6.7 No Liability for Failure to Exercise Remedies

The Secured Party and the Receiver shall not be liable or accountable to the Grantor or to any other person for any failure to exercise any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Agreement, and shall not be bound to commence, continue or defend proceedings for the purpose of preserving or protecting any rights of the Secured Party, the Receiver, the Grantor or any other party in respect of the same.

6.8 Proceeds of Disposition

All Moneys received by the Secured Party or by the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 shall be applied as follows:

(a) first, in payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the Secured Party in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement and in payment of all of the remuneration of the Receiver and all costs and expenses properly incurred by the Receiver in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement, including, without limitation, the remuneration, costs and expenses referred to in Section 6.5;

(b) second, in payment of all amounts of Money borrowed or advanced by either of the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to the powers set out in this Agreement and any interest thereon;

6.10 Restriction on Grantor

Upon the Secured Party taking possession of the Collateral or the appointment of a Receiver, all the powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor with respect to the Collateral shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be suspended unless specifically continued by the written consent of the Secured Party; however, all other powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor shall be unaffected by such events.

6.12 Care by the Secured Party

The Secured Party shall be deemed to have exercised reasonable care in the custody and preservation of any of the Collateral in the Secured Party's possession if it takes such action for that purpose as the Grantor requests in writing, but failure of the Secured Party to comply with any such request shall not be deemed to be (or to be evidence of) a failure to exercise reasonable care, and no failure of the Secured Party to preserve or protect any rights with respect to such Collateral against prior parties, or to do any act with respect to the preservation of such Collateral not so requested by the Grantor, shall be deemed a failure to exercise reasonable care in the custody or preservation of such Collateral.

Indenture Trustee deems sufficient; and the Indenture Trustee may in any instance require further proof with respect to any of the matters referred to in this Section 1.04.

(e) If the Issuer will solicit from the Noteholders any Action, the Issuer may, at its option, by an Issuer Certificate, fix in advance a record date for the determination of Noteholders entitled to give such Action, but the Issuer will have no obligation to do so. If the Issuer does not so fix a record date, such record date will be the later of 30 days before the first solicitation of such Action or the date of the most recent list of Noteholders furnished to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to Section 13.13 before such solicitation. Such Action may be given before or after the record date, but only the Noteholders of record at the close of business on the record date will be deemed to be Noteholders for the purposes of determining whether Noteholders of the requisite proportion of Outstanding Notes have authorized or agreed or consented to such Action, and for that purpose the Outstanding Notes will be computed as of the record date; provided that no such authorization, agreement or consent by the Noteholders on the record date will be deemed effective unless it will become effective pursuant to the provisions of this Indenture not later than 6 months after the record date.

(f) Any Action by a Noteholder will bind the holder of every Note issued upon the transfer thereof or in exchange therefor or in lieu thereof, in respect of anything done or suffered to be done by the Indenture Trustee or the Issuer in reliance thereon whether or not notation of such Action is made upon such Note.

(g) Without limiting the foregoing, a Noteholder entitled hereunder to take any Action hereunder with regard to any particular Note may do so with regard to all or any part of the principal amount of such Note or by one or more duly appointed agents each of which may do so pursuant to such appointment with regard to all or any part of such principal amount. Any notice given or Action taken by a Noteholder or its agents with regard to different parts of such principal amount pursuant to this paragraph shall have the same effect as if given or taken by separate Noteholders of each such different part.

(h) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, unless otherwise specified pursuant to Section 4.01 or pursuant to one or more Supplemental Indentures, a Noteholder, including a Depository that is the holder of a Global Note, may make, give or take, by a proxy or proxies duly appointed in writing, any Action provided in this Indenture to be made, given or taken by Noteholders, and a Depository that is the holder of a Global Note may provide its proxy or proxies to the beneficial owners of interests in or security entitlements to any such Global Note through such Depository's standing instructions and customary practices.

(i) The Issuer may fix a record date for the purpose of determining the Persons who are beneficial owners of interests in or security entitlements to any Global Note held by a Depository entitled under the procedures of such Depository to make, give or take, by a proxy or proxies duly appointed in writing, any Action provided in this Indenture to be made, given or taken by Noteholders. If such a record date is fixed, the Noteholders on such record date or their duly appointed proxy or proxies, and only such Persons, shall be entitled to make, give or take such Action, whether or not such Noteholders remain Noteholders after such record date. No such Action shall be valid or effective if made, given or taken more than 90 days after such record date.

1.05 Actions of Other Specified Creditors

Any Action provided by this Indenture to be given or taken by any Specified Creditor (other than Noteholders) may be embodied in and evidenced by one or more instruments of substantially similar tenor signed by such Specified Creditor in person or an agent duly appointed in writing. Proof of execution of any such instrument or of a writing appointing any such agent will be sufficient for any purpose of this Indenture and (subject to Section 9.01) conclusive in favour of the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer, if made in the manner provided in Section 1.04(b).

(b) The Indenture Trustee shall hold each item of the Collateral separate and apart from all other property held by the Indenture Trustee.

The Issuer also hereby ratifies the filing of any such financing statements (or amendments of financing statements) that were filed prior to the execution hereof.

(ii) The Issuer shall not change its name, its jurisdiction of formation or its type of organization unless it has first (A) made all filings and taken all actions in all relevant jurisdictions under the PPSA and other applicable law as are necessary to continue and maintain the first priority perfected Security Interest of the Indenture Trustee in the Collateral, and (B) delivered to the Indenture Trustee an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that all necessary filings have been made under the PPSA (and where applicable, the equivalent thereof) in all relevant jurisdictions as are necessary to continue and maintain the first priority perfected Security Interest of the Indenture Trustee in the Collateral.

2.04 Suits To Protect the Collateral

Subject to the provisions of this Indenture, the Indenture Trustee will have the power to institute and to maintain such suits and proceedings as it may deem expedient to prevent any impairment of the Collateral by any acts which may be unlawful or in violation of this Indenture, and such suits and proceedings as the Indenture Trustee may deem expedient to preserve or protect the interests of the Specified Creditors and the interests of the Indenture Trustee in the Collateral (including the power to institute and maintain suits or proceedings to restrain the enforcement of, or compliance with, any legislative or other governmental enactment, rule or order that may be unconstitutional or otherwise invalid if the enforcement of, or compliance with, such enactment, rule or order would impair the Security Interest or be prejudicial to the interests of the Specified Creditors or the Indenture Trustee).

2.05 Purchaser Protected

In no event will any purchaser in good faith of any property purported to be released hereunder be bound to ascertain the authority of the Indenture Trustee to execute the release or to inquire as to the satisfaction of any conditions required by the provisions hereof for the exercise of such authority or to see to the application of any consideration given by such purchaser or other transferee; nor will any purchaser or other transferee of any property or rights permitted by this Article II to be sold be under any obligation to ascertain or inquire into the authority of the Issuer to make any such sale or other transfer.

2.06 Powers Exercisable by Receiver or Indenture Trustee

In case the Collateral shall be in the possession of a receiver or trustee lawfully appointed, the powers conferred in this Article II upon the Issuer with respect to the release, sale or other disposition of such property may be exercised by such receiver or trustee, and an instrument signed by such receiver or trustee shall be deemed the equivalent of any similar instrument of the Issuer or of any officer or officers thereof required by the provisions of this Article II.

2.07 Determinations Relating to Collateral

In the event (i) the Indenture Trustee shall receive any written request from the Issuer for consent or approval with respect to any matter or thing relating to any Collateral or the Issuer's obligations with respect thereto, (ii) there shall be due to or from the Indenture Trustee under the provisions hereof any performance or the delivery of any instrument, or (iii) the Indenture Trustee shall become aware of any nonperformance by the Issuer of any covenant or any breach of any representation or warranty of the Issuer set forth in this Indenture, then, in each such event, the Indenture Trustee shall be entitled to hire experts, consultants, agents and attorneys to advise the Indenture Trustee on the manner in which the Indenture Trustee should respond to such request or render any requested performance or response to such nonperformance or breach (the expenses of which will be reimbursed to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to Section 9.05). The Indenture Trustee will be fully protected in the taking of any action recommended or approved by any such expert, consultant, agent or attorney, or agreed to by Extraordinary Resolution of Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations.

2.08 Satisfaction and Discharge of Indenture

(a) The Issuer may at any time, for the purpose of obtaining the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture with respect to any Series, Class or Tranche of Notes or for any other purpose, pay, or by an Issuer Certificate direct any Paying Agent to pay, to the Indenture Trustee all sums held in trust by the Issuer or such Paying Agent in respect of each and every Series, Class or Tranche of Notes as to which it seeks to discharge this Indenture or, if for any other purpose, all sums so held in trust by the Issuer in respect of all Notes, such sums to be held by the Indenture Trustee upon the same trusts as those upon which such sums were held by the Issuer or such Paying Agent; and, upon such payment by any Paying Agent to the Indenture Trustee, such Paying Agent will be released from all further liability with respect to such money.

(b) This Indenture will cease to be of further effect with respect to any Series, Class or Tranche of Notes (except as to any surviving rights of transfer or exchange of Notes of that Series, Class or Tranche expressly provided for herein or in the form of Note for that Series, Class or Tranche), and the Indenture Trustee, on demand of and at the expense of the Issuer, will execute proper instruments acknowledging satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture as to that Series, Class or Tranche, when:

(i) all Notes of that Series, Class or Tranche theretofore authenticated and delivered (other than (A) Notes of that Series, Class or Tranche which have been destroyed, lost or stolen and which have been replaced or paid as provided in Section 16.04(b), and (B) Notes of that Series, Class or Tranche for whose payment money has theretofore been deposited in trust or segregated and held in trust by the Issuer and thereafter repaid to the Issuer or discharged from that trust, as provided in Section 16.04(b)) have been delivered to the Indenture Trustee canceled or for cancellation;

(ii) the Issuer has paid or caused to be paid all other sums payable under the Indenture (including payments to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to Section 9.05) by the Issuer with respect to the Notes of that Series, Class or Tranche; and

(iii) the Issuer has delivered to the Indenture Trustee an Issuer Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel each stating that all conditions precedent herein provided for relating to the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture with respect to the Notes of that Series, Class or Tranche have been complied with.

Notwithstanding the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture with respect to any Series, Class or Tranche of Notes, the obligations of the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee with respect to that Series, Class or Tranche of Notes under Section 9.05 and the obligations of the Indenture Trustee under Sections 7.07 and 16.04(b) will survive such satisfaction and discharge.

2.09 Release of all Collateral

(a) Subject to the payment of its fees and expenses pursuant to Section 9.05, the Indenture Trustee shall, at the request of the Issuer or when otherwise required by the provisions of this Indenture, execute instruments to release Collateral from the Security Interest of this Indenture, or convey the Indenture Trustee's interest (which is held by the Indenture Trustee for the benefit of the Specified Creditors) in the same, in a manner and under circumstances which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Indenture. No party relying upon an instrument executed by the Indenture Trustee as provided in this Article II will be bound to ascertain the Indenture Trustee's authority, inquire into the satisfaction of any conditions precedent or see to the application of any funds.

(b) Upon delivery of an Officer's Certificate of the Issuer certifying that all Issuer Funding Obligations and all other Obligations Secured have been satisfied and discharged by complying with the provisions of this Article II and all applicable Program Agreements, the Indenture Trustee shall execute and deliver such releases, termination statements and other instruments (in recordable form, where appropriate) as the Issuer may reasonably request evidencing the termination of the Security Interest created by this Indenture.

(c) The Issuer and the Specified Creditors shall be entitled to receive at least 10 days' written notice when the Indenture Trustee proposes to take any action pursuant to clause (a), accompanied by copies of any instruments involved, and the Indenture Trustee shall also be entitled to require, as a condition to such action, an Opinion of Counsel, stating the legal effect of any such action, outlining the steps required to complete the same, and concluding that all conditions precedent to the taking of such action have been complied with. Counsel rendering any such opinion may rely, without independent investigation, on the accuracy and validity of any certificate or other instrument delivered to the Indenture Trustee in connection with any such action.

2.10 Certain Commercial Law Representations and Warranties

The Issuer hereby makes the following representations and warranties. Such representations and warranties shall survive until the termination of this Indenture. Such representations and warranties speak of the date that a Lien in the Collateral is granted to the Indenture Trustee and shall not be waived by any of the parties to this Indenture unless the Rating Agency Condition is satisfied.

(a) This Indenture constitutes the grant of a first priority perfected Lien by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee in the Collateral which, in the case of the existing Collateral and the proceeds thereof, is enforceable upon execution and delivery of this Indenture or, with respect to after-acquired property, as of the date such property is acquired, and which will be enforceable with respect to the Collateral hereafter and thereafter created and the proceeds thereof upon such creation. Upon the filing of the assignments, financing statements and continuation statements (and other documents where applicable) and, in the case of after-acquired Collateral and the proceeds thereof, upon its creation, the Indenture Trustee shall have a first priority perfected Lien in such property and proceeds.

(b) At the time of its grant of any Lien in the Collateral pursuant to this Indenture, the Issuer owned and had good and marketable title to such Collateral free and clear of any Lien of any other Person (other than Permitted Liens).

(c) The Issuer has caused the filing of all appropriate financing statements in the proper filing office in the Province of Ontario under applicable law in order to perfect the Security Interest.

(d) Other than the Security Interest, the Issuer has not pledged, assigned, sold, granted a Lien in, or otherwise conveyed, the Collateral. The Issuer has not authorized the filing of and is not aware of any financing statements against the Issuer that include a description of the Collateral other than any financing statement relating to the Security Interest or that has been terminated. The Issuer is not aware of any judgment or Tax lien filings against the Issuer.

(ii) The Issuer may at any time and in its sole discretion determine that the Notes of any Series, Class or Tranche or portion thereof issued or issuable in the form of one or more Global Notes will no longer be represented by such Global Note or Notes. In such event the Issuer will execute, and the Indenture Trustee, upon receipt of a written request by the Issuer for the authentication and delivery of individual Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche in exchange in whole or in part for such Global Note, will authenticate and deliver individual Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche of like tenor and terms in definitive form in an aggregate Stated Principal Amount equal to the Stated Principal Amount of such Global Note or Notes representing such Series, Class or Tranche or portion thereof in exchange for such Global Note or Notes.

(iii) If any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing with respect to such Global Notes, and Noteholders holding more than 50% of the unpaid Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of the Global Notes of that Series advise the Indenture Trustee and the Depository that a Global Note is no longer in the best interest of the Noteholders of that Series, the holders of Global Notes of that Series may exchange such Notes for individual Notes.

(iv) In any exchange provided for in any of the preceding three paragraphs, the Issuer will execute and the Indenture Trustee or its agent will authenticate and deliver individual Notes in definitive registered form in authorized denominations. Upon the exchange of the entire Stated Principal Amount of a Global Note for individual Notes, such Global Note will be canceled by the Indenture Trustee or its agent. Except as provided in the preceding paragraphs, Notes issued in exchange for a Global Note pursuant to this Section 3.04 will be registered in such names and in such authorized denominations as the Depository for such Global Note, pursuant to instructions from its direct or indirect participants or otherwise, will instruct the Indenture Trustee or the Note Registrar. The Indenture Trustee or the Note Registrar will deliver such Notes to the Persons in whose names such Notes are so registered.

3.05 Temporary Global Notes and Permanent Global Notes

(a) If specified in the Related Supplemental Indenture for any Tranche, all or any portion of a Global Note may initially be issued in the form of a single temporary global Bearer Note or Registered Note (the "Temporary Global Note"), without interest coupons, in the denomination of the entire aggregate principal amount of such Series, Class or Tranche and substantially in the form set forth in the exhibit with respect thereto attached to the Related Supplemental Indenture. The Temporary Global Note will be authenticated by the Indenture Trustee upon the same conditions, in substantially the same manner and with the same effect as the Notes in definitive form. The Temporary Global Note may be exchanged as described below or in the Related Supplemental Indenture for permanent global Bearer Notes or Registered Notes (the "Permanent Global Notes").

(b) Unless otherwise provided in the Related Supplemental Indenture, exchanges of beneficial interests in or security entitlements to Temporary Global Notes for beneficial interests in or security entitlements to Permanent Global Notes will be made as provided in this subsection 3.05(b). The Manager will, upon its determination of the date of completion of the distribution of the Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche, so advise the Indenture Trustee, the Issuer, the Foreign Depository, and each foreign clearing agency forthwith. Without unnecessary delay, but in any event not prior to the Exchange Date, the Issuer will execute and deliver to the Indenture Trustee at the office of its designated agent outside Canada and the United States Permanent Global Notes in bearer or registered form (as specified in the Related Supplemental Indenture) in an aggregate principal amount equal to the Outstanding Currency Specific Dollar Principal Amount of such Series, Class or Tranche of Notes. Bearer Notes so issued and delivered may have coupons attached. The Temporary Global Note may be exchanged for an equal aggregate principal amount of Permanent Global Notes only on or after the Exchange Date. A United States Person may exchange its beneficial interest in or security entitlement to the Temporary Global Note only for an equal aggregate principal amount of Permanent Global Notes in registered form bearing the applicable legend set forth in the form of Registered Note attached to the Related Supplemental Indenture and having a minimum denomination of 500,000 units of the applicable currency, which may be in temporary form if the Issuer so elects. The Issuer may waive the 500,000 minimum denomination requirement if it so elects. Upon any demand for exchange for Permanent Global Notes in accordance with this subsection 3.05(b), the Issuer will cause the Indenture Trustee to authenticate and deliver the Permanent Global Notes to the Noteholder (x) outside Canada or the United States, in the case of Bearer Notes and (y) according to the instructions of the Noteholder, in the case of Registered Notes. Upon receipt of such certification, the Indenture Trustee will cause the Temporary Global Note to be endorsed in accordance with subsection 3.05(d). Any exchange as provided in this Section 3.05 will be made free of charge to the Noteholders and the beneficial owners of the Temporary Global Note and to the beneficial owners of the Permanent Global Note issued in exchange, except that a Person receiving the Permanent Global Note must bear the cost of insurance, postage, transportation and the like in the event that such Person does not receive such Permanent Global Note in person at the offices of a foreign clearing agency or Foreign Depository.

(c) The delivery to the Indenture Trustee by a foreign clearing agency or Foreign Depository of any written statement referred to above may be relied upon by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee as conclusive evidence that a corresponding certification or certifications has or have been delivered to such foreign clearing agency or Foreign Depository pursuant to the terms of this Indenture.

(d) Upon any such exchange of all or a portion of the Temporary Global Note for a Permanent Global Note(s), such Temporary Global Note will be endorsed by or on behalf of the Indenture Trustee to reflect the reduction of its principal amount by an amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of such Permanent Global Note(s). Until so exchanged in full, such Temporary Global Note will in all respects be entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture as Permanent Global Notes authenticated and delivered hereunder except that the beneficial owners of such Temporary Global Note will not be entitled to receive payments of interest on the Notes until they have exchanged their beneficial interests in or security entitlements to such Temporary Global Note for Permanent Global Notes.

3.06 Beneficial Ownership of Global Notes

Until definitive Notes have been issued to the applicable Noteholders pursuant to Section 3.04 or as otherwise specified in any Related Supplemental Indenture:

(a) the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee may deal with the applicable clearing agency or Depository and the clearing agency's or Depository's participants for all purposes (including the making of distributions) as the authorized representatives of the respective Note Owners; and

(b) the rights of the respective Note Owners will be exercised only through the applicable clearing agency or Depository and the clearing agency's or Depository's participants and will be limited to those established by applicable law and agreements between such Note Owners and the clearing agency or Depository and/or the clearing agency's or Depository's participants. Pursuant to the operating rules of the applicable clearing agency, unless and until Notes in definitive form are issued pursuant to Section 3.04, the clearing agency or the Depository will make book-entry transfers among the clearing agency's or the Depository's participants and receive and transmit distributions of principal and interest on the related Notes to such clearing agency's or Depository's participants.

For purposes of any provision of this Indenture requiring or permitting Actions with the consent of, or at the direction of, Noteholders evidencing a specified percentage of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of Outstanding Notes, such direction or consent may be given by Note Owners (acting through the clearing agency and the clearing agency's participants) owning interests in or security entitlements to Notes evidencing the requisite percentage of principal amount of Notes.

3.07 Notices to Depository

Whenever any notice or other communication is required to be given to Noteholders with respect to which book-entry Notes have been issued, unless and until Notes in definitive form will have been issued to the related Note Owners, the Indenture Trustee will give all such notices and communications to the applicable clearing agency or Depository.

3.08 CUSIP Numbers

In issuing the Notes, the Issuer may use "CUSIP" numbers (if then generally in use), and, if so, the Indenture Trustee shall use such CUSIP numbers in notices of redemption as a convenience to Noteholders; provided that, subject to Section 9.01, any such notice may state that (a) no representation is made as to the correctness of such CUSIP numbers as printed on the related Notes or as contained in any notice of redemption, (b) reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers, if any, printed on the Notes and (c) any such redemption shall not be affected by any defect in or omission of such CUSIP numbers. The Issuer will promptly provide the Indenture Trustee with written notice of any change in the CUSIP numbers for any Outstanding Note.

(i) The Notes of each Series, Class or Tranche will be distinguished from the Notes of each other Series, Class or Tranche in such manner, reasonably satisfactory to the Indenture Trustee, as the Issuer may determine.

(j) Any terms or provisions in respect of the Notes of any Series, Class or Tranche issued under this Indenture may be determined pursuant to this Section 4.01 by providing in the Related Supplemental Indenture for the method by which such terms or provisions will be determined.

4.02 Denominations

The Notes of each Series, Class or Tranche will be issuable in such denominations and currency as will be provided in the provisions of this Indenture or in or pursuant to the Related Supplemental Indenture. In the absence of any such provisions with respect to the Registered Notes of any Series, Class or Tranche, the Registered Notes of that Series, Class or Tranche will be issued in denominations of 100,000 units of the applicable currency and integral multiples of 1,000. In the absence of any such provisions with respect to the Bearer Notes of any Series, Class or Tranche, the Bearer Notes of that Series, Class or Tranche will be issued in denominations of 1,000, 5,000, 50,000 and 100,000 units of the applicable currency.

4.03 Execution, Authentication and Delivery and Dating

(a) The Notes will be executed on behalf of the Issuer by a Responsible Officer of the Issuer. The signature of any Responsible Officer of the Issuer on the Notes may be manual or facsimile or may be given by other electronic means.

(b) Notes bearing the manual, facsimile or other electronic signatures of individuals who were at any time a Responsible Officer of the Issuer will bind the Issuer, notwithstanding that such individuals or any of them have ceased to hold such offices before the authentication and delivery of such Notes or did not hold such offices at the date of issuance of such Notes.

(c) At any time and from time to time after the execution and delivery of this Indenture, the Issuer may deliver Notes executed by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee for authentication; and the Indenture Trustee will, upon request by an Issuer Certificate, authenticate and deliver such Notes as provided in this Indenture and not otherwise.

(d) Before any such authentication and delivery, the Indenture Trustee will be entitled to receive, in addition to any Officer's Certificate and Opinion of Counsel required to be furnished to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to Section 1.02, the Issuer Certificate and any other opinion or certificate relating to the issuance of the Series, Class or Tranche of Notes required to be furnished pursuant to Section 3.02 or Article V.

(e) The Indenture Trustee will not be required to authenticate such Notes if the issue thereof will adversely affect the Indenture Trustee's own rights, duties or immunities under the Notes and this Indenture.

(f) Unless otherwise provided in the form of Note for any Series, Class or Tranche, all Notes will be dated the date of their authentication.

(g) No Note will be entitled to any benefit under this Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose unless there appears on such Note a Certificate of Authentication executed by the Indenture Trustee by manual signature of an authorized signatory, and such certificate upon any Note will be conclusive evidence, and the only evidence, that such Note has been duly authenticated and delivered hereunder.

4.04 Temporary Notes

(a) Pending the preparation of definitive Notes of any Series, Class or Tranche, the Issuer may execute, and, upon receipt of the documents required by Section 4.03, the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver, temporary Notes which are printed, lithographed, typewritten, mimeographed or otherwise produced, in any authorized denomination, substantially of the tenor of the definitive Notes in lieu of which they are issued and with such appropriate insertions, omissions, substitutions and other variations as the Issuer may determine, as evidenced by the Issuer's execution of such Notes.

(b) If temporary Notes of any Series, Class or Tranche are issued, the Issuer will cause definitive Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche to be prepared without unreasonable delay. After the preparation of definitive Notes, the temporary Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche will be exchangeable for definitive Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche upon surrender of the temporary Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche at the office or agency of the Issuer in a Place of Payment, without charge to the Noteholder; and upon surrender for cancellation of any one or more temporary Notes the Issuer will execute and the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver in exchange therefor a like Stated Principal Amount of definitive Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche of authorized denominations and of like tenor and terms. Until so exchanged the temporary Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche will in all respects be entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture as definitive Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche.

4.05 Registration, Transfer and Exchange

(a) The Issuer will keep or cause to be kept a register (herein sometimes referred to as the "Note Register") in which, subject to such reasonable regulations as it may prescribe, the Issuer will provide for the registration of Registered Notes, or of Registered Notes of a particular Series, Class or Tranche, and for transfers of Registered Notes or of Registered Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche. Any such register will be in written form or in any other form capable of being converted into written form within a reasonable time. At all reasonable times, the information contained in such register or registers will be available for inspection by the Indenture Trustee at the office or agency to be maintained by the Issuer as provided in Section 13.03.

(b) Subject to Section 3.04, upon surrender for transfer of any Registered Note of any Series, Class or Tranche at the office or agency of the Issuer in a Place of Payment, the Issuer will execute, and, upon receipt of such surrendered Note, the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver, in the name of the designated transferee or transferees, one or more new Registered Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche of any authorized denominations, of a like aggregate Stated Principal Amount, Principal Payment Due Date and Principal Payment Default Date and of like terms.

(c) Subject to Section 3.04, at the option of the Noteholder, Notes of any Series, Class or Tranche may be exchanged for other Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche of any authorized denominations, of a like aggregate Stated Principal Amount, Principal Payment Due Date and Principal Payment Default Date and of like terms, upon surrender of the Notes to be exchanged at the office or agency of the Issuer in a Place of Payment. Registered Notes, including Registered Notes received in exchange for Bearer Notes, may not be exchanged for Bearer Notes. At the option of the holder of a Bearer Note, subject to applicable laws and regulations, Bearer Notes may be exchanged for other Bearer Notes or Registered Notes (of the same Series, Class and Tranche of Notes) of authorized denominations of like aggregate fractional undivided interests in the Noteholders' interest, upon surrender of the Bearer Notes to be exchanged at an office or agency of the Note Registrar located outside Canada and the United States. Each Bearer Note surrendered pursuant to this Section 4.05 will have attached thereto all unmatured coupons; provided, however, that any Bearer Note, so surrendered after the close of business on the last day of the month preceding the relevant Payment Date need not have attached the coupon relating to such Payment Date. Whenever any Notes are so surrendered for exchange, the Issuer will execute, and the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver (in the case of Bearer Notes, outside Canada and the United States), the Notes which the Noteholders making the exchange are entitled to receive.

(d) All Notes issued upon any transfer or exchange of Notes will be the valid and legally binding obligations of the Issuer, evidencing the same debt, and entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture, as the Notes surrendered upon such transfer or exchange.

(e) Every Note presented or surrendered for transfer or exchange will (if so required by the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee) be duly endorsed, or be accompanied by a written instrument of transfer in form satisfactory to the Issuer and the Note Registrar duly executed, by the Noteholder or his attorney duly authorized in writing.

(f) Unless otherwise provided in the Note to be transferred or exchanged, no service charge will be made on any Noteholder for any transfer or exchange of Notes, but the Issuer may (unless otherwise provided in such Note) require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any Tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection with any transfer or exchange of Notes before the transfer or exchange will be complete, other than exchanges pursuant to Section 4.04 or Section 11.05 not involving any transfer.

(g) None of the Issuer, the Note Registrar or the Indenture Trustee shall be required (i) to issue, register the transfer of or exchange any Notes of any Series, Class or Tranche during a period beginning at the opening of business 15 days before the day of selection of Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche to be redeemed and ending at the close of business on (A) if Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche are issuable only as Registered Notes, the day of the mailing of the relevant notice of redemption of Registered Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche so selected for redemption or (B) if Notes of the Series, Class or Tranche are issuable as Bearer Notes, the day of the first publication of the relevant notice of redemption or, if Notes of the Series, Class or Tranche are also issuable as Registered Notes and there is no publication, the mailing of the relevant notice of redemption or (ii) to register the transfer or exchange of any Notes or portions thereof so selected for redemption.

(h) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the exchange of Bearer Notes into Registered Notes shall be subject to applicable laws and regulations in effect at the time of exchange; none of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or the Note Registrar shall exchange any Bearer Notes into Registered Notes if it has received an Opinion of Counsel that as a result of such exchanges the Issuer would suffer adverse consequences under the Canadian or United States federal income tax laws and regulations then in effect, or the income tax laws of the jurisdiction of the holder of the Bearer Note, and the Issuer has delivered to the Indenture Trustee an Issuer Certificate directing the Indenture Trustee not to make such exchanges unless and until the Indenture Trustee receives a subsequent Issuer Certificate to the contrary. The Issuer shall deliver copies of such Issuer Certificates to the Note Registrar.

(i) None of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee, any agent of the Indenture Trustee, any Paying Agent or the Note Registrar will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial ownership of a Global Note or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership.

(j) The Issuer initially appoints the Indenture Trustee to act as Note Registrar for the Registered Notes on its behalf. The Issuer may at any time and from time to time authorize any Person to act as Note Registrar in place of the Indenture Trustee with respect to any Series, Class or Tranche of Notes issued under this Indenture.

(k) Registration of transfer of Notes containing the following legend or to which the following legend is applicable:

THIS NOTE HAS NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE "SECURITIES

ACT"), OR ANY OTHER APPLICABLE U.S. STATE SECURITIES LAWS AND, ACCORDINGLY, MAY NOT BE OFFERED OR SOLD WITHIN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, U.S. PERSONS EXCEPT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TRUST INDENTURE AND THE INDENTURE SUPPLEMENT AND PURSUANT TO AN EXEMPTION FROM REGISTRATION UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OR PURSUANT TO AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT.

will be effected only if such transfer is made pursuant to an effective registration statement under the U.S. Securities Act, or is exempt from the registration requirements under the U.S. Securities Act. In the event that registration of a transfer is to be made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements under the U.S. Securities Act other than Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act or Rule 903 or Rule 904 of Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act, the transferor or the transferee will deliver, at its expense, to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, an investment letter from the transferee, substantially in a form appended to a Supplemental Indenture authorizing the applicable Series of Notes or such other form as the Issuer may determine, and no registration of transfer will be made until such letter is so delivered.

Notes issued upon registration or transfer of, or Notes issued in exchange for, Notes bearing the legend referred to above will also bear such legend and any other legends required by the Related Supplemental Indenture unless the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Note Registrar receive an Opinion of Counsel, satisfactory to each of them, to the effect that such legend may be removed.

Whenever a Note containing the legend referred to above is presented to the Note Registrar for registration of transfer, the Note Registrar will promptly seek instructions from the Issuer regarding such transfer and will be entitled to receive an Issuer Certificate prior to registering any such transfer. The Issuer hereby agrees to indemnify the Note Registrar and the Indenture Trustee and to hold each of them harmless against any loss, liability or expense incurred without negligence or bad faith on their part arising out of or in connection with actions taken or omitted by them in relation to any such instructions furnished pursuant to this clause. The Indenture Trustee shall have no obligation or duty to monitor, determine or inquire as to compliance with any restrictions on transfer imposed under this Indenture, the Related Supplemental Indenture, or under applicable law with respect to any transfer of any interest in any Note other than to require delivery of such certificates and other documentation or evidence as are expressly required by, and to do so if and when expressly required by the terms of, this Indenture, and to examine the same to determine substantial compliance as to form with the express requirements hereof.

(l) By acquiring a Note, each Noteholder that is a United States Person will be deemed to represent, warrant and covenant that either: (i) it is not acquiring the Note (or any interest therein) with the assets of a Benefit Plan or a governmental, church or non-U.S. plan that is subject to any federal, state, local or other non-U.S. law that is substantially similar to Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code ("Similar Law"); or (ii) (A) the Note is rated at least "BBB-" or its equivalent by a nationally recognized statistical rating agency at the time of purchase or transfer, and (B) the acquisition, holding and disposition of the Note will not give rise to a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code or a violation of any Similar Law.

4.06 Mutilated, Destroyed, Lost and Stolen Notes

(a) If (i) any mutilated Note (together, in the case of Bearer Notes, with all unmatured coupons, if any, appertaining thereto) is surrendered to the Indenture Trustee or the Note Registrar, or the Issuer, the Note Registrar or the Indenture Trustee receive evidence to their satisfaction of the destruction, loss or theft of any Note, and (ii) there is delivered to the Issuer, the Note Registrar or the Indenture Trustee such security or indemnity as may be required by them to save each of them harmless, then, in the absence of notice to the Issuer, the Note Registrar or the Indenture Trustee that such Note has been acquired by a protected purchaser, the Issuer will execute and upon its request the Indenture Trustee will authenticate and deliver (in the case of Bearer Notes, outside the United States), in exchange for or in lieu of any such mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Note, a new Note of like tenor, Series, Class or Tranche, Principal Payment Due Date, Principal Payment Default Date and Stated Principal Amount, bearing a number not contemporaneously Outstanding.

(b) In case any such mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Note has become or is about to become due and payable, the Issuer in its discretion may, instead of issuing a new Note, pay such Note.

(c) Upon the issuance of any new Note under this Section 4.06, the Issuer may require the payment of a sum sufficient to cover any Tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in relation thereto and any other expenses (including the fees and expenses of the Indenture Trustee) connected therewith.

(d) Every new Note issued pursuant to this Section 4.06 in lieu of any destroyed, lost or stolen Note will constitute an original additional contractual obligation of the Issuer, whether or not the destroyed, lost or stolen Note will be at any time enforceable by anyone, and will be entitled to all the benefits of this Indenture equally and proportionately with any and all other Notes of the same Series, Class or Tranche duly issued hereunder.

(e) The provisions of this Section 4.06 are exclusive and will preclude (to the extent lawful) all other rights and remedies with respect to the replacement or payment of mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Notes.

4.07 Persons Entitled to Payment

(a) Unless otherwise provided with respect to such Note pursuant to Section 4.01, interest payable on any Registered Note will be paid to the Person in whose name that Note (or one or more Predecessor Notes) is registered at the close of business on the most recent Record Date and interest payable on any Bearer Note will be paid to the bearer of that Note (or the applicable coupon).

(b) Subject to clause (a), each Note delivered under this Indenture upon transfer of or in exchange for or in lieu of any other Note will carry the rights to interest accrued or principal accreted and unpaid, and to accrue or accrete, which were carried by such other Note.

(c) Title to any Bearer Note, including any coupons appertaining thereto, shall pass by delivery. The Issuer, the Indenture Trustee, the Manager and any agent of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or the Manager may treat the Person who is proved to be the owner of such Note pursuant to subsection 1.04(c) as the owner of such Note for the purpose of receiving payment of principal of and (subject to this Section 4.07) interest on such Note and for all other purposes whatsoever, whether or not such Note be overdue, and none of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee, the Manager or any agent of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or the Manager will be affected by notice to the contrary.

(d) Delivery of a Note to the Paying Agent by the holder of such Note shall, upon payment thereof, be a good discharge to the Issuer of all obligations evidenced by such Note. The Paying Agent shall not be bound to enquire into the title of any such Noteholder, save as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction or as required by statute, nor shall it be bound to see to the execution of any trust affecting the ownership of any Note or be affected by notice of any equity that may be subsisting in respect thereof.

(e) In the case of the death of one or more joint registered owners, the principal money of and interest, if any, on a Note may be paid to the survivor or survivors of such registered Noteholders whose receipt thereof, accompanied by the delivery of such Note, shall constitute a valid discharge to the Issuer and the Paying Agent.

(f) Any payment of principal or interest on any Note which is due on a day other than a Business Day shall be payable on the next succeeding Business Day without adjustment for interest thereon and such payment shall be deemed to have been made with the same force and effect as if made on the due date.

(g) Upon the Paying Agent's reasonable request therefor, the Issuer will (i) provide the Paying Agent with any information in its possession or (ii) assist the Paying Agent (to the extent necessary and it is commercially reasonable for the Issuer to do so) to obtain information, in each case, to the extent such information is required by the Paying Agent to comply with its tax reporting and withholding obligations under applicable law with respect to payments to be made to Specified Creditors

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein but subject to Section 8.13:

(i) amounts on deposit in the Refinancing Account may only be withdrawn from the Refinancing Account for the purpose of repaying the principal amount of Issuer Funding Obligations which are due and payable and interest thereon; and

(ii) amounts on deposit in an Issuer Account established solely for the benefit of one or more Series, Classes or Tranches of Issuer Funding Obligations may only be withdrawn from such Issuer Account for the purpose for which such Issuer Account was established and allocated only to those Specified Creditors for whom such Issuer Account was established.

7.06 Payments to be Held in Trust

If, notwithstanding Sections 7.04 and 8.13, any payment on Obligations Secured shall be received at any time by any Specified Creditor, other than in accordance with this Indenture, then the funds received in respect of such payment shall be held by such Specified Creditor in trust for the Issuer and the other Specified Creditors and such Specified Creditor shall forthwith remit to the Indenture Trustee such funds.

7.07 Application of Trust Money

All money and obligations deposited with the Indenture Trustee pursuant to Section 7.01 or Section 7.03 and all money received by the Indenture Trustee in respect of such obligations will be held in trust and applied by it, in accordance with the provisions of the Program Agreements in respect of which it was deposited and this Indenture, to the payment, either directly or through any Paying Agent (including the Issuer acting as its own Paying Agent) as the Indenture Trustee, at the direction of the Manager, may determine, to the Persons entitled thereto, of the principal, interest, fees and other amounts for whose payment that money and obligations have been deposited with or received by the Indenture Trustee. Money held by the Indenture Trustee in trust hereunder need not be segregated from other funds except to the extent required by this Indenture or by applicable law. The Indenture Trustee will be under no liability for interest on any money received by it hereunder except as otherwise agreed with the Issuer.

EVENTS OF DEFAULT AND REMEDIES[4]

8.01 Events of Default

"Event of Default," wherever used herein, means any one of the following events (whatever the reason for such Event of Default and whether it will be voluntary or involuntary or be effected by operation of law or pursuant to any judgment, decree or order of any court or any order, rule or regulation of any Governmental Authority):

(a) a default by the Issuer in the payment of any interest on any Controlling Class Obligations when such interest becomes due and payable, and continuance of such default for a period of 65 days following the date on which such interest became due and payable;

(b) a default by the Issuer in the payment of any principal of any Controlling Class Obligations at its Principal Payment Default Date;

(c) any representation or warranty contained in Section 12.01 proves to be incorrect in any material respect when made and such incorrect representation or warranty if capable of being remedied by the Issuer, has not been remedied for a period of 90 days after notice thereof has been given, by registered or certified mail, to the Issuer by the Indenture Trustee or to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee by Debtholders holding at least 25% of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of

all Controlling Class Obligations, a written notice specifying such default or breach and requesting it to be remedied and stating that such notice is a "Notice of Default" hereunder and, as a result of such default, the interests of such Debtholders are materially and adversely affected and continue to be materially and adversely affected during the 90-day period;

(d) a default in the performance, or breach, of any covenant of the Issuer in this Indenture in respect of any Controlling Class Obligations (other than an agreement, covenant or warranty a default in the performance of which or the breach of which is elsewhere specifically dealt with in this Section 8.01), all of such covenants in this Indenture which are not expressly stated to be for the benefit of a particular Series of Issuer Funding Obligations being deemed to be in respect of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations for this purpose, and continuance of such default or breach for a period of 90 days after notice thereof has been given, by registered or certified mail, to the Issuer by the Indenture Trustee or to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee by Debtholders holding at least 25% of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of all Controlling Class Obligations, a written notice specifying such default or breach and requesting it to be remedied and stating that such notice is a "Notice of Default" hereunder and, as a result of such default, the interests of such Debtholders are materially and adversely affected and continue to be materially and adversely affected during the 90-day period;

(e) an Insolvency Event in respect of the Issuer;

(f) the Change of Law Protection Agreement ceases to be in full force and effect against the Province and if the Province does not, within 90 days of receipt of notice of such agreement not being in full force and effect, cause such agreement to be in full force and effect or replace such agreement with a new agreement that is in form and substance satisfactory to Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations, acting reasonably, pursuant to an Ordinary Resolution;

(g) the validity of the Change of Law Protection Agreement or the applicability thereof to the Province or to any Controlling Class Obligations or any other obligations purported to be secured thereby or any material part thereof shall be disaffirmed in writing by or on behalf of the Province; or

(h) any additional event of default specified in a Funding Obligation Agreement in respect of Controlling Class Obligations.

For greater certainty, failure to pay amounts owing pursuant to a Derivative Agreement shall not constitute an Event of Default.

8.02 Acceleration of Maturity; Rescission and Annulment

(a) If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default described in clause (e), (f) or (g) of Section 8.01) occurs and is continuing, then and in each and every such case, unless the principal of all the Controlling Class Obligations shall have already become due and payable, either the Indenture Trustee or Debtholders holding not less than 50% of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of all Controlling Class Obligations (treated as one class), by notice in writing to the Issuer (and to the Indenture Trustee if given by such Debtholders), may declare the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of all Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations) and all interest accrued or principal accreted and unpaid (if any) thereon to be due and payable immediately, and upon any such declaration the same will become and will be immediately due and payable, notwithstanding anything in this Indenture or any Funding Obligation Agreement to the contrary.

(b) If an Event of Default described in clause (e), (f) or (g) of Section 8.01 occurs and is continuing, then all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations) will automatically be and become immediately due and payable by the Issuer, without notice or demand to any Person, and the Issuer will automatically and immediately be obligated to pay off the Issuer Funding Obligations.

(c) At any time after such a declaration of acceleration has been made or an automatic acceleration has occurred with respect to the Issuer Funding Obligations (other than Derivative Funding Obligations) and before a judgment or decree for payment of the money due has been obtained by the Indenture Trustee as hereinafter provided in this Article VIII, Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations may, by Extraordinary Resolution, rescind and annul such declaration and its consequences if:

(i) the Issuer has paid or deposited with the Indenture Trustee a sum sufficient to pay (A) all overdue installments of interest on the Controlling Class Obligations, (B) the principal of any Controlling Class Obligations which have become due otherwise than by such declaration of acceleration, and interest thereon at the rate or rates prescribed therefor by the terms of the Related Funding Obligation Agreements, to the extent that payment of such interest is lawful, (C) interest upon overdue installments of interest at the rate or rates prescribed therefor by the terms of the Related Funding Obligation Agreements, to the extent that payment of such interest is lawful, and (D) all sums paid by the Indenture Trustee hereunder and the reasonable compensation, expenses and disbursements of the Indenture Trustee, its agents and counsel and all other amounts due to the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.05; and

(ii) all Events of Default other than the nonpayment of the principal of the Controlling Class Obligations which has become due solely by such acceleration, have been cured or waived as provided in Section 8.03.

(d) If, at any time, any Event of Default capable of being remedied has been remedied by the Issuer to the satisfaction of the Indenture Trustee: (i) the Security Interest will no longer be or be deemed to be enforceable by reason of such Event of Default; (ii) any rights which had become vested in the Indenture Trustee by virtue thereof will be and be deemed to be cancelled as fully and to the same extent as though no such Event of Default had occurred; and (iii) the Indenture Trustee will, or will instruct any receiver appointed pursuant to this Indenture to restore to the Issuer any Collateral in the possession of the Indenture Trustee or receiver, as the case may be.

(e) No such rescission will affect any subsequent default or impair any right consequent thereon.

8.03 Waiver of Past Defaults

Subject to Section 8.02(c), Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations may, by Ordinary Resolution, waive any past default hereunder and its consequences. Upon any such waiver, such default will cease to exist, and any Event of Default arising therefrom will be deemed to have been cured, for every purpose of this Indenture; but no such waiver will extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereon.

8.04 Notice of Defaults

(a) Within 90 days after the occurrence of any Event of Default of which the Indenture Trustee has received written notice:

(i) the Indenture Trustee will transmit by mail to all Registered Noteholders, as their names and addresses appear in the Note Register, notice of such default;

(ii) the Indenture Trustee will notify all holders of Bearer Notes by publication of notice of such default in an Authorized Newspaper, or as otherwise provided in the Related Supplemental Indenture;

(iii) the Indenture Trustee will give prompt written notification thereof to the other Debtholders and all other Specified Creditors; and

(iv) the Indenture Trustee will give prompt written notification thereof to the Rating Agencies, unless such default will have been cured or waived; provided, however, that, except in the case of a default in the payment of the principal of or interest on any Issuer Funding Obligations, the Indenture Trustee will be protected in withholding such notice if and so long as a Responsible Officer of the Indenture Trustee in good faith determines that the withholding of such notice is in the interests of the Specified Creditors.

(b) When such notice of an occurrence of an Event of Default has been given and the Event of Default is thereafter cured, notice that the Event of Default is no longer continuing shall be given by the Indenture Trustee to Persons to whom notice was sent pursuant to Section 8.04(a) within a reasonable time, but not exceeding 30 days in any event, after the Indenture Trustee receives notice from the applicable Debtholders that the Event of Default has been cured.

8.05 Remedies Generally

Subject to subsections 8.02(c) and (d), and Section 8.03, if, with respect to any Controlling Class Obligations, such Controlling Class Obligation has become due and payable pursuant to Section 8.02 and the Issuer has failed to pay such Controlling Class Obligation, the Indenture Trustee (subject, however, to compliance with the provisions of Section 9.02(d) with respect to the giving of indemnity and funds) may proceed to realize upon the Security Interest and to enforce the rights of the Indenture Trustee and of the Specified Creditors to whom Obligations Secured are owed by (i) application to any court of competent jurisdiction for an order of sequestration and payment of amounts in respect of clean energy adjustments, collections or remittances in accordance with the Act, (ii) possession of the Collateral, (iii) appointment of a receiver with respect to the Collateral, (iv) proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a receiver or for sale of the Collateral or any part thereof, or for foreclosure, (v) subject to Section 10.02, exercise any of the rights of the Issuer under any of the Program Agreements, including the right to replace the Manager or the Servicer in accordance with Section 8.10, or (vi) any other action, suit, remedy or proceeding authorized or permitted by this Indenture or by applicable law or by equity.

8.06 Default Interest and Expenses

The Issuer covenants that if:

(a) the Issuer defaults in the payment of interest on any Series of Issuer Funding Obligations when such interest becomes due and payable and such default continues for a period of 65 days following the date on which such interest became due and payable, or

(b) the Issuer defaults in the payment of the principal amount of any Series of Issuer Funding Obligations on the Principal Payment Default Date thereof;

the Issuer will, upon demand of the Indenture Trustee, pay (subject to the allocation provided in this Article VIII and any Related Funding Obligation Agreement) to the Indenture Trustee, for the benefit of the Debtholders of any such Issuer Funding Obligations, the whole amount then due and payable on any such Issuer Funding Obligations for principal and interest, with interest, to the extent that payment of such interest will be legally enforceable, upon the overdue principal and upon overdue installments of interest, (i) in the case of interest-bearing Issuer Funding Obligations, at the rate of interest applicable to the principal amount thereof, unless otherwise specified in the Related Funding Obligation Agreement; and (ii) in the case of Discount Notes, as specified in the Related Supplemental Indenture, and in addition thereto, will pay such further amount as will be sufficient to cover the costs and expenses of collection, including the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Indenture Trustee, its agents and counsel and all other amounts due to the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.05.

If the Issuer fails to pay such amounts forthwith upon such demand, the Indenture Trustee may, if the Issuer Funding Obligations have been accelerated in accordance with Section 8.02, take immediate steps to enforce the Security Interest, including instituting, in its own name and as trustee of an express trust, a judicial proceeding seeking the appointment of a receiver or a judicial proceeding for the collection of the sums so due and unpaid, and may directly prosecute such proceeding to judgment or final decree, and the Indenture Trustee may enforce the same against the Issuer and collect the money adjudged or decreed to be payable in the manner provided by applicable law out of the Collateral, wherever situated.

8.07 Indenture Trustee May File Proofs of Claim

In case of the pendency of any receivership, insolvency, liquidation, bankruptcy or other similar proceeding relative to the Issuer or the property of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee (irrespective of whether the principal of the Issuer Funding Obligations will then be due and payable as therein expressed or by declaration or otherwise) will be entitled and empowered by intervention in such proceeding or otherwise:

(a) to file and prove a claim for the whole amount of principal, interest, fees and other amounts owing and unpaid in respect of the Issuer Funding Obligations and to file such other papers or documents as may be necessary and advisable in order to have the claims of the Indenture Trustee (including any claim for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Indenture Trustee, its agents and counsel and all other amounts due to the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.05) and of the Specified Creditors allowed in such judicial proceeding, and

(b) to collect and receive any funds or other property payable or deliverable on any such claims and to distribute the same;

and any receiver, assignee, trustee, liquidator or other similar official in any such proceeding is hereby authorized by each Specified Creditor to make such payment to the Indenture Trustee, and in the event that the Indenture Trustee will consent to the making of such payments directly to the Specified Creditors, to pay to the Indenture Trustee any amount due to it for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Indenture Trustee, its agents and counsel, and any other amounts due to the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.05.

Nothing herein contained will be deemed to authorize the Indenture Trustee to authorize or consent to or accept or adopt on behalf of any Specified Creditor any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Issuer Funding Obligations or the rights of any Specified Creditors, or to authorize the Indenture Trustee to vote in respect of the claim of any Specified Creditor in any such proceeding.

8.08 Indenture Trustee May Enforce Claims Without Possession of Notes

All rights of action and claims under this Indenture or the Notes of any Series, Class or Tranche may be prosecuted and enforced by the Indenture Trustee without the possession of any of the Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche or the production thereof in any proceeding relating thereto, and any such proceeding instituted by the Indenture Trustee will be brought in its own name as trustee of an express trust.

8.09 Indenture Trustee May Elect to Hold the Collateral

Following an acceleration of Issuer Funding Obligations in accordance with Section 8.02, the Indenture Trustee may elect to continue to hold the Collateral and apply distributions on the Collateral in accordance with the distribution provisions of Section 8.13.

8.10 Termination by Indenture Trustee of Manager and Servicer

Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, the Indenture Trustee shall have the right to (and, upon receipt of an Extraordinary Resolution of Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations to that effect, shall) terminate the appointment of the then existing Manager under the Management Agreement and/or the Servicer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, and appoint new Persons under such agreements in accordance with such direction, provided that the Issuer shall have the right to reinstate any appointee under such agreements at such time as the Event of Default is no longer continuing.

8.11 Control by Debtholders

Subject to Section 10.02(b), Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations will, by Ordinary Resolution, have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Indenture Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Indenture Trustee with respect to all Issuer Funding Obligations, provided that:

(a) the Indenture Trustee will have the right to decline to follow any such direction if the Indenture Trustee, being advised by counsel, determines that the action so directed may not lawfully be taken or would conflict with this Indenture, or if the Indenture Trustee in good faith determines that the proceedings so directed would involve it in personal liability or be unjustly prejudicial to the Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations not taking part in such direction; and

(b) the Indenture Trustee may take any other action permitted hereunder deemed proper by the Indenture Trustee which is not inconsistent with such direction.

8.12 Limitation on Suits

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, no Specified Creditor will have any right to institute any proceeding, judicial or otherwise, with respect to this Indenture, or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee or similar official, or for any other remedy hereunder, unless:

(a) the Issuer or a Debtholder has previously given written notice to the Indenture Trustee of a continuing Event of Default;

(b) Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations, by way of Ordinary Resolution, have made written request to the Indenture Trustee to institute proceedings in respect of such Event of Default in the name of the Indenture Trustee hereunder;

(c) such Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations have offered to the Indenture Trustee (when so requested by the Indenture Trustee) indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it against the costs, expenses and liabilities to be incurred in compliance with such request; and

(d) the Indenture Trustee, for 60 days after the Indenture Trustee has received such notice, request and offer of indemnity has failed to institute any such proceeding;

it being understood and intended that no one or more Specified Creditors will have any right in any manner whatsoever by virtue of, or by availing of, any provision of this Indenture to affect, disturb or prejudice the rights of any other Specified Creditor, or to obtain or to seek to obtain priority or preference over any other Specified Creditor or to enforce any right under this Indenture, except in the manner herein provided and for the benefit of all Specified Creditors.

8.13 Application of Money Following an Event of Default

Subject to the following paragraph, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default which has been accelerated in accordance with Section 8.02, any money or other property standing in each Issuer Account or otherwise received by the Indenture Trustee pursuant to this Article VIII will be applied in the order of priority specified in this Section 8.13, pro rata in proportion to the claims represented by each subclause, except as otherwise specifically provided below:

(a) First, to (A) the payment or remittance of all Taxes exigible for which a Governmental Authority is given priority over the Specified Creditors under the laws of the applicable jurisdiction; and then to (B) the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer Trustee in respect of the amount of fees, expenses and reimbursements owing, up to a maximum aggregate amount (without duplication of amounts previously paid in respect of such fees, expenses, reimbursements and indemnified claims) of [■ percent (■%)][5] of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of all Issuer Funding Obligations at such time;

(b) [Second, to Debtholders, on a pro rata basis, in respect of all interest accrued and unpaid, if any, and fees and other amounts (other than principal) due and payable on the Senior Funding Obligations in respect of Warehouse Facility Agreements;

(c) Third, to Debtholders, on a pro rata basis, in respect of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Senior Funding Obligations in respect of Warehouse Facility Agreements until such amount has been paid in full;][6]

(d) Fourth, pari passu, (A) to Debtholders, on a pro rata basis, in respect of all interest accrued and unpaid, if any, and fees and other amounts (other than principal) due and payable on the Senior Funding Obligations that are not in respect of Warehouse Facility Agreements, and (B) to Derivative Counterparties, on a pro rata basis, all Derivative Funding Obligations payable other than Termination Payments;

[5] To be confirmed.

[6] Subject to ongoing discussion.

(e) Fifth, pari passu, (A) to Debtholders, on a pro rata basis, in respect of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Senior Funding Obligations that are not in respect of Warehouse Facility Agreements until such amount has been paid in full, and (B) to Derivative Counterparties, on a pro rata basis, any Termination Payment where the Derivative Counterparty is not the Defaulting Party or the sole Affected Party;

(f) Sixth, to the Manager in respect of all fees, expenses, reimbursement and indemnity amounts owing;

(g) Seventh, to the payment or remittance of all Taxes exigible and not previously paid pursuant to clause (a);

(h) Eighth, (A) to the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer Trustee, in each case, in respect of the amount of any fees, expenses, reimbursements and indemnity amounts owing and not previously paid pursuant to clause (a); and then (B) to other service providers, in each case, in respect of the amount of any fees, expenses, reimbursement and indemnity amounts owing; including for each referenced party in subclauses (A) and (B), any amounts payable to their respective Affiliates under the terms of any relevant indemnity, with funds being distributed pro rata in proportion to the claims represented by each of subclauses (A) and (B), respectively;

(i) Ninth, to Debtholders, on a pro rata basis, in respect of all interest accrued and unpaid, if any, and fees and other amounts (other than principal) due and payable on the Subordinated Funding Obligations;

(j) Tenth, to Debtholders, on a pro rata basis, in respect of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Subordinated Funding Obligations until such amount has been paid in full;

(l) Twelfth, to Debtholders, on a pro rata basis, in respect of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations until such amount has been paid in full;

(m) Thirteenth, to each Derivative Counterparty, on a pro rata basis, any Termination Payment where the Derivative Counterparty is the Defaulting Party or the sole Affected Party; and

(n) Fourteenth, to the Issuer or as the Issuer otherwise directs.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, amounts on deposit in an Issuer Account established solely for the benefit of one or more Series, Classes or Tranches of Issuer Funding Obligations (which, for greater certainty, shall not include the Refinancing Account) shall first be used to satisfy all obligations owing to those Specified Creditors for whom such Issuer Account was established. If any amounts remain following such application, such amounts shall be applied in accordance with the priorities set out above.

8.14 Limited Recourse

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture to the contrary, the obligation to pay principal of or interest on any Issuer Funding Obligation or any other amount payable to any Specified Creditor will be without recourse to the Indenture Trustee, the Issuer Trustee, the Manager or any Affiliate, officer, employee, member or director of any of them, and the satisfaction of the obligation of the Issuer to pay principal of or interest on any Issuer Funding Obligation or any other amount payable to any Specified Creditor will be subject to the allocation and payment provisions of this Indenture and any Related Funding Obligation Agreement, and limited to amounts available from the Collateral.

(b) No recourse may be taken, directly or indirectly, with respect to the obligations of the Issuer under the Issuer Funding Obligations or under this Indenture, or any certificate or other writing delivered in connection herewith or therewith, against (i) the Issuer Trustee in its individual capacity, (ii) any owner of a beneficial interest in the Issuer or (iii) any partner, owner, beneficiary, agent, officer, director, employee or agent of the Issuer Trustee in its individual capacity, any holder of a beneficial interest in the Issuer or the Issuer Trustee or of any successor or assign of the Issuer Trustee in its individual capacity, except as any such Person may have expressly agreed (it being understood that the Issuer Trustee has no such obligations in its individual capacity).

(c) Under no circumstances shall the Manager or any of its Affiliates be deemed an obligor or guarantor or otherwise deemed to be responsible for payment from its own funds of principal, interest, dividends or other amounts due on the Collateral, the Issuer Funding Obligations or any other Obligations Secured.

8.15 Restoration of Rights and Remedies

If the Indenture Trustee or any Specified Creditor (to the extent and in the manner provided for in Section 8.12) has instituted any proceeding to enforce any right or remedy under this Indenture and such proceeding has been discontinued or abandoned for any reason, then and in every such case the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Specified Creditors will, subject to any determination in such proceeding, be restored severally and respectively to their former positions hereunder, and thereafter all rights and remedies of the Indenture Trustee and the Specified Creditors will continue as though no such proceeding had been instituted.

8.16 Rights and Remedies Cumulative

No right or remedy herein conferred upon or reserved to the Indenture Trustee or to the Specified Creditors is intended to be exclusive of any other right or remedy, and every right and remedy will, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be cumulative and in addition to every other right and remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or otherwise. The assertion or employment of any right or remedy hereunder, or otherwise, will not prevent the concurrent assertion or employment of any other appropriate right or remedy.

8.17 Delay or Omission Not Waiver

No delay or omission of the Indenture Trustee or of any Specified Creditor to exercise any right or remedy accruing upon any Event of Default will impair any such right or remedy or constitute a waiver of any such Event of Default or an acquiescence therein. Every right and remedy given by this Article VIII or by applicable law to the Indenture Trustee or to the Specified Creditors may be exercised from time to time, and as often as may be deemed expedient, by the Indenture Trustee or by the Specified Creditors, as the case may be.

8.18 Waiver of Stay or Extension Laws

The Issuer covenants (to the extent that it may lawfully do so) that it will not at any time insist upon, or plead, or in any manner whatsoever claim or take the benefit or advantage of, any stay or extension law wherever enacted, now or at any time hereafter in force, which may affect the covenants or the performance of this Indenture; and the Issuer (to the extent that it may lawfully do so) hereby expressly waives all benefit or advantage of any such law, and covenants that it will not hinder, delay or impede the execution of any power herein granted to the Indenture Trustee, but will suffer and permit the execution of every such power as though no such law had been enacted.

8.19 Indenture Trustee Appointed Attorney

The Issuer irrevocably constitutes and appoints the Indenture Trustee and any officer or employee thereof, with full power of substitution, as its true and lawful attorney coupled with an interest with full power and authority in the name of the Issuer or in its own name, in its discretion, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default, for the purpose of carrying out the terms of this Indenture to take all appropriate action and to execute any and all documents and instruments which may be necessary or desirable to accomplish the purposes hereof, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, hereby gives the Indenture Trustee the power and right on behalf of the Issuer, without notice to or assent by the Issuer, to the extent permitted by applicable law, to do the following:

(a) to ask for, demand, sue for, collect and receive all and any monies due or becoming due with respect to the Collateral;

(b) to receive, take, endorse, assign and deliver any and all cheques, notes, drafts, acceptances, documents and other negotiable and non-negotiable instruments, documents and chattel paper taken or received by the Indenture Trustee in connection therewith and herewith; and

(c) to commence, file, prosecute, defend, settle, compromise or adjust any claim, suit, action or proceeding with respect to the Collateral.

8.20 Disclaimer of Marshalling

In the event that the Security Interest shall become enforceable and the Indenture Trustee shall have determined or become bound to enforce the same, the Issuer covenants not to invoke the doctrine of marshalling or any other equitable principle for the purpose of requiring the Indenture Trustee to realize or to have realized on any particular asset forming part of the Collateral.

ARTICLE IX
THE INDENTURE TRUSTEE

9.01 Certain Duties and Responsibilities

(a) The Indenture Trustee undertakes to perform such duties and only such duties as are specifically set forth in this Indenture with respect to the Obligations Secured, and no implied covenants or obligations will be read into this Indenture against the Indenture Trustee.

(b) In the exercise of the rights and duties prescribed or conferred by the terms of this Indenture, the Indenture Trustee will act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Specified Creditors as a whole and exercise that degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent trustee would exercise in comparable circumstances.

(c) In the absence of bad faith on its part, the Indenture Trustee may, with respect to any Obligations Secured, conclusively rely, as to the truth of the statements and the correctness of the opinions expressed therein, upon certificates or opinions furnished to the Indenture Trustee and conforming to the requirements of this Indenture; but in the case of any such certificates or opinions which by any provision hereof are specifically required to be furnished to the Indenture Trustee, the Indenture Trustee will be under a duty to examine the same to determine whether or not they substantially conform to the requirements of this Indenture (but need not confirm or investigate the accuracy of any mathematical calculations or other facts stated therein).

(d) No provision of this Indenture will be construed to relieve the Indenture Trustee from liability for its own negligent action, its own negligent failure to act, or its own willful misconduct, except that:

(i) this clause (d) will not be construed to limit the effect of subsection 9.01(a);

(ii) the Indenture Trustee will not be liable for any error of judgment made in good faith by a Responsible Officer of the Indenture Trustee, unless it will be proved that the Indenture Trustee was negligent in ascertaining the pertinent facts;

(iii) the Indenture Trustee will not be liable with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in good faith if so directed by Extraordinary

Resolution, relating to the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Indenture Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred upon the Indenture Trustee, under this Indenture with respect to the Obligations Secured; and

(iv) no provision of this Indenture will require the Indenture Trustee to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of any of its duties hereunder, or in the exercise of any of its rights or powers.

(e) Whether or not therein expressly so provided, every provision of this Indenture relating to the conduct or affecting the liability of or affording protection to the Indenture Trustee will be subject to the provisions of this Section 9.01.

9.02 Certain Rights of Indenture Trustee

Except as otherwise provided in Section 9.01:

(a) the Indenture Trustee may conclusively rely and will be protected in acting or refraining from acting upon any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, direction, consent, order, bond, debenture or other paper or document (whether in its original, facsimile or other electronic form) believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties;

(b) whenever in the administration of this Indenture the Indenture Trustee will deem it desirable that a matter be proved or established before taking, suffering or omitting any action hereunder, the Indenture Trustee (unless other evidence be herein specifically prescribed) may, in the absence of bad faith on its part, rely upon an Officer's Certificate;

(c) the Indenture Trustee may consult with counsel of its own selection and the advice of such counsel or any Opinion of Counsel will be full and complete authorization and protection in respect of any action taken, suffered or omitted by it hereunder in good faith and in reliance thereon;

(d) the Indenture Trustee will be under no obligation to exercise any of the rights or powers vested in it by this Indenture at the request or direction of any of the Specified Creditors pursuant to this Indenture, unless such Specified Creditors shall have offered to the Indenture Trustee security or indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it against the costs, expenses and liabilities which might be incurred by it in compliance with such request or direction;

(e) the Indenture Trustee will not be bound to make any investigation into the facts or matters stated in any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, direction, consent, order, bond, debenture or other paper or document, but the Indenture Trustee, in its discretion, may make such further inquiry or investigation into such facts or matters as it may see fit, and, if the

Indenture Trustee will determine to make such further inquiry or investigation, it will be entitled to examine the books, records and premises of the Issuer, personally or by agent or attorney;

(f) the Indenture Trustee may execute any of the trusts or powers hereunder or perform any duties hereunder either directly or by or through agents or attorneys and the Indenture Trustee will not be responsible for any misconduct or negligence on the part of any agent or attorney appointed with due care by it hereunder;

(g) the Indenture Trustee will not be responsible for filing any financing statements or continuation statements in connection with the Obligations Secured or the Security Interest, but will cooperate with the Issuer in connection with the filing of such financing statements or amendments to such financing statements;

(h) the Indenture Trustee shall not be deemed to have notice of any default (including any Servicer Default or Event of Default) unless a Responsible Officer of the Indenture Trustee has actual knowledge thereof or unless written notice of any event which is in fact such a default is received by the Indenture Trustee at the Corporate Trust Office of the Indenture Trustee, and such notice references the Issuer Funding Obligations and this Indenture;

(i) the rights, privileges, protections, immunities and benefits given to the Indenture Trustee, including, without limitation, its right to be indemnified, are extended to, and shall be enforceable by, the Indenture Trustee in each of its capacities hereunder, and each agent, custodian and other person employed to act hereunder;

(j) the Indenture Trustee shall not be liable for any action taken, suffered or omitted to be taken by it in good faith and reasonably believed by it to be authorized or within the discretion or rights or powers conferred upon it by this Indenture;

(k) the Indenture Trustee shall be entitled to and may rely absolutely upon the Payment Instruction and the Indenture Trustee will have no obligation to calculate any amount due or owing or to be allocated as provided in this Indenture, including interest or principal for any Issuer Funding Obligations;

(l) the Indenture Trustee will be entitled to rely and act upon any direction, order, instruction, notice or communication provided to it under this Indenture which is sent to it by Electronic Methods. The Indenture Trustee shall have no liability for any losses, liabilities, costs or expenses incurred by it as a result of such reliance upon or compliance with such instructions or directions. The Issuer agrees: (i) to assume all risks arising out of the use of such Electronic Methods to submit instructions and directions to the Indenture Trustee, including without limitation the risk of the Indenture Trustee acting on unauthorized instructions, and the risk of interception and misuse by third parties; (ii) that it is fully informed of the protections and risks associated with the various methods of transmitting instructions to the Indenture Trustee and that there may be more secure methods of transmitting instructions than the method(s) selected by the Issuer; and (iii) that the security procedures (if any) to be followed in connection with its transmission of instructions provide to it a commercially reasonable degree of protection in light of its particular needs and circumstances; and

(m) the Indenture Trustee will not be liable for any consequential, punitive or special damages.

9.03 Not Responsible for Recitals or Issuer Funding Obligations

The recitals contained herein and in the Funding Obligation Agreements, except the Certificates of Authentication, will be taken as the statements of the Issuer, and the Indenture Trustee assumes no responsibility for their correctness. The Indenture Trustee makes no representations as to the validity or sufficiency of this Indenture or of the Funding Obligation Agreements. The Indenture Trustee will not be accountable for the use or application by the Issuer of Notes, Borrowings or the proceeds thereof.

9.04 May Hold Notes

The Indenture Trustee, the Issuer Trustee, any Paying Agent, the Note Registrar, the Manager or any other agent of the Issuer, in its individual or any other capacity, may become the owner or pledgee of Notes and, subject to subsection 9.07(e) and applicable legislation, may otherwise deal with the Issuer with the same rights it would have if it were not Indenture Trustee, Issuer Trustee, Paying Agent, Note Registrar, Manager or such other agent.

9.05 Compensation and Reimbursement; Limit on Compensation Reimbursement and Indemnity

(a) The Issuer agrees:

(i) to pay to the Indenture Trustee from time to time reasonable compensation (or, for so long as [Indenture Trustee] is the Indenture Trustee, such amount as has been mutually agreed upon in writing) for all services rendered by it hereunder (which compensation will not be limited by any provision of law in regard to the compensation of a trustee of an express trust);

(ii) except as otherwise expressly provided herein, to reimburse the Indenture Trustee upon its request for all reasonable expenses, disbursements and advances incurred or made by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with any provision of this Indenture (including the reasonable compensation and the reasonable expenses and disbursements of its agents and counsel), except any such expense, disbursement or advance as may be attributable to its own negligence or bad faith; and

(iii) to indemnify the Indenture Trustee for, and to hold it harmless against, any and all loss, liability, expense, claim, damage or injury incurred without negligence or bad faith on its part, arising out of or in connection with the acceptance or administration of the trusts hereunder, including the costs and expenses of defending itself against any claim or liability (whether asserted by the Issuer, any Specified Creditor or any other Person) in connection with the exercise or performance of any of its powers or duties hereunder.

The Indenture Trustee will have no recourse to any asset of the Issuer other than funds available pursuant to Section 7.04 or 8.13, or to any Person other than the Issuer.

(b) This Section 9.05 will survive the termination of this Indenture and the resignation or replacement of the Indenture Trustee under Section 9.07.

9.06 Corporate Indenture Trustee Required; Eligibility

There will at all times be an Indenture Trustee hereunder which will be either a bank, a trust company or a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of Canada or of any province or territory thereof, authorized under such laws to carry on a trust business as contemplated hereby in each of the provinces and territories of Canada. The Issuer may not, nor may any Person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the Issuer, serve as Indenture Trustee. If at any time the Indenture Trustee will cease to be eligible in accordance with the provisions of this Section 9.06, it will resign immediately in the manner and with the effect hereinafter specified in this Article IX.

9.07 Resignation and Removal; Appointment of Successor

(a) No resignation or removal of the Indenture Trustee and no appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee pursuant to this Article IX will become effective until the acceptance of appointment by the successor Indenture Trustee under Section 9.08.

(b) The Indenture Trustee may resign at any time by giving written notice thereof to the Issuer. If an instrument of acceptance by a successor Indenture Trustee shall not have been delivered to the Indenture Trustee within 30 days after the giving of such notice of resignation, the resigning Indenture Trustee may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee.

(c) The Indenture Trustee may be removed at any time by Ordinary Resolution of the Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations delivered to the Indenture Trustee and to the Issuer. If an instrument of acceptance by a successor Indenture Trustee shall not have been delivered to the Indenture Trustee within 30 days after the giving of such notice of removal, the Indenture Trustee being removed may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee.

(d) If at any time:

(i) the Indenture Trustee ceases to be eligible under Section 9.06 and fails to resign after written request therefor by the Issuer or by any Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations, or

(ii) the Indenture Trustee becomes incapable of acting, or

(iii) the Indenture Trustee is adjudged bankrupt or insolvent or a receiver of the Indenture Trustee or of its property is appointed, or any public officer takes charge or control of the Indenture Trustee or of its property or affairs for the purpose of rehabilitation, conservation or liquidation, then, in any such case, (A) the Issuer may remove the Indenture Trustee, or (B) subject to Article XI, any Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations who has been a bona fide Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations for at least six (6) months may, on behalf of itself and all other Debtholders, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Indenture Trustee and the appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee.

(e) The Indenture Trustee shall resign if a material conflict of interest arises in its role as a trustee under this Indenture that is not eliminated within 90 days after the Indenture Trustee becomes aware that it has such a material conflict of interest. Forthwith after the Indenture Trustee becomes aware that it has a material conflict of interest, it shall provide the Issuer with written notice of the nature of that conflict. If, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection 9.07(e), the Indenture Trustee has such a material conflict of interest, the validity and enforceability of this Indenture and of the Funding Obligation Agreements shall not be affected in any manner whatsoever by reason only of the existence of such material conflict of interest. If the Indenture Trustee contravenes the foregoing provisions of this subsection 9.07(e), any interested Person may apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for an order that the Indenture Trustee be replaced as trustee hereunder. The Indenture Trustee represents to the Issuer that at the time of the execution and delivery hereof no material conflict of interest exists in the Indenture Trustee's role as a fiduciary hereunder.

(f) If the Indenture Trustee resigns, is removed or becomes incapable of acting, or if a vacancy shall occur in the office of the Indenture Trustee for any cause, the Issuer will promptly appoint a successor Indenture Trustee. If, within one (1) year after such resignation, removal or incapacity, or the occurrence of such vacancy, a successor Indenture Trustee is appointed by Ordinary Resolution of Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations delivered to the Issuer and the retiring Indenture Trustee, the successor Indenture Trustee so appointed will, forthwith upon its acceptance of such appointment, become the successor Indenture Trustee and supersede the successor Indenture Trustee appointed by the Issuer. If no successor Indenture Trustee shall have been so appointed by the Issuer or Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations and accepted in the manner hereinafter provided, any Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations who has been a bona fide Debtholder of Controlling Class Obligations for at least six (6) months may, on behalf of itself and all other Debtholders, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee.

(g) The Issuer will give written notice of each resignation and each removal of the Indenture Trustee and each appointment of a successor Indenture Trustee to each Specified Creditor as provided in Article XV and to each Rating Agency. To facilitate delivery of such notice, upon request by the Issuer, the retiring Indenture Trustee shall provide to the Issuer a list of all Specified Creditors. Each notice will include the name of the successor Indenture Trustee and the address of its Corporate Trust Office.

(h) Upon such resignation, the Indenture Trustee shall be discharged from all further duties and liabilities under this Indenture.

9.08 Acceptance of Appointment by Successor

Every successor Indenture Trustee appointed hereunder will execute, acknowledge and deliver to the Issuer and to the predecessor Indenture Trustee an instrument accepting such appointment, with a copy to the Rating Agencies, and thereupon the resignation or removal of the predecessor Indenture Trustee will become effective, and such successor Indenture Trustee, without any further act, deed or conveyance, will become vested with all the rights, powers, trusts and duties of the predecessor Indenture Trustee; but, on request of the Issuer or the successor Indenture Trustee, such predecessor Indenture Trustee will, upon payment of its reasonable charges, if any, execute and deliver an instrument transferring to such successor Indenture Trustee all the rights, powers and trusts of the predecessor Indenture Trustee, and will duly assign, transfer and deliver to such successor Indenture Trustee all property and money held by such predecessor Indenture Trustee hereunder, subject nevertheless to its Lien, if any, provided for in Section 9.05. Upon request of any such successor Indenture Trustee, the Issuer will execute any and all instruments for more fully and certainly vesting in and confirming to such successor Indenture Trustee all such rights, powers and trusts.

No successor Indenture Trustee will accept its appointment unless at the time of such acceptance, such successor Indenture Trustee will be qualified and eligible under this Article IX.

9.09 Merger, Conversion, Consolidation or Succession to Business

Any corporation into which the Indenture Trustee may be merged or converted or with which it may be consolidated, or any corporation resulting from any merger, conversion or consolidation to which the Indenture Trustee shall be a party, or any corporation succeeding to all or substantially all of the corporate trust business of the Indenture Trustee, will be the successor of the Indenture Trustee hereunder, provided such corporation shall be otherwise qualified and eligible under this Article IX, without the execution or filing of any paper or any further act on the part of any of the parties hereto. The Indenture Trustee shall give prompt written notice of such merger, conversion, consolidation or succession to the Issuer and the Rating Agencies. In case any Notes shall have been authenticated, but not delivered, by the Indenture Trustee then in office, any successor by merger, conversion or consolidation to such authenticating Indenture Trustee may adopt such authentication and deliver the Notes so authenticated with the same effect as if such successor Indenture Trustee had itself authenticated such Notes.

9.10 Trust Indenture Legislation

(a) In this Article IX, the term "applicable legislation" means the provisions, if any, of the Trust and Loan Companies Act (Canada) and any other statute of Canada or a province thereof, and of regulations under any such statute, in each case, as amended, restated or re-enacted from time to time, relating to trust indentures and to the rights, duties and obligations of trustees under trust indentures and of entities issuing debt obligations under trust indentures, to the extent that in the opinion of counsel to the Issuer such provisions are at the time in force and applicable to this Indenture.

(b) If and to the extent that any provision of this Indenture limits, qualifies or conflicts with a mandatory requirement of applicable legislation, such mandatory requirement shall prevail.

(c) The Issuer and the Indenture Trustee agree that each will at all times in relation to this Indenture and any action to be taken hereunder, observe and comply with and be entitled to the benefits of applicable legislation.

9.11 Representations and Covenants of the Indenture Trustee

The Indenture Trustee represents, warrants and covenants that:

(a) the Indenture Trustee is a trust company organized, existing and in good standing under the laws of Canada;

(b) the Indenture Trustee has full power and authority to execute, deliver and perform this Indenture and has taken all necessary action to authorize the execution, delivery and performance by it of this Indenture and other documents to which it is a party;

(c) each of this Indenture and the other documents to which it is a party has been duly executed and delivered by the Indenture Trustee and constitutes its legal, valid and binding obligation in accordance with its terms; and

(d) the Indenture Trustee is authorized to carry on the business of a trust company in each of the provinces and territories of Canada. If, notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection 9.11(d), the Indenture Trustee ceases to be so authorized to carry on business, the validity and enforceability of this Indenture and the Funding Obligation Agreements shall not be affected in any manner whatsoever by reason only of such event.

9.12 Indenture Trustee's Application for Instructions from the Issuer

Any application by the Indenture Trustee for written instructions from the Issuer may, at the option of the Indenture Trustee, set forth in writing any action proposed to be taken or omitted by the Indenture Trustee under and in accordance with this Indenture and the date on and/or after which such action shall be taken or such omission shall be effective; provided that such application shall make specific reference to this Section 9.12. The Indenture Trustee shall not be liable for any action taken by, or omission of, the Indenture Trustee in accordance with a proposal included in such application on or after the date specified in such application (which date shall not be less than five (5) Business Days after the date the Issuer actually receives such application, unless the Issuer shall have consented in writing to any earlier date) unless prior to taking any such action (or the effective date in the case of an omission), the Indenture Trustee shall have received written instructions in response to such application specifying the action be taken or omitted.

9.13 Appointment of Co-Trustee or Separate Indenture Trustee

(a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Indenture, at any time, for the purpose of meeting any legal requirements of any jurisdiction in which any part of the Issuer's property may at the time be located, the Indenture Trustee shall have the power and shall execute and deliver all instruments, subject to the prior written consent of the Manager, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, to appoint one or more Persons reasonably acceptable to the Issuer to act as a co-trustee or co-trustees, or separate trustee or separate trustees, of all or any part of the Issuer's property, and to vest in such Person or Persons, in such capacity and for the benefit of the Specified Creditors, such title to the Issuer's property, or any part thereof, and, subject to the other provisions of this Section 9.13, such powers, duties, obligations, rights and trusts as the Indenture Trustee may consider necessary or desirable. No co-trustee or separate trustee hereunder shall be required to meet the terms of eligibility as a successor trustee under Section 9.06 and no notice to Specified Creditors of the appointment of any co-trustee or separate trustee shall be required under Section 9.07.

(b) Every separate trustee and co-trustee shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be appointed and act subject to the following provisions and conditions:

(i) all rights, powers, duties and obligations conferred or imposed upon the Indenture Trustee shall be conferred or imposed upon and exercised or performed by the Indenture Trustee and such separate trustee or co-trustee jointly (it being understood that such separate trustee or co-trustee is not authorized to act separately without the Indenture Trustee joining in such act), except to the extent that under any law of any jurisdiction in which any particular act or acts are to be performed, the Indenture Trustee shall be incompetent or unqualified to perform such act or acts, in which event such rights, powers, duties and obligations (including the holding of title to the Issuer's property or any portion thereof in any such jurisdiction) shall be exercised and performed singly by such separate trustee or co-trustee, but solely at the direction of the Indenture Trustee;

(ii) no trustee hereunder shall be personally liable by reason of any act or omission of any other trustee hereunder; and

(iii) the Indenture Trustee may at any time accept the resignation of or remove any separate trustee or co-trustee.

(c) Any notice, request or other writing given to the Indenture Trustee shall be deemed to have been given to each of the then separate trustees and co-trustees, as effectively as if given to each of them. Every instrument appointing any separate trustee or co-trustee shall refer to this Indenture and the conditions of this Article IX. Each separate trustee and co-trustee, upon its acceptance of the trusts conferred, shall be vested with the estates or property specified in its instrument of appointment, either jointly with the Indenture Trustee or separately, as may be provided therein, subject to all the provisions of this Indenture, specifically including every provision of this Indenture relating to the conduct of, affecting the liability of, or affording protection to, the Indenture Trustee. Every such instrument shall be filed with the Indenture Trustee.

(d) Any separate trustee or co-trustee may at any time appoint the Indenture Trustee, its agent or attorney-in-fact with full power and authority, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, to do any lawful act under or in respect of this Indenture on its behalf and in its name. If any separate trustee or co-trustee shall die, become incapable of acting, resign or be removed, all of its estates, properties, rights, remedies and trusts shall vest in and be exercised by the Indenture Trustee, to the extent permitted by applicable law, without the appointment of a new or successor trustee.

9.14 Preservation of Information; Communications to Debtholders

(a) The Indenture Trustee will preserve, in as current a form as is reasonably practicable, the names and addresses of Registered Noteholders contained in the most recent list furnished to the Indenture Trustee as provided in Section 13.13 and the names and addresses of Registered Noteholders received by the Indenture Trustee in its capacity as Note Registrar. The Indenture Trustee may destroy any list furnished to it as provided in Section 13.13 upon receipt of a new list so furnished. The Indenture Trustee will also preserve, in as current a form as is reasonably practicable, the names and addresses of all other Specified Creditors received by the Indenture Trustee pursuant to subsections 5.01(f) and 5.03(b).

(b) If three or more Debtholders of any Series, Class or Tranche (hereinafter referred to as "applicants") (or, if there are less than three such Debtholders, all of the Debtholders) apply in writing to the Indenture Trustee, and furnish to the Indenture Trustee reasonable proof that each such applicant has owned an Issuer Funding Obligation of such Series, Class or Tranche for a period of at least six (6) months preceding the date of such application, and such application states that the applicants desire to communicate with all Debtholders (or such subset thereof as will be specified) with respect to their rights under this Indenture or under the applicable Issuer Funding Obligations and is accompanied by a copy of the form of proxy or other communication which such applicants propose to transmit, then the Indenture Trustee will, within five (5) Business Days after the receipt of such application, at its election, either:

(i) afford such applicants access to the information preserved at the time by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with subsection 9.14(a), or

(ii) inform such applicants as to the approximate number of Debtholders of all Issuer Funding Obligations (or such subset thereof as will be specified), as the case may be, whose names and addresses appear in the information preserved at the time by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with subsection 9.14(a) and as to the approximate cost of mailing to such Debtholders the form of proxy or other communication, if any, specified in such application.

If the Indenture Trustee shall elect not to afford such applicants access to such information, the Indenture Trustee shall, upon the written request of such applicants, mail to each applicable Lender and to each holder of a Registered Note of the applicable Series, Classes and Tranches whose names and addresses appear in the information preserved at the time by the Indenture Trustee in accordance with subsection 9.14(a), a copy of the form of proxy or other communication which is specified in such request, with reasonable promptness after a tender to the Indenture Trustee of the material to be mailed and of payment, or provision for the payment, of the reasonable expenses of mailing, unless, within five days after such tender, the Indenture Trustee shall mail to such applicants, together with a copy of the material to be mailed, a written statement to the effect that, in the opinion of the Indenture Trustee, such mailing would be contrary to the best interests of the Debtholders for which such mailing is intended or would be in violation of applicable law. Such written statement will specify the basis of such opinion.

(c) Every Debtholder agrees with the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee that neither the Issuer nor the Indenture Trustee will be held accountable by reason of the disclosure of any such information as to the names and addresses of the Debtholders in accordance with subsection 9.14(b), regardless of the source from which such information was derived, and that the Indenture Trustee will not be held accountable by reason of mailing any material pursuant to a request made under subsection 9.14(b).

9.15 Acceptance of Trusts by Indenture Trustee

The Indenture Trustee hereby accepts the trusts in this Indenture and agrees to perform the same upon the terms and conditions herein set forth.

9.16 Paying Agent

(a) The Paying Agent, on behalf of the Indenture Trustee, will make distributions to Specified Creditors from the Collection Account or other applicable Issuer Account pursuant to the provisions of this Indenture and any applicable Program Agreement and will report the amounts of such distributions to the Indenture Trustee. Any Paying Agent will have the revocable power to withdraw funds from the Collection

Account or other applicable Issuer Account for the purpose of making the distributions referred to above.

(b) The Indenture Trustee may revoke such power and remove the Paying Agent if the Indenture Trustee determines in its sole discretion that the Paying Agent has failed to perform its obligations under this Indenture in any material respect. The Paying Agent upon removal will return all funds in its possession to the Indenture Trustee.

(c) The Issuer will cause each Paying Agent (other than the Indenture Trustee) to execute and deliver to the Indenture Trustee an instrument in which such Paying Agent will agree with the Indenture Trustee (and if the Indenture Trustee acts as Paying Agent, it so agrees), subject to the provisions of this Section 9.16, that such Paying Agent will:

(i) hold all sums held by it for the payment of principal of, interest, fees or other amounts in trust for the benefit of the Persons entitled thereto until such sums will be paid to such Persons or otherwise disposed of as herein provided;

(ii) if such Paying Agent is not the Indenture Trustee, give the Indenture Trustee notice of any default by the Issuer in the making of any such payment of principal or interest on any Issuer Funding Obligations;

(iii) if such Paying Agent is not the Indenture Trustee, at any time during the continuance of any such default, upon the written request of the Indenture Trustee, forthwith pay to the Indenture Trustee all sums so held in trust by such Paying Agent;

(iv) open and maintain appropriate records with respect to each Note; record by appropriate entries therein each payment made on account of interest, principal, fees and other amounts owing with respect to each such Note. For the purposes thereof, the Paying Agent shall provide to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee satisfactory evidence of each payment as soon as practicable after making such payment. The failure to record, or any error in recording, any such payment shall not, however, limit or otherwise affect the obligations of the Issuer as to the principal amount or accrued interest owing with respect to any Note. Such records of payment shall be conclusive evidence of the unpaid principal balance and interest owing in respect of the Notes in the absence of demonstrable error;

(v) immediately resign as a Paying Agent and, if such Paying Agent is not the Indenture Trustee, forthwith pay to the Indenture Trustee all sums held by it in trust for the payment of Issuer Funding Obligations if at any time it ceases to meet the standards described in this Section 9.16 required to be met by a Paying Agent at the time of its appointment; and

(vi) comply with all requirements of the Income Tax Act or any other applicable tax law with respect to the withholding from any payments made by it on any amounts contemplated under this Indenture of any applicable withholding taxes imposed thereon and with respect to any applicable reporting requirements in connection therewith.

(d) Each Paying Agent, if not OPG, will at all times have, or be a wholly owned subsidiary of a corporation which has, a combined capital and surplus of at least $50,000,000 and be subject to supervision or examination by a Canadian federal, provincial or territorial authority or be regulated by or subject to the supervision or examination of a Governmental Authority of a nation that is a member of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development. If such Paying Agent publishes reports of condition at least annually, pursuant to law or to the requirements of the aforesaid supervising or examining authority, then for the purposes of this subsection 9.16(d), the combined capital and surplus of such Paying Agent will be deemed to be its combined capital and surplus as set forth in its most recent report of condition as so published.

Every such meeting shall be held in the City of Toronto or such other place in Ontario, Canada as the Indenture Trustee may in any case determine or approve.

(b) At least 7 days' prior notice of any meeting shall be given to the Debtholders of the Series, Class or Tranche to which such meeting relates, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be, and to the Issuer, unless the meeting has been called by the Issuer, and such notice shall state the date, time and the place the meeting is to be held and shall specify, in general terms, the nature of the business to be transacted. It shall not be necessary to specify in the notice the text of the resolutions to be passed. Subject to Section 10.01(c), notices shall be given in the manner set forth in Article XV and a copy thereof shall be delivered to the Indenture Trustee unless the meeting has been called by it. It shall not be necessary to specify in the notice of any adjournment of a meeting the nature of the business to be transacted at the adjourned meeting. The non-receipt of any such notice by a Debtholder shall not invalidate any resolution passed at such meeting.

(c) At any meeting of the Debtholders of a Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be, subject as herein provided, a quorum shall consist of two or more Persons present in person or by proxy holding either personally or as proxies not less than 25% of the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of the Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be, entitled to vote at such meeting. If a quorum is not present on the date for which the meeting is called within 30 minutes after the time fixed for the holding of such meeting, the meeting shall be adjourned to be held at a place and upon a date and at an hour to be fixed by the Indenture Trustee who shall give not less than 7 days' notice of the date and time to which such meeting is to be adjourned and at such adjourned meeting a quorum shall consist of the Debtholders of that Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be, then and there represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote at such meeting.

(d) An individual, who need not be a Debtholder, nominated in writing by the Indenture Trustee shall be chairman of the meeting (a "Chairman"). If no individual is so nominated or if the individual nominated is not present within 25 minutes after the time fixed for the holding of the meeting, the Debtholders and proxies for Debtholders present shall choose one of their number to be Chairman.

(e) Every question submitted to a meeting, except matters requiring an Extraordinary Resolution, shall be decided by a majority of the votes given on a show of hands or, if a poll shall be requested as hereinafter provided, by a majority of the votes cast on the poll (in either case, an "Ordinary Resolution") and shall be binding on all Debtholders of the Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be. On a show of hands, each Debtholder who is present, whether in person or by proxy, will have one vote for every $1,000 of Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of applicable Issuer Funding Obligations of which he or she shall be the Debtholder. A poll shall be taken on every Extraordinary Resolution and otherwise whenever requested by a Debtholder or its proxy. On a poll, each Debtholder shall have one vote for every $1,000 of Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of applicable Issuer Funding Obligations of which he or she shall be the Debtholder. Votes may be given in person or by proxy and a proxy need not be a Debtholder. If at any meeting a poll is so demanded as aforesaid on the election of a Chairman or on a question of adjournment, it shall be taken forthwith. If at any meeting a poll is so demanded on any other question, or an Extraordinary Resolution is to be voted upon, a poll shall be taken in such manner and either at once or after an adjournment as the Chairman directs. The result of a poll shall be deemed to be the decision of the meeting at which the poll was demanded and shall be binding on all Debtholders of that Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be. In the case of joint Registered Noteholders, any one of them present in person or by proxy at the meeting may vote in the absence of the other or others but, if more than one of them is present in person or by proxy, they shall vote together in respect of the Notes of which they are joint Registered Noteholders.

10.02 Powers Exercisable by Ordinary Resolution and Extraordinary Resolution

(a) In addition to any powers hereinbefore given, Debtholders of a Series, Class or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations shall by Ordinary Resolution have the power to:

(i) require the Indenture Trustee (subject to receipt by the Indenture Trustee of reasonable funding and indemnity) to exercise or refrain from exercising any of the powers conferred upon it by this Indenture insofar as they apply solely to such Series, Class or Tranche or by the Related Funding Obligation Agreement;

(ii) sanction, insofar as they apply to the Series, Class or Tranche, the release of the Issuer from its covenants and obligations hereunder;

(iii) subject to the provisions of this Indenture or of the Related Funding Obligation Agreement, sanction any change whatsoever to any provision of the Issuer Funding Obligations of such Series, Class or Tranche which shall be agreed to by the Issuer and any modification, alteration, abrogation, compromise or arrangement of or in respect of the rights of the Debtholders of such Series, Class or Tranche or the Indenture Trustee against the Issuer, whether such rights shall arise under the provisions of this Indenture or otherwise;

(iv) subject to the provisions of this Indenture, assent to any modification of or change in or addition to or omission from the provisions contained in this Indenture, a Related Supplemental Indenture or any instrument ancillary or supplementary hereto or thereto, in each case, insofar as they apply to the Series, Class or Tranche, which shall be agreed to by the Issuer and to authorize the Indenture Trustee to concur in and execute any deed, instrument or agreement embodying any such modification, change, addition or omission or any other deeds, documents or writings authorized by such Ordinary Resolution; provided that no such assent shall be necessary for any modification of or change in or addition otherwise permitted hereunder or under a Related Supplemental Indenture; and

(v) take any other Action authorized by this Indenture or a Related Supplemental Indenture to be taken by Ordinary Resolution of the Debtholders of a Series, Class or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations.

(b) In addition to any powers hereinbefore given, Debtholders of all Controlling Class Obligations shall by Extraordinary Resolution have the power to:

(i) after the Security Interest has become enforceable, authorize the Indenture Trustee to accept, in satisfaction or partial satisfaction, all or any part of the Collateral;

(ii) after the Security Interest has become enforceable, sanction the selling of the Collateral or any part thereof or interest therein;

(iii) after the Security Interest has become enforceable, authorize the Indenture Trustee or any other Person to bid or tender at any sale of the Collateral or any part thereof and take such actions in connection with such sale as it determines to be in the best interests of all Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations;

(iv) assent to any compromise or arrangement by the Issuer with any creditor, creditors or class or classes of creditors or with the holders of any securities of the Issuer whose claims are payable from the Collateral;

(v) restrain any Debtholder from taking or instituting any suit, action or proceeding for the purpose of realizing on the Collateral or for the execution of any trust or power hereunder or for the appointment of a liquidator, receiver or trustee in bankruptcy or to have the Issuer liquidated or for any other remedy hereunder and to direct such Debtholder to waive any Event of Default on which any suit or proceeding is founded;

(vi) require the Indenture Trustee (subject to receipt by the Indenture Trustee of reasonable funding and indemnity) to exercise or refrain from exercising any other powers conferred upon it by this Indenture of general application to all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations, including the exercise of any rights of the Issuer under any of the Program Agreements upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, or cancel any declaration of acceleration made pursuant to Article VIII upon such terms and/or conditions as may be decided;

(vii) authorize the Indenture Trustee, in the event of the Issuer making an authorized assignment or proposal or in the event of an administrator, trustee, receiver or liquidator being appointed under any applicable bankruptcy or insolvency legislation for and on behalf of all Specified Creditors and, in addition to any claim or debt provided or made for its own account as Indenture Trustee hereunder, to file and prove a claim or debt against the Issuer or its property for an amount equivalent to the aggregate amount which may be payable in respect of all Issuer Funding Obligations, to value the Collateral, and to vote such claim or debt at meetings of creditors and generally act for and on behalf of all Debtholders in such proceedings as such Extraordinary Resolution may provide;

(viii) appoint a committee with power and authority (subject to such limitations, if any, as may be prescribed in such Extraordinary Resolution) to exercise, and to direct the Indenture Trustee to exercise, on behalf of all Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations, such of the powers of such Debtholders as are exercisable by Extraordinary Resolution or other resolution as shall be included in the Extraordinary Resolution appointing the committee. The Extraordinary Resolution making such appointment may provide for payment of the expenses and disbursements of and compensation to such committee from the Collateral. Such committee shall consist of such number of Persons as shall be prescribed in the Extraordinary Resolution appointing it and the members need not themselves be Debtholders. Each such committee may elect a chairman and may make regulations respecting its quorum, the calling of its meetings, the filling of vacancies occurring in its number and its procedures generally. Such regulations may provide that the committee may act at a meeting at which a quorum is present or may act by minutes signed by the number of members thereof necessary to constitute a quorum. All acts of any such committee within the authority delegated to it shall be binding upon all Debtholders. Neither the committee nor any member thereof shall be liable for any loss arising from or in connection with any action taken or omitted to be taken by them in good faith;

(ix) take any other action authorized by this Indenture to be taken by Extraordinary Resolution; and

(x) permit the creation of any Lien on the Collateral that is prior to the Security Interest (other than Permitted Liens).

(c) The foregoing powers shall be deemed to be several and cumulative and not dependent on each other and the exercise of one or more of such powers, or any combination of such powers, from time to time, shall not be deemed to exhaust the rights of the Debtholders to exercise such power or powers, or combinations of powers, thereafter from time to time. No powers exercisable by Extraordinary Resolution shall derogate in any way from any rights of the Issuer under or pursuant to this Indenture. The Issuer shall give the Rating Agency notice of any Extraordinary Resolution adopted.

10.03 Extraordinary Resolution

An Extraordinary Resolution, adopted in accordance with the provisions hereof, shall be binding upon each and every Debtholder and each other Specified Creditor and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns, whether present or absent, and the Indenture Trustee (subject to the provisions for funding and its indemnity herein contained) shall be bound to give effect thereto accordingly.

Except as expressly provided to the contrary in this Indenture, no action shall be taken at a meeting of the Debtholders of a Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations which changes any provision of this Indenture or changes or prejudices the exercise of any right of any Debtholder except by Extraordinary Resolution of the Debtholders of Controlling Class Obligations.

10.04 Declaration by Chairman of Result of Vote

At any meeting of the Debtholders of any Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, in cases where no poll is required or requested, a declaration made by the Chairman that a resolution has been carried, or carried by any particular majority, or lost, shall be conclusive evidence thereof.

10.05 Minutes

Minutes of all resolutions and proceedings at every such meeting, as aforesaid, shall be made and duly entered in books to be provided from time to time for that purpose by an agent of the Issuer at the expense of the Issuer and any such minutes, as aforesaid, if signed by the Chairman of the meeting at which such resolutions were passed or proceedings had shall be prima facie evidence of the matters therein stated and, until the contrary is proved, every such meeting in respect of the proceedings of which minutes shall have been made shall be deemed to have been duly held and convened and all resolutions passed or proceedings had thereat to have been duly passed and had.

10.06 Signed Instruments

Any resolution or instrument signed in one or more counterparts by (a) Debtholders holding not less than 50% of the aggregate Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of Issuer Funding Obligations of a Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be, in the case of matters capable of being decided by Ordinary Resolution, and (b) Debtholders holding not less than 66⅔% of the aggregate Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount of Issuer Funding Obligations of all Controlling Class Obligations in the case of matters required to be decided by Extraordinary Resolution, shall, in either case, have the same force and effect as a resolution duly passed at a meeting of such Debtholders by the affirmative vote of all of the votes cast upon a poll. Notice of any Ordinary Resolution or Extraordinary Resolution passed in accordance with this Section 10.06 shall be given by the Indenture Trustee to all applicable Debtholders within 30 days of the date on which such Ordinary Resolution or Extraordinary Resolution was passed.

10.07 Persons Who May Attend

Each Debtholder, by their respective officers, directors, employees, and the legal advisers of such parties, may attend any meeting of Debtholders.

10.08 Binding Effect of Resolutions

Every Ordinary Resolution and every Extraordinary Resolution passed in accordance with the provisions of this Article X at a meeting of Debtholders of a Series, Class or Tranche, of all

Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be, will be binding upon all of the Debtholders of such Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be, whether present at or absent from such meeting, and every instrument in writing signed by Debtholders in accordance with Section 10.06 will be binding upon all of the Debtholders of such Series, Class or Tranche, of all Series of Issuer Funding Obligations or of all Controlling Class Obligations, as the case may be, whether signatories thereto or not, and the Indenture Trustee will be bound to give effect accordingly to every such Ordinary Resolution, Extraordinary Resolution and instrument in writing. For greater certainty, any Extraordinary Resolution shall bind all Debtholders in accordance with Section 10.03.

10.09 Notes Regarded as Not Outstanding for Certain Purposes

If, in the opinion of the Indenture Trustee and upon receipt of an Issuer Certificate in respect of the following, any business to be transacted at any meeting of Debtholders or any action to be taken or power exercised by instrument in writing under Section 10.06 does not materially adversely affect the rights of the Debtholders of one or more particular Series, Class or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations, the provisions of this Article X shall apply as if the Issuer Funding Obligations of that Series, Class or Tranche were not outstanding, and no notice of any such meeting need be given to the Debtholders of that Series, Class or Tranche.

ARTICLE XI
SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURES

11.01 Supplemental Indentures and Amendments Without Consent of Specified Creditors

Without the consent of Specified Creditors but with 10 Business Days' prior notice to each Rating Agency, the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, at any time and from time to time, and upon delivery by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee of an Issuer Certificate to the effect that the Issuer reasonably believes that such amendment will not have an Adverse Effect and is not reasonably expected to have an Adverse Effect at any time in the future, the Issuer may amend this Indenture, including any Supplemental Indenture or enter into one or more Supplemental Indentures, in form satisfactory to the Indenture Trustee, for any of the following purposes:

Additionally, notwithstanding any provision of this Article XI to the contrary and in addition to clauses (a) through (l) above, the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee may amend this Indenture, including any Supplemental Indenture, without the consent of any Specified Creditor, to modify, eliminate or add to the provisions of this Indenture (i) to facilitate compliance with any amendment to any change of law or regulation which applies to the Issuer or the transactions governed by the Program Agreements, or (ii) to cause the provisions hereof to conform to or be consistent with or in furtherance of the statements made with respect to this Indenture in any applicable offering document; in each case, provided that the Issuer shall deliver to the Indenture Trustee an Issuer Certificate to the effect that (A) the Issuer reasonably believes that such amendment will not have an Adverse Effect and is not reasonably expected to have an Adverse Effect at any time in the future or (B) such amendment is required to remain in compliance with any change of law or regulation which applies to the Issuer or the transactions governed by the Program Agreements, or such amendment is required to cause the provisions hereof to conform to or be consistent with or in furtherance of the statements made with respect to this Indenture in any applicable offering document.

Additionally, notwithstanding any provision of this Article XI to the contrary and in addition to clauses (a) through (l) above and the immediately preceding paragraph, this Indenture, including any Supplemental Indenture, may also be amended by the Issuer and the Indenture

Trustee, without the consent of any Specified Creditor, for the purpose of (i) adding any provisions to, or changing in any manner or eliminating any of the provisions of, this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture or (ii) modifying in any manner the rights of the Specified Creditors under this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture; provided, however, that (A) the Issuer shall deliver to the Indenture Trustee an Issuer Certificate to the effect that the Issuer reasonably believes that such amendment will not have an Adverse Effect and is not reasonably expected to have an Adverse Effect at any time in the future, and (B) the Rating Agency Condition shall be satisfied.

Additionally, notwithstanding any provision of this Article XI to the contrary and in addition to clauses (a) through (l) above and the immediately preceding paragraphs, this Indenture, including any Supplemental Indenture, may also be amended by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, without the consent of any Specified Creditor, to provide for those changes necessary for compliance with securities law requirements or banking laws or regulations; provided, however, that (i) the Issuer shall deliver to the Indenture Trustee an Issuer Certificate to the effect that the Issuer reasonably believes that such amendment will not have an Adverse Effect and is not reasonably expected to have an Adverse Effect at any time in the future, and (ii) the Rating Agency Condition shall be satisfied.

The Issuer shall send a copy of any amendment to this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture to each Rating Agency.

The Indenture Trustee may, but shall not be obligated to, enter into any amendment which adversely affects the Indenture Trustee's rights, duties, benefits, protections, privileges or immunities under this Indenture or otherwise.

11.02 Supplemental Indentures and Amendments with Consent of Debtholders

In addition to any amendment permitted pursuant to Section 11.01, with prior notice to each Rating Agency and the consent of Debtholders of each Series, Class or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations affected by such amendment of this Indenture, including any Supplemental Indenture, by Ordinary Resolution delivered to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee may enter into an amendment of this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture for the purpose of adding any provisions to, or changing in any manner or eliminating any of the provisions of, this Indenture or of modifying in any manner the rights of the Debtholders of each such Series, Class or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations under this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture; provided, however, that no such amendment of this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture will, without the consent of each Debtholder of Issuer Funding Obligations affected thereby:

(a) change the scheduled payment date of any payment of interest on any Issuer Funding Obligation, or change a Principal Payment Due Date or Principal Payment Default Date of any Issuer Funding Obligation;

(b) reduce the principal amount of, or the interest rate on any Note, or change the method of computing the Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount, the Outstanding Currency Specific Dollar Principal Amount or the Adjusted Outstanding Dollar Principal Amount in a manner that is adverse to any Debtholders;

(e) modify any of the provisions of this Section 11.02 or Section 8.03, except to increase any percentage of Debtholders required to consent to any such amendment or to provide that other provisions of this Indenture cannot be modified or waived without the consent of the Debtholders affected thereby;

(f) change any Place of Payment where any principal of, or interest on, any Note is payable, unless otherwise provided in the Related Supplemental Indenture; or

It will not be necessary for any Ordinary Resolution under this Section 11.02 to approve the particular form of any proposed amendment or Supplemental Indenture, but it will be sufficient if such Ordinary Resolution will approve the substance thereof.

11.03 Execution of Amendments and Supplemental Indentures

In executing or accepting the additional trusts created by any amendment of this Indenture or Supplemental Indenture permitted by this Article XI or the modifications thereby of the trusts created by this Indenture, the Indenture Trustee will be provided with, and (subject to Section 9.01) will be fully protected in relying upon, an Opinion of Counsel stating that the execution of such amendment or Supplemental Indenture is authorized or permitted by this Indenture and that all conditions precedent thereto have been satisfied. The Indenture Trustee may, but will not (except to the extent required in the case of an amendment or Supplemental Indenture entered into under subsection 11.01(e)) be obligated to, enter into any such amendment or Supplemental Indenture which affects the Indenture Trustee's own rights, duties or immunities under this Indenture or otherwise.

11.04 Effect of Amendments and Supplemental Indentures

Upon the execution of any amendment of this Indenture or any Supplemental Indenture under this Article XI, this Indenture and/or such Supplemental Indenture will be modified in accordance therewith with respect to each Series, Class or Tranche of Issuer Funding Obligations affected thereby, or all Issuer Funding Obligations, as the case may be, and such amendment or Supplemental Indenture will form a part of this Indenture and such Supplemental Indenture for all purposes; and every holder of Issuer Funding Obligations theretofore or thereafter incurred and every other Specified Creditor will be bound thereby to the extent provided therein.

11.05 Reference in Notes to Supplemental Indentures

If the Issuer will so determine, new Notes so modified as to conform, in the opinion of the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer, to any such amendment or Supplemental Indenture may be prepared and executed by the Issuer and authenticated and delivered by the Indenture Trustee in exchange for Outstanding Notes.

effect affecting the rights of creditors generally, and (ii) equitable principles which may limit the availability of certain remedies, including the remedy of specific performance.

(e) There are no actions, suits or proceedings pending or, to the knowledge of the Issuer, threatened against or affecting the Issuer at law or in equity or before or by any Governmental Authority, or before any arbitrator of any kind, which would result in any material adverse change in the business, operations, prospects, properties, assets or condition, financial or otherwise, of the Issuer or in the ability of the Issuer to perform its obligations under this Indenture, the other Program Agreements executed by it or any agreement or instrument delivered pursuant hereto or thereto; and the Issuer is not aware of any existing ground on which such action, suit or proceeding might be commenced with any reasonable likelihood of success or of any default with respect to any judgment, order, writ, injunction, decree, award, rule or regulation of any court, arbitrator or Governmental Authority, which, either separately or in the aggregate, would result in any such material adverse change.

(b) The Issuer (i) will diligently pursue any and all actions to enforce its rights under each instrument or agreement included in the Collateral and (ii) will not take any action and will use its best efforts not to permit any action to be taken by others that would release any Person from any of such Person's covenants or obligations under any such instrument or agreement or that would result in the amendment, hypothecation, subordination, termination or discharge of, or impair the validity or effectiveness of, any such instrument or agreement, except, in each case, as expressly provided in this Indenture, the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement or any other Program Agreement.

(c) The Issuer will enforce the Servicer's compliance with and performance of all of the Servicer's material obligations under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement. money borrowed by or advanced to it for such purpose, but will be under no obligation to do so; and all sums so expended or advanced will bear interest at the rate of interest charged to the Indenture Trustee by its bankers from the date of expenditure until repayment and will (together with such interest) be paid by the Issuer upon demand and will until paid form part of the Obligations Secured and constitute a Lien on the Collateral to which such covenant related in priority to the Security Interest and will be payable out of any funds coming into possession of the Indenture Trustee hereunder. In any case where notice to Registered Noteholders is given by mail, facsimile or electronic transmission, neither the failure to mail, send by facsimile or send by electronic transmission such notice, nor any defect in any notice so mailed, to any particular Noteholders will affect the sufficiency of such notice with respect to other Noteholders and any notice that is mailed, sent by facsimile or sent by electronic transmission in the manner herein provided shall conclusively have been presumed to have been duly given.

(b) No notice will be given by mail, facsimile, email transmission or otherwise delivered to a holder of Bearer Notes or coupons in bearer form. ## ARTICLE XVI
MISCELLANEOUS

16.01 No Petition

The Indenture Trustee, by entering into this Indenture, and each Specified Creditor by accepting its rights as a third party beneficiary hereunder, agrees, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, that at no time until one year and one day following repayment in full of all Issuer Funding Obligations shall it commence, or join in commencing, a bankruptcy case or other insolvency or similar proceeding under the laws of any jurisdiction against the Issuer.

The right of any Person to receive amounts described in this Indenture, including rights of a Noteholder to receive interest on or principal of a Note, or the rights of a Person to receive payments described in Section 7.04 and 8.13, shall be subject to any applicable withholding or deduction imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act or other applicable tax law, including foreign withholding and deduction. Any amounts properly withheld or deducted shall be treated as actually paid to the appropriate recipient, provided that such deduction or withheld amounts are actually remitted in accordance with applicable law to the appropriate Governmental Authority.

16.02 U.S. Tax Treatment

The Issuer and each Noteholder that is a United States Person agree that the Notes are intended to be debt for United States federal, state and local income and franchise tax purposes and agree to treat the Notes accordingly for all such purposes, unless otherwise required by a taxing authority. Each Noteholder that is a United States Person further agrees that it will cause any Note Owner that is a United States Person acquiring an interest in a Note through it to comply with this Indenture as to treatment as indebtedness for United States federal, state and local income and franchise tax purposes as described in this Section 16.02.

16.03 Alternate Payment Provisions

Notwithstanding any provision of this Indenture or any of the Notes to the contrary, the Issuer, with the written consent of the Indenture Trustee, may enter into any agreement with any Noteholder providing for a method of payment or notice that is different from the methods provided for in this Indenture for such payments or notices. The Issuer will furnish to the Indenture Trustee a copy of each such agreement and the Indenture Trustee will cause payments or notices, as applicable, to be made in accordance with such agreements.

16.04 Final Distribution

(a) The Issuer shall give the Indenture Trustee at least 30 days written notice of the Payment Date on which the Noteholders of any Series, Class or Tranche may surrender their Notes for payment of the final distribution on and cancellation of such Notes. Not later than the fifth day of the month in which the final distribution in respect of such Series, Class or Tranche is payable to Noteholders, the Indenture Trustee shall provide notice to Noteholders of such Series, Class or Tranche specifying (i) the date upon which final payment of such Series, Class or Tranche will be made upon presentation and surrender of Notes of such Series, Class or Tranche at the office or offices therein designated, (ii) the amount of any such final payment, and (iii) that the Record Date otherwise applicable to such Payment Date is not applicable, payments being made only upon presentation and surrender of such Notes at the office or offices therein specified (which, in the case of Bearer Notes, shall be outside the United States [and Canada]). The Indenture Trustee shall give such notice to the Note Registrar and the Paying Agent at the time such notice is given to Noteholders.

(b) Notwithstanding a final distribution to the Noteholders of any Series, Class or Tranche of Notes (or the termination of the Issuer), except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, all funds then on deposit in any Issuer Account allocated solely to such Noteholders shall continue to be held in trust for the benefit of such Noteholders, and the Paying Agent or the Indenture Trustee shall pay such funds to such Noteholders upon surrender of their Notes, if certificated. In the event that all such Noteholders shall not surrender their Notes for cancellation within 6 months after the date specified in the notice from the Indenture Trustee described in paragraph (a), the Indenture Trustee shall give a second notice to the remaining such Noteholders to surrender their Notes for cancellation and receive the final distribution with respect thereto (which surrender and payment, in the case of Bearer Notes, shall be outside the United States [and Canada]). If within one year after the second notice all such Notes shall not have been surrendered for cancellation, the Indenture Trustee may take appropriate steps, or may appoint an agent to take appropriate steps, to contact the remaining such Noteholders concerning surrender of their Notes, and the cost thereof shall be paid out of the funds in the Collection Account or any Issuer Account held for the benefit of such Noteholders. The Indenture Trustee and the Paying Agent shall pay to the Issuer any monies held by them for the payment of principal or interest that remains unclaimed for 2 years. After payment to the Issuer, Noteholders entitled to the money must look to the Issuer for payment as general creditors unless an applicable abandoned property law designates another Person.

16.05 Force Majeure

In no event shall the Indenture Trustee or the Issuer Trustee be responsible or liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations hereunder arising out of or caused by, directly or indirectly, forces beyond its control, including, without limitation, strikes, work stoppages, accidents, acts of war or terrorism, civil or military disturbances, nuclear or natural catastrophes or acts of God, and interruptions, loss or malfunctions of utilities, communications or computer (software and hardware) services; it being understood that the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer Trustee shall use reasonable efforts which are consistent with accepted practices in the banking industry to resume performance as soon as practicable under the circumstances.

The right of Party A to payments under this Agreement, or the exercise of rights or remedies against Party B under this Agreement is subject to Sections [8.15] (Limited Recourse) and [17.01] (No Petition) of the Trust Indenture.

(ii) Part 5(p)(i) survives the termination of this Agreement.

Part 6. FX Transaction and Currency Option Transaction Provisions

(a) FX Definitions

(i) Incorporated Into Agreement. The 1998 ISDA FX and Currency Option Transaction Definitions, as published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc., (the "FX Definitions") are incorporated by reference into this Agreement. Any terms used and not otherwise defined in this Agreement that are contained in the FX Definitions shall have the respective meanings specified therein (without regard to any amendments thereto after the date of this Agreement).

(ii) Inconsistency. In the event of any inconsistency between the FX Definitions and any other provisions or definitions that are incorporated by reference into this Agreement, the FX Definitions shall prevail with respect to an FX Transaction or a Currency Option Transaction. In the event of any inconsistency between the FX Definitions and the provisions otherwise contained in this Agreement, those provisions otherwise contained in this Agreement shall prevail.

(b) Confirmations. Any FX Transaction or Currency Option Transaction into which the parties may before the date of this Agreement have entered, or may in the future enter, where the relevant Confirmation on its face does not expressly exclude the application of this Agreement, shall (to the extent not otherwise provided for in this Agreement) be subject to, governed by and construed in accordance with this Agreement (in substitution for any existing terms, if any, whether express or implied). Each such FX Transaction and Currency Option Transaction shall be a Transaction, and the documents and other confirming evidence (including electronic messages on an electronic messaging service) exchanged between the parties confirming such FX Transaction or Currency Option Transaction shall each be a Confirmation (even where not so specified therein), for the purposes of this Agreement.

(c) Payment Instructions. All payments to be made in respect of FX Transactions and Currency Option Transactions shall be made in accordance with standing payment instructions provided by the parties (or as otherwise specified in a Confirmation). Any such instructions from a party must be received no later than one Business Day prior to the Value Date or Premium Payment Date (as the case may be) for such Transaction and otherwise be in conformity with standard inter-dealer market practice regarding foreign currency delivery.

(d) FX Transaction Novation Netting.

(i) Automatic Novation Netting. In addition to the settlement netting provisions of Section 2(c) of this Agreement, unless otherwise agreed, if the parties enter into an FX Transaction that is governed by this Agreement through a pair of Novation Netting Offices giving rise to an obligation of a party under this Agreement to pay an amount of currency (a "Currency Obligation") on the same date and in the same currency as a then existing Currency Obligation between the same pair of Novation Netting Offices, then immediately upon entering into such FX Transaction, each such Currency Obligation shall automatically and without further action be cancelled and simultaneously replaced by a new Currency Obligation for such date determined as follows: the amount of such currency that would otherwise have been payable by each party on such date shall be aggregated and the party with the larger aggregate amount shall have a new Currency Obligation to pay to the other party the amount of such currency by which its aggregate amount exceeds the other party's aggregate amount, provided that if the aggregate amounts are equal, no new Currency Obligation shall arise. This paragraph (d) shall not affect any other Currency Obligation of a party to pay any different currency on the same date. This provision shall apply notwithstanding that either party (i) may fail to send out a Confirmation in respect of any such novation, or (ii) may fail to make changes in any of its books as a result of any such novation.

(ii) "Novation Netting Office" means, as to either party, the office or offices specified in Part 4, Section A in the Schedule and any other office specified from time to time by one party and agreed to in writing by the other party.

(e) Currency Option Transaction Discharge and Termination

(i) Automatic Discharge and Termination of Offsetting Options. Unless otherwise agreed, any Call Option or any Put Option written by a party will automatically be terminated and discharged, in whole or in part, as applicable, against a Call Option or a Put Option, respectively, written by the other party, such termination and discharge to occur automatically upon the payment in full of the last Premium payable in respect of such Currency Option Transactions; provided that such termination and discharge may only occur in respect of Currency Option Transactions:

(1) each being with respect to the same Put Currency and the same Call Currency;
(2) each having the same Expiration Date and Expiration Time;
(3) each being of the same style, i.e. either both being American Style Options or both being European Style Options;
(4) each having the same Strike Price;
(5) neither of which shall have been exercised by delivery of a Notice of Exercise; and, upon occurrence of such termination and discharge, neither party shall have any further obligation to the other party in respect of the relevant Currency Option Transactions or, as the case may be, parts thereof so terminated and discharged. In the case of a partial termination and discharge (i.e. where the relevant Currency Option Transactions are for different amounts of the Currency Pair), the remaining portion of the Currency Option Transaction which is partially discharged and terminated shall continue to be a Currency Option Transaction for all purposes of this Agreement. This provision shall apply notwithstanding that either party (i) may fail to send out a Confirmation in respect of any such discharge and termination, or (ii) may fail to make changes in any of its books as a result of any such discharge and termination.

(ii) Additional Definitions

(1) "Call Option" means a Currency Option Transaction entitling, but not obligating, the Buyer to purchase from the Seller at the Strike Price a specified quantity of the Call Currency.

(2) "Put Option" means a Currency Option Transaction entitling, but not obligating, the Buyer to sell to the Seller at the Strike Price a specified quantity of the Put Currency.

The Trust is an unincorporated open-ended unit trust established for the purposes specified in Section 2.1. The Trust shall be governed by the general law of trusts, except as such general law of trusts has been or is from time to time modified, altered or abridged for the Trust by:

(a) applicable laws and regulations or other requirements imposed by applicable securities or other regulatory authorities, including the Act and Regulations; and

(b) the terms, conditions and trusts set forth in this Declaration of Trust.

The beneficial interest and rights generally of the Unitholders in the Trust shall be limited to the right to participate in distributions when and as declared by the Issuer Trustee and distributions upon the termination of the Trust. The Trust is not and is not intended to be, shall not be deemed to be and shall not be treated as a general partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, association, joint venture, company, corporation or joint stock company nor shall the Issuer Trustee or the Unitholders or any of them for any purpose be, or be deemed to be treated in any way whatsoever to be, liable or responsible hereunder as partners or joint venturers. The Issuer Trustee shall not be, or be deemed to be, an agent of the Unitholders. The relationship of the Unitholders to the Issuer Trustee, to the Trust and to the Trust Property shall be solely that of beneficiaries in accordance with this Declaration of Trust.

2.5 Rights of Unitholders

No Unitholder shall be entitled to call for any partition or division of the Trust Property or for a distribution of any particular asset forming part of the Trust Property or of any particular monies or funds received by the Issuer Trustee. The legal ownership of the Trust Property and the right to conduct the activities of the Trust are vested exclusively in the Issuer Trustee, and no Unitholder has or is deemed to have any right of ownership in any of the Trust Property, except as specifically provided herein. Except as specifically provided herein, no Unitholder or Unitholders shall be entitled to interfere with or give any direction to the Issuer Trustee with respect to the affairs of the Trust or in connection with the exercise of any powers or authorities conferred upon the Issuer Trustee under this Declaration of Trust. The Units shall be personal property and shall confer upon the holders thereof only the interest and rights, and impose upon the holders thereof only those liabilities and obligations, specifically set forth in this Declaration of Trust.

UNITS

3.1 Nature of Units

The beneficial interests in the Trust shall be divided into a single class of Units. Each Unit represents an equal undivided beneficial interest in any distributions by the Trust, whether of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust (other than Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption to redeeming Unitholders), or other amounts, and, in the event of termination or winding up of the Trust, in the net assets of the Trust remaining after satisfaction of all liabilities. All Units rank equally among themselves and rateably without discrimination, preference or priority. Each Unit will entitle the Unitholder of record thereof to one vote at all meetings of the Unitholders or in respect of any written resolution of the Unitholders. Each Unit, when issued, shall vest indefeasibly in the holder thereof.

The number of Units which the Trust may issue is unlimited. The issued and outstanding Units may be subdivided or consolidated from time to time by the Issuer Trustee without notice to or approval of the Unitholders. Unless the Issuer Trustee determines otherwise, immediately after any pro rata issuance of additional Units to all Unitholders pursuant to subsection 11.3(3), the number of outstanding Units will automatically be consolidated such that each such holder will hold after the consolidation the same number of Units as such holder held before the issuance of additional Units.

3.2 Consideration of Units

A Unit will not be fully paid until the consideration therefor has been received in full by or on behalf of the Trust. The consideration for any Unit will be paid in money or in property (including, without limitation, a debt instrument issued to the Trust) or in past services received by the Trust that are not less in value than the fair equivalent of the money that the Trust would have received if the Unit had been issued for money. In determining whether property or past services are the fair equivalent of consideration paid in money, the Issuer Trustee may take into account reasonable charges and expenses of organization and reorganization and payments for property and past services reasonably expected to benefit the Trust. In no case will a Unit be issued to a Designated Beneficiary.

3.3 No Pre-Emptive Rights

No Person shall be entitled, as a matter of right, to subscribe for or purchase any Units of the Trust. There are no pre-emptive rights attaching to the Units.

3.4 Fractional Units

If as a result of any act of the Issuer Trustee hereunder, any Person becomes entitled to a fraction of a Unit, such Person will not be entitled to receive a certificate therefor. Fractional Units will not, except to the extent that they may represent in the aggregate one or more whole Units, entitle the holders thereof to notice of or to attend or to vote at meetings of the Unitholders. Subject to the foregoing, such fractional Units will have attached thereto the rights, restrictions, conditions and limitations attaching to whole Units in the proportion that they bear to a whole Unit.

3.5 Allotment and Issue

Subject to Section 3.6, the Issuer Trustee may allot and issue Units at such time or times and in such manner (including pursuant to any plan from time to time in effect relating to reinvestment by the Unitholders of distributions of the Trust in Units) and to such Person, Persons or class of Persons as the Issuer Trustee in its sole discretion will determine. The price or the value of the consideration for which Units may be issued and the terms and conditions of issuance of the Units will be determined by the Issuer Trustee in its sole discretion. Not restricting the generality of the foregoing, the Issuer Trustee may accept amounts received from a Unitholder as a prepayment in respect of the obligation of the Unitholder to pay all or any part of the subscription price of Units to be issued at a later date by the Issuer Trustee. In such circumstances, such prepayment will form part of the Trust Property. In the event that Units are issued in whole or in part for a consideration other than money, the resolution of the Issuer Trustee allotting and issuing such Units will express the fair equivalent in money of the other consideration received.

3.6 Prohibited Issuances and Transfers

(1) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Declaration of Trust, at no time, may Units be issued or transferred to a Person who would be a "designated beneficiary" within the meaning of Part XII.2 of the ITA ("Designated Beneficiary"), and the Issuer Trustee will not accept a subscription for Units from, or issue or register a transfer of Units to, a Person unless the Person provides a declaration to the Issuer Trustee that it would not be a Designated Beneficiary and covenants to maintain such representation true for as long as it continues to hold one or more Units. If, notwithstanding the foregoing, the Issuer Trustee determines that a Person has purported to become or remain a Unitholder in breach of the above mentioned declaration or covenant, or if the Unitholder fails to provide, upon request, a declaration in form and content satisfactory to the Issuer Trustee that it is not a Designated Beneficiary, (i) the Issuer Trustee will require such Person to dispose of the Units within a specified period not to exceed 60 days to a Person who does not contravene the above mentioned limitation on ownership ("New Holder"), and (ii) effective immediately prior to the breach, such Person will be deemed to have ceased to be a holder of such Units, the voting and distribution rights attached to such Units will be suspended and such Units will be deemed not to be outstanding until acquired by a New Holder (provided that holders of other Units will not be entitled to any portion of the distributions that may have been paid in respect of Units that have been so deemed not to be outstanding) and such Person's rights in respect of such Units will be limited to receiving the net proceeds of the sale thereof. If such Person has not, within such period, sold such Units or provided the Issuer Trustee with a declaration in form and content satisfactory to the Issuer Trustee that it is not a Designated Beneficiary, the Issuer Trustee may sell such Units on behalf of such Person (and the Issuer Trustee will have the power of attorney of such Person to do so), and such Person's rights in respect of such Units will be limited to receiving the net proceeds of sale upon surrender of the certificates representing such Units.

(2) Subject to this section 3.6, and until the Issuer Trustee will have been required to do so under the terms hereof, the Issuer Trustee will not be bound to do or take any proceeding or action with respect to this section 3.6 by virtue of the powers conferred on it hereby. The Issuer Trustee will have the sole right and authority to make any determination required for the administration of the provisions of, or contemplated under this section 3.6, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, if the Issuer Trustee considers that there are reasonable grounds for believing that a contravention of the above mentioned limitation on ownership has occurred or may occur, the Issuer Trustee will make a determination with respect to the matter. Any such determination will be conclusive, final and binding for the purposes of this section 3.6 except to the extent modified by any subsequent determination by the Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee may require declarations as to whether a Unitholder is a Designated Beneficiary or as to factual information that will enable the Issuer Trustee to determine whether a Unitholder or a prospective transferee of a Unit may be a Designated Beneficiary. In any situation where it is unclear whether Units may be held by a Person who may be a Designated Beneficiary, the Issuer Trustee may exercise its discretion in determining whether such Person is or is not a Designated Beneficiary, and any such exercise by it of its discretion will be binding for the purposes of this section 3.6.

3.7 Liability of Unitholders

No Unitholder of the Trust, in its capacity as such, will incur or be subject to any liability, direct or indirect, absolute or contingent, in contract or in tort or of any other kind, to any Person in connection with: (i) the Trust Property or the ownership, use, operation, acquisition or disposition thereof or exercise or enjoyment of the rights, privileges, conditions or benefits attached thereto, associated therewith or derived therefrom; (ii) the obligations, liabilities, activities or affairs of the Trust; (iii) any actual or alleged act or omission of the Issuer Trustee or any other Person in respect of the activities or affairs of the Trust (whether or not authorized by or pursuant to this Declaration of Trust); (iv) any actual or alleged act or omission of the Issuer Trustee or any other Person in the performance or exercise, or purported or attempted performance or exercise, of any obligation, power, discretion or authority conferred upon the Issuer Trustee or such other Person in respect of the activities or affairs of the Trust (whether or not authorized by or pursuant to this Declaration of Trust); (v) any transaction entered into by the Issuer Trustee or by any other Person in respect of the activities or affairs of the Trust (whether or not authorized by or pursuant to this Declaration of Trust); or (vi) any taxes, levies, imposts or charges or fines, penalties or interest in respect thereof payable by the Trust or by the Issuer Trustee or by any other Person (except the Unitholders to the extent required by applicable tax laws) on behalf of or in connection with the activities or affairs of the Trust. No Unitholder will be liable to indemnify the Issuer Trustee or any other Person with respect to any such liability or liabilities incurred by the Issuer Trustee or by any such other Person or Persons or with respect to any taxes payable by the Trust or by the Issuer Trustee or any other Person on behalf of or in connection with the Trust. To the extent that any such liabilities of the Unitholders may arise, they will be enforceable only against, and will be satisfied only out of, the Trust Property to the full extent of such liability and the costs of any litigation or other proceedings in which such liability will have been determined, including without limitation, the fees and disbursements of counsel.

REDEMPTION OF UNITS

4.1 Redemption of Units

Each Unitholder will be entitled to require the Trust to redeem at any time and from time to time at the demand of such Unitholder all or any part of the Units held by such Unitholder as follows:

(1) The Unitholder will give notice in writing to the Trust at its head office of its intention to redeem Units and the number of Units to be redeemed.

(2) Upon receipt by the Trust of such notice from the Unitholder to redeem Units, the Unitholder will be entitled to receive, subject to subsection 4.1(3), an amount equal to the aggregate fair market value of such Units immediately before the redemption (the "Redemption Price") established by the Issuer Trustee, acting reasonably, payable by certified cheque or via wire transfer of funds.

(3) In the event that the Trust has insufficient funds to make the payment required pursuant to subsection 4.1(2) or such payment is restricted under the terms of the Indenture, the Trust will satisfy the Redemption Price, subject to compliance with any regulatory requirements, by either issuing a promissory note to the Unitholder, which note shall have a principal amount equal to the Redemption Price and such other terms as is determined at the time of issuance by the Issuer Trustee, or by distributing to the redeeming Unitholder in specie a proportionate amount of the Trust Property, the fair market value of which, as determined by the Issuer Trustee, acting reasonably, is equal to the Redemption Price. In the event that property is distributed in specie, the amount of Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption as contemplated by subsection 4.1(5) payable in connection with the redemption of Units shall be payable to the Unitholder in kind, and to the extent of the amount thereof, the Redemption Price of the Units being redeemed shall be reduced accordingly (the "Adjusted Redemption Price").

(4) Upon satisfaction of the Redemption Price or the Adjusted Redemption Price, as the case may be, the redeeming Unitholder will not be entitled to any rights or benefits, including voting and the right to receive distributions, in connection with the Units redeemed.

(5) Where the Trust distributes Trust Property in specie as contemplated in subsection 4.1(3), the Issuer Trustee shall designate and pay to the redeeming Unitholder such part of the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust as is realized by the Trust in connection with such in specie distribution, provided that the amount of the Net Realize Capital Gains on the Trust so allocated shall not exceed the amount, if any, by which the Redemption Price of the particular Units being redeemed exceeds the aggregate adjusted cost base of such Units to the Unitholder for the purpose of the ITA immediately before the redemption (the "Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption"). If the total Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption determined by the Issuer Trustee pursuant to the preceding sentence for all redeeming Unitholders in any taxation year exceeds the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for that year, the Net Realized

Capital Gains of the Trust for that taxation year shall be allocated rateably to all redeeming Unitholders for the year based on the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption as otherwise determined pursuant to the preceding sentence. The Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption designated and paid on the redemption of Units as determined under this subsection shall be deemed to be a distribution of Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for the particular taxation year in which the redemption occurs. If the Issuer Trustee is required to deduct or withhold an amount from such distribution, the Unitholder shall make the cash payment described in Section 11.7 to the Issuer Trustee on or prior to the date the Units are to be redeemed.

RIGHTS AND POWERS OF ISSUER TRUSTEE

5.1 General Rights and Powers

Subject to the specific restrictions and limitations set forth in this Declaration of Trust and notwithstanding the provisions of the Trustee Act (Ontario) or any other similar legislation in any jurisdiction, the Issuer Trustee will have, without the necessity of authorization by, and free from any power or control on the part of, the Unitholders, full, exclusive and absolute power, control and authority over the Trust Property and the Trust Activities to the same extent as if the Issuer Trustee were the sole and absolute owner thereof in its own right including, without limitation, such power, control and authority to do all such acts and things as in its sole judgment and discretion are necessary, incidental or desirable for carrying on the Trust Activities in accordance with the Program Agreements with such powers of delegation as may be permitted by this Declaration of Trust, including the right, power and authority to amend this Declaration of Trust subject to and in accordance with the terms hereof and to appoint, employ or contract with any Person as the Issuer Trustee may deem necessary, appropriate or desirable for the transaction of the Trust Activities, including for the administration of the Trust. The Issuer Trustee shall exercise the functions of the trustee of the Trust in Ontario, Canada. For greater certainty, the powers of the Issuer Trustee that may be exercised as aforesaid include the powers set forth in Section 5.2 to and including Section 5.18. The enumeration of any specific power or authority in this Declaration of Trust will not be construed as limiting the aforesaid power or authority or any other specific power or authority. Subject only to the express limitations contained in this Declaration of Trust, every discretion or power hereby conferred on the Issuer Trustee is an absolute and uncontrolled discretion or power.

5.2 Acquisition of Assets and Deposit of Funds

Subject to Section 2.1, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to acquire Investment Interests in accordance with the Program Agreements. Subject to compliance with the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to deposit any money forming part of the Trust Property with any bank (which bank may be an Affiliate of the Issuer Trustee) licensed under the laws of Canada or any trust company (which includes the Issuer Trustee) licensed under the laws of any province of Canada and to withdraw such deposits in accordance with the Program Agreements. The Issuer Trustee will have no liability for any loss which may occur by reason of the failure of any depository with whom such money has been deposited or for the depreciation of any investment.

5.3 Legal Title and Custody

The Issuer Trustee will have the power to cause any and all Trust Property to be held by and/or registered in the name of any Person.

5.4 Disposition of Trust Property

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to sell, convey, transfer and assign all Trust Property free and clear of any and all trusts hereby established, at public or private sale, for cash or on terms, with or without advertisement and subject to such restrictions, stipulations, agreements and reservations as it may deem proper.

5.5 Management of Trust Property

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to own, manage, use, invest and hold the Trust Property (including, without limitation, the power to make investments in Eligible Investments) and to enter into agreements in respect of the Trust Property or its use including, without limitation, agreements to modify, amend, extend, renew or terminate any grant or agreement relating to the Trust Property and to waive compliance with any of the terms and conditions thereof, all, in each case, without the approval of or notice to the Unitholders.

5.6 Power to Borrow Money and Issue Funding Obligations

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to:

(a) borrow or in any other manner raise money and to evidence the same by the issuance of Funding Obligations, by private placement, public offering or otherwise;

(b) reacquire or redeem Funding Obligations;

(c) execute and deliver any trust indenture or supplement thereto, security agreement, mortgage, pledge, hypothec, assignment or other instrument to secure Funding Obligations, and amendments, modifications, restatements or replacements thereof, whether by fixed or floating charge or by assignment or by the granting of a security interest, free and clear of any and all trusts hereby established and, in lieu of or in addition to granting any security, to grant to any Person a negative pledge whereby the Issuer Trustee agrees not to encumber any Trust Property and such other covenants as may be consistent with those set out in the Program Agreements or as may otherwise be specified by any applicable Rating Agency in accordance with the foregoing; and

(d) execute and/or deliver any agreement, instrument, certificate, direction or other document necessary or desirable in order to permit or give effect to the provisions of this Section 5.6, including, without limitation, prospectuses, offering memoranda, regulatory filings, dealer agreements, Underwriting Agreements, subscription agreements, letters of representation, consent letters, and any instruments ancillary thereto.

5.7 Hedging Agreements

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to enter into Hedging Agreements in connection with or related to the borrowing or other raising of money by the Issuer Trustee or the purchase or ownership of Investment Interests, provided that such Hedging Agreements may be entered into only at or prior to the time that such securities are sold, or such borrowing, other raising of money or purchase takes place, as applicable, or as otherwise expressly permitted in the Management Agreement; provided, however, that amendments, modifications or novations of or to a Hedging Agreement may be entered into at any time after the original Hedging Agreement was executed.

5.8 Execution of Instruments

Every deed, transfer, assignment, hypothec, agreement, certificate, direction, instrument, prospectus, or any other document which is necessary or desirable to be executed by the Trust, including, without limitation, any document evidencing Funding Obligations or relating to the issuance of Funding Obligations, will be signed on behalf of the Trust by the Issuer Trustee or its duly appointed agent, including the Manager.

5.9 Facsimile Signatures

The Issuer Trustee may authorize the use of facsimile signatures on the documents evidencing Funding Obligations, provided, however, that where facsimile signatures are so used, documents evidencing Funding Obligations will be manually countersigned or certified by a transfer agent, trustee, registrar or similar Person. If a Funding Obligation contains a printed or mechanically reproduced signature of a Person, the Issuer Trustee may issue the Funding Obligation notwithstanding that the Person has ceased to be a director, officer or signing officer of the Issuer Trustee, and the Funding Obligation will be as valid as if the Person were a director, an officer or a signing officer at the date of its issue.

5.10 Taxes

The Issuer Trustee will have the power to pay all taxes or assessments of whatever kind or nature imposed upon the Issuer Trustee and/or the Trust in connection with the Trust Property or the Trust Activities or upon or against the income from the Trust Activities or any part thereof, to settle and compromise disputed tax liabilities and, for the foregoing purposes, to make such returns and do all such other acts and things as may be deemed by the Issuer Trustee necessary or desirable. The Issuer Trustee will have the power to deduct and remit any taxes which are required by law to be deducted and remitted from any payment made by the Issuer Trustee under any Program Agreements or otherwise.

5.11 Collection

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to:

(a) collect, receive, give receipts for and sue for all sums of money or other property due to the Trust;

(b) consent to extensions of time for payment of, or the renewal of, any securities or obligations of the Trust;

(c) engage or intervene in, prosecute, defend, compound, compromise, abandon or adjust by arbitration or otherwise deal with or settle any actions, suits, proceedings, disputes, claims, demands or things relating to the Trust Property or the Trust Activities;

(d) exercise any and all remedies available to it under any Program Agreements or otherwise, including any power of foreclosure or sale available to the Issuer Trustee at law or pursuant to any agreement and, in connection with any such foreclosure or sale, to purchase or otherwise acquire title to any property and to convey good title thereto free of any and all trusts hereby established, or to take or retake possession of any property secured or unsecured thereunder or such other security;

(e) extend the time, with or without security, for the payment or delivery of any debts or property and to execute and enter into releases, agreements and other instruments; and

(f) pay or satisfy any debts or claims upon any evidence that the Issuer Trustee determines to be sufficient.

5.12 Expenses and Compensation of Issuer Trustee

(a) The Issuer Trustee will have the power to incur and make payment of any charges or expenses which in the opinion of the Issuer Trustee are necessary or incidental to or proper for carrying out any of the purposes of this Declaration of Trust and the Trust Activities, and to pay appropriate compensation or fees from the Trust Property to Persons with whom the Trust has contracted or transacted business including, without limitation, any charges, expenses, compensation or fees payable under or in connection with the Program Agreements.

(b) The Issuer Trustee will be entitled to be paid from the funds of the Trust, without any requirement of a passing of accounts in respect thereof or approval of the Unitholders, such fees as the Issuer Trustee and the Manager may agree to from time to time for its services hereunder and all reasonable expenses, disbursements and advances incurred or made by the Issuer Trustee in the administration or execution of the trusts hereby created (including the reasonable compensation and the disbursements of its counsel and all other advisers and assistants not regularly in its employ) until all the duties of the Issuer Trustee under the trusts hereby created shall be finally and fully performed, except any such expense, disbursement or advance as may arise from or in connection with the dishonesty, bad faith, wilful misconduct, negligence or reckless disregard of any duty or the failure to comply with the standard of care referred to in Section 7.1 by the Issuer Trustee, its officers, employees or agents. All such amounts will be payable at such times as the Issuer Trustee and the Manager may agree from time to time. All such amounts shall be exclusive of any applicable taxes and any applicable taxes shall be paid to the Issuer Trustee in addition to such amounts. Any amount not paid when due shall bear interest at a rate per annum equal to the rate designated by the Issuer Trustee as the then current rate charged by the Issuer Trustee or its successors from time to time to its corporate customers, payable on demand. After default and unless otherwise provided in the Indenture and any documents contemplated thereunder, all amounts so payable and the interest thereon shall be payable out of any funds coming into the possession of the Issuer Trustee or its successors in the trusts hereunder in priority to any payments to other Specified Creditors.

5.13 Allocation

The Issuer Trustee will have the power to determine conclusively whether money or other assets received by the Trust or expenses or disbursements made by the Trust will be charged or credited to income or capital or allocated between income and capital, provided, however, that such determination will not be inconsistent with calculation of income in accordance with the ITA at the time the determination is made.

5.14 Fiscal Year and Form of Accounts

The fiscal year of the Trust will end on December 31. The Issuer Trustee will have the power to determine and from time to time change the method or form in which the accounts of the Trust will be kept, provided such method or form reasonably complies with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles as applicable from time to time.

5.15 Power to Contract

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to appoint, employ or contract with any Person as the Issuer Trustee may deem necessary or desirable for the transaction of the Trust Activities and may transfer assets to such Person and, save and except for such matters as are listed in Section 2.2, delegate to such Person any or all of the discretionary powers given to the Issuer Trustee with respect to the management of the Trust Property. Without in any way limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to:

(a) enter into, execute, deliver, perform the obligations of the Trust under, and grant security as provided for in, the Program Agreements;

(b) appoint, employ or contract with the Manager or any other Person who, under the supervision of the Manager, may, among other things: (i) furnish and supervise or cause to be furnished and supervised the performance of the clerical and administrative services necessary to the administration of the Trust and the Trust

Property including, without limitation, the provision of office space, office equipment and personnel for the performance of such services, property management, administration and servicing, the maintenance of documents, books and Records for the Trust (including those described in Section 8.1), the receipt and disbursement of Trust Property, the servicing and payment of debt and other obligations and generally all matters relating to the obtaining of and the administration and servicing of Trust Property, including, without limitation, as provided in the Management Agreement; (ii) serve as an advisor to the Issuer Trustee, furnish reports to the Issuer Trustee and provide research, economic and statistical data in connection with the Trust Activities; (iii) act as consultant, accountant, correspondent, lender, technical advisor, counsel, broker and dealer, underwriter, fiscal agent, corporate fiduciary, escrow agent, depository, custodian or agent for collection from obligors, loan administrator, appraiser, bank, insurer or insurance agent, transfer agent or registrar or issuing and paying agent for Funding Obligations or in any other capacity deemed by the Issuer Trustee necessary or desirable; (iv) act as attorney or agent in the purchase or sale or other disposition of the Trust Property or the property secured thereby and the handling, prosecution or settling of any claims of the Trust and assist in the performance of such functions necessary in the management of the Trust as may be agreed upon with the Issuer Trustee; and (v) execute and deliver the Program Agreements. For greater certainty, the appointment by the Issuer Trustee of the Manager under the Management Agreement will, where applicable, be deemed to constitute adequate supervision by the Issuer Trustee for purposes of the Trustee Act (Ontario) and this Declaration of Trust of any Person thereby engaged in connection with the foregoing activities; and

(c) investigate, select and conduct negotiations with Persons acting in the capacities referred to in Section 5.15(b) and pay appropriate fees to, and enter into appropriate contracts with, employ or retain the services of, any of them in connection with the Trust Property or property secured thereby, other assets and any security related thereto funded, acquired, sold or otherwise disposed of, or committed, negotiated or contemplated to be funded, acquired, sold, or otherwise disposed of in connection with Funding Obligations.

5.16 Indemnification

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to indemnify or enter into agreements with respect to indemnification with any Person with whom the Issuer Trustee or the Trust deals to such extent as the Issuer Trustee determines necessary or desirable.

5.17 Further Powers

Subject to Section 2.1, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to perform and do all such other acts and things and to execute itself (or have executed by any Person appointed by it pursuant to Section 5.15) all such deeds, transfers, assignments, hypothecs, agreements, certificates, directions, instruments or other documents whatsoever as it deems necessary, proper or desirable in order to carry on the Trust Activities in accordance with and subject to the Program Agreements notwithstanding that such acts, things, deeds, transfers, assignments, hypothecs, agreements, certificates, directions, instruments or other documents are not herein specifically mentioned. Any determination as to what is necessary, proper or desirable in order to carry on the Trust Activities in accordance with the Program Agreements or otherwise, provided it is made by the Issuer Trustee honestly and in good faith, will be conclusive. Any construction of this Declaration of Trust or the existence of any power or authority hereunder, made honestly and in good faith by the Issuer Trustee upon the advice of counsel, will be conclusive to the extent consistent with the law. In construing the provisions of this Declaration of Trust, there will be a presumption in favour of a grant of power to the Issuer Trustee.

5.18 Auditors

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power from time to time to select and appoint and discharge and reappoint an auditor of the Trust in its discretion and to negotiate and fix the fees of any such auditor.

5.19 Defect in Appointment

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained, no action taken by the Issuer Trustee will be invalid by reason only of any defect that is thereafter discovered in its appointment.

5.20 Status

The Issuer Trustee shall not have the status of bankrupt and shall be resident in Canada for purposes of the ITA.

REPLACEMENT OF ISSUER TRUSTEE

6.1 Resignation of Issuer Trustee

(a) If the Issuer Trustee desires to resign and be discharged from the trusts and powers reposed in or conferred on it by this Declaration of Trust, it will provide 120 days written notice (or such shorter period of notice as the Unitholders , the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies may agree to) thereof to the Unitholders, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies provided that no such voluntary resignation shall be effective until a replacement Issuer Trustee acceptable to the Unitholders and the Indenture Trustee has been appointed and has executed a written agreement whereby such replacement Issuer Trustee agrees to assume the obligations of the Issuer Trustee hereunder, under the Program Agreements and under any other contract pursuant to which the Issuer Trustee is obligated.

(b) The Issuer Trustee shall resign if a material conflict of interest arises in its role as a trustee under this Declaration of Trust that is not eliminated within 90 days after the Issuer Trustee becomes aware that it has such a material conflict of interest. Forthwith after the Issuer Trustee becomes aware that it has such a material conflict of interest, it shall provide the Unitholders, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating

Agencies with written notice of the nature of such material conflict of interest. Upon such resignation, the Issuer Trustee shall (subject to Section 6.6) be discharged from its office under this Declaration of Trust. If, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.1(b), the Issuer Trustee has such a material conflict of interest, the validity and enforceability of this Declaration of Trust and any agreement entered into by the Issuer Trustee shall not be affected in any manner whatsoever by reason only of the existence of such material conflict of interest. If the Issuer Trustee contravenes the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.1(b), the Unitholders, may apply, on notice to the Rating Agencies, to a court of competent jurisdiction for an order that the Issuer Trustee be replaced as Issuer Trustee hereunder.

6.2 Removal of Issuer Trustee

The Issuer Trustee may be removed from its office under this Declaration of Trust by the Unitholders, at any time by notice in writing delivered to the Issuer Trustee not less than 90 days prior to the date that such removal is to take effect.

6.3 Vacancy

In the event of the bankruptcy or insolvency of the Issuer Trustee or the inability of the Issuer Trustee to exercise its duties under this Declaration of Trust, the Unitholders may forthwith terminate the term of office of the Issuer Trustee as trustee and, in such instance, a vacancy will occur. No vacancy (including upon a resignation of the Issuer Trustee pursuant to Section 6.1(b)) shall operate to annul this Declaration of Trust or affect the continuity of the Trust or terminate the appointment of the Manager under the Management Agreement.

6.4 Appointment of New Issuer Trustee

If, pursuant to this Article 6, the Issuer Trustee resigns or a vacancy occurs in the office of the Issuer Trustee for any reason, the Unitholders may by instrument in writing appoint a Trust Company, which either (i) has risk-based capital of at least $50,000,000 or, in the case of an entity that is not subject to risk-based capital adequacy requirements, has a combined capital and surplus of at least $50,000,000; or (ii) has been approved in writing by each Rating Agency prior to its appointment by the Unitholders, in order to replace the Issuer Trustee. If the Unitholders fails to make such appointment within 60 days of the occurrence of any such resignation, removal or vacancy, then the Issuer Trustee may make an application, on notice to the Rating Agencies, to a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a successor Issuer Trustee hereunder. If the Issuer Trustee elects not to make such an application, the Unitholders may do so on notice to the Rating Agencies. The expense of any act, document, deed or other instrument or thing required under this Section 6.4 will be satisfied from the Trust Property.

6.5 Merger, Consolidation and Amalgamation

Any company into which the Issuer Trustee may be merged or with which it may be consolidated or amalgamated, or any company resulting from any merger, consolidation or amalgamation to which the Issuer Trustee is a party or any company succeeding to the corporate trust business of the Issuer Trustee will be a successor Issuer Trustee under this Declaration of Trust without any further action on the part of the Issuer Trustee, provided that such company shall be a Trust Company.

6.6 Vesting in Successor Issuer Trustee

Any successor Issuer Trustee will become vested with all the estates, properties, rights, powers, duties, responsibilities and trusts of its predecessors in the trusts hereunder as if it had been originally named as Issuer Trustee pursuant to this Declaration of Trust. In furtherance of the foregoing, upon written request of the successor Issuer Trustee, the Issuer Trustee ceasing to act will do, make, execute, deliver or cause to be done, made, executed or delivered all such acts, documents, deeds or other instruments and things as may be necessary or desirable in order to more effectively assign, transfer and deliver to, and vest in, the successor Issuer Trustee, upon the trusts herein expressed, all the rights, powers and trusts of, and all property and money held by the Issuer Trustee so ceasing to act. The expense of any act, document, deed or other instrument or thing required under this Section 6.6 will be satisfied from the Trust Property.

6.7 Confidentiality

At all times (including, without limitation, at any time the Issuer Trustee should resign or be discharged from the trusts and powers reposed in or conferred on it by this Declaration of Trust), the Issuer Trustee (or the trustee so resigning and being discharged, as the case may be) will treat as confidential all information relating to the Trust, the Trust Activities and the transactions contemplated by the Program Agreements obtained by it in its capacity as Issuer Trustee.

6.8 Right to Disclose

The Issuer Trustee shall have the right to disclose any information disclosed or released to it if in the opinion of legal counsel to the Issuer Trustee it is required to disclose under any applicable laws, court order or directions of Governmental Authorities or if it is requested by a Rating Agency. The Issuer Trustee shall not be responsible or liable to any party for any loss or damage arising out of or in any way sustained or incurred or in any way relating to such disclosure.

ARTICLE 7
STANDARD OF CARE, LIMITATION OF LIABILITY OF ISSUER TRUSTEE AND OTHER MATTERS

7.1 Standard of Care

The Issuer Trustee will exercise its powers and carry out its obligations hereunder as Issuer Trustee honestly, in good faith and in the best interests of the Trust and the Unitholders and in connection therewith will exercise that degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent Person would exercise in comparable circumstances. To the extent that the Issuer Trustee has delegated or subcontracted the performance of all or a portion of its duties to the Manager as contemplated by Section 5.15, it will be deemed to have satisfied the aforesaid standard of care. Unless otherwise required by law, the Issuer Trustee will not be required to give bond, surety or security in any jurisdiction for the performance of any duties or obligations hereunder. The Issuer Trustee will not be required to devote its entire time to the Trust Activities. For greater certainty, the entering into of any Program Agreement by the Trust and the performance by the Trust of its obligations thereunder will be deemed to be in the best interests of the Unitholders and the Trust.

7.2 Limitation of Liability of Issuer Trustee

The Issuer Trustee has entered into this Declaration of Trust solely in its capacity as trustee of the Trust and not in its personal capacity, and any and all of the representations, warranties, undertakings, covenants, indemnities, agreements and other obligations made on the part of the Issuer Trustee herein are made and intended not as personal representations, warranties, undertakings, covenants, indemnities, agreements and other obligations by the Issuer Trustee or for the purpose or with the intention of binding the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity, but are made and intended for the purpose of binding only the Trust Property or a specific portion thereof. No property or assets of the Issuer Trustee, whether owned beneficially by it in its personal capacity or otherwise (other than the Trust Property), will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedures with regard to any of the representations, warranties, undertakings, covenants, indemnities, agreements and other obligations of the Trust or the Issuer Trustee hereunder, and no recourse may be had or taken, directly or indirectly, against the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity, any Unitholder or any Affiliate, shareholder, director, officer, representative, employee or agent of the Issuer Trustee or any predecessor or successor of the Issuer Trustee with regard to the representations, warranties, undertakings, covenants, indemnities, agreements and other obligations of the Trust or the Issuer Trustee hereunder; provided that the foregoing limitation will not apply in respect of any action or failure to act arising from or in connection with the wilful misconduct, negligence or the failure to comply with the standard of care referred to in Section 7.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Article 7, but subject to the Indenture, each Specified Creditor is entitled to recourse to the Trust Property to satisfy in full the obligations of the Trust to it even if the Issuer Trustee has no right, or only an impaired right, to seek indemnification from the Trust Property or to apply the Trust Property in satisfaction of such obligations.

7.3 Indemnification of the Issuer Trustee

The Issuer Trustee, its directors, officers, agents, representatives and employees will at all times be indemnified and saved harmless out of the Trust Property from and against all claims (including any claim arising out of the assessment of any tax on income by a taxing authority), demands, levies, penalties, suits, losses, actions, causes of action, costs, charges, fees and expenses, damages and liabilities whatsoever, including, without limitation, those arising out of or related to actions taken or omitted to be taken by any agent of the Issuer Trustee, including, without limitation, the Manager, as contemplated hereby, legal fees and disbursements on a substantial indemnity basis and costs and expenses incurred in connection with the enforcement of this indemnity (each, a "Claim"), which the Issuer Trustee, its directors, officers, representatives and employees may suffer or incur, whether at law or in equity, in any way caused by or arising, directly or indirectly, in respect of any act, deed, matter or thing whatsoever made, done, acquiesced in or omitted in or about or in relation to the execution of its duties as Issuer Trustee or which it sustains or incurs in or about or in relation to the Trust Property and the Trust Activities. Further, the Issuer Trustee will not be liable to the Trust, to any Unitholder or to any other Person for any loss or damage relating to any matter regarding the Trust, including any loss or diminution in the value of the Trust Property. The foregoing provisions of this Section 7.3 do not apply to the extent that in any circumstances there has been wilful misconduct, gross negligence or the failure to comply with standard of care referred to in Section 7.1 on the part of the Issuer Trustee, its directors, officers, agents, representatives or employees excluding the other parties to the Program Agreements. Notwithstanding any other provision hereof, this indemnity will survive the removal or resignation of the Issuer Trustee, the termination of this Declaration of Trust and the termination of any trust created hereby.

7.4 Reliance upon Advice

The Issuer Trustee may rely and act upon any statement, notice, report or opinion prepared by or any advice received from the Manager or from the auditors, counsel or other professional advisors of the Issuer Trustee and will not be responsible or held liable for any loss or damage resulting from so relying or acting if the Issuer Trustee acted reasonably and in good faith relied upon the advice received and if the professional advisor was aware that the Issuer Trustee was receiving the advice in its capacity as Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee is entitled to be reimbursed from the Trust Property for all costs, charges and expenses it incurs in connection with obtaining any such statement, notice, report, opinion or advice. The Issuer Trustee is entitled to rely and act upon the genuineness and authenticity of any writing submitted to it that it in good faith believes to be genuine.

7.5 Retain Experts

The Issuer Trustee may appoint such agents and employ or retain such counsel, accountants, engineers, appraisers or other experts or advisers as it may reasonably require for the purpose of discharging its duties hereunder and shall not be responsible for any misconduct on the part of any of them. The Issuer Trustee may pay remuneration out of the Trust Property for all services performed for it in the discharge of the trusts hereof without taxation for costs or fees of any counsel, solicitor or attorney.

7.6 Reliance on Experts

The Issuer Trustee may act and rely and shall be protected in acting in good faith on the opinion or advice of or information obtained from any agent, counsel, accountant, engineer, appraiser or other expert or adviser in relation to any matter arising in the performance of its duties under the Program Agreements.

7.7 Provisions Regarding Liability

Any written instrument creating an obligation of the Issuer Trustee will be conclusively deemed to have been executed by the Issuer Trustee only in its capacity as Issuer Trustee. Any written instrument creating an obligation of the Issuer Trustee will contain a provision to the effect that the obligations thereunder are not binding upon the Issuer Trustee except in its capacity as Issuer Trustee, nor will recourse be had to the property of the Issuer Trustee except in its capacity as Issuer Trustee, but that the Trust Property or a specific portion thereof only will be bound, and may at the request of the Issuer Trustee make specific provision to the foregoing effect and contain any further provisions which the Issuer Trustee may deem appropriate, but the omission of any such provisions will not operate to invalidate any such instrument or to impose liability on the Issuer Trustee, except as aforesaid. The Issuer Trustee shall not be required to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur financial liability in the performance of its duties hereunder.

ARTICLE 8
RECORDS

8.1 Records to be Kept

The Issuer Trustee will keep or cause to be kept at the head office of the Trust a copy of this Declaration of Trust, a register of Unitholders, minutes of meetings and resolutions of Unitholders, minutes of meetings and resolutions of the Issuer Trustee, and such Records as are by law or good business practice necessary. The Records may be kept at the office of any Person whom the Issuer Trustee has appointed to maintain the same, provided that the Issuer Trustee has access to the Records on one Business Day's notice to such Person.

8.2 Segregation of Assets

The Issuer Trustee shall maintain the Trust Property separate from all other property in its possession.

8.3 Method of Keeping Records

Where this Declaration of Trust requires the Issuer Trustee to cause a Record to be kept, it may be kept in bound or loose-leaf form or by means of a mechanical, electronic or other device.

8.4 Annual Financial Statements

A copy of the annual financial statements of the Trust, signed by the Issuer Trustee, shall be mailed or otherwise made available within 120 days following the end of a fiscal year to which they relate to each Unitholder. The financial statements shall include all information required to be included in annual financial statements of the Trust by applicable laws.

ARTICLE 9
MEETINGS OF UNITHOLDERS AND DECISION OF UNITHOLDERS

9.1 Annual Meeting

There will not be an annual meeting of the Unitholders.

9.2 Other Meetings

The Issuer Trustee will have power at any time to call meetings of the Unitholders at such time and place as the Issuer Trustee may determine. Unitholders holding in the aggregate not less than a majority of the outstanding Units may requisition the Issuer Trustee in writing to call a meeting of the Unitholders for the purposes stated in the requisition. The requisition shall state in reasonable detail the business proposed to be transacted at the meeting and will be sent to the Issuer Trustee at the address of the Issuer Trustee. Upon receiving the requisition, the Issuer Trustee will call a meeting of the Unitholders to transact the business referred to in the requisition. If the Issuer

Trustee does not within 10 days after receiving the requisition call a meeting, any Unitholder who signed the requisition may call the meeting.

9.3 Quorum and Voting

A quorum for any meeting of the Unitholders will be persons present being Unitholders or representing by proxy Unitholders who hold in the aggregate a majority of the total number of outstanding Units. Unitholders may attend and vote at all meetings of the Unitholders either in person or by proxy. Each Unit will be entitled to one vote at all meetings of the Unitholders. Any action to be taken by the Unitholders will, except as otherwise required by this Declaration of Trust, or by law, be authorized when approved by a majority of the votes cast at a meeting of the Unitholders. The chairman of any such meeting will not have a second or casting vote.

9.4 Written Resolution

Any business which may be conducted at a meeting of the Unitholders may be approved by a resolution in writing in lieu thereof. Notice of such resolution will be given to all Unitholders and approval of such resolution will be evidenced by the signature on any such resolution or counterpart thereof by the required percentage of Unitholders for the matter to be determined.

AMENDMENT

10.1 Amendment

Subject to Section 2.1 and compliance with the terms of the applicable Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee may, from time to time, amend, vary, supplement, replace or restate the provisions of this Declaration of Trust without the consent or approval of the Unitholders or any court as follows:

(a) to the extent deemed necessary by the Issuer Trustee in good faith to be necessary to ensure compliance with, or to remove any conflicts or other inconsistencies which may exist between any term of this Declaration of Trust and the provisions of, any applicable law in effect from time to time;

(b) to the extent deemed necessary by the Issuer Trustee in good faith to be necessary to make any change or correction in this Declaration of Trust which is a typographical change or correction or which the Issuer Trustee has been advised by legal counsel is required for the purpose of curing any ambiguity or defect or inconsistent provision or clerical omission or mistake or manifest error contained herein, or

(c) subject to the satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition, to the extent deemed necessary or desirable in the sole discretion of the Issuer Trustee to permit or facilitate the carrying on of the Trust Activities, including the accommodation of requests made by the Rating Agencies or regulatory authorities in relation to the issuance of Funding Obligations.

However, any such amendment may be made only if it will not materially adversely affect the interest of any Unitholder, unless that Unitholder has also approved of the amendment in writing. The Issuer Trustee will immediately upon the entering into thereof, provide the Rating Agencies and the Indenture Trustee with a copy of any amendment, variation, supplement, replacement or restatement of this Declaration of Trust.

10.2 Automatic Amendment

Upon the Issuer Trustee ceasing to be a trustee of the Trust, this Declaration of Trust will be automatically amended to delete any reference to the name of the trustee so ceasing to be a trustee of the Trust and to substitute therefor the name of the successor trustee of the Trust. Notice of any change in the Issuer Trustee may be endorsed upon or attached to this Declaration of Trust and signed by the successor Issuer Trustee and every such notice will be sufficient evidence to any Person dealing with the Issuer Trustee under this Declaration of Trust as to the facts to which it relates.

10.3 Supplemental Declaration of Trust

The Issuer Trustee is authorized to execute any supplemental declaration of trust to give effect to amendments to this Declaration of Trust made pursuant to this Article 10. The Issuer Trustee shall not be obligated to enter into any such supplemental declaration if it adversely affects the Issuer Trustee's rights, duties or immunities under this Declaration of Trust or otherwise. No amendment to or amendment and restatement of this Declaration of Trust, whether pursuant to this Article 10 or otherwise, shall be construed as a termination of the Trust or the settlement or establishment of a new trust.

DISTRIBUTION OF TRUST PROPERTY[1]

11.1 Distributions

(1) The Issuer Trustee may declare to be payable and make distributions, from time to time, out of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust, capital of the Trust or otherwise, in any year, in such amount or amounts, and on such dates as the Issuer Trustee may determine, to the Unitholders at the record date for such distribution. The Issuer Trustee may declare such amounts to be payable or authorize such distributions in advance by way of a standing resolution that is effective for a period not exceeding 12 months after the date of the resolution.

(2) Where the Trust proposes to distribute Trust Property in specie to a redeeming Unitholder as contemplated in subsection 4.1(3), and the Issuer Trustee reasonably expects that such in specie distribution will give rise to Income of the Trust and / or Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust in excess of the amount of the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption to the particular Unitholder whose Units are being redeemed (collectively, the "Excess Income on Redemption"), the Issuer Trustee shall declare to be payable and make a distribution, on the record date that is one Business Day before the redemption, to Unitholders at such record date in an amount equal to the estimated Excess Income on Redemption. Such distribution will be satisfied by the issuance of additional Units, or fractions of Units, having a fair market value equal to the amount of such distribution. If the Issuer Trustee is required to deduct or withhold an amount from such distribution, the applicable Unitholder shall make the cash payment described in Section 11.7 to the Issuer Trustee on or prior to the date the distribution.

(3) If the Issuer Trustee declares to be payable or makes a distribution pursuant to subsections 11.1(1) or 11.1(2) without determining the portion of such distribution that is payable out of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust, capital of the Trust or otherwise, such allocation shall be made pursuant to subsection 11.2(2).

(4) Having regard to the present intention of the Issuer Trustee to make payable to Unitholders all of the Income of the Trust and Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for each taxation year so that the Trust will not have any liability for tax under Part I of the ITA in any taxation year (other than alternative minimum tax or taxes payable under the "SIFT trust" rules in the ITA), unless the Issuer Trustee, in its sole discretion determines otherwise, the following amounts will, without any further actions on the part of the Issuer Trustee, be due and payable to the Unitholders of record on the last day in each such taxation year:

(a) an amount equal to the amount, if any, by which the Income of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of (A) the aggregate of the portions of the distributions paid or payable by the Trust which have been determined by the Issuer Trustee to have been payable by the Trust out of the Income of the Trust for such year, if any, and (B) the aggregate of the portions of distributions deemed by subsection 11.2(2)(a) to be paid or payable by the Trust out of the Income of the Trust for such year; and

(b) an amount equal to the amount, if any, by which the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of (A) any amount of the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption for the year payable to redeeming Unitholders pursuant to subsection 4.1(5), (B) the aggregate of the portions of the distributions paid or payable by the Trust which have been determined by the Issuer Trustee to have been payable by the Trust out of Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year, if any, and (C) the aggregate of the portions of distributions deemed by subsection 11.2(2)(b) to be paid or payable by the Trust out of the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year, if any.

Any determinations by the Issuer Trustee not to make a distribution described in this subsection 11.1(4) must be exercised by the Issuer Trustee in writing prior to December 31 of the applicable taxation year.

(5) The proportionate share of each Unit of the amount of any distribution made pursuant to this section will be determined by dividing such amount by the number of issued and outstanding Units on the applicable record date in respect of a distribution pursuant to subsections 4.1(5), 11.1(1) or 11.1(2) and on the last day of the taxation year in respect of a distribution pursuant to subsection 11.1(4). Each Unitholder's share of the amount of any such distribution will be an amount equal to the proportionate share of each Unit of such amount multiplied by the number of Units owned of record by each such Unitholder on such applicable record date or the last day of the taxation year, as the case may be, and such Unitholder shall, on such date, be entitled to enforce payment of the Unitholder's share. Subject to subsections 4.1(5) and 11.1(2) and section 11.3, amounts which are payable to Unitholders will be paid in cash.

11.2 Allocation

(1) Subject to subsection 11.2(2), distributions payable to the Unitholders pursuant to Article 11 will be deemed to be distributions of Income of the Trust (including dividends), Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust, returns of capital of the Trust or other items in such amount as the Issuer Trustee in its absolute discretion determines and will be allocated to the Unitholders in the same proportions as distributions received by the Unitholders.

(2) If the Issuer Trustee has declared to be payable or made one or more distributions in a taxation year pursuant to subsection 11.1(1) without determining the portion of such distributions that is payable out of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust, capital of the Trust or otherwise, such distributions shall be deemed to be paid or payable out of:

(a) first, the Income of the Trust for such year to the extent, if any, that the Income of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of the amounts in subsection 11.1(4)(a)(A);

(b) second, the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year to the extent, if any, that the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of the amounts in subsection 11.1(4)(b)(A) and 11.1(4)(b)(B); and

(c) as to any balance, the capital of the Trust;

and such amounts will be allocated to the Unitholders in the same proportions as such distributions were received by the Unitholders.

(3) For greater certainty it is hereby declared that any distribution of Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust will include the non-taxable portion of the capital gains of the Trust which are included in such distribution.

11.3 Payment of Distributions

(1) Distributions to a Unitholder (other than distributions described in subsections 4.1(5) and 11.1(2)) will be made by cash, wire transfer or cheque payable to or to the order of the Unitholder or by such other manner provided for in subsection 11.3(3). The payment, if made by cheque, will be conclusively deemed to have been made upon hand delivery of a cheque to the Unitholder or to its agent duly authorized in writing or upon the mailing of a cheque by prepaid first-class mail addressed to the Unitholder at its address set out in the records of the Issuer Trustee unless the cheque is not paid on presentation, or in any other manner determined by the Issuer Trustee in its discretion. The Issuer Trustee may issue a replacement cheque if it is satisfied that the original cheque has not been received or has been lost or destroyed upon being furnished with such evidence of loss, indemnity or other document in connection therewith that the Issuer Trustee may in its discretion consider necessary.

(2) The Issuer Trustee may, in its sole discretion, transfer temporarily from capital to income within the Trust sufficient cash to facilitate payments of Income of the Trust to Unitholders. A permanent transfer from capital to income may be effected if payments made by and /or expenses of the Trust in any year exceed the aggregate of the net income and Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust in such year.

(3) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, a distribution to a Unitholder may be paid (i) by the issuance of additional Units, or fractions of Units having a fair market value equal to the amount of such distribution, (ii) by the issuance of a promissory note for a principal amount equal to the amount of such distribution and/or (iii) in specie by the transfer of Trust Property having a fair market value equal to the amount of such distribution, all as may be determined by the Issuer Trustee, acting reasonably. The Issuer Trustee acknowledges and agrees that it will elect to make payment to a Unitholder of the amount of a distribution in the manner described in this subsection 11.3(3) only if it has received prior written notice from the Unitholder that such payment method is acceptable, and the Unitholder makes the cash payment described in Section 11.7 to the Issuer Trustee, which written notice may be revoked in writing by the Unitholder at any time. If the Issuer Trustee elects to make payment of the amount of a distribution by the issuance of a promissory note, such promissory note shall bear interest at a fixed or floating rate, shall be repayable on demand or on the expiry of a stated term, and shall contain such other terms all of which may be determined by the Issuer Trustee such that the fair market value of such promissory note is equal to the amount of the distribution. Any such promissory note or additional Units issued, or Trust Property transferred, by the Trust shall constitute absolute and unconditional payment in full of the distribution and, by becoming a Unitholder, each Unitholder hereby acknowledges that any such note, additional Units or transfer of Trust Property will be accepted by the Unitholder as such absolute and unconditional payment of the distribution payable to the Unitholder.

11.4 Legal Rights

For greater certainty, it is hereby declared that the Unitholders shall have the legal right to enforce payment of any amount to be distributed or payable hereunder at the time such amount is due and payable.

11.5 Income Tax Matters

In reporting income for income tax purposes, the Trust will claim the maximum amount available to it as deductions under the relevant law, unless the Issuer Trustee determines otherwise.

11.6 Designations

In accordance with and to the extent permitted by the ITA, the Issuer Trustee will, in each taxation year, make such designations for income tax purposes in respect of amounts paid or payable or deemed to be paid to the Unitholders for such amounts that the Issuer Trustee considers to be reasonable in all circumstances, including designations relating to taxable dividends received or deemed to be received by the Trust in the year on shares of taxable Canadian corporations, net taxable capital gains of the Trust in the year and foreign source income of the Trust and foreign taxes in respect of such foreign source income for the year, if any.

11.7 Withholding Taxes

The Issuer Trustee will deduct or withhold from distributions or other amounts payable under this Declaration of Trust amounts required by law to be deducted or withheld from such distributions or payments, whether such distributions or payments are satisfied in the form of cash, cheque, promissory note, additional Units or otherwise. To the extent that any amounts are deducted or withheld from payments made by cash, cheque or wire transfer, including those described in subsection 11.3(1), such deducted or withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes as having been paid to the recipient of the payment in respect of the distribution or other amount payable, provided that such deducted or withheld amounts are actually remitted in accordance with applicable law to the appropriate taxing authority. In the event that the Issuer Trustee makes a distribution or payment that is satisfied in a manner other than cash, cheque or wire transfer, including those described in subsections 4.1(3), 4.1(5) or 11.3(3), the recipient of the payment shall provide cash to the Issuer Trustee in amount equal to any required deduction or withholding, which the Issuer Trustee shall forthwith remit to the appropriate taxing authority on behalf of the Unitholder.

ARTICLE 12
TERMINATION OF THE TRUST

12.1 Termination

(a) The Trust will continue in full force and effect for a period of twelve months from the date hereof and thereafter for so long as any Funding Obligations remain outstanding and until the Trust has satisfied all of its obligations under the Program Agreements or otherwise for the purposes of carrying on the Trust Activities. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Issuer Trustee may, with the unanimous approval of Unitholders, wind-up the affairs of the Trust and terminate the Trust and distribute the Trust Property then remaining to the Unitholders in proportion to the number of Units held by each Unitholder no later than the date that is one day prior to the 21st anniversary of the death of the last surviving lineal descendent of Queen Elizabeth, II of England living at the date this declaration is made.

(b) Subject to Section 12.1(a), the Issuer Trustee may, with the unanimous approval of the Unitholders, wind up the affairs of the Trust and terminate the Trust. To the fullest extent permitted by law, and notwithstanding any duty otherwise existing at law or in equity, the Issuer Trustee shall consider only the interests of the Trust, including its creditors, in acting on the matters referred to in this Section 12.1. On the date the Trust is terminated, the Issuer Trustee will, upon receipt of such releases, indemnities and refunding agreements as the Issuer Trustee may deem necessary for its protection, distribute the remaining Trust Property, after payment of all other obligations of the Trust, in cash or in kind , or partly in each, to the Unitholders in proportion to the number of Units held by each Unitholder

In carrying out its obligations hereunder, the Manager may rely upon the opinion or advice of or information obtained from any counsel, auditor, valuer or certificates from officers of any of the other parties to Program Agreements. Unless otherwise required by applicable law, the Manager will not be required to give bond, surety or security in any jurisdiction for the performance of any duties or obligations hereunder. The Manager will not be required to devote its entire time to its duties hereunder. Notwithstanding anything else to the contrary herein contained, nothing herein shall be interpreted or construed as an obligation of or on the part of the Manager, and the Manager shall not be liable or obligated, to pay or make any payment of, on or in respect of any debt, liability or obligation of the Issuer (including any payment of, on or in respect of any Issuer Funding Obligations or under any other Program Agreement), as agent for or on behalf of the Issuer or otherwise, except from the monies or funds of the Issuer which are made available to the Manager pursuant to this Agreement or the other Program Agreements for the purpose of such payment.

5.2 Compliance with Program Agreements; Conformity with Law

The Manager acknowledges that it has received copies of the Program Agreements, the Act and the Regulations in effect on the date hereof and is familiar with and understands the duties of the respective parties thereto or governed thereby, including those duties of the Issuer which are being delegated to the Manager hereunder. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Manager shall perform its duties hereunder in a manner consistent with any applicable provisions of the Program Agreements in effect from time to time, and the Manager will not, in performing its obligations hereunder, take any action which it knows or ought reasonably to know would cause it or the Issuer to be in violation of any law, rule or regulation applicable to it. The Manager will use reasonable commercial efforts to comply with the terms applicable to the Issuer when acting on its behalf under all Program Agreements and will use reasonable commercial efforts in accordance with its Standard of Care to take such actions as would reasonably be expected to result in the representations and warranties given by the Issuer in any Program Agreement being true and correct in all material respects when made.

5.3 Liabilities

Except as provided in Section 5.6,

(a) the Manager will not be liable for any liabilities of the Issuer; and

(b) subject to the payment priorities specified in the Program Agreements, the Issuer agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Manager from and against any and all liabilities which may be imposed on, incurred by or assessed against the Manager as a result of any act or omission of the Issuer or the Manager under this Agreement or under any Program Agreement; provided that this Section 5.3(b) does not apply to the extent that in any circumstances there has been wilful misconduct or gross negligence of the Manager or its respective officers, employees or agents or any failure to comply with the Standard of Care.

To the extent that a liability is attributable solely to a single Series or a number of specific Series of Issuer Funding Obligations, the Manager will first exhaust its recourse against the assets available for recovery of such liability and designated to such Series of Issuer Funding Obligations. If such assets are insufficient to satisfy the indemnity set out in this Section 5.3, or if the liability is not attributable to a single Series or a number of specific Series of Issuer Funding Obligations, the liability will be satisfied on a pro rata basis as among the assets available for recovery of such liability and designated to all Issuer Funding Obligations.

Each party expressly disclaims any intention to create a partnership, and neither the Issuer nor the Manager will be deemed to be carrying on business in partnership by reason of its execution and delivery of this Agreement or the exercise or performance by it of its respective rights and obligations hereunder.

5.4 Compensation of the Manager

In consideration of and as compensation for all services provided and duties performed by the Manager pursuant to this Agreement, and so long as the Financial Services Manager is also the Manager, all services provided and duties performed by the Financial Services Manager, the Issuer will pay to the Manager, subject to the payment priorities specified in the Program Agreements, the Management Fees. The Management Fees are exclusive of any applicable sales taxes and the Issuer shall pay to the Manager the amount of any applicable sales taxes in addition to such fees.

5.5 Compensation of the Issuer

In consideration of the Issuer engaging in the activities contemplated by the Act, the Manager will pay to the Issuer, on a monthly basis, the sum of $10 per month for any month or part thereof that the Issuer is engaged in such activities (the "Issuer Compensation"). The Issuer Compensation is exclusive of any applicable sales taxes and the Manager shall pay to the Issuer the amount of any applicable sales taxes in addition to the Issuer Compensation.

The Issuer and the Manager agree that in respect of any month that the Issuer has an amount payable to the Manager under Section 5.4 in an amount that is not less than $10 (plus the amount of any applicable sales taxes on the Issuer Compensation), the Manager's obligation to pay the compensation to the Issuer under this Section will be fully satisfied by way of setting-off $10 (plus the amount of any applicable sales taxes on the Issuer Compensation) of the amount payable by the Issuer to the Manager under Section 5.4 against the Manager's amount payable to the Issuer under this Section.

5.6 Indemnification by Manager

(a) The Manager shall indemnify and defend and hold harmless the Issuer from and against, any and all liabilities which may be imposed on, incurred by or assessed against the Issuer as the result of any wilful misconduct or gross negligence by the Manager, its officers, employees or agents or any failure to comply with the Standard of Care, provided that the Manager will have the exclusive right to compromise or defend, through counsel selected and retained by the Manager, any such liabilities or related claims at its own expense, which decision will be binding upon the Issuer.

(b) The Manager shall indemnify each Indenture Indemnified Person and defend and hold harmless each such Indenture Indemnified Person from and against, any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, payments and claims, and reasonable costs or expenses, of any kind whatsoever (collectively, "Indenture Indemnified Losses") imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Indenture Indemnified Person, as a result of (i) the failure of the Manager to perform its covenants and other obligations under this Agreement; or (ii) the breach by the Manager of any of its representations or warranties under this Agreement and, except to the extent of Indenture Indemnified Losses resulting from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Indenture Indemnified Person seeking indemnification

hereunder; provided that, in each case, the Manager shall not be required to indemnify an Indenture Indemnified Person for any amount paid or payable by such Indenture Indemnified Person in the settlement of any Proceeding or investigation without the written consent of the Manager, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Promptly after receipt by an Indenture Indemnified Person of notice of the commencement of any Proceeding or investigation, such Indenture Indemnified Person shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the Manager under this Section 5.6(b), notify the Manager in writing of the commencement thereof. Failure by an Indenture Indemnified Person to so notify the Manager shall relieve the Manger from the obligation to indemnify and hold harmless such Indenture Indemnified Person under this Section 5.6(b) only to the extent that the Manager suffers actual prejudice as a result of such failure. With respect to any Proceeding or investigation brought by a third party for which indemnification may be sought under this Section 5.6(b), the Manager shall be entitled to conduct and control, at its expense and with counsel of its choosing that is reasonably satisfactory to such Indenture Indemnified Person, the defence of any such Proceeding or investigation (in which case the Manager shall not thereafter be responsible for the fees and expenses of any separate counsel retained by the Indenture Indemnified Person except as set forth below); provided, that the Indenture Indemnified Person shall have the right to participate in such Proceeding or investigation through counsel chosen by it and at its own expense. Notwithstanding the Manager's election to assume the defence of any Proceeding or investigation, the Indenture Indemnified Person shall have the right to employ separate counsel, and the Manager shall bear the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of such separate counsel, if (i) the defendants in any such action include both the Indenture Indemnified Person and the Manager and the Indenture Indemnified Person shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defences available to it that are different from or additional to those available to the Manager, (ii) the Manager shall not have employed counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indenture Indemnified Person to represent the Indenture Indemnified Person within a reasonable time after notice of the institution of such action, or (iii) the Manager authorizes the Indenture Indemnified Person to employ separate counsel at the expense of the Manager. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Manager shall not be obligated to pay for the fees, costs and expenses of more than one separate counsel for the Indenture Indemnified Persons other than one local counsel, if appropriate. The Manager will not, without the prior written consent of the Indenture Indemnified Person, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to any pending or threatened claim or Proceeding in respect of which indemnification may be sought under this Section 5.6(b) (whether or not the Indenture Indemnified Person is an actual or potential party to such claim or action) unless such settlement, compromise or consent includes an unconditional release of the Indenture Indemnified Person from all liability arising out of such claim or Proceeding.

(c) Indemnification under Section 5.6(b) shall survive any repeal of, modification of, or supplement to, or judicial invalidation of, the Act and shall survive the termination of this Agreement and will rank pari passu with other general, unsecured obligations of the Manager.

(d) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement, it is expressly understood that the Manager is not agreeing to indemnify or hold the Issuer or any Indenture Indemnified Person harmless with respect to any of the following:

(i) payments due on Issuer Funding Obligations or other amounts borrowed;

(i) any breach or failure to perform on the part of any other third party under any Program Agreement;

(ii) any claim arising out of the assessment of any tax or payments in lieu of tax by a taxing authority against the Issuer;

(iii) any liability of the Issuer or any Indenture Indemnified Person accruing after the termination of this Agreement unless attributable to the actions or omissions of the Manager prior to such termination;

(iv) any losses of the Issuer or any Indenture Indemnified Person arising due to risks inherent in the Issuer Investment Interest;

(v) any statements or certificates provided by the Issuer to the effect that (X) any Funding Obligation is consistent with the Financing Plan or (Y) the estimated Finance Amount that would have become due and payable in any Reference Period is expected to align with the Fair Allocation Amount determined in respect of such Reference Period; or

(vi) any losses resulting from changes in law after the date hereof, whether such changes in law are effected by means of any legislative enactment or any final and non-appealable judicial decision.

(e) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement, it is expressly understood that the Manager is not agreeing to indemnify or hold harmless: (i) the Issuer with respect to any amount for which the Issuer agrees to indemnify the Manager hereunder; or (ii) the Issuer Trustee with respect to any liabilities resulting from the failure of the Issuer Trustee to satisfy the standard of care set out in the Declaration of Trust. Where the Manager has assumed total defense of a claim, it shall agree to ensure that any settlement of such claim does not include any form of admission of liability on the part of the Issuer Trustee (in its personal capacity).

5.7 Contracting with Itself and Affiliates

In the exercise of its rights, duties and obligations, the Manager may, if it is acting in good faith, enter into, as Manager for the Issuer, agreements and other contracts to which the Manager, in its personal capacity, or an Affiliate of the Manager, is a party.

The Manager's rights and obligations under this Agreement (other than under Sections 5.3, 5.4, 5.6 and 8.5) will terminate, if the Manager receives a termination notice from (i) the Issuer Trustee, with the consent of the Indenture Trustee, or (ii) the Indenture Trustee, subject to the terms and conditions of the Indenture, in each case, on the 30$^{th}$ day after receipt of such notice. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no termination shall be effective until a replacement manager that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition has been approved and has entered into a management agreement whereby the replacement manager agrees to assume, in substance, the obligations of the Manager hereunder. Upon the termination of its rights and obligations under this Agreement, the Manager will notify the Rating Agencies and, promptly and upon the request of the Issuer, deliver to the Issuer all records (including Investment Interest Records) in the possession of the Manager relating to the performance of its services hereunder.

ARTICLE 8

8.3 Amendments and Waivers

(a) Subject to Section 8.3(b), this Agreement may be amended, supplemented, modified, restated or replaced from time to time by written instrument signed by the Issuer and the Manager. The Manager will forthwith after the execution of any such instrument by the Issuer and the Manager provide the Rating Agencies with a copy of such instrument.

(b) No provision of this Agreement may be amended, supplemented, modified, restated or replaced in any material respect without first obtaining the written consent of the Indenture Trustee in accordance with the Indenture and such amendment, supplement, modification or replacement will only be effective if the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied.

(c) No waiver of any provision of this Agreement, nor consent to any departure by any party therefrom, shall in any event be effective unless the same shall be in writing and signed by such party and such waiver or consent, if material, will only be effective if the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied, and then said waiver or consent shall be effective only in the specific instance and for the specific purpose for which given. No failure on the part of any party to exercise, and no delay in exercising, any right hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof.

8.4 Withholding Rights

8.5 No Petition

The Manager hereby agrees that it will not, prior to the date that is one year and one day after the termination of the Indenture and payment in full of the Issuer Funding Obligations and any other amounts owed under the Indenture, institute or encourage against the Issuer, or join or acquiesce in any institution against the Issuer of, any bankruptcy, reorganization, arrangement, insolvency, winding-up or liquidation proceedings, or other proceedings under any federal or provincial bankruptcy, insolvency or similar law in connection with any obligations relating to this Agreement or any of the other Program Agreements. After the completion of the Transfer on the applicable Closing Date, the IESO will have no right, title or interest in the Investment Interest related to the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice, and the related Investment Interest shall not form part of the estate of the IESO in the event of an Insolvency Event in respect of the IESO.

(j) No Transfer. Except for Permitted Transfers, the IESO has not sold, transferred, assigned or otherwise conveyed any interest in the Regulatory Asset to any Person.

(k) Liens. IESO has not pledged or otherwise granted a Lien to any Person in the Regulatory Asset and to the IESO's knowledge (after due inquiry), there is no registered financing statement listing the IESO as debtor covering or extending to the Regulatory Asset.

(l) Tax Liens. The IESO (i) is not aware, after due inquiry, of any judgment or tax lien filing against the IESO, and (ii) is not a non-resident of Canada for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada).

(m) Solvency. On the date hereof and after giving effect to each Transfer, the IESO:

(i) reasonably believes that it will be able to pay its debts as they come due; and

(ii) is able to pay its debts as they mature and does not intend to incur, or believes that it will not incur, indebtedness that it will not be able to repay at its maturity.

(n) No Court Order. There is no order by any court that seeks to enjoin the performance of any obligations of the IESO under the Act or this Agreement.

4.2 Survival

The representations and warranties set forth in Section 4.1 shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement, each Transfer of a Specified Portion of a Regulatory Asset to the Issuer and the pledge of the corresponding Investment Asset to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to the Indenture and may not be waived by any party hereto except pursuant to a written agreement executed in accordance with Section 8.1 and as to which the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied.

ARTICLE 5
COVENANTS OF THE IESO

5.1 Existence

So long as any Issuer Funding Obligations are outstanding, the IESO (a) shall not take any action to impair its corporate existence, and (b) will obtain and preserve its qualification to do business in the Province of Ontario.

5.2 No Transfer or Liens

Except for Transfers under this Agreement to the Issuer or Permitted Transfers, the IESO will not Transfer the Regulatory Asset or any portion thereof to any person. The IESO will not grant, create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Lien on the Regulatory Asset or any portion thereof. The IESO will not at any time assert any Lien against or with respect to the Issuer Investment Interest, except for any Lien granted by the Issuer to the IESO.

5.3 Notice of Liens

The IESO shall notify the Issuer promptly after becoming aware of any Lien on any portion of the Regulatory Asset.

5.4 Compliance with Law

The IESO will comply with all Requirements of Law applicable to, and binding upon, the IESO or relating to the Regulatory Asset, except to the extent that failure to so comply would not materially adversely affect the Transfer of Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset or the IESO's performance of its obligations under this Agreement; provided, however, that the foregoing is not intended to, and shall not, impose any liability on the IESO for non-compliance with any Requirement of Law that the IESO is contesting in good faith in accordance with its customary standards and procedures.

5.5 Covenants Related to the Investment Interest

(a) So long as any Issuer Funding Obligations are outstanding, the IESO shall treat the Issuer Investment Interest as the Issuer's property for all purposes.

(b) Except for investments held for employee benefit purposes, the IESO shall not at any time become a holder of Issuer Funding Obligations.

(c) The IESO shall disclose the effects of all transactions between the IESO and the Issuer in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (for government entities).

(d) (i) In all Proceedings relating directly or indirectly to the Issuer Investment Interest, the IESO shall affirmatively certify and confirm that it has Transferred all of its rights and interests in and to the Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset giving rise to the Issuer Investment Interest, (ii) the IESO shall not make any statement or reference in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest that is inconsistent with the ownership interest of the Issuer, and (iii) the IESO shall not take any action in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest except solely in its capacity as the Servicer thereof pursuant to this Agreement.

5.6 Non-petition Covenants

Notwithstanding any prior termination of this Agreement or the Indenture, the IESO shall not, prior to the date that is one year plus one day after termination of the Indenture and the payment in full of all Issuer Funding Obligations and any other amounts owed under the Indenture, petition or otherwise invoke the process of any Governmental Authority for the purpose of commencing or sustaining a Proceeding against the Issuer under any Canadian bankruptcy, insolvency or similar law, appointing a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, custodian, sequestrator or other similar official or any substantial part of the property of the Issuer.

5.7 Disclosure

The IESO shall provide such non-confidential information regarding IESO, the Regulatory Asset and the services provided by the Servicer hereunder (collectively, the "IESO Disclosure") as may be reasonably requested by the Issuer for inclusion in any offering document of the Issuer from time to time, including but not limited to offering memoranda, prospectuses, registration statements and continuous disclosure documents (the "Offering Documents"), provided that the IESO has been given a reasonable opportunity by the Issuer to review any such Offering Documents. The IESO represents that, except in respect information provided by a third party, all IESO Disclosure, as at the respective dates of delivery to the Issuer, is true and correct in all material respects and contains no misrepresentation.

5.8 Further Assurances

Upon the request of the Issuer, the IESO shall execute and deliver such further instruments and do such further acts as may reasonably be necessary to carry out the provisions and purposes of this Agreement.

5.9 Access to Certain Records and Information

The IESO shall provide to the Issuer access to all records relating to the IESO Deferral, the Fair Hydro Variance Account, the IESO Segregated Account and Servicer CEA Receipts, as is reasonably required for the Issuer to confirm compliance by the IESO with its obligations under this Agreement. Access shall be afforded without charge, but only upon reasonable request and during normal business hours at the offices of the IESO. Nothing in this Section 5.9 shall affect the obligation of the IESO to comply with any Requirement of Law prohibiting disclosure of information, and the failure of the IESO to provide access to such information as a result of such obligation shall not constitute a breach of this Section 5.9.

5.10 Maintenance of Operations

Subject to Section 3.11, the IESO agrees to continue, unless prevented by circumstances beyond its control, to operate as the electricity system operator in the Province of Ontario so long as it is acting as the Servicer under this Agreement.

ARTICLE 6
IESO INDEMNITIES

6.1 Liability of the IESO; Indemnities

(a) The IESO shall indemnify the Issuer and each of its trustees, officers, directors and employees (each, an "Indemnified Party"), for, and defend and hold harmless each such Person from and against, any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, payments and claims, and reasonable costs or expenses, of any kind whatsoever (collectively, "Indemnified Losses") imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Person, as a result of (i) the failure of the IESO to perform its covenants and other obligations under this Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party; or (ii) the breach by the IESO of any of its representations or warranties under this Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party and, except to the extent of Indemnified Losses resulting from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Person seeking indemnification hereunder; provided that, in each case, the IESO shall not be required to indemnify an Indemnified Party for any amount paid or payable by such Indemnified Party in the settlement of any Proceeding or investigation without the written consent of the IESO, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Promptly after receipt by an Indemnified Party of notice of the commencement of any Proceeding or investigation, such Indemnified Party shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the IESO under this Section 6.1(a), notify the IESO in writing of the commencement thereof. Failure by an Indemnified Party to so notify the IESO shall relieve the IESO from the obligation to indemnify and hold harmless such Indemnified Party under this Section 6.1(a) only to the extent that the IESO suffers actual prejudice as a result of such failure. With respect to any Proceeding or investigation brought by a third party for which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a), the IESO shall be entitled to conduct and control, at its expense and with counsel of its choosing that is reasonably satisfactory to such Indemnified Party, the defence of any such Proceeding or investigation (in which case the IESO shall not thereafter be responsible for the fees and expenses of any separate counsel retained by the Indemnified Party except as set forth below); provided, that the Indemnified Party shall have the right to participate in such Proceeding or investigation through counsel chosen by it and at its own expense. Notwithstanding the IESO's election to assume the defence of any Proceeding or investigation, the Indemnified Party shall have the right to employ separate counsel, and the IESO shall bear the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of such separate counsel, if (i) the defendants in any such action include both the Indemnified Party and the IESO and the Indemnified Party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defences available to it that are different from or additional to those available to the IESO, (ii) the IESO shall not have employed counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party to represent the Indemnified Party within a reasonable time after notice of the institution of such action, or (iii) the IESO authorizes the Indemnified Party to employ separate counsel at the expense of the IESO. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the IESO shall not be obligated to pay for the fees, costs and expenses of more than one separate counsel for the Indemnified Parties other than one local counsel, if appropriate. The IESO will not, without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Party, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to any pending or threatened claim or Proceeding in respect of which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a) (whether or not the Indemnified Party is an actual or potential party to such claim or action) unless such settlement, compromise or consent includes an unconditional release of the Indemnified Party from all liability arising out of such claim or Proceeding.

(b) For purposes of Section 6.1(a), in the event of the termination of the rights and obligations of the IESO (or any successor thereto pursuant to Section 3.11) as Servicer pursuant to Section 7.1, or a resignation by such Servicer pursuant to Section 3.12 of this Agreement, the IESO shall be deemed to be the Servicer pending appointment of a Successor Servicer pursuant to Section 7.2.

(c) Indemnification under Section 6.1(a) shall include reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses of investigation and litigation (including reasonable legal fees and expenses), except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement.

(d) Indemnification under this Section 6.1 shall survive any repeal of, modification of, or supplement to, or judicial invalidation of, the Act and shall survive the termination of this Agreement and will rank pari passu with other general, unsecured obligations of the IESO.

(e) The IESO shall not be required to indemnify any party under this Section 6.1 for any losses resulting from changes in law after the date hereof, whether such changes in law are effected by means of any legislative enactment or any final and non-appealable judicial decision.

ARTICLE 7
SERVICER DEFAULT

7.1 Servicer Default

If any one or more of the following events (each, a "Servicer Default") shall occur and be continuing:

(a) any failure by the Servicer to remit to the Collection Account any required remittance that shall continue unremedied for a period of [two/three] Business Days after written notice of such failure is received by the Servicer from the Issuer or after discovery of such failure by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(b) any failure on the part of the Servicer or, so long as the Servicer is the IESO, any failure on the part of the IESO, as the case may be, duly to observe or to perform in any respect any covenants or agreements of the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, set forth in this Agreement or in any other Program Agreement to which it is a party (other than as provided in Section 7.1(a)), which failure shall (i) materially and adversely affect the rights of the Specified Creditors and (ii) continue unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (A) written notice of such failure, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been given to the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, by the Issuer or (B) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(c) any representation or warranty made by the Servicer in this Agreement, any other Program Agreement to which it is a party, any Transfer Notice or any Monthly Report shall prove to have been incorrect when made, which has a material adverse effect on the Issuer and which remains unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (i) written notice thereof, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been delivered to the Servicer by the Issuer or (ii) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(d) an Insolvency Event occurs with respect to the Servicer or the IESO; or

(e) any additional "Servicer Default" as specified in any Co-Owner Agreement occurs;

then, and in each and every case, the Issuer may, subject to the terms of any Co-Owner Agreement, by notice then given in writing to the Servicer (a "Termination Notice"), terminate all the rights and obligations (other than the obligations set forth in Section 6.1 and the obligation under Section 7.2 to continue performing its functions as Servicer until a Successor Servicer is appointed) of the Servicer under this Agreement and under the Co-Owner Agreement. In addition, upon a Servicer Default described in Section 7.1(a), Issuer shall be entitled to apply to a court of appropriate jurisdiction for an order for sequestration and payment of revenues arising with respect to the Issuer. On or after the receipt by the Servicer of a Termination Notice, all authority and power of the Servicer under this Agreement, whether with respect to the Investment Interest, the Clean Energy Adjustments or otherwise, shall, without further action, pass to and be vested in such Successor Servicer as may be appointed under Section 7.2; and, without limitation, the Issuer is hereby authorized and empowered to execute and deliver, on behalf of the predecessor Servicer, as attorney-in-fact or otherwise, any and all documents and other instruments, and to do or accomplish all other acts or things necessary or appropriate to effect the purposes of such Termination Notice, whether to complete the transfer of all documents and records related to the Regulatory Asset, the Fair Hydro Variance Account and related documents or records, or otherwise (the "Records"). The predecessor Servicer shall cooperate with the Successor Servicer and the Issuer in effecting the termination of the responsibilities and rights of the predecessor Servicer under this Agreement, including the transfer to the Successor Servicer for administration by it of all Records and all cash amounts that shall at the time be held by the predecessor Servicer for remittance, or shall thereafter be received by it with respect to the Investment Interest or the Clean Energy Adjustment. As soon as practicable after receipt by the Servicer of such Termination Notice, the Servicer shall deliver the Records to the Successor Servicer. If a Successor Servicer has been appointed as a result of a Servicer Default, all reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred in connection with transferring the Records to the Successor Servicer and amending this Agreement and any Co-Owner Agreement to reflect such succession as Servicer pursuant to this Section 7.1 shall be paid by the predecessor Servicer upon presentation of reasonable documentation of such costs and expenses. Termination of the IESO as Servicer shall not terminate the IESO's rights or obligations under this Agreement (except rights thereunder deriving from its rights as the Servicer hereunder).

7.2 Appointment of Successor Servicer

(a) Upon the Servicer's receipt of a Termination Notice pursuant to Section 7.1 or the Servicer's resignation or removal in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the predecessor Servicer shall continue to perform its functions as Servicer under this Agreement, until a Successor Servicer shall have assumed in writing the obligations of the Servicer hereunder as described below. In the event of the Servicer's removal or resignation hereunder, the Issuer may, but subject to the provisions of the applicable Co-Owner Agreement, appoint a Successor Servicer and the Successor Servicer shall accept its appointment by a written assumption in form reasonably acceptable to the Issuer. If, within 30 days after the delivery of the Termination Notice, a Successor Servicer shall not have been appointed, the Issuer may petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a Successor Servicer under this Agreement. A Person shall qualify as a Successor Servicer only if (i) such Person is permitted under the Act to perform the duties of the Servicer, (ii) the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied with respect to such appointment, (iii) such Person enters into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer having substantially the same provisions as this Agreement and (iv) such Person agrees to perform the obligations of the Servicer under any Co-Owner Agreement. In no event shall the Issuer be liable for its appointment of a Successor Servicer..

(b) Upon appointment, the Successor Servicer shall be the successor in all respects to the predecessor Servicer and shall be subject to all the responsibilities, duties and liabilities arising thereafter placed on the predecessor Servicer and shall be entitled to all the rights granted to the predecessor Servicer by the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

7.3 Waiver of Past Defaults

The Issuer may waive in writing any default by the Servicer in the performance of its obligations hereunder and its consequences. Upon any such waiver of a past default, such default shall cease to exist, and any Servicer Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been remedied for every purpose of this Agreement. No such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereto.

7.4 Notice of Servicer Default

The Servicer shall deliver to the Issuer, promptly after having obtained knowledge thereof, but in no event later than five Business Days thereafter, written notice of any event that, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a Servicer Default under Section 7.1.

7.5 Cooperation with Successor Servicer

The Servicer covenants and agrees with the Issuer that it will, on an ongoing basis, cooperate with the Successor Servicer and provide whatever information is, and take whatever actions are, reasonably necessary to assist the Successor Servicer in performing its obligations hereunder.

ARTICLE 8
MISCELLANEOUS

8.1 Amendment

This Agreement may be amended in writing by the IESO and the Issuer, and with satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition, such satisfaction to be confirmed by the Issuer at the time of such amendment. Promptly after the execution of any such amendment, the Issuer shall furnish copies of such amendment to each of the Rating Agencies.

8.2 Withholding Rights

The parties shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from amounts payable under this Agreement such amounts as each is required to deduct and withhold with respect to such payment under the Income Tax Act (Canada) or any provision of any applicable federal, provincial, territorial, state, local or foreign tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes as having been paid to the recipient of the payment in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made, provided that such withheld amounts are actually remitted in accordance with applicable law to the appropriate taxing authority.

8.3 No Partnership

Each party expressly disclaims any intention to create a partnership, and none of the Issuer or the IESO will be deemed to be carrying on business in partnership by reason of its execution and delivery of this Agreement or the exercise or performance by it of its respective rights and obligations hereunder.

8.4 Notices

Any notice, report or other communication given hereunder shall be in writing and shall be effective (a) upon receipt when sent through the mails, registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, with such receipt to be effective the date of delivery indicated on the return receipt, (b) upon receipt when sent by an overnight courier, (c) on the date personally delivered to an authorized officer of the party to which sent, or (d) on the date transmitted by electronic transmission with a confirmation of receipt in all cases, addressed as follows:

8.5 Assignment

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, except as provided in the provisions of this Agreement concerning the resignation of the Servicer, this Agreement may not be assigned by the IESO.

8.6 Limitations on Rights of Third Parties

The provisions of this Agreement are solely for the benefit of the IESO and the Issuer, and such Persons shall have the right to enforce the relevant provisions of this Agreement. Nothing in this Agreement, whether express or implied, shall be construed to give to any other Person any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim in the Issuer Investment Interest or under or in respect of this Agreement or any covenants, conditions or provisions contained herein.

8.7 Severability

Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remainder of such provision (if any) or the remaining provisions hereof (unless such construction shall be unreasonable), and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.

8.8 Separate Counterparts; Electronic Delivery

This Agreement may be executed by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument. Delivery of an executed signature page to this Agreement by a party by electronic transmission will be as effective as delivery of a manually executed copy of this Agreement by such party.

8.9 Governing Law

This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein, and each party to this Agreement attorns to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Ontario.

8.10 Grant of Security Interest to Indenture Trustee

The IESO hereby acknowledges and consents to the grant of a Lien by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the benefit of the Specified Creditors against all right, title and interest of the Issuer in, to and under this Agreement, the Investment Interest and the proceeds thereof and the assignment of any or all of the Issuer's rights hereunder to the Indenture Trustee for the benefit of the Specified Creditors.

8.11 Limitation of Liability of the Issuer Trustee

(a) It is expressly understood and agreed by the parties hereto that the Issuer Trustee is acting solely in its capacity as trustee of the Issuer, and not in any other capacity. The Issuer solely shall be responsible for the performance of the Issuer's obligations hereunder and the assets of the Issuer solely shall be subject to levy or execution in satisfaction of such obligations.

(b) The Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability whatsoever, in tort, in contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, to the Issuer's beneficiaries or to any other Person, for any action taken or permitted by the Issuer Trustee to be taken, or the Issuer Trustee's failure to compel in any way any former or acting Issuer Trustee to redress any breach of trust with respect to the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, provided that the foregoing limitation will not apply in respect of action or failure to act arising from or in connection with dishonesty, bad faith, willful misconduct, gross negligence or reckless disregard of a duty by the Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee, in doing anything or permitting anything to be done in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, is, and will be conclusively deemed to be, acting as trustee of the Issuer and not in any other capacity. Except as to the extent provided in this Section 8.11, the Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or for or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities and resort will be had solely to the Issuer's property for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the Issuer Trustee owned in its personal capacity will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Agreement.

(c) The holders of the units of the Issuer will not be subject to any liability whatsoever, in tort, in contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, to the Issuer's beneficiaries or to any other Person, for any action taken or permitted by it to be taken. The holders of the units of the Issuer will not be subject to any liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or for or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities and resort will be had solely to the Issuer's property for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the holders of the units of the Issuer owned in their personal capacity will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Agreement.

8.12 Waivers

Any term or provision of this Agreement may be waived, or the time for its performance may be extended, by the party or parties entitled to the benefit thereof. Any such waiver shall be validly and sufficiently authorized for the purposes of this Agreement if, as to any party, it is authorized in writing by an authorized representative of such party, with prompt written notice of any such waiver to be provided to the Rating Agencies. The failure of any party hereto to enforce at any time any provision of this Agreement shall not be construed to be a waiver of such provision, nor in any way to affect the validity of this Agreement or any part hereof or the right of any party thereafter to enforce each and every such provision. No waiver of any breach of this Agreement shall be held to constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach.

(a) On the Closing Date (or on any later date that any Purchaser Group becomes a party to this Supplemental Indenture), Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall be executed, authenticated and delivered by the Issuer in accordance with Section 4.03 of the Trust Indenture (i) in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, in the name of the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group (or as otherwise requested by such CP Conduit Purchaser Group and agreed to by the Issuer) in an amount equal to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group and delivered to such Funding Agent; or (ii) in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, in the name of the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser in an amount equal to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Related Non-Conduit Purchaser Group and delivered to such Related Non-Conduit Purchaser.

Upon a written request from the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent shall provide in writing the identity of the Purchaser Groups, the related Funding Agents for each CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the Purchaser Group Principal Amount for each Purchaser Group and the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group to the Indenture Trustee.

3.3 Procedure for Initial Issuance and for Increasing the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount

(a) (i) On any Business Day prior to [December 15, 2017], in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit Purchaser in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, that it will purchase a Series 2017-1 Senior Note for an initial purchase price equal to the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount upon the request of the Issuer (the date on which the initial purchase occurs being referred to as the "Closing Date"); provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable written notice (effective upon receipt), by email communication, substantially in the form of Schedule C no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the third Business Day prior to the Closing Date. The written notice of the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall state (x) the Closing Date, and (y) the initial total purchase price to be paid for the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes (the "Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount"); and (ii) subject to Section 3.3(e), on any Business Day during the period from the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes hereunder to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit Purchaser in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees that the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group may be increased by an amount equal to the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group of the Increase Amount (an "Increase"), upon the request of the Issuer (each date on which an increase in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount occurs hereunder being herein referred to as the "Increase Date" applicable to such Increase); provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable (other than as specified in Section 3.3(e)) written notice (effective upon receipt), by email communication, substantially in the form of Schedule C (an "Increase Notice") no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on (A) with respect to a Deferrable Increase Notice, the third Business Day prior to such Increase Date, or (B) with respect to a Non-Deferrable Increase Notice, the second Business Day prior to such Increase Date. Each Increase Notice shall state (x) the Increase Date, (y) the proposed amount of the increase in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount (an "Increase Amount"), (z) whether a Delayed Funding Notice may be delivered in connection with such Increase pursuant to Section 3.3(e) and whether the Increase is to fund a Transfer (a "Transfer Increase") or is in respect of a Refinancing (a "Refinancing Increase"). The Commitment Percentage with respect to any Purchaser Group of the Increase Amount set forth in any Non-Deferrable Increase Notice shall not exceed such Purchaser Group's Non-Deferrable Draw Amount as of the related Increase Date.

(b) If a CP Conduit Purchaser elects not to fund the full amount of its Commitment Percentage of a requested Increase, such CP Conduit Purchaser shall notify the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall fund the portion of the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Related Purchaser Group of such Increase not funded by such CP Conduit Purchaser.

(c) No Purchaser Group shall be required to increase its Purchaser Group Principal Amount on any Increase Date hereunder unless:

(i) such Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of such Increase Amount is (A) equal to $1,000,000 or more, or (B) if less than $1,000,000, the difference between the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group and the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group; and

(ii) after giving effect to such Increase Amount, the sum of the (x) the Purchaser Group Principal Amount, and (y) any unfunded Delayed Amounts with respect to such Purchaser Group would not exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group;

(d) Upon receipt of any notice required by Section 3.3(a) or permitted by Section 3.3(e) from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall forward (by email communication) a copy of such notice to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group (or, with respect to any notice pursuant to Section 3.3(e) requiring a Delayed Funding Purchaser Group to decrease its Delayed Amount, the applicable Non-Conduit Purchaser or Funding Agent), no later than [5:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the Business Day received. After receipt by any Funding Agent with respect to a CP Conduit Purchaser Group of such notice from the Administrative Agent, such Funding Agent shall, so long as the conditions set forth in Sections 3.3(a) and (c) and Article 4 are satisfied, promptly provide notice by email communication to the related CP Conduit Purchaser and the related Group Bank, of the Increase Date and of such CP Conduit Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of the Closing Date or Increase Amount, as applicable. Subject to Section 3.3(e), if such CP Conduit Purchaser elects to fund all or a portion of its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or the Increase Amount, as applicable, such CP Conduit Purchaser shall pay in immediately available funds its Commitment Percentage (or any portion thereof) of the amount of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or Increase Amount, as applicable, on the Closing Date or the related Increase Date, as applicable, to the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group for remittance to the Issuer for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h). Subject to Section 3.3(e), if such CP Conduit Purchaser does not fund the full amount of the Commitment Percentage of such CP Conduit Purchaser Group of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or an Increase Amount, as applicable, and the related Group Bank is required to fund the portion thereof not funded by the CP Conduit Purchaser, such Group Bank shall pay in immediately available funds such portion on the Closing Date or the related Increase Date, as applicable, to the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Each Funding Agent shall remit the amounts received by it from its CP Conduit Purchaser or the related Group Bank pursuant to this Section 3.3(d) to the Issuer for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h). Subject to Section 3.3(e), so long as the conditions set forth in Sections 3.3(a) and (c) and Article 4 are satisfied, each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall pay in immediately available funds the Commitment Percentage of such Non-Conduit Purchaser of the amount of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or Increase Amount, as applicable, on the Closing Date or the Increase Date, as applicable, to the Issuer for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h).

(e) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser who shall have previously notified the Issuer in writing that it or any related Program Support Provider may, in the absence of the Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser having the ability to deliver Delayed Funding Notices hereunder, incur charges under, or in anticipation of, Basel III (which may include external charges incurred by the Group Bank, Non-Conduit Purchaser or Program Support Provider or internal charges incurred by any of their businesses) in respect of its Commitment hereunder or any agreement to support such Commitment, or in respect of its interest in the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, based on its "liquidity coverage ratio" calculated under Basel III, may, upon receipt of any Deferrable Increase Notice pursuant to Section 3.3(a), notify the Issuer in writing (a "Delayed Funding Notice") on or prior to [12:00 noon] (Toronto time) on the second Business Day preceding the related Increase Date, of its intent to fund an amount up to its Commitment Percentage of the related Increase Amount (such amount, subject to any adjustment described below, the "Delayed Amount") on a Business Day that is on or before the thirty-third (33rd) day following the Increase Date specified in such Deferrable Increase Notice (the "Delayed Funding Date") rather than on such Increase Date. If any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer following the Issuer's delivery of an Increase Notice pursuant to Section 3.3(a), the Issuer may with written notice to the Administrative Agent delivered prior to 3:00 pm on the second Business Day preceding such Increase Date, (x) decrease the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice (or revoke such Deferrable Increase Notice by decreasing the Increase Amount to zero), and/or (y) require any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser who has provided a Delayed Funding Notice to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase by an amount no greater than the Non-Deferrable Draw Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group as of the related Increase Date. In the event that the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice is reduced, but not to zero, then any Delayed Amount with respect to any Purchaser Group shall be reduced on a pro rata basis unless otherwise specified by the Issuer pursuant to clause (y) above. No Purchaser Group that has provided a Delayed Funding Notice in respect of an Increase (each a "Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") shall be considered to be in default of its obligation to fund its Delayed Amount pursuant to this Section 3.3 unless and until it has failed to fund the Delayed Amount (and/or the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount) on or before the Delayed Funding Date.

(f) If (i) one or more Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer in respect of any Increase Date; and (ii) the Issuer shall not have decreased the related Increase Amount to zero or required each such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase to zero, in each case, pursuant to Section 3.3(e), the Administrative Agent shall, by no later than [12:00 noon] (Toronto time) on the Business Day preceding such Increase Date, direct each Purchaser Group that is not a Delayed Funding Purchaser Group with respect to such Increase Date (each a "Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") to fund an additional portion of such Increase Amount on such Increase Date equal to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group's proportionate share (based upon the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group relative to the sum of the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts with respect to all Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups) of the aggregate Delayed Amounts with respect to such Increase Date; provided that no Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall be required to fund any portion of the aggregate Delayed Amounts that would cause its Purchaser Group Principal Amount to exceed its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount. Subject to Section 3.3(a), in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a Non-Conduit Purchaser, such Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or, in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group hereby agrees, to fund such portion of the Increase Amount on such Increase Date.

(g) After the Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups fund a Delayed Amount on any Increase Date in accordance with Section 3.3(f), the Delayed Funding Purchaser Group in respect of such Delayed Amount will be obligated to fund the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount on or before its Delayed Funding Date, irrespective of whether the Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date shall have occurred on or prior to such Delayed Funding Date or the Issuer would be able to satisfy the conditions set forth in Section 3.3(c) to an Increase in an amount equal to such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date. Such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall fund such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date by paying such amount to the Administrative Agent in immediately available funds, and the Administrative Agent shall distribute such funds to each such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group, pro rata based on the relative amount of such Delayed Amount funded by such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group on such Increase Date pursuant to Section 3.3(f).

(h) The Issuer shall apply amounts paid to it pursuant to Sections 3.3(d) and 3.3(f) in the following order of priority:

(i) As to an amount equal to ●% of the amounts paid to pursuant to Sections 3.3(d) and 3.3(f), by deposit to the Program Cash Reserve Account; [NTD: OPG would like to understand what this account is needed for] and

(ii) as to the balance, in respect of the proceeds of the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Notes or a Transfer Increase, by application to payment of the purchase price payable by the Issuer to the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement in respect of the related Transfer and, in respect of the proceeds of a Refinancing Increase, by deposit to the Refinancing Account.

3.4 Procedure for Decreasing the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount; Optional Termination

(a) In the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, and in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, each of the CP Conduit Purchasers and the Group Bank in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group hereby agrees, that the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group may be decreased on any Payment Date by such Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of a Decrease Amount (a "Decrease"), upon the request of the Issuer. Each Payment Date on which a Decrease in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount occurs hereunder being herein referred to as the "Decrease Date" applicable to such Decrease; provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable written notice (effective upon receipt), by email communication, substantially in the form of Schedule D (a "Decrease Notice") no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the second Business Day prior to any Payment Date that is a Decrease Date. Each Decrease Notice shall state (x) the Decrease Date, and (y) the proposed amount of the decrease in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount (a "Decrease Amount").

(b) Upon each Decrease, the Administrative Agent shall indicate in its records such Decrease and the Purchaser Group Principal Amount outstanding with respect to each Purchaser Group after giving effect to such Decrease. Upon receipt of any notice required by Section 3.4(a) from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall forward (by email communication) a copy of such notice to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group, no later than [1:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the Business Day received.

(c) On any Business Day, the Issuer shall have the right to deliver an irrevocable written notice (an "Optional Termination Notice") to the Administrative Agent in which the Issuer declares that the Commitments shall terminate on the date (the "Optional Termination Date") set forth in such notice (which date, in any event, shall be a Payment Date not less than twenty (20) Business Days from the date on which such notice is delivered). Upon receipt of any Optional Termination Notice from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group thereof.

3.5 Increases and Reductions of the Commitments

(a) The Issuer may from time to time request that any Purchaser Group agree to increase its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount. An increase in such amount shall be effective hereunder if such Purchaser Group shall have agreed in its sole discretion to such increase.

(b) On any Business Day, the Issuer may, upon two (2) Business Days' prior written notice to the Administrative Agent (effective upon receipt) (with copies to the Indenture Trustee) reduce the Series 2017-1 Maximum Principal Amount in an amount equal to $10,000,000 or a whole multiple of $1,000,000 in excess thereof; provided that no such termination or reduction shall be permitted if, after giving effect thereto and to any reduction in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount on such date, the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to any Purchaser Group would exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group then in effect. Any reduction in the Series 2017-1 Maximum Principal Amount shall be made on a pro rata basis to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts with respect to the Purchaser Groups, based on the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to each Purchaser Group. Once reduced, the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts may not be subsequently reinstated without each such Purchaser Group's prior written consent, which consent shall be granted or not in the sole discretion of such Purchaser Group.

(c) The Issuer may extend the Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date only with the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent, each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each Funding Agent.

3.6 Interest; Fees and Other Amounts

(a) Interest shall be payable on the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes on each Payment Date.

(b) The Issuer shall pay to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser, on each Payment Date, a commitment fee with respect to the preceding Billing Period (the "Commitment Fee") during the period from the Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date in an amount equal to the sum of the following amounts calculated for each day during such Billing Period: (x) the Commitment Fee Rate, multiplied by (y) the amount by which Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on such day exceeds the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on such day, and divided by (z) 365. The Commitment Fees shall be payable monthly in arrears on each Payment Date.

(c) The Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall provide written notice to the Issuer and the Paying Agent no later than two (2) Business Days prior to each Payment Date, setting forth the Group Monthly Interest and the Group Monthly Fees and Other Amounts with respect to its Related Purchaser Group with respect to the Payment Date.

(d) The Monthly Interest shall be included in each calculation of the Interest Accrual Amount (Senior) for the purposes of Section 7.04(e)(iii) of the Trust Indenture and shall be payable pursuant to Sections 7.05(a), 7.08(a)(i) or 8.13(c) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable. On each Payment Date, the Monthly Fees and Other Amounts shall be payable in respect of the Series 2017-1 Notes pursuant to Sections 7.04(e)(iii) or 8.13(c) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable. On each Payment Date the Paying Agent shall, subject to availability of funds, pay to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser its Group Monthly Interest and its Group Monthly Fees and Other Amounts with respect to the Payment Date; provided that if the amounts available to pay such Group Monthly Interest and Group Monthly Fees and Other Amounts are insufficient, the amounts available shall be paid pro rata based on the amounts owing to each Purchaser Group.

3.7 Accumulation and Repayment of Principal

(a) For the purposes of the Trust Indenture and the Series 2017-1 Notes:

(i) for each Payment Date before the Principal Accumulation Date, the Principal Accumulation Amount shall be the Principal Payment Amount for such Payment Date; and

(ii) for each Payment Date on or after the Principal Accumulation Date, the Principal Accumulation Amount shall be the greater of (x) the Principal Payment Amount for such Payment Date, and (y) the Principal Accumulation Amount, for such Payment Date.

(b) Each Payment Date where the Principal Payment Amount is not nil shall be a Principal Payment Date in respect of the Series 2017-1 Notes. On each Principal Payment Date in respect of the Series 2017-1 Notes, the Paying Agent shall pay to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each Funding Agent with respect to its Related Purchaser Group, such Purchaser Group's Pro Rata Share of the Principal Payment Amount for such Principal Payment Date out of funds allocated to the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes pursuant to Sections 7.04(e)(iv)(A), 7.06(a) or 8.13(d) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable, in repayment of the principal amount of the Series 2017-1 Notes.

3.8 Indemnification by the Issuer

The Issuer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent, each Funding Agent, each CP Conduit Purchaser, the Group Bank, each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each of their respective officers, directors, agents and employees (each, an "Issuer indemnified person") from and against any loss, liability, expense, damage or injury suffered or sustained by such Issuer indemnified person by reason of (a) any acts, omissions or alleged acts or omissions arising out of, or relating to, activities of the Issuer pursuant to the Program Agreements to which it is a party; (b) a breach of any representation or warranty made or deemed made by the Issuer (or any of its officers) in any Program Agreement; or (c) a failure by the Issuer to comply with any applicable law or regulation or to perform its covenants, agreements, duties or obligations required to be performed or observed by it in accordance with the provisions of the Program Agreements, including, but not limited to, any judgment, award, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other reasonable costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, proceeding or claim, except to the extent such loss, liability, expense, damage or injury resulted from the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of such Issuer indemnified person or its officers, directors, agents, principals, employees or employers as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction in a final non-appealable judgement or includes any Excluded Taxes; provided that any payments made by the Issuer pursuant to this Section 3.8 shall be made solely from funds available pursuant to Section [7.04] or [8.13] of the Trust Indenture, as applicable, shall be non-recourse other than with respect to such funds, and shall not constitute a claim against the Issuer to the extent that such funds are insufficient to make such payment.

3.9 Funding Agents

(a) The Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group is hereby authorized to determine the Group Monthly Interest and Group Monthly Fees and Other Amounts with respect to each Payment Date and such CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Any such determination by a Funding Agent, absent manifest error, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the accuracy of the calculation. Furthermore, the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group will maintain records sufficient to identify the percentage interest of the related CP Conduit Purchaser and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group holding an interest in the Series 2017-1 Senior Note registered in the name of such Funding Agent and any amounts owing thereunder.

(b) Upon receipt of funds on each Payment Date, each Funding Agent shall pay such funds to the related CP Conduit Purchaser and/or the related Group Bank owed such funds. If a Funding

Agent shall have paid to any CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank any funds that (i) must be returned for any reason (including bankruptcy); or (ii) exceeds that which such CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank was entitled to receive, such amount shall be promptly repaid to such Funding Agent by such CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank.

3.10 Taxes

(a) All payments by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder shall, to the extent allowed by law, be made free and clear of, and without deduction or withholding for or on account of Taxes, excluding (i) income taxes (including branch profit taxes, minimum taxes and taxes computed under alternative methods, at least one of which is based on or measured by net income), franchise taxes (imposed in lieu of income taxes), or any other Taxes based on or measured by the net income of any person legally entitled to receive such payments (each a "Recipient") as a result of a present or former connection between the Recipient and the jurisdiction of the Governmental Authority imposing such Taxes (other than any such connection arising solely from the Recipient having executed, delivered or performed its obligations or received a payment under, disposed of, or enforced, this Supplemental Indenture); (ii) any withholding or deduction imposed pursuant to (A) Sections 1471 to 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("FATCA"), or any successor version thereof, or any similar legislation imposed by any other Governmental Authority, or (B) any treaty, law or regulation or other official guidance enacted by Canada implementing FATCA or any intergovernmental agreement with respect to FATCA or any similar legislation imposed by any other Governmental Authority, including, for greater certainty, the Canada-United States Enhanced Tax Information Exchange Agreement Implementation Act (Canada) and Parts XVIII and XIX of the Income Tax Act (Canada), as amended (collectively, and including FATCA, the "AEOI Legislation"); and (iii) any interest, penalties and additions to Taxes in respect of (i) and (ii) (all such excluded Taxes being hereinafter called "Excluded Taxes"). If any Taxes, other than Excluded Taxes, are required to be withheld from any amounts payable to a Recipient hereunder, the amounts so payable to the Recipient shall be increased, and the Recipient shall be entitled to be paid by the Issuer the amount of such increase to the extent necessary to yield to the Recipient (after payment of all such Taxes other than Excluded Taxes) interest or any such other amounts payable hereunder or thereunder at the rates or in the amounts specified hereunder. Where the amount payable by the Issuer is increased in accordance with the previous sentence, the Group Monthly Interest shall be increased by the amount of such increase. Whenever any Taxes are payable on or with respect to amounts distributed to a Recipient, as promptly as possible thereafter the Issuer shall send to such Recipient a certified copy of an original official receipt showing payment thereof.

(b) If a payment by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder would be subject to withholding Taxes under any AEOI Legislation if the Recipient were to fail to comply with the applicable reporting requirements of any AEOI Legislation, such Recipient shall deliver to the Issuer at the time or times prescribed by law and at such time or times reasonably requested by the Issuer such documentation prescribed by applicable law and such additional documentation reasonably requested by the Issuer as may be necessary for the Issuer to comply with its obligations under any AEOI Legislation and to determine that such Recipient has complied with its obligations under any AEOI Legislation, or to determine the amount to deduct and withhold from such payment. If any form or certification it previously delivered by a Recipient expires or becomes obsolete or inaccurate in any respect, the Recipient shall update such form or certification or promptly notify the Issuer in writing of its legal inability to do so.

(c) If a Recipient is legally entitled to receive a refund of any Taxes (other than Excluded Taxes) as to which it has been indemnified or with respect to which additional amounts have been paid to it hereunder or it is legally entitled to receive a credit or deduction with respect to such Taxes or with respect to such additional amounts that have been paid hereunder (in each case pursuant to Section 3.10(a)), it shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain or claim such refund, credit or deduction and pay over such refund or the value of such credit or deduction to the Issuer, together with any interest thereon.

3.11 Increased Costs

(a) (i) If any Regulatory Change (x) subjects any Affected Party to any charge or withholding on or with respect to any Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture or an Affected Person's obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or changes the basis of taxation of payments to any Affected Person of any amounts payable under any Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture Agreement (except for changes in the rate of tax on the overall net income of an Affected Person or Excluded Taxes) or (y) imposes, modifies or deems applicable any reserve, assessment, fee, tax, insurance charge, special deposit or similar requirement against assets of, deposits with or for the account of, or liabilities of an Affected Person, or credit extended by an Affected Person pursuant to a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture or (z) imposes any other condition the result of which is to increase the cost to an Affected Person of performing its obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to reduce the rate of return on an Affected Person's capital or assets as a consequence of its obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to reduce the amount of any sum received or receivable by an Affected Person under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to require any payment calculated by reference to the amount of interests or loans held or interest received by it, then, upon written request by such Affected Party (through the Funding Agent for its Purchaser Group if the Affected Party is a Program Support Provider, CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank) of a written request therefore to the Issuer, such Affected Party (through the Funding Agent for its Purchaser Group if the Affected Party is a Program Support Provider, CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank) shall be entitled to be paid, such amounts charged to such Affected Party or such amounts to otherwise compensate such Affected for such increased cost or such reduction, no later than the Payment Date following receipt by the Issuer of such request for compensation under this Section 3.11(a)(i), if such request is received by the Issuer no later than five (5) Business Days prior to the end of the Interest Period related to such Payment Date, and otherwise on the following Payment Date.

(ii) The Issuer acknowledges that any Affected Party may implement, as an internal institutional matter, measures in anticipation of a final or proposed Regulatory Change (including, without limitation, the imposition of internal charges on such Affected Party's interest or obligations under any Support Agreement or this Supplemental Indenture) and may commence recognizing the incurrence of charges by seeking compensation under Section 3.11(a)(i) in connection with such measures, in advance of the effective date of such final or proposed Regulatory Change, and the Issuer agrees that such charges or compensation shall be payable, to the related Funding Agent, for the benefit of Affected Party, following demand therefor without regard to whether such proposed Regulatory Change has been adopted or whether such effective date has occurred; provided, that (I) the Affected Party shall provide thirty (30) days prior written notice to the Issuer of its intent to impose or incur any such charges or compensation, (II) an Affected Party shall not be compensated for any such amount pursuant to this subsection 3.11(a)(ii) relating to any period ending, and of which such Affected Party has had knowledge, more than ninety (90) days prior to the date that such Affected Party provided the Issuer with the written notice contemplated by the preceding clause (I) of this subsection 3.11(a)(ii), (III) if, after the payment by the Trust of any charges or compensation pursuant to this subsection 3.11(a)(ii), either (A) the Issuer requests in writing that the applicable Affected Party re-compute any such charge or compensation in light of differences between a proposed Regulatory Change and the final effective version thereof or (B) the applicable Affected Party determines that the amount of the charge imposed on and required to be compensated by the Issuer exceeds the amount necessary to compensate it for the applicable Regulatory Change as contemplated by subsection 3.11(a)(i), then (x) the amount of such charge or compensation shall, from and after such determination, be reduced by the amount of such excess and (y) such Affected Party shall, within thirty (30) days of such determination, either repay the amount of such excess or credit the amount of such excess against future charges under this subsection 3.11(a)(ii). The Issuer further acknowledges that any charge or compensation demanded hereunder may take the form of a monthly charge to be assessed by such Affected Party.

(b) Each Affected Party claiming increased amounts described in subsection 3.11(a) of this Supplemental Indenture will furnish to the Issuer (together with its request for compensation) a certificate prepared in good faith setting forth the basis and the calculation of the amount (in reasonable detail) of each request by such Affected Party for any such increased amounts referred to in subsection 3.11(a) hereof. Any such certificate shall be conclusive absent manifest error. Failure on the part of any Affected Party to demand compensation for any amount pursuant to subsection 3.11(a) hereof with respect to any period shall not constitute a waiver of such Affected Party's right to demand compensation with respect to such period.

7.1 Administrative Agent

(a) Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Administrative Agent as the agent of such Person under this Supplemental Indenture and irrevocably authorizes the Administrative Agent, in such capacity, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to the Administrative Agent by the terms of this Supplemental Indenture, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Supplemental Indenture, the Administrative Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent, and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Supplemental Indenture or otherwise exist against the Administrative Agent.

(b) The Administrative Agent may execute any of its duties under this Supplemental Indenture by or through agents or attorneys in fact and shall be entitled to advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties. The Administrative Agent shall not be responsible for the negligence or misconduct of any agents or attorneys-in-fact selected by it with reasonable care.

(c) Neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates shall be (i) liable for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such Person under or in connection with the Trust Indenture, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement (except to the extent that any of the foregoing are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from its or such Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct) or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks or the Funding Agents for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by the Issuer, the IESO, the Manager or any officer thereof contained in this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement, or for any failure of any of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO to perform its obligations hereunder or thereunder. The Administrative Agent shall not be under any obligation to any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement or to inspect the properties, books or records of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO.

(d) The Administrative Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter or electronic message, statement, order or other document or conversation believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper Person or Persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including, without limitation, counsel to the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO), independent accountants and other experts selected by the Administrative Agent.

(e) The Administrative Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Termination Event unless the Administrative Agent has received written notice from a Non-Conduit Purchaser, a CP Conduit Purchaser, a Group Bank, a Funding Agent, the Issuer or the Manager referring to the Trust Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture, describing such Termination Event and stating that such notice is a "notice of a Termination Event". In the event that the Administrative Agent receives such a notice, the Administrative Agent shall give notice thereof to the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the Funding Agents, the Issuer Trustee and the Manager.

(f) Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents expressly acknowledges that neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by the Administrative Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by the Administrative Agent to any such Person. (g) The Administrative Agent and its Affiliates may make loans to, accept deposits from and generally engage in any kind of business with the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO as though the Administrative Agent were not the Administrative Agent hereunder. With respect to any Series 2017-1 Senior Note held by the Administrative Agent, the Administrative Agent shall have the same rights and powers under this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements as any Group Bank or Funding Agent and may exercise the same as though it were not the Administrative Agent, and the terms "Group Bank," and "Funding Agent" shall include the Administrative Agent in its individual capacity.

If no successor administrative agent has accepted appointment as Administrative Agent prior to the effective date of the resignation of the Administrative Agent, the retiring Administrative Agent may appoint, after consulting with the Non-Conduit Purchasers and the Funding Agents, a successor Administrative Agent from among the Non-Conduit Purchasers and the Funding Agents. If no successor administrative agent has accepted appointment by the date which is thirty (30) days following a retiring Administrative Agent's notice of resignation, the retiring Administrative Agent's resignation shall nevertheless thereupon become effective and Manager shall assume and perform all of the duties of the Administrative Agent hereunder until such time, if any, as the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders appoint a successor administrative agent as provided for above. After any retiring Administrative Agent's resignation as Administrative Agent, the provisions of this Article 7 shall inure to its benefit as to any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was Administrative Agent under this Supplemental Indenture.

7.2 Funding Agents

(a) Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Funding Agent set forth next to such CP Conduit Purchaser's name on Schedule E as the agent of such Person under this Supplemental Indenture and irrevocably authorizes such Funding Agent, in such capacity, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to such Funding Agent by the terms of this Supplemental Indenture, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Supplemental Indenture, each Funding Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Supplemental Indenture or otherwise exist against each Funding Agent.

Each Funding Agent shall not be responsible to the CP Conduit Purchaser or any Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group for the negligence or misconduct of any agents or attorneys in fact selected by it with reasonable care.

(c) Each Funding Agent and any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates shall not be (i) liable for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such Person under or in connection with the Trust Indenture, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement (except to the extent that any of the foregoing are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from its or such Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct) or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the CP Conduit Purchasers and/or Group Banks for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO, or any officer thereof contained in this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by such Funding Agent under or in connection with, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement, or for any failure of any of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO to perform its obligations hereunder or thereunder. Each Funding Agent shall not be under any obligation to the CP Conduit Purchaser or any Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement or to inspect the properties, books or records of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO.

(d) Each Funding Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter or electronic message, statement, order or other document or conversation believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper Person or Persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including, without limitation, counsel to the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO), independent accountants and other experts selected by such Funding Agent. Each Funding Agent shall be fully justified in failing or refusing to take any action under this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement unless it shall first receive such advice or concurrence of the Related Purchaser Group, as it deems appropriate or it shall first be indemnified to its satisfaction by the Related Purchaser Group against any and all liability and expense which may be incurred by it by reason of taking or continuing to take any such action.

(e) Each Funding Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Termination Event unless such Funding Agent has received written notice from a Non-Conduit Purchaser, a CP Conduit Purchaser, a Group Bank, the Issuer, the Manager or the Administrative Agent referring to the Trust Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture, describing such Termination Event and stating that such notice is a "notice of a Termination Event," as the case may be. In the event that any Funding Agent receives such a notice, such Funding Agent shall give notice thereof to the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Such Funding Agent shall take such action with respect to such event as shall be reasonably directed by the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group, provided that unless and until such Funding Agent shall have received such directions, such Funding Agent may (but shall not be obligated to) take such action, or refrain from taking such action, with respect to such event as it shall deem advisable in the best interests of the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group.

(f) Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks expressly acknowledge that neither its Funding Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by such Funding Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by such Funding Agent to any such Person. Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks represents to its Funding Agent that it has, independently and without reliance upon such Funding Agent and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own appraisal of and investigation into the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO and made its own decision to enter into this Supplemental Indenture. Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks also represents that it will, independently and without reliance upon its Funding Agent and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements, and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other conditions and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO.

(g) Each Group Bank in a CP Conduit Purchaser Group agrees to indemnify its Funding Agent in its capacity as such (to the extent not reimbursed by the Issuer and without limiting the obligation of the Issuer to do so), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements of any kind whatsoever which may at any time be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Funding Agent in any way relating to or arising out of this Supplemental Indenture, any of the other Program Agreements or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or therein or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or any action taken or omitted by such Funding Agent under or in connection with any of the foregoing; provided that no Group Bank shall be liable for the payment of any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements that are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from such related Funding Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct. The agreements in this Section shall survive the payment of all amounts payable hereunder.

(a) This Supplemental Indenture shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns, except that (i) the Issuer may not assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture without the prior written consent of all of the Series 2017-1 Noteholders; (ii) no Non-Conduit Purchaser may assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture other than pursuant to paragraph (e) or (f) below; (iii) no CP Conduit Purchaser may assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture other than to the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser or a Program Support Provider with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser or pursuant to clause (b) or (e) below of this Section 8.1; and (iv) no Group Bank may assign or transfer any of its rights or obligations under this Supplemental Indenture except to a Program Support Provider or pursuant to clause (c), (d) or (e) below of this Section 8.1.

A Group Bank Participant shall have the right to receive compensation pursuant to Sections 3.10 and 3.11 but only to the extent that the related selling Group Bank would have had such right absent the sale of the related participation and, with respect to amounts due pursuant to Sections 3.10 and 3.11, only to the extent such Group Bank Participant shall have complied with the provisions of Sections 3.10 and 3.11 as if such Group Bank Participant were a Group Bank.

Bank by the Issuer or the Manager in connection with such Group Bank's credit evaluation of the Issuer and the Issuer Investment Asset.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Supplemental Indenture to the contrary, any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Program Support Provider may at any time pledge or grant a security interest in all or any portion of its rights under its Series 2017-1 Senior Note and this Supplemental Indenture to secure obligations of such Non-Conduit Purchaser, such Group Bank or such Program Support Provider to a Federal Reserve Bank or the Bank of Canada, without notice to or consent of the Administrative Agent, the Issuer or the Administrator; provided that no such pledge or grant of a security interest shall release a Non-Conduit Purchaser or an Group Bank from any of its obligations hereunder or substitute any such pledgee or grantee for such Non-Conduit Purchaser or such Group Bank as a party hereto.

The Issuer further acknowledges that any charge or compensation demanded hereunder may take the form of a monthly charge to be assessed by the Purchaser.

(b) The Purchaser claiming increased amounts described in subsection 3.10(a) of this Supplemental Indenture will furnish to the Issuer (together with its request for compensation) a certificate prepared in good faith setting forth the basis and the calculation of the amount (in reasonable detail) of each request by the Purchaser for any such increased amounts referred to in subsection 3.10(a) hereof. Any such certificate shall be conclusive absent manifest error. ### 1.3 Accounting Principles

Where the character or amount of any asset or liability or item of revenue or expense is required to be determined, or any consolidation or other accounting computation is required to be made for the purpose of this Declaration of Trust, such determination or calculation shall, to the extent applicable and except as otherwise specified herein or as the Issuer Trustee otherwise determines, be made in accordance with GAAP applied on a consistent basis.

1.4 References to Acts of the Trust

For greater certainty, where any reference is made in this Declaration of Trust to an act to be performed or not by, an appointment to be made by, an obligation or liability of, an asset or right of, a discharge or release to be provided by, a suit or proceeding to be taken by or against, or a covenant, representation or warranty by or with respect to either (i) the Trust; or (ii) the Issuer Trustee, such reference will be construed and applied for all purposes as if it referred to an act to be performed by or not, an appointment to be made by, an obligation or liability of, an asset or right of, a discharge or release to be provided by, a suit or proceeding to be taken by or against, or a covenant, representation or warranty by or with respect to, the Issuer Trustee in its capacity as trustee of the Trust, and not in any other capacity.

The Trust shall engage only in any activities related to the foregoing purposes or required or authorized by the terms of the Program Agreements or other agreements referenced above.

2.2 Limitation on Certain Activities

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Declaration of Trust or the Management Agreement, at any time that any Funding Obligations remain outstanding, the consent of the Indenture Trustee shall be required for the Trust to:

(a) take any action to wind-up or dissolve the Trust; or

2.3 Name and Head Office

The English form of the name of the Trust is "■Fair Hydro Trust" and the French form of the name of the Trust is "■". The Trust may use and may be legally designated by either the English form or the French form of its name. Should the Issuer Trustee determine that the use of such name is not practicable, legal or convenient, it may use such other designation or adopt such other name for the Trust as it deems proper and the Trust may hold property and conduct the Trust Activities under such other designation or name. The head office, chief executive office, chief place of business and situs of administration of the Trust will initially be situated at the offices of the Issuer Trustee situated at ~~[address of Issuer Trustee]~~ 100 University Avenue, 11th Floor, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2Y1.

2.4 Nature of the Trust

The Trust is an unincorporated open-ended unit trust established for the purposes specified in Section 2.1. The Trust shall be governed by the general law of trusts, except as such general law of trusts has been or is from time to time modified, altered or abridged for the Trust by:

(a) applicable laws and regulations or other requirements imposed by applicable securities or other regulatory authorities, including the Act and Regulations; and

(b) the terms, conditions and trusts set forth in this Declaration of Trust.

The beneficial interest and rights generally of the Unitholders in the Trust shall be limited to the right to participate in distributions when and as declared by the Issuer Trustee and distributions upon the termination of the Trust. The Trust is not and is not intended to be, shall not be deemed to be and shall not be treated as a general partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, association, joint venture, company, corporation or joint stock company nor shall the Issuer Trustee or the Unitholders or any of them for any purpose be, or be deemed to be treated in any way whatsoever to be, liable or responsible hereunder as partners or joint venturers. The Issuer Trustee shall not be, or be deemed to be, an agent of the Unitholders. The relationship of the Unitholders to the Issuer Trustee, to the Trust and to the Trust Property shall be solely that of beneficiaries in accordance with this Declaration of Trust.

2.5 Rights of Unitholders

No Unitholder shall be entitled to call for any partition or division of the Trust Property or for a distribution of any particular asset forming part of the Trust Property or of any particular monies or funds received by the Issuer Trustee. The legal ownership of the Trust Property and the right to conduct the activities of the Trust are vested exclusively in the Issuer Trustee, and no Unitholder has or is deemed to have any right of ownership in any of the Trust Property, except as specifically provided herein. Except as specifically provided herein, no Unitholder or Unitholders shall be entitled to interfere with or give any direction to the Issuer Trustee with respect to the affairs of the Trust or in connection with the exercise of any powers or authorities conferred upon the Issuer Trustee under this Declaration of Trust. The Units shall be personal property and shall confer upon the holders thereof only the interest and rights, and impose upon the holders thereof only those liabilities and obligations, specifically set forth in this Declaration of Trust.

3.1 Nature of Units

The beneficial interests in the Trust shall be divided into a single class of Units. Each Unit represents an equal undivided beneficial interest in any distributions by the Trust, whether of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust (other than Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption to redeeming Unitholders), or other amounts, and, in the event of termination or winding up of the Trust, in the net assets of the Trust remaining after satisfaction of all liabilities. All Units rank equally among themselves and rateably without discrimination, preference or priority. Each Unit will entitle the Unitholder of record thereof to one vote at all meetings of the Unitholders or in respect of any written resolution of the Unitholders. Each Unit, when issued, shall vest indefeasibly in the holder thereof.

The number of Units which the Trust may issue is unlimited. The issued and outstanding Units may be subdivided or consolidated from time to time by the Issuer Trustee without notice to or approval of the Unitholders. Unless the Issuer Trustee determines otherwise, immediately after any pro rata issuance of additional Units to all Unitholders pursuant to subsection 11.3(3), the number of outstanding Units will automatically be consolidated such that each such holder will hold after the consolidation the same number of Units as such holder held before the issuance of additional Units.

3.2 Consideration of Units

A Unit will not be fully paid until the consideration therefor has been received in full by or on behalf of the Trust. The consideration for any Unit will be paid in money or in property (including, without limitation, a debt instrument issued to the Trust) or in past services received by the Trust that are not less in value than the fair equivalent of the money that the Trust would have received if the Unit had been issued for money. In determining whether property or past services are the fair equivalent of consideration paid in money, the Issuer Trustee may take into account reasonable charges and expenses of organization and reorganization and payments for property and past services reasonably expected to benefit the Trust. In no case will a Unit be issued to a Designated Beneficiary.

3.3 No Pre-Emptive Rights

No Person shall be entitled, as a matter of right, to subscribe for or purchase any Units of the Trust. There are no pre-emptive rights attaching to the Units.

3.4 Fractional Units

If as a result of any act of the Issuer Trustee hereunder, any Person becomes entitled to a fraction of a Unit, such Person will not be entitled to receive a certificate therefor. Fractional Units will not, except to the extent that they may represent in the aggregate one or more whole Units, entitle the holders thereof to notice of or to attend or to vote at meetings of the Unitholders. Subject to the foregoing, such fractional Units will have attached thereto the rights, restrictions, conditions and limitations attaching to whole Units in the proportion that they bear to a whole Unit.

3.5 Allotment and Issue

Subject to Section 3.6, the Issuer Trustee may allot and issue Units at such time or times and in such manner (including pursuant to any plan from time to time in effect relating to reinvestment by the Unitholders of distributions of the Trust in Units) and to such Person, Persons or class of Persons as the Issuer Trustee in its sole discretion will determine. The price or the value of the consideration for which Units may be issued and the terms and conditions of issuance of the Units will be determined by the Issuer Trustee in its sole discretion. Not restricting the generality of the foregoing, the Issuer Trustee may accept amounts received from a Unitholder as a prepayment in respect of the obligation of the Unitholder to pay all or any part of the subscription price of Units to be issued at a later date by the Issuer Trustee. In such circumstances, such prepayment will form part of the Trust Property. In the event that Units are issued in whole or in part for a consideration other than money, the resolution of the Issuer Trustee allotting and issuing such Units will express the fair equivalent in money of the other consideration received.

3.6 Prohibited Issuances and Transfers

(1) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Declaration of Trust, at no time, may Units be issued or transferred to a Person who would be a "designated beneficiary" within the meaning of Part XII.2 of the ITA ("Designated Beneficiary"), and the Issuer Trustee will not accept a subscription for Units from, or issue or register a transfer of Units to, a Person unless the Person provides a declaration to the Issuer Trustee that it would not be a Designated Beneficiary and covenants to maintain such representation true for as long as it continues to hold one or more Units. If, notwithstanding the foregoing, the Issuer Trustee determines that a Person has purported to become or remain a Unitholder in breach of the above mentioned declaration or covenant, or if the Unitholder fails to provide, upon request, a declaration in form and content satisfactory to the Issuer Trustee that it is not a Designated Beneficiary, (i) the Issuer Trustee will require such Person to dispose of the Units within a specified period not to exceed 60 days to a Person who does not contravene the above mentioned limitation on ownership ("New Holder"), and (ii) effective immediately prior to the breach, such Person will be deemed to have ceased to be a holder of such Units, the voting and distribution rights attached to such Units will be suspended and such Units will be deemed not to be outstanding until acquired by a New Holder (provided that holders of other Units will not be entitled to any portion of the distributions that may have been paid in respect of Units that have been so deemed not to be outstanding) and such Person's rights in respect of such Units will be limited to receiving the net proceeds of the sale thereof. If such Person has not, within such period, sold such Units or provided the Issuer Trustee with a declaration in form and content satisfactory to the Issuer Trustee that it is not a Designated Beneficiary, the Issuer Trustee may sell such Units on behalf of such Person (and the Issuer Trustee will have the power of attorney of such Person to do so), and such Person's rights in respect of such Units will be limited to receiving the net proceeds of sale upon surrender of the certificates representing such Units.

(2) Subject to this section 3.6, and until the Issuer Trustee will have been required to do so under the terms hereof, the Issuer Trustee will not be bound to do or take any proceeding or action with respect to this section 3.6 by virtue of the powers conferred on it hereby. The Issuer Trustee will have the sole right and authority to make any determination required for the administration of the provisions of, or contemplated under this section 3.6, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, if the Issuer Trustee considers that there are reasonable grounds for believing that a contravention of the above mentioned limitation on ownership has occurred or may occur, the Issuer Trustee will make a determination with respect to the matter. Any such determination will be conclusive, final and binding for the purposes of this section 3.6 except to the extent modified by any subsequent determination by the Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee may require declarations as to whether a Unitholder is a Designated Beneficiary or as to factual information that will enable the Issuer Trustee to determine whether a Unitholder or a prospective transferee of a Unit may be a Designated Beneficiary. In any situation where it is unclear whether Units may be held by a Person who may be a Designated Beneficiary, the Issuer Trustee may exercise its discretion in determining whether such Person is or is not a Designated Beneficiary, and any such exercise by it of its discretion will be binding for the purposes of this section 3.6.

3.7 Liability of Unitholders

No Unitholder of the Trust, in its capacity as such, will incur or be subject to any liability, direct or indirect, absolute or contingent, in contract or in tort or of any other kind, to any Person in connection with: (i) the Trust Property or the ownership, use, operation, acquisition or disposition thereof or exercise or enjoyment of the rights, privileges, conditions or benefits attached thereto, associated therewith or derived therefrom; (ii) the obligations, liabilities, activities or affairs of the Trust; (iii) any actual or alleged act or omission of the Issuer Trustee or any other Person in respect of the activities or affairs of the Trust (whether or not authorized by or pursuant to this Declaration of Trust); (iv) any actual or alleged act or omission of the Issuer Trustee or any other Person in the performance or exercise, or purported or attempted performance or exercise, of any obligation, power, discretion or authority conferred upon the Issuer Trustee or such other Person in respect of the activities or affairs of the Trust (whether or not authorized by or pursuant to this Declaration of Trust); (v) any transaction entered into by the Issuer Trustee or by any other Person in respect of the activities or affairs of the Trust (whether or not authorized by or pursuant to this Declaration of Trust); or (vi) any taxes, levies, imposts or charges or fines, penalties or interest in respect thereof payable by the Trust or by the Issuer Trustee or by any other Person (except the Unitholders to the extent required by applicable tax laws) on behalf of or in connection with the activities or affairs of the Trust. No Unitholder will be liable to indemnify the Issuer Trustee or any other Person with respect to any such liability or liabilities incurred by the Issuer Trustee or by any such other Person or Persons or with respect to any taxes payable by the Trust or by the Issuer Trustee or any other Person on behalf of or in connection with the Trust. To the extent that any such liabilities of the Unitholders may arise, they will be enforceable only against, and will be satisfied only out of, the Trust Property to the full extent of such liability and the costs of any litigation or other proceedings in which such liability will have been determined, including without limitation, the fees and disbursements of counsel.

4.1 Redemption of Units

Each Unitholder will be entitled to require the Trust to redeem at any time and from time to time at the demand of such Unitholder all or any part of the Units held by such Unitholder as follows:

(1) The Unitholder will give notice in writing to the Trust at its head office of its intention to redeem Units and the number of Units to be redeemed.

(2) Upon receipt by the Trust of such notice from the Unitholder to redeem Units, the Unitholder will be entitled to receive, subject to subsection 4.1(3), an amount equal to the aggregate fair market value of such Units immediately before the redemption (the "Redemption Price") established by the Issuer Trustee, acting reasonably, payable by certified cheque or via wire transfer of funds.

(3) In the event that the Trust has insufficient funds to make the payment required pursuant to subsection 4.1(2) or such payment is restricted under the terms of the Indenture, the Trust will satisfy the Redemption Price, subject to compliance with any regulatory requirements, ~~distribute~~by either issuing a promissory note to the Unitholder, which note shall have a principal amount equal to the Redemption Price and such other terms as is determined at the time of issuance by the Issuer Trustee, or by distributing to the redeeming Unitholder in specie a proportionate amount of the Trust Property, the fair market value of which, as determined by the Issuer Trustee, acting reasonably, is equal to the Redemption Price. ~~The~~ In the event that property is distributed in specie, the amount of Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption as contemplated by subsection 4.1(5) payable in connection with the redemption of Units shall be payable to the Unitholder in kind, and to the extent of the amount thereof, the Redemption Price of the Units being redeemed shall be reduced accordingly (the "Adjusted Redemption Price").

(4) Upon satisfaction of the Redemption Price or the Adjusted Redemption Price, as the case may be, the redeeming Unitholder will not be entitled to any rights or benefits, including voting and the right to receive distributions, in connection with the Units redeemed.

(5) Where the Trust distributes Trust Property in specie as contemplated in subsection 4.1(3), the Issuer Trustee shall designate and pay to the redeeming Unitholder such part of the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust as is realized by the Trust in connection with such in specie distribution, provided that the amount of the Net Realize Capital Gains on the Trust so allocated shall not exceed the amount, if any, by which the Redemption Price of the particular Units being redeemed exceeds the aggregate adjusted cost base of such Units to the Unitholder for the purpose of the ITA immediately before the redemption (the "Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption"). If the total Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption determined by the Issuer Trustee pursuant to the preceding sentence for all redeeming Unitholders in any taxation year exceeds the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for that year, the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for that taxation year shall be allocated rateably to all redeeming Unitholders for the year based on the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption as otherwise determined pursuant to the preceding sentence. The Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption designated and paid on the redemption of Units as determined under this subsection shall be deemed to be a distribution of Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for the particular taxation year in which the redemption occurs. If the Issuer Trustee is required to deduct or withhold an amount from such distribution, the Unitholder shall make the cash payment described in Section 11.7 to the Issuer Trustee on or prior to the date the Units are to be redeemed.

RIGHTS AND POWERS OF ISSUER TRUSTEE

5.1 General Rights and Powers

Subject to the specific restrictions and limitations set forth in this Declaration of Trust and notwithstanding the provisions of the Trustee Act (Ontario) or any other similar legislation in any jurisdiction, the Issuer Trustee will have, without the necessity of authorization by, and free from any power or control on the part of, the Unitholders, full, exclusive and absolute power, control and authority over the Trust Property and the Trust Activities to the same extent as if the Issuer Trustee were the sole and absolute owner thereof in its own right including, without limitation, such power, control and authority to do all such acts and things as in its sole judgment and discretion are necessary, incidental or desirable for carrying on the Trust Activities in accordance with the Program Agreements with such powers of delegation as may be permitted by this Declaration of Trust, including the right, power and authority to amend this Declaration of Trust subject to and in accordance with the terms hereof and to appoint, employ or contract with any Person as the Issuer Trustee may deem necessary, appropriate or desirable for the transaction of the Trust Activities, including for the administration of the Trust. The Issuer Trustee shall exercise the functions of the trustee of the Trust in Ontario, Canada. For greater certainty, the powers of the Issuer Trustee that may be exercised as aforesaid include the powers set forth in Section 5.2 to and including Section 5.18. The enumeration of any specific power or authority in this Declaration of Trust will not be construed as limiting the aforesaid power or authority or any other specific power or authority. Subject only to the express limitations contained in this Declaration of Trust, every discretion or power hereby conferred on the Issuer Trustee is an absolute and uncontrolled discretion or power.

5.2 Acquisition of Assets and Deposit of Funds

Subject to Section 2.1, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to acquire Investment Interests in accordance with the Program Agreements. Subject to compliance with the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to deposit any money forming part of the Trust Property with any bank (which bank may be an Affiliate of the Issuer Trustee) licensed under the laws of Canada or any trust company (which includes the Issuer Trustee) licensed under the laws of any province of Canada and to withdraw such deposits in accordance with the Program Agreements. The Issuer Trustee will have no liability for any loss which may occur by reason of the failure of any depository with whom such money has been deposited or for the depreciation of any investment.

5.3 Legal Title and Custody

The Issuer Trustee will have the power to cause any and all Trust Property to be held by and/or registered in the name of any Person.

5.4 Disposition of Trust Property

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to sell, convey, transfer and assign all Trust Property free and clear of any and all trusts hereby established, at public or private sale, for cash or on terms, with or without advertisement and subject to such restrictions, stipulations, agreements and reservations as it may deem proper.

5.5 Management of Trust Property

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to own, manage, use, invest and hold the Trust Property (including, without limitation, the power to make investments in Eligible Investments) and to enter into agreements in respect of the Trust Property or its use including, without limitation, agreements to modify, amend, extend, renew or terminate any grant or agreement relating to the Trust Property and to waive compliance with any of the terms and conditions thereof, all, in each case, without the approval of or notice to the Unitholders.

5.6 Power to Borrow Money and Issue Funding Obligations

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to:

(a) borrow or in any other manner raise money and to evidence the same by the issuance of Funding Obligations, by private placement, public offering or otherwise;

(b) reacquire or redeem Funding Obligations;

(c) execute and deliver any trust indenture or supplement thereto, security agreement, mortgage, pledge, hypothec, assignment or other instrument to secure Funding

Obligations, and amendments, modifications, restatements or replacements thereof, whether by fixed or floating charge or by assignment or by the granting of a security interest, free and clear of any and all trusts hereby established and, in lieu of or in addition to granting any security, to grant to any Person a negative pledge whereby the Issuer Trustee agrees not to encumber any Trust Property and such other covenants as may be consistent with those set out in the Program Agreements or as may otherwise be specified by any applicable Rating Agency in accordance with the foregoing; and

(d) execute and/or deliver any agreement, instrument, certificate, direction or other document necessary or desirable in order to permit or give effect to the provisions of this Section 5.6, including, without limitation, prospectuses, offering memoranda, regulatory filings, dealer agreements, Underwriting Agreements, subscription agreements, letters of representation, consent letters, and any instruments ancillary thereto.

5.7 Hedging Agreements

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to enter into Hedging Agreements in connection with or related to the borrowing or other raising of money by the Issuer Trustee or the purchase or ownership of Investment Interests, provided that such Hedging Agreements may be entered into only at or prior to the time that such securities are sold, or such borrowing, other raising of money or purchase takes place, as applicable, or as otherwise expressly permitted in the Management Agreement; provided, however, that amendments, modifications or novations of or to a Hedging Agreement may be entered into at any time after the original Hedging Agreement was executed.

5.8 Execution of Instruments

Every deed, transfer, assignment, hypothec, agreement, certificate, direction, instrument, prospectus, or any other document which is necessary or desirable to be executed by the Trust, including, without limitation, any document evidencing Funding Obligations or relating to the issuance of Funding Obligations, will be signed on behalf of the Trust by the Issuer Trustee or its duly appointed agent, including the Manager.

5.9 Facsimile Signatures

The Issuer Trustee may authorize the use of facsimile signatures on the documents evidencing Funding Obligations, provided, however, that where facsimile signatures are so used, documents evidencing Funding Obligations will be manually countersigned or certified by a transfer agent, trustee, registrar or similar Person. If a Funding Obligation contains a printed or mechanically reproduced signature of a Person, the Issuer Trustee may issue the Funding Obligation notwithstanding that the Person has ceased to be a director, officer or signing officer of the Issuer Trustee, and the Funding Obligation will be as valid as if the Person were a director, an officer or a signing officer at the date of its issue.

5.10 Taxes

The Issuer Trustee will have the power to pay all taxes or assessments of whatever kind or nature imposed upon the Issuer Trustee and/or the Trust in connection with the Trust Property or the Trust Activities or upon or against the income from the Trust Activities or any part thereof, to settle and compromise disputed tax liabilities and, for the foregoing purposes, to make such returns and do all such other acts and things as may be deemed by the Issuer Trustee necessary or desirable. The Issuer Trustee will have the power to deduct and remit any taxes which are required by law to be deducted and remitted from any payment made by the Issuer Trustee under any Program Agreements or otherwise.

5.11 Collection

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to:

(a) collect, receive, give receipts for and sue for all sums of money or other property due to the Trust;

(b) consent to extensions of time for payment of, or the renewal of, any securities or obligations of the Trust;

(c) engage or intervene in, prosecute, defend, compound, compromise, abandon or adjust by arbitration or otherwise deal with or settle any actions, suits, proceedings, disputes, claims, demands or things relating to the Trust Property or the Trust Activities;

(d) exercise any and all remedies available to it under any Program Agreements or otherwise, including any power of foreclosure or sale available to the Issuer Trustee at law or pursuant to any agreement and, in connection with any such foreclosure or sale, to purchase or otherwise acquire title to any property and to convey good title thereto free of any and all trusts hereby established, or to take or retake possession of any property secured or unsecured thereunder or such other security;

(e) extend the time, with or without security, for the payment or delivery of any debts or property and to execute and enter into releases, agreements and other instruments; and

(f) pay or satisfy any debts or claims upon any evidence that the Issuer Trustee determines to be sufficient.

5.12 Expenses and Compensation of Issuer Trustee

(a) The Issuer Trustee will have the power to incur and make payment of any charges or expenses which in the opinion of the Issuer Trustee are necessary or incidental to or proper for carrying out any of the purposes of this Declaration of Trust and the Trust Activities, and to pay appropriate compensation or fees from the Trust

Property to Persons with whom the Trust has contracted or transacted business including, without limitation, any charges, expenses, compensation or fees payable under or in connection with the Program Agreements.

(b) The Issuer Trustee will be entitled to be paid from the funds of the Trust, without any requirement of a passing of accounts in respect thereof or approval of the Unitholders, such fees as the Issuer Trustee and the Manager may agree to from time to time for its services hereunder and all reasonable expenses, disbursements and advances incurred or made by the Issuer Trustee in the administration or execution of the trusts hereby created (including the reasonable compensation and the disbursements of its counsel and all other advisers and assistants not regularly in its employ) until all the duties of the Issuer Trustee under the trusts hereby created shall be finally and fully performed, except any such expense, disbursement or advance as may arise from or in connection with the dishonesty, bad faith, wilful misconduct, negligence or reckless disregard of any duty or the failure to comply with the standard of care referred to in Section 7.1 by the Issuer Trustee, its officers, employees or agents. All such amounts will be payable at such times as the Issuer Trustee and the Manager may agree from time to time. All such amounts shall be exclusive of any applicable taxes and any applicable taxes shall be paid to the Issuer Trustee in addition to such amounts. Any amount not paid when due shall bear interest at a rate per annum equal to the rate designated by the Issuer Trustee as the then current rate charged by the Issuer Trustee or its successors from time to time to its corporate customers, payable on demand. After default and unless otherwise provided in the Indenture and any documents contemplated thereunder, all amounts so payable and the interest thereon shall be payable out of any funds coming into the possession of the Issuer Trustee or its successors in the trusts hereunder in priority to any payments to other Specified Creditors.

5.13 Allocation

The Issuer Trustee will have the power to determine conclusively whether money or other assets received by the Trust or expenses or disbursements made by the Trust will be charged or credited to income or capital or allocated between income and capital, provided, however, that such determination will not be inconsistent with calculation of income in accordance with the ITA at the time the determination is made.

5.14 Fiscal Year and Form of Accounts

The fiscal year of the Trust will end on December 31. The Issuer Trustee will have the power to determine and from time to time change the method or form in which the accounts of the Trust will be kept, provided such method or form reasonably complies with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles as applicable from time to time.

5.15 Power to Contract

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to appoint, employ or contract with any Person as the Issuer Trustee may deem necessary or desirable for the transaction of the Trust Activities and may transfer assets to such Person and, save and except for such matters as are listed in Section 2.2, delegate to such Person any or all of the discretionary powers given to the Issuer Trustee with respect to the management of the Trust Property. Without in any way limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to:

(a) enter into, execute, deliver, perform the obligations of the Trust under, and grant security as provided for in, the Program Agreements;

(b) appoint, employ or contract with the Manager or any other Person who, under the supervision of the Manager, may, among other things: (i) furnish and supervise or cause to be furnished and supervised the performance of the clerical and administrative services necessary to the administration of the Trust and the Trust Property including, without limitation, the provision of office space, office equipment and personnel for the performance of such services, property management, administration and servicing, the maintenance of documents, books and Records for the Trust (including those described in Section 8.1), the receipt and disbursement of Trust Property, the servicing and payment of debt and other obligations and generally all matters relating to the obtaining of and the administration and servicing of Trust Property, including, without limitation, as provided in the Management Agreement; (ii) serve as an advisor to the Issuer Trustee, furnish reports to the Issuer Trustee and provide research, economic and statistical data in connection with the Trust Activities; (iii) act as consultant, accountant, correspondent, lender, technical advisor, counsel, broker and dealer, underwriter, fiscal agent, corporate fiduciary, escrow agent, depository, custodian or agent for collection from obligors, loan administrator, appraiser, bank, insurer or insurance agent, transfer agent or registrar or issuing and paying agent for Funding Obligations or in any other capacity deemed by the Issuer Trustee necessary or desirable; (iv) act as attorney or agent in the purchase or sale or other disposition of the Trust Property or the property secured thereby and the handling, prosecution or settling of any claims of the Trust and assist in the performance of such functions necessary in the management of the Trust as may be agreed upon with the Issuer Trustee; and (v) execute and deliver the Program Agreements. For greater certainty, the appointment by the Issuer Trustee of the Manager under the Management Agreement will, where applicable, be deemed to constitute adequate supervision by the Issuer Trustee for purposes of the Trustee Act (Ontario) and this Declaration of Trust of any Person thereby engaged in connection with the foregoing activities; and

(c) investigate, select and conduct negotiations with Persons acting in the capacities referred to in Section 5.15(b) and pay appropriate fees to, and enter into appropriate contracts with, employ or retain the services of, any of them in connection with the Trust Property or property secured thereby, other assets and any security related thereto funded, acquired, sold or otherwise disposed of, or committed, negotiated or contemplated to be funded, acquired, sold, or otherwise disposed of in connection with Funding Obligations.

5.16 Indemnification

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to indemnify or enter into agreements with respect to indemnification with any Person with whom the Issuer Trustee or the Trust deals to such extent as the Issuer Trustee determines necessary or desirable.

5.17 Further Powers

Subject to Section 2.1, the Issuer Trustee will have the power to perform and do all such other acts and things and to execute itself (or have executed by any Person appointed by it pursuant to Section 5.15) all such deeds, transfers, assignments, hypothecs, agreements, certificates, directions, instruments or other documents whatsoever as it deems necessary, proper or desirable in order to carry on the Trust Activities in accordance with and subject to the Program Agreements notwithstanding that such acts, things, deeds, transfers, assignments, hypothecs, agreements, certificates, directions, instruments or other documents are not herein specifically mentioned. Any determination as to what is necessary, proper or desirable in order to carry on the Trust Activities in accordance with the Program Agreements or otherwise, provided it is made by the Issuer Trustee honestly and in good faith, will be conclusive. Any construction of this Declaration of Trust or the existence of any power or authority hereunder, made honestly and in good faith by the Issuer Trustee upon the advice of counsel, will be conclusive to the extent consistent with the law. In construing the provisions of this Declaration of Trust, there will be a presumption in favour of a grant of power to the Issuer Trustee.

5.18 Auditors

In accordance with and subject to the terms of the Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee will have the power from time to time to select and appoint and discharge and reappoint an auditor of the Trust in its discretion and to negotiate and fix the fees of any such auditor.

5.19 Defect in Appointment

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained, no action taken by the Issuer Trustee will be invalid by reason only of any defect that is thereafter discovered in its appointment.

ARTICLE 6
REPLACEMENT OF ISSUER TRUSTEE

6.1 Resignation of Issuer Trustee

(a) If the Issuer Trustee desires to resign and be discharged from the trusts and powers reposed in or conferred on it by this Declaration of Trust, it will provide 120 days written notice (or such shorter period of notice as the Unitholders , the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies may agree to) thereof to the Unitholders, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies provided that no such voluntary resignation shall be effective until a replacement Issuer Trustee acceptable to the Unitholders and the Indenture Trustee has been appointed and has executed a written agreement whereby such replacement Issuer Trustee agrees to assume the obligations of the Issuer Trustee hereunder, under the Program Agreements and under any other contract pursuant to which the Issuer Trustee is obligated.

(b) The Issuer Trustee shall resign if a material conflict of interest arises in its role as a trustee under this Declaration of Trust that is not eliminated within 90 days after the Issuer Trustee becomes aware that it has such a material conflict of interest. Forthwith after the Issuer Trustee becomes aware that it has such a material conflict of interest, it shall provide the Unitholders, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies with written notice of the nature of such material conflict of interest. Upon such resignation, the Issuer Trustee shall (subject to Section 6.6) be discharged from its office under this Declaration of Trust. If, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.1(b), the Issuer Trustee has such a material conflict of interest, the validity and enforceability of this Declaration of Trust and any agreement entered into by the Issuer Trustee shall not be affected in any manner whatsoever by reason only of the existence of such material conflict of interest. If the Issuer Trustee contravenes the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.1(b), the Unitholders, may apply, on notice to the Rating Agencies, to a court of competent jurisdiction for an order that the Issuer Trustee be replaced as Issuer Trustee hereunder.

6.2 Removal of Issuer Trustee

The Issuer Trustee may be removed from its office under this Declaration of Trust by the Unitholders, at any time by notice in writing delivered to the Issuer Trustee not less than 90 days prior to the date that such removal is to take effect.

6.3 Vacancy

In the event of the bankruptcy or insolvency of the Issuer Trustee or the inability of the Issuer Trustee to exercise its duties under this Declaration of Trust, the Unitholders may forthwith terminate the term of office of the Issuer Trustee as trustee and, in such instance, a vacancy will occur. No vacancy (including upon a resignation of the Issuer Trustee pursuant to Section 6.1(b)) shall operate to annul this Declaration of Trust or affect the continuity of the Trust or terminate the appointment of the Manager under the Management Agreement.

6.4 Appointment of New Issuer Trustee

If, pursuant to this Article 6, the Issuer Trustee resigns or a vacancy occurs in the office of the Issuer Trustee for any reason, the Unitholders may by instrument in writing appoint a Trust Company, which either (i) has risk-based capital of at least $50,000,000 or, in the case of an entity that is not subject to risk-based capital adequacy requirements, has a combined capital and surplus of at least $50,000,000; or (ii) has been approved in writing by each Rating Agency prior to its appointment by the Unitholders, in order to replace the Issuer Trustee. If the Unitholders fails to make such appointment within 60 days of the occurrence of any such resignation, removal or vacancy, then the Issuer Trustee may make an application, on notice to the Rating Agencies, to a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a successor Issuer Trustee hereunder. If the Issuer Trustee elects not to make such an application, the Unitholders may do so on notice to the Rating Agencies. The expense of any act, document, deed or other instrument or thing required under this Section 6.4 will be satisfied from the Trust Property.

6.5 Merger, Consolidation and Amalgamation

Any company into which the Issuer Trustee may be merged or with which it may be consolidated or amalgamated, or any company resulting from any merger, consolidation or amalgamation to which the Issuer Trustee is a party or any company succeeding to the corporate trust business of the Issuer Trustee will be a successor Issuer Trustee under this Declaration of Trust without any further action on the part of the Issuer Trustee, provided that such company shall be a Trust Company.

6.6 Vesting in Successor Issuer Trustee

Any successor Issuer Trustee will become vested with all the estates, properties, rights, powers, duties, responsibilities and trusts of its predecessors in the trusts hereunder as if it had been originally named as Issuer Trustee pursuant to this Declaration of Trust. In furtherance of the foregoing, upon written request of the successor Issuer Trustee, the Issuer Trustee ceasing to act will do, make, execute, deliver or cause to be done, made, executed or delivered all such acts, documents, deeds or other instruments and things as may be necessary or desirable in order to more effectively assign, transfer and deliver to, and vest in, the successor Issuer Trustee, upon the trusts herein expressed, all the rights, powers and trusts of, and all property and money held by the Issuer Trustee so ceasing to act. The expense of any act, document, deed or other instrument or thing required under this Section 6.6 will be satisfied from the Trust Property.

6.7 Confidentiality

At all times (including, without limitation, at any time the Issuer Trustee should resign or be discharged from the trusts and powers reposed in or conferred on it by this Declaration of Trust), the Issuer Trustee (or the trustee so resigning and being discharged, as the case may be) will treat as confidential all information relating to the Trust, the Trust Activities and the transactions contemplated by the Program Agreements obtained by it in its capacity as Issuer Trustee.

6.8 Right to Disclose

The Issuer Trustee shall have the right to disclose any information disclosed or released to it if in the opinion of legal counsel to the Issuer Trustee it is required to disclose under any applicable laws, court order or directions of Governmental Authorities or if it is requested by a Rating Agency. The Issuer Trustee shall not be responsible or liable to any party for any loss or damage arising out of or in any way sustained or incurred or in any way relating to such disclosure.

ARTICLE 7
STANDARD OF CARE, LIMITATION OF LIABILITY OF ISSUER TRUSTEE AND OTHER MATTERS

7.1 Standard of Care

The Issuer Trustee will exercise its powers and carry out its obligations hereunder as Issuer Trustee honestly, in good faith and in the best interests of the Trust and the Unitholders and in connection therewith will exercise that degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent Person would exercise in comparable circumstances. To the extent that the Issuer Trustee has delegated or subcontracted the performance of all or a portion of its duties to the Manager as contemplated by Section 5.15, it will be deemed to have satisfied the aforesaid standard of care. Unless otherwise required by law, the Issuer Trustee will not be required to give bond, surety or security in any jurisdiction for the performance of any duties or obligations hereunder. The Issuer Trustee will not be required to devote its entire time to the Trust Activities. For greater certainty, the entering into of any Program Agreement by the Trust and the performance by the Trust of its obligations thereunder will be deemed to be in the best interests of the Unitholders and the Trust.

7.2 Limitation of Liability of Issuer Trustee

The Issuer Trustee has entered into this Declaration of Trust solely in its capacity as trustee of the Trust and not in its personal capacity, and any and all of the representations, warranties, undertakings, covenants, indemnities, agreements and other obligations made on the part of the Issuer Trustee herein are made and intended not as personal representations, warranties, undertakings, covenants, indemnities, agreements and other obligations by the Issuer Trustee or for the purpose or with the intention of binding the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity, but are made and intended for the purpose of binding only the Trust Property or a specific portion thereof. No property or assets of the Issuer Trustee, whether owned beneficially by it in its personal capacity or otherwise (other than the Trust Property), will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedures with regard to any of the representations, warranties, undertakings, covenants, indemnities, agreements and other obligations of the Trust or the Issuer Trustee hereunder, and no recourse may be had or taken, directly or indirectly, against the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity, any Unitholder or any Affiliate, shareholder, director, officer, representative, employee or agent of the Issuer Trustee or any predecessor or successor of the Issuer Trustee with regard to the representations, warranties, undertakings, covenants, indemnities, agreements and other obligations of the Trust or the Issuer Trustee hereunder; provided that the foregoing limitation will not apply in respect of any action or failure to act arising from or in connection with the wilful misconduct, negligence or the failure to comply with the standard of care referred to in Section 7.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Article 7, but subject to the Indenture, each Specified Creditor is entitled to recourse to the Trust Property to satisfy in full the obligations of the Trust to it even if the Issuer Trustee has no right, or only an impaired right, to seek indemnification from the Trust Property or to apply the Trust Property in satisfaction of such obligations.

7.3 Indemnification of the Issuer Trustee

The Issuer Trustee, its directors, officers, agents, representatives and employees will at all times be indemnified and saved harmless out of the Trust Property from and against all claims (including any claim arising out of the assessment of any tax on income by a taxing authority), demands, levies, penalties, suits, losses, actions, causes of action, costs, charges, fees and expenses, damages and liabilities whatsoever, including, without limitation, those arising out of or related to actions taken or omitted to be taken by any agent of the Issuer Trustee, including, without limitation, the Manager, as contemplated hereby, legal fees and disbursements on a substantial indemnity basis and costs and expenses incurred in connection with the enforcement of this indemnity (each, a "Claim"), which the Issuer Trustee, its directors, officers, representatives and employees may suffer or incur, whether at law or in equity, in any way caused by or arising, directly or indirectly, in respect of any act, deed, matter or thing whatsoever made, done, acquiesced in or omitted in or about or in relation to the execution of its duties as Issuer Trustee or which it sustains or incurs in or about or in relation to the Trust Property and the Trust Activities. Further, the Issuer Trustee will not be liable to the Trust, to any Unitholder or to any other Person for any loss or damage relating to any matter regarding the Trust, including any loss or diminution in the value of the Trust Property. The foregoing provisions of this Section 7.3 do not apply to the extent that in any circumstances there has been wilful misconduct, gross negligence or the failure to comply with standard of care referred to in Section 7.1 on the part of the Issuer Trustee, its directors, officers, agents, representatives or employees excluding the other parties to the Program Agreements. Notwithstanding any other provision hereof, this indemnity will survive the removal or resignation of the Issuer Trustee, the termination of this Declaration of Trust and the termination of any trust created hereby.

7.4 Reliance upon Advice

The Issuer Trustee may rely and act upon any statement, notice, report or opinion prepared by or any advice received from the Manager or from the auditors, counsel or other professional advisors of the Issuer Trustee and will not be responsible or held liable for any loss or damage resulting from so relying or acting if the Issuer Trustee acted reasonably and in good faith relied upon the advice received and if the professional advisor was aware that the Issuer Trustee was receiving the advice in its capacity as Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee is entitled to be reimbursed from the Trust Property for all costs, charges and expenses it incurs in connection with obtaining any such statement, notice, report, opinion or advice. The Issuer Trustee is entitled to rely and act upon the genuineness and authenticity of any writing submitted to it that it in good faith believes to be genuine.

7.5 Retain Experts

The Issuer Trustee may appoint such agents and employ or retain such counsel, accountants, engineers, appraisers or other experts or advisers as it may reasonably require for the purpose of discharging its duties hereunder and shall not be responsible for any misconduct on the part of any of them. The Issuer Trustee may pay remuneration out of the Trust Property for all services performed for it in the discharge of the trusts hereof without taxation for costs or fees of any counsel, solicitor or attorney.

7.6 Reliance on Experts

The Issuer Trustee may act and rely and shall be protected in acting in good faith on the opinion or advice of or information obtained from any agent, counsel, accountant, engineer, appraiser or other expert or adviser in relation to any matter arising in the performance of its duties under the Program Agreements.

7.7 Provisions Regarding Liability

Any written instrument creating an obligation of the Issuer Trustee will be conclusively deemed to have been executed by the Issuer Trustee only in its capacity as Issuer Trustee. Any written instrument creating an obligation of the Issuer Trustee will contain a provision to the effect that the obligations thereunder are not binding upon the Issuer Trustee except in its capacity as Issuer Trustee, nor will recourse be had to the property of the Issuer Trustee except in its capacity as Issuer Trustee, but that the Trust Property or a specific portion thereof only will be bound, and may at the request of the Issuer Trustee make specific provision to the foregoing effect and contain any further provisions which the Issuer Trustee may deem appropriate, but the omission of any such provisions will not operate to invalidate any such instrument or to impose liability on the Issuer Trustee, except as aforesaid. The Issuer Trustee shall not be required to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur financial liability in the performance of its duties hereunder.

ARTICLE 8

8.1 Records to be Kept

The Issuer Trustee will keep or cause to be kept at the head office of the Trust a copy of this Declaration of Trust, a register of Unitholders, minutes of meetings and resolutions of Unitholders, minutes of meetings and resolutions of the Issuer Trustee, and such Records as are by law or good business practice necessary. The Records may be kept at the office of any Person whom the Issuer Trustee has appointed to maintain the same, provided that the Issuer Trustee has access to the Records on one Business Day's notice to such Person.

8.2 Segregation of Assets

The Issuer Trustee shall maintain the Trust Property separate from all other property in its possession.

8.3 Method of Keeping Records

Where this Declaration of Trust requires the Issuer Trustee to cause a Record to be kept, it may be kept in bound or loose-leaf form or by means of a mechanical, electronic or other device.

8.4 Annual Financial Statements

A copy of the annual financial statements of the Trust, signed by the Issuer Trustee, shall be mailed or otherwise made available within 120 days following the end of a fiscal year to which they relate to each Unitholder. The financial statements shall include all information required to be included in annual financial statements of the Trust by applicable laws.

ARTICLE 9
MEETINGS OF UNITHOLDERS AND DECISION OF UNITHOLDERS

9.1 Annual Meeting

There will not be an annual meeting of the Unitholders.

9.2 Other Meetings

The Issuer Trustee will have power at any time to call meetings of the Unitholders at such time and place as the Issuer Trustee may determine. Unitholders holding in the aggregate not less than a majority of the outstanding Units may requisition the Issuer Trustee in writing to call a meeting of the Unitholders for the purposes stated in the requisition. The requisition shall state in reasonable detail the business proposed to be transacted at the meeting and will be sent to the Issuer Trustee at the address of the Issuer Trustee. Upon receiving the requisition, the Issuer Trustee will call a meeting of the Unitholders to transact the business referred to in the requisition. If the Issuer Trustee does not within 10 days after receiving the requisition call a meeting, any Unitholder who signed the requisition may call the meeting.

9.3 Quorum and Voting

A quorum for any meeting of the Unitholders will be persons present being Unitholders or representing by proxy Unitholders who hold in the aggregate a majority of the total number of outstanding Units. Unitholders may attend and vote at all meetings of the Unitholders either in person or by proxy. Each Unit will be entitled to one vote at all meetings of the Unitholders. Any action to be taken by the Unitholders will, except as otherwise required by this Declaration of Trust, or by law, be authorized when approved by a majority of the votes cast at a meeting of the Unitholders. The chairman of any such meeting will not have a second or casting vote.

9.4 Written Resolution

Any business which may be conducted at a meeting of the Unitholders may be approved by a resolution in writing in lieu thereof. Notice of such resolution will be given to all Unitholders and approval of such resolution will be evidenced by the signature on any such resolution or counterpart thereof by the required percentage of Unitholders for the matter to be determined.

10.1 Amendment

Subject to Section 2.1 and compliance with the terms of the applicable Program Agreements, the Issuer Trustee may, from time to time, amend, vary, supplement, replace or restate the provisions of this Declaration of Trust without the consent or approval of the Unitholders or any court as follows:

(a) to the extent deemed necessary by the Issuer Trustee in good faith to be necessary to ensure compliance with, or to remove any conflicts or other inconsistencies which may exist between any term of this Declaration of Trust and the provisions of, any applicable law in effect from time to time;

(b) to the extent deemed necessary by the Issuer Trustee in good faith to be necessary to make any change or correction in this Declaration of Trust which is a typographical change or correction or which the Issuer Trustee has been advised by legal counsel is required for the purpose of curing any ambiguity or defect or inconsistent provision or clerical omission or mistake or manifest error contained herein, or

(c) subject to the satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition, to the extent deemed necessary or desirable in the sole discretion of the Issuer Trustee to permit or facilitate the carrying on of the Trust Activities, including the accommodation of requests made by the Rating Agencies or regulatory authorities in relation to the issuance of Funding Obligations.

However, any such amendment may be made only if it will not materially adversely affect the interest of any Unitholder, unless that Unitholder has also approved of the amendment in writing. The Issuer Trustee will immediately upon the entering into thereof, provide the Rating Agencies and the Indenture Trustee with a copy of any amendment, variation, supplement, replacement or restatement of this Declaration of Trust.

10.2 Automatic Amendment

Upon the Issuer Trustee ceasing to be a trustee of the Trust, this Declaration of Trust will be automatically amended to delete any reference to the name of the trustee so ceasing to be a trustee of the Trust and to substitute therefor the name of the successor trustee of the Trust. Notice of any change in the Issuer Trustee may be endorsed upon or attached to this Declaration of Trust and signed by the successor Issuer Trustee and every such notice will be sufficient evidence to any Person dealing with the Issuer Trustee under this Declaration of Trust as to the facts to which it relates.

10.3 Supplemental Declaration of Trust

The Issuer Trustee is authorized to execute any supplemental declaration of trust to give effect to amendments to this Declaration of Trust made pursuant to this Article 10. The Issuer Trustee shall not be obligated to enter into any such supplemental declaration if it adversely affects the Issuer Trustee's rights, duties or immunities under this Declaration of Trust or otherwise. No amendment to or amendment and restatement of this Declaration of Trust, whether pursuant to this Article 10 or otherwise, shall be construed as a termination of the Trust or the settlement or establishment of a new trust.

11.1 Distributions

(1) The Issuer Trustee may declare to be payable and make distributions, from time to time, out of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust, capital of the Trust or otherwise, in any year, in such amount or amounts, and on such dates as the Issuer Trustee may determine, to the Unitholders at the record date for such distribution. The Issuer Trustee may declare such amounts to be payable or authorize such distributions in advance by way of a standing resolution that is effective for a period not exceeding 12 months after the date of the resolution.

(2) Where the Trust proposes to distribute Trust Property in specie to a redeeming Unitholder as contemplated in subsection 4.1(3), and the Issuer Trustee reasonably expects that such in specie distribution will give rise to Income of the Trust and / or Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust in excess of the amount of the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption to the particular Unitholder whose Units are being redeemed (collectively, the "Excess Income on Redemption"), the Issuer Trustee shall declare to be payable and make a distribution, on the record date that is one Business Day before the redemption, to Unitholders at such record date in an amount equal to the estimated Excess Income on Redemption. Such distribution will be satisfied by the issuance of additional Units, or fractions of Units, having a fair market value equal to the amount of such distribution. If the Issuer Trustee is required to deduct or withhold an amount from such distribution, the applicable Unitholder shall make the cash payment described in Section 11.7 to the Issuer Trustee on or prior to the date the distribution.

(3) If the Issuer Trustee declares to be payable or makes a distribution pursuant to subsections 11.1(1) or 11.1(2) without determining the portion of such distribution that is payable out of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust, capital of the Trust or otherwise, such allocation shall be made pursuant to subsection 11.2(2).

(4) Having regard to the present intention of the Issuer Trustee to make payable to Unitholders all of the Income of the Trust and Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for each taxation year so that the Trust will not have any liability for tax under Part I of the ITA in any taxation year (other than alternative minimum tax or taxes payable under the

[1] Subject to PILs exemption.

"SIFT trust" rules in the ITA), unless the Issuer Trustee, in its sole discretion determines otherwise, the following amounts will, without any further actions on the part of the Issuer Trustee, be due and payable to the Unitholders of record on the last day in each such taxation year:

(a) an amount equal to the amount, if any, by which the Income of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of (A) the aggregate of the portions of the distributions paid or payable by the Trust which have been determined by the Issuer Trustee to have been payable by the Trust out of the Income of the Trust for such year, if any, and (B) the aggregate of the portions of distributions deemed by subsection 11.2(2)(a) to be paid or payable by the Trust out of the Income of the Trust for such year; and

(b) an amount equal to the amount, if any, by which the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of (A) any amount of the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust Allocated on Redemption for the year payable to redeeming Unitholders pursuant to subsection 4.1(5), (B) the aggregate of the portions of the distributions paid or payable by the Trust which have been determined by the Issuer Trustee to have been payable by the Trust out of Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year, if any, and (C) the aggregate of the portions of distributions deemed by subsection 11.2(2)(b) to be paid or payable by the Trust out of the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year, if any.

Any determinations by the Issuer Trustee not to make a distribution described in this subsection 11.1(4) must be exercised by the Issuer Trustee in writing prior to December 31 of the applicable taxation year.

(1) The proportionate share of each Unit of the amount of any distribution made pursuant to this section will be determined by dividing such amount by the number of issued and outstanding Units on the applicable record date in respect of a distribution pursuant to subsections 4.1(5), 11.1(1) or 11.1(2) and on the last day of the taxation year in respect of a distribution pursuant to subsection 11.1(4). Each Unitholder's share of the amount of any such distribution will be an amount equal to the proportionate share of each Unit of such amount multiplied by the number of Units owned of record by each such Unitholder on such applicable record date or the last day of the taxation year, as the case may be, and such Unitholder shall, on such date, be entitled to enforce payment of the Unitholder's share. Subject to subsections 4.1(5) and 11.1(2) and section 11.3, amounts which are payable to Unitholders will be paid in cash.

(1) Subject to subsection 11.2(2), distributions payable to the Unitholders pursuant to Article 11 will be deemed to be distributions of Income of the Trust (including dividends), Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust, returns of capital of the Trust or other items in such amount as the Issuer Trustee in its absolute discretion determines and will be allocated to the Unitholders in the same proportions as distributions received by the Unitholders.

(2) If the Issuer Trustee has declared to be payable or made one or more distributions in a taxation year pursuant to subsection 11.1(1) without determining the portion of such distributions that is payable out of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust, capital of the Trust or otherwise, such distributions shall be deemed to be paid or payable out of:

(a) first, the Income of the Trust for such year to the extent, if any, that the Income of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of the amounts in subsection 11.1(4)(a)(A);

(b) second, the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year to the extent, if any, that the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of the amounts in subsection 11.1(4)(b)(A) and 11.1(4)(b)(B); and

(c) as to any balance, the capital of the Trust;

and such amounts will be allocated to the Unitholders in the same proportions as such distributions were received by the Unitholders.

(1) For greater certainty it is hereby declared that any distribution of Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust will include the non-taxable portion of the capital gains of the Trust which are included in such distribution.

(1) Distributions to a Unitholder (other than distributions described in subsections 4.1(5) and 11.1(2)) will be made by cash, wire transfer or cheque payable to or to the order of the Unitholder or by such other manner provided for in subsection 11.3(3). The payment, if made by cheque, will be conclusively deemed to have been made upon hand delivery of a cheque to the Unitholder or to its agent duly authorized in writing or upon the mailing of a cheque by prepaid first-class mail addressed to the Unitholder at its address set out in the records of the Issuer Trustee unless the cheque is not paid on presentation, or in any other manner determined by the Issuer Trustee in its discretion. The Issuer Trustee may issue a replacement cheque if it is satisfied that the original cheque has not been received or has been lost or destroyed upon being furnished with such evidence of loss, indemnity or other document in connection therewith that the Issuer Trustee may in its discretion consider necessary.

(2) The Issuer Trustee may, in its sole discretion, transfer temporarily from capital to income within the Trust sufficient cash to facilitate payments of Income of the Trust to Unitholders. A permanent transfer from capital to income may be effected if payments made by and /or expenses of the Trust in any year exceed the aggregate of the net income and Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust in such year.

(3) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, a distribution to a Unitholder may be paid (i) by the issuance of additional Units, or fractions of Units having a fair market value equal to the amount of such distribution, (ii) by the issuance of a promissory note for a principal amount equal to the amount of such distribution and/or (iii) in specie by the transfer of Trust Property having a fair market value equal to the amount of such distribution, all as may be determined by the Issuer Trustee, acting reasonably. The Issuer Trustee acknowledges and agrees that it will elect to make payment to a Unitholder of the amount of a distribution in the manner described in this subsection 11.3(3) only if it has received prior written notice from the Unitholder that such payment method is acceptable, and the Unitholder makes the cash payment described in Section 11.7 to the Issuer Trustee, which written notice may be revoked in writing by the Unitholder at any time. If the Issuer Trustee elects to make payment of the amount of a distribution by the issuance of a promissory note, such promissory note shall bear interest at a fixed or floating rate, shall be repayable on demand or on the expiry of a stated term, and shall contain such other terms all of which may be determined by the Issuer Trustee such that the fair market value of such promissory note is equal to the amount of the distribution. Any such promissory note or additional Units issued, or Trust Property transferred, by the Trust shall constitute absolute and unconditional payment in full of the distribution and, by becoming a Unitholder, each Unitholder hereby acknowledges that any such note, additional Units or transfer of Trust Property will be accepted by the Unitholder as such absolute and unconditional payment of the distribution payable to the Unitholder.

11.4 Legal Rights

For greater certainty, it is hereby declared that the Unitholders shall have the legal right to enforce payment of any amount to be distributed or payable hereunder at the time such amount is due and payable.

11.5 Income Tax Matters

In reporting income for income tax purposes, the Trust will claim the maximum amount available to it as deductions under the relevant law, unless the Issuer Trustee determines otherwise.

11.6 Designations

In accordance with and to the extent permitted by the ITA, the Issuer Trustee will, in each taxation year, make such designations for income tax purposes in respect of amounts paid or payable or deemed to be paid to the Unitholders for such amounts that the Issuer Trustee considers to be reasonable in all circumstances, including designations relating to taxable dividends received or deemed to be received by the Trust in the year on shares of taxable Canadian corporations, net taxable capital gains of the Trust in the year and foreign source income of the Trust and foreign taxes in respect of such foreign source income for the year, if any.

11.7 Withholding Taxes

The Issuer Trustee will deduct or withhold from distributions or other amounts payable ~~to a Unitholder~~under this Declaration of Trust amounts required by law to be deducted or withheld from such ~~Unitholder's~~ distributions or payments, whether such distributions or payments are satisfied in the form of cash, ~~a~~cheque, promissory note, additional Units or otherwise. To the extent that any amounts are deducted or withheld from payments made by cash, cheque or wire transfer, including those described in subsection 11.3(1), such deducted or withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes as having been paid to ~~a Unitholder~~the recipient of the payment in respect of the distribution or other amount payable, provided that such deducted or withheld amounts are actually remitted in accordance with applicable law to the appropriate taxing authority. In the event that the Issuer Trustee makes a distribution or payment that is satisfied in a manner other than cash, cheque or wire transfer, including those described in subsections 4.1(3), 4.1(5) or ~~11.1(2), or elects to pay a distribution in the manner contemplated in subsection~~ 11.3(3), the ~~Unitholder~~recipient of the payment shall provide cash to the Issuer Trustee in amount equal to any required deduction or withholding, which the Issuer Trustee shall forthwith remit to the appropriate taxing authority on behalf of the Unitholder.

TERMINATION OF THE TRUST

12.1 Termination

(a) The Trust will continue in full force and effect for a period of twelve months from the date hereof and thereafter for so long as any Funding Obligations remain outstanding and until the Trust has satisfied all of its obligations under the Program Agreements or otherwise for the purposes of carrying on the Trust Activities. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Issuer Trustee may, with the unanimous approval of Unitholders, wind-up the affairs of the Trust and terminate the Trust and distribute the Trust Property then remaining to the Unitholders in proportion to the number of Units held by each Unitholder no later than the date that is one day prior to the 21st anniversary of the death of the last surviving lineal descendent of Queen Elizabeth, II of England living at the date this declaration is made.

(a) The Manager will act as custodian of the Investment Interest Records as agent for and on behalf of and for the account of the Issuer, which are hereby constructively delivered to the Indenture Trustee, as pledgee of the Issuer with respect to the Issuer Investment Interest, and, in this regard, the Manager shall:

(i) hold the Investment Interest Records on behalf of the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee and maintain such accurate and complete accounts, records and computer systems pertaining to the Investment Interest Records as shall enable the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, as applicable, to comply with the Program Agreements;

(ii) promptly report to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies any failure on its part to hold the Investment Interest Records and maintain its accounts, records and computer systems as herein provided and promptly take appropriate action to remedy any such failure;

(iii) maintain the Investment Interest Records at its offices at 700 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario or at such other office as shall be specified to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee by written notice at least 30 days prior to any change in location;

(iv) make available for inspection, audit and copying to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee or their respective duly authorized representatives, attorneys or auditors the Investment Interest Records at such times during normal business hours as the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee shall reasonably request and that do not unreasonably interfere with the Manager's normal operations; and

(v) upon instruction from the Indenture Trustee in accordance with the Indenture or any other Person in accordance with another Program Agreement, release any Investment Interest Records to the Indenture Trustee, the Indenture Trustee's agent or the Indenture Trustee's designee, as the case may be, at such place or places as the Indenture Trustee may designate, as soon as practicable.

(b) Nothing in this Section ~~4.3~~4.4 shall affect the obligation of the Manager to observe any applicable law prohibiting disclosure of information regarding Specified Consumers, and the failure of the Manager to provide access to such information as a result of such obligation shall not constitute a breach of this Section ~~4.3~~4.4.

(c) Nothing in this Section ~~4.3~~4.4 shall be deemed to require an initial review or any periodic review by the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee of the Investment Interest Records. The Manager's duties to hold the Investment Interest Records set forth in this Section ~~4.3~~4.4, to the extent the Investment Interest Records have not been previously transferred to a successor Manager pursuant to Section 7.1, shall terminate one year and one day after the earlier of (i) the date on which the Manager is succeeded by a successor Manager in accordance with Section 7.1 and (ii) the day after the termination of the Indenture and payment in full of the Issuer Funding Obligations or any other amounts owed under the Indenture.

~~4.4~~ Payment of Other Issuer Fees and Expenses 4.5

The Manager in accordance with the Program Agreements may, at its option, pay from its own funds the fees and expenses properly incurred on behalf of the Issuer in the ordinary course of the Issuer's operations. To the extent such fees and expenses are paid by the Manager from its own funds, the Issuer will reimburse the Manager for such payments, subject to the payment priorities specified in the Program Agreements.

4.6 ~~4.5~~ Delegation

In connection with the services to be provided or duties to be performed by it under this Agreement, the Manager may, subject to any limitation on delegation imposed by applicable law, by the Declaration of Trust or by the Issuer, engage or employ any Persons as employees, agents, representatives, independent contractors or otherwise, including, without limitation, banks, underwriters, accountants, investment advisers, tax advisers, insurance advisers, lawyers, appraisers, bankers, brokers, dealers, depositories, custodians, agents for collection or others in one or more capacities and any other advisers which the Manager deems advisable, and may delegate any of the powers and duties of the Manager to any such Persons upon such terms and conditions as it may determine. For greater certainty, the Manager shall remain liable and responsible for any of the powers and duties of the Manager which it delegates to a third party.

4.7 ~~4.6~~ Annual Compliance Certificates

The Manager shall provide to the Issuer Trustee a certificate in the form of Exhibit A within 120 days after the end of each fiscal year of the Issuer confirming compliance with the matters referred to in such certificate. The Issuer shall be entitled to rely on such certificate for the period between the effective dates of two consecutive certificates certifying such compliance unless the Issuer has received written notice to the contrary.

4.8 ~~4.7~~ Acknowledgment of Duties as Financial Services Manager

The parties hereto acknowledge that, for so long as Ontario Power Generation Inc. is the Financial Services Manager appointed under the Act, Ontario Power Generation Inc., in its capacity as the Financial Services Manager, will satisfy its obligations as Financial Services Manager in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, and, for greater certainty, its services and duties in this regard will include:

(a) preparing the Financing Plan and, in accordance therewith, evaluating whether Funding Obligations should be incurred by the Issuer for the purposes of acquiring an Investment Interest or refinancing maturing Issuer Funding Obligations;

(b) determining the Clean Energy Adjustment (inclusive of any True Up Amount) payable by Specified Consumers in respect of each month in a Reference Period;

(c) calculating the True Up Amount;

(d) notifying the Board of the Clean Energy Adjustment (inclusive of any True Up Amount) in respect of a Reference Period or such other period as prescribed by the Regulations and sending a copy of such notice, as required, to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies concurrently therewith; and

(e) if, for any reason any Clean Energy Adjustment is not implemented and effective in respect of the Reference Period set forth in the notice and commencing on the date required under the Act, notifying the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency by the end of the second Business Day after such applicable date.

ARTICLE 5
OTHER PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE DUTIES AND COMPENSATION

5.1 Standard of Care

The Manager will perform its duties hereunder (including, for so long as it is the Financial Services Manager, its duties as Financial Services Manager under the Act and the Regulations) diligently and in conformity with the Issuer's obligations under the Program Agreements and with the Act and the Regulations, as applicable, and honestly, in good faith and in the best interests of the Issuer and, in connection therewith, will exercise the degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent Person would exercise in comparable circumstances (the "Standard of Care"). In carrying out its obligations hereunder, the Manager may rely upon the opinion or advice of or information obtained from any counsel, auditor, valuer or certificates from officers of any of the other parties to Program Agreements. Unless otherwise required by applicable law, the Manager will not be required to give bond, surety or security in any jurisdiction for the performance of any duties or obligations hereunder. The Manager will not be required to devote its entire time to its duties hereunder. Notwithstanding anything else to the contrary herein contained, nothing herein shall be interpreted or construed as an obligation of or on the part of the Manager, and the Manager shall not be liable or obligated, to pay or make any payment of, on or in respect of any debt, liability or obligation of the Issuer (including any payment of, on or in respect of any Issuer Funding Obligations or under any other Program Agreement), as agent for or on behalf of the Issuer or otherwise, except from the monies or funds of the Issuer which are made available to the Manager pursuant to this Agreement or the other Program Agreements for the purpose of such payment.

5.2 Compliance with Program Agreements; Conformity with Law

The Manager acknowledges that it has received copies of the Program Agreements, the Act and the Regulations in effect on the date hereof and is familiar with and understands the duties of the respective parties thereto or governed thereby, including those duties of the Issuer which are being delegated to the Manager hereunder. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Manager shall perform its duties hereunder in a manner consistent with any applicable provisions of the Program Agreements in effect from time to time, and the Manager will not, in performing its obligations hereunder, take any action which it knows or ought reasonably to know would cause it or the Issuer to be in violation of any law, rule or regulation applicable to it. The Manager will use reasonable commercial efforts to comply with the terms applicable to the Issuer when acting on its behalf under all Program Agreements and will use reasonable commercial efforts in accordance with its Standard of Care to take such actions as would reasonably be expected to result in the representations and warranties given by the Issuer in any Program Agreement being true and correct in all material respects when made.

5.3 Liabilities

Except as provided in Section 5.6,

(a) the Manager will not be liable for any liabilities of the Issuer; and

(b) subject to the payment priorities specified in the Program Agreements, the Issuer agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Manager from and against any and all liabilities which may be imposed on, incurred by or assessed against the Manager as a result of any act or omission of the Issuer or the Manager under this Agreement or under any Program Agreement; provided that this Section 5.3(b) does not apply to the extent that in any circumstances there has been wilful misconduct or gross negligence of the Manager or its respective officers, employees or agents or any failure to comply with the ~~standard of care required under Section 5.1~~Standard of Care.

To the extent that a liability is attributable solely to a single Series or a number of specific Series of Issuer Funding Obligations, the Manager will first exhaust its recourse against the assets available for recovery of such liability and designated to such Series of Issuer Funding Obligations. If such assets are insufficient to satisfy the indemnity set out in this Section 5.3, or if the liability is not attributable to a single Series or a number of specific Series of Issuer Funding Obligations, the liability will be satisfied on a pro rata basis as among the assets available for recovery of such liability and designated to all Issuer Funding Obligations.

Each party expressly disclaims any intention to create a partnership, and neither the Issuer nor the Manager will be deemed to be carrying on business in partnership by reason of its execution and delivery of this Agreement or the exercise or performance by it of its respective rights and obligations hereunder.

5.4 Compensation of the Manager

In consideration of and as compensation for all services provided and duties performed by the Manager pursuant to this Agreement, and so long as the Financial Services Manager is also the Manager, all services provided and duties performed by the Financial Services Manager, the Issuer will pay to the Manager, subject to the payment priorities specified in the Program Agreements, the Management Fees. The Management Fees are exclusive of any applicable sales taxes and the Issuer shall pay to the Manager the amount of any applicable sales taxes in addition to such fees.

In consideration of the Issuer engaging in the activities contemplated by the Act, the Manager will pay to the Issuer, on a monthly basis, the sum of $10 per month for any month or part thereof that the Issuer is engaged in such activities (the "Issuer Compensation"). The Issuer Compensation is exclusive of any applicable sales taxes and the Manager shall pay to the Issuer the amount of any applicable sales taxes in addition to the Issuer Compensation.

The Issuer and the Manager agree that in respect of any month that the Issuer has an amount payable to the Manager under Section 5.4 in an amount that is not less than $10 (plus the amount of any applicable sales taxes on the Issuer Compensation), the Manager's obligation to pay the compensation to the Issuer under this Section will be fully satisfied by way of setting-off $10 (plus the amount of any applicable sales taxes on the Issuer Compensation) of the amount payable by the Issuer to the Manager under Section 5.4 against the Manager's amount payable to the Issuer under this Section.

5.6 Indemnification by Manager

(a) The Manager ~~agrees to~~shall indemnify~~,~~ and defend and hold harmless the Issuer from and against, any and all liabilities which may be imposed on, incurred by or assessed against the Issuer as the result of any wilful misconduct or gross negligence by the Manager, its officers, employees or agents or any failure to comply with the ~~standard of care required under Section 5.1~~Standard of Care, provided that the Manager will have the exclusive right to compromise or defend, through counsel selected and retained by the Manager, any such liabilities or related claims at its own expense, which decision will be binding upon the Issuer.~~ It is, however, expressly understood that the Manager is not agreeing to indemnify or hold the Issuer harmless with respect to any of the following:~~

(b) The Manager shall indemnify each Indenture Indemnified Person and defend and hold harmless each such Indenture Indemnified Person from and against, any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, payments and claims, and reasonable costs or expenses, of any kind whatsoever (collectively, "Indenture Indemnified Losses") imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Indenture Indemnified Person, as a result of (i) the failure of the Manager to perform its covenants and other obligations under this Agreement; or (ii) the breach by the Manager of any of its representations or warranties under this Agreement and, except to the extent of Indenture Indemnified Losses resulting from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Indenture Indemnified Person seeking indemnification hereunder; provided that, in each case, the Manager shall not be required to indemnify an Indenture Indemnified Person for any amount paid or payable by such Indenture Indemnified Person in the settlement of any Proceeding or investigation without the written consent of the Manager, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Promptly after receipt by an Indenture Indemnified Person of notice of the commencement of any Proceeding or investigation, such Indenture Indemnified Person shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the Manager under this Section 5.6(b), notify the Manager in writing of the commencement thereof. Failure by an Indenture Indemnified Person to so notify the Manager shall relieve the Manger from the obligation to indemnify and hold harmless such Indenture Indemnified Person under this Section 5.6(b) only to the extent that the Manager suffers actual prejudice as a result of such failure. With respect to any Proceeding or investigation brought by a third party for which indemnification may be sought under this Section 5.6(b), the Manager shall be entitled to conduct and control, at its expense and with counsel of its choosing that is reasonably satisfactory to such Indenture Indemnified Person, the defence of any such Proceeding or investigation (in which case the Manager shall not thereafter be responsible for the fees and expenses of any separate counsel retained by the Indenture Indemnified Person except as set forth below); provided, that the Indenture Indemnified Person shall have the right to participate in such Proceeding or investigation through counsel chosen by it and at its own expense. Notwithstanding the Manager's election to assume the defence of any Proceeding or investigation, the Indenture Indemnified Person shall have the right to employ separate counsel, and the Manager shall bear the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of such separate counsel, if (i) the defendants in any such action include both the Indenture Indemnified Person and the Manager and the Indenture Indemnified Person shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defences available to it that are different from or additional to those available to the Manager, (ii) the Manager shall not have employed counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indenture Indemnified Person to represent the Indenture Indemnified Person within a reasonable time after notice of the institution of such action, or (iii) the Manager authorizes the Indenture Indemnified Person to employ separate counsel at the expense of the Manager. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Manager shall not be obligated to pay for the fees, costs and expenses of more than one separate counsel for the Indenture Indemnified Persons other than one local counsel, if appropriate. The Manager will not, without the prior written consent of the Indenture Indemnified Person, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to any pending or threatened claim or Proceeding in respect of which indemnification may be sought under this Section 5.6(b) (whether or not the Indenture Indemnified Person is an actual or potential party to such claim or action) unless such settlement, compromise or consent includes an unconditional release of the Indenture Indemnified Person from all liability arising out of such claim or Proceeding.

(c) Indemnification under Section 5.6(b) shall survive any repeal of, modification of, or supplement to, or judicial invalidation of, the Act and shall survive the termination of this Agreement and will rank pari passu with other general, unsecured obligations of the Manager.

(d) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement, it is expressly understood that the Manager is not agreeing to indemnify or hold the Issuer or any Indenture Indemnified Person harmless with respect to any of the following:

~~(a)~~ (i) payments due on Issuer Funding Obligations or other amounts borrowed;

(i) ~~(b)~~ any breach or failure to perform on the part of any other third party under any Program Agreement;

(ii) ~~(c)~~ any claim arising out of the assessment of any tax or payments in lieu of tax by a taxing authority against the Issuer;

~~(d) any amount for which the Issuer agrees to indemnify the Manager hereunder;~~

(iii) ~~(e)~~ any liability of the Issuer or any Indenture Indemnified Person accruing after the termination of this Agreement unless attributable to the actions or omissions of the Manager prior to such termination;

(iv) ~~(f)~~ any losses of the Issuer or any Indenture Indemnified Person arising due to risks inherent in the Issuer Investment Interest; ~~or~~

(v) ~~(g)~~ any statements or certificates provided by the Issuer to the effect that ~~(i)~~ (X) any Funding Obligation is consistent with the Financing Plan~~,~~ or ~~(ii)~~ (Y) the estimated Finance Amount that would have become due and payable in any Reference Period is expected to align with the Fair Allocation Amount determined in respect of such Reference Period; or

(vi) any losses resulting from changes in law after the date hereof, whether such changes in law are effected by means of any legislative enactment or any final and non-appealable judicial decision.

(e) ~~It is further~~Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement, it is expressly understood that the Manager is not agreeing to indemnify or hold harmless: (i) the Issuer with respect to any amount for which the Issuer agrees to indemnify the Manager hereunder; or (ii) the Issuer Trustee with respect to any liabilities resulting from the failure of the Issuer Trustee to satisfy the standard of care set out in the Declaration of Trust. Where the Manager has assumed total defense of a claim, it shall agree to ensure that any settlement of such claim does not include any form of admission of liability on the part of the Issuer Trustee (in its personal capacity).

~~The Manager agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Indenture Trustee from and against any and all liabilities which may be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against the Indenture Trustee as the result of any wilful misconduct or gross negligence relating to the maintenance and custody by the Manager, as custodian, of the Investment Interest Records; provided that (a) the Manager will have the exclusive right to compromise or defend, through counsel selected and retained by the Manager, any such liabilities or related claims at its own expense, which decision will be binding upon the Indenture Trustee and (b) the Manager shall not be liable for any portion of any liability resulting from the wilful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of the Indenture Trustee.~~

5.7 Contracting with Itself and Affiliates

In the exercise of its rights, duties and obligations, the Manager may, if it is acting in good faith, enter into, as Manager for the Issuer, agreements and other contracts to which the Manager, in its personal capacity, or an Affiliate of the Manager, is a party.

The Manager's rights and obligations under this Agreement (other than under Sections 5.3, 5.4, 5.6 and ~~8.3~~8.5) will terminate, if the Manager receives a termination notice from (i) the Issuer Trustee, with the consent of the Indenture Trustee, or (ii) the Indenture Trustee, subject to the terms and conditions of the Indenture, in each case, on the 30th day after receipt of such notice. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no termination shall be effective until a replacement manager that satisfies the Rating Agency Condition has been approved and has entered into a management agreement whereby the replacement manager agrees to assume, in substance, the obligations of the Manager hereunder. Upon the termination of its rights and obligations under this Agreement, the Manager will notify the Rating Agencies and, promptly and upon the request of the Issuer, deliver to the Issuer all records (including Investment Interest Records) in the possession of the Manager relating to the performance of its services hereunder.

MISCELLANEOUS

(c) Following the occurrence of a Daily Remittance Event, the Issuer Share of all Servicer CEA Receipts on deposit in the IESO Segregated Account and any interest earned thereon shall be remitted by the Servicer to the Collection Account on the second following Business Day.

3.6 Reimbursement of Servicer

The Issuer shall reimburse the Servicer for its direct costs relating to the performance by the Servicer of its duties and obligations hereunder and that are not otherwise recovered or recoverable by the Servicer pursuant to sections 25(1) and 25.1 of the Electricity Act, 1998, which direct costs the IESO shall have no obligation to seek recovery for under sections 25(1) and 25.1 of the Electricity Act, 1998; provided, however, that this Section 3.6 shall not apply to any costs relating to the performance by the Servicer of its duties and obligations under the Act or the Regulations, including, for greater certainty the Servicer's obligations to pay monthly Carrying Costs.

3.7 ~~3.6~~ Limits to Obligations

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, the parties hereto agree that the duties, liabilities and obligations of IESO under this Agreement are limited as provided in this Section ~~3.6~~3.7.

(a) IESO is not responsible for, or in respect of, any amounts not collected by Electricity Vendors from their customers or not remitted by Electricity Vendors to the Servicer.

(b) IESO is not responsible to confirm, verify or audit the amount of the Clean Energy Adjustment invoiced by Electricity Vendors or the Electricity Vendor CEA Collections collected by Electricity Vendors and reported to the IESO~~;~~.

(c) IESO is not responsible for enforcing the obligations of Specified Consumers to pay, or the obligations of Electricity Vendors to invoice, collect or remit Clean Energy Adjustments or any other amounts, or to establish a segregated account into which Electricity Vendor CEA Collections are to be deposited, and IESO is under no obligation to initiate or prosecute any legal action relating to the collection of the Clean Energy Adjustments or the Issuer Investment Interest.

(d) IESO ~~shall~~is not ~~be~~ responsible or liable for the performance by Electricity Vendors of their duties and responsibilities under the Act or the Regulations including (i) the invoicing of Specified Consumers in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment and ancillary matters related thereto; (ii) the collection from Specified Consumers of amounts due in respect of such invoices and the remittance of such payments to the Servicer; (iii) the accuracy of any information provided by the Electricity Vendors; and (iv) any reporting by the Electricity Vendors, including the reporting to the Servicer of the total CEA Consumer Invoice Amounts invoiced by such Electricity Vendor to its Specified Consumers in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, the total Electricity Vendor CEA Collections received by such Electricity Vendor and the Issuer Share of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections received by such Electricity Vendor~~.~~ and any other reporting in the Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report.

(e) IESO is under no responsibility or obligation to the Issuer with respect to the nature or extent of the Issuer Investment Interest, the collectability of the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA Receipts or that the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA Receipts will be sufficient to satisfy the Issuer's Funding Obligations.

(f) IESO may rely in good faith on the advice of counsel or on any document of any kind, prima facie properly executed and submitted by any Person, respecting any matters arising under this Agreement.

(g) IESO shall have no liability or responsibility to any Person in respect of any forecasts or other information provided pursuant to Section 3.2, provided only that such forecasts or other information has been prepared and provided in good faith.

(h) None of the directors, officers, employees or agents of IESO shall be liable to the Issuer or any other Person for any action taken or for refraining from the taking of any action pursuant to this Agreement or for good faith errors in judgment.

3.8 ~~3.7~~ Servicing and Maintenance Standards

Subject to Section ~~3.6~~3.7, the Servicer shall discharge its duties, responsibilities and obligations hereunder with reasonable care and in material compliance with the Requirements of Law, including the Act and the Regulations and, in doing so, shall follow standards, policies and procedures in performing its duties as Servicer hereunder that are customary for an electricity market operator and administrator that regularly performs settlement functions.

3.9 ~~3.8~~ Appointments

The Servicer may at any time appoint OPG or any other Person to act as its agent to perform all or any portion of its obligations as Servicer hereunder; provided however, that in respect of the appointment of a Person other than OPG, the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied in connection therewith; and provided further that the Servicer shall remain obligated and be liable for the performance of its obligations under this Agreement without diminution of such obligation and liability by virtue of the appointment of OPG or such other Person and to the same extent and under the same terms and conditions as if the Servicer alone were performing such obligations. The fees and expenses of OPG or any other such Person shall be as agreed between the Servicer and OPG or such other Person from time to time, and the Issuer shall not have any responsibility therefor or right or claim thereto. Any such appointment shall not constitute a resignation of the Servicer under Section ~~3.10~~3.12.

3.10 ~~3.9~~ Term

The Servicer's appointment as Servicer under this Agreement shall become effective as of the execution hereof and shall continue in full force and effect until the earlier of (a) the effective date of resignation of the Servicer in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, (b) termination of all of the rights and obligations of the Servicer under Article 7, and (c) the date on which all Issuer Funding Obligations have been paid in full and all CEA Consumer Invoice Amounts have been received or written off (in each case, a "Termination Event"). The appointment of the Servicer as servicer under this Agreement shall be terminated effective as of the date of the Termination Event.

~~3.10 Resignation of Servicer~~

~~The IESO shall not resign from the obligations and duties imposed on it as Servicer under this Agreement except upon a determination that the performance of its duties under this Agreement shall no longer be permissible under applicable Requirements of Law. Notice of any such determination permitting the resignation of the IESO as Servicer shall be communicated to the Issuer and the Rating Agencies at the earliest practicable time (and, if such communication is not in writing, shall be confirmed in writing at the earliest practicable time), and any such determination shall be evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel to such effect delivered to the Issuer and the Rating Agencies concurrently with or promptly after such notice. No such resignation shall become effective until a Successor Servicer that is a Permitted Successor has assumed the servicing obligations and duties hereunder of the Servicer in accordance with Section 7.2.~~

3.11 Mergers

Any Person (a) into which the Servicer may be merged, converted or amalgamated and that is a Permitted Successor, (b) that may result from any merger, conversion or amalgamation to which the Servicer shall be a party and that is a Permitted Successor, (c) that may succeed to the properties and assets of the Servicer substantially as a whole and that is a Permitted Successor, or (d) that otherwise is a Permitted Successor, which Person in any of the foregoing cases executes an agreement of assumption to perform all of the obligations of the Servicer hereunder, shall be the successor to the Servicer under this Agreement without further act on the part of any of the parties to this Agreement; provided, however, that (i) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no representation or warranty made pursuant to Section 4.1 shall have been breached and no Servicer Default and no event that, after notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a Servicer Default shall have occurred and be continuing, (ii) the Servicer shall have delivered to the Issuer an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel from external counsel stating that such consolidation, conversion, merger or succession and such agreement of assumption complies with this Section 3.11 and that all conditions precedent, if any, provided for in this Agreement relating to such transaction have been complied with, and (iii) the Servicer shall have given to the Issuer prior written notice of such transaction. When any Person that is a Permitted Successor acquires the properties and assets of the Servicer substantially as a whole or otherwise becomes the successor, by merger, conversion, consolidation, sale, transfer, lease or otherwise, to all or substantially all the assets of the Servicer in accordance with the terms of this Section 3.11, then, upon satisfaction of all of the other conditions of this Section 3.11, the preceding Servicer shall automatically and without further notice be released from all of its obligations hereunder (except for responsibilities for its actions prior to such release).

3.12 The IESO Not to Resign as Servicer

Subject to the provisions of Section 3.11, the IESO shall not resign from the obligations and duties imposed on it as Servicer under this Agreement except upon a determination that the performance of its duties under this Agreement shall no longer be permissible under applicable Requirements of Law. Notice of any such determination permitting the resignation of the IESO as Servicer shall be communicated to the Issuer and each Rating Agency at the earliest practicable time (and, if such communication is not in writing, shall be confirmed in writing at the earliest practicable time), and any such determination shall be evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel to such effect delivered to the Issuer and each Rating Agency concurrently with or promptly after such notice. No such resignation shall become effective until a Successor Servicer that is a Permitted Successor has assumed the servicing obligations and duties hereunder of the Servicer in accordance with Section 7.2.

3.13 IESO Regulatory Obligation to Pay Carrying Costs

(a) The IESO acknowledges that it has an obligation to pay monthly Carrying Costs pursuant to the Regulations for the prescribed period set out in the Regulations (the "Prescribed Period") and agrees to comply with its obligations under the Regulations to pay and remit the Carrying Costs to the Issuer on a monthly basis.

(b) On or before the 4th Business Day of each calendar month during the Prescribed Period, the Issuer shall prepare and deliver to the IESO a written statement substantially in the form of Exhibit C (a "Monthly Carrying Costs Statement") certifying the amount of the Carrying Costs incurred in the preceding calendar month ("Monthly Carrying Costs"). If requested by the IESO, the Issuer shall, in lieu of providing the Monthly Carrying Costs Statement, enter the amount of the Monthly Carrying Costs in the IESO operated portal, or such other similar facility operated by the IESO, and such entry shall be deemed to be a certification of the accuracy of the amount entered.

(c) On or before the [14th] Business Day following receipt by the IESO of the Monthly Carrying Costs Statement, the IESO shall, as required under the Regulations, deliver or cause to be delivered to the Issuer, by wire transfer or electronic funds transfer in immediately available funds, an amount in Canadian dollars equal to the Monthly Carrying Costs certified by the Issuer in the applicable Monthly Carrying Costs Statement.

3.14 IESO Security for CEA Remittances

If required by the Issuer, the IESO shall provide to the Issuer, on or prior to the first day of the first Billing Period when amounts are invoiced to Specified Consumers in respect of Clean Energy Adjustments, a letter of credit in an amount equal to $■, or such other form of security as may be acceptable to the Issuer, as security for any failure of Electricity Vendors which are either not rated or are rated less than investment grade to remit their Electricity Vendor CEA Collections.

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF THE IESO

4.1 Representations and Warranties

Subject to Section ~~3.6~~3.7, the IESO makes the following representations and warranties as of the date hereof and as of each applicable Closing Date, and the IESO acknowledges that the Issuer will rely thereon in paying the Purchase Price related to Transfers of Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset, and the Issuer has relied thereon in entering into this Agreement relating to the servicing of the corresponding Investment Interests.

(a) Organization and Good Standing. The IESO is a statutory corporation amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, with requisite corporate power and authority to own its properties, to conduct its business as such properties are currently owned and such business is presently conducted by it.

(b) Due Qualification. The IESO has obtained all necessary licences and approvals, in all jurisdictions in which the ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business (including acting as Servicer under this Agreement) shall require such licences or approvals, except where the failure to so qualify or obtain such licences and approvals would not be reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the IESO's business, operations, assets, revenues or properties, the Regulatory Asset or the servicing of related Investment Interests.

(c) Power and Authority. The IESO has the requisite corporate power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to carry out its terms. The IESO has full corporate power and authority to hold the Regulatory Asset and to Transfer Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer and the IESO has duly authorized such Transfer to the Issuer by all necessary corporate action. The execution, delivery and performance of all obligations under this Agreement have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the IESO under all applicable laws.

(d) Binding Obligation. This Agreement constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the IESO, enforceable against the IESO in accordance with its terms, subject to bankruptcy, receivership, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other laws affecting creditors' rights generally from time to time in effect and to general principles of equity (including concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing).

(e) No Violation. The consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms hereof by the IESO do not conflict with, result in any breach of any of the terms and provisions of, or constitute (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) a default under, the IESO's by-laws, or any indenture, or other material agreement or instrument to which the IESO is a party or by which it is bound, result in the creation or imposition of any Lien upon any of the IESO's properties pursuant to the terms of any such indenture, agreement or other instrument or violate any existing law or any order, rule or regulation applicable to the IESO issued by any Governmental Authority having jurisdiction over the IESO or its properties, except, in each case, where such breach would not reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the performance by the IESO of its obligations under this Agreement or the Act or the validity or enforceability of this Agreement.

(f) No Proceedings. To the IESO's knowledge, except as disclosed in writing to the Issuer, there are no Proceedings pending or threatened against the IESO or its properties: (a) asserting the invalidity of this Agreement or the Act, (b) seeking to prevent the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Act, or (c) seeking a determination or ruling that could reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the performance by the IESO of its obligations under this Agreement or the Act or the validity or enforceability of this Agreement.

(g) Approvals. No approvals, authorizations, consents, orders or other actions or filings with any Governmental Authority are required for the IESO to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement except those which have previously been obtained or made.

(h) Information. Except in respect of information provided by a third party, all written information, as amended or supplemented from time to time, provided by the Transferor to the Issuer with respect to the Issuer in a Transfer Notice and a Monthly Report is true and correct in all material respects and does not omit any material fact.

(i) The Transfer. After the completion of the Transfer on the applicable Closing Date, the IESO will have no right, title or interest in the Investment Interest related to the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice, and the related Investment Interest shall not form part of the estate of the IESO in the event of an Insolvency Event in respect of the IESO.

(j) No Transfer. Except for Permitted Transfers, the IESO has not sold, transferred, assigned or otherwise conveyed any interest in the Regulatory Asset to any Person.

(k) Liens. IESO has not pledged or otherwise granted a Lien to any Person in the Regulatory Asset and to the IESO's knowledge (after due inquiry), there is no registered financing statement listing the IESO as debtor covering or extending to the Regulatory Asset.

(l) Tax Liens. The IESO (i) is not aware, after due inquiry, of any judgment or tax lien filing against the IESO, and (ii) is not a non-resident of Canada for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada).

(m) Solvency. On the date hereof and after giving effect to each Transfer, the IESO:

(i) reasonably believes that it will be able to pay its debts as they come due; and

(ii) is able to pay its debts as they mature and does not intend to incur, or believes that it will not incur, indebtedness that it will not be able to repay at its maturity.

(n) No Court Order. There is no order by any court that seeks to enjoin the performance of any obligations of the IESO under the Act or this Agreement.

4.2 Survival

The representations and warranties set forth in Section 4.1 shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement, each Transfer of a Specified Portion of a Regulatory Asset to the Issuer and the pledge of the corresponding Investment Asset to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to the Indenture and may not be waived by any party hereto except pursuant to a written agreement executed in accordance with Section 8.1 and as to which the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied.

ARTICLE 5

5.1 Existence

So long as any Issuer Funding Obligations are outstanding, the IESO (a) shall not take any action to impair its corporate existence, and (b) will obtain and preserve its qualification to do business in the Province of Ontario.

5.2 No Transfer or Liens

Except for Transfers under this Agreement to the Issuer or Permitted Transfers, the IESO will not Transfer the Regulatory Asset or any portion thereof to any person. The IESO will not grant, create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Lien on the Regulatory Asset or any portion thereof. The IESO will not at any time assert any Lien against or with respect to the Issuer Investment Interest, except for any Lien granted by the Issuer to the IESO.

5.3 Notice of Liens

The IESO shall notify the Issuer promptly after becoming aware of any Lien on any portion of the Regulatory Asset.

5.4 Compliance with Law

The IESO will comply with all Requirements of Law applicable to, and binding upon, the IESO or relating to the Regulatory Asset, except to the extent that failure to so comply would not materially adversely affect the Transfer of Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset or the IESO's performance of its obligations under this Agreement; provided, however, that the foregoing is not intended to, and shall not, impose any liability on the IESO for non-compliance with any Requirement of Law that the IESO is contesting in good faith in accordance with its customary standards and procedures.

5.5 Covenants Related to the Investment Interest

(a) So long as any Issuer Funding Obligations are outstanding, the IESO shall treat the Issuer Investment Interest as the Issuer's property for all purposes.

(b) Except for investments held for employee benefit purposes, the IESO shall not at any time become a holder of Issuer Funding Obligations.

(c) The IESO shall disclose the effects of all transactions between the IESO and the Issuer in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (for government entities).

(d) (i) In all Proceedings relating directly or indirectly to the Issuer Investment Interest, the IESO shall affirmatively certify and confirm that it has Transferred all of its rights and interests in and to the Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset giving rise to the Issuer Investment Interest, (ii) the IESO shall not make any statement or reference in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest that is inconsistent with the ownership interest of the Issuer, and (iii) the IESO shall not take any action in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest except solely in its capacity as the Servicer thereof pursuant to this Agreement.

5.6 Non-petition Covenants

Notwithstanding any prior termination of this Agreement or the Indenture, the IESO shall not, prior to the date that is one year plus one day after termination of the Indenture and the payment in full of all Issuer Funding Obligations and any other amounts owed under the Indenture, petition or otherwise invoke the process of any Governmental Authority for the purpose of commencing or sustaining a Proceeding against the Issuer under any Canadian bankruptcy, insolvency or similar law, appointing a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, custodian, sequestrator or other similar official or any substantial part of the property of the Issuer.

5.7 Disclosure

The IESO shall provide such non-confidential information regarding IESO, the Regulatory Asset and the services provided by the Servicer hereunder (collectively, the "IESO Disclosure") as may be reasonably requested by the Issuer for inclusion in any offering document of the Issuer from time to time, including but not limited to offering memoranda, prospectuses, registration statements and continuous disclosure documents (the "Offering Documents"), provided that the IESO has been given a reasonable opportunity by the Issuer to review any such Offering Documents. The IESO represents that, except in respect information provided by a third party, all IESO Disclosure, as at the respective dates of delivery to the Issuer, is true and correct in all material respects and contains no misrepresentation.

5.8 Further Assurances

Upon the request of the Issuer, the IESO shall execute and deliver such further instruments and do such further acts as may reasonably be necessary to carry out the provisions and purposes of this Agreement.

5.9 Access to Certain Records and Information

The IESO shall provide to the Issuer access to all records relating to the IESO Deferral, the Fair Hydro Variance Account, the IESO Segregated Account and Servicer CEA Receipts, as is reasonably required for the Issuer to confirm compliance by the IESO with its obligations under this Agreement. Access shall be afforded without charge, but only upon reasonable request and during normal business hours at the offices of the IESO. Nothing in this Section 5.9 shall affect the obligation of the IESO to comply with any Requirement of Law prohibiting disclosure of information, and the failure of the IESO to provide access to such information as a result of such obligation shall not constitute a breach of this Section 5.9.

5.10 Maintenance of Operations

Subject to Section 3.11, the IESO agrees to continue, unless prevented by circumstances beyond its control, to operate as the electricity system operator in the Province of Ontario so long as it is acting as the Servicer under this Agreement.

IESO INDEMNITIES

6.1 Liability of the IESO; Indemnities

(a) The IESO shall indemnify the Issuer and each of its trustees, officers, directors and employees (each, an "Indemnified Party"), for, and defend and hold harmless each such Person from and against, any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, payments and claims, and reasonable costs or expenses, of any kind whatsoever (collectively, "Indemnified Losses") imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Person, as a result of (i) the failure of the IESO to perform its covenants and other obligations under this Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party; or (ii) the breach by the IESO of any of its representations or warranties under this Agreement or any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party and, except to the extent of Indemnified Losses resulting from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Person seeking indemnification hereunder; provided that, in each case, the IESO shall not be required to indemnify an Indemnified Party for any amount paid or payable by such Indemnified Party in the settlement of any Proceeding or investigation without the written consent of the IESO, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Promptly after receipt by an Indemnified Party of notice of the commencement of any Proceeding or investigation, such Indemnified Party shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the IESO under this Section 6.1(a), notify the IESO in writing of the commencement thereof. Failure by an Indemnified Party to so notify the IESO shall relieve the IESO from the obligation to indemnify and hold harmless such Indemnified Party under this Section 6.1(a) only to the extent that the IESO suffers actual prejudice as a result of such failure. With respect to any Proceeding or investigation brought by a third party for which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a), the IESO shall be entitled to conduct and control, at its expense and with counsel of its choosing that is reasonably satisfactory to such Indemnified Party, the defence of any such Proceeding or investigation (in which case the IESO shall not thereafter be responsible for the fees and expenses of any separate counsel retained by the Indemnified Party except as set forth below); provided, that the Indemnified Party shall have the right to participate in such Proceeding or investigation through counsel chosen by it and at its own expense. Notwithstanding the IESO's election to assume the defence of any Proceeding or investigation, the Indemnified Party shall have the right to employ separate counsel, and the IESO shall bear the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of such separate counsel, if (i) the defendants in any such action include both the Indemnified Party and the IESO and the Indemnified Party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defences available to it that are different from or additional to those available to the IESO, (ii) the IESO shall not have employed counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party to represent the Indemnified Party within a reasonable time after notice of the institution of such action, or (iii) the IESO authorizes the Indemnified Party to employ separate counsel at the expense of the IESO. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the IESO shall not be obligated to pay for the fees, costs and expenses of more than one separate counsel for the Indemnified Parties other than one local counsel, if appropriate. The IESO will not, without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Party, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to any pending or threatened claim or Proceeding in respect of which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a) (whether or not the Indemnified Party is an actual or potential party to such claim or action) unless such settlement, compromise or consent includes an unconditional release of the Indemnified Party from all liability arising out of such claim or Proceeding.

(b) For purposes of Section 6.1(a), in the event of the termination of the rights and obligations of the IESO (or any successor thereto pursuant to Section 3.11) as Servicer pursuant to Section 7.1, or a resignation by such Servicer pursuant to Section ~~3.10~~3.12 of this Agreement, the IESO shall be deemed to be the Servicer pending appointment of a Successor Servicer pursuant to Section 7.2.

(c) Indemnification under Section 6.1(a) shall include reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses of investigation and litigation (including reasonable legal fees and expenses), except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement.

(d) Indemnification under this Section 6.1 shall survive any repeal of, modification of, or supplement to, or judicial invalidation of, the Act and shall survive the termination of this Agreement and will rank pari passu with other general, unsecured obligations of the IESO.

(e) The IESO shall not be required to indemnify any party under this Section 6.1 for any losses resulting from changes in law after the date hereof, whether such changes in law are effected by means of any legislative enactment or any final and non-appealable judicial decision.

SERVICER DEFAULT

7.1 Servicer Default

If any one or more of the following events (each, a "Servicer Default") shall occur and be continuing:

(a) any failure by the Servicer to remit to the Collection Account any required remittance that shall continue unremedied for a period of [two/three] Business Days after written notice of such failure is received by the Servicer from the Issuer or after discovery of such failure by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(b) any failure on the part of the Servicer or, so long as the Servicer is the IESO, any failure on the part of the IESO, as the case may be, duly to observe or to perform in any respect any covenants or agreements of the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, set forth in this Agreement or in any other Program Agreement to which it is a party (other than as provided in Section 7.1(a)), which failure shall (i) materially and adversely affect the rights of the Specified Creditors and (ii) continue unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (A) written notice of such failure, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been given to the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, by the Issuer or (B) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(c) any representation or warranty made by the Servicer in this Agreement, any other Program Agreement to which it is a party, any Transfer Notice or any Monthly Report shall prove to have been incorrect when made, which has a material adverse effect on the Issuer and which remains unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (i) written notice thereof, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been delivered to the Servicer by the Issuer or (ii) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(d) an Insolvency Event occurs with respect to the Servicer or the IESO; or

(e) any additional "Servicer Default" as specified in any Co-Owner Agreement occurs;

then, and in each and every case, the Issuer may, subject to the terms of any Co-Owner Agreement, by notice then given in writing to the Servicer (a "Termination Notice"), terminate all the rights and obligations (other than the obligations set forth in Section 6.1 and the obligation under Section 7.2 to continue performing its functions as Servicer until a Successor Servicer is appointed) of the Servicer under this Agreement and under the Co-Owner Agreement. In addition, upon a Servicer Default described in Section 7.1(a), Issuer shall be entitled to apply to a court of appropriate jurisdiction for an order for sequestration and payment of revenues arising with respect to the Issuer. On or after the receipt by the Servicer of a Termination Notice, all authority and power of the Servicer under this Agreement, whether with respect to the Investment Interest, the Clean Energy Adjustments or otherwise, shall, without further action, pass to and be vested in such Successor Servicer as may be appointed under Section 7.2; and, without limitation, the Issuer is hereby authorized and empowered to execute and deliver, on behalf of the predecessor Servicer, as attorney-in-fact or otherwise, any and all documents and other instruments, and to do or accomplish all other acts or things necessary or appropriate to effect the purposes of such Termination Notice, whether to complete the transfer of all documents and records related to the Regulatory Asset, the Fair Hydro Variance Account and related documents or records, or otherwise (the "Records"). The predecessor Servicer shall cooperate with the Successor Servicer and the Issuer in effecting the termination of the responsibilities and rights of the predecessor Servicer under this Agreement, including the transfer to the Successor Servicer for administration by it of all Records and all cash amounts that shall at the time be held by the predecessor Servicer for remittance, or shall thereafter be received by it with respect to the Investment Interest or the Clean Energy Adjustment. As soon as practicable after receipt by the Servicer of such Termination Notice, the Servicer shall deliver the Records to the Successor Servicer. If a Successor Servicer has been appointed as a result of a Servicer Default, all reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred in connection with transferring the Records to the Successor Servicer and amending this Agreement and any Co-Owner Agreement to reflect such succession as Servicer pursuant to this Section 7.1 shall be paid by the predecessor Servicer upon presentation of reasonable documentation of such costs and expenses. Termination of the IESO as Servicer shall not terminate the IESO's rights or obligations under this Agreement (except rights thereunder deriving from its rights as the Servicer hereunder).

7.2 Appointment of Successor Servicer

(a) Upon the Servicer's receipt of a Termination Notice pursuant to Section 7.1 or the Servicer's resignation or removal in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the predecessor Servicer shall continue to perform its functions as Servicer under this Agreement, until a Successor Servicer shall have assumed in writing the obligations of the Servicer hereunder as described below. In the event of the Servicer's removal or resignation hereunder, the Issuer may, but subject to the provisions of the applicable Co-Owner Agreement, appoint a Successor Servicer and the Successor Servicer shall accept its appointment by a written assumption in form reasonably acceptable to the Issuer. If, within 30 days after the delivery of the Termination Notice, a Successor Servicer shall not have been appointed, the Issuer may petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a Successor Servicer under this Agreement. A Person shall qualify as a Successor Servicer only if (i) such Person is permitted under the Act to perform the duties of the Servicer, (ii) the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied with respect to such appointment, (iii) such Person enters into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer having substantially the same provisions as this Agreement and (iv) such Person agrees to perform the obligations of the Servicer under any Co-Owner Agreement. In no event shall the Issuer be liable for its appointment of a Successor Servicer..

(b) Upon appointment, the Successor Servicer shall be the successor in all respects to the predecessor Servicer and shall be subject to all the responsibilities, duties and liabilities arising thereafter placed on the predecessor Servicer and shall be entitled to all the rights granted to the predecessor Servicer by the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

7.3 Waiver of Past Defaults

The Issuer may waive in writing any default by the Servicer in the performance of its obligations hereunder and its consequences. Upon any such waiver of a past default, such default shall cease to exist, and any Servicer Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been remedied for every purpose of this Agreement. No such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereto.

7.4 Notice of Servicer Default

The Servicer shall deliver to the Issuer, promptly after having obtained knowledge thereof, but in no event later than five Business Days thereafter, written notice of any event that, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a Servicer Default under Section 7.1.

7.5 Cooperation with Successor Servicer

The Servicer covenants and agrees with the Issuer that it will, on an ongoing basis, cooperate with the Successor Servicer and provide whatever information is, and take whatever actions are, reasonably necessary to assist the Successor Servicer in performing its obligations hereunder.

ARTICLE 8
MISCELLANEOUS

8.1 Amendment

This Agreement may be amended in writing by the IESO and the Issuer, and with satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition, such satisfaction to be confirmed by the Issuer at the time of such amendment. Promptly after the execution of any such amendment, the Issuer shall furnish copies of such amendment to each of the Rating Agencies.

3.1 Purchase of Notes by the Purchasers

(a) Initial Purchases. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Supplemental Indenture, including delivery of notice in accordance with Section 3.3, (i) each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall purchase, and each CP Conduit Purchaser may, in its sole discretion, purchase a Series 2017-1 Senior Note in an amount equal to all or a portion of its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount on any Business Day during the period from the date hereof to and including [December 15, 2017], and if any such CP Conduit Purchaser shall have notified the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser that it has elected not to fund a Series 2017-1 Senior Note in an amount equal to its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount on the Closing Date, the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall fund on the Closing Date that portion of such Series 2017-1 Senior Note not to be funded by such CP Conduit Purchaser; and (ii) thereafter, (A) each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall maintain its Series 2017-1 Senior Note, subject to increase or decrease during the period from the Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in accordance with the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture, (B) if a CP Conduit Purchaser shall have purchased a Series 2017-1 Senior Note on the Closing Date, such CP Conduit Purchaser may, in its sole discretion, maintain its Series 2017-1 Senior Note, subject to increase or decrease during the period from the Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in accordance with the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture, and (C) the Group Bank shall maintain its Series 2017-1 Senior Note with respect to its Related Purchaser Group, subject to increase or decrease during the period from the Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in accordance with the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture. Payments by the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers and/or the Group Bank with respect to the CP Conduit Purchasers shall be made in immediately available funds on the Closing Date in accordance with Section 3.3(d).

(b) Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Supplemental Indenture, at no time shall a Purchaser Group be required to make the initial purchase of a Series 2017-1 Senior Note or increase its Purchaser Group Principal Amount if the sum of (x) Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group, after giving effect to such purchase or increase, and (y) the sum of any unfunded Delayed Amounts with respect to such Purchaser Group, would exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group at such time.

3.2 Delivery

(a) On the Closing Date (or on any later date that any Purchaser Group becomes a party to this Supplemental Indenture), Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall be executed, authenticated and delivered by the Issuer in accordance with Section 4.03 of the Trust Indenture (i) in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, in the name of the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group (or as otherwise requested by such CP Conduit Purchaser Group and agreed to by the Issuer) in an amount equal to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group and delivered to such Funding Agent; or (ii) in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, in the name of the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser in an amount equal to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Related Non-Conduit Purchaser Group and delivered to such Related Non-Conduit Purchaser.

(b) The Administrative Agent shall maintain a record of the actual Purchaser Group Principal Amount outstanding with respect to each Purchaser Group and the actual Series 2017-1 Principal Amount outstanding on any date of determination, which, absent manifest error, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the outstanding Purchaser Group Principal Amounts and outstanding Series 2017-1 Principal Amount from time to time. Upon a written request from the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent shall provide in writing the identity of the Purchaser Groups, the related Funding Agents for each CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the Purchaser Group Principal Amount for each Purchaser Group and the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group to the Indenture Trustee.

3.3 Procedure for Initial Issuance and for Increasing the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount

(a) (i) On any Business Day prior to [December 15, 2017], in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit Purchaser in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, that it will purchase a Series 2017-1 Senior Note for an initial purchase price equal to the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount upon the request of the Issuer (the date on which the initial purchase occurs being referred to as the "Closing Date"); provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable written notice (effective upon receipt), by email communication, substantially in the form of Schedule C no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the third Business Day prior to the Closing Date. The written notice of the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall state (x) the Closing Date, and (y) the initial total purchase price to be paid for the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes (the "Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount"); and (ii) subject to Section 3.3(e), on any Business Day during the period from the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes hereunder to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit Purchaser in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees that the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group may be increased by an amount equal to the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group of the Increase Amount (an "Increase"), upon the request of the Issuer (each date on which an increase in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount occurs hereunder being herein referred to as the "Increase Date" applicable to such Increase); provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable (other than as specified in Section 3.3(e)) written notice (effective upon receipt), by email communication, substantially in the form of Schedule C (an "Increase Notice") no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on (A) with respect to a Deferrable Increase Notice, the third Business Day prior to such Increase Date, or (B) with respect to a Non-Deferrable Increase Notice, the second Business Day prior to such Increase Date. Each Increase Notice shall state (x) the Increase Date, (y) the proposed amount of the increase in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount (an "Increase Amount"), (z) whether a Delayed Funding Notice may be delivered in connection with such Increase pursuant to Section 3.3(e) and whether the Increase is to fund a Transfer (a "Transfer Increase") or is in respect of a Refinancing (a "Refinancing Increase"). The Commitment Percentage with respect to any Purchaser Group of the Increase Amount set forth in any Non-Deferrable Increase Notice shall not exceed such Purchaser Group's Non-Deferrable Draw Amount as of the related Increase Date.

(b) If a CP Conduit Purchaser elects not to fund the full amount of its Commitment Percentage of a requested Increase, such CP Conduit Purchaser shall notify the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall fund the portion of the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Related Purchaser Group of such Increase not funded by such CP Conduit Purchaser.

(c) No Purchaser Group shall be required to increase its Purchaser Group Principal Amount on any Increase Date hereunder unless:

(i) such Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of such Increase Amount is (A) equal to ~~$[~~1,000,000~~]~~ or more, or (B) if less than ~~$[1,000,000],~~1,000,000, the difference between the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group and the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group; and

(ii) after giving effect to such Increase Amount, the sum of the (x) the Purchaser Group Principal Amount, and (y) any unfunded Delayed Amounts with respect to such Purchaser Group would not exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group;

(d) Upon receipt of any notice required by Section 3.3(a) or permitted by Section 3.3(e) from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall forward (by email communication) a copy of such notice to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group (or, with respect to any notice pursuant to Section 3.3(e) requiring a Delayed Funding Purchaser Group to decrease its Delayed Amount, the applicable Non-Conduit Purchaser or Funding Agent), no later than [5:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the Business Day received. After receipt by any Funding Agent with respect to a CP Conduit Purchaser Group of such notice from the Administrative Agent, such Funding Agent shall, so long as the conditions set forth in Sections 3.3(a) and (c) and Article 4 are satisfied, promptly provide notice by email communication to the related CP Conduit Purchaser and the related Group Bank, of the Increase

Date and of such CP Conduit Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of the Closing Date or Increase Amount, as applicable. Subject to Section 3.3(e), if such CP Conduit Purchaser elects to fund all or a portion of its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or the Increase Amount, as applicable, such CP Conduit Purchaser shall pay in immediately available funds its Commitment Percentage (or any portion thereof) of the amount of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or Increase Amount, as applicable, on the Closing Date or the related Increase Date, as applicable, to the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group for remittance to the Issuer for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h). Subject to Section 3.3(e), if such CP Conduit Purchaser does not fund the full amount of the Commitment Percentage of such CP Conduit Purchaser Group of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or an Increase Amount, as applicable, and the related Group Bank is required to fund the portion thereof not funded by the CP Conduit Purchaser, such Group Bank shall pay in immediately available funds such portion on the Closing Date or the related Increase Date, as applicable, to the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Each Funding Agent shall remit the amounts received by it from its CP Conduit Purchaser or the related Group Bank pursuant to this Section 3.3(d) to the Issuer for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h). Subject to Section 3.3(e), so long as the conditions set forth in Sections 3.3(a) and (c) and Article 4 are satisfied, each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall pay in immediately available funds the Commitment Percentage of such Non-Conduit Purchaser of the amount of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or Increase Amount, as applicable, on the Closing Date or the Increase Date, as applicable, to the Issuer for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h).

(e) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser who shall have previously notified the Issuer in writing that it or any related Program Support Provider may, in the absence of the Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser having the ability to deliver Delayed Funding Notices hereunder, incur charges under, or in anticipation of, Basel III (which may include external charges incurred by the Group Bank, Non-Conduit Purchaser or Program Support Provider or internal charges incurred by any of their businesses) in respect of its Commitment hereunder or any agreement to support such Commitment, or in respect of its interest in the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, based on its "liquidity coverage ratio" calculated under Basel III, may, upon receipt of any Deferrable Increase Notice pursuant to Section 3.3(a), notify the Issuer in writing (a "Delayed Funding Notice") on or prior to [12:00 noon] (Toronto time) on the second Business Day preceding the related Increase Date, of its intent to fund an amount up to its Commitment Percentage of the related Increase Amount (such amount, subject to any adjustment described below, the "Delayed Amount") on a Business Day that is on or before the thirty-third (33rd) day following the Increase Date specified in such Deferrable Increase Notice (the "Delayed Funding Date") rather than on such Increase Date. If any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer following the Issuer's delivery of an Increase Notice pursuant to Section 3.3(a), the Issuer may with written notice to the Administrative Agent delivered prior to 3:00 pm on the second Business Day preceding such Increase Date, (x) decrease the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice (or revoke such Deferrable Increase Notice by decreasing the Increase Amount to zero), and/or (y) require any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser who has provided a Delayed Funding Notice to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase by an amount no greater than the Non-Deferrable Draw Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group as of the related Increase Date. In the event that the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice is reduced, but not to zero, then any Delayed Amount with respect to any Purchaser Group shall be reduced on a pro rata basis unless otherwise specified by the Issuer pursuant to clause (y) above. No Purchaser Group that has provided a Delayed Funding Notice in respect of an Increase (each a "Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") shall be considered to be in default of its obligation to fund its Delayed Amount pursuant to this Section 3.3 unless and until it has failed to fund the Delayed Amount (and/or the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount) on or before the Delayed Funding Date. ~~[NTD: the definition of "Non-Deferrable Draw Amount" includes a percentage (currently [10]%) that represents the amount that cannot be deferred by the dealers. OPG should make a proposal as to this percentage.]~~

(f) If (i) one or more Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer in respect of any Increase Date; and (ii) the Issuer shall not have decreased the related Increase Amount to zero or required each such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase to zero, in each case, pursuant to Section 3.3(e), the Administrative Agent shall, by no later than [12:00 noon] (Toronto time) on the Business Day preceding such Increase Date, direct each Purchaser Group that is not a Delayed Funding Purchaser Group with respect to such Increase Date (each a "Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") to fund an additional portion of such Increase Amount on such Increase Date equal to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group's proportionate share (based upon the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group relative to the sum of the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts with respect to all Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups) of the aggregate Delayed Amounts with respect to such Increase Date; provided that no Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall be required to fund any portion of the aggregate Delayed Amounts that would cause its Purchaser Group Principal Amount to exceed its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount. Subject to Section 3.3(a), in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a Non-Conduit Purchaser, such Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or, in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group hereby agrees, to fund such portion of the Increase Amount on such Increase Date.

(g) After the Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups fund a Delayed Amount on any Increase Date in accordance with Section 3.3(f), the Delayed Funding Purchaser Group in respect of such Delayed Amount will be obligated to fund the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount on or before its Delayed Funding Date, irrespective of whether the Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date shall have occurred on or prior to such Delayed Funding Date or the Issuer would be able to satisfy the conditions set forth in Section 3.3(c) to an Increase in an amount equal to such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date. Such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall fund such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date by paying such amount to the Administrative Agent in immediately available funds, and the Administrative Agent shall distribute such funds to each such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group, pro rata based on the relative amount of such Delayed Amount funded by such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group on such Increase Date pursuant to Section 3.3(f).

(h) The Issuer shall apply amounts paid to it pursuant to Sections 3.3(d) and 3.3(f) in the following order of priority:

(i) As to an amount equal to ●% of the amounts paid to pursuant to Sections 3.3(d) and 3.3(f), by deposit to the Program Cash Reserve Account; [NTD: OPG would like to understand what this account is needed for] and

(ii) as to the balance, in respect of the proceeds of the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Notes or a Transfer Increase, by application to payment of the purchase price payable by the Issuer to the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement in respect of the related Transfer and, in respect of the proceeds of a Refinancing Increase, by deposit to the Refinancing Account.

3.4 Procedure for Decreasing the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount; Optional Termination

(a) In the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, and in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, each of the CP Conduit Purchasers and the Group Bank in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group hereby agrees, that the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group may be decreased on any Payment Date by such Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of a Decrease Amount (a "Decrease"), upon the request of the Issuer. Each Payment Date on which a Decrease in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount occurs hereunder being herein referred to as the "Decrease Date" applicable to such Decrease; provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable written notice (effective upon receipt), by email communication, substantially in the form of Schedule D (a "Decrease Notice") no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the second Business Day prior to any Payment Date that is a Decrease Date. Each Decrease Notice shall state (x) the Decrease Date, and (y) the proposed amount of the decrease in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount (a "Decrease Amount").

(b) Upon each Decrease, the Administrative Agent shall indicate in its records such Decrease and the Purchaser Group Principal Amount outstanding with respect to each Purchaser Group after giving effect to such Decrease. Upon receipt of any notice required by Section 3.4(a) from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall forward (by email communication) a copy of such notice to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group, no later than [1:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the Business Day received.

(c) On any Business Day, the Issuer shall have the right to deliver an irrevocable written notice (an "Optional Termination Notice") to the Administrative Agent in which the Issuer declares that the Commitments shall terminate on the date (the "Optional Termination Date") set forth in such notice (which date, in any event, shall be a Payment Date not less than twenty (20) Business Days from the date on which such notice is delivered). Upon receipt of any Optional Termination Notice from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group thereof.

3.5 Increases and Reductions of the Commitments

(a) The Issuer may from time to time request that any Purchaser Group agree to increase its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount. An increase in such amount shall be effective hereunder if such Purchaser Group shall have agreed in its sole discretion to such increase.

(b) On any Business Day, the Issuer may, upon two (2) Business Days' prior written notice to the Administrative Agent (effective upon receipt) (with copies to the Indenture Trustee) reduce the Series 2017-1 Maximum Principal Amount in an amount equal to $~~[~~10,000,000~~]~~ or a whole multiple of $~~[~~1,000,000~~]~~ in excess thereof; provided that no such termination or reduction shall be permitted if, after giving effect thereto and to any reduction in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount on such date, the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to any Purchaser Group would exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group then in effect. Any reduction in the Series 2017-1 Maximum Principal Amount shall be made on a pro rata basis to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts with respect to the Purchaser Groups, based on the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to each Purchaser Group. Once reduced, the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts may not be subsequently reinstated without each such Purchaser Group's prior written consent, which consent shall be granted or not in the sole discretion of such Purchaser Group.

(c) The Issuer may extend the Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date only with the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent, each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each Funding Agent.

3.6 Interest; Fees and Other Amounts

(a) Interest shall be payable on the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes on each Payment Date.

(b) The Issuer shall pay to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser, on each Payment Date, a commitment fee with respect to the preceding Billing Period (the "Commitment Fee") during the period from the Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date in an amount equal to the sum of the following amounts calculated for each day during such Billing Period: (x) the Commitment Fee Rate, multiplied by (y) the amount by which Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on such day exceeds the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on such day, and divided by (z) 365. The Commitment Fees shall be payable monthly in arrears on each Payment Date.

(c) The Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall provide written notice to the Issuer and the Paying Agent no later than two (2) Business Days prior to each Payment Date, setting forth the Group Monthly Interest and the Group Monthly Fees and Other Amounts with respect to its Related Purchaser Group with respect to the Payment Date.

(d) The Monthly Interest shall be included in each calculation of the Interest Accrual Amount (Senior) for the purposes of Section 7.04(e)(iii) of the Trust Indenture and shall be payable pursuant to Sections 7.05(a), 7.08(a)(i) or 8.13(c) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable. On each Payment Date, the Monthly Fees and Other Amounts shall be payable in respect of the Series 2017-1 Notes pursuant to Sections 7.04(e)(iii) or 8.13(c) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable. On each Payment Date the Paying Agent shall, subject to availability of funds, pay to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser its Group Monthly Interest and its Group Monthly Fees and Other Amounts with respect to the Payment Date; provided that if the amounts available to pay such Group Monthly Interest and Group Monthly Fees and Other Amounts are insufficient, the amounts available shall be paid pro rata based on the amounts owing to each Purchaser Group.

3.7 Accumulation and Repayment of Principal

(a) For the purposes of the Trust Indenture and the Series 2017-1 Notes:

(i) for each Payment Date before the Principal Accumulation Date, the Principal Accumulation Amount shall be the Principal Payment Amount for such Payment Date; and

(ii) for each Payment Date on or after the Principal Accumulation Date, the Principal Accumulation Amount shall be the greater of (x) the Principal Payment Amount for such Payment Date, and (y) the Principal Accumulation Amount, for such Payment Date.

(b) Each Payment Date where the Principal Payment Amount is not nil shall be a Principal Payment Date in respect of the Series 2017-1 Notes. On each Principal Payment Date in respect of the Series 2017-1 Notes, the Paying Agent shall pay to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each Funding Agent with respect to its Related Purchaser Group, such Purchaser Group's Pro Rata Share of the Principal Payment Amount for such Principal Payment Date out of funds allocated to the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes pursuant to Sections 7.04(e)(iv)(A), 7.06(a) or 8.13(d) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable, in repayment of the principal amount of the Series 2017-1 Notes.

3.8 Indemnification by the Issuer

The Issuer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent, each Funding Agent, each CP Conduit Purchaser, the Group Bank, each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each of their respective officers, directors, agents and employees (each, an "Issuer indemnified person") from and against any loss, liability, expense, damage or injury suffered or sustained by such Issuer indemnified person by reason of (a) any acts, omissions or alleged acts or omissions arising out of, or relating to, activities of the Issuer pursuant to the Program Agreements to which it is a party; (b) a breach of any representation or warranty made or deemed made by the Issuer (or any of its officers) in any Program Agreement; or (c) a failure by the Issuer to comply with any applicable law or regulation or to perform its covenants, agreements, duties or obligations required to be performed or observed by it in accordance with the provisions of the Program Agreements, including, but not limited to, any judgment, award, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other reasonable costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, proceeding or claim, except to the extent such loss, liability, expense, damage or injury resulted from the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of such Issuer indemnified person or its officers, directors, agents, principals, employees or employers as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction in a final non-appealable judgement or includes any Excluded Taxes; provided that any payments made by the Issuer pursuant to this Section 3.8 shall be made solely from funds available pursuant to Section [7.04] or [8.13] of the Trust Indenture, as applicable, shall be non-recourse other than with respect to such funds, and shall not constitute a claim against the Issuer to the extent that such funds are insufficient to make such payment.

3.9 Funding Agents

(a) The Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group is hereby authorized to determine the Group Monthly Interest and Group Monthly Fees and Other

Amounts with respect to each Payment Date and such CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Any such determination by a Funding Agent, absent manifest error, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the accuracy of the calculation. Furthermore, the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group will maintain records sufficient to identify the percentage interest of the related CP Conduit Purchaser and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group holding an interest in the Series 2017-1 Senior Note registered in the name of such Funding Agent and any amounts owing thereunder.

(b) Upon receipt of funds on each Payment Date, each Funding Agent shall pay such funds to the related CP Conduit Purchaser and/or the related Group Bank owed such funds. If a Funding Agent shall have paid to any CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank any funds that (i) must be returned for any reason (including bankruptcy); or (ii) exceeds that which such CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank was entitled to receive, such amount shall be promptly repaid to such Funding Agent by such CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank.

3.10 Taxes

(a) All payments by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder shall, to the extent allowed by law, be made free and clear of, and without deduction or withholding for or on account of Taxes, excluding (i) income taxes (including branch profit taxes, minimum taxes and taxes computed under alternative methods, at least one of which is based on or measured by net income), franchise taxes (imposed in lieu of income taxes), or any other Taxes based on or measured by the net income of any person legally entitled to receive such payments (each a "Recipient") as a result of a present or former connection between the Recipient and the jurisdiction of the Governmental Authority imposing such Taxes (other than any such connection arising solely from the Recipient having executed, delivered or performed its obligations or received a payment under, disposed of, or enforced, this Supplemental Indenture); (ii) any withholding or deduction imposed pursuant to (A) Sections 1471 to 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("FATCA"), or any successor version thereof, or any similar legislation imposed by any other Governmental Authority, or (B) any treaty, law or regulation or other official guidance enacted by Canada implementing FATCA or any intergovernmental agreement with respect to FATCA or any similar legislation imposed by any other Governmental Authority, including, for greater certainty, the Canada-United States Enhanced Tax Information Exchange Agreement Implementation Act (Canada) and Parts XVIII and XIX of the Income Tax Act (Canada), as amended (collectively, and including FATCA, the "AEOI Legislation"); and (iii) any interest, penalties and additions to Taxes in respect of (i) and (ii) (all such excluded Taxes being hereinafter called "Excluded Taxes"). If any Taxes, other than Excluded Taxes, are required to be withheld from any amounts payable to a Recipient hereunder, the amounts so payable to the Recipient shall be increased, and the Recipient shall be entitled to be paid by the Issuer the amount of such increase to the extent necessary to yield to the Recipient (after payment of all such Taxes other than Excluded Taxes) interest or any such other amounts payable hereunder or thereunder at the rates or in the amounts specified hereunder. Where the amount payable by the Issuer is increased in accordance with the previous sentence, the Group Monthly Interest shall be increased by the amount of such increase. Whenever any Taxes are payable on or with respect to amounts distributed to a Recipient, as promptly as possible thereafter the Issuer shall send to such Recipient a certified copy of an original official receipt showing payment thereof.

(b) If a payment by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder would be subject to withholding Taxes under any AEOI Legislation if the Recipient were to fail to comply with the applicable reporting requirements of any AEOI Legislation, such Recipient shall deliver to the Issuer at the time or times prescribed by law and at such time or times reasonably requested by the Issuer such documentation prescribed by applicable law and such additional documentation reasonably requested by the Issuer as may be necessary for the Issuer to comply with its obligations under any AEOI Legislation and to determine that such Recipient has complied with its obligations under any AEOI Legislation, or to determine the amount to deduct and withhold from such payment. If any form or certification it previously delivered by a Recipient expires or becomes obsolete or inaccurate in any respect, the Recipient shall update such form or certification or promptly notify the Issuer in writing of its legal inability to do so.

(c) If a Recipient is legally entitled to receive a refund of any Taxes (other than Excluded Taxes) as to which it has been indemnified or with respect to which additional amounts have been paid to it hereunder or it is legally entitled to receive a credit or deduction with respect to such Taxes or with respect to such additional amounts that have been paid hereunder (in each case pursuant to Section 3.10(a)), it shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain or claim such refund, credit or deduction and pay over such refund or the value of such credit or deduction to the Issuer, together with any interest thereon.

3.11 Increased Costs

(a) (i) If any Regulatory Change (x) subjects any Affected Party to any charge or withholding on or with respect to any Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture or an Affected Person's obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or changes the basis of taxation of payments to any Affected Person of any amounts payable under any Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture Agreement (except for changes in the rate of tax on the overall net income of an Affected Person or Excluded Taxes) or (y) imposes, modifies or deems applicable any reserve, assessment, fee, tax, insurance charge, special deposit or similar requirement against assets of, deposits with or for the account of, or liabilities of an Affected Person, or credit extended by an Affected Person pursuant to a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture or (z) imposes any other condition the result of which is to increase the cost to an Affected Person of performing its obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to reduce the rate of return on an Affected Person's capital or assets as a consequence of its obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to reduce the amount of any sum received or receivable by an Affected Person under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to require any payment calculated by reference to the amount of interests or loans held or interest received by it, then, upon written request by such Affected Party (through the Funding Agent for its Purchaser Group if the Affected Party is a Program Support Provider, CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank) of a written request therefore to the Issuer, such Affected Party (through the Funding Agent for its Purchaser Group if the Affected Party is a Program Support Provider, CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank) shall be entitled to be paid, such amounts charged to such Affected Party or such amounts to otherwise compensate such Affected for such increased cost or such reduction, no later than the Payment Date following receipt by the Issuer of such request for compensation under this Section 3.11(a)(i), if such request is received by the Issuer no later than five (5) Business Days prior to the end of the Interest Period related to such Payment Date, and otherwise on the following Payment Date.

(ii) The Issuer acknowledges that any Affected Party may implement, as an internal institutional matter, measures in anticipation of a final or proposed Regulatory Change (including, without limitation, the imposition of internal charges on such Affected Party's interest or obligations under any Support Agreement or this Supplemental Indenture) and may commence recognizing the incurrence of charges by seeking compensation under Section 3.11(a)(i) in connection with such measures, in advance of the effective date of such final or proposed Regulatory Change, and the Issuer agrees that such charges or compensation shall be payable, to the related Funding Agent, for the benefit of Affected Party, following demand therefor without regard to whether such proposed Regulatory Change has been adopted or whether such effective date has occurred; provided, that (I) the Affected Party shall provide thirty (30) days prior written notice to the Issuer of its intent to impose or incur any such charges or compensation, (II) an Affected Party shall not be compensated for any such amount pursuant to this subsection 3.11(a)(ii) relating to any period ending, and of which such Affected Party has had knowledge, more than ~~one year~~ninety (90) days prior to the date that such Affected Party provided the Issuer with the written notice contemplated by the preceding clause (I) of this subsection 3.11(a)(ii), (III) if, after the payment by the Trust of any charges or compensation pursuant to this subsection 3.11(a)(ii), either (A) the Issuer requests in writing that the applicable Affected Party re-compute any such charge or compensation in light of differences between a proposed Regulatory Change and the final effective version thereof or (B) the applicable Affected Party determines that the amount of the charge imposed on and required to be compensated by the Issuer exceeds the amount necessary to compensate it for the applicable Regulatory Change as contemplated by subsection 3.11(a)(i), then (x) the amount of such charge or compensation shall, from and after such determination, be reduced by the amount of such excess and (y) such Affected Party shall, within thirty (30) days of such determination, either repay the amount of such excess or credit the amount of such excess against future charges under this subsection 3.11(a)(ii). The Issuer further acknowledges that any charge or compensation demanded hereunder may take the form of a monthly charge to be assessed by such Affected Party.

(b) Each Affected Party claiming increased amounts described in subsection 3.11(a) of this Supplemental Indenture will furnish to the Issuer (together with its request for compensation) a certificate prepared in good faith setting forth the basis and the calculation of the amount (in reasonable detail) of each request by such Affected Party for any such increased amounts referred to in subsection 3.11(a) hereof. Any such certificate shall be conclusive absent manifest error. Failure on the part of any Affected Party to demand compensation for any amount pursuant to subsection 3.11(a) hereof with respect to any period shall not constitute a waiver of such Affected Party's right to demand compensation with respect to such period.

AGENTS

7.1 Administrative Agent

(a) Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Administrative Agent as the agent of such Person under this Supplemental Indenture and irrevocably authorizes the Administrative Agent, in such capacity, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to the Administrative Agent by the terms of this Supplemental Indenture, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Supplemental Indenture, the Administrative Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent, and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Supplemental Indenture or otherwise exist against the Administrative Agent.

(b) The Administrative Agent may execute any of its duties under this Supplemental Indenture by or through agents or attorneys in fact and shall be entitled to advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties. The Administrative Agent shall not be responsible for the negligence or misconduct of any agents or attorneys-in-fact selected by it with reasonable care.

(c) Neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates shall be (i) liable for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such Person under or in connection with the Trust Indenture, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement (except to the extent that any of the foregoing are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from its or such Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct) or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks or the Funding Agents for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by the Issuer, the IESO, the Manager or any officer thereof contained in this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement, or for any failure of any of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO to perform its obligations hereunder or thereunder. The Administrative Agent shall not be under any obligation to any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement or to inspect the properties, books or records of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO.

(d) The Administrative Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter or electronic message, statement, order or other document or conversation believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper Person or Persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including, without limitation, counsel to the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO), independent accountants and other experts selected by the Administrative Agent.

(e) The Administrative Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Termination Event unless the Administrative Agent has received written notice from a Non-Conduit Purchaser, a CP Conduit Purchaser, a Group Bank, a Funding Agent, the Issuer or the Manager referring to the Trust Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture, describing such Termination Event and stating that such notice is a "notice of a Termination Event". In the event that the Administrative Agent receives such a notice, the Administrative Agent shall give notice thereof to the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the Funding Agents, the Issuer Trustee and the Manager.

(f) Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents expressly acknowledges that neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by the Administrative Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by the Administrative Agent to any such Person. Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents also represents that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent or any other Non-Conduit Purchaser, CP Conduit Purchaser, Group Bank or Funding Agent, and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements, and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO. Except for notices, reports and other documents expressly required to be furnished to the Non-Conduit Purchasers and the Funding Agents by the Administrative Agent hereunder, the Administrative Agent shall have no duty or responsibility to provide any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent with any credit or other information concerning the business, operations, property, condition (financial or otherwise), prospects or creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO which may come into the possession of the Administrative Agent or any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates.

(g) The Administrative Agent and its Affiliates may make loans to, accept deposits from and generally engage in any kind of business with the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO as though the Administrative Agent were not the Administrative Agent hereunder. With respect to any Series 2017-1 Senior Note held by the Administrative Agent, the Administrative Agent shall have the same rights and powers under this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements as any Group Bank or Funding Agent and may exercise the same as though it were not the Administrative Agent, and the terms "Group Bank," and "Funding Agent" shall include the Administrative Agent in its individual capacity.

(h) The Administrative Agent may resign as Administrative Agent at any time by giving 30 days' notice to the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the Funding Agents, the Indenture Trustee, the Issuer and the Manager. If no successor administrative agent has accepted appointment as Administrative Agent prior to the effective date of the resignation of the Administrative Agent, the retiring Administrative Agent may appoint, after consulting with the Non-Conduit Purchasers and the Funding Agents, a successor Administrative Agent from among the Non-Conduit Purchasers and the Funding Agents. If no successor administrative agent has accepted appointment by the date which is thirty (30) days following a retiring Administrative Agent's notice of resignation, the retiring Administrative Agent's resignation shall nevertheless thereupon become effective and Manager shall assume and perform all of the duties of the Administrative Agent hereunder until such time, if any, as the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders appoint a successor administrative agent as provided for above. After any retiring Administrative Agent's resignation as Administrative Agent, the provisions of this Article 7 shall inure to its benefit as to any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was Administrative Agent under this Supplemental Indenture.

7.2 Funding Agents

(a) Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Funding Agent set forth next to such CP Conduit Purchaser's name on Schedule E as the agent of such Person under this Supplemental Indenture and irrevocably authorizes such Funding Agent, in such capacity, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to such Funding Agent by the terms of this Supplemental Indenture, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Supplemental Indenture, each Funding Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Supplemental Indenture or otherwise exist against each Funding Agent.

(b) Each Funding Agent may execute any of its duties under this Supplemental Indenture by or through agents or attorneys-in-fact and shall be entitled to advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties. Each Funding Agent shall not be responsible to the CP Conduit Purchaser or any Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group for the negligence or misconduct of any agents or attorneys in fact selected by it with reasonable care.

(c) Each Funding Agent and any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates shall not be (i) liable for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such Person under or in connection with the Trust Indenture, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement (except to the extent that any of the foregoing are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from its or such Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct) or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the CP Conduit Purchasers and/or Group Banks for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO, or any officer thereof contained in this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by such Funding Agent under or in connection with, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement, or for any failure of any of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO to perform its obligations hereunder or thereunder. Each Funding Agent shall not be under any obligation to the CP Conduit Purchaser or any Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement or to inspect the properties, books or records of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO.

(d) Each Funding Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter or electronic message, statement, order or other document or conversation believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper Person or Persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including, without limitation, counsel to the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO), independent accountants and other experts selected by such Funding Agent. Each Funding Agent shall be fully justified in failing or refusing to take any action under this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement unless it shall first receive such advice or concurrence of the Related Purchaser Group, as it deems appropriate or it shall first be indemnified to its satisfaction by the Related Purchaser Group against any and all liability and expense which may be incurred by it by reason of taking or continuing to take any such action.

(e) Each Funding Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Termination Event unless such Funding Agent has received written notice from a Non-Conduit Purchaser, a CP Conduit Purchaser, a Group Bank, the Issuer, the Manager or the Administrative Agent referring to the Trust Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture, describing such Termination Event and stating that such notice is a "notice of a Termination Event," as the case may be. In the event that any Funding Agent receives such a notice, such Funding Agent shall give notice thereof to the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Such Funding Agent shall take such action with respect to such event as shall be reasonably directed by the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group, provided that unless and until such Funding Agent shall have received such directions, such Funding Agent may (but shall not be obligated to) take such action, or refrain from taking such action, with respect to such event as it shall deem advisable in the best interests of the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group.

(f) Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks expressly acknowledge that neither its Funding Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by such Funding Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by such Funding Agent to any such Person. Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks represents to its Funding Agent that it has, independently and without reliance upon such Funding Agent and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own appraisal of and investigation into the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO and made its own decision to enter into this Supplemental Indenture. Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks also represents that it will, independently and without reliance upon its Funding Agent and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements, and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other conditions and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO.

(g) Each Group Bank in a CP Conduit Purchaser Group agrees to indemnify its Funding Agent in its capacity as such (to the extent not reimbursed by the Issuer and without limiting the obligation of the Issuer to do so), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements of any kind whatsoever which may at any time be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Funding Agent in any way relating to or arising out of this Supplemental Indenture, any of the other Program Agreements or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or therein or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or any action taken or omitted by such Funding Agent under or in connection with any of the foregoing; provided that no Group Bank shall be liable for the payment of any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements that are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from such related Funding Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct. The agreements in this Section shall survive the payment of all amounts payable hereunder.

ARTICLE 8
GENERAL

8.1 Successor and Assigns

(a) This Supplemental Indenture shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns, except that (i) the Issuer may not assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture without the prior written consent of all of the Series 2017-1 Noteholders; (ii) no Non-Conduit Purchaser may assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture other than pursuant to paragraph (e) or (f) below; (iii) no CP Conduit Purchaser may assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture other than to the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser or a Program Support Provider with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser or pursuant to clause (b) or (e) below of this Section 8.1; and (iv) no Group Bank may assign or transfer any of its rights or obligations under this Supplemental Indenture except to a Program Support Provider or pursuant to clause (c), (d) or (e) below of this Section 8.1.

(b) Without limiting the foregoing, each CP Conduit Purchaser may assign all or a portion of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser and its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture to a Conduit Assignee with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser. Prior to or concurrently with the effectiveness of any such assignment (or if impracticable, immediately thereafter), the assigning CP Conduit Purchaser shall notify the Administrative Agent and the Issuer. Upon such assignment by a CP Conduit Purchaser to a Conduit Assignee, (i) such Conduit Assignee shall be the owner of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount or such portion thereof with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser; (ii) the related administrative or managing agent for such Conduit Assignee will act as the administrative agent for such Conduit Assignee hereunder, with all corresponding rights and powers, express or implied, granted to the Funding Agent hereunder; (iii) such Conduit Assignee and its liquidity support provider(s) and credit support provider(s) and other related parties shall have the benefit of all the rights and protections provided to such CP Conduit Purchaser herein (including, without limitation, any limitation on recourse against such Conduit Assignee as provided in this paragraph); (iv) such Conduit Assignee shall assume all of such CP Conduit Purchaser's obligations, if any, hereunder with respect to such portion of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount and such CP Conduit Purchaser shall be released from such obligations; (v) all distributions in respect of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount or such portion thereof with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall be made to the applicable agent or administrative agent, as applicable, on behalf of such Conduit Assignee; and (vi) if requested by the Administrative Agent or the agent or administrative agent with respect to the Conduit Assignee, the parties will execute and deliver such further agreements and documents and take such other actions as the Administrative Agent or such agent or administrative agent may reasonably request to evidence and give effect to the foregoing. No assignment by any CP Conduit Purchaser to a Conduit Assignee of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall in any way diminish the obligations of the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser under Section 3.3 to fund any Increase.

(c) Any Group Bank may, in the ordinary course of its business and in accordance with applicable law, at any time, sell all or any part of its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture and the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, with the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Issuer (in each case, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), to one or more banks (an "Acquiring Group Bank") pursuant to a transfer supplement, substantially in the form of Exhibit H (the "Transfer Supplement"), executed by such Acquiring Group Bank, such assigning Group Bank, the Funding Agent with respect to such Group Bank, the Administrative Agent and the Issuer and delivered to the Administrative Agent. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Group Bank shall so sell its rights hereunder if such Acquiring Group Bank is not an Eligible Assignee.

If any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer following the Issuer's delivery of an Increase Notice pursuant to Section 3.3(a), the Issuer may with written notice to the Administrative Agent delivered prior to 3:00 pm on the second Business Day preceding such Increase Date, (x) decrease the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice (or revoke such Deferrable Increase Notice by decreasing the Increase Amount to zero), and/or (y) require any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser who has provided a Delayed Funding Notice to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase by an amount no greater than the Non-Deferrable Draw Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group as of the related Increase Date. In the event that the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice is reduced, but not to zero, then any Delayed Amount with respect to any Purchaser Group shall be reduced on a pro rata basis unless otherwise specified by the Issuer pursuant to clause (y) above. No Purchaser Group that has provided a Delayed Funding Notice in respect of an Increase (each a "Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") shall be considered to be in default of its obligation to fund its Delayed Amount pursuant to this Section 3.3 unless and until it has failed to fund the Delayed Amount (and/or the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount) on or before the Delayed Funding Date.

(f) If (i) one or more Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer in respect of any Increase Date; and (ii) the Issuer shall not have decreased the related Increase Amount to zero or required each such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase to zero, in each case, pursuant to Section 3.3(e), the Administrative Agent shall, by no later than [12:00 noon] (Toronto time) on the Business Day preceding such Increase Date, direct each Purchaser Group that is not a Delayed Funding Purchaser Group with respect to such Increase Date (each a "Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") to fund an additional portion of such Increase Amount on such Increase Date equal to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group's proportionate share (based upon the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group relative to the sum of the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts with respect to all Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups) of the aggregate Delayed Amounts with respect to such Increase Date; provided that no Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser

~~Group shall be required to fund any portion of the aggregate Delayed Amounts that would cause its Purchaser Group Principal Amount to exceed its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount. Subject to Section 3.3(a), in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a Non-Conduit Purchaser, such Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or, in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group hereby agrees, to fund such portion of the Increase Amount on such Increase Date.~~

~~(g) After the Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups fund a Delayed Amount on any Increase Date in accordance with Section 3.3(f), the Delayed Funding Purchaser Group in respect of such Delayed Amount will be obligated to fund the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount on or before its Delayed Funding Date, irrespective of whether the Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date shall have occurred on or prior to such Delayed Funding Date or the Issuer would be able to satisfy the conditions set forth in Section 3.3(c) to an Increase in an amount equal to such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date. Such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall fund such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date by paying such amount to the Administrative Agent in immediately available funds, and the Administrative Agent shall distribute such funds to each such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group, pro rata based on the relative amount of such Delayed Amount funded by such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group on such Increase Date pursuant to Section 3.3(f).~~

(c) ~~(h)~~ The Issuer shall apply amounts paid to it pursuant to ~~Sections~~Section 3.3(~~d) and 3.3(f~~a) in the following order of priority:

| Procedure for Advance: | The Trust via the FSM shall provide OPG with [written] notice/ [their transfer notice to the IESO] requesting an Advance at least [x] Business Days prior to the date of the Advance; Each such notice (a "Borrowing Notice") shall be substantially in the form of Schedule [X] and shall specify: (a) the date of the Advance (the "Advance Date"); (b) the principal amount of the AdvanceThe interest rate that shall apply to such Advance shall be set in accordance with the procedure set forth in Pricing Grid. |
| Base Rate: | The interest rate applicable to an Advance shall be the aggregate of the applicable Base Rate and the Applicable Spread.For short-term funding the Base Rate means an annual rate of interest equal to the ABCP Trusts' cost of funds for the applicable contract period plus the Applicable Spread.For term-out funding the "Base Rate" means an annual rate of interest comprised of the applicable yield for the Benchmark Government of Canada bonds. In the event that there are no Benchmark Government of Canada bonds listed at the time of the Advance with the same term, the rate shall be established by interpolating the terms of the two Benchmark Government of Canada bonds that are closest to the term of the Advance, one being for a longer term and the other being for a shorter term.The Base Rate will be the same as that rate used to price the Senior debt in the market by the dealers, provided the term of the subordinate debt is the same as the senior debt. Ken,

As you're aware we are currently working on drafting the Protocol Agreement re Sub Debt under the Fair Hydro Plan. Attached for you review please find the key terms re the Agreement, including procedure for advance, as well as price setting, etc. Please let us know if you have any comments/thoughts.

Please be advised that FHP financing will include both a short term warehouse facility (ABCP conduit) and term debt.

Thanks

Sheen

| Advances: | OPG agrees to make Advances to the Trust from time to time on any Business Day prior to [January 1, 20X7]. OPG shall make these Advances on the same business day, concurrently with the funding by the ABCP conduit or term-out debt in the Capital Markets. |
| Procedure for Advance: | The Trust via the FSM shall provide OPG with [written] notice/ [their transfer notice to the IESO] requesting an Advance at least [x] Business Days prior to the date of the Advance; Each such notice (a "Borrowing Notice") shall be substantially in the form of Schedule [X] and shall specify: (a) the date of the Advance (the "Advance Date"); (b) the principal amount of the AdvanceThe interest rate that shall apply to such Advance shall be set in accordance with the procedure set forth in Pricing Grid. |
| Base Rate: | The interest rate applicable to an Advance shall be the aggregate of the applicable Base Rate and the Applicable Spread.For short-term funding the Base Rate means an annual rate of interest equal to the ABCP Trusts' cost of funds for the applicable contract period plus the Applicable Spread.For term-out funding the "Base Rate" means an annual rate of interest comprised of the applicable yield for the Benchmark Government of Canada bonds. In the event that there are no Benchmark Government of Canada bonds listed at the time of the Advance with the same term, the rate shall be established by interpolating the terms of the two Benchmark Government of Canada bonds that are closest to the term of the Advance, one being for a longer term and the other being for a shorter term.The Base Rate will be the same as that rate used to price the Senior debt in the market by the dealers, provided the term of the subordinate debt is the same as the senior debt. | General | Throughout | The 8% Provincial Rebate is often referred to as a "HST rebate." The program is an 8% rebate on the consumer's pre-tax electricity charges. While this is equivalent to the provincial component of HST, the program is not a tax rebate. Tax is assessed in full and is not credited back to customers.Suggest correcting this reference throughout the OAG report. | N |

| Summary of Concerns | 2 | "…the government's intention in creating the accounting/financing design to handle the costs of the rate reduction was to avoid affecting its fiscal plan."The government's intention was to provide electricity rate relief to current ratepayers, including by more fairly allocating costs for specified consumers, with the Global Adjustment (GA) cost amounts still ultimately borne by specified electricity ratepayers, as beneficiaries of those electricity system costs. | N |

| Summary of Concerns | 3 | "… so IESO will sell its statutory right to recover the shortfall and use the proceeds of that sale to recover the shortfall ~~the government needs to borrow cash to cover the shortfall"~~Updated statement with language in "bold and underlined" and remove text in "strike-out". This statement is factually incorrect in two respects. First, in its reference to "government". It is Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) that needs to cover the shortfall. The IESO is not the "government" because IESO is not owned by the Crown, and under statute (Electricity Act, 1998) is explicitly not an agent of the Crown. Second, in its reference to "borrowing cash". IESO is not borrowing cash to cover the shortfall (except initially). IESO can sell its statutory right to recover the shortfall and use the proceeds of that sale to cover the shortfall. | N |
| Summary of Concerns and 2.0 | 3, 10 | The report concludes that as a result of the government's decision to not borrow directly in connection with GA refinancing, an additional $4 billion in interest costs will be imposed on consumers over the life of OFHP, as OPG/OPG trust must pay a higher rate of interest compared to the Province.This $4 billion figure was sourced from the Financial Accountability Officer's (FAO) May 2017 report on OFHP; however, accumulated interest is projected to be considerably less than estimated in the FAO's May report. Total borrowing estimates over the thirty year life of the program have been revised down substantially since May, from $27.7 billion to $18.5 billion, and OPG's borrowing costs are now forecast to be lower than original estimates. | N |
| Summary of concerns | 4 | The first bullet on the page notes that the OFHP legislates the accounting which is factually incorrect and should be deleted. | N – Legislation – already in the report |
| Summary of Concerns | 4 and throughout | The AG report notes throughout that the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers (OREC) is 8% of the OFHP's 25% bill reduction for the proxy consumer.The 25% figure is an after-tax figure whereas the 8% figure is before-tax (i.e., 8% before tax is equivalent to 7.1% after-tax). Note: The breakdown is more like: 7% (OREC) + 16% (GA Refinancing) + 2% (tax-basing Ontario Electricity Support Program and Rural or Remote Rate Protection).Suggest correcting this reference throughout the AG report. | N |

| Summary of Concerns | 4 and throughout | Under OFHP, consumers of all sizes will benefit from shifting cost recovery for the Ontario Electricity Support Program (OESP) and the majority of the Rural or Remote Rate Protection (RRRP) program from electricity bills to provincial revenues.This action is expected to lower regulatory charges for all consumers by approximately $3/MWh (or about 2% for a residential consumer). The AG report does not mention this aspect of OFHP.Suggest including the two sentences above in the AG report and adjusting the commentary in the report accordingly such that this information about RRRP and OESP costs are reflected in the report. | N |
| Summary of Concerns | 4 and throughout | The AG report indicates on several occasions a 17% reduction in ratepayers' electricity bills. However, due to the fact that the 8% OREC is a before-tax rebate and that the shifting of social programs (i.e., OESP and RRRP) to the tax-base constitutes a portion of the 25% reduction, the impact of GA refinancing on the proxy consumer's bill is about 16%.Note: The breakdown is more like: 7% (OREC) + 16% (GA Refinancing) + 2% (tax-basing Ontario Electricity Support Program and Rural or Remote Rate Protection).Suggest correcting this reference throughout the AG report. | N |

It is not a fair characterization as no deficit was incurred. Government was mitigating risks not working around them. | N |
| 1.2 | 6 | The design options were not all rejected because they would show an increase in the deficit or net debt. For example, one option considered was to have the LDCs finance the difference between the amounts paid to the generators and the amounts collected from the ratepayers. This was rejected because of the inability of some of the LDCs to finance the balances. This option was detailed in an email provided to the OAG from Cindy Veinot dated February 2, 2017 at 7:02 pm. | Y – please refer to enclosed file titled "Email Evidence re LDC Option" |
| 1.2 | 6 | Please provide a copy of the emails that support these bullets on this page. | N |
| | 7 | Implication in several sections that the OFHP roll out results in a "less transparent" process. With the financing plan, similar to several jurisdictions in the U.S., and a form or securitization that is commonly used in the financial markets the impact of the plan will be transparent. Credit rating agencies, securities regulators and the public at large get full information and full reporting of the impacts of the OFHP that are visible and specific. | N |
| | 8 | "Province shows no increase in net expense because the revenue OPG earns from charging the OPG Trust interest and administration and other fees offsets the interest expense on the amount borrowed…"This is not factually correct as stated. There is no explicit legislative or regulatory requirement for the revenue Ontario Power Generation (OPG) earns from charging the OPG Trust interest and fees to bear any relationship to the interest expense incurred by the Province in borrowing money for its equity infusions into OPG. | N |

| | 8 | Factual matter – AG report states the OFHP will be finalized and completed by 2045. The correct end date is 2047. | N |
| 1.3.2 | 9 | The AG report states that it is not at all certain that the electricity generators whose costs have been smoothed under OFHP will be in use to produce power in the future. Third-party expert analysis advised that the electricity generators that form the basis for GA refinancing will be able to operate after expiry of IESO contracts.The report also points out that future ratepayers do not yet owe anything until they consume electricity in the future. Electricity has always been priced according to this approach in Ontario, as currently represented through the Global Adjustment (GA) which varies based on consumption levels for Class B consumers. OFHP takes into account the best available long-term projection of Ontario electricity demand.Suggest updating the content in the AG report to acknowledge third-party expert analysis (i.e., that the electricity generators that form the basis for GA refinancing will be able to operate after expiry of IESO contracts). | Y – please refer to enclosed reports |
| 1.3.2 | 9 | The statement is made "key to achieving this result is calling the 17% revenue shortfall or net expense a "regulatory asset". This is factually incorrect. It does not matter what an item is labeled within the legislation. The accounting for the transaction will be based on Canadian Public Sector Accounting Standards. This sentence should be deleted.As previously provided to the OAG by IESO and KPMG, the transaction is expected to result in an asset that meets the definition of an asset based on PSAS and the guidance on rate-regulated accounting in US GAAP. That analysis, in summary is: | N |

| | | Under Canadian PSAS, assets are defined by three characteristics: a) they embody future economic benefits (of which one is the ability to generate future cash flows); b) the entity has full control in order to access those benefits, and c) they must result from a past event.The decision by the IESO to apply the rate-regulated rules under US GAAP does not create an inconsistency with the definition of an asset under Canadian PSAS. The shortfall which is being reported as an asset by the IESO embodies a future economic benefit based on the requirement of the specified ratepayers to pay these deferred amounts in the future. IESO has control to access those benefits either by selling the regulatory asset or by holding the asset until the payments by the specified ratepayers are received in the future. Finally, the asset results from a past event which is the payment to the generators for the generation of power.It is important to distinguish legislating the accounting from legislating the right for the government to recover amounts from specified ratepayers in the future, based on costs incurred today. Enabling the IESO to sell the future right to recover of this shortfall from specified ratepayers provided under the FHP Act is not legislating the accounting. The statute does not direct the government how to account for the shortfall. The statute provides for recovery of the current shortfalls from the specified ratepayers in the future, reflecting the policy decision to have the GA refinancing borne by the specified ratepayers, and in doing so, creates an obligation on the specified ratepayers to pay an amount in the future. The obligation on the part of the specified ratepayers is a future economic benefit to the government. | |

The policy decision resulted in the government becoming responsible for the former Ontario Hydro's net debt of $19.4 billion (technically referred to as "unfunded liabilities" or~~ | YPlease refer to enclosed OEFC 2000-01 and 2002-03 Annual Reports; Ontario Hydro 1998-99 |

| | | ~~"stranded debt"). The costs that created the debt were incurred over a number of years before 1999, but ratepayers had not been billed for them at the time. Instead, starting in 2002, ratepayers began paying down the stranded debt through a "debt retirement charge" on their bills.~~~~The collection of the debt retirement charge and the Fair Hydro future reduction recovery are similar in that both stem from government policy decisions and did not result from an independent regulatory process. As well, the payments were/will be made much later, "after the fact." However, in the 1999/2000 fiscal year, the government followed Canadian Public Sector Accounting Standards properly, and included the debt and the expenses related to it in the Province's consolidated financial statements. When the debt retirement charge was added to electricity bills, the charge to ratepayers was taken in as revenue in the Province's consolidated financial statements. This treatment allowed the government to track ratepayer costs and taxpayer costs separately, helping to ensure that only ratepayers, not taxpayers, pay for electricity services.~~~~The same accounting should be applied to the Fair Hydro Plan rate reduction: include the debt being accumulated through the 10 years of the reduction as Provincial debt, and record interest expense on this debt as an expense in the Province's consolidated financial statements. When the clean energy adjustment is added to electricity bills, the amount charged to ratepayers can then be taken in as revenue in the consolidated financial statements, as well as be tracked separately from taxpayer expenses/revenue"~~The report makes a comparison between the OFHP and the OEFC stranded debt. There are, however, crucial differences. The latter had already been incurred when the restructuring took place. In the case of the OFHP, the difference between what will be collected and what will be paid to generators will be set up as an asset which generates a specific revenue stream in the form of the CEA, in accordance with the accounting definition.Also, it is important to note that the 1999 restructuring led to an "unbundling" of the electricity rate. Prior to the 1999 restructuring and 2002 market opening, there was a "bundled rate" for electricity that included cost recovery of generation and transmission costs, operating and capital – including debt costs, as well as central market operations costs. This was a normal regulatory practice which matched the timing of the capital cost recovery with the benefit to the ratepayer. The DRC represented the unbundling of a portion of the debt service costs. It effectively amortized the cost of the investments in long-lived assets (including debt incurred).The OFHP GA deferral is also intended to have costs recovered from specified ratepayers over a time period that better reflects the expected lives of those assets (vs the contract lengths) that may be shorter than the expected useful life of the assets). The difference between the | Annual Report |

| | | 1999 restructuring and the OFHP is that the DRC continued to pay down, over time, debt that had already been incurred, while under the OFHP, an asset is being recorded to reflect a fair allocation of electricity costs between current and future ratepayers. The intention of the OFHP is to be forward looking to ensure that ratepayers are fairly paying their share of current and future costs, while the DRC was backward looking, replacing part of a bundled rate that was already spreading the cost recovery of the debt over time.Finally, the penultimate paragraph in section 3.0 notes the government, in 1999/2000, "…included debt and the expenses related to it in the Province's consolidated financial statements". This statement is incorrect. The recording of the stranded debt never resulted in an expense in the consolidated financial statements. The amount of the debt was charged directly to accumulated deficit. | |
| | 12 | Related to the above argument on the value / existence of an asset – The "substance over form"The government differentiated the reductions in consumers' electricity bills that are being borne by the tax-base as a whole (i.e., 8% Rebate, certain programs to help rural customers) from those that have a long term benefit (the 17% referenced in the AG report). By establishing the deferral amounts off today's bill and charging it to future consumers, that is providing substance by ensuring future ratepayers pay their share of system costs at the right time. | N |
| | 13 | The role of the OEB and its mandate, is provided in legislation. It is not uncommon for government policy, through Regulations, to provide the ground rules over which the OEB is to preside. That is the case with the OFHP itself as the Act and the various regulations provide the direction and processes over which the OEB is to exercise oversight, review and make conclusions on submissions brought forward (rates to charge certain customer classes, basis of interest and appropriateness of fees charged to ensure they are benchmarked and reasonable, etc.). | N |
| 4.3 | 13 | The first sentence of the second paragraph states: As introduced in Section 1.3.2, the asset that the Fair Hydro Act creates is referred to as a "regulatory" or "rate-regulated" asset.The terms regulatory and rate-regulated are not interchangeable and the sentence suggests they are. Regulatory asset is a defined term in the legislation and rate-regulated asset is an accounting concept used by rate-regulated entities meeting the appropriate criteria. In addition, the legislation does not create an asset. The recording of any asset resulting from transactions of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan will be assessed for recognition and measurement based on Public Sector Accounting Standards (PSAS), and where appropriate other accounting guidance where PSAS is silent on the issue. Suggest this sentence be deleted. | N |
| 4.3 | 13 | The second paragraph states "one of the requirements for recording a regulatory asset in the U.S. is that there must be an independent regulator…" This statement is incomplete. The guidance in US GAAP is as follows: | N |

The U.S. accounting standard was developed specifically not to preclude the application of rate regulated accounting by government utilities where the rate regulator would not necessarily be viewed as independent. ## GOVERNMENT RESPONSE TO OAG REPORT ON THE FAIR HYDRO PLAN

The government of Ontario does not agree with the assertions and conclusions expressed in the report by the Office of the Auditor General (OAG) on Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (OFHP).

OFHP is delivering the single-largest reduction in electricity rates in the province's history. In developing OFHP, the government considered a range of implementation options and consulted with legal, accounting, financial and energy sector third-party experts to provide advice and ensure due diligence was completed. OFHP operates under a financial and accounting framework that is appropriate for the intended purpose and in accordance with Public Sector Accounting Standards (PSAS) and ensures that the fairness goals underlying the program are achieved in a cost-effective manner.

The government has been making important investments in a cleaner and more reliable energy system, but these investments have led to higher electricity bills. OFHP has introduced new measures to lower electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for residential consumers and will hold increases to the rate of inflation for four years. As many as half a million small businesses and farms are also benefitting from a reduction.

Since 2003, nearly $70 billion has been invested in the electricity system, including more than $37 billion in electricity generation to ensure the system is clean and reliable. The majority of the province's electricity generators operate under 20-year contracts. Despite the report's assertion that it is "not at all" certain if these generating assets will be operating beyond their contract lives, third-party experts have confirmed that many of these generators will be able to continue to operate. This means that generating assets are expected to have ongoing useful life and benefit future ratepayers by reducing the need to finance the development of new generating assets.

The Global Adjustment (GA) pays for the bulk of the recent investments in the electricity system. Refinancing the GA provides significant and immediate rate relief by matching the cost of electricity investments with the expected useful life of the generation that has been built. Despite the report's assertion that the government's intention was to avoid recording a deficit in the fiscal plan, the decisions made to implement GA refinancing most effectively achieves the goals of the refinancing program and ensures that the deferred costs are borne by the rate-base, as the beneficiaries of the electricity system, and not the tax-base. The accounting for this transaction will reflect the substance of this transaction.

With respect to the Province's financial statements, they are prepared in accordance with Canadian PSAS and will follow PSAS in accounting for the transactions resulting from OFHP in 2017-18 as well as in the following years. As PSAS is set by an independent standard setting body in Canada focused specifically on the public sector, and because PSAS is used by all senior governments in Canada, presenting its financial statements in accordance with PSAS results in transparent financial reporting for the Province of Ontario.

The government of Ontario also disagrees with two fundamental accounting assertions in the report related to legislated accounting and rate-regulated accounting:

- Legislated Accounting – The Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and its related regulations do not create accounting rules or legislate the accounting. This is a fundamental disagreement with the report. As previously noted, the Province will prepare its consolidated financial statements in accordance with PSAS.

- Rate-Regulated Accounting – In commenting on the use of rate-regulated accounting and the role of the Ontario Energy Board (OEB), the report makes reference to a requirement under U.S. accounting standards in connection with the use of rate-regulated accounting that "there must be an independent regulator". This reference is misleading as it does not provide the criteria in its entirety, which is as follows:

  The entity's rates for regulated services or products provided to its customers are established by or are subject to approval by an independent, third-party regulator or by its own governing board empowered by statute or contract to establish rates that bind customers [ASC 980-10-15-2].

The U.S. accounting standard was developed specifically not to preclude the application of rate-regulated accounting by government utilities where the rate regulator would not necessarily be viewed as independent [FAS 71, par. 64]. In addition, the position that rate-regulated accounting is precluded because the OEB is not considered independent of the government of Ontario is contradictory to accepting the use of rate-regulated accounting by Ontario Power Generation (OPG) and Hydro One, both regulated by the OEB and whose results, using rate-regulated accounting, are and have been included in the consolidated financial statements of the Province.

The OFHP is comprised of a series of policy decisions, some of which will be borne by taxpayers where appropriate, such as sales tax relief and shifting social programs to the tax base, and some will be borne by ratepayers, such as spreading the investment costs and benefits across ratepayers more fairly. The accounting will reflect the economic substance of the transactions in accordance with PSAS and will differentiate those costs of OFHP borne by taxpayers vs. those borne by ratepayers. The report appears to suggest that all costs of OFHP should be reflected as if they will be borne by taxpayers, which is inaccurate.

OPG is beginning the process of raising funds to finance the deferred costs, and while total borrowing costs will not be known until the program is complete, accumulated interest is projected to be considerably less than the estimates in the report of the Financial Accountability Office (FAO), cited by the report. Total borrowing estimates over the thirty year life of the program have been revised down substantially by the government since the FAO released its report in May 2017 and borrowing costs are now forecast to be substantially lower than original estimates. Current government estimates forecast that the peak debt over the thirty -year life of OFHP will be below $20 billion. The preliminary estimate from March 2017 was about $28 billion.

Based on the comments above, and given that implementation of OFHP is ongoing with significant accounting and financing decisions still being finalized, the government believes that this report does not reflect the technical substance of the OFHP, some of which has yet to be implemented.

| MEMORANDUM TO: | Bonnie LysykAuditor General of Ontario |
| FROM: | Serge Imbrogno, Deputy MinisterMinistry of Energy |
| SUBJECT: | Auditor General Request |
| DATE: | October 3, 2017 |

As I committed to do in my September 1, 2017 letter, I am writing to update you on the progress of the Ministry of Energy in responding to your request for communications and material on the accounting/financing for the Fair Hydro Plan for the period from December 1, 2016 to May 31, 2017.

As you are aware, Ministry staff are currently engaged in a manual review of 144,513 records identified for us by McCarthys/Wortzmans in order to eliminate non-responsive material. As of today we have reviewed a total of 30,206 records and identified a total of 6,940 responsive to your request. Ministry staff identified 1,837 records as responsive since the last batch (fourth batch) and PDF versions of this batch (fifth batch) of responsive records are included on the enclosed USB. The password to the enclosed password-protected USB is "FairHydro17". Additional batches will be provided to you as they become available. The Ministry has thus far spent $41,775.75 on preparing these materials and does not intend to spend more than $60,000 on this request.

Some of the documents included on the USB contain information that is subject to solicitor-client privilege. Some documents have formed part of various submissions to Treasury Board and to Cabinet and are therefore Cabinet confidential. It is not our intention to waive any solicitor-client and/or Cabinet privilege attaching to the disclosed material. However, in light of the urgency of your request, we have not attempted to specifically highlight all such privileged information for you. For this reason, we would appreciate the opportunity to review any of our documents or information that you intend to reproduce publicly in order to identify any privilege concerns.

I assure you that this process remains a high priority for the Ministry. Should you have any questions or would like to discuss further, please feel free to contact Martin Schlaepfer at (416) 326-7688.

Sincerely,

Serge Imbrogno

1. OVERVIEW

Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP (Blakes) retained Navigant Consulting Ltd. (Navigant), for the purpose of informing legal advice from Blakes to the Ontario Ministry of Energy. Blakes retained Navigant to:

1. Evaluate the extent to which clean energy costs are incurred over the same period as clean energy benefits;
2. Establish a methodology to reallocate clean energy costs to fully align with clean energy benefits;
3. Assess the associated refinancing costs; and
4. Develop an adjustment mechanism to account for differences between reallocated costs and actual costs prior to the implementation of the Fair Hydro Act.[1]

This analysis builds off the Navigant report Assessment of the Operability of Clean Energy Assets Post Power Purchase Agreement Expiry ("Asset Life Report"), which evaluated the feasibility of operating clean energy assets such as natural gas, wind, and solar power generation facilities beyond the term of their existing power purchase agreements, and the associated costs. Navigant determined that natural gas facilities in Ontario can operate for 40 years with prudent maintenance and some component replacement. Navigant also determined that wind and solar facilities can operate for 25 years, which can be extended to 50 years with a full repowering investment at the end of year 25.

Ontario ratepayers currently pay for the entire cost of constructing a natural gas, wind, and solar electricity generation asset over the term of their original power purchase agreement, which is generally 20 years. Provincial ratepayers pay for conservation programs in the year the costs are incurred. Similarly, over the period of 2009 to 2014, ratepayers made annual payments associated with the early shutdown of coal fired-generation assets.

However, the benefits associated with the natural gas, wind, and solar electricity generation assets are tied to their full useful life, which extends beyond the term of the original power purchase agreement. Similarly, the benefits associated with conservation and the early retirement of coal-fired electricity generation assets are tied to the avoided electricity generation and the avoided emissions, respectively. These benefits occur over the entire life of the conservation measures and the expected remaining life of retired coal-fired generation assets.

[1] Clean energy costs and clean energy benefits are as defined in the Fair Hydro Act, 2017.

2. REALLOCATION METHODOLOGY

The Fair Hydro Act allows for the reallocation of clean energy costs to 2047. As a result, Navigant's methodology only considers clean energy costs incurred between 2005 and the earlier of a clean energy assets end of life or 2047.

Navigant's methodology includes five major components.

1. Status Quo Costs

Develop a schedule of status quo costs for individual assets or groups of assets with similar characteristics (i.e. contract price, first year of operation, technology, fuel-type). The status quo clean energy costs include power purchase agreement payments, as well as ongoing operations and maintenance costs and repowering costs beyond the term of the power purchase agreement.

Determine the total cost associated with an individual asset or group of assets in the status quo from its commercial operation date, or the date the investment was made, until the earlier of the asset's end of life or 2047.

2. Fair Allocation Curve without Interest

Reallocate the total cost evenly over each year the asset is operational, or providing a clean energy benefit. Note this step assumes that costs can be reallocated without incurring additional debt or financing costs. The total cost in each year across all the clean energy assets is the fair allocation curve without interest costs ("FAC w/ No Interest Cost").

3. Debt Schedule and Interest Costs

In each year, the difference between the total status quo clean energy costs and the fair allocation curve without interest amount, represents the annual borrowing requirement (in early years) or principal repayment (in later years) associated with the reallocation of costs.

4. Fair Allocation Curve with Interest

The annual interest costs associated with the accumulated debt is added to the fair allocation curve without interest to determine the total cost to be passed through to ratepayers under the reallocation. The sum of the fair allocation amount without interest and the annual interest cost represents the fair allocation curve with interest ("FAC w/ Interest").

5. Fair Allocation Curve with Adjustment Period and Interest

Recognizing that consumers have paid the status quo costs since 2005, establish the amount of overpayment / underpayment that has occurred relative to the fair allocation curve with interest and use this overpayment / underpayment to adjust the fair allocation curve to reflect the targeted reductions eligible consumer costs under the Fair Hydro Act.

3. ESTIMATING THE FAIR ALLOCATION CURVE

3.1 Status Quo Costs

The status quo costs for natural gas, wind, and solar photovoltaic generation resources are based on the terms of each assets' power purchase agreements. These costs were estimated based on known and estimated power purchase agreement prices and estimated production or contracted capacity levels. Following the expiry of the power purchase agreements, the status quo costs include estimated operating and maintenance expenditures and annual costs associated with the financing of any repowering costs.

The status quo costs also include the costs of conservation and demand management programs, and the costs (payments made by ratepayers) associated with the early shutdown of coal fired-generation assets. These costs are based on actual spending levels through 2016 and estimated spending levels through 2047.

As illustrated in the figure below, status quo costs are expected to peak at over CAD $4 billion in the 2020s and then decline in the 2030s as generation resources reach the end of the original term of their power purchase agreements. By the late 2030s repowering investments in wind, and to a lesser extent solar, put upward pressure on status quo costs.

3.2 Fair Allocation Curve without Interest

Total status quo costs incurred between 2005 and 2047 for each asset were reallocated evenly over the useful life of each asset. The reallocation is carried out on an asset by asset or asset group by asset group basis and then aggregated to determine the total province-wide impact. This results in the fair allocation curve without interest.

As illustrated in the figure below, from 2005 to 2029, the status quo is higher than the fair allocation without interest. From 2030 onwards, the status quo is below the fair allocation without interest.

Both the status quo and fair allocation curve without interest ramp up significantly between 2005 and 2020. This is due to the increase in the number and size of clean energy assets, in particular natural gas, wind, and solar generation facilities, which increase to over 14,000 MW by 2020.

3.3 Debt Schedule and Interest Costs

The status quo costs represent existing obligations. Changing the amount of that obligation that is paid by ratepayers annually either results in a requirement to borrow funds to cover an underpayment or a credit of funds to recognize an overpayment.

The difference between the status quo and the fair allocation curve without interest represents annual borrowing requirement (in early years) or principal repayment (in later years) required to finance the reallocation of costs on behalf of Ontario ratepayers.

As debt is accumulated in each year, the interest payments on the accumulated debt can either be passed through to customers or carried forward to future years and increase the level of accumulated debt. Navigant has modeled the impact of the reallocation on the basis that interest payments are passed through to ratepayers in the year they are incurred.

As illustrated in the figure below, accumulated debt increased to approximately CAD $19.5 billion by 2029 and the annual interest payment increases to approximately CAD $875 million over the same period.

At the end of 2047, all debt and interest costs associated with the fair allocation are paid off and ratepayers return to the status quo payment stream starting in 2048.

3.4 Fair Allocation Curve with Interest

Layering the annual interest costs on top of the fair allocation curve without interest results in a fair allocation curve with interest costs. This represents the total reallocated cost in each year to be passed on to Ontario ratepayers.

4. ADJUSTMENTS FOR 2005 TO 2017

This section describes the outcome of the fifth component of the reallocation methodology described above.

Since 2005 ratepayers in Ontario have paid the status quo costs. As illustrated in the figure above, these costs were higher than the fair allocation curve with interest. The accumulated overpayment, including interest to the benefit of ratepayers, from 2005 up to the end of 2016 represents the amount that can be used to achieve the target reduction in eligible consumer costs under the Fair Hydro Act.

4.1 Overpayment Balance

From 2005 to the end of 2016, considering interest accrued on overpayments, ratepayers overpaid relative to the fair allocation with interest by approximately CAD $8 billion. This overpayment balance represents the amount that can be used to achieve the target reduction in eligible consumer costs in 2017 ($1.396 billion), 2018 ($2.189 billion), 2019 ($2.296 billion), 2020 ($2.414 billion) and 2021 ($2.204 billion). At the end of 2021, there remains an overpayment balance of approximately CAD $2 billion. This amount is repaid to customers over the next three years in a manner that limits the year-over-year rate increase. By the end of 2023 the overpayment balance is completely depleted.

4.2 Adjusted Debt Schedule and Interest Costs

The fact that ratepayers paid the status quo costs from 2005 through 2016, and the overpayment balance will be used to provide deeper reductions in eligible consumer costs between 2017 and 2022 changes the debt schedule and interest costs relative to the fair allocation described earlier in this report.

No incremental debt was accumulated through 2016, because ratepayers paid the status quo costs. From 2017 to 2024, incremental debt will accumulate faster as the overpayment balance is depleted. Over the period where the overpayment balance is depleted, interest costs are carried forward to future years and increase the level of accumulated debt[2]. As illustrated in the figure below, starting in 2025, after the adjustment period, both the accumulated debt and the annual interest payments return to the same level as in the fair allocation described earlier in this report.

4.3 Adjusted Fair Allocation Curve

The adjusted fair allocation curve with interest follows the status quo costs through 2016. Starting in 2017, based on the targeted reduction in eligible consumer costs under the Fair Hydro Act, it drops below the unadjusted fair allocation curve with interest. It remains below during the adjustment period until 2025 when the overpayment balance is depleted and the accumulated debt and annual interest costs return to unadjusted levels.

From 2025 onwards the levels of accumulated debt are consistent with the reallocation described earlier in this report and the interest costs are passed through annually to ratepayers. As a result, from 2025 onwards the actual adjusted fair allocation curve with interest is the same as the unadjusted fair allocation curve. This is illustrated in the figure below.

4.4 Net Reduction in Consumer Costs

The difference between the status quo costs and the fair allocation curve with the adjustment period and interest costs represents the annual net reduction (positive) and increase (negative) in eligible consumer costs and is illustrated in the figure below.

1. OVERVIEW

Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP (Blakes) retained Navigant Consulting Ltd. (Navigant), for purposes of informing legal advice from Blakes to the Ontario Ministry of Energy, to determine the feasibility of operating clean energy assets past the original power purchase agreement term and the associated costs. The analysis considered a subset of clean energy assets, namely natural gas, wind, and solar electricity generation facilities under contract with Ontario's Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO).

Two primary questions are addressed in this report.

1) What is the technical feasibility of operating clean energy assets beyond the original twenty-year power purchase agreement term?
2) What are the costs of operating the clean energy assets over their useful life, considering prudent maintenance and repowering expenditures, which would be borne by ratepayers after the twenty-year power purchase agreement term?

Ontario's natural gas-fired electricity generating facilities are expected to operate for 40 years with prudent maintenance and capital expenditure. Ontario's wind and solar electricity generating facilities are expected to operate for 25 years, or 50 years provided they undergo a major repowering (or refurbishment) in and around year 25.

The second question determines the costs, in addition to the payments under the original power purchase agreements that would be borne by Ontario ratepayers if the clean energy assets operated over their entire useful life. These costs cover on-going operations and maintenance, as well as repowering and/or major maintenance as required. A table of important technology assumptions is provided in Table 1-1.

2. TECHNICAL FEASIBILITY OF LIFETIME EXTENSION FOR CLEAN ENERGY ASSETS

This section outlines the assumptions and research underlying the expected lifetimes for the clean energy analysis. It is broken into three subsections, exploring (1) standard practice and experience when planning and designing clean energy assets, (2) the state of the Ontario fleet, and (3) leasing, regulatory, and contract issues associated with lifetime extension. Each of these subsections is further divided between natural gas, wind, and solar assets. The expected lifetimes were formulated using a combination of interviews, literature review, and consulting publicly available and Navigant proprietary databases.

Overall, no significant leasing, regulatory, or contract issues were identified which would limit lifetime extension. Navigant ultimately identified a useful life of forty years for the natural gas assets (with partial repowering in some cases), and a useful life of twenty-five years for solar and wind assets (with another twenty-five years possible after full repowering), after investigating the design and component failure rates and replacement costs for these asset classes.

2.1 Planning and Design Experience

2.1.1 Natural Gas

Power stations utilizing natural gas are most frequently developed assuming a twenty-year life of the plant design, which is often dictated by the terms of commercial contracts. The actual plant life, however, can exceed forty years if the operator follows prudent operations and maintenance (O&M) practices and the recommend repair and replacement intervals for combustion turbine hot section components and balance of plant equipment.

Most recently constructed natural gas power stations in Ontario (and throughout North America) utilize combustion turbines as the prime mover, either in simple cycle or combined cycle configuration. In simple cycle configuration, the combustion turbine directly drives a generator, requiring relatively fewer pieces of equipment, which lowers the cost per kilowatt (kW) of capacity. In combined cycle configuration, the exhaust heat from the combustion turbine is recovered in a heat recovery steam generator which produces steam to drive a steam turbine generator. This maximizes efficiency of the energy conversion of natural gas to electricity, but at a higher installed capacity cost than simple cycle configuration. In addition, some plants in Ontario were designed for co-generation, where a percentage of the steam produced in the combined cycle application is delivered and used in non-electric processes.

The three types of units discussed above, simple cycle, combined cycle and co-generation, have different design parameters. The simple cycle units are fast-starting units that are designed for peaking applications to either stabilize the electrical grid with ancillary services, or to provide energy to the grid during times of high demand. Simple cycle units are typically designed for a low number of starts, less than fifty per year and are generally operated by a small operations staff.

There are 29 combustion turbines at the 16 gas-fired power stations in Ontario, of which the units at thirteen were included in the model analysis (the remainder were in service prior to 2005, the analysis start year). Twenty-six of Ontario's combustion turbines are heavy frame type units and three are aero derivative units. The frame turbines include the Frame 7 series manufactured by General Electric (GE), the 501F/G series manufactured by Siemens/Mitsubishi Heavy Industries (MHI), and the GT11 series manufactured by Alstom. The three aero derivative turbines are all versions of the LM6000 turbine

Source: SNL, ABB Energy Velocity, and Navigant Analysis

The major maintenance and combustion turbine parts purchases are covered under long-term service agreements or contractual service agreements with the original equipment manufacturer. These agreements are very specific and require that the combustion turbines be stopped and maintenance be conducted at the required intervals specified by the manufactures.

Combined cycle units were initially envisioned in the early 1990's as baseload power stations, however over time they changed to mid-merit units that assume load when renewable generation drops off and during periods of high demand. Though slower to start than simple cycle units, combined cycle units can still be brought online quickly to provide larger amounts of energy to the grid than simple cycle units. Given the mid-merit dispatch of these units, combined cycle units are typically designed to start between 150-250 times per year.

Co-generation units are highly efficient and either deliver part of the steam from the heat recovery steam generator to a steam host, or in the case of combined heat and power units, use the steam to generate hot water or cold water for various heating and/or cooling applications. Co-generation units are typically designed for baseload operations (less than 10 starts per year) to serve the steam host, and can meet the steam demand while fluctuating the amount of power generated.

Over the last 15 years the rate of natural gas fired power station development has increased due to lower natural gas prices, environmental regulations (including $CO_2$ reduction mandates), and the increasing value of flexibility for renewable generation firming. With the growing penetration of renewable energy sources in the Ontario market Navigant has observed that natural gas stations have shifted from principally being dispatched during the day time to cover peak loads to being principally dispatched to firm renewable energy and maintain reliability during periods when wind and solar power plants drop off.

As units reach the end of their power purchase agreements (usually 20 years), they have many lifetime extension options available. As mentioned, combustion turbines can operate for 40 years if proper operations and maintenance practices have been followed. Most combustion turbines have a major inspection that is required on the turbine rotors at either 200,000 factored fired hours/equivalent base hours or 5000 factored starts. The rotor is pulled, disassembled, and inspected to determine if there has been damage to the turbine wheels; when this is complete the rotors are reassembled and can be certified for another 100,000 hours of operations. Given the dispatch regime of units analysed, most the units did not reach this milestone during the first 20 years of operation, and some units did not require it over a forty-year operating life. The heat recovery steam generators can also be operated for more than 20 years with proper repairs and replacement of components in the heat affected zones, the super-heater sections, and high flow rate areas such as the economizer. Steam turbines and generators also have expected lives of at least 40 years if the proper maintenance and inspections are conducted at the recommended intervals.

Given the concurrent expected life of 40 years for combustion turbines, steam turbines, and generators Navigant believes a general expected life of 40 years for natural gas plants is appropriate. Section 2.1.4.1 discusses in more detail current state of Ontario's natural gas fleet to determine if the general expected life is a reasonable assumption.

2.1.2 Wind

Until recently, wind plants were generally built with an expected operational life of 20 years. Today, many wind project developers have increased the expected operational life to 25 or even 30 years. This increase in the expected operational life of wind plants is reflective of reliability improvements in key components such as gearboxes, and that repairs and replacements to components can extend longevity of a wind plant.

The lifetime expectancy of individual components within a wind plant vary widely. The towers are mostly steel and last 50 to 100 years. The foundations and cables have similar lifetimes. The gearboxes generally last 5 to 7 years and therefore are replaced twice on average over a 20 year period. Lastly, blades generally last 10 to 12 years and therefore are replaced once on average over a 20 year period.

Furthermore, the accuracy of wind plant forecasts has improved over time. In the early years of the industry, plants consistently underperformed compared to forecasts of availability, reliability, and cost. More recently, cost and reliability forecasts have become more accurate due to technology advancements in manufacturing and operation of wind turbine components as well as the wealth of industry experience that is now available for forecasting purposes.

Most wind plants have decommissioning plans in place, as required either by lenders or leaseholder agreements. These plans generally call for complete removal of the equipment and reclamation of the land for a suitable use. However, most owners expect that the wind turbines will be either be refurbished (replaced with similar components) or fully repowered (replaced with larger components) at least once prior to the ultimate removal of equipment.

Given that core equipment components are likely to be replaced at least once during the first 20-years of operation of a facility and that typical planning and investment decisions are based on an assumed 25-year operation life, Navigant believes the general expected useful life for a wind facility is 25 years. Section 2.1.4.2 discusses in more detail current state of Ontario's wind resources to determine if the general expected life is a reasonable assumption.

2.1.3 Solar

Solar facilities in Ontario have 20-year power purchase agreements, obtained through either the renewable energy standard offer program (RESOP), feed-in-tariff (FIT) or large renewable procurement

(LRP) programs. Twenty-year power purchase agreement terms are typical in the US and other markets, although some can be for less than 20 years.

Several public and private tools have become available to forecast production over the lifetime of a solar asset. Performance of solar facilities relies on key inputs such as system capacity, configuration (fixed tilt vs. single-axis or dual-axis tracker technology) and location. These forecasting models also account for losses due to shading and snow, as well as DC/AC losses. Over time, these models have become more sophisticated and more accurate, resulting in generation experience being consistent with planning assumptions.

As photovoltaic module technology progresses, the technical lifespan of panels has increased from 20 to 25 years, and even 30 years for more advanced models. The lifespan of other components has improved at a slower rate. Ground-mount racking is typically constructed of galvanized steel and aluminium with a 20-year warranty from the manufacturer. Standard warranties for inverters are typically 10 years in duration (an increase from the historical 5 years) with extended options available at extra cost. The technical lifetime for system wiring is typically 12 years. Therefore, inverters and wiring are replaced at least once on average over a 20-year lifetime.

Today, many solar project developers have increased the expected operational life to 25 years for planning and investment decisions. Decommissioning usually doesn't include equipment reuse, as the second set of inverters and wiring would be near end of life and panel technology is advancing quickly enough that it would likely not be reused either.

Given that core equipment components, such as inverters and wiring, are likely to be replaced at least once during the first 20-years of operation of a facility, and that the expected lifespan of the panels has increased along with the typical expected operational life for planning and investment decisions to 25-years, Navigant believed the general expected useful life for a solar facility is 25 years. Section 2.1.4.3 discusses in more detail current state of Ontario's solar fleet to determine if the general expected life is a reasonable assumption.

2.1.4 Current State of Operating Fleet

2.1.4.1 Natural Gas

A total of 16 natural gas-fired power plants located in Ontario were evaluated with a total installed capacity of 7,291 MW. Of these, 13 plants were considered in this analysis as the remainder of the natural gas fired plants were in service prior to 2005. Most plants were combined cycle but some were also co-generation or simple cycle. The plants had installed capacities ranging from 73 MW to 1,005 MW, with the average installed capacity being 456 MW. The distribution of the natural gas-fired power plants by installed capacity can be seen in Figure 2-2 below.

The average age of the gas-fired plants was nine years, with the oldest being the Cardinal Power Plant which is 23 years old and the newest being the Nappanee Generating Station which is under construction with a milestone commercial operation date of December 2018. Most plants have been in service for under 10 years, as shown in Figure 2-3 below.

The net capacity factors for the different type of gas-fired power plants in Ontario have trended downward. Combined cycle units achieved a peak capacity factor in 2007, when there were only two units in commercial operation, of 52%. As more units came online after 2008 the net capacity factor dropped to the mid 20% range and rose through 2012 to 34%. Since 2012, however, the net capacity factor has shown a downward trend as demonstrated in Figure 2-4. Capacity factors have declined in recent years due to renewable builds, the return of some nuclear generating stations to service, low provincial load growth, and reduced power prices in neighbouring jurisdictions. These factors have been partially offset by the retirement of Ontario's coal fleet, but reduced capacity factors in the later years of those stations limited the upside for the natural gas-fired fleet.

Cogeneration units have also shown a similar trend in capacity factors. From 2004 through 2012, the capacity factor was almost flat at around 50%; however, since 2012, the net capacity factor has shown a steep decline to 9% in 2016 as shown in Figure 2-5 below.

Source: ABB Energy Velocity

Given the relatively low utilization of the Ontario gas fleet as measured by capacity factor, starts, and hours of operation, Navigant estimates that the plants have a dependable life of 40 years, with a few plants requiring a major rotor replacement, mostly past year 25, over the 40-year life.

2.1.4.2 Wind

The following is a profile of the wind fleet in Ontario as of year-end 2016.

- Number of Plants and MW. There were 656 wind plants in operation in Ontario with a total capacity of 4,751 MW.
- Size Distribution. As shown on the left side of Figure 2-7 below, the most common wind plant size in Ontario is 81-100 MW, with 27% of wind plants, followed by the 21-40 MW segment with 14% of wind plants. On a MW capacity basis, the right side of Figure 2-7 below shows that the >200 MW is the largest segment with 21% of total MW, followed by the 101-150 MW segment with 19% of total MW.

- Age Distribution. As shown on the left side of Figure 2-8 below, 2015 saw the highest amount of new wind capacity, when 1,250 MW of capacity was brought online. Fifteen plants with 557 wind turbine generators were started up in Ontario in 2015.
- Location. As shown on the right side of Figure 2-8 below, the West and Southwest zones (as defined by Ontario's Independent Electricity System Operator) had the most wind power capacity, with 29% and 27% of installations, respectively.

- Wind Turbine OEM Market Share. As shown on the left side of Figure 2-9 below, the winter turbine generator market in Ontario is relatively concentrated, with 74% of the market controlled by the top 4 suppliers: Siemens (37%), GE (23%), Vestas (10%), and Enercon (4%).
- Wind Plant Owner Market Share. As shown on the right side of Figure 2-9 below, the wind plant ownership market in Ontario is relatively dispersed, with only 53% of the market controlled by the top 10 owners. The leading owners are TransAlta Utilities (12%), NextEra Energy (11%), and Pattern Energy (10%).

- Net Capacity Factor. As shown on the left side of Figure 2-10 below, the average net capacity factor for wind plants in Ontario was 29% in 2016. This value is slightly lower than the 2012 peak of 36% but considerably higher than the 2006 average of 17%. The slight reduciton since 2012 may be due to lower winds, increased curtailment due to transmission constraints, or the impact of a few smaller plants with lower net capacity factors starting up in 2014.

  The right side of Figure 2-10 below shows average 2016 net capacity factors for wind plants in Ontario by vintage (commercial operation year). The trend is generally upwards, meaning that newer wind plants generally have higher net capacity factors compared to their older counterparts. The average 2016 net capacity factors for plants that started up in 2016 was 37%, considerably higher than any other vintage.

Source: ABB Energy Velocity

- Plant Condition and Operations and Maintenance Practices. Wind plants in North America typically have winter turbine generator warranties in place for the first two to five years of operation. During the warranty period maintenance is typically performed by the wind turbine generator vendor. When maintenance is performed by an operator other than the original equipment manufacturer, the operator will follow the original equipment manufacturer's maintenance practices as required to maintain the warranty. Most wind plants are therefore usually in excellent condition for the first two to five years of operation regardless of the operator. Two-thirds of the Ontario fleet have been in operation five years or less, so the average Ontario wind plant is generally in very good condition.

Given the age, operating condition, and general maintenance practices at most of Ontario's wind fleet, Navigant estimates that the plants have a dependable life of 25 years.

2.1.4.3 Solar

The following is the profile of Ontario's solar fleet as of year-end 2016 (of systems 10 MW or greater):

- Number of Plants and MW. There were a total of 75 solar ground-mounted systems (10 MW or greater) in operation in Ontario with a total capacity of 1,010 MW.
- Age Distribution. The left side of Figure 2-11 below shows the introduction of solar capacity over time starting in 2012. The year 2014 saw the highest capacity and number of installations. The average age of the fleet is 3.3 years.

- Size Distribution. As shown in the right side of Figure 2-11 below, the most common solar system size in Ontario is 10 MW, which was the cap for projects under the Feed-in Tariff program, except for the Samsung projects which are 100 MWs in size, and some of the Large Renewable Procurement projects.

- Photovoltaic Module Supplier Market Share. As shown on the left side of Figure 2-13 below, the module market in Ontario is relatively concentrated, with 54% of the market controlled by the top supplier, Canadian Solar. 22% percent of the market has SunEdison panels (SunEdison filed for bankruptcy protection in the US in April 2016 and the company's Canadian unit filed for bankruptcy in October 2016). Other suppliers include Celestica (which is shutting down their solar manufacturing division in 2017), Suntech Power, Hanwha, and Photowatt.
- Solar System Owner Market Share. The right side of Figure 2-13 below shows the 10 owners with the highest solar operating capacity in Ontario. Samsung owns the largest portion of the operating fleet at 23%. Northland Power and Axium Infrastructure own the second and third largest in terms of capacity respectively.

- Net Capacity Factor. The average net capacity factor of the operating solar fleet in Ontario according to data from Ontario's Independent Elctricity System Operator is 16.3% (based on MW-AC). The relatively high capacity factor in the past three years is due to a higher overbuild ratio (on the range of 20% to 40%, the latter in more recent years), driven by the drop in panel prices. The capacity factor for new solar installations can be increased via higher DC-AC oversizing or introduction of axis tracker technology.

| Year | Capacity Factor (based on MW-AC) |
| 2014 | 15.4% |
| 2015 | 17.4% |
| 2016 | 16.0% |
| Average | 16.3% |

Source: IESO

- System Condition. As most operating systems are under five years old, key components have not experienced much degradation, if any at all.
- Operations and Maintenance Practices. Preventative and reactive maintenance for ground-mounted solar systems usually includes panel cleaning, snow removal, lawn mowing and periodic verification of wiring and support integrity. Operations and maintenance costs are only projected to increase with escalation in labour and other material costs. Inverter replacement requires additional costs and is usually offered by the inverter manufacturer. Standard warranties are five to 10 years, with options to purchase extended warranties upfront (e.g., 20-year extended warranty).

Some companies that provide operations and maintenance services for utility-scale solar systems in Ontario include SMA, First Solar, Inc., SunEdison, NextEra Energy Canada ULC, SunPower, Canadian Solar, Inc., Enfinity, Northland Power, Inc., and EDF Renewable Energy, Inc.

Given the age, operating conditions, and standard maintenance practices of most of Ontario's existing solar fleet, Navigant estimates that the solar assets have a dependable life of 25 years.

2.1.5 Component Failure Rates and Operating Life

2.1.5.1 Natural Gas

The generation performance and failure rate data of natural gas-fired plants is not publicly available and is generally held confidential by plant owners. It is reasonable to assume that performance and failure rates for Ontario plants will be like those of plants in Navigant's Generation Knowledge Services (GKS) database. The GKS database contains a broad and growing user and unit mix and currently has over 2,400 generating units representing over 527 GW of capacity, of which over 135 GW consists of simple cycle combustion turbines and combined cycle combustion turbine units.

The following metrics were used in evaluating the Equivalent Availability Factor (EAF) and Equivalent Forced Outage Rate (EFOR), which are reasonable estimates of the performance of Ontario's gas fleet:

AH = Available Hours
EUNDH = Equivalent Unit Derated Hours
ESDH = Equivalent Seasonal Derated Hours
PH = Period Hours

$$EFOR = \left( \frac{FOH + EFDH}{SH + FOH + ERSFDH} \right) \times 100$$

EFOR = Equivalent Forced Outage Rate
FOH = Forced Outage Hours

EFDH = Equivalent Forced Derated Hours
SH = Service Hours
ERSFDH = Equivalent Reserve Shutdown Forced Derated Hours

Based on the operating data for the Ontario gas-fired fleet, a peer group was developed that would be representative of the Ontario units, which was combined cycle units that were between 150 and 1,000 MW with a net capacity factor of between 10 to 40%. From that database, the median for units were as listed in Table 2-2 below.

Table 2-2 NCF, EAF and EFOR for Ontario Wind Fleet

| | NCF | EAF | EFOR |
|---|---|---|---|
| Median | 26.16% | 83.94% | 4.11% |

Source: Navigant

The largest contributor to the EFOR rate was the steam turbine, which caused 11,688 forced outage hours, followed by the combustion turbines with 6,243 hours and the balance of plant (BOP) with 4291 hours. The combustion turbines and BOP contributed to a larger number of events, however (these tended to be of shorter duration than steam turbine events). This is demonstrated in Table 2-3 below.

Table 2-3 Breakdown of EFOR for Ontario Gas Fleet

| Component | Total Hours | Percentage | Total Number of Events | Percentage |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Boiler | 758 | 3% | 74 | 9% |
| Steam Generator | 11,688 | 47% | 142 | 17% |
| Generator | 944 | 4% | 53 | 6% |
| Balance of Plant | 4,291 | 17% | 194 | 23% |
| Combustion Turbine | 6,243 | 25% | 284 | 33% |
| Other | 1,179 | 5% | 110 | 13% |

Source: Navigant

The highest number of steam turbine forced outage hours were due to events on the low-pressure turbine at 5,742 hours and the high-pressure turbine at 1,197 hours. This is due to the time required for system cool down and to remove and reinstall casings. The control system had the largest number of events (49) but only contributed to a few forced outage hours (256), as control system issues are normally very fast to resolve. A summary of the causes of forced outages due to the steam turbine is provided in Table 2-4.

Table 2-4 Breakdown of EFOR for Ontario Steam Turbines

| Steam Turbine | Total Hours | Percentage | Total Number of Events | Percentage |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| High Pressure Turbine | 1,197 | 14% | 10 | 7% |
| Low Pressure Turbine | 5,742 | 69% | 21 | 15% |
| Valves | 50 | 1% | 24 | 17% |
| Lube Oil | 8 | 0% | 8 | 6% |
| Controls | 256 | 3% | 49 | 35% |

The combustion turbine outages were driven by issues with the fuel and combustion system (2,634 hours over 120 events), as demonstrated in Table 2-5 below. This was principally due to dry low NOx combustion system issues and component failures.

Balance of plant issues contributed to 17% of the total outage hours. The largest number were caused by issues with the electrical system (2,068 hours over 55 events). Issues with the condensate system and feed water systems were also important as shown in Table 2-6 below.

The heat recovery boilers and generators only accounted for a total of 7% of all outage hours with the generator accounting for 944 outage hours and the boiler accounted for 758 hours. The largest driver on the heat recovery boiler was tube leaks, while the generator was driven by a combination of cooling system and exciter issues.

While component failure rates increase with the age and use of natural gas plants, and heat rate degradation will tend to make the plants less completive in energy markets over time, plants following the proper maintenance and replacement regimes as outlined in section 2.1.1 should be able to continue operating over their forty-year expected life with acceptable outage rates.

2.1.5.2 Wind

Wind plant performance and failure rate data is not publicly available and is generally held confidential by plant owners. However, it is reasonable to assume that Ontario wind plants will have performance and failure rates similar to those of wind plants in Navigant's Generation Knowledge Service (GKS) wind database (Ontario has a slightly newer fleet, and fewer mid-size plants than the GKS averages, but they are similar overall). The GKS wind database includes data from approximately 8 GW of capacity from a variety of turbine models, plant sizes, ages, and operations and maintenance contract types. The vast majority, 95%, of the MW capacity in Navigant's GKS database is in North America. Figure 2-14 shows the database distribution by plant size and age, which is similar to the size and age distribution of Ontario's wind fleet.

The following are median values of selected performance metrics in the GKS wind database, which are reasonable estimates of performance of the Ontario wind fleet:

- Availability. The most common measure of availability used in the wind industry is equipment equivalent availability factor (EEAF). EEAF does not penalize the plant for hours when there is no wind. Median EEAF = 95.6%.

$$EEAF = \frac{[PDTH - (FTH + MTH + PTH)]}{PDTH} \times 100$$

  - PDTH = Period Turbine-Hours = (total hours in the period) *(number of turbines)
  - FTH = Forced Turbine-Hours = (forced outage hours per turbine) *(number of turbines)
  - MTH = Maintenance Turbine-Hours = (maintenance outage hours per turbine) *(number of turbines)
  - PTH = Planned Turbine-Hours = (planned outage hours per turbine) *(number of turbines)

- Forced Outage Rate. The most common measure of forced outage rate used in the wind industry is equipment equivalent forced outage rate (EEFOR). Median EEFOR = 2.7%.

$$EEFOR = \frac{FTH}{(CTH + FTH + RUTH)} \times 100$$

  - CTH = Contact Turbine-Hours
  - RUTH = Resource Unavailable Turbine-Hours

- Major Failures. Navigant defines major failures as events which either (a) require a crane to repair or replace a system or (b) require the replacement of a major component within a system, resulting in a cost greater than 5% of the installed cost of the turbine. Table 2-7 below is a summary of average major failure rates in the GKS wind database, both for the most recent benchmark year (2015) and the cumulative rate for the life of the plant. Also, shown in the far-right column of Table 2-7 below are industry average failure rates as reported in a 2013 United States National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL) study.[1]

- 2015 Major Failure Rate = (# of Major Failures in 2015) / (# units)
- Cumulative Major Failure Rate = (# of Major Failures through 2015) / (# units) / (years since COD)

Table 2-7 Major Failure Rates by System

| System | 2015 Major Failure Rate | Cumulative Major Failure Rate | Industry Average Failure Rate |
|---|---|---|---|
| Blade | 0.2% | 0.5% | 0.67% |
| Gearbox | 1.1% | 1.3% | 5.0% |

While component failure rates do increase with age, the plants continue to maintain acceptable operating profiles over the course of their identified useful life (albeit with capacity factor degradation and operations and maintenance cost escalation). Beyond the identified useful life, the plants would see accelerated component failures which eventually make continued operation untenable (see section 3.1.1.2).

2.1.5.3 Solar

The operating life of solar systems is usually monitored by the system owner. In the solar industry, the rate at which the system is fully functioning (and available to generate power) expressed as a function of the total time considered, is referred to as the availability rate. For solar, the availability rate is relatively high, approximately 98% to 99%[2], compared to other technologies. This is because components are connected in strings, meaning that should something fail, only a single string or portion of the system will experience an outage, while the rest of the system continues to generate power. It is unlikely for all to fail at once.

- Panels most often experience an outage or failure due to coverage (snow, soiling, or other shading) or a wiring fault. However, the way panels are connected electrically, when one stops generating power, the others continue.
- Inverters for utility-scale systems are usually 1 MW. For a 10 MW system, the typical design is ten (10) 1 MW inverters. This means that if an inverter fails, only one-tenth of the system would power down. Inverters typically last 10-12 years, but it is possible that an outage can occur sooner than that.
- Racking systems are typically tested and rated to handle expected snow and wind loads plus a factor of safety. Therefore, the warranty from the manufacturer covers damage from these occurrences. Should the structural integrity of the racking system be compromised, it is again likely that only the module(s) related to one string would need to be taken offline to repair, not the whole solar system.

[1] NREL, Lantz, E., Operations Expenditures: Historical Trends and Continuing Challenges, 2013

[2] DBRS reported that the independent engineer for the 100 MW (AC) Kingston Solar project assumed inverter availability of 99%.

- Wiring is required to be protected up to codes and standards to limit the potential for damages.

Overall, it is unlikely that the component failure rates would cause an unacceptable operating profile for the solar fleet over a 25-year operating lifespan.

2.2 Leasing, Regulatory, and Contract Issues

2.2.1 Leasing Structure

When constructing a natural gas-fired power station it is typical for the owner to purchase the land that is used for the site. All the natural gas-fired plant owners that Navigant could interview owned the site land; therefore, no leasing issues were identified that would adversely impact the expected useful life of 40 years.

The terms of land leases for wind plants vary. The minimum length is 20 years, but up to 50 year leases are not unusual. In most cases, there will be an option for the plant owners to extend the lease for an additional 15 years or more. Leases are contracts between the plant owners and landowners, and they are generally written to be more favourable to the plant owners. For example, plant owners can typically construct, erect, use, install, reinstall, replace, relocate, maintain, and remove equipment from time to time, without limitation. No approvals to modify or extend leases are needed by local jurisdictions, community, or aboriginal partners, unless they have such approval rights due to having partial ownership in the wind plant. Navigant did not identify any leasing issues that would adversely impact the expected useful life of 25 years for wind assets or any further investments to extend asset life beyond 25 years.

Most solar farms larger than 10 MW are sited on farmland and have a minimum 20-year lease. Some may go as high as 50 years and/or there might be options to extend the lease. Counterparties include private landowners, First Nations, and municipalities. Leases usually have two cost components as follows: (1) a fixed component and (2) a variable component where the variable component is equal to a percentage of revenue generated from the asset (e.g., 3%). No leases require third party approvals such as local jurisdictions, community, or aboriginal partners, unless those parties are partial owners in the project. Navigant did not identify any leasing issues that would adversely impact the expected useful life of 25 years for solar assets or any further investments to extend life beyond 25 years.

2.2.2 Regulatory Issues

No regulatory issues were identified that would adversely impact the expected useful life of natural gas, wind and solar plants of 40 years, 25 years and 25 years respectively.

For partial repowering of wind plants (replacing the drive train and rotor with similar size components), regulatory approvals would generally not be required. The noise profile of the new turbine will generally be less (quieter) than the original turbine and therefore would not need to be remodelled. The rotor diameter will typically be the same as the original in a partial repowering, so a revised permit for increased tip height generally will not be needed. One wind plant owner reported having a permit from the municipality that includes a road allowance for the distribution lines. The city can impose reasonable conditions but cannot generally deny an extension of the permit.

Regulatory approvals would likely be required for full repowering of wind plants (replacing the turbines with larger components). Existing building and operating permits would generally not cover the significant construction work and changes in plant configuration that is associated with full repowering. However, repowering could offer the possibility for expedited permitting because development is occurring at a previously permitted site and these sites have a much longer record of accomplishment of historical environmental data. Existing plants also tend to have increased local familiarity, which might also facilitate the permitting process. On the other hand, if endangered species are found to be in the proximity or other environmental damage has occurred, permitting would likely be more complex and drawn out, or local siting requirements may become more stringent over time.

While some regulatory approvals are required to repower wind assets to extend their life beyond 25 years, Navigant does not believe that they pose insurmountable risks to such investments. Navigant did not identify any regulatory issues that would adversely impact repowering for natural gas and solar plants to extend their useful life beyond 40 years and 25 years respectively.

3. COST OF LIFETIME EXTENSION AND REPOWERING

This section outlines the costs of lifetime extension that would be borne by ratepayers. After considering the various options available, Navigant determined that a full repowering of the wind and solar fleet after 25 years of operation, and partial repowering as needed for the natural gas fleet as the most cost-effective repowering options.

3.1 Repowering and Extension Options

3.1.1 Life Cycle of Plants under Normal Operations and Maintenance

3.1.1.1 Natural Gas

As discussed previously, a combustion turbine power plant can operate for at least 40 years if the owner follows prudent operating practices and recommended outage schedules for the combustion turbine, generator, steam turbine and heat recovery boiler. In general, the operations and maintenance for natural gas-fired plants will increase with the escalation terms within the service contracts for the associated equipment.

Combustion turbine outages are driven by the hot section and combustion components. Manufactures have improved this technology so outages are now not required until either 24,000 factored fired hours or 900 factored starts are reached. When the hot section components are removed, they can be repaired from two to four times depending on the component and the manufacture's recommendations.

Electrical generators and steam turbines are generally linked to scheduled inspection intervals of six years or 48,000 operating hours. Following best practices, owners and operators have managed to extend those intervals to between 10-12 years or 80,000 to 96,000 operating hours.

Heat recovery steam generators with proper maintenance have operated for 15-20 years without major capex being spent. Replacement parts are most commonly needed in the heat-affected zones of the super-heaters or the high flow areas of the economizers.

Maintenance spending increases with the number of starts of a combined cycle power plant. As discussed earlier, units are now designed for 150-250 starts per year. This spending is normally associated with balance of plant equipment and does not materially impact the overall cost of operations.

Depending on the operating profile of the facility, reliable operations after 20 years would most likely require capital expenditures for the heat recovery steam generators, electrical generators, steam turbines and combustion turbines. If no investments are made it would be expected that the units would suffer from forced outages and decreased availability.

Section 3.1.2.1 discusses the repowering costs associated with natural gas plants and evaluates them against their benefits to determine the most cost effective option at the end of life.

3.1.1.2 Wind

As previously discussed, the physical lifetime of a wind plant is generally considered to be 25 years. Historically an assumption of 20 years was used in analyses to match the financial life, but an increasing number of plant owners are using 25 years due to technological advancements that have led to improvements in plant reliability and longevity.

If a wind plant were to continue to be operated beyond the physical lifetime without significant investment, operations and maintenance costs would increase at an accelerated rate and availability would drop at an accelerated rate as wind plants generally have a capacity factor degradation of about 1.6% per year making this option less attractive financially. Ultimately the plant owners will conclude that operating the plant as is has less value than other options such as full repowering, partial repowering, and decommissioning, which are discussed further in Section 3.1.2.2.

3.1.1.3 Solar

As previously discussed, the physical lifetime of a ground-mounted solar photovoltaic system is 25 years. The modules and racking typically come with 10-year product warranty (defects in materials and workmanship) and a 25-year performance warranty. Inverters typically have a 10-year product warranty and last 10-12 years. Wiring typically lasts 10-12 years. Therefore, inverters and wiring would need to be replaced at least once on average over a 25-year lifetime.

If a solar system was to continue to be operated beyond the physical lifetime without significant investment, operations and maintenance costs would remain the same, only increasing with inflation and the price of any material costs involved in maintenance. Replacement of inverters and wiring are separate from general operations and maintenance and would require minimal investment. Inverters do typically fail after year 10 so most installers opt into an extended warranty where available, which is an upfront cost at the time of installation. With the standard warranty the cost of the inverter would just be incurred later, at the time of the replacement.

Photovoltaic modules, and therefore, systems, are projected to degrade by 0.5% each year, which is usually how the capacity factor and system performance is forecasted at the time of installation. The capacity factor of the system can be determined based on the number of years since the components were replaced. If a solar system operated beyond the useful life of 25 years, the capacity factor of year 26 would be that much lower than if a whole new system were installed in its place. Section 0 discusses evaluates the costs and benefits associated with options available at the end of life such as full repowering, partial repowering, and decommissioning.

3.1.2 Cost of Repowering for Lifetime Extension

3.1.2.1 Natural Gas

As discussed above the limiting factor on the combustion turbine would be the turbine rotor that requires a major inspection and potential replacement of turbine wheel at 200,000 factored hours or 5,000 factored starts. The rotor must be removed and sent to a qualified repair shop for disassembly, inspection and repair and/or replacement of the rotor disks. In addition, there would likely be requirements for replacement of super-heater or economizer sections of the heat recovery steam generators.

The costs for the turbine life extension would be in the range of CAD$16M for the inspection and repair/replacement of hot section components. The other work required on the heat recovery steam generators would be in the range of CAD$4M.

The balance of plant equipment would normally be covered during the routine maintenance at the facility. This would include the rebuilding or replacement of pumps, including the boiler feed pumps, and the repair and replacement of motors. It would also include the replacement of any catalysts that are required for emissions control. Steam turbines and electrical generators should be able to operate for the life of the plant with routine inspections and maintenance, assuming there are no incidents with the equipment.

The total repowering costs of a natural gas plant is approximately $20M which is a fraction of the cost of shuttering the plant and building a new one to replace the capacity. According the U.S. Energy Information Administration,[3] the cost of a new natural gas combustion turbine is $1,100/kW meaning that a 100 MW plant would cost $110M. Hence, a partial repowering as needed for gas plants is the most cost efficient option when the asset reaches end of life.

3.1.2.2 Wind

Wind plant owners generally have three options when a plant reaches the end of its useful life.

- Full repowering, which is defined as the complete dismantling and replacement of turbine equipment, including the tower and foundation. With full repowering, some of the existing project infrastructure (e.g., roads, buildings, and interconnection equipment) is assumed to be utilized in the new project. There is also the potential to offset repowering costs by recycling or selling the older equipment.
- Partial repowering, which is defined as installing a new similar sized drivetrain and rotor on an existing tower. Some peripheral components, such as the power convertors and electronics, may also be replaced. Partial repowering allows existing wind power projects to be updated with equipment that increases energy production, reduces machine loads, increases grid service capabilities, and improves project reliability.
- Decommissioning, when the plant is fully disassembled and the land is returned to its original use. The equipment is sold for reuse or scrapped.

Repowering (either full or partial) is a major undertaking that requires substantial capital investment and planning, similar to the development of the original facility. The major benefits of repowering are increased plant availability, the return of operations and maintenance costs to normal levels, and an extended plant lifetime. Performance improvements associated with partial repowering are assumed to be less than under full repowering but greater than the original design of the machine.

Navigant's costs of repowering were developed from a case study of a wind plant with the following characteristics of an average wind plant in the current Ontario fleet:

- 40 Siemens 2.3 MW WTGs, with a total plant capacity of 92 MW;
- Commercial Operation Date and Year 1 of operations in 2015;

Three scenarios were considered:

- decommissioning the plant after 25 years of operation in 2040;
- full repowering after 25 years in 2040, followed by decommissioning after an additional 25 years in 2065.

- partial repowering after 25 years in 2040, followed by decommissioning after an additional 25 years in 2065.

Table 3-1 summarizes the key assumptions of the case study. Capital and operations and maintenance cost assumptions are from a 2013 NREL repowering study,[4] escalated to 2017 USD at 2.5% per year and converted to CAD at a rate of 1.35 CAD = 1 USD. All operations and maintenance costs were converted to fixed operations and maintenance for modelling purposes. Fully repowered plants are assumed to have slightly lower (5%) total installed capital costs because of the ability to reuse or repurpose existing equipment. Partial repowering is estimated to result in an approximately 15% lower capital cost because of reusing existing equipment including towers and foundations. In all scenarios, it is assumed that decommissioning cost (occurring in year 26) equals the resale or scrap value of the components (i.e., net zero cost).

Net capacity factor assumptions are based on projections from NREL's 2016 Annual Technology Baseline report, but are benchmarked to average Ontario fleet values from Ontario's Independent Electricity System Operator. Larger rotors and taller towers, along with other technological advancements, have resulted in significant increases in net capacity factors for utility-scale wind plants over the past 15 years. These advancements are expected to continue for the foreseeable future, albeit at a slower pace. Net capacity factors for this case study is assumed to be 37% for full repowering in 2040, which is a 5% improvement over the initial 32% net capacity factor in 2015, reflecting the technological advancements that are expected during this 25-year period. As defined here, partial repowering was estimated to achieve about 50% of the energy production improvements associated with full repowering.

As can be seen from Table 3-1 below, the fixed and variable operations and maintenance costs are the same in all cases. The capital costs for full repowering are slightly lower than the original plant cost and only 12% higher compared to partial repowering but deliver double the energy production improvements compared to partial repowering, as stated in the study. Hence, a full repowering at the end of the original asset life of 25 years is the most cost effective alternative.

3.1.2.3 Solar

Similar to wind assets, three scenarios were considered:

- decommissioning the plant after 25 years of operation,
- full repowering after 25 years, followed by decommissioning after an additional 25 years.
- partial repowering after 25 years, followed by decommissioning after an additional 25 years in 2065.

As mentioned in Section 3.1.1.3, to extend the life cycle of a ground-mounted solar photovoltaic system the major pieces of equipment that would need to be replaced are the inverters and the wiring. These two components have a technical lifetime of 10-12 years and so they are replaced at least once in a 25-year lifetime. The expected operating life after replacement of the inverters and wiring would be another 10-12 years.

Attention should also be paid to the lifetime and replacement cost of the solar photovoltaic modules. Panel technology is improving at a much faster rate than other renewable technologies, such as wind, and other key solar components such as racking and inverters. In parallel, module prices have significantly dropped over the past 10 years and are projected to continue to decrease for the next 10 years. If modules are replaced 25 years from now, they may have a much higher efficiency and much lower costs than what exists today. Replacing panels would extend the life of the system an additional 25 years, or perhaps longer based on the technical lifetime of panels at the time. The capacity factor in Table 3-2 is consistent across the full and partial repowering alternatives. While panel efficiency will continue to increase over time, it will not impact capacity factor (it does impact power density). Capacity factor is increased by using tracker technology, but for this analysis, we assume a constant split between fixed tilt and tracker in both 2017 and 2038. By contrast, wind farms have could increase capacity factor by increasing the hub heights to reach better wind regimes.

Due to technological improvements, the capital cost for a full repowering is about half that of the original plant and could potentially have a useful life that is greater than 25 years making it the most cost effective option.

3.2 Leasing, Regulatory, and Other Costs

The owners of natural gas-fired facilities would have to renegotiate new contracts for repair and replacement of combustion turbine parts. This may result in cost savings as there have been third party entrants into the parts supply and repair markets.

Leasing, regulatory, and other development costs are low relative to the total capital expenditures associated with modern wind facilities. These costs are generally assumed to be the same as those required for a greenfield development wind project.

Since the technical lifespan of solar photovoltaic systems, specifically the modules, is expected to exceed a 20-year power purchase agreement, some owners expect the system to run for an additional 5-10 years beyond the PPA and original lease. However, plans to extend the land lease are typically not put in place until closer to the end of the power purchase agreement term, as refinancing the lease early could result in penalties.

At the time of the installation of a solar system, there is usually a budget set aside for decommissioning. If the system were to be decommissioned later than originally intended, there would be no extra costs, and the original budget should cover decommission at year 25 or 30.

In summary, no significant costs for leasing, regulatory or other developmental costs were identified that would adversely impact repowering decisions.

Hi all,

A while back we dropped the idea of having the LDCs take on the responsibility of a long-term payable due to the Province because the amount collected from the LDCs will be dependent on future rates and future energy consumption.

I've been asked to think about whether this option would work if we chose a percentage of the amount to be due from the LDCs that is reflective of the "minimum known amount".

Example:

GA = 100
Amount to be deferred from the ratepayers bills = 30

Could a structure be set up so the LDCs agree to a longterm payable of a percentage of the 30 – 50% would be 15, 75% would be 22.5, etc. We would have to understand the potential for volatility in price and consumption.

This structure would be in place of a new separate stand-alone entity.

The expected fiscal impact to the Province would be the amount not billed to the LDCs – for example, if 75% were billed to the LDCs (or 22.5), then 7.5 would be the fiscal impact to the Province (assuming we could not support this amount as an asset.)

Could you give this some thought before we meet tomorrow.

Thanks all,

Cindy

I can assure you on behalf of the Board that all of your comments were taken very seriously and that the points you raised were given very careful attention and reflection.

It is not the intention of the Board at this time to specifically address the technical position you have conveyed in your letter. A response to the technical position will be provided by the IESO, with support from its consultants and the KPMG audit partner, in the near future.

The Board has thoroughly reviewed the process it followed in making its decision to approve the accounting policy changes for the year ended December 31, 2016. The Board is of the opinion that it has exercised appropriate due diligence in approving the accounting policy changes as they relate to the 2016 financial statements, and to the use of regulatory accounting for the unrecovered smart metering expenses and the unrecovered PSAB transition items, as well as to the inclusion of the market accounts.

The changes made for 2016 provide increased transparency and information with regards to both material expenditures for which recovery over time has been approved and to the IESO's administration and settlement of electricity market transactions worth in excess of $17 billion annually.

Given the above, it is the Board's decision to not amend and reissue the IESO's December 31, 2016 financial statements.

Please note, however, that the Board will continue to be diligent in its monitoring of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan transactions, its accounting treatment and the potential impact on the IESO's 2017 financial statements.

In closing, I would again like to thank you for taking the time to meet with the IESO Board of Directors last month.

Yours truly,

Tim O'Neill

Message from the Chair and Chief Executive Officer

We are pleased to present the second Annual Report of the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC). The report describes the OEFC's objectives and responsibilities, operational highlights and financial results for the year ended March 31, 2001.

As outlined in the Electricity Act, 1998, the OEFC's mandate is to ensure that the outstanding debt and derivatives and certain assets and liabilities of the former Ontario Hydro are managed efficiently and prudently and are ultimately retired. The OEFC is also responsible for the administration of the OEFC Pension Plan until its assets and liabilities can be transferred to pension plans of the other successor entities. The Ontario Financing Authority (OFA), Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation (OEPSC) and Ministry of Finance provide the OEFC with the staff and expertise needed for its operations and to fulfill its mandate.

For the year ended March 31, 2001, revenues totalled $3,936 million, while expenses totalled $3,692 million. To meet its 2000-01 financing requirements, the Province raised $2,924 million in long-term debt. Total debt outstanding as of March 31, 2001 was $30.6 billion, down $0.8 billion from the previous fiscal year.

During the year, the OEFC retained a contract manager to manage the non-utility generator (NUGs) contracts. Significant progress was also made in renegotiating the 90 power purchase agreements (PPAs) with the NUGs, with the objective of facilitating their integration into the open market.

In April 2001, the government announced that it is committed to opening the electricity market to competition by May 2002, possibly earlier if the necessary conditions for competition are in place.

We are pleased with the operation of the OEFC and look forward to the challenges of the upcoming year.

Chair

Electricity Industry Financial Structure

The Energy Competition Act, 1998, set out the Government of Ontario's plan to restructure Ontario's electricity industry. The plan called for the restructuring of Ontario Hydro and the elimination of its long-standing monopoly on electricity production with the introduction of competition to Ontario's electricity sector.

A key component of this initiative was to introduce a new financial structure for the electricity sector. This structure was announced on April 1, 1999. At this time, Ontario Hydro ceased operations and its assets and liabilities were transferred to five successor corporations and their subsidiaries.

Two commercial companies, Hydro One Inc. (HOI) and Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG), together with their subsidiaries, received the majority of Ontario Hydro's assets and in return issued $17.1 billion of debt to the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC), the legal continuation of Ontario Hydro.

To ensure fairness, reliability and safety in the new electricity market, the Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO) and the Electrical Safety Authority (ESA) were also established. The IMO issued $0.1 billion of debt to the OEFC in return for Ontario Hydro's central market operator and regulatory assets.

To achieve commercially viable capital structures, HOI and OPG entered into debt-for-equity swaps with the Province of Ontario. In exchange for $3.8 billion of equity in HOI and $5.1 billion of equity in OPG, the Province assumed $8.9 billion of the debt issued to the OEFC by the successor corporations. The Province is the sole shareholder of HOI and OPG.

Role of the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC)

As the legal continuation of Ontario Hydro, the OEFC became responsible for ensuring the prudent and efficient management and retirement of $38.1 billion (as of April 1, 1999) in debt and other liabilities of the former Ontario Hydro. The OEFC, an agency of the Province, is a statutory, non-share capital corporation.

The OEFC's Board of Directors is responsible for supervising the OEFC's operations. As the OEFC does not have staff, it retains the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) and the Ministry of Finance and established the Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation (OEPSC) to carry out its daily operations.

The OFA is an agency of the Province of Ontario responsible for provincial borrowing and debt management activities. The OFA manages the OEFC's debt and derivative portfolios, and provides cash management, accounting and other financial services and support to the corporation.

The OEFC relies on a stream of dedicated revenues from the electricity sector to service its outstanding debt obligations. The Ministry of Finance is responsible for the administration and collection of the payments-in-lieu of taxes and the Debt Retirement Charge (DRC), which becomes effective upon market opening, on behalf of the OEFC.

The OEFC is also the administrator of the former Ontario Hydro Pension and Insurance Plan (since renamed the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation Pension Plan). The OEFC will remain as the administrator until the assets and liabilities of the pension plan are transferred to the pension plans of the four successor corporations. The OEPSC acts as the agent of the OEFC in the administration of the pension plan and management of the pension fund during the transition period.

The Electricity Act, 1998 requires the OEFC to enter into an agreement with the four successor corporations providing for the division and transfer of the assets and liabilities of the OEFC Pension Plan to the pension plans of the successor corporations. The five companies signed an agreement in principle on January 19, 2001. The final agreement was submitted to the Superintendent of Financial Services, on March 29, 2001, and was subsequently approved on June 6, 2001.

Stranded Debt and Residual Stranded Debt

At April 1st 1999, the OEFC assumed approximately $38.1 billion in total liabilities from the former Ontario Hydro. The OEFC received a total of $17.2 billion represented by notes owing to it from the Province, OPG, HOI, and the IMO. The difference of approximately $20.9 billion represents "stranded debt", which is defined under the Act as the amount of debt and other liabilities of the OEFC that cannot reasonably be serviced and retired in a competitive electricity market.

The Electricity Act, 1998 requires that dedicated electricity revenues must be paid by the successor entities and municipal electric utilities (MEUs) to the OEFC to service stranded debt. As of April 1, 1999, the present value of these revenue streams was estimated at $13.1 billion, resulting in an estimated $7.8 billion of residual stranded debt. The Electricity Act, 1998 also provides for a Debt Retirement Charge (DRC) to be paid to the OEFC to retire residual stranded debt.

The April 1, 1999 Unfunded Liability (the stranded debt from electricity sector restructuring to be recovered from ratepayers) of $19.4 billion of the OEFC is comprised of the liabilities of $38.1 billion (described above) less notes receivable above of $17.2 billion, less other loans receivable of $200 million, less other assets of $1.3 billion.

Debt Repayment Plan

Pursuant to the Electricity Act, 1998 and consistent with the principles of electricity sector restructuring, the government has established a long-term plan to retire debt from within the electricity sector. The $38.1 billion in obligations is being repaid from the following sources:

- Notes receivable from the Province, OPG, HOI and IMO;
- Payments-in-lieu (PILs) of corporate income, capital, and property taxes, made by OPG, HOI and municipal electric utilities (MEUs);
- A Debt Retirement Charge (DRC), to be paid by electricity consumers when the market opens to competition; and
- Electricity Sector Dedicated Income. Consistent with the government's commitment to keep electricity income in the electricity sector, the combined net incomes of OPG and HOI in excess of the Province's cost of its investment in its electricity subsidiaries is dedicated to the retirement of the OEFC's debt.

The government has committed to opening the electricity market by May 2002, but will work towards the earliest possible date for opening, if all of the necessary conditions are met. These conditions include: consumer protection and choice; a strong business climate with a reliable supply of safe, affordable electricity; environmental protection; and encouraging new ways of doing business and supporting the search for alternative sources of power.

2000-01 In Review

Highlights for the OEFC's second year of operation include:

- Completing long-term public borrowing of almost $3.0 billion;
- Cost-effective management of the debt and derivatives portfolios;
- Retention of an external manager to oversee the day-to-day administration and the sale of power acquired under the power purchase agreements with non-utility generators (NUGs);
- Ensuring the effective administration of the OEFC Pension Plan and Fund and finalizing an agreement on the division and transfer of the assets and liabilities of the OEFC Pension Plan to the pension plans of the four successor corporations to Ontario Hydro.

Financing and Debt

Revenue in 2000-01 totalled $3,936 million, including $1,070 million of interest payments from HOI, OPG, IMO and the Province, $988 million from payments-in-lieu of tax, $408 million in electricity sector dedicated income, $695 million from power sales and $748 million from the revenue pool residual.

Expenses totalled $3,692 million, including $2,671 million in interest on the debt and nuclear funding liability, $146 million of amortization of deferred charges, $695 million for power purchases, $157 million for a debt guarantee fee and $23 million for operating costs.

As the OEFC does not have its own credit rating, the Province, through the OFA, borrows on the OEFC's behalf. In turn, the OEFC issues debt to the Province. To meet its 2000-01 financing requirements, the Province raised $2,924 million in long-term debt, while paying down short-term debt by $876 million and pre-borrowing $400 million for fiscal 2001-02. In 2000-01, the Province raised the majority of the OEFC's long-term financing in the Canadian dollar market.

As of March 31, 2001, total debt outstanding was $30.6 billion, decreasing by $0.8 billion from the previous fiscal year. This decrease is primarily due to principal repayments of notes receivable by HOI and OPG totalling $1,533 million.

With maturing debt and planned redemptions of $4.4 billion, along with a projected cash surplus of $0.8 billion in 2001-02, total financing requirements as of March 31, 2001 are projected at $3.6 billion. Total debt outstanding is projected to decrease to $29.4 billion at March 31, 2002.

The increase in Ontario Power Generation's (OPG) wholesale electricity rates, effective June 1, 2001, will improve OEFC's results in 2001-02 by increasing the OEFC's revenues from the revenue pool residual.

Management of Power Purchase Contracts

In the late 1980s and early 1990s, the former Ontario Hydro entered into approximately 90 long-term power purchase agreements (PPAs) with non-utility generators (NUGs) located in Ontario. These PPAs, which expire on various dates until the year 2048, provide for the purchase of power at prices that are expected to exceed the market price. As the continuation of Ontario Hydro, the OEFC is now the purchaser under these contracts.

The OEFC purchases about 1700 megawatts (MW) under the PPAs, representing approximately six per cent of the generating capacity available to meet Ontario's energy requirements.

Currently, the power purchased by the OEFC from the NUGs is resold at cost to the revenue pool managed by OPG. After open access, the power will be sold in the market. The net present value of the liability of the above-market costs resulting from the difference between the purchase price and the selling price over the life of the contracts was estimated at $4.3 billion at April 1, 1999.

In 2000-01, the OEFC issued a Request for Proposals (RFP) to retain a contract manager to manage the NUG contracts. Enron Canada Corporation was selected as the successful respondent to the RFP.

The OEFC is currently in the process of negotiating revisions to the PPAs to facilitate the transition to an open market and to replace certain contract provisions that have become obsolete as a result of the electricity restructuring.

OEFC Pension Plan

The OEFC is the administrator of the OEFC Pension Plan (formerly the Ontario Hydro Pension and Insurance Plan), including the pension fund.

The Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation (OEPSC) was established as a subsidiary of the OEFC to act as the OEFC's agent in the administration and day-to-day operations of the OEFC Pension Plan until the assets and liabilities can be transferred to the pension plans of the other Ontario Hydro successor corporations.

The Electricity Act, 1998 provides for the transfer of assets and liabilities from the OEFC Pension Plan to the successor companies' pension plans in accordance with a transfer agreement to be entered into by the OEFC with the administrators of each successor company pension plan. The OEPSC is responsible for preparing the transfer agreement in accordance with the guidelines set out in the Electricity Act, 1998 and under the supervision of the OEFC's pension committee and in consultation with the successor corporations. On June 6, 2001, the Superintendent of Financial Services consented in writing to the transfer of assets from the OEFC Pension Plan to the pension plans of the four successor corporations.

Risk Management

The OEFC has a number of policies in place to address the financial risks to which it is exposed through its borrowing and debt management activities.

Market Risk

The market risk policy provides a framework for the management of foreign exchange and interest rate risks to which the OEFC is exposed through the financing and debt management programs.

Foreign Exchange Exposures: The target for unhedged foreign currency exposure by the end of fiscal 2001-02 is five per cent of outstanding debt. When the OFA became responsible for the management of the OEFC's debt portfolio, total debt exposed to fluctuations in foreign currencies was 14.5 per cent. The OFA reduced the OEFC's exposure to 7.1 per cent as of March 31, 2001. The OFA will continue to reduce the level of exposure towards the five per cent target in a prudent manner.

Floating Interest Rate Exposure: The limit on the OEFC's floating interest rate exposure (net of liquid reserves) is 20 per cent of debt outstanding. Actual floating interest rate exposure was 5.7 per cent as of March 31, 2001.

Debt Maturity Profile: When issuing new debt, the OFA, on behalf of the OEFC, will aim for a smooth debt maturity profile to diversify the interest rate risk for the refinancing of maturing and floating rate debt. The maturity profile can be found in Note 8 to the Financial Statements.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty does not meet, or defaults, on its obligations. Credit risk arises when the OEFC undertakes financial and derivatives transactions. The minimum credit rating of a counterparty is A- and R1-mid for money market investments. However, for a new swap transaction the OEFC typically deals with AA- or better credit. The resulting exposure is capped at mark-to-market limits, depending on the counterparty's credit rating.

Risk Management Reporting

At its regular quarterly meetings, the OEFC Board of Directors is kept informed of the OEFC's activities, positions and risk exposures through three types of reports:

- CEO's report;
- Exposure and performance report; and
- Exception report provided by the Director of Risk Control, OFA.

The CEO provides the Board of Directors with a progress report on the implementation of the financing and debt management plan, staffing and other administrative and operational matters. The CEO also reports on the OEFC's compliance with applicable government directives, and OFA Legal Counsel reports on compliance with applicable laws.

The Director of Risk Control, OFA, reports additional details on the OEFC's exposures and performance.

Exception reports are provided to the Board of Directors immediately when required.

OFA Management is kept informed of the OEFC's risk exposures and positions on a daily basis. The OEFC's Annual Financing and Debt Management Plan, which shows how the OFA will ensure that risk exposures and losses remain within the approved exposure and loss limits, is approved by the Board of Directors.

Use of Financial Instruments and Derivatives

New instruments can be used only after approval by the OEFC Board of Directors and if their use is authorized under the OEFC's by-laws, which are approved by the Minister of Finance. All instruments are used only to advance the OEFC's objective of managing the OEFC's debt and its financing and liquidity requirements in a prudent and cost-effective manner.

Derivatives and financial instruments can be used only if the OFA can price and value them and quantify their risks. Furthermore, risks that arise with the use of derivatives are identified, evaluated, reported, monitored and managed prudently.

Corporate Governance and Board of Directors

Appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, the Board of Directors is responsible for supervising the OEFC's operations, which are carried out by the Ontario Financing Authority, Ministry of Finance and Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation on a day-to-day basis. The Board of Directors meets at least quarterly.

The OEFC Audit Committee supports the Board of Directors with the review and recommendation for approval of the OEFC's financial statements. The Audit Committee also recommends the annual internal audit plan and reviews the findings of the internal auditors regarding the adequacy of internal controls.

The OEFC Pension Committee is a committee of the Board of Directors that makes decisions concerning the OEFC Pension Plan and oversees the activities of the OEPSC.

Responsibility for Financial Reporting

The accompanying financial statements of the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada and are the responsibility of management. The preparation of financial statements necessarily involves the use of estimates based on management's judgment, particularly when transactions affecting the current accounting period cannot be finalized with certainty until future periods. The financial statements have been properly prepared within reasonable limits of materiality and in light of information available up to June 1, 2001.

Management maintains a system of internal controls designed to provide reasonable assurance that the assets are safeguarded and that reliable financial information is available on a timely basis. The system includes formal policies and procedures and an organizational structure that provides for appropriate delegation of authority and segregation of responsibilities. An internal audit function independently evaluates the effectiveness of these internal controls on an ongoing basis and reports its findings to management and the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors, through the Audit Committee, is responsible for ensuring that management fulfills its responsibilities for financial reporting and internal controls. The Audit Committee meets periodically with management, the internal auditors and the external auditor to deal with issues raised by them and to review the financial statements before recommending approval by the Board of Directors.

The financial statements have been audited by the Provincial Auditor. The Provincial Auditor's responsibility is to express an opinion on whether the financial statements are fairly presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Auditor's Report, which appears on the following page, outlines the scope of the Auditor's examination and his opinion.

Auditor's Report

To the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation
and to the Minister of Finance

I have audited the consolidated balance sheet of the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation as at March 31, 2001 and the consolidated statements of revenue, expense and unfunded liability and of cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Corporation as at March 31, 2001 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Restructuring of the Ontario Electricity Industry

Effective April 1, 1999, pursuant to the Electricity Act, 1998, Ontario Hydro was continued as a corporation without share capital under the name Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC). OEFC is a corporation established under the laws of Ontario. It is exempt from federal and provincial income taxes under paragraph 149(1)(d) of the Income Tax Act of Canada. OEFC is a Crown agency created to manage the debt and administer the assets, liabilities, rights and obligations of Ontario Hydro not transferred to other successor entities. These other successor entities include:

- Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG), an electricity generation company;
- Hydro One Inc. (HOI), a regulated electricity transmission and distribution business that operates certain energy service businesses in an unregulated, competitive environment;
- Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO), the regulated centralized independent system co-ordinator responsible for directing system operations and operating the electricity market; and
- Electrical Safety Authority (ESA), which performs a regulatory function related to electrical inspections.

On April 1, 1999, the respective business units, including assets, liabilities, employees, rights and obligations of the former Ontario Hydro were transferred to OPG and HOI (and their subsidiaries) and the IMO for $8.5 billion, $8.6 billion and $78 million respectively in exchange for debt payable to OEFC. On the same day, the Province exchanged equity of $5,126 million and $3,759 million in OPG and HOI respectively for debt payable to OEFC.

OEFC debt, liabilities and associated financing costs will be repaid from interest on notes receivable from the Province and successor entities, and, as provided under the Energy Competition Act, 1998, from dedicated electricity revenues in the form of payments-in-lieu (PILs) of corporate income, capital and property taxes made by the successor entities and municipal electric utilities. Any residual debt will be serviced through a Debt Retirement Charge (DRC) to be paid by electricity consumers after open access. Until open access, OEFC will continue to be a party to a revenue-allocation agreement among successor entities and is entitled to the forecast residual amount in the revenue pool after allocations to OPG, HOI and the IMO are paid.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

These financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) as recommended in the Handbook of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants.

Measurement Uncertainty

Uncertainty in the determination of the amount at which an item is recognized in the financial statements is known as measurement uncertainty. Such uncertainty exists when it is reasonably possible that there could be a material variance between the recognized amount and another reasonably possible amount, as there is whenever estimates are used. Measurement uncertainty in these financial statements exists in the estimated liability for power purchase agreements (see Note 9 for additional details). In addition, the amount of the nuclear funding liability is dependent on an agreement currently under negotiation between the Province and OPG. Estimates are based on the best information available at the time of preparation of the financial statements and will be adjusted annually to reflect new information as it becomes available.

Consolidation

These financial statements include the accounts of OEFC's wholly owned subsidiary, Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation (see Note 3).

Deferred Debt Costs

Deferred debt costs includes the unamortized amounts related to unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses resulting from the translation of long-term debt issued in foreign currencies and discounts or premiums arising from the issuance of debt or the acquisition of debt prior to maturity.

Revenue Recognition

Revenues are recognized in the period in which they are earned. Amounts received prior to being earned are reflected as deferred revenues.

Foreign Currency Translation

Debt is composed of short-, medium- and long-term bonds, notes and debentures. Debt denominated in foreign currencies that has been hedged is recorded at the Canadian dollar equivalent using the rates of exchange established by the terms of the hedge agreements. Other foreign currency debt, liabilities and assets are translated to Canadian dollars at period-end rates of exchange and any exchange gains or losses are deferred and amortized over the remaining term to maturity.

3. Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation

OEFC is the administrator of the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation Pension Plan and Fund. It is responsible for negotiating an agreement with each of the successor corporations for the division and transfer of the assets and liabilities of the OEFC pension plan to the pension plans of the successor corporations. The Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation, (OEPSC), a wholly owned subsidiary of OEFC, acts as agent for OEFC to carry out the required administrative, investment and other responsibilities of the OEFC Pension Plan and Fund. Costs associated with the administration of the OEFC Pension Plan and Fund amounting to approximately $17 million in calendar 2000 (calendar 1999 - $17 million) are charged to and payable by the pension fund.

OEPSC has made application to the Superintendent of Financial Services for Ontario for approval to transfer all of the assets of the OEFC Pension Plan to the pension plans of the four successor operating entities. The Superintendent agreed to the transfer on June 6, 2001.

4. Economic Dependence

OEFC does not have its own credit rating and is, therefore, dependent on the Province to borrow and on-lend the funds required to refinance maturing debt and to cover any cash shortfalls in the Corporation. It is also dependent on the long-term plan to defease the unfunded liability described in Note 11. Based on the Province's support in refinancing maturing debt and the long-term plan, OEFC is considered a going concern.

5. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on deposit and highly liquid investments with maturities of less than three months. They are recorded at cost, which approximates current market value.

6. Electricity Sector Dedicated Income

The Province has committed to dedicate the combined net income of OPG and HOI in excess of the Province's cost of its investment in its electricity subsidiaries to OEFC. In the year ended March 31, 2001, OPG and HOI earned an aggregate amount of $928 million ($903 million for 2000) i.e., $408 million ($383 million for 2000) in excess of the Province's $520 million interest cost of the equity investments in those companies. The $408 million amount has been reflected as income in OEFC and as an increase in the receivable from the Province.

7. Notes and Loans Receivable

OEFC has agreed with OPG, HOI and IMO not to sell notes owing from these successor entities without their prior approval.

| Total | $ 26,647 | $ 3,854 | $ 65 | $ 30,566 | $ 31,338 |

The effective rate of interest on the debt portfolio is 7.85% before considering the effect of derivative instruments used to manage interest rate risk. As at March 31, 2001, $2.2 billion of the $3.9 billion foreign debt is hedged. Bonds and notes payable are either held, or guaranteed as to principal and interest, by the Province as set out below:

| | March 31, 2001 | | | March 31, 2000 | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| ($ millions) | Held by the Province | Guaranteed by the Province | Total | Held by the Province | Guaranteed by the Province | Total |
| Short-term debt | 2,570 | — | 2,570 | 3,446 | — | 3,446 |
| Current portion of long-term debt | 569 | 2,205 | 2,774 | 500 | 1,726 | 2,226 |
| Long-term debt | 8,056 | 17,166 | 25,222 | 5,701 | 19,965 | 25,666 |
| Total | $ 11,195 | $ 19,371 | $ 30,566 | $ 9,647 | $ 21,691 | $ 31,338 |

Fair value of debt issued approximates amounts at which debt instruments could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties. In valuing the OEFC's debt, fair value is estimated using discounted cash flows and other valuation techniques and is compared to public market quotations where available. These estimates are affected by the assumptions made concerning discount rates and the amount and timing of future cash flows.

The estimated fair value of OEFC debt at March 31, 2001 is $34.4 billion (March 31, 2000 - $35.4 billion). This is higher than the book value of $30.6 billion (March 31, 2000 - $31.3 billion) because current interest rates are generally lower than the interest rates at which the debt was issued and because of exchange rate movements. The fair value of debt does not reflect the effect of related derivative contracts.

9. Long-Term Liabilities

Power purchase contracts and related loan agreements were entered into by Ontario Hydro with non-utility generators (NUGs) located in Ontario. These contracts, expiring on various dates to 2048, provide for the purchase of power at prices that are expected to be in excess of the market price. This liability has been valued at $4,286 million on a discounted cash-flow basis. As the continued Ontario Hydro, OEFC is the counterparty to these contracts. Currently, the power purchased from NUGs is resold at cost to the power grid managed by OPG. However, after open access, this power will be sold at market prices that may be greater or less than cost.

During the year, OEFC purchased power in the amount of $695 million (March 31, 2000 - $741 million) and sold this power to the power grid for the same amount. HOI manages the NUG power purchase contracts and the related loans on behalf of OEFC for an annual fee of $3 million (March 31, 2000 - $3 million), partially offset by a recovery of $2 million (March 31, 2000 - Nil) of transmission expansion costs originally paid by Ontario Hydro, which net cost is included in operating expense. Loans to NUGs increased during the year by $25 million to $244 million at March 31, 2001 (March 31, 2000 - $219 million), primarily due to interest revenue during the year which has been added to the principal balance.

Nuclear funding liability - OEFC as the continued Ontario Hydro received a liability in the amount of $2,378 million representing nuclear waste management and asset removal liabilities that were incurred prior to April 1, 1999. Interest has been accrued at an estimated 5.75 per cent and is included in the total value of $2,659 million as at March 31, 2001 (March 31, 2000 - $2,515 million). The interest rate is still under negotiation with the Province and is subject to change. The impact of the finalization of the interest rate for the fiscal year is not expected to result in a material difference to the liability balance.

10. Revenue Pool Residual

As explained in Note 1, OEFC is the beneficial owner of the forecast residual of the revenue pool, managed by OPG, which collects revenues from electricity consumers and allocates revenues to OPG, Hydro One and the IMO. The forecast residual of the revenue pool is cyclical in nature due to seasonal variations in pricing. As a result, the residual, while positive in the first and fourth quarters of the calendar year, is negative in the second and third quarters.

It was agreed by OEFC and OPG that OEFC would receive an average payment per month which would eliminate the seasonal variation in the pool residual and ensure that OEFC would never need to borrow cash to make up the shortfall. In the accounts, this revenue stream was recorded as received, adjusted for the one month accrual at each year-end.

These interim arrangements were to remain in effect until open access at which time the revenue pool would cease to operate and the Debt Retirement Charge (DRC) would be collected direct from electricity consumers. Open access was originally announced for November 2000 and OEFC's forecast residual for calendar 2000 was calculated over the ten months ended October in anticipation of the November opening. Once open access was delayed past November, it became apparent that the term over which the average should be calculated was unknown. Consequently, beginning in November 2000, OEFC began to receive the forecast residual as earned each month and reflected this stream as revenue in the accounts. The revenue in OEFC in fiscal 2000-01 has benefitted by including both the increased revenue over the summer of 2000 and the real earnings in the pool over the winter of 2000-01.

11. Unfunded Liability

In the previous year, PILs revenue was recognized on a cash basis and reflected only cash received during the year. For fiscal 2000-01, OEFC has changed its accounting policy to recognize PILs revenue on an accrual basis. The change was made to conform with accounting policies of the Province. Therefore, PILs earned during the year will now include deferred taxes, regardless of when those taxes will be paid.

The previously unrecognized $200 million accrual of PILs revenue has been added to the balance of the opening unfunded liability. In addition, the opening unfunded liability has also been adjusted to account for working capital adjustments in successor companies in the amount of $247 million. The effect of these adjustments is as follows:

| Unfunded Liability, March 31, 2000 | $ 19,987 |
| Adjustments during the year: | |
| Accrual for PILs revenue | (200) |
| Working capital for OPG and HOI | 247 |
| Balance after adjustments | $ 20,034 |

The opening unfunded liability of $19.4 billion at April 1, 1999 was composed of $38.1 billion in liabilities assumed from old Ontario Hydro less the value of assets transferred to OEFC at April 1, 1999 including $17.2 billion in notes receivable and $1.5 billion in loans receivable and other assets. Pursuant to the Electricity Act, 1998 and consistent with the principles of electricity restructuring, the government has a long-term plan in place to retire OEFC liabilities, from within the electricity industry. The Plan includes cash flows from the following sources as at April 1, 1999:

Notes receivable from the Province of $8.9 billion, OPG of $3.4 billion, HOI of $4.8 billion and IMO for $0.1 billion for a total of $17.2 billion as a result of the transfer of assets to successor companies, Payments-in-lieu of corporate income, property and capital taxes made by OPG, HOI and municipal electric utilities.

A Debt Retirement Charge to be paid by ratepayers based on the consumption of electricity, and

Electricity Sector Dedicated Income - Consistent with the Government's commitment to keep electricity income in the electricity sector, the combined net income of OPG and HOI in excess of the Province's cost of its investment in its electricity subsidiaries will be set aside for the retirement of OEFC's debt.

The long-term plan supports estimates that OEFC's obligations will be defeased in the years ranging from 2010 to 2017.

12. Risk Management and Derivative Financial Instruments

OEFC employs prudent risk management strategies and operates within strict risk exposure limits to ensure exposure to risk is well managed. A variety of strategies are used, including the use of derivative financial instruments ("derivatives").

Derivatives are financial contracts, the value of which is derived from underlying assets. OEFC uses derivatives for the purpose of hedging and to minimize interest costs. Hedges are created primarily through swaps, which are legal arrangements under which OEFC agrees with another party to exchange cash flows based upon one or more notional amounts during a specified period. This allows OEFC to offset its existing obligations and thereby effectively convert them into obligations with more desirable characteristics. Other derivative instruments used by OEFC include forward foreign exchange contracts, forward rate agreements, futures and options.

Foreign exchange or currency risk is the risk of debt servicing costs and principal payments varying due to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. To minimize currency risk, OEFC uses derivative contracts to convert foreign currency cash flows into Canadian dollar denominated cash flows. The current policy allows unhedged foreign currency cash flows to reach a maximum of 20 per cent of total debt. At year end, 7.1 per cent of this debt was unhedged, with most of the currency exposure to US dollars.

Interest rate risk is the risk of debt servicing costs varying due to changes in interest rates. OEFC reduces its exposure to rate changes by entering into derivative contracts that convert floating interest payments to fixed interest payments. The current policy allows unhedged floating rate debt, net of liquid reserves, to reach a maximum of 20 per cent of total debt. At year end, OEFC's floating rate debt as a percentage of total debt was 5.7 per cent.

The table below presents a maturity schedule of OEFC's derivatives, by type, outstanding at March 31, 2001, based on the notional amounts of the contracts. Notional amounts represent the volume of outstanding derivative contracts and are not indicative of credit or market risk. Notional amounts are not representative of actual cash flows.

Entering into derivatives contracts results in credit risk, which is the risk of a counterparty defaulting on contractual derivative obligations in which OEFC has an unrealized gain. The table below presents the credit risk associated with the derivative financial instrument portfolio, measured through the replacement value of derivative contracts, at March 31, 2001.

| Gross credit risk exposure | 5,437 | 4,850 |
| Less: Netting agreements | (5,519) | (5,019) |

Note:

Contracts do not have coterminous settlement dates. Netting agreements use generally accepted forms and terms developed by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association (ISDA). Based on ISDA definitions, total exposure to counterparties with positive exposure was $210 million (meaning that counterparties owed OEFC) and total exposure to counterparties with negative exposure was $292 million (meaning that OEFC owed counterparties) for a total net credit exposure to ($82) million on March 31, 2001.

OEFC manages its credit risk exposure through daily monitoring compliance with credit limits and by dealing with counterparties with good credit ratings of A- or higher. Counterparties for money market and other short-term transactions must have at least an R1-mid rating by Dominion Bond Rating Service or an A-1 or P-1 rating by Standard and Poor's or Moody's respectively.

OEFC also limits its credit risk exposure on derivatives by entering into contractual netting agreements with virtually all of its counterparties, which enables it to settle derivative contracts on a net basis in the event of a counterparty default. The gross credit risk exposure represents the amount of loss that OEFC would suffer if every counterparty to which OEFC was exposed were to default at the same time and no netting of negative exposures was allowed. The net credit risk exposure includes the mitigating impact of these netting agreements.

13. Guarantees

Subject to a $10 million and $20 million deductible respectively, OEFC has agreed to indemnify HOI and OPG in respect of any adverse claim to title to any asset, right or thing transferred or intended to be transferred to the companies at April 1, 1999, any failure of the transfer order to transfer such assets, rights or things and with respect to payment to or from or other dealing with any equity account of Ontario Hydro, including certain related litigation. The Province of Ontario has guaranteed any liability arising from these indemnifications.

OEFC is contingently liable under guarantees given to third parties that have provided long-term financing to certain independent power producers in connection with the power purchase agreements described in Note 9. These guarantees total approximately $135 million at March 31, 2001 (March 31, 2000 - $146 million).

Message from the Chair

I am pleased to present the 2003 Annual Report of the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC). The report describes OEFC's objectives and responsibilities, operational highlights and financial results for the year ended March 31, 2003.

As outlined in the Electricity Act, 1998, OEFC's primary objective is to ensure that the outstanding debt and derivatives portfolios and certain other liabilities of the former Ontario Hydro are managed efficiently and prudently and are ultimately retired.

For the year ended March 31, 2003, revenues totalled $3,797 million, while expenses totalled $3,895 million, resulting in a deficiency of revenue over expense of $98 million, compared to the prior year's deficiency of revenue over expense of $69 million. In 2002-03, the Province completed OEFC's borrowing requirements, including long-term debt maturities of $2,775 million, through $2,084 million raised from the sale of Hydro One notes held since April 1, 1999 and the issuance of $967 million in long-term debt.

During the year, OEFC achieved its objectives of cost-effective borrowing and debt management and prudent risk management, negotiated revisions to non-utility generator (NUG) contracts to facilitate their integration into the competitive electricity market, and continued to develop the necessary infrastructure to manage the NUG contracts and related exposures in a competitive market in a cost-effective and prudent manner.

On December 9, 2002, the Electricity Pricing, Conservation and Supply Act, 2002 was passed to freeze the price that low volume and designated consumers pay for electricity at 4.3 cents per kilowatt-hour until at least 2006. OEFC is responsible for managing the Electricity Consumer Price Protection Fund (ECPPF) established as a result of the Act.

OEFC will continue to monitor new developments in the electricity industry that will affect the operating results of the corporation in the 2003-04 fiscal year.

Bob Christie

Management's Discussion and Analysis

OEFC accomplished its key objectives for 2002-03:

- Achieved cost-effective borrowing and debt management and prudent risk management;
- Negotiated revisions to certain contracts with non-utility generators (NUG contracts) to facilitate their integration into the competitive electricity market;
- Continued to develop the necessary infrastructure to manage the NUG contracts and related exposures in a competitive market in a cost-effective and prudent manner; and
- Managed the Electricity Consumer Price Protection Fund (ECPPF) created under the Electricity Pricing, Conservation and Supply Act, 2002.

2002-03 Highlights

- Sold $1.9 billion of the Hydro One notes held since April 1, 1999, resulting in a gain of $206 million for OEFC. This sale represented the largest-ever corporate debt trade in the Canadian domestic debt market.
- Reduced total debt outstanding by $2.5 billion to $26.8 billion from $29.4 billion as at March 31, 2002.
- Lowered total debt exposed to fluctuations in foreign currencies to 6.3 per cent of outstanding debt from 7.5 per cent and down from 14.5 per cent at the time of OEFC's establishment in 1999.

Overview of Financial Results

For the year ended March 31, 2003, revenues totalled $3,797 million, while expenses totalled $3,895 million, resulting in a deficiency of revenue over expense of $98 million, compared to the prior year's deficiency of revenue over expense of $69 million.

Revenues

OEFC's total revenues for 2002-03 were $3,797 million, an increase of $253 million from 2002. OEFC's revenues consisted of the Debt Retirement Charge and revenue pool residual up to market opening; payments-in-lieu of tax; interest income from the Province, OPG, Hydro One, and IMO; power sales; a net reduction of power purchase contracts; a gain on the sale of Hydro One notes; and electricity sector dedicated income.

The Debt Retirement Charge, which replaced the revenue pool residual when Ontario's electricity market opened to competition on May 1, 2002, amounted to $889 million over 11 months in 2002-03.

In the year ended March 31, 2003, OPG and Hydro One earned an aggregate amount of $717 million. After taking into account the Province's financing cost of its investment in its electricity subsidiaries of $520 million, OEFC recorded $197 million in electricity sector dedicated income. In 2001-02, the aggregate earnings of the subsidiaries did not exceed the Province's financing cost.

In February 2003, OPG reached an agreement with OEFC to defer payment on $700 million principal amount of senior notes owing to OEFC by extending the maturity dates by two years. The interest rates on these notes remain unchanged.

Expenses

OEFC's total expenses for 2002-03 were $3,895 million, an increase of $282 million from 2002. OEFC's expenses consist of interest on its debt and nuclear funding liability, amortization of deferred charges, expenditures in the Electricity Consumer Price Protection Fund (ECPPF), power purchases, a debt guarantee fee and operating costs.

Borrowing Program

In 2002-03, the Province completed OEFC's borrowing requirements, including long-term debt maturities of $2,775 million, through $2,084 million raised from the sale of Hydro One notes held since April 1, 1999, and the issuance of $967 million in long-term debt.

Long-term borrowing was completed through two Province of Ontario U.S. dollar global issues and two domestic issues that were on-lent to OEFC:

- C$425 million (Canadian dollar equivalent) raised through a portion of a US$750 million U.S. dollar global issue maturing in December 2005;
- C$447 million (Canadian dollar equivalent) raised from a US$300 million U.S. dollar global issue maturing in March 2008; and
- C$95 million raised from two non-public debentures maturing in January and June 2022.

Debt Management

The repayment of OEFC obligations remains a priority and is an integral part of Ontario's electricity sector restructuring objectives. Pursuant to the Electricity Act, 1998, a long-term plan was established to retire debt from within the electricity sector. The long-term debt repayment plan supports a current estimate that OEFC's obligations will likely be defeased in 2012.

Debt Repayment Plan

Notes Receivable

OEFC receives principal and interest payments from the Province, Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG), Hydro One and the Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO) arising from the restructuring of the electricity sector.

Payments-in-Lieu of Tax (PILs)

OEFC receives payments-in-lieu of corporate income, capital and property taxes made by OPG, Hydro One and municipal electric utilities (MEUs).

Debt Retirement Charge (DRC)

The DRC was introduced on May 1, 2002, the date the electricity market opened to competition, and is paid by electricity consumers. The DRC is administered by the Ministry of Finance on behalf of OEFC and will end once the residual stranded debt is retired. Prior to May 1, 2002, OEFC received the residual of the revenue pool. This pool, managed by OPG, collected revenues from electricity consumers and allocated revenues to OPG, Hydro One and IMO, with the residual going to OEFC.

Electricity Sector Dedicated Income

The combined net incomes of OPG and Hydro One in excess of the Province's interest cost of its investment in its electricity subsidiaries are dedicated to the retirement of OEFC's debt.

Stranded Debt and Residual Stranded Debt

OEFC assumed approximately $38.1 billion in total debt and other liabilities from the former Ontario Hydro upon the restructuring of Ontario's electricity sector on April 1, 1999. As part of the restructuring, OEFC received a total of $17.2 billion in notes owing from the Province, OPG, Hydro One and the IMO. The difference of approximately $20.9 billion represented "stranded debt," which is defined under the Electricity Act, 1998 as the amount of debt and other liabilities of OEFC that cannot reasonably be serviced and retired by commercial companies in a competitive electricity market.

The Electricity Act, 1998 requires that payments-in-lieu of taxes must be paid by the successor entities and municipal electric utilities (MEUs) to OEFC to service stranded debt. As at April 1, 1999, the present value of these dedicated revenues and Electricity Sector Dedicated Income was estimated at $13.1 billion, resulting in an estimated $7.8 billion of residual stranded debt. The Electricity Act, 1998 provided for a Debt Retirement Charge (DRC) to be paid by consumers until the residual stranded debt is retired.

The April 1, 1999 Unfunded Liability (the stranded debt from electricity sector restructuring to be recovered from ratepayers) of $19.4 billion of OEFC was composed of the $38.1 billion (described above) less notes receivable of $17.2 billion, less loans receivable and other assets of $1.5 billion.

Unfunded Liability as of March 31, 2003 was $20.2 billion.

Debt and Liabilities

OEFC's total debt outstanding declined by $2.5 billion to $26.8 billion as of March 31, 2003. OEFC has reduced total debt outstanding by over $4.5 billion from its peak on March 31, 2000.

OEFC's total debt and liabilities are $34.7 billion as of March 31, 2003, down from $37.6 billion as of March 31, 2002.

On March 5, 2003, with the prior approval of Hydro One, OEFC completed the sale of $1,878 million (face value) of Hydro One notes. OEFC realized a gain of $206 million on the sale, as interest rates payable on the notes were above market interest rates, which allowed the Province to reduce OEFC's total debt. The notes had maturities ranging from January 2004 to August 2007 and coupons ranging between 5.375 per cent to 14.25 per cent. In order to facilitate the sale of these notes in the Canadian public capital markets, OEFC and Hydro One agreed to restructure the debt by converting the coupons and principal amounts to reflect current interest rates. The sale represented the largest ever corporate debt trade in the Canadian domestic debt market.

For more information on debt and other liabilities, see Notes 8 to 12 to the Financial Statements.

Risk Management

OEFC has risk management policies and procedures in place to address the management of OEFC's market, credit and operational risk exposures, primarily pertaining to OEFC's debt, derivatives and NUG portfolios, and capital markets transactions. A description of OEFC's risk management policies can be found in the Corporate Policies section.

| Risk Exposures (Percentage of Outstanding Debt) | 2003 | 2002 | Policy Limit |
|---|---|---|---|
| Foreign Exchange Exposure | 6.3 | 7.5 | 20.0* |
| Floating Interest Rate Exposure (net of liquid reserves) | 13.5 | 9.8 | 20.0 |

*The foreign exchange policy limit will be reduced to five per cent as soon as feasible and prudent.
March 31, 2003

OEFC's foreign exchange and floating interest rate exposures remained within policy limits of 20 per cent in 2002-03.

OEFC's total debt exposed to fluctuations in foreign currencies ("foreign exchange exposure") declined to 6.3 per cent as a result of active debt management and hedging strategies which took advantage of a strengthening Canadian dollar to reduce the foreign exchange exposure of OEFC's debt portfolio. The reduction in the OEFC's foreign exchange exposure was in line with the OEFC's Annual Financing and Debt Management Plan. When the OFA became responsible for the management of OEFC's debt portfolio, total debt exposed to fluctuations in foreign currencies was 14.5 per cent.

The OEFC's exposure to changes in short-term rates ("floating interest rate exposure") was 13.5 per cent as at March 31, 2003.

When issuing new debt, the OFA, on behalf of OEFC, aims for a smooth debt maturity profile to diversify the interest rate risk inherent in refinancing maturing and floating rate debt.

OEFC has also developed the NUG Market Risk Policy and Credit and Related Legal Risks Policy to address risks related to the sale of electricity from NUG contracts. NUG contracts involve risk in both financial and commodity markets.

Management of Power Purchase Agreements

In the late 1980s and early 1990s, the former Ontario Hydro entered into approximately 90 long-term power purchase agreements (PPAs) with non-utility generators (NUGs) located in Ontario. These PPAs, which expire on various dates until 2048, represent approximately 1,700 megawatts of generating capacity and approximately $750 million per year in cash outflow. The PPAs account for about six to eight per cent of the generating capacity available to meet Ontario's energy requirements.

As the continuation of Ontario Hydro, OEFC is responsible for these contracts. The NUG liability had been valued at $4,286 million on a discounted cash-flow (DCF) basis since Ontario Hydro was continued as OEFC on April 1, 1999. Since the electricity market was opened in this fiscal year, the DCF model was updated as of March 31, 2003, which reduced the estimated liability from $4,286 million to $3,745 million. The revaluation change will be amortized to operations over a 10-year period. In addition, each year, interest at the DCF rate is added to the liability and the estimated in-year loss in the DCF model is deducted from the liability. Details are set out in Note 10 to the Financial Statements.

OEFC has retained UBS Warburg Energy (Canada) Ltd. to act as settlement services manager of the PPAs with the NUGs, and to establish systems and procedures for the administration of the PPAs in the open electricity market as well as develop and implement strategies for hedging OEFC's price risk associated with sales of electricity. OEFC continues to negotiate revisions to the NUG contracts to ensure that the contracts are consistent with the open electricity market.

A policy framework for the prudent risk management of NUG electricity sales associated with the PPAs, including market and credit risk management policies, was approved. These policies establish the foundation for the assessment, monitoring and reporting of electricity market and credit risks and are similar in structure to the corresponding policies for the management of traditional financial market and credit exposures.

The Electricity Pricing, Conservation and Supply Act, 2002

Ontario's electricity market opened to competition on May 1, 2002. The wholesale price of electricity is determined by supply and demand in a competitive market.

While the wholesale market continues to operate in a competitive environment, on December 9, 2002, the Electricity Pricing, Conservation and Supply Act, 2002 was passed to freeze the price that low volume and designated consumers pay for electricity at 4.3 cents per kilowatt-hour (¢/kWh) until at least 2006. OEFC is responsible for managing the Electricity Consumer Price Protection Fund (ECPPF or the "Fund") established as a result of the Act.

Fund Management

OEFC is required to pay to or receive from the IMO any difference between the current market price (the "spot price") and the fixed 4.3¢/kWh charged to consumers designated under the Act.

- When spot prices are higher than 4.3¢/kWh, OEFC will make a payment to the IMO equal to the difference between spot price and 4.3¢/kWh based on the quantity consumed. The IMO will reduce the amount payable by the distributors for amounts consumed by a corresponding amount down to 4.3¢/kWh.
- When spot prices are lower than 4.3¢/kWh, OEFC will receive a payment from the IMO equal to the difference between spot price and 4.3¢/kWh based on the quantity consumed. The IMO will increase the amount payable by the distributors for amounts consumed by a corresponding amount up to 4.3¢/kWh.

The Fund will receive a large proportion of its funding from the portion of the Market Power Mitigation Agreement (MPMA) rebate paid by OPG that is attributable to the low volume and designated consumers. The initial $75 consumer refund for the May 1, 2002 to November 30, 2002 period was funded from OPG's MPMA rebate liability.

Net costs were higher than originally expected due to higher-than-expected prices arising from a long and severe winter. Program costs were also higher than initially expected due to higher costs to maintain the contractual rights of retailers. Annual results for the Fund are expected to improve as new supply comes on-line and reduces electricity prices.

The financial statements reflect the net expense of the Fund for this fiscal year. More information on the Fund can be found in Note 13 to the Financial Statements.

Objectives for 2003-04

OEFC's activities for 2003-04 will be focused on the following corporate objectives:

- Continue to perform borrowing, risk management, cash management, banking and accounting services as required in managing and retiring the outstanding debt and derivative contracts of the former Ontario Hydro;
- Assist in the implementation of the government's electricity policy decisions and coordinate economic and financial issues related to the industry. This includes management of the Electricity Consumer Price Protection Fund, managing financial relationships with the successor companies of Ontario Hydro (Hydro One, Ontario Power Generation Inc. and the Independent Electricity Market Operator) and assisting the Ministry of Energy and the Ministry of Finance in analyzing and implementing new supply initiatives, such as the temporary generation initiatives for the summer and fall of 2003;
- Continue negotiating revisions to the non-utility generator (NUG) contracts to ensure that the contracts are consistent with the competitive market. Develop and implement the necessary infrastructure to manage, in a cost-effective and prudent manner, the NUG contracts and related exposures and their integration into the power market administered by the Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO); and
- Discharge OEFC's liability to the nuclear decommissioning fund related to generating stations of the former Ontario Hydro.

Responsibility for Financial Reporting

The accompanying consolidated financial statements of the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles recommended for governments by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants and are the responsibility of management. The preparation of financial statements necessarily involves the use of estimates based on management's judgment, particularly when transactions affecting the current accounting period cannot be finalized with certainty until future periods. The financial statements have been properly prepared within reasonable limits of materiality and in light of information available up to July 25, 2003.

Management maintains a system of internal controls designed to provide reasonable assurance that the assets are safeguarded and that reliable financial information is available on a timely basis. The system includes formal policies and procedures and an organizational structure that provides for appropriate delegation of authority and segregation of responsibilities. Internal Audit Services of the Ministry of Finance independently evaluates the effectiveness of these internal controls on an ongoing basis and reports its findings to management and the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors, through the Audit Committee, is responsible for ensuring that management fulfills its responsibilities for financial reporting and internal controls. The Audit Committee meets periodically with management, the internal auditors and the external auditor to deal with issues raised by them and to review the financial statements before recommending approval by the Board of Directors.

The financial statements have been audited by the Provincial Auditor. The Provincial Auditor's responsibility is to express an opinion on whether the financial statements are fairly presented in accordance with accounting principles recommended for governments by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants. The Auditor's Report, which appears on the following page, outlines the scope of the Auditor's examination and his opinion.

Auditor's Report

To the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation
and to the Minister of Finance

I have audited the consolidated balance sheet of the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation as at March 31, 2003 and the consolidated statements of revenue, expense and unfunded liability and of cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Corporation as at March 31, 2003 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with the accounting principles recommended for governments by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants.

Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation
Notes to Financial Statements

1. Restructuring of the Ontario Electricity Industry

Effective April 1, 1999, pursuant to the Electricity Act, 1998, Ontario Hydro was continued as a corporation without share capital under the name Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC). It is exempt from federal and provincial income taxes under paragraph 149(1)(d) of the Income Tax Act of Canada. OEFC is a Crown agency created to manage the debt and administer the assets, liabilities, rights and obligations of Ontario Hydro not transferred to other successor entities. These other successor entities include:

- Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG), an electricity generation company;
- Hydro One Inc. (Hydro One), a regulated electricity transmission and distribution business;
- Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO), the regulated centralized independent system co-ordinator responsible for directing system operations and operating the electricity market; and
- Electrical Safety Authority (ESA), which performs a regulatory function related to electrical inspections.

On April 1, 1999, the respective business units, including assets, liabilities, employees, rights and obligations of the former Ontario Hydro, were transferred to OPG and Hydro One (and their subsidiaries) and the IMO for $8.5 billion, $8.6 billion and $78 million respectively in exchange for debt payable to OEFC. On the same day, the Province exchanged equity of $5,126 million and $3,759 million in OPG and Hydro One respectively for debt payable to OEFC.

OEFC debt, liabilities and associated financing costs will be repaid from interest on notes receivable from the Province and successor entities, and, as provided under the Energy Competition Act, 1998, from dedicated electricity revenues in the form of payments-in-lieu (PILs) of corporate income, capital and property taxes made by the successor entities and municipal electric utilities. Any residual debt will be serviced through a Debt Retirement Charge (DRC) to be paid by electricity consumers after open access at a rate of 0.7 cents per kilowatt hour in most Ontario communities. Until open access on May 1, 2002, OEFC continued to be a party to a revenue-allocation agreement among successor entities and was entitled to the forecast residual amount in the revenue pool after allocations to OPG, Hydro One and the IMO are paid.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

As OEFC is a government organization, these financial statements are prepared in accordance with the recommendations of the Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants.

Measurement Uncertainty

Uncertainty in the determination of the amount at which an item is recognized in the financial statements is known as measurement uncertainty. Such uncertainty exists when it is reasonably possible that there could be a material variance between the recognized amount and another reasonably possible amount, as there is whenever estimates are used. Measurement uncertainty in these financial statements exists in the estimated amount for the Electricity Consumer Price Protection Fund, the valuation of the power purchase contracts and the estimated defeasance date for OEFC's obligations. Estimates are based on the best information available at the time of preparation of the financial statements and will be updated annually to reflect new information as it becomes available.

Consolidation

These financial statements include the residual accounts of OEFC's wholly owned subsidiary, Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation (see Note 3).

Deferred Debt Costs

Deferred debt costs includes the unamortized amounts related to unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses resulting from the translation of long-term debt issued in foreign currencies and discounts, premiums or commissions arising from the issuance of debt or the acquisition of debt prior to maturity. These costs are amortized to operations over the life of the underlying debt.

Revenue Recognition

Revenues are recognized in the period in which they are earned.

Foreign Currency Translation

Debt is composed of short-, medium- and long-term bonds, notes and debentures. Debt denominated in foreign currencies that have been hedged is recorded at the Canadian dollar equivalent using the rates of exchange established by the terms of the hedge agreements. Other foreign currency debt, liabilities and assets are translated to Canadian dollars at period-end rates of exchange and any exchange gains or losses are deferred and amortized over the remaining term to maturity.

Power Purchase Contracts

The power purchase contracts liability is valued on a discounted cash-flow (DCF) basis. Periodic revaluations of this liability will give rise to changes in the estimated cost of the contracts and will be amortized to operations over a maximum 10-year period.

3. Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation

OEFC was the administrator of the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation Pension Plan and Fund. It was responsible for negotiating an agreement with each of the successor corporations for the division and transfer of the assets and liabilities of the OEFC pension plan to the pension plans of the successor corporations. The Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation, (OEPSC), a wholly owned subsidiary of OEFC, acted as agent for OEFC to carry out the required administrative, investment and other responsibilities of the OEFC Pension Plan and Fund.

OEPSC made application to the Superintendent of Financial Services for Ontario for approval to transfer all of the assets of the OEFC Pension Plan to the pension plans of the four successor operating entities. The Superintendent agreed to the transfer on June 6, 2001. With the exception of certain records and assets of nominal value, all pension fund assets were transferred to the pension plans of successor corporations on June 29, 2001. As OEPSC's functions have been completed, OEFC is in the process of winding up the company.

4. Economic Dependence

OEFC does not have its own credit rating and is, therefore, dependent on the Province to borrow and on-lend the funds required to refinance maturing debt and to cover any cash shortfalls in the Corporation. It is also dependent on the long-term plan to defease the unfunded liability described in Note 12. Based on the Province's support in refinancing maturing debt and the long-term plan, OEFC is considered a going concern.

5. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on deposit and highly liquid investments with maturities of less than three months. They are recorded at cost, which approximates current market value.

6. Due from Province of Ontario

The Province has committed to dedicate the combined net income of OPG and Hydro One in excess of the Province's financing cost of its investment in its electricity subsidiaries to OEFC. In the year ended March 31, 2003, OPG and Hydro One earned an aggregate amount of $717 million, $197 million in excess of the Province's $520 million financing cost of its investment. In 2001-02, the aggregate earnings of the subsidiaries did not exceed the Province's financing cost. The $197 million amount has been reflected as income in OEFC. In July 2002, the Province paid $370 million to OEFC towards the outstanding balance.

7. Notes and Loans Receivable

| | Maturity date | Interest rate | Interest payable | March 31, 2003 | March 31, 2002 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Province of Ontario | 2039 - 2041 | 5.85 | Monthly | $ 8,885 | $ 8,885 |
| OPG | 2005 - 2011 | 5.44 to 6.65 | Semi-annually | 3,200 | 3,200 |
| Hydro One | 2003 | 5.4 to 13.5 | Semi-annually | 651 | 2,972 |
| IMO | 2009 | 7.90 | Semi-annually | 78 | 78 |
| | | | | 12,814 | 15,135 |
| Less: Current portion of notes receivable | | | | 651 | 443 |
| | | | | 12,163 | 14,692 |
| Loans receivable from non-utility generators (NUGs) (See Note 10) | | | | 174 | 257 |
| | | | | $ 12,337 | $ 14,949 |

OEFC has agreed with OPG and IMO not to sell notes owing from these successor entities without their prior approval.

On March 5, 2003, with the prior approval of Hydro One, OEFC completed the sale of $1,878 million (face value) of Hydro One notes. OEFC realized a gain of $206 million on the sale as interest rates payable on the notes were above market interest rates.

In 2002, OEFC had agreed with OPG to defer principal payments of $200 million originally due in March and September, 2002 until December 2004. These maturities totalling $200 million have been further deferred until December 2006. In addition, OEFC has agreed with OPG to defer principal repayments totalling $500 million originally due in the period March 2003 to September 2004. The new maturity dates on these notes have been extended until March 2005 to September 2006.

8. Debt

Debt at March 31, 2003 is set out below by maturity and by currency of repayment, expressed in Canadian dollars.

The effective rate of interest on the debt portfolio is 6.78 per cent (March 2002 - 6.96 per cent) before considering the effect of derivative instruments used to manage interest rate risk. The longest term to maturity is to October 17, 2031. Total foreign currency denominated debt at March 31, 2003 was $3.8 billion (March 2002 - $3.6 billion), of which $2.6 billion or 67.7 per cent (March 2002 - $1.9 billion or 52.8 per cent) was fully hedged to Canadian funds. Bonds and notes payable are either held, or guaranteed as to principal and interest, by the Province as set out below:

Fair value of debt issued approximates amounts at which debt instruments could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties. In valuing the OEFC's debt, fair value is estimated using discounted cash flows and other valuation techniques and is compared to public market quotations where available. These estimates are affected by the assumptions made concerning discount rates and the amount and timing of future cash flows.

The estimated fair value of OEFC debt at March 31, 2003 is $31.2 billion (March 2002 - $32.8 billion). This is higher than the book value of $26.8 billion (March 2002 - $29.4 billion) because current interest rates are generally lower than the interest rates at which the debt was issued and because of exchange rate movements. The fair value of debt does not reflect the effect of related derivative contracts.

9. Risk Management and Derivative Financial Instruments

OEFC employs various risk management strategies and operates within strict risk exposure limits to ensure exposure to risk is managed in a prudent and cost-effective manner. A variety of strategies are used, including the use of derivative financial instruments ("derivatives"). Derivatives are financial contracts, the value of which is derived from underlying instruments. OEFC uses derivatives for the purpose of hedging and to minimize interest costs. Hedges are created primarily through swaps, which are legal arrangements under which OEFC agrees with another party to exchange cash flows based upon one or more notional amounts during a specified period. This allows OEFC to offset its existing obligations and thereby effectively convert them into obligations with more desirable characteristics. Other derivative instruments used by OEFC include forward foreign exchange contracts, forward rate agreements, futures and options.

Foreign exchange or currency risk is the risk of debt servicing costs and principal payments varying due to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. To minimize currency risk, OEFC uses derivative contracts to convert foreign currency cash flows into Canadian dollar denominated cash flows. The current policy allows unhedged foreign currency cash flows to reach a maximum of 20 per cent of total debt. At March 31, 2003, 6.3 per cent (March 2002 - 7.5 per cent) of this debt was unhedged, with most of the currency exposure to US dollars.

Floating rate risk is the exposure of OEFC to changes in short-term interest rates over a 12-month period. OEFC reduces its exposure to rate changes by entering into derivative contracts that convert floating interest payments to fixed interest payments. The current policy allows unhedged floating rate debt, net of liquid reserves, to reach a maximum of 20 per cent of total debt. At March 31, 2003, OEFC's floating rate debt as a percentage of total debt was 13.5 per cent (March 2002 - 9.8 per cent).

Liquidity risk is the risk that OEFC will not be able to meet its current short-term financial obligations. As explained in Note 4, OEFC is dependent on the Province to borrow and on-lend the funds required to refinance maturing debt and to cover any cash shortfalls in the Corporation.

The table below presents a maturity schedule of OEFC's derivatives, by type, outstanding at March 31, 2003, based on the notional amounts of the contracts. Notional amounts represent the volume of outstanding derivative contracts and are not indicative of credit risk, market risk or actual cash flows.

[1]Other includes swaptions and forward rate agreements.

The use of derivatives introduces credit risk, which is the risk of a counterparty defaulting on contractual derivative obligations in which OEFC has an unrealized gain. The table below presents the credit risk associated with the derivative financial instrument portfolio, measured through the replacement value of derivative contracts, at March 31, 2003.

| Gross credit risk exposure[1] | 4,167 | 4,569 |
| Less: Netting[2] | (4,293) | (4,709) |

Notes:
1 Gross credit risk exposure includes credit exposure on swaps, options, futures, forward rate agreements and forward foreign exchange agreements.
2 Master agreements provide for close out netting as contracts do not have coterminous settlement dates.
3 Total exposure to counterparties with positive exposure (meaning that counterparties owed OEFC) was $202 million (March 2002 - $111 million) and the total exposure to counterparties with negative exposure (meaning that OEFC owed the counterparties) was $328 million (March 2002 - $251 million) for a total net credit exposure of ($126) million (March 2002 - ($140) million).

OEFC manages its credit risk exposure from derivatives by, among other things, dealing only with high credit quality counterparties and regularly monitoring compliance to credit limits. In addition, OEFC enters into contractual agreements (master agreements) that provide for termination netting and, if applicable, payment netting with virtually all of its counterparties. Gross credit risk exposure represents the loss OEFC would incur if every counterparty to which OEFC had credit risk exposure were to default at the same time and the contracted netting provisions were not exercised or could not be enforced. Net credit risk exposure is the loss including the mitigating impact of these netting provisions.

As at March 31, 2003, OEFC's most significant concentrations of credit risk were with three A+ or higher rated counterparties, each of which represented more than 10 per cent of the Net Credit Risk Exposure. The net cost to OEFC, if it had to replace all of the swap contracts with these three counterparties is $23 million, $62 million and $85 million, respectively.

10. Power Purchase Contracts

Power purchase agreements and related loan agreements were entered into by Ontario Hydro with non-utility generators (NUGs) located in Ontario. As the continued Ontario Hydro, OEFC is the counterparty to these contracts. These contracts, expiring on various dates to 2048, provide for the purchase of power at prices that are expected to be in excess of the market price. Since open access on May 1, 2002, this power has been sold at market prices that generally have been less than cost. Prior to open access, power purchased from NUGs was resold at cost to the revenue pool managed by OPG.

During the year, OEFC purchased power in the amount of $786 million (2002 - $815 million) and sold this power for $635 million (2002 - $815 million). Effective April 18, 2002, the NUG Contract Management Agreement between Enron Canada Corporation and OEFC was assigned to UBS Warburg Energy (Canada) Ltd. Annual fees include both a fixed fee of approximately $750,000 plus a variable fee based on performance in minimizing losses under NUG power purchase agreements that amounted to $10 million (2002 - $ nil).

The NUG liability had been valued at $4,286 million on a discounted cash-flow (DCF) basis since Ontario Hydro was continued as OEFC on April 1, 1999. Since the electricity market was opened in this fiscal year, the DCF model was updated as of March 31, 2003 which reduced the estimated liability from $4,286 million to $3,745 million. The revaluation change will be amortized to operations over a 10-year period. In addition, each year, interest at the DCF rate is added to the liability and the estimated in-year loss in the DCF model is deducted from the liability as set out below:

Statement of NUG Liability

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| NUG Liability, March 31, 2002 | | $ 4,286 |
| Interest charged during the year | | 253 |
| Deduct estimated in-year loss | | (372) |
| Revaluation as of March 31, 2003 | | (422) |
| Sub total | | 3,745 |
| Add: Unamortized Revaluation Changes | | |
| Gross Revaluation | 422 | |
| Accumulated Amortization | (42) | 380 |
| | | $ 4,125 |

Loans to NUGs decreased during the period by a net $83 million to $174 million at March 31, 2003 (March 31, 2002 - $257 million), primarily due to principal repayments.

11. Nuclear Funding Liability

OEFC as the continued Ontario Hydro received a liability in the amount of $2,378 million representing nuclear waste management and asset removal liabilities that were incurred prior to April 1, 1999. In March 2002, the Province and OPG entered into the Ontario Nuclear Funds Agreement (ONFA) to establish, fund and manage segregated funds to ensure that sufficient funds are available to pay for costs of nuclear waste management and station decommissioning. The OEFC liability will be directed to the Decommissioning Custodial Fund, which is expected to be established later in 2003.

The Board of Directors of OEFC approved the funding of the Decommissioning Custodial Fund over the next four years, thus discharging the nuclear funding liability. OEFC reflected the nuclear funding liability at April 1, 1999 and has been accruing interest annually at an estimated 5.75 per cent since that time. At March 31, 2003, this estimated accrued interest was included in the liability amount of $2,974 million (2002 - $2,812 million). The calculation of the interest rate is still under negotiation between the parties, but is expected to be finalized later in 2003. The impact of the finalization of the interest rate calculation is not expected to result in a material difference to the liability balance.

12. Unfunded Liability

The opening unfunded liability of $19.4 billion at April 1, 1999 was composed of $38.1 billion in liabilities assumed from old Ontario Hydro less the value of assets transferred to OEFC at April 1, 1999 including $17.2 billion in notes receivable and $1.5 billion in loans receivable and other assets. A long-term plan was established to retire OEFC liabilities from within the electricity sector. The Plan includes cash flows from the following sources as at April 1, 1999:

Notes receivable from the Province of $8.9 billion, OPG of $3.4 billion, Hydro One of $4.8 billion and IMO for $0.1 billion for a total of $17.2 billion as a result of the transfer of assets to successor companies,

Payments-in-lieu of corporate income, property and capital taxes made by OPG, Hydro One and municipal electric utilities,

a Debt Retirement Charge to be paid by ratepayers based on the consumption of electricity, and

Electricity Sector Dedicated Income - The combined net income of OPG and Hydro One in excess of the Province's cost of its investment in its electricity subsidiaries will be allocated to the retirement of OEFC's debt.

The long-term plan supports a current estimate that OEFC's obligations will likely be defeased in 2012.

13. Electricity Consumer Price Protection Fund

On November 11, 2002, the Province announced a program designed to provide electricity to low volume and designated consumers at a fixed price of 4.3 cents per kilowhatt-hour (kWh) until at least 2006, retroactive to May 1, 2002. Power generators continue to receive the free market price as set in the IMO electricity market. The program is administered through the Electricity Consumer Price Protection Fund (ECPPF) managed by OEFC.

During periods where the average price of electricity is greater than the fixed rate of 4.3 cents per kWh, the balance is funded by the ECPPF. Conversely, the ECPPF will receive funds during periods where the average price of electricity is lower than the fixed rate of 4.3 cents per kWh. Expenditures from the Fund amounting to $1,461 million in the year were reduced by a portion of the rebate paid by OPG under the Market Power Mitigation Agreement (MPMA) in the amount of $796 million leaving a net cost in OEFC of $665 million.

14. Contingencies and Guarantees

OEFC is involved in various legal actions arising out of the ordinary course and conduct of business, some of which relate to the former Ontario Hydro prior to the establishment of OEFC on April 1, 1999. Under the terms of the April 1, 1999 restructuring of Ontario Hydro, each successor entity (OPG, Hydro One, ESA and IMO, and their respective subsidiaries) is responsible for any liabilities relating to those operations of the former Ontario Hydro that were transferred to it. In the event any such liabilities remained with OEFC, the successor entity is also required to indemnify OEFC. With respect to legal actions relating to operations of Ontario Hydro that were retained by OEFC, the outcome and ultimate disposition of these legal actions is not determinable at this time. Accordingly, no provision for the above actions is reflected in the financial statements. Settlements of these contingencies, if any, will be reflected in the period in which settlement occurs.

Subject to a $10 million and $20 million deductible respectively, OEFC has agreed to indemnify Hydro One and OPG with respect to any adverse claim to title to any asset, right or thing transferred or intended to be transferred to the companies at April 1, 1999 and any failure of the transfer order to transfer such assets, rights or things and with respect to payment to or from or other dealing with any equity account of Ontario Hydro, including certain related litigation. The Province of Ontario has guaranteed any liability arising from these indemnifications.

OEFC is contingently liable under guarantees given to third parties that have provided long-term financing to certain independent power producers in connection with the power purchase agreements described in Note 10. These guarantees total approximately $113 million at March 31, 2003 (2002 - $124 million).

Corporate Governance

Appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, the Board of Directors is responsible for supervising OEFC's business. OEFC retains services from the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) and the Ministry of Finance to carry out its daily operations. The Board of Directors meets at least quarterly. It monitors OEFC's financial performance and approves OEFC's financial policies and its business plan for each year.

The Minister of Finance reviews and approves the OEFC's annual business plan, which contains long- and short-term objectives and reports on accomplishments for the preceding year. In keeping with the government's Agency Establishment and Accountability Directive, once every three years the Minister of Finance recommends the OEFC business plan to Management Board of Cabinet for approval.

The OEFC Audit Committee supports the Board of Directors with the review and recommendation for approval of OEFC's financial statements. The Audit Committee also recommends the annual internal audit plan and reviews the findings of the internal auditors regarding the adequacy of internal controls. The OEFC Audit Committee has recommended to the Board that the legislation regarding the timing of the delivery and tabling of the Corporation's annual report, including audited financial statements, be made consistent with the timing of the Province's Public Accounts, because of the relationship of OEFC's statements to the Public Accounts.

OEFC's Board also has a NUG Committee. This committee makes decisions concerning OEFC's Power Purchase Agreements. Membership includes OEFC Directors representing the Ministry of Finance and the Ministry of Energy.

Risk Management Policies and Procedures for Borrowing and Debt Management

The OFA incurs credit, market, operational and liquidity risks for OEFC in managing the debt of OEFC. These risks are managed in accordance with risk management policies approved by the OEFC Board of Directors. The Board and management committees establish and approve risk management policies and monitor OEFC's compliance with the policies and the performance of the OFA's OEFC-related capital market activities.

OEFC has a number of policies in place to mitigate financial risks: market risk, credit risk, operational risk and risks related to the use of derivatives. These policies were developed following the Group of Thirty's best practices, the guidelines and directives of regulatory bodies, such as the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions of Canada, the Bank for International Settlements (BIS), and consulting with Canadian bank representatives on their risk management practices.

With the advent of the electricity market and the exposures inherent in the management of the NUGs contracts and related transactions, policies specifically addressing these exposures were recommended to the Board of Directors and approved. These policies and associated procedures will be used to develop and implement an infrastructure for monitoring and assessing NUG-related exposures.

Market Risk

- Market Risk is the risk of financial loss attributable to changes in the values of financial indices including interest rates, credit spreads, foreign exchange rates and liquidity condition.
- This policy provides a framework for borrowing and integrates several aspects dealing with the management of market risk.
    - Foreign Exchange Exposure Limit - OEFC's exposure to unhedged foreign currencies is limited to 20 per cent of outstanding debt. This limit will be reduced to five per cent as soon as feasible and prudent. Foreign exchange exposures are limited to Group of Seven currencies and the Swiss franc or the equivalent currencies (i.e., the Euro).
    - Floating Rate Exposure - OEFC is limited to a maximum floating rate exposure of 20 per cent of debt.
    - Risk Management Loss Limits - The total amount of financial losses resulting from market risk and the default of counterparties shall not exceed a debt cost loss limit specified by the Board of Directors. Additionally, the CEO establishes a debt management trigger level to ensure that losses will not reach the debt cost loss limit. The trigger level is included in the Annual Financing and Debt Management Plan.
    - Risk Measurement - OEFC identifies and quantifies exposures to market risk in its Annual Financing and Debt Management Plan to ensure that risk exposures and losses remain within the approved exposure and loss limits. Exposure to market, credit and liquidity risk is measured daily.
    - Debt Maturity Profile - When issuing new debt on behalf of OEFC, the OFA will aim for a smooth debt maturity profile to diversify the interest rate risk for the refinancing of maturing and floating rate debt.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is risk that a counterparty does not meet, or defaults on its obligations. Credit risk arises when the OFA undertakes financial and derivative transactions on behalf of OEFC. The minimum credit rating of a counterparty for a new swap transaction is AA- and R1-mid for money market investments. The resulting exposure is capped at mark-to-market limits depending on the counterparty's credit rating and capital base.

Operational Risk

OEFC's operational risk is managed through procedures that deal with model risk, legal risk, settlement risk and information systems risks.

Model Risk

OEFC's pricing models are regularly reviewed for accuracy and compliance with industry standards. OEFC's valuation of financial instruments is also reviewed regularly.

Legal Risk

Procedures and standards have been implemented to ensure that documentation of OEFC debt issues, debt management and money market transactions meet industry standards and is enforceable.

Settlement Risk

On behalf of OEFC, the OFA has established internal control procedures and systems, involved external service providers and trained its staff to ensure that transactions are settled correctly and in a timely manner, are recorded accurately, and that service providers are appropriately involved.

Information Systems Risk

As OEFC's service provider, on behalf of OEFC, the OFA has taken measures to protect computer systems and access to the offices of the OFA, monitoring the computer room environment, the establishment of a back-up power source, regular data back-ups, off-site storage, firewalls to protect against unauthorized network intrusions and computer virus scanning. Security is reviewed periodically and when major changes occur.

Use of Derivatives

Derivatives are used solely to advance the objective of providing OEFC's financing and liquidity requirements in a sound and cost-effective manner. Derivatives are used to manage exposures arising from existing and planned debt, and in a manner consistent with the Annual Financing and Debt Management Plan. Risks arising from the use of derivatives are identified, monitored, evaluated and managed prudently.

Risk Management Policies for NUG Power Sales

Market Risk

The NUG Market Risk Policy for Electricity Risk Management provides for a framework governing the use of electricity derivatives for the program, as well as volumetric limits on the level of forward sales and financial loss limits. A key requirement for electricity forwards and other derivative contracts is OEFC's ability to price and measure the risk associated with them. The policy mandates an annual NUG risk management plan, which delineates the assumptions for the upcoming fiscal year, including economic and electricity price assumptions, base case and contingency plans for managing and diversifying risk, and supply availability assumptions. A risk assessment for all assumptions is also required.

Credit Risk

OEFC incurs credit risk in the course of its forward transactions with counterparties in the marketplace. This policy addresses that risk through minimum credit ratings and through exposure, term-, and concentration limits. Additionally, the policy sets out requirements for documentation and enforceability. Monitoring and reporting of credit exposures and credit quality are performed by Risk Control Division.

Supply Availability Risk

Supply Availability Risk is the risk associated with having to meet contractual obligations associated with portfolio hedging transactions through open market transactions. As with financial market activities, management of OEFC's NUGs electricity generation portfolio must assess both market and counterparty credit risks. In addition, managing these risks is further complicated by such risks as equipment breakdown, fuel availability and fuel costs, all of which could affect OEFC's ability to meet its contractual obligations through NUGs supply.

Risk Management Reporting

At its regular quarterly meetings, the OEFC Board of Directors is informed of OEFC's activities, positions and risk exposures through three types of reports:

- CEO's report;
- Exposure and performance report; and
- Exception report provided by the Director of Risk Control, OFA.

OEFC's Annual Financing and Debt Management Plan, which indicates how OEFC risk exposures and losses will be maintained within the approved exposure and loss limits, is approved by the Board of Directors each year.

The CEO provides the Board of Directors with a progress report on the implementation of the Annual Financing and Debt Management Plan, staffing and other administrative and operational matters. The CEO also reports on OEFC's compliance with applicable government directives, and OFA Legal Counsel reports on compliance with applicable laws.

In addition, OFA Management is kept informed of OEFC's risk exposures and positions on a daily basis.

ONTARIO HYDRO FINAL ANNUAL REPORT
JANUARY 1998 – MARCH 1999

Ontario Hydro

CORPORATE PROFILE Ontario Hydro ceased operations on March 31, 1999; its assets and functions were transferred by provincial statute to two commercial successor corporations, Ontario Power Generation Inc. and Ontario Hydro Services Company Inc., as well as to two not-for-profit agencies, the Independent Electricity Market Operator and the Electrical Safety Authority.

Ontario Hydro, a self-sustaining corporation without share capital, was created by provincial statute and operated under the Power Corporation Act of Ontario, which has now been succeeded by the Energy Competition Act, 1998. Bonds and notes issued by Ontario Hydro prior to April 1, 1999, are guaranteed by the Province of Ontario.

Until the demerger of the company on April 1, 1999, Ontario Hydro served 108 direct industrial customers, almost one million retail customers and 255 municipal utilities, which in turn serve almost 3 million customers.

Ontario Power Generation (OPG) inherited Ontario Hydro's generating portfolio, making it one of the largest power producers in North America in terms of installed capacity. The OPG system includes 69 hydroelectric stations, three nuclear sites and six operating fossil-fueled stations. Total installed system capacity is approximately 31,000 megawatts. Ontario Hydro's total energy sales in 1998 were almost 139 terawatt-hours.

Ontario Hydro Services Company (OHSC), the other successor company, is an energy-services-based transmission and distribution company. It owns and maintains 29,000 kilometres of transmission lines, 114,700 kilometres of distribution lines, 240 kilometres of high-voltage underground cable, 256 transformer stations, 928 distribution and regulating stations and 20 microwave stations. OHSC also retains the retail business formerly held by Ontario Hydro, which serves over 950,000 customers, and the transmission and generating business for 23 remote communities in Northern Ontario.

Ending on a High Note

DESPITE THE MANY OPERATIONAL AND RESTRUCTURING CHALLENGES OF 1998 AND THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1999, ONTARIO HYDRO'S FINANCIAL HISTORY CONCLUDES ON A HIGH NOTE. REVENUES AND NET INCOME WERE STRONG AND SIX YEARS OF STABLE RATES HAVE SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCED ELECTRICITY COSTS AS A PROPORTION OF PROVINCIAL ECONOMIC ACTIVITY, BOOSTING ONTARIO'S ENERGY PRODUCTIVITY AND, AS A RESULT, ITS INDUSTRIAL COMPETITIVENESS.

Reliability and Commitment During Challenges and Change

WILLIAM FARLINGER
Chairman

RONALD OSBORNE
President & CEO

FROM WINTER ICE STORM TO SUMMER HEAT WAVE, FROM THE NEED TO RELIABLY MEET ONTARIO'S ELECTRICITY DEMAND TODAY TO THE MANDATE TO LOOK BEYOND ONTARIO TOMORROW, ONTARIO HYDRO'S FINAL 15 MONTHS AS AN OPERATING ENTITY WERE FILLED WITH GREAT CHALLENGES AND GREAT CHANGE. THROUGHOUT IT ALL, OUR EMPLOYEES DISPLAYED EQUAL MEASURES OF COOPERATION AND COMPETITIVENESS. THEY ARE ONTARIO HYDRO'S MOST VALUABLE LEGACY TO THE FUTURE.

We are preparing for competition; our aim is to make our commercial successor companies successful in the new energy services marketplace.

This is the Final Annual Report of Ontario Hydro, which ceased operations on March 31, 1999; its assets and functions have been transferred to successor companies and agencies. For this reason, the 1998 Annual Report was delayed to include a report on the company's final quarter.

The 15 months since our last Annual Report was a historic period for Ontario Hydro and the province's electricity industry. It began with the most devastating ice storm on record and the largest emergency power restoration effort ever undertaken by Ontario Hydro and its municipal utility allies in Eastern Ontario. Record summertime peak demand briefly approached the limits of our current in-service generating capacity. By the end of 1998, a new provincial statute, the Energy Competition Act, 1998, had rewritten the fundamental rules under which our industry has operated throughout most of this century. And these are only the major highlights of the period.

Despite unprecedented demands on Ontario Hydro's people, everything that happened during this period strengthened our conviction that we will be prepared for competition and that both commercial successor companies will be successful in the emerging North American energy services marketplace.

Our response to the ice storm showed how deep the reservoir of our organizational and technical skills really is and how committed our people are to the safety and well-being of our customers, regardless of the conditions that must be braved or workloads endured. They proved once again that reliability begins with people and that only people can sustain it.

But the wires networks are only one side – the delivery side – of the reliability equation. The other is supply reliability, and here too Ontario Hydro's generation staff, at our nuclear, hydroelectric and fossil-fueled stations, proved their resourcefulness and commitment to customers.

To replace the output of reactors laid up under the Nuclear Asset Optimization Program (NAOP), the Fossil business boosted its production to its highest level in more than a decade, and did so without exceeding provincial air emissions regulations. In Hydroelectric, production was constrained by low water levels, but staff nonetheless extracted every possible kilowatt out of their facilities. Both businesses, along with Central Market Operations, helped ensure that Ontario suffered no supply interruptions during the record spikes in summer peak demand that threatened shortages in other areas of North America.

The Nuclear business made substantial progress towards its multi-year goal of moving performance back to the top quartile of world nuclear industry standards. When Ontario Hydro's generating portfolio was assumed by Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) on April 1, 1999, nuclear production and capability factors were up; forced outages were down; most performance targets were exceeded; and new agreements with our unions gave us more operational flexibility to speed the recovery to excellence and help position the company to seize more quickly the growing opportunities in the U.S. power marketplace.

All of the above was accomplished, moreover, during the restructuring of the corporation in line with the passage of the Energy Competition Act, 1998. This legislation marks Ontario as the first jurisdiction in North America to plan to introduce electricity competition at both the wholesale and the retail level at the same time. The Act ended Ontario Hydro's statutory existence and replaced it with two legally separate, commercially oriented successor companies – OPG and Ontario Hydro Services Company Inc. (OHSC). At the same time, Ontario Hydro's Central Market Operator became yet another separate entity, the Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO), which will not only oversee the marketplace but direct the operation of the transmission system owned by OHSC. Municipal electric utilities and the Ontario Hydro Services Company alike are required to separate their monopoly wires businesses from their competitive merchant functions. Finally, Ontario Hydro's responsibility for electrical inspection throughout the province was transferred to a not-for-profit public agency, the Electrical Safety Authority.

These changes, large as they are, define only the barest framework of what Ontario's electricity marketplace will look like once competition is introduced by the government, expected sometime in the year 2000. Rules to assure both suppliers and customers of a level playing field must be fully developed before competition can begin. Much of this work was done during 1998 by the multi-stakeholder Market Design Committee (MDC), established at the beginning of 1998 to advise the government on detailed marketplace rules.

The MDC proposed a ten-year, staged reduction of Ontario Power Generation's control over provincial electricity supply, accompanied by measures to ensure price stability during the transition period when competition is first being established. As part of the proposal, the Ontario Hydro Services Company will make every effort to increase the province's interconnection capacity by 50% over the next five years. This plan has been accepted by the government. The future has begun.

The two commercial successor companies will use the remainder of 1999 to finalize their preparations for the open marketplace. One of their critical tasks will be to help customers prepare as well. Public education programs, through advertising and other forms of customer outreach, will be prominent this year. It is important to the success of customer choice that they understand the marketplace and their own energy service needs. Both companies will work with others in the industry to promote that understanding among all customers, not just their own.

In 1999, Ontario Hydro's successors will also finalize plans to ensure that the province enters the new millennium on January 1, 2000, without any interruption of power. Analysis, remediation, testing and Y2K-readiness certification of all critical systems was complete by the end of 1998. Coordination with suppliers, customers and interconnected systems will take place throughout the first half of 1999. All signs point to a successful rollover into 2000, but contingency planning is under way for the sake of prudence and public reassurance.

Throughout these final months, even as we planned for the future, we were determined not to lose our focus on what is most critical to our customers every single day: safety, reliability, service and competitive prices. We looked forward to the future, but we lived and worked in the present. Our customers' needs always took precedence. No matter what else may change for our successor companies, this basic operating principle will not.

As our successors move closer to a competitive future, they will build on Ontario Hydro's historic achievements. We expect that the new companies will contribute to the prosperity of Ontario in the next century at least as much as Ontario Hydro did in this one.

Ontario Hydro's Successors

THE YEAR 1998 WAS THE 92ND AND LAST FULL YEAR OF OPERATIONS FOR ONTARIO HYDRO. ON APRIL 1, 1999, IT WAS SUCCEEDED BY FIVE NEW SUCCESSOR ENTITIES, TWO OF WHICH ARE SEPARATELY MANAGED, COMMERCIALLY ORIENTED COMPANIES. THESE SUCCESSORS WERE INCORPORATED IN LATE 1998.

ONTARIO POWER GENERATION INC.

Ontario Power Generation (OPG) inherits Ontario Hydro's 31,000 megawatts of installed generating capacity at its 80 hydroelectric, nuclear and fossil-fueled stations, making it one of North America's largest power producers. OPG is very cost-competitive with U.S. generators in our region of the continent – a growing market for low-unit-cost, low-emission energy.

OPG facilities now supply about 85% of the province's electricity demand. Under an agreement with the provincial government, that proportion will be gradually reduced so that by about 2010, OPG will control no more than 35% of the province's total supply options. The company will increasingly compete in the U.S., as markets there open to competition.

ONTARIO HYDRO SERVICES COMPANY INC.

Ontario Hydro Services Company (OHSC) is a holding company with two major holdings: the 29,000-kilometre transmission grid and the 114,700-kilometre distribution system. It serves almost one million customers, mostly in rural and remote communities.

OHSC plans to leverage its infrastructure assets and the expertise of its employees to enter new businesses that will contribute to the company's growth and shareholder value.

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY MARKET OPERATOR

The Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO) will serve two major functions in Ontario's electricity market. It will manage the spot market, reconciling transactions among buyers and sellers; and direct the operation of the provincial transmission system to ensure reliability and fair access under market rules. The IMO will have no commercial connection to any market participant.

ELECTRICAL SAFETY AUTHORITY

The Electrical Safety Authority will continue Ontario Hydro's former inspection service. It is a stand-alone, self-funded entity with no commercial ties to any utility or other energy services company.

ONTARIO ELECTRICITY FINANCIAL CORPORATION

The Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation is a Crown agent responsible for servicing and retiring Ontario Hydro's provincially guaranteed debt. It provides the risk management, cash management, banking and accounting services to manage and retire the debt. The OEFC is also responsible for administering the pension assets of Ontario Hydro until they can be allocated among the successor companies' pension plans.

ENSURING A RELIABLE SUPPLY OF POWER WAS LONG ONTARIO HYDRO'S DOMINANT CUSTOMER SERVICE VALUE. In the competitive marketplace, however, there are as many service objectives as there are customers; each relationship can be unique. OPG and OHSC, Ontario Hydro's commercial successors, see this new reality as an opportunity to provide an ever-expanding array of services that customers say they need and value.

ONTARIO HYDRO HAS FULFILLED THE AMBITIOUS MANDATE OF ITS VISIONARY FOUNDERS. A vast and sturdy network of wires brings electricity to everyone in Ontario. The hydroelectric potential of the province has largely been tapped. New technologies and processes have been readily embraced. Many major industries, the main source of Ontario's prosperity in this century, were attracted here by Ontario Hydro's low-cost, abundant power. These achievements are an enduring legacy to Ontario, as well as to the commercial corporations that succeed Ontario Hydro in the new era of customer choice. Bridging the accomplishments of the past and the opportunities of the future are four defining values: safety, reliability, competitiveness and customer service. Each of these is grounded in Ontario Hydro's traditional strengths. And each has been carried forward into the successor companies, guiding them to new achievements – beyond the imagination of Ontario Hydro's founders, perhaps, but not beyond their values.

IN A TIME OF CLIMATIC EXTREMES, UNPRECEDENTED OPERATIONAL CHALLENGES AND HISTORIC RESTRUCTURING LEGISLATION, THE PEOPLE OF ONTARIO HYDRO NEVER LOST FOCUS ON THEIR CORE MISSION: RELIABLY AND SAFELY MEETING PROVINCIAL ELECTRICITY DEMAND. AT THE SAME TIME, THEY IMPROVED ASSET VALUE, LAUNCHED NEW SERVICES, ENHANCED CUSTOMER RELATIONSHIPS AND RESPONDED TO EMERGENCIES WITH PROFESSIONALISM AND COMMITMENT.

The Demerger Project

ORCHESTRATING THE LARGEST CORPORATE DEMERGER IN CANADIAN HISTORY TO ENSURE ITS SUCCESSOR COMPANIES WERE FULLY OPERATIONAL ON APRIL 1, 1999, WAS ONTARIO HYDRO'S FINAL SUCCESS.

The seamless transition of Ontario Hydro into its successor companies without even a momentary interruption of critical activities was the mission of the Demerger Project launched in mid-1998. Nearly one hundred employees were directly assigned to the complex undertaking and over one thousand more were indirectly involved at some point. The project was guided by the provincial government's 1997 White Paper on electricity industry restructuring and its enabling legislation, the Energy Competition Act, 1998.

A Demerger Project Office was charged with coordinating, monitoring and expediting the approximately 800 separate project activities identified by a Task Implementation Committee and assigned to one of six Task Working Groups, each responsible for a key aspect of the transition. An overview of the project's accomplishments:

• Corporate Finance Restructuring. The financial architecture of the new business entities was defined, including their debt/equity structures, credit ratings, asset valuation, initial balance sheets and business plans. The approach taken for each successor business involved balancing three key considerations: establishing a competitive electricity marketplace; allowing for the enhancement of shareholder value; and optimizing the repayment of the provincially backed Ontario Hydro debt.

• Governance/New Legislation. Transfer Orders for transfer of assets, contracts, liabilities, litigation and staff to the successor companies were prepared for government execution, and operating licences for OPG and OHSC were obtained from the regulator, the Ontario Energy Board. This area of activity also involved coordinating Ontario Hydro's position on restructuring legislation and regulation and recommending a schedule for the proclamation of sections of the Energy Competition Act, 1998 (ECA) and repeal of corresponding sections of the law it superseded, the Power Corporation Act (PCA).

• Operations. The specific functional requirements of each successor company were identified and addressed. These included each entity's organizational structure and staffing, initial operating plans and budgets, and due diligence in areas such as environment, contingency/emergency planning and First Nations considerations. Of particular importance in this area was coordinating the complex functional needs of large projects under way prior to demerger planning, such as the Nuclear Asset

The Demerger Project built the bridge between the achievements of our singular past and the opportunities that lie in our separate futures.

Optimization Plan, that were critical to the operation of a successor company.

• Legal/Transition Issues. All of Ontario Hydro's legislative and regulatory obligations under the PCA were transferred to a successor, in accordance with the new legislation. Some of these responsibilities, such as the regulation of municipal electric utilities, were assigned to regulatory bodies, such as the Ontario Energy Board.

• Corporate Functions. The necessary infrastructure for services and functions previously provided by a business unit in Ontario Hydro was developed for each successor. Services such as purchasing, health, security, telecom, real estate, information technology, corporate records, investment recovery and office space were provided through inter-company service agreements or make/buy decisions. Functions such as law, human resources, audit, finance, pension, treasury and corporate affairs were similarly addressed.

• Human Resources. Each employee of Ontario Hydro as of March 31, 1999, was transferred to a successor company, which had in place all necessary records and applicable labour agreements, as well as pension, compensation, benefits, and health and safety plans.

A full report on all the above activities was provided to each successor company prior to April 1. This report included an analysis of the subsequent work to be completed before the government declares the Ontario electricity market open to competition.

The success of the Demerger Project was twofold. Not only did it meet all its objectives, it also allowed everyone else in the corporation to continue devoting all their time and expertise to serving Ontario Hydro customers and, after the transition date, the customers of its successors. It built the bridge between the achievements of our singular past and the opportunities that lie in our separate futures.

Excellence Today Means Competitiveness Tomorrow

GETTING READY TO COMPETE AS ONTARIO POWER GENERATION IN WHAT WILL SOON BE ONE OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST POWER MARKETPLACES, THE GENERATION COMPANY INCREASED OPERATIONAL EFFICIENCIES, TECHNOLOGICALLY UPGRADED SEVERAL FACILITIES AND MADE SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS TOWARDS ITS GOAL OF BECOMING ONE OF THE WORLD'S TOP PERFORMERS.

NUCLEAR

Ontario Hydro Nuclear (OHN) made substantial progress during the last 15 months towards its multi-year goal of bringing its operations back into the top quartile of global nuclear industry performance.

Early in 1998, the Board of Directors approved the Integrated Improvement Program (IIP), the operational underpinning of the Nuclear Asset Optimization Plan (NAOP) that had been recommended in 1997 by the Nuclear Performance Advisory Group. The NAOP called for the temporary lay-up of eight reactor units at Pickering A and Bruce A and the concentration of OHN resources on the remaining 12, four each at Pickering B, Bruce B and Darlington.

By the end of April 1998, the major elements of the IIP had been identified, including milestone dates and key deliverables. A team from the World Association of Nuclear Operators (WANO) visited Pickering, Bruce and Darlington in the spring of 1998 and confirmed that the IIP was a comprehensive statement of the problems needing correction in OHN and that the program was sound. Key areas for performance improvement included the planning and execution of planned outages; the implementation of standardized policies, procedures and processes; and the establishment of an organization needed to achieve all objectives.

By March 1998, the four Pickering A units were safely laid up, following some 100,000 hours of work. Most of the staff were then transferred to Pickering B to work on IIP projects on those four reactors. In March as well, the Board reconfirmed its August 1997 decision to temporarily lay up Bruce A units 3 and 4 in order to free up more resources for the IIP. The Bruce lay-up work began in April 1998 and will be completed in 1999. Some of the Bruce A staff moved over to the Bruce B units; others have been deployed to Darlington.

The most fundamental indicator of nuclear performance improvement is a composite index based on nine measures specified by WANO:

- Capability Factor
- Safety System Performance
- Chemistry Performance
- Unplanned Capability Loss Factor
- Thermal Performance
- Collective Radiation Exposure
- Reactor Trip Rate
- Fuel Reliability
- Industrial Safety Accident Rate

By the end of the first quarter of 1999, the OHN Performance Index had reached a level of 69.2

– out of a total index of 100 – exceeding its target for the fifth consecutive quarter and bettering by nearly 11 index points the level at the end of 1997.

Stakeholder Communications

In late 1997, OHN began issuing monthly performance report cards to keep government and other stakeholders apprised of nuclear recovery progress. These report cards continued throughout 1998 and into 1999. In addition to the WANO-specified OHN Performance Index, the card also reported on 14 other monthly performance indicators, grouped in the following four areas:

- Public Safety
- Production Performance
- Environment
- Employee Safety

Of the 15 indicators on the monthly report card, OHN had met or exceeded the target in 12 categories by the end of March 1999, compared with only six at the end of January 1998. In the area of Production Performance, for example, OHN's net electrical production for 1998 was 59.9 terawatt-hours, compared with the target, 56.3 terawatt-hours; and the capability factor was better than its target, as was the total of outage days per unit.

While these numbers were very encouraging, Nuclear is determined to accelerate IIP progress during the remainder of 1999, to improve its ability to supply competitively priced power in the Ontario and North American energy marketplaces as they open to competition.

Also in the Reporting Period

In March 1998, Pickering was granted a 12-month operating licence by the Atomic Energy Control Board, and in March 1999, the licence was renewed for a further two years. In November 1998, Darlington was granted a two-year licence renewal.

In the first quarter of 1998, the Bruce Heavy Water Plant was decommissioned.

Between June and December 1998, Pickering set a new employee safety record of 2.6 million person-hours worked without a lost-time injury.

Nuclear Waste Management

Ontario Hydro has always had responsibility for the management of nuclear waste in a manner that is safe, as well as environmentally, socially and financially responsible. Finding a safe and acceptable long-term way to manage Canada's nuclear fuel waste has been studied for several years by the federal government, with support from Ontario Hydro. In December, a major step towards this goal was taken when the government of Canada responded to the report of the Nuclear Fuel Waste Management and Disposal Concept Environmental Assessment Panel.

Ontario Hydro welcomed the federal government response and the direction it provided for the long-term management of nuclear fuel waste in Canada. Work is continuing with the federal and Ontario governments and other Canadian nuclear utilities to implement work programs designed to achieve the goals of the federal government's nuclear waste management policy.

Isotope Sales

Ontario Power Generation also succeeds Ontario Hydro as the world's largest supplier of the radioactive isotopes cobalt 60 and tritium, and is one of the largest suppliers of deuterium oxide (heavy water). These isotopes, which are byproducts of the company's Nuclear operations, are in great demand in the medical, industrial and research sectors. Isotope sales have consistently met business plan projections while contributing to Ontario Hydro's net income.

Despite facing unusual production demands during 1998, Fossil met or bettered all of its key performance targets.

FOSSIL

The Fossil business was called on to dramatically increase its production during 1998 and the first quarter of 1999 to offset reductions in Nuclear. It delivered 35 terawatt-hours of energy in 1998 – its highest production level in over a decade. As a result, provincial electricity supply reliability and service to export customers was never compromised, even during the unprecedented surge in summer peak demand.

In the first quarter of 1999, even with strong secondary sales and January production that was the highest for any single month this decade, Fossil production was slightly below target because of higher than expected Hydroelectric and Nuclear production.

Despite facing unusual production demands during 1998, Fossil met or bettered all of its key performance targets, including those related to the environment. Generating-unit reliability was significantly better than targeted levels and, at the same time, both OM&A and fuel unit energy costs were kept under budget. Not only did the business meet its ambitious safety targets, but its performance in this area was the best ever.

To achieve this dramatic increase in production from previous years, Fossil stepped up virtually all its production plans. Throughout the period, reliability and flexibility were the hallmarks of Fossil's operation. When very favourable market conditions developed, Fossil was able to quickly change its plans – by realigning maintenance outages, fuel deliveries and staffing – to take advantage of higher prices.

Another key factor in Fossil's performance was its fuel supply program, which had to be ramped up quickly but economically. During 1998, the program not only provided the 15 million tons of coal and 3 million barrels of oil required to generate 35 terawatt-hours, it also was able to increase the proportion of low-sulphur, high-quality coal in the fuel mix. This helped ensure that the business met acid gas emission regulations and self-imposed emission rate targets for both acid gas and carbon dioxide emissions.

In December, the Thunder Bay plant achieved ISO 14001 certification, and at Lennox the return to service of two mothballed units was completed. Also late in the year, the Lennox plant celebrated the successful completion of its gas pipeline and boiler conversion project, enabling two of the plant's four units to burn both natural gas and oil. The conversion lowers the plant's operating costs by about 20%. It also reduces sulphur dioxide, nitrogen oxide and greenhouse gas emissions by about 25%.

The Nanticoke and Lambton plants made progress on major remedial programs, including a variety of turbine and boiler projects that will improve future reliability, operating efficiency and environmental performance. In addition, Nanticoke made modifications so it could use natural gas instead of oil in the furnace ignition system, as well as to fire a coal drying process to improve the combustion of lower-cost, low-sulphur coal from the western United States. The plant also completed installation of new burners on five of its eight generating units, reducing nitrogen oxide emissions from those units by about 30%.

HYDROELECTRIC

A shortened spring snow melt coupled with below-normal precipitation across the province

resulted in Hydroelectric's total 1998 energy production from its 69 generating stations being 2.7 terawatt-hours less than the target of 34.6. The lower water levels, however, gave the Hydroelectric business the opportunity to perform necessary facility maintenance and more aggressively implement its ongoing program of capital investments. During the year, the 14th unit of a 16-unit rehabilitation program was completed at Robert H. Saunders Generating Station. At the Sir Adam Beck 2 Generating Station, the third and fourth units of a 16-unit upgrade were completed, with new runners and major components replaced or refurbished. In total, Hydroelectric invested $134 million in 1998 on these and other refurbishment programs.

Also in 1998, Hydroelectric completed significant portions of a program leading to ISO 14001 certification of its Environmental Management System (EMS) for its production facilities. The EMS ensures that Hydroelectric facilities are operated in a manner that meets internationally recognized quality standards for environmental performance, which is increasingly important in a competitive marketplace.

Hydroelectric formed a Small Hydro Division in 1998, comprising 26 stations accounting for almost 2% of the total Hydroelectric capacity. The new division creates a more distinct business focus for these assets, providing a greater degree of operational flexibility and better positioning them for the growing consumer interest in environment-friendly power.

Hydroelectric had many occasions to celebrate both its past and present achievements in 1998. In March, Ear Falls G.S. was reopened after a fire in 1997 that badly damaged the powerhouse and the generators. The station was refurbished in record time, complete with a new powerhouse and four new generators.

In August, celebrations marked the 100th anniversary of DeCew Falls G.S. 1 in St. Catharines, Ontario's oldest operating hydroelectric station. Other significant service milestones this year were the 50th anniversary of Stewartville G.S. on the Madawaska River and the 40th anniversary of Robert H. Saunders G.S. on the St. Lawrence River. These celebrations were all reminders of the enduring value of our hydroelectric system and give greater meaning to our reinvestments to preserve and enhance our ability to produce safe and reliable energy from a renewable water resource.

WORKING WITH OUR CUSTOMERS

Our core product is electricity but our flexibility in pricing, supply conditions, energy services and account management allowed us to tailor offerings to best meet customer needs.

Here are some examples of how Ontario Hydro strengthened customer relationships through new services, communications and business initiatives.

- Customers learned how to understand and benefit from the coming competitive electricity marketplace through the Quest – Learning Together series of day-long sessions held throughout the year.
- Customers participating in the Interconnected Market Gain Sharing Program made money in June 1998 during a major price spike in the U.S. Northeast. The program allowed firm power customers to reduce their purchases in exchange for a share of OPG's gains from selling power at higher market prices.
- In response to customer demand, Ontario Hydro designed a wholesale green power offering that is EcoLogo certified. It includes new and existing renewables such as small hydro, landfill gas and wind.

Focused on Reliability – Poised for Growth

MAINTAINING AND IMPROVING WIRES NETWORKS THAT COULD CIRCLE THE GLOBE NEARLY FOUR TIMES WAS THE FIRST RESPONSIBILITY OF ONTARIO HYDRO SERVICES COMPANY. THE SECOND WAS THE GROWTH OF COMPETITIVE BUSINESSES THROUGH THE MARKETING OF ENERGY, NETWORK AND RELATED SERVICES THAT CUSTOMERS WANT, NEED AND VALUE.

ICE STORM SHOWCASES CRISIS CAPABILITIES

The fundamental strengths of Ontario Hydro Services Company (OHSC) were never more impressively illustrated than in January 1998, when over 600,000 people in an area of 25,000 square kilometres in Eastern Ontario lost power during the most severe ice storm on record. In five devastating days, the sheer weight of unprecedented accumulations of ice – nearly twice the typical amount for an entire year – literally crushed the electricity system. Hundreds of steel transmission towers crumpled. Seven thousand wooden distribution poles snapped like matchsticks, bringing 1,800 pole-top transformers down with them. By the time it was over, the storm had damaged 40% of Eastern Ontario's transmission and distribution systems.

Local OHSC and municipal crews began power restoration efforts even before the storm abated, and reinforcements quickly flowed into the region from across the province and beyond. At the peak of the effort, nearly 2,200 front-line workers laboured 16 hours a day, seven days a week, in piercing cold and sometimes blizzard-like snowstorms. Over half were Ontario Hydro staff; the rest were from other utilities in Ontario and elsewhere. Nearly 1,000 Canadian Armed Forces personnel worked tirelessly alongside the utility crews. Behind the scenes, hundreds more OHSC staff orchestrated the supply lines, answered a quarter-million calls from worried customers, and handled the countless details that went into speeding the recovery. Within two weeks, over 90% of all affected Ontario Hydro residential and business customers had their power restored, an incredible feat by any standards. A post-event analysis led to an updating and reorganization of OHSC emergency response procedures, so that if such an event occurs again, the recovery would be even quicker.

The historic response of Ontario Hydro Services Company staff to the ice storm will long serve as the reminder we all perhaps need occasionally that the most important element of power system reliability is the human one. The skill, dedication and professionalism brought by OHSC staff to this crisis are with us all year long. They are the reason OHSC is confident it can continue to maintain the transmission and distribution reliability standards Ontario has come to expect, and do so with increasing efficiency and continuously renewed sensitivity to our customers' needs.

ASSET MANAGEMENT BUSINESS MODEL

OHSC has adopted an asset management

The fundamental strengths of OHSC were illustrated in January 1998, during the most severe ice storm on record.

business model for its wires networks that separates decisions on the investments needed to maintain and improve assets from the actual work on those assets. Under this model, which is also in use at best-practice utilities worldwide, OHSC's Network Asset Management Group makes the investment decisions and the Network Services Group performs the work. This approach ensures reliability and optimum use of assets with the most efficient use of OHSC's human and financial resources.

At the transmission level, the new model has been implemented with the creation of the Transmission Operation Management (TOM) Centre – OHSC's link to other key electricity system participants: suppliers, customers, the Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO) and Network Services. The centre also coordinates and implements emergency response plans during significant transmission system events. It also contains Outage Management, System Performance, Operating Effectiveness and Operating Strategy Implementation departments.

At the distribution level, OHSC has launched its new Distribution Operations Management Centre, which will take over responsibility for answering after-hours trouble calls for the entire province by September 15, 1999. The centre allows much better coordination of work crews and lets us inform customers when they can expect their power to be restored. Eventually, the Distribution Operations Management Centre will operate a sophisticated Distribution Outage Management System, which will further improve customer service.

OHSC has also initiated a major re-engineering of its business processes, with a new work management, material management and financial system and an upgrade of computer technology infrastructure.

NEW GENERATION PLANT IN REMOTE NORTHERN COMMUNITY

To ensure future reliability to the Northern logging community of Armstrong, the Remote Communities program installed a new diesel generating plant comprising three generators with a total capacity of 2,550 kilowatts (kW) and a prime rating of 1,450 kW. Peak load in the service area is now 900 kW, allowing community and local industry growth. The prime rating of the existing 25-year-old plant was being exceeded. With the old plant located close to a trout stream, relocation to another, lower-risk site was the preferred option.

The new installation incorporates the latest in operational and environmental controls, such as a SCADA system. It is housed in a diesel plant that employs the most up-to-date environmental technology for these remote applications.

As part of the legal separation of OPG and OHSC, a special legislative provision was put in place to keep the generation business within OHSC in remote Far North communities.

CUSTOMER COMMUNICATION CENTRES UPGRADED, EXPANDED

The centralized Customer Communication Centres (CCC), which celebrated their first full year of operation in 1998, experienced their "trial by ice" in January by fielding as many as 30,000 calls a day in round-the-clock operations. An analysis of the ice storm response led to the installation of new call flooding technologies that enable automated reporting of outages directly from the customer to the appropriate service centre.

During the year as well, a Customer Loyalty Centre was set up within CCC's operation. The centres handle billing and service inquiries and issues for over 900,000 retail customers. The Customer Loyalty Centre works with customers to quickly resolve their concerns, taking corrective or compensatory action when necessary. By tracking complaints, the centre can help determine the nature and scope of service failures and assist in identifying policy and process changes that lead to improvements.

Consolidating the customer telephone service to the Customer Communication Centres allowed the extension of service hours: customers can now call from 7:30 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. This year the centres will increase availability to customers even more. Although 24-hour emergency outage response service has always been provided, a new call answering system will be brought on line, allowing a higher volume of outage emergency calls. As well, the centres will implement a further extension to hours, opening up our regular lines until 8:00 p.m.

OH TELECOM VENTURE

OHSC began preparing in 1998 to launch telecommunications. As a "carriers' carrier," OH Telecom may transmit data and voice communications through its optical fibre network in Ontario for clients such as long-distance telephone carriers, Internet service providers and corporations with large-scale data transfer requirements.

RETAIL MERCHANT COMPETITIVE SERVICES

Commercially oriented services were introduced by OHSC in 1998. Indeed, this is an example of the OHSC strategy of building competitive businesses by leveraging existing assets and expertise. All its non-regulated energy services are offshoots of its resident skills and are aimed at identified market opportunities that have been carefully analyzed for their growth potential.

PAYONE PROGRAM LAUNCHED

PayONE is a sophisticated bill consolidation and utility accounting service aimed at commercial and institutional customers with multiple sites, such as restaurant chains, property management companies, retailers and school boards. The program, piloted with McDonald's locations in Ontario, collects all the utility bills the customer receives (such as electricity, gas, water and sewage), verifies them, pays the utility and sends a single, electronic consolidated bill in a format that best suits the customer's needs. Besides freeing up accounting staff and saving customers money in other ways, the service provides utility usage and cost profiles, trending and benchmarking that will support operating decisions and help set budgets. PayONE signed up several clients in 1998 and more are expected in 1999.

CUSTOM SOLUTIONS

Commercial and industrial energy management is a growing business sector and Custom Solutions is already in this business, with some early notable successes under its belt. The largest was a project to identify, design, implement and finance utility cost-saving opportunities for Cadillac Fairview at 18 commercial properties across Ontario. Total savings of $1.1 million annually were identified on a one-time investment of $3.2 million.

Other services include PowerSelect, which addresses power quality requirements, and Utility Accounting and Analysis. This latter service, among other things, simplifies, compares and analyzes billing data for multi-site customers and gives them a historical view of their electricity consumption and operating costs.

NORTHWIND TORONTO PROJECT

OHSC, in a commercial alliance with Toronto

Hydro and Unicom Thermal Technologies of Chicago, is developing Canada's first major district cooling project, which will provide services in Toronto's downtown core.

OPEX 2000

In January 1999, OHSC's program to achieve operational excellence was launched. By overhauling old processes or introducing new ones, OpEx 2000 will enable OHSC to optimize capital and productivity, and deliver excellent customer service. In short, through OpEx 2000, we will ensure we are running effectively and efficiently – and that we have what it takes to thrive in the competitive marketplace.

Several key processes and initiatives, critical to business success, constitute OpEx 2000: Customer Service; Distribution Network Asset Management; Transmission Network Asset Management; Design and Construction; Resource Management (Scheduling and Bid/Work Ordering); Operations, Maintenance and Restoration; Logistical Support (Trades Training, Supply Management, Fleet Management); Facility Management; Performance Management; Health, Safety and Environment; and Change Management/Communications.

In 1998, OHSC Forestry achieved the type of productivity gains to be realized through OpEx 2000 process improvements. Through such measures as the consolidation of crews, use of temporary work headquarters to reduce traveling time and the establishment of clear performance objectives, more work was accomplished, more safely, in 1998 than in 1997. This achievement is even more significant given the fact that all regular forestry work had to be suspended for six weeks in early 1998 because of the ice storm restoration demands.

LARGE-SCALE YEAR 2000 TEST

On March 6, 1999, Ontario's first major test of Y2K readiness of OHSC's transmission network was successfully conducted without any interruption of power to the 180,000 customers of Toronto Hydro that might have been affected. At midnight, the SCADA system for Manby Transmission Station and the seven other transmission stations it controls, as well as all associated protection and communications equipment, underwent a simulated rollover to midnight, January 1, 2000. While each of these systems had been previously tested individually and certified Year 2000 ready, this was the first test of all the equipment working together. The test then continued until the clocks on the equipment successfully passed the simulated date of February 29, 2000, another critical date because next year is a leap year.

ARC2000 PROJECT

Another key program was launched in the first quarter of 1999 to develop an information technology architecture for OHSC that will govern how the business acquires, builds, modifies and uses information technology (IT) resources, from applications and databases, to network, software and hardware components. OHSC's independence, and the expanded information demands of an open marketplace, require considerable investment in these areas. Electronic interactions with the Independent Electricity Market Operator and generating companies, emerging regulatory requirements and both the OpEx 2000 and Market Ready initiatives are examples of significant IT-enabled projects either in progress or in the advanced planning stages. ARC2000 will establish an integrated framework of principles, specifications, standards and directions to guide these and all other such projects in OHSC's future.

Ontario Hydro's investment in Luz del Sur yielded a 16% dividend as the Peruvian electricity distribution company continued to grow and improve productivity.

PHASE SHIFTERS AUGMENT MICHIGAN-ONTARIO CONNECTION

Under the terms of the recently signed Michigan-Ontario Interconnection Facilities Expansion Agreement between OHSC and two Michigan utilities, two phase-shifting transformers will be installed and operational by mid-2000 at Lambton and another will be installed in Michigan by Detroit Edison, along with a new autotransformer. This joint project will enhance electricity transactions between the two jurisdictions and increase Ontario's capacity to import from the U.S. and relieve congestion on the east-to-west movement of power.

GREENCHOICE GENERATION

Some customers want to choose to have part of their electricity come from renewable energy sources. Through our GreenChoice Generation pilot, some of OHSC's retail customers have that option. Although "green" energy costs slightly more, some companies are willing to pay the extra dollars to know that green power is being added to the grid. GreenChoice Generation customers receive a plaque showing how much of their energy comes from environment-friendly sources and are authorized to use the EcoLogo symbol on company letterhead and promotional materials.

ONTARIO HYDRO INTERNATIONAL INC.

Ontario Hydro International's 15% investment in Luz del Sur yielded a 16% dividend for 1998 as the Peruvian electricity distribution company continued to grow and improve productivity. Although the Peruvian economy was hit by adverse El Niño weather and affected by the Asian economic slowdown, Luz del Sur's energy sales grew by 10% as the number of customers grew by 2%. Continuing efforts to improve the performance of the distribution system resulted in a 17% reduction in energy losses.

During 1998, Ontario Hydro assisted Luz del Sur to introduce a state-of-the-art thermovision unit for preventive maintenance on its transmission and distribution network. This technology will help LDS further reduce operations and maintenance costs.

In Central America, OHII directed Ontario Hydro's assistance to Honduras in the wake of Hurricane Mitch. Hydro pledged $500,000 for expertise and equipment to help restore electricity to the devastated country. Two technicians were quickly sent to work with the Honduran utility to assess reconstruction needs.

Gateway to the Electricity Marketplace

CENTRAL MARKET OPERATIONS' ROLE AS THE MINUTE-BY-MINUTE GUARDIAN OF ONTARIO'S TRANSMISSION SYSTEM SECURITY DID NOT CHANGE WHEN IT BECAME THE PROVINCE'S INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY MARKET OPERATOR, BUT ITS MANDATE WAS GREATLY ENLARGED TO INCLUDE MANAGEMENT OF ONE OF NORTH AMERICA'S LARGEST POWER MARKETPLACES.

Ontario Hydro's Central Market Operations (CMO) has faced extraordinary challenges during the past 15 months, beginning with the January 1998 ice storm, which felled several large sections of the transmission system in Eastern Ontario. During the storm and its aftermath, CMO staff worked around the clock, and in close cooperation with both the Generation and Services companies, to deal with the numerous outages, adjust system equipment and minimize the impact of the storm on the rest of Ontario and on interconnections with other jurisdictions.

Six months later, another climatic extreme, this time a prolonged heat wave in several large areas of North America, shattered peak power demand records and put unprecedented pressures on the continental interconnected network. Again, CMO staff worked closely with the rest of Ontario Hydro and with other jurisdictions to not only meet the province's record demand but also export power to other jurisdictions. Despite these challenges posed by the heat wave and the ice storm, CMO met or exceeded all performance targets of the North American Electricity Reliability Council (NERC) throughout this period.

In addition to safeguarding bulk electricity system security, CMO staff played a key role in the development of Ontario's future competitive electricity marketplace. CMO specialists were represented on all technical panels of the government-appointed Market Design Committee, as well as on the rules drafting team and the Coordination Committee.

CMO TO IMO: THE TRANSITION

During 1998, work began on the infrastructure program to transform CMO into the Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO) called for in the Energy Competition Act, 1998, the provincial legislation that restructures Ontario's electricity system. This program, which will continue throughout the rest of 1999, will deliver the design, development, documentation, testing, commissioning and implementation of the critical operational infrastructure of the IMO. By year-end, independent systems for financial and treasury management were already in place, and the entire program is on schedule to meet all deadlines required for the opening of the marketplace.

Sustainable Development: A Key Element of Future Competitive Success

Environmental performance is increasingly viewed as a key customer consideration that will grow in importance as the competitive power market matures. Given similar prices, many customers will prefer a supplier with a strong environmental track record. Market research shows that many customers are willing to pay at least a modest premium for power that they know has been produced in environmentally sensitive ways. Moreover, investors are becoming keenly interested in how environmental obligations are managed, ongoing compliance assured and potential liabilities avoided.

For these reasons, Ontario Hydro's commitment to sustainable development practices has laid the foundation for the competitive success of its successor companies. Sustainable development – conducting business in a way that meets current needs without compromising the ability of future generations to meet theirs – is not so much a specific program as a way of thinking about three "bottom lines": financial, social and environmental.

The financial aspects of sustainable development activities in both successor companies focus on two major objectives: getting more value from environmental expenditures and reducing future environmental risks and liabilities through sound environmental management programs and, where necessary, remediation efforts. The social bottom line, on the other hand, drives us to earn the respect and loyalty of our customers, including those in the communities within which we operate. There are many ways in which this objective is pursued, principal of which is an honest and transparent disclosure of the environmental impacts of our operations. OPG, for example, will continue to consult with established environmental advisory groups around its major generating stations and is actively engaging the local community, as did Ontario Hydro, on how it can better respond to their needs.

Ontario Hydro's environmental performance commitments were embodied in the adoption of the ISO 14001 standards for Environmental Management Systems by all of the businesses within the corporation.

The following are some of the many sustainable-development-oriented projects completed during the past 15 months.

Deer Lake Mini-Hydro

Deer Lake is one of the 23 communities served by OHSC's Remote Communities group. It is accessible only by air or winter road. Until recently, the community's electricity was supplied by three diesel generators. With the community load demand outstripping existing plant capability, Ontario Hydro Technologies installed two 245-kilowatt mini-hydroelectric generators at nearby Shoulderblade Falls. This project was partnered with the Remote Communities group, Deer Lake First Nation and the federal Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development. This installation will provide nearly 90% of the community's power needs and significantly reduce dependence on diesel fuel.

Emissions Reduction Trading

Since 1996, Ontario Hydro has participated with other industries, government and non-governmental organizations in the Pilot Emissions Reduction Trading (PERT) Project. The goal of the project, in which Ontario Hydro's successors will continue to participate, is to provide market incentives to improve environmental performance. By voluntarily investing in equipment and practices that reduce emissions, PERT member companies earn credits, which can be bought or sold, for each tonne of emissions reduced. In 1998, Ontario Hydro purchased credits from Beaver Fuels, enabling that company to sell cleaner gasoline without raising prices at the pump, and sold nitrogen oxide credits to the Hartford Steam Boiler Company in Connecticut. Ontario Hydro's participation in this innovative program helped reduce nitrogen oxide emissions in eastern North America, and its generation successor company will steadily add to that contribution.

Ontario Hydro has helped reduce nitrogen oxide emissions in eastern North America, and its generation successor company will steadily add to that contribution.

Restoring the Storm-Damaged Landscape

Thousands of trees in Eastern Ontario were killed by the January 1998 ice storm. Estimates placed tree damage as high as 70% in the Ottawa-Kingston corridor alone. To aid in environmental restoration, Ontario Hydro donated $50,000 to the Evergreen Foundation to fund a program enlisting volunteer support to plant new trees in the region. Three thousand trees – among them red maple, grey birch, green ash, white spruce, trembling aspen, white oak, white elm and linden – were distributed to 35 schools and 28 community groups.

Human Resources/Health and Safety Performance

To meet the needs of the business, including the unique requirements of the nuclear recovery program and the challenges associated with the demerger of Ontario Hydro, Corporate Human Resources:

- redefined the business relationship with 95% of 21,000 employees and greatly improved operational flexibility by successfully negotiating separate collective agreements for each of the successor businesses;
- allocated approximately 21,000 employees and 15,000 pensioners to the successor companies without a single grievance;
- due to excellent cooperation with the unions, resolved a backlog of more than 3,100 grievances with as few as 10% being resolved by a third party;
- defined new organizational structures, responsibilities and accountabilities;
- introduced a new, contemporary Code of Business Conduct designed to reinforce the culture required of the companies in a competitive marketplace;
- introduced a new and integrated payroll system designed to contribute to improved productivity and ensure Year 2000 compliance;
- enhanced recruitment systems for new and existing skills;
- developed succession planning and executive development programs to ensure effective leadership and management capability in the future; and
- organized and administered Ontario Hydro's 10th annual Corporate Awards program to recognize and celebrate the excellence, ingenuity and capability of employees in the areas of customer service, safety, environmental sustainability, technology and innovation; the various projects saved the corporation over $154 million.

Health and Safety

- The unfortunate death of an employee in a March 1999 motor vehicle accident was the corporation's first fatality since 1994.
- Although the number of days lost/charged per million hours worked (Accident Severity Rate) was higher in 1998 than in 1997, this critical indicator of occupational health and safety has nevertheless improved by more than 200% over the last five years.

• The All Injury Frequency Rate, which tracks the number of incidents occurring within the corporation, improved in 1998.

Ontario Hydro Technologies

Throughout 1998, Ontario Hydro Technologies (OHT) supported a wide range of specialized needs from Hydro's business units. OHT achieved ISO 9001 certification in 1998. In April 1999, OHT was renamed Ontario Power Technologies, a wholly owned subsidiary of Ontario Power Generation.

Environmental Land Assessment: OHT conducted a major soils testing program for OHSC, sampling nearly 1,000 transmission, distribution and microwave communication sites in the province, and conducted comprehensive testing through its analytical chemistry laboratory. This project was part of OHSC's Land Assessment and Remediation Program and was one of the largest programs of its kind ever conducted in Canada.

Extensive assistance was provided to generating station operations including:
• a comprehensive review and predictions of corrosion and deuterium uptake in operating pressure tubes for Nuclear;
• new methods for flaw assessment in fuel channels at Bruce B and assessments for Bruce, Darlington and Pickering;
• leak detection technologies for steam generators;
• seismic testing of Darlington components;
• outage support for ultrasonic inspection of steam generator tubes at nuclear stations;
• engineering support for nuclear maintenance operations;
• generator stator chemical cleaning at Pickering;
• flow-induced vibration analysis of Bruce B preheater tubes;
• accident/impact/handling analysis of radioactive waste transportation containers;
• emission characterization and consultation on stack sampling methods for Fossil; and
• penstock repairs at High Falls and specialized concrete services at Saunders G.S. for Hydroelectric.

Strategic Research and Development focused on three program areas: Customer Power, including energy efficiency and power quality enhancement; Smart Systems, including advanced system monitoring technologies; and Distributed Generation, such as fuel cells and micro turbines.

Business Development: With its strategic partner, Babcock & Wilcox, OHT launched a new applications company in March 1999 named Integran Technologies Inc. The new company will market an advanced materials technology developed at OHT in collaboration with researchers at the University of Toronto and Queen's University. Applications vary from improved lead acid batteries to wear-resistant materials coatings.

OHT successfully negotiated an exclusive licence agreement with Sumitomo Corporation for the commercialization in Japan of OHT's proprietary technologies for the destruction of PCBs in mineral oil and askarels, as well as for the decontamination of electrical equipment containing PCBs.

Ready for Year 2000

Ontario Hydro's Year 2000 readiness program was always a top priority of the corporation since 1996, when it began. The scope of the program, which continues under the successor companies, includes all necessary remediation of computer-dependent systems, contingency planning and close cooperation with stakeholders and strategic partners. The Y2K team, at times more than 600 professionals, is working with a budget in excess of $100 million on the three-stage program.

Stage One – Operational Sustainability – included the analysis, remediation, testing and Y2K readiness certification of all critical systems. This stage had essentially been completed by year-end 1998. An independent assessment of the program early in 1999 confirmed its basic soundness.

Stage Two – Operational Readiness – tests how the individually certified systems work together. These large-scale integration tests have been successfully conducted at generation sites (Bruce nuclear site, two of four planned fossil generation sites, and at five of seven planned hydroelectric generation sites) as well as at a major representative grid location (a set of transformer stations in the Toronto area). Ontario Hydro and its successor companies have been working with the North American Electricity Reliability Council (NERC) to test interoperability within the continent's Eastern Interconnection, of which Ontario is a component. Also during this stage, which is expected to be completed by mid-1999, Ontario Hydro's successor companies will assess the Y2K readiness of external suppliers, direct customers, municipal electric utilities and independent power producer partners.

Stage Three – Event Readiness. Based on the findings in Stage Two, emergency response and preparedness plans will be developed to ensure safety and reliability across Ontario and to minimize the potential risk from external suppliers and from other external entities. Drills and event simulations will be conducted in cooperation with NERC, and Ontario Hydro's successor companies will work with provincial and municipal agencies to pre-establish responses to unplanned power interruptions. Plans will be put in place to operate the electricity system in a conservative, precautionary posture during the Year 2000 rollover. This stage will be completed by November 1999.

Throughout the entire program, Ontario Hydro shared information with other utilities and participated in cross-industry programs to identify common risks and help find solutions. Moreover, information on Y2K readiness progress is made available to customers and other stakeholders through frequent publications and on the OPG and OHSC websites.

As this overview shows, Ontario Hydro took all possible actions to ensure the reliability of Ontario's power system when the clock ticks over at the end of 1999. As a result of these precautions, which the successor companies are completing, the direct impact of this unique event in human history is expected to be manageable in Ontario.

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS FOR THE THREE MONTHS ENDED MARCH 31, 1999

Ontario Hydro carried on business for the three months ended March 31, 1999, before operations were transferred to one of the successor entities upon the restructuring of the Corporation. During the three months, operations were typical compared to previous years' experiences, and were in accordance with plan. There were no significant, unforeseen events that affected the Corporation's operating results or financial position.

| (millions of dollars) | MARCH 31 1999 | 1998 (unaudited) |
|---|---|---|
| Revenues | 2,594 | 2,484 |
| Costs | 1,463 | 1,250 |
| Financing charges | 687 | 734 |
| Net income | 444 | 500 |
| Cash provided from operations | 806 | 719 |
| Cash used for investing activities | 149 | 228 |
| Cash used for financing activities | 587 | 401 |
| Interest coverage | 1.66 | 1.71 |

Net income for the first three months of 1999 was $444 million, down $56 million from 1998's first quarter. While revenue for the three months ended March 31, 1999, was $110 million higher and financing charges were $47 million lower, these were more than offset by a $213 million increase in costs.

Total revenue of $2,594 million for the first three months of 1999 is $110 million higher than revenue during the first quarter of 1998. Primary power and energy revenue of $2,511 million for the three months ended March 31, 1999, is $86 million higher than the $2,425 million revenue for the first three months of 1998. Energy sales increased in 1999 because warmer than usual weather conditions during the first quarter of 1998 lowered demand during that period.

Secondary power and energy revenue of $21 million for the three months ended March 31, 1999, is $16 million higher than the same period in 1998 because of increased energy sales outside the Province.

Other revenue of $62 million for the three months ended March 31, 1999, is $8 million higher than the $54 million for the first three months of 1998 because of a gain on investments.

Costs of $1,463 million for the three months ended March 31, 1999, are $213 million higher than the $1,250 million of costs for the first three months of 1998. The changes are as follows:

- $167 million increase in operation, maintenance & administration (OM&A) costs,
- $44 million increase in fuel used for electric generation,
- $17 million decrease in power purchased, and
- $19 million increase in depreciation and amortization.

OM&A costs are higher by $167 million for the three months ended March 31, 1999, compared to the same period in 1998. Significant variances are as follows:

- $50 million for repairs resulting from the 1998 ice storm, which were charged to the provision for future costs, lowered the costs charged to OM&A in 1998 compared to 1999,
- $30 million for increased integrated improvement program work in nuclear operations,
- $15 million preparing the Electricity Production, Merchant Function and Business Services groups to operate in the new business environment beginning April 1, 1999.

Included in OM&A costs for the three months ended March 31, 1999, is $37 million attributable to the final closing of Ontario Hydro's financial records, and a $23 million adjustment for obsolete nuclear materials inventory. This is dissimilar to March 31, 1998, because the prior year's first quarter results are on the basis of operations continuing as usual for the remainder of 1998.

The cost of $141 million for fuel used for electric generation during the first three months of 1999 is $44 million higher than the cost for the first three months of 1998, which is consistent with increased fossil generation and higher energy sales. Power purchased costs are $17 million less for the three months ended March 31, 1999, compared to the same period last year, because some of the purchases during the first three months of 1999 supported the Nuclear Asset Optimization Plan (NAOP) and the costs were charged to the provision for future costs.

Depreciation costs of $402 million are $19 million higher for the three months ended March 31, 1999, compared to the same period in 1998, which is consistent with fixed assets in service being higher as at March 31, 1999.

Financing charges of $687 million decreased $47 million for the first three months of 1999 compared to the same period in 1998, because of lower debt outstanding and lower interest rates on refinancings.

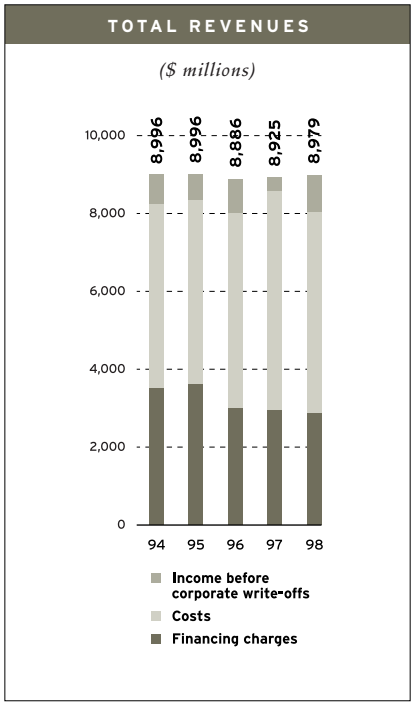
During the three months ended March 31, 1999, there was a $587 million reduction in debt compared to a $401 million reduction in the first quarter of 1998.

$149 million of cash from operations was invested in fixed and other assets during the three months ended March 31, 1999, compared to $228 million during the first quarter of 1998. Debt outstanding was reduced to $30,527 million as at March 31, 1999 from $31,221 million as at December 31, 1998.

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

Ontario Hydro's net income for 1998 was $1,831 million, compared with a net loss of $6,326 million in 1997. The results for the two years are not comparable due to the following significant items, which affected net income in each year. In 1997, the Board of Directors approved a number of charges and write-offs to current year's operations totaling $6,580 million, while in 1998 there were no write-offs. In 1998, there was a $887 million favourable adjustment to income to recognize the benefit associated with the Corporation having access to pension fund surplus. Access to the pension fund surplus arose as the result of changes included in the Energy Competition Act, 1998, enacted by the Government of Ontario (Government) in October 1998.

Ontario Hydro's 1998 income, before adjustment for the impact of the future employer pension contribution holidays, was $944 million. While this is $690 million higher than the corresponding figure for 1997, again, the results are not completely comparable because, in 1998, costs totaling $1,486 million were charged against a provision established at the end of 1997 for future costs, related principally to the nuclear recovery program, which could not be recovered through existing rates. In 1997, similar expenditures at a lower level were charged to operations.



Total revenues for 1998 were $8,979 million, $54 million higher than in 1997. This is the result of an $88 million increase in primary sales, partially offset by lower secondary sales and other revenues. Operating costs for 1998, excluding financing charges, amounted to $5,159 million, a decrease of $423 million from 1997. This reduction primarily reflects use of the 1997 provision for future costs. Financing charges of $2,876 million were $213 million lower than in 1997 mainly due to lower interest and foreign exchange costs.

Cash provided from operations decreased to $1,488 million in 1998 from $2,026 million in 1997. Proceeds of $5,698 million were received from the issuance of debt for long-term financing in 1998, compared to $2,321 million in 1997. The 1998 proceeds include three Canadian dollar domestic issues, a global market United States dollar bond issue, a global market Canadian dollar bond issue, a Canadian dollar Euro medium-term note issue, a private placement with the Province of Ontario (Province) and the issuance of Canadian dollar short-term notes and United States dollar-denominated commercial paper. In 1998, $5,899 million of cash was used to retire debt issued for long-term financing, compared with $3,257 million in 1997. Cash paid on settlement of swaptions amounted to $142 million in 1998, compared with $292 million in 1997.

Cash invested in fixed assets during 1998 was $823 million, compared with $881 million in 1997. Including changes in non-cash balances related to fixed assets, investment in fixed assets was $865 million in 1998 and $852 million in 1997.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

REVENUES

Primary Revenues

Primary revenues for 1998 amounted to $8,524 million, an increase of $88 million over 1997. The increase reflects broadly based growth in demand in the municipal, commercial and industrial sectors. Demand was sufficiently robust to offset the impact of the January ice storm, negative winter weather effects due to El Niño, and strikes affecting two large industrial customers. Municipal sales revenues rose by $145 million or 2.5 per cent over 1997, primarily due to higher sales volumes from air conditioning load in the warmer summer months and an increased level of commercial activity. Sales to retail customers in 1998 fell by $50 million or 3.1 per cent, reflecting milder winter weather and the continuing impact of moving customers to lower rate classes, as well as a reduction in late payment and service charges. Sales to direct industrial customers remained fairly steady at $917 million, compared with $924 million in 1997.

Secondary Revenues

Secondary power and energy revenues, mainly from surplus energy exports to utilities in the United States, amounted to $148 million in 1998, a $25 million or 14.4 per cent decrease from 1997. The lower sales are primarily due to a lack of available generation as a result of the nuclear recovery program, partially offset by very favourable spot market prices during the June to September period due to tight supply conditions in the midwestern portion of the United States, and hotter than normal weather.

Other Revenues

Other revenues of $307 million in 1998 decreased by $9 million from 1997, due mainly to lower heavy water and isotope sales and a decrease in consulting revenues, partially offset by a gain on the sale of surplus land.

COSTS

In 1997, Ontario Hydro's Board of Directors used its rate-setting authority to establish a provision for future costs against which certain expenditures, primarily related to the nuclear recovery program, would be charged as incurred from 1998 to 2001. This provision included an allowance for additional fuel costs expected to be incurred by having to place greater reliance upon fossil generation and purchased power, as well as related financing costs. The provision is more fully described in note 7 to the 1998 Consolidated Financial Statements. In 1998, a total of $1,486 million was charged to the provision for future costs. $1,231 million of this was related to the nuclear recovery program and the remainder was related to other costs.

Ontario Hydro's operating costs for 1998, excluding financing charges, totaled $5,159 million, $423 million lower than in 1997. This is primarily the result of the use in 1998 of the provision for future costs established at the end of 1997. Fixed operating costs of $4,662 million, consisting of provincial government levies, depreciation and amortization and financing charges, decreased by $282 million or 5.7 per cent from $4,944 million for 1997, mainly as a result of lower interest and foreign exchange costs.

Operation, Maintenance and Administration

OM&A costs of $2,178 million for the year ended December 31, 1998, decreased by $13 million from 1997. As indicated earlier, this variance results principally from the fact that preliminary costs of the nuclear recovery program in 1997 were charged to operations. In 1998, OM&A costs of $589 million, relating mainly to the nuclear recovery program, were charged to the 1997 provision for future costs.

Fuel Used For Electric Generation

The cost of fuel used for electric generation comprises the costs for coal, uranium, oil and water rental payments other than those made to the Province. The cost of fuel used for electric generation in 1998 was $350 million, a decrease of $347 million or 49.8 per cent from 1997, after charging $690 million in costs related to the replacement of nuclear production by higher-cost fossil production to the 1997 provision for future costs. Overall, internal generation in 1998 of 125,972 million kilowatt-hours was lower than generation in 1997 of 131,005 million kilowatt-hours, due to the nuclear recovery program. The shortfall in generation was compensated for by higher power purchases.

Power Purchased

Electricity purchases in 1998 amounted to $845 million, an increase of $6 million over 1997, after charging $78 million in costs related to the replacement of nuclear production by increased power purchases to the 1997 provision for future costs. The amount of power purchased in 1998 amounted to 16,992 million kilowatt-hours compared to 13,750 million kilowatt-hours in 1997, an increase of 24 per cent. The increase reflects a rise in power purchases from utilities in Canada and the United States as a result of lower internal generation due to the nuclear recovery program, and an increase in contracted generation from independent power producers. Ontario Hydro also buys electricity when it is economical to do so, during periods of peak demand or in emergencies, and to manage acid gas emission levels.

Provincial Government Levies

Provincial government levies totaled $274 million in 1998, a slight reduction from $277 million in 1997.

Ontario Hydro is required to pay to the Province an annual debt guarantee fee equal to one half of one per cent on the total debt guaranteed by the Province outstanding on the preceding December 31. The fee for 1998, based on guaranteed debt outstanding as at December 31, 1997, was relatively unchanged at $155 million compared with $156 million in 1997, as the year-over-year guaranteed debt level remained stable.

Provincial water rental payments, related to Ontario Hydro's use of provincial waters in the operation of its hydroelectric stations, also remained relatively stable at $119 million in 1998 compared with $121 million in 1997.

In 1998, Ontario Hydro paid approximately $224 million to various government agencies for provincial sales taxes, employment insurance premiums, Canada Pension Plan contributions, employer health tax payments and payments in lieu of realty taxes.

Depreciation and Amortization

Depreciation and amortization charged to operations totaled $1,512 million in 1998, a decrease of $66 million or 4.2 per cent from 1997 mainly due to reversals in 1998 of decommissioning and rehabilitation provisions for certain generating stations. In 1998, depreciation and amortization of $83 million, relating to the nuclear recovery program, was charged to the 1997 provision for future costs.

Financing Charges

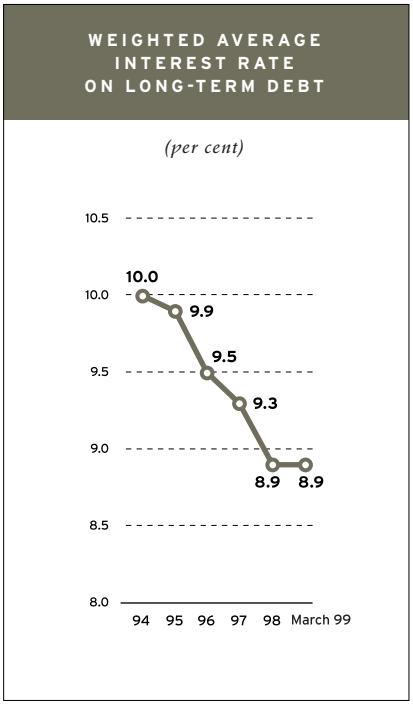
Financing charges comprise interest charged to operations and foreign exchange costs. Interest charged to operations represents gross interest costs reduced by capitalized interest and interest earned on investments.



Foreign exchange costs comprise amounts related primarily to the amortization of exchange gains or losses on the principal amount of foreign debt and foreign exchange risk management activities.

Interest and foreign exchange charged to operations was $2,876 million in 1998, $213 million or 6.9 per cent lower than in 1997, after charging $46 million in interest costs related to the nuclear recovery program to the 1997 provision for future costs. Favourable impacts, due to a net reduction in the average level of long and short-term debt outstanding and a lower net weighted average interest rate on debt and accumulated provisions for fixed asset removal and used nuclear fuel disposal costs, were partially offset by an increase in the level of accrued provisions and a reduction in interest capitalized. Foreign exchange costs for 1998 decreased by $88 million, primarily due to favourable results from foreign exchange risk management activities.

Financial Indicators

The Corporation's financial performance is monitored using two main indicators: interest coverage ratio and debt ratio.

The level of interest coverage measures the extent to which net income enables Ontario Hydro to meet its gross interest payments. An increase in the interest coverage ratio indicates a strengthening in the Corporation's financial condition. The 1998 level of interest coverage was 1.34 based on income before the deferred pension asset adjustment, compared to the 1997 interest coverage level of 1.09 based on income before corporate write-offs.

The debt ratio measures the extent to which Hydro's assets are financed by debt. A reduction in the debt ratio indicates a strengthening in financial position, as a relative increase in equity provides additional financial flexibility. The debt ratio at the end of 1998 was 1.100, compared to the 1997 ratio of 1.153. The improvement is due primarily to net income.

FINANCING AND INVESTING ACTIVITIES

Financing and Capital Markets

Ontario Hydro's cash from operations in 1998 was sufficient to cover capital expenditures for 1998 and to reduce the level of outstanding debt. Gross borrowing was required primarily for refinancing maturing issues and taking advantage of opportunities to minimize interest expense.

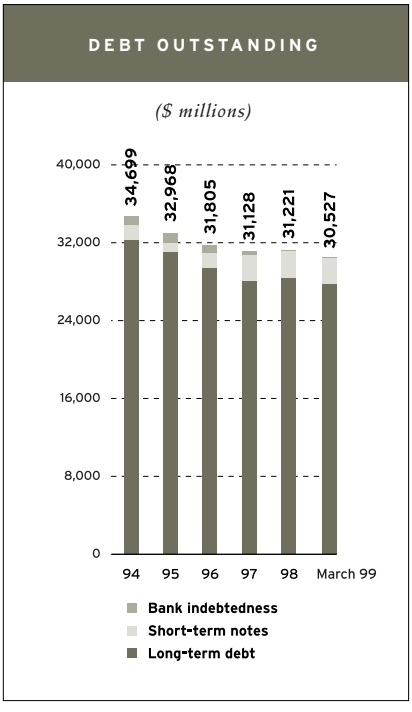
In 1998, on a cash basis, there was a net debt reduction of $343 million, compared to a net debt reduction of $458 million in 1997.



Proceeds of $5,698 million were received from the issuance of debt for long-term financing in 1998, compared to $2,321 million in 1997. The 1998 proceeds include three Canadian dollar domestic issues totaling $675 million; a global market United States dollar bond issue of $750 million (Cdn. $1,092 million); a global market Canadian dollar bond issue of $1,350 million; a Canadian dollar Euro medium-term note issue of $250 million; a $500 million private placement with the Province; and the issuance of Canadian dollar short-term notes and United States dollar-denominated commercial paper.

In 1998, $5,899 million of cash was used to retire debt issued for long-term financing, compared to $3,257 million in 1997. Cash paid on settlement of swaptions amounted to $142 million in 1998, compared to $292 million in 1997.

Investment in Fixed Assets

Ontario Hydro invests in fixed assets to maintain service, reliability, safety and environmental performance and to meet regulatory requirements. The total assets of the Corporation at the end of 1998 were $40,023 million, 88 per cent of which represented fixed assets in service or under construction.

The cash required by Ontario Hydro, to finance its investment in fixed assets, has historically come from two major sources; operations and financing through borrowing. As was the case in 1997, sufficient cash was generated from operations in 1998 to finance investment in fixed assets.

Investment in fixed assets was $865 million in 1998 and $852 million in 1997. Of this total investment, $503 million (1997: $591 million) was spent on generating facilities and $362 million (1997: $261 million) was invested in major transmission and distribution facilities.

Management Report

MANAGEMENT'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR FINANCIAL REPORTING

The accompanying financial statements of Ontario Hydro are the responsibility of management and have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year. Ontario Hydro chooses accounting principles appropriate to its circumstances. The significant accounting policies followed by Ontario Hydro are described in the Summary of Significant Accounting Policies contained in note 2 to the financial statements. The preparation of financial statements necessarily involves the use of estimates based on management's judgement, particularly when transactions affecting the current accounting period cannot be finalized with certainty until future periods. The financial statements have been properly prepared within reasonable limits of materiality and in light of information available up to June 23, 1999.

Management maintained a system of internal controls designed to provide reasonable assurance that the assets were safeguarded and that reliable financial information was available on a timely basis. The system included formal policies and procedures and an organizational structure that provided for appropriate delegation of authority and segregation of responsibilities. An internal audit function independently evaluated the effectiveness of these internal controls on an ongoing basis and reported its findings to management and the Audit Committee of the Ontario Hydro Board of Directors.

The financial statements have been examined by Ernst & Young LLP, independent external auditors appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council of Ontario. The external auditors' responsibility is to express their opinion on whether the financial statements are fairly presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Auditors' Report, which appears below, outlines the scope of their examination and their opinion.

For the three months ended March 31, 1999 and year ended December 31, 1998, the Ontario Hydro Board of Directors, through the Audit Committee, was responsible for ensuring that management fulfilled its responsibilities for financial reporting and internal controls. The Audit Committee met periodically with management, the internal auditors and the external auditors to satisfy itself that each group had properly discharged its respective responsibility, and to review the financial statements before recommending approval by the Board of Directors. The external auditors had direct and full access to the Audit Committee, with and without the presence of management, to discuss their audit and their findings as to the integrity of Ontario Hydro's financial reporting and the effectiveness of the system of internal controls.

As at April 1, 1999, the Board of Directors of Ontario Hydro was dissolved and Ontario Hydro continues as the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC) with a new Board of Directors appointed pursuant to the Electricity Act, 1998.

On behalf of Ontario Hydro Management,

Chief Financial Officer, Ontario Hydro, as at March 31, 1999

Auditors' Report

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF ONTARIO ELECTRICITY FINANCIAL CORPORATION:

We have audited the consolidated statement of financial position of Ontario Hydro as at March 31, 1999 and December 31, 1998, and the consolidated statements of operations and (deficit) retained earnings, and cash flows for the three months ended March 31, 1999 and year ended December 31, 1998. These financial statements are the responsibility of Ontario Hydro's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Ontario Hydro as at March 31, 1999 and December 31, 1998, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the three months ended March 31, 1999 and year ended December 31, 1998, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Ontario Hydro's accounting policies differ from those followed by enterprises that are not rate-regulated as described in note 2(a) to these financial statements.

* In 1997, Ontario Hydro's Board of Directors used its rate-setting authority to establish a provision for future costs against which certain expenditures, primarily related to the nuclear recovery program, would be charged as incurred from 1998 to 2001. This Supplementary Statement isolates the effect upon the 1999 and 1998 results of operations of charging certain costs of the year to the 1997 provision for future costs.

Notes to Financial Statements

1. RESTRUCTURING OF THE ONTARIO ELECTRICITY INDUSTRY AND EVENTS SUBSEQUENT TO MARCH 31, 1999

The North American electrical utility industry has undertaken initiatives to move away from traditional monopolies towards competitive models that are more conducive to customer choice. On October 30, 1998, the Government of Ontario (Government) enacted the Energy Competition Act, 1998 (ECA) to restructure the Ontario electricity industry and introduce competition during the year 2000.

Prior to the restructuring, Ontario Hydro was a vertically integrated, rate-regulated electricity utility. On April 1, 1999, Ontario Hydro was restructured into a number of successor entities, as follows:

- Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) is a generation company;
- Ontario Hydro Services Company Inc. (OHSC) is a regulated transmission and distribution business, and operates certain energy service businesses in an unregulated business environment;
- Independent Electricity Market Operator (IMO) is a non-profit corporation, which is the independent system co-ordinator responsible for directing system operations and operating the electricity market;
- Electrical Safety Authority (ESA) is a non-profit corporation, which will carry out electrical inspections previously conducted by Ontario Hydro; and
- Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC) is the continued Ontario Hydro entity with the objectives of managing debt, administering assets, liabilities, rights and obligations not transferred to a successor entity, and acting as administrator of the existing pension plan until arrangements are completed to transfer assets and liabilities to the new pension plans of the successor entities.

On April 1, 1999, each successor entity acquired Ontario Hydro's respective business operations in exchange for debt and equity securities equal to the fair values. The fair values were based on the present value of expected future operating results. Ontario Hydro's debt remained with OEFC.

Stranded debt is defined as debt that the successor entities could not service as commercial entities in a competitive market. Stranded debt has been determined, on a preliminary basis, by assigning fair values to OPG, OHSC, and the IMO, and subtracting these values from Ontario Hydro's total debt and liabilities. Using this methodology, the stranded debt is estimated at $21 billion as per the Ministry of Finance announcement of April 1, 1999. The actual stranded debt will be known once a final determination can be made for other items; principally valuing power purchase obligations (note 15).

The government has identified that certain of the OEFC's revenue streams in the new electricity market (e.g. payments-in-lieu of corporate income and capital taxes made by the new restructured companies and local distribution utilities) will be dedicated to service stranded debt.

The Province of Ontario (Province) continues to guarantee all existing Ontario Hydro debt.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Canada, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year. The significant accounting policies followed by Ontario Hydro are described below.

a) Rate setting

Up to March 31, 1999, Ontario Hydro had broad powers to generate, supply and deliver electric power

throughout the Province of Ontario. The Corporation operated under the Power Corporation Act (PCA) and was subject to the provisions of the Ontario Energy Board Act.

Under the provisions of the PCA, the price payable by municipal and other Ontario power customers was the cost of supplying the power. Such cost was defined in the PCA to include the cost of operating and maintaining the power system, the cost of energy conservation programs, depreciation, interest and the annual amounts for statutory debt retirement (SDR) and stabilization of rates and contingencies.

Under the provisions of the Ontario Energy Board Act, a public hearing before the Ontario Energy Board (OEB) was required to review any changes in electricity rates proposed by Ontario Hydro which affect its municipal utilities, direct industrial customers, or, if the Minister of Energy so directed, rural retail customers. The OEB tabled its recommendations with the Minister of Energy, Science and Technology. After considering the recommendations of the OEB, Ontario Hydro's Board of Directors, under the authority of the PCA, established the electricity rates to be charged to customers.

The Board of Directors may have specified for rate-setting purposes that an amount be included in the determination of the operating results of a period which differed from the period in which it would have been recognized under generally accepted accounting principles for enterprises operating in a non-rate-regulated environment. If so, the accounting treatment given the amount was the same as its treatment for rate-setting purposes. This authority of the Board of Directors could have been used in respect of a specific transaction or an accounting policy.

Ontario Hydro's accounting policies relating to the deferral of discounts and premiums arising from the acquisition of debt prior to maturity and foreign exchange gains and losses on United States dollar-denominated short-term financing replacing United States dollar-denominated long-term debt ,which has been redeemed prior to maturity, reflected the rate-setting treatment of these items as specified by the Board of Directors. Under generally accepted accounting principles for enterprises operating in a non-rate-regulated environment, these amounts would have been included as gains or losses of the current period (see note 2g).

In 1994, the Board of Directors used its rate-setting authority to specify that costs of the rehabilitation program for steam generators at Pickering A and B and Bruce A Nuclear Generating Stations be deferred for recovery in future periods. Under generally accepted accounting principles for enterprises operating in a non-rate-regulated environment these costs would have been expensed as incurred.

In 1996, the Board of Directors used its rate-setting authority to charge the nuclear recovery expenditures planned to be incurred over the period 1997 to 2001 to operations in 1996. In 1997, as a result of the Nuclear Asset Optimization Plan (NAOP), which included the planned nuclear recovery expenditures, the Board of Directors used its rate-setting authority to specify that the incremental costs associated with improving nuclear performance, specifically NAOP and other related costs, to be incurred over the period 1998 to 2001, be charged to operations in 1997. This rate-setting treatment was selected to enable Ontario Hydro to meet its SDR requirement over the period 1998 to 2001. As a result of the Board's decision, the related costs were not recovered through rates and represented a loss which was provided for in 1997. Under generally accepted accounting principles for enterprises operating in a non-rate-regulated environment, these costs would have been expensed as incurred (see note 7).

The Board of Directors also used its rate-setting authority to specify that certain additional future costs be charged to operations in 1997 (see note 7). Under generally accepted accounting principles for enterprises operating in a non-rate-regulated environment, these costs would have been expensed as incurred.

b) Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of Ontario Hydro and its wholly-owned subsidiaries Ontario Hydro International Inc. (OHI Inc.) and Ontario Hydro Interconnected Markets

Inc. (OHIM Inc.). OHI Inc. was incorporated under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) and was established as a subsidiary of Ontario Hydro in September 1993. OHIM Inc. was incorporated on July 9, 1996, under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware in the United States. Both OHI Inc. and OHIM Inc. publish separate financial statements.

c) Fixed assets

Fixed assets in service include operating facilities, non-operating reserve facilities, and heavy water contained in nuclear generating stations. Construction in progress includes fixed assets under construction.

Fixed assets are capitalized at cost which comprises material, labour, engineering costs, overheads, depreciation on service equipment, interest applicable to capital construction activities, and for new facilities, the costs of training initial operating staff. In the case of generating facilities, the cost also includes the net cost of commissioning which comprises the cost of start-up less the value attributed to energy produced by generation facilities during their commissioning period. For multi-unit facilities, a proportionate share of the cost of common facilities is placed in service with each major operating unit. The cost of heavy water comprises the direct cost of production plus applicable overheads, as well as interest and depreciation on the heavy water production facilities and the estimated removal costs of these facilities. Leases which transfer the benefits and risks of ownership of assets to Ontario Hydro are capitalized.

|---|---|
| 1999 | 9.2% |
| 1998 | 9.4% |
| 1997 | 9.6% |

If the construction period of a project is extended and the construction activities are continued, interest is capitalized during the period of extension provided that the project has a reasonable expectation of being completed.

If a project is deferred as a result of a management decision and there is a reasonable expectation of completion, interest capitalization ceases and amortization for any loss in value commences.

If a project is cancelled or deferred indefinitely with a low probability of construction being resumed, all costs, including the costs of cancellation, are written off to operations.

If fixed assets are removed from operations and mothballed for future use, mothballing costs are charged to operations. These assets are classified as non-operating reserve facilities.

d) Depreciation

The capital costs of fixed assets in service are depreciated on a straight-line basis. Depreciation rates for the various classes of assets are based on their estimated service lives. Major components of fossil and nuclear generating stations are depreciated over the lesser of the service life expectancy of the major component or the remaining service life of the associated generating station. Hydroelectric generating stations are assumed to have a perpetual life. Major components of hydroelectric generating stations are depreciated over the service life expectancy of the component, ranging from 25 to 100 years. Heavy water in nuclear generating stations is depreciated over the remaining service life of the associated station with the exception of heavy water in Pickering Nuclear Generating Station (NGS) A, which is depreciated to the year 2032, since this heavy water is planned to be used to maintain operating levels in the remaining nuclear plants once Pickering NGS A has completed its useful life. The estimated service lives of assets in the major classes are:

|---|---|
| Generating Stations | |
| fossil | 40 years |
| nuclear | 40 years |
| Transmission and distribution facilities | 10 to 100 years |
| Administration and service facilities | 5 to 50 years |

In accordance with group depreciation practices, the costs of normal fixed asset retirements are charged to accumulated depreciation. However, gains and losses on sales of fixed assets and losses on premature retirements are charged to operations as adjustments to depreciation expense.

When the net costs of removal of fixed assets can be reasonably estimated and are significant, provisions for these costs are charged to depreciation expense on an annuity basis prospectively over the remaining service life of the related fixed assets. Removal costs that are provided for include the estimated costs of decommissioning nuclear and fossil stations and the estimated costs of removing certain nuclear reactor fuel channels. Other removal costs are charged to depreciation expense as incurred.

The estimated service lives of fixed assets and the significant assumptions underlying the estimates of fixed asset removal costs are subject to periodic review. Any changes arising out of such a review are implemented on a remaining service life basis from the year the changes can first be reflected in electricity prices.

Non-operating reserve facilities are amortized so that any estimated loss in value during the non-operating period is charged to depreciation expense on a straight-line basis over their expected non-operating period.

e) Fuel for electric generation

Fuel used for electric generation comprises the average inventory costs of fuel consumed, less the value attributed to energy produced during the commissioning phase of placing a new or refurbished unit (i.e., after replacement of fuel channels or steam generators) in service, plus provisions for disposal of nuclear fuel used during the period. The cost of fuel inventory comprises fuel purchases, transportation and handling costs.

The provision for disposal of used nuclear fuel is charged to operations based on estimated future expenditures and interest accumulating to the estimated date of disposal. Effective January 1, 1998, estimates of disposal costs which do not vary with the amount of fuel to be disposed of ("fixed" disposal costs) are charged to operations on an annuity basis over the estimated service lives of the associated nuclear stations. Estimates of disposal costs which vary with the amount of fuel to be disposed of ("variable" disposal costs) are charged to operations based on the present value of the future estimated disposal costs attributable to the fuel bundles used in that period. Prior to 1998, nuclear fuel provisions were charged to operations based on the present value of the future estimated disposal costs, fixed and variable, attributable to the fuel bundles used in that period. The impact of this change is an increase in costs of approximately $83 million per year plus interest on the increase in accumulated provision.

Estimates of expenditures, interest and escalation rates, and the date of disposal are subject to periodic review. Adjustments resulting from changes in any of these factors are charged to operations on an annuity basis prospectively over the remaining years the nuclear units will be in operation.

f) Foreign currency translation

Current monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated to Canadian currency at year-end rates of exchange and the resulting exchange gains or losses are credited or charged to operations. Long-term debt payable in foreign currencies is translated to Canadian currency at year-end rates of exchange. Resulting unrealized exchange gains or losses are deferred and included in deferred debt costs, and are amortized to operations on an annuity basis over the remaining life of the related debt.

Foreign exchange gains or losses on hedges of long-term debt payable in foreign currencies are deferred and included in deferred debt costs. The deferred gains or losses on hedges are amortized to operations on an annuity basis in the periods the hedges provide benefit.

Foreign exchange gains or losses on early redemption of long-term debt, including subsequent gains and losses on short-term replacement financing, are deferred and included in deferred debt costs if the exposure in the foreign currency related to the redeemed debt is continued by refinancing the redeemed debt in the same currency. These deferred gains or losses are amortized on an annuity basis over the period to the original maturity date of the redeemed debt (see note 2a).

If the foreign currency exposure is reduced as a result of the early redemption of debt, the resulting foreign exchange gains or losses related to the redeemed debt are credited or charged to operations.

g) Deferred debt costs

Deferred debt costs include the unamortized amounts related to unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses resulting from the translation of foreign currency long-term debt; deferred foreign exchange gains or losses on hedges; deferred foreign exchange gains or losses on the early redemption of long-term debt; discounts or premiums arising from the issuance of debt or the acquisition of debt prior to maturity; discounts or premiums accrued on foreign currency hedges; and net unamortized premiums on settled, exercised or expired swaption contracts.

Discounts or premiums arising from the issuance of debt are amortized over the period to maturity of the debt on an annuity basis when the term of the debt exceeds one year and on a straight-line basis when the term is one year or less. Discounts or premiums on debt acquired prior to the date of maturity are amortized on an annuity basis over the period from the acquisition date to the original maturity date of the debt (see note 2a). Discounts or premiums on foreign currency hedges are credited or charged to operations on an annuity basis over the terms of the individual hedges. Net unamortized premiums on settled, exercised or expired swaption contracts are amortized on an annuity basis over the period from the settlement, exercise or expiry date to the original maturity date of the related debt.

h) Pension plan

The pension plan is a contributory, defined benefit plan covering all regular employees of Ontario Hydro. Pension costs for accounting purposes are actuarially determined using the projected benefit method prorated on services and based on assumptions that reflect management's best estimate of the effect of future events on the actuarial present value of accrued pension benefits. Pension plan assets are valued using current fair values and pension plan adjustments are amortized on a straight-line basis over the expected average remaining period of service of the employees covered by the Ontario Hydro pension plan (see note 18).

In the last quarter of 1998, Ontario Hydro adopted the new method of accounting for pension costs recently approved by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA). The effect of this was to change the discount rate used to determine pension costs and obligations from a long-term average rate to a current market settlement rate. This change had no significant impact on the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 1998.

i) Other post-employment benefits

In addition to pension benefits, Ontario Hydro provides group life insurance and health-care benefits to its retired employees and, in certain cases, their surviving spouses and unmarried dependents. As well, Ontario Hydro provides long-term disability benefits to qualifying employees during extended absences from work due to sickness or injury.

Prior to January 1, 1997, the costs of other post-employment benefits (OPEB) were charged to operations as the benefits were paid. Effective January 1, 1997, Ontario Hydro implemented accrual accounting for OPEB whereby the expected costs of providing those benefits are charged to operations as employees render services. Accordingly, the costs of OPEB are actuarially determined for accounting purposes based on assumptions that reflect management's best estimates of the effect of future events on the actuarial present value of the accrued benefits. The transition obligation arising on conversion to accrual accounting was charged to retained earnings on January 1, 1997 (see note 16). In 1998, the Corporation changed the discount rate used to measure the OPEB obligation from a long-term average rate to a current market settlement rate. The transition amount resulting from this change was charged to the deficit in 1998 (see note 16).

j) Research and development

Research and development (R&D) costs related directly to the design or construction of a specific fixed asset are capitalized as part of the cost of the asset. R&D costs incurred to discharge long-term obligations, and for which specific provision has already been made, are charged to the related provision. All other R&D costs are charged to operations in the year incurred.

k) Applications software and the Year 2000 expenditures

Ontario Hydro capitalizes major applications software acquisition costs when future benefit is reasonably assured. Expenditures incurred to address the Year 2000 Issue are charged to operations as incurred, unless existing assets are replaced with new versions or completely new systems. In this case, the expenditures are capitalized consistent with the accounting for any acquisition project.

3. SECONDARY POWER AND ENERGY

Secondary power and energy revenues include $10 million for the three months ended March 31, 1999 (1998: $111 million, 1997: $158 million) from sales of electricity to United States utilities.

| Staff reduction and employee relocation costs | 238 |
| Bruce Nuclear Generating Station A | 170 |
| | 6,580 |

There were no corporate write-offs during the three months ended March 31, 1999, and year ended December 31, 1998. In 1997, the Board of Directors of Ontario Hydro approved a number of charges and write-offs to operations, totalling $6,580 million, to 1997 operations. Two of these charges were for future costs expected to be incurred over the 1998 to 2001 period, which, under GAAP for enterprises operating in a non-rate-regulated environment, would be expensed as incurred. Accordingly, these charges required use of the Board's rate-setting authority, to establish a provision for future costs. The first such charge was for additional future costs associated with improving nuclear performance, specifically the Nuclear Asset Optimization Plan (NAOP) and other related costs such as replacement energy and interest. While Ontario Hydro expects to incur additional costs of $4,895 million for the improvement of nuclear performance, the charge to 1997 operations was $4,595 million, before using a $300 million provision made in a previous year for planned nuclear recovery expenditures. The second charge, of $1,495 million, was for additional future costs associated with transmission and distribution assets, nuclear decommissioning and used fuel disposal provisions.

The remaining $490 million in charges to 1997 operations did not require use of the Board's rate-setting authority and related to the following:

• A charge of $238 million to cover the costs associated with a targeted reduction of 850 staff, including those expected to become surplus to Corporate needs before the end of 1998, and costs associated with the large-scale staff relocations required under the NAOP.
• A write-off of $170 million in capital project expenditures associated with the three units of Bruce Nuclear Generating Station A that were laid-up in 1998. Management's assessment was that the related capital projects would have no future benefit due to the lengthy duration of the lay-up.
• A write-off of $82 million associated with certain buildings and equipment identified as surplus due to Hydro's transition towards a more competitive environment and to reflect the wind-up of several small ancillary business ventures.

Nuclear steam generator rehabilitation costs

Ontario Hydro has undertaken a major program to rehabilitate steam generators at the Pickering A and B Nuclear Generating Stations. The costs of the program, which will continue until 2001, are being deferred and amortized over the remaining service lives of the individual generators commencing as each generator is returned to service.

The deferred nuclear steam generator rehabilitation amounts included in fixed assets, construction in progress and accumulated depreciation are detailed as follows:

The weighted average interest rate represents the effective rate of interest on fixed-rate bonds and notes and the current interest rate in effect at March 31, 1999, for floating-rate bonds and notes, all before considering the effect of derivative financial instruments used to manage interest rate risk. Bonds and notes payable are either held, or guaranteed as to principal and interest, by the Province.

These bonds are callable at a weighted average call price equal to 100% of the bond's principal amounts callable on specific dates within the period 1999 to 2005.

As described in note 12, Ontario Hydro has used various derivative financial instruments to hedge the foreign exchange exposure related to long-term debt denominated in foreign currencies and to manage the interest rate risk associated with its outstanding long-term debt.

12. DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

FORWARD EXCHANGE CONTRACTS. Ontario Hydro has entered into forward exchange contracts to hedge against the impact of a potential decline in the value of the Canadian dollar in 1999, and to manage the foreign exchange risk associated with its long-term debt. Forward exchange contracts have also been entered into to hedge firm commitments for future purchases and sales denominated in a foreign currency.

CROSS CURRENCY SWAP CONTRACTS. Ontario Hydro has entered into cross currency swap contracts to effectively convert principal and interest payments on selected debt issues into Canadian or United States dollars.

The following table summarizes the currencies in which Ontario Hydro's long-term debt, bank indebtedness and short-term notes are payable, before and after giving effect to Ontario Hydro's foreign exchange risk management activities related to debt:

SWAPTION CONTRACTS. In 1993, Ontario Hydro converted future potential interest savings, related to call options embedded in certain of its bonds to cash by selling offsetting swaption contracts. These contracts permit holders to require Ontario Hydro to enter into interest rate swaps commencing on the call date. If exercised, the swaptions result in Ontario Hydro making payments based on a fixed interest rate equal to the related bonds' coupon rates, and receiving floating rate payments.

United States dollar-denominated swaptions may be cash settled on their exercise dates. Premiums received from the sale of these contracts are being amortized to income, as a reduction of interest expense, over the remaining terms of the related bond issues.

INTEREST RATE SWAP CONTRACTS. As at March 31, 1999, the outstanding receive-fixed interest rate swap contracts have effectively converted fixed interest rates on long-term debt to floating interest rates. These contracts have maturity dates over the period 1999 to 2026 (1998: 1999 to 2026; 1997: 1998 to 2026). The outstanding pay-fixed interest rate swap contracts have effectively converted floating interest rates on outstanding debt into fixed interest rates. These contracts have maturity dates over the period 1999 to 2027 (1998: 1999 to 2027; 1997: 1998 to 2027).

FORWARD RATE AGREEMENTS. Prior to 1999, Ontario Hydro had entered into forward rate agreements to manage its exposure to short-term interest rates.

BOND OPTIONS. Prior to 1999, Ontario Hydro had purchased options to buy long-term government bonds to mitigate the adverse impact of a potential decline in long-term interest rates on its fixed-rate debt.

FORWARD BOND PURCHASES. Prior to 1999, Ontario Hydro had entered into forward purchase contracts for Government of Canada bonds to manage its exposure to short-term interest rates.

The following table summarizes the total amount of long-term debt, short-term notes and bank indebtedness maturing or subject to interest rate resetting within one year and after one year, before and after giving effect to Ontario Hydro's interest rate risk management activities:

13. FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND CREDIT RISK

Fair value

1 Period-end and year-end quoted market prices for specific or similar instruments are used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instrument for which it is practical to estimate that value. For over-the-counter derivative financial instruments, the fair value is determined using pricing models that take into account the current value of the underlying instruments, the time value of money, and mid-market yield curve and volatility factors. The carrying values of cash, temporary investments, accounts receivable, bank indebtedness, short-term notes payable and accounts payable and accrued charges approximate fair value because of the short maturity of those instruments.

Credit risk

Financial assets expose Ontario Hydro to credit risk and concentration of credit risk. As at March 31, 1999, there were no significant concentrations of credit risk with respect to any class of financial assets. Derivative financial instruments expose Ontario Hydro to credit risk, since there is a risk of counter party default. This risk is limited to the cost of replacing contracts in which Ontario Hydro has an unrealized gain.

Credit risk is monitored and minimized by dealing only with a diverse group of highly rated counter parties. In addition, as a means of further reducing its credit exposure on derivative financial instruments, Ontario Hydro enters into master netting agreements with its counter parties to enable it to settle derivative financial assets and liabilities with the counter party on a net basis in the event that the counter party defaults. The existence of these master netting agreements had the effect of reducing Ontario Hydro's current credit risk exposure on derivative financial assets from $437 million to $86 million as at March 31, 1999 (1998: from $374 million to $152 million; 1997: from $349 million to $142 million).

14. ACCRUED FIXED ASSET REMOVAL AND USED NUCLEAR FUEL DISPOSAL COSTS

|---|---|---|---|
| ACCRUED FIXED ASSET REMOVAL COSTS | | | |
| Accrued decommissioning costs | 1,059 | 1,042 | 962 |
| Accrued fuel channel removal costs | 699 | 674 | 616 |
| | 1,758 | 1,716 | 1,578 |
| ACCRUED USED NUCLEAR FUEL DISPOSAL COSTS | 1,549 | 1,485 | 1,264 |

Accrued fixed asset removal costs

Accrued fixed asset removal costs are the costs of decommissioning nuclear and fossil generating stations and heavy water production facilities after the end of their service lives, and the costs of removing certain fuel channels and steam generators, which are expected to be replaced during the life of the nuclear reactors. The significant assumptions used in estimating future fixed asset removal costs are consistent with 1998:

• decommissioning of nuclear generating stations in the 2042 to 2071 period on a deferred dismantlement basis (dismantlement following storage with surveillance for a 30-year period after shutdown of the reactors), and an average transportation distance of 1,000 kilometres from nuclear generating facilities to disposal facilities;

| | 1999 | 1998 | 1997 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Interest rates | 6% to 8% | 6% to 8% | 6% to 9% |
| Cost escalation rates | 2% to 4% | 2% to 4% | 2% to 5% |

• removal and replacement of certain fuel channels and steam generators in nuclear generating stations during the following periods :

| | AS AT MARCH 31 1999 | AS AT DECEMBER 31 1998 | 1997 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Bruce A Units 3 & 4 | 2001–2008 | 2006–2008 | 2005–2008 |
| Pickering B | 2008–2012 | 2009–2014 | 2013–2017 |
| Bruce B | 2010–2013 | 2011–2017 | 2015–2018 |
| Darlington | 2016-2019 | 2016-2022 | 2022-2024 |

• decommissioning of fossil generating stations in the 2006 to 2025 period.

The significant assumptions underlying the estimates of accrued fixed asset removal costs are subject to periodic review. These assumptions, as well as, the existing methods and technology used for decommissioning, fuel channel removal and replacement, and steam generator replacement are subject to change which could result in changes to these costs.

Accrued used nuclear fuel disposal costs

The significant assumptions used in estimating the future used nuclear fuel disposal costs are consistent with 1998:

- an in-service date of the year 2025 for permanent disposal facilities;
- an average transportation distance of 1,000 kilometres from nuclear generating facilities to disposal facilities;
- interest and cost escalation rates through to 2071 ranging from:

| | 1999 | 1998 | 1997 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Interest rates | 6% to 8% | 6% to 8% | 6% to 9% |
| Cost escalation rates | 2% to 4% | 2% to 4% | 2% to 5% |

The significant assumptions underlying the estimates of accrued used nuclear fuel disposal costs are subject to periodic review. These assumptions, as well as the existing methods and technology used for used fuel disposal, are subject to change which could result in changes to these costs.

15. CONTINGENCIES & COMMITMENTS

Uncertainty due to the Year 2000 Issue

The Year 2000 Issue arises because many computerized systems use two digits rather than four to identify a year. Date-sensitive systems may recognize the year 2000 as 1900 or some other date, resulting in errors when information using year 2000 dates is processed. In addition, similar problems may arise in 1999 in some systems which use the digits "99" in a date field to represent something other than a date. The effects of the Year 2000 Issue may be experienced before, on, or after January 1, 2000, and, if not addressed, the impact on operations and financial reporting may range from minor errors to significant systems failure which could affect an entity's ability to conduct normal business operations.

The Corporation is in the process of completing a significant program designed to upgrade or replace affected systems on which it and its customers depend, prior to the year 2000. However, it is not possible to be certain that all aspects of the Year 2000 Issue affecting Ontario Hydro, including those related to the efforts of customers, suppliers, or other third parties, will be fully resolved.

Renewable Energy Technology Program Class Action

In 1997, a class action suit was commenced on behalf of all bidders in the renewable energy technology program based on allegations of misrepresentation and bad faith in requesting bids and carrying on discussions with bidders prior to cancellation of the project. The plaintiffs named Ontario Hydro, as well as, certain individual officers of Ontario Hydro as defendants. The plaintiffs seek declaratory relief and damages in the amount of $250 million for loss of income and profits, loss of opportunity, conversion of trade secrets, and exemplary, aggravated and punitive damages. A motion to certify the class was argued in November 1998 and in December the Court refused to certify the action. Subject to appeal rights, the action may now proceed as a claim by the named plaintiff, and the damages claimed would be reduced substantially. At this time, the outcome of this claim is not determinable, and as such, no provision has been accrued in Ontario Hydro's financial statements with respect to any amounts in dispute. However, Ontario Hydro believes it has no liability, and that the damages claimed are, in any event, excessive.

Municipal electric utilities' lawsuit

On April 24, 1997, three municipal electric utilities (Applicants) issued a notice of application against Ontario Hydro for which they have since received certification as a class proceeding on behalf of all municipal electric utilities in Ontario. No supporting affidavit materials have been served. The Applicants seek declarations that certain rates and pricing options offered by Ontario Hydro to corporations contravene the provisions of the PCA and that these rates and pricing options have improperly increased costs to the municipal electric utilities who purchase their power from Ontario Hydro. They also seek recovery of these increased costs in the amount of $145 million. They further seek a declaration that Ontario Hydro has improperly diverted, from revenues derived from the sale of power to municipal electric utilities, monies, of an indeterminate amount, which should have been used to reduce the cost of power being supplied to these municipal electric utilities. They are also seeking declarations that Ontario Hydro has breached legislative provisions prescribing the operation of the Reserve for Stabilization of Rates and Contingencies and the equity account, and an order requiring Ontario Hydro to replenish the equity account in the amount of $5.0 billion. Ontario Hydro has denied the allegations, and believes that it has valid and meritorious defences against such allegations and will, in due course, file responding materials. At this time, the outcome of these claims is not determinable.

Bruce Nuclear Generating Station A

As a result of the NAOP, Ontario Hydro laid up the three operating units at Bruce Nuclear Generating Station A over the Spring of 1998. Consistent with the phased recovery approach adopted for NAOP, these three units plus Bruce A Unit 2, which was shut down in 1995, are currently planned to be returned to service within the period 2003 to 2009.

In the event that a future decision is made not to return the four Bruce A units to service, a loss would have to be recognized. The current estimate of such a loss is about $1,050 million, which takes into account the undepreciated book value of the generating and heavy water assets, the carrying value of remaining construction in progress amounts, and the impact of recognizing unaccrued net fixed asset removal provisions.

Power Purchase Agreements

Ontario Hydro has committed to the purchase of a portion of its electricity requirements, pursuant to long-term contractual Power Purchase Agreements (PPAs), with various power producers.

The PPAs expire on various dates from 1999 to 2048. Other details are:

| | AS AT MARCH 31 | AS AT DECEMBER 31 | |
|---|---|---|---|
| | 1999 | 1998 | 1997 |
| In-service capacity (megawatts) | 1,670 | 1,864 | 1,584 |
| Net present value of purchase obligations over 20 years (millions of dollars) | 6,689 | 6,910 | 6,203 |

Estimated annual payments for purchase obligations range from $755 million to $865 million over the next five years.

Deliveries in the aggregate for the first three months of 1999 account for approximately 8.0% of Ontario Hydro's total electric energy requirements (1998: 7.6%; 1997: 7.2%). The amount of energy received and the total payments made under these agreements are:

| | THREE MONTHS ENDED MARCH 31 | YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31 | |
| | 1999 | 1998 | 1997 |
| Gigawatthours received | 3,043 | 11,108 | 10,366 |
| Power purchases (millions of dollars) | 217 | 680 | 642 |

Ontario Hydro has issued a Request for Expressions of Interest for the financial restructuring of its power purchase contracts with independent power producers in Ontario.

Loan guarantees

Ontario Hydro is contingently liable under guarantees given to third-party lenders who have provided long-term financing to certain independent power producers. These guarantees total approximately $157 million as at March 31, 1999 (1998: $160 million, 1997: $171 million).

Fuel used for electric generation

Ontario Hydro has entered into firm fuel supply agreements, some of which extend beyond 2000. The future obligation as at March 31, 1999, under these agreements for the remainder of 1999 is estimated to be $504 million. Beyond 1999, the estimated amount is $228 million (1998: $639 million).

16. (DEFICIT) RETAINED EARNINGS

On January 1, 1997, the opening retained earnings balance of $2,552 million was reduced by $763 million as a result of charging the transition obligation associated with the change in accounting for other post-employment benefits (see note 2i). The change was introduced as a first step to the early implementation of accounting recommendations from the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA), effective January 1, 2000. The future OPEB obligation was discounted using a long-term average rate, consistent with the rate used to determine pension costs and obligations.

In 1998, the CICA approved new recommendations on accounting for employees' future benefits. To complete the implementation of the new accounting recommendations, the Corporation changed the discount rate used to measure the OPEB obligation from a long-term average rate to a current market settlement rate. As a result, a transition amount of $460 million was charged to the deficit in 1998.

17. CONSOLIDATED STATEMENT OF CASH FLOWS

| (millions of dollars) | AS AT MARCH 31 1999 | AS AT DECEMBER 31 1998 | 1997 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Accounts receivable – decrease (increase) | 7 | (9) | (22) |
| Fuel for electric generation, materials and supplies – decrease (increase) | 99 | (126) | (10) |
| Accounts payable and accrued charges – increase | 47 | 68 | 200 |
| Accrued interest – increase (decrease) | 57 | (38) | (47) |
| Long-term accounts payable and accrued charges – increase (decrease) | 24 | 202 | (237) |
| | 234 | 97 | (116) |
| Interest paid | 606 | 2,772 | 2,903 |
| Interest received | 9 | 29 | 14 |

18. BENEFIT PLANS

Pension plan

Effective November 7, 1998, certain sections of the Energy Competition Act, 1998, came into force whereby Ontario Hydro and its successor entities were allowed to adopt funding practices that are more consistent with Canadian business practices. The Plan has a substantial surplus. As agreed in the Union negotiation processes,

Ontario Hydro ceased remitting employer contributions effective April 1, 1998. Also, commencing November 7, 1998, the direct costs of investment management and administration of the Plan have been absorbed as a cost of the Plan. Information about Ontario Hydro's pension plan is as follows:

| (millions of dollars) | AS AT MARCH 31 1999 | AS AT DECEMBER 31 1998 | 1997 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pension costs | 7 | 23 | 116 |
| Pension costs charged to operations | 7 | 18 | 93 |
| Pension costs capitalized as part of fixed assets | – | 5 | 23 |
| Pension fund assets at fair market value | 10,853 | 10,816 | 10,173 |
| Accrued pension benefits at actuarial present value | 9,830 | 9,707 | 6,455 |
| Plan surplus for accounting purposes | 1,023 | 1,109 | 3,718 |
| Deferred pension asset | 972 | 979 | 112 |
| Expected return on plan assets | 7.25% | 9% | 9% |
| Rate used to discount future pension benefits | 6% | 6% | 8.25% |
| Salary schedule escalation rate | 3.5% | 3.5% | 3.5% |
| Rate of cost of living increases to pensions | 2.5% | 2.5% | 1.88% |
| Average remaining service life for employee (years) | 12 | 12 | 14 |

The actuarial present value of the accrued pension benefits was based on a projection of the valuation at December 31, 1997. Estimated accrued pension benefits increased dramatically in 1998 as a result of an accounting change. The Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants has recommended that the rate used for discounting future pension benefits should be based on the current market interest rate. Previously, Ontario Hydro used its best estimate as to the long-term average interest rate of corporate bonds for this computation.

The deferred pension asset of $972 million as at March 31, 1999 (1998: $979 million, 1997: $112 million), represents the cumulative difference between funding contributions and pension costs. The $7 million decline to March 31, 1999, is the pension cost charged to operations. The $887 million increase to the deferred pension asset in 1998 results from recognizing the access to the pension fund surplus. Ontario Hydro also recognized a corresponding credit to the 1998 operating statement.

The $51 million difference as at March 31, 1999 (1998: $130 million), between the $1,023 million pension fund surplus and the $972 million deferred pension asset represents experience gains and losses, which will be amortized over the average remaining service period of employees.

The Ontario Electricity Pension Services Corporation was established effective April 1, 1999, to assume transitional responsibility, as an agent for OEFC, for administering the pension benefits and investing pension assets on behalf of the successor entities of Ontario Hydro.

Group life insurance, health care plans, and other post-employment benefits

|---|---|---|---|
| Group life insurance premiums basic coverage | 1 | 5 | 4 |
| Health-care plan | 13 | 60 | 58 |
| Post-employment benefits | | | |
| Retiree group life insurance & health-care | 26 | 92 | 71 |
| Long-term disability | 10 | 32 | 17 |

Group life premiums for additional coverage, if requested, are remitted by the employee. In certain cases, retiree group life insurance and health care costs include payments for surviving spouses, as well as unmarried dependents. Long-term disability applies to qualifying employees in extended absence from work due to sickness or injury.

19. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

| (millions of dollars) | AS AT MARCH 31 1999 | AS AT DECEMBER 31 1998 | 1997 |
|---|---|---|---|

| Capitalized | – | 3 | 2 |
| Charged to accrued provisions | 2 | 7 | 19 |
| | 20 | 68 | 101 |

20. FEDERAL ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW PANEL

On March 13, 1998, a Federal Government Panel issued its report (known as the Seaborn Report) on Atomic Energy of Canada Limited's concept for nuclear waste disposal. On December 3, 1998, the Federal Government responded to the Panel's recommendations, concurring with the Panel's major recommendations that:

- the search for a specific disposal site not proceed at this time because broad public support has not been demonstrated;
- a separately incorporated waste management organization be formed by waste producers to manage used fuel;
- a segregated fund be established; and
- a study of alternatives for long-term disposal be commissioned.

The Federal Government has defined the parameters within which each of these recommendations will be implemented, and has charged Natural Resources Canada with initiating and reporting back on a consultative process with the appropriate stakeholders to develop options to meet the key objectives of :

- establishing a dedicated fund;
- specifying the reporting relationships between the government, the waste management organization and stakeholders; and
- establishing a federal review and approval mechanism to provide oversight and access to funds.

Note 14 outlines Ontario Hydro's estimation of future costs and timing of used nuclear fuel disposals.

21. SEGMENT INFORMATION

Ontario Hydro's reportable electricity segments are generation (Generation); transmission, distribution and other electricity services (Distribution); and all other activities (Other). The reportable segments are strategic business units that produce or deliver the same product to the customer. The production of the product is managed separately from the transmission and distribution of the product. The accounting policies followed by the segments are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies (see note 2).

Ontario Hydro accounts for intersegment sales and transfers at cost. These segments are confirmed by the Government of Ontario through its passage of the Energy Competition Act, 1998, which establishes five successor entities as described in Note 1.

Corporate Governance Practices

Under the Power Corporation Act (PCA), Ontario Hydro was governed by a Board of Directors consisting of up to 22 members. Included in this membership was the Deputy Minister of Energy, Science and Technology, a Director who did not vote at any meeting of the Board. The Chairman and Directors of the Board were appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, and the President was appointed by the Board. The Board of Directors recommended to the Government of Ontario that it appoint either the Chairman or the President as the Chief Executive Officer. In 1998 and the first quarter of 1999, Ontario Hydro had a 12-member Board. Ten of the Corporation's 12 directors were independent of management. External Board members were provided the opportunity to meet in executive session with the Chairman, and the Chief Executive Officer, during each Board meeting, and to meet in executive session without the Chief Executive Officer and members of management several times during the year and/or as required.

As stipulated in the PCA [Section 4(1)], the Board supervised management who managed the affairs of the Corporation, and it was consequently involved in considering significant issues facing the Corporation. The Chairman of the Board and the Chairs of the Board Committees, in working with management, determined which matters were put before the Board.

The Hydro Board also recognized that it may supervise, direct or oversee the business and affairs of the Corporation, but that it should not manage them, at least not in a day-to-day sense. This kind of management was delegated to the CEO and other senior Hydro officers, who were accountable to, and reported back to, the Board from time to time and who operated within prescribed limits of authority.

The Board of Directors discharged its responsibilities directly and through committees. While there were 12 meetings of the Board of Directors in 1998 – including three site visits of Bruce, Pickering and Darlington nuclear generating facilities – and three Board meetings in the first quarter of 1999, the number of Committee meetings varied. The following is a brief description of the mandate of each Board Committee, its composition, and the number of meetings held in the past year.

AUDIT/FINANCE COMMITTEE

The mandate of the Audit/Finance Committee was to advise the Board and to make recommendations for its consideration with respect to: the review of financial reporting matters, the system of internal accounting and financial controls and procedure, and the audit procedures and audit plans; the nomination, remuneration, function and performance of the external auditors; the form and content of the Corporation's annual financial statements, the annual report and any interim or ad hoc documents required by regulatory authorities; the review, on an annual basis, of the financial plans and objectives of the Corporation; the review of matters relating to the funding and investment of funds of the Corporation's pension plan; an annual review of the risks inherent in the Corporation's business and related risk-management programs; the Corporation's policies with respect to debt management, money market activities and the Corporation's banking resolutions; and the Corporation's policies with respect to debt management, foreign exchange management and corporate financial investments.

As defined in the PCA, the President and CEO was a member of the Committee for that section of the mandate related specifically to financial matters.

In carrying out its responsibilities, the Committee could meet with both the external and internal auditors, without the Chief Executive Officer and members of management present.

The Audit/Finance Committee met nine times during 1998, and three times in the first quarter of 1999.

ENVIRONMENT & PUBLIC POLICY COMMITTEE

The mandate of the Environment and Public Policy Committee was to advise the Board and to make recommendations for its consideration with respect to the Corporation's strategic focus and direction on matters relating to: health and safety; social obligations; relations with Aboriginal peoples; and sustainable development and the environment. Specifically, the Committee ensured that the Corporation's actions reflected the interests of governments, non-governmental organizations, the people of Ontario and the employees of Ontario Hydro.

The Environment and Public Policy Committee met five times during 1998.

HUMAN RESOURCES & CORPORATE GOVERNANCE COMMITTEE

The mandate of the Human Resources & Corporate Governance Committee was to advise the Board and to make recommendations for its consideration with respect to: the strategic prospects and options for the future of Ontario's electric power industry in general, and Ontario Hydro specifically; the review of written objectives of the CEO and the provision of guidance for the development and placement, including promotion, of senior management; the annual review and assessment of the performances of the Chairman and the President & CEO; the annual review of organizational structure matters; the monitoring of the quality of the relationship between management and the Board; and the responsibility for Board governance of the Corporation, including the mandate to review the Board Committee structure and to undertake such other initiatives as required to ensure the Board has exemplary corporate governance.

The Human Resources & Corporate Governance Committee met nine times in 1998, and twice in the first quarter of 1999.

NUCLEAR REVIEW COMMITTEE

The mandate of the Nuclear Review Committee was to advise the Board and make recommendations for its consideration with respect to the safe performance of the Corporation's nuclear operations and its effectiveness in achieving desired results. Specifically, the Committee ensured that Ontario Hydro's nuclear facilities were operated and maintained in a rigorous and vigilant manner to ensure that the radiological risk to workers, the public and the environment is acceptably low, and in keeping with the best practices in the international nuclear community.

The Nuclear Review Committee met 12 times during 1998, and twice in the first quarter of 1999.

Updated final package. The memo now copies the SoC and ministers, and includes the 'welcoming' language that was discussed yesterday about ministers meeting the AG.
Other two docs include minor grammatical edits from the OFA (thanks Anna!).
Will be sending this to the OAG momentarily.

GOVERNMENT RESPONSE TO OAG REPORT ON THE FAIR HYDRO PLAN

The government of Ontario does not agree with the assertions and conclusions expressed in the report by the Office of the Auditor General (OAG) on Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (OFHP).

OFHP is delivering the single-largest reduction in electricity rates in the province's history. In developing OFHP, the government considered a range of implementation options and consulted with legal, accounting, financial and energy sector third-party experts to provide advice and ensure due diligence was completed. OFHP operates under a financial and accounting framework that is appropriate for the intended purpose and in accordance with Public Sector Accounting Standards (PSAS) and ensures that the fairness goals underlying the program are achieved in a cost-effective manner.

The government has been making important investments in a cleaner and more reliable energy system, but these investments have led to higher electricity bills. OFHP has introduced new measures to lower electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for residential consumers and will hold increases to the rate of inflation for four years. As many as half a million small businesses and farms are also benefitting from a reduction.

Since 2003, nearly $70 billion has been invested in the electricity system, including more than $37 billion in electricity generation to ensure the system is clean and reliable. The majority of the province's electricity generators operate under 20-year contracts. Despite the report's assertion that it is "not at all" certain if these generating assets will be operating beyond their contract lives, third-party experts have confirmed that many of these generators will be able to continue to operate. This means that generating assets are expected to have ongoing useful life and benefit future ratepayers by reducing the need to finance the development of new generating assets.

The Global Adjustment (GA) pays for the bulk of the recent investments in the electricity system. Refinancing the GA provides significant and immediate rate relief by matching the cost of electricity investments with the expected useful life of the generation that has been built. Despite the report's assertion that the government's intention was to avoid recording a deficit in the fiscal plan, the decisions made to implement GA refinancing most effectively achieves the goals of the refinancing program and ensures that the deferred costs are borne by the rate-base, as the beneficiaries of the electricity system, and not the tax-base. The accounting for this transaction will reflect the substance of this transaction.

With respect to the Province's financial statements, they are prepared in accordance with Canadian PSAS and will follow PSAS in accounting for the transactions resulting from OFHP in 2017-18 as well as in the following years. As PSAS is set by an independent standard setting body in Canada focused specifically on the public sector, and because PSAS is used by all senior governments in Canada, presenting its financial statements in accordance with PSAS results in transparent financial reporting for the Province of Ontario.

The government of Ontario also disagrees with two fundamental accounting assertions in the report related to legislated accounting and rate-regulated accounting:

- Legislated Accounting – The Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and its related regulations do not create accounting rules or legislate the accounting. This is a fundamental disagreement with the report. As previously noted, the Province will prepare its consolidated financial statements in accordance with PSAS.

- Rate-Regulated Accounting – In commenting on the use of rate-regulated accounting and the role of the Ontario Energy Board (OEB), the report makes reference to a requirement under U.S. accounting standards in connection with the use of rate-regulated accounting that "there must be an independent regulator". This reference is misleading as it does not provide the criteria in its entirety, which is as follows:
