ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

PILS (TAX) RELIEF

MINISTER'S REGULATION

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN - PILS (TAX) RELIEF

PURPOSE

- A Minister's regulation under the Electricity Act, 1998 is necessary to exempt Ontario Power Generation (OPG) from tax that may arise because of the financing arrangements for the Fair Hydro Plan (Plan).

- Providing a tax exemption to OPG would:

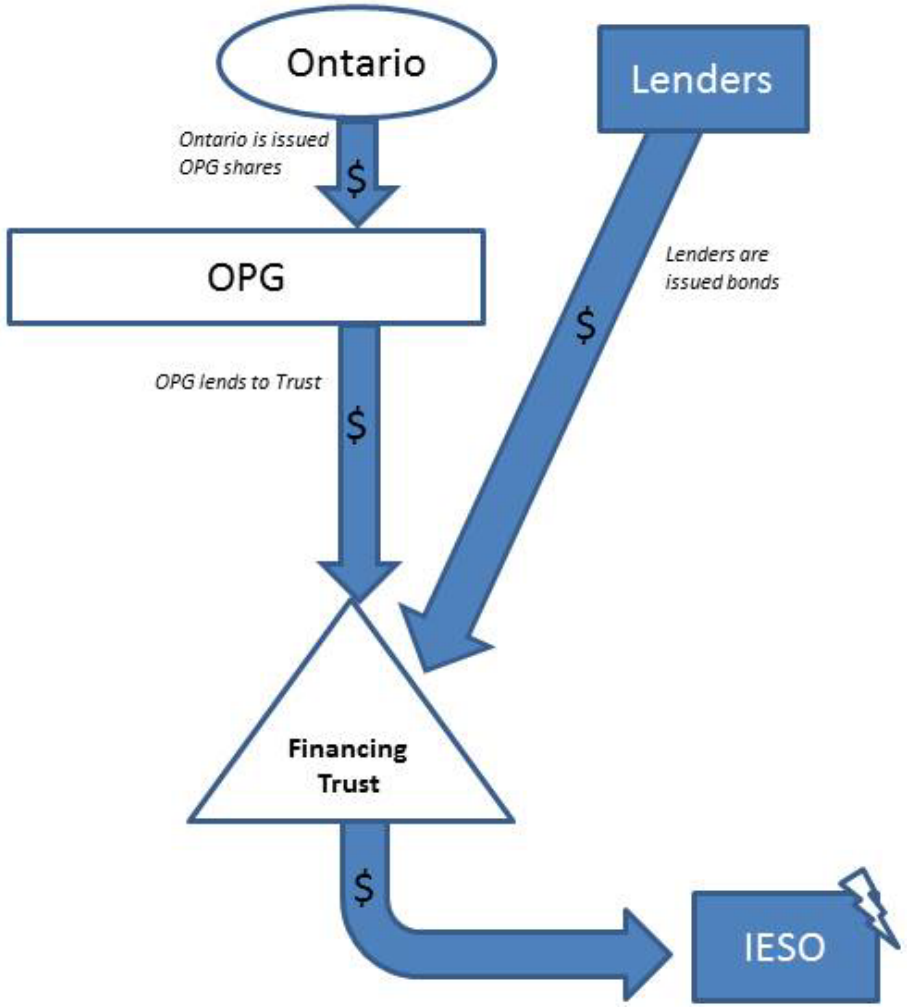
    - remove tax as a cost that must be passed on to consumers;

    - provide greater comfort to lenders that the loan will be repaid; and

    - be consistent with taxing only commercial activities.

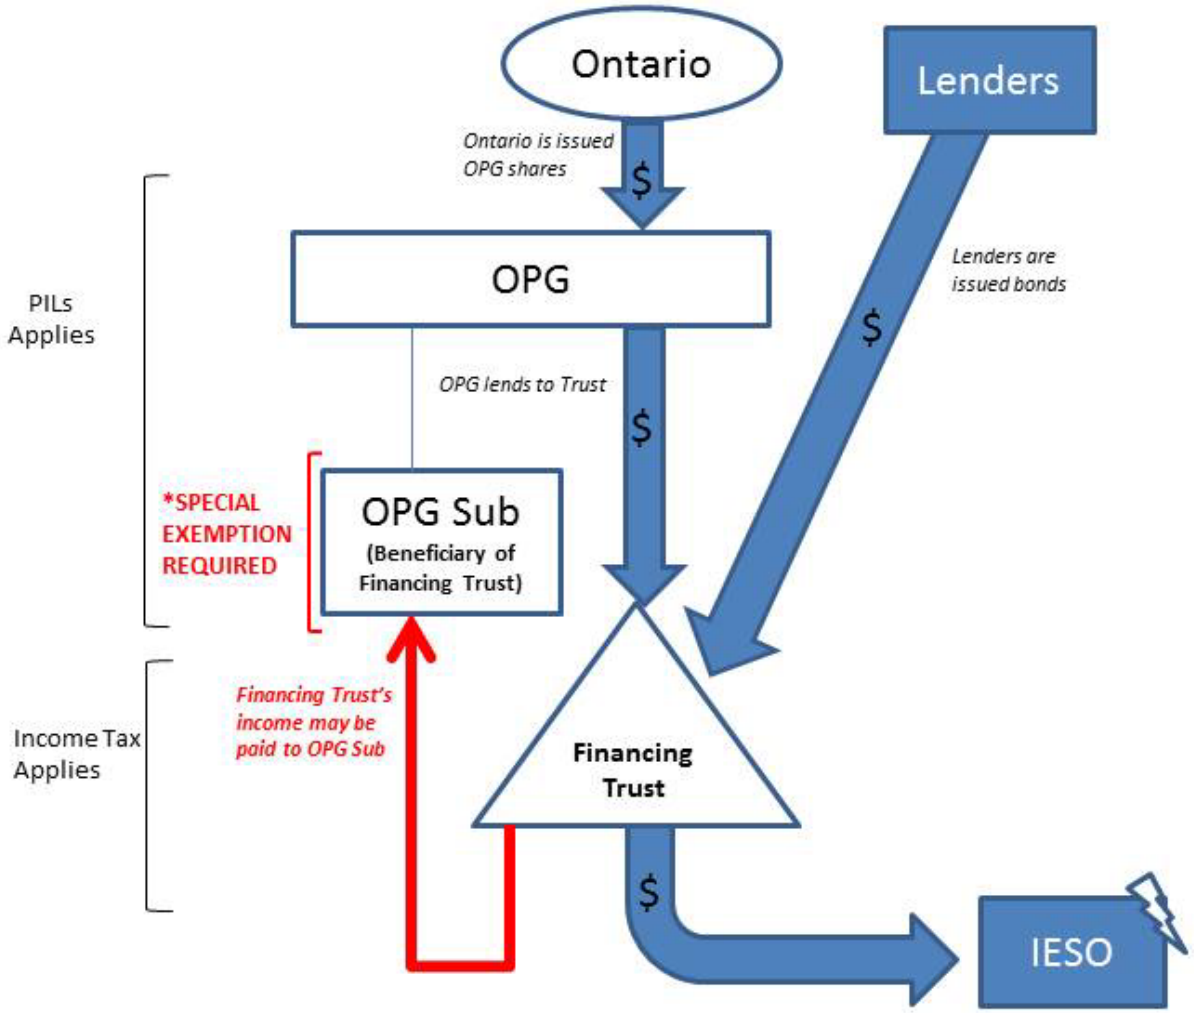
Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE FINANCING ARRANGEMENTS



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE PROPOSED TAX EXEMPTION FOR OPG



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX A

OVERVIEW OF THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

- The government intends to lower consumer electricity bills by 25% for five years.

- The resulting decrease in revenue will reduce the amounts available to pay electricity generators. The shortfall will be corrected with money from a "financing entity" established under the Plan.

STRUCTURE OF THE PLAN

- OPG will establish a financing entity (or entities) for the purposes of the Plan.

- The first financing entity that will be established by OPG will be a trust (Trust).

- The Trust will be capitalized with funds from the Province and from capital market borrowing.

- The Trust will purchase a "regulatory asset" from the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). The regulatory asset will be the right to collect amounts from electricity consumers.

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX

LOAN REPAYMENT AFTER THE 5-YEAR "HOLIDAY"

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, the Trust would invoke the rights under the regulatory asset and begin to collect amounts from electricity consumers equal to the borrowed money, interest and other costs. The collected amounts would be used to repay lenders.

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, consumers' electricity bills would increase to reflect the full cost of generating electricity plus the cost of paying for the regulatory asset.

FUTURE FINANCING ACTIONS

- In the future, the financing actions described above may be repeated by the Trust, or by other financing entities that may be established under the Plan.

APPENDIX B

TAXATION OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- Generally, a trust is subject to regular federal and provincial taxation and not PILs. A trust is entitled to deduct from its income for tax purposes any income paid or payable to a beneficiary of the trust.

- For purposes of the Plan, OPG or a subsidiary of OPG would be the beneficiary of the Trust.

- Amounts paid to OPG or to an OPG subsidiary would allow the Trust to minimize or eliminate the regular federal and provincial income tax the Trust would otherwise have to pay.

- OPG or an OPG subsidiary would be subject to PILs on amounts received from the Trust.

- The proposed regulation would exempt OPG or an OPG subsidiary from having to pay PILs on the amounts received or receivable from the Trust.

APPENDIX C

INCOME OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- The financing entity (initially, the Trust) is not anticipated to have significant taxable income over the financing period.

- However, the timing of the Trust's income and expenses may not match. This could result in significant income in some years that would be subject to federal and provincial tax.

BACKGROUND - PILS

- PILs tax is equivalent to regular federal and provincial income tax.

- PILs is paid by entities in the electricity industry that would otherwise be exempt from taxation, e.g., OPG and subsidiaries of OPG.

- PILs is intended to put such entities on a level playing field with private sector entities in the electricity industry.

Hi Lesley, Michael,

I believe the Ministers briefing on the "guarantee" (aka "Protection Agreement") that occurred two weeks ago may mean that once the final signing versions are available that there may just be separate signing meetings, not an additional briefing time. I can see if that's the case, but that would leave open when a PILs briefing could occur.

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

PILS (TAX) RELIEF

MINISTER'S REGULATION

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN - PILS (TAX) RELIEF

PURPOSE

- A Minister's regulation under the Electricity Act, 1998 is necessary to exempt Ontario Power Generation (OPG) from tax that may arise because of the financing arrangements for the Fair Hydro Plan (Plan).

- Providing a tax exemption to OPG would:

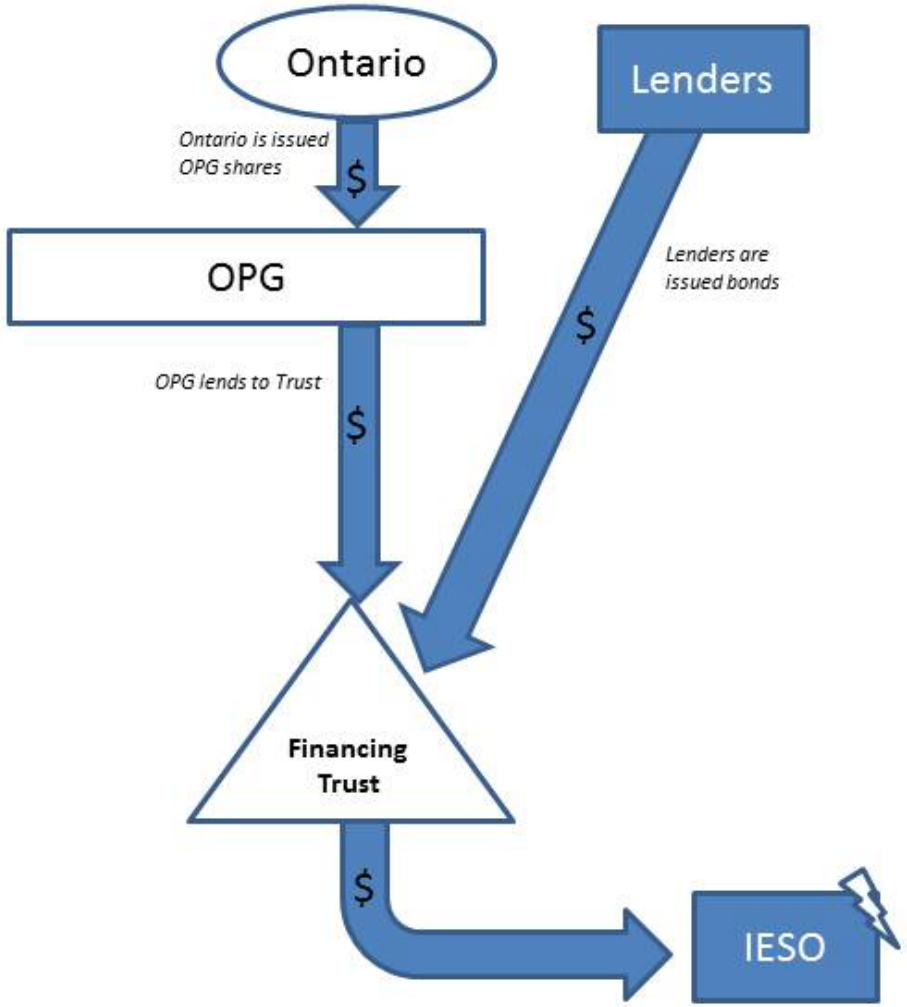
    - remove tax as a cost that must be passed on to consumers;

    - provide greater comfort to lenders that the loan will be repaid; and

    - be consistent with taxing only commercial activities.

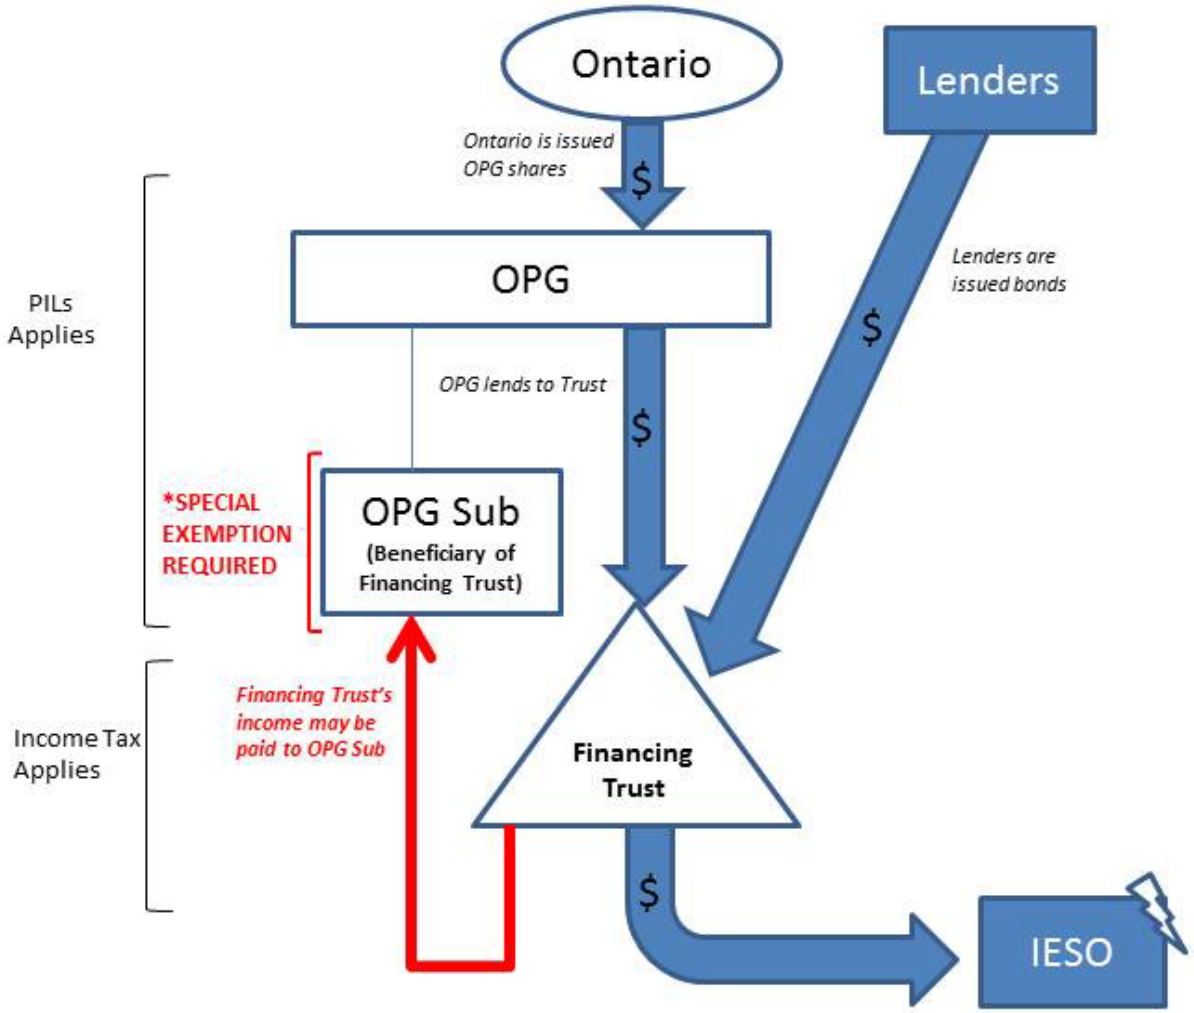
Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE FINANCING ARRANGEMENTS



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE PROPOSED TAX EXEMPTION FOR OPG



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX A

OVERVIEW OF THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

- The government intends to lower consumer electricity bills by 25% for five years.

- The resulting decrease in revenue will reduce the amounts available to pay electricity generators. The shortfall will be corrected with money from a "financing entity" established under the Plan.

STRUCTURE OF THE PLAN

- OPG will establish a financing entity (or entities) for the purposes of the Plan.

- The first financing entity that will be established by OPG will be a trust (Trust).

- The Trust will be capitalized with funds from the Province and from capital market borrowing.

- The Trust will purchase a "regulatory asset" from the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). The regulatory asset will be the right to collect amounts from electricity consumers.

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX

LOAN REPAYMENT AFTER THE 5-YEAR "HOLIDAY"

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, the Trust would invoke the rights under the regulatory asset and begin to collect amounts from electricity consumers equal to the borrowed money, interest and other costs. The collected amounts would be used to repay lenders.

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, consumers' electricity bills would increase to reflect the full cost of generating electricity plus the cost of paying for the regulatory asset.

FUTURE FINANCING ACTIONS

- In the future, the financing actions described above may be repeated by the Trust, or by other financing entities that may be established under the Plan.

APPENDIX B

TAXATION OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- Generally, a trust is subject to regular federal and provincial taxation and not PILs. A trust is entitled to deduct from its income for tax purposes any income paid or payable to a beneficiary of the trust.

- For purposes of the Plan, OPG or a subsidiary of OPG would be the beneficiary of the Trust.

- Amounts paid to OPG or to an OPG subsidiary would allow the Trust to minimize or eliminate the regular federal and provincial income tax the Trust would otherwise have to pay.

- OPG or an OPG subsidiary would be subject to PILs on amounts received from the Trust.

- The proposed regulation would exempt OPG or an OPG subsidiary from having to pay PILs on the amounts received or receivable from the Trust.

APPENDIX C

INCOME OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- The financing entity (initially, the Trust) is not anticipated to have significant taxable income over the financing period.

- However, the timing of the Trust's income and expenses may not match. This could result in significant income in some years that would be subject to federal and provincial tax.

BACKGROUND - PILS

- PILs tax is equivalent to regular federal and provincial income tax.

- PILs is paid by entities in the electricity industry that would otherwise be exempt from taxation, e.g., OPG and subsidiaries of OPG.

- PILs is intended to put such entities on a level playing field with private sector entities in the electricity industry.

TAXATION OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- Generally, a trust is subject to regular federal and provincial taxation and not PILs. A trust is entitled to deduct from its income for tax purposes any income paid or payable to a beneficiary of the trust.

Hi Michael, not sure if this has been forwarded to you or someone in your Branch. I just wanted you to be aware.

CCTB involvement in this issue relates to a potential exemption for the entity. We are hindered in our ability to create one, since the structure has not been finalized and the options are still quite broad.

Ron, we met with Sriram and he has asked me to contact you about whether a "comfort letter" regarding the tax issue would be sufficient for the credit rating agencies. If you have a minute later today, perhaps we can connect by phone (unless there is a straightforward answer).

During today's call there was a general reference to potential credit rating agency concerns. That concern may not have come across clearly enough and here is some perspective on the specific concern. Given that this structure is very unique in the Canadian environment the credit rating agency will likely request a legal opinion – tax neutrality or run flat for tax – establishing that any activity of the financing entity will not result in a tax liability that would rank ahead of security holders.

Hi Ron, Gadi,

I hope you are enjoying the long weekend.

As outlined in the chain below, OPG has requested to make tax-exempt / PILs exempt any net earnings of the OPG SPV. It is not anticipated that the trust itself would earn substantial revenues (as explained to me, this would be limited to swap spreads, currency fluctuations etc.). Any revenues that OPG would receive from the trust would be subject to PILs, therefore I'm not sure this will make any difference to the Province. Please let me know if you have any concerns.

Thanks,
Scott

Scott,
It is meant to exempt the net earnings of the trust. Any income OPG earns from its services to the trust would still be subject to taxation. As well, revenue that OPG receives from the subordinated debt to the trust would be subject to taxation.
Thanks,
Ken

Hi Ryan,

I appreciate the explanation. I want to make sure I understand the scope of the exclusion. Does this exempt any earnings in the trust and any earnings that OPG derives from the trust (interest income) from both income tax and PILs?

Thanks,
Scott

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.
Thanks,
Ken

Sriram,

We had hoped to have the regulation finalized almost three weeks ago. Legislative counsel changed the draft significantly.

We had shared the draft with OPG's tax counsel and we were a bit dismayed at the number of changes, most of which seemed to have no reason.

I will follow up with Doug and see where we are now.

Hi Sriram,

Just wanted to check in on the status of this OPG request. At a recent implementation update meeting at Energy on the Fair Hydro Plan, there was a brief update by Energy on the regulation. Energy conveyed that this is now considered to have to go to LRC. There was also a comment from CO that the LRC agenda is very full.

My recollection of the discussions earlier in the year that it would be a Minister's reg and could be done faster. Has this changed, and just trying to understand why.

Thanks,
Ron

TO: Ontario Power Generation (OPG)

Thank you for your query and memorandum from your advisors, Torys LLP, dated May 17, 2017, regarding the Fair Hydro Plan and certain tax implications arising under the Electricity Act, 1998 (EA) for OPG and a financing entity.

OPG has been given a mandate under the Fair Hydro Plan to acquire certain regulatory rights from the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). The Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (FHPA) has given OPG the right to create a "financing entity" to facilitate its objectives under the Fair Hydro Plan.

I understand that OPG will create a trust (Trust) as a financing entity under the FHPA to facilitate OPG's mandate under the Fair Hydro Plan. The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (ITA) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007 (TA). Further, I understand that the beneficiary of the Trust will be a special purpose vehicle (SPV) that will be a corporation wholly-owned by OPG. The SPV would be exempt from Canadian federal income tax under section 149 of the ITA and under section 27 of the TA. The SPV would be subject to payments-in-lieu of tax (PILs) under Part VI of the EA.

A recommendation will be made to the Minister of Finance to make a regulation under the EA to ensure that amounts allocated by the Trust to the SPV will not be included in the income of the SPV for purposes of calculating PILs under the EA.

Hi Krista, John,

We shared your ask with Finance Tax Policy and they have been mulling this over for the past few days. We had a conversation this morning and I wanted to provide a synopsis of that call:

- Tax Policy is of the view that if this is structured as a Trust will be a taxable entity under the Income Tax Act. However, because OPG is the beneficiary of the Trust, it will not pay any taxes. For greater certainty, Tax Policy suggested seeking a ruling from CRA. If necessary, we could seek an exemption from CRA (there is precedent with the Nuclear Funds Trust). Please let me know whether that is consistent with your assessment.
- Since all income from the Trust will flow to OPG, all revenues would be subject to PILs (unless we take action to make specific exemptions).
- As we discussed last week, we have proposed the language that you provided with PILs exemptions for specific earning streams from the trust.

- Tax Policy has a number of questions about how to define those exempted revenue streams and the rationale for those exemptions. They want considerably more detail and more time to consider this issue.
- According to Tax Policy, existing Legislation (James I will leave it to you to describe) provides authority to set out PILs exemptions in regulations. Therefore they suggest we do not need to add anything in to the OFHP legislation at this time. That will provide time to more fully consider the issue and discuss the need for these exemptions.
- I suggested I was generally comfortable with this approach, subject to input from OPG and Torys. I think it is better for us to have more time and the flexibility to include these provisions in regulations. Given where we are in the process, I think we are out of time to settle legislative language that will work for Tax Policy.

James, please feel free to add / modify if I missed anything. Please let us know ASAP if you have concerns.

Scott

Thanks Sriram. I have reached back to OPG to determine whether a structure has been or is close to final. I will circle back with those details along with some of the other points you raise below.

Scott,

Thank you for sharing the Torys Memorandum, dated May 17, 2017, with us.

The structure was not finalized at the time we first reviewed the proposal. Based on the Memorandum, it appears that the type of structure is still being determined. If there has been progress in this regard, we would be happy to conference with Torys and OPG to discuss the appropriate next steps.

As the PILs relief sought appears to be appropriate given the policy objective, we would probably recommend amendments to ensure the structure is not subject to PILs. However, we would suggest that a ruling from the tax administration division may be appropriate in this case, provided the final structure is not subject to regular federal tax and if authority can be found in the existing legislation and regulations.

Our recommendation would depend on the type of structure that is ultimately selected and on other particulars such as the types of income that would be earned in the special purpose vehicle.

Regards,

Sriram

TORYS LLP

MEMORANDUM

PRIVILEGED AND CONFIDENTIAL

To	Ontario Power Generation Inc.	Date	May 17, 2017
From	Torys LLP, Toronto Tax
Re	Fair Hydro Plan – PILs Exemption

As part of the Fair Hydro Plan (the "Plan"), it is expected that Ontario Power Generation Inc. will act as the financial services manager and that Ontario Power Generation Inc., or a wholly-owned corporate subsidiary of Ontario Power Generation Inc. (in either case, "OPG"), will establish one or more new financing entities that will raise debt to acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. A Bill to implement the Plan has been introduced to the Provincial Legislature [1] and there is flexibility under the Bill for the new financing entity to be a corporation, a trust, a limited partnership or a partnership.

We understand that the Province would like to minimize, to the extent possible, Federal and Provincial taxes and "payments in lieu of taxes" ("PILs") under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario) (the "OEA") payable by a financing entity as the costs of any of those taxes payable by a financing entity will be passed on to ratepayers through the collection of the clean energy adjustment under the Bill and the associated regulations. Accordingly, we understand that the Province is considering the possibility of making regulation changes to exempt the income arising as a consequence of the Plan from PILs. In order to assist the Province in their consideration of this regulation change, including the scope of any such amendment, we have set out below a summary of: (i) the tax treatment of the income of the financing entity under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "ITA"), the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario) (the "OTA"), and the OEA, (ii) certain matters relating to the computation of the financing entity's income for tax purposes, and (iii) our recommendations with respect to how the Province can ensure that PILs arising from the Plan are minimized.

It is also important to note that Ontario Power Generation Inc. will not bear any of the tax costs arising as a consequence of participating in the Plan. If there are any tax costs, they will be borne by ratepayers through the clean energy adjustment.

[1] Bill 132, An Act to enact the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and to make amendments to the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998, 2nd Sess, 41st Leg, Ontario, 2017 (first reading May 11, 2017).

Tax Treatment of Income of Financing Entity

As noted above, there is flexibility in the draft legislation to implement the Plan relating to the form of a financing entity. What follows is a summary of the tax treatment of the income of the financing entity if it is a corporation, a trust or a limited partnership/partnership, as well as the tax treatment of amounts paid or allocated to OPG as a shareholder, beneficiary or a partner, respectively, of the financing entity:

Form of Financing Entity / OPG	Treatment of Income under ITA/OTA	Income Subject to PILs
Corporation	-Income of the corporation should be exempt from tax	Yes
OPG as shareholder of corporation[2]	-Dividends paid to OPG should be exempt from tax	Yes
Trust	-Income should be subject to tax, although the trust can reduce its income by the amount of its income which is paid or made payable to its beneficiaries	No
OPG as beneficiary of trust	-Trust income paid or made payable to OPG as a beneficiary should be exempt from tax	Yes
Limited Partnership/Partnership	-Limited Partnership/Partnership is not generally a "taxpayer" although income is computed at the partnership level and allocated to partners for tax purposes	No
OPG as partner of limited partnership/partnership	-Partnership income allocated to OPG as a partner should be exempt from tax	Yes

As summarized, if the financing entity is a corporation, the income of this corporation would be subject to PILs, and further, any amounts paid or allocated by the financing entity to OPG, as a shareholder, beneficiary or limited partner/partner of the financing entity, would similarly be subject to PILs. Consequently, any regulation change to exempt the income of the financing entity from PILs under the OEA should be broad enough to accommodate the three possible forms of financing entity and address PILs at both the financing entity level (in the case of a corporation) and the shareholder, beneficiary and limited partner/partner level.

[2] We note that corporations are generally entitled to claim a deduction under section 112 of the ITA (and any OTA equivalent) equal to the amount of taxable dividends received from another Canadian corporation, with the result that taxable dividends are generally not subject to tax under Part I of the ITA (and any OTA equivalent). To illustrate the scope of the PILs exemption under consideration by the Province, we have ignored this deduction in preparing this chart.

Income Computation Matters

As part of the Plan, it is expected that the financing entity will raise debt and acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. The investment assets do not appear to be debt instruments from a commercial perspective on the date they are acquired, but rather seem to be intangible assets. Given the unique nature of the investment assets, the tax analysis that is generally relied on by a financing entity in a typical securitization transaction (which involves interest-bearing debt obligations) is not applicable. There are no specific rules in the ITA or OTA which govern the manner which the investments assets should be treated for tax purposes, such that further analysis will need to be conducted in order to determine whether the investment assets are on income or capital account to the financing entity, and that the "cost" of the investment assets are appropriately recognized as a deduction or offset in computing the income of the financing entity.

In addition to the tax implications relating to the investments assets, the following additional matters, among others, are relevant in computing the income of the financing entity:

- In order to be deductible, an expense must satisfy the requisite income earning purpose test;

- Expenses which are owing to a non-arm's length person must be paid in a timely fashion so that the expense does not give rise to an income inclusion;

- Capital losses may generally only be offset against capital gains, such that consideration must be given to the character of the assets and liabilities of the financing entity to ensure there are no mismatches;

- If the financing entity incurs foreign-currency denominated debt, any related foreign currency hedging instrument will need to be sufficiently "linked" to the underlying debt to ensure capital treatment of the hedge; for example, if the period of the hedge does l not match the period of the related debt, the financing entity will realize gains or losses on the hedge that will not be offset with realized losses or gains on the debt; and

- If the financing entity is a trust, it will be necessary for interests in the trust to "vest indefeasibly" or be structured as units where at least 95% of the units, by fair market value, are redeemable on demand by the holder to ensure that the trust is not deemed to dispose of any capital property under the "21 year" rule.

Recommendations

In order to ensure that the taxes arising under the Plan are minimized so that the overall cost of the Plan (over its 30 or more years of existence) to ratepayers is minimized and to ensure that Ontario Power Generation Inc. is kept whole from tax costs arising as a consequence of participating in the Plan, the following exemptions from PILs are required:

1) If the financing entity is a trust: Any income paid or made payable to OPG by the trust should be exempt from PILs. If this PILs exemption is not promulgated, the income will not be distributed out of the trust, tax will be payable by the trust on the income and the costs of that tax payable will be passed on to ratepayers through the clean energy adjustment. This will be a significant cost.

2) If the financing entity is a corporation: The corporate financing entity should be exempt from PILs and any dividends paid to OPG should be exempt from PILs. Again, if these PILs exemptions are not promulgated, no dividends will be paid to OPG and the costs of all PILs paid by the financing entity will be passed on to ratepayers through the clean energy adjustment. This will be a significant cost.

3) If the financing entity is a partnership or limited partnership, any income allocated to OPG should be exempt from PILs.

4) If the financing entity is any other form of special purpose vehicle, the income of such entity should be exempt from PILs and any income from such special purpose vehicle allocated, paid or taxable in the hands of OPG should be exempt from PILs.

Hi Sriram,

I received the following responses to your question on structure and types of potential income:

1) OPG is planning for the initial financing entity to be a trust. However, the Fair Hydro Plan Act allows for flexibility on the types of structures that can be used (trusts, corporations, partnerships, limited partnerships, other special purpose entities). Because the Fair Hydro Plan envisions a 30 year program, it is important that the PILs exemptions be broad enough to cover all of the various types of entities in the event that a different form is used for one or more future financing entities.

2) The memo we sent addressed types of income that might arise in a trust. As you'll have seen from the memo, it is strongly recommended that a PILs exemption be promulgated which would exempt from PILs any income distributed by a trust financing entity to OPG as beneficiary. This would allow the trust to flush its income to OPG as beneficiary. If a corporation is used as a financing entity, it is important that any income earned in that corporation be exempt from PILs. If a partnership or limited partnership is used as a financing entity, it is important that any income distributed to OPG (or any of its subsidiaries) as a partner or limited partner be exempt from PILs.

OPG is keen to move forward on these regulations. Without the regulations and the PILs exemptions, any taxes payable by a financing entity (whether it's a trust, corporation or otherwise), will be collected from ratepayers which will eat up part of the fair allocation amounts. In addition, the costs of the Fair Hydro Plan will increase as the rating may be affected and the capacity available from the debt markets will decrease as the lenders add a contingency for future taxes that may be collectible at some point in the future from ratepayers.

I would suggest we set up a call to further discuss, perhaps next week.

Please let me know if that makes sense,
Scott

Hi Sriram,

Just wanted to check in on the status of this OPG request. At a recent implementation update meeting at Energy on the Fair Hydro Plan, there was a brief update by Energy on the regulation. Energy conveyed that this is now considered to have to go to LRC. There was also a comment from CO that the LRC agenda is very full.

My recollection of the discussions earlier in the year that it would be a Minister's reg and could be done faster. Has this changed, and just trying to understand why.

That concern may not have come across clearly enough and here is some perspective on the specific concern. Given that this structure is very unique in the Canadian environment the credit rating agency will likely request a legal opinion – tax neutrality or run flat for tax – establishing that any activity of the financing entity will not result in a tax liability that would rank ahead of security holders.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. The regulatory asset is the IESO's right to collect from consumers in the future the amounts to cover the global adjustment deferral (including a financing cost).

Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

This may seem nit-picky, but in the past I believe we've seen both Hydro One, when it was 100% government owned, and OPG behave the same way as private companies would, and spend considerable time having their accountants endeavour to minimize their PiLs.

Any revenues that OPG would receive from the trust would be subject to PILs, therefore I'm not sure this will make any difference to the Province. Please let me know if you have any concerns.

Hi Ryan,

I appreciate the explanation. I want to make sure I understand the scope of the exclusion. Does this exempt any earnings in the trust and any earnings that OPG derives from the trust (interest income) from both income tax and PILs?

Thanks,

Scott

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.

Thanks,

Ken

Scott,

The proposal appears to have some characteristics of a tax avoidance scheme.

The Electricity Act, 1998 applies to OPG and its subsidiaries but not a trust. The trust would appear to be subject to regular income tax. However, a trust gets a deduction in computing income for any income paid to a beneficiary. The trust will pay no income tax to the extent that the trust pays out net income to the beneficiaries. Regular tax will not apply on the distribution of income to OPG because OPG is exempt from regular tax.

I would expect that the income would normally be included in the income of the OPG subsidiary for PIL purposes. I suspect that funds borrowed by the trust may generate significant tax shelter such that the income of the trust will be negligible.

We will certainly need more information. In particular, the nature of the asset that is being acquired and the vendor. SPV's are generally used to move assets off balance sheet.

This matter ought to be the subject of a ruling request.

Regards,

Rob Lewis

Hi Rob, John Bruno,

Further to the emails below, I received from OPG the attached draft changes to pertinent legislation. These are somewhat broader than the tax / PILs specific elements. I am hoping you get you something more focused, but in the interest of time I thought I would share this version. These changes are essentially consistent with the earlier descriptions below in terms of content. My understanding is that OPG Trust is unlikely to generate significant (non-PILs applied) revenues, so this is largely an administrative change designed to avoid unintended consequences arising from potentially large, unrealized gains associated with swaps etc.

Please let me know if we should loop anyone else into this conversation (e.g. MoF legal) and whether you would benefit from a conversation with OPG, Torys (OPG's external counsel) and ENE legal directly. I am also available to answer questions on concept. As John knows, all of this is moving extremely quickly so comments as soon as possible would be extremely helpful. My legal colleagues only semi-joking suggested yesterday would be ideal. In the mean time the draft legislation will continue to take up these concepts as they are currently written.

Thanks very much and apologies for the short notice,
Scott

Thanks Sriram. We still working with OPG and Torys to understand what exactly they are requesting and why. Based on conversations so far, I think the risk of creating a loophole should be limited, as net revenues from the Trust would be subject to PILs once they flow up from the sub into to OPG corporate entity.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. The regulatory asset is the IESO's right to collect from consumers in the future the amounts to cover the global adjustment deferral (including a financing cost).

Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

Ron

This may seem nit-picky, but in the past I believe we've seen both Hydro One, when it was 100% government owned, and OPG behave the same way as private companies would, and spend considerable time having their accountants endeavour to minimize their PiLs.

It is not anticipated that the trust itself would earn substantial revenues (as explained to me, this would be limited to swap spreads, currency fluctuations etc.). Any revenues that OPG would receive from the trust would be subject to PILs, therefore I'm not sure this will make any difference to the Province. Please let me know if you have any concerns.

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.
Thanks,
Ken

Hi Sriram,

Just wanted to check in on the status of this OPG request. At a recent implementation update meeting at Energy on the Fair Hydro Plan, there was a brief update by Energy on the regulation. Energy conveyed that this is now considered to have to go to LRC. There was also a comment from CO that the LRC agenda is very full.

My recollection of the discussions earlier in the year that it would be a Minister's reg and could be done faster. Has this changed, and just trying to understand why.

TO: Ontario Power Generation (OPG)

Thank you for your query and memorandum from your advisors, Torys LLP, dated May 17, 2017, regarding the Fair Hydro Plan and certain tax implications arising under the Electricity Act, 1998 (EA) for OPG and a financing entity.

OPG has been given a mandate under the Fair Hydro Plan to acquire certain regulatory rights from the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). The Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (FHPA) has given OPG the right to create a "financing entity" to facilitate its objectives under the Fair Hydro Plan.

I understand that OPG will create a trust (Trust) as a financing entity under the FHPA to facilitate OPG's mandate under the Fair Hydro Plan. The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (ITA) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007 (TA). Further, I understand that the beneficiary of the Trust will be a special purpose vehicle (SPV) that will be a corporation wholly-owned by OPG. The SPV would be exempt from Canadian federal income tax under section 149 of the ITA and under section 27 of the TA. The SPV would be subject to payments-in-lieu of tax (PILs) under Part VI of the EA.

A recommendation will be made to the Minister of Finance to make a regulation under the EA to ensure that amounts allocated by the Trust to the SPV will not be included in the income of the SPV for purposes of calculating PILs under the EA.

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

PILS (TAX) RELIEF

MINISTER'S REGULATION

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN - PILS (TAX) RELIEF

PURPOSE

- A Minister's regulation under the Electricity Act, 1998 is necessary to exempt Ontario Power Generation (OPG) from tax that may arise because of the financing arrangements for the Fair Hydro Plan (Plan).

- Providing a tax exemption to OPG would:

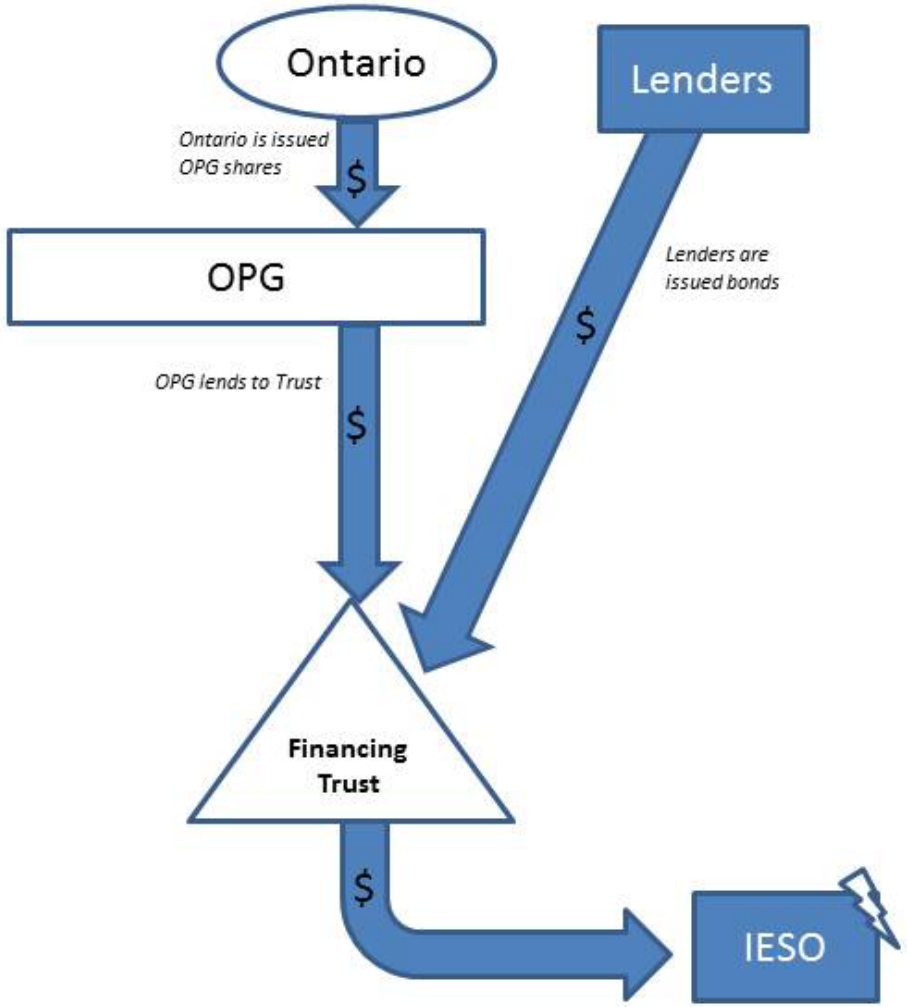
    - remove tax as a cost that must be passed on to consumers;

    - provide greater comfort to lenders that the loan will be repaid; and

    - be consistent with taxing only commercial activities.

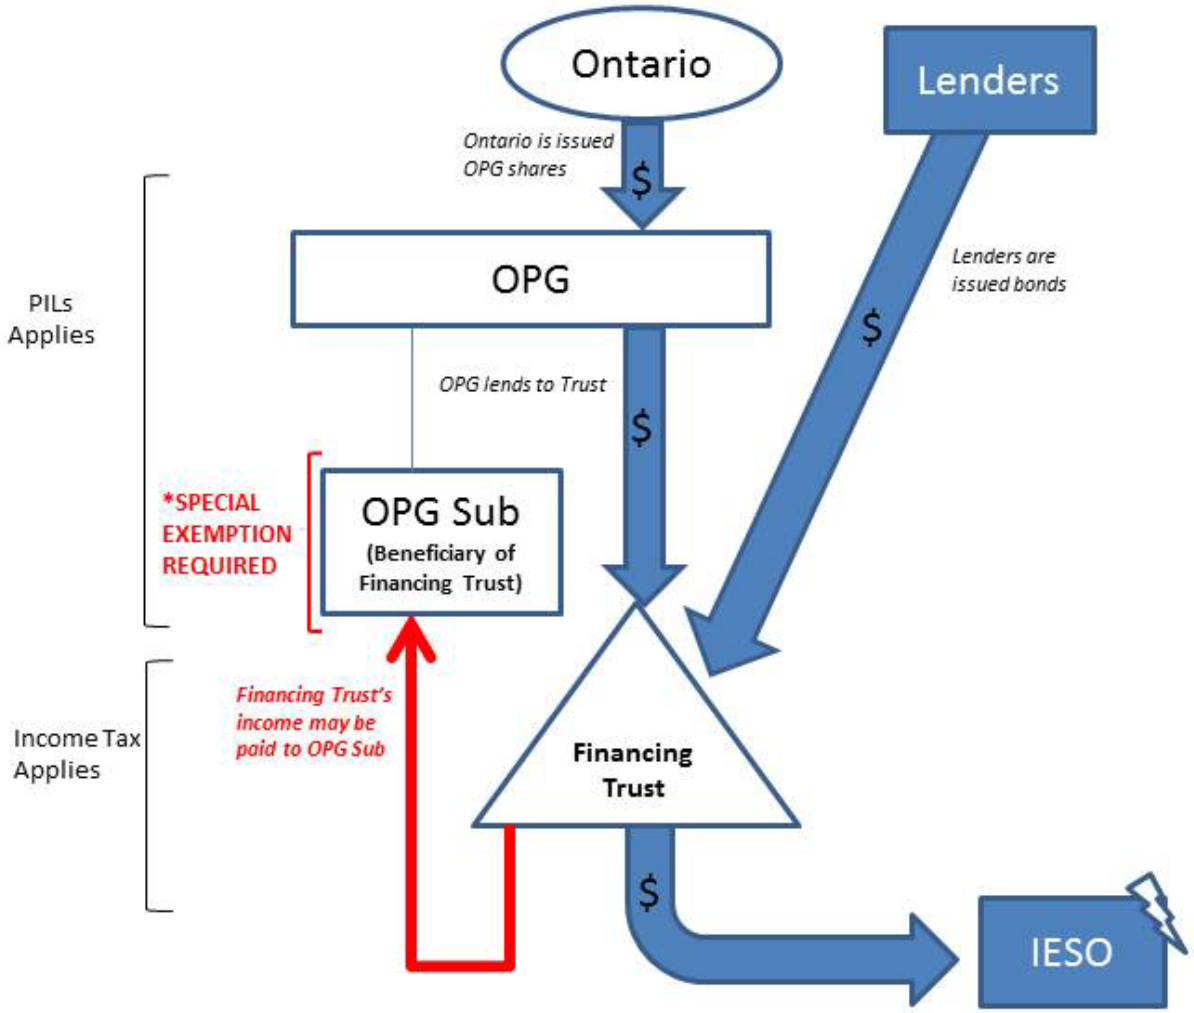
Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE FINANCING ARRANGEMENTS



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE PROPOSED TAX EXEMPTION FOR OPG



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX A

OVERVIEW OF THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

- The government intends to lower consumer electricity bills by 25% for five years.

- The resulting decrease in revenue will reduce the amounts available to pay electricity generators. The shortfall will be corrected with money from a "financing entity" established under the Plan.

STRUCTURE OF THE PLAN

- OPG will establish a financing entity (or entities) for the purposes of the Plan.

- The first financing entity that will be established by OPG will be a trust (Trust).

- The Trust will be capitalized with funds from the Province and from capital market borrowing.

- The Trust will purchase a "regulatory asset" from the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). The regulatory asset will be the right to collect amounts from electricity consumers.

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX

LOAN REPAYMENT AFTER THE 5-YEAR "HOLIDAY"

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, the Trust would invoke the rights under the regulatory asset and begin to collect amounts from electricity consumers equal to the borrowed money, interest and other costs. The collected amounts would be used to repay lenders.

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, consumers' electricity bills would increase to reflect the full cost of generating electricity plus the cost of paying for the regulatory asset.

FUTURE FINANCING ACTIONS

- In the future, the financing actions described above may be repeated by the Trust, or by other financing entities that may be established under the Plan.

APPENDIX B

TAXATION OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- Generally, a trust is subject to regular federal and provincial taxation and not PILs. A trust is entitled to deduct from its income for tax purposes any income paid or payable to a beneficiary of the trust.

- For purposes of the Plan, OPG or a subsidiary of OPG would be the beneficiary of the Trust.

- Amounts paid to OPG or to an OPG subsidiary would allow the Trust to minimize or eliminate the regular federal and provincial income tax the Trust would otherwise have to pay.

- OPG or an OPG subsidiary would be subject to PILs on amounts received from the Trust.

- The proposed regulation would exempt OPG or an OPG subsidiary from having to pay PILs on the amounts received or receivable from the Trust.

APPENDIX C

INCOME OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- The financing entity (initially, the Trust) is not anticipated to have significant taxable income over the financing period.

- However, the timing of the Trust's income and expenses may not match. This could result in significant income in some years that would be subject to federal and provincial tax.

BACKGROUND - PILS

- PILs tax is equivalent to regular federal and provincial income tax.

- PILs is paid by entities in the electricity industry that would otherwise be exempt from taxation, e.g., OPG and subsidiaries of OPG.

- PILs is intended to put such entities on a level playing field with private sector entities in the electricity industry.

Hi Ron, John,

I wanted to keep you apprised of where we are with Tax Policy on OPG's request for specific PILs exemptions as part of OFHP. See below for details – we are hoping to punt to regulations.

Thanks,
Scott

Hi Krista, John,

We shared your ask with Finance Tax Policy and they have been mulling this over for the past few days. We had a conversation this morning and I wanted to provide a synopsis of that call:

- Tax Policy is of the view that if this is structured as a Trust will be a taxable entity under the Income Tax Act. However, because OPG is the beneficiary of the Trust, it will not pay any taxes. For greater certainty, Tax Policy suggested seeking a ruling from CRA. If necessary, we could seek an exemption from CRA (there is precedent with the Nuclear Funds Trust). Please let me know whether that is consistent with your assessment.
- Since all income from the Trust will flow to OPG, all revenues would be subject to PILs (unless we take action to make specific exemptions).
- As we discussed last week, we have proposed the language that you provided with PILs exemptions for specific earning streams from the trust.
- Tax Policy has a number of questions about how to define those exempted revenue streams and the rationale for those exemptions. They want considerably more detail and more time to consider this issue.
- According to Tax Policy, existing Legislation (James I will leave it to you to describe) provides authority to set out PILs exemptions in regulations. Therefore they suggest we do not need to add anything in to the OFHP legislation at this time. That will provide time to more fully consider the issue and discuss the need for these exemptions.
- I suggested I was generally comfortable with this approach, subject to input from OPG and Torys. I think it is better for us to have more time and the flexibility to include these provisions in regulations. Given where we are in the process, I think we are out of time to settle legislative language that will work for Tax Policy.

James, please feel free to add / modify if I missed anything. Please let us know ASAP if you have concerns.

Hi Sriram, Ron,

Further to our conversations from earlier this spring, we received the following from OPG on its request for PILs exemptions relating to Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan. Please let me know if you have questions or comments. Torys and OPG have also asked whether we would like to set up a call in the next few days to discuss.

Thanks,

TORYS LLP

MEMORANDUM

PRIVILEGED AND CONFIDENTIAL

To	Ontario Power Generation Inc.	Date	May 17, 2017
From	Torys LLP, Toronto Tax
Re	Fair Hydro Plan – PILs Exemption

As part of the Fair Hydro Plan (the "Plan"), it is expected that Ontario Power Generation Inc. will act as the financial services manager and that Ontario Power Generation Inc., or a wholly-owned corporate subsidiary of Ontario Power Generation Inc. (in either case, "OPG"), will establish one or more new financing entities that will raise debt to acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. A Bill to implement the Plan has been introduced to the Provincial Legislature [1] and there is flexibility under the Bill for the new financing entity to be a corporation, a trust, a limited partnership or a partnership.

We understand that the Province would like to minimize, to the extent possible, Federal and Provincial taxes and "payments in lieu of taxes" ("PILs") under the Electricity Act, 1998 (Ontario) (the "OEA") payable by a financing entity as the costs of any of those taxes payable by a financing entity will be passed on to ratepayers through the collection of the clean energy adjustment under the Bill and the associated regulations. Accordingly, we understand that the Province is considering the possibility of making regulation changes to exempt the income arising as a consequence of the Plan from PILs. In order to assist the Province in their consideration of this regulation change, including the scope of any such amendment, we have set out below a summary of: (i) the tax treatment of the income of the financing entity under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "ITA"), the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario) (the "OTA"), and the OEA, (ii) certain matters relating to the computation of the financing entity's income for tax purposes, and (iii) our recommendations with respect to how the Province can ensure that PILs arising from the Plan are minimized.

It is also important to note that Ontario Power Generation Inc. will not bear any of the tax costs arising as a consequence of participating in the Plan. If there are any tax costs, they will be borne by ratepayers through the clean energy adjustment.

[1] Bill 132, An Act to enact the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and to make amendments to the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998, 2nd Sess, 41st Leg, Ontario, 2017 (first reading May 11, 2017).

Tax Treatment of Income of Financing Entity

As noted above, there is flexibility in the draft legislation to implement the Plan relating to the form of a financing entity. What follows is a summary of the tax treatment of the income of the financing entity if it is a corporation, a trust or a limited partnership/partnership, as well as the tax treatment of amounts paid or allocated to OPG as a shareholder, beneficiary or a partner, respectively, of the financing entity:

Form of Financing Entity / OPG	Treatment of Income under ITA/OTA	Income Subject to PILs
Corporation	-Income of the corporation should be exempt from tax	Yes
OPG as shareholder of corporation[2]	-Dividends paid to OPG should be exempt from tax	Yes
Trust	-Income should be subject to tax, although the trust can reduce its income by the amount of its income which is paid or made payable to its beneficiaries	No
OPG as beneficiary of trust	-Trust income paid or made payable to OPG as a beneficiary should be exempt from tax	Yes
Limited Partnership/Partnership	-Limited Partnership/Partnership is not generally a "taxpayer" although income is computed at the partnership level and allocated to partners for tax purposes	No
OPG as partner of limited partnership/partnership	-Partnership income allocated to OPG as a partner should be exempt from tax	Yes

As summarized, if the financing entity is a corporation, the income of this corporation would be subject to PILs, and further, any amounts paid or allocated by the financing entity to OPG, as a shareholder, beneficiary or limited partner/partner of the financing entity, would similarly be subject to PILs. Consequently, any regulation change to exempt the income of the financing entity from PILs under the OEA should be broad enough to accommodate the three possible forms of financing entity and address PILs at both the financing entity level (in the case of a corporation) and the shareholder, beneficiary and limited partner/partner level.

[2] We note that corporations are generally entitled to claim a deduction under section 112 of the ITA (and any OTA equivalent) equal to the amount of taxable dividends received from another Canadian corporation, with the result that taxable dividends are generally not subject to tax under Part I of the ITA (and any OTA equivalent). To illustrate the scope of the PILs exemption under consideration by the Province, we have ignored this deduction in preparing this chart.

Income Computation Matters

As part of the Plan, it is expected that the financing entity will raise debt and acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. The investment assets do not appear to be debt instruments from a commercial perspective on the date they are acquired, but rather seem to be intangible assets. Given the unique nature of the investment assets, the tax analysis that is generally relied on by a financing entity in a typical securitization transaction (which involves interest-bearing debt obligations) is not applicable. There are no specific rules in the ITA or OTA which govern the manner which the investments assets should be treated for tax purposes, such that further analysis will need to be conducted in order to determine whether the investment assets are on income or capital account to the financing entity, and that the "cost" of the investment assets are appropriately recognized as a deduction or offset in computing the income of the financing entity.

In addition to the tax implications relating to the investments assets, the following additional matters, among others, are relevant in computing the income of the financing entity:

- In order to be deductible, an expense must satisfy the requisite income earning purpose test;

- Expenses which are owing to a non-arm's length person must be paid in a timely fashion so that the expense does not give rise to an income inclusion;

- Capital losses may generally only be offset against capital gains, such that consideration must be given to the character of the assets and liabilities of the financing entity to ensure there are no mismatches;

- If the financing entity incurs foreign-currency denominated debt, any related foreign currency hedging instrument will need to be sufficiently "linked" to the underlying debt to ensure capital treatment of the hedge; for example, if the period of the hedge does l not match the period of the related debt, the financing entity will realize gains or losses on the hedge that will not be offset with realized losses or gains on the debt; and

- If the financing entity is a trust, it will be necessary for interests in the trust to "vest indefeasibly" or be structured as units where at least 95% of the units, by fair market value, are redeemable on demand by the holder to ensure that the trust is not deemed to dispose of any capital property under the "21 year" rule.

Recommendations

In order to ensure that the taxes arising under the Plan are minimized so that the overall cost of the Plan (over its 30 or more years of existence) to ratepayers is minimized and to ensure that Ontario Power Generation Inc. is kept whole from tax costs arising as a consequence of participating in the Plan, the following exemptions from PILs are required:

1) If the financing entity is a trust: Any income paid or made payable to OPG by the trust should be exempt from PILs. If this PILs exemption is not promulgated, the income will not be distributed out of the trust, tax will be payable by the trust on the income and the costs of that tax payable will be passed on to ratepayers through the clean energy adjustment. This will be a significant cost.

2) If the financing entity is a corporation: The corporate financing entity should be exempt from PILs and any dividends paid to OPG should be exempt from PILs. Again, if these PILs exemptions are not promulgated, no dividends will be paid to OPG and the costs of all PILs paid by the financing entity will be passed on to ratepayers through the clean energy adjustment. This will be a significant cost.

3) If the financing entity is a partnership or limited partnership, any income allocated to OPG should be exempt from PILs.

4) If the financing entity is any other form of special purpose vehicle, the income of such entity should be exempt from PILs and any income from such special purpose vehicle allocated, paid or taxable in the hands of OPG should be exempt from PILs.

Hi Lesley, Michael,

I believe the Ministers briefing on the "guarantee" (aka "Protection Agreement") that occurred two weeks ago may mean that once the final signing versions are available that there may just be separate signing meetings, not an additional briefing time. I can see if that's the case, but that would leave open when a PILs briefing could occur.

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

PILS (TAX) RELIEF

MINISTER'S REGULATION

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN - PILS (TAX) RELIEF

PURPOSE

- A Minister's regulation under the Electricity Act, 1998 is necessary to exempt Ontario Power Generation (OPG) from tax that may arise because of the financing arrangements for the Fair Hydro Plan (Plan).

- Providing a tax exemption to OPG would:

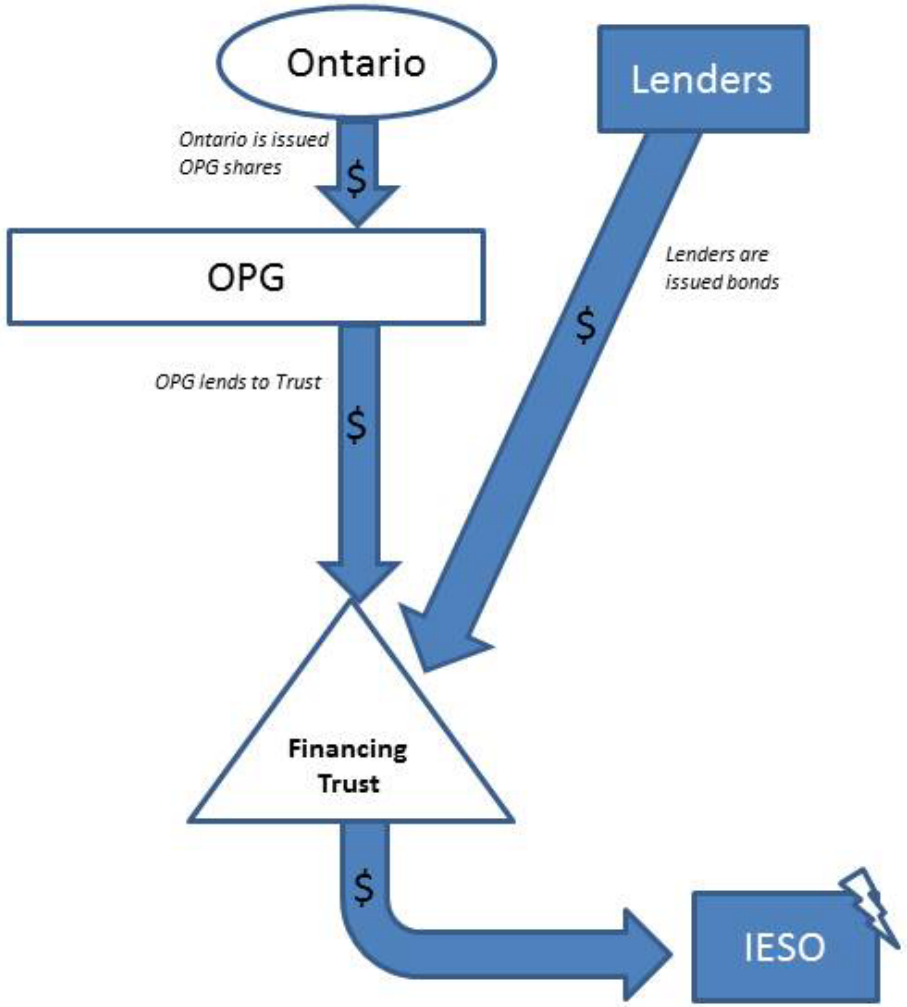
    - remove tax as a cost that must be passed on to consumers;

    - provide greater comfort to lenders that the loan will be repaid; and

    - be consistent with taxing only commercial activities.

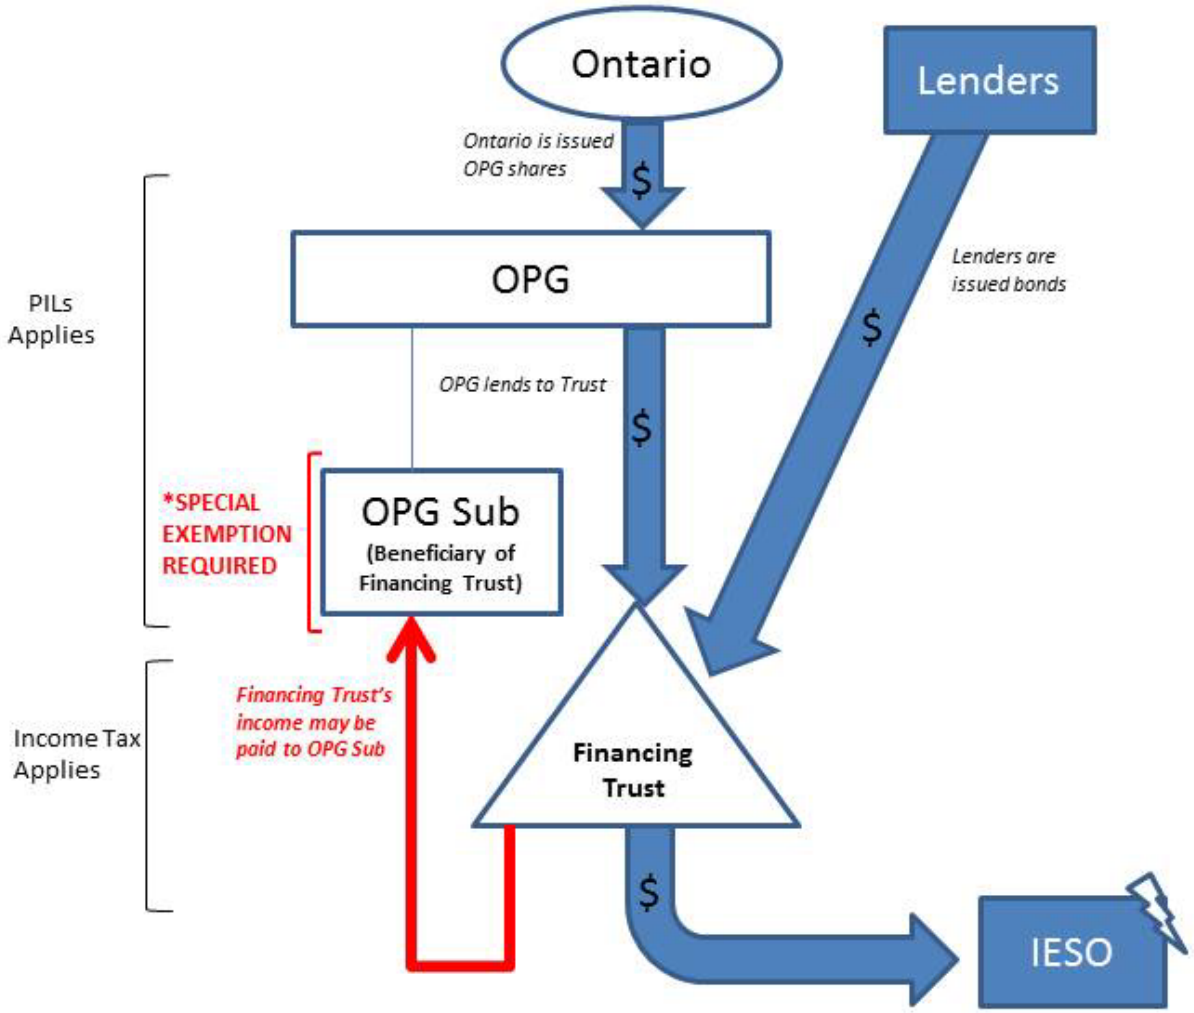
Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE FINANCING ARRANGEMENTS



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE PROPOSED TAX EXEMPTION FOR OPG



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX A

OVERVIEW OF THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

- The government intends to lower consumer electricity bills by 25% for five years.

- The resulting decrease in revenue will reduce the amounts available to pay electricity generators. The shortfall will be corrected with money from a "financing entity" established under the Plan.

STRUCTURE OF THE PLAN

- OPG will establish a financing entity (or entities) for the purposes of the Plan.

- The first financing entity that will be established by OPG will be a trust (Trust).

- The Trust will be capitalized with funds from the Province and from capital market borrowing.

- The Trust will purchase a "regulatory asset" from the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). The regulatory asset will be the right to collect amounts from electricity consumers.

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX

LOAN REPAYMENT AFTER THE 5-YEAR "HOLIDAY"

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, the Trust would invoke the rights under the regulatory asset and begin to collect amounts from electricity consumers equal to the borrowed money, interest and other costs. The collected amounts would be used to repay lenders.

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, consumers' electricity bills would increase to reflect the full cost of generating electricity plus the cost of paying for the regulatory asset.

FUTURE FINANCING ACTIONS

- In the future, the financing actions described above may be repeated by the Trust, or by other financing entities that may be established under the Plan.

APPENDIX B

TAXATION OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- Generally, a trust is subject to regular federal and provincial taxation and not PILs. A trust is entitled to deduct from its income for tax purposes any income paid or payable to a beneficiary of the trust.

- For purposes of the Plan, OPG or a subsidiary of OPG would be the beneficiary of the Trust.

- Amounts paid to OPG or to an OPG subsidiary would allow the Trust to minimize or eliminate the regular federal and provincial income tax the Trust would otherwise have to pay.

- OPG or an OPG subsidiary would be subject to PILs on amounts received from the Trust.

- The proposed regulation would exempt OPG or an OPG subsidiary from having to pay PILs on the amounts received or receivable from the Trust.

APPENDIX C

INCOME OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- The financing entity (initially, the Trust) is not anticipated to have significant taxable income over the financing period.

- However, the timing of the Trust's income and expenses may not match. This could result in significant income in some years that would be subject to federal and provincial tax.

BACKGROUND - PILS

- PILs tax is equivalent to regular federal and provincial income tax.

- PILs is paid by entities in the electricity industry that would otherwise be exempt from taxation, e.g., OPG and subsidiaries of OPG.

- PILs is intended to put such entities on a level playing field with private sector entities in the electricity industry.

Hi Sriram,

I would say that the Minister is familiar with the overall Fair Hydro Plan, as he has had a number of briefings on it going back to last winter, as well as various briefing on implementation issues over the past number of months.

Aside from the Protection Agreement briefing that has already happened, we are trying to brief the Minister on another Fair Hydro Plan issue with respect to OEFC and NUG contracts. I believe Jonathan in the DMO has been trying to schedule that (it would just be with our Minister, not Energy). CC'ing Usman, should he have an update on trying to schedule that.

Tagging on to an existing Fair Hydro briefing would be our preferred approach. Do we know if there are any briefings coming up?

We will also add this item to our DM/MO agenda for tomorrow to walk Kaj and Jamille through. We've included Marianne as well. We will forward the invite and provide a teleconference number as well – the meeting is currently scheduled for 1pm.

Hi Ron

I don't have any issues with this. The idea is to exempt the OPG subsidiary from PILs in order to minimize ratepayer costs (i.e., PILs costs would have to be recovered from ratepayers). That would be consistent with the aim of the FHP.

I did have a question with respect to statements on pages 6 and 7 in regard to taxation of the financing entity – as opposed to the OPG subsidiary. It is unclear (to me) whether there is a possible exception where the Trust may be subject to significant tax and, if so, what the implications are for ratepayers.

(see red highlight) Page 6 suggests the Trust ability to minimize tax liability through payments of income to OPG or the subsidiary. Slide 7 talks about a possible income and expense mismatch in some years due to timing resulting in Trust income subject to tax. But can't the Trust still minimize tax liability in this case through payments to OPG or subsidiary?

Thanks
Bruno

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

PILS (TAX) RELIEF

MINISTER'S REGULATION

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN - PILS (TAX) RELIEF

PURPOSE

- A Minister's regulation under the Electricity Act, 1998 is necessary to exempt Ontario Power Generation (OPG) from tax that may arise because of the financing arrangements for the Fair Hydro Plan (Plan).

- Providing a tax exemption to OPG would:

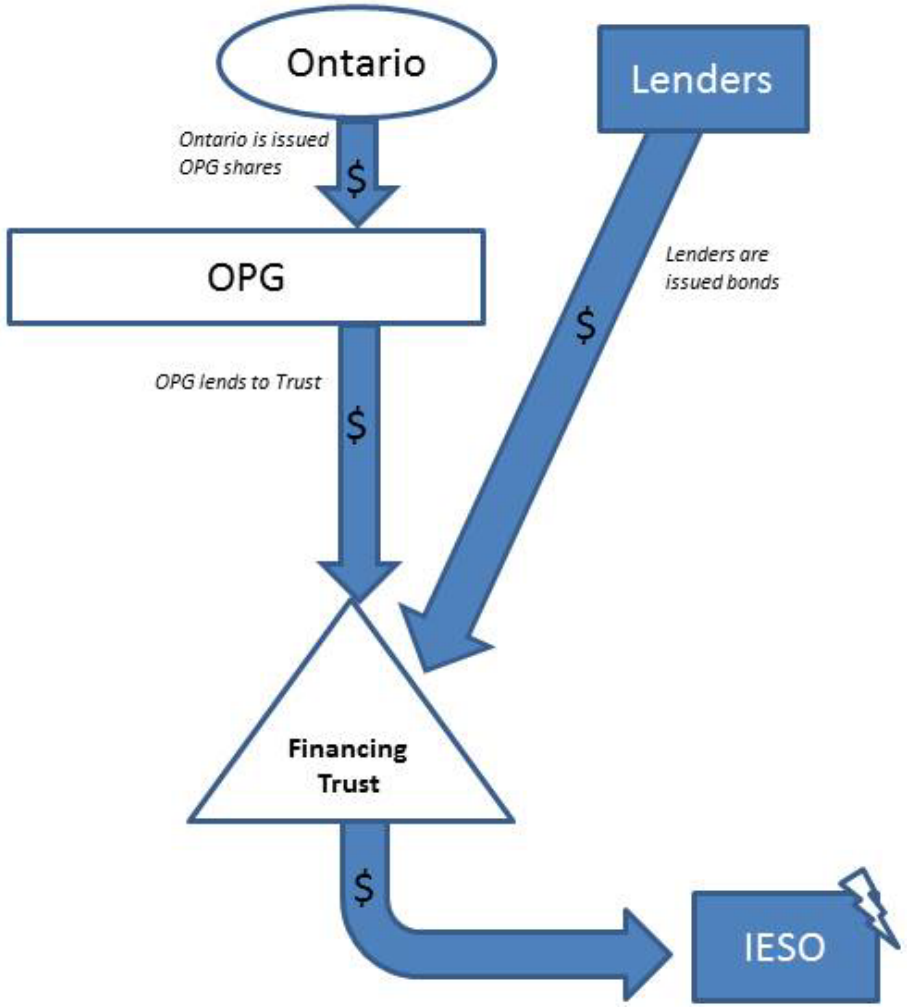
    - remove tax as a cost that must be passed on to consumers;

    - provide greater comfort to lenders that the loan will be repaid; and

    - be consistent with taxing only commercial activities.

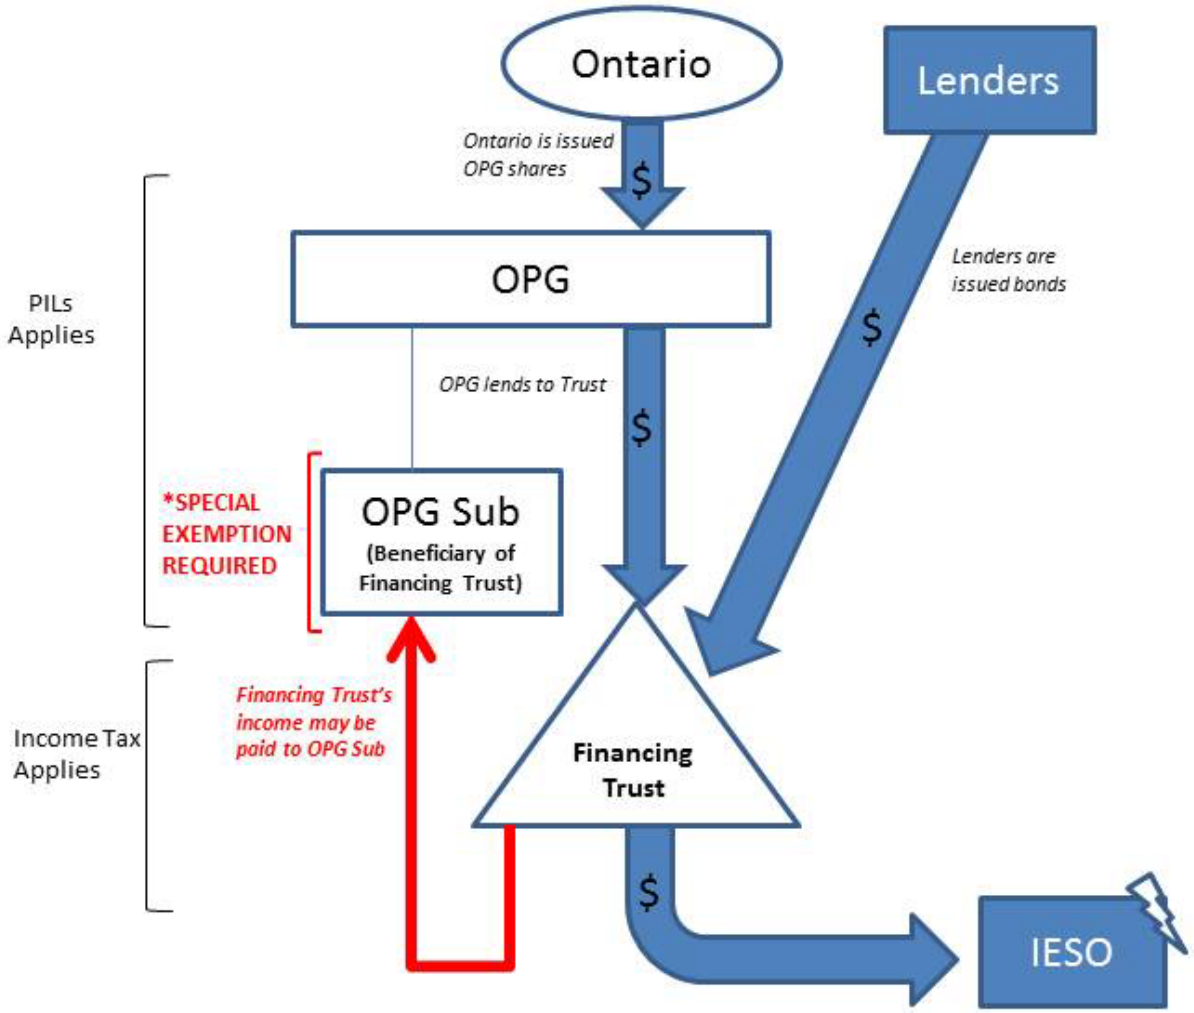
Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE FINANCING ARRANGEMENTS



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

BASIC ILLUSTRATION OF THE PROPOSED TAX EXEMPTION FOR OPG



Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX A

OVERVIEW OF THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN

- The government intends to lower consumer electricity bills by 25% for five years.

- The resulting decrease in revenue will reduce the amounts available to pay electricity generators. The shortfall will be corrected with money from a "financing entity" established under the Plan.

STRUCTURE OF THE PLAN

- OPG will establish a financing entity (or entities) for the purposes of the Plan.

- The first financing entity that will be established by OPG will be a trust (Trust).

- The Trust will be capitalized with funds from the Province and from capital market borrowing.

- The Trust will purchase a "regulatory asset" from the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). The regulatory asset will be the right to collect amounts from electricity consumers.

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX

LOAN REPAYMENT AFTER THE 5-YEAR "HOLIDAY"

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, the Trust would invoke the rights under the regulatory asset and begin to collect amounts from electricity consumers equal to the borrowed money, interest and other costs. The collected amounts would be used to repay lenders.

- After the end of the 5-year holiday, consumers' electricity bills would increase to reflect the full cost of generating electricity plus the cost of paying for the regulatory asset.

FUTURE FINANCING ACTIONS

- In the future, the financing actions described above may be repeated by the Trust, or by other financing entities that may be established under the Plan.

APPENDIX B

TAXATION OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- Generally, a trust is subject to regular federal and provincial taxation and not PILs. A trust is entitled to deduct from its income for tax purposes any income paid or payable to a beneficiary of the trust.

- For purposes of the Plan, OPG or a subsidiary of OPG would be the beneficiary of the Trust.

- Amounts paid to OPG or to an OPG subsidiary would allow the Trust to minimize or eliminate the regular federal and provincial income tax the Trust would otherwise have to pay.

- OPG or an OPG subsidiary would be subject to PILs on amounts received from the Trust.

- The proposed regulation would exempt OPG or an OPG subsidiary from having to pay PILs on the amounts received or receivable from the Trust.

Confidential Draft for Discussion Purposes Only

APPENDIX C

INCOME OF THE FINANCING ENTITY

- The financing entity (initially, the Trust) is not anticipated to have significant taxable income over the financing period.

- However, the timing of the Trust's income and expenses may not match. This could result in significant income in some years that would be subject to federal and provincial tax.

BACKGROUND - PILS

- PILs tax is equivalent to regular federal and provincial income tax.

- PILs is paid by entities in the electricity industry that would otherwise be exempt from taxation, e.g., OPG and subsidiaries of OPG.

- PILs is intended to put such entities on a level playing field with private sector entities in the electricity industry.

Hi Ron,

Thanks for passing this along. This looks good - lots of solid detail. I wonder about the sub-debt pricing and whether we could include anything from Capital Markets on that (may not be possible given timing).

In terms of format and structure, it sounds like the product is still evolving. I might would suggest streamlining some of the upfront context in order to allow for time to get in to the immediate decision points, as well as some of the issues that will come back shortly. I think we only at 30 min so might be difficult to get through everything.

Thanks again,
Scott

Hi Scott,

We had the deck for the OFA ARMC, which I believe you had discussed as being converted to a Minister's briefing deck, with a lot more on the decision points and issues for MOF. I believe staff are working on that, but I would think they would be looking for input from EIGS staff on certain topics.

Has a time been set yet?

Gwen should likely check in with Jonathan on the status of the OIC submission to LRC to enable borrowing room for the OFA to create a credit facility for IESO. I had understood that as of yesterday it was with the MO for signature.

Per message below, is there anything the Minister needs to sign for OFHP LRC next week? I didn't think so, but you may be closer to this than I.

Hi Ron,

A comfort letter would be a significant step in my view. While not a certainty, a TPD letter providing comfort [establishing that no activity would result in tax liability ranking ahead of security holders] would be material to ratings agencies. Just not sure how that is done but if TPD can assure them that without putting those changes in place or motion.

During today's call there was a general reference to potential credit rating agency concerns. That concern may not have come across clearly enough and here is some perspective on the specific concern. Given that this structure is very unique in the Canadian environment the credit rating agency will likely request a legal opinion – tax neutrality or run flat for tax – establishing that any activity of the financing entity will not result in a tax liability that would rank ahead of security holders.

That concern may not have come across clearly enough and here is some perspective on the specific concern. Given that this structure is very unique in the Canadian environment the credit rating agency will likely request a legal opinion – tax neutrality or run flat for tax – establishing that any activity of the financing entity will not result in a tax liability that would rank ahead of security holders.

Hi Scott, Rob,

Would it be helpful to have a call so that TPD can get some more context on the proposed Fair Hydro Plan and proposed structure?

Scott, if you're busy, staff here could provide Rob some context if you're not available.

Regular tax will not apply on the distribution of income to OPG because OPG is exempt from regular tax.

I am hoping you get you something more focused, but in the interest of time I thought I would share this version. These changes are essentially consistent with the earlier descriptions below in terms of content. My understanding is that OPG Trust is unlikely to generate significant (non-PILs applied) revenues, so this is largely an administrative change designed to avoid unintended consequences arising from potentially large, unrealized gains associated with swaps etc.

My legal colleagues only semi-joking suggested yesterday would be ideal. In the mean time the draft legislation will continue to take up these concepts as they are currently written.

Thanks Sriram. We still working with OPG and Torys to understand what exactly they are requesting and why. Based on conversations so far, I think the risk of creating a loophole should be limited, as net revenues from the Trust would be subject to PILs once they flow up from the sub into to OPG corporate entity.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. The regulatory asset is the IESO's right to collect from consumers in the future the amounts to cover the global adjustment deferral (including a financing cost).

Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.

Thanks,

Ken

Hi Ryan,

I appreciate the explanation. I want to make sure I understand the scope of the exclusion. Does this exempt any earnings in the trust and any earnings that OPG derives from the trust (interest income) from both income tax and PILs?

Thanks,

Scott

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.

Thanks,

Ken

Thanks Sriram. We still working with OPG and Torys to understand what exactly they are requesting and why. Based on conversations so far, I think the risk of creating a loophole should be limited, as net revenues from the Trust would be subject to PILs once they flow up from the sub into to OPG corporate entity.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. The regulatory asset is the IESO's right to collect from consumers in the future the amounts to cover the global adjustment deferral (including a financing cost).

Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

Ron

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.
Thanks,
Ken

Scott, if you're busy, staff here could provide Rob some context if you're not available.

However, a trust gets a deduction in computing income for any income paid to a beneficiary. The trust will pay no income tax to the extent that the trust pays out net income to the beneficiaries. Regular tax will not apply on the distribution of income to OPG because OPG is exempt from regular tax.

I am hoping you get you something more focused, but in the interest of time I thought I would share this version. These changes are essentially consistent with the earlier descriptions below in terms of content. My understanding is that OPG Trust is unlikely to generate significant (non-PILs applied) revenues, so this is largely an administrative change designed to avoid unintended consequences arising from potentially large, unrealized gains associated with swaps etc.

I am also available to answer questions on concept. As John knows, all of this is moving extremely quickly so comments as soon as possible would be extremely helpful. My legal colleagues only semi-joking suggested yesterday would be ideal. In the mean time the draft legislation will continue to take up these concepts as they are currently written.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

This may seem nit-picky, but in the past I believe we've seen both Hydro One, when it was 100% government owned, and OPG behave the same way as private companies would, and spend considerable time having their accountants endeavour to minimize their PiLs.

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.

Thanks,

Ken

Thanks Sriram. We still working with OPG and Torys to understand what exactly they are requesting and why. Based on conversations so far, I think the risk of creating a loophole should be limited, as net revenues from the Trust would be subject to PILs once they flow up from the sub into to OPG corporate entity.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. The regulatory asset is the IESO's right to collect from consumers in the future the amounts to cover the global adjustment deferral (including a financing cost).

Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

Ron

Hi Ryan,

I appreciate the explanation. I want to make sure I understand the scope of the exclusion. Does this exempt any earnings in the trust and any earnings that OPG derives from the trust (interest income) from both income tax and PILs?

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.
Thanks,
Ken

Thanks Sriram. We still working with OPG and Torys to understand what exactly they are requesting and why. Based on conversations so far, I think the risk of creating a loophole should be limited, as net revenues from the Trust would be subject to PILs once they flow up from the sub into to OPG corporate entity.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. The regulatory asset is the IESO's right to collect from consumers in the future the amounts to cover the global adjustment deferral (including a financing cost).

Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

Ron

This may seem nit-picky, but in the past I believe we've seen both Hydro One, when it was 100% government owned, and OPG behave the same way as private companies would, and spend considerable time having their accountants endeavour to minimize their PiLs.

I appreciate the explanation. I want to make sure I understand the scope of the exclusion. Does this exempt any earnings in the trust and any earnings that OPG derives from the trust (interest income) from both income tax and PILs?

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.
Thanks,
Ken

I am hoping you get you something more focused, but in the interest of time I thought I would share this version. These changes are essentially consistent with the earlier descriptions below in terms of content. My understanding is that OPG Trust is unlikely to generate significant (non-PILs applied) revenues, so this is largely an administrative change designed to avoid unintended consequences arising from potentially large, unrealized gains associated with swaps etc.

I am also available to answer questions on concept. As John knows, all of this is moving extremely quickly so comments as soon as possible would be extremely helpful. My legal colleagues only semi-joking suggested yesterday would be ideal. In the mean time the draft legislation will continue to take up these concepts as they are currently written.

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.

Thanks,

Ken

Scott,

The proposal appears to have some characteristics of a tax avoidance scheme.

The Electricity Act, 1998 applies to OPG and its subsidiaries but not a trust. The trust would appear to be subject to regular income tax. However, a trust gets a deduction in computing income for any income paid to a beneficiary. The trust will pay no income tax to the extent that the trust pays out net income to the beneficiaries. Regular tax will not apply on the distribution of income to OPG because OPG is exempt from regular tax.

I would expect that the income would normally be included in the income of the OPG subsidiary for PIL purposes. I suspect that funds borrowed by the trust may generate significant tax shelter such that the income of the trust will be negligible.

We will certainly need more information. In particular, the nature of the asset that is being acquired and the vendor. SPV's are generally used to move assets off balance sheet.

This matter ought to be the subject of a ruling request.

Regards,

Rob Lewis

Hi Rob, John Bruno,

Further to the emails below, I received from OPG the attached draft changes to pertinent legislation. These are somewhat broader than the tax / PILs specific elements. I am hoping you get you something more focused, but in the interest of time I thought I would share this version. These changes are essentially consistent with the earlier descriptions below in terms of content. My understanding is that OPG Trust is unlikely to generate significant (non-PILs applied) revenues, so this is largely an administrative change designed to avoid unintended consequences arising from potentially large, unrealized gains associated with swaps etc.

Please let me know if we should loop anyone else into this conversation (e.g. MoF legal) and whether you would benefit from a conversation with OPG, Torys (OPG's external counsel) and ENE legal directly. I am also available to answer questions on concept. As John knows, all of this is moving extremely quickly so comments as soon as possible would be extremely helpful. My legal colleagues only semi-joking suggested yesterday would be ideal. In the mean time the draft legislation will continue to take up these concepts as they are currently written.

Thanks very much and apologies for the short notice,
Scott

Thanks Sriram. We still working with OPG and Torys to understand what exactly they are requesting and why. Based on conversations so far, I think the risk of creating a loophole should be limited, as net revenues from the Trust would be subject to PILs once they flow up from the sub into to OPG corporate entity.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. The regulatory asset is the IESO's right to collect from consumers in the future the amounts to cover the global adjustment deferral (including a financing cost).

Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

Ron

This may seem nit-picky, but in the past I believe we've seen both Hydro One, when it was 100% government owned, and OPG behave the same way as private companies would, and spend considerable time having their accountants endeavour to minimize their PiLs.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.

Thanks,

Ken

Thanks Sriram. We still working with OPG and Torys to understand what exactly they are requesting and why. Based on conversations so far, I think the risk of creating a loophole should be limited, as net revenues from the Trust would be subject to PILs once they flow up from the sub into to OPG corporate entity.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. The regulatory asset is the IESO's right to collect from consumers in the future the amounts to cover the global adjustment deferral (including a financing cost).

Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

This may seem nit-picky, but in the past I believe we've seen both Hydro One, when it was 100% government owned, and OPG behave the same way as private companies would, and spend considerable time having their accountants endeavour to minimize their PiLs.

It is not anticipated that the trust itself would earn substantial revenues (as explained to me, this would be limited to swap spreads, currency fluctuations etc.). Any revenues that OPG would receive from the trust would be subject to PILs, therefore I'm not sure this will make any difference to the Province. Please let me know if you have any concerns.

Scott,
It is meant to exempt the net earnings of the trust. Any income OPG earns from its services to the trust would still be subject to taxation. As well, revenue that OPG receives from the subordinated debt to the trust would be subject to taxation.
Thanks,
Ken

Hi Ryan,

I appreciate the explanation. I want to make sure I understand the scope of the exclusion. Does this exempt any earnings in the trust and any earnings that OPG derives from the trust (interest income) from both income tax and PILs?

Thanks,
Scott

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.
Thanks,
Ken

Hi Ryan,

I appreciate the explanation. I want to make sure I understand the scope of the exclusion. Does this exempt any earnings in the trust and any earnings that OPG derives from the trust (interest income) from both income tax and PILs?

Thanks,

Scott

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.

Thanks,

Ken

It was fine but it'd be up to Rob to put something down on paper. Both Kaitlin and I have offered to help if he had further questions.

We're too jammed today to try to help Rob by actually starting to draft something….

Hi,

How did your call go? Does Rob better understand the context, structure and planned nature of the Trust (e.g., non-contributory and not intended as a tax avoidance vehicle)?

Is a discussion with OPG tax folks needed?

I am hoping you get you something more focused, but in the interest of time I thought I would share this version. These changes are essentially consistent with the earlier descriptions below in terms of content. My understanding is that OPG Trust is unlikely to generate significant (non-PILs applied) revenues, so this is largely an administrative change designed to avoid unintended consequences arising from potentially large, unrealized gains associated with swaps etc.

My legal colleagues only semi-joking suggested yesterday would be ideal. In the mean time the draft legislation will continue to take up these concepts as they are currently written.

Thanks Sriram. We still working with OPG and Torys to understand what exactly they are requesting and why. Based on conversations so far, I think the risk of creating a loophole should be limited, as net revenues from the Trust would be subject to PILs once they flow up from the sub into to OPG corporate entity.

Hi Sriram,

See the email chain on a tax / PILs exempt ask by OPG with respect to the OPG Trust / special purpose vehicle (SPV) for the Fair Hydro Plan.

Perhaps to over-simplify, The SPV would be a new OPG subsidiary that would, in part, obtain financing from the capital markets in order to have the funds to acquire a regulatory asset from the IESO so that the IESO can cover the difference between what it is paying generators and what it is passing through to consumers under the "global adjustment" mechanism. The regulatory asset is the IESO's right to collect from consumers in the future the amounts to cover the global adjustment deferral (including a financing cost).

Note that the timelines for drafting legislation generally for the Plan is very tight.

Scott N. will ask for more detail from OPG.

Would Ann and Rob be the right people to loop in on this?

Ron

Hi Ryan,

I appreciate the explanation. I want to make sure I understand the scope of the exclusion. Does this exempt any earnings in the trust and any earnings that OPG derives from the trust (interest income) from both income tax and PILs?

Subject: Fair Hydro Plan - question on taxation

Scott,

I understand there was a question regarding the taxation exclusion reference in Summary document. I understand this question is in reference to the following footnote (which is footnote 4 on page 5):

4 MOE to confirm that the legislation will provide that any Financing Entity that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG (1) would not be subject to Part VI of the Electricity Act (Ontario) and (2) in the case of any Financing Entity that is a trust, any income of such trust (for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) or the Taxation Act, 2007 Ontario)) which is paid or made payable to OPG or a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG as a beneficiary of such trust will not be taken into account in calculating the amount of a payment required to be made by OPG (or such subsidiary) by section 89 or 90 of the Electricity Act.

Overall it is expected that the financing entity, either as a trust or a corporation, will have minimal net income. However, there could be tax situations creating a larger income or loss due to differences in timing or treatment (income vs capital). Given the unique nature of the transaction and lack of precedent to guide treatment then there are uncertainties with respect to tax. The objective is to minimize the tax consequences on both entities hence the request identified in the footnote.

Hope this helps.
Thanks,
Ken

Hi Ken,

From the start, the exemption had been the advocated path. I will keep this interception option open until the decision is made to pursue Minister's directive or when we have that directive signed. We can always walk away from this option.

Thanks,

John

Hi John

Based on a conversation with Gadi, any solution that continues with the intercept provision will most likely be unacceptable from OPG's perspective. They are concerned that despite the intercept being toothless on a practical basis it may send the wrong message to DBRS as it assess the credit-worthiness of the OFHP debt.

It appears that the only solution is have the Minister sign an exemption and we should focus on getting that in place.

Thanks

Hi Lisa and everyone,

Along with comments from Ken over the weekend, just circling everyone in on the latest information from TBS. Pls. advise if your assessment changes but to me, TBS appears to be advising that Green ON Fund is not IESO's operation expense/allocation but allocation from MOECC to Green ON Fund.

Also, IESO staff have thus far signalled positively on the letter agreement. We are potentially looking about 2 days to conclude the process.

One caveat is that OPG is requesting that the trust be given first priority/security over all IESO assets. While the issue is still being discussed, if this is to proceed, the IESO will have to amend its current facilities. I would consider this almost as a separate issue in that if the scenario plays out, then we would need to look at and potentially open up all existing facilities.

John, I checked with our MOECC analyst, Green ON Fund is an agency of MOECC and is flowing funding to IESO.

Hi James,

The Green ON Fund…am I correct to think that this is also not part of IESO's operating expense/allocation? As for the items below (for Energy), it is a program expense facilitated through the IESO?

Thanks,

John

Sorry for the delay, had to dig in the email archives.

There is no IESO allocation in Printed Estimates. There is an OREC transfer payment. In the 17-18 PRRT workbook for OREC is the following:

- Electricity utilities are reimbursed by submitting and receiving claims which are netted against their other monthly transactions from the IESO, and the IESO submits and receives one monthly amount from the Ontario Financing Authority on behalf of the Ministry of Energy – this process is streamlined and leverages an already existing reimbursement process, thereby minimizing costs.

The second attachment, email, contains the consolidation worksheet from OPCD. For IESO, I don't see any Transfer Payment flows in from the Province.

Hi Sriram,

Just wanted to check in on the status of this OPG request. At a recent implementation update meeting at Energy on the Fair Hydro Plan, there was a brief update by Energy on the regulation. Energy conveyed that this is now considered to have to go to LRC. There was also a comment from CO that the LRC agenda is very full.

My recollection of the discussions earlier in the year that it would be a Minister's reg and could be done faster. Has this changed, and just trying to understand why.

Thanks,
Ron

Thanks, this came up at this morning's rate mitigation meeting, and the IESO people were happy to hear that we're on this, as they're a little nervous about how they're going to finance the regulatory asset until OPG is set up to take it on and pay for it.

I'm adding Ken to close the loop on the exchange that we had last night about the OPG letter - I asked Serge to add in the OFA, and he instructed Steen to do so, and, yes, the letter will be posted, at some point, on OPG's website.

In the half hour that I was able to attend the meeting, the discussion was around the legislation. The biggest point of contention was about OPG's need to have a direct recourse to ratepayers, and the legislative need for a thread directly from individual ratepayers to the lenders to the GA smoothing. The OEB doesn't like that concept at all. The other point that is of interest to us is that they are not looking at putting the guarantee mechanism into the legislation - although there will be some description in the legislation about what, I think they called indemnification will be needed, and then they will leave the guarantee to a commercial one. No surprise that OPG's dealer advisors are saying they need a full provincial guarantee, which OPG is pushing back on, and saying that the guarantee can only be if a future government changes the value of the regulatory asset (this is where the indemnification language in the legislation is necessary). Cindy, of course, as well as me for different reasons, is fussed about the nature of that guarantee, so we asked if they could sort that out with the dealers before the legislation is tabled. We don't want to end up with the dealers holding OPG hostage six months from now - not that they'd ever do that, would they Mike ?

I'm sure Scott will send out his fuller synopsis later today, and that'll also cover what happened in the last hour, after I'd left.

Ron,

We have shared the draft Comfort Letter and proposed draft regulation amendment with Kaitlin Montgomery, Senior Manager, Electricity Investment Governance Sec., Office of Regulatory Policy and Agency Relations. We assume that the material is being shared with others who are involved, such as Scott Nelms. We have asked Kaitlin to obtain comments on the drafts from OPG.

August [date], 2017

TO: Ontario Power Generation (OPG)

Thank you for your query and memorandum from your advisors, Torys LLP, dated May 17, 2017, regarding the Fair Hydro Plan and certain tax implications arising under the Electricity Act, 1998 (EA) for OPG and a financing entity.

A financing entity or entities to be established by OPG has been given a mandate under the Fair Hydro Plan to acquire certain regulatory assets~~rights~~ from the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). The Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (FHPA) has given OPG the right to create a "financing entity" to facilitate its objectives under the Fair Hydro Plan.

I understand that OPG will create a trust (Trust) as a financing entity under the FHPA to facilitate OPG's mandate under the Fair Hydro Plan. The Trust would be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (ITA) and the Ontario Taxation Act, 2007 (TA). Further, I understand that the beneficiary of the Trust will be a special purpose vehicle (SPV) that will be a corporation wholly-owned by OPG. The SPV would be exempt from Canadian federal income tax under section 149 of the ITA and under section 27 of the TA. The SPV would be subject to payments-in-lieu of tax (PILs) under Part VI of the EA.

Commented [RK1]: I thought OPG's memo (or Tory's for OPG) had OPG as the beneficiary.

A recommendation will be made to the Minister of Finance to make a regulation under the EA to ensure that amounts allocated by the Trust to the SPV will not be included in the income of the SPV for purposes of calculating PILs under the EA.

We have shared the draft Comfort Letter and proposed draft regulation amendment with Kaitlin Montgomery, Senior Manager, Electricity Investment Governance Sec., Office of Regulatory Policy and Agency Relations. We assume that the material is being shared with others who are involved, such as Scott Nelms. We have asked Kaitlin to obtain comments on the drafts from OPG.

Subject: OPG Trust Financing

Hi Ron, John,

Arie and Wentao put together a note that explains what we need to do and the challenges/questions we will probably face. Is intended to map the road, we can expand as we have more clarity.

All comments are welcome.

Hi Ron,

So it seems for the purpose of PILs, the draft regulation makes NIL for a specified corporation's earnings as they related to the Federal Income Tax Act in the following categories: 75 Trust, 104(13) Income of Beneficiary and 105(1) Benefits under trust.

One concern would be whether these categories cover all scenarios but we should assume experts dealt with that concern.

(b) the amount of an eligible capital expenditure of the taxpayer in respect of the business was reduced by paragraph 14(10)(c) because of the assistance referred to in paragraph (a); and

(c) paragraph 20(1)(hh.1) does not apply in respect of the amount repaid.

Coût en capital réputé

(7.41) Le paragraphe (38) s'applique relativement à un montant remboursé après 2016 comme s'il était remboursé immédiatement avant 2017, si les énoncés ci-après se vérifient :

b) le montant d'une dépense en capital admissible du contribuable relativement à l'entreprise est réduit en application de l'alinéa 14(10)c) en raison de l'aide mentionnée à l'alinéa a);

c) l'alinéa 20(1)hh.1) ne s'applique pas relativement au montant remboursé.

Moment de la déduction

(7.42) Aucun montant ne peut être déduit en application de l'alinéa 20(1)a) relativement à un montant d'aide remboursé visé au paragraphe (7.41) pour une année d'imposition antérieure à l'année d'imposition au cours de laquelle le montant d'aide est remboursé.

(a) to acquire a vessel described in paragraphs 13(19)(a) and 13(19)(b), or

(b) to incur any conversion cost with respect to a vessel owned by that person that is registered in Canada or is registered under conditions satisfactory to the appropriate minister in any country or territory to which the agreement referred to in paragraph 13(19)(a) applies, the appropriate minister may refund to the taxpayer the deposit, or the part thereof not paid out to the taxpayer under subsection 13(19), as the case may be, in which case there shall be added, in computing the income of the taxpayer for the taxation year of the taxpayer in which the vessel was disposed of, that proportion of the amount that would have been included in computing the income for the year under this Part had the deposit not been made under subparagraph 13(15)(a)(ii) that the portion of the proceeds of disposition not so used before 1975 as such a replacement is of the proceeds of disposition, and, notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, such reassessments of tax, interest or penalties shall be made as are necessary to give effect to this subsection.

(20) Malgré les autres dispositions du présent article, lorsqu'un contribuable a fait un dépôt en vertu du sous-alinéa (15)a)(ii) et que le produit de disposition relativement auquel le dépôt a été fait n'a pas été employé par une personne avant 1975, aux conditions agréées par le ministre compétent, pour remplacer le navire dont il a été disposé :

a) soit pour acquérir un navire visé aux alinéas (19)a) et b);

b) soit pour engager des frais de conversion d'un navire dont cette personne est propriétaire et immatriculé au Canada ou immatriculé, aux conditions agréées par le ministre compétent, dans tout pays ou territoire auquel s'applique le British Commonwealth Merchant Shipping Agreement, le ministre compétent peut rembourser au contribuable le dépôt, ou toute partie de ce dépôt non versée au contribuable en vertu du paragraphe (19), selon le cas. En pareille circonstance, il faut ajouter, dans le calcul du revenu du contribuable pour l'année d'imposition au cours de laquelle il a été disposé du navire, le produit de la multiplication de la somme qui aurait été incluse dans le calcul de son revenu pour l'année en vertu de la présente partie si le dépôt n'avait pas été fait en vertu du sous-alinéa (15)a)(ii) par le rapport entre la partie du produit de disposition qui n'a pas été ainsi employée avant 1975 pour ce remplacement et le produit de disposition. Malgré les autres dispositions de la présente loi, à l'égard de l'impôt, de l'intérêt ou des pénalités, une nouvelle cotisation est alors établie, au besoin, pour l'application du présent paragraphe.

the original lease shall be deemed to have expired and the renegotiated lease shall be deemed to be a new lease of the property entered into at that time.

Somme due par un non-résident

17 (1) Si le présent paragraphe s'applique à une société résidant au Canada relativement à une somme qui lui est due (appelée « dette » au présent paragraphe), la société est tenue d'inclure dans le calcul de son revenu pour une année d'imposition la somme obtenue par la formule suivante :

A – B

où :

A représente le montant d'intérêts qui serait inclus dans le calcul du revenu de la société pour l'année au titre de la dette si les intérêts sur celle-ci étaient calculés au taux prescrit pour la période de l'année durant laquelle la dette était impayée;

(a) an amount included in computing the corporation's income for the year as, on account of, in lieu of or in satisfaction of, interest in respect of the debt,

(b) an amount received or receivable by the corporation from a trust that is included in computing the corporation's income for the year or a subsequent taxation year and that can reasonably be attributed to interest on the debt for the period in the year during which the debt was outstanding, or

(c) an amount included in computing the corporation's income for the year or a subsequent taxation year under subsection 91(1) that can reasonably be attributed to interest on an amount owing (in this paragraph referred to as the "original debt") — or if the amount of the original debt exceeds the amount of the debt, a portion of the original debt that is equal to the amount of the debt — for the period in the year during which the debt was outstanding if

(i) without the existence of the original debt, subsection (2) would not have deemed the debt to be owed by the non-resident person referred to in paragraph (1.1)(a),

(ii) the original debt was owed by a non-resident person or a partnership each member of which is a non-resident person, and

(iii) where subsection (11.2) applies to the original debt,

(A) an amount determined under paragraph (11.2)(a) or (b) in respect of the original debt is an amount referred to in paragraph (2)(a), and because of the amount referred to in paragraph (2)(a), the debt is deemed to be owed by the non-resident person referred to in paragraph (1.1)(a), and

b) une somme reçue ou à recevoir par la société d'une fiducie, qui est incluse dans le calcul du revenu de la société pour l'année ou pour une année d'imposition postérieure et qu'il est raisonnable d'attribuer aux intérêts sur la dette pour la période de l'année durant laquelle la dette était impayée,

c) une somme incluse dans le calcul du revenu de la société pour l'année ou pour une année d'imposition postérieure en vertu du paragraphe 91(1) qu'il est raisonnable d'attribuer aux intérêts soit sur une somme due (appelée « dette initiale » au présent alinéa), soit, dans le cas où le montant de la dette initiale excède le montant de la dette, sur une partie de la dette initiale qui est égale au montant de la dette, pour la période de l'année durant laquelle la dette était impayée si, à la fois :

(i) en l'absence de la dette initiale, la dette n'avait pas été réputée, en vertu du paragraphe (2), être due par la personne non-résidente visée à l'alinéa (1.1)a),

(ii) la dette initiale était due par une personne non-résidente ou par une société de personnes dont chacun des associés est une personne non-résidente,

(iii) dans le cas où le paragraphe (11.2) s'applique à la dette initiale :

(A) d'une part, une somme déterminée selon les alinéas (11.2)a) ou b) relativement à la dette initiale est une somme visée à l'alinéa (2)a) et, en raison de cette dernière somme, la dette est réputée être due par la personne non-résidente visée à l'alinéa (1.1)a),

(B) d'autre part, la dette initiale était due par un prêteur intermédiaire à un prêteur initial ou par un emprunteur visé à un prêteur intermédiaire, ces termes s'entendant au sens du paragraphe (11.2).

a) une personne non-résidente est débitrice de la somme envers la société;

(b) the amount has been or remains outstanding for more than a year; and

(c) the amount that would be determined for B in subsection (1), if that subsection applied, for the year in respect of the amount owing is less than the amount of interest that would be included in computing the corporation's income for the year in respect of the amount owing if that interest were computed at a reasonable rate for the period in the year during which the amount was outstanding.

b) la somme est impayée depuis plus d'un an ou le demeure pendant plus d'un an;

c) la somme qui serait déterminée pour l'année selon l'élément B de la formule figurant au paragraphe (1) relativement à la somme due si ce paragraphe s'appliquait, est moins élevée que le montant d'intérêts qui serait inclus dans le calcul du revenu de la société pour l'année au titre de cette somme si ces intérêts étaient calculés à un taux raisonnable pour la période de l'année durant laquelle la somme était due.

Anti-avoidance rule — indirect loan

(2) For the purpose of this section and subject to subsection (3), where

(a) a non-resident person owes an amount at any time to a particular person or partnership (other than a corporation resident in Canada), and

(b) it is reasonable to conclude that the amount or a portion of the amount became owing, or was permitted to remain owing, to the particular person or partnership because

(i) a corporation resident in Canada made a loan or transfer of property, or

(ii) the particular person or partnership anticipated that a corporation resident in Canada would make a loan or transfer of property, either directly or indirectly, in any manner whatever, to or for the benefit of any person or partnership (other than an exempt loan or transfer), the non-resident person is deemed at that time to owe to the corporation an amount equal to the amount, or the portion of the amount, as the case may be, owing to the particular person or partnership.

Règle anti-évitement — prêt indirect

(2) Pour l'application du présent article et sous réserve du paragraphe (3), dans le cas ou les conditions suivantes sont réunies :

a) une personne non-résidente est débitrice, à un moment donné, d'une créance d'une personne ou société de personnes donnée (sauf une société résidant au Canada),

b) il est raisonnable de conclure que la créance ou une partie de la créance est devenue due à la personne ou société de personnes donnée, ou a pu demeurer impayée, du fait qu'une société résidant au Canada a effectué un prêt ou transfert de biens (sauf un prêt ou transfert de biens exclu), directement ou indirectement, de quelque manière que ce soit, au profit d'une personne ou d'une société de personnes, ou pour le compte de l'une ou l'autre, ou du fait que la personne ou société de personnes donnée a prévu qu'une société résidant au Canada effectuerait ainsi un prêt ou transfert de biens (sauf un prêt ou transfert de biens exclu) au profit d'une personne ou d'une société de personnes, ou pour le compte de l'une ou l'autre, la personne non-résidente est réputée, à ce moment, être débitrice envers la société d'une somme égale à la créance ou à la partie de la créance, selon le cas, due à la personne ou société de personnes donnée.

Exception to anti-avoidance rule — indirect loan

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply to an amount owing at any time by a non-resident person to a particular person or partnership where

(a) at that time, the non-resident person and the particular person or each member of the particular partnership, as the case may be, are controlled foreign affiliates of the corporation resident in Canada; or

(3) Le paragraphe (2) ne s'applique pas à la créance d'une personne ou société de personnes donnée dont une personne non-résidente est débitrice à un moment donné si, selon le cas :

a) à ce moment, la personne non-résidente et la personne donnée ou chaque associé de la société de personnes donnée, selon le cas, sont des sociétés étrangères affiliées contrôlées de la société résidant au Canada;

b) les faits suivants se vérifient à ce moment :

(ii) the terms or conditions made or imposed in respect of the amount owing, determined without reference to any loan or transfer of property by a corporation resident in Canada described in paragraph (2)(b) in respect of the amount owing, are such that persons dealing at arm's length would have been willing to enter into them at the time that they were entered into, and

(iii) if there were an amount of interest payable on the amount owing at that time that would be required to be included in computing the income of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada for a taxation year, that amount of interest would not be required to be included in computing the foreign accrual property income of the affiliate for that year.

Anti-avoidance rule — loan through partnership

(4) For the purpose of this section, where a non-resident person owes an amount at any time to a partnership and subsection (2) does not deem the non-resident person to owe an amount equal to that amount to a corporation resident in Canada, the non-resident person is deemed at that time to owe to each member of the partnership, on the same terms as those that apply in respect of the amount owing to the partnership, that proportion of the amount owing to the partnership at that time that

(a) the fair market value of the member's interest in the partnership at that time

is of

(b) the fair market value of all interests in the partnership at that time.

Anti-avoidance rule — loan through trust

(5) For the purpose of this section, where a non-resident person owes an amount at any time to a trust and subsection (2) does not deem the non-resident person to owe an amount equal to that amount to a corporation resident in Canada,

(a) where the trust is a non-discretionary trust at that time, the non-resident person is deemed at that time to owe to each beneficiary of the trust, on the same terms as those that apply in respect of the amount

(ii) les modalités conclues ou imposées relativement à la créance, déterminées compte non tenu d'un prêt ou transfert de biens visé à l'alinéa (2)b) effectué par une société résidant au Canada relativement à la créance, sont telles que des personnes n'ayant entre elles aucun lien de dépendance auraient été prêtes à les conclure au moment où elles l'ont été,

(iii) si des intérêts, à inclure dans le calcul du revenu d'une société étrangère affiliée de la société résidant au Canada pour une année d'imposition, étaient payables sur la créance à ce moment, ils ne seraient pas à inclure dans le calcul du revenu étranger accumulé, tiré de biens de la société affiliée pour cette année.

Règle anti-évitement — prêt par l'intermédiaire d'une société de personnes

(4) Pour l'application du présent article, la personne non-résidente qui, à un moment donné, est débitrice d'une créance d'une société de personnes sans être réputée, par le paragraphe (2), être débitrice d'une somme, égale à cette créance, due à une société résidant au Canada est réputée, à ce moment, être débitrice, selon les mêmes modalités que celles qui s'appliquent à la créance de la société de personnes, d'une somme, due à chaque associé de la société de personnes, égale au produit de la multiplication de la créance de la société de personnes à ce moment par le rapport entre :

a) si la fiducie est une fiducie non discrétionnaire à ce moment, être débitrice, selon les mêmes modalités que celles qui s'appliquent à la créance de la fiducie, owing to the trust, that proportion of the amount owing to the trust that

(i) the fair market value of the beneficiary's interest in the trust at that time

is of

(ii) the fair market value of all the beneficial interests in the trust at that time; and

(b) in any other case, the non-resident person is deemed at that time to owe to each settlor in respect of the trust, on the same terms as those that apply in respect of the amount owing to the trust, an amount equal to the amount owing to the trust.

Anti-avoidance rule — loan to partnership

(6) For the purpose of this section, where a particular partnership owes an amount at any time to any person or any other partnership (in this subsection referred to as the "lender"), each member of the particular partnership is deemed to owe at that time to the lender, on the same terms as those that apply in respect of the amount owing by the particular partnership to the lender, that proportion of the amount owing to the lender that

(a) the fair market value of the member's interest in the particular partnership at that time

is of

(b) the fair market value of all interests in the particular partnership at that time.

Exception

(7) Subsection (1) does not apply in respect of an amount owing to a corporation resident in Canada by a non-resident person if a tax has been paid under Part XIII on the amount owing, except that, for the purpose of this subsection, tax under Part XIII is deemed not to have been paid on that portion of the amount owing in respect of which an amount was repaid or applied under subsection 227(6.1).

d'une somme, due à chaque bénéficiaire de la fiducie, égale au produit de la multiplication de la créance de la fiducie par le rapport entre :

(i) d'une part, la juste valeur marchande de la participation du bénéficiaire dans la fiducie à ce moment,

(ii) d'autre part, la juste valeur marchande de l'ensemble des participations des bénéficiaires de la fiducie à ce moment;

b) dans les autres cas, être débitrice, selon les mêmes modalités que celles qui s'appliquent à la créance de la fiducie, d'une somme, égale à cette créance, due à chaque auteur de la fiducie.

Règle anti-évitement — prêt à une société de personnes

(6) Pour l'application du présent article, dans le cas où une société de personnes donnée est débitrice, à un moment donné, d'une créance d'une personne ou d'une autre société de personnes (appelées « prêteur » au présent paragraphe), chaque associé de la société de personnes donnée est réputé être débiteur à ce moment, selon les mêmes modalités que celles qui s'appliquent à la créance du prêteur dont est débitrice la société de personnes donnée, d'une somme, due au prêteur, égale au produit de la multiplication de la créance par le rapport entre :

a) d'une part, la juste valeur marchande de la participation de l'associé dans la société de personnes donnée à ce moment;

b) d'autre part, la juste valeur marchande de l'ensemble des participations dans la société de personnes donnée à ce moment.

Exception

(7) Le paragraphe (1) ne s'applique pas à la somme qu'une personne non-résidente doit à une société résidant au Canada si l'impôt prévu à la partie XIII a été payé sur la somme. Toutefois, pour l'application du présent paragraphe, l'impôt prévu à la partie XIII est réputé ne pas avoir été payé sur la partie de la somme due à l'égard de laquelle un remboursement a été effectué ou un montant appliqué en vertu du paragraphe 227(6.1).

Exception

(8) Le paragraphe (1) ne s'applique pas à une société résidant au Canada pour une année d'imposition de celle-ci relativement à une somme qu'une personne non-résidente lui doit si cette personne est une société étrangère affiliée contrôlée de la société tout au long de la période in the year during which the amount is owing to the extent that it is established that the amount owing

(i) for the purpose of earning

(A) income from an active business, as defined in subsection 95(1), of the affiliate, or

(13) For the purpose of applying section 143.2 to an amount that would, if this section were read without

Application de l'article 143.2

(13) Le montant qui, si ce n'était le présent paragraphe, serait une dépense à rattacher dont une partie du coût est reference to this subsection, be a matchable expenditure any portion of the cost of which is deductible under subsection 18.1(3), the expenditure is deemed to be a tax shelter investment and that section shall be read without reference to subparagraph 143.2(6)(b)(ii).

Debt obligations

(14) Where the rate of return on a taxpayer's right to receive production to which a matchable expenditure (other than an expenditure no portion of which would, if this section were read without reference to this subsection, be deductible under subsection 18.1(3) in computing the taxpayer's income) relates is reasonably certain at the time the taxpayer acquires the right,

(a) the right is, for the purposes of subsection 12(9) and Part LXX of the Income Tax Regulations, deemed to be a debt obligation in respect of which no interest is stipulated to be payable in respect of its principal amount and the obligation is deemed to be satisfied at the time the right terminates for an amount equal to the total of the return on the obligation and the amount that would otherwise be the matchable expenditure that is related to the right; and

(b) notwithstanding subsection 18.1(3), no amount may be deducted in computing the taxpayer's income in respect of any matchable expenditure that relates to the right.

Non-application — risks ceded between insurers

(15) Subsections (2) to (13) do not apply to a taxpayer's matchable expenditure in respect of a right to receive production if

(a) the expenditure is in respect of commissions, or other expenses, related to the issuance of an insurance policy for which all or a portion of a risk has been ceded to the taxpayer; and

(b) the taxpayer and the person to whom the expenditure is made, or is to be made, are both insurers who are subject to the supervision of déductible en application du paragraphe (3) est réputé être un abri fiscal déterminé pour l'application de l'article 143.2. À cette fin, il n'est pas tenu compte du sous-alinéa 143.2(6)b)(ii).

Créances

(14) Lorsque le taux de rendement du droit aux produits d'un contribuable auquel se rapporte une dépense à rattacher (sauf une dépense dont aucune partie ne serait déductible en application du paragraphe (3) dans le calcul du revenu du contribuable en l'absence du présent paragraphe) est raisonnablement assuré à la date d'acquisition du droit, les règles suivantes s'appliquent :

a) le droit est réputé, pour l'application du paragraphe 12(9) et de la partie LXX du Règlement de l'impôt sur le revenu, être une créance sur le principal de laquelle aucun intérêt n'est stipulé, et la créance est réputée réglée à la date d'extinction du droit pour un montant égal à la somme du rendement sur la créance et du montant représentant par ailleurs la dépense à rattacher qui se rapporte au droit;

b) malgré le paragraphe (3), aucun montant n'est déductible dans le calcul du revenu du contribuable au titre d'une dépense à rattacher qui se rapporte au droit.

Exception — risques cédés entre assureurs

(15) Les paragraphes (2) à (13) ne s'appliquent pas à la dépense à rattacher d'un contribuable relative à un droit aux produits si, à la fois :

a) la dépense se rapporte à des commissions, ou à d'autres frais, liés à l'établissement d'une police d'assurance couvrant un risque cédé en totalité ou en partie au contribuable;

b) le contribuable et la personne auprès de laquelle la dépense est ou sera effectuée sont tous deux des assureurs sous la surveillance :

(i) du surintendant des institutions financières, s'il s'agit d'un assureur légalement tenu de faire rapport à ce dernier,

(ii) du surintendant des assurances ou d'un autre agent ou autorité semblable de la province sous le régime des lois de laquelle l'assureur est constitué, dans les autres cas.

Non-application — no rights, tax benefits or shelters

(16) Subsections (2) to (13) do not apply to a taxpayer's matchable expenditure in respect of a right to receive production if

(a) no portion of the matchable expenditure can reasonably be considered to have been paid to another taxpayer, or to a person or partnership with whom the other taxpayer does not deal at arm's length, to acquire the right from the other taxpayer;

(b) no portion of the matchable expenditure can reasonably be considered to relate to a tax shelter or a tax shelter investment (within the meaning assigned by subsection 143.2(1)); and

(c) none of the main purposes for making the matchable expenditure can reasonably be considered to have been to obtain a tax benefit for the taxpayer, a person or partnership with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length, or a person or partnership that holds, directly or indirectly, an interest in the taxpayer.

Revenue exception

(17) Paragraph (4)(a) does not apply in determining the amount for a taxation year that may be deducted in respect of a taxpayer's matchable expenditure in respect of a right to receive production if

(a) before the end of the taxation year in which the matchable expenditure is made, the total of all amounts each of which is included in computing the taxpayer's income for the year (other than any portion of any of those amounts that is the subject of a reserve claimed by the taxpayer for the year under this Act) in respect of the right to receive production that relates to the matchable expenditure exceeds 80% of the matchable expenditure; and

(b) no portion of the matchable expenditure can reasonably be considered to have been paid to another taxpayer, or to a person or partnership with whom the other taxpayer does not deal at arm's length, to acquire the right from the other taxpayer.

(a) the amount that would be the individual's cost of coverage under the plan if the benefits and coverage in respect of the individual, the individual's spouse or common-law partner and the members of the individual's household were identical to the benefits and coverage made available in respect of the other person, the other person's spouse or common-law partner and the members of the other person's household

BA is the amount of the bank's branch advances at the end of the period;

IBA is the total of all amounts each of which is a reasonable amount on account of notional interest for the period, in respect of a branch advance, that would be deductible in computing the bank's income for the year if it were interest payable by, and the advance were indebtedness of, the bank to another person and if this Act were read without reference to paragraph 18(1)(v) and this section;

IL is the total of all amounts each of which is an amount on account of interest for the period in respect of a liability of the bank to another person or partnership that would be deductible in computing

Éléments des formules

D les dettes de la banque envers d'autres personnes et des sociétés de personnes à la fin de la période;

IAS le total des montants représentant chacun un montant raisonnable au titre des intérêts théoriques courus pour la période sur une avance de succursale, qui seraient déductibles dans le calcul du revenu de la banque pour l'année s'il s'agissait d'intérêts payables par la banque à une autre personne, si l'avance représentait une dette de la banque et s'il n'était pas tenu compte de l'alinéa 18(1)v) ni du présent article;

the bank's income for the year if this Act were read without reference to paragraph 18(1)(v) and this section; and

L is the amount of the bank's liabilities to other persons and partnerships at the end of the period.

(a) where the total amount at the end of the period of its liabilities to other persons and partnerships and branch advances is 95% or more of the amount of its assets at that time, an amount not exceeding

(i) if the amount of liabilities to other persons and partnerships at that time is less than 95% of the amount of its assets at that time, the amount determined by the formula

IL + IBA × (0.95 × A - L)/BA

and

(ii) if the amount of those liabilities at that time is greater than or equal to 95% of the amount of its assets at that time, the amount determined by the formula

IL × (0.95 × A)/L

and

(b) in any other case, the total of

(i) the amount determined by the formula

IL + IBA

and

(ii) the product of

(A) the amount claimed by the bank, in its return of income for the year, not exceeding the amount determined by the formula

(0.95 × A) - (L + BA)

and

(B) the average, based on daily observations, of the Bank of Canada bank rate for the period.

ID le total des montants représentant chacun un montant au titre des intérêts courus pour la période sur une dette de la banque envers une autre personne ou une société de personnes, qui seraient déductibles dans le calcul du revenu de la banque pour l'année s'il n'était pas tenu compte de l'alinéa 18(1)v) ni du présent article.

Déduction des intérêts

(3) Les montants ci-après sont déductibles, dans le calcul du revenu d'une banque étrangère autorisée provenant de son entreprise bancaire canadienne pour une année d'imposition, au titre des intérêts pour chacune de ses périodes de calcul de l'année :

a) si la somme, à la fin de la période, de ses dettes envers d'autres personnes et des sociétés de personnes et de ses avances de succursale représente au moins 95 % de ses éléments d'actif à ce moment, un montant n'excédant pas le montant applicable suivant :

(i) si le montant de ces dettes à ce moment est inférieur à 95 % de ses éléments d'actif à ce moment, le montant obtenu par la formule suivante :

ID + IAS × (0,95 × A - D)/AS

(ii) si le montant de ces dettes à ce moment est égal ou supérieur à 95 % de ses éléments d'actif à ce moment, le montant obtenu par la formule suivante :

ID × (0,95 × A)/D

b) dans les autres cas, la somme des montants suivants :

(i) le montant obtenu par la formule suivante :

ID + IAS

(ii) le produit des montants suivants :

(A) le montant que la banque demande dans sa déclaration de revenu pour l'année, n'excédant pas le montant obtenu par la formule suivante :

(0,95 × A) - (D + AS)

(B) la moyenne, établie d'après des observations quotidiennes, du taux d'escompte de la Banque du Canada pour la période.

Branch amounts

(4) Only amounts that are in respect of an authorized foreign bank's Canadian banking business, and that are recorded in the books of account of the business in a manner consistent with the manner in which they are required to be treated for the purposes of the branch financial statements, shall be used to determine

(a) the amounts in subsection (2); and

(b) the amounts in subsection (3) of an authorized foreign bank's assets, liabilities to other persons and partnerships, and branch advances.

Notional interest

(5) For the purposes of the description of IBA in subsection (2), a reasonable amount on account of notional interest for a calculation period in respect of a branch advance is the amount that would be payable on account of interest for the period by a notional borrower, having regard to the duration of the advance, the currency in which repayment is required and all other terms, as adjusted by paragraph (c), of the advance, if

(a) the borrower were a person that dealt at arm's length with the bank, that carried on the bank's Canadian banking business and that had the same creditworthiness and borrowing capacity as the bank;

(b) the advance were a loan by the bank to the borrower; and

(c) any of the terms of the advance (excluding the rate of interest, but including the structure of the interest calculation, such as whether the rate is fixed or floating and the choice of any reference rate referred to) that are not terms that would be made between the bank as lender and the borrower, having regard to all the circumstances, including the nature of the Canadian banking business, the use of the advanced funds in the business and normal risk management practices for banks, were instead terms that would be agreed to by the bank and the borrower.

NOTE: Application provisions are not included in the consolidated text; see relevant amending Acts. 2001, c. 17, s. 14.

Montants applicables à la succursale

(4) Seuls les montants se rapportant à l'entreprise bancaire canadienne d'une banque étrangère autorisée qui sont inscrits dans les documents comptables de l'entreprise conformément à la manière dont ils doivent être traités aux fins d'établissement des états financiers de succursale servent à déterminer les montants suivants :

a) les montants visés au paragraphe (2);

b) les montants visés au paragraphe (3) représentant les éléments d'actif d'une banque étrangère autorisée, ses dettes envers d'autres personnes ou des sociétés de personnes et ses avances de succursale.

Intérêts théoriques

(5) Pour l'application de l'élément IAS visé au paragraphe (2), est un montant raisonnable au titre des intérêts théoriques courus pour une période de calcul sur une avance de succursale le montant qui serait payable au titre des intérêts pour la période par un emprunteur théorique, compte tenu de la durée de l'avance, de la monnaie dans laquelle elle doit être remboursée et de ses autres modalités, modifiées par l'alinéa c), si, à la fois :

a) l'emprunteur était une personne sans lien de dépendance avec la banque exploitant l'entreprise bancaire canadienne de celle-ci et jouissant de la même réputation de solvabilité et de la même capacité d'emprunt qu'elle;

b) l'avance était un prêt consenti par la banque à l'emprunteur;

c) les modalités de l'avance (autres que le taux d'intérêt, mais incluant la structure du calcul des intérêts, comme le choix du taux de référence ou la question de savoir si le taux est fixe ou variable) qui ne font pas partie des modalités qui seraient établies entre la banque à titre de prêteur et l'emprunteur compte tenu de toutes les circonstances, y compris la nature de l'entreprise bancaire canadienne, l'utilisation des fonds avancés dans le cadre de l'entreprise et les pratiques normales des banques en matière de gestion des risques, étaient des modalités qui seraient conclues entre la banque et l'emprunteur.

Intérêts et gains

(2) Malgré les autres dispositions de la présente loi, les règles ci-après s'appliquent à une dette donnée d'un contribuable (sauf une société visée à l'un ou plusieurs des alinéas a), b), c) et e) de la définition de institution financière déterminée au paragraphe 248(1)) qui est une dette en devise faible à un moment quelconque :

a) aucune déduction au titre des intérêts qui courent sur la dette pour une période, commençant après le 30 juin 2000 ou, si elle est postérieure, la date de l'échange, au cours de laquelle elle est une dette en devise faible ne peut excéder les intérêts qui, si le contribuable avait plutôt contracté ou pris en charge, au moment de l'engagement, une dette équivalente — dont le principal et les intérêts sont libellés dans la devise utilisée pour gagner un revenu — selon les mêmes modalités que celles de la dette donnée (à l'exception du taux d'intérêt, mais incluant la structure du calcul des intérêts, comme la question de savoir si le taux est fixe ou variable), courraient sur la dette équivalente au cours de cette période, compte tenu des modifications que nécessite l'écart entre les devises;

b) le profit ou la perte (appelés respectivement « profit sur change » et « perte sur change » au présent article) du contribuable pour une année d'imposition résultant du règlement ou de l'extinction de la dette et découlant de la fluctuation de la valeur d'une devise est inclus ou déduite, selon le cas, dans le calcul du revenu du contribuable pour l'année provenant de l'entreprise ou du bien auquel la dette se rapporte;

c) le montant des intérêts sur la dette qui n'étaient pas déductibles par l'effet du présent paragraphe est exchange gain or loss on the settlement or extinguishment of the debt, to be an amount paid by the taxpayer to settle or extinguish the debt.

réputé, pour ce qui est du calcul du profit ou de la perte sur change du contribuable résultant du règlement ou de l'extinction de la dette, être un montant payé par le contribuable pour régler ou éteindre la dette.

Hedges

(3) In applying subsection (2) in circumstances where a taxpayer has entered into a hedge in respect of a debt of the taxpayer that is at any time a weak currency debt, the amount paid or payable in the weak currency for a taxation year on account of interest on the debt, or paid in the weak currency in the year on account of the debt's principal, shall be decreased by the amount of any foreign exchange gain, or increased by the amount of any foreign exchange loss, on the hedge in respect of the amount so paid or payable.

Opérations de couverture

(3) Pour l'application du paragraphe (2) au cas où un contribuable a conclu une opération de couverture relativement à une de ses dettes qui est une dette en devise faible à un moment quelconque, le montant payé ou payable dans cette devise pour une année d'imposition au titre des intérêts sur la dette, ou payé dans cette devise au cours de l'année au titre du principal de la dette, est diminué de tout profit sur change, ou majoré de toute perte sur change, résultant de l'opération pour ce qui est du montant ainsi payé ou payable.

Repayment of principal

(4) If the amount (expressed in the weak currency) outstanding on account of principal in respect of a debt of the taxpayer that is at any time a weak currency debt is reduced before maturity (whether by repayment or otherwise), the amount (expressed in the weak currency) of the reduction is deemed, except for the purposes of determining the rate of interest that would have been charged on an equivalent loan in the final currency and applying paragraph (b) of the definition weak currency debt in subsection (1), to have been a separate debt from the commitment time.

NOTE: Application provisions are not included in the consolidated text; see relevant amending Acts. 2001, c. 17, s. 14.

Remboursement de principal

(4) Si la somme (exprimée dans la devise faible) impayée au titre du principal d'une dette du contribuable qui est une dette en devise faible à un moment quelconque est réduite avant l'échéance (par un remboursement ou un autre moyen), le montant (exprimé dans la devise faible) de la réduction est réputé, sauf pour ce qui est du calcul du taux d'intérêt qui aurait été demandé sur un emprunt équivalent dans la devise utilisée pour gagner un revenu et sauf pour l'application de l'alinéa b) de la définition de dette en devise faible au paragraphe (1), avoir été une dette distincte à partir du moment de l'engagement.

NOTE : Les dispositions d'application ne sont pas incluses dans la présente codification; voir les lois modificatives appropriées. 2001, ch. 17, art. 14.

29 (1) Un contribuable qui possède un troupeau de base d'une catégorie donnée d'animaux, qui dispos d'un animal de cette catégorie dans le cadre de l'exploitation d'une entreprise agricole pendant une année d'imposition et qui choisit, dans sa déclaration de revenu produite en vertu de la présente partie pour l'année, d'appliquer cette méthode de calcul doit :

a) retrancher, dans le dénombrement de ce troupeau de base à la fin de l'année, le nombre, indiqué dans son choix, qui ne dépasse pas le moindre des éléments suivants :

(i) le nombre d'animaux de cette catégorie dont il a ainsi disposé au cours de l'année,

(ii) 1/10 de ce troupeau de base au 31 décembre 1971,

(iii) ce troupeau de base à la fin de l'année d'imposition précédente;

b) retrancher, dans le calcul du revenu qu'il tire de son entreprise agricole pour l'année d'imposition, le produit des facteurs suivants :

Réduction du troupeau de base

(2) Lorsqu'un contribuable exploite une entreprise agricole au cours d'une année d'imposition et qu'à la fin de l'année précédente son troupeau de base d'une catégorie quelconque, moins ce qu'il faut retrancher, le cas échéant, dans le dénombrement du troupeau de base de cette catégorie à la fin de l'année pour se conformer à l'alinéa (1)a), dépasse le nombre d'animaux de cette catégorie dont il est propriétaire à la fin de l'année, il faut :

a) retrancher, dans le dénombrement de son troupeau de base de cette catégorie, à la fin de l'année, le nombre d'animaux constituant cet excédent;

b) retrancher, dans le calcul du revenu qu'il tire de son entreprise agricole pour l'année d'imposition, le produit des facteurs suivants :

(i) le nombre d'animaux constituant l'excédent,

(ii) animals of that species other than purebred animals described in subparagraph 29(3)(b)(i),

each of which descriptions in subparagraphs 29(3)(b)(i) and 29(3)(b)(ii) shall be deemed to be of separate classes, except that where the number of the taxpayer's animals described in subparagraph 29(3)(b)(i) or 29(3)(b)(ii), as the case may be, of a particular species is not greater than 10% of the total number of the taxpayer's animals of that species that would otherwise be of two separate classes by virtue of this paragraph, the taxpayer's animals described in subparagraphs 29(3)(b)(i) and 29(3)(b)(ii) of that species shall be deemed to be of a single class; and

(c) in determining the number of animals of any class on hand at any time, an animal shall not be included if it was acquired for a feeder operation, and an animal shall be included only if its actual age is not less than,

(18) S'il est raisonnable de conclure que l'une des principales raisons pour lesquelles une société est l'associé d'une société de personnes au cours d'une année d'imposition est de se soustraire à l'application du paragraphe (13), la société est réputée ne pas être un associé de la société de personnes pour l'application de ce paragraphe.
