legal, Indigenous Relations and Regulatory Affairs.

The Hay Group evaluated the Vice-President positions based on the job documents and additional information gathered from the CEO. Based on the evaluation points, a new salary structure was developed. The executive positions were then mapped into the new structure based upon their evaluated points.

Using the market information from the above peer group, the mid-point of the range of points for each executive salary grade was determined as the market price point for comparison purposes.

The mid-points of the new salary ranges were defined as the total direct cash compensation (annual base salaries plus annual short-term and long-term target incentive awards) of the hybrid market's price point at the 50th percentile for each salary grade.

The minimums and maximums of each salary range were calculated using typical salary range spreads at executive levels. In accordance with the Broader Public Sector Accountability Act (2010), executive compensation rates have remained the same in 2017 and will be reviewed with the Executive Compensation Framework legislated effective 2018.

Program Description

The IESO program includes fixed and variable compensation, core and flex benefit plans, and pension provisions. IESO Human Resources staff participates in and reviews results from various compensation surveys and monitors economic trends such as inflation and unemployment rates, which impact on compensation, as well as internal compensation relativities. Based on this data and the IESO business priorities, Human Resources staff develops recommendations on compensation programs. External specialized compensation, benefit and pension consultants are utilized to ensure accurate, representative market compensation data is obtained, that current industry compensation trends are being utilized, as well as provide insight and recommended adjustments to current programs.

Program Description – Fixed Compensation

Within the IESO salary ranges, individuals are assessed relative to an established competency model. This model consists of behavioural competencies such as strategic agility, building effective teams, command skills, sizing up people, political savvy and managing vision and purpose. Assessments are based upon demonstrated competency. Each individual is awarded a fixed compensation level within his or her band based upon his or her assessed competency.

Program Description – Variable Compensation

In order to promote a results orientation in the executive team, the variable pay plan forms part of the total compensation of executives. The IESO Board annually establishes a robust set of performance measures that are evaluated each year.

The IESO Board assesses the corporate performance results and the CEO's individual performance results. Under the plan, having assessed the results against target, the Board does have the ability to use some discretion in determining the final performance rating – however in the past, the Board has relied upon the directly assessed results to award variable compensation.

The variable compensation award for the CEO and Vice-Presidents is capped at 10% of fixed compensation. The plan provides for awards below the capped amount depending on the performance results achieved. The 2017 annual award was paid on December 29, 2017.

Program Description – Group Benefits

The group benefit plan provides a core level of health and dental benefits, life insurance, disability coverage and vacation, which can be adjusted by individual employees through a flexible component within the plan. The flexible element provides all non-represented employees including executives the option of adjusting their benefits to meet their individual/family needs including vacation above core amounts, levels of life insurance, health coverage and other components.

Program Description – Pension Plan

A defined benefit pension plan provides annual retirement income calculated as 2% of pensionable earnings during the highest paid 60 consecutive months of service multiplied by years of service (36 months for the pension earned prior to January 1, 2017, by the former IESO executives), to a maximum of 35 years. The pension formula is integrated with the Canada Pension Plan (CPP) to provide a level income stream before and after age 65, when the IESO pension is reduced to reflect benefits from CPP. The plan also has early retirement provisions as well as commuted value, pension deferral and reciprocal transfer options.

The plan provides a maximum benefit of 70% of highest paid, pre-retirement pensionable earnings. As the Canadian Revenue Agency limits the amount of pension payable from a registered plan, the IESO has a secured supplemental employee retirement plan to provide required pension income to meet the commitments of the plan above that payable from the registered plan.

The plan also provides several options including member's life only or joint and survivor pensions, as well as pre-retirement death benefits to provide benefits to surviving spouses or beneficiaries.

Performance Measures & Impact on Compensation

The IESO annually establishes corporate performance measures relating to its business priorities during the business planning process. These are approved, monitored and assessed by the IESO Board of Directors each year. Individual performance measures supporting one or more corporate performance measures are also developed for each executive. As outlined above the corporate results achieved each year impact on each executive's variable pay.

For 2017, the Board assessed the corporate results and determined that the IESO substantially met expectations. In addition to the corporate measures, each executive also had an individual set of measures and targets for the year that aligned with the corporate performance objectives and IESO's business priorities, and these were similarly assessed. The Board assessed the results of the CEO's performance and the CEO assessed the performance of the Vice-Presidents, which were also reviewed with the Board.

Other Considerations

Compensation decisions may at times be impacted by market factors – such as the recruitment of an executive with specialized skills/competencies or possessing unique talents within the industry. To this end individual arrangements are sometimes established relating to terms of employment and the possibility of future termination.

Bruce Campbell, the CEO, retired in 2017 and was replaced by an external candidate after an extensive search was completed. Peter Gregg, the new CEO, began his tenure with the IESO on June 20, 2017.

Compensation Restraints

The IESO executive compensation has been significantly impacted by the compensation restraint legislation in Ontario since 2010. The Broader Public Sector Accountability Act (BPSAA) imposes a general freeze on designated executives' salary, variable pay, benefits and perquisites subject to very limited exceptions.

Following the amalgamation of the two former organizations (IESO and OPA) on January 1, 2015, the total 2015 variable performance pay amount awarded to all employees and office holders became the cap for total variable performance pay to be paid out in future years as long as the BPSAA remains in effect. The total variable compensation paid in 2017 was within this maximum.

Executive Compensation Structure Alignment

With the appointment on January 1, 2015 of Mr. Campbell as the CEO of the merged organization, the IESO aligned the compensation plan for its Vice-Presidents with the structure established for the new CEO. Accordingly, in both cases, the variable pay component was capped at 10% of fixed compensation with no deferral. There were no salary adjustments for executives in 2017.

The figures reported as 2017 "Salary Paid" in the 2017 Public Sector Salary Disclosure for the executives include the 2017 earned variable compensation that was paid on December 29, 2017.

The table below details the annual compensation for the year ended December 29, 2017, for the executives listed.

1) INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The interim financial statements follow the same accounting policies and methods of their application as the 2017 IESO annual financial
The interim financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis and should be read in conjunction with the 2017 IESO annual financial statements.

2) MARKET ACCOUNTS

As of January 1, 2016 the IESO changed its accounting policy regarding the recognition of market accounts assets and liabilities on the statement of financial position. The IESO-administered markets is a balancing system and includes amounts due from market participants (e.g. LDCs) and amounts due to market participants (e.g. generators). The net position of market accounts will settle to a $nil balance.
In 2017, the Government of Ontario announced its Fair Hydro Plan (FHP). Under this Plan, the IESO continues to settle the transactions between generators and distributors, but collects only a portion of the Global Adjustment from eligible customers, identified in the Ontario Fair Hydro
The FHP also shifted the cost of the Ontario Electricity Support Program (OESP) and most of the Rural or Remote Rate Protection (RRRP) program costs from ratepayers to taxpayer-funded programs.
The cumulative amount recorded in the Deferred Global Adjustment Variance account to the end of June 2018 was $2,557,769 thousand. To date a total of $1,788,000 thousand has been transferred to the Fair Hydro Trust. As a result, as at June 30, the Deferred Global Adjustment Variance account balance was $769,769 thousand, including interest and carrying charges.
In consideration of the implementation of the FHP, the OEB rescinded the OESP charge and determined to fund the program through the credit balance in the Ontario Electricity Support Program Variance account. As of June 30, the OESP variance account had been fully depleted.
On July 1, 2017 the OEB set a new rate for the RRRP program that has resulted in the IESO paying eligible markets participants more than rate collection permits. The balance in the RRRP variance account to June 30, 2018, was $16,579 thousand net of interest.

Components of the market accounts are as follows:	As at June 30, 2018	As at December 31, 2017

Subject: New Issue Announcement - Fair Hydro Trust 2018-1
Date: Monday, January 22, 2018 2:54:56 PM

Dear Ontario Team,

Away from your impending Green transaction, we wanted to forward you some details and a short write-up on the announcement of the Fair Hydro transaction (that I'm sure you're aware of). Pricing is expected the week of Feb 5th – we'll keep you posted on any interesting questions or developments as they come through in the coming weeks.

This afternoon, Fair Hydro Trust (or "the Trust") announced cross-country marketing efforts in anticipation of its inaugural debt offering. The structure consists of three tranches of which only the Senior Notes will be offered and sold to institutional investors, while the Subordinated and Junior Subordinated will be retained. The inaugural offering of the Notes has an expected maturity date of May 15, 2033 (15.25 year term). RBC Capital Markets is acting as Joint Lead and Joint Bookrunner on the transaction. The roadshow schedule consists of luncheons, one-on-ones and a nationwide conference call. The events will be in Montreal on January 29th, in Toronto on January 30th and 31st and in Western Canada on February 1st and 2nd.

The Fair Hydro Trust offering is in connection with the Province of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan ("FHP") announced on March 2, 2017, which proposed to lower the average electricity bill for eligible customers by 25%. The FHP is an initiative designed to ensure clean energy costs and clean energy benefits associated with Ontario's clean energy initiatives are fairly allocated among present and future residential consumers, small businesses and farms and to provide fairness for the aforementioned electricity users over time. The collateral consists of cost recovery receivables originated to fund the difference between what electricity users pay and what power generators are contractually owed. The Notes will be offered privately in Canada pursuant to an Offering Memorandum.

The Trust is being structured to be bankruptcy remote to Ontario Power Generation, who is acting as Financial Services Manager. The program is estimated to be $20 billion, split ~51% Senior debt, ~39% Subordinated debt, ~10% Junior Subordinated debt, with the financing program anticipated to be ~10-years.

- The U.S. Investment Grade primary markets closed out last week with a total of ~$21.7bn (11 deals/ 23 tranches) in new issue supply
  - On average, final pricing tightened 19bps from IPTs (+4bps week-over-week), over-subscription levels were 2.9x (flat week-over-week) and NICs landed at ~10bps (double the prior week's 5bps level driven by M&A related financings and Equifax's deal)
- Investment Grade bond funds registered an 11th straight week of inflows last week (+$2.5bn net inflow), bringing YTD net inflows to ~$43bn
- Wednesday the 23rd was responsible for the lion's share of last week's more subdued pace of issuance as a handful of names tapped the investment grade markets for a combined $17.7bn, ~82% of the week's total. $11.5bn of that was ascribed to the anticipated Vodafone financing of their acquisition of Liberty Global assets and GCP as that issuer brought a 6-tranche deal to market that experienced strong demand evident in their 3.1x average over-subscribed book despite paying ~15bp in concession
- BMO served as a Joint Bookrunner on Microchip Technology's (MCHP) debut IG issuance of $2bn senior secured notes split evenly between 3Y and 5Y tranches (Baa3/NR/BBB-). The deal garnered an average 3.6x over-subscribed book with proceeds earmarked to fund their acquisition of Microsemi Corp (MSCC)
- The street is expecting on average a $21bn issuance event for this holiday shortened week as a densely packed schedule of salient economic data including May's employment report and core inflation figures are slated for release

U.S. Investment Grade Debt Capital Markets

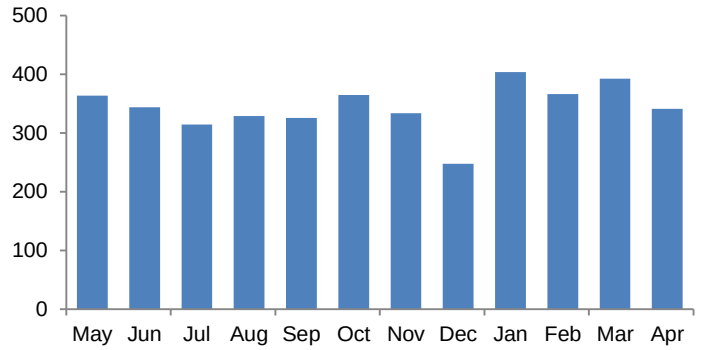
Weekly Update: April 30, 2018



Highlights

- The U.S. Investment Grade primary markets finished last week with a new issue volume of $26.0bn (19 deals / 33 tranches), a drop of 45% from the previous week but still bringing in April 2018 to $108.1bn, well above the street's expectation and just below current April record holder, $110.0bn from 2008. 2018 YTD Investment Grade issuance is at $454.3bn, 4.6% behind 2017 YTD
- On average, final pricing tightened 14bps from IPT (-8bps week-over-week), over-subscription levels were 2.5x (-0.95x week-over-week) and NICs landed at 4bps
- Lipper reported a ~$2.0bn net inflow to Investment Grade funds last week, pushing YTD net inflows to ~$35.6bn and following six consecutive weeks of positive flows
- Past weeks transactions include Bacardi's (Ba1/BBB-) $2.6bn 4-part (7s/10s/20s/30s) to finance its acquisition of Patron Spirits International. Three of the four tranches launched at IPTs with an average NIC of 2-7bps and a 2.0x over-subscribed orderbook. The three notch rating downgrade from Moody's might have prevented Bacardi from benefitting of pricing leverage. All tranches have traded 2-10bps wider in secondaries since issuance
- The average estimate for this week's high grade volume is at ~$26bn which appears to be achievable due to robust short term new issue pipeline and M&A trades that could potentially emerge

U.S. Investment Grade Debt Capital Markets

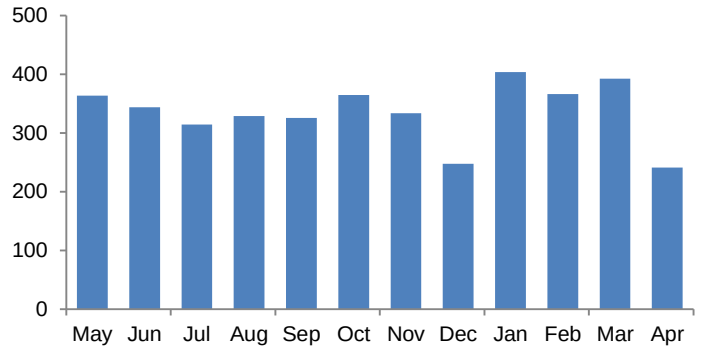
Weekly Update: April 23, 2018



Highlights

- The U.S. Investment Grade primary markets saw the third busiest week so far this year with issuance activity reaching $47.3bn (23 deals / 45 tranches) last week as volume was driven primarily by bank issuers exiting earnings
  - On average, final pricing tightened 23bps from IPT (+7 week-over-week), over-subscription levels were 3.5x (+0.40x week-over-week) and NICs landed at 10bps
- Lipper reported a ~$1.5bn net inflow to Investment Grade funds last week, pushing YTD net inflows to ~$33.6bn
- Last week's blistering pace of issuance was driven by self-funders (including JPM, MS, GS) coming to market with jumbo transactions as overall bank related volume represented 40% of total volume. Outside of bank issuers, Syngenta Finance came to market with a $4.8bn offering to refinance their earlier loan related to the ChemChina acquisition, driving the overall weekly NICs average as the deal came with an average concession of 23bps across all tranches
- The market gleaned a bit of insight from bullish economic data releases last week with stronger than expected headline and in-line control group Retail Sales on Monday. The rest of the week brought additional good news in the form of a robust Industrial Production print and Fed Beige Book business district constituents who expressed measured optimism in their growth outlook due to Tariff concerns
- Now that Q1 2018 earnings season is ramping up, we expect to see frequent issuers continue to bring deals to market as they release financial results and exit issuance blackout; the street expects an average ~$25bn of high grade issuance this week which puts the IG market on track to establish an April record

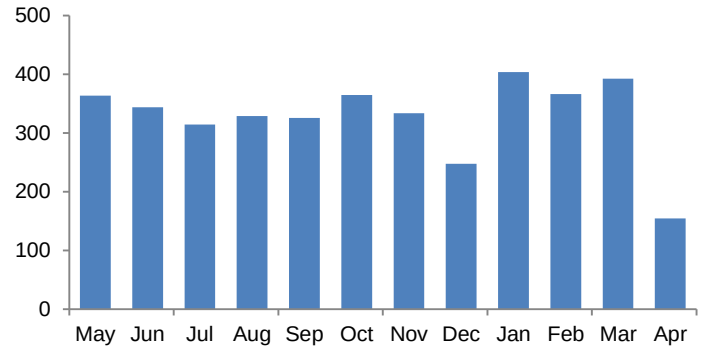
Weekly Update: April 16, 2018



Highlights

- The U.S. Investment Grade primary markets priced a paltry $10.5bn (9 deals / 14 tranches) last week as earnings blackout caused issuers to stay on the sidelines
  - On average, final pricing tightened 16bps from IPT (-5.4 week-over-week), over-subscription levels were 3.09x (-0.98x week-over-week) and NICs landed at 7bp, rebounding from the prior week's near flat concession level
- Lipper reported a $3.4bn net inflow to Investment Grade funds last week, pushing YTD net inflows to ~$32bn. A majority of flows into IG were expressed through short duration funds, helping to confirm the bid for shorter paper we've seen in the past few weeks
- Speaking of front end, Bank of Montreal executed a strong $US offering last week across both fixed and floating 3-year tranches as the bank raised $2.25bn in aggregate. Both pieces received around 2x orders and priced with essentially no concession
- This past week's domestic and geopolitical events again caused oscillation in investor temperament as we went from Chinese President Xi Jinping delivering conciliatory remarks on trade to saber rattling over the highly contentious military situation in Syria between Russia and NATO members
- We also received refreshed inflation data in the form of both PPI and CPI data last week and the releases pointed to generally stronger price pressures albeit at a gradual pace as categories such as shelter costs and airfare helped boost the core figure

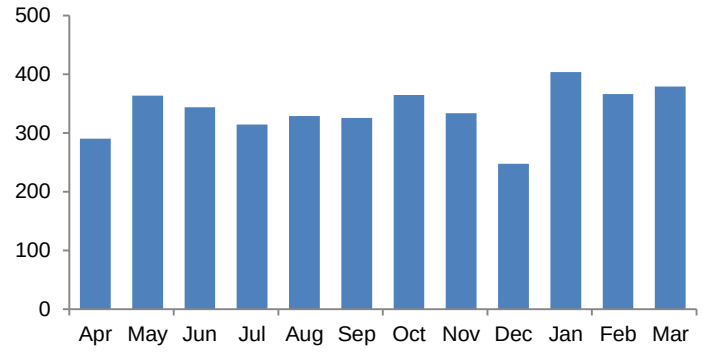
Weekly Update: April 2, 2018



Highlights

- The U.S. investment grade primary markets priced $11.1bn (14 deals / 22 tranches) last week as a combination of market volatility at the start of the week coupled with the long weekend tempered primary market activity
  - On average, final pricing tightened 12bps from IPT, over-subscription levels were 2.5x and NICs backed off from recently elevated levels, averaging 8bps which is 50% less than last week's figure
- March 2018 closed out the month at $119bn, pushing Q1 2018 totals to $346bn and coming in as the 8th largest quarter on record. 2018 total volume is now down 12% YoY
- $92bn is the current street estimates for April 2018 volume, which is slightly below the 3 year April average, as participants continue to monitor NICs and any potential headwinds that may result in market volatility
- Lipper reported a $0.4bn net inflow to Investment Grade funds last week, pushing YTD net inflows to $27.1bn
- Market volatility continues to be a key theme since February 2018 as issuers and investors are cautious given uncertainty from rising interest rates and the pace of rate hikes, the Trump administration's stance on trade, as well as understanding the full effects of cash repatriation
- Despite broader market volatility at the start of last week, investment grade corporate credit spreads actually ended the week 0.6bps tighter, driven by industrials related credit

U.S. Investment Grade Debt Capital Markets

Weekly Update: April 2, 2018

Highlights

- The U.S. investment grade primary markets priced $11.1bn (14 deals / 22 tranches) last week as a combination of market volatility at the start of the week coupled with the long weekend tempered primary market activity
  - On average, final pricing tightened 12bps from IPT, over-subscription levels were 2.5x and NICs backed off from recently elevated levels, averaging 8bps which is 50% less than last week's figure
- March 2018 closed out the month at $119bn, pushing Q1 2018 totals to $346bn and coming in as the 8th largest quarter on record. 2018 total volume is now down 12% YoY
- $92bn is the current street estimates for April 2018 volume, which is slightly below the 3 year April average, as participants continue to monitor NICs and any potential headwinds that may result in market volatility
- Lipper reported a $0.4bn net inflow to Investment Grade funds last week, pushing YTD net inflows to $27.1bn
- Market volatility continues to be a key theme since February 2018 as issuers and investors are cautious given uncertainty from rising interest rates and the pace of rate hikes, the Trump administration's stance on trade, as well as understanding the full effects of cash repatriation
- Despite broader market volatility at the start of last week, investment grade corporate credit spreads actually ended the week 0.6bps tighter, driven by industrials related credit

U.S. Investment Grade Debt Capital Markets

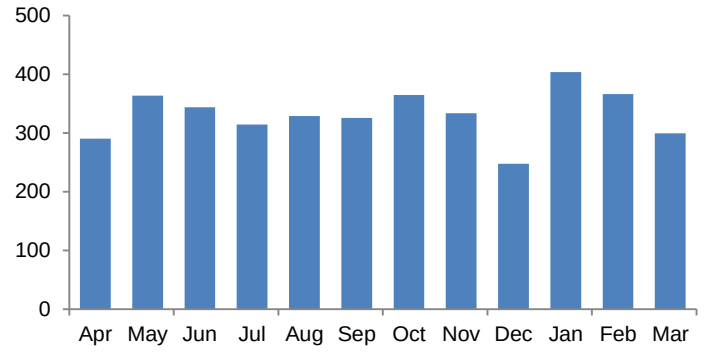
Weekly Update: March 26, 2018



Highlights

- The U.S. investment grade primary markets priced $29.6bn (18 deals / 37 tranches) last week, beating street estimates in a reversal of fortune from the prior week's doldrums as issuance volumes were up 39% week-over-week
  - On average, final pricing tightened 14bps from IPT (+6bps week-over-week), over-subscription was 2.76x (+0.67x week-over-week) and NICs remained elevated, averaging 16bps as investors still maintain a firm hold on pricing leverage
- We are now sitting at $335bn of investment grade deals for 2018 YTD which is 10.1% behind the pace of issuance at this point last year
- The above expectation level of issuance was partially attributable to a jumbo transaction done last week by Anheuser-Busch which priced $10bn across 6 tranches, accounting for a third of weekly volume by itself. Despite a challenging primary market for IG issuers recently, the deal came 3.5x over-subscribed on average with healthy moves tighter from IPT and constructive trading in the secondary market
- Despite US investment grade spreads' continued climb, Lipper reported a $3.5bn net inflow to Investment Grade funds. This pushed YTD net inflows to $26.7bn
- Risk assets performed poorly last week as a disparate set of risk events from political strife rattled markets with the Trump Administration's explicit declaration of $60bn in tariffs on China brought late week retaliation from Beijing and the ratified Federal budget resolution faced last minute pressure from the veto wielding President
- The FOMC met last week and followed through on the basically unanimous market opinion of a 6th 25bp hike since they kicked off the cycle in December 2015 and released an updated summary of economic projections. The median expectations by Fed members for the number of hikes for 2018 stayed put at 3 and increased further out in 2019 and 2020 commensurate with their upgrading of growth and inflation projections over the same timeframe

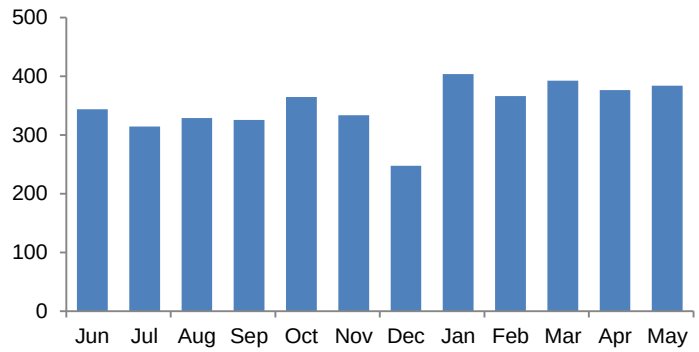
Weekly Update: June 4, 2018



Highlights

- The Memorial Day shortened week closed with $4.75bn (6 deals / 9 tranches) in primary new issue supply, registering as the slowest week YTD and falling short of estimates for $21bn
  - On average, final pricing tightened ~9bps from IPTs (vs. ~19bps the week prior), over-subscription levels were 2.72x (vs. 2.91x the week prior) and NICs landed at ~9bps (vs. ~10bps the week prior)
  - YTD volume now stands at $579.9bn, 11% behind last year's pace as Italian political uncertainty and trade war concerns weighed on sentiment throughout much of the week
- Investment Grade bond funds registered a 12th straight week of inflows last week (+$0.8bn net inflow), bringing YTD net inflows to $43.8bn
- Defensive and low-beta names appeared last Wednesday as the first issuers to reopen the market following the global risk asset selloff on Tuesday, while the tone improved considerably by the end of the week, underpinned by a strong Non-farm Payrolls report prompting two issuers to tap the market on Friday
- Market participants are expecting ~$26bn of supply this week with a robust pipeline, built up from last week's issuance drought, expected to manifest in deals as long as the market can maintain a steady course amidst continued geopolitical tensions. Looking ahead to the whole month of June, the street is expecting $95bn of new issue volume on average

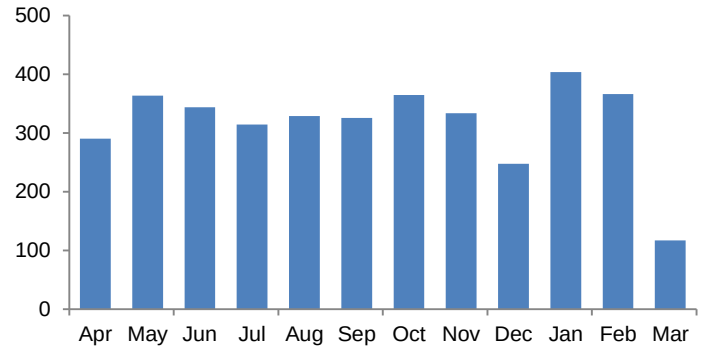
Weekly Update: March 12, 2018



Highlights

- The U.S. investment grade primary markets saw a jumbo deal by CVS push the weekly total to $54.4bn (19 deals / 35 tranches), an increase of 47% over the prior week's pace and the third largest week of issuance on record
  - On average, final pricing tightened 15.6bps from IPT (+1.2bps week-over-week), over-subscription was 2.87x (+0.35x week-over-week) and NICs remained elevated at 6bps, though this was skewed by the higher NICs recorded on the CVS transaction
- This week saw the jumbo deal from CVS as the company raised $40bn across 9 tranches in the investment grade bond market to help finance part of the $67.5bn acquisition of Aetna. Overall the deal was well received as the deal was on average 2.8x oversubscribed and NICs came in at a reasonable 15-20bps across tranches
- Even with the blockbuster CVS deal, YTD total issuance in the Investment Grade market stands at $284bn, down 12% from last year's pace of $323bn through this point of the year
- Lipper reported a $740mm net outflow to Investment Grade funds last week, pushing YTD net inflows to $20.9bn
- Tariff arguments between President Trump and our foreign trade partners came to a boil earlier last week as it seemed like there would be no exemptions and countries' trade representatives issued public statements warning of retaliatory measures. When the deal was announced last Thursday however, the rhetoric was much calmer and included temporary exemptions for Canada and Mexico with scope for negotiation more broadly
- The February employment report came in on Friday with a combination of strong non-farm job growth and weaker than expected wage gains as last month's trend bucking growth proved to be an anomaly. Treasuries reacted bearishly to the robust economic data and the 10 year UST finished the week at 2.89%

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

DECEMBER 31, 2017

[DRAFT]

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Given that the Province owns all of the shares of OPG, related parties include the Province and other entities controlled by the Province.

The related party transactions summarized below include transactions with the Province and the principal successors to the former Ontario Hydro's integrated electricity business, including Hydro One, the IESO and the OEFC. The transactions between OPG and related parties are measured at the exchange amount, which is the amount of consideration established and agreed to by the related parties. As one of several wholly-owned government business enterprises of the Province, OPG also has transactions in the normal course of business with various government ministries and organizations in Ontario that fall under the purview of the Province.

The related party transactions for the years ended December 31 are summarized below:

[1] The Nuclear Segregated Funds are reported on the consolidated balance sheets net of amounts recognized as due to the Province in respect of excess funding and, for the Used Fuel Segregated Fund, the Province's rate of return guarantee. As at December 31, 2017 and December 31, 2016, the Nuclear Segregated Funds were reported net of amounts due to the Province of $4,462 million and $3,415 million, respectively.

The receivable, AFS securities, payable and long-term debt balances between OPG and its related parties are summarized below:

[1] Balance consists of unbilled revenue.

OPG holds interest-bearing Province of Ontario bonds in the Nuclear Segregated Funds and the OPG registered pension fund. As at December 31, 2017, the Nuclear Segregated Funds held $1,503 million of interest-bearing Province of Ontario bonds, while the registered pension fund had no such holdings. As at December 31, 2016, the Nuclear Segregated Funds and the registered pension fund held $1,652 million and $284 million of interest-bearing Province of Ontario bonds, respectively. These bonds are publicly traded securities and are measured at fair value. OPG jointly oversees the investment management of the Nuclear Segregated Funds with the Province.

In December 2017, the Fair Hydro Trust purchased its first tranche of Investment Interest from the IESO for an exchange amount of $1.18 billion, which has been classified as a financing receivable on OPG's consolidated balance sheet. The transaction was settled in cash using proceeds from the Trust's issuance of senior and subordinated debt. Pursuant to the general regulation of the Fair Hydro Act, the IESO is required to pay and remit carrying costs of the Trust, excluding repayment of principal on any debt obligations, up to July 31, 2021. Commencing May 1, 2021, Specified Consumers will be invoiced by their local distribution company for the Clean Energy Adjustment to pay the carrying costs of the Trust. These funds will be remitted to the Trust through the IESO and will be used to settle all funding and other related expenses of the Trust that underlie the financing receivable.

As at December 31, 2017, OPG's consolidated balance sheet included approximately $7 million of unbilled revenue from the IESO, primarily for OPG's general fee for 2017 as the Financial Services Manager under the Act relating to incurred third-party and certain direct labour costs.

Under one of the Trust's program agreements, the Province has provided a limited guarantee to specified creditors in the event that the Trust's ability to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest to pay for certain funding obligations is adversely affected due to the occurrence of any one of the following: the Province changes the Fair

Hydro Act or any other legislation or regulation; Ontario's electricity market significantly changes due to actions undertaken by the Province; or the Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional.

OPG holds interest-bearing Province of Ontario bonds in the Nuclear Segregated Funds and the OPG registered pension fund. As at December 31, 2017, the Nuclear Segregated Funds held $1,503 million of interest-bearing Province of Ontario bonds, while the registered pension fund had no such holdings. As at December 31, 2016, the Nuclear Segregated Funds and the registered pension fund held $1,652 million and $284 million of interest-bearing Province of Ontario bonds, respectively. These bonds are publicly traded securities and are measured at fair value. OPG jointly oversees the investment management of the Nuclear Segregated Funds with the Province.

In December 2017, the Fair Hydro Trust purchased its first tranche of Investment Interest from the IESO for an exchange amount of $1.18 billion, which has been classified as a financing receivable on OPG's consolidated balance sheet. The transaction was settled in cash using proceeds from the Trust's issuance of senior and subordinated debt. Pursuant to the general regulation of the Fair Hydro Act, the IESO is required to pay and remit carrying costs of the Trust, excluding repayment of principal on any debt obligations, up to July 31, 2021. Commencing May 1, 2021, Specified Consumers will be invoiced by their local distribution company for the Clean Energy Adjustment to pay the carrying costs of the Trust. These funds will be remitted to the Trust through the IESO and will be used to settle all funding and other related expenses of the Trust that underlie the financing receivable.

As at December 31, 2017, OPG's consolidated balance sheet included approximately $7 million of unbilled revenue from the IESO, primarily for OPG's general fee for 2017 as the Financial Services Manager under the Act relating to incurred third-party and certain direct labour costs.

Under one of the Trust's program agreements, the Province has provided a limited guarantee to specified creditors in the event that the Trust's ability to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest to pay for certain funding obligations is adversely affected due to the occurrence of any one of the following: the Province changes the Fair

Hydro Act or any other legislation or regulation; Ontario's electricity market significantly changes due to actions undertaken by the Province; or the Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional.

DCM Weekly Market Update

Monday, April 23, 2018

The Canadian corporate primary market was active last week with C$3 billion of new issue supply priced across 6 transactions, including a financial Maple, 3 securitization trades and a C$ high yield offering. All of last week's transactions were well-received and featured strong orderbooks, broad investor distribution and healthy aftermarket performance. Bank of America was first to issue on the week with a dual-tranche senior Maple offering of 6NC5-year fixed/floating rate notes and a 4NC3-year FRN with RBC acting as Joint Bookrunner. The transaction represents the 6th Maple of the year and the 4th largest on record; the transaction generated a well oversubscribed orderbook, demonstrating strong ongoing demand for well-branded Maple credits. In the securitization space, CNH Capital Canada Receivables Trust and MBARC Credit Canada together priced just under a C$1 billion of new ABS supply across multiple tranches, while Fair Hydro Trust was also in the market with an upsized C$400 million offering of Utility Cost Recovery notes consisting of senior, subordinated and junior subordinated tranches. RBC acted as a Bookrunner on all three securitization transactions. The Fair Hydro deal, in particular, comes on the heels of the issuer's inaugural trade in February and capitalized on strong investor appetite for well-rated product. The Canadian high yield sector also saw primary flow on the week with Kruger Products LP printing a C$125 million 7NC3 senior unsecured offering to bring total C$ high yield supply to C$715 million for 2018. Away from the primary market, RBC hosted a successful multi-city non-deal investor roadshow for Coast Capital Savings Credit Union and also announced non-deal investor roadshows for German real estate company Aroundtown SA, to take place in Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver between April 24th and 26th, as well as for Medavie to take place in Toronto on April 26th. Looking ahead, the corporate primary market remains constructive for new issuance and is expected to remain steady as the roadshow calendar grows and as investors look to deploy built-up cash balances.

The secondary market experienced an active week of trading characterized by heavier net buying to start and close the week, while trading through the week was fairly balanced with good two-way flow across corporate sectors. Volumes were skewed to Maples at the start of the week on the back of new issue activity in the space, while autos, utilities and consumer names were mostly active in the short-end of the curve. Deposit notes and subordinated financial paper was also well-traded through the week with a focus in the belly. On the week, corporate credit spreads generally closed the week 2 bps tighter.

The government market remained active last week with C$3.8 billion pricing across 4 domestic issues. Province of Alberta started the week with a C$600 million 10-year tap, while Saskatchewan came to market with a C$300 million long-end print. Ontario accessed the market twice, first with a C$1.35 billion 10-year offering which included a C$600 million carve-out, and followed on with a C$1.5 billion 5-year offering. Of note, domestic issuance in April 2018 has reached C$9.3 billion, the highest issuance level on record for the month of April. In the secondary market, volumes remained active with new supply spurring trading flow. Provincials saw net better buying on the week with activity concentrated in 10-years, while CMBs saw net buying on front-end activity. Spreads closed out the week 2-3bps tighter across the curve in provincials and 1.5-2.5bps tighter in CMBs.

EQUITY MARKET UPDATE

North American equity markets ended the week higher on both sides of the border despite some weakness heading into the weekend as solid corporate results lifted tone earlier in the week before a slide in technology shares partially reversed gains on Friday. In the US, the S&P 500 and Dow Jones indices ended the week higher by 0.4-0.5% as earnings releases continued their positive trend with many of the banks beating estimates and upside surprises running at nearly 80% so far in the quarter. However, losses steepened to close Friday with the rout in chipmakers and other technology shares precipitating a broader equity selloff. In Canada, the S&P/TSX index outperformed its US counterpart with gains of 1.4% led by strength in the CME, consumer and financial sectors, which largely offset weakness in the energy space. In commodities, crude oil ended higher by about $1.00 to close the week at $68.38/bbl, while gold prices fell $10.21 to finish at $1,335.99/oz. In currencies, the Canadian dollar depreciated against the US greenback by 1.2% to close at 1.2753 USDCAD.

NORTH AMERICAN RATES UPDATE

North American government bond yields rose week-over-week as overall risk tone showed signs of improvement as trade tensions seemed to subside for the near-term and as inflation expectations continued to rise. In Canada, GoC yields rose steadily through the week and ended 6-9 bps higher with a steepening bias as rates in the belly rose to levels not seen since early February. In an unsurprising move, the Bank of Canada left the overnight policy rate unchanged at 1.25% on Wednesday morning, citing potential risks from "trade conflicts" and weaker near-term growth projections. Interestingly, the Bank revealed what seemed to be an apparent tolerance for firmer near-term inflation readings potentially arising from the impact of transitory factors (i.e. higher minimum wages). In particular, BoC Governor Poloz described the inflation trajectory as "rock solid" and expressed that slightly above-target readings would be unlikely to serve as the immediate trigger towards hiking rates, especially given the average rate of inflation in the last few years has been trending below the midpoint of the policy range. The Canadian CPI reading on Friday came out at 2.3% (E: 2.4%). In OIS markets, the probability of a BoC rate hike by the May meeting moderated to ~35% from above 50% earlier in the month. South of the border, the US market experienced a more pronounced shift with the 2-year benchmark yield rising 10bps, while the rest of the curve ended 12-13bps higher, sending the 10-year yield back to February highs of nearly 3.00% during the Friday session. On the data front, a strong US retail sales reading and a solid jobs report on Friday further supported the risk-on trade. Overnight Fed futures markets are currently pricing in a 92% probability of a rate hike by the June meeting, which is up from 73% at the start of April.

DCM Weekly Market Update

Monday, April 2, 2018

The Canadian corporate primary market was active last week despite the Friday holiday, with five issuers accessing the Canadian dollar market for aggregate proceeds of ~C$3.5 billion. RBC acted as lead left bookrunner on the only Canadian league table eligible offering during the week, a C$500 million 19.2-year offering from Greater Toronto Airports Authority, of which net proceeds were used in part to fund the GTAA's previously announced redemption of its outstanding 2019 maturity. South of the border, Bell Canada priced its first US$ offering in over 20 years, capitalizing on attractive relative pricing dynamics in the US market with a US$750 million 30-year transaction, led by RBC. The remainder of the week's supply was concentrated in the financial space, with CIBC and Bank of Nova Scotia pricing C$2.5 billion in NVCC and deposit note offerings, while in the securitization space Laurentian Bank priced an NHA MBS transaction and MCAP priced an offering of mortgage pass-through securities. From an overall tone perspective, the week's new issuance was well received by investors despite persisting volatility globally, with encouraging levels of oversubscription allowing issuers to achieve target size objectives and tight pricing. Looking ahead to coming weeks, investor appetite for corporate product remains healthy despite ongoing geopolitical uncertainly and recent new issues continue to trade well in the secondary market.

In the secondary market, trading flows were healthy across the curve. Maple bonds were active in the belly, while utility and infrastructure names traded in the long end on the back of the week's new supply while telco names were also active two-way across the curve. Credit spreads fluctuated over the course of the week amidst elevated volatility, with IG spreads ending the week ~4 bps wider and the 10-year part of the curve outperforming.

The government market was quiet this week with no new issues. Of note, the Provinces of Newfoundland, Quebec, and Ontario released their FY2018/19 budgets this week with Quebec and Ontario noting borrowing needs of C$13.4 billion and C$31.7 billion respectively. With most Provinces having released their budgets, healthy issuance can be expected in the coming weeks as issuers look to have a strong start to the new fiscal year. In the secondary market flows were healthy given it was a shortened week, with good two-way flow in provincals with volumes concentrated in the 10-year sector. CMBs also had a decent week with two-way volumes spread evenly across the curve. Spreads ended 3-4.5bps wider in provincials and 1-1.5bps wider across the curve.

EQUITY MARKET UPDATE

North American equity markets ended the week higher after a series of choppy trading sessions. Trade war concerns remained a driver of market tone globally as Chinese representatives issued a warning to the US not to "open the Pandora's box" and spark a flurry of protectionist practices across the globe, despite statements by Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin indicating optimism that the US and China could avert a trade war. Away from trade, technology shares were topical over the course of the week including Facebook as the company continued to grapple with the aftermath of its involvement in the Cambridge Analytica incident, while Amazon also made headlines after President Trump accused the company, via Twitter, of not paying taxes. Despite volatility throughout the week, equity indices closed higher by 1% to 2.4% on either side of the border. Commodities underperformed, with oil down $0.93 to $64.95/bbl while gold fell $22.03 to $1325.30. Also on the week, the US dollar fell 0.1% against the loonie to 1.2885 USDCAD.

NORTH AMERICAN RATES UPDATE

North American bond yields ended the week sharply lower on both sides of the border. GoC yields ended the week 8-10 bps lower after a disappointing January GDP reading (-0.1% versus consensus expectation of 0.1% growth) on Thursday dominated an otherwise quiet week from an economic data perspective. Market implied odds of a BoC rate hike at the April 18th meeting declined over the course of the week, from ~32% to approximately 23% heading into the long weekend. In the US, Treasury yields from the 5-year outwards fell 4-9 bps after reaching mid-week levels which were the lowest since early February, on the back of risk-off tone in broader asset markets as selloffs in equities weighed on sentiment, with the market largely ignoring the third reading of Q4 GDP which came in at an annualized pace of 2.9%, ahead of consensus expectations for 2.7%.

DCM Weekly Market Update

Monday, January 29, 2018

The Canadian corporate primary market was moderately active last week with 4 transactions priced for C$2 billion in gross proceeds. The offerings in the Canadian market this week well-diversified across sectors demonstrate the continued strong demand for corporate new issues with heavily oversubscribed orderbooks supporting tight pricing, negative new issue concessions and notable post-pricing secondary performance. Also notable on the week was the very strong demand for floating rate product, with three of the week's four offerings for C$1.8 billion printed as FRNs. Dollarama was in the market with a C$300 million 3-year FRN offering with RBC acting as Lead Left Bookrunner. The transaction also capitalized on the technical bid for credit and took advantage of recent non-deal investor marketing conducted towards the end of 2017. Also in FRN product, Bank of Montreal printed a C$1 billion 5-year floating rate Covered Bond – BMO' first Canadian dollar Covered Bond – and Morgan Stanley priced a self-led C$500 million 3.75NC2.75-year TLAC-eligible Maple FRN. The Morgan Stanley offering also marks the second Maple transaction of the year and continues the momentum from last year which saw near-record Maple supply. Of note, the bonds priced largely in line with recent US$ offerings, further highlighting the continued strength of the C$ market from a global perspective. From the real estate sector, CT Real Estate Investment Trust accessed the market with a C$200 million 10-year trade, which follows their last offering of C$175 million 10-years in June 2017. Away from the primary market, Fair Hydro Trust announced cross-country marketing efforts last week to take place in Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg and Vancouver between January 29th and Feb 2nd in anticipation of an inaugural trade with RBC acting as Joint Bookrunner. Looking ahead, market tone continues to be very constructive for new issue supply as issuers evaluate the market for stable funding windows and as the roadshow calendar continues to build.

The secondary market started the week light but saw more activity over the course of the week with flows balanced and trading two-way. The week started with better buying of utilities while financial names saw good two-way flow in the belly of the curve over the next couple sessions. Short-dated deposit notes in particular traded actively through the week among financial names, while energy credits were better bid in the long end. To close the week, there was a net selling bias across select telcos and auto finance names in shorter-dated tenors. Corporate credit spreads generally closed the week 3 bps tighter.

Governments had a very active week with 5 transactions pricing for C$2.7 billion. Province of Ontario completed 2 transactions on the week, first pricing a C$600 million long-dated offering with RBC acting as Lead and then their fourth ever Green Bond with a C$1 billion new 7-year with RBC acting as Joint-Lead. This marked the first green offering of 2018 after a very active prior year in the C$ green space, which in total absorbed C$1.9 billion across 4 transactions. Montreal completed the first municipal offering of the year with a C$400 million 10-year and Province of BC completed a C$500 million 30-year re-opening with RBC acting as Lead. Province of Manitoba also completed the first issue of their new 2068 ultra-long bond for C$150 million. Secondary flows were healthy this week with good two-way trading of Provincials in the front-end and belly of the curve, while CMBs saw better selling activity in 5-years. Spreads ended the week 1bp tighter in 10-year provincials and 0.5bp wider through the rest of the curve, and CMBs closed 0.5-1bp wider.

EQUITY MARKET UPDATE

North American equity markets closed the week mixed as headlines originating from the World Economic Forum in Davos and, in particular, US President Trump's "America First" address rallied US stocks. The Dow Jones and S&P 500 indices significantly rose by 2.1% and 2.2%, respectively, to close the week at fresh all-time highs. Conversely, the Canadian stock market saw valuations decline as intense international trade negotiations continued in a sixth round in Montreal over the course of the week with investors shedding risk assets in the face of an overhanging threat of a US withdrawal from NAFTA negotiations. The S&P/TSX composite fell 0.7% and touched the lowest point since December 2017 led by declines in commodity-linked sectors including energy and materials names. In commodity markets, crude oil futures rose $2.77 to close the week at $66.14/bbl, while gold prices also rose $17.28 to finish the week at $1,349.12/oz. In currency markets, the Canadian dollar appreciated 1.5% against the US greenback to close at 1.2308 USDCAD.

NORTH AMERICAN RATES UPDATE

North American government yield curves bear flattened over the course of the week on both sides of the border as NAFTA negotiations continued and headlines surrounding a US government shutdown remained at the forefront with regard to market tone. In particular, the US government formally shutdown for two days after a failure to pass legislation to fund government operations mainly stemming from a dispute over immigration policy; however the situation was remedied when the Senate Democrats agreed to end the filibuster in exchange for continued dialogue on legislation. In the US, Treasury yields were 2-5 bps higher at the front-end of the curve, while the 10-year benchmark yield closed unchanged and the long-end of the curve fell 2bps. The Government of Canada curve shifted in sympathy with its US counterpart as the 2- to 10-year part of the curve rose 1-3bps while the 30-year benchmark yield finished 4bps lower. In international markets, the ECB left its benchmark rate unchanged during its meeting on January 25th citing uncertainties that continue to persist globally. In Canadian swap markets, the curve generally rose 0.25-0.5bps, while the 30-year rose 4.75bps.

DCM Weekly Market Update

Monday, April 30, 2018

The Canadian corporate primary market was moderately active last week with ~C$2.8 billion of new issue supply priced across 5 transactions, primarily comprised of financial issuances. Among the banks, RBC issued its first deposit note of the year with a C$2 billion 5-year offering, while Canadian Western Bank printed a C$250 million reopening of its September 2021 maturity. Both transactions were well-received with oversubscribed orderbooks and competitive pricing at the tight-end of initial guidance. Coast Capital was also in the market with its inaugural debt offering of C$200 million 10NC5-year subordinated notes, with RBC acting as a bookrunner. The transaction came on the heels of an extensive cross-country roadshow, which allowed the company to generate strong momentum into the trade and upsize on the back of investor demand. On the real estate front, Chartwell Retirement Residences priced a C$150 million 7-year senior offering, representing the issuer's first offering since its inaugural print in June 2017, while in the securitization space, WTH Car Rental ULC priced a C$150 million ABS transaction with RBC acting as a bookrunner. Away from the primary market, RBC hosted non-deal fixed income investor roadshows for German real estate company Aroundtown SA as well as for Medavie, both of which were well-attended by the investor base. Looking ahead, a busy and growing roadshow calendar coupled with a constructive market backdrop should remain conducive for new issue supply in the near term.

The secondary market experienced another week of active trading characterized by relatively balanced flows over the course of the week before experiencing some selling flow on Thursday, particularly in deposit notes on the back of the new issue. Subordinated financials were also well traded last week on the back of the Coast Capital deal. Among corporate sectors, the CMT space, select long utilities and midstream names were the most active on the week trading two-way in size, while automotive financials saw heavier selling earlier in the week. On average, corporate credit spreads closed 2 bps wider.

The government market remained active with C$800 million priced across 2 provincial transactions from Quebec and New Brunswick. Of note, this April has marked the busiest month on record, with C$10.1 billion of government supply priced in the domestic market. On the whole, secondary volumes remained solid albeit with some chunky flows as large offshore and domestic pension investors accounted for a number of sizeable tickets. Directionally, there was small net selling of provincials and net buying of CMBs with the front end and belly accounting for the majority of flows. Spreads ended the week 1-2bps wider in CMBs and 1.5-2bps wider in Provincials.

EQUITY MARKET UPDATE

North American equities ended the week mixed with Canadian stocks finishing higher, while the ongoing run-up in government yields put a lid on US equity markets over the course of the week. The S&P 500 closed the week flat to the prior week, while the Dow Jones and NASDAQ indices finished 0.4-0.6% lower. Despite a continued, decent string of earnings overall with positive surprises running at ~80% (with a quarter of the S&P 500 having already reported), equity markets remain constrained by a slowing growth outlook in the face of rising borrowing costs and other macroeconomic and political uncertainties that remain at the forefront. In Canada, a strong domestic GDP reading (A: 0.3% vs. E: -0.1%) and improving tone through the NAFTA negotiations last week provided a tailwind to Canadian stocks with the S&P/TSX index closing 1.2% higher. In commodity markets, crude oil fell $0.28 to $68.10/bbl while gold prices ended the week $12.36 lower to finish at $1,324.00/oz. In currency markets, the Canadian dollar depreciated by 0.5% to close at 1.2828 CADUSD.

NORTH AMERICAN RATES UPDATE

North American government bond yields ended the week mixed on both sides of the border as BoC dialogue around the pace of monetary policy drove tone in Canada, while broader markets benefited from some positive trade and political headlines, including a historic meeting between leaders on the Korean peninsula. In Canada, GoC yields ended 1-4 bps lower across the curve as BoC Governor Poloz and Senior Deputy Governor Wilkins made their way to Parliament Hill to testify to the House Finance Committee, where they re-emphasized that current monetary conditions are “roughly where they should be” and that there is essentially no hurry to move in the near term; however they did reinforce the need for higher rates in the medium term. The odds of a near-term 25bps rate hike have continued to drift lower over the last few weeks (~36% for May and ~65% for July) but interestingly the odds for two full rate increases by the end of the year still remain high at 70%+. The US market was fairly muted with the US Treasury curve closing the week slightly flatter with the belly of the curve remaining unchanged week-over-week, while the 2-year benchmark yield closed 3bps higher and 30-years ended 2bps lower.

DCM Weekly Market Update

Tuesday, February 20, 2018

The Canadian corporate primary market remained muted last week amidst concerns around global volatility across asset classes which continued to put pressure on market tone for new issues. Sentiment however improved mid-week, as evidenced by global equity markets holding on to weekly gains despite greater than expected US headline inflation numbers. The U.S. investment grade market experienced a similar pattern as total weekly new supply failed to reach the $10 billion mark for the first time of the year. On the marketing front, RBC completed a non-deal fixed income roadshow for Cameco Corporation and announced fixed income investor meetings for NuVista Energy Ltd. in Vancouver and Toronto from February 20 to 22. RBC will also host its annual Montreal Debt Capital Markets Conference on February 22. Looking ahead, primary market activity is expected to resume in the near-term as global markets stabilize and issuers look to take advantage of funding windows ahead of potential increases in interest rates.

The secondary market activity was moderate last week with a net selling bias to start the week, changing to more balanced flows as the week progressed. Deposit notes were the most active while there was some good activity in telcos in the short-end whereas energy names were active in longer-dated tenors. Overall, corporate credit spreads closed the week generally 2bps wider.

Governments were active with C$4.8 billion pricing over the course of the week. Province of Manitoba started the issuance with a C$300 million 10-year offering led by RBC, which was followed by CMB's C$4.5 billion dual tranche which consisted of a C$2.5 billion 5yr FRN and a C$2.0 billion 10-year fixed tranche, also led by RBC. The dual-tranche represented CMB's first transaction of 2018, following active issuances in 2017 in which C$40 billion was completed over 8 offerings. In the secondary market, trading was healthy with good two-way volumes occurring in both provincials and CMBs. Spreads ended the week mostly unchanged in the provincial space, and modestly tighter in front end CMBs.

EQUITY MARKET UPDATE

North American equity markets made a considerable recovery last week which faded late in Friday's session despite support by a series of strong quarterly results that generated positive investor sentiment. The Dow Jones and S&P 500 indices both surged 4.3%, despite concerns of inflation and investors taking a net short equity volatility position. North of the border, the Canadian stock market followed its U.S. counterparts in a synchronized move upward to end the week 2.8% higher. Recovery in the Canadian equity market has been despite weaker than expected economic data and little progress in NAFTA talks, with the US providing limited flexibility while tensions are rising leading into the next round of negotiations in Mexico later this month. The commodity sector posted strong performance on the week as well, with crude oil up $2.48 to $61.68/bbl while gold rallied $30.31 to $1,346.96/oz. In currency markets, the Canadian dollar outperformed the greenback, appreciating 0.2% to close at 1.2558.

NORTH AMERICAN RATES UPDATE

North American government bond yields were mixed last week as the short-end of the curve rose steadily while the long-end seesawed to finish the week lower as markets digested the prospect of higher inflation calling for central banks to tighten further their monetary policy. In the US, the Treasury yield curve flattened materially as 2-year and 5-year yields rose 9-12 bps, while the 10-year yield increased 2 bps and the 30-year fell 3bps. Notably, the 10-year Treasury yield hit a fresh four-year high of 2.94% on Thursday after inflation fears spurred a sell-off in Treasuries. As of Friday, the market implied probability of a rate hike at the March 21st FOMC meeting stood fully priced in at 99%, up from ~87% the prior week. The focus now turns to the FOMC meeting minutes release on Wednesday, where market participants will watch for commentary on a firming inflation backdrop. In Canada, the government yield curve followed a similar pattern to US treasuries as 2 and 5-year yields rose 4 bps while the long-end of the curve fell 3-4 bps. OIS markets held the likelihood of a Bank of Canada rate hike at the March meeting virtually unchanged at 15% as the week lacked significant Canadian economic releases to move the needle. In the week ahead, market participants will look towards Canadian retail sales for December and CPI for the month of January.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Active week in Canada with five issuers pricing a combined $5.1B, dominated by financials. To that end, kicked off bank earnings season Wednesday morning with strong Q2 results, and then tapped the market with a 7 year deposit note later that day. RBC and TD each reported Thursday, with TD printing a $2.25B 5 year on Friday. Away from the banks, OMERS Realty and TMX Group also tapped the market, raising $800MM and $200MM, respectively. The lone non-financial issuer was Source Energy Services, who accessed the high yield market with a $50MM re-opening of its 10.50% notes due 2021. Tone in secondary remained stable, with spreads finishing unchanged to a touch wider (due in part to the slew of supply). Rates rallied significantly across the curve, essentially erasing the backup seen the week prior. Looking ahead to the coming week, credit market participants will have much to follow, including continued bank earnings (BNS tomorrow, BMO/NBF Wednesday, Laurentian Friday), and the Bank of Canada decision Wednesday (21% probability of a hike priced in). In addition, several roadshows are scheduled, with the near-term marketing pipeline remaining well-populated. Despite the heavy volumes seen last week, YTD supply is now just 3% up YoY, with $56.3B priced thus far.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Last week was active in the Canadian debt capital markets, with seven issuers pricing a combined $5.6B. Supply was concentrated in the financial sector, highlighted by a $1.5B, three-tranche jumbo deal from VW Credit Canada. The deal was VW's first in the Canadian market since 2015, and represented both the largest auto finance deal on record, as well as the largest non-bank corporate offering of 2018YTD. Domestic banks were also active, with BNS, BMO, and National combining for $2.8B of supply. Away from financials, Pembina Pipeline printed $700MM across 10s and 30s, and NAV Canada issued $275MM long bonds. Market tone remained volatile, with continued primary issuance, combined with global equity market weakness, putting pressure on spreads. To that end, the TSX and S&P500 dropped 3% and 6%, respectively, and Canadian secondary spreads generally finish the week ~5 bps wider. The FOMC hiked for the first time this year as expected, while headlines out of the U.S. over potential trade war concerns consumed market attention for a good portion of the week. As we head into the final week of Q1, YTD supply totals $31.2B, up 11% YoY.

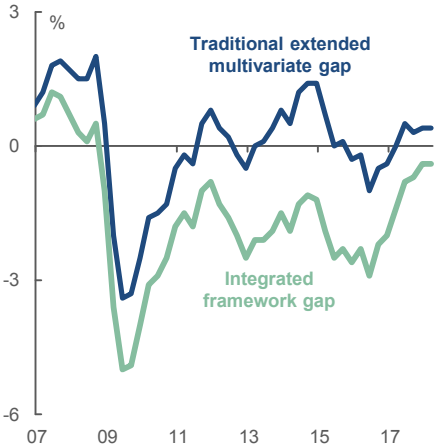
US Hawks Driving Geopolitical Risks



CANADA—MIND THE GAP FIRST, NAFTA SECOND

A first glimpse at growth to start off 2018 will be the main scheduled game in town for Canada macro watchers over the coming week. Major provincial budgets are also on tap. Bond markets will shut early on Thursday at 1pmET ahead of the Good Friday holiday.

January GDP arrives on Thursday. It may counter a stronger than expected backward looking inflation report (here). Current GDP growth is tracking a pace of just 1.2% q/q in Q1 at a seasonally adjusted and annualized rate. That's based on the monthly accounts and takes the Q4 hand-off plus my estimate for January GDP while assuming that the rest of the quarter turns out flat because of the need to keep the focus on the effects of what we know so far by way of data tracking.

For January, I'm figuring a monthly GDP gain of about 0.1% m/m. A large decline in hours worked plus a sharp drop in manufacturing shipment volumes and a flat housing starts print are offsets to figures like a decent gain in wholesale trade volumes plus a small gain in retail sales volumes. As well, large prior gains in real estate and finance (both partly on brought-forward housing demand ahead of tighter B-20 OSFI mortgage guidelines), utilities and mining may all prove difficult to sustain into January. The usual cautions apply including the fact that there is a lot of data yet to come in Q1 and given that monthly GDP tracking can deviate somewhat from the expenditure quarterly side accounts in part due to import leakage and inventory effects.

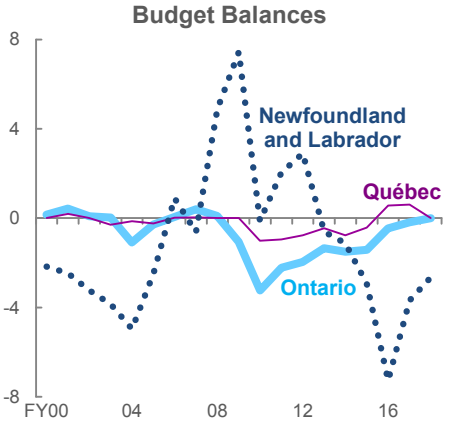
Sources: Scotiabank Economics, Bank of Canada.

Nevertheless, that kind of soft Q1 growth tracking is below the Bank of Canada's estimate of potential GDP growth that the BoC had revised to 1.6% on average in 2018–19 in the January MPR. It is a lot below the BoC's forecast of 2.7% Q1 growth from the January MPR. That doesn't mean the forecast is pre-destined to be wrong at this preliminary stage, but if my estimate for January is close then it would take February and March gains approaching 0.4% m/m to get the monthly tracking up to the BoC's forecast. That would be fairly strong and with the same usual caveats on mapping monthlies onto quarterly growth. I still think it was unusual for the BoC's last statement to gloss over lost momentum in Q3 and Q4 that posted growth of only 1.7% in each quarter. Instead they pointed to the annual 2017 number which buries valuable information regarding waning growth momentum. Another quarter of growth within that range to start off 2018 would be hard for the BoC to continue looking through. The closure of spare capacity and migration toward excess aggregate demand has essentially stalled for three straight quarters (chart 1). The risk of once again underperforming its quarterly forecast may well come to spark greater concern at the central bank.



Could it become game on again if a) the risk to get a NAFTA-II-lite agreement comes through in April ahead of Mexican/US election campaigning and Congressional deadlines and if b) data evolves more favourably from here? It's possible that payback to supercharged prior growth (but still hardly bad) runs its course and firmer growth re-emerges. These arguments will take time and data to assess though.

And on NAFTA timelines, recall the unconfirmed guidance has been that the eighth round of talks may commence on April 8th in Washington. If so, and if it takes about 7–10 days for the round to be completed which seems to be the norm, then we might know by the week of April 16th whether there is any hope of getting NAFTA-II-lite. The BoC Policy Meeting is on April 18th. Spring housing risks, softening data, etc. would still weigh on near-term sentiment. There is the possibility that if by chance NAFTA-II-lite comes through then the April forecasts could be in for a sizeable upgrade to growth by removing some or all (more likely 'some') of the negative judgement applied to what their models are telling them at present. I highly doubt that would happen until the July round. One reason is that the BoC is more likely to say they want an inked deal passed or looking likely to pass before they begin to roll back negative forecast judgement and that will be a long and uncertain path. Another reason is that the staff forecasts begin to get submitted to the Governing Council far in advance of the meeting and then the Governing Council makes final adjustments closer to game day and so they may not have time to incorporate anything into revised numbers. Regardless, they would still be near-term data dependent and 'cautious' as they put it. The best scenario for April is to hint at a little less concern on trade talks. Further, as US-China tensions build, any reduction of US-Canada trade policy risks may be countered by getting hit through the back door on global risk sentiment including but not limited to how that gets expressed through the currency and commodities.

Insofar as NAFTA negotiations are concerned, an agreement by April would give Trump the campaign fodder of saying he forced the two NAFTA partners to renegotiate and got his way, even if he mostly doesn't and each country winds up gaining something relatively minor while largely preserving the core of the NAFTA agreement. Nevertheless, uncertain progress on autos is still not accompanied by progress on other key sticking points in the negotiations (e.g., a sunset clause, dispute resolution mechanisms, mutual access to government procurement programs, dairy marketing boards etc.).

Sources: Finances Québec; Newfoundland and Labrador Finance, Ontario Finance; Statistics Canada; nom. GDP fcsts: Scotiabank Economics.

Mary Webb notes that sharply contrasting narratives are expected from Quebec's and Newfoundland and Labrador's 2018–19 Budgets on March 27 and Ontario's Budget on March 28. Chart 2 shows their fiscal paths to date. Overall we'll be looking to them for evidence of a fiscal impulse that may be of significance to the 2018–19 GDP forecasts. Newfoundland and Labrador, as of its Fall Update, expect a deficit of $852 million (2.7% of GDP) in fiscal 2017–18 (FY18), a dramatic improvement on its FY17 and FY16 shortfalls of $1.1 billion and $2.2 billion, respectively. Though Brent oil prices have strengthened and production is ramping up at the province's fourth offshore oil field, provincial employment in calendar 2018 and 2019 is expected to further decline as work on major resource projects winds down, pointing to a cumulative 8% job loss over six years.

Ontario reports that it not only has balanced its books in fiscal 2017–18 (FY18) as scheduled, it also anticipates a surplus. In FY19, however, the government indicates a deficit of up to $8 billion (1.0% of GDP) to accommodate multiple social program priorities, as outlined in their Throne Speech (here). Quebec's monthly data suggest a third consecutive hefty annual surplus in FY18, and the Province has announced a further stage in its substantive debt reduction that will remove $2 billion annually for five years from its Generations Fund to retire maturing market debt.

After next week, only Saskatchewan and PEI are left to round off the year's budget season with most of the tone set for the provincial bond market by next week.

UNITED STATES—INFLATION WATCH RESUMES

The post-FOMC market environment will largely focus upon fresh inflation figures over the coming week. There is relatively little else of major significance on the US calendar pending developments in US-China trade policy. The US bond market will shut early at 2pmET on Thursday ahead of the Good Friday holiday. Market risk appetite will continue to evolve with an eye on potential warning signs in the face of an increasingly insular U.S. government guided by a protectionist policy bias and increasingly hawkish foreign policy. This lies in the wake of the appointment of John Bolton to National Security Adviser ahead of negotiations with North Korea and risks to the Iran deal and possible reintroduction of sanctions. Some markets are repricing risk more aggressively than other measures (chart 3) and in such fashion as to risk sterilizing fiscal stimulus (more here).

Thursday's inflation, consumption, income and personal saving rate updates will be the main data releases next week. Highlights may include:

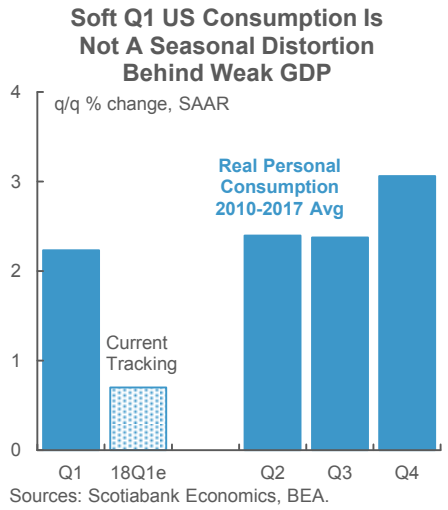
Sources: Scotiabank Economics, Bloomberg.

- Another solid month for income growth is expected, given the combination of job growth, wage gains and limited company distributions to employees.

- The saving rate may move higher again from January's 3.2% as spending growth is expected to fall short of income gains. Whether income gains will drive the release of modest pent-up consumption gains into Q2 remains to be seen.

- We already know that retail sales slipped by -0.1% m/m in nominal terms during February and the retail sales control group was up by only 0.1%. The latter concept excludes auto dealers, building materials and gas stations and is used to more closely map onto consumption within GDP accounts. It would take a large rise in spending that is not well captured by retail sales, such as services, in order to witness faster consumption growth.

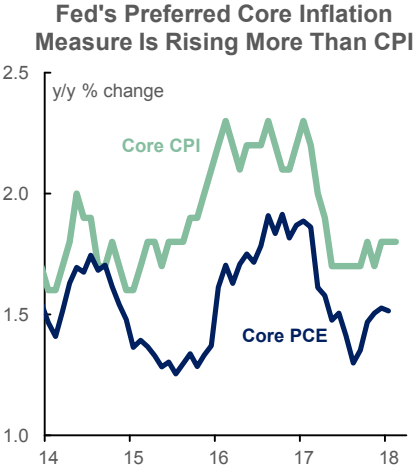
- Note that the theory that Q1 GDP growth is tracking softly simply due to longstanding problems with Q1 seasonal adjustments has no merit this time around. This time it is driven by soft consumption; as chart 4 shows, there is no evidence of persistently softer Q1 consumption growth on average over time compared to other quarters but this year's GDP weakness is being caused by disappointing Q1 consumption growth tracking. This allegation of so-called residual seasonality that is not compensated for in Q1 GDP accounts has been around for years and the last time they addressed the issue was last July in reference to a soft 2017Q1 (here).



- The bigger issue, however, will be whether core PCE inflation tracks higher than the 1.5% y/y reading in January where it has been stuck for three months given that core CPI was up by an unchanged 1.8% y/y pace in February. Core PCE and core CPI generally track one another but imperfectly so for reasons you can evaluate here and here if interested (chart 5).

At issue, however, is whether the recent upward trend in core PCE inflation is durable, or the product of transitory influences like exchange rate pass-through effects. The Fed's estimates point to a ½% rise/fall in core PCE inflation within six months following a 10% trade-weighted depreciation/appreciation in the USD that then reduces to a 0.3% impact after a full year. Mapping this sensitivity onto the dollar movements that we've seen over the past couple of years partially explains why inflation swooned until late last summer and then picked up somewhat thereafter. If the Fed's inflation goal is truly symmetrical, then it should be as inclined to look through a potentially transitory upswing driven partly by the dollar as the prior downswing.

The third round of Q4 GDP revisions lands Wednesday. This round always incorporates the Census Bureau's Quarterly Services Spending report that was released on March 8th. Because spending on services was stronger than the 2.5% second round of Q4 GDP growth estimates had assumed, this may point to an upward revision. When combined with other Q4 revisions, the net effect could be to add a few tenths and bring growth closer to the 3.1% and 3.2% pace registered in Q2 and Q3. Material growth revisions in the third round compared to the second round of estimates are not unusual (chart 6).



Other releases will include S&P Case-Shiller Core-Logic house prices for January on Tuesday (over 6% y/y). Also due out on Tuesday will be the Richmond Fed's regional manufacturing gauge on Tuesday that serves as a leading indicator for ISM-manufacturing and the Conference Board's consumer confidence index that will be watched to see whether it follows the UofM gauge higher (though entirely on present conditions). Wednesday's pending existing home sales during February follows a large 5% m/m decline in January as higher mortgage rates, lowered mortgage interest deductibility and the elimination of HELOC interest deductibility all hit.

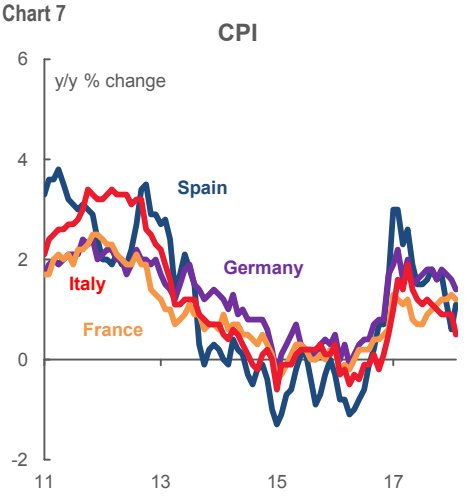
Post-FOMC Fed-speak will include NY Fed President Dudley, Cleveland Fed President Mester, Atlanta Fed President Bostic and Philadelphia Fed President Harker.

The US auctions 2s, 5s, 7s and 2 year floating rate notes next week.

EUROPE — SUBDUED INFLATION

Europe is not expected to be an epicentre of global market developments over the coming week. There are relatively few developments that are expected and the main one will be a round of inflation updates from core Eurozone economies before Europe goes quiet on Friday.

CPI inflation updates will come from Spain on Tuesday, Germany on Thursday and then both France and Italy on Friday. None of these countries have witnessed material upward pressure upon inflation (chart 7). The persistence of modest economic slack across the Eurozone (chart 8) combined with euro strength still pose challenges to greater progress toward the ECB's "below 2%" inflation goal in the near- to medium-term.



Sundry other releases will include Q4 GDP revisions by France and the UK, updated consumer spending figures from France, Germany and Spain, UK monthly services growth, and Italian industrial sales and orders.

LATIN AMERICA — BRAZIL'S BIAS

Most of the action next week will be centered upon further colour from Brazil's central bank on how it views inflation risks that will inform expectations for further monetary policy easing.

On Tuesday, Banco Central do Brasil releases minutes to the March 21st policy meeting at which the Monetary Policy Committee (Copom) decided to cut the Selic rate by 25bps. More important was that the bias was more dovish than anticipated when the central bank bluntly stated: "Regarding the next meeting, at this time, the Copom views an additional moderate monetary easing as appropriate." That was a surprise because of the massive amount of easing that has already been conducted to date and because inflation and growth evidence has been improving at the margin out of the depths of recession (chart 9). The real depreciated by over 1% versus the USD following the cut into the week's close. The central bank will also more fully explain its inflation views when it releases the Q1 Inflation Report on Thursday. Clearly the central bank wishes to foster this expansion and may also be considering political risks at home and abroad plus the impact of protectionist US policies that did not exempt Brazilian steel exports.

While Mexico's election campaign officially kicks off next Friday after the final registration deadline, the campaigning has been underway for some time in more practical terms and there is a long road on the path to the July 1st election. In the meantime, data risk should be relatively light next week with just retail sales for January on Monday, followed by trade and unemployment figures for February the next day.

ASIA — EYES ON CHINA

China will be front and centre in terms of global market attention not only in the aftermath of trade tensions with the US that may illicit further responses, but also in terms of key macro data to see how business and sentiment are holding up to the tensions.

China releases the state versions of the purchasing managers indices for the manufacturing and service sectors on Friday. These are March readings and so they start out along the path toward cleaner assessments following the Chinese Lunar New Year distortions. That said, since the New Year was later this year in mid-February, a soft jumping off point when factories shut for a good portion of the month may give rise to a rebound in the March assessments to the extent to which fully adjusting for shifting seasonality is incomplete. The complicating factor this time around is whether or not the trade skirmish with the US weighs on sentiment. Personally I would look to the April readings for a combination of cleaner readings in terms of the lunar new year effect and any fuller effects of trade policy developments.

Japan releases most of its monthly round of macro reports for February over the back half of the week including retail sales, industrial output, housing starts, the jobless rate and Tokyo CPI for March. The broad tone of the releases is expected to be constructive if for no other reason than the fact that the prior month was pretty bleak across most of these readings! Tokyo CPI will inform expectations for the national tally for March after the recent February print showed some traction. The Tokyo gauge is expected to stabilize if not slightly dip.

Bank of Thailand is unanimously expected to keep its policy rate unchanged at 1.5% on Wednesday. By contrast to the concerns expressed by some other Asian central banks, note that the Thai bhat has been unaffected by the post-Fed trade. By contrast, the won has depreciated along with the Philippine peso while the yen has picked up safe haven flows.

Other developments will be comparatively minor. South Korea updates industrial output and revises Q4 GDP growth. Trade figures arrive from New Zealand, Thailand and Hong Kong.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Domestic issuance slowed last week, with many Ontario-based market participants away for March break. Just two issuers tapped the market, raising a combined $1.6B. Most notably, TD re-opened its 1.994% March 2022 notes at +66 for $1.5B. With $3B now outstanding on the issue, it has become the largest corporate deal in the Canadian market. Vancouver Airport Fuel Facilities also tapped the market for $115MM via senior secured notes due 2051. The pullback in domestic supply did not stop Canadian issuers from accessing overseas markets, however. BMO and CIBC tapped the Sterling and Euro markets, respectively, with senior unsecured offerings. Parkland Fuel also printed its inaugural USD offering, a $500MM 8NC3 deal that priced at 6%. Looking ahead to this week, markets will be focused on the FOMC Wednesday, where it is widely expected the Fed will hike rates for the first time this year. At week end, 2018YTD supply totaled $25.6B, up 2% YoY.

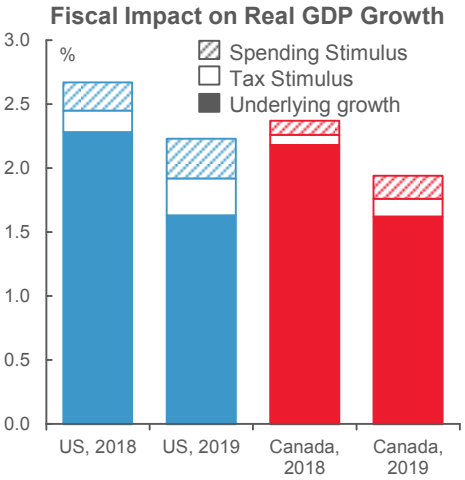
Solid Fundamentals, Exceptional Policy Uncertainty

- This update takes place amid exceptional policy-induced uncertainty. The fundamental drivers of growth remain solid across the globe, with the expansion continuing to be remarkably synchronized and mutually reinforcing. While this dynamic provides broad-based protection against risks in any one country, it also highlights the vulnerability to the escalating trade rhetoric in Washington, and the possible global response to it. At the time of printing, details of the White House's proposed tariffs on steel and aluminum have not yet been released and so we have not incorporated them into this forecast. We remain hopeful that sound economic reasoning will prevail and that the US administration will refrain from implementing measures that could dramatically alter the course of the US and global economy. If the US does proceed with these measures, we will fully reflect these developments in our growth, policy rate and foreign exchange forecasts in April. For immediate reference, our February 2nd piece NAFTA: The Macroeconomic Consequences of Disruption examines a simplified case in which a trade war breaks out between the US and all its trading partners but Canada. It implies bleak consequences for the US.



- Abstracting from trade risks, the global growth outlook has, in fact, continued improving, largely on account of US tax reform and increases in government spending. Though these policies will significantly raise US Federal deficits and debt, as well as increase the likelihood of a boom-and-bust scenario in the broader US economy, the immediate impact of these policies is to raise significantly both demand and output. The combined impact of the fiscal measures adds roughly half a percentage point to US growth this year and next (chart 1), with growth falling sharply in 2020 and 2021. This near-term boost comes at a significant fiscal cost, with the US federal deficit rising to more than a trillion dollars next year.

- In Canada, the US fiscal measures should largely benefit us in the near-term. Stronger US demand implies stronger Canadian export growth, and we have revised our forecast accordingly. We now anticipate Canadian growth will be 2.4% this year, slowing slightly below 2% in 2019 (chart 1, again). The Federal budget was a non-event from a short-term macroeconomic perspective. NAFTA-related uncertainty likely remains a drag on business activity in Canada, and we have maintained our view that this shaves about 0.2 percentage points from Canadian growth this year. Other uncertainties may compound the trade-related concerns of the business community: the loss of tax competitiveness with the US, relative changes in the countries' regulatory regimes, and increases in provincial minimum wages. Owing to these factors, business investment in Canada is likely to be much weaker than would normally be implied by the strength of the global economy, the low cost of capital, and long-standing capacity pressures. In both this year and next, Canadian growth will lag that in the US by about 1/3 of a percentage point. Nevertheless, Canadian growth is set to remain well above potential and price pressures abound: we continue to believe the Bank of Canada will raise rates by another 50 basis points this year based on domestic fundamentals. For the moment, we are sticking with our call that the next move will be in May, though the odds of that are decreasing given mounting trade-related uncertainties. We will re-evaluate this in our April 2018 Q2 Global Outlook in light of any announcements made on the trade side.

- We very much consider this to be a caretaker forecast, with a high likelihood of significant revisions if the Trump Administration launches the first move in what could become a series of tit-for-tat trade measures with some of its closest allies. President Trump and his advisors appear to anticipate that countries will not respond to any US tariff increases, and that additional tariffs would be imposed by the US if countries do indeed retaliate. While steel and aluminum represent reasonably small segments of the global economy, the increase in uncertainty prompted by new tariffs would amplify the first round effects of any possible increase in protectionism as businesses and households ponder which industries may be next. The knock-on effects on the global economy could be substantial.

DEX UNIVERSE SPREADS

MARKET COMMENTARY

Another active supply week despite continued market volatility and softer tone. Four issuers tapped the market, raising a combined $2.6B across a variety of sectors. In the largest non-financial corporate deal of the year thus far, Choice Properties REIT raised $1.3B across 6.5 and 10 year tranches to help fund its acquisition of CREIT. The deal marked Choice's second time accessing the market this year, and brings its total raised to nearly $2B. Bell Canada, one of last year's largest issuers, tapped the market for $500MM via 7 year notes. Last week also featured inaugural C$ offerings from Mondelez International (Maple) and Russel Metals. Spreads continued to underperform, moving out a handful of bps, given continued market volatility coupled with the glut of recent supply. Domestic banks were active in the Euro market with TD and NBF printing covered bonds, while BMO issued a 4 year unsecured FRN. Supply may be muted in the near-term given March break this week, and a light pipeline of roadshow activity. At week end, 2018YTD supply totaled $23.4B, up 1% YoY.

MARKET COMMENTARY

It was another quiet week for primary activity in the domestic market, with no new supply to report. Despite a muted past two weeks, YTD issuance totals $12.6B, roughly in line with last year's pace. We're poised to see some activity after Ford mandated dealers on a $633MM ABS (FAST) transaction that is expected to price this week. On the marketing front, NuVista will be completing a non-deal roadshow this week. It will also be another busy week for earnings, including CIBC and RBC kicking off bank reporting on Thursday and Friday, respectively. Market tone was relatively stable last week, with the Dow finishing up 4%, making up some of its losses from the past few weeks. We'll look to see if markets can continue stabilizing this week, and if any supply should follow. Key data risk will come from Canadian CPI and Retail Sales to be released later this week, along with FOMC meeting minutes which are due tomorrow afternoon.

MARKET COMMENTARY

The Canadian corporate bond market has priced $12.0B YTD, a 9% YoY increase in volumes. Positive market tone has led to tremendous investor demand with book sizes averaging 46 buyers. Notwithstanding higher YTD issuance, pre-funding activity in 2017 dampens projected 2018 refinancing volumes. Shorter tenors continue to dominate, with 70% of 2018's volume in the 7-year or less tenor range. Financial issuers have driven volume, with the Canadian Banks alone providing 45% of this year's supply. Corporate credit spreads trended tighter through the month of January with the average spread index touching +96 bps, its lowest level post financial crisis. MARKET COMMENTARY

It was a busy week for Canadian market participants with 9 issuers pricing transactions. We had some notable activity in the financial and real estate sectors while the market also absorbed the first high yield deal of 2018. To date, the market has already seen $11.5BN worth of supply priced, which is 19% ahead of this time last year and made January 2018 the second busiest January funding month on record. Also notable is the relentless FRN demand in the market with 45% of total issuance to date coming in floating format.

Outside of issuance activity, participants were focused on both FOMC rate decision and Canadian monthly GDP figures. In her last address at Fed Chair, Yellen left rates unchanged (as largely expected), while adding emphasis to the Fed's plan for more hikes. Previous language on the FOMC statement was also changed to acknowledge stronger growth and more confidence that inflation will rise to the 2 percent target. On this side of the border, Canadian GDP numbers were released and came in slightly stronger than expectations. This data, coupled with record low unemployment figures indicates that the Canadian economy remains resilient as central banks prepare for further rate hikes and head into a tightening bias.

MARKET COMMENTARY

The Canadian corporate debt market was active last week, with four issuers pricing a total of $2B: Morgan Stanley printed a $500MM 3.75NC2.75 FRN at 3M CDOR + 37.5 bps, CT REIT came to market with a $200MM 9.8 year deal at CRV + 158 bps, Dollarama Inc. executed a $300MM 3 year FRN at 3M CDOR + 27 bps (the lowest corporate BBB-rated FRN coupon on record), and Bank of Montreal priced a $1B 5 year covered bond offering at 3M CDOR + 19 bps. At week end, YTD new issue volumes totalled $5.6B, down 33% YoY

South of the border, primary activity in the U.S. was subdued but we did see some notable activity as CPPIB Capital and CIBC accessed the market: CPPIB Capital completed a US$2B 3 year transaction at MS + 9 bps and CIBC came to market with a dual tranche transaction of US$600MM 3 year FRN at 3M LIBOR + 31.5 bps and US$750MM 3 year Fixed at CRV + 50 bps.

Market tone remained strong throughout the week. BoC Governor Poloz noted that the BoC remains data driven and its largest concerns are NAFTA, household debt levels, and cyber risk. In the US, annual GDP growth was 2.6% in 2017, which came in slightly below expectations. The Canadian dollar strengthened, reaching a 4 month high vs. the U.S. dollar.

Canadian corporate spreads finished the week 2 to 3 bps tighter, outperforming the U.S., where IG29 closed -1 to 46.

MARKET COMMENTARY

The Canadian corporate debt market remained busy this week with 5 issuers pricing a combined total of $2.15B: Laurentian Bank of Canada issued a $550MM 21-month FRN at 3M CDOR + 65 bps, Toyota Credit Canada priced $200MM 2.5 year FRNs and $400MM 5 year senior unsecured notes (at the tightest level we have seen on a CAD corporate FRN in at least 3 years), Lloyds Banking Group PLC executed a $500MM 7 year Maple transaction at CRV + 135 bps, H&R REIT priced a $250MM (upsized from $200MM) 5 year deal at CRV + 137 bps, and Canadian Western Bank raised a $250MM 18-month FRN at 3M CDOR + 38 bps.

South of the border, TD tapped the US market with a US$1.5B 3 year FXD/FRN transaction while CIBC accessed the Euro market with a €1.25B 5 year covered bond offering.

As widely expected, the BoC raised the overnight rate by 25 bps to 1.25%; Scotiabank Economics calls for two additional rate hikes before the end of 2018.

Canadian corporate spreads finished the week unchanged to marginally better, outperforming the U.S., where IG29 closed +1 to 48.

MARKET COMMENTARY

A slower week in the Canadian corporate new issue market, with only two issuers tapping the market, raising a combined $600MM. Honda Canada Finance printed a $500MM 7 year deal which represented its longest tenor issued in Canada. River Cree also accessed the market with a $100MM offering in the high yield space. In secondary, tone remained stable, with spreads finishing roughly unchanged while equities squeaked higher. The rates market commanded investor focus with yields across the curve edging higher to the tune of 10 bps. Looking forward, the slowdown in primary activity may not last long given a very well-populated marketing calendar. In addition, bank earnings begin this week, with CIBC kicking off tomorrow. Following the slower week, YTD supply is now tracking just 2% above last year's pace, with $51.3B having priced thus far this year.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Very active week in primary, with six issuers coming to market, printing $3.1B across a variety of sectors. To that front, the largest deal of the week was Daimler Canada Finance's dual-tranche, $750MM offering of new 4 year notes and a short FRN reopening. Elsewhere in the FIG space, Manulife Financial printed $600MM 10NC5 sub notes, while First National Financial issued ~$600MM of NHA MBS product. The non-financial corporate space saw 407 and Morguard tap the market, alongside a 7 year Maple from BP (its first C$ offering since 2013). Market tone was stable for most of the week, with secondary spreads closing the week unchanged to marginally tighter. Equities outperformed, with the TSX rallying 1.6% on the back of firmer oil prices. Canadian jobs data had little impact on markets Friday, with a 29k increase in full-time jobs offset by a reduction in part-time work. It will be a lighter week for Q1 reporting, with just a few names set to release before bank earnings kick off next week. At week end, 2018YTD supply totals $50B, up 15% vs. last year's pace.

MARKET COMMENTARY

A somewhat muted week for new issue supply, with just 3 issuers coming to market, raising a combined $2.3B. Ford Credit Canada printed $1.25B in a dual-tranche transaction which represented the issuer's largest ever Canadian offering. Mosaic Transit Partners issued $181MM of amortizers to finance the construction of the Finch West LRT in Toronto, while CIBC printed a 1 year FRN, raising $900MM. Tone in secondary was somewhat weaker, with spreads moving out generally 3-5bps on active flows. The FOMC rate decision Wednesday had little impact on markets, with the Fed holding rates unchanged as expected, but pointing towards a hike at the June meeting (97% probability currently priced in). Non-farm payroll data on Friday came in slightly weaker than expected, but also failed to create any substantial market noise. Looking ahead to this week, a number of corporate issuers will come out of blackout periods, with bank earnings two weeks away. We will also get Canadian jobs data on Friday, which will influence the Bank of Canada's rate decision at its upcoming meeting at the end of the month (currently 37% probability of a hike priced in). As of week end, 2018YTD new issue supply totals $47.1B, up 16% YoY.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Supply was dominated by financials last week, with $2.6B of the $2.75B priced originating from the sector. To that end, RBC priced a $2B 5 year deposit note just before entering into blackout. On the back of its cross-country roadshow, Coast Capital printed its debt IPO via $200MM 10NC5 sub notes. The lone non-financial corporate to issue was Chartwell Retirement Residences, who came to market with $150MM 7 year notes. We could see additional supply this week given tone has remained stable over the past few sessions, and several corporate issuers are set to exit blackout periods. BMW Canada announced a mandate for a $500MM ABS transaction that is expected to launch and price early this week. Market participants will also be watching the FOMC Wednesday for further clues that a June hike remains the likely scenario (only a 6% probability of a hike is priced in for this week vs. 97% for the June meeting). At week end, 2018YTD supply totaled $44.6B, up 18% YoY.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Another active week in the Canadian market, with five issuers tapping the market for a combined $2.9B. Supply was concentrated in the financial space, highlighted by Bank of America's dual-tranche jumbo $1.5B Maple, alongside a number of securitization deals, including Fair Hydro's second foray into the debt market. The lone non-financial transaction was Kruger Products' $125MM 7NC3 offering which marked the issuer's first deal since 2011. Market tone remained firm throughout the week, leading to spreads improving a handful of bps across sectors. The Bank of Canada left rates unchanged as expected alongside a moderately hawkish bias, pointing to future hikes later in the year. BNS was active south of the border with a $2B 3 year offering, alongside many of the U.S. banks, which accessed the market after exiting blackout periods. Corporate issuance may begin to pick up this week as several issuers are set to report Q1 earnings. As of week end, 2018YTD issuance totals $41.9B, up 20% vs. last year's record pace.

Central Bank Playoffs

UNITED STATES — NUTS AND BOLTS

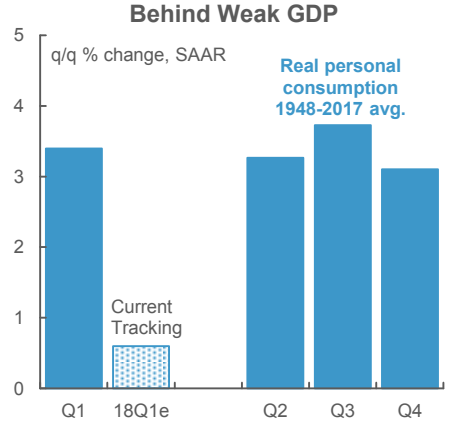
Earnings and data risk should dominate the calendar over the coming week. In this regard, the focus returns to good old nuts and bolts fundamentals. IMF and World Bank meetings also wrap up in Washington this weekend.

Earnings reports from 178 S&P500 firms will arrive over the coming week with a particular emphasis upon tech stocks although the earnings season fans out from the initial focus upon financials. Names will include Alphabet, Whirlpool, Xerox, Coca-Cola, 3M, Caterpillar, Lockheed Martin, Visa, AT&T, Facebook, eBay, Ford, Pepsi, Time Warner, UPS, GM, Intel, Amazon, Microsoft and Starbucks.

Data risk will include the following:

1. Q1 GDP (Friday): Growth of 2.2% is forecast. The Atlanta Fed 'nowcasts' Q1 growth of 2% compared to the NY Fed's 'nowcast' estimate of 2.7% and the St. Louis Fed's 'nowcast' estimate of 3.4%. Soft growth in consumer spending during Q1 explains much of the Q1 GDP softening. Softer Q1 GDP growth this year has nothing to do with residual seasonality in the GDP accounts that can often plague Q1 each year. As chart 1 depicts, consumer spending in Q1 doesn't usually underperform the rest of the year and therefore isn't typically the culprit for soft Q1 GDP growth, though it happens to be this year. A stronger picture for consumer spending is likely into Q2 as income growth partially stemming from tax reforms and associated distributions is realized and spent and transitory distortions like more adverse weather than normal in parts of the country shake out.

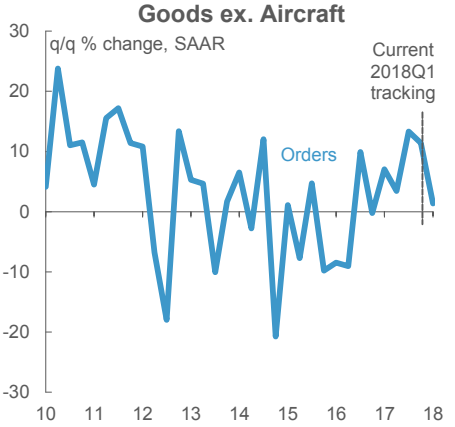
2. Investment (Thursday): A rise in Boeing aircraft orders from 30 in February to 197 in March should benefit headline durable goods orders but the bigger issue is whether the strong rise in core orders ex-air and defense during February was a flash in the pan against a previously weakening trend since September, or the start of a sustainable investment rebound as captured through GDP accounts. The improvement in the quarterly growth trend of the core order book has so far stumbled somewhat into 2018 (chart 2).



3. Housing: The sales side of the picture is up for a complete update with March prints for home resales (Monday) and new home sales (Tuesday) plus the February reading for the S&P et al measure of repeat sales home prices (Tuesday) all on tap. Both sales measures are seeking to establish a trend in the wake of distortions like the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act and weather. The TCJA lowered the ceiling on mortgage interest deductibility and eliminated HELOCs interest deductibility for which sales appear to have paid a price in addition to the effects of higher mortgage rates.

4. Labour costs (Friday): The employment costs for civilian workers measure has been gently rising over the past year but entirely on the benefits side of the picture. The wages component has been steady and is expected to remain so in the Q1 update. It is among several measures of labour cost pressures that the Fed considers (chart 3).

5. Consumer confidence: The Conference Board's measure (Tuesday) is expected to remain around the highest levels since 2000.



The US auctions two year floating rate notes and 2s, 5s and 7s.

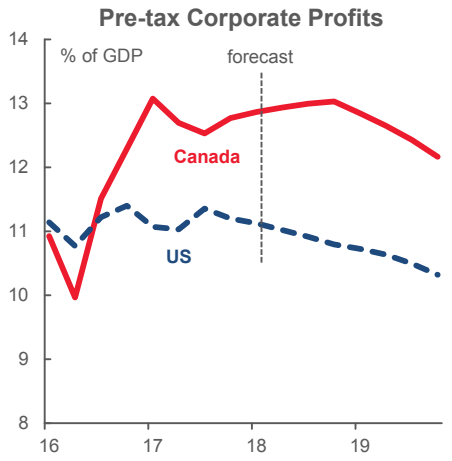
CANADA — SELL IN MAY?

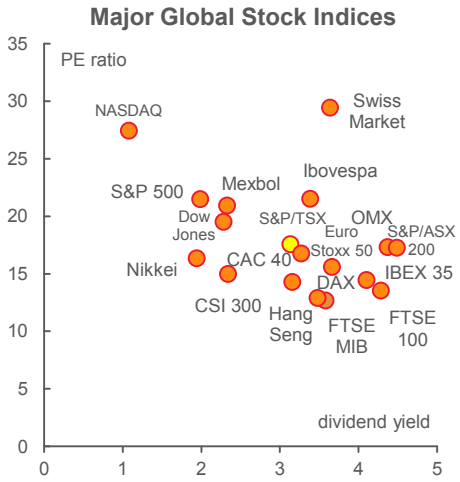
Canada should settle down over the coming week with relatively little on the docket compared to the recent past. Bank of Canada testimony, earnings reports and very limited data risk will marginally inform market tone across asset classes.



The latest NAFTA guidance from named Mexican and from anonymous US officials points toward momentum for a handshake deal sometime during the first half of May albeit that this guidance has been perennially pushed out to date. The timeframe is tightening, however, given the requirement for the current US Congress to have 6½ months to review the agreement. Regardless, there is unlikely to be a major development on this front over the coming week but if anything arises then pay particular attention to progress—or lack thereof— on auto content negotiations.

BoC Governor Poloz and Senior Deputy Governor Wilkins testify on the outlook and monetary policy before the House of Commons Standing Committee on Finance on Monday afternoon at 3:30pmET. An opening statement is likely to repeat the broad strokes of recent BoC communications that were assessed here.

One question I'd ask would be: what are the criteria that the BoC is searching for in deciding when to hike next? Of course they wouldn't answer by way of what specific readings they are looking for, but broadly speaking is there an overall combination of data-dependent outcomes for growth, inflation and wages that would skew the possible decision toward hiking next month, or at the next meeting on July 11th or later? It's at least worth a shot, though central bankers are schooled in the art of dodging such questions, except when they don't… The issue is of particular relevance on the path to the May 30th BoC meeting given that recent communications stated that "We will be monitoring the data for the second quarter very closely in the weeks ahead" as it anticipates a "strong" Q2 rebound. A May hike remains possible but the likely criteria will include a combination of stronger activity readings and at least holding firm on wage and price evidence which is so far happening (here).



Other possible questions to the Governor could include explaining why the MPR seemed more positive on investment than the Governor was in his press conference and ensuing media interviews later in the day. Does the Governor subscribe more to what the MPR said or his guidance thereafter? Also querying the Governor on whether he still believes the economy is 50% more interest sensitive today than in the past and how this estimate was derived would be useful.

Data risk will be confined to just Monday's wholesale trade figures for February. Traders usually yawn at the print if they even notice it. The only significance lies in terms of updated growth-tracking given a small 6% weight in GDP. February GDP lands on May 1st. So far, I'm tracking about a 0.4% m/m rise that would be the strongest print in three months pending wholesale. The catalysts include a 0.6% m/m rise in hours worked, given that GDP equals hours worked times labour productivity itself defined as output per hour worked. Also, manufacturing shipment volumes were up 2% m/m, housing starts rose 6.7% and retail sales volumes increased by 0.3%. Export volumes were up 0.6% m/m which may reflect gains in export-intensive sectors that could flow through GDP, and import volumes were up 1.9% m/m which may signal demand-pull strength in import-related activities (such as wholesalers). Transitory growth headwinds that dragged down January's GDP (-0.1%) are expected to reverse and easily add a tenth or two to GDP growth. Recall that mining, quarrying, oil and gas extraction fell by 2.7% m/m in January significantly due to unscheduled maintenance shutdowns that resulted in a 7.1% plunge in non-conventional oil extraction. There were also rail transportation issues that impeded the movement of grains and hit agricultural sector GDP.

Thirty-seven TSX-listed firms release earnings reports over the coming week including Barrick Gold and several other gold plays, CN, Metro, West Fraser and TransCanada. Canada's pre-tax profit cycle scaled to the economy is on somewhat stronger foundations than stateside but the US market is more richly priced (charts 4, 5). The TSX dividend yield is approaching 3%—a full point above the S&P500 and nearly triple that of the Nasdaq—and TSX multiples remain considerably lower.

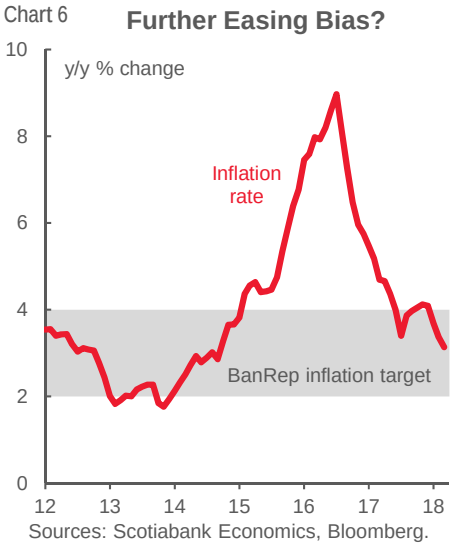
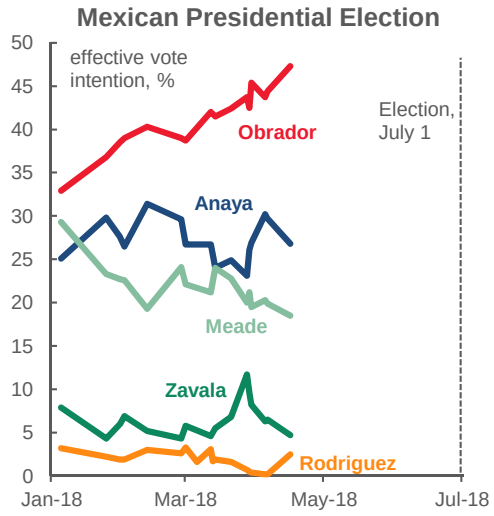
LATIN AMERICA — IT'S LOPEZ'S ELECTION TO LOSE



An expected rate cut in Colombia and Mexican politics will dominate regional market influences over the coming week.

Banrep is expected to cut its overnight lending rate by at least 25bps again on Friday. That would bring cumulative easing to 350bps since the end of 2016 and set a new low since August 2014. As chart 6 depicts, Colombian inflation is back within the central bank's policy target range of 2–4%. Finance Minister Cardenas—who sits on BanRep's board—recently stated "There's space for cutting the rate. I think a consensus is being formed about it. So I haven't made up my mind on whether I will suggest 25 or 50, it depends on the data we're seeing."

The first Presidential candidates' debate in Mexico occurs this Sunday. The election is Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador's to lose given the leftist candidate is presently polling about half of voter support (chart 7). Perceptions of relative performance may inform peso positioning into the start of the week.



Minutes to the April 12th Banxico meeting (Thursday) at which the central bank held the policy rate at 7.5%, Mexican retail sales (Wednesday) and the unemployment rate (Thursday) round out the Mexican focus over the coming week.

EUROPE — A BIG WEEK FOR FIVE CENTRAL BANKS

This will be a jam-packed week of European developments with a focus upon growth tracking, inflation updates and several central bank decisions.

First up will be four central bank decisions that may all present global and local market risks.

ECB (Thursday): No policy changes are expected and guidance on policy exits may not yet be forthcoming. Inflation revisions took Eurozone CPI down a tick to 1.3% y/y with core measures hovering around 1% or about half of the 'under 2%' inflation target. Trade tensions and the euro's nearly one-fifth appreciation versus the USD since the start of last year are weighing upon the outlook as solid recent growth begins to ease at the margin.

Riksbank (Thursday): After headline inflation returned to the 2% inflation target but inflation ex-energy remained at 1.5%, the Riksbank is unlikely to alter prior guidance for a hike to be delivered sometime over 2018H2. To date, the Riksbank projects the -0.5% repo rate to only become positive by 2019Q3.

Russia (Friday): An easing bias may be interrupted next Friday given the biting impact of western sanctions on Russia that have driven the ruble lower and raised exchange rate pass-through inflation risk. Bank of Russia's First Deputy Governor Ksenia Yudaeva recently remarked that "the probability of a reduction has declined" and "The trajectory of cuts in the key rate will be adjusted slightly upward. It will be reduced more slowly than we planned earlier."

Turkey (Wednesday): The surprise election call by President Erdogan for June 24th complicates monetary policy as the possibility of the Central Bank staying out of election headlines is confronted by market volatility that has driven the lira lower toward a record low versus the USD. The central bank may jump in to restore currency stability with a hike.

The ECB's bias will also be informed by top-shelf macro data. Another batch of purchasing managers' indices for April arrives on Monday. They have been weakening of late along with evidence of a global deceleration (chart 8). To what degree this means GDP growth is also weakening given historical correlations will be clearer when France and Spain release Q1 GDP growth estimates on Friday—the day after the ECB although it would have an advanced understanding of the estimate beforehand. The Eurozone GDP add-up lands on May 2nd. The same logic applies to the first glimpses at Eurozone CPI in April when France and Spain release their inflation readings on the same day as GDP. Of tertiary importance relative to the rest will be updated consumer spending figures for March from France and Spain on Friday and Germany either by late week or into the next. Ditto for German IFO business confidence (Tuesday), German GfK consumer confidence (Thursday) and updated Eurozone confidence readings for April on Friday.

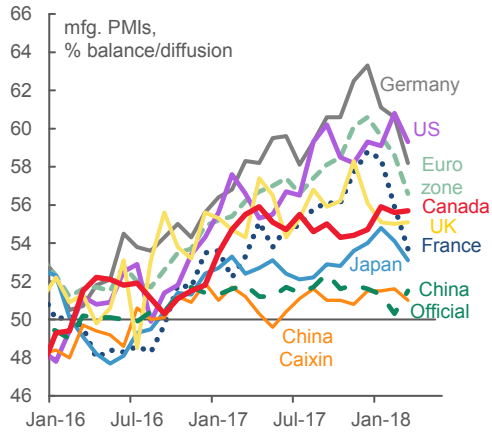
As for Bank of England watchers, the path to the May 10th meeting recently became murkier. Our UK economist/strategist Alan Clarke expects Friday's GDP growth to slow to 0.3–0.4% q/q at a seasonally adjusted but non-annualized rate in keeping with PMIs (chart 9). That would mean growth of around 1½% y/y. A downside disappointment could further reduce the market odds of a hike in May but the BoE could see through weather distortions. After core CPI inflation unexpectedly slipped to 2.3% y/y for the weakest reading since last March, the transitory influences of sterling's prior depreciation are shaking out. Adding to the intrigue is a recent BBC interview by BoE Governor Carney who lessened market expectations for a May hike by saying the May meeting will be conducted "conscious that there are other meetings" and that there would only be a few hikes possible in the years ahead. Scotia's UK-based economist/strategist Alan Clarke recently revised his forecast and now expects the BoE to remain on hold in May. Please see his note for further elaboration.

ASIA — KOMMUNICATION RISK



Bank of Japan and RBA watchers will have their appetites whetted by significant developments over the coming week in an otherwise light calendar by way of factors that could influence the global market tone. Ongoing US-China trade and investment tensions remain the wildcard risk into higher risk next month.

The Bank of Japan's latest policy pronouncements are not expected to present a shift in directions or guidance later in the week. Governor Kuroda sparked some market concern in early March when he remarked that 2019 could be the year for exiting policy stimulus and then dialed that back just days later when he said: "Right now it's too early to debate what tools we should use, and what kind of pace we should take. I said that we would be discussing how to move forward with exit. I never said we would be exiting immediately in fiscal 2019." Communications risk is the more likely source of market volatility than substantive changes in policy direction. It's difficult to envisage the scenarios that could motivate a move away from the "around zero" nominal 10 year bond target. Core inflation is still stuck around 1% y/y and hence at about half of the inflation target. The yen is still about 5% firmer versus the USD so far this year. Further, another sales tax increase is planned for October of next year and will likely dampen consumption while sparking transitory inflation and then renewed disinflation. The BoJ's rising share of the JGBs market (chart 10) is not at dysfunctional levels especially in light of the 'around zero' target that substitutes an option to buy as a dare to markets for tangible purchases.

Japan also updates retail sales, industrial output, housing starts and the jobless rate later in the week and all for March along with Tokyo CPI for April.

Australian CPI (Monday) will be updated with the Q1 reading. Headline CPI is expected to hold at about 1.9% y/y. That lies just beneath the RBA's 2–3% inflation target range (chart 11). The trimmed mean CPI and weighted median CPI measures were at 1.8% and 2% in Q4 respectively with little change expected next week. This speech by Deputy Governor Guy Debelle on the RBA's experience with inflation targeting over time is worth a quick read for RBA watchers.

Chinese industrial profit growth will likely continue to ease when March figures arrive later in the week. The year-ago growth rate peaked at about 28% last September and now we're rebasing to the prior acceleration that makes incremental growth harder to come by as profit levels remain elevated. GDP growth is expected to hover just beneath 3% in both South Korea (Wednesday evening eastern time) and Taiwan (Friday morning ET).

ECB: No policy changes are expected and guidance on policy exits may not yet be forthcoming. Inflation revisions took Eurozone CPI down a tick to 1.3% y/y with core measures hovering around 1% or about half of the 'under 2%' inflation target. Trade tensions and the euro's nearly one-fifth appreciation versus the USD since the start of last year are weighing upon the outlook as solid recent growth begins to ease at the margin.
Riksbank: After headline inflation returned to the 2% inflation target but inflation ex-energy remained at 1.5%, the Riksbank is unlikely to alter prior guidance for a hike to be delivered sometime over 2018H2. To date, the Riksbank projects the -0.5% repo rate to only become positive by 2019Q3.
Russia: An easing bias may be interrupted next Friday given the biting impact of western sanctions on Russia that have driven the ruble lower and raised exchange rate pass-through inflation risk.
Turkey: The surprise election call for June 24th complicates monetary policy as the possibility of staying out of election headlines is confronted by market volatility that has driven the lira lower toward a record low versus the USD. The central bank may jump in to restore currency stability with a hike.

The Bank of Japan (BoJ) will hold a monetary policy meeting on April 27, likely leaving the policy stance unchanged given its firm commitment to reaching the 2% y/y inflation target. We estimate that Japan's headline inflation will close 2018 at 1.1% y/y. The planned hike in the consumption tax rate will take inflation above 2% in late 2019. Simultaneously, the tax rate hike will likely adversely impact domestic demand, requiring the BoJ to maintain its ultra-loose monetary policy stance through 2019.

MARKET COMMENTARY

It was a relatively active week in the Canadian debt capital markets as 3 issuers brought a total of $3.3B in supply. The Canadian market has seen ~$39B of issuance this year, placing us 20% ahead of last year's record pace. To kick off the week, Enbridge tapped the market with a $750MM 60NC10 at 6.625%, the first Canadian hybrid transaction of 2018. Following its successful roadshow, CCL Industries, rated BBB/Baa2, completed its inaugural offering of $300MM 10 year notes at CRV + 165bps. The deal was multiple times oversubscribed, with 55 buyers, and 5% late average fills. To wrap up the week, the Bank of Nova Scotia executed a $2.25B 5 year deposit note offering — the second largest deposit note to be issued in the Canadian market. The book reached over ~$4B of interest with 96 buyers, the second largest distribution in at least the past 5 years.

MARKET COMMENTARY

3 issuers accessed the Canadian primary market, raising $600MM collectively. Laurentian Bank represented activity from the banks with two FRN transactions: a $100MM 1-yr FRN and a $300MM 2.5-yr FRN. John Deere was also active and executed a 3.5-yr $300MM transaction. A combination of stable market conditions (at the beginning of the year), general refinancing requirements, and favorable (relative) pricing in the C$ market have resulted in issuers looking at the Canadian market for their funding needs. In secondary market last week, spreads continued to drift wider amidst global market volatility, with both equity and credit indices ending on the back foot. Looking ahead to this week, U.S. CPI readings will pose key data risk on Friday. To date, 2018 supply totals ~$35B, up 17% YoY.

Domestic banks were active, with the Bank of Nova Scotia printing a $1B 2 year FRN, and CIBC issuing $1.5B 10NC5 NVCC notes. GTAA also tapped the market with a $500MM 19 year offering. In secondary, spreads continued to drift wider amidst greater market volatility, with both equity and credit indices lagging. On the marketing front, French bank BPCE wrapped up a non-deal roadshow, while CCL Industries announced it will meet with Canadian investors April 9-10. Looking ahead to this week, Canadian and U.S. employment numbers will pose key data risk on Friday, while several FOMC members speak throughout the week. With calendar Q1 having wrapped up, 2018YTD supply totals $34.5B, up 17% YoY.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Despite a choppier week, four issuers accessed the market, pricing a combined $1.8B of supply. Bank earnings continued, with BNS, BMO, NBF, and Laurentian Bank all reporting, but the lone bank deal came from HSBC Bank Canada, who tapped the market with a $1.25B 5.25 year deposit note. Away from financials, SNC-Lavalin and Enmax printed a combined $450MM. In secondary, global market tone was volatile, with headlines surrounding U.S. tariffs commanding investor focus. To that end, spreads generally finish a few bps wider, although tone managed to stabilize towards the end of the week. Rates continued to rally, however, supporting all-in yields. The Bank of Canada left rates unchanged as expected, but with a hawkish slant that points towards at least one more rate hike this year. U.S. non-farm payrolls came in stronger than expected as well on Friday, although markets were little changed following. Looking ahead to this week, investors will remain alert to ongoing international trade headlines, while a number of roadshows are set to take place and Canadian jobs data for May is to be released Friday. As of week end, YTD supply totals $58.1B, up 5% YoY.

Attached are the commentaries that DBRS and Moody's have just issued on Ontario following the release of the 2018 Ontario Budget.

DBRS expects the ratings to remain stable in the near term, however, the outlook for the medium to longer term appear less certain. "Without a concerted effort to rebuild flexibility in the credit profile, the Province's ratings appear increasingly likely to come under pressure during the next recession if past policy actions are any indication of the future policy response."

Moody's states that "the return to deficit is credit negative as it raises the likelihood that the province faces a structural deficit in addition to increasing our forecast of the debt burden to accommodate the associated new borrowing." Moody's notes that the rise in debt will also coincide with a period in which interest rates are expected to rise, both of which will impact the province's interest expense. They now expect interest expenses to exceed 9% of revenues in 2019/20, up from the recent low of 8.5% in 2016/17.

As noted previously, Fitch had expressed concern following the Minister's remarks at the Economic Club on March 8th. They indicated that "a return to deficit borrowing during a period of economic growth would be inconsistent with Fitch's current rating expectations". We should be prepared for a rating action from them, whether it's an outlook change from stable, or something more significant, following the release of the Budget.

We will be meeting or speaking to all of the rating agencies over the next few weeks.

In a pre-election budget released 28 March, the Province of Ontario (Aa2 stable) proposes returning to deficits beginning in 2018/19, after posting its first balanced budget in a decade in 2017/18. The 2018 budget forecasts a deficit of CAD6.7 billion for 2018/19 (4.4% of revenue), and marginally smaller deficits in 2019/20 and 2020/21 (4.2% and 4.0%, respectively). The return to deficit is credit negative as it raises the likelihood that the province faces a structural deficit in addition to increasing our forecast of the debt burden to accommodate the associated new borrowing.

The return to deficits is largely driven by proposed new spending initiatives. Total spending is expected to increase 6.0% in 2018/19, after rising 5.5% in 2017/18. These are the highest consecutive years of spending growth since 2010/11 when the province was undertaking stimulus to combat the global financial crisis (see Exhibit 1).

While spending growth will slow to the pace of revenue growth in 2019/20, many of the new initiatives proposed by the province could face pressures to expand in scope. For example, the 2018 budget expands coverage of its pharmacare plan to include people aged 65 and over, which could cost nearly CAD1 billion over three years. Other new initiatives include CAD2.2 billion over three years for free preschool for children aged 2.5 years until they start kindergarten. Overall, spending on health and long-term care is expected to increase 5.1% and education 4.4% in 2018/19.

Not included in the above expenditure plans is capital spending. The province plans to spend CAD182 billion over the 10-year period 2018/19-2017/28 on infrastructure, which is a 16.7% increase over the CAD156 billion the province was forecasting to spend over 10 years in the 2017 budget. Over half of the capital plan will be spent on public transit and highway infrastructure.

With little new tax measures introduced in the budget (measuring CAD510 million in 2018/19), revenue growth in 2018/19 is expected to be 1.6% after a strong 6.7% increase in 2017/18. The province anticipates economic growth will drive revenue growth over the budget horizon. The province forecasts nominal GDP growth will average 4.0% over the years 2018-2021, just slightly above revenue growth forecasts in 2019/20 and 2020/21. Noticeably, however, the province is forecasting real economic growth to moderate over the medium-term. After posting an expected 2.7% growth in 2017, real GDP will moderate to 2.2% in 2018 and decline further to 1.7% in 2021. We previously indicated that Ontario would be one of the provinces most at risk from lower economic growth should NAFTA fail to be renegotiated. The province also lists NAFTA and the potential to disrupt trade patterns as a risk to its economic forecasts.

The province will require additional borrowings compared to previous plans to fund the new round of deficits and capital spending. Its borrowing forecast for 2018/19 is largely in line with last year's at CAD31.7 billion, but this also reflects CAD11.5 billion pre-borrowed in 2017/18. Over the three year period 2018/19-2020/21, the province will require borrowings of CAD109.7 billion, including refinancing requirements, CAD13 billion higher than the three year period 2017/18-2019/20 forecasted in 2017 budget. As a result, we have revised our debt forecasts upwards to around 237% of revenue through 2019/20.

The rise in debt will also coincide with a period in which interest rates are expected to rise, both of which will impact the province's interest expense. We now expect interest expenses to exceed 9% of revenues in 2019/20, up from the recent low of 8.5% in 2016/17.

Insight beyond the rating.

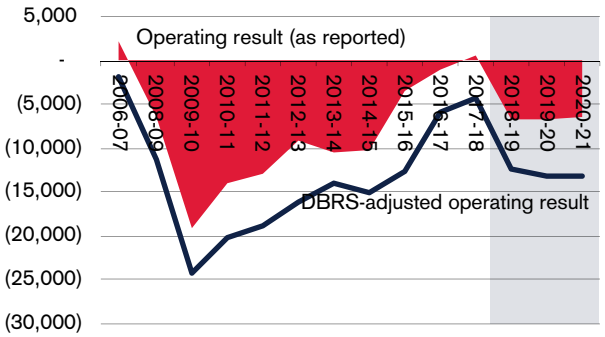
Ontario's 2018 Budget: Billions for the Ballot

DBRS Limited (DBRS) is commenting on the Province of Ontario's (Ontario or the Province; rated AA (low) with a Stable trend by DBRS) 2018 budget, released on March 28, 2018.

After almost a decade of reiterating its commitment to a balanced budget and reducing the Province's debt-to-gross domestic product (GDP) ratio, the Province has introduced a plan that will see it ramp up spending ahead of the June 2018 provincial election, voluntarily pushing itself back into protracted deficit spending and halting the improvement in debt ratios.

The direction of fiscal policy adopted by the Province is distinctly negative for the Province's credit profile. Rather than shifting to a neutral or conservative fiscal policy stance and rebuilding budget and balance sheet flexibility, the Province has made a deliberate decision to pursue expansionary fiscal policy potentially near the peak of the economic cycle.

The budget proposes deficits in the range of $6.5 billion to $6.7 billion in each of the next three years. The plan to return to balance — aptly termed a "recovery plan" — sees the Province gradually reducing the deficit during a subsequent mandate with a target to balance the budget in 2024–25. In total, the budget projects about $32.0 billion in deficit spending and about $90.0 billion in debt-financed capital investment over the next six years. It demonstrates in the clearest terms that the Province is not committed to disciplined, countercyclical fiscal policy. The policy reversal also undermines the credibility of the government's future fiscal policy commitments, including its plan to return to balance.



With no willingness to balance the budget at the peak of the business cycle and by systematically expanding government, a return to protracted deficit spending appears all but certain. With interest rates set to rise, economic growth expected to moderate and program spending entrenched, eliminating the budget deficit will prove challenging in the coming years.

Ontario's credit profile stabilized in recent years and was beginning to show modest signs of improvement. Progress will now likely stall or reverse. While DBRS expects the ratings to remain stable in the near term, the outlook for the medium to longer term appear less certain. Without a concerted effort to rebuild flexibility in the credit profile, the Province's ratings appear increasingly likely to come under pressure during the next recession if past policy actions are any indication of the future policy response.

Budget 2018 Take-Aways

- Ontario Liberals are no longer committed to balanced budgets or prudent, countercyclical fiscal policy.
- Credibility of Ontario's future fiscal policy commitments has been undermined by the dramatic fiscal policy reversal.
- Ontario has proposed $20.3 billion in new program spending over the next three years. The budget includes modest tax increases, with the bulk of new spending being debt-financed.
- Deficits are pegged at between $6.5 billion and $6.7 billion in each of the next three years.
- The "responsible fiscal recovery plan" — to a self-imposed problem — begins in 2021–22 and targets a balanced budget in 2024–25.
- Between 2007–08 and 2017–18, DBRS-adjusted debt will have risen by nearly $200 billion. The plan suggests debt will rise by a further $40 billion over the next three years.
- DBRS-adjusted debt-to-GDP appears likely to remain near current levels (42.0% to 43.0%) over the next three years, providing the economic expansion continues. Debt appears certain to remain permanently above pre-recession levels (26.0%) over the longer term.
- Political uncertainty: Current polling suggests a change in government may be possible with the June 7, 2018, election. If this were to occur, the fiscal plan could change significantly.
- Economic risks: Rising trade protectionism/isolationism, BREXIT, China's economic transition, household indebtedness, rising interest rates and U.S. fiscal policy all pose potential risks to the Ontario economy.

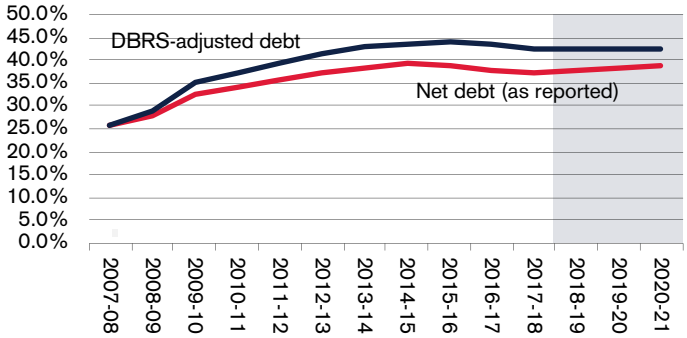
Budget Outlook



The Province's 2018 budget will not be passed ahead of the June 2018 general provincial election, but it does set out the incumbent Liberal's priorities if elected for another mandate.

Thematically, the focus of the budget is new spending measures consistent with the government's vision for creating fairness and opportunity. The budget includes more $20.3 billion in new spending over the next three years. There are no major economic or tax policy announcements.

The budget projects a deficit of $6.7 billion in 2018–19 or 0.8% of GDP, though, as in past years the budget does incorporate a general budgetary reserve ($700 million) and explicit expense contingencies ($1.6 billion). On a DBRS-adjusted basis (post-capex), this equates to a deficit of about $13.0 billion, or about 1.4% of GDP.

Exhibit 2: Debt Burden

Net Debt and DBRS-Adjusted Debt as a Share of GDP

Sources: Province of Ontario and DBRS.

Total revenue is set to rise modestly (+1.5%). Underlying tax (+4.3) and transfer (+2.7%) revenue growth are moderately strong, but are being offset by declines in government business enterprises' net income and other own-source revenue, both of which are related to policy actions that bumped up revenue in the prior year (e.g., one-time gains from Hydro One share sale, elimination of electricity debt retirement charge, etc.). The budget includes only modest tax policy changes, the most significant of which are changes to the personal income tax rate structure and surtax, which will provide about $500 million in incremental revenue in 2018–19 and between $700 and $800 million in the outer years. There is no concerted effort to increase taxes to pay for the new spending commitments.

Total expense is set to rise strongly (+6.0%) in 2018–19, which follows a similarly strong increase the year before (+5.5%). These are the fastest spending increases since the peak of the financial crisis (2009–10). The 2018 budget outlines $20.3 billion in major, new spending initiatives over three years. These include:

- Increased funding for hospitals/health care (+$1.3 billion);
- Improved services and access to mental health and addictions services (+$1.2 billion);
- Improved affordability/access to childcare, including free preschool for children two and a half and older (+$2.2 billion);
- Social assistance and income security reform (+$2.3 billion);
- Increased support for individuals with development disabilities (+$1.8 billion);
- Free prescription drugs (extension of OHIP+) for senior citizens (+$1.0 billion);
- Senior's healthy home program (+$0.7 billion);
- New drug and dental program for individuals without workplace coverage (+$0.8 billion); and
- More funding for economic development and similar activities (+$0.9 billion).

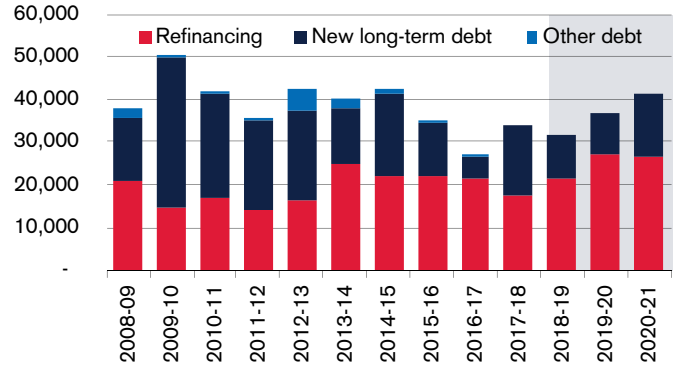
The new program spending is translating into significant growth in ministry budgets: Health and Long-Term Care (+5.1%), Education (+4.4%), Advanced Education and Skills Development (+5.9%) and Community and Social Services (+7.5%), as well as interest on debt (+4.8%).

Capital spending is set to rise strongly (+22.6%) in 2018–19, with growth in both grants and capital investment. Capital investment by the Province (not included in expense) is budgeted to rise by nearly $3.0 billion to $16.1 billion, which follows a similar-sized increase in the prior year.

The Province has projected deficits in the range of $6.5 billion to $6.7 billion for the 2018–19 to 2020–21 period. These estimates include contingencies and budget reserves. While spending growth is substantial in 2018–19, the Province projects moderation in both revenue and spending growth in subsequent years, with revenue and expense growth ranging between 3.0% and 4.0% annually.

The Province has outlined a plan to return to balance (responsible fiscal recovery plan) with the deficit gradually falling after 2020–21 and the budget eventually being balanced in 2024–25. Given the recent policy reversal and that deficit reduction is set to coincide with the 2022 general election, DBRS questions the credibility of the targets.

While the policy announcements are concerning, DBRS does note that Ontario has exceeded its deficit targets in recent years. The budget incorporates contingencies and the Province has over-estimated debt servicing costs in the past. Moreover, new in-year spending has often been offset by better-than-expected revenue and capital investment tends to be less than budgeted. Ultimately, this has translated into debt often being lower than forecast.



Debt Outlook

The budget suggests the Province's DBRS-adjusted debt burden will remain near current levels (42.0% to 43.0% of GDP) over the next three years. This halts the downward trend in the debt burden that began in 2016–17.

Ontario projects net debt, as reported in financial statements, will rise $16.8 billion (+5.5%) to $325.0 billion in 2018–19, or increase modestly to 37.6% of GDP. The Province announced last year that it would reduce the net debt-to-GDP ratio to 35.0% by 2023–24 and to pre-recession levels in 2030s. The debt reduction goal has now been abandoned, less than a year later.

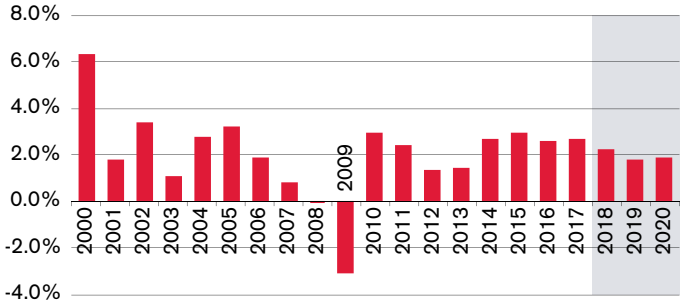
Exhibit 3: Borrowing Program

Historical Financing Activity and Borrowing Program ($ Millions)

Source: Province of Ontario.

The Province's borrowing requirement for 2018–19 is $31.7 billion, after accounting for $11.5 billion in pre-borrowing completed in 2017–18. This includes $21.5 billion for refinancing, $14.2 billion for capital requirements and the remainder is for various other cash requirements, including the deficit. Over the medium term, the borrowing plan will remain elevated with rising refinancing requirements and persistent deficit spending.

Economic Outlook



Ontario's economy has continued its broad-based expansion with real GDP growth estimated at 2.7% in 2017.

The Province expects economic expansion to continue over the medium term with household consumption, business investment and government spending driving growth. The labour market is forecast to tighten further over the medium term with unemployment tracking to 5.4% over the next two years. While residential investment has been a significant contributor to growth in recent years, the Province now expects residential investment to moderate, due in part to past policy measures, rising interest rates and the changes in Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions mortgage rules.

Economic growth is projected to be 2.2% in 2018 and average 1.9% over the medium term.

Exhibit 4: Economic Growth

Real GDP Growth (%)

Sources: Statistics Canada/Haver Analytics and Province of Ontario.

The economic outlook continues to be supported by a strong U.S. economy, though the Province does face a number of significant economic risks, including U.S. trade and fiscal policy, rising interest rates, Brexit, elevated sovereign indebtedness and China's economic transition.

Qualified Financial Statements

Ontario's budget presentation is broadly consistent with that of its audited public accounts. The Auditor General has, however, qualified the financial statements in each of the last two years and has indicated that she is likely to add a further qualification in 2017–18 if the Province accounts for the Fair Hydro Plan as is currently proposed.

The 2016–17 Audit Report indicated that the deficit was understated by $1.4 billion and that net debt was understated by $12.4 billion (equivalent to 1.6% of nominal GDP). The 2018 Budget does not provide disaggregated balance sheet data, but given the performance of the underlying pension plans in recent years and the budget projection for other net assets, the reported net pension asset appears likely to rise. With Ontario Fair Hydro Trust expected to borrow about $2.0 billion annually over the coming years, the Auditor General would likely argue that the deficit is understated by more than $3.0 billion in 2018–19 and that the net debt is likely understated by between $15.0 and $20.0 billion (1.7% to 2.3% of GDP).

In rating Canadian provinces, DBRS uses an adjusted measure for debt based on the liabilities reported by the Province. For Ontario, DBRS-adjusted debt includes a portion of the Fair Hydro-related borrowings and does not include the value of the net pension asset. For more detail on DBRS's calculation of debt, refer to the methodology, Rating Canadian Provincial Governments, available at www.dbrs.com.

June 2018 Provincial Election

The next provincial general election is scheduled for June 7, 2018. Current polls suggest a change in government may be possible, as is the possibility of a minority government. Neither of the opposition parties has yet to release a comprehensive election platform. It is not clear how fiscal policy would evolve under a different government.

The opposition parties have criticized government for the qualified audit opinion and the financing structure used for the Fair Hydro Plan. A change in government could lead to a change in the structure of the Fair Hydro financing or the accounting of the net pension asset. If this were to occur, the reported deficit would likely deteriorate further and net debt would step up. Depending on how a restructuring occurred, DBRS could adjust the DBRS-adjusted debt and deficit measures.

Ontario's Fiscal Transparency and Accountability Act requires the government release a pre-election report on the state of the Province's finances. The report, released concurrent with the 2018 budget, outlines the economic assumptions used to develop the Province's fiscal plan, an estimate of revenue and expenses and the Province's debt-to-GDP ratio. The report will be reviewed by the Auditor General for reasonableness. DBRS expects the Auditor General will issue a negative opinion on the report.

Preliminary Assessment

This commentary reflects a preliminary assessment of the Province's budget. DBRS will conduct a formal, in-depth review of the Province in the coming weeks and will publish a rating update at the conclusion of that process.

Methodology and Data: Budgeted and actual amounts for 2013–14 to 2016–17 are taken from Ontario's public accounts. The budgeted reserve has been included in program expense. Budgeted amounts for 2017–18 are taken from the 2017 Budget and the actual amounts for 2017–18 are taken from the 2018 Budget. Budget GDP growth is taken from provincial budgets and the associated actuals are the first GDP estimate (expenditure basis) produced by Statistics Canada. The actual GDP growth for 2017 is the Province's projection in the 2018 Budget. The DBRS-adjusted figures are taken from rating reports, with the actual figure being the estimate/actual taken from the subsequent year's report.

Announcement: Moody's calls Ontario's planned return to deficits credit negative

Global Credit Research - 29 Mar 2018

Toronto, March 29, 2018 -- Moody's Investors Service notes in a recent report that the planned return to deficits by the Province of Ontario (Aa2 stable) is credit negative. As outlined in the province's recently released 2018 Budget, the forecasted deficit in 2018/19 will reach CAD6.7 billion, equivalent to 4.4% of revenue. This comes after the province recorded a balanced budget in 2017/18, its first since 2007/08. The three year budget horizon forecasts continued deficits with only modest annual improvements.

Moody's notes that the planned return to deficits is credit negative as it will raise borrowing requirements, adding to Ontario's already elevated debt burden, and raises the likelihood that the province is facing a structural deficit.

"The return to deficits is in sharp contrast to past messages the province had provided on maintaining balanced budgets once they were achieved in 2017/18 after a lengthy period of consecutive deficits," noted Michael Yake, Moody's Vice President / Senior Analyst. "Additionally, the deficits are driven primarily by planned new spending initiatives. The inability to accommodate new spending within a framework of maintaining or quickly returning to balanced budgets, at a time when the province's economy is performing well, suggests the province is facing a structural deficit."

After rising 5.5% in 2017/18, spending is forecast to rise 6.0% in 2018/19, which Moody's notes represents the two strongest consecutive years of spending growth since 2010/11 when the province was stimulating the economy after the 2009 financial crisis. Among the new spending initiatives proposed by the province are an expansion to its recently introduced pharmacare program and free preschool for children, initiatives that Moody's says could face future pressure to increase in scope.

The province also increased its 10 year spending plan on capital infrastructure, rising to CAD182 billion from a previous level of CAD156 billion.

Revenue growth is expected to be a modest 1.6% in 2018/19 after increasing 6.7% in 2017/18. Over the budget horizon, revenue growth should trend slightly below nominal GDP growth, which is expected to average 4.0% over the period 2018-2021.

To finance the new series of deficits as well as the increased capital plan, the province will increase its borrowing program from previous forecasts. Moody's forecasts that the province's debt burden, which is measured as net direct and indirect debt as a share of revenue, will remain around 237% through 2019/20.

The increase in debt will also lead to higher interest expense which Moody's forecasts will exceed 9% in 2019/20.

As part of its normal monitoring process, Moody's will evaluate the 2018/19 budget's assumptions, its potential for upside and downside risks and likely impacts on the province's debt burden and liquidity profile.

Hi all
From the perspective of both Mike and I the comments and edits are very factual and should not pose any issues to OPG or the Trust should they choose to accept them. If others are of the same opinion, I suggest that either MOF or MOE Legal forward the marked up version to Torys with cc's to the usual suspects.
Thanks

Subject: RE: Call re Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

Hi. Here is a list of items that could be discussed at 9:30, in order to settle on the scope and nature of commenting on the OM:

MOE – Alignment Considerations

1. Simplified references to the OFHPA (general caveat)
2. Scope of descriptions (generally, should be …subject to the OFHPA and the Regulations)
3. "purposes" of the OFHPA (e.g., implies that is rate reduction)
4. Nature and duration of the "moratorium period" (non-legislative)
5. Trust vs. "financing entity" (permit multiple FEs and co-ownership arrangements – minimally described)
6. "Fair Allocation Amount" – amount vs. effect of calculation (imprecise); concept of "Readjustments" missing
7. Financing Plan – refinements (e.g., references to Refinancings)
8. Expectations re FAA – negative until 2024
9. "Ontario's Fair Allocation Plan" – styling
10. OPG appointment as FSM (initial only – ability for Minister to replace)
11. Inclusions into IESO deferrals (precision)
12. Carrying costs vs funding rebates (impact on nature of Investment Asset)???
13. No reference to pre-OFHPA adjustments (piggy bank)
14. Risk Factors – approach to describing legal risks and Protection Agreement as mitigation
15. Technical definitions and descriptions (e.g., carrying costs; forecasts from IESO rather than forecast information; invoicing mechanics; simplifications of definitions; etc.)
16. Limited discussion re contents of "Financing Plan"
17. No real recognition of tail risk and duration mismatch considerations and mitigants/strategies
18. No discussion re OFHPA rights of action, etc.
19. "non-bypassable" (meaning)

OFA - Change of Law Protection Agreement

1. Narrative (e.g., "in favour of the Issuer")
2. Notes do not constitute debt of Province, etc. (confirm description) – additional considerations?
3. Scope of "Approved Obligations" (overbroad)
4. Positive obligations in favour of Province (e.g., apply amounts; credit for applied amounts)
5. Definition of "Protection Events" (align)
6. Rights of Subrogation (needs to be more detailed)

7. Mechanics of Protection Account

8. Limited direct rights of Noteholders (through indenture trustee)

9. Limitations on damages

10. Only passing reference to the "Process Agreement" in OM (but referred to in more detail in the Investor Presentation)

Other

1. Confidentiality (deemed vs. confirmed in writing)

2. Liability for Taxes (priority claim in waterfall; impact on triggers)

3. IESO - descriptions

4. Electricity Market; OEB; OPG

5. Platform (e.g., very broad cross default – beyond generic risk factors?)

6. Interplay between Warehouse and Term issuances

7. Description of 2018 Notes

8. Optional Redemption of Notes (confirm if applicable/acceptable)

FYI, attached is our internal (preliminary) mark-up of the OM. It should not be on-circulated at this stage. We are providing it now in case you would find it useful to have specified illustrations of the foregoing items.

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

Thanks for the update, Malle.

I'm not sure how this materiality discussion will relate to the Province commenting on the OM. The base form of the OM was not envisioned as of December 20th, and so it is unclear to me that the material effect discussion is relevant for that purpose.

I have been expecting that the Province would be quite involved in the production of the OM, and not just for information purposes.

To illustrate the sorts of items I would anticipate being relevant to the Province in reviewing the OM, I attach a partial mark-up of the Nov 17th OM (the only one we ever saw) to show how (among other things) the narratives included at that time were not aligned with the legislation. The partial mark-up is a comparison to the version circulated by Alena that included James Rehob's comments. Also, as you know, the Change of Law terms were substantially settled after November 17th, and so those portions of the OM will also be quite different.

Generally, the sorts of things I think the Province may be concerned about in reviewing the OM will include:

(a) ensuring that the description of the Protection Agreement is accurate and does not overstate the Province's obligations,

(b) ensuring that the limitations contemplated in s. 40 of OFHPA and s.19 of the General Regulation have been observed,

(c) eliminating any implied/moral undertakings by the Province to bondholders,

(d) scrutinizing any "risk factors", particularly as they might relate to the context in which Protection Events may arise,

(e) confirming any disclosures regarding the Province's (Ministers') roles, including in setting the "fair allocation amount", accepting the "Financing Plan" provided to the Minister of Energy, etc.,

(f) ensuring that any description of the Crown, Crown immunity, the OFHPA, the regulations made under it, the OIC, the authority of the LGIC, the provisions of the Electricity Act and related regulations and processes, the Financing Plan, the electricity market regulatory infrastructure and other relevant legal principles and contexts are all properly and accurately described (recognizing the risk that any statement may be attributed to the Province based on its close proximity to the program, and could become consequential in any future legal process that seeks to interpret the statute),

(g) scrutinizing disclosures that could later become evidence in any legal proceeding that would challenge the validity of the OFHPA and related laws,

(h) confirming any "electricity market" disclosures that could impact on underlying considerations, such as the potential for and impact of off-grid migration and by-pass risks, and

(i) the propriety of disclosures regarding matters that could impact on the pricing or rating of the issued bonds.

(This list was previously included in my November 22nd due diligence note to the Province's lawyer team.)

In addition, the Province will need to confirm how James Rehob's earlier comments have been reflected in the OM.

Given all this and the offering timing described by Torys, I think it makes sense to insist on getting the OM now and confirming with OPG that the Province will be taking a careful look at the document, which will take some time (at least 5 business days), and so that could impact the overall timing.

I will be tied up from 930 to 1030, but then free until 1145.

Subject: FW: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

As you know prior to the warehouse closing we were sent informally drafts of the reference documents as they developed. Since Dec 20th we have received no further drafts of these documents. I don't understand whether it is OPG's plan that they send final transactions documents today (10 days before) and then the Province has the right to object based on the parameters of "material effect" as defined in the Process Agreement. A draft of the investor presentation was circulated to the Province and some comments were being collected yesterday by Energy and the OFA.

""Material Effect" means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province under the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or this Agreement that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any other Transaction Document that forms part of the Reference Documentation at the relevant time, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which related payments would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Financing Entity or the Financing Entity Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the FSM with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the FSM or the Financing Entity with the Act or the General Regulation; or (viii) the Province's rights of subrogation or assignment (including pursuant to Sections 1.05, 2.01 or 5.01 of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation."

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

Hi Rima,

I have a further question for clarification and perhaps it would make sense to have a call this morning. As you know we have not seen any further drafts of these documents since before the warehouse closing. Have all of these transaction documents now been done in final form? What is their status?

Thanks,

Malle

Hi Rima

Thanks for the update. I think it would be helpful if you included Toby, Alena and myself on the email where you attach the documents in order to save time. Also it would be helpful if you include track changes versions as you suggest.

Thanks

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

Hi Malle, Alena and Toby, Happy New Year to all of you. John forwarded the email below and attached and asked that I connect with you and provide an update. I have included the business folks on this email to make sure we are all on the same page. As John notes below, we had been working towards being in a position to commence marketing for the term deal on January 15th but if marketing is pushed to January 22 or later, then a waiver of the 10 business day requirement should not be necessary. I will let our respective clients advise us on that point and we can come back to the logistics/process for obtaining a waiver should we need one.

We are planning on delivering the following additional reference documentation to the Province tomorrow:

(1) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Term Notes

(2) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Subordinated Term Notes

(3) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Junior Subordinated Term Notes

(4) Agency Agreement

(5) Offering Memorandum (including the investor presentation attached as an exhibit to the OM)

(6) Term Sheet supplementing the Offering Memorandum

As you may recall, under the change of law process agreement, all deliveries are required to be made by mail, fax or delivered by hand to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of the MOF and the MOE. To comply with the agreement, we plan on hand delivering the above documents to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers tomorrow. We can also email all of these documents to all of you and anyone else you would like us to send these to (in addition to Scott Thompson, Gadi Mayman, Anna Strathy, David McLean, Jonathan Tekle, Mike Manning and Ken Kandeepan -- as requested in Ken's email below). I believe that earlier drafts of all of the term supplemental indentures and the agency agreement were previously circulated to you -- for ease of reference, please let us know if it would be helpful for us to include blacklines to the last versions we sent to you in the email.

Let us know if you agree with the above approach, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions or would like to discuss.

Malle, you had also asked about delivery of the documents from the warehouse closing -- closing books are in progress and we expect to have those ready for circulation next week. Again, in order to comply with the change of law process agreement, the electronic closing books will be delivered to the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of each of the MOF and MOE, but we are happy to also send a copy to others on your instruction.

Thanks,

Rima

Ken/Steen:

We are operating under the assumption that it was the Province desire to execute the term deal as early as possible in 2018 which would involve a launch on the 15th. If the preference is now to adhere to the 10 business day requirement and not waive it we are happy to do so and commence marketing later in the month on the 22nd.

Please advise and we will adjust the work plan accordingly.

Hi John

I spoke to our DM's office and Scott's email is Scott.Thompson@ontario.ca, As required by the Process Agreement between the Province and OPG, pls forward the documents pertaining to the upcoming term deal by email to Scott with a cc to the following:

Given that the Process Agreement requires OPG to also provide the same documents to MOE, I am cc'ing Steen and Tim so that they can inform their DM's Office as well.

With regard to the waiver, pls see Malle's comments below, it would also be useful if OPG were to provide a rationale as to why waiving the 10 business days requirement which may allow for term debt issuance in mid-January by the Trust is more beneficial than issuance either later in the same month or early February.

Thanks

It would be very helpful if OPG and Torys could provide to us a timetable and schedule for delivery of reference documents that are being prepared and when do we expect to get them and when is the proposed issuance. On that basis we can review the timing and determine whether a waiver will be necessary and if it is how it might be processed. Unfortunately we haven't received any updates or draft documents since the closing of the warehouse deal. Also is there a plan for distributing to the Province the documents from the warehouse closing?

Thanks

I should add that the waiver of the 10 BD requirement needs to be executed in writing by the Province (which means we will need signatures from each Minister). Will that be achievable? If not, perhaps we can proceed on the basis of an email waiver with the waiver signed by the Ministers to follow as soon as possible. Sorry but it is going to be a pain in the butt navigating through this agreement … hopefully the Province will realize that and agree to make some amendments!

OK. I assume the DM of Finance will sign off on behalf of the Minister of Finance. But what about the Minister of Energy? The agreement requires notices to both Ministers on behalf of the Province and I recall on the warehouse closing, we had to wait for a representative from each Ministry to sign off.

Thanks for the update, Malle.

I'm not sure how this materiality discussion will relate to the Province commenting on the OM. The base form of the OM was not envisioned as of December 20th, and so it is unclear to me that the material effect discussion is relevant for that purpose.

I have been expecting that the Province would be quite involved in the production of the OM, and not just for information purposes.

To illustrate the sorts of items I would anticipate being relevant to the Province in reviewing the OM, I attach a partial mark-up of the Nov 17th OM (the only one we ever saw) to show how (among other things) the narratives included at that time were not aligned with the legislation. The partial mark-up is a comparison to the version circulated by Alena that included James Rehob's comments. Also, as you know, the Change of Law terms were substantially settled after November 17th, and so those portions of the OM will also be quite different.

Generally, the sorts of things I think the Province may be concerned about in reviewing the OM will include:

(a) ensuring that the description of the Protection Agreement is accurate and does not overstate the Province's obligations,

(b) ensuring that the limitations contemplated in s. 40 of OFHPA and s.19 of the General Regulation have been observed,

(c) eliminating any implied/moral undertakings by the Province to bondholders,

(d) scrutinizing any "risk factors", particularly as they might relate to the context in which Protection Events may arise,

(e) confirming any disclosures regarding the Province's (Ministers') roles, including in setting the "fair allocation amount", accepting the "Financing Plan" provided to the Minister of Energy, etc.,

(f) ensuring that any description of the Crown, Crown immunity, the OFHPA, the regulations made under it, the OIC, the authority of the LGIC, the provisions of the Electricity Act and related regulations and processes, the Financing Plan, the electricity market regulatory infrastructure and other relevant legal principles and contexts are all properly and accurately described (recognizing the risk that any statement may be attributed to the Province based on its close proximity to the program, and could become consequential in any future legal process that seeks to interpret the statute),

(g) scrutinizing disclosures that could later become evidence in any legal proceeding that would challenge the validity of the OFHPA and related laws,

(h) confirming any “electricity market” disclosures that could impact on underlying considerations, such as the potential for and impact of off-grid migration and by-pass risks, and

(i) the propriety of disclosures regarding matters that could impact on the pricing or rating of the issued bonds.

(This list was previously included in my November 22nd due diligence note to the Province's lawyer team.)

In addition, the Province will need to confirm how James Rehob's earlier comments have been reflected in the OM.

Given all this and the offering timing described by Torys, I think it makes sense to insist on getting the OM now and confirming with OPG that the Province will be taking a careful look at the document, which will take some time (at least 5 business days), and so that could impact the overall timing.

I will be tied up from 930 to 1030, but then free until 1145.

Regards, Steve

Subject: FW: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

As you know prior to the warehouse closing we were sent informally drafts of the reference documents as they developed. Since Dec 20th we have received no further drafts of these documents. I don't understand whether it is OPG's plan that they send final transactions documents today (10 days before) and then the Province has the right to object based on the parameters of "material effect" as defined in the Process Agreement. A draft of the investor presentation was circulated to the Province and some comments were being collected yesterday by Energy and the OFA.

""“Material Effect” means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province under the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or this Agreement that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any other Transaction Document that forms part of the Reference Documentation at the relevant time, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which related payments would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Financing Entity or the Financing Entity Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the FSM with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the FSM or the Financing Entity with the Act or the General Regulation; or (viii) the Province’s rights of subrogation or assignment (including pursuant to Sections 1.05, 2.01 or 5.01 of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation."

Hi Rima,

I have a further question for clarification and perhaps it would make sense to have a call this morning. As you know we have not seen any further drafts of these documents since before the warehouse closing. Have all of these transaction documents now been done in final form? What is their status?

Thanks,

Thanks for the update. I think it would be helpful if you included Toby, Alena and myself on the email where you attach the documents in order to save time. Also it would be helpful if you include track changes versions as you suggest.

Thanks

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

Hi Malle, Alena and Toby, Happy New Year to all of you. John forwarded the email below and attached and asked that I connect with you and provide an update. I have included the business folks on this email to make sure we are all on the same page. As John notes below, we had been working towards being in a position to commence marketing for the term deal on January 15th but if marketing is pushed to January 22 or later, then a waiver of the 10 business day requirement should not be necessary. I will let our respective clients advise us on that point and we can come back to the logistics/process for obtaining a waiver should we need one.

We are planning on delivering the following additional reference documentation to the Province tomorrow:

(1) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Term Notes

(2) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Subordinated Term Notes

(3) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Junior Subordinated Term Notes

(4) Agency Agreement

(5) Offering Memorandum (including the investor presentation attached as an exhibit to the OM)

(6) Term Sheet supplementing the Offering Memorandum

As you may recall, under the change of law process agreement, all deliveries are required to be made by mail, fax or delivered by hand to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of the MOF and the MOE. To comply with the agreement, we plan on hand delivering the above documents to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers tomorrow. We can also email all of these documents to all of you and anyone else you would like us to send these to (in addition to Scott Thompson, Gadi Mayman, Anna Strathy, David McLean, Jonathan Tekle, Mike Manning and Ken Kandeepan -- as requested in Ken's email below). I believe that earlier drafts of all of the term supplemental indentures and the agency agreement were previously circulated to you -- for ease of reference, please let us know if it would be helpful for us to include blacklines to the last versions we sent to you in the email.

Let us know if you agree with the above approach, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions or would like to discuss.

Malle, you had also asked about delivery of the documents from the warehouse closing -- closing books are in progress and we expect to have those ready for circulation next week. Again, in order to comply with the change of law process agreement, the electronic closing books will be delivered to the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of each of the MOF and MOE, but we are happy to also send a copy to others on your instruction.

Thanks,

Rima

Ken/Steen:

We are operating under the assumption that it was the Province desire to execute the term deal as early as possible in 2018 which would involve a launch on the 15th. If the preference is now to adhere to the 10 business day requirement and not waive it we are happy to do so and commence marketing later in the month on the 22nd.

Please advise and we will adjust the work plan accordingly.

Hi John

I spoke to our DM's office and Scott's email is Scott.Thompson@ontario.ca, As required by the Process Agreement between the Province and OPG, pls forward the documents pertaining to the upcoming term deal by email to Scott with a cc to the following:

Given that the Process Agreement requires OPG to also provide the same documents to MOE, I am cc'ing Steen and Tim so that they can inform their DM's Office as well.

With regard to the waiver, pls see Malle's comments below, it would also be useful if OPG were to provide a rationale as to why waiving the 10 business days requirement which may allow for term debt issuance in mid-January by the Trust is more beneficial than issuance either later in the same month or early February.

Thanks

Subject: Re: Waiver Process

It would be very helpful if OPG and Torys could provide to us a timetable and schedule for delivery of reference documents that are being prepared and when do we expect to get them and when is the proposed issuance. On that basis we can review the timing and determine whether a waiver will be necessary and if it is how it might be processed. Unfortunately we haven't received any updates or draft documents since the closing of the warehouse deal. Also is there a plan for distributing to the Province the documents from the warehouse closing?

Thanks

Please advise.

I should add that the waiver of the 10 BD requirement needs to be executed in writing by the Province (which means we will need signatures from each Minister). Will that be achievable? If not, perhaps we can proceed on the basis of an email waiver with the waiver signed by the Ministers to follow as soon as possible. Sorry but it is going to be a pain in the butt navigating through this agreement … hopefully the Province will realize that and agree to make some amendments!

OK. I assume the DM of Finance will sign off on behalf of the Minister of Finance. But what about the Minister of Energy? Thanks for the update, Malle.
I'm not sure how this materiality discussion will relate to the Province commenting on the OM. The base form of the OM was not envisioned as of December 20th, and so it is unclear to me that the material effect discussion is relevant for that purpose.
I have been expecting that the Province would be quite involved in the production of the OM, and not just for information purposes.
To illustrate the sorts of items I would anticipate being relevant to the Province in reviewing the OM, I attach a partial mark-up of the Nov 17th OM (the only one we ever saw) to show how (among other things) the narratives included at that time were not aligned with the legislation. The partial mark-up is a comparison to the version circulated by Alena that included James Rehob's comments. Also, as you know, the Change of Law terms were substantially settled after November 17th, and so those portions of the OM will also be quite different.
Generally, the sorts of things I think the Province may be concerned about in reviewing the OM will include:
(a) ensuring that the description of the Protection Agreement is accurate and does not overstate the Province's obligations,
(b) ensuring that the limitations contemplated in s. 40 of OFHPA and s.19 of the General Regulation have been observed,
(c) eliminating any implied/moral undertakings by the Province to bondholders,
(d) scrutinizing any "risk factors", particularly as they might relate to the context in which Protection Events may arise,
(e) confirming any disclosures regarding the Province's (Ministers') roles, including in setting the "fair allocation amount", accepting the "Financing Plan" provided to the Minister of Energy, etc.,
(f) ensuring that any description of the Crown, Crown immunity, the OFHPA, the regulations made under it, the OIC, the authority of the LGIC, the provisions of the Electricity Act and related regulations and processes, the Financing Plan, the electricity market regulatory infrastructure and other relevant legal principles and contexts are all properly and accurately described (recognizing the risk that any statement may be attributed to the Province based on its close proximity to the program, and could become consequential in any future legal process that seeks to interpret the statute),

(g) scrutinizing disclosures that could later become evidence in any legal proceeding that would challenge the validity of the OFHPA and related laws,
(h) confirming any “electricity market” disclosures that could impact on underlying considerations, such as the potential for and impact of off-grid migration and by-pass risks, and
(i) the propriety of disclosures regarding matters that could impact on the pricing or rating of the issued bonds.
(This list was previously included in my November 22nd due diligence note to the Province's lawyer team.)
In addition, the Province will need to confirm how James Rehob's earlier comments have been reflected in the OM.
Given all this and the offering timing described by Torys, I think it makes sense to insist on getting the OM now and confirming with OPG that the Province will be taking a careful look at the document, which will take some time (at least 5 business days), and so that could impact the overall timing.
I will be tied up from 930 to 1030, but then free until 1145.
Regards, Steve

As you know prior to the warehouse closing we were sent informally drafts of the reference documents as they developed. Since Dec 20th we have received no further drafts of these documents. I don't understand whether it is OPG's plan that they send final transactions documents today (10 days before) and then the Province has the right to object based on the parameters of "material effect" as defined in the Process Agreement. A draft of the investor presentation was circulated to the Province and some comments were being collected yesterday by Energy and the OFA.
"“Material Effect” means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province under the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or this Agreement that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any other Transaction Document that forms part of the Reference Documentation at the relevant time, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which related payments would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Financing Entity or the Financing Entity Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the FSM with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the FSM or the Financing Entity with the Act or the General Regulation; or (viii) the Province’s rights of subrogation or assignment (including pursuant to Sections 1.05, 2.01 or 5.01 of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation."

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province
Hi Malle, Alena and Toby, Happy New Year to all of you. John forwarded the email below and attached and asked that I connect with you and provide an update. I have included the business folks on this email to make sure we are all on the same page. As John notes below, we had been working towards being in a position to commence marketing for the term deal on January 15th but if marketing is pushed to January 22 or later, then a waiver of the 10 business day requirement should not be necessary. I will let our respective clients advise us on that point and we can come back to the logistics/process for obtaining a waiver should we need one.
We are planning on delivering the following additional reference documentation to the Province tomorrow:
(1) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Term Notes
(2) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Subordinated Term Notes
(3) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Junior Subordinated Term Notes
(4) Agency Agreement
(5) Offering Memorandum (including the investor presentation attached as an exhibit to the OM)
(6) Term Sheet supplementing the Offering Memorandum
As you may recall, under the change of law process agreement, all deliveries are required to be made by mail, fax or delivered by hand to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of the MOF and the MOE. To comply with the agreement, we plan on hand delivering the above documents to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers tomorrow. We can also email all of these documents to all of you and anyone else you would like us to send these to (in addition to Scott Thompson, Gadi Mayman, Anna Strathy, David McLean, Jonathan Tekle, Mike Manning and Ken Kandeepan -- as requested in Ken's email below). I believe that earlier drafts of all of the term supplemental indentures and the agency agreement were previously circulated to you -- for ease of reference, please let us know if it would be helpful for us to include blacklines to the last versions we sent to you in the email.
Let us know if you agree with the above approach, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions or would like to discuss.
Malle, you had also asked about delivery of the documents from the warehouse closing -- closing books are in progress and we expect to have those ready for circulation next week. Again, in order to comply with the change of law process agreement, the electronic closing books will be delivered to the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of each of the MOF and MOE, but we are happy to also send a copy to others on your instruction.
Thanks,
Rima

Ken/Steen:
We are operating under the assumption that it was the Province desire to execute the term deal as early as possible in 2018 which would involve a launch on the 15th. If the preference is now to adhere to the 10 business day requirement and not waive it we are happy to do so and commence marketing later in the month on the 22nd.
Please advise and we will adjust the work plan accordingly.

Hi John
I spoke to our DM's office and Scott's email is Scott.Thompson@ontario.ca, As required by the Process Agreement between the Province and OPG, pls forward the documents pertaining to the upcoming term deal by email to Scott with a cc to the following:
Given that the Process Agreement requires OPG to also provide the same documents to MOE, I am cc'ing Steen and Tim so that they can inform their DM's Office as well.
With regard to the waiver, pls see Malle's comments below, it would also be useful if OPG were to provide a rationale as to why waiving the 10 business days requirement which may allow for term debt issuance in mid-January by the Trust is more beneficial than issuance either later in the same month or early February.

Thanks

It would be very helpful if OPG and Torys could provide to us a timetable and schedule for delivery of reference documents that are being prepared and when do we expect to get them and when is the proposed issuance. On that basis we can review the timing and determine whether a waiver will be necessary and if it is how it might be processed. Unfortunately we haven't received any updates or draft documents since the closing of the warehouse deal. Also is there a plan for distributing to the Province the documents from the warehouse closing?

I should add that the waiver of the 10 BD requirement needs to be executed in writing by the Province (which means we will need signatures from each Minister). Will that be achievable? If not, perhaps we can proceed on the basis of an email waiver with the waiver signed by the Ministers to follow as soon as possible.
Sorry but it is going to be a pain in the butt navigating through this agreement … hopefully the Province will realize that and agree to make some amendments!

Thanks for the update, Malle.
I'm not sure how this materiality discussion will relate to the Province commenting on the OM. The base form of the OM was not envisioned as of December 20th, and so it is unclear to me that the material effect discussion is relevant for that purpose.
I have been expecting that the Province would be quite involved in the production of the OM, and not just for information purposes.
To illustrate the sorts of items I would anticipate being relevant to the Province in reviewing the OM, I attach a partial mark-up of the Nov 17th OM (the only one we ever saw) to show how (among other things) the narratives included at that time were not aligned with the legislation. The partial mark-up is a comparison to the version circulated by Alena that included James Rehob's comments. Also, as you know, the Change of Law terms were substantially settled after November 17th, and so those portions of the OM will also be quite different.
Generally, the sorts of things I think the Province may be concerned about in reviewing the OM will include:
(a) ensuring that the description of the Protection Agreement is accurate and does not overstate the Province's obligations,
(b) ensuring that the limitations contemplated in s. 40 of OFHPA and s.19 of the General Regulation have been observed,
(c) eliminating any implied/moral undertakings by the Province to bondholders,
(d) scrutinizing any "risk factors", particularly as they might relate to the context in which Protection Events may arise,
(e) confirming any disclosures regarding the Province's (Ministers') roles, including in setting the "fair allocation amount", accepting the "Financing Plan" provided to the Minister of Energy, etc.,
(f) ensuring that any description of the Crown, Crown immunity, the OFHPA, the regulations made under it, the OIC, the authority of the LGIC, the provisions of the Electricity Act and related regulations and processes, the Financing Plan, the electricity market regulatory infrastructure and other relevant legal principles and contexts are all properly and accurately described (recognizing the risk that any statement may be attributed to the Province based on its close proximity to the program, and could become consequential in any future legal process that seeks to interpret the statute),
(g) scrutinizing disclosures that could later become evidence in any legal proceeding that would challenge the validity of the OFHPA and related laws,
(h) confirming any "electricity market" disclosures that could impact on underlying considerations, such as the potential for and impact of off-grid migration and by-pass risks, and
(i) the propriety of disclosures regarding matters that could impact on the pricing or rating of the issued bonds.
(This list was previously included in my November 22nd due diligence note to the Province's lawyer team.)
In addition, the Province will need to confirm how James Rehob's earlier comments have been reflected in the OM.
Given all this and the offering timing described by Torys, I think it makes sense to insist on getting the OM now and confirming with OPG that the Province will be taking a careful look at the document, which will take some time (at least 5 business days), and so that could impact the overall timing.
I will be tied up from 930 to 1030, but then free until 1145.

Subject: FW: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

As you know prior to the warehouse closing we were sent informally drafts of the reference documents as they developed. Since Dec 20th we have received no further drafts of these documents. I don't understand whether it is OPG's plan that they send final transactions documents today (10 days before) and then the Province has the right to object based on the parameters of "material effect" as defined in the Process Agreement. A draft of the investor presentation was circulated to the Province and some comments were being collected yesterday by Energy and the OFA.

""Material Effect" means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province under the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or this Agreement that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any other Transaction Document that forms part of the Reference Documentation at the relevant time, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which related payments would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Financing Entity or the Financing Entity Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the FSM with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the FSM or the Financing Entity with the Act or the General Regulation; or (viii) the Province's rights of subrogation or assignment (including pursuant to Sections 1.05, 2.01 or 5.01 of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation."

Thanks,

Hi Malle, Alena and Toby, Happy New Year to all of you. John forwarded the email below and attached and asked that I connect with you and provide an update. I have included the business folks on this email to make sure we are all on the same page. As John notes below, we had been working towards being in a position to commence marketing for the term deal on January 15th but if marketing is pushed to January 22 or later, then a waiver of the 10 business day requirement should not be necessary. I will let our respective clients advise us on that point and we can come back to the logistics/process for obtaining a waiver should we need one.

We are planning on delivering the following additional reference documentation to the Province tomorrow:

(1) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Term Notes
(2) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Subordinated Term Notes
(3) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Junior Subordinated Term Notes
(4) Agency Agreement
(5) Offering Memorandum (including the investor presentation attached as an exhibit to the OM)
(6) Term Sheet supplementing the Offering Memorandum

As you may recall, under the change of law process agreement, all deliveries are required to be made by mail, fax or delivered by hand to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of the MOF and the MOE. To comply with the agreement, we plan on hand delivering the above documents to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers tomorrow. We can also email all of these documents to all of you and anyone else you would like us to send these to (in addition to Scott Thompson, Gadi Mayman, Anna Strathy, David McLean, Jonathan Tekle, Mike Manning and Ken Kandeepan -- as requested in Ken's email below). I believe that earlier drafts of all of the term supplemental indentures and the agency agreement were previously circulated to you -- for ease of reference, please let us know if it would be helpful for us to include blacklines to the last versions we sent to you in the email.

Let us know if you agree with the above approach, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions or would like to discuss.
Malle, you had also asked about delivery of the documents from the warehouse closing -- closing books are in progress and we expect to have those ready for circulation next week. Again, in order to comply with the change of law process agreement, the electronic closing books will be delivered to the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of each of the MOF and MOE, but we are happy to also send a copy to others on your instruction.
Thanks,
Rima

We are operating under the assumption that it was the Province desire to execute the term deal as early as possible in 2018 which would involve a launch on the 15th. If the preference is now to adhere to the 10 business day requirement and not waive it we are happy to do so and commence marketing later in the month on the 22nd.
Please advise and we will adjust the work plan accordingly.

Hi John
I spoke to our DM's office and Scott's email is Scott.Thompson@ontario.ca, As required by the Process Agreement between the Province and OPG, pls forward the documents pertaining to the upcoming term deal by email to Scott with a cc to the following:
Given that the Process Agreement requires OPG to also provide the same documents to MOE, I am cc'ing Steen and Tim so that they can inform their DM's Office as well.
With regard to the waiver, pls see Malle's comments below, it would also be useful if OPG were to provide a rationale as to why waiving the 10 business days requirement which may allow for term debt issuance in mid-January by the Trust is more beneficial than issuance either later in the same month or early February.
Thanks

It would be very helpful if OPG and Torys could provide to us a timetable and schedule for delivery of reference documents that are being prepared and when do we expect to get them and when is the proposed issuance. On that basis we can review the timing and determine whether a waiver will be necessary and if it is how it might be processed. Unfortunately we haven't received any updates or draft documents since the closing of the warehouse deal. Also is there a plan for distributing to the Province the documents from the warehouse closing?
Thanks

I should add that the waiver of the 10 BD requirement needs to be executed in writing by the Province (which means we will need signatures from each Minister). Will that be achievable? If not, perhaps we can proceed on the basis of an email waiver with the waiver signed by the Ministers to follow as soon as possible. Sorry but it is going to be a pain in the butt navigating through this agreement … hopefully the Province will realize that and agree to make some amendments!

Thanks for the update, Malle.
I'm not sure how this materiality discussion will relate to the Province commenting on the OM. The base form of the OM was not envisioned as of December 20th, and so it is unclear to me that the material effect discussion is relevant for that purpose.
I have been expecting that the Province would be quite involved in the production of the OM, and not just for information purposes.
To illustrate the sorts of items I would anticipate being relevant to the Province in reviewing the OM, I attach a partial mark-up of the Nov 17th OM (the only one we ever saw) to show how (among other things) the narratives included at that time were not aligned with the legislation. The partial mark-up is a comparison to the version circulated by Alena that included James Rehob's comments. Also, as you know, the Change of Law terms were substantially settled after November 17th, and so those portions of the OM will also be quite different.
Generally, the sorts of things I think the Province may be concerned about in reviewing the OM will include:
(a) ensuring that the description of the Protection Agreement is accurate and does not overstate the Province's obligations,
(b) ensuring that the limitations contemplated in s. 40 of OFHPA and s.19 of the General Regulation have been observed,
(c) eliminating any implied/moral undertakings by the Province to bondholders,
(d) scrutinizing any "risk factors", particularly as they might relate to the context in which Protection Events may arise,
(e) confirming any disclosures regarding the Province's (Ministers') roles, including in setting the "fair allocation amount", accepting the "Financing Plan" provided to the Minister of Energy, etc.,
(f) ensuring that any description of the Crown, Crown immunity, the OFHPA, the regulations made under it, the OIC, the authority of the LGIC, the provisions of the Electricity Act and related regulations and processes, the Financing Plan, the electricity market regulatory infrastructure and other relevant legal principles and contexts are all properly and accurately described (recognizing the risk that any statement may be attributed to the Province based on its close proximity to the program, and could become consequential in any future legal process that seeks to interpret the statute),
(g) scrutinizing disclosures that could later become evidence in any legal proceeding that would challenge the validity of the OFHPA and related laws,
(h) confirming any "electricity market" disclosures that could impact on underlying considerations, such as the potential for and impact of off-grid migration and by-pass risks, and
(i) the propriety of disclosures regarding matters that could impact on the pricing or rating of the issued bonds.
(This list was previously included in my November 22nd due diligence note to the Province's lawyer team.)
In addition, the Province will need to confirm how James Rehob's earlier comments have been reflected in the OM.
Given all this and the offering timing described by Torys, I think it makes sense to insist on getting the OM now and confirming with OPG that the Province will be taking a careful look at the document, which will take some time (at least 5 business days), and so that could impact the overall timing.
I will be tied up from 930 to 1030, but then free until 1145.
Regards, Steve

Subject: FW: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

As you know prior to the warehouse closing we were sent informally drafts of the reference documents as they developed. Since Dec 20th we have received no further drafts of these documents. I don't understand whether it is OPG's plan that they send final transactions documents today (10 days before) and then the Province has the right to object based on the parameters of "material effect" as defined in the Process Agreement. A draft of the investor presentation was circulated to the Province and some comments were being collected yesterday by Energy and the OFA.

""Material Effect" means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province under the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or this Agreement that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any other Transaction Document that forms part of the Reference Documentation at the relevant time, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which related payments would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Financing Entity or the Financing Entity Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the FSM with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the FSM or the Financing Entity with the Act or the General Regulation; or (viii) the Province's rights of subrogation or assignment (including pursuant to Sections 1.05, 2.01 or 5.01 of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation."

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

Hi Malle, Alena and Toby, Happy New Year to all of you. John forwarded the email below and attached and asked that I connect with you and provide an update. I have included the business folks on this email to make sure we are all on the same page. As John notes below, we had been working towards being in a position to commence marketing for the term deal on January 15th but if marketing is pushed to January 22 or later, then a waiver of the 10 business day requirement should not be necessary. I will let our respective clients advise us on that point and we can come back to the logistics/process for obtaining a waiver should we need one.

We are planning on delivering the following additional reference documentation to the Province tomorrow:

(1) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Term Notes
(2) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Subordinated Term Notes
(3) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Junior Subordinated Term Notes
(4) Agency Agreement
(5) Offering Memorandum (including the investor presentation attached as an exhibit to the OM)
(6) Term Sheet supplementing the Offering Memorandum

As you may recall, under the change of law process agreement, all deliveries are required to be made by mail, fax or delivered by hand to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of the MOF and the MOE. To comply with the agreement, we plan on hand delivering the above documents to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers tomorrow. We can also email all of these documents to all of you and anyone else you would like us to send these to (in addition to Scott Thompson, Gadi Mayman, Anna Strathy, David McLean, Jonathan Tekle, Mike Manning and Ken Kandeepan -- as requested in Ken's email below). I believe that earlier drafts of all of the term supplemental indentures and the agency agreement were previously circulated to you -- for ease of reference, please let us know if it would be helpful for us to include blacklines to the last versions we sent to you in the email.

Let us know if you agree with the above approach, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions or would like to discuss.

Malle, you had also asked about delivery of the documents from the warehouse closing -- closing books are in progress and we expect to have those ready for circulation next week. Again, in order to comply with the change of law process agreement, the electronic closing books will be delivered to the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of each of the MOF and MOE, but we are happy to also send a copy to others on your instruction.

Thanks,
Rima

We are operating under the assumption that it was the Province desire to execute the term deal as early as possible in 2018 which would involve a launch on the 15th. If the preference is now to adhere to the 10 business day requirement and not waive it we are happy to do so and commence marketing later in the month on the 22nd.
Please advise and we will adjust the work plan accordingly.

Hi John
I spoke to our DM's office and Scott's email is Scott.Thompson@ontario.ca, As required by the Process Agreement between the Province and OPG, pls forward the documents pertaining to the upcoming term deal by email to Scott with a cc to the following:
Given that the Process Agreement requires OPG to also provide the same documents to MOE, I am cc'ing Steen and Tim so that they can inform their DM's Office as well.
With regard to the waiver, pls see Malle's comments below, it would also be useful if OPG were to provide a rationale as to why waiving the 10 business days requirement which may allow for term debt issuance in mid-January by the Trust is more beneficial than issuance either later in the same month or early February.
Thanks

It would be very helpful if OPG and Torys could provide to us a timetable and schedule for delivery of reference documents that are being prepared and when do we expect to get them and when is the proposed issuance. On that basis we can review the timing and determine whether a waiver will be necessary and if it is how it might be processed. Unfortunately we haven't received any updates or draft documents since the closing of the warehouse deal. Also is there a plan for distributing to the Province the documents from the warehouse closing?
Thanks

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – RE: Diligence Questions
I should add that the waiver of the 10 BD requirement needs to be executed in writing by the Province (which means we will need signatures from each Minister). Will that be achievable? If not, perhaps we can proceed on the basis of an email waiver with the waiver signed by the Ministers to follow as soon as possible. Sorry but it is going to be a pain in the butt navigating through this agreement … hopefully the Province will realize that and agree to make some amendments!

OK. I assume the DM of Finance will sign off on behalf of the Minister of Finance. But what about the Minister of Energy? The agreement requires notices to both Ministers on behalf of the Province and I recall on the warehouse closing, we had to wait for a representative from each Ministry to sign off.

I was speaking to Ken Kandeepan on the process this afternoon and he indicated to me that we should send the documents and the waiver request to the Deputy Minister of Finance with a cc. Gadi. Ken was going to send along the contact info for the DM of Finance and also alert their Office of the inbound email so they would not be surprised.

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

Thanks for the update, Malle.

I'm not sure how this materiality discussion will relate to the Province commenting on the OM. The base form of the OM was not envisioned as of December 20th, and so it is unclear to me that the material effect discussion is relevant for that purpose.

I have been expecting that the Province would be quite involved in the production of the OM, and not just for information purposes.

To illustrate the sorts of items I would anticipate being relevant to the Province in reviewing the OM, I attach a partial mark-up of the Nov 17th OM (the only one we ever saw) to show how (among other things) the narratives included at that time were not aligned with the legislation. The partial mark-up is a comparison to the version circulated by Alena that included James Rehob's comments. Also, as you know, the Change of Law terms were substantially settled after November 17th, and so those portions of the OM will also be quite different.

Generally, the sorts of things I think the Province may be concerned about in reviewing the OM will include:

(a) ensuring that the description of the Protection Agreement is accurate and does not overstate the Province's obligations,

(b) ensuring that the limitations contemplated in s. 40 of OFHPA and s.19 of the General Regulation have been observed,

(c) eliminating any implied/moral undertakings by the Province to bondholders,

(d) scrutinizing any "risk factors", particularly as they might relate to the context in which Protection Events may arise,

(e) confirming any disclosures regarding the Province's (Ministers') roles, including in setting the "fair allocation amount", accepting the "Financing Plan" provided to the Minister of Energy, etc.,

(f) ensuring that any description of the Crown, Crown immunity, the OFHPA, the regulations made under it, the OIC, the authority of the LGIC, the provisions of the Electricity Act and related regulations and processes, the Financing Plan, the electricity market regulatory infrastructure and other relevant legal principles and contexts are all properly and accurately described (recognizing the risk that any statement may be attributed to the Province based on its close proximity to the program, and could become consequential in any future legal process that seeks to interpret the statute),

(g) scrutinizing disclosures that could later become evidence in any legal proceeding that would challenge the validity of the OFHPA and related laws,

(h) confirming any "electricity market" disclosures that could impact on underlying considerations, such as the potential for and impact of off-grid migration and by-pass risks, and

(i) the propriety of disclosures regarding matters that could impact on the pricing or rating of the issued bonds.

(This list was previously included in my November 22nd due diligence note to the Province's lawyer team.)

In addition, the Province will need to confirm how James Rehob's earlier comments have been reflected in the OM.

Given all this and the offering timing described by Torys, I think it makes sense to insist on getting the OM now and confirming with OPG that the Province will be taking a careful look at the document, which will take some time (at least 5 business days), and so that could impact the overall timing.

I will be tied up from 930 to 1030, but then free until 1145.

Regards, Steve

Subject: FW: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

As you know prior to the warehouse closing we were sent informally drafts of the reference documents as they developed. Since Dec 20th we have received no further drafts of these documents. I don't understand whether it is OPG's plan that they send final transactions documents today (10 days before) and then the Province has the right to object based on the parameters of "material effect" as defined in the Process Agreement. A draft of the investor presentation was circulated to the Province and some comments were being collected yesterday by Energy and the OFA.

""Material Effect" means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province under the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or this Agreement that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any other Transaction Document that forms part of the Reference Documentation at the relevant time, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which related payments would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Financing Entity or the Financing Entity Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the FSM with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the FSM or the Financing Entity with the Act or the General Regulation; or (viii) the Province's rights of subrogation or assignment (including pursuant to Sections 1.05, 2.01 or 5.01 of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation."

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

Hi Malle, Alena and Toby, Happy New Year to all of you. John forwarded the email below and attached and asked that I connect with you and provide an update. I have included the business folks on this email to make sure we are all on the same page. As John notes below, we had been working towards being in a position to commence marketing for the term deal on January 15th but if marketing is pushed to January 22 or later, then a waiver of the 10 business day requirement should not be necessary. I will let our respective clients advise us on that point and we can come back to the logistics/process for obtaining a waiver should we need one.

We are planning on delivering the following additional reference documentation to the Province tomorrow:

(1) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Term Notes

(2) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Subordinated Term Notes

(3) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Junior Subordinated Term Notes

(4) Agency Agreement

(5) Offering Memorandum (including the investor presentation attached as an exhibit to the OM)

(6) Term Sheet supplementing the Offering Memorandum

As you may recall, under the change of law process agreement, all deliveries are required to be made by mail, fax or delivered by hand to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of the MOF and the MOE. To comply with the agreement, we plan on hand delivering the above documents to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers tomorrow. We can also email all of these documents to all of you and anyone else you would like us to send these to (in addition to Scott Thompson, Gadi Mayman, Anna Strathy, David McLean, Jonathan Tekle, Mike Manning and Ken Kandeepan -- as requested in Ken's email below). I believe that earlier drafts of all of the term supplemental indentures and the agency agreement were previously circulated to you -- for ease of reference, please let us know if it would be helpful for us to include blacklines to the last versions we sent to you in the email.

Let us know if you agree with the above approach, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions or would like to discuss.

Malle, you had also asked about delivery of the documents from the warehouse closing -- closing books are in progress and we expect to have those ready for circulation next week. Again, in order to comply with the change of law process agreement, the electronic closing books will be delivered to the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of each of the MOF and MOE, but we are happy to also send a copy to others on your instruction.

Thanks,

Rima

Ken/Steen:

We are operating under the assumption that it was the Province desire to execute the term deal as early as possible in 2018 which would involve a launch on the 15th. If the preference is now to adhere to the 10 business day requirement and not waive it we are happy to do so and commence marketing later in the month on the 22nd.

Please advise and we will adjust the work plan accordingly.

Hi John

I spoke to our DM's office and Scott's email is Scott.Thompson@ontario.ca, As required by the Process Agreement between the Province and OPG, pls forward the documents pertaining to the upcoming term deal by email to Scott with a cc to the following:

Given that the Process Agreement requires OPG to also provide the same documents to MOE, I am cc'ing Steen and Tim so that they can inform their DM's Office as well.

With regard to the waiver, pls see Malle's comments below, it would also be useful if OPG were to provide a rationale as to why waiving the 10 business days requirement which may allow for term debt issuance in mid-January by the Trust is more beneficial than issuance either later in the same month or early February.

Thanks

It would be very helpful if OPG and Torys could provide to us a timetable and schedule for delivery of reference documents that are being prepared and when do we expect to get them and when is the proposed issuance. On that basis we can review the timing and determine whether a waiver will be necessary and if it is how it might be processed. Unfortunately we haven't received any updates or draft documents since the closing of the warehouse deal. Also is there a plan for distributing to the Province the documents from the warehouse closing?

Thanks

Thanks, didn't realize that all waivers have to be signed by the respective ministers, which as you know is difficult on an operational basis.

I am cc'ing our legal counsel to see if they have any suggestions.

Please advise.

I should add that the waiver of the 10 BD requirement needs to be executed in writing by the Province (which means we will need signatures from each Minister). Will that be achievable? If not, perhaps we can proceed on the basis of an email waiver with the waiver signed by the Ministers to follow as soon as possible. Sorry but it is going to be a pain in the butt navigating through this agreement … hopefully the Province will realize that and agree to make some amendments!

OK. I assume the DM of Finance will sign off on behalf of the Minister of Finance. But what about the Minister of Energy? The agreement requires notices to both Ministers on behalf of the Province and I recall on the warehouse closing, we had to wait for a representative from each Ministry to sign off.

I was speaking to Ken Kandeepan on the process this afternoon and he indicated to me that we should send the documents and the waiver request to the Deputy Minister of Finance with a cc. Gadi. Ken was going to send along the contact info for the DM of Finance and also alert their Office of the inbound email so they would not be surprised.

Thanks for the update, Malle.
I'm not sure how this materiality discussion will relate to the Province commenting on the OM. The base form of the OM was not envisioned as of December 20th, and so it is unclear to me that the material effect discussion is relevant for that purpose.
I have been expecting that the Province would be quite involved in the production of the OM, and not just for information purposes.
To illustrate the sorts of items I would anticipate being relevant to the Province in reviewing the OM, I attach a partial mark-up of the Nov 17th OM (the only one we ever saw) to show how (among other things) the narratives included at that time were not aligned with the legislation. The partial mark-up is a comparison to the version circulated by Alena that included James Rehob's comments. Also, as you know, the Change of Law terms were substantially settled after November 17th, and so those portions of the OM will also be quite different.
Generally, the sorts of things I think the Province may be concerned about in reviewing the OM will include:
(a) ensuring that the description of the Protection Agreement is accurate and does not overstate the Province's obligations,
(b) ensuring that the limitations contemplated in s. 40 of OFHPA and s.19 of the General Regulation have been observed,
(c) eliminating any implied/moral undertakings by the Province to bondholders,
(d) scrutinizing any "risk factors", particularly as they might relate to the context in which Protection Events may arise,
(e) confirming any disclosures regarding the Province's (Ministers') roles, including in setting the "fair allocation amount", accepting the "Financing Plan" provided to the Minister of Energy, etc.,
(f) ensuring that any description of the Crown, Crown immunity, the OFHPA, the regulations made under it, the OIC, the authority of the LGIC, the provisions of the Electricity Act and related regulations and processes, the Financing Plan, the electricity market regulatory infrastructure and other relevant legal principles and contexts are all properly and accurately described (recognizing the risk that any statement may be attributed to the Province based on its close proximity to the program, and could become consequential in any future legal process that seeks to interpret the statute),
(g) scrutinizing disclosures that could later become evidence in any legal proceeding that would challenge the validity of the OFHPA and related laws,
(h) confirming any "electricity market" disclosures that could impact on underlying considerations, such as the potential for and impact of off-grid migration and by-pass risks, and
(i) the propriety of disclosures regarding matters that could impact on the pricing or rating of the issued bonds.
(This list was previously included in my November 22nd due diligence note to the Province's lawyer team.)
In addition, the Province will need to confirm how James Rehob's earlier comments have been reflected in the OM.
Given all this and the offering timing described by Torys, I think it makes sense to insist on getting the OM now and confirming with OPG that the Province will be taking a careful look at the document, which will take some time (at least 5 business days), and so that could impact the overall timing.
I will be tied up from 930 to 1030, but then free until 1145.

As you know prior to the warehouse closing we were sent informally drafts of the reference documents as they developed. Since Dec 20th we have received no further drafts of these documents. I don't understand whether it is OPG's plan that they send final transactions documents today (10 days before) and then the Province has the right to object based on the parameters of "material effect" as defined in the Process Agreement. A draft of the investor presentation was circulated to the Province and some comments were being collected yesterday by Energy and the OFA.

""Material Effect" means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province under the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or this Agreement that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any other Transaction Document that forms part of the Reference Documentation at the relevant time, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which related payments would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Financing Entity or the Financing Entity Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the FSM with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the FSM or the Financing Entity with the Act or the General Regulation; or (viii) the Province's rights of subrogation or assignment (including pursuant to Sections 1.05, 2.01 or 5.01 of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation."

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province

Hi Malle, Alena and Toby, Happy New Year to all of you. John forwarded the email below and attached and asked that I connect with you and provide an update. I have included the business folks on this email to make sure we are all on the same page. As John notes below, we had been working towards being in a position to commence marketing for the term deal on January 15th but if marketing is pushed to January 22 or later, then a waiver of the 10 business day requirement should not be necessary. I will let our respective clients advise us on that point and we can come back to the logistics/process for obtaining a waiver should we need one.

We are planning on delivering the following additional reference documentation to the Province tomorrow:

(1) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Term Notes
(2) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Subordinated Term Notes
(3) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Junior Subordinated Term Notes
(4) Agency Agreement
(5) Offering Memorandum (including the investor presentation attached as an exhibit to the OM)
(6) Term Sheet supplementing the Offering Memorandum

As you may recall, under the change of law process agreement, all deliveries are required to be made by mail, fax or delivered by hand to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of the MOF and the MOE. To comply with the agreement, we plan on hand delivering the above documents to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers tomorrow. We can also email all of these documents to all of you and anyone else you would like us to send these to (in addition to Scott Thompson, Gadi Mayman, Anna Strathy, David McLean, Jonathan Tekle, Mike Manning and Ken Kandeepan -- as requested in Ken's email below). I believe that earlier drafts of all of the term supplemental indentures and the agency agreement were previously circulated to you -- for ease of reference, please let us know if it would be helpful for us to include blacklines to the last versions we sent to you in the email.

Let us know if you agree with the above approach, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions or would like to discuss.

Malle, you had also asked about delivery of the documents from the warehouse closing -- closing books are in progress and we expect to have those ready for circulation next week. Again, in order to comply with the change of law process agreement, the electronic closing books will be delivered to the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of each of the MOF and MOE, but we are happy to also send a copy to others on your instruction.

Thanks,
Rima

We are operating under the assumption that it was the Province desire to execute the term deal as early as possible in 2018 which would involve a launch on the 15th. If the preference is now to adhere to the 10 business day requirement and not waive it we are happy to do so and commence marketing later in the month on the 22nd.
Please advise and we will adjust the work plan accordingly.

Hi John
I spoke to our DM's office and Scott's email is Scott.Thompson@ontario.ca, As required by the Process Agreement between the Province and OPG, pls forward the documents pertaining to the upcoming term deal by email to Scott with a cc to the following:
Given that the Process Agreement requires OPG to also provide the same documents to MOE, I am cc'ing Steen and Tim so that they can inform their DM's Office as well.
With regard to the waiver, pls see Malle's comments below, it would also be useful if OPG were to provide a rationale as to why waiving the 10 business days requirement which may allow for term debt issuance in mid-January by the Trust is more beneficial than issuance either later in the same month or early February.
Thanks

Subject: Re: Waiver Process
It would be very helpful if OPG and Torys could provide to us a timetable and schedule for delivery of reference documents that are being prepared and when do we expect to get them and when is the proposed issuance. On that basis we can review the timing and determine whether a waiver will be necessary and if it is how it might be processed. Unfortunately we haven't received any updates or draft documents since the closing of the warehouse deal. Also is there a plan for distributing to the Province the documents from the warehouse closing?
Thanks

Thanks, didn't realize that all waivers have to be signed by the respective ministers, which as you know is difficult on an operational basis.
I am cc'ing our legal counsel to see if they have any suggestions.

Please advise.

I should add that the waiver of the 10 BD requirement needs to be executed in writing by the Province (which means we will need signatures from each Minister). Will that be achievable? If not, perhaps we can proceed on the basis of an email waiver with the waiver signed by the Ministers to follow as soon as possible. Sorry but it is going to be a pain in the butt navigating through this agreement … hopefully the Province will realize that and agree to make some amendments!

OK. I assume the DM of Finance will sign off on behalf of the Minister of Finance. But what about the Minister of Energy? The agreement requires notices to both Ministers on behalf of the Province and I recall on the warehouse closing, we had to wait for a representative from each Ministry to sign off.

Ken was going to send along the contact info for the DM of Finance and also alert their Office of the inbound email so they would not be surprised.

Thanks for the update, Malle.
I'm not sure how this materiality discussion will relate to the Province commenting on the OM. The base form of the OM was not envisioned as of December 20th, and so it is unclear to me that the material effect discussion is relevant for that purpose.
I have been expecting that the Province would be quite involved in the production of the OM, and not just for information purposes.
To illustrate the sorts of items I would anticipate being relevant to the Province in reviewing the OM, I attach a partial mark-up of the Nov 17th OM (the only one we ever saw) to show how (among other things) the narratives included at that time were not aligned with the legislation. The partial mark-up is a comparison to the version circulated by Alena that included James Rehob's comments. Also, as you know, the Change of Law terms were substantially settled after November 17th, and so those portions of the OM will also be quite different.
Generally, the sorts of things I think the Province may be concerned about in reviewing the OM will include:
(a) ensuring that the description of the Protection Agreement is accurate and does not overstate the Province's obligations,
(b) ensuring that the limitations contemplated in s. 40 of OFHPA and s.19 of the General Regulation have been observed,
(c) eliminating any implied/moral undertakings by the Province to bondholders,
(d) scrutinizing any "risk factors", particularly as they might relate to the context in which Protection Events may arise,
(e) confirming any disclosures regarding the Province's (Ministers') roles, including in setting the "fair allocation amount", accepting the "Financing Plan" provided to the Minister of Energy, etc.,
(f) ensuring that any description of the Crown, Crown immunity, the OFHPA, the regulations made under it, the OIC, the authority of the LGIC, the provisions of the Electricity Act and related regulations and processes, the Financing Plan, the electricity market regulatory infrastructure and other relevant legal principles and contexts are all properly and accurately described (recognizing the risk that any statement may be attributed to the Province based on its close proximity to the program, and could become consequential in any future legal process that seeks to interpret the statute),
(g) scrutinizing disclosures that could later become evidence in any legal proceeding that would challenge the validity of the OFHPA and related laws,
(h) confirming any "electricity market" disclosures that could impact on underlying considerations, such as the potential for and impact of off-grid migration and by-pass risks, and
(i) the propriety of disclosures regarding matters that could impact on the pricing or rating of the issued bonds.
(This list was previously included in my November 22nd due diligence note to the Province's lawyer team.)
In addition, the Province will need to confirm how James Rehob's earlier comments have been reflected in the OM.
Given all this and the offering timing described by Torys, I think it makes sense to insist on getting the OM now and confirming with OPG that the Province will be taking a careful look at the document, which will take some time (at least 5 business days), and so that could impact the overall timing.
I will be tied up from 930 to 1030, but then free until 1145.
Regards, Steve

As you know prior to the warehouse closing we were sent informally drafts of the reference documents as they developed. Since Dec 20th we have received no further drafts of these documents. I don't understand whether it is OPG's plan that they send final transactions documents today (10 days before) and then the Province has the right to object based on the parameters of "material effect" as defined in the Process Agreement. A draft of the investor presentation was circulated to the Province and some comments were being collected yesterday by Energy and the OFA.
""Material Effect" means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province under the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or this Agreement that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any other Transaction Document that forms part of the Reference Documentation at the relevant time, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which related payments would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Financing Entity or the Financing Entity Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the FSM with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the FSM or the Financing Entity with the Act or the General Regulation; or (viii) the Province's rights of subrogation or assignment (including pursuant to Sections 1.05, 2.01 or 5.01 of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation."

Subject: RE: EXTERNAL – Delivery of Reference Documentation to Province
Hi Malle, Alena and Toby, Happy New Year to all of you. John forwarded the email below and attached and asked that I connect with you and provide an update. I have included the business folks on this email to make sure we are all on the same page. As John notes below, we had been working towards being in a position to commence marketing for the term deal on January 15th but if marketing is pushed to January 22 or later, then a waiver of the 10 business day requirement should not be necessary. I will let our respective clients advise us on that point and we can come back to the logistics/process for obtaining a waiver should we need one.
We are planning on delivering the following additional reference documentation to the Province tomorrow:
(1) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Term Notes
(2) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Subordinated Term Notes
(3) Supplemental Indenture for the Series 2018-1 Junior Subordinated Term Notes
(4) Agency Agreement
(5) Offering Memorandum (including the investor presentation attached as an exhibit to the OM)
(6) Term Sheet supplementing the Offering Memorandum
As you may recall, under the change of law process agreement, all deliveries are required to be made by mail, fax or delivered by hand to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of the MOF and the MOE. To comply with the agreement, we plan on hand delivering the above documents to each of the Ministers and Deputy Ministers tomorrow. We can also email all of these documents to all of you and anyone else you would like us to send these to (in addition to Scott Thompson, Gadi Mayman, Anna Strathy, David McLean, Jonathan Tekle, Mike Manning and Ken Kandeepan -- as requested in Ken's email below). I believe that earlier drafts of all of the term supplemental indentures and the agency agreement were previously circulated to you -- for ease of reference, please let us know if it would be helpful for us to include blacklines to the last versions we sent to you in the email.
Let us know if you agree with the above approach, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions or would like to discuss.
Malle, you had also asked about delivery of the documents from the warehouse closing -- closing books are in progress and we expect to have those ready for circulation next week. Again, in order to comply with the change of law process agreement, the electronic closing books will be delivered to the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of each of the MOF and MOE, but we are happy to also send a copy to others on your instruction.
Thanks,
Rima

Ken/Steen:
We are operating under the assumption that it was the Province desire to execute the term deal as early as possible in 2018 which would involve a launch on the 15th. If the preference is now to adhere to the 10 business day requirement and not waive it we are happy to do so and commence marketing later in the month on the 22nd.
Please advise and we will adjust the work plan accordingly.

Hi John

I spoke to our DM's office and Scott's email is Scott.Thompson@ontario.ca, As required by the Process Agreement between the Province and OPG, pls forward the documents pertaining to the upcoming term deal by email to Scott with a cc to the following:
Given that the Process Agreement requires OPG to also provide the same documents to MOE, I am cc'ing Steen and Tim so that they can inform their DM's Office as well.
With regard to the waiver, pls see Malle's comments below, it would also be useful if OPG were to provide a rationale as to why waiving the 10 business days requirement which may allow for term debt issuance in mid-January by the Trust is more beneficial than issuance either later in the same month or early February.
Thanks
Ken k

Subject: Re: Waiver Process
It would be very helpful if OPG and Torys could provide to us a timetable and schedule for delivery of reference documents that are being prepared and when do we expect to get them and when is the proposed issuance. On that basis we can review the timing and determine whether a waiver will be necessary and if it is how it might be processed. Unfortunately we haven't received any updates or draft documents since the closing of the warehouse deal. Also is there a plan for distributing to the Province the documents from the warehouse closing?
Thanks

Thanks, didn't realize that all waivers have to be signed by the respective ministers, which as you know is difficult on an operational basis.
I am cc'ing our legal counsel to see if they have any suggestions.

Please advise.

I should add that the waiver of the 10 BD requirement needs to be executed in writing by the Province (which means we will need signatures from each Minister). Will that be achievable? If not, perhaps we can proceed on the basis of an email waiver with the waiver signed by the Ministers to follow as soon as possible. Sorry but it is going to be a pain in the butt navigating through this agreement … hopefully the Province will realize that and agree to make some amendments!

OK. I assume the DM of Finance will sign off on behalf of the Minister of Finance. But what about the Minister of Energy? The agreement requires notices to both Ministers on behalf of the Province and I recall on the warehouse closing, we had to wait for a representative from each Ministry to sign off.

I was speaking to Ken Kandeepan on the process this afternoon and he indicated to me that we should send the documents and the waiver request to the Deputy Minister of Finance with a cc. Gadi. Ken was going to send along the contact info for the DM of Finance and also alert their Office of the inbound email so they would not be surprised.

From the perspective of both Mike and I the comments and edits are very factual and should not pose any issues to OPG or the Trust should they choose to accept them. If others are of the same opinion, I suggest that either MOF or MOE Legal forward the marked up version to Torys with cc's to the usual suspects.

Hi. Here is a list of items that could be discussed at 9:30, in order to settle on the scope and nature of commenting on the OM:

MOE – Alignment Considerations

1. Simplified references to the OFHPA (general caveat)

2. Scope of descriptions (generally, should be …subject to the OFHPA and the Regulations)

3. "purposes" of the OFHPA (e.g., implies that is rate reduction)

4. Nature and duration of the "moratorium period" (non-legislative)

5. Trust vs. "financing entity" (permit multiple FEs and co-ownership arrangements – minimally described)

6. "Fair Allocation Amount" – amount vs. effect of calculation (imprecise); concept of "Readjustments" missing

7. Financing Plan – refinements (e.g., references to Refinancings)

8. Expectations re FAA – negative until 2024

9. "Ontario's Fair Allocation Plan" – styling

10. OPG appointment as FSM (initial only – ability for Minister to replace)

11. Inclusions into IESO deferrals (precision)

12. Carrying costs vs funding rebates (impact on nature of Investment Asset)???

13. No reference to pre-OFHPA adjustments (piggy bank)

14. Risk Factors – approach to describing legal risks and Protection Agreement as mitigation

15. Technical definitions and descriptions (e.g., carrying costs; forecasts from IESO rather than forecast information; invoicing mechanics; simplifications of definitions; etc.)

16. Limited discussion re contents of "Financing Plan"

17. No real recognition of tail risk and duration mismatch considerations and mitigants/strategies

18. No discussion re OFHPA rights of action, etc.

19. "non-bypassable" (meaning)

OFA - Change of Law Protection Agreement

1. Narrative (e.g., "in favour of the Issuer")

2. Notes do not constitute debt of Province, etc. (confirm description) – additional considerations?

3. Scope of "Approved Obligations" (overbroad)

4. Positive obligations in favour of Province (e.g., apply amounts; credit for applied amounts)

5. Definition of "Protection Events" (align)

6. Rights of Subrogation (needs to be more detailed)

7. Mechanics of Protection Account

8. Limited direct rights of Noteholders (through indenture trustee)

9. Limitations on damages

10. Only passing reference to the "Process Agreement" in OM (but referred to in more detail in the Investor Presentation)

Other

1. Confidentiality (deemed vs. confirmed in writing)

2. Liability for Taxes (priority claim in waterfall; impact on triggers)

3. IESO - descriptions

4. Electricity Market; OEB; OPG

5. Platform (e.g., very broad cross default – beyond generic risk factors?)

6. Interplay between Warehouse and Term issuances

7. Description of 2018 Notes

8. Optional Redemption of Notes (confirm if applicable/acceptable)

FYI, attached is our internal (preliminary) mark-up of the OM. It should not be on-circulated at this stage. We are providing it now in case you would find it useful to have specified illustrations of the foregoing items.

CONFIDENTIAL SHELF OFFERING MEMORANDUM

New Issue By Way of Private Placement

Senior Secured Notes

Fair Hydro Trust (the "Issuer"), a special purpose trust established under the laws of the Province of Ontario by Computershare Trust Company of Canada, acting as trustee of the Issuer, and caused to be established by Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG"), as Financial Services Manager (as hereinafter defined), has created a program providing for the offering and issuance of senior secured notes (the "Senior Notes"), in one or several offerings. The Issuer was established in connection with the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "FHPA"), legislation [that reallocates certain electricity costs over time and provides immediate rate relief to Specified Consumers (a category of consumers that generally is comprised of residential consumers, small businesses and farms).][1] Under the FHPA, OPG is appointed as the initial financial services manager (in such capacity, the "Financial Services Manager") and is given the authority to, among other things, establish, or cause to be established, one or more financing entities (each, a "Financing Entity") to incur payment obligations (referred to as "Funding Obligations") for the purposes of the FHPA.[2] The Issuer is a Financing Entity under the FHPA and the Senior Notes are Funding Obligations being offered for the purposes of the FHPA.

The Senior Notes do not constitute a debt, liability or other obligation of, or interest in, OPG or any of its other affiliates (other than the Issuer). The Senior Notes are not a debt, liability or obligation of the Province of Ontario or any of its political subdivisions, agencies or instrumentalities. The Senior Notes will not be insured or guaranteed by the Province of Ontario, OPG or any of their respective affiliates or any other person or entity, except that the Province of Ontario has agreed to provide a limited guarantee in respect of the Senior Notes following the occurrence of certain events. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". The Senior Notes will be nonrecourse obligations, secured only by the collateral described in this confidential shelf offering memorandum. See "Risk Factors".

[1] Note: This narrative should be removed or, if necessary, it should track the purposes of the FHPA set out in Section 3 of the Act.

[2] Note: The statutory definition of "funding obligation" provides that the funding obligations have the purpose of funding ownership in an investment interest. Please consider revising the definition of "funding obligation" to more closely track that in the Act.

The specific terms of any offering of Senior Notes, including, without limitation, the aggregate principal amount of Senior Notes being offered, the currency of the Senior Notes, the issue price (at par, at a discount or at a premium), the issue, delivery and maturity dates, any redemption or repayment provisions, the rating of the Senior Notes at the time of such offering, the interest (either fixed or floating and the circumstances, if any, under which the rate may be adjusted), the interest rate basis and interest payment dates, will be established by the Issuer and set forth in a term sheet (a "Term Sheet") that will accompany, be incorporated by reference in and form an integral part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum. Unless otherwise specified in a Term Sheet, the Senior Notes will not be listed on any securities exchange.

The offering of Senior Notes from time to time (each, an "Offering") will be made pursuant to exemptions from the prospectus requirements of applicable securities laws in each of the provinces of Canada only to "accredited investors" (as such term is defined in National Instrument 45-106 – Prospectus Exemptions ("NI 45-106") and, in the case of a purchaser resident in Ontario, section 73.3(1) of the Securities Act (Ontario)) that are purchasing the Senior Notes as principal and that are not individuals unless those individuals are also "permitted clients" (as such term is defined in National Instrument 31-103 – Registration Requirements, Exemptions and Ongoing Registrant Obligations ("NI 31-103")). Purchasers of Senior Notes will be obliged to establish their qualification to invest in accordance with the requirements of the securities laws of the jurisdiction in which they reside. See "Representations and Agreements of Purchasers". As each Offering will be made pursuant to exemptions from prospectus requirements of applicable securities laws, there will be restrictions on the resale of the Senior Notes. See "Risk Factors" and "Restrictions on Resale".

The Senior Notes may be sold by the Issuer directly pursuant to applicable statutory exemptions or through agents designated by the Issuer from time to time (the "Agents"). See "Plan of Distribution". Each Term Sheet will identify the Agents engaged to conditionally offer the Senior Notes for sale on a best efforts basis, subject to prior sale, in connection with the applicable Offering of Senior Notes and will also set forth the terms of such Offering of Senior Notes, including the net proceeds to the Issuer and, to the extent applicable, any fees payable to the Agents.

Subscriptions for the Senior Notes will be received subject to rejection or allotment in whole or in part and the right is reserved to close the subscription books at any time without notice. The Senior Notes will be delivered and recorded in book-entry form through CDS Clearing and Depository Services Inc. ("CDS") or another depository selected by the Issuer in accordance with the master trust indenture governing the Senior Notes. The Senior Notes will be represented by fully registered book-entry notes held by, or on behalf of, such depository, or a successor thereof, as the custodian of the book-entry notes, in its name or the name of its nominee.

The Senior Notes will be issued under and will be entitled to the benefits of a master trust indenture dated as of December 21, 2017 between the Issuer, as issuer, and BNY Trust Company of Canada, as indenture trustee, as amended or supplemented by supplemental indentures thereto.

In making an investment decision, prospective investors acknowledge that they have not relied on the Agents or any person affiliated with the Agents for investment or other advice and are relying on their own examination of the terms of an Offering, including the merits and risks involved and creditworthiness of the Issuer. Prospective investors are not to construe the contents of this document as legal, tax, accounting or investment advice. Prior to investing in the Senior Notes, prospective investors should consult with their legal, tax, accounting and investment advisors to determine the consequences of an investment in the Senior Notes. See "Risk Factors" for a discussion of certain factors that should be considered by prospective purchasers of Senior Notes.

The Issuer is not a "reporting issuer" (as such term is defined under applicable Canadian securities laws) in any jurisdiction. The Issuer will only distribute the Senior Notes in Canada under exemptions from the prospectus requirements of the securities laws of the provinces where they are sold. The Senior Notes may only be traded in Canada under exemptions from the prospectus requirements of the securities laws of the provinces in which they are traded and only through dealers registered or exempt from the dealer registration requirements of applicable Canadian securities laws. See "Restrictions on Resale".

There is currently no secondary market for the Senior Notes. There can be no assurance that a secondary market will develop or, if a secondary market does develop, that it will provide holders of Senior Notes with liquidity for their investment or that it will continue for the term of the applicable Senior Notes. Accordingly, purchasers of the Senior Notes may be required to bear the financial risk of investing in such Senior Notes until the maturity date of such Senior Notes.

No person is authorized to give any information or make any representation other than those contained in this confidential shelf offering memorandum in connection with an Offering and any decision to purchase Senior Notes should be based solely on the information contained herein. The Term Sheet applicable to such Offering and the investor presentation (the "Investor Presentation"), attached hereto as Exhibit 1, are incorporated by reference and included in, respectively, and form an integral part of, this confidential shelf offering memorandum. The information contained in the Investor Presentation is current only as of the date thereof. The Investor Presentation may be updated and replaced by the Issuer in connection with an Offering and such updated Investor Presentation will be attached as Exhibit 1, and will be included in, and form an integral part of, this confidential shelf offering memorandum delivered in respect of such Offering.

This confidential shelf offering memorandum, including the Investor Presentation attached hereto, and any Term Sheets, are provided on a confidential basis to prospective investors for informational use solely in connection with their consideration of the purchase of Senior Notes. Use for any other purpose is not authorized. Each Offering will be made solely on the basis of the information contained herein or incorporated by reference which has been furnished by the Issuer. No Agent makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of such information. Furthermore, no Agent has independently verified the information in this confidential shelf offering memorandum and has no responsibility for the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of any such information.

This confidential shelf offering memorandum does not contain all of the information that would normally appear in a prospectus qualified under applicable Canadian securities laws. Neither the delivery of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, at any time, nor any sales made pursuant hereto, will imply that the information contained herein is correct as of any time subsequent to the date set forth on the face page hereof and the Issuer and the Agents will not update such information except as may be required by applicable law.

Capitalized terms used and not otherwise defined in this confidential shelf offering memorandum have the meanings ascribed to them in the glossary starting on page [92] of this confidential shelf offering memorandum. CAUTION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

Some of the statements contained in this confidential shelf offering memorandum, including those relating to the Issuer's expectations, forecasts, strategic and other statements, are forward-looking information within the meaning of securities laws. Forward-looking information is contained in the summary and in the sections titled "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Fair Allocation Amount & Financing Plan", "Subordinated Debt", "■"[3] and "Risk Factors" of this confidential shelf offering memorandum and "Financing Plan / Strategy", "Financing Structure", Aggregate Financing Program", "■"[4] and "Consumer Bill Forecast with FHP" of the Investor Presentation. The forward-looking statements contained in this confidential shelf offering memorandum are presented for the purposes of assisting potential purchasers in making an investment decision regarding the Senior Notes and may not be appropriate for other purposes.

Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "may", "will", "expect", "believe", "estimate", "plan", "could", "should", "would", "outlook", "forecast", "anticipate", "foresee", "continue" or the negative of these terms or variations of them or similar terminology. Forward-looking information is based on the reasonable assumptions, estimates, analysis and opinions of management of the Issuer made in light of its experience and perception of trends, current conditions and expected developments, as well as other factors that the Issuer believes to be relevant and reasonable at the date that such statements are made. A variety of factors, many of which are beyond the Issuer's control, may cause actual results to differ materially from the expectations expressed in the forward-looking statements. These factors include, but are not limited to, the following risks:

Judicial, Legislative or Regulatory Risks:

- Future legal action might challenge or invalidate the FHPA or the Regulations and materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.
- Future legislative action to change the FHPA, the Regulations, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or the electricity market might materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.
- Future regulatory action to change the rules applicable to the operation of the electricity market might materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.
- Future judicial action could reduce the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.
- Potential difficulties in enforcing civil liabilities against the Province of Ontario may arise.

Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset:

- Clean Energy Adjustments will not be payable until May 1, 2021 and until such time the IESO will be the sole source of funds for payment on the Senior Notes.
- The Issuer's ability to enforce security granted by the IESO may be impaired or delayed.
- A holder of Senior Notes may experience material payment delays because the source of funds for payment after the Moratorium Period is limited.
- The Clean Energy Adjustment may not be billed after April 30, 2047, unless further regulations to extend that date are passed.
- Foreclosure of the Indenture Trustee's lien on the Investment Interest securing the Senior Notes might not be practical and acceleration of the Senior Notes before maturity might have little practical effect.
- The Issuer may issue multiple Series of Senior Notes secured by the Investment Interest and some decisions affecting holders of Senior Notes may require approval by resolution of the holders of all Series of Senior Notes.
- If a Series of Senior Notes or all Senior Notes are accelerated, a holder of Senior Notes might receive payment of principal sooner or later than expected.
- The Issuer may have a co-ownership interest in the Investment Asset with other Financing Entities.

[3] Note: Please complete.

[4] Note: Please complete.

- If the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts and other funds held in the Issuer Accounts results in investment losses or the investments become illiquid, a holder of Senior Notes might receive payment of principal of and interest on the Senior Notes later than expected.

Servicing, Operating and Consumer Risks

- Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of Electricity Vendors and the IESO.
- Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of OPG as Financial Services Manager and as Manager of the Issuer.
- Inaccurate consumption forecasting or unanticipated delinquencies or write-offs might reduce or delay scheduled payments on the Senior Notes.
- Changes to billing and collection practices may reduce the amount of funds available for payments on the Senior Notes.
- Limits on rights to terminate service to Specified Consumers might make it more difficult to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment.
- It might be difficult for the Issuer to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment from Specified Consumers.
- Indemnification obligations of OPG and the IESO are limited and might not be sufficient to protect the investments in the Senior Notes.
- Delinquent or partial payments of electricity bills may make principal payments on the Senior Notes occur later than expected.
- Power outages could impair payment of the Senior Notes.[5]
- Technological changes that make alternative energy sources more attractive in the future or significant population fluctuations may result in fewer Specified Consumers from whom to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment.

Insolvency-Related Risks

- If the Issuer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Indenture Trustee's ability to enforce security granted by the Issuer may be significantly impaired or delayed.
- If the IESO or any Electricity Vendor were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, collections that have been commingled may be unrecoverable and the Issuer's ability to enforce its rights against the IESO may be significantly impaired or delayed.
- If OPG were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Issuer's ability to enforce its rights against OPG may be significantly impaired or delayed and the Issuer's assets and liabilities may be substantively consolidated with those of OPG.
- If the Issuer Trustee were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the assets and liabilities of the Issuer may be substantively consolidated with the Issuer Trustee.
- If a Specified Consumer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Issuer's ability to collect Clean Energy Adjustment amounts from such Specified Consumer may be adversely affected.
- If amounts in the Issuer Accounts for any Series are invested with entities that become subject to insolvency proceedings, the Issuer's ability to make payments to holders of Senior Notes may be adversely affected.

Other Risks:

- The credit ratings are not an indication of the expected rate of payment of principal on the Senior Notes.
- If the ratings on the Senior Notes are withdrawn or revised downward, the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes may be adversely affected.
- The credit ratings of the IESO, OPG and the Province of Ontario might affect the market value of the Senior Notes.

[5] Is this relevant? Is the concern that the CEA would be spread across a relatively smaller base due to lower usage in a period?

- The absence of an established market for the Senior Notes might limit the ability to resell or refinance the Senior Notes.
- Restrictions on resale might limit the ability to resell the Senior Notes.

Please also see "Risk Factors".

The Issuer does not intend, or assume any obligation, to update any forward-looking information except as may be required by applicable law.

SUMMARY

This summary does not contain all the information prospective purchasers should consider before investing in the Senior Notes. Prospective purchasers should read this entire confidential shelf offering memorandum carefully, including the section entitled "Risk Factors". Capitalized terms used and not otherwise defined in this summary have the meanings ascribed to them in the glossary starting on page [92] of this confidential shelf offering memorandum.

Issuer:	Fair Hydro Trust, a special purpose trust governed by the laws of the Province of Ontario.
Manager:	Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG"), pursuant to the terms of the Management Agreement.
Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act:	On June 1, 2017, the Ontario Legislature passed the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "FHPA"). The FHPA was enacted to: (i) ensure that Clean Energy Costs and Clean Energy Benefits are fairly allocated among present and future Specified Consumers (a category of consumers that generally is comprised of residential consumers, small businesses and farms); (ii) recognize that Clean Energy Benefits have accrued and will accrue over time and will continue to benefit present and future electricity consumers in Ontario; and (iii) align Clean Energy Costs with Clean Energy Benefits, in order to provide fairness for Specified Consumers over time. As a result, from July 1, 2017 until April 30, 2018, electricity rates payable by Specified Consumers will in effect be the rate that would result in a representative consumer being charged an invoice amount that is 25%[6] less than the rate that would otherwise have been determined by the Ontario Energy Board (the "OEB") under its Regulated Price Plan[7] for that period. Under the FHPA, OPG is appointed as the initial financial services manager (in such capacity, the "Financial Services Manager") and is given the authority to, among other things, establish, or cause to be established, one or more financing entities (each, a "Financing Entity") to incur payment obligations (referred to as "Funding Obligations") for the purposes of the FHPA and the Regulations.[8] The Issuer is a Financing Entity[9] under the FHPA and the Regulations and the Notes are Funding Obligations being offered for the purposes of the FHPA and the Regulations. See "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Background".
Summary of the Fair Hydro Financing Program:	The implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan is intended to be financed by the Issuer through the Fair Hydro financing program. The program provides for the offering and issuance by the Issuer of Senior Notes, in any number of series (each a "Series"), in one or several offerings (each, an "Offering"). A Term Sheet will describe particulars of the terms of each Series of Senior Notes and will be incorporated by

[6] The 25% reduction includes an 8% rebate equivalent to the provincial portion of the harmonized sales tax previously granted by the Ontario government.

[7] Specified Consumers, as a class, are not a one-to-one equivalent class to the RPP consumer class.

[8] Note: The statutory definition of "funding obligation" provides that the funding obligations have the purpose of funding ownership in an investment interest. Please consider revising the definition of "funding obligation" to more closely track that in the Act.

[9] Note: Elsewhere, the disclosure refers only to the Issuer without adverting to the possibility of other future Financing Entities. To the extent that this simplification suggests in a particular context that other future Financing Entities would not be permitted or similarly treated, references to the Trust should be broadened to encompass the possibility of future Financing Entities.

	reference and form an integral part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum. Each Series of Senior Notes will be issued under the master trust indenture dated as of December 21, 2017 (as amended, supplemented, restated or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Master Trust Indenture") between the Issuer, as issuer, and BNY Trust Company of Canada, as indenture trustee (the "Indenture Trustee"), as supplemented by a supplemental indenture dated the date of the issuance of such Series between the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee (a "Supplemental Indenture" and collectively with the Master Trust Indenture, the "Indenture") authorizing that Series.
Transferor and Servicer:	The Independent Electricity System Operator (the "IESO") is a not-for-profit corporation established under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario). The IESO manages the operation and reliability of Ontario's bulk power system and administers the wholesale electricity market.[10] Each month, the IESO will determine the shortfall resulting from the rate reduction mandated by the FHPA and record the amount in a variance account. The IESO has the right, exercisable in accordance with the FHPA and the Regulations, to recover the balance recorded in the variance account from Specified Consumers (such right, the "Regulatory Asset"). However, the FHPA provides that the IESO is not permitted to exercise such right before May 1, 2021 is limited under the FHPA. The IESO has entered into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer dated as of December 21, 2017 (as amended, supplemented, restated or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement") pursuant to which the IESO may, on a monthly basis, offer to transfer a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer in accordance with the FHPA. See "Transferor and Servicer".
Investment Interest:	Upon acceptance of the transfer by the IESO of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset, the Issuer will acquire an Investment Interest in the Investment Asset, which is a current and irrevocable property right consisting of the rights specified in the FHPA, including the right and interest to impose, invoice, collect, receive and recover the Clean Energy Adjustment from Specified Consumers in accordance with the FHPA and the Regulations. See "— Clean Energy Adjustment" below and "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Regulatory Asset", "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Investment Interest" and "The Transferor and Servicer".
Clean Energy Adjustment:	The FHPA and the Regulations impose an irrevocable and non-bypassable charge referred to as the Clean Energy Adjustment that will be determined by the Financial Services Manager based on the calculations and parameters set out in the FHPA. The OEB is required to determine the rates at which Specified Consumers are to be invoiced in order to recover the Clean Energy Adjustment in respected of a specified Reference Period (which is generally a six month period, or a shorter period in certain circumstances). The rates are to be determined by reference to forecasted electricity consumption of Specified Consumers for a period and are expressed as a cent per KWh rate. See

[10] Note: Consider also referring to IESO's planning and procurement functions. They may be meaningful here to the extent they impact IESO objectives and governance generally.

"— Statutory Duties of the OEB" below.

The required Clean Energy Adjustment will be determined by the Financial Services Manager for each month in a Reference Period and consists of the sum (without duplication) of: (i) the estimated Finance Amount in respect of the Reference Period, which will include an estimate of all repayments, redemptions, funding costs, derivative payments, required deposits, Issuer expenses and taxes, and other amounts paid or payable during such Reference Period, and (ii) the True-up Amount for such Reference Period, all divided by the number of months in the applicable Reference Period.

The "True-up Amount" is required to be calculated by the Financial Services manager in accordance with the Regulations. In principle, the True-up Amount should serve to ensure that the collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment is sufficient to pay the Finance Amount when it is due, by capturing any Finance Amounts not previously received in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment during preceding Reference Periods.

The True-up Amount may also reflect historical and reasonably foreseeable differences between the estimated and actual Finance Amount; between amounts invoiced and amounts collected due to various factors, including applicable taxes, consumer defaults and delays, billing lags and write-offs; and variations in billings due to variations in electricity consumption. In determining such differences, the Financial Services Manager is required to have regard to amounts payable that were not collected and any amounts in respect of which an overpayment was made, which may include amounts resulting from a default of Specified Consumers, an Electricity Vendor or the IESO, whether in its capacity as an Electricity Vendor or its activities as agent or otherwise under the FHPA and the Regulations. The Financial Services Manager is obligated to calculate the True-up Amount in respect of each Reference Period so long as all Funding Obligations and other Finance Amounts have not been paid in full. The Financial Services Manager may also, at any time during a Reference Period, determine an interim True-up Amount if, among other things, it reasonably forecasts that the collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be insufficient to pay the estimated Finance Amount for a Reference Period.

[Commencing May 1, 2021, a charge in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be included on invoices sent to Specified Consumers, and collected and remitted to the Issuer to pay amounts owing on the Senior Notes and all other administrative and other financing expenses of the Issuer. From July 1, 2017 until April 30, 2021 (the "Moratorium Period"), no Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are permitted to be collected from Specified Consumers. During the Moratorium Period, the sole source of funds for payment on the Senior Notes, and the Issuer's other Carrying Costs, will be the amounts the IESO is obligated to pay under the Regulations during such period. See "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Clean Energy Adjustment".][11]

[11] Note: This narrative should more precisely track the FHPA. The relevant provisions are Section 25(3) [the IESO shall not be entitled to collect all or part of the balance recorded in the variance account from specified consumers before May 1, 2021] and Section 21(4) [limitation on

Non-bypassability:

The FHPA mandates that an amount in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment shown on an invoice issued to a Specified Consumer is determinative of the amount of the consumer's indebtedness resulting from the Clean Energy Adjustment, and is irrevocable on invoicing such Specified Consumer and may not be set off or bypassed. See "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Clean Energy Adjustment".

Payment of Carrying Costs during the Moratorium Period:

During the Moratorium Period and extending to July 31, 2021,[12] the IESO, which is rated A(high) by DBRS Limited ("DBRS") and Aa2 by Moody's Investors Services, Inc. ("Moody's"), is required under the Regulations to pay and remit to the Issuer any amounts charged to the IESO by the Issuer in respect of its Carrying Costs. Under the Regulations, Carrying Costs include all funding costs, such as interest on the Senior Notes, and other expenses of the Issuer, other than repayment of principal on any debt obligations of the Issuer (such as principal on the Senior Notes).[13]

Pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, on or before the fourth business day of each calendar month, the Issuer will submit a carrying costs statement to the IESO certifying the amount of Carrying Costs estimated to be incurred by the Issuer in the following month. On or before the 14th business day following receipt of the Issuer's carrying costs statement, the IESO is required to deliver the amount specified therein to the Issuer. See "The Transferor and Servicer". The IESO has a $2 billion unsecured credit facility provided by the Ontario Financing Authority, expiring ■, 20■, which is permitted to be used to pay the Issuer's Carrying Costs. The amounts paid by the IESO to fund these Carrying Costs will be recorded by the IESO in a variance account and form part of the Regulatory Asset that the IESO is expected to transfer to the Issuer in a subsequent period and, upon such transfer, will become part of the Issuer's Investment Interest pursuant to the Regulations.

As security for the performance of its obligation under the Regulations to pay the Issuer's Carrying Costs, the IESO has granted the Issuer a first-priority security interest in all of its accounts receivable, which includes the amounts receivable by the IESO from Electricity Vendors with respect to the global adjustment charge. See "The Transferor and Servicer". For a further description of the global adjustment charge, see "The Electricity Industry in Ontario — Electricity Prices".

Acceleration of Indebtedness:

A holder of Senior Notes must rely solely on the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected and any available reserve accounts for repayment of principal on the Senior Notes. Accordingly, if all or any portion of the principal amount of any indebtedness of the Issuer (including one or more Series of Senior Notes) becomes due and payable during the Moratorium Period and before its scheduled payment date, maturity date or redemption date, the source of funds for the Financial Services Manager incurring funding obligations payable through Clean Energy Adjustments from July 1, 2017 to April 30, 2021]. In particular, the suggestion that CEAs cannot be collected in any circumstance during the Moratorium Period goes beyond 21(4) and presumes that there will be no Readjustment.

[12] Note: Please clarify this disclosure for consistency with Section 9.1(1) of the General Regulation. This provision states that the IESO shall pay financing entity carrying costs in respect of the period beginning June 1, 2017 (before the Moratorium Period) and ending on July 31, 2021.

[13] Note: Consider revising to conform with Section 9.3(3) of the General Regulation. This Section provides that "carrying costs" also include derivative payments, etc.

repayment of principal may be limited.

If all or any portion of the principal amount of any indebtedness of the Issuer (including one or more Series of Senior Notes) becomes due and payable after the Moratorium Period and before its scheduled payment date, maturity date or redemption date, then the estimated Finance Amount used by the Financial Services Manager to determine the Clean Energy Adjustment for a period will be determined without regard to the fact that such amount has become due and payable, unless and only to the extent that the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment is capable of being increased based on the Fair Allocation Amount for such period. See "— Fair Allocation Amount and Financing Plan" below. However, upon such acceleration, all accelerated Senior Notes will be repaid in full before any further payments of principal are made to holders of subordinated indebtedness, including the subordinated debt held by OPG; therefore, collections of the Clean Energy Adjustment that would otherwise have been available to repay the principal amount of subordinated indebtedness in the absence of acceleration of the Senior Notes will instead be applied to repay accelerated Senior Notes. See "— Subordinated Debt" below.[14]

Statutory Duties of the OEB:

The OEB is an independent public regulatory agency established under the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998. The Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998 provides the OEB with the authority to regulate participants (e.g. OEB licensees) in Ontario's [electricity market][15], including the activities of transmitters and distributors as well as the IESO (all Electricity Vendors for the purposes of the FHPA).

Under the Regulations, the OEB is responsible for determining the rates at which Specified Consumers are to be invoiced to recover the Clean Energy Adjustment. The rates are expressed as a cent per kWh rate and are determined by the OEB by dividing (i) the aggregate Clean Energy Adjustment as determined by the Financial Services Manager in respect of the relevant period of time by (ii) the forecast of electricity consumption of Specified Consumers in respect of such period, based on forecast information provided to the OEB by the IESO. See "— Statutory and Servicing Duties of the IESO" below.

Statutory Duties of Electricity Vendors:

Electricity is distributed to almost all Specified Consumers in Ontario through a network of local distributors. See "Electricity Industry in Ontario" and the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum for more details regarding the Ontario electricity market and these local distributors.

The FHPA and the Regulations require Electricity Vendors to invoice their Specified Consumers for a charge in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, as determined by applying the rate set by the OEB, which is required to be included as a separate line item on each invoice sent to Specified Consumers. Electricity Vendors are also required to collect, as agent of [the Issuer][16], amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, deposit such amounts into a segregated account established

[14] Note: Add detailed description to correspond to this summary in the detailed portion of the OM.

[15] Note: Technically, the IESO administers (supervises) the IESO-administered markets. There is no definition for "electricity market".

[16] Note: This and similar references to the Issuer should instead refer to Financing Entities (Investment Interest owners), of which the Trust is the first, and then cross-refer to the concept of co-ownership in order to facilitate additional financings in the future.

for the purpose of receiving those amounts, and hold such amounts in trust for the benefit of [the Issuer][17] until remitted to the IESO for the benefit of [the owners of Investment Interests (initially, only the Issuer)].[18] If an Electricity Vendor does not receive payment in full of an invoice issued to a Specified Consumer, the Electricity Vendor shall allocate any payment received on a pro rata basis to the Clean Energy Adjustment and the other amounts payable under the particular invoice.[19] It is a deemed condition of their distribution license issued by the OEB that Electricity Vendors comply with the FHPA.[20]

As security for any failure of an Electricity Vendor that does not have an investment grade rating from DBRS and Moody's to remit Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected under the FHPA, the IESO is required, pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, to provide to the Issuer on or prior to the first day of the first billing period when the Clean Energy Adjustment is being invoiced to Specified Consumers, a letter of credit from a provider that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition or a performance guarantee or such other form of security that is acceptable to the Issuer and that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition. The amount of the security required from the IESO is based on a formula as set out in the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement and will equal: (i) 50% of forecasted Clean Energy Adjustment amounts that are to be collected by such non-investment grade rated Electricity Vendors and held for 45 days prior to the funds being remitted to the Issuer; or (ii) such other amount that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition. See "The Transferor and Servicer."

Management Duties of OPG:

OPG has entered into a management agreement (the "Management Agreement") with the Issuer pursuant to which the Issuer has delegated to OPG, as manager (the "Manager"), all of the powers and duties of managing the Issuer, including determining whether to incur Funding Obligations (including Offerings of Senior Notes) to acquire an Investment Interest or refinance existing Funding Obligations; negotiating and executing, on behalf of the Issuer, all agreements; maintaining accounts and banking records; preparing any offering documents to be furnished by the Issuer to prospective purchasers of Funding Obligations (including the Senior Notes); and preparing financial statements and tax filings on behalf of the Issuer. See "The Manager".

In addition to the powers and duties delegated to the Manager under the Management Agreement, OPG is also required to comply with its duties as Financial Services Manager under the FHPA and the Regulations, including preparing the Financing Plan to evaluate whether potential Funding Obligations should be incurred for the purposes of Financing Entities acquiring and financing an Investment Interest, determining the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment inclusive of the calculation of any True-up Amount, notifying the OEB of the Clean Energy Adjustment inclusive of any True-up Amount and ensuring that Funding Obligations are incurred in a manner consistent with the Financing Plan. OPG may also administer the Investment Interest on behalf of the Issuer and any other Financing Entities. Subject to OEB approval and as provided for in the FHPA and the Regulations, OPG is entitled to charge the Issuer a fee, comprised of a base fee and a variable fee, to earn a return and to recover costs and expenditures incurred by OPG on behalf of the Issuer or in relation to the establishment, management and administration of the Issuer and its Investment Interest. The priority of the Manager's entitlement to fees is subject to the payment priorities set forth in the Master Trust Indenture. See "The Manager".

Statutory and Servicing Duties of the IESO:

Following the Moratorium Period, the IESO is required, as agent of [the Issuer][21], to receive Clean Energy Adjustment amounts paid to it from Electricity Vendors, deposit such amounts promptly into a segregated account established for the purpose of receiving amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, hold such amounts in trust on behalf of [the Issuer] and remit such amounts to [the Issuer] [on a monthly basis, subject to daily remittance being required in certain limited circumstances.][22] In addition, the IESO will provide certain reporting and other servicing duties in favour of the Issuer, including providing forecast information regarding electricity consumption of Specified Consumers and providing such forecast information to the OEB and the Issuer, making commercially reasonable efforts to cause Electricity Vendors to establish segregated accounts into which Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are deposited, remitting such amounts to [the Issuer] and fulfilling certain additional reporting requirements. [Generally, all servicing duties provided by the IESO to the Issuer are provided at no cost to the Issuer.][23] However, the Issuer will reimburse the IESO for certain direct costs relating to the performance by the IESO of its duties and obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement that are otherwise not recovered or recoverable by the IESO under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario). See "The Transferor and Servicer."

Change of Law Protection Agreement:

Pursuant to the Change of Law Protection Agreement in favour of the Indenture Trustee, upon a Protection Event and delivery by the Indenture Trustee of a written payment demand, the Province of Ontario is required to make payments in respect of all "Approved Obligations" when due and payable into the Protection Account (which, provided that the Notes are Approved Obligations, includes payments of amounts that are due and payable in respect of Notes), although the amount of Province of Ontario's payment obligations in a particular period will differ depending on whether an Acceleration has occurred. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". The Issuer and Indenture Trustee must ensure that amounts deposited into the Protection Account are applied to pay each Specified Creditor to whom an amount is due and payable under an Approved Obligation.

Generally, an "Approved Obligation" under the Change of Law Protection Agreement includes all obligations of the Issuer (except for amounts required to be deposited into any capital account or finance reserve account, or any obligation for the Issuer to pay itself any remaining amounts in the Collection Account pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture), including obligations of the Issuer under the Notes, subject to the satisfaction of certain adherence conditions for those obligations that constitute "Certified Primary Obligations", as defined in the Change of Law Protection Agreement. Subject to certain limited exceptions for refinancings, a "Certified Primary Obligation" includes all Notes, as well as certain other obligations of the Issuer under derivative agreements or under contracts with terms of greater than three years that are not terminable by the Issuer on less than three years' notice under which the Manager, acting reasonably, expects aggregate payments by the Issuer during the term of the contract in an amount in excess of $5,000,000.

Protection Event:

Each of the following constitutes a "Protection Event" for purposes of the Change of Law Protection Agreement:

(i) the Ontario legislature repeals, and does not replace on an equivalent basis, or amends, the FHPA or any portion thereof, as in effect on the date hereof;

(ii) the Ontario legislature enacts or amends any other statute;

(iii) the Lieutenant Governor in Council repeals, and does not replace on an equivalent basis, the regulations made under the FHPA or any portion thereof, as in effect on the date hereof;

(iv) the Lieutenant Governor in Council, a minister of the Crown, an official of the government or a board or commission all the members of which are appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council makes or amends any "regulation" (as defined in Part III of the Legislation Act, 2006) as in effect on the date hereof; or

in each case, that (X) adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable, in each case determined after taking into account and having regard to (i) any funds available at such time to apply to such Approved Obligations, including in any finance reserve account, capital account or collateral posting account applicable under a derivative agreement, (ii) the availability of any credit enhancement agreement to which the Issuer is a party and (iii) any reasonably expected potential effect of a True-up Amount in the Reference Period immediately following the occurrence of an event described in any of clauses (i) to (v) above, or (Y) adversely affects the enforceability of, or adversely changes, the terms and conditions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement or of any of the agreements

under which Approved Obligations arise; or

(b) a court of competent jurisdiction determines that all or a portion of the FHPA or the Regulations, as in effect on the date hereof, is ultra vires or invalid in a way that adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable and that has the effect of the Issuer not in fact having sufficient funds to pay such Approved Obligations that have become due and payable, in each case determined after taking into account and having regard to (i) any funds available at such time to apply to such Approved Obligations, including in any finance reserve account, capital account or collateral posting account applicable under a derivative agreement, (ii) the availability of any credit enhancement agreement to which the Issuer is a party and (iii) any reasonably expected potential effect of a True-up Amount in the Reference Period immediately following the occurrence of an event described in this paragraph (b).

The occurrence of a Protection Event in and of itself will not result in the acceleration of the Senior Notes.

The Province of Ontario's obligation to make payments under the Change of Law Protection Agreement upon a Protection Event and subsequent delivery of a written payment demand by the Indenture Trustee is referred to as the "Limited Guarantee".

Upon paying amounts when due and payable in respect of Approved Obligations, including the Senior Notes, into the Protection Account, the Province of Ontario will be subrogated and entitled to all of the rights and interests of applicable Specified Creditors (including Noteholders) under and in respect of the Approved Obligations to the extent of the amounts paid. The Province of Ontario will have the right to be paid from the Issuer the amounts that the Province of Ontario paid in respect of the Approved Obligations, such amounts being payable in the same order of priority and with the same entitlements accruing to the Province of Ontario as applied to the amounts in respect of the Approved Obligations previously owing to Specified Creditors that the Province of Ontario has paid. The Province of Ontario will also be entitled to the benefit of the Collateral and proceeds therefrom.

Under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the right to deliver a written payment demand on occurrence of a Protection Event to enforce the Limited Guarantee is the only remedy available to the Indenture Trustee (and to Specified Creditors, to the extent they are permitted to exercise any rights, interests or elections under and in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture). Specified Creditors are not permitted to exercise any rights, interests, or elections under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, other than in the manner and to the extent effected and exercised under, in accordance with and subject to the limitations set forth in the Master Trust Indenture as at December 21, 2017.

Approved Obligations & Adherence Conditions:

Under the Management Agreement, the Manager is required to ensure that all obligations of the Issuer are and remain Approved Obligations under the Change of Law Protection Agreement.

The Limited Guarantee shall apply to all Certified Primary Obligations that meet the following adherence conditions:

(a) the Certified Primary Obligation when incurred is an Obligation Secured under the Master Trust Indenture;

(b) OPG, as Financial Services Manager, delivers a certificate to the Indenture Trustee on or before the incurrence of such obligation certifying that it has complied with all of its obligations to the Province of Ontario and internal requirements and processes in connection with the adherence of the Limited Guarantee to the Certified Primary Obligation; and

(c) the Province of Ontario has not provided a Suspension Notice to the Indenture Trustee, OPG and the Issuer.

All Senior Notes shall constitute Obligations Secured under the Master Trust Indenture and therefore condition (a) above will be satisfied for all Offerings of Senior Notes. It will be a condition to any Offering of Senior Notes that OPG deliver the adherence certificate required pursuant to (b) above or that the Province of Ontario designates in writing that the Senior Notes are Approved Obligations. The Change of Law Protection Agreement provides that delivery of an adherence certificate shall be determinative of satisfaction of this adherence condition, notwithstanding that such certificate may include inaccuracies, be incomplete or otherwise be defective or deficient, and such certificate may be relied upon as conclusive evidence of same.

Suspension Notice & Post-Suspension Refinancing

The Change of Law Protection Agreement will remain in full force and effect until the indefeasible payment, observance and performance in full of the Approved Obligations.

However, in the following limited circumstances, the Province of Ontario may deliver a Suspension Notice under the Change of Law Protection Agreement: (i) if there has been an acceleration of Funding Obligations in accordance with the provisions of the Master Trust Indenture or an event of default, early amortization event, termination event or similar event or circumstance (including any event that with the passage of time or the giving of notice would become such an event) of or in respect of the obligations of any party under any Program Agreement; (ii) if there has been an uncured breach of covenant, uncured default in performance, or uncured representation, warranty or certification that proves to be incorrect in any material respect on the date made, in each case of OPG (or its officers, in the case of a certification) to the Province of Ontario in connection with its obligations to the Province of Ontario pursuant to internal requirements and processes in connection with the provision or adherence of the Limited Guarantee to or in respect of any Certified Primary Obligations; or (iii) if the Financial Services Manager is no longer the Manager or actions have been taken by or on behalf of the Indenture Trustee to remove the Financial Services Manager as the Manager.

Upon delivery of a Suspension Notice, the Limited Guarantee shall not apply in respect of obligations incurred by the Issuer (excluding certain refinancings of Approved Obligations as described below) and certain material amendments of outstanding obligations of the Issuer.

Notwithstanding delivery of a Suspension Notice, the Limited Guarantee shall continue to apply to: (i) any Approved Obligations that were incurred prior to the suspension and (ii) any Funding Obligations incurred by the Issuer following a suspension that satisfy the terms and conditions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement, provided that the proceeds of such incurrence are to be used for the purpose of repaying one or more series of Approved Obligations. Accordingly, subject to compliance with the Change of Law Protection Agreement, any Senior Notes or other Funding Obligations that may be issued following a suspension to refinance Senior Notes that were Approved Obligations issued prior to a suspension will continue to have the benefit of the Limited Guarantee.

See "Change of Law Protection Agreement".

Fair Allocation Amount & Financing Plan:

The Fair Allocation Amount is an amount calculated under the FHPA and the Regulations by the Minister of Energy in respect of each Reference Period that, among other things, allocates the estimated value of certain costs allocated to Specified Consumers in respect of the Ontario government's clean energy initiatives ("Clean Energy Costs")[24] in proportion to the relative attribution of the value of benefits determined to be derived by or accruing to Specified Consumers as a result of such clean energy initiatives ("Clean Energy Benefits") among Specified Consumers. See "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan".[25]

The Financial Services Manager is required to prepare a Financing Plan under the FHPA to evaluate whether potential Funding Obligations should be incurred by the Issuer or other Financing Entities for the purposes of acquiring an Investment Interest or for the purposes of a Refinancing. In preparing the Financing Plan, the Financial Services Manager must have regard to certain principles, including that Funding Obligations should be incurred such that, along with any Funding Obligations already incurred, the estimated Finance Amount that would, subject to any Refinancing, become due and payable during a Reference Period will reasonably align with the Fair Allocation Amount determined in respect of such Reference Period as of the date the Funding Obligations were incurred, after reducing the Fair Allocation Amount by the Readjustment Amount, if any, in respect of the Reference Period.

In other words, the Financing Plan should contemplate the issuance of Funding Obligations from time to time, with terms that would result in Clean Energy Adjustments being payable by Specified Consumers that align with the purposes of the FHPA [, namely, to ensure that present and future Specified Consumers are bearing their share of the costs of providing Clean Energy Benefits].[26] Notwithstanding the above, the FHPA provides that each Funding Obligation is deemed to be consistent with the Financing Plan and to provide for the reasonable alignment of the estimated Finance Amount with the Fair Allocation Amount.

[24] Note: Consider that "Clean Energy Costs" is more thoroughly defined in the Glossary. Through the OM, reconsider instances where there are two different definitions.

[25] Note: The description of the fair allocation amount should more closely align to Section 20(1) of the FHPA.

[26] Note: The description should more closely align with the stated purposes of the FHPA in Section 3 of the Act.

Currently, the Clean Energy Costs have been determined to exceed the Clean Energy Benefits, with the result that the Fair Allocation Amount is negative. This [means that the Minister of Energy has determined that current Specified Consumers have borne more than their fair share of Clean Energy Costs (with the consequent rate reduction for current Specified Consumers). The Fair Allocation Amount is expected to be negative until at least May 2024.][27] Accordingly, the Financing Plan does not currently contemplate the issuance of any Senior Notes maturing prior to May 2024. The Financial Services Manager may, however, determine to refinance Senior Notes maturing after May 2024 through the issuance of another Series of Senior Notes. If Senior Notes cannot be refinanced on or before the applicable Principal Payment Default Date, holders of such Senior Notes will have the ability to accelerate their Senior Notes resulting in Clean Energy Adjustments that would otherwise be used to pay the principal amount on subordinated indebtedness to holders of subordinated Notes being used to pay holders of accelerated Senior Notes.

The Financing Plan allows for the issuance of a variety of short and long term debt. See the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum for more details regarding the Financing Plan and the Fair Allocation Amount.

Subordinated Debt:

Concurrent with every issuance of senior debt by the Issuer, including any Offering of Senior Notes, it is expected that OPG will subscribe for subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt of the Issuer in an amount equal to no more than 49% of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations, approximately 44% of which is expected to be funded through equity investments in OPG by the Province of Ontario with the remaining 5% being funded from OPG's available funds, including all or a portion of the proceeds of any offerings by OPG of medium term notes.

Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer will be required at all times to ensure that: (i) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt be not less than 35% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations; and (ii) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all junior subordinated debt be not less than 10% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations.

Use of Proceeds:

The proceeds from each Offering may be used to (i) acquire an Investment Interest from the IESO pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, (ii) refinance indebtedness of the Issuer (including other Series of Senior Notes), (iii) pay Offering and related costs of the Issuer and (iv) fund specific reserve accounts as required.

The Term Sheet for each Offering of Senior Notes will identify the amount of proceeds that will be used for such specified purposes.

Interest Rate:	Fixed, floating or otherwise, as determined by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Interest Payment Dates:	As determined from time to time by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Principal Accumulation Date(s) and Principal Accumulation Amount(s):	As determined from time to time by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Principal Payment Date(s) and Principal Payment Amount(s):	As determined from time to time by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Principal Payment Default Date:	As determined from time to time by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Ranking:	Subject to the applicable payment waterfalls set out in the Master Trust Indenture, the Senior Notes will be direct, secured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, and will at all times rank equally and proportionately with each other and all other senior indebtedness issued by the Issuer from time to time pursuant to the Indenture, without discrimination or preference. See "Capital Markets Platform — Subordination Provisions", "Capital Markets Platform — Acceleration and Remedies — Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration".
Security:	All indebtedness and other obligations of the Issuer, including the Senior Notes, will be secured by a first ranking charge against all property and assets of the Issuer, including each Issuer Account (and all funds and property credited thereto), all rights and benefits, and powers of the Issuer under the FHPA and all rights, benefits and power under all Program Agreements, including under the Limited Guarantee. Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer is required to maintain certain reserves: the IESO Cash Reserve Deposit Amount (an amount equal to the aggregate of (i) 0.50% of the aggregate amount of all outstanding senior, subordinated and junior subordinated funding obligations determined as of April 15, 2021, and (ii) an amount estimated as the amount of Carrying Costs payable during May, June and July 2021, provided such amount in (ii) satisfies the Rating Agency Condition) will be deposited by the IESO by April 30, 2021. There is also a Program Cash Reserve Account which will begin to be funded from Clean Energy Adjustments following the Moratorium Period until it reaches the Program Cash Reserve Required Amount (on each Payment Date on and after May 15, 2021, an amount equal to 0.50% of the aggregate amount of all outstanding senior, subordinated and junior subordinated funding obligations determined as of such date, or such lesser amount that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition). Funds in the IESO Cash Reserve Account will be applied to pay Carrying Costs after April 2021 to the extent that funds can be so applied such that the aggregate amount of funds in the IESO Cash Reserve Account and Program Cash Reserve Account is maintained at the Program Cash Reserve Required Amount. In connection with the incurrence of any Series of Notes, the Issuer may

(i) establish a Series Account for purposes of accumulating funds used to make principal payments or for purposes of reserving funds to pay finance charges, and/or (ii) enter into a credit enhancement agreement or liquidity agreement. Whether a Series of Senior Notes has the benefit of a Series Account or any credit enhancement agreement or liquidity agreement will be determined from time to time by the Issuer and set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.

See "Capital Markets Platform — Security".

Priority of Payments:

Prior to an Event of Default and acceleration of the Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations), amounts available for disbursement will generally be applied in the following order of priority:

- taxes;
- trustee fees, expenses and reimbursement amounts (up to a specified cap);
- payment of or accumulations in respect of interest for senior obligations, pari passu with payments under derivative agreements (other than termination payments);
- payment of or accumulations in respect of interest for subordinated obligations;
- payments of or accumulations in respect of interest for junior subordinated obligations;
- payment of or accumulations in respect of principal for warehouse obligations (see "Warehouse Facilities");
- accumulations in respect of principal for senior obligations (other than warehouse obligations), pari passu with termination payments under derivative agreements (other than as provided below);
- fees and other amounts (other than principal and interest) on senior obligations;
- the Manager's fees, expenses and reimbursement amounts;
- payment of or accumulations in respect of principal for subordinated obligations;
- fees and other amounts (other than principal and interest) on subordinated obligations;
- payment of or accumulations in respect of principal for junior subordinated obligations;
- replenishment of Program Cash Reserve Account;
- replenishment of Series Accounts (other than accounts established for subordinated obligations or junior subordinated obligations);
- replenishment of Series Accounts established for subordinated obligations;
- fees and other amounts (other than principal and interest) on junior subordinated obligations;
- replenishment of Series Accounts established for junior subordinated obligations;
- termination payments under derivative agreements where the counterparty is the defaulting party or sole affected party;
- beneficiaries of the Issuer;
- indemnity amounts owing to the Manager; and

- all other obligations not specifically dealt with above.

After an Event of Default and acceleration of the Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations), amounts available to the Issuer or otherwise held by the Indenture Trustee will generally be applied in the following order of priority:

- taxes;
- trustee fees, expenses and reimbursement amounts;
- interest, fees and other amounts (other than principal) on senior obligations and payments under derivative agreements (other than termination payments), pari passu, then subordinated obligations (other than principal) and then junior subordinated obligations (other than principal);
- principal for warehouse obligations;
- pari passu, principal on senior obligations (other than warehouse obligations) and termination payments under derivative agreements (other than where the counterparty is the defaulting party or sole affected party);
- the Manager's fees, expenses and reimbursement amounts;
- principal for subordinated obligations and then junior subordinated obligations; and
- all other obligations not specifically dealt with above.

Notwithstanding the above, amounts held in a Series Account will be applied in accordance with the relevant Funding Obligation Agreement and amounts held in the Protection Account will be applied in accordance with the specific written payment statement and would not otherwise modify the provisions of the applicable payment waterfalls set out in the Master Trust Indenture.

See "Capital Markets Platform — Payment Waterfall Prior to Acceleration" and "Capital Markets Platform — Acceleration and Remedies — Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration".

Currency: Senior Notes may be denominated in any currency. The currency for a particular Series of Senior Notes will be set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.

Minimum Subscription: Minimum principal amount of 100,000 units of the applicable currency and integral multiple of 1,000 of the applicable currency. The minimum subscription and denomination of the Senior Notes may be varied as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.

Purchase for Cancellation: The Issuer may, at any time, purchase at any price all or any of the Senior Notes in the market or by invitation for tenders or by private contract. Any Senior Notes so purchased shall be cancelled.

Distribution Method: The Senior Notes may be offered and sold by the Issuer on a private placement basis in Canada to "accredited investors" (as such term is defined in NI 45-106 and, in the case of a purchaser resident in Ontario, section 73.3(1) of the Securities Act (Ontario)) who purchase the Senior Notes as principal and that are not individuals unless those individuals are also "permitted clients" (as such term is defined in NI 31-103). By purchasing Senior Notes and accepting a purchase confirmation in respect thereof, a purchaser will be agreeing with and representing to the Issuer and any Agent participating in the trade that the purchaser is an accredited investor purchasing as principal along with certain other matters. See "Representations and Agreements of Purchasers".

Book-Entry Form:	The Senior Notes will be delivered and recorded in book-entry form only through CDS or another depository selected by the Issuer in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture. Each Series of Senior Notes will be evidenced by a global note held by such depository, registered in its name or the name of its nominee, on behalf of all holders of such Series of Senior Notes. Subject to limited exceptions, no purchasers of Senior Notes will be entitled to a certificate or other instrument from the Issuer or CDS evidencing that purchaser's ownership thereof, and no holder of a Senior Note will be shown on the records maintained by CDS except through book-entry accounts of a participant of CDS acting on behalf of owners. See "Depository Services".

THE ELECTRICITY INDUSTRY IN ONTARIO

General Overview

The Ontario electricity industry is principally comprised of three components:

- Generation: the production of electricity from various forms of energy, such as wind, solar, hydropower, natural gas and nuclear;
- Transmission: the transfer of electricity across high-voltage power lines from generating facilities to local areas; and
- Distribution: the delivery of electricity within local areas to homes and businesses using lower voltage power lines.

The structure of Ontario's electricity industry underwent significant changes in the late 1990s and early 2000s. Prior to April 1, 1999, Ontario Hydro, a Crown corporation, supplied most of Ontario's electricity generation and transmission needs. Consistent with initiatives taken in other electricity markets in North America at the time, the electricity industry was restructured in order to encourage greater competition. Ontario's competitive electricity market was opened by the IESO on May 1, 2002 and the market is used to administer the purchase and sale of wholesale electricity in Ontario.

Since the opening of the competitive market, Ontario's power supply mix has experienced significant change. As a result of provincial government policy, coal-fired generation has been eliminated and a significant amount of new capacity has been added as a result of new natural gas powered capacity, new wind and solar capacity and additional baseload nuclear generation capacity. These changes have resulted in significantly increased costs of electricity to consumers in Ontario.

While electricity supply in Ontario has increased, the province's electricity demand as reported by the IESO has fallen over the last decade, largely due to changes in economic conditions and conservation measures. Moreover, the addition of small scale solar generation embedded in the distribution system has reduced the level of demand that is supplied by transmission-connected generation. Reducing electricity demand by encouraging conservation and demand management has been a key part of the Government of Ontario's plan to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from the province's electricity sector. Shorter-term fluctuations in electricity demand are impacted by variations in seasonal weather conditions.

Real-time energy supply needs are met through the wholesale electricity market administered by the IESO. Generators offer their generation into this real-time energy market, or "spot market", to be dispatched by the IESO. The IESO receives hourly offers from electricity generators and importers to provide energy, along with bids to withdraw energy from a few flexible loads and exporters, and then schedules the lowest-cost offers and bids needed to meet demand. Virtually all generators in Ontario also have bilateral contracts with the IESO that provide for payments in addition to the market price of electricity that is paid to generators.

Key Industry Participants

Ontario Power Generation Inc.

OPG is a corporation formed under the Business Corporation Act (Ontario), whose sole shareholder is the Province of Ontario. In 1999, when Ontario Hydro was split up in anticipation of deregulation, OPG was formed to hold all of the generation assets. OPG has divested itself of certain of those assets, but remains the largest generator in Ontario.

OPG is Ontario's largest clean energy generator. As at the date hereof, OPG operated two nuclear generating stations, 66 hydroelectric generating stations, three thermal generating stations, and one wind power turbine. OPG's mission is to provide low cost power in a safe, clean, reliable and sustainable manner for the benefit of its customers and its sole shareholder, the Province of Ontario. OPG's electricity generation accounts for almost half of the total energy generated and injected into Ontario's electricity transmission system, as reported by the IESO. OPG is one of the most experienced and largest generating companies in Canada with a broad set of relationships and capabilities. OPG is also experienced in successful complex financing arrangements of large capital projects, including the recently completed Lower Mattagami project.

Additional information about OPG is provided in the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum and is available at www.opg.com.

The IESO

The IESO is a non-share capital corporation created under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario). It was created as an amalgamation of two predecessor entities, one of which was also called the IESO ("Predecessor IESO") and the other of which was called the Ontario Power Authority ("OPA"). Predecessor IESO was responsible for operating the real-time electricity markets in Ontario, as well as administering the market rules. The OPA was the counterparty that entered into bilateral power or capacity purchase contracts with generators. These two entities were merged statutorily on January 1, 2015 into the IESO, which now carries out all of these functions. As a non-share capital corporation, the IESO does not have any shareholders or owners, but it is governed by an independent Board of Directors whose chair and directors are appointed by the Minister of Energy.

Additional information about the IESO is provided in the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum and is available at www.ieso.ca.

The Ontario Energy Board

The OEB is a non-share capital corporation created under the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998. The OEB is an independent and impartial public regulatory agency. The Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998 provides the OEB with the authority to license and regulate the participants in Ontario's electricity market, including the activities of the IESO, transmitters and distributors which are also Electricity Vendors for the purposes of the FHPA.

The OEB has the following objectives in relation to the electricity industry:

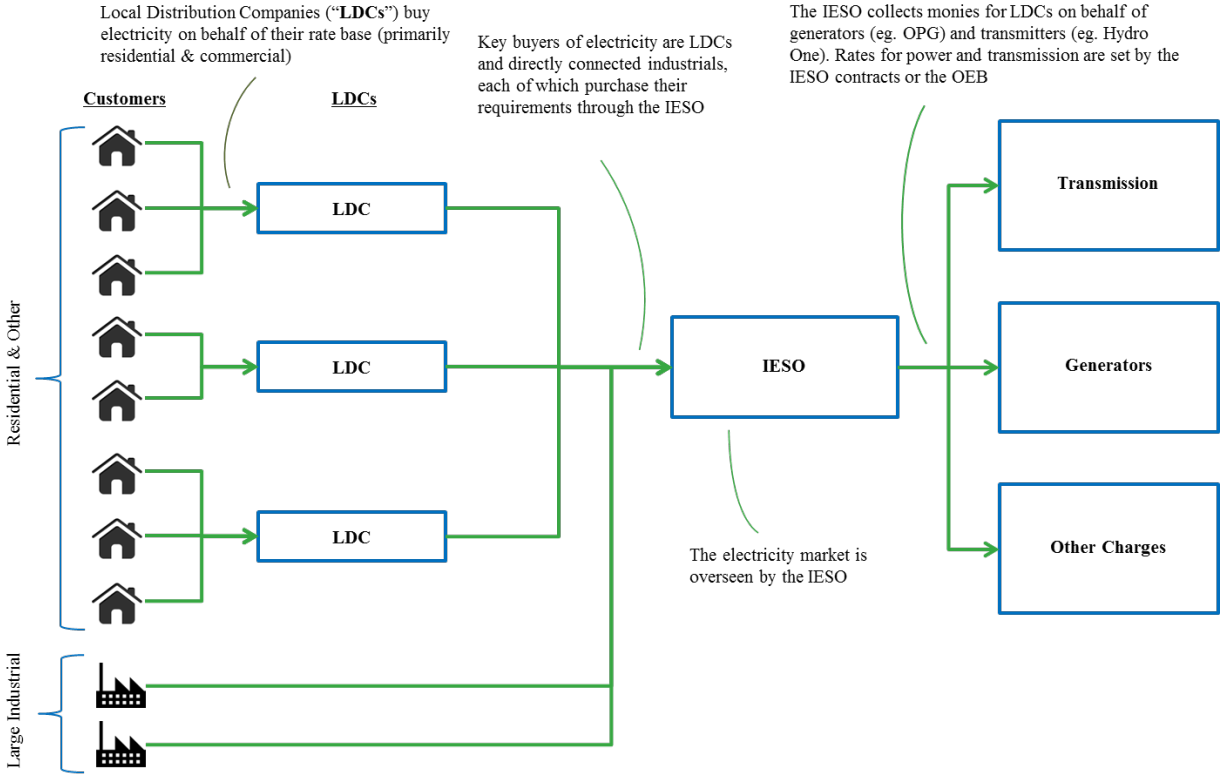
(a) to protect the interests of consumers with respect to prices and the adequacy, reliability and quality of electricity service;

(b) to promote the education of consumers;

(c) to promote economic efficiency and cost effectiveness in the generation, transmission, distribution, sale and demand management of electricity and to facilitate the maintenance of a financially viable electricity industry;

(d) to promote electricity conservation and demand management in a manner consistent with the policies of the Province of Ontario, including having regard to the consumer's economic circumstances;

(e) to facilitate the implementation of a smart grid in Ontario; and



(f) to promote the use and generation of electricity from renewable energy sources in a manner consistent with the policies of the Ontario government, including the timely expansion or reinforcement of transmission systems and distribution systems to accommodate the connection of renewable energy generation facilities.

The OEB is responsible for, among other things, approving transmission and distribution rates in Ontario, as well as payment amounts for OPG's nuclear and hydroelectric generation. It also approves the construction, expansion, or reinforcement of transmission lines greater than two kilometres in length, as well as mergers, acquisitions, amalgamations and divestitures involving distributors, transmitters and other entities which it licenses.

The activities of transmitters and distributors are subject to the conditions of their transmission and distribution licenses, as applicable, which require compliance with a number of industry codes issued by the OEB, as well as with the market rules that are administered by the IESO. These codes and other requirements prescribe minimum standards of conduct and service for licensed participants in the electricity market.

Electricity Vendors

As part of the restructuring of Ontario's electricity industry, the province's municipally-owned electricity distributors were reorganized into separate business corporations. These distributors are typically referred to in Ontario as local distribution companies, or "LDCs". An LDC is responsible for distributing electricity to customers in its OEB-licensed service territory, and in some cases to other distributors. A service territory may cover large portions or all of a particular municipality, or an otherwise-defined geographic area. Distribution customers include residential, commercial and industrial end-users, such as governments, schools and hospitals. At multi-unit buildings within an LDC's service territory, there may be a unit sub-metering service provider that provides metering services for each individual unit. These sub-metering service providers are also licensed by the OEB. The following diagram depicts a simplified flow of funds between the key industry participants:

See the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum for more details regarding LDCs.

Electricity Prices

There are two main components that make up the commodity cost of electricity in Ontario, the hourly Ontario energy price ("HOEP") and the global adjustment charge.

- The HOEP is set by the IESO on an hourly basis based on bids and offers in the real-time energy market that is administered by the IESO.

- The global adjustment charge is also paid by loads. It is established monthly by the IESO in accordance with regulations and is used to collect funds used by the IESO to pay certain "out of market" costs that are not compensated by the HOEP, including the cost of energy supply contracts with generators and payments made to certain generators, including OPG, that are entitled to a regulated rate of return based on OEB-established payment amounts. For all loads with a peak demand under 500 kW (in other words, all Specified Consumers),[28] the global adjustment charge is based on electricity usage on a per unit basis.

Prior to the FHPA being passed, the amount collected by the IESO on account of the HOEP and global adjustment charge was approximately equal to the IESO's liabilities, subject to certain periodic true-ups and adjustments to keep the IESO whole.

At the request of the Minister of Energy in 2004, and in accordance with amendments to legislation, the OEB created the "Regulated Price Plan" or "RPP", which establishes time-of-use and tiered prices for residential, farm and small commercial customers. Prior to the introduction of the FHPA, the RPP prices were reviewed and changed every six months based on an updated forecast and any accumulated differences between the amounts collected from RPP consumers and the amount paid to generators in the previous period. RPP prices are now established in accordance with the FHPA. Most Specified Consumers are billed for electricity based on the Regulated Price Plan, although some Specified Consumers may be invoiced the HOEP and the global adjustment charge by their LDC for electricity they have consumed. The IESO has also stated that there is one Specified Consumer connected directly to the transmission system and settled by the IESO, not an LDC.

While most residential and small commercial consumers in Ontario choose to purchase their electricity under the RPP, consumers in Ontario may instead choose to buy their electricity from a licensed retailer pursuant to a retail contract that provides a fixed rate for electricity over a specified period. These customers are also required to pay the global adjustment charge in addition to the rate under their retail contract.

In addition to the HOEP and global adjustment charges, or RPP, as the case may be, electricity consumers pay a number of other uplifts and charges, such as transmission and distribution tariffs.

ONTARIO'S FAIR HYDRO PLAN

Background

On June 1, 2017, the Ontario Legislature passed the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017[29] (the "FHPA")[, legislation that reallocates certain electricity costs over time and provides immediate rate relief to consumers][30]. From July 1, 2017 until April 30, 2018, electricity rates payable by Specified Consumers (a category of consumers that generally is comprised of residential consumers, small businesses and farms) will in effect be the rate that would result in a representative consumer being charged an invoice amount that is 25%[31] less than the rate that would otherwise have been determined by the OEB for that period (the "Fair Adjustment").

Under the FHPA, a "Specified Consumer" is:

(a) a person who has an account with an Electricity Vendor for the supply of electricity in the Province of Ontario and meets any one of the following criteria:

(i) the person has a demand for electricity of 50 kilowatts or less, or such other amount as may be prescribed by the Regulations;

[28] Note: Please confirm.

[29] Note: The FHPA was Schedule 1 to omnibus legislation entitled the Fair Hydro Act, 2017. Further, already defined as the FHPA above.

[30] Note: This narrative should be removed, or if necessary, the description of the FHPA should track the purposes of the Act as set out in Section 3 to the Act.

[31] The 25% reduction includes an 8% rebate equivalent to the provincial portion of the harmonized sales tax previously granted by the Ontario government.

(ii) the person annually uses not more than 250,000 kilowatt hours of electricity, or such other amount as may be prescribed by the Regulations;

(iii) the person carries on a business that is a farming business for the purposes of the Farm Registration and Farm Organizations Funding Act, 1993 and either holds a valid registration number assigned under that Act or has had the obligation to file a farming business registration form waived pursuant to an order made under subsection 22(6) of that Act;

(iv) the person's account with the Electricity Vendor relates to

(A) a dwelling;

(B) a property within the meaning of the Condominium Act, 1998;

(C) a residential complex within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Residential Tenancies Act, 2006, without regard to section 5 of that Act; or

(D) a property that includes one or more housing units and that is owned or leased by a co-operative within the meaning of the Co-operative Corporations Act; or

(v) the person satisfies such criteria as may be prescribed by the Regulations; or

(b) such other person as may be prescribed by the Regulations.

Electricity bills for Specified Consumers for the period between May 1, 2018 and April 30, 2019 are to increase by the rate of inflation (or remain unchanged in the event inflation is negative). Permitted increases after April 30, 2019 will be determined by the Ontario government through additional regulations, though the Ontario government has indicated that rate increases will be held to the rate of inflation until 2021.

Under the FHPA, OPG is appointed as the initial Financial Services Manager and given the authority to, among other things, establish, or cause to be established, one or more financing entities (each, a "Financing Entity") to incur payment obligations (such obligations, "Funding Obligations") to fund the acquisition of an Investment Interest. The Issuer is a Financing Entity under the FHPA and the Senior Notes are Funding Obligations under the FHPA.

Regulatory Asset

Under the FHPA, each month the IESO determines the shortfall that results from the Fair Adjustment as compared to what the IESO would have been entitled to receive without the Fair Adjustment and records this amount, together with the costs of financing the shortfall, in a variance account.[32] The IESO has the right, exercisable in accordance with the FHPA and the Regulations, to recover the balance recorded in the variance account from Specified Consumers (such right, the "Regulatory Asset"). However, in accordance with the FHPA, the IESO is not entitled to collect all or part of the balance recorded in the variance account (which is the basis of the Regulatory Asset) from specified consumers before May 1, 2021. The IESO may, in accordance with the FHPA, transfer a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset to a Financing Entity for a cash purchase price equal to the amount recorded in the variance account in respect of such specified portion of the Regulatory Asset. Upon receipt by the IESO of payment by the Financing Entity, the IESO retains no further right, title or interest in the corresponding Investment Interest.

[32] Note: Please consider disclosure of further details as to what is recorded in the variance account. For instance, paragraph 3 of Section 15 in the General Regulation states that amounts incurred by the IESO on or after May 1, 2017 but before the FHPA came into force may be recorded in the IESO deferral.

Investment Interest

By acquiring an Investment Interest, the Financing Entity is financing a portion of the shortfall that results from the Fair Adjustment and, as an owner of the Investment Interest, will be entitled to recover its "Finance Amount" (the costs of such financing). While a Financing Entity may choose to acquire an Investment Interest from the IESO, it is under no obligation to do so.

If the IESO and a Financing Entity agree to the transfer of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset from the IESO, such transfer results in the creation of a current and irrevocable property right that is immediately vested in the Financing Entity, free and clear of any adverse claim (such right, the "Investment Asset", and an ownership interest therein, an "Investment Interest"). The Investment Asset consists, collectively, of the following rights and interests of Investment Interest owners (among other things):[33]

(a) the right and interest to impose, invoice, collect, receive and recover the Clean Energy Adjustment from Specified Consumers, including the right to determine the Clean Energy Adjustment in accordance with the FHPA;

(b) the right to receive, collect and recover the Clean Energy Adjustment that is imposed, invoiced and recoverable under the FHPA, including any amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment that are held by Electricity Vendors or the IESO;

(c) the right to enforce the duties and obligations under the FHPA of each Electricity Vendor to impose, attribute, charge and invoice for the Clean Energy Adjustment;

(d) the right to enforce the duties and obligations under the FHPA of each Electricity Vendor and the IESO to collect, receive and remit amounts received by it in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, including all collections and the proceeds of any enforcement action undertaken by any Electricity Vendor to recover payment of the Clean Energy Adjustment;

(e) all rights of any kind related to any of the other property rights or interests that comprise the Investment Interest, including any rights to receive a payment obligation incurred by the IESO as part of the transfer of the Regulatory Asset (such payment obligations incurred by the IESO being "Funding Rebates"); and

(f) all revenue, collections, claims, payments, money and proceeds of or derived from the rights described in paragraphs (a) to (e), regardless of whether it is invoiced, collected and maintained together with or commingled with other revenue, collections, claims, payments, money and proceeds.

Clean Energy Adjustment

The "Clean Energy Adjustment" is the amount calculated in accordance with the FHPA and payable by Specified Consumers [to cover the cost of financing the shortfall that results from the Fair Adjustment].[34] The Financial Services Manager will determine the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment payable by Specified Consumers for each month of a Reference Period. The Clean Energy Adjustment is based on an estimate of the amount payable by a Financing Entity in a Reference Period in respect of the Finance Amount and the True-up Amount (each as described below).

The "Finance Amount" in respect of the Issuer for a period of time is an amount determined by the Financial Services Manager as follows:

[33] Note: Please consider disclosing in this section that the Investment Asset is a collective right of the Investment Interest owners. While this is explained in a risk factor ("The Issuer may have a co-ownership interest in the Investment Asset with other Financing Entities), additional explanation/ disclosure may be warranted here.

[34] Note: Consider that the statutory definition of "Clean Energy Adjustment" states that it is "the amount determined under section 15 [of the FHPA] and payable by specified consumers". The FHPA does not expressly state the purpose of the Clean Energy Adjustment.

(a) after eliminating any duplication in the following amounts, calculating the sum of the following amounts:

(i) amounts paid or payable during the period in respect of the payment by or on behalf of the Issuer or the provision by or on behalf of the Issuer for the payment of all or a portion of the principal amount advanced to the Issuer under a Funding Obligation;

(ii) interest, commitment fees or other similar costs payable by or on behalf of the Issuer in respect of Funding Obligations that are paid or payable during the period;

(iii) amounts payable by or on behalf of the Issuer to redeem, prepay or repurchase Funding Obligations incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer, including any premium, make-whole or other amount payable to give effect to the prepayment, redemption or repurchase, that are paid or payable during the period;

(iv) payments required to be made in respect of any derivative agreements during the period, including ordinary course payments, payments on termination and payments made in connection with margining or collateral arrangements;

(v) amounts deposited, as required under the governing documents of Funding Obligations, into capital accounts or finance reserve accounts during the Reference Period;

(vi) Issuer expenses, including fees (including fees charged by the Financial Services Manager), charges, costs, indemnities, reimbursements and other amounts incurred or committed to by or on behalf of the Issuer as a result of an activity authorized or permitted under the FHPA, and any taxes on such amounts, in each case that are paid or payable during the period;

(vii) taxes paid or payable by or on behalf of the Issuer, incurred directly or indirectly by the Issuer, or for which the Issuer is otherwise liable as a result of any activity, undertaking, transaction or event authorized or permitted under the FHPA that payable during the period; and

(viii) amounts paid or payable by or on behalf of the Issuer during the period to any guarantor or surety that made a payment of an amount due and payable under a funding obligation, including pursuant to a guarantee, indemnity, contract of insurance or agreement entered into under subsection 5(2) or (3) of the FHPA;

(b) after eliminating any duplication in the following amounts, calculating the sum of the following amounts:

(i) amounts withdrawn, as required under the governing documents of Funding Obligations, from capital accounts or finance reserve accounts during the period;

(ii) for any period before May 1, 2021, amounts received during the period in respect of Carrying Costs and Funding Rebates and for any period on and after May 1, 2021, amounts received during the period in respect of Funding Rebates;

(iii) the aggregate of all amounts received by or on behalf of the Issuer in respect of Funding Obligations during the period;

(iv) the principal amount of Funding Obligations incurred by the Issuer that are applied to refinance existing Funding Obligation during the period;

(v) any payments received in connection with a derivative agreement, including ordinary course receipts, payments received on termination and payments received in connection with margining or collateral arrangements, in each case during the period;

(vi) amounts received by or on behalf of the Issuer as a refund of tax and to which the Issuer is entitled as a result of any activity, undertaking, transaction or event authorized or permitted under the FHPA during the period; and

(c) subtracting the sum calculated under (b) from the sum calculated under (a).

In determining the Clean Energy Adjustment, the Financial Services Manager must also calculate a "True-up Amount" in accordance with the Regulations. In principle, the True-up Amount should serve to ensure that the collection of the Clean Energy Adjustments is sufficient to pay the Finance Amount when it is due, by capturing any Finance Amounts not previously received in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment during the preceding Reference Periods. The True-up Amount may also reflect historical and reasonably foreseeable differences between the estimated and actual Finance Amount; between amounts invoiced and amounts collected due to various factors, including applicable taxes, consumer defaults and delays, billing lags and write-offs; and variations in billings due to variations in electricity consumption. In determining such differences, the Financial Services Manager is required to have regard to amounts payable that were not collected and any amounts in respect of which an overpayment was made, which may include amounts resulting from a default of Specified Consumers, an Electricity Vendor or the IESO, whether in its capacity as an Electricity Vendor or its activities as agent or otherwise under the FHPA and the Regulations. The Regulations obligate the Financial Services Manager to calculate the True-up Amount in respect of each Reference Period so long as all Funding Obligations and other Finance Amounts have not been paid in full. The Financial Services Manager may also at any time during a Reference Period determine an interim True-up Amount if, among other things, it reasonably forecasts that the collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be insufficient to pay the estimated Finance Amount for a Reference Period.

The Financial Services Manager must notify the OEB of the Clean Energy Adjustment for each Reference Period. The OEB must accept this amount and will determine the rates at which Specified Consumers are to be invoiced to recover the Clean Energy Adjustment. The rates are expressed as a cent per kWh amount and are determined by the OEB by dividing (i) the Clean Energy Adjustment provided by the Financial Services Manager in respect of the relevant period of time by (ii) the forecast of electricity consumption of Specified Creditors in respect of such period, based on forecast information provided to the OEB by the IESO. Electricity Vendors are required to invoice their Specified Consumers for the Clean Energy Adjustment, as determined by applying the rate set by the OEB, which is required to be included as a separate line item on each invoice. Electricity Vendors are required to collect, as agent of the [Issuer],[35] amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, deposit such amounts into a segregated account established for the purpose of receiving those amounts, and hold such amounts in trust for the benefit of the [Issuer] until remitted to the IESO for the benefit of the [the owners of Investment Interests (initially, only the Issuer)]. If an Electricity Vendor does not receive payment in full of an invoice issued to a Specified Consumer, the Electricity Vendor shall allocate any payment received on a pro rata basis to the Clean Energy Adjustment and the other amounts payable under the particular invoice.[36] It is a deemed condition of their licenses that Electricity Vendors comply with their obligations under the FHPA.[37] If there are any amounts that are collected by the Electricity Vendor, but not remitted to the IESO to remit to [the Issuer] during a Reference Period, such shortfall will be included in the True-up Amount for the subsequent period.

An amount in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment shown on an invoice issued to a Specified Consumer is determinative of the amount of such Specified Consumer's indebtedness resulting from the Clean Energy Adjustment and is irrevocable upon invoicing and may not be set off or bypassed, except to the extent that the invoice reflects a clerical, typographical or calculation-related error. [Commencing May 1, 2021, a charge in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be included on invoices sent to Specified Consumers, and collected and [35] Note: Please see note 16 regarding the placement of square brackets around "the Issuer" in this paragraph. The disclosure should indicate that amounts are collected for the Investment Interests owners (and that, as at the date of the OM, the Issuer is the only Investment Interest owner).

[36] Note: Please consider revising to conform more closely to Section 17(4) of the FHPA.

[37] Note: Please confirm.

remitted to the Issuer to pay amounts owing on the Senior Notes and all other administrative and other financing expenses of the Issuer. From July 1, 2017 until April 30, 2021 (the "Moratorium Period"), no Clean Energy Adjustments are permitted to be collected from Specified Consumers. During the Moratorium Period, the sole source of funds for payment on the Senior Notes, and the Issuer's other Carrying Costs, will be the amounts the IESO is obligated to pay under the Regulations during such period.][38] See "— IESO Payment of Carrying Costs during the Moratorium Period" below. Once it starts being included on such invoices, the Clean Energy Adjustment will be collected until all outstanding Funding Obligations and other Finance Amounts have been repaid in full. Subject to the FHPA, the Clean Energy Adjustment will be collected and remitted to the Issuer to pay the Finance Amount, including the principal and interest on the Senior Notes and all other administrative and other financing expenses of the Issuer.

The following diagram illustrates the flow of funds under the Fair Hydro Plan.

[1] There is currently one Specified Consumer that is directly connected to the IESO and, accordingly, makes payments, including in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, directly to the IESO.

Fair Allocation Amount and Financing Plan

The FHPA was enacted to: (i) ensure that Clean Energy Costs and Clean Energy Benefits are fairly allocated among present and future Specified Consumers; (ii) recognize that Clean Energy Benefits have accrued and will accrue over time and will continue to benefit present and future electricity consumers in Ontario; and (iii) align Clean Energy Costs with Clean Energy Benefits, in order to provide fairness for Specified Consumers over time. Under the FHPA, the Minister of Energy calculates a "Fair Allocation Amount", which is an amount for every Reference Period that, among other things, allocates the estimated Clean Energy Costs in proportion to the relative attribution of Clean Energy Benefits among Specified Consumers.[39] Under the FHPA, the Minister of Energy is responsible for determining the Fair Allocation Amount prior to the incurrence of the first Funding Obligation. The Fair Allocation Amount may be changed from time to time in accordance with the FHPA , provided that no change of the Fair Allocation Amount shall affect any Clean Energy Adjustment that arises as a result of a Funding Obligation that has been incurred prior to such change.

[38] Note: This narrative should more precisely track the FHPA. The relevant provisions are Section 25(3) [the IESO shall not be entitled to collect all or part of the balance recorded in the variance account from specified consumers before May 1, 2021] and Section 21(4) [limitation on the Financial Services Manager incurring funding obligations payable through Clean Energy Adjustments from July 1, 2017 to April 30, 2021].

[39] Note: Please consider a description of the fair allocation amount that more closely aligns to Section 20(1) of the FHPA.

OPG, as Financial Services Manager, is required to prepare a Financing Plan to evaluate whether and when potential Funding Obligations should be incurred by a Financing Entity to acquire an Investment Interest or for the purposes of a Refinancing. The Financial Services Manager is required to prepare the Financing Plan having regard to certain prescribed principles, including that Funding Obligations should be incurred such that, along with any Funding Obligations already incurred, the estimated Finance Amount that would, subject to any Refinancing, become due and payable during a Reference Period will reasonably align with the Fair Allocation Amount determined in respect of such Reference Period as of the date the Funding Obligations were incurred, after reducing the Fair Allocation Amount by the Readjustment Amount, if any, in respect of the Reference Period. In other words, the Financing Plan should contemplate the issuance of Funding Obligations from time to time, with terms that would result in Clean Energy Adjustments being payable by Specified Consumers that align with the purposes of the FHPA[, namely, to ensure that present and future Specified Consumers are bearing their fair share of the costs of providing Clean Energy Benefits][40]. Notwithstanding the above, the FHPA provides that each Funding Obligation is deemed to be consistent with the Financing Plan and to provide for the reasonable alignment of the estimated Finance Amount with the Fair Allocation Amount.

Currently, the Clean Energy Costs have been determined to exceed the Clean Energy Benefits, with the result that the Fair Allocation Amount is negative. This [means that the Minister of Energy has determined that current Specified Consumers have borne more than their fair share of Clean Energy Costs (with the consequent rate reduction for current Specified Consumers). The Fair Allocation Amount is expected to be negative until at least May 2024.][41] Accordingly, the Financing Plan does not currently contemplate the issuance of any Senior Notes maturing prior to May 2024. The Financial Services Manager may, however, determine to refinance Senior Notes maturing after May 2024 through the issuance of another Series of Senior Notes. If Senior Notes cannot be refinanced on or before the applicable Principal Payment Default Date, holders of such Senior Notes will have the ability to accelerate their Senior Notes resulting in Clean Energy Adjustments that would otherwise be used to pay the principal amount of subordinated indebtedness to holders of subordinated Notes being used to pay holders of accelerated Senior Notes.

The Financing Plan allows for the issuance of a variety of short and long term debt. See the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum for more details regarding the Financing Plan and the Fair Allocation Amount.

IESO Payment of Carrying Costs During the Moratorium Period

Commencing May 1, 2021, a charge in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be included on invoices sent to Specified Consumers, and collected and remitted to the Issuer to pay amounts owing on the Senior Notes and all other administrative and financing expenses of the Issuer. During the Moratorium Period and extending to July 31, 2021,[42] the IESO, which is rated A(high) by DBRS Limited ("DBRS") and Aa2 by Moody's Investors Services, Inc. ("Moody's"), is required under the Regulations to pay and remit to the Issuer amounts charged to the IESO by the Issuer in respect of its Carrying Costs. Carrying Costs include all funding costs (such as interest on the Senior Notes) and other expenses of the Issuer, other than repayment of principal on any debt obligations of the Issuer (including repayment of principal on the Senior Notes).[43] The amounts paid by the IESO to fund these Carrying Costs will be recorded by the IESO in a variance account and form part of the Regulatory Asset that the IESO is expected to transfer to the Issuer in a subsequent period and, upon such transfer, will become part of the Issuer's Investment Interest pursuant to the Regulations.

Pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, on or before the fourth business day of each calendar month, the Issuer will submit a carrying costs statement to the IESO certifying the amount of Carrying [40] Note: Any description of the purpose of the FHPA should conform with the stated purposes of the Act set out in Section 3.

[41] Note: MOE to confirm.

[42] Note: Please clarify this disclosure for consistency with Section 9.1(1) of the General Regulation. This provision states that the IESO shall pay financing entity carrying costs in respect of the period beginning June 1, 2017 (before the Moratorium Period) and ending July 31, 2021.

[43] Note: Consider revising to conform with the definition of "carrying costs" in Section 9.1(3) of the General Regulation.

Costs estimated to be incurred by the Issuer in the following month. On or before the 14th business day following receipt of the Issuer's statement, the IESO is required to deliver the amount specified in the carrying costs statement to the Issuer. See "The Transferor and Servicer". The IESO has a $2 billion unsecured credit facility provided by the Ontario Financing Authority, expiring ■, 20■, which is permitted to be used to pay the Issuer's Carrying Costs. Furthermore, as security for the performance of its obligations under the Regulations to pay the Issuer's Carrying Costs, the IESO has granted the Issuer a first-priority security interest in all of its accounts receivable, which includes the amounts receivable by the IESO from Electricity Vendors with respect to the global adjustment charge. See "The Transferor and Servicer".

Other Statutory Protections

The FHPA provides certain protection and assurances in respect of the obligations of Specified Consumers to pay amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment. Generally, no action or omission by the OEB, the Minister of Energy or the Crown, and no regulation under the FHPA, will be effective to reduce, impair, postpone or terminate the obligations of Specified Consumers to pay amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment or to impair or postpone the invoicing, collection or remittance of the Clean Energy Adjustment. If an Electricity Vendor, the IESO or the Financial Services Manager, has failed, or will fail, to comply with the FHPA or the Regulations, the Issuer may apply to an Ontario court to make an order directing such party to comply and requiring compensation to be provided to the Issuer by such non-compliant party. Additional contractual protections are provided in the Change of Law Protection Agreement described below.

CHANGE OF LAW PROTECTION AGREEMENT

The following brief summary of certain provisions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Change of Law Protection Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Change of Law Protection Agreement and the detailed provisions thereof. The Change of Law Protection Agreement may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Senior Notes are outstanding.

Pursuant to the Change of Law Protection Agreement in favour of the Indenture Trustee, upon a Protection Event and delivery by the Indenture Trustee of a written payment demand, the Province of Ontario is required to make payments of amounts that are due and payable in respect of all Approved Obligations when due and payable into the Protection Account (as hereinafter defined). The Issuer and Indenture Trustee must ensure that amounts deposited into the Protection Account are applied to pay each Specified Creditor to whom an amount is due and payable under an Approved Obligation. The Province of Ontario's obligation to make such payments under the Change of Law Protection Agreement upon a Protection Event and delivery by the Indenture Trustee of a written payment demand is referred to as the "Limited Guarantee".

The payment obligations of the Province of Ontario under the Limited Guarantee differ depending on whether an Acceleration has occurred. If no Acceleration has occurred in respect of any Obligation Secured on or before a date on which the Province of Ontario is to perform the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement provides that the Province of Ontario is to pay the amounts due and payable on such date in respect of Approved Obligations. If an Acceleration has occurred in respect of any Obligation Secured on or before a date on which the Province of Ontario is to perform the Limited Guarantee, the Province of Ontario is to pay the amounts that would be available to be paid on such date in respect of the Approved Obligation on an applicable payment date in respect of the Approved Obligation under the applicable payment provisions of the Master Trust Indenture, determined on the assumption that the amount available for allocation to Specified Creditors in accordance with such applicable payment provisions of the Master Trust Indenture in respect of each relevant month during each Reference Period is equal to the estimated Finance Amount determined in respect of such Reference Period for purposes of [section 15(1) of the FHPA (in effect as at December 21, 2017), including section 6.1 of the General

Regulation under the FHPA (in effect as at December 21, 2017)][44], divided by the number of months in such Reference Period.

The Province of Ontario is not obligated to pay or indemnify the Indenture Trustee or any Specified Creditor for consequential, special or punitive damages, or for economic loss or loss of profits (provided that economic loss does not include payments of amounts that are due and payable in respect of the Notes).

Under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the right to deliver a written payment demand on occurrence of a Protection Event to enforce the Limited Guarantee is the only remedy available to the Indenture Trustee (and to Specified Creditors, to the extent they are permitted to exercise any rights, interests or elections under and in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture). Specified Creditors are not permitted to exercise any rights, interests, or elections under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, other than in the manner and to the extent effected and exercised under, in accordance with and subject to the limitations set forth in the Master Trust Indenture as at December 21, 2017.

In connection with the provision of the Limited Guarantee, OPG, as Financial Services Manager, has entered into a process agreement with the Province of Ontario pursuant to which OPG is required to satisfy certain reporting and other requirements regarding the Issuer's incurrence of, and material amendments to, any Issuer Funding Obligations.

Protection Event

Each of the following constitutes a "Protection Event" under the Change of Law Protection Agreement:

(i) the Ontario legislature repeals, and does not replace on an equivalent basis, or amends, the FHPA, in whole or in part, as in effect on the date hereof;

(ii) the Ontario legislature enacts or amends any other statute;

(iii) the Lieutenant Governor in Council repeals, and does not replace on an equivalent basis, the regulations made under the FHPA, in whole or in part, as in effect on the date hereof;

(iv) the Lieutenant Governor in Council, a minister of the Crown, an official of the government or a board or commission all the members of which are appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council makes or amends any "regulation" (as defined in Part III of the Legislation Act, 2006) as in effect on the date hereof; or

in each case, that (X) adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable, in each case determined after taking into account and having regard to (i) any funds available at such time to apply to such Approved Obligations, including in any finance reserve account, capital account or collateral posting account applicable under a derivative agreement, (ii) the availability of any credit enhancement agreement to which the Issuer is a party and (iii) any reasonably expected potential effect of a True-up Amount in the Reference Period immediately following the occurrence of an event described in any of clauses (i) to (v) above, or (Y) adversely affects the enforceability of, or adversely changes, the terms and conditions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement or of any of the agreements under which Approved Obligations arise; or [44] Perhaps this should instead cross-reference a more detailed description and explanation of the "Acceleration" mechanics under 6.1 of the Regulation.

(b) a court of competent jurisdiction determines that all or a portion of the FHPA or the Regulations, as in effect on the date hereof, is ultra vires or invalid in a way that adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable and that has the effect of the Issuer not in fact having sufficient funds to pay such Approved Obligations that have become due and payable, in each case determined after taking into account and having regard to (i) any funds available at such time to apply to such Approved Obligations, including in any finance reserve account, capital account or collateral posting account applicable under a derivative agreement, (ii) the availability of any credit enhancement agreement to which the Issuer is a party and (iii) any reasonably expected potential effect of a True-up Amount in the Reference Period immediately following the occurrence of an event described in this paragraph (b).

The occurrence of a Protection Event in and of itself will not result in the acceleration of the Senior Notes.

On a Protection Event and payment by the Province of Ontario of amounts in respect of Approved Obligations that are due and payable into the Protection Account, such deposited amounts are applied by the Issuer and Indenture Trustee in the priority of payments governed by the Master Trust Indenture.

Upon the Province of Ontario's payment of amounts in respect of Approved Obligations that are due and payable into the Protection Account, the Province of Ontario will be subrogated and entitled to all of the rights and interests of applicable Specified Creditors (including Noteholders) under and in respect of the Approved Obligations to the extent of the amounts paid. Applicable Specified Creditors in respect of whom amounts were deposited into the Protection Account will not have continuing rights, interests or entitlements (including rights as a secured party) in respect of Approved Obligations to the extent so paid; the Province of Ontario will be the absolute assignee of such rights. The Province of Ontario will have the right to be paid from the Issuer the amounts that the Province of Ontario paid in respect of the Approved Obligations ("Subrogation Amounts"), such Subrogation Amounts being payable in the same order of priority and with the same entitlements accruing to the Province of Ontario as applied to the amounts in respect of the Approved Obligations previously owing to Specified Creditors that the Province of Ontario has paid. The Province of Ontario will also be entitled to the benefit of the Collateral (as hereinafter defined) and proceeds therefrom to the extent of the amounts paid under the Limited Guarantee.

As payee of Subrogation Amounts, the Province of Ontario will be a Specified Creditor under the Master Trust Indenture and no person entitled under any Obligation Secured (including a Specified Creditor) that ranks equal with or subordinate to the Approved Obligation in respect of which the Province of Ontario is owed a Subrogation Amount will be entitled to make any claim or assert any right in or to the amounts paid or payable to the Province of Ontario, and no such person will have any right to the Collateral or any proceeds therefrom in respect of any Subrogation Amount. Further, the entitlements of the Province of Ontario to Subrogation Amounts arising in respect of Approved Obligations that are interest and principal obligations on Notes will be treated for all purposes of the Master Trust Indenture as interest and principal obligations, respectively, arising under Notes, having the same priority and any applicable voting rights as under the related Approved Obligations, and accordingly the Province of Ontario will be entitled to all of the rights, entitlements, interests and privileges of a holder of such Notes in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture, as supplemented by the supplemental indenture or other indenture document under which the related Approved Obligations were issued.

Approved Obligations & Adherence Conditions

Under the Management Agreement, the Manager is required to ensure that all obligations of the Issuer are and remain Approved Obligations under the Change of Law Protection Agreement.

An "Approved Obligation" under the Change of Law Protection Agreement means: (i) a Certified Primary Obligation if the adherence conditions applicable thereto have been satisfied at the time such obligation was incurred; (ii) all other Primary Obligations that are not Certified Primary Obligations (except any Primary Obligation to which the Limited Guarantee will not apply on or after delivery of a Suspension Notice as described below); and (iii) all Certified Primary Obligations that the Province of Ontario, in its sole discretion, designates in writing is an Approved Obligation.

A "Primary Obligation" under the Change of Law Protection Agreements means any Obligation Secured under the Master Trust Indenture (i) that is a Funding Obligation or (ii) that otherwise is a payment obligation of the Issuer that gives rise to a Finance Amount, in each case other than (x) any amounts required to be deposited by or on behalf of the Issuer into any capital account or finance reserve account; and (y) any obligation to pay the Issuer or on the Issuer's direction any remaining amounts in the Collection Account pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture.

A "Certified Primary Obligation" means a Primary Obligation: (i) incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer to fund its ownership of an Investment Interest, including any Refinancing, other than a Post-Suspension Refinancing or a Pre-Approved Refinancing (each as defined below), of such a Primary Obligation (for greater certainty, including, in the case of any Certified Primary Obligation permitting funding transactions pursuant to a Funding Obligation Agreement applicable to the Certified Primary Obligation, each individual borrowing or funding utilization thereunder), (ii) incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer upon the Issuer entering into a derivative agreement, in which case the Certified Primary Obligation therefor shall be the Master Agreement applicable to such derivative agreement and not any individual trade confirmation other than a trade confirmation that modifies or purports to override the express terms or conditions of the related Master Agreement, or (iii) incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer upon entering into a contract that has a term of more than three (3) years which is not terminable by the Issuer giving three (3) years' notice or less and expected (as determined by the Manager, acting reasonably) aggregate payments by the Issuer thereunder during the term of such contract are or would be in excess of $5,000,000 (that, for greater certainty, is not otherwise captured in clauses (i) and (ii) above).

The Limited Guarantee shall apply to all Certified Primary Obligations that meet the following adherence conditions:

(a) the Certified Primary Obligation when incurred is an Obligation Secured under the Master Trust Indenture;

(b) OPG, as Financial Services Manager, delivers a certificate to the Indenture Trustee on or before the incurrence of such obligation certifying, among other things, that OPG has delivered a certificate to the Province of Ontario confirming that OPG has complied with all of its obligations to the Province of Ontario and internal requirements and processes in connection with the adherence of the Limited Guarantee to the Certified Primary Obligation (an "Adherence Compliance Certificate"); and

(c) the Province of Ontario has not provided a Suspension Notice to the Indenture Trustee, OPG and the Issuer.

All Senior Notes shall constitute Obligations Secured under the Master Trust Indenture and therefore condition (a) above will be satisfied for all Offerings of Senior Notes. It will be a condition to any Offering of Senior Notes that OPG deliver the adherence certificate required pursuant to (b) above or that the Province of Ontario designates in writing that the Senior Notes are Approved Obligations. The Change of Law Protection Agreement provides that delivery of an adherence certificate shall be determinative of satisfaction of this adherence condition, notwithstanding that such certificate may include inaccuracies, be incomplete or otherwise be defective or deficient, and such certificate may be relied upon as conclusive evidence of same.

Suspension Notice & Post-Suspension Refinancings

The Change of Law Protection Agreement will remain in full force and effect until the indefeasible payment, observance and performance in full of the Approved Obligations.

However, in the following limited circumstances, the Province of Ontario may deliver a written notice (a "Suspension Notice") to the Indenture Trustee, the Financial Services Manager and the Issuer:

(a) an acceleration of Funding Obligations in accordance with the provisions of the Master Trust Indenture or an event of default, early amortization event, termination event or similar event or circumstance (including any event that with the passage of time or the giving of notice would become such an event) of or in respect of the obligations of any party under any Program Agreement;

(b) a default in the performance, or breach, of any covenants of OPG, as Financial Services Manager, or OPG, in its corporate capacity, in each case to the Province of Ontario in connection with its obligations to the Province of Ontario pursuant to internal requirements and processes in connection with the provision or adherence of the Limited Guarantee to or in respect of any Certified Primary Obligation and the expiration of any applicable cure period;

(c) a representation or warranty made by OPG or a certification made by one or more officers of OPG, in each case whether as Financial Services Manager or in its corporate capacity, to the Province of Ontario in connection with its obligations to the Province of Ontario and its internal requirements and processes in connection with the provision or adherence of the Limited Guarantee to or in respect of any Certified Primary Obligations, proves to be incorrect in any material respect on the date made and the expiration of any applicable cure period; or

(d) the Financial Services Manager no longer being the Manager or actions having been taken by or on behalf of the Indenture Trustee to remove the Financial Services Manager as the Manager;

If a Suspension Notice has been provided under the Change of Law Protection Agreement (the provision of such notice being a "Suspension Event"), the Limited Guarantee shall not apply in respect of: (i) any Primary Obligation incurred, excluding any Post-Suspension Refinancing, or (ii) any amendment of any Primary Obligation that has a Material Effect, unless otherwise agreed to by the Province of Ontario, in each case, on or after the time such Suspension Notice is delivered.

Following the occurrence of a Suspension Event, the Limited Guarantee shall continue to apply in respect of any Post-Suspension Refinancing; provided that prior to the Financing Entity incurring any Primary Obligation constituting a Post-Suspension Refinancing, the Manager shall provide the Province of Ontario with at least 30 days' notice of its intention to seek a Post-Suspension Refinancing and during such 30-day period the Province of Ontario may, but is not obligated to, offer to fund such Post-Suspension Refinancing or arrange for another Person to fund such Post-Suspension Refinancing on the same terms as set out in the notice or on such other terms as may be considered by the Province of Ontario to be not more onerous on the Financing Entity and that are acceptable on that basis to the Financing Entity, acting reasonably.

A "Post-Suspension Refinancing" means a Funding Obligation that is an Obligation Secured and that is incurred on or after the occurrence of a Suspension Event in compliance with the requirements of the Change of Law Protection Agreement, as a Refinancing of one or more Series of Approved Obligations (including any Pre-Approved Refinancing incurred on or after the occurrence of a Suspension Event), in each case the proceeds of which, together with any other funds that may be available, are used solely for the purpose of paying in full such Series of Approved Obligations and any costs and expenses associated with such Refinancing.

A "Pre-Approved Refinancing" means a Refinancing of a Certified Primary Obligation in respect of which the Province of Ontario has, prior to the incurrence of such Certified Primary Obligation, agreed shall be an Approved Obligation, subject to compliance with such conditions and requirements as may be specified in such agreement.

A "Material Effect" means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province of Ontario under the Limited Guarantee that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any transaction document which was previously provided to the Province of Ontario, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which Primary Obligations would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Issuer or the Issuer Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province of Ontario as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Master Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the Financial Services Manager with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the Financial Services Manager or the Issuer with the FHPA or the Regulations; or (viii) the Province of Ontario's rights of subrogation or assignment or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation.

Accordingly, notwithstanding delivery of a Suspension Notice, the Limited Guarantee shall continue to apply to: (i) any Approved Obligations that were incurred prior to the Suspension Event and (ii) any Funding Obligations incurred by the Issuer following a Suspension Event if the terms and conditions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement are satisfied and the proceeds of such incurrence are to be used for the purpose of repaying one or more series of Approved Obligations. Accordingly, subject to compliance with the Change of Law Protection Agreement, any Senior Notes or other Funding Obligations that may be issued following a Suspension Event to refinance Senior Notes that were Approved Obligations issued prior to a Suspension Event will continue to have the benefit of the Limited Guarantee.

THE ISSUER

The Issuer is an unincorporated open-ended unit trust established under the laws of the Province of Ontario pursuant to a declaration of trust made December 20, 2017 (the "Declaration of Trust"). Computershare Trust Company of Canada (the "Issuer Trustee") is the sole trustee of the Issuer, which is a Financing Entity established to incur Funding Obligations for the purpose of acquiring Investment Interests pursuant to the FHPA. The principal business address and head office of the Issuer is in Ontario, in the care of the Issuer Trustee at the following address: 100 University Avenue, 11th Floor, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2Y1.

The following brief summary of certain provisions of the Declaration of Trust does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Declaration of Trust are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Declaration of Trust and the detailed provisions thereof. The Declaration of Trust may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Senior Notes are outstanding.

The Declaration of Trust establishes the Issuer to carry on activities for the exclusive benefit of its unitholders, FHP2017 Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG, and BNY Trust Company of Canada, the Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture (collectively, the "Unitholders"). The beneficial interest and rights generally of the Unitholders in the Issuer are limited to the right to participate in distributions when and as declared by the Issuer Trustee and distributions upon the termination of the Issuer. The legal ownership of the trust property and the right to conduct the activities of the Issuer are vested exclusively in the Issuer Trustee and no Unitholder has any right of ownership in any of the trust property. Except in limited circumstances provided in the Declaration of Trust, no Unitholder is entitled to interfere with or give any direction to the Issuer Trustee with respect to the affairs of the Issuer or in connection with the exercise of any powers or authorities conferred upon the Issuer Trustee under the Declaration of Trust. The Issuer Trustee will generally have, free from any power or control on the part of the Unitholders, full authority over the trust property and the activities of the Issuer to the same extent as if the Issuer Trustee were the sole and absolute owner thereof. The Unitholders will also not be subject to any liability arising out of the activities of the Issuer.

The Issuer Trustee, on behalf of the Issuer, has entered into a management agreement with OPG, as Manager, whereby all of the powers and duties of managing the Issuer have been delegated to the Manager. See "The Manager."

The permitted activities of the Issuer are limited to:

(a) acquiring, owning, holding, administering or entering into agreements regarding the acquisition and servicing of Investment Interests, along with certain other related assets;

(b) managing, selling, assigning, pledging and collecting amounts due on or otherwise dealing with Investment Interests and certain other related assets in accordance with the terms of the Program Agreements;

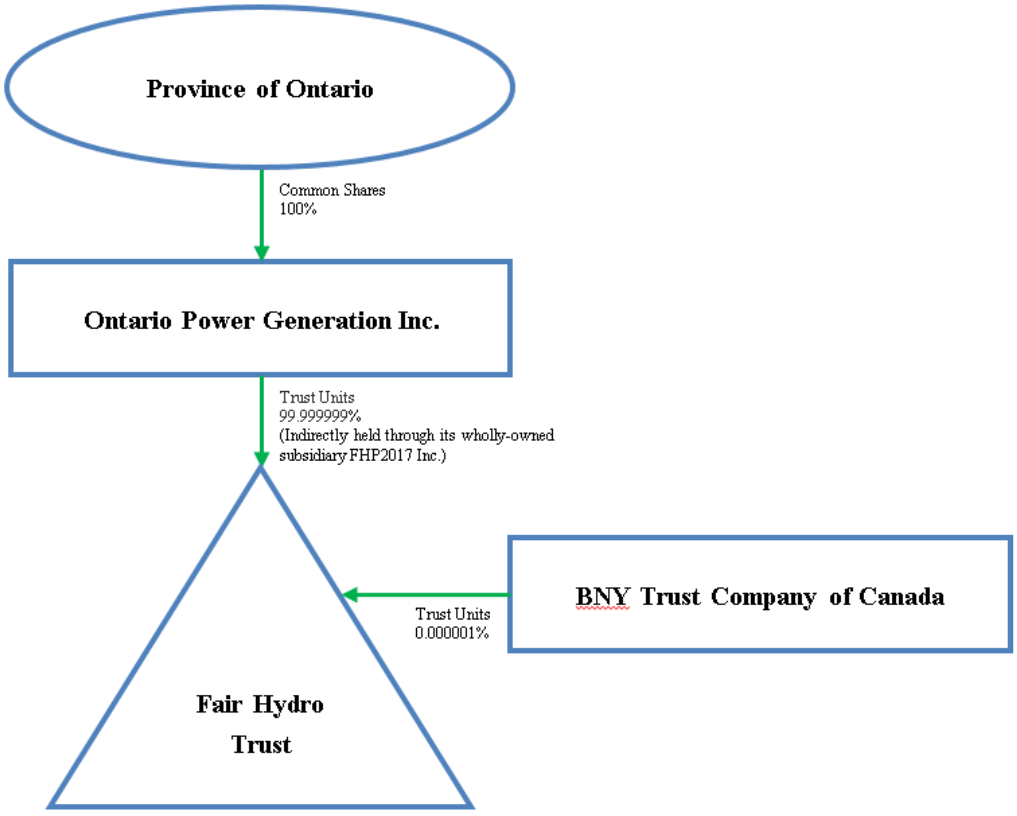
(c) negotiating, authorizing, executing, delivering, assuming the obligations under and performing its duties under the Program Agreements;

(d) filing with any applicable securities commission one or more prospectuses, offering memoranda, registration statements or documents necessary or desirable to register one or more series of Funding Obligations under the securities laws of any applicable jurisdiction;

(e) authorizing, executing, delivering, issuing and registering one or more series of Funding Obligations;

(f) making payments on Funding Obligations;

(g) pledging its interest in Investment Interests and related assets to the Indenture Trustee in order to secure Funding Obligations; and



(h) engaging in any lawful act or activity that is incidental to the above-mentioned purposes.

The Issuer Trustee may amend the Declaration of Trust under specified circumstances without the consent of Unitholders provided (i) the amendment will not materially adversely affect the interest of any Unitholder, unless that Unitholder has approved of the amendment in writing, and (ii) in respect of any material amendment, the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied. The Issuer Trustee is required to provide the Rating Agencies and the Indenture Trustee with a copy of any amendment, variation, supplement, replacement or restatement of the Declaration of Trust.

The consent of the Indenture Trustee, in addition to all other Unitholders, will be required to wind up the Issuer or voluntarily institute or consent to insolvency proceedings against the Issuer while any Funding Obligations remain outstanding. The Issuer Trustee may be removed by the Unitholders at any time by notice in writing delivered to the Issuer Trustee not less than 90 days prior to the date such removal is to take effect. The Issuer Trustee may also be removed by the Unitholders with no prior written notice if it becomes bankrupt or insolvent or it is unable to exercise its duties under the Declaration of Trust. The Issuer Trustee may resign on 120 days' prior written notice to the Unitholders, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies. No such resignation will be effective until a replacement issuer trustee acceptable to the Unitholders and the Indenture Trustee has been appointed and the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied.

Each of the Issuer Trustee and its directors, officers, agents, representatives and employees will be indemnified from and against all claims (including any claim arising out of the assessment of any tax on income by a taxing authority), demands, levies, penalties, suits, losses, actions, causes of action, costs, charges, fees and expenses, damages and liabilities whatsoever arising out of, among other things, any action or omission in relation to the execution of the duties of the Issuer Trustee or in relation to the trust property or the activities of the Issuer, except, in each case, for wilful misconduct, gross negligence or failure to comply with the standard of care established by the Declaration of Trust.

The following diagram illustrates the structure of the Issuer and its affiliates.

THE MANAGER

OPG has entered into a management agreement with the Issuer dated as of December 20, 2017 (the "Management Agreement") pursuant to which the Issuer has delegated to OPG, as Manager, all of the powers and duties of managing the Issuer. The following brief summary of certain provisions of the Management Agreement does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Management Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Management Agreement and the detailed provisions thereof. The Management Agreement may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Senior Notes are outstanding.

The powers and duties delegated to the Manager under the Management Agreement include, among others:

(a) negotiating and executing, on behalf of the Issuer, the Program Agreements;

(b) maintaining accounts and banking records;

(c) enforcing the rights of the Issuer under the Program Agreements and the FHPA;

(d) determining, in accordance with the Financing Plan, when it is appropriate for the Issuer to incur Funding Obligations;

(e) ensuring that all Primary Obligations of the Issuer are and remain Approved Obligations;

(f) administering all activities of the Issuer in connection with the issuance, sale, payment, repurchase and redemption of the Issuer's Funding Obligations;

(g) preparing, in accordance with applicable securities laws, any offering documents to be furnished by the Issuer to prospective purchasers of Funding Obligations, including the Senior Notes, and ensuring that all statements of the Issuer made therein are at all times true and correct in all material respects;

(h) arranging for compliance by the Issuer with any continuous disclosure obligations;

(i) arranging for the retention of legal counsel, accountants and an auditor for the Issuer;

(j) preparing financial statements and paying taxes on behalf of the Issuer;

(k) preparing a monthly portfolio report setting out information regarding incoming and outgoing cash flows; and

(l) providing such other services as are incidental to the foregoing or as may be agreed upon between the Issuer and the Manager.

The Manager is also required to work with the IESO to develop, on or before January 31, 2020, a written implementation plan identifying the actions to be taken by the IESO and the Issuer to facilitate the OEB, the Issuer, the IESO and Electricity Vendors being prepared to perform their obligations under the FHPA and the Regulations when setting, invoicing and collecting the Clean Energy Adjustment. The Manager will deliver written progress reports to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee on the status of the implementation plan on or before June 30, 2020, October 31, 2020 and January 31, 2021.

Following the Moratorium Period, the Manager will review a monthly servicer report required to be delivered to the Issuer by the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement and make commercially reasonable efforts to resolve any Electricity Vendor failures or discrepancies identified in such report that have not been remedied or adequately explained by Electricity Vendors. The Manager is obligated to institute any proceedings necessary to compel performance by Electricity Vendors of any obligations or duties under the FHPA and the Regulations, including with respect to the invoicing, collection and remittance of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts. Commencing May 1, 2021 and pursuant to its rights under the Regulations, [45] the Manager shall review, or cause to be reviewed, on an annual basis, or less frequently as may be determined by the Manager and subject to satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition, the records maintained by Electricity Vendors with respect to the Clean Energy Adjustment and if there is evidence of material non-compliance by an Electricity Vendor, the Manager will promptly review or cause to be reviewed the records of such Electricity Vendor.

The Manager is obligated to perform its duties under the Management Agreement diligently and in conformity with the Issuer's obligations under each of the Program Agreements and with the FHPA and the Regulations, as applicable, and honestly, in good faith and in the best interest of the Issuer. The Manager must exercise the degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances.

In addition to the powers and duties delegated to OPG pursuant to the Management Agreement, OPG has also agreed to comply with its duties under the FHPA in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, including:

(a) preparing the Financing Plan to evaluate whether potential Funding Obligations should be incurred by Financing Entities for the purposes of acquiring Investment Interests in accordance with the FHPA or for the purposes of a Refinancing;

(b) determining the amounts of the Clean Energy Adjustment, inclusive of any True-up Amount;

(c) calculating the True-up Amount;

[45] Please confirm the source of the right to review electricity vendor records under the Regulations. If this refers to Section 10(4) of the General Regulation, the right is that of the Issuer or the FSM.

(d) notifying the OEB of the Clean Energy Adjustment, inclusive of any True-up Amount;

(e) administering the Investment Interests on behalf of Financing Entities in accordance with the Program Agreements;

(f) ensuring that Funding Obligations are incurred in a manner that is consistent with the Financing Plan; and

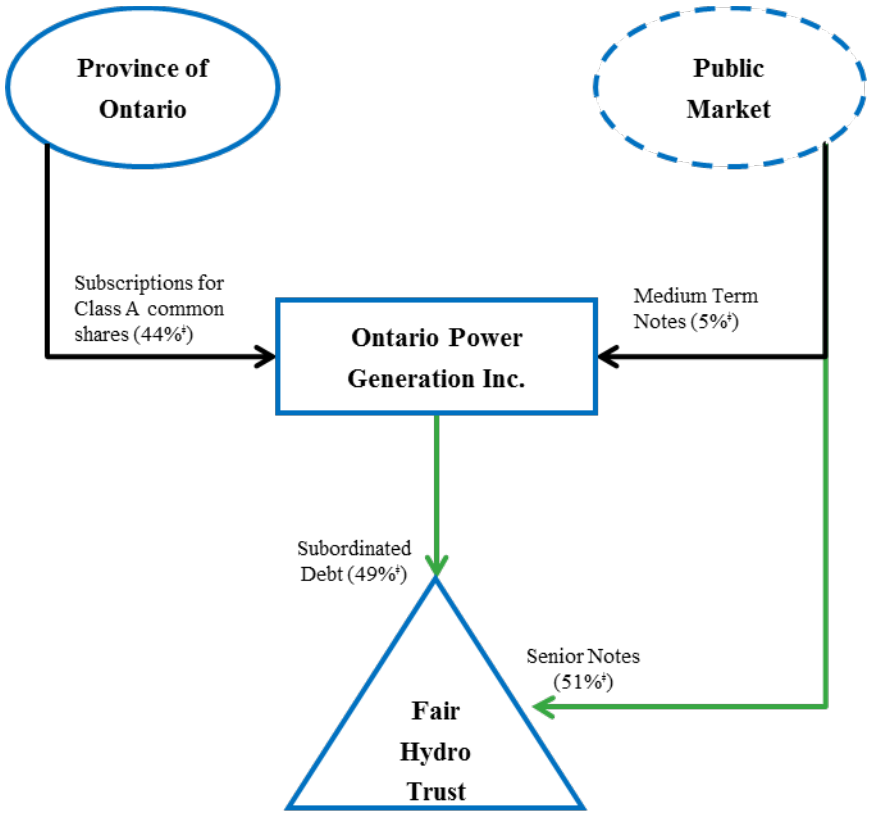
(g) establishing and charging fees for the services provided under the Management Agreement.

Subject to OEB approval and the Regulations, OPG is entitled to charge the Issuer a fee, comprised of a base fee and a variable fee, to earn a return and to recover costs and expenditures incurred by OPG on behalf of the Issuer or in relation to the establishment, management and administration of the Issuer and its Investment Interest. The priority of the Manager's entitlement to fees is subject to the payment priorities set forth in the Master Trust Indenture.

The Manager is not entitled to resign from its duties or terminate the Management Agreement as long as Funding Obligations remain outstanding. The Manager may be terminated by the Issuer Trustee, with the consent of the Indenture Trustee, or by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture. No termination of the Manager will be effective until a replacement manager that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition has been approved and has entered into a management agreement with the Issuer whereby the replacement manager agrees to assume, in substance, the obligations of the Manager under the Management Agreement. If the Manager ceases to perform, or inadequately performs, its management duties under the Management Agreement, it might be difficult to find a replacement for the Manager or a successor manager. See "Risk Factors − Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of OPG as Financial Services Manager and Manager of the Issuer."

The Manager shall provide to the Issuer Trustee an annual certificate confirming compliance with certain matters, including: (i) accurate maintenance of the books and records of the Issuer; (ii) all debt obligations and expenses due and payable by the Issuer have been paid to date; (iii) all required filings with tax and regulatory authorities have been completed to date; and (iv) all material statements and reports to be delivered by the Issuer under the Program Agreements have been delivered and all material statements and reports to be received by the Issuer under the Program Agreements have been received.

The Manager indemnifies the Issuer under the Management Agreement for any losses incurred by the Issuer as a result of the failure of the Manager to perform its obligations under the Management Agreement or any breach by the Manager of its representations and warranties under the Management Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which it is a party, except to the extent such losses result from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of the Issuer. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Manager is not obligated to indemnify the Issuer under the Management Agreement for any losses resulting from: (i) a breach or failure to perform by a third party under any Program Agreement, the FHPA or the Regulations (excluding any delegation by the Manager under the Management Agreement to a third party); (ii) changes in law, (iii) the validity or applicability of the Change of Law Protection Agreement; (iv) the collectability or sufficiency of the Clean Energy Adjustment or Carrying Costs to satisfy the Issuer Funding Obligations, including the Senior Notes; or (v) any liability of the Issuer incurred after termination of the Management Agreement unless attributable to the actions or omissions of the Manager prior to such termination or in respect of a representation, warranty or covenant that survives such termination.



SUBORDINATED DEBT

Concurrent with every issuance of senior debt by the Issuer, including any Offering of Senior Notes, it is expected that OPG will subscribe for subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt of the Issuer in an amount of no more than 49% of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations, approximately 44% of which is expected to be funded through equity investments in OPG by the Province of Ontario with the remaining approximate 5% being funded from OPG's available funds, including all or a portion of the proceeds of any offerings by OPG of medium term notes).

Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer will be required at all times to ensure that: (i) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt be equal to not less than 35% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations; and (ii) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all junior subordinated debt be equal to not less than 10% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations.

The Issuer is structured to be bankruptcy remote from OPG insofar as none of OPG, its subsidiaries or holders of its indebtedness will have any recourse whatsoever against the Issuer or its assets other than OPG's rights and remedies as a holder of subordinated debt of the Issuer in accordance with the provisions of that indebtedness. From an accounting perspective, however, the Issuer will be consolidated with OPG.

The following diagram illustrates the expected structure of OPG's investments in subordinated debt of the Issuer.

‡ OPG will acquire up to 49% of the Issuer's outstanding debt in the form of subordinated debt. Actual amounts may vary if OPG acquires less than 49% of the Issuer's outstanding debt.

SHORT TERM INDEBTEDNESS

On December 21, 2017, the Issuer entered into the following supplemental indentures under the Master Trust Indenture for the provision of an aggregate of approximately $1.56 billion in short term indebtedness (collectively, the "Warehouse Facilities"), of which a total of $1.179 billion is drawn as of the date hereof:

(i) a warehouse senior series 2017-1 supplemental indenture with, among others, Royal Bank of Canada, as administrative agent for certain commercial paper conduit purchasers and financial institutions named therein, for the provision of an aggregate maximum principal amount of $800,000,000 floating rate variable funding Senior Notes, Series 2017-1 ("Senior Notes, Series 2017-1"), of which $601,290,000 is drawn;

(ii) a warehouse subordinated series 2017-1 supplemental indenture with, among others, OPG for the provision of an aggregate maximum principal amount of $611,764,705.88 floating rate variable funding Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1 ("Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1"), of which $459,810,000 is drawn; and

The issuance of Senior Notes, Series 2017-1, Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1 and Junior Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1 under the Warehouse Facilities described above were used to acquire a $1.179 billion Investment Interest from the IESO on December 21, 2017.

THE TRANSFEROR AND SERVICER

The IESO has entered into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer dated as of December 21, 2017 (the "Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement") pursuant to which the IESO may periodically transfer specified portions of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer. Additional information regarding the IESO, including its most recently published financial statements, is available at www.ieso.ca. Such information does not form part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum and neither the Issuer nor the Agents guarantee the accuracy of such information or has independently verified the accuracy or completeness of any such information or to determine if there has been any omission by the IESO to disclose any facts, information or events which may affect the significance or accuracy of any such financial statements or other information.

The following brief summary of certain provisions of the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement and the detailed provisions thereof. The Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Senior Notes are outstanding.

Under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, the IESO may offer, no more frequently than monthly, to transfer to the Issuer its right, title and interest in, to and under a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset. The Issuer has the right, but not the obligation, to accept the IESO's offer. The IESO is responsible for servicing the Issuer's Investment Interest in accordance with the Regulations and the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement. Its responsibilities including, among others:

(a) establishing a segregated account to be used for the sole purpose of collecting the Clean Energy Adjustment in respect of the Issuer's Investment Interest and making commercially reasonable efforts to cause Electricity Vendors to do the same;

(b) making commercially reasonable efforts to cause each Electricity Vendor to establish procedures for the invoicing of amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment;

(c) responding to inquiries by Electricity Vendors with respect to the Clean Energy Adjustment and amounts payable in respect thereof;

(d) reviewing reports submitted to the IESO by Electricity Vendors regarding the collection of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts for material manifest discrepancies;

(e) contacting Electricity Vendors on the occurrence of certain events;

(f) holding Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected in respect of the Issuer's Investment Interest in trust for the benefit of the Issuer and remitting such amounts to the Issuer on a monthly basis, subject to daily remittance being required in certain limited circumstances;

(g) together with the Issuer, settling a form of monthly servicer report to be provided to the Issuer; and

(h) forecasting the electricity consumption of Specified Consumers and providing such forecast information to the OEB and the Issuer.

While the IESO provides no guarantee that collections of the Clean Energy Adjustment from Electricity Vendors will equal amounts invoiced or that the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts will be sufficient to satisfy the Issuer's Funding Obligations, the IESO must follow standards, policies and procedures in performing its servicing duties that are customary for an electricity market operator and administrator that regularly performs settlement functions.

The IESO is required to work with the Manager to develop, on or before January 31, 2020, a written implementation plan identifying the actions to be taken by the IESO and the Issuer to facilitate the OEB, the Issuer, the IESO and Electricity Vendors being prepared to perform their obligations under the FHPA and the Regulations when setting, invoicing and collecting Clean Energy Adjustment amounts. The IESO and the Manager will deliver to the Issuer written progress reports on the status of the implementation plan on or before June 30, 2020, October 31, 2020 and January 31, 2021. The IESO is also required to work with the Issuer to settle a form of monthly servicer report, which will be provided to the Manager on or before the 20th business day after the end of each month in which Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are collected by Electricity Vendors from Specified Consumers, and which report is expected to contain available information regarding the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts billed, collected and remitted by Electricity Vendors, actual electricity consumption compared to forecast electricity consumption and such other information as may be agreed to by the IESO.

Generally, all servicing duties provided by the IESO to the Issuer are provided at no cost to the Issuer.[46] However, the Issuer will reimburse the IESO for its direct costs relating to the performance by the IESO of its duties and obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement that are not otherwise recovered by the IESO under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario), excluding any costs relating to the performance of the IESO's duties and obligations under the FHPA or the Regulations, including its obligation to pay the Issuer's Carrying Costs.

During the Moratorium Period and extending to July 31, 2021, the IESO, which is rated A(high) by DBRS and Aa2 by Moody's is required under the Regulations to pay and remit to the Issuer amounts charged to the IESO by the Issuer in respect of its Carrying Costs. Under the Regulations, Carrying Costs include all funding costs, such as interest on the Senior Notes, and other expenses of the Issuer, other than repayment of principal on any debt obligations of the Issuer, including repayment of principal on the Senior Notes.[47] Pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, on or before the fourth business day of each calendar month, the Issuer will submit a carrying costs statement to the IESO certifying the amount of Carrying Costs estimated to be incurred by the Issuer in the following month. On or before the 14th business day following receipt of the Issuer's carry costs statement, the IESO is required to deliver the amount specified therein to the Issuer. The IESO has a $2 billion unsecured credit facility provided by the Ontario Financing Authority, expiring ■, 20■, which is permitted to be used to pay the Issuer's Carrying Costs.

As security for the performance of its obligation to pay the Issuer's Carrying Costs, the IESO has granted the Issuer a first-priority security interest in all of its accounts receivable, which includes the amounts receivable by the IESO with respect to the global adjustment charge. The amounts paid by the IESO to fund these Carrying Costs will be recorded by the IESO in a variance account and form part of the Regulatory Asset which is expected to be offered by the IESO for transfer to the Issuer in a subsequent period and, upon completion of such transfer, shall become part of the Issuer's Investment Interest pursuant to the Regulations.

As security for any failure of Non-Investment Grade Rated Electricity Vendors to remit Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected under the FHPA, the IESO is required, pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, to provide to the Issuer on or prior to the first day of the first billing period when the Clean Energy

[46] Note: Please confirm.

[47] Note: Consider a description of "carrying costs" that conforms to the definition set out in Section 9.1(3) of the General Regulation. Also note that the Glossary defines "Carrying Costs" as having the meaning ascribed to the term in the Regulations.

Adjustment is being invoiced to Specified Consumers, a letter of credit from a provider that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition or a performance guarantee or such other form of security that is acceptable to the Issuer and that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition. A "Non-Investment Grade Rated Electricity Vendor" means any Electricity Vendor that does not have a rating of: (i) "Baa3" or higher by Moody's, unless otherwise agreed to by Moody's; and (ii) "BBB(low)" or higher by DBRS, unless otherwise agreed to by DBRS.

The amount of security required from the IESO will be calculated on an annual basis and will be equal to the amount determined by the following formula:

((A / B) x C x D / 365 x E)

where A, B, C, D and E are as follows:

A = for the most recently completed twelve-month period, the aggregate amount of energy consumed by Specified Consumers of all Non-Investment Grade Rated Electricity Vendors.

B = for the same twelve-month period used for A, the aggregate amount of energy consumed by all Specified Consumers.

C = for the most current twelve-month forecast period available, the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts estimated to be payable by all Specified Consumers.

D = 45, representing the estimated number of days that total Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are expected to be held by Electricity Vendors.

E = 0.50 or another value as mutually agreed to in writing by the Issuer and the IESO and that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition.

The Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement sets out specific servicer defaults. Upon the occurrence of a servicer default, the Issuer will be entitled to appoint a replacement servicer that will perform the IESO's duties as servicer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement. Any replacement servicer must be permitted under the FHPA to perform the duties of servicer, the Rating Agency Condition must be satisfied and the replacement servicer must enter into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer having substantially the same terms as the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement.

The IESO has agreed to indemnify the Issuer for any losses incurred by the Issuer as a result of the failure of the IESO to perform its obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which it is a party or the breach by the IESO of any of its representations or warranties under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party, except to the extent such losses result from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of the Issuer. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the IESO is not obligated to indemnify the Issuer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement for any losses resulting from: (i) a breach or failure to perform by a third party under any Program Agreement, the FHPA or the Regulations (excluding any delegation by the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement to a third party); (ii) changes in law, (iii) the collectability or sufficiency of the Clean Energy Adjustment to satisfy the Issuer's Funding Obligations, including the Senior Notes; or (iv) any liability of the Issuer incurred after termination of the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement unless attributable to the actions or omissions of the IESO prior to such termination or in respect of a representation, warranty or covenant that survives such termination.

CREDIT RATINGS

Credit ratings are intended to provide investors with an independent measure of the credit quality of securities and are indicators of the likelihood of the payment capacity and willingness of an issuer to meet its financial commitment on an obligation in accordance with the terms of such obligation. The credit ratings accorded to the Senior Notes are not recommendations to purchase, hold or sell such securities inasmuch as such ratings are not a comment upon the market price of the securities or their suitability for a particular investor. There is no assurance that any rating will remain in effect for any given period of time or that any rating will not be revised or withdrawn entirely by a rating agency in the future if, in its judgment, circumstances so warrant.

The Term Sheet for each Offering will identify the rating of the applicable Senior Notes at the time of such Offering.

RATING AGENCY CONDITION

The Program Agreements provide that certain actions are subject to the "Rating Agency Condition". In each such case, satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition requires: (a) that the Issuer has delivered written notice of the proposed action to the Rating Agencies at least ten business days prior to the effective date of such action; and (b) that the Rating Agencies shall have informed the Issuer prior to the effective date of such action that such action will not result in the reduction or withdrawal of the rating in effect with respect to the Notes immediately before the taking of such action. If the Rating Agency Condition is to be satisfied without specifying one or more specific Series or Tranches of Notes, the Rating Agency Condition must be satisfied with respect to all outstanding Series or Tranches of Notes.

CAPITAL MARKETS PLATFORM

The Financial Services Manager has developed a Financing Plan for the Issuer which encompasses an ongoing program which allows for the issuance of a variety of short and long term debt, as well as interest rate and currency swaps and other hedging instruments.

The Master Trust Indenture establishes common security and a set of common covenants given by the Issuer for the benefit of all of its creditors. Notes are issued under Supplemental Indentures and in certain cases, Terms Documents. Borrowings are incurred pursuant to liquidity agreements or loan agreements. Notes and Borrowings incurred by the Issuer are Issuer Funding Obligations. Each Issuer Funding Obligation will be part of a Class and Series of Issuer Funding Obligations, and may include one or more Tranches. A Class designation determines the relative seniority for receipt of cash flows. See "— Subordination Provisions", "— Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration" and "— Acceleration and Remedies — Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration". Tranches of Issuer Funding Obligations may differ from each other as to the interest rate, maturity and the timing, sequential order and amount of payments of principal or interest, or both.

The following summary of the principal provisions contained in the Master Trust Indenture does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. This overview summarizes certain provisions of the Master Trust Indenture and omits descriptions of many provisions which may be considered to be of a customary nature. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Master Trust Indenture are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Master Trust Indenture and the detailed provisions thereof. The Master Trust Indenture may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Notes are outstanding.

Indenture Trustee

BNY Trust Company of Canada, a trust company governed by the laws of Canada, is the Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture.

Under the terms of the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer has agreed to pay the Indenture Trustee reasonable compensation for the performance of its duties under the Master Trust Indenture. The Indenture Trustee has agreed to perform only those duties expressly set forth in the Master Trust Indenture. Many of the duties of the Indenture Trustee are described throughout this confidential shelf offering memorandum. Under the terms of the Master Trust Indenture, the Indenture Trustee's limited responsibilities include the following:

- to authenticate, deliver, cancel and otherwise administer the Notes;
- to serve as the registrar in respect of the Notes;

- to establish and maintain all Issuer Accounts and to maintain accurate records of activity in those accounts;

- to serve as the Paying Agent and distribute and transfer funds at the direction of the Manager in accordance with the terms of the Master Trust Indenture;

- to invest funds in the Issuer Accounts at the direction of the Manager (or its agent);

- to deliver to Specified Creditors notice of any Default, Event of Default, Acceleration Event, Protection Event or Servicer Default of which it has received notice, as required under the Master Trust Indenture; and

- to perform certain other administrative functions identified in the Master Trust Indenture.

In the exercise of its duties, the Indenture Trustee will use the same degree of care and skill as a reasonably prudent person would use in comparable circumstances. When all Issuer Funding Obligations have been satisfied and discharged (see "— Satisfaction and Discharge"), the Indenture Trustee will no longer act as Indenture Trustee and will have no fiduciary responsibilities to any remaining Specified Creditors and will act only as security agent for those remaining Specified Creditors. The Indenture Trustee is not liable for any errors of judgment as long as the errors are made in good faith and the Indenture Trustee was not negligent. Furthermore, the Indenture Trustee will not be liable for any action taken or not taken by it in good faith if directed to do so by Extraordinary Resolution. The Indenture Trustee is not required to expend or risk its own funds, or incur any financial liability in the exercise of its duties under the Master Trust Indenture and it will not be obliged to exercise any of its rights under the Master Trust Indenture at the request of any Controlling Class Creditor unless such Controlling Class Creditor has provided it with security or an indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it.

In addition to the Indenture Trustee's compensation and the reimbursement of the Indenture Trustee's expenses in connection with the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer will indemnify the Indenture Trustee for any loss, liability or expense incurred without negligence or bad faith on its part, arising out of or in connection with the administration of the trusts under the Master Trust Indenture. The payment of all such amounts will be subject to the payment waterfalls set out in the Master Trust Indenture and in certain instances, such amounts will be higher in priority than payments to Noteholders. See "— Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration — Collection Account", "— Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration — Protection Account" and "— Acceleration and Remedies — Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration".

The Indenture Trustee may resign at any time by giving written notice to the Issuer and it may be removed for any reason by Ordinary Resolution of Controlling Class Creditors. The Indenture Trustee must resign if a material conflict of interest arises in its role as an Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture and such conflict of interest is not eliminated within 90 days after the Indenture Trustee becomes aware of such material conflict of interest. The Issuer may remove, or any Controlling Class Creditor who has been a bona fide Controlling Class Creditor for at least six months may, on behalf of itself and all other Debtholders, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Indenture Trustee if (i) the Indenture Trustee is no longer eligible to act as trustee under the Master Trust Indenture (and any Supplemental Indenture) and fails to resign after it has received a written request to do so by the Issuer or by any Controlling Class Creditor, (ii) the Indenture Trustee becomes incapable of acting, or (iii) the Indenture Trustee becomes subject to any bankruptcy or insolvency related events. In all such circumstances, the Issuer must appoint a successor Indenture Trustee. Any resignation or removal of the Indenture Trustee and appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee will not become effective until the successor Indenture Trustee accepts the appointment. If an instrument of acceptance by a successor Indenture Trustee has not been delivered to the Indenture Trustee within 30 days of giving notice of resignation or removal, the Indenture Trustee may petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a successor Indenture Trustee.

Any successor Indenture Trustee will execute and deliver to the Issuer and its predecessor Indenture Trustee an instrument accepting such appointment. The successor Indenture Trustee must be a bank, a trust company or a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of Canada or of any province or territory thereof, authorized under such laws to carry on a trust business in each of the provinces and territories of Canada. The Issuer may not, nor may any person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the Issuer, serve as Indenture Trustee.

The Indenture Trustee may become the owner or pledgee of Notes and may otherwise deal with the Issuer with the same rights it would have if it were not the Indenture Trustee (subject to its obligation to resign if there is a material conflict).

Conditions Precedent to Incurrence of Obligations Secured

There is no limit on the aggregate amount of indebtedness or other obligations which may be secured under the Master Trust Indenture. However, the Issuer will not be permitted to incur any Issuer Funding Obligations or other obligations unless the Issuer meets the conditions described below under "— Issuer Funding Obligations" and "— Other Obligations Secured".

Issuer Funding Obligations

The Issuer may not incur any new Issuer Funding Obligations, or renew or extend any existing Issuer Funding Obligations (in each case, other than Derivative Funding Obligations), unless the conditions described below are met on or prior to the date that the Issuer enters into a definitive agreement in respect of such Issuer Funding Obligations:

(a) the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency notice of such incurrence;

(b) the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency a certificate to the effect that:

(i) the Issuer reasonably believes that such incurrence will not cause an Adverse Effect; an "Adverse Effect" means that such action will at the time of its occurrence (a) result in the occurrence of an Event of Default or any event which with the giving of notice or passage of time, or both, would become an Event of Default, (b) adversely affect the amount or timing of any payment to be made to any Debtholder or Derivative Counterparty pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture or any Program Agreement, (c) materially adversely affect the amount or timing of payments to be made to the Specified Creditors (other than Debtholders and Derivative Counterparties) pursuant to this Indenture or any Program Agreement, or (d) adversely affect the security interest and the rights and remedies of the Indenture Trustee in respect thereof;

(ii) all instruments furnished to the Indenture Trustee conform to the requirements of the Master Trust Indenture and constitute sufficient authority under the Master Trust Indenture for the Indenture Trustee to (A) in the case of an issuance of Notes only, authenticate and deliver such Notes, and (B) in the case of all other Issuer Funding Obligations, execute and deliver the applicable Funding Obligation Agreement;

(iii) in the case of an issuance of Notes only, the form and terms of the Notes have been established in conformity with the provisions of the Master Trust Indenture;

(iv) the incurrence of such Issuer Funding Obligation is consistent in all material respects with the Financing Plan; see "Ontario Fair Hydro Plan — Fair Allocation Amount and Financing Plan";

(v) the conditions set out in clauses (c), (d), (g) and (k) below are met; and

(vi) such other matters as the Indenture Trustee may reasonably request;

(c) the representations and warranties of the Issuer in the Master Trust Indenture are true and correct in all material respects;

(d) the Rating Agency Condition is satisfied with respect to all outstanding Series or Tranches of Issuer Funding Obligations;

(e) the Indenture Trustee receives either:

(i) a certified copy of the instrument whereby the Province of Ontario designated in writing that such Issuer Funding Obligation is an Approved Obligation as contemplated by the Change of Law Protection Agreement; or

(ii) both (A) an Adherence Compliance Certificate addressed to the Indenture Trustee with respect to such Issuer Funding Obligation delivered in accordance with the Change of Law Protection Agreement; and (B) a certificate signed by the Manager certifying that the Province of Ontario has not provided a Suspension Notice;

(f) the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee copies of the applicable Funding Obligation Agreement, including in the case of Notes, a Supplemental Indenture relating to the applicable Series or Tranche of Notes and, if applicable, a Terms Document relating to the applicable Tranche of Notes;

(g) in the case of Senior Funding Obligations only, the Issuer has Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations in an aggregate outstanding principal amount equal to not less than 35% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the aggregate Senior Funding Obligations, Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations (after giving effect to such incurrence) and in the case of Subordinated Funding Obligations only, the Issuer has Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations in an aggregate outstanding principal amount equal to not less than 10% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the aggregate Senior Funding Obligations, Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations (after giving effect to such incurrence);

(h) except in the case of Notes, the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee an updated list of the Specified Creditors;

(i) each Debtholder in respect of such Issuer Funding Obligation (or an authorized agent on their behalf) has made the acknowledgements and agreements described below under "— Acknowledgements of Specified Creditors";

(j) the Change of Law Protection Agreement is in full force and effect against the Province of Ontario or has been replaced with a new agreement that is in form and substance satisfactory to Controlling Class Creditors pursuant to an Ordinary Resolution;

(k) the conditions precedent, if any, specified in the applicable Funding Obligation Agreement are satisfied; and

(l) in the case of an issuance of Notes only:

(i) the Indenture Trustee receives a certificate for the certification and delivery of the Notes and specifying the particulars relating to such Notes;

(ii) in the case of Notes described in section 163(f)(2)(A) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, if such Notes are not in registered form (including by reason of a book entry system described in section 163(f) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986), then such Notes are described in section 4701(b)(1)(B) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and such section will apply to such Notes; and

(iii) in the case of foreign currency Notes, the Issuer appoints one or more Paying Agents in the appropriate countries, if requested by the Indenture Trustee.

Periodic drawdowns under existing Funding Obligation Agreements will not constitute a new incurrence of Issuer Funding Obligations. However, an increase in the aggregate commitment under an existing Funding Obligation Agreement or the issuance of additional Notes of an outstanding Series or Tranche of Notes will constitute a new incurrence of Issuer Funding Obligations.

The Indenture Trustee is not required to and, except as otherwise provided in a Funding Obligation Agreement, the Issuer is not required to, provide prior notice to or obtain the consent of any Debtholder or any other Specified Creditor to issue any Issuer Funding Obligations.

Other Obligations Secured

The Issuer may incur other obligations (including Derivative Funding Obligations) so long as:

(a) the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee a copy of the agreement giving rise to such obligations;

(b) the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee an updated list of the Specified Creditors;

(c) the counterparty to the agreement giving rise to such obligations makes the acknowledgements and agreements described below under "— Acknowledgements of Specified Creditors";

(d) if the obligations are Certified Primary Obligations, the Indenture Trustee receives either:

(i) a certified copy of the instrument whereby the Province of Ontario designated in writing that such obligation is an Approved Obligation as contemplated by the Change of Law Protection Agreement; or

(ii) both (A) an Adherence Compliance Certificate addressed to the Indenture Trustee with respect to such obligation delivered in accordance with the Change of Law Protection Agreement; and (B) a certificate signed by the Manager certifying that the Province of Ontario has not provided a Suspension Notice; provided that, in respect of derivative agreements, the Issuer will provide notice to each Rating Agency of the identity of the Derivative Counterparty and the terms of any applicable master agreement and schedule.

Derivative Agreements

The Issuer may, from time to time, enter into one or more derivative agreements, which would consist of a currency swap or interest rate swap, a cap (obligating a Derivative Counterparty to make payments if a reference rate is greater than a specified rate), a floor (obligating a Derivative Counterparty to make payments if a reference rate is less than a specified rate), or a collar (obligating a Derivative Counterparty to make payments if a reference rate is greater than a specified rate and entitling the Derivative Counterparty to receive payments if the same reference rate is less than a lower specified rate), with various counterparties. In general, the Issuer will receive payments from the Derivative Counterparty in exchange for the Issuer's payments to them, to the extent required under the derivative agreements. Payments received by the Issuer will constitute Available Collections.

Acknowledgements of Specified Creditors

Each Specified Creditor must acknowledge and agree in favour of the Indenture Trustee that it is a Specified Creditor under the Master Trust Indenture and that its entitlements as a Specified Creditor are subject to the provisions applicable to Specified Creditors under the Master Trust Indenture including, without limitation, those described under "— Indenture Trustee", "— Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration", "— Debtholder Approvals and Meetings — Access to Debtholder Lists", "— Acceleration and Remedies — Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration", "— Acceleration and Remedies — Rights of Specified Creditors", "— Acceleration and Remedies — Limited Recourse" and "— Acceleration and Remedies — No Petition".

Subordination Provisions

Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer can issue the following classes of Issuer Funding Obligations: "Senior Funding Obligations", "Subordinated Funding Obligations" or "Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations" (each, a "Class"). The payment of interest on Subordinated Funding Obligations shall be subordinate and rank junior to the payment of interest on Senior Funding Obligations and Derivative Funding Obligations. The payment of interest on Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations shall be subordinate and rank junior to the payment of interest on Senior Funding Obligations, Derivative Funding Obligations and Subordinated Funding Obligations. The payment of principal on Subordinated Funding Obligations shall be subordinate and rank junior to the payment of principal on Senior Funding Obligations and Derivative Funding Obligations. The payment of principal on Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations shall be subordinate and rank junior to the payment of principal on Senior Funding Obligations, Derivative Funding Obligations and Subordinated Funding Obligations. In each case, the subordinations are the to the extent and in the manner set forth in the Master Trust Indenture and described under "— Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration" and "— Acceleration and Remedies — Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration".

Subject to the applicable payment waterfall, (i) all Senior Funding Obligations will in all respects be equally and ratably entitled to the benefits of the Master Trust Indenture with respect to such Series or Tranche without preference, priority or distinction on account, (ii) all Subordinated Funding Obligations will in all respects be equally and ratably entitled to the benefits of the Master Trust Indenture with respect to such Series or Tranche without preference, priority or distinction and (iii) all Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations of each Series or Tranche will in all respects be equally and ratably entitled to the benefits of the Master Trust Indenture with respect to such Series or Tranche without preference, priority or distinction, in each case, except as set out in a related Funding Obligation Agreement.

To secure the payment of all Obligations Secured, including principal of and interest on the Issuer Funding Obligations, the Issuer has granted to the Indenture Trustee a security interest in all of its right, title and interest (whether now owned or hereafter acquired or arising) in and to the following property: (i) the Investment Interest acquired by the Issuer; (ii) each Issuer Account (including all sub-accounts); (iii) all Eligible Investments and all investment property, money and other property held in any Issuer Accounts (including all sub-accounts); (iv) all rights, benefits and powers of the Issuer under any Program Agreement; (v) all rights, benefits and powers of the Issuer under the FHPA; (vi) all present and future claims, demands, causes of and choses in action in respect of any of the foregoing and all interest, principal, payments and distributions of any nature or type on any of the foregoing; (vii) all accounts, general intangibles, chattel paper, instruments, documents, goods, money, investment property, deposit accounts, letters of credit and letter-of-credit rights consisting of, arising from, or relating to any of the foregoing; (viii) all debts, accounts, claims, monies and choses in action due or to become due with respect to all of the foregoing and also all securities, bills, notes, evidences of deposits of money, and other documents now held or owned or which may be hereafter taken, held or owned by the Issuer, or anyone on behalf of the Issuer, and all renewals thereof, accretions thereto, substitutions therefor and all interest, income and revenue arising therefrom or by virtue thereof; (ix) all amounts received with respect to all of the foregoing; and (x) all proceeds of the foregoing (collectively, the "Collateral").[48]

Issuer Accounts

Pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer will establish various accounts ("Issuer Accounts") – Program Accounts, Series Accounts and Securities Accounts. Each Issuer Account will be under the sole dominion and exclusive control of the Indenture Trustee. Each Program Account and each Series Account will be established as a segregated trust account with an Eligible Institution (an "Eligible Deposit Account"). If the institution holding any Program Account or Series Account ceases to be an Eligible Institution, the Issuer will establish a new Program Account or Series Account that is an Eligible Deposit Account and transfer any funds or other property from such existing Program Account or Series Account to such new Program Account or Series Account. All Available Collections received by the Issuer will be credited to the Collection Account. "Available Collections" means: (i) all amounts received by the Servicer in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment from Specified Consumers, (ii) IESO Carrying Cost payments (other than the IESO Cash Reserve Deposit Amount); and (iii) amounts received by the Issuer pursuant to derivative agreements. - to facilitate compliance with changes in laws or regulations applicable to the Issuer or the transactions governed by the Program Agreements; or

- to cause the provisions of the Master Trust Indenture to conform to or be consistent with or in furtherance of the statements made in this confidential shelf offering memorandum with respect to the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture.

Additionally, the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture may also be amended by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee without the consent of any Specified Creditor (but with prior notice to each Rating Agency and the Province of Ontario) in the following circumstances, provided that (i) the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee an officer's certificate to the effect that the Issuer reasonably believes that such amendment will not and is not reasonably expected to have an Adverse Effect and (ii) the Rating Agency Condition is satisfied with respect to such amendment:

- to add provisions to, or change in any manner or eliminate any of the provisions of, the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture;

- to modify in any manner the rights of the Specified Creditors under the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture; or

- to provide for those changes necessary for compliance with securities law requirements or banking laws or regulations.

The Indenture Trustee may, but is not obligated to, enter into any amendment which adversely affects its rights, duties, benefits, protections, privileges or immunities under the Master Trust Indenture (or any Supplemental Indenture).

Amendments Requiring Consent of Debtholders

The Issuer and the Indenture Trustee may amend, supplement or otherwise modify and amend the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture for reasons other than those stated in the prior section ("— Amendments not Requiring Consent of Specified Creditors"), with prior notice to each Rating Agency and the Province of Ontario, the consent of Debtholders of each Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations affected by that amendment, supplement or other modification by Ordinary Resolution, and satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition. However, if the amendment, supplement or other modification would result in any of the following events occurring, it may be made only with the consent of each Debtholder of Issuer Funding Obligations affected thereby and satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition:

- a change in an Interest Payment Date, Principal Payment Date or Principal Payment Default Date for any Issuer Funding Obligation;

- a reduction in the principal amount of, or interest rate on, any Note, or a change in the method of computing the outstanding principal amount in a manner that is adverse to any Debtholder;

- a reduction in the amount of a discount note payable upon its acceleration;

- a reduction in the percentage in outstanding principal amount of Issuer Funding Obligations of any Class, Series or Tranche, the consent of whose holders is required for modification or amendment of the Master Trust Indenture, any Supplemental Indenture or any related agreement or for waiver of compliance with provisions of the Master Trust Indenture or for waiver of defaults and their consequences provided for in the Master Trust Indenture;

- a modification of any of the provisions governing the amendment of the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture, or waivers of past defaults, except to increase any percentage of Debtholders required to consent to any such amendment or waiver, or to provide that certain other provisions of the Master Trust Indenture cannot be modified or waived without the consent of each Debtholder affected by such modification;

- a change in the city or political subdivision so designated with respect to any Class, Series or Tranche of Notes where any principal of, or interest on, any Note is payable; or

- a change in the method of computing the amount of principal of, or interest on, any Note on any date.

Debtholder Approvals and Meetings

Access to Debtholder Lists

The Indenture Trustee will preserve the names and addresses of all Specified Creditors received by it in its capacity as Note registrar and those which it has received from the Issuer in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture. Three or more Debtholders of any Series or Tranche, each of whom has owned an Issuer Funding Obligation of such Series or Tranche for at least six months, may, by application to the Indenture Trustee in the prescribed form, obtain access to the current list of Debtholders held by the Indenture Trustee for purposes of communicating with other Debtholders concerning their rights under the Master Trust Indenture (or any Supplemental Indenture) or under the applicable Program Agreement.

Debtholder Meetings

The Master Trust Indenture sets out the mechanics for meetings of Debtholders. The Master Trust Indenture provides for meetings of Debtholders of any Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations, of all Issuer Funding Obligations, of Controlling Class Obligations of a Series or of all Controlling Class Obligations (each of such groups of Debtholders being a "Debtholder Group"). The Indenture Trustee will call a meeting of a Debtholder Group upon request of the Issuer or Debtholders of at least 25% in aggregate outstanding principal amount of the applicable Issuer Funding Obligations. If the Indenture Trustee fails to convene, or cause to be convened, such a meeting after 30 days, the Issuer or those Debtholders may convene the meeting. The Indenture Trustee may call a meeting of a Debtholder Group at any time for any purpose. The quorum for any meeting is one or more persons holding (personally or as proxies) not less than 25% of the outstanding principal amount of the Issuer Funding Obligations of the Debtholder Group entitled to vote at such meeting. Each Debtholder who is present, whether in person or by proxy, will have one vote for every $1,000 of outstanding principal amount of applicable Issuer Funding Obligations of which he or she shall be the holder.

Every question submitted to a meeting, except those matters requiring an Extraordinary Resolution, shall be decided by a majority of the votes (an "Ordinary Resolution"). Any matter requiring an Extraordinary Resolution shall be decided by the affirmative vote of Controlling Class Creditors holding not less than 66⅔% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations (an "Extraordinary Resolution"). Such matters include:

- after the security has become enforceable, authorizing the Indenture Trustee to accept, in satisfaction or partial satisfaction, all or any part of the Collateral;

- after the security has become enforceable, sanctioning the selling of the Collateral or any part thereof or interest therein;

- after the security has become enforceable, authorizing the Indenture Trustee or any other person to bid or tender at any sale of the Collateral or any part thereof and take such actions in connection with such sale as it determines to be in the best interests of all Controlling Class Creditors;

- consenting to any compromise or arrangement by the Issuer with any creditor, creditors or class or classes of creditors or with the holders of any securities of the Issuer whose claims are payable from the Collateral;

- restraining any Debtholder from taking or instituting any suit, action or proceeding for the purpose of realizing on the Collateral or for the execution of any trust or power hereunder or for the appointment of a liquidator, receiver or trustee in bankruptcy or to have the Issuer liquidated or for any other remedy hereunder and to direct such Debtholder to waive any Event of Default on which any suit or proceeding is founded;

- requiring the Indenture Trustee (subject to receipt by the Indenture Trustee of reasonable funding and indemnity) to exercise or refrain from exercising any other powers conferred upon it by the Master Trust Indenture of general application to all Classes of Issuer Funding Obligations, including the exercise of any rights of the Issuer under any of the Program Agreements upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, or cancel any declaration of acceleration made pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture upon such terms and/or conditions as may be decided;

- authorizing the Indenture Trustee, for and on behalf of all Debtholders, to file and prove a claim or debt against the Issuer or its property for an amount equivalent to the aggregate amount which may be payable in respect of all Issuer Funding Obligations, to value the Collateral, and to vote such claim or debt at meetings of creditors and generally act for and on behalf of all Debtholders in such proceedings as such Extraordinary Resolution may provide; and

- appointing a committee to exercise, on behalf of all Controlling Class Creditors, any powers of such Controlling Class Creditors as are exercisable by Extraordinary Resolution or other resolution (as specified in the Extraordinary Resolution appointing such committee).

Any resolution or instrument signed by the requisite number of Debtholders or Controlling Class Creditors, as applicable, shall have the same force and effect as a resolution duly passed at a meeting of such Debtholders or Controlling Class Creditors.

Any action or vote taken at a meeting (including by way of written instrument) of Debtholders of a Debtholder Group duly held in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture will be binding on all Debtholders of that Debtholder Group. An Extraordinary Resolution shall bind all Debtholders and all other Specified Creditors.

In determining whether Noteholders of the requisite principal amount have taken any action under the Master Trust Indenture, (i) Senior Notes owned by the Issuer, the Manager or any affiliate of either of them, and (ii) any Class of Notes (or portion thereof) in which the Province of Ontario has an interest will, in each case, be disregarded and deemed not to be outstanding at any time that a Specified Creditor other than the Province of Ontario has an interest in such Class of Notes. In determining whether the Indenture Trustee will be protected in relying upon any such action, only Senior Notes (or, in the case of the Province of Ontario, any Notes) which a responsible officer of the Indenture Trustee knows to be owned by the Issuer, OPG or any affiliate of either of them, or with respect to which the Province of Ontario has an interest pursuant to the Change of Law Protection Agreement, will be so disregarded.

Whenever an action may be taken by Debtholders of a specified percentage of outstanding principal amount of Issuer Funding Obligations and at such time there are outstanding Issuer Funding Obligations of any relevant Series denominated in a foreign currency, then the principal amount of the Issuer Funding Obligations of such Series which will be deemed to be outstanding for purposes of taking such action will be the amount of Canadian dollars which could be obtained for such principal amount at the market exchange rate on the applicable date.

Events of Default

General

Each of the following events is an "Event of Default":

(a) the Issuer's failure, for a period of 5 days, to pay interest on any Controlling Class Obligations when such interest becomes due and payable;

(b) the Issuer's failure to pay the principal of any Controlling Class Obligations at the Principal Payment Default Date;

(c) any representation or warranty in the Master Trust Indenture proves to be incorrect in any material respect when made and if capable of remedy, such incorrect representation or warranty is not remedied for a period of 60 days after the Indenture Trustee or Controlling Class Creditors holding at least 25% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have provided written notice to the Issuer requesting remedy of that default and stating that as a result of such default, the interests of such Controlling Class Creditors are materially and adversely affected and continue to be materially and adversely affected during the 60-day period;

(d) the Issuer's default in the performance, or breach, of any other of its covenants or warranties in the Master Trust Indenture, for a period of 60 days after the Indenture Trustee or Controlling Class Creditors holding at least 25% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have provided written notice to the Issuer requesting remedy of that default and stating that as a result of such default, the interests of such Controlling Class Creditors are materially and adversely affected and continue to be materially and adversely affected during the 60-day period;

(e) certain events of bankruptcy or insolvency of the Issuer, or the Issuer fails to maintain its existence or status as a Financing Entity;

(f) the Change of Law Protection Agreement ceases to be in full force and effect against the Province of Ontario, or the validity thereof, or the applicability thereof to the Province of Ontario or any Controlling Class Obligations is disaffirmed by the Province of Ontario;

(g) an Acceleration Event has occurred and Controlling Class Creditors holding at least 25% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have provided written notice to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee specifying the default;

(h) the Issuer's default in the performance of its covenant to deliver payment instructions for a period of three days after the Indenture Trustee has provided written notice thereof;

(i) at any time, the amounts withdrawn from the Program Cash Reserve Account prior to such time exceed the aggregate of (x) 0.50% of the largest outstanding principal amount of all Senior Funding Obligations, Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations on or prior to such time, (y) the sum of all amounts deposited to the Program Cash Reserve Account, and (z) all interest and earnings (net of losses and investment expenses), if any, on funds credited to the Program Cash Reserve Account; or

(j) a Servicer Default occurs.

If Controlling Class Obligations constituting 25% or more of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have been accelerated in accordance with their Funding Obligation Agreements, the thresholds required in clauses (c), (d) or (g) will be deemed to have been met.

Waiver of Default

Subject to the summary provided for below under "— Acceleration and Remedies — General", Controlling Class Creditors may, by Ordinary Resolution, waive any past Default under the Master Trust Indenture so long as the Rating Agency Condition in respect of each Series or Tranche of Controlling Class Obligations has been satisfied.

Acceleration and Remedies

General

If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default described in paragraph (e) or (f)) occurs and is continuing, either the Indenture Trustee or Controlling Class Creditors holding not less than 50% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations (treated as one class) may declare the outstanding principal amount of all Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations) to be immediately due and payable. If Controlling Class Obligations constituting 50% or more of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have been accelerated in accordance with their Funding Obligation Agreements, the 50% threshold required will be deemed to have been met. The occurrence of an Event of Default described in paragraph (e) or (f) results in an automatic acceleration of all Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations).

A declaration of acceleration or an automatic acceleration may be rescinded by Extraordinary Resolution if (i) the Issuer has paid all overdue interest, principal that has become due (other by reason of acceleration) on Controlling Class Obligations and other amounts set out in the Master Trust Indenture, and (ii) all Events of Default (other than non-payment of principal) have been cured or waived.

If Controlling Class Obligations are accelerated, the Indenture Trustee may amongst other things, (i) apply to a court for an order of sequestration and payment of amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment in accordance with the FHPA, (ii) take possession of the Collateral, (iii) appoint a receiver with respect to the Collateral, (iv) initiate proceedings in any court for the appointment of a receiver or for sale or foreclosure, (v) exercise rights, remedies, powers, privileges and claims under any Program Agreement, including the right to terminate and replace the Manager or the Servicer, or (vi) take any other action, suit, remedy or proceeding authorized or permitted by the Master Trust Indenture or by applicable law. The Indenture Trustee is not obligated to exercise any of its rights or powers under the Master Trust Indenture at the request or direction of any Controlling Class Creditors unless Controlling Class Creditors offer the Indenture Trustee a reasonable indemnity.

See "Risk Factors — Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset" and "Risk Factors — Insolvency-Related Risks Relating to the Issuer".

Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration

After acceleration of the Issuer Funding Obligations (other than derivative agreements), any money or other property standing to the credit of an Issuer Account (except as set out below) or otherwise collected by the Indenture Trustee will be applied in the following priority:

(a) first, to the payment or remittance of taxes for which a governmental authority is given priority over the Specified Creditors under the laws of the applicable jurisdiction;

(b) second, to pay fees, expenses and reimbursement amounts owing to the Issuer Trustee and the Indenture Trustee;

(c) third, pari passu (i) to pay interest, fees and other amounts (other than principal) owing in respect of Senior Funding Obligations and (ii) to pay all Derivative Funding Obligations (other than termination payments);

(d) fourth, to pay interest, fees and other amounts (other than principal) owing in respect of Subordinated Funding Obligations;

(e) fifth, to pay interest, fees and other amounts (other than principal) owing in respect of Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations;

(f) sixth, to pay principal owing in respect of Warehouse Obligations;

(g) seventh, pari passu (A) to pay principal owing in respect of Senior Funding Obligations (other than Warehouse Obligations) and (B) to pay termination payments owing to Derivative Counterparties where the Derivative Counterparty is not the defaulting party or the sole affected party;

(h) eighth, to pay fees, expenses and reimbursement amounts owing to the Manager;

(i) ninth, to pay principal owing in respect of Subordinated Funding Obligations;

(j) tenth, to pay principal owing in respect of Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations;

(k) eleventh, to pay termination payments owing to Derivative Counterparties where the Derivative Counterparty is the defaulting party or the sole affected party;

(l) twelfth, to pay all indemnity amounts owing to the Manager;

(m) thirteenth, pari passu (i) to the payment or remittance of taxes not previously paid pursuant to paragraph (a), and (ii) to pay all amounts owing to Specified Creditors not specifically referred to above; in each case, including, for each referenced party, any amounts payable to their respective affiliates under the terms of any relevant indemnity; and

(n) fourteenth, to pay any remaining amounts to the Issuer.

However, amounts on deposit in a Series Account will first be used to satisfy all obligations owing to the Debtholders or Derivative Counterparties for whom such Series Account was established. Thereafter, such amounts will be applied in accordance with the priorities set out above. In addition, amounts on deposit in the Protection Account will only be used to satisfy the obligations for which those amounts were deposited.

Rights of Specified Creditors

No Specified Creditor will have the right to institute any proceeding, judicial or otherwise, with respect to the Master Trust Indenture, or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee or similar official, or for any other remedy under the Master Trust Indenture. A Controlling Class Creditor may exercise such rights if:

(a) the Issuer or a Controlling Class Creditor has previously given to the Indenture Trustee written notice of a continuing Event of Default;

(b) Controlling Class Creditors, by Ordinary Resolution, have made written request of the Indenture Trustee to institute the proceeding in its own name as Indenture Trustee;

(c) Controlling Class Creditors have offered the Indenture Trustee a satisfactory indemnity; and

(d) the Indenture Trustee has, for 60 days, failed to institute the proceeding.

Subject to certain powers which may only be exercised by Extraordinary Resolution, Controlling Class Creditors, by Ordinary Resolution, will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Indenture Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Indenture Trustee with respect to all Issuer Funding Obligations. However, the Indenture Trustee may decline to follow such direction if it determines (based on advice from counsel) that such direction (i) conflicts with applicable law or the Master Trust Indenture, (ii) has a substantial likelihood of involving the Indenture Trustee in personal liability or (iii) is unjustly prejudicial to Controlling Class Creditors not taking part such direction. See "— Debtholder Approvals and Meetings — Debtholder Meetings" for a description of certain powers which may only be exercised by Extraordinary Resolution. Specified Creditors (other than Debtholders) do not have any right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Indenture Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Indenture Trustee. Specified Creditors (other than Debtholders) will only have the right to receive proceeds following an Event of Default.

Limited Recourse

The obligation of the Issuer to pay principal of and interest on the Issuer Funding Obligations or any other amount payable to any Specified Creditor is subject to the allocation and payment provisions in the Master Trust Indenture and the applicable Funding Obligation Agreement and limited to amounts available from the Collateral. Neither the Indenture Trustee, the Manager nor the Issuer Trustee in its individual capacity, nor any holder of any unit in the Issuer, nor any of their respective owners, beneficiaries, agents, officers, directors, employees, successors or assigns will, in the absence of an express agreement to the contrary, be personally liable for the payment of the principal of or interest on the Notes or any other Issuer Funding Obligation, or for the Issuer's covenants and agreements contained in the Master Trust Indenture.

No Petition

Each Specified Creditor, by accepting its rights as a beneficiary under the Master Trust Indenture, agrees that until one year and one day following repayment in full of all Issuer Funding Obligations, it will not commence (or join in commencing) a bankruptcy, insolvency or similar proceeding under the laws of any jurisdiction against the Issuer.

Force Majeure

The Indenture Trustee and the Issuer Trustee will not be responsible or liable for any failure or delay in the performance of their obligations under the Master Trust Indenture arising out of or caused by, directly or indirectly, forces beyond their control, including loss or malfunctions of utilities, communications or computer services.

Satisfaction and Discharge

The Master Trust Indenture will cease to be of further effect with respect to any Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations when:

(a) (x) in the case of Notes, all Notes of that Class, Series or Tranche which had been outstanding, with certain exceptions set forth in the Master Trust Indenture, have been delivered to the Indenture Trustee for cancellation or been cancelled, or (y) in the case of all other Issuer Funding Obligations, all Issuer Funding Obligations of that Class, Series or Tranche have been paid in full, as certified by the Issuer;

(b) the Issuer has paid all other sums payable by it under the Master Trust Indenture with respect to that Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations; and

(c) the Issuer has delivered to the Indenture Trustee an officer's certificate and an opinion of external counsel each stating that the conditions precedent in the Master Trust Indenture relating to the satisfaction and discharge with respect to that Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations have been complied with.

The Master Trust Indenture will cease to be of further effect when all Issuer Funding Obligations have been satisfied and discharged in accordance with the previous paragraph and all other Obligations Secured have been paid in full, as certified by the Issuer.

DESCRIPTION OF NOTES

The following description of the Senior Notes is a summary of certain of their material attributes and characteristics, and does not purport to be complete. The terms and conditions set forth in this "Description of the Senior Notes" section will apply to each Senior Note unless otherwise specified in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering. For further particulars, reference should be made to the Master Trust Indenture and the Supplemental Indenture and Terms Document, if any, relating to the particular Series or Tranche of Senior Notes.

General

The Senior Notes will be issued under the Master Trust Indenture and will be Funding Obligations issued in connection with the financing program described under the heading "Capital Markets Platform". The specific terms and conditions of each Series of Senior Notes will be set forth in the Supplemental Indenture authorizing that Series and the specific terms and conditions of any Tranche of Senior Notes will be set forth in the Supplemental Indenture or the Terms Document authorizing that Tranche.

Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer may issue an unlimited principal amount of Senior Notes. See "Capital Markets Platform — Conditions Precedent to Incurrence of Obligations Secured — Issuer Funding Obligations". The Senior Notes will be direct obligations of the Issuer and secured in the manner provided for under the Master Trust Indenture. See "Capital Markets Platform — Security".

The Supplemental Indenture or Terms Document will describe the following terms of the Senior Notes:

- the Series designation;
- stated principal amount of the Senior Notes;
- whether such Senior Notes are of a particular Tranche of Senior Notes;
- the currency or currencies in which such Senior Notes will be denominated and in which payments of principal of, and interest on, such Senior Notes will or may be payable;
- the price at which such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will be issued;
- the times at which such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes may, pursuant to any optional redemption provisions, be redeemed, and the other terms and provisions of any such redemption;
- the rate per annum at which such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will bear interest, if any, or the formula or index on which such rate will be determined;
- each Interest Payment Date, each Principal Payment Date and the Principal Payment Default Date for such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes;
- the Principal Accumulation Date(s) and Principal Accumulation Amount(s) for such Series of Senior Notes;
- the initial principal amount of such Senior Notes, and the means for calculating the outstanding principal amount of such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes;
- whether or not application will be made to list such Series or Tranche of Notes on any securities exchange;
- any events of default with respect to such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes;

- if such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will be issued in whole or in part in the form of a global note, the terms and conditions, if any, upon which such global note may be exchanged for other individual Senior Notes, and the depository for such global note;

- if such Class, Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will be issued in whole or in part in registered form, bearer form or both, and if such Senior Notes will be issued with or without coupons;

- if such Class, Series or Tranche will have the benefit of a credit enhancement agreement or liquidity agreement, and the terms and provisions of the applicable agreement;

- the record date for any Interest Payment Date or Principal Payment Date of such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes, if different from the last of the month before the related Interest Payment Date or Principal Payment Date; and

- whether and under what conditions, additional amounts will be payable to Noteholders of such Series or Tranche of Notes.

Payments of Principal and Interest

Interest will accrue on the principal balance of each Series or Tranche of Senior Note at the interest rate specified in the related Term Sheet and will be payable on the Interest Payment Date(s) specified in the related Term Sheet. Principal of each Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will be payable in the amounts and on the Principal Payment Date(s) specified in the related Term Sheet. The Term Sheet applicable to a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will also set out the Principal Payment Default Date for such Senior Notes, which is the date on which failure to pay the principal amount of such Senior Notes will result in an Event of Default.

On each Payment Date, the Issuer will, to the extent funds are available therefor from the Collection Account (see "Capital Markets Platform — Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration — Collection Account"), transfer to the Interest Accumulation Account the aggregate amount of interest that has accrued on each Series of Senior Notes (together with all other amounts to be accrued for other Issuer Funding Obligations). On each Interest Payment Date for a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes, the Paying Agent will pay to the holders of such Senior Notes interest then due on such Senior Notes using amounts available therefor from the Interest Accumulation Account, the Principal Accumulation Account, the IESO Cash Reserve Account, the Program Cash Reserve Account and the Protection Account. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement" and "Capital Markets Platform — Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration".

On each Payment Date, the Issuer will, to the extent funds are available therefor from the Collection Account (see "Capital Markets Platform — Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration — Collection Account"), transfer to the Principal Accumulation Account the aggregate of the amounts the Issuer is required to accumulate for each Series of Senior Notes (together with all other amounts to be accumulated for other Issuer Funding Obligations). The Term Sheet applicable to a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will set out the Principal Accumulation Amount(s) and the Principal Accumulation Date(s) for such Senior Notes. On each Principal Payment Date for a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes, the Paying Agent will pay to the holders of such Senior Notes the principal then due on such Senior Notes using amounts available therefor from the Principal Accumulation Account, the Program Cash Reserve Account and the Protection Account. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement" and "Capital Markets Platform — Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration". Holders of Senior Notes may receive principal payments earlier than a Principal Payment Date if an optional redemption occurs and may receive principal payments later than a Principal Payment Date if there are insufficient Available Collections. See "Risk Factors" for a discussion of factors that may affect the timing of principal payments on a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes. It is not an Event of Default if the stated principal amount of a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes is not paid in full on a Principal Payment Date. If the stated principal amount of a Senior Note is not paid in full by its Principal Payment Default Date, an Event of Default will occur. See "Capital Markets Platform — Events of Default".

Unless otherwise specified in a Term Sheet, the Issuer has designated the Indenture Trustee as its Paying Agent for all Senior Notes having a place of payment in Toronto, Ontario.

Optional Redemption of Senior Notes

If a Supplemental Indenture for any Series or Tranche of Senior Notes states that such Senior Notes will be redeemable, in whole at any time or in part from time to time, such Senior Notes will be redeemable at the option of the Issuer at the redemption price specified in the Supplemental Indenture. If less than all the Senior Notes of any Series or Tranche are to be redeemed at one time, the Senior Notes of such Series or Tranche to be redeemed will be selected by the Indenture Trustee on a pro rata basis according to the principal amount of such Senior Notes registered in the name of each holder thereof, or in such other manner as the Indenture Trustee may consider equitable.

Notice of any redemption will be delivered to each holder of the Senior Notes to be redeemed, electronically or by mail (postage prepaid) at the address of such holder appearing in the Note register (or published in an authorized newspaper in the case of Senior Notes held in bearer form) or otherwise in accordance with the procedures of the depository, at least 15 days but not more than 30 days before the redemption date, except that redemption notices may be delivered more than 30 days prior to the redemption date if the notice is issued in connection with a satisfaction and discharge of the Master Trust Indenture with respect to such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes. The notice of redemption will state (i) the portion of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed (provided that no Senior Notes in an aggregate principal amount of 1,000 units of the applicable currency or less will be redeemed in part), (ii) the redemption date and (iii) the redemption price. Unless the Issuer defaults in payment of the redemption price, on and after the redemption date, interest will cease to accrue on the Senior Notes or portions of the Senior Notes called for redemption. A replacement note in principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion thereof will be issued in the name of the holder thereof upon cancellation of the original note; provided, however, that, in the case of a global note, an appropriate notation may instead be made on such note to decrease the principal amount thereof to an amount equal to the unredeemed portion thereof.

The Term Sheet for each Offering will identify the redemption provisions of the applicable Notes at the time of such Offering.

Purchase for Cancellation

The Issuer may purchase or otherwise acquire, at any time or from time to time, all or any of the outstanding Senior Notes of any Series or Tranche in the market or by invitation for tenders or by private contract at such prices as it may determine in its sole discretion. All such Senior Notes purchased by the Issuer will be cancelled. If, upon a tender, more Senior Notes of a Series or Tranche are tendered at the same lowest price than the Issuer is prepared to accept, the Senior Notes of such Series or Tranche to be purchased will be selected by the Indenture Trustee on a pro rata basis according to the principal amount of such Senior Notes registered in the name of each holder thereof, or in such other manner as the Indenture Trustee may consider equitable.

DEPOSITORY SERVICES

Except as otherwise provided below, the Senior Notes will be issued in "book-entry only" form and must be purchased, transferred, redeemed or exchanged through participants ("Participants") in the depository service of a depository chosen by the Issuer (the "depository") or its nominee, which include securities brokers and dealers, banks and trust companies. On the closing date of an Offering, the Issuer will cause a global certificate representing the Senior Notes to be delivered to, and registered in the name of, the depository or its nominee. Except as described below, no purchaser of Senior Notes will be entitled to a certificate or other instrument from the Issuer or the depository evidencing that purchaser's ownership thereof, and no purchaser will be shown on the records maintained by the depository except through a book-entry account of a Participant acting on behalf of such purchaser. Each purchaser of Senior Notes will typically receive a customer confirmation of purchase from the registered dealer from which the Senior Notes are purchased in accordance with the practices and procedures of that registered dealer. The practices of registered dealers may vary, but generally, customer confirmations are issued promptly after execution of a customer order. The depository will be responsible for establishing and maintaining book-entry accounts for its Participants having interests in the Senior Notes.

Neither the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee nor the Agents will assume any liability for: (i) any aspect of the records relating to the beneficial ownership of the Senior Notes held by the depository or the payments relating thereto; (ii) maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to the Senior Notes; or (iii) any advice or representation made by or with respect to the depository or those contained in this confidential shelf offering memorandum and relating to the rules governing the depository or any action to be taken by the depository or at the direction of its Participants. The rules governing the depository provide that it acts as the agent and depository for the Participants. As a result, Participants must look solely to the depository and persons, other than Participants, having an interest in the Senior Notes must look solely to Participants for payments made by or on behalf of the Issuer to the depository in respect of the Senior Notes.

If: (i) required by applicable law; (ii) the depository notifies the Issuer in writing that the depository is no longer willing or able to discharge properly the responsibilities of a depository with respect to the Senior Notes and the Issuer is unable to locate a qualified successor; (iii) the Issuer determines the Senior Notes in book-entry only form should be exchanged for definitive certificates and the Issuer delivers a written notice to such effect to the Indenture Trustee; (iv) an Event of Default has occurred and Noteholders holding more than 50% of the Controlling Class Obligations of any Series of Senior Notes determine such book-entry system is no longer in the best interests of the holders of that Series; or (v) the book-entry system is terminated, then certificates representing the Senior Notes will be issued to the beneficial owners of Senior Notes.

Interest on the Senior Notes will be paid directly to CDS while the book-entry only system is in effect. If definitive certificates are issued, interest will be paid by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the accounts specified by the holders thereof or, if no such account is specified, by mailing a cheque to each such holder's registered address. Payment of principal, and the interest due, at maturity, will be paid directly to CDS while the book-entry only system is in effect. If definitive certificates are issued, payment of principal, and interest due, at maturity, will be paid upon surrender thereof at any office of the Trustee or as otherwise specified in the Indenture.

Manner of Effecting Transfer or Redemption

A transfer or redemption of Senior Notes held in "book-entry form" only will be effected through records maintained by the depository or its nominee with respect to interests of Participants, and on the records of Participants with respect to interests of persons other than Participants. Purchasers of such Senior Notes who are not Participants, but who desire to purchase, sell or otherwise transfer ownership of or other interests in the Senior Notes, may do so only through Participants.

DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg

Where CDS acts as depository for a series of Senior Notes, to the extent the Issuer makes such series of Senior Notes eligible with The Depositary Trust Company ("DTC"), Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V., as operator of the Euroclear System ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream, Luxembourg"), and the Issuer specifies as such in the Term Sheet with respect to the particular series of Senior Notes, holders may hold such series of Senior Notes through the accounts maintained by DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable, as participants in CDS only if they are participants of those systems, or indirectly through organizations which are participants of those systems.

In such case, DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg will hold omnibus book-entry positions on behalf of their participants through customers' securities accounts in their respective depositaries which in turn will hold such positions in customers' securities accounts in the names of the nominees of the depositaries on the books of CDS. All securities in DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg are held on a fungible basis without attribution of specific certificates to specific securities clearance accounts.

Transfers of such Senior Notes by persons holding through Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg participants, as applicable, will be effected through CDS, in accordance with CDS rules, on behalf of the relevant European international clearing system by its depositaries; however, such transactions will require delivery of transfer instructions to the relevant European international clearing system by the participant in such system in accordance with its rules and procedures and within its established deadlines (European time). The relevant European international clearing system will, if the transfer meets its requirements, deliver instructions to its depositaries to take action to effect the transfer of the Senior Notes on its behalf by delivering Senior Notes through CDS and receiving payment in accordance with its normal procedures for next-day funds settlement. Payments with respect to the Senior Notes held through Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg will be credited to the cash accounts of Euroclear participants or Clearstream, Luxembourg participants in accordance with the relevant system's rules and procedures, to the extent received by its depositaries.

All information in this confidential shelf offering memorandum concerning CDS, DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, reflects the Issuer's understanding of the policies of such organizations which may change at any time without notice.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The Senior Notes may be sold by the Issuer directly pursuant to applicable statutory exemptions or through agents designated by the Issuer from time to time. Each Term Sheet will identify the Agents engaged in connection with the applicable Offering of Senior Notes and will also set forth the terms of the Offering of Senior Notes, including the net proceeds to the Issuer and, to the extent applicable, any fees payable to the Agents. The Agents will conditionally offer the Senior Notes for sale on a "best efforts" basis, if, as and when issued and delivered by the Issuer in accordance with the conditions contained in an agency agreement (the "Agency Agreement") between the Issuer, OPG and the Agents to be entered into on or about the date of each Term Sheet. The Agents will be paid a fee by the Issuer for their services rendered to the Issuer in connection with the offering, issue and sale of the Senior Notes. The obligations of the Agents under the Agency Agreement may be terminated upon the occurrence of certain stated events. The Agents may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price of the Senior Notes at a level different than that which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

The Senior Notes may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, in Canada or to or for the account of any Canadian resident except, in the case of sales made in any province of Canada, pursuant to an exemption from the prospectus requirements in Section 2.3 of NI 45-106 and, in the case of a purchaser resident in Ontario, section 73.3(2) of the Securities Act (Ontario), also known as the "accredited investor" exemption. In addition, Senior Notes will not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, to individuals unless those individuals are also "permitted clients" within the meaning of NI 31-103.

Resale of the Senior Notes will be subject to restrictions under applicable securities legislation which vary depending on the relevant jurisdictions. The Senior Notes may only be sold on a basis that is exempt from the prospectus requirements of applicable securities legislation through an appropriately registered dealer or pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of applicable securities legislation. See "Restrictions on Resale".

This confidential shelf offering memorandum does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any of the Senior Notes in the United States. The Senior Notes have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act or any state securities laws and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as such term is defined in Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act) unless the Senior Notes are registered under the U.S. Securities Act and applicable state securities laws or an exemption therefrom is available. In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of an Offering, any offer or sale of the Senior Notes within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in an Offering) may violate the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with an exemption from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act. Each Agent has agreed that, except as permitted by an Agency Agreement, it will not offer or sell the Senior Notes as part of the distribution of the Senior Notes at any time within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in Senior Notes involves certain risks. Prospective investors in the Senior Notes should carefully consider all the information included in this confidential shelf offering memorandum, including the risks described below, before deciding to invest in the Senior Notes. This section does not describe all risks applicable to the Issuer and is intended only as a summary of certain material risks. In addition, prospective investors should consult their own financial and other legal and tax advisors, and should carefully consider, among other matters, the following discussion of risks before deciding whether to purchase Senior Notes.

Judicial, Legislative or Regulatory Risks

Future legal action might challenge or invalidate the FHPA or the Regulations and materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

The Investment Asset is a creation of the FHPA, which became effective on June 1, 2017. The Issuer will be the first Financing Entity under the FHPA to issue Funding Obligations as contemplated under the FHPA. The FHPA, the Regulations or any provisions thereof might be directly contested in courts or otherwise become the subject of litigation. The FHPA is novel legislation in Canada and therefore there are no precedents to rely on to support the validity of the FHPA or the Regulations.

As of the date of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, no such litigation has arisen; however, there can be no assurance that a lawsuit challenging the validity of some portion or all of the FHPA or the Regulations will not be filed in the future or that, if filed, such lawsuit will not be successful. If such a lawsuit was successful, and an invalidation of any relevant underlying legislative or regulatory provision were to result that did not constitute a Protection Event under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, a holder of Senior Notes may lose some or all of their investment in the Senior Notes or experience significant delays in recovering their investment in the Senior Notes. Even if the successful lawsuit constitutes a Protection Event, under the terms of the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the Province of Ontario is not obligated to pay or indemnify the Indenture Trustee or any Specified Creditor for consequential, special or punitive damages, or for economic loss or loss of profits (provided that economic loss does not include any amount in respect of an amount due and payable to a Specified Creditor under the Limited Guarantee).

Future legislative action to change the FHPA, the Regulations, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or the electricity market might materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

The FHPA provides that no act or omission of the Crown shall be effective to reduce, impair, postpone or terminate the obligations of Specified Consumers to pay amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment or to impair or postpone the invoicing, collection or remittance of the Clean Energy Adjustment. Ontario does not have a referendum or initiative process by which the FHPA may be amended or repealed. Therefore, the only way for such provisions of the FHPA to be amended or repealed would be through a subsequent legislative action by the Province of Ontario. A determination by the Province of Ontario that, for political or other reasons, the FHPA or the Regulations should no longer be law in Ontario or that the FHPA or Regulations should be amended to limit or delay the recovery of Clean Energy Adjustments, could result in a decision to make such an amendment, repeal or revocation. Any such action that adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of the Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable (determined after taking into account certain factors described above in the definition of "Protection Event") would be subject to the Change of Law Protection Agreement. Under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the Province of Ontario is not obligated to pay or indemnify the Indenture Trustee or any Specified Creditor for consequential, special or punitive damages, or for economic loss or loss of profits (provided that economic loss does not include any amount in respect of an amount due and payable to a Specified Creditor under the Limited Guarantee). See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". However, future legislative action by the Province of Ontario could also be taken that would have the effect of voiding or otherwise rendering invalid the Change of Law Protection Agreement.

Canada does not have any constitutional protection of property rights. While an adverse impact of statutory measures on private property has, in some circumstances, been judicially held to entitle property owners to compensation, such entitlements themselves can also be extinguished by legislation. Accordingly, if the provisions of the FHPA or the Regulations referenced in the previous paragraph were amended or revoked through subsequent legislative action of the Province of Ontario and future legislative action was also taken by the Province of Ontario that had the effect of voiding or otherwise rendering invalid the Change of Law Protection Agreement, a holder of Senior Notes may lose some or all of their investment in the Senior Notes or experience significant delays in recovering their investment in the Senior Notes.

Future judicial action could reduce the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

The Investment Asset is the creation of the FHPA. There is uncertainty associated with investing in Senior Notes payable from an interest in an asset that depends on legislation for its existence because there is no juridical or regulatory experience implementing and interpreting the legislation or similar legislation in Canada. Because the Investment Asset is a creation of the FHPA, any judicial determination interpreting the FHPA or the Investment Asset might have an adverse effect on a holder of Senior Notes' investment in the Senior Notes.

Potential difficulties in enforcing civil liabilities against the Province of Ontario may arise.

Under the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), the remedies of injunction and specific performance are not available against the Province of Ontario, although the remedy of damages is available.[50] Nothing in the Change of Law Protection Agreement or the Program Agreements affects the rights, protections and immunities of the Crown under the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario). As a result, if the Province of Ontario fails to comply with the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the Indenture Trustee's ability to obtain an effective remedy against the Province of Ontario is limited and holders of Senior Notes may lose some or all of their investments in the Senior Notes or experience significant delays in recovering their investments.[51]

Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset

Clean Energy Adjustments will not be payable until May 1, 2021 and until such time the IESO will be the sole source of funds for payment on the Senior Notes.

During the Moratorium Period, no Clean Energy Adjustments are permitted to be collected from Specified Consumers. During the Moratorium Period, a holder of Senior Notes must rely for payment of interest on the Senior Notes, and the Issuer must rely for payment of all of its other Carrying Costs, solely upon the IESO who is obligated under the Regulations to pay these Carrying Costs. The IESO has granted the Issuer a first-priority security interest in all its accounts receivable from Electricity Vendors, which includes the amounts receivable by the IESO from Electricity Vendors with respect to the global adjustment charge, as security for the performance of its regulatory obligation to pay the Issuer's Carrying Costs. The IESO also has a $2 billion unsecured credit facility agreement with the Ontario Financing Authority, expiring ■, 20■, which is permitted to be used to pay the Issuer's Carrying Costs. [NTD: IESO credit facility description to be confirmed.][52] There can be no assurance that the IESO will continue to have sufficient funds available to pay interest on the Senior Notes or to pay the Issuer's other Carrying Costs during the Moratorium Period. If the Issuer enforces the security granted to the Issuer by the IESO during this period, there can be no assurance that the IESO's accounts receivable from Electricity Vendors will be sufficient to pay interest on the Senior Notes or the Issuer's other Carrying Costs and a holder of Senior Notes may suffer material payment delay on the Senior Notes during the Moratorium Period.

The Issuer's ability to enforce security granted by the IESO may be significantly impaired or delayed.

Under various Canadian bankruptcy, insolvency and restructuring statutes or Canadian federal or provincial receivership laws, including the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Canada), the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (Canada), the Canada Business Corporations Act, the Winding-up and Restructuring Act, and various provincial corporate statutes (collectively, "Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws"), the Issuer's ability to enforce security granted by the IESO may be significantly impaired or delayed. In view of the broad discretionary powers of courts under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, it is not possible to predict how long payments of Carrying Costs by the IESO or enforcement of any letter of credit or performance guarantee provided by the IESO could be delayed following commencement of a proceeding under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws by the IESO or whether or when the Issuer would be able to repossess or dispose of the assets over which it holds a security interest. Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws also contemplate the granting of super priority security interests or charges (which could be in priority to the security of existing secured creditors) on the assets of the debtor company to secure the repayment of any amounts to be borrowed to facilitate the insolvency proceeding, any amounts owing for the fees and costs of professionals involved in the insolvency proceeding, obligations of directors of the company with respect to their statutory liabilities and sometimes other amounts.

[50] Note: Consider mentioning that section 21 of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario) prohibits execution, attachment and process against the Province.

[51] Note: Consider mentioning, as a mitigant, that section 22 of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), which states that "the Minister of Finance shall pay out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund the amount payable by the Crown, (a) under an order of a court that is final and not subject to appeal; (b) under a settlement of a proceeding in a court…".

[52] Note: Is there any other information to be added apart from the expiry date?

Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws also contain provisions enabling an obligor to prepare and file a proposal or a plan of arrangement or reorganization for consideration by all or some of its creditors, to be voted on by the various classes of creditors affected thereby. Such a restructuring proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization, if accepted by the requisite majority of each class of affected creditors and if approved by the relevant Canadian court, would be binding on all creditors of the applicable obligor within the affected classes, including the Issuer, whether or not the Issuer votes in favour of the restructuring proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization. Such a proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization may have the effect of compromising certain rights available to the Issuer with respect to the payment of Carrying Costs or enforcement of any security provided by the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement.

A holder of Senior Notes may experience material payment delays because the source of funds for payment after the Moratorium Period is limited.

A holder of Senior Notes may suffer material payment delays on the Senior Notes if the collateral securing the Senior Notes is insufficient to pay the accrued interest on and the principal amount of those Senior Notes in full. During the Moratorium Period, a holder of Senior Notes must rely for payment of interest on the Senior Notes, and the Issuer must rely for payment of all of its other Carrying Costs, solely upon the IESO who is obligated under the Regulations to pay these Carrying Costs. After the Moratorium Period, the only source of funds for payments of interest on and principal of the Senior Notes will be the collateral. The collateral for the Senior Notes will include:

- the Investment Interest, including the right to impose, bill, collect and receive Clean Energy Adjustment amounts, inclusive of the True-up Amount;
- the cash and investments on deposit in the accounts held by the Indenture Trustee; and
- the Issuer's rights under various contracts described in this confidential shelf offering memorandum and under the FHPA and the Regulations.

The Senior Notes will not be insured or guaranteed by the Province of Ontario, the IESO, OPG or any of their respective affiliates, the Indenture Trustee or any other person or entity, except pursuant to the Limited Guarantee provided by the Province of Ontario upon the occurrence of a Protection Event and delivery by the Indenture Trustee to the Province of Ontario of a written payment demand. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". The Senior Notes will be nonrecourse obligations, secured only by the collateral. Delays in payment on the Senior Notes might result in a reduction in the market value of the Senior Notes and, therefore, the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

The Senior Notes do not constitute a debt, liability or other obligation of, or interest in, OPG or any of its other affiliates (other than the Issuer). The Senior Notes are not a debt, liability or other obligation of the Province of Ontario or any of its political subdivisions, agencies or instrumentalities.

A holder of Senior Notes must rely for payment of principal of and interest on the Senior Notes solely upon the FHPA and the Regulations, rights to enforcement of the FHPA, the Regulations and of various agreements described in this confidential shelf offering memorandum, collections of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts and cash and investments on deposit in the related accounts held pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture.

The Clean Energy Adjustment may not be billed after April 30, 2047, unless further regulations to extend that date are passed.

The Clean Energy Adjustment may not be billed to Specified Consumers after April 30, 2047, unless further regulations to extend that date are passed. If Clean Energy Adjustment amounts billed through this period are not sufficient to repay the Senior Notes in full and further regulations to extend this date are not passed, apart from amounts in the capital accounts, if any, no other funds will be available to pay the unpaid balance due on the Senior Notes.

Foreclosure of the Indenture Trustee's lien on the Investment Interest securing the Senior Notes might not be practical and acceleration of the Senior Notes before maturity might have little practical effect.

Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Indenture Trustee on behalf of the holders of Senior Notes and other creditors has the right to foreclose or otherwise enforce the lien granted to the Indenture Trustee by the Issuer on the collateral securing the Senior Notes. However, in the event of foreclosure, there is likely to be a limited market, if any, for the collateral. Therefore, foreclosure might not be a realistic or practical remedy. Moreover, although principal of the Senior Notes will be due and payable upon acceleration of the Senior Notes before maturity, under the Regulations, the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment may not be increased to take into account such acceleration (subject to limited exceptions depending on the Fair Allocation Amount at the time). As a result, this limitation on increases to the Clean Energy Adjustment at the time of any acceleration of the Senior Notes prior to maturity will result in principal of the Senior Notes being paid on acceleration as funds become available. However, upon such acceleration, the priority of principal payments to creditors of the Issuer will result in all accelerated Senior Notes being repaid in full before any further payments of principal are made to holders of subordinated indebtedness of the Issuer. In the event of an acceleration, holders of Senior Notes may be paid sooner or later than originally expected.

The Issuer may issue multiple Series of Senior Notes secured by the Investment Interest and some decisions affecting holders of Senior Notes may require the approval of all Series.

The Issuer may issue multiple Series of Senior Notes all of which will be secured by the collateral securing the Senior Notes. The Issuer may not issue additional Series of Senior Notes if the issuance would not satisfy the Rating Agency Condition and certain other conditions precedent in the Master Trust Indenture. See "Capital Markets Platform — Conditions Precedent to Incurrence of Obligations Secured — Issuer Funding Obligations". If additional Series of Senior Notes are issued, Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected by or for the benefit of the Issuer will be prorated among the Series of Senior Notes based on the respective amounts of interest and principal due and payable or required to be accumulated in respect of each Series of Senior Notes. Any issuance of additional Series of Senior Notes by the Issuer could cause reductions or delays in payment on the Senior Notes. In addition, some matters relating to the Senior Notes issued by the Issuer may require the vote of the holders of all Series of Senior Notes. The interests of holders of a particular Series of Senior Notes in these votes might conflict with the interests of the holders of another Series of Senior Notes. Thus, these votes could result in an outcome that is materially unfavorable to holders of a particular Series of Senior Notes.

The Master Trust Indenture contains Events of Default (other than those pertaining to the insolvency of the Issuer or invalidity of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) that can only be declared by Debtholders who hold at least 25% of the outstanding Controlling Class Obligations. If any such Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, Debtholders who hold at least 50% of the outstanding Controlling Class Obligations may accelerate all Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations). However, it is possible for individual Series of Senior Notes to have their own acceleration events such that those individual Series of Senior Notes may be accelerated while other Series of Issuer Funding Obligations would not be accelerated. In such a case, (i) the allocation of Available Collections to the holders of accelerated Series of Issuer Funding Obligations in a Class would be higher relative to the non-accelerated Series of Issuer Funding Obligations of that Class than it would otherwise be, and (ii) after payment in full of accelerated Senior Notes and other Senior Funding Obligations and once all amounts due and payable on non-accelerated Senior Notes and other Senior Funding Obligations have been satisfied on any principal payment date, amounts remaining for payment of principal would be allocated to the repayment of principal on both accelerated and non-accelerated subordinated debt, as applicable. In certain cases, a declaration of acceleration or an automatic acceleration may also be rescinded by Extraordinary Resolution if (i) the Issuer has paid all overdue interest, principal that has become due (other than by reason of acceleration) on Controlling Class Obligations and other amounts set out in the Master Trust Indenture, and (ii) all Events of Default (other than non-payment of principal) have been cured or waived. See "Capital Markets Platform — Acceleration and Remedies — General".

If a Series of Senior Notes or all Senior Notes are accelerated, a holder of Senior Notes might receive payment of principal sooner or later than expected.

Under certain circumstances it is possible that all outstanding Senior Notes will be accelerated as a Class or that certain Series of Senior Notes will be accelerated while other Series of Senior Notes will not be accelerated. See "Capital Markets Platform – Acceleration and Remedies". The possibility of certain Series of Senior Notes accelerating while other Series of Senior Notes do not accelerate would arise if (i) an Event of Default occurs but Noteholders holding at least 50% of all outstanding Senior Notes do not approve the acceleration of all outstanding Senior Notes, and (ii) holders of Senior Notes of a particular Series approve the acceleration of the Senior Notes of that Series by the requisite majority of holders of that Series as set out in the applicable supplemental indenture for that Series.

If all Senior Notes are accelerated the application of available funds will be as described under "Capital Markets Platform -- Acceleration and Remedies" for all Senior Notes. It is possible that holders of 50% or more of the outstanding principal balance of all Senior Notes will approve the acceleration of all Senior Notes even if holders of a particular Series of Senior Notes do not vote in favour of the acceleration of the Senior Notes of that Series.

If only certain Series of Senior Notes are accelerated, then the outstanding principal balance of those Series of Senior Notes will become immediately due and payable but the payment due dates of those Series of Senior Notes that have not been accelerated will not change. In this case, the application of available funds will continue as described under "Capital Markets Platform -- Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration".

Where all Series of Senior Notes or only certain Series of Senior Notes are accelerated, available funds that would otherwise be used to pay the principal amount of subordinated indebtedness will be applied to repay principal of the accelerated Senior Notes. This could result in a holder of Senior Notes that have been accelerated receiving payment of principal sooner than expected. If a Series of Senior Notes has not been accelerated, the payment of principal on such Senior Notes should not occur earlier than expected as the payment due dates for such Senior Notes will not have been accelerated.

Where all Series of Senior Notes or only certain Series of Senior Notes are accelerated, available funds that would otherwise be used to pay the principal amount of the Senior Notes in accordance with the original repayment schedules of such Senior Notes may be applied to repay principal of the accelerated Senior Notes pari passu with the principal due on all outstanding Senior Notes (subject to the payment priority given to Warehouse Funding Obligations). If accelerated Senior Notes were not expected to be repaid before a particular Series of Senior Notes at the time the accelerated Senior Notes were issued, the acceleration of such Senior Notes could result in the holder of a particular Series of Senior Notes receiving payment of principal later than expected.

The Issuer may have a co-ownership interest in the Investment Asset with other Financing Entities.

The FHPA authorizes the establishment of one or more Financing Entities that may incur Funding Obligations for the purpose of acquiring an Investment Interest. The Master Trust Indenture does not contain any restrictions on the establishment of other Financing Entities or any restrictions on the transfer by the IESO of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset to other Financing Entities. If additional Funding Obligations are incurred by other Financing Entities to acquire an Investment Interest, Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected by or for the benefit of the Issuer will be prorated among all Investment Interest owners based on the respective amounts of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts invoiced and not yet paid. Any issuance of Funding Obligations by other Financing Entities could cause reductions or delays in payment on the Senior Notes.[53]

[53] Note: Consider explaining under this risk factor that the Investment Asset is a bundle of rights and interests held collectively by all investment interest owners.

If the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts and other funds held in the Issuer Accounts results in investment losses or the investments become illiquid, a holder of Senior Notes might receive payment of principal of and interest on the Senior Notes later than expected.

Funds held in the Issuer Accounts will be invested in Eligible Investments. Eligible Investments include, among other categories, money market funds having a rating in the highest investment category from each applicable Rating Agency. Although investments in these money market funds have traditionally been viewed as highly liquid with a low probability of principal loss, illiquidity and principal losses have been experienced by investors in certain of these funds as a result of disruptions in the financial markets in recent years. If investment losses or illiquidity are experienced, a holder of Senior Notes might experience a delay in payments of principal and interest and a decrease in the value of their investment in the Senior Notes.

Servicing, Operating and Consumer Risks

Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of Electricity Vendors and the IESO.

The Issuer's receipt of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts, which will be used to make payments on the Senior Notes, will depend in part on the skill and diligence of Electricity Vendors and the IESO and their respective successors in performing their respective duties under the FHPA, the Regulations and, with respect to the IESO, the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement.

The FHPA, the Regulations and the Program Agreements impose new duties and obligations of the IESO and Electricity Vendors. There can be no assurances that the new duties and obligations of the IESO and the Electricity Vendors will be assumed and implemented without difficulty and in accordance with the provisions of the FHPA, the Regulations and the Program Agreements. If the IESO ceases to perform, or inadequately performs, its collection, remittance, forecasting and other functions under the terms of the FHPA, the Regulations and the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, it might be difficult to enforce these obligations against the IESO. While the Indenture Trustee has the right to replace the IESO, as servicer, on an Event of Default upon receipt of an Ordinary Resolution, it might be difficult to find a replacement for the IESO or a successor servicer. Also, any successor servicer might have less experience and ability than the IESO and might experience difficulties in collecting Clean Energy Adjustment amounts or forecasting consumption, resulting in delays or disruptions to the setting and collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment. Any successor servicer would likely charge fees for the provision of such services and such fees could be material.

If an Electricity Vendor or the IESO fails to collect or remit sufficient Clean Energy Adjustment amounts for any reason, then the IESO's payments to the Issuer in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustments might be delayed or reduced. In that event, payments on the Senior Notes might be delayed or reduced. In addition, any person into which the IESO may be merged, converted or amalgamated or that may succeed to the properties and assets of the IESO substantially as a whole will assume the role of servicer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, subject only to the satisfaction of the conditions set forth therein. These conditions do not include either the consent of holders of Senior Notes or satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition.

Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of OPG as Financial Services Manager and as Manager of the Issuer.

The FHPA, the Regulations and the Program Agreements impose new duties and obligations of OPG, as Financial Services Manager and as Manager of the Issuer. There can be no assurances that the new duties and obligations of OPG will be assumed and implemented without difficulty and in accordance with the provisions of the FHPA, the Regulations and the Program Agreements. If OPG, as Financial Services Manager, ceases to perform, or inadequately performs, its statutory duties under the FHPA and the Regulations, including determining the Clean Energy Adjustment (inclusive of the True-Up Amount), the Indenture Trustee will have no right to replace OPG as Financial Services Manager. If OPG ceases to perform, or inadequately performs, its management duties under the Management Agreement, the Indenture Trustee has the right to replace the Manager on an Event of Default upon receipt of an Ordinary Resolution but it might be difficult to find a replacement for OPG or a successor manager. Also, any successor manager might have less experience and ability than OPG, resulting in delays or disruptions to the setting and collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment. Any successor manager would likely charge fees for the provision of such services and such fees could be materially higher than the fees charged by OPG.

Inaccurate consumption forecasting or unanticipated delinquencies or write-offs might reduce or delay scheduled payments on the Senior Notes.

Clean Energy Adjustment amounts will be calculated in part based upon a forecast of Specified Consumer usage to be newly developed by the IESO[, adjusted for expected billing lags and charge-offs] [including the effect of delinquencies and write-offs] [Confirm whether the IESO forecast takes into account items noted in square brackets.]. Under the Regulations, the IESO is required to provide to the OEB forecast information regarding electricity consumption of Specified Consumers. The amount and the rate of the Clean Energy Adjustment will depend in part on actual electricity usage and the amount of collections and write-offs for Specified Consumers.[54] If the IESO or a successor inaccurately forecasts electricity consumption or if OPG uses inaccurate consumer delinquency or write-off data when setting or adjusting the Clean Energy Adjustment, there could be a shortfall or material delay in collections, which might result in missed or delayed payments of principal and interest on the Senior Notes.

Inaccurate forecasting of electricity consumption by the IESO might result from, among other things unanticipated weather, resulting in less electricity consumption than forecast; general economic conditions being worse than expected, causing Specified Consumers to reduce their electricity consumption; the occurrence of a natural disaster, wind storm or an act of terrorism, cyber-attack or other catastrophic event unexpectedly disrupting electrical service and reducing electricity consumption; unanticipated changes in the market structure of the electric industry; Specified Consumers unexpectedly ceasing business or departing from the Province of Ontario; dramatic and unexpected changes in energy prices resulting in decreased electricity consumption; Specified Consumers consuming less electricity than anticipated because of increased energy prices, unanticipated increases in conservation efforts or unanticipated increases in electricity consumption efficiency; differences or changes in forecasting methodology; or Specified Consumers switching to alternative sources of energy, including self-generation or co-generation of electric power in some cases without using Ontario's transmission or distribution system. Self-generators that receive no transmission or distribution service from the Province of Ontario are not liable for the Clean Energy Adjustment. Neither the FHPA nor the Regulations require exit fees to be charged to any Specified Consumers that might leave the grid to self-generate.

Inaccurate forecasting of delinquencies or write-offs by OPG could result from, among other things unexpected deterioration of the economy, the occurrence of a natural disaster, an act of war or terrorism or other catastrophic events causing greater write-offs than expected or forcing Electricity Vendors to grant additional payment relief to Specified Consumers; the failure of Electricity Vendors to submit accurate and timely information to the IESO regarding their collections and write-offs; an unexpected change in law that makes it more difficult for Electricity Vendors to terminate service to nonpaying Specified Consumers, or that requires Electricity Vendors to apply more lenient credit standards for Specified Consumers.

Changes to billing and collection practices may reduce the amount of funds available for payments on the Senior Notes.

The methodology for determining the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment invoiced to each Specified Consumer is specified in the FHPA and the Regulations. None of OPG, the IESO or any Electricity Vendor, as it performs its billing and collection functions on the Issuer's behalf, may change this methodology. However, subject to applicable law, tariff and regulatory requirements, billing and collection arrangements with each Specified Consumer may be changed in a manner that delays or reduces the payments to the Issuer in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment. For example, an Electricity Vendor's conditions of service may permit it to offer equal monthly billing plans to its consumers thereby delaying payments from one month to the next during the year or to enter into arrangements for the payment of arrears. In that event, collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment may be delayed or reduced until an adjustment is made.

[54] Note: Please confirm.

Limits on rights to terminate service to Specified Consumers might make it more difficult to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment.

To the extent that Specified Consumers do not pay for their electricity service, Electricity Vendors will not be able to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment from these Specified Consumers. Electricity Vendors have the ability to terminate service for non-payment subject to the terms of their conditions of service, which conditions must be consistent with the OEB's rules regarding disconnection. Under OEB rules, Electricity Vendors are prohibited from disconnecting or threatening to disconnect homes for non-payment during the winter from November 15 to April 30 every year. Historical rates of non-payment are included in the calculations of the Clean Energy Adjustment, but increases in the rates of non-payment would reduce the Clean Energy Adjustment until it is adjusted through the True-up Amount in a subsequent Reference Period.

Under the FHPA, the Issuer may bring an action against a Specified Consumer for non-payment of the Clean Energy Adjustment, but only an Electricity Vendor may terminate service for failure to pay the Clean Energy Adjustment.[55] The FHPA provides that partial payment of electricity invoices shall be allocated pro rata among the Clean Energy Adjustment and other charges on the invoice. Since the Issuer does not have the threat of termination of service available to enforce payment of the Clean Energy Adjustment, it would need to rely on the Electricity Vendor to threaten to terminate service for nonpayment of other portions of the electricity invoice. This inability might reduce the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

Indemnification obligations of OPG and the IESO are limited and might not be sufficient to protect the investments in the Senior Notes.

OPG will be obligated under the Management Agreement to indemnify the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, for itself and on behalf of the holders of Senior Notes and other creditors, only in specified circumstances. Likewise, the IESO will be obligated under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement and the Acknowledgement and Indemnity Agreement to indemnify the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, for itself and on behalf of the holders of Senior Notes and other creditors, only in specified circumstances.

Furthermore, neither OPG nor the IESO may have sufficient funds available to satisfy its indemnification obligations, and the amount of any indemnification paid by OPG or the IESO, as applicable, might not be sufficient for holders of Senior Notes to recover all of their investment in the Senior Notes. In addition, if OPG or the IESO becomes obligated to indemnify holders of Senior Notes, the ratings on the Senior Notes might be downgraded as a result of the circumstances causing the breach and the fact that holders of Senior Notes will be unsecured creditors of OPG or the IESO, as applicable, with respect to any of these indemnification amounts. Neither OPG nor the IESO will indemnify any person for any loss, damages, liability, obligation, claim, action, suit or payment resulting solely from a downgrade in the ratings on the Senior Notes, or for any consequential damages, including any loss of market value of the Senior Notes resulting from a default or a downgrade of the ratings of the Senior Notes.

Delinquent or partial payments of electricity bills may make payments on the Senior Notes occur later than expected.

The amount and the rate of collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment, including the True-up Amount, will impact whether there is a delay in the scheduled payments on the Senior Notes. If the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are collected at a slower rate than expected, OPG might have to make adjustments to the Clean Energy Adjustment for a subsequent Reference Period through the True-Up Amount. If those adjustments are not timely and accurate, there may be a delay in payments of principal and interest and a decrease in the value of the Senior Notes.

Power outages could impair payment of the Senior Notes.

Ontario experiences seasonal conditions typical of southeastern Canada. Summers are usually hot with high temperatures in excess of 20°C. Winters include snow and icing conditions that can be damaging to overhead power lines. Transmission and/or distribution and generation facilities could be damaged depending on weather conditions and usage of electricity could be interrupted temporarily or for long periods of time, reducing the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected in one or more Reference Periods.

Technological changes that make alternative energy sources more attractive in the future or significant population fluctuations may result in fewer Specified Consumers from whom to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment.

Technological developments and/or tax or other economic incentives might result in the introduction of economically attractive, more fuel-efficient, more environmentally-friendly and/or more cost-effective alternatives to purchasing electricity through Electricity Vendors for increasing numbers of Specified Consumers. Manufacturers of self-generation facilities may develop smaller-scale, more fuel-efficient on-site generating and/or storage units that can be cost-effective options for a greater number of Specified Consumers. Moreover, an increase in self-service power may result if extreme weather conditions result in regular shortages of grid-supplied energy or if other factors cause grid-supplied energy to be less reliable. Specified Consumers who self-generate their electricity may use it to offset, or eliminate, their consumption from the grid thereby reducing, or eliminating, the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts payable by such Specified Consumers. Technological developments might allow greater numbers of Specified Consumers to reduce or even altogether avoid the payment of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts under such provisions through on-site generation, including where coupled with on-site storage capacity. This might reduce the kilowatt-hours of electric energy delivered to Specified Consumers by means of an Electricity Vendor's system, thereby causing Clean Energy Adjustment charges to the remaining Specified Consumers to increase. Such increases may reduce the collectability of the Clean Energy Adjustment.

Unexpected significant population decreases in the Province of Ontario or Specified Consumers unexpectedly ceasing business or departing from the Province of Ontario may adversely affect the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment to be invoiced, collected and recovered from Specified Consumers. The decrease in the population of the Province of Ontario may result in fewer Specified Consumers from whom to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment. The increased impact on the remaining Specified Consumers could lead to increased potential consumer defaults and delays, billing lags and write-offs or variations in billing due to variations in electricity consumption.

Insolvency-Related Risks

If the Issuer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Indenture Trustee's ability to enforce security granted by the Issuer may be significantly impaired or delayed.

Trusts such as the Issuer ordinarily cannot seek protection under the principal Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws (other than a receivership). However, in view of the broad discretionary powers of courts under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the courts' inherent jurisdiction and otherwise, it is not possible to state with certainty that the Issuer could not become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws. If the Issuer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Indenture Trustee's ability to enforce security granted by the Issuer may be significantly impaired or delayed. It is not possible to predict how long payments under the Senior Notes could be delayed following commencement of a proceeding under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws by the Issuer or whether or when the Indenture Trustee would be able to enforce upon or dispose of the assets over which it holds a security interest. Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws also contemplate the granting of super priority security interests or charges (which could be in priority to the security of existing secured creditors) on the assets of the debtor company to secure the repayment of any amounts to be borrowed to facilitate the insolvency proceeding, any amounts owing for the fees and costs of professionals involved in the insolvency proceeding, obligations of directors of the company with respect to their statutory liabilities and sometimes other amounts.

Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws also contain provisions enabling an obligor to prepare and file a proposal or a plan of arrangement or reorganization for consideration by all or some of its creditors, to be voted on by the various classes of creditors affected thereby. Such a restructuring proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization, if accepted by the requisite majority of each class of affected creditors and if approved by the relevant Canadian court, would be binding on all creditors of the applicable obligor within the affected classes, including the Indenture Trustee and the Noteholders, whether or not the Indenture Trustee or any holders of Senior Notes votes in favour of the restructuring proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization. Such a proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization may have the effect of compromising certain rights available to the Indenture Trustee and the holders of Senior Notes under the Master Trust Indenture or in respect of the collateral.

If the IESO were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the transfers between the IESO and the Issuer pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement may not be respected as true sales of the Investment Interest.

Ordinarily, the interests of the Issuer as transferee of the Investment Interest may be subordinate to statutory deemed trusts and other non-consensual liens, trusts and claims created or imposed by statute or rule of law on the property of the IESO arising prior to the time an Investment Interest is transferred to the Issuer, which could reduce the amounts that may be available to the Issuer and, consequently, the holders of Senior Notes. Section 27(3) of the FHPA provides that at the time of the transfer to a Financing Entity under the FHPA, such transfer shall be deemed to have been perfected, vested, valid and binding against the IESO and all other persons who have claims of any kind against the IESO. Section 27(4) of the FHPA provides that section 27(3) applies regardless of whether the persons who have claims have received notice of the transfer and the property rights and interests acquired by the transferee shall have priority over any liens in favour of those persons. However, in the event that the IESO becomes insolvent, its insolvency would be subject to federal bankruptcy and insolvency legislation and the effect of these provisions of the FHPA in such circumstances is untested. The IESO will treat the transactions described herein as a transfer of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer. Such transfers will be made in accordance with Section 26 of the FHPA. Section 27(1) of the FHPA provides that a transfer of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset under section 26 constitutes a valid and enforceable absolute assignment, conveyance and sale of the corresponding Investment Interest to the transferee. As a transfer, the Investment Interest would not form part of the assets of the IESO and would not be available to the creditors of the IESO. However, with respect to certain insolvency events relating to the IESO, it is possible that an insolvency administrator or a creditor of the IESO may attempt to argue that the transactions between the IESO and the Issuer are not true sales of the Investment Interest. This position, if accepted by a court applying federal bankruptcy and insolvency laws, could prevent timely or ultimate payment of amounts due to the Issuer and, consequently, due from the Issuer to holders of Senior Notes.

These risks are in addition to the insolvency risks of the IESO noted above under "Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset".

If the IESO or any Electricity Vendor were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, collections that have been commingled may be unrecoverable and the Issuer's ability to enforce its rights against the IESO may be significantly impaired or delayed.

While the IESO is the servicer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, collections held by the IESO are to be held by the IESO in a segregated account. Until Clean Energy Adjustments are remitted to the IESO by Electricity Vendors, amounts collected by the Electricity Vendors are to be held by Electricity Vendors in segregated accounts. If the IESO or any Electricity Vendor fails to hold collections in a segregated account, then to the extent that funds are commingled and used for the benefit of the IESO or such Electricity Vendor prior to making required deposits, in the event of the liquidation, insolvency, receivership or administration or other proceeding under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws of the IESO or the Electricity Vendor, the ability of the Issuer to enforce its rights to the collections in a timely manner may be adversely affected and collections that have been commingled may be unrecoverable. In the event of the insolvency of the IESO, the right of the Issuer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement to appoint a replacement servicer may be stayed or prevented.

These risks are in addition to the insolvency risks of the IESO noted above under "Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset".

If OPG were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Issuer's ability to enforce its rights against the Manager may be significantly impaired or delayed and the Issuer's assets and liabilities may be substantively consolidated with those of OPG.

Section 53.1 of the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario), as amended by the FHPA, provides that, regardless of whether a Financing Entity is or is not a subsidiary of OPG: (a) the assets and liabilities of the Financing Entity shall not form part of the assets and liabilities of OPG or any of its subsidiaries (excluding the Financing Entity if it is a subsidiary); and (b) the assets and liabilities of OPG or any of its subsidiaries (excluding the Financing Entity if it is a subsidiary) shall not form part of the assets and liabilities of the Financing Entity. However, in the event that OPG becomes insolvent, its insolvency would be subject to federal bankruptcy and insolvency legislation and the effect of these provisions of the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario), as amended by the Fair Hydro Act, 2017,[56] in such circumstances is untested. In particular, in the event of the liquidation, insolvency, receivership or administration or other proceeding under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws of OPG, the ability of the Issuer to enforce certain of its rights in and to the Investment Interest in a timely manner may be adversely affected. Such affected rights may include the right to appoint a replacement Manager. It is possible that the creditors of OPG may attempt to substantively consolidate the assets and liabilities of OPG and the Issuer. The Issuer and OPG have taken steps to minimize this risk. However, no assurance can be given that, in the case of the insolvency of OPG, a court would not order that the Issuer's assets and liabilities be substantively consolidated with those of OPG. Such substantive consolidation would result in all creditors of OPG and the Issuer being paid out of a common pool of assets, with no distinction as to which assets are property of OPG and which assets are property of the Issuer, and could cause payment of the claims of the beneficial owners of the Senior Notes to be subject to substantial delay and to adjustment in timing and amount.

If the Issuer Trustee were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the assets and liabilities of the Issuer may be substantively consolidated with the Issuer Trustee.

In the case of the insolvency of the Issuer Trustee, it is possible that the creditors of the Issuer Trustee may attempt to argue that the assets of the Issuer are held by the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity (and not as trustee of the Issuer) and are to be available to the creditors of the Issuer Trustee. Assuming that the Issuer Trustee deals with the assets of the Issuer in accordance with the provisions of the Declaration of Trust, the assets of the Issuer would not constitute property of the Issuer Trustee available for distribution to the creditors of the Issuer Trustee. An insolvency administrator appointed with respect to the Issuer Trustee may be able to recover from the property of the Issuer a portion of its costs that are incurred until a replacement for the Issuer Trustee, as trustee of the Issuer, is appointed or pending any proceeding in respect of the property of the Issuer. Such costs may exceed the compensation provided for in the Declaration of Trust.

If a Specified Consumer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Issuer's ability to collect Clean Energy Adjustment amounts from such Specified Consumer may be adversely affected.

The application to a Specified Consumer of Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws and related provincial laws could also affect the ability to collect the Clean Energy Adjustments due for the period prior to the insolvency. Federal bankruptcy laws would generally discharge bankrupt Specified Consumers who are individuals of their obligation to pay Clean Energy Adjustment amounts due for the period prior to the individual being discharged from bankruptcy.

If amounts in the Issuer Accounts for any Series are invested with entities that become subject to insolvency proceedings, the Issuer's ability to make payments to holders of Senior Notes may be adversely affected.

Amounts that are on deposit from time to time in the Issuer Accounts for any Series may be invested in Eligible Investments. If insolvency proceedings were to be commenced by or against any entity with which an Eligible Investment is made or which is an issuer, obligor or guarantor of any Eligible Investment, the ability of the Indenture Trustee to enforce its rights in respect of any such Eligible Investment and the ability of the Issuer to make payments to holders of Senior Notes in a timely manner may be adversely affected. In order to reduce this risk, the Eligible Investments must satisfy certain ratings criteria. See "Rating Agency Condition".

[56] The Fair Hydro Act, 2017 (Ontario), which provided in Schedule 1 the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, amends two other statutes: the Electricity Act, 1998 (see section 43) and the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998 (see section 44).

Other Risks

The credit ratings are not an indication of the expected rate of payment of principal on the Senior Notes.

The Senior Notes will be rated by one or more established rating agencies. A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold the Senior Notes. The ratings merely analyze the probability that the Issuer will repay the total principal amount of each series of Senior Notes at its final principal payment date (which is later than the Principal Payment Date(s)) and will make timely interest payments. The ratings are not an indication that the rating agencies believe that principal payments are likely to be paid on time according to any expected sinking fund schedule. Thus, the Issuer might repay the principal of a holder of Senior Notes later than expected, which might materially reduce the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

If the ratings on the Senior Notes are withdrawn or revised downward, the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes may be adversely affected.

There is no assurance that any credit rating will remain in effect for any given period of time. The ratings on the Senior Notes may be withdrawn or revised downward at any time without notice, which may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Senior Notes. A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold the Senior Notes. The ratings merely analyze the probability that the Issuer will repay the total principal amount of each series of Senior Notes at its final principal payment date (which is later than the Principal Payment Date(s)) and will make timely interest payments. The ratings are not an indication that the rating agencies believe that principal payments are likely to be paid on time according to any expected sinking fund schedule. Ratings on the Senior Notes may be lowered, qualified or withdrawn at any time without notice.

The credit ratings of the IESO, OPG and the Province of Ontario might affect the market value of the Senior Notes.

The Senior Notes will not be insured or guaranteed by the Province of Ontario, IESO, OPG or any of their respective affiliates or any other person or entity, except that the Province of Ontario has agreed to provide a limited guarantee in respect of the Senior Notes following the occurrence of certain events. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". Although neither the IESO nor OPG are obligors in respect of the Senior Notes, a downgrading of the current credit ratings of the IESO, OPG or the Province of Ontario might have an adverse effect on the market value of the Senior Notes, particularly, with respect to the IESO, during the Moratorium Period when no Clean Energy Adjustments are permitted to be collected from Specified Consumers. Credit ratings might change at any time. A rating agency has the authority to revise or withdraw its rating based solely upon its own judgment.

The absence of an established market for the Senior Notes might limit the ability to resell or refinance the Senior Notes.

There is no public market for the Senior Notes, and the Issuer does not intend to apply for a listing of the Senior Notes on any stock exchange. There can be no assurance as to the liquidity of the trading market for the Senior Notes or that a trading market for the Senior Notes will develop.

There is currently no secondary market for the Senior Notes. There can be no assurance that a secondary market will develop or, if a secondary market does develop, that it will provide holders of such Senior Notes with liquidity for their investment or that it will continue for the term of such Senior Notes. Accordingly, purchasers of the Senior Notes may be required to bear the financial risk of investing in the Senior Notes until the maturity date of the Senior Notes.

If an active market does develop for the Senior Notes, the market price on the Senior Notes will depend on many factors including, but not limited to, (i) the Issuer's credit rating and the credit rating of the Senior Notes; (ii) the prevailing interest rates being paid on similar securities; (iii) the Issuer's financial condition and future prospects; and (iv) the overall condition of the economy and the financial markets. The condition of the financial markets and prevailing interest rates have fluctuated in the past and are likely to fluctuate in the future. Fluctuations could have an adverse effect on the market price of the Senior Notes.

The Financial Services Manager has the ability to determine whether to refinance Senior Notes maturing after May 2024 through the issuance of another Series of Senior Notes. However, there can be no assurance that Senior Notes can be refinanced on or before their applicable Principal Payment Default Date.

Restrictions on resale might limit the ability to resell the Senior Notes.

The Senior Notes may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, in Canada or to or for the account of any Canadian resident except, in the case of sales made in any province of Canada, pursuant to an exemption from the prospectus requirements under applicable securities laws. The Issuer currently does not intend to file a prospectus or similar document with any securities regulatory authority in Canada qualifying the resale of the Senior Notes to the public in any province of Canada in connection with any Offering of Senior Notes. As a result, the Senior Notes purchased pursuant to this confidential shelf offering memorandum will be subject to restrictions on resale, and may only be resold if a further statutory exemption may be relied upon by the investor or if an appropriate discretionary order or consent is obtained pursuant to applicable securities laws. See "Restrictions on Resale".

(p) it will execute, deliver and file such reports, undertakings and other documents relating to his, her or its purchase of the Senior Notes as may be required by applicable securities laws, regulations and rules, or assist the Issuer and the Agents, as applicable, in obtaining and filing such reports, undertakings and other documents;

(x) it will, if requested by the Issuer or the Agent from whom the purchase confirmation is received, provide evidence of the basis of its above representations; and

(y) the Issuer, the Agents and others will rely upon the truth and accuracy of the foregoing acknowledgements, representations and agreements and it agrees that if any of the acknowledgements, representations or agreements deemed to have been made by its purchase of the Senior Notes are no longer accurate, it shall promptly notify the Issuer and the Agents for the applicable Offering of Senior Notes.

In addition, each purchaser of Senior Notes, by purchasing Senior Notes and accepting a purchase confirmation in respect thereof, represents to the Issuer and the Agents for the applicable Offering of Senior Notes that the purchaser:

(a) has been notified by the Issuer:

(i) that the Issuer is required to provide information pertaining to the purchaser of Senior Notes required to be disclosed in Schedule 1 of Form 45-106F1 under NI 45-l06 (including its name, address, telephone number and the number and value of securities purchased), which Form 45-106F1 the Issuer is required to file under NI 45-106;

(ii) that such personal information will be delivered to the applicable Canadian securities regulatory authorities (the "Commissions") in accordance with NI 45-106;

(iii) that such personal information is being collected indirectly by the applicable Commission under the authority granted to it in securities legislation;

(iv) that such personal information is being collected for the purposes of the administration and enforcement of securities legislation; and

(v) that the public official in the provinces of Canada who can answer questions about the indirect collection of such personal information is set out in Schedule A of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, and

(b) has authorized the indirect collection of the personal information by the applicable Commission.

By purchasing Senior Notes, the purchaser also acknowledges that its name and other specified information, including the number of Senior Notes it has purchased, may be disclosed to other Canadian securities regulatory authorities and become available to the public in accordance with the requirements of applicable laws and consents to the disclosure of that information. Furthermore, by purchasing the Senior Notes, the purchaser acknowledges that certain information as to its status as an "accredited investor" that the purchaser may have provided to any Agent involved in the trade may be required to be delivered by such Agent to the Issuer under the terms of an Agency Agreement between the Issuer, OPG and the Agents referred to under "Plan of Distribution". By purchasing the Senior Notes, the purchaser consents to the disclosure of such information.

LANGUAGE OF DOCUMENTS

Upon receipt of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, each purchaser hereby confirms that it has expressly requested that all documents evidencing or relating in any way to the sale of the Senior Notes described herein (including for greater certainty any purchase confirmation or any notice) be drawn up in the English language only. En recevant le présent document, chaque acquéreur confirme par les présentes qu'il a expressément demandé que tous les documents qui attestent la vente des débentures décrites dans les présentes ou qui s'y rapportent de quelque manière que ce soit (y compris, plus particulièrement, une confirmation d'achat ou un avis) soient rédigés en langue anglais seulement.

RESTRICTIONS ON RESALE

The distribution of the Senior Notes in the provinces of Canada is being made on a private placement basis and is therefore exempt from the requirement that the Issuer prepare and file a prospectus with the relevant Canadian securities regulatory authorities. Accordingly, any resale of the Senior Notes must be made: (a) through an appropriately registered dealer or pursuant to an exemption from the dealer registration requirements of applicable provincial securities laws; and (b) in accordance with, or pursuant to an exemption from, the prospectus requirements of applicable provincial securities laws. These resale restrictions may in some circumstances apply to resales made outside of Canada. Purchasers are advised to seek legal advice prior to any resale of the Senior Notes.

Purchasers are advised that the Issuer does not intend to file a prospectus or similar document with any securities regulatory authority in Canada qualifying the resale of the Senior Notes to the public in any province of Canada in connection with any Offering.

Furthermore, each purchaser of Senior Notes, by its purchase thereof, will be deemed to have represented, acknowledged or confirmed, as the case may be, to the Issuer and any dealer who is involved in the sale of the Senior Notes to such purchaser that such purchaser understands that the Senior Notes are subject to transfer and resale restrictions in Canada and that the certificates representing the Senior Notes (or the relevant ownership statement under a direct registration system or other book-entry system) or other applicable document or notice (including this document) will bear or will notify the purchaser of the following legend:

> "EXCEPT IN THE PROVINCE OF MANITOBA, IN ACCORDANCE WITH NATIONAL INSTRUMENT 45-102 — RESALE OF SECURITIES, UNLESS OTHERWISE PERMITTED UNDER CANADIAN SECURITIES LEGISLATION, THE HOLDER OF THIS SECURITY MUST NOT TRADE THE SECURITY BEFORE THE DATE THAT IS FOUR MONTHS AND A DAY AFTER THE LATER OF (I) THE DATE ON WHICH THE SECURITY IS ISSUED; AND (II) THE DATE THE ISSUER BECOMES A REPORTING ISSUER IN ANY PROVINCE OR TERRITORY OF CANADA.
> IN THE PROVINCE OF MANITOBA, UNLESS OTHERWISE PERMITTED UNDER APPLICABLE CANADIAN SECURITIES LAWS OR WITH THE PRIOR WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE APPLICABLE REGULATORS, THE HOLDER OF THIS SECURITY MUST NOT TRADE THE SECURITY BEFORE THE DATE THAT IS TWELVE MONTHS AND A DAY AFTER THE DATE THE PURCHASER ACQUIRED THE SECURITY."

The Issuer is not and does not intend to become a reporting issuer.

There is currently no secondary market for the Senior Notes. There can be no assurance that a secondary market will develop or, if a secondary market does develop, that it will provide holders of such Series of Senior Notes with liquidity for their investment or that it will continue for the life of such Senior Notes. Accordingly, purchasers of the Senior Notes may be required to bear the financial risk of investing in the Senior Notes until the maturity date.

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The Issuer is not a reporting issuer or the equivalent thereof under the securities legislation in any jurisdiction. Accordingly, the Issuer is not subject to the continuous reporting and disclosure requirements prescribed by such securities legislation. Therefore, there is no requirement that the Issuer comply with such requirements, including, without limitation, the requirements to provide prompt notification of material changes by way of press releases, to formally file disclosure documents with applicable securities regulatory authorities or to prepare and file annual audited financial statements or quarterly unaudited financial statements. However, the Issuer will provide audited annual financial statements and unaudited quarterly financial statements in accordance with the terms of the Master Trust Indenture. See "Description of Senior Notes — Reporting Requirements of Senior Notes".

STATUTORY RIGHTS OF ACTION

Securities legislation in certain of the provinces of Canada provides purchasers, in addition to any other rights they may have at law, with a remedy for rescission or damages where an offering memorandum or any amendment to it, and in some cases, advertising and sales literature used in connection therewith, contains a misrepresentation. These remedies, or notice with respect thereto, must be exercised or delivered, as the case may be, by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed, and are subject to the defences contained, in the applicable securities legislation. Purchasers should refer to the applicable provisions of the securities legislation of their province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal advisor. The following is a summary of the rights of rescission or rights to damages available to purchasers of the Senior Notes.

Rights for Purchasers in Ontario

Section 5.2 of Ontario Securities Commission Rule 45-501 — Ontario Prospectus and Registration Exemptions provides that when an offering memorandum, such as this confidential shelf offering memorandum, is delivered to an investor to whom securities are distributed in reliance upon the "accredited investor" prospectus exemption in section 73.3 of the Securities Act (Ontario) or a predecessor exemption to section 73.3 of the Securities Act (Ontario) the right of action referred to in section 130.1 of the Securities Act (Ontario) ("Section 130.1") is applicable, unless the prospective purchaser is:

(a) an association governed by the Cooperative Credit Associations Act (Canada) or a central cooperative credit society for which an order has been made under section 473(1) of that Act;

(b) a bank, loan corporation, trust company, trust corporation, insurance company, treasury branch, credit union, caisse populaire, financial services cooperative, or league that, in each case, is authorized by an enactment of Canada or a jurisdiction of Canada to carry on business in Canada or a jurisdiction of Canada;

(c) a Schedule III bank, meaning an authorized foreign bank named in Schedule III of the Bank Act (Canada);

(d) the Business Development Bank of Canada incorporated under the Business Development Bank of Canada Act (Canada); or

(e) a subsidiary of any person referred to in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) or (d), if the person owns all of the voting securities of the subsidiary, except the voting securities required by law to be owned by the directors of the subsidiary.

Section 130.1(1) provides such investors who purchase securities offered by an offering memorandum with a statutory right of action against the Issuer of securities for rescission or damages in the event that the offering memorandum and any amendment to it contains a "misrepresentation". The term "misrepresentation" is defined to mean an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make any statement not misleading in the light of the circumstances in which it was made. These remedies, or notice with respect to these remedies, must be exercised or delivered, as the case may be, by the purchaser within the time limits prescribed by applicable securities laws.

Where this confidential shelf offering memorandum is delivered to a prospective purchaser of Senior Notes in connection with a trade made in reliance on section 73.3 of the Securities Act (Ontario), and this document contains a misrepresentation, the purchaser will have, without regard to whether the purchaser relied on the misrepresentation, a statutory right of action against the Issuer for damages or, while still the owner of Senior Notes, for rescission, in which case, if the purchaser elects to exercise the right of rescission, the purchaser will have no right of action for damages, provided that the right of action for rescission will be exercisable by the purchaser only if the purchaser commences the action not more than 180 days after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action; or, in the case of any action other than an action for rescission, the earlier of: (i) 180 days after the plaintiff first had knowledge of the facts giving rise to the cause of action, or (ii) three years after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action.

The Issuer will not be liable for a misrepresentation if it proves that the purchaser purchased the Senior Notes with knowledge of the misrepresentation.

In an action for damages, the Issuer will not be liable for all or any portion of the damages that the Issuer proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the Senior Notes as a result of the misrepresentation relied upon.

In no case will the amount recoverable for the misrepresentation exceed the price at which the Senior Notes were offered.

The liability of all persons and companies referred to above is joint and several. The Issuer, however, shall not be liable where it is not receiving any proceeds from the distribution of the securities being distributed and the misrepresentation was not based on information provided by the Issuer, unless the misrepresentation, (a) was based on information that was previously publicly disclosed by the Issuer, (b) was a misrepresentation at the time of its previous public disclosure and (c) was not subsequently publicly corrected or superseded by the Issuer prior to the completion of the distribution of the securities being distributed.

The foregoing statutory right of action for rescission or damages conferred is in addition to and without derogation from any other right the purchaser may have at law.

This summary is subject to the express provisions of the Securities Act (Ontario) and the regulations and rules made under it, and prospective investors should refer to the complete text of those provisions.

Rights for Purchasers in Saskatchewan

Section 138 of The Securities Act, 1988 (Saskatchewan), as amended (the "Saskatchewan Act") provides that where an offering memorandum (such as this confidential shelf offering memorandum) or any amendment to it is sent or delivered to a purchaser and it contains a misrepresentation (as defined in the Saskatchewan Act), a purchaser who purchases a security covered by the offering memorandum or any amendment to it has, without regard to whether the purchaser relied on the misrepresentation, a right of action for rescission against the Issuer or a selling security holder on whose behalf the distribution is made or has a right of action for damages against:

(a) the Issuer or a selling security holder on whose behalf the distribution is made;

(b) every promoter and trustee of the Issuer or the selling security holder, as the case may be, at the time the offering memorandum or any amendment to it was sent or delivered;

(c) every person or company whose consent has been filed respecting the offering, but only with respect to reports, opinions or statements that have been made by them;

(d) every person who or company that, in addition to the persons or companies mentioned in (a) to (c) above, signed the offering memorandum or the amendment to the offering memorandum; and

(e) every person who or company that sells securities on behalf of the Issuer or selling security holder under the offering memorandum or amendment to the offering memorandum.

Such rights of rescission and damages are subject to certain limitations including the following:

(a) if the purchaser elects to exercise its right of rescission against the Issuer or selling security holder, it will have no right of action for damages against that party;

(b) in an action for damages, a defendant will not be liable for all or any portion of the damages that he, she or it proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the securities resulting from the misrepresentation relied on;

(c) no person or company, other than the Issuer or a selling security holder, will be liable for any part of the offering memorandum or any amendment to it not purporting to be made on the authority of an expert and not purporting to be a copy of, or an extract from, a report, opinion or statement of an expert, unless the person or company failed to conduct a reasonable investigation sufficient to provide reasonable grounds for a belief that there had been no misrepresentation or believed that there had been a misrepresentation;

(d) in no case will the amount recoverable exceed the price at which the securities were offered; and

(e) no person or company is liable in an action for rescission or damages if that person or company proves that the purchaser purchased the securities with knowledge of the misrepresentation.

In addition, no person or company, other than the Issuer or selling security holder, will be liable if the person or company proves that:

(a) the offering memorandum or any amendment to it was sent or delivered without the person's or company's knowledge or consent and that, on becoming aware of it being sent or delivered, that person or company immediately gave reasonable general notice that it was so sent or delivered; or

(b) with respect to any part of the offering memorandum or any amendment to it purporting to be made on the authority of an expert, or purporting to be a copy of, or an extract from, a report, an opinion or a statement of an expert, that person or company had no reasonable grounds to believe and did not believe that: (i) there had been a misrepresentation, or (ii) the part of the offering memorandum or any amendment to it did not fairly represent the report, opinion or statement of the expert, or was not a fair copy of, or an extract from, the report, opinion or statement of the expert.

Not all defences upon which the Issuer or others may rely are described herein. Please refer to the full text of the Saskatchewan Act for a complete listing.

The liability of all persons and companies referred to above is joint and several.

Similar rights of action for damages and rescission are provided in section 138.1 of the Saskatchewan Act in respect of a misrepresentation in advertising and sales literature disseminated in connection with an offering of securities.

Section 138.2 of the Saskatchewan Act also provides that, subject to certain limitations and defences, where an individual makes a verbal statement to a purchaser that contains a misrepresentation relating to the security purchased and the verbal statement is made either before or contemporaneously with the purchase of the security, the purchaser has, without regard to whether the purchaser relied on the misrepresentation, a right of action for damages against the individual who made the verbal statement.

Section 141(1) of the Saskatchewan Act provides a purchaser with the right to void the purchase agreement and to recover all money and other consideration paid by the purchaser for the securities if the securities are sold in contravention of the Saskatchewan Act, the regulations to the Saskatchewan Act or a decision of the Saskatchewan Financial Services Commission.

Section 141(2) of the Saskatchewan Act also provides a right of action for rescission or damages to a purchaser of securities to whom an offering memorandum or any amendment to it was not sent or delivered prior to or at the same time as the purchaser enters into an agreement to purchase the securities, as required by Section 80.1 of the Saskatchewan Act.

The rights of action for damages or rescission under the Saskatchewan Act are in addition to and do not derogate from any other right which a purchaser may have at law.

Section 147 of the Saskatchewan Act provides that no action will be commenced to enforce any of the foregoing rights more than:

(a) in the case of an action for rescission or cancellation, 180 days after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action; or

(b) in the case of any other action, other than an action for rescission or cancellation, the earlier of:

  (i) one year after the plaintiff first had knowledge of the facts giving rise to the cause of action; or

  (ii) six years after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action.

The Saskatchewan Act also provides that a purchaser who has received an amended offering memorandum delivered in accordance with subsection 80.1(3) of the Saskatchewan Act has a right to withdraw from the agreement to purchase the securities by delivering a notice to the person who or company that is selling the securities, indicating the purchaser's intention not to be bound by the purchase agreement, provided such notice is delivered by the purchaser within two business days of receiving the amended offering memorandum.

This summary is subject to the express provisions of the Saskatchewan Act and the regulations and rules made under it, and prospective investors should refer to the complete text of those provisions.

Rights for Purchasers in Nova Scotia

The right of action for rescission or damages described herein is conferred by section 138 of the Securities Act (Nova Scotia). Section 138 provides, in the relevant part, that in the event that this confidential shelf offering memorandum, together with any amendments hereto, or any advertising or sales literature (as defined in the Securities Act (Nova Scotia)) contains an untrue statement of material fact or omits to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary in order to make any statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances in which it was made (a "misrepresentation"), a purchaser of Senior Notes is deemed to have relied upon such misrepresentation if it was a misrepresentation at the time of purchase and has, subject to certain limitations and defences, a statutory right of action for damages against the Issuer, its trustees, any person who signed this confidential shelf offering memorandum, any selling security holder and the directors of any such selling security holder at the date of this confidential shelf offering memorandum or, alternatively, while still the owner of the Senior Notes, may elect instead to exercise a statutory right of rescission against the Issuer, in which case the purchaser will have no right of action for damages against any person listed above, including the Issuer, provided that, among other limitations:

(a) no action will be commenced to enforce the right of action for rescission or damages by a purchaser resident in Nova Scotia under Section 138 later than 120 days after the date payment was made for the Senior Notes (or after the date on which initial payment was made for the Senior Notes where payments subsequent to the initial payment are made pursuant to a contractual commitment assumed prior to, or concurrently with, the initial payment);

(b) no person will be liable if it proves that the purchaser purchased the Senior Notes with knowledge of the misrepresentation;

(c) no person or company, other than the Issuer, is liable under Section 138 if the person or company proves that:

(i) this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or any amendment hereto, was sent or delivered to the purchaser without the person's or company's knowledge or consent and that, on becoming aware of its delivery, the person or company gave reasonable general notice that it was delivered without the person's or company's knowledge or consent;

(ii) after delivery of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or the amendment hereto, and before the purchase of the Senior Notes by the purchaser, on becoming aware of any misrepresentation in this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or the amendment hereto, or any record incorporated or deemed incorporated by reference therein, the person or company withdrew the person's or company's consent to this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or amendment hereto, or such record, and gave reasonable general notice of the withdrawal and the reason for it; or

(iii) with respect to any part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or amendment hereto, or any record incorporated or deemed to be incorporated by reference therein, purporting to be made on the authority of an expert, or to be a copy of, or an extract from a report, an opinion or a statement of an expert, the person or company had no reasonable grounds to believe and did not believe that there had been a misrepresentation, or that the relevant part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or amendment hereto, or such record, did not fairly represent the report, opinion or statement of the expert, or was not a fair copy of, or extract from, the report, opinion or statement of the expert;

(d) no person or company, other than the Issuer, is liable under Section 138 with respect to any part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or amendment hereto, or any record incorporated or deemed incorporated by reference therein, not purporting to be made on the authority of an expert, or to be a copy of or an extract from, a report, opinion or statement of an expert, unless the person or company failed to conduct a reasonable investigation to provide reasonable grounds for a belief that there had been no misrepresentation, or believed that there had been a misrepresentation;

(e) in the case of an action for damages, no person will be liable for all or any portion of the damages that it proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the Senior Notes resulting from the misrepresentation; and

(f) in no case will the amount recoverable under Section 138 in any action exceed the price at which the Senior Notes were offered to the purchaser.

The liability of all persons or companies referred to above is joint and several with respect to the same cause of action. A defendant who is found liable to pay a sum in damages may recover a contribution, in whole or in part, from a person or company who is jointly and severally liable to make the same payment in the same cause of action unless, in all the circumstances of the case, the court is satisfied that it would not be just and equitable.

The foregoing statutory right of action for rescission or damages conferred by Section 138 of the Securities Act (Nova Scotia) is in addition to and without derogation from any other right or remedy available at law or otherwise to the purchaser. This summary is subject to the express provisions of the Securities Act (Nova Scotia) and the regulations and rules made under it, and prospective investors should refer to the complete text of those provisions may have at law.

Rights for Purchasers in New Brunswick

Section 2.1 of New Brunswick Securities Commission Rule 45-802 provides that the statutory rights of action in rescission or damages referred to in Section 150 of the Securities Act (New Brunswick) ("Section 150") apply to information relating to an offering memorandum, such as this confidential shelf offering memorandum, that is provided to a purchaser of securities in connection with a distribution made in reliance on the "accredited investor" prospectus exemption in Section 2.3 of NI 45-106. Section 150 provides investors who purchase securities offered for sale in reliance on an exemption from the prospectus requirements of the Securities Act (New Brunswick) with a statutory right of action for damages against (i) the Issuer; (ii) the selling security holder on whose behalf the distribution was made; (iii) every person who was a director of the Issuer as at the date of the offering memorandum; and (iv) every person who signed the offering memorandum in the event that an offering memorandum provided to such investor contains a "misrepresentation". Alternatively, if the investor purchased the securities from a person referred to in (i) or (ii) above, an investor may elect a right of rescission, in which case the investor shall have no right of action for damages. "Misrepresentation" means an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in the light of the circumstances in which it was made.

Where this confidential shelf offering memorandum is delivered to a prospective purchaser of Senior Notes in connection with a trade made in reliance on Section 2.3 of NI 45-106, and this document (including any documentation incorporated or deemed to be incorporated by reference) contains a misrepresentation, a purchaser who purchases the securities will be deemed to have relied on the misrepresentation and will have, subject to certain limitations and defences, a statutory right of action against the Issuer for damages or, while still the owner of Senior Notes, for rescission. If the purchaser elects to exercise the right of rescission, the purchaser will have no right of action for damages. The right of action for rescission will be exercisable by the purchaser only if the purchaser commences the action against the defendant, not more than 180 days after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action; or, in the case of any action other than an action for rescission, the earlier of: (i) one year after the plaintiff first had knowledge of the facts giving rise to the cause of action, or (ii) six years after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action.

No person other than the Issuer or the selling security holder is liable under Section 150 if the person proves that:

(a) the offering memorandum was delivered to the purchaser without the person's knowledge or consent and that, on becoming aware of its delivery, the person gave written notice to the Issuer that it was delivered without the person's knowledge or consent;

(b) upon becoming aware of a misrepresentation in the offering memorandum the person withdrew the person's consent to the offering memorandum and gave written notice to the Issuer of the withdrawal and the reason for the withdrawal; or

(c) with respect to any part of the offering memorandum purporting to be made on the authority of an expert or purporting to be a copy of, or an extract from, a report, opinion or statement of an expert, the person had no reasonable grounds to believe and did not believe there had been a misrepresentation or that the relevant part of the offering memorandum did not fairly represent the report, opinion or statement of the expert or was not a fair copy of, or extract from, the report, opinion or statement of the expert.

In addition, no person other than the Issuer or the selling security holder is liable under Section 150 with respect to any part of an offering memorandum not purporting to be made on the authority of an expert and not purporting to be a copy of, or an extract from, a report, opinion or statement of an expert unless (i) the person failed to conduct such reasonable investigations as to provide reasonable grounds for a belief that there had been no misrepresentation or (ii) the person believed that there had been misrepresentation.

The defendant will not be liable for a misrepresentation if it proves that the purchaser purchased the Senior Notes with knowledge of the misrepresentation.

In an action for damages, the defendant will not be liable for all or any portion of the damages that the defendant proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the Senior Notes as a result of the misrepresentation relied upon.

In no case will the amount recoverable for the misrepresentation exceed the price at which the Senior Notes were offered.

The liability of all persons referred to above is joint and several.

The foregoing statutory right of action for rescission or damages conferred is in addition to and without derogation from any other right the purchaser may have at law.

This summary is subject to the express provisions of the Securities Act (New Brunswick) and the regulations and rules made under it, and prospective investors should refer to the complete text of those provisions.

    (A) there had been a misrepresentation; or

(B) the relevant part of the confidential shelf offering memorandum:

a. did not fairly represent the report, statement or opinion of the expert, or

b. was not a fair copy of, or an extract from, the report, statement, or opinion of the expert.

Not all defences upon which the Issuer or others may rely are described herein. Please refer to the full text of the Securities Act (Prince Edward Island) for a complete listing.

If the purchaser elects to exercise a right of action for rescission, the purchaser will have no right of action for damages.

In no case will the amount recoverable in any action exceed the price at which the Senior Notes were offered to the purchaser.

In an action for damages, the defendant will not be liable for any damages that the defendant proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the Senior Notes as a result of the misrepresentation.

This summary is subject to the express provisions of the Manitoba Act and the regulations and rules made under it, and prospective investors should refer to the complete text of those provisions.

Rights for purchasers in Newfoundland and Labrador

In accordance with section 130.1 of the Securities Act (Newfoundland and Labrador, hereinafter the "NL Act"), in the event this confidential shelf offering memorandum contains a misrepresentation, a purchaser who purchases Senior Notes shall be deemed to have relied upon such misrepresentation if it was a misrepresentation at the time of purchase, in which event the purchaser has, subject to the defences and limitations set out in the NL Act: (a) a right of action for damages against the Issuer and, every trustee of the Issuer at the date of this confidential shelf offering memorandum and every person or company who has signed this confidential shelf offering memorandum; and (b) a right of rescission against the Issuer. Where a right of rescission is exercised, a purchaser shall have no right of action for damages against any other person or company.

For the purposes of the NL Act "misrepresentation" means: (a) an untrue statement of material fact, or (b) an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in the light of the circumstances in which it was made.

A person or company is not liable under section 130.1 of the NL Act: (a) if the person or company proves the purchaser had knowledge of the misrepresentation; or (b) in an action for damages, for all or any portion of the damages that the person or company proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the security as a result of the misrepresentation. Additionally, in an action for damages, the amount recoverable under the right of action shall not exceed the purchase price at which the security was offered.

In addition no person or company, other than the Issuer, is liable under section 130.1 of the NL Act if:

(a) the person or company proves that this confidential shelf offering memorandum was sent to the purchaser without the person's or company's knowledge or consent and that, on becoming aware of its being sent, the person or company promptly gave reasonable notice to the Issuer that it was sent without the person's or company's knowledge or consent;

CONFIDENTIAL SHELF OFFERING MEMORANDUM

New Issue By Way of Private Placement — January ■, 2018

Senior Secured Notes

Fair Hydro Trust (the "Issuer"), a special purpose trust established under the laws of the Province of Ontario by Computershare Trust Company of Canada, acting as trustee of the Issuer, and caused to be established by Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG"), as Financial Services Manager (as hereinafter defined), has created a program providing for the offering and issuance of senior secured notes (the "Senior Notes"), in one or several offerings. The Issuer was established in connection with the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "FHPA"), legislation [that reallocates certain electricity costs over time and provides immediate rate relief to Specified Consumers (a category of consumers that generally is comprised of residential consumers, small businesses and farms).][1] Under the FHPA, OPG is appointed as the initial financial services manager (in such capacity, the "Financial Services Manager") and is given the authority to, among other things, establish, or cause to be established, one or more financing entities (each, a "Financing Entity") to incur payment obligations (referred to as "Funding Obligations") for the purposes of the FHPA.[2] The Issuer is a Financing Entity under the FHPA and the Senior Notes are Funding Obligations being offered for the purposes of the FHPA.

The Senior Notes do not constitute a debt, liability or other obligation of, or interest in, OPG or any of its other affiliates (other than the Issuer). The Senior Notes are not a debt, liability or obligation of the Province of Ontario or any of its political subdivisions, agencies or instrumentalities. The Senior Notes will not be insured or guaranteed by the Province of Ontario, OPG or any of their respective affiliates or any other person or entity, except that the Province of Ontario has agreed to provide a limited guarantee in respect of the Senior Notes following the occurrence of certain events. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". The Senior Notes will be nonrecourse obligations, secured only by the collateral described in this confidential shelf offering memorandum. See "Risk Factors".

[1] Note: ~~Blakes suggests that that this~~This narrative should be removed or, if necessary, it should track the purposes of the FHPA set out in Section 3 of the Act.

[2] Note: The statutory definition of "funding obligation" provides that the funding obligations have the purpose of funding ownership in an investment interest. Please consider revising the definition of "funding obligation" to more closely track that in the Act.

The specific terms of any offering of Senior Notes, including, without limitation, the aggregate principal amount of Senior Notes being offered, the currency of the Senior Notes, the issue price (at par, at a discount or at a premium), the issue, delivery and maturity dates, any redemption or repayment provisions, the rating of the Senior Notes at the time of such offering, the interest (either fixed or floating and the circumstances, if any, under which the rate may be adjusted), the interest rate basis and interest payment dates, will be established by the Issuer and set forth in a term sheet (a "Term Sheet") that will accompany, be incorporated by reference in and form an integral part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum. Unless otherwise specified in a Term Sheet, the Senior Notes will not be listed on any securities exchange.

The offering of Senior Notes from time to time (each, an "Offering") will be made pursuant to exemptions from the prospectus requirements of applicable securities laws in each of the provinces of Canada only to "accredited investors" (as such term is defined in National Instrument 45-106 – Prospectus Exemptions ("NI 45-106") and, in the case of a purchaser resident in Ontario, section 73.3(1) of the Securities Act (Ontario)) that are purchasing the Senior Notes as principal and that are not individuals unless those individuals are also "permitted clients" (as such term is defined in National Instrument 31-103 – Registration Requirements, Exemptions and Ongoing Registrant Obligations ("NI 31-103")). Purchasers of Senior Notes will be obliged to establish their qualification to invest in accordance with the requirements of the securities laws of the jurisdiction in which they reside. See "Representations and Agreements of Purchasers". As each Offering will be made pursuant to exemptions from prospectus requirements of applicable securities laws, there will be restrictions on the resale of the Senior Notes. See "Risk Factors" and "Restrictions on Resale".

The Senior Notes may be sold by the Issuer directly pursuant to applicable statutory exemptions or through agents designated by the Issuer from time to time (the "Agents"). See "Plan of Distribution". Each Term Sheet will identify the Agents engaged to conditionally offer the Senior Notes for sale on a best efforts basis, subject to prior sale, in connection with the applicable Offering of Senior Notes and will also set forth the terms of such Offering of Senior Notes, including the net proceeds to the Issuer and, to the extent applicable, any fees payable to the Agents.

Subscriptions for the Senior Notes will be received subject to rejection or allotment in whole or in part and the right is reserved to close the subscription books at any time without notice. The Senior Notes will be delivered and recorded in book-entry form through CDS Clearing and Depository Services Inc. ("CDS") or another depository selected by the Issuer in accordance with the master trust indenture governing the Senior Notes. The Senior Notes will be represented by fully registered book-entry notes held by, or on behalf of, such depository, or a successor thereof, as the custodian of the book-entry notes, in its name or the name of its nominee.

The Senior Notes will be issued under and will be entitled to the benefits of a master trust indenture dated as of December 21, 2017 between the Issuer, as issuer, and BNY Trust Company of Canada, as indenture trustee, as amended or supplemented by supplemental indentures thereto.

In making an investment decision, prospective investors acknowledge that they have not relied on the Agents or any person affiliated with the Agents for investment or other advice and are relying on their own examination of the terms of an Offering, including the merits and risks involved and creditworthiness of the Issuer. Prospective investors are not to construe the contents of this document as legal, tax, accounting or investment advice. Prior to investing in the Senior Notes, prospective investors should consult with their legal, tax, accounting and investment advisors to determine the consequences of an investment in the Senior Notes. See "Risk Factors" for a discussion of certain factors that should be considered by prospective purchasers of Senior Notes.

The Issuer is not a "reporting issuer" (as such term is defined under applicable Canadian securities laws) in any jurisdiction. The Issuer will only distribute the Senior Notes in Canada under exemptions from the prospectus requirements of the securities laws of the provinces where they are sold. The Senior Notes may only be traded in Canada under exemptions from the prospectus requirements of the securities laws of the provinces in which they are traded and only through dealers registered or exempt from the dealer registration requirements of applicable Canadian securities laws. See "Restrictions on Resale".

There is currently no secondary market for the Senior Notes. There can be no assurance that a secondary market will develop or, if a secondary market does develop, that it will provide holders of Senior Notes with liquidity for their investment or that it will continue for the term of the applicable Senior Notes. Accordingly, purchasers of the Senior Notes may be required to bear the financial risk of investing in such Senior Notes until the maturity date of such Senior Notes.

No person is authorized to give any information or make any representation other than those contained in this confidential shelf offering memorandum in connection with an Offering and any decision to purchase Senior Notes should be based solely on the information contained herein. The Term Sheet applicable to such Offering and the investor presentation (the "Investor Presentation"), attached hereto as Exhibit 1, are incorporated by reference and included in, respectively, and form an integral part of, this confidential shelf offering memorandum. The information contained in the Investor Presentation is current only as of the date thereof. The Investor Presentation may be updated and replaced by the Issuer in connection with an Offering and such updated Investor Presentation will be attached as Exhibit 1, and will be included in, and form an integral part of, this confidential shelf offering memorandum delivered in respect of such Offering.

This confidential shelf offering memorandum, including the Investor Presentation attached hereto, and any Term Sheets, are provided on a confidential basis to prospective investors for informational use solely in connection with their consideration of the purchase of Senior Notes. Use for any other purpose is not authorized. Each Offering will be made solely on the basis of the information contained herein or incorporated by reference which has been furnished by the Issuer. No Agent makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of such information. Furthermore, no Agent has independently verified the information in this confidential shelf offering memorandum and has no responsibility for the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of any such information.

This confidential shelf offering memorandum does not contain all of the information that would normally appear in a prospectus qualified under applicable Canadian securities laws. Neither the delivery of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, at any time, nor any sales made pursuant hereto, will imply that the information contained herein is correct as of any time subsequent to the date set forth on the face page hereof and the Issuer and the Agents will not update such information except as may be required by applicable law.

CAUTION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

Some of the statements contained in this confidential shelf offering memorandum, including those relating to the Issuer's expectations, forecasts, strategic and other statements, are forward-looking information within the meaning of securities laws. Forward-looking information is contained in the summary and in the sections titled "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Fair Allocation Amount & Financing Plan", "Subordinated Debt", "■"[3] and "Risk Factors" of this confidential shelf offering memorandum and "Financing Plan / Strategy", "Financing Structure", Aggregate Financing Program", "■"[4] and "Consumer Bill Forecast with FHP" of the Investor Presentation. The forward-looking statements contained in this confidential shelf offering memorandum are presented for the purposes of assisting potential purchasers in making an investment decision regarding the Senior Notes and may not be appropriate for other purposes.

Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "may", "will", "expect", "believe", "estimate", "plan", "could", "should", "would", "outlook", "forecast", "anticipate", "foresee", "continue" or the negative of these terms or variations of them or similar terminology. Forward-looking information is based on the reasonable assumptions, estimates, analysis and opinions of management of the Issuer made in light of its experience and perception of trends, current conditions and expected developments, as well as other factors that the Issuer believes to be relevant and reasonable at the date that such statements are made. A variety of factors, many of which are beyond the Issuer's control, may cause actual results to differ materially from the expectations expressed in the forward-looking statements. These factors include, but are not limited to, the following risks:

Judicial, Legislative or Regulatory Risks:

- Future legal action might challenge or invalidate the FHPA or the Regulations and materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.
- Future legislative action to change the FHPA, the Regulations, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or the electricity market might materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.
- Future regulatory action to change the rules applicable to the operation of the electricity market might materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.
- Future judicial action could reduce the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.
- Potential difficulties in enforcing civil liabilities against the Province of Ontario may arise.

Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset:

- Clean Energy Adjustments will not be payable until May 1, 2021 and until such time the IESO will be the sole source of funds for payment on the Senior Notes.
- The Issuer's ability to enforce security granted by the IESO may be ~~significantly~~ impaired or delayed.
- A holder of Senior Notes may experience material payment delays because the source of funds for payment after the Moratorium Period is limited.
- The Clean Energy Adjustment may not be billed after April 30, 2047, unless further regulations to extend that date are passed.
- Foreclosure of the Indenture Trustee's lien on the Investment Interest securing the Senior Notes might not be practical and acceleration of the Senior Notes before maturity might have little practical effect.
- The Issuer may issue multiple Series of Senior Notes secured by the Investment Interest and some decisions affecting holders of Senior Notes may require approval by resolution of the holders of all Series of Senior Notes.
- If a Series of Senior Notes or all Senior Notes are accelerated, a holder of Senior Notes might receive payment of principal sooner or later than expected.
- The Issuer may have a co-ownership interest in the Investment Asset with other Financing Entities.

[3] Note: Please complete.
[4] Note: Please complete.

- If the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts and other funds held in the Issuer Accounts results in investment losses or the investments become illiquid, a holder of Senior Notes might receive payment of principal of and interest on the Senior Notes later than expected.

Servicing, Operating and Consumer Risks

- Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of Electricity Vendors and the IESO.
- Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of OPG as Financial Services Manager and as Manager of the Issuer.
- Inaccurate consumption forecasting or unanticipated delinquencies or write-offs might reduce or delay scheduled payments on the Senior Notes.
- Changes to billing and collection practices may reduce the amount of funds available for payments on the Senior Notes.
- Limits on rights to terminate service to Specified Consumers might make it more difficult to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment.
- It might be difficult for the Issuer to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment from Specified Consumers.
- Indemnification obligations of OPG and the IESO are limited and might not be sufficient to protect the investments in the Senior Notes.
- Delinquent or partial payments of electricity bills may make principal payments on the Senior Notes occur later than expected.
- Power outages could impair payment of the Senior Notes.[5]
- Technological changes that make alternative energy sources more attractive in the future or significant population fluctuations may result in fewer Specified Consumers from whom to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment.

Insolvency-Related Risks

- If the Issuer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Indenture Trustee's ability to enforce security granted by the Issuer may be significantly impaired or delayed.
- If the IESO or any Electricity Vendor were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, collections that have been commingled may be unrecoverable and the Issuer's ability to enforce its rights against the IESO may be significantly impaired or delayed.
- If OPG were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Issuer's ability to enforce its rights against OPG may be significantly impaired or delayed and the Issuer's assets and liabilities may be substantively consolidated with those of OPG.
- If the Issuer Trustee were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the assets and liabilities of the Issuer may be substantively consolidated with the Issuer Trustee.
- If a Specified Consumer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Issuer's ability to collect Clean Energy Adjustment amounts from such Specified Consumer may be adversely affected.
- If amounts in the Issuer Accounts for any Series are invested with entities that become subject to insolvency proceedings, the Issuer's ability to make payments to holders of Senior Notes may be adversely affected.

Other Risks:

- The credit ratings are not an indication of the expected rate of payment of principal on the Senior Notes.
- If the ratings on the Senior Notes are withdrawn or revised downward, the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes may be adversely affected.
- The credit ratings of the IESO, OPG and the Province of Ontario might affect the market value of the Senior Notes.
- The absence of an established market for the Senior Notes might limit the ability to resell or refinance the Senior Notes.
- Restrictions on resale might limit the ability to resell the Senior Notes.

[5] Is this relevant? Is the concern that the CEA would be spread across a relatively smaller base due to lower usage in a period?

Please also see "Risk Factors".

The Issuer does not intend, or assume any obligation, to update any forward-looking information except as may be required by applicable law.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Ontario~~'s~~ Fair Hydro Plan Act:	~~On March 2, 2017, the Province of Ontario announced its Fair Hydro Plan, proposing to lower the average electricity bill for certain eligible customers.[3]~~ On June 1, 2017, the Ontario ~~government~~Legislature passed the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "FHPA")~~[, legislation that [reallocates certain electricity costs over time and provides immediate rate relief to~~. The FHPA was enacted to: (i) ensure that Clean Energy Costs and Clean Energy Benefits are fairly allocated among present and future Specified Consumers (a category of consumers that generally is comprised of residential consumers, small businesses and farms)~~].[4] From~~; (ii) recognize that Clean Energy Benefits have accrued and will accrue over time and will continue to benefit present and future electricity consumers in Ontario; and (iii) align Clean Energy Costs with Clean Energy Benefits, in order to provide fairness for Specified Consumers over time. As a result, from July 1, 2017 until April 30, 2018, electricity rates payable by Specified Consumers will in effect be the rate that would result in a representative consumer being charged an invoice amount that is 25%[~~5~~6] less than the rate that would otherwise have been determined by the Ontario Energy Board (the "OEB") under its Regulated Price Plan[7] for that period. Under the FHPA, OPG is appointed as the initial financial services manager (in such capacity, the "Financial Services Manager") and is given the authority to, among other things, establish, or cause to be established, one or more financing entities (each, a "Financing Entity") to incur payment obligations (referred to as "Funding Obligations") for the purposes of the FHPA and the Regulations.[~~6~~8] The Issuer is a Financing Entity[9] under the FHPA and the Regulations and the Notes are Funding Obligations being offered for the purposes of the FHPA and the Regulations. See "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan —

[3] ~~Note: Blakes suggest this narrative is removed. The March 2 announcement describes the lowering of electricity bills as part of a significant system restructuring to address long-standing policy challenges and ensure greater fairness.~~

[4] ~~Note: Blakes suggests that that this narrative be removed or, if necessary, it should track the purposes of the FHPA set out in Section 3 of the Act.~~

[~~5~~6] The 25% reduction includes an 8% rebate equivalent to the provincial portion of the harmonized sales tax previously granted by the Ontario government.

[~~6~~8] Note: The statutory definition of "funding obligation" provides that the funding obligations have the purpose of funding ownership in an investment interest. Please consider revising the definition of "funding obligation" to more closely track that in the Act.

[9] Note: Elsewhere, the disclosure refers only to the Issuer without adverting to the possibility of other future Financing Entities. To the extent that this simplification suggests in a particular context that other future Financing Entities would not be permitted or similarly treated, references to the Trust should be broadened to encompass the possibility of future Financing Entities.

Background".

Summary of the Fair Hydro Financing Program:

The implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan is intended to be financed by the Issuer through the Fair Hydro financing program. The program provides for the offering and issuance by the Issuer of Senior Notes, in any number of series (each a "Series"), in one or several offerings (each, an "Offering"). A Term Sheet will describe particulars of the terms of each Series of Senior Notes and will be incorporated by reference and form an integral part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum. Each Series of Senior Notes will be issued under the master trust indenture dated as of December 21, 2017 (as amended, supplemented, restated or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Master Trust Indenture") between the Issuer, as issuer, and BNY Trust Company of Canada, as indenture trustee (the "Indenture Trustee"), as supplemented by a supplemental indenture dated the date of the issuance of such Series between the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee (a "Supplemental Indenture" and collectively with the Master Trust Indenture, the "Indenture") authorizing that Series.

Transferor and Servicer:

The Independent Electricity System Operator (the "IESO") is a not-for-profit corporation established under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario). The IESO manages the operation and reliability of Ontario's bulk power system and administers the wholesale electricity market.[10]

Each month, the IESO will determine the shortfall resulting from the rate reduction mandated by the FHPA and record the amount in a variance account. The IESO has the right, exercisable in accordance with the FHPA and the Regulations, to recover the balance recorded in the variance account from Specified Consumers (such right, the "Regulatory Asset"), although. However, the FHPA provides that the IESO is not entitledpermitted to exercise thissuch right before May 1, 2021.2021 is limited under the FHPA. The IESO has entered into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer dated as of December 21, 2017 (as amended, supplemented, restated or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement") pursuant to which the IESO may, on a monthly basis, offer to transfer a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer in accordance with the FHPA. See "Transferor and Servicer".

Investment Interest:

Upon acceptance of the transfer by the IESO of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset, the Issuer will acquire an Investment Interest in the Investment Asset, which is a current and irrevocable property right consisting of the rights specified in the FHPA, including the right and interest to impose, invoice, collect, receive and recover the Clean Energy Adjustment from Specified Consumers in accordance with the FHPA and the Regulations. See "— Clean Energy Adjustment" below and "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Regulatory Asset", "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Investment Interest" and "The Transferor and Servicer".

Clean Energy Adjustment:

The FHPA and the Regulations impose an irrevocable and non-bypassable charge referred to as the Clean Energy Adjustment that will be determined by the Financial Services Manager based on the calculations and parameters set out in the FHPA. The OEB is required to determine the rates at which Specified Consumers are to be invoiced in order to recover the Clean Energy Adjustment in respected of a specified Reference Period (which is generally a six month period, or a shorter period in certain circumstances). The rates are to be determined by reference to forecasted electricity consumption of Specified Consumers for a period and are expressed as a cent per KWh rate. See "— Statutory Duties of the OEB" below.

[10] Note: Consider also referring to IESO's planning and procurement functions. They may be meaningful here to the extent they impact IESO objectives and governance generally.

The required Clean Energy Adjustment will be determined by the Financial Services Manager for each month in a Reference Period and consists of the sum (without duplication) of: (i) the estimated Finance Amount in respect of the Reference Period, which will include an estimate of all repayments, redemptions, funding costs, derivative payments, required deposits, Issuer expenses and taxes, and other amounts paid or payable during such Reference Period, and (ii) the True-up Amount for such Reference Period, all divided by the number of months in the applicable Reference Period.

The "True-up Amount" is required to be calculated by the Financial Services manager in accordance with the Regulations. In principle, the True-up Amount should serve to ensure that the collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment is sufficient to pay the Finance Amount when it is due, by capturing any Finance Amounts not previously received in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment during preceding Reference Periods.

The True-up Amount may also reflect historical and reasonably foreseeable differences between the estimated and actual Finance Amount; between amounts invoiced and amounts collected due to various factors, including applicable taxes, consumer defaults and delays, billing lags and write-offs; and variations in billings due to variations in electricity consumption. In determining such differences, the Financial Services Manager is required to have regard to amounts payable that were not collected and any amounts in respect of which an overpayment was made, which may include amounts resulting from a default of Specified Consumers, an Electricity Vendor or the IESO, whether in its capacity as an Electricity Vendor or its activities as agent or otherwise under the FHPA and the Regulations. The Financial Services Manager is obligated to calculate the True-up Amount in respect of each Reference Period so long as all Funding Obligations and other Finance Amounts have not been paid in full. The Financial Services Manager may also, at any time during a Reference Period, determine an interim True-up Amount if, among other things, it reasonably forecasts that the collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be insufficient to pay the estimated Finance Amount for a Reference Period.

[Commencing May 1, 2021, a charge in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be included on invoices sent to Specified Consumers, and collected and remitted to the Issuer to pay amounts owing on the Senior Notes and all other administrative and other financing expenses of the Issuer. From July 1, 2017 until April 30, 2021 (the "Moratorium Period"), no Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are permitted to be collected from Specified Consumers. During the Moratorium Period, the sole source of funds for payment on the Senior

Notes, and the Issuer's other ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs, will be the amounts the IESO is obligated to pay under the Regulations during such period. See "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Clean Energy Adjustment".][7][11]

Non-bypassability:

The FHPA mandates that an amount in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment shown on an invoice issued to a Specified Consumer is determinative of the amount of the consumer's indebtedness resulting from the Clean Energy Adjustment, and is irrevocable on invoicing such Specified Consumer and may not be set off or bypassed. See "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan — Clean Energy Adjustment".

Payment of Carrying Costs during the Moratorium Period:

During the Moratorium Period and extending to July 31, ~~2021,~~[8]2021,[12] the IESO, which is rated A(high) by DBRS Limited ("DBRS") and Aa2 by Moody's Investors Services, Inc. ("Moody's"), is required under the Regulations to pay and remit to the Issuer any amounts charged to the IESO by the Issuer in respect of its ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs. Under the Regulations, ~~"carrying costs"~~Carrying Costs include all funding costs, such as interest on the Senior Notes, and other expenses of the Issuer, other than repayment of principal on any debt obligations of the Issuer (such as principal on the Senior Notes).[9][13]

Pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, on or before the fourth business day of each calendar month, the Issuer will submit a carrying costs statement to the IESO certifying the amount of ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs estimated to be incurred by the Issuer in the following month. On or before the 14th business day following receipt of the Issuer's carrying costs statement, the IESO is required to deliver the amount specified therein to the Issuer. See "The Transferor and Servicer". The IESO has a $2 billion unsecured credit facility provided by the Ontario Financing Authority, expiring ■, 20■, which ~~can~~is permitted to be used to pay the Issuer's ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs. The amounts paid by the IESO to fund these ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs will be recorded by the IESO in a variance account and form part of the Regulatory Asset that the IESO is expected to transfer to the Issuer in a subsequent period and, upon such transfer, will become part of the Issuer's Investment Interest pursuant to the Regulations.

As security for the performance of its obligation under the Regulations to pay the Issuer's ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs, the IESO has granted the Issuer a first-priority security interest in all of its accounts receivable, which includes the amounts receivable by the IESO from [7] ~~Note: Blakes suggests that this narrative should more precisely track the FHPA. The relevant provisions are Section 25(3) [the IESO shall not be entitled to collect all or part of the balance recorded in the variance account from specified consumers before May 1, 2021] and Section 21(4) [limitation on the Financial Services Manager incurring funding obligations payable through Clean Energy Adjustments from July 1, 2017 to April 30, 2021].~~

[11] Note: This narrative should more precisely track the FHPA. The relevant provisions are Section 25(3) [the IESO shall not be entitled to collect all or part of the balance recorded in the variance account from specified consumers before May 1, 2021] and Section 21(4) [limitation on the Financial Services Manager incurring funding obligations payable through Clean Energy Adjustments from July 1, 2017 to April 30, 2021]. In particular, the suggestion that CEAs cannot be collected in any circumstance during the Moratorium Period goes beyond 21(4) and presumes that there will be no Readjustment.

[8][12] Note: Please clarify this disclosure for consistency with Section 9.1(1) of the General Regulation. This provision states that the IESO shall pay financing entity carrying costs in respect of the period beginning June 1, 2017 (before the Moratorium Period) and ending on July 31, 2021.

[9][13] Note: Consider revising to conform with Section 9.3(3) of the General Regulation. This Section provides that "carrying costs" also include derivative payments, etc.

Acceleration of Indebtedness:

A holder of Senior Notes must rely solely on the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected and any available reserve accounts for repayment of principal on the Senior Notes. Accordingly, if all or any portion of the principal amount of any indebtedness of the Issuer (including one or more Series of Senior Notes) becomes due and payable during the Moratorium Period and before its scheduled payment date, maturity date or redemption date, the source of funds for repayment of principal may be limited.

If all or any portion of the principal amount of any indebtedness of the Issuer (including one or more Series of Senior Notes) becomes due and payable after the Moratorium Period and before its scheduled payment date, maturity date or redemption date, then the estimated Finance Amount used by the Financial Services Manager to determine the Clean Energy Adjustment for a period will be determined without regard to the fact that such amount has become due and payable, unless and only to the extent that the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment is capable of being increased based on the Fair Allocation Amount for such period. See "— Fair Allocation Amount and Financing Plan" below. However, upon such acceleration, all accelerated Senior Notes will be repaid in full before any further payments of principal are made to holders of subordinated indebtedness, including the subordinated debt held by OPG; therefore, collections of the Clean Energy Adjustment that would otherwise have been available to repay the principal amount of subordinated indebtedness in the absence of acceleration of the Senior Notes will instead be applied to repay accelerated Senior Notes. See "— Subordinated Debt" below.[14]

Statutory Duties of the OEB:

The OEB is an independent public regulatory agency established under the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998. The Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998 provides the OEB with the authority to regulate participants (e.g. OEB licensees) in Ontario's [electricity market][15], including the activities of transmitters and distributors as well as the IESO (all Electricity Vendors for the purposes of the FHPA).

Under the Regulations, the OEB is responsible for determining the rates at which Specified Consumers are to be invoiced to recover the Clean Energy Adjustment. The rates are expressed as a cent per kWh rate and are determined by the OEB by dividing (i) the aggregate Clean Energy Adjustment as determined by the Financial Services Manager in respect of the relevant period of time by (ii) the forecast of electricity consumption of Specified Consumers in respect of such period, based on forecast information provided to the OEB by the IESO. See "— Statutory and Servicing Duties of the IESO" below.

Statutory Duties of Electricity

Electricity is distributed to almost all Specified Consumers in Ontario through a network of local distributors. See "Electricity Industry in

[14] Note: Add detailed description to correspond to this summary in the detailed portion of the OM.

Vendors:

Ontario" and the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum for more details regarding the Ontario electricity market and these local distributors.

The FHPA and the Regulations require Electricity Vendors to invoice their Specified Consumers for a charge in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, as determined by applying the rate set by the OEB, which is required to be included as a separate line item on each invoice sent to Specified Consumers. Electricity Vendors are also required to collect, as agent of [the Issuer][10]~~10~~16, amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, deposit such amounts into a segregated account established for the purpose of receiving those amounts, and hold such amounts in trust for the benefit of [the Issuer][11]~~11~~17 until remitted to the IESO for the benefit of [the owners of Investment Interests (initially, only the Issuer)].[12]~~12~~18 If an Electricity Vendor does not receive payment in full of an invoice issued to a Specified Consumer, the Electricity Vendor shall allocate any payment received on a pro rata basis to the Clean Energy Adjustment and the other amounts payable under the particular invoice.[13]~~13~~19 It is a deemed condition of their distribution license issued by the OEB that Electricity Vendors comply with the FHPA.[14]~~14~~20

As security for any failure of an Electricity Vendor that does not have an investment grade rating from DBRS and Moody's to remit Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected under the FHPA, the IESO is required, pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, to provide to the Issuer on or prior to the first day of the first billing period when the Clean Energy Adjustment is being invoiced to Specified Consumers, a letter of credit from a provider that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition or a performance guarantee or such other form of security that is acceptable to the Issuer and that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition. The amount of the security required from the IESO is based on a formula as set out in the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement and will equal: (i) 50% of forecasted Clean Energy Adjustment amounts that are to be collected by such non-investment grade rated Electricity Vendors and held for 45 days prior to the funds being remitted to the Issuer; or (ii) such other amount that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition. See "The Transferor and Servicer."

Management Duties of OPG:

OPG has entered into a management agreement (the "Management Agreement") with the Issuer pursuant to which the Issuer has delegated to OPG, as manager (the "Manager"), all of the powers and duties of managing the Issuer, including determining whether to incur Funding Obligations (including Offerings of Senior Notes) to acquire an Investment Interest or refinance existing Funding Obligations; negotiating and executing, on behalf of the Issuer, all agreements; maintaining accounts and banking records; preparing any offering documents to be furnished by the Issuer to prospective purchasers of Funding Obligations (including the Senior Notes); and preparing financial statements and tax filings on behalf of the Issuer. See "The Manager".

In addition to the powers and duties delegated to the Manager under the Management Agreement, OPG is also required to comply with its duties as Financial Services Manager under the FHPA and the Regulations, including preparing the Financing Plan to evaluate whether potential Funding Obligations should be incurred for the purposes of Financing Entities acquiring and financing an Investment Interest, determining the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment inclusive of the calculation of any True-up Amount, notifying the OEB of the Clean Energy Adjustment inclusive of any True-up Amount and ensuring that Funding Obligations are incurred in a manner consistent with the Financing Plan. OPG may also administer the Investment Interest on behalf of the Issuer and any other Financing Entities. Subject to OEB approval and as provided for in the FHPA and the Regulations, OPG is entitled to charge the Issuer a fee, comprised of a base fee and a variable fee, to earn a return and to recover costs and expenditures incurred by OPG on behalf of the Issuer or in relation to the establishment, management and administration of the Issuer and its Investment Interest. The priority of the Manager's entitlement to fees is subject to the payment priorities set forth in the Master Trust Indenture. See "The Manager".

Statutory and Servicing Duties of the IESO:

Following the Moratorium Period, the IESO is required, as agent of [the Issuer][~~15~~21], to receive Clean Energy Adjustment amounts paid to it from Electricity Vendors, deposit such amounts promptly into a segregated account established for the purpose of receiving amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, hold such amounts in trust on behalf of [the Issuer] and remit such amounts to [the Issuer] [on a monthly basis, subject to daily remittance being required in certain limited circumstances.][~~16~~22] In addition, the IESO will provide certain reporting and other servicing duties in favour of the Issuer, including providing forecast information regarding electricity consumption of Specified Consumers and providing such forecast information to the OEB and the Issuer, making commercially reasonable efforts to cause Electricity Vendors to establish segregated accounts into which Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are deposited, remitting such amounts to [the Issuer] and fulfilling certain additional reporting requirements. [Generally, all servicing duties provided by the IESO to the Issuer are provided at no cost to the Issuer.][~~17~~23] However, the Issuer will reimburse the IESO for certain direct costs relating to the performance by the IESO of its duties and obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement that are otherwise not recovered or recoverable by the IESO under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario). See "The Transferor and Servicer."

Change of Law Protection Agreement:

Pursuant to the Change of Law Protection Agreement in favour of the Indenture Trustee, upon a Protection Event and delivery by the Indenture Trustee of a written payment demand, the Province of Ontario is required to make payments in respect of all "Approved Obligations" when due and payable into the Protection Account (which, provided that the Notes are Approved Obligations, includes payments of amounts that are due and payable in respect of Notes), although the amount of Province of Ontario's payment obligations in a particular period will differ depending on whether an Acceleration has occurred. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". The Issuer and Indenture Trustee must ensure that amounts deposited into the Protection Account are applied to pay each Specified Creditor to whom an amount is due and payable under an Approved Obligation.

Generally, an "Approved Obligation" under the Change of Law Protection Agreement includes all obligations of the Issuer (except for amounts required to be deposited into any capital account or finance reserve account, or any obligation for the Issuer to pay itself any remaining amounts in the Collection Account pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture), including obligations of the Issuer under the Notes, subject to the satisfaction of certain adherence conditions for those obligations that constitute "Certified Primary Obligations", as defined in the Change of Law Protection Agreement. Subject to certain limited exceptions for refinancings, a "Certified Primary Obligation" includes all Notes, as well as certain other obligations of the Issuer under derivative agreements or under contracts with terms of greater than three years that are not terminable by the Issuer on less than three years' notice under which the Manager, acting reasonably, expects aggregate payments by the Issuer during the term of the contract in an amount ~~equal to or greater than~~in excess of $5,000,000.

Protection Event:

Each of the following constitutes a "Protection Event" for purposes of the Change of Law Protection Agreement:

(i) the Ontario legislature repeals, and does not replace on an equivalent basis, or amends, the FHPA~~, in whole~~ or ~~in part~~any portion thereof, as in effect on the date hereof;

(ii) the Ontario legislature enacts or amends any other statute;

(iii) the Lieutenant Governor in Council repeals, and does not replace on an equivalent basis, the regulations made under the FHPA~~, in whole~~ or ~~in part~~any portion thereof, as in effect on the date hereof;

(iv) the Lieutenant Governor in Council, a minister of the Crown, an official of the government or a board or commission all the members of which are appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council makes or amends any "regulation" (as defined in Part III of the Legislation Act, 2006) as in effect on the date hereof; or

(v) the implementation of a change in the organization or structure of the IESO or Ontario's electricity market undertaken at the initiative of the Province of Ontario or an entity controlled by the Province of Ontario,

in each case, that (X) adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable, in each case determined after taking into account and having regard to (i) any funds available at such time to apply to such Approved Obligations, including in any finance reserve account, capital account or collateral posting account applicable under a derivative agreement, (ii) the availability of any credit enhancement agreement to which the Issuer is a party and (iii) any reasonably expected potential effect of a True-up Amount in the Reference Period immediately following the occurrence of an event described in any of clauses (~~a~~i) to (~~e~~v) above, or (Y) adversely affects the enforceability of, or adversely changes, the terms and conditions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement or of any of the agreements under which Approved Obligations arise; or

(b) a court of competent jurisdiction determines that all or a portion of the FHPA or the Regulations, as in effect on the date hereof, is ultra vires or invalid in a way that adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable and that has the effect of the Issuer not in fact having sufficient funds to pay such Approved Obligations that have become due and payable, in each case determined after taking into account and having regard to (i) any funds available at such time to apply to such Approved Obligations, including in any finance reserve account, capital account or collateral posting account applicable under a derivative agreement, (ii) the availability of any credit enhancement agreement to which the Issuer is a party and (iii) any reasonably expected potential effect of a True-up Amount in the Reference Period immediately following the occurrence of an event described in this paragraph (b).

The occurrence of a Protection Event in and of itself will not result in the acceleration of the Senior Notes.

The Province of Ontario's obligation to make payments under the Change of Law Protection Agreement upon a Protection Event and subsequent delivery of a written payment demand by the Indenture Trustee is referred to as the "Limited Guarantee".

Upon paying amounts when due and payable in respect of Approved Obligations, including the Senior Notes, into the Protection Account, the Province of Ontario will be subrogated and entitled to all of the rights and interests of applicable Specified Creditors (including Noteholders) under and in respect of the Approved Obligations to the extent of the amounts paid. The Province of Ontario will have the right to be paid from the Issuer the amounts that the Province of Ontario paid in respect of the Approved Obligations, such amounts being payable in the same order of priority and with the same entitlements accruing to the Province of Ontario as applied to the amounts in respect of the Approved Obligations previously owing to Specified Creditors that the Province of Ontario has paid. The Province of Ontario will also be entitled to the benefit of the Collateral and proceeds therefrom.

Under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the right to deliver a written payment demand on occurrence of a Protection Event to enforce the Limited Guarantee is the only remedy available to the Indenture Trustee (and to Specified Creditors, to the extent they are permitted to exercise any rights, interests or elections under and in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture). Specified Creditors are not permitted to exercise any rights, interests, or elections under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, other than in the manner and to the extent effected and exercised under, in accordance with and subject to the limitations set forth in the Master Trust Indenture as at December 21, 2017.

Approved Obligations & Adherence Conditions:

Under the Management Agreement, the Manager is required to ensure that all obligations of the Issuer are and remain Approved Obligations under the Change of Law Protection Agreement.

The Limited Guarantee shall apply to all Certified Primary Obligations that meet the following adherence conditions:

(a) the Certified Primary Obligation when incurred is an Obligation Secured under the Master Trust Indenture;

(b) OPG, as Financial Services Manager, delivers a certificate to the Indenture Trustee on or before the incurrence of such obligation certifying that it has complied with all of its obligations to the Province of Ontario and internal requirements and processes in connection with the adherence of the Limited Guarantee to the Certified Primary Obligation; and

(c) the Province of Ontario has not provided a Suspension Notice to the Indenture Trustee, OPG and the Issuer.

All Senior Notes shall constitute Obligations Secured under the Master Trust Indenture and therefore condition (a) above will be satisfied for all Offerings of Senior Notes. It will be a condition to any Offering of Senior Notes that OPG deliver the adherence certificate required pursuant to (b) above or that the Province of Ontario designates in writing that the Senior Notes are Approved Obligations. The Change of Law Protection Agreement provides that delivery of an adherence certificate shall be determinative of satisfaction of this adherence condition, notwithstanding that such certificate may include inaccuracies, be incomplete or otherwise be defective or deficient, and such certificate may be relied upon as conclusive evidence of same.

Suspension Notice & Post-Suspension Refinancing

The Change of Law Protection Agreement will remain in full force and effect until the indefeasible payment, observance and performance in full of the Approved Obligations.

However, in the following limited circumstances, the Province of Ontario may deliver a Suspension Notice under the Change of Law Protection Agreement: (i) if there has been an acceleration of Funding Obligations in accordance with the provisions of the Master Trust

Indenture or an event of default, early amortization event, termination event or similar event or circumstance (including any event that with the passage of time or the giving of notice would become such an event) of or in respect of the obligations of any party under any Program Agreement; (ii) if there has been an uncured breach of covenant, uncured default in performance, or uncured representation, warranty or certification that proves to be incorrect in any material respect on the date made, in each case of OPG (or its officers, in the case of a certification) to the Province of Ontario in connection with its obligations to the Province of Ontario pursuant to internal requirements and processes in connection with the provision or adherence of the Limited Guarantee to or in respect of any Certified Primary Obligations; or (iii) if the Financial Services Manager is no longer the Manager or actions have been taken by or on behalf of the Indenture Trustee to remove the Financial Services Manager as the Manager.

Upon delivery of a Suspension Notice, the Limited Guarantee shall not apply in respect of obligations incurred by the Issuer (excluding certain refinancings of Approved Obligations as described below) and certain material amendments of outstanding obligations of the Issuer.

Notwithstanding delivery of a Suspension Notice, the Limited Guarantee shall continue to apply to: (i) any Approved Obligations that were incurred prior to the suspension and (ii) any Funding Obligations incurred by the Issuer following a suspension that satisfy the terms and conditions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement, provided that the proceeds of such incurrence are to be used for the purpose of repaying one or more series of Approved Obligations. Accordingly, subject to compliance with the Change of Law Protection Agreement, any Senior Notes or other Funding Obligations that may be issued following a suspension to refinance Senior Notes that were Approved Obligations issued prior to a suspension will continue to have the benefit of the Limited Guarantee.

See "Change of Law Protection Agreement".

Fair Allocation Amount & Financing Plan:

The Fair Allocation Amount is an amount calculated under the FHPA and the Regulations by the Minister of Energy in respect of each Reference Period that, among other things, allocates the estimated value of certain costs allocated to Specified Consumers in respect of the Ontario government's clean energy initiatives ("Clean Energy Costs")[24] in proportion to the relative attribution of the value of benefits determined to be derived by or accruing to Specified Consumers as a result of such clean energy initiatives ("Clean Energy Benefits") among Specified Consumers. See "Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan".~~18~~[25]

The Financial Services Manager is required to prepare a Financing Plan under the FHPA to evaluate whether potential Funding Obligations should be incurred by the Issuer or other Financing Entities for the purposes of acquiring an Investment Interest or for the purposes of a Refinancing. In preparing the Financing Plan, the [24] Note: Consider that "Clean Energy Costs" is more thoroughly defined in the Glossary. Through the OM, reconsider instances where there are two different definitions.

~~18~~[25] Note: ~~Please consider a~~The description of the fair allocation amount ~~that~~should more closely ~~aligns~~align to Section 20(1) of the FHPA.

Financial Services Manager must have regard to certain principles, including that Funding Obligations should be incurred such that, along with any Funding Obligations already incurred, the estimated Finance Amount that would, subject to any Refinancing, become due and payable during a Reference Period will reasonably align with the Fair Allocation Amount determined in respect of such Reference Period as of the date the Funding Obligations were incurred, after reducing the Fair Allocation Amount by the Readjustment Amount, if any, in respect of the Reference Period.

In other words, the Financing Plan should contemplate the issuance of Funding Obligations from time to time, with terms that would result in Clean Energy Adjustments being payable by Specified Consumers that align with the purposes of the FHPA [, namely, to ensure that present and future Specified Consumers are bearing their share of the costs of providing Clean Energy Benefits].[19][26] Notwithstanding the above, the FHPA provides that each Funding Obligation is deemed to be consistent with the Financing Plan and to provide for the reasonable alignment of the estimated Finance Amount with the Fair Allocation Amount.

[Currently, the Clean Energy Costs have been determined to exceed the Clean Energy Benefits, with the result that the Fair Allocation Amount is negative. This [means that the Minister of Energy has determined that current Specified Consumers have borne more than their fair share of Clean Energy Costs (with the consequent rate reduction for current Specified Consumers). The Fair Allocation Amount is expected to be negative until at least May 2024.][20][27] Accordingly, the Financing Plan does not currently contemplate the issuance of any Senior Notes maturing prior to May 2024. The Financial Services Manager may, however, determine to refinance Senior Notes maturing after May 2024 through the issuance of another Series of Senior Notes. If Senior Notes cannot be refinanced on or before the applicable Principal Payment Default Date, holders of such Senior Notes will have the ability to accelerate their Senior Notes resulting in Clean Energy Adjustments that would otherwise be used to pay the principal amount on subordinated indebtedness to holders of subordinated Notes being used to pay holders of accelerated Senior Notes.

The Financing Plan allows for the issuance of a variety of short and long term debt. See the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum for more details regarding the Financing Plan and the Fair Allocation Amount.

Subordinated Debt:

Concurrent with every issuance of senior debt by the Issuer, including any Offering of Senior Notes, it is expected that OPG will subscribe for subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt of the Issuer in an amount equal to no more than 49% of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations, approximately 44% of which is expected to be funded through equity investments in OPG by the Province of Ontario with the remaining 5% being funded from OPG's available funds, including all or a portion of the proceeds of any offerings by OPG of medium

[19] ~~Note: Please revise to characterize the purpose of the FHPA as consistent~~[26] Note: The description should more closely align with the stated purposes of the FHPA in Section 3 of the Act.

[20] ~~Note to MOE: Please review in particular~~[27] Note: MOE to confirm whether including this sort of prediction is appropriate.

	term notes. Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer will be required at all times to ensure that: (i) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt be not less than 35% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations; and (ii) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all junior subordinated debt be not less than 10% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations.
Use of Proceeds:	The proceeds from each Offering may be used to (i) acquire an Investment Interest from the IESO pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, (ii) refinance indebtedness of the Issuer (including other Series of Senior Notes), (iii) pay Offering and related costs of the Issuer and (iv) fund specific reserve accounts as required. The Term Sheet for each Offering of Senior Notes will identify the amount of proceeds that will be used for such specified purposes.
Interest Rate:	Fixed, floating or otherwise, as determined by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Interest Payment Dates:	As determined from time to time by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Principal Accumulation Date(s) and Principal Accumulation Amount(s):	As determined from time to time by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Principal Payment Date(s) and Principal Payment Amount(s):	As determined from time to time by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Principal Payment Default Date:	As determined from time to time by the Issuer and as set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.
Ranking:	Subject to the applicable payment waterfalls set out in the Master Trust Indenture, the Senior Notes will be direct, secured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, and will at all times rank equally and proportionately with each other and all other senior indebtedness issued by the Issuer from time to time pursuant to the Indenture, without discrimination or preference. See "Capital Markets Platform — Subordination Provisions", "Capital Markets Platform — Acceleration and Remedies — Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration".
Security:	All indebtedness and other obligations of the Issuer, including the Senior Notes, will be secured by a first ranking charge against all property and assets of the Issuer, including each Issuer Account (and all funds and property credited thereto), all rights and benefits, and powers of the Issuer under the FHPA and all rights, benefits and power under all Program Agreements, including under the Limited Guarantee. Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer is required to maintain certain reserves: the IESO Cash Reserve Deposit Amount (an amount equal to the aggregate of (i) 0.50% of the aggregate amount of all outstanding senior, subordinated and junior subordinated funding obligations determined as of April 15, 2021, and (ii) an amount estimated as the amount of ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs payable during May, June and July 2021, provided such amount in (ii) satisfies the Rating Agency Condition) will be deposited by the IESO by April 30, 2021. There is also a Program Cash Reserve Account which will begin to be funded from Clean Energy Adjustments following the Moratorium Period until it reaches the Program Cash Reserve Required Amount (on each Payment Date on and after May 15, 2021, an amount equal to 0.50% of the aggregate amount of all outstanding senior, subordinated and junior subordinated funding obligations determined as of such date, or such lesser amount that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition). Funds in the IESO Cash Reserve Account will be applied to pay ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs after April 2021 to the extent that funds can be so applied such that the aggregate amount of funds in the IESO Cash Reserve Account and Program Cash Reserve Account is maintained at the Program Cash Reserve Required Amount.

In connection with the incurrence of any Series of Notes, the Issuer may (i) establish a Series Account for purposes of accumulating funds used to make principal payments or for purposes of reserving funds to pay finance charges, and/or (ii) enter into a credit enhancement agreement or liquidity agreement. Whether a Series of Senior Notes has the benefit of a Series Account or any credit enhancement agreement or liquidity agreement will be determined from time to time by the Issuer and set out in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering.

See "Capital Markets Platform — Security".

Priority of Payments:

Prior to an Event of Default and acceleration of the Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations), amounts available for disbursement will generally be applied in the following order of priority:

- taxes;
- trustee fees, expenses and reimbursement amounts (up to a specified cap);
- payment of or accumulations in respect of interest for senior obligations, pari passu with payments under derivative agreements (other than termination payments);

THE ELECTRICITY INDUSTRY IN ONTARIO

General Overview

The Ontario electricity industry is principally comprised of three components:

- Generation: the production of electricity from various forms of energy, such as wind, solar, hydropower, natural gas and nuclear;
- Transmission: the transfer of electricity across high-voltage power lines from generating facilities to local areas; and
- Distribution: the delivery of electricity within local areas to homes and businesses using lower voltage power lines.

The structure of Ontario's electricity industry underwent significant changes in the late 1990s and early 2000s. Prior to April 1, 1999, Ontario Hydro, a Crown corporation, supplied most of Ontario's electricity generation and transmission needs. Consistent with initiatives taken in other electricity markets in North America at the time, the electricity industry was restructured in order to encourage greater competition. Ontario's competitive electricity market was opened by the IESO on May 1, 2002 and the market is used to administer the purchase and sale of wholesale electricity in Ontario.

Since the opening of the competitive market, Ontario's power supply mix has experienced significant change. As a result of provincial government policy, coal-fired generation has been eliminated and a significant amount of new capacity has been added as a result of new natural gas powered capacity, new wind and solar capacity and additional baseload nuclear generation capacity. These changes have resulted in significantly increased costs of electricity to consumers in Ontario.

While electricity supply in Ontario has increased, the province's electricity demand as reported by the IESO has fallen over the last decade, largely due to changes in economic conditions and conservation measures. Moreover, the addition of small scale solar generation embedded in the distribution system has reduced the level of demand that is supplied by transmission-connected generation. Reducing electricity demand by encouraging conservation and demand management has been a key part of the Government of Ontario's plan to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from the province's electricity sector. Shorter-term fluctuations in electricity demand are impacted by variations in seasonal weather conditions.

Real-time energy supply needs are met through the wholesale electricity market administered by the IESO. Generators offer their generation into this real-time energy market, or "spot market", to be dispatched by the IESO. The IESO receives hourly offers from electricity generators and importers to provide energy, along with bids to withdraw energy from a few flexible loads and exporters, and then schedules the lowest-cost offers and bids needed to meet demand. Virtually all generators in Ontario also have bilateral contracts with the IESO that provide for payments in addition to the market price of electricity that is paid to generators.

Key Industry Participants

Ontario Power Generation Inc.

OPG is a corporation formed under the Business Corporation Act (Ontario), whose sole shareholder is the Province of Ontario. In 1999, when Ontario Hydro was split up in anticipation of deregulation, OPG was formed to hold all of the generation assets. OPG has divested itself of certain of those assets, but remains the largest generator in Ontario.

OPG is Ontario's largest clean energy generator. As at the date hereof, OPG operated two nuclear generating stations, 66 hydroelectric generating stations, three thermal generating stations, and one wind power turbine. OPG's mission is to provide low cost power in a safe, clean, reliable and sustainable manner for the benefit of its customers and its sole shareholder, the Province of Ontario. OPG's electricity generation accounts for almost half of the total energy generated and injected into Ontario's electricity transmission system, as reported by the IESO. OPG is one of the most experienced and largest generating companies in Canada with a broad set of relationships and capabilities. OPG is also experienced in successful complex financing arrangements of large capital projects, including the recently completed Lower Mattagami project.

Additional information about OPG is provided in the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum and is available at www.opg.com.

The IESO

The IESO is a non-share capital corporation created under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario). It was created as an amalgamation of two predecessor entities, one of which was also called the IESO ("Predecessor IESO") and the other of which was called the Ontario Power Authority ("OPA"). Predecessor IESO was responsible for operating the real-time electricity markets in Ontario, as well as administering the market rules. The OPA was the counterparty that entered into bilateral power or capacity purchase contracts with generators. These two entities were merged statutorily on January 1, 2015 into the IESO, which now carries out all of these functions. As a non-share capital corporation, the IESO does not have any shareholders or owners, but it is governed by an independent Board of Directors whose chair and directors are appointed by the Minister of Energy.

Additional information about the IESO is provided in the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum and is available at www.ieso.ca.

The Ontario Energy Board

The OEB is a non-share capital corporation created under the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998. The OEB is an independent and impartial public regulatory agency. The Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998 provides the OEB with the authority to license and regulate the participants in Ontario's electricity market, including the activities of the IESO, transmitters and distributors which are also Electricity Vendors for the purposes of the FHPA.

The OEB has the following objectives in relation to the electricity industry:

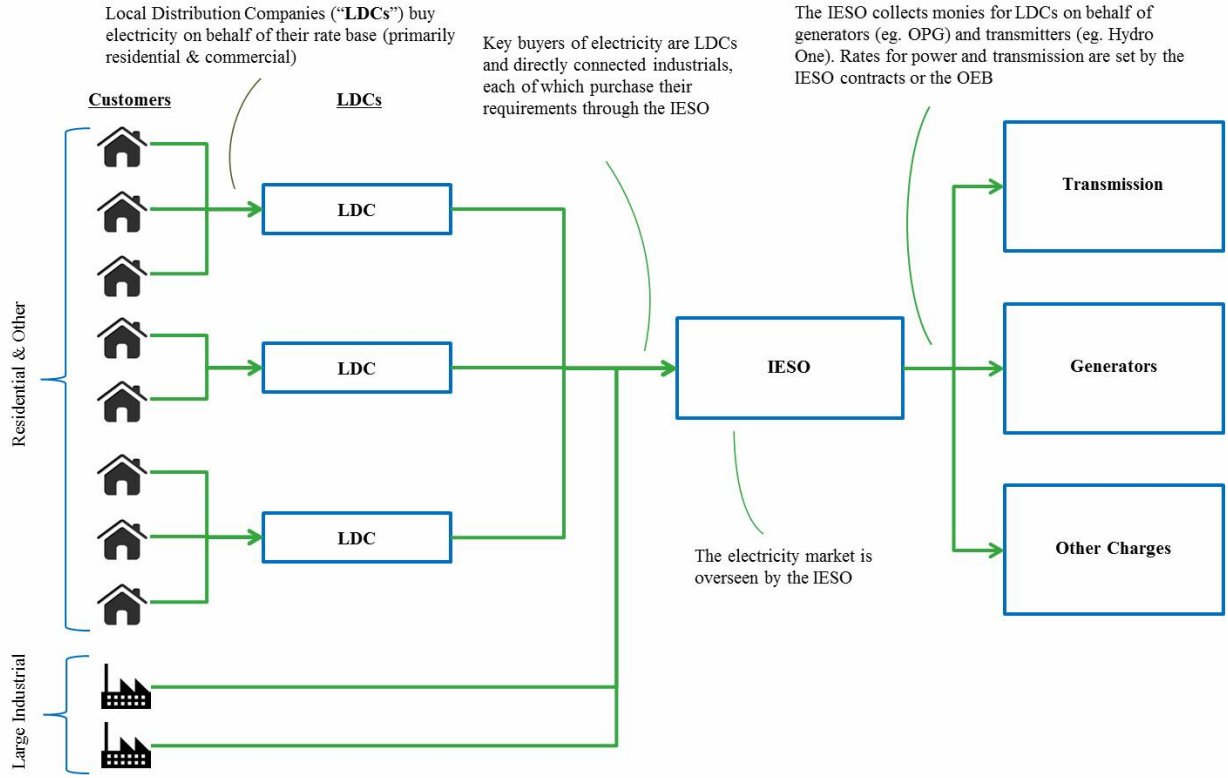
(a) to protect the interests of consumers with respect to prices and the adequacy, reliability and quality of electricity service;

(b) to promote the education of consumers;

(c) to promote economic efficiency and cost effectiveness in the generation, transmission, distribution, sale and demand management of electricity and to facilitate the maintenance of a financially viable electricity industry;

(d) to promote electricity conservation and demand management in a manner consistent with the policies of the Province of Ontario, including having regard to the consumer's economic circumstances;

(e) to facilitate the implementation of a smart grid in Ontario; and



(f) to promote the use and generation of electricity from renewable energy sources in a manner consistent with the policies of the Ontario government, including the timely expansion or reinforcement of transmission systems and distribution systems to accommodate the connection of renewable energy generation facilities.

The OEB is responsible for, among other things, approving transmission and distribution rates in Ontario, as well as payment amounts for OPG's nuclear and hydroelectric generation. It also approves the construction, expansion, or reinforcement of transmission lines greater than two kilometres in length, as well as mergers, acquisitions, amalgamations and divestitures involving distributors, transmitters and other entities which it licenses. The activities of transmitters and distributors are subject to the conditions of their transmission and distribution licenses, as applicable, which require compliance with a number of industry codes issued by the OEB, as well as with the market rules that are administered by the IESO. These codes and other requirements prescribe minimum standards of conduct and service for licensed participants in the electricity market.

Electricity Vendors

As part of the restructuring of Ontario's electricity industry, the province's municipally-owned electricity distributors were reorganized into separate business corporations. These distributors are typically referred to in Ontario as local distribution companies, or "LDCs". An LDC is responsible for distributing electricity to customers in its OEB-licensed service territory, and in some cases to other distributors. A service territory may cover large portions or all of a particular municipality, or an otherwise-defined geographic area. Distribution customers include residential, commercial and industrial end-users, such as governments, schools and hospitals. At multi-unit buildings within an LDC's service territory, there may be a unit sub-metering service provider that provides metering services for each individual unit. These sub-metering service providers are also licensed by the OEB. The following diagram depicts a simplified flow of funds between the key industry participants:

See the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum for more details regarding LDCs.

Electricity Prices

There are two main components that make up the commodity cost of electricity in Ontario, the hourly Ontario energy price ("HOEP") and the global adjustment charge.

- The HOEP is set by the IESO on an hourly basis based on bids and offers in the real-time energy market that is administered by the IESO.

- The global adjustment charge is also paid by loads. It is established monthly by the IESO in accordance with regulations and is used to collect funds used by the IESO to pay certain "out of market" costs that are not compensated by the HOEP, including the cost of energy supply contracts with generators and payments made to certain generators, including OPG, that are entitled to a regulated rate of return based on OEB-established payment amounts. For all loads with a peak demand under 500 kW (in other words, all Specified Consumers),[28] the global adjustment charge is based on electricity usage on a per unit basis.

Prior to the FHPA being passed, the amount collected by the IESO on account of the HOEP and global adjustment charge was approximately equal to the IESO's liabilities, subject to certain periodic true-ups and adjustments to keep the IESO whole.

At the request of the Minister of Energy in 2004, and in accordance with amendments to legislation, the OEB created the "Regulated Price Plan" or "RPP", which establishes time-of-use and tiered prices for residential, farm and small commercial customers. Prior to the introduction of the FHPA, the RPP prices were reviewed and changed every six months based on an updated forecast and any accumulated differences between the amounts collected from RPP consumers and the amount paid to generators in the previous period. RPP prices are now established in accordance with the FHPA. Most Specified Consumers are billed for electricity based on the Regulated Price Plan, although some Specified Consumers may be invoiced the HOEP and the global adjustment charge by their LDC for electricity they have consumed. The IESO has also stated that there is one Specified Consumer connected directly to the transmission system and settled by the IESO, not an LDC.

While most residential and small commercial consumers in Ontario choose to purchase their electricity under the RPP, consumers in Ontario may instead choose to buy their electricity from a licensed retailer pursuant to a retail contract that provides a fixed rate for electricity over a specified period. These customers are also required to pay the global adjustment charge in addition to the rate under their retail contract.

In addition to the HOEP and global adjustment charges, or RPP, as the case may be, electricity consumers pay a number of other uplifts and charges, such as transmission and distribution tariffs.

ONTARIO'S FAIR HYDRO PLAN

Background

On June 1, 2017, the Ontario ~~government~~Legislature passed the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017[29] (the "FHPA")[, legislation that reallocates certain electricity costs over time and provides immediate rate relief to consumers][~~21~~30]. From July 1, 2017 until April 30, 2018, electricity rates payable by Specified Consumers (a category of consumers that generally is comprised of residential consumers, small businesses and farms) will in effect be the rate that would result in a representative consumer being charged an invoice amount that is 25%[~~22~~31] less than the rate that would otherwise have been determined by the OEB for that period (the "Fair Adjustment").

Under the FHPA, a "Specified Consumer" is:

(a) a person who has an account with an Electricity Vendor for the supply of electricity in the Province of Ontario and meets any one of the following criteria:

(i) the person has a demand for electricity of 50 kilowatts or less, or such other amount as may be prescribed by the Regulations;

(ii) the person annually uses not more than 250,000 kilowatt hours of electricity, or such other amount as may be prescribed by the Regulations;

[28] Note: Please confirm.

[29] Note: The FHPA was Schedule 1 to omnibus legislation entitled the Fair Hydro Act, 2017. Further, already defined as the FHPA above.

[~~21~~30] Note: ~~Blakes suggests that this~~This narrative ~~is~~should be removed, or if necessary, ~~that~~ the description of the FHPA ~~tracks~~should track the purposes of the Act as set out in Section 3 to the Act.

[~~22~~31] The 25% reduction includes an 8% rebate equivalent to the provincial portion of the harmonized sales tax previously granted by the Ontario government.

(iii) the person carries on a business that is a farming business for the purposes of the Farm Registration and Farm Organizations Funding Act, 1993 and either holds a valid registration number assigned under that Act or has had the obligation to file a farming business registration form waived pursuant to an order made under subsection 22(6) of that Act;

(iv) the person's account with the Electricity Vendor relates to

(A) a dwelling;

(B) a property within the meaning of the Condominium Act, 1998;

(C) a residential complex within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Residential Tenancies Act, 2006, without regard to section 5 of that Act; or

(D) a property that includes one or more housing units and that is owned or leased by a co-operative within the meaning of the Co-operative Corporations Act; or

(v) the person satisfies such criteria as may be prescribed by the Regulations; or

(b) such other person as may be prescribed by the Regulations.

Electricity bills for Specified Consumers for the period between May 1, 2018 and April 30, 2019 are to increase by the rate of inflation (or remain unchanged in the event inflation is negative). Permitted increases after April 30, 2019 will be determined by the Ontario government through additional regulations, though the Ontario government has indicated that rate increases will be held to the rate of inflation until 2021.

Under the FHPA, OPG is appointed as the initial Financial Services Manager and given the authority to, among other things, establish, or cause to be established, one or more financing entities (each, a "Financing Entity") to incur payment obligations (such obligations, "Funding Obligations") to fund the acquisition of an Investment Interest. The Issuer is a Financing Entity under the FHPA and the Senior Notes are Funding Obligations under the FHPA.

Regulatory Asset

Under the FHPA, each month the IESO determines the shortfall that results from the Fair Adjustment as compared to what the IESO would have been entitled to receive without the Fair Adjustment and records this amount, together with the costs of financing the shortfall, in a variance account.~~23~~32 The IESO has the right, exercisable in accordance with the FHPA and the Regulations, to recover the balance recorded in the variance account from Specified Consumers (such right, the "Regulatory Asset")~~, although~~. However, in accordance with the FHPA, the IESO is not entitled to ~~exercise such right~~collect all or part of the balance recorded in the variance account (which is the basis of the Regulatory Asset) from specified consumers before May 1, 2021. The IESO may, in accordance with the FHPA, transfer a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset to a Financing Entity for a cash purchase price equal to the amount recorded in the variance account in respect of such specified portion of the Regulatory Asset. Upon receipt by the IESO of payment by the Financing Entity, the IESO retains no further right, title or interest in the corresponding Investment Interest.

Investment Interest

By acquiring an Investment Interest, the Financing Entity is financing a portion of the shortfall that results from the Fair Adjustment and, as an owner of the Investment Interest, will be entitled to recover its "Finance ~~Amounts~~Amount" (the costs of such financing). While a Financing Entity may choose to acquire an Investment Interest from the IESO, it is under no obligation to do so.

~~23~~32 Note: Please consider disclosure of further details as to what is recorded in the variance account. For instance, paragraph 3 of Section 15 in the General Regulation states that amounts incurred by the IESO on or after May 1, 2017 but before the FHPA came into force may be recorded in the IESO deferral.

If the IESO and a Financing Entity agree to the transfer of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset from the IESO, such transfer results in the creation of a current and irrevocable property right that is immediately vested in the Financing Entity, free and clear of any adverse claim (such right, the "Investment Asset", and ~~the Financing Entity's~~an ownership interest therein, an "Investment Interest"). The Investment Asset consists, collectively, of the following rights and interests of Investment Interest owners (among other things):~~2433~~

(a) the right and interest to impose, invoice, collect, receive and recover the Clean Energy Adjustment from Specified Consumers, including the right to determine the Clean Energy Adjustment in accordance with the FHPA;

(b) the right to receive, collect and recover the Clean Energy Adjustment that is imposed, invoiced and recoverable under the FHPA, including any amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment that are held by Electricity Vendors or the IESO;

(c) the right to enforce the duties and obligations under the FHPA of each Electricity Vendor to impose, attribute, charge and invoice for the Clean Energy Adjustment;

(d) the right to enforce the duties and obligations under the FHPA of each Electricity Vendor and the IESO to collect, receive and remit amounts received by it in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, including all collections and the proceeds of any enforcement action undertaken by any Electricity Vendor to recover payment of the Clean Energy Adjustment;

(e) all rights of any kind related to any of the other property rights or interests that comprise the Investment Interest, including any rights to receive a payment obligation incurred by the IESO as part of the transfer of the Regulatory Asset (such payment obligations incurred by the IESO being "Funding Rebates"); and

(f) all revenue, collections, claims, payments, money and proceeds of or derived from the rights described in paragraphs (a) to (e), regardless of whether it is invoiced, collected and maintained together with or commingled with other revenue, collections, claims, payments, money and proceeds.

Clean Energy Adjustment

The "Clean Energy Adjustment" is the amount calculated in accordance with the FHPA and payable by Specified Consumers [to cover the cost of financing the shortfall that results from the Fair Adjustment].[34] The Financial Services Manager will determine the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment payable by Specified Consumers for each month of a Reference Period. The Clean Energy Adjustment is based on an estimate of the amount payable by a Financing Entity in a Reference Period in respect of the Finance Amount and the True-up Amount (each as described below).

The "Finance Amount" in respect of the Issuer for a period of time is an amount determined by the Financial Services Manager as follows:

(a) after eliminating any duplication in the following amounts, calculating the sum of the following amounts:

(i) amounts paid or payable during the period in respect of the payment by or on behalf of the Issuer or the provision by or on behalf of the Issuer for the payment of all or a portion of the principal amount advanced to the Issuer under a Funding Obligation;

[34] Note: Consider that the statutory definition of "Clean Energy Adjustment" states that it is "the amount determined under section 15 [of the FHPA] and payable by specified consumers". The FHPA does not expressly state the purpose of the Clean Energy Adjustment.

(ii) interest, commitment fees or other similar costs payable by or on behalf of the Issuer in respect of Funding Obligations that are paid or payable during the period;

(iii) amounts payable by or on behalf of the Issuer to redeem, prepay or repurchase Funding Obligations incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer, including any premium, make-whole or other amount payable to give effect to the prepayment, redemption or repurchase, that are paid or payable during the period;

(iv) payments required to be made in respect of any derivative agreements during the period, including ordinary course payments, payments on termination and payments made in connection with margining or collateral arrangements;

(v) amounts deposited, as required under the governing documents of Funding Obligations, into capital accounts or finance reserve accounts during the Reference Period;

(vi) Issuer expenses, including fees (including fees charged by the Financial Services Manager), charges, costs, indemnities, reimbursements and other amounts incurred or committed to by or on behalf of the Issuer as a result of an activity authorized or permitted under the FHPA, and any taxes on such amounts, in each case that are paid or payable during the period;

(vii) taxes paid or payable by or on behalf of the Issuer, incurred directly or indirectly by the Issuer, or for which the Issuer is otherwise liable as a result of any activity, undertaking, transaction or event authorized or permitted under the FHPA that payable during the period; and

(viii) amounts paid or payable by or on behalf of the Issuer during the period to any guarantor or surety that made a payment of an amount due and payable under a funding obligation, including pursuant to a guarantee, indemnity, contract of insurance or agreement entered into under subsection 5(2) or (3) of the FHPA;

(b) after eliminating any duplication in the following amounts, calculating the sum of the following amounts:

(i) amounts withdrawn, as required under the governing documents of Funding Obligations, from capital accounts or finance reserve accounts during the period;

(ii) for any period before May 1, 2021, amounts received during the period in respect of Carrying Costs and Funding Rebates and for any period on and after May 1, 2021, amounts received during the period in respect of Funding Rebates;

(iii) the aggregate of all amounts received by or on behalf of the Issuer in respect of Funding Obligations during the period;

(iv) the principal amount of Funding Obligations incurred by the Issuer that are applied to refinance existing Funding Obligation during the period;

(v) any payments received in connection with a derivative agreement, including ordinary course receipts, payments received on termination and payments received in connection with margining or collateral arrangements, in each case during the period;

(vi) amounts received by or on behalf of the Issuer as a refund of tax and to which the Issuer is entitled as a result of any activity, undertaking, transaction or event authorized or permitted under the FHPA during the period; and

(c) subtracting the sum calculated under (b) from the sum calculated under (a).

In determining the Clean Energy Adjustment, the Financial Services Manager must also calculate a "True-up Amount" in accordance with the Regulations. In principle, the True-up Amount should serve to ensure that the collection of the Clean Energy Adjustments is sufficient to pay the Finance Amount when it is due, by capturing any Finance Amounts not previously received in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment during the preceding Reference Periods. The True-up Amount may also reflect historical and reasonably foreseeable differences between the estimated and actual Finance Amount; between amounts invoiced and amounts collected due to various factors, including applicable taxes, consumer defaults and delays, billing lags and write-offs; and variations in billings due to variations in electricity consumption. In determining such differences, the Financial Services Manager is required to have regard to amounts payable that were not collected and any amounts in respect of which an overpayment was made, which may include amounts resulting from a default of Specified Consumers, an Electricity Vendor or the IESO, whether in its capacity as an Electricity Vendor or its activities as agent or otherwise under the FHPA and the Regulations. The Regulations obligate the Financial Services Manager to calculate the True-up Amount in respect of each Reference Period so long as all Funding Obligations and other Finance Amounts have not been paid in full. The Financial Services Manager may also at any time during a Reference Period determine an interim True-up Amount if, among other things, it reasonably forecasts that the collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be insufficient to pay the estimated Finance Amount for a Reference Period.

The Financial Services Manager must notify the OEB of the Clean Energy Adjustment for each Reference Period. The OEB must accept this amount and will determine the rates at which Specified Consumers are to be invoiced to recover the Clean Energy Adjustment. The rates are expressed as a cent per kWh amount and are determined by the OEB by dividing (i) the Clean Energy Adjustment provided by the Financial Services Manager in respect of the relevant period of time by (ii) the forecast of electricity consumption of Specified Creditors in respect of such period, based on forecast information provided to the OEB by the IESO. Electricity Vendors are required to invoice their Specified Consumers for the Clean Energy Adjustment, as determined by applying the rate set by the OEB, which is required to be included as a separate line item on each invoice. Electricity Vendors are required to collect, as agent of the [Issuer],[~~25~~35] amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, deposit such amounts into a segregated account established for the purpose of receiving those amounts, and hold such amounts in trust for the benefit of the [Issuer] until remitted to the IESO for the benefit of the [the owners of Investment Interests (initially, only the Issuer)]. If an Electricity Vendor does not receive payment in full of an invoice issued to a Specified Consumer, the Electricity Vendor shall allocate any payment received on a pro rata basis to the Clean Energy Adjustment and the other amounts payable under the particular invoice.[~~26~~36] It is a deemed condition of their licenses that Electricity Vendors comply with their obligations under the FHPA.[~~27~~37] If there are any amounts that are collected by the Electricity Vendor, but not remitted to the IESO to remit to [the Issuer] during a Reference Period, such shortfall will be included in the True-up Amount for the subsequent period.

An amount in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment shown on an invoice issued to a Specified Consumer is determinative of the amount of such Specified Consumer's indebtedness resulting from the Clean Energy Adjustment and is irrevocable upon invoicing and may not be set off or bypassed, except to the extent that the invoice reflects a clerical, typographical or calculation-related error. [Commencing May 1, 2021, a charge in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be included on invoices sent to Specified Consumers, and collected and remitted to the Issuer to pay amounts owing on the Senior Notes and all other administrative and other financing expenses of the Issuer. From July 1, 2017 until April 30, 2021 (the "Moratorium Period"), no Clean Energy Adjustments are permitted to be collected from Specified Consumers. During the Moratorium Period, the sole source of funds for payment on the Senior Notes, and the Issuer's other ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs, will be the amounts the IESO is obligated to pay under the Regulations during such period.][~~28~~38] See "— IESO Payment of Carrying Costs during the Moratorium Period" below. Once it starts being included on such invoices, the Clean Energy Adjustment will be collected until all outstanding Funding Obligations and other Finance Amounts have been repaid in full. Subject to the FHPA, the Clean Energy Adjustment will be collected and remitted to the Issuer to pay the

The following diagram illustrates the flow of funds under the Fair Hydro Plan.

[1] There is currently one Specified Consumer that is directly connected to the IESO and, accordingly, makes payments, including in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, directly to the IESO.

Fair Allocation Amount and Financing Plan

The FHPA was enacted to: (i) ensure that Clean Energy Costs and Clean Energy Benefits are fairly allocated among present and future Specified Consumers; (ii) recognize that Clean Energy Benefits have accrued and will accrue over time and will continue to benefit present and future electricity consumers in Ontario; and (iii) align Clean Energy Costs with Clean Energy Benefits, in order to provide fairness for Specified Consumers over time. Under the FHPA, the Minister of Energy calculates a "Fair Allocation Amount", which is an amount for every Reference Period that, among other things, allocates the estimated Clean Energy Costs in proportion to the relative attribution of Clean Energy Benefits among Specified Consumers.[2939] Under the FHPA, the Minister of Energy is responsible for determining the Fair Allocation Amount prior to the incurrence of the first Funding Obligation. The Fair Allocation Amount may be changed from time to time in accordance with the FHPA , provided that no change of the Fair Allocation Amount shall affect any Clean Energy Adjustment that arises as a result of a Funding Obligation that has been incurred prior to such change.

OPG, as Financial Services Manager, is required to prepare a Financing Plan to evaluate whether and when potential Funding Obligations should be incurred by a Financing Entity to acquire an Investment Interest or for the purposes of a Refinancing. The Financial Services Manager is required to prepare the Financing Plan having regard to certain prescribed principles, including that Funding Obligations should be incurred such that, along with any Funding Obligations already incurred, the estimated Finance Amount that would, subject to any Refinancing, become due and payable during a Reference Period will reasonably align with the Fair Allocation Amount determined in respect of such Reference Period as of the date the Funding Obligations were incurred, after reducing the Fair Allocation Amount by the Readjustment Amount, if any, in respect of the Reference Period. In other words, the Financing Plan should contemplate the issuance of Funding Obligations from time to time, with terms that would result in Clean Energy Adjustments being payable by Specified Consumers that align with the purposes of the FHPA[, namely, to ensure that present and future Specified Consumers are bearing their fair share of the costs of providing Clean Energy Benefits]~~30~~[40]. Notwithstanding the above, the FHPA provides that each Funding Obligation is deemed to be consistent with the Financing Plan and to provide for the reasonable alignment of the estimated Finance Amount with the Fair Allocation Amount.

~~[~~Currently, the Clean Energy Costs have been determined to exceed the Clean Energy Benefits, with the result that the Fair Allocation Amount is negative. This [means that the Minister of Energy has determined that current Specified Consumers have borne more than their fair share of Clean Energy Costs (with the consequent rate reduction for current Specified Consumers). The Fair Allocation Amount is expected to be negative until at least May 2024.]~~31~~[41] Accordingly, the Financing Plan does not currently contemplate the issuance of any Senior Notes maturing prior to May 2024. The Financial Services Manager may, however, determine to refinance Senior Notes maturing after May 2024 through the issuance of another Series of Senior Notes. If Senior Notes cannot be refinanced on or before the applicable Principal Payment Default Date, holders of such Senior Notes will have the ability to accelerate their Senior Notes resulting in Clean Energy Adjustments that would otherwise be used to pay the principal amount of subordinated indebtedness to holders of subordinated Notes being used to pay holders of accelerated Senior Notes.

The Financing Plan allows for the issuance of a variety of short and long term debt. See the Investor Presentation attached as Exhibit 1 to this confidential shelf offering memorandum for more details regarding the Financing Plan and the Fair Allocation Amount.

IESO Payment of Carrying Costs During the Moratorium Period

Commencing May 1, 2021, a charge in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment will be included on invoices sent to Specified Consumers, and collected and remitted to the Issuer to pay amounts owing on the Senior Notes and all other administrative and financing expenses of the Issuer. During the Moratorium Period and extending to July 31, 2021,~~32~~[42] the IESO, which is rated A(high) by DBRS Limited ("DBRS") and Aa2 by Moody's Investors Services, Inc. ("Moody's"), is required under the Regulations to pay and remit to the Issuer amounts charged to the IESO by the Issuer in respect of its ~~"carrying costs". "~~Carrying Costs. Carrying ~~costs"~~Costs include all funding costs (such as interest on the Senior Notes) and other expenses of the Issuer, other than repayment of principal on any debt obligations of the Issuer (including repayment of principal on the Senior Notes).~~33~~[43] The amounts paid by the IESO to fund these ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs will be recorded by the IESO in a variance account and form part of the Regulatory Asset that the IESO is expected to transfer to the Issuer in a subsequent period and, upon such transfer, will become part of the Issuer's Investment Interest pursuant to the Regulations.

Pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, on or before the fourth business day of each calendar month, the Issuer will submit a carrying costs statement to the IESO certifying the amount of ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs estimated to be incurred by the Issuer in the following month. On or before the 14th business day following receipt of the Issuer's statement, the IESO is required to deliver the amount specified in the carrying costs statement to the Issuer. See "The Transferor and Servicer". The IESO has a $2 billion unsecured credit facility provided by the Ontario Financing Authority, expiring ■, 20■, which ~~can~~is permitted to be used to pay the Issuer's ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs. Furthermore, as security for the performance of its obligations under the Regulations to pay the Issuer's ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs, the IESO has granted the Issuer a first-priority security interest in all of its accounts receivable, which includes the amounts receivable by the IESO from Electricity Vendors with respect to the global adjustment charge. See "The Transferor and Servicer".

~~32~~[42] Note: Please clarify this disclosure for consistency with Section 9.1(1) of the General Regulation. This provision states that the IESO shall pay financing entity carrying costs in respect of the period beginning June 1, 2017 (before the Moratorium Period) and ending July 31, 2021.

~~33~~[43] Note: Consider revising to conform with the definition of "carrying costs" in Section 9.1(3) of the General Regulation.

Other Statutory Protections

The FHPA provides certain protection and assurances in respect of the obligations of Specified Consumers to pay amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment. Generally, no action or omission by the OEB, the Minister of Energy or the Crown, and no regulation under the FHPA, will be effective to reduce, impair, postpone or terminate the obligations of Specified Consumers to pay amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment or to impair or postpone the invoicing, collection or remittance of the Clean Energy Adjustment. If an Electricity Vendor, the IESO or the Financial Services Manager, has failed, or will fail, to comply with the FHPA or the Regulations, the Issuer may apply to an Ontario court to make an order directing such party to comply and requiring compensation to be provided to the Issuer by such non-compliant party. Additional contractual protections are provided in the Change of Law Protection Agreement described below.

CHANGE OF LAW PROTECTION AGREEMENT

The following brief summary of certain provisions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Change of Law Protection Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Change of Law Protection Agreement and the detailed provisions thereof. The Change of Law Protection Agreement may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Senior Notes are outstanding.

Pursuant to the Change of Law Protection Agreement in favour of the Indenture Trustee, upon a Protection Event and delivery by the Indenture Trustee of a written payment demand, the Province of Ontario is required to make payments of amounts that are due and payable in respect of all Approved Obligations when due and payable into the Protection Account (as hereinafter defined). The Issuer and Indenture Trustee must ensure that amounts deposited into the Protection Account are applied to pay each Specified Creditor to whom an amount is due and payable under an Approved Obligation. The Province of Ontario's obligation to make such payments under the Change of Law Protection Agreement upon a Protection Event and delivery by the Indenture Trustee of a written payment demand is referred to as the "Limited Guarantee".

The payment obligations of the Province of Ontario under the Limited Guarantee differ depending on whether an Acceleration has occurred. If no Acceleration has occurred in respect of any Obligation Secured on or before a date on which the Province of Ontario is to perform the Limited Guarantee, the Change of Law Protection Agreement provides that the Province of Ontario is to pay the amounts due and payable on such date in respect of Approved Obligations. If an Acceleration has occurred in respect of any Obligation Secured on or before a date on which the Province of Ontario is to perform the Limited Guarantee, the Province of Ontario is to pay the amounts that would be available to be paid on such date in respect of the Approved Obligation on an applicable payment date in respect of the Approved Obligation under the applicable payment provisions of the Master Trust Indenture, determined on the assumption that the amount available for allocation to Specified Creditors in accordance with such applicable payment provisions of the Master Trust Indenture in respect of each relevant month during each Reference Period is equal to the estimated Finance Amount determined in respect of such Reference Period for purposes of [section 15(1) of the FHPA (in effect as at December 21, 2017), including section 6.1 of the General Regulation under the FHPA (in effect as at December 21, 2017)][44], divided by the number of months in such Reference Period.

The Province of Ontario is not obligated to pay or indemnify the Indenture Trustee or any Specified Creditor for consequential, special or punitive damages, or for economic loss or loss of profits (provided that economic loss does not include payments of amounts that are due and payable in respect of the Notes).

Under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the right to deliver a written payment demand on occurrence of a Protection Event to enforce the Limited Guarantee is the only remedy available to the Indenture Trustee (and to Specified Creditors, to the extent they are permitted to exercise any rights, interests or elections under and in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture). Specified Creditors are not permitted to exercise any rights, interests, or elections under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, other than in the manner and to the extent effected and exercised under, in accordance with and subject to the limitations set forth in the Master Trust Indenture as at December 21, 2017.

In connection with the provision of the Limited Guarantee, OPG, as Financial Services Manager, has entered into a process agreement with the Province of Ontario pursuant to which OPG is required to satisfy certain reporting and other requirements regarding the Issuer's incurrence of, and material amendments to, any Issuer Funding Obligations.

Protection Event

Each of the following constitutes a "Protection Event" under the Change of Law Protection Agreement:

(i) the Ontario legislature repeals, and does not replace on an equivalent basis, or amends, the FHPA, in whole or in part, as in effect on the date hereof;

(ii) the Ontario legislature enacts or amends any other statute;

(iii) the Lieutenant Governor in Council repeals, and does not replace on an equivalent basis, the regulations made under the FHPA, in whole or in part, as in effect on the date hereof;

(iv) the Lieutenant Governor in Council, a minister of the Crown, an official of the government or a board or commission all the members of which are appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council makes or amends any "regulation" (as defined in Part III of the Legislation Act, 2006) as in effect on the date hereof; or

in each case, that (X) adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable, in each case determined after taking into account and having regard to (i) any funds available at such time to apply to such Approved Obligations, including in any finance reserve account, capital account or collateral posting account applicable under a derivative agreement, (ii) the availability of any credit enhancement agreement to which the Issuer is a party and (iii) any reasonably expected potential effect of a True-up Amount in the Reference Period immediately following the occurrence of an event described in any of clauses (~~a~~i) to (~~e~~v) above, or (Y) adversely affects the enforceability of, or adversely changes, the terms and conditions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement or of any of the agreements under which Approved Obligations arise; or

(b) a court of competent jurisdiction determines that all or a portion of the FHPA or the Regulations, as in effect on the date hereof, is ultra vires or invalid in a way that adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of its Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable and that has the effect of the Issuer not in fact having sufficient funds to pay such Approved Obligations that have become due and payable, in each case determined after taking into account and having regard to (i) any funds available at such time to apply to such Approved Obligations, including in any finance reserve account, capital account or collateral posting account applicable under a derivative agreement, (ii) the availability of any credit enhancement agreement to which the Issuer is a party and (iii) any reasonably expected potential effect of a True-up Amount in the Reference Period immediately following the occurrence of an event described in this paragraph (b).

The occurrence of a Protection Event in and of itself will not result in the acceleration of the Senior Notes.

On a Protection Event and payment by the Province of Ontario of amounts in respect of Approved Obligations that are due and payable into the Protection Account, such deposited amounts are applied by the Issuer and Indenture Trustee in the priority of payments governed by the Master Trust Indenture.

Upon the Province of Ontario's payment of amounts in respect of Approved Obligations that are due and payable into the Protection Account, the Province of Ontario will be subrogated and entitled to all of the rights and interests of applicable Specified Creditors (including Noteholders) under and in respect of the Approved Obligations to the extent of the amounts paid. Applicable Specified Creditors in respect of whom amounts were deposited into the Protection Account will not have continuing rights, interests or entitlements (including rights as a secured party) in respect of Approved Obligations to the extent so paid; the Province of Ontario will be the absolute assignee of such rights. The Province of Ontario will have the right to be paid from the Issuer the amounts that the Province of Ontario paid in respect of the Approved Obligations ("Subrogation Amounts"), such Subrogation Amounts being payable in the same order of priority and with the same entitlements accruing to the Province of Ontario as applied to the amounts in respect of the Approved Obligations previously owing to Specified Creditors that the Province of Ontario has paid. The Province of Ontario will also be entitled to the benefit of the Collateral (as hereinafter defined) and proceeds therefrom to the extent of the amounts paid under the Limited Guarantee.

As payee of Subrogation Amounts, the Province of Ontario will be a Specified Creditor under the Master Trust Indenture and no person entitled under any Obligation Secured (including a Specified Creditor) that ranks equal with or subordinate to the Approved Obligation in respect of which the Province of Ontario is owed a Subrogation Amount will be entitled to make any claim or assert any right in or to the amounts paid or payable to the Province of Ontario, and no such person will have any right to the Collateral or any proceeds therefrom in respect of any Subrogation Amount. Further, the entitlements of the Province of Ontario to Subrogation Amounts arising in respect of Approved Obligations that are interest and principal obligations on Notes will be treated for all purposes of the Master Trust Indenture as interest and principal obligations, respectively, arising under Notes, having the same priority and any applicable voting rights as under the related Approved Obligations, and accordingly the Province of Ontario will be entitled to all of the rights, entitlements, interests and privileges of a holder of such Notes in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture, as supplemented by the supplemental indenture or other indenture document under which the related Approved Obligations were issued.

Approved Obligations & Adherence Conditions

Under the Management Agreement, the Manager is required to ensure that all obligations of the Issuer are and remain Approved Obligations under the Change of Law Protection Agreement.

An "Approved Obligation" under the Change of Law Protection Agreement means: (i) a Certified Primary Obligation if the adherence conditions applicable thereto have been satisfied at the time such obligation was incurred; (ii) all other Primary Obligations that are not Certified Primary Obligations (except any Primary Obligation to which the Limited Guarantee will not apply on or after delivery of a ~~suspension notice~~Suspension Notice as described below); and (iii) all Certified Primary Obligations that the Province of Ontario, in its sole discretion, designates in writing is an Approved Obligation.

A "Primary Obligation" under the Change of Law Protection Agreements means any Obligation Secured under the Master Trust Indenture (i) that is a Funding Obligation or (ii) that otherwise is a payment obligation of the Issuer that gives rise to a Finance Amount, in each case other than (x) any amounts required to be deposited by or on behalf of the Issuer into any capital account or finance reserve account; and (y) any obligation to pay the Issuer or on the Issuer's direction any remaining amounts in the Collection Account pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture.

A "Certified Primary Obligation" means a Primary Obligation: (i) incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer to fund its ownership of an Investment Interest, including any Refinancing, other than a Post-Suspension Refinancing or a Pre-Approved Refinancing (each as defined below), of such a Primary Obligation (for greater certainty, including, in the case of any Certified Primary Obligation permitting funding transactions pursuant to a Funding Obligation Agreement applicable to the Certified Primary Obligation, each individual borrowing or funding utilization thereunder), (ii) incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer upon the Issuer entering into a derivative agreement, in which case the Certified Primary Obligation therefor shall be the Master Agreement applicable to such derivative agreement and not any individual trade confirmation other than a trade confirmation that modifies or purports to override the express terms or conditions of the related Master Agreement, or (iii) incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer upon entering into a contract that has a term of more than three (3) years which is not terminable by the Issuer giving three (3) years' notice or less and expected (as determined by the Manager, acting reasonably) aggregate payments by the Issuer thereunder during the term of such contract are or would be in excess of $5,000,000 (that, for greater certainty, is not otherwise captured in clauses (i) and (ii) above).

The Limited Guarantee shall apply to all Certified Primary Obligations that meet the following adherence conditions:

(a) the Certified Primary Obligation when incurred is an Obligation Secured under the Master Trust Indenture;

(b) OPG, as Financial Services Manager, delivers a certificate to the Indenture Trustee on or before the incurrence of such obligation certifying ~~that it~~, among other things, that OPG has delivered a certificate to the Province of Ontario confirming that OPG has complied with all of its obligations to the Province of Ontario and internal requirements and processes in connection with the adherence of the Limited Guarantee to the Certified Primary Obligation (an "Adherence Compliance Certificate"); and

(c) the Province of Ontario has not provided a Suspension Notice to the Indenture Trustee, OPG and the Issuer.

All Senior Notes shall constitute Obligations Secured under the Master Trust Indenture and therefore condition (a) above will be satisfied for all Offerings of Senior Notes. It will be a condition to any Offering of Senior Notes that OPG deliver the adherence certificate required pursuant to (b) above or that the Province of Ontario designates in writing that the Senior Notes are Approved Obligations. The Change of Law Protection Agreement provides that delivery of an adherence certificate shall be determinative of satisfaction of this adherence condition, notwithstanding that such certificate may include inaccuracies, be incomplete or otherwise be defective or deficient, and such certificate may be relied upon as conclusive evidence of same.

Suspension Notice & Post-Suspension Refinancings

The Change of Law Protection Agreement will remain in full force and effect until the indefeasible payment, observance and performance in full of the Approved Obligations.

However, in the following limited circumstances, the Province of Ontario may deliver a written notice (a "Suspension Notice") to the Indenture Trustee, the Financial Services Manager and the Issuer:

(a) an acceleration of Funding Obligations in accordance with the provisions of the Master Trust Indenture or an event of default, early amortization event, termination event or similar event or circumstance (including any event that with the passage of time or the giving of notice would become such an event) of or in respect of the obligations of any party under any Program Agreement;

(b) a default in the performance, or breach, of any covenants of OPG, as Financial Services Manager, or OPG, in its corporate capacity, in each case to the Province of Ontario in connection with its obligations to the Province of Ontario pursuant to internal requirements and processes in connection with the provision or adherence of the Limited Guarantee to or in respect of any Certified Primary Obligation and the expiration of any applicable cure period;

(c) a representation or warranty made by OPG or a certification made by one or more officers of OPG, in each case whether as Financial Services Manager or in its corporate capacity, to the Province of Ontario in connection with its obligations to the Province of Ontario and its internal requirements and processes in connection with the provision or adherence of the Limited Guarantee to or in respect of any Certified Primary Obligations, proves to be incorrect in any material respect on the date made and the expiration of any applicable cure period; or

(d) the Financial Services Manager no longer being the Manager or actions having been taken by or on behalf of the Indenture Trustee to remove the Financial Services Manager as the Manager;

If a Suspension Notice has been provided under the Change of Law Protection Agreement (the provision of such notice being a "Suspension Event"), the Limited Guarantee shall not apply in respect of: (i) any Primary Obligation incurred, excluding any Post-Suspension Refinancing, or (ii) any amendment of any Primary Obligation that has a Material Effect, unless otherwise agreed to by the Province of Ontario, in each case, on or after the time such Suspension Notice is delivered.

Following the occurrence of a Suspension Event, the Limited Guarantee shall continue to apply in respect of any Post-Suspension Refinancing; provided that prior to the Financing Entity incurring any Primary Obligation constituting a Post-Suspension Refinancing, the Manager shall provide the Province of Ontario with at least 30 days' notice of its intention to seek a Post-Suspension Refinancing and during such 30-day period the Province of Ontario may, but is not obligated to, offer to fund such Post-Suspension Refinancing or arrange for another Person to fund such Post-Suspension Refinancing on the same terms as set out in the notice or on such other terms as may be considered by the Province of Ontario to be not more onerous on the Financing Entity and that are acceptable on that basis to the Financing Entity, acting reasonably.

A "Post-Suspension Refinancing" means a Funding Obligation that is an Obligation Secured and that is incurred on or after the occurrence of a Suspension Event in compliance with the requirements of the Change of Law Protection Agreement, as a Refinancing of one or more Series of Approved Obligations (including any Pre-Approved Refinancing incurred on or after the occurrence of a Suspension Event), in each case the proceeds of which, together with any other funds that may be available, are used solely for the purpose of paying in full such Series of Approved Obligations and any costs and expenses associated with such Refinancing.

A "Pre-Approved Refinancing" means a Refinancing of a Certified Primary Obligation in respect of which the Province of Ontario has, prior to the incurrence of such Certified Primary Obligation, agreed shall be an Approved Obligation, subject to compliance with such conditions and requirements as may be specified in such agreement.

A "Material Effect" means a material adverse effect on the obligations or the rights of the Province of Ontario under the Limited Guarantee that relates to, and in each case, differs in any material respect from the terms or conditions applicable to any transaction document which was previously provided to the Province of Ontario, the following: (i) the timing of or circumstances under which Primary Obligations would or may become due or accrue (including as a result of any default, acceleration, termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization) that, in each case, is inconsistent with the Fair Allocation Amount; (ii) the appointment, obligations or duties of OPG as the Manager; (iii) the existence, powers or authority of the Issuer or the Issuer Trustee; (iv) the obligations of the Indenture Trustee to or in respect of the Province of Ontario as a Specified Creditor; (v) the payment provisions and associated priorities set forth in the Master Trust Indenture; (vi) compliance by the Financial Services Manager with the then applicable Financing Plan; (vii) compliance by the Financial Services Manager or the Issuer with the FHPA or the Regulations; or (viii) the Province of Ontario's rights of subrogation or assignment or its interests as a subrogee or an assignee, that would arise as a result of performing the Limited Guarantee in respect of the applicable Primary Obligation.

Accordingly, notwithstanding delivery of a Suspension Notice, the Limited Guarantee shall continue to apply to: (i) any Approved Obligations that were incurred prior to the Suspension Event and (ii) any Funding Obligations incurred by the Issuer following a Suspension Event if the terms and conditions of the Change of Law Protection Agreement are satisfied and the proceeds of such incurrence are to be used for the purpose of repaying one or more series of Approved Obligations. Accordingly, subject to compliance with the Change of Law Protection Agreement, any Senior Notes or other Funding Obligations that may be issued following a Suspension Event to refinance Senior Notes that were Approved Obligations issued prior to a Suspension Event will continue to have the benefit of the Limited Guarantee.

THE ISSUER

The Issuer is an unincorporated open-ended unit trust established under the laws of the Province of Ontario pursuant to a declaration of trust made December 20, 2017 (the "Declaration of Trust"). Computershare Trust Company of Canada (the "Issuer Trustee") is the sole trustee of the Issuer, which is a Financing Entity established to incur Funding Obligations for the purpose of acquiring Investment Interests pursuant to the FHPA. The principal business address and head office of the Issuer is in Ontario, in the care of the Issuer Trustee at the following address: 100 University Avenue, 11th Floor, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2Y1.

The following brief summary of certain provisions of the Declaration of Trust does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Declaration of Trust are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Declaration of Trust and the detailed provisions thereof. The Declaration of Trust may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Senior Notes are outstanding.

The Declaration of Trust establishes the Issuer to carry on activities for the exclusive benefit of its unitholders, FHP2017 Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG, and BNY Trust Company of Canada, the Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture (collectively, the "Unitholders"). The beneficial interest and rights generally of the Unitholders in the Issuer are limited to the right to participate in distributions when and as declared by the Issuer Trustee and distributions upon the termination of the Issuer. The legal ownership of the trust property and the right to conduct the activities of the Issuer are vested exclusively in the Issuer Trustee and no Unitholder has any right of ownership in any of the trust property. Except in limited circumstances provided in the Declaration of Trust, no Unitholder is entitled to interfere with or give any direction to the Issuer Trustee with respect to the affairs of the Issuer or in connection with the exercise of any powers or authorities conferred upon the Issuer Trustee under the Declaration of Trust. The Issuer Trustee will generally have, free from any power or control on the part of the Unitholders, full authority over the trust property and the activities of the Issuer to the same extent as if the Issuer Trustee were the sole and absolute owner thereof. The Unitholders will also not be subject to any liability arising out of the activities of the Issuer.

The Issuer Trustee, on behalf of the Issuer, has entered into a management agreement with OPG, as Manager, whereby all of the powers and duties of managing the Issuer have been delegated to the Manager. See "The Manager."

The permitted activities of the Issuer are limited to:

(a) acquiring, owning, holding, administering or entering into agreements regarding the acquisition and servicing of Investment Interests, along with certain other related assets;

(b) managing, selling, assigning, pledging and collecting amounts due on or otherwise dealing with Investment Interests and certain other related assets in accordance with the terms of the Program Agreements;

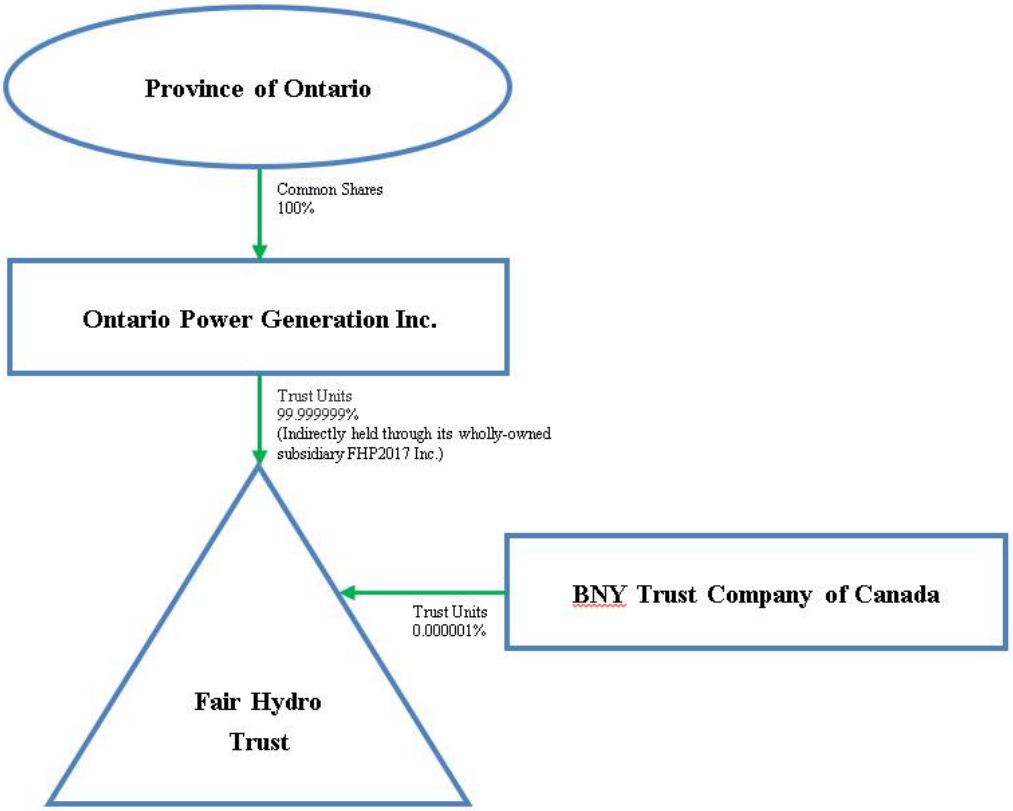
(c) negotiating, authorizing, executing, delivering, assuming the obligations under and performing its duties under the Program Agreements;

(d) filing with any applicable securities commission one or more prospectuses, offering memoranda, registration statements or documents necessary or desirable to register one or more series of Funding Obligations under the securities laws of any applicable jurisdiction;

(e) authorizing, executing, delivering, issuing and registering one or more series of Funding Obligations;

(f) making payments on Funding Obligations;

(g) pledging its interest in Investment Interests and related assets to the Indenture Trustee in order to secure Funding Obligations; and



(h) engaging in any lawful act or activity that is incidental to the above-mentioned purposes.

The Issuer Trustee may amend the Declaration of Trust under specified circumstances without the consent of Unitholders provided (i) the amendment will not materially adversely affect the interest of any Unitholder, unless that Unitholder has approved of the amendment in writing, and (ii) in respect of any material amendment, the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied. The Issuer Trustee is required to provide the Rating Agencies and the Indenture Trustee with a copy of any amendment, variation, supplement, replacement or restatement of the Declaration of Trust.

The consent of the Indenture Trustee, in addition to all other Unitholders, will be required to wind up the Issuer or voluntarily institute or consent to insolvency proceedings against the Issuer while any Funding Obligations remain outstanding. The Issuer Trustee may be removed by the Unitholders at any time by notice in writing delivered to the Issuer Trustee not less than 90 days prior to the date such removal is to take effect. The Issuer Trustee may also be removed by the Unitholders with no prior written notice if it becomes bankrupt or insolvent or it is unable to exercise its duties under the Declaration of Trust. The Issuer Trustee may resign on 120 days' prior written notice to the Unitholders, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies. No such resignation will be effective until a replacement issuer trustee acceptable to the Unitholders and the Indenture Trustee has been appointed and the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied.

Each of the Issuer Trustee and its directors, officers, agents, representatives and employees will be indemnified from and against all claims (including any claim arising out of the assessment of any tax on income by a taxing authority), demands, levies, penalties, suits, losses, actions, causes of action, costs, charges, fees and expenses, damages and liabilities whatsoever arising out of, among other things, any action or omission in relation to the execution of the duties of the Issuer Trustee or in relation to the trust property or the activities of the Issuer, except, in each case, for wilful misconduct, gross negligence or failure to comply with the standard of care established by the Declaration of Trust.

The following diagram illustrates the structure of the Issuer and its affiliates.

THE MANAGER

OPG has entered into a management agreement with the Issuer dated as of December 20, 2017 (the "Management Agreement") pursuant to which the Issuer has delegated to OPG, as Manager, all of the powers and duties of managing the Issuer. The following brief summary of certain provisions of the Management Agreement does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Management Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Management Agreement and the detailed provisions thereof. The Management Agreement may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Senior Notes are outstanding.

The powers and duties delegated to the Manager under the Management Agreement include, among others:

(a) negotiating and executing, on behalf of the Issuer, the Program Agreements;

(b) maintaining accounts and banking records;

(c) enforcing the rights of the Issuer under the Program Agreements and the FHPA;

(d) determining, in accordance with the Financing Plan, when it is appropriate for the Issuer to incur Funding Obligations;

(e) ensuring that all Primary Obligations of the Issuer are and remain Approved Obligations;

(f) administering all activities of the Issuer in connection with the issuance, sale, payment, repurchase and redemption of the Issuer's Funding Obligations;

(g) preparing, in accordance with applicable securities laws, any offering documents to be furnished by the Issuer to prospective purchasers of Funding Obligations, including the Senior Notes, and ensuring that all statements of the Issuer made therein are at all times true and correct in all material respects;

(h) arranging for compliance by the Issuer with any continuous disclosure obligations;

(i) arranging for the retention of legal counsel, accountants and an auditor for the Issuer;

(j) preparing financial statements and paying taxes on behalf of the Issuer;

(k) preparing a monthly portfolio report setting out information regarding incoming and outgoing cash flows; and

(l) providing such other services as are incidental to the foregoing or as may be agreed upon between the Issuer and the Manager.

The Manager is also required to work with the IESO to develop, on or before January 31, 2020, a written implementation plan identifying the actions to be taken by the IESO and the Issuer to facilitate the OEB, the Issuer, the IESO and Electricity Vendors being prepared to perform their obligations under the FHPA and the Regulations when setting, invoicing and collecting the Clean Energy Adjustment. The Manager will deliver written progress reports to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee on the status of the implementation plan on or before June 30, 2020, October 31, 2020 and January 31, 2021.

Following the Moratorium Period, the Manager will review a monthly servicer report required to be delivered to the Issuer by the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement and make commercially reasonable efforts to resolve any Electricity Vendor failures or discrepancies identified in such report that have not been remedied or adequately explained by Electricity Vendors. The Manager is obligated to institute any proceedings necessary to compel performance by Electricity Vendors of any obligations or duties under the FHPA and the Regulations, including with respect to the invoicing, collection and remittance of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts. Commencing May 1, 2021 and pursuant to its rights under the Regulations, ~~34~~45 the Manager shall review, or cause to be reviewed, on an annual basis, or less frequently as may be determined by the Manager and subject to satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition, the records maintained by Electricity Vendors with respect to the Clean Energy Adjustment and if there is evidence of material non-compliance by an Electricity Vendor, the Manager will promptly review or cause to be reviewed the records of such Electricity Vendor.

The Manager is obligated to perform its duties under the Management Agreement diligently and in conformity with the Issuer's obligations under each of the Program Agreements and with the FHPA and the Regulations, as applicable, and honestly, in good faith and in the best interest of the Issuer. The Manager must exercise the degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances.

In addition to the powers and duties delegated to OPG pursuant to the Management Agreement, OPG has also agreed to comply with its duties under the FHPA in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, including:

(a) preparing the Financing Plan to evaluate whether potential Funding Obligations should be incurred by Financing Entities for the purposes of acquiring Investment Interests in accordance with the FHPA or for the purposes of a Refinancing;

(b) determining the amounts of the Clean Energy Adjustment, inclusive of any True-up Amount;

(c) calculating the True-up Amount;

(d) notifying the OEB of the Clean Energy Adjustment, inclusive of any True-up Amount;

(e) administering the Investment Interests on behalf of Financing Entities in accordance with the Program Agreements;

(f) ensuring that Funding Obligations are incurred in a manner that is consistent with the Financing Plan; and

(g) establishing and charging fees for the services provided under the Management Agreement.

Subject to OEB approval and the Regulations, OPG is entitled to charge the Issuer a fee, comprised of a base fee and a variable fee, to earn a return and to recover costs and expenditures incurred by OPG on behalf of the Issuer or in relation to the establishment, management and administration of the Issuer and its Investment Interest. The priority of the Manager's entitlement to fees is subject to the payment priorities set forth in the Master Trust Indenture.

The Manager is not entitled to resign from its duties or terminate the Management Agreement as long as Funding Obligations remain outstanding. The Manager may be terminated by the Issuer Trustee, with the consent of the Indenture Trustee, or by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture. No termination of the Manager will be effective until a replacement manager that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition has been approved and has entered into a management agreement with the Issuer whereby the replacement manager agrees to assume, in substance, the obligations of the Manager under the Management Agreement. If the Manager ceases to perform, or inadequately performs, its management duties under the Management Agreement, it might be difficult to find a replacement for the Manager or a successor manager. See "Risk Factors − Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of OPG as Financial Services Manager and Manager of the Issuer."

The Manager shall provide to the Issuer Trustee an annual certificate confirming compliance with certain matters, including: (i) accurate maintenance of the books and records of the Issuer; (ii) all debt obligations and expenses due and payable by the Issuer have been paid to date; (iii) all required filings with tax and regulatory authorities have been completed to date; and (iv) all material statements and reports to be delivered by the Issuer

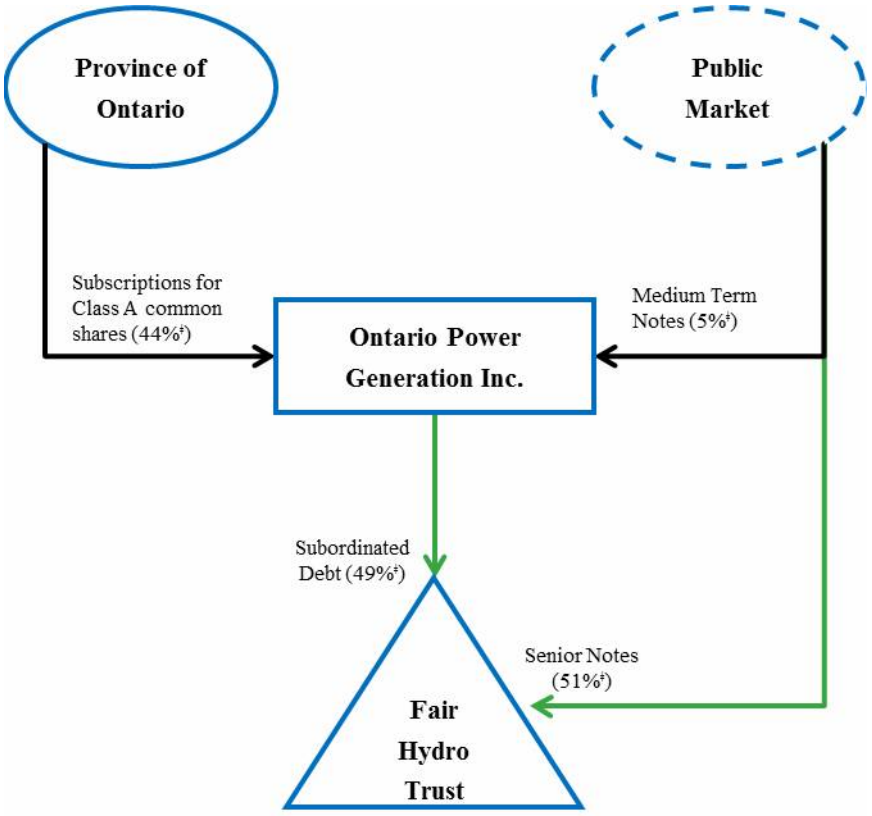
under the Program Agreements have been delivered and all material statements and reports to be received by the Issuer under the Program Agreements have been received.

The Manager indemnifies the Issuer under the Management Agreement for any losses incurred by the Issuer as a result of the failure of the Manager to perform its obligations under the Management Agreement or any breach by the Manager of its representations and warranties under the Management Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which it is a party, except to the extent such losses result from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of the Issuer. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Manager is not obligated to indemnify the Issuer under the Management Agreement for any losses resulting from: (i) a breach or failure to perform by a third party under any Program Agreement, the FHPA or the Regulations (excluding any delegation by the Manager under the Management Agreement to a third party); (ii) changes in law, (iii) the validity or applicability of the Change of Law Protection Agreement; (iv) the collectability or sufficiency of the Clean Energy Adjustment or ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs to satisfy the Issuer Funding Obligations, including the Senior Notes; or (v) any liability of the Issuer incurred after termination of the Management Agreement unless attributable to the actions or omissions of the Manager prior to such termination or in respect of a representation, warranty or covenant that survives such termination.



SUBORDINATED DEBT

Concurrent with every issuance of senior debt by the Issuer, including any Offering of Senior Notes, it is expected that OPG will subscribe for subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt of the Issuer in an amount of no more than 49% of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations, approximately 44% of which is expected to be funded through equity investments in OPG by the Province of Ontario with the remaining approximate 5% being funded from OPG's available funds, including all or a portion of the proceeds of any offerings by OPG of medium term notes).

Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer will be required at all times to ensure that: (i) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all subordinated debt and junior subordinated debt be equal to not less than 35% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations; and (ii) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all junior subordinated debt be equal to not less than 10% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all of the Issuer's Funding Obligations.

The Issuer is structured to be bankruptcy remote from OPG insofar as none of OPG, its subsidiaries or holders of its indebtedness will have any recourse whatsoever against the Issuer or its assets other than OPG's rights and remedies as a holder of subordinated debt of the Issuer in accordance with the provisions of that indebtedness. From an accounting perspective, however, the Issuer will be consolidated with OPG.

The following diagram illustrates the expected structure of OPG's investments in subordinated debt of the Issuer.

‡ OPG will acquire up to 49% of the Issuer's outstanding debt in the form of subordinated debt. Actual amounts may vary if OPG acquires less than 49% of the Issuer's outstanding debt.

SHORT TERM INDEBTEDNESS

On December 21, 2017, the Issuer entered into the following supplemental indentures under the Master Trust Indenture for the provision of an aggregate of approximately $1.56 billion in short term indebtedness (collectively, the "Warehouse Facilities"), of which a total of $1.179 billion is drawn as of the date hereof:

(i) a warehouse senior series 2017-1 supplemental indenture with, among others, Royal Bank of Canada, as administrative agent for certain commercial paper conduit purchasers and financial institutions named therein, for the provision of an aggregate maximum principal amount of $800,000,000 floating rate variable funding Senior Notes, Series 2017-1 ("Senior Notes, Series 2017-1"), of which $601,290,000 is drawn;

(ii) a warehouse subordinated series 2017-1 supplemental indenture with, among others, OPG for the provision of an aggregate maximum principal amount of $611,764,705.88 floating rate variable funding Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1 ("Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1"), of which $459,810,000 is drawn; and

(iii) a warehouse junior subordinated series 2017-1 supplemental indenture with, among others, OPG for the provision of an aggregate maximum principal amount of $156,862,745.10 floating rate variable funding Junior Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1 ("Junior Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1"), of which $117,900,000 is drawn.

The issuance of Senior Notes, Series 2017-1, Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1 and Junior Subordinated Notes, Series 2017-1 under the Warehouse Facilities described above were used to acquire a $1.179 billion Investment Interest from the IESO on December 21, 2017.

THE TRANSFEROR AND SERVICER

The IESO has entered into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer dated as of December 21, 2017 (the "Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement") pursuant to which the IESO may periodically transfer specified portions of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer. Additional information regarding the IESO, including its most recently published financial statements, is available at www.ieso.ca. Such information does not form part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum and neither the Issuer nor the Agents guarantee the accuracy of such information or has independently verified the accuracy or completeness of any such information or to determine if there has been any omission by the IESO to disclose any facts, information or events which may affect the significance or accuracy of any such financial statements or other information.

The following brief summary of certain provisions of the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement and the detailed provisions thereof. The Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Senior Notes are outstanding.

Under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, the IESO may offer, no more frequently than monthly, to transfer to the Issuer its right, title and interest in, to and under a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset. The Issuer has the right, but not the obligation, to accept the IESO's offer. The IESO is responsible for servicing the Issuer's Investment Interest in accordance with the Regulations and the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement. Its responsibilities including, among others:

(a) establishing a segregated account to be used for the sole purpose of collecting the Clean Energy Adjustment in respect of the Issuer's Investment Interest and making commercially reasonable efforts to cause Electricity Vendors to do the same;

(b) making commercially reasonable efforts to cause each Electricity Vendor to establish procedures for the invoicing of amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment;

(c) responding to inquiries by Electricity Vendors with respect to the Clean Energy Adjustment and amounts payable in respect thereof;

(d) reviewing reports submitted to the IESO by Electricity Vendors regarding the collection of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts for material manifest discrepancies;

(e) contacting Electricity Vendors on the occurrence of certain events;

(f) holding Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected in respect of the Issuer's Investment Interest in trust for the benefit of the Issuer and remitting such amounts to the Issuer on a monthly basis, subject to daily remittance being required in certain limited circumstances;

(g) together with the Issuer, settling a form of monthly servicer report to be provided to the Issuer; and

(h) forecasting the electricity consumption of Specified Consumers and providing such forecast information to the OEB and the Issuer.

While the IESO provides no guarantee that collections of the Clean Energy Adjustment from Electricity Vendors will equal amounts invoiced or that the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts will be sufficient to satisfy the Issuer's Funding Obligations, the IESO must follow standards, policies and procedures in performing its servicing duties that are customary for an electricity market operator and administrator that regularly performs settlement functions.

The IESO is required to work with the Manager to develop, on or before January 31, 2020, a written implementation plan identifying the actions to be taken by the IESO and the Issuer to facilitate the OEB, the Issuer, the IESO and Electricity Vendors being prepared to perform their obligations under the FHPA and the Regulations when setting, invoicing and collecting Clean Energy Adjustment amounts. The IESO and the Manager will deliver to the Issuer written progress reports on the status of the implementation plan on or before June 30, 2020, October 31, 2020 and January 31, 2021. The IESO is also required to work with the Issuer to settle a form of monthly servicer report, which will be provided to the Manager on or before the 20th business day after the end of each month in which Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are collected by Electricity Vendors from Specified Consumers, and which report is expected to contain available information regarding the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts billed, collected and remitted by Electricity Vendors, actual electricity consumption compared to forecast electricity consumption and such other information as may be agreed to by the IESO.

Generally, all servicing duties provided by the IESO to the Issuer are provided at no cost to the Issuer.[~~35~~46] However, the Issuer will reimburse the IESO for its direct costs relating to the performance by the IESO of its duties and obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement that are not otherwise recovered by the IESO under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario), excluding any costs relating to the performance of the IESO's duties and obligations under the FHPA or the Regulations, including its obligation to pay the Issuer's ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs.

During the Moratorium Period and extending to July 31, 2021, the IESO, which is rated A(high) by DBRS and Aa2 by Moody's is required under the Regulations to pay and remit to the Issuer amounts charged to the IESO by the Issuer in respect of its ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs. Under the Regulations ~~"carrying costs"~~, Carrying Costs include all funding costs, such as interest on the Senior Notes, and other expenses of the Issuer, other than repayment of principal on any debt obligations of the Issuer, including repayment of principal on the Senior Notes.[~~36~~47] Pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, on or before the fourth business day of each calendar month, the Issuer will submit a carrying costs statement to the IESO certifying the amount of ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs estimated to be incurred by the Issuer in the following month. On or before the 14th business day following receipt of the Issuer's carry costs statement, the IESO is required to deliver the amount specified therein to the Issuer. The IESO has a $2 billion unsecured credit facility provided by the Ontario Financing Authority, expiring ■, 20■, which ~~can~~is permitted to be used to pay the Issuer's ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs.

As security for the performance of its obligation to pay the Issuer's ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs, the IESO has granted the Issuer a first-priority security interest in all of its accounts receivable, which includes the amounts receivable by the IESO with respect to the global adjustment charge. The amounts paid by the IESO to fund these ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs will be recorded by the IESO in a variance account and form part of the Regulatory Asset which is expected to be offered by the IESO for transfer to the Issuer in a subsequent period and, upon completion of such transfer, shall become part of the Issuer's Investment Interest pursuant to the Regulations.

As security for any failure of Non-Investment Grade Rated Electricity Vendors to remit Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected under the FHPA, the IESO is required, pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, to provide to the Issuer on or prior to the first day of the first billing period when the Clean Energy Adjustment is being invoiced to Specified Consumers, a letter of credit from a provider that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition or a performance guarantee or such other form of security that is acceptable to the Issuer and that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition. A "Non-Investment Grade Rated Electricity Vendor" means any Electricity Vendor that does not have a rating of: (i) "Baa3" or higher by Moody's, unless otherwise agreed to by Moody's; and (ii) "BBB(low)" or higher by DBRS, unless otherwise agreed to by DBRS.

The amount of security required from the IESO will be calculated on an annual basis and will be equal to the amount determined by the following formula:

((A / B) x C x D / 365 x E)

where A, B, C, D and E are as follows:

[~~35~~46] Note: Please confirm.

[~~36~~47] Note: Consider a description of "carrying costs" that conforms to the definition set out in Section 9.1(3) of the General Regulation. Also note that the Glossary defines "Carrying Costs" as having the meaning ascribed to the term in the Regulations.

A = for the most recently completed twelve-month period, the aggregate amount of energy consumed by Specified Consumers of all Non-Investment Grade Rated Electricity Vendors.

B = for the same twelve-month period used for A, the aggregate amount of energy consumed by all Specified Consumers.

C = for the most current twelve-month forecast period available, the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts estimated to be payable by all Specified Consumers.

D = 45, representing the estimated number of days that total Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are expected to be held by Electricity Vendors.

E = 0.50 or another value as mutually agreed to in writing by the Issuer and the IESO and that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition.

The Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement sets out specific servicer defaults. Upon the occurrence of a servicer default, the Issuer will be entitled to appoint a replacement servicer that will perform the IESO's duties as servicer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement. Any replacement servicer must be permitted under the FHPA to perform the duties of servicer, the Rating Agency Condition must be satisfied and the replacement servicer must enter into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer having substantially the same terms as the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement.

The IESO has agreed to indemnify the Issuer for any losses incurred by the Issuer as a result of the failure of the IESO to perform its obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which it is a party or the breach by the IESO of any of its representations or warranties under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party, except to the extent such losses result from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of the Issuer. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the IESO is not obligated to indemnify the Issuer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement for any losses resulting from: (i) a breach or failure to perform by a third party under any Program Agreement, the FHPA or the Regulations (excluding any delegation by the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement to a third party); (ii) changes in law, (iii) the collectability or sufficiency of the Clean Energy Adjustment to satisfy the Issuer's Funding Obligations, including the Senior Notes; or (iv) any liability of the Issuer incurred after termination of the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement unless attributable to the actions or omissions of the IESO prior to such termination or in respect of a representation, warranty or covenant that survives such termination.

CREDIT RATINGS

Credit ratings are intended to provide investors with an independent measure of the credit quality of securities and are indicators of the likelihood of the payment capacity and willingness of an issuer to meet its financial commitment on an obligation in accordance with the terms of such obligation. The credit ratings accorded to the Senior Notes are not recommendations to purchase, hold or sell such securities inasmuch as such ratings are not a comment upon the market price of the securities or their suitability for a particular investor. There is no assurance that any rating will remain in effect for any given period of time or that any rating will not be revised or withdrawn entirely by a rating agency in the future if, in its judgment, circumstances so warrant.

The Term Sheet for each Offering will identify the rating of the applicable Senior Notes at the time of such Offering.

RATING AGENCY CONDITION

The Program Agreements provide that certain actions are subject to the "Rating Agency Condition". In each such case, satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition requires: (a) that the Issuer has delivered written notice of the proposed action to the Rating Agencies at least ten business days prior to the effective date of such action; and (b) that the Rating Agencies shall have informed the Issuer prior to the effective date of such action that such action will not result in the reduction or withdrawal of the rating in effect with respect to the Notes immediately before the taking of such action. If the Rating Agency Condition is to be satisfied without specifying one or more specific Series or Tranches of Notes, the Rating Agency Condition must be satisfied with respect to all outstanding Series or Tranches of Notes.

CAPITAL MARKETS PLATFORM

The Financial Services Manager has developed a Financing Plan for the Issuer which encompasses an ongoing program which allows for the issuance of a variety of short and long term debt, as well as interest rate and currency swaps and other hedging instruments.

The Master Trust Indenture establishes common security and a set of common covenants given by the Issuer for the benefit of all of its creditors. Notes are issued under Supplemental Indentures and in certain cases, Terms Documents. Borrowings are incurred pursuant to liquidity agreements or loan agreements. Notes and Borrowings incurred by the Issuer are Issuer Funding Obligations. Each Issuer Funding Obligation will be part of a Class and Series of Issuer Funding Obligations, and may include one or more Tranches. A Class designation determines the relative seniority for receipt of cash flows. See "— Subordination Provisions", "— Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration" and "— Acceleration and Remedies — Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration". Tranches of Issuer Funding Obligations may differ from each other as to the interest rate, maturity and the timing, sequential order and amount of payments of principal or interest, or both.

The following summary of the principal provisions contained in the Master Trust Indenture does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive. This overview summarizes certain provisions of the Master Trust Indenture and omits descriptions of many provisions which may be considered to be of a customary nature. All references in this confidential shelf offering memorandum to the Master Trust Indenture are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Master Trust Indenture and the detailed provisions thereof. The Master Trust Indenture may be reviewed at the principal office of the Issuer Trustee in Toronto, Ontario during normal business hours while any Notes are outstanding.

Indenture Trustee

BNY Trust Company of Canada, a trust company governed by the laws of Canada, is the Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture.

Under the terms of the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer has agreed to pay the Indenture Trustee reasonable compensation for the performance of its duties under the Master Trust Indenture. The Indenture Trustee has agreed to perform only those duties expressly set forth in the Master Trust Indenture. Many of the duties of the Indenture Trustee are described throughout this confidential shelf offering memorandum. Under the terms of the Master Trust Indenture, the Indenture Trustee's limited responsibilities include the following:

- to authenticate, deliver, cancel and otherwise administer the Notes;
- to serve as the registrar in respect of the Notes;
- to establish and maintain all Issuer Accounts and to maintain accurate records of activity in those accounts;
- to serve as the Paying Agent and distribute and transfer funds at the direction of the Manager in accordance with the terms of the Master Trust Indenture;
- to invest funds in the Issuer Accounts at the direction of the Manager (or its agent);
- to deliver to Specified Creditors notice of any Default, Event of Default, Acceleration Event, Protection Event or Servicer Default of which it has received notice, as required under the Master Trust Indenture; and
- to perform certain other administrative functions identified in the Master Trust Indenture.

In the exercise of its duties, the Indenture Trustee will use the same degree of care and skill as a reasonably prudent person would use in comparable circumstances. When all Issuer Funding Obligations have been satisfied and discharged (see "— Satisfaction and Discharge"), the Indenture Trustee will no longer act as Indenture Trustee and will have no fiduciary responsibilities to any remaining Specified Creditors and will act only as security agent for those remaining Specified Creditors. The Indenture Trustee is not liable for any errors of judgment as long as the errors are made in good faith and the Indenture Trustee was not negligent. Furthermore, the Indenture Trustee will not be liable for any action taken or not taken by it in good faith if directed to do so by Extraordinary Resolution. The Indenture Trustee is not required to expend or risk its own funds, or incur any financial liability in the exercise of its duties under the Master Trust Indenture and it will not be obliged to exercise any of its rights under the Master Trust Indenture at the request of any Controlling Class Creditor unless such Controlling Class Creditor has provided it with security or an indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it.

In addition to the Indenture Trustee's compensation and the reimbursement of the Indenture Trustee's expenses in connection with the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer will indemnify the Indenture Trustee for any loss, liability or expense incurred without negligence or bad faith on its part, arising out of or in connection with the administration of the trusts under the Master Trust Indenture. The payment of all such amounts will be subject to the payment waterfalls set out in the Master Trust Indenture and in certain instances, such amounts will be higher in priority than payments to Noteholders. See "— Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration — Collection Account", "— Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration — Protection Account" and "— Acceleration and Remedies — Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration".

The Indenture Trustee may resign at any time by giving written notice to the Issuer and it may be removed for any reason by Ordinary Resolution of Controlling Class Creditors. The Indenture Trustee must resign if a material conflict of interest arises in its role as an Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture and such conflict of interest is not eliminated within 90 days after the Indenture Trustee becomes aware of such material conflict of interest. The Issuer may remove, or any Controlling Class Creditor who has been a bona fide Controlling Class Creditor for at least six months may, on behalf of itself and all other Debtholders, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Indenture Trustee if (i) the Indenture Trustee is no longer eligible to act as trustee under the Master Trust Indenture (and any Supplemental Indenture) and fails to resign after it has received a written request to do so by the Issuer or by any Controlling Class Creditor, (ii) the Indenture Trustee becomes incapable of acting, or (iii) the Indenture Trustee becomes subject to any bankruptcy or insolvency related events. In all such circumstances, the Issuer must appoint a successor Indenture Trustee. Any resignation or removal of the Indenture Trustee and appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee will not become effective until the successor Indenture Trustee accepts the appointment. If an instrument of acceptance by a successor Indenture Trustee has not been delivered to the Indenture Trustee within 30 days of giving notice of resignation or removal, the Indenture Trustee may petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a successor Indenture Trustee.

Any successor Indenture Trustee will execute and deliver to the Issuer and its predecessor Indenture Trustee an instrument accepting such appointment. The successor Indenture Trustee must be a bank, a trust company or a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of Canada or of any province or territory thereof, authorized under such laws to carry on a trust business in each of the provinces and territories of Canada. The Issuer may not, nor may any person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the Issuer, serve as Indenture Trustee.

The Indenture Trustee may become the owner or pledgee of Notes and may otherwise deal with the Issuer with the same rights it would have if it were not the Indenture Trustee (subject to its obligation to resign if there is a material conflict).

Conditions Precedent to Incurrence of Obligations Secured

There is no limit on the aggregate amount of indebtedness or other obligations which may be secured under the Master Trust Indenture. However, the Issuer will not be permitted to incur any Issuer Funding Obligations or other obligations unless the Issuer meets the conditions described below under "— Issuer Funding Obligations" and "— Other Obligations Secured".

Issuer Funding Obligations

The Issuer may not incur any new Issuer Funding Obligations, or renew or extend any existing Issuer Funding Obligations (in each case, other than Derivative Funding Obligations), unless the conditions described below are met on or prior to the date that the Issuer enters into a definitive agreement in respect of such Issuer Funding Obligations:

(a) the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency notice of such incurrence;

(b) the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency a certificate to the effect that:

(i) the Issuer reasonably believes that such incurrence will not cause an Adverse Effect; an "Adverse Effect" means that such action will at the time of its occurrence (a) result in the occurrence of an Event of Default or any event which with the giving of notice or passage of time, or both, would become an Event of Default, (b) adversely affect the amount or timing of any payment to be made to any Debtholder or Derivative Counterparty pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture or any Program Agreement, (c) materially adversely affect the amount or timing of payments to be made to the Specified Creditors (other than Debtholders and Derivative Counterparties) pursuant to this Indenture or any Program Agreement, or (d) adversely affect the security interest and the rights and remedies of the Indenture Trustee in respect thereof;

Funding Obligations

The Issuer will ensure that all indebtedness is incurred pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of the Master Trust Indenture, as described under "— Conditions Precedent to Incurrence of Obligations Secured — Issuer Funding Obligations". The Issuer will not enter into any Funding Obligation Agreement (other than a Funding Obligation Agreement relating to Warehouse Obligations) that the Manager believes, acting reasonably, would likely require the Issuer to pay principal on such Issuer Funding Obligation by means of a Refinancing (other than a Pre-Approved Refinancing).

Financial Statements; Statement as to Compliance

The Issuer will deliver, or cause to be delivered to the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies: (i) within 140 days after the end of each fiscal year, audited financial statements of the Issuer; (ii) within 90 days after the end of each fiscal quarter (other than the last fiscal quarter of each fiscal year), unaudited financial statements of the Issuer; and (iii) on an annual basis on or before March 31 of each year, a written statement concerning compliance with the conditions and covenants contained in the Master Trust Indenture and confirming that no Default or Event of Default has occurred or if a material Default or Event of Default has occurred, specifying the details thereof.

Payment Instructions

The Issuer will deliver to the Indenture Trustee and the Paying Agent (if the Paying Agent is not the Indenture Trustee) on a monthly basis, a payment instruction in respect of the Collection Account, which instruction shall set out the payments to be made on the following Payment Date and setting forth, among other things, (i) the amount of the payment to Debtholders (including a breakdown of principal and interest), (ii) any other transfers and payments to be made on such Payment Date, including amounts paid to the Indenture Trustee, the Issuer Trustee and the Manager, and (iii) the amounts on deposit in the Collection Account after giving effect to the foregoing payments. Similar payment instructions will also be delivered in respect of each other Program Account and Series Account, as and when payments are to be made from those accounts.

Notice of Certain Events; Protection Event

The Issuer will give the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency prompt written notice of (i) each Event of Default, (ii) each breach on the part of the Issuer or the Servicer of its respective obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement (including any Servicer Default), (iii) each breach on the part of the Manager of its obligations under the Management Agreement, (iv) any default of the Issuer or a Derivative Counterparty under a derivative agreement, and (v) any Protection Event.

No Other Business

The Issuer will not engage in any activity other than the activities set forth in the Declaration of Trust or the other Program Agreements, the material provisions of which are described in this confidential shelf offering memorandum under "The Issuer".

Amendments to Program Agreements

Unless the Rating Agency Condition is satisfied, the Issuer will not make any material amendments to any Program Agreement (other than the Master Trust Indenture and individual trade confirmations under derivative agreements), or enter into any Co-Owner Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing sentence, the Issuer will not:

(a) enter into any Co-Owner Agreement without the consent of Controlling Class Creditors by Ordinary Resolution;

(b) amend, supplement, modify, restate or replace, or waive or consent to a postponement of compliance with the terms and conditions on the part of any other party to, any of the Program Agreements (other than the Master Trust Indenture, the derivative agreements and the Declaration of Trust) if any such amendment, supplement, modification, restatement or replacement, or waiver or consent, could reasonably be considered to be materially prejudicial to the rights or interests of any Specified Creditor(s), except as expressly permitted by such Specified Creditor(s) and subject to the Province of Ontario having been given prior notice;

(c) consent, if consent is required, to the resignation of the Manager under the Management Agreement; or

(d) amend the Declaration of Trust if such amendment would have or reasonably be expected to have an Adverse Effect; provided that if such amendment would have such result, such amendment may only be made if the Issuer has obtained the consent of the Debtholders affected by such amendment by Ordinary Resolution.

Regarding amendments to the Master Trust Indenture or a Supplemental Indenture, see "— Amendments to Master Trust Indenture".

Consolidation; Sale of Assets

The Issuer may not consolidate with or merge into any other person, or sell, convey, exchange, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of its properties or assets included in the Collateral to any person (each, a "transaction"), unless:

(a) the entity formed by or surviving the consolidation or merger (if other than the Issuer) or the entity that acquires by conveyance or transfer formed by or surviving the consolidation or merger, by conveyance or transfer, as applicable: (i) is a financing entity; (ii) is organized under the laws of Canada or any province or territory thereof; (iii) is not a non-resident for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada); (iv) is not subject to regulation as an "investment company" under the Investment Company Act, (v) expressly assumes, pursuant to an assignment and/or assumption agreement or supplement, the due and punctual payment of all Obligations Secured then outstanding and the performance or observance of all of the Issuer's agreements and covenants under each of the Program Agreements to which the Issuer is a party; and (vi) in the case of a conveyance or transfer only, expressly agrees, pursuant to such assignment and/or assumption agreement or supplement, that (A) all right, title and interest conveyed or transferred is subject and subordinate to the security interest of the Indenture Trustee and (B) it will make all filings required by applicable securities laws in connection with any Notes;

(b) no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing immediately after the transaction;

(c) the Issuer has delivered to the Indenture Trustee an officer's certificate and an opinion of counsel ~~of external counsel~~,[49] each stating that (i) such transaction and the agreements delivered in connection with such transaction comply with the terms and conditions in the Master Trust Indenture, (ii) all conditions precedent in the Master Trust Indenture relating to the transaction have been complied with, and (iii) each agreement delivered in connection with such transaction has been duly authorized, executed and delivered, and are valid, binding and enforceable against the surviving entity or transferee, as applicable;

(d) the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied with respect to such transaction; and

(e) any action as is necessary to maintain the first priority perfected security interest in the Collateral has been taken.

No Borrowing; Guarantees, Loans; Restricted Payments

The Issuer will not issue, incur, assume, guarantee or otherwise become liable for any indebtedness except for Funding Obligations. Additionally, the Issuer will not, except as contemplated by the Master Trust Indenture or the Declaration of Trust, make any loan or advance or credit to, or guarantee, endorse or otherwise become contingently liable in connection with the obligations of, or own, purchase or acquire any stock, obligations, assets or securities of, or any other interest in, or make any capital contribution to, any other person.

The Issuer is permitted to declare or make payable any amounts to the owner of units in the Issuer as permitted by and in accordance with the Declaration of Trust, and redeem, purchase, retire or otherwise acquire for value any units in the Issuer, provided that the Issuer may only satisfy the distribution declared or made payable, or the redemption or purchase price of such units to the extent that cash or property is available for such purpose, subject to the payment waterfalls provided for in the Master Trust Indenture. If the Issuer is restricted from satisfying the foregoing amounts in cash or property, then the Issuer will satisfy such amounts through the issuance of additional units and/or a promissory note to its unitholders in accordance with the Declaration of Trust.

Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations

Notwithstanding anything in a Funding Obligation Agreement to the contrary, the Issuer may not redeem any Series or Tranche of Subordinated Funding Obligations or Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations unless the following conditions are satisfied: (i) no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing; (ii) all Issuer Accounts are fully funded in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture and any applicable Funding Obligation Agreement; and (iii) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations after giving effect to such redemption will not be less than 35% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Senior Funding Obligations, Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations.

The Issuer will not permit (i) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations to be less than 35% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Senior Funding Obligations, Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations, or (ii) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations to be less than 10% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Senior Funding Obligations, Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations.

Security Matters

The Issuer will not (i) permit any lien, charge, excise, claim, security interest, mortgage or other encumbrance (other than permitted liens) to be created on or extend to the Collateral, (ii) release any security or guarantee in respect of the Collateral, (iii) sell, transfer, exchange or otherwise dispose of any of the Collateral except as expressly permitted under the Master Trust Indenture, or (vi) change its name, jurisdiction of formation or type of organization, unless it has provided the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency with prior written notice and it has first made all filings and taken all actions necessary to continue and maintain the Indenture Trustee's first priority security interest in the Collateral.

Other Covenants

In addition to the covenants contained in any Supplemental Indenture or any other Funding Obligation Agreement and the other covenants described in this section, the Issuer agrees that:

- upon the written request of the Indenture Trustee, it will use reasonable commercial efforts, following any (i) termination or resignation of the Servicer, the Manager or the Paying Agent, or (ii) termination, non-renewal or expiry of a liquidity agreement or a credit enhancement agreement, to appoint and enter into an agreement with a successor to such Servicer, Manager or Paying Agent, or replace or renew such liquidity agreement or credit enhancement agreement, in form and substance the same as the previously existing Program Agreement;

- it will not claim any credit on or make any deduction from the principal and interest payable on the Notes or Borrowings (other than amounts withheld or deducted in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture); or

- it will not take any action that would cause it to be treated as engaged in a "trade or business within the United States" for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Amendments to Master Trust Indenture

Amendments not Requiring Consent of Specified Creditors

The Issuer and the Indenture Trustee may amend, supplement or otherwise modify the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture without the consent of any Specified Creditor upon prior notice to each

Rating Agency and the Province of Ontario and delivery by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee of an officer's certificate to the effect that the Issuer reasonably believes that such amendment will not and is not reasonably expected to have an Adverse Effect. Such amendments to the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture may:

- evidence the succession or successive successions of another Financing Entity to the Issuer, and the assumption by such successor of the covenants of the Issuer in the Master Trust Indenture and the Notes;
- add to the covenants of the Issuer, or have the Issuer surrender any of its rights or powers under the Master Trust Indenture (or any Supplemental Indenture), for the benefit of the Debtholders of any or all Classes, Series or Tranches of Issuer Funding Obligations;
- cure any ambiguity, correct or supplement any provision in the Master Trust Indenture which may be inconsistent with any other provision in the Master Trust Indenture (or any Supplemental Indenture), to correct a clear clerical or administrative error, or make any other provisions for matters or questions arising under the Master Trust Indenture;
- provide for the issuance of any Series or Tranche of Notes and to set forth the terms thereof, and/or to add to the rights of the Noteholders of any Class, Series or Tranche;
- provide for the acceptance of a successor Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture;
- add any Events of Default relating to any or all Classes, Series or Tranches of Issuer Funding Obligations;
- provide for the consolidation of any financing entity and the Issuer into a single entity or the transfer of assets in any financing entity to the Issuer;
- if the IESO is replaced under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, make any necessary changes to the Master Trust Indenture;
- provide for additional forms of credit enhancement for any Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations;
- facilitate the issuance of foreign currency Issuer Funding Obligations;
- comply with any regulatory, accounting or tax laws, or changes to any ratings criteria;
- enable the Issuer to file a registration statement for the offering of securities registered under the Securities Act and to comply with Regulation AB thereunder; or
- qualify for sale treatment under generally accepted accounting principles.

The Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture may also be amended by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee without the consent of any Specified Creditor (but with prior notice to each Rating Agency and the Province of Ontario) in the following circumstances, provided that the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee an officer's certificate to the effect that (i) the Issuer reasonably believes that such amendment will not and is not reasonably expected to have an Adverse Effect, and (ii) such amendment is required to comply with law, or to conform or be consistent with the statements contained in this confidential shelf offering memorandum:

- to facilitate compliance with changes in laws or regulations applicable to the Issuer or the transactions governed by the Program Agreements; or

- to cause the provisions of the Master Trust Indenture to conform to or be consistent with or in furtherance of the statements made in this confidential shelf offering memorandum with respect to the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture.

Additionally, the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture may also be amended by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee without the consent of any Specified Creditor (but with prior notice to each Rating Agency and the Province of Ontario) in the following circumstances, provided that (i) the Issuer delivers to the Indenture Trustee an officer's certificate to the effect that the Issuer reasonably believes that such amendment will not and is not reasonably expected to have an Adverse Effect and (ii) the Rating Agency Condition is satisfied with respect to such amendment:

- to add provisions to, or change in any manner or eliminate any of the provisions of, the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture;

- to modify in any manner the rights of the Specified Creditors under the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture; or

- to provide for those changes necessary for compliance with securities law requirements or banking laws or regulations.

The Indenture Trustee may, but is not obligated to, enter into any amendment which adversely affects its rights, duties, benefits, protections, privileges or immunities under the Master Trust Indenture (or any Supplemental Indenture).

Amendments Requiring Consent of Debtholders

The Issuer and the Indenture Trustee may amend, supplement or otherwise modify and amend the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture for reasons other than those stated in the prior section ("— Amendments not Requiring Consent of Specified Creditors"), with prior notice to each Rating Agency and the Province of Ontario, the consent of Debtholders of each Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations affected by that amendment, supplement or other modification by Ordinary Resolution, and satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition. However, if the amendment, supplement or other modification would result in any of the following events occurring, it may be made only with the consent of each Debtholder of Issuer Funding Obligations affected thereby and satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition:

- a change in an Interest Payment Date, Principal Payment Date or Principal Payment Default Date for any Issuer Funding Obligation;

- a reduction in the principal amount of, or interest rate on, any Note, or a change in the method of computing the outstanding principal amount in a manner that is adverse to any Debtholder;

- a reduction in the amount of a discount note payable upon its acceleration;

- a reduction in the percentage in outstanding principal amount of Issuer Funding Obligations of any Class, Series or Tranche, the consent of whose holders is required for modification or amendment of the Master Trust Indenture, any Supplemental Indenture or any related agreement or for waiver of compliance with provisions of the Master Trust Indenture or for waiver of defaults and their consequences provided for in the Master Trust Indenture;

- a modification of any of the provisions governing the amendment of the Master Trust Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture, or waivers of past defaults, except to increase any percentage of Debtholders required to consent to any such amendment or waiver, or to provide that certain other provisions of the Master Trust Indenture cannot be modified or waived without the consent of each Debtholder affected by such modification;

- a change in the city or political subdivision so designated with respect to any Class, Series or Tranche of Notes where any principal of, or interest on, any Note is payable; or

- a change in the method of computing the amount of principal of, or interest on, any Note on any date.

Access to Debtholder Lists

The Indenture Trustee will preserve the names and addresses of all Specified Creditors received by it in its capacity as Note registrar and those which it has received from the Issuer in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture. Three or more Debtholders of any Series or Tranche, each of whom has owned an Issuer Funding Obligation of such Series or Tranche for at least six months, may, by application to the Indenture Trustee in the prescribed form, obtain access to the current list of Debtholders held by the Indenture Trustee for purposes of communicating with other Debtholders concerning their rights under the Master Trust Indenture (or any Supplemental Indenture) or under the applicable Program Agreement.

Debtholder Meetings

The Master Trust Indenture sets out the mechanics for meetings of Debtholders. The Master Trust Indenture provides for meetings of Debtholders of any Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations, of all Issuer Funding Obligations, of Controlling Class Obligations of a Series or of all Controlling Class Obligations (each of such groups of Debtholders being a "Debtholder Group"). The Indenture Trustee will call a meeting of a Debtholder Group upon request of the Issuer or Debtholders of at least 25% in aggregate outstanding principal amount of the applicable Issuer Funding Obligations. If the Indenture Trustee fails to convene, or cause to be convened, such a meeting after 30 days, the Issuer or those Debtholders may convene the meeting. The Indenture Trustee may call a meeting of a Debtholder Group at any time for any purpose. The quorum for any meeting is one or more persons holding (personally or as proxies) not less than 25% of the outstanding principal amount of the Issuer Funding Obligations of the Debtholder Group entitled to vote at such meeting. Each Debtholder who is present, whether in person or by proxy, will have one vote for every $1,000 of outstanding principal amount of applicable Issuer Funding Obligations of which he or she shall be the holder.

Every question submitted to a meeting, except those matters requiring an Extraordinary Resolution, shall be decided by a majority of the votes (an "Ordinary Resolution"). Any matter requiring an Extraordinary Resolution shall be decided by the affirmative vote of Controlling Class Creditors holding not less than 66⅔% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations (an "Extraordinary Resolution"). Such matters include:

- after the security has become enforceable, authorizing the Indenture Trustee to accept, in satisfaction or partial satisfaction, all or any part of the Collateral;

- after the security has become enforceable, sanctioning the selling of the Collateral or any part thereof or interest therein;

- after the security has become enforceable, authorizing the Indenture Trustee or any other person to bid or tender at any sale of the Collateral or any part thereof and take such actions in connection with such sale as it determines to be in the best interests of all Controlling Class Creditors;

- consenting to any compromise or arrangement by the Issuer with any creditor, creditors or class or classes of creditors or with the holders of any securities of the Issuer whose claims are payable from the Collateral;

- restraining any Debtholder from taking or instituting any suit, action or proceeding for the purpose of realizing on the Collateral or for the execution of any trust or power hereunder or for the appointment of a liquidator, receiver or trustee in bankruptcy or to have the Issuer liquidated or for any other remedy

hereunder and to direct such Debtholder to waive any Event of Default on which any suit or proceeding is founded;

- requiring the Indenture Trustee (subject to receipt by the Indenture Trustee of reasonable funding and indemnity) to exercise or refrain from exercising any other powers conferred upon it by the Master Trust Indenture of general application to all Classes of Issuer Funding Obligations, including the exercise of any rights of the Issuer under any of the Program Agreements upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, or cancel any declaration of acceleration made pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture upon such terms and/or conditions as may be decided;

- authorizing the Indenture Trustee, for and on behalf of all Debtholders, to file and prove a claim or debt against the Issuer or its property for an amount equivalent to the aggregate amount which may be payable in respect of all Issuer Funding Obligations, to value the Collateral, and to vote such claim or debt at meetings of creditors and generally act for and on behalf of all Debtholders in such proceedings as such Extraordinary Resolution may provide; and

- appointing a committee to exercise, on behalf of all Controlling Class Creditors, any powers of such Controlling Class Creditors as are exercisable by Extraordinary Resolution or other resolution (as specified in the Extraordinary Resolution appointing such committee).

Any resolution or instrument signed by the requisite number of Debtholders or Controlling Class Creditors, as applicable, shall have the same force and effect as a resolution duly passed at a meeting of such Debtholders or Controlling Class Creditors.

Any action or vote taken at a meeting (including by way of written instrument) of Debtholders of a Debtholder Group duly held in accordance with the Master Trust Indenture will be binding on all Debtholders of that Debtholder Group. An Extraordinary Resolution shall bind all Debtholders and all other Specified Creditors.

In determining whether Noteholders of the requisite principal amount have taken any action under the Master Trust Indenture, (i) Senior Notes owned by the Issuer, the Manager or any affiliate of either of them, and (ii) any Class of Notes (or portion thereof) in which the Province of Ontario has an interest will, in each case, be disregarded and deemed not to be outstanding at any time that a Specified Creditor other than the Province of Ontario has an interest in such Class of Notes. In determining whether the Indenture Trustee will be protected in relying upon any such action, only Senior Notes (or, in the case of the Province of Ontario, any Notes) which a responsible officer of the Indenture Trustee knows to be owned by the Issuer, OPG or any affiliate of either of them, or with respect to which the Province of Ontario has an interest pursuant to the Change of Law Protection Agreement, will be so disregarded.

Whenever an action may be taken by Debtholders of a specified percentage of outstanding principal amount of Issuer Funding Obligations and at such time there are outstanding Issuer Funding Obligations of any relevant Series denominated in a foreign currency, then the principal amount of the Issuer Funding Obligations of such Series which will be deemed to be outstanding for purposes of taking such action will be the amount of Canadian dollars which could be obtained for such principal amount at the market exchange rate on the applicable date.

Events of Default

General

Each of the following events is an "Event of Default":

(a) the Issuer's failure, for a period of 5 days, to pay interest on any Controlling Class Obligations when such interest becomes due and payable;

(b) the Issuer's failure to pay the principal of any Controlling Class Obligations at the Principal Payment Default Date;

(c) any representation or warranty in the Master Trust Indenture proves to be incorrect in any material respect when made and if capable of remedy, such incorrect representation or warranty is not remedied for a period of 60 days after the Indenture Trustee or Controlling Class Creditors holding at least 25% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have provided written notice to the Issuer requesting remedy of that default and stating that as a result of such default, the interests of such Controlling Class Creditors are materially and adversely affected and continue to be materially and adversely affected during the 60-day period;

(d) the Issuer's default in the performance, or breach, of any other of its covenants or warranties in the Master Trust Indenture, for a period of 60 days after the Indenture Trustee or Controlling Class Creditors holding at least 25% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have provided written notice to the Issuer requesting remedy of that default and stating that as a result of such default, the interests of such Controlling Class Creditors are materially and adversely affected and continue to be materially and adversely affected during the 60-day period;

(e) certain events of bankruptcy or insolvency of the Issuer, or the Issuer fails to maintain its existence or status as a Financing Entity;

(f) the Change of Law Protection Agreement ceases to be in full force and effect against the Province of Ontario, or the validity thereof, or the applicability thereof to the Province of Ontario or any Controlling Class Obligations is disaffirmed by the Province of Ontario;

(g) an Acceleration Event has occurred and Controlling Class Creditors holding at least 25% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have provided written notice to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee specifying the default;

(h) the Issuer's default in the performance of its covenant to deliver payment instructions for a period of three days after the Indenture Trustee has provided written notice thereof;

(i) at any time, the amounts withdrawn from the Program Cash Reserve Account prior to such time exceed the aggregate of (x) 0.50% of the largest outstanding principal amount of all Senior Funding Obligations, Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations on or prior to such time, (y) the sum of all amounts deposited to the Program Cash Reserve Account, and (z) all interest and earnings (net of losses and investment expenses), if any, on funds credited to the Program Cash Reserve Account; or

(j) a Servicer Default occurs.

If Controlling Class Obligations constituting 25% or more of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have been accelerated in accordance with their Funding Obligation Agreements, the thresholds required in clauses (c), (d) or (g) will be deemed to have been met.

Waiver of Default

Subject to the summary provided for below under "— Acceleration and Remedies — General", Controlling Class Creditors may, by Ordinary Resolution, waive any past Default under the Master Trust Indenture so long as the Rating Agency Condition in respect of each Series or Tranche of Controlling Class Obligations has been satisfied.

Acceleration and Remedies

General

If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default described in paragraph (e) or (f)) occurs and is continuing, either the Indenture Trustee or Controlling Class Creditors holding not less than 50% of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations (treated as one class) may declare the outstanding principal amount of all Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations) to be immediately due and payable. If Controlling Class Obligations constituting 50% or more of the outstanding principal amount of all Controlling Class Obligations have been accelerated in accordance with their Funding Obligation Agreements, the 50% threshold required will be deemed to have been met. The occurrence of an Event of Default described in paragraph (e) or (f) results in an automatic acceleration of all Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations).

A declaration of acceleration or an automatic acceleration may be rescinded by Extraordinary Resolution if (i) the Issuer has paid all overdue interest, principal that has become due (other by reason of acceleration) on Controlling Class Obligations and other amounts set out in the Master Trust Indenture, and (ii) all Events of Default (other than non-payment of principal) have been cured or waived.

If Controlling Class Obligations are accelerated, the Indenture Trustee may amongst other things, (i) apply to a court for an order of sequestration and payment of amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment in accordance with the FHPA, (ii) take possession of the Collateral, (iii) appoint a receiver with respect to the Collateral, (iv) initiate proceedings in any court for the appointment of a receiver or for sale or foreclosure, (v) exercise rights, remedies, powers, privileges and claims under any Program Agreement, including the right to terminate and replace the Manager or the Servicer, or (vi) take any other action, suit, remedy or proceeding authorized or permitted by the Master Trust Indenture or by applicable law. The Indenture Trustee is not obligated to exercise any of its rights or powers under the Master Trust Indenture at the request or direction of any Controlling Class Creditors unless Controlling Class Creditors offer the Indenture Trustee a reasonable indemnity.

See "Risk Factors — Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset" and "Risk Factors — Insolvency-Related Risks Relating to the Issuer".

Payment Waterfall Upon Acceleration

After acceleration of the Issuer Funding Obligations (other than derivative agreements), any money or other property standing to the credit of an Issuer Account (except as set out below) or otherwise collected by the Indenture Trustee will be applied in the following priority:

(a) first, to the payment or remittance of taxes for which a governmental authority is given priority over the Specified Creditors under the laws of the applicable jurisdiction;

(b) second, to pay fees, expenses and reimbursement amounts owing to the Issuer Trustee and the Indenture Trustee;

(c) third, pari passu (i) to pay interest, fees and other amounts (other than principal) owing in respect of Senior Funding Obligations and (ii) to pay all Derivative Funding Obligations (other than termination payments);

(d) fourth, to pay interest, fees and other amounts (other than principal) owing in respect of Subordinated Funding Obligations;

(e) fifth, to pay interest, fees and other amounts (other than principal) owing in respect of Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations;

(f) sixth, to pay principal owing in respect of Warehouse Obligations;

(g) seventh, pari passu (A) to pay principal owing in respect of Senior Funding Obligations (other than Warehouse Obligations) and (B) to pay termination payments owing to Derivative Counterparties where the Derivative Counterparty is not the defaulting party or the sole affected party;

(h) eighth, to pay fees, expenses and reimbursement amounts owing to the Manager;

(i) ninth, to pay principal owing in respect of Subordinated Funding Obligations;

(j) tenth, to pay principal owing in respect of Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations;

(k) eleventh, to pay termination payments owing to Derivative Counterparties where the Derivative Counterparty is the defaulting party or the sole affected party;

(l) twelfth, to pay all indemnity amounts owing to the Manager;

(m) thirteenth, pari passu (i) to the payment or remittance of taxes not previously paid pursuant to paragraph (a), and (ii) to pay all amounts owing to Specified Creditors not specifically referred to above; in each case, including, for each referenced party, any amounts payable to their respective affiliates under the terms of any relevant indemnity; and

(n) fourteenth, to pay any remaining amounts to the Issuer.

However, amounts on deposit in a Series Account will first be used to satisfy all obligations owing to the Debtholders or Derivative Counterparties for whom such Series Account was established. Thereafter, such amounts will be applied in accordance with the priorities set out above. In addition, amounts on deposit in the Protection Account will only be used to satisfy the obligations for which those amounts were deposited.

Rights of Specified Creditors

No Specified Creditor will have the right to institute any proceeding, judicial or otherwise, with respect to the Master Trust Indenture, or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee or similar official, or for any other remedy under the Master Trust Indenture. A Controlling Class Creditor may exercise such rights if:

(a) the Issuer or a Controlling Class Creditor has previously given to the Indenture Trustee written notice of a continuing Event of Default;

(b) Controlling Class Creditors, by Ordinary Resolution, have made written request of the Indenture Trustee to institute the proceeding in its own name as Indenture Trustee;

(c) Controlling Class Creditors have offered the Indenture Trustee a satisfactory indemnity; and

(d) the Indenture Trustee has, for 60 days, failed to institute the proceeding.

Subject to certain powers which may only be exercised by Extraordinary Resolution, Controlling Class Creditors, by Ordinary Resolution, will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Indenture Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Indenture Trustee with respect to all Issuer Funding Obligations. However, the Indenture Trustee may decline to follow such direction if it determines (based on advice from counsel) that such direction (i) conflicts with applicable law or the Master Trust Indenture, (ii) has a substantial likelihood of involving the Indenture Trustee in personal liability or (iii) is unjustly prejudicial to Controlling Class Creditors not taking part such direction. See "— Debtholder Approvals and Meetings — Debtholder Meetings" for a description of certain powers which may only be exercised by Extraordinary Resolution. Specified Creditors (other than Debtholders) do not have any right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Indenture Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Indenture Trustee. Specified Creditors (other than Debtholders) will only have the right to receive proceeds following an Event of Default.

Limited Recourse

The obligation of the Issuer to pay principal of and interest on the Issuer Funding Obligations or any other amount payable to any Specified Creditor is subject to the allocation and payment provisions in the Master Trust Indenture and the applicable Funding Obligation Agreement and limited to amounts available from the Collateral. Neither the Indenture Trustee, the Manager nor the Issuer Trustee in its individual capacity, nor any holder of any unit in the Issuer, nor any of their respective owners, beneficiaries, agents, officers, directors, employees, successors or assigns will, in the absence of an express agreement to the contrary, be personally liable for the payment of the principal of or interest on the Notes or any other Issuer Funding Obligation, or for the Issuer's covenants and agreements contained in the Master Trust Indenture.

No Petition

Each Specified Creditor, by accepting its rights as a beneficiary under the Master Trust Indenture, agrees that until one year and one day following repayment in full of all Issuer Funding Obligations, it will not commence (or join in commencing) a bankruptcy, insolvency or similar proceeding under the laws of any jurisdiction against the Issuer.

Force Majeure

The Indenture Trustee and the Issuer Trustee will not be responsible or liable for any failure or delay in the performance of their obligations under the Master Trust Indenture arising out of or caused by, directly or indirectly, forces beyond their control, including loss or malfunctions of utilities, communications or computer services.

Satisfaction and Discharge

The Master Trust Indenture will cease to be of further effect with respect to any Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations when:

(a) (x) in the case of Notes, all Notes of that Class, Series or Tranche which had been outstanding, with certain exceptions set forth in the Master Trust Indenture, have been delivered to the Indenture Trustee for cancellation or been cancelled, or (y) in the case of all other Issuer Funding Obligations, all Issuer Funding Obligations of that Class, Series or Tranche have been paid in full, as certified by the Issuer;

(b) the Issuer has paid all other sums payable by it under the Master Trust Indenture with respect to that Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations; and

(c) the Issuer has delivered to the Indenture Trustee an officer's certificate and an opinion of external counsel each stating that the conditions precedent in the Master Trust Indenture relating to the satisfaction and discharge with respect to that Class, Series or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations have been complied with.

The Master Trust Indenture will cease to be of further effect when all Issuer Funding Obligations have been satisfied and discharged in accordance with the previous paragraph and all other Obligations Secured have been paid in full, as certified by the Issuer.

DESCRIPTION OF NOTES

The following description of the Senior Notes is a summary of certain of their material attributes and characteristics, and does not purport to be complete. The terms and conditions set forth in this "Description of the Senior Notes" section will apply to each Senior Note unless otherwise specified in the Term Sheet applicable to such Offering. For further particulars, reference should be made to the Master Trust Indenture and the Supplemental Indenture and Terms Document, if any, relating to the particular Series or Tranche of Senior Notes.

General

The Senior Notes will be issued under the Master Trust Indenture and will be Funding Obligations issued in connection with the financing program described under the heading "Capital Markets Platform". The specific terms and conditions of each Series of Senior Notes will be set forth in the Supplemental Indenture authorizing that Series and the specific terms and conditions of any Tranche of Senior Notes will be set forth in the Supplemental Indenture or the Terms Document authorizing that Tranche.

Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Issuer may issue an unlimited principal amount of Senior Notes. See "Capital Markets Platform — Conditions Precedent to Incurrence of Obligations Secured — Issuer Funding Obligations". The Senior Notes will be direct obligations of the Issuer and secured in the manner provided for under the Master Trust Indenture. See "Capital Markets Platform — Security".

The Supplemental Indenture or Terms Document will describe the following terms of the Senior Notes:

- the Series designation;
- stated principal amount of the Senior Notes;
- whether such Senior Notes are of a particular Tranche of Senior Notes;
- the currency or currencies in which such Senior Notes will be denominated and in which payments of principal of, and interest on, such Senior Notes will or may be payable;
- the price at which such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will be issued;
- the times at which such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes may, pursuant to any optional redemption provisions, be redeemed, and the other terms and provisions of any such redemption;
- the rate per annum at which such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will bear interest, if any, or the formula or index on which such rate will be determined;
- each Interest Payment Date, each Principal Payment Date and the Principal Payment Default Date for such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes;
- the Principal Accumulation Date(s) and Principal Accumulation Amount(s) for such Series of Senior Notes;
- the initial principal amount of such Senior Notes, and the means for calculating the outstanding principal amount of such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes;
- whether or not application will be made to list such Series or Tranche of Notes on any securities exchange;
- any events of default with respect to such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes;
- if such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will be issued in whole or in part in the form of a global note, the terms and conditions, if any, upon which such global note may be exchanged for other individual Senior Notes, and the depository for such global note;
- if such Class, Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will be issued in whole or in part in registered form, bearer form or both, and if such Senior Notes will be issued with or without coupons;
- if such Class, Series or Tranche will have the benefit of a credit enhancement agreement or liquidity agreement, and the terms and provisions of the applicable agreement;
- the record date for any Interest Payment Date or Principal Payment Date of such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes, if different from the last of the month before the related Interest Payment Date or Principal Payment Date; and
- whether and under what conditions, additional amounts will be payable to Noteholders of such Series or Tranche of Notes.

Payments of Principal and Interest

Interest will accrue on the principal balance of each Series or Tranche of Senior Note at the interest rate specified in the related Term Sheet and will be payable on the Interest Payment Date(s) specified in the related Term Sheet. Principal of each Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will be payable in the amounts and on the Principal Payment Date(s) specified in the related Term Sheet. The Term Sheet applicable to a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will also set out the Principal Payment Default Date for such Senior Notes, which is the date on which failure to pay the principal amount of such Senior Notes will result in an Event of Default.

On each Payment Date, the Issuer will, to the extent funds are available therefor from the Collection Account (see "Capital Markets Platform — Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration — Collection Account"), transfer to the Interest Accumulation Account the aggregate amount of interest that has accrued on each Series of Senior Notes (together with all other amounts to be accrued for other Issuer Funding Obligations). On each Interest Payment Date for a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes, the Paying Agent will pay to the holders of such Senior Notes interest then due on such Senior Notes using amounts available therefor from the Interest Accumulation Account, the Principal Accumulation Account, the IESO Cash Reserve Account, the Program Cash Reserve Account and the Protection Account. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement" and "Capital Markets Platform — Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration".

On each Payment Date, the Issuer will, to the extent funds are available therefor from the Collection Account (see "Capital Markets Platform — Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration — Collection Account"), transfer to the Principal Accumulation Account the aggregate of the amounts the Issuer is required to accumulate for each Series of Senior Notes (together with all other amounts to be accumulated for other Issuer Funding Obligations). The Term Sheet applicable to a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes will set out the Principal Accumulation Amount(s) and the Principal Accumulation Date(s) for such Senior Notes. On each Principal Payment Date for a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes, the Paying Agent will pay to the holders of such Senior Notes the principal then due on such Senior Notes using amounts available therefor from the Principal Accumulation Account, the Program Cash Reserve Account and the Protection Account. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement" and "Capital Markets Platform — Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration". Holders of Senior Notes may receive principal payments earlier than a Principal Payment Date if an optional redemption occurs and may receive principal payments later than a Principal Payment Date if there are insufficient Available Collections. See "Risk Factors" for a discussion of factors that may affect the timing of principal payments on a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes. It is not an Event of Default if the stated principal amount of a Series or Tranche of Senior Notes is not paid in full on a Principal Payment Date. If the stated principal amount of a Senior Note is not paid in full by its Principal Payment Default Date, an Event of Default will occur. See "Capital Markets Platform — Events of Default".

Unless otherwise specified in a Term Sheet, the Issuer has designated the Indenture Trustee as its Paying Agent for all Senior Notes having a place of payment in Toronto, Ontario.

Optional Redemption of Senior Notes

If a Supplemental Indenture for any Series or Tranche of Senior Notes states that such Senior Notes will be redeemable, in whole at any time or in part from time to time, such Senior Notes will be redeemable at the option of the Issuer at the redemption price specified in the Supplemental Indenture. If less than all the Senior Notes of any Series or Tranche are to be redeemed at one time, the Senior Notes of such Series or Tranche to be redeemed will be selected by the Indenture Trustee on a pro rata basis according to the principal amount of such Senior Notes registered in the name of each holder thereof, or in such other manner as the Indenture Trustee may consider equitable.

Notice of any redemption will be delivered to each holder of the Senior Notes to be redeemed, electronically or by mail (postage prepaid) at the address of such holder appearing in the Note register (or published in an authorized newspaper in the case of Senior Notes held in bearer form) or otherwise in accordance with the procedures of the depository, at least 15 days but not more than 30 days before the redemption date, except that redemption notices may be delivered more than 30 days prior to the redemption date if the notice is issued in connection with a satisfaction and discharge of the Master Trust Indenture with respect to such Series or Tranche of Senior Notes. The notice of redemption will state (i) the portion of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed (provided that no Senior Notes in an aggregate principal amount of 1,000 units of the applicable currency or less will be redeemed in part), (ii) the redemption date and (iii) the redemption price. Unless the Issuer defaults in payment of the redemption price, on and after the redemption date, interest will cease to accrue on the Senior Notes or portions of the Senior Notes called for redemption. A replacement note in principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion thereof will be issued in the name of the holder thereof upon cancellation of the original note; provided, however, that, in the case of a global note, an appropriate notation may instead be made on such note to decrease the principal amount thereof to an amount equal to the unredeemed portion thereof.

The Term Sheet for each Offering will identify the redemption provisions of the applicable Notes at the time of such Offering.

Purchase for Cancellation

The Issuer may purchase or otherwise acquire, at any time or from time to time, all or any of the outstanding Senior Notes of any Series or Tranche in the market or by invitation for tenders or by private contract at such prices as it may determine in its sole discretion. All such Senior Notes purchased by the Issuer will be cancelled. If, upon a tender, more Senior Notes of a Series or Tranche are tendered at the same lowest price than the Issuer is prepared to accept, the Senior Notes of such Series or Tranche to be purchased will be selected by the Indenture Trustee on a pro rata basis according to the principal amount of such Senior Notes registered in the name of each holder thereof, or in such other manner as the Indenture Trustee may consider equitable.

DEPOSITORY SERVICES

Except as otherwise provided below, the Senior Notes will be issued in "book-entry only" form and must be purchased, transferred, redeemed or exchanged through participants ("Participants") in the depository service of a depository chosen by the Issuer (the "depository") or its nominee, which include securities brokers and dealers, banks and trust companies. On the closing date of an Offering, the Issuer will cause a global certificate representing the Senior Notes to be delivered to, and registered in the name of, the depository or its nominee. Except as described below, no purchaser of Senior Notes will be entitled to a certificate or other instrument from the Issuer or the depository evidencing that purchaser's ownership thereof, and no purchaser will be shown on the records maintained by the depository except through a book-entry account of a Participant acting on behalf of such purchaser. Each purchaser of Senior Notes will typically receive a customer confirmation of purchase from the registered dealer from which the Senior Notes are purchased in accordance with the practices and procedures of that registered dealer. The practices of registered dealers may vary, but generally, customer confirmations are issued promptly after execution of a customer order. The depository will be responsible for establishing and maintaining book-entry accounts for its Participants having interests in the Senior Notes.

Neither the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee nor the Agents will assume any liability for: (i) any aspect of the records relating to the beneficial ownership of the Senior Notes held by the depository or the payments relating thereto; (ii) maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to the Senior Notes; or (iii) any advice or representation made by or with respect to the depository or those contained in this confidential shelf offering memorandum and relating to the rules governing the depository or any action to be taken by the depository or at the direction of its Participants. The rules governing the depository provide that it acts as the agent and depository for the Participants. As a result, Participants must look solely to the depository and persons, other than Participants, having an interest in the Senior Notes must look solely to Participants for payments made by or on behalf of the Issuer to the depository in respect of the Senior Notes.

If: (i) required by applicable law; (ii) the depository notifies the Issuer in writing that the depository is no longer willing or able to discharge properly the responsibilities of a depository with respect to the Senior Notes and the Issuer is unable to locate a qualified successor; (iii) the Issuer determines the Senior Notes in book-entry only form should be exchanged for definitive certificates and the Issuer delivers a written notice to such effect to the Indenture Trustee; (iv) an Event of Default has occurred and Noteholders holding more than 50% of the Controlling Class Obligations of any Series of Senior Notes determine such book-entry system is no longer in the best interests of the holders of that Series; or (v) the book-entry system is terminated, then certificates representing the Senior Notes will be issued to the beneficial owners of Senior Notes.

Interest on the Senior Notes will be paid directly to CDS while the book-entry only system is in effect. If definitive certificates are issued, interest will be paid by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the accounts specified by the holders thereof or, if no such account is specified, by mailing a cheque to each such holder's registered address. Payment of principal, and the interest due, at maturity, will be paid directly to CDS while the book-entry only system is in effect. If definitive certificates are issued, payment of principal, and interest due, at maturity, will be paid upon surrender thereof at any office of the Trustee or as otherwise specified in the Indenture.

Manner of Effecting Transfer or Redemption

A transfer or redemption of Senior Notes held in "book-entry form" only will be effected through records maintained by the depository or its nominee with respect to interests of Participants, and on the records of Participants with respect to interests of persons other than Participants. Purchasers of such Senior Notes who are not Participants, but who desire to purchase, sell or otherwise transfer ownership of or other interests in the Senior Notes, may do so only through Participants.

DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg

Where CDS acts as depository for a series of Senior Notes, to the extent the Issuer makes such series of Senior Notes eligible with The Depositary Trust Company ("DTC"), Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V., as operator of the Euroclear System ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream, Luxembourg"), and the Issuer specifies as such in the Term Sheet with respect to the particular series of Senior Notes, holders may hold such series of Senior Notes through the accounts maintained by DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable, as participants in CDS only if they are participants of those systems, or indirectly through organizations which are participants of those systems.

In such case, DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg will hold omnibus book-entry positions on behalf of their participants through customers' securities accounts in their respective depositaries which in turn will hold such positions in customers' securities accounts in the names of the nominees of the depositaries on the books of CDS. All securities in DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg are held on a fungible basis without attribution of specific certificates to specific securities clearance accounts.

Transfers of such Senior Notes by persons holding through Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg participants, as applicable, will be effected through CDS, in accordance with CDS rules, on behalf of the relevant European international clearing system by its depositaries; however, such transactions will require delivery of transfer instructions to the relevant European international clearing system by the participant in such system in accordance with its rules and procedures and within its established deadlines (European time). The relevant European international clearing system will, if the transfer meets its requirements, deliver instructions to its depositaries to take action to effect the transfer of the Senior Notes on its behalf by delivering Senior Notes through CDS and receiving payment in accordance with its normal procedures for next-day funds settlement. Payments with respect to the Senior Notes held through Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg will be credited to the cash accounts of Euroclear participants or Clearstream, Luxembourg participants in accordance with the relevant system's rules and procedures, to the extent received by its depositaries.

All information in this confidential shelf offering memorandum concerning CDS, DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, reflects the Issuer's understanding of the policies of such organizations which may change at any time without notice.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The Senior Notes may be sold by the Issuer directly pursuant to applicable statutory exemptions or through agents designated by the Issuer from time to time. Each Term Sheet will identify the Agents engaged in connection with the applicable Offering of Senior Notes and will also set forth the terms of the Offering of Senior Notes, including the net proceeds to the Issuer and, to the extent applicable, any fees payable to the Agents. The Agents will conditionally offer the Senior Notes for sale on a "best efforts" basis, if, as and when issued and delivered by the Issuer in accordance with the conditions contained in an agency agreement (the "Agency Agreement") between the Issuer, OPG and the Agents to be entered into on or about the date of each Term Sheet. The Agents will be paid a fee by the Issuer for their services rendered to the Issuer in connection with the offering, issue and sale of the Senior Notes. The obligations of the Agents under the Agency Agreement may be terminated upon the occurrence of certain stated events. The Agents may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price of the Senior Notes at a level different than that which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

The Senior Notes may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, in Canada or to or for the account of any Canadian resident except, in the case of sales made in any province of Canada, pursuant to an exemption from the prospectus requirements in Section 2.3 of NI 45-106 and, in the case of a purchaser resident in Ontario, section 73.3(2) of the Securities Act (Ontario), also known as the "accredited investor" exemption. In addition, Senior Notes will not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, to individuals unless those individuals are also "permitted clients" within the meaning of NI 31-103.

Resale of the Senior Notes will be subject to restrictions under applicable securities legislation which vary depending on the relevant jurisdictions. The Senior Notes may only be sold on a basis that is exempt from the prospectus requirements of applicable securities legislation through an appropriately registered dealer or pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of applicable securities legislation. See "Restrictions on Resale".

This confidential shelf offering memorandum does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any of the Senior Notes in the United States. The Senior Notes have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act or any state securities laws and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as such term is defined in Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act) unless the Senior Notes are registered under the U.S. Securities Act and applicable state securities laws or an exemption therefrom is available. In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of an Offering, any offer or sale of the Senior Notes within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in an Offering) may violate the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with an exemption from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act. Each Agent has agreed that, except as permitted by an Agency Agreement, it will not offer or sell the Senior Notes as part of the distribution of the Senior Notes at any time within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in Senior Notes involves certain risks. Prospective investors in the Senior Notes should carefully consider all the information included in this confidential shelf offering memorandum, including the risks described below, before deciding to invest in the Senior Notes. This section does not describe all risks applicable to the Issuer and is intended only as a summary of certain material risks. In addition, prospective investors should consult their own financial and other legal and tax advisors, and should carefully consider, among other matters, the following discussion of risks before deciding whether to purchase Senior Notes.

Judicial, Legislative or Regulatory Risks

Future legal action might challenge or invalidate the FHPA or the Regulations and materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

The Investment Asset is a creation of the FHPA, which became effective on June 1, 2017. The Issuer will be the first Financing Entity under the FHPA to issue Funding Obligations as contemplated under the FHPA. The FHPA, the Regulations or any provisions thereof might be directly contested in courts or otherwise become the subject of litigation. The FHPA is novel legislation in Canada and therefore there are no precedents to rely on to support the validity of the FHPA or the Regulations.

As of the date of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, no such litigation has arisen; however, there can be no assurance that a lawsuit challenging the validity of some portion or all of the FHPA or the Regulations will not be filed in the future or that, if filed, such lawsuit will not be successful. If such a lawsuit was successful, and an invalidation of any relevant underlying legislative or regulatory provision were to result that did not constitute a Protection Event under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, a holder of Senior Notes may lose some or all of their investment in the Senior Notes or experience significant delays in recovering their investment in the Senior Notes. Even if the successful lawsuit constitutes a Protection Event, under the terms of the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the Province of Ontario is not obligated to pay or indemnify the Indenture Trustee or any Specified Creditor for consequential, special or punitive damages, or for economic loss or loss of profits (provided that economic loss does not include any amount in respect of an amount due and payable to a Specified Creditor under the Limited Guarantee).

Future legislative action to change the FHPA, the Regulations, the Change of Law Protection Agreement or the electricity market might materially adversely affect a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

The FHPA provides that no act or omission of the Crown shall be effective to reduce, impair, postpone or terminate the obligations of Specified Consumers to pay amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment or to impair or postpone the invoicing, collection or remittance of the Clean Energy Adjustment. Ontario does not have a referendum or initiative process by which the FHPA may be amended or ~~revoked~~repealed. Therefore, the only way for such provisions of the FHPA to be amended or ~~revoked~~repealed would be through a subsequent legislative action by the Province of Ontario. A determination by the Province of Ontario that, for political or other reasons, the FHPA or the Regulations should no longer be law in Ontario or that the FHPA or Regulations should be amended to limit or delay the recovery of Clean Energy Adjustments, could result in a decision to make such an amendment, repeal or revocation. Any such action that ~~materially and~~ adversely affects the ability of the Issuer to receive amounts in respect of the Investment Interest so that it can pay Approved Obligations when due and payable (determined after taking into account certain factors described above in the definition of "Protection Event") would be subject to the Change of Law Protection Agreement. Under the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the Province of Ontario is not obligated to pay or indemnify the Indenture Trustee or any Specified Creditor for consequential, special or punitive damages, or for economic loss or loss of profits (provided that economic loss does not include any amount in respect of an amount due and payable to a Specified Creditor under the Limited Guarantee). See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". However, future legislative action by the Province of Ontario could also be taken that would have the effect of voiding or otherwise rendering invalid the Change of Law Protection Agreement.

Canada does not have any constitutional protection of property rights. While an adverse impact of statutory measures on private property has, in some circumstances, been judicially held to entitle property owners to compensation, such entitlements themselves can also be extinguished by legislation. Accordingly, if the provisions of the FHPA or the Regulations referenced in the previous paragraph were amended or revoked through subsequent legislative action of the Province of Ontario and future legislative action was also taken by the Province of Ontario that had the effect of voiding or otherwise rendering invalid the Change of Law Protection Agreement, a holder of Senior Notes may lose some or all of their investment in the Senior Notes or experience significant delays in recovering their investment in the Senior Notes.

Future judicial action could reduce the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

The Investment Asset is the creation of the FHPA. There is uncertainty associated with investing in Senior Notes payable from an interest in an asset that depends on legislation for its existence because there is no juridical or regulatory experience implementing and interpreting the legislation or similar legislation in Canada. Because the Investment Asset is a creation of the FHPA, any judicial determination interpreting the FHPA or the Investment Asset might have an adverse effect on a holder of Senior Notes' investment in the Senior Notes.

Potential difficulties in enforcing civil liabilities against the Province of Ontario may arise.

Under the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), the remedies of injunction and specific performance are not available against the Province of Ontario, although the remedy of damages is available.[50] Nothing in the Change of Law Protection Agreement or the Program Agreements affects the rights, protections and immunities of the Crown under the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario). As a result, if the Province of Ontario fails to comply with the Change of Law Protection Agreement, the Indenture Trustee's ability to obtain an effective remedy against the [50] Note: Consider mentioning that section 21 of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario) prohibits execution, attachment and process against the Province.

Province of Ontario is limited and holders of Senior Notes may lose some or all of their investments in the Senior Notes or experience significant delays in recovering their investments.[51]

Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset

Clean Energy Adjustments will not be payable until May 1, 2021 and until such time the IESO will be the sole source of funds for payment on the Senior Notes.

During the Moratorium Period, no Clean Energy Adjustments are permitted to be collected from Specified Consumers. During the Moratorium Period, a holder of Senior Notes must rely for payment of interest on the Senior Notes, and the Issuer must rely for payment of all of its other ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs, solely upon the IESO who is obligated under the Regulations to pay these ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs. The IESO has granted the Issuer a first-priority security interest in all its accounts receivable from Electricity Vendors, which includes the amounts receivable by the IESO from Electricity Vendors with respect to the global adjustment charge, as security for the performance of its regulatory obligation to pay the Issuer's ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs. The IESO also has a $2 billion unsecured credit facility agreement with the Ontario Financing Authority, expiring ■, 20■, which ~~can~~is permitted to be used to pay the Issuer's ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs. [NTD: IESO credit facility description to be confirmed.][52] There can be no assurance that the IESO will continue to have sufficient funds available to pay interest on the Senior Notes or to pay the Issuer's other ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs during the Moratorium Period. If the Issuer enforces the security granted to the Issuer by the IESO during this period, there can be no assurance that the IESO's accounts receivable from Electricity Vendors will be sufficient to pay interest on the Senior Notes or the Issuer's other ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs and a holder of Senior Notes may suffer material payment delay on the Senior Notes during the Moratorium Period.

The Issuer's ability to enforce security granted by the IESO may be significantly impaired or delayed.

Under various Canadian bankruptcy, insolvency and restructuring statutes or Canadian federal or provincial receivership laws, including the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Canada), the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (Canada), the Canada Business Corporations Act, the Winding-up and Restructuring Act, and various provincial corporate statutes (collectively, "Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws"), the Issuer's ability to enforce security granted by the IESO may be significantly impaired or delayed. In view of the broad discretionary powers of courts under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, it is not possible to predict how long payments of ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs by the IESO or enforcement of any letter of credit or performance guarantee provided by the IESO could be delayed following commencement of a proceeding under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws by the IESO or whether or when the Issuer would be able to repossess or dispose of the assets over which it holds a security interest. Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws also contemplate the granting of super priority security interests or charges (which could be in priority to the security of existing secured creditors) on the assets of the debtor company to secure the repayment of any amounts to be borrowed to facilitate the insolvency proceeding, any amounts owing for the fees and costs of professionals involved in the insolvency proceeding, obligations of directors of the company with respect to their statutory liabilities and sometimes other amounts.

Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws also contain provisions enabling an obligor to prepare and file a proposal or a plan of arrangement or reorganization for consideration by all or some of its creditors, to be voted on by the various classes of creditors affected thereby. Such a restructuring proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization, if accepted by the requisite majority of each class of affected creditors and if approved by the relevant Canadian court, would be binding on all creditors of the applicable obligor within the affected classes, including the Issuer, whether or not the Issuer votes in favour of the restructuring proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization. Such a proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization may have the effect of compromising certain rights available to the Issuer with respect to the payment of ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs or enforcement of any security provided by the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement.

[51] Note: Consider mentioning, as a mitigant, that section 22 of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), which states that "the Minister of Finance shall pay out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund the amount payable by the Crown, (a) under an order of a court that is final and not subject to appeal; (b) under a settlement of a proceeding in a court…".

[52] Note: Is there any other information to be added apart from the expiry date?

A holder of Senior Notes may experience material payment delays because the source of funds for payment after the Moratorium Period is limited.

A holder of Senior Notes may suffer material payment delays on the Senior Notes if the collateral securing the Senior Notes is insufficient to pay the accrued interest on and the principal amount of those Senior Notes in full. During the Moratorium Period, a holder of Senior Notes must rely for payment of interest on the Senior Notes, and the Issuer must rely for payment of all of its other ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs, solely upon the IESO who is obligated under the Regulations to pay these ~~carrying costs~~Carrying Costs. After the Moratorium Period, the only source of funds for payments of interest on and principal of the Senior Notes will be the collateral. The collateral for the Senior Notes will include:

- the Investment Interest, including the right to impose, bill, collect and receive Clean Energy Adjustment amounts, inclusive of the True-up Amount;
- the cash and investments on deposit in the accounts held by the Indenture Trustee; and
- the Issuer's rights under various contracts described in this confidential shelf offering memorandum and under the FHPA and the Regulations.

The Senior Notes will not be insured or guaranteed by the Province of Ontario, the IESO, OPG or any of their respective affiliates, the Indenture Trustee or any other person or entity, except pursuant to the Limited Guarantee provided by the Province of Ontario upon the occurrence of a Protection Event and delivery by the Indenture Trustee to the Province of Ontario of a written payment demand. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". The Senior Notes will be nonrecourse obligations, secured only by the collateral. Delays in payment on the Senior Notes might result in a reduction in the market value of the Senior Notes and, therefore, the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

The Senior Notes do not constitute a debt, liability or other obligation of, or interest in, OPG or any of its other affiliates (other than the Issuer). The Senior Notes are not a debt, liability or other obligation of the Province of Ontario or any of its political subdivisions, agencies or instrumentalities.

A holder of Senior Notes must rely for payment of principal of and interest on the Senior Notes solely upon the FHPA and the Regulations, rights to enforcement of the FHPA, the Regulations and of various agreements described in this confidential shelf offering memorandum, collections of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts and cash and investments on deposit in the related accounts held pursuant to the Master Trust Indenture.

The Clean Energy Adjustment may not be billed after April 30, 2047, unless further regulations to extend that date are passed.

The Clean Energy Adjustment may not be billed to Specified Consumers after April 30, 2047, unless further regulations to extend that date are passed. If Clean Energy Adjustment amounts billed through this period are not sufficient to repay the Senior Notes in full and further regulations to extend this date are not passed, apart from amounts in the capital accounts, if any, no other funds will be available to pay the unpaid balance due on the Senior Notes.

Foreclosure of the Indenture Trustee's lien on the Investment Interest securing the Senior Notes might not be practical and acceleration of the Senior Notes before maturity might have little practical effect.

Under the Master Trust Indenture, the Indenture Trustee on behalf of the holders of Senior Notes and other creditors has the right to foreclose or otherwise enforce the lien granted to the Indenture Trustee by the Issuer on the collateral securing the Senior Notes. However, in the event of foreclosure, there is likely to be a limited market, if any, for the collateral. Therefore, foreclosure might not be a realistic or practical remedy. Moreover, although principal of the Senior Notes will be due and payable upon acceleration of the Senior Notes before maturity, under the Regulations, the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment may not be increased to take into account such acceleration (subject to limited exceptions depending on the Fair Allocation Amount at the time). As a result, this limitation on increases to the Clean Energy Adjustment at the time of any acceleration of the Senior Notes prior to maturity will result in principal of the Senior Notes being paid on acceleration as funds become available. However, upon such acceleration, the priority of principal payments to creditors of the Issuer will result in all accelerated Senior Notes being repaid in full before any further payments of principal are made to holders of subordinated indebtedness of the Issuer. In the event of an acceleration, holders of Senior Notes may be paid sooner or later than originally expected.

The Issuer may issue multiple Series of Senior Notes secured by the Investment Interest and some decisions affecting holders of Senior Notes may require the approval of all Series.

The Issuer may issue multiple Series of Senior Notes all of which will be secured by the collateral securing the Senior Notes. The Issuer may not issue additional Series of Senior Notes if the issuance would not satisfy the Rating Agency Condition and certain other conditions precedent in the Master Trust Indenture. See "Capital Markets Platform — Conditions Precedent to Incurrence of Obligations Secured — Issuer Funding Obligations". If additional Series of Senior Notes are issued, Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected by or for the benefit of the Issuer will be prorated among the Series of Senior Notes based on the respective amounts of interest and principal due and payable or required to be accumulated in respect of each Series of Senior Notes. Any issuance of additional Series of Senior Notes by the Issuer could cause reductions or delays in payment on the Senior Notes. In addition, some matters relating to the Senior Notes issued by the Issuer may require the vote of the holders of all Series of Senior Notes. The interests of holders of a particular Series of Senior Notes in these votes might conflict with the interests of the holders of another Series of Senior Notes. Thus, these votes could result in an outcome that is materially unfavorable to holders of a particular Series of Senior Notes.

The Master Trust Indenture contains Events of Default (other than those pertaining to the insolvency of the Issuer or invalidity of the Change of Law Protection Agreement) that can only be declared by Debtholders who hold at least 25% of the outstanding Controlling Class Obligations. If any such Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, Debtholders who hold at least 50% of the outstanding Controlling Class Obligations may accelerate all Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations). However, it is possible for individual Series of Senior Notes to have their own acceleration events such that those individual Series of Senior Notes may be accelerated while other Series of Issuer Funding Obligations would not be accelerated. In such a case, (i) the allocation of Available Collections to the holders of accelerated Series of Issuer Funding Obligations in a Class would be higher relative to the non-accelerated Series of Issuer Funding Obligations of that Class than it would otherwise be, and (ii) after payment in full of accelerated Senior Notes and other Senior Funding Obligations and once all amounts due and payable on non-accelerated Senior Notes and other Senior Funding Obligations have been satisfied on any principal payment date, amounts remaining for payment of principal would be allocated to the repayment of principal on both accelerated and non-accelerated subordinated debt, as applicable. In certain cases, a declaration of acceleration or an automatic acceleration may also be rescinded by Extraordinary Resolution if (i) the Issuer has paid all overdue interest, principal that has become due (other than by reason of acceleration) on Controlling Class Obligations and other amounts set out in the Master Trust Indenture, and (ii) all Events of Default (other than non-payment of principal) have been cured or waived. See "Capital Markets Platform — Acceleration and Remedies — General".

If a Series of Senior Notes or all Senior Notes are accelerated, a holder of Senior Notes might receive payment of principal sooner or later than expected.

Under certain circumstances it is possible that all outstanding Senior Notes will be accelerated as a Class or that certain Series of Senior Notes will be accelerated while other Series of Senior Notes will not be accelerated. See "Capital Markets Platform – Acceleration and Remedies". The possibility of certain Series of Senior Notes accelerating while other Series of Senior Notes do not accelerate would arise if (i) an Event of Default occurs but Noteholders holding at least 50% of all outstanding Senior Notes do not approve the acceleration of all outstanding Senior Notes, and (ii) holders of Senior Notes of a particular Series approve the acceleration of the Senior Notes of that Series by the requisite majority of holders of that Series as set out in the applicable supplemental indenture for that Series.

If all Senior Notes are accelerated the application of available funds will be as described under "Capital Markets Platform -- Acceleration and Remedies" for all Senior Notes. It is possible that holders of 50% or more of the outstanding principal balance of all Senior Notes will approve the acceleration of all Senior Notes even if holders of a particular Series of Senior Notes do not vote in favour of the acceleration of the Senior Notes of that Series.

If only certain Series of Senior Notes are accelerated, then the outstanding principal balance of those Series of Senior Notes will become immediately due and payable but the payment due dates of those Series of Senior Notes that have not been accelerated will not change. In this case, the application of available funds will continue as described under "Capital Markets Platform -- Payment Waterfalls Prior to Acceleration".

Where all Series of Senior Notes or only certain Series of Senior Notes are accelerated, available funds that would otherwise be used to pay the principal amount of subordinated indebtedness will be applied to repay principal of the accelerated Senior Notes. This could result in a holder of Senior Notes that have been accelerated receiving payment of principal sooner than expected. If a Series of Senior Notes has not been accelerated, the payment of principal on such Senior Notes should not occur earlier than expected as the payment due dates for such Senior Notes will not have been accelerated.

Where all Series of Senior Notes or only certain Series of Senior Notes are accelerated, available funds that would otherwise be used to pay the principal amount of the Senior Notes in accordance with the original repayment schedules of such Senior Notes may be applied to repay principal of the accelerated Senior Notes pari passu with the principal due on all outstanding Senior Notes (subject to the payment priority given to Warehouse Funding Obligations). If accelerated Senior Notes were not expected to be repaid before a particular Series of Senior Notes at the time the accelerated Senior Notes were issued, the acceleration of such Senior Notes could result in the holder of a particular Series of Senior Notes receiving payment of principal later than expected.

The Issuer may have a co-ownership interest in the Investment Asset with other Financing Entities.

The FHPA authorizes the establishment of one or more Financing Entities that may incur Funding Obligations for the purpose of acquiring an Investment Interest. The Master Trust Indenture does not contain any restrictions on the establishment of other Financing Entities or any restrictions on the transfer by the IESO of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset to other Financing Entities. If additional Funding Obligations are incurred by other Financing Entities to acquire an Investment Interest, Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected by or for the benefit of the Issuer will be prorated among all Investment Interest owners based on the respective amounts of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts invoiced and not yet paid. Any issuance of Funding Obligations by other Financing Entities could cause reductions or delays in payment on the Senior Notes.[~~37~~53]

If the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts and other funds held in the Issuer Accounts results in investment losses or the investments become illiquid, a holder of Senior Notes might receive payment of principal of and interest on the Senior Notes later than expected.

Funds held in the Issuer Accounts will be invested in Eligible Investments. Eligible Investments include, among other categories, money market funds having a rating in the highest investment category from each applicable Rating

[~~37~~53] Note: Consider explaining under this risk factor that the Investment Asset is a bundle of rights and interests held collectively by all investment interest owners.

Agency. Although investments in these money market funds have traditionally been viewed as highly liquid with a low probability of principal loss, illiquidity and principal losses have been experienced by investors in certain of these funds as a result of disruptions in the financial markets in recent years. If investment losses or illiquidity are experienced, a holder of Senior Notes might experience a delay in payments of principal and interest and a decrease in the value of their investment in the Senior Notes.

Servicing, Operating and Consumer Risks

Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of Electricity Vendors and the IESO.

The Issuer's receipt of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts, which will be used to make payments on the Senior Notes, will depend in part on the skill and diligence of Electricity Vendors and the IESO and their respective successors in performing their respective duties under the FHPA, the Regulations and, with respect to the IESO, the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement.

The FHPA, the Regulations and the Program Agreements impose new duties and obligations of the IESO and Electricity Vendors. There can be no assurances that the new duties and obligations of the IESO and the Electricity Vendors will be assumed and implemented without difficulty and in accordance with the provisions of the FHPA, the Regulations and the Program Agreements. If the IESO ceases to perform, or inadequately performs, its collection, remittance, forecasting and other functions under the terms of the FHPA, the Regulations and the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, it might be difficult to enforce these obligations against the IESO. While the Indenture Trustee has the right to replace the IESO, as servicer, on an Event of Default upon receipt of an Ordinary Resolution, it might be difficult to find a replacement for the IESO or a successor servicer. Also, any successor servicer might have less experience and ability than the IESO and might experience difficulties in collecting Clean Energy Adjustment amounts or forecasting consumption, resulting in delays or disruptions to the setting and collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment. Any successor servicer would likely charge fees for the provision of such services and such fees could be material.

If an Electricity Vendor or the IESO fails to collect or remit sufficient Clean Energy Adjustment amounts for any reason, then the IESO's payments to the Issuer in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustments might be delayed or reduced. In that event, payments on the Senior Notes might be delayed or reduced. In addition, any person into which the IESO may be merged, converted or amalgamated or that may succeed to the properties and assets of the IESO substantially as a whole will assume the role of servicer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, subject only to the satisfaction of the conditions set forth therein. These conditions do not include either the consent of holders of Senior Notes or satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition.

Payments on the Senior Notes depend on the performance of OPG as Financial Services Manager and as Manager of the Issuer.

The FHPA, the Regulations and the Program Agreements impose new duties and obligations of OPG, as Financial Services Manager and as Manager of the Issuer. There can be no assurances that the new duties and obligations of OPG will be assumed and implemented without difficulty and in accordance with the provisions of the FHPA, the Regulations and the Program Agreements. If OPG, as Financial Services Manager, ceases to perform, or inadequately performs, its statutory duties under the FHPA and the Regulations, including determining the Clean Energy Adjustment (inclusive of the True-Up Amount), the Indenture Trustee will have no right to replace OPG as Financial Services Manager. If OPG ceases to perform, or inadequately performs, its management duties under the Management Agreement, the Indenture Trustee has the right to replace the Manager on an Event of Default upon receipt of an Ordinary Resolution but it might be difficult to find a replacement for OPG or a successor manager. Also, any successor manager might have less experience and ability than OPG, resulting in delays or disruptions to the setting and collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment. Any successor manager would likely charge fees for the provision of such services and such fees could be materially higher than the fees charged by OPG.

Inaccurate consumption forecasting or unanticipated delinquencies or write-offs might reduce or delay scheduled payments on the Senior Notes.

Clean Energy Adjustment amounts will be calculated in part based upon a forecast of Specified Consumer usage to be newly developed by the IESO[, adjusted for expected billing lags and charge-offs] [including the effect of delinquencies and write-offs] [Confirm whether the IESO forecast takes into account items noted in square brackets.]. Under the Regulations, the IESO is required to provide to the OEB forecast information regarding electricity consumption of Specified Consumers. The amount and the rate of the Clean Energy Adjustment will depend in part on actual electricity usage and the amount of collections and write-offs for Specified Consumers.[38~~54~~] If the IESO or a successor inaccurately forecasts electricity consumption or if OPG uses inaccurate consumer delinquency or write-off data when setting or adjusting the Clean Energy Adjustment, there could be a shortfall or material delay in collections, which might result in missed or delayed payments of principal and interest on the Senior Notes.

Inaccurate forecasting of electricity consumption by the IESO might result from, among other things unanticipated weather, resulting in less electricity consumption than forecast; general economic conditions being worse than expected, causing Specified Consumers to reduce their electricity consumption; the occurrence of a natural disaster, wind storm or an act of terrorism, cyber-attack or other catastrophic event unexpectedly disrupting electrical service and reducing electricity consumption; unanticipated changes in the market structure of the electric industry; Specified Consumers unexpectedly ceasing business or departing from the Province of Ontario; dramatic and unexpected changes in energy prices resulting in decreased electricity consumption; Specified Consumers consuming less electricity than anticipated because of increased energy prices, unanticipated increases in conservation efforts or unanticipated increases in electricity consumption efficiency; differences or changes in forecasting methodology; or Specified Consumers switching to alternative sources of energy, including self-generation or co-generation of electric power in some cases without using Ontario's transmission or distribution system. Self-generators that receive no transmission or distribution service from the Province of Ontario are not liable for the Clean Energy Adjustment. Neither the FHPA nor the Regulations require exit fees to be charged to any Specified Consumers that might leave the grid to self-generate.

Inaccurate forecasting of delinquencies or write-offs by OPG could result from, among other things unexpected deterioration of the economy, the occurrence of a natural disaster, an act of war or terrorism or other catastrophic events causing greater write-offs than expected or forcing Electricity Vendors to grant additional payment relief to Specified Consumers; the failure of Electricity Vendors to submit accurate and timely information to the IESO regarding their collections and write-offs; an unexpected change in law that makes it more difficult for Electricity Vendors to terminate service to nonpaying Specified Consumers, or that requires Electricity Vendors to apply more lenient credit standards for Specified Consumers.

Changes to billing and collection practices may reduce the amount of funds available for payments on the Senior Notes.

The methodology for determining the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment invoiced to each Specified Consumer is specified in the FHPA and the Regulations. None of OPG, the IESO or any Electricity Vendor, as it performs its billing and collection functions on the Issuer's behalf, may change this methodology. However, subject to applicable law, tariff and regulatory requirements, billing and collection arrangements with each Specified Consumer may be changed in a manner that delays or reduces the payments to the Issuer in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment. For example, an Electricity Vendor's conditions of service may permit it to offer equal monthly billing plans to its consumers thereby delaying payments from one month to the next during the year or to enter into arrangements for the payment of arrears. In that event, collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment may be delayed or reduced until an adjustment is made.

Limits on rights to terminate service to Specified Consumers might make it more difficult to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment.

To the extent that Specified Consumers do not pay for their electricity service, Electricity Vendors will not be able to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment from these Specified Consumers. Electricity Vendors have the ability to terminate service for non-payment subject to the terms of their conditions of service, which conditions must be consistent with the OEB's rules regarding disconnection. Under OEB rules, Electricity Vendors are prohibited from disconnecting or threatening to disconnect homes for non-payment during the winter from November 15 to April 30 every year. Historical rates of non-payment are included in the calculations of the Clean Energy Adjustment, but increases in the rates of non-payment would reduce the Clean Energy Adjustment until it is adjusted through the True-up Amount in a subsequent Reference Period.

It might be difficult for the Issuer to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment from Specified Consumers

Under the FHPA, the Issuer may bring an action against a Specified Consumer for non-payment of the Clean Energy Adjustment, but only an Electricity Vendor may terminate service for failure to pay the Clean Energy Adjustment.[3955] The FHPA provides that partial payment of electricity invoices shall be allocated pro rata among the Clean Energy Adjustment and other charges on the invoice. Since the Issuer does not have the threat of termination of service available to enforce payment of the Clean Energy Adjustment, it would need to rely on the Electricity Vendor to threaten to terminate service for nonpayment of other portions of the electricity invoice. This inability might reduce the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

Indemnification obligations of OPG and the IESO are limited and might not be sufficient to protect the investments in the Senior Notes.

OPG will be obligated under the Management Agreement to indemnify the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, for itself and on behalf of the holders of Senior Notes and other creditors, only in specified circumstances. Likewise, the IESO will be obligated under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement and the Acknowledgement and Indemnity Agreement to indemnify the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, for itself and on behalf of the holders of Senior Notes and other creditors, only in specified circumstances.

Furthermore, neither OPG nor the IESO may have sufficient funds available to satisfy its indemnification obligations, and the amount of any indemnification paid by OPG or the IESO, as applicable, might not be sufficient for holders of Senior Notes to recover all of their investment in the Senior Notes. In addition, if OPG or the IESO becomes obligated to indemnify holders of Senior Notes, the ratings on the Senior Notes might be downgraded as a result of the circumstances causing the breach and the fact that holders of Senior Notes will be unsecured creditors of OPG or the IESO, as applicable, with respect to any of these indemnification amounts. Neither OPG nor the IESO will indemnify any person for any loss, damages, liability, obligation, claim, action, suit or payment resulting solely from a downgrade in the ratings on the Senior Notes, or for any consequential damages, including any loss of market value of the Senior Notes resulting from a default or a downgrade of the ratings of the Senior Notes.

Delinquent or partial payments of electricity bills may make payments on the Senior Notes occur later than expected.

The amount and the rate of collection of the Clean Energy Adjustment, including the True-up Amount, will impact whether there is a delay in the scheduled payments on the Senior Notes. If the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts are collected at a slower rate than expected, OPG might have to make adjustments to the Clean Energy Adjustment for a subsequent Reference Period through the True-Up Amount. If those adjustments are not timely and accurate, there may be a delay in payments of principal and interest and a decrease in the value of the Senior Notes.

Power outages could impair payment of the Senior Notes.

Ontario experiences seasonal conditions typical of southeastern Canada. Summers are usually hot with high temperatures in excess of 20°C. Winters include snow and icing conditions that can be damaging to overhead power lines. Transmission and/or distribution and generation facilities could be damaged depending on weather conditions and usage of electricity could be interrupted temporarily or for long periods of time, reducing the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts collected in one or more Reference Periods.

[3955] Note: Please confirm source/ conform to wording in FHPA.

Technological changes that make alternative energy sources more attractive in the future or significant population fluctuations may result in fewer Specified Consumers from whom to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment.

Technological developments and/or tax or other economic incentives might result in the introduction of economically attractive, more fuel-efficient, more environmentally-friendly and/or more cost-effective alternatives to purchasing electricity through Electricity Vendors for increasing numbers of Specified Consumers. Manufacturers of self-generation facilities may develop smaller-scale, more fuel-efficient on-site generating and/or storage units that can be cost-effective options for a greater number of Specified Consumers. Moreover, an increase in self-service power may result if extreme weather conditions result in regular shortages of grid-supplied energy or if other factors cause grid-supplied energy to be less reliable. Specified Consumers who self-generate their electricity may use it to offset, or eliminate, their consumption from the grid thereby reducing, or eliminating, the Clean Energy Adjustment amounts payable by such Specified Consumers. Technological developments might allow greater numbers of Specified Consumers to reduce or even altogether avoid the payment of Clean Energy Adjustment amounts under such provisions through on-site generation, including where coupled with on-site storage capacity. This might reduce the kilowatt-hours of electric energy delivered to Specified Consumers by means of an Electricity Vendor's system, thereby causing Clean Energy Adjustment charges to the remaining Specified Consumers to increase. Such increases may reduce the collectability of the Clean Energy Adjustment.

Unexpected significant population decreases in the Province of Ontario or Specified Consumers unexpectedly ceasing business or departing from the Province of Ontario may adversely affect the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment to be invoiced, collected and recovered from Specified Consumers. The decrease in the population of the Province of Ontario may result in fewer Specified Consumers from whom to collect the Clean Energy Adjustment. The increased impact on the remaining Specified Consumers could lead to increased potential consumer defaults and delays, billing lags and write-offs or variations in billing due to variations in electricity consumption.

Insolvency-Related Risks

If the Issuer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Indenture Trustee's ability to enforce security granted by the Issuer may be significantly impaired or delayed.

Trusts such as the Issuer ordinarily cannot seek protection under the principal Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws (other than a receivership). However, in view of the broad discretionary powers of courts under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the courts' inherent jurisdiction and otherwise, it is not possible to state with certainty that the Issuer could not become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws. If the Issuer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Indenture Trustee's ability to enforce security granted by the Issuer may be significantly impaired or delayed. It is not possible to predict how long payments under the Senior Notes could be delayed following commencement of a proceeding under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws by the Issuer or whether or when the Indenture Trustee would be able to enforce upon or dispose of the assets over which it holds a security interest. Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws also contemplate the granting of super priority security interests or charges (which could be in priority to the security of existing secured creditors) on the assets of the debtor company to secure the repayment of any amounts to be borrowed to facilitate the insolvency proceeding, any amounts owing for the fees and costs of professionals involved in the insolvency proceeding, obligations of directors of the company with respect to their statutory liabilities and sometimes other amounts.

Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws also contain provisions enabling an obligor to prepare and file a proposal or a plan of arrangement or reorganization for consideration by all or some of its creditors, to be voted on by the various classes of creditors affected thereby. Such a restructuring proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization, if accepted by the requisite majority of each class of affected creditors and if approved by the relevant Canadian court, would be binding on all creditors of the applicable obligor within the affected classes, including the Indenture Trustee and the Noteholders, whether or not the Indenture Trustee or any holders of Senior Notes votes in favour of the restructuring proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization. Such a proposal or plan of arrangement or reorganization may have the effect of compromising certain rights available to the Indenture Trustee and the holders of Senior Notes under the Master Trust Indenture or in respect of the collateral.

If the IESO were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the transfers between the IESO and the Issuer pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement may not be respected as true sales of the Investment Interest.

Ordinarily, the interests of the Issuer as transferee of the Investment Interest may be subordinate to statutory deemed trusts and other non-consensual liens, trusts and claims created or imposed by statute or rule of law on the property of the IESO arising prior to the time an Investment Interest is transferred to the Issuer, which could reduce the amounts that may be available to the Issuer and, consequently, the holders of Senior Notes. Section 27(3) of the FHPA provides that at the time of the transfer to a Financing Entity under the FHPA, such transfer shall be deemed to have been perfected, vested, valid and binding against the IESO and all other persons who have claims of any kind against the IESO. Section 27(4) of the FHPA provides that section 27(3) applies regardless of whether the persons who have claims have received notice of the transfer and the property rights and interests acquired by the transferee shall have priority over any liens in favour of those persons. However, in the event that the IESO becomes insolvent, its insolvency would be subject to federal bankruptcy and insolvency legislation and the effect of these provisions of the FHPA in such circumstances is untested. The IESO will treat the transactions described herein as a transfer of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer. Such transfers will be made in accordance with Section 26 of the FHPA. Section 27(1) of the FHPA provides that a transfer of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset under section 26 constitutes a valid and enforceable absolute assignment, conveyance and sale of the corresponding Investment Interest to the transferee. As a transfer, the Investment Interest would not form part of the assets of the IESO and would not be available to the creditors of the IESO. However, with respect to certain insolvency events relating to the IESO, it is possible that an insolvency administrator or a creditor of the IESO may attempt to argue that the transactions between the IESO and the Issuer are not true sales of the Investment Interest. This position, if accepted by a court applying federal bankruptcy and insolvency laws, could prevent timely or ultimate payment of amounts due to the Issuer and, consequently, due from the Issuer to holders of Senior Notes.

These risks are in addition to the insolvency risks of the IESO noted above under "Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset".

If the IESO or any Electricity Vendor were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, collections that have been commingled may be unrecoverable and the Issuer's ability to enforce its rights against the IESO may be significantly impaired or delayed.

While the IESO is the servicer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, collections held by the IESO are to be held by the IESO in a segregated account. Until Clean Energy Adjustments are remitted to the IESO by Electricity Vendors, amounts collected by the Electricity Vendors are to be held by Electricity Vendors in segregated accounts. If the IESO or any Electricity Vendor fails to hold collections in a segregated account, then to the extent that funds are commingled and used for the benefit of the IESO or such Electricity Vendor prior to making required deposits, in the event of the liquidation, insolvency, receivership or administration or other proceeding under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws of the IESO or the Electricity Vendor, the ability of the Issuer to enforce its rights to the collections in a timely manner may be adversely affected and collections that have been commingled may be unrecoverable. In the event of the insolvency of the IESO, the right of the Issuer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement to appoint a replacement servicer may be stayed or prevented.

These risks are in addition to the insolvency risks of the IESO noted above under "Risks Associated with the Unusual Nature of the Investment Asset".

If OPG were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Issuer's ability to enforce its rights against the Manager may be significantly impaired or delayed and the Issuer's assets and liabilities may be substantively consolidated with those of OPG.

Section 53.1 of the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario), as amended by the FHPA, provides that, regardless of whether a Financing Entity is or is not a subsidiary of OPG: (a) the assets and liabilities of the Financing Entity shall not form part of the assets and liabilities of OPG or any of its subsidiaries (excluding the Financing Entity if it is a subsidiary); and (b) the assets and liabilities of OPG or any of its subsidiaries (excluding the Financing Entity if it is a subsidiary) shall not form part of the assets and liabilities of the Financing Entity. However, in the event that OPG becomes insolvent, its insolvency would be subject to federal bankruptcy and insolvency legislation and the effect of these provisions of the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario), as amended by the ~~FHPA,~~Fair Hydro Act, 2017,[56] in such circumstances is untested. In particular, in the event of the liquidation, insolvency, receivership or administration or other proceeding under Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws of OPG, the ability of the Issuer to enforce certain of its rights in and to the Investment Interest in a timely manner may be adversely affected. Such affected rights may include the right to appoint a replacement Manager. It is possible that the creditors of OPG may attempt to substantively consolidate the assets and liabilities of OPG and the Issuer. The Issuer and OPG have taken steps to minimize this risk. However, no assurance can be given that, in the case of the insolvency of OPG, a court would not order that the Issuer's assets and liabilities be substantively consolidated with those of OPG. Such substantive consolidation would result in all creditors of OPG and the Issuer being paid out of a common pool of assets, with no distinction as to which assets are property of OPG and which assets are property of the Issuer, and could cause payment of the claims of the beneficial owners of the Senior Notes to be subject to substantial delay and to adjustment in timing and amount.

If the Issuer Trustee were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the assets and liabilities of the Issuer may be substantively consolidated with the Issuer Trustee.

In the case of the insolvency of the Issuer Trustee, it is possible that the creditors of the Issuer Trustee may attempt to argue that the assets of the Issuer are held by the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity (and not as trustee of the Issuer) and are to be available to the creditors of the Issuer Trustee. Assuming that the Issuer Trustee deals with the assets of the Issuer in accordance with the provisions of the Declaration of Trust, the assets of the Issuer would not constitute property of the Issuer Trustee available for distribution to the creditors of the Issuer Trustee. An insolvency administrator appointed with respect to the Issuer Trustee may be able to recover from the property of the Issuer a portion of its costs that are incurred until a replacement for the Issuer Trustee, as trustee of the Issuer, is appointed or pending any proceeding in respect of the property of the Issuer. Such costs may exceed the compensation provided for in the Declaration of Trust.

If a Specified Consumer were to become subject to Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws, the Issuer's ability to collect Clean Energy Adjustment amounts from such Specified Consumer may be adversely affected.

The application to a Specified Consumer of Canadian Insolvency and Restructuring Laws and related provincial laws could also affect the ability to collect the Clean Energy Adjustments due for the period prior to the insolvency. Federal bankruptcy laws would generally discharge bankrupt Specified Consumers who are individuals of their obligation to pay Clean Energy Adjustment amounts due for the period prior to the individual being discharged from bankruptcy.

If amounts in the Issuer Accounts for any Series are invested with entities that become subject to insolvency proceedings, the Issuer's ability to make payments to holders of Senior Notes may be adversely affected.

Amounts that are on deposit from time to time in the Issuer Accounts for any Series may be invested in Eligible Investments. If insolvency proceedings were to be commenced by or against any entity with which an Eligible Investment is made or which is an issuer, obligor or ~~guarantee~~guarantor of any Eligible Investment, the ability of the Indenture Trustee to enforce its rights in respect of any such Eligible Investment and the ability of the Issuer to make payments to holders of Senior Notes in a timely manner may be adversely affected. In order to reduce this risk, the Eligible Investments must satisfy certain ratings criteria. See "Rating Agency Condition".

Other Risks

The credit ratings are not an indication of the expected rate of payment of principal on the Senior Notes.

The Senior Notes will be rated by one or more established rating agencies. A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold the Senior Notes. The ratings merely analyze the probability that the Issuer will repay the total principal amount of each series of Senior Notes at its final principal payment date (which is later than the Principal Payment Date(s)) and will make timely interest payments. The ratings are not an indication that the rating agencies believe that principal payments are likely to be paid on time according to any expected sinking fund schedule. Thus, the [56] The Fair Hydro Act, 2017 (Ontario), which provided in Schedule 1 the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, amends two other statutes: the Electricity Act, 1998 (see section 43) and the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998 (see section 44).

Issuer might repay the principal of a holder of Senior Notes later than expected, which might materially reduce the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes.

If the ratings on the Senior Notes are withdrawn or revised downward, the value of a holder's investment in the Senior Notes may be adversely affected.

There is no assurance that any credit rating will remain in effect for any given period of time. The ratings on the Senior Notes may be withdrawn or revised downward at any time without notice, which may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Senior Notes. A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold the Senior Notes. The ratings merely analyze the probability that the Issuer will repay the total principal amount of each series of Senior Notes at its final principal payment date (which is later than the Principal Payment Date(s)) and will make timely interest payments. The ratings are not an indication that the rating agencies believe that principal payments are likely to be paid on time according to any expected sinking fund schedule. Ratings on the Senior Notes may be lowered, qualified or withdrawn at any time without notice.

The credit ratings of the IESO, OPG and the Province of Ontario might affect the market value of the Senior Notes.

The Senior Notes will not be insured or guaranteed by the Province of Ontario, IESO, OPG or any of their respective affiliates or any other person or entity, except that the Province of Ontario has agreed to provide a limited guarantee in respect of the Senior Notes following the occurrence of certain events. See "Change of Law Protection Agreement". Although neither the IESO nor OPG are obligors in respect of the Senior Notes, a downgrading of the current credit ratings of the IESO, OPG or the Province of Ontario might have an adverse effect on the market value of the Senior Notes, particularly, with respect to the IESO, during the Moratorium Period when no Clean Energy Adjustments are permitted to be collected from Specified Consumers. Credit ratings might change at any time. A rating agency has the authority to revise or withdraw its rating based solely upon its own judgment.

The absence of an established market for the Senior Notes might limit the ability to resell or refinance the Senior Notes.

There is no public market for the Senior Notes, and the Issuer does not intend to apply for a listing of the Senior Notes on any stock exchange. There can be no assurance as to the liquidity of the trading market for the Senior Notes or that a trading market for the Senior Notes will develop.

There is currently no secondary market for the Senior Notes. There can be no assurance that a secondary market will develop or, if a secondary market does develop, that it will provide holders of such Senior Notes with liquidity for their investment or that it will continue for the term of such Senior Notes. Accordingly, purchasers of the Senior Notes may be required to bear the financial risk of investing in the Senior Notes until the maturity date of the Senior Notes.

If an active market does develop for the Senior Notes, the market price on the Senior Notes will depend on many factors including, but not limited to, (i) the Issuer's credit rating and the credit rating of the Senior Notes; (ii) the prevailing interest rates being paid on similar securities; (iii) the Issuer's financial condition and future prospects; and (iv) the overall condition of the economy and the financial markets. The condition of the financial markets and prevailing interest rates have fluctuated in the past and are likely to fluctuate in the future. Fluctuations could have an adverse effect on the market price of the Senior Notes.

The Financial Services Manager has the ability to determine whether to refinance Senior Notes maturing after May 2024 through the issuance of another Series of Senior Notes. However, there can be no assurance that Senior Notes can be refinanced on or before their applicable Principal Payment Default Date.

Restrictions on resale might limit the ability to resell the Senior Notes.

The Senior Notes may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, in Canada or to or for the account of any Canadian resident except, in the case of sales made in any province of Canada, pursuant to an exemption from the prospectus requirements under applicable securities laws. The Issuer currently does not intend to file a prospectus or similar document with any securities regulatory authority in Canada qualifying the resale of the Senior Notes to the public in any province of Canada in connection with any Offering of Senior Notes. As a result, the Senior Notes purchased pursuant to this confidential shelf offering memorandum will be subject to restrictions on resale, and may only be resold if a further statutory exemption may be relied upon by the investor or if an appropriate discretionary order or consent is obtained pursuant to applicable securities laws. See "Restrictions on Resale".

RESTRICTIONS ON RESALE

The distribution of the Senior Notes in the provinces of Canada is being made on a private placement basis and is therefore exempt from the requirement that the Issuer prepare and file a prospectus with the relevant Canadian securities regulatory authorities. Accordingly, any resale of the Senior Notes must be made: (a) through an appropriately registered dealer or pursuant to an exemption from the dealer registration requirements of applicable provincial securities laws; and (b) in accordance with, or pursuant to an exemption from, the prospectus requirements of applicable provincial securities laws. These resale restrictions may in some circumstances apply to resales made outside of Canada. Purchasers are advised to seek legal advice prior to any resale of the Senior Notes.

Purchasers are advised that the Issuer does not intend to file a prospectus or similar document with any securities regulatory authority in Canada qualifying the resale of the Senior Notes to the public in any province of Canada in connection with any Offering.

Furthermore, each purchaser of Senior Notes, by its purchase thereof, will be deemed to have represented, acknowledged or confirmed, as the case may be, to the Issuer and any dealer who is involved in the sale of the Senior Notes to such purchaser that such purchaser understands that the Senior Notes are subject to transfer and resale restrictions in Canada and that the certificates representing the Senior Notes (or the relevant ownership statement under a direct registration system or other book-entry system) or other applicable document or notice (including this document) will bear or will notify the purchaser of the following legend:

> IN THE PROVINCE OF MANITOBA, UNLESS OTHERWISE PERMITTED UNDER APPLICABLE CANADIAN SECURITIES LAWS OR WITH THE PRIOR WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE APPLICABLE REGULATORS, THE HOLDER OF THIS SECURITY MUST NOT TRADE THE SECURITY BEFORE THE DATE THAT IS TWELVE MONTHS AND A DAY AFTER THE DATE THE PURCHASER ACQUIRED THE SECURITY."

The Issuer is not and does not intend to become a reporting issuer.

There is currently no secondary market for the Senior Notes. There can be no assurance that a secondary market will develop or, if a secondary market does develop, that it will provide holders of such Series of Senior Notes with liquidity for their investment or that it will continue for the life of such Senior Notes. Accordingly, purchasers of the Senior Notes may be required to bear the financial risk of investing in the Senior Notes until the maturity date.

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The Issuer is not a reporting issuer or the equivalent thereof under the securities legislation in any jurisdiction. Accordingly, the Issuer is not subject to the continuous reporting and disclosure requirements prescribed by such securities legislation. Therefore, there is no requirement that the Issuer comply with such requirements, including, without limitation, the requirements to provide prompt notification of material changes by way of press releases, to formally file disclosure documents with applicable securities regulatory authorities or to prepare and file annual audited financial statements or quarterly unaudited financial statements. However, the Issuer will provide audited annual financial statements and unaudited quarterly financial statements in accordance with the terms of the Master Trust Indenture. See "Description of Senior Notes — Reporting Requirements of Senior Notes".

STATUTORY RIGHTS OF ACTION

Securities legislation in certain of the provinces of Canada provides purchasers, in addition to any other rights they may have at law, with a remedy for rescission or damages where an offering memorandum or any amendment to it, and in some cases, advertising and sales literature used in connection therewith, contains a misrepresentation. These remedies, or notice with respect thereto, must be exercised or delivered, as the case may be, by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed, and are subject to the defences contained, in the applicable securities legislation. Purchasers should refer to the applicable provisions of the securities legislation of their province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal advisor. The following is a summary of the rights of rescission or rights to damages available to purchasers of the Senior Notes.

Rights for Purchasers in Ontario

Section 5.2 of Ontario Securities Commission Rule 45-501 — Ontario Prospectus and Registration Exemptions provides that when an offering memorandum, such as this confidential shelf offering memorandum, is delivered to an investor to whom securities are distributed in reliance upon the "accredited investor" prospectus exemption in section 73.3 of the Securities Act (Ontario) or a predecessor exemption to section 73.3 of the Securities Act (Ontario) the right of action referred to in section 130.1 of the Securities Act (Ontario) ("Section 130.1") is applicable, unless the prospective purchaser is:

(a) an association governed by the Cooperative Credit Associations Act (Canada) or a central cooperative credit society for which an order has been made under section 473(1) of that Act;

(b) a bank, loan corporation, trust company, trust corporation, insurance company, treasury branch, credit union, caisse populaire, financial services cooperative, or league that, in each case, is authorized by an enactment of Canada or a jurisdiction of Canada to carry on business in Canada or a jurisdiction of Canada;

(c) a Schedule III bank, meaning an authorized foreign bank named in Schedule III of the Bank Act (Canada);

(d) the Business Development Bank of Canada incorporated under the Business Development Bank of Canada Act (Canada); or

(e) a subsidiary of any person referred to in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) or (d), if the person owns all of the voting securities of the subsidiary, except the voting securities required by law to be owned by the directors of the subsidiary.

Section 130.1(1) provides such investors who purchase securities offered by an offering memorandum with a statutory right of action against the Issuer of securities for rescission or damages in the event that the offering memorandum and any amendment to it contains a "misrepresentation". The term "misrepresentation" is defined to mean an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make any statement not misleading in the light of the circumstances in which it was made. These remedies, or notice with respect to these remedies, must be exercised or delivered, as the case may be, by the purchaser within the time limits prescribed by applicable securities laws.

Where this confidential shelf offering memorandum is delivered to a prospective purchaser of Senior Notes in connection with a trade made in reliance on section 73.3 of the Securities Act (Ontario), and this document contains a misrepresentation, the purchaser will have, without regard to whether the purchaser relied on the misrepresentation, a statutory right of action against the Issuer for damages or, while still the owner of Senior Notes, for rescission, in which case, if the purchaser elects to exercise the right of rescission, the purchaser will have no right of action for damages, provided that the right of action for rescission will be exercisable by the purchaser only if the purchaser commences the action not more than 180 days after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action; or, in the case of any action other than an action for rescission, the earlier of: (i) 180 days after the plaintiff first had knowledge of the facts giving rise to the cause of action, or (ii) three years after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action.

The Issuer will not be liable for a misrepresentation if it proves that the purchaser purchased the Senior Notes with knowledge of the misrepresentation.

In an action for damages, the Issuer will not be liable for all or any portion of the damages that the Issuer proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the Senior Notes as a result of the misrepresentation relied upon.

In no case will the amount recoverable for the misrepresentation exceed the price at which the Senior Notes were offered.

The liability of all persons and companies referred to above is joint and several. The Issuer, however, shall not be liable where it is not receiving any proceeds from the distribution of the securities being distributed and the misrepresentation was not based on information provided by the Issuer, unless the misrepresentation, (a) was based on information that was previously publicly disclosed by the Issuer, (b) was a misrepresentation at the time of its previous public disclosure and (c) was not subsequently publicly corrected or superseded by the Issuer prior to the completion of the distribution of the securities being distributed.

The foregoing statutory right of action for rescission or damages conferred is in addition to and without derogation from any other right the purchaser may have at law.

This summary is subject to the express provisions of the Securities Act (Ontario) and the regulations and rules made under it, and prospective investors should refer to the complete text of those provisions.

Rights for Purchasers in Saskatchewan

Section 138 of The Securities Act, 1988 (Saskatchewan), as amended (the "Saskatchewan Act") provides that where an offering memorandum (such as this confidential shelf offering memorandum) or any amendment to it is sent or delivered to a purchaser and it contains a misrepresentation (as defined in the Saskatchewan Act), a purchaser who purchases a security covered by the offering memorandum or any amendment to it has, without regard to whether the purchaser relied on the misrepresentation, a right of action for rescission against the Issuer or a selling security holder on whose behalf the distribution is made or has a right of action for damages against:

(a) the Issuer or a selling security holder on whose behalf the distribution is made;

(b) every promoter and trustee of the Issuer or the selling security holder, as the case may be, at the time the offering memorandum or any amendment to it was sent or delivered;

(c) every person or company whose consent has been filed respecting the offering, but only with respect to reports, opinions or statements that have been made by them;

(d) every person who or company that, in addition to the persons or companies mentioned in (a) to (c) above, signed the offering memorandum or the amendment to the offering memorandum; and

(e) every person who or company that sells securities on behalf of the Issuer or selling security holder under the offering memorandum or amendment to the offering memorandum.

Such rights of rescission and damages are subject to certain limitations including the following:

(a) if the purchaser elects to exercise its right of rescission against the Issuer or selling security holder, it will have no right of action for damages against that party;

(b) in an action for damages, a defendant will not be liable for all or any portion of the damages that he, she or it proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the securities resulting from the misrepresentation relied on;

(c) no person or company, other than the Issuer or a selling security holder, will be liable for any part of the offering memorandum or any amendment to it not purporting to be made on the authority of an expert and not purporting to be a copy of, or an extract from, a report, opinion or statement of an expert, unless the person or company failed to conduct a reasonable investigation sufficient to provide reasonable grounds for a belief that there had been no misrepresentation or believed that there had been a misrepresentation;

(d) in no case will the amount recoverable exceed the price at which the securities were offered; and

(e) no person or company is liable in an action for rescission or damages if that person or company proves that the purchaser purchased the securities with knowledge of the misrepresentation.

In addition, no person or company, other than the Issuer or selling security holder, will be liable if the person or company proves that:

(a) the offering memorandum or any amendment to it was sent or delivered without the person's or company's knowledge or consent and that, on becoming aware of it being sent or delivered, that person or company immediately gave reasonable general notice that it was so sent or delivered; or

(b) with respect to any part of the offering memorandum or any amendment to it purporting to be made on the authority of an expert, or purporting to be a copy of, or an extract from, a report, an opinion or a statement of an expert, that person or company had no reasonable grounds to believe and did not believe that: (i) there had been a misrepresentation, or (ii) the part of the offering memorandum or any amendment to it did not fairly represent the report, opinion or statement of the expert, or was not a fair copy of, or an extract from, the report, opinion or statement of the expert.

Not all defences upon which the Issuer or others may rely are described herein. Please refer to the full text of the Saskatchewan Act for a complete listing.

The liability of all persons and companies referred to above is joint and several.

Similar rights of action for damages and rescission are provided in section 138.1 of the Saskatchewan Act in respect of a misrepresentation in advertising and sales literature disseminated in connection with an offering of securities.

Section 138.2 of the Saskatchewan Act also provides that, subject to certain limitations and defences, where an individual makes a verbal statement to a purchaser that contains a misrepresentation relating to the security purchased and the verbal statement is made either before or contemporaneously with the purchase of the security, the purchaser has, without regard to whether the purchaser relied on the misrepresentation, a right of action for damages against the individual who made the verbal statement.

Section 141(1) of the Saskatchewan Act provides a purchaser with the right to void the purchase agreement and to recover all money and other consideration paid by the purchaser for the securities if the securities are sold in contravention of the Saskatchewan Act, the regulations to the Saskatchewan Act or a decision of the Saskatchewan Financial Services Commission.

Section 141(2) of the Saskatchewan Act also provides a right of action for rescission or damages to a purchaser of securities to whom an offering memorandum or any amendment to it was not sent or delivered prior to or at the same time as the purchaser enters into an agreement to purchase the securities, as required by Section 80.1 of the Saskatchewan Act.

The rights of action for damages or rescission under the Saskatchewan Act are in addition to and do not derogate from any other right which a purchaser may have at law.

Section 147 of the Saskatchewan Act provides that no action will be commenced to enforce any of the foregoing rights more than:

(a) in the case of an action for rescission or cancellation, 180 days after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action; or

(b) in the case of any other action, other than an action for rescission or cancellation, the earlier of:

(i) one year after the plaintiff first had knowledge of the facts giving rise to the cause of action; or

(ii) six years after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action.

The Saskatchewan Act also provides that a purchaser who has received an amended offering memorandum delivered in accordance with subsection 80.1(3) of the Saskatchewan Act has a right to withdraw from the agreement to purchase the securities by delivering a notice to the person who or company that is selling the securities, indicating the purchaser's intention not to be bound by the purchase agreement, provided such notice is delivered by the purchaser within two business days of receiving the amended offering memorandum.

This summary is subject to the express provisions of the Saskatchewan Act and the regulations and rules made under it, and prospective investors should refer to the complete text of those provisions.

Rights for Purchasers in Nova Scotia

The right of action for rescission or damages described herein is conferred by section 138 of the Securities Act (Nova Scotia). Section 138 provides, in the relevant part, that in the event that this confidential shelf offering memorandum, together with any amendments hereto, or any advertising or sales literature (as defined in the Securities Act (Nova Scotia)) contains an untrue statement of material fact or omits to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary in order to make any statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances in which it was made (a "misrepresentation"), a purchaser of Senior Notes is deemed to have relied upon such misrepresentation if it was a misrepresentation at the time of purchase and has, subject to certain limitations and defences, a statutory right of action for damages against the Issuer, its trustees, any person who signed this confidential shelf offering memorandum, any selling security holder and the directors of any such selling security holder at the date of this confidential shelf offering memorandum or, alternatively, while still the owner of the Senior Notes, may elect instead to exercise a statutory right of rescission against the Issuer, in which case the purchaser will have no right of action for damages against any person listed above, including the Issuer, provided that, among other limitations:

(a) no action will be commenced to enforce the right of action for rescission or damages by a purchaser resident in Nova Scotia under Section 138 later than 120 days after the date payment was made for the Senior Notes (or after the date on which initial payment was made for the Senior Notes where payments subsequent to the initial payment are made pursuant to a contractual commitment assumed prior to, or concurrently with, the initial payment);

(b) no person will be liable if it proves that the purchaser purchased the Senior Notes with knowledge of the misrepresentation;

(c) no person or company, other than the Issuer, is liable under Section 138 if the person or company proves that:

(i) this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or any amendment hereto, was sent or delivered to the purchaser without the person's or company's knowledge or consent and that, on becoming aware of its delivery, the person or company gave reasonable general notice that it was delivered without the person's or company's knowledge or consent;

(ii) after delivery of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or the amendment hereto, and before the purchase of the Senior Notes by the purchaser, on becoming aware of any misrepresentation in this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or the amendment hereto, or any record incorporated or deemed incorporated by reference therein, the person or company withdrew the person's or company's consent to this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or amendment hereto, or such record, and gave reasonable general notice of the withdrawal and the reason for it; or

grounds to believe and did not believe that there had been a misrepresentation, or that the relevant part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or amendment hereto, or such record, did not fairly represent the report, opinion or statement of the expert, or was not a fair copy of, or extract from, the report, opinion or statement of the expert;

(d) no person or company, other than the Issuer, is liable under Section 138 with respect to any part of this confidential shelf offering memorandum, or amendment hereto, or any record incorporated or deemed incorporated by reference therein, not purporting to be made on the authority of an expert, or to be a copy of or an extract from, a report, opinion or statement of an expert, unless the person or company failed to conduct a reasonable investigation to provide reasonable grounds for a belief that there had been no misrepresentation, or believed that there had been a misrepresentation;

(e) in the case of an action for damages, no person will be liable for all or any portion of the damages that it proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the Senior Notes resulting from the misrepresentation; and

(f) in no case will the amount recoverable under Section 138 in any action exceed the price at which the Senior Notes were offered to the purchaser.

The liability of all persons or companies referred to above is joint and several with respect to the same cause of action. A defendant who is found liable to pay a sum in damages may recover a contribution, in whole or in part, from a person or company who is jointly and severally liable to make the same payment in the same cause of action unless, in all the circumstances of the case, the court is satisfied that it would not be just and equitable.

The foregoing statutory right of action for rescission or damages conferred by Section 138 of the Securities Act (Nova Scotia) is in addition to and without derogation from any other right or remedy available at law or otherwise to the purchaser. This summary is subject to the express provisions of the Securities Act (Nova Scotia) and the regulations and rules made under it, and prospective investors should refer to the complete text of those provisions may have at law.

Rights for Purchasers in New Brunswick

Section 2.1 of New Brunswick Securities Commission Rule 45-802 provides that the statutory rights of action in rescission or damages referred to in Section 150 of the Securities Act (New Brunswick) ("Section 150") apply to information relating to an offering memorandum, such as this confidential shelf offering memorandum, that is provided to a purchaser of securities in connection with a distribution made in reliance on the "accredited investor" prospectus exemption in Section 2.3 of NI 45-106. Section 150 provides investors who purchase securities offered for sale in reliance on an exemption from the prospectus requirements of the Securities Act (New Brunswick) with a statutory right of action for damages against (i) the Issuer; (ii) the selling security holder on whose behalf the distribution was made; (iii) every person who was a director of the Issuer as at the date of the offering memorandum; and (iv) every person who signed the offering memorandum in the event that an offering memorandum provided to such investor contains a "misrepresentation". Alternatively, if the investor purchased the securities from a person referred to in (i) or (ii) above, an investor may elect a right of rescission, in which case the investor shall have no right of action for damages. "Misrepresentation" means an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in the light of the circumstances in which it was made.

Where this confidential shelf offering memorandum is delivered to a prospective purchaser of Senior Notes in connection with a trade made in reliance on Section 2.3 of NI 45-106, and this document (including any documentation incorporated or deemed to be incorporated by reference) contains a misrepresentation, a purchaser who purchases the securities will be deemed to have relied on the misrepresentation and will have, subject to certain limitations and defences, a statutory right of action against the Issuer for damages or, while still the owner of Senior Notes, for rescission. If the purchaser elects to exercise the right of rescission, the purchaser will have no right of action for damages. The right of action for rescission will be exercisable by the purchaser only if the purchaser commences the action against the defendant, not more than 180 days after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action; or, in the case of any action other than an action for rescission, the earlier of: (i) one year after the plaintiff first had knowledge of the facts giving rise to the cause of action, or (ii) six years after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action.

No person other than the Issuer or the selling security holder is liable under Section 150 if the person proves that:

(a) the offering memorandum was delivered to the purchaser without the person's knowledge or consent and that, on becoming aware of its delivery, the person gave written notice to the Issuer that it was delivered without the person's knowledge or consent;

(b) upon becoming aware of a misrepresentation in the offering memorandum the person withdrew the person's consent to the offering memorandum and gave written notice to the Issuer of the withdrawal and the reason for the withdrawal; or

(c) with respect to any part of the offering memorandum purporting to be made on the authority of an expert or purporting to be a copy of, or an extract from, a report, opinion or statement of an expert, the person had no reasonable grounds to believe and did not believe there had been a misrepresentation or that the relevant part of the offering memorandum did not fairly represent the report, opinion or statement of the expert or was not a fair copy of, or extract from, the report, opinion or statement of the expert.

In addition, no person other than the Issuer or the selling security holder is liable under Section 150 with respect to any part of an offering memorandum not purporting to be made on the authority of an expert and not purporting to be a copy of, or an extract from, a report, opinion or statement of an expert unless (i) the person failed to conduct such reasonable investigations as to provide reasonable grounds for a belief that there had been no misrepresentation or (ii) the person believed that there had been misrepresentation.

The defendant will not be liable for a misrepresentation if it proves that the purchaser purchased the Senior Notes with knowledge of the misrepresentation.

In an action for damages, the defendant will not be liable for all or any portion of the damages that the defendant proves do not represent the depreciation in value of the Senior Notes as a result of the misrepresentation relied upon.

In no case will the amount recoverable for the misrepresentation exceed the price at which the Senior Notes were offered.

The liability of all persons referred to above is joint and several.

The foregoing statutory right of action for rescission or damages conferred is in addition to and without derogation from any other right the purchaser may have at law.

This summary is subject to the express provisions of the Securities Act (New Brunswick) and the regulations and rules made under it, and prospective investors should refer to the complete text of those provisions.
