EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

There are two major changes to this year's Plan. An increase in liquid reserves of $6 billion is planned for 2017-18 to meet the cash requirements associated with the large benchmark debt maturities commencing in 2019-20. A target of being approximately one quarter ahead of pace in the borrowing program is also planned, with a limit for pre-borrowing up to one half of the 2018-19 borrowing requirements once the 2017-18 borrowing program has been completed. These features of the Plan are covered in items 7 and 8 of the Executive Summary below.

1. As outlined in the review of 2016-17 [Section I - YEAR IN REVIEW: 2016-17, pages 9-12], $27.0 billion of long-term borrowing was completed in 2016-17 which includes pre-borrowing of $3.2 billion for 2017-18. This is down from $32.1 billion borrowed the previous year. 74% was completed in domestic markets, and all borrowing, investing and debt management activities were consistent with the 2016-17 Financing, Debt & Electricity Management Plan.

2. Based on the 2016 Ontario Economic Outlook and Fiscal Review (FES), the estimated 2017-18 long-term public borrowing requirement for Ontario and OEFC is $23.3 billion. The major components of the requirement are debt maturities and redemptions of $17.6 billion, and investment in capital assets of $12.4 billion, partially offset by $6.1 billion in non-cash adjustments, the majority of which is amortization. There will likely be some changes to the borrowing requirement once the 2017 Budget has been completed. For example, a planned increase in liquid reserves of $6.0 billion will use the pre-borrowing completed in 2016-17 and additional borrowing in 2017-18. In addition, recent announcements about reducing the size of the electricity global adjustment could also put upward pressure on funding requirements in future years. Relevant updates to recommendations made in this Plan will be reported back to the OFA and OEFC Boards at the following regularly scheduled Board meetings. [Section II – Borrowing Requirements (Ontario and OEFC), pages 13-17]

3. The expectation for fiscal stimulus and rising inflation in the United States has pushed long-term interest rates higher in recent months. According to private-sector forecasts, both short-term and long-term interest rates are expected to rise through 2017-18. The yield on 3-month government of Canada treasury bills is expected to increase slightly from 0.54% as of March 31, 2017 to 0.60% by the end of 2017-18. The 10-year government of Canada bond yield is expected to increase from 1.73% as of Mar 31, 2017 to 2.20% over the same period. The Canadian dollar is forecast to remain weak and depreciate slightly from 75.2 cents U.S. as of March 31, 2017 to 74.5 cents U.S. by the end of the fiscal year[5]. Interest rate risk remains high, and there will be upward pressure on interest costs in 2017-18 if interest rates increase more than currently forecast. Costs can be reduced by issuing more floating rate or shorter dated debt, although this will increase interest rate risk in future years. [Appendix 2 – Economic Outlook and Risks, pages 80-81]

4. The 2017-18 borrowing program is the smallest since 2007-08, and reflects the impact of lower deficits and term extension of the borrowing program over the past 7 years. This lower borrowing requirement provides the capacity for the planned increase in liquid reserves in advance of the large benchmark debt maturities starting in 2019-20. The borrowing programs will remain relatively large going forward due to the rollover of increasing levels of debt and planned investments in capital assets. Given the substantial size of future borrowing programs, a multi-year approach will be used to provide direction on appropriate term structure.

   Diversification of borrowing will be required to complete the program, and the Province will strive to stay approximately one quarter ahead of pace in borrowing to provide flexibility for times when market access will be curtailed. This includes market disruptions as well as other more predictable events such as Ontario quarterly financial updates.

   The OFA has a preference for domestic funding over international funding due to its greater cost-effectiveness, normally longer duration, relative ease of execution, and reduced swap counterparty credit exposure and accounting risk going forward. Given these factors, the OFA will strive to complete approximately 75% of the borrowing program in the domestic market. This would correspond to $17.5 billion of domestic borrowing which is below the record $31.4 billion in domestic funding achieved in 2014-15. International funding, which is usually more costly, enables the OFA to access other markets when demand in the domestic market is curtailed. [Section III (A) – Long Term Borrowing Program, pages 18-36]

5. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for a range of 6.5 to 14.7 years for the average term of Ontario new borrowing for 2017-18, and approval is requested for exceeding the high end of the range if this can be achieved cost-effectively within existing policy parameters. Last year's approved range was 6.4 to 15.1 years, with the same approval to exceed the top end of the range. The preference will be to get closer to the top of the range given historically low interest rates and a desire to reduce refinancing risk in future years. The recommended range reflects estimated investor demand and a constraint in the maximum size of future borrowing programs to reduce refinancing risks in the future. We will report back to the Board if it appears that the average term will fall outside the approved range by the end of the year. It is estimated the overall term of outstanding debt for the Province will range between 10.2 and 11.2 years on March 31, 2018 (11.2 years currently). [Section III (A)(2) – Term Structure, pages 19-26]

6. OEFC BOARD APPROVAL - Approval is requested for OEFC to borrow in 2017-18 for amounts and tenors similar to the loans advanced to OPG. No new borrowing is projected for OEFC in 2017-18 related to operational requirements, however, OEFC is projected to borrow in 2017-18 to fund new loans to OPG. OEFC typically funds new loans to OPG by issuing debt of a similar tenor for asset/liability management purposes.

OEFC is forecast to have a cash surplus of $2.5 billion on March 31, 2017, and $3.3 billion on March 31, 2018, primarily due to the proceeds related to the broadening of ownership of Hydro One. Cash balances are invested with the Province to meet OEFC's upcoming cash requirements, including maturing long-term debt. Maturing long-term debt totals $2.1 billion in 2017-18, $0.7 billion in 2018-19, and $1.4 billion in 2019-20. The cash surplus plus other payments from the Province will be used to reduce OEFC's debt.

OEFC is currently in the process of amending the existing credit facility for OPG to extend the term of the credit facility to December 31, 2018, and to allow OPG to borrow up to $1.5 billion in 2017 and $850 million in 2018. OPG has also requested the ability to borrow up to terms of 30 years for the duration of the credit facility. It is expected that OPG will utilize the credit facility fully which would result in OEFC borrowing up to $1.55 billion for fiscal 2017-18, and $600 million in 2018-19 if the amendments become finalized. OPG is expected to utilize 30-year borrowing for this requirement.

It is estimated the overall term of outstanding debt for OEFC will be 9.9 years on March 31, 2018 (7.9 years currently). [Section II Borrowing Requirements (Ontario and OEFC), pages 15-17]

7. Liquid reserves in conjunction with short-term borrowing are used to manage liquidity risk, although the pace of long-term borrowing will also have a major impact on the level of liquid reserves throughout the year. Higher levels of liquid reserves have been maintained in recent years given the combination of large borrowing programs, higher debt levels and the implementation of collateralized swaps. The credit rating agencies also place a high value on liquidity levels in determining their credit ratings. For 2017-18, a minimum liquid reserve threshold will be maintained throughout the year to ensure sufficient cash is available to meet requirements. This threshold will be calculated as the net cash outflow within a rolling one-month time horizon, plus a provision for potential CSA collateral requirements. Liquid reserves are projected to remain above the minimum threshold in 2017-18 assuming even-paced long term borrowing. If the borrowing program was to fall three-months behind pace, liquid reserves could be as low as $13.4 billion. If the borrowing program was to get three months ahead of pace, liquid reserves could be as high as $29.6 billion.

   The maturity of larger benchmark debt issues is an important consideration in overall liquidity management. Coming out of the financial crisis, the Province began a strategy of creating large, liquid 10- and 30-year benchmark domestic bond issues in 2009-10 in response to investor demand. This strategy has been very successful and continues to lower Ontario's borrowing costs and enhance the Province's access to capital. Starting in 2019-20, the maturity of these larger benchmark debt issues on June 2nd each year in combination with the large semi-annual June 2nd coupon payment will shift a larger proportion of annual cash requirements to the first quarter of the fiscal year. As a result, a higher level of liquid reserves will need to be maintained early in the fiscal year to cover these cash outflows. Lower borrowing requirements in 2017-18 provide an opportunity to start building up reserves this year. We plan to increase liquid reserves by $6 billion in 2017-18, and where possible, buy back some of the larger debt maturities starting in June 2019, or purchase other government securities of similar maturities to smooth the maturity and cash flow profile. We will strive to reduce any carrying costs related to the increase in liquid reserves by minimizing any term mismatch on borrowings and related buy-backs or investments, and by issuing additional floating rate debt as required. Debt issued specifically for this purpose may be reported separately from the regular borrowing program for average term calculation purposes. Overall, the potential cost of higher liquid reserves is largely offset by higher levels of floating rate debt. [Section III (D) –Liquidity Risk Management, pages 41-54]

8. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – In response to the relatively high potential for reduced market access relating to the 2018 Ontario election which must be held by June 7, 2018, and the risks associated with a likely restructuring of the North America Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) and an elevated Canadian housing market, a target of getting one quarter ahead of pace in the borrowing program is recommended, and approval is requested to be able to pre-borrow up to one half of the 2018-19 borrowing requirements once the 2017-18 borrowing program has been completed. [Section III (A)/ (3) (a) – Overview, pages 27-28]

9. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested to provide for up to $5.2 billion of international strategic financing for the 2017-18 borrowing program, and the objective will be to minimize both the amount and cost of strategic financing. Strategic financing is measured as a component of the fixed rate borrowing benchmark, and excludes core foreign exchange and floating rate borrowing. Strategic financing of $3.2 billion was completed last year. [Section III(A)(3)(b) - Strategic Financing, pages 29-30]

10. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for the Investor Relations (IR) Annual Plan for 2017-18. In 2017-18, IR will continue to meet with domestic and international investors, with roadshows planned for North America, Europe, Latin America (LATAM) and Asia. [Appendix 14 – Investor Relations Annual Plan 2017-18, pages 124-147]

11. Ontario Infrastructure and Lands Corporation (OILC) provides loans for infrastructure development to the broader public sector. In 2015-16, OILC started borrowing directly from the Province through a long-term credit facility on the same general terms as the loans it makes to its clients. A total of 143 loans were made in 2016-17 with total notional of approximately $826.9 million. For 2017-18, it is projected there will be approximately 100 loans executed for total notional of approximately $600 million. This new process relieves OILC from having to hedge its borrowing in the swap market. While the Province's borrowing requirement increases in order to fund OILC's loans, net debt remains unchanged since any increase in the Province's borrowing is offset by loans issued to OILC. [Section III (I) (3) – Other Financial Services, pages 72-74].

12. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for a range of 11.4% to 15.4% in Ontario's gross floating rate exposure for March 31, 2018. This is higher than last year's approved range of 10.4% to 14.4%. A target of 13.4% is planned, which would be an increase from estimated exposure of 12.6% on March 31, 2017. The higher range and increased exposure is recommended to manage potential carrying costs related to the planned increase in liquid reserves. Floating rate exposure may be increased further to reduce interest costs in 2017-18 if current market conditions were to change. [Section III (E) – Interest Rate Risk Management, pages 55-58]

13. OEFC BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for a range of 3.3% to 7.3% in OEFC's gross floating rate exposure for March 31, 2018, with a target of 5.3%. This is lower than last year's approved range of 4.9% to 8.9%, and estimated exposure of 7.8% on March 31, 2016. The reduction in gross floating rate exposure arises from the maturity of floating rate debt in 2017-18. [Section III (E) – Interest Rate Risk Management, pages 55-58]

14. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for a range of 0.0% to 1.25% in foreign exchange exposure. This is slightly lower than last year's range of 0.0% to 2.5%. This range would allow for an increase in exposure from the current level of 0.2% through the issuance of unhedged foreign debt should attractive market or funding opportunities arise. It would also allow for the continued hedging of existing exposure maturing within three years for IOD management purposes if market conditions were considered appropriate. [Section III (F) – Foreign Exchange Risk Management, pages 59-61]

15. The Interest on Debt (IOD) forecast for 2017-18 is $11.7 billion based on the 2016 Ontario FES. There may be more risk to IOD this year given the potential for a greater than forecast increase in interest rates. For 2017-18, the impact of a one percentage point increase in interest rates is estimated to be an additional $350 million in interest costs for the Province. IOD will be closely monitored and reported to the Board on a regular basis. [Section III (G) – Interest on Debt Management, page 62]

16. Credit exposures will continue to be monitored on a daily basis and actively managed. Counterparty credit limits are based on the credit quality of each entity which is based on credit ratings, the regulatory capital base and credit quality assessments. Collateralized swap agreements (CSAs) have been signed with ten counterparties. These agreements reduce credit exposure through the mutual exchange of collateral between Ontario and its counterparties to offset changes in the market value of the related swaps. We will continue efforts to execute collateralized swap agreements where possible, although no new agreements are expected at this time. Derivative market reforms are expected to increase the Province's costs of derivative transactions due to the asymmetrical thresholds of our CSAs. The OFA plans to review the CSA thresholds this year and may consider moving to symmetrical thresholds if lower transaction costs and greater liquidity can be achieved. The trade-off would be the additional collateral the Province may potentially have to post if the thresholds were equal, which could be up to $2.5 billion in certain situations based on our current credit rating. [Section III (H) – Derivative Risk Management, pages 63-66]

17. The Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) extended the effective date of their financial instruments accounting standards issued in July 2011 from April 1, 2016 to April 1, 2019 at their meeting in June 2015. In October 2016, the OFA engaged the services of Deloitte Inc. to assist in assessing the fiscal and operational impact of PS 3450 and PS 2601 on the Province as well as engage with PSAB and other stakeholders with the aim of amending the standards to address the concerns of the Province and borrowing community. The Public Sector Accounting Board's new standard on Financial Instruments, if implemented in its current form, would have a major impact on the risk management activities of the Province. Hedging activities such as the use of foreign exchange forward contracts to hedge long term debt and rate setting transactions to manage the borrowing program would introduce significant volatility and unpredictability in the Province's interest costs (IOD), net debt, and deficit under the proposed standards. If adopted, the use of these types of risk management strategies would have to be re-evaluated in the context of IOD volatility. [Section V – Accounting Update, pages 76-77]

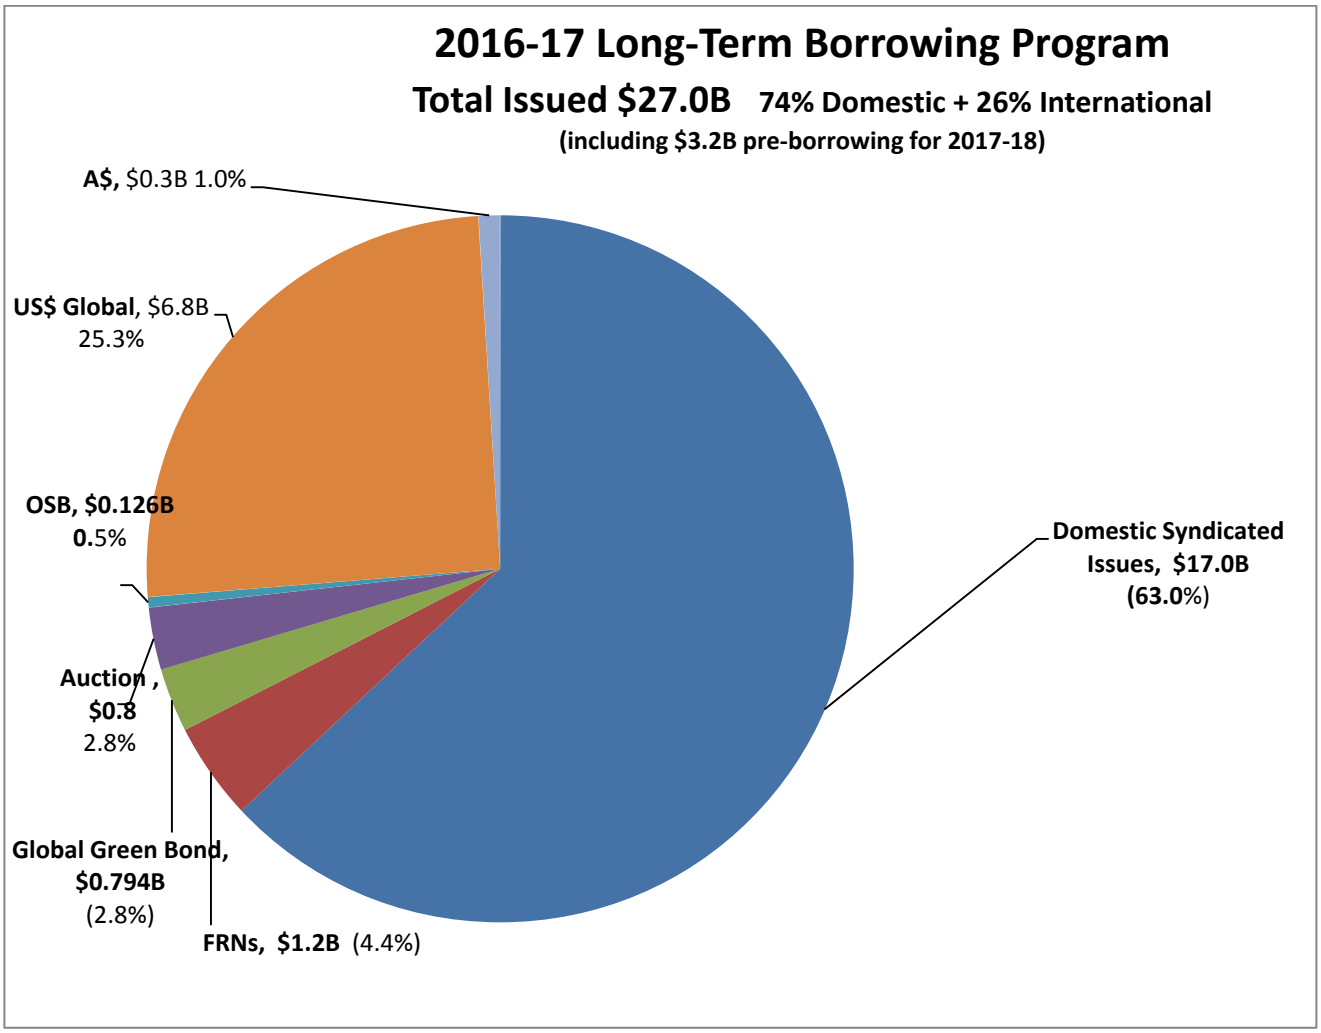
18. OEFC BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested to continue to enter into transactions related to the operational management of the NUG contracts that reduce costs of the NUG contracts for electricity ratepayers. [Section III (J) –Commodity Risk Management, page 75]

19. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – The procurement process established five years ago for underwriting services will be followed again this year. It is recommended that procurement for underwriting services be approved for 2017-18 and up to two quarters for 2018-19 based on the underwriting services procurement framework included in this Plan. [Appendix 15 – 2017-18 Procurement Process for Underwriting Services, pages 148-149]

I. YEAR IN REVIEW: 2016-17

Ontario and OEFC's borrowing, investment and debt management activities and program results for 2016-17 were consistent with the objectives approved in the 2016-17 Financing, Debt & Electricity Management Plan.

The long-term borrowing for last year was $27.0 billion which includes pre-borrowing of $3.2 billion for 2017-18.



- Strong demand for domestic bonds allowed approximately 74% domestic funding. As in previous years, syndicated issues accounted for a large majority (86%) of domestic funding and a high proportion (63%) of over-all borrowing.

Domestic Funding $19.9 billion

Issue Type	Tenor	# Issues	Amount Issued
Syndicated	5-year	2	$ 1,976M
Syndicated	10-year	9	$ 7,528M
Syndicated	30-year	11	$ 7,519M
Total Syndicated	5,10,30-year	22	$ 17,023M
Floating Rate Notes	5-year	1	$ 1,200M
Global Green Bond	6-year	1	$ 794M
Auction	3-year	1	$ 767M
Ontario Saving Bonds	3,5 & 10-year	4	$ 126M

- International funding accounted for approximately 26% of the borrowing program.

International Funding $7.1 billion

Issue Type	Tenor	# Issues	Local Currency	Amount Issued C$
US$ Global	10-year	1	US$ 1,000M	$ 1,263M
US$ Global	3-year	1	US$ 1,750M	$ 2,284M
US$ Global	5-year	1	US$ 2,500M	$ 3,286M
Total US$ Global	3,5,10-year	3	US$ 5,250M	$ 6,833M
Kangaroo	10-year	8	A$ 300M	$ 296M

- Last year's base case economic forecast was for 3-month Canada treasury bill yields to increase slightly to 0.57% by the end of the fiscal year. 3-month Canada treasury bill yields were unchanged from March 31, 2016 at 0.54% on March 31, 2017. The forecast was for 10-year Canada bond yields to increase to 2.05% by March 31, 2017. 10-year Canada bond yields have actually increased from 1.23% on March 31, 2016 to 1.73% on March 31, 2017. 10-year Ontario rates increased from 2.30% to 2.49% over the same period and reflect a narrowing of the 10-year Ontario spread. Interim 2016-17 IOD is projected to be $11.4 billion, which is $0.4 billion lower than forecast in the 2016 Budget.

The 2016-17 program results for Ontario and OEFC are summarized in the following table:

Indicator	Approved in 2016-2017 Financing, Debt & Electricity Management Plan		Estimated Results March 31, 2017
	ONTARIO	OEFC	ONTARIO	OEFC
Gross Floating Rate Exposure	10.4% - 14.4% Target 12.4% (No Change)	4.9% - 8.9% Target 6.9% (Decrease)	12.6%	7.8%
Foreign Exchange Exposure	0.0% - 2.5%	0.0%	0.2%	0.0%
Average Term of New Borrowing	6.4 to 15.1+ Years[1]	No Borrowing Projected	13.9 Years[2]	No Borrowing
Pre-borrowing	Up to 1 Quarter of the 2017-2018 Requirements	Up to 1 Quarter of the 2017-2018 Requirements	$3.2 Bln[3]	None

1. Includes approval to exceed the high end of the range if it can be achieved cost-effectively within existing policy parameters.
2. Includes pre-borrowing of $3.2 billion. Excluding pre-borrowing the average term was 14.1 years.
3. As of March 31, 2017.

- Gross floating rate exposure for the Province was within the approved range at an estimated 12.6%, slightly above the target of 12.4%. Gross floating rate exposure for OEFC was also within the approved range at an estimated 7.8%, slightly above the target of 6.9%. The yield curve from 3-month interbank rates (CDOR) to Ontario 10-year rates steepened from 140 basis points on March 31, 2016 to 155 basis points on March 31, 2017. The 3-month interbank rate (CDOR) increased slightly from 0.90% on March 31, 2016 to 0.94% on March 31, 2017.

- Foreign exchange exposure for the Province was within the approved range at an estimated 0.2% on March 31, 2017. This is a decrease from 0.3% in the previous year and reflects the hedging of Yen 17.0 billion exposure (CAD$ 193 million) maturing June 8, 2020. Foreign exchange exposure for OEFC was maintained at 0% as planned.

- The average term of new borrowing was 13.9 years for Ontario (including pre-borrowing of $3.2 billion). Excluding pre-borrowing, the average term of new borrowing for Ontario was 14.1 years. Ontario's borrowing term was within the approved range. No borrowing was required for OEFC.

- Unrestricted liquid reserves (liquid reserves excluding net collateral received from derivative counterparties) decreased from $23.6 billion on March 31, 2016, to a projected $18.6 billion (excluding pre-borrowing for 2017-18) on March 31, 2017, based on the 2016 Ontario FES. Net collateral received from derivative counterparties was $2.1 billion on March 31, 2017, compared to $1.8 billion on March 31, 2016.

- Daily unrestricted liquid reserve levels for 2016-17 are provided in the following graph to March 31, 2017. Over this period, unrestricted liquid reserves averaged about $21.1 billion.

The average daily change in unrestricted liquid reserves was about $663 million, with a maximum daily change of approximately $4.6 billion occurring on February 8th due to the settlement proceeds of several bond issues. There were 59 days when the daily change in unrestricted liquid reserves exceeded $1 billion.

(April 1, 2016 - March 31, 2017)

	Amount ($ billion)	Date
Average	21.1	April 1, 2016 - March 31,2017
High	26.8	April 28, 2016
Low	15.1	December 15, 2016

- Total combined Ontario/OEFC short-term debt outstanding (i.e., Ontario treasury bills and U.S. commercial paper) is estimated at $21.8 billion on March 31, 2017, unchanged from March 31, 2016. The combined program authority for Ontario and OEFC treasury bill and U.S. commercial paper was $48.0 billion on March 31, 2017.

Notes: Numbers may not add due to rounding. Based on the 2016 Ontario FES.

The 2017-18 long-term public borrowing program is the smallest since 2007-08. Based on the 2016 Ontario FES, the Province is projected to borrow $75.8 billion over the three-year period in the medium-term borrowing outlook, down from the $107.9 billion borrowed over the previous three-year period. This $32.1 billion decline in borrowing reflects the impact of lower deficits, pre-borrowing, term extension and the Province's asset optimization activities. Historical borrowing requirements as well as projected borrowing requirements for the next two years are provided in the chart and table below. The lower borrowing requirement in 2017-18 provides the opportunity to increase liquid reserves in advance of the larger benchmark debt maturities starting in 2019-20.

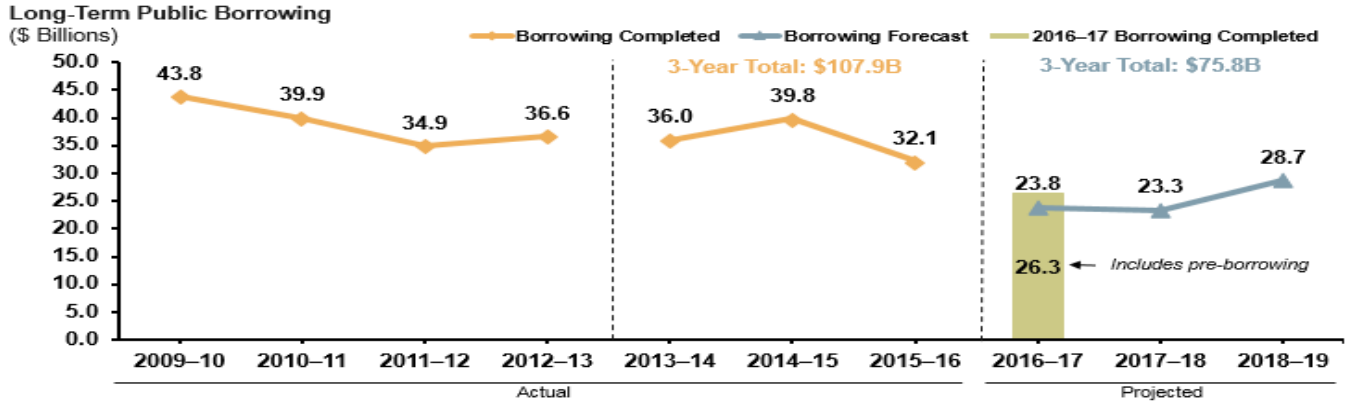
(Based on 2016 Ontario FES – as of March 15, 2017)



The Ontario borrowing program remains the largest of the Canadian provinces, and is approximately 30% of the total borrowing programs for all provinces combined. The borrowing requirements and financial risk exposures of the federal government and provinces are provided in Appendix 1.

OEFC's borrowing requirements are considered separately for operational cash requirements and for new loans to OPG. For 2017-18, no borrowing is projected for OEFC related to operations, as requirements can be met with cash balances on hand as well as cash generated from operations. OEFC is projected to have a cash surplus balance of approximately $2.5 billion on March 31, 2017, and $3.3 billion on March 31, 2018 based on the 2016 Ontario FES. These positive cash balances are primarily due to the cash proceeds related to the broadening of ownership of Hydro One. Cash balances are invested with the Province and are used to meet OEFC's upcoming cash requirements, which include maturing long-term debt. Maturing long-term debt totals $2.1 billion in 2017-18, $0.7 billion in 2018-19, and $1.4 billion in 2019-20.

OEFC generally funds new loans to OPG by issuing debt of a similar tenor for asset/liability management purposes. The existing credit facility with OPG, and a breakdown of OPG debt payable to OEFC are listed in the tables below.

OPG Credit Facility
Project	Amount Authorized	Total Borrowing to Date	Outstanding Commitment	Maturity Date of Loan Agreement
General Corporate (incl. Darlington Refurbishment)	$700 million	$200 million	$500 million	Dec. 31, 2017

OPG Debt Payable to OEFC
General Corporate Requirements (2007)	$500 million maturing 2017 ($500 million approved)
General Corporate (incl. Darlington Refurbishment) Requirements	$300 million maturing 2026 – 2047
Niagara Tunnel Project	$855 million maturing 2017 – 2023 ($1.6 billion approved, $1,065 million borrowed)
Portlands	$300 million maturing 2017 – 2019 ($400 million approved, $390 million borrowed)
Lac Seul	$30 million maturing 2017 and 2019 ($50 million approved, $50 million borrowed)
Debt Refinanced (2007-2011)	$1,460 million maturing 2016 - 2042
Total Debt Outstanding	$3,445 million

OEFC is currently in the process of amending the credit facility for OPG to extend the term of the facility to December 31, 2018, and to allow OPG to borrow up to $1.5 billion in 2017 and $850 million in 2018. OPG has also requested the ability to borrow up to tenors of 30 years for the term of the credit facility. It is expected that OPG will utilize the credit facility fully which would result in OEFC borrowing up to $1.55 billion for fiscal 2017-18, and $600 million in 2018-19. OPG is expected to borrow in the 30 year term during 2017 which would result in 30 year borrowing for OEFC. Since these particular OEFC borrowings are term matched to underlying OPG loans, they are excluded from the borrowing program performance for measurement purposes.

The detailed OEFC Borrowing Plan Forecast for 2017-18, 2018-19, and 2019-20 based on the 2016 Ontario FES is provided in the table below. These results do not reflect the planned amendments to the credit facility with OPG, as these amendments are not yet finalized.

In addition to providing financing to OPG, OEFC has provided financing to the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). Both the fixed term loan and the revolving credit facility with OEFC are expected to be extended for an additional 3 years, and IESO has indicated they will need additional financing. With the merger of the Ontario Power Authority and the IESO, IESO has also retained their original revolving credit facility with the OFA for up to $975 million.

The impact of these additional loans for OEFC from an asset/liability management perspective is also considered, and where necessary hedging strategies will be implemented to manage potential interest rate risk.

III. STRATEGY

The objective of the plan is to manage the borrowing, debt, investment and electricity management activities of the Province and OEFC in a prudent, timely, and cost-effective manner within approved policies and limits.

A. LONG-TERM BORROWING PROGRAM

Introduction

The 2017-18 borrowing program is estimated at $23.3 billion based on the 2016 Ontario FES. Market access has been generally good, but there were a few challenging periods in 2016-17 around Brexit and the U.S. election. In 2016-17 we experienced heightened competition for funding windows from other Provinces, most notably Quebec and Alberta. Alberta is expected to borrow $18.7B in 2017-18 and Quebec is expected to borrow heavily next year in order to prefund a heavy redemption calendar. Like Quebec, we also have a heavy redemption calendar in the first half of 2019. We plan to increase our prefunding while market conditions are favourable and interest rates remain at historically low levels. This year's program of $23.3B is manageable and we have scope to increase our funding. The quantitative easing (QE) actions by the ECB have forced core European investors to search for yield in non-euro denominated debt. Ontario may benefit from this but the expected incremental Canadian dollar demand is expected to be fairly modest. In late 2016 we saw an increase in demand for Canadian dollar denominated debt from Japanese investors. Demand for Canadian Provincial debt has been growing in Japan and this may prove to be a valuable new investor class for us. We expect that this demand will partially offset other large Asian investors who have been sellers of their Canadian dollar assets. Under normal conditions, regulatory blackouts for the Budget, quarterly updates and filings preclude international borrowing for up to a third of the year. In addition, geopolitical risk remains high, and capital market disruptions from events in Europe, the Middle East and Asia cannot be ruled out. In addition, the Ontario provincial election which must be held by June 7, 2018 has the potential to negatively impact market access.

Interest rates have bounced from the historical lows and there are expectations that we will see a rise in U.S. interest rates as U.S. economic growth picks up. Canadian rates are expected to rise gradually. Low interest rates with a general bias for rate increases reduce investor demand and make it more difficult to extend term.

Given market access concerns, it is recommended that the Province strive to remain one quarter ahead of pace in the borrowing program. We will attempt to accelerate the program in the second half of the year as we approach the 2018 election. This may involve borrowing in less than optimal market conditions at times and will also require diversification in our sources of funds. A sizable borrowing program in conjunction with reduced foreign issuance windows puts pressure on us to issue larger less frequent foreign bond issues even if arbitrage conditions are not optimal.

1) Market Background

- Quebec, Ontario, Alberta, Saskatchewan, BC were able to start pre-borrowing for 2017-18. Indications are that total provincial borrowings with the exception of Ontario will increase from previous years and will be concentrated between Ontario, Quebec and Alberta. Competition from our provincial counterparts for borrowing opportunities is expected to remain high as was seen last year with multiple domestic provincial bond issues often occurring on days when market tone was good and U.S. dollar provincial issues being priced in close succession when fully hedged U.S. borrowing costs became attractive.

- Ontario has been successful in extending term and reducing borrowing requirements in recent years, and Ontario's annual borrowing requirements are expected to be less than $30 billion for the next year, before it ramps up again as re-financing needs increase requirements. In addition, there is the potential for other factors such as OPG borrowing for nuclear refurbishment to increase borrowing requirements. Recent announcements about reducing the size of the Global Adjustment could also put upward pressure on our funding requirements.

- There are currently numerous geopolitical risks, including international conflicts and economic dislocations, which have the potential to disrupt Ontario's borrowing program at various times during 2017-18. Recent indications from the new U.S. administration surrounding trade and repeal of the Dodd Frank Act could also disrupt normal market activities.

- Ontario's international funding for 2016-17 included issues in the U.S. and Australian markets. Other foreign markets were either too expensive or had insufficient investor demand. It is expected that the U.S. market will be utilized for most of the 2017-18 international borrowing, and in order to complete the program it may be necessary to do a Euro issue even if arbitrage conditions are not optimal. Demand for Ontario euro denominated debt is expected to be very strong in 2017-18 which would allow us to expand our investor base. Swiss, Sterling, Yen and Australian markets will continue to be monitored for issuance opportunities.

2) Term Structure

The recommended term structure for the 2017-18 borrowing program has been developed using the following inputs and analysis:

1. estimates of investor demand for benchmark maturities;
2. an assessment of the maximum acceptable size of future annual borrowing programs;

3. an analysis of the size of future borrowing requirements under a range of different term structure scenarios for 2017-18 and future years;
4. a costing analysis for various scenarios; and
5. development of a recommended term structure for the 2017-18 borrowing program which reflects investor demand constraints, cost of borrowing considerations and which also manages and limits market access and refinancing risks in future years.

a. Debt Issuance Constraints

An estimate of the maximum potential borrowing for various maturities has been developed based on historical experience. This was done to provide an assessment of investor demand constraints for specific maturities and reflects an upper estimate of potential new borrowing for each tenor. The investor constraints are provided in the following table as well as the term structure of the 2016-17 borrowing program for comparison purposes.

Tenor of New Borrowing	Estimated Market Borrowing Constraints	2016-17 Borrowing Program* ($)	2016-17 Borrowing Program (%)
3-years	$14.0 billion	$ 3.1 billion	12
5-years	$16.5 billion	$ 6.5 billion	24
7-years	$ 6.0 billion	$ 0.8 billion	3
10-years	$16.0 billion	$ 9.1 billion	34
30-years	$10.0 billion	$ 7.5 billion	28

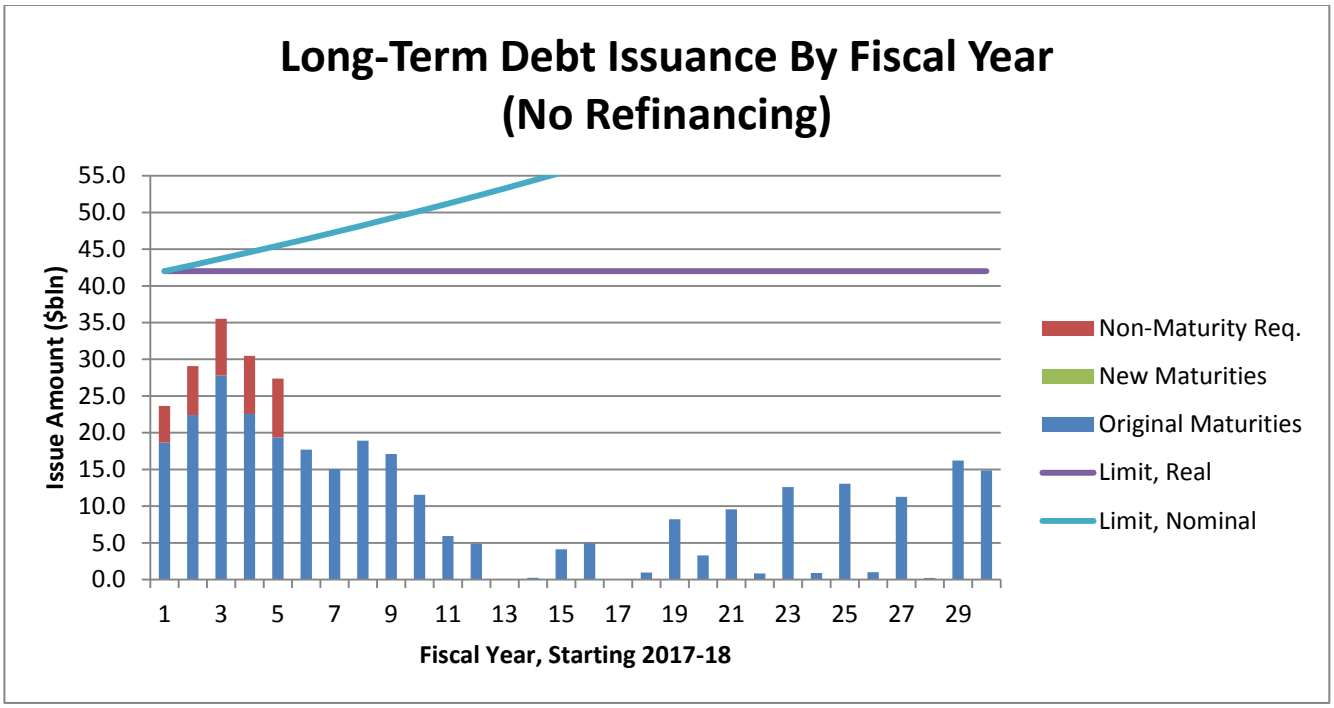
*as of March 23, 2017, excludes OSBs

The market constraints in the above table are estimates based on market experience, and are meant to be indicative rather than precise in nature.

Given the large borrowing requirements in recent years and the expectation that borrowing requirements will remain relatively high in future years as they decrease next year before increasing afterwards, the borrowing program for the current year cannot be developed in isolation of its impact on future years borrowing programs. In essence, term decisions for the current year create maturities and thus borrowing requirements in subsequent years which must be managed to limit refinancing risk in those later years. With this in mind, an annual borrowing limit of $42 billion is used as a guideline. It is slightly less than the 2009-10 borrowing program of $43.8 billion and reflects that there was historically high availability of funds in 2009-10 as the Province was able to approximately double its benchmark issue sizes in the U.S. and Euro bond markets and significantly increase them in the domestic market. This reflected an extreme flight to quality at the time of the financial crises and the positive perception of Canadian public sector borrowers in international markets. Market access was also exceptional in 2016-17, and we were able to borrow $27.0 billion. The $42 billion limit is prescriptive as it may be necessary to deviate from it if market conditions warrant. It is also recognized that the limit should increase over time and a 2% growth rate based on inflation is provided as well.

b. Borrowing Program Profile

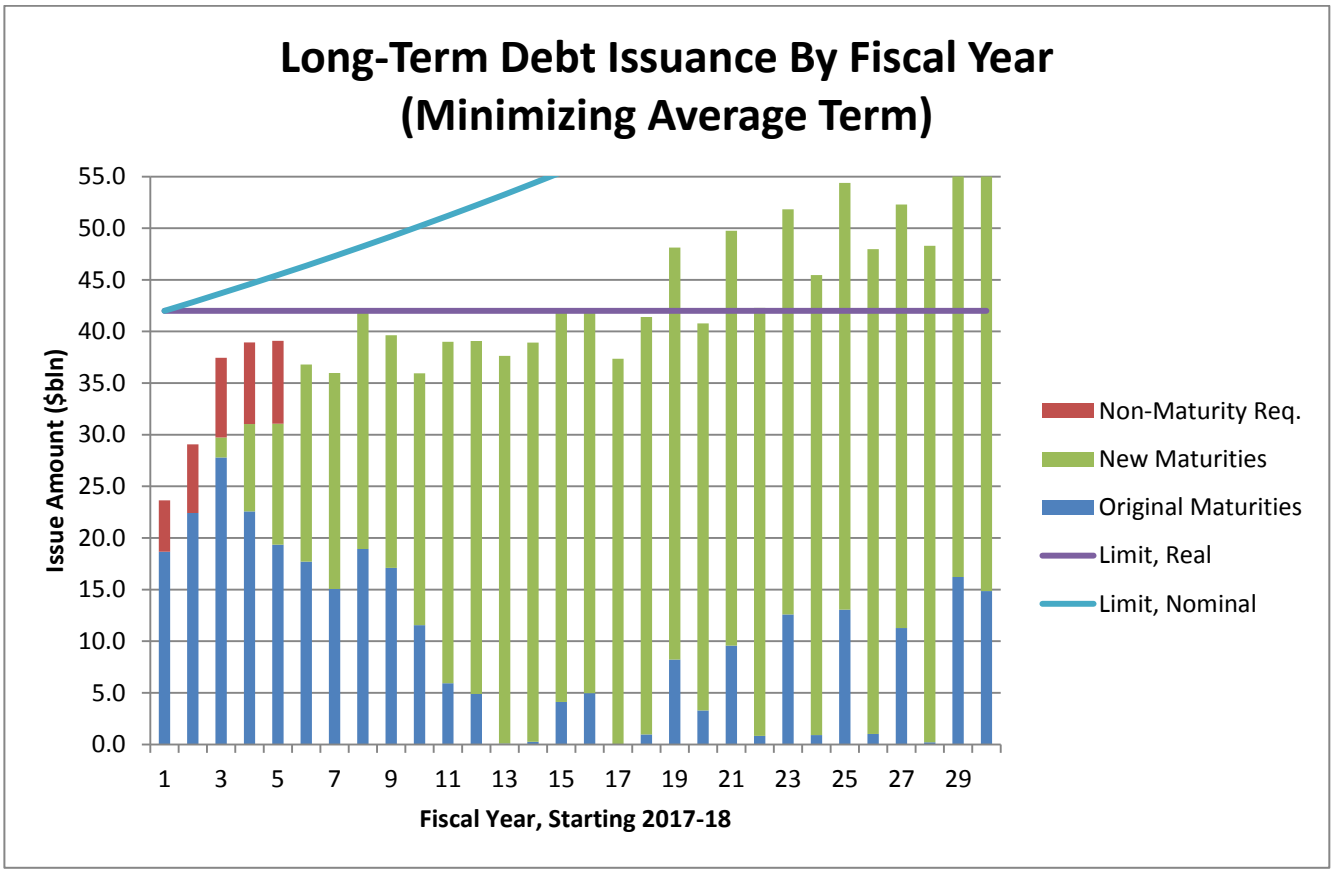
The debt maturity profile has always been an important consideration in managing the borrowing program. This remains the case, but it is now necessary to also focus on other requirements such as future deficits and capital expenditures to get a more comprehensive picture of future annual borrowing requirements. The estimated future borrowing requirements prior to any term structure decisions in 2017-18 and beyond are provided in the following graph, and thus this graph does not include the impact of the refinancing of future borrowing programs.



c. Borrowing Program Scenarios

A series of borrowing program scenarios have been created to assist in developing a borrowing strategy for 2017-18 and to provide guidance for future years. Scenarios have been developed to determine minimum and maximum average terms. The model operates in a similar manner as in last year's plan and develops minimum and maximum average terms based on the constraints.

The Minimum Average Term Scenario for 2017-18 still remains within the investor demand and $42 billion borrowing program constraints. It has an average term of 6.5 years for 2017-18 and thereafter and is illustrated in the following chart and table. It shows a relatively smooth borrowing profile over the next twenty years, with some spikes in borrowing above the $42 billion limit in later years but well below the limit on a nominal basis using a 2% inflation rate for the $42 billion limit.



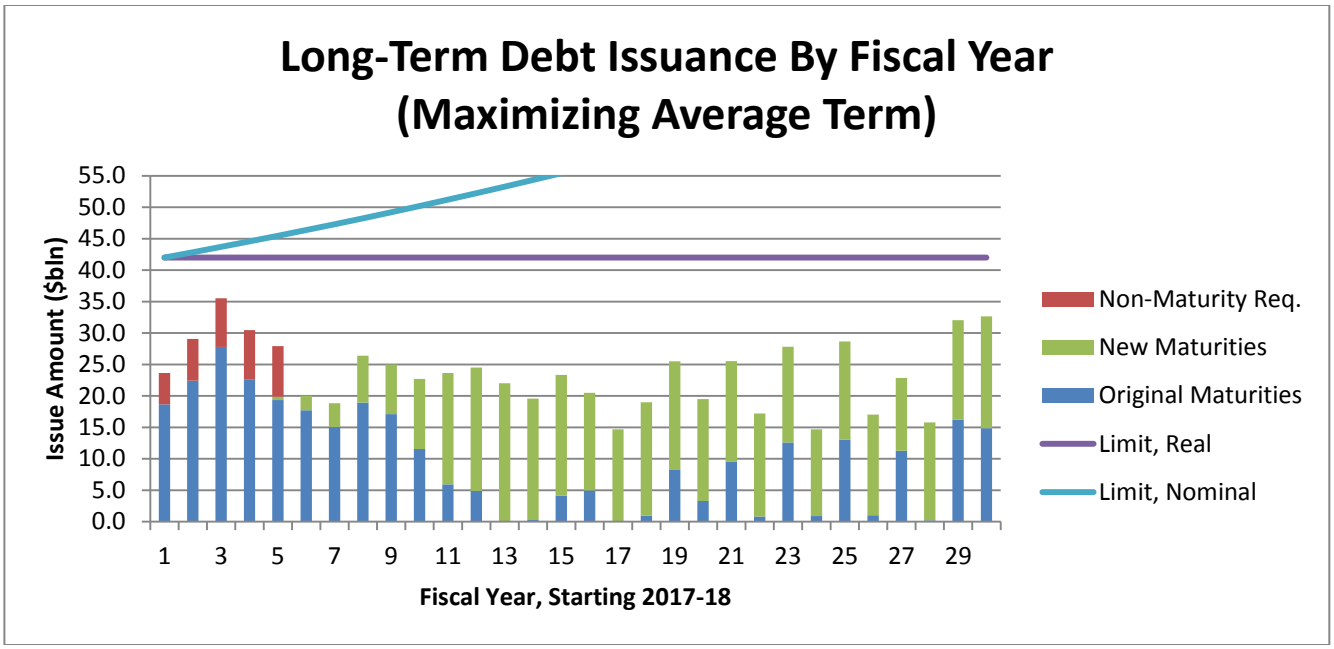
The hypothetical borrowing scenarios for minimum average terms are provided in the following table with the model generating constant allocations.

Assumptions: We assume a constant new term allocations as shown below:

Term	3y	5y	7y	10y	30y
Allocation	35.8%	24.0%	0.1%	39.0%	1.2%

Average Term 6.5 Years

Another critical scenario is one which maximizes the average term of the 2017-18 borrowing program while still remaining within the constraints. As with the minimum average term, the model generated constant allocations. The assumptions are provided in the table below the following graph. It has an average term of 14.7 years.



Assumptions: We assume a constant new term allocations as shown below:

Term	3y	5y	7y	10y	30y
Allocation	0.0%	9.8%	16.8%	45.0%	24.4%

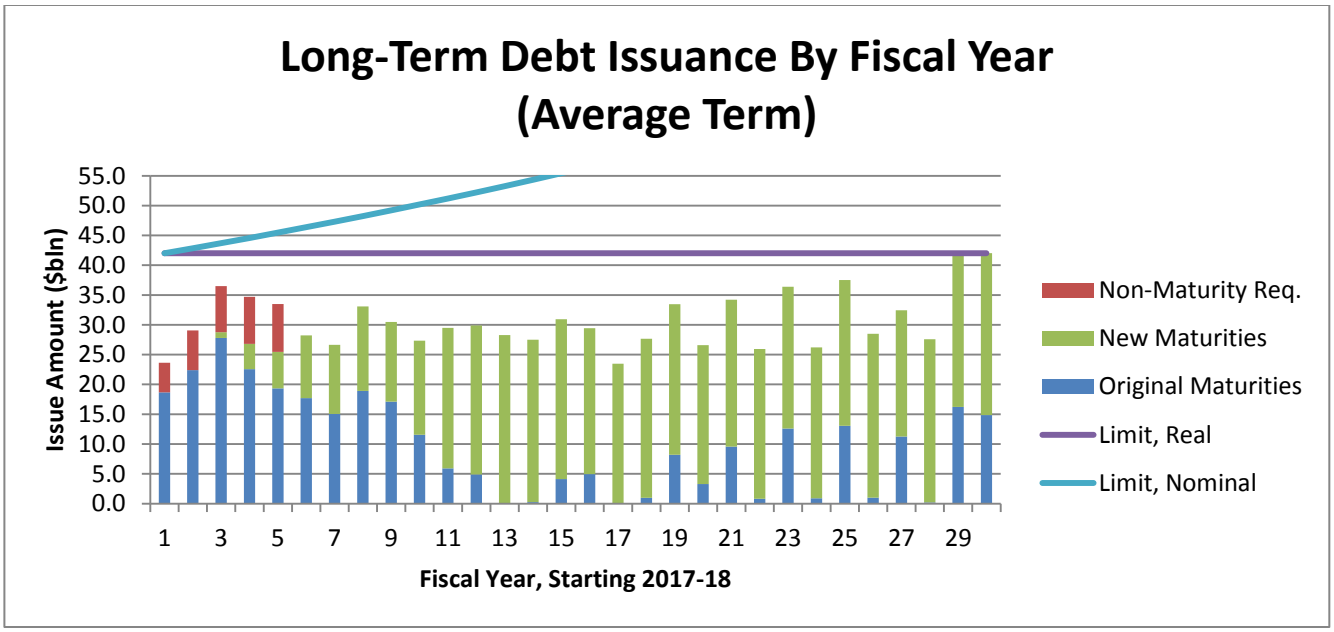
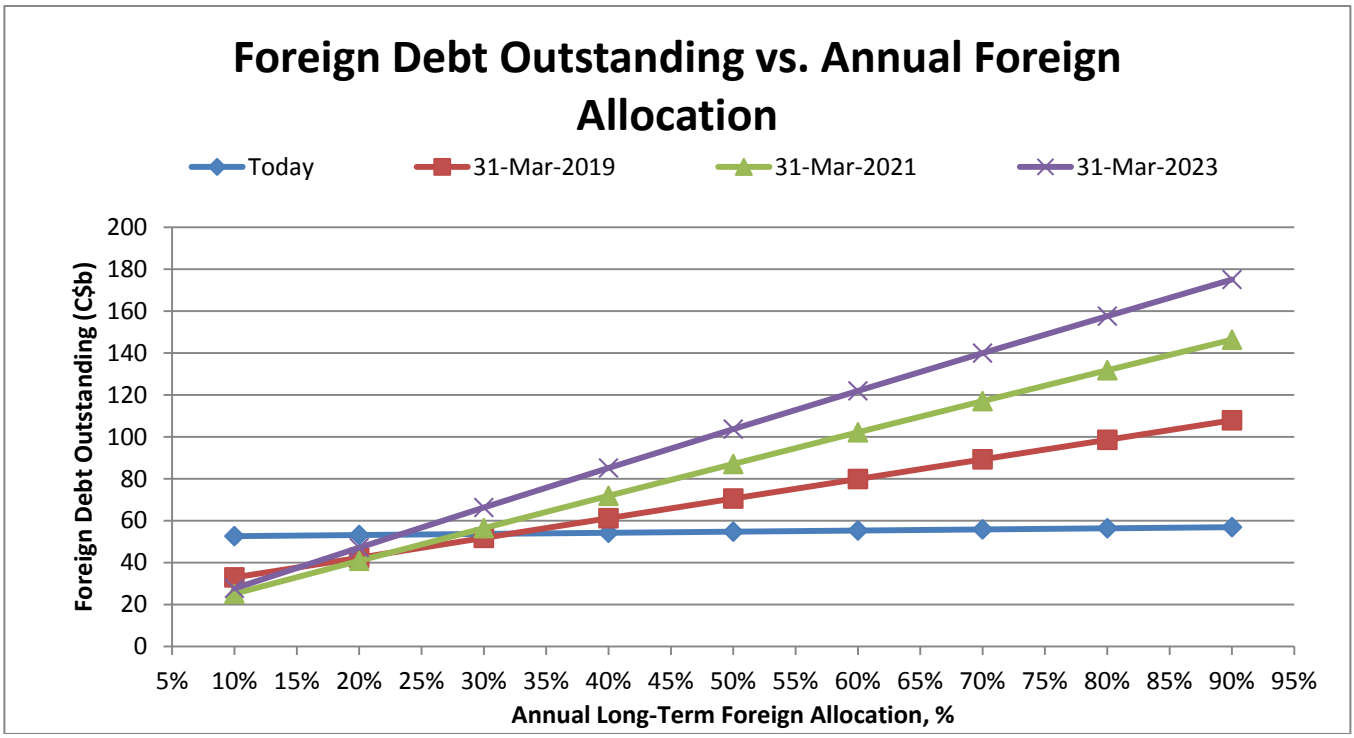
The Maximizing Average Term Scenario provides a cushion below the $42 billion limit for all future borrowing programs over the next 30 years.

An Average Term Scenario has also been developed which is derived from the midpoint of the Minimizing Average Term Scenario (6.5 years) and Maximizing Average Term Scenario (14.7 years), with an average term of 10.6 years. This scenario also has a cushion below the $42 billion limit for all borrowing programs over the next 30 years.



Another major consideration of the borrowing program is the domestic capacity issue and the potential for growing foreign debt outstanding. Foreign debt typically has a shorter maturity than domestic debt and thus creates more refinancing risk. The following graph illustrates how much foreign currency denominated debt could increase over time as the proportion of foreign debt is increased in future years. At a 25% foreign allocation, the amount for foreign debt is projected to remain at or below the current level over the next six years as new debt would essentially be replacing foreign debt maturities.

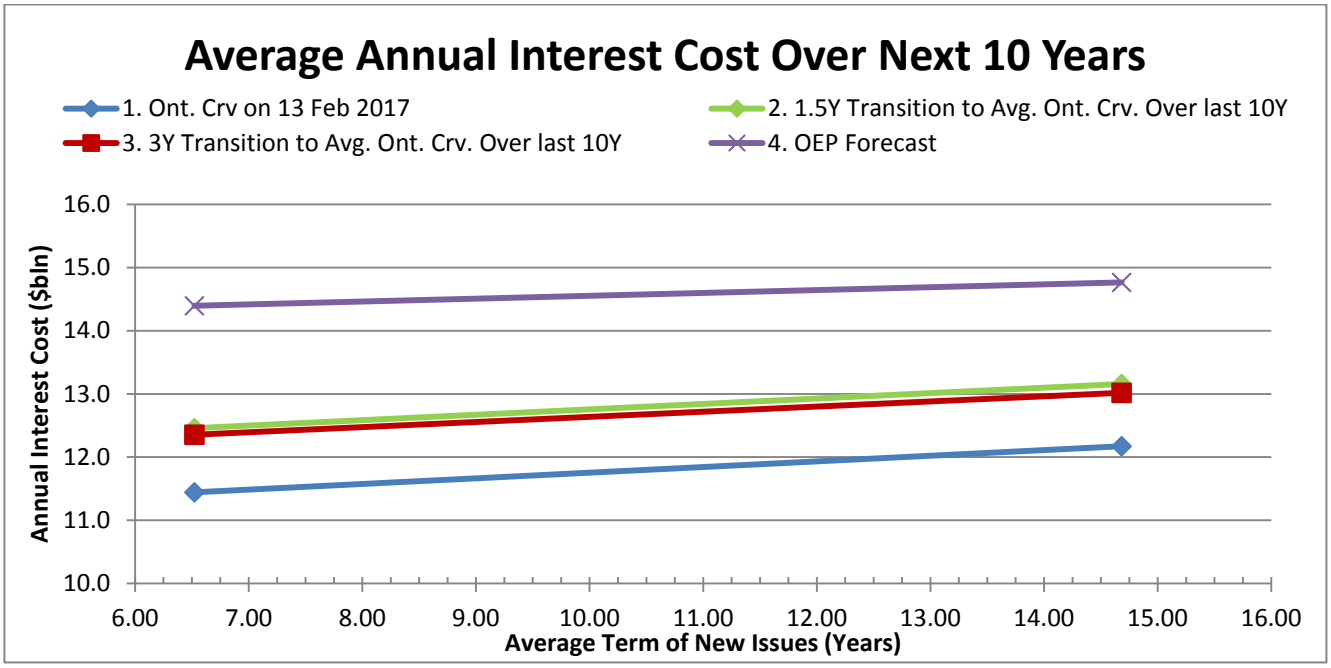


d. Costing Considerations

Future interest costs for new borrowing have been estimated over a ten year time horizon using four different scenarios under both minimum and maximum term borrowing assumptions. The results are provided in the following graph which shows average annual borrowing costs over the next ten years for new debt under the following four scenarios: 1) interest rates remain unchanged at current levels; 2) interest rates rise to the average levels experienced during the past ten years over a one and a half year time period; 3) interest rates increase to the ten year averages over a three year time period; and 4) interest rates rise as per the OEP consensus forecast. The interest rate averages for the four scenarios are provided in the following table.

Term (years)	Scenario 1- Current Rates (%)	Scenario 2- Rates rise to 10 year average over 1.5 years (%)	Scenario 3- Rates rise to 10 year average over 3.0 years (%)	Scenario 4- OEP (Consensus) Forecast (%)
3	1.35	1.96	1.91	3.51
5	1.75	2.45	2.40	3.96
7	2.17	2.91	2.85	4.30
10	2.60	3.38	3.32	4.63
30	3.33	3.95	3.90	5.06

Costs were determined for minimum term (i.e., 6.5 years) and maximum term (i.e., 14.7 years) borrowing programs for each scenario to isolate the impact of term selection.



The following can be concluded:

- Annual interest costs are extremely sensitive to the path of future interest rates as shown by the wide divergence in interest costs for each scenario. This high level of interest rate risk arises from the large volume of both refinancing and new debt to be issued in future years.
- The term selection of future borrowing using the long term range in average term from 6.5 to 14.7 years also has an impact on average annual interest costs, although the impact is much less than the impact of rising interest rates under the different scenarios.

e. Recommended Term Structure

- An average term of new borrowing from 6.5 to 14.7 years is recommended for the Province for 2017-18. The range reflects an assessment of debt issuance constraints and the need to smooth future annual borrowing requirements. Although there are minor cost savings associated with a shorter average term for new borrowing, the reduction in refinancing and market access risk from longer term financing is considered more important. A bias towards the upper end of the range is recommended, although this may be difficult to achieve if investors have a strong preference for shorter maturities. Cost pressures may also mitigate the ability to extend term. The term assumptions for the Province's range of borrowing for the 2017-18 borrowing program are provided below:

	Borrowing Amount ($billions)
Term (years)	Minimum Term	Mid-Point	Maximum Term
3	8.4	4.2	0.0
5	5.6	3.97	2.3
7	0.0	2.0	3.9
10	9.1	9.8	10.5
30	0.3	3.4	6.6
Total Amount	$23.3	$23.3	$23.3
Average Term(years)	6.5	10.6	14.7

- Given that interest rates are currently low by historical standards and there is a high degree of interest rate risk going forward, the Province should strive to remain ahead of pace in the borrowing program and pre-borrow for 2018-19 to the extent there are opportunities.

3) Long-Term Borrowing Plan

a) Overview

The 2017-18 long-term public borrowing program is forecast to be similar to last year's borrowing program (excluding pre-borrowing). There will be a high degree of competition for funds in both the international and domestic bond markets. In addition, markets are likely to remain volatile as credit and geopolitical events may occur. The main elements of the plan are as follows:

- Given the relatively high potential for market access disruptions, it is recommended that the Province attempt to remain ahead of pace in its borrowing program, acknowledging that this may not be possible due to longer than expected blackout periods or other factors. It is recommended that the Province target to be one quarter ahead of even pace.

- A primary goal will be to diversify the sources of financing to ensure ongoing access to bond markets. International diversification is required since the domestic market may be strained to cost-effectively accommodate the Province's annual borrowing needs and is also useful when receptivity for Ontario bonds in the domestic market is poor. Large foreign issues are almost always more costly than domestic issues but serve a useful purpose in relieving supply pressures in the domestic market to achieve lower interest costs than would otherwise occur. The major challenge will be balancing the need for foreign strategic financing against the goal of minimizing the additional cost associated with this type of financing. International financing is typically hedged back into Canadian dollars which increases the use of counterparty credit and can also increase the amount and volatility of collateral needed to fulfill collateralized swap agreement (CSA) requirements. Strategic financing is planned for the U.S. dollar market and may occur in the Euro although there could be issuance in other markets as well.

- The domestic market will remain the most important component of the program, with benchmark syndicated issues being the most important component by far. Domestic issues are almost always the most cost-effective and offer the major advantage of not requiring derivatives and incurring their associated credit charges and exposures. In addition, there are opportunities to diversify within the domestic market. For example, floating rate notes and medium term notes can be issued almost independently of syndicated bonds when opportunities arise. Given these advantages, we will continue to maximize the issuance of domestic bonds. We are targeting approximately 75 per cent borrowing in the domestic market for 2017-18. This compares to last year's domestic issuance which was approximately 74%.

- Given continued low long-term interest rates, costing and refinancing considerations, it is recommended that the average term of the borrowing be maximized to the extent possible within the approved range for 2017-18. This is consistent with greater use of the domestic market which offers more 30-year and longer financing opportunities relative to other markets. Interest rate risk remains elevated and the additional cost associated with extending term is small in comparison to costs incurred under interest rate normalization scenarios. Although we have been successful in extending term in recent years, we are largely dependent on the desired term structure of our investors and there may be some investor resistance and increased risk of poorly received transactions in extending term in 2017-18.

- Approval is requested to pre-borrow up to one half of the borrowing requirements for 2018-19 once the 2017-18 borrowing program has been completed. Although borrowing requirements are lower in 2017-18, there are still challenges in getting one quarter ahead of pace.

- Investor Relations (IR) is an important activity in both maintaining contact and dialogue with current investors and building relationships with new investors in existing or new markets. This is accomplished through the provision of targeted information products and call program activities. IR objectives for 2017-18 are detailed in the Investor Relations Annual Plan, contained in Appendix 14 of this report.

Green Bonds

On January 26, 2017, Ontario successfully priced its third Green Bond, with a global Canadian dollar bond issue of $800 million, our largest issue size yet. The six-year green bond was a re-opening of our January 2023 Global Green Bond first issued in 2016 and was available through Ontario's current dealer group and sold to investors in Canada, the United States, Europe and Asia. Approximately 1% of the issue was available to retail investors through Canadian financial institutions. The Province expects to continue to build on the current Green Bond program and issue again in fiscal 2017-18 potentially expanding into currencies other than the CAD, if the opportunity arises. As of January 2017, Ontario remained the only Canadian province to issue Green Bonds, with $2.05B currently outstanding. The following month, Quebec issued their inaugural Green Bond, $500 million, 5 year term, employing the same format as Ontario.

CICERO (Center for International Climate and Environmental Research – Oslo), an independent, not-for-profit research institute, provided a second opinion on Ontario's Green Bond framework, prior to launch of the program in 2014-15. This opinion applies to the program as a whole and remains in place as long as the Province continues to use its existing Green Bond framework.

An amount equal to the net proceeds of this second Green Bond was recorded in a designated account in the Province of Ontario financial records. This designated account is used to track the use and allocation of funds to Eligible Projects. So long as bonds are outstanding and the designated account has a positive balance, amounts will be deducted from the balance of the account as funds are allocated to Eligible Projects.

"Eligible Projects" means all projects, exclusive of fossil fuel and nuclear projects, funded by the Province of Ontario that have environmental benefits. A basket of twelve projects, from 3 different ministries, have been selected to receive funding from the Province's third Green Bond: The Eglinton Crosstown LRT, vivaNext BRT, Regional Express Rail, Finch West LRT, Hamilton LRT, Hurontario LRT, ErinoakKids Centre for Treatment and Development, St. Joseph's Healthcare – West 5th, St. Joseph's Healthcare – Parkwood, Waypoint Centre, CAMH and Woodstock General Hospital. This basket approach allows a level of flexibility of funding, should some of the chosen projects experience different spending patterns than those currently anticipated. These projects fall into either the clean transportation or energy efficiency and conservation categories of the green bond framework.

The identification of eligible green projects from across the Province is an ongoing challenge. This past year, the OFA with the assistance of the Deputy Minister of Finance, was able to compile a list of ministry and agency contacts who are designated as the Green Bond program leaders within their organizations. This contact list was helpful in streamlining communication and the identification of eligible projects and will be relied upon again in 2017-18.

An Annual Newsletter on the OFA website shows the allocation of funds from the Province's first two green bonds along with project updates/status reports for all of the eight chosen projects, along with performance indicators related to Green House Gas reduction and Water and Energy Efficiency and Conservation. The Auditor General of Ontario has provided an assurance audit to verify amounts allocated to the selected projects and the drawdown of Green Bond issue proceeds invested short-term as the projects progress. The second assurance audit was completed December 8, 2016. An Annual Newsletter and assurance audit for the Province's third Green Bond is expected to be completed and available in the last quarter of 2017-18.

b) Strategic Financing

The following factors must be considered when evaluating the use of strategic international funding for 2017-18:

- The 2017-18 borrowing program is estimated to be $23.3 billion, which is slightly smaller than last year's program but is still sizable. Borrowing requirements are also large when compared to other provinces and sub-national jurisdictions around the world.

- It is estimated that the Province will need to utilize international markets for about 25% of the 2017-18 borrowing program to avoid over-saturating the core domestic market and complete the program. This equates to international borrowing of approximately $5.8 billion, which compares to last year's international funding of $7.1 billion or 26% of the program.

- International borrowing windows are substantially reduced by the Province's regulatory requirements and updates (e.g., quarterly and annual updates of programs, filings of disclosure documents, 18-K filings, etc.). Based on the experience over the past three years, there are at least 36 business days every year when the Province cannot access international markets due to regulatory concerns and statutory holidays. Additionally, access is reduced due to statutory holidays in Asia/Europe/US, political events, financial/economic events and releases equating to up to a third of the year when the Province cannot access international markets.

- International borrowing is also affected by the competition for funds by other borrowers and the need for the Province to space out its strategic issues. Competing supply and lack of investor demand are major factors which rule out international borrowing on a continuous basis throughout the year. There is a limit on the ability of international bond markets to absorb foreign issues from the Province. The U.S. market can typically accommodate about four to six benchmark deals per year, and we are assuming one or two benchmark Euro issues and one U.K sterling issue for the fiscal year.

- There is a strong tendency for strategic international borrowing to be more costly than domestic funding. Arbitrage opportunities are extremely rare and tend to be limited more to smaller issues in currencies such as the Swiss franc, Norwegian Kroner and Australian dollar. In addition, the volatility in bond and derivatives markets is extremely high, and hedging a foreign currency back into Canadian dollars is much more difficult and costly to execute than in previous years. This is largely due to increased regulatory costs for the dealer community.

  For 2017-18, it is recommended that up to $5.2 billion be allowed for strategic international financing for performance measurement purposes. This is based on an estimate assuming 25% international borrowing on the portion of the borrowing program which is used for fixed rate setting and pacing purposes. It excludes borrowing for Ontario Savings Bonds, core floating and core foreign exchange which are excluded for performance measurement purposes. The upper limit for international strategic financing was $5.4 billion last year, and $3.2 billion was completed. A total of $6.8 billion of large international bond issues were executed in 2016-17. Strategic financing is included in performance measurement.

c) Markets and Sectors

- Smoothing the debt maturity and borrowing requirement profile will be taken into consideration when executing the borrowing plan.

- The OFA will continue to buy back and retire outstanding Province of Ontario and Ontario Hydro bonds when it is possible to replace these bonds with lower yielding bonds of a similar term in accordance with current practice. Based on recent experience, few longer term buybacks are expected.

More detailed information for each sector of the borrowing program is provided below:

- Domestic Syndicated Issues – Benchmark 5-, 10-, and 30- year issues are the most important component of the domestic borrowing program. The Province benefits from the liquidity of these issues, and it will be necessary to continue to encourage Ontario's domestic underwriting syndicate to actively trade these bonds in the secondary market.

- We will continue to issue larger sized publicly syndicated transactions and adjust the size of the issues to meet market demand. We will continue to use $600 million as a minimum size for 30-year, $750 million as the minimum size of 10-year issues and $1 billion as the minimum size of 5-year issues, and we will also look at dual-tranche issues. Ontario strives to re-open its existing benchmark bonds to build up larger and more liquid issues over time. The Federal government targets specific issue sizes for its benchmark bonds. For example, the targets are $14 to $20 billion for its 5-year bonds; $12-18 billion for its 10-year bonds; and $10 to $16 billion for 30-year bonds. By comparison, Ontario's benchmark bonds typically get up to $2 to $5 billion for 5-year bonds; $7 to $14 billion for 10-year bonds; and $9 to $16 billion for its 30-year bonds. In recognition of the cash management complications involved in large benchmark bond issues, the Province will look to reduce the size of benchmarks while still ensuring high liquidity for the bonds. For example, the previous 10-year benchmark was limited to $7.5 billion this year, whereas the previous 10-year benchmark achieved a size of $13.6 billion.

- Unlike the Federal government, the Province does not have a regular issuance schedule, and in order to maintain maximum flexibility it cannot commit to minimum benchmark sizes. Nevertheless, current benchmark issue sizes are reasonable indicators for the future, and the OFA will carefully manage the borrowing program to build up appropriately sized issues along the yield curve in an efficient and timely manner. In 2016-17 the Province issued $17.0 billion in syndicated issues, and it is expected that we will be able to borrow more in this sector in 2017-18.

- In order to provide more flexibility to accommodate large individual orders, a new larger order syndication procedure was initiated in October of 2011 and revised in May 2013. This process was used five times (no 5-year, no 7-year, two 10-year and three 30-year) during the 2016-17 year out of a total of twenty-two syndicated deals. It is expected that the large order process will drive some new issues again in 2017-18, but the size is difficult to predict.

- Domestic Floating Rate Notes (FRNs) - The OFA will issue FRNs when cost-effective opportunities become available. Competing supply from other large borrowers such as CMHC, Quebec and other provinces limits the opportunities, but issuance can be relatively large when demand materializes. Last year the Province issued $1.2 billion 5-year FRNs.

- Auctions
  We have the ability to do auctions in 2017-18 since we have passed the peak debt maturity years. We did one auction in 2016-17 raising $750 million. The ability to do auctions has been enhanced by extending the term of debt issued in recent years.

- Ontario Savings Bonds – A new campaign is planned for June 2017 with the following range of products (3-year variable, 3-year fixed, 5-year step-up and 10-year fixed). Last year's campaign raised about $127 million, and it is difficult to predict the size of this year's campaign. Increased competition by banks for retail money may be offset by the safety provided by government bonds. We may review the Ontario Savings Bond Program next year. The Federal government has announced that they will be discontinuing their Canada Savings Bond Program in 2017.

- Domestic Medium Term Notes (MTNs)/Ultra long dated bonds – We did not issue any domestic MTNs this year. There is limited demand for this kind of long maturity. The majority of the bonds that are sold into this term are stripped. In our opinion the marginal additional funding must be balanced against the negative spread pressure on our 30-year bonds. There could be increased competition as the Bank of Canada is also looking at issuing ultra-longs. We will continue to issue ultra-long bonds when demand permits and costing targets can be achieved.

  - Ontario was one of the first Canadian Governments to issue ultra-long debt (i.e., bond issues with maturities greater than 30 years) and has been very supportive of the development of this market.

  - Given the low historical interest rates experienced in recent years, Ontario has also been pro-active in extending the term of its borrowing program. The combined average term of borrowing for Ontario and OEFC in 2016-17 is approximately 13.9 years (including pre-borrowing), and was 14.2 years in 2015-16, 14.1 years in 2014-15, 13.6 years in 2013-14, 12.4 years in 2012-13 and 13.0 years in 2011-12. This is much longer than the 8.1 years achieved in 2009-10.

  - Ontario will continue to support the ultra-long sector and access this market when cost-effective opportunities become available, it must be used judiciously as a complement to our 30-year borrowing program. Given the uncertain demand and risks associated with ultra-long borrowing, no change in approach for accessing this sector is recommended at this time. The OFA will continue to closely monitor the ultra-long sector and execute trades when market conditions are appropriate. Last year, there were only three ultra-long deals amounting to $175 million done.

- Real Return Bonds (RRBs) - There was no issuance of Ontario real return bonds in 2016-17, and the last Ontario RRB was issued in November 2009.

- U.S. Dollar Issues – U.S. dollar borrowing is expected to be the major component of international borrowing. Three US global issues were completed last year to raise $6.8

billion. Since U.S. dollar issues are normally more expensive and opportunities are limited due to more complex disclosure requirements, it is very likely that costs will be higher than in the domestic market. U.S. dollar investors continue to prefer shorter maturities.

- Euro Issues – The Province will again attempt to issue one or two benchmark sized issues in Euros in 2017-18. Last year we launched a Euro benchmark deal and had to pull the deal as markets were not receptive at that time – we did not issue a benchmark Euro deal during the year. We will continue to look for opportunities to maintain our presence in that market. Euro issues provide a good platform to both diversify and expand the investor base to a large pool of new investors.

- U.K. Sterling Issue - We did not issue in U.K. sterling in 2016-17. It has been selected as a core currency and is expected to be less cost-effective than the domestic market.

- Japanese Yen Issues – Last year we did not issue in the Yen markets as the funding costs were significantly higher than domestic funding levels. The Province has a long history of issuing Yen denominated debt, and we will continue to monitor and seek any opportunities.

- Euro Medium Term Note (EMTN) Issues – This was not an active sector over the past year as the European credit crisis made funding levels higher than domestic costs. Last year, we did issue Euro 52 million of 25-year bonds but were not able to re-open the bond in 2016-17. EMTN covers a host of markets including the Japanese yen, Australian dollar, Euro, Norwegian Kroner, British pound Sterling, Swiss francs and Hong Kong dollars. It is expected that there may be opportunities for EMTN issuance in 2017-18. We will continue to look at issuing longer term Euros in German registered note format.

- Kangaroo Market – This market has a preference for AAA issuers and the Province would like to become a regular borrower in this market. Ontario was able to complete two small re-openings of an older issue and start a new 10-year bond with five re-openings to raise $296 million in total. We will continue to monitor this market for opportunities, and it has the advantage of offering arbitrage opportunities.

- Other Foreign Markets – Other markets which will be monitored include the Nordic currencies, New Zealand dollar, and South African rand markets. The OFA Market Risk Policy allows foreign exchange exposures solely in the G7 and Swiss franc currencies, and issuance in other currencies must be hedged back into Canadian dollars.

4) Risk Factors and Contingencies

a) Completion of Long-term Borrowing Program (Accessing Markets & Meeting Investor Demand)

Strengths	Challenges
• The borrowing program is manageable and well below the peak of $43.8 billion borrowed in 2009-10, and $39.8 billion borrowed in 2014-15. • Ontario has a highly diversified borrowing program which provides access to a large number of domestic and international markets and many different types of investors in those markets. • Ontario's relatively low proportions of floating rate and foreign exchange exposures provide some flexibility to increase floating rate debt and foreign currency debt if increases in these types of debt are required to complete the borrowing program or are required to reduce borrowing costs. • Ontario domestic issues are highly liquid which often results in more issuing opportunities than smaller borrowers. • The Ontario credit is generally positively perceived in the financial markets. • Geopolitical and credit crises often increase safe haven demand for Ontario securities. • Increased investor relations efforts in recent years have allowed Ontario to both keep in contact with existing investors and reach out to new ones. • Ontario has developed a fiscal plan to achieve a balanced budget by 2017-18.	• Borrowing opportunities throughout the year will be reduced due to regular financial and regulatory updates (e.g., Budget blackout, SEC updates, etc.) • Event risks (e.g., turmoil in the Ukraine, Europe sovereign risk, Middle East and Asia political risk, and other unknown risks) are likely to interfere with borrowing at times during the year. • The potential for changes to the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), and a potential correction to the elevated housing market in Toronto and Vancouver may reduce the "halo" effect from international investors for Canadian and Ontario government borrowers. • Investor receptivity can be low when interest rates are low (i.e., the current situation) and can also be constrained when interest rates are increasing which is the forecast. • Currently there is some reliance on particular investors in certain markets and some vulnerability to reduced demand if these investors were to reduce or stop purchasing Ontario bonds. • Fiscal challenges remain substantial over the next several years and there is limited tolerance from investors for fiscal disappointments. • Elections in general tend to create uncertainty and are met with investor caution. We expect that the 2018 Ontario election will result in reduced market access.

Conclusion

Diversification of borrowing in recent years has provided the Province with increased borrowing flexibility going forward. It is expected that the 2017-18 long-term borrowing requirements will be met, but it is likely that it will not be possible to borrow in desired markets and maturities at all times during the year as market access and/or investor demand fluctuates. This will entail higher costs if more costly markets are accessed or strategic borrowing increases, and higher interest rate, refinancing, or foreign exchange risk may be required to complete the borrowing program. The impact of any setbacks in Ontario's fiscal plan would likely be negative, especially if the credit ratings were to come under further pressure.

b) Minimize Cost of Long-term Borrowing Program

Strengths	Challenges
• Interest rates are still historically low. • The yield curve is somewhat steep which provides the opportunity for lower costs by borrowing more floating rate debt or issuing debt with shorter maturities. • Over the past several years, interest rates have often increased less than forecast or declined, and this may occur again in 2017-18.	• Interest rate risk will remain high for several years due to large ongoing debt maturities, and investments in capital assets. • Interest rates are more likely to increase in 2017-18 relative to recent years as the economic recovery progresses and the U.S. Fed continues with its tightening. • The cost of foreign currency and strategic borrowing is difficult to predict and could be more expensive than current levels.

Conclusion

Interest rate risk remains high. Interest cost increases can be mitigated by increased issuance of debt with shorter maturities or more floating rate debt but with resulting higher refinancing and interest rate risks which are already at elevated levels.

c) Minimize Refinancing Risk and Extend Term of New Debt

Strengths	Challenges
• The demand for longer dated maturities in the domestic market is likely to remain relatively strong due to the trend towards liability driven investment (LDI) by many pension fund investors. • US dollar, Euro, AUD and Swiss franc bond markets may provide opportunities for longer term debt issuance (i.e., 10-years and longer).	• It will be difficult to complete the 2017-18 borrowing program without the addition of some shorter term debt, and this will increase refinancing risk. • Investor demand for longer dated maturities may be reduced in 2017-18 if interest rates are trending higher. • Term extension opportunities in the domestic market for 2017-18 are likely to be less than those available in 2016-17.

Conclusion

Refinancing risk remains high over the next several years and it will be extremely difficult to cap it entirely, especially if market access is constrained or investor demand declines. The ability to extend term will likely be lower in 2017-18 relative to last year and is likely to be negatively impacted if interest rates are increasing. It may be necessary to increase refinancing risk in 2017-18 to mitigate increasing interest costs in an increasing interest rate environment.

d) Credit Rating Risk

Ontario is currently rated Aa2 by Moody's and A+ by S&P. In April 2016, Moody's removed the negative outlook on Ontario's credit rating which it had placed on July 2, 2014.

It is expected that the credit rating agencies will be monitoring the fiscal performance of the Province very closely.

B. SHORT-TERM BORROWING PROGRAM

- The short-term borrowing program is comprised of treasury bill issuance in Canadian dollars (T-Bills) and commercial paper issuance in U.S. dollars (USCP). The Province also issues T-Bills on behalf of OEFC, and on-lends the proceeds to OEFC. The estimated outstanding amounts and program authorities as of March 31, 2017 are summarized in the table below. It is extremely important to maintain excess capacity in the program for contingency purposes.

	March 31, 2017
	Amount Outstanding ($ billion)	Program Authority ($ billion)	Remaining Capacity ($ billion)
T-Bills - Ontario	15.9	27.0	11.3
- OEFC	0.7	6.0	5.3
USCP - Ontario	5.2	15.0	9.8
TOTAL	21.8	48.0	26.2

- It is projected that the combined Ontario/OEFC short-term debt outstanding will be $21.8 billion on March 31, 2018, unchanged from March 31, 2017. Individually, Ontario and OEFC's short-term debt outstanding are projected to remain constant at $21.2 billion and $0.6 billion respectively. The amount of short-term debt outstanding throughout the year will fluctuate and depend on the pace of the long-term borrowing program, the timing of cash flows, and CSA collateral requirements. The following table summarizes the year-end program authorities and combined outstanding amounts over the past 6 years and 3 years forward.

Short Term Debt Program Authority and Amount Outstanding

- The Province has continued to hold scheduled weekly T-Bill auctions which have proven to be a successful borrowing strategy. These regular dated auctions have resulted in a more complete maturity spectrum of outstanding Ontario T-Bills and have served to promote greater transparency and increased secondary trading in the Treasury Bill Program. The weekly auction size depends on upcoming funding requirements which are reviewed each week, and typically includes a combination of 3-month, 6-month, and 1-year T-bills. In addition to the weekly T-Bill auction, the Province can also utilize one-off cash management auctions and reverse enquiries when appropriate. The USCP program is generally utilized when USCP can be issued and hedged back to Canadian dollars below the cost of domestic Treasury Bills. The term restriction for the USCP Program is 270 days, although most of the issuance is for 1 to 3 months

- We have continued to experience strong demand for Ontario's USCP over the past year, and arbitrage levels averaged approximately 25 basis points below treasury bill funding which provided estimated savings of $15.3 million for 2016-17 as of March 15, 2017. The average amount of USCP outstanding during the year was $6.3 billion, with a high of $8.2 billion.

C. BORROWING AUTHORITY

Borrowing authority is required for long term and short term borrowing. Ontario has two sources of borrowing authority for Provincial debt, the Financial Administration Act (FAA) and the Ontario Loan Act. OEFC's borrowing authority is pursuant to section 68 of the Electricity Act, 1998 in the manner provided by the Financial Administration Act.

The FAA primarily authorizes the refinancing of matured and maturing debt. The Loan Act authorizes borrowing up to the limit specified in the Loan Act for that year, and is usually used for the purpose of financing new debt but can also be used for any borrowing program requirements such as Treasury Bills, and the U.S. shelf.

The OFA requests approval throughout each fiscal year for several Orders in Council ("OICs") to complete the Province's borrowing requirements. There are a number of OICs under the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") allowing the refinancing of matured and maturing debt and an OIC pursuant to that year's Loan Act for any new borrowing. The amount of borrowing authority available under each OIC is drawn down with each bond issuance and is monitored to ensure that there is always sufficient borrowing authority.

The OICs under the Loan Act authorizing short term borrowing for the issuance of treasury bills and U.S. Commercial Paper (USCP) are revolving due to the short term and frequency of issuance of these types of instruments. Currently the Province has authority to issue up to $27 billion in treasury bills and $15 billion in USCP. OEFC has authority to issue $6.0 billion in treasury bills.

An OIC is an order, recommended by the Minister of Finance, concurred by the Chair of Cabinet and approved and ordered by the Lieutenant Governor that, pursuant to the Financial Administration Act and the specific Ontario Loan Act, authorizes the Province to borrow an amount not exceeding the amount specified in the Loan Act.

The following tables provide a summary of long term borrowing authority by current Orders in Council and the allocation of the borrowing authority to the borrowing programs.

SUMMARY OF PROVINCIAL LONG TERM BORROWING PROGRAM BY CURRENT ORDERS IN COUNCIL

[1]Loan Act Authority (CAD, billions)
[2]FAA Authority (CAD, billions)

As market demand and borrowing opportunities change, the borrowing authority can be reallocated between Ontario's various borrowing programs (see table above). The Province is not permitted to borrow for a particular program unless there is sufficient authority available in the relevant borrowing program.

In order to preserve the authority of maturing debt as prescribed by the FAA, it is planned to apply in the spring for additional borrowing authority to refinance matured and maturing debt.

As is the usual practice, should the Loan Act be authorized in the 2017-18 Budget, the Province will seek approval from the legislature for an OIC for the amount specified in the Loan Act. An OIC may be requested for borrowing authority for OEFC if needed to meet OEFC's borrowing requirements for fiscal 2017-18.

D. LIQUIDITY RISK MANAGEMENT

1. Short-Term Liquidity Management

The goal of liquidity management is to maintain sufficient cash and liquid investments to meet the Province's daily operating requirements and to withstand a range of stress events, including those involving the loss or impairment of funding sources. Liquidity is managed through the use of short-term and long-term borrowing, and the maintenance of liquid reserves. Operational cash flow projections are monitored on a daily basis to ensure that sufficient liquid reserves are available to meet upcoming cash requirements and debt maturities over the fiscal year. In 2017-18, we will continue to monitor cash requirements to fund large debt maturities for the Province and OEFC and when possible, we will buy back the debt issue as part of our liquid reserve and cash management strategy. The largest debt maturities (i.e. > $2.0 billion) over the next two years are listed in the table below. The amount bought back and held in liquid reserves for cash management purposes is also provided in the table as of March 15, 2017. The maturity of larger benchmark debt issues will continue to be an important consideration in overall liquidity management.

Fiscal Year	Maturity Date	Amount ($ Billions)	Type	Amount held in Liquid Reserves ($ Billions)
2017-18	Sep 8, 2017	6.4	Domestic	3.5
"	Oct 25, 2017	2.6	Global US	-
"	Mar 8, 2018	3.0	Domestic	0.6
2018-19	Sep 8, 2018	8.0	Domestic	-
"	Sep 27, 2018	2.1	Global US	-
"	Jan 18, 2019	3.4	Global US	-
"	Jan 30, 2019	2.6	Global US	-

Note: Amount held in Liquid Reserves as of March 15, 2017.

The movement of collateral between Ontario and its derivative counterparties under CSAs will also impact liquidity management and increase the volatility in the level of the liquid reserves. In 2016-17, Ontario was a net receiver of collateral with a range of $1.3 billion to $3.3 billion. Regular analysis of potential counterparty credit exposure related to derivatives is performed for the purpose of assessing potential collateral requirements related to the CSAs. The CSA and related exposure analysis are discussed more fully in Section H – Derivative Risk Management.

The combination of large borrowing programs and CSA collateral requirements will continue to require the maintenance of high levels of liquid reserves and sufficient short-term borrowing capacity. For operational purposes, Capital Markets focuses on the level of liquid reserves adjusted for collateral positions to conservatively represent the net funds available to meet cash requirements. For example, when the Province is a net receiver of CSA collateral, this amount is not added to the level of liquid reserves. However, in those cases where the Province is a net pledger of CSA collateral, liquid reserves are reduced by the net collateral pledged.

(i) Year-End Liquid Reserve Projection:

- The level of the liquid reserves is projected to be $18.6 billion on March 31, 2017 based on the 2016 FES, and does not include any pre-borrowing. This figure excludes any net collateral received from CSA counterparties which was $1.5 billion as of February 28, 2017. The collateral position will fluctuate throughout the year based on changes to exchange rates and interest rates, and is monitored regularly. No change to the year-end level liquid reserves is projected for 2017-18 based on the 2016 Ontario FES. However, this projection will be updated in the 2017 Ontario Budget and reflect the plan to increase liquid reserves over the next year in advance of the larger benchmark debt maturities occurring in the first quarter of the fiscal year starting in 2019-20. This plan is discussed more fully in Section 2 – Medium Term Liquidity Management. The liquid reserve level will fluctuate throughout the year based on the pace of the long-term borrowing program, the timing of cash flows, and the impact of collateral requirements under CSAs.

(ii) Minimum liquid reserve level:

- A minimum liquid reserve threshold will be maintained throughout the year to ensure sufficient cash is available to meet cash and collateral requirements. This minimum threshold will be comprised of an operational cash component, and a CSA collateral component. If the level of liquid reserves drops below the minimum threshold, a short-term funding strategy will be developed and implemented to increase the liquid reserves to at least the minimum recommended level.

- The operational cash threshold is established as the net cash outflow within a rolling one-month time horizon. This essentially represents the net funding requirement over the next month and would include all short-term and long-term debt maturities, any deficit and related cash flows, investments in capital assets, other net loans/investments, and any other operational cash flows. In past years, the minimum had been calculated using an average of annual cash requirements adjusted by a daily volatility factor. This enhanced approach has been established to capture the actual timing of the larger benchmark debt maturities which will soon be occurring earlier in the fiscal year. The inclusion of one month's short-term debt maturities in the minimum threshold will also provide a contingency in the event of a market disruption that temporarily affects the rolling over of short-term debt. In the unlikely event that such a market disruption were to last longer than one month, an alternative funding plan would be developed. This approach to liquidity risk management is also consistent with the Basel liquidity coverage ratio (LCR) guideline for Financial Institutions which essentially requires banks to hold minimum liquid assets to cover cash-outflows over a 30-day time horizon.

- The CSA collateral threshold represents an estimate of the incremental collateral the Province may have to potentially post to CSA counterparties in the near term, and would also include potential cash flows associated with rolling over foreign exchange contracts. The potential collateral requirement is estimated using a value-at-risk (VAR) based statistical measure minus any net collateral the Province may already hold from its CSA counterparties. Currently, a three-month 95% confidence statistic is monitored as a guideline for estimating potential collateral requirements in the near-term. As at February 28, 2017, this statistical measure yielded an estimated $3.2 billion potential collateral requirement. Subtracting the net $1.5 billion collateral received from CSA counterparties on February 28, 2017, the CSA collateral threshold would have been calculated as $1.7 billion on that date. As the CSA process evolves, other statistical measures may be substituted over the course of the year should they be considered more suitable in the management of the minimum liquid reserve level. Both the collateral position and the CSA collateral threshold will change throughout the year in response to changes in interest rates, exchange rates, and volatility assumptions. The current plan is to fund the CSA collateral requirements through increased short-term borrowing as required, given the volatility inherent in daily collateral flows.

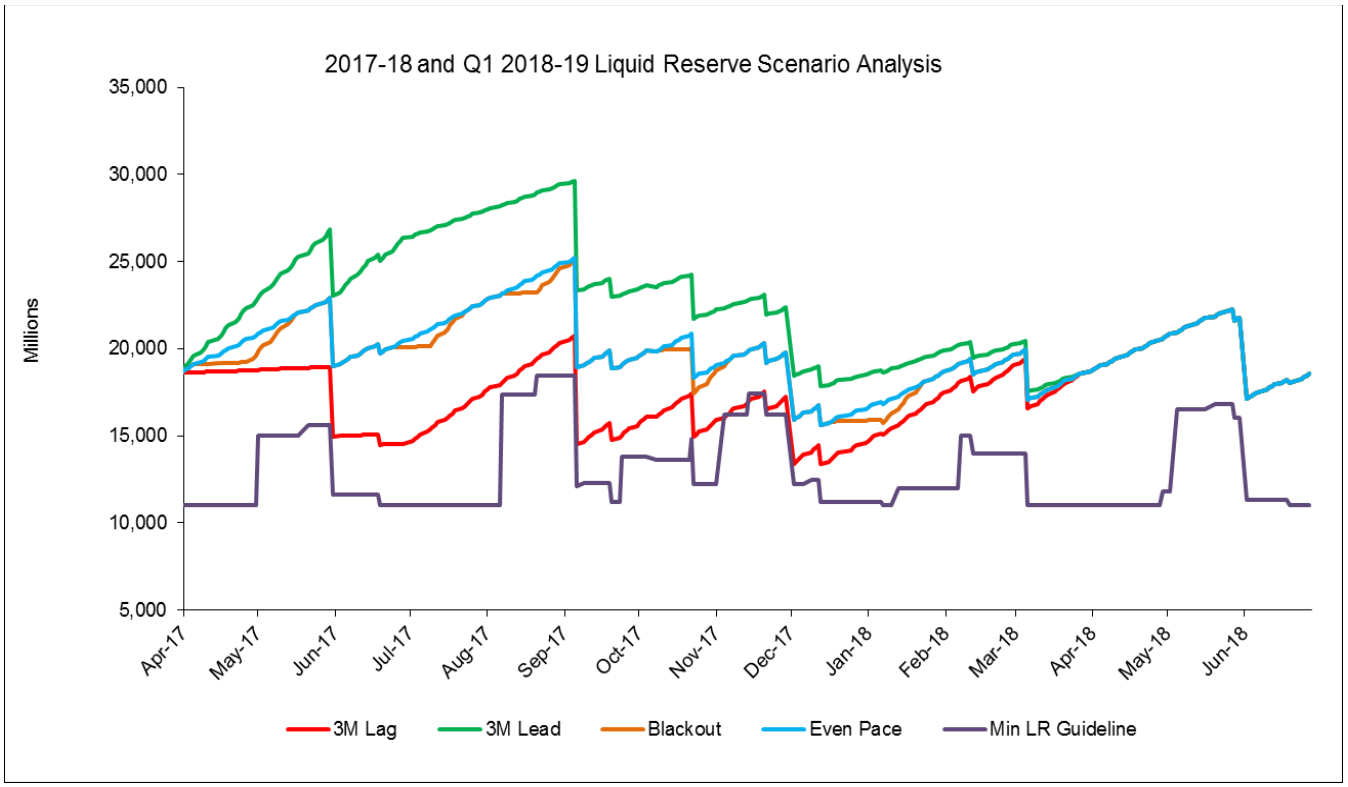
- The minimum liquid reserve threshold and related short-term funding strategies are discussed at the weekly Risk Management Committee meetings.

(iii) Forecast in-year level of the liquid reserves and scenario analysis for fiscal year 2017-18 and Q1 2018-19

- The following graph depicts the forecast level of liquid reserves excluding collateral impacts. It is based on known fiscal year 2017-18 and Q1 2018-19 debt maturities, even paced short-term borrowing and cash deficit requirement assumption, and varying long-term borrowing program pacing assumptions. A starting liquid reserve level of $18.6 billion is used as per the 2016 Ontario FES.



The following scenarios are included in the graph:

- o Even Pace: Assumes that all long-term borrowing, short-term borrowing, and cash deficit requirements are even paced throughout the period.
- o 3M Lag: Three month lag in long-term borrowing; even paced short-term borrowing and cash deficit requirements.
- o 3M Lead: Three month lead in long-term borrowing; even paced short-term borrowing and cash deficit requirements.
- o Blackout: Even Pace scenario adjusted for potential blackout periods. A blackout period occurs when the Province of Ontario is restricted from any long term debt issuance on account of pending quarterly finance, budgetary releases or other factors such as rating agency releases.
- o Min LR Guideline: Represents the minimum liquid reserve threshold which is based on the net cash outflow within a rolling 30-day time horizon, plus a provision for potential CSA collateral requirements.

- The results show the level of liquid reserves is projected to remain above the minimum threshold over the next year if the long-term borrowing program is on even-pace. If the borrowing program were to fall behind pace by 3-months, the level of liquid reserves are projected to only temporarily drop below the minimum for about six days by up to $500 million in November.

- The following table summarizes the minimum, maximum and average level of the liquid reserves under the aforementioned scenarios. These results illustrate the potential wide range in liquid reserves under the various scenarios, and project a potential decrease to $13.4 billion if the borrowing program fell three months behind pace (3M Lag), and a potential increase to $29.6 billion if the borrowing program moved three months ahead of pace (3M Lead). These results exclude collateral so the liquid reserve projections could be reduced if any net collateral is pledged to CSA counterparties.

Scenario Analysis Ontario's Liquid Reserve (C$ billion) Excluding Collateral Held

Minimum	15.6	13.4	17.5	15.6
Maximum	25.2	20.8	29.6	25.2
Average	19.8	16.9	22.8	19.7

(iv) Planned long and short-term borrowing:

- Ontario's planned long and short term borrowing is presented in Section III (A) – Long Term Borrowing Program and (B) Short Term Borrowing Program.

- Should unexpected requirements or loss or impairment of long-term funding sources arise that draw the liquid reserves below the minimum recommended level, a short-term funding strategy will be developed and implemented to increase the liquid reserves to at least the minimum recommended level.

- The current short-term authority of $48.0 billion is deemed to be sufficient to maintain the minimum level of liquid reserves under the above stress-test scenarios.

(v) Liquid Reserve Investment Management Strategy:

- Management of the Province's liquid reserves and money market portfolio are governed by the OFA's Risk Policies and Procedures and the Liquid Reserve Statement of Investment Policy and Procedures (SIPP).

- In addition to the Credit Risk Policy, credit risk is being managed through stringent operational credit constraints that have been developed to incorporate changes in credit conditions. These limits are reviewed and updated on a regular basis. Currently, the money market portfolio is invested in federal and provincial government securities and reverse repurchase agreements. Investments may also be made in the six Schedule 1 banks. It is intended that this asset mix will be maintained for the portfolio in order to maximize the availability of eligible collateral to meet the Province's CSA collateral requirements. The credit management strategy is an evolving process based on developments in the credit and financial markets. It is expected that credit risk will continue to be managed very conservatively for the foreseeable future.

- Market risk relates to the risk of adverse movements in interest rates on the money market portfolio. Market risk is managed primarily through the term of the portfolio (benchmark of 60 days), by targeting shorter term investments, and cash-flow matching investments to the extent possible.

- In addition to investments made within the money market portfolio to meet operational cash requirements, the purchase and sale of bonds for hedging purposes has a direct impact on the Province's overall liquidity and asset mix of the liquid reserves. When developing hedging strategies, the impact on liquidity and overall asset mix must be considered.

- Weekly Risk Management Committee meetings are held which include discussions on liquidity, risk exposures, the outlook for long-term and short-term borrowing, and liquid reserves investment management strategies.

(vi) Cost of maintaining liquid reserves:

- The SIPP for Liquid Reserves states that liquid reserves will be funded with floating rate exposure to reduce the potential cost of holding liquid reserves, as well as following best practices in terms of asset/liability management. Floating rate exposure includes short-term debt which is comprised of Ontario treasury bills and USCP, and long-term floating rate debt which is comprised of long-term debt issues swapped to floating and portfolio overlay swaps and bonds.

- A challenge when calculating the cost of liquid reserves is to identify and calculate the appropriate cost of the underlying floating rate debt funding liquid reserves. This calculation requires various simplifying assumptions to be made. For example, the cost of Ontario treasury bills, USCP, and long-term debt swapped to floating is based on accounting data using average month-end outstanding amounts and assumes the accrual method. In contrast, the return on liquid reserve investments is based on the rate of return on the performance measured money market portfolio as calculated by Risk Control division. These calculations are based on daily outstanding amounts and calculated on a mark-to-market basis. Although the individual calculation methodologies may be slightly different, the overall calculation for the cost of liquid reserves should provide a reasonable estimate.

(a) Rate of Return on Liquid Reserve Investments

- The rate of return on liquid reserve investments is based on the annual return of the performance measured money market portfolio. At roughly 60 days, the benchmark term-to-maturity of the money market portfolio will be slightly less than the term of floating rate debt.

(b) Cost of Floating Rate Debt

(i) Short-term Debt

- Short term debt is comprised of Ontario treasury bills and USCP. Ontario treasury bills are extremely cost efficient. Rates as of February 28, 2017 were 0.61%, 0.66%, and 0.75% for 3, 6, and 12 month terms, respectively, and represent spreads of approximately 12, 14, and 15 basis points over the respective Government of Canada treasury bills. USCP can also be extremely cost-efficient, as it can often be hedged back to Canadian dollars at levels favourable to our domestic treasury bills. Rates in the 3 month term as of February 28, 2017 were 0.82% in US terms, and approximately 0.47% when hedged back to Canadian dollars. USCP is generally utilized on an arbitrage basis and therefore will not always be cost effective. However, in the last several years we have continued to experience a combination of favourable arbitrage opportunities and strong investor demand.

(ii) Long-term Floating Rate Debt

- Long-term floating rate debt is also used to manage overall floating rate exposure and is comprised of long-term debt issues swapped to floating as well as portfolio overlay swaps and bonds. The portfolio overlay of swaps and bonds are not included in the calculation of floating rate debt this year as the total notional has decreased in recent years (approximately $500 million outstanding by March 31, 2018), and they are not material to the calculations. To include these swaps and bonds would require numerous spread assumptions to be made as they are not tied to specific debt issues but rather the overall debt portfolio.

- Long-term floating rate debt carries a premium associated with term borrowing, as it reduces refinancing risk in the near term. The floating premium will vary over time as the spread between Ontario debt and interest rate swaps changes. Generally, as Ontario spreads widen relative to swap spreads, the floating premium relative to CDOR (BA reference rate) will increase. As of February 28, 2017, the term premiums for 2, 5, 10, and 30-year floating rate debt relative to CDOR were approximately -6, +26, +62, and +90, respectively.

- The premium for term debt increased significantly following the financial crisis in 2007 as issuer credit spreads increased relative to swap spreads. Since peaking in early 2009, this premium has narrowed but still remains well above pre-2007 levels. The graph below charts the spread between Ontario 5-year bonds and 5-year Canadian interest rate swaps over the last eleven years. These results illustrate how the equivalent floating cost of 5-year Ontario debt has increased from approximately 3-month CDOR minus 20 basis points in 2007 when Ontario rates were below swap rates, to approximately 3-month CDOR plus 26 basis points currently as Ontario rates have risen above swap rates.

(c) Calculation of Cost of Carry

- A cost of maintaining liquid reserves is estimated as the difference between the rate of return on liquid reserve investments versus the cost of floating rate borrowing. This approach is similar to the Government of Canada's cost measurement of Receiver General cash balances which measures the difference between the return on government balances auctioned to financial institutions (typically around the overnight rate) and the average yield paid on Treasury Bills.

The cost of liquid reserves will be influenced by several factors:

- The slope of the yield curve between the average investment term rate of 60 days and floating borrowing rates of 1 month to 1 year. Generally, an upward sloping yield curve will increase the cost whereas an inverted yield curve will decrease the cost.
- The direction of short-term interest rates will have a more immediate impact on investments which are reset more frequently than the floating rate debt. Also, the return on investments is on a mark-to-market basis whereas the cost of floating rate debt is on an accrual basis.
- The credit spread between Government of Canada investments and Ontario's cost of floating rate debt.
- The term premium associated with long-term floating rate debt as reflected in the spread to CDOR.

The key assumptions and calculations in estimating the carrying costs of liquid reserves are summarized in the table below. These are annualized using actual data from April 1, 2016 to February 28, 2017. Based on these results, the estimated carry on total liquid reserves range from a saving of 4.7 basis points ($9.9 million) to a cost of 24.8 basis points ($52.4 million) on average total reserves of $21.2 billion. Positive factors in minimizing the cost of carry have been the relatively flat yield curve from overnight out to 1 year, narrow spreads between Ontario and Canada T-Bills, and the favourable arbitrage on USCP. USCP issuance was approximately 25 basis below equivalent Canadian issuance on average throughout 2016-17 which reduced carrying costs. A negative factor in minimizing the cost of carry has been the higher premium associated with long-term floating rate debt in the past eight years.

(2) The return on liquid reserves is calculated on a mark-to-market basis and based on the performance measured money market portfolio.
(3) The cost of floating uses all Ontario T-Bills/USCP ($19.1 billion) and the remainder in long-term floating rate debt ($2.1 billion).
(4) The cost of floating uses the average rate of all floating rate debt.

2. Medium-Term Liquidity Management

A prudent level of liquid reserves must be maintained for operational and contingency purposes. In recent years, higher levels of liquid reserves have been maintained as expenditures, deficits, debt and borrowing programs have increased in response to the 2008-09 financial crisis. The implementation of CSAs over the last seven years has also increased the need for higher liquid reserves. The table below provides a summary of these key variables over the last six years and a two year projection.

(5) Will be updated using the 2017 Budget

- There has been a trend in recent years for Canadian governments to increase their liquidity levels. The Federal government announced plans in its 2011 Budget to increase its liquidity holdings, comprised of both domestic cash balances and foreign reserve assets, by $35 billion by the end of 2013-14. Quebec announced in its 2012 Budget that it would be increasing its prudential liquidity by $6 billion, borrowing $3 billion in each of 2012-13 and 2013-14 for that purpose.

- Both S&P and Moody's have indicated that the maintenance of liquid reserves in proportion to financing needs, including both short-term and long-term debt maturities, is an important factor in maintaining Ontario's credit rating. S&P has also indicated that liquid reserves should be sufficient to cover at least 50 per cent of the next 12 months of debt service to be considered adequate.

- As a guide for planning purposes, the sum of net cash outflows over a rolling one-month time horizon and a provision for potential CSA collateral requirements are used to estimate potential liquidity requirements, and are considered when determining year-end liquid reserve levels for future years. The following table summarizes this estimate for the past five years as well a four year projection. The results show liquidity requirements increase from an estimated $17.3 billion during 2016-17 to $26.9 billion during 2020-21 on this basis.

- A projected increase in liquidity requirements arises in future years with the maturity of larger benchmark debt issues earlier in the fiscal year. Starting in 2019-20, the maturity of larger benchmark debt issues on June 2nd each year in combination with the large semi-annual June 2nd coupon payment will shift a greater proportion of annual cash requirements to the first quarter of the fiscal year. Given the borrowing program is generally completed over the course of the fiscal year, a higher level of liquid reserves will need to be maintained early in the year to cover these cash outflows.

- The table below summarizes long-term debt maturities on a monthly basis over the next 9 years, as well as the estimated June 2nd debt maturity and coupon payment each year. The results show the estimated cash outflow in the first quarter of the fiscal year (April to June) related to long-term debt maturities and an estimated June 2nd coupon will increase from $4.6 billion in 2017 to $16.9 billion in 2019, and to over $21.0 billion in 2020. The results also show the estimated single day cash outflow on June 2nd will increase from $4.0 billion in 2017 to $12.0 billion in 2019, and to over $15.0 billion in 2020.

- The graph below charts monthly projections for the level of liquid reserves over the next six years assuming an even-paced borrowing program, a three-month lead where the borrowing program is continuously one quarter ahead of pace, a three-month lag where there is no borrowing in the first three months of the fiscal year, as well as the projected minimum liquid reserve threshold based on one-month net cash outflows and potential collateral requirements. The scenarios assume the current $18.6 billion liquid reserve level based on the FES. The three-month lag scenario is used to illustrate a situation where there may be an extended budget blackout period early in the fiscal year as the budget is often released in April.

- The results highlight the sharp drop in liquid reserves in June each year attributable to the large June 2nd debt maturity and semi-annual coupon payment, followed by a gradual increase for the balance of the year as the borrowing program is completed. Without an increase in the level of liquid reserves by the end of 2018-19, liquid reserves are projected to drop below the minimum threshold each June in both scenarios. To remain above the threshold assuming even-paced borrowing, liquid reserves would need to be increased to an estimated $23.0 billion at the start of 2019-20, and $28.0 billion at the start of 2020-21. If the borrowing program fell 3 months behind pace, liquid reserves would need to be increased to an estimated $29.0 billion at the start of 2019-20, and $33.5 billion at the start of 2020-21 to stay above the minimum. Ideally for planning purposes, the level of liquid reserves should remain above the minimum with even-paced borrowing. The differential in estimated liquid reserves between the even-paced and three month lag scenarios would likely be funded with a temporary increase in short-term debt to increase the level of liquid reserves to the minimum threshold.

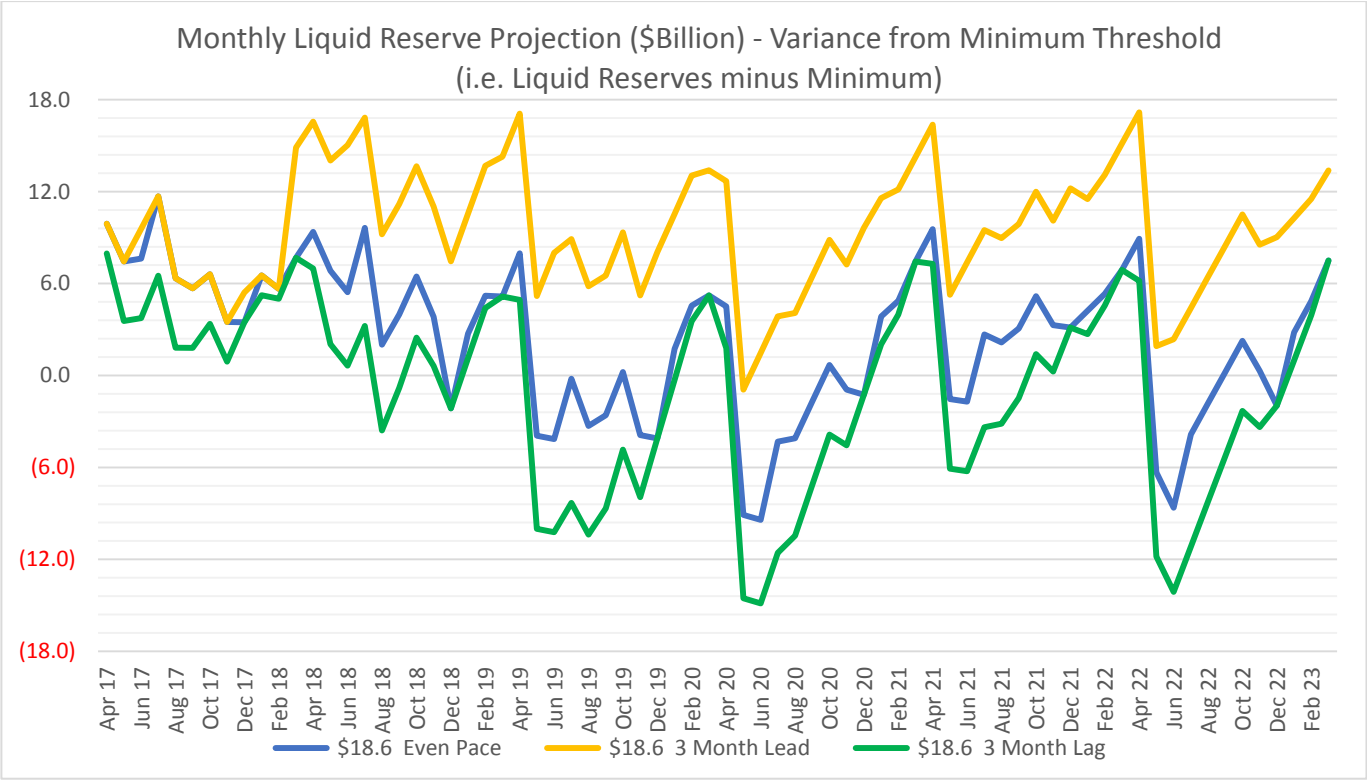
Notes: Figures do not take into account potential collateral that may be posted to swap counterparties under the CSAs. Therefore, the projected levels of liquid reserves would be reduced by the net amount of any collateral posted to CSA counterparties. Projected liquid reserves based on the FES which does not reflect the planned increase of $6 billion.



- Based on the future cash flow profile, an increase in the level of liquid reserves will be required over the next two years. Lower borrowing requirements in 2017-18 provide the capacity to start building up reserves this year. We plan to increase liquid reserves by $6 billion in 2017-18, and buy-back some of the larger debt maturities starting in June 2019, where possible, or purchase other government securities of similar maturities to smooth the maturity and cash flow profile. We will strive to reduce any carrying costs related to the increase in liquid reserves by minimizing any term mismatch on borrowings and related buy-backs or investments, and by issuing floating rate debt as necessary. Debt issued specifically for this purpose may be reported separately from the regular borrowing program for average term calculation purposes.

2. Interest Rate Environment

- Appendix 4 presents an overview of historical interest rates. Interest rates have remained at historically low levels, although they have increased by approximately 85 basis points since the all-time low achieved during the 2016-17 fiscal year, and the slope of yield curve is near the historical 20-year average. The yield curve from 3-month banker's acceptance rates to Ontario 10-year rates is positively sloped by approximately 161 basis points. This is roughly the same as this time last year and is trading slightly below the 10-year historical average for this spread.

- Appendix 5 provides an analysis using a matrix approach which was put in place in 2007-08. It attempts to indicate the best conditions for adding floating rate exposure from a historical perspective. The two main variables utilized in the matrix are long-term interest rates and the slope of the yield curve, and there are four quadrants of potential market conditions. Current conditions are shown in quadrant 1 (i.e., historically low long-term rates and an upward sloping yield curve). The recommendation pertaining to current conditions is to maintain or increase floating rate exposure moderately (by 0% to 1% of debt).

3. Interest Rate Risk

- The debt portfolio characteristics and interest rate exposures for both the Province and OEFC are provided in Appendix 6.

- Interest rate risk arises from the potential impact of higher interest rates on both new long-term borrowing and interest rate resetting on floating rate exposure. The current estimate of the impact of a one percent increase in interest rates on IOD for 2017-18 is $350 million.

- As outlined in Appendix 6, the interest costs on $43.7 billion of gross floating rate exposure are estimated to be $418 million for the Province. A one standard deviation increase in short-term interest rates, which corresponds to an increase in interest rates of 1.20%, would increase interest costs by $526 million. A more significant increase in interest rates corresponding to the 99% confidence interval would increase interest costs by $1.2 billion from the base case.

- Interest costs for OEFC on $1.0 billion of gross floating rate exposure are approximately $9.8 million. A one standard deviation increase in interest rates of 1.20% increases interest costs by a further $12.4 million. An extreme increase in rates at the 99% confidence interval would result in a $28.7 million increase in interest costs.

4. Interest Rate Management

Ontario:

- Gross floating rate exposure is projected to be 12.6% of debt outstanding (or $40.1 billion) on March 31, 2017. This is within the 10.4% to 14.4% approved range from the 2016-17 plan.

- A higher range for gross floating rate exposure is recommended to manage the potential carrying costs related to the planned increase in liquid reserves and is consistent with the matrix approach analysis provided in Appendix 5. A range of 11.4% to 15.4% in gross floating rate exposure is recommended for March 31, 2018, with a target of 13.4%. Floating rate exposure may be increased further to reduce interest costs in 2017-18 if current market conditions were to change. Gross floating rate exposure is used as the floating rate target because it is much less volatile than net interest rate resetting exposure, which includes fixed rate maturities occurring within 12 months and liquid reserves.

- Net floating rate debt (gross floating rate debt net of liquid reserves) as of March 31, 2017 is estimated to be 6.8% of debt outstanding and is expected to increase to 8.0% as at March 31, 2018 with an expected range of 6.0% to 10.0%.

- Net Interest Rate Reset exposure is expected to increase from an estimated 11.0% as of March 31, 2017 to 12.9% as of March 31, 2018, with an expected range of 10.9% to 14.9%.

- In addition to projected Interest Rate Reset Exposure of 11.0% of debt outstanding as at March 31, 2017, the Province will also be setting interest rates on $7.8 billion of new debt due to financing requirements other than those relating to maturing debt. This represents 2.5% of projected debt outstanding as at March 31, 2017.

- An average term for new borrowing in the range of 6.5 to 14.7 years is recommended for Ontario for 2017-18. This will provide flexibility to manage term structure and take into consideration investor demand. It is estimated the average term of Ontario's overall debt will range from 10.2 to 11.2 years on March 31, 2018 (versus 11.2 currently).

OEFC:

- Gross floating rate exposure is estimated to be $1.6 billion as at March 31, 2017, or 7.8% of outstanding debt, which is within the approved range of 4.9% to 8.9%. Gross floating rate exposure is expected to fall to $1.0 billion, or 5.3% of debt outstanding as at March 31, 2018. A range of 3.3% to 7.3% in gross floating range exposure for March 31, 2018 is planned.

- Interest rate resetting exposure is estimated to decrease from (3.0)% as at March 31, 2017 to (10.7)% by March 31, 2018. Interest Rate Reset exposure is negative due to increased liquid reserves arising from the proceeds from broadening of ownership of Hydro One. These liquid reserves are invested with the Province and are projected to be drawn down over time to meet upcoming cash requirements which include maturing long-term debt.

- OEFC is planning to borrow to fund loans to OPG in 2017-18. Based on the FES, these loans were estimated at $1.125 billion and assumed to be 30 years, although these assumptions will change in the 2017 Ontario Budget. It is estimated the average term of OEFC's overall debt will be 9.9 years on March 31, 2018.

F. FOREIGN EXCHANGE RISK MANAGEMENT[6]

The Province's foreign exchange exposure arises from the issuance of unhedged foreign currency denominated debt, or through the use of currency overlay programs on existing debt. In general, exposure is targeted to those currencies that offer an interest rate advantage over domestic borrowing costs and are considered overvalued based on longer term fundamental and technical factors. It is estimated that Ontario will have foreign exchange (FX) exposure of approximately 0.2% of total debt as of March 31, 2017 compared to 0.3% in the previous year. The slight decrease in exposure reflects the hedging of JPY 17.0 billion (CAD 193 million) exposure maturing June 8, 2020. A profile of Ontario's FX exposure is provided in the table below.

ONTARIO'S FOREIGN EXCHANGE EXPOSURE

* Based on Feb 28, 2017 exchange rates: CAD 0.01184 per JPY (JPY 84.43 per CAD), CAD 1.3254 per CHF, CAD 1.4070 per EUR.
 This interest expense relates to fixed € coupons which are not hedged with a € interest rate swap and are partially offset by the receipt of Euribor based swap payments.

6 To simplify presentation, the currencies of the following countries are expressed in acronyms as follows: Canada, "CAD" United States, "USD"; United Kingdom, "GBP"; Switzerland, "CHF"; Japan, "JPY"; and European Economic and Monetary Union, "EUR". A dollar symbol without any qualification will continue to mean Canadian dollar.

A more detailed analysis of the Province's FX exposure is provided in Appendix 7.

1. Province of Ontario

- Foreign exchange exposure is undertaken with the primary objective of reducing borrowing costs over the long term.

- Exposure is managed against a 3% IOD loss limit constraint and within an overall 5% foreign exchange policy limit.

- Under the Province's foreign exchange management policy, exposure is restricted to the EUR, JPY, USD, GBP and CHF (hereafter referred to as "policy currencies").

- A range of 0.0% to 1.25% is recommended for 2017-18.

- If the Canadian dollar appreciates over the course of the year, or as total debt increases, the exposure as a percentage of debt would be reduced further without any changes in notional exposure. The recommended limit will accommodate this possibility. Also, it allows for the continued reduction of existing exposure maturing within 3 years if market conditions are considered appropriate. The potential impact of foreign exchange gains/(losses) on IOD is becoming greater for the existing exposure as the term to maturity of the unhedged debt is now approaching three years. This means any foreign exchange impacts would be amortized over a shorter period which will be considered when managing the exposure.

- The upper limit of 1.25% allows for an increase from the current level of 0.2% should attractive market or funding opportunities arise. The most likely currency candidates are the JPY, EUR, and CHF. Any increase in exposure would have to take into account the potential changes in accounting treatment, as discussed in Section 4 below.

2. Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC)

- OEFC's foreign exchange exposure remains at zero and no addition of exposure is recommended.

3. Foreign Exchange Risk

- Movements in foreign exchange rates can lead to large foreign exchange gains or losses from year to year, especially if gains or losses are reported on a mark-to-market basis.

- Foreign exchange gains or losses are currently reported on an amortized basis, with gains or losses deferred and amortized over the remaining life of the debt. The Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) new standard on financial instruments (PS 3450) would require the immediate recognition of unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses in a separate statement called Remeasurement Gains and Losses. The cumulative balance would be re-classified to the surplus/(deficit) account of the Province upon maturity of the unhedged debt. The revised implementation date of this new standard, applicable to both the Province and OEFC, has been extended from April 1, 2016 to April 1, 2019 (see Section V – Accounting Update). These new accounting requirements, in their current form, would likely result in a significant increase in the volatility of foreign exchange gains or losses, flowing through to greater volatility in IOD. There will also be impacts to net debt and the resulting ratios that are taken into consideration by rating agencies in their assessment of the Province's credit rating. The OFA along with the Office of the Provincial Controller is continuing to discuss these issues with PSAB as well as monitoring these accounting changes on our foreign exchange risk management.

- The Province is currently rolling approximately $21.0 billion in the FX forwards market. Due to the large borrowing programs and the resulting large amount of foreign debt issuance, the Province relies heavily on the FX forwards market to hedge foreign exchange exposure, especially when swap credit is constrained and FX forward levels are attractively priced. FX forwards are currently estimated to provide savings in the range of 15 to 20 basis points compared to swaps. It should be noted that rolling a hedge in the FX forwards does not create FX exposure. The risk lies in the level at which the basis spread will be locked-in on each FX roll or when a long-term basis swap is eventually entered into.

G. INTEREST-ON-DEBT MANAGEMENT PLAN

- Stress testing[5] of interest rates and exchange rates has been performed by Risk Control Division to determine impacts of extreme market movements on interest-on-debt (IOD), the borrowing program and potential losses from a weak counterparty default. More details are provided in Appendix 8.

- The IOD forecast for 2017-18 is $11.7 billion which compares to a Q3 estimate for 2016-17 of $11.4 billion. Interest on debt as a percentage of government revenue declined from a peak of 15.5% in 1999-2000 to 8.3% projected in 2017-18.

- A sustained one percentage point increase in both short-term and long-term interest rates at the beginning of 2017-18 would increase IOD by approximately $350 million for 2017-18.

- IOD-at-risk[6] for 2017-18 is estimated at $104 million at 95% confidence interval. However, with much higher levels of volatility, IOD-at-risk could increase by as much as $250 million under different yield curve scenarios.

- IOD stress testing is based on three distinct market scenarios: changes to interest rates; changes in FX; and changes to CPI. This represents a potential increase in IOD of about $500 million. A potential default loss component is also estimated based on the stressed market scenarios. The potential default loss for 2017-18 is estimated at about $50 million.

- The IOD loss limit for 2017-18 is $351 million. This is established in the OFA Market Risk Policy as 3% of budgeted IOD for the fiscal year.

- Increases in floating rate or foreign exchange exposures executed in 2017-18 will further increase potential losses, and adoption of new accounting standards, especially for foreign exchange, has the potential to appreciably increase IOD volatility if these new standards are adopted over the next few years.

5 Stress testing can be defined as the examination of the potential effects on an entity's financial condition arising from a set of specified changes in risk factors corresponding to exceptional but plausible events.

6 Interest on Debt (IOD)-at-risk is Value-at-Risk (VaR) applied to IOD. IOD-at-Risk is an IOD loss amount which would not be expected to be exceeded at the 95% confidence level over a one year time horizon.

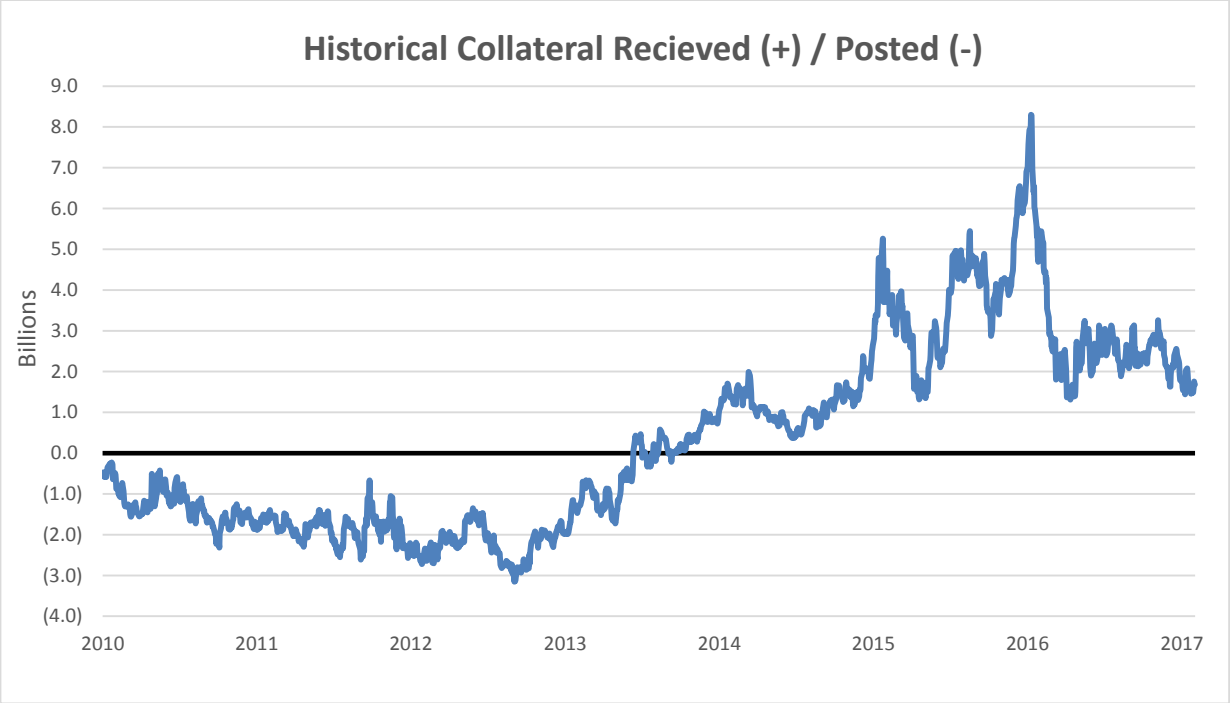
H. DERIVATIVES RISK MANAGEMENT

- The Province of Ontario uses derivatives to manage its financial risks. Interest rate and currency swaps are used extensively to hedge foreign debt issues back to Canadian dollars.

- As of December 31, 2016, foreign debt outstanding was $53.9 billion for the Province. The notional value of the derivative portfolio was $153.3 billion, which consisted of $82.7 billion in interest rate swaps, $39.5 billion in cross-currency swaps, and $31.1 billion in foreign exchange contracts.

- Ontario's hedging transactions related to international borrowing result in credit risk to our derivative counterparties. The Province has been implemented CSA's with derivative counterparties to mitigate this counterparty credit risk. In addition to reducing counterparty credit risk, CSA's also enhance market liquidity, efficiency and pricing for derivative transactions. We have signed CSA's with 10 counterparties, and no new CSA's have been added in the last year. Ideally we would like to have CSA's signed with all of our major derivative counterparties, but this is unlikely as some counterparties have found the Province's thresholds to be too aggressive.

- Although the use of CSAs will mitigate counterparty credit exposure related to derivative transactions, there will also be an impact on the Province's liquid reserve portfolio and liquidity risk management as the movement of collateral is two-way. The chart below shows collateral movement since the CSAs were first implemented 7 years ago. From 2010 to 2013, Ontario was posting net collateral up to a maximum of approximately $3 billion, whereas from 2014 to 2017, Ontario was in receipt of net collateral up to a maximum of approximately $8 billion. These results illustrate the volatility and magnitude of collateral being exchanged with CSA counterparties.



- Risk Control division stress tests the existing derivatives portfolio using various scenarios to determine potential changes to the mark-to-market value of the swap portfolio. These results are summarized in the table below, and illustrate the potential credit exposure the Province could encounter in the absence of CSA's. With the Province having executed CSA's with the majority of its counterparties, the credit exposure risk has been mitigated with the receipt of collateral. However, liquidity risk has been increased as the Province will have to post collateral in certain situations. A more detailed listing of the foreign currency and interest rate assumptions used in the analysis are provided in Appendix 9. Appendix 10 is a more detailed analysis of exposure changes for each of our derivative counterparties at various confidence levels for different terms.

Change in Derivative Portfolio Market Value (CAD million)

(As of January 31, 2017)

Currency Scenario	10%	20%	30%	1D VaR @ 95% Confidence	1yr VaR @ 95% Confidence
CAD appreciates vs all currencies	(5,612)	(11,225)	(16,837)	(546)	(8,842)
CAD depreciates vs all currencies	5,612	11,225	16,837	546	8,842

Interest Rate Scenario	1D VaR @ 95% Confidence	1yr VaR @ 95% Confidence
CAD Curve shifts up	123	1,908
CAD Curve shifts down	(124)	(2,118)

	CAD Curve	All Curves
Up 125 bps	2,330	570
Down 125 bps	(2,623)	(729)

Positive figures in the table above represent an increase in credit exposure whereas negative figures represent a decrease in exposure. Ontario's credit exposure to derivative counterparties generally increases when the Canadian dollar depreciates, Canadian interest rates rise, or foreign interest rates decline. In contrast, credit exposure generally decreases as the Canadian dollar appreciates, Canadian interest rates decline, or foreign interest rates rise. For example, if the Canadian dollar appreciates by 20%, total credit exposure would decrease by $11.225 billion assuming all other factors stay constant. With CSA's in place, we would need to post an additional $11.225 billion comprised of collateral related to swaps and/or cash related to the rolling of FX contracts in this scenario. The table also provides stress tests using Value-at-Risk (VAR) to determine 95% confidence intervals for 1 day and 1 year potential changes in credit exposure.

The results show the large changes to potential credit exposure given the large size of the derivatives portfolio as well as the potential collateral the Province may have to post in certain situations. In addition to collateral for swaps, the potential cash flows associated with rolling over foreign exchange contracts are also captured in the results. These impacts are considered in overall liquidity management and result in a higher level of liquid reserves being necessary.

Another potential demand on collateral could arise from a credit rating downgrade. The CSA has varying collateral thresholds based on Ontario's credit rating. A one notch downgrade from the current S&P rating of A+ to A could have a potential impact of posting an additional $550 million of collateral. However, based on the current mark-to-market exposure, an additional $50 million of collateral would only need to be posted.

Any future increase in the amount of foreign debt outstanding and the size of the derivatives portfolio could result in greater potential collateral requirements in the future. These potential increases would need to be considered in overall liquidity management and the level of liquid reserves in the future years.

Proposed Derivative Reforms

The regulatory response to the financial crisis has been a key driver of changes in the over-the-counter derivatives (OTCD) market. These reforms are being driven by G20 commitments, the development of Basel III and changes to capital charges by financial institutions, along with the passage of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street and Consumer Protection Act in the United States ("Dodd-Frank"), the European Market Infrastructure Regulation (EMIR) and the proposed rules and requirements by Canadian Securities Administrators, which are adopted by the provincial and territorial regulators in Canada. (Please see Appendix 3 for a more in depth analysis)

Derivative market reforms will increase cost pressures for the Province's derivative transactions going forward due to the asymmetrical nature of our CSA thresholds. The Province's derivative counterparties have been incurring increased regulatory charges such as the Credit Value Adjustment (CVA) and the Funding Value Adjustment (FVA) due to the asymmetrical CSA thresholds. Fewer of our derivative counterparties are still willing and/or able to absorb these increased regulatory charges when pricing swap transactions. As a result, we will likely be incurring additional costs to access the swap liquidity we required going forward. The OFA plans to review the CSA thresholds this year, and may consider moving to symmetrical thresholds if lower transaction costs and greater liquidity can be achieved. The trade-off would be increased liquidity risk arising from the additional collateral the Province may potentially need to post if the thresholds were equal, which could be up to $2.5 billion in certain situations based on our current credit rating.

Although the use of derivatives cannot be eliminated given the size of the Province's borrowing program, the use of derivatives will be reduced where possible given the potential increased cost and liquidity risk of using derivatives.

I. CLIENT INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT

1. Segregated Funds

- The OFA provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment services to seven public bodies. Discretionary clients are those that have contracted the OFA to make investment decisions on their behalf. Non-discretionary clients are those that make their own investment decisions primarily based on their cash-flow expectations. Currently, the OFA provides discretionary services to five investment clients and non-discretionary services to three investment clients.

- The objectives of assisting public bodies invest money on a segregated basis include:

  - ensuring that public bodies have consistent investment management structures that follow industry best practices;
  - producing cost savings arising from economies of scale, low custodial and investment management fees; and
  - managing investments as per the investment policies and maximizing return by applying the appropriate risk/return trade-offs.

  - The portfolio sizes for discretionary and non-discretionary clients as of January 31,2017 are as follows:

Portfolio	Assets ($ Millions)
Pension Benefits Guarantee Fund	561
Deposit Insurance Corporation of Ontario	230
Ontario Trillium Foundation	173
Ontario Infrastructure Lands Corporation	184
Ontario Capital Growth Corporation	35
Subtotal Discretionary	1,183
Ontario Immigrant Investor Corporation	666
Northern Ontario Heritage Fund	201
Ontario Capital Growth Corporation 2	55
Subtotal Non-Discretionary	922
Total Assets	2,105

  - The Investment objectives, risk tolerances and performance of the discretionary accounts are provided in Appendix 11.

Investment and Performance Monitoring Process

Discretionary Clients

- The public body develops a Statement of Investment Policy & Procedures (SIPP) for management of investments. The SIPP outlines risk/return parameters including income objectives, liquidity requirements, security of capital considerations and applicable performance benchmarks. The SIPP is then approved by the Board of Directors of the public body.

- An investment management agreement (IMA) between the client and the OFA is established to outline the roles and responsibilities of the OFA. The OFA utilizes Ministry of Finance Legal Services Division to finalize the IMA.

- Capital Market staff manage investments as per the approved SIPP and communicate with public body staff.

- Risk Control Division calculates and reports the actual performance versus the relevant benchmark on a monthly basis.

- OFA provides Quarterly Performance and Compliance Reports to clients (reports are sent to their respective Boards or Audit & Finance Committees).

    - OFA presents the Quarterly Report at PBGF Management Committee meeting.
    - OFA attends the DICO and OTF Audit & Finance Committee meetings at least once a year and the Quarterly Report is included in the Audit & Finance Committee package.
    - OFA provides Quarterly Report to OCGC with respect to the commitment fund for the Ontario Venture Capital Fund and the Northleaf Venture Catalyst Fund.

Non-Discretionary Clients

- Funds are invested in Ontario treasury bills and bonds with maturity dates determined by the public body.
- Finance & Treasury Division sends monthly statements of outstanding positions to the public body staff.
- Public body staff review investment holdings, performance and report to their respective Boards, committees, etc.

For 2017-18, the plans for the segregated funds include:

- continuing to work with existing investment management clients to review their investment management objectives and strategies;

- identifying and advising other public bodies that could benefit from the OFA's investment expertise with segregated funds;

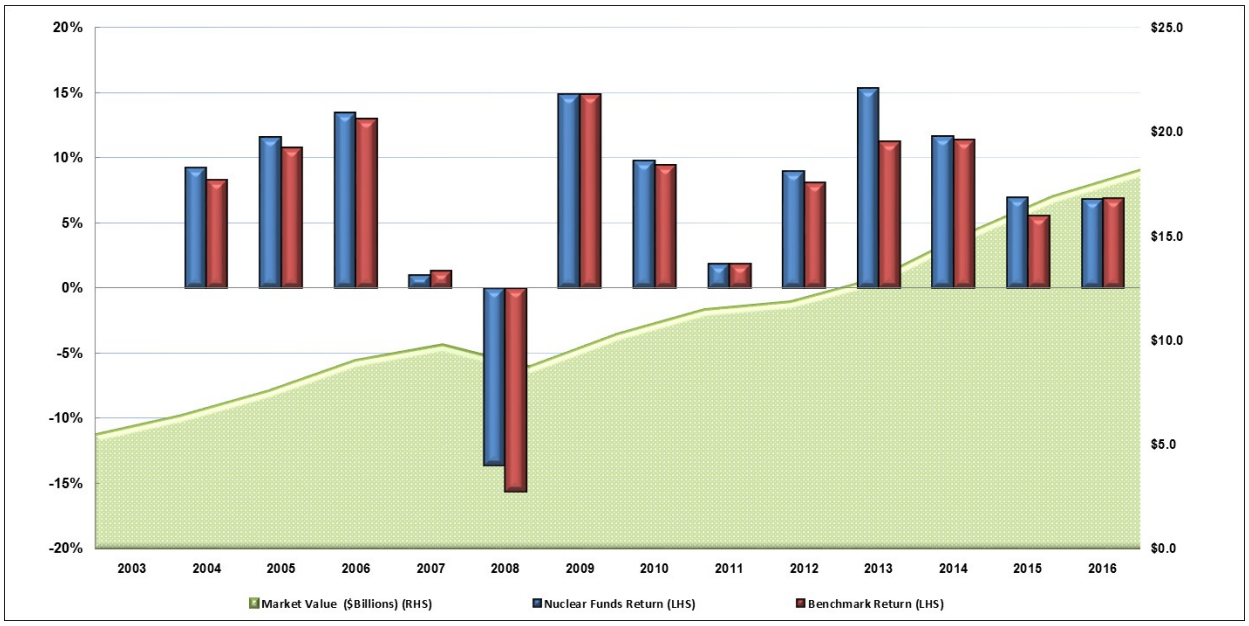
- Evaluating the conversion from non-discretionary management to discretionary management where appropriate.

2. Ontario Nuclear Funds

- The Ontario Nuclear Funds Agreement (ONFA) was signed in March 2002 by the Province and Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG). The main objective of ONFA is to ensure sufficient funds are available to pay for the future costs of decommissioning nuclear stations and disposing of nuclear waste and used fuel. ONFA came into force in July 2003 with the creation of two segregated funds, the Decommissioning Segregated Fund and the Used Fuel Segregated Fund, which are jointly managed by OPG and OFA, on behalf of the Province.

- In order to meet the long-term target rate of return of 3.25% real, the Nuclear Funds have been invested using a diversified asset class strategy with external investment managers. The current target asset mix for the Nuclear Funds is 45% equity, 35% fixed income and 20% real assets.

Nuclear Funds Historical Performance and Market Value

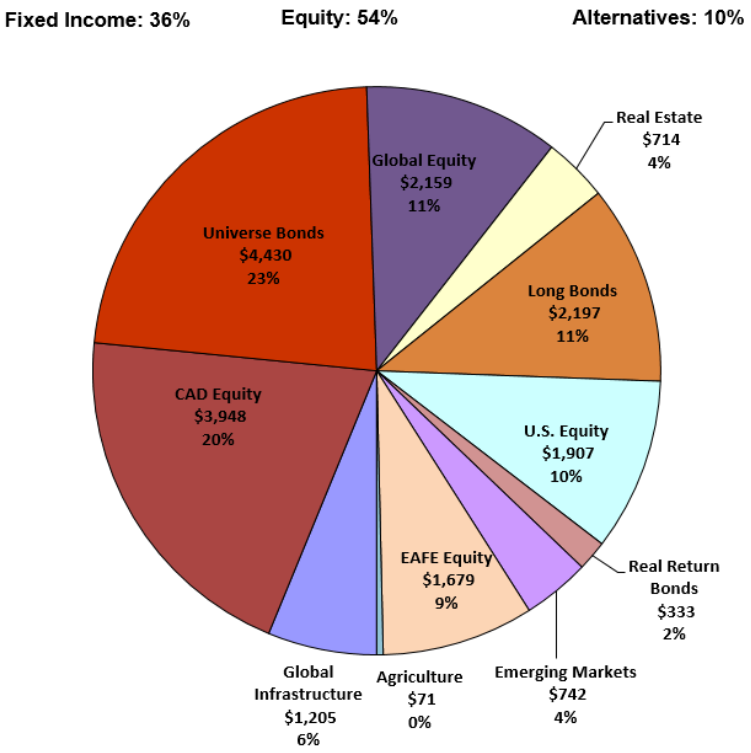


- For the year ending December 31, 2016 the Nuclear Funds returned 6.87%, underperforming the benchmark return of 6.95%. Most asset classes, with exception of EAFE Equity, provided positive absolute returns during 2016. Since inception, the Nuclear Funds have outperformed the benchmark by 79 bps (7.57% versus 6.78%) annualized.

- Since inception, the Used Fuel Segregated Fund has outperformed its long-term rate of return target by 265 bps (7.75% versus 5.10%) and the Decommissioning Segregated Fund has outperformed its long-term rate of return target by 218 bps (7.49% versus 5.30%) annualized.

- The assets of the Nuclear Funds have grown from $4.9 billion at inception to $19.4 billion at December 31, 2016, through a combination of asset appreciation and OPG contributions. Although there are currently modest disbursements out of the Nuclear Funds, there are no major disbursements expected prior to 2018.

Nuclear Funds Asset Mix as at December 31, 2016 ($ millions)



Objectives for 2017-18

- During 2017-18, investment staff will complete implementation of a fixed income overlay and hire a dedicated corporate bond manager for the fixed income portfolio.

- During 2017-18, investment staff will undertake an asset-liability study based on the approved Reference Plan.

- Investment staff will continue to evaluate potential investment opportunities in real estate, infrastructure and agriculture in order to increase the exposure within the real asset class allocation. Since December 31, 2015, the Nuclear Funds' allocation to real assets increased by a total of $398 million.

    - Real Estate – Evaluate potential investments globally to further diversify the asset class and complement the current core real estate managers.

    - Infrastructure – Staff will evaluate potential investment opportunities, evaluating potential fund investments and co-investment opportunities to further diversify the portfolio.

    - Agriculture - Continue to monitor and evaluate potential investments to further diversify the real asset portfolio.

3. Other Financial Services

- Ontario Infrastructure and Lands Corporation (OILC) provides loans for infrastructure development to the broader public service including municipalities.

- In 2014-15, OILC started borrowing directly from the Province through a short-term credit facility. Previously, the OFA had conducted bi-weekly auctions of OILC commercial paper. The limit on the short-term credit facility is $900 million, and as of February 28, 2017, there was $445 million that had been borrowed.

- In 2015-16, OILC started borrowing long-term funds from the Province through a long-term credit facility. Under the long-term credit facility, OILC borrows funds from the Province that match the term and structure of the loans provided to OILC's clients. The details of the long-term credit facility are provided in the following table.

OILC Long-Term Credit Facility
Facility	Effective Date	Maturity Date	Amount Authorized	Amount Borrowed (As of Feb 28/17)
1524/2014	March 30, 2015	November 14, 2016	$2,818,658,341	$1,646,535,463
1566/2016	November 14, 2016	November 14 ,2018	$2,500,000,000	$406,951,599

- The loans to OILC are funded through the Province's borrowing program, and represent only a small component of the Province's overall borrowing program and debt portfolio. While the Province's borrowing requirement will increase in order to fund OILC's loans, net debt remains unchanged since any increase in the Province's borrowing is offset by loans issued to OILC.

- This new funding model is a relatively large undertaking for the OFA as indicative pricing is provided to OILC twice a week, and a total of 125 transactions per year had originally been projected. The table below provides summary statistics for the actual loans made in 2016-17. As a comparison, a total of 121 loans totaling $1.3 billion were completed in 2015-16.

OILC Loans From Province 2016-17
	# of Transactions	Loan Notional ($billions)	Final Term (Years)	Average Life (Years)
Amortizing Loans
Total	143	826.9
Average		5.8	20.4	11.8
Minimum		0.04	5.0	2.5
Maximum		128.4	30.0	17.7
Non Amortizing Loans
Total	0	0	na	na

- For comparative purposes, statistics for Ontario's overall borrowing program are also provided in the table below. These results show that the loans provided to OILC fall within the terms of borrowing achieved by the Province in 2016-17.

Province Borrowing Summary 2016-17
	# of Transactions	Borrowing Notional ($billions)	Final Term (Years)	Average Life (Years)
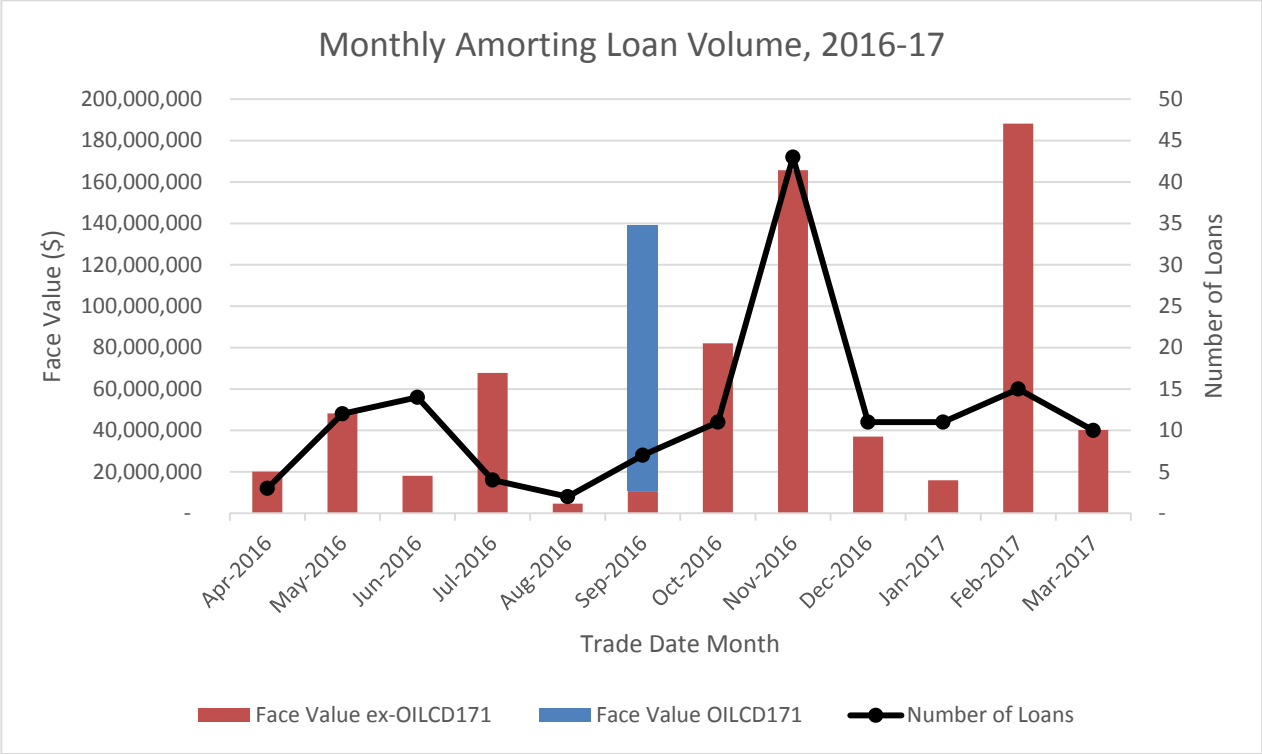
Non-Amortizing Loans (1)
Total	65	27.0
Average			13.9	13.9
Minimum			2.6	2.6
Maximum			32.0	32.0
Amortizing Loans
Total	0	0	na	na

Notes: (1) Includes Ontario Savings Bonds (OSBs) and Ontario Immigrant Investor Corporation (OIIC).

- The chart below shows the monthly loan volume by notional amount and number of transactions for 2016-17. These results illustrate that loans were generally spaced out through the year, with exceptions being September 2016, November 2016, and February 2017. In September, a single loan of $128.4 million was transacted. In November 2016, 43 loans totaling $166.7 million were transacted. In February 2017, total loans of $188.2 million were transacted.



- For 2017-18, it is projected there will be approximately 100 loans executed for total notional of approximately $600 million.

Other services provided to OILC related to Capital Markets include;

- Execute financial transactions for OILC related to their risk management and investment programs as requested. Transactions have included money market, bonds, and swaps;
- Provide benchmark swap and bond rates for Infrastructure Project (AFP) transactions;
- Assist OILC with financial market related queries, structuring of derivatives and indicative pricing of various swap/swaption structures as requested.

J. COMMODITY RISK MANAGEMENT

1. Non-Utility Generation (NUG) Portfolio

- OEFC manages long-term power purchase agreements (PPA's) with a number of non-utility generators (NUGs). The number of contracts have declined in recent years as the contracts expire. In 2016, the Independent Electricity System Operator under the direction of the Ministry of Energy, executed agreements with a number of the gas-fired NUGs which incentivizes them to operate in a manner that is better aligned with the integrated power system's needs, reducing costs to ratepayers and lowering carbon emissions. In terms of the contracts OEFC manages, the contracts were either terminated or suspended, depending on the agreement IESO reached with the NUG. As of February 1, 2017, there are currently 20 NUGs for a total capacity of 471 MWs. OEFC will continue to implement short-term curtailment transactions to reduce OEFC costs while also reducing supply during off-peak periods but the number of transactions and curtailment cost-savings is expected to be significantly lower as the number of gas-fired NUGs have declined. Appendix 12 provides additional information on the NUG supply.

2. Diesel Price Risk (Metrolinx)

- Metrolinx continues to look at fixing the price they pay for fuel, used in their day to day operations, by entering into commodity swaps. The OFA continues to work with Metrolinx on this commodity hedging initiative. The decision to hedge fuel prices will rest exclusively with Metrolinx and they will provide instructions to the OFA to transact with the market on their behalf. Commodity swaps are not a typical instrument the OFA undertakes, as such a new pricing model has been developed for this purpose. Outstanding legal issues and Metrolinx bylaw amendments have been addressed. ISDA negotiations with five of Canada's largest banks have been completed. It is now projected that this commodity hedging program will become fully operational in the current fiscal year. At this time, Metrolinx uses approximately 80,000,000 litres of diesel per year. Metrolinx may hedge up to 80% of this amount in the commodity swap market, subject to market conditions.

IV. PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT

- Capital Markets Programs have well-defined performance benchmarks approved by the Board of Directors on an annual basis at the beginning of each fiscal year. Performance results measured against the benchmarks are reviewed by Internal Audit Division and reported to the Board of Directors by Risk Control Division.

- A summary of the existing Performance Measures for 2016-17 is provided in Appendix 13 (Performance Measures). The 2017-18 Performance Measures will be approved at the June 2017 Board Meeting.

V. ACCOUNTING UPDATE

- At the June 2015 Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) meeting the effective date of the financial instruments accounting standards issued by PSAB in July 2011 was extended to April 1, 2019 from April 1, 2016. In 2016, PSAB staff met with stakeholders from senior governments to get feedback on the proposed standards and reported back their findings to the board in December 2016. PSAB staff are conducting further stakeholder meetings with Not-for-Profits and Municipalities in 2017.

- The standards require immediate recognition of the following in a separate statement called Remeasurement Gains and Losses:

    - Unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses of foreign currency debt; and
    - Unrealized changes in fair value of derivatives.

- Unrealized gains and losses and changes in fair value are an approximation of what would happen if the debt, derivative or asset currently held was sold, even though the Province intends to hold the instrument to maturity.

- When derivatives and foreign currency debt mature, the accumulated balance in the Statement of Remeasurement Gains and Losses pertaining to that instrument will be reclassified to the annual surplus/deficit of the Province. If the foreign currency debt and the derivatives are in a hedging relationship with similar terms, the realized gains or losses should offset each other. However, when term of the derivative is less than that of the underlying foreign currency debt, the realized gain or loss when the derivative matures will impact Interest on Debt (IOD) with no offset from the change in value of the debt. The recognition of fair value of derivatives will contribute to fluctuations to Net Debt that cannot be accurately forecast.

- The standard should reflect the economic substance of the use of derivatives. Derivatives are generally used for hedging, thus reducing volatility that might otherwise occur in a diverse borrowing program whose debt issuance includes both floating rate and foreign currency denominated instruments.

- In February 2015, the OFA coordinated a second memo to PSAB from the provincial borrowing communities indicating their disappointment with a previous Exposure Draft issued by PSAB and echoing Ontario's request that the standard be amended to include hedge accounting as an option. In March 2015, a special PSAB meeting for the financial instruments standards was held and Murray Lindo, the Provincial controller and PSAB member, based on briefing by the OFA outlined the concerns of Ontario and the other provinces. As a result in June 2015, PSAB approved an amendment to the transitional provisions to extend the effective date to April 1, 2019.

- In October 2016, the OFA engaged the services of Deloitte Inc. to assist in assessing the fiscal and operational impact of PS 3450 and PS 2601 on the Province as well as engage with PSAB and other stakeholders with the aim of amending the standards to address the concerns of the Province and borrowing community.

APPENDIX 2 - ECONOMIC OUTLOOK AND RISKS

Ontario real GDP increased 2.6 per cent annualized in the third quarter of 2016, after rising 0.7 per cent annualized in the second quarter. In the 2016 Economic Outlook and Fiscal Review, real GDP is projected to grow by 2.5 per cent in 2016, 2.2 per cent in 2017, 2.1 per cent in 2018 and 1.9 per cent in 2019. Exports and business investment are expected to be key drivers of Ontario's economic growth over the forecast period.

Long-term interest rates in many countries, including Canada, have risen markedly in recent months. U.S. treasury yields have lead the increases, reflecting an anticipated fiscal policy boost and Federal Reserve rate hikes. The U.S. Federal Reserve raised interest rates in December 2016, following an increase in December 2015. Meanwhile, the Bank of Canada, like many other central banks, has not started to raise interest rates. The yield on a three-month Canadian treasury bill is expected to be 0.5 per cent in 2017, unchanged from 2015 and 2016. The three-month treasury bill yield is projected to average 0.8 per cent in 2018 and gradually increase to 1.9 per cent in 2020. Long-term Government of Canada bond yields are expected to average 1.9 per cent in 2017, up from 1.3 per cent in 2016, and rise steadily to reach 3.2 per cent in 2020.

Private-sector forecast averages for interest rates and the Canadian dollar are provided below.

RISKS AND CONTINGENCIES

GLOBAL ECONOMIC UNCERTAINTY

Global economic growth is projected to improve over the 2017-18 period, with rising output in advanced economies such as the United States and Canada as well as emerging market and developing economies. However, a heightened level of uncertainty surrounds this outlook.
The slow economic recovery following the 2008-09 global financial crisis has contributed to a shift towards inward-looking policy platforms and trade protectionism.
The new U.S. administration has indicated its intention to alter international trade agreements, including the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA). A rise in protectionist measures in the U.S. would not only directly impact export and investment prospects for Ontario, but have ramifications for global economic activity.
Policy moves have also been announced to tighten immigration policy in the United States. A significantly restrictive approach to immigration policy could dampen labour supply and long-term U.S. economic growth. This would lower Ontario`s export potential and likely hinder investment activity.

U.S. ECONOMIC GROWTH

Real GDP growth in the United States rebounded in the second half of 2016, following a slowdown earlier in the year, largely due to weakness in business investment. The U.S. labour market continues to make solid gains, supporting rising wage gains and household spending. Additionally, growth is expected to be boosted by tax cuts and infrastructure spending. According to the February forecast from Blue Chip Economic Indicators, U.S. real GDP growth is projected to expand by 2.3 per cent in 2017, following growth of 1.6 per cent in 2016. U.S. real GDP growth is forecast at 2.4% in 2018 and 2.1% in 2019. The strengthening U.S. economy should have a positive impact on the Ontario economy. Solid U.S. demand and a low Canadian dollar will help support export activity.

OIL PRICES

Oil prices have risen in recent months, following the agreement among Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and some non-OPEC members to lower oil production. With these cuts, global oil demand will likely exceed supply, which will result in declines in elevated inventories and upward pressure on prices. Continued firming of oil prices will be determined in large part by OPEC production decisions and whether U.S. suppliers will increase output. However, oil prices are expected to stay well below the $100 US per barrel reached three years ago. Private sector forecasters expect the price of West Texas Intermediate (WTI) oil to average $55 US per barrel in 2017 and gradually increase over the medium term, reaching $65 US by 2020.

Since Ontario is an oil importing jurisdiction, lower-priced oil reduces input costs for industry and puts money into consumers' pockets.

CANADIAN DOLLAR EXCHANGE RATE

The Canadian dollar has recently strengthened, supported by higher oil prices. Gradually rising oil prices are expected to support a rising exchange rate over the next few years. However, the differing path of U.S. and Canadian monetary policy could limit near-term gains in the Canadian dollar. The Canadian dollar is expected to average 74.5 cents US in 2017, modestly lower than 75.5 cents US in 2016. The Canadian exchange rate is expected to remain well below parity with the U.S. dollar, reaching 80.0 cents US by 2020.

HOUSEHOLD DEBT AND CREDIT CONDTIONS

In recent years, resale home price appreciation has outpaced income gains, fueling mortgage debt accumulation. The high level of household debt remains one of the key risks for the outlook. Despite historically low mortgage rates, monthly carrying costs are elevated relative to long-term trends. High levels of debt, combined with elevated resale prices, leave Ontario households potentially more vulnerable in the event of an economic downturn.

APPENDIX 3 - DOCUMENTATION, REGULATORY AND DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS FOR DEBT ISSUANCE AND DERIVATIVES

DOCUMENTATION AND DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS

DEBT ISSUANCE

DOMESTIC MARKET

The Province of Ontario as a government issuer of debt securities such as Domestic Medium-Term Notes, Ontario Savings Bonds, CPP Program and T-bills, is exempt from prospectus requirements and registration requirements in Canada and as such is not required to file any financial or material change information with the Ontario Securities Commission ("OSC") or other domestic securities regulators.

Although not legally required, from a market credibility perspective, it is important that all material information be disclosed to investors before launching a bond issue. Disclosure of information is provided to investors through the publication of the Province's financial releases such as the Ontario Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances and Public Accounts.

INTERNATIONAL MARKETS

The Province as a sub-sovereign issuer of debt securities in foreign markets such as the U.S, the EU, Luxembourg and Australia, is subject to international securities laws and the applicable prospectus, registration and disclosure requirements in each jurisdiction and is required to file financial information with or report any material change to the applicable securities regulator or self-regulatory organizations.

More importantly, the Province is required to make timely and adequate disclosure of all material information to investors.

Information is judged to be material if a reasonably informed investor would view it as relevant in making an investment decision (i.e., material adverse changes in revenues, expenditures, deficit levels, economic outlook, and major policy changes).

- In general, legal counsel would have disclosure concerns (and concerns about legal liability) for any total variance in the range of $500 million to $1.0 billion on either revenues or expenditures. Any net impact on the bottom line in the similar range would also raise concerns.

- If a material adverse event occurs between the time of launching a bond issue and the closing date (typically 5-10 days), this would be detrimental to the success of the bond issue as the underwriters would have the right to refuse to close the transaction.

- If after the bond issue closed (for example, within 60 days), it is determined that the Province did not provide full disclosure or made a material misstatement in its statutory disclosure documents, investors have a legal right to sue the Province and its representatives for either damage or the right to return the bonds. This could also result in substantial liability under the anti-fraud provisions of U.S. securities laws.

U.S. MARKET

In order to raise funds either through Global Bond offerings or through U.S. Medium-Term Note private placements to U.S. investors, the Province is required to file a Shelf Registration Statement under U.S. securities laws. Since 1993, the Province has filed Registration Statements with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") using a "shelf registration process", the most recent being in April of 2016 which allowed the Province to offer on a continuous basis up to US$20 billion aggregate principal amount of securities which constitutes an estimate of how much the Province expects to sell in the U.S. market in the next 2-3 fiscal years. With each issuance, the amount registered is drawn down by the dollar amount of sales to U.S. investors. As at February 14, 2017, there is currently US$15.7 billion remaining on the U.S. shelf. A new shelf registration is initiated when the amount remaining is approximately US$5 billion or less, thereby ensuring there is sufficient room for the Province to continue to borrow in the U.S. market while the documentation for the new shelf is finalized and registered by the SEC with the assistance of the Province's U.S. legal counsel.

The Shelf Registration Statement filing is comprised of a Base Prospectus which provides a general description of the Province, the securities that may be offered and the documents incorporated by reference such as the Ontario Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, Exhibit (d) to Ontario's Annual Report on Form 18-K and associated amendments. Whenever the Province issues securities into the US, it must ensure that its Shelf Registration Statement and all supplements and amendments filed with the SEC provide full disclosure of all current and relevant financial information or material changes about the Province to its investors.

Although the Province as a foreign government is not subject to the periodic reporting requirements of U.S. securities law, the Province has agreed (as is the market practice for sovereign issuers) to file on a voluntary ongoing basis, material disclosure (i.e., Ontario Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, Exhibit (d) to Ontario's Annual Report on Form 18-K and Form 18-K/A amendments) and other material information promptly. This includes annually filing a full update of Exhibit (d) to Ontario's Annual Report on Form 18-K with the SEC within 9 months after the Province's fiscal year end. Material information must be disclosed and disseminated electronically by filing via the SEC's Electronic Data Gathering, Analysis, and Retrieval ("EDGAR") system so all investors can access it.

With the pending release to the public of material announcements and financial releases such as the Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, etc., black-out periods are put in place during which the Province cannot issue in the markets. This ensures that the Province is not required to disclose information to investors that is not yet public or that new material information is not released in the middle of an issue. After the release of the information, the blackout period extends until such time as all regulatory filings of the released information are complete. The Province was in blackout for 36 days as shown in the notes following the 2016 Ontario Disclosure and Filing Calendar.

With each Global Bond offering and in accordance with SEC requirements, the Province prepares a Preliminary Prospectus Supplement (general information about the issue), a Free Writing Prospectus (a form of terms agreement with the underwriters), and a Final Prospectus Supplement (full and final details of the issue) and files on EDGAR.

Each Prospectus Supplement must ensure that all material information has been disclosed and that there has been no material change or omission. Additionally, the Province must also comply with the rules and regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange with respect to the admission of the Bonds to the Official List and to trading on the Euro MTF Market by preparing a Luxembourg Prospectus.

After the closing of each issue, the Fiscal Agency Agreement, Underwriting Agreement, SEC Legal Opinion and Schedule of Expenses in connection with a deal are also filed on EDGAR.

STOCK EXCHANGE LISTINGS

The Province's debt securities are listed on a number of international stock exchanges, namely the Main Market of the London Stock Exchange, the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, the Luxembourg Green Exchange ("LGX"), the SIX Swiss Exchange, the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the Singapore Exchange Limited.

The disclosure requirements vary depending on the securities laws of each of those jurisdictions. At a minimum, the Province must file its annual audited financial statements for as long as the securities remain outstanding. In some cases, the Province also has continuous disclosure obligations to report material changes for the life of the issue.

DEBT ISSUANCE PROGRAMS

The Province has established several programs under which securities may be issued from time to time and therefore require continuous disclosure. The disclosure must be kept current as long as the program is active and securities issued under the program remain outstanding.

MONEY MARKET SECURITIES

T-BILL PROGRAM

To assist with management of its liquid reserves, the Province maintains a T-bill Program with a current program limit of C$27.0 billion and a limit of C$6.0 billion for OEFC. Provincial T-bills are money market securities (generally with a term of under 1 year, although legislation permits terms of up to 3 years) which are currently issued weekly. If required, the T-bill program limit may be adjusted to ensure sufficient flexibility to effectively manage liquid reserves. While there are no regulatory disclosure requirements associated with T-bills, the Province is required to coordinate documentation with its T-bill issuing and paying agent and the domestic clearing and settlement system where the T-bills are lodged.

U.S. COMMERCIAL PAPER (USCP) PROGRAM

The Province maintains a USCP program, which provides for offerings of short-term debt securities issued at a discount to participating dealers. The USCP program is exempt from the registration requirements under U.S. securities law provided the securities have a maturity of up to 270 days and meet specific criteria determined by the regulators. The current USCP Program limit is set at C$15.0 billion, which may be adjusted if deemed necessary for prudent management of the Province's liquid reserves. USCP is hedged to Canadian dollars using foreign exchange to eliminate the currency risk.

LONG-TERM DEBT SECURITIES

DOMESTIC MEDIUM-TERM NOTE (DMTN) PROGRAM

Established in 2000, the DMTN program is the most significant source of long-term funding for the Province, accounting for up to 75% of the long-term funding requirement in any given fiscal year. While there are no formal prospectus or disclosure requirements under domestic securities laws, the Province prepares an overview of each offering containing the economic attributes of the offering, called "Bond Issue Details", which is published on the OFA website for the benefit of investors.

GREEN BOND PROGRAM

In accordance with the government's commitment to issue Green Bonds, the Province successfully launched a Green Bond Program on October 2, 2014 with an inaugural global Canadian dollar bond of C$500 million. The Province has since offered two additional Green Bonds, the second in January 2016 and the third in January 2017.

The Province's Green Bond Program is governed by a Green Bond Framework which established the types of projects which may be eligible under the Program. The Province publishes an annual newsletter reporting on the selected projects, their funding, progress and environmental performance.

The Province has adopted a Canadian dollar-denominated global format for its Green Bonds, whereby the securities are lodged in the domestic system but the disclosure process follows an approach similar to Global Bond offerings in the U.S. market and also provides a listing on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. This ensures that international Green Bond investors are provided with access to fulsome disclosure information about eligible Green Bond projects and the Province's Green Bond Framework.

US MEDIUM-TERM NOTE (MTN) PROGRAM

In 2011, the Province established a United States Dollar Medium-Term Note Program ("USMTN Program") which provides for the issuance of Notes with a term of 9 months or more in the US market and was required to file a Prospectus Supplement to the Base Prospectus with the SEC on EDGAR. With each offer of Notes, the Province is required to file a Pricing Supplement.

EURO MEDIUM-TERM NOTE (EMTN) PROGRAMME

In 1992, the Province established an EMTN Programme to issue euro medium term-notes outside of Canada and the U.S. and to meet investor requirements in the European zone. The instruments are issued for terms ranging from 3 months to 50 years.

The Province uses an “Offering Circular” for EMTN instruments issued under the Programme which is updated annually, approved by the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and then valid for one year.

The Offering Circular incorporates by reference the Province’s Budget, the Public Accounts, Annual Report on Form 18-K and amendments thereto and supplement material information. With each new issue under the Programme, the Province files the Pricing Supplement of the deal.

In the event of a significant new factor, material mistake or inaccuracy relating to the information included in the Offering Circular which is capable of affecting the assessment of any instruments, the Province must file a supplement to the Offering Circular with the Luxembourg Stock Exchange.

The Offering Circular is a "prospectus" for the purposes of the admission to listing on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading of the instruments on the Euro MTF market in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The Offering Circular does not constitute a prospectus for the purposes of the EU Prospectus Directive and accordingly does not provide a passport for the Province to make offers to the public across the EU on the basis of a prospectus subject to requirements prescribed by EU regulations and local securities law in those jurisdictions.

AUSTRALIAN DEBT ISSUANCE PROGRAMME (“KANGAROO PROGRAM”)

The Province’s Kangaroo Program provides for the issuance of Australian dollar denominated bonds “Kangaroo Bonds”. The Province filed an Information Memorandum in 2005 which incorporates by reference its filings with the SEC as well as Ontario’s Budget and its audited financial statements. There is no annual update for the Kangaroo Program documentation.

GERMAN REGISTERED NOTES

To diversify its funding sources, the Province has completed documentation for the issuance of German law registered notes Namensschuldverschreibungen (“NSV”) which are to be issued in Germany and governed by German law. NSV issuance will be of interest to German banks, insurance companies and pension funds. Disclosure of financial information will be provided to NSV investors through the publication of the Province’s Public Accounts on its website.

DUE DILIGENCE

The Province conducts due diligence conference calls with the Province's underwriters and their legal counsel after the release of the Ontario Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, Exhibit (d) to Ontario's Annual Report on Form 18-K or other material information requiring disclosure and "bring-down" update - conference calls before each Global Bond offering is priced and closed. The call consists of detailed questions on the Province's economic and fiscal position that are addressed by OFA and Ministry of Finance staff. In the spring of 2016, the Province moved away from providing the exact number of claims outstanding against the Crown on any given due diligence call in favour of making a more general representation confirming that it is not involved in any claims which would materially affect the financial position of the Province. Should a material claim arise, it would be disclosed by MOF legal counsel.

- Conducting due diligence calls establishes a defense for the underwriters and their counsel under U.S. securities laws to liability for inaccuracies or omissions in the prospectus. Due diligence enables the underwriters to show that they had, after reasonable investigation, reasonable grounds to believe and did believe that the statements in the prospectus were true and that there was no omission to state a material fact required to be stated or necessary to make the statement not misleading.

Due diligence and bring down conference calls also permit the Province's representatives and their counsel to ensure that all material information has been disclosed and that all public information is accurate and complete. The Province, as an issuer, is strictly liable for any materially misleading or inaccurate information in the Prospectus or for any material omissions, regardless of any due diligence investigation.

DERIVATIVES

INTERNATIONAL SWAPS AND DERIVATIVES ASSOCIATION ("ISDA") MASTER AGREEMENTS AND CREDIT SUPPORT ANNEXES ("CSAS")

Existing ISDA Master Agreements are updated and new agreements negotiated as required. All swap confirmations are reviewed and processed within "best practice" timeframes recommended by ISDA, ensuring they correctly document the terms of the trade and are in accordance with the provisions of the corresponding Master Agreement. To date, the OFA has executed ten CSAs with its swap counterparties. Given the Province's large borrowing program, CSAs, by mitigating credit risks with its swap counterparties, are instrumental in facilitating better access for the Province to a broader range of domestic and international derivatives counterparties with whom it may transact to hedge the market risks associated with its debt issuances.

TRADE REPORTING

Trade reporting requirements are now effective in Canada, the U.S. and Europe where the swap transaction-level data must be reported to the prescribed trade repositories in each jurisdiction. All swap market participants must obtain a Legal Entity Identifier ("LEI") to transact in OTC derivatives. The Province and OEFC each obtained LEIs, which are maintained on an annual basis. To comply with the requirements in all jurisdictions, the Province's derivatives trades are being reported by its dealer counterparties.

PUBLIC DISSEMINATION OF TRANSACTION DATA

OSC Rule 91-507 Trade Repositories and Derivatives Data Reporting Trade Reporting (the "Reporting Rule") came into force in Ontario, with respect to public dissemination of transaction-level data in April 2015. The OSC introduced certain measures in the November 2015 amendment to the Reporting Rule to protect the anonymity of OTC derivatives participants; however, such provisions were not sufficient to protect the anonymity of the Province when transacting in the Canadian OTC derivatives market. In consultation with the OSC, the OFA moved forward in the 2016 Budget, the required amendments to the Ontario Securities Act ("OSA") to provide exemptions for the Crown from the requirements of public dissemination of, or public access to, its transaction-level data.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Swap transactions and transactions under repurchase agreements entered into between the Province and a foreign counterparty may give a rise to withholding tax issues in regard to the interest, distribution and coupon payments from such transactions. In order to protect the Province from such unwanted foreign withholding tax issues and comply with the relevant requirements appropriately, the OFA has been proactively monitoring the changes in withholding tax laws and regulations applicable to the Province.

The Province's derivatives-related tax documentation is up-to-date in accordance with the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act ("FATCA"), the Canada-United States Enhanced Information Exchange Agreement ("FATCA Agreement"), and OECD Common Reporting Standard for Entity Tax Residency.

REGULATORY DEVELOPMENTS AFFECTING THE PROVINCE

DEBT ISSUANCE

COOPERATIVE CAPITAL MARKETS REGULATORY SYSTEM

Currently, British Columbia, Ontario, Saskatchewan, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Yukon and Canada (collectively, the "CMR Jurisdictions") are engaged in the development of a new Cooperative Capital Markets Regulatory System (the Cooperative System) under which a common regulator, the Capital Markets Regulatory Authority ("CMRA"), will be created to regulate financial markets in the CMR Jurisdictions. Under a Memorandum of Agreement, enactment of a uniform Capital Markets Act ("CMA") by the CMR Jurisdictions is targeted to occur in early 2018. In order to ensure the smooth transition to the Cooperative System without disrupting its continued access to the capital markets, the Province is working to carry forward the existing exemptions for the Crown in respect of its capital markets activities into the new regulatory regime.

NEW CDS FEES

On December 22, 2016, the Canadian Depository for Securities ("CDS") advised issuers that it had received regulatory approval to expand the scope of its fees, a process which CDS initiated in November 2014 in the face of significant concerns from various market participants, including several municipal and provincial issuers across Canada. The OFA undertook considerable advocacy efforts with CDS, its regulators and other government issuers in order to clarify the scope and applicability of these new fees. Specifically, CDS began charging issuers on March 1, 2017 in connection with the introduction of two new fee proposals: 1) changes to existing ISIN and eligibility fees and the creation of fees for Book-entry Only Global bonds, and 2) the introduction of fees for all interest, maturity payments (including money market securities) and bond optionality. Discussions with CDS are on-going, particularly in regard to retail debt (Ontario Savings Bonds) and what changes will need to take place to accommodate the new fees and the elimination of physical certificates by August 31, 2017, pursuant to a CDS rule change published on December 15, 2016.

The Province is currently engaged in discussions with the domestic dealer syndicate in regard to CDS fees and has requested that the dealers reimburse all issuer-related fees for the Province's securities. It is expected that this agreement will be finalized in the near future. The Province is continuing to explore operational alternatives in consultation with CDS which may help further reduce fees.

TRANSITION TO T+2 SETTLEMENT CYCLE

The global markets, including Canada, are continuing to move to a T+2 settlement cycle for secondary market issues. Canadian market stakeholders and participants are likewise preparing to shorten the settlement cycle from the current T+3 standard to T+2. The Canadian Securities Administrators (CSA) have affirmed that Canada will move to T+2 settlement at the same time as U.S. markets. It is expected that will take place on the target date of September 5, 2017. The Province is actively looking at how this will impact its domestic issuances and what operational changes may be required if the Province moves to issue new securities on a T+2 basis in the Canadian market.

MARKET ABUSE DIRECTIVE (EUROPE)

The European Union ("EU") Market Abuse Regulation ("MAR") came into effect in all EU Member States on July 3, 2016, replacing the existing Market Abuse Directive and the national laws implementing the Directive. The MAR imposes market abuse rules on EU markets that were exempt from previous EU market abuse rules, including the Luxembourg Stock Exchange Euro MTF Market ("Luxembourg MTF"). The Province of Ontario ("Province") issues debt in the European capital markets through the Euro Medium Term Note Programme and Global Bonds, which are listed on the Luxembourg MTF. The MAR imposes new obligations on the Province for current and future debt securities issued by it that are or will be listed on the Luxembourg MTF. The competent authority in Luxembourg, the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier

("CSSF"), is obligated to ensure the MAR is applied on its territory regarding all actions carried out on its territory and abroad related to instruments traded on the Luxembourg MTF. The MAR rules focus predominantly on 'market sounding' and 'insider information' and the Province remains in frequent consultation with external legal counsel to ensure compliance with MAR.

DERIVATIVES

GLOBAL REFORM

With the on-going global regulatory reform of the derivatives markets, the Province continues to assess the complex issues that implementation of the reform will have on the Province's derivatives activities in the global derivatives markets. Under the Dodd-Frank Act ("Dodd-Frank") in the United States and under European Market Infrastructure Regulation ("EMIR"), many swap market participants are required to centrally clear prescribed categories of swaps, and will be required to pledge margin for uncleared swaps. As a sovereign, the Province is exempt from central clearing and margin requirements under Dodd-Frank and EMIR.

Although exempt from clearing under Dodd-Frank and EMIR, the Province continues to evaluate the relative costs of clearing versus not clearing its swaps. For example, the global implementation of the Basel III regulatory framework resulted in some of the Province's counterparties proposing to charge higher pricing on its uncleared and/or under collateralized swaps in order to recover new regulatory and business charges (i.e., Credit Value Adjustment ("CVA"), and Funding Value Adjustment ("FVA") charges). If these charges become unavoidable, it may be beneficial for the Province to consider voluntarily clearing its derivatives transactions. The Province has already investigated the operational and legal requirements associated with clearing its derivatives transactions, and will continue to assess on an ongoing basis the desirability of centrally clearing derivatives transactions. In the event that clearing swaps becomes advantageous from a cost perspective, the Province will engage clearing brokers in formal discussions for clearing services.

The Province continues to monitor other key aspects of global regulatory reform and implements the necessary measures and amendments to swap agreements to ensure compliance with international regulatory regimes. The Province is also following developments in Europe under Markets in Financial Instruments Directive II ("MiFID II") and Markets in Financial Instruments Regulation ("MiFIR").

In the U.S. and Europe, a one-business day stay for contractual termination rights on any swap agreements in the event of bankruptcy of a counterparty is being adopted. The purpose of this contractual rights stay is give the regulators the time to transfer the failed institution's financial contracts to a solvent third party or to a bridge bank, despite the fact that the right to terminate contracts immediately following an event of default may be embedded in existing agreements such as ISDA Agreements. In the United States, in May 2016, the Board of Governors of the U.S. Federal Reserve System issued a proposed rules concerning the special resolution regimes. In Europe, Article 55 of the Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (2014/59/EU) (the "BRRD"), which has been implemented by a number of European countries, requires market participants to insert a clause concerning the contractual recognition of bail-in and contractual stay. The OFA is considering appropriate amendments to its ISDA Master Agreements to reflect the stay provisions.

DOMESTIC REFORM

In Canada, derivatives regulatory reform is being effected through each of the provincial and territorial regulators, with the process being coordinated through the Canadian Securities Administrators. The Canadian Securities Administrators continue to develop "Model Rules" for key aspects of derivatives regulation (i.e., clearing, registration, trade reporting), for eventual implementation in each of the provinces and territories. The Province is exempt from many of the proposed rules under the OSA. Nonetheless, the Province continues to evaluate the impact of each of the proposed rules on its and certain Crown Agents' (OEFC, OILC, and Metrolinx) derivatives activities and, as appropriate, consults with the OSC to discuss any potential issues so that they may continue carrying out their capital market activities and without creating or imposing any new obligations resulting from new derivatives regulations. In fall 2015, the OFA worked to secure amendments to the OSA to ensure that the existing exemptions for the Province and the OFA from key aspects of derivatives regulations could also be extended to Crown Agents, as prescribed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council ("Prescribed Crown Agents"). Currently, the OFA is working to designate OEFC, OILC, and Metrolinx to be Prescribed Crown Agents by summer 2017. The OSA amendments also included exemptions for the Province, the OFA and Prescribed Crown Agents from any registration requirements or requirements to provide disclosure documents in connection with derivatives trading.

Notes:

(1) Total number of blackout days due to government release and regulatory filings: 36 business days.

(2) The Province has a number of programs under which bonds may be issued from time to time and, therefore, require continuous ongoing disclosure. This disclosure must be kept up to date as long as the program is active and any bond issue remains outstanding.

(3) There were 40 regulatory filings submitted in 2016.

- The Province was required to lodge its Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts and Form 18-K with the ASX's Company Announcements Office and publish the documents on www.asx.com.au. There were 4 such filings in 2016. The requirement to make future filings ceased upon the expiry of the Province's listed Australian dollar debt on November 30, 2016.

- Although the Province as a local/regional authority of an OECD Member is not required to communicate its annual accounts to the LuxSE under the Rules and Regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, the LuxSE advised that the Province may communicate its accounts to the LuxSE (listings). There was 1 such filing. Additionally, the LuxSE advised that publication in Luxembourg is not necessarily required since the information is available to interested investors on the SEC website.

- In accordance with the UKLA Disclosure and Transparency Rules (DTRs), the Province publishes its most recent financial reports to comply with the continuing obligations that apply to the Province with primary listings of debt securities on the London Stock Exchange's Main Market. There were 5 such filings.

- With each global issue and in accordance with SEC requirements, the Province files a Preliminary Prospectus Supplement, a Free Writing Prospectus and a Final Prospectus Supplement. Additional information, such as the Fiscal Agency Agreement, Underwriting Agreement, Opinion and Schedule of Expenses, is also filed on a Form 18-K/A. There were 16 such filings related to the issuance of 4 Global Bonds, and there were 5 such filings related to the Province's Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, and Form 18-K.

- The Province also files the Prospectus Supplement and all related documents for each new Global Bond issue with the Luxembourg Stock Exchange for the listing on its official list and admission to trading on the Euro MTF market. There were 4 such filings related to the issuance of 4 Global Bonds.

- In addition to the bond issues, the Offering Circular and associated documents incorporated by reference for the Province's Programme for the Issuance of Debt Instruments 2016 were filed with the LuxSE. The Province also filed a Pricing Supplement for 1 new EMTN issue with the programme.

- The Province has to provide SIX with the path to its Public Accounts each time when they are published on the website so that SIX can publish the Public Accounts on its own website.

- The Province must provide the SGX with its annual report and all documents annexed thereto as soon as it is issued via e-mail for publication on SGX's website.

- The Province's Luxembourg paying agent, transfer agent and listing agent for the LuxSE has delivered the Province's audited accounts to the LuxSE relating to Global Bond Series HS that the Province has listed on the LuxSE.

(4) The Province conducts scheduled "Due Diligence" conference calls 2-3 times per year and prior to the pricing and closing of a Global Bond and U.S. MTN issuance. If a call related to an issuance is to be held shortly after a scheduled Due Diligence conference call, an abridged Due Diligence conference call or "Bring-down" Due Diligence conference call will be held.

APPENDIX 4 - ANALYSIS OF INTEREST RATES AND YIELD CURVES

The following observations are made from the historical interest rate charts on the following pages:

i Short-term (i.e., the Bank of Canada rate) is trading below its historical average over the last 20 years by approximately 1.2 standard deviations.

ii Province of Ontario bond yields in the 2-year, 10-year and 30-year tenors are all trading well below their historical averages over the last 20 years by approximately 1.3, 1.5 and 1.4 standard deviations, respectively.

iii The Ontario 30-year bond yield is currently trading roughly 236 basis points above the Ontario 2-year bond yield. This represents approximately 0.5 standard deviations above the 20 year historical average spread. The 10 to 30-year Ontario yield curve is positive by approximately 77 basis points which is 1.3 standard deviations above the 20-year historical average.

Historically low long-term yields combined with an upward sloping yield curve suggests that the Province should continue to take advantage of low long-term fixed borrowing rates while looking for opportunities to increase floating rate exposure.

APPENDIX 5 – INTEREST RATE SCENARIOS AND FLOATING RATE EXPOSURE STRATEGIES

<tr><th colspan="2">Interest Rate Scenarios and Floating Rate Exposure Strategies</th></tr>
<tr><td>1. Historically Low Long-term Rates and Upward Sloping Yield Curve

Raise long-term funds at attractive rates but also maintain or increase floating exposure moderately (by 0 to 1% of debt).

Interest cost savings may be achieved due to positive term spreads under these conditions. This is the condition that prevails today.</td><td>2. Historically High Long-term Rates and Upward Sloping Yield Curve

Increase floating rate exposure (by 5 to 10% of debt).

This condition is similar to the mid-1980s when both short and long rates fell as a result of falling inflation after tightening by the Bank of Canada in early 1980s.</td></tr>
<tr><td>3. Historically Low Long-term Rates and Flat or Downward Sloping Yield Curve

Maintain or decrease floating rate exposure (by 0 to 1% of debt) until conditions allow for cost savings to be realized through an increase in floating rate exposure.

There is virtually no cost advantage but high risk in adding more floating rate exposure.</td><td>4. Historically High Long Rates and Flat or Downward Sloping Yield Curve

Increase floating rate exposure moderately (by 2 to 4% of debt).

This condition is similar to the conditions which prevailed in the early 1980s and early 1990s. A gradual increase in floating exposure would have resulted in significant interest cost savings with a substantial decline in short rates restoring a normal yield curve in the mid-1980s.</td></tr>
<tr><td colspan="2">As of Feb 10, 2017, the 10-year Ontario rate was 2.56%. This is roughly 1.5 standard deviations below the average of 4.44% for the past 20 years.

As of Feb 10, 2017, the yield curve from 3-month banker’s acceptance rates to Ontario 10-year rates was positively sloped by roughly 161 basis points, which is slightly below the average over the last 10 years.

Note: The above are not intended to be exhaustive, and chosen strategies may depend upon market conditions and other circumstances.</td></tr>

APPENDIX 6 - ONTARIO AND OEFC DEBT PORTFOLIOS

The projected debt portfolio characteristics for Ontario and OEFC based on the recommended borrowing programs are summarized in the tables below.

ONTARIO
DEBT PORTFOLIO CHARACTERISTICS

DEBT PORTFOLIO[1] as of	YEARS		EXPOSURE Expressed as a % of total debt
	Duration[2]	Term[2]	Net Floating[3]	Gross Floating	Interest Rate Resetting
March 31, 2017: Estimate	9.7	11.2	6.8%	12.6%	11.0%
March 31, 2018: Minimum[4]	8.9	10.2	10.0%	15.4%	14.9%
March 31, 2018: Target[5]	9.2	10.6	8.0%	13.4%	12.9%
March 31, 2018: Maximum[6]	9.6	11.2	6.0%	11.4%	10.9%

[1]Based on estimated debt outstanding as at Mar. 31, 2017 of $317.5 billion and $325.3 billion as at Mar 31, 2018, which includes the OEFC debt-for-equity swap in the amount of $7.763 million.
[2]Duration and Term calculations do not include debt-for-equity swap.
[3]Assumes $18.6 billion in liquid reserves as at March 31, 2017 and $18.6 billion March 31, 2018.
[4]Assumes $50.2 billion in gross floating rate debt and the minimum term of 6.5 years for new borrowing.
[5]Assumes $43.7 billion in gross floating rate debt and 10.6 years (i.e., middle of the range) for new borrowing.
[6]Assumes $37.2 billion in gross floating rate debt and the maximum term of 14.7 years for new borrowing.

APPENDIX 7 - FOREIGN EXCHANGE ANALYSIS

A. CURRENCY VALUATIONS ANALYSIS

Ten Year Trading Range

Ten-year historical currency charts are provided in Attachment 1 to this Appendix.

These charts illustrate that the Canadian dollar appreciated against the USD, JPY, EUR, CHF and GBP over the last fiscal year. Three of the policy currencies are currently stronger than their historical 10-year averages against the Canadian dollar.

Currency Forecasts

One-year currency forecasts are provided for each of the policy currencies in the following table. The consensus outlook is for the Canadian dollar to appreciate against the JPY, CHF, and GBP, while depreciating against the USD and EUR over the next year.

Interest Rate Differentials

Interest rate differentials between the Canadian dollar and the policy currencies are summarized below. Global floating rates have trended lower in JPY, EUR and GBP but higher in CAD, USD and CHF. Fixed rates have trended higher in CAD, USD and JPY and lower in CHF and GBP with the EUR largely unchanged year over year. The table highlights that the JPY, EUR, CHF and GBP currently offer significantly lower fixed borrowing rates compared with the Province's domestic funding cost. Significant interest savings can be achieved in JPY and CHF as Ontario's ten-year borrowing cost in these currencies is currently 202 and 251 basis points lower, respectively. The EUR and GBP ten-year rates also offer attractive borrowing costs that are 151 and 81 basis points lower than the domestic rate.

Differential vs CAD	---	0.50	(2.02)	(1.51)	(2.51)	(0.81)
* CDOR is used for CAD

The accumulated interest rate savings provide a cushion against an unexpected appreciation in the foreign currency versus the Canadian dollar. The extent of this cushion depends on the magnitude of the interest rate differential and the tenor of the debt issue, and is generally quantified through the calculation of currency break-even rates.

Break-Even FX Rates

Break-even rates are provided in the following table on a once-and-for-all basis (i.e., where the foreign currency moves to the break-even rate immediately and stays there until debt maturity), and on a straight-line basis (i.e., a steady movement of the foreign currency to the break-even rate by the debt maturity date). Using a hypothetical Yen issue, the Japanese Yen would have to appreciate above CAD 0.014401 per JPY (69.44 JPY per CAD) on a once-and-for-all basis or above CAD 0.014472 per JPY (69.10 JPY per CAD) on a straight-line basis before the cost of a ten-year unhedged JPY debt issue would exceed an equivalent CAD borrowing.

10-YEAR CURRENCY BREAK-EVEN RATES
ITEM	USD	JPY	EUR	CHF	GBP
CAD/ Unit of Foreign Currency Feb 28 -17	1.3285	0.01184 (84.43)	1.4070	1.3254	1.6490
10-yr historical average	1.1059	0.011247 [88.91]	1.4341	1.1156	1.7730
Once-and-for-all change	1.2725	0.014401 [69.44]	1.6230	1.7014	1.7756
Straight-line change	1.2645	0.014472 [69.10]	1.6340	1.7010	1.7865

B. SENSITIVITY ANALYSIS AND RISK ASSESSMENT

The more volatile a currency, the greater the risk of debt interest variability. Volatilities for each policy currency are summarized in the following table on a one-year and ten-year historical basis. These results show that the JPY and EUR have been the most volatile currencies over the past year and EUR and CHF the most volatile over the past ten years. USD and GBP have been the least volatile overall.

CURRENCY VOLATILITY
VOLATILITY	USD	JPY	EUR	CHF	GBP
Over past year (%)	8.93	12.77	14.80	8.82	8.85
Over past 10 years (%)	10.43	11.25	16.09	14.35	10.36

The sensitivity of IOD to exchange rate volatility is presented in the following table against two widely used statistical measures: a 1 standard deviation, and a 99% confidence level. The results are based on a hypothetical 1% notional exposure for each policy currency (i.e., $3.157 billion). Debt interest impacts have been calculated on both a ten-year amortized basis and on a mark-to-market basis. Under current public sector accounting principles, foreign exchange gains and losses are deferred and amortized over the remaining life of the related debt.

DEBT INTEREST SENSITIVITY PER 1% FOREIGN CURRENCY EXPOSURE INCREASE/(DECREASE) IN IOD IN CAD MILLIONS

Amortized Impact (yr 1)	101	34	72	(14)	50
Amortized Impact (subsequent yrs)	85	98	119	65	76
Mark-to-Market Impact	691	878	1,049	568	635
Note: Current year debt interest includes the impact of the coupon differential against Canada: i.e., cost/(saving) in CAD million=> USD:15.8 ; JPY: (63.7); EUR: (47.7); CHF (79.2); GBP: (25.6). Future year over year debt interest impact will differ from the economic impact to the extent that coupon savings are included in base debt interest.

The results for CHF have normalized since the 2015-2016 debt plan as the one year volatility for this currency is now roughly half that of the years prior to 2015. All currencies are once again in a fairly narrow range with respect to their impact on IOD. The results favour the USD, CHF and GBP on an amortized (after 1 year) basis and on a mark to market basis, due to their lower volatilities.

Although the results do show a relatively small risk to current IOD on an amortized basis, as the debt moves closer to maturity and the amortization period becomes shorter, the volatility transmitted to IOD will become much greater. In fact, during the maturity year, the amortized results will equal the mark-to-market impact.

The following table shows the sensitivity of IOD to existing foreign exchange principal exposure assuming a once-and-for-all move from spot to the one year forecast, the one standard deviation, and the 99% confidence level.

SENSITIVITY OF IOD TO CURRENT FOREIGN CURRENCY PRINCIPAL EXPOSURE INCREASE/(DECREASE) IN IOD IN CAD MILLIONS
ITEM	0.075% JPY	0.17% CHF	TOTAL

Amortized Impact	22.5	36.7	59.2
Mark-to-Market Impact	71.1	111.3	182.4

The 1 year forecast sensitivity of IOD has increased slightly after moderating for the past few years, trending towards levels seen prior to 2015, when extreme volatility in CHF impacted IOD sensitivity. The 1 standard deviation and 99 percent confidence level of CHF IOD sensitivity is roughly half that of the previous year, while JPY levels are roughly unchanged for 1 standard deviation and higher at the 99% confidence level.

ATTACHMENT 1 – FX Historical Charts

In the following historical foreign exchange rate charts, the vertical axis represents the Canadian dollar price of one foreign exchange currency unit. This means that the foreign currency strengthens when the point in the curve goes up the scale and weakens when the point goes down the scale. The solid horizontal line represents the 10-year average, while the dotted lines represent 1 standard deviation. The two break-even points are also shown on the charts.

APPENDIX 12 - ENERGY MARKET ANALYSIS

NUG SUPPLY

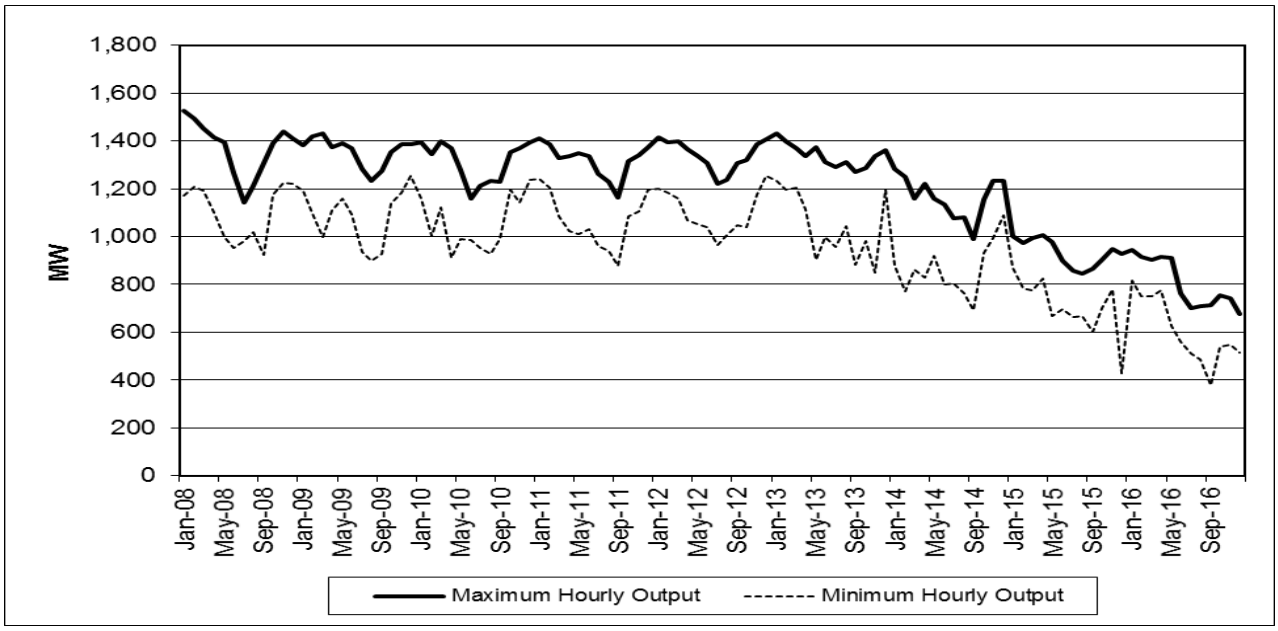
Hourly Data for 2016	Min Hourly Output (MW)	Max Hourly Output (MW)	Mean Hourly Output (MW)
All Hours	138	943	653
Peak Hours	378	943	736
Off-Peak Hours	138	903	585

	Min (MW)	Max (MW)
95% Confidence Interval for All Hours	248	943

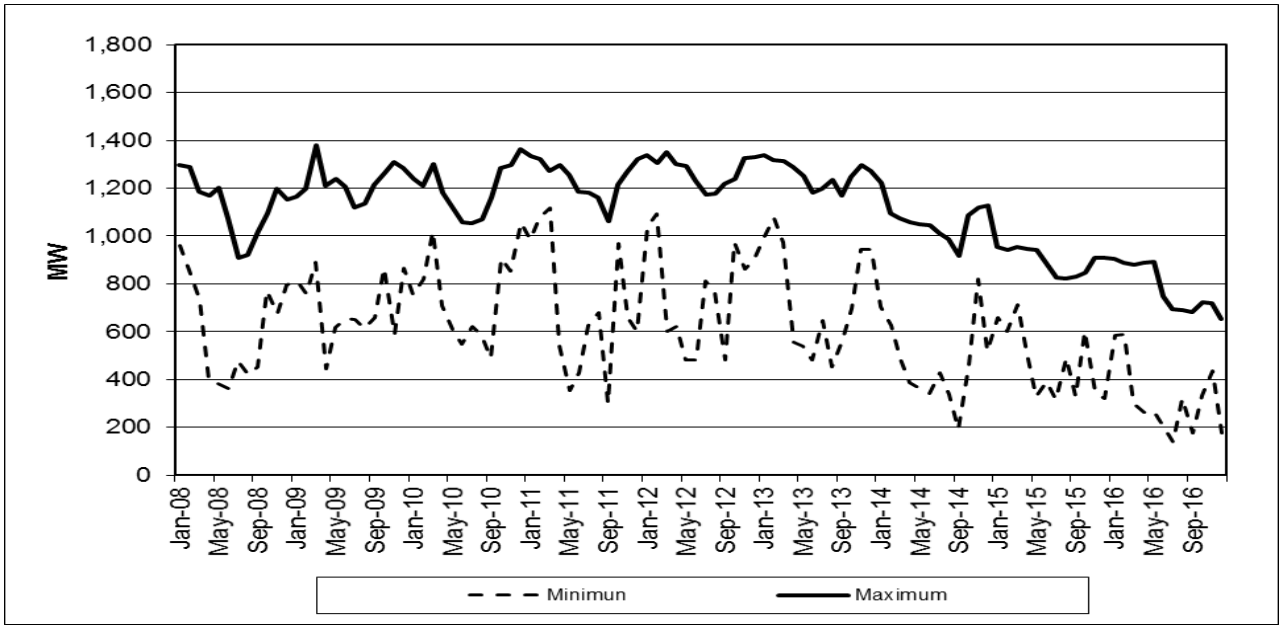
The NUG PPAs are long term fixed price contracts for electricity and are thus not influenced by the market price for power. With the existence of surplus baseload generation events over the past few years, OEFC has been working with the IESO to assist in reducing NUG output during off-peak periods when SBG is the highest. From April 1, 2016 to December 31, 2017, total cost-savings through curtailments were $13.5 million

As of February 1, 2017, there is a total of 471 MWs in NUG capacity, 63% from natural gas, 24% from hydro and 13% from heat and wood waste sources. Of the 298 MWs in gas-fired capacity, two contracts with NUGs have been suspended. Iroquios Falls (126 MWs in capacity) has been suspended until April 2017 and Nipigon (32 MWs in capacity) has been suspended until October 2018. During 2017, OEFC will continue to implement curtailments, both contractual and paid, to reduce NUG supply during off-peak periods.

Low and High Hourly Output during Peak Hours



Low and High Output During Off Peak Hours



APPENDIX 13 - PERFORMANCE MEASURES

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA FOR AOFA AND XOFA POSITIONS (Transactional Staff - Funding)
1. MERIT CRITERIA
Evaluation of each employee's performance conducted by the person responsible for evaluating the performance of the employee, based on the achievement by the employee of commitments contained in a pre-existing individual performance contract for the employee for 2016-17 including consideration of skills and competencies as well as ethical and professional behavior and compliance with applicable policies in the performance of the employee's commitments. These commitments will include performance of the OFA Investor Relations Plan, as applicable for employees who are active in supporting this plan.
2. PERFORMANCE PAY CRITERIA
a. Team-Based Component - 65% (for directors) and 70% (for others) of performance pay
i)	Timing of Regular Borrowing (65% of team-based component)	Percentile Rank: Ranking of the Province's cost of long-term regular borrowing for the year within the distribution of the daily benchmark cost of funds observed during the year. Issues are grouped by term, and the percentile ranks are weighted by the amount of borrowing done at each term to determine a weighted average percentile rank. The target range for 2016-17 is 45 to 55 percentile, unchanged from last year. Regular borrowing consists of domestic issues and small foreign issues. It excludes Strategic Foreign Borrowing having a defined large size that varies by market. US issues of USD 1 billion or more are deemed to be Strategic. The long term borrowing costs do not include the cost of carry.
ii)	Timing of Strategic Borrowing (10% of team-based component)	Percentile Rank: A ranking similar to the above, capturing the cost of Strategic Foreign Borrowing only. The target range for 2016-17 is 50 to 75 percentile, unchanged from last year.
iii)	Program Execution (20% of team-based component)	An assessment of • The appropriateness of the size of debt issues to keep the program ahead of pace without detracting from the ability to execute future issues; • The appropriateness of the selection of term and market to ensure the market remains receptive to further issues and to manage the maturity schedule; and • Completion of the borrowing program on a timely basis; and • Whether the Province's borrowing for the year falls within the appropriate term range set out in the Financing, Electricity and Debt Management Plan for the year ("Range"). This assessment will include consideration of the reason for any deviations from the Range.

iv)	Investment Return (5% of team-based component)	Actual return for the year on the Province's short-term investment portfolio as compared to the weighted average of four market indices. The weighted average is computed to provide a composite index having approximately a 61-day average term. The target range for 2016-17 is an investment return of-2 to +2 basis points relative to the benchmark, unchanged from the previous year. The following types of investment will be measured: (i) instruments directly issued or guaranteed by the Government of Canada (ii) Canada Mortgage Bonds issued by Canada Housing Trust, (iii) Province of Ontario debt together with (iv) internal and external repos of the foregoing measured investments. Currency exchange contracts may be used to convert eligible short term investments denominated in a foreign currency to Canadian dollars. Interest rate swaps may also be used, provided a CSA agreement with the counterparty is also in place, to reduce credit risk.
b. Individual Component - 35% (for directors) and 30% (for others) of performance pay
An evaluation by the CEO in consultation with the Executive Director, Capital Markets, of the contribution of the individual to the above results (timing of borrowing, debt management, investment return, program execution) in the areas in which the individual has responsibility.

PLAN SUMMARY

The OFA's Investor Relations (IR) group supports Ontario's funding program by developing and executing the Province's investor relations strategy, comprised of two components – marketing and communications, and call program activities. Both components target current and prospective fixed-income investors to inform them of the Province's economic and fiscal policies and outlook, borrowing program (i.e., size, progress, types of issuance) and credit ratings.

In 2016–17, IR call program activities focused on targeting new and existing investors in North America, Europe and Asia. As at March 31, 2017 the Province will have held meetings with 143 investors, compared to 135 in 2015–16 and an average 77 meetings a year from 2009–10 to 2014–15. This was the highest number of meetings in a year since IR benchmarking began in 2009. In 2017–18, IR will continue to meet with domestic and international investors, with roadshows planned for North America, Europe, Latin America (LATAM) and Asia.

The proposed call program will remain flexible to changes in the political landscape and market conditions which may affect the amount of time devoted to IR activities.

2016–17 YEAR IN REVIEW

Marketing and Communications

OFA Website

The OFA website is one of the most important tools IR has to market and communicate the Province's economic, fiscal and borrowing status to current and prospective investors. IR continues to receive positive feedback regarding the OFA website from dealers who indicated that the website is best-in-class compared to other provincial issuers.

A website section that received significant attention in 2016–17 was Green Bonds. Throughout the year, the Green Bonds section was updated with multiple materials, including the OFA's second Green Bond newsletter, updated project information, an updated Green Bond presentation and a case study following the launch of Ontario's third Green Bond in February 2017.

As of December 31, 2016, there were 363 subscribers on the OFA e-mail alert list. The website's e-mail subscription service is promoted in IR products and the CEO's Corner. Individuals representing investment dealers and institutional investors comprised the largest group of subscribers, followed by private individuals. Individuals representing various public sector organizations, credit rating agencies and financial media also subscribe.

Most visitors to the OFA website were from North America. The Homepage section has become the most viewed part of the OFA website followed by the Bond Issues Database, Green Bonds and the Borrowing Program sections. The CEO's Corner, Green Bonds (FAQ, Presentation and Framework), Bond Profiles, Investor Fact Sheet, IR Presentation, Schedule of Debt and OFA Annual Report comprise the list of most downloaded materials.

Below is a summary of OFA website statistics for calendar year 2016:

* Total number of Sessions within the date range. A session is the period time a user is actively engaged with the website. All usage data (Screen Views, Events, etc.) is associated with a session. As soon as one session ends, there is then an opportunity to start a new session. A session ends after the visitor either closes the browser, is inactive for 30 minutes or after midnight.

 Users that have had at least one session within the selected date range. Includes both new and returning users.

 Pageviews is the total number of pages viewed. Repeated views of a single page are counted.

Information Products

The IR Presentation continued to evolve as investors' information needs changed amidst topical concerns. For 2016–17, the presentation emphasized the liquidity and performance of Ontario's Bonds, and Ontario's lower borrowing requirements over the medium term. The Presentation received positive feedback from dealers and investors for its content.

IR continued to produce quarterly Investor Fact Sheets. IR also continued publishing bond profiles ("One-Pagers") on the OFA website to highlight large international and Green Bond issues. IR contributed substantively to the development and coordination of the Ministry of Finance's quarterly finances (e.g., Budget and Fall Economic Outlook and Fiscal Review) by ensuring these communication materials aligned to the government's messages while meeting the information needs of the fixed-income community. Additionally, IR produced a second Green Bond newsletter reporting on the Province's Green Bond program.

Media Relations and Conferences

Gadi Mayman presented at the BMO 12th Annual Government Finance Conference in Toronto. Members of the OFA's technical team participated at the 2016 RBC Green Bond conference in Toronto, the Bloomberg Canadian Fixed Income Conference in New York, the Environmental Finance: Green Bonds America 2016 Conference also in New York, the Euromoney Global Borrowers and Bond Investors Forum, the Responsible Investors 2016 Conference and the Environmental Finance: Green Bonds Europe 2016 in London, U.K., as well as the HSBC 11th Annual AAA Issuer and Investor Summit 2016 in Vienna.

In addition, Environmental Finance profiled Ontario's Green Bond program in January 2017. The OFA also put together a case study showcasing Ontario's Green Bond program for a publication coordinated by SEB. Most recently, Mike Manning attended the G7 Financial Centres for Green and Sustainable Finance program in Milan.

2016–17 Call Program

In 2016–17, the OFA had a record number of meetings with domestic and international investors (see "2016–17 Investor Meetings" in the Appendix for a complete list). Similar to recent years, the pace of call program activity remained robust. The OFA met with a variety of investors, including asset managers, banks and pension plans, interested in the relative safety and liquidity of Ontario bonds. In addition to regular roadshows, IR conducted Green Bond roadshows in Western Canada, Montreal, Toronto and New York. For the Canadian Green Bond roadshows, the OFA included senior staff from the Ministry of Environment and Climate Change to provide enhanced information on the Province's environmental policies and initiatives.

Roadshows and meetings were held in North America, Europe and Asia, aimed primarily at maintaining relationships with new and existing investors. This included two Ministerial-led trips to New York City and Europe (London and Paris). The Province's technical team travelled to the U.S., Europe, Asia, Western Canada and Montreal. CEO's IR activities included investor meetings in Toronto, presentations to the salesforces of Ontario's domestic syndicate, a presentation at the 2016 BMO Capital Markets 12th Annual Government Finance Conference in Toronto, as well as a presentation at TD's Central Bank Luncheon in the fall.

As at February 28, 2017, the Province held 143 investor meetings (See "Benchmarking" below for additional information).

Please refer to the table below for highlights of investor relations call program activities held during the year, and the Appendix for a full list of the investors with whom the Province met:

As at March 31, 2017, the total amount budgeted for IR activities in 2016–17 was $160,500.00, which included travel, as well as shipping, printing and translation services. Actual travel-related expenses amounted to $40,471.50, while the actual cost of printing, shipping and translation was $10,173.86. Accordingly, total expenses amounted to $50,645.36, which was $109,854.64 below the initial budgeted amount.

Minister's Events

In April 2016, the Minister, Chief of Staff, Deputy Minister, and the CEO of the OFA travelled to London and Paris to meet with fixed income and direct investors to promote Ontario's bonds, as well as investment in the Province. The Minister, Chief of Staff, Deputy Minister and CEO of the OFA also travelled to New York City to meet with some of Ontario's largest investors. The Minister also met with Ontario's syndicate in the fall.

Benchmarking

As of March 31, 2017 the Province will have held meetings with 143 investors, compared to 135 in 2015–16 and an average of 77 meetings a year from 2009–10 to 2014–15. This would be the highest number of meetings in a year since IR benchmarking began in 2009.

2017–18 PLAN

Introduction

Ontario's long-term borrowing is forecast to be $23.3 billion for 2017–18 and $28.7 billion for 2018–19, as of the Province's Third Quarter Finances. As borrowing requirements are expected to remain sizeable over the medium term, IR will continue to monitor global financial market conditions and be flexible to ensure roadshows remain viable for both the Province and its investors.

To maintain and expand the existing investor base, the focus for 2017–18 will be on technical team roadshows in North America (Canada and the U.S.), as well as roadshows to Europe, LATAM and Asia. The OFA will attempt to take advantage of opportunities where several investors meet at one location. Examples include the BMO Government Finance Conference where investors attend from around the world. Roadshows will be led by a senior member of the Province's funding team and a senior economist or a fiscal representative. Technical team initiatives will be transaction-focused to support the borrowing program. IR will also look for opportunities to meet with investors interested in the Province's Green Bond program. IR will continue to produce communication products to keep investors and other members of the global financial community apprised of Green Bond developments and issuances as necessary, and further adapt its outreach efforts to Green Bond investors to meet the needs of this new program.

Finally, IR will continue to provide investor information products, investigate opportunities to ensure investor information expectations are met, and work to increase the Province's visibility in the capital markets.

Marketing and Communications

OFA Website

IR will continue to look at how to increase on the volume of visitors to the website.

Information Products

The IR Presentation will continue to be message-driven in 2017–18, and remain current and consistent with economic and fiscal developments, borrowing climate and audience needs (e.g., domestic versus international). Borrowing messaging will focus on strategy, performance, and liquidity.

Based on feedback from investors and the fixed income community, IR products will continue to evolve to ensure investors' needs are met. Products will continue to highlight specific attributes of bond transactions, inaugural issues, and general borrowing program commentary. Products will be uploaded onto the OFA website simultaneously with an e-mail sent to subscribers alerting them of the posting.

Media Relations

IR will continue to investigate opportunities to participate in media publications' roundtables or other media events (e.g. Euromoney, International Financing Review, EuroWeek, Bloomberg, Thomson/Reuters, Institutional Investor, and KangaNews). These indirect marketing options provide an effective way to supplement roadshows.

Calls could be led by the CEO or funding managers, and focus on the attributes of new bond issues.

Exposure has also been received through tombstone ads published by underwriters following bond issues or announcements. Accordingly, IR will continue to encourage dealers to include Ontario in their advertisements.

Green Bonds

IR maintained an active participation in the Green bond program. In January 2017, the Province of Ontario successfully priced its third Global Canadian Dollar (CAD) Green Bond for $800 million. In preparation for the issue, IR updated the Green Bonds section of the website with new project information and a presentation for a net roadshow, as well as a case study following pricing of the bond.

In December 2016, as a follow up to the province's second Green Bond, IR published its second annual Green Bond Newsletter to the OFA's website. These products proved to be popular with investors and those seeking more information on Green Bonds. IR also coordinated the communications strategy with Ministry of Finance.

2017–18 Proposed Call Program

Canada

The Province will continue to meet with domestic investors in Toronto, Western Canada and Montreal. In April, we will present at RBC's Green Bond conference in Toronto. Post-Budget, we will present at BMO's Government Finance Conferences in both Montreal and Toronto. The Province will also present at TD's Central Bank event in Toronto in the fall. The Minister will meet with Ontario's domestic syndicate in the fall.

U.S.

Roadshows are planned to the U.S. to continue to support USD Global issuance. U.S. investor participation in U.S. Globals since 2002 has averaged about 45 per cent. The fiscal year will start with a Ministerial roadshow to New York. We anticipate visiting New York for a Green Conference in the fall, as well as potentially participating in Bloomberg's Canadian Fixed Income conference in September. Later in the year, we will cover the mid-west with two potential roadshows to Minneapolis, and Ohio and Michigan.

It should be noted that the current uncertainty in the political landscape may hinder the ability to complete all proposed roadshows.

Summary of U.S. Priorities:

1. Minister's trip to New York City
2. Bloomberg Canadian Fixed Income Conference – New York
3. Environmental Finance Green Bonds Americas Conference
4. Technical team trip to Minneapolis

5. Technical team trip to Ohio and Michigan

Asia

Investors from Asia continue to represent an important market for Ontario bond investors. A technical roadshow to Seoul and Tokyo to meet with key investors in the region is being considered. The trip will allow for technical meetings with major investors, and those not previously met in 2016.

Alternatively, a trip to Beijing, Hong Kong, Kuala Lumpur and Jakarta is also under consideration. While we've visited investors in Beijing and Hong Kong previously, it would be the first time meeting with investors in Kuala Lumpur and Jakarta. Of note, Bank Indonesia bought $400 million of the 5-year USD 2.5 billion we issued in February 2017.

Europe

Europe remains a target market for the OFA. Based on meetings in 2016–17, and recent purchase data, European investors continue to show significant demand for Ontario bonds. The Annual Plan includes a Minister-led trip planned to London and Frankfurt, and a technical roadshow to Amsterdam, The Hague, Paris, Geneva and Zurich. In June, we plan on attending a number of conferences ahead of the Euromoney conference in London, one is a one-day event organized by TD, and the other is a Green conference organized by Environmental Finance.

LATAM

The Province will attend a conference in Panama targeting central banks, sovereign wealth funds, public institutions and pension funds from the LATAM region. This would be the Province's first technical roadshow to the region and will be an efficient venue to meet several LATAM investors rather than travelling to individual countries.

Benchmarking

Benchmarks will continue to be used to track the success of IR's initiatives. Specific objectives are defined in this annual plan and will be measured against actual results throughout the year.

Three key benchmarks will continue be used, as described below. These benchmarks will be assessed at the end of the year, and consideration will be given to adding new benchmarks if appropriate.

Targeting New Investors

Performance is measured by the number of new investors met throughout the year. IR also measures the number of new investors in each target investor type (e.g., asset manager, central bank) and tracks bond purchases after meetings, however, this is not included as a benchmark given the number of variables investors consider in purchasing securities. As in the past, IR will track investor feedback from meetings, including purchase activity influenced by the meetings.

IR will continue to produce distribution statistics based on investment reports received from dealers for Global bonds and Green Bonds. These statistics are used to track investor purchases, and to determine priorities in the annual IR plan.

Effectiveness of Communications

To benchmark IR's success in providing the type and frequency of information investors desire when deciding to purchase Ontario bonds, feedback from dealers will be solicited regularly and after roadshows, as in previous years. Messages, supporting materials and the website will be assessed against research undertaken to determine investor information preferences.

Website Usage

Benchmarks on website usage will continue to be used in 2017–18. Privacy constraints limit the ability to measure who is accessing the website and what information is being viewed. Specifically, IR will aim to increase the overall amount of traffic year-over-year, and the number of subscribers. Other data being tracked include traffic following significant events (e.g., Budget) and posting of new information (e.g., CEO's Corner video) to identify the most popular products on the website. IR will seek to increase the subscriber base by continuing to promote the service on IR materials and by offering new services through the website to drive traffic. IR will also more actively promote the e-mail alert service in investor meetings by explicitly asking people to subscribe.

APPENDIX 15 - 2017-18 PROCUREMENT PROCESS FOR UNDERWRITING SERVICES

Selection of Underwriters

Domestic Syndicate:

There is a three-stage process involving (i) identification of appropriate dealers; (ii) annual evaluation of identified dealers to determine the percentage allocation of commissions as between them; and (iii) selection of appropriate dealers for each transaction.

(i) Identification:

- Syndicate selected using independent statistical information published by the Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada (IIROC) to identify dealers who are the major traders in Ontario bonds based on volume (volume levels must be in the multi-billions of dollars).

(ii) Evaluation:

- The OFA conducts an annual review of the dealers in the domestic syndicate using fifteen quantitative and qualitative scoring categories;
- The scoring of each dealer relative to the syndicate group is used to allocate commissions for the following fiscal year.

(iii) Allocation of Transactions

- During the fiscal year, dealers from the syndicate are selected for the individual bond issues based on factors relevant at the time including performance on previous issues, investor demand and orders dealer recommendations for issuance, including term and new issue spreads. In addition, transactions are allocated so that the total commissions paid to each dealer for issues over the course of the year corresponds to its allocation as determined by the results of the annual evaluation scores.
- The OFA reserves the right to reduce or eliminate use of a dealer in-year, based on performance or unsuitable conduct.
- Green bonds will use the domestic syndicate for domestic issues but will use a separate domestic dealer selection process. For the first three Ontario green bond issues, syndicate selection was based on a scoring system based on deal structure, marketing plans and other factors.

Commissions:

- There is a standardized commission schedule for syndicated domestic provincial bond issues used by all provinces in Canada. The OFA will continue to use its influence to reduce the standardized commissions where in its opinion this can be done without compromising service and cooperation.
- Commissions will be tracked on a continuous basis throughout the year and independently verified by OFA staff to ensure that they are correct and consistent with the commission allocations determined at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Domestic Non-syndicated:

- For non-syndicated transactions the OFA contacts some or all members of the domestic syndicate to gauge market interest.
- The dealers respond with offers and the OFA selects the transactions it wants based on the best terms and pricing offered, up to the volume required. The OFA has no obligation to accept an offer. It evaluates each offer on its merits based on its terms, costs, market conditions and borrowing requirements.

Reverse Inquiry/Unsolicited:

- Investor approaches the Province on a confidential basis through a dealer (generally a reverse inquiry deal is a Canadian deal done by a member of the domestic syndicate).
- The OFA has no obligation to accept any offer. It evaluates each offer on its merits based on its terms, costs, market conditions and borrowing requirements. It may also negotiate improved terms.

International Market Transactions:

- International dealers are selected from the major international and domestic firms that have capability in the target market and capacity for the volumes required.
- International dealer selection is based on information obtained from the dealers and from independent data including: strength of dealer sales force and ability to place Ontario bonds with end investors; mitigation of credit risk; cost-effective swap capability; and a successful track record on similar bond issues.
- Consideration is given to dealers with a proven distribution capacity and a platform in the prospective market.
- Availability of attractive swap terms is also assessed as part of the selection process.
- Competitive pricing is a key criterion.
- There is no standardized commission schedule for international transactions.
- The OFA will benchmark commissions against the lowest commission structure used by comparable borrowers in the relevant international markets, so only the lowest available commission is paid.

Approvals:

- The underwriting services procurement framework is approved annually in the Financing, Debt & Electricity Management Plan.
- Approvals for individual deals is obtained in accordance with trading limits established by the OFA which designate approval levels based on the value of the issue and its term.
- Increasing levels of authority are required for approval as the size of the bond issue increases.
- Director level approval is required for any transaction valued at above $750 Million.

In-Year Changes:

In the event of a significant change in the OFA's procurement process described above for underwriting services, OFA management will report back to the OFA Board.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

There are two major changes to this year's Plan. An increase in liquid reserves of $6 billion is planned for 2017-18 to meet the cash requirements associated with the large benchmark debt maturities commencing in 2019-20. A target of being approximately one quarter ahead of pace in the borrowing program is also planned, with a limit for pre-borrowing up to one half of the 2018-19 borrowing requirements once the 2017-18 borrowing program has been completed. These features of the Plan are covered in items 7 and 8 of the Executive Summary below.

1. As outlined in the review of 2016-17 [Section I - YEAR IN REVIEW: 2016-17, pages 9-12], $27.0 billion of long-term borrowing was completed in 2016-17 which includes pre-borrowing of $3.2 billion for 2017-18. This is down from $32.1 billion borrowed the previous year. 74% was completed in domestic markets, and all borrowing, investing and debt management activities were consistent with the 2016-17 Financing, Debt & Electricity Management Plan.

2. Based on the 2016 Ontario Economic Outlook and Fiscal Review (FES), the estimated 2017-18 long-term public borrowing requirement for Ontario and OEFC is $23.3 billion. The major components of the requirement are debt maturities and redemptions of $17.6 billion, and investment in capital assets of $12.4 billion, partially offset by $6.1 billion in non-cash adjustments, the majority of which is amortization. There will likely be some changes to the borrowing requirement once the 2017 Budget has been completed. For example, a planned increase in liquid reserves of $6.0 billion will use the pre-borrowing completed in 2016-17 and additional borrowing in 2017-18. In addition, recent announcements about reducing the size of the electricity global adjustment could also put upward pressure on funding requirements in future years. Relevant updates to recommendations made in this Plan will be reported back to the OFA and OEFC Boards at the following regularly scheduled Board meetings. [Section II – Borrowing Requirements (Ontario and OEFC), pages 13-17]

3. The expectation for fiscal stimulus and rising inflation in the United States has pushed long-term interest rates higher in recent months. According to private-sector forecasts, both short-term and long-term interest rates are expected to rise through 2017-18. The yield on 3-month government of Canada treasury bills is expected to increase slightly from 0.54% as of March 31, 2017 to 0.60% by the end of 2017-18. The 10-year government of Canada bond yield is expected to increase from 1.73% as of Mar 31, 2017 to 2.20% over the same period. The Canadian dollar is forecast to remain weak and depreciate slightly from 75.2 cents U.S. as of March 31, 2017 to 74.5 cents U.S. by the end of the fiscal year[5]. Interest rate risk remains high, and there will be upward pressure on interest costs in 2017-18 if interest rates increase more than currently forecast. Costs can be reduced by issuing more floating rate or shorter dated debt, although this will increase interest rate risk in future years. [Appendix 2 – Economic Outlook and Risks, pages 80-81]

4. The 2017-18 borrowing program is the smallest since 2007-08, and reflects the impact of lower deficits and term extension of the borrowing program over the past 7 years. This lower borrowing requirement provides the capacity for the planned increase in liquid reserves in advance of the large benchmark debt maturities starting in 2019-20. The borrowing programs will remain relatively large going forward due to the rollover of increasing levels of debt and planned investments in capital assets. Given the substantial size of future borrowing programs, a multi-year approach will be used to provide direction on appropriate term structure.

   Diversification of borrowing will be required to complete the program, and the Province will strive to stay approximately one quarter ahead of pace in borrowing to provide flexibility for times when market access will be curtailed. This includes market disruptions as well as other more predictable events such as Ontario quarterly financial updates.

   The OFA has a preference for domestic funding over international funding due to its greater cost-effectiveness, normally longer duration, relative ease of execution, and reduced swap counterparty credit exposure and accounting risk going forward. Given these factors, the OFA will strive to complete approximately 75% of the borrowing program in the domestic market. This would correspond to $17.5 billion of domestic borrowing which is below the record $31.4 billion in domestic funding achieved in 2014-15. International funding, which is usually more costly, enables the OFA to access other markets when demand in the domestic market is curtailed. [Section III (A) – Long Term Borrowing Program, pages 18-36]

5. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for a range of 6.5 to 14.7 years for the average term of Ontario new borrowing for 2017-18, and approval is requested for exceeding the high end of the range if this can be achieved cost-effectively within existing policy parameters. Last year's approved range was 6.4 to 15.1 years, with the same approval to exceed the top end of the range. The preference will be to get closer to the top of the range given historically low interest rates and a desire to reduce refinancing risk in future years. The recommended range reflects estimated investor demand and a constraint in the maximum size of future borrowing programs to reduce refinancing risks in the future. We will report back to the Board if it appears that the average term will fall outside the approved range by the end of the year. It is estimated the overall term of outstanding debt for the Province will range between 10.2 and 11.2 years on March 31, 2018 (11.2 years currently). [Section III (A)(2) – Term Structure, pages 19-26]

6. OEFC BOARD APPROVAL - Approval is requested for OEFC to borrow in 2017-18 for amounts and tenors similar to the loans advanced to OPG. No new borrowing is projected for OEFC in 2017-18 related to operational requirements, however, OEFC is projected to borrow in 2017-18 to fund new loans to OPG. OEFC typically funds new loans to OPG by issuing debt of a similar tenor for asset/liability management purposes.

OEFC is forecast to have a cash surplus of $2.5 billion on March 31, 2017, and $3.3 billion on March 31, 2018, primarily due to the proceeds related to the broadening of ownership of Hydro One. Cash balances are invested with the Province to meet OEFC's upcoming cash requirements, including maturing long-term debt. Maturing long-term debt totals $2.1 billion in 2017-18, $0.7 billion in 2018-19, and $1.4 billion in 2019-20. The cash surplus plus other payments from the Province will be used to reduce OEFC's debt.

OEFC is currently in the process of amending the existing credit facility for OPG to extend the term of the credit facility to December 31, 2018, and to allow OPG to borrow up to $1.5 billion in 2017 and $850 million in 2018. OPG has also requested the ability to borrow up to terms of 30 years for the duration of the credit facility. It is expected that OPG will utilize the credit facility fully which would result in OEFC borrowing up to $1.55 billion for fiscal 2017-18, and $600 million in 2018-19 if the amendments become finalized. OPG is expected to utilize 30-year borrowing for this requirement.

It is estimated the overall term of outstanding debt for OEFC will be 9.9 years on March 31, 2018 (7.9 years currently). [Section II Borrowing Requirements (Ontario and OEFC), pages 15-17]

7. Liquid reserves in conjunction with short-term borrowing are used to manage liquidity risk, although the pace of long-term borrowing will also have a major impact on the level of liquid reserves throughout the year. Higher levels of liquid reserves have been maintained in recent years given the combination of large borrowing programs, higher debt levels and the implementation of collateralized swaps. The credit rating agencies also place a high value on liquidity levels in determining their credit ratings. For 2017-18, a minimum liquid reserve threshold will be maintained throughout the year to ensure sufficient cash is available to meet requirements. This threshold will be calculated as the net cash outflow within a rolling one-month time horizon, plus a provision for potential CSA collateral requirements. Liquid reserves are projected to remain above the minimum threshold in 2017-18 assuming even-paced long term borrowing. If the borrowing program was to fall three-months behind pace, liquid reserves could be as low as $13.4 billion. If the borrowing program was to get three months ahead of pace, liquid reserves could be as high as $29.6 billion.

   The maturity of larger benchmark debt issues is an important consideration in overall liquidity management. Coming out of the financial crisis, the Province began a strategy of creating large, liquid 10- and 30-year benchmark domestic bond issues in 2009-10 in response to investor demand. This strategy has been very successful and continues to lower Ontario's borrowing costs and enhance the Province's access to capital. Starting in 2019-20, the maturity of these larger benchmark debt issues on June 2nd each year in combination with the large semi-annual June 2nd coupon payment will shift a larger proportion of annual cash requirements to the first quarter of the fiscal year. As a result, a higher level of liquid reserves will need to be maintained early in the fiscal year to cover these cash outflows. Lower borrowing requirements in 2017-18 provide an opportunity to start building up reserves this year. We plan to increase liquid reserves by $6 billion in 2017-18, and where possible, buy back some of the larger debt maturities starting in June 2019, or purchase other government securities of similar maturities to smooth the maturity and cash flow profile. We will strive to reduce any carrying costs related to the increase in liquid reserves by minimizing any term mismatch on borrowings and related buy-backs or investments, and by issuing additional floating rate debt as required. Debt issued specifically for this purpose may be reported separately from the regular borrowing program for average term calculation purposes. Overall, the potential cost of higher liquid reserves is largely offset by higher levels of floating rate debt. [Section III (D) –Liquidity Risk Management, pages 41-54]

8. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – In response to the relatively high potential for reduced market access relating to the 2018 Ontario election which must be held by June 7, 2018, and the risks associated with a likely restructuring of the North America Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) and an elevated Canadian housing market, a target of getting one quarter ahead of pace in the borrowing program is recommended, and approval is requested to be able to pre-borrow up to one half of the 2018-19 borrowing requirements once the 2017-18 borrowing program has been completed. [Section III (A)/ (3) (a) – Overview, pages 27-28]

9. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested to provide for up to $5.2 billion of international strategic financing for the 2017-18 borrowing program, and the objective will be to minimize both the amount and cost of strategic financing. Strategic financing is measured as a component of the fixed rate borrowing benchmark, and excludes core foreign exchange and floating rate borrowing. Strategic financing of $3.2 billion was completed last year. [Section III(A)(3)(b) - Strategic Financing, pages 29-30]

10. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for the Investor Relations (IR) Annual Plan for 2017-18. In 2017-18, IR will continue to meet with domestic and international investors, with roadshows planned for North America, Europe, Latin America (LATAM) and Asia. [Appendix 14 – Investor Relations Annual Plan 2017-18, pages 124-147]

11. Ontario Infrastructure and Lands Corporation (OILC) provides loans for infrastructure development to the broader public sector. In 2015-16, OILC started borrowing directly from the Province through a long-term credit facility on the same general terms as the loans it makes to its clients. A total of 143 loans were made in 2016-17 with total notional of approximately $826.9 million. For 2017-18, it is projected there will be approximately 100 loans executed for total notional of approximately $600 million. This new process relieves OILC from having to hedge its borrowing in the swap market. While the Province's borrowing requirement increases in order to fund OILC's loans, net debt remains unchanged since any increase in the Province's borrowing is offset by loans issued to OILC. [Section III (I) (3) – Other Financial Services, pages 72-74].

12. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for a range of 11.4% to 15.4% in Ontario's gross floating rate exposure for March 31, 2018. This is higher than last year's approved range of 10.4% to 14.4%. A target of 13.4% is planned, which would be an increase from estimated exposure of 12.6% on March 31, 2017. The higher range and increased exposure is recommended to manage potential carrying costs related to the planned increase in liquid reserves. Floating rate exposure may be increased further to reduce interest costs in 2017-18 if current market conditions were to change. [Section III (E) – Interest Rate Risk Management, pages 55-58]

13. OEFC BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for a range of 3.3% to 7.3% in OEFC's gross floating rate exposure for March 31, 2018, with a target of 5.3%. This is lower than last year's approved range of 4.9% to 8.9%, and estimated exposure of 7.8% on March 31, 2016. The reduction in gross floating rate exposure arises from the maturity of floating rate debt in 2017-18. [Section III (E) – Interest Rate Risk Management, pages 55-58]

14. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested for a range of 0.0% to 1.25% in foreign exchange exposure. This is slightly lower than last year's range of 0.0% to 2.5%. This range would allow for an increase in exposure from the current level of 0.2% through the issuance of unhedged foreign debt should attractive market or funding opportunities arise. It would also allow for the continued hedging of existing exposure maturing within three years for IOD management purposes if market conditions were considered appropriate. [Section III (F) – Foreign Exchange Risk Management, pages 59-61]

15. The Interest on Debt (IOD) forecast for 2017-18 is $11.7 billion based on the 2016 Ontario FES. There may be more risk to IOD this year given the potential for a greater than forecast increase in interest rates. For 2017-18, the impact of a one percentage point increase in interest rates is estimated to be an additional $350 million in interest costs for the Province. IOD will be closely monitored and reported to the Board on a regular basis. [Section III (G) – Interest on Debt Management, page 62]

16. Credit exposures will continue to be monitored on a daily basis and actively managed. Counterparty credit limits are based on the credit quality of each entity which is based on credit ratings, the regulatory capital base and credit quality assessments. Collateralized swap agreements (CSAs) have been signed with ten counterparties. These agreements reduce credit exposure through the mutual exchange of collateral between Ontario and its counterparties to offset changes in the market value of the related swaps. We will continue efforts to execute collateralized swap agreements where possible, although no new agreements are expected at this time. Derivative market reforms are expected to increase the Province's costs of derivative transactions due to the asymmetrical thresholds of our CSAs. The OFA plans to review the CSA thresholds this year and may consider moving to symmetrical thresholds if lower transaction costs and greater liquidity can be achieved. The trade-off would be the additional collateral the Province may potentially have to post if the thresholds were equal, which could be up to $2.5 billion in certain situations based on our current credit rating. [Section III (H) – Derivative Risk Management, pages 63-66]

17. The Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) extended the effective date of their financial instruments accounting standards issued in July 2011 from April 1, 2016 to April 1, 2019 at their meeting in June 2015. In October 2016, the OFA engaged the services of Deloitte Inc. to assist in assessing the fiscal and operational impact of PS 3450 and PS 2601 on the Province as well as engage with PSAB and other stakeholders with the aim of amending the standards to address the concerns of the Province and borrowing community. The Public Sector Accounting Board's new standard on Financial Instruments, if implemented in its current form, would have a major impact on the risk management activities of the Province. Hedging activities such as the use of foreign exchange forward contracts to hedge long term debt and rate setting transactions to manage the borrowing program would introduce significant volatility and unpredictability in the Province's interest costs (IOD), net debt, and deficit under the proposed standards. If adopted, the use of these types of risk management strategies would have to be re-evaluated in the context of IOD volatility. [Section V – Accounting Update, pages 76-77]

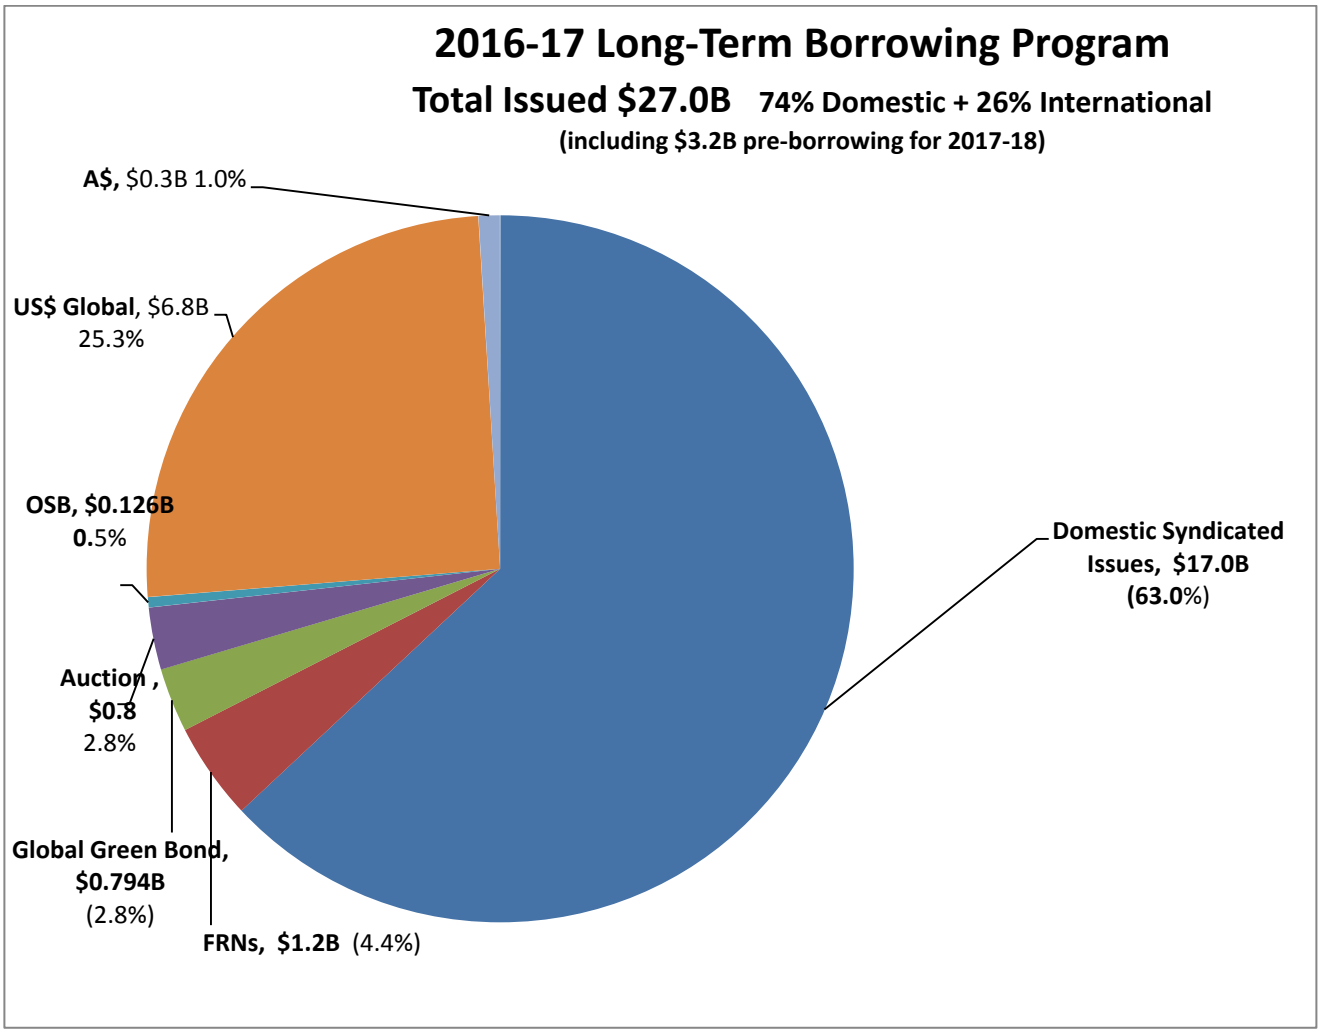
18. OEFC BOARD APPROVAL – Approval is requested to continue to enter into transactions related to the operational management of the NUG contracts that reduce costs of the NUG contracts for electricity ratepayers. [Section III (J) –Commodity Risk Management, page 75]

19. OFA BOARD APPROVAL – The procurement process established five years ago for underwriting services will be followed again this year. It is recommended that procurement for underwriting services be approved for 2017-18 and up to two quarters for 2018-19 based on the underwriting services procurement framework included in this Plan. [Appendix 15 – 2017-18 Procurement Process for Underwriting Services, pages 148-149]

I. YEAR IN REVIEW: 2016-17

Ontario and OEFC's borrowing, investment and debt management activities and program results for 2016-17 were consistent with the objectives approved in the 2016-17 Financing, Debt & Electricity Management Plan.

The long-term borrowing for last year was $27.0 billion which includes pre-borrowing of $3.2 billion for 2017-18.



- Strong demand for domestic bonds allowed approximately 74% domestic funding. As in previous years, syndicated issues accounted for a large majority (86%) of domestic funding and a high proportion (63%) of over-all borrowing.

Domestic Funding $19.9 billion

Issue Type	Tenor	# Issues	Amount Issued
Syndicated	5-year	2	$ 1,976M
Syndicated	10-year	9	$ 7,528M
Syndicated	30-year	11	$ 7,519M
Total Syndicated	5,10,30-year	22	$ 17,023M
Floating Rate Notes	5-year	1	$ 1,200M
Global Green Bond	6-year	1	$ 794M
Auction	3-year	1	$ 767M
Ontario Saving Bonds	3,5 & 10-year	4	$ 126M

- International funding accounted for approximately 26% of the borrowing program.

International Funding $7.1 billion

Issue Type	Tenor	# Issues	Local Currency	Amount Issued C$
US$ Global	10-year	1	US$ 1,000M	$ 1,263M
US$ Global	3-year	1	US$ 1,750M	$ 2,284M
US$ Global	5-year	1	US$ 2,500M	$ 3,286M
Total US$ Global	3,5,10-year	3	US$ 5,250M	$ 6,833M
Kangaroo	10-year	8	A$ 300M	$ 296M

- Last year's base case economic forecast was for 3-month Canada treasury bill yields to increase slightly to 0.57% by the end of the fiscal year. 3-month Canada treasury bill yields were unchanged from March 31, 2016 at 0.54% on March 31, 2017. The forecast was for 10-year Canada bond yields to increase to 2.05% by March 31, 2017. 10-year Canada bond yields have actually increased from 1.23% on March 31, 2016 to 1.73% on March 31, 2017. 10-year Ontario rates increased from 2.30% to 2.49% over the same period and reflect a narrowing of the 10-year Ontario spread. Interim 2016-17 IOD is projected to be $11.4 billion, which is $0.4 billion lower than forecast in the 2016 Budget.

The 2016-17 program results for Ontario and OEFC are summarized in the following table:

Indicator	Approved in 2016-2017 Financing, Debt & Electricity Management Plan		Estimated Results March 31, 2017
	ONTARIO	OEFC	ONTARIO	OEFC
Gross Floating Rate Exposure	10.4% - 14.4% Target 12.4% (No Change)	4.9% - 8.9% Target 6.9% (Decrease)	12.6%	7.8%
Foreign Exchange Exposure	0.0% - 2.5%	0.0%	0.2%	0.0%
Average Term of New Borrowing	6.4 to 15.1+ Years[1]	No Borrowing Projected	13.9 Years[2]	No Borrowing
Pre-borrowing	Up to 1 Quarter of the 2017-2018 Requirements	Up to 1 Quarter of the 2017-2018 Requirements	$3.2 Bln[3]	None

1. Includes approval to exceed the high end of the range if it can be achieved cost-effectively within existing policy parameters.
2. Includes pre-borrowing of $3.2 billion. Excluding pre-borrowing the average term was 14.1 years.
3. As of March 31, 2017.

- Gross floating rate exposure for the Province was within the approved range at an estimated 12.6%, slightly above the target of 12.4%. Gross floating rate exposure for OEFC was also within the approved range at an estimated 7.8%, slightly above the target of 6.9%. The yield curve from 3-month interbank rates (CDOR) to Ontario 10-year rates steepened from 140 basis points on March 31, 2016 to 155 basis points on March 31, 2017. The 3-month interbank rate (CDOR) increased slightly from 0.90% on March 31, 2016 to 0.94% on March 31, 2017.

- Foreign exchange exposure for the Province was within the approved range at an estimated 0.2% on March 31, 2017. This is a decrease from 0.3% in the previous year and reflects the hedging of Yen 17.0 billion exposure (CAD$ 193 million) maturing June 8, 2020. Foreign exchange exposure for OEFC was maintained at 0% as planned.

- The average term of new borrowing was 13.9 years for Ontario (including pre-borrowing of $3.2 billion). Excluding pre-borrowing, the average term of new borrowing for Ontario was 14.1 years. Ontario's borrowing term was within the approved range. No borrowing was required for OEFC.

- Unrestricted liquid reserves (liquid reserves excluding net collateral received from derivative counterparties) decreased from $23.6 billion on March 31, 2016, to a projected $18.6 billion (excluding pre-borrowing for 2017-18) on March 31, 2017, based on the 2016 Ontario FES. Net collateral received from derivative counterparties was $2.1 billion on March 31, 2017, compared to $1.8 billion on March 31, 2016.

- Daily unrestricted liquid reserve levels for 2016-17 are provided in the following graph to March 31, 2017. Over this period, unrestricted liquid reserves averaged about $21.1 billion.

The average daily change in unrestricted liquid reserves was about $663 million, with a maximum daily change of approximately $4.6 billion occurring on February 8th due to the settlement proceeds of several bond issues. There were 59 days when the daily change in unrestricted liquid reserves exceeded $1 billion.

(April 1, 2016 - March 31, 2017)

	Amount ($ billion)	Date
Average	21.1	April 1, 2016 - March 31,2017
High	26.8	April 28, 2016
Low	15.1	December 15, 2016

- Total combined Ontario/OEFC short-term debt outstanding (i.e., Ontario treasury bills and U.S. commercial paper) is estimated at $21.8 billion on March 31, 2017, unchanged from March 31, 2016. The combined program authority for Ontario and OEFC treasury bill and U.S. commercial paper was $48.0 billion on March 31, 2017.

II. BORROWING REQUIREMENTS (ONTARIO AND OEFC)

Notes: Numbers may not add due to rounding. Based on the 2016 Ontario FES.

The 2017-18 long-term public borrowing program is the smallest since 2007-08. Based on the 2016 Ontario FES, the Province is projected to borrow $75.8 billion over the three-year period in the medium-term borrowing outlook, down from the $107.9 billion borrowed over the previous three-year period. This $32.1 billion decline in borrowing reflects the impact of lower deficits, pre-borrowing, term extension and the Province's asset optimization activities. Historical borrowing requirements as well as projected borrowing requirements for the next two years are provided in the chart and table below. The lower borrowing requirement in 2017-18 provides the opportunity to increase liquid reserves in advance of the larger benchmark debt maturities starting in 2019-20.

The Ontario borrowing program remains the largest of the Canadian provinces, and is approximately 30% of the total borrowing programs for all provinces combined. The borrowing requirements and financial risk exposures of the federal government and provinces are provided in Appendix 1.

OEFC's borrowing requirements are considered separately for operational cash requirements and for new loans to OPG. For 2017-18, no borrowing is projected for OEFC related to operations, as requirements can be met with cash balances on hand as well as cash generated from operations. OEFC is projected to have a cash surplus balance of approximately $2.5 billion on March 31, 2017, and $3.3 billion on March 31, 2018 based on the 2016 Ontario FES. These positive cash balances are primarily due to the cash proceeds related to the broadening of ownership of Hydro One. Cash balances are invested with the Province and are used to meet OEFC's upcoming cash requirements, which include maturing long-term debt. Maturing long-term debt totals $2.1 billion in 2017-18, $0.7 billion in 2018-19, and $1.4 billion in 2019-20.

OEFC generally funds new loans to OPG by issuing debt of a similar tenor for asset/liability management purposes. The existing credit facility with OPG, and a breakdown of OPG debt payable to OEFC are listed in the tables below.

OPG Credit Facility
Project	Amount Authorized	Total Borrowing to Date	Outstanding Commitment	Maturity Date of Loan Agreement
General Corporate (incl. Darlington Refurbishment)	$700 million	$200 million	$500 million	Dec. 31, 2017

OPG Debt Payable to OEFC
General Corporate Requirements (2007)	$500 million maturing 2017 ($500 million approved)
General Corporate (incl. Darlington Refurbishment) Requirements	$300 million maturing 2026 – 2047
Niagara Tunnel Project	$855 million maturing 2017 – 2023 ($1.6 billion approved, $1,065 million borrowed)
Portlands	$300 million maturing 2017 – 2019 ($400 million approved, $390 million borrowed)
Lac Seul	$30 million maturing 2017 and 2019 ($50 million approved, $50 million borrowed)
Debt Refinanced (2007-2011)	$1,460 million maturing 2016 - 2042
Total Debt Outstanding	$3,445 million

OEFC is currently in the process of amending the credit facility for OPG to extend the term of the facility to December 31, 2018, and to allow OPG to borrow up to $1.5 billion in 2017 and $850 million in 2018. OPG has also requested the ability to borrow up to tenors of 30 years for the term of the credit facility. It is expected that OPG will utilize the credit facility fully which would result in OEFC borrowing up to $1.55 billion for fiscal 2017-18, and $600 million in 2018-19. OPG is expected to borrow in the 30 year term during 2017 which would result in 30 year borrowing for OEFC. Since these particular OEFC borrowings are term matched to underlying OPG loans, they are excluded from the borrowing program performance for measurement purposes.

The detailed OEFC Borrowing Plan Forecast for 2017-18, 2018-19, and 2019-20 based on the 2016 Ontario FES is provided in the table below. These results do not reflect the planned amendments to the credit facility with OPG, as these amendments are not yet finalized.

In addition to providing financing to OPG, OEFC has provided financing to the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). Both the fixed term loan and the revolving credit facility with OEFC are expected to be extended for an additional 3 years, and IESO has indicated they will need additional financing. With the merger of the Ontario Power Authority and the IESO, IESO has also retained their original revolving credit facility with the OFA for up to $975 million.

The impact of these additional loans for OEFC from an asset/liability management perspective is also considered, and where necessary hedging strategies will be implemented to manage potential interest rate risk.

III. STRATEGY

The objective of the plan is to manage the borrowing, debt, investment and electricity management activities of the Province and OEFC in a prudent, timely, and cost-effective manner within approved policies and limits.

A. LONG-TERM BORROWING PROGRAM

Introduction

The 2017-18 borrowing program is estimated at $23.3 billion based on the 2016 Ontario FES. Market access has been generally good, but there were a few challenging periods in 2016-17 around Brexit and the U.S. election. In 2016-17 we experienced heightened competition for funding windows from other Provinces, most notably Quebec and Alberta. Alberta is expected to borrow $18.7B in 2017-18 and Quebec is expected to borrow heavily next year in order to prefund a heavy redemption calendar. Like Quebec, we also have a heavy redemption calendar in the first half of 2019. We plan to increase our prefunding while market conditions are favourable and interest rates remain at historically low levels. This year's program of $23.3B is manageable and we have scope to increase our funding. The quantitative easing (QE) actions by the ECB have forced core European investors to search for yield in non-euro denominated debt. Ontario may benefit from this but the expected incremental Canadian dollar demand is expected to be fairly modest. In late 2016 we saw an increase in demand for Canadian dollar denominated debt from Japanese investors. Demand for Canadian Provincial debt has been growing in Japan and this may prove to be a valuable new investor class for us. We expect that this demand will partially offset other large Asian investors who have been sellers of their Canadian dollar assets. Under normal conditions, regulatory blackouts for the Budget, quarterly updates and filings preclude international borrowing for up to a third of the year. In addition, geopolitical risk remains high, and capital market disruptions from events in Europe, the Middle East and Asia cannot be ruled out. In addition, the Ontario provincial election which must be held by June 7, 2018 has the potential to negatively impact market access.

Interest rates have bounced from the historical lows and there are expectations that we will see a rise in U.S. interest rates as U.S. economic growth picks up. Canadian rates are expected to rise gradually. Low interest rates with a general bias for rate increases reduce investor demand and make it more difficult to extend term.

Given market access concerns, it is recommended that the Province strive to remain one quarter ahead of pace in the borrowing program. We will attempt to accelerate the program in the second half of the year as we approach the 2018 election. This may involve borrowing in less than optimal market conditions at times and will also require diversification in our sources of funds. A sizable borrowing program in conjunction with reduced foreign issuance windows puts pressure on us to issue larger less frequent foreign bond issues even if arbitrage conditions are not optimal.

1) Market Background

- Quebec, Ontario, Alberta, Saskatchewan, BC were able to start pre-borrowing for 2017-18. Indications are that total provincial borrowings with the exception of Ontario will increase from previous years and will be concentrated between Ontario, Quebec and Alberta. Competition from our provincial counterparts for borrowing opportunities is expected to remain high as was seen last year with multiple domestic provincial bond issues often occurring on days when market tone was good and U.S. dollar provincial issues being priced in close succession when fully hedged U.S. borrowing costs became attractive.

- Ontario has been successful in extending term and reducing borrowing requirements in recent years, and Ontario's annual borrowing requirements are expected to be less than $30 billion for the next year, before it ramps up again as re-financing needs increase requirements. In addition, there is the potential for other factors such as OPG borrowing for nuclear refurbishment to increase borrowing requirements. Recent announcements about reducing the size of the Global Adjustment could also put upward pressure on our funding requirements.

- There are currently numerous geopolitical risks, including international conflicts and economic dislocations, which have the potential to disrupt Ontario's borrowing program at various times during 2017-18. Recent indications from the new U.S. administration surrounding trade and repeal of the Dodd Frank Act could also disrupt normal market activities.

- Ontario's international funding for 2016-17 included issues in the U.S. and Australian markets. Other foreign markets were either too expensive or had insufficient investor demand. It is expected that the U.S. market will be utilized for most of the 2017-18 international borrowing, and in order to complete the program it may be necessary to do a Euro issue even if arbitrage conditions are not optimal. Demand for Ontario euro denominated debt is expected to be very strong in 2017-18 which would allow us to expand our investor base. Swiss, Sterling, Yen and Australian markets will continue to be monitored for issuance opportunities.

2) Term Structure

The recommended term structure for the 2017-18 borrowing program has been developed using the following inputs and analysis:

1. estimates of investor demand for benchmark maturities;
2. an assessment of the maximum acceptable size of future annual borrowing programs;

3. an analysis of the size of future borrowing requirements under a range of different term structure scenarios for 2017-18 and future years;
4. a costing analysis for various scenarios; and
5. development of a recommended term structure for the 2017-18 borrowing program which reflects investor demand constraints, cost of borrowing considerations and which also manages and limits market access and refinancing risks in future years.

a. Debt Issuance Constraints

An estimate of the maximum potential borrowing for various maturities has been developed based on historical experience. This was done to provide an assessment of investor demand constraints for specific maturities and reflects an upper estimate of potential new borrowing for each tenor. The investor constraints are provided in the following table as well as the term structure of the 2016-17 borrowing program for comparison purposes.

Tenor of New Borrowing	Estimated Market Borrowing Constraints	2016-17 Borrowing Program* ($)	2016-17 Borrowing Program (%)
3-years	$14.0 billion	$ 3.1 billion	12
5-years	$16.5 billion	$ 6.5 billion	24
7-years	$ 6.0 billion	$ 0.8 billion	3
10-years	$16.0 billion	$ 9.1 billion	34
30-years	$10.0 billion	$ 7.5 billion	28

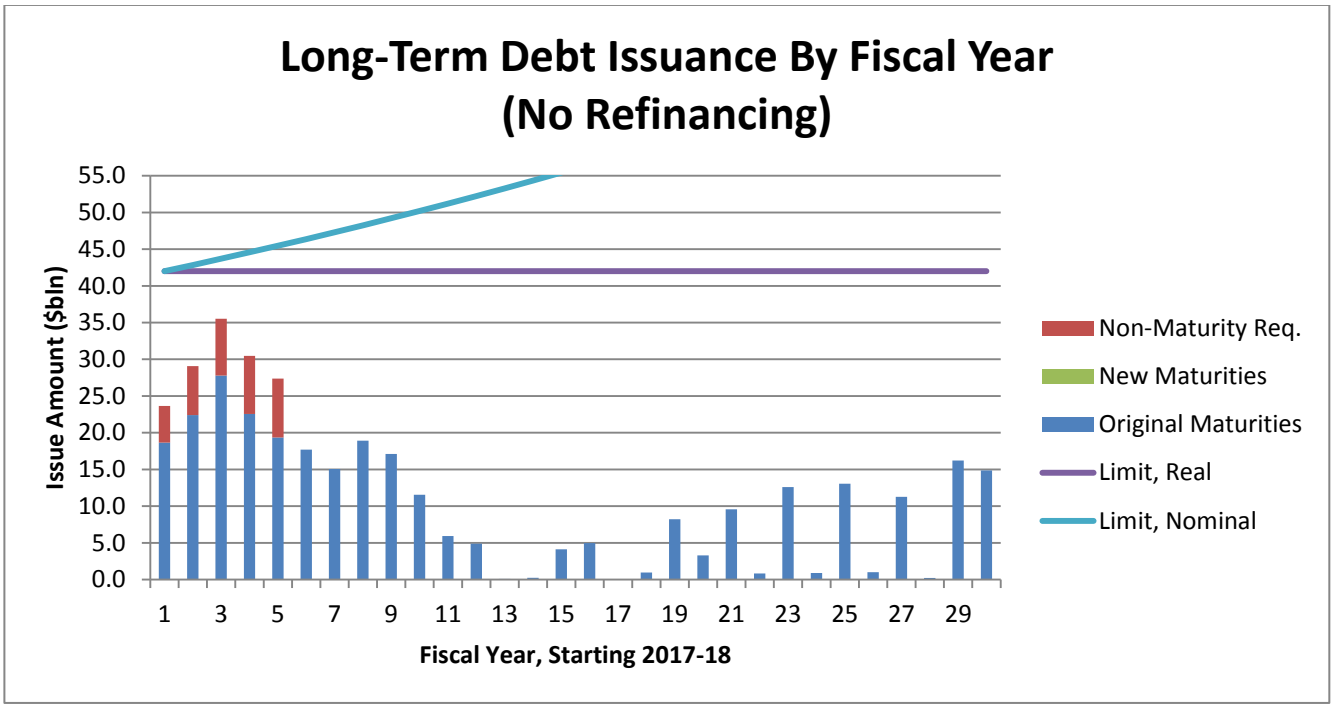
*as of March 23, 2017, excludes OSBs

The market constraints in the above table are estimates based on market experience, and are meant to be indicative rather than precise in nature.

Given the large borrowing requirements in recent years and the expectation that borrowing requirements will remain relatively high in future years as they decrease next year before increasing afterwards, the borrowing program for the current year cannot be developed in isolation of its impact on future years borrowing programs. In essence, term decisions for the current year create maturities and thus borrowing requirements in subsequent years which must be managed to limit refinancing risk in those later years. With this in mind, an annual borrowing limit of $42 billion is used as a guideline. It is slightly less than the 2009-10 borrowing program of $43.8 billion and reflects that there was historically high availability of funds in 2009-10 as the Province was able to approximately double its benchmark issue sizes in the U.S. and Euro bond markets and significantly increase them in the domestic market. This reflected an extreme flight to quality at the time of the financial crises and the positive perception of Canadian public sector borrowers in international markets. Market access was also exceptional in 2016-17, and we were able to borrow $27.0 billion. The $42 billion limit is prescriptive as it may be necessary to deviate from it if market conditions warrant. It is also recognized that the limit should increase over time and a 2% growth rate based on inflation is provided as well.

b. Borrowing Program Profile

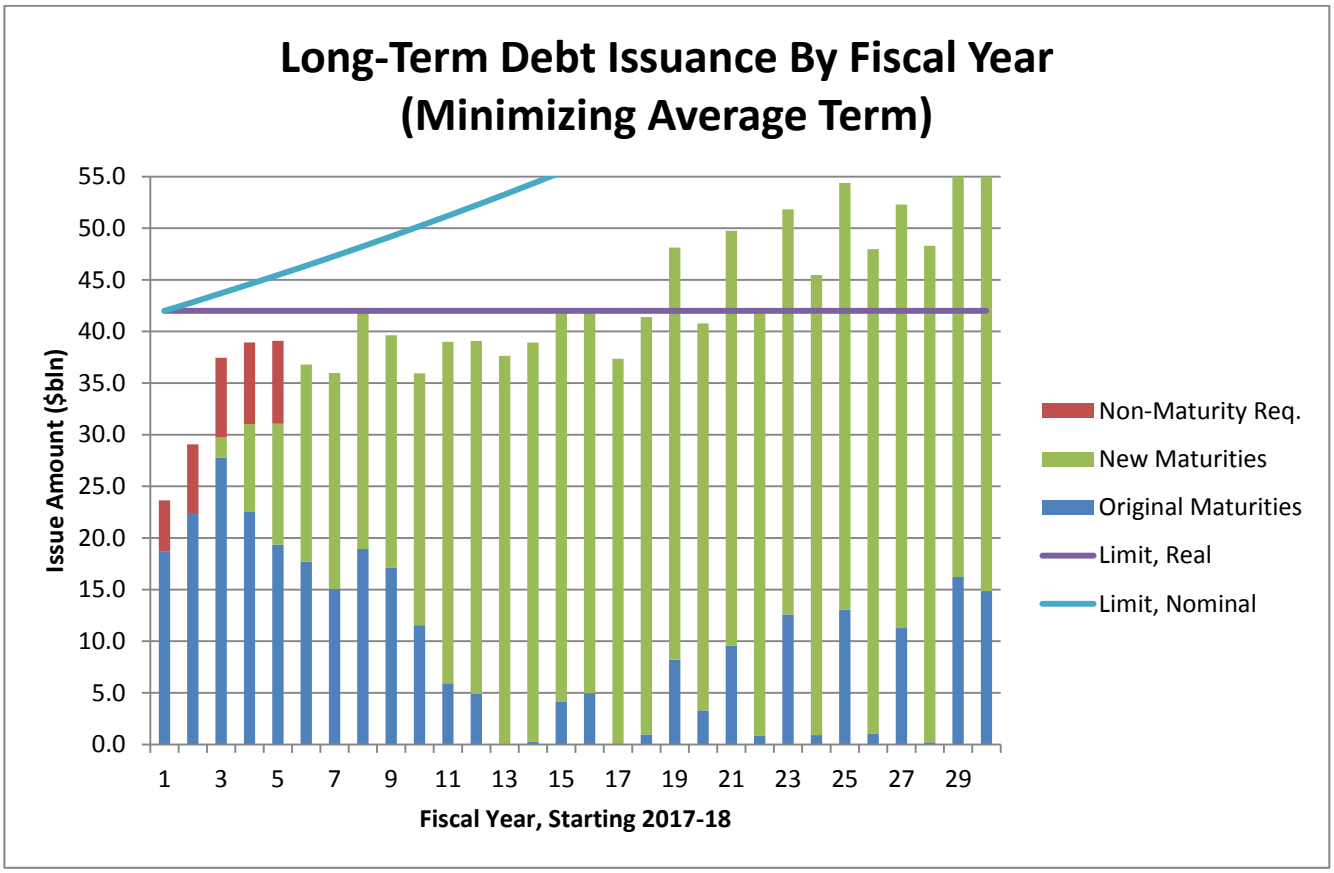
The debt maturity profile has always been an important consideration in managing the borrowing program. This remains the case, but it is now necessary to also focus on other requirements such as future deficits and capital expenditures to get a more comprehensive picture of future annual borrowing requirements. The estimated future borrowing requirements prior to any term structure decisions in 2017-18 and beyond are provided in the following graph, and thus this graph does not include the impact of the refinancing of future borrowing programs.



c. Borrowing Program Scenarios

A series of borrowing program scenarios have been created to assist in developing a borrowing strategy for 2017-18 and to provide guidance for future years. Scenarios have been developed to determine minimum and maximum average terms. The model operates in a similar manner as in last year's plan and develops minimum and maximum average terms based on the constraints.

The Minimum Average Term Scenario for 2017-18 still remains within the investor demand and $42 billion borrowing program constraints. It has an average term of 6.5 years for 2017-18 and thereafter and is illustrated in the following chart and table. It shows a relatively smooth borrowing profile over the next twenty years, with some spikes in borrowing above the $42 billion limit in later years but well below the limit on a nominal basis using a 2% inflation rate for the $42 billion limit.



The hypothetical borrowing scenarios for minimum average terms are provided in the following table with the model generating constant allocations.

Assumptions: We assume a constant new term allocations as shown below:

Term	3y	5y	7y	10y	30y

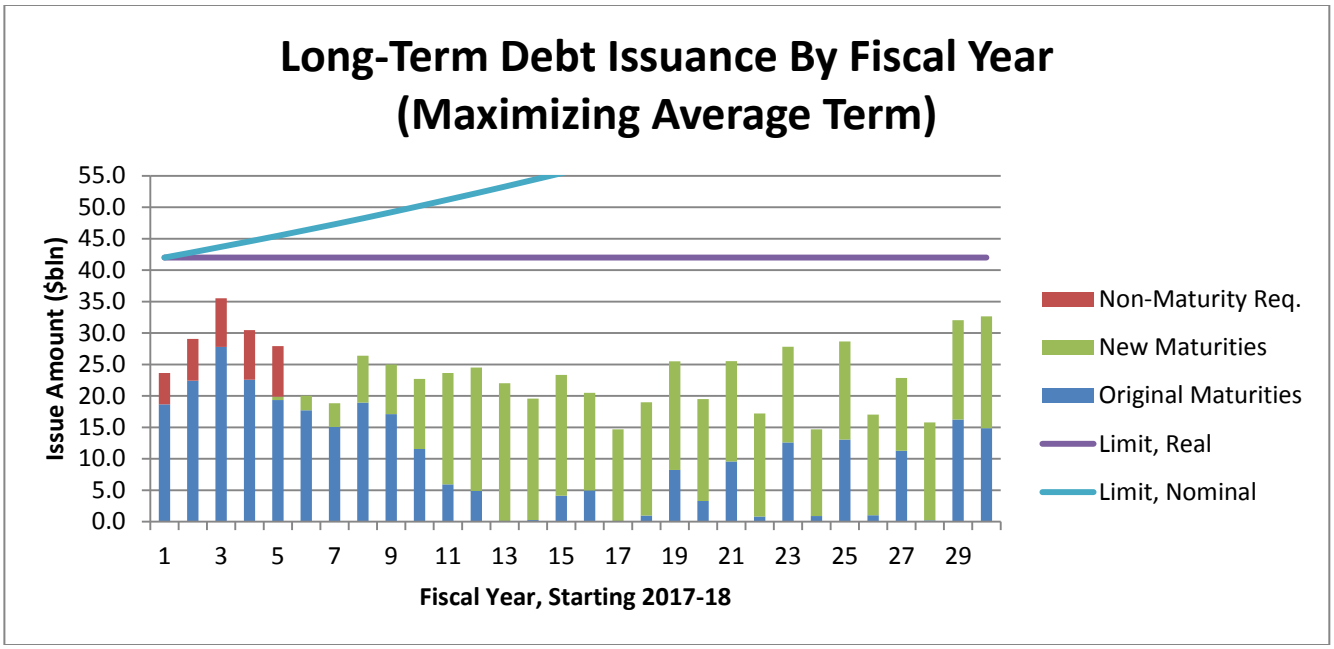
Average Term 6.5 Years

Another critical scenario is one which maximizes the average term of the 2017-18 borrowing program while still remaining within the constraints. As with the minimum average term, the model generated constant allocations. The assumptions are provided in the table below the following graph. It has an average term of 14.7 years.



Assumptions: We assume a constant new term allocations as shown below:

Term	3y	5y	7y	10y	30y
Allocation	0.0%	9.8%	16.8%	45.0%	24.4%

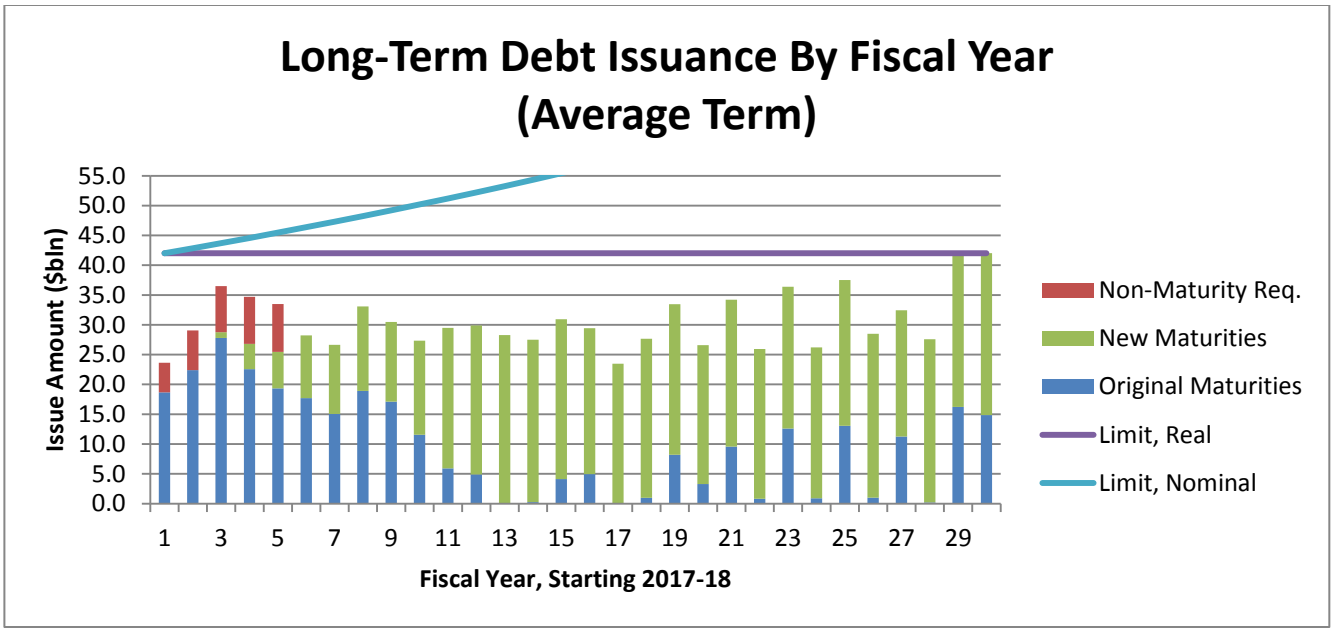
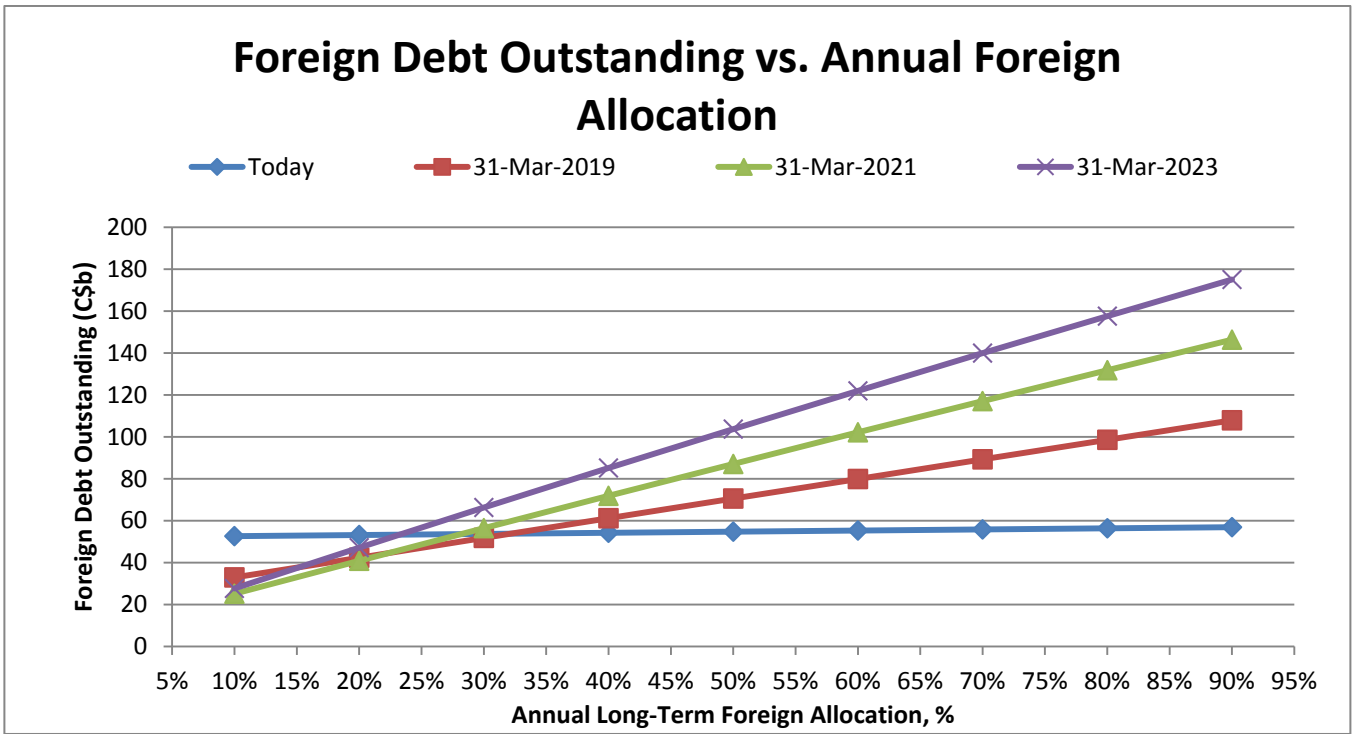
The Maximizing Average Term Scenario provides a cushion below the $42 billion limit for all future borrowing programs over the next 30 years.

An Average Term Scenario has also been developed which is derived from the midpoint of the Minimizing Average Term Scenario (6.5 years) and Maximizing Average Term Scenario (14.7 years), with an average term of 10.6 years. This scenario also has a cushion below the $42 billion limit for all borrowing programs over the next 30 years.



Another major consideration of the borrowing program is the domestic capacity issue and the potential for growing foreign debt outstanding. Foreign debt typically has a shorter maturity than domestic debt and thus creates more refinancing risk. The following graph illustrates how much foreign currency denominated debt could increase over time as the proportion of foreign debt is increased in future years. At a 25% foreign allocation, the amount for foreign debt is projected to remain at or below the current level over the next six years as new debt would essentially be replacing foreign debt maturities.

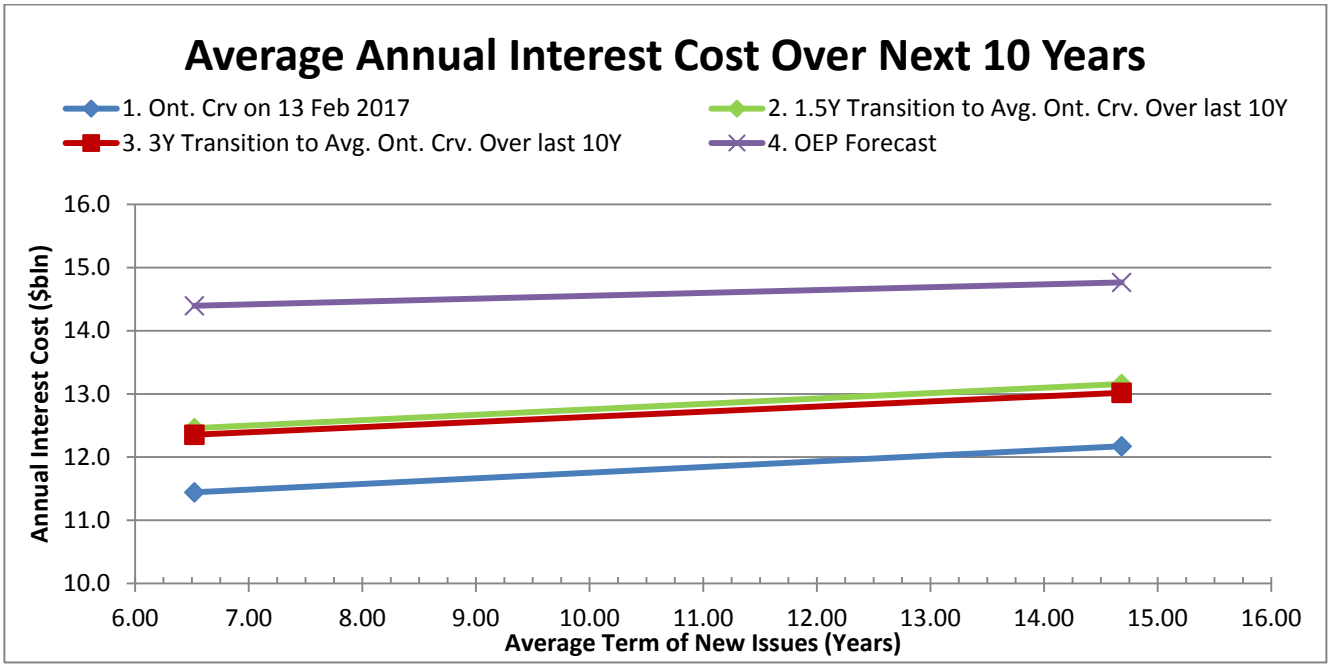


d. Costing Considerations

Future interest costs for new borrowing have been estimated over a ten year time horizon using four different scenarios under both minimum and maximum term borrowing assumptions. The results are provided in the following graph which shows average annual borrowing costs over the next ten years for new debt under the following four scenarios: 1) interest rates remain unchanged at current levels; 2) interest rates rise to the average levels experienced during the past ten years over a one and a half year time period; 3) interest rates increase to the ten year averages over a three year time period; and 4) interest rates rise as per the OEP consensus forecast. The interest rate averages for the four scenarios are provided in the following table.

Term (years)	Scenario 1- Current Rates (%)	Scenario 2- Rates rise to 10 year average over 1.5 years (%)	Scenario 3- Rates rise to 10 year average over 3.0 years (%)	Scenario 4- OEP (Consensus) Forecast (%)
3	1.35	1.96	1.91	3.51
5	1.75	2.45	2.40	3.96
7	2.17	2.91	2.85	4.30
10	2.60	3.38	3.32	4.63
30	3.33	3.95	3.90	5.06

Costs were determined for minimum term (i.e., 6.5 years) and maximum term (i.e., 14.7 years) borrowing programs for each scenario to isolate the impact of term selection.



The following can be concluded:

- Annual interest costs are extremely sensitive to the path of future interest rates as shown by the wide divergence in interest costs for each scenario. This high level of interest rate risk arises from the large volume of both refinancing and new debt to be issued in future years.
- The term selection of future borrowing using the long term range in average term from 6.5 to 14.7 years also has an impact on average annual interest costs, although the impact is much less than the impact of rising interest rates under the different scenarios.

e. Recommended Term Structure

- An average term of new borrowing from 6.5 to 14.7 years is recommended for the Province for 2017-18. The range reflects an assessment of debt issuance constraints and the need to smooth future annual borrowing requirements. Although there are minor cost savings associated with a shorter average term for new borrowing, the reduction in refinancing and market access risk from longer term financing is considered more important. A bias towards the upper end of the range is recommended, although this may be difficult to achieve if investors have a strong preference for shorter maturities. Cost pressures may also mitigate the ability to extend term. The term assumptions for the Province's range of borrowing for the 2017-18 borrowing program are provided below:

	Borrowing Amount ($billions)
Term (years)	Minimum Term	Mid-Point	Maximum Term
3	8.4	4.2	0.0
5	5.6	3.97	2.3
7	0.0	2.0	3.9
10	9.1	9.8	10.5
30	0.3	3.4	6.6
Total Amount	$23.3	$23.3	$23.3
Average Term(years)	6.5	10.6	14.7

- Given that interest rates are currently low by historical standards and there is a high degree of interest rate risk going forward, the Province should strive to remain ahead of pace in the borrowing program and pre-borrow for 2018-19 to the extent there are opportunities.

3) Long-Term Borrowing Plan

a) Overview

The 2017-18 long-term public borrowing program is forecast to be similar to last year's borrowing program (excluding pre-borrowing). There will be a high degree of competition for funds in both the international and domestic bond markets. In addition, markets are likely to remain volatile as credit and geopolitical events may occur. The main elements of the plan are as follows:

- Given the relatively high potential for market access disruptions, it is recommended that the Province attempt to remain ahead of pace in its borrowing program, acknowledging that this may not be possible due to longer than expected blackout periods or other factors. It is recommended that the Province target to be one quarter ahead of even pace.

- A primary goal will be to diversify the sources of financing to ensure ongoing access to bond markets. International diversification is required since the domestic market may be strained to cost-effectively accommodate the Province's annual borrowing needs and is also useful when receptivity for Ontario bonds in the domestic market is poor. Large foreign issues are almost always more costly than domestic issues but serve a useful purpose in relieving supply pressures in the domestic market to achieve lower interest costs than would otherwise occur. The major challenge will be balancing the need for foreign strategic financing against the goal of minimizing the additional cost associated with this type of financing. International financing is typically hedged back into Canadian dollars which increases the use of counterparty credit and can also increase the amount and volatility of collateral needed to fulfill collateralized swap agreement (CSA) requirements. Strategic financing is planned for the U.S. dollar market and may occur in the Euro although there could be issuance in other markets as well.

- The domestic market will remain the most important component of the program, with benchmark syndicated issues being the most important component by far. Domestic issues are almost always the most cost-effective and offer the major advantage of not requiring derivatives and incurring their associated credit charges and exposures. In addition, there are opportunities to diversify within the domestic market. For example, floating rate notes and medium term notes can be issued almost independently of syndicated bonds when opportunities arise. Given these advantages, we will continue to maximize the issuance of domestic bonds. We are targeting approximately 75 per cent borrowing in the domestic market for 2017-18. This compares to last year's domestic issuance which was approximately 74%.

- Given continued low long-term interest rates, costing and refinancing considerations, it is recommended that the average term of the borrowing be maximized to the extent possible within the approved range for 2017-18. This is consistent with greater use of the domestic market which offers more 30-year and longer financing opportunities relative to other markets. Interest rate risk remains elevated and the additional cost associated with extending term is small in comparison to costs incurred under interest rate normalization scenarios. Although we have been successful in extending term in recent years, we are largely dependent on the desired term structure of our investors and there may be some investor resistance and increased risk of poorly received transactions in extending term in 2017-18.

- Approval is requested to pre-borrow up to one half of the borrowing requirements for 2018-19 once the 2017-18 borrowing program has been completed. Although borrowing requirements are lower in 2017-18, there are still challenges in getting one quarter ahead of pace.

- Investor Relations (IR) is an important activity in both maintaining contact and dialogue with current investors and building relationships with new investors in existing or new markets. This is accomplished through the provision of targeted information products and call program activities. IR objectives for 2017-18 are detailed in the Investor Relations Annual Plan, contained in Appendix 14 of this report.

Green Bonds

On January 26, 2017, Ontario successfully priced its third Green Bond, with a global Canadian dollar bond issue of $800 million, our largest issue size yet. The six-year green bond was a re-opening of our January 2023 Global Green Bond first issued in 2016 and was available through Ontario's current dealer group and sold to investors in Canada, the United States, Europe and Asia. Approximately 1% of the issue was available to retail investors through Canadian financial institutions. The Province expects to continue to build on the current Green Bond program and issue again in fiscal 2017-18 potentially expanding into currencies other than the CAD, if the opportunity arises. As of January 2017, Ontario remained the only Canadian province to issue Green Bonds, with $2.05B currently outstanding. The following month, Quebec issued their inaugural Green Bond, $500 million, 5 year term, employing the same format as Ontario.

CICERO (Center for International Climate and Environmental Research – Oslo), an independent, not-for-profit research institute, provided a second opinion on Ontario's Green Bond framework, prior to launch of the program in 2014-15. This opinion applies to the program as a whole and remains in place as long as the Province continues to use its existing Green Bond framework.

An amount equal to the net proceeds of this second Green Bond was recorded in a designated account in the Province of Ontario financial records. This designated account is used to track the use and allocation of funds to Eligible Projects. So long as bonds are outstanding and the designated account has a positive balance, amounts will be deducted from the balance of the account as funds are allocated to Eligible Projects.

"Eligible Projects" means all projects, exclusive of fossil fuel and nuclear projects, funded by the Province of Ontario that have environmental benefits. A basket of twelve projects, from 3 different ministries, have been selected to receive funding from the Province's third Green Bond: The Eglinton Crosstown LRT, vivaNext BRT, Regional Express Rail, Finch West LRT, Hamilton LRT, Hurontario LRT, ErinoakKids Centre for Treatment and Development, St. Joseph's Healthcare – West 5th, St. Joseph's Healthcare – Parkwood, Waypoint Centre, CAMH and Woodstock General Hospital. This basket approach allows a level of flexibility of funding, should some of the chosen projects experience different spending patterns than those currently anticipated. These projects fall into either the clean transportation or energy efficiency and conservation categories of the green bond framework.

The identification of eligible green projects from across the Province is an ongoing challenge. This past year, the OFA with the assistance of the Deputy Minister of Finance, was able to compile a list of ministry and agency contacts who are designated as the Green Bond program leaders within their organizations. This contact list was helpful in streamlining communication and the identification of eligible projects and will be relied upon again in 2017-18.

An Annual Newsletter on the OFA website shows the allocation of funds from the Province's first two green bonds along with project updates/status reports for all of the eight chosen projects, along with performance indicators related to Green House Gas reduction and Water and Energy Efficiency and Conservation. The Auditor General of Ontario has provided an assurance audit to verify amounts allocated to the selected projects and the drawdown of Green Bond issue proceeds invested short-term as the projects progress. The second assurance audit was completed December 8, 2016. An Annual Newsletter and assurance audit for the Province's third Green Bond is expected to be completed and available in the last quarter of 2017-18.

b) Strategic Financing

The following factors must be considered when evaluating the use of strategic international funding for 2017-18:

- The 2017-18 borrowing program is estimated to be $23.3 billion, which is slightly smaller than last year's program but is still sizable. Borrowing requirements are also large when compared to other provinces and sub-national jurisdictions around the world.

- It is estimated that the Province will need to utilize international markets for about 25% of the 2017-18 borrowing program to avoid over-saturating the core domestic market and complete the program. This equates to international borrowing of approximately $5.8 billion, which compares to last year's international funding of $7.1 billion or 26% of the program.

- International borrowing windows are substantially reduced by the Province's regulatory requirements and updates (e.g., quarterly and annual updates of programs, filings of disclosure documents, 18-K filings, etc.). Based on the experience over the past three years, there are at least 36 business days every year when the Province cannot access international markets due to regulatory concerns and statutory holidays. Additionally, access is reduced due to statutory holidays in Asia/Europe/US, political events, financial/economic events and releases equating to up to a third of the year when the Province cannot access international markets.

- International borrowing is also affected by the competition for funds by other borrowers and the need for the Province to space out its strategic issues. Competing supply and lack of investor demand are major factors which rule out international borrowing on a continuous basis throughout the year. There is a limit on the ability of international bond markets to absorb foreign issues from the Province. The U.S. market can typically accommodate about four to six benchmark deals per year, and we are assuming one or two benchmark Euro issues and one U.K sterling issue for the fiscal year.

- There is a strong tendency for strategic international borrowing to be more costly than domestic funding. Arbitrage opportunities are extremely rare and tend to be limited more to smaller issues in currencies such as the Swiss franc, Norwegian Kroner and Australian dollar. In addition, the volatility in bond and derivatives markets is extremely high, and hedging a foreign currency back into Canadian dollars is much more difficult and costly to execute than in previous years. This is largely due to increased regulatory costs for the dealer community.

  For 2017-18, it is recommended that up to $5.2 billion be allowed for strategic international financing for performance measurement purposes. This is based on an estimate assuming 25% international borrowing on the portion of the borrowing program which is used for fixed rate setting and pacing purposes. It excludes borrowing for Ontario Savings Bonds, core floating and core foreign exchange which are excluded for performance measurement purposes. The upper limit for international strategic financing was $5.4 billion last year, and $3.2 billion was completed. A total of $6.8 billion of large international bond issues were executed in 2016-17. Strategic financing is included in performance measurement.

c) Markets and Sectors

- Smoothing the debt maturity and borrowing requirement profile will be taken into consideration when executing the borrowing plan.

- The OFA will continue to buy back and retire outstanding Province of Ontario and Ontario Hydro bonds when it is possible to replace these bonds with lower yielding bonds of a similar term in accordance with current practice. Based on recent experience, few longer term buybacks are expected.

More detailed information for each sector of the borrowing program is provided below:

- Domestic Syndicated Issues – Benchmark 5-, 10-, and 30- year issues are the most important component of the domestic borrowing program. The Province benefits from the liquidity of these issues, and it will be necessary to continue to encourage Ontario's domestic underwriting syndicate to actively trade these bonds in the secondary market.

- We will continue to issue larger sized publicly syndicated transactions and adjust the size of the issues to meet market demand. We will continue to use $600 million as a minimum size for 30-year, $750 million as the minimum size of 10-year issues and $1 billion as the minimum size of 5-year issues, and we will also look at dual-tranche issues. Ontario strives to re-open its existing benchmark bonds to build up larger and more liquid issues over time. The Federal government targets specific issue sizes for its benchmark bonds. For example, the targets are $14 to $20 billion for its 5-year bonds; $12-18 billion for its 10-year bonds; and $10 to $16 billion for 30-year bonds. By comparison, Ontario's benchmark bonds typically get up to $2 to $5 billion for 5-year bonds; $7 to $14 billion for 10-year bonds; and $9 to $16 billion for its 30-year bonds. In recognition of the cash management complications involved in large benchmark bond issues, the Province will look to reduce the size of benchmarks while still ensuring high liquidity for the bonds. For example, the previous 10-year benchmark was limited to $7.5 billion this year, whereas the previous 10-year benchmark achieved a size of $13.6 billion.

- Unlike the Federal government, the Province does not have a regular issuance schedule, and in order to maintain maximum flexibility it cannot commit to minimum benchmark sizes. Nevertheless, current benchmark issue sizes are reasonable indicators for the future, and the OFA will carefully manage the borrowing program to build up appropriately sized issues along the yield curve in an efficient and timely manner. In 2016-17 the Province issued $17.0 billion in syndicated issues, and it is expected that we will be able to borrow more in this sector in 2017-18.

- In order to provide more flexibility to accommodate large individual orders, a new larger order syndication procedure was initiated in October of 2011 and revised in May 2013. This process was used five times (no 5-year, no 7-year, two 10-year and three 30-year) during the 2016-17 year out of a total of twenty-two syndicated deals. It is expected that the large order process will drive some new issues again in 2017-18, but the size is difficult to predict.

- Domestic Floating Rate Notes (FRNs) - The OFA will issue FRNs when cost-effective opportunities become available. Competing supply from other large borrowers such as CMHC, Quebec and other provinces limits the opportunities, but issuance can be relatively large when demand materializes. Last year the Province issued $1.2 billion 5-year FRNs.

- Auctions
  We have the ability to do auctions in 2017-18 since we have passed the peak debt maturity years. We did one auction in 2016-17 raising $750 million. The ability to do auctions has been enhanced by extending the term of debt issued in recent years.

- Ontario Savings Bonds – A new campaign is planned for June 2017 with the following range of products (3-year variable, 3-year fixed, 5-year step-up and 10-year fixed). Last year's campaign raised about $127 million, and it is difficult to predict the size of this year's campaign. Increased competition by banks for retail money may be offset by the safety provided by government bonds. We may review the Ontario Savings Bond Program next year. The Federal government has announced that they will be discontinuing their Canada Savings Bond Program in 2017.

- Domestic Medium Term Notes (MTNs)/Ultra long dated bonds – We did not issue any domestic MTNs this year. There is limited demand for this kind of long maturity. The majority of the bonds that are sold into this term are stripped. In our opinion the marginal additional funding must be balanced against the negative spread pressure on our 30-year bonds. There could be increased competition as the Bank of Canada is also looking at issuing ultra-longs. We will continue to issue ultra-long bonds when demand permits and costing targets can be achieved.

  - Ontario was one of the first Canadian Governments to issue ultra-long debt (i.e., bond issues with maturities greater than 30 years) and has been very supportive of the development of this market.

  - Given the low historical interest rates experienced in recent years, Ontario has also been pro-active in extending the term of its borrowing program. The combined average term of borrowing for Ontario and OEFC in 2016-17 is approximately 13.9 years (including pre-borrowing), and was 14.2 years in 2015-16, 14.1 years in 2014-15, 13.6 years in 2013-14, 12.4 years in 2012-13 and 13.0 years in 2011-12. This is much longer than the 8.1 years achieved in 2009-10.

  - Ontario will continue to support the ultra-long sector and access this market when cost-effective opportunities become available, it must be used judiciously as a complement to our 30-year borrowing program. Given the uncertain demand and risks associated with ultra-long borrowing, no change in approach for accessing this sector is recommended at this time. The OFA will continue to closely monitor the ultra-long sector and execute trades when market conditions are appropriate. Last year, there were only three ultra-long deals amounting to $175 million done.

- Real Return Bonds (RRBs) - There was no issuance of Ontario real return bonds in 2016-17, and the last Ontario RRB was issued in November 2009.

- U.S. Dollar Issues – U.S. dollar borrowing is expected to be the major component of international borrowing. Three US global issues were completed last year to raise $6.8

billion. Since U.S. dollar issues are normally more expensive and opportunities are limited due to more complex disclosure requirements, it is very likely that costs will be higher than in the domestic market. U.S. dollar investors continue to prefer shorter maturities.

- Euro Issues – The Province will again attempt to issue one or two benchmark sized issues in Euros in 2017-18. Last year we launched a Euro benchmark deal and had to pull the deal as markets were not receptive at that time – we did not issue a benchmark Euro deal during the year. We will continue to look for opportunities to maintain our presence in that market. Euro issues provide a good platform to both diversify and expand the investor base to a large pool of new investors.

- U.K. Sterling Issue - We did not issue in U.K. sterling in 2016-17. It has been selected as a core currency and is expected to be less cost-effective than the domestic market.

- Japanese Yen Issues – Last year we did not issue in the Yen markets as the funding costs were significantly higher than domestic funding levels. The Province has a long history of issuing Yen denominated debt, and we will continue to monitor and seek any opportunities.

- Euro Medium Term Note (EMTN) Issues – This was not an active sector over the past year as the European credit crisis made funding levels higher than domestic costs. Last year, we did issue Euro 52 million of 25-year bonds but were not able to re-open the bond in 2016-17. EMTN covers a host of markets including the Japanese yen, Australian dollar, Euro, Norwegian Kroner, British pound Sterling, Swiss francs and Hong Kong dollars. It is expected that there may be opportunities for EMTN issuance in 2017-18. We will continue to look at issuing longer term Euros in German registered note format.

- Kangaroo Market – This market has a preference for AAA issuers and the Province would like to become a regular borrower in this market. Ontario was able to complete two small re-openings of an older issue and start a new 10-year bond with five re-openings to raise $296 million in total. We will continue to monitor this market for opportunities, and it has the advantage of offering arbitrage opportunities.

- Other Foreign Markets – Other markets which will be monitored include the Nordic currencies, New Zealand dollar, and South African rand markets. The OFA Market Risk Policy allows foreign exchange exposures solely in the G7 and Swiss franc currencies, and issuance in other currencies must be hedged back into Canadian dollars.

4) Risk Factors and Contingencies

a) Completion of Long-term Borrowing Program (Accessing Markets & Meeting Investor Demand)

Strengths	Challenges
• The borrowing program is manageable and well below the peak of $43.8 billion borrowed in 2009-10, and $39.8 billion borrowed in 2014-15. • Ontario has a highly diversified borrowing program which provides access to a large number of domestic and international markets and many different types of investors in those markets. • Ontario's relatively low proportions of floating rate and foreign exchange exposures provide some flexibility to increase floating rate debt and foreign currency debt if increases in these types of debt are required to complete the borrowing program or are required to reduce borrowing costs. • Ontario domestic issues are highly liquid which often results in more issuing opportunities than smaller borrowers. • The Ontario credit is generally positively perceived in the financial markets. • Geopolitical and credit crises often increase safe haven demand for Ontario securities. • Increased investor relations efforts in recent years have allowed Ontario to both keep in contact with existing investors and reach out to new ones. • Ontario has developed a fiscal plan to achieve a balanced budget by 2017-18.	• Borrowing opportunities throughout the year will be reduced due to regular financial and regulatory updates (e.g., Budget blackout, SEC updates, etc.) • Event risks (e.g., turmoil in the Ukraine, Europe sovereign risk, Middle East and Asia political risk, and other unknown risks) are likely to interfere with borrowing at times during the year. • The potential for changes to the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), and a potential correction to the elevated housing market in Toronto and Vancouver may reduce the "halo" effect from international investors for Canadian and Ontario government borrowers. • Investor receptivity can be low when interest rates are low (i.e., the current situation) and can also be constrained when interest rates are increasing which is the forecast. • Currently there is some reliance on particular investors in certain markets and some vulnerability to reduced demand if these investors were to reduce or stop purchasing Ontario bonds. • Fiscal challenges remain substantial over the next several years and there is limited tolerance from investors for fiscal disappointments. • Elections in general tend to create uncertainty and are met with investor caution. We expect that the 2018 Ontario election will result in reduced market access.

Conclusion

Diversification of borrowing in recent years has provided the Province with increased borrowing flexibility going forward. It is expected that the 2017-18 long-term borrowing requirements will be met, but it is likely that it will not be possible to borrow in desired markets and maturities at all times during the year as market access and/or investor demand fluctuates. This will entail higher costs if more costly markets are accessed or strategic borrowing increases, and higher interest rate, refinancing, or foreign exchange risk may be required to complete the borrowing program. The impact of any setbacks in Ontario's fiscal plan would likely be negative, especially if the credit ratings were to come under further pressure.

b) Minimize Cost of Long-term Borrowing Program

Strengths	Challenges
• Interest rates are still historically low. • The yield curve is somewhat steep which provides the opportunity for lower costs by borrowing more floating rate debt or issuing debt with shorter maturities. • Over the past several years, interest rates have often increased less than forecast or declined, and this may occur again in 2017-18.	• Interest rate risk will remain high for several years due to large ongoing debt maturities, and investments in capital assets. • Interest rates are more likely to increase in 2017-18 relative to recent years as the economic recovery progresses and the U.S. Fed continues with its tightening. • The cost of foreign currency and strategic borrowing is difficult to predict and could be more expensive than current levels.

Conclusion

Interest rate risk remains high. Interest cost increases can be mitigated by increased issuance of debt with shorter maturities or more floating rate debt but with resulting higher refinancing and interest rate risks which are already at elevated levels.

c) Minimize Refinancing Risk and Extend Term of New Debt

Strengths	Challenges
• The demand for longer dated maturities in the domestic market is likely to remain relatively strong due to the trend towards liability driven investment (LDI) by many pension fund investors. • US dollar, Euro, AUD and Swiss franc bond markets may provide opportunities for longer term debt issuance (i.e., 10-years and longer).	• It will be difficult to complete the 2017-18 borrowing program without the addition of some shorter term debt, and this will increase refinancing risk. • Investor demand for longer dated maturities may be reduced in 2017-18 if interest rates are trending higher. • Term extension opportunities in the domestic market for 2017-18 are likely to be less than those available in 2016-17.

Conclusion

Refinancing risk remains high over the next several years and it will be extremely difficult to cap it entirely, especially if market access is constrained or investor demand declines. The ability to extend term will likely be lower in 2017-18 relative to last year and is likely to be negatively impacted if interest rates are increasing. It may be necessary to increase refinancing risk in 2017-18 to mitigate increasing interest costs in an increasing interest rate environment.

d) Credit Rating Risk

Ontario is currently rated Aa2 by Moody's and A+ by S&P. In April 2016, Moody's removed the negative outlook on Ontario's credit rating which it had placed on July 2, 2014.

It is expected that the credit rating agencies will be monitoring the fiscal performance of the Province very closely.

B. SHORT-TERM BORROWING PROGRAM

- The short-term borrowing program is comprised of treasury bill issuance in Canadian dollars (T-Bills) and commercial paper issuance in U.S. dollars (USCP). The Province also issues T-Bills on behalf of OEFC, and on-lends the proceeds to OEFC. The estimated outstanding amounts and program authorities as of March 31, 2017 are summarized in the table below. It is extremely important to maintain excess capacity in the program for contingency purposes.

	March 31, 2017
	Amount Outstanding ($ billion)	Program Authority ($ billion)	Remaining Capacity ($ billion)
T-Bills - Ontario	15.9	27.0	11.3
- OEFC	0.7	6.0	5.3
USCP - Ontario	5.2	15.0	9.8
TOTAL	21.8	48.0	26.2

- It is projected that the combined Ontario/OEFC short-term debt outstanding will be $21.8 billion on March 31, 2018, unchanged from March 31, 2017. Individually, Ontario and OEFC's short-term debt outstanding are projected to remain constant at $21.2 billion and $0.6 billion respectively. The amount of short-term debt outstanding throughout the year will fluctuate and depend on the pace of the long-term borrowing program, the timing of cash flows, and CSA collateral requirements. The following table summarizes the year-end program authorities and combined outstanding amounts over the past 6 years and 3 years forward.

Short Term Debt Program Authority and Amount Outstanding

- The Province has continued to hold scheduled weekly T-Bill auctions which have proven to be a successful borrowing strategy. These regular dated auctions have resulted in a more complete maturity spectrum of outstanding Ontario T-Bills and have served to promote greater transparency and increased secondary trading in the Treasury Bill Program. The weekly auction size depends on upcoming funding requirements which are reviewed each week, and typically includes a combination of 3-month, 6-month, and 1-year T-bills. In addition to the weekly T-Bill auction, the Province can also utilize one-off cash management auctions and reverse enquiries when appropriate. The USCP program is generally utilized when USCP can be issued and hedged back to Canadian dollars below the cost of domestic Treasury Bills. The term restriction for the USCP Program is 270 days, although most of the issuance is for 1 to 3 months

- We have continued to experience strong demand for Ontario's USCP over the past year, and arbitrage levels averaged approximately 25 basis points below treasury bill funding which provided estimated savings of $15.3 million for 2016-17 as of March 15, 2017. The average amount of USCP outstanding during the year was $6.3 billion, with a high of $8.2 billion.

C. BORROWING AUTHORITY

Borrowing authority is required for long term and short term borrowing. Ontario has two sources of borrowing authority for Provincial debt, the Financial Administration Act (FAA) and the Ontario Loan Act. OEFC's borrowing authority is pursuant to section 68 of the Electricity Act, 1998 in the manner provided by the Financial Administration Act.

The FAA primarily authorizes the refinancing of matured and maturing debt. The Loan Act authorizes borrowing up to the limit specified in the Loan Act for that year, and is usually used for the purpose of financing new debt but can also be used for any borrowing program requirements such as Treasury Bills, and the U.S. shelf.

The OFA requests approval throughout each fiscal year for several Orders in Council ("OICs") to complete the Province's borrowing requirements. There are a number of OICs under the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") allowing the refinancing of matured and maturing debt and an OIC pursuant to that year's Loan Act for any new borrowing. The amount of borrowing authority available under each OIC is drawn down with each bond issuance and is monitored to ensure that there is always sufficient borrowing authority.

The OICs under the Loan Act authorizing short term borrowing for the issuance of treasury bills and U.S. Commercial Paper (USCP) are revolving due to the short term and frequency of issuance of these types of instruments. Currently the Province has authority to issue up to $27 billion in treasury bills and $15 billion in USCP. OEFC has authority to issue $6.0 billion in treasury bills.

An OIC is an order, recommended by the Minister of Finance, concurred by the Chair of Cabinet and approved and ordered by the Lieutenant Governor that, pursuant to the Financial Administration Act and the specific Ontario Loan Act, authorizes the Province to borrow an amount not exceeding the amount specified in the Loan Act.

The following tables provide a summary of long term borrowing authority by current Orders in Council and the allocation of the borrowing authority to the borrowing programs.

[2]FAA Authority (CAD, billions)

As market demand and borrowing opportunities change, the borrowing authority can be reallocated between Ontario's various borrowing programs (see table above). The Province is not permitted to borrow for a particular program unless there is sufficient authority available in the relevant borrowing program.

In order to preserve the authority of maturing debt as prescribed by the FAA, it is planned to apply in the spring for additional borrowing authority to refinance matured and maturing debt.

As is the usual practice, should the Loan Act be authorized in the 2017-18 Budget, the Province will seek approval from the legislature for an OIC for the amount specified in the Loan Act. An OIC may be requested for borrowing authority for OEFC if needed to meet OEFC's borrowing requirements for fiscal 2017-18.

D. LIQUIDITY RISK MANAGEMENT

1. Short-Term Liquidity Management

The goal of liquidity management is to maintain sufficient cash and liquid investments to meet the Province's daily operating requirements and to withstand a range of stress events, including those involving the loss or impairment of funding sources. Liquidity is managed through the use of short-term and long-term borrowing, and the maintenance of liquid reserves. Operational cash flow projections are monitored on a daily basis to ensure that sufficient liquid reserves are available to meet upcoming cash requirements and debt maturities over the fiscal year. In 2017-18, we will continue to monitor cash requirements to fund large debt maturities for the Province and OEFC and when possible, we will buy back the debt issue as part of our liquid reserve and cash management strategy. The largest debt maturities (i.e. > $2.0 billion) over the next two years are listed in the table below. The amount bought back and held in liquid reserves for cash management purposes is also provided in the table as of March 15, 2017. The maturity of larger benchmark debt issues will continue to be an important consideration in overall liquidity management.

Note: Amount held in Liquid Reserves as of March 15, 2017.

The movement of collateral between Ontario and its derivative counterparties under CSAs will also impact liquidity management and increase the volatility in the level of the liquid reserves. In 2016-17, Ontario was a net receiver of collateral with a range of $1.3 billion to $3.3 billion. Regular analysis of potential counterparty credit exposure related to derivatives is performed for the purpose of assessing potential collateral requirements related to the CSAs. The CSA and related exposure analysis are discussed more fully in Section H – Derivative Risk Management.

The combination of large borrowing programs and CSA collateral requirements will continue to require the maintenance of high levels of liquid reserves and sufficient short-term borrowing capacity. For operational purposes, Capital Markets focuses on the level of liquid reserves adjusted for collateral positions to conservatively represent the net funds available to meet cash requirements. For example, when the Province is a net receiver of CSA collateral, this amount is not added to the level of liquid reserves. However, in those cases where the Province is a net pledger of CSA collateral, liquid reserves are reduced by the net collateral pledged.

(i) Year-End Liquid Reserve Projection:

- The level of the liquid reserves is projected to be $18.6 billion on March 31, 2017 based on the 2016 FES, and does not include any pre-borrowing. This figure excludes any net collateral received from CSA counterparties which was $1.5 billion as of February 28, 2017. The collateral position will fluctuate throughout the year based on changes to exchange rates and interest rates, and is monitored regularly. No change to the year-end level liquid reserves is projected for 2017-18 based on the 2016 Ontario FES. However, this projection will be updated in the 2017 Ontario Budget and reflect the plan to increase liquid reserves over the next year in advance of the larger benchmark debt maturities occurring in the first quarter of the fiscal year starting in 2019-20. This plan is discussed more fully in Section 2 – Medium Term Liquidity Management. The liquid reserve level will fluctuate throughout the year based on the pace of the long-term borrowing program, the timing of cash flows, and the impact of collateral requirements under CSAs.

(ii) Minimum liquid reserve level:

- A minimum liquid reserve threshold will be maintained throughout the year to ensure sufficient cash is available to meet cash and collateral requirements. This minimum threshold will be comprised of an operational cash component, and a CSA collateral component. If the level of liquid reserves drops below the minimum threshold, a short-term funding strategy will be developed and implemented to increase the liquid reserves to at least the minimum recommended level.

- The operational cash threshold is established as the net cash outflow within a rolling one-month time horizon. This essentially represents the net funding requirement over the next month and would include all short-term and long-term debt maturities, any deficit and related cash flows, investments in capital assets, other net loans/investments, and any other operational cash flows. In past years, the minimum had been calculated using an average of annual cash requirements adjusted by a daily volatility factor. This enhanced approach has been established to capture the actual timing of the larger benchmark debt maturities which will soon be occurring earlier in the fiscal year. The inclusion of one month's short-term debt maturities in the minimum threshold will also provide a contingency in the event of a market disruption that temporarily affects the rolling over of short-term debt. In the unlikely event that such a market disruption were to last longer than one month, an alternative funding plan would be developed. This approach to liquidity risk management is also consistent with the Basel liquidity coverage ratio (LCR) guideline for Financial Institutions which essentially requires banks to hold minimum liquid assets to cover cash-outflows over a 30-day time horizon.

- The CSA collateral threshold represents an estimate of the incremental collateral the Province may have to potentially post to CSA counterparties in the near term, and would also include potential cash flows associated with rolling over foreign exchange contracts. The potential collateral requirement is estimated using a value-at-risk (VAR) based statistical measure minus any net collateral the Province may already hold from its CSA counterparties. Currently, a three-month 95% confidence statistic is monitored as a guideline for estimating potential collateral requirements in the near-term. As at February 28, 2017, this statistical measure yielded an estimated $3.2 billion potential collateral requirement. Subtracting the net $1.5 billion collateral received from CSA counterparties on February 28, 2017, the CSA collateral threshold would have been calculated as $1.7 billion on that date. As the CSA process evolves, other statistical measures may be substituted over the course of the year should they be considered more suitable in the management of the minimum liquid reserve level. Both the collateral position and the CSA collateral threshold will change throughout the year in response to changes in interest rates, exchange rates, and volatility assumptions. The current plan is to fund the CSA collateral requirements through increased short-term borrowing as required, given the volatility inherent in daily collateral flows.

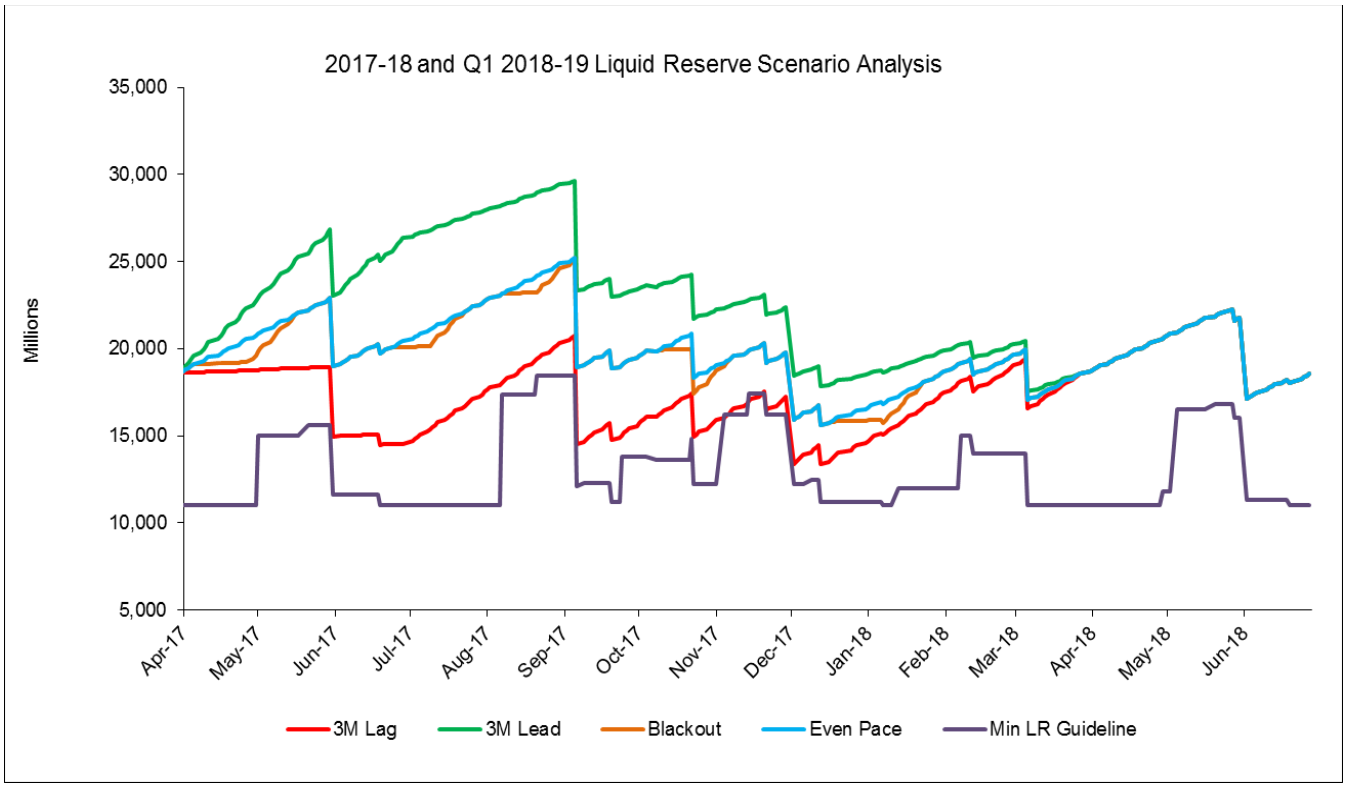
- The minimum liquid reserve threshold and related short-term funding strategies are discussed at the weekly Risk Management Committee meetings.

(iii) Forecast in-year level of the liquid reserves and scenario analysis for fiscal year 2017-18 and Q1 2018-19

- The following graph depicts the forecast level of liquid reserves excluding collateral impacts. It is based on known fiscal year 2017-18 and Q1 2018-19 debt maturities, even paced short-term borrowing and cash deficit requirement assumption, and varying long-term borrowing program pacing assumptions. A starting liquid reserve level of $18.6 billion is used as per the 2016 Ontario FES.



The following scenarios are included in the graph:

- o Even Pace: Assumes that all long-term borrowing, short-term borrowing, and cash deficit requirements are even paced throughout the period.
- o 3M Lag: Three month lag in long-term borrowing; even paced short-term borrowing and cash deficit requirements.
- o 3M Lead: Three month lead in long-term borrowing; even paced short-term borrowing and cash deficit requirements.
- o Blackout: Even Pace scenario adjusted for potential blackout periods. A blackout period occurs when the Province of Ontario is restricted from any long term debt issuance on account of pending quarterly finance, budgetary releases or other factors such as rating agency releases.
- o Min LR Guideline: Represents the minimum liquid reserve threshold which is based on the net cash outflow within a rolling 30-day time horizon, plus a provision for potential CSA collateral requirements.

- The results show the level of liquid reserves is projected to remain above the minimum threshold over the next year if the long-term borrowing program is on even-pace. If the borrowing program were to fall behind pace by 3-months, the level of liquid reserves are projected to only temporarily drop below the minimum for about six days by up to $500 million in November.

- The following table summarizes the minimum, maximum and average level of the liquid reserves under the aforementioned scenarios. These results illustrate the potential wide range in liquid reserves under the various scenarios, and project a potential decrease to $13.4 billion if the borrowing program fell three months behind pace (3M Lag), and a potential increase to $29.6 billion if the borrowing program moved three months ahead of pace (3M Lead). These results exclude collateral so the liquid reserve projections could be reduced if any net collateral is pledged to CSA counterparties.

Scenario Analysis Ontario's Liquid Reserve (C$ billion) Excluding Collateral Held
	Even Pace	3M Lag	3M Lead	Blackout
Minimum	15.6	13.4	17.5	15.6
Maximum	25.2	20.8	29.6	25.2
Average	19.8	16.9	22.8	19.7

(iv) Planned long and short-term borrowing:

- Ontario's planned long and short term borrowing is presented in Section III (A) – Long Term Borrowing Program and (B) Short Term Borrowing Program.

- Should unexpected requirements or loss or impairment of long-term funding sources arise that draw the liquid reserves below the minimum recommended level, a short-term funding strategy will be developed and implemented to increase the liquid reserves to at least the minimum recommended level.

- The current short-term authority of $48.0 billion is deemed to be sufficient to maintain the minimum level of liquid reserves under the above stress-test scenarios.

(v) Liquid Reserve Investment Management Strategy:

- Management of the Province's liquid reserves and money market portfolio are governed by the OFA's Risk Policies and Procedures and the Liquid Reserve Statement of Investment Policy and Procedures (SIPP).

- In addition to the Credit Risk Policy, credit risk is being managed through stringent operational credit constraints that have been developed to incorporate changes in credit conditions. These limits are reviewed and updated on a regular basis. Currently, the money market portfolio is invested in federal and provincial government securities and reverse repurchase agreements. Investments may also be made in the six Schedule 1 banks. It is intended that this asset mix will be maintained for the portfolio in order to maximize the availability of eligible collateral to meet the Province's CSA collateral requirements. The credit management strategy is an evolving process based on developments in the credit and financial markets. It is expected that credit risk will continue to be managed very conservatively for the foreseeable future.

- Market risk relates to the risk of adverse movements in interest rates on the money market portfolio. Market risk is managed primarily through the term of the portfolio (benchmark of 60 days), by targeting shorter term investments, and cash-flow matching investments to the extent possible.

- In addition to investments made within the money market portfolio to meet operational cash requirements, the purchase and sale of bonds for hedging purposes has a direct impact on the Province's overall liquidity and asset mix of the liquid reserves. When developing hedging strategies, the impact on liquidity and overall asset mix must be considered.

- Weekly Risk Management Committee meetings are held which include discussions on liquidity, risk exposures, the outlook for long-term and short-term borrowing, and liquid reserves investment management strategies.

(vi) Cost of maintaining liquid reserves:

- The SIPP for Liquid Reserves states that liquid reserves will be funded with floating rate exposure to reduce the potential cost of holding liquid reserves, as well as following best practices in terms of asset/liability management. Floating rate exposure includes short-term debt which is comprised of Ontario treasury bills and USCP, and long-term floating rate debt which is comprised of long-term debt issues swapped to floating and portfolio overlay swaps and bonds.

- A challenge when calculating the cost of liquid reserves is to identify and calculate the appropriate cost of the underlying floating rate debt funding liquid reserves. This calculation requires various simplifying assumptions to be made. For example, the cost of Ontario treasury bills, USCP, and long-term debt swapped to floating is based on accounting data using average month-end outstanding amounts and assumes the accrual method. In contrast, the return on liquid reserve investments is based on the rate of return on the performance measured money market portfolio as calculated by Risk Control division. These calculations are based on daily outstanding amounts and calculated on a mark-to-market basis. Although the individual calculation methodologies may be slightly different, the overall calculation for the cost of liquid reserves should provide a reasonable estimate.

(a) Rate of Return on Liquid Reserve Investments

- The rate of return on liquid reserve investments is based on the annual return of the performance measured money market portfolio. At roughly 60 days, the benchmark term-to-maturity of the money market portfolio will be slightly less than the term of floating rate debt.

(b) Cost of Floating Rate Debt

(i) Short-term Debt

- Short term debt is comprised of Ontario treasury bills and USCP. Ontario treasury bills are extremely cost efficient. Rates as of February 28, 2017 were 0.61%, 0.66%, and 0.75% for 3, 6, and 12 month terms, respectively, and represent spreads of approximately 12, 14, and 15 basis points over the respective Government of Canada treasury bills. USCP can also be extremely cost-efficient, as it can often be hedged back to Canadian dollars at levels favourable to our domestic treasury bills. Rates in the 3 month term as of February 28, 2017 were 0.82% in US terms, and approximately 0.47% when hedged back to Canadian dollars. USCP is generally utilized on an arbitrage basis and therefore will not always be cost effective. However, in the last several years we have continued to experience a combination of favourable arbitrage opportunities and strong investor demand.

(ii) Long-term Floating Rate Debt

- Long-term floating rate debt is also used to manage overall floating rate exposure and is comprised of long-term debt issues swapped to floating as well as portfolio overlay swaps and bonds. The portfolio overlay of swaps and bonds are not included in the calculation of floating rate debt this year as the total notional has decreased in recent years (approximately $500 million outstanding by March 31, 2018), and they are not material to the calculations. To include these swaps and bonds would require numerous spread assumptions to be made as they are not tied to specific debt issues but rather the overall debt portfolio.

- Long-term floating rate debt carries a premium associated with term borrowing, as it reduces refinancing risk in the near term. The floating premium will vary over time as the spread between Ontario debt and interest rate swaps changes. Generally, as Ontario spreads widen relative to swap spreads, the floating premium relative to CDOR (BA reference rate) will increase. As of February 28, 2017, the term premiums for 2, 5, 10, and 30-year floating rate debt relative to CDOR were approximately -6, +26, +62, and +90, respectively.

- The premium for term debt increased significantly following the financial crisis in 2007 as issuer credit spreads increased relative to swap spreads. Since peaking in early 2009, this premium has narrowed but still remains well above pre-2007 levels. The graph below charts the spread between Ontario 5-year bonds and 5-year Canadian interest rate swaps over the last eleven years. These results illustrate how the equivalent floating cost of 5-year Ontario debt has increased from approximately 3-month CDOR minus 20 basis points in 2007 when Ontario rates were below swap rates, to approximately 3-month CDOR plus 26 basis points currently as Ontario rates have risen above swap rates.

(c) Calculation of Cost of Carry

- A cost of maintaining liquid reserves is estimated as the difference between the rate of return on liquid reserve investments versus the cost of floating rate borrowing. This approach is similar to the Government of Canada's cost measurement of Receiver General cash balances which measures the difference between the return on government balances auctioned to financial institutions (typically around the overnight rate) and the average yield paid on Treasury Bills.

The cost of liquid reserves will be influenced by several factors:

- The slope of the yield curve between the average investment term rate of 60 days and floating borrowing rates of 1 month to 1 year. Generally, an upward sloping yield curve will increase the cost whereas an inverted yield curve will decrease the cost.
- The direction of short-term interest rates will have a more immediate impact on investments which are reset more frequently than the floating rate debt. Also, the return on investments is on a mark-to-market basis whereas the cost of floating rate debt is on an accrual basis.
- The credit spread between Government of Canada investments and Ontario's cost of floating rate debt.
- The term premium associated with long-term floating rate debt as reflected in the spread to CDOR.

The key assumptions and calculations in estimating the carrying costs of liquid reserves are summarized in the table below. These are annualized using actual data from April 1, 2016 to February 28, 2017. Based on these results, the estimated carry on total liquid reserves range from a saving of 4.7 basis points ($9.9 million) to a cost of 24.8 basis points ($52.4 million) on average total reserves of $21.2 billion. Positive factors in minimizing the cost of carry have been the relatively flat yield curve from overnight out to 1 year, narrow spreads between Ontario and Canada T-Bills, and the favourable arbitrage on USCP. USCP issuance was approximately 25 basis below equivalent Canadian issuance on average throughout 2016-17 which reduced carrying costs. A negative factor in minimizing the cost of carry has been the higher premium associated with long-term floating rate debt in the past eight years.

(2) The return on liquid reserves is calculated on a mark-to-market basis and based on the performance measured money market portfolio.
(3) The cost of floating uses all Ontario T-Bills/USCP ($19.1 billion) and the remainder in long-term floating rate debt ($2.1 billion).
(4) The cost of floating uses the average rate of all floating rate debt.

2. Medium-Term Liquidity Management

A prudent level of liquid reserves must be maintained for operational and contingency purposes. In recent years, higher levels of liquid reserves have been maintained as expenditures, deficits, debt and borrowing programs have increased in response to the 2008-09 financial crisis. The implementation of CSAs over the last seven years has also increased the need for higher liquid reserves. The table below provides a summary of these key variables over the last six years and a two year projection.

(5) Will be updated using the 2017 Budget

- There has been a trend in recent years for Canadian governments to increase their liquidity levels. The Federal government announced plans in its 2011 Budget to increase its liquidity holdings, comprised of both domestic cash balances and foreign reserve assets, by $35 billion by the end of 2013-14. Quebec announced in its 2012 Budget that it would be increasing its prudential liquidity by $6 billion, borrowing $3 billion in each of 2012-13 and 2013-14 for that purpose.

- Both S&P and Moody's have indicated that the maintenance of liquid reserves in proportion to financing needs, including both short-term and long-term debt maturities, is an important factor in maintaining Ontario's credit rating. S&P has also indicated that liquid reserves should be sufficient to cover at least 50 per cent of the next 12 months of debt service to be considered adequate.

- As a guide for planning purposes, the sum of net cash outflows over a rolling one-month time horizon and a provision for potential CSA collateral requirements are used to estimate potential liquidity requirements, and are considered when determining year-end liquid reserve levels for future years. The following table summarizes this estimate for the past five years as well a four year projection. The results show liquidity requirements increase from an estimated $17.3 billion during 2016-17 to $26.9 billion during 2020-21 on this basis.

- A projected increase in liquidity requirements arises in future years with the maturity of larger benchmark debt issues earlier in the fiscal year. Starting in 2019-20, the maturity of larger benchmark debt issues on June 2nd each year in combination with the large semi-annual June 2nd coupon payment will shift a greater proportion of annual cash requirements to the first quarter of the fiscal year. Given the borrowing program is generally completed over the course of the fiscal year, a higher level of liquid reserves will need to be maintained early in the year to cover these cash outflows.

- The table below summarizes long-term debt maturities on a monthly basis over the next 9 years, as well as the estimated June 2nd debt maturity and coupon payment each year. The results show the estimated cash outflow in the first quarter of the fiscal year (April to June) related to long-term debt maturities and an estimated June 2nd coupon will increase from $4.6 billion in 2017 to $16.9 billion in 2019, and to over $21.0 billion in 2020. The results also show the estimated single day cash outflow on June 2nd will increase from $4.0 billion in 2017 to $12.0 billion in 2019, and to over $15.0 billion in 2020.

- The graph below charts monthly projections for the level of liquid reserves over the next six years assuming an even-paced borrowing program, a three-month lead where the borrowing program is continuously one quarter ahead of pace, a three-month lag where there is no borrowing in the first three months of the fiscal year, as well as the projected minimum liquid reserve threshold based on one-month net cash outflows and potential collateral requirements. The scenarios assume the current $18.6 billion liquid reserve level based on the FES. The three-month lag scenario is used to illustrate a situation where there may be an extended budget blackout period early in the fiscal year as the budget is often released in April.

- The results highlight the sharp drop in liquid reserves in June each year attributable to the large June 2nd debt maturity and semi-annual coupon payment, followed by a gradual increase for the balance of the year as the borrowing program is completed. Without an increase in the level of liquid reserves by the end of 2018-19, liquid reserves are projected to drop below the minimum threshold each June in both scenarios. To remain above the threshold assuming even-paced borrowing, liquid reserves would need to be increased to an estimated $23.0 billion at the start of 2019-20, and $28.0 billion at the start of 2020-21. If the borrowing program fell 3 months behind pace, liquid reserves would need to be increased to an estimated $29.0 billion at the start of 2019-20, and $33.5 billion at the start of 2020-21 to stay above the minimum. Ideally for planning purposes, the level of liquid reserves should remain above the minimum with even-paced borrowing. The differential in estimated liquid reserves between the even-paced and three month lag scenarios would likely be funded with a temporary increase in short-term debt to increase the level of liquid reserves to the minimum threshold.

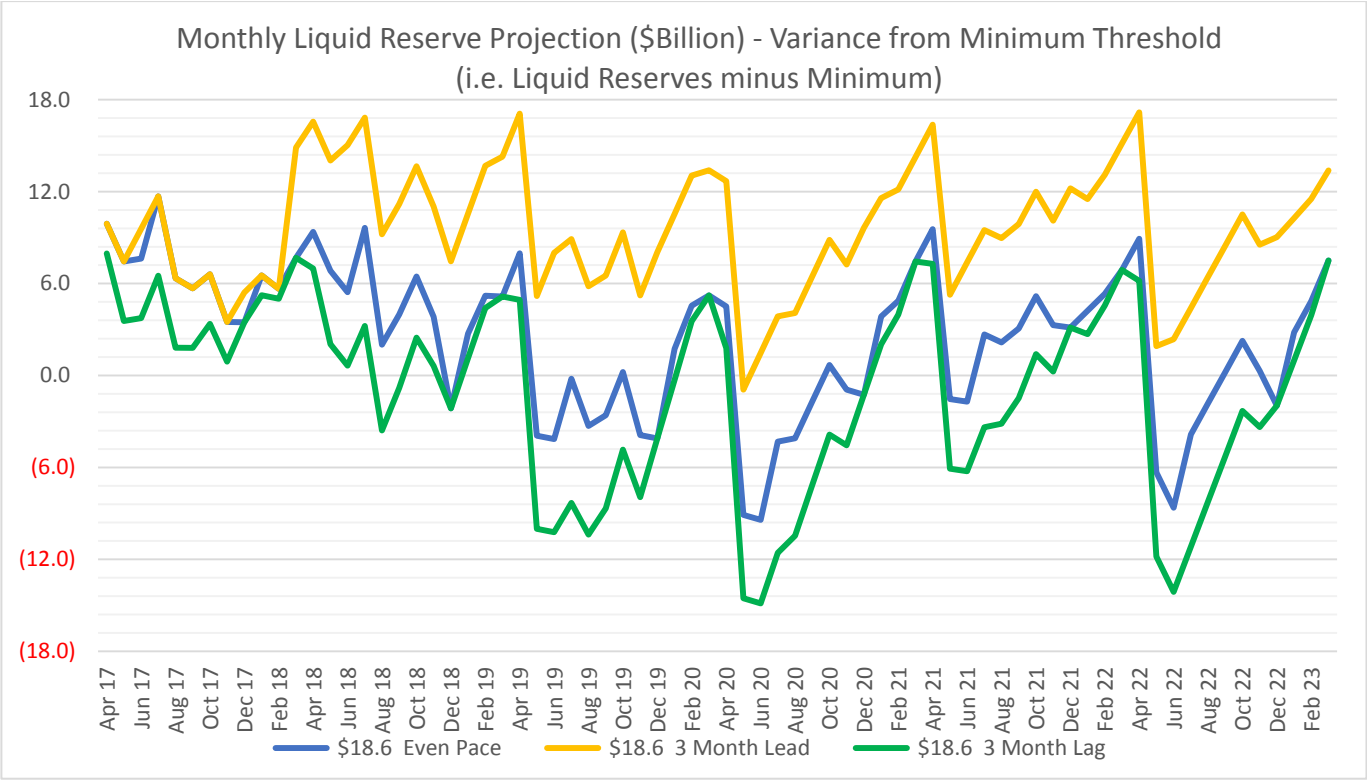
Notes: Figures do not take into account potential collateral that may be posted to swap counterparties under the CSAs. Therefore, the projected levels of liquid reserves would be reduced by the net amount of any collateral posted to CSA counterparties. Projected liquid reserves based on the FES which does not reflect the planned increase of $6 billion.



- Based on the future cash flow profile, an increase in the level of liquid reserves will be required over the next two years. Lower borrowing requirements in 2017-18 provide the capacity to start building up reserves this year. We plan to increase liquid reserves by $6 billion in 2017-18, and buy-back some of the larger debt maturities starting in June 2019, where possible, or purchase other government securities of similar maturities to smooth the maturity and cash flow profile. We will strive to reduce any carrying costs related to the increase in liquid reserves by minimizing any term mismatch on borrowings and related buy-backs or investments, and by issuing floating rate debt as necessary. Debt issued specifically for this purpose may be reported separately from the regular borrowing program for average term calculation purposes.

E. INTEREST RATE RISK MANAGEMENT

1. Portfolio Attributes

The major attributes of the Ontario and OEFC debt portfolios are provided in the following table:

ONTARIO'S PORTFOLIO ATTRIBUTES

	March 31, 2017	March 31, 2018 (Estimated)
Total Debt[1]	$317.5 Bln	$325.3 Bln
Interest Rate Resetting Exposure:	$34.8 Bln, 11.0% of debt (limit: 35%)	$42.0 Bln, 12.9% of debt (limit: 35%)
➔ Fixed Rate Debt Maturing in 1 Year	$13.1 Bln, 4.1% of debt	$15.9 Bln, 4.9% of debt
➔ Gross Floating Rate[2]	$40.1 Bln, 12.6% of debt	$43.7 Bln, 13.4% of debt
➔ Net Floating Rate	$21.7 Bln, 6.8% of debt	$26.1 Bln, 8.0% of debt
Average Maturity of Debt	11.2 Years	10.6 Years
Foreign Exchange Exposure	$0.8 Bln, 0.2% of debt (limit: 5 %)	$0.8 Bln, 0.2% of debt (limit: 5 %)
Liquid Reserves[3]	$18.6 Bln	$18.6 Bln

1. Estimated outstanding as at March 31, 2016. Includes total debt issued for Provincial purposes plus the $7.763 bln OEFC debt-for-equity swaps.
2. Includes unhedged RRB exposure of $2.25 billion for Ontario.
3. Includes OEFC liquid reserves of $2.5 bln as at March 31, 2017 and $3.3 bln as at March 31, 2018

OEFC'S PORTFOLIO ATTRIBUTES

1. Includes $0.8 billion unhedged RRB exposure.

2. Interest Rate Environment

- Appendix 4 presents an overview of historical interest rates. Interest rates have remained at historically low levels, although they have increased by approximately 85 basis points since the all-time low achieved during the 2016-17 fiscal year, and the slope of yield curve is near the historical 20-year average. The yield curve from 3-month banker's acceptance rates to Ontario 10-year rates is positively sloped by approximately 161 basis points. This is roughly the same as this time last year and is trading slightly below the 10-year historical average for this spread.

- Appendix 5 provides an analysis using a matrix approach which was put in place in 2007-08. It attempts to indicate the best conditions for adding floating rate exposure from a historical perspective. The two main variables utilized in the matrix are long-term interest rates and the slope of the yield curve, and there are four quadrants of potential market conditions. Current conditions are shown in quadrant 1 (i.e., historically low long-term rates and an upward sloping yield curve). The recommendation pertaining to current conditions is to maintain or increase floating rate exposure moderately (by 0% to 1% of debt).

3. Interest Rate Risk

- The debt portfolio characteristics and interest rate exposures for both the Province and OEFC are provided in Appendix 6.

- Interest rate risk arises from the potential impact of higher interest rates on both new long-term borrowing and interest rate resetting on floating rate exposure. The current estimate of the impact of a one percent increase in interest rates on IOD for 2017-18 is $350 million.

- As outlined in Appendix 6, the interest costs on $43.7 billion of gross floating rate exposure are estimated to be $418 million for the Province. A one standard deviation increase in short-term interest rates, which corresponds to an increase in interest rates of 1.20%, would increase interest costs by $526 million. A more significant increase in interest rates corresponding to the 99% confidence interval would increase interest costs by $1.2 billion from the base case.

- Interest costs for OEFC on $1.0 billion of gross floating rate exposure are approximately $9.8 million. A one standard deviation increase in interest rates of 1.20% increases interest costs by a further $12.4 million. An extreme increase in rates at the 99% confidence interval would result in a $28.7 million increase in interest costs.

4. Interest Rate Management

Ontario:

- Gross floating rate exposure is projected to be 12.6% of debt outstanding (or $40.1 billion) on March 31, 2017. This is within the 10.4% to 14.4% approved range from the 2016-17 plan.

- A higher range for gross floating rate exposure is recommended to manage the potential carrying costs related to the planned increase in liquid reserves and is consistent with the matrix approach analysis provided in Appendix 5. A range of 11.4% to 15.4% in gross floating rate exposure is recommended for March 31, 2018, with a target of 13.4%. Floating rate exposure may be increased further to reduce interest costs in 2017-18 if current market conditions were to change. Gross floating rate exposure is used as the floating rate target because it is much less volatile than net interest rate resetting exposure, which includes fixed rate maturities occurring within 12 months and liquid reserves.

- Net floating rate debt (gross floating rate debt net of liquid reserves) as of March 31, 2017 is estimated to be 6.8% of debt outstanding and is expected to increase to 8.0% as at March 31, 2018 with an expected range of 6.0% to 10.0%.

- Net Interest Rate Reset exposure is expected to increase from an estimated 11.0% as of March 31, 2017 to 12.9% as of March 31, 2018, with an expected range of 10.9% to 14.9%.

- In addition to projected Interest Rate Reset Exposure of 11.0% of debt outstanding as at March 31, 2017, the Province will also be setting interest rates on $7.8 billion of new debt due to financing requirements other than those relating to maturing debt. This represents 2.5% of projected debt outstanding as at March 31, 2017.

- An average term for new borrowing in the range of 6.5 to 14.7 years is recommended for Ontario for 2017-18. This will provide flexibility to manage term structure and take into consideration investor demand. It is estimated the average term of Ontario's overall debt will range from 10.2 to 11.2 years on March 31, 2018 (versus 11.2 currently).

OEFC:

- Gross floating rate exposure is estimated to be $1.6 billion as at March 31, 2017, or 7.8% of outstanding debt, which is within the approved range of 4.9% to 8.9%. Gross floating rate exposure is expected to fall to $1.0 billion, or 5.3% of debt outstanding as at March 31, 2018. A range of 3.3% to 7.3% in gross floating range exposure for March 31, 2018 is planned.

- Interest rate resetting exposure is estimated to decrease from (3.0)% as at March 31, 2017 to (10.7)% by March 31, 2018. Interest Rate Reset exposure is negative due to increased liquid reserves arising from the proceeds from broadening of ownership of Hydro One. These liquid reserves are invested with the Province and are projected to be drawn down over time to meet upcoming cash requirements which include maturing long-term debt.

- OEFC is planning to borrow to fund loans to OPG in 2017-18. Based on the FES, these loans were estimated at $1.125 billion and assumed to be 30 years, although these assumptions will change in the 2017 Ontario Budget. It is estimated the average term of OEFC's overall debt will be 9.9 years on March 31, 2018.

F. FOREIGN EXCHANGE RISK MANAGEMENT[6]

The Province's foreign exchange exposure arises from the issuance of unhedged foreign currency denominated debt, or through the use of currency overlay programs on existing debt. In general, exposure is targeted to those currencies that offer an interest rate advantage over domestic borrowing costs and are considered overvalued based on longer term fundamental and technical factors. It is estimated that Ontario will have foreign exchange (FX) exposure of approximately 0.2% of total debt as of March 31, 2017 compared to 0.3% in the previous year. The slight decrease in exposure reflects the hedging of JPY 17.0 billion (CAD 193 million) exposure maturing June 8, 2020. A profile of Ontario's FX exposure is provided in the table below.

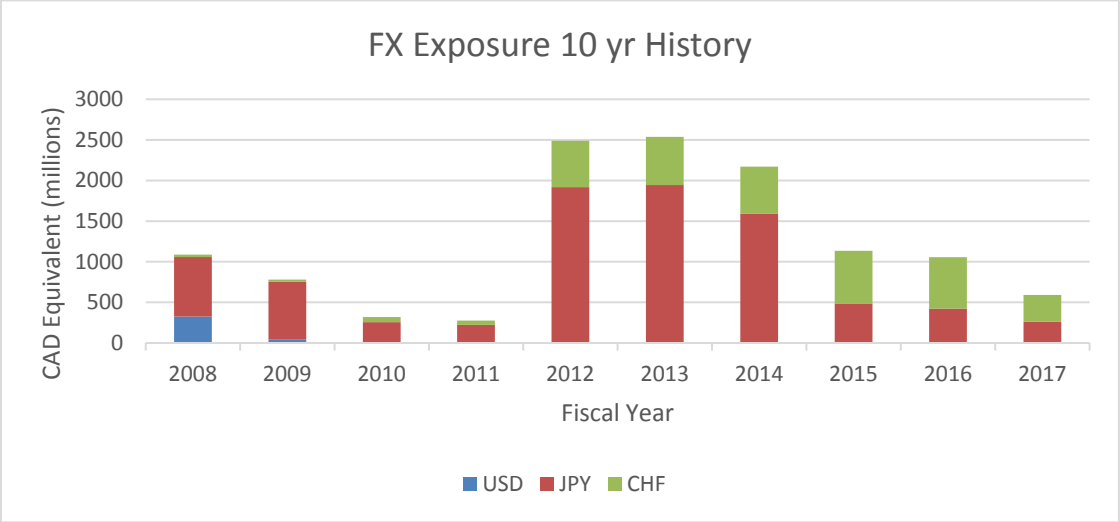
* Based on Feb 28, 2017 exchange rates: CAD 0.01184 per JPY (JPY 84.43 per CAD), CAD 1.3254 per CHF, CAD 1.4070 per EUR.
 This interest expense relates to fixed € coupons which are not hedged with a € interest rate swap and are partially offset by the receipt of Euribor based swap payments.

6 To simplify presentation, the currencies of the following countries are expressed in acronyms as follows: Canada, "CAD" United States, "USD"; United Kingdom, "GBP"; Switzerland, "CHF"; Japan, "JPY"; and European Economic and Monetary Union, "EUR". A dollar symbol without any qualification will continue to mean Canadian dollar.

The following chart shows a 10 year history of the Province's Foreign Exchange exposures.



A more detailed analysis of the Province's FX exposure is provided in Appendix 7.

1. Province of Ontario

- Foreign exchange exposure is undertaken with the primary objective of reducing borrowing costs over the long term.

- Exposure is managed against a 3% IOD loss limit constraint and within an overall 5% foreign exchange policy limit.

- Under the Province's foreign exchange management policy, exposure is restricted to the EUR, JPY, USD, GBP and CHF (hereafter referred to as "policy currencies").

- A range of 0.0% to 1.25% is recommended for 2017-18.

- If the Canadian dollar appreciates over the course of the year, or as total debt increases, the exposure as a percentage of debt would be reduced further without any changes in notional exposure. The recommended limit will accommodate this possibility. Also, it allows for the continued reduction of existing exposure maturing within 3 years if market conditions are considered appropriate. The potential impact of foreign exchange gains/(losses) on IOD is becoming greater for the existing exposure as the term to maturity of the unhedged debt is now approaching three years. This means any foreign exchange impacts would be amortized over a shorter period which will be considered when managing the exposure.

- The upper limit of 1.25% allows for an increase from the current level of 0.2% should attractive market or funding opportunities arise. The most likely currency candidates are the JPY, EUR, and CHF. Any increase in exposure would have to take into account the potential changes in accounting treatment, as discussed in Section 4 below.

2. Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC)

- OEFC's foreign exchange exposure remains at zero and no addition of exposure is recommended.

3. Foreign Exchange Risk

- Movements in foreign exchange rates can lead to large foreign exchange gains or losses from year to year, especially if gains or losses are reported on a mark-to-market basis.

- Foreign exchange gains or losses are currently reported on an amortized basis, with gains or losses deferred and amortized over the remaining life of the debt. The Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) new standard on financial instruments (PS 3450) would require the immediate recognition of unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses in a separate statement called Remeasurement Gains and Losses. The cumulative balance would be re-classified to the surplus/(deficit) account of the Province upon maturity of the unhedged debt. The revised implementation date of this new standard, applicable to both the Province and OEFC, has been extended from April 1, 2016 to April 1, 2019 (see Section V – Accounting Update). These new accounting requirements, in their current form, would likely result in a significant increase in the volatility of foreign exchange gains or losses, flowing through to greater volatility in IOD. There will also be impacts to net debt and the resulting ratios that are taken into consideration by rating agencies in their assessment of the Province's credit rating. The OFA along with the Office of the Provincial Controller is continuing to discuss these issues with PSAB as well as monitoring these accounting changes on our foreign exchange risk management.

- The Province is currently rolling approximately $21.0 billion in the FX forwards market. Due to the large borrowing programs and the resulting large amount of foreign debt issuance, the Province relies heavily on the FX forwards market to hedge foreign exchange exposure, especially when swap credit is constrained and FX forward levels are attractively priced. FX forwards are currently estimated to provide savings in the range of 15 to 20 basis points compared to swaps. It should be noted that rolling a hedge in the FX forwards does not create FX exposure. The risk lies in the level at which the basis spread will be locked-in on each FX roll or when a long-term basis swap is eventually entered into.

G. INTEREST-ON-DEBT MANAGEMENT PLAN

- Stress testing[5] of interest rates and exchange rates has been performed by Risk Control Division to determine impacts of extreme market movements on interest-on-debt (IOD), the borrowing program and potential losses from a weak counterparty default. More details are provided in Appendix 8.

- The IOD forecast for 2017-18 is $11.7 billion which compares to a Q3 estimate for 2016-17 of $11.4 billion. Interest on debt as a percentage of government revenue declined from a peak of 15.5% in 1999-2000 to 8.3% projected in 2017-18.

- A sustained one percentage point increase in both short-term and long-term interest rates at the beginning of 2017-18 would increase IOD by approximately $350 million for 2017-18.

- IOD-at-risk[6] for 2017-18 is estimated at $104 million at 95% confidence interval. However, with much higher levels of volatility, IOD-at-risk could increase by as much as $250 million under different yield curve scenarios.

- IOD stress testing is based on three distinct market scenarios: changes to interest rates; changes in FX; and changes to CPI. This represents a potential increase in IOD of about $500 million. A potential default loss component is also estimated based on the stressed market scenarios. The potential default loss for 2017-18 is estimated at about $50 million.

- The IOD loss limit for 2017-18 is $351 million. This is established in the OFA Market Risk Policy as 3% of budgeted IOD for the fiscal year.

- Increases in floating rate or foreign exchange exposures executed in 2017-18 will further increase potential losses, and adoption of new accounting standards, especially for foreign exchange, has the potential to appreciably increase IOD volatility if these new standards are adopted over the next few years.

5 Stress testing can be defined as the examination of the potential effects on an entity's financial condition arising from a set of specified changes in risk factors corresponding to exceptional but plausible events.

6 Interest on Debt (IOD)-at-risk is Value-at-Risk (VaR) applied to IOD. IOD-at-Risk is an IOD loss amount which would not be expected to be exceeded at the 95% confidence level over a one year time horizon.

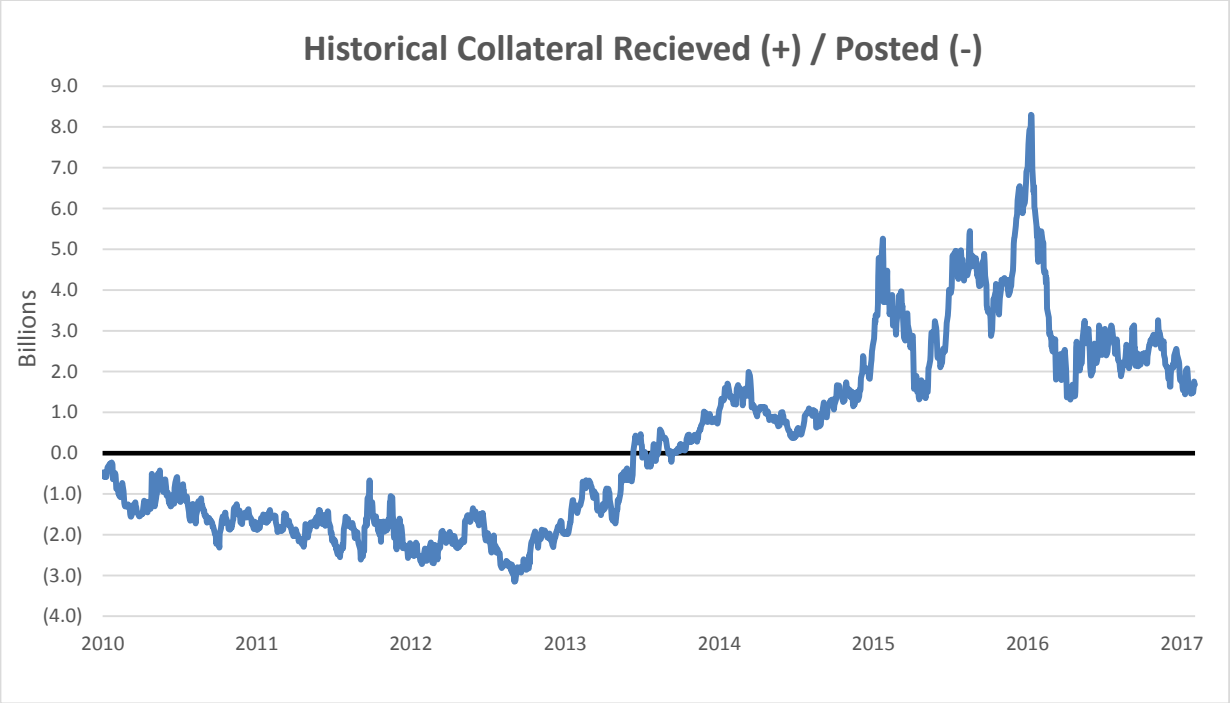
H. DERIVATIVES RISK MANAGEMENT

- The Province of Ontario uses derivatives to manage its financial risks. Interest rate and currency swaps are used extensively to hedge foreign debt issues back to Canadian dollars.

- As of December 31, 2016, foreign debt outstanding was $53.9 billion for the Province. The notional value of the derivative portfolio was $153.3 billion, which consisted of $82.7 billion in interest rate swaps, $39.5 billion in cross-currency swaps, and $31.1 billion in foreign exchange contracts.

- Ontario's hedging transactions related to international borrowing result in credit risk to our derivative counterparties. The Province has been implemented CSA's with derivative counterparties to mitigate this counterparty credit risk. In addition to reducing counterparty credit risk, CSA's also enhance market liquidity, efficiency and pricing for derivative transactions. We have signed CSA's with 10 counterparties, and no new CSA's have been added in the last year. Ideally we would like to have CSA's signed with all of our major derivative counterparties, but this is unlikely as some counterparties have found the Province's thresholds to be too aggressive.

- Although the use of CSAs will mitigate counterparty credit exposure related to derivative transactions, there will also be an impact on the Province's liquid reserve portfolio and liquidity risk management as the movement of collateral is two-way. The chart below shows collateral movement since the CSAs were first implemented 7 years ago. From 2010 to 2013, Ontario was posting net collateral up to a maximum of approximately $3 billion, whereas from 2014 to 2017, Ontario was in receipt of net collateral up to a maximum of approximately $8 billion. These results illustrate the volatility and magnitude of collateral being exchanged with CSA counterparties.



- Risk Control division stress tests the existing derivatives portfolio using various scenarios to determine potential changes to the mark-to-market value of the swap portfolio. These results are summarized in the table below, and illustrate the potential credit exposure the Province could encounter in the absence of CSA's. With the Province having executed CSA's with the majority of its counterparties, the credit exposure risk has been mitigated with the receipt of collateral. However, liquidity risk has been increased as the Province will have to post collateral in certain situations. A more detailed listing of the foreign currency and interest rate assumptions used in the analysis are provided in Appendix 9. Appendix 10 is a more detailed analysis of exposure changes for each of our derivative counterparties at various confidence levels for different terms.

Change in Derivative Portfolio Market Value (CAD million)

(As of January 31, 2017)

Currency Scenario	10%	20%	30%	1D VaR @ 95% Confidence	1yr VaR @ 95% Confidence
CAD appreciates vs all currencies	(5,612)	(11,225)	(16,837)	(546)	(8,842)
CAD depreciates vs all currencies	5,612	11,225	16,837	546	8,842

Interest Rate Scenario	1D VaR @ 95% Confidence	1yr VaR @ 95% Confidence
CAD Curve shifts up	123	1,908
CAD Curve shifts down	(124)	(2,118)

	CAD Curve	All Curves
Up 125 bps	2,330	570
Down 125 bps	(2,623)	(729)

Positive figures in the table above represent an increase in credit exposure whereas negative figures represent a decrease in exposure. Ontario's credit exposure to derivative counterparties generally increases when the Canadian dollar depreciates, Canadian interest rates rise, or foreign interest rates decline. In contrast, credit exposure generally decreases as the Canadian dollar appreciates, Canadian interest rates decline, or foreign interest rates rise. For example, if the Canadian dollar appreciates by 20%, total credit exposure would decrease by $11.225 billion assuming all other factors stay constant. With CSA's in place, we would need to post an additional $11.225 billion comprised of collateral related to swaps and/or cash related to the rolling of FX contracts in this scenario. The table also provides stress tests using Value-at-Risk (VAR) to determine 95% confidence intervals for 1 day and 1 year potential changes in credit exposure.

The results show the large changes to potential credit exposure given the large size of the derivatives portfolio as well as the potential collateral the Province may have to post in certain situations. In addition to collateral for swaps, the potential cash flows associated with rolling over foreign exchange contracts are also captured in the results. These impacts are considered in overall liquidity management and result in a higher level of liquid reserves being necessary.

Another potential demand on collateral could arise from a credit rating downgrade. The CSA has varying collateral thresholds based on Ontario's credit rating. A one notch downgrade from the current S&P rating of A+ to A could have a potential impact of posting an additional $550 million of collateral. However, based on the current mark-to-market exposure, an additional $50 million of collateral would only need to be posted.

Any future increase in the amount of foreign debt outstanding and the size of the derivatives portfolio could result in greater potential collateral requirements in the future. These potential increases would need to be considered in overall liquidity management and the level of liquid reserves in the future years.

Proposed Derivative Reforms

The regulatory response to the financial crisis has been a key driver of changes in the over-the-counter derivatives (OTCD) market. These reforms are being driven by G20 commitments, the development of Basel III and changes to capital charges by financial institutions, along with the passage of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street and Consumer Protection Act in the United States ("Dodd-Frank"), the European Market Infrastructure Regulation (EMIR) and the proposed rules and requirements by Canadian Securities Administrators, which are adopted by the provincial and territorial regulators in Canada. (Please see Appendix 3 for a more in depth analysis)

Derivative market reforms will increase cost pressures for the Province's derivative transactions going forward due to the asymmetrical nature of our CSA thresholds. The Province's derivative counterparties have been incurring increased regulatory charges such as the Credit Value Adjustment (CVA) and the Funding Value Adjustment (FVA) due to the asymmetrical CSA thresholds. Fewer of our derivative counterparties are still willing and/or able to absorb these increased regulatory charges when pricing swap transactions. As a result, we will likely be incurring additional costs to access the swap liquidity we required going forward. The OFA plans to review the CSA thresholds this year, and may consider moving to symmetrical thresholds if lower transaction costs and greater liquidity can be achieved. The trade-off would be increased liquidity risk arising from the additional collateral the Province may potentially need to post if the thresholds were equal, which could be up to $2.5 billion in certain situations based on our current credit rating.

Although the use of derivatives cannot be eliminated given the size of the Province's borrowing program, the use of derivatives will be reduced where possible given the potential increased cost and liquidity risk of using derivatives.

I. CLIENT INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT

1. Segregated Funds

- The OFA provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment services to seven public bodies. Discretionary clients are those that have contracted the OFA to make investment decisions on their behalf. Non-discretionary clients are those that make their own investment decisions primarily based on their cash-flow expectations. Currently, the OFA provides discretionary services to five investment clients and non-discretionary services to three investment clients.

- The objectives of assisting public bodies invest money on a segregated basis include:

  - ensuring that public bodies have consistent investment management structures that follow industry best practices;
  - producing cost savings arising from economies of scale, low custodial and investment management fees; and
  - managing investments as per the investment policies and maximizing return by applying the appropriate risk/return trade-offs.

  - The portfolio sizes for discretionary and non-discretionary clients as of January 31,2017 are as follows:

Portfolio	Assets ($ Millions)
Pension Benefits Guarantee Fund	561
Deposit Insurance Corporation of Ontario	230
Ontario Trillium Foundation	173
Ontario Infrastructure Lands Corporation	184
Ontario Capital Growth Corporation	35
Subtotal Discretionary	1,183
Ontario Immigrant Investor Corporation	666
Northern Ontario Heritage Fund	201
Ontario Capital Growth Corporation 2	55
Subtotal Non-Discretionary	922
Total Assets	2,105

  - The Investment objectives, risk tolerances and performance of the discretionary accounts are provided in Appendix 11.

Investment and Performance Monitoring Process

Discretionary Clients

- The public body develops a Statement of Investment Policy & Procedures (SIPP) for management of investments. The SIPP outlines risk/return parameters including income objectives, liquidity requirements, security of capital considerations and applicable performance benchmarks. The SIPP is then approved by the Board of Directors of the public body.

- An investment management agreement (IMA) between the client and the OFA is established to outline the roles and responsibilities of the OFA. The OFA utilizes Ministry of Finance Legal Services Division to finalize the IMA.

- Capital Market staff manage investments as per the approved SIPP and communicate with public body staff.

- Risk Control Division calculates and reports the actual performance versus the relevant benchmark on a monthly basis.

- OFA provides Quarterly Performance and Compliance Reports to clients (reports are sent to their respective Boards or Audit & Finance Committees).

    - OFA presents the Quarterly Report at PBGF Management Committee meeting.
    - OFA attends the DICO and OTF Audit & Finance Committee meetings at least once a year and the Quarterly Report is included in the Audit & Finance Committee package.
    - OFA provides Quarterly Report to OCGC with respect to the commitment fund for the Ontario Venture Capital Fund and the Northleaf Venture Catalyst Fund.

Non-Discretionary Clients

- Funds are invested in Ontario treasury bills and bonds with maturity dates determined by the public body.
- Finance & Treasury Division sends monthly statements of outstanding positions to the public body staff.
- Public body staff review investment holdings, performance and report to their respective Boards, committees, etc.

For 2017-18, the plans for the segregated funds include:

- continuing to work with existing investment management clients to review their investment management objectives and strategies;

- identifying and advising other public bodies that could benefit from the OFA's investment expertise with segregated funds;

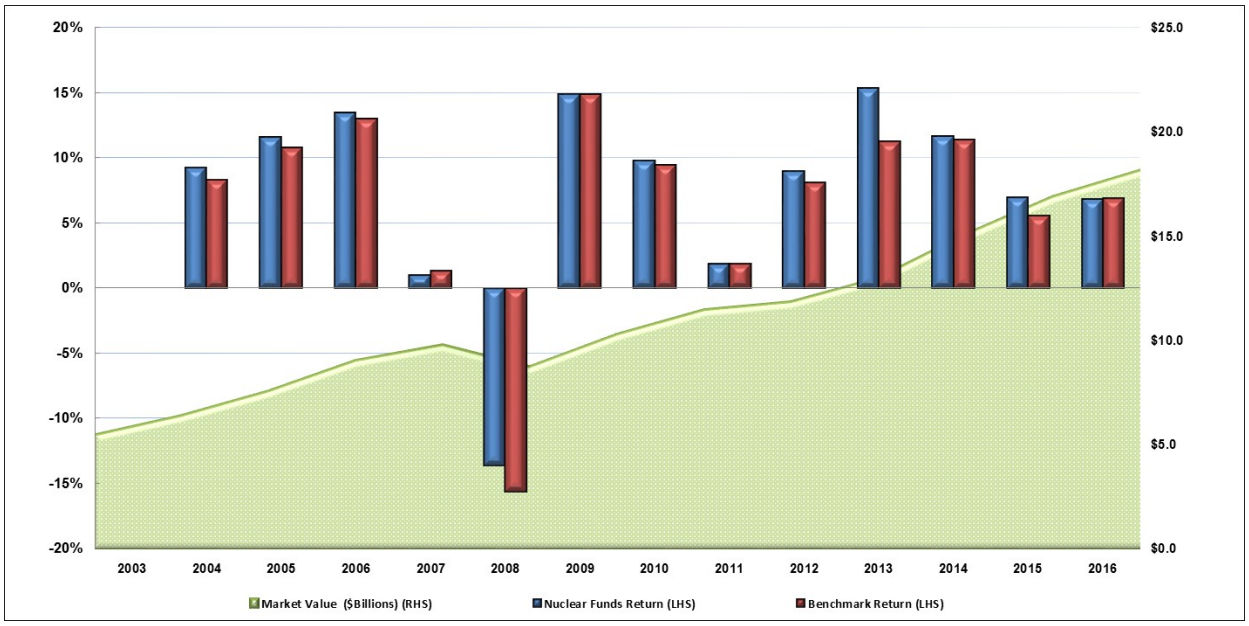
- Evaluating the conversion from non-discretionary management to discretionary management where appropriate.

2. Ontario Nuclear Funds

- The Ontario Nuclear Funds Agreement (ONFA) was signed in March 2002 by the Province and Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG). The main objective of ONFA is to ensure sufficient funds are available to pay for the future costs of decommissioning nuclear stations and disposing of nuclear waste and used fuel. ONFA came into force in July 2003 with the creation of two segregated funds, the Decommissioning Segregated Fund and the Used Fuel Segregated Fund, which are jointly managed by OPG and OFA, on behalf of the Province.

- In order to meet the long-term target rate of return of 3.25% real, the Nuclear Funds have been invested using a diversified asset class strategy with external investment managers. The current target asset mix for the Nuclear Funds is 45% equity, 35% fixed income and 20% real assets.

Nuclear Funds Historical Performance and Market Value



- For the year ending December 31, 2016 the Nuclear Funds returned 6.87%, underperforming the benchmark return of 6.95%. Most asset classes, with exception of EAFE Equity, provided positive absolute returns during 2016. Since inception, the Nuclear Funds have outperformed the benchmark by 79 bps (7.57% versus 6.78%) annualized.

- Since inception, the Used Fuel Segregated Fund has outperformed its long-term rate of return target by 265 bps (7.75% versus 5.10%) and the Decommissioning Segregated Fund has outperformed its long-term rate of return target by 218 bps (7.49% versus 5.30%) annualized.

- The assets of the Nuclear Funds have grown from $4.9 billion at inception to $19.4 billion at December 31, 2016, through a combination of asset appreciation and OPG contributions. Although there are currently modest disbursements out of the Nuclear Funds, there are no major disbursements expected prior to 2018.

Objectives for 2017-18

- During 2017-18, investment staff will complete implementation of a fixed income overlay and hire a dedicated corporate bond manager for the fixed income portfolio.

- During 2017-18, investment staff will undertake an asset-liability study based on the approved Reference Plan.

- Investment staff will continue to evaluate potential investment opportunities in real estate, infrastructure and agriculture in order to increase the exposure within the real asset class allocation. Since December 31, 2015, the Nuclear Funds' allocation to real assets increased by a total of $398 million.

    - Real Estate – Evaluate potential investments globally to further diversify the asset class and complement the current core real estate managers.

    - Infrastructure – Staff will evaluate potential investment opportunities, evaluating potential fund investments and co-investment opportunities to further diversify the portfolio.

    - Agriculture - Continue to monitor and evaluate potential investments to further diversify the real asset portfolio.

3. Other Financial Services

- Ontario Infrastructure and Lands Corporation (OILC) provides loans for infrastructure development to the broader public service including municipalities.

- In 2014-15, OILC started borrowing directly from the Province through a short-term credit facility. Previously, the OFA had conducted bi-weekly auctions of OILC commercial paper. The limit on the short-term credit facility is $900 million, and as of February 28, 2017, there was $445 million that had been borrowed.

- In 2015-16, OILC started borrowing long-term funds from the Province through a long-term credit facility. Under the long-term credit facility, OILC borrows funds from the Province that match the term and structure of the loans provided to OILC's clients. The details of the long-term credit facility are provided in the following table.

OILC Long-Term Credit Facility
Facility	Effective Date	Maturity Date	Amount Authorized	Amount Borrowed (As of Feb 28/17)
1524/2014	March 30, 2015	November 14, 2016	$2,818,658,341	$1,646,535,463
1566/2016	November 14, 2016	November 14 ,2018	$2,500,000,000	$406,951,599

- The loans to OILC are funded through the Province's borrowing program, and represent only a small component of the Province's overall borrowing program and debt portfolio. While the Province's borrowing requirement will increase in order to fund OILC's loans, net debt remains unchanged since any increase in the Province's borrowing is offset by loans issued to OILC.

- This new funding model is a relatively large undertaking for the OFA as indicative pricing is provided to OILC twice a week, and a total of 125 transactions per year had originally been projected. The table below provides summary statistics for the actual loans made in 2016-17. As a comparison, a total of 121 loans totaling $1.3 billion were completed in 2015-16.

OILC Loans From Province 2016-17
	# of Transactions	Loan Notional ($billions)	Final Term (Years)	Average Life (Years)
Amortizing Loans
Total	143	826.9
Average		5.8	20.4	11.8
Minimum		0.04	5.0	2.5
Maximum		128.4	30.0	17.7
Non Amortizing Loans
Total	0	0	na	na

- For comparative purposes, statistics for Ontario's overall borrowing program are also provided in the table below. These results show that the loans provided to OILC fall within the terms of borrowing achieved by the Province in 2016-17.

Province Borrowing Summary 2016-17
	# of Transactions	Borrowing Notional ($billions)	Final Term (Years)	Average Life (Years)
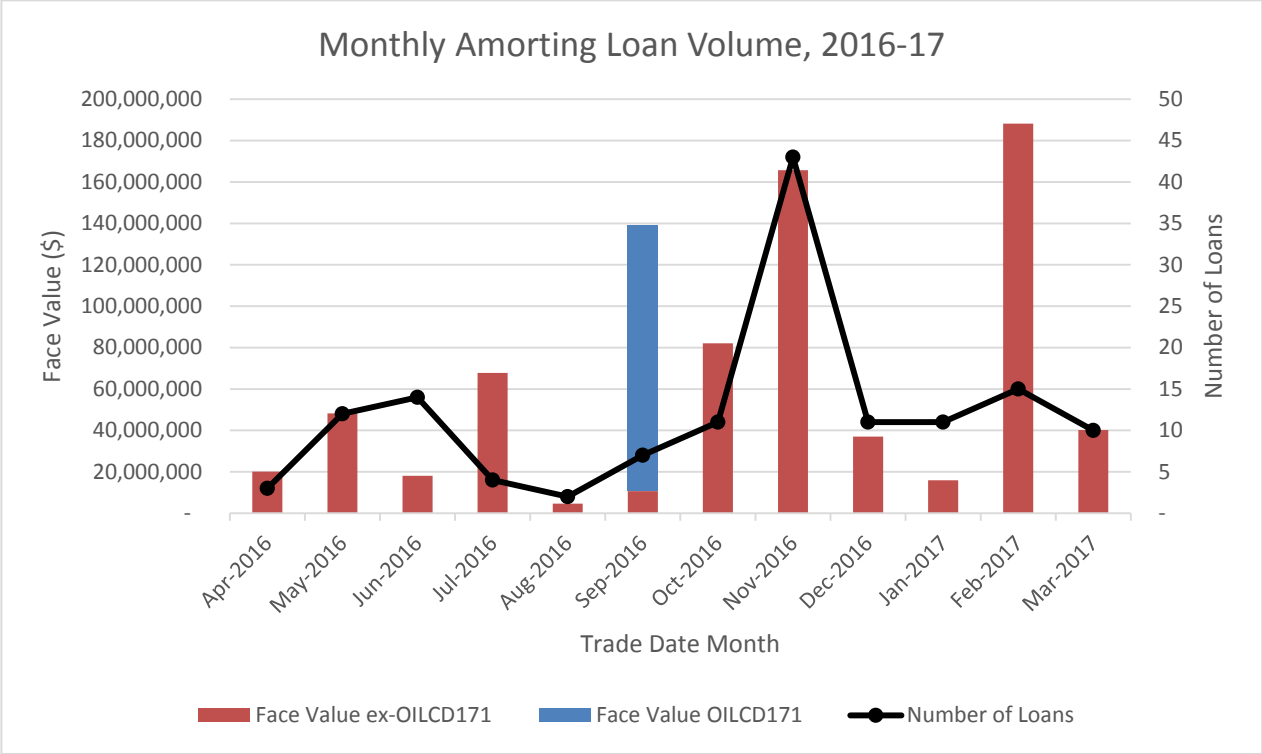
Non-Amortizing Loans (1)
Total	65	27.0
Average			13.9	13.9
Minimum			2.6	2.6
Maximum			32.0	32.0
Amortizing Loans
Total	0	0	na	na

Notes: (1) Includes Ontario Savings Bonds (OSBs) and Ontario Immigrant Investor Corporation (OIIC).

- The chart below shows the monthly loan volume by notional amount and number of transactions for 2016-17. These results illustrate that loans were generally spaced out through the year, with exceptions being September 2016, November 2016, and February 2017. In September, a single loan of $128.4 million was transacted. In November 2016, 43 loans totaling $166.7 million were transacted. In February 2017, total loans of $188.2 million were transacted.



- For 2017-18, it is projected there will be approximately 100 loans executed for total notional of approximately $600 million.

Other services provided to OILC related to Capital Markets include;

- Execute financial transactions for OILC related to their risk management and investment programs as requested. Transactions have included money market, bonds, and swaps;
- Provide benchmark swap and bond rates for Infrastructure Project (AFP) transactions;
- Assist OILC with financial market related queries, structuring of derivatives and indicative pricing of various swap/swaption structures as requested.

J. COMMODITY RISK MANAGEMENT

1. Non-Utility Generation (NUG) Portfolio

- OEFC manages long-term power purchase agreements (PPA's) with a number of non-utility generators (NUGs). The number of contracts have declined in recent years as the contracts expire. In 2016, the Independent Electricity System Operator under the direction of the Ministry of Energy, executed agreements with a number of the gas-fired NUGs which incentivizes them to operate in a manner that is better aligned with the integrated power system's needs, reducing costs to ratepayers and lowering carbon emissions. In terms of the contracts OEFC manages, the contracts were either terminated or suspended, depending on the agreement IESO reached with the NUG. As of February 1, 2017, there are currently 20 NUGs for a total capacity of 471 MWs. OEFC will continue to implement short-term curtailment transactions to reduce OEFC costs while also reducing supply during off-peak periods but the number of transactions and curtailment cost-savings is expected to be significantly lower as the number of gas-fired NUGs have declined. Appendix 12 provides additional information on the NUG supply.

2. Diesel Price Risk (Metrolinx)

- Metrolinx continues to look at fixing the price they pay for fuel, used in their day to day operations, by entering into commodity swaps. The OFA continues to work with Metrolinx on this commodity hedging initiative. The decision to hedge fuel prices will rest exclusively with Metrolinx and they will provide instructions to the OFA to transact with the market on their behalf. Commodity swaps are not a typical instrument the OFA undertakes, as such a new pricing model has been developed for this purpose. Outstanding legal issues and Metrolinx bylaw amendments have been addressed. ISDA negotiations with five of Canada's largest banks have been completed. It is now projected that this commodity hedging program will become fully operational in the current fiscal year. At this time, Metrolinx uses approximately 80,000,000 litres of diesel per year. Metrolinx may hedge up to 80% of this amount in the commodity swap market, subject to market conditions.

IV. PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT

- Capital Markets Programs have well-defined performance benchmarks approved by the Board of Directors on an annual basis at the beginning of each fiscal year. Performance results measured against the benchmarks are reviewed by Internal Audit Division and reported to the Board of Directors by Risk Control Division.

- A summary of the existing Performance Measures for 2016-17 is provided in Appendix 13 (Performance Measures). The 2017-18 Performance Measures will be approved at the June 2017 Board Meeting.

V. ACCOUNTING UPDATE

- At the June 2015 Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) meeting the effective date of the financial instruments accounting standards issued by PSAB in July 2011 was extended to April 1, 2019 from April 1, 2016. In 2016, PSAB staff met with stakeholders from senior governments to get feedback on the proposed standards and reported back their findings to the board in December 2016. PSAB staff are conducting further stakeholder meetings with Not-for-Profits and Municipalities in 2017.

- The standards require immediate recognition of the following in a separate statement called Remeasurement Gains and Losses:

    - Unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses of foreign currency debt; and
    - Unrealized changes in fair value of derivatives.

- Unrealized gains and losses and changes in fair value are an approximation of what would happen if the debt, derivative or asset currently held was sold, even though the Province intends to hold the instrument to maturity.

- When derivatives and foreign currency debt mature, the accumulated balance in the Statement of Remeasurement Gains and Losses pertaining to that instrument will be reclassified to the annual surplus/deficit of the Province. If the foreign currency debt and the derivatives are in a hedging relationship with similar terms, the realized gains or losses should offset each other. However, when term of the derivative is less than that of the underlying foreign currency debt, the realized gain or loss when the derivative matures will impact Interest on Debt (IOD) with no offset from the change in value of the debt. The recognition of fair value of derivatives will contribute to fluctuations to Net Debt that cannot be accurately forecast.

- The standard should reflect the economic substance of the use of derivatives. Derivatives are generally used for hedging, thus reducing volatility that might otherwise occur in a diverse borrowing program whose debt issuance includes both floating rate and foreign currency denominated instruments.

- In February 2015, the OFA coordinated a second memo to PSAB from the provincial borrowing communities indicating their disappointment with a previous Exposure Draft issued by PSAB and echoing Ontario's request that the standard be amended to include hedge accounting as an option. In March 2015, a special PSAB meeting for the financial instruments standards was held and Murray Lindo, the Provincial controller and PSAB member, based on briefing by the OFA outlined the concerns of Ontario and the other provinces. As a result in June 2015, PSAB approved an amendment to the transitional provisions to extend the effective date to April 1, 2019.

- In October 2016, the OFA engaged the services of Deloitte Inc. to assist in assessing the fiscal and operational impact of PS 3450 and PS 2601 on the Province as well as engage with PSAB and other stakeholders with the aim of amending the standards to address the concerns of the Province and borrowing community.

APPENDIX 2 - ECONOMIC OUTLOOK AND RISKS

Ontario real GDP increased 2.6 per cent annualized in the third quarter of 2016, after rising 0.7 per cent annualized in the second quarter. In the 2016 Economic Outlook and Fiscal Review, real GDP is projected to grow by 2.5 per cent in 2016, 2.2 per cent in 2017, 2.1 per cent in 2018 and 1.9 per cent in 2019. Exports and business investment are expected to be key drivers of Ontario's economic growth over the forecast period.

Long-term interest rates in many countries, including Canada, have risen markedly in recent months. U.S. treasury yields have lead the increases, reflecting an anticipated fiscal policy boost and Federal Reserve rate hikes. The U.S. Federal Reserve raised interest rates in December 2016, following an increase in December 2015. Meanwhile, the Bank of Canada, like many other central banks, has not started to raise interest rates. The yield on a three-month Canadian treasury bill is expected to be 0.5 per cent in 2017, unchanged from 2015 and 2016. The three-month treasury bill yield is projected to average 0.8 per cent in 2018 and gradually increase to 1.9 per cent in 2020. Long-term Government of Canada bond yields are expected to average 1.9 per cent in 2017, up from 1.3 per cent in 2016, and rise steadily to reach 3.2 per cent in 2020.

Private-sector forecast averages for interest rates and the Canadian dollar are provided below.

GLOBAL ECONOMIC UNCERTAINTY

Global economic growth is projected to improve over the 2017-18 period, with rising output in advanced economies such as the United States and Canada as well as emerging market and developing economies. However, a heightened level of uncertainty surrounds this outlook.
The slow economic recovery following the 2008-09 global financial crisis has contributed to a shift towards inward-looking policy platforms and trade protectionism.
The new U.S. administration has indicated its intention to alter international trade agreements, including the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA). A rise in protectionist measures in the U.S. would not only directly impact export and investment prospects for Ontario, but have ramifications for global economic activity.
Policy moves have also been announced to tighten immigration policy in the United States. A significantly restrictive approach to immigration policy could dampen labour supply and long-term U.S. economic growth. This would lower Ontario`s export potential and likely hinder investment activity.

U.S. ECONOMIC GROWTH

Real GDP growth in the United States rebounded in the second half of 2016, following a slowdown earlier in the year, largely due to weakness in business investment. The U.S. labour market continues to make solid gains, supporting rising wage gains and household spending. Additionally, growth is expected to be boosted by tax cuts and infrastructure spending. According to the February forecast from Blue Chip Economic Indicators, U.S. real GDP growth is projected to expand by 2.3 per cent in 2017, following growth of 1.6 per cent in 2016. U.S. real GDP growth is forecast at 2.4% in 2018 and 2.1% in 2019. The strengthening U.S. economy should have a positive impact on the Ontario economy. Solid U.S. demand and a low Canadian dollar will help support export activity.

OIL PRICES

Oil prices have risen in recent months, following the agreement among Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and some non-OPEC members to lower oil production. With these cuts, global oil demand will likely exceed supply, which will result in declines in elevated inventories and upward pressure on prices. Continued firming of oil prices will be determined in large part by OPEC production decisions and whether U.S. suppliers will increase output. However, oil prices are expected to stay well below the $100 US per barrel reached three years ago. Private sector forecasters expect the price of West Texas Intermediate (WTI) oil to average $55 US per barrel in 2017 and gradually increase over the medium term, reaching $65 US by 2020.

Since Ontario is an oil importing jurisdiction, lower-priced oil reduces input costs for industry and puts money into consumers' pockets.

CANADIAN DOLLAR EXCHANGE RATE

The Canadian dollar has recently strengthened, supported by higher oil prices. Gradually rising oil prices are expected to support a rising exchange rate over the next few years. However, the differing path of U.S. and Canadian monetary policy could limit near-term gains in the Canadian dollar. The Canadian dollar is expected to average 74.5 cents US in 2017, modestly lower than 75.5 cents US in 2016. The Canadian exchange rate is expected to remain well below parity with the U.S. dollar, reaching 80.0 cents US by 2020.

HOUSEHOLD DEBT AND CREDIT CONDTIONS

In recent years, resale home price appreciation has outpaced income gains, fueling mortgage debt accumulation. The high level of household debt remains one of the key risks for the outlook. Despite historically low mortgage rates, monthly carrying costs are elevated relative to long-term trends. High levels of debt, combined with elevated resale prices, leave Ontario households potentially more vulnerable in the event of an economic downturn.

APPENDIX 3 - DOCUMENTATION, REGULATORY AND DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS FOR DEBT ISSUANCE AND DERIVATIVES

DOCUMENTATION AND DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS

DEBT ISSUANCE

DOMESTIC MARKET

The Province of Ontario as a government issuer of debt securities such as Domestic Medium-Term Notes, Ontario Savings Bonds, CPP Program and T-bills, is exempt from prospectus requirements and registration requirements in Canada and as such is not required to file any financial or material change information with the Ontario Securities Commission ("OSC") or other domestic securities regulators.

Although not legally required, from a market credibility perspective, it is important that all material information be disclosed to investors before launching a bond issue. Disclosure of information is provided to investors through the publication of the Province's financial releases such as the Ontario Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances and Public Accounts.

INTERNATIONAL MARKETS

The Province as a sub-sovereign issuer of debt securities in foreign markets such as the U.S, the EU, Luxembourg and Australia, is subject to international securities laws and the applicable prospectus, registration and disclosure requirements in each jurisdiction and is required to file financial information with or report any material change to the applicable securities regulator or self-regulatory organizations.

More importantly, the Province is required to make timely and adequate disclosure of all material information to investors.

Information is judged to be material if a reasonably informed investor would view it as relevant in making an investment decision (i.e., material adverse changes in revenues, expenditures, deficit levels, economic outlook, and major policy changes).

- In general, legal counsel would have disclosure concerns (and concerns about legal liability) for any total variance in the range of $500 million to $1.0 billion on either revenues or expenditures. Any net impact on the bottom line in the similar range would also raise concerns.

- If a material adverse event occurs between the time of launching a bond issue and the closing date (typically 5-10 days), this would be detrimental to the success of the bond issue as the underwriters would have the right to refuse to close the transaction.

- If after the bond issue closed (for example, within 60 days), it is determined that the Province did not provide full disclosure or made a material misstatement in its statutory disclosure documents, investors have a legal right to sue the Province and its representatives for either damage or the right to return the bonds. This could also result in substantial liability under the anti-fraud provisions of U.S. securities laws.

U.S. MARKET

In order to raise funds either through Global Bond offerings or through U.S. Medium-Term Note private placements to U.S. investors, the Province is required to file a Shelf Registration Statement under U.S. securities laws. Since 1993, the Province has filed Registration Statements with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") using a "shelf registration process", the most recent being in April of 2016 which allowed the Province to offer on a continuous basis up to US$20 billion aggregate principal amount of securities which constitutes an estimate of how much the Province expects to sell in the U.S. market in the next 2-3 fiscal years. With each issuance, the amount registered is drawn down by the dollar amount of sales to U.S. investors. As at February 14, 2017, there is currently US$15.7 billion remaining on the U.S. shelf. A new shelf registration is initiated when the amount remaining is approximately US$5 billion or less, thereby ensuring there is sufficient room for the Province to continue to borrow in the U.S. market while the documentation for the new shelf is finalized and registered by the SEC with the assistance of the Province's U.S. legal counsel.

The Shelf Registration Statement filing is comprised of a Base Prospectus which provides a general description of the Province, the securities that may be offered and the documents incorporated by reference such as the Ontario Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, Exhibit (d) to Ontario's Annual Report on Form 18-K and associated amendments. Whenever the Province issues securities into the US, it must ensure that its Shelf Registration Statement and all supplements and amendments filed with the SEC provide full disclosure of all current and relevant financial information or material changes about the Province to its investors.

Although the Province as a foreign government is not subject to the periodic reporting requirements of U.S. securities law, the Province has agreed (as is the market practice for sovereign issuers) to file on a voluntary ongoing basis, material disclosure (i.e., Ontario Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, Exhibit (d) to Ontario's Annual Report on Form 18-K and Form 18-K/A amendments) and other material information promptly. This includes annually filing a full update of Exhibit (d) to Ontario's Annual Report on Form 18-K with the SEC within 9 months after the Province's fiscal year end. Material information must be disclosed and disseminated electronically by filing via the SEC's Electronic Data Gathering, Analysis, and Retrieval ("EDGAR") system so all investors can access it.

With the pending release to the public of material announcements and financial releases such as the Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, etc., black-out periods are put in place during which the Province cannot issue in the markets. This ensures that the Province is not required to disclose information to investors that is not yet public or that new material information is not released in the middle of an issue. After the release of the information, the blackout period extends until such time as all regulatory filings of the released information are complete. The Province was in blackout for 36 days as shown in the notes following the 2016 Ontario Disclosure and Filing Calendar.

With each Global Bond offering and in accordance with SEC requirements, the Province prepares a Preliminary Prospectus Supplement (general information about the issue), a Free Writing Prospectus (a form of terms agreement with the underwriters), and a Final Prospectus Supplement (full and final details of the issue) and files on EDGAR.

Each Prospectus Supplement must ensure that all material information has been disclosed and that there has been no material change or omission. Additionally, the Province must also comply with the rules and regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange with respect to the admission of the Bonds to the Official List and to trading on the Euro MTF Market by preparing a Luxembourg Prospectus.

After the closing of each issue, the Fiscal Agency Agreement, Underwriting Agreement, SEC Legal Opinion and Schedule of Expenses in connection with a deal are also filed on EDGAR.

STOCK EXCHANGE LISTINGS

The Province's debt securities are listed on a number of international stock exchanges, namely the Main Market of the London Stock Exchange, the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, the Luxembourg Green Exchange ("LGX"), the SIX Swiss Exchange, the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the Singapore Exchange Limited.

The disclosure requirements vary depending on the securities laws of each of those jurisdictions. At a minimum, the Province must file its annual audited financial statements for as long as the securities remain outstanding. In some cases, the Province also has continuous disclosure obligations to report material changes for the life of the issue.

DEBT ISSUANCE PROGRAMS

The Province has established several programs under which securities may be issued from time to time and therefore require continuous disclosure. The disclosure must be kept current as long as the program is active and securities issued under the program remain outstanding.

MONEY MARKET SECURITIES

T-BILL PROGRAM

To assist with management of its liquid reserves, the Province maintains a T-bill Program with a current program limit of C$27.0 billion and a limit of C$6.0 billion for OEFC. Provincial T-bills are money market securities (generally with a term of under 1 year, although legislation permits terms of up to 3 years) which are currently issued weekly. If required, the T-bill program limit may be adjusted to ensure sufficient flexibility to effectively manage liquid reserves. While there are no regulatory disclosure requirements associated with T-bills, the Province is required to coordinate documentation with its T-bill issuing and paying agent and the domestic clearing and settlement system where the T-bills are lodged.

U.S. COMMERCIAL PAPER (USCP) PROGRAM

The Province maintains a USCP program, which provides for offerings of short-term debt securities issued at a discount to participating dealers. The USCP program is exempt from the registration requirements under U.S. securities law provided the securities have a maturity of up to 270 days and meet specific criteria determined by the regulators. The current USCP Program limit is set at C$15.0 billion, which may be adjusted if deemed necessary for prudent management of the Province's liquid reserves. USCP is hedged to Canadian dollars using foreign exchange to eliminate the currency risk.

LONG-TERM DEBT SECURITIES

DOMESTIC MEDIUM-TERM NOTE (DMTN) PROGRAM

Established in 2000, the DMTN program is the most significant source of long-term funding for the Province, accounting for up to 75% of the long-term funding requirement in any given fiscal year. While there are no formal prospectus or disclosure requirements under domestic securities laws, the Province prepares an overview of each offering containing the economic attributes of the offering, called "Bond Issue Details", which is published on the OFA website for the benefit of investors.

GREEN BOND PROGRAM

In accordance with the government's commitment to issue Green Bonds, the Province successfully launched a Green Bond Program on October 2, 2014 with an inaugural global Canadian dollar bond of C$500 million. The Province has since offered two additional Green Bonds, the second in January 2016 and the third in January 2017.

The Province's Green Bond Program is governed by a Green Bond Framework which established the types of projects which may be eligible under the Program. The Province publishes an annual newsletter reporting on the selected projects, their funding, progress and environmental performance.

The Province has adopted a Canadian dollar-denominated global format for its Green Bonds, whereby the securities are lodged in the domestic system but the disclosure process follows an approach similar to Global Bond offerings in the U.S. market and also provides a listing on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. This ensures that international Green Bond investors are provided with access to fulsome disclosure information about eligible Green Bond projects and the Province's Green Bond Framework.

US MEDIUM-TERM NOTE (MTN) PROGRAM

In 2011, the Province established a United States Dollar Medium-Term Note Program ("USMTN Program") which provides for the issuance of Notes with a term of 9 months or more in the US market and was required to file a Prospectus Supplement to the Base Prospectus with the SEC on EDGAR. With each offer of Notes, the Province is required to file a Pricing Supplement.

EURO MEDIUM-TERM NOTE (EMTN) PROGRAMME

In 1992, the Province established an EMTN Programme to issue euro medium term-notes outside of Canada and the U.S. and to meet investor requirements in the European zone. The instruments are issued for terms ranging from 3 months to 50 years.

The Province uses an “Offering Circular” for EMTN instruments issued under the Programme which is updated annually, approved by the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and then valid for one year.

The Offering Circular incorporates by reference the Province’s Budget, the Public Accounts, Annual Report on Form 18-K and amendments thereto and supplement material information. With each new issue under the Programme, the Province files the Pricing Supplement of the deal.

In the event of a significant new factor, material mistake or inaccuracy relating to the information included in the Offering Circular which is capable of affecting the assessment of any instruments, the Province must file a supplement to the Offering Circular with the Luxembourg Stock Exchange.

The Offering Circular is a "prospectus" for the purposes of the admission to listing on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading of the instruments on the Euro MTF market in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The Offering Circular does not constitute a prospectus for the purposes of the EU Prospectus Directive and accordingly does not provide a passport for the Province to make offers to the public across the EU on the basis of a prospectus subject to requirements prescribed by EU regulations and local securities law in those jurisdictions.

AUSTRALIAN DEBT ISSUANCE PROGRAMME (“KANGAROO PROGRAM”)

The Province’s Kangaroo Program provides for the issuance of Australian dollar denominated bonds “Kangaroo Bonds”. The Province filed an Information Memorandum in 2005 which incorporates by reference its filings with the SEC as well as Ontario’s Budget and its audited financial statements. There is no annual update for the Kangaroo Program documentation.

GERMAN REGISTERED NOTES

To diversify its funding sources, the Province has completed documentation for the issuance of German law registered notes Namensschuldverschreibungen (“NSV”) which are to be issued in Germany and governed by German law. NSV issuance will be of interest to German banks, insurance companies and pension funds. Disclosure of financial information will be provided to NSV investors through the publication of the Province’s Public Accounts on its website.

DUE DILIGENCE

The Province conducts due diligence conference calls with the Province's underwriters and their legal counsel after the release of the Ontario Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, Exhibit (d) to Ontario's Annual Report on Form 18-K or other material information requiring disclosure and "bring-down" update - conference calls before each Global Bond offering is priced and closed. The call consists of detailed questions on the Province's economic and fiscal position that are addressed by OFA and Ministry of Finance staff. In the spring of 2016, the Province moved away from providing the exact number of claims outstanding against the Crown on any given due diligence call in favour of making a more general representation confirming that it is not involved in any claims which would materially affect the financial position of the Province. Should a material claim arise, it would be disclosed by MOF legal counsel.

- Conducting due diligence calls establishes a defense for the underwriters and their counsel under U.S. securities laws to liability for inaccuracies or omissions in the prospectus. Due diligence enables the underwriters to show that they had, after reasonable investigation, reasonable grounds to believe and did believe that the statements in the prospectus were true and that there was no omission to state a material fact required to be stated or necessary to make the statement not misleading.

Due diligence and bring down conference calls also permit the Province's representatives and their counsel to ensure that all material information has been disclosed and that all public information is accurate and complete. The Province, as an issuer, is strictly liable for any materially misleading or inaccurate information in the Prospectus or for any material omissions, regardless of any due diligence investigation.

DERIVATIVES

INTERNATIONAL SWAPS AND DERIVATIVES ASSOCIATION ("ISDA") MASTER AGREEMENTS AND CREDIT SUPPORT ANNEXES ("CSAS")

Existing ISDA Master Agreements are updated and new agreements negotiated as required. All swap confirmations are reviewed and processed within "best practice" timeframes recommended by ISDA, ensuring they correctly document the terms of the trade and are in accordance with the provisions of the corresponding Master Agreement. To date, the OFA has executed ten CSAs with its swap counterparties. Given the Province's large borrowing program, CSAs, by mitigating credit risks with its swap counterparties, are instrumental in facilitating better access for the Province to a broader range of domestic and international derivatives counterparties with whom it may transact to hedge the market risks associated with its debt issuances.

TRADE REPORTING

Trade reporting requirements are now effective in Canada, the U.S. and Europe where the swap transaction-level data must be reported to the prescribed trade repositories in each jurisdiction. All swap market participants must obtain a Legal Entity Identifier ("LEI") to transact in OTC derivatives. The Province and OEFC each obtained LEIs, which are maintained on an annual basis. To comply with the requirements in all jurisdictions, the Province's derivatives trades are being reported by its dealer counterparties.

PUBLIC DISSEMINATION OF TRANSACTION DATA

OSC Rule 91-507 Trade Repositories and Derivatives Data Reporting Trade Reporting (the "Reporting Rule") came into force in Ontario, with respect to public dissemination of transaction-level data in April 2015. The OSC introduced certain measures in the November 2015 amendment to the Reporting Rule to protect the anonymity of OTC derivatives participants; however, such provisions were not sufficient to protect the anonymity of the Province when transacting in the Canadian OTC derivatives market. In consultation with the OSC, the OFA moved forward in the 2016 Budget, the required amendments to the Ontario Securities Act ("OSA") to provide exemptions for the Crown from the requirements of public dissemination of, or public access to, its transaction-level data.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Swap transactions and transactions under repurchase agreements entered into between the Province and a foreign counterparty may give a rise to withholding tax issues in regard to the interest, distribution and coupon payments from such transactions. In order to protect the Province from such unwanted foreign withholding tax issues and comply with the relevant requirements appropriately, the OFA has been proactively monitoring the changes in withholding tax laws and regulations applicable to the Province.

The Province's derivatives-related tax documentation is up-to-date in accordance with the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act ("FATCA"), the Canada-United States Enhanced Information Exchange Agreement ("FATCA Agreement"), and OECD Common Reporting Standard for Entity Tax Residency.

REGULATORY DEVELOPMENTS AFFECTING THE PROVINCE

DEBT ISSUANCE

COOPERATIVE CAPITAL MARKETS REGULATORY SYSTEM

Currently, British Columbia, Ontario, Saskatchewan, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Yukon and Canada (collectively, the "CMR Jurisdictions") are engaged in the development of a new Cooperative Capital Markets Regulatory System (the Cooperative System) under which a common regulator, the Capital Markets Regulatory Authority ("CMRA"), will be created to regulate financial markets in the CMR Jurisdictions. Under a Memorandum of Agreement, enactment of a uniform Capital Markets Act ("CMA") by the CMR Jurisdictions is targeted to occur in early 2018. In order to ensure the smooth transition to the Cooperative System without disrupting its continued access to the capital markets, the Province is working to carry forward the existing exemptions for the Crown in respect of its capital markets activities into the new regulatory regime.

NEW CDS FEES

On December 22, 2016, the Canadian Depository for Securities ("CDS") advised issuers that it had received regulatory approval to expand the scope of its fees, a process which CDS initiated in November 2014 in the face of significant concerns from various market participants, including several municipal and provincial issuers across Canada. The OFA undertook considerable advocacy efforts with CDS, its regulators and other government issuers in order to clarify the scope and applicability of these new fees. Specifically, CDS began charging issuers on March 1, 2017 in connection with the introduction of two new fee proposals: 1) changes to existing ISIN and eligibility fees and the creation of fees for Book-entry Only Global bonds, and 2) the introduction of fees for all interest, maturity payments (including money market securities) and bond optionality. Discussions with CDS are on-going, particularly in regard to retail debt (Ontario Savings Bonds) and what changes will need to take place to accommodate the new fees and the elimination of physical certificates by August 31, 2017, pursuant to a CDS rule change published on December 15, 2016.

The Province is currently engaged in discussions with the domestic dealer syndicate in regard to CDS fees and has requested that the dealers reimburse all issuer-related fees for the Province's securities. It is expected that this agreement will be finalized in the near future. The Province is continuing to explore operational alternatives in consultation with CDS which may help further reduce fees.

TRANSITION TO T+2 SETTLEMENT CYCLE

The global markets, including Canada, are continuing to move to a T+2 settlement cycle for secondary market issues. Canadian market stakeholders and participants are likewise preparing to shorten the settlement cycle from the current T+3 standard to T+2. The Canadian Securities Administrators (CSA) have affirmed that Canada will move to T+2 settlement at the same time as U.S. markets. It is expected that will take place on the target date of September 5, 2017. The Province is actively looking at how this will impact its domestic issuances and what operational changes may be required if the Province moves to issue new securities on a T+2 basis in the Canadian market.

MARKET ABUSE DIRECTIVE (EUROPE)

The European Union ("EU") Market Abuse Regulation ("MAR") came into effect in all EU Member States on July 3, 2016, replacing the existing Market Abuse Directive and the national laws implementing the Directive. The MAR imposes market abuse rules on EU markets that were exempt from previous EU market abuse rules, including the Luxembourg Stock Exchange Euro MTF Market ("Luxembourg MTF"). The Province of Ontario ("Province") issues debt in the European capital markets through the Euro Medium Term Note Programme and Global Bonds, which are listed on the Luxembourg MTF. The MAR imposes new obligations on the Province for current and future debt securities issued by it that are or will be listed on the Luxembourg MTF. The competent authority in Luxembourg, the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier

("CSSF"), is obligated to ensure the MAR is applied on its territory regarding all actions carried out on its territory and abroad related to instruments traded on the Luxembourg MTF. The MAR rules focus predominantly on 'market sounding' and 'insider information' and the Province remains in frequent consultation with external legal counsel to ensure compliance with MAR.

DERIVATIVES

GLOBAL REFORM

With the on-going global regulatory reform of the derivatives markets, the Province continues to assess the complex issues that implementation of the reform will have on the Province's derivatives activities in the global derivatives markets. Under the Dodd-Frank Act ("Dodd-Frank") in the United States and under European Market Infrastructure Regulation ("EMIR"), many swap market participants are required to centrally clear prescribed categories of swaps, and will be required to pledge margin for uncleared swaps. As a sovereign, the Province is exempt from central clearing and margin requirements under Dodd-Frank and EMIR.

Although exempt from clearing under Dodd-Frank and EMIR, the Province continues to evaluate the relative costs of clearing versus not clearing its swaps. For example, the global implementation of the Basel III regulatory framework resulted in some of the Province's counterparties proposing to charge higher pricing on its uncleared and/or under collateralized swaps in order to recover new regulatory and business charges (i.e., Credit Value Adjustment ("CVA"), and Funding Value Adjustment ("FVA") charges). If these charges become unavoidable, it may be beneficial for the Province to consider voluntarily clearing its derivatives transactions. The Province has already investigated the operational and legal requirements associated with clearing its derivatives transactions, and will continue to assess on an ongoing basis the desirability of centrally clearing derivatives transactions. In the event that clearing swaps becomes advantageous from a cost perspective, the Province will engage clearing brokers in formal discussions for clearing services.

The Province continues to monitor other key aspects of global regulatory reform and implements the necessary measures and amendments to swap agreements to ensure compliance with international regulatory regimes. The Province is also following developments in Europe under Markets in Financial Instruments Directive II ("MiFID II") and Markets in Financial Instruments Regulation ("MiFIR").

In the U.S. and Europe, a one-business day stay for contractual termination rights on any swap agreements in the event of bankruptcy of a counterparty is being adopted. The purpose of this contractual rights stay is give the regulators the time to transfer the failed institution's financial contracts to a solvent third party or to a bridge bank, despite the fact that the right to terminate contracts immediately following an event of default may be embedded in existing agreements such as ISDA Agreements. In the United States, in May 2016, the Board of Governors of the U.S. Federal Reserve System issued a proposed rules concerning the special resolution regimes. In Europe, Article 55 of the Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (2014/59/EU) (the "BRRD"), which has been implemented by a number of European countries, requires market participants to insert a clause concerning the contractual recognition of bail-in and contractual stay. The OFA is considering appropriate amendments to its ISDA Master Agreements to reflect the stay provisions.

DOMESTIC REFORM

In Canada, derivatives regulatory reform is being effected through each of the provincial and territorial regulators, with the process being coordinated through the Canadian Securities Administrators. The Canadian Securities Administrators continue to develop "Model Rules" for key aspects of derivatives regulation (i.e., clearing, registration, trade reporting), for eventual implementation in each of the provinces and territories. The Province is exempt from many of the proposed rules under the OSA. Nonetheless, the Province continues to evaluate the impact of each of the proposed rules on its and certain Crown Agents' (OEFC, OILC, and Metrolinx) derivatives activities and, as appropriate, consults with the OSC to discuss any potential issues so that they may continue carrying out their capital market activities and without creating or imposing any new obligations resulting from new derivatives regulations. In fall 2015, the OFA worked to secure amendments to the OSA to ensure that the existing exemptions for the Province and the OFA from key aspects of derivatives regulations could also be extended to Crown Agents, as prescribed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council ("Prescribed Crown Agents"). Currently, the OFA is working to designate OEFC, OILC, and Metrolinx to be Prescribed Crown Agents by summer 2017. The OSA amendments also included exemptions for the Province, the OFA and Prescribed Crown Agents from any registration requirements or requirements to provide disclosure documents in connection with derivatives trading.

Notes:

(1) Total number of blackout days due to government release and regulatory filings: 36 business days.

(2) The Province has a number of programs under which bonds may be issued from time to time and, therefore, require continuous ongoing disclosure. This disclosure must be kept up to date as long as the program is active and any bond issue remains outstanding.

(3) There were 40 regulatory filings submitted in 2016.

- The Province was required to lodge its Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts and Form 18-K with the ASX's Company Announcements Office and publish the documents on www.asx.com.au. There were 4 such filings in 2016. The requirement to make future filings ceased upon the expiry of the Province's listed Australian dollar debt on November 30, 2016.

- Although the Province as a local/regional authority of an OECD Member is not required to communicate its annual accounts to the LuxSE under the Rules and Regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, the LuxSE advised that the Province may communicate its accounts to the LuxSE (listings). There was 1 such filing. Additionally, the LuxSE advised that publication in Luxembourg is not necessarily required since the information is available to interested investors on the SEC website.

- In accordance with the UKLA Disclosure and Transparency Rules (DTRs), the Province publishes its most recent financial reports to comply with the continuing obligations that apply to the Province with primary listings of debt securities on the London Stock Exchange's Main Market. There were 5 such filings.

- With each global issue and in accordance with SEC requirements, the Province files a Preliminary Prospectus Supplement, a Free Writing Prospectus and a Final Prospectus Supplement. Additional information, such as the Fiscal Agency Agreement, Underwriting Agreement, Opinion and Schedule of Expenses, is also filed on a Form 18-K/A. There were 16 such filings related to the issuance of 4 Global Bonds, and there were 5 such filings related to the Province's Budget, Quarterly Ontario Finances, Public Accounts, and Form 18-K.

- The Province also files the Prospectus Supplement and all related documents for each new Global Bond issue with the Luxembourg Stock Exchange for the listing on its official list and admission to trading on the Euro MTF market. There were 4 such filings related to the issuance of 4 Global Bonds.

- In addition to the bond issues, the Offering Circular and associated documents incorporated by reference for the Province's Programme for the Issuance of Debt Instruments 2016 were filed with the LuxSE. The Province also filed a Pricing Supplement for 1 new EMTN issue with the programme.

- The Province has to provide SIX with the path to its Public Accounts each time when they are published on the website so that SIX can publish the Public Accounts on its own website.

- The Province must provide the SGX with its annual report and all documents annexed thereto as soon as it is issued via e-mail for publication on SGX's website.

- The Province's Luxembourg paying agent, transfer agent and listing agent for the LuxSE has delivered the Province's audited accounts to the LuxSE relating to Global Bond Series HS that the Province has listed on the LuxSE.

(4) The Province conducts scheduled "Due Diligence" conference calls 2-3 times per year and prior to the pricing and closing of a Global Bond and U.S. MTN issuance. If a call related to an issuance is to be held shortly after a scheduled Due Diligence conference call, an abridged Due Diligence conference call or "Bring-down" Due Diligence conference call will be held.

APPENDIX 4 - ANALYSIS OF INTEREST RATES AND YIELD CURVES

The following observations are made from the historical interest rate charts on the following pages:

i Short-term (i.e., the Bank of Canada rate) is trading below its historical average over the last 20 years by approximately 1.2 standard deviations.

ii Province of Ontario bond yields in the 2-year, 10-year and 30-year tenors are all trading well below their historical averages over the last 20 years by approximately 1.3, 1.5 and 1.4 standard deviations, respectively.

iii The Ontario 30-year bond yield is currently trading roughly 236 basis points above the Ontario 2-year bond yield. This represents approximately 0.5 standard deviations above the 20 year historical average spread. The 10 to 30-year Ontario yield curve is positive by approximately 77 basis points which is 1.3 standard deviations above the 20-year historical average.

Historically low long-term yields combined with an upward sloping yield curve suggests that the Province should continue to take advantage of low long-term fixed borrowing rates while looking for opportunities to increase floating rate exposure.

<table>
<tr><th colspan="2">Interest Rate Scenarios and Floating Rate Exposure Strategies</th></tr>
<tr><td>1. Historically Low Long-term Rates and Upward Sloping Yield Curve

Raise long-term funds at attractive rates but also maintain or increase floating exposure moderately (by 0 to 1% of debt).

Interest cost savings may be achieved due to positive term spreads under these conditions. This is the condition that prevails today.</td><td>2. Historically High Long-term Rates and Upward Sloping Yield Curve

Increase floating rate exposure (by 5 to 10% of debt).

This condition is similar to the mid-1980s when both short and long rates fell as a result of falling inflation after tightening by the Bank of Canada in early 1980s.</td></tr>
<tr><td>3. Historically Low Long-term Rates and Flat or Downward Sloping Yield Curve

Maintain or decrease floating rate exposure (by 0 to 1% of debt) until conditions allow for cost savings to be realized through an increase in floating rate exposure.

There is virtually no cost advantage but high risk in adding more floating rate exposure.</td><td>4. Historically High Long Rates and Flat or Downward Sloping Yield Curve

Increase floating rate exposure moderately (by 2 to 4% of debt).

This condition is similar to the conditions which prevailed in the early 1980s and early 1990s. A gradual increase in floating exposure would have resulted in significant interest cost savings with a substantial decline in short rates restoring a normal yield curve in the mid-1980s.</td></tr>
<tr><td colspan="2">As of Feb 10, 2017, the 10-year Ontario rate was 2.56%. This is roughly 1.5 standard deviations below the average of 4.44% for the past 20 years.

As of Feb 10, 2017, the yield curve from 3-month banker’s acceptance rates to Ontario 10-year rates was positively sloped by roughly 161 basis points, which is slightly below the average over the last 10 years.

Note: The above are not intended to be exhaustive, and chosen strategies may depend upon market conditions and other circumstances.</td></tr>

APPENDIX 6 - ONTARIO AND OEFC DEBT PORTFOLIOS

The projected debt portfolio characteristics for Ontario and OEFC based on the recommended borrowing programs are summarized in the tables below.

ONTARIO
DEBT PORTFOLIO CHARACTERISTICS

DEBT PORTFOLIO[1] as of	YEARS		EXPOSURE Expressed as a % of total debt
	Duration[2]	Term[2]	Net Floating[3]	Gross Floating	Interest Rate Resetting
March 31, 2017: Estimate	9.7	11.2	6.8%	12.6%	11.0%
March 31, 2018: Minimum[4]	8.9	10.2	10.0%	15.4%	14.9%
March 31, 2018: Target[5]	9.2	10.6	8.0%	13.4%	12.9%
March 31, 2018: Maximum[6]	9.6	11.2	6.0%	11.4%	10.9%

[1]Based on estimated debt outstanding as at Mar. 31, 2017 of $317.5 billion and $325.3 billion as at Mar 31, 2018, which includes the OEFC debt-for-equity swap in the amount of $7.763 million.
[2]Duration and Term calculations do not include debt-for-equity swap.
[3]Assumes $18.6 billion in liquid reserves as at March 31, 2017 and $18.6 billion March 31, 2018.
[4]Assumes $50.2 billion in gross floating rate debt and the minimum term of 6.5 years for new borrowing.
[5]Assumes $43.7 billion in gross floating rate debt and 10.6 years (i.e., middle of the range) for new borrowing.
[6]Assumes $37.2 billion in gross floating rate debt and the maximum term of 14.7 years for new borrowing.

APPENDIX 7 - FOREIGN EXCHANGE ANALYSIS

A. CURRENCY VALUATIONS ANALYSIS

Ten Year Trading Range

Ten-year historical currency charts are provided in Attachment 1 to this Appendix.

These charts illustrate that the Canadian dollar appreciated against the USD, JPY, EUR, CHF and GBP over the last fiscal year. Three of the policy currencies are currently stronger than their historical 10-year averages against the Canadian dollar.

Currency Forecasts

One-year currency forecasts are provided for each of the policy currencies in the following table. The consensus outlook is for the Canadian dollar to appreciate against the JPY, CHF, and GBP, while depreciating against the USD and EUR over the next year.

Interest Rate Differentials

Interest rate differentials between the Canadian dollar and the policy currencies are summarized below. Global floating rates have trended lower in JPY, EUR and GBP but higher in CAD, USD and CHF. Fixed rates have trended higher in CAD, USD and JPY and lower in CHF and GBP with the EUR largely unchanged year over year. The table highlights that the JPY, EUR, CHF and GBP currently offer significantly lower fixed borrowing rates compared with the Province's domestic funding cost. Significant interest savings can be achieved in JPY and CHF as Ontario's ten-year borrowing cost in these currencies is currently 202 and 251 basis points lower, respectively. The EUR and GBP ten-year rates also offer attractive borrowing costs that are 151 and 81 basis points lower than the domestic rate.

INTEREST RATE DIFFERENTIALS %

Floating (3-month LIBOR)* Feb 28 -17	0.95300	1.05456	(0.00986)	(0.35214)	(0.7272)	0.35369
Differential vs CAD	---	0.1016	(0.9629)	(1.3051)	(1.6802)	(0.5993)
10-yr Ontario rates Feb 28 -17	2.49	2.99	0.47	0.98	(0.02)	1.68
Differential vs CAD	---	0.50	(2.02)	(1.51)	(2.51)	(0.81)
* CDOR is used for CAD

The accumulated interest rate savings provide a cushion against an unexpected appreciation in the foreign currency versus the Canadian dollar. The extent of this cushion depends on the magnitude of the interest rate differential and the tenor of the debt issue, and is generally quantified through the calculation of currency break-even rates.

Break-Even FX Rates

Break-even rates are provided in the following table on a once-and-for-all basis (i.e., where the foreign currency moves to the break-even rate immediately and stays there until debt maturity), and on a straight-line basis (i.e., a steady movement of the foreign currency to the break-even rate by the debt maturity date). Using a hypothetical Yen issue, the Japanese Yen would have to appreciate above CAD 0.014401 per JPY (69.44 JPY per CAD) on a once-and-for-all basis or above CAD 0.014472 per JPY (69.10 JPY per CAD) on a straight-line basis before the cost of a ten-year unhedged JPY debt issue would exceed an equivalent CAD borrowing.

10-YEAR CURRENCY BREAK-EVEN RATES
ITEM	USD	JPY	EUR	CHF	GBP
CAD/ Unit of Foreign Currency Feb 28 -17	1.3285	0.01184 (84.43)	1.4070	1.3254	1.6490
10-yr historical average	1.1059	0.011247 [88.91]	1.4341	1.1156	1.7730
Once-and-for-all change	1.2725	0.014401 [69.44]	1.6230	1.7014	1.7756
Straight-line change	1.2645	0.014472 [69.10]	1.6340	1.7010	1.7865

B. SENSITIVITY ANALYSIS AND RISK ASSESSMENT

The more volatile a currency, the greater the risk of debt interest variability. Volatilities for each policy currency are summarized in the following table on a one-year and ten-year historical basis. These results show that the JPY and EUR have been the most volatile currencies over the past year and EUR and CHF the most volatile over the past ten years. USD and GBP have been the least volatile overall.

CURRENCY VOLATILITY
VOLATILITY	USD	JPY	EUR	CHF	GBP
Over past year (%)	8.93	12.77	14.80	8.82	8.85
Over past 10 years (%)	10.43	11.25	16.09	14.35	10.36

The sensitivity of IOD to exchange rate volatility is presented in the following table against two widely used statistical measures: a 1 standard deviation, and a 99% confidence level. The results are based on a hypothetical 1% notional exposure for each policy currency (i.e., $3.157 billion). Debt interest impacts have been calculated on both a ten-year amortized basis and on a mark-to-market basis. Under current public sector accounting principles, foreign exchange gains and losses are deferred and amortized over the remaining life of the related debt.

Note: Current year debt interest includes the impact of the coupon differential against Canada: i.e., cost/(saving) in CAD million=> USD:15.8 ; JPY: (63.7); EUR: (47.7); CHF (79.2); GBP: (25.6). Future year over year debt interest impact will differ from the economic impact to the extent that coupon savings are included in base debt interest.

The results for CHF have normalized since the 2015-2016 debt plan as the one year volatility for this currency is now roughly half that of the years prior to 2015. All currencies are once again in a fairly narrow range with respect to their impact on IOD. The results favour the USD, CHF and GBP on an amortized (after 1 year) basis and on a mark to market basis, due to their lower volatilities.

Although the results do show a relatively small risk to current IOD on an amortized basis, as the debt moves closer to maturity and the amortization period becomes shorter, the volatility transmitted to IOD will become much greater. In fact, during the maturity year, the amortized results will equal the mark-to-market impact.

The following table shows the sensitivity of IOD to existing foreign exchange principal exposure assuming a once-and-for-all move from spot to the one year forecast, the one standard deviation, and the 99% confidence level.

The 1 year forecast sensitivity of IOD has increased slightly after moderating for the past few years, trending towards levels seen prior to 2015, when extreme volatility in CHF impacted IOD sensitivity. The 1 standard deviation and 99 percent confidence level of CHF IOD sensitivity is roughly half that of the previous year, while JPY levels are roughly unchanged for 1 standard deviation and higher at the 99% confidence level.

In the following historical foreign exchange rate charts, the vertical axis represents the Canadian dollar price of one foreign exchange currency unit. This means that the foreign currency strengthens when the point in the curve goes up the scale and weakens when the point goes down the scale. The solid horizontal line represents the 10-year average, while the dotted lines represent 1 standard deviation. The two break-even points are also shown on the charts.

APPENDIX 12 - ENERGY MARKET ANALYSIS

NUG SUPPLY

Hourly Data for 2016	Min Hourly Output (MW)	Max Hourly Output (MW)	Mean Hourly Output (MW)
All Hours	138	943	653
Peak Hours	378	943	736
Off-Peak Hours	138	903	585

	Min (MW)	Max (MW)
95% Confidence Interval for All Hours	248	943

The NUG PPAs are long term fixed price contracts for electricity and are thus not influenced by the market price for power. With the existence of surplus baseload generation events over the past few years, OEFC has been working with the IESO to assist in reducing NUG output during off-peak periods when SBG is the highest. From April 1, 2016 to December 31, 2017, total cost-savings through curtailments were $13.5 million

As of February 1, 2017, there is a total of 471 MWs in NUG capacity, 63% from natural gas, 24% from hydro and 13% from heat and wood waste sources. Of the 298 MWs in gas-fired capacity, two contracts with NUGs have been suspended. Iroquios Falls (126 MWs in capacity) has been suspended until April 2017 and Nipigon (32 MWs in capacity) has been suspended until October 2018. During 2017, OEFC will continue to implement curtailments, both contractual and paid, to reduce NUG supply during off-peak periods.

APPENDIX 13 - PERFORMANCE MEASURES

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA FOR AOFA AND XOFA POSITIONS (Transactional Staff - Funding)
1. MERIT CRITERIA
Evaluation of each employee's performance conducted by the person responsible for evaluating the performance of the employee, based on the achievement by the employee of commitments contained in a pre-existing individual performance contract for the employee for 2016-17 including consideration of skills and competencies as well as ethical and professional behavior and compliance with applicable policies in the performance of the employee's commitments. These commitments will include performance of the OFA Investor Relations Plan, as applicable for employees who are active in supporting this plan.
2. PERFORMANCE PAY CRITERIA
a. Team-Based Component - 65% (for directors) and 70% (for others) of performance pay
i)	Timing of Regular Borrowing (65% of team-based component)	Percentile Rank: Ranking of the Province's cost of long-term regular borrowing for the year within the distribution of the daily benchmark cost of funds observed during the year. Issues are grouped by term, and the percentile ranks are weighted by the amount of borrowing done at each term to determine a weighted average percentile rank. The target range for 2016-17 is 45 to 55 percentile, unchanged from last year. Regular borrowing consists of domestic issues and small foreign issues. It excludes Strategic Foreign Borrowing having a defined large size that varies by market. US issues of USD 1 billion or more are deemed to be Strategic. The long term borrowing costs do not include the cost of carry.
ii)	Timing of Strategic Borrowing (10% of team-based component)	Percentile Rank: A ranking similar to the above, capturing the cost of Strategic Foreign Borrowing only. The target range for 2016-17 is 50 to 75 percentile, unchanged from last year.
iii)	Program Execution (20% of team-based component)	An assessment of • The appropriateness of the size of debt issues to keep the program ahead of pace without detracting from the ability to execute future issues; • The appropriateness of the selection of term and market to ensure the market remains receptive to further issues and to manage the maturity schedule; and • Completion of the borrowing program on a timely basis; and • Whether the Province's borrowing for the year falls within the appropriate term range set out in the Financing, Electricity and Debt Management Plan for the year ("Range"). This assessment will include consideration of the reason for any deviations from the Range.

iv)	Investment Return (5% of team-based component)	Actual return for the year on the Province's short-term investment portfolio as compared to the weighted average of four market indices. The weighted average is computed to provide a composite index having approximately a 61-day average term. The target range for 2016-17 is an investment return of-2 to +2 basis points relative to the benchmark, unchanged from the previous year. The following types of investment will be measured: (i) instruments directly issued or guaranteed by the Government of Canada (ii) Canada Mortgage Bonds issued by Canada Housing Trust, (iii) Province of Ontario debt together with (iv) internal and external repos of the foregoing measured investments. Currency exchange contracts may be used to convert eligible short term investments denominated in a foreign currency to Canadian dollars. Interest rate swaps may also be used, provided a CSA agreement with the counterparty is also in place, to reduce credit risk.
b. Individual Component - 35% (for directors) and 30% (for others) of performance pay
An evaluation by the CEO in consultation with the Executive Director, Capital Markets, of the contribution of the individual to the above results (timing of borrowing, debt management, investment return, program execution) in the areas in which the individual has responsibility.

PLAN SUMMARY

The OFA's Investor Relations (IR) group supports Ontario's funding program by developing and executing the Province's investor relations strategy, comprised of two components – marketing and communications, and call program activities. Both components target current and prospective fixed-income investors to inform them of the Province's economic and fiscal policies and outlook, borrowing program (i.e., size, progress, types of issuance) and credit ratings.

In 2016–17, IR call program activities focused on targeting new and existing investors in North America, Europe and Asia. As at March 31, 2017 the Province will have held meetings with 143 investors, compared to 135 in 2015–16 and an average 77 meetings a year from 2009–10 to 2014–15. This was the highest number of meetings in a year since IR benchmarking began in 2009. In 2017–18, IR will continue to meet with domestic and international investors, with roadshows planned for North America, Europe, Latin America (LATAM) and Asia.

The proposed call program will remain flexible to changes in the political landscape and market conditions which may affect the amount of time devoted to IR activities.

2016–17 YEAR IN REVIEW

Marketing and Communications

OFA Website

The OFA website is one of the most important tools IR has to market and communicate the Province's economic, fiscal and borrowing status to current and prospective investors. IR continues to receive positive feedback regarding the OFA website from dealers who indicated that the website is best-in-class compared to other provincial issuers.

A website section that received significant attention in 2016–17 was Green Bonds. Throughout the year, the Green Bonds section was updated with multiple materials, including the OFA's second Green Bond newsletter, updated project information, an updated Green Bond presentation and a case study following the launch of Ontario's third Green Bond in February 2017.

As of December 31, 2016, there were 363 subscribers on the OFA e-mail alert list. The website's e-mail subscription service is promoted in IR products and the CEO's Corner. Individuals representing investment dealers and institutional investors comprised the largest group of subscribers, followed by private individuals. Individuals representing various public sector organizations, credit rating agencies and financial media also subscribe.

Most visitors to the OFA website were from North America. The Homepage section has become the most viewed part of the OFA website followed by the Bond Issues Database, Green Bonds and the Borrowing Program sections. The CEO's Corner, Green Bonds (FAQ, Presentation and Framework), Bond Profiles, Investor Fact Sheet, IR Presentation, Schedule of Debt and OFA Annual Report comprise the list of most downloaded materials.

Below is a summary of OFA website statistics for calendar year 2016:

* Total number of Sessions within the date range. A session is the period time a user is actively engaged with the website. All usage data (Screen Views, Events, etc.) is associated with a session. As soon as one session ends, there is then an opportunity to start a new session. A session ends after the visitor either closes the browser, is inactive for 30 minutes or after midnight.

 Users that have had at least one session within the selected date range. Includes both new and returning users.

 Pageviews is the total number of pages viewed. Repeated views of a single page are counted.

Information Products

The IR Presentation continued to evolve as investors' information needs changed amidst topical concerns. For 2016–17, the presentation emphasized the liquidity and performance of Ontario's Bonds, and Ontario's lower borrowing requirements over the medium term. The Presentation received positive feedback from dealers and investors for its content.

IR continued to produce quarterly Investor Fact Sheets. IR also continued publishing bond profiles ("One-Pagers") on the OFA website to highlight large international and Green Bond issues. IR contributed substantively to the development and coordination of the Ministry of Finance's quarterly finances (e.g., Budget and Fall Economic Outlook and Fiscal Review) by ensuring these communication materials aligned to the government's messages while meeting the information needs of the fixed-income community. Additionally, IR produced a second Green Bond newsletter reporting on the Province's Green Bond program.

Media Relations and Conferences

Gadi Mayman presented at the BMO 12th Annual Government Finance Conference in Toronto. Members of the OFA's technical team participated at the 2016 RBC Green Bond conference in Toronto, the Bloomberg Canadian Fixed Income Conference in New York, the Environmental Finance: Green Bonds America 2016 Conference also in New York, the Euromoney Global Borrowers and Bond Investors Forum, the Responsible Investors 2016 Conference and the Environmental Finance: Green Bonds Europe 2016 in London, U.K., as well as the HSBC 11th Annual AAA Issuer and Investor Summit 2016 in Vienna.

In addition, Environmental Finance profiled Ontario's Green Bond program in January 2017. The OFA also put together a case study showcasing Ontario's Green Bond program for a publication coordinated by SEB. Most recently, Mike Manning attended the G7 Financial Centres for Green and Sustainable Finance program in Milan.

2016–17 Call Program

In 2016–17, the OFA had a record number of meetings with domestic and international investors (see "2016–17 Investor Meetings" in the Appendix for a complete list). Similar to recent years, the pace of call program activity remained robust. The OFA met with a variety of investors, including asset managers, banks and pension plans, interested in the relative safety and liquidity of Ontario bonds. In addition to regular roadshows, IR conducted Green Bond roadshows in Western Canada, Montreal, Toronto and New York. For the Canadian Green Bond roadshows, the OFA included senior staff from the Ministry of Environment and Climate Change to provide enhanced information on the Province's environmental policies and initiatives.

Roadshows and meetings were held in North America, Europe and Asia, aimed primarily at maintaining relationships with new and existing investors. This included two Ministerial-led trips to New York City and Europe (London and Paris). The Province's technical team travelled to the U.S., Europe, Asia, Western Canada and Montreal. CEO's IR activities included investor meetings in Toronto, presentations to the salesforces of Ontario's domestic syndicate, a presentation at the 2016 BMO Capital Markets 12th Annual Government Finance Conference in Toronto, as well as a presentation at TD's Central Bank Luncheon in the fall.

As at February 28, 2017, the Province held 143 investor meetings (See "Benchmarking" below for additional information).

As at March 31, 2017, the total amount budgeted for IR activities in 2016–17 was $160,500.00, which included travel, as well as shipping, printing and translation services. Actual travel-related expenses amounted to $40,471.50, while the actual cost of printing, shipping and translation was $10,173.86. Accordingly, total expenses amounted to $50,645.36, which was $109,854.64 below the initial budgeted amount.

Minister's Events

In April 2016, the Minister, Chief of Staff, Deputy Minister, and the CEO of the OFA travelled to London and Paris to meet with fixed income and direct investors to promote Ontario's bonds, as well as investment in the Province. The Minister, Chief of Staff, Deputy Minister and CEO of the OFA also travelled to New York City to meet with some of Ontario's largest investors. The Minister also met with Ontario's syndicate in the fall.

Benchmarking

As of March 31, 2017 the Province will have held meetings with 143 investors, compared to 135 in 2015–16 and an average of 77 meetings a year from 2009–10 to 2014–15. This would be the highest number of meetings in a year since IR benchmarking began in 2009.

2017–18 PLAN

Introduction

Ontario's long-term borrowing is forecast to be $23.3 billion for 2017–18 and $28.7 billion for 2018–19, as of the Province's Third Quarter Finances. As borrowing requirements are expected to remain sizeable over the medium term, IR will continue to monitor global financial market conditions and be flexible to ensure roadshows remain viable for both the Province and its investors.

To maintain and expand the existing investor base, the focus for 2017–18 will be on technical team roadshows in North America (Canada and the U.S.), as well as roadshows to Europe, LATAM and Asia. The OFA will attempt to take advantage of opportunities where several investors meet at one location. Examples include the BMO Government Finance Conference where investors attend from around the world. Roadshows will be led by a senior member of the Province's funding team and a senior economist or a fiscal representative. Technical team initiatives will be transaction-focused to support the borrowing program. IR will also look for opportunities to meet with investors interested in the Province's Green Bond program. IR will continue to produce communication products to keep investors and other members of the global financial community apprised of Green Bond developments and issuances as necessary, and further adapt its outreach efforts to Green Bond investors to meet the needs of this new program.

Finally, IR will continue to provide investor information products, investigate opportunities to ensure investor information expectations are met, and work to increase the Province's visibility in the capital markets.

Marketing and Communications

OFA Website

IR will continue to look at how to increase on the volume of visitors to the website.

Information Products

The IR Presentation will continue to be message-driven in 2017–18, and remain current and consistent with economic and fiscal developments, borrowing climate and audience needs (e.g., domestic versus international). Borrowing messaging will focus on strategy, performance, and liquidity.

Based on feedback from investors and the fixed income community, IR products will continue to evolve to ensure investors' needs are met. Products will continue to highlight specific attributes of bond transactions, inaugural issues, and general borrowing program commentary. Products will be uploaded onto the OFA website simultaneously with an e-mail sent to subscribers alerting them of the posting.

Media Relations

IR will continue to investigate opportunities to participate in media publications' roundtables or other media events (e.g. Euromoney, International Financing Review, EuroWeek, Bloomberg, Thomson/Reuters, Institutional Investor, and KangaNews). These indirect marketing options provide an effective way to supplement roadshows.

Calls could be led by the CEO or funding managers, and focus on the attributes of new bond issues.

Exposure has also been received through tombstone ads published by underwriters following bond issues or announcements. Accordingly, IR will continue to encourage dealers to include Ontario in their advertisements.

Green Bonds

IR maintained an active participation in the Green bond program. In January 2017, the Province of Ontario successfully priced its third Global Canadian Dollar (CAD) Green Bond for $800 million. In preparation for the issue, IR updated the Green Bonds section of the website with new project information and a presentation for a net roadshow, as well as a case study following pricing of the bond.

In December 2016, as a follow up to the province's second Green Bond, IR published its second annual Green Bond Newsletter to the OFA's website. These products proved to be popular with investors and those seeking more information on Green Bonds. IR also coordinated the communications strategy with Ministry of Finance.

2017–18 Proposed Call Program

Canada

The Province will continue to meet with domestic investors in Toronto, Western Canada and Montreal. In April, we will present at RBC's Green Bond conference in Toronto. Post-Budget, we will present at BMO's Government Finance Conferences in both Montreal and Toronto. The Province will also present at TD's Central Bank event in Toronto in the fall. The Minister will meet with Ontario's domestic syndicate in the fall.

U.S.

Roadshows are planned to the U.S. to continue to support USD Global issuance. U.S. investor participation in U.S. Globals since 2002 has averaged about 45 per cent. The fiscal year will start with a Ministerial roadshow to New York. We anticipate visiting New York for a Green Conference in the fall, as well as potentially participating in Bloomberg's Canadian Fixed Income conference in September. Later in the year, we will cover the mid-west with two potential roadshows to Minneapolis, and Ohio and Michigan.

It should be noted that the current uncertainty in the political landscape may hinder the ability to complete all proposed roadshows.

Summary of U.S. Priorities:

1. Minister's trip to New York City
2. Bloomberg Canadian Fixed Income Conference – New York
3. Environmental Finance Green Bonds Americas Conference
4. Technical team trip to Minneapolis

5. Technical team trip to Ohio and Michigan

Asia

Investors from Asia continue to represent an important market for Ontario bond investors. A technical roadshow to Seoul and Tokyo to meet with key investors in the region is being considered. The trip will allow for technical meetings with major investors, and those not previously met in 2016.

Alternatively, a trip to Beijing, Hong Kong, Kuala Lumpur and Jakarta is also under consideration. While we've visited investors in Beijing and Hong Kong previously, it would be the first time meeting with investors in Kuala Lumpur and Jakarta. Of note, Bank Indonesia bought $400 million of the 5-year USD 2.5 billion we issued in February 2017.

Europe

Europe remains a target market for the OFA. Based on meetings in 2016–17, and recent purchase data, European investors continue to show significant demand for Ontario bonds. The Annual Plan includes a Minister-led trip planned to London and Frankfurt, and a technical roadshow to Amsterdam, The Hague, Paris, Geneva and Zurich. In June, we plan on attending a number of conferences ahead of the Euromoney conference in London, one is a one-day event organized by TD, and the other is a Green conference organized by Environmental Finance.

LATAM

The Province will attend a conference in Panama targeting central banks, sovereign wealth funds, public institutions and pension funds from the LATAM region. This would be the Province's first technical roadshow to the region and will be an efficient venue to meet several LATAM investors rather than travelling to individual countries.

Benchmarking

Benchmarks will continue to be used to track the success of IR's initiatives. Specific objectives are defined in this annual plan and will be measured against actual results throughout the year.

Three key benchmarks will continue be used, as described below. These benchmarks will be assessed at the end of the year, and consideration will be given to adding new benchmarks if appropriate.

Targeting New Investors

Performance is measured by the number of new investors met throughout the year. IR also measures the number of new investors in each target investor type (e.g., asset manager, central bank) and tracks bond purchases after meetings, however, this is not included as a benchmark given the number of variables investors consider in purchasing securities. As in the past, IR will track investor feedback from meetings, including purchase activity influenced by the meetings.

IR will continue to produce distribution statistics based on investment reports received from dealers for Global bonds and Green Bonds. These statistics are used to track investor purchases, and to determine priorities in the annual IR plan.

Effectiveness of Communications

To benchmark IR's success in providing the type and frequency of information investors desire when deciding to purchase Ontario bonds, feedback from dealers will be solicited regularly and after roadshows, as in previous years. Messages, supporting materials and the website will be assessed against research undertaken to determine investor information preferences.

Website Usage

Benchmarks on website usage will continue to be used in 2017–18. Privacy constraints limit the ability to measure who is accessing the website and what information is being viewed. Specifically, IR will aim to increase the overall amount of traffic year-over-year, and the number of subscribers. Other data being tracked include traffic following significant events (e.g., Budget) and posting of new information (e.g., CEO's Corner video) to identify the most popular products on the website. IR will seek to increase the subscriber base by continuing to promote the service on IR materials and by offering new services through the website to drive traffic. IR will also more actively promote the e-mail alert service in investor meetings by explicitly asking people to subscribe.

APPENDIX 15 - 2017-18 PROCUREMENT PROCESS FOR UNDERWRITING SERVICES

Selection of Underwriters

Domestic Syndicate:

There is a three-stage process involving (i) identification of appropriate dealers; (ii) annual evaluation of identified dealers to determine the percentage allocation of commissions as between them; and (iii) selection of appropriate dealers for each transaction.

(i) Identification:

- Syndicate selected using independent statistical information published by the Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada (IIROC) to identify dealers who are the major traders in Ontario bonds based on volume (volume levels must be in the multi-billions of dollars).

(ii) Evaluation:

- The OFA conducts an annual review of the dealers in the domestic syndicate using fifteen quantitative and qualitative scoring categories;
- The scoring of each dealer relative to the syndicate group is used to allocate commissions for the following fiscal year.

(iii) Allocation of Transactions

- During the fiscal year, dealers from the syndicate are selected for the individual bond issues based on factors relevant at the time including performance on previous issues, investor demand and orders dealer recommendations for issuance, including term and new issue spreads. In addition, transactions are allocated so that the total commissions paid to each dealer for issues over the course of the year corresponds to its allocation as determined by the results of the annual evaluation scores.
- The OFA reserves the right to reduce or eliminate use of a dealer in-year, based on performance or unsuitable conduct.
- Green bonds will use the domestic syndicate for domestic issues but will use a separate domestic dealer selection process. For the first three Ontario green bond issues, syndicate selection was based on a scoring system based on deal structure, marketing plans and other factors.

Commissions:

- There is a standardized commission schedule for syndicated domestic provincial bond issues used by all provinces in Canada. The OFA will continue to use its influence to reduce the standardized commissions where in its opinion this can be done without compromising service and cooperation.
- Commissions will be tracked on a continuous basis throughout the year and independently verified by OFA staff to ensure that they are correct and consistent with the commission allocations determined at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Domestic Non-syndicated:

- For non-syndicated transactions the OFA contacts some or all members of the domestic syndicate to gauge market interest.
- The dealers respond with offers and the OFA selects the transactions it wants based on the best terms and pricing offered, up to the volume required. The OFA has no obligation to accept an offer. It evaluates each offer on its merits based on its terms, costs, market conditions and borrowing requirements.

Reverse Inquiry/Unsolicited:

- Investor approaches the Province on a confidential basis through a dealer (generally a reverse inquiry deal is a Canadian deal done by a member of the domestic syndicate).
- The OFA has no obligation to accept any offer. It evaluates each offer on its merits based on its terms, costs, market conditions and borrowing requirements. It may also negotiate improved terms.

International Market Transactions:

- International dealers are selected from the major international and domestic firms that have capability in the target market and capacity for the volumes required.
- International dealer selection is based on information obtained from the dealers and from independent data including: strength of dealer sales force and ability to place Ontario bonds with end investors; mitigation of credit risk; cost-effective swap capability; and a successful track record on similar bond issues.
- Consideration is given to dealers with a proven distribution capacity and a platform in the prospective market.
- Availability of attractive swap terms is also assessed as part of the selection process.
- Competitive pricing is a key criterion.
- There is no standardized commission schedule for international transactions.
- The OFA will benchmark commissions against the lowest commission structure used by comparable borrowers in the relevant international markets, so only the lowest available commission is paid.

Approvals:

- The underwriting services procurement framework is approved annually in the Financing, Debt & Electricity Management Plan.
- Approvals for individual deals is obtained in accordance with trading limits established by the OFA which designate approval levels based on the value of the issue and its term.
- Increasing levels of authority are required for approval as the size of the bond issue increases.
- Director level approval is required for any transaction valued at above $750 Million.

In-Year Changes:

In the event of a significant change in the OFA's procurement process described above for underwriting services, OFA management will report back to the OFA Board.

Foreword

Each year, the Province releases the Public Accounts to update Ontarians on our end-of-year financial position. The Annual Report that accompanies the financial statements provides transparency and accountability for the dollars we spend. Ontario is a recognized leader in financial reporting. The C.D. Howe Institute, an independent research organization that focuses on support for economically sound public policy practices, has acknowledged the consistent basis used by Ontario for our Budget, Estimates and Public Accounts as a best practice for supporting transparency and accountability.

I am pleased to present the Public Accounts for the year 2015–16, which confirm that our government's plan to achieve fiscal balance by 2017–18 is working.

At $5.0 billion, Ontario's deficit is $3.5 billion lower than projected in the 2015 Budget. This marks the seventh year in a row that Ontario has beaten its deficit target.

When the global economic recession hit, our government made a deliberate choice to invest in our economy and stimulate growth. Since then, Ontario has created almost 600,000 net new jobs and the unemployment rate declined to an eight-year low of 6.4 per cent in July 2016. Ontario's economy continues to grow and is expected to remain one of the fastest growing in Canada over the next two years.

Although we have made considerable progress since the recession, there is still hard work ahead to eliminate the deficit. Our government will make the tough but necessary decisions needed to ensure our province continues to grow. As President of the Treasury Board, it is my role to lead this effort and to help create a modern and open government — one that is fiscally responsible, uses evidence to track performance and is focused on results.

In the spirit of openness and increased transparency, this year we have created new visualization tools to help Ontarians understand the Province's finances. To access these new tools, and to see the full Public Accounts online, visit Ontario.ca/publicaccounts.

Making every dollar count

In 2014, we implemented a new fiscal planning and expenditure management approach. Through the Program Review, Renewal, and Transformation (PRRT) process, we are looking across ministries to achieve better value for money.

We have deliberately taken a fair and equitable approach, allowing us to continue to make strategic investments in physical infrastructure such as roads and transit, as well as in social capital through the talents and skills of Ontarians, all while protecting the services on which Ontarians rely.

By prioritizing cross-ministry collaboration in our planning and policy development, we are undertaking major transformation and efficiency initiatives that will help free up resources and allow us to invest in key priorities. This means asking tough questions and making tough choices about services that are not linked to government priorities, serve no clear public interest or fail to achieve their desired outcomes.

For example, transfer payments to organizations including consolidated broader public sector organizations account for approximately 82 per cent of the government's expenditures. The Transfer Payment Administration Modernization (TPAM) project will streamline government transfers to hospitals, school boards, municipalities, non-profits and all other transfer payment recipients. It will not only improve the way we work with these organizations, but will also make their jobs easier by reducing their administrative burdens. TPAM will also help us get better value for our money by emphasizing data and evidence when making funding decisions.

Making services simpler, faster and easier

Through Ontario's Digital Government strategy, we are modernizing government for the digital age, using technology to make services simpler, easier and more convenient for people. This work will improve citizens' online experience with government and deliver better value for public money.

We are also finding innovative ways to support how we drive change across the government. In 2015, we established the Centre of Excellence for Evidence-Based Decision Making. The centre is setting standards for the use of evidence. Its mandate is to build capacity to assess program performance, using evidence to inform choices and lead change in critical public services.

Modern infrastructure and a dynamic business climate

Ontario must build and maintain its infrastructure to remain economically strong and competitive.

The Province is continuing to pursue opportunities to unlock economic value from its assets. Unlocking value from provincial assets is providing resources to invest in new transit and transportation infrastructure, and is helping to expand the economy and improve competitiveness and productivity. In short, it will help to create jobs for Ontarians.

We're investing more than $137 billion over the next 10 years in public infrastructure such as roads, bridges, public transit, hospitals and schools. This investment builds on previous commitments, resulting in a total of approximately $160 billion in public infrastructure investments over 12 years, starting in 2014–15. This is the largest investment in public infrastructure in the Province's history. Planned investments will support more than 110,000 jobs, on average, each year.

The government is building the infrastructure that is needed today and tomorrow. These investments will help manage congestion, connect people, and improve the economy and Ontarians' quality of life.

In addition, our government continues to create a dynamic and innovative business climate. As of August 31, 2016, the 10-year, $2.7 billion Jobs and Prosperity Fund is helping to create and retain more than 22,000 jobs and is attracting more than $2.2 billion in investments. Our government is reducing business costs, keeping tax rates competitive, building strategic partnerships, helping businesses go global, strengthening the financial services sector and investing in training and education.

We have an ambitious agenda to Build Ontario Up. Our balanced budget plan is vitally important, and Public Accounts is the tool by which we report our progress. Working to eliminate the deficit and taking a balanced and disciplined approach to our fiscal plan over the last three and a half years has allowed us to deliver better services and outcomes to Ontarians, and help people in their everyday lives. We are striving to build a province that is the best place to live, from childhood to retirement — a place where everyone has the opportunity to realize their full potential.

Introduction

The Annual Report is a key element of the Public Accounts of the Province of Ontario and is central to demonstrating the Province's transparency in reporting its financial activities and position as well as its accountability for financial resources.

This Annual Report presents Ontario's financial results and position for the year ending March 31, 2016, against the approved 2015 Budget. Specifically, it compares the Province's actual financial results for the 2015–16 fiscal year to the Budget plan presented in April 2015 and explains major variances.

This year, in addition to providing a comparison of actual to planned results, the Annual Report has been enhanced in several areas to further support transparency and accountability for readers:

- It expands the comparison of the current year's results to those of the prior year, and includes analysis of the trends over a five-year period as related to several financial items, including an expanded discussion on balance sheet items.

- It provides a description of the Province's capital assets, reflecting their importance in service delivery and their impact on the Province's financial condition.

- It includes a discussion of key risks that could impact the Province's financial results.

As in previous years, the Annual Report sets out and analyzes trends in a number of key financial ratios over the past several years.

The additional discussion and analysis included in this year's Annual Report will help users of the Consolidated Financial Statements better understand the impacts of economic conditions and government decisions on the Province's financial results and position.

Producing the Public Accounts of Ontario requires the teamwork and collaboration of many stakeholders across Ontario's public sector. The Office of the Auditor General plays a critical role in auditing and reporting on the Province's financial statements, and the Standing Committee on the Public Accounts also plays an important role in providing legislative oversight and guidance. I would like to thank everyone for their contributions.

We welcome your comments on the Public Accounts. Please share your thoughts by email at infoTBS@ontario.ca, or by writing to the Office of the Provincial Controller,

Guide to the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts of the Province of Ontario comprise this Annual Report and three supporting volumes.

The Annual Report includes a Financial Statement Discussion and Analysis, the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Province and other supporting schedules and disclosures.

Financial Statement Discussion and Analysis

The first section of the Annual Report is the Financial Statement Discussion and Analysis section, which:

- Compares the Province's financial results to both the approved Budget for the year and results for the previous year;
- Shows trends in key financial items and indicators of financial condition;
- Sets out key potential risks to financial results and explains how the government manages them;
- Includes descriptions of various assets and liabilities on the statement of financial position; and
- Presents non-financial activities results and discusses important initiatives related to enhancing transparency and accountability.

The Consolidated Financial Statements

The Consolidated Financial Statements show the Province's financial position at the end of the previous fiscal year, its financial activities during the reporting period and its financial position at the end of the fiscal year. The statements are linked, and figures that appear in one statement may affect another.

The Province's financial statements are presented on a consolidated basis, meaning that the Province's statement of financial position and statement of operations reflect the combination of ministry results as well as financial results for entities that are controlled by the government. Therefore, reported revenues and expenses of the Province can be affected directly by the activities of ministries as well as the performance of controlled entities such as government business enterprises (GBEs) and broader public sector (BPS) organizations such as hospitals, school boards and colleges. In addition, the Province's results are also affected by transfer payments made to non-consolidated entities, such as municipalities and universities.

The financial statements comprise:

- The Consolidated Statement of Operations, which provides a summary of the government's revenue for the period less its expenses, and shows whether the government incurred an operating deficit or surplus for the year, in comparison to its approved Budget plan as presented on April 23, 2015, as well as the financial results for the prior fiscal period. The annual surplus/deficit has an impact on the Province's financial position.

- The Consolidated Statement of Financial Position, which reports the Province's assets and liabilities and is also known as the balance sheet. The Province's total liabilities include debt and other long-term financing. Financial assets include cash, short-term investments and investment in GBEs. The difference between total liabilities and financial assets is the Province's net debt, which provides a measure of the future government revenues that will be required to pay for the government's past transactions. Non-financial assets, mainly tangible capital assets such as highways, bridges and buildings, are subtracted from net debt to arrive at the accumulated deficit. An operating deficit in the year increases the accumulated deficit.

- The Consolidated Statement of Change in Net Debt, which shows how the Province's net debt position changed during the year. The main factors increasing net debt are the annual deficit and additions to tangible capital assets, which increase liabilities.

- The Consolidated Statement of Change in Accumulated Deficit, which is a cumulative total of all the Province's annual deficits and surpluses to date. It is mainly impacted by the annual surplus or deficit in a year.

- The Consolidated Statement of Cash Flow, which shows the sources and uses of cash and cash equivalents over the year. Two major sources of cash are revenues and borrowings. Uses of cash include funding for operating costs, investments in capital assets and debt repayment. The statement is presented in what is referred to as the indirect method, meaning that it starts with the annual surplus or deficit and reconciles that to the cash flow from operations by adding or subtracting non-cash items, such as amortization of tangible capital assets. As well, it also shows cash used to acquire tangible capital assets and investments, as well as cash generated from financing activities.

When reading the Consolidated Financial Statements, it is essential to also read the accompanying notes and schedules, which summarize the Province's significant accounting policies and give more information on underlying financial activities, market value of investments, contractual obligations and risks. Commentary is also provided on possible future changes to accounting standards.

Other elements of the Annual Report

- In management's Statement of Responsibility, the government acknowledges its responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements and the Financial Statement Discussion and Analysis. The Statement, which appears on page 5, outlines the accounting policies and practices used in preparing the financial statements and acknowledges the government's responsibility for financial management systems and controls.

- For the 2015–16 Public Accounts, the government legislated the accounting treatment for pension assets of its jointly sponsored pension plans. Note 18 to the Consolidated Financial Statements includes additional information about this change.

- The Auditor General's Report, which appears on page 45, expresses an opinion under the Auditor General Act as to whether the statements present fairly the annual financial results and financial position of the government in accordance with Canadian Public Sector Accounting Standards.

Supporting volumes

Volume 1 contains ministry statements and detailed schedules of debt and other items. Individual ministry statements compare actual expenses to the amounts appropriated by the Legislative Assembly. Appropriations are made through the Estimates, Supplementary Estimates and annual Supply Act (as modified by any Treasury Board Orders), other statutes and any special warrants. The ministry statements include amounts appropriated to fund certain provincial organizations, including hospitals, school boards and colleges. The financial results of all provincial organizations included in the government reporting entity in accordance with Public Sector Accounting Standards are consolidated with those of the Province to produce the Consolidated Financial Statements in accordance with the accounting policies described in Note 1 to the statements.

Volume 2 contains the individual financial statements of significant provincial corporations, boards and commissions that are part of the government's reporting entity, as well as other miscellaneous financial statements.

Volume 3 contains the details of payments made by ministries to vendors (including sales tax) and transfer payment recipients that exceed certain thresholds, including payments to suppliers of temporary help services; payments made directly to a supplier by the ministry for employee benefits; travel payments for employees; total payments for grants, subsidies or assistance to persons, businesses, non-commercial institutions and other government bodies; other payments to suppliers of goods and services; and statutory payments.

Statement of Responsibility

The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared by the Government of Ontario in accordance with legislation and the accounting principles for governments recommended by the Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada (CPA Canada).

The government accepts responsibility for the objectivity and integrity of these Consolidated Financial Statements and the Financial Statement Discussion and Analysis.

The government is also responsible for maintaining systems of financial management and internal control to provide reasonable assurance that transactions recorded in the Consolidated Financial Statements are within statutory authority, assets are properly safeguarded and reliable financial information is available for preparation of these Consolidated Financial Statements.

The Consolidated Financial Statements have been audited by the Auditor General of Ontario in accordance with the Auditor General Act and Canadian Auditing Standards. Her report appears on page 45 of this document.

Comparison to the 2015 Budget plan

The Province of Ontario recorded a deficit of $5.0 billion for the 2015–16 fiscal year, an improvement of $3.5 billion from the $8.5 billion projected in the 2015 Budget plan (see Table 1).

The improvement over plan was due to revenues that were $4.0 billion above forecast, at $128.4 billion. This was largely due to higher-than-expected taxation revenues and net revenues from the first phase of broadening Hydro One ownership.

Despite the challenges stemming from an uncertain global economic setting, Ontario's economy grew, with real gross domestic product (GDP) increasing by 2.6 per cent in 2015, slightly below the forecast of 2.7 per cent in the 2015 Budget.

Total spending for 2015–16 came in at $133.4 billion, which was $1.5 billion higher than forecast in the 2015 Budget plan. This increase from plan was due mainly to the change in the Province's accounting treatment for pension assets of jointly sponsored pension plans.

The government identified and acted on a number of initiatives in the 2015 Budget to modernize public services, improve outcomes for Ontarians and support the Province's fiscal objectives. Savings from these and other initiatives identified through Program Review, Renewal and Transformation (PRRT) are reflected in all of the program expense lines in the 2015–16 results.

Comparison to the 2014–15 fiscal year

Provincial revenues were up $9.8 billion, or 8.3 per cent, from the previous year (see Table 1). This increase was due in part to nominal GDP growth of 3.5 per cent, which contributed to higher taxation revenues. Higher transfers from the federal government, particularly Canada Health Transfer, Canada Social Transfer and Equalization payments, also increased revenues.

Also contributing to year-over-year revenue growth was the completion of the first phase of Hydro One share sales in 2015–16 through an initial public offering (IPO). This transaction and its fiscal impacts are discussed in more detail in "Broadening Hydro One ownership" on page 14.

Year-over-year, total spending rose by $4.6 billion, or 3.5 per cent, going from $128.8 billion to $133.4 billion. Increases in the health care, children's and social services, and justice sectors, as well as other program areas, accounted for most of the increase. Interest on debt rose by 3.1 per cent, from $10.6 billion to $11.0 billion, reflecting financing costs for the Province's debt. In addition, the change in the Province's accounting treatment for pension assets accounted for $1.5 billion of the year-over-year variance.

As a result of stronger relative growth in revenue than in spending, the annual deficit fell from $10.3 billion in 2014–15 to $5.0 billion in 2015–16, reflecting an improvement of 51.2 per cent.

For the 2015-16 Public Accounts, the Province's opening pension asset balance was adjusted to reflect a legislated change in accounting treatment for pension assets of jointly sponsored pension plans[1]. As a result, net debt — the difference between the Province's liabilities and financial assets — grew by $20.6 billion during the year. Excluding the $10.7 billion impact of this change in accounting treatment for pension assets related to jointly sponsored pension plans, total liabilities increased by $10.9 billion which was partially offset by a $1.0 billion increase in financial assets.

The net book value of capital assets such as roads and bridges owned by the Province grew by $5.4 billion during the year, reflecting new capital investments. The accumulated deficit rose by $6.1 billion, mainly as a result of the annual deficit of $5.0 billion and other adjustments.

[1] See Note 18 to the Consolidate Financial Statement.

Cash flow during the year was used to fund the annual deficit of $5.0 billion, provide $10.9 billion for investment in capital assets, repay maturing debt of $21.9 billion and cover other cash items. These needs were partially covered with funds borrowed before the end of 2014–15, including pre-borrowing for 2015–16, for a total of $12.4 billion in new financing.

Revenue

Comparison to the 2015 Budget plan

In the 2015 calendar year, Ontario's real GDP grew by a solid 2.6 per cent, driven by a boost from exports, business investments and sustained growth in household spending. Growth was very close to the 2.7 per cent forecast in the 2015 Budget.

The robust growth was supported by solid economic expansion in the United States and favourable shifts in key external factors, including reduced oil prices, a more competitive Canadian dollar and low interest rates.

Revenues for 2015–16 came in at $128.4 billion, or 3.2 per cent higher than forecast in the 2015 Budget. See Chart 1 for a breakdown of revenues by source.

Excluding the impacts of the sale of Hydro One shares, as discussed on page 14:

- Taxation revenues were $1.7 billion, or 2.0 per cent higher than projected in the 2015 Budget. Personal income tax revenues were $0.8 billion higher, reflecting stronger-than-projected 2015 tax assessments. The strong housing market in 2015 contributed to a $0.8 billion increase in combined sales tax and land transfer tax revenues.

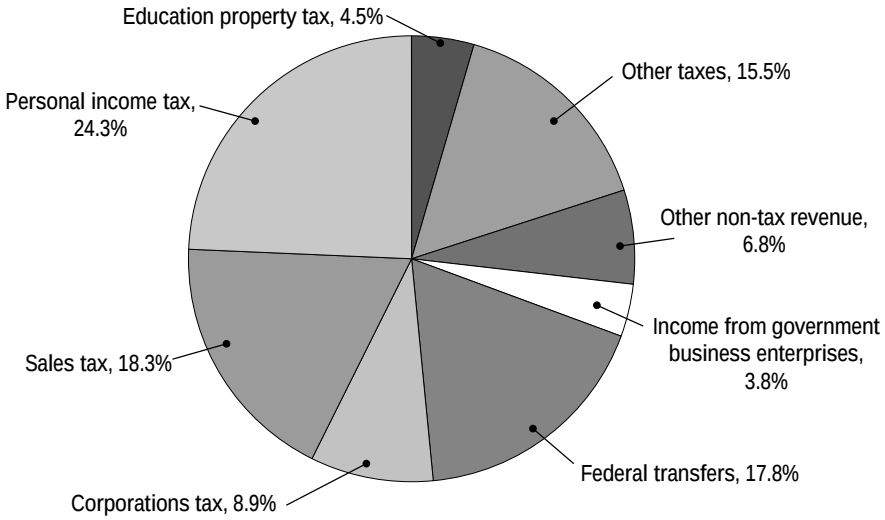
- Income from GBEs was $0.6 billion higher, reflecting higher-than-projected returns from Ontario Power Generation Inc., the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation and the Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

- Other non-tax revenues were $0.3 billion higher on a net basis, mainly reflecting higher recoveries of prior year expenditures and higher fiscally neutral Power Supply Contract Recoveries.

Another factor was an increase from plan of $1.5 billion in net revenues arising from the completion of the first phase of broadening Hydro One ownership.

Transfers from the Government of Canada were close to the 2015 Budget estimate.

2015–16 revenue by source ($128.4 billion) Chart 1



Percentages may not add to 100 per cent due to rounding.

Comparison to prior year and earlier years

Total revenues were up $9.8 billion, or 8.3 per cent, from the previous year.

Excluding the impacts of the sale of Hydro One shares, as discussed below:

- Taxation revenues grew by $6.8 billion, or 8.3 per cent, reflecting economic growth, including a strong 2015 housing market. Prior year adjustments that lowered 2014–15 corporations tax revenues and boosted 2015–16 Harmonized Sales Tax (HST) revenues also contributed to stronger year-over-year growth.

- Net income from GBEs declined in 2015–16 by $0.2 billion, mainly due to lower net income from Ontario Power Generation after a one-time gain from 2014–15. This was partially offset by higher net income growth from the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation and the Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

Higher net revenues from asset optimization arising from the first phase of broadening Hydro One ownership accounted for $2.0 billion of the increase in Provincial revenues.

Higher transfers under the Canada Health Transfer, Canada Social Transfer and Equalization programs accounted for most of the $1.2 billion year-over-year increase in Government of Canada transfers.

Broadening Hydro One ownership

In November 2015, the Province completed the first phase of its plan to broaden Hydro One ownership. It sold approximately 16 per cent of the Province's outstanding Hydro One common shares at a price of $20.50 per share through an IPO and through related share sales to electricity sector union trusts. As a result, as at March 31, 2016, the Province owned about 84 per cent of the outstanding common shares in Hydro One.

The Province reported a gain of $0.8 billion from the sale of Hydro One shares as well as a deferred gain of $48 million in connection with sales to electricity sector union trusts.

The Hydro One IPO had additional impacts. Prior to the IPO, Hydro One was exempt from taxation under the federal Income Tax Act and the provincial Taxation Act, 2007, and instead made payments in lieu of corporate taxes (corporate PILs) to the Province.

Hydro One's tax-exempt status ended as a result of the IPO, and it exited the corporate PILs regime to become subject to federal and provincial taxes. Immediately before that occurred, the entity was deemed to have disposed of its assets for proceeds equal to the assets' fair market value.

As a result of this deemed disposition, before exiting the corporate PILs regime Hydro One had to make a payment to the Province through the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation under the Electricity Act, 1998, related to the income and capital gains arising from the difference between the assets' fair value and tax value. This one-time payment to the Province, referred to as the departure tax, was $2.6 billion. Hydro One also paid the Province $0.2 billion in additional corporate PILs in connection with leaving the corporate PILs regime.

These one-time payments did not affect the Province's annual deficit, as the additional revenue was offset by an equal reduction in Hydro One's net income, which is consolidated in the Province's financial statements. The Province continues to consolidate Hydro One according to its proportionate share ownership.

Hydro One is now subject to corporate income taxes. The transition into the corporate income tax regime also resulted in Hydro One recognizing a deferred tax recovery based on the fair market value of its assets that increased the Province's reported revenues by $2.4 billion. The deferred tax asset reflects the fact that cash taxes payable by Hydro One, including those payable to the Province, will be reduced for some period into the future.

Under the Trillium Trust Act, 2014, net revenue gains from the disposition of Hydro One shares are allocated to the Trillium Trust. See "Transparency and Accountability" on page 40, and Volume 1 of the Public Accounts for more details.

Revenue trend

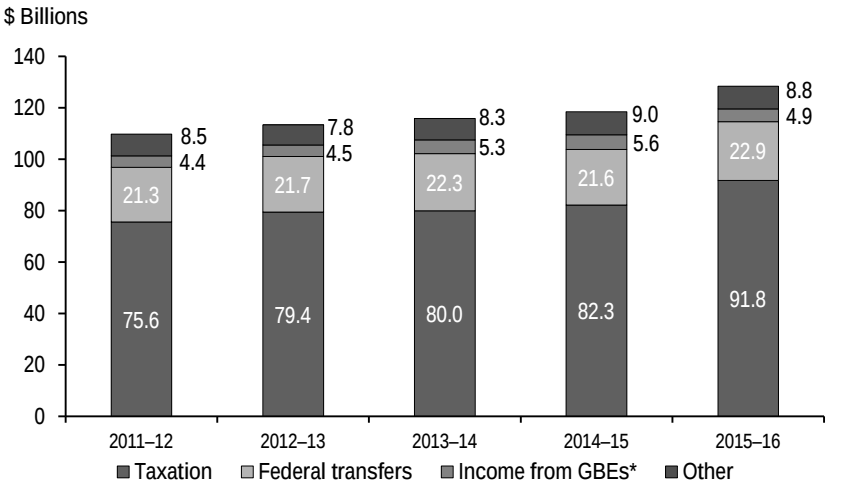
Revenue by source — 5-year comparison

Chart 2



* Government business enterprises (Liquor Control Board of Ontario, Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation, Ontario Power Generation Inc., Hydro One Limited and Brampton Distribution Holdco Inc.).

Taxation revenue

Between 2011–12 and 2015–16, taxation revenue grew at an annual average rate of 5.0 per cent, higher than the average annual nominal GDP growth of 3.2 per cent over the same period.

Although economic growth and increases in taxation revenue are clearly linked, the relationship is affected by several factors. Growth in some revenue sources, such as corporations tax and mining tax, can diverge significantly from economic growth in any given year, due to the inherent volatility of business profits as well as the use of tax provisions such as the option to carry losses forward or backward. The impact of housing completions and re-sales on HST and Land Transfer Tax revenue is proportionately greater than their contribution to GDP. As well, changes in such sources as volume-based gasoline and fuel taxes are more closely aligned to growth in real as opposed to nominal GDP, as these revenue sources are less influenced by price changes.

Much of the rising trend in taxation revenues between 2011–12 and 2015–16 reflects a growing economy and the impact of tax measures, as well as measures aimed at tax fairness and addressing the underground economy.

Other taxation revenues increased significantly in 2015–16 compared to the prior year. The increase largely reflects one-time payments in lieu of taxes from Hydro One associated with the Hydro One IPO. This transition resulted in a one-time $2.6 billion departure tax payment, in addition to $0.2 billion in one-time payments in lieu of taxes from Hydro One to the Province. These one-time payments were revenue neutral to the Province, as they also reduced the Province's revenues from Hydro One's net income by an equal amount. The Province's relative share of Hydro One's net income is reported in the Consolidated Financial Statements as income from GBEs.

Federal government transfers

Government of Canada transfers are based on existing federal–provincial funding arrangements and formulas. These include major federal transfer programs such as the Canada Health Transfer, Canada Social Transfer and Equalization programs, as well as transfers for social housing, infrastructure and labour market programs. There are also a number of smaller federal transfers to the Province, which are largely program-specific. Some transfers are ongoing, while others are time-limited.

Between 2011–12 and 2015–16, Government of Canada transfers grew at an annual average rate of 1.8 per cent. Higher entitlements under the Canada Health Transfer, Canada Social Transfer and Equalization payments were partially offset by several time-limited transfers that wound down over that time period.

Income from government business enterprises

Revenues for the Province include the net income of five GBEs: the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation, the Liquor Control Board of Ontario, Ontario Power Generation Inc., Hydro One Limited and Brampton Distribution Holdco Inc. (Before August 31, 2015, Hydro One Brampton Networks Inc., a subsidiary of Brampton Distribution Holdco Inc., was a subsidiary of Hydro One and its results were included in those of Hydro One on the Province's financial reports.)

After growing between 2011–12 and 2014–15, net income from GBEs declined in 2015–16. This was mainly due to the impact on Hydro One's net income from the one-time, final payments in lieu of taxes to the Province triggered by the Hydro One IPO.

Other non-tax revenues

Other non-tax revenues arise from a number of sources, including vehicle and driver registration fees; sales and rentals of goods and services; other fees, licences and permits; reimbursements of provincial expenditures in delivering certain services; royalties for the use of Crown resources; and such revenue sources from the electricity sector as the Debt Retirement Charge, Power Supply Contract Recoveries and Net Reduction of Power Purchase Contract Liability.

Other non-tax revenues grew moderately, at an annual average rate of 1.0 per cent, between 2011–12 and 2015–16. Two major factors were responsible for most of the growth in revenues:

- Increases in licensing and vehicle validation fees to maintain and expand provincial roads and highways; and
- The Province's asset-optimization strategy, particularly the gain on the sale and redemption of General Motors shares in 2013–14 and 2014–15 and the gain on the sale of Hydro One common shares in 2015–16.

These gains were partially offset by lower non-tax revenues from the electricity sector.

Expense

Comparison to the 2015 Budget plan

Total expense in 2015–16 was $133.4 billion, which was higher than forecast in the 2015 Budget plan. Program spending was $122.4 billion, up $1.9 billion from a planned spending of $120.5 billion. Spending in the health, children's and social services, and justice sectors, as well as in other programs, was higher than planned (see Table 2). See Chart 3 for a breakdown of program expense by sector.

2015–16 program expense by sector ($122.4 billion)

Percentages may not add to 100 per cent due to rounding.

[1] Teachers' Pension Plan is included in Other programs.

Total program spending was $1.9 billion higher than the Budget plan, resulting in actual program expense of $122.4 billion. The increases were attributable to:

- Health sector expense that was $294 million, or about 0.6 per cent, above plan. Higher spending resulted from increased drug costs as well as higher hospital sector expense, which was partially offset by underspending in agencies.
- Children's and social services sector expense that was $124 million higher than planned, due mainly to additional spending to address demand for the Ontario Disability Support Program, and the cost of prescription drugs for social assistance recipients.
- Justice sector expense increases of $120 million, mainly due to settlements under the Proceedings Against the Crown Act and higher-than-expected bad debt provisions related to unpaid fines.
- Other programs expense was $1.8 billion higher than expected, mainly due to a change in the accounting treatment for pension assets of jointly sponsored pension plans, higher-than-anticipated expense for the Ontario Production Services Tax Credit and costs related to the Hydro One IPO.

Increases in these sectors and programs were partially offset by:

- Education sector expense that was $233 million lower than expected, due in part to a higher share of funding spent on capital projects that are capitalized and amortized instead of expensed, higher-than-forecasted revenues from education development charges and slightly lower-than-projected enrolment.

- Post-secondary and training sector expense that was $176 million lower than expected, mainly due to lower spending on post-secondary operating grants and lower student financial assistance as a result of lower-than-forecast enrolment. As well, spending on employment and training programs was below plan, partially offset by higher expense on tax credits to employers to support training.

As noted in the footnote to Table 2, the 2015 Budget included two savings targets that together totalled $1.49 billion as part of other programs expense. Ministries achieved $1.1 billion in savings against these targets which were reallocated to the ministries that achieved savings — notably in both the education and post-secondary and training sectors, as highlighted above. Program expense was $1.9 billion higher than planned as a result of $0.4 billion higher ministry spending and the impact of the change in accounting treatment for pension assets in jointly sponsored pension plans, which increased other program expense by $1.5 billion for the year.

Chart 4 shows spending by type of expense instead of spending by sector. A significant share of government spending goes directly to salaries and benefits across ministries in the Ontario Public Service and BPS organizations, including hospitals, school boards and colleges that are consolidated in its accounts. Note that the share labelled “Transfers” in Chart 4 includes payments to doctors for physician services, but does not include transfers to consolidated BPS organizations; these are reflected in the other expense types.

[1] Salaries and benefits, Operating costs and Other include consolidated BPS organizations and are net of third-party revenues from the BPS organizations. Information on BPS results can be found in Schedule 10 of the Consolidated Financial Statements.

[2] Compensation related costs for non-consolidated entities (e.g., Children’s Aid Societies, Community Care Access Centres, Universities) and payments to doctors for physician services are included in Transfers.

The transfers category reflects payments to a variety of third parties, mainly in the public sector, to support the delivery of public services. These third parties include, for example, child care providers, social service agencies and health care professionals. As service providers, a large share of the spending of these third parties typically goes to salaries and benefits.

Comparison to prior year and earlier years

Year-over-year, program spending grew by 3.6 per cent in 2015–16.

Health care represents the largest share of government program spending. Transformation efforts to make the sector more effective and sustainable are vital to managing overall spending growth and to achieving better outcomes for patients in a better integrated system. These continuing efforts moderated the year-over-year growth in health sector spending to 2.1 per cent in 2015–16. Prior to this transformation, the sector had been experiencing an average annual growth rate of over 6.0 per cent.

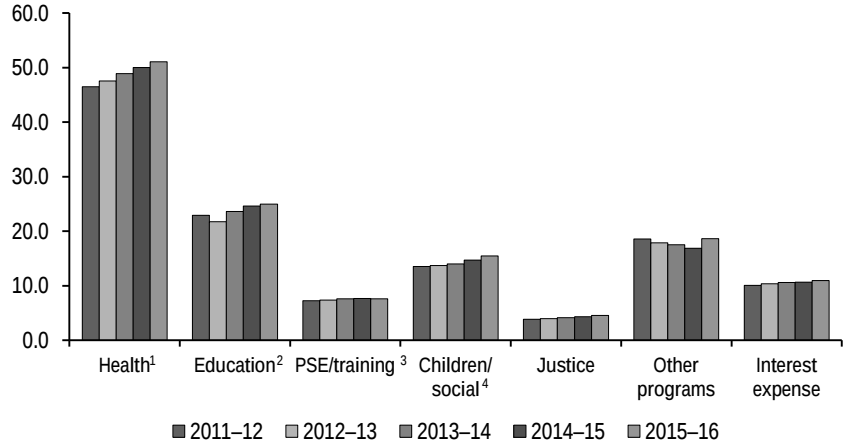
Chart 5



[1] Includes payments to Community Care Access Centres
[2] Teachers' Pension Plan is included in Other programs.
[3] Post-secondary education and training.
[4] Children's and social services includes Children's Aid Societies.

- Health sector expense increased from $46.5 billion in 2011–12 to $51.1 billion in 2015–16, or on average by 2.4 per cent per year between 2011–12 and 2015–16. These increases are due in part to increasing demands for health care services from an aging and growing population, along with other factors. Increases also include new investments in home and community care as well as specialized services such as cancer care. Expense increases in the health sector have been moderated by ongoing transformation of the sector to focus on patients while reducing costs such as the prices of generic prescription drugs.

- Education sector expense increased from $22.9 billion in 2011–12 to $25.0 billion in 2015–16, or on average by 2.2 per cent per year between 2011–12 and 2015–16. The increase is mainly due to the introduction of full-day kindergarten, which has been made available to every four- and five-year-old in Ontario since September 2014. Expense was lower in 2012–13 due to the impact of $1.3 billion in one-time savings from reducing liabilities carried by school boards for sick-day banking and retirement gratuities.

- Post-secondary education and training sector expense increased from $7.3 billion in 2011–12 to $7.6 billion in 2015–16, or on average by 1.3 per cent per year between 2011–12 and 2015–16. The increase is mainly due to continued funding to support enrolment growth in post-secondary institutions, growth in student financial assistance programs and support for employment and training programs.

- Children's and social services sector expense increased from $13.5 billion in 2011–12 to $15.6 billion in 2015–16, or on average by 3.5 per cent per year between 2011–12 and 2015–16. This increase reflects annual social assistance rate increases, caseload growth in the Ontario Disability Support Program and investments in developmental services and the Ontario Child Benefit.

- Justice sector expense increased from $3.9 billion in 2011–12 to $4.5 billion in 2015–16, or on average by 4.1 per cent per year between 2011–12 and 2015–16. These increases are mainly due to the provincial upload of court security costs from municipalities, costs incurred mainly in 2015–16 for the security services for the 2015 Pan/Parapan American Games and improved access to legal aid for low-income Ontarians.

- Other programs expense was $18.6 billion in 2015–16, including a $1.5 billion increase in pension expense. This brought other programs expense back to about where it was in 2011–12. Excluding the increase in pension expense, other programs expense for 2015–16 would have been $17.1 billion, contributing to an average decrease of 2.0 per cent per year between 2011–12 and 2015–16.

Interest costs

Interest on debt expense was $0.4 billion below plan in 2015–16, as a result mainly of lower-than-forecast interest rates, the lower-than-planned deficit and cost-effective borrowing and debt management.

Interest expense grew from $10.6 billion in 2014–15 to $11.0 billion in 2015–16 (see Table 2).

Between 2011–12 and 2015–16, interest expense has trended upward, reflecting higher borrowings required to fund the deficit and investments in infrastructure. Chart 6 shows that although interest costs have grown in absolute terms, they have steadily fallen as a percentage of the Province's revenues. The interest on debt-to-revenue ratio is now at its lowest level since 1990–91. This is mainly due to historically low interest rates, coupled with cost-effective debt management.

Total Financial Assets	83.5	100.0%	82.5	100.0%	1.0

Financial assets consist of items such as cash and cash equivalents, and investments that are available to the Province to meet its expenditure needs; accounts and loans receivable, which are amounts it expects to receive from third parties; and other items, including investment in GBEs.

The Province's financial assets increased by $1.0 billion in 2015–16 over the prior year to $83.5 billion. This increase was mainly due to a $1.4 billion increase in investments and a $0.8 billion increase in accounts receivable, which was offset by a $1.6 billion decrease in cash and cash equivalents (see Table 3):

- Investments went up by $1.4 billion, mainly due to the pre-borrowing at year-end for 2016–17 spending requirements.
- Accounts receivable, which shows amounts owing to the Province by third parties, increased by $0.8 billion, mainly due to an increase in tax receivable at year-end.
- Cash and cash equivalents, which are financial instruments that can be easily converted to cash, decreased by $1.6 billion as a result of operating, investing, capital and financing activities.

Chart 7 shows the recent trends in financial assets for the Province.

Financial assets — 5-year comparison

* Government business enterprises (Liquor Control Board of Ontario, Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation, Ontario Power Generation Inc., Hydro One Limited and Brampton Distribution Holdco Inc.).

The five-year trend shows a steady gain in investment in GBEs from 2011–12 to 2014–15, reflecting an increase in net assets reported for these entities. The same upward trend did not continue in 2015–16, mainly due to the Province's decreased ownership interest in Hydro One.

The level of other financial assets, including cash, accounts receivable and investments, tends to be more variable, since these assets often reflect specific circumstances at year-end, such as pre-borrowing for the following period's needs.

Tangible capital assets

The government is responsible for a large portfolio of non-financial assets, which is almost entirely made up of tangible capital assets.

Tangible capital assets owned by the Province and its consolidated entities represent the largest component of the Province's infrastructure investments. These assets include those it owns directly, such as provincial highways, as well as the assets of school boards, hospitals, colleges and agencies that are consolidated in its financial statements. The assets of GBEs are reflected in the Province's statement of financial position as an investment in government business enterprises.

The reported net book value of Ontario's tangible capital assets exceeded $102.5 billion in 2015–16, increasing by $5.4 billion over the prior year. Buildings, including schools, hospitals and college facilities, made up the single largest share, at $53.4 billion. The total also includes assets under construction, whether these are being built using the Alternative Financing Procurement (AFP) model, which the private sector finances during construction, or by other means. The balance sheet includes AFP assets under construction in accordance with the Province's accounting policy. The impacts of AFPs on balance sheet liabilities are discussed in "Other long-term financing" on page 28.

Growth in the net book value of capital assets has averaged 7.4 per cent annually over the past five years. Most of the growth has been in new and renewed buildings and in transportation infrastructure, including provincial highways, bridges and the transit network owned by Metrolinx, an agency of the Government of Ontario. See Chart 8 for the recent trends in provincial tangible capital assets.

Trends in the net book value of provincial tangible capital assets — 5-year comparison

Infrastructure expenditures

One of the goals of investing in capital is to improve the economic growth of the province. A 2015 report from The Centre for Spatial Economics, entitled The Economic Benefits of Public Infrastructure Spending in Canada, found that, on average, investing $1.00 in public infrastructure in Canada raises GDP by $1.43 in the short term and up to $3.83 in the long term. The full report is available at www.broadbentinstitute.ca/infrastructure.

The Province's infrastructure spending in 2015–16 was $12.8 billion (see Table 4). This included $10.4 billion invested in assets owned by the Province and its consolidated entities, as discussed in "Tangible capital assets" on page 24 and $2.4 billion provided to non-consolidated partners such as universities and municipalities, and other infrastructure expenditures. The total was slightly less than the $13.9 billion set out in the 2015 Budget plan because of lower-than-forecast construction activity for the period.

3 Mainly transfers for capital purposes to municipalities and universities and expenditure for capital repairs. Transfers for capital-related purposes and other infrastructure expenditures are recorded as expenses in the Province's Consolidated Statement of Operations.

4 Includes government administration, natural resources, and culture and tourism sectors. A negative investment in capital assets is due to the transfer of Pan/Parapan American Games assets to third parties.

5 Includes third-party investments in consolidated entities such as hospitals, colleges and schools.

Liabilities

The Province's liabilities consist of debt and other financial obligations, including accounts payable, funds it has received from the federal government but not yet spent and the estimated cost of future payments, including net pension liabilities, owing to current and former employees (see Table 5).

Liabilities
($ Billions)

Total Liabilities	388.7	100.0%	367.1	100.0%	21.6

Debt

Debt and other long-term financing make up the largest share of liabilities. Debt grew by $12.4 billion in 2015–16 to $327.4 billion by year-end, primarily to finance the operating deficit and to invest in infrastructure. The change in Province's accounting treatment for pensions, while increasing net debt, had no impact on the Province's borrowing requirements. Hence total debt remained unchanged by this adjustment.

Net debt as at March 31, 2016, was $305.2 billion, $6.3 billion higher than forecast in the 2015 Budget. Table 6 summarizes how the Province used its net new financing in 2015–16.

[3] Including net increase in financing of capital projects through AFP. See Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The government completed an annual borrowing program of $32.1 billion in 2015–16. This yielded net new financing of $12.4 billion after adjustments and repayment of $21.9 billion in existing debt that matured.

Other long-term financing

This category includes debt incurred to finance construction for public assets, including those procured through the AFP model and other means. All assets that are owned by the Province and its consolidated entities, and the associated financing liabilities, are reflected on the Province's balance sheet as the assets are constructed and the liabilities incurred. For information on asset investments, refer to "Tangible capital assets" on page 24.

Other types of liabilities

Other types of liabilities include accounts payable, pensions and other employee future benefits, transfers received from the federal government representing deferred revenues, and other liabilities. This category increased by $9.0 billion in 2015–16 over the prior year, mainly due to an adjustment to the opening pension asset balance.

Chart 9 shows the recent trends in liabilities for the Province. This trend over the period between 2011–12 and 2015–16 shows public debt rising, mainly to fund capital investments and the annual deficit, as well as the impact in 2015-16 of the change in accounting treatment for pension assets of jointly sponsored pension plans. The upward trend in other long-term financing indicates increased capital related activities through AFPs. Other types of liabilities, including accounts payable and deferred revenue, tend to be more variable, since they often reflect specific circumstances at year-end, such as accrued liabilities for goods and services.

Risks and risk management

The Province's financial results and financial reporting are subject to risks and uncertainties over which the government has limited or no control. These include:

- Actual economic and/or revenue growth that differs from forecast;
- Significant changes in financial statement items, especially taxation revenues, arising from actual results that differ from accounting estimates;
- Unforeseen changes in transfer payments from the federal government;
- Demand for entitlement-based public services or a change in other expense, including pension expense, that reflects actual experience that is significantly different than forecast;
- Unusual weather patterns, extreme weather events and natural disasters with major financial impacts;
- Security breaches or other malicious behaviour that could interrupt services, result in loss of information, compromise privacy and/or damage equipment or facilities;
- The outcomes of legal settlements, arbitration and negotiations, and possible defaults on projects and potential defaults affecting loan and funding guarantees;
- Financial market conditions, including access to capital markets, currency exchange rates and interest rates, that differ from expectations; and
- Changes in accounting standards.

Ontario manages risks to the revenue forecast by consulting with private sector economists and tracking their forecasts to inform the government's planning assumptions. For prudent fiscal planning, the Ministry of Finance's real GDP growth projections are slightly below the average private sector forecast.

The Province monitors information flows about revenues on an ongoing basis to assess potential risks to its finances. It also works constantly to enhance information flows for the same purpose. Collaboration with the Canada Revenue Agency, which administers roughly 75 per cent of Ontario's taxation revenues, is essential to achieving this. As well, Ontario is currently leading a federal, provincial and territorial working group that is exploring ways to enhance corporate income tax revenue forecasting and monitoring.

The possible impacts on tax revenue of actual growth in the economy and other parameters differing from the assumptions used in the Budget is disclosed on pages 273–277 of the 2015 Budget, which is available at: http://www.fin.gov.on.ca/en/budget/ontariobudgets/2015/papers_all.pdf.

There are also risks arising from other sources of revenue, such as federal transfers and income from GBEs. Because these represent a smaller share of total revenue, the risks they present are generally less material to the revenue forecast and, in any event, are difficult or impossible to predict or quantify. Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements provides additional details on measurement uncertainty.

On the expense side, the fiscal plan includes contingency funds to help mitigate risks. In the 2015 Budget, these totalled $650 million: $550 million for operating risks and $100 million for capital. Funds were used to support initiatives such as emergency forest firefighting and supporting social assistance recipients.

Provisions for losses that are likely to occur as a result of contingent liabilities, such as ongoing litigation, and that can be reasonably estimated, are expensed and reported as liabilities. Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements provide further details.

Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements explains the Province's risk management strategies, which are intended to ensure that exposure to borrowing-related risk is managed in a prudent and cost-effective manner.

Changes in Canadian generally accepted accounting principles for the public sector made by the Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) can have an impact on the Province's budgets, estimates and actual results. Treasury Board Secretariat actively monitors proposed changes and provides input to standard setters to support development of standards that support sound public policy decision-making and transparency and accountability in reporting.

As required under the Fiscal Transparency and Accountability Act, 2004, a reserve is included in the projected surplus/deficit each year to guard against unforeseen revenue and expense changes that could have a negative impact on the Province's fiscal performance. The 2015 Budget plan included a $1.0 billion reserve for 2015–16. Excluding this reserve, the 2015 Budget projected a deficit of $7.5 billion. Because the reserve is a forecast provision, and the fiscal results for 2015–16 are now finalized, a reserve is not reflected in the Province's financial statements. The final deficit for the 2015–16 fiscal year is $5.0 billion, a $3.5 billion improvement compared with the 2015 Budget projection of $8.5 billion, which included the reserve.

Key Financial Ratios

The use of key measures of financial position helps readers of the Annual Report assess the financial position of the Province. Through the levels and trends of these measures, readers are able to gauge the impacts of economic and other events on the Province's finances, as well as how the government has responded.

The Public Sector Accounting Board recommends a series of ratios that help financial statement users better understand the sustainability, flexibility and vulnerability of a reporting entity.

For greater transparency and accountability, the Province has expanded the number of ratios on which it reports. The ratio, and the level of each, over the past five years are outlined in Table 7.

Key Financial Ratios — Table 7

as at the end of the fiscal period

		2011–12	2012–13	2013–14	2014–15	2015–16
Sustainability	Net Debt to GDP (%)	35.7%	37.1%	38.5%	39.4%	40.9%
	Net Debt to Total Revenue (%)	214.6%	222.4%	230.5%	240.1%	237.8%
	Net Debt per Capita ($)	$ 17,626	$ 18,667	$ 19,591	$ 20,693	$ 21,926
Flexibility	Debt Charges to Total Revenue (%)	9.2%	9.1%	9.1%	9.0%	8.5%
	Own-Source Revenue to GDP (%)	13.4%	13.5%	13.5%	13.4%	14.1%
Vulnerability	Federal Transfers to Total Revenue (%)	19.4%	19.1%	19.2%	18.2%	17.8%
	Foreign Currency Debt to Total Debt (%)	25.4%	24.3%	22.9%	20.9%	18.8%
	Unhedged Foreign Currency Debt (%)	0.9%	0.7%	0.5%	0.3%	0.3%

Measures of sustainability

Net debt provides a measure of the future government revenues that will be required to pay for the government's past transactions. Net debt as a percentage of the Province's GDP shows the financial demands on the economy resulting from the government's spending and taxation policies. A lower ratio of net debt-to-GDP indicates higher sustainability.

The Province's net debt-to-GDP ratio was 40.9 per cent at the end of fiscal year 2015–16. In 2011–12, it was 35.7 per cent. Over this period, the deficit and other adjustments, including the 2015–16 legislated change in the Province's accounting treatment for pension assets of jointly sponsored pension plans, contributed to 64 per cent of the increase in net debt, with investments in capital assets accounting for the balance. Between 2011–12 and 2014–15, because net debt grew more quickly than GDP, the ratio increased from 35.7 per cent to 39.4 per cent. The ratio increased to 40.9 per cent in 2015–16, mainly as a result of the change in accounting treatment for pension assets of jointly sponsored pension plans. If not for this change, this ratio would have remained level.

The government continues to maintain a target of returning net debt to GDP to the pre-recession level of 27 per cent. The first key step in achieving this is to balance the budget. Debt is incurred for two main reasons: to finance deficits and to invest in capital assets. The government plans to invest $137 billion in capital over 10 years. These capital investments will be amortized over a period of time that corresponds to the useful life of the assets. After balancing the budget, increases in debt will be limited to the difference between the cash investment to build the assets and the amortization, which is a non-cash amount.

The government's plan to reduce the ratio of net debt to GDP therefore hinges on both balancing the budget and investing in capital assets to help the economy grow, both of which will help achieve the 27 per cent target.

The ratio of net debt to total revenue is another measure of sustainability, since it shows the future revenue that is required to pay for past transactions and events. A lower net debt-to-revenue ratio indicates higher sustainability. In 2011–12, the ratio was 214.6 per cent. It rose to 240.1 per cent in 2014–15, as net debt grew more quickly than revenue. Even with the change in the accounting treatment for pension assets, the ratio fell to 237.8 per cent in 2015–16, indicating that total revenues increased at a greater rate than did net debt.

Measures of flexibility

The ratio of interest on debt to total revenue shows the share of provincial revenue that is being used to pay borrowing costs and is thus not available for programs. A lower ratio indicates that a government has more flexibility to direct its revenues to programs. The ratio has steadily fallen for Ontario over the past five years, from a high of 9.2 per cent in 2011–12 to the current level of 8.5 per cent. The Province's strategy of extending the term of its borrowing program and locking in low interest rates for a longer period has also contributed to lower interest costs. This strategy has extended the weighted average term to maturity of provincially issued debt from approximately 8 years in 2009–10 to 14 years in 2015–16.

Own-source revenue as a share of the provincial GDP shows the extent to which the government is using funds from the provincial economy collected through taxation, user fees and other revenue sources it controls. Too high a taxation burden makes a jurisdiction uncompetitive, so increases in the ratio can reduce future revenue flexibility. Ontario's ratio was stable between 2011–12 and 2014–15. The increase from 13.4 per cent in 2014–15 to 14.1 per cent in 2015–16 was largely due to the strong growth in tax and other revenues. This caused own-source revenues to increase more sharply than GDP.

Measures of vulnerability

Transfers from the federal government as a percentage of total revenue are an indicator of the degree to which the Province relies on the federal government for revenue. A very high ratio shows that a provincial government is very reliant on federal transfers, a source of revenue over which it has limited or no control, and therefore vulnerable to shifts in federal policy on transfers. Ontario's highest share of revenue from federal transfers in the past five years was 19.4 per cent, in 2011–12. The lowest was 17.8 per cent, in 2015–16. The gradual decline largely represents the expiration of time-limited federal transfers, including the HST transition payment, and the maturing of federal stimulus programs put in place following the global economic crisis in 2008.

Foreign currency debt to total debt is a measure of vulnerability to changes in foreign currency exchange rates. Accessing borrowing opportunities in foreign currencies allows Ontario to diversify its investor base and take advantage of lower borrowing costs. It also ensures that the Province will continue to have access to capital in the event that domestic market conditions become more challenging. Ontario manages foreign currency risk by hedging its exposure to Canadian dollars through the use of financial instruments, which is called hedging. Effective hedging has allowed the Province to consistently limit its exposure to foreign currency fluctuations to 0.9 per cent of debt issued for provincial purposes in 2011–12, declining to 0.3 per cent in 2015–16.

Responsible Fiscal Management

The 2015–16 annual deficit of $5.0 billion was an improvement of $3.5 billion from the $8.5 billion deficit target laid out in the 2015 Budget. As a result, Ontario has achieved better-than-planned results in each of the last seven years.

The government's record of strong fiscal management is due to an ongoing focus on managing growth in spending, as well as stimulating the economy and protecting revenue.

After declines in revenue in 2008–09 and 2009–10, paralleled by poor economic conditions in those years, Ontario's economic and revenue performance have shown steady gains. Ontario's economic recovery from the global recession has been driven by solid economic fundamentals, supported by long-term job recovery efforts such as significant infrastructure investments. Over the past four years, revenue has grown at an average annual rate of 4.0 per cent, while nominal GDP has grown at an average annual rate of 3.2 per cent.

To protect provincial revenues, better support consumer and work safety, and provide a level playing field for legitimate businesses, the government has focused on fighting underground economic activities. As noted in the 2016 Budget, Ontario has generated over $930 million since 2013–14 through ongoing enhanced compliance-focused measures.

Government action to manage growth in spending has achieved results. Program expense fell to 16.4 per cent of GDP in 2015–16, lower than the 17.9 per cent reached in 2009–10. Ontario also consistently has the lowest per-capita program spending among all Canadian provinces, and is projected to remain the lowest in 2015–16.

Program Review, Renewal and Transformation

Part of the reason for this success has been the Program Review, Renewal and Transformation initiative, the government's ongoing fiscal planning and expenditure management approach and a continuous review of programs. PRRT is helping the government achieve better program outcomes while also lowering costs.

To improve programs, PRRT focuses on evidence-based decision-making, gathering and analyzing the best available information to improve how planned outcomes are identified and achieved across government. This may mean redesigning policies to support greater efficiency and cooperation within government, modernizing program delivery and changing or ending programs that do not meet people's needs. The government met the $490 million program review savings target for 2015–16. To meet this target, the government achieved a number of efficiencies to make programs more sustainable, such as negotiating lower prices for goods and services and managing compensation.

Some examples of program transformation from PRRT that have resulted in savings include:

- Making changes to the Ontario Drug Benefit Program to improve program efficiency, effectiveness and sustainability. This has enabled the government to achieve savings of approximately $100 million in 2015–16 and will enable over $200 million in annual savings when fully implemented. Changes include optimizing the quantities of medication dispensed and maximizing the use of generic drugs. Savings are reflected in the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care and Ministry of Community and Social Services expense lines for 2015–16 results.

- Continuing to reduce the government's office footprint, to optimize the use of government real estate and drive government-wide cost reductions, achieving savings of approximately $24 million in 2015–16. Savings are reflected in various ministry expense lines for 2015–16 results.

- Undertaking a series of initiatives that are lowering information technology (IT) costs and improving how technology supports the delivery of government programs and services, based most recently on a 2015 third-party independent benchmarking review of the government's IT capability. Savings in the amount of $56 million (including consolidation of data centres, early vendor payments and lower contract costs, including for software and IT consulting services, laboratory supplies and security services) are reflected in various ministry expense lines for 2015–16 results.

- Reduced costs associated with managing under-utilized schools, by encouraging school boards to consolidate schools, share space with other boards and foster community partnerships.

- Better targeted funding through business support programs such as the Ontario Interactive Digital Media Tax Credit, in which the government narrowed the broad eligibility criteria to improve the ability of the credit to support innovative products.

- Changes to the Second Career program by removing client targets for service providers, while ensuring that funding supports all eligible clients. These changes are generating approximately $40 million per year in ongoing savings and will enable the government to invest in the Canada–Ontario Job Grant and the renewed Ontario Youth Jobs Strategy.

The government has also established a new Centre of Excellence for Evidence-Based Decision Making to build capacity to assess how programs are performing, using evidence to inform choices and lead change in critical public services.

Managing compensation

With a significant share of resources going to salaries and benefits, managing compensation costs is critical to balancing the budget.

The 2015 Budget stated that compensation costs must be addressed within Ontario's fiscal framework, which does not include additional funding for wage increases. Collective bargaining during this fiscal year continued to be subject to the principles of the net-zero compensation framework, in which any modest wage increases were required to be offset.

Chart 10 shows that the average percentage annual wage increase of the Provincial public sector has trended lower than increases in the municipal and federal public sectors and the private sector.

Ontario public/private wage settlement trends

Note: Based on agreements with over 150 employees, ratified between April 1, 2010, and January 13, 2016. April 2010 represents the start of the government's compensation restraint mandate. The period from July 2012 to January 2016 represents the most complete picture of a full bargaining cycle across the public sector. The provincial public sector includes the Ontario Public Service, government business enterprises, provincial utilities and all other provincially funded public employers.

In addition, the interest on debt expense of $11.0 billion reported for 2015–16 was an improvement of $0.4 billion over the forecast in the 2015 Budget. Through a combination of lower deficits and borrowing requirements, lower-than-forecast interest rates and cost-effective debt management, interest on debt has consistently come in below forecast in each year since the 2010 Budget.

With the economy expected to continue to grow, and the government's ongoing commitment to transform programs and services, Ontario remains committed to balancing the budget by 2017–18 and remaining balanced in 2018–19.

Non-Financial Activities

This section discusses key non-financial performance in major sectors. The purpose is to allow readers of the Annual Report to understand how the government is using the funds available to it to achieve specific outcomes.

Health care

The government is committed to transforming Ontario's health care system to become more patient-centred and focused on better access to care, quality and value. Ontario's Patients First: Action Plan for Health Care, launched in 2015, aims to achieve four goals: increase access to health care, improve care coordination, better inform Ontarians to support their health care decisions, and protect patients and the Province's health care system for the future.

In 2015–16, the Province made progress toward all four goals.

- Access: The Province has continued to reduce wait times for key service areas such as surgeries and diagnostic imaging.

- Connect: To improve access to integrated primary, home and community care, the government has begun planning to implement an expanded role for the Province's 14 Local Health Integration Networks, pending legislation. Ontario has increased investment in home and community care by 5 per cent annually, amounting to $250 million in 2015–16, for a total of $750 million over three years. It has also increased the hourly wages of publicly funded personal support workers caring for patients at home and in the community by $1.50 per hour in 2015–16 to at least $15.50 per hour, in the second of three annual increases totalling up to $4.00 over three years to at least $16.50 per hour by April 1, 2016.

- Inform: The government passed the Healthy Menu Choices Act, 2015, requiring calorie information to be posted in numerous food service locations, to inform Ontarians about healthier food choices. Ontario has also passed regulations to help reduce smoking rates by making it harder for youth to obtain tobacco products and by banning the sale of electronic cigarettes to anyone under the age of 19.

- Protect: Ontario is funding a nasal spray flu vaccine to better protect young children against the flu, made prescription refills more convenient and less expensive for people with chronic conditions, and helped ensure that Ontarians get good value for drug costs now and in the future through the efforts of the pan-Canadian Pharmaceutical Alliance (pCPA). The government appointed Ontario's first-ever Patient Ombudsman to help address patients' otherwise unresolved concerns about their care by a health organization.

Education

Ontario's publicly funded early years and education system is focused on ensuring that Ontarians have the education and skills needed to lead in the global economy.

Outcomes reported in 2015–16 included the following:

- More high school students graduating. In 2015, 85.5 per cent of students graduated from high school, compared to 68 per cent in 2004. This is an increase of more than 17 percentage points.

- Improving child care. Through the introduction of the Child Care and Early Years Act, 2014, which came into effect in August 2015, the government is modernizing the legislative and regulatory framework for child care.

Post-secondary education and training

Post-secondary education and training play a critical role in preparing people for the workforce. This will be increasingly important as Ontario moves further toward a more knowledge-based economy. Besides having better employment prospects, Ontarians with higher levels of education and skills earn higher wages and have better health and longevity.

Outcomes reported in 2015–16 included:

- Helping people in Ontario achieve higher levels of education. In 2015, the most recent year for which information is available, 67 per cent of adults in Ontario aged 25 to 64 had a post-secondary degree, diploma or certificate. This is higher than the average of any country in the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. This positions Ontario well to meet or exceed its 70 per cent target by 2020.

- Investments in student financial assistance between 2009–10 and 2014–15 resulted in a 50 per cent increase in the number of students qualifying for aid (approximately 125,000 additional students). During this same time period, enrolment increased by 8 per cent. Rates of participation in post-secondary education among Ontario's young people are higher than for the rest of Canada.

Condition of provincial tangible capital assets

As part of the annual budgeting process, each ministry that owns and operates infrastructure is required to prepare and update a plan to properly maintain its assets. Examples of recent asset management practices include:

- In the transportation sector, over the last five years, there has been a significant improvement in highway pavement and bridge conditions throughout the province as a result of continued investments in these assets.

- In the health sector, the Facility Condition Assessment Program has been conducting standardized technical audits of hospital infrastructure to provide comparable and reliable data about the current stock and condition of public hospital assets. This allows the Province to better target renewal funding and develop a long-term outlook for capital investment requirements.

- In the education sector, the School Condition Improvement Program addresses renewal needs, focusing on ensuring that facilities are in good condition, energy efficient, accessible and meet modern service standards.

- Since 2011, the Province has been working with colleges to create a comprehensive space inventory, develop space standards and assess the condition of their facilities. With improved inventory and facilities condition data, the Province is better able to support asset management initiatives, including forecasting needs and developing a provincial infrastructure asset inventory.

- Other provincially owned capital assets include buildings within the government's General Real Estate Portfolio, which consists of offices and special-purpose buildings such as courthouses and detention centres. Facility condition index targets are set for the buildings, and most buildings are currently within the acceptable ranges.

Going forward, the Infrastructure for Jobs and Prosperity Act, 2015, which came into force on May 1, 2016, requires that the Province publish a long-term infrastructure plan within three years and that subsequent plans be tabled at least once every five years. The Act also:

- Establishes principles that must be considered by the government and broader public sector entities when making infrastructure decisions, as well as prioritization criteria to be used by the government when considering infrastructure projects.

- Creates regulatory authorities related to broader public sector asset management plans, supporting the use of apprentices on provincial infrastructure projects and promoting design excellence in public works.

- Emphasizes the importance of minimizing environmental impacts and ensuring climate change resiliency in infrastructure planning and investment.

The Act aligns infrastructure investments with Ontario's economic development priorities through long-term planning, while strengthening the Province's competitive edge globally.

Transparency and Accountability

Recent developments in public sector accounting standards

The Province's financial reports are in accordance with the accounting principles for governments recommended by the Public Sector Accounting Board of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada (CPA Canada).

PSAB's project on concepts underlying financial performance remains a work in progress. Ontario, along with the federal, territorial and other provincial governments, continues to monitor the work of the project's task force and to provide input to support high-quality Canadian public sector accounting standards, which are integral to achieving the Province's transparency and accountability reporting objectives. As described in Note 16 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, additional future changes in accounting standards may affect how assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses are reported in the Province's future financial reports.

The Province will continue to work with standard setters, other jurisdictions, the Auditor General's Office and the accounting community on matters related to transparency and accountability in public sector financial reporting.

The C.D. Howe Institute Fiscal Accountability Report

Each year, the C.D. Howe Institute, an independent research organization that focuses on support for economically sound public policies, assesses the fiscal planning and reporting of governments in Canada.

Consistency and comparability of planned and actual results in the Budget, Estimates and summary financial statements of the Province are essential to allow users to compare performance against the approved Budget and to understand longer-term trends. The institute has again recognized that Ontario's practices, which align the Budget, Estimates and financial reporting, demonstrate a high level of accountability and transparency.

In the most recent C.D. Howe report on Canadian provinces, territories and the federal government, Ontario also scored consistently highly on the general accuracy of its spending plans and for not over-estimating its revenue forecast. See https://www.cdhowe.org/sites/default/files/attachments/research_papers/mixed/commentary_448.pdf.

Trillium Trust

The Trillium Trust Act, 2014, provides for an account to be maintained in the Public Accounts that records the prescribed amounts of financial benefits to Ontario from the disposition of qualifying assets under the Act. The Act also requires the account to record all expenditures made under the Act to support infrastructure investments. A report on the financial activities of the Trillium Trust is included as a schedule in Volume 1 of the Public Accounts.

Volume 1 shows that $1.35 billion was allocated to the Trillium Trust as at March 31, 2016, in relation to the sale and redemption of the Province's shares in General Motors in earlier years.

Subsequent to year end, in August 2016, the Province filed a regulation crediting an additional $3.2 billion to the Trillium Trust related to the sale of Hydro One common shares which occurred in 2015–16.

Data visualization

Last year, the government created its first interactive data visualization tool to graphically present details on the information contained in Volume 1 of the 2014–15 Public Accounts. This year, additional data visualization tools and data tables have been created and are now available on the Ontario.ca website. The government has also increased the number of Public Accounts open data sets available for download from two to seven.

CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Office of the Auditor General of Ontario
Bureau du vérificateur général de l'Ontario

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario

I have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of the Province of Ontario, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at March 31, 2016, and the consolidated statements of operations, change in net debt, change in accumulated deficit and cash flow for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Government of Ontario (Government) is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and for such internal control as the Government determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Government, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my qualified audit opinion.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

As at April 1, 2015, the Province increased the opening accumulated deficit by $9.154 billion to correct for an error in prior periods in its valuation allowance for an accrued benefit pension asset included in the liability for pensions and other employee future benefits. As reflected in the consolidated financial statements and described in Note 18, the Province has not restated its 2015 comparative period to reflect the correction of the error which constitutes a departure from Public Sector Accounting Standards. Accordingly, in the comparative period, opening accumulated deficit would have increased by $8.201 billion, education expense would have increased by $956 million, general government and other expense would have decreased by $3 million, annual deficit would have increased by $953 million and ending accumulated deficit would have increased by $9.154 billion.

Qualified Opinion

In my opinion, except for the effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Province of Ontario as at March 31, 2016, and the consolidated results of its operations, change in its net debt, change in its accumulated deficit and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Other Matter

I draw attention to the Province's Financial Statement Discussion and Analysis that has also not been restated for the effects on the comparative periods of the error in the valuation allowance for an accrued benefit pension asset included in the liability for pensions and other employee future benefits, as discussed in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph above.

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Accounting

The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared by the Government of Ontario in accordance with legislation and the accounting standards for governments recommended by the Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada (CPA Canada).

(b) Reporting Entity

These financial statements report the activities of the Consolidated Revenue Fund combined with those organizations that are controlled by the Province.

Government business enterprises (GBEs), broader public sector (BPS) organizations (i.e., hospitals, school boards and colleges) and other government organizations controlled by the Province are included in these financial statements. Controlled organizations are consolidated if they meet one of the following criteria: i) their revenues, expenses, assets or liabilities are greater than $50 million; or ii) their outside sources of revenue, deficit or surplus are greater than $10 million. In accordance with PSAB, the Province also applies the “benefit versus cost constraint” in determining which organizations should be consolidated in the Province’s financial statements. A listing of consolidated government organizations is provided in Schedule 8. For those organizations that do not meet the PSAB benefit versus cost constraint standard, such as Children’s Aid Societies and Community Care Access Centres, they are reflected as government transfer payment expense in these financial statements through the accounts of the ministries responsible for them.

Trusts administered by the Province on behalf of other parties are excluded from the reporting entity, but are disclosed in Note 15.

(c) Principles of Consolidation

Government business enterprises are defined as those government organizations that i) are separate legal entities with the power to contract in their own name and that can sue and be sued; ii) have the financial and operating authority to carry on a business; iii) have as their principal activity and source of revenue the selling of goods and services to individuals and non-government organizations; and iv) are able to maintain their operations and meet their obligations from revenues generated outside the government reporting entity. The activities of GBEs are recorded in the financial statements using the modified equity method. Under this method, GBEs are reported in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted for government business enterprises. Their combined net assets are included in the financial statements as Investment in Government Business Enterprises on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position, and their net income is shown as a separate item, Income from Investment in Government Business Enterprises (GBEs), on the Consolidated Statement of Operations. Less than wholly owned GBEs (e.g., Hydro One Limited) are reflected using the modified equity method based on the percentage of ownership government held during the fiscal year.

The assets and liabilities of the BPS organizations are consolidated with those of the Province on a line-by-line basis on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. As such, the net debt of hospitals, school boards and colleges is included in the consolidated net debt of the Province. The total annual expenses of these BPS organizations, net of third party revenues they receive directly from the public, such as tuition fees, patient fees, donations and other recoveries, are included in the consolidated expenses of the Province. The expenses of hospitals are included in Health expenses, school boards in Education expenses, and colleges in Post-Secondary Education and Training expenses on the Consolidated Statement of Operations. Where appropriate, adjustments are made to present the accounts of these organizations on a basis consistent with the accounting policies of the Province to eliminate significant inter-organizational accounts on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position and to remove inter-organizational gains/losses from the Consolidated Statement of Operations.

Other government organizations controlled by the Province are consolidated on a line-by-line basis with the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses of the Province based on the percentage of ownership the government held as at the end of the fiscal year. Where appropriate, adjustments are also made to present the accounts of these organizations on a basis consistent with the accounting policies of the Province, and to eliminate significant inter-organizational accounts and transactions.

(d) Measurement Uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements requires the Province to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Uncertainty in the determination of the amounts at which an item is recognized or disclosed in the financial statements is known as measurement uncertainty.

Measurement uncertainty that is material to these financial statements exists in the valuation of pensions and other employee future benefits obligations, the value of tangible capital assets, the estimation of personal income tax, corporations tax and harmonized sales tax revenue accruals, the valuation of the Canada Health Transfer, Canada Social Transfer Equalization Payment entitlements, and the estimation of liabilities for contaminated sites.

Pensions and other employee future benefits liability of $12,107 million (2015, $3,151 million), see Note 6, is subject to measurement uncertainty because actual results may differ significantly from the Province's best long-term estimate of expected results (for example, the difference between actual results and actuarial assumptions regarding return on investment of pension fund assets and health care cost trend rates for retiree benefits).

The net book value of tangible capital assets of $102,536 million (2015, $97,065 million), see Note 9, is subject to uncertainty because of differences between estimated useful lives of the assets and their actual useful lives.

Personal income tax revenue estimate of $31,141 million (2015, $29,313 million), see Schedule 1, may be subject to subsequent revisions based on information available in the future related to past-year tax return processing. Corporations tax revenues of $11,428 million (2015, $9,557 million), see Schedule 1, and Harmonized Sales Tax revenues of $23,455 million (2015, $21,689 million), are also subject to uncertainty for similar reasons.

The estimation of the Canada Health Transfer of $13,089 million (2015, $12,408 million) and Canada Social Transfer of $4,984 million (2015, $4,847 million), and Equalization Payments entitlements of $2,363 million (2015, $1,988 million), see Schedule 1, is subject to uncertainty because of variances between the estimated and actual Ontario shares of the Canada-wide personal income and corporations tax base and population.

There is measurement uncertainty surrounding the estimation of liabilities for contaminated sites of $1,751 million as at March 31, 2016 (2015, $1,792 million), see Note 7. The Province may be responsible for cleanup costs that cannot be reasonably estimated due to several factors, including: insufficient information related to the nature and extent of contamination, timing of costs well into the future (e.g., unknown impacts of future technological advancements), the challenges of remote locations and unique contaminations.

Estimates are based on the best information available at the time of preparation of the financial statements and are reviewed annually to reflect new information as it becomes available. By their very nature, estimates are subject to measurement uncertainty. Therefore, actual results may differ materially from the Province's estimates.

(e) Significant Accounting Policies

Revenue

Revenues are recognized in the fiscal year that the events giving rise to the revenues occur and they are earned. Amounts received prior to the end of the year, which relate to revenues that will be earned in a subsequent fiscal year, are deferred and reported as liabilities.

Expense

Expenses are recognized in the fiscal year that the events giving rise to the expenses occur and resources are consumed.

Transfer payments are recognized in the year that the transfer is authorized and all eligibility criteria have been met by the recipient. Any transfers paid in advance are deemed to have met all eligibility criteria.

Interest on debt includes: i) interest on outstanding debt net of interest income on investments and loans; ii) amortization of foreign exchange gains or losses; iii) amortization of debt discounts, premiums and commissions; iv) amortization of deferred hedging gains and losses; and v) debt servicing costs and other costs. Interest income earned on investments and loans is netted with interest expense incurred on debt.

Employee future benefits, such as pensions, other retirement benefits and entitlements upon termination, are recognized as expenses over the years in which the benefits are earned by employees. These expenses are the government's share of the current year's cost of benefits, interest on the net benefits' liability or asset, amortization of actuarial gains or losses, cost/gain on plan amendments and other adjustments.

Other employee future benefits are recognized in the period when the event that obligates the government occurs or in the period when the benefits are earned by employees.

The costs of buildings, transportation infrastructure, vehicles, aircraft, leased assets, machinery, equipment and information technology infrastructure and systems owned by the Province and its consolidated organizations are amortized and recognized as expenses over their estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis.

Liabilities

Liabilities are recorded to the extent that they represent present obligations of the government to outside parties as a result of events and transactions occurring prior to the end of the fiscal year. The settlement of liabilities will result in the sacrifice of economic benefits in the future.

Liabilities include obligations to make transfer payments to organizations and individuals, present obligations for environmental costs, probable losses on loan guarantees issued by the government and contingencies when it is likely that a loss will be realized and the amount can be reasonably determined.

Liabilities also include obligations to GBEs.

Deferred revenue represents unspent externally restricted receipts from the federal government or other third parties. Amounts received prior to year-end that relate to funding for a subsequent fiscal year are reported as deferred revenue. Deferred revenues are recorded into revenue in the period in which the amounts received are used for the purposes specified or all external restrictions are satisfied. Deferred capital contributions represent the unamortized amount of contributions received from the federal government and other third parties to construct or acquire tangible capital assets. These contributions are recognized as deferred capital contributions and recorded into revenue over the useful life of the tangible capital assets based on the relevant stipulations of the contributions taken together with the actions and communications of the Province.

Alternative Financing and Procurement (AFP) refers to the Province using private-sector partners to procure and finance infrastructure assets. Assets procured via AFP are recognized as tangible capital assets and the related obligations are recognized as other long-term financing liabilities in these financial statements as the assets are constructed.

Debt

Debt consists of treasury bills, commercial paper, medium- and long-term notes, savings bonds, debentures and loans.

Debt denominated in foreign currencies that has been hedged is recorded at the Canadian dollar equivalent using the rates of exchange established by the terms of the hedge agreements. Other foreign currency-denominated debt is translated to Canadian dollars at year-end rates of exchange and any exchange gains or losses are amortized over the remaining term to maturity.

Derivatives are financial contracts, the value of which is derived from underlying instruments. The Province uses derivatives for the purpose of managing risk associated with interest cost. The Province does not use derivatives for speculative purposes. Gains or losses arising from derivative transactions are deferred and amortized over the remaining life of the related debt issue.

Pensions and Other Employee Future Benefits

The liabilities for pensions and other employee future benefits are calculated on an actuarial basis using the government's best estimates of future inflation rates, investment returns, employee salary levels and other underlying assumptions, and, where applicable, the government's borrowing rate. When actual plan experience of pensions, other retirement benefits and termination pay differs from that expected, or when assumptions are revised, actuarial gains and losses arise. These gains and losses are amortized over the expected average remaining service life of plan members for each respective plan.

Liabilities for selected employee future benefits (such as pensions, other retirement benefits and termination pay) represent the government's share of the actuarial present values of benefits attributed to services rendered by employees and former employees, less its share of the assets of the plans. In addition, the liability includes the Province's share of the unamortized balance of actuarial gains or losses, and other adjustments primarily for differences between the fiscal year-end of the pension plans and that of the Province.

The Province has legislated the accounting required when a pension plan is in an asset position on the financial statements such that the asset is determined to have NIL value (see Note 18).

Assets

Assets are resources controlled by the government from which it has reasonable expectation of deriving future benefit. Assets are recognized in the year the transaction or event gives rise to the government's control of the benefit.

Financial Assets

Financial assets are resources that can be used to discharge existing liabilities or finance future operations. They include cash and cash equivalents, investments, accounts receivable, loans receivable, advances and investments in government business enterprises.

Investments include temporary investments and portfolio investments. Temporary investments are recorded at the lower of cost or market value. Portfolio investments are recorded at the lower of cost or their estimated net realizable value.

Accounts receivables are recorded at cost. A valuation allowance is recorded when collection of the receivable is considered doubtful.

Loans receivable include loans to GBEs and loans under the student loans program and advanced manufacturing investment program. Loans receivable with significant concessionary terms are considered in part to be grants and are recorded on the date of issuance at face value discounted by the amount of the grant portion. The grant portion is recognized as an expense at the date of issuance of the loan or when the concession is provided. The amount of the loan discount is amortized to revenue over the term of the loan.

Investment in GBEs represents the net assets of GBEs recorded on the modified equity basis as described under Principles of Consolidation.

Tangible Capital Assets

Tangible capital assets are recorded at historical cost less accumulated amortization. Historical cost includes the costs directly related to the acquisition, design, construction, development, improvement or betterment of tangible capital assets. Cost includes overheads directly attributable to construction and development, as well as interest related to financing during construction. Tangible capital assets, except land, are amortized over the estimated useful lives of the assets on a straight-line basis.

Maintenance and repair costs are recognized as an expense when incurred. Betterments or improvements that significantly increase or prolong the service life or capacity of a tangible capital asset are capitalized. External contributions for acquisition of tangible capital assets are recorded as deferred capital contributions and amortized to revenue consistent with the amortization to expense of the related tangible capital assets, reflecting the intent of the external contributors that the grants be used to construct or acquire assets that will provide public services over the useful lives of the underlying assets.

2. Debt

The Province borrows in both domestic and international markets. Debt of $327.4 billion, as at March 31, 2016 (2015, $315.0 billion), is composed mainly of bonds and debentures issued in the short- and long-term domestic- and international-public capital markets and non-public debt held by certain federal and provincial public-sector pension funds. Debt comprises Debt Issued for Provincial Purposes of $303.1 billion (2015, $289.6 billion) and Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC) Debt of $24.4 billion (2015, $25.3 billion). The following table presents the maturity schedule of the Province's outstanding debt, by currency of repayment, expressed in Canadian dollars, and reflects the effects of related derivative contracts.

[1] Other currencies comprise the Australian dollar, Swiss franc and South African rand.

[2] The longest term to maturity is to June 2, 2062.

[3] Total foreign currency-denominated debt as at March 31, 2016, was $61.4 billion (2015, $66.0 billion). Of that, $60.4 billion or 98.4 per cent (2015, $65.0 billion or 98.6 per cent) was fully hedged to Canadian dollars. The remaining 1.6 per cent (2015, 1.4 per cent) of foreign debt was unhedged as follows: $425 million (2015, $389 million) Japanese yen-denominated debt, $540 million (2015, $547 million) Swiss franc-denominated debt and $2 million (2015, nil) Euro-denominated debt. Unhedged foreign currency debt as a percentage of total debt was 0.3% (2015, 0.3%).

[4] Total debt includes issues totalling $0.5 billion (2015, $0.5 billion), which have embedded options exercisable by either the Province or the bondholder under specific conditions.

[5] As at March 31, 2016, debt issued for provincial purposes purchased and held by the Province denominated in Canadian and U.S. dollars at its Canadian dollar equivalent, includes long-term debt of $4.3 billion (2015, $2.2 billion) and $1.3 billion (2015, $0.5 billion), and short-term debt of $2.0 billion (2015, $1.2 billion) and nil (2015, nil).

Debt As at March 31 ($ Millions)	2016	2015
Debt Payable to/of:
Public Investors	$315,443	$302,644
Canada Pension Plan Investment Board	10,233	10,233
Ontario Immigrant Investor Corporation	709	959
School Board Trust Debt	674	696
Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation	354	428
Total	$327,413	$314,960

Fair value of debt outstanding approximates the amounts at which debt instruments could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties. In valuing the Province's debt, fair value is estimated using discounted cash flows and other valuation techniques and is compared to public market quotations where available. These estimates are affected by the assumptions made concerning discount rates and the amount and timing of future cash flows.

The estimated fair value of debt as at March 31, 2016, was $375.6 billion (2015, 374.8 billion). This is higher than the book value of $327.4 billion (2015, $315.0 billion) because current interest rates are generally lower than the interest rates at which some of the debt was issued. The fair value of debt does not reflect the effect of related derivative contracts.

School Board Trust Debt

A School Board Trust was created in June 2003 to permanently refinance debt incurred by 55 school boards. The Trust issued 30-year sinking fund debentures amounting to $891 million, and provided $882 million of the proceeds to the 55 school boards in exchange for the irrevocable right to receive future transfer payments from the Province related to this debt. An annual transfer payment is made by the Ministry of Education to the Trust's sinking fund under the School Board Operating Grant program to retire the debt over 30 years. This debt, recorded net of the sinking fund, is reflected in the Province's debt.

3. Risk Management and Derivative Financial Instruments

The Province employs various risk management strategies and operates within strict risk exposure limits to ensure that exposure to financial risk is managed in a prudent and cost-effective manner. A variety of strategies are used, including the use of derivative financial instruments ("derivatives").

Derivatives are financial contracts, the value of which is derived from underlying instruments. The Province uses derivatives to hedge and to minimize interest cost volatility. Hedges are created primarily through swaps, which are legal contracts under which the Province agrees with another party to exchange cash flows based on one or more notional amounts using stipulated reference interest rates for a specified period. Swaps allow the Province to offset its existing obligations and thereby effectively convert them into obligations with more cost-effective characteristics. Other derivative instruments used by the Province include forward foreign exchange contracts, forward rate agreements, futures and options.

Foreign exchange or currency risk is the risk that foreign currency debt principal and interest payments and foreign currency transactions will vary in Canadian dollar terms due to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. To manage currency risk, the Province uses derivative contracts including forward foreign exchange contracts, futures, options and swaps to convert foreign currency cash flows into Canadian dollar cash flows. Most of the derivative contracts hedge the underlying debt by matching all the critical terms to achieve effectiveness. In instances where the term of forward foreign exchange contracts used for hedging is shorter than the term of the underlying debt, hedge effectiveness is maintained by continuously rolling the forward foreign exchange contract over the remaining term of the underlying debt, or until replaced with a long-term derivative contract.

The current market risk policy allows the amount of unhedged foreign currency debt principal net of foreign currency holdings to reach a maximum of 5 per cent of Total Debt Issued for Provincial Purposes and OEFC. At March 31, 2016, the respective unhedged levels were 0.3 and nil per cent (2015, 0.3 and nil per cent). As of March 31, 2016, unhedged debt was limited to debt issued in Japanese yen, Swiss francs and Euros. A one-Japanese yen appreciation of the Japanese currency, relative to the Canadian dollar, would result in unhedged debt denominated in Japanese yen increasing by $5.0 million (2015, $4.2 million) and a corresponding increase in interest on debt of $1.3 million (2015, $1.0 million). A one-Swiss rappen appreciation of the Swiss currency, relative to the Canadian dollar, would result in unhedged debt denominated in Swiss francs increasing by $7.4 million (2015, $7.2 million) and a corresponding increase in interest on debt of $2.1 million (2015, $1.8 million). Total foreign exchange gains/losses recognized in the Statement of Operations for 2015–16 were losses of $5.1 million (2014–15, gains of $63.9 million).

Interest on debt expense may also vary as a result of changes in interest rates. In respect of Debt Issued for Provincial Purposes and OEFC debt, the risk is measured as interest rate resetting risk, which is the floating rate exposure plus fixed rate debt maturing within the next 12-month period net of liquid reserves as a percentage of Debt Issued for Provincial Purposes and OEFC debt, respectively.

The current market risk policy limits net interest rate resetting risk for Debt Issued for Provincial Purposes and OEFC debt to a maximum of 35 per cent. At March 31, 2016, the net interest rate resetting risk for Debt Issued for Provincial Purposes and OEFC debt was 10.9 per cent and 7.6 per cent, respectively (2015, 11.0 per cent and 20.4 per cent). Based on net floating rate exposure at March 31, 2016, plus planned refinancing of maturing fixed rate debt to March 31, 2017, a one per cent (100 basis point) increase in interest rates would result in an increase in interest on debt of approximately $350 million (2015, $377 million).

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Province will not be able to meet its current short-term financial obligations. To reduce liquidity risk, the Province maintains liquid reserves: that is, cash and temporary investments (Note 8), adjusted for collateral (Note 13), at levels that are expected to meet future cash requirements and give the Province flexibility in the timing of issuing debt. Pledged assets are considered encumbered for liquidity purposes while collateral held that can be sold or repledged is a source of liquidity. In addition, the Province has short-term note programs as alternative sources of liquidity.

The table below presents a maturity schedule of the Province's derivatives, by type, outstanding as at March 31, 2016, based on the notional amounts of the contracts. Notional amounts represent the volume of outstanding derivative contracts and are not indicative of credit risk, market risk or actual cash flows.

[2] See glossary for definition.

The use of derivatives introduces credit risk, which is the risk of a counterparty defaulting on contractual derivative obligations in which the Province has an unrealized gain. The table below presents the credit risk associated with the derivative financial instrument portfolio, measured through the replacement value of derivative contracts, as at March 31, 2016.

Credit Risk Exposure As at March 31 ($ Millions)	2016	2015
Gross Credit Risk Exposure	$9,774	$10,861
Less: Netting	(7,252)	(6,739)
Net Credit Risk Exposure	2,522	4,122
Less: Collateral Received (Note 13)	(1,712)	(3,277)
Net Credit Risk Exposure (Net of Collateral)	$810	$845

The Province manages its credit risk exposure from derivatives by, among other things, dealing only with high-credit-quality counterparties and regularly monitoring compliance to credit limits. In addition, the Province enters into contractual agreements ("master agreements") that provide for termination netting and, if applicable, payment netting with most of its counterparties. Gross Credit Risk Exposure represents the loss that the Province would incur if every counterparty to which the Province had credit risk exposure were to default at the same time, and the contracted netting provisions were not exercised or could not be enforced. Net Credit Risk Exposure is the loss including the mitigating impact of these netting provisions. Net Credit Risk Exposure (Net of Collateral) is the potential loss to the Province further mitigated by the collateral received from counterparties.

4. Other Long-Term Financing

Other long-term financing comprises the total debt of the BPS organizations and obligations under AFP arrangements.

Other Long-Term Financing of $14.1 billion, as at March 31, 2016 (2015, $13.9 billion) includes BPS debt of $5.0 billion (2015, $5.5 billion), BPS AFP obligations of $5.4 billion (2015, $5.5 billion) and direct provincial AFP obligations of $3.7 billion (2015, $2.9 billion).

5. Deferred Revenue and Capital Contributions

In 2010–11, the Province renewed its long-standing business partnership with Teranet Inc. by extending Teranet's exclusive licences to provide electronic land registration and writs services in Ontario for an additional 50 years. The Province received approximately a $1.0 billion upfront payment for the transaction, which is amortized into revenue over the life of the contract.

The Province provides a two-year vehicle licence plate renewal option and multi-year driver licence renewals (two years for seniors and five years for all others). Amounts received under these multi-year renewals are recognized as revenue over the periods covered by the licences.

Deferred capital contributions represent the unamortized portion of tangible capital assets or liabilities to construct or acquire tangible capital assets from specific-purpose funding received from the Government of Canada, municipalities or third parties. Deferred capital contributions are recorded in revenue over the estimated useful life of the underlying tangible capital asset when the tangible capital asset is placed in service.

Deferred Revenue and Capital Contributions As at March 31 ($ Millions)	2016	2015
Deferred Revenue:
Teranet	$923	$956

i) differences for amounts reported by the pension plans at December 31, instead of the Province's year-end of March 31;
ii) unamortized difference between employer and employee contributions for jointly sponsored pension plans; and
iii) amounts payable by the Province that are reflected as contributions in the pension plan assets.

[2] Valuation allowances are related to the pension assets for the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan and for the OPSEU Pension Plan (Note 18).

Information on pension plans with accrued benefit obligation in excess of plan fund assets is as follows:

[1] Adjustments for pensions consist of amortization of:
i) the difference between employer and employee contributions for jointly sponsored pension plans; and
ii) employee contribution reductions for solely sponsored plans.

[2] Total Pensions and Other Employee Future Benefits Expense is reported in Schedule 3. The Teachers' Pension expense of $1,590 million (2014–15, $564 million) is included in the Education expense in the Consolidated Statement of Operations and is disclosed separately in Schedule 4. The Public Service and OPSEU Pension expense of $730 million (2014–15, $787 million) and Other Employee Future Benefits — Retirement Benefits expense of $393 million (2014–15, $319 million) are included in the General Government and Other expense in the Consolidated Statement of Operations, and is under Employee and Pensioner Benefits in Schedule 4.The remainder of Other Employee Future Benefits expense is included in the relevant ministries' expenses in Schedule 4.

[3] The Pensions and Other Employee Future Benefits Expenses for the hospitals, school boards and colleges sectors (except for the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan [OTPP]) are not included in the table above. The expenses for HOOPP of $747 million (2014–15, $843 million) and CAATPP of $190 million (2014–15, $199 million) are included in the Salaries, Wages and Benefits expenses of the hospitals and colleges sectors, respectively (Schedule 10) and in the expenses of the BPS ministries (Education, Health and Long-Term Care, and Training, Colleges and Universities) in Schedule 4.

[4.] Valuation allowances are related to the pension assets for the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan and for the OPSEU Pension Plan (Note 18).

Pensions

The Province sponsors several pension plans. It is the sole sponsor of the Public Service Pension Plan (PSPP) and joint sponsor of the Ontario Public Service Employees Union (OPSEU) Pension Plan and the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan (OTPP).

These three plans are contributory defined benefit plans that provide Ontario government employees and elementary and secondary school teachers and administrators with a guaranteed amount of retirement income. Benefits are based primarily on the best five-year average salary of members and their length of service, and are indexed to changes in the Consumer Price Index to provide protection against inflation. Plan members normally contribute 7 to 11 per cent of their salaries to these plans. The Province matches these contributions.

The Province is also responsible for sponsoring the Public Service Supplementary Benefits Plan and the Ontario Teachers' Retirement Compensation Arrangement. Expenses and liabilities of these plans are included in the Pensions Expense and Pensions Liability reported in the above tables.

In addition to the Provincial sponsored plans, pension benefits for employees in the hospital and colleges sectors are provided by the Healthcare of Ontario Pension Plan (HOOPP) and the Colleges of Applied Arts and Technology Pension Plan (CAATPP) respectively, and are included in these financial statements.

HOOPP is a multi-employer pension plan covering employees of Ontario's health care community. CAATPP is a multi-employer pension plan covering employees of the Colleges of Applied Arts and Technology in Ontario, the Board of Trustees, the Ontario College Application Services and the Ontario College Library Services. Both of these plans are accounted for as joint contributory defined benefit plans that provide eligible members with a retirement income based on a formula that takes into account a member's earnings history and length of service in the plan. The plans are financed by contributions from participating members and employers, and by investment earnings. Because organizations covered under these plans are in the government's reporting entity, the Province includes 56 per cent of BPS organizations' portion[1] of the net obligation of HOOPP and includes 50 per cent of the net obligation of CAATPP.

The obligation for benefits and plan fund assets of the above plans is based on actuarial accounting valuations that are performed annually. Funding of these plans is based on statutory actuarial funding valuations undertaken at least once every three years.

[1] BPS organizations are represented in HOOPP at 85 per cent in 2015–16 (2014–15, 84 per cent).

1 HOOPP employer contributions only include the BPS organizations. The market value of pension fund assets, benefit payments (including transfers to other plans), employee contributions, number of active members, average age of active members, and number of pensioners including survivors, represent the entire HOOPP plan, including non-BPS organizations.

2 Employer contributions paid during the Province's fiscal year. Employer contributions excludes other employers' contributions made by agencies participating in PSPP and OPSEU, and excludes other employers' contributions to OTPP. PSPP employer contributions include special payments of $99 million (2014–15, $99 million).

3 Employee contributions paid during the calendar year.

Other Employee Future Benefits

Other Employee Future Benefits are non-pension retirement benefits, post-employment benefits, compensated absences and termination benefits.

Non-Pension Retirement Benefits

The Province provides dental, basic life insurance, supplementary health and hospital benefits to retired employees through a self-insured, unfunded defined benefit plan. Changes to eligibility criteria and premium cost-sharing terms announced in 2014 will take effect as of January 1, 2017. Certain Public Service Pension Plan members, and OPSEU Pension Plan members who do not meet the current 10-year eligibility criteria by January 1, 2017, would be required to have 20 years of pension service and retire to an immediate unreduced pension to be eligible to receive the post-retirement insured benefits. Further, any eligible members who commence receipt of a pension on or after January 1, 2017, would be required to pay 50 per cent of the premium costs in order to participate in the post-retirement insured benefits plan.

Notwithstanding the changes described in the previous paragraph, an arbitration decision resulting from the Association of Law Officers of the Crown/Ontario Crown Attorneys Associations (ALOC/OCAA) policy grievance precluded the application of these announced changes to associations' members for the balance of the term of the current collective agreement. In addition, in 2015–16, the Province updated the OPSEU retiree's supplementary health benefits to align with changes negotiated for active OPSEU members. These two amendments resulted in a $30 million past service cost that is included in the results for the 2015–16 fiscal year.

The liability for non-pension retirement benefits of $8.3 billion as at March 31, 2016 (2015, $8.1 billion), is included in the Other Employee Future Benefits Liability. The expense for 2015–16 of $393 million (2014–15, $319 million) (excluding the expense for BPS organizations) is included in the Other Employee Future Benefits Expense. The BPS expense of $29 million in 2015–16 (2014–15, $41 million) is included in the Salaries, Wages and Benefits expense of BPS organizations (Schedule 10) and in the expenses of the related ministries (Schedule 4).

The discount rate used in the non-pension retirement benefits calculation for 2015–16 is 3.40 per cent (2014–15, 3.70 per cent). The discount rate used by BPS organizations in the non-pension retirement benefits calculation for 2015–16 ranges from 2.35 per cent to 5.75 per cent (2014–15, 2.80 per cent to 5.75 per cent).

Post-Employment Benefits, Compensated Absences and Termination Benefits

The Province provides, on a self-insured basis, workers' compensation benefits, long-term disability benefits and regular benefits to employees who are on long-term disability.

In 2015, the Province eliminated termination pay entitlement upon retirement for the Ontario Public Service Employee Union (OPSEU) employees hired on or after January 1, 2013. For current OPSEU employees who retire after December 31, 2016, service accrued will be capped up to December 31, 2016, and any termination payments on retirement after January 1, 2016, will be paid based on salary in effect on December 31, 2016. A plan curtailment gain of $128 million and recognition of net unamortized gains of $22 million are included in the fiscal year 2015–16 Other Employee Future Benefits.

During the previous year, the Province eliminated severance entitlement upon retirement for the Association of Management, Administrative and Professional Crown Employees of Ontario (AMAPCEO) employees hired on or after April 1, 2014. For current AMAPCEO employees who retire after January 1, 2016, service accrued will be capped up to December 31, 2015, and any termination payments on retirement after January 1, 2016, will be paid based on salary in effect on December 31, 2015. A plan curtailment gain of $39 million and recognition of net unamortized gains of $5 million is included in fiscal year 2014–15 Other Employee Future Benefits.

For all other employees subject to terms set out in collective agreements, with the exception of management-excluded staff who have completed five years of service, the Province provides termination pay equal to one week's salary for each year of service up to a maximum of 50 per cent of their annual salary. Employees who have completed one year of service but less than five years are also entitled to termination pay in the event of death, retirement or release from employment. All employees who resign are not eligible for any severance pay in respect to service after December 2011.

The total post-employment benefits liability of $2.5 billion as at March 31, 2016 (2015, $2.7 billion), is included in the Other Employee Future Benefits Liability. The total post-employment benefits recovery of $37 million in 2015–16 (2014–15, $165 million post-employment benefit expense, excluding the expense for BPS organizations) is included in the Other Employee Future Benefits Expense. The BPS post-employment benefits expense of $471 million in 2015–16 (2014–15, $527 million) is included in the Salaries, Wages and Benefits expense of BPS organizations (Schedule 10) and in the expenses of the related ministries (Schedule 4).

The discount rate used in the post-employment benefits, compensated absences and termination benefits calculations for 2015–16 is 2.70 per cent (2014–15, 3.15 per cent). The discount rate used by BPS organizations in the post-employment benefits for 2015–16 ranges from 2.35 per cent to 6.75 per cent (2014–15, 2.75 per cent to 8.00 per cent).

7. Other Liabilities

Other Liabilities As at March 31 ($ Millions)	2016	2015
Power Purchase Contracts	$307	$479
Liabilities for Contaminated Sites	1,751	1,792
Other Funds and Liabilities	2,847	2,607
Total	$4,905	$4,878

Power Purchase Contracts

Power supply contracts include both power purchase contracts and power supply support agreements. Power purchase contracts and related loan agreements were entered into by the former Ontario Hydro with non-utility generators (NUGs) located in Ontario. As the legal continuation of Ontario Hydro, Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC), a consolidated government organization, is the counterparty to these contracts. The contracts, expiring on various dates to 2048, provided for the purchase of power at prices that were expected to be in excess of the future market price. Accordingly, a liability was recorded at $4.3 billion on a discounted cash-flow basis when Ontario Hydro was continued as OEFC on April 1, 1999.

Under legislated reforms to the electricity market, OEFC began receiving actual contract prices for power from ratepayers effective January 1, 2005, and no longer incurs losses on these contracts. At that time, the Ministry of Finance estimated the bulk of the liability would be eliminated over 12 years as existing electricity contracts expire. As a result, the OEFC is amortizing the bulk of the liability to revenue over that period. The decrease in the liability for power purchase contracts was $172 million (2014–15, $217 million), resulting in a liability of $307 million as at March 31, 2016 (2015, $479 million).

In addition, effective January 1, 2009, OEFC entered into a support contract, the Contingency Support Agreement (CSA), with Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG), whereby OPG agreed to maintain the reliability and availability of Lambton and Nanticoke coal-fired stations following implementation of a greenhouse gas emissions-reduction strategy. Under the contract, OEFC agreed to ensure OPG would recover the actual costs of operating the stations after implementing this strategy. Any costs to OEFC under this agreement are fully recovered from electricity ratepayers. As at December 31, 2013, OEFC triggered an early termination clause in the CSA to reflect the advanced closure of these plants by one year to the end of 2013. OPG is allowed to recover actual costs that cannot reasonably be avoided or mitigated, during the period from the early shutdown date until December 31, 2014, consistent with the original end date of the CSA.

During the year ended March 31, 2016, OEFC's cost under power supply contracts totalled $875 million (2014–15, $950 million), including purchases of power from NUGs of $865 million (2014–15, $902 million) and OPG support contract costs of $10 million (2014–15, $48 million). These costs were recovered from electricity ratepayers (as shown in Schedules 1, 3 and 4).

Liabilities for Contaminated Sites

The Province reports environmental liabilities related to the management and remediation of contaminated sites where the Province is obligated or likely obligated to incur such costs. A contaminated sites liability of $1,751 million (2015, $1,792 million) has been recorded based on environmental assessments or estimations for those sites where an assessment has not been conducted.

The Province's ongoing efforts to assess contaminated sites may result in additional environmental remediation liabilities related to newly identified sites, or changes in the assessments or intended use of existing sites, including mine sites. Any changes to the Province's liabilities for contaminated sites will be accrued in the year in which they are assessed as likely and reasonably estimable.

Other Funds and Liabilities

Other funds and liabilities include pension and benefit funds related to the Provincial Judges' Pension Fund, the Public Service and the Deputy Ministers' Supplementary Benefit Accounts, externally restricted funds and other long-term liabilities.

8. Investments

Investments As at March 31 ($ Millions)	2016	2015
Temporary Investments	$16,112	$14,743
Add: Assets Purchased under Resale Agreements	4,657	5,942
Less: Assets Sold under Repurchase Agreements	(1,008)	(1,994)
Total Temporary Investments	$19,761	$18,691
Other Investments	2,004	1,675
Total Investments	$21,765	$20,366

Temporary Investments

Temporary investments primarily consist of investments in government bonds. The fair value of temporary investments, including assets purchased and sold under resale and repurchase agreements at March 31, 2016, is $19.8 billion (2015, $18.7 billion). Fair value is determined using quoted market prices.

A resale agreement is an agreement between two parties where the Province purchases and subsequently resells a security at a specified price on a specified date. A repurchase agreement is an agreement between two parties where the Province sells and subsequently repurchases a security at a specified price on a specified date.

Other Investments

Other investments represent the investments held by BPS organizations. These investments primarily consist of fixed-income securities. The fair value of these investments approximates book value.

Land includes land acquired for transportation infrastructure, parks, buildings and other program use, and land improvements that have an indefinite life and are not being amortized. Land excludes Crown lands acquired by right.

Buildings include administrative and service structures, and dams and engineering structures.

Transportation Infrastructure includes provincial highways, railways, bridges and related structures and facilities, but excludes land and buildings.

Machinery and Equipment consists mainly of hospital equipment.

Information Technology consists of computer hardware and software.

Other includes leased assets, vehicles, aircraft and other miscellaneous tangible capital assets owned by the government and its consolidated organizations.

Works of art and historical treasures are excluded from tangible capital assets.

Assets under construction have been included within the various asset categories presented above. The total value of assets under construction as at March 31, 2016, is $11.8 billion (2015, $14.2 billion).

All tangible capital assets, except assets under construction, land and land improvements with an indefinite life, are being amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. Amortization expense for the fiscal year 2015–16 totalled $4.9 billion (2014-15, $4.5 billion) of which $2.0 billion (2014–15, $1.8 billion) relates to the Province and $2.9 billion (2014–15, $2.7 billion) relates to the BPS. The latter expense is included under the BPS expense reported on Schedule 10. The useful lives of the Province's tangible capital assets have been estimated as:

Buildings	20 to 40 years
Dams and Engineering Structures	20 to 80 years
Transportation Infrastructure	10 to 75 years
Machinery and Equipment	3 to 20 years
Information Technology	3 to 15 years
Other	3 to 30 years

10. Changes in the Fair Value of Ontario Nuclear Funds

The Ontario Nuclear Funds Agreement (ONFA) Funds were established by Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) and the Province to ensure that sufficient funds will be available to pay for the costs of nuclear station decommissioning and nuclear used fuel waste management.

Since April 1, 2007, the fair value of ONFA Funds has been reflected in the Province's Consolidated Financial Statements. Unrealized gains and losses of ONFA Funds are included in Investment in Government Business Enterprises and recorded as an Increase (Decrease) in Fair Value of Ontario Nuclear Funds in the Consolidated Statement of Change in Net Debt and the Consolidated Statement of Change in Accumulated Deficit. Realized gains and losses of ONFA Funds are included in Income from Investment in Government Business Enterprises. Inter-organizational balances related to ONFA Funds are eliminated.

ONFA Funds incurred unrealized losses in 2015–16 of $1,003 million (2014–15, unrealized gain of $1,121 million) that resulted in a decrease in Investment in Government Business Enterprises and a corresponding increase in Net Debt and Accumulated Deficit.

11. Sale of Hydro One Common Shares

In November 2015, the Province sold approximately 16 per cent of Hydro One's common shares at a price of $20.50 per common share, through a public offering and through related share sales. As of March 31, 2016, the Province owned approximately 84 per cent of Hydro One's common shares.

In August 2015, prior to the sale of Hydro One common shares, Hydro One transferred all of the issued and outstanding shares of Hydro One Brampton to the Province as a dividend-in-kind. Hydro One also transferred all of the long-term intercompany debt plus accrued interest owed by Hydro One Brampton to Hydro One as a return of stated capital. The transfers were made to the newly formed Brampton Distribution Holdco Inc., creating a new government business enterprise. Also, prior to the sale of the Hydro One Shares, Hydro One declared and paid a special dividend to the Province of $800 million. This amount is reported in the Remittances to Consolidated Fund in Schedule 9 and was considered in the book value calculation of the shares sold.

An accounting gain of $783 million was recognized in the 2015–16 financial results in connection with the sale of Hydro One shares. An additional gain of $48 million was deferred in connection with a sale of shares to electricity sector union trusts during the year and will be recognized as revenue as the loans provided to the trusts to purchase the shares are repaid.

In conjunction with the disposition of Hydro One shares, Hydro One exited the Province's payments in lieu of corporate income tax regime (corporate PILs regime) and is now subject to federal and provincial corporate income taxes. Immediately before exiting the corporate PILs regime, Hydro One was deemed to have disposed of its assets for proceeds equal to the assets' fair market value. As a result of this deemed disposition, before exiting the corporate PILs regime Hydro One had to make a payment under the Electricity Act, 1998, related to the income and capital gains arising from the difference between the assets' fair value and tax value. This one-time payment to the Province, referred to as the "departure tax," was $2.6 billion. Hydro One also paid the Province $191 million in additional corporate PILs in connection with leaving the corporate PILs regime. These one-time payments did not affect the Province's annual deficit as the additional revenue recognized by the Province was offset by an equal reduction in Hydro One's net income, which is consolidated in the Province's financial statements.

The transition into the federal and provincial corporate income tax regime also resulted in Hydro One eliminating a deferred tax liability and recognizing a deferred tax asset in 2015–16, which reflects reduced cash taxes payable by Hydro One for some period in the future. The Province's proportionate share of the deferred tax benefit increased the Province's revenues by $2.4 billion, and is reflected in Income from Government Business Enterprises.

A summary of key direct components of the Hydro One transactions include:

($ Millions)
Total proceeds from the sale of shares	$1,945
Deferred gain on sale of shares to electricity union trusts	($48)
Transaction costs	($43)
Net Proceeds from sale of Hydro One shares (Net of transaction cost and gain on sale of shares to electricity union trusts)	$1,854
Book value of shares sold (Schedule 9)	($1,071)
Gain on sale of shares recognized in 2015–16	$783
Electricity PILs Revenue (Schedule 1)	$2,791
Hydro One departure tax expense and one-time PILs payment (offset to PILs Revenue) reflected in Income from GBEs	($2,791)
Portion of Hydro One deferred tax benefit recorded by the Province through HOL consolidation, reflected in Income from GBEs	$2,392
Net impact on annual deficit	$3,175

12. Hydro One and Ontario Power Generation use of US GAAP

Hydro One Limited and Ontario Power Generation Inc. prepare their stand-alone financial statements on a US GAAP basis as permitted under current securities legislation. The entities are consolidated on the Province's books, using the modified equity method, on the same basis on which they report their stand-alone financial reports. As government business enterprises, in the Introduction to the Public Sector Accounting Standards, for purposes of consolidation, Hydro One Limited and Ontario Power Generation Inc. are directed to prepare their financial statements in accordance with accounting standards used by publicly accountable enterprises, which under Part I of the Accounting Standards Handbook would be International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). If the results for Hydro One Limited and Ontario Power Generation Inc. were consolidated with those of the Province using IFRS, Financial Assets would be $473 million lower, Income from Investment in Government Business Enterprises would be $34 million lower and Opening Accumulated Deficit would be $439 million higher.

13. Contingent Liabilities

Obligations Guaranteed by the Province

The authorized limit for loans guaranteed by the Province as at March 31, 2016, was $1.4 billion (2015, $2.0 billion). The outstanding loans guaranteed and other contingencies amounted to $1.0 billion as at March 31, 2016 (2015, $1.4 billion). A provision of $3.4 million (2015, $4.0 million), based on an estimate of the likely loss arising from guarantees under the Student Support Programs, has been reflected in these financial statements.

Ontario Nuclear Funds Agreement

Under ONFA, the Province is liable to make payments should the cost estimate for nuclear used fuel waste management rise above specified thresholds, for a fixed volume of used fuel. The likelihood and amount by which the cost estimate could rise above these thresholds cannot be determined at this time. The cost estimate will be updated periodically to reflect new developments in the management of nuclear used fuel waste.

As well, under ONFA, the Province guarantees a return of 3.25 per cent over the Ontario Consumer Price Index for the portion of the nuclear used fuel waste management segregated fund related to the fixed volume of used fuel. If the earnings on assets in that fund related to the fixed volume exceed the guaranteed rate, the Province is entitled to the excess.

Two agreements are in place to satisfy the Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission (CNSC) licensing requirements for financial guarantees in respect of OPG's nuclear station decommissioning and nuclear waste management obligations. One agreement gives the CNSC access (in prescribed circumstances) to the segregated funds established under ONFA. The other agreement between the Province and the CNSC provides a direct provincial guarantee to the CNSC on behalf of OPG. This guarantee relates to the portion of the decommissioning and waste management obligations not funded by the estimated value of ONFA funds as at January 1, 2013. In return, the Province receives from OPG an annual fee equal to 0.5 per cent of the value of the guarantee. The provincial guarantee, for up to $1,551 million, is in effect from January 1, 2013, through the end of 2017, when the next reference plan for the CNSC is planned to be approved. In each of January 2015 and 2016, OPG paid a guarantee fee of $8 million to the Province based on the guarantee amount of $1,551 million.

Social Housing — Loan Insurance Agreements

For all non-profit housing projects in the provincial portfolio, the Province is liable to indemnify and reimburse the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) for any net costs, including any environmental liabilities, incurred as a result of project defaults through the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing or the Ontario Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

At March 31, 2016, there were $5.0 billion (2015, $5.4 billion) of mortgage loans outstanding. As operating subsidies provided by the Province are sufficient to ensure that all mortgage payments can be made when due, default is unlikely. To date, there have been no claims for defaults on insured mortgage loans.

Claims Against the Crown

There are claims outstanding against the Crown, of which 70 (2015, 58) are for amounts over $50 million. These claims arise from legal action, either in progress or threatened, in respect of Aboriginal land claims, breach of contract, damages to persons and property, and like items. The cost to the Province, if any, cannot be determined because the financial outcome of these actions is uncertain. For a detailed listing of claims against the ministries, refer to Public Accounts Volume 1, “Claims Against the Crown.”

Subsequent to year end, on April 20, 2016, the Ontario Superior Court determined that Bill 115, the Putting Students First Act, 2012, was in contravention of the unions’ right to collective bargaining under the Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The Court did not impose a penalty on the Province, and directed that the parties attempt to negotiate a remedy. The impact on the March 31, 2016, consolidated financial statements of the related accrual is based on the Province’s best estimation of the remedy amount on information available, the extent of which is not disclosed given that an agreement has not been reached.

Canadian Blood Services

The provincial and territorial governments of Canada have entered into a Canadian Blood Services Excess Insurance Captive Support Agreement (the “Captive Support Agreement”) with Canadian Blood Services (CBS) and Canadian Blood Services Captive Insurance Company Limited (CBSI), a wholly owned subsidiary of CBS. Under the Captive Support Agreement, each government indemnifies CBSI for its pro-rata share of any payments that CBSI becomes obliged to make under a comprehensive blood risks insurance policy it provides to CBS. The policy has an overall limit of $750 million, which may cover settlements, judgments and defence costs. The policy is in excess of, and secondary to, a $250 million comprehensive insurance policy underwritten by CBS Insurance Company Limited, a subsidiary of CBS. Given current populations, Ontario’s maximum potential liability under the Captive Support Agreement is approximately $376 million. The Province is not aware of any proceedings that could lead to a claim against it under the Captive Support Agreement.

Legal Aid Ontario — Certificates

Legal Aid Ontario (LAO) issues certificates to individuals seeking legal aid assistance. Each certificate issued authorizes legal services to be performed within the tariff guidelines. At March 31, 2016, a potential $51.9 million (2015, $55.6 million) could still be incurred on certificates issued on or before March 31, 2016, over and above the billings received to date.

Contaminated Sites

The Province has identified contingent liabilities related to 125 sites (2015, 76 sites) that may have potential liabilities of $365 million (2015, $383 million). A liability has not been recorded for these sites because either the likelihood of the government becoming responsible for the site is not determinable, the amount of the liability cannot be estimated, or both.

General Real Estate Portfolio — Lease Obligation

Prior to the amalgamation of Stadium Corporation of Ontario Limited (STADCO) with Infrastructure Ontario and the Ontario Realty Corporation on June 6, 2011, all assets, liabilities and operations of STADCO were transferred to the General Real Estate Portfolio (GREP), including ground leases dated June 3, 1989, with Canada Lands Company (CLC) for the SkyDome Lands and the sublease to Rogers Stadium Limited Partnership (sub-tenant). Under the terms of the ground lease, GREP is responsible for base rent, realty taxes, utilities and certain operating costs, which are assumed by the sub-tenant under the terms of the sub-lease. In the event of a default by the sub-tenant, the potential financial impact to GREP is estimated to be the base rent, in the range of $300 million to $400 million annually, plus realty taxes, utilities and certain operating costs.

Collateral

The Province has entered into securities repurchase agreements and collateralized swap agreements with certain counterparties. Under the terms of those agreements, the Province may be required to pledge and/or receive assets relating to obligations to the counterparties. In the normal course of business, these pledged securities will be returned to the pledgor when there are no longer any outstanding obligations.

As at March 31, 2016, the Province pledged assets in the carrying amount of $33 million (2015, $35 million), which are included in Investments and/or Cash and Cash Equivalents.

14. Contractual Obligations

Contractual Obligations as at March 31 ($ Millions)	2016	2015	Minimum Payments to be made in: 2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022 and thereafter

Ontario Power Generation Inc.'s contractual obligations include future contributions under ONFA of $3.2 billion and fuel-supply agreements of $783 million.

The Province has entered into a number of multiple-year alternative financing contracts for the construction of assets and delivery of services. The contractual obligations represent the unperformed capital and operating portion of the contracts and will become liabilities in the future when the terms of the contracts are met.

15. Trust Funds Under Administration

Summary financial information from the most recent financial statements of trust funds under administration is provided below.

Workplace Safety and Insurance Board (WSIB)[1] As at December 31 ($ Millions)	2015	2014[2]
Assets	$28,305	$25,779

Unfunded liabilities of trusts under administration are not included in the Province's consolidated financial statements as it is intended that they will be discharged by external parties. The most recent financial statements of these trusts are reproduced in Volume 2 of the Public Accounts of Ontario.

16. Future Changes in Accounting Standards

PSAB 3450 — Financial Instruments and PSAB 2601 — Foreign Currency Translation

PSAB has introduced new sections on Financial Instruments and Foreign Currency Translation that categorize items to be accounted for at either fair value, cost or amortized cost. Fair value measurement applies to derivatives and portfolio investments in equity instruments that are quoted in an active market. Other financial assets and financial liabilities will generally be measured at cost or amortized cost. Until an item is derecognized (for example, through disposition), any gains and losses arising due to changes in fair value (remeasurements) will be reported in the Statement of Remeasurement Gains and Losses. PSAB has agreed to further explore the views of the stakeholders in the areas of hedge accounting and linkage to the Concepts Underlying Financial Performance project. PSAB has extended the effective date of these standards until fiscal year 2019–20.

PSAB 2200 — Related Party Disclosures

PSAB has issued a new standard on Related Party Disclosures. This standard requires disclosure of related party transactions if they have a material financial effect on the Consolidated Financial Statements and only if those transactions occur at a value different from what would have been arrived at if the parties were unrelated. Transactions involving key management personnel and their close family members may be required to be disclosed if they meet certain criteria. The standard is effective in fiscal year 2017–18 or earlier. The Province is currently assessing the impact of this standard on its Consolidated Financial Statements.

PSAB 3420 — Inter-Entity Transactions

PSAB has issued a new standard on Inter-Entity Transactions. It establishes standards on how to account for and report transactions between public-sector entities that comprise a government's reporting entity from both a provider and recipient perspective. This standard covers recognition and measurement and references disclosure of information about Inter-Entity Transactions, in accordance with the Related Party Disclosure, Section PS 2200. The standard is effective in fiscal year 2017–18 or earlier. The Province is currently assessing the impact of this standard on its Consolidated Financial Statements.

Concepts Underlying Financial Performance

PSAB is currently in the process of revisiting its conceptual framework, which establishes principles for the development of standards used for financial reporting by the public–sector entities in Canada. The conceptual framework is important to ensure public–sector standards appropriately reflect the economic substance of government transactions and to support transparency and accountability in public-sector reporting. PSAB continues with stakeholder communication activities and is currently deliberating on comments received on their latest consultation paper.

Asset Retirement Obligations

PSAB is currently developing an exposure draft for a new accounting standard that addresses the reporting of legal obligations associated with the retirement of long-lived tangible capital assets currently in productive use. The Province will be responding to the exposure draft, which is expected in the first quarter of 2017.

Revenue

PSAB is currently developing an exposure draft for revenue recognition principles that apply to revenues of governments and government organizations other than government transfers and tax revenue. The Province will be responding to the exposure draft, which is expected in the first quarter of 2017.

17. Subsequent Event

Subsequent to the Province's fiscal year end, on April 14, 2016, the Province sold 72,434,800 common shares of Hydro One Limited at $23.65 per share through a secondary share offering, generating approximately $1.7 billion in gross proceeds.

The Province also granted an over-allotment option to the underwriters to purchase up to an additional 10,865,200 common shares, under the same terms and conditions as the base offering. The underwriters exercised this over-allotment option in full on April 29, 2016. Including the over-allotment option, the Province generated approximately $2 billion in gross proceeds from the offering.

Subsequent to this sale, the Province owns approximately 70 per cent of the outstanding, common shares of Hydro One Limited.

18. Change in Accounting for Pension Assets of Jointly Sponsored Pension Plans

For the 2015–16 Public Accounts, the government legislated the accounting treatment for pension assets of its jointly sponsored pension plans. The legislation impacts the accounting for both the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan and the Ontario Public Service Employees' Union Pension Plan. The legislation requires a full valuation allowance be recorded against the pension assets, therefore writing off the value of the assets.

As described in Public Sector Accounting Standards (PSAS), a pension asset arises when the government's total contributions to a plan, including income earned thereon, are greater than the cumulative retirement benefit expense recognized since the start of the plan. Contributions reflect the funding objectives of the plan. The benefit expense reflects the estimated cost of the pensions earned during the year that will be paid out to retirees in the future. In prior years, the government recorded pension assets to the extent the government expected to benefit from the asset through future reductions in contributions to the plan.

These plans are now accounted for in accordance with PSAS and legislation requiring a full valuation allowance be recorded. The change was made to reflect the Auditor General of Ontario's view that a full valuation allowance is required if the government does not have the legally enforceable right to unilaterally access the assets of the jointly sponsored pension plans, or in absence of that right, an irrevocable agreement in place at year-end with the joint sponsors of the plans to reduce contributions.

GLOSSARY

Note: The descriptions of the terms in the glossary are provided for the purpose of assisting readers of the 2015–16 Public Accounts. The descriptions do not affect or alter the meaning of any term under law. The glossary does not form part of the audited consolidated financial statements.

Accumulated Amortization: the total amortization that has been recorded over the life of an asset to date. The asset's total cost less the accumulated amortization gives the asset's net book value.

Accumulated Deficit: the difference between liabilities and assets. It represents the total of all past annual deficits minus all past annual surpluses, including prior-period adjustments.

Amortization: expensing a portion of an asset's cost in an accounting period by allocating its cost over its estimated useful life. This is applicable to tangible capital assets and items such as expenses relating to a debt issue.

Appropriation: an authority of the Legislative Assembly to pay money out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund or to incur a non-cash expense.

Broader Public Sector (BPS): public hospitals, specialty psychiatric hospitals, school boards and colleges. For financial statement purposes, universities and other organizations such as municipalities are excluded because they do not meet the criteria of government organizations as recommended by the Public Sector Accounting Board of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada.

Canada Health Transfer (CHT): a federal transfer provided to each province and territory in support of health care.

Canada Social Transfer (CST): a federal transfer provided to each province and territory in support of post-secondary education, social assistance and social services, including early childhood development, early learning and child care.

Capital Gain: the profit arising from the sale or transfer of capital assets or investments. For accounting purposes, it is the proceeds or market value received less the net book value of the capital asset or investment.

Capital Lease: a lease that, from the point of view of the lessee, transfers substantially all the benefits and risks incident to ownership of property to the lessee.

Cash and Cash Equivalents: cash or other short-term liquid low-risk instruments that are readily convertible to cash, typically within three months or less.

Consolidated Revenue Fund (CRF): the aggregate of all public monies on deposit to the credit of the Minister of Finance or in the name of any agency of the Crown approved by the Lieutenant Governor in Council. Payments made from the CRF must be appropriated by a statute. See Appropriation.

Consolidation: the inclusion of the financial results of government-controlled organizations in the Province's consolidated financial statements.

Consumer Price Index (CPI): a broad measure of the cost of living. Through the monthly CPI, Statistics Canada tracks the retail price of a representative shopping basket of goods and services from an average household's expenditure: food, housing, transportation, furniture, clothing, and recreation. The percentage of the total basket that any item occupies is termed the "weight" and reflects typical consumer spending patterns. Since people tend to spend more on food than clothing, changes in the price of food have a bigger impact on the index than, for example, changes in the price of clothing and footwear.

Contingency Fund: an amount of expense that is approved by the Legislative Assembly at the beginning of the year to cover higher spending due to unforeseen events. This approved spending limit is allocated during the year to ministries for their programs and activities. The actual costs incurred are charged to the respective programs and activities and not to the contingency fund. Therefore, the contingency fund as at the end of the Province's fiscal year is nil. See Reserve.

Contingent Liabilities: possible obligations that may result in the future sacrifice of economic benefits arising from existing conditions or situations involving uncertainty, which will ultimately be resolved when one or more future events not wholly within the government's control occur or fail to occur. Resolution of the uncertainty will confirm the incurrence or non-incurrence of a liability.

Contractual Obligations: obligations of a government to others that will become liabilities when the terms of any contract or agreement, which the government had entered into, are met.

Debenture: a debt instrument where the issuer promises to pay interest and repay the principal by the maturity date. It is unsecured, meaning there is no lien on any specific asset.

Debt: an obligation resulting from the borrowing of money.

Deferred Capital Contribution: the unamortized portion of tangible capital assets or liabilities to construct or acquire tangible capital assets from specific funding received from other levels of government or third parties. Deferred capital contribution is recorded in revenue over the estimated useful life of the underlying tangible capital assets once constructed or acquired by the Province.

Deferred Revenue: unspent externally restricted grants from other levels of government and third parties for operating activities. Deferred revenues are recorded into revenue in the period in which the amount received is used for the purposes specified.

Deficit: the amount by which government expenses exceed revenues in any given year. On a forecast basis, a reserve may be included.

Derivatives: financial contracts that derive their value from other underlying instruments. The Province uses derivatives including swaps, forward foreign exchange contracts, forward rate agreements, futures and options to hedge and minimize interest costs.

Expected Average Remaining Service Life: total number of years of future services expected to be rendered by that group of employees divided by the number of employees in the group.

Fair Value: the price that would be agreed upon in an arm's-length transaction and in an open market between knowledgeable, willing parties who are under no compulsion to act. It is not the effect of a forced or liquidation sale.

Financial Assets: assets that could be used to discharge existing liabilities or finance future operations and are not for consumption in the normal course of operations. Financial assets include cash; an asset that is convertible to cash; a contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset from another party; a temporary or portfolio investment; a financial claim on an outside organization or individual; and inventory.

Financial Instrument: liquid asset, equity security in an entity, or a contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one contracting party and a financial liability or equity instrument of the other contracting party.

Fiscal Plan: an outline of the government's consolidated revenue and expense plan for the upcoming fiscal year and the medium term, including information on the projected surplus/deficit. The plan is formally presented in the Budget, which the government presents in the spring of each year and is updated, as required, during the year. The fiscal plan numbers can be different from the expenditures outlined in the Printed Estimates.

Fiscal Year: the Province of Ontario's fiscal year runs from April 1 of a year to March 31 of the following year.

Floating Rate Notes (FRNs): debt instruments that bear a variable rate of interest.

Forgivable Loan: advances where the terms and conditions of the loan agreement allow for the non-repayment of the principal or accrued interest when certain conditions are met.

Forward Contract: a contract that obligates one party to buy, and another party to sell, a specified amount of a particular asset at a specified price, on a given date in the future.

Forward Rate Agreement: a forward contract that specifies the rate of interest, usually short term, to be paid or received on an obligation beginning at a future start date.

Fund: fiscal and accounting entity segregated for the purpose of carrying on specific activities, or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions or limitations.

Futures: an exchange-traded contract that confers an obligation to buy or sell a physical or financial commodity at a specified price and amount on a future date.

Gross Domestic Product (GDP): the total unduplicated value of the goods and services produced in the economy of a country or region during a given period, such as a quarter or a year. Gross domestic product can be measured three ways: as total income earned in current production, as total final expenditures or as total net value added in current production.

Hedging: a strategy to minimize the risk of loss on an asset (or a liability) from market fluctuations such as interest rate or foreign exchange rate changes. This is accomplished by entering into offsetting commitments with the expectation that a future change in the value of the hedging instrument will offset the change in the value of the asset (or the liability).

Indemnity: an agreement whereby one party agrees to compensate another party for any loss suffered by that party. The Province can either seek or provide indemnification.

Infrastructure: the facilities, systems and equipment required to provide public services and support private-sector economic activity including network infrastructure (e.g., roads, bridges, water and wastewater systems, large information technology systems), buildings (e.g., hospitals, schools, courts), and machinery and equipment (e.g., medical equipment, research equipment).

Liquid Reserve: comprises cash and short-term investments managed before consolidation with other government entities. It includes cash in the Province's bank accounts, money market securities and long-term bonds which have not been lent out through a sale and re-purchase agreement, adjusted for net pledged collateral.

Loan Guarantee: an agreement to pay all or part of the amount due on a debt obligation in the event of default by the borrower.

Net Book Value of Tangible Capital Assets: historical cost of tangible capital assets less both the accumulated amortization and the amount of any write-downs.

Net Debt: the difference between the Province's total liabilities and financial assets. It represents the Province's future revenue requirements to pay for past transactions and events.

Nominal: an amount expressed in dollar terms without adjusting for changes in prices due to inflation or deflation. It is not a good basis for comparing values of GDP in different years, for which a "real" value expressed in constant dollars (i.e., adjusted for price changes) is needed. See Real GDP.

Non-Financial Assets: assets that normally do not generate cash capable of being used to repay existing debts. The non-financial assets of the Province are tangible capital assets.

Non-Tax Revenue: revenue received by the government from external sources. This also includes revenues from the sale of goods and services, fines and penalties associated with the enforcement of government regulations and laws; fees and licence; royalties; profits from a self-sustaining Crown agency; and asset sales.

Ontario Disability Support Program (ODSP): a program designed to meet the unique needs of people with disabilities who are in financial need, or who want and are able to work and need support. Ontarians aged 65 years or older who are ineligible for Old Age Security may also qualify for ODSP supports if they are in financial need.

Option: a contract that confers the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell a specific amount of a commodity, currency or security at a specific price, on a certain future date.

Pension Actuarial Accounting Valuation: a valuation performed by an actuary to measure the pension benefit obligations at the end of the period or a point in time. The valuation attributes the cost of the pension benefit obligations to the period the related services are rendered by the members.

Pension Statutory Actuarial Funding Valuation: a valuation performed by an actuary to determine whether a pension plan has sufficient money to pay for its obligations when they become due. The valuation determines the contributions required to meet the pension benefit obligations.

Present Value: the current worth of one or more future cash payments, determined by discounting the payments using a given rate of interest.

Program Expense: total expense excluding interest on debt.

Public Accounts: the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Province along with supporting statements and schedules as required by the Financial Administration Act.

Real GDP: gross domestic product measured to exclude the impact of changing prices.

Recognition: the process of including an item in the financial statements of an entity.

Reserve: an amount included in the fiscal plan to protect the plan against unforeseen adverse changes in the economic outlook, or in the Provincial revenue and expense. Actual costs incurred by the ministry, which pertain to the reserve, are recorded as expenses of that ministry. See Contingency Fund.

Segment: a distinguishable activity or group of activities of a government for which it is appropriate to separately report financial information to help users of the financial statements identify the resources allocated to support the major activities of the government.

Sinking Fund Debenture: a debenture that is secured by periodic payments into a fund established to retire long-term debt.

Straight-Line Basis of Amortization: a method whereby the annual amortization expense is computed by dividing i) the historical cost of the asset by ii) the number of years the asset is expected to be used.

Surplus: the amount by which revenues exceed government expenses in any given year. On a forecast basis, a reserve may be included.

Swaption: an option granting its owner the right but not the obligation to enter into an underlying swap. Although options can be traded on a variety of swaps, the term swaption typically refers to options on interest rate swaps.

Tangible Capital Assets: physical assets including land, buildings, transportation infrastructure, vehicles, leased assets, machinery, furniture, equipment and information technology infrastructure and systems, and construction in progress.

Temporary Investments: investments that are transitional or current in nature and generally capable of reasonably prompt liquidation.

Total Debt: the Province's total borrowings outstanding.

Total Expense: sum of program expense and interest on debt expense.

Transfer Payments: grants to individuals, organizations or other levels of government for which the government making the transfer does not:

- receive any goods or services directly in return, as would occur in a purchase or sale transaction;
- expect to be repaid, as would be expected in a loan; or
- expect a financial return, as would be expected in an investment.

Treasury Bills: short-term debt instrument issued by governments on a discount basis.

Unrealized Gain or Loss: an increase or decrease in the fair value of an asset accruing to the holder. Once the asset is disposed of or written off, the gain or loss is realized.

Hi Ken,

Yesterday we held an internal meeting to discuss issues identified by Lisa and Toby regarding inclusion of an intercept provision in the new $2B FHP Credit Facility, as well the factors that the OFA needs to consider on whether or not to seek a security interest in the Regulatory Asset. We will need to obtain further information from IESO to inform the OFA's final determination on these matters, and also require your input on certain items below.

Security Interest - Background

In reference to Bruno's comments and your comments below, if the OFA were to take a security interest in the Regulatory Asset, any security interest would only be applicable while the IESO was the holder of the asset, and only while it is being held by the IESO with money borrowed from the OFA.

The steps of the transaction would be:

1 – The IESO makes payments to electricity producers at the contracted rate, but charges consumers a rate that is set by the FHP, which leaves a shortfall that must be made up;
2 – The IESO borrows money from the OFA to finance the shortfall – it is at this stage that the OFA would consider taking a security interest in the asset, up to the amount that the OFA lends to the IESO;
3 – The IESO bundles the right to charge consumers for the shortfall in the future through the GA into the Regulatory Asset, which is sold to the OPG SPV, which sale can be of the asset free and clear of any security interest;
4 – The IESO repays the OFA for the loan.

Steps 3 and 4 can happen simultaneously. If it is deemed to be something that the OFA would like to do, the security interest would only apply while the IESO holds the assets that it creates using the OFA loan to finance the purchase of electricity that it does not charge for. Once the asset is sold to the OPG SPV, the loan can be repaid and the security interest that the OFA had in the asset can be discharged.

Intercept Provision - Background

Regarding the inclusion of the intercept provision, the OFA Lending Policy (attached, see p. 4 "Security" section), stipulates the OFA must include an intercept provision, unless the OFA either receives an exemption form the OFA Board OR receives direction from the Minister, Cabinet or Treasury Board.

The intercept provision provides that in the event of non-payment by IESO to the OFA under the Credit Facility, the Minister may take funds appropriated by the Legislature for IESO, and may instead use the funds to repay the OFA (in the amount that IESO has defaulted under the facility).

Question for Ken: Are you aware of how we might determine if the Legislature has appropriated funds for IESO? If the amounts are minimal, there would seem token benefit to include the intercept provision in the new FHP credit facility agreement

Draft E-mail to IESO

We would like to ensure that we obtain from IESO all the information that would be required to make a risk assessment as to whether an intercept provision and/or a security interest by the OFA in the Regulatory Asset would be required.

Request for Ken: We are drafting an e-mail to send to IESO today (below) to request information that is pertinent for an analysis regarding these matters. We would appreciate if you could please review the draft and amend it to include all key questions that would be required to make a risk assessment.

> "Dear Anthony,
> My apologies for the delay in providing the next turn of the FHP Credit Facility Agreement. We became aware of a potential requirement under the OFA's lending policy which needs to be considered internally for inclusion in the agreement, for which we require additional information. Would you kindly provide answers to the following questions?
> - Does IESO have other financial obligations (such as but not limited to swap agreements, other financial obligations etc.) that could become due and adversely impact IESO's ability to pay its debts when they become due?
> - Does IESO have any other financial obligations or security interests that could attach to the Regulator Asset/Special Purpose Vehicle?
> - [Include additional questions]
> I also want to make you aware that due to the internal assessment that must be made in respect of the OFA's lending policy, we will likely not be able to execute the new FHP facility prior to IESO's next funding request (for which IESO will be providing notice on August 17th, for funding on August 21st). Accordingly, the August FHP draw will be made under the existing $975 million credit facility. At the time we execute the new $2B facility, we would be able to transfer any amount of loans exceeding $475 million (being the reduced facility limit under the draft amending agreement) under the existing facility to the new facility.
> Best regards,"

In reference to the last sentence above in the draft e-mail to IESO, the intended financing structure for IESO credit facilities is to (i) execute a new $2B FHP facility and (ii) simultaneously reduce the existing $975 million facility by $500 million to $475 million. This would create a total aggregated limit of $2.475 billion. Ideally these 2 agreements would have been executed simultaneously prior to the August draw from IESO (since IESO's August draw will likely bring the balance of the existing credit facility to approx. $500M, exceeding the intended revised limit of $475 million).

Question for Ken: When we do execute both agreements, are there any obstacles from an operational perspective (settlement, cash, accounting, risk) with transferring any 'excess loan amount' from the existing credit facility to the new FHP credit facility? We would be looking to re-allocate certain loans from the existing facility to the new facility, without any cash flow impact. From a legal perspective we expect this should be fine, as we can work out the legal particulars with IESO.

General Note re: Timing Impact of Intercept Provision

Regardless of whether the OFA decides to include or exclude the intercept provision, the execution of the FHP facility will be delayed, likely for a number of weeks.

If the decision is made not to include the intercept provision, a directive will need to be obtained from the Minister to this effect, potentially taking a few weeks.

If it is a determined an intercept provision is required, then this will likely even take longer than getting a directive from the Minister. In this case, the OFA would need to go back to the Ministry of Energy to effect the following: (i)Ministry of Energy will need to agree with IESO on acceptance of the inclusion of intercept provision in the FHP credit facility agreement and (ii) the OFA and Ministry of will require an MOU whereby the parties agree on the inclusion of a the intercept provision in the FHP credit facility agreement.

Thanks
Sarah

OFA LENDING POLICY

Approved:	April 11, 2008
Revised and approved:	April 16, 2010

SCOPE

The Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) is a crown corporation that has the statutory authority to lend to public bodies under the Capital Investment Plan Act (CIPA).

Public bodies are defined in CIPA as Crown agencies, hospitals and any other facilities receiving capital funding from the Minister of Health and Long-Term Care, municipalities, universities that receive operating funds from the Province, colleges of applied arts and technology, school boards, and any other entity named or described as a public body in the regulations which as of this date include the Deposit Insurance Corporation of Ontario, the Ontario Pension Benefits Guarantee Fund and the Law Society of Upper Canada and the Ontario Power Authority.

This policy addresses lending activities to public bodies undertaken where the OFA is acting as an intermediary on behalf of the Province.

AMENDMENTS

This policy replaces the OFA lending policy that was approved by the OFA Board of Directors on April 11, 2008.

Any amendments or exceptions to this policy must be approved by the OFA Board of Directors.

POLICY FRAMEWORK

On June 21, 2007, the government approved a new framework for financing public bodies that are consolidated on the Province's financial statements. Consolidated public bodies include school boards, colleges, hospitals and corporations, boards and commissions.

Generally, the policy framework mandates the OFA to provide long-term financing for capital purposes to school boards, colleges and hospitals, as well as to Provincial corporations, boards and commissions who borrow as agents of the Crown, where the financing is recommended by the responsible ministry.

The policy framework also mandates the OFA to charge a cost recovery rate for all loans to public bodies, and a proxy commercial rate where the project is deemed to be commercial in nature. Determinations as to the nature of the project are to be made by the OFA in consultation with the recommending ministry.

TYPE OF FINANCING

The policy framework mandates the OFA to provide long-term financing to public bodies, which will be undertaken on a fixed rate or variable rate basis. Except where the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet determines there is a significant benefit to the public body or to the Province, the OFA will not provide:

1. Short-term financing for operating or working capital purposes.

2. Construction financing where capital projects require significant project monitoring expertise to keep construction running on time and on budget.

3. Financing to consolidated corporations, boards and commissions that are not Crown agents.

LOAN APPROVALS

1. The OFA will only advance a loan to a public body where the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet expressly directs or approves the OFA to advance a loan to a public body.

2. Where the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet expressly directs or approves the OFA to advance a loan to a public body, no further Board approval is required.

3. The OFA Board shall annually review a borrowing and on-lending plan (the OFA's Annual Borrowing and On-Lending Plan), which shall include the OFA's annual borrowing requirements from the Province and projected on-lending activities to Ontario public bodies for the year. As part of its review, the OFA Board shall approve the OFA's cost recovery spread and proxy commercial interest rate spreads related to the OFA's annual lending activities to public bodies.

4. The OFA Board will be advised at its next regularly scheduled meeting of any deviations from the OFA's Annual Borrowing and On-Lending Plan.

LENDING DIRECTIVE

The OFA will prepare an annual lending directive for the Minister of Finance's consideration based on the proposed loans in the OFA's Annual Borrowing and On-Lending Plan which require consent under Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") or which are to be made to School Boards. The lending directive will expressly direct or approve the OFA to advance these loans to public bodies for the fiscal year. The lending directive will include the maximum authorized amount of the loans to individual borrowers or the maximum amount of all the loans to a group of borrowers, such as School Boards or Community Colleges, and where possible, the borrower's name and the specific purpose(s) for which the loans are required, with the other terms and conditions of the loans being delegated to the CEO of the OFA or the Assistant Deputy Minister, Corporate and Electricity Finance Division, OFA, or a person designated by either of them for approval.

The OFA will prepare specific lending directives for consideration by Minister of Finance for proposed loans in the the OFA's Annual Borrowing and On-Lending Plan which do not require consent under Section 28 of the FAA, other than loans to School Boards, at the time that the requests for the OFA to enter into such loans are being processed.

CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

Except where otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet, and prior to the OFA making any loan to a public body, the OFA will:

1. Receive and review the public body's loan request as submitted and recommended by the responsible ministry.

2. Determine the public body's ability to repay the loan by relying on information submitted by the responsible ministry and public body, which may include information on the capital project, business case, cash flow projections and audited financial statements, and such other information as may be required.

3. Where required, ensure that the responsible ministry or public body has obtained prior written approval for the proposed loan pursuant to Section 28 of the FAA. The CEO of the OFA will not act as the delegate of the Minister of Finance to provide approval under Section 28 of the FAA for a loan when the OFA is the lender.

4. Evaluate the underlying risk of the project in order to determine if the project is commercial in nature, and if so establish an appropriate proxy commercial basis points spread to charge the public body as approved by the OFA Board (see "Proxy Commercial Rate").

5. Enter into a loan agreement with the public body containing terms and conditions consistent with the lending directive and satisfactory to the CEO of the OFA or the Assistant Deputy Minister, Corporate and Electricity Finance Division, OFA, or a person designated by either of them , including appropriate (i) positive and negative covenants of the public body, (ii) representations and warranties by the public body, (iii) conditions precedent, (iv) remedies upon default provisions, (v) reporting provisions, (vi) event of default provisions, and (vii) intercept provisions.

6. Ensure that it has an appropriate intercept in place for the loan (see "Intercept").

SECURITY

Except where otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet, the OFA will generally lend on an unsecured basis (apart from the intercept provision, as provided below) in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies.

INTERCEPT

Except where otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet:

1. Pursuant to section 23 of the Capital investment Plan Act and prior to any loan agreement entered into between the OFA and a public body, such public body and its responsible ministry are to agree that the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts that the public body fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under its loan agreement with the OFA. In addition, the public body is to agree that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to pay under its loan agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

2. Prior to recommending to the Minister of Finance that the intercept be exercised, the OFA will raise the issue with the responsible ministry and seek the ministry's support in getting the public body to pay the amounts owing within a reasonable cure period.

3. Should the public body not cure the default within a reasonable period of time, the OFA will give written notice to the Minister of Finance, with a copy to the responsible ministry, of a public body's failure to pay under its loan agreement and requesting the deduction of amounts equal to the amounts that a public body has failed to pay under its loan agreement.

4. Prior to any loan agreement entered into between the OFA and a public body, the responsible ministry is to covenant and agree that, upon receipt of notice from the OFA that a public body has failed to pay in accordance with the provisions of its loan agreement, the responsible ministry will provide all information requested by the OFA respecting amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body including the intended purpose and expected timing of such payments to be made by the responsible ministry. Upon request, the responsible ministry agrees to provide similar information to the Minister of Finance.

5. Prior to any loan agreement entered into between the OFA and a public body, the responsible ministry is to acknowledge and agree that, upon receipt of a direction from the Minister of Finance, that an amount is to be deducted from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body, the responsible ministry will take all necessary action required by it in order to effect such deduction in accordance with the Minister of Finance's direction and pay the amount to the OFA at the time specified.

COST RECOVERY

1. The OFA will recover its lending costs by charging public bodies a rate equal to the Province's total cost of funds, which will include the Province's direct borrowing costs (including commissions) as well as a spread to cover all costs related to the upfront and ongoing loan monitoring and administration of the OFA's lending activities.

2. The OFA will use a basis-points-spread (bps) based cost recovery methodology to recover the costs of its direct borrowing and on-lending activities. The costs relate to both the upfront and ongoing loan monitoring and administration and are expressed in terms of basis points per annum and will be recovered over the term of the loan.

3. The annual basis-point spread charged to public bodies for cost recovery shall be approved by the OFA Board and included in the OFA's Annual Borrowing and On-Lending Plan. The Capital Markets Treasury Division of the OFA, with the assistance of Internal Audit, will conduct an annual review to ensure that the cost recovery methodology is appropriate and that there are no significant under/over- recoveries that may require management's corrective action.

PROXY COMMERCIAL RATE

1. In addition to charging the Province's total cost of funds, the OFA will charge a proxy commercial basis points spread for projects that are commercial in nature in order to better reflect the costs of the underlying risk for financing of such projects. The proxy commercial basis points spread will be added to the Province's total cost of funds and recovered over the term of the loan. Loans are deemed to be commercial in nature where generally less than 50% of the operating revenues generated by the underlying project are attributable to government sources.

2. The methodology for determining proxy commercial basis points spreads (including the amount(s) of these spreads) charged to public bodies for projects deemed commercial in nature shall be approved by the OFA Board and included in the OFA's Annual Borrowing and On-Lending Plan. Proxy commercial basis points spreads will also be re-evaluated (and, if deemed necessary, reset upon approval of the OFA Board) in situations where there are significant changes to fixed income credit spreads. The OFA Corporate Finance Branch is responsible for recommending any changes to the methodology or spread resets to the OFA Board, while the Capital Markets Division is responsible for informing the Corporate Finance Branch of any significant changes to fixed income credit spreads.

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

1. A report outlining the status of all outstanding loans will be tabled with the OFA Board annually (the OFA's Annual Borrowing and On-Lending Plan) and at such other times as the OFA Board requests.

2. For each loan outstanding, such report will identify: the borrower, the purpose of the loan, the principal amount outstanding, and such other information as the OFA Board may request.

3. All OFA loans to public bodies will continue to be annually reported in the notes to the OFA's audited financial statements as disclosed in the OFA's Annual Report.

RECITALS:

WHEREAS the IESO has requested a revolving credit facility for up to a maximum principal amount of $2 billion from the OFA for the purpose of supporting the IESO's role in the implementation and administration of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

THEREFORE in consideration of the mutual agreements contained herein (the receipt and adequacy of which are acknowledged), the Parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1

DEFINITIONS AND OTHER PROVISIONS OF GENERAL APPLICATION

Section 1.1 Definitions.

For all purposes of this Agreement, except as otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires, the following terms shall have the meanings assigned to them below:

"Advances" means advances made by the OFA to the IESO under Article 3 and "Advance" means any one of such advances, and in the case of an election by the IESO under Section 3.3, includes a "Continued Advance", as defined in Section 3.3(1), as applicable.

"Advances Outstanding" means, at any time, an amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of all Advances outstanding at such time.

"Agreement", "herein", "hereby", "hereor', "hereunder" and similar expressions mean and refer to this agreement and all schedules hereto and all instruments in amendment or confirmation of this agreement and such schedules and not to any particular article or section; and the expression "Article" or "Section" followed by a number means the specified Article or Section of this Agreement.

"Borrowing Notice" has the meaning specified in Section 3.2(1).

"Business Day" means any day that is not a day on which banks are generally authorized or required by law or executive order to be closed in the City of Toronto.

"Clean Energy Adjustment" has the same meaning as that term is defined in the OFHP.

"Commitment" means, at any time, an amount equal to $2 billion.

"Consolidated Assets" means, at any time, the book value of the assets of the IESO and the Subsidiaries, determined as of such time on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP.

"Continued Advance" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(1).

"Credit Facility" means the revolving credit facility to be made available to the IESO by the OFA under this Agreement for the purposes specified in Section 2.2.

"Current Repayment Date" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(2).

"Default" means any event which, after the giving of notice, or passage of time, or both, would be an Event of Default.

"Dollars" or "$" means lawful currency of Canada.

"Election Notice" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(2).

"Event of Default" has the meaning specified in Section 5.1.

"First Advance" has the meaning specified in Section 3.2(3).

"GAAP" means accounting policies and standards as established by the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada, at the relevant time and applied on a consistent basis.

"Grid Note" has the meaning specified in Section 3.2(2).

"Indebtedness" means (without duplication), with respect to any Person, whether recourse is to all or a portion of the assets of such Person and whether or not contingent:

(a) every obligation of such Person for borrowed money;

(b) every obligation of such Person evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes or other similar instruments;

(c) every reimbursement obligation of such Person with respect to letters of credit, bankers' acceptances or similar instruments;

(d) every obligation of such Person issued or assumed as the deferred purchase price of property or services (but excluding trade accounts payable or expenses accrued in the ordinary course of business which are not overdue or which are being contested in good faith);

(e) every capital lease obligation of such Person;

(f) the Swap Termination Value of each Swap Contract of such Person; and

(g) every obligation of the type referred to in paragraphs (a) through (f) of another Person and all dividends of another Person the payment of which, in each case, such Person has guaranteed or is responsible or liable for, directly or indirectly, as obligor, guarantor or otherwise.

"Lien" means any assignment, hypothec, mortgage, lien, pledge, security interest, encumbrance, title retention agreement or other agreement or arrangement to secure the performance of any obligation (including the payment of Indebtedness).

"Material Subsidiary" means, at any time, a Subsidiary which has consolidated assets with a book value of more than $25 million determined in accordance with GAAP.

"New Repayment Date" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(2).

"OFHP" means the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, S.O. 2017, c. 16, Schedule 1, including any regulations made thereunder, and all as amended from time to time.

"Permitted Liens" means:

(a) Liens for taxes and assessments not at the time overdue or any Liens securing workmen's compensation assessments, unemployment insurance or other social security obligations not at the time overdue;

(b) any Liens or rights of distress reserved in or exercisable under any lease for rent and for compliance with the terms of such lease;

(c) any obligations or duties, affecting the property of the IESO to any municipality or governmental, statutory or public authority, with respect to any franchise, grant, license or permit and any defects in title to structures or other facilities arising solely from the fact that such structures or facilities are constructed or installed on lands held by the IESO or such Material Subsidiary under government permits, leases or other grants, which obligations, duties and defects in the aggregate do not materially impair the use of such property, structures or facilities for the purpose for which they are held by the IESO or such Material Subsidiary;

(d) any deposits or Liens in connection with building contracts, bids or tenders, expropriation proceedings, surety or appeal bonds, costs of litigation when required by law, and public and statutory obligations, Liens or claims incidental to current construction, builders', mechanics', labourers', materialmen's, warehousemen's, carriers' and other similar Liens;

(e) the right reserved to or vested in any municipality or governmental or other public authority by any statutory provision or by the terms of any lease, license, franchise, grant or permit, that affects any lands, to terminate any such lease, license, franchise, grant or permit or to require annual or their periodic payments as a condition to the continuance thereof;

(f) any undetermined or inchoate Liens and charges incidental to the current operations of the IESO or a Material Subsidiary that have not at the time been filed against the IESO or such Material Subsidiary; provided, however, that if any such Lien or charge shall have been filed, the IESO or such Material Subsidiary shall be prosecuting an appeal or proceedings for review with respect to which it shall have secured a stay in the enforcement of any such Lien or charge;

(g) any Lien the validity of which is being contested at the time by the IESO or a Material Subsidiary in good faith and the enforcement of which has been stayed;

(h) any easements, rights-of-way and servitudes that in the opinion of the IESO will not in the aggregate materially and adversely impair the use or value of the land for the purpose for which it is held or occupied by the IESO or a Material Subsidiary;

(i) any Liens and privileges arising out of judgments or awards with respect to which the IESO or a Material Subsidiary shall be prosecuting an appeal or proceedings for review and with respect to which it shall have secured a stay of execution pending such appeal or proceedings for review;

(j) any other Liens of a nature similar to the foregoing which do not in the opinion of the IESO, acting reasonably, materially impair the use of the property subject thereto or the operation of the business of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary or the value of such property for the purpose of any such business; and

(k) any Lien arising from the IESO's role and obligations under the OFHP, including with respect to any amount received or receivable by the IESO (such as, without limitation, amounts received or receivable in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment), or any other lien, whether arising from the action or inaction of IESO, that is created in connection with the OFHP.

"Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership joint venture, association, trust or unincorporated organization or any government or agency or political subdivision thereof.

"Purchase Money Mortgage" means any Lien on property, granted in connection with financing, assumed or given back in payment of, or created or arising by operation of law to secure, the whole or part of the purchase price of such property, or granted in connection with financing the cost in whole or in part of construction or installation of or improvements to any property, provided that such Lien is incurred or assumed at the time or within 12 months after the purchase of such property or the completion of such construction, installation or improvements, as the case may be, and includes any extension, renewal or replacement thereof on the same property if the principal amount of the Indebtedness secured thereby at the time of such extension, renewal or replacement is not increased and if such Lien is not extended to any other property.

"Repayment Date" means, in respect of the repayment of Advances, the repayment date contained in the most recent Borrowing Notice or Election Notice.

"Stated Maturity" when used with respect to any Indebtedness or any installment of interest thereon, means the date specified in or on the agreement or instrument evidencing such Indebtedness as the fixed date on which any principal amount of such Indebtedness or such installment of interest is due and payable.

"Subsidiary" means:

(a) a corporation more than 50% of the voting power or the outstanding Voting Shares of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by the IESO or by one or more other Subsidiaries or by the IESO and one or more other Subsidiaries; or

(b) any Person (other than a corporation) in which the IESO, or one or more other Subsidiaries, directly or indirectly, has at least a majority ownership and power to direct the policies, management and affairs thereof.

"Swap Contract" means any agreement whether or not in writing, relating to any transaction or derivative transaction including a rate swap, basis swap, forward rate transaction, commodity swap, commodity option, commodity future, equity or equity index swap or option, bond, note or bill option, interest rate option, forward foreign exchange transaction, cap, collar or floor transaction currency swap, cross-currency rate swap, swaption, currency option or other similar transaction (including any option to enter into any of the foregoing) or any combination of the foregoing, and, unless the context otherwise clearly requires, any master agreement relating to or governing any or all of the foregoing.

"Swap Termination Value" means, in respect of any one or more Swap Contracts entered into by a Person, after taking into account the effect of any legally enforceable netting agreement relating to such Swap contracts:

(a) for any date on or after the date such Swap Contracts have been closed out and termination value(s) for such Person have been determined in accordance therewith, such termination value(s); and

(b) for any date prior to the date referred to in paragraph (a), the net amount determined pursuant to the terms of such Swap Contracts that would be payable by such Person if such Swap Contracts were terminated as of such date.

"Voting Shares" of any Person means securities of such Person which ordinarily carry a right to vote for the election of directors (or Persons performing similar functions) of such Person.

Section 1.2 Effect of Headings.

The division of this Agreement into Articles and Sections and the insertion of headings are for convenient reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation hereof.

Section 1.3 Singular, Plural, Gender, Certain Phrases, etc.

Where the context permits and unless such interpretation would be inappropriate, words importing the singular only shall include the plural and vice versa and words importing gender may include any gender. In this Agreement, (a) the words "including" and "includes" mean "including (or includes) without limitation", and (b) in the computation of periods of time from a specified date to a later specified date, unless otherwise expressly stated, the word "from" means "from and including" and the words "to" and "until" each mean "to but excluding".

Section 1.4 Accounting.

Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all accounting terms shall be applied and construed in accordance with GAAP.

Section 1.5 Non-Business Days.

Whenever any payment to be made hereunder shall be due, any period of time would end, any calculation is to be made or any other action is to be taken on or as of, a day other than a Business Day, such payment shall be made, such period of time shall end, such calculation shall be made and such other actions shall be taken, as the case may be, unless otherwise specifically provided for herein, on or as of the next succeeding Business Day.

ARTICLE 2
REVOLVING CREDIT FACILITY

Section 2.1 Availability.

The OFA agrees, on the terms and conditions of this Agreement, to make Advances to the IESO. The OFA shall make each Advance in Dollars.

Section 2.2 Use of Proceeds.

The IESO shall use the proceeds of Advances for the purposes for which it is authorized to borrow funds pursuant to Regulation 280/14 made under the Electricity Act, 1998, as such regulation may be amended or replaced from time to time, subject to the condition that proceeds of Advances may be used only for IESO's financing needs and requirements of any kind arising in connection with the IESO's role with respect to and obligations under the OFHP.

Section 2.3 Credit Facility Limit.

The Advances Outstanding shall not at any time exceed the Commitment. The Credit Facility shall revolve and no payment under the Credit Facility shall reduce the Commitment.

Section 2.4 Mandatory Repayment.

Subject to Sections 2.5 and 5.2, the IESO shall repay each Advance together with the interest accrued thereon on the applicable Repayment Date, and, in any event, shall repay all Advances Outstanding, together with all accrued interest and all other amounts owing hereunder on September 30, 2022.

Section 2.5 Prepayments.

The IESO is not entitled to prepay any part of the Advances Outstanding or the interest accrued thereon without the prior written consent of the OFA.

Section 2.6 Payments under this Agreement.

(1) The OFA shall make Advances to the IESO under this Agreement to or to the order of the IESO by wire transfer of immediately available funds in accordance with wire transfer instructions given by the IESO to the OFA from time to time, or in such other manner as the IESO may specify to the OFA from time to time.

(2) The IESO shall make any payment required hereunder to be made by it to the OFA, to or to the order of the OFA, by wire transfer of immediately available funds in accordance with wire transfer instruction given by the OFA to the IESO from time to time, or in such other manner as the OFA may specify to the IESO from time to time. The IESO shall make each such payment in Canadian Dollars.

Section 2.7 Computations of Interest.

(1) All computations of interest shall be made by the OFA taking into account the actual number of days (including the first day but excluding the last day) occurring in the period for which such interest is payable on the basis of a year of 365 days or 366 days, as the case may be.

(2) For the purposes of disclosure pursuant to the Interest Act (Canada), the yearly rate of interest which is equivalent to a rate of interest payable under this Agreement for any period of less than a year may be determined by multiplying the rate of interest for such period by a fraction, the numerator of which is the actual number of days in a year commencing on and including the first day in such period and ending on but excluding the corresponding day in the next calendar year and the denominator of which is the actual number of days in such period.

Section 2.8 Limit on Rate of Interest.

(1) Notwithstanding any provision contained in this Agreement, the IESO shall not be obliged to make any payments of interest or other amounts payable to the OFA hereunder in excess of the amount or rate which would be prohibited by applicable law or would result in the receipt by the OFA of interest at a criminal rate (as such terms are construed under the Criminal Code (Canada)).

(2) In the event that any such payments are limited or prohibited as provided in Section 2.8(1), the OFA shall have no further obligation to make any Advances available hereunder and the Advances Outstanding, together with all accrued interest and all other amounts owing hereunder, shall become immediately due and payable.

Section 2.9 Application of Payments.

All payments made by the IESO under this Agreement shall be applied firstly to the payment of interest payable to the OFA on late payments of principal or interest hereunder, secondly, to the payment of accrued and unpaid interest payable to the OFA hereunder and thirdly, to the payment of the outstanding principal amount of any Advances payable to the OFA.

ARTICLE 3
ADVANCES

Section 3.1 Advances.

The OFA agrees, on the terms and conditions of this Agreement, to make Advances to the IESO under the Credit Facility from time to time on any Business Day prior to September 23, 2022.

Section 3.2 Procedure for Advances.

(1) Subject to Section 3.3(5), each Advance shall be made subject to two Business Days' prior notice given not later than 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) by the IESO to the OFA. Each notice of an Advance (a "Borrowing Notice") shall be substantially in the form of Schedule 1, other than a Borrowing Notice that is included in an Election Notice as permitted by Section 3.3(3). Each Borrowing Notice shall be irrevocable and binding on the IESO and shall specify (a) the requested date of the Advance; (b) the principal amount of the Advance, and (c) the Repayment Date of the Advance which shall not be earlier than 5 days and not later than 95 days after the date of the requested Advance. Each Borrowing Notice shall also certify the use of proceeds of the Advance which shall in any case be in accordance with Section 2.2. The OFA will make the principal amount of each Advance available to the IESO in accordance with Article 2.

(2) On or before the date of the first Advance hereunder, the IESO shall execute and deliver to the OFA a grid promissory note in respect of Advances substantially in the form of Schedule 3 (the "Grid Note"). The IESO authorizes the OFA to record on the Grid Note (a) the date and amount of each Advance or Continued Advance; (b) the applicable rate of interest for each Advance or Continued Advance; (c) the Repayment Date of each Advance or Continued Advance; (d) the date and amount of each payment of interest and each payment of principal or portion thereof in respect of each Advance or Continued Advance; and (e) Advances Outstanding. Such notations, in the absence of manifest error, shall be prima facie evidence of such Advances and repayments; provided that the failure of the OFA to record any amount, rate or date shall not affect the obligation of the IESO to pay the Advances Outstanding and all interest accrued thereon and any other amounts due under this Agreement.

(3) Respecting the first Advance to be made under this Agreement (the "First Advance"), a specified portion thereof (the "Repayment Amount") shall be used to repay a portion of the IESO's outstanding indebtedness to the OFA under the credit agreement between the Parties dated January 1, 2005, as amended (the "Existing Credit Facility"). The amount of the Repayment Amount shall be detailed in the Borrowing Notice issued in respect of the First Advance. Concurrently with the First Advance, OFA shall provide to IESO an updated grid in respect of the grid note issued under the Existing Credit Facility evidencing the repayment of the Repayment Amount thereunder.

Section 3.3 Elections Regarding Advances.

(1) The IESO may elect to continue all or a portion of the principal amount of any Advance and any amount of interest on such Advance (together, the "Continued Advance") for a further period of at least 5 days and up to a maximum of 95 days beginning on the then current Repayment Date in accordance with Section 3.3(2).

(2) Each notice to continue an Advance for a further period (an "Election Notice") shall be provided by the IESO to the OFA at least two Business Days prior to the Repayment Date of the Advance (the "Current Repayment Date"), and in each case, not later than 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time). Each such Election Notice shall be given substantially in the form of Schedule 2 and shall be irrevocable and binding upon the IESO and shall specify: (a) the Current Repayment Date; (b) the new aggregate total amount of the proposed Continued Advance; (c) the amount of interest or principal, if any, to be paid or re-paid by the IESO with respect to such Advance on the Current Repayment Date; and (d) the new Repayment Date of the proposed Continued Advance, which shall be no earlier than 5 days and not later than 95 days after the current Repayment Date (the "New Repayment Date"). If the IESO fails to deliver an Election Notice to the OFA for any Advance as provided herein, such Advance shall be repayable on the applicable Repayment Date.

(3) An Election Notice with respect to a proposed Continued Advance may include a Borrowing Notice for a further Advance proposed to be made on the Current Repayment Date. The Repayment Date of such further Advance shall be the New Repayment Date of the Continued Advance that is specified in the Election Notice. Such Borrowing Notice shall be given substantially in the form of Schedule 2.

(4) The calculation of interest on a Continued Advance shall be determined in the same manner as an Advance under Section 3.4 and shall be recorded on the Grid Note in accordance with Section 3.2(2).

(5) Any portion of an Advance not continued for a further period in accordance with Section 3.3(2) shall be repayable on the applicable Repayment Date.

(6) The Credit Facility shall at all times rank pari passu with all other unsubordinated and unsecured Indebtedness of the IESO, subject to the existence of any Liens that secure Indebtedness, as permitted by subections 4.6 (a) through (e) hereof.

(7) All amounts owing in respect of the Advances shall be paid without exercising any right of set off or counterclaim by the IESO.

Section 3.4 Interest on Advances.

(1) The IESO shall pay interest on the unpaid principal amount of each Advance in accordance with this Section 3.4 from and including the date of such Advance until the principal amount of such Advance is repaid in full.

(2) Interest shall accrue on the principal amount of each Advance from and including the date of the Advance to but excluding the Repayment Date of such Advance, at an annual rate equal to the Province of Ontario's cost of funds for borrowings with a similar term as determined by the OFA plus 0.25 percent per annum, before as well as after the date such principal amount or interest thereon becomes due hereunder and both before and after Default and shall be payable on the Repayment Date for such Advance. Any amount of interest arising hereunder which is not paid when due shall bear interest at the same rate compounded monthly at which it accrued from the due date for payment until the date of actual payment. The amount of interest payable on an Advance will be calculated by the OFA by dividing the interest rate applicable to the Advance by 365 or 366, as the case may be, and multiplying the result by the principal amount of the Advance and further multiplying the result by the number of days in the period from the date of the Advance to the Repayment Date of the Advance.

(3) If the IESO elects to continue an Advance in accordance with Section 3.3(2), the OFA shall determine the interest rate applicable after the original Repayment Date of the Advance and endorse the said rate on the grid forming part of the Grid Note in respect of Advances held by it.

Section 3.5 Conditions Precedent

The obligation of the OFA to make the Advances to the IESO pursuant to Section 2.1 is subject to the following conditions being satisfied to the OFA's satisfaction at the time of making each Advance:

(a) that the representations and warranties of the IESO contained in this Agreement are true and correct as at the date of making the Advance;

(b) that no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing;

(c) that there shall, in the reasonable opinion of the OFA, have been no material adverse change in the financial condition of the IESO or a Material Subsidiary; and

(d) that the OFA has received such other documentation which it has reasonably requested to ensure that the IESO is in compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including certified true copies of any necessary resolutions, a written legal opinion from counsel to the IESO confirming that the borrowing is within the legal powers of the IESO and that the Agreement is a direct, unsecured obligation of the IESO enforceable against the IESO in form satisfactory to the OFA.

ARTICLE 4
COVENANTS OF THE IESO

Section 4.1 Repayment of Advances.

The IESO will duly and punctually pay all amounts owing under this Agreement in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement.

Section 4.2 IESO will Maintain its Corporate Existence.

The IESO will at all times maintain its corporate existence.

Section 4.3 Maintenance of Properties.

The IESO will cause all property owned by the IESO or any Material Subsidiary to be maintained and kept in good condition, repair and working order, all as in the judgment of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary may be necessary for the proper operation of such property, except as and to the extent that the IESO or any Material Subsidiary may be prevented from doing so by fire, strikes, lockouts, walkouts, labour unrest, acts of God, inability to obtain labour or materials, enemy action, governmental restrictions, civil commotion, or unavoidable casualty or similar causes; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 4.3 shall prevent the IESO or any Material Subsidiary from discontinuing the maintenance of any such property or decommissioning any such property if such discontinuance or decommissioning is, in the judgment of the IESO or any such Material Subsidiary, desirable in the conduct of its business or the business of any such Material Subsidiary, or has been directly or indirectly requested or required by the Province of Ontario.

Section 4.4 Insurance.

The IESO will cause all property owned by the IESO or any Material Subsidiary which is of a character usually insured by companies operating similar businesses to be insured and kept insured with reputable insurers (which may include associations or other organizations for mutual or reciprocal insurance) against loss or damage by fire or other hazards or risks of the mature and to the extent that such property is usually insured by companies operating similar businesses.

Section 4.5 Conduct of Business.

The IESO will, and will cause the Subsidiaries to, carry on and conduct their respective businesses in accordance with good business practice.

Section 4.6 Negative Pledge.

The IESO will not, and will not permit any Material Subsidiary to, create, incur or assume any Lien, charging the interest of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary in any property, to secure any obligations (including any Indebtedness) unless, at or prior to the time such Lien is created, incurred or assumed, all amounts owing under this Agreement are secured equally and rateably with any and all such obligations secured or to be secured by such Lien, for so long as such obligations shall be secured, provided, however, that the foregoing covenant shall not prevent, restrict or apply to any of the following:

(a) the creation, incurrence or assumption of any Purchase Money Mortgage;

(b) the grant of any Lien in the normal course of business to any banks or financial institutions for present or future Indebtedness of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary to such banks or financial institutions payable on demand or having an original term to maturity less than 18 months;

(c) Permitted Liens;

(d) any extension, renewal or replacement of any of the Liens referred to in Sections 4.6(a), (b) or (c), provided that the principal amount secured by any such Lien outstanding immediately before such extension, renewal or replacement or refunding is not thereby increased; and

(e) any Lien charging the interest of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary in any property to secure any Indebtedness, other than any Lien referred to in Sections 4.6(a), (b) or (c), provided that, at the time such Lien is created, incurred or assumed, the principal amount of such Indebtedness, together with the aggregate principal amount of all other Indebtedness secured by Liens permitted pursuant to this Section 4.6(e) which is outstanding at such time does not exceed 10% of Consolidated Assets at such time.

Section 4.7 Payment of OFA Expenses

In addition to any liability of the IESO to the OFA under any other provision of this Agreement, the IESO will, on demand, reimburse and indemnify OFA for all reasonable costs, charges and expenses, including reasonable fees and disbursements of its agents and counsel, incurred by OFA in connection with the Agreement (including those services incurred in the preservation of rights under or enforcement of this Agreement at any time during the continuance of a Default or Event of Default and for any reasonable loss or expense incurred by OFA as a result of any failure by the IESO to fulfill any of its obligations under this Agreement). All such costs, charges and expenses shall bear interest at the Province of Ontario's cost of funds plus 0.25 percent per annum (as determined by the OFA) calculated and payable monthly not in advance from in each case from the date on which the OFA incurs the cost, charge or expense until the date on which the IESO reimbursement the OFA therefor. The OFA agrees, acting reasonably, to invoice the IESO for any such costs, charges and expense as they are incurred, together with interest at the aforesaid rate (with interest on overdue interest).

Section 4.8 Reporting.

The IESO will promptly provide to the OFA any reports or supporting documents that the OFA may request from time to time.

Section 4.9 Late Repayment of Advance.

In the event that the IESO fails to repay the principal amount of any Advance and all interest accrued thereon when due, the IESO shall pay interest on the unpaid amount of such Advance at the same rate compounded monthly at which it accrued from the due date for payment until the date of actual payment.

ARTICLE 5
EVENTS OF DEFAULT AND REMEDIES

Section 5.1 Event of Default.

Wherever used in this Agreement, the term "Event of Default" means any of the following:

(a) the IESO's failure to pay any interest upon any Advance when it becomes due and payable, if such failure continues for a period of 3 Business Days;

(b) failure to pay the principal amount of any Advance on the applicable Repayment Date or the Advances Outstanding, all interest accrued thereon and all other amounts owing under this Agreement on September 30, 2022;

(c) failure on the part of the IESO to observe or perform its obligations set forth in Section 4.1;

(d) failure on the part of the IESO to observe or perform any of the other covenants or agreements on its part contained in this Agreement for a period of 20 days after the date on which written notice of such failure shall have been given to the IESO by the OFA;

(e) any representation or warranty made by the IESO in this Agreement or in any certificate or other document at any time delivered hereunder to the OFA was incorrect or misleading in any material respect;

(f) one or more breaches by the IESO of its covenants under one or more evidences of Indebtedness or instruments governing or securing the same with a principal amount then outstanding, individually or in the aggregate, of at least $5 million, which breaches:

(i) constitute a failure to pay such Indebtedness when due and payable at its final Stated Maturity, continue after any applicable grace period and have not been cured or waived or ceased to exist, or

(ii) have resulted in such Indebtedness becoming or being declared due and payable prior to its final Stated Maturity (and which acceleration or declaration has not been waived or rescinded);

(g) the IESO or any Material Subsidiary:

(i) becomes unable to meet its obligations as they generally become due or has ceased paying its current obligations in the ordinary course of business as they generally become due;

(ii) admits in writing its inability to pay its debts generally or makes a general assignment for the benefit its creditors or files a proposal or other scheme of arrangement involving the rescheduling or composition of its Indebtedness;

(iii) institutes or has instituted against it any proceeding seeking:

(A) to adjudicate it as bankrupt or insolvent,

(B) liquidation, winding-up or reorganization, arrangement, adjustment, protection, relief or composition of it or its debts under any law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or relief of debtors including any plan of compromise or arrangement or other corporate proceeding involving or affecting its creditors, or

(C) the entry of an order for relief or the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its assets, and in the case of any such proceeding instituted against it (but not instituted by it), either the proceeding remains undismissed or unstayed for a period of 30 days, or any remedy sought in any such proceeding (including the entry of order for relief against it or the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its properties and assets) occurs; or

(iv) takes any corporate action to authorize any of the actions in Sections 5.1 (g)(i) to (iii); or

(h) if there shall be rendered against the IESO or any Material Subsidiary a final judgment or judgments for the payment of money in an aggregate amount in excess of $5 million by a court or courts of competent jurisdiction, and the IESO or any Material Subsidiary shall have failed to satisfy such judgments or to appeal therefrom (or from the order, decree or process pursuant to which such judgments were granted, passed, entered or affirmed) and to obtain a stay of execution thereof within the period prescribed by law for appeals, and to have such judgments discharged within 30 days after the expiration of such period or the period of any such stay, whichever shall later expire.

Section 5.2 Acceleration of Maturity; Rescission and Annulment.

If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, then and in every such case the OFA may at its option, in addition to any other remedy available to the OFA at law, by written notice to the IESO, take any or all of the following actions:

(a) suspend the right of the IESO to request any further Advance until the Event of Default has been cured to the OFA's satisfaction or, if the Event of Default is not cured within three (3) Business Days after the date on which written notice of such Event of Default shall have been given to the IESO by the OFA, declare all amounts owing hereunder including all interest accrued to be due and payable immediately, by a notice in writing to the IESO, and upon any such declaration all such amounts shall become immediately due and payable.

(b) invoke the Intercept pursuant to section 5.7 of this Agreement to require payment of any amount due and payable under this Agreement.

Section 5.3 Suits for Enforcement by the OFA.

If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the OFA may proceed to protect and enforce the rights vested in it by this Agreement either by suit in equity or by action at law or by proceedings in bankruptcy or otherwise, whether for the specific enforcement of any covenant or agreement contained in this Agreement or in aid of the exercise of any power granted in this Agreement, or to enforce any other legal or equitable right vested in the OFA by this Agreement or by law.

Section 5.4 OFA May File Proof of Claim.

If proceedings for the receivership, insolvency, liquidation, bankruptcy, winding-up, reorganization, arrangement or composition of the IESO under any applicable law are pending, or if a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official shall have been appointed for the property of the IESO, or if any other judicial proceedings relative to the IESO, its creditors or its property are pending, the OFA shall be entitled and empowered, by intention in such proceeding or otherwise:

(a) to file and prove a claim for all amounts owing under this Agreement and to file such other papers or documents as may be necessary or advisable in order to have the claims of the OFA (including any claim for fees and disbursements of the OFA, its agents and counsel) allowed in such judicial proceeding; and

(b) to collect and receive any monies or other property payable or deliverable on any such claim.

Section 5.5 Rights and Remedies Cumulative.

No right or remedy herein conferred upon or reserved to the OFA is intended to be exclusive of any other such right or remedy, and every such right and remedy shall, to the extent permitted by law, be cumulative and in addition to every other right and remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or otherwise. The assertion or employment of any right or remedy hereunder, or otherwise, shall not prevent the concurrent assertion or employment of any other appropriate right or remedy.

Section 5.6 Delay or Omission not Waiver.

No delay or omission of the OFA to exercise any right or remedy accruing upon any Event of Default shall impair any such right or remedy or constitute a waiver of any such Event of Default or an acquiescence therein. Every right or remedy given by this Article 5 or by law to OFA may be exercised from time to time, and as often as may be deemed expedient, by the OFA.

Section 5.7 Intercept

(a) The IESO hereby acknowledges that, in accordance with the terms of the letter agreement of even date herewith entered between the Ministry of Energy, the IESO and the OFA made pursuant to Section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the "Intercept Letter"), the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct only from those monies appropriated by the Legislature for payment through the Ministry of Energy to the IESO ("Appropriated Funds"), amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement. On the occurrence of an Event of Default relating to a failure by IESO to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder, subject to the OFA's compliance with any relevant provisions hereof and as set out in the Intercept Letter, the Minister of Finance is irrevocably authorized to deduct from the Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement and to pay such amounts directly to the OFA ("Intercept").

(b) If, after following the process specified in the Intercept Letter (including, without limitation, allowing for a reasonable cure period on the terms specified therein), the OFA determines that it is necessary to request the Minister of Finance to exercise the Intercept, the OFA will give written notice to the Minister of Finance, with a copy to the Ministry of Energy, detailing the IESO's failure to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder and requesting the deduction from the Appropriated Funds of amounts equal to the amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA under this Agreement.

(c) The IESO agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to this section 5.7 (Intercept) may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance and, upon receipt of such notice, an amount equal to the amount that the IESO has failed to pay when due to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement shall be deducted from the Appropriated Funds and paid to the OFA.

(d) For further certainty, the OFA acknowledges and agrees that the Intercept as provided for herein and in the Intercept Letter shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than the Ministry of Energy or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.

(e) The parties agree that, with respect to the exercise of the Intercept generally, the terms of this section 5.7 shall be applied consistently with the terms set out in the Intercept Letter which shall apply in full. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a conflict or inconsistency between the terms and conditions of the Intercept Letter and the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement, the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement shall prevail.

ARTICLE 6
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF IESO

Section 6.1 Representations and Warranties of IESO

The IESO represents and warrants to the OFA that:

(a) the borrowing of money (including principal and accrued interest) by the IESO and the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement are within the powers and capacities of the IESO and have been duly authorized by all necessary legal action and proper proceedings;

(b) the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement will not conflict with or result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of the constituting documents or by-laws of the IESO, laws of Ontario, including laws of Canada applicable therein, applicable to the IESO or any contractual or other obligation binding on the IESO;

(c) this Agreement will, when executed and delivered, constitute the legal, valid and binding obligation of the IESO enforceable against it in accordance with its terms; and

(d) the monies advanced under this Agreement shall be used only by the IESO for the purposes set out in Section 2.2.

Section 6.2 Continuation of Representation and Warranties

The representations and warranties set out in Section 6.1 herein shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the making of each Advance by the OFA, notwithstanding any investigations or examinations which may be made by counsel for the OFA.

ARTICLE 7
GENERAL

Section 7.1 Notices.

Any notice, direction or other communication to be given under this Agreement shall be in writing and given by personally delivering it or sending it by telecopy or other means of electronic communication addressed:

If to the IESO, to it at:

Independent Electricity System Operator

Telephone: (416)325-8930
Facsimile: (416)860-8346

provided that any Borrowing Notice or Election Notice shall be addressed as indicated on Schedule 1 or Schedule 2 respectively.

Any communication hereunder shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given if (a) personally delivered, on the date of such delivery if such date is a Business Day and such delivery was made prior to 4:00 p.m. (Toronto time), otherwise on the next Business Day, (b) transmitted by facsimile or other means of electronic communication, on the Business Day following the date of transmission provided that, on the date of transmission, the addressee of such communication was notified by telephone of such transmission. Any party may from time to time change its address for communications hereunder by notice give in accordance with this Section 7.1 and until changed by like notice, such changed address shall be such party's address for purposes of this Section 7.1.

Section 7.2 Successors and Assigns.

This Agreement shall be binding on and enure to the benefit of the OFA and the IESO and their respective successors and permitted assigns, except that the IESO shall not, without the prior written consent of the OFA assign, pledge or hypothecate any rights or obligations with respect to this Agreement.

Section 7.3 Amendments.

This Agreement may only be amended or otherwise modified by written agreement executed by each of the Parties.

Section 7.4 Waiver.

(1) No waiver of any provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed to constitute a waiver of any other provision (whether or not similar) of this Agreement nor shall such waiver be binding unless executed in writing by the party to be bound by the waiver.

(2) No failure on the part of a party to exercise, and no delay in exercising, any right under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver of such right and any single or partial exercise of such right shall not preclude another or further exercise of such right or the exercise of any other right.

Section 7.5 Further Assurances.

Each of the IESO and the OFA shall, from time to time, do all such acts and things and execute and deliver all such instruments as may be reasonably required to give effect to, and carry out the terms of, this Agreement

Section 7.6 Severability.

In case any provision in this Agreement shall be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions in this Agreement shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

Section 7.7 Governing Law.

This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the Province of Ontario and the laws of Canada applicable therein.

Section 7.8 Entire Agreement.

This Agreement, including the schedules hereto and any other agreements expressly referred to herein, constitutes the whole agreement between the Parties with respect to the matters dealt with in it, and it supersedes any prior agreement, undertakings, discussions and the like respecting the matters dealt with in this Agreement and entered into by the Parties before the date the OFA signs this Agreement.

Section 7.9 Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which so executed shall be deemed to be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the Parties have executed this Agreement as of the date first written above.

SCHEDULE 3 – FORM OF GRID NOTE

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR GRID NOTE

Principal Amount: Up to $2,000,000,000 Date:

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR (the "IESO"), incorporated under the laws of the Province of Ontario and having its principal office and place of business at Toronto, Ontario, PROMISES TO PAY to or to the order of ONTARIO FINANCING AUTHORITY ("OFA") at its offices at Toronto, Ontario or at such other place as the OFA may designate, the principal amount of each and all Advances made by the OFA to the IESO, all as recorded by the OFA on the grid attached to and forming part of this Grid Note, in lawful money of Canada, with interest on each Advance at the rate, calculated in the manner and payable at the times specified in the Revolving Credit Facility Agreement (as defined below).

OFA shall and is unconditionally and absolutely authorized and directed by the IESO to record on the Grid Note (i) the date and amount of each Advance, including any Advance all or a portion of which is continued by election under Section 3.3; (ii) the applicable rate of interest for each Advance; (iii) the repayment date of each Advance; (iv) the date and amount of each payment of interest and each payment of principal in respect of each Advance; and (v) the outstanding principal amount of the Grid Note. Such notations, in the absence of manifest error, shall be prima facie evidence of such advances and repayments; provided that the failure of the OFA to record the same shall not affect the obligations of the Borrower to pay such amounts to the OFA.

The outstanding principal amount of each Advance under this Grid Note together with all interest accrued thereon shall become due and payable as specified in the Revolving Credit Facility Agreement dated [INSERT DATE] as amended, supplemented or restated from time to time, between the Borrower and the OFA (the "Agreement"). All capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings given to such terms in the Agreement.

This Grid Note is issued pursuant to, and is subject to and payable in accordance with the provisions of, the Agreement.

This Grid Note is not transferable or negotiable without the prior written consent of the IESO.

The IESO waives presentment for payment and notice of non-payment.

This Grid Note shall be governed by and interpreted and enforced in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the IESO has executed this Grid Note.

AMENDING AGREEMENT NO. 10

This Amending Agreement No. 10 (this "Amending Agreement") is made as of the 21st day of November, 2017 (the "Effective Date")

BETWEEN:

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR, a statutory corporation without share capital existing under Part II of the Electricity Act, 1998 ("IESO")

-and-

ONTARIO FINANCING AUTHORITY, a Crown agency established under the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("OFA")

(together, the "Parties")

WHEREAS the Ontario Power Authority ("OPA") and the OFA entered into a credit agreement dated January 1, 2005 (the "Original Agreement");

AND WHEREAS effective January 1, 2015, the OPA and the then existing Independent Electricity System Operator amalgamated and continued as a corporation without share capital under Part II of the Electricity Act, 1998 with the name "Independent Electricity System Operator" ("IESO"), and the obligations of the OPA became obligations of the IESO;

AND WHEREAS pursuant to the amending agreements dated February 14, 2005, October 11, 2005 (titled, "Amending Agreement No. 3"), September 27, 2006 (titled, "Amending Agreement No. 4"), July 13, 2007 (titled, "Amending Agreement No. 5"), November 9, 2010 (titled, "Amending Agreement No. 6"), December 20, 2013 (titled, "Amending Agreement No. 7"), December 19, 2014 (titled, "Amending Agreement No. 8") and November 30, 2016 (titled, "Amending Agreement No. 9"), the OPA or IESO (as applicable) and the OFA amended the Original Agreement (as so amended, the "Credit Agreement", the terms defined therein being used herein as therein defined);

AND WHEREAS the Parties have now agreed to: (i) at the request of the IESO, decrease the total principal amount available under the Credit Agreement from $975,000,000 to a total principal amount of up to $475,000,000; (ii) amend the use of proceeds under the Credit Agreement; (iii) amend the Form of Election Notice and related provisions under the Credit Agreement; and (iv) make other amendments required as a consequence of the implementation of the OFHP (as defined below);

AND WHEREAS pursuant to Section 7.3 of the Credit Agreement, the Credit Agreement may only be amended or otherwise modified by written agreement executed by the Parties.

THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements herein contained and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, and subject to the terms and conditions hereafter set out, the Parties agree that, as of the Effective Time (as defined below):

1. The definition of "Advances" in Section 1.1 of the Credit Agreement is deleted and replaced by the following:

   "Advances" means advances made by the OFA to the IESO under Article 3 and "Advance" means any one of such advances, and in the case of an election by the IESO under Section 3.3, includes a "Continued Advance", as defined in Section 3.3(1), as applicable."

2. The definition of "Commitment" in Section 1.1 of the Credit Agreement is amended by deleting "$975,000,000" and substituting "$475,000,000" therefor.

3. The definition of "Permitted Liens" is amended by deleting the word "and" at the end of subsection (i); replacing the "." at the end of subsection (j) and replacing it with "; and" ; and adding the following subsection (k):

   "(k) any Lien arising from the IESO's role and obligations under the OFHP, including with respect to any amount received or receivable by the IESO (such as, without limitation, amounts received or receivable in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment), or any other lien, whether arising from the action or inaction of IESO, that is created in connection with the OFHP."

4. The following definitions are added to Section 1.1 of the Credit Agreement:

   "Clean Energy Adjustment" has the same meaning as that term is defined in the OFHP.

   "Continued Advance" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(1).

   "Current Repayment Date" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(2).

   "New Repayment Date" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(2).

   "OFHP" means the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, S.O. 2017, c. 16, Schedule 1, including any regulations made thereunder, and all as amended from time to time.

5. Section 2.3 "Use of Proceeds" of the Credit Agreement is deleted in its entirety (with the exception of the title of the section, which exception also applies regarding the amendments made under sections 6, 7 and 8 hereof) and replaced by the following:

   "The IESO shall use the proceeds of Advances for the purposes for which it is authorized to borrow funds pursuant to Regulation 280/14 made under the Electricity Act, 1998, as such regulation may be amended or replaced from time to time, provided that Advances may be used only for liquidity purposes."

6. Section 3.2 "Procedures for Advances" of the Credit Agreement is deleted in its entirety and replaced by the following:

"(1) Subject to Section 3.3(5), each Advance shall be made subject to two Business Days' prior notice given not later than 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) by the IESO to the OFA. Each notice of an Advance (a "Borrowing Notice") shall be substantially in the form of Schedule 1, other than a Borrowing Notice that is included in an Election Notice as permitted by Section 3.3(3). Each Borrowing Notice shall be irrevocable and binding on the IESO and shall specify (a) the requested date of the Advance; (b) the principal amount of the Advance, and (c) the Repayment Date of the Advance which shall be no earlier than 28 days and not later than 95 days after the date of the requested Advance. Each Borrowing Notice shall also certify the use of proceeds of the Advance which shall in any case be in accordance with Section 2.3. The OFA will make the principal amount of each Advance available to the IESO in accordance with Article 2.

(2) On or before the date of the first Advance hereunder, the IESO shall execute and deliver to the OFA a grid promissory note in respect of Advances substantially in the form of Schedule 3 (the "Grid Note"). The IESO authorizes the OFA to record on the Grid Note (a) the date and amount of each Advance or Continued Advance; (b) the applicable rate of interest for each Advance or Continued Advance; (c) the Repayment Date of each Advance or Continued Advance; (d) the date and amount of each payment of interest and each payment of principal or portion thereof in respect of each Advance or Continued Advance; and (e) Advances Outstanding. Such notations, in the absence of manifest error, shall be prima facie evidence of such Advances and repayments; provided that the failure of the OFA to record any amount, rate or date shall not affect the obligation of the IESO to pay the Advances Outstanding and all interest accrued thereon and any other amounts due under this Agreement."

7. Section 3.3 "Elections Regarding Advances" of the Credit Agreement is deleted in its entirety and replaced by the following:

"(1) The IESO may elect to continue all or a portion of the principal amount of any Advance and any amount of interest on such Advance (together, the "Continued Advance") for a further period of at least 28 days and up to a maximum of 95 days beginning on the then current Repayment Date in accordance with Section 3.3(2).

(2) Each notice to continue an Advance for a further period (an "Election Notice") shall be provided by the IESO to the OFA at least two Business Days prior to the Repayment Date of the Advance (the "Current Repayment Date"), and in each case, not later than 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time). Each such Election Notice shall be given substantially in the form of Schedule 2 and shall be irrevocable and binding upon the IESO and shall specify: (a) the Current Repayment Date; (b) the new aggregate total amount of the proposed Continued Advance; (c) the amount of interest or principal, if any, to be paid or re-paid by the IESO with respect to such Advance on the Current Repayment Date; and (d) the new Repayment Date of the proposed Continued Advance, which shall be no earlier than 28 days and not later than 95 days after the Current Repayment Date (the "New Repayment Date"). If the IESO fails to deliver an Election Notice to the OFA for any Advance as provided herein, such Advance shall be repayable on the applicable Repayment Date.

(3) An Election Notice with respect to a proposed Continued Advance may include a Borrowing Notice for a further Advance proposed to be made on the Current Repayment

Date. The Repayment Date of such further Advance shall be the New Repayment Date of the Continued Advance that is specified in the Election Notice. Such Borrowing Notice shall be given substantially in the form of Schedule 2.

(4) The calculation of interest on a Continued Advance shall be determined in the same manner as an Advance under Section 3.4 and shall be recorded on the grid promissory note in respect of Advances in accordance with Section 3.2(2).

(5) Any portion of an Advance not continued for a further period in accordance with Section 3.3(2) shall be repayable on the applicable Repayment Date."

8. Section 5.2 "Acceleration of Maturity; Recission and Annulement" of the Credit Agreement is deleted in its entirety and replaced by the following:

"If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, then and in every such case the OFA may at its option, in addition to any other remedy available to the OFA at law, by written notice to the IESO, take any or all of the following actions:

(a) suspend the right of the IESO to request any further Advance until the Event of Default has been cured to the OFA's satisfaction or, if the Event of Default is not cured within three (3) Business Days after the date on which written notice of such Event of Default shall have been given to the IESO by the OFA, declare all amounts owing hereunder including all interest accrued to be due and payable immediately, by a notice in writing to the IESO, and upon any such declaration all such amounts shall become immediately due and payable.

(b) invoke the Intercept pursuant to section 5.7 of this Agreement to require payment of any amount due and payable under this Agreement."

9. Section 5.7 "Intercept" is added to the Credit Agreement, stating as follows:

"Section 5.7 Intercept

(a) The IESO hereby acknowledges that, in accordance with the terms of the letter agreement of November 6th , 2017 herewith entered between the Ministry of Energy, the IESO and the OFA made pursuant to Section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the "Intercept Letter"), the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct only from those monies appropriated by the Legislature for payment through the Ministry of Energy to the IESO ("Appropriated Funds"), amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement. On the occurrence of an Event of Default relating to a failure by IESO to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder, subject to the OFA's compliance with any relevant provisions hereof and as set out in the Intercept Letter, the Minister of Finance is irrevocably authorized to deduct from the Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement and to pay such amounts directly to the OFA ("Intercept").

(b) If, after following the process specified in the Intercept Letter (including, without limitation, allowing for a reasonable cure period on the terms specified therein), the OFA determines that it is necessary to request the Minister of Finance to exercise the Intercept, the OFA will give written notice to the Minister of Finance, with a copy to the Ministry of Energy, detailing the IESO's failure to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder and requesting the deduction from the Appropriated Funds of amounts equal to the amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA under this Agreement.

(c) The IESO agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to this section 5.7 (Intercept) may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance and, upon receipt of such notice, an amount equal to the amount that the IESO has failed to pay when due to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement shall be deducted from the Appropriated Funds and paid to the OFA.

(d) For further certainty, the OFA acknowledges and agrees that the Intercept as provided for herein and in the Intercept Letter shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than the Ministry of Energy or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.

The parties agree that, with respect to the exercise of the Intercept generally, the terms of this section 5.7 shall be applied consistently with the terms set out in the Intercept Letter which shall apply in full. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a conflict or inconsistency between the terms and conditions of the Intercept Letter and the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement, the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement shall prevail."

10. Section 7.9 "Entire Agreement' is added to the Credit Agreement, stating as follows:

"Section 7.9 Entire Agreement

This Agreement as amended from time to time and including the schedules hereto and any other agreements expressly referred to herein, constitutes the whole agreement between the Parties with respect to the matters dealt with in it, and it supersedes any prior agreement, undertakings, discussions and the like respecting the matters dealt with in this Agreement and entered into by the Parties before the date the OFA signs this Agreement."

11. Schedule 1 of the Credit Agreement, Form of Borrowing Notice, is deleted in its entirety and replaced by the Form of Borrowing Notice attached hereto as Schedule 1.

12. Schedule 2 of the Credit Agreement, Form of Election Notice, is deleted in its entirety and replaced by the Form of Election Notice attached hereto as Schedule 2.

13. Schedule 3 of the Credit Agreement, IESO Grid Note, is deleted in its entirety and replaced by the Form of Grid Note attached hereto as Schedule 3.

14. For the purposes of this Amending Agreement and its coming into effect:

a. "Effective Time" means the time on the Effective Date by which the Transfers of Funds (defined below) have been completed; or such other time as the Parties may subsequently agree to in writing as being the "Effective Time";

b. "Transfers of Funds" means those transfers of funds to be completed between the Parties on the Effective Date, being:

   i. the First Advance as defined under section 3.2(3) of the credit agreement between the Parties in relation to the IESO's role in the implementation of the OFHP dated November 6, 2017; and,

   ii. the completion of all Advances described in the Election Notice to be provided by the IESO to the OFA no later than November 17, 2017 (such terms having the meanings defined in the Credit Agreement) that are to be funded under the Credit Agreement on the Effective Date; and,

   iii. the repayment by the IESO of all Advances Outstanding (as defined in the Credit Agreement) exceeding $475 million; and,

   iv. the payment by the IESO to OFA of the interest then owing under the Credit Agreement.

15. The Parties shall endeavour to complete and exchange all usual documentation relating to the Transfers of Funds, and to any other related matters occurring on the Effective Date, prior to 5:00 p.m. on the Effective Date, and in any case no later than the next business day.

16. After the Effective Time, and prior to any further Advances under the Credit Agreement, the IESO shall execute and deliver to the OFA a new grid promissory note in the principal amount of up to $475,000,000 substantially in the form attached hereto as Schedule 3 (the "Grid Note") and indicating a total principal amount of Advances Outstanding as of the Effective Time. Upon receipt of the new Grid Note delivered hereunder, the OFA will cancel and return the grid promissory note dated November 30, 2016 to the IESO.

17. This Amending Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which so executed shall be deemed to be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same Amending Agreement.

IN ALL OTHER RESPECTS, the Credit Agreement is confirmed by the Parties.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the Parties hereto have executed and delivered this Amending Agreement on the dates set out below, which shall come into effect as of the Effective Time as defined herein.

Hi Sarah,

The FHP seems to be taking shape but (as should be reasonably expected) much of the information is coming to me in bits and pieces. Would be good to have a Doc staff familiar with this as more info becomes available or is being developed. It's being kept at a fairly high level at this time, but don't want to be surprised if Documentation is needed to jump in. I've included the emails on the subject to help provide some context – they aren't all helpful though. What I've sent is for review and provide opportunity to comment as well as to ask questions.

FINANCING TRUST – PERFORMANCE FEE TO OPG

BACKGROUND

Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) has been appointed the Financial Services Manager under the Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 to, among other things evaluate whether funding obligations should be incurred by the Trust for the purpose of acquiring and financing an investment interest. A performance fee relating to the funding obligations will be meaningful and allow OPG to make decisions that will significantly impact its return. The Act as drafted enables OPG to achieve its accounting objective of consolidation of the Trust with OPG, and the ability to earn a return and take on risk, through its control of the Trust.. The objective therefore is to recommend a reasonable variable performance fee structure for OPG to earn a return from the Trust, and meet the accounting requirement.

ANALYSIS OF ACCOUNTING REQUIREMENT

To support the accounting consolidation, OPG's variable performance return will be accomplished through the followings:

a. The cash flow from the investment asset shall include interest determined based on a relevant benchmark that is appropriate relative to the investment asset, plus an appropriate margin consistent with the relevant market and other risks
b. OPG shall have the authority to determine the financing strategy, which will vary the financing costs with the objective of enabling the Trust to achieve a more favorable return compared to the benchmark for interest on the investment asset
c. The Trust shall establish different classes of debt (senior, subordinated and the most subordinated). The classes would allow the Trust to delineate financing of lower risk investment and investment that would bear higher residual risk. The delineation would limit OPG's self-funded investment to a reasonable level in order to allow OPG to remain a self-sustaining entity.
d. OPG shall, through its ownership of the most subordinated liability, be able to capture and retain the pricing difference between cost of financing and benchmark for interest on the investment asset, or any residual risk of investment asset. The targeted return of the subordinated debt should be reflective of the underlying risks and compensate holders for active management that would be required.

PERFORMANCE FEE ANALYSIS

Based on the accounting requirements, the recommendation is for OPG to establish a variable performance fee structure as follows:

As the Trust may issue both long term bonds and medium term notes, benchmarks based on various terms, will be established on an annual basis, subject to the following methodology:

- Benchmarks will be established as the sum of (1) reference rate, and (2) spread
    - Both reference rate and spread will be term dependant

- For bond/note issuance, reference rate will be GOC rate of equivalent term
- Reference rate will be based on consensus forecast provided by various financial institutions

- Benchmarks will be established based on the weighted average rate of incremental debt issuance at the Trust level
- If the actual weighted average rate is lower than the corresponding benchmark, OPG will realize a gain, otherwise a loss
- Variable performance fee, i.e. gain/loss, is applicable only to OPG's investment in the Trust (5% of the funding requirement), and is capped at benchmark weighted average rate +/-1%

An example illustrating this structure is detailed in Appendix 1

APPENDIX 1

The illustration is based on the expected Trust debt structure as follows:

	Risk Profile	Source	% of Total Funding Requirement
Tranche A Senior Debt	the least risky	Capital Markets	51%
Tranche B Sub Debt	In between A&C	OPG via OEFC	39%
Tranche C Sub Debt	the most risky	OPG via OEFC	5%
		OPG via Capital Markets	5%

1. Benchmark is to be established at each year end for Trust issuance next year. In this example, assuming the following benchmark is established as of end of Yr 1

		Benchmark
Tranche A	51%	4.25%
Tranche B Sub Debt	39%	5.50%
Tranche C Sub Debt	10%	6.50%
Weighted Average Rate		5.0%

2. By the end of Yr 2, OPG will calculate the actual weighted average rate for all incremental issuance for the year. If the actual weighted average rate is lower than the corresponding benchmark, OPG will realize a gain, otherwise a loss.

	Allocation	Benchmark	Actual
Tranche A	51%	4.25%	5.0%
Tranche B Sub Debt	39%	5.50%	5.60%
Tranche C Sub Debt	10%	6.50%	6.60%
Weighted Average Rate		5.0%	5.4%
		Loss	0.4%

3. Variable management fee, i.e. gain/loss, is applicable only to OPG's investment (5% of the Trust funding requirement), and is capped at benchmark weighted average rate +/-1%.

   Based on the example above and assume incremental Trust issuance is $2B, OPG will realize loss of variable performance fee of 0.4M ($2B*5%*0.4%)

Fair Hydro Plan – Subordinated Debt Loan Arrangement
Term Sheet

- Parties: OPG, Fair Hydro Trust, OFA

- In accordance with the Master Subscription Agreement among OPG, OFA and Ministry of Energy, the Province agrees to inject 44% of total funding of GA asset by way of equity subscriptions in OPG, and OPG agrees to use the equity subscription amounts solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt (Equity Injection Plan) requirements as part of the Fair Hydro Plan

- OPG will lend the equity injection from the Province to Fair Hydro Trust by way of subordinated debt (one or more mezzanine level)

- Initial credit rating will be assigned to the subordinated debt of Fair Hydro Trust

- Based on monthly funding requirement of GA asset, the Trust will use short term financing, such as bank facilities, and take out bonds once accumulative short term funding reaches certain levels.

- The mechanism to implement Equity Injection Plan will be based on monthly equity injections reflecting funding requirements of GA asset

- Interest rates on the subordinated debt will be established as follows:

    - During the Trust short term financing period when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt

    - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. The process will be similar to the one established for pricing of OPG debt drawn from OEFC facilities.

Subject: OFHP - Outstanding business issues

Hi all,

ENE MO asked for a quick note on 4 of the outstanding business issues that are being worked through and are hoping to see something tomorrow morning.

I've pulled together a high level explanation of each of the items and next steps/timing (to the extent I know).

Would greatly appreciate if you guys could take a look and provide any edits/comments today/early tomorrow if possible. I'm also not too involved in a few of these discussions so if there's others within OFA you think should review feel free to pass along.

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

Outstanding Business Issues – Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Briefing Note

PURPOSE
Provide an overview of a few of the key remaining outstanding business issues that OPG and the Province are working through

BUSINESS ISSUES

1. Provincial Support Agreement Term Sheet (~~Service and~~ Performance and Payment Guarantees)
   - As part of the OFHP, the IESO will create and sell a regulatory asset to the OPG financing entity
   - In order to provide assurances to those with claims against the Financing Entity (eg. Holders of debt), and support credit ratings, the Province is providing both a Service Guarantee and a Performance Guarantee to ensure that the obligations of the IESO are carried out including obligations related to collecting and remitting clean energy adjustments.
   - Next Steps:
     - OPG and OFA and working towards the development of a term sheet
     - Timing: Guarantees are required to support rating agency review which is expected by the end of July

2. Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILs) Exemption
   - The Province would like to minimize to the extent possible , the PILs payable by the OPG financing vehicle, as those costs will be recovered from ratepayers
   - The Province is considering regulation changes to exempt the income arising as a consequence of the Fair Hydro Plan from PILs
   - As part of the OFHP, the financing entity will raise debt and acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. Given the unique nature of the investment assets, there are no specific rules which govern the manner which investment assets should be treated for tax purposes, and further analysis is required to ensure the cost of the investment assets are appropriately recognized as a deduction or offset in computing the income of the financing entity
   - Next Steps:
     - The Ministries of Finance, OFA and OPG are working together to determine required regulation changes
     - Timing: [Next steps for a decision / when is a decision required / when would these regulation changes occur]

3. Fair Hydro Plan - Master Subscription Agreement Term Sheet (Equity Injection Process)

- OPG will require equity injections on a monthly basis in order to maintain its capital structure, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares as needed by the Province
- The Ministry of Energy received appropriation for $1.1B through PRRT to support equity injections for the 2017-18 period, and will continue to provide multi-year forecasts each year through PRRT
- Next Steps:
    - The Ministry of Energy, OFA and OPG are working through the short term mechanics of this process which will ultimately feed into a Master Subscription Agreement. A draft term sheet is underway.
    - Timing: OPG will require the ability to issue equity in July, so mechanics and agreements should be finalized in June

4. Management Fees

- OPG will be providing all required services to the Trust as part of the OFHP, including planning, strategy, financing, deal execution etc.
- The legislation allows OPG to establish and charge a management fee for those services in accordance with the regulations which are currently in development
- OPG and OEB are currently working together on a management fee structure that balances the interests of minimizing costs and satisfying accounting consolidation requirements
- Next Steps:
    - OPG and OEB will bring forward a recommended framework for developing management fees
    - Timing: For incorporation into regulations being brought forward in June

5. IESO – Increased Credit Facilities

- The OPG financing entity has the right to purchase the regulatory asset from IESO but does not have to purchase it.
- IESO is working with the OFA to increase the credit facilities in the event that the OPG financing entity does not purchase the regulatory asset
- Next Steps:
    - OFA is …..
    - Timing: ……

Thanks Carlos.

In the previous H1 related loans, the Minister of Energy signed the share purchase agreement and the Minister of Finance signed the loan agreement under the authority of an OIC. OFA staff act on behalf of the Minister of Finance in taking certain actions related to the loan. I am not sure that the Minister of Energy can delegate authority under the share purchase agreement for this equity injection (i.e. to make a decision to purchase shares) in the same way that OFA staff would deal with actions under a loan agreement. It may be that if there needs to be some quick turn-around in relation to funding OPG via the equity injection that maybe there might be a services agreement between the OFA and the Ministry of Energy. Perhaps, this only refers to how the money is being flowed and is more of a back-office function, and someone at the Ministry of Energy directs the OFA to take the action.

We will take a look at this term sheet too and provide some comments and questions.

Thanks.

Subject: Equity Injection Term Sheet

Hey John, Carlos,

Attached is a term sheet from OPG that would form the basis of the Equity Injection Agreement. I think this would be an agreement between ENE/OPG and OFA. While it currently says 5 business days in this document Clara flagged that the IESO may be looking for it to be settled in as quickly as 1 day. Given how quick this needs to happen I've included a line about ENE delegating authority to the OFA to manage this monthly process. I think ENE would want to be kept in the loop but I don't think they would need to sign off each month. That being said I haven't run this up the chain at ENE yet or discussed with ENE controllership.

Id defer to you guys for short term mechanics for the most part as you have the experience on the borrowing side. If you could take a look and mark-up where desired then maybe we can chat?

Let me know if you have any questions.
Kaitlin

Fair Hydro Plan –Master Subscription Agreement
Term Sheet

- Parties: OPG, OFA, Ministry of Energy
- The Province agrees to inject 44% of total funding of GA asset by way of equity subscription in OPG, which amount OPG in turn will invest in the Fair Hydro Trust as subordinated debt (Equity Injection Plan)
- Minister of Energy/Province approves Equity Injection Plan, and initial equity injection amount for 2017/18 fiscal year, and delegates to appropriate ministry staff authority to implement Equity Injection Plan (Delegated Authority)
- Long term, OPG equity requirements will form part of the business planning process in place between OPG and Ministry of Energy, ie, annually OPG to include forecasts of its equity requirements for the upcoming 3 years in its business plan submission -- NOTE: this portion of the business plan is not subject to concurrence by the shareholder
- Ministry of Energy will seek appropriation on an annual basis through PRRT for the amounts requested by OPG for its equity requirements-- NOTE: amount of annual appropriation to cover OPG multi year forecasts
- The Ministry of Energy will delegate authority to the Ontario Financing Authority to manage the monthly settlement process
- OPG agrees use the equity subscription amounts solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt requirements as part of the Fair Hydro Plan
- OPG will amend its Articles to create an additional class of shares – Class A Shares – which will be non-voting and redeemable at OPG's option
- OPG will issue Class A Shares to the Province monthly at a value per share equal to book value, as determined from OPG's last approved quarterly financial statements -- Value of first Class A shares issued to Province will be based on book value of OPG common shares – ie, existing shareholder's equity
- OPG will have the right to repay equity to the Province, through exercise of its right to redeem the Class A Shares, as principal repayment of the subordinated debt is made commencing in 2027
- Redemption value of the Class A Shares to be based on book value on the redemption date, ie, the equity value per Class A share at the end of the prior financial quarter as set out in OPG's approved financial statements

Formatted: Indent: Left: 0.5", No bullets or numbering

Monthly Process/Mechanics of Share Subscriptions:

a) OPG notifies OFA and Ministry of Energy of required equity injection and number of shares

Timing: [same day as notice from Fair Hydro Trust]

Documents/steps:

(i) share subscription form,
(ii) supporting documentation/invoice from Fair Hydro Trust, confirming amount of GA asset purchase for the month

b) OFA and OPG settle equity injection amounts

Timing: [five] business days from notice to OFA to payment/settlement with OPG [NOTE: timing to be confirmed based on IESO/Trust process requirements]

Documents/steps:

(i) completed/signed share subscription form from OFA~~/Province~~ to OPG

(ii) funds transfer from OFA to OPG account)

(iii) OPG receipt, together with secretary's certificate confirming issue of shares/update of share register sent to both OFA and ENE

Commented [KC1]: OFA: any details we can add based on your experience on the loan side? Who signs off at the OFA? Should we just make it the same process and delegate authority from ENE so OfA can execute?

Longer term Process/Approvals:

1. Equity Requirements Estimates:
   a. Business Plan Submissions
   b. OPG Board Approvals
      - [Bi-annual] Board of Directors' resolutions authorizing equity requirement for period
      - [Bi-annual Shareholder's resolutions authorizing equity requirement for period][NOTE: TBD if needed]

   c. Ministry of Energy appropriations
      ~~[describe annual process]~~Ministry of Energy will seek appropriation through PRRT process, including 3-year estimates that OPG provides through its business plan submission

Share Redemption Process

- TBD -- process to be determined at a later date and appended as Appendix to Master Subscription Agreement

Hi all,

We are also putting together an issues list for discussion with Energy Legal and Blakes and will share it with you as well.

Is there any type of draft term sheet for the proposed financing transaction itself or the master sales and servicing agreement? Any general description of the proposed transaction would be helpful to us.

Thank you.

CONFIDENTIAL AND PRIVILEGED LEGAL ADVICE

ISSUES LIST – PROVINCIAL SUPPORT AGREEMENT DRAFT MAY 12, 2017

1. Guarantor will be the Minister of Energy and the Minister of Finance on behalf of the Province (see. 5(3) of proposed Fair Hydro Act, 2017).

2. Description of proposed beneficiaries of guarantee is very broad. Provides that beneficiary is Indenture trustee under master trust indenture on behalf of itself and all persons that have claims against a Financing Entity secured under the master trust indenture. Persons range from the Financial Services Manager (OPG) to holders of various types of debt and hedge counterparties. Need to clarify which obligations the Province is being requested to guarantee and under what various agreements to determine scope and limit of guarantee. Is there a term sheet for the proposed financing to be issued by the Financing Entity? Is there a request for a guarantee of payment on other back-up or ancillary borrowing and obligations other than those issued in the market? Is there a draft of the Master Trust Indenture?

3. Why does the term of the guarantee continue for one year after the obligations have been repaid?

4. Performance Guarantee – This is also a very broad guarantee of performance of the IESO and all electricity services providers in favour of the same broad group of beneficiaries. How can the Province ensure that these entities perform their obligations practically? Also the Province is to protect beneficiaries from any commingling risk. It is noted that in the event the performance guarantee is unenforceable against the Province, there would be a separate legal obligation in the provincial support agreement to indemnify beneficiaries for any losses. Would there be any trigger events applicable to the obligation to indemnify as there are for the payment guarantee. If not, is this an issue for accounting treatment purposes? Also, is there an overlap between the performance and payment guarantee? So long as the funding obligations are paid on time by the financing entity, is there a need for other guarantees from the Province? Note that the Province does have immunity from specific types of enforcement under the Proceedings against the Crown Act. Is there a sample term sheet for the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement? Which provisions of the proposed bill are being relied on for this – is it section 5(2)? section 33. There doesn't seem to be a mechanism in the Act to replace the IESO as servicer. Should the Guarantee specify that the Province can appoint a replacement servicer?

5. Payment Guarantee Event – Regarding (B) and (C), the interpretation of when the triggering event has occurred will be an issue – is there a way to make it more objective or how can this be handled if there is a dispute? Regarding (D), think that there is going to be more discussion of the need for this provision from a business perspective. However, is this assuming, that the Province is guaranteeing both long term and short term funding obligations? Need to clarify when and which obligations the province will be guaranteeing?

6. Payment Guarantee – Again it will be necessary to clarify which obligations the province is guaranteeing to understand what the range of payments to be made are. Also, (y) does not seem acceptable to the Province from a business perspective.

7. Limits under Guarantee – The guarantee wording should be clear so that the Province is guaranteeing payment of certain debt or specific obligations only and the Province's liability should be capped. Province should not be exposed to the risk of any other types of damages or losses.

8. Priority of Payments – Until we know who the beneficiaries are and with respect to what obligations, it is difficult to comment on this.

9. Subrogation – Need to ensure that the Province has appropriate recovery rights and not sure that it is appropriate that all beneficiaries are paid in full before Province gets subrogation rights. Also there is no acceleration here and Province really pays on an ongoing basis so how should subrogation work in such a case.

10. Conditions Precedent – Need to know what they are proposed to be.

11. Representations – Need to know what they are proposed to be as Province does not typically provide representations in connection with guarantees it provides.

12. Confidentiality Obligations – Thought the guarantee is part of a public financing so wouldn't the terms all be known?

13. Legal Opinions – Content, who will be providing them and to whom would they be provided.

General Questions on proposed legislation and interaction with guarantee:

14. General review of relevant sections would be appreciated and how the provisions fit with the requirements of the financing. In particular, s. 5, 13, 19, 21, 22, 33, 41 par 7

Provincial Support Agreement Term Sheet

Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017

This term sheet (the "Term Sheet") is provided exclusively to the parties listed herein in connection with the draft Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and the regulations to be made thereunder (the "Act"). This Term Sheet is to be held confidential. Defined terms used herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the Act. The provincial support agreement (the "Provincial Support Agreement") will contain the terms and conditions set out in this Term Sheet in addition to such other representations, warranties, indemnities, and other terms and conditions as the Guarantor and the Beneficiaries (each as defined below) may reasonably require.

Guarantor:	Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario, as represented by the Minister of Energy.
Beneficiaries:	The indenture trustee (together with its successors, the "Indenture Trustee") under the master trust indenture (the "Master Trust Indenture") on behalf of itself and all other persons having debt or other claims against a Financing Entity secured under the Master Trust Indenture (collectively, the "Beneficiaries") including, without limitation, holders of senior and subordinated notes, senior and subordinated lenders, hedge counterparties, credit enhancers, liquidity providers, the Financial Services Manager, the Indenture Trustee, the trustee of the Financing Entity if the Financing Entity is a trust, and any other administrator of the Financing Entity.
Term:	The Guarantor's obligations under the Provincial Support Agreement will continue until [one year][1] after all funding obligations (to be defined to include principal, interest, fees, hedge settlement and termination obligations and other related amounts) of all Financing Entities have been repaid.

[1] This mirrors the requirement expected to be in the Regulations under the Act not to wind up, dissolve or liquidate a Financing Entity until at least one year after all of its Funding Obligations have been repaid.

Performance Guarantee:	Under the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement to be entered into by IESO and the Financing Entity, [and OPG as Financial Services Manager] ("MSSA"), IESO will have obligations both as a seller and as a servicer. Pursuant to a performance guarantee, the Guarantor will guarantee in favour of the Beneficiaries to perform, or cause the performance of (which may be by way of the appointment of a replacement servicer), the obligations of IESO as servicer under the MSSA and the Act including the obligations of any replacement servicer. The Guarantor will also guarantee the servicing obligations of the electricity vendors under the Act. The servicing obligations covered will include all obligations related to the collecting and remitting of clean energy adjustments and will protect the Beneficiaries from any risks arising from collections of clean energy adjustments being commingled with other amounts. In the event that the performance guarantee is unenforceable against the Guarantor, the Provincial Support Agreement will contemplate a separate legal obligation by the Guarantor to indemnify the Beneficiaries for any losses that result.
Payment Guarantee Event:	A Payment Guarantee Event will occur if: (A) the Legislative Assembly of Ontario repeals the Act; or (B) the Legislative Assembly of Ontario amends the Act or a Regulation thereunder is amended in a way that adversely impacts the ability of a Financing Entity to fully recover an investment interest in order to fully pay all funding obligations and other obligations incurred by such Financing Entity in respect of such investment interest; or (C) a court of competent jurisdiction (i) determines all or a portion of the Act to be ultra vires in a way that adversely impacts the ability of a Financing Entity to fully recover an investment interest in order to fully pay all funding obligations and other obligations incurred by such Financing Entity in respect of such investment interest or (ii) declares any funding obligations to be invalid or unenforceable; or (D) funding obligations are due and payable at a time when a market disruption (a period of [six months or more] when capital markets term funding is not available to effect refinancings of funding obligations) is occurring and, in the case of long term funding obligations only, a moratorium or limitation on the imposition and collection of clean energy adjustments to repay such funding obligations is in effect under the Act.

Payment Guarantee:	Upon the occurrence of a Payment Guarantee Event under clauses (A), (B) or (C) of the above definition: (x) the Guarantor shall assume and pay when due (without acceleration) all funding obligations and all other obligations of the Financing Entities to the Beneficiaries by paying all regularly scheduled amounts in respect thereof during the term of each Financing Entity's contractual obligation to such Beneficiaries; and (y) Beneficiaries holding funding obligations consisting of bonds [with a remaining term to maturity of greater than one year] shall have the option to put the bonds to the Financing Entity for a put price equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest. In connection with any put under this clause (y), the Guarantor shall guarantee payment of the put price and any related hedge breakage but shall not be responsible for any other default, penalty, prepayment or make whole amounts.
Limits under Guarantees:	Under no circumstances shall the Guarantor be obligated to indemnify any Beneficiary for special or punitive damages, or loss of profits.
Priority of Payments:	The priority of the Beneficiaries to any payment made by the Guarantor under the Provincial Support Agreement shall be governed by the priority provisions in the Master Trust Indenture.
Subrogation:	Where the Guarantor has repaid all Beneficiaries in full, to the extent of such payments the Guarantor shall be subrogated in and to all the rights of recovery of the Beneficiaries in respect of their applicable indebtedness and obligations and the security granted by a Financing Entity to the Indenture Trustee. After repayment by the Guarantor of all indebtedness and obligations owing to the Beneficiaries, the Indenture Trustee will acknowledge and agree on behalf of the Beneficiaries that the Guarantor is entitled to exercise all of the rights, powers and privileges that the Beneficiaries have or may exercise in respect of the repaid indebtedness and obligations, all in accordance with the terms of the Master Trust Indenture. Prior to the repayment in full of the indebtedness and obligations owed to the Beneficiaries, the Guarantor shall have no rights of subrogation.
Notice Requirements:	The Indenture Trustee will be required to provide notice to the Guarantor of a Payment Guarantee Event and may in such notice demand payment or performance of the Guarantor's obligation under the Provincial Support Agreement, as applicable.

Closing:	Date to be determined but no later than [■, 2017]. The Closing is the date on which the documents in respect of the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and all related documentation are executed and delivered.
Reporting Requirements of a Financing Entity:	The Guarantor will be entitled to receive all reports received by the Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture.
Conditions Precedent to Closing:	Conditions precedent to Closing shall be those conditions set out in the Master Trust Indenture.[2]
Representations:	Customary representations and warranties of the Guarantor.

Hi Sarah,

The FHP seems to be taking shape but (as should be reasonably expected) much of the information is coming to me in bits and pieces. Would be good to have a Doc staff familiar with this as more info becomes available or is being developed. It's being kept at a fairly high level at this time, but don't want to be surprised if Documentation is needed to jump in. I've included the emails on the subject to help provide some context – they aren't all helpful though. What I've sent is for review and provide opportunity to comment as well as to ask questions.

FINANCING TRUST – PERFORMANCE FEE TO OPG

BACKGROUND

Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) has been appointed the Financial Services Manager under the Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 to, among other things evaluate whether funding obligations should be incurred by the Trust for the purpose of acquiring and financing an investment interest. A performance fee relating to the funding obligations will be meaningful and allow OPG to make decisions that will significantly impact its return. The Act as drafted enables OPG to achieve its accounting objective of consolidation of the Trust with OPG, and the ability to earn a return and take on risk, through its control of the Trust.. The objective therefore is to recommend a reasonable variable performance fee structure for OPG to earn a return from the Trust, and meet the accounting requirement.

ANALYSIS OF ACCOUNTING REQUIREMENT

To support the accounting consolidation, OPG's variable performance return will be accomplished through the followings:

a. The cash flow from the investment asset shall include interest determined based on a relevant benchmark that is appropriate relative to the investment asset, plus an appropriate margin consistent with the relevant market and other risks
b. OPG shall have the authority to determine the financing strategy, which will vary the financing costs with the objective of enabling the Trust to achieve a more favorable return compared to the benchmark for interest on the investment asset
c. The Trust shall establish different classes of debt (senior, subordinated and the most subordinated). The classes would allow the Trust to delineate financing of lower risk investment and investment that would bear higher residual risk. The delineation would limit OPG's self-funded investment to a reasonable level in order to allow OPG to remain a self-sustaining entity.
d. OPG shall, through its ownership of the most subordinated liability, be able to capture and retain the pricing difference between cost of financing and benchmark for interest on the investment asset, or any residual risk of investment asset. The targeted return of the subordinated debt should be reflective of the underlying risks and compensate holders for active management that would be required.

PERFORMANCE FEE ANALYSIS

Based on the accounting requirements, the recommendation is for OPG to establish a variable performance fee structure as follows:

As the Trust may issue both long term bonds and medium term notes, benchmarks based on various terms, will be established on an annual basis, subject to the following methodology:

- Benchmarks will be established as the sum of (1) reference rate, and (2) spread
    - Both reference rate and spread will be term dependant

- For bond/note issuance, reference rate will be GOC rate of equivalent term
- Reference rate will be based on consensus forecast provided by various financial institutions

- Benchmarks will be established based on the weighted average rate of incremental debt issuance at the Trust level
- If the actual weighted average rate is lower than the corresponding benchmark, OPG will realize a gain, otherwise a loss
- Variable performance fee, i.e. gain/loss, is applicable only to OPG's investment in the Trust (5% of the funding requirement), and is capped at benchmark weighted average rate +/-1%

APPENDIX 1

The illustration is based on the expected Trust debt structure as follows:

	Risk Profile	Source	% of Total Funding Requirement
Tranche A Senior Debt	the least risky	Capital Markets	51%
Tranche B Sub Debt	In between A&C	OPG via OEFC	39%
Tranche C Sub Debt	the most risky	OPG via OEFC	5%
		OPG via Capital Markets	5%

1. Benchmark is to be established at each year end for Trust issuance next year. In this example, assuming the following benchmark is established as of end of Yr 1

		Benchmark
Tranche A	51%	4.25%
Tranche B Sub Debt	39%	5.50%
Tranche C Sub Debt	10%	6.50%
Weighted Average Rate		5.0%

2. By the end of Yr 2, OPG will calculate the actual weighted average rate for all incremental issuance for the year. If the actual weighted average rate is lower than the corresponding benchmark, OPG will realize a gain, otherwise a loss.

	Allocation	Benchmark	Actual
Tranche A	51%	4.25%	5.0%
Tranche B Sub Debt	39%	5.50%	5.60%
Tranche C Sub Debt	10%	6.50%	6.60%
Weighted Average Rate		5.0%	5.4%
		Loss	0.4%

3. Variable management fee, i.e. gain/loss, is applicable only to OPG's investment (5% of the Trust funding requirement), and is capped at benchmark weighted average rate +/-1%.

   Based on the example above and assume incremental Trust issuance is $2B, OPG will realize loss of variable performance fee of 0.4M ($2B*5%*0.4%)

Fair Hydro Plan – Subordinated Debt Loan Arrangement
Term Sheet

- Parties: OPG, Fair Hydro Trust, OFA

- In accordance with the Master Subscription Agreement among OPG, OFA and Ministry of Energy, the Province agrees to inject 44% of total funding of GA asset by way of equity subscriptions in OPG, and OPG agrees to use the equity subscription amounts solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt (Equity Injection Plan) requirements as part of the Fair Hydro Plan

- OPG will lend the equity injection from the Province to Fair Hydro Trust by way of subordinated debt (one or more mezzanine level)

- Initial credit rating will be assigned to the subordinated debt of Fair Hydro Trust

- Based on monthly funding requirement of GA asset, the Trust will use short term financing, such as bank facilities, and take out bonds once accumulative short term funding reaches certain levels.

- The mechanism to implement Equity Injection Plan will be based on monthly equity injections reflecting funding requirements of GA asset

- Interest rates on the subordinated debt will be established as follows:

    - During the Trust short term financing period when bank facilities are used as funding vehicles, the interest rate on subordinated debt will be the sum of (1) funding rate on senior debt, and (2) additional spread margin of [xx], reflecting the credit rating difference between the senior and subordinated debt

    - At the time when senior bonds are being issued to take out (term out) the short term financing, OPG will seek indicative coupon rates on the subordinated debt from dealers, reflecting the sum of underlying Government of Government of Canada yield of equivalent term and the appropriate credit spread. The average indicative coupon rate from dealers will be calculated and set as the subordinated debt rate. The process will be similar to the one established for pricing of OPG debt drawn from OEFC facilities.

Hi all,

ENE MO asked for a quick note on 4 of the outstanding business issues that are being worked through and are hoping to see something tomorrow morning.

I've pulled together a high level explanation of each of the items and next steps/timing (to the extent I know).

Would greatly appreciate if you guys could take a look and provide any edits/comments today/early tomorrow if possible. I'm also not too involved in a few of these discussions so if there's others within OFA you think should review feel free to pass along.

Thanks in advance,
Kaitlin

Provide an overview of a few of the key remaining outstanding business issues that OPG and the Province are working through

BUSINESS ISSUES

1. Provincial Support Agreement Term Sheet (~~Service and~~ Performance and Payment Guarantees)
   - As part of the OFHP, the IESO will create and sell a regulatory asset to the OPG financing entity
   - In order to provide assurances to those with claims against the Financing Entity (eg. Holders of debt), and support credit ratings, the Province is providing both a Service Guarantee and a Performance Guarantee to ensure that the obligations of the IESO are carried out including obligations related to collecting and remitting clean energy adjustments.
   - Next Steps:
     - OPG and OFA and working towards the development of a term sheet
     - Timing: Guarantees are required to support rating agency review which is expected by the end of July

2. Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILs) Exemption
   - The Province would like to minimize to the extent possible , the PILs payable by the OPG financing vehicle, as those costs will be recovered from ratepayers
   - The Province is considering regulation changes to exempt the income arising as a consequence of the Fair Hydro Plan from PILs
   - As part of the OFHP, the financing entity will raise debt and acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. Given the unique nature of the investment assets, there are no specific rules which govern the manner which investment assets should be treated for tax purposes, and further analysis is required to ensure the cost of the investment assets are appropriately recognized as a deduction or offset in computing the income of the financing entity
   - Next Steps:
     - The Ministries of Finance, OFA and OPG are working together to determine required regulation changes
     - Timing: [Next steps for a decision / when is a decision required / when would these regulation changes occur]

3. Fair Hydro Plan - Master Subscription Agreement Term Sheet (Equity Injection Process)

- OPG will require equity injections on a monthly basis in order to maintain its capital structure, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares as needed by the Province
- The Ministry of Energy received appropriation for $1.1B through PRRT to support equity injections for the 2017-18 period, and will continue to provide multi-year forecasts each year through PRRT
- Next Steps:
    - The Ministry of Energy, OFA and OPG are working through the short term mechanics of this process which will ultimately feed into a Master Subscription Agreement. A draft term sheet is underway.
    - Timing: OPG will require the ability to issue equity in July, so mechanics and agreements should be finalized in June

4. Management Fees

- OPG will be providing all required services to the Trust as part of the OFHP, including planning, strategy, financing, deal execution etc.
- The legislation allows OPG to establish and charge a management fee for those services in accordance with the regulations which are currently in development
- OPG and OEB are currently working together on a management fee structure that balances the interests of minimizing costs and satisfying accounting consolidation requirements
- Next Steps:
    - OPG and OEB will bring forward a recommended framework for developing management fees
    - Timing: For incorporation into regulations being brought forward in June

5. IESO – Increased Credit Facilities

- The OPG financing entity has the right to purchase the regulatory asset from IESO but does not have to purchase it.
- IESO is working with the OFA to increase the credit facilities in the event that the OPG financing entity does not purchase the regulatory asset
- Next Steps:
    - OFA is …..
    - Timing: ……

Thanks Carlos.

In the previous H1 related loans, the Minister of Energy signed the share purchase agreement and the Minister of Finance signed the loan agreement under the authority of an OIC. OFA staff act on behalf of the Minister of Finance in taking certain actions related to the loan. I am not sure that the Minister of Energy can delegate authority under the share purchase agreement for this equity injection (i.e. to make a decision to purchase shares) in the same way that OFA staff would deal with actions under a loan agreement. It may be that if there needs to be some quick turn-around in relation to funding OPG via the equity injection that maybe there might be a services agreement between the OFA and the Ministry of Energy. Perhaps, this only refers to how the money is being flowed and is more of a back-office function, and someone at the Ministry of Energy directs the OFA to take the action.

We will take a look at this term sheet too and provide some comments and questions.

Thanks.

Subject: Equity Injection Term Sheet

Hey John, Carlos,

Attached is a term sheet from OPG that would form the basis of the Equity Injection Agreement. I think this would be an agreement between ENE/OPG and OFA. While it currently says 5 business days in this document Clara flagged that the IESO may be looking for it to be settled in as quickly as 1 day. Given how quick this needs to happen I've included a line about ENE delegating authority to the OFA to manage this monthly process. I think ENE would want to be kept in the loop but I don't think they would need to sign off each month. That being said I haven't run this up the chain at ENE yet or discussed with ENE controllership.

Id defer to you guys for short term mechanics for the most part as you have the experience on the borrowing side. If you could take a look and mark-up where desired then maybe we can chat?

Let me know if you have any questions.
Kaitlin

Fair Hydro Plan –Master Subscription Agreement
Term Sheet

- Parties: OPG, OFA, Ministry of Energy
- The Province agrees to inject 44% of total funding of GA asset by way of equity subscription in OPG, which amount OPG in turn will invest in the Fair Hydro Trust as subordinated debt (Equity Injection Plan)
- Minister of Energy/Province approves Equity Injection Plan, and initial equity injection amount for 2017/18 fiscal year, and delegates to appropriate ministry staff authority to implement Equity Injection Plan (Delegated Authority)
- Long term, OPG equity requirements will form part of the business planning process in place between OPG and Ministry of Energy, ie, annually OPG to include forecasts of its equity requirements for the upcoming 3 years in its business plan submission -- NOTE: this portion of the business plan is not subject to concurrence by the shareholder
- Ministry of Energy will seek appropriation on an annual basis through PRRT for the amounts requested by OPG for its equity requirements-- NOTE: amount of annual appropriation to cover OPG multi year forecasts
- The Ministry of Energy will delegate authority to the Ontario Financing Authority to manage the monthly settlement process
- OPG agrees use the equity subscription amounts solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt requirements as part of the Fair Hydro Plan
- OPG will amend its Articles to create an additional class of shares – Class A Shares – which will be non-voting and redeemable at OPG's option
- OPG will issue Class A Shares to the Province monthly at a value per share equal to book value, as determined from OPG's last approved quarterly financial statements -- Value of first Class A shares issued to Province will be based on book value of OPG common shares – ie, existing shareholder's equity
- OPG will have the right to repay equity to the Province, through exercise of its right to redeem the Class A Shares, as principal repayment of the subordinated debt is made commencing in 2027
- Redemption value of the Class A Shares to be based on book value on the redemption date, ie, the equity value per Class A share at the end of the prior financial quarter as set out in OPG's approved financial statements

Formatted: Indent: Left: 0.5", No bullets or numbering

Monthly Process/Mechanics of Share Subscriptions:

a) OPG notifies OFA and Ministry of Energy of required equity injection and number of shares

Timing: [same day as notice from Fair Hydro Trust]

Documents/steps:

(i) share subscription form,
(ii) supporting documentation/invoice from Fair Hydro Trust, confirming amount of GA asset purchase for the month

b) OFA and OPG settle equity injection amounts

Timing: [five] business days from notice to OFA to payment/settlement with OPG [NOTE: timing to be confirmed based on IESO/Trust process requirements]

Documents/steps:

(i) completed/signed share subscription form from OFA~~/Province~~ to OPG

(ii) funds transfer from OFA to OPG account)

(iii) OPG receipt, together with secretary's certificate confirming issue of shares/update of share register sent to both OFA and ENE

Commented [KC1]: OFA: any details we can add based on your experience on the loan side? Who signs off at the OFA? Should we just make it the same process and delegate authority from ENE so OfA can execute?

Longer term Process/Approvals:

1. Equity Requirements Estimates:
   a. Business Plan Submissions
   b. OPG Board Approvals
      - [Bi-annual] Board of Directors' resolutions authorizing equity requirement for period
      - [Bi-annual Shareholder's resolutions authorizing equity requirement for period][NOTE: TBD if needed]

   c. Ministry of Energy appropriations
      ~~[describe annual process]~~Ministry of Energy will seek appropriation through PRRT process, including 3-year estimates that OPG provides through its business plan submission

Share Redemption Process

- TBD -- process to be determined at a later date and appended as Appendix to Master Subscription Agreement

Hi all,

We are also putting together an issues list for discussion with Energy Legal and Blakes and will share it with you as well.

Is there any type of draft term sheet for the proposed financing transaction itself or the master sales and servicing agreement? Any general description of the proposed transaction would be helpful to us.

Thank you.

CONFIDENTIAL AND PRIVILEGED LEGAL ADVICE

ISSUES LIST – PROVINCIAL SUPPORT AGREEMENT DRAFT MAY 12, 2017

1. Guarantor will be the Minister of Energy and the Minister of Finance on behalf of the Province (see. 5(3) of proposed Fair Hydro Act, 2017).

2. Description of proposed beneficiaries of guarantee is very broad. Provides that beneficiary is Indenture trustee under master trust indenture on behalf of itself and all persons that have claims against a Financing Entity secured under the master trust indenture. Persons range from the Financial Services Manager (OPG) to holders of various types of debt and hedge counterparties. Need to clarify which obligations the Province is being requested to guarantee and under what various agreements to determine scope and limit of guarantee. Is there a term sheet for the proposed financing to be issued by the Financing Entity? Is there a request for a guarantee of payment on other back-up or ancillary borrowing and obligations other than those issued in the market? Is there a draft of the Master Trust Indenture?

3. Why does the term of the guarantee continue for one year after the obligations have been repaid?

4. Performance Guarantee – This is also a very broad guarantee of performance of the IESO and all electricity services providers in favour of the same broad group of beneficiaries. How can the Province ensure that these entities perform their obligations practically? Also the Province is to protect beneficiaries from any commingling risk. It is noted that in the event the performance guarantee is unenforceable against the Province, there would be a separate legal obligation in the provincial support agreement to indemnify beneficiaries for any losses. Would there be any trigger events applicable to the obligation to indemnify as there are for the payment guarantee. If not, is this an issue for accounting treatment purposes? Also, is there an overlap between the performance and payment guarantee? So long as the funding obligations are paid on time by the financing entity, is there a need for other guarantees from the Province? Note that the Province does have immunity from specific types of enforcement under the Proceedings against the Crown Act. Is there a sample term sheet for the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement? Which provisions of the proposed bill are being relied on for this – is it section 5(2)? section 33. There doesn't seem to be a mechanism in the Act to replace the IESO as servicer. Should the Guarantee specify that the Province can appoint a replacement servicer?

5. Payment Guarantee Event – Regarding (B) and (C), the interpretation of when the triggering event has occurred will be an issue – is there a way to make it more objective or how can this be handled if there is a dispute? Regarding (D), think that there is going to be more discussion of the need for this provision from a business perspective. However, is this assuming, that the Province is guaranteeing both long term and short term funding obligations? Need to clarify when and which obligations the province will be guaranteeing?

6. Payment Guarantee – Again it will be necessary to clarify which obligations the province is guaranteeing to understand what the range of payments to be made are. Also, (y) does not seem acceptable to the Province from a business perspective.

7. Limits under Guarantee – The guarantee wording should be clear so that the Province is guaranteeing payment of certain debt or specific obligations only and the Province's liability should be capped. Province should not be exposed to the risk of any other types of damages or losses.

8. Priority of Payments – Until we know who the beneficiaries are and with respect to what obligations, it is difficult to comment on this.

9. Subrogation – Need to ensure that the Province has appropriate recovery rights and not sure that it is appropriate that all beneficiaries are paid in full before Province gets subrogation rights. Also there is no acceleration here and Province really pays on an ongoing basis so how should subrogation work in such a case.

10. Conditions Precedent – Need to know what they are proposed to be.

11. Representations – Need to know what they are proposed to be as Province does not typically provide representations in connection with guarantees it provides.

12. Confidentiality Obligations – Thought the guarantee is part of a public financing so wouldn't the terms all be known?

13. Legal Opinions – Content, who will be providing them and to whom would they be provided.

General Questions on proposed legislation and interaction with guarantee:

14. General review of relevant sections would be appreciated and how the provisions fit with the requirements of the financing. In particular, s. 5, 13, 19, 21, 22, 33, 41 par 7

Provincial Support Agreement Term Sheet

Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017

This term sheet (the "Term Sheet") is provided exclusively to the parties listed herein in connection with the draft Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and the regulations to be made thereunder (the "Act"). This Term Sheet is to be held confidential. Defined terms used herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the Act. The provincial support agreement (the "Provincial Support Agreement") will contain the terms and conditions set out in this Term Sheet in addition to such other representations, warranties, indemnities, and other terms and conditions as the Guarantor and the Beneficiaries (each as defined below) may reasonably require.

Guarantor:	Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario, as represented by the Minister of Energy.
Beneficiaries:	The indenture trustee (together with its successors, the "Indenture Trustee") under the master trust indenture (the "Master Trust Indenture") on behalf of itself and all other persons having debt or other claims against a Financing Entity secured under the Master Trust Indenture (collectively, the "Beneficiaries") including, without limitation, holders of senior and subordinated notes, senior and subordinated lenders, hedge counterparties, credit enhancers, liquidity providers, the Financial Services Manager, the Indenture Trustee, the trustee of the Financing Entity if the Financing Entity is a trust, and any other administrator of the Financing Entity.
Term:	The Guarantor's obligations under the Provincial Support Agreement will continue until [one year][1] after all funding obligations (to be defined to include principal, interest, fees, hedge settlement and termination obligations and other related amounts) of all Financing Entities have been repaid.

[1] This mirrors the requirement expected to be in the Regulations under the Act not to wind up, dissolve or liquidate a Financing Entity until at least one year after all of its Funding Obligations have been repaid.

Performance Guarantee:	Under the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement to be entered into by IESO and the Financing Entity, [and OPG as Financial Services Manager] ("MSSA"), IESO will have obligations both as a seller and as a servicer. Pursuant to a performance guarantee, the Guarantor will guarantee in favour of the Beneficiaries to perform, or cause the performance of (which may be by way of the appointment of a replacement servicer), the obligations of IESO as servicer under the MSSA and the Act including the obligations of any replacement servicer. The Guarantor will also guarantee the servicing obligations of the electricity vendors under the Act. The servicing obligations covered will include all obligations related to the collecting and remitting of clean energy adjustments and will protect the Beneficiaries from any risks arising from collections of clean energy adjustments being commingled with other amounts. In the event that the performance guarantee is unenforceable against the Guarantor, the Provincial Support Agreement will contemplate a separate legal obligation by the Guarantor to indemnify the Beneficiaries for any losses that result.
Payment Guarantee Event:	A Payment Guarantee Event will occur if: (A) the Legislative Assembly of Ontario repeals the Act; or (B) the Legislative Assembly of Ontario amends the Act or a Regulation thereunder is amended in a way that adversely impacts the ability of a Financing Entity to fully recover an investment interest in order to fully pay all funding obligations and other obligations incurred by such Financing Entity in respect of such investment interest; or (C) a court of competent jurisdiction (i) determines all or a portion of the Act to be ultra vires in a way that adversely impacts the ability of a Financing Entity to fully recover an investment interest in order to fully pay all funding obligations and other obligations incurred by such Financing Entity in respect of such investment interest or (ii) declares any funding obligations to be invalid or unenforceable; or (D) funding obligations are due and payable at a time when a market disruption (a period of [six months or more] when capital markets term funding is not available to effect refinancings of funding obligations) is occurring and, in the case of long term funding obligations only, a moratorium or limitation on the imposition and collection of clean energy adjustments to repay such funding obligations is in effect under the Act.

Payment Guarantee:	Upon the occurrence of a Payment Guarantee Event under clauses (A), (B) or (C) of the above definition: (x) the Guarantor shall assume and pay when due (without acceleration) all funding obligations and all other obligations of the Financing Entities to the Beneficiaries by paying all regularly scheduled amounts in respect thereof during the term of each Financing Entity's contractual obligation to such Beneficiaries; and (y) Beneficiaries holding funding obligations consisting of bonds [with a remaining term to maturity of greater than one year] shall have the option to put the bonds to the Financing Entity for a put price equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest. In connection with any put under this clause (y), the Guarantor shall guarantee payment of the put price and any related hedge breakage but shall not be responsible for any other default, penalty, prepayment or make whole amounts.
Limits under Guarantees:	Under no circumstances shall the Guarantor be obligated to indemnify any Beneficiary for special or punitive damages, or loss of profits.
Priority of Payments:	The priority of the Beneficiaries to any payment made by the Guarantor under the Provincial Support Agreement shall be governed by the priority provisions in the Master Trust Indenture.
Subrogation:	Where the Guarantor has repaid all Beneficiaries in full, to the extent of such payments the Guarantor shall be subrogated in and to all the rights of recovery of the Beneficiaries in respect of their applicable indebtedness and obligations and the security granted by a Financing Entity to the Indenture Trustee. After repayment by the Guarantor of all indebtedness and obligations owing to the Beneficiaries, the Indenture Trustee will acknowledge and agree on behalf of the Beneficiaries that the Guarantor is entitled to exercise all of the rights, powers and privileges that the Beneficiaries have or may exercise in respect of the repaid indebtedness and obligations, all in accordance with the terms of the Master Trust Indenture. Prior to the repayment in full of the indebtedness and obligations owed to the Beneficiaries, the Guarantor shall have no rights of subrogation.
Notice Requirements:	The Indenture Trustee will be required to provide notice to the Guarantor of a Payment Guarantee Event and may in such notice demand payment or performance of the Guarantor's obligation under the Provincial Support Agreement, as applicable.

Closing:	Date to be determined but no later than [■, 2017]. The Closing is the date on which the documents in respect of the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and all related documentation are executed and delivered.
Reporting Requirements of a Financing Entity:	The Guarantor will be entitled to receive all reports received by the Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture.
Conditions Precedent to Closing:	Conditions precedent to Closing shall be those conditions set out in the Master Trust Indenture.[2]
Representations:	Customary representations and warranties of the Guarantor.
FIPPA:	Acknowledgement that the Guarantor is bound by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (Ontario) and that any information provided to the Guarantor or its agents or representatives in connection with the Transaction Documents may be subject to disclosure in accordance with that act or as otherwise required by law.
Confidentiality Obligations:	Customary confidentiality obligations to be negotiated and included. Provincial Support Agreement Term Sheet~~—~~

Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017

This term sheet (the "Term Sheet") is provided exclusively to the parties listed herein in connection with the draft Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and the regulations to be made thereunder (the "Act"). This Term Sheet is to be held confidential. Defined terms used herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the Act. The provincial support agreement (the "Provincial Support Agreement") will contain the terms and conditions set out in this Term Sheet in addition to such other representations, warranties, indemnities, and other terms and conditions as the Guarantor and the Beneficiaries (each as defined below) may reasonably require.

Guarantor:	Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario, as represented by the Minister of Energy.
Beneficiaries:	The ~~trust company acting as~~ indenture trustee (together with its successors, the "Indenture Trustee") under the master trust indenture (the "Master Trust Indenture") ~~acting for the benefit of~~on behalf of itself and all other persons ~~who may have contractual~~having debt or other claims against a Financing Entity secured under the Master Trust Indenture (collectively, the "Beneficiaries") ~~(~~including, without limitation, holders of senior and subordinated notes, senior and subordinated lenders, hedge counterparties, credit enhancers, liquidity providers, the Financial Services Manager, the Indenture Trustee~~ and~~, the trustee of the Financing Entity[1]~~)~~ if the Financing Entity is a trust, and any other administrator of the Financing Entity.
Term:	The Guarantor's obligations under the Provincial Support Agreement will continue until [one year][2]1 after all ~~Funding Obligations~~funding obligations (to be defined to include principal, interest, fees, hedge settlement and termination obligations and other related amounts) of all Financing Entities have been repaid.
Performance Guarantee:	~~[Upon the occurrence of a Performance Guarantee Event], the Indenture Trustee will be entitled to require the Guarantor to appoint a replacement servicer who will perform IESO's duties as servicer under~~Under the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement ~~between IESO, as seller and servicer,~~to be entered into by IESO and the Financing Entity~~, as purchaser~~, [and OPG as Financial Services Manager] ("MSSA")~~.~~, IESO will have obligations both

[1] ~~We have assumed that the initial Financing Entity will be a trust.~~

[2]1 This mirrors the requirement expected to be in the Regulations under the Act not to wind up, dissolve or liquidate a Financing Entity until at least one year after all of its Funding Obligations have been repaid.

	as a seller and as a servicer. Pursuant to a performance guarantee, the Guarantor will guarantee in favour of the Beneficiaries to perform, or cause the performance of (which may be by way of the appointment of a replacement servicer), the obligations of IESO as servicer under the MSSA and the Act including the obligations of any replacement servicer. The Guarantor will also guarantee the servicing obligations of the electricity vendors under the Act. The servicing obligations covered will include all obligations related to the collecting and remitting of clean energy adjustments and will protect the Beneficiaries from any risks arising from collections of clean energy adjustments being commingled with other amounts. In the event that the performance guarantee is unenforceable against the Guarantor, the Provincial Support Agreement will contemplate a separate legal obligation by the Guarantor to indemnify the ~~Indenture Trustee~~Beneficiaries for any losses that result.
~~Performance Guarantee Event:~~	~~A "Servicer Default" occurs under the MSSA[3]~~
~~Payment Guarantee:~~	~~[Upon the occurrence of a Payment Guarantee Event and within [5/10] business days after receiving a demand from the Indenture Trustee], the Guarantor shall [guarantee and indemnify the Indenture Trustee (for and on behalf of the Beneficiaries) by paying all regularly scheduled interest and principal payments during the term of a Financing Entity's contractual obligation to such Beneficiary]/[assume the contractual obligations of a Financing Entity to the Beneficiaries][4], which for greater certainty shall not include any default, penalty, prepayment, or make whole amounts.~~
Payment Guarantee Event:	A Payment Guarantee Event will occur if: (A) ~~if~~ the Legislative Assembly of Ontario repeals the Act; or (B) ~~if~~ the Legislative Assembly of Ontario amends the Act or a Regulation thereunder is amended in a way that adversely impacts the ability of a Financing Entity to fully recover an investment interest in order to fully pay all funding obligations and other obligations incurred by such Financing Entity in respect of such investment interest; or (C) ~~if~~ a court of competent jurisdiction (i) determines all or a portion of the Act to be ultra vires in a way that adversely impacts the ability of a Financing Entity to fully recover an investment

[3] ~~Each Servicer Default will include its own cure period before the event becomes a Servicer Default.~~
[4] ~~To confirm if Province will become the debtor under the applicable debt documentation or if the Financing Entity will continue to be the primary obligor with the Province acting as secondary obligor.~~ interest in order to fully pay all funding obligations and other obligations incurred by such Financing Entity in respect of such investment interest or (ii) declares any funding obligations to be invalid or unenforceable; or (D) funding obligations are due and payable at a time when a market disruption (a period of [six months or more] when capital markets term funding is not available to effect refinancings of funding obligations) is occurring and, in the case of long term funding obligations only, a moratorium or limitation on the imposition and collection of clean energy adjustments to repay such funding obligations is in effect under the Act.

Payment Guarantee:	Upon the occurrence of a Payment Guarantee Event under clauses (A), (B) or (C) of the above definition: (x) the Guarantor shall assume and pay when due (without acceleration) all funding obligations and all other obligations of the Financing Entities to the Beneficiaries by paying all regularly scheduled amounts in respect thereof during the term of each Financing Entity's contractual obligation to such Beneficiaries; and (y) Beneficiaries holding funding obligations consisting of bonds [with a remaining term to maturity of greater than one year] shall have the option to put the bonds to the Financing Entity for a put price equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest. In connection with any put under this clause (y), the Guarantor shall guarantee payment of the put price and any related hedge breakage but shall not be responsible for any other default, penalty, prepayment or make whole amounts.
Limits under Guarantees:	Under no circumstances shall the Guarantor be obligated to indemnify any Beneficiary for special or punitive damages, or loss of profits.
Priority of Payments:	The priority of the Beneficiaries to any payment made by the Guarantor under the Provincial Support Agreement shall be governed by the priority provisions in the Master Trust Indenture.
Subrogation:	Where the Guarantor has repaid ~~a Beneficiary~~all Beneficiaries in full, to the extent of such ~~payment,~~payments the Guarantor ~~is~~shall be subrogated in and to all the rights of recovery of ~~such~~the Beneficiar~~y~~ies in respect of their applicable indebtedness and obligations and the security granted by a Financing Entity to the Indenture Trustee. After repayment by the Guarantor of all ~~amounts~~indebtedness and obligations owing to ~~a~~the Beneficiar~~y~~ies, the Indenture Trustee will acknowledge and agree on behalf of ~~such~~the Beneficiar~~y~~ies that the Guarantor is entitled to exercise all of the rights, powers and privileges that the Beneficiar~~y~~ies ha~~s~~ve or may exercise in respect of the repaid indebtedness and obligations, all in accordance with the terms of the Master Trust Indenture. Prior to the repayment in full of the indebtedness and obligations owed to the Beneficiaries, the Guarantor shall have no rights of subrogation.

Notice Requirements:	The Indenture Trustee will be required to provide notice to the Guarantor of a ~~Performance Guarantee Event or~~ Payment Guarantee Event and may in such notice demand payment or performance of the Guarantor's obligation under the Provincial Support Agreement, as applicable.
Closing:	Date to be determined but no later than [■, 2017]. The Closing is the date on which the documents in respect of the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and all related documentation are executed and delivered.
Reporting Requirements of a Financing Entity:	The Guarantor will be entitled to receive all reports received by the Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture.
Conditions Precedent to Closing:	Conditions precedent to Closing shall be those conditions set out in the Master Trust Indenture.~~5~~[2]
Representations:	Customary representations and warranties of the Guarantor.
FIPPA:	Acknowledgement that the Guarantor is bound by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (Ontario) and that any information provided to the Guarantor or its agents or representatives in connection with the Transaction Documents may be subject to disclosure in accordance with that act or as otherwise required by law.
Confidentiality Obligations:	Customary confidentiality obligations to be negotiated and included. A Financing Entity and the Beneficiaries shall not, subject to applicable law, issue any press releases and other public announcements in respect of the Provincial Support Agreement without the prior written consent of the Guarantor.
Governing Law:	Province of Ontario

Hi Opal,

In relation to the Fair Hydro Plan, Malle thought it was a good idea for Documentation to be involved in reviewing the agreements, particularly with a view of structuring the Crown's guarantee as a contingent liability in the event that the funding from rate payers is no longer available to the OPG Asset.

Lot of fun, I'm sure!

Malle and team, attached is a revised draft of the MTSA (clean and blacklined to the prior draft circulated to Steve), together with an initial draft of the IESO security agreement (as a reminder, in order to achieve a AAA rating in light of the moratorium period, it has been proposed that IESO enter into this security agreement in favour of the financing entity as security for the performance of its regulatory obligation to pay carrying costs during the moratorium).

FYI, these documents are currently under review by the IESO and Stikeman.

MASTER TRANSFER AND SERVICING AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of ■, 2017.

BETWEEN:

[FINANCING ENTITY], a trust formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario

(the "Issuer")

- and -

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR, a statutory corporation without share capital amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario

(the "Transferor" in its capacity as transferor, the "Servicer", in its capacity as servicer, and the "IESO" in its capacity as both Transferor and Servicer)

- and -

[INDENTURE TRUSTEE], a trust company existing under the laws of Canada and duly authorized to carry on the business of a trust company in all of the provinces and territories of Canada, as indenture trustee

(the "Indenture Trustee")

WHEREAS the Government of Ontario has enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017 (the "Act") for the purpose of, among other things, ensuring that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits (each as defined in the Act) are fairly allocated among present and future Specified Consumers;

AND WHEREAS, under the Act, the IESO is required to establish and maintain the Fair Hydro Variance Account, and has the right under the Act and the Regulations to record certain amounts in the Fair Hydro Variance Account and recover the balance from time to time of the Fair Hydro Variance Account from Specified Consumers (such right, the "Regulatory Asset");

AND WHEREAS the IESO may from time to time, in accordance with the Act, Transfer a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer on a fully-serviced basis, and pursuant to Section 26(3) of the Act, such a Transfer results in (i) a reduction in the balance in the Fair Hydro Variance Account, (ii) the corresponding adjustment of the Regulatory Asset, and (iii) the acquisition by the Issuer of an Investment Interest corresponding to the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset;

AND WHEREAS the Issuer may finance the acquisition from the IESO, from time to time, of an Investment Interest through the incurrence of Funding Obligations under the Indenture;

AND WHEREAS the Issuer will grant a security interest over all of the Issuer Investment Interest to and in favour of the Indenture Trustee on behalf of all Specified Creditors;

AND WHEREAS in connection with its ownership of the Issuer Investment Interest and in order to collect the associated Clean Energy Adjustments in accordance with the Act, the Issuer desires to engage the Servicer to carry out the services described herein and the Servicer desires to be so engaged;

AND WHEREAS the Indenture Trustee has been appointed pursuant to the Indenture to act on behalf of all Specified Creditors (as defined in the Indenture) and wishes to acknowledge and accept the rights and obligations granted to it thereby, including, but not limited to, its rights set forth in this Agreement.

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the foregoing and the mutual covenants and agreements contained herein (the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged), the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1
INTERPRETATION

1.1 Definitions

In this Agreement, the following terms have the following meanings:

"Act" has the meaning ascribed thereto in the recitals;

"Agreement" means this master transfer and servicing agreement, as amended, supplemented, modified, restated or replaced from time to time, and the expressions "herein", "hereof", "hereto", "hereunder" and similar expressions refer to this Agreement and not to any Article, Section, paragraph, subparagraph or clause hereof;

"Billing Period" means a calendar month in which the Clean Energy Adjustment is billed to Specified Consumers;

ARTICLE 2
TRANSFER OF SPECIFIED PORTIONS OF THE REGULATORY ASSET

2.1 Transfer Notices and Agreement to Transfer a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset

(a) The Transferor may, no more frequently than monthly and no later than the 8th Business Day of any calendar month, offer to Transfer to the Issuer a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset by providing to the Issuer a Transfer Notice executed by the Transferor and setting out (i) the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset that the Transferor is offering to Transfer to the Issuer, (ii) the consideration to be paid to the Transferor by the Issuer for the Transfer (the "Purchase Price") which shall be equal to the amount of such Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset, (iii) the Closing Date to effect such transfer which shall be no earlier than the [5th] Business Day after the delivery of the Transfer Notice and no later than the last Business Day of the calendar month in which the Transfer Notice was delivered, or such other Business Day as may be agreed by the Transferor and the Issuer, and (iv) such other information as required in the form of Transfer Notice attached as Exhibit A hereto.

(b) On or before the 2nd Business Day following receipt of a Transfer Notice, the Issuer shall have the right, but not the obligation, to accept the Transferor's offer to Transfer the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset subject to the Transfer Notice by executing and returning such Transfer Notice to the Transferor. Upon acceptance by the Issuer of the Transfer Notice, there shall be a binding agreement for IESO to Transfer the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset and for the Issuer to pay the Purchase Price, subject to satisfaction of all conditions precedent in Section 2.2.

(c) Provided that all conditions precedent set out in Section 2.2 have been satisfied on or prior to the applicable Closing Date, on the applicable Closing Date, the Issuer shall deliver or cause to be delivered to the Transferor, by bank wire transfer or bank electronic funds transfer, in immediately available funds, an amount in Canadian dollars equal to the Purchase Price set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice. The Transferor agrees that receipt by the Transferor of the payment referred to in this Section 2.1(c) is receipt by the Transferor of a payment referred to in Section 26(3) of the Act.

(d) Upon receipt by the Transferor of the payment referred to in Section 2.1(c), the Transferor shall reduce the balance of the Fair Hydro Variance Account by an amount equal to the Purchase Price received and shall retain no further right, title or interest in the corresponding Issuer Investment Interest.

(e) The parties intend that this Agreement, together with each Transfer Notice accepted by the Issuer, constitute an agreement, for purposes of Section 27(2) of the Act for the Transferor to dispose, upon receipt by the Transferor of the payment referred to in Section 2.1(d), of a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset and to assign, convey or sell a corresponding Investment Interest to the Issuer.

2.2 Conditions Precedent to each Transfer of a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset

(a) The obligation of the Issuer to pay the Purchase Price related to the initial Transfer of a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset shall be subject to the satisfaction by the Transferor, or waiver by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, of the following conditions:

(i) the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee shall have received from the Transferor the following documents, in form and substance satisfactory to each of the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee:

(A) a certificate of an officer of the IESO, dated the initial Closing Date certifying (1) that attached thereto is a true and complete copy of the by-laws of the IESO, each as in effect on the date of such certificate, (2) that attached thereto is a true and complete copy of a resolution adopted by the IESO's board of directors authorizing the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the performance by the IESO of its obligations hereunder, and that such resolution has not been modified, rescinded or amended and is in full force and effect, and (3) as to the incumbency and true specimen signature of each of the IESO officers or delegates executing this Agreement and authorized to give notices and instructions hereunder (which can be changed by notice hereunder); and

(B) the Transferor shall have delivered to the Indenture Trustee, the Rating Agencies and the Issuer any Opinions of Counsel reasonably required by them. [NTD: Scope of opinions required to be confirmed by the Dealers and their counsel]

(b) The obligation of the Issuer to pay the Purchase Price related to each Transfer of a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset (including the initial Transfer) shall be subject to the satisfaction or waiver by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee of each of the following conditions:

(i) as of the applicable Closing Date, all Program Agreements shall have been entered into on terms and conditions satisfactory to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee and shall be in full force and effect as of such Closing Date;

(ii) as of the applicable Closing Date, no Insolvency Event in respect of the Transferor shall have occurred and the Transferor is not aware of any pending Insolvency Event with respect to itself;

(iii) as of the applicable Closing Date, (A) the representations and warranties of the IESO in this Agreement must be true and correct with the same force and effect as if made on that date (except to the extent they relate to an earlier date), (B) no breach of any covenant or agreement of the IESO contained in this Agreement shall have occurred be continuing, and (C) no Servicer Default shall have occurred and be continuing;

(iv) on or prior to the applicable Closing Date, the Transferor shall have taken all action required to provide for the Transfer, upon payment of the Purchase Price, of the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice on the Closing Date, free and clear of all Liens other than Liens created by the Issuer pursuant to the Program Agreements;

(v) the Transferor shall have delivered to the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer an Officer's Certificate confirming the satisfaction of each condition precedent specified in Sections 2.2(b)(i), (ii), (iii) and (iv);

(vi) as of the applicable Closing Date, (A) the Issuer shall have sufficient funds available to pay the Purchase Price as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice, (B) all conditions to any incurrence of Funding Obligations intended to provide such funds set forth in the Indenture (and any applicable Supplemental Indenture) or other instrument shall have been satisfied or waived, (C) the Rating Agency Condition in respect of the issuance of the Funding Obligations funding the payment of the Purchase Price shall have been satisfied, and (D) the Funding Obligation required to fund the payment of the Purchase Price shall have been issued at the same time as, or prior to, the Transfer; and

(vii) after giving effect to the Transfer, each of the Fair Hydro Variance Account and the Regulatory Asset will have a balance or amount, as applicable, equal to or greater than zero.

ARTICLE 3
ROLE OF THE SERVICER

3.1 Designation of Servicer

Each Transfer of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset shall be made on the basis that the related Issuer Investment Interest shall be serviced by the Servicer in accordance with this Article 3, and the IESO or any Permitted Successor of the IESO that is the Servicer shall not be entitled to receive any further compensation from the Issuer for its services in connection therewith. The Servicer agrees to perform the duties and obligations of the Servicer pursuant to the terms hereof at no additional cost to the Issuer.

3.2 Forecast of Electricity Consumption

The IESO shall:

(a) provide to the Board and the Financial Services Manager the forecasts of electricity consumption by Specified Consumers as contemplated by Section 8(3) of the Regulations; and

(b) provide to the Board and the Financial Services Manager such other information and reports as the Board or the Financial Services Manager may reasonably request in connection with the calculation of the Clean Energy Adjustments and which is reasonably available to the Transferor without incurring material incremental expense.

3.3 ISO Deferral

The IESO shall:

(a) determine the IESO Deferral as required by Section 23 of the Act and the Regulations; and

(b) maintain the Fair Hydro Variance Account as required by Section 24 of the Act and the Regulations.

3.4 Clean Energy Adjustments and Electricity Vendors

The Servicer shall:

(a) prior to receiving Servicer CEA Receipts, establish an Eligible Deposit Account (the "IESO Segregated Account") bearing a designation indicating that the funds deposited therein are held in trust for the benefit of the Issuer and, after the Co-Owner Implementation Date, for the benefit of any other owner or owners of an Investment Interest. If at any time the IESO Segregated Account ceases to be an Eligible Deposit Account, the Servicer shall within 30 days establish a new IESO Segregated Account as an Eligible Deposit Account and shall transfer any cash and/or any investments held in the former account to such new account and make all future deposits to such new account;

(b) prior to the first Billing Period when amounts are invoiced to Specified Consumers in respect of Clean Energy Adjustments, make reasonable efforts to work with each Electricity Vendor to:

(i) establish a segregated account into which Electricity Vendor CEA Collections are to be deposited as required by Section 10(2) of the Regulations;

(ii) settle a form of Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report to be used by such Electricity Vendor; and

(iii) establish procedures for the invoicing by such Electricity Vendor of amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, the identification, deposit and segregation of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections, the remittance of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections to the Servicer and reporting to the Servicer; [NTD: Generally, someone will need to take responsibility for educating the Electricity Vendors and we believe the IESO is best positioned to take on this role given its existing relationships and opportunities to interact with the EVs.]

(c) request certification from each Electricity Vendor that the segregated account required by Section 10(2) of the Regulations has been established by that Electricity Vendor;

(d) as agent of the Issuer and, after the Co-Owner Implementation Date, as agent of any other owner or owners of an Investment Interest, receive Electricity Vendor CEA Collections from Electricity Vendors;

(e) as agent of the Issuer and, after the Co-Owner Implementation Date, as agent of any other owner or owners of an Investment Interest, receive any amounts in respect of Clean Energy Adjustments payable directly by Specified Consumers to the Servicer (such amounts, together with the amounts referred to in Section 3.4(d), the "Servicer CEA Receipts");

(f) deposit the Servicer CEA Receipts into the IESO Segregated Account promptly following receipt by the Servicer and, in any event, within [two Business Days] of receipt by the Servicer and the Issuer Share of such Servicer CEA Receipts shall remain in the IESO Segregated Account until remitted in accordance with Section 3.6;

(g) respond to inquiries by Electricity Vendors with respect to the Clean Energy Adjustment and amounts payable in respect thereof;

(h) request from each Electricity Vendor an Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report in respect of each Billing Period during which Clean Energy Adjustments are billed to Specified Consumers; such report to be requested to be delivered within ■ Business Days of the end of each Billing Period;

(i) review each Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report received by the Servicer for material manifest discrepancies including any discrepancy between the Electricity Vendor CEA Collections reported in respect of the Billing Period and the amount remitted pursuant to Section 3.4(d);

(j) make reasonable efforts to contact each Electricity Vendor that:

(i) does not deliver an Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report in respect of a Billing Period where Clean Energy Adjustments were payable by Specified Consumers;

(ii) does not remit any Electricity Vendor CEA Collections in accordance with Section 3.4(d) or remits Electricity Vendor CEA Collections that do not match the amount thereof reported in its Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report,

(iii) delivers an Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report that has any other material manifest discrepancy detected by the Servicer, or

(iv) does not certify that it has established the segregated account required by Section 10(2) of the Regulations, and attempt to resolve the applicable issue;

(k) on a periodic basis as requested by the Issuer, review, pursuant to its rights under Section 10(4) of the Regulations, the records maintained by each Electricity Vendor with respect to Clean Energy Adjustments; provided that in the absence of evidence of material non-compliance by an Electricity Vendor with its duties and obligations in respect of Clean Energy Adjustments, the Servicer shall not be required to review the records of a Electricity Vendor more often than ■.

(l) hold the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA Receipts and the Issuer Share of any other proceeds in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment received by it in trust for the benefit of the Issuer and remit such amounts in accordance with this Section 3.6 without any surcharge, fee, offset, charge or other deduction.

3.5 Reporting

The Servicer shall:

(a) on or before the [8th Business Day] following the end of each Billing Period, prepare and deliver to the Issuer a written report substantially in the form of Exhibit B (a "Monthly Report");

(b) report to the Issuer any delinquencies by Electricity Vendors in respect of the CEA amounts collected and the remittance of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections;

(c) report to the Issuer any unresolved matters referred to in Section 3.4(j);

(d) promptly notify the Issuer in writing of any Requirement of Law hereafter adopted or announced or the occurrence of any other event or circumstance of which it becomes aware that has a material adverse effect on the Servicer's ability to perform its duties and obligations under this Agreement; and

(e) upon the reasonable request of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or any Rating Agency, provide to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or such Rating Agency, as the case may be, any public financial information in respect of the Servicer, or any material information regarding the Issuer Investment Interest or the Regulatory Asset, to the extent it is reasonably available to the Servicer and as may be reasonably necessary and permitted by law, to enable the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or the Rating Agencies to monitor the performance by the Servicer of its duties and obligations hereunder.

3.6 Remittances

(a) Absent the occurrence of a Daily Remittance Event, the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA Receipts received by the Servicer during a Billing Period and any interest earned thereon shall be remitted by the Servicer to the Collection Account no later than the Remittance Date immediately following such Billing Period.

(b) Following the occurrence of a Daily Remittance Event, the Issuer Share of all Servicer CEA Receipts on deposit in the IESO Segregated Account and any interest earned thereon shall be remitted by the Servicer to the Collection Account on each Business Day.

3.7 Limits to Obligations

Without in any way limiting the duties and obligations of the Servicer arising under the Act or the Regulations, the parties hereto agree the duties and obligations of the Servicer under this Agreement are limited as provided in this Section 3.7.

(a) The Servicer is not responsible for, or in respect of, any amounts not collected by Electricity Vendors from their customers or not remitted by Electricity Vendors to the Servicer.

(b) The Servicer is not responsible for enforcing the obligations of Specified Consumers or Electricity Vendors to invoice, collect or remit Clean Energy Adjustments or any other amounts.

(c) The Servicer shall not be responsible or liable for the performance by Electricity Vendors of their duties and responsibilities under the Act or the Regulations including (i) the invoicing of Specified Consumers in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment and ancillary matters related thereto; (ii) the collection from Specified Consumers of amounts due in respect of such invoices and the remittance of such payments to the Servicer; (iii) the accuracy of any information provided by the Electricity Vendors; and (iv) any reporting by the Electricity Vendors, including the reporting to the Servicer of the total CEA Consumer Invoice Amounts invoiced by such Electricity Vendor to its Specified Consumers in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, the total Electricity Vendor CEA Collections received by such Electricity Vendor and the Issuer Share of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections received by such Electricity Vendor.

(d) The Servicer is under no responsibility or obligation to the Issuer with respect to whether the Clean Energy Adjustments funds remitted by the Servicer to Issuer during any or all periods is sufficient to satisfy the Issuer's obligations.

(e) The Servicer is under no obligation to initiate or prosecute any legal action relating to the collection of the Issuer Investment Interest.

3.8 Servicing and Maintenance Standards

(a) The Servicer shall discharge its duties, responsibilities and obligations hereunder with reasonable care and in material compliance the Requirements of Law, including the Act and the Regulations and shall follow standards, policies and procedures in performing its duties as Servicer hereunder that are customary for an electricity market operator and administrator that regularly performs settlement functions. In furtherance of the foregoing, the Servicer hereby agrees that it shall also have, and shall comply with reasonable care and in material compliance with applicable Requirement of Laws, including the Act and the Regulations, using the same degree of care and diligence that the Servicer exercises with respect to similar settlement activities on its own account.

(b) The Servicer may rely in good faith on the advice of counsel or on any document of any kind, prima facie properly executed and submitted by any Person, respecting any matters arising under this Agreement.

(c) Neither the Servicer nor any of the directors, officers, employees or agents of the Servicer shall be liable to the Issuer or any other Person for any action taken or for refraining from the taking of any action pursuant to this Agreement or for good faith errors in judgment.

3.9 Appointments

The Servicer may at any time appoint any Person to act as its agent to perform all or any portion of its obligations as Servicer hereunder; provided however, that the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied in connection therewith; and provided further that the Servicer shall remain obligated and be liable for the performance of its obligations under this Agreement without diminution of such obligation and liability by virtue of the appointment of such Person and to the same extent and under the same terms and conditions as if the Servicer alone were performing such obligations. The fees and expenses of any such Person shall be as agreed between the Servicer and such Person from time to time, and the Issuer shall not have any responsibility therefor or right or claim thereto. Any such appointment shall not constitute a resignation of the Servicer under Section 3.11.

3.10 Term

The Servicer's appointment as Servicer under this Agreement shall become effective as of the execution hereof and shall continue in full force and effect until the earlier of (a) the effective date of resignation of the Servicer in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, (b) termination of all of the rights and obligations of the Servicer under Article 7, and (c) the date on which all Issuer Funding Obligations have been paid in full and all CEA Consumer Invoice Amounts have been received or written off (in each case, a "Termination Event"). The appointment of the Servicer as servicer under this Agreement shall be terminated effective as of the date of the Termination Event.

3.11 Resignation of Servicer

The IESO shall not resign from the obligations and duties imposed on it as Servicer under this Agreement except upon a determination that the performance of its duties under this Agreement shall no longer be permissible under applicable Requirements of Law. Notice of any such determination permitting the resignation of the IESO as Servicer shall be communicated to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies at the earliest practicable time (and, if such communication is not in writing, shall be confirmed in writing at the earliest practicable time), and any such determination shall be evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel to such effect delivered to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies concurrently with or promptly after such notice. No such resignation shall become effective until a Successor Servicer that is a Permitted Successor has assumed the servicing obligations and duties hereunder of the Servicer in accordance with Section 7.2.

3.12 Mergers

Any Person (a) into which the Servicer may be merged, converted or amalgamated and that is a Permitted Successor, (b) that may result from any merger, conversion or amalgamation to which the Servicer shall be a party and that is a Permitted Successor, (c) that may succeed to the properties and assets of the Servicer substantially as a whole and that is a Permitted Successor, or (d) that otherwise is a Permitted Successor, which Person in any of the foregoing cases executes an agreement of assumption to perform all of the obligations of the Servicer hereunder, shall be the successor to the Servicer under this Agreement without further act on the part of any of the parties to this Agreement; provided, however, that (i) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no representation or warranty made pursuant to Section 4.1 shall have been breached and no Servicer Default and no event that, after notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a Servicer Default shall have occurred and be continuing, (ii) the Servicer shall have delivered to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel from external counsel stating that such consolidation, conversion, merger or succession and such agreement of assumption complies with this Section 3.12 and that all conditions precedent, if any, provided for in this Agreement relating to such transaction have been complied with, and (iii) the Servicer shall have given to the Issuer prior written notice of such transaction. When any Person that is a Permitted Successor acquires the properties and assets of the Servicer substantially as a whole or otherwise becomes the successor, by merger, conversion, consolidation, sale, transfer, lease or otherwise, to all or substantially all the assets of the Servicer in accordance with the terms of this Section 3.12, then, upon satisfaction of all of the other conditions of this Section 3.12, the preceding Servicer shall automatically and without further notice be released from all of its obligations hereunder (except for responsibilities for its actions prior to such release).

3.13 The IESO Not to Resign as Servicer

Subject to the provisions of Section 3.12, the IESO shall not resign from the obligations and duties imposed on it as Servicer under this Agreement except upon a determination that the performance of its duties under this Agreement shall no longer be permissible under applicable Requirements of Law. Notice of any such determination permitting the resignation of the IESO as Servicer shall be communicated to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency at the earliest practicable time (and, if such communication is not in writing, shall be confirmed in writing at the earliest practicable time), and any such determination shall be evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel to such effect delivered to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency concurrently with or promptly after such notice. No such resignation shall become effective until a Successor Servicer that is a Permitted Successor has assumed the servicing obligations and duties hereunder of the Servicer in accordance with Section 7.2.

3.14 IESO Regulatory Obligation to Pay Carrying Costs

(a) During the period beginning on December 1, 2017 and ending on July 31, 2021, the IESO shall, as required under the Regulations, pay and remit to the Issuer any amounts charged to the IESO by the Issuer in respect of Carrying Costs during the period beginning on June 1, 2017 and ending on July 31, 2021.

(b) On or before the 4th Business Day of each calendar month, the Issuer shall prepare and deliver to the IESO a written statement substantially in the form of Exhibit C (a "Monthly Carrying Costs Statement") setting out the amount of Carrying Costs in respect of the preceding calendar month ("Monthly Carrying Costs").

(c) On or before the 8th Business Day following receipt by the IESO of the Monthly Carrying Costs Statement, the IESO shall, as required under the Regulations, deliver or cause to be delivered to the Issuer, by wire transfer or electronic funds transfer in immediately available funds, an amount in Canadian dollars equal to the Monthly Carrying Costs set forth in the applicable Monthly Carrying Costs Statement.

3.15 IESO Security for CEA Remittances

If required by the Issuer, the IESO shall provide to the Issuer, on or prior to the first day of the first Billing Period when amounts are invoiced to Specified Consumers in respect of Clean Energy Adjustments, a letter of credit in an amount equal to $■, or such other form of security as may be acceptable to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, as security for any failure of Electricity Vendors, following [July 31, 2021], to remit the Electricity Vendor CEA Collections.

ARTICLE 4
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF THE IESO

4.1 Representations and Warranties

Subject to Section 4.3, the IESO makes the following representations and warranties as of the date hereof and as of each applicable Closing Date, and the IESO acknowledges that the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee will rely thereon in paying the Purchase Price related to Transfers of Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset, and the Issuer has relied thereon in entering into this Agreement relating to the servicing of the corresponding Investment Interests.

(a) Organization and Good Standing. The IESO is a statutory corporation amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, with requisite corporate power and authority to own its properties, to conduct its business as such properties are currently owned and such business is presently conducted by it.

(b) Due Qualification. The IESO has obtained all necessary licences and approvals, in all jurisdictions in which the ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business (including acting as Servicer under this Agreement) shall require such licences or approvals, except where the failure to so qualify or obtain such licences and approvals would not be reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the IESO's business, operations, assets, revenues or properties, the Regulatory Asset or the servicing of related Investment Interests.

(c) Power and Authority. The IESO has the requisite corporate power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to carry out its terms. The IESO has full corporate power and authority to hold the Regulatory Asset and to Transfer Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer and the IESO has duly authorized such Transfer to the Issuer by all necessary corporate action. The execution, delivery and performance of all obligations under this Agreement have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the IESO under all applicable laws.

(d) Binding Obligation. This Agreement constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the IESO, enforceable against the IESO in accordance with its terms, subject to bankruptcy, receivership, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other laws affecting creditors' rights generally from time to time in effect and to general principles of equity (including concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing).

(e) No Violation. The consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms hereof by the IESO do not conflict with, result in any breach of any of the terms and provisions of, or constitute (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) a default under, the IESO's by-laws, or any indenture, or other material agreement or instrument to which the IESO is a party or by which it is bound, result in the creation or imposition of any Lien upon any of the IESO's properties pursuant to the terms of any such indenture, agreement or other instrument or violate any existing law or any order, rule or regulation applicable to the IESO issued by any Governmental Authority having jurisdiction over the IESO or its properties.

(f) No Proceedings. To the IESO's knowledge, there are no Proceedings pending or threatened against the IESO or its properties: (a) asserting the invalidity of this Agreement or the Act, (b) seeking to prevent the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Act, or (c) seeking a determination or ruling that could reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the performance by the IESO of its obligations under, or the validity or enforceability of, this Agreement or the Act.

(g) Approvals. No approvals, authorizations, consents, orders or other actions or filings with any Governmental Authority are required for the IESO to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement except those which have previously been obtained or made.

(h) Information. At the date hereof and as of each applicable Closing Date, except in respect of information provided by a third party, all written information, as amended or supplemented from time to time, provided by the Transferor to the Issuer with respect to the Regulatory Asset is true and correct in all material respects and does not omit any material facts.

(i) The Transfer. After the completion of the Transfer on the applicable Closing Date, the IESO will have no right, title or interest in the Investment Interest related to the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Assets as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice and the related Investment Interest shall not form part of the estate of the IESO in the event of an Insolvency Event in respect of the IESO.

(j) No Transfer. Except for Permitted Transfers, the IESO has not sold, transferred, assigned or otherwise conveyed any interest in the Regulatory Asset to any Person.

(k) Liens. IESO has not pledged or otherwise granted a Lien to any Person in the Regulatory Asset and to the IESO's knowledge (after due inquiry), there is no registered financing statement listing the IESO as debtor covering or extending to the Regulatory Asset.

(l) Tax Liens. The IESO (i) is not aware, after due inquiry, of any judgment or tax lien filing against the IESO, and (ii) is not a non-resident of Canada for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada).

(m) Solvency. On the date hereof and after giving effect to each Transfer, the IESO:

(i) reasonably believes that it will be able to pay its debts as they come due; and

(ii) is able to pay its debts as they mature and does not intend to incur, or believes that it will not incur, indebtedness that it will not be able to repay at its maturity.

(n) No Court Order. There is no order by any court that seeks to enjoin the performance of any obligations of the IESO under the Act or this Agreement.

4.2 Survival

The representations and warranties set forth in Section 4.1 shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement, each Transfer of an Investment Interest to the Issuer and the pledge thereof to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to the Indenture and may not be waived by any party hereto except pursuant to a written agreement executed in accordance with Section 8.1 and as to which the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied.

4.3 Limitations on Representations and Warranties

Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the IESO makes no representation or warranty with respect to the collectability of the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA Receipts or that the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA Receipts be sufficient to satisfy the Issuer's Funding Obligations.

ARTICLE 5
COVENANTS OF THE IESO

5.1 Existence

So long as any Issuer Funding Obligations are outstanding, the IESO (a) will keep in full force and effect its existence and remain validly existing under the laws of the Province of Ontario, and (b) will obtain and preserve its qualifications to do business in each jurisdiction in which such qualification is or will be necessary to protect the validity and enforceability of this Agreement and each other instrument or agreement to which the IESO is a party necessary for the proper administration of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

5.2 No Transfer or Liens

Except for Transfers under this Agreement to the Issuer or Permitted Transfers, the IESO will not Transfer the Regulatory Asset or any portion thereof to any person. The IESO will not grant, create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Lien on the Regulatory Asset or any portion thereof. The IESO will not at any time assert any Lien against or with respect to the Issuer Investment Interest, and will defend the right, title and interest of the Issuer and of the Indenture Trustee, on behalf of the Specified Creditors, in, to and under the Issuer Investment Interest against all claims of third parties claiming through or under the Transferor.

5.3 Notice of Liens

The IESO shall notify the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee promptly after becoming aware of any Lien on any portion of the Regulatory Asset.

5.4 Compliance with Law

The IESO will comply with all Requirements of Law applicable to, and binding upon, the IESO or relating to the Regulatory Asset, the Investment Asset or Investment Interests, except to the extent that failure to so comply would not materially adversely affect the Issuer's or the Indenture Trustee's interests in the Issuer Investment Interest, the value of the Issuer Investment Interest, the timing or amount of Clean Energy Adjustments payable by Specified Consumers or the IESO's performance of its obligations under this Agreement; provided, however, that the foregoing is not intended to, and shall not, impose any liability on the IESO for non-compliance with any Requirement of Law that the IESO is contesting in good faith in accordance with its customary standards and procedures.

5.5 Covenants Related to the Investment Interest

(a) So long as any Issuer Funding Obligations are outstanding, the IESO shall treat the Issuer Investment Interest as the Issuer's property for all purposes.

(b) Except for passive investments held for employee benefit purposes, the IESO shall not at any time become a holder of Issuer Funding Obligations.

(c) The IESO shall disclose the effects of all transactions between the IESO and the Issuer in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (for government entities).

(d) (i) In all Proceedings relating directly or indirectly to the Issuer Investment Interest, the IESO shall affirmatively certify and confirm that it has Transferred all of its rights and interests in and to the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset giving rise to the Issuer Investment Interest, (ii) the IESO shall not make any statement or reference in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest that is inconsistent with the ownership interest of the Issuer, and (iii) the IESO shall not take any action in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest except solely in its capacity as the Servicer thereof pursuant to this Agreement.

5.6 Non-petition Covenants

Notwithstanding any prior termination of this Agreement or the Indenture, the IESO shall not, prior to the date that is one year plus one day after termination of the Indenture and the payment in full of all Issuer Funding Obligations and any other amounts owed under the Indenture, petition or otherwise invoke the process of any Governmental Authority for the purpose of commencing or sustaining a Proceeding against the Issuer under any Canadian bankruptcy, insolvency or similar law, appointing a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, custodian, sequestrator or other similar official or any substantial part of the property of the Issuer.

5.7 Disclosure

The IESO shall provide such non-confidential information regarding IESO, the Regulatory Asset and the services provided by the Servicer hereunder (collectively, the "IESO Disclosure") as may be reasonably requested by the Issuer for inclusion in any offering document of the Issuer from time to time, including but not limited to offering memoranda, prospectuses, registration statements and continuous disclosure documents and represents that, except in respect information provided by a third party, all such information is, as at the respective dates of delivery to the Issuer, true and correct in all material respects, contains no misrepresentation and constitutes full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the IESO Disclosure.

5.8 Further Assurances

Upon the request of the Issuer, the IESO shall execute and deliver such further instruments and do such further acts as may reasonably be necessary to carry out the provisions and purposes of this Agreement.

5.9 Access to Certain Records and Information Regarding Investment Interest

The IESO shall provide to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee access to all records relating to the IESO Deferral, the Fair Hydro Variance Account, the IESO Segregated Account and Servicer CEA Receipts, as is reasonably required for the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee to confirm compliance by the IESO with its obligations under this Agreement. Access shall be afforded without charge, but only upon reasonable request and during normal business hours at the offices of the IESO. Nothing in this Section 5.9 shall affect the obligation of the IESO to comply with any Requirement of Law prohibiting disclosure of information, and the failure of the IESO to provide access to such information as a result of such obligation shall not constitute a breach of this Section 5.9.

5.10 Maintenance of Operations

Subject to Section 3.12, the IESO agrees to continue, unless prevented by circumstances beyond its control, to operate as the electricity system operator in the Province of Ontario so long as it is acting as the Servicer under this Agreement.

ARTICLE 6
IESO INDEMNITIES

6.1 Liability of the IESO; Indemnities

(a) The IESO shall indemnify the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee (for itself and for the benefit of the Specified Creditors), the Manager and each of their respective trustees, officers, directors, employees and agents (each, an "Indemnified Party"), for, and defend and hold harmless each such Person from and against, any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, payments and claims, and reasonable costs or expenses, of any kind whatsoever (collectively, "Indemnified Losses") imposed on, incurred by or asserted against any such Person as a result of (i) the failure of the IESO to perform its covenants and other obligations under this Agreement, any Co-Owner Agreement and any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party; and (ii) the IESO's breach of any of its representations or warranties under this Agreement, any Co-Owner Agreement and any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party; and, except to the extent of Indemnified Losses resulting from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Person seeking indemnification hereunder; provided that, in each case, the IESO shall not be required to indemnify an Indemnified Party for any amount paid or payable by such Indemnified Party in the settlement of any Proceeding or investigation without the written consent of the IESO, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Promptly after receipt by an Indemnified Party of notice of the commencement of any Proceeding or investigation, such Indemnified Party shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the IESO under this Section 6.1(a), notify the IESO in writing of the commencement thereof. Failure by an Indemnified Party to so notify the IESO shall relieve the IESO from the obligation to indemnify and hold harmless such Indemnified Party under this Section 6.1(a) only to the extent that the IESO suffers actual prejudice as a result of such failure. With respect to any Proceeding or investigation brought by a third party for which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a), the IESO shall be entitled to conduct and control, at its expense and with counsel of its choosing that is reasonably satisfactory to such Indemnified Party, the defence of any such Proceeding or investigation (in which case the IESO shall not thereafter be responsible for the fees and expenses of any separate counsel retained by the Indemnified Party except as set forth below); provided, that the Indemnified Party shall have the right to participate in such Proceeding or investigation through counsel chosen by it and at its own expense. Notwithstanding the IESO's election to assume the defence of any Proceeding or investigation, the Indemnified Party shall have the right to employ separate counsel, and the IESO shall bear the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of such separate counsel, if (i) the defendants in any such action include both the Indemnified Party and the IESO and the Indemnified Party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defences available to it that are different from or additional to those available to the IESO, (ii) the IESO shall not have employed counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party to represent the Indemnified Party within a reasonable time after notice of the institution of such action, (iii) the IESO authorizes the Indemnified Party to employ separate counsel at the expense of the IESO, or (iv) in the case of the Indenture Trustee, such action exposes the Indenture Trustee to a material risk of criminal liability or forfeiture or a Servicer Default has occurred and is continuing. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the IESO shall not be obligated to pay for the fees, costs and expenses of more than one separate counsel for the Indemnified Parties other than one local counsel, if appropriate. The IESO will not, without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Party, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to any pending or threatened claim or Proceeding in respect of which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a) (whether or not the Indemnified Party is an actual or potential party to such claim or action) unless such settlement, compromise or consent includes an unconditional release of the Indemnified Party from all liability arising out of such claim or Proceeding.

(b) For purposes of Section 6.1(a), in the event of the termination of the rights and obligations of the IESO (or any successor thereto pursuant to Section 3.12) as Servicer pursuant to Section 7.1, or a resignation by such Servicer pursuant to Section 3.11 of this Agreement, the IESO shall be deemed to be the Servicer pending appointment of a Successor Servicer pursuant to Section 7.2.

(c) Indemnification under Section 6.1(a) shall include reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses of investigation and litigation (including reasonable legal fees and expenses), except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement.

(d) Indemnification under this Section 6.1 shall survive any repeal of, modification of, or supplement to, or judicial invalidation of, the Act and shall survive the resignation or removal of the Indenture Trustee or the termination of this Agreement and will rank pari passu with other general, unsecured obligations of the IESO.

(e) The IESO shall not be required to indemnify any party under this Section 6.1 for any losses resulting from changes in law after the date hereof, whether such changes in law are effected by means of any legislative enactment or any final and non-appealable judicial decision.

(f) Except to the extent expressly provided in this Agreement (including the payment of the Purchase Price), the IESO hereby releases and discharges the Issuer and each of its trustees, officers, directors and agents (collectively, the "Released Parties"), from any and all actions, claims and demands whatsoever, whenever arising, which the IESO, in its capacity as Servicer or otherwise, shall or may have against any such Person relating to the Investment Interest or the IESO's activities with respect thereto, other than any actions, claims and demands arising out of the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of the Released Parties.

ARTICLE 7
SERVICER DEFAULT

7.1 Servicer Default

If any one or more of the following events (each, a "Servicer Default") shall occur and be continuing:

(a) any failure by the Servicer to remit to the Collection Account any required remittance that shall continue unremedied for a period of [two/three] [NTD: Rating Agencies will expect 2-3 days] Business Days after written notice of such failure is received by the Servicer from the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee or after discovery of such failure by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(b) any failure on the part of the Servicer or, so long as the Servicer is the IESO, any failure on the part of the IESO, as the case may be, duly to observe or to perform in any respect any covenants or agreements of the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, set forth in this Agreement (other than as provided in Section 7.1(a)) or any other Program Agreement to which it is a party, which failure shall (i) materially and adversely affect the rights of the Specified Creditors and (ii) continue unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (A) written notice of such failure, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been given to the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, by the Issuer or to the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, by the Indenture Trustee or (B) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(c) any representation or warranty made by the Servicer in this Agreement, any other Program Agreement or in any Monthly Report, shall prove to have been incorrect when made, which has a material adverse effect on the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or any other Specified Creditor and which remains unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (i) written notice thereof, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been delivered to the Servicer (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) by the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee or (ii) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(d) an Insolvency Event occurs with respect to the Servicer or the IESO; or

(e) any additional "Servicer Default" as specified in any Co-Owner Agreement occurs;

then, and in each and every case, the Indenture Trustee shall, upon the instruction of the Specified Creditors as provided for under the Trust Indenture, subject to the terms of any Co-Owner Agreement, by notice then given in writing to the Servicer (and to the Indenture Trustee if given by the Specified Creditors) (a "Termination Notice"), terminate all the rights and obligations (other than the obligations set forth in Section 6.1 and the obligation under Section 7.2 to continue performing its functions as Servicer until a Successor Servicer is appointed) of the Servicer under this Agreement and under the Co-Owner Agreement. In addition, upon a Servicer Default described in Section 7.1(a), the Specified Creditors and the Indenture Trustee (or any of their representatives) shall be entitled to apply to a court of appropriate jurisdiction for an order for sequestration and payment of revenues arising with respect to the Issuer. On or after the receipt by the Servicer of a Termination Notice, all authority and power of the Servicer under this Agreement, whether with respect to the Investment Interest, the Clean Energy Adjustments or otherwise, shall, without further action, pass to and be vested in such Successor Servicer as may be appointed under Section 7.2; and, without limitation, the Indenture Trustee is hereby authorized and empowered to execute and deliver, on behalf of the predecessor Servicer, as attorney-in-fact or otherwise, any and all documents and other instruments, and to do or accomplish all other acts or things necessary or appropriate to effect the purposes of such Termination Notice, whether to complete the transfer of all documents and records related to the Regulatory Asset, the Fair Hydro Variance Account and related documents or records, or otherwise (the "Records"). The predecessor Servicer shall cooperate with the Successor Servicer, the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee in effecting the termination of the responsibilities and rights of the predecessor Servicer under this Agreement, including the transfer to the Successor Servicer for administration by it of all Records and all cash amounts that shall at the time be held by the predecessor Servicer for remittance, or shall thereafter be received by it with respect to the Investment Interest or the Clean Energy Adjustment. As soon as practicable after receipt by the Servicer of such Termination Notice, the Servicer shall deliver the Records to the Successor Servicer. If a Successor Servicer has been appointed as a result of a Servicer Default, all reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred in connection with transferring the Records to the Successor Servicer and amending this Agreement and any Co-Owner Agreement to reflect such succession as Servicer pursuant to this Section 7.1 shall be paid by the predecessor Servicer upon presentation of reasonable documentation of such costs and expenses. Termination of the IESO as Servicer shall not terminate the IESO's rights or obligations under this Agreement (except rights thereunder deriving from its rights as the Servicer hereunder).

7.2 Appointment of Successor Servicer

(a) Upon the Servicer's receipt of a Termination Notice pursuant to Section 7.1 or the Servicer's resignation or removal in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the predecessor Servicer shall continue to perform its functions as Servicer under this Agreement, until a Successor Servicer shall have assumed in writing the obligations of the Servicer hereunder as described below. In the event of the Servicer's removal or resignation hereunder, the Indenture Trustee may, and at the written direction and with the consent of the Specified Creditors as provided for under the Trust Indenture shall, but subject to the provisions of the applicable Co-Owner Agreement, appoint a Successor Servicer with the Issuer's prior written consent thereto (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), and the Successor Servicer shall accept its appointment by a written assumption in form reasonably acceptable to the Issuer. If, within 30 days after the delivery of the Termination Notice, a Successor Servicer shall not have been appointed, the Indenture Trustee may, at the direction of Specified Creditors as provided for under the Trust Indenture, petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a Successor Servicer under this Agreement. A Person shall qualify as a Successor Servicer only if (i) such Person is permitted under the Act to perform the duties of the Servicer, (ii) the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied with respect to such appointment, (iii) such Person enters into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer having substantially the same provisions as this Agreement and (iv) such Person agrees to perform the obligations of the Servicer under any Co-Owner Agreement. In no event shall the Indenture Trustee be liable for its appointment of a Successor Servicer. The Indenture Trustee's expenses incurred under this Section 7.2(a) shall be at the sole expense of the Issuer and payable from the Collection Account as provided in [Section 8.02] of the Indenture.

(b) Upon appointment, the Successor Servicer shall be the successor in all respects to the predecessor Servicer and shall be subject to all the responsibilities, duties and liabilities arising thereafter placed on the predecessor Servicer and shall be entitled to all the rights granted to the predecessor Servicer by the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

7.3 Waiver of Past Defaults

The Indenture Trustee, with the written consent of Specified Creditors as provided for under the Trust Indenture, may waive in writing any default by the Servicer in the performance of its obligations hereunder and its consequences, except a default in making any required deposits to the Collection Account in accordance with this Agreement. Upon any such waiver of a past default, such default shall cease to exist, and any Servicer Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been remedied for every purpose of this Agreement. No such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereto.

7.4 Notice of Servicer Default

The Servicer shall deliver to the Issuer, the Manager, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies promptly after having obtained knowledge thereof, but in no event later than five Business Days thereafter, written notice of any event that, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a Servicer Default under Section 7.1.

7.5 Cooperation with Successor Servicer

The Servicer covenants and agrees with the Issuer that it will, on an ongoing basis, cooperate with the Successor Servicer and provide whatever information is, and take whatever actions are, reasonably necessary to assist the Successor Servicer in performing its obligations hereunder.

ARTICLE 8
MISCELLANEOUS

8.1 Amendment

This Agreement may be amended in writing by the IESO, the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee and with satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition. Promptly after the execution of any such amendment, the Issuer shall furnish copies of such amendment to each of the Rating Agencies.

8.2 Withholding Rights

The parties shall be entitled to deduct and withholding from amounts payable under this Agreement such amounts as each is required to deduct and withhold with respect to such payment under the Income Tax Act (Canada) or any provision of any applicable federal, provincial, territorial, state, local or foreign tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes as having been paid to the recipient of the payment in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made, provided that such withheld amounts are actually remitted in accordance with applicable law to the appropriate taxing authority.

8.3 No Partnership

Each party expressly disclaims any intention to create a partnership, and none of the Issuer, the IESO or the Indenture Trustee will be deemed to be carrying on business in partnership by reason of its execution and delivery of this Agreement or the exercise or performance by it of its respective rights and obligations hereunder.

8.4 Notices

Any notice, report or other communication given hereunder shall be in writing and shall be effective (a) upon receipt when sent through the mails, registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, with such receipt to be effective the date of delivery indicated on the return receipt, (b) upon receipt when sent by an overnight courier, (c) on the date personally delivered to an authorized officer of the party to which sent, or (d) on the date transmitted by electronic transmission with a confirmation of receipt in all cases, addressed as follows:

Each party hereto may, by notice given in accordance herewith to the other party or parties hereto, designate any further or different address to which subsequent notices, reports and other communications shall be sent. Any notice, report or communication required to be given by the IESO hereunder to a Rating Agency shall be given to the address provided by the Issuer from time to time.

8.5 Assignment

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, except as provided in the provisions of this Agreement concerning the resignation of the Servicer, this Agreement may not be assigned by the IESO.

8.6 Limitations on Rights of Third Parties

The provisions of this Agreement are solely for the benefit of the IESO, the Issuer and, to the extent provided herein or in the other Program Agreements, the Indenture Trustee (for its own benefit and for the benefit of the Specified Creditors) and the other Persons expressly referred to herein, and such Persons shall have the right to enforce the relevant provisions of this Agreement. Nothing in this Agreement, whether express or implied, shall be construed to give to any other Person any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim in the Issuer Investment Interest or under or in respect of this Agreement or any covenants, conditions or provisions contained herein.

8.7 Severability

Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remainder of such provision (if any) or the remaining provisions hereof (unless such construction shall be unreasonable), and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.

8.8 Separate Counterparts; Electronic Delivery

This Agreement may be executed by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument. Delivery of an executed signature page to this Agreement by a party by electronic transmission will be as effective as delivery of a manually executed copy of this Agreement by such party.

8.9 Governing Law

This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein, and each party to this Agreement attorns to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Ontario.

8.10 Grant of Security Interest to Indenture Trustee

The IESO hereby acknowledges and consents to the grant of a Lien by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the benefit of the Specified Creditors against all right, title and interest of the Issuer in, to and under this Agreement, the Investment Interest and the proceeds thereof and the assignment of any or all of the Issuer's rights hereunder to the Indenture Trustee for the benefit of the Specified Creditors.

8.11 Limitation of Liability of Indenture Trustee

It is expressly understood and agreed by the parties hereto that this Agreement is executed and delivered by the Indenture Trustee, not individually or personally but solely as Indenture Trustee on behalf of the Specified Creditors, in the exercise of the powers and authority conferred and vested in it. The Indenture Trustee in acting hereunder is entitled to all rights, benefits, protections, immunities and indemnities accorded to it under the Indenture.

8.12 Limitation of Liability of the Issuer Trustee

(a) It is expressly understood and agreed by the parties hereto that the Issuer Trustee is acting solely in its capacity as trustee of the Issuer, and not in any other capacity. The Issuer solely shall be responsible for the performance of the Issuer's obligations hereunder and the assets of the Issuer solely shall be subject to levy or execution in satisfaction of such obligations.

(b) The Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability whatsoever, in tort, in contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, to the Issuer's beneficiaries or to any other Person, for any action taken or permitted by the Issuer Trustee to be taken, or the Issuer Trustee's failure to compel in any way any former or acting Issuer Trustee to redress any breach of trust with respect to the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, provided that the foregoing limitation will not apply in respect of action or failure to act arising from or in connection with dishonesty, bad faith, willful misconduct, gross negligence or reckless disregard of a duty by the Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee, in doing anything or permitting anything to be done in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, is, and will be conclusively deemed to be, acting as trustee of the Issuer and not in any other capacity. Except as to the extent provided in this Section 8.12, the Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or for or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities and resort will be had solely to the Issuer's property for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the Issuer Trustee owned in its personal capacity will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Agreement.

(c) The holders of the units of the Issuer will not be subject to any liability whatsoever, in tort, in contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, to the Issuer's beneficiaries or to any other Person, for any action taken or permitted by it to be taken. The holders of the units of the Issuer will not be subject to any liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or for or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities and resort will be had solely to the Issuer's property for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the holders of the units of the Issuer owned in their personal capacity will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Agreement.

8.13 Waivers

Any term or provision of this Agreement may be waived, or the time for its performance may be extended, by the party or parties entitled to the benefit thereof; provided, however, that no such waiver delivered by the Issuer shall be effective unless the Indenture Trustee has given its prior written consent thereto. Any such waiver shall be validly and sufficiently authorized for the purposes of this Agreement if, as to any party, it is authorized in writing by an authorized representative of such party, with prompt written notice of any such waiver to be provided to the Rating Agencies. The failure of any party hereto to enforce at any time any provision of this Agreement shall not be construed to be a waiver of such provision, nor in any way to affect the validity of this Agreement or any part hereof or the right of any party thereafter to enforce each and every such provision. No waiver of any breach of this Agreement shall be held to constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach.

MASTER TRANSFER AND SERVICING AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of ■, 2017.

BETWEEN:

[FINANCING ENTITY], a trust formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario

(the "Issuer")

- and -

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR, a statutory corporation without share capital amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario

(the "Transferor" in its capacity as transferor, the "Servicer", in its capacity as servicer, and the "IESO" in its capacity as both Transferor and Servicer)

- ~~acknowledged~~ and ~~accepted by~~ -

[INDENTURE TRUSTEE], a trust company existing under the laws of Canada and duly authorized to carry on the business of a trust company in all of the provinces and territories of Canada, as indenture trustee

(the "Indenture Trustee")

WHEREAS the Government of Ontario has enacted the Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017 (the "Act") for the purpose of, among other things, ensuring that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits (each as defined in the Act) are fairly allocated among present and future Specified Consumers;

AND WHEREAS, under the Act, the IESO is required to establish and maintain the Fair Hydro Variance Account, and has the right under the Act and the Regulations to record certain amounts in the Fair Hydro Variance Account and recover the balance from time to time of the Fair Hydro Variance Account from Specified Consumers (such right, the "Regulatory Asset");

AND WHEREAS the IESO may from time to time, in accordance with the Act, Transfer a ~~specified portion~~Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer on a fully-serviced basis, and pursuant to Section 26(3) of the Act, such a Transfer ~~shall result~~results in (i) a reduction in the balance in the Fair Hydro Variance Account, (ii) the corresponding adjustment of the Regulatory Asset, and (iii) the acquisition by the Issuer of an Investment Interest corresponding to the ~~specified portion~~Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset;

AND WHEREAS the Issuer may finance the acquisition from the IESO, from time to time, of an Investment Interest through the incurrence of Funding Obligations under the Indenture;

AND WHEREAS the Issuer will grant a security interest over all of the Issuer Investment Interest to and in favour of the Indenture Trustee on behalf of all Specified Creditors;

AND WHEREAS in connection with its ownership of the Issuer Investment Interest and in order to collect the associated Clean Energy Adjustments in accordance with the Act, the Issuer desires to engage the Servicer to carry out the services described herein and the Servicer desires to be so engaged;

AND WHEREAS the Indenture Trustee has been appointed pursuant to the Indenture to act on behalf of all Specified Creditors (as defined in the Indenture) and wishes to acknowledge and accept the rights and obligations granted to it thereby, including, but not limited to, its rights set forth in this Agreement.

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the foregoing and the mutual covenants and agreements contained herein (the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged), the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE 2
TRANSFER OF SPECIFIED PORTIONS OF THE REGULATORY ASSET

2.1 Transfer Notices and Agreement to Transfer a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset

(a) The Transferor may, no more frequently than monthly and no later than the 8th Business Day of ~~each~~any calendar month, ~~provide~~offer to Transfer to the Issuer a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset by providing to the Issuer a Transfer Notice executed by the Transferor and setting out (i) the ~~specified~~

~~portion~~Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset that the Transferor ~~desires~~is offering to Transfer to the Issuer, (ii) the consideration to be paid to the Transferor by the Issuer for the Transfer (the "Purchase Price") which shall be equal to the amount of ~~the specified portion~~such Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset ~~that the Transferor proposes to Transfer to the Issuer~~, (iii) the Closing Date to effect such transfer which shall be no earlier than the ~~10~~[5th] Business Day ~~following~~after the delivery of the Transfer Notice and no later than the last Business Day of the calendar month in which the Transfer Notice was delivered, or such other ~~date~~Business Day as may be agreed ~~upon~~ by the Transferor and the Issuer, and (iv) such other information as required in the form of Transfer Notice attached as Exhibit A hereto.

~~(b)~~ ~~[The Issuer shall use commercially reasonable efforts to provide reasonable notice to the Transferor if the Issuer has reasonable cause to believe that it will not accept a Transfer Notice sent by the Transferor or that the conditions precedent in Sections 2.2(b)(i), (v), (vi), (vii), (viii) and (vii) will not be satisfied on the relevant Closing Date.][NTD: Subject to review by OPG.]~~

(b) ~~(c)~~ On or before the 2nd Business Day following receipt of a Transfer Notice, the Issuer shall have the right, but not the obligation, to accept the Transferor's offer to Transfer the ~~portion~~Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset subject to the Transfer Notice by executing and returning such Transfer Notice to the Transferor. Upon acceptance by the Issuer of the Transfer Notice, there shall be a binding agreement for IESO to Transfer the ~~specified portion~~Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset and for the Issuer to pay the Purchase Price, subject to satisfaction of all conditions precedent in Section 2.2.

~~(d) In consideration and as an inducement for the Issuer to acquire the Investment Interest at the Purchase Price, the Transferor shall, concurrently with each such Transfer and in accordance with Section 3.4, agree to pay to the Issuer all Monthly Funding Expenses that are incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer in connection with each applicable Transfer in respect of each calendar month in which there are no Clean Energy Adjustments billed to Specified Consumers.~~

(c) ~~(e)~~ Provided that all conditions precedent set out in Section 2.2 have been satisfied on or prior to the applicable Closing Date, on the applicable Closing Date, the Issuer shall deliver or cause to be delivered to the Transferor, by bank wire transfer or bank electronic funds transfer, in immediately available funds, an amount in Canadian dollars equal to the Purchase Price set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice. The Transferor agrees that receipt by the Transferor of the payment referred to in this Section 2.1(c) is receipt by the Transferor of a payment referred to in Section 26(3) of the Act.

(d) ~~(f) Upon receipt by the Transferor of the payment referred to in Section 2.1(e):~~ Upon receipt by the Transferor of the payment referred to in Section 2.1(c), the Transferor shall reduce the balance of the Fair Hydro Variance Account by an amount equal to the Purchase Price received and shall retain no further right, title or interest in the corresponding Issuer Investment Interest.

~~(i) the Transferor shall reduce the balance of the Fair Hydro Variance Account by an amount equal to the Purchase Price and, as a consequence, the Regulatory Asset shall be adjusted accordingly; and~~

~~(ii) the corresponding Investment Interest shall immediately vest in the Issuer, free and clear of any adverse claim, and in accordance with section 27(1) of the Act, shall constitute a valid and enforceable absolute assignment, conveyance and sale of the corresponding Investment Interest to the Issuer.~~

~~(g) Any Transfer of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset by the Transferor pursuant to this Agreement shall constitute a valid and enforceable absolute assignment, conveyance and sale of the corresponding Investment Interest to the Issuer, shall be treated as a true sale and not as a pledge of or secured transaction relating to the Transferor's right, title, and interest in, to, and under the specified portion of the Regulatory Asset. After giving effect to a Transfer contemplated hereby, the Transferor shall have no right, title or interest in, to or under the corresponding Investment Interest because (i) it has Transferred all of its right, title and interest in and to the corresponding specified portion of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer, (ii) as provided in the Act, all right, title and interest to the corresponding Investment Interest shall be vested in the Issuer, (iii) as provided in the Act, such Transfer is perfected, vested, valid and binding as against the Transferor and all other Persons who may have claims of any kind against the Transferor, regardless of whether the Persons who have claims have received notice of the Transfer, and (iv) the property rights and interests acquired by the Issuer shall be free and clear of any Liens arising through the IESO.~~

(e) The parties intend that this Agreement, together with each Transfer Notice accepted by the Issuer, constitute an agreement, for purposes of Section 27(2) of the Act for the Transferor to dispose, upon receipt by the Transferor of the payment referred to in Section 2.1(d), of a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset and to assign, convey or sell a corresponding Investment Interest to the Issuer.

2.2 Conditions Precedent to each Transfer of a Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset

(a) The obligation of the Issuer to pay the Purchase Price related to the initial Transfer of a ~~specified portion~~Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset shall be subject to the satisfaction by the Transferor, or waiver by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, of the following ~~condition~~conditions:

(i) the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee shall have received from the Transferor the following documents, in form and substance satisfactory to each of the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee:

(A) a certificate of an officer of the IESO, dated the initial Closing Date certifying (1) that attached thereto is a true and complete copy of the by-laws of the IESO, each as in effect on the date of such certificate, (2) that attached thereto is a true and complete copy of a resolution adopted by the IESO's board of directors authorizing the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the ~~Program Agreements to which~~performance by the IESO ~~is party~~of its obligations hereunder, and that such resolution has not been modified, rescinded or amended and is in full force and effect, and (3) as to the incumbency and true specimen signature of each of the IESO officers or delegates executing this Agreement ~~or any of the Program Agreements to which the IESO is party~~and authorized to give notices and instructions hereunder (which can be changed by notice hereunder); and

(B) ~~reports showing the results of searches conducted against the IESO under applicable personal property security registers in the Province of Ontario together with executed copies of all discharges or releases of prior security interests relating to the Regulatory Asset subject to the Transfer; provided that the IESO may establish that any particular registration does not affect the Regulatory Asset by delivering a letter or acknowledgment signed by the applicable secured party.~~the Transferor shall have delivered to the Indenture Trustee, the Rating Agencies and the Issuer any Opinions of Counsel reasonably required by them. [NTD: Scope of opinions required to be confirmed by the Dealers and their counsel]

(b) The obligation of the Issuer to pay the Purchase Price related to each Transfer of a ~~specified portion~~Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset (including the initial Transfer) shall be subject to the satisfaction or waiver by the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee of each of the following conditions:

(i) as of the applicable Closing Date, all Program Agreements shall have been entered into on terms and conditions satisfactory to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee and shall be in full force and effect as of such Closing Date;

(ii) as of the applicable Closing Date, no Insolvency Event in respect of the Transferor shall have occurred and the Transferor ~~is not insolvent and will not have been made insolvent by such Transfer and the Transferor~~ is not aware of any pending ~~insolvency~~Insolvency Event with respect to itself;

(iii) as of the applicable Closing Date, (A) the representations and warranties of the IESO in this Agreement must be true and correct with the same force and effect as if made on that date (except to the extent they relate to an earlier date), (B) no breach of any covenant or agreement of the IESO contained in this Agreement shall have occurred ~~and not been waived~~be continuing, and (C) no Servicer Default shall have occurred and ~~not been waived~~be continuing;

(iv) on or prior to the applicable Closing Date, the Transferor shall have taken all action required to provide for the Transfer, upon payment of the Purchase Price, of the ~~specified portion~~Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice on the Closing Date, free and clear of all Liens other than Liens created by the Issuer pursuant to the Program Agreements;

(v) the Transferor shall have delivered to the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer an Officer's Certificate confirming the satisfaction of each condition precedent specified in Sections 2.2(b)(i), (ii), (iii) and (iv);

~~(vi) the Transferor shall have delivered to the Indenture Trustee, the Rating Agencies and the Issuer any Opinions of Counsel reasonably required by them [NTD: Scope of opinions required to be confirmed by the Dealers and their counsel];~~

(vi) ~~(vii)~~ as of the applicable Closing Date, (A) the Issuer shall have sufficient funds available to pay the Purchase Price as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice, (B) all conditions to any incurrence of Funding Obligations intended to provide such funds set forth in the Indenture (and any applicable Supplemental Indenture) or other instrument shall have been satisfied or waived, (C) the Rating Agency Condition in respect of the issuance of the Funding Obligations funding the payment of the Purchase Price shall have been satisfied, and (D) the Funding Obligation required to fund the payment of the Purchase Price shall have been issued at the same time as, or prior to, the Transfer; and

(vii) ~~(viii)~~ after giving effect to the Transfer, each of the Fair Hydro Variance Account and the Regulatory Asset will have a balance or amount, as applicable, equal to or greater than zero.

ARTICLE 3
ROLE OF THE SERVICER

3.1 Designation of Servicer

Each Transfer of a specified portion of the Regulatory Asset shall be made on the basis that the related Issuer Investment Interest shall be ~~fully~~ serviced by the Servicer in accordance with this Article 3, and the IESO or any Permitted Successor of the IESO that is the Servicer shall not be entitled to receive any further compensation from the Issuer ~~or the Indenture Trustee~~ for its services in connection therewith. The Servicer ~~acknowledges the responsibility of the Servicer for servicing the related Issuer Investment Interest corresponding to the specified portion of the Regulatory Asset Transferred by the Transferor under this Agreement and hereby~~ agrees to perform the duties and obligations of the Servicer pursuant to the terms hereof at no additional cost to the Issuer.

3.2 ~~Duties of Servicer Generally~~Forecast of Electricity Consumption

~~(a)~~ ~~The Servicer shall:~~

~~(i)~~ ~~issue settlement statements to Electricity Vendors that include amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment as prescribed by the Act and the Regulations;~~

~~(ii)~~ ~~receive from Electricity Vendors amounts in respect of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections including payments made directly to the IESO as an Electricity Vendor (such amounts received being "Servicer CEA Collections");~~

~~(iii)~~ ~~hold and remit Servicer CEA Collections in accordance with Section 3.3;~~

~~(iv)~~ ~~receive information from Electricity Vendors in respect of CEA Consumer Invoice Amounts and Electricity Vendor CEA Collections and such other information as the IESO may reasonably request for the purposes of determining the IESO Deferral or such further information as may be required;~~

~~(v)~~ ~~determine and record the IESO Deferral for each month and make any necessary corrections thereto in accordance with the Act and the Regulations;~~

~~(vi)~~ ~~forecast electricity demand by Specified Consumers for Reference Periods;~~

The IESO shall:

(a) ~~(vii)~~ provide ~~information~~ to the Board ~~in respect of forecast electricity demand or any other information the Board may require from the Servicer to facilitate the Board's determination of the rates at which~~and the Financial Services Manager the forecasts of electricity consumption by Specified Consumers ~~are to be invoiced so as to enable full recovery of the Clean Energy Adjustment in respect of any Reference Period;~~ as contemplated by Section 8(3) of the Regulations; and

~~(viii)~~ ~~respond to inquiries by Electricity Vendors, the Board or any other Governmental Authority with respect to the Clean Energy Adjustment;~~

~~(ix) investigate and handle delinquencies by Electricity Vendors regarding Servicer CEA Collections (and furnish reports with respect to such delinquencies to the Issuer);~~

~~(x) process and deposit Servicer CEA Collections and make periodic remittances to the Issuer in accordance with Section 3.3;~~

~~(xi) furnish periodic and current reports to the Issuer, the Board, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies, as may reasonably be required by the Issuer;~~

~~(xii) take all necessary action in connection with Funding Rebates as set forth herein and in the Regulations; and~~

~~(xiii) perform such other duties as may be reasonably required from time to time to be performed by it.~~

(b) ~~Without limiting the generality of Section 3.2(a), in furtherance of the foregoing, the Servicer hereby agrees that it shall also have, and shall comply with, the duties and responsibilities relating to data acquisition, consumption and settlement statement calculation, settlement, collections, posting, payment processing and remittance with reasonable care and in material compliance with each applicable Requirement of Law, including the Act and the Regulations, using the same degree of care and diligence that the Servicer exercises with respect to similar assets for its own account and, if applicable, for others.~~provide to the Board and the Financial Services Manager such other information and reports as the Board or the Financial Services Manager may reasonably request in connection with the calculation of the Clean Energy Adjustments and which is reasonably available to the Transferor without incurring material incremental expense.

~~(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, the duties of the Servicer set forth in this Agreement shall be qualified and limited in their entirety by the Act, the Regulations, all applicable laws and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder as in effect at the time such duties are to be performed.~~

3.3 ~~Remittances~~ISO Deferral

~~(a)~~ The IESO shall:

(a) determine the IESO Deferral as required by Section 23 of the Act and the Regulations; and

(b) maintain the Fair Hydro Variance Account as required by Section 24 of the Act and the Regulations.

3.4 Clean Energy Adjustments and Electricity Vendors

The Servicer shall:

(a) prior to receiving Servicer ~~shall~~CEA Receipts, establish an Eligible Deposit Account (the "IESO Segregated Account") bearing a designation ~~clearly~~ indicating that the funds deposited therein are held in trust for the benefit of the Issuer and, after the Co-Owner Implementation Date, for the benefit of any other owner or owners of an Investment ~~Interests~~Interest. If at any time the IESO Segregated Account ceases to be an Eligible Deposit Account, the Servicer shall within 30 days establish a new IESO Segregated Account as an Eligible Deposit Account and shall transfer any cash and/or any investments held in the former account to such new account and make all future deposits to such new account~~.~~;

(b) prior to the first Billing Period when amounts are invoiced to Specified Consumers in respect of Clean Energy Adjustments, make reasonable efforts to work with each Electricity Vendor to:

(i) establish a segregated account into which Electricity Vendor CEA Collections are to be deposited as required by Section 10(2) of the Regulations;

(ii) settle a form of Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report to be used by such Electricity Vendor; and

(iii) establish procedures for the invoicing by such Electricity Vendor of amounts in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, the identification, deposit and segregation of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections, the remittance of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections to the Servicer and reporting to the Servicer; [NTD: Generally, someone will need to take responsibility for educating the Electricity Vendors and we believe the IESO is best positioned to take on this role given its existing relationships and opportunities to interact with the EVs.]

(c) request certification from each Electricity Vendor that the segregated account required by Section 10(2) of the Regulations has been established by that Electricity Vendor;

(d) as agent of the Issuer and, after the Co-Owner Implementation Date, as agent of any other owner or owners of an Investment Interest, receive Electricity Vendor CEA Collections from Electricity Vendors;

(e) as agent of the Issuer and, after the Co-Owner Implementation Date, as agent of any other owner or owners of an Investment Interest, receive any amounts in respect of Clean Energy Adjustments payable directly by Specified Consumers to the Servicer (such amounts, together with the amounts referred to in Section 3.4(d), the "Servicer CEA Receipts");

(f) ~~(b) The Servicer shall~~ deposit ~~all~~the Servicer CEA ~~Collections~~Receipts into the IESO Segregated Account promptly following receipt by the Servicer and, in any event, within [two ~~Servicer~~ Business Days] of receipt by the Servicer and the Issuer Share of such Servicer CEA ~~Collections~~Receipts shall remain in the IESO Segregated Account until remitted in accordance with Section ~~3.3(d)~~ 3.6;

(g) respond to inquiries by Electricity Vendors with respect to the Clean Energy Adjustment and amounts payable in respect thereof;

(h) request from each Electricity Vendor an Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report in respect of each Billing Period during which Clean Energy Adjustments are billed to Specified Consumers; such report to be requested to be delivered within ■ Business Days of the end of each Billing Period;

(i) review each Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report received by the Servicer for material manifest discrepancies including any discrepancy between the Electricity Vendor CEA Collections reported in respect of the Billing Period and the amount remitted pursuant to Section 3.4(d);

(j) make reasonable efforts to contact each Electricity Vendor that:

(i) does not deliver an Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report in respect of a Billing Period where Clean Energy Adjustments were payable by Specified Consumers;

(ii) does not remit any Electricity Vendor CEA Collections in accordance with Section 3.4(d) or remits Electricity Vendor CEA Collections that do not match the amount thereof reported in its Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report,

(iii) delivers an Electricity Vendor Billing Period Report that has any other material manifest discrepancy detected by the Servicer, or

(iv) does not certify that it has established the segregated account required by Section 10(2) of the Regulations,

and attempt to resolve the applicable issue;

(k) on a periodic basis as requested by the Issuer, review, pursuant to its rights under Section 10(4) of the Regulations, the records maintained by each Electricity Vendor with respect to Clean Energy Adjustments; provided that in the absence of evidence of material non-compliance by an Electricity Vendor with its duties and obligations in respect of Clean Energy Adjustments, the Servicer shall not be required to review the records of a Electricity Vendor more often than ■.

(l) ~~(c) The IESO agrees and acknowledges that it holds all~~hold the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA ~~Collections~~Receipts and the Issuer Share of any other proceeds in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment received by it in trust for the benefit of the Issuer, any other owner of Investment Interests, the Indenture Trustee and the Specified Creditors and that all such amounts will be remitted by the Servicer and remit such amounts in accordance with this Section 3.3 3.6 without any surcharge, fee, offset, charge or other deduction.

3.5 Reporting

The IESO further agrees not to make any claim to reduce its obligation to remit all Servicer CEA Collections received by it in accordance with this Agreement. Servicer shall:

(d) Absent the occurrence of a Daily Remittance Event, the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA Collections received by the Servicer during a Billing Period and any interest earned thereon shall be remitted by the Servicer to the Collection Account no later than the Remittance Date immediately following such Billing Period. Following the occurrence of a Daily Remittance Event, the Issuer Share of all Servicer CEA Collections on deposit in the IESO Segregated Account and any interest earned thereon shall be remitted by the Servicer to the Collection Account on each Servicer Business Day.

(a) (e) On on or before the [2nd] Servicer 8th Business Day] following the end of each Billing Period, the Servicer shall prepare and deliver to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies a written report substantially in the form of Exhibit B (a "Monthly Report"). ;

3.4 [Funding Rebates]

(b) report to the Issuer any delinquencies by Electricity Vendors in respect of the CEA amounts collected and the remittance of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections;

(c) (a) On or before the [4th] Servicer Business Day following the end of each calendar month in which no Clean Energy Adjustment is billed to Specified Consumers, the Issuer shall prepare and deliver to the IESO a written statement substantially in the form of Exhibit C (a "Monthly Funding Rebate Statement") setting out the aggregate amount of all (i) Funding Costs, (ii) Finance Reserve Deposits, (iii) Financing Entity Expenses, and (iv) Tax Liabilities (net of Tax Refunds), that were incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer during the previous calendar month ("Monthly Funding Expenses"). report to the Issuer any unresolved matters referred to in Section 3.4(j);

(b) On or before the [10th] Servicer Business Day following receipt by the IESO of the Monthly Funding Rebate Statement, the IESO shall, as required by the Regulations, deliver or cause to be delivered to the Issuer, by wire transfer in ~~immediately available funds, an amount in Canadian dollars equal to the Monthly Funding Expenses set forth in the applicable Monthly Funding Rebate Statement (the "Funding Rebate").~~

~~3.5 Reporting Functions~~

(d) ~~(a) Notification of Laws and Regulations. The Servicer shall~~ promptly notify the Issuer in writing of any Requirement of Law hereafter adopted or announced or the occurrence of any other event or circumstance of which it becomes aware that has a material adverse effect on the Servicer's ability to perform its duties and obligations under this Agreement~~.~~; and

(e) ~~(b) Other Information. Upon~~upon the reasonable request of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or any Rating Agency, ~~the Servicer shall~~ provide to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or such Rating Agency, as the case may be, any public financial information in respect of the Servicer, or any material information regarding the Issuer Investment Interest or the Regulatory Asset, to the extent it is reasonably available to the Servicer~~,~~ and as may be reasonably necessary and permitted by law, to enable the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or the Rating Agencies to monitor the performance by the Servicer of its duties and obligations hereunder. ~~In addition, the Servicer shall provide the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, within a reasonable time after written request therefor, any information available to the Servicer or reasonably obtainable by it that is necessary to calculate the Clean Energy Adjustment.~~

3.6 Remittances

(a) Absent the occurrence of a Daily Remittance Event, the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA Receipts received by the Servicer during a Billing Period and any interest earned thereon shall be remitted by the Servicer to the Collection Account no later than the Remittance Date immediately following such Billing Period.

(b) Following the occurrence of a Daily Remittance Event, the Issuer Share of all Servicer CEA Receipts on deposit in the IESO Segregated Account and any interest earned thereon shall be remitted by the Servicer to the Collection Account on each Business Day.

3.7 Limits to Obligations

Without in any way limiting the duties and obligations of the Servicer arising under the Act or the Regulations, the parties hereto agree the duties and obligations of the Servicer under this Agreement are limited as provided in this Section 3.7.

(a) The Servicer is not responsible for, or in respect of, any amounts not collected by Electricity Vendors from their customers or not remitted by Electricity Vendors to the Servicer.

(b) The Servicer is not responsible for enforcing the obligations of Specified Consumers or Electricity Vendors to invoice, collect or remit Clean Energy Adjustments or any other amounts.

(c) The Servicer shall not be responsible or liable for the performance by Electricity Vendors of their duties and responsibilities under the Act or the Regulations including (i) the invoicing of Specified Consumers in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment and ancillary matters related thereto; (ii) the collection from Specified Consumers of amounts due in respect of such invoices and the remittance of such payments to the Servicer; (iii) the accuracy of any information provided by the Electricity Vendors; and (iv) any reporting by the Electricity Vendors, including the reporting to the Servicer of the total CEA Consumer Invoice Amounts invoiced by such Electricity Vendor to its Specified Consumers in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, the total Electricity Vendor CEA Collections received by such Electricity Vendor and the Issuer Share of Electricity Vendor CEA Collections received by such Electricity Vendor.

(d) The Servicer is under no responsibility or obligation to the Issuer with respect to whether the Clean Energy Adjustments funds remitted by the Servicer to Issuer during any or all periods is sufficient to satisfy the Issuer's obligations.

(e) The Servicer is under no obligation to initiate or prosecute any legal action relating to the collection of the Issuer Investment Interest.

3.8 ~~3.6~~ Servicing and Maintenance Standards

(a) The Servicer shall ~~monitor payments and impose collection policies on Electricity Vendors with respect to Electricity Vendor CEA Collections. On behalf of the Issuer, the Servicer shall: (a) manage, service, administer, collect and receive Servicer CEA Collections with reasonable care and in material compliance with each applicable Requirement of Law, including the Act and the Regulations, using the same degree of care and diligence that the Servicer exercises with respect to the collection of other amounts from Electricity Vendors for its own account and, if applicable, for others; (b) follow standards, policies and procedures in performing its duties as Servicer that are customary for an electricity market operator and administrator that regularly performs settlement functions; (c) use all reasonable efforts, consistent with its customary servicing procedures, to receive and hold Servicer CEA Collections in trust for the benefit of the Issuer; (d) comply with each Requirement of Law, including all regulations and guidelines, applicable to and binding on it relating to its duties hereunder; and (e) provide all information to the Board as required by the Act and the Regulations. The Servicer shall follow such customary and usual practices and procedures as it shall deem necessary or advisable in its servicing of all or any portion of the Investment Asset and the Issuer Investment Interest, which may include, at the direction of the Issuer, the taking of legal action, at the Issuer's expense but subject to the priority~~

~~of payments set forth in [Section 8.02(e)] of the Indenture. In no event shall the Issuer Investment Interest be set off at any time by the IESO or any Permitted Successor thereof in connection with any default by such Person or otherwise.~~discharge its duties, responsibilities and obligations hereunder with reasonable care and in material compliance the Requirements of Law, including the Act and the Regulations and shall follow standards, policies and procedures in performing its duties as Servicer hereunder that are customary for an electricity market operator and administrator that regularly performs settlement functions. In furtherance of the foregoing, the Servicer hereby agrees that it shall also have, and shall comply with reasonable care and in material compliance with applicable Requirement of Laws, including the Act and the Regulations, using the same degree of care and diligence that the Servicer exercises with respect to similar settlement activities on its own account.

~~3.7 Binding Effect of Servicing Obligations~~

(b) The Servicer may rely in good faith on the advice of counsel or on any document of any kind, prima facie properly executed and submitted by any Person, respecting any matters arising under this Agreement.

(c) Neither the Servicer nor any of the directors, officers, employees or agents of the Servicer shall be liable to the Issuer or any other Person for any action taken or for refraining from the taking of any action pursuant to this Agreement or for good faith errors in judgment.

3.9 Appointments

The Servicer may at any time appoint any Person to act as its agent to perform all or any portion of its obligations as Servicer hereunder; provided however, that the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied in connection therewith; and provided further that the Servicer shall remain obligated and be liable for the performance of its obligations under this Agreement without diminution of such obligation and liability by virtue of the appointment of such Person and to the same extent and under the same terms and conditions as if the Servicer alone were performing such obligations. The fees and expenses of any such Person shall be as agreed between the Servicer and such Person from time to time, and the Issuer shall not have any responsibility therefor or right or claim thereto. Any such appointment shall not constitute a resignation of the Servicer under Section 3.11.

3.10 Term

The Servicer's appointment as Servicer under this Agreement shall become effective as of the execution hereof and shall continue in full force and effect until the earlier of (a) the effective date of resignation of the Servicer in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, (b) termination of all of the rights and obligations of the Servicer under Article 7, and (c) the date on which all Issuer Funding Obligations have been paid in full and all CEA Consumer Invoice Amounts have been received or written off (in each case, a "Termination Event"). The appointment of the Servicer as servicer under this Agreement shall be terminated effective as of the date of the Termination Event.

3.11 Resignation of Servicer

The IESO shall not resign from the obligations and duties imposed on it as Servicer under this Agreement except upon a determination that the performance of its duties under this Agreement shall no longer be permissible under applicable Requirements of Law. Notice of any such determination permitting the resignation of the IESO as Servicer shall be communicated to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies at the earliest practicable time (and, if such communication is not in writing, shall be confirmed in writing at the earliest practicable time), and any such determination shall be evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel to such effect delivered to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies concurrently with or promptly after such notice. No such resignation shall become effective until a Successor Servicer that is a Permitted Successor has assumed the servicing obligations and duties hereunder of the Servicer in accordance with Section 7.2.

3.12 Mergers

~~The obligations to continue to provide services and to receive and account for Servicer CEA Collections and related amounts will be binding upon the Servicer and any Permitted Successor so long as the Servicer CEA Collections have not been fully received and posted.~~ Any Person (a) into which the Servicer may be merged, converted or amalgamated and that is a Permitted Successor, (b) that may result from any merger, conversion or amalgamation to which the Servicer shall be a party and that is a Permitted Successor, (c) that may succeed to the properties and assets of the Servicer substantially as a whole and that is a Permitted Successor, or (d) that otherwise is a Permitted Successor, which Person in any of the foregoing cases executes an agreement of assumption to perform all of the obligations of the Servicer hereunder, shall be the successor to the Servicer under this Agreement without further act on the part of any of the parties to this Agreement; provided, however, that (i) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no representation or warranty made pursuant to Section 4.1 shall have been breached and no Servicer Default and no event that, after notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a Servicer Default shall have occurred and be continuing, (ii) the Servicer shall have delivered to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel from external counsel stating that such consolidation, conversion, merger or succession and such agreement of assumption complies with this Section ~~3.7~~3.12 and that all conditions precedent, if any, provided for in this Agreement relating to such transaction have been complied with, and (iii) the Servicer shall have given to the Issuer prior written notice of such transaction. When any Person that is a Permitted Successor acquires the properties and assets of the Servicer substantially as a whole or otherwise becomes the successor, by merger, conversion, consolidation, sale, transfer, lease or otherwise, to all or substantially all the assets of the Servicer in accordance with the terms of this Section ~~3.7~~3.12, then, upon satisfaction of all of the other conditions of this Section ~~3.7~~3.12, the preceding Servicer shall automatically and without further notice be released from all of its obligations hereunder (except for responsibilities for its actions prior to such release).

~~25847049.5~~[illegible]

~~3.8 Limitation on Liability of Servicer and Others~~

~~(a) Except as otherwise provided under this Agreement, including Section 6.1, neither the Servicer nor any of the directors, officers, employees or agents of the Servicer shall be liable to the Issuer or any other Person for any action taken or for refraining from the taking of any action pursuant to this Agreement or for good faith errors in judgment; provided, however, that this provision shall not protect the Servicer or any such Person against any liability that would otherwise be imposed by reason of negligence, recklessness or willful misconduct in the performance of duties or by reason of reckless disregard of obligations and duties under this Agreement. The Servicer and any director, officer, employee or agent of the Servicer may rely in good faith on the advice of counsel or on any document of any kind, prima facie properly executed and submitted by any Person, respecting any matters arising under this Agreement.~~

~~(b) Except as provided in this Agreement, the Servicer shall not be under any obligation to appear in, prosecute or defend any legal action relating to the Issuer Investment Interest that is not directly related to one of the Servicer's enumerated duties in this Agreement or related to its obligation to pay indemnification, and that in its reasonable opinion may cause it to incur any expense or liability; provided, however, that the Servicer will, at the direction of the Issuer, in respect of any Proceeding, undertake any action that is not specifically identified in this Agreement as a duty of the Servicer but that the Issuer reasonably determines is necessary or desirable in order to protect the rights and duties of the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee under this Agreement and the interests of Specified Creditors under the Indenture.~~

3.13 ~~3.9~~ The IESO Not to Resign as Servicer

Subject to the provisions of Section ~~3.7~~3.12, the IESO shall not resign from the obligations and duties imposed on it as Servicer under this Agreement except upon a determination that the performance of its duties under this Agreement shall no longer be permissible under applicable Requirements of Law. Notice of any such determination permitting the resignation of the IESO as Servicer shall be communicated to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency at the earliest practicable time (and, if such communication is not in writing, shall be confirmed in writing at the earliest practicable time), and any such determination shall be evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel to such effect delivered to the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee and each Rating Agency concurrently with or promptly after such notice. No such resignation shall become effective until a Successor Servicer that is a Permitted Successor has assumed the servicing obligations and duties hereunder of the Servicer in accordance with Section 7.2.

~~3.10 Appointments~~

3.14 IESO Regulatory Obligation to Pay Carrying Costs

(a) ~~Subject to Section 3.10(b), the~~ Servicer ~~may at any time appoint any Person to perform all or any portion of its obligations as Servicer hereunder; provided, however, that the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied in connection therewith; and provided, further, that the Servicer shall remain obligated and be liable under this Agreement for the servicing and administering of the Issuer Investment Interest in accordance with the provisions hereof without diminution of such obligation and liability by virtue of the appointment of such Person and to the same extent and under the same terms and conditions as if the Servicer alone were servicing and administering the Investment Interest. The fees and expenses of any such Person shall be as agreed between the Servicer and such Person from time to time, and none of the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee, Specified Creditors or any other Person shall have any responsibility therefor or right or claim thereto. Any such appointment shall not constitute a resignation of the Servicer under Section 3.9.~~ During the period beginning on December 1, 2017 and ending on July 31, 2021, the IESO shall, as required under the Regulations, pay and remit to the Issuer any amounts charged to the IESO by the Issuer in respect of Carrying Costs during the period beginning on June 1, 2017 and ending on July 31, 2021.

(b) ~~The following matters shall be performed by the Electricity Vendors in accordance with the Act and shall not be considered an "appointment" for purposes of Section 3.10(a): (i) invoicing~~ Specified Consumers ~~in respect of the~~ Clean Energy Adjustment and ancillary matters related thereto; ~~(ii) collection from Specified Consumers of payments in respect of such invoices and remittance of such payments to the Servicer; and (iii) reporting to the Servicer the total CEA Consumer Invoice Amounts invoiced by such Electricity Vendor to its Specified Consumers in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment, the total Electricity Vendor CEA Collections received by such Electricity Vendor and such other information the IESO may reasonably request for the purposes of determining the IESO Deferral or such further information as may be required. The Servicer shall not be responsible or liable for the performance by Electricity Vendors of their duties and responsibilities under the Act or the Regulations or in respect of the matters set out in this Section 3.10(b).~~ On or before the 4th Business Day of each calendar month, the Issuer shall prepare and deliver to the IESO a written statement substantially in the form of Exhibit C (a "Monthly Carrying Costs Statement") setting out the amount of Carrying Costs in respect of the preceding calendar month ("Monthly Carrying Costs").

~~3.11 Effective Period and Termination~~

(c) On or before the 8th Business Day following receipt by the IESO of the Monthly Carrying Costs Statement, the IESO shall, as required under the Regulations, deliver or cause to be delivered to the Issuer, by wire transfer or electronic funds transfer in immediately available funds, an amount in Canadian dollars equal to the Monthly Carrying Costs set forth in the applicable Monthly Carrying Costs Statement.

3.15 IESO Security for CEA Remittances

~~The Servicer's appointment as Servicer under this Agreement shall become effective as of the execution hereof and shall continue in full force and effect until the earlier of (a) the effective date of resignation of the Servicer in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, (b) termination of all of the rights and obligations of the Servicer under Article 7, and (c) the date on which all Issuer Funding Obligations have been paid in full and all CEA Consumer Invoice Amounts have been received or written off (in each case, a "Termination Event"). The appointment of the Servicer as servicer under this Agreement shall be terminated effective as of the date of the Termination Event.~~If required by the Issuer, the IESO shall provide to the Issuer, on or prior to the first day of the first Billing Period when amounts are invoiced to Specified Consumers in respect of Clean Energy Adjustments, a letter of credit in an amount equal to $■, or such other form of security as may be acceptable to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, as security for any failure of Electricity Vendors, following [July 31, 2021], to remit the Electricity Vendor CEA Collections.

ARTICLE 4
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF THE IESO

4.1 Representations and Warranties

Subject to Section 4.3, the IESO makes the following representations and warranties as of the date hereof and as of each applicable Closing Date, and the IESO acknowledges that the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee will rely thereon in paying the Purchase Price related to Transfers of ~~specified portions~~Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset, and the Issuer has relied thereon in entering into this Agreement relating to the servicing of the corresponding Investment Interests.

(a) Organization and Good Standing. The IESO is a statutory corporation amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, with requisite corporate power and authority to own its properties, to conduct its business as such properties are currently owned and such business is presently conducted by it~~, and to execute, deliver and carry out the terms of this Agreement, including, for greater certainty, acting as Servicer in accordance with this Agreement~~.

(b) Due Qualification. The IESO has obtained all necessary licences and approvals, in all jurisdictions in which the ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business (including acting as Servicer under this Agreement) shall require such licences or approvals, except where the failure to so qualify or obtain such licences and approvals would not be reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the IESO's business, operations, assets, revenues or properties, the Regulatory Asset~~,~~ or the servicing of related Investment Interests~~, the Issuer or the repayment when due of the Funding Obligations~~.

(c) Power and Authority. The IESO has the requisite corporate power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to carry out its terms. The IESO has full corporate power and authority to hold the Regulatory Asset and to Transfer ~~specified portions~~Specified Portions of the Regulatory Asset to the Issuer and the IESO has duly authorized such Transfer to the Issuer by all necessary corporate action. The execution, delivery and performance of all obligations under this Agreement have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the IESO under all applicable laws.

(d) Binding Obligation. This Agreement constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the IESO, enforceable against the IESO in accordance with its terms, subject to bankruptcy, receivership, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other laws affecting creditors' rights generally from time to time in effect and to general principles of equity (including concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing).

(e) No Violation. The consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms hereof by the IESO do not conflict with, result in any breach of any of the terms and provisions of, or constitute (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) a default under, the IESO's by-laws, or any indenture, or other material agreement or instrument to which the IESO is a party or by which it is bound, result in the creation or imposition of any Lien upon any of the IESO's properties pursuant to the terms of any such indenture, agreement or other instrument or violate any existing law or any order, rule or regulation applicable to the IESO issued by any Governmental Authority having jurisdiction over the IESO or its properties.

(f) No Proceedings. ~~There are no Proceedings or, to~~To the IESO's knowledge, ~~investigations~~there are no Proceedings pending or ~~Proceedings~~ threatened~~, before any Governmental Authority having jurisdiction over~~ against the IESO or its properties: (a) asserting the invalidity of this Agreement or the Act, (b) seeking to prevent the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Act, or (c) seeking a determination or ruling that could reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the performance by the IESO of its obligations under, or the validity or enforceability of, this Agreement or the Act.

(g) Approvals. No approvals, authorizations, consents, orders or other actions or filings with any Governmental Authority are required for the IESO to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement except those which have previously been obtained or made.

(h) Information.~~(i)~~ At the date hereof and as of each applicable Closing Date, except in respect of information provided by a third party, all written information, as amended or supplemented from time to time, provided by the Transferor to the Issuer with respect to the Regulatory Asset is true and correct in all material respects and does not omit any material facts.

~~(ii) Each report and certificate delivered in connection with any filing made or information provided to the Board by the IESO in connection with the Act, including on behalf of the Issuer with respect to Clean Energy Adjustments, will constitute a representation and warranty by the IESO that each such report or certificate, as the case may be, is true and correct in all material respects; provided, however, that, to the extent any such report or certificate is based in part upon or contains assumptions, forecasts or other predictions of future events, the representation and warranty of the IESO with respect thereto will be limited to the representation and warranty that such assumptions, forecasts or other predictions of future events are reasonable based upon historical performance (and facts known to the IESO on the date such report or certificate is delivered).~~

(i) The Transfer. ~~On~~After the completion of the Transfer on the applicable Closing Date, the ~~specified portion of the Regulatory Asset as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice shall be validly Transferred to the Issuer and the~~ IESO will have no right, title or interest in the ~~related~~ Investment Interest related to the Specified Portion of the Regulatory Assets as set forth in the applicable Transfer Notice and the related Investment Interest shall not form part of the estate of the IESO in the event of an Insolvency Event in respect of the IESO.

(j) No Transfer. Except ~~pursuant to any Co-Owner Agreement, no portion of~~for Permitted Transfers, the ~~Regulatory Asset~~IESO has ~~been~~not sold, transferred, assigned~~,~~ or otherwise conveyed any interest in the Regulatory Asset to any Person.

(k) Liens. IESO has not pledged or otherwise ~~conveyed by the IESO~~granted a Lien to any Person ~~other than the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee, and,~~in the Regulatory Asset and to the IESO's knowledge (after due inquiry), ~~no security agreement,~~there is no registered financing statement ~~or equivalent security or lien instrument~~ listing the IESO as debtor covering ~~all or a portion of the Regulatory Asset (or the corresponding Investment Interest upon the Transfer thereof) is on file or of record in any jurisdiction, except such as may have been filed or recorded in favour of the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee in connection with the Program Agreements.~~(k) ~~Title. The IESO is the sole owner of the specified portion of the Regulatory Asset that is to be Transferred to the Issuer on~~

~~the applicable Closing Date, free and clear of all Liens~~or extending to the Regulatory Asset.

(l) Tax Liens. ~~After due inquiry, the~~The IESO (i) is not aware, after due inquiry, of any judgment or tax lien filing against the IESO, and (ii) is not a non-resident of Canada for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada).

(m) Solvency. On the date hereof and after giving effect to each Transfer, the IESO:

~~(i) is solvent and expects to remain solvent;~~

(i) ~~(ii)~~ reasonably believes that it will be able to pay its debts as they come due; and

(ii) ~~(iii)~~ is able to pay its debts as they mature and does not intend to incur, or believes that it will not incur, indebtedness that it will not be able to repay at its maturity.

(n) No Court Order. There is no order by any court that seeks to enjoin the performance of any obligations of the IESO under the Act or this Agreement.

4.2 Survival

The representations and warranties set forth in Section 4.1 shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement, each Transfer of an Investment Interest to the Issuer and the pledge thereof to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to the Indenture and may not be waived by any party hereto except pursuant to a written agreement executed in accordance with Section 8.1 and as to which the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied.

4.3 Limitations on Representations and Warranties

Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the IESO makes no representation or warranty with respect to the collectability of the Issuer Share of Servicer CEA Receipts or that the Issuer~~'s~~ Share of Servicer CEA ~~Collections will~~Receipts be sufficient to satisfy ~~in full~~ the Issuer's Funding Obligations.

ARTICLE 5
COVENANTS OF THE IESO

5.1 Existence

~~Subject to Section 3.9, so~~So long as any Issuer Funding Obligations are outstanding, the IESO (a) will keep in full force and effect its existence and remain validly existing under the laws of the Province of Ontario, and (b) will obtain and preserve its qualifications to do business in each jurisdiction in which such qualification is or will be necessary to protect the validity and enforceability of this Agreement and each other instrument or agreement to which the IESO is a party necessary for the proper administration of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

5.2 No Transfer or Liens

Except for ~~(a) the~~ Transfers under this Agreement to the Issuer or ~~any Lien for the benefit of the Specified Creditors or the Indenture Trustee, and (b) following the Co-Owner Implementation Date, Transfers to other Financing Entities who enter into a Co-Owner Agreement with the Issuer and Liens granted in connection therewith to Persons advancing Funding Obligations to such other Financing Entities, the IESO will not sell, pledge, assign or transfer to any other Person, or~~ Permitted Transfers, the IESO will not Transfer the Regulatory Asset or any portion thereof to any person. The IESO will not grant, create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Lien on~~, any portion of~~ the Regulatory Asset~~, whether existing as of the applicable Closing Date or thereafter created, or any interest therein~~ or any portion thereof. The IESO will not at any time assert any Lien against or with respect to the Issuer Investment Interest, and will defend the right, title and interest of the Issuer and of the Indenture Trustee, on behalf of the Specified Creditors, in, to and under the Issuer Investment Interest against all claims of third parties claiming through or under the Transferor.

5.3 Notice of Liens

The IESO shall notify the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee promptly after becoming aware of any Lien on any portion of the Regulatory Asset~~, other than the Transfers hereunder and any Lien pursuant to the Program Agreements~~.

5.4 Compliance with Law

The IESO will comply with all Requirements of Law applicable to, and binding upon, the IESO or relating to the Regulatory Asset~~,~~ the Investment Asset or Investment Interests, except to the extent that failure to so comply would not materially adversely affect the Issuer's~~,~~ or the Indenture Trustee's ~~or the Specified Creditors'~~ interests in the Issuer Investment Interest~~ under any of the Program Agreements~~, the value of the Issuer Investment Interest, the timing or amount of Clean Energy Adjustments payable by Specified Consumers or the IESO's performance of its obligations under this Agreement; provided, however, that the foregoing is not intended to, and shall not, impose any liability on the IESO for non-compliance with any Requirement of Law that the IESO is contesting in good faith in accordance with its customary standards and procedures.

5.5 Covenants Related to the Investment Interest

(a) So long as any Issuer Funding Obligations are outstanding, the IESO shall treat the Issuer Investment Interest as the Issuer's property for all purposes.

(b) Except for passive investments held for employee benefit purposes, the IESO shall not at any time become a holder of Issuer Funding Obligations ~~other than Funding Rebates~~.

(c) The IESO shall disclose the effects of all transactions between the IESO and the Issuer in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (for government entities).

~~(d) The IESO agrees that upon completion of a Transfer, the IESO shall reduce the balance in the Fair Hydro Variance Account by the Purchase Price and will adjust the Regulatory Asset accordingly.~~

(d) ~~(e)~~ (i) ~~in~~In all Proceedings relating directly or indirectly to the Issuer Investment Interest, the IESO shall affirmatively certify and confirm that it has Transferred all of its rights and interests in and to the ~~specified portion~~Specified Portion of the Regulatory Asset giving rise to the Issuer Investment Interest, (ii) the IESO shall not make any statement or reference in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest that is inconsistent with the ownership interest of the Issuer, and (iii) the IESO shall not take any action in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest except solely in its capacity as the Servicer thereof pursuant to this Agreement~~, and (iv) the IESO shall not sell any portion of the Regulatory Asset pursuant to the Act to any other Person unless a Co-Owner Agreement has been entered into and the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied with respect thereto~~.

5.6 Non-petition Covenants

Notwithstanding any prior termination of this Agreement or the Indenture, the IESO shall not, prior to the date that is one year plus one day after termination of the Indenture and the payment in full of all Issuer Funding Obligations and any other amounts owed under the Indenture, petition or otherwise invoke the process of any Governmental Authority for the purpose of commencing or sustaining a Proceeding against the Issuer under any Canadian bankruptcy, insolvency or similar law, appointing a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, custodian, sequestrator or other similar official or any substantial part of the property of the Issuer.

5.7 Disclosure

The IESO shall provide ~~all~~such non-confidential information regarding ~~the~~ IESO, the ~~IESO Deferral, the~~ Regulatory Asset ~~or~~and the services provided by the Servicer hereunder (collectively, the "IESO Disclosure") as may be reasonably requested by the Issuer for inclusion in any offering document of the Issuer from time to time, including but not limited to offering memoranda, prospectuses, registration statements and continuous disclosure documents and represents that, except in respect information provided by a third party, all such information is, as at the respective dates of delivery to the Issuer, true and correct in all material respects, contains no misrepresentation and constitutes full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the IESO Disclosure.

5.8 Further Assurances

Upon the request of the Issuer, the IESO shall execute and deliver such further instruments and do such further acts as may reasonably be necessary to carry out the provisions and purposes of this Agreement.

~~5.9 Co-Owner Agreements~~

~~The IESO shall not continue as or become a party to any purchase and sale agreement or similar arrangement (other than this Agreement) under which it sells all or any portion of the Regulatory Asset unless (i) the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied, (ii) the Indenture Trustee, the Transferor and the other parties to such additional arrangement shall have entered into a Co-Owner Agreement in connection therewith, and (iii) the terms of the documentation evidencing such purchase and sale arrangement or similar arrangement shall expressly exclude the Issuer Investment Interest (including the Issuer Share of any Servicer CEA Collections) from any receivables, rights or other assets pledged or sold under such arrangement and unless the purchaser under such arrangement is a Financing Entity.~~

5.9 ~~5.10~~ Access to Certain Records and Information Regarding Investment Interest

The IESO shall provide to the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee access to all records relating to the IESO Deferral, the Fair Hydro Variance Account, the IESO Segregated Account and Servicer CEA ~~Collections~~Receipts, as is reasonably required for the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee to confirm compliance by the IESO with its obligations under this Agreement~~ and any other Program Agreements to which the IESO is a party~~. Access shall be afforded without charge, but only upon reasonable request and during normal business hours at the offices of the IESO. Nothing in this Section ~~5.10~~5.9 shall affect the obligation of the IESO to comply with any Requirement of Law prohibiting disclosure of information, and the failure of the IESO to provide access to such information as a result of such obligation shall not constitute a breach of this Section ~~5.10~~5.9.

5.10 ~~5.11~~ Maintenance of Operations

Subject to Section ~~3.7~~3.12, the IESO agrees to continue, unless prevented by circumstances beyond its control, to operate as the electricity system operator in the Province of Ontario ~~in order to provide service~~ so long as it is acting as the Servicer under this Agreement.

ARTICLE 6
IESO INDEMNITIES

6.1 Liability of the IESO; Indemnities

(a) The IESO shall indemnify the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee (for itself and for the benefit of the Specified Creditors), the Manager~~, the Administrative Agent~~ and each of their respective trustees, officers, directors, employees and agents (each, an "Indemnified Party"), for, and defend and hold harmless each such Person from and against, any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, payments and claims, and reasonable costs or expenses, of any kind whatsoever (collectively, "Indemnified Losses") imposed on, incurred by or asserted against any such Person as a result of (i) the failure of the IESO to perform its covenants and other obligations under this Agreement, any Co-Owner Agreement and any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party; and (ii) the IESO's breach of any of its representations or warranties under this Agreement, any Co-Owner Agreement and any other Program Agreement to which the IESO is a party; and ~~(iii) any litigation and related expenses relating to the IESO's status and obligations as Servicer (other than any Proceeding the IESO is required to institute under this Agreement)~~, except to the extent of Indemnified Losses resulting from the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Person seeking indemnification hereunder; provided that, in each case, the IESO shall not be required to indemnify an Indemnified Party for any amount paid or payable by such Indemnified Party in the settlement of any Proceeding or investigation without the written consent of the IESO, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Promptly after receipt by an Indemnified Party of notice ~~(or, in the case of the Indenture Trustee, receipt of notice by a Responsible Officer only)~~ of the commencement of any Proceeding or investigation, such Indemnified Party shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the IESO under this Section 6.1(a), notify the IESO in writing of the commencement thereof. Failure by an Indemnified Party to so notify the IESO shall relieve the IESO from the obligation to indemnify and hold harmless such Indemnified Party under this Section 6.1(a) only to the extent that the IESO suffers actual prejudice as a result of such failure. With respect to any Proceeding or investigation brought by a third party for which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a), the IESO shall be entitled to conduct and control, at its expense and with counsel of its choosing that is reasonably satisfactory to such Indemnified Party, the defence of any such Proceeding or investigation (in which case the IESO shall not thereafter be responsible for the fees and expenses of any separate counsel retained by the Indemnified Party except as set forth below); provided, that the Indemnified Party shall have the right to participate in such Proceeding or investigation through counsel chosen by it and at its own expense. Notwithstanding the IESO's election to assume the defence of any Proceeding or investigation, the Indemnified Party shall have the right to employ separate counsel, and the IESO shall bear the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of such separate counsel, if (i) the defendants in any such action include both the Indemnified Party and the IESO and the Indemnified Party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defences available to it that are different from or additional to those available to the IESO, (ii) the IESO shall not have employed counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party to represent the Indemnified Party within a reasonable time after notice of the institution of such action, (iii) the IESO ~~shall authorize~~authorizes the Indemnified Party to employ separate counsel at the expense of the IESO, or (iv) in the case of the Indenture Trustee, such action exposes the Indenture Trustee to a material risk of criminal liability or forfeiture or a Servicer Default has occurred and is continuing. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the IESO shall not be obligated to pay for the fees, costs and expenses of more than one separate counsel for the Indemnified Parties other than one local counsel, if appropriate. The IESO will not, without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Party, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to any pending or threatened claim or Proceeding in respect of which indemnification may be sought under this Section 6.1(a) (whether or not the Indemnified Party is an actual or potential party to such claim or action) unless such settlement, compromise or consent includes an unconditional release of the Indemnified Party from all liability arising out of such claim or Proceeding.

(b) For purposes of Section 6.1(a), in the event of the termination of the rights and obligations of the IESO (or any successor thereto pursuant to Section ~~3.7~~3.12) as Servicer pursuant to Section 7.1, or a resignation by such Servicer pursuant to Section 3.11 of this Agreement, the IESO shall be deemed to be the Servicer pending appointment of a Successor Servicer pursuant to Section 7.2.

(c) Indemnification under Section 6.1(a) shall include reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses of investigation and litigation (including reasonable legal fees and expenses), except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement.

(d) Indemnification under this Section 6.1 shall survive any repeal of, modification of, or supplement to, or judicial invalidation of, the Act and shall survive the resignation or removal of the Indenture Trustee or the termination of this Agreement and will rank pari passu with other general, unsecured obligations of the IESO. ~~Other than provided in the preceding sentence, the~~

(e) The IESO shall not be required to indemnify any party under this Section 6.1 for any losses resulting from changes in law after the date hereof, whether such changes in law are effected by means of any legislative enactment or any final and non-appealable judicial decision.

~~25847049.5~~

(f) ~~(e)~~ Except to the extent expressly provided in this Agreement (including the payment of the Purchase Price), the IESO hereby releases and discharges the Issuer ~~and the Indenture Trustee,~~ and each of ~~their respective~~its trustees, officers, directors and agents (collectively, the "Released Parties"), from any and all actions, claims and demands whatsoever, whenever arising, which the IESO, in its capacity as Servicer or otherwise, shall or may have against any such Person relating to the Investment Interest or the IESO's activities with respect thereto, other than any actions, claims and demands arising out of the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of the Released Parties.

ARTICLE 7
SERVICER DEFAULT

7.1 Servicer Default

If any one or more of the following events (each, a "Servicer Default") shall occur and be continuing:

(a) any failure by the Servicer to remit to the Collection Account ~~on behalf of the Issuer~~ any required remittance that shall continue unremedied for a period of [two/three] [NTD: Rating Agencies will expect 2-3 days] Business Days after written notice of such failure is received by the Servicer from the Issuer ~~(with a copy to the Indenture Trustee)~~ or the Indenture Trustee or after discovery of such failure by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(b) any failure on the part of the Servicer or, so long as the Servicer is the IESO, any failure on the part of the IESO, as the case may be, duly to observe or to perform in any respect any covenants or agreements of the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, set forth in this Agreement (other than as provided in Section 7.1(a)) or any other Program Agreement to which it is a party, which failure shall (i) materially and adversely affect the rights of the Specified Creditors and (ii) continue unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (A) written notice of such failure, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been given to the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, by the Issuer ~~(with a copy to the Indenture Trustee)~~ or to the Servicer or the IESO, as the case may be, by the Indenture Trustee or (B) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(c) any representation or warranty made by the Servicer in this Agreement, any other Program Agreement or in any Monthly Report, shall prove to have been incorrect when made, which has a material adverse effect on the Issuer, the Indenture Trustee or any other Specified Creditor and which remains unremedied for a period of 30 days after the date on which (i) written notice thereof, requiring the same to be remedied, shall have been delivered to the Servicer (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) by the Issuer or the Indenture Trustee or (ii) such failure is discovered by a Responsible Officer of the Servicer;

(d) an Insolvency Event occurs with respect to the Servicer or the IESO; or

(e) any additional "Servicer Default" as specified in any Co-Owner Agreement occurs; ~~or~~

~~(f) the termination or withdrawal of the "Servicing Guarantee" under the Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement. [NTD: Subject to finalization of the Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement.]~~

then, and in each and every case, the Indenture Trustee shall, upon the instruction of the Specified Creditors ~~evidencing a majority of the Outstanding Amount of the Issuer's Funding Obligations~~as provided for under the Trust Indenture, subject to the terms of any Co-Owner Agreement, by notice then given in writing to the Servicer (and to the Indenture Trustee if given by the Specified Creditors) (a "Termination Notice"), terminate all the rights and obligations (other than the obligations set forth in Section 6.1 and the obligation under Section 7.2 to continue performing its functions as Servicer until a Successor Servicer is appointed) of the Servicer under this Agreement and under the Co-Owner Agreement. In addition, upon a Servicer Default described in Section 7.1(a), the Specified Creditors and the Indenture Trustee (or any of their representatives) shall be entitled to apply to a court of appropriate jurisdiction for an order for sequestration and payment of revenues arising with respect to the ~~Investment Interest.~~Issuer. On or after the receipt by the Servicer of a Termination Notice, all authority and power of the Servicer under this Agreement, whether with respect to the Investment Interest, the Clean Energy Adjustments or otherwise, shall, without further action, pass to and be vested in such Successor Servicer as may be appointed under Section 7.2; and, without limitation, the Indenture Trustee is hereby authorized and empowered to execute and deliver, on behalf of the predecessor Servicer, as attorney-in-fact or otherwise, any and all documents and other instruments, and to do or accomplish all other acts or things necessary or appropriate to effect the purposes of such Termination Notice, whether to complete the transfer of all documents and records related to the Regulatory Asset, ~~the IESO Deferral,~~ the Fair Hydro Variance Account and related documents or records, or otherwise (the "Records"). The predecessor Servicer shall cooperate with the Successor Servicer, the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee in effecting the termination of the responsibilities and rights of the predecessor Servicer under this Agreement, including the transfer to the Successor Servicer for administration by it of all Records and all cash amounts that shall at the time be held by the predecessor Servicer for remittance, or shall thereafter be received by it with respect to the Investment Interest or the Clean Energy Adjustment. As soon as practicable after receipt by the Servicer of such Termination Notice, the Servicer shall deliver the Records to the Successor Servicer. If a Successor Servicer has been appointed as a result of a Servicer Default, all reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred in connection with transferring the Records to the Successor Servicer and amending this Agreement and any Co-Owner Agreement to reflect such succession as Servicer pursuant to this Section 7.1 shall be paid by the predecessor Servicer upon presentation of reasonable documentation of such costs and expenses. Termination of the IESO as Servicer shall not terminate the IESO's rights or obligations under this Agreement (except rights thereunder deriving from its rights as the Servicer hereunder).

7.2 Appointment of Successor Servicer

(a) Upon the Servicer's receipt of a Termination Notice pursuant to Section 7.1 or the Servicer's resignation or removal in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the predecessor Servicer shall continue to perform its functions as Servicer under this Agreement, until a Successor Servicer shall have assumed in writing the obligations of the Servicer hereunder as described below. In the event of the Servicer's removal or resignation hereunder, the Indenture Trustee may, and at the written direction and with the consent of the Specified Creditors ~~evidencing a majority of the Outstanding Amount of the Issuer's Funding Obligations~~as provided for under the Trust Indenture shall, but subject to the provisions of the applicable Co-Owner Agreement, appoint a Successor Servicer with the Issuer's prior written consent thereto (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), and the Successor Servicer shall accept its appointment by a written assumption in form reasonably acceptable to the Issuer. If, within 30 days after the delivery of the Termination Notice, a Successor Servicer shall not have been appointed, the Indenture Trustee may, at the direction of Specified Creditors ~~evidencing a majority of the Outstanding Amount of the Issuer's Funding Obligations~~as provided for under the Trust Indenture, petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a Successor Servicer under this Agreement. A Person shall qualify as a Successor Servicer only if (i) such Person is permitted under the Act to perform the duties of the Servicer, (ii) the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied with respect to such appointment, (iii) such Person enters into a master transfer and servicing agreement with the Issuer having substantially the same provisions as this Agreement and (iv) such Person agrees to perform the obligations of the Servicer under any Co-Owner Agreement. In no event shall the Indenture Trustee be liable for its appointment of a Successor Servicer. The Indenture Trustee's expenses incurred under this Section 7.2(a) shall be at the sole expense of the Issuer and payable from the Collection Account as provided in [Section 8.02] of the Indenture.

(b) Upon appointment, the Successor Servicer shall be the successor in all respects to the predecessor Servicer and shall be subject to all the responsibilities, duties and liabilities arising thereafter placed on the predecessor Servicer and shall be entitled to all the rights granted to the predecessor Servicer by the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

7.3 Waiver of Past Defaults

The Indenture Trustee, with the written consent of Specified Creditors ~~evidencing a majority of the Outstanding Amount of the Issuer's Funding Obligations~~as provided for under the Trust Indenture, may waive in writing any default by the Servicer in the performance of its obligations hereunder and its consequences, except a default in making any required deposits to the Collection Account in accordance with this Agreement. Upon any such waiver of a past default, such default shall cease to exist, and any Servicer Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been remedied for every purpose of this Agreement. No such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other default or impair any right consequent thereto.

7.4 Notice of Servicer Default

The Servicer shall deliver to the Issuer, the Manager, the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies promptly after having obtained knowledge thereof, but in no event later than five Business Days thereafter, written notice of any event that, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a Servicer Default under Section 7.1.

7.5 Cooperation with Successor Servicer

The Servicer covenants and agrees with the Issuer that it will, on an ongoing basis, cooperate with the Successor Servicer and provide whatever information is, and take whatever actions are, reasonably necessary to assist the Successor Servicer in performing its obligations hereunder.

ARTICLE 8
MISCELLANEOUS

8.1 Amendment

~~(a)~~ This Agreement may be amended in writing by the IESO ~~and~~, the Issuer ~~with (i) the prior written consent of~~ and the Indenture Trustee~~, and (ii) the~~ and with satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition. Promptly after the execution of any such amendment ~~or consent~~, the Issuer shall furnish copies of such amendment ~~or consent~~ to each of the Rating Agencies.

8.2 Withholding Rights

The parties shall be entitled to deduct and withholding from amounts payable under this Agreement such amounts as each is required to deduct and withhold with respect to such payment under the Income Tax Act (Canada) or any provision of any applicable federal, provincial, territorial, state, local or foreign tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes as having been paid to the recipient of the payment in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made, provided that such withheld amounts are actually remitted in accordance with applicable law to the appropriate taxing authority.

8.3 No Partnership

Each party expressly disclaims any intention to create a partnership, and none of the Issuer, the IESO or the Indenture Trustee will be deemed to be carrying on business in partnership by reason of its execution and delivery of this Agreement or the exercise or performance by it of its respective rights and obligations hereunder.

~~(b) Prior to the execution of any amendment to this Agreement, the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee shall be entitled to receive and rely upon an Opinion of Counsel, which counsel may be an employee of or counsel to the Issuer or the IESO and which shall be reasonably satisfactory to the Indenture Trustee, or, in the Indenture Trustee's sole judgment, external counsel of the IESO stating that the execution of such amendment is authorized and permitted by this Agreement and that all conditions precedent provided for in this Agreement relating to such amendment have been complied with. The Issuer and the Indenture Trustee may, but shall not be obligated to, enter into any such amendment that affects their own rights, duties, indemnities or immunities under this Agreement or otherwise.~~

8.4 ~~8.2~~ Notices

Any notice, report or other communication given hereunder shall be in writing and shall be effective (a) upon receipt when sent through the mails, registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, with such receipt to be effective the date of delivery indicated on the return receipt, (b) upon receipt when sent by an overnight courier, (c) on the date personally delivered to an authorized officer of the party to which sent, or (d) on the date transmitted by electronic transmission with a confirmation of receipt in all cases, addressed as follows:

Each party hereto may, by notice given in accordance herewith to the other party or parties hereto, designate any further or different address to which subsequent notices, reports and other communications shall be sent. Any notice, report or communication required to be given by the IESO hereunder to a Rating Agency shall be given to the address provided by the Issuer from time to time.

8.5 ~~8.3~~ Assignment

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, except as provided in the provisions of this Agreement concerning the resignation of the Servicer, this Agreement may not be assigned by the IESO.

8.6 ~~8.4~~ Limitations on Rights of Third Parties

The provisions of this Agreement are solely for the benefit of the IESO, the Issuer and, to the extent provided herein or in the other Program Agreements, the Indenture Trustee (for its own benefit and for the benefit of the Specified Creditors) and the other Persons expressly referred to herein, and such Persons shall have the right to enforce the relevant provisions of this Agreement. Nothing in this Agreement, whether express or implied, shall be construed to give to any other Person any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim in the Issuer Investment Interest or under or in respect of this Agreement or any covenants, conditions or provisions contained herein.

8.7 ~~8.5~~ Severability

Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remainder of such provision (if any) or the remaining provisions hereof (unless such construction shall be unreasonable), and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.

8.8 ~~8.6~~ Separate Counterparts; Electronic Delivery

This Agreement may be executed by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument. Delivery of an executed signature page to this Agreement by a party by electronic transmission will be as effective as delivery of a manually executed copy of this Agreement by such party.

8.9 ~~8.7~~ Governing Law

This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein, and each party to this Agreement attorns to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Ontario.

8.10 ~~8.8 Assignment~~Grant of Security Interest to Indenture Trustee

The IESO hereby acknowledges and consents to ~~any mortgage, pledge, assignment and~~the grant of a ~~security interest~~Lien by the Issuer to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the benefit of the Specified Creditors ~~of~~against all right, title and interest of the Issuer in, to and under this Agreement, the Investment Interest and the proceeds thereof and the assignment of any or all of the Issuer's rights hereunder to the Indenture Trustee for the benefit of the Specified Creditors. ~~In no event shall the Indenture Trustee have any liability for the representations, warranties, covenants, agreements or other obligations of the Issuer hereunder or in any of the certificates delivered pursuant hereto, as to all of which any recourse shall be had solely to the assets of the Issuer subject to the availability of funds therefor under Section [8.02] of the Indenture.~~

8.11 ~~8.9~~ Limitation of Liability of Indenture Trustee

It is expressly understood and agreed by the parties hereto that this Agreement is executed and delivered by the Indenture Trustee, not individually or personally but solely as Indenture Trustee on behalf of the Specified Creditors, in the exercise of the powers and authority conferred and vested in it. The Indenture Trustee in acting hereunder is entitled to all rights, benefits, protections, immunities and indemnities accorded to it under the Indenture.

8.12 ~~8.10~~ Limitation of Liability of the Issuer Trustee

(a) It is expressly understood and agreed by the parties hereto that the Issuer Trustee is acting solely in its capacity as trustee of the Issuer, and not in any other capacity. The Issuer solely shall be responsible for the performance of the Issuer's obligations hereunder and the assets of the Issuer solely shall be subject to levy or execution in satisfaction of such obligations.

(b) The Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability whatsoever, in tort, in contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, to the Issuer's beneficiaries or to any other Person, for any action taken or permitted by the Issuer Trustee to be taken, or the Issuer Trustee's failure to compel in any way any former or acting Issuer Trustee to redress any breach of trust with respect to the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, provided that the foregoing limitation will not apply in respect of action or failure to act arising from or in connection with dishonesty, bad faith, willful misconduct, gross negligence or reckless disregard of a duty by the Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee, in doing anything or permitting anything to be done in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, is, and will be conclusively deemed to be, acting as trustee of the Issuer and not in any other capacity. Except as to the extent provided in this Section ~~8.10~~8.12, the Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or for or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities and resort will be had solely to the Issuer's property for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the Issuer Trustee owned in its personal capacity will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Agreement.

(c) The holders of the units of the Issuer will not be subject to any liability whatsoever, in tort, in contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities, to the Issuer's beneficiaries or to any other Person, for any action taken or permitted by it to be taken. The holders of the units of the Issuer will not be subject to any liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the execution of the duties of its office or for or in respect of the Issuer's property or the Issuer's activities and resort will be had solely to the Issuer's property for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the holders of the units of the Issuer owned in their personal capacity will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Agreement.

8.13 ~~8.11~~ Waivers

Any term or provision of this Agreement may be waived, or the time for its performance may be extended, by the party or parties entitled to the benefit thereof; provided, however, that no such waiver delivered by the Issuer shall be effective unless the Indenture Trustee has given its prior written consent thereto. Any such waiver shall be validly and sufficiently authorized for the purposes of this Agreement if, as to any party, it is authorized in writing by an authorized representative of such party, with prompt written notice of any such waiver to be provided to the Rating Agencies. The failure of any party hereto to enforce at any time any provision of this Agreement shall not be construed to be a waiver of such provision, nor in any way to affect the validity of this Agreement or any part hereof or the right of any party thereafter to enforce each and every such provision. No waiver of any breach of this Agreement shall be held to constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach.

~~8.12 Indenture Trustee Actions~~

~~In acting hereunder, the Indenture Trustee shall have the rights, protections and immunities granted to it under the Indenture.~~

~~8.13 Issuer Trustee~~

~~In acting hereunder, the Issuer Trustee shall have the rights, protections and immunities granted to it under the Declaration of Trust.~~

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be duly executed by their respective officers as of the day and year first above written.

SECURITY AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of the ____ day of December, 2017,

BETWEEN:

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR, a statutory corporation without share capital established by the Electricity Act, 1998, SO, 1998,

(hereinafter referred to as the "Grantor"),

IN FAVOUR OF: -

[FINANCING ENTITY], a trust formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario,

(hereinafter referred to as the "Secured Party"),

ACKNOWLEDGED AND ACCEPTED BY:

[INDENTURE TRUSTEE], a trust company existing under the laws of Canada and duly authorized to carry on the business of a trust company in all of the provinces and territories of Canada, as indenture trustee,

(hereinafter referred to as the "Indenture Trustee"),

WHEREAS under Regulation 206/17 made under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Regulation"), the Grantor is required to pay and remit to the Secured Party any amounts charged to the Grantor by the Secured Party in respect of Carrying Costs of the Secured Party during the period beginning on April 1, 2017 and ending on June 30, 2021 (the "Statutory Obligation");

AND WHEREAS the Grantor (collectively referred to as the "Parties") has agreed to enter into a security agreement in favour of the Secured Party as security for, inter alia, the performance of the Statutory Obligation;

AND WHEREAS this Agreement has been assigned by the Secured Party, by way of security, to the Indenture Trustee and the Indenture Trustee wishes to acknowledge and accept the terms of this Agreement;

NOW THEREFORE THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSES that, for and in consideration of the premises, mutual covenants and conditions herein contained and such other lawful and valuable consideration the receipt of sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties hereby agree as follows:

1. INTERPRETATION

1.1 Defined Terms

In this Agreement, unless there is something in the context or subject matter inconsistent therewith,

(a) "Account" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the PPSA;

(b) "Appropriation" shall have the meaning ascribed to such term in the Financial Administration Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. F-12, as amended;

(c) "Breach" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in Section 6.1;

(d) "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday or a Sunday on which banks generally are open for business in Toronto, Ontario;

(e) "Carrying Costs" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the Regulation;

(f) "Collateral" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in Section 2.1;

(g) "Excluded Accounts" means all amounts payable to the Grantor pursuant to Appropriations;

(h) "Money" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the PPSA;

(i) "Permitted Liens" means liens approved in writing by the Secured Party and the Indenture Trustee ;

(j) "PPSA" means the Personal Property Security Act (Ontario), as amended from time to time, and any regulations thereto;

(k) "Proceeds" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the PPSA;

(l) "Receiver" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in Section 6.2 of this Agreement;

(m) "Regulation" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the recitals hereto;

(n) "Statutory Obligation" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the recitals hereto.

1.2 Other Usages

References to "this Agreement", "hereof", "herein", "hereto" and like references refer to this Security Agreement and not to any particular Article, Section or other subdivision of this Agreement.

1.3 Plural and Singular

Where the context so requires, the words importing the singular number shall include the plural and vice versa.

1.4 Headings

The division of this Agreement into Articles and Sections and the insertion of headings in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

1.5 Applicable Law

This Agreement and all documents delivered pursuant hereto shall be governed by and construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the laws of Canada applicable therein and the Parties do hereby attorn to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Ontario.

1.6 Prohibited Provisions

In the event that any provision or any part of any provision hereof is deemed to be invalid by reason of the operation of any law or by reason of the interpretation placed thereon by a court, this Agreement shall be construed as not containing such provision or such part of such provision and the invalidity of such provision or such part shall not affect the validity of any other provision or the remainder of such provision hereof, and all other provisions hereof which are otherwise lawful and valid shall remain in full force and effect.

1.7 Time of the Essence

Time shall in all respects be of the essence of this Agreement.

1.8 Recitals and Schedules

Each and every one of the recitals and schedules which are referred to in this Agreement and attached to this Agreement shall form an integral part of this Agreement.

2. SECURITY INTEREST

2.1 Grant of Security Interest

As general and continuing security for the payment and performance of the Statutory Obligation, the Grantor hereby assigns, transfers, sets over and grants a first-priority security interest to the Secured Party in the following (collectively, the "Collateral"):

(a) all Accounts, debts, choses in action and demands of every nature and kind, which are now due, owing or accruing or growing due to or owned by or which may hereafter become due, owing or accruing or growing due to or owned by the Grantor, excluding Excluded Accounts;

(b) all deeds, documents, writings, papers and books relating to or being records of the property described in Section 2.1(a); and

(c) all Proceeds and renewals of the foregoing, in whatever form, together with all substitutions therefore.

Whenever used elsewhere in this Agreement, the expression "security interest" refers to the security interest created in this Section 2.1.

2.2 Attachment of Security Interest

The Grantor acknowledges and agrees that (i) value has been given, (ii) the Grantor has rights in the Collateral, and (iii) the security interest shall attach to existing Collateral upon execution of this Agreement by the Grantor and to each item of after-acquired Collateral at the time that the Grantor acquires any rights therein.

3. COVENANTS OF THE GRANTOR

3.1 Covenants

The Grantor hereby covenants and agrees with the Secured Party as follows:

(a) Not to pay any other obligations of the Grantor at any time when its Statutory Obligation to pay Carrying Costs is in arrears, except to the extent that such other obligations are satisfied from amounts payable to the Grantor pursuant to Appropriations.

(b) To promptly pay all taxes, assessments, rates, levies, payroll deductions, vacation pay, workers' compensation assessments, and any other charges which could result in the creation of a statutory lien or deemed trust in respect of the Collateral.

(c) To defend the Collateral against the claims and demands of all other persons claiming the same or an interest therein and to promptly notify the Secured Party of any such claim or demand.

(d) To deliver to the Secured Party such information concerning the Collateral or the Grantor as the Secured Party may reasonably request from time to time.

(e) To do, make, execute and deliver such further and other assignments, transfers, deeds, agreements and other documents as may be required by the Secured Party to establish in favour of the Secured Party the security interest intended to be created hereby and to accomplish the intention of this Agreement.

3.2 Performance of Covenants by the Secured Party

The Secured Party may, in its sole discretion and upon notice to and at the expense of the Grantor, perform any covenant of the Grantor under this Agreement that the Grantor fails to perform and that the Secured Party is capable of performing, provided that the Secured Party will not be obligated to perform any such covenant on behalf of the Grantor and no such performance by the Secured Party will require the Secured Party further to perform the Grantor's covenants nor operate as a derogation of the rights and remedies of the Secured Party under this Agreement.

4. DEALING WITH COLLATERAL

4.1 Grantor's Rights before Breach

Until the occurrence of a Breach and subject to the terms hereof, the Grantor shall be entitled to deal with the Collateral in the ordinary course of business, provided however, that no such action shall be taken which would impair the effectiveness of the security interests created hereby or the value of the Collateral or which would be inconsistent with or violate the Regulation, the provisions of this Agreement or any other written agreement between the Secured Party and the Grantor.

4.2 General Restrictions

The Grantor shall not, without the prior written consent of the Secured Party:

(a) sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Collateral or any part thereof except in the ordinary course of business;

(b) release, surrender or abandon possession of the Collateral or any part thereof; or

(c) enter into or grant, create, assume or suffer to exist any mortgage, charge, hypothec, assignment, pledge, lien or other security interest or encumbrance affecting any of the Collateral except the Permitted Liens.

4.3 Release by the Secured Party

The Secured Party may, at its discretion but subject to the written approval of the Indenture Trustee, at any time release from the security interest created by this Agreement any part or parts of the Collateral or any other security or any surety for the Statutory Obligation either with or without sufficient consideration therefor without thereby releasing any other part of the Collateral or any person from this Agreement.

5. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

5.1 Representations and Warranties

The Grantor hereby represents and warrants to the Secured Party, the matters set out below:

(a) Incorporation and Qualifications – The Grantor is a statutory corporation amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, with requisite power and authority to own its properties, to conduct its business as such properties are currently owned and such business is presently conducted by it, and to execute, deliver and carry out the terms of this Agreement.

(b) Corporate Authority and Power – The Grantor has the requisite power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to carry out its terms. The execution, delivery and performance of all obligations under this Agreement have been duly authorized by all necessary action on the part of the Grantor under all applicable laws.

(c) No Other Business Names or Styles – The Grantor does not carry on business under or use any name or style other than the name(s) specified in Schedule A to this Agreement including.

(d) Non-Conflict – Neither the execution nor the performance of this Agreement requires the approval of any regulatory agency having jurisdiction over the Grantor nor is this Agreement in contravention of or in conflict with the by-laws or resolutions of the directors or shareholders of the Grantor or of the provisions of any agreement to which the Grantor is a party or by which any of its property may be bound or of any statute, regulation, by-law, ordinance or other law, or to the best of its knowledge of any judgement, decree, award, ruling or order to which the Grantor or any of its property may be subject, other than approvals that have been obtained.

(e) Ownership of Collateral Free of Liens – The Grantor is the owner of or has rights in the Collateral free and clear of any liens other than Permitted Liens.

(f) Grantor Information – Schedule A sets forth (a) the Grantor's jurisdiction of incorporation, (b) the location of the Grantor's registered office and business operations and records, and (c) the Grantor's exact legal name (in English and French).

(g) Enforceability – This Agreement constitutes a valid and legally binding obligation of the Grantor enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to general equitable principles, including the fact that the availability of equitable remedies, such as injunctive relief and specific performance, is in the discretion of the court.

5.2 Reliance and Survival

All representations and warranties of the Grantor made in this Agreement or in any certificate or other document delivered by or on behalf of the Grantor to or for the benefit of the Secured Party are material, shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and shall continue in full force and effect without time limit. The Secured Party shall be deemed to have relied upon each such representation and warranty notwithstanding any investigation made by or on behalf of the Secured Party at any time.

6. BREACH AND ENFORCEMENT

6.1 Enforceability of Security

The security hereby constituted shall become enforceable upon the occurrence of any of the following events each of which shall constitute a "Breach":

(a) the Grantor is in breach of the Statutory Obligation;

(b) any representation or warranty made or deemed made by or on behalf of the Grantor to the Secured Party under or in connection with this Agreement shall be materially false on the date as of which made; or

(c) any breach by the Grantor of any of the covenants, terms or provisions of Article 3 of this Agreement.

6.2 Remedies

At any time after the happening of any Breach, the Secured Party shall have the following rights, powers and remedies:

(a) to appoint any person to be an agent or any person to be a receiver, manager or receiver and manager (herein called the "Receiver") of the Collateral and to remove any Receiver so appointed and to appoint another if the Secured Party so desires; it being agreed that any Receiver appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement shall have all of the powers of the Secured Party hereunder;

(b) to make payments to parties having prior charges or encumbrances on the Collateral;

(c) to preserve, protect and maintain the Collateral;

(d) to enjoy and exercise all powers necessary or incidental to the performance of all functions provided for in this Agreement;

(e) to sell or dispose of all or any part of the Collateral whether by public or private sale or otherwise and on any terms so long as every aspect of the disposition is commercially reasonable, including without limitation, terms that provide time for payment on credit;

(f) to enjoy and exercise all of the rights and remedies of a secured party under the PPSA;

(g) to notify the account debtors or obligors under any Accounts (other than Excluded Accounts) of the assignment of such Accounts to the Secured Party and to direct such account debtors or obligors to make payment of all amounts due or to become due to the Grantor thereunder directly to the Secured Party and to give valid and binding receipts and discharges therefor and in respect thereof and, upon such notification and at the expense of the Grantor, to enforce collection of any such Accounts, and to adjust, settle or compromise the amount or payment thereof, in the same manner and to the same extent as the Grantor might have done; and

(h) to commence, continue or defend proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction in the name of the Secured Party, the Receiver or the Grantor for the purpose of exercising any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Section, including the institution of proceedings for the appointment of a receiver, manager or receiver and manager of the Collateral.

6.3 Special Rules re Accounts

After the security hereby constituted becomes enforceable,

(a) all Money or other form of payment received by the Grantor in respect of all of its Accounts shall be received in trust for the benefit of the Secured Party hereunder, shall be segregated from other funds of the Grantor and shall be forthwith paid over to the Secured Party in the same form as so received (with any necessary endorsement) to be held as cash collateral and applied as provided by Section 6.8; and

(b) the Grantor shall not adjust, settle or compromise the amount or payment of any Accounts, or release wholly or partly any account debtor or obligor thereof, or allow any credit or discount thereon.

6.4 Receiver as Agent

The Receiver shall be deemed to be the agent of the Grantor for the purpose of establishing liability for the acts or omissions of the Receiver and the Secured Party shall not be liable for such acts or omissions and, without restricting the generality of the foregoing, the Grantor hereby irrevocably authorizes the Secured Party to give instructions to the Receiver relating to the performance of its duties as set out herein.

6.5 Expenses of Enforcement

The Grantor shall pay to the Receiver the remuneration of the Receiver and all costs and expenses (including, without limitation, legal fees and disbursements on a full indemnity basis) properly incurred by the Receiver pursuant to its appointment and the exercise of its powers hereunder, and shall pay to the Secured Party and the Receiver as required all amounts of Money (including interest thereon) borrowed or advanced by either of them pursuant to the powers set out herein, and the obligations of the Grantor to the Secured Party and the Receiver pursuant to this Section 6.5 shall be payable on demand.

6.6 Indulgences and Releases

Either the Secured Party or the Receiver may grant extensions of time and other indulgences, take and give up securities, accept compositions, grant releases and discharges, release any part of the Collateral to third parties and otherwise deal with the Grantor, debtors of the Grantor, sureties and others and with the Collateral and other security as the Secured Party or the Receiver may see fit without prejudice to the Statutory Obligation or the right of the Secured Party and the Receiver to repossess, hold, collect and realize the Collateral.

6.7 No Liability for Failure to Exercise Remedies

The Secured Party and the Receiver shall not be liable or accountable to the Grantor or to any other person for any failure to exercise any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Agreement, and shall not be bound to commence, continue or defend proceedings for the purpose of preserving or protecting any rights of the Secured Party, the Receiver, the Grantor or any other party in respect of the same.

6.8 Proceeds of Disposition

All Moneys received by the Secured Party or by the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 shall be applied as follows:

(a) first, in payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the Secured Party in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement and in payment of all of the remuneration of the Receiver and all costs and expenses properly incurred by the Receiver in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement, including, without limitation, the remuneration, costs and expenses referred to in Section 6.5;

(b) second, in payment of all amounts of Money borrowed or advanced by either of the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to the powers set out in this Agreement and any interest thereon;

(c) third, in payment of the Statutory Obligation, provided that if there are not sufficient Moneys to fully pay and perform the Statutory Obligation, the Secured Party may apply the Moneys available to such part or parts thereof as the Secured Party, in its sole discretion, may determine; and

(d) fourth, in payment of any surplus in accordance with applicable law.

6.9 Grantor Liable for Deficiency

If the Moneys received by the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 are not sufficient to pay the claims set out in Section 6.8, the Grantor shall immediately pay the Secured Party the amount of such deficiency.

6.10 Restriction on Grantor

Upon the Secured Party taking possession of the Collateral or the appointment of a Receiver, all the powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor with respect to the Collateral shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be suspended unless specifically continued by the written consent of the Secured Party; however, all other powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor shall be unaffected by such events.

6.11 Rights Cumulative

All rights and remedies of the Secured Party set out in this Agreement shall be cumulative and no right or remedy contained herein is intended to be exclusive but each shall be in addition to every other right or remedy contained herein or in any existing or future security document or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or by statute.

6.12 Care by the Secured Party

The Secured Party shall be deemed to have exercised reasonable care in the custody and preservation of any of the Collateral in the Secured Party's possession if it takes such action for that purpose as the Grantor requests in writing, but failure of the Secured Party to comply with any such request shall not be deemed to be (or to be evidence of) a failure to exercise reasonable care, and no failure of the Secured Party to preserve or protect any rights with respect to such Collateral against prior parties, or to do any act with respect to the preservation of such Collateral not so requested by the Grantor, shall be deemed a failure to exercise reasonable care in the custody or preservation of such Collateral.

6.13 Application by Grantor re: Receiver

The Grantor hereby irrevocably waives its right to make an application to any court with respect to the appointment, powers or remuneration of the Receiver.

7. GENERAL

7.1 Waiver

Any breach by the Grantor of any of the provisions contained in this Agreement or any default by the Grantor in the observance or performance of any covenant or condition required to be observed or performed by the Grantor hereunder, may only be waived by the Secured Party in writing, provided that no such waiver by the Secured Party shall extend to or be taken in any manner to affect any subsequent breach or default or the rights resulting therefrom.

7.2 The Secured Party as Attorney

The Grantor hereby irrevocably appoints the Secured Party and any person further designated by the Secured Party to be the attorney of the Grantor for and in the name of the Grantor to execute and do any deeds, documents, transfers, demands, assignments, assurances, consents and things which the Grantor is obliged to sign, execute or do hereunder and, after the happening of any Breach, to commence, continue and defend any proceedings authorized to be taken hereunder and generally to use the name of the Grantor in the exercise of all or any of the powers hereby conferred on the Secured Party. These powers are coupled with an interest, have been given for valuable consideration (the receipt and adequacy of which is acknowledged), survive, and do not terminate upon, the bankruptcy, dissolution, winding up or insolvency of the Grantor, and are irrevocable until the Statutory Obligation has been satisfied in full and this Agreement is terminated and the security interest created herein has been released. This power of attorney extends to and is binding upon the Grantor's successors and permitted assigns. The Grantor authorizes the Secured Party to delegate in writing to another person any power and authority of the Secured Party under this power of attorney as may be necessary or desirable in the opinion of the Secured Party, and to revoke or suspend such delegation.

7.3 Further Assurances

The Grantor shall do, execute, acknowledge and deliver or cause to be done, executed, acknowledged and delivered, such further acts, deeds, mortgages, transfers and assurances as the Secured Party shall reasonably require for the better assuring, charging, assigning and conferring unto the Secured Party a security interest in the Collateral, or which the Grantor may hereafter become bound to charge in favour of the Secured Party, for the purpose of accomplishing and effecting the intention of this Agreement.

7.4 Amalgamation of the Grantor

The Grantor acknowledges and agrees that in the event that it amalgamates with any other persons, then (i) the Collateral and the security interest shall extend to and include all of the property and undertaking that any of the amalgamating corporations then owns, all of the property and undertaking that the amalgamated corporation thereafter acquires, all of the property and undertaking in which any of the amalgamating corporations then has any interest, and all of the property and undertaking in which the amalgamated corporation thereafter acquires any interest, and (ii) all references herein to the Grantor shall extend to and include the amalgamated corporation.

7.5 Continuing Security

The security interest constituted hereby shall be deemed to be a continuing security for the Statutory Obligation until the Statutory Obligation is paid and performed in full.

7.6 Notices

All notices and other communications provided for herein shall be in writing and shall be personally delivered to an officer or other responsible employee of the addressee or sent by facsimile, charges prepaid, at or to the applicable address or facsimile number, as the case may be, of the party set opposite its name below or at or to such other address or addresses or facsimile number or numbers as either party may from time to time designate to the other party in such manner. Any communication which is personally delivered as aforesaid shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the date of such delivery if such date is a Business Day and such delivery was made during normal business hours of the recipient; otherwise, it shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the Business Day next following such date of delivery. Any communication which is transmitted by facsimile as aforesaid shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the date of transmission if such date is a Business Day and such transmission was made during normal business hours of the recipient; otherwise, it shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the Business Day next following such date of transmission.

7.7 Assignment

The Secured Party may from time to time upon notice to, but without the consent of the Grantor, assign or transfer this Agreement to any other person (the "Assignee"). The Assignee shall, to the extent of the interest so assigned or transferred, be entitled to the benefit of and the right to enforce this Agreement to the same extent as if the Assignee were the Secured Party. The Grantor shall not be entitled to assign or transfer this Agreement or any of the Grantor's rights, duties or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of the Secured Party.

7.8 Successors and Assigns

This Agreement shall enure to the benefit of the Secured Party and its successors and assigns and shall be binding upon the Grantor and its successors and permitted assigns.

7.9 Amendments

This Agreement may not be amended or otherwise modified except by an instrument in writing executed by all the Parties.

7.10 Entire Agreement

This Agreement and the agreements referred to herein and any document, agreement or instrument delivered pursuant to such agreements constitute the entire agreement between the Parties and supersede any prior agreements, undertakings, declarations, representations and undertakings, both written and verbal, in respect of the subject matter hereof.

7.11 Receipt of Agreement and Financing Statement.

The Grantor hereby acknowledges receipt of an executed copy of this Agreement and of the financing statement registered under the PPSA evidencing the security interest created hereby.

7.12 Counterpart

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original and all of which taken together shall be deemed to constitute one and the same instrument, and it shall not be necessary in making proof of this Agreement to produce or account for more than one such counterpart.

7.13 Delivery by Facsimile or Electronic Transmission

Please find attached our comments on your response of October 6. We have moved the text of your email to the attached document and responded inline in square brackets for ease of review.

We recognize that we are running out of time, and that we should discuss and move this forward at the beginning of next week.

We also generally recognize that, although there are still some gaps in our respective approaches, we would find it helpful to have some more specific suggestions and comments on our Sept. 27 draft in order to help move this forward. This might include also the timing issues, with some indication of where, if OPG finds the timing does not work, some alternatives can be suggested for consideration.

Toby,

Thank you for your draft proposal; we have set out below our conceptual comments and concerns on it. Please note that the points below remain subject to the continuing review of OPG. Please also note that we have not yet sought the dealers' views on the proposal. We think it is premature to do so until we settle these points amongst ourselves and a revised draft of the proposal is circulated reflecting our agreement.

As further discussed below, your proposal deviates in some key ways from what we proposed in our email of September 19 (attached) and raises the accounting and operational issues we tried to avoid in the September 19th proposal. Given the need to settle the Protection Agreement as soon as possible, we'd appreciate if we could discuss these points early next week.

Best Regards,

Nina

Accounting Issues:

E&Y has concerns from an accounting perspective with the level of Provincial oversight and input on certain parts of the process, namely:

-that OPG will likely have to go back to the Province on each incurrence of debt and they will have to do so prior to that incurrence

-that OPG must certify and provide a lot of detailed reporting with respect to each incurrence of debt
-the level of frequency of reporting in general (not just the certifications/information noted above but also the contemplated annual forecasts and quarterly updates of those forecasts)

-the negative pledge with respect to the exercise of certain options on the debt

-the fact that OPG must give notice to the Province when incurring funding obligations that are expressly excluded from the Protection Agreement

Taken as a whole, we understand that E&Y sees all of this as the Province exerting a level of control on the debt that no typical guarantor would have. Please also advise if the Province's accountants have reviewed the proposal.

Practical Issues:

- The procedural steps to bind the Province are lengthy and complicated. From our perspective, as drafted, OPG will likely have to seek Provincial approval on each debt issuance (which weakens the accounting as discussed above). The dealers and their counsel will have a reaction to the proposed adherence conditions but query whether there is value in setting out the adherence conditions in the Protection Agreement itself. Setting aside the mechanics of how we get there, the dealers want comfort that the incurrence of obligations by the financing entity will be covered by the Protection Agreement. We would propose that the mechanics of any approval process (once we settle the terms of that process) be the subject of a separate procedures agreement or memo from the Province to OPG, whereby the Province delegates to OPG the ability to bind the Province under the Protection Agreement with respect to an incurrence of obligations so long as the adherence conditions in the procedures agreement or memo have been met. The Protection Agreement would then simply state that, upon OPG certifying to the indenture trustee that the adherence conditions have been satisfied under the procedures agreement/memo, the Province will be deemed to be bound under the Protection Agreement with respect to the specific obligations incurred at the time of the certification.

- In addition to the accounting concerns, the level of detail and frequency of reporting required present timing and operational issues. For example, as part of the adherence conditions, you are asking for details on the interest rate. However, pricing will in part be driven off whether that specific incurrence will have the benefits of the Protection Agreement.

Drafting Issues:

- Please refer to the existing terminology of the Act to ensure there is certainty on the obligations covered under the Protection Agreement. We think the best way for you to approach this would be to refer to all finance amounts and then expressly carve out what you are proposing not be covered.
- We'd like to understand the reason OPG's management fees have been excluded. We assume you do not intend for OPG's reimbursement costs (costs incurred by OPG on behalf of the Financing Entity) to be excluded? Please advise why taxes are being excluded?
- There are a few references to "exceed the maximum amount specified therefor in the applicable governing document". Please advise what is being contemplated here.
- We have a number of other drafting comments which we'll revisit once we've settled on the conceptual points above and have reviewed a revised draft of the document.

Subject: Fair Hydro -- Change of Law Assumption Agreement

Steve, Malle and Toby, further to our meeting the other day, set out below for your review is a proposal on the Provincial approval process under the Change of Law Assumption Agreement. Once we have your feedback on this, we will need to share it with Osler and the accountants and as John mentioned, we are under some time pressure to bring this to a resolution prior to the upcoming June 29 OPG Board meeting. We look forward to your comments, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions. -- Rima

Obligor Approval

The Change of Law Assumption Agreement will apply to all Specified Claims relating to Funding Obligations that are incurred by an Eligible Financing Entity in accordance with the Obligor's approval process. The definition of Specified Claims to be mutually agreed by all parties.

In order for a Financing Entity to become designated as an Eligible Financing Entity by the Obligor, prior to the initial issuance of Funding Obligations by such Financing Entity, the Obligor will be provided with copies of the following documents (collectively the "Program Documents") for review:

(i) the constating documents of such Financing Entity;

(ii) the management agreement between the Financing Entity and OPG;

(iii) the master transfer and servicing agreement between the Financing Entity and the IESO;

(iv) the master trust indenture governing the issuance of Funding Obligations by the Financing Entity;

(v) a form of supplemental indenture governing the issuance of bonds, issuable in series, by the Financing Entity;

(vi) a form of note purchase agreement or credit agreement governing the issuance of short term Funding Obligations by the Financing Entity;

(vii) a form of schedule to an ISDA Master Agreement governing derivative transactions that may be entered into the Financing Entity from time to time; and (viii) such other documents as may be requested by the Obligor.

Once a Financing Entity is designated by the Obligor as an Eligible Financing Entity, it will not be necessary for the Obligor to approve the documentation related to specific issuances of Funding Obligations; however, OPG will be expected to notify the Obligor of any new material program documentation or any material amendments to existing program documentation before such new documentation or amendments become effective. The failure of OPG to provide any such notice will not invalidate the application of the Change of Law Assumption Agreement to any Specified Claims.

It will not be necessary for the Obligor to approve each new issuance of Funding Obligations provided that such Funding Obligations are issued in accordance with following:

(1) The Funding Obligations are issued in accordance with agreements that contain: (a) covenants of the Eligible Financing Entity that are no more onerous in any material respect and (b) events of default that are consistent in all material respects, respectively, with the covenants of the Eligible Financing Entity and events of default contained in the draft Program Documents.

(2) At least [30 days] prior to the initial issuance of Funding Obligations by an Eligible Financing Entity, OPG will provide the Obligor with a forecast of the principal amount and expected term of the Funding Obligations that OPG expects such Eligible Financing Entity to issue in accordance with the Financing Plan in the next two years (a “Two Year Forecast”). The execution of the Change of Law Assumption Agreement in respect of such Eligible Financing Entity shall constitute the Obligor’s approval of the issuance of Funding Obligations by such Eligible Financing Entity in accordance with the Two Year Forecast.

(3) OPG shall provide the Obligor with an updated Two Year Forecast between 9 and 12 months prior to the expiry of each current Two Year Forecast.

(4) Unless the Obligor provides OPG with a written notice no later than 3 months prior to the date following receipt of the current Two Year Forecast that the Change of Law Assumption Agreement will be inapplicable with respect to new Funding Obligations incurred following the expiry of the current Two Year Forecast, the Obligor will be deemed to approve the application of the Change of Law Assumption Agreement to all Funding Obligations incurred up to the expiry of the new Two Year Forecast.

At the time of issuance of Funding Obligations by an Eligible Financing Entity, the Financing Entity will provide (i) any required certifications to the underwriters/agents that such Funding Obligations are covered by the Change of Law Assumption Agreement; and (ii) notice to the Obligor of the material terms of the Funding Obligations issued, together with electronic copies of the final executed Program Documents.

TORYS
LLP

[NOTE TO DRAFT: CONFIRM THAT TORYS IS REFERRING TO THE OFA/MOE PROPOSAL FROM SEPTEMBER 27TH.]

Toby,

Thank you for your draft proposal; we have set out below our conceptual comments and concerns on it. Please note that the points below remain subject to the continuing review of OPG. Please also note that we have not yet sought the dealers' views on the proposal. We think it is premature to do so until we settle these points amongst ourselves and a revised draft of the proposal is circulated reflecting our agreement.

As further discussed below, your proposal deviates in some key ways from what we proposed in our email of September 19 (attached) and raises the accounting and operational issues we tried to avoid in the September 19th proposal. Given the need to settle the Protection Agreement as soon as possible, we'd appreciate if we could discuss these points early next week.

Best Regards,
Nina

Accounting Issues:
E&Y has concerns from an accounting perspective with the level of Provincial oversight and input on certain parts of the process, namely:

[There is minimal oversight and input from the Province so long as the pre-agreed scope and parameters are adhered to.]

-that OPG will likely have to go back to the Province on each incurrence of debt and they will have to do so prior to that incurrence

[The proposal is that basic information regarding an incurrence will be provided to enable the province to (1) understand the nature and scope of the incurrence, to enable the Province to address internal governance considerations and (2) to be satisfied that the proposed incurrences are in-line with the pre-agreed parameters (the "Parameters"). The intention is not to curtail incurrences that follow the pre-agreed approach. The timing of the notice to the Province may be a point of discussion.]

-that OPG must certify and provide a lot of detailed reporting with respect to each incurrence of debt
[As the entity running the program, OPG will be expected to provide the province with information sufficient to enable the province to make sure any incurrence falls inside the Parameters. The delivery of a certificate in an agreed form, just prior to the time of the incurrence, is meant to create a brightline test for the financing entity's counterparties to know that, so long as the certificate has been delivered (even if it's inaccurate), the Province will be bound. As you suggest below, any inaccuracy will give rise to considerations between the province and OPG. The delivery of the certificate at the time of an incurrence is considered an important due diligence confirmation for the province.
What is the basis for E&Y expressing a reservation regarding the province having access to underlying information about the "approved obligations", which in turn will define the scope of the province's own obligations if called upon under the change of law protection agreement (CLPA)?]

-the level of frequency of reporting in general (not just the certifications/information noted above but also the contemplated annual forecasts and quarterly updates of those forecasts)
[Any surety in a similar circumstance would want to know the nature and extent of the obligations incurred and to be incurred. That information is intended to allow the province to ensure compliance with the Parameters. Please provide an alternative proposal that meets OPGs requirements and still provides adequate information for the Province.]
-the negative pledge with respect to the exercise of certain options on the debt
[The idea is that if there is optionality in favour of the financing entity, and the exercise would affect the payment profile under the CLPA, such an exercise following a Protection Event should not affect the Province's payment obligations. In effect, the payment schedule will crystalize and cannot be accelerated or extended once the province becomes obligated to pay, following a Protection Event.]
-the fact that OPG must give notice to the Province when incurring funding obligations that are expressly excluded from the Protection Agreement
[The Province needs to understand the overall credit picture of the financing entity since it will become a creditor (through subrogation) if it is called on to perform. Exclusions are narrowly defined and should be minimal in practice.]

Taken as a whole, we understand that E&Y sees all of this as the Province exerting a level of control on the debt that no typical guarantor would have.
[These checks and balances are in-line with the province not writing a "blank cheque" in relation to future incurrences. Prudent sureties would be expected to exercise diligence - indeed to do less could be evidence of interdependence and non-arm's length terms, which presumably would be unhelpful to E&Y's analysis.] Please also advise if the Province's accountants have reviewed the proposal.
[The Province's accountants are involved in this process and are also reviewing the proposal]

Practical Issues:

- The procedural steps to bind the Province are lengthy and complicated.

[The OFHPA will involve very significant and complex financings. The process is intended to provide an appropriate level of third party enquiry given the size and scale of the financing program to the province and in order to ensure the issuances are within the Parameters.] From our perspective, as drafted, OPG will likely have to seek Provincial approval
[No approval is contemplated or expected by the Province, except if the incurrence is outside of the pre-agreed boundaries.] on each debt issuance (which weakens the accounting as discussed above)
[An explanation of the relevant accounting principles that E&Y has expressed concern about would assist the province to understand E&Y'S concerns. Also, a detailed list of any particular troublesome requirements would be helpful, with drafting suggestions as appropriate] [The dealers and their counsel will have a reaction to the proposed adherence conditions but query whether there is value in setting out the adherence conditions in the Protection Agreement itself.
[From the dealers' perspective, the three listed requirements (namely, (1) quantum under the program limit (2) delivery of the OPG certificate (3) absence of contrary notice from the Province) can be easily and objectively verified by the dealers. These process requirements should be reflected in the incurrence procedures as a check/balance at the relevant time, given that the province will not otherwise be directly involved in the incurrence process but will be obligated under the CLPA] Setting aside the mechanics of how we get there, the dealers want comfort that the incurrence of obligations by the financing entity will be covered by the Protection Agreement.

[As noted above, the three listed requirements can be easily and objectively confirmed by the dealers prior to a closing. inaccuracies or other failures within the certification process will not negate the Province's obligations] We would propose that the mechanics of any approval process (once we settle the terms of that process) be the subject of a separate procedures agreement or memo from the Province to OPG, whereby the Province delegates to OPG the ability to bind the Province under the Protection Agreement with respect to an incurrence of obligations so long as the adherence conditions in the procedures agreement or memo have been met.

[As noted, this due diligence check/balance is how the province will ensure the issuances satisfy the Parameters. It is anticipated that the Ministers will see this process as significant to the exercise of their authorities under OFHPA 5(3). Ultimately, the Province will depend on OPG, which is why the delivery of a certificate, without being impugned by an accuracy, is the contemplated adherence condition - rather than making the confirmation of certificate accuracy a condition, which we assume would be unwelcome by the underwriters.] The Protection Agreement would then simply state that, upon OPG certifying to the indenture trustee that the adherence conditions have been satisfied under the procedures agreement/memo, the Province will be deemed to be bound under the Protection Agreement with respect to the specific obligations incurred at the time of the certification.

[The Province wants an actual certificate to be delivered to it (not just the indenture trustee) as part of the closing process. Also, the program limit and failsafe disapproval notice are considered to be important safeguards for the province]

- In addition to the accounting concerns, the level of detail and frequency of reporting required present timing and operational issues. For example, as part of the adherence conditions, you are asking for details on the interest rate. However, pricing will in part be driven off whether that specific incurrence will have the benefits of the Protection Agreement.
- [In the case of details not known at the time the OPG certificate is to be delivered (which will be expected to occur close to closing), it should be sufficient to indicate the process by which those details will be finalized. For example, it would be sufficient to say "interest rates to be set on or about [date] based on underwriting syndicate pricing indications".]

Drafting Issues:

- Please refer to the existing terminology of the Act to ensure there is certainty on the obligations covered under the Protection Agreement. We think the best way for you to approach this would be to refer to all finance amounts and then expressly carve out what you are proposing not be covered.
- [The proposal uses the specific defined terms from the OFHPA and regulation, in order to tie back to the statute and appropriately narrow the scope to the obligations that are reasonably known to require protection from the province. Considerable thought has been given to the approach reflected in the province's proposal. The Province wishes to focus on each inclusion that requires the support arrangements, which should then be net of available/free cash flows, set-offs, etc. Please provide specific comments on any specific items of concerns.]
- We'd like to understand the reason OPG's management fees have been excluded. [This is still an open question under consideration.] We assume you do not intend for OPG's reimbursement costs (costs incurred by OPG on behalf of the Financing Entity) to be excluded? [Under consideration] Please advise why taxes are being excluded?

[CRA does not require/is not entitled by law to the benefit of the protection arrangement. Please explain the logic of the request to include taxes]

- There are a few references to "exceed the maximum amount specified therefor in the applicable governing document". Please advise what is being contemplated here.

[For the Province's support arrangement to apply to an obligation, the quantum of the obligation must be factored into the program maximum test. if the obligation is a contingent obligation, the province's obligations must be capped so that the amount of the cap can be factored into the program limit test]

- We have a number of other drafting comments which we'll revisit once we've settled on the conceptual points above and have reviewed a revised draft of the document.

[In the interest of time, please provide any other detailed comments you may have on the September 27th version of the proposal as soon as possible]

Subject: RE: Fair Hydro -- Change of Law Assumption Agreement

Toby,

Thanks for your email. Based on the term sheet, since the Province isn't guaranteeing the obligations under these agreements but only stepping in if there is a change of law "protection event", we did not expect the drafting of the Change of Law Protection Agreement would be implicated by these other agreements (particularly now that we have proposed dealing with the Province's approval of the various program agreements in a separate procedures document). We also understand that in order to be in a position to close on a financing before year end, the Change of Law Protection Agreement needs to be substantially settled by early November. If that is still the case, then we expect the dealers and their counsel will need to see a draft in this coming week.

In the interest of time, we have attached an initial draft of the supplemental indenture for the warehouse facility which, as noted previously, has not yet been reviewed by OPG and Torys. The supplemental for the long term financing will be a simpler document - with mechanics for issuing the notes and pricing information but likely no additional covenants and events of default and no drawdown mechanics like the warehouse facility.

We will start copying the Province and Blakes on circulations of all documents going forward. Please let us know if the entire team on this email should be copied or only Blakes and the Provincial legal team.

Best Regards,

Nina

Nina,

We are working on a draft of the Change of Law Protection Agreement, but cannot complete the drafting until we have seen a draft of the Supplemental Indenture and the other instruments that are to be guaranteed.

We are also working on drafting some responses and comments to your comments from Wednesday on the approval process document, and will get back to you with those soon.

Toby,

In the interest of time, we have drafted a procedures agreement incorporating the approval mechanics we circulated below. As noted in previous correspondence, we think the approval process should be the subject of a separate agreement and not included in the Change of Law Protection Agreement you are drafting. Please note that the attached remains subject to the continuing review of OPG and Torys.

Can you please also let us know when we can expect to see a draft of the Change of Law Protection Agreement?

Many thanks,

Subject: RE: Fair Hydro -- Change of Law Assumption Agreement

Toby – further to discussions between OPG and the Province, please find attached comments on the draft proposal under the Change of Law Protection Agreement (blacklined to the draft circulated below). The attached reflects our comments from accounting, operational and financeability perspectives. In particular, the financeability of the program will turn on whether there is a clear and concise way for investors to determine that an incurrence of funding obligations will be covered under the Change of Law Protection Agreement and that, once confirmed, the confirmation is irrevocable. Accordingly, we have proposed in the attached that a simple confirmation from OPG to a third party binds the Province in respect of the incurrence of the applicable funding obligations provided that OPG has satisfied the requirements of the approval process (which we propose be the subject of a separate procedures agreement or memo). Please note that the attached remains subject to the review of the working group including the dealers and the rating agencies.

Please find attached our comments on your response of October 6. We have moved the text of your email to the attached document and responded inline in square brackets for ease of review.

We recognize that we are running out of time, and that we should discuss and move this forward at the beginning of next week.

We also generally recognize that, although there are still some gaps in our respective approaches, we would find it helpful to have some more specific suggestions and comments on our Sept. 27 draft in order to help move this forward. This might include also the timing issues, with some indication of where, if OPG finds the timing does not work, some alternatives can be suggested for consideration.

Subject: RE: Fair Hydro -- Change of Law Assumption Agreement

Toby,

Thank you for your draft proposal; we have set out below our conceptual comments and concerns on it. Please note that the points below remain subject to the continuing review of OPG. Please also note that we have not yet sought the dealers' views on the proposal. We think it is premature to do so until we settle these points amongst ourselves and a revised draft of the proposal is circulated reflecting our agreement.

As further discussed below, your proposal deviates in some key ways from what we proposed in our email of September 19 (attached) and raises the accounting and operational issues we tried to avoid in the September 19th proposal. Given the need to settle the Protection Agreement as soon as possible, we'd appreciate if we could discuss these points early next week.

Best Regards,

Nina

Accounting Issues:

E&Y has concerns from an accounting perspective with the level of Provincial oversight and input on certain parts of the process, namely:

-that OPG will likely have to go back to the Province on each incurrence of debt and they will have to do so prior to that incurrence -that OPG must certify and provide a lot of detailed reporting with respect to each incurrence of debt -the level of frequency of reporting in general (not just the certifications/information noted above but also the contemplated annual forecasts and quarterly updates of those forecasts) -the negative pledge with respect to the exercise of certain options on the debt -the fact that OPG must give notice to the Province when incurring funding obligations that are expressly excluded from the Protection Agreement

Taken as a whole, we understand that E&Y sees all of this as the Province exerting a level of control on the debt that no typical guarantor would have. Please also advise if the Province's accountants have reviewed the proposal.

Practical Issues:

* The procedural steps to bind the Province are lengthy and complicated. From our perspective, as drafted, OPG will likely have to seek Provincial approval on each debt issuance (which weakens the accounting as discussed above). The dealers and their counsel will have a reaction to the proposed adherence conditions but query whether there is value in setting out the adherence conditions in the Protection Agreement itself. Setting aside the mechanics of how we get there, the dealers want comfort that the incurrence of obligations by the financing entity will be covered by the Protection Agreement. We would propose that the mechanics of any approval process (once we settle the terms of that process) be the subject of a separate procedures agreement or memo from the Province to OPG, whereby the Province delegates to OPG the ability to bind the Province under the Protection Agreement with respect to an incurrence of obligations so long as the adherence conditions in the procedures agreement or memo have been met. The Protection Agreement would then simply state that, upon OPG certifying to the indenture trustee that the adherence conditions have been satisfied under the procedures agreement/memo, the Province will be deemed to be bound under the Protection Agreement with respect to the specific obligations incurred at the time of the certification.

* In addition to the accounting concerns, the level of detail and frequency of reporting required present timing and operational issues. For example, as part of the adherence conditions, you are asking for details on the interest rate. However, pricing will in part be driven off whether that specific incurrence will have the benefits of the Protection Agreement.

Drafting Issues:

* Please refer to the existing terminology of the Act to ensure there is certainty on the obligations covered under the Protection Agreement. We think the best way for you to approach this would be to refer to all finance amounts and then expressly carve out what you are proposing not be covered.

* We'd like to understand the reason OPG's management fees have been excluded. We assume you do not intend for OPG's reimbursement costs (costs incurred by OPG on behalf of the Financing Entity) to be excluded? Please advise why taxes are being excluded?

* There are a few references to "exceed the maximum amount specified therefor in the applicable governing document". Please advise what is being contemplated here.

* We have a number of other drafting comments which we'll revisit once we've settled on the conceptual points above and have reviewed a revised draft of the document.

Subject: Fair Hydro -- Change of Law Assumption Agreement

Steve, Malle and Toby, further to our meeting the other day, set out below for your review is a proposal on the Provincial approval process under the Change of Law Assumption Agreement. Once we have your feedback on this, we will need to share it with Osler and the accountants and as John mentioned, we are under some time pressure to bring this to a resolution prior to the upcoming June 29 OPG Board meeting. We look forward to your comments, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions. -- Rima

Obligor Approval

The Change of Law Assumption Agreement will apply to all Specified Claims relating to Funding Obligations that are incurred by an Eligible Financing Entity in accordance with the Obligor's approval process. The definition of Specified Claims to be mutually agreed by all parties.

In order for a Financing Entity to become designated as an Eligible Financing Entity by the Obligor, prior to the initial issuance of Funding Obligations by such Financing Entity, the Obligor will be provided with copies of the following documents (collectively the "Program Documents") for review:

(i) the constating documents of such Financing Entity;

(ii) the management agreement between the Financing Entity and OPG;

(iii) the master transfer and servicing agreement between the Financing Entity and the IESO;

(iv) the master trust indenture governing the issuance of Funding Obligations by the Financing Entity;

(v) a form of supplemental indenture governing the issuance of bonds, issuable in series, by the Financing Entity;

(vi) a form of note purchase agreement or credit agreement governing the issuance of short term Funding Obligations by the Financing Entity;

(vii) a form of schedule to an ISDA Master Agreement governing derivative transactions that may be entered into the Financing Entity from time to time; and (viii) such other documents as may be requested by the Obligor.

Once a Financing Entity is designated by the Obligor as an Eligible Financing Entity, it will not be necessary for the Obligor to approve the documentation related to specific issuances of Funding Obligations; however, OPG will be expected to notify the Obligor of any new material program documentation or any material amendments to existing program documentation before such new documentation or amendments become effective. The failure of OPG to provide any such notice will not invalidate the application of the Change of Law Assumption Agreement to any Specified Claims.

It will not be necessary for the Obligor to approve each new issuance of Funding Obligations provided that such Funding Obligations are issued in accordance with following:

(1) The Funding Obligations are issued in accordance with agreements that contain: (a) covenants of the Eligible Financing Entity that are no more onerous in any material respect and (b) events of default that are consistent in all material respects, respectively, with the covenants of the Eligible Financing Entity and events of default contained in the draft Program Documents.

(2) At least [30 days] prior to the initial issuance of Funding Obligations by an Eligible Financing Entity, OPG will provide the Obligor with a forecast of the principal amount and expected term of the Funding Obligations that OPG expects such Eligible Financing Entity to issue in accordance with the Financing Plan in the next two years (a “Two Year Forecast”). The execution of the Change of Law Assumption Agreement in respect of such Eligible Financing Entity shall constitute the Obligor’s approval of the issuance of Funding Obligations by such Eligible Financing Entity in accordance with the Two Year Forecast.

(3) OPG shall provide the Obligor with an updated Two Year Forecast between 9 and 12 months prior to the expiry of each current Two Year Forecast.

(4) Unless the Obligor provides OPG with a written notice no later than 3 months prior to the date following receipt of the current Two Year Forecast that the Change of Law Assumption Agreement will be inapplicable with respect to new Funding Obligations incurred following the expiry of the current Two Year Forecast, the Obligor will be deemed to approve the application of the Change of Law Assumption Agreement to all Funding Obligations incurred up to the expiry of the new Two Year Forecast.

At the time of issuance of Funding Obligations by an Eligible Financing Entity, the Financing Entity will provide (i) any required certifications to the underwriters/agents that such Funding Obligations are covered by the Change of Law Assumption Agreement; and (ii) notice to the Obligor of the material terms of the Funding Obligations issued, together with electronic copies of the final executed Program Documents.

FLOATING RATE VARIABLE FUNDING SENIOR NOTES, SERIES 2017-1

SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE made as of ●, 2017, between ● Trust Company of Canada, a trust company established under the laws of Canada (the "Issuer Trustee"), in its capacity as trustee of ●, a trust existing under the laws of the Province of Ontario (in such capacity, the "Issuer"), ● Trust Company of Canada, a trust company established under the laws of Canada (the "Indenture Trustee"), ●, in its capacity as the administrative agent for the Purchaser Groups (the "Administrative Agent"), the Non-Conduit Purchasers from time to time party hereto, the CP Conduit Purchasers from time to time party hereto, and the Funding Agents for the CP Conduit Purchaser Groups from time to time party hereto.

WHEREAS pursuant to the Trust Indenture, provision was made for the issuance of Notes from time to time;

AND WHEREAS pursuant to the Trust Indenture, the Notes may be issued in one or more Series by the execution and delivery of a Supplemental Indenture;

AND WHEREAS the parties hereto are entering into this Supplemental Indenture to provide for the creation and issuance of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes;

NOW THEREFORE THIS SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE WITNESSES and it is hereby covenanted, agreed and declared as follows:

ARTICLE 1
INTERPRETATION

1.1 Definitions

(a) For all purposes of this Supplemental Indenture, except as otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires, the terms defined in Schedule A hereto have the meanings assigned to them in Schedule A and include the plural as well as the singular.

(b) The provisions of Section 1.1 of the Trust Indenture are applicable to this Supplemental Indenture. All terms used herein which are defined in the Trust Indenture, either directly or by reference therein, have the meanings assigned to them therein.

1.2 Interpretation

Subject to the next following sentences, this Supplemental Indenture is supplemental to the Trust Indenture and the Trust Indenture shall be read in conjunction with this Supplemental Indenture and all of the provisions of the Trust Indenture shall apply to and shall have effect in connection with this Supplemental Indenture in the same manner as if all of the provisions of the Trust Indenture and of this Supplemental Indenture were contained in one instrument. This Supplemental Indenture shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be subject to the interpretative provisions contained in Article 1 of the Trust Indenture. If any terms of the Trust Indenture are inconsistent with the express terms or provisions hereof, the terms and provisions of the Trust Indenture shall be, solely in respect of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, amended and supplemented so as to be consistent herewith. The provisions of this Supplemental Indenture are applicable only in respect of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes and not the Notes of any other Series.

1.3 Application of this Supplemental Indenture

With respect to the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes only, the terms of the Trust Indenture are amended, supplemented, modified, restated and replaced to the extent applicable by the terms of this Supplemental Indenture in respect of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes in accordance with Section 1.2 above.

ARTICLE 2
PRINCIPAL TERMS

2.1 Creation of Series 2017-1 Senior Notes

There is hereby created a Series of Notes to be issued pursuant to the Trust Indenture and this Supplemental Indenture designated as the "Floating Rate Variable Funding Senior Notes, Series 2017-1."

2.2 Principal Terms

In addition to and without limiting all of the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture, the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes:

(a) will be designated as set out in Section 2.1;

(b) will be Senior Notes;

(c) will have a Stated Principal Amount equal to the Series 2017-1 Maximum Principal Amount;

(d) will not be issued in Classes or Tranches;

(e) will be denominated in Canadian dollars;

(f) will not be listed on any securities exchange;

(g) will have an Initial Dollar Principal Amount equal to the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount;

(h) will be issued as definitive notes and will not be in the form of a Global Note;

(i) will be issued as Registered Notes and will be without coupons;

(j) will be Senior Notes and will not be subordinated to any other Series, Class or Tranche of Notes;

(k) will be substantially in the form of Schedule B, with such appropriate insertions, omissions, substitutions and variations as may be approved by the Issuer Trustee;

(l) will have a Principal Payment Due Date that is the Series 2017-1 Principal Payment Due Date;

(m) will have a Principal Payment Default Date that is the Series 2017-1 Principal Payment Default Date; and

(n) will have no minimum issue amount.

ARTICLE 3
NOTE PURCHASE FACILITY

3.1 Purchase of Notes by the Purchasers

(a) Initial Purchases. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Supplemental Indenture, including delivery of notice in accordance with Section 3.3, (i) each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall purchase, and each CP Conduit Purchaser may, in its sole discretion, purchase a Series 2017-1 Senior Note in an amount equal to all or a portion of its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount on any Business Day during the period from the date hereof to and including [December 15, 2017], and if any such CP Conduit Purchaser shall have notified the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser that it has elected not to fund a Series 2017-1 Senior Note in an amount equal to its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount on the Series 2017-1 Closing Date, the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall fund on the Series 2017-1 Closing Date that portion of such Series 2017-1 Senior Note not to be funded by such CP Conduit Purchaser; and (ii) thereafter, (A) each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall maintain its Series 2017-1 Senior Note, subject to increase or decrease during the period from the Series 2017-1 Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in accordance with the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture, (B) if a CP Conduit Purchaser shall have purchased a Series 2017-1 Senior Note on the Series 2017-1 Closing Date, such CP Conduit Purchaser may, in its sole discretion, maintain its Series 2017-1 Senior Note, subject to increase or decrease during the period from the Series 2017-1 Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in accordance with the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture, and (C) the Group Bank shall maintain its Series 2017-1 Senior Note with respect to its Related Purchaser Group, subject to increase or decrease during the period from the Series 2017-1 Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in accordance with the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture. Payments by the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers and/or the Group Bank with respect to the CP Conduit Purchasers shall be made in immediately available funds on the Series 2017-1 Closing Date in accordance with Section 3.3(d).

(b) Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Supplemental Indenture, at no time shall a Purchaser Group be required to make the initial purchase of a Series 2017-1 Senior Note or increase its Purchaser Group Principal Amount if the sum of (x) Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group, after giving effect to such purchase or increase, and (y) the sum of any unfunded Delayed Amounts with respect to such Purchaser Group, would exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group at such time.

3.2 Delivery

(a) On the Series 2017-1 Closing Date (or on any later date that any Purchaser Group becomes a party to this Supplemental Indenture), Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall be executed, authenticated and delivered by the Issuer in accordance with Section 4.03 of the Trust Indenture (i) in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, in the name of the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group (or as otherwise requested by such CP Conduit Purchaser Group and agreed to by the Issuer) in an amount equal to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group and delivered to such Funding Agent; or (ii) in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, in the name of the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser in an amount equal to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Related Non-Conduit Purchaser Group and delivered to such Related Non-Conduit Purchaser.

(b) The Administrative Agent shall maintain a record of the actual Purchaser Group Principal Amount outstanding with respect to each Purchaser Group and the actual Series 2017-1 Principal Amount outstanding on any date of determination, which, absent manifest error, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the outstanding Purchaser Group Principal Amounts and outstanding Series 2017-1 Principal Amount from time to time. Upon a written request from the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent shall provide in writing the identity of the Purchaser Groups, the related Funding Agents for each CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the Purchaser Group Principal Amount for each Purchaser Group and the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group to the Indenture Trustee.

3.3 Procedure for Initial Issuance and for Increasing the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount

(a) (i) On any Business Day prior to [December 15, 2017], in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit Purchaser in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, that it will purchase a Series 2017-1 Senior Note for an initial purchase price equal to the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount upon the request of the Issuer (the date on which the initial purchase occurs being referred to as the "Series 2017-1 Closing Date"); provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable written notice (effective upon receipt), by telecopy (receipt confirmed), substantially in the form of Schedule C no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the third Business Day prior to the Series 2017-1 Closing Date. The written notice of the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall state (x) the Series 2017-1 Closing Date, and (y) the initial total purchase price to be paid for the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes (the "Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount"); and (ii) subject to Section 3.3(e), on any Business Day during the period from the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes hereunder to and including the Commitment Expiry Date, in the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit Purchaser in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees that the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group may be increased by an amount equal to the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group of the Increase Amount (an "Increase"), upon the request of the Issuer (each date on which an increase in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount occurs hereunder being herein referred to as the "Increase Date" applicable to such Increase); provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable (other than as specified in Section 3.3(e)) written notice (effective upon receipt), by telecopy (receipt confirmed), substantially in the form of Schedule C (an "Increase Notice") no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on (A) with respect to a Deferrable Increase Notice, the third Business Day prior to such Increase Date, or (B) with respect to a Non-Deferrable Increase Notice, the second Business Day prior to such Increase Date. Each Increase Notice shall state (x) the Increase Date, (y) the proposed amount of the increase in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount (an "Increase Amount"), (z) whether a Delayed Funding Notice may be delivered in connection with such Increase pursuant to Section 3.3(e) and whether the Increase is to fund a Transfer (a "Transfer Increase") or is in respect of a Refinancing (a "Refinancing Increase"). The Commitment Percentage with respect to any Purchaser Group of the Increase Amount set forth in any Non-Deferrable Increase Notice shall not exceed such Purchaser Group's Non-Deferrable Draw Amount as of the related Increase Date.

(b) If a CP Conduit Purchaser elects not to fund the full amount of its Commitment Percentage of a requested Increase, such CP Conduit Purchaser shall notify the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser, and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall fund the portion of the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Related Purchaser Group of such Increase not funded by such CP Conduit Purchaser.

(c) No Purchaser Group shall be required to increase its Purchaser Group Principal Amount on any Increase Date hereunder unless:

(i) such Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of such Increase Amount is equal to (A) $[1,000,000] or more, or (B) if less, the excess of the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group over the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group; and

(ii) after giving effect to such Increase Amount, the sum of the (x) the Purchaser Group Principal Amount, and (y) any unfunded Delayed Amounts with respect to such Purchaser Group would not exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group;

(d) Upon receipt of any notice required by Section 3.3(a) or permitted by Section 3.3(e) from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall forward (by telecopy or electronic messaging system) a copy of such notice to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group (or, with respect to any notice pursuant to Section 3.3(e) requiring a Delayed Funding Purchaser Group to decrease its Delayed Amount, the applicable Non-Conduit Purchaser or Funding Agent), no later than [5:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the day received. After receipt by any Funding Agent with respect to a CP Conduit Purchaser Group of such notice from the Administrative Agent, such Funding Agent shall, so long as the conditions set forth in Sections 3.3(a) and (c) and Article 4 are satisfied, promptly provide telephonic notice to the related CP Conduit Purchaser and the related Group Bank, of the Increase Date and of such CP Conduit Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Closing Date or Increase Amount, as applicable. Subject to Section 3.3(e), if such CP Conduit Purchaser elects to fund all or a portion of its Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or the Increase Amount, as applicable, such CP Conduit Purchaser shall pay in immediately available funds its Commitment Percentage (or any portion thereof) of the amount of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or Increase Amount, as applicable, on the Series 2017-1 Closing Date or the related Increase Date, as applicable, to the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group for remittance to the Indenture Trustee for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h). Subject to Section 3.3(e), if such CP Conduit Purchaser does not fund the full amount of the Commitment Percentage of such CP Conduit Purchaser Group of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or an Increase Amount, as applicable, and the related Group Bank is required to fund the portion thereof not funded by the CP Conduit Purchaser, such Group Bank shall pay in immediately available funds such portion on the Series 2017-1 Closing Date or the related Increase Date, as applicable, to the Funding Agent with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Each Funding Agent shall remit the amounts received by it from its CP Conduit Purchaser or the related Group Bank pursuant to this Section 3.3(d) to the Indenture Trustee for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h). Subject to Section 3.3(e), so long as the conditions set forth in Sections 3.3(a) and (c) and Article 4 are satisfied, each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall pay in immediately available funds the Commitment Percentage of such Non-Conduit Purchaser of the amount of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount or Increase Amount, as applicable, on the Series 2017-1 Closing Date or the Increase Date, as applicable, to the Indenture Trustee for application in accordance with Section 3.3(h).

(e) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser who shall have previously notified the Issuer in writing that it or any related Program Support Provider may, in the absence of the Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser having the ability to deliver Delayed Funding Notices hereunder, incur charges under, or in anticipation of, Basel III (which may include external charges incurred by the Group Bank, Non-Conduit Purchaser or Program Support Provider or internal charges incurred by any of their businesses) in respect of its Commitment hereunder or any agreement to support such Commitment, or in respect of its interest in the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, based on its "liquidity coverage ratio" calculated under Basel III, may, upon receipt of any Deferrable Increase Notice pursuant to Section 3.3(a), notify the Issuer in writing (a "Delayed Funding Notice") on or prior to [12:00 noon] (Toronto time) on the second Business Day preceding the related Increase Date, of its intent to fund an amount up to its Commitment Percentage of the related Increase Amount (such amount, subject to any adjustment described below, the "Delayed Amount") on a Business Day that is on or before the thirty-third (33rd) day following the Increase Date specified in such Deferrable Increase Notice (the "Delayed Funding Date") rather than on such Increase Date. If any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer following the Issuer's delivery of an Increase Notice pursuant to Section 3.3(a), the Issuer may with written notice to the Administrative Agent delivered prior to 3:00 pm on the second Business Day preceding such Increase Date, (x) decrease the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice (or revoke such Deferrable Increase Notice by decreasing the Increase Amount to zero), and/or (y) require any Group Bank or Non-Conduit Purchaser who has provided a Delayed Funding Notice to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase by an amount no greater than the Non-Deferrable Draw Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group as of the related Increase Date. In the event that the Increase Amount with respect to such Deferrable Increase Notice is reduced, but not to zero, then any Delayed Amount with respect to any Purchaser Group shall be reduced on a pro rata basis unless otherwise specified by the Issuer pursuant to clause (y) above. No Purchaser Group that has provided a Delayed Funding Notice in respect of an Increase (each a "Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") shall be considered to be in default of its obligation to fund its Delayed Amount pursuant to this Section 3.3 unless and until it has failed to fund the Delayed Amount (and/or the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount) on or before the Delayed Funding Date.

(f) If (i) one or more Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups provides a Delayed Funding Notice to the Issuer in respect of any Increase Date; and (ii) the Issuer shall not have decreased the related Increase Amount to zero or required each such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group to reduce the Delayed Amount with respect to such Increase to zero, in each case, pursuant to Section 3.3(e), the Administrative Agent shall, by no later than [12:00 noon] (Toronto time) on the Business Day preceding such Increase Date, direct each Purchaser Group that is not a Delayed Funding Purchaser Group with respect to such Increase Date (each a "Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group") to fund an additional portion of such Increase Amount on such Increase Date equal to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group's proportionate share (based upon the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group relative to the sum of the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts with respect to all Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups) of the aggregate Delayed Amounts with respect to such Increase Date; provided that no Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall be required to fund any portion of the aggregate Delayed Amounts that would cause its Purchaser Group Principal Amount to exceed its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount. Subject to Section 3.3(a), in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a Non-Conduit Purchaser, such Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, or, in the case of a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group that is a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, the CP Conduit in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group may agree, in its sole discretion, and the Group Bank in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group hereby agrees, to fund such portion of the Increase Amount on such Increase Date.

(g) After the Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Groups fund a Delayed Amount on any Increase Date in accordance with Section 3.3(f), the Delayed Funding Purchaser Group in respect of such Delayed Amount will be obligated to fund the Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount with respect to such Delayed Amount on or before its Delayed Funding Date, irrespective of whether the Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date shall have occurred on or prior to such Delayed Funding Date or the Issuer would be able to satisfy the conditions set forth in Section 3.3(c) to an Increase in an amount equal to such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date. Such Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall fund such Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount on such Delayed Funding Date by paying such amount to the Administrative Agent in immediately available funds, and the Administrative Agent shall distribute such funds to each such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group, pro rata based on the relative amount of such Delayed Amount funded by such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group on such Increase Date pursuant to Section 3.3(f).

(h) The Indenture Trustee shall apply amounts paid to it pursuant to Section 3.3(d) in the following order of priority:

(i) As to an amount equal to the Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Required Amount, by deposit to the Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account; and

(ii) as to the balance, in respect of the proceeds of the initial purchase of the Series 2017-1 Notes or a Transfer Increase, by application to payment of the purchase price payable by the Issuer to the IESO under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement in respect of the related Transfer and, in respect of the proceeds of a Refinancing Increase, by deposit to the Refinancing Account.

3.4 Procedure for Decreasing the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount; Optional Termination

(a) In the case of a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Related Non-Conduit Purchaser hereby agrees, and in the case of a CP Conduit Purchaser Group, each of the CP Conduit Purchasers and the Group Bank in such CP Conduit Purchaser Group hereby agrees, that the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group may be decreased by an amount equal to the Commitment Percentage with respect to such Purchaser Group of a Decrease Amount (a "Decrease"), upon the request of the Issuer. Each date on which a Decrease in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount occurs hereunder being herein referred to as the"Decrease Date" applicable to such Decrease; provided, however, that the Issuer shall have given the Administrative Agent (with a copy to the Indenture Trustee) irrevocable written notice (effective upon receipt), by telecopy (receipt confirmed), substantially in the form of Schedule D (a "Decrease Notice") no later than [3:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the second Business Day prior to such Decrease Date. Each Decrease Notice shall state (x) the Decrease Date, (y) the proposed amount of the decrease in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount (a "Decrease Amount"), and (z) whether the Decrease is being funded with the proceeds of a Refinancing (a "Refinancing Decrease") or pursuant to the application of collected Clean Energy Adjustments (a "CEA Decrease").

(b) Upon each Decrease, the Administrative Agent shall indicate in its records such Decrease and the Purchaser Group Principal Amount outstanding with respect to each Purchaser Group after giving effect to such Decrease. Upon receipt of any notice required by this Section 3.4(a) from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall forward (by telecopy or electronic messaging system) a copy of such notice to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group, no later than [1:00 p.m.] (Toronto time) on the Business Day received.

(c) On any Business Day, the Issuer shall have the right to deliver an irrevocable written notice (an "Optional Termination Notice") to the Administrative Agent in which the Issuer declares that the Commitments shall terminate on the date (the "Optional Termination Date") set forth in such notice (which date, in any event, shall be a Payment Date not less than twenty Business Days from the date on which such notice is delivered). Upon receipt of any Optional Termination Notice from the Issuer, the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group thereof.

3.5 Increases and Reductions of the Commitments

(a) The Issuer may from time to time request that any Purchaser Group agree to increase its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount. An increase in such amount shall be effective hereunder if such Purchaser Group shall have agreed in its sole discretion to such increase.

(b) On any Business Day, the Issuer may, upon two (2) Business Days' prior written notice to the Administrative Agent (effective upon receipt) (with copies to the Indenture Trustee) reduce the Series 2017-1 Maximum Principal Amount in an amount equal to $[10,000,000] or a whole multiple of $[1,000,000] in excess thereof; provided that no such termination or reduction shall be permitted if, after giving effect thereto and to any reduction in the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount on such date, the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to any Purchaser Group would exceed the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group then in effect. Any reduction in the Series 2017-1 Maximum Principal Amount shall be made on a pro rata basis to the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts with respect to the Purchaser Groups, based on the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to each Purchaser Group. Once reduced, the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amounts may not be subsequently reinstated without each such Purchaser Group's prior written consent, which consent shall be granted or not in the sole discretion of such Purchaser Group.

(c) The Issuer may extend the Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date only with the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent, each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each Funding Agent.

3.6 Interest; Fees and Other Amounts

(a) Interest shall be payable on the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes on each Payment Date.

(b) The Issuer shall pay to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser, on each Payment Date, a commitment fee with respect to the preceding Billing Period (the "Commitment Fee") during the period from the Series 2017-1 Closing Date to and including the Commitment Expiry Date in an amount equal to the sum of the following amounts calculated for each day during such Billing Period: (x) the Commitment Fee Rate, multiplied by (y) the amount by which Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on such day exceeds the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on such day, and divided by (z) 365. The Commitment Fees shall be payable monthly in arrears on each Payment Date.

(c) The Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser shall provide written notice to the Issuer no later than two Business Days prior to each Payment Date, setting forth the Monthly Interest, Fees and Other Amounts with respect to its Related Purchaser Group with respect to the preceding Billing Period.

(d) On each Payment Date, the Monthly Interest, Fees and Other Amounts shall be the amount payable in respect of the Series 2017-1 Notes pursuant to Section 7.04(e)(ii)(A) of the Trust Indenture or Section 8.13(b)(A) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable. On each Payment Date the Indenture Trustee shall, subject to availability of funds, pay to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group and each Non-Conduit Purchaser its Monthly Interest, Fees and Other Amounts with respect to the preceding Billing Period.

(e) If on any Payment Date when distributions of collections are being made under Section 7.04(e)(ii)(A) of the Trust Indenture the amount available to pay Monthly Interest, Fees and Other Amounts under such section is less the Monthly Interest, Fees and Other Amounts, an amount equal to the lesser of (x) such deficiency, and (y) the balance on deposit in the Series

2017-1 Cash Reserve Account shall be withdrawn from the Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account and applied to the payment of Monthly Interest, Fees and Other Amounts pursuant to Section 3.6(d).

(f) If the amounts deposited to the Series 2017-1 Distribution Account pursuant to Section 3.6(d) and amounts available pursuant to Section 3.6(e) are insufficient to pay all such amounts in full, the amount available shall be applied in the following order of priority:

(i) Firstly, in respect of Monthly Interest and if insufficient funds are available to pay Monthly Interest in full, to all Purchaser Groups, pro rata based on the amount of Monthly Interest owing to each Purchaser Group;

(ii) Secondly, in respect of Commitment Fees and if insufficient funds are available to pay Commitment Fees in full to all Purchaser Groups, pro rata based on the amount of Commitment Fees owing to each Purchaser Group; and

(iii) Thirdly, in respect of all other amounts owing to the Purchaser Groups and if insufficient funds are available to pay all other amounts owing in full to all Purchaser Groups, pro rata based on the amount of the other amounts owing to each Purchaser Group.

3.7 Repayment of Principal

(a) On each Payment Date, the Payment Date Waterfall Principal Amount shall be the principal amount payable in respect of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes pursuant to Section 7.04(e)(iii)(A) of the Trust Indenture or Section 8.13(c)(A) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable. On each Payment Date the Indenture Trustee shall, subject to availability of funds, pay to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each Funding Agent with respect to its Related Purchaser Group, such Purchaser Group's Pro Rata Share of the funds allocated to the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes pursuant to Section 7.04(e)(iii)(A) of the Trust Indenture or Section 8.13(c)(A) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable in repayment of the principal amount of the Series 2017-1 Notes.

(b) If on any Payment Date the amount available to the Purchaser Groups pursuant to Section 7.04(e)(iii)(A) of the Trust Indenture or Section 8.13(c)(A) of the Trust Indenture, as applicable, is less than the Payment Date Waterfall Principal Amount, an amount equal to the lesser of (x) such deficiency, and (y) the balance on deposit in the Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account shall be withdrawn from the Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account and applied to the repayment of principal amount of the Series 2017-1 Notes.

(c) On each Decrease Date in respect of a Refinancing Decrease Date, the Issuer shall pay to each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each Funding Agent with respect to its Related Purchaser Group, such Purchaser Group's Pro Rata Share of the Decrease Amount.

3.8 Indemnification by the Issuer

The Issuer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent, each Funding Agent, each CP Conduit Purchaser, the Group Bank, each Non-Conduit Purchaser and each of their respective officers, directors, agents and employees (each, an "Issuer indemnified person") from and against any loss, liability, expense, damage or injury suffered or sustained by such Issuer indemnified person by reason of (a) any acts, omissions or alleged acts or omissions arising out of, or relating to, activities of the Issuer pursuant to the Program Agreements to which it is a party; (b) a breach of any representation or warranty made or deemed made by the Issuer (or any of its officers) in any Program Agreement; or (c) a failure by the Issuer to comply with any applicable law or regulation or to perform its covenants, agreements, duties or obligations required to be performed or observed by it in accordance with the provisions of the Program Agreements, including, but not limited to, any judgment, award, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other reasonable costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, proceeding or claim, except to the extent such loss, liability, expense, damage or injury resulted from the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of such Issuer indemnified person or its officers, directors, agents, principals, employees or employers or includes any Excluded Taxes; provided that any payments made by the Issuer pursuant to this Section 3.8 shall be made solely from funds available pursuant to Section [7.04] of the Trust Indenture, shall be non-recourse other than with respect to such funds, and shall not constitute a claim against the Issuer to the extent that such funds are insufficient to make such payment.

3.9 Funding Agents

(a) The Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group is hereby authorized to determine the Monthly Interest and Fees with respect to each Billing Period and such CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Any such determination by a Funding Agent, absent manifest error, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the accuracy of the calculation. Furthermore, the Funding Agent with respect to each CP Conduit Purchaser Group will maintain records sufficient to identify the percentage interest of the related CP Conduit Purchaser and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser Group holding an interest in the Series 2017-1 Senior Note registered in the name of such Funding Agent and any amounts owing thereunder.

(b) Upon receipt of funds on each Payment Date and the date of any Decrease, each Funding Agent shall pay such funds to the related CP Conduit Purchaser and/or the related Group Bank owed such funds. If a Funding Agent shall have paid to any CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank any funds that (i) must be returned for any reason (including bankruptcy); or (ii) exceeds that which such CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank was entitled to receive, such amount shall be promptly repaid to such Funding Agent by such CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank.

3.10 Taxes

(a) All payments by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder shall, to the extent allowed by law, be made free and clear of, and without deduction or withholding for or on account of, any present or future income, stamp or other taxes, levies, imposts, duties, charges, fees, deductions or withholdings, now or hereafter imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by any Governmental Authority (collectively, "Taxes"), excluding (i) income taxes (including branch profit taxes, minimum taxes and taxes computed under alternative methods, at least one of which is based on or measured by net income), franchise taxes (imposed in lieu of income taxes), or any other taxes based on or measured by the net income of the Purchaser (but specifically excluding any taxes required to be withheld under Section 1446 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (as amended, the "Code")) as a result of a present or former connection between the recipient and the jurisdiction of the governmental authority imposing such tax (other than any such connection arising solely from the recipient having executed, delivered or performed its obligations or received a payment under, disposed of, or enforced, this Supplemental Indenture); and (ii) any Taxes imposed under FATCA (as defined below) (including in the case of (i) and (ii), any interest, penalties and additions to tax) (all such excluded taxes being hereinafter called "Excluded Taxes"). If any Taxes, other than Excluded Taxes, are required to be withheld from any amounts payable to a recipient hereunder, the amounts so payable to the recipient shall be increased, and the recipient shall be entitled to be paid by the Issuer the amount of such increase to the extent necessary to yield to the recipient (after payment of all such Taxes other than Excluded Taxes) interest or any such other amounts payable hereunder or thereunder at the rates or in the amounts specified hereunder. Where the amount payable by the Issuer is increased in accordance with the previous sentence, the Monthly Interest and Fees shall be increased by the amount of such increase. Whenever any Taxes are payable on or with respect to amounts distributed to a recipient, as promptly as possible thereafter the Issuer shall send to such recipient a certified copy of an original official receipt showing payment thereof.

(b) If a payment by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder would be subject to U.S. federal withholding Tax imposed by provisions of Chapter 4 of the Code ("FATCA") if the recipient of such payment were to fail to comply with the applicable reporting requirements of FATCA (including those contained in Section 1471(b) or 1472(b) of the Code, as applicable), such recipient shall deliver to the Issuer at the time or times prescribed by law and at such time or times reasonably requested by the Issuer such documentation prescribed by applicable law (including as prescribed by Section 1471(b)(3)(C)(i) of the Code) and such additional documentation reasonably requested by the Issuer as may be necessary for the Issuer to comply with their obligations under FATCA and to determine that such recipient has complied with it's obligations under FATCA or to determine the amount to deduct and withhold from such payment. If any form or certification it previously delivered by a recipient expires or becomes obsolete or inaccurate in any respect, the recipient shall update such form or certification or promptly notify the Issuer in writing of its legal inability to do so.

(c) If a recipient is legally entitled to receive a refund of any Taxes (other than Excluded Taxes) as to which it has been indemnified or with respect to which additional amounts have been paid to it hereunder or it is legally entitled to receive a credit or deduction with respect to such Taxes or with respect to such additional amounts that have been paid hereunder (in each case pursuant to Section 3.10(a)), it shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain or claim such refund, credit or deduction and pay over such refund or the value of such credit or deduction to the Issuer, together with any interest thereon.

3.11 Increased Costs

(a) (i) If any Regulatory Change (x) subjects any Non-Conduit Purchaser, CP Conduit Purchaser, Group Bank Purchaser or any Program Support Party (an "Affected Person") to any charge or withholding on or with respect to any Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture or an Affected Person's obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or changes the basis of taxation of payments to any Affected Person of any amounts payable under any Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture Agreement (except for changes in the rate of tax on the overall net income of an Affected Person or Excluded Taxes) or (y) imposes, modifies or deems applicable any reserve, assessment, fee, tax, insurance charge, special deposit or similar requirement against assets of, deposits with or for the account of, or liabilities of an Affected Person, or credit extended by an Affected Person pursuant to a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture or (z) imposes any other condition the result of which is to increase the cost to an Affected Person of performing its obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to reduce the rate of return on an Affected Person's capital or assets as a consequence of its obligations under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to reduce the amount of any sum received or receivable by an Affected Person under a Support Facility or this Supplemental Indenture, or to require any payment calculated by reference to the amount of interests or loans held or interest received by it, then, upon written request by such Affected Party (through the Funding Agent for its Purchaser Group if the Affected Party is a Program Support Provider, CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank) of a written request therefore to the Issuer, such Affected Party (through the Funding Agent for its Purchaser Group if the Affected Party is a Program Support Provider, CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank) shall be entitled to be paid, such amounts charged to such Affected Party or such amounts to otherwise compensate such Affected for such increased cost or such reduction, no later than the Payment Date following receipt by the Issuer of such request for compensation under this Section 3.11(a)(i), if such request is received by the Issuer no later than five (5) Business Days prior to the end of the Billing Period related to such Payment Date, and otherwise on the following Payment Date.

(ii) The Issuer acknowledges that any Affected Party may implement, as an internal institutional matter, measures in anticipation of a final or proposed Regulatory Change (including, without limitation, the imposition of internal charges on such Affected Party's interest or obligations under any Support Agreement or this Supplemental Indenture) and may commence recognizing the incurrence of charges by and seeking compensation under Section 3.11(a)(i) in connection with such measures, in advance of the effective date of such final or proposed Regulatory Change, and the Issuer agrees that such charges or compensation shall be payable, to the related Funding Agent, for the benefit of Affected Party, following demand therefor without regard to whether such proposed Regulatory Change has been adopted or whether such effective date has occurred; provided, that (I) the Affected Party shall provide sixty (60) days prior written notice to the Issuer of its intent to impose or incur any such charges or compensation, (II) an Affected Party shall not be compensated for any such amount pursuant to this subsection 3.11(a)(ii) relating to any period ending, and of which such Affected Party has had knowledge, more than ninety (90) days prior to the date that such Affected Party provided the Issuer with the written notice contemplated by the preceding clause (I) of this subsection 3.11(a)(ii), (III) if, after the payment by the Trust of any charges or compensation pursuant to this subsection 3.11(a)(ii), either (A) the Issuer requests in writing that the applicable Affected Party recompute any such charge or compensation in light of differences between a proposed Regulatory Change and the final effective version thereof or (B) the applicable Affected Party determines that the amount of the charge imposed on and required to be compensated by the Issuer exceeds the amount necessary to compensate it for the applicable Regulatory Change as contemplated by subsection 3.11(a)(i), then (x) the amount of such charge or compensation shall, from and after such determination, be reduced by the amount of such excess and (y) such Affected Party shall, within thirty (30) days of such determination, either repay the amount of such excess or credit the amount of such excess against future charges under this subsection 3.11(a)(ii). The Issuer further acknowledges that any charge or compensation demanded hereunder may take the form of a monthly charge to be assessed by such Affected Party.

(b) Each Affected Party claiming increased amounts described in subsection 3.11(a) of this Supplemental Indenture will furnish to the Issuer (together with its request for compensation) a certificate prepared in good faith setting forth the basis and the calculation of the amount (in reasonable detail) of each request by such Affected Party for any such increased amounts referred to in subsection 3.11(a) hereof. Any such certificate shall be conclusive absent manifest error. Failure on the part of any Affected Party to demand compensation for any amount pursuant to subsection 3.11(a) hereof with respect to any period shall not constitute a waiver of such Affected Party's right to demand compensation with respect to such period.

4.1 Conditions Precedent to Initial Purchase of Series 2017-1 Senior Notes

On or prior to the initial purchase of Series 2017-1 Senior Notes hereunder, the following conditions precedent shall be satisfied:

(a) Each of the conditions precedent set forth in Section 5.01 of the Trust Indenture in respect of the incurrence of Funding Obligations under this Supplemental Indenture shall have been satisfied.

(b) The Administrative Agent and each of the Funding Agents shall have received:

(i) executed copies of the Fee Letter, this Supplemental Indenture, the Manager Indemnity and copies of each of the other Program Agreements certified by an Authorized Officer of the Manager;

(ii) evidence that each of the Issuer Trustee, the IESO and the Manager is validly existing pursuant to the laws of the jurisdiction of their respective establishment or incorporation;

(iii) a copy of the incorporating documents and all amendments thereto and applicable by-laws of each of the Issuer Trustee, the IESO and the Manager certified by an Authorized Officer of the applicable entity;

(iv) a copy of the Declaration of Trust certified by an Authorized Officer of the Manager;

(v) copies of resolutions of the board of directors of the IESO and the Manager approving and authorizing the execution, delivery and performance of each Program Agreement they are party to, in each case certified by an Authorized Officer of the applicable entity;

(vi) incumbency certificates for each of the Issuer Trustee, the Manager and the IESO executing this Supplemental Indenture and any other Program Agreements and the other documents to be delivered by either the Issuer Trustee, the Manager or the IESO thereunder, in each case showing their names, offices and specimen signatures on which certificates the Administrative Agent and the Purchaser Groups shall be entitled to conclusively rely until such time as the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agents receive a replacement certificate meeting the requirements of this Section 4.1(b)(vi);

(vii) the following Opinions of Counsel:

(A) the opinion of external counsel to the Manager as to the non-consolidation of the Issuer with the Manager in the event of the insolvency of the Manager in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agents;

(B) the opinion of external counsel to the IESO as to the Investment Asset acquired by the Issuer not being subject to the claims of creditors of the IESO in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and the Funding Agents;

(C) favourable opinions of external counsel to the Manager covering general corporate matters, the due execution and delivery of, and the enforceability of, each of the Program Agreements to which the Manager, the Issuer and the Issuer Trustee are party which opinion, as to certain matters, may rely on opinion of internal counsel to the Manager and the Issuer Trustee; and

(D) a favourable opinion of external counsel to the Province with respect to the due authorization, execution, delivery and enforceability of the Provincial Protection and Assurances Agreement in form and substance satisfactory to the Administration Agent and the Funding Agents;

(viii) a certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Manager confirming that the representations and warranties set forth in Section 12.01 of the Trust Indenture and Section 6.1 of this Supplemental Indenture are true and correct in all material respects, that the Issuer is in compliance in all material respects with all of its covenants and obligations under the Program Agreements to which it is a party and that no Termination Event has occurred; and

(ix) such additional documents, instruments, certificates or letters as the Administrative Agent or any Funding Agent may reasonably request.

(c) The Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account shall have been established.

(d) The representations and warranties set forth in Section 12.01 of the Trust Indenture and Section 6.1 of this Supplemental Indenture shall be true and correct in all material respects, the Issuer shall be compliance in all material respects with all of its covenants and obligations under the Program Agreements to which it is a party and no Termination Event shall have occurred.

(e) The Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall have been duly issued in accordance with the Trust Indenture and each Funding Agent and Non-Conduit Purchaser shall have received its Series 2017-1 Senior Note registered in its name or a nominee in a face amount equal to its Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount.

(f) An amount equal to the Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Required Amount shall have been deposited to the Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account.

(g) After giving effect to the purchase, the covenant of the Issuer in Section 7.1(d) will be satisfied.

(h) All fees payable on or before the Series 2017-1 Closing Date pursuant to the Fee Letter shall have been paid in full.

(i) The Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied in respect of the initial purchase.

4.2 Conditions Precedent to Each Increase under Series 2017-1 Senior Notes

On or prior to each Increase, the following conditions precedent shall be satisfied:

(a) the Administrative Agent shall have received an Increase Notice;

(b) no Termination Event shall have occurred or would occur after giving effect to such Increase;

(c) the Increase Date in respect of the Increase is prior to the Commitment Expiry Date;

(d) if the Increase is identified as a Transfer Increase in the Increase Notice, then the related Transfer under the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement shall have been completed.

(e) after giving effect to the Increase, the covenant of the Issuer in Section 7.1(d) will be satisfied.

The Issuer's acceptance of funds in connection with each Increase occurring on any Increase Date shall constitute a representation and warranty by the Issuer to the Administrative Agent and the Purchaser Groups as of such Increase Date that all of the conditions contained in Section 3.3(a) and this Section 4.2 are satisfied.

ARTICLE 5
ESTABLISHMENT OF ACCOUNTS

5.1 Establishment of Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account

On or before the Series 2017-1 Closing Date, the Issuer shall cause to be established and maintained an Eligible Deposit Account (the "Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account") in the name of the Indenture Trustee, bearing a designation clearly indicating that the funds and other property credited thereto are held for the benefit of the Indenture Trustee and the Series 2017-1 Specified Creditors. The Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account shall be under the control of the Indenture Trustee for the benefit of the Indenture Trustee and the Series 2017-1 Specified Creditors. If, at any time, the institution holding the Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account ceases to be an Eligible Institution, the Manager shall notify the Indenture Trustee, and the Indenture Trustee upon being notified in writing of such ineligibility (or the Manager on its behalf) shall within 30 calendar days (or such longer period, not to exceed 45 calendar days, so long as the Rating Agency Condition is satisfied) establish a new Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account that is an Eligible Deposit Account and shall transfer any funds or other property from such Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account to such new Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account. From the date each such new Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account is established, it shall be the "Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account." The Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account is a Finance Reserve Account for the purposes of the Trust Indenture.

5.2 Series Account

The Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account is established solely for the benefit of the Series 2017-1 Notes and the holders thereof.

5.3 Waterfall Deposits to Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account

On each Payment Date when distributions of collections are being made under Section 7.04(e) of the Trust Indenture, the Paying Agent shall deposit to the Series 2017-1 Cash Reserve Account an amount equal to the Cash Reserve Required Deposit Amount pursuant to Section 7.04(e)(iv) of the Trust Indenture.

ARTICLE 6
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

6.1 Representations and Warranties of the Issuer

The Issuer hereby represents and warrants to the Administrative Agent and the Purchaser Groups as of the Series 2017-1 Closing Date, and shall be deemed to represent and warrant to the Administrative Agent and the Purchaser Groups on each Increase Date, that:

(a) no Termination Event has occurred or would result from the initial purchase of the Issuer Investment Interest on the Series 2017-1 Closing Date or any increase in the Issuer Investment Interest on an Increase Date, as applicable;

(b) the Issuer Trustee and the Issuer are not non-residents of Canada within the meaning of the Income Tax Act (Canada);

(c) all tax returns (federal, provincial and local) required to be filed with respect to the Issuer have been filed and there has been paid or adequate provision made for the payment of all material taxes, assessments and other governmental charges in respect of the Issuer;

(d) the Issuer has not changed its name and the Declaration of Trust has neither been amended nor rescinded other than as consented to by the holders of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes;

(e) the Issuer has complied in all material respects with all laws in respect of the conduct of its business and ownership of its property including the Issuer Investment Interest;

(f) all information provided to the Administrative Agent and the Purchaser Groups by or on behalf of the Issuer in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest is and will be true and accurate in all material respects;

(g) there has been no material adverse change in the condition (financial or otherwise), business, operations, results of operations, or the property of the Issuer; and

(h) the Issuer does not own or hold, directly or indirectly, any shares or equity security of, or any equity interest in, any Person.

6.2 Representations and Warranties of the Purchasers

Each Purchaser represents and warrants to the Issuer as of the Series 2017-1 Closing Date, and shall be deemed to represent and warrant to the Issuer on each Increase Date, that:

(a) it is resident in Ontario or is otherwise subject to the securities legislation of the Province of Ontario;

(b) it is purchasing the applicable Series 2017-1 Senior Notes (i) as principal for its own account and not for the benefit of any other "person" (as defined in the Securities Act (Ontario)) or company; and (ii) for cash consideration in excess of $150,000; and

(c) it was not created and is not being used solely to purchase or hold securities in reliance on the exemption from the prospectus and dealer registration requirements contained in Section 2.10 of National Instrument 45-106 − Prospectus and Registration Exemptions.

6.3 Survival

The representations and warranties set out in this Article 4 shall survive the execution hereof.

ARTICLE 7
COVENANTS

7.1 Covenants of the Issuer

(a) The Issuer shall provide to the Administrative Agent, each Funding Agent and each Non-Conduit Purchaser (in multiple copies if requested) as soon as possible, copies of all reports, notices, financial statements and other documents delivered by the IESO to the Issuer with respect to the Issuer Investment Interest or pursuant to the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement.

(b) The Issuer shall provide to the Administrative Agent, each Funding Agent and each Non-Conduit Purchaser (in multiple copies, if requested) such other information, documents, records or reports respecting the Issuer Investment Interest, the Issuer or the IESO which is in the possession or under the control of the Issuer or the Manager as the Administrative Agent, a Funding Agent or a Non-Conduit Purchaser may from time to time reasonably request.

(c) The Issuer shall furnish to the Administrative Agent, each Funding Agent and each Non-Conduit Purchaser promptly after known to the Issuer or the Manager, information with respect to any action, suit or proceeding involving the Manager, the Issuer or the IESO or any of their respective Affiliates by or before any court or any Governmental Authority which, if adversely determined, would have a material and adverse effect on such party or the transactions contemplated by, or such party's ability to perform its obligations under, this Supplemental Indenture or the other Program Agreements.

(d) The Issuer will, at all time, cause the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Subordinated Funding Obligations and Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations to be not less than [49]% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all Issuer Funding Obligations.

(e) The Issuer will not make any amendments to the agreements governing any outstanding Subordinated Funding Obligations or Junior Subordinated Funding Obligations without the prior written consent of the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders.

(f) The Issuer confirms that this Supplemental Indenture is a Warehouse Facility Agreement. The Issuer will not enter into any other Warehouse Facility Agreement creating Senior Funding Obligations without the prior written consent of the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders unless the Commitment Expiry Date has occurred.

ARTICLE 8
AGENTS

8.1 Administrative Agent

(a) Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Administrative Agent as the agent of such Person under this Supplemental Indenture and irrevocably authorizes the Administrative Agent, in such capacity, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to the Administrative Agent by the terms of this Supplemental Indenture, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Supplemental Indenture, the Administrative Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent, and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Supplemental Indenture or otherwise exist against the Administrative Agent.

(b) The Administrative Agent may execute any of its duties under this Supplemental Indenture by or through agents or attorneys in fact and shall be entitled to advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties. The Administrative Agent shall not be responsible for the negligence or misconduct of any agents or attorneys-in-fact selected by it with reasonable care.

(c) Neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates shall be (i) liable for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such Person under or in connection with the Trust Indenture, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement (except to the extent that any of the foregoing are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from its or such Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct) or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks or the Funding Agents for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by the Issuer, the IESO, the Manager or any officer thereof contained in this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement, or for any failure of any of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO to perform its obligations hereunder or thereunder. The Administrative Agent shall not be under any obligation to any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement or to inspect the properties, books or records of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO.

(d) The Administrative Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter or telecopy message, statement, order or other document or conversation believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper Person or Persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including, without limitation, counsel to the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO), independent accountants and other experts selected by the Administrative Agent.

(e) The Administrative Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Termination Event unless the Administrative Agent has received written notice from a Non-Conduit Purchaser, a CP Conduit Purchaser, a Group Bank, a Funding Agent, the Issuer or the Manager referring to the Trust Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture, describing such Termination Event and stating that such notice is a "notice of a Termination Event". In the event that the Administrative Agent receives such a notice, the Administrative Agent shall give notice thereof to the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the Funding Agents, the Issuer Trustee and the Manager.

(f) Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents expressly acknowledges that neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by the Administrative Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by the Administrative Agent to any such Person. Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents represents to the Administrative Agent that it has, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent or any other Non-Conduit Purchaser, CP Conduit Purchaser, Group Bank or Funding Agent and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own appraisal of and investigation into the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO and made its own decision to enter into this Supplemental Indenture. Each of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents also represents that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent or any other Non-Conduit Purchaser, CP Conduit Purchaser, Group Bank or Funding Agent, and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements, and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO. Except for notices, reports and other documents expressly required to be furnished to the Non-Conduit Purchasers and the Funding Agents by the Administrative Agent hereunder, the Administrative Agent shall have no duty or responsibility to provide any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any CP Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Funding Agent with any credit or other information concerning the business, operations, property, condition (financial or otherwise), prospects or creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO which may come into the possession of the Administrative Agent or any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates.

(g) The Administrative Agent and its Affiliates may make loans to, accept deposits from and generally engage in any kind of business with the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO as though the Administrative Agent were not the Administrative Agent hereunder. With respect to any Series 2017-1 Senior Note held by the Administrative Agent, the Administrative Agent shall have the same rights and powers under this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements as any Group Bank or Funding Agent and may exercise the same as though it were not the Administrative Agent, and the terms "Group Bank," and "Funding Agent" shall include the Administrative Agent in its individual capacity.

(h) The Administrative Agent may resign as Administrative Agent at any time by giving 30 days' notice to the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the Funding Agents, the Indenture Trustee, the Issuer and the Manager. If ● shall resign as Administrative Agent under this Supplemental Indenture, then the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders shall appoint a successor administrative agent from among the Non-Conduit Purchasers and Funding Agents, whereupon such successor agent shall succeed to the rights, powers and duties of the Administrative Agent, and the term "Administrative Agent" shall mean such successor agent effective upon such appointment and approval, and the former Administrative Agent's rights, powers and duties as Administrative Agent shall be terminated, without any other or further act or deed on the part of such former Administrative Agent or any of the parties to this Supplemental Indenture. If no successor administrative agent has accepted appointment as Administrative Agent prior to the effective date of the resignation of the Administrative Agent, the retiring Administrative Agent may appoint, after consulting with the Non-Conduit Purchasers and the Funding Agents, a successor Administrative Agent from among the Non-Conduit Purchasers and the Funding Agents. If no successor administrative agent has accepted appointment by the date which is thirty (30) days following a retiring Administrative Agent's notice of resignation, the retiring Administrative Agent's resignation shall nevertheless thereupon become effective and Manager shall assume and perform all of the duties of the Administrative Agent hereunder until such time, if any, as the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders appoint a successor administrative agent as provided for above. After any retiring Administrative Agent's resignation as Administrative Agent, the provisions of this Article 8 shall inure to its benefit as to any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was Administrative Agent under this Supplemental Indenture.

8.2 Funding Agents

(a) Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Funding Agent set forth next to such CP Conduit Purchaser's name on Schedule E as the agent of such Person under this Supplemental Indenture and irrevocably authorizes such Funding Agent, in such capacity, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to such Funding Agent by the terms of this Supplemental Indenture, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Supplemental Indenture, each Funding Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any CP Conduit Purchaser or Group Bank and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Supplemental Indenture or otherwise exist against each Funding Agent.

(b) Each Funding Agent may execute any of its duties under this Supplemental Indenture by or through agents or attorneys-in-fact and shall be entitled to advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties. Each Funding Agent shall not be responsible to the CP Conduit Purchaser or any Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group for the negligence or misconduct of any agents or attorneys in fact selected by it with reasonable care.

(c) Each Funding Agent and any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates shall not be (i) liable for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such Person under or in connection with the Trust Indenture, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement (except to the extent that any of the foregoing are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from its or such Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct) or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the CP Conduit Purchasers and/or Group Banks for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO, or any officer thereof contained in this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by such Funding Agent under or in connection with, this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement, or for any failure of any of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO to perform its obligations hereunder or thereunder. Each Funding Agent shall not be under any obligation to the CP Conduit Purchaser or any Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Supplemental Indenture, any other Program Agreement or to inspect the properties, books or records of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO.

(d) Each Funding Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter or telecopy message, statement, order or other document or conversation believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper Person or Persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including, without limitation, counsel to the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO), independent accountants and other experts selected by such Funding Agent. Each Funding Agent shall be fully justified in failing or refusing to take any action under this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement unless it shall first receive such advice or concurrence of the Related Purchaser Group, as it deems appropriate or it shall first be indemnified to its satisfaction by the Related Purchaser Group against any and all liability and expense which may be incurred by it by reason of taking or continuing to take any such action.

(e) Each Funding Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Termination Event unless such Funding Agent has received written notice from a Non-Conduit Purchaser, a CP Conduit Purchaser, a Group Bank, the Issuer, the Manager or the Administrative Agent referring to the Trust Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture, describing such Termination Event and stating that such notice is a "notice of a Termination Event," as the case may be. In the event that any Funding Agent receives such a notice, such Funding Agent shall give notice thereof to the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group. Such Funding Agent shall take such action with respect to such event as shall be reasonably directed by the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group, provided that unless and until such Funding Agent shall have received such directions, such Funding Agent may (but shall not be obligated to) take such action, or refrain from taking such action, with respect to such event as it shall deem advisable in the best interests of the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank in its CP Conduit Purchaser Group.

(f) Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks expressly acknowledge that neither its Funding Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by such Funding Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Issuer, the Manager or the IESO shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by such Funding Agent to any such Person. Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks represents to its Funding Agent that it has, independently and without reliance upon such Funding Agent and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own appraisal of and investigation into the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO and made its own decision to enter into this Supplemental Indenture. Each CP Conduit Purchaser and each of the related Group Banks also represents that it will, independently and without reliance upon its Funding Agent and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements, and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other conditions and creditworthiness of the Issuer, the Manager and the IESO.

(g) Each Group Bank in a CP Conduit Purchaser Group agrees to indemnify its Funding Agent in its capacity as such (to the extent not reimbursed by the Issuer and without limiting the obligation of the Issuer to do so), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements of any kind whatsoever which may at any time be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against such Funding Agent in any way relating to or arising out of this Supplemental Indenture, any of the other Program Agreements or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or therein or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or any action taken or omitted by such Funding Agent under or in connection with any of the foregoing; provided that no Group Bank shall be liable for the payment of any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements that are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from such related Funding Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct. The agreements in this Section shall survive the payment of all amounts payable hereunder.

ARTICLE 9
GENERAL

9.1 Successor and Assigns

(a) This Supplemental Indenture shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns, except that (i) the Issuer may not assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture without the prior written consent of all of the Series 2017-1 Noteholders; (ii) no Non-Conduit Purchaser may assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture other than pursuant to paragraph (e) or (f) below;

(iii) no CP Conduit Purchaser may assign or transfer any of its rights under this Supplemental Indenture other than to the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser or a Program Support Provider with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser or pursuant to clause (b) or (e) below of this Section 9.1; and (iv) no Group Bank may assign or transfer any of its rights or obligations under this Supplemental Indenture except to a Program Support Provider or pursuant to clause (c), (d) or (e) below of this Section 9.1.

(b) Without limiting the foregoing, each CP Conduit Purchaser may assign all or a portion of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser and its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture to a Conduit Assignee with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser. Prior to or concurrently with the effectiveness of any such assignment (or if impracticable, immediately thereafter), the assigning CP Conduit Purchaser shall notify the Administrative Agent and the Issuer. Upon such assignment by a CP Conduit Purchaser to a Conduit Assignee, (i) such Conduit Assignee shall be the owner of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount or such portion thereof with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser; (ii) the related administrative or managing agent for such Conduit Assignee will act as the administrative agent for such Conduit Assignee hereunder, with all corresponding rights and powers, express or implied, granted to the Funding Agent hereunder; (iii) such Conduit Assignee and its liquidity support provider(s) and credit support provider(s) and other related parties shall have the benefit of all the rights and protections provided to such CP Conduit Purchaser herein (including, without limitation, any limitation on recourse against such Conduit Assignee as provided in this paragraph); (iv) such Conduit Assignee shall assume all of such CP Conduit Purchaser's obligations, if any, hereunder with respect to such portion of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount and such CP Conduit Purchaser shall be released from such obligations; (v) all distributions in respect of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount or such portion thereof with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall be made to the applicable agent or administrative agent, as applicable, on behalf of such Conduit Assignee; and (vi) if requested by the Administrative Agent or the agent or administrative agent with respect to the Conduit Assignee, the parties will execute and deliver such further agreements and documents and take such other actions as the Administrative Agent or such agent or administrative agent may reasonably request to evidence and give effect to the foregoing. No assignment by any CP Conduit Purchaser to a Conduit Assignee of the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser shall in any way diminish the obligations of the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser under Section 3.3 to fund any Increase.

(c) Any Group Bank may, in the ordinary course of its business and in accordance with applicable law, at any time sell all or any part of its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture and the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, with the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Issuer (in each case, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), to one or more banks (an "Acquiring Group Bank") pursuant to a transfer supplement, substantially in the form of Exhibit H (the "Transfer Supplement"), executed by such Acquiring Group Bank, such assigning Group Bank, the Funding Agent with respect to such Group Bank, the Administrative Agent and the Issuer and delivered to the Administrative Agent. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Group Bank shall so sell its rights hereunder if such Acquiring Group Bank is not an Eligible Assignee.

(d) Any Group Bank may, in the ordinary course of its business and in accordance with applicable law, at any time sell to one or more financial institutions or other entities ("Group Bank Participants") participations in its Commitment Amount with respect to its related CP Conduit Purchaser Group, its Series 2017-1 Senior Note and its rights hereunder pursuant to documentation in form and substance satisfactory to such Group Bank and the Group Bank Participant; provided, however, that (i) in the event of any such sale by a Group Bank to a Group Bank Participant, (A) such Group Bank's obligations under this Supplemental Indenture shall remain unchanged, (B) such Group Bank shall remain solely responsible for the performance thereof, and (C) the Issuer and the Administrative Agent shall continue to deal solely and directly with such Group Bank in connection with its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture; and (ii) no Group Bank shall sell any participating interest under which the Group Bank Participant shall have rights to approve any amendment to, or any consent or waiver with respect to, this Supplemental Indenture, the Trust Indenture or any Program Agreement, except to the extent that the approval of such amendment, consent or waiver otherwise would require the unanimous consent of all Group Banks hereunder. A Group Bank Participant shall have the right to receive compensation pursuant to Section 3.11 but only to the extent that the related selling Group Bank would have had such right absent the sale of the related participation and, with respect to amounts due pursuant to Section 3.11, only to the extent such Group Bank Participant shall have complied with the provisions of Section 3.11 as if such Group Bank Participant were a Group Bank.

(e) Any CP Conduit Purchaser and the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser may at any time sell all or any part of their respective rights and obligations, and any Non-Conduit Purchaser may at any time sell all or any part of its rights and obligations, under this Supplemental Indenture and the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, with the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Issuer (in each case, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), (x) to a multi-seller commercial paper conduit and one or more banks providing support to such multi-seller commercial paper conduit, or (y) to a financial institution or other entity (an "Acquiring Purchaser Group") pursuant to a transfer supplement, substantially in the form of Exhibit I (the "Purchaser Group Supplement"), executed by such Acquiring Purchaser Group (including the CP Conduit Purchaser and the Group Banks, if any, with respect to such Acquiring Purchaser Group), the Funding Agent, if any, with respect to such Acquiring Purchaser Group, such assigning Purchaser Group (including the Group Banks, if any, with respect to such assigning Purchaser Group), the Funding Agent, if any, with respect to such assigning Purchaser Group and the Administrative Agent and the Issuer and delivered to the Administrative Agent.

(f) Any Non-Conduit Purchaser may, in the ordinary course of its business and in accordance with applicable law, at any time sell to one or more financial institutions or other entities ("Non-Conduit Purchaser Participants") participations in its Commitment, its Series 2017-1 Senior Note and its rights hereunder pursuant to documentation in form and substance satisfactory to such Non-Conduit Purchaser and the Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant; provided, however, that (i) in the event of any such sale by a Non-Conduit Purchaser to a Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant, (A) such Non-Conduit Purchaser's obligations under this Supplemental Indenture shall remain unchanged, (B) such Non-Conduit Purchaser shall remain solely responsible for the performance thereof, and (C) the Issuer and the Administrative Agent shall continue to deal solely and directly with such Non-Conduit Purchaser in connection with its rights and obligations under this Supplemental Indenture; and (ii) no Non-Conduit Purchaser shall sell any participating interest under which the Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant shall have rights to approve any amendment to, or any consent or waiver with respect to, this Supplemental Indenture, the Trust Indenture or any Program Agreement, except to the extent that the approval of such amendment, consent or waiver otherwise would require the unanimous consent of all Series 2017-1 Noteholders hereunder. A Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant shall have the right to receive compensation under Section 3.11 but only to the extent that the related selling Non-Conduit Purchaser would have had such right absent the sale of the related participation and, with respect to amounts due pursuant to Section 3.11, only to the extent such Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant shall have complied with the provisions of Section 3.11 as if such Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant were a Non-Conduit Purchaser.

(g) The Issuer authorizes each Group Bank and Non-Conduit Purchaser to disclose to any Group Bank Participant, Acquiring Group Bank, Non-Conduit Purchaser Participant or Acquiring Purchaser Group (each, a "Transferee") and any prospective Transferee any and all financial information in such Group Bank's or Non-Conduit Purchaser's possession concerning the Issuer, the Issuer Investment Asset and the Program Agreements which has been delivered to such Group Bank by the Issuer or the Manager in connection with such Group Bank's credit evaluation of the Issuer and the Issuer Investment Asset.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Supplemental Indenture to the contrary, any Non-Conduit Purchaser, any Group Bank or any Program Support Provider may at any time pledge or grant a security interest in all or any portion of its rights under its Series 2017-1 Senior Note and this Supplemental Indenture to secure obligations of such Non-Conduit Purchaser, such Group Bank or such Program Support Provider to a Federal Reserve Bank or the Bank of Canada, without notice to or consent of the Administrative Agent, the Issuer or the Administrator; provided that no such pledge or grant of a security interest shall release a Non-Conduit Purchaser or an Group Bank from any of its obligations hereunder or substitute any such pledgee or grantee for such Non-Conduit Purchaser or such Group Bank as a party hereto.

9.2 Waiver

Without limiting the requirements of Section 11.02 of the Trust Indenture which shall be applicable to this Supplemental Indenture, no waiver of any provision of this Supplemental Indenture or consent to any departure by the Issuer from any provision of this Supplemental Indenture will be effective (in whole or in part) unless in writing and signed by the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders. Such waiver will be effective only in the specific instance, for the specific purpose and for the specific length of time for which it is given by the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders.

9.3 Notice

All notices, requests, instructions and demands to or upon any party hereto to be effective shall be given (a) in the case of the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, in the manner set forth in Article 16 of the Trust Indenture; and (b) in the case of the Administrative Agent, the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group Banks and the Funding Agents, in writing, and, unless otherwise expressly provided herein, shall be deemed to have been duly given or made when delivered by hand or three days after being deposited in the mail, postage prepaid, in the case of facsimile notice, when received, or in the case of overnight air courier, one Business Day after the date such notice is delivered to such overnight courier, addressed as follows in the case of the Administrative Agent and to the addresses therefor set forth in Schedule E, in the case of the Non-Conduit Purchasers, the CP Conduit Purchasers, the Group

Banks and the Funding Agents; or to such other address as may be hereafter notified by the respective parties hereto:

Administrative Agent:

9.4 No Waiver: Remedies

No failure on the part of any party to exercise, and no delay in exercising, any power, right or remedy hereunder will operate as a waiver thereof; nor will any single or partial exercise of any such power, right or remedy hereunder preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other power, right or remedy. The rights and remedies herein provided are cumulative and not exclusive of any remedies provided by applicable law.

9.5 Entire Agreement

This Supplemental Indenture, the Fee Letter, the Trust Indenture and the other Program Agreements contain the entire agreement between the parties relative to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements, term sheets, commitments, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written. There are no warranties, representations or other agreements between the parties in connection with the subject matter hereof except as specifically set forth in this Supplemental Indenture, the Fee Letter, the Trust Indenture and the other Program Agreements.

9.6 Governing Law and Attornment

This Supplemental Indenture shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Province of Ontario and the parties hereby attorn to the jurisdiction of the courts of Ontario.

9.7 Acknowledgment of Trust Indenture and No Proceedings

The Administrative Agent, each Non-Conduit Purchaser, each CP Conduit Purchaser, each Group Bank and each Funding Agent hereby acknowledges and agrees in favour of the Indenture Trustee that it is a Specified Creditor under the Trust Indenture and its entitlements as a Specified Creditor are subject to the provisions applicable to Specified Creditors under the Trust Indenture including, without limitation, Section 7.06 (Payments Held in Trust), Section 8.12 (Limitation on Suits), Sections 7.04 and 8.13 (Payment Priorities), Section 8.15 (Limited Recourse) and Section 17.01 (No Petition).

9.8 Expenses

The Issuer agrees to pay on demand (a) to the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent and the Purchaser Groups all reasonable costs and expenses in connection with the preparation, execution, and delivery of this Supplemental Indenture and the other documents to be delivered hereunder or in connection herewith, including, the reasonable fees and out-of-pocket expenses of counsel for the Administrative Agent and the Purchaser Groups, with respect thereto, and the reasonable fees and out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the CP Conduit Purchasers in connection with the review by each rating agency then rating the Commercial Paper of such CP Conduit Purchaser of the transactions contemplated by this Supplemental Indenture and the Program Agreements; (b) to the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent and each Purchaser Group all reasonable costs and expenses in connection with any amendments of or waivers or consents under this Supplemental Indenture or the Program Agreements, including in each case the reasonable fees and out-of-pocket expenses of counsel with respect thereto, and the reasonable fees and out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the CP Conduit Purchasers in connection with the review by any rating agency then rating the Commercial Paper of such CP Conduit Purchasers; and (c) to the Indenture Trustee, the Administrative Agent and each Purchaser Group, on demand, all reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable fees and expenses of counsel to the Administrative Agent and each Purchaser Group), if any, in connection with the enforcement of this Supplemental Indenture or any of the Program Agreements, and the other documents delivered thereunder or in connection therewith.

9.9 Further Assurances

Each of the parties hereto upon the request of the other party or parties hereto shall do, execute, acknowledge and deliver or cause to be done, executed acknowledged or delivered all such further acts, deeds, documents, assignments, transfers, conveyances, powers of attorney and assurances as may be reasonably necessary or desirable to effect or complete the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Supplemental Indenture.

9.10 Confidentiality

(a) Each Purchaser Group and the Administrative Agent covenants and agrees that any Nonpublic Information (as defined herein) obtained by it pursuant to this Supplemental Indenture and the other Program Agreements shall be held in confidence except that the Purchaser Groups or Administrative Agent may disclose such information (i) pursuant to the order of any court or administrative agency or in any pending legal or administrative proceeding (whether or not having the force or effect of law) provided that, unless prohibited by applicable law, a Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent, as applicable, shall provide prompt notice of such order to the affected party; (ii) upon the request or demand of any regulatory authority having or claiming jurisdiction over any Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent; (iii) as required by applicable law; (iv) to the extent that such information becomes publicly available other than by reason of improper disclosure by a Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent; (v) to its affiliates, officers, directors, employees, legal counsel, independent auditors, accountants, advisors, investors, potential investors, commercial paper dealers, providers of surety, guaranty, credit or liquidity enhancement (including the directors, officers and accountants of such surety, guaranty, credit or liquidity enhancement provider), legal counsel of any of the foregoing and other experts or agents who need to know such information and are informed of the confidential nature of such information (provided that the Persons permitted to make such disclosures under clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) of this Section 9.10 shall also include credit or liquidity enhancers of a CP Conduit Purchaser); (vi) for purposes of establishing a "due diligence" defense; (vii) which was available to a Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent on a non-confidential basis from a source other than the affected party, provided that such source was not to the knowledge of the Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent, as applicable, bound by a confidentiality agreement with the affected party; (viii) has been independently acquired or developed by a Purchaser Group or the Administrative Agent without violating any of the Purchaser Group's or the Administrative Agent's obligations under this Supplemental Indenture; (ix) if such disclosure has been approved in writing in advance by the Issuer or the Manager; or (x) regarding the existence of this Supplemental Indenture, but not the financial terms thereof.

(b) The Issuer covenants and agrees to hold in confidence, and not disclose to any Person, the terms of this Supplemental Indenture (including any fees payable in connection with this Supplemental Indenture or the identity of any CP Conduit Purchaser under this Supplemental Indenture), except as the applicable Purchaser Group may have consented to in writing prior to any proposed disclosure and except (i) it may also disclose such information (A) to its officers, employees, agents and legal advisors who are directly involved in the consideration of this Supplemental Indenture (and then only on a confidential basis), (B) as required by applicable law or compulsory legal process, and (C) as expressly permitted by the terms of the Program Agreements; provided, that, in the case of clause (B), the Issuer will use all reasonable efforts to maintain confidentiality and will (unless otherwise prohibited by law) notify the affected Administrative Agent or Purchaser Group of its intention to make any such disclosure prior to making such disclosure; and (ii) it may also disclose the existence (but not the financial terms) of this Supplemental Indenture, including to any actual or prospective purchaser of other Notes.

9.11 Acknowledgement and Consent to Bail-In of EEA Financial Institutions

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Supplemental Indenture or in any other Program Agreement, arrangement or understanding among any such parties, each party hereto acknowledges that any liability of any EEA Financial Institution arising under this Supplemental Indenture or any other Program Agreement, to the extent such liability is unsecured, may be subject to the write-down and conversion powers of an EEA Resolution Authority and agrees and consents to, and acknowledges and agrees to be bound by:

(a) the application of any Write-Down and Conversion Powers by an EEA Resolution Authority to any such liabilities arising hereunder which may be payable to it by any party hereto that is an EEA Financial Institution; and

(b) the effects of any Bail-in Action on any such liability, including, if applicable

(i) a reduction in full or in part or cancellation of any such liability;

(ii) a conversion of all, or a portion of, such liability into shares or other instruments or ownership in such EEA Financial Institution, its parent undertaking, or a bridge institution that may be issued to it or otherwise conferred on it, and that such shares or other instruments of ownership will be accepted by it in lieu of any rights with respect to any such liability under this Supplemental Indenture or any other Facility Agreement; or

(iii) the variation of the terms of such liability in connection with the exercise of the write-down and conversion powers of any EEA Resolution Authority.

9.12 Limitation of Liability of Issuer Trustee

Each party hereto other than the Issuer acknowledges that the Issuer is a trust, and that ● Trust Company of Canada is the Issuer Trustee. The other parties hereto agree that the Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability whatsoever to them, in tort, contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's assets or the trust activities, for any action taken or permitted by it to be taken, or for its failure to take any action; provided that the foregoing limitation will not apply in respect of any action or failure to act arising from or in connection with wilful misconduct, negligence or reckless disregard of a duty by the Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee in doing anything or permitting anything to be done in respect of assets or the trust activities is, and shall be conclusively deemed to be, acting as trustee of the Issuer and not in any other capacity. Except as to the extent provided in this Section 9.12, the Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the Issuer's assets or the trust activities and resort will be had solely to the Collateral for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the Issuer Trustee, whether owned in its personal capacity or otherwise, will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Supplemental Indenture. Nothing contained in this Section 9.12 shall be construed so as to limit the liability of the Issuer under this Supplemental Indenture. This Supplemental Indenture, and every deed, transfer, assignment, agreement or other instrument made pursuant hereto including, without limitation, the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, made or purporting to be made by or creating an obligation of the Issuer or the Issuer Trustee on behalf of, or as trustee of, the Issuer shall be deemed and construed for all purposes as if made by the Issuer Trustee, in and only in its capacity as trustee of the Issuer. Any obligations of the Issuer Trustee hereunder or thereunder are non-recourse to the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity.

9.13 Execution in Counterparts

This Supplemental Indenture may be executed in several counterparts, each of which when so executed shall be deemed to be an original and the counterparts together shall constitute one and the same instrument. This Supplemental Indenture may be executed and delivered by facsimile or other electronic transmission of a manually signed counterpart.

9.14 Delivery of Executed Copies

Each party acknowledges delivery of an executed copy of this Supplemental Indenture.

"Non-Conduit Purchaser Group" means a Non-Conduit Purchaser.

"Non-Conduit Purchaser Participants" is defined in Section 9.1(f).

"Non-Deferrable Draw Amount" means, with respect to any Purchaser Group as of any Increase Date, an amount equal to the lesser of (a) the excess, if any, of (x) [10]% of the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group over (y) the portion of any Increase Amounts funded by such Purchaser Group during the preceding thirty-five (35) days pursuant to a Non-Deferrable Increase Notice or, to the extent of any decrease pursuant to Section 3.3(e) in the Delayed Amount set forth in a Delayed Funding Notice delivered by such Purchaser Group, a Deferrable Increase Notice; and (b) the excess, if any, of (x) the Maximum Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group, over (y) the sum of (i) the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group; and (ii) any unfunded Delayed Amounts with respect to such Purchaser Group, in each case as of such Increase Date. [NTD: The percentage in (a)(x) above is intended to represent the non-deferrable amount.]

"Non-Deferrable Increase Notice" means a notice of Increase that provides that a Delayed Funding Notice may not be provided by any Purchaser Group with respect to such Increase in accordance with Section 3.3(a).

"Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group" is defined in Section 3.3(f).

"Optional Termination Date" is defined in Section 3.4.

"Optional Termination Notice" is defined in Section 3.4.

["Other Taxes" means any and all current or future stamp or documentary taxes or other excise or property taxes, charges or similar levies arising from any payment made under this Supplemental Indenture, the Trust Indenture, or any other Program Agreement or from the execution, delivery or enforcement of, or otherwise with respect to, this Supplemental Indenture, the Trust Indenture or any other Program Agreement.]

"Payment Date Waterfall Principal Amount" means, in respect of the Series 2017-1 Notes:

(a) on any Payment Date that is a Decrease Date in respect of a CEA Decrease before the earlier of (i) the Series 2017-1 Principal Payment Due Date; and (ii) the occurrence of an Acceleration Event, the Decrease Amount of the CEA Decrease occurring on such Payment Date;

(b) on any Payment Date that is not a Decrease Date in respect of a CEA Decrease before the earlier of (i) the Series 2017-1 Principal Payment Due Date; and (ii) the occurrence of an Acceleration Event, nil; and

(c) on any Payment Date occurring on or after the earlier of (i) the Series 2017-1 Principal Payment Due Date; and (ii) the occurrence of an Acceleration Event, the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount.

"Prime Rate" means the annual rate of interest announced by ● from time to time as being its reference rate for the determination of interest rates on Canadian dollar denominated commercial loans made by it and commonly referred to by ● as its "prime rate."

["Privacy Laws" shall mean, collectively (a) An Act Respecting the Protection of Personal Information in the Private Sector (Quebec); (b) Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (Canada); (c) Personal Information Protection Act (British Columbia); and (d) such other similar statutes of Canada or any province in force from time to time and any principles of common or civil law applicable therein, which restrict, control, regulate or otherwise govern the collection, holding, use or communication of personal information.]

"Pro Rata Share" means, with respect to any Purchaser Group, on any date, the ratio, expressed as a percentage, which the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group bears to the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount on such date.

"Program Support Provider" means, with respect to any CP Conduit Purchaser, the Group Bank with respect to such CP Conduit Purchaser and any other or additional Person now or hereafter extending credit, or having a commitment to extend credit to or for the account of, or to make purchases from, such CP Conduit Purchaser or issuing a letter of credit, surety bond or other instrument to support any obligations arising under or in connection with such CP Conduit Purchaser's securitization program.

"Purchaser Group" means a CP Conduit Purchaser Group or a Non-Conduit Purchaser Group.

"Purchaser Group Increase Amount" means, with respect to any Purchaser Group, for any Business Day, such Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of the Increase Amount, if any, on such Business Day.

"Purchaser Group Principal Amount" means, with respect to any Purchaser Group, (a) when used with respect to the Series 2017-1 Closing Date, such Purchaser Group's Commitment Percentage of the Series 2017-1 Initial Principal Amount; and (b) when used with respect to any other date, an amount equal to (i) the Purchaser Group Principal Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on the immediately preceding Business Day; plus (ii) the Purchaser Group Increase Amount with respect to such Purchaser Group on such date; minus (iii) the amount of principal payments made to such Purchaser Group pursuant to Section 3.7(c) on such date. For the avoidance of doubt, (x) so long as any Purchaser Group has failed to fund any portion of its Purchaser Group Increase Amount with respect to any Increase Date (including any Delayed Amount), such unfunded amount shall not be included in the Purchaser Group Principal Amount for such Purchaser Group unless and until such amount has been funded (including by Funding any Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount, if applicable), and (y) any Delayed Amounts funded on an Increase Date by a Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group shall be included in the Purchaser Group Principal Amount for such Non-Delayed Funding Purchaser Group until the related Delayed Funding Reimbursement Amount has been funded.

"Purchaser Group Supplement" is defined in Section 9.1(e).

"Rating Agency Condition" means, with respect to any action in respect of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes subject to such condition, each of the CP Conduit Purchasers shall deliver written notice of the proposed action to the CP Conduit Rating Agencies at least 10 Business Days prior to the effective date of such action (or if 10 Business Days prior notice is impractical, such advance notice as is practicable) and the CP Conduit Rating Agencies (i) shall not have informed any CP Conduit Purchaser prior to the effective date of such action that such action will result in the reduction or withdrawal of the rating in effect with respect to the Commercial Paper of the CP Conduit Purchaser immediately before the taking of such action, or (ii) in the case of DBRS, or any successor thereto, when it is a CP Conduit Rating Agency, DBRS shall have informed each of the CP Conduit Purchasers in writing prior to the effective date of such action that such action will not result in the reduction or withdrawal of the rating of any Commercial Paper of such CP Conduit Purchasers immediately before the taking of such action. For purposes of the Trust Indenture, this Supplemental Indenture and the Master Transfer and Servicing Agreement, the Indenture Trustee shall receive, and shall be entitled to rely on, a certificate of a CP Conduit Purchaser confirming the satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition.

"Refinancing Decrease" is defined in Section 3.4(a).

"Refinancing Increase" is defined in Section 3.3(a).

"Regulatory Change" shall mean (i) the adoption after the date hereof of any applicable law, rule or regulation (including any applicable law, rule or regulation regarding capital adequacy, deposits, reserves or liquidity coverage) or any change therein after the date hereof, (ii) any change after the date hereof in the interpretation, administration, scope or timing of implementation thereof by any governmental authority, central bank, self-regulating professional body or comparable agency or authority charged with the interpretation or administration thereof, or compliance with any guidance, request or directive (whether or not having the force of law) of any such authority, central bank, self-regulating professional body or comparable agency or authority; provided that for purposes of this definition, (x) the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act and all requests, rules, guidelines or directives thereunder, issued in connection therewith or in implementation thereof, and (y) all requests, rules, guidelines and directives (whether or not having the force of law) promulgated by the Bank for International Settlements, the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (or any successor or similar authority) or Canadian or United States or other foreign regulatory authorities, shall in each case be deemed to be a "Regulatory Change", regardless of the date enacted, adopted, issued or implemented.

"Related Non-Conduit Purchaser" means, with respect to any Non-Conduit Purchaser Group, the Non-Conduit Purchaser that constitutes such Non-Conduit Purchaser Group.

"Related Purchaser Group" means, with respect to (a) any Funding Agent, the CP Conduit Purchaser identified next to such Funding Agent on Schedule E and the Group Bank identified on Schedule I next to such CP Conduit Purchaser or the CP Conduit Purchaser and Group Bank party to the Purchaser Group Supplement pursuant to which such Funding Agent became a party to this Supplemental Indenture; (b) any CP Conduit Purchaser, the CP Conduit Purchaser Group of which such CP Conduit Purchaser is a member; and (c) any Non-Conduit Purchaser, the Non-Conduit Purchaser Group that such Non-Conduit Purchaser constitutes.

"Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders" means Purchaser Groups having Commitment Percentages aggregating more than 50% (or if all Commitments have terminated, Purchaser Groups whose aggregate Purchaser Group Principal Amounts exceed 50% of the Series 2017-1 Principal Amount).

"Scheduled Commitment Expiry Date" means, ●, as such date may be extended in accordance with Section 3.5(c). [NTD: two years out.]

Further to OPG's response to our proposals, please find attached a discussion document drafted by our outside legal counsel Stephen Ashbourne and based on discussions amongst our Provincial legal teams.

This document sets out a number of questions that we need to consider and answer in order to respond to OPG with the Province's position.

A meeting amongst this group would be useful to discuss these issues and to inform a response to OPG.

Toby – further to discussions between OPG and the Province, please find attached comments on the draft proposal under the Change of Law Protection Agreement (blacklined to the draft circulated below). The attached reflects our comments from accounting, operational and financeability perspectives. In particular, the financeability of the program will turn on whether there is a clear and concise way for investors to determine that an incurrence of funding obligations will be covered under the Change of Law Protection Agreement and that, once confirmed, the confirmation is irrevocable. Accordingly, we have proposed in the attached that a simple confirmation from OPG to a third party binds the Province in respect of the incurrence of the applicable funding obligations provided that OPG has satisfied the requirements of the approval process (which we propose be the subject of a separate procedures agreement or memo). Please note that the attached remains subject to the review of the working group including the dealers and the rating agencies.

Nina

Please find attached our comments on your response of October 6. We have moved the text of your email to the attached document and responded inline in square brackets for ease of review.

We recognize that we are running out of time, and that we should discuss and move this forward at the beginning of next week.

We also generally recognize that, although there are still some gaps in our respective approaches, we would find it helpful to have some more specific suggestions and comments on our Sept. 27 draft in order to help move this forward. This might include also the timing issues, with some indication of where, if OPG finds the timing does not work, some alternatives can be suggested for consideration.

Toby,

Thank you for your draft proposal; we have set out below our conceptual comments and concerns on it. Please note that the points below remain subject to the continuing review of OPG. Please also note that we have not yet sought the dealers' views on the proposal. We think it is premature to do so until we settle these points amongst ourselves and a revised draft of the proposal is circulated reflecting our agreement.

As further discussed below, your proposal deviates in some key ways from what we proposed in our email of September 19 (attached) and raises the accounting and operational issues we tried to avoid in the September 19th proposal. Given the need to settle the Protection Agreement as soon as possible, we'd appreciate if we could discuss these points early next week.

Best Regards,

Nina

Accounting Issues:

E&Y has concerns from an accounting perspective with the level of Provincial oversight and input on certain parts of the process, namely:

-that OPG will likely have to go back to the Province on each incurrence of debt and they will have to do so prior to that incurrence

-that OPG must certify and provide a lot of detailed reporting with respect to each incurrence of debt
-the level of frequency of reporting in general (not just the certifications/information noted above but also the contemplated annual forecasts and quarterly updates of those forecasts)

-the negative pledge with respect to the exercise of certain options on the debt

-the fact that OPG must give notice to the Province when incurring funding obligations that are expressly excluded from the Protection Agreement

Taken as a whole, we understand that E&Y sees all of this as the Province exerting a level of control on the debt that no typical guarantor would have. Please also advise if the Province's accountants have reviewed the proposal.

Practical Issues:

- The procedural steps to bind the Province are lengthy and complicated. From our perspective, as drafted, OPG will likely have to seek Provincial approval on each debt issuance (which weakens the accounting as discussed above). The dealers and their counsel will have a reaction to the proposed adherence conditions but query whether there is value in setting out the adherence conditions in the Protection Agreement itself. Setting aside the mechanics of how we get there, the dealers want comfort that the incurrence of obligations by the financing entity will be covered by the Protection Agreement. We would propose that the mechanics of any approval process (once we settle the terms of that process) be the subject of a separate procedures agreement or memo from the Province to OPG, whereby the Province delegates to OPG the ability to bind the Province under the Protection Agreement with respect to an incurrence of obligations so long as the adherence conditions in the procedures agreement or memo have been met. The Protection Agreement would then simply state that, upon OPG certifying to the indenture trustee that the adherence conditions have been satisfied under the procedures agreement/memo, the Province will be deemed to be bound under the Protection Agreement with respect to the specific obligations incurred at the time of the certification.
- In addition to the accounting concerns, the level of detail and frequency of reporting required present timing and operational issues. For example, as part of the adherence conditions, you are asking for details on the interest rate. However, pricing will in part be driven off whether that specific incurrence will have the benefits of the Protection Agreement.

Drafting Issues:

- Please refer to the existing terminology of the Act to ensure there is certainty on the obligations covered under the Protection Agreement. We think the best way for you to approach this would be to refer to all finance amounts and then expressly carve out what you are proposing not be covered.
- We'd like to understand the reason OPG's management fees have been excluded. We assume you do not intend for OPG's reimbursement costs (costs incurred by OPG on behalf of the Financing Entity) to be excluded? Please advise why taxes are being excluded?
- There are a few references to "exceed the maximum amount specified therefor in the applicable governing document". Please advise what is being contemplated here.
- We have a number of other drafting comments which we'll revisit once we've settled on the conceptual points above and have reviewed a revised draft of the document.

Steve, Malle and Toby, further to our meeting the other day, set out below for your review is a proposal on the Provincial approval process under the Change of Law Assumption Agreement. Once we have your feedback on this, we will need to share it with Osler and the accountants and as John mentioned, we are under some time pressure to bring this to a resolution prior to the upcoming June 29 OPG Board meeting. We look forward to your comments, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions. -- Rima

Obligor Approval

The Change of Law Assumption Agreement will apply to all Specified Claims relating to Funding Obligations that are incurred by an Eligible Financing Entity in accordance with the Obligor's approval process. The definition of Specified Claims to be mutually agreed by all parties.

In order for a Financing Entity to become designated as an Eligible Financing Entity by the Obligor, prior to the initial issuance of Funding Obligations by such Financing Entity, the Obligor will be provided with copies of the following documents (collectively the "Program Documents") for review:

(i) the constating documents of such Financing Entity;

(ii) the management agreement between the Financing Entity and OPG;

(iii) the master transfer and servicing agreement between the Financing Entity and the IESO;

(iv) the master trust indenture governing the issuance of Funding Obligations by the Financing Entity;

(v) a form of supplemental indenture governing the issuance of bonds, issuable in series, by the Financing Entity;

(vi) a form of note purchase agreement or credit agreement governing the issuance of short term Funding Obligations by the Financing Entity;

(vii) a form of schedule to an ISDA Master Agreement governing derivative transactions that may be entered into the Financing Entity from time to time; and (viii) such other documents as may be requested by the Obligor.

Once a Financing Entity is designated by the Obligor as an Eligible Financing Entity, it will not be necessary for the Obligor to approve the documentation related to specific issuances of Funding Obligations; however, OPG will be expected to notify the Obligor of any new material program documentation or any material amendments to existing program documentation before such new documentation or amendments become effective. The failure of OPG to provide any such notice will not invalidate the application of the Change of Law Assumption Agreement to any Specified Claims.

It will not be necessary for the Obligor to approve each new issuance of Funding Obligations provided that such Funding Obligations are issued in accordance with following:

(1) The Funding Obligations are issued in accordance with agreements that contain: (a) covenants of the Eligible Financing Entity that are no more onerous in any material respect and (b) events of default that are consistent in all material respects, respectively, with the covenants of the Eligible Financing Entity and events of default contained in the draft Program Documents.

(2) At least [30 days] prior to the initial issuance of Funding Obligations by an Eligible Financing Entity, OPG will provide the Obligor with a forecast of the principal amount and expected term of the Funding Obligations that OPG expects such Eligible Financing Entity to issue in accordance with the Financing Plan in the next two years (a “Two Year Forecast”). The execution of the Change of Law Assumption Agreement in respect of such Eligible Financing Entity shall constitute the Obligor’s approval of the issuance of Funding Obligations by such Eligible Financing Entity in accordance with the Two Year Forecast.

(3) OPG shall provide the Obligor with an updated Two Year Forecast between 9 and 12 months prior to the expiry of each current Two Year Forecast.

(4) Unless the Obligor provides OPG with a written notice no later than 3 months prior to the date following receipt of the current Two Year Forecast that the Change of Law Assumption Agreement will be inapplicable with respect to new Funding Obligations incurred following the expiry of the current Two Year Forecast, the Obligor will be deemed to approve the application of the Change of Law Assumption Agreement to all Funding Obligations incurred up to the expiry of the new Two Year Forecast.

At the time of issuance of Funding Obligations by an Eligible Financing Entity, the Financing Entity will provide (i) any required certifications to the underwriters/agents that such Funding Obligations are covered by the Change of Law Assumption Agreement; and (ii) notice to the Obligor of the material terms of the Funding Obligations issued, together with electronic copies of the final executed Program Documents.

Questions for MOE and OFA to consider regarding OPG's Proposed Adherence Terms

A. Scope of Province's Obligations under the Change of Law Protection Agreement (CLPA)

1. On a Protection Event, should the Province become responsible for the payment of taxes (if any) owing by the Financing Entity?

2. On a Protection Event, should the Province become liable to pay amounts owing by the Financing Entity to OPG (e.g., FSM fees and expenses)?

3. On a Protection Event, should all available funds (e.g., funds accumulated in sinking funds) be immediately applied to reduce the amount that the Province would be liable for under the CLPA?

4. Should the Province set a "Protection Agreement Maximum" (previously called the "Program Maximum") that measures and relates only to "principal amounts"? In other words, should the limitation be tied only to principal obligations, while the Province's actual obligations would automatically extend, without specific quantum limits, to the other payment obligations under "funding obligations" (e.g., interest, swaps, standby liquidity commitment fees, servicer fees and expenses)?

5. Is the Province comfortable guaranteeing contingent obligations (e.g., indemnity obligations) of the Financing Entity? If so, should the Province require that such contingent obligations be "capped" within the funding obligation itself or should the exposure of the Province be otherwise limited under the CLPA?

6. Should the Province be required to deposit funds to meet sinking fund or collateral deposits (i.e., deposit obligations incorporated in the financing structure on the basis that the "clean energy" cash flows will service the obligations, rather than the Province), notwithstanding that the Province would have become primarily liable for payment obligations under the CLPA?

B. Adhesion

7. Is the Province okay splitting the maximum exposure limitations and "process-related" matters (see below) into a separate agreement - away from the terms of the agreement under which the Province's payment obligations would bind the Province opposite the Indenture Trustee? OPG proposes this in order to keep the optics of the CLPA as simple and straightforward as possible. In other words, is the Province prepared to leave all of the important details regarding what OPG is supposed to do before incurring an obligation that binds the Province to a side agreement with OPG, that is opaque to the Indenture Trustee and Underwriters at the time a funding obligation is incurred and not requiring any third party to have notice or regard to the Province's requirements?

8. OPG proposes that delivery of an officers' certificate to a third party, in OPG's capacity as FSM, will in and of itself bind the Province under the CLPA. That certificate would simply indicate that the Province is bound under the CLPA with respect to the specified funding obligation. It would not be addressed to the Province (although a pre-closing certificate is contemplated to be delivered to the Province) and the "Protection Agreement Maximum" concept would not be incorporated as a specific condition (other than to the extent that OPG is bound to the Province under the side agreement with the Province). Is this acceptable to the Province? Does this raise any governance/authority issues for the Province (e.g., limit on incurrence needing to be specifically confirmed at closing? scope of permitted delegation to bind? FAA compliance?)

C. "Protection Agreement Maximum" (formerly "Program Maximum" (PAM)

9. OPG proposes that the PAM will be determined based on a mechanical calculation and without any real discretion on the part of the Province to set or object to the PAM. Is this acceptable to the Province?

10. OPG's proposed mechanical process to determine PAM would be based on OPG's 24 month forecast (estimate) of payments to be made by the Financing Entity. So long as that forecast (and any refresh) is consistent with the "Financing Plan" (also prepared by OPG) and is "reasonably expected to align with the fair allocation amount", the Province will be required to accept the PAM based on OPG's forecast – i.e., no discretion to reject or modify the aggregate amount of the Province's commitment initially or from time to time. Is the Province prepared to tie its CLPA obligation automatically to the operation of the OFHPA in this way, without review and with perpetual effect?

11. Is the proposed mechanical link to the OFHPA calculations consistent with the OIC or other governance requirements applicable to the Province's authority to approve the CLPA?

12. Is the initial 24 month forecast period appropriate (e.g., 2.5B x 2 – large)? Is OPG's proposed refresh of the PAM (mechanically tied to the new forecast), 9 to 12 months prior to the end of the 24 month forecast period, appropriate?

D. "Process-Related" Matters

13. Assuming the Province is okay with the arrangements described in question 7, above, we would envision a mechanism where the Province could give the Indenture Trustee notice of a breach (if known) by OPG of the PAM or process-related side agreement, and that such a notice would have the effect of cutting off the application of the CLPA for any future incurrences unless the Province further agrees otherwise. Does the Province agree that this sort of failsafe is essential? Note that OPG's suggestion has been that no pre-incurrence non-adherence/failsafe provision be provided, in order to allow the Province to provide notice that the CLPA will not apply to a pending/proposed incurrence.

14. Does the Province need to contemplate other scenarios where the CLPA would become ineffective in respect of future incurrences, such as:

    a. an OPG change of control

    b. a policy-based determination by a future government

    c. an unanticipated circumstance, such as the incurrence by the Financing Entity of assessed tax liabilities, indemnity payments, "increased costs", rating downgrades, offering disclosure-based claims, defaults under the program, insolvency of a major counterparty (e.g., swap counterparty or services provider), etc.

d. a discretionary circumstance where the Province decides it no longer wishes to be liable under the CLPA?

We expect that OPG would push back so that any suspension of new obligations by the Province would not hamper OPG's ability to complete an anticipated/needed refinancing.

15. Does the Province have any reservations about letting OPG at any time provide a binding certificate to third parties regarding adherence, which would be determinative of the Province's obligations. What conditions for this sort of certificate would make sense (e.g., preview and consent by the Province)? Does this proposal raise any governance/authority issues for the Province (e.g., scope of delegation; FAA compliance)?

16. If the Province is prepared to be liable for taxes owing by the Financing Entity (see question 1, above), what oversight, assurances, documentation and reporting regarding the potential for entity-level taxes should the Province require (if any)?

17. OPG is proposing that the Province will receive a certificate prior to the Financing Entity incurring a funding obligation, that sets out "the material terms of the funding obligations pertaining to the principal amount, pricing and third party fees". Is that a sufficient amount of detail, or would the Province like to specifically itemize its information expectations, to cover things such as:

    a. details respecting any principal obligation, such as:

        i. the amount, timing and conditions of repayments (including any redemption or extension rights)

        ii. the basis for OPG's expectations regarding the availability of any related refinancings

        iii. any required deposits to be made into a capital account or a finance reserve account in order to provide for payment of the principal obligation

        iv. the rating (if any) contemplated to be attributed to the principal repayment of the funding obligation

        v. details respecting any redemption rights, including the nature and conditions applicable to any exercise and OPG's expected basis for determining whether or not to exercise a redemption right, option or privilege;

    b. details respecting interest obligations, such as:

        i. the anticipated interest or discount rate or rates (including default rates)

        ii. the timing/frequency/conditions of coupon payments

iii. any required deposits to be made into a finance reserve account or supplemental account

iv. the availability of any funding rebates in order to provide for payment of interest

v. the rating (if any) contemplated to be attributed to the interest obligation;

c. details respecting any hedging obligation (e.g., interest or FX swaps, options or other derivatives), such as:

i. the name of the counterparty and credit details

ii. the credit ratings (if any) of the payor(s)

iii. the risks sought to be mitigated by the derivative

iv. anticipated circumstances (if any) in which the derivative may not achieve such mitigation or be subject to early termination

v. whether collateral posting requirements will apply;

d. details respecting other funding obligations, such as:

i. the payee

ii. the timing and any conditions of payments

iii. any required deposits to be made into a finance reserve account or supplemental account or the availability of any funding rebates in order to provide for payment of such obligations

iv. in the case of a contingent obligation (e.g., indemnities), the nature and extent of any contingency affecting the payment obligation, the circumstances in which a payment obligation may arise and any specified maximum claim amount

e. assuming that the Province would be liable for capital, reserve or supplementary account deposit obligations (see question 6, above), details respecting the schedule for such deposits and the conditions for the application of such amounts to pay such amounts and the related priorities for application.

18. OPG (and presumably OPG's accountants) is contemplating that the Province will be provided transaction documentation "in substantially final form" and that the Province will not be entitled to provide input "other than in its capacity as obligor under the [CLPA]". In other words, assuming that the CLPA is signed in advance, the Province will have no real opportunity to comment on the forms of transaction documents to be used, and will have a limited opportunity to "not accept" [1] the documentation. Can the Province live with these limitations?

19. The proposed OPG certificate (pre-incurrence) would include an attestation by OPG regarding the use of pre-reviewed documentation. The test for conformity of the to-be-used documentation, compared to the pre-reviewed documentation, would focus only on whether "the covenants of the Financing Entity are no more onerous in any material respect" and that the "events of default" are consistent "in all material respects". Is the limited scope of this conformity test acceptable, or should it be broadened and cover specific items such as:

    a. no differences in the timing of or circumstances under which payments are or may become due (for example, as a result of any termination, wind-up, liquidation or realization)

    b. no differences that could affect the Province's rights of subrogation or interests as a subrogee

    c. with respect to the anticipated form of series specific documents (as opposed to the upfront terms of program-wide "master" documents), confirming that the variable terms set forth in the proposed documents are as reasonably contemplated in the reviewed forms, having regard to such matters as:

        i. the type of instrument to be issued (i.e., debt (bullet vs. amortizing), equity-linked, pass-through instruments, etc.)

        ii. the scope of the related obligations (e.g., redemption or extension features or other optionality)

        iii. the extent of the related obligations (e.g., limited recourse features, limitations on indemnities, etc.)

        iv. the timing, conditions and circumstances in which payment obligations may arise, but making it clear that conformity would not include a comparison to the particular financial terms, rates, levels and parameters of the obligations other than if the reviewed forms specify specific requirements, limitations or parameters.

20. How much time is sufficient for the Province:

    a. to do an initial review of the main transaction documentation (including forms of series-specific documents), which would set the acceptable pattern for future

[1] Note that the proposed OPG language is not crystal clear that the Province can reject the reviewed documentation, which we expect is merely drafting, but that will need to be confirmed assuming the Province wishes to work within the OPG/Tory mark-up.

issuances? The proposal is 15 BDs, although that does not seem to make sense given that OPG proposes that the Province must confirm acceptance of the terms within 15 BDs of receipt of the documentation

b. to do a review of any changes to the main transaction documentation (including forms of series-specific documents), which would reset the acceptable pattern for future issuances? The proposal is to receive proposed amendments at least 15 BDs prior to first use, and the Province would confirm acceptance of the terms within 15 BDs of receipt of the documentation

c. to review applicable details of a proposed funding obligation in advance of an incurrence (proposal is 10BDs)?

21. What other items should be incorporated into the timeline from the Province's perspective?

E. Information, Reporting and Other Covenants

22. OPG proposes to provide the Province with an applicable "Financing Plan" only after an incurrence. Does the Province need to see this document as it is issued and changed, rather than only after the time of an incurrence?

23. OPG proposes to provide the Province with any actual offering/disclosure documents only after it is used. Does the Province need to have input into offering/disclosure document before use or dissemination (e.g., the description of the CLPA)?

24. OPG has limited its negative covenant on elections by the Financing Entity following a Protection Event to actions that would accelerate obligations. Should this be broader to cover extensions or other consensual changes that could affect the obligations (e.g., creditor concessions).

F. Parties

25. Will it be sufficient for the CLPA (and any procedural side-letter) to be signed by OPG, acting solely in its capacity as "financial services manager" (i.e., with OPG's liability being limited by the terms of the related management or administrative agreement)? How does this interplay with any other indemnities or exculpatory provisions that the Province is anticipating for OPG (corporate) and its officers?

26. Who from OPG should sign the officer's certificate? The OPG proposal is 2 "executive officers".

27. OPG proposes that a failure to comply with the PAM or "approval process" will not result in any breach. Assuming that OPG is in fact proposing that its failure would have no consequences, including as between the Province and OPG whatsoever, are the process aspects of the OPG proposal even meaningful to the Province?

Hello Malle,

I am writing to you to inquire about the timing for an approval for an OIC in relation to a loan that the OFA may be making to St. Michael's, as detailed below.

In short, the OFA has the available room under its existing lending OICs (i.e. the OICs where the OFA borrows from Her Majesty, and then in turn makes loans to public bodies), but the expiry dates of the existing OICs are shorter than the proposed maturity. The OICs expire in 2041 and the loan would mature in late 2054. In order for the St. Micheal's loan to occur, there has to be a binding assurance to HOOPP by April 30th that funds will be available to be advance in the summer of 2019. In order for us to provide this, we would need to get approval for an amending OIC to extend the expiry dates of the existing OICs to 2055.

Given that the last LRC scheduled is for April 16th, and the deadlines for providing materials has passed (March 20th), it doesn't seem possible to get approval for an amending OIC prior to April 30th. Do you know of any options that might make this possible?

Thanks,
Sarah

Hi Andrea,

We are in discussions with St. Michael's Hospital to provide them with a $100M loan that would be amortized over 35 years. This is with regard to pension assets that they are transferring to HOOPP that need to be topped up by $100M.

A wrinkle is that they need to provide a binding assurance to HOOPP by April 30 that they have the funds although the effective date of the loan and the transfer of funds won't take place until July/August of 2019. This means that the loan wouldn't be paid off until late 2054.

We understand that the latest dated OIC is 844/2008 which ends June 1, 2041, so in order to make this loan we would need an OIC out to say, 2055 – although we may wish to make it later. A smaller request from Grand River hospital would be similar. Both loans would fit within the existing authorized amounts but not the repayment date.

Please advise the best way to proceed towards the required OIC amendment re timing.

Thanks. I will call to follow up.

Thanks,
Garth

Hi,

I have a place holder for when we do the next joint update to add the new 2 billion OIC 1279/2017 and the associated 2 billion line of credit (IESO-OFA credit facility FHP related). Also note the IESO 975m one will be removed while the IESO 475M will remain- it will be one line representing 475M.

Andrea

Hi Garth,
I have been asked to respond to your query. Attached is the most current listing we have available of the OFA loans under the two OIC's. This listing was finalized in conjunction with Daki in Corporate Finance.
Based on this July 11, 2017 listing, the remaining authority under the two OIC's are as follows:

1) OIC 675/97 (the currently active one) has remaining authority of $721,594,955.57 as of July 11, 2017

2) OIC 767/99 has authority in the amount of $656,000,000.00 as of July 11, 2017

So it seems, we should be able to draw on OIC 675/97 for the additional loans you reference given it was noted in the BN you attached that the 2017-2018 OFA Borrowing and On-lending Plan was set at $486 million and apparently $250 million of that was postponed to 2018-2019.

Let me know should you have any further question or concerns.

Andrea

Hi Jean-Francois,

You will see in the highlighted section below that Lisa is asking that we confirm that 2 OFA loans we are working on:

- $150 million to the Ontario Cannabis Retail Corporation
- $100 million to St Michael's hospital are covered by the "existing on-lending OIC's".

I don't know who would keep a registry of the OICs and what loans they cover. Would your group have this registry?

Thanks,
Garth

Hi Garth,

Please find attached some comments and suggested amendments to the draft briefing note, attached. I did not review the attachments; however, as discussed on Friday, they still reference the loan to St. Michael's hospital as well (and these references should be deleted).

I'm still working on the directive for the OCRC loan. In the meantime, can you please confirm that this loan is covered by the existing on-lending OICs (as referenced in the draft note)?

Thank you,

Lisa

FYI, a memo from the Secretary of Cabinet outlining our responsibilities during the writ and election period. As the Secretary outlines below, "the long-held practice in Ontario is for the government to assume a "caretaker role" as soon as the writ for a general election is issued [Wednesday, May 9] … The essential element of the caretaker practice is that only routine, non-controversial, or urgent business is conducted".

From May 9 onward, all Cabinet and committee meetings, including Treasury Board and Management Board of Cabinet, are suspended unless required to ensure the continuation of government operations and public services during the writ period. Furthermore, regulations should not be filed during the caretaker period even if previously approved by Cabinet and signed by the Lieutenant Governor.

MEMORANDUM TO: Deputy Ministers

SUBJECT: Public Service Responsibilities and Procedures Leading Up to and During the Election Period

As you know, pursuant to the Election Act, Ontario's 2018 general election is scheduled to take place on Thursday, June 7. In accordance with the Act, the election period will officially begin when the Chief Electoral Officer issues the writ of election on Wednesday, May 9 in accordance with an order of the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

This memorandum is a reminder of several key election-related procedures and our responsibilities as public servants during the election period. I would request that you share this memo with all of your staff and with the Chairs and CEOs of your agencies, boards and commissions, who have traditionally applied the same rules and procedures to their operations during this period. A similar memo will be sent by the Premier's Office to Ministers, Parliamentary Assistants and Ministry Chiefs of Staff.

Role of the Public Service

We must always be mindful of our Public Service of Ontario Act obligations to provide professional, neutral and non-partisan service. This obligation is never more important than during an election period.

The public service continues to be committed to supporting the government in fulfilling its mandate prior to the election. The public service also has an important role to play in overseeing the uninterrupted delivery of programs and services during the election campaign while preparing for a smooth transition for a returning or new government following an election.

Regardless of the election outcome, there will be a new Parliament – Ontario's 42nd – consisting of both returning and newly elected MPPs. The Lieutenant Governor will also swear in a new Executive Council on the recommendation of the Premier or Premier-elect.

Government Operations During the Election Period

The long-held practice in Ontario is for the government to assume a “caretaker role” as soon as the writ for a general election is issued. The caretaker period will commence with the dissolution of the Legislative Assembly scheduled for Wednesday, May 9, and can generally be expected to continue until the swearing-in of a returning or new government.

The essential element of the caretaker practice is that only routine, non-controversial, or urgent business is conducted. The caretaker role requires that there be no new policy or program initiatives, and restricts ongoing work, consultations, appointments, regulatory postings, public engagement, announcements and ministry events. Prior approval to engage in these activities does not provide authority to continue once the caretaker period has begun. Except for the normal implementation of routine government services and programs, any activity or action that would not reasonably be perceived as routine, non-controversial, urgent or time sensitive, should be suspended once the writ is issued.

In assessing whether ongoing work is consistent with the caretaker role of government, ask the following relevant questions:

- Is the proposed work truly routine or urgent?
- Is there a potential for the work to be raised as a political issue during the election?
- Have all the necessary policy, funding and human resource approvals been received?
- Is there a legislative or legal requirement to provide the program or service?
- Do any of the next steps require further political decision or direction?
- Is there any reason why the activity cannot wait?
- Does the program or service need to be communicated to the public?
- Would the work limit or impair the decision-making freedom of a future government?
- Would any future government agree the work was necessary during the writ period?

All Cabinet and committee meetings, including Treasury Board and Management Board of Cabinet, are suspended unless required to ensure the continuation of government operations and public services during the writ period. This would include any meetings required to respond to urgent or unforeseen circumstances. Should circumstances require a decision of Cabinet, the Cabinet Office will work with the Office of the Premier to determine the appropriate steps to take to convene Cabinet in a manner consistent with the caretaker role.

Regulations should not be filed during the caretaker period even if previously approved by Cabinet and signed by the Lieutenant Governor. If you believe there are urgent circumstances that may require the filing of a regulation during this time, the situation should be discussed with my office well in advance of the caretaker period. Otherwise approved regulations should be held until after the election, at which time a returning or new Minister's office should be asked for direction. Please keep in mind that unfiled regulations will automatically "expire" four months from the day of approval unless the filing date is extended by the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

There may be some items that will require a careful consideration of these caretaker principles before a decision can be made on whether they should proceed. In assessing these issues, it is very important to avoid planning any activity that would require a Minister's or Cabinet's decision during or immediately after the election period unless absolutely necessary or critical to ongoing government operations. To help resolve these matters, I will be Chairing a Caretaker Committee of Central Agency Deputy Ministers to review areas that are deemed to be significant enough to warrant central agency review. If you have any questions, please contact Steven Davidson, Deputy Minister for Policy and Delivery, Cabinet Office on policy-related matters or Helen Angus, Secretary of the Treasury Board on matters related to funding or human resources. If necessary, they will be bringing these matters forward to the Committee for consideration.

Communication Activities

Pursuant to the provisions of the Government Advertising Act, government advertising will be restricted effective March 10, 2018. Details on this restriction have been communicated to you by Deputy Minister of Communications and Associate Secretary of the Cabinet, Lynn Betzner.

Once the writ period begins, these advertising restrictions will continue as part of the caretaker role of government. Further, additional restrictions will be placed on all other government events, communications activities and announcements. Deputy Betzner will forward a communications protocol for the writ period to you and your Director of Communications.

In accordance with these restrictions, communications activities and announcements by the government will be suspended unless related to a recognized activity such as:

- An emergency situation that needs to be communicated to the public, e.g. public health emergency.
- A revenue-generating communication by a government or government agency program intended to support revenue generating activities in Ontario, e.g. Foodland Ontario.
- A time-sensitive, statutory, or seasonal communication.
- An Agency Mandate communication necessary to support a scheduled agency's mandate, such as the LCBO.

Issues management support should continue as usual to address any issues where the public interest might require comment by your Minister. Such support should be consistent with the caretaker role of government during this period. The Premier's Office will be reminding Ministers, Parliamentary Assistants and Chiefs of Staff that the public service must not support candidates in an election and that requests for information and support must continue to respect the neutral, non-partisan role of the public service.

Your ministry staff should work with their Cabinet Office policy and communications contacts and staff remaining in your Minister's office to ensure that issues are managed appropriately.

Members of the Legislative Assembly

The Legislative Assembly provides information to all MPPs regarding their rights and obligations as Members of the Assembly during the election period. For example, while MPPs technically no longer hold office once the Assembly is dissolved for the election, their constituency offices remain open during the election period to support the citizens of these ridings. It is entirely appropriate for the public service to work with your Ministers' Offices to support constituency offices with public information in the same professional, non-partisan manner as we would at any other time.

Role of Ministers and Parliamentary Assistants

Ministers remain members of the Executive Council until the Premier submits, and the Lieutenant Governor accepts, their resignations. Any minister who is not re-elected remains a member of the Executive Council until their resignation is submitted to the Lieutenant Governor. This means that Ministers retain the rights, privileges and responsibilities of their office during and after an election, although these rights, privileges and responsibilities must now be exercised in accordance with the caretaker role of government. It is our responsibility as public servants to continue to serve them in that capacity.

The Premier's Office will be sending out a memo regarding the roles and responsibilities of Ministers, Parliamentary Assistants and political staff during the election period that you should review closely. In that regard, Cabinet Office will work with the Premier's Office and you will work with your Minister's Office to ensure these instructions are properly understood and implemented.

Ministers will be asked to exercise care and avoid any perception that they are using their ministerial offices, resources or portfolios for political purposes. While most government events are postponed during the election period, should any such event be approved to proceed during this time, Ministers and Parliamentary Assistants will be advised not to attend. Other local MPPs or candidates will also not be invited to attend any such events. However, there may be circumstances where a particular situation or protocol requires a Minister's involvement. Such circumstances might include a provincial emergency or a national or international event or occurrence where protocol would reasonably require a statement by the Premier or a responsible Minister. Any such involvement will need to be cleared in advanced with the Premier's Office in consultation with my Office.

Ministers will be advised that their cars and drivers should not be used during the writ period, and will be asked to ensure that their government vehicles are parked in their reserved parking space and that the keys are given to Executive Transportation Services. Ministers will also be advised that they cannot use a car or driver from the government pool during the writ period unless it is in relation to a government activity that has been approved by the Premier's Office, in consultation with Cabinet Office.

Parliamentary Assistants are appointed by Order-in-Council and technically retain their positions until the order is revoked. However, Ministers have been asked to make sure that Parliamentary Assistant assignments or responsibilities are suspended during the writ period.

Political Staff

Ministers' office staff will receive instructions on their activities during the election period, including political activity rules and the appropriate use of government resources and equipment (e.g., computers, photocopiers, BlackBerrys, cell phones, faxes, etc.).

Most Ministers' offices will maintain only core staff during the writ period. You will play an important role in working with staff remaining in your Ministers' offices to support your Ministers as members of the Executive Council during the election.

Political Activity Rules for the Ontario Public Service

The Public Service of Ontario Act sets out specific rules outlining the political activities that are permissible by employees in all ministries, Ministers' offices and public bodies. Special rules apply in the case of elections, and it is important that we respect these rules and the political activity rights of all public servants during this time. The Secretary of the Treasury Board Helen Angus will provide detailed information on these rules and guidelines.

Minister's Correspondence

As will be set out in Deputy Betzner's memorandum, Ministers' correspondence should continue to be answered during the election period according to quality service standards. In some circumstances, it may be more appropriate for policy or program-related correspondence to be answered by a Deputy Minister, Assistant Deputy Minister or program area.

In cases where a Minister's reply is required, an acknowledgement letter should indicate that the correspondence will be brought to the Minister's attention immediately after the election.

Where appropriate, certain letters can be brought to the attention of your Minister's office throughout the writ period.

Deputy Betzner will be sending you additional information to provide further guidance on these issues. If you have any questions, please contact her office.

Freedom of Information Requests

The statutory obligation to respond to all Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act requests within 30 days is not altered by an election call. These requests should continue to be processed as usual during the election period, and you should continue to advise your Minister's office contact as appropriate.

Preservation of Government Records

Records that were received or created in a Ministry, by a Minister, or in a Minister's office in connection with the official activities of the government are public records subject to the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006 and the applicable records schedules approved by the Archivist of Ontario. The approved records schedules contain provisions regarding these recordkeeping obligations as they relate to general elections.

The Premier's Office has been and will be providing communications to all Ministers' offices and the offices of Parliamentary Assistants on the importance of meeting these requirements. We must also continue to ensure that we meet our own recordkeeping obligations under the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006.

I know you will work with your Minister's office and your staff to ensure plans are in place to meet these obligations. Additional guidance on recordkeeping during and after the election period will be provided by the Archivist of Ontario, John Roberts. Staff from the Archives of Ontario can offer detailed information and assistance. For assistance please contact:

Election Preparation Planning

As you know, planning to support a returning or new government following the election is an important part of our work leading up to and during an election period. As part of this process, and to avoid duplication, Cabinet Office will be tracking all commitments made by each party during the election. It is critical that no costing of platform commitments be undertaken during the election period. Cabinet Office will be providing you with relevant tools to support our commitment tracking exercise.

In addition, Cabinet Office will be requesting assistance from your ministries in the development of Election Preparation Planning documents required to support the government following the election. My office will work directly with your lead representative on these requests, and I would ask you to pay particular attention to the due date for these materials.

To assist in these matters, please identify one designated lead person from your office to work with William Bromm (416-325-7378) or Boafoa Kwamena (416-325-4400).

Our Best Advice

The application of the rules outlined in this memo and the preparations undertaken by the public service during this time is an important part of the democratic process. It ensures the public service is in a position to offer our best, non-partisan advice leading up to and following the election, and is an important part of the continuity of government.

Given the importance of the issues outlined in this memo, I am asking that you ensure your Minister's office understands your ongoing commitment to implementing the government's mandate, while also reinforcing the importance of having the Minister's office flow all requests through your office to ensure enhanced coordination.

I know I can rely on your full support during the coming months, and want to encourage you to actively engage your ministries in these critical activities. Please do not hesitate to call me or my office at any time if you have any questions.

MEMORANDUM TO: Deputy Ministers

SUBJECT: Public Service Responsibilities and Procedures Leading Up to and During the Election Period

As you know, pursuant to the Election Act, Ontario's 2018 general election is scheduled to take place on Thursday, June 7. In accordance with the Act, the election period will officially begin when the Chief Electoral Officer issues the writ of election on Wednesday, May 9 in accordance with an order of the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

This memorandum is a reminder of several key election-related procedures and our responsibilities as public servants during the election period. I would request that you share this memo with all of your staff and with the Chairs and CEOs of your agencies, boards and commissions, who have traditionally applied the same rules and procedures to their operations during this period. A similar memo will be sent by the Premier's Office to Ministers, Parliamentary Assistants and Ministry Chiefs of Staff.

Role of the Public Service

We must always be mindful of our Public Service of Ontario Act obligations to provide professional, neutral and non-partisan service. This obligation is never more important than during an election period.

The public service continues to be committed to supporting the government in fulfilling its mandate prior to the election. The public service also has an important role to play in overseeing the uninterrupted delivery of programs and services during the election campaign while preparing for a smooth transition for a returning or new government following an election.

Regardless of the election outcome, there will be a new Parliament – Ontario's 42nd – consisting of both returning and newly elected MPPs. The Lieutenant Governor will also swear in a new Executive Council on the recommendation of the Premier or Premier-elect.

Government Operations During the Election Period

The long-held practice in Ontario is for the government to assume a “caretaker role” as soon as the writ for a general election is issued. The caretaker period will commence with the dissolution of the Legislative Assembly scheduled for Wednesday, May 9, and can generally be expected to continue until the swearing-in of a returning or new government.

The essential element of the caretaker practice is that only routine, non-controversial, or urgent business is conducted. The caretaker role requires that there be no new policy or program initiatives, and restricts ongoing work, consultations, appointments, regulatory postings, public engagement, announcements and ministry events. Prior approval to engage in these activities does not provide authority to continue once the caretaker period has begun. Except for the normal implementation of routine government services and programs, any activity or action that would not reasonably be perceived as routine, non-controversial, urgent or time sensitive, should be suspended once the writ is issued.

In assessing whether ongoing work is consistent with the caretaker role of government, ask the following relevant questions:

- Is the proposed work truly routine or urgent?
- Is there a potential for the work to be raised as a political issue during the election?
- Have all the necessary policy, funding and human resource approvals been received?
- Is there a legislative or legal requirement to provide the program or service?
- Do any of the next steps require further political decision or direction?
- Is there any reason why the activity cannot wait?
- Does the program or service need to be communicated to the public?
- Would the work limit or impair the decision-making freedom of a future government?
- Would any future government agree the work was necessary during the writ period?

All Cabinet and committee meetings, including Treasury Board and Management Board of Cabinet, are suspended unless required to ensure the continuation of government operations and public services during the writ period. This would include any meetings required to respond to urgent or unforeseen circumstances. Should circumstances require a decision of Cabinet, the Cabinet Office will work with the Office of the Premier to determine the appropriate steps to take to convene Cabinet in a manner consistent with the caretaker role.

Regulations should not be filed during the caretaker period even if previously approved by Cabinet and signed by the Lieutenant Governor. If you believe there are urgent circumstances that may require the filing of a regulation during this time, the situation should be discussed with my office well in advance of the caretaker period. Otherwise approved regulations should be held until after the election, at which time a returning or new Minister’s office should be asked for direction. Please keep in mind that unfiled regulations will automatically “expire” four months from the day of approval unless the filing date is extended by the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

If you have any questions, please contact Steven Davidson, Deputy Minister for Policy and Delivery, Cabinet Office on policy-related matters or Helen Angus, Secretary of the Treasury Board on matters related to funding or human resources. If necessary, they will be bringing these matters forward to the Committee for consideration.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Government Advertising Act, government advertising will be restricted effective March 10, 2018. Details on this restriction have been communicated to you by Deputy Minister of Communications and Associate Secretary of the Cabinet, Lynn Betzner.

Once the writ period begins, these advertising restrictions will continue as part of the caretaker role of government. Hi Will,

After discussing this matter further with Toby this morning we've decided that arranging an internal call would be appropriate to discuss outstanding issues. Can you please set up a call with everyone on this e-mail for this afternoon (and anyone else who may be required)? In the meantime I'm still tweaking the latest draft to include intercept provisions (in the event that they are required) and Toby is going to put together a list of remaining questions/issues based on our discussions.

Thank you,

Lisa

Hello Ken,

As you were a recipient on this original e-mail from Anthony Martinello at IESO, I thought I would run CMD and CEFD's comments by you so far. I understand from Salman that Ron will be providing some additional comments shortly.

Ken, do you have any comments on IESO's letter? IESO has requested a response by today.

Thanks,
Sarah

Hi Sarah,

Attached is CEFD comments/markup. Was waiting for one last confirmation but might as well send this out to you to which you seemed to have incorporated already.

For your 2 comments, highlighted below, the first question we need confirmed from IESO is their requirement. We prefer to go the route of doing the FHP requirement separately as well, so we need confirmation on if the requirement is $1.5 billion or is there anything else they would have used the $975M one for. We may need to reduce the $975M one.

Would you have LRC dates for June/July? Just trying to see how the timelines would fit in. You had mentioned you may have a table with some dates, just so we can work backwards.

Thanks,
Salman

Thank you, Salman

I asked Mike Manning about the changing the draw period from the current 28-95 days, to 7-95 days, and he is fine with that change.

Mike also is fine with the proposed "interest charge to be Province's cost of funds for borrowing with a similar term as determined by OFA plus 0.25 percent per annum", as it exactly matches the rate on the current $975M facility.

Just so we agree on IESO's requested in terms of setting up the credit facility, is it also your understanding that IESO wishes to:

1) amend the $975M to allow for FHP draws and to reduce the draw period to 7-95 days, but the expiry date will remain unchanged at December 31, 2019, and;
2) have a new FHP exclusive facility for the requested additional $1,500M commitment expiring September 30, 2022, with the terms outlined in the letter.

Have you also received confirmation that OFA will be funding the new $1,500M commitment?

Thanks,
Sarah

Hi Sarah,

I'll be getting some comments on the letter back to you shortly. Mostly likely the same ones we discussed and which you also had.

Subject: FW: DRAFT IESO FH credit letter

Hello John,

I'm not sure if you've seen the attached letter as of yet. We have received this request from IESO to set-up a credit facility for IESO to borrow $1,500M to fund the Fair Hydro Program.

IESO indicates that they either wish to have the existing $975M credit facility between the OFA and IESO increased by $1,500M (incorporating their proposed provisions) or to have a separate $1,500M credit facility altogether. I'm aware that there have some discussions around this. Do you know if it has been decided if OFA or OEFC should provide this facility?

Thanks,
Sarah

I did speak with Moody's on April 28 to obtain their feedback.

Re: IESO Credit Requirements for the 2017 Fair Hydro Plan~~rogram~~

Dear Mr. Mayman,

As you are aware the Ontario government has announced its inten~~s~~tion to implement the proposed Fair Hydro Plan~~program~~ (FHP) to reduce electricity prices for eligible consumers in the province. Proposed l~~L~~egislation ~~is expected to be~~was introduced this month for the program. The Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) is preparing to implement the FHP and has determined that to support the IESO's role in implementation it will need greater credit liquidity than currently exists.

The existing credit facility between the IESO and the Ontario Financing Authority~~'s~~ (OFA) is $975 million. The IESO proposes that an additional facility/commitment be provided in the amount of $1,500 million. This would enable the IESO to provide interim financing for the FHP's spreading out of global adjustment costs~~smoothing~~ for a period of several months, if needed.

We suggest the OFA's current $975 million agreement and the new separate (or co-mingled) FHP agreement consider the following key provisions:

- FHP: 5 year term to align with the FHP's initial period of deferral of electricity prices~~, period~~ plus a few months of contingency (i.e., to September 30, 2022);
- FHP: interest charge to be Province's cost of funds for borrowing with a similar term as determined by OFA plus 0.25 per cent per annum;
- FHP: drawings to be based on minimum of 7 days to a maximum of 95 days, to minimize interest costs and permit efficient FHP asset transfers;
- Existing $975 million facility: draws to permit for FHP purposes until the credit agreement for FHP purposes has been made available; and Commented [A1]: Please confirm that the requirement is $1.5 billion as it is preferred to keep the $975M separate from FHP.

Commented [A2]: It is preferred that a separate credit facility be set up for FHP purposes. OFA is working to obtain the appropriate approvals required. Option to use the existing facility may be exercised if timing does not permit putting in place a new credit facility.

Commented [A3]: This is rate is the same as in the existing $975M Credit Facility and is acceptable.

Commented [A4]: Overall, would it be better to purely separate out the FHP borrowing – so a larger than $1.5 bn new facility, and potentially shrink the existing $975 facility?

Commented [A5]: $975 million agreement is for purposes outlined under section 25.33 of the Electricity Act. Seems FHP would fall under that but legal to confirm. Either way, agreement purpose would need to be amended.

- $975 million: a reduction in the 28 days minimum draw for the existing facility to a minimum of 7 days to a maximum of 95 days;

Commented [A6]: Agree that 28 minimum draw may be reduced to 7 days.

Should the IESO find that there is persistent~~consistent~~ usage of these facilities we will contact the OFA for further arrangements.

Upon your reply to this letter, the IESO will seek any necessary IESO Board of Directors' approval for the above credit facility(ies) and we will provide such evidence for the OFA's records.

We appreciate the OFA's continue support and look forward to working with you. Please contact me should you need anything further.

Hi Mike, Ken,

Did you have comments on the letter? Staff here have made some initial comments. IESO wanted to issue this this week.

I think on the last call, we had talked about it being cleaner to have a separate facility for the FHP. The draft letter seems to have a potential for IESO drawing both on the new facility and the existing one. Does that work for you?

Do the timelines and spread wording work for you?

Carlos,

Further to our discussions re establishing GA financing benchmark. Attached please find the draft term sheet of the subordinated debt (from Province equity injection). Could you please review and circulate it to the appropriate contacts/group on your side. We'd also like to set up a meeting with OFA, at your earliest convenience, to go over the document and get your feedback. Please let us know your availability.

Thanks

FINANCING TRUST – PERFORMANCE FEE TO OPG

BACKGROUND

Ontario Power Generation Inc. (OPG) has been appointed the Financial Services Manager under the Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 to, among other things evaluate whether funding obligations should be incurred by the Trust for the purpose of acquiring and financing an investment interest. A performance fee relating to the funding obligations will be meaningful and allow OPG to make decisions that will significantly impact its return. The Act as drafted enables OPG to achieve its accounting objective of consolidation of the Trust with OPG, and the ability to earn a return and take on risk, through its control of the Trust.. The objective therefore is to recommend a reasonable variable performance fee structure for OPG to earn a return from the Trust, and meet the accounting requirement.

ANALYSIS OF ACCOUNTING REQUIREMENT

To support the accounting consolidation, OPG's variable performance return will be accomplished through the followings:

a. The cash flow from the investment asset shall include interest determined based on a relevant benchmark that is appropriate relative to the investment asset, plus an appropriate margin consistent with the relevant market and other risks
b. OPG shall have the authority to determine the financing strategy, which will vary the financing costs with the objective of enabling the Trust to achieve a more favorable return compared to the benchmark for interest on the investment asset
c. The Trust shall establish different classes of debt (senior, subordinated and the most subordinated). The classes would allow the Trust to delineate financing of lower risk investment and investment that would bear higher residual risk. The delineation would limit OPG's self-funded investment to a reasonable level in order to allow OPG to remain a self-sustaining entity.
d. OPG shall, through its ownership of the most subordinated liability, be able to capture and retain the pricing difference between cost of financing and benchmark for interest on the investment asset, or any residual risk of investment asset. The targeted return of the subordinated debt should be reflective of the underlying risks and compensate holders for active management that would be required.

PERFORMANCE FEE ANALYSIS

Based on the accounting requirements, the recommendation is for OPG to establish a variable performance fee structure as follows:

As the Trust may issue both long term bonds and medium term notes, benchmarks based on various terms, will be established on an annual basis, subject to the following methodology:

- Benchmarks will be established as the sum of (1) reference rate, and (2) spread
    - Both reference rate and spread will be term dependant

- For bond/note issuance, reference rate will be GOC rate of equivalent term
- Reference rate will be based on consensus forecast provided by various financial institutions

- Benchmarks will be established based on the weighted average rate of incremental debt issuance at the Trust level
- If the actual weighted average rate is lower than the corresponding benchmark, OPG will realize a gain, otherwise a loss
- Variable performance fee, i.e. gain/loss, is applicable only to OPG's investment in the Trust (5% of the funding requirement), and is capped at benchmark weighted average rate +/-1%

APPENDIX 1

The illustration is based on the expected Trust debt structure as follows:

	Risk Profile	Source	% of Total Funding Requirement
Tranche A Senior Debt	the least risky	Capital Markets	51%
Tranche B Sub Debt	In between A&C	OPG via OEFC	39%
Tranche C Sub Debt	the most risky	OPG via OEFC	5%
		OPG via Capital Markets	5%

1. Benchmark is to be established at each year end for Trust issuance next year. In this example, assuming the following benchmark is established as of end of Yr 1

		Benchmark
Tranche A	51%	4.25%
Tranche B Sub Debt	39%	5.50%
Tranche C Sub Debt	10%	6.50%
Weighted Average Rate		5.0%

2. By the end of Yr 2, OPG will calculate the actual weighted average rate for all incremental issuance for the year. If the actual weighted average rate is lower than the corresponding benchmark, OPG will realize a gain, otherwise a loss.

	Allocation	Benchmark	Actual
Tranche A	51%	4.25%	5.0%
Tranche B Sub Debt	39%	5.50%	5.60%
Tranche C Sub Debt	10%	6.50%	6.60%
Weighted Average Rate		5.0%	5.4%
		Loss	0.4%

3. Variable management fee, i.e. gain/loss, is applicable only to OPG's investment (5% of the Trust funding requirement), and is capped at benchmark weighted average rate +/-1%.

   Based on the example above and assume incremental Trust issuance is $2B, OPG will realize loss of variable performance fee of 0.4M ($2B*5%*0.4%)

Hi Malle,
I just received the latest draft of the pricing protocol document and notice that OPG has inserted the OFA as the counterparty.

Can we discuss?

Carlos,

Please find attached a clean and incremental blackline of the revised Subordinated Debt Pricing Protocol. This reflects comments received from the MOE late last week. We have revised the document to appear less formal (changed from Protocol Agreement to Protocol) and also changed the counterparty to be the OFA. We have also added an obligation for the FSM to share the inputs (ie Indicative Spreads, and Credit Ratings) with the OFA, within a reasonable time period.

Please let us know if you have any additional comments or concerns.

Thanks

~~Article 3 –~~ ARTICLE 2 - INTERIM INTEREST RATE PROTOCOLS

~~3.01~~2.01 Interest Rate Protocols

The interest rate applicable to each Series of Subordinated Notes and Junior Subordinated Notes that are issued only to OPG or its Affiliates shall be established by the FSM in accordance with the procedures set out herein.

~~3.02~~2.02 Composite Interest Rate

For any Series of Subordinated Notes or Junior Subordinated Notes that are issued only to OPG or its Affiliates, the interest rate shall be the aggregate of the applicable Base Rate and the Applicable Spread.

~~3.03~~2.03 Base Rate

(a) For Subordinated Term Notes and Junior Subordinated Term Notes, the "Base Rate" shall be an annual rate of interest comprised of the applicable yield for the Benchmark Government of Canada bonds listed at the time and with the same term as that of the Series of Subordinated Notes or Series of Junior Subordinated Notes, as applicable. In the event that there are no such Benchmark Government of Canada bonds listed at the time of issuance, the applicable Base Rate of interest shall be established by interpolating on a straight line basis the terms of the two Benchmark Government of Canada bonds that are closest to the term of the applicable Series of Subordinated Term Notes or Series of Junior Subordinated Term Notes, as applicable, one being for a longer term and the other being for a shorter term; and

(b) For Subordinated Warehouse Notes and Junior Subordinated Warehouse Notes, the "Base Rate" shall be an annual interest rate equal to the all-in funding costs under the related Warehouse Obligations, expressed as a rate per annum, as determined by the FSM acting reasonably, or at any time when there are no Warehouse Obligations outstanding the "Base Rate" shall be the average of the posted "prime rate of interest" published by the five largest Canadian banks at such time.

~~3.04~~2.04 Applicable Spread

(a) Prior to the issuance of any new Subordinated Term Notes or Junior Subordinated Term Notes, the FSM will solicit from at least five investment dealers in Canada, a survey of indicative spreads over the applicable Base Rate (collectively, the "Indicative Spreads" and each an "Indicative Spread") applicable to capital market debt issuances having features comparable to each of the proposed Series of Subordinated Term Notes and Junior Subordinated Term Notes, having regard to the expected credit rating and tenor. Such solicitation of Indicative Spreads shall occur on the pricing date of the applicable Series of Subordinated Term Notes and Junior Subordinated Term Notes and may, at the FSM's option, also occur on other dates selected by the FSM provided that no such date is more than one week prior to the pricing date. The Applicable Spread for Subordinated Term Notes or Junior Subordinated Term Notes, as applicable, will be the simple average of the respective Indicative Spreads after excluding the highest and the lowest Indicative Spread for each day (not more than one week prior to the pricing date) that Indicative Spreads were provided;

(b) For Subordinated Warehouse Notes the FSM will solicit from time to time, but no less frequently than on an annual basis, from at least five investment dealers in Canada, a survey of Indicative Spreads over the applicable Base Rate applicable to commercial paper issuances having features comparable to the Subordinated Warehouse Notes including credit rating and tenor. The Applicable Spread for Subordinated Warehouse Notes will be the simple average of the respective Indicative Spreads, after excluding the highest and the lowest Indicative Spread;

(c) The Applicable Spread for Junior Subordinated Warehouse Notes shall be equal to the Applicable Spread derived from Section 2.04(b) for the Subordinated Warehouse Notes, provided the Junior Subordinated Term Notes are rated Investment Grade. If the Junior Subordinated Term Notes are rated below Investment Grade, the Applicable Spread for the Junior Subordinated Warehouse Notes will equal to the Applicable Spread for the Subordinated Warehouse Notes plus 100 bps.

For the purposes of this section "Investment Grade" means an "approved rating" from at least one "designated rating organization" (as such terms are defined for securities law purposes).

Formatted: Indent: First line: 0.56"

~~3.05~~2.05 Credit Ratings

In order to facilitate the survey of Indicative Spreads, the FSM will solicit from time to time, from an approved rating organization (as such term is defined for securities laws purposes), a credit rating, which may include a shadow rating, for the Subordinated Notes and the Junior Subordinated Notes.

~~Article 4 - GENERAL~~

~~4.01 Benefit of the Agreement~~

~~This Agreement will enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and permitted assigns of the parties.~~

~~4.02 Entire Agreement~~

~~This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and cancel and supersede any prior understandings and agreements between the parties with respect thereto. There are no representations, warranties, terms, conditions, undertakings or collateral agreements, express, implied or statutory, between the parties other than as expressly set forth in this Agreement.~~

~~4.03 Assignment, Amendments and Waivers~~

~~No assignment or amendment to this Agreement will be valid or binding unless set forth in writing and duly executed by all of the parties. No waiver of any breach of any provision of this Agreement will be effective or binding unless made in writing and signed by the party purporting to give the same and, unless otherwise provided in the written waiver, will be limited to the specific breach waived.~~

~~4.04 Severability~~

~~If any provision of this Agreement is determined to be invalid or unenforceable in whole or in part, such invalidity or unenforceability will attach only to such provision or part thereof and the remaining part of such provision and all other provisions hereof will continue in full force and effect.~~

2.06 Reporting

The FSM will share with the OFA, within a reasonable time period following receipt, a copy of all Indicative Spreads obtained pursuant to Section 2.04 and all Credit Ratings obtained pursuant to Section 2.05.

(b) For Subordinated Warehouse Notes and Junior Subordinated Warehouse Notes, the "Base Rate" shall be an annual interest rate equal to the all-in funding costs under the related Warehouse Obligations, expressed as a rate per annum, as determined by the FSM acting reasonably, or at any time when there are no Warehouse Obligations outstanding the "Base Rate" shall be the average of the posted "prime rate of interest" published by the five largest Canadian banks at such time.

2.04 Applicable Spread

(a) Prior to the issuance of any new Subordinated Term Notes or Junior Subordinated Term Notes, the FSM will solicit from at least five investment dealers in Canada, a survey of indicative spreads over the applicable Base Rate (collectively, the "Indicative Spreads" and each an "Indicative Spread") applicable to capital market debt issuances having features comparable to each of the proposed Series of Subordinated Term Notes and Junior Subordinated Term Notes, having regard to the expected credit rating and tenor. Such solicitation of Indicative Spreads shall occur on the pricing date of the applicable Series of Subordinated Term Notes and Junior Subordinated Term Notes and may, at the FSM's option, also occur on other dates selected by the FSM provided that no such date is more than one week prior to the pricing date. The Applicable Spread for Subordinated Term Notes or Junior Subordinated Term Notes, as applicable, will be the simple average of the respective Indicative Spreads after excluding the highest and the lowest Indicative Spread for each day (not more than one week prior to the pricing date) that Indicative Spreads were provided;

(b) For Subordinated Warehouse Notes the FSM will solicit from time to time, but no less frequently than on an annual basis, from at least five investment dealers in Canada, a survey of Indicative Spreads over the applicable Base Rate applicable to commercial paper issuances having features comparable to the Subordinated Warehouse Notes including credit rating and tenor. The Applicable Spread for Subordinated Warehouse Notes will be the simple average of the respective Indicative Spreads, after excluding the highest and the lowest Indicative Spread;

(c) The Applicable Spread for Junior Subordinated Warehouse Notes shall be equal to the Applicable Spread derived from Section 2.04(b) for the Subordinated Warehouse Notes, provided the Junior Subordinated Term Notes are rated Investment Grade. If the Junior Subordinated Term Notes are rated below Investment Grade, the Applicable Spread for the Junior Subordinated Warehouse Notes will equal to the Applicable Spread for the Subordinated Warehouse Notes plus 100 bps.

For the purposes of this section "Investment Grade" means an "approved rating" from at least one "designated rating organization" (as such terms are defined for securities law purposes).

2.05 Credit Ratings

In order to facilitate the survey of Indicative Spreads, the FSM will solicit from time to time, from an approved rating organization (as such term is defined for securities laws purposes), a credit rating, which may include a shadow rating, for the Subordinated Notes and the Junior Subordinated Notes.

2.06 Reporting

The FSM will share with the OFA, within a reasonable time period following receipt, a copy of all Indicative Spreads obtained pursuant to Section 2.04 and all Credit Ratings obtained pursuant to Section 2.05.

2.07 Governing Law

This Protocol is governed by and will be construed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the laws of Canada applicable therein. Hello Carlos – I have never seen this protocol before and don't have any background or context. I have reached out to Ken Russell who has been working on an MOU with MOE regarding the services being provided to MOE in regard to the equity injection process, to see if this has crossed his desk or come up in discussion. I am waiting for his response but this does not seem related to that.

I agree with Malle that MOE should provide information as to the rationale of making the OFA the counterparty.

Based on a cursory review, I note that the language in the document has been changed from "agreement" to "protocol". I didn't identify any positive obligations of the OFA to do anything under the protocol. The only mention of the OFA is with respect to OPG's reporting obligations:

2.06Reporting

The FSM will share with the OFA, within a reasonable time period following receipt, a copy of all Indicative Spreads obtained pursuant to Section 2.04 and all Credit Ratings obtained pursuant to Section 2.05.

I don't see why OFA needs to be the sole counter-party to this protocol for S. 2.06 to be included/effective (reporting to the Province can be agreed to be done through reporting to the Province's agent, the OFA). I would think that the Province would want to be the counterparty to the extent it wants to enforce the protocol directly, rather than doing so through the OFA (to the extent a Protocol is enforceable, I note that there is no clause indicating that OPG is bound by the protocol and there is no clause outlining any remedies for breach, or process for dispute resolution. I also note that the time periods in 2.05 and 2.06 are vague – "from time to time" and "within a reasonable time" respectively, not sure if this is appropriate for the Provnce's/OFA's needs).

I have no comments on the clauses dealing with interest rate setting and spreads as these are technical. I am assuming that Capital Markets is reviewing and commenting on the appropriateness of these clauses.

Absent more context, background, understanding of the purpose of this protocol, I don't think I can add anything further at this point. Please let me know if you would like to discuss or if you have any questions.

Thanks very much,

Sarah

We can discuss this but unfortunately will be caught up on a protection agreement call for awhile. Would you please ask them why they think the OFA should be included and what the OFA's obligations should be. I'm copying Sarah Neville here as well as she should review where OFA is to be a party.

Hi Malle,
I just received the latest draft of the pricing protocol document and notice that OPG has inserted the OFA as the counterparty.

Can we discuss?

Thanks

Carlos,

Please find attached a clean and incremental blackline of the revised Subordinated Debt Pricing Protocol. This reflects comments received from the MOE late last week. We have revised the document to appear less formal (changed from Protocol Agreement to Protocol) and also changed the counterparty to be the OFA. We have also added an obligation for the FSM to share the inputs (ie Indicative Spreads, and Credit Ratings) with the OFA, within a reasonable time period.

Please let us know if you have any additional comments or concerns.

Thanks

Sheen

Provincial Support Agreement Term Sheet

Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017

This term sheet (the "Term Sheet") is provided exclusively to the parties listed herein in connection with the draft Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and the regulations to be made thereunder (the "Act"). This Term Sheet is to be held confidential. Defined terms used herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the Act. The provincial support agreement (the "Provincial Support Agreement") will contain the terms and conditions set out in this Term Sheet in addition to such other representations, warranties, indemnities, and other terms and conditions as the Guarantor and the Beneficiaries (each as defined below) may reasonably require.

Guarantor:	Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario, as represented by the Minister of Energy.
Beneficiaries:	The indenture trustee (together with its successors, the "Indenture Trustee") under the master trust indenture (the "Master Trust Indenture") on behalf of itself and all other persons having debt or other claims against a Financing Entity secured under the Master Trust Indenture (collectively, the "Beneficiaries") including, without limitation, holders of senior and subordinated notes, senior and subordinated lenders, hedge counterparties, credit enhancers, liquidity providers, the Financial Services Manager, the Indenture Trustee, the trustee of the Financing Entity if the Financing Entity is a trust, and any other administrator of the Financing Entity.
Term:	The Guarantor's obligations under the Provincial Support Agreement will continue until [one year][1] after all funding obligations (to be defined to include principal, interest, fees, hedge settlement and termination obligations and other related amounts) of all Financing Entities have been repaid.

[1] This mirrors the requirement expected to be in the Regulations under the Act not to wind up, dissolve or liquidate a Financing Entity until at least one year after all of its Funding Obligations have been repaid.

Performance Guarantee:	Under the Master Sale and Servicing Agreement to be entered into by IESO and the Financing Entity, [and OPG as Financial Services Manager] ("MSSA"), IESO will have obligations both as a seller and as a servicer. Pursuant to a performance guarantee, the Guarantor will guarantee in favour of the Beneficiaries to perform, or cause the performance of (which may be by way of the appointment of a replacement servicer), the obligations of IESO as servicer under the MSSA and the Act including the obligations of any replacement servicer. The Guarantor will also guarantee the servicing obligations of the electricity vendors under the Act. The servicing obligations covered will include all obligations related to the collecting and remitting of clean energy adjustments and will protect the Beneficiaries from any risks arising from collections of clean energy adjustments being commingled with other amounts. In the event that the performance guarantee is unenforceable against the Guarantor, the Provincial Support Agreement will contemplate a separate legal obligation by the Guarantor to indemnify the Beneficiaries for any losses that result.
Payment Guarantee Event:	A Payment Guarantee Event will occur if: (A) the Legislative Assembly of Ontario repeals the Act; or (B) the Legislative Assembly of Ontario amends the Act or a Regulation thereunder is amended in a way that adversely impacts the ability of a Financing Entity to fully recover an investment interest in order to fully pay all funding obligations and other obligations incurred by such Financing Entity in respect of such investment interest; or (C) a court of competent jurisdiction (i) determines all or a portion of the Act to be ultra vires in a way that adversely impacts the ability of a Financing Entity to fully recover an investment interest in order to fully pay all funding obligations and other obligations incurred by such Financing Entity in respect of such investment interest or (ii) declares any funding obligations to be invalid or unenforceable; or (D) funding obligations are due and payable at a time when a market disruption (a period of [six months or more] when capital markets term funding is not available to effect refinancings of funding obligations) is occurring and, in the case of long term funding obligations only, a moratorium or limitation on the imposition and collection of clean energy adjustments to repay such funding obligations is in effect under the Act.

Payment Guarantee:	Upon the occurrence of a Payment Guarantee Event under clauses (A), (B) or (C) of the above definition: (x) the Guarantor shall assume and pay when due (without acceleration) all funding obligations and all other obligations of the Financing Entities to the Beneficiaries by paying all regularly scheduled amounts in respect thereof during the term of each Financing Entity's contractual obligation to such Beneficiaries; and (y) Beneficiaries holding funding obligations consisting of bonds [with a remaining term to maturity of greater than one year] shall have the option to put the bonds to the Financing Entity for a put price equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest. In connection with any put under this clause (y), the Guarantor shall guarantee payment of the put price and any related hedge breakage but shall not be responsible for any other default, penalty, prepayment or make whole amounts.
Limits under Guarantees:	Under no circumstances shall the Guarantor be obligated to indemnify any Beneficiary for special or punitive damages, or loss of profits.
Priority of Payments:	The priority of the Beneficiaries to any payment made by the Guarantor under the Provincial Support Agreement shall be governed by the priority provisions in the Master Trust Indenture.
Subrogation:	Where the Guarantor has repaid all Beneficiaries in full, to the extent of such payments the Guarantor shall be subrogated in and to all the rights of recovery of the Beneficiaries in respect of their applicable indebtedness and obligations and the security granted by a Financing Entity to the Indenture Trustee. After repayment by the Guarantor of all indebtedness and obligations owing to the Beneficiaries, the Indenture Trustee will acknowledge and agree on behalf of the Beneficiaries that the Guarantor is entitled to exercise all of the rights, powers and privileges that the Beneficiaries have or may exercise in respect of the repaid indebtedness and obligations, all in accordance with the terms of the Master Trust Indenture. Prior to the repayment in full of the indebtedness and obligations owed to the Beneficiaries, the Guarantor shall have no rights of subrogation.
Notice Requirements:	The Indenture Trustee will be required to provide notice to the Guarantor of a Payment Guarantee Event and may in such notice demand payment or performance of the Guarantor's obligation under the Provincial Support Agreement, as applicable.

Closing:	Date to be determined but no later than [■, 2017]. The Closing is the date on which the documents in respect of the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and all related documentation are executed and delivered.
Reporting Requirements of a Financing Entity:	The Guarantor will be entitled to receive all reports received by the Indenture Trustee under the Master Trust Indenture.
Conditions Precedent to Closing:	Conditions precedent to Closing shall be those conditions set out in the Master Trust Indenture.[2]
Representations:	Customary representations and warranties of the Guarantor.
FIPPA:	Acknowledgement that the Guarantor is bound by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (Ontario) and that any information provided to the Guarantor or its agents or representatives in connection with the Transaction Documents may be subject to disclosure in accordance with that act or as otherwise required by law.
Confidentiality Obligations:	Customary confidentiality obligations to be negotiated and included. A Financing Entity and the Beneficiaries shall not, subject to applicable law, issue any press releases and other public announcements in respect of the Provincial Support Agreement without the prior written consent of the Guarantor.
Governing Law:	Province of Ontario

[2] Opinions on the validity and enforceability of Provincial Support Agreement will be required.

Hi Mike,

Just letting you that Ken K. will be discussing with Gadi this morning whether a Ministerial directive will once again be sought for the IESO intercept provision exemption, or to keep pursuing the tripartite letter between IESO-Energy-OFA to include the intercept.

Thanks,
Sarah

Hi Ken,

From the start, the exemption had been the advocated path. I will keep this interception option open until the decision is made to pursue Minister's directive or when we have that directive signed. We can always walk away from this option.

Thanks,

John

Hi John

Based on a conversation with Gadi, any solution that continues with the intercept provision will most likely be unacceptable from OPG's perspective. They are concerned that despite the intercept being toothless on a practical basis it may send the wrong message to DBRS as it assess the credit-worthiness of the OFHP debt.

It appears that the only solution is have the Minister sign an exemption and we should focus on getting that in place.

Thanks

Hi Lisa and everyone,

Along with comments from Ken over the weekend, just circling everyone in on the latest information from TBS. Pls. advise if your assessment changes but to me, TBS appears to be advising that Green ON Fund is not IESO's operation expense/allocation but allocation from MOECC to Green ON Fund.

Also, IESO staff have thus far signalled positively on the letter agreement. We are potentially looking about 2 days to conclude the process.

One caveat is that OPG is requesting that the trust be given first priority/security over all IESO assets. While the issue is still being discussed, if this is to proceed, the IESO will have to amend its current facilities. I would consider this almost as a separate issue in that if the scenario plays out, then we would need to look at and potentially open up all existing facilities.

John

Sorry for the delay, had to dig in the email archives.

There is no IESO allocation in Printed Estimates. There is an OREC transfer payment. In the 17-18 PRRT workbook for OREC is the following:

- Electricity utilities are reimbursed by submitting and receiving claims which are netted against their other monthly transactions from the IESO, and the IESO submits and receives one monthly amount from the Ontario Financing Authority on behalf of the Ministry of Energy – this process is streamlined and leverages an already existing reimbursement process, thereby minimizing costs.

The second attachment, email, contains the consolidation worksheet from OPCD. For IESO, I don't see any Transfer Payment flows in from the Province.

Hello Mike,

As a follow up to our conversation on Friday regarding IESO intercept letter and possible pushback from OPG, it looks like there will need to be a re-think on the Ministerial Directive.

We'll keep you posted.

Thanks,

Along with comments from Ken over the weekend, just circling everyone in on the latest information from TBS. Pls. advise if your assessment changes but to me, TBS appears to be advising that Green ON Fund is not IESO's operation expense/allocation but allocation from MOECC to Green ON Fund.

Also, IESO staff have thus far signalled positively on the letter agreement. We are potentially looking about 2 days to conclude the process.

One caveat is that OPG is requesting that the trust be given first priority/security over all IESO assets. While the issue is still being discussed, if this is to proceed, the IESO will have to amend its current facilities. I would consider this almost as a separate issue in that if the scenario plays out, then we would need to look at and potentially open up all existing facilities.

Hi James,

The Green ON Fund…am I correct to think that this is also not part of IESO's operating expense/allocation? As for the items below (for Energy), it is a program expense facilitated through the IESO?

Thanks,

John

Sorry for the delay, had to dig in the email archives.

There is no IESO allocation in Printed Estimates. There is an OREC transfer payment. In the 17-18 PRRT workbook for OREC is the following:

- Electricity utilities are reimbursed by submitting and receiving claims which are netted against their other monthly transactions from the IESO, and the IESO submits and receives one monthly amount from the Ontario Financing Authority on behalf of the Ministry of Energy – this process is streamlined and leverages an already existing reimbursement process, thereby minimizing costs.

The second attachment, email, contains the consolidation worksheet from OPCD. For IESO, I don't see any Transfer Payment flows in from the Province.

Thanks Carlos.

In the previous H1 related loans, the Minister of Energy signed the share purchase agreement and the Minister of Finance signed the loan agreement under the authority of an OIC. OFA staff act on behalf of the Minister of Finance in taking certain actions related to the loan. I am not sure that the Minister of Energy can delegate authority under the share purchase agreement for this equity injection (i.e. to make a decision to purchase shares) in the same way that OFA staff would deal with actions under a loan agreement. It may be that if there needs to be some quick turn-around in relation to funding OPG via the equity injection that maybe there might be a services agreement between the OFA and the Ministry of Energy. Perhaps, this only refers to how the money is being flowed and is more of a back-office function, and someone at the Ministry of Energy directs the OFA to take the action.

We will take a look at this term sheet too and provide some comments and questions.

Thanks.

Hey John, Carlos,

Attached is a term sheet from OPG that would form the basis of the Equity Injection Agreement. I think this would be an agreement between ENE/OPG and OFA. While it currently says 5 business days in this document Clara flagged that the IESO may be looking for it to be settled in as quickly as 1 day. Given how quick this needs to happen I've included a line about ENE delegating authority to the OFA to manage this monthly process. I think ENE would want to be kept in the loop but I don't think they would need to sign off each month. That being said I haven't run this up the chain at ENE yet or discussed with ENE controllership.

Id defer to you guys for short term mechanics for the most part as you have the experience on the borrowing side. If you could take a look and mark-up where desired then maybe we can chat?

Let me know if you have any questions.
Kaitlin

Fair Hydro Plan –Master Subscription Agreement
Term Sheet

- Parties: OPG, OFA, Ministry of Energy
- The Province agrees to inject 44% of total funding of GA asset by way of equity subscription in OPG, which amount OPG in turn will invest in the Fair Hydro Trust as subordinated debt (Equity Injection Plan)
- Minister of Energy/Province approves Equity Injection Plan, and initial equity injection amount for 2017/18 fiscal year, and delegates to appropriate ministry staff authority to implement Equity Injection Plan (Delegated Authority)
- Long term, OPG equity requirements will form part of the business planning process in place between OPG and Ministry of Energy, ie, annually OPG to include forecasts of its equity requirements for the upcoming 3 years in its business plan submission -- NOTE: this portion of the business plan is not subject to concurrence by the shareholder
- Ministry of Energy will seek appropriation on an annual basis through PRRT for the amounts requested by OPG for its equity requirements-- NOTE: amount of annual appropriation to cover OPG multi year forecasts
- The Ministry of Energy will delegate authority to the Ontario Financing Authority to manage the monthly settlement process
- OPG agrees use the equity subscription amounts solely for funding the Fair Hydro Trust's subordinated debt requirements as part of the Fair Hydro Plan
- OPG will amend its Articles to create an additional class of shares – Class A Shares – which will be non-voting and redeemable at OPG's option
- OPG will issue Class A Shares to the Province monthly at a value per share equal to book value, as determined from OPG's last approved quarterly financial statements -- Value of first Class A shares issued to Province will be based on book value of OPG common shares – ie, existing shareholder's equity
- OPG will have the right to repay equity to the Province, through exercise of its right to redeem the Class A Shares, as principal repayment of the subordinated debt is made commencing in 2027
- Redemption value of the Class A Shares to be based on book value on the redemption date, ie, the equity value per Class A share at the end of the prior financial quarter as set out in OPG's approved financial statements

Formatted: Indent: Left: 0.5", No bullets or numbering

Monthly Process/Mechanics of Share Subscriptions:

a) OPG notifies OFA and Ministry of Energy of required equity injection and number of shares

Timing: [same day as notice from Fair Hydro Trust]

Documents/steps:

(i) share subscription form,
(ii) supporting documentation/invoice from Fair Hydro Trust, confirming amount of GA asset purchase for the month

b) OFA and OPG settle equity injection amounts

Timing: [five] business days from notice to OFA to payment/settlement with OPG [NOTE: timing to be confirmed based on IESO/Trust process requirements]

Documents/steps:

(i) completed/signed share subscription form from OFA~~/Province~~ to OPG

(ii) funds transfer from OFA to OPG account)

(iii) OPG receipt, together with secretary's certificate confirming issue of shares/update of share register sent to both OFA and ENE

Commented [KC1]: OFA: any details we can add based on your experience on the loan side? Who signs off at the OFA? Should we just make it the same process and delegate authority from ENE so OfA can execute?

Longer term Process/Approvals:

1. Equity Requirements Estimates:
   a. Business Plan Submissions
   b. OPG Board Approvals
      - [Bi-annual] Board of Directors' resolutions authorizing equity requirement for period
      - [Bi-annual Shareholder's resolutions authorizing equity requirement for period][NOTE: TBD if needed]

   c. Ministry of Energy appropriations
      ~~[describe annual process]~~Ministry of Energy will seek appropriation through PRRT process, including 3-year estimates that OPG provides through its business plan submission

Share Redemption Process

- TBD -- process to be determined at a later date and appended as Appendix to Master Subscription Agreement

Subject: RE: FHP Credit Facility Agreement

Hi Will. Attached you will find IESO's mark-up of the FHP Credit Facility Agreement. Most of the changes are self-explanatory, but it may be helpful if I provide a few words of explanation about the more substantive changes:

1. We added paragraph (k) to the definition of "Permitted Liens" to address the possibility that the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by IESO might be considered to be subject to a lien, and we did not want to be inadvertently in default. (Please note that, assuming this addition to the definition of "Permitted Liens" is acceptable, the same or similar language should also be added to the definition of Permitted Liens in Amending Agreement #10 to the existing OFA line of credit that we discussed yesterday.)

2. We amended Section 2.2 Use of Proceeds as shown in the draft because: (i) there is a possibility that the funding provided under the FHP Credit Agreement may accumulate and be outstanding for an extended period of time (i.e. in excess of 12 months); and (ii) the use of the terminology "cash flow timing differences" does not seem appropriate given its implication of a shorter-term funding requirement (something on the order of month-to-month), taking into account all of the obligations of IESO under the FHP.

3. We amended the exceptions to the pari passu requirement under Section 3.3(5) to avoid a conflict with the different list of exceptions in s.4.6, the negative pledge. An alternative, and arguably cleaner, way of avoiding the conflict between s.3.3(5) and s.4.6 would be to delete the pari passu requirement in s.3.3(5) altogether, since the negative pledge in s.4.6 already contains more tailored language that performs essentially the same function.

In addition to the above changes marked-up directly on the document, in general with respect to all revolving lines, it seems that the definition of "Advances" should probably also include Continued Advances where an Election Notice is used (though I didn't make any changes to reflect this). I say this because Advances can become Continued Advances through an initial Election Notice, and then those Continued Advances can be continued again as further Continued Advances, and so on. In other words, the practice and intent of IESO and OFA has been and continues to be that an original Advance can be Continued (rolled-over) many times but, unless I am missing something, the language and definitions do not quite capture that intent. It might be easier if I were to discuss what is essentially a drafting point with your Legal Counsel assigned to this – as I say, it's entirely possible that I am simply missing something here.

I didn't know who would be reviewing this from your Legal group, so did not copy anyone else at OFA – I will rely on you to forward it as required.

Victor

Hi Toby,

What are your thoughts on the IESO's amendment to s. 3.2(3)? I believe it reflects the discussion from our conference call yesterday.

In terms of the intercept letter, we cannot amend the opening paragraph as the OFA Lending Policy requirement is that this agreement must be in place "prior to entering into a loan agreement….".

Subject to any comments from documentation and CEFD, I am okay with the IESO's other proposed amendments.

See also minor tweaks to the new Entire Agreement Clause (s.7.8) and to the Form of Grid Note (Schedule 3). Other than for s. 3.2(3), I accepted all of your changes so any changes you see are mine.

Anthony has not had a chance to review this so he may have comments, though I am hoping this is pretty closely in keeping with our discussions.

Regarding the Intercept Letter, could you please consider amending the opening to the third paragraph to read: "Prior to or concurrent with entering into a loan agreement with the IESO for the New Credit Facility…"

Comments on AA#10 to follow tomorrow morning.

Please find attached the latest black-lined version of the FHP Credit Facility Agreement. In this version, we have made some additional amendments to section 5.7 (Intercept) and section 7.8 (Entire Agreement). We have also added a new sub-section – 3.2(3) to address the IESO's repayment of a portion of the existing credit facility using the first advance. Minor amendments were also made to the Definitions section and the heading in section 4.1.

Please let us know if you have any further comments or if you would like to discuss further. If you are satisfied with this version, we will prepare an execution version and also send over AA#10 for your review.

REVOLVING CREDIT FACILITY AGREEMENT

Date: November~~October~~ ___, 2017

REVOLVING CREDIT FACILITY AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT is made as of the ____ day of October 2017,

BETWEEN:

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR, a statutory corporation without share capital existing under Part II of the Electricity Act, 1998 (the "IESO")
(as Borrower)

AND

ONTARIO FINANCING AUTHORITY, a Crown agency established under the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the "OFA" and together with the IESO, the "Parties")
(as Lender)

RECITALS:

WHEREAS the IESO has requested a revolving credit facility for up to a maximum principal amount of $2 billion from the OFA for the purpose of supporting the IESO's role in the implementation and administration of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

THEREFORE in consideration of the mutual agreements contained herein (the receipt and adequacy of which are acknowledged), the Parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1

DEFINITIONS AND OTHER PROVISIONS OF GENERAL APPLICATION

Section 1.1 Definitions.

For all purposes of this Agreement, except as otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires, the following terms shall have the meanings assigned to them below:

"Advances" means advances made by the OFA to the IESO under Article 3 and "Advance" means any one of such advances, and in the case of an election by the IESO under Section 3.3, includes a "Continued Advance", as defined in Section 3.3(1), as applicable.

"Advances Outstanding" means, at any time, an amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of all Advances outstanding at such time.

"Agreement", "herein", "hereby", "hereor', "hereunder" and similar expressions mean and refer to this agreement and all schedules hereto and all instruments in amendment or confirmation of this agreement and such schedules and not to any particular article or section; and the expression "Article" or "Section" followed by a number means the specified Article or Section of this Agreement.

"Borrowing Notice" has the meaning specified in Section 3.2(1).

"Business Day" means any day that is not a day on which banks are generally authorized or required by law or executive order to be closed in the City of Toronto.

"Clean Energy Adjustment" has the same meaning as that term is defined in the OFHP.

"Commitment" means, at any time, an amount equal to $2 billion.

"Consolidated Assets" means, at any time, the book value of the assets of the IESO and the Subsidiaries, determined as of such time on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP.

"Continued Advance" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(1).

"Credit Facility" means the revolving credit facility to be made available to the IESO by the OFA under this Agreement for the purposes specified in Section 2.2.

"Current Repayment Date" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(2).

"Default" means any event which, after the giving of notice, or passage of time, or both, would be an Event of Default.

"Dollars" or "$" means lawful currency of Canada.

"Election Notice" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(2).

"Event of Default" has the meaning specified in Section 5.1.

"First Advance" has the meaning specified in Section 3.2(3).

"GAAP" means accounting policies and standards as established by the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada, at the relevant time and applied on a consistent basis.

"Grid Note" has the meaning specified in Section 3.2(2).

"Indebtedness" means (without duplication), with respect to any Person, whether recourse is to all or a portion of the assets of such Person and whether or not contingent:

(a) every obligation of such Person for borrowed money;

(b) every obligation of such Person evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes or other similar instruments;

(c) every reimbursement obligation of such Person with respect to letters of credit, bankers' acceptances or similar instruments;

(d) every obligation of such Person issued or assumed as the deferred purchase price of property or services (but excluding trade accounts payable or expenses accrued in the ordinary course of business which are not overdue or which are being contested in good faith);

(e) every capital lease obligation of such Person;

(f) the Swap Termination Value of each Swap Contract of such Person; and

(g) every obligation of the type referred to in paragraphs (a) through (f) of another Person and all dividends of another Person the payment of which, in each case, such Person has guaranteed or is responsible or liable for, directly or indirectly, as obligor, guarantor or otherwise.

"Lien" means any assignment, hypothec, mortgage, lien, pledge, security interest, encumbrance, title retention agreement or other agreement or arrangement to secure the performance of any obligation (including the payment of Indebtedness).

"Material Subsidiary" means, at any time, a Subsidiary which has consolidated assets with a book value of more than $25 million determined in accordance with GAAP.

"New Repayment Date" has the meaning specified in Section 3.3(2).

"OFHP" means the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

"Permitted Liens" means:

(a) Liens for taxes and assessments not at the time overdue or any Liens securing workmen's compensation assessments, unemployment insurance or other social security obligations not at the time overdue;

(b) any Liens or rights of distress reserved in or exercisable under any lease for rent and for compliance with the terms of such lease;

(c) any obligations or duties, affecting the property of the IESO to any municipality or governmental, statutory or public authority, with respect to any franchise, grant, license or permit and any defects in title to structures or other facilities arising solely from the fact that such structures or facilities are constructed or installed on lands held by the IESO or such Material Subsidiary under government permits, leases or other grants, which obligations, duties and defects in the aggregate do not materially impair the use of such property, structures or facilities for the purpose for which they are held by the IESO or such Material Subsidiary;

(d) any deposits or Liens in connection with building contracts, bids or tenders, expropriation proceedings, surety or appeal bonds, costs of litigation when required by law, and public and statutory obligations, Liens or claims incidental to current construction, builders', mechanics', labourers', materialmen's, warehousemen's, carriers' and other similar Liens;

(e) the right reserved to or vested in any municipality or governmental or other public authority by any statutory provision or by the terms of any lease, license, franchise, grant or permit, that affects any lands, to terminate any such lease, license, franchise, grant or permit or to require annual or their periodic payments as a condition to the continuance thereof;

(f) any undetermined or inchoate Liens and charges incidental to the current operations of the IESO or a Material Subsidiary that have not at the time been filed against the IESO or such Material Subsidiary; provided, however, that if any such Lien or charge shall have been filed, the IESO or such Material Subsidiary shall be prosecuting an appeal or proceedings for review with respect to which it shall have secured a stay in the enforcement of any such Lien or charge;

(g) any Lien the validity of which is being contested at the time by the IESO or a Material Subsidiary in good faith and the enforcement of which has been stayed;

(h) any easements, rights-of-way and servitudes that in the opinion of the IESO will not in the aggregate materially and adversely impair the use or value of the land for the purpose for which it is held or occupied by the IESO or a Material Subsidiary;

(i) any Liens and privileges arising out of judgments or awards with respect to which the IESO or a Material Subsidiary shall be prosecuting an appeal or proceedings for review and with respect to which it shall have secured a stay of execution pending such appeal or proceedings for review;

(j) any other Liens of a nature similar to the foregoing which do not in the opinion of the IESO, acting reasonably, materially impair the use of the property subject thereto or the operation of the business of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary or the value of such property for the purpose of any such business; and

(k) any Lien arising from the IESO's role and obligations under the OFHP, including with respect to any amount received or receivable by the IESO (such as, without limitation, amounts received or receivable in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment), or any other lien, whether arising from the action or inaction of IESO, that is created in connection with the OFHP.

"Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership joint venture, association, trust or unincorporated organization or any government or agency or political subdivision thereof.

"Purchase Money Mortgage" means any Lien on property, granted in connection with financing, assumed or given back in payment of, or created or arising by operation of law to secure, the whole or part of the purchase price of such property, or granted in connection with financing the cost in whole or in part of construction or installation of or improvements to any property, provided that such Lien is incurred or assumed at the time or within 12 months after the purchase of such property or the completion of such construction, installation or improvements, as the case may be, and includes any extension, renewal or replacement thereof on the same property if the principal amount of the Indebtedness secured thereby at the time of such extension, renewal or replacement is not increased and if such Lien is not extended to any other property.

"Repayment Date" means, in respect of the repayment of Advances, the repayment date contained in the most recent Borrowing Notice or Election Notice.

"Stated Maturity" when used with respect to any Indebtedness or any installment of interest thereon, means the date specified in or on the agreement or instrument evidencing such Indebtedness as the fixed date on which any principal amount of such Indebtedness or such installment of interest is due and payable.

"Subsidiary" means:

(a) a corporation more than 50% of the voting power or the outstanding Voting Shares of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by the IESO or by one or more other Subsidiaries or by the IESO and one or more other Subsidiaries; or

(b) any Person (other than a corporation) in which the IESO, or one or more other Subsidiaries, directly or indirectly, has at least a majority ownership and power to direct the policies, management and affairs thereof.

"Swap Contract" means any agreement whether or not in writing, relating to any transaction or derivative transaction including a rate swap, basis swap, forward rate transaction, commodity swap, commodity option, commodity future, equity or equity index swap or option, bond, note or bill option, interest rate option, forward foreign exchange transaction, cap, collar or floor transaction currency swap, cross-currency rate swap, swaption, currency option or other similar transaction (including any option to enter into any of the foregoing) or any combination of the foregoing, and, unless the context otherwise clearly requires, any master agreement relating to or governing any or all of the foregoing.

"Swap Termination Value" means, in respect of any one or more Swap Contracts entered into by a Person, after taking into account the effect of any legally enforceable netting agreement relating to such Swap contracts:

(a) for any date on or after the date such Swap Contracts have been closed out and termination value(s) for such Person have been determined in accordance therewith, such termination value(s); and

(b) for any date prior to the date referred to in paragraph (a), the net amount determined pursuant to the terms of such Swap Contracts that would be payable by such Person if such Swap Contracts were terminated as of such date.

"Voting Shares" of any Person means securities of such Person which ordinarily carry a right to vote for the election of directors (or Persons performing similar functions) of such Person.

Section 1.2 Effect of Headings.

The division of this Agreement into Articles and Sections and the insertion of headings are for convenient reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation hereof.

Section 1.3 Singular, Plural, Gender, Certain Phrases, etc.

Where the context permits and unless such interpretation would be inappropriate, words importing the singular only shall include the plural and vice versa and words importing gender may include any gender. In this Agreement, (a) the words "including" and "includes" mean "including (or includes) without limitation", and (b) in the computation of periods of time from a specified date to a later specified date, unless otherwise expressly stated, the word "from" means "from and including" and the words "to" and "until" each mean "to but excluding".

Section 1.4 Accounting.

Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all accounting terms shall be applied and construed in accordance with GAAP.

Section 1.5 Non-Business Days.

Whenever any payment to be made hereunder shall be due, any period of time would end, any calculation is to be made or any other action is to be taken on or as of, a day other than a Business Day, such payment shall be made, such period of time shall end, such calculation shall be made and such other actions shall be taken, as the case may be, unless otherwise specifically provided for herein, on or as of the next succeeding Business Day.

ARTICLE 2
REVOLVING CREDIT FACILITY

Section 2.1 Availability.

The OFA agrees, on the terms and conditions of this Agreement, to make Advances to the IESO. The OFA shall make each Advance in Dollars.

Section 2.2 Use of Proceeds.

The IESO shall use the proceeds of Advances for the purposes for which it is authorized to borrow funds pursuant to Regulation 280/14 made under the Electricity Act, 1998, as such regulation may be amended or replaced from time to time, subject to the condition that proceeds of Advances may be used only for IESO's financing needs and requirements of any kind arising in connection with the IESO's role with respect to and obligations under the OFHP.

Section 2.3 Credit Facility Limit.

The Advances Outstanding shall not at any time exceed the Commitment. The Credit Facility shall revolve and no payment under the Credit Facility shall reduce the Commitment.

Section 2.4 Mandatory Repayment.

Subject to Sections 2.5 and 5.2, the IESO shall repay each Advance together with the interest accrued thereon on the applicable Repayment Date, and, in any event, shall repay all Advances Outstanding, together with all accrued interest and all other amounts owing hereunder on September 30, 2022.

Section 2.5 Prepayments.

The IESO is not entitled to prepay any part of the Advances Outstanding or the interest accrued thereon without the prior written consent of the OFA.

Section 2.6 Payments under this Agreement.

(1) The OFA shall make Advances to the IESO under this Agreement to or to the order of the IESO by wire transfer of immediately available funds in accordance with wire transfer instructions given by the IESO to the OFA from time to time, or in such other manner as the IESO may specify to the OFA from time to time.

(2) The IESO shall make any payment required hereunder to be made by it to the OFA, to or to the order of the OFA, by wire transfer of immediately available funds in accordance with wire transfer instruction given by the OFA to the IESO from time to time, or in such other manner as the OFA may specify to the IESO from time to time. The IESO shall make each such payment in Canadian Dollars.

Section 2.7 Computations of Interest.

(1) All computations of interest shall be made by the OFA taking into account the actual number of days (including the first day but excluding the last day) occurring in the period for which such interest is payable on the basis of a year of 365 days or 366 days, as the case may be.

(2) For the purposes of disclosure pursuant to the Interest Act (Canada), the yearly rate of interest which is equivalent to a rate of interest payable under this Agreement for any period of less than a year may be determined by multiplying the rate of interest for such period by a fraction, the numerator of which is the actual number of days in a year commencing on and including the first day in such period and ending on but excluding the corresponding day in the next calendar year and the denominator of which is the actual number of days in such period.

Section 2.8 Limit on Rate of Interest.

(1) Notwithstanding any provision contained in this Agreement, the IESO shall not be obliged to make any payments of interest or other amounts payable to the OFA hereunder in excess of the amount or rate which would be prohibited by applicable law or would result in the receipt by the OFA of interest at a criminal rate (as such terms are construed under the Criminal Code (Canada)).

(2) In the event that any such payments are limited or prohibited as provided in Section 2.8(1), the OFA shall have no further obligation to make any Advances available hereunder and the Advances Outstanding, together with all accrued interest and all other amounts owing hereunder, shall become immediately due and payable.

Section 2.9 Application of Payments.

All payments made by the IESO under this Agreement shall be applied firstly to the payment of interest payable to the OFA on late payments of principal or interest hereunder, secondly, to the payment of accrued and unpaid interest payable to the OFA hereunder and thirdly, to the payment of the outstanding principal amount of any Advances payable to the OFA.

ARTICLE 3
ADVANCES

Section 3.1 Advances.

The OFA agrees, on the terms and conditions of this Agreement, to make Advances to the IESO under the Credit Facility from time to time on any Business Day prior to September 23, 2022.

Section 3.2 Procedure for Advances.

(1) Subject to Section 3.3(5), each Advance shall be made subject to two Business Days' prior notice given not later than 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) by the IESO to the OFA. Each notice of an Advance (a "Borrowing Notice") shall be substantially in the form of Schedule 1, other than a Borrowing Notice that is included in an Election Notice as permitted by Section 3.3(3). Each Borrowing Notice shall be irrevocable and binding on the IESO and shall specify (a) the requested date of the Advance; (b) the principal amount of the Advance, and (c) the Repayment Date of the Advance which shall not be earlier than 5 days and not later than 95 days after the date of the requested Advance. Each Borrowing Notice shall also certify the use of proceeds of the Advance which shall in any case be in accordance with Section 2.2. The OFA will make the principal amount of each Advance available to the IESO in accordance with Article 2.

(2) On or before the date of the first Advance hereunder, the IESO shall execute and deliver to the OFA a grid promissory note in respect of Advances substantially in the form of Schedule 3 (the "Grid Note"). The IESO authorizes the OFA to record on the Grid Note (a) the date and amount of each Advance or Continued Advance; (b) the applicable rate of interest for each Advance or Continued Advance; (c) the Repayment Date of each Advance or Continued Advance; (d) the date and amount of each payment of interest and each payment of principal or portion thereof in respect of each Advance or Continued Advance; and (e) Advances Outstanding. Such notations, in the absence of manifest error, shall be prima facie evidence of such Advances and repayments; provided that the failure of the OFA to record any amount, rate or date shall not affect the obligation of the IESO to pay the Advances Outstanding and all interest accrued thereon and any other amounts due under this Agreement.

(3) ~~For the purposes of~~Respecting the first Advance to be made under this Agreement (the "First Advance"), ~~the purpose of which shall include the repayment of a~~ specified portion thereof (the "Repayment Amount") shall be used to repay a portion of the IESO's outstanding indebtedness to the OFA under the c~~C~~redit a~~A~~greement between the Parties dated January 1, 2005, as amended~~,~~ (the "Existing Credit Facility"). The amount of the Repayment Amount shall be detailed in the Borrowing Notice issued in respect of the First Advance, and ~~the IESO and the OFA agree that a specified portion of the entry of the First Advance~~ shall also be noted on the grid of the Grid Note. Concurrently with the First Advance, OFA shall provide to IESO an updated grid in respect of the grid note issued under the Existing Credit Facility evidencing the~~, as indicated in the Borrowing~~

Section 3.3 Elections Regarding Advances.

(1) The IESO may elect to continue all or a portion of the principal amount of any Advance and any amount of interest on such Advance (together, the "Continued Advance") for a further period of at least 5 days and up to a maximum of 95 days beginning on the then current Repayment Date in accordance with Section 3.3(2).

(2) Each notice to continue an Advance for a further period (an "Election Notice") shall be provided by the IESO to the OFA at least two Business Days prior to the Repayment Date of the Advance (the "Current Repayment Date"), and in each case, not later than 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time). Each such Election Notice shall be given substantially in the form of Schedule 2 and shall be irrevocable and binding upon the IESO and shall specify: (a) the Current Repayment Date; (b) the new aggregate total amount of the proposed Continued Advance; (c) the amount of interest or principal, if any, to be paid or re-paid by the IESO with respect to such Advance on the Current Repayment Date; and (d) the new Repayment Date of the proposed Continued Advance, which shall be no earlier than 5 days and not later than 95 days after the current Repayment Date (the "New Repayment Date"). If the IESO fails to deliver an Election Notice to the OFA for any Advance as provided herein, such Advance shall be repayable on the applicable Repayment Date.

(3) An Election Notice with respect to a proposed Continued Advance may include a Borrowing Notice for a further Advance proposed to be made on the Current Repayment Date. The Repayment Date of such further Advance shall be the New Repayment Date of the Continued Advance that is specified in the Election Notice. Such Borrowing Notice shall be given substantially in the form of Schedule 2.

(4) The calculation of interest on a Continued Advance shall be determined in the same manner as an Advance under Section 3.4 and shall be recorded on the Grid Note in accordance with Section 3.2(2).

(5) Any portion of an Advance not continued for a further period in accordance with Section 3.3(2) shall be repayable on the applicable Repayment Date.

(6) The Credit Facility shall at all times rank pari passu with all other unsubordinated and unsecured Indebtedness of the IESO, subject to the existence of any Liens that secure Indebtedness, as permitted by subections 4.6 (a) through (e) hereof.

(7) All amounts owing in respect of the Advances shall be paid without exercising any right of set off or counterclaim by the IESO.

Section 3.4 Interest on Advances.

(1) The IESO shall pay interest on the unpaid principal amount of each Advance in accordance with this Section 3.4 from and including the date of such Advance until the principal amount of such Advance is repaid in full.

(2) Interest shall accrue on the principal amount of each Advance from and including the date of the Advance to but excluding the Repayment Date of such Advance, at an annual rate equal to the Province of Ontario's cost of funds for borrowings with a similar term as determined by the OFA plus 0.25 percent per annum, before as well as after the date such principal amount or interest thereon becomes due hereunder and both before and after Default and shall be payable on the Repayment Date for such Advance. Any amount of interest arising hereunder which is not paid when due shall bear interest at the same rate compounded monthly at which it accrued from the due date for payment until the date of actual payment. The amount of interest payable on an Advance will be calculated by the OFA by dividing the interest rate applicable to the Advance by 365 or 366, as the case may be, and multiplying the result by the principal amount of the Advance and further multiplying the result by the number of days in the period from the date of the Advance to the Repayment Date of the Advance.

(3) If the IESO elects to continue an Advance in accordance with Section 3.3(2), the OFA shall determine the interest rate applicable after the original Repayment Date of the Advance and endorse the said rate on the grid forming part of the Grid Note in respect of Advances held by it.

Section 3.5 Conditions Precedent

The obligation of the OFA to make the Advances to the IESO pursuant to Section 2.1 is subject to the following conditions being satisfied to the OFA's satisfaction at the time of making each Advance:

(a) that the representations and warranties of the IESO contained in this Agreement are true and correct as at the date of making the Advance;

(b) that no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing;

(c) that there shall, in the reasonable opinion of the OFA, have been no material adverse change in the financial condition of the IESO or a Material Subsidiary; and

(d) that the OFA has received such other documentation which it has reasonably requested to ensure that the IESO is in compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including certified true copies of any necessary resolutions, a written legal opinion from counsel to the IESO confirming that the borrowing is within the legal powers of the IESO and that the Agreement is a direct, unsecured obligation of the IESO enforceable against the IESO in form satisfactory to the OFA.

ARTICLE 4

COVENANTS OF THE IESO

Section 4.1 Repayment of Advances.

The IESO will duly and punctually pay all amounts owing under this Agreement in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement.

Section 4.2 IESO will Maintain its Corporate Existence.

The IESO will at all times maintain its corporate existence.

Section 4.3 Maintenance of Properties.

The IESO will cause all property owned by the IESO or any Material Subsidiary to be maintained and kept in good condition, repair and working order, all as in the judgment of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary may be necessary for the proper operation of such property, except as and to the extent that the IESO or any Material Subsidiary may be prevented from doing so by fire, strikes, lockouts, walkouts, labour unrest, acts of God, inability to obtain labour or materials, enemy action, governmental restrictions, civil commotion, or unavoidable casualty or similar causes; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 4.3 shall prevent the IESO or any Material Subsidiary from discontinuing the maintenance of any such property or decommissioning any such property if such discontinuance or decommissioning is, in the judgment of the IESO or any such Material Subsidiary, desirable in the conduct of its business or the business of any such Material Subsidiary, or has been directly or indirectly requested or required by the Province of Ontario.

Section 4.4 Insurance.

The IESO will cause all property owned by the IESO or any Material Subsidiary which is of a character usually insured by companies operating similar businesses to be insured and kept insured with reputable insurers (which may include associations or other organizations for mutual or reciprocal insurance) against loss or damage by fire or other hazards or risks of the mature and to the extent that such property is usually insured by companies operating similar businesses.

Section 4.5 Conduct of Business.

The IESO will, and will cause the Subsidiaries to, carry on and conduct their respective businesses in accordance with good business practice.

Section 4.6 Negative Pledge.

The IESO will not, and will not permit any Material Subsidiary to, create, incur or assume any Lien, charging the interest of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary in any property, to secure any obligations (including any Indebtedness) unless, at or prior to the time such Lien is created, incurred or assumed, all amounts owing under this Agreement are secured equally and rateably with any and all such obligations secured or to be secured by such Lien, for so long as such obligations shall be secured, provided, however, that the foregoing covenant shall not prevent, restrict or apply to any of the following:

(a) the creation, incurrence or assumption of any Purchase Money Mortgage;

(b) the grant of any Lien in the normal course of business to any banks or financial institutions for present or future Indebtedness of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary to such banks or financial institutions payable on demand or having an original term to maturity less than 18 months;

(c) Permitted Liens;

(d) any extension, renewal or replacement of any of the Liens referred to in Sections 4.6(a), (b) or (c), provided that the principal amount secured by any such Lien outstanding immediately before such extension, renewal or replacement or refunding is not thereby increased; and

(e) any Lien charging the interest of the IESO or any Material Subsidiary in any property to secure any Indebtedness, other than any Lien referred to in Sections 4.6(a), (b) or (c), provided that, at the time such Lien is created, incurred or assumed, the principal amount of such Indebtedness, together with the aggregate principal amount of all other Indebtedness secured by Liens permitted pursuant to this Section 4.6(e) which is outstanding at such time does not exceed 10% of Consolidated Assets at such time.

Section 4.7 Payment of OFA Expenses

In addition to any liability of the IESO to the OFA under any other provision of this Agreement, the IESO will, on demand, reimburse and indemnify OFA for all reasonable costs, charges and expenses, including reasonable fees and disbursements of its agents and counsel, incurred by OFA in connection with the Agreement (including those services incurred in the preservation of rights under or enforcement of this Agreement at any time during the continuance of a Default or Event of Default and for any reasonable loss or expense incurred by OFA as a result of any failure by the IESO to fulfill any of its obligations under this Agreement). All such costs, charges and expenses shall bear interest at the Province of Ontario's cost of funds plus 0.25 percent per annum (as determined by the OFA) calculated and payable monthly not in advance from in each case from the date on which the OFA incurs the cost, charge or expense until the date on which the IESO reimbursement the OFA therefor. The OFA agrees, acting reasonably, to invoice the IESO for any such costs, charges and expense as they are incurred, together with interest at the aforesaid rate (with interest on overdue interest).

Section 4.8 Reporting.

The IESO will promptly provide to the OFA any reports or supporting documents that the OFA may request from time to time.

Section 4.9 Late Repayment of Advance.

In the event that the IESO fails to repay the principal amount of any Advance and all interest accrued thereon when due, the IESO shall pay interest on the unpaid amount of such Advance at the same rate compounded monthly at which it accrued from the due date for payment until the date of actual payment.

ARTICLE 5
EVENTS OF DEFAULT AND REMEDIES

Section 5.1 Event of Default.

Wherever used in this Agreement, the term "Event of Default" means any of the following:

(a) the IESO's failure to pay any interest upon any Advance when it becomes due and payable, if such failure continues for a period of 3 Business Days;

(b) failure to pay the principal amount of any Advance on the applicable Repayment Date or the Advances Outstanding, all interest accrued thereon and all other amounts owing under this Agreement on September 30, 2022;

(c) failure on the part of the IESO to observe or perform its obligations set forth in Section 4.1;

(d) failure on the part of the IESO to observe or perform any of the other covenants or agreements on its part contained in this Agreement for a period of 20 days after the date on which written notice of such failure shall have been given to the IESO by the OFA;

(e) any representation or warranty made by the IESO in this Agreement or in any certificate or other document at any time delivered hereunder to the OFA was incorrect or misleading in any material respect;

(f) one or more breaches by the IESO of its covenants under one or more evidences of Indebtedness or instruments governing or securing the same with a principal amount then outstanding, individually or in the aggregate, of at least $5 million, which breaches:

(i) constitute a failure to pay such Indebtedness when due and payable at its final Stated Maturity, continue after any applicable grace period and have not been cured or waived or ceased to exist, or

(ii) have resulted in such Indebtedness becoming or being declared due and payable prior to its final Stated Maturity (and which acceleration or declaration has not been waived or rescinded);

(g) the IESO or any Material Subsidiary:

(i) becomes unable to meet its obligations as they generally become due or has ceased paying its current obligations in the ordinary course of business as they generally become due;

(ii) admits in writing its inability to pay its debts generally or makes a general assignment for the benefit its creditors or files a proposal or other scheme of arrangement involving the rescheduling or composition of its Indebtedness;

(iii) institutes or has instituted against it any proceeding seeking:

(A) to adjudicate it as bankrupt or insolvent,

(B) liquidation, winding-up or reorganization, arrangement, adjustment, protection, relief or composition of it or its debts under any law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or relief of debtors including any plan of compromise or arrangement or other corporate proceeding involving or affecting its creditors, or

(C) the entry of an order for relief or the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its assets, and in the case of any such proceeding instituted against it (but not instituted by it), either the proceeding remains undismissed or unstayed for a period of 30 days, or any remedy sought in any such proceeding (including the entry of order for relief against it or the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its properties and assets) occurs; or

(iv) takes any corporate action to authorize any of the actions in Sections 5.l (g)(i) to (iii); or

(h) if there shall be rendered against the IESO or any Material Subsidiary a final judgment or judgments for the payment of money in an aggregate amount in excess of $5 million by a court or courts of competent jurisdiction, and the IESO or any Material Subsidiary shall have failed to satisfy such judgments or to appeal therefrom (or from the order, decree or process pursuant to which such judgments were granted, passed, entered or affirmed) and to obtain a stay of execution thereof within the period prescribed by law for appeals, and to have such judgments discharged within 30 days after the expiration of such period or the period of any such stay, whichever shall later expire.

Section 5.2 Acceleration of Maturity; Rescission and Annulment.

If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, then and in every such case the OFA may at its option, in addition to any other remedy available to the OFA at law, by written notice to the IESO, take any or all of the following actions:

(a) suspend the right of the IESO to request any further Advance until the Event of Default has been cured to the OFA's satisfaction or, if the Event of Default is not cured within three (3) Business Days after the date on which written notice of such Event of Default shall have been given to the IESO by the OFA, declare all amounts owing hereunder including all interest accrued to be due and payable immediately, by a notice in writing to the IESO, and upon any such declaration all such amounts shall become immediately due and payable.

(b) invoke the Intercept pursuant to section 5.7 of this Agreement to require payment of any amount due and payable under this Agreement.

Section 5.3 Suits for Enforcement by the OFA.

If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the OFA may proceed to protect and enforce the rights vested in it by this Agreement either by suit in equity or by action at law or by proceedings in bankruptcy or otherwise, whether for the specific enforcement of any covenant or agreement contained in this Agreement or in aid of the exercise of any power granted in this Agreement, or to enforce any other legal or equitable right vested in the OFA by this Agreement or by law.

Section 5.4 OFA May File Proof of Claim.

If proceedings for the receivership, insolvency, liquidation, bankruptcy, winding-up, reorganization, arrangement or composition of the IESO under any applicable law are pending, or if a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official shall have been appointed for the property of the IESO, or if any other judicial proceedings relative to the IESO, its creditors or its property are pending, the OFA shall be entitled and empowered, by intention in such proceeding or otherwise:

(a) to file and prove a claim for all amounts owing under this Agreement and to file such other papers or documents as may be necessary or advisable in order to have the claims of the OFA (including any claim for fees and disbursements of the OFA, its agents and counsel) allowed in such judicial proceeding; and

(b) to collect and receive any monies or other property payable or deliverable on any such claim.

Section 5.5 Rights and Remedies Cumulative.

No right or remedy herein conferred upon or reserved to the OFA is intended to be exclusive of any other such right or remedy, and every such right and remedy shall, to the extent permitted by law, be cumulative and in addition to every other right and remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or otherwise. The assertion or employment of any right or remedy hereunder, or otherwise, shall not prevent the concurrent assertion or employment of any other appropriate right or remedy.

Section 5.6 Delay or Omission not Waiver.

No delay or omission of the OFA to exercise any right or remedy accruing upon any Event of Default shall impair any such right or remedy or constitute a waiver of any such Event of Default or an acquiescence therein. Every right or remedy given by this Article 5 or by law to OFA may be exercised from time to time, and as often as may be deemed expedient, by the OFA.

Section 5.7 Intercept

(a) The IESO hereby acknowledges that, in accordance with the terms of the letter agreement of even date herewith entered between the Ministry of Energy, the IESO and the OFA made pursuant to Section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the "Intercept Letter"), the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct only from those monies appropriated by the Legislature for payment through the Ministry of Energy to the IESO ("Appropriated Funds"), amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement. On the occurrence of an Event of Default relating to a failure by IESO to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder, subject to the OFA's compliance with any relevant provisions hereof and as set out in the Intercept Letter, the Minister of Finance is irrevocably authorized to deduct from the Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement and to pay such amounts directly to the OFA ("Intercept").

(b) If, after following the process specified in the Intercept Letter (including, without limitation, allowing for a reasonable cure period on the terms specified therein), the OFA determines that it is necessary to request the Minister of Finance to exercise the Intercept, the OFA will give written notice to the Minister of Finance, with a copy to the Ministry of Energy, detailing the IESO's failure to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder and requesting the deduction from the Appropriated Funds of amounts equal to the amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA under this Agreement.

(c) The IESO agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to this section 5.7 (Intercept) may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance and, upon receipt of such notice, an amount equal to the amount that the IESO has failed to pay when due to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement shall be deducted from the Appropriated Funds and paid to the OFA.

~~(c)~~(d) For further certainty, the OFA acknowledges and agrees that the Intercept as provided for herein and in the Intercept Letter shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.

~~(d)~~(e) The parties agree that, with respect to the exercise of the Intercept generally, the terms of this section 5.7 shall be applied consistently with the terms set out in the Intercept Letter which shall apply in full. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a conflict or inconsistency between the terms and conditions of the Intercept Letter and the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement, the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement shall prevail.

ARTICLE 6
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF IESO

Section 6.1 Representations and Warranties of IESO

The IESO represents and warrants to the OFA that:

(a) the borrowing of money (including principal and accrued interest) by the IESO and the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement are within the powers and capacities of the IESO and have been duly authorized by all necessary legal action and proper proceedings;

(b) the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement will not conflict with or result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of the constituting documents or by-laws of the IESO, laws of Ontario, including laws of Canada applicable therein, applicable to the IESO or any contractual or other obligation binding on the IESO;

(c) this Agreement will, when executed and delivered, constitute the legal, valid and binding obligation of the IESO enforceable against it in accordance with its terms; and

(d) the monies advanced under this Agreement shall be used only by the IESO for the purposes set out in Section 2.2.

Section 6.2 Continuation of Representation and Warranties

The representations and warranties set out in Section 6.1 herein shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the making of each Advance by the OFA, notwithstanding any investigations or examinations which may be made by counsel for the OFA.

ARTICLE 7

Subject: FHP Status Update

Hello All,

This is to provide a status update for the existing $975 million OFA IESO Credit Facility (to be reduced to $475 million) and new $2 Billion FHP Credit Facility agreements. The agreements will be executed immediately after certain approvals have been made.

Currently, FHP related advances are being drawn on the existing $975 million OFA IESO Credit Facility. Once the agreements are in place, the intention is to have IESO draw primarily from the new $2 Billion FHP Credit Facility and reduce the existing $975 million OFA IESO Credit Facility down to the $475 million.

According to IESO the next draw will occur on October 20, for $840 million (outstanding loan + new advance).

The amount for the subsequent draw on November 21, is currently unknown but is expected to exceed the existing $975 million OFA IESO Credit Facility limit.

Assuming the $2 Billion FHP Credit Facility agreement is signed before November 21, we are considering two options for the November 21 advances:

(1) IESO will submit a borrowing notice for the November draw to be drawn entirely from the $2 Billion FHP Credit Facility.

Or

(2) IESO will submit a borrowing notice to draw a portion from the $2 Billion FHP Credit Facility in combination with an election notice to draw a portion of the remaining outstanding amount to allow for the existing OFA IESO Credit Facility to be reduced to a level below $475 million.

I will be consulting with IESO to determine which of these options will be chosen and will advise as to the option selected. I understand these facilities will need to be updated in OLMS. I am providing this information to all parties so that they may determine what arrangements are necessary in this regard.

Thanks,

Best regards,

Why not sign all docs on the same day this week including:
-intercept letter
-$2B facility
-the $975M non-rollover notice (this would confirm that in mid-Nov IESO will not rollover the $825M (the RRRP will continue to rollover with this facility) due on Nov 21)
-issue a rollover notice for $2B facility to say the $825M is being rolled over – note that I will need to borrow another approx. $225M too
-the AA # 10

This way all is in place by this week's end. Let me know or call me to discuss 905-403-6944.

Subject: FHP and Amending Agreement No. 10 - Order of Events

Hello Anthony and Victor,

Pending the execution of the intercept letter agreement next week, we can certainly target executing the FHP credit facility at that same time, however, we propose holding off the execution of the amending agreement until November 22nd .

Currently there is $840M outstanding under the existing credit facility agreement; we cannot reduce the limit of the $975M to $475M while the $840M is still outstanding. As per our discussion with Anthony, we understand that it is IESO's intention that the next draw for the whole balance of $840M (plus any new advancement) will be entirely funded through the new FHP facility (i.e. that is move all funding for next draw on November 21st from the existing $975 million Credit Facility to the $2 Billion FHP Credit Facility).

In order to achieve this with least disruption we propose:

- Sign the FHP Credit Facility agreement first next week (assuming intercept letter will be signed prior to or at the same time).
- For next advance, Prior to November 21st funding date, IESO sends to the OFA the FHP Borrowing Notice under the new Facility specifying the amount of the next advance ($840 million + new advance).
- Allow the $840 million outstanding under the existing $975 million Credit Facility to mature on November 21st and OFA will fund the November 21st advance (whereby OFA will send any net difference of funds above the $840M to IESO) under the new Facility.
- Arrange to execute Amending Agreement No. 10, on November 22 to reduce the existing credit facility on $475M.

Please provide your thoughts if this is suitable.

●% SENIOR NOTES DUE ● (SENIOR NOTES SERIES 2007-1)

THIS FIRST [SENIOR NOTES] SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE (this "Supplemental Indenture") is made as of ●, 2017, between ●, a trust existing under the laws of the Province of Ontario (the "Issuer") and ● Trust Company of Canada, a trust company existing under the laws of [Canada] (the "Indenture Trustee").

WHEREAS pursuant to the Trust Indenture dated as of ●, 2017 between the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee (as amended or restated from time to time, the "Trust Indenture"), provision was made for the issuance of Senior Notes from time to time in one or more Series by the execution and delivery of a Supplemental Indenture;

AND WHEREAS the parties hereto are entering into this Supplemental Indenture to provide for the creation and issuance of a Series of Senior Notes designated as the ●% Senior Notes due ● (Series 2017-1) (the "Series 2017-1 Senior Notes");

AND WHEREAS the foregoing recitals are made as statements of fact by the Issuer and not by the Indenture Trustee.

NOW THEREFORE THIS SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE WITNESSES and it is hereby covenanted, agreed and declared as follows:

ARTICLE 1
INTERPRETATION

1.1 Definitions

(a) For all purposes of this Supplemental Indenture, except as otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires, the terms defined in Schedule A hereto have the meanings assigned to them in Schedule A and include the plural as well as the singular.

(b) The provisions of Section 1.1 of the Trust Indenture are applicable to this Supplemental Indenture. All terms used herein which are defined in the Trust Indenture, either directly or by reference therein, have the meanings assigned to them therein.

1.2 Interpretation

Subject to the next following sentences, this Supplemental Indenture is supplemental to the Trust Indenture and the Trust Indenture shall be read in conjunction with this Supplemental Indenture and all of the provisions of the Trust Indenture shall apply to and shall have effect in connection with this Supplemental Indenture in the same manner as if all of the provisions of the Trust Indenture and of this Supplemental Indenture were contained in one instrument. This Supplemental Indenture shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be subject to the interpretative provisions contained in Article I of the Trust Indenture. If any terms of the Trust Indenture are inconsistent with the express terms or provisions hereof, the terms and provisions of the Trust Indenture shall be, solely in respect of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, amended and supplemented so as to be consistent herewith. The provisions of this Supplemental Indenture are applicable only in respect of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes and not the Senior Notes of any other Series.

1.3 Application of this Supplemental Indenture

With respect to the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes only, the terms of the Trust Indenture are amended, supplemented, modified, restated and replaced to the extent applicable by the terms of this Supplemental Indenture in respect of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes in accordance with Section 1.2 above.

ARTICLE 2
SERIES 2017-1 SENIOR NOTES

2.1 Creation of Series 2017-1 Senior Notes

There is hereby created a Series of Senior Notes to be issued pursuant to the Trust Indenture and this Supplemental Indenture designated as the "●% Senior Notes due ● (Series 2017-1)."

2.2 Principal Terms

In addition to and without limiting all of the provisions of this Supplemental Indenture, the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes will:

(a) be designated as set out in Section 2.1;

(b) be a Series of Senior Notes as contemplated by the Trust Indenture;

(c) not be divided into Tranches;

(d) be unlimited in principal amount but initially will have an aggregate principal amount of $● to be issued on the date hereof, provided that the principal amount of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes may be increased after the date hereof without the consent of any holder of Series 2017-1 Senior Notes or any holder of any Notes of any other Class, Series or Tranche;

(e) be denominated in Canadian dollars;

(f) not be listed on any securities exchange;

(g) be issued in the form of a Global Note;

(h) be Senior Notes and will not be subordinated to any other Series, Class or Tranche of Notes;

(i) be substantially in the form of Schedule B, with such appropriate insertions, omissions, substitutions and variations as may be approved by the Indenture Trustee;

(j) bear interest at a rate of ●% per annum;

(k) accrue interest from the later of: (i) ●, 2017 and (ii) the last Interest Payment Date on which interest has been paid or made available for payment on the Notes;

(l) have interest paid in equal semi-annual instalments [(except the initial interest payment)] on ● and ● each year (each, an "Interest Payment Date") commencing ●, 2018 in respect of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes issued prior to such date [NTD: Interest Payment Dates to be considered in context of model];

(m) [have an initial interest payment in the amount of $● per $1,000 principal amount payable on ●, 2018;]

(n) mature on, and have ●, as their Principal Payment Due Date;

(o) have ● as their Principal Payment Default Date;

(p) have ● as their Principal Accumulation Commencement Date;

(q) have a Record Date for each Interest Payment Date that is the ● day preceding each Interest Payment Date;

(r) [be redeemable and subject to repurchase as provided in Section 2.6 below]; and

(s) [not be subject to defeasance and covenant defeasance as contemplated by Section ● of the Trust Indenture] [be subject to defeasance and covenant defeasance in accordance with Section ● of the Trust Indenture].

2.3 Delivery

On the date of issuance of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall be executed, authenticated and delivered by the Issuer in accordance with Section 4.03 of the Trust Indenture.

2.4 Payment of Interest

The Issuer (except in case of payment of interest at maturity or as otherwise provided in the Trust Indenture, at which time payment of interest, less any taxes required by law to be deducted or withheld, may at the option of the Issuer be made upon presentation and surrender of the certificate representing the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes) will (i) on each Interest Payment Date, make payment of such interest, less any taxes required by law to be deducted or withheld, by wire transfer to each holder of a Series 2017-1 Senior Note as of the Record Date, or (ii) on the day that is two Business Days before each Interest Payment Date, forward or cause to be forwarded to the registered address of each holder of a Series 2017-1 Senior Note as of the Record Date a cheque for such interest, less any taxes required by law to be deducted or withheld, payable to the order of such holder. The payment by such wire transfer or forwarding of such cheque will satisfy and discharge the liability for interest upon such Series 2017-1 Senior Note to the extent of the sum represented thereby (plus the amount of any taxes deducted or withheld as aforesaid) unless any such cheque is not paid on presentation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Issuer, at its option, may cause the amount payable in respect of interest to be paid to a Noteholder in any other manner reasonably acceptable to the Indenture Trustee.

2.5 Payment of Principal

[On the] [At least one Business Day prior to the] Principal Payment Due Date, the Issuer will deposit with the Indenture Trustee all amounts required to be paid to the order of holders of Series 2017-1 Senior Notes on maturity on account of principal. The deposit of such funds will satisfy and discharge the liability for principal of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes to the extent of the sum represented thereby.

2.6 [Redemption and Repurchase

[NTD: Customary redemption/repurchase mechanics to be added to Trust Indenture as per OPG MTN indenture. Redemption below contemplates a par call]

(a) At its option, at any time prior to ● [par call date], the Issuer may redeem the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes in whole or, from time to time, in part, on payment of a redemption price equal to the greater of (i) the Series 2017-1 Canada Yield Price and (ii) par, together in each case with accrued and unpaid interest to the Series 2017-1 Redemption Date. At any time on or after ● [par call date], the Issuer may redeem the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes in whole or, from time to time, in part, on payment of a redemption price equal to par, together with accrued and unpaid interest to the Series 2017-1 Redemption Date. The Issuer will give notice of redemption not more than 60 days and not less than 15 days before the date fixed for redemption. Less than all of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes may be redeemed, if so redeemed, in accordance with Section ● of the Trust Indenture.

(b) The Issuer will be entitled at any time and from time to time to purchase for cancellation Series 2017-1 Senior Notes in the market (which may include purchases from or through an investment dealer or a firm holding membership on a recognized stock exchange) or by tender or by private contract at any price. Series 2017-1 Senior Notes that are so purchased will be cancelled and will not be re-issued. Less than all of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes may be purchased, if so purchased, for cancellation in accordance with Section ● of the Trust Indenture.

(c) The Series 2017-1 Senior Notes will not be subject to repurchase pursuant to any sinking fund or any other required repayment provisions].

2.7 Indemnification by the Issuer

The Issuer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Indenture Trustee and each Series 2017-1 Noteholder and each of their respective officers, directors, agents and employees (each, an "Issuer Indemnified Person") from and against any loss, liability, expense, damage or injury suffered or sustained by such Issuer indemnified person by reason of (a) any acts, omissions or alleged acts or omissions arising out of, or relating to, activities of the Issuer pursuant to the Program Agreements to which it is a party; (b) a breach of any representation or warranty made or deemed made by the Issuer (or any of its officers) in any Program Agreement; or (c) a failure by the Issuer to comply with any applicable law or regulation or to perform its covenants, agreements, duties or obligations required to be performed or observed by it in accordance with the provisions of the Program Agreements, including, but not limited to, any judgment, award, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other reasonable costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, proceeding or claim, except to the extent such loss, liability, expense, damage or injury resulted from the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of such Issuer indemnified person or its officers, directors, agents, principals, employees or employers or includes any Excluded Taxes; provided that any payments made by the Issuer pursuant to this Section 2.7 shall be made solely from funds available pursuant to Section [7.04] or Section [8.13] of the Trust Indenture, shall be non-recourse other than with respect to such funds, and shall not constitute a claim against the Issuer to the extent that such funds are insufficient to make such payment.

2.8 Taxes

[NTD: Subject to tax review]

(a) All payments by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder shall, to the extent allowed by law, be made free and clear of, and without deduction or withholding for or on account of, any present or future income, stamp or other taxes, levies, imposts, duties, charges, fees, deductions or withholdings, now or hereafter imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by any Governmental Authority (collectively, "Taxes"), excluding (i) income taxes (including branch profit taxes, minimum taxes and taxes computed under alternative methods, at least one of which is based on or measured by net income), franchise taxes (imposed in lieu of income taxes), or any other taxes based on or measured by the net income of any Series 2017-1 Noteholder (but specifically excluding any taxes required to be withheld under Section 1446 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (as amended, the "Code")) as a result of a present or former connection between the recipient and the jurisdiction of the governmental authority imposing such tax (other than any such connection arising solely from the recipient having executed, delivered or performed its obligations or received a payment under, disposed of, or enforced, this Supplemental Indenture); and (ii) any Taxes imposed under FATCA (as defined below) (including in the case of (i) and (ii), any interest, penalties and additions to tax) (all such excluded taxes being hereinafter called "Excluded Taxes"). If any Taxes, other than Excluded Taxes, are required to be withheld from any amounts payable to a recipient hereunder, the amounts so payable to the recipient shall be increased, and the recipient shall be entitled to be paid by the Issuer the amount of such increase to the extent necessary to yield to the recipient (after payment of all such Taxes other than Excluded Taxes) interest or any such other amounts payable hereunder or thereunder at the rates or in the amounts specified hereunder. Where the amount payable by the Issuer is increased in accordance with the previous sentence, the Monthly Interest and Fees shall be increased by the amount of such increase. Whenever any Taxes are payable on or with respect to amounts distributed to a recipient, as promptly as possible thereafter the Issuer shall send to such recipient a certified copy of an original official receipt showing payment thereof.

(b) If a payment by or on account of any obligation of the Issuer hereunder would be subject to U.S. federal withholding Tax imposed by provisions of Chapter 4 of the Code ("FATCA") if the recipient of such payment were to fail to comply with the applicable reporting requirements of FATCA (including those contained in Section 1471(b) or 1472(b) of the Code, as applicable), such recipient shall deliver to the Issuer at the time or times prescribed by law and at such time or times reasonably requested by the Issuer such documentation prescribed by applicable law (including as prescribed by Section 1471(b)(3)(C)(i) of the Code) and such additional documentation reasonably requested by the Issuer as may be necessary for the Issuer to comply with their obligations under FATCA and to determine that such recipient has complied with it's obligations under FATCA or to determine the amount to deduct and withhold from such payment. If any form or certification it previously delivered by a recipient expires or becomes obsolete or inaccurate in any respect, the recipient shall update such form or certification or promptly notify the Issuer in writing of its legal inability to do so.

(c) If a recipient is legally entitled to receive a refund of any Taxes (other than Excluded Taxes) as to which it has been indemnified or with respect to which additional amounts have been paid to it hereunder or it is legally entitled to receive a credit or deduction with respect to such Taxes or with respect to such additional amounts that have been paid hereunder (in each case pursuant to Section 2.8(a)), it shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain or claim such refund, credit or deduction and pay over such refund or the value of such credit or deduction to the Issuer, together with any interest thereon.

2.9 Conditions Precedent to Issuance of Series 2017-1 Senior Notes

On or prior to the initial issuance of Series 2017-1 Senior Notes hereunder, the following conditions precedent shall be satisfied:

(a) Each of the conditions precedent set forth in Section 5.01 of the Trust Indenture in respect of the incurrence of Funding Obligations under this Supplemental Indenture shall have been satisfied.

(b) The representations and warranties set forth in Section 12.01 of the Trust Indenture and Section 3.1 of this Supplemental Indenture shall be true and correct in all material respects, the Issuer shall be compliance in all material respects with all of its covenants and obligations under the Program Agreements to which it is a party.

(c) The Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall have been duly issued in accordance with the Trust Indenture and the Global Note representing the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes shall have been executed and delivered to the Depository (or as it may direct) for deposit into its [Book-Based System] for the benefit of the [Beneficial Holders] upon receipt by the Indenture Trustee of a [Written Order].

ARTICLE 3
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

3.1 Representations and Warranties of the Issuer

The Issuer hereby represents and warrants to the Indenture Trustee and each Series 2017-1 Noteholder that:

(a) no Termination Event has occurred or would result from the initial purchase of the Issuer Investment Interest on the date hereof;

(b) the Issuer Trustee and the Issuer are not non-residents of Canada within the meaning of the Income Tax Act (Canada);

(c) all tax returns (federal, provincial and local) required to be filed with respect to the Issuer have been filed and there has been paid or adequate provision made for the payment of all material taxes, assessments and other governmental charges in respect of the Issuer;

(d) the Issuer has not changed its name and the Declaration of Trust has neither been amended nor rescinded other than as consented to by the holders of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes;

(e) the Issuer has complied in all material respects with all laws in respect of the conduct of its business and ownership of its property including the Issuer Investment Interest;

(f) all information provided to the Administrative Agent and the Purchaser Groups by or on behalf of the Issuer in respect of the Issuer Investment Interest is and will be true and accurate in all material respects;

(g) there has been no material adverse change in the condition (financial or otherwise), business, operations, results of operations, or the property of the Issuer; and

(h) the Issuer does not own or hold, directly or indirectly, any shares or equity security of, or any equity interest in, any Person.

3.2 Survival

The representations and warranties set out in this Article 3 shall survive the execution hereof.

ARTICLE 4
GENERAL

4.1 Acceptance of Trust

The Indenture Trustee accepts the trusts in this Supplemental Indenture and agrees to carry out and discharge the same upon the terms and conditions set out in this Supplemental Indenture and in accordance with the Trust Indenture.

4.2 Confirmation of Trust Indenture

The Trust Indenture, as amended and supplemented by this Supplemental Indenture, is in all respects confirmed.

4.3 Indenture Trustee Not Bound to Act

The Indenture Trustee shall retain the right not to act and shall not be liable for refusing to act if, due to a lack of information or for any other reason whatsoever, the Indenture Trustee, in its sole judgment, acting reasonably, determines that such act may cause it to be in non-compliance with any applicable anti-money laundering, anti-terrorism or economic sanction legislation, regulation or guideline. Further, should the Indenture Trustee, in its sole judgment, acting reasonably, determine at any time that its acting under this Supplemental Indenture has resulted in non-compliance with any applicable anti-money laundering, anti-terrorism or economic sanction legislation, regulation or guideline, then it shall have the right to resign pursuant to the terms of Section ● of the Trust Indenture, provided that (i) the Indenture Trustee's written notice of resignation shall describe the circumstances of such non-compliance; and (ii) if such circumstances are rectified to the Indenture Trustee's satisfaction within 15 Business Days of the receipt of such notice of resignation, then such notice shall not be effective.

4.4 Successor and Assigns

This Supplemental Indenture shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective permitted successors and assigns.

4.5 Specified Creditors

The Issuer and the Indenture Trustee (on behalf of the Series 2017-1 Noteholders) acknowledge and agree that the Series 2017-1 Noteholders are Specified Creditors under the Trust Indenture and their entitlements as a Specified Creditor are subject to the provisions applicable to Specified Creditors under the Trust Indenture including, without limitation, Section 7.06 (Payments Held in Trust), Section 8.12 (Limitation on Suits), Sections 7.04 and 8.13 (Payment Priorities), Section 8.15 (Limited Recourse) and Section 17.01 (No Petition).

4.6 Waiver

Without limiting the requirements of Section 11.02 of the Trust Indenture, no waiver of any provision of this Supplemental Indenture or consent to any departure by the Issuer from any provision of this Supplemental Indenture will be effective (in whole or in part) unless in writing and signed by the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders. Such waiver will be effective only in the specific instance, for the specific purpose and for the specific length of time for which it is given by the Requisite Series 2017-1 Noteholders.

4.7 Notice

All notices, requests, instructions and demands to or upon any party hereto to be effective shall be given in the case of the Issuer and the Indenture Trustee, in the manner set forth in Article 16 of the Trust Indenture.

4.8 No Waiver: Remedies

No failure on the part of any party to exercise, and no delay in exercising, any power, right or remedy hereunder will operate as a waiver thereof; nor will any single or partial exercise of any such power, right or remedy hereunder preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other power, right or remedy. The rights and remedies herein provided are cumulative and not exclusive of any remedies provided by applicable law.

4.9 Entire Agreement

This Supplemental Indenture, the Trust Indenture and the other Program Agreements contain the entire agreement between the parties relative to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements, term sheets, commitments, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written. There are no warranties, representations or other agreements between the parties in connection with the subject matter hereof except as specifically set forth in this Supplemental Indenture, the Trust Indenture and the other Program Agreements.

4.10 Governing Law and Attornment

This Supplemental Indenture shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Province of Ontario and the parties hereby attorn to the jurisdiction of the courts of Ontario.

4.11 Expenses

The Issuer agrees to pay on demand to the Indenture Trustee: (a) all reasonable costs and expenses in connection with the preparation, execution, and delivery of this Supplemental Indenture; (b) all reasonable costs and expenses in connection with any amendments of or waivers or consents under this Supplemental Indenture or the Program Agreements, including in each case the reasonable fees and out-of-pocket expenses of counsel with respect thereto, and (iii) all reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable fees and expenses of counsel), if any, in connection with the enforcement of this Supplemental Indenture or any of the Program Agreements, and the other documents delivered thereunder or in connection therewith.

4.12 Further Assurances

Each of the parties hereto upon the request of the other party or parties hereto shall do, execute, acknowledge and deliver or cause to be done, executed acknowledged or delivered all such further acts, deeds, documents, assignments, transfers, conveyances, powers of attorney and assurances as may be reasonably necessary or desirable to effect or complete the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Supplemental Indenture.

4.13 Limitation of Liability of Issuer Trustee

Each party hereto other than the Issuer acknowledges that the Issuer is a trust, and that ● Trust Company of Canada is the Issuer Trustee. The other parties hereto agree that the Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any liability whatsoever to them, in tort, contract or otherwise, in connection with the Issuer's assets or the trust activities, for any action taken or permitted by it to be taken, or for its failure to take any action; provided that the foregoing limitation will not apply in respect of any action or failure to act arising from or in connection with wilful misconduct, negligence or reckless disregard of a duty by the Issuer Trustee. The Issuer Trustee in doing anything or permitting anything to be done in respect of assets or the trust activities is, and shall be conclusively deemed to be, acting as trustee of the Issuer and not in any other capacity. Except as to the extent provided in this Section 4.13, the Issuer Trustee will not be subject to any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Issuer, arising out of anything done or permitted by it to be done or its failure to take any action in respect of the Issuer's assets or the trust activities and resort will be had solely to the Collateral for the payment or performance thereof. No property or assets of the Issuer Trustee, whether owned in its personal capacity or otherwise, will be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligation under this Supplemental Indenture. Nothing contained in this Section 4.13 shall be construed so as to limit the liability of the Issuer under this Supplemental Indenture. This Supplemental Indenture, and every deed, transfer, assignment, agreement or other instrument made pursuant hereto including, without limitation, the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes, made or purporting to be made by or creating an obligation of the Issuer or the Issuer Trustee on behalf of, or as trustee of, the Issuer shall be deemed and construed for all purposes as if made by the Issuer Trustee, in and only in its capacity as trustee of the Issuer. Any obligations of the Issuer Trustee hereunder or thereunder are non-recourse to the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity.

4.14 Execution in Counterparts

This Supplemental Indenture may be executed in several counterparts, each of which when so executed shall be deemed to be an original and the counterparts together shall constitute one and the same instrument. This Supplemental Indenture may be executed and delivered by facsimile or other electronic transmission of a manually signed counterpart.

4.15 Delivery of Executed Copies

Each party acknowledges delivery of an executed copy of this Supplemental Indenture.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

Re: Fair Hydro Plan – Deliveries under Change of Law Process Agreement

Reference is made to the Change of Law Process Agreement dated as of December 21, 2017 between Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Ontario, as represented by the Minister of Energy and the Minister of Finance, and Ontario Power Generation Inc. (the "Change of Law Process Agreement"). Capitalized terms used and not defined herein shall have their respective meanings in the Change of Law Process Agreement.

On April 24, Fair Hydro Trust (the "Issuer") will issue (i) C$400,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 3.52% Senior Notes due May 15, 2038, Series 2018-2 in accordance with the terms of an agency agreement dated as of April 19, 2018 among the Issuer, Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG") and the dealers named therein, (ii) C$305,882,000 aggregate principal amount of 3.834% Subordinated Notes due May 15, 2038, Series 2018-2 and (iii) C$78,431,000 aggregate principal amount of 4.214% Junior Subordinated Notes due May 15, 2038, Series 2018-2 (collectively, the "Funding Obligations").

On behalf of Ontario Power Generation Inc. and pursuant to section 3.01 of the Change of Law Process Agreement, please find enclosed a Process Certificate in respect of the Funding Obligations.

On behalf of Ontario Power Generation Inc. and pursuant to section 2.01(c) of the Change of Law Process Agreement, please find enclosed one Special Payment Date Agreement in respect of each of the Warehouse Senior Series 2017-1 Supplemental Indenture dated as of December 21, 2017 among, inter alios, the Issuer, Royal Bank of Canada and BNY Trust Company of Canada (the "Indenture Trustee"), the Warehouse Subordinated Series 2017-1 Supplemental Indenture dated as of December 21, 2017 among the Issuer, OPG and the Indenture Trustee and the Warehouse Junior Subordinated Series 2017-1 Supplemental Indenture dated as of December 21, 2017 among the Issuer, OPG and the Indenture Trustee (collectively, the "Warehouse Facilities"). Such Special Payment Date Agreements permit a partial repayment of the Warehouse Facilities using proceeds from the Funding Obligations on a date that is not the 15th day of a given calendar month and allow the decrease notice to be delivered within two business days of such repayment (rather than five business days).

Yours truly,

Brett Saulnier

AND RE: C$78,431,000 aggregate principal amount of 4.214% Junior Subordinated Notes due May 15, 2038, Series 2018-2 (the "Series 2018-2 Junior Subordinated Notes")

AND RE: Agency agreement between Fair Hydro Trust (the "Issuer"), Ontario Power Generation Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc., RBC Dominion Securities Inc., Goldman Sachs Canada Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., National Bank Financial Inc., TD Securities Inc., Morgan Stanley Canada Limited, HSBC Securities (Canada) Inc., Laurentian Bank Securities Inc., Desjardins Securities Inc. and Casgrain & Company Limited dated as of April 19, 2018 (the "Agency Agreement" and together with the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes, the Series 2018-2 Subordinated Notes and the Series 2018-2 Junior Subordinated Notes, the "Funding Obligations")

Reference is made to the Change of Law Process Agreement dated December 21, 2017 among the Province and Ontario Power Generation Inc. (the "Change of Law Process Agreement"). Capitalized terms used and not defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in the Change of Law Process Agreement.

Each of the undersigned, being the Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer of OPG acting in its capacity as FSM and holding the offices set forth under their names and signatures below, pursuant to and accordance with section 3.01 of the Change of Law Process Agreement, hereby certifies for and on behalf of OPG, in its capacity as Financial Services Manager, and not in such officer's personal capacity and intending that this certificate may be relied on by the addressees hereof without independent inquiry, that:

1. I have read and understand the provisions of the Change of Law Process Agreement and all other documents and materials necessary to enable me to deliver this certificate.

2. The material terms of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes are set forth in Schedule A.

3. The material terms of the Series 2018-2 Subordinated Notes are set forth in Schedule B.

4. The material terms of the Series 2018-2 Junior Subordinated Notes are set forth in Schedule C.

5. The material terms of the Agency Agreement are set forth in Schedule D.

6. The Funding Obligations:

   (a) will arise under terms and conditions that are Substantially in the Form of the Reference Documentation applicable thereto;

   (b) in my opinion, are reasonably incurred or effected in compliance with the Act, the General Regulation, any other enactments related thereto and the Financing Plan;

   (c) are of a type and are on terms that a reasonably prudent financial services manager would incur in similar circumstances; and

   (d) reflect, in all material respects, arm's length terms and conditions.

7. The Disclosure Document used in connection with the offering and sale of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes is Substantially in the Form of the Reference Documentation. No Disclosure Document was used in connection with the offering and sale of the Series 2018-2 Subordinated Notes or Series 2018-2 Junior Subordinated Notes.

8. Any disclosure made in respect of any of the Funding Obligations (including any Disclosure Document, press release or other written communication prepared for dissemination to third parties in relation to any of the Funding Obligations) that refers to or describes the terms, effect or adherence of or to the Change of Law Process Agreement or the Change of Law Protection Agreement has been made available to the Province prior to use or dissemination, other than where such disclosure was substantially the same as a disclosure previously made.

9. No Breach Event has occurred on or prior to the date hereof, unless such Breach Event has been waived by the Province in writing.

10. At the time the Funding Obligations are incurred, the maximum aggregate payment amounts due or becoming due in the future in respect of Repayments under the Funding Obligations, together with all other outstanding amounts due or becoming due in the future in respect of Repayments under all Approved Obligations, do not exceed the Protection Agreement Maximum applicable on the date hereof.

SCHEDULE A

SERIES 2018-2 SENIOR NOTES TERM SHEET
Principal Amount	Unlimited but initially C$400,000,000
Interest Rate	3.52% per annum (the "Series 2018-2 Senior Interest Rate")
Interest Payments	The "Interest Payment Dates" for the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes are as follows: (i) prior to the occurrence of an Amortization Event (as defined below), interest on the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes shall be payable in equal semi-annual instalments (except the first interest payment) in arrears on May 15 and November 15 of each year, commencing May 15, 2018 (short first coupon); and (ii) following the occurrence of an Amortization Event, interest will be payable in arrears on the outstanding principal amount of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes on each Payment Date (as defined in the Master Trust Indenture dated December 21, 2017 between the Issuer and BNY Trust Company of Canada, as supplemented (the "MTI")) thereafter at a rate equal to the monthly equivalent of the Series 2018-2 Senior Interest Rate; that is, the interest rate that, when compounded monthly for six months on a stated outstanding principal amount, yields interest in an amount equal to the Series 2018-2 Senior Interest Rate, multiplied by such outstanding principal amount and divided by two. The first interest payment on the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes will include accrued and unpaid interest for the period from, and including, April 24, 2018 to, but excluding, the first Interest Payment Date. Subject to the occurrence of an Acceleration Event (as defined below), the first interest payment will be in an amount equal to C$2.02520548 per C$1,000 principal amount of Series 2018-2 Senior Notes. "Amortization Event" means either an Acceleration Event has occurred with respect to the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes, or the outstanding principal amount of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes has not been paid in full on May 15, 2038. "Acceleration Event" means either (i) all Issuer Funding Obligations are declared due and payable in accordance with the provisions of the MTI, or (ii) the outstanding principal amount of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes and all interest thereon is declared due and payable in accordance with the MTI as a result of the occurrence of certain events of default.
Issue Price	C$1,000.02 per C$1,000 principal amount of Series 2018-2 Senior Notes
Fees	See Schedule D under the heading "Fees"
Term to Maturity	20 years
Amortization	Subject to the occurrence of an Acceleration Event, the outstanding principal amount of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes shall be due and payable on May 15, 2038. Following the occurrence of an Amortization Event, each Payment Date thereafter shall be a Principal Payment Date (as defined in the MTI) in respect of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes and the then outstanding principal amount of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes shall be due and payable on each such Payment Date. A failure to pay principal on May 15, 2038 for the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes will constitute an event of default upon the occurrence of which the holders of Series 2018-2 Senior Notes may declare the outstanding principal and all accrued and unpaid interest on the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes to be immediately due and payable. Subject to the occurrence of an Amortization Event, the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes shall have the Principal Accumulation Amounts for the Payment Dates specified in Appendix I hereto.
Extension	N/A
Redemption	The Series 2018-2 Senior Notes will be redeemable at the option of the Issuer, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time, on not less than 15 nor more than 60 days' notice at the redemption price specified below. At any time prior to the Par Call Date (as defined below), the redemption price will be equal to the greater of (i) the Series 2018-2 Canada Yield Price (as defined below) and (ii) par, plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the date of redemption. On or after the Par Call Date, the redemption price will be equal to par, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the date of redemption. "Par Call Date" means November 15, 2037. "Series 2018-2 Canada Yield Price" means a price equal to the price of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes calculated to provide a yield to the Par Call Date, compounded semi-annually and calculated in accordance with generally accepted Canadian financial practice, equal to the Government of Canada Yield (as defined below) calculated at 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) on the third business day preceding the date of redemption, plus 0.265% per annum. "Government of Canada Yield" on any date means, in respect of the Series 2018-2 Senior Notes being redeemed, the yield from the redemption date to the Par Call Date compounded semi-annually and calculated in accordance with generally accepted Canadian financial practice, which a non-callable Government of Canada bond would carry if issued in Canadian dollars in Canada at 100% of its principal amount on such date with a term to maturity equal to the remaining term to the Par Call Date (calculated from the date of redemption), such yield being the average of the yields provided by two major Canadian investment dealers specified by the Issuer.

At any time prior to the Par Call Date (as defined below), the redemption price will be equal to the greater of (i) the Series 2018-2 Canada Yield Price (as defined below) and (ii) par, plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the date of redemption. On or after the Par Call Date, the redemption price will be equal to par, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the date of redemption. "Par Call Date" means November 15, 2037. "Series 2018-2 Canada Yield Price" means a price equal to the price of the Series 2018-2 Junior Subordinated Notes calculated to provide a yield to the Par Call Date, compounded semi-annually and calculated in accordance with generally accepted Canadian financial practice, equal to the Government of Canada Yield (as defined below) calculated at 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) on the third business day preceding the date of redemption, plus 0.440% per annum. "Government of Canada Yield" on any date means, in respect of the Series 2018-2 Junior Subordinated Notes being redeemed, the yield from the redemption date to the Par Call Date compounded semi-annually and calculated in accordance with generally accepted Canadian financial practice, which a non-callable Government of Canada bond would carry if issued in Canadian dollars in Canada at 100% of its principal amount on such date with a term to maturity equal to the remaining term to the Par Call Date (calculated from the date of redemption), such yield being the average of the yields provided by two major Canadian investment dealers specified by the Issuer.

SCHEDULE D

AGENCY AGREEMENT TERMS
Appointment	The Issuer appoints the Agents to act as its sole and exclusive agents to effect the solicitation and private placement of Series 2018-2 Senior Notes to "accredited investors", as such term is defined under applicable securities laws, in the Provinces of Canada (the "Offering").
Fees	In consideration of the services provided to the Issuer by the Agents, the Issuer agrees to pay the Agents a fee equal to 0.55% of the aggregate principal amount of Series 2018-2 Senior Notes sold in the Offering.
Representations and Warranties	Representations and warranties in favour of the Agents from each of the Issuer and OPG customary for a private placement of notes, including representations that the disclosure document used in connection with the Offering does not contain a "misrepresentation", as such term is defined under applicable securities laws.
Conditions to Closing	As conditions to the closing of the Offering, the Issuer must provide, or arrange to have provided, certain standard certificates, legal opinions and other deliverables to the Agents.
Termination	The Agents have customary rights to terminate their obligations on the occurrence of certain events, including legal or other proceedings resulting in a material adverse change, a material adverse change in respect of the Issuer and financial disasters.
Indemnity	Each of the Issuer and OPG provides an indemnity to each of the Agents for any losses resulting from, among other things, breaches of representations, warranties and covenants, breaches of securities laws or a "misrepresentation" in the disclosure document used in connection with the Offering.

SPECIAL PRINCIPAL PAYMENT DATE AGREEMENT (2018-2)
(Senior Warehouse Supplemental Indenture)

Reference is made to:

(a) the Trust Indenture dated as of December 21, 2017 (the "Trust Indenture") between Computershare Trust Company of Canada in its capacity as trustee of Fair Hydro Trust and BNY Trust Company of Canada, as indenture trustee;

(b) the Warehouse Senior Series 2017-1 Supplemental Indenture (the "Senior Warehouse Supplemental Indenture") made as of December 21, 2017 between the undersigned signatories to this Special Principal Payment Date Agreement;

(c) an expected issuance on or about April 24, 2018 of Senior Notes bearing the full designation "3.52% Senior Notes due May 15, 2038, Series 2018-2" pursuant to a new Supplemental Indenture to be entered into (the "Expected Term Issuance").

Terms with initial capital letters in this Special Principal Payment Date Agreement have the meanings given to them in, or for the purposes of, the Senior Warehouse Supplemental Indenture and the Trust Indenture.

The undersigned hereby agree as follows:

1. Notwithstanding the terms of the Senior Warehouse Supplemental Indenture, the date of issuance of the Senior Notes pursuant to the Expected Term Issuance (the "Special Principal Payment Date") will be a Principal Payment Date and a Decrease Date as such terms are defined under, and for the purposes of, the Senior Warehouse Supplemental Indenture.

2. Each of the Principal Payment Amount and the Decrease Amount for such Special Principal Payment Date shall be $400,000,000.

3. Proceeds of the Expected Term Issuance will be applied pursuant to the provisions of the Trust Indenture and the Senior Warehouse Supplemental Indenture to the payment of the Principal Payment Amount.

4. For greater certainty, it is acknowledged that the Special Principal Payment Date will not be an Interest Payment Date under the Senior Warehouse Supplemental Indenture and that accrued interest in respect of the principal amount of the Series 2017-1 Senior Notes repaid on the Special Principal Payment Date will be paid on the next Payment Date.

5. Notwithstanding Section 3.4(a) of the Senior Warehouse Supplemental Indenture, the Decrease Notice in respect of the Decrease occurring on the Special Principal Payment Date may be delivered no later than the second Business Day prior to the Special Principal Payment Date.

6. This Special Principal Payment Date Agreement applies only to the proceeds of the Expected Term Issuance and shall not be relied upon to complete any other repayment of principal of Series 2017-1 Senior Notes. If the Special Principal Payment Date has not occurred by May 15, 2018 this Special Principal Payment Date Agreement shall cease to be of any force and effect.

7. Except as modified hereby, the provisions of the Senior Warehouse Supplemental Indenture remain in full force and effect unamended.

8. Each Series 2017-1 Senior Noteholder acknowledges and consents to the foregoing and directs the Indenture Trustee to enter into this Special Principal Payment Date Agreement.

DIRECTIVE

MINISTER OF FINANCE

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR CREDIT FACILITY

To: Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA")

Whereas:

Under the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), the OFA provides financing to public bodies as directed by the Minister of Finance.

The Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"), a public body for the purposes of CIPA, has requested funding from the OFA to support the IESO's role in the implementation and administration of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP").

In order to fulfil the Province's commitments under the OFHP, it is desirable for the Minister of Finance to provide direction to the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility for the purposes of providing short to medium term financing related to the OFHP.

Therefore:

Pursuant to sub-section 16(2) of CIPA, the OFA is directed to lend to the IESO under a revolving credit facility (the "Line of Credit") for the purpose of short to medium term financing related to the IESO's implementation of the OFHP, an aggregate principal amount of up to CAD $2 billion.

The Line of Credit shall be subject to the following terms:

- The Line of Credit shall be evidenced by an agreement between the IESO and the OFA containing terms and conditions consistent with this Directive (the "Credit Agreement").

- Interest on the Line of Credit shall be payable at a rate equal to the Province's cost of funds based on the terms of the Credit Agreement, and as determined by the Chief Executive Officer of the OFA or the Assistant Deputy Minister, Corporate and Electricity Finance Division, OFA, or a person designated by either of them, plus a twenty-five (25) basis point spread.

- All amounts outstanding under the Line of Credit shall be repaid in full on or before the date no later than September 30, 2022.

- The Line of Credit shall be subject to such other terms as the OFA deems appropriate from time to time.

Dear Sirs:

I. ELECTION NOTICE

The undersigned, the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"), refers to the Revolving Credit Facility Agreement between the IESO and the OFA dated November 21, 2017 (as amended, supplemented or restated from time to time, the "Agreement", the terms defined therein being used herein as therein defined), and gives you notice pursuant to Section 3.3 of the Agreement that the IESO elects to continue for an additional term all or a portion of an Advance or a Continued Advance, as the case may be, and in connection with such election sets forth below the information relating to such election as required by Section 3.3(2) of the Agreement:

(a) The date of the proposed election, being a Business Day (being the Current Repayment Date) is May 18, 2018.
(b) The aggregate amount of the proposed Continued Advance is $852,203.09, which is comprised of:
i. principal amount of Advance which is to be continued $852,203.09; and
ii. accrued interest on Advance which will not be paid on or before the Current Repayment Date $0.00;
(c) The IESO will pay on the Current Repayment Date the following amount with respect to the Advance (if any): $0.00;
(d) The New Repayment Date, being a Business Day, applicable to such proposed Continued Advance is June 20, 2018. [Insert date not earlier than 5 days and not later than 95 days after the current Repayment Date for the Advance.]

IESO confirms it will also be paying interest in the amount of $993.69.

Such election shall be confirmed by IESO by a telephone call to OFA Cash Management at 416-325-8108.

II. BORROWING NOTICE [to be included if applicable]

The IESO gives you notice pursuant to Section 3.3(3) of the Agreement that the IESO requests a further Advance under the Agreement on the Current Repayment Date, with a Repayment Date of the New Repayment Date as specified above, and in connection with such request, sets forth below the information relating to such Advance (the "Proposed Advance"):

Amount of the Proposed Advance: $255,748,186.14

The total aggregate amount of the proposed Continued Advance and Proposed Advance pursuant to this Notice is: $256,600,389.23

Such request of the Proposed Advance shall be confirmed by the IESO by a telephone call to OFA Cash Management at 416-325-8108.

Use of Funds

The IESO hereby certifies that the funds comprising the Proposed Advance requested pursuant to this Notice, if any, will be used for the following purpose(s): This transaction relates to the Fair Hydro Program.

The IESO hereby certifies that:

The representations and warranties of the IESO contained in the Agreement are true and correct as at the date hereof.

No Event of Default has occurred or is continuing and no event or condition has occurred, which, with the lapse of time or the giving of notice or both would constitute an Event of Default.

The IESO has complied or is complying with all terms, covenants and conditions contained in the Agreement.

Any and all funds received under the Agreement are being used solely as authorized under the Agreement and are not being used for any other purpose.

Yours truly,

The IESO gives you notice pursuant to Section 3.3(3) of the Agreement that the IESO requests a further Advance under the Agreement on the Current Repayment Date, with a Repayment Date of the New Repayment Date as specified above, and in connection with such request, sets forth below the information relating to such Advance (the "Proposed Advance"):

Amount of the Proposed Advance: $838,764.93

The total aggregate amount of the proposed Continued Advance and Proposed Advance pursuant to this Notice is: $14,956,793.43

Such request of the Proposed Advance shall be confirmed by the IESO by a telephone call to OFA Cash Management at 416-325-8108.

Use of Funds

The IESO hereby certifies that the funds comprising the Proposed Advance requested pursuant to this Notice, if any, will be used for the following purpose(s): This transaction relates to the settlement of the Rural or Remote Electricity Rate Protection (RRRP) variance.

The IESO hereby certifies that:

The representations and warranties of the IESO contained in the Agreement are true and correct as at the date hereof.

No Event of Default has occurred or is continuing and no event or condition has occurred, which, with the lapse of time or the giving of notice or both would constitute an Event of Default.

The IESO has complied or is complying with all terms, covenants and conditions contained in the Agreement.

Any and all funds received under the Agreement are being used solely as authorized under the Agreement and are not being used for any other purpose.

Ryan,

As discussed with Will today, I understand you will be co-ordinating the proposed 2 amendments to the existing IESO-OEFC credit facilities.

For starters, there are no expected changes being asked to the existing agreement's key business content (e.g. amounts, dates, interest, notices etc.), rather given that IESO-OFA have just finished two new agreements pertaining to the new fair hydro program, ….I suggest we just copy and paste the salient sections from these agreements that would now be relevant to the OEFC agreements for fair hydro namely;

1.DRAFT
The definition of "Permitted Liens" is amended by deleting the word "and" at the end of subsection (xx); replacing the "." at the end of subsection (xx) and replacing it with "; and" ; and adding the following subsection (xx):
"(xx) any Lien arising from the IESO's role and obligations under the OFHP, including with respect to any amount received or receivable by the IESO (such as, without limitation, amounts received or receivable in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment), or any other lien, whether arising from the action or inaction of IESO, that is created in connection with the OFHP."

2.DRAFT
The OFA agreements had required an intercept provision, …..not sure if the same applies to OEFC if yes:

"Section 5.7 Intercept
(a) The IESO hereby acknowledges that, in accordance with the terms of the letter agreement of November 6th , 2017 herewith entered between the Ministry of Energy, the IESO and the OFA made pursuant to Section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the "Intercept Letter"), the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct only from those monies appropriated by the Legislature for payment through the Ministry of Energy to the IESO ("Appropriated Funds"), amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement. On the occurrence of an Event of Default relating to a failure by IESO to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder, subject to the OFA's compliance with any relevant provisions hereof and as set out in the Intercept Letter, the Minister of Finance is irrevocably authorized to deduct from the Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement and to pay such amounts directly to the OFA ("Intercept").
(b) If, after following the process specified in the Intercept Letter (including, without limitation, allowing for a reasonable cure period on the terms specified therein), the OFA determines that it is necessary to request the Minister of Finance to exercise the Intercept, the OFA will give written notice to the Minister of Finance, with a copy to the Ministry of Energy, detailing the IESO's failure to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder and requesting the deduction from the Appropriated Funds of amounts equal to the amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA under this Agreement.

(c) The IESO agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to this section 5.7 (Intercept) may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance and, upon receipt of such notice, an amount equal to the amount that the IESO has failed to pay when due to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement shall be deducted from the Appropriated Funds and paid to the OFA.
(d) For further certainty, the OFA acknowledges and agrees that the Intercept as provided for herein and in the Intercept Letter shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than the Ministry of Energy or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.
The parties agree that, with respect to the exercise of the Intercept generally, the terms of this section 5.7 shall be applied consistently with the terms set out in the Intercept Letter which shall apply in full. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a conflict or inconsistency between the terms and conditions of the Intercept Letter and the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement, the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement shall prevail."

3.
If any… other relevant updates that make sense to do now……I do not anticipate any material ones.

We need your support to expedite the above in order to avoid delays in the Fair Hydro implementation.
Regards.

Subject: IESO - OEFC credit facilities : permitted liens

John,

As discussed yesterday, it likely is best to add to the definition of "Permitted Liens" in the two OEFC facilities to address a) IESO granting security to the OPG Trust during the first 4 years of fair hydro program and b) the possibility that the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by IESO might be considered to be subject to a lien. The IESO does not want to be inadvertently in default.

Happy to discuss further. I am out of the office most of this week on IESO business matters but available by cell 289-795-9426, or if necessary you may connect with Victor.

Regards.

ONTARIO REGULATION

made under the

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN ACT, 2017

Amending O. Reg. 206/17

(GENERAL)

1. (1) Subsection 1 (1) of Ontario Regulation 206/17 is amended by adding the following definition:

"acceleration of a funding obligation" means,

(a) a portion of the principal amount owing in respect of the funding obligation has become due and payable by a financing entity before the scheduled payment date, maturity date or redemption date, or

(b) a party to a derivative agreement in respect of the funding obligation has elected to close-out or terminate the agreement, resulting in an obligation on a financing entity to pay a termination amount, close-out amount or similar amount;

(2) Paragraph 2 of the definition of "readjustment amount" in subsection 1 (2) of the Regulation is amended by striking out "exceeds the fair allocation amount" and substituting "exceeds the absolute value of the fair allocation amount".

2. (1) Subsection 5 (1) of the Regulation is amended by adding "and section 6.1" after "subsection (2)" in the portion before paragraph 1.

(2) Subparagraph 2 ii of subsection 5 (1) of the Regulation is revoked and the following substituted:

ii. For any period before May 1, 2021, amounts received during the period in respect of funding rebates and carrying costs.

ii.1 For any period on and after May 1, 2021, amounts received during the period in respect of funding rebates.

3. Subsection 6 (3) of the Regulation is amended by adding "Subject to section 6.1" at the beginning.

4. The Regulation is amended by adding the following section:

Acceleration

6.1 (1) Despite the acceleration of a funding obligation at any time, the Financial Services Manager shall, for the purposes of determining the clean energy adjustment and the true up amount under section 15 of the Act, determine the estimated finance amount and the true up amount as if no acceleration had occurred.

(2) If the application of subsection (1) results in the estimated finance amount being less than what it would have otherwise been, the Financial Services Manager shall add an additional amount to the estimated finance amount determined under subsection (1), which additional amount shall be calculated as follows:

1. Estimate the sum of amounts that constitute the clean energy adjustment for each month during the reference period, determined in accordance with subsection (1).

2. Estimate the sum of amounts that would have, in the absence of subsection (1), constituted the clean energy adjustment for each month during the reference period.

3. Determine the lesser amount of the following:

    i. The sum estimated under paragraph 2.

    ii. The fair allocation amount for the reference period.

4. Determine the amount, if any, by which the amount determined under paragraph 3 exceeds the sum estimated under paragraph 1.

5. (1) Subsection 14 (2) of the Regulation is amended by adding the following paragraph:

3. Subject to subsection (2.1), if the fair allocation amount in respect of the reference period is either a negative amount or an amount that is less than the carrying costs of financing entities during the reference period, the Financial Services Manager may include all or a portion of the carrying costs in clean energy adjustments to be collected from specified consumers for the reference period.

(2) Section 14 of the Regulation is amended by adding the following subsection:

(2.1) Paragraph 3 of subsection (2) does not apply in respect of the carrying costs of financing entities that are paid by the IESO under section 9.1.

Commencement

6. This Regulation comes into force on the day it is filed.

Draft Date: November 7, 2017

SECURITY AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of the ____ day of _____, 2017,

BETWEEN:

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR, a statutory corporation without share capital established by the Electricity Act, 1998, SO, 1998,

(hereinafter referred to as the "Grantor"),

IN FAVOUR OF:

[FINANCING ENTITY], a trust formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario,

(hereinafter referred to as the "Secured Party"),

WHEREAS under Regulation 206/17 made under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Regulation"), the Grantor is required to pay to the Secured Party the Carrying Costs of the Secured Party during the period beginning on April 1, 2017 and ending on June 30, 2021 (the "Statutory Obligation");

AND WHEREAS the Grantor (together with the Secured Party, collectively referred to as the "Parties") has agreed to enter into a security agreement in favour of the Secured Party to secure payment of the Statutory Obligation;

NOW THEREFORE THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSES that, for and in consideration of the premises, mutual covenants and conditions herein contained and such other lawful and valuable consideration the receipt of sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties hereby agree as follows:

1. INTERPRETATION

1.1 Defined Terms

In this Agreement, unless there is something in the context or subject matter inconsistent therewith,

(a) "Account" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the PPSA;

(b) "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday or a Sunday on which banks generally are open for business in Toronto, Ontario;

(c) "Carrying Costs" shall have the meaning attributed to the term "carrying costs" in the Regulation;

(d) "Collateral" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in Section 2.1;

(e) "Electricity Vendor" shall mean a licensed distributor and a licensed retailer, each as defined in the Ontario Fair Hydro Act.

(f) "Money" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the PPSA;

(g) "Permitted Liens" means liens approved in writing by the Secured Party;

(h) "PPSA" means the Personal Property Security Act (Ontario), as amended from time to time, and any regulations thereto;

(i) "Proceeds" means "proceeds", as defined in the PPSA, of the Collateral;

(j) "Receiver" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in Section 6.2 of this Agreement;

(k) "Regulation" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the recitals hereto;

(l) "Statutory Obligation" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the recitals hereto.

1.2 Other Usages

References to "this Agreement", "hereof", "herein", "hereto" and like references refer to this Security Agreement and not to any particular Article, Section or other subdivision of this Agreement.

1.3 Plural and Singular

Where the context so requires, the words importing the singular number shall include the plural and vice versa.

1.4 Headings

The division of this Agreement into Articles and Sections and the insertion of headings in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

1.5 Applicable Law

This Agreement and all documents delivered pursuant hereto shall be governed by and construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the laws of Canada applicable therein and the Parties do hereby attorn to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Ontario.

1.6 Prohibited Provisions

In the event that any provision or any part of any provision hereof is deemed to be invalid by reason of the operation of any law or by reason of the interpretation placed thereon by a court, this Agreement shall be construed as not containing such provision or such part of such provision and the invalidity of such provision or such part shall not affect the validity of any other provision or the remainder of such provision hereof, and all other provisions hereof which are otherwise lawful and valid shall remain in full force and effect.

1.7 Time of the Essence

Time shall in all respects be of the essence of this Agreement.

1.8 Recitals and Schedules

Each and every one of the recitals and schedules which are referred to in this Agreement and attached to this Agreement shall form an integral part of this Agreement.

2. SECURITY INTEREST

2.1 Grant of Security Interest

As general and continuing security for the payment of the Statutory Obligation, the Grantor hereby grants a security interest to the Secured Party in the following (collectively, the "Collateral"):

(a) all Accounts, which are now due, owing or accruing or growing due to, or which may hereafter become due, owing or accruing or growing due, to the Grantor by an Electricity Vendor;

(b) all Proceeds and renewals of the foregoing, in whatever form, together with all substitutions therefore.

Whenever used elsewhere in this Agreement, the expression "security interest" refers to the security interest created in this Section 2.1.

2.2 Attachment of Security Interest

The Grantor acknowledges and agrees that (i) value has been given, (ii) the Grantor has rights in such of the Collateral as constitutes present property of the Grantor, and (iii) the security interest shall attach to existing Collateral upon execution of this Agreement by the Grantor and to each item of after-acquired Collateral at the time that the Grantor acquires any rights therein.

3. COVENANTS OF THE GRANTOR

3.1 Covenants

The Grantor hereby covenants and agrees with the Secured Party as follows:

(a) To promptly pay all taxes, assessments, rates, levies, payroll deductions, vacation pay, workers' compensation assessments, and any other charges which could result in the creation of a statutory lien or deemed trust in respect of the Collateral.

(b) To defend the Collateral against the claims and demands of all other persons claiming the same or an interest therein and to promptly notify the Secured Party of any such claim or demand.

(c) To do, make, execute and deliver such further and other assignments, transfers, deeds, agreements and other documents as may be required by the Secured Party to establish in favour of the Secured Party the security interest intended to be created hereby.

3.2 Performance of Covenants by the Secured Party

The Secured Party may, in its sole discretion and upon notice to and at the expense of the Grantor, perform any covenant of the Grantor under this Agreement that the Grantor fails to perform and that the Secured Party is capable of performing, provided that the Secured Party will not be obligated to perform any such covenant on behalf of the Grantor and no such performance by the Secured Party will require the Secured Party further to perform the Grantor's covenants nor operate as a derogation of the rights and remedies of the Secured Party under this Agreement.

4. DEALING WITH COLLATERAL

4.1 Grantor's Rights

Until the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2, the Grantor shall be entitled to deal with the Collateral in the ordinary course of business, provided however, that no such action shall be taken which would impair the effectiveness of the security interests created hereby, the provisions of this Agreement or any other written agreement between the Secured Party and the Grantor.

4.2 General Restrictions

The Grantor shall not, without the prior written consent of the Secured Party:

(a) sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Collateral or any part thereof except in the ordinary course of business; or

(b) enter into or grant, create, assume or suffer to exist any mortgage, charge, hypothec, assignment, pledge, lien or other security interest or encumbrance affecting any of the Collateral except the Permitted Liens.

4.3 Release by the Secured Party

The Secured Party may, at its discretion, at any time release from the security interest created by this Agreement any part or parts of the Collateral or any other security or any surety for the Statutory Obligation either with or without sufficient consideration therefor without thereby releasing any other part of the Collateral or any person from this Agreement.

5. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

5.1 Representations and Warranties

The Grantor hereby represents and warrants to the Secured Party, the matters set out below:

(a) Incorporation and Qualifications – The Grantor is a statutory corporation amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, with requisite power and authority to own its properties, to conduct its business as such properties are currently owned and such business is presently conducted by it, and to execute, deliver and carry out the terms of this Agreement.

(b) Corporate Authority and Power – The Grantor has the requisite power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to carry out its terms. The execution, delivery and performance of all obligations under this Agreement have been duly authorized by all necessary action on the part of the Grantor under all applicable laws.

(c) Non-Conflict – Neither the execution nor the performance of this Agreement requires the approval of any regulatory agency having jurisdiction over the Grantor nor is this Agreement in contravention of or in conflict with the by-laws or resolutions of the directors or shareholders of the Grantor or of the provisions of any agreement to which the Grantor is a party or by which any of its property may be bound or of any statute, regulation, by-law, ordinance or other law, or to the best of its knowledge of any judgement, decree, award, ruling or order to which the Grantor or any of its property may be subject, other than approvals that have been obtained.

(d) Ownership of Collateral Free of Liens – The Grantor is the owner of or has rights in the existing Collateral free and clear of any liens other than Permitted Liens.

(e) Grantor Information – Schedule A sets forth (a) the Grantor's jurisdiction of incorporation, (b) the location of the Grantor's registered office and business operations and records, and (c) the Grantor's exact legal name (in English and French).

(f) Enforceability – This Agreement constitutes a valid and legally binding obligation of the Grantor enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to general equitable principles, including the fact that the availability of equitable remedies, such as injunctive relief and specific performance, is in the discretion of the court.

5.2 Reliance and Survival

All representations and warranties of the Grantor made in this Agreement shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and shall continue in full force and effect without time limit. The Secured Party shall be deemed to have relied upon each such representation and warranty notwithstanding any investigation made by or on behalf of the Secured Party at any time.

6. ENFORCEMENT

6.1 Enforceability of Security

The security hereby constituted shall become enforceable only upon the failure of the Grantor to pay the Statutory Obligations when due, and then only to the extent of the Statutory Obligations not then paid when due. The Grantor acknowledges that it has no right in any circumstance to accelerate payment of the Statutory Obligations, to apply proceeds of Collateral on account of Statutory Obligations not yet due, or to reserve or hold proceeds of Collateral on account of Statutory Obligations not yet due.

6.2 Remedies

At any time that the security hereby constituted shall have become enforceable, the Secured Party may give notice of its intention to its exercise rights and remedies hereunder. At any time ten Business Days following the giving of such notice, and unless the amounts due and owing on account of the carrying Costs at the time of the Notice have been paid, the Secured Party shall have the following rights, powers and remedies:

(a) to appoint any person to be an agent or any person to be a receiver, manager or receiver and manager (herein called the "Receiver") of the Collateral and to remove any Receiver so appointed and to appoint another if the Secured Party so desires; it being agreed that any Receiver appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement shall have all of the powers of the Secured Party hereunder;

(b) to make payments to parties having prior charges or encumbrances on the Collateral;

(c) to preserve, protect and maintain the Collateral;

(d) to enjoy and exercise all powers necessary or incidental to the performance of all functions provided for in this Agreement;

(e) to sell or dispose of all or any part of the Collateral whether by public or private sale or otherwise and on any terms so long as every aspect of the disposition is commercially reasonable, including without limitation, terms that provide time for payment on credit;

(f) to enjoy and exercise in respect of the Collateral all of the rights and remedies of a secured party under the PPSA;

(g) to notify the account debtors or obligors under any Accounts which constitute part of the Collateral of the assignment of such Accounts to the Secured Party and to direct such account debtors or obligors to make payment of all amounts due or to become due to the Grantor thereunder directly to the Secured Party and to give valid and binding receipts and discharges therefor and in respect thereof and, upon such notification and at the expense of the Grantor, to enforce collection of any such Accounts, and to adjust, settle or compromise the amount or payment thereof, in the same manner and to the same extent as the Grantor might have done; and

(h) to commence, continue or defend proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction in the name of the Secured Party, the Receiver or the Grantor for the purpose of exercising any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Section, including the institution of proceedings for the appointment of a receiver, manager or receiver and manager of the Collateral.

6.3 Special Rules re Accounts

At any time that the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2,

(a) all Money or other form of payment received by the Grantor in respect of the Collateral shall be received in trust for the benefit of the Secured Party hereunder, shall be segregated from other funds of the Grantor and shall be forthwith paid over to the Secured Party in the same form as so received (with any necessary endorsement) to be held as cash collateral and applied as provided by Section 6.8; and

(b) the Grantor shall not adjust, settle or compromise the amount or payment of any Collateral.

6.4 Receiver as Agent

The Receiver shall be deemed to be the agent of the Grantor for the purpose of establishing liability for the acts or omissions of the Receiver and the Secured Party shall not be liable for such acts or omissions and, without restricting the generality of the foregoing, the Grantor hereby irrevocably authorizes the Secured Party to give instructions to the Receiver relating to the performance of its duties as set out herein.

6.5 Expenses of Enforcement

The Grantor shall pay to the Receiver the remuneration of the Receiver and all costs and expenses (including, without limitation, legal fees and disbursements on a full indemnity basis) properly incurred by the Receiver pursuant to its appointment and the exercise of its powers hereunder, and shall pay to the Secured Party and the Receiver as required all amounts of Money (including interest thereon) borrowed or advanced by either of them pursuant to the powers set out herein, and the obligations of the Grantor to the Secured Party and the Receiver pursuant to this Section 6.5 shall be payable on demand.

6.6 Indulgences and Releases

Either the Secured Party or the Receiver may grant extensions of time and other indulgences, take and give up securities, accept compositions, grant releases and discharges, release any part of the Collateral to third parties and otherwise deal with the Grantor, debtors of the Grantor, sureties and others and with the Collateral and other security as the Secured Party or the Receiver may see fit without prejudice to the right of the Secured Party and the Receiver to repossess, hold, collect and realize the Collateral.

6.7 No Liability for Failure to Exercise Remedies

The Secured Party and the Receiver shall not be liable or accountable to the Grantor or to any other person for any failure to exercise any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Agreement, and shall not be bound to commence, continue or defend proceedings for the purpose of preserving or protecting any rights of the Secured Party, the Receiver, the Grantor or any other party in respect of the same.

6.8 Proceeds of Disposition

All Moneys received by the Secured Party or by the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 shall be promptly applied as follows:

(a) first, in payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the Secured Party in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement and in payment of all of the remuneration of the Receiver and all costs and expenses properly incurred by the Receiver in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement, including, without limitation, the remuneration, costs and expenses referred to in Section 6.5;

(b) second, in payment of all amounts of Money borrowed or advanced by either of the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to the powers set out in this Agreement and any interest thereon;

(c) third, in payment of the Statutory Obligation, provided that if there are not sufficient Moneys to fully pay and perform the Statutory Obligation, the Secured Party may apply the Moneys available to such part or parts thereof as the Secured Party, in its sole discretion, may determine; and

(d) fourth, in payment of any surplus in accordance with applicable law.

6.9 Grantor Liable for Deficiency

If the Moneys received by the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 are not sufficient to pay the claims set out in Section 6.8, the Grantor shall immediately pay the Secured Party the amount of such deficiency.

6.10 Restriction on Grantor

Upon notification of the account debtors or obligors under any Accounts which constitute part of the Collateral of the assignment of such Accounts to the Secured Party or the appointment of a Receiver in respect of the Collateral, all the powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor with respect to the Collateral shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be suspended unless specifically continued by the written consent of the Secured Party; however, all other powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor shall be unaffected by such events.

6.11 Rights Cumulative

All rights and remedies of the Secured Party set out in this Agreement shall be cumulative and no right or remedy contained herein is intended to be exclusive but each shall be in addition to every other right or remedy contained herein or in any existing or future security document or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or by statute.

7. GENERAL

7.1 Waiver

Any default by the Grantor in the observance or performance of any covenant or condition required to be observed or performed by the Grantor hereunder, may only be waived by the Secured Party in writing, provided that no such waiver by the Secured Party shall extend to or be taken in any manner to affect any subsequent breach or default or the rights resulting therefrom.

7.2 The Secured Party as Attorney

At any time that the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2, the Grantor hereby irrevocably appoints the Secured Party and any person further designated by the Secured Party to be the attorney of the Grantor for and in the name of the Grantor to execute and do any deeds, documents, transfers, demands, assignments, assurances, consents and things which the Grantor is obliged to sign, execute or do hereunder and, to commence, continue and defend any proceedings authorized to be taken hereunder and generally to use the name of the Grantor in the exercise of all or any of the powers hereby conferred on the Secured Party. These powers are coupled with an interest, have been given for valuable consideration (the receipt and adequacy of which is acknowledged), survive, and do not terminate upon, the bankruptcy, dissolution, winding up or insolvency of the Grantor, and are irrevocable until the Statutory Obligation has been satisfied in full and this Agreement is terminated and the security interest created herein has been released. This power of attorney extends to and is binding upon the Grantor's successors and permitted assigns. The Grantor authorizes the Secured Party to delegate in writing to another person any power and authority of the Secured Party under this power of attorney as may be necessary or desirable in the opinion of the Secured Party, and to revoke or suspend such delegation.

7.3 Further Assurances

The Grantor shall do, execute, acknowledge and deliver or cause to be done, executed, acknowledged and delivered, such further acts, deeds, mortgages, transfers and assurances as the Secured Party shall reasonably require for the better assuring, charging, assigning and conferring unto the Secured Party a security interest in the Collateral, or which the Grantor may hereafter become bound to charge in favour of the Secured Party, for the purpose of accomplishing and effecting the intention of this Agreement.

7.4 Amalgamation of the Grantor

The Grantor acknowledges and agrees that in the event that it amalgamates with any other persons, then (i) the Collateral and the security interest shall extend to and include all of the property and undertaking that any of the amalgamating corporations then owns, all of the property and undertaking that the amalgamated corporation thereafter acquires, all of the property and undertaking in which any of the amalgamating corporations then has any interest, and all of the property and undertaking in which the amalgamated corporation thereafter acquires any interest, and (ii) all references herein to the Grantor shall extend to and include the amalgamated corporation.

7.5 Continuing Security

The security interest constituted hereby shall be deemed to be a continuing security for the Statutory Obligation until the Statutory Obligation is paid and performed in full.

7.6 Notices

All notices and other communications provided for herein shall be in writing and shall be personally delivered to an officer or other responsible employee of the addressee or sent by facsimile, charges prepaid, at or to the applicable address or facsimile number, as the case may be, of the party set opposite its name below or at or to such other address or addresses or facsimile number or numbers as either party may from time to time designate to the other party in such manner. Any communication which is personally delivered as aforesaid shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the date of such delivery if such date is a Business Day and such delivery was made during normal business hours of the recipient; otherwise, it shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the Business Day next following such date of delivery. Any communication which is transmitted by facsimile as aforesaid shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the date of transmission if such date is a Business Day and such transmission was made during normal business hours of the recipient; otherwise, it shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the Business Day next following such date of transmission.

7.7 Assignment

The Secured Party may from time to time upon notice to, but without the consent of the Grantor, assign or transfer this Agreement to any other person. The Grantor shall not be entitled to assign or transfer this Agreement or any of the Grantor's rights, duties or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of the Secured Party.

7.8 Successors and Assigns

This Agreement shall enure to the benefit of the Secured Party and its successors and assigns and shall be binding upon the Grantor and its successors and permitted assigns.

7.9 Amendments

This Agreement may not be amended or otherwise modified except by an instrument in writing executed by the Parties.

7.10 Entire Agreement

This Agreement and the agreements referred to herein and any document, agreement or instrument delivered pursuant to such agreements constitute the entire agreement between the Parties and supersede any prior agreements, undertakings, declarations, representations and undertakings, both written and verbal, in respect of the subject matter hereof.

7.11 Receipt of Agreement and Financing Statement.

The Grantor hereby acknowledges receipt of an executed copy of this Agreement and of the financing statement registered under the PPSA evidencing the security interest created hereby.

7.12 Counterpart

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original and all of which taken together shall be deemed to constitute one and the same instrument, and it shall not be necessary in making proof of this Agreement to produce or account for more than one such counterpart.

7.13 Delivery by Facsimile or Electronic Transmission

John – the TD credit facility has "permitted lien" clause language similar to the OFA facilities' clauses specific for the fair hydro program.

Hi Anthony,

I found someone at Energy who is in the loop. Also, I know we talked on the phone last week but could you confirm that the same changes have been made with TD?

Thanks,

John,

As discussed yesterday, it likely is best to add to the definition of "Permitted Liens" in the two OEFC facilities to address a) IESO granting security to the OPG Trust during the first 4 years of fair hydro program and b) the possibility that the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by IESO might be considered to be subject to a lien. The IESO does not want to be inadvertently in default.

Happy to discuss further. I am out of the office most of this week on IESO business matters but available by cell 289-795-9426, or if necessary you may connect with Victor.

Hi all,

We have confirmed with the IESO that the reason for their requested change to the definition of the “permitted liens” in the OEFC credit facility agreements are the same for the request to OFA. The IESO wants to be able to grant security to the OPG Trust, and address the possibility that the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by IESO might be considered to be subject to a lien. The IESO does not want to be inadvertently in default.

We have drafted the attached BN for internal approval (Ron and Gadi) process. Could you please review and let us know if you have any concerns? It would be much appreciated if you could provide us your feedback around noon today, given the limited timeframe on this request.

HI Opal,

JF and I chatted and he is going to send me some comments on the note. In respect of OEFC, he still has concerns about the appropriateness and risk of exposure for OEFC, which I think has merit in pointing out. The OFA facilities make more sense to include FHP permitted liens which are more closely connected to FHP (although the 475m, now that is it reduced, is not being used for FHP purposes). He also mentioned the ability of the OFA to 'write off' loans (such as GM), which frankly I am not familiar with, since I was in Derivatives land at the time. OEFC may have a different risk/recourse profile, so that should be considered.

Once JF provides his comments, we can all discuss. All this being said, given the broader political initiative of carrying out the FHP and IESO's role in it, the OFA may be required to insert the changes in the OEFC agreements, but at least the risks will have been pointed out.

OEFC -- IESO CREDIT FACILITY AGREEMENT & THE PERMITTED LIENS

ISSUE

The Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") has requested OEFC to amend the existing credit facility agreements between OEFC and IESO (for $160M and $120M) to address the additional obligations the IESO is taking on under Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan.

CONTEXT

The Fair Hydro Plan will require the IESO and Ontario Power Generation (OPG) to work together to spread out the costs of Ontario's clean energy investments over a longer period of time, which ensures that the costs of these investments are allocated fairly among current and future ratepayers. This is being accomplished through refinancing a portion of the Global Adjustment (GA). The IESO and OPG are in a discussion to potentially grant the security/priority on IESO's assets to the OPG Trust for the period of the first four years of the GA deferral. The IESO will seek its Board approval on Nov 22, 2017 for the security agreement and this would be in conflict with OEFC's $160M and $120M credit facility agreements (the "OEFC Agreements") with the IESO without the requested amendments. Paragraph 4.7 – Negative Pledges – in both OEFC credit facility agreements does not allow IESO to grant such security/priority to the OPG Trust.

In order to address this issue, the IESO has requested OEFC to amend the definition of the "permitted liens" in both existing OEFC Agreements to include any liens related to the Fair Hydro Plan (FHP). Specifically, adding a clause in the existing OEFC Agreements that any lien related to OFHP will not be viewed as negative pledge by OEFC, so those liens can be used to secure the performance of IESO's obligations towards OPG. This would allow IESO to grant security to the OPG Trust during the first 4 years of implementing the GA deferral and also avoid the possibility that the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by IESO might be considered to be subject to a lien. The IESO does not want inadvertently to be in default.

To support IESO's role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act") in July 2017, the IESO had reached out to the Capital Market Division – Operations of the OFA to make the same request to the credit facility agreements with OFA in October. The OFA staff have recommended providing the requested amendments and amended the $475M and $2B credit facility agreements between OFA and the IESO on November 6th, 2017 (the "OFA Agreements"), as suggested by the IESO. One of the amendments to the agreement is to amend the definition of the permitted liens to include any lien arising from the IESO's role and obligations under the OFHP.

RECOMMENDATION

- To support IESO's role in the implementation and participation under the OFHP Act and also to be consistent with the approach OFA implemented , OFA staff are of the view that the exisiting OEFC Agreements require amendments to the permitted liens and negative covenant language to make it the same as, or very similar to, the language in the OFA Agreements that were signed recently.
- Although the OEFC credit facility is not used for OFHP's purpose, it is IESO's position that it wants to make such change to the definition of the permitted liens to make sure that the IESO is not inadvertently in default of its security obligations to OPG Trust ~~is still required in order for IESO to~~and meets its role and obligation under the OFHP Act.

BACKGROUND

- Currently, under the existing credit facility agreement between OEFC and the IESO, the definition of the "permitted liens" does not include any lien arising from the IESO's role and obligations under the OFHP, including with respect to any amount received or receivable by the IESO (such as, without limitation, amounts received or receivable in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment), or any other lien, whether arising from the action or inaction of IESO, that is created in connection with the OFHP.

- On November 6, 2017, OFA and IESO signed an updated OFA IESO credit facility agreement with respect to changes related to OFHP.
