OFA -- IESO CREDIT FACILITY
THE INTERCEPT PROVISION REQUIRED
UNDER THE OFA'S LENDING POLICY

CONTEXT

The IESO had requested a new revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion from the OFA to support its role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act"). In the same request, the IESO had requested a reduction to its existing credit facility (currently provided under the "Original Credit Facility Agreement", see Background section) from the current $975 million to $475 million.

On June 29, 2017, the OFA received a directive from the Minister to accommodate the IESO's request and provide a revolving credit facility to the IESO in an amount of up to $2 billion (the "OFHP Credit Facility").

Pursuant to the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA is required to include an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis, unless otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance [or Treasury Board or Cabinet]. In accordance with section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), the intercept provision allows the Minister to deduct amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay to the OFA under a loan agreement from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body.

Per the requirements of the OFA's Lending Policy, the OFA plans to reach out to the Ministry of Energy and the IESO to fulfill the requirement to include an intercept provision in the OFHP Credit Facility agreement with the IESO, as well as the Original Credit Facility agreement, both of which may be amended from time to time.

- The OFA Lending Policy provides the following requirement for unsecured loans to public bodies under CIPA:

  > Except where otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet, and prior to the OFA making any loan to a public body, the OFA will [e]nsure that it has an appropriate intercept in place for the loan.

- The OFA Lending Policy also includes the following requirements in relation to the intercept provision:

  > The public body and its responsible ministry are to agree that the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts that the public body fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under its loan agreement with the OFA.

PREVIOUS RECOMMENDATION

- In August 2017, OFA staff had recommended the Minister sign the attached Intercept Exemption Directive allowing the OFA to exclude intercept provisions from the OFHP Credit Facility Agreement, as well as the Original Credit Facility Agreement, both of which may be amended from time to time.

- The requested Intercept Exemption Directive would have applied to the two specified IESO credit facilities.

CURRENT DIRECTION

Commented [JK1]: Maybe delete this section

- Following consultations with the senior executives at the Ministry of Finance and given the implementation efforts of the Fair Hydro Plen (FHP), the current proposal is to proceed with inserting the intercept provision into the OFHP Credit Facility agreement and the amendment to the existing Original Credit Facility agreement to comply wih the OFA Lending Policy.

  - The main consideration is to avoid the appearance of putting in place a work around of the OFA Lending Policy for the FHP.

CURRENT STATUS

- A decision was made to not proceed with requesting the Intercept Exemption Directive by the Ministry of Finance and to pursue the due steps required under the OFA Lending Policy to put in place the intercept provision in the credit facility agreements.

- The new FHP credit facility with the intercept clause will enable the IESO to fulfil its commitments under the OFHP Act as the IESO will have to finance for a short or medium term period the funding shortfalls in the implementation of the OFHP Act, as well as the continued implementation of the market support function for the IESO through the $475 million facility (to be amended from the current $975 million facility) which will also require the intercept clause to be added.

  - When the original credit facility was put in place effective January 1, 2005 in favour of the Ontario Power Authority, through a Minister's directive received in December 2004, no intercept provision was incorporated nor was an exemption received in the directive. The original agreement has been amended and extended since that time, effectively grandfathering the original agreement [without the intercept provision].
  - The original decision to exclude the intercept provision may have been a legal interpretation from Legal staff at the time or possibly an oversight. OFA staff, following advice from current Legal staff are working to bring the original facility and the new OFHP credit facility onside with the strict interpretation of the OFA Lending Policy.

- Including an intercept provision in the credit facility agreements with the IESO would have no practical usefulness or impact as the IESO receives no operational funding from the Province of Ontario but would bring the lending facilities onside with the requirements of the OFA Lending Policy.

- The IESO settlements system for the electricity sector facilitates the flow of appropriations of the Ministry of Energy for energy-related programs such as the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers (OREC), the Rural or Remote Rate Protection Program (RRRP), the Ontario Electricity Support Program (OESP) etc., This funding from the Ministry of energy is for the benefit of various electricity consumers and is not part of IESO operational expense which is funded through IESO fees.

- Intercepting these program specific payments, which are appropriated by the Legislature for the Ministry of Energy, under which the IESO may only be providing a conduit to local distribution companies under the IESO settlement system to provide benefits to ratepayers, in order to recover loan payments would not be in alignment with the wording or intent of the OFA's Lending Policy.

FISCAL IMPACT

There is no expected fiscal impact related to including an intercept clause.

BACKGROUND

The IESO

- The IESO is a not-for-profit corporate entity established in 1998 by the Electricity Act, 1998. It is governed by an independent Board of Directors and its Chair and Directors are appointed by the Province.

- The IESO has full statute-based authority for establishing, monitoring and enforcing reliability standards in the province. All the companies that make up the power system in Ontario must meet the IESO's standards.

- Its fees and licences to operate are set by the Ontario Energy Board and it operates independently of all other participants in the electricity market.

- The IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA.

OFA Credit Facilities to the IESO

- Pursuant to directives dated December 22nd 2004, October 3rd, 2005, July 28th, 2006, October 14th, 2010, December 18th, 2013, and November 28, 2016, the Minister of Finance ("Minister") approved and directed the Ontario Fiancing Authority ("OFA") to make loans (the "Advances") to the Ontario Power Authority (the "OPA") from time to time in an aggregate amount not to exceed $975 million at any time, as considered necessary by the OPA to meets its purposes.

- Effective January 1, 2015, the OPA and the Independent Electricity System Operator amalgamated and continued as a corporation without share capital under Part II of the Electricity Act, 1998 (the "Amalgamation") with the name Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO").

- Pursuant to the Amalgamation the obligations of the OPA became obligations of the IESO.

- The terms and conditions governing the Advances are set out in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the OPA dated January 1, 2005, as subsequently amended by amending agreements dated February 14, 2005, October 11, 2015, September 27, 2006, July 13, 2007, November 9, 2010, December 20, 2013, December 19, 2014 and November 30, 2016 (as so amended, the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

s. 1 Proposal and Context

- Approval is being sought for an OIC under section 22 of Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), which will authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loan(s) to the Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA") in an amount of up to $2.0 billion. Under the proposed OIC, repayment of advances made under the loan plus accrued interest may be made in whole or in part at any time provided that the loan plus any accrued interest shall be fully repaid by [December 31, 2047].

- Subsection 22(1) of CIPA authorizes the Minister of Finance to make loans to the OFA in the amounts, times and on the terms and conditions authorized by Lieutenant Governor in Council ("LGIC"). Subsection 22(2) provides a statutory appropriation for loans made by the Minister to the OFA under subsection 22(1).

- Existing OICs authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loans to the OFA under which the OFA has provided loans and credit facilities to colleges, school boards and other public agencies such as Infrastructure Ontario, IESO, Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation and Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

- This proposed OIC is required to expand the overall Minister of Finance lending authority to the OFA to allow the OFA to provide loans under credit facilities requested by the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO").
    - This will help the IESO to fulfil the commitments under the proposed Fair Hydro Act, 2017, under anticipated and potential timing differences in the implementation of the proposed Fair Hydro Plan.
    - The timing of this OIC is critical to ensure borrowing authority for the OFA is available to provide the IESO its requested financing arrangements upon the enactment of the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

s. 2 Approach and Intended Outcomes

- Under CIPA, the OFA provides financing to public bodies as directed by the Minister of Finance. The OFA obtains the funds it needs for its lending program by borrowing from the Province. This OIC would authorize the Minister of Finance under section 22 of CIPA to provide additional loans to the OFA.

- As per subsection 3(1) of CIPA, the Minister of Finance is responsible for the administration of CIPA with respect to the OFA.

- This proposed OIC is required to assist in fulfilling the commitments under the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

- It is expected that as part of the implementation of the proposed arrangements, the Minister of Finance will direct the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility for short term financing related to the on-going Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. In particular, the OFA would be directed to provide a credit facility to the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"). The IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA.

- Under the ~~proposed~~ Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, the IESO will~~ould~~ incur a monthly funding shortfall in the early years of the plan, as a portion of the Global Adjustment charge to ratepayers will be deferred to the future. Global Adjustment amounts initially collected will, therefore, be insufficient to fund the IESO's contractual obligations to electricity producers and service providers.

- The ~~proposed~~ Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 allows the IESO the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future (the "regulatory asset") and the ability to sell that asset.
    - It is anticipated that the regulatory asset will~~ould~~ be purchased by the financing entity to be established by OPG ("OPG SPV", an OPG special purpose vehicle or trust).
    - The cash received will~~ould~~ be used by the IESO to fund the current Global Adjustment shortfall.

- However, there is expected to be initial and potential ongoing IESO cash flow requirement timing differences. The OPG SPV is not anticipated to be established and able to borrow to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset from the IESO until later in 2017. Even once the SPV is set up to borrow, there may be timing differences between the IESO's monthly settlement process when it has to pay generators and when the SPV purchases the asset from IESO. Also, under the proposed legislation, OPG's SPV is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset.

- As a result, IESO requires short-term financing to be in place for initial and potential monthly timing differences, or in the event that the OPG SPV, at any time, does not purchase a portion of the regulatory asset.

- IESO has requested that the OFA provide a revolving credit facility of up to $2.0 billion to support its role in the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.
- It is proposed that the OIC authorization be for $2.0 billion, which would be in addition to existing authority for the Minister of Finance to provide loans to the OFA, to ensure that there is sufficient borrowing authority in place for the OFA to meet the IESO requirements.

- If approved, the Minister of Finance will subsequently provide a Directive to the OFA to direct it to provide credit facilities to the IESO in an amount not to exceed $2.5 billion.
    - The OFA currently provides a credit facility to the IESO of $975 million.
    - The IESO has requested that the existing credit facility be reduced to $475 million, and a new credit facility be provided of $2 billion, for a total amount of $2.475 million.

s. 3 Direction and Urgency

- ~~As announced on March 2, 2017, and highlighted as a commitment in Budget 2017, T~~the Province ~~intends to~~ passed legislation on May 31, 2017 to implement the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, which will~~ould~~ reduce electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible households.
- The ability for the OFA to have the requisite borrowing and lending capacity is instrumental in supporting implementation of the ~~proposed~~ Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.
- Ministry of Energy proposed regulations under the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 are expected to track for Cabinet approval by end of June 2017. It is expected that this OIC also be submitted for approval concurrently as it supports a crucial component of the successfully implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.
- A related Cabinet Minute from the Ministry of Energy is tracking for June 27, 2017 date.

s. 4 Impact Assessment and Costs

- With this OIC, the Minister of Finance will be authorized to lend an additional amount of $2 billion to the OFA. Subject to the terms and conditions of a Directive from the Minister of Finance, loans from the Minister of Finance to the OFA are expected to be at the Province's cost of funds.
- Loans advanced will result in increased borrowing in the debt markets by the Province.
- Loans are expected to be repaid and, therefore, no fiscal impact is expected.

s. 5 Implementation

- If the OIC is approved and signed, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA. A Directive from the Minister will be required that will provide direction to the OFA on how it can use the proceeds of the loan.

s. 6 Delivery and Results Tracking

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and is required to ensure the timely implementation and support for the success of the Fair Hydro Plan.

s.7 Stakeholder Consultations

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's proposed Fair Hydro Plan. The related Cabinet note for the initiative should be referred to.

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On June 1, 2017, Bill 132, received royal assent, which marked the coming into force of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act). The Act enables the implementation of the ONFHP. The implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), and respective directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 13, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act.

Commented [VC(1]: To confirm the date requirement

2. RECOMMENDATION

Commented [VC(2]: Message sent to John M – to discuss with Kim

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO effective as of the date upon which the Act was passed.

Commented [VC(3]: Why as of this date?

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (ONFHP)

OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance. Risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. Examples of these risks include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the US market. IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

Commented [VC(4]: Alignment with business purpose?

Commented [VC(5]: Should be clear that this is a sale

Draft

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and each of their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate which existing indemnities would address. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". In addition the statutory protections do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. This is further described in section (ii) below. Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include without limitation,

- liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and the IESO's willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be paid under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG and IESO to any of its subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), Commented [VC(6]: Who has reviewed existing indemnities?

Commented [VC(7]: What does this mean?

Commented [VC(8]: OPG is being compensated for taking on this role – how does that factor into the indemnity?

Commented [VC(9]: What role is expected?

Commented [VC(10]: Why it is not clear?

agents (in the case of the IESO), directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Commented [VC(11]: Why is this only for employees – the one above is for directors, officers, employees and agents

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

Commented [VC(12]: Does this indemnity do that?

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, or each of its subsidiaries, their directors, officers, or employees so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the protected persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to IESO and OPG's respective roles in relation to implementing the

Draft

ONFHP.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided and to the extent already paid under such insurance, or other indemnification is provided, to the extent the individual is so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.

5) The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C".

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

Under the OPG and IESO Indemnities, a Protected Person would not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) that are the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a

Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing was reckless as to their belief that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Other Substantial Variances from the Province's Indemnity Template

The other substantial variance in the Indemnities includes a waiver provision (section 8 of the Indemnities) whereby the Province waives its right to bring any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual relating in any way to the OPG/IESO's or such Protected Person's activities in the implementation, or otherwise relating to the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting at the request of the corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation). However, this waiver does not apply to gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct claims that may be brought by the province against the applicable Protected Persons. The risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is consistent with the gross negligence carve out provided for in the Indemnity Agreements (section 2(c)) and because the Province is unlikely to bring a claim against a Protected Person for Losses they have agreed to indemnify them for.

Commented [VC(13]: What is its purpose?

OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors and officers do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.

The Indemnities also include a representations and warranties section (section 9), which includes general representations and warranties with respect to the Province's authority to enter into these agreements and confirming that they have obtained the appropriate FAA approvals. We do not believe this variance poses a significant risk to the Province.

Commented [VC(14]: Who has done this analysis? TBS legal?

(e) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would allow OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

IESO FAIR HYDRO PLAN CREDIT FACILITY
INTENDED USE – DISCUSSION WITH ENERGY STAFF

In a discussion with Energy staff [following comments heard in a call to discuss the Change of Law Protection Agreement call on December 1, 2017], Corporate and Electricity Finance Division (CEFD) staff became aware of an additional use of the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) $2 billion credit facility for the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) developed for the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan (FHP).

For the period of the FHP where the customer bill increases are to be kept to the rate of inflation, the described plan would use the $2 billion credit facility provided by the OFA to cover interest costs and fees charged by the Fair Hydro Plan Trust (OPG Trust) to the IESO [TBC].

CONTEXT

The Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) requested and put in place a revolving credit facility for an amount of up to $2 billion from the OFA to support its role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act"). To accommodate this request, the OFA obtained a Lending Directive from the Minister of Finance on June 29, 2017.

- The $2 billion IESO FHP-related facility was requested with an initial term of 5-years plus a contingency of three months (effectively expiring on September 30, 2022).

- The request in part enabled the IESO to have the facility beyond the initial moratorium period of customer bill increases being constrained by the rate of inflation.

In the briefing note outlining CEFD and other OFA staff recommendation to the Minister of Finance, there were three rationales were provided to enact the $2 billion credit facility:

- At the time of initial consideration, it was often discussed that under the legislation, OPG Trust is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset which led to discussions around how it could result in longer than planned IESO draws on the credit facility and a large balance accumulating in the facility.

- In the recommendation, staff referenced the need to allow the IESO to finance short to medium term funding shortfalls in its role in the FHP. It was always anticipated that there would be short and medium term timing differences in funding as mentioned in the Briefing Note as part of the Minister's Directive Package (see the actual wording below):

  > This will help the IESO to fulfil the commitments under the OFHP Act as the IESO will have to finance short to medium term funding shortfalls in the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

- One of the primary reasons for putting in place a fairly large credit facility was to manage the initial transition as OPG Trust was not anticipated to be established nor able to borrow to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset from the IESO until later in 2017. Currently OPG Trust is expected to start using its own warehousing facility on December 18, 2017 for the first time. To this end, the facility served this intended roles effectively as it is maintaining the deferred GA portion in this facility currently.

INTENDED USE OF THE FHP-RELATED FACILITY

As in many policy initiatives, the program parameters continue to evolve for a number of FHP-related items, including the use of the $2 billion OFA facility for the IESO. Energy staff indicated that in order to facilitate the implementation of the FHP, the IESO will likely utilize the $2 billion OFA credit facility to defer the interest and fees component of the global adjustment (GA) deferral for the first 4 years of the FHP when the customer bills are to increase only by the rate of inflation.

See the diagram below for details of how the deferral of the interest and fees would occur in parallel to the deferral of the GA amounts:

1. IESO calculates the total amount of GA deferral for the month
2. OPG pays the GA deferral amount to the IESO
3. OPG calculates the total funding costs, i.e. interests, management fees, and etc., for the previous month, and send the invoice to the IESO
4. IESO draws cash from the OFA FHP Credit Facility to pay for the funding costs incurred by OPG Trust. IESO could use the credit facility to pay for the GA deferral amount as well in case of a shortfall
5. IESO prepares the Regulatory Assets, which consist of the GA deferral amount for the month and payment for the funding costs for the previous month, and sells the Regulatory Assets to OPG Trust.

ANALYSIS

The main intended use of the credit facility's role to specifically fund interest and fees for the first four years is a new development for the use of the facility. Short to medium term funding shortfalls were, at times, expected to be financed by this facility as the OPG trust is not required to purchase the regulatory asset and there were explicit discussions about potential for market interruptions that lead the IESO to hold on to deferrals related to the GA refinancing. A systemic use of the facility for funding interest costs and fees for the first four years is a new development/understanding for CEFD staff.

As the borrowing to fund interest and fees would only begin to be paid off after the initial moratorium period, the accumulation of interest and fees in the $2 billion credit facility would lead to decreased room for future GA deferral/borrowing needs. As such there may be a request for an expansion to the credit facility in the future.

OPCD would need to opine on the potential fiscal impacts [TBC] of this funding structure due to the ongoing and cumulative nature of the funding of fees and interest costs via the $2 billion credit facility. Preliminary estimates from Energy materials could indicate an accumulation of approximately $1.2 billion in interests at the end of the moratorium period.

Furthermore, it is unclear how the IESO would pay the interest costs to the OFA for these drawdowns of the $2 billion credit facility, i.e. ratepayer recover on an ongoing basis or be capitalized.

BACKGROUND

MINISTER'S DIRECTIVE

On June 29, 2017, Minister of Finance's Lending Directive authorized the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion with a maturity date of September 30, 2022. The Lending Directive also included the following conditions:

- The interest rate charged to IESO on all advances will be based on the Province's cost of funds plus a twenty-five basis point (0.25%) spread, consistent with the spread for current and past OFA credit facilities for the IESO.

- The credit facility agreement shall be subject to such other terms as the OFA deems appropriate from time to time.

    - This standard clause in the Minister's Directive was utilized recently to allow for changes to the definition of the Permitted Liens and other related sections of the OEFC lending agreements.

FISCAL IMPACT

- There would be a relatively small but positive fiscal impact for the Province as a result of this credit facility.
    - The Province receives a small fiscal benefit by adding 25 basis points (i.e., 0.25%) to the Province's cost of funds provided to the IESO under the facility, which should more than offset any administrative cost impact on the OFA and Province.
    - The actual amount is expected to be small, as the IESO is expected to make draws for short periods to bridge brief timing differences in cash flows.

- Both the IESO and OFA are consolidated with the Province on a line by line basis. For the OFA and the Province, costs associated with the credit facility are recovered from the IESO. For the IESO, principal and interest associated with the credit facility are ultimately recovered from electricity ratepayers.
    - Notwithstanding this, recovery from electricity ratepayers is determined by the Ontario Energy Board. If the IESO cannot sell the regulatory asset created under the Ontario Fair

Hydro Plan Act, 2017 to a financing entity as per the Act, the IESO will have this revolving debt that can only begin to be repaid once ratepayers begin to pay down the deferred GA amount.

FHP ACT

- On May 31, 2017, the government passed the OFHP Act to enable the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan, which will lower electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible residential customers. Eligible farms and small businesses will also receive benefits (essentially for those eligible for the Regulated Price Plan).

- Under the OFHP Act, the IESO will incur a monthly funding shortfall in the early years of the plan, as a portion of the GA charge to ratepayers will be deferred to the future.

- During this period, GA amounts collected from ratepayers will, therefore, be insufficient to fund the IESO's contractual obligations to electricity producers and service providers.

- The OFHP Act gives the IESO the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future (the "regulatory asset") and the ability to sell the regulatory asset (i.e., the right to recover the deferred amounts in the future) to a financing entity.
  - It is anticipated that the regulatory asset will be purchased by the financing entity to be established by OPG (OPG Trust).
  - The cash received from selling the regulatory asset will be used by the IESO to fund the incurred GA shortfall.
  - For the first four years, it [now] appears that part of the deferred amounts related to carrying costs would be funded through IESO's facility from the OFA.

- The IESO had always been expected to need short-term financing to manage initial and ongoing monthly IESO cash flow requirement timing differences.
  - Even once the OPG Trust is fully set up to borrow, there is expected to be continued timing differences between the IESO's monthly settlement process when it has to pay generators and when the Trust purchases the asset from IESO.
  - Also, under the legislation, OPG Trust is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset, which could result in longer than planned IESO draws on the credit facility, and an accumulation of a larger balance in the facility.

OFA FACILITIES FOR IESO

- An existing credit facility between the IESO and the OFA is currently available for $475 million (previously $975 million), which includes support for the current Regulated Price Plan (RPP) program. The IESO has proposed that a separate credit facility be provided to support only the FHP credit needs. A separate facility for the FHP is preferable to ensure operational efficiency and tracking of related interest costs.
- As a result, the IESO has proposed to reduce the current $975 million credit facility by $500 million and create a new FHP facility in the amount of $2 billion.
  - The $500 million reduction in the current OFA facility is to eliminate duplicate credit needs and reflects that the FHP prices for eligible consumers is being implemented through the setting of prices under the RPP.
  - Specific terms of the agreement are being negotiated between the IESO and OFA.

	Existing OFA-IESO Facility	New Proposed OFA-IESO FHP Facility
Pre-Existing Credit Facilities	$975 million	-
Reduction due to FHP	($500 million)	-
Increase due to FHP	$ -	$2,000 million
Total Credit Facilities	$475 million	$2,000 million

- The OFA facilities provided to the IESO currently have the intercept provision as required under the OFA's Lending Policy, dated April 16, 2010. The pre-existing $975 million facility (now the $475 million facility) was amended to incorporate the required intercept provision. The intercept provision is intended to provide security to the OFA in its role as a lender to public bodies.

IESO

- The IESO is a not-for-profit corporate entity established in 1998 by the Electricity Act, 1998. It is governed by an independent Board of Directors and its Chair and Directors are appointed by the Province.
- The IESO has full statute-based authority for establishing, monitoring and enforcing reliability standards in the province. All the companies that make up the power system in Ontario must meet the IESO's standards.
- Its fees and licences to operate are set by the Ontario Energy Board and it operates independently of all other participants in the electricity market.

Hi Ron

The attached deck is revised per your edits and comments. Slide 12 is a combination of a slide you had edited to explain the financial structure and the chart which you were wondering if it was needed. We thought it worked to combine the two to help explain the structure. But we can remove chart if you prefer to go without it.

Added some notes to Note pages for equity injection and IESO credit facility slides.

Context: Significant Change in Supply Mix

- Between 2005 and 2015, government invested more than $50 billion in the electricity system, including $35 billion in electricity generation to restore reliability, replace coal and meet environmental objectives.
  - Electricity costs are increasing as necessary investments are made to decarbonize and modernize the province's electricity infrastructure.

Context: Electricity Prices Have Increased

- Since 2010, electricity prices have increased at a rate higher than the Consumer Price Index (CPI).

Overview:
Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan

DRAFT

Overview: The Ontario Fair Hydro Plan ("OFHP")

- On May 31, 2017, the government passed the Ontario Fair Hydro Act, 2017, to enable the implementation of the OFHP, which will lower electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible residential customers. Eligible farms and small businesses will also receive benefits.

- The measures that make up the 25 per cent average reduction include
  - Refinancing a portion of the Global Adjustment (GA) to allocate fairly the costs of Ontario's contracts for electricity infrastructure investments over the expected lifecycle of the generation infrastructure assets.
    - The Global Adjustment recovers a portion of the commodity supply and conservation costs of electricity.
  - The Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers, for an amount equal to the provincial portion of the HST, which took effect on January 1, 2017.
  - Shifting funding of the Ontario Electricity Support Program (OESP) and Rural or Remote Rate Protection (RRRP) program from electricity ratepayers to the province.

- People with low incomes, those served by local distribution companies (LDCs) with the highest distribution costs, OESP recipients and On-Reserve First Nation households would benefit from even greater reductions to their electricity bills.

DRAFT

Overview: The Ontario Fair Hydro Plan (cont'd)

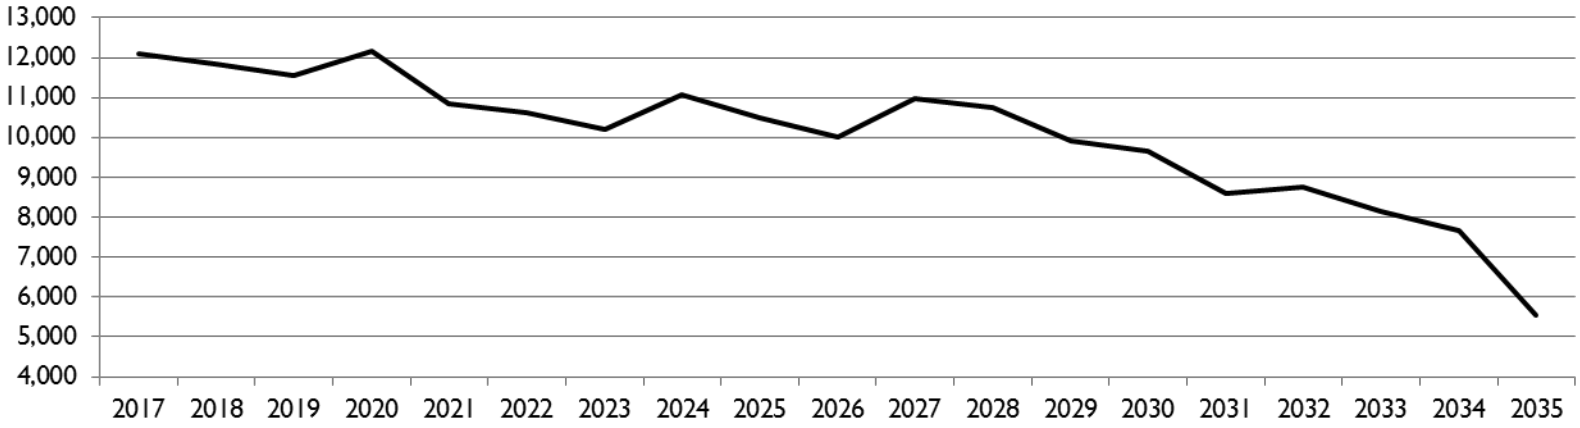
- Other measures that make up the Fair Hydro Plan include
  - Expanding the Industrial Conservation Initiative (ICI) to include electricity consumers, in the manufacturing and certain other sectors including greenhouses, with an average monthly peak demand of greater than 500 kW and less than 1 MW.
  - Expanding the OESP, by providing 50 per cent more support in the form of monthly credits for people with low incomes and increasing eligibility, effective May 1, 2017.
  - Establishing an Affordability Fund that will be accessible to LDCs for customers who do not qualify for low-income conservation programs and who are unable to undertake energy efficiency improvements without financial assistance.
  - Providing on-reserve First Nations households with a 100 per cent credit of the delivery line on their monthly electricity bills.
  - Enhancing the Rural or Remote Rate Protection (RRRP) program to provide distribution charge relief to about 800,000 customers and shift costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. This would include customers served by local distribution companies (LDCs) with the highest rates.
  - Improving energy sector efficiency and modernize the province's electricity market, building on the collaboration of the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) and the Ontario Energy Board (OEB).
- The government-funded measures (OESP, RRRP, on-reserve credits and the Affordability Fund) have been estimated to cost the government about $2.5 billion in the first three years (and would have an on-going annual cost to government).

Refinancing the Global Adjustment

Refinancing the Global Adjustment

- Refinancing the Global Adjustment (GA) provides significant and immediate rate relief by spreading the cost of electricity investments over a longer period of time.
- Under forecasts provided by the Ministry of Energy at the time of the OFHP announcement in March, the immediate reduction (i.e., the financed portion) in the GA would be about $2.5 billion per year on average over the first ten years.
- This measure would share the associated costs more fairly. The chart below shows how Global Adjustment (GA) cost is front-end loaded and forecast to decline over time.
- Energy and IESO forecasts are subject to update, including as part of the Ministry of Energy's current Long-term Energy Plan update process.

Forecast Global Adjustment Cost (nominal $ million)



Source: IESO

DRAFT

Global Adjustment Financing: Policy Rationale

- The purpose of the Global Adjustment refinancing is to
  - Ensure that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits are fairly allocated among present and future specified consumers
  - Recognize that clean energy benefits have accrued and will accrue over time and will continue to benefit present and future electricity consumers in the Province, and
  - Align clean energy costs with clean energy benefits, in order to provide fairness for specified consumers over time.
- The majority of the province's electricity generators are under 20-year contracts. Many of these generators will be able to operate past their contract term.
- By recognizing that generation assets are expected to continue to provide benefit to future ratepayers, beyond the term of current contracts, future ratepayers are expected to be able to utilize these assets and reduce the need to finance the development of new generation assets.
- In the early years, a portion of the costs covered by the GA would be financed to reduce pressure on electricity ratepayers.
- In the later years, when some system costs are expected to be reduced due to continued operation of existing assets under 20-year contracts, the cost of financing would be recovered from ratepayers through a "Clean Energy Adjustment".

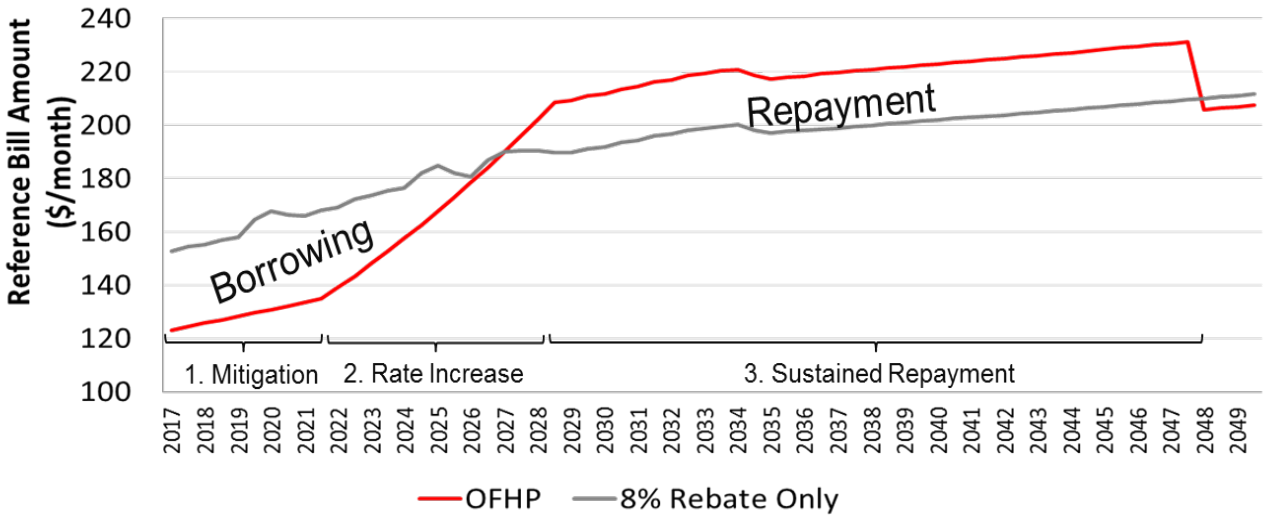
GA Financial Structure

- Through the OFHP, GA costs including refinancing costs, will be recovered from ratepayers, over a longer period of time rather than being government-funded.
  - The GA refinancing framework will be implemented through the IESO and Ontario Power generation (OPG).
- Under the OFHP, the IESO will continue to pay generators their contracted and regulated prices [A]. However a portion of the GA will be deferred in order to support the initial 25% reduction (and subsequent adjustments)
  - The IESO will set up a deferral account, vis a vis a 'regulatory asset', with a right to recover the deferred costs and financing costs under the Act.
- Under the OFHP, OPG would be able to establish a special purpose vehicle (OPG Trust) financing entity.
- Under the Act, the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) would be able to sell the 'right to collect' deferred future revenue from ratepayers to the financing entity [B] in return for cash proceeds [C].
- The funding for the financing entity would be raised from the capital markets; directly by the financing entity [D] and indirectly from OPG [E] and the Province (OFA) [F].

DRAFT

Global Adjustment Financing

- GA Financing structure and bill impacts can be thought of as having three phases (see chart below)



Phase 1: Mitigation

- 2017 bill set 25% lower than original projection (does not include 8% Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers).
- Increase in bill capped to 2% per year until 2021.

Phase 2: Rate Increase

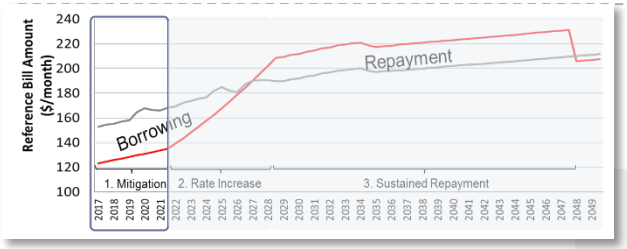
- Bill increases each year such as to avoid exceeding borrowing limit.
- Planned increases projected to end in 2028 when sustained repayment starts.

Phase 3: Sustained Repayment

- Bill remains higher than projected until 2047.
- Difference represents financing repayment.

DRAFT

GA Financing Structure: Fund Flows - Mitigation Phase



Funding OPG Trust

A. The Province borrows 44% of the deferred GA from the market.

B. The Province funnels this amount to OPG through an equity injection.

C. OPG borrows 5% of the deferred GA from the market.

D. OPG lends an amount equal to the 5% and 44% from the market and the Province, respectively, to OPG Trust.

E. OPG Trust borrows 51% of the deferred GA from the market, ending up with 100% of the total deferred GA in cash.

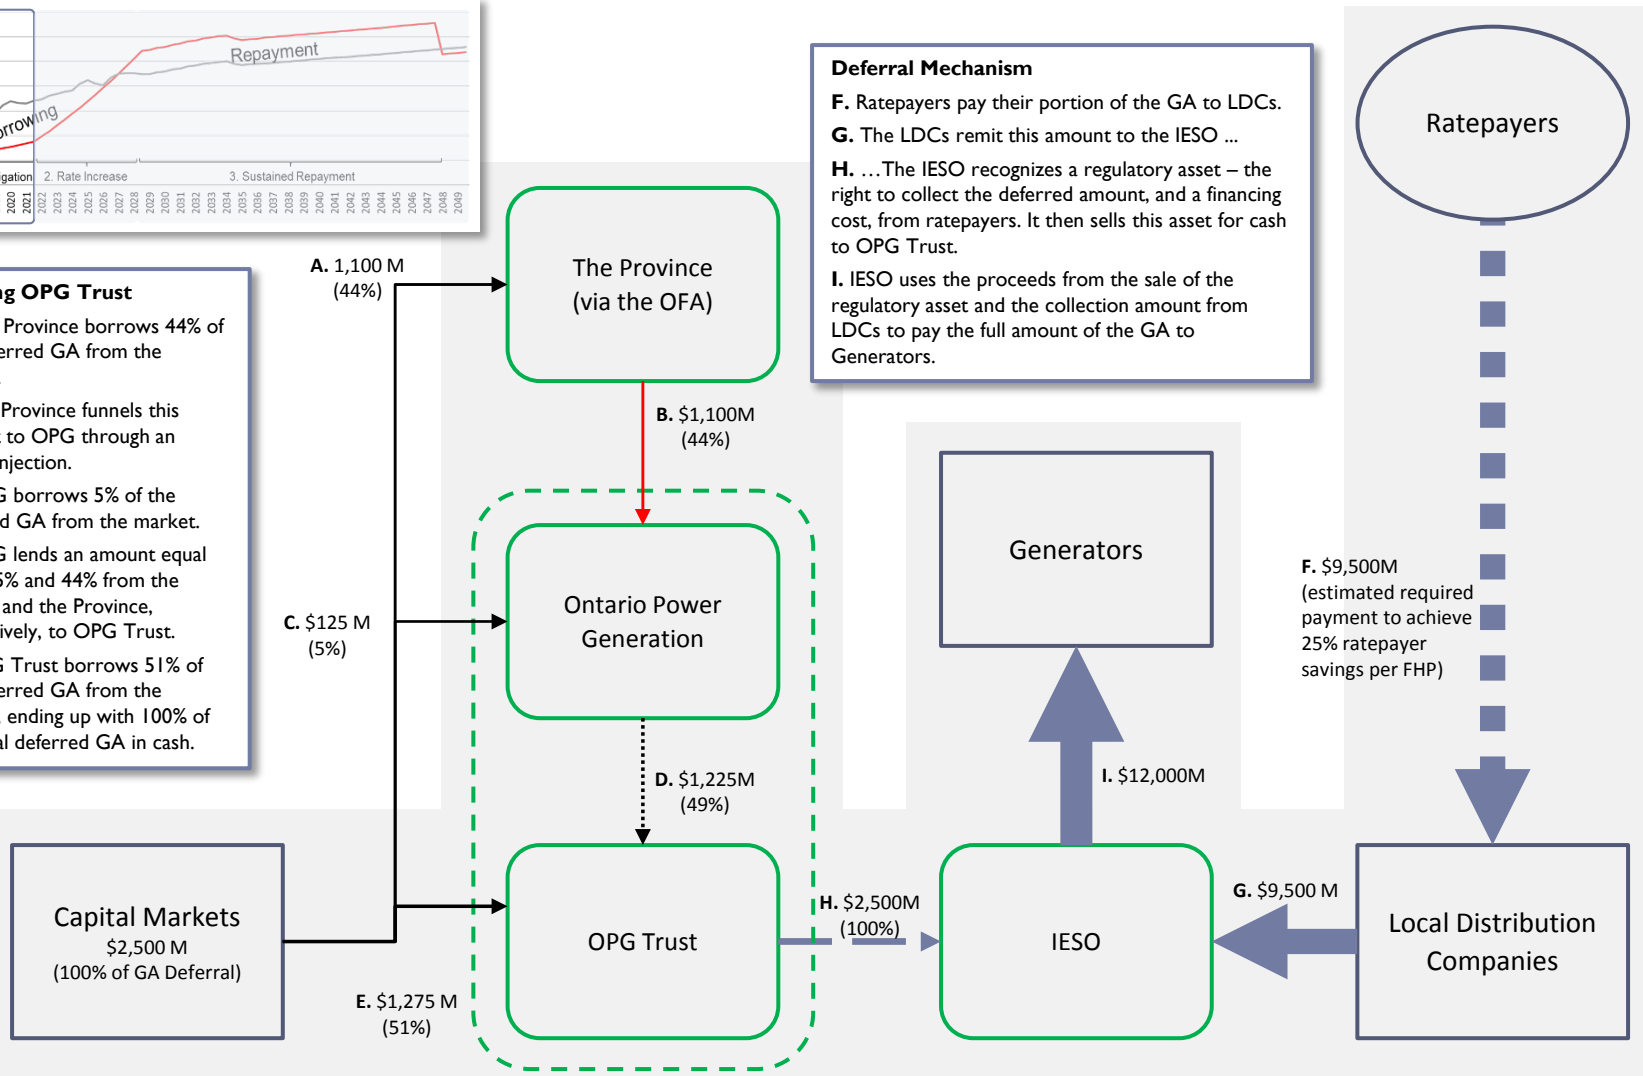
Deferral Mechanism

F. Ratepayers pay their portion of the GA to LDCs.

G. The LDCs remit this amount to the IESO …

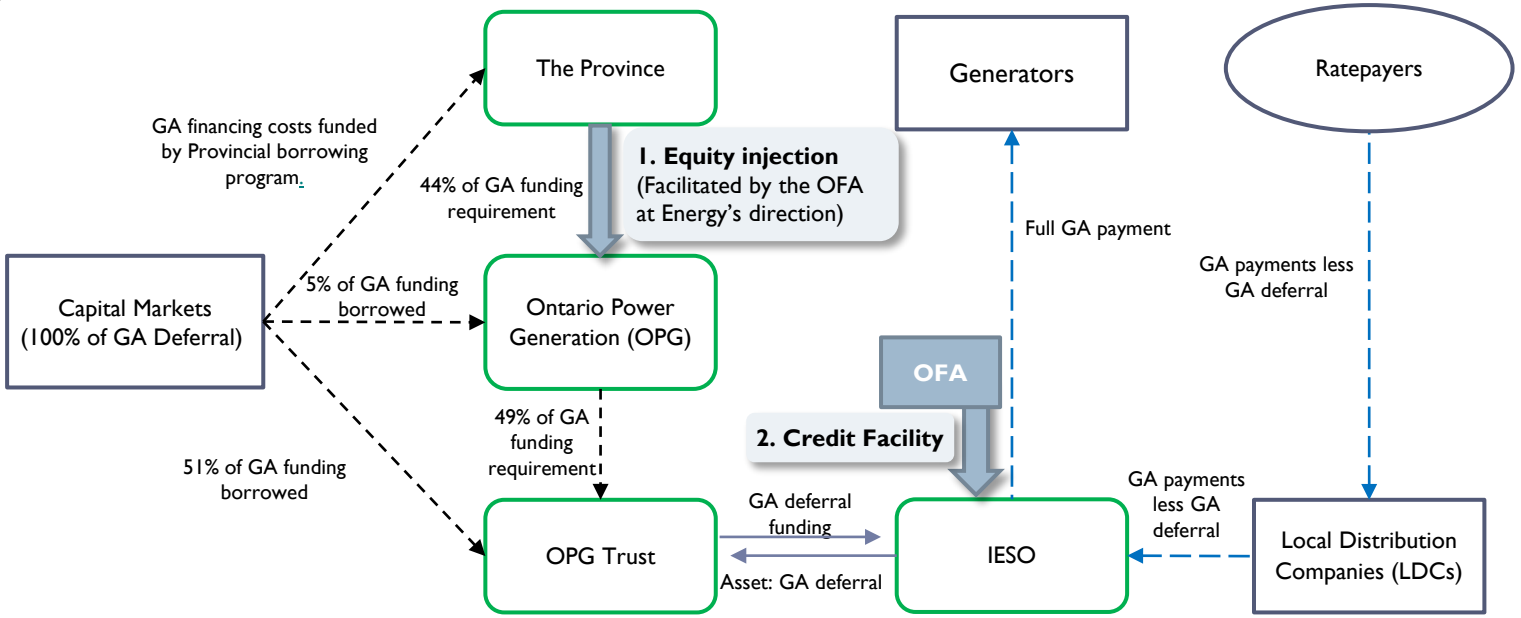
H. …The IESO recognizes a regulatory asset – the right to collect the deferred amount, and a financing cost, from ratepayers. It then sells this asset for cash to OPG Trust.

I. IESO uses the proceeds from the sale of the regulatory asset and the collection amount from LDCs to pay the full amount of the GA to Generators.



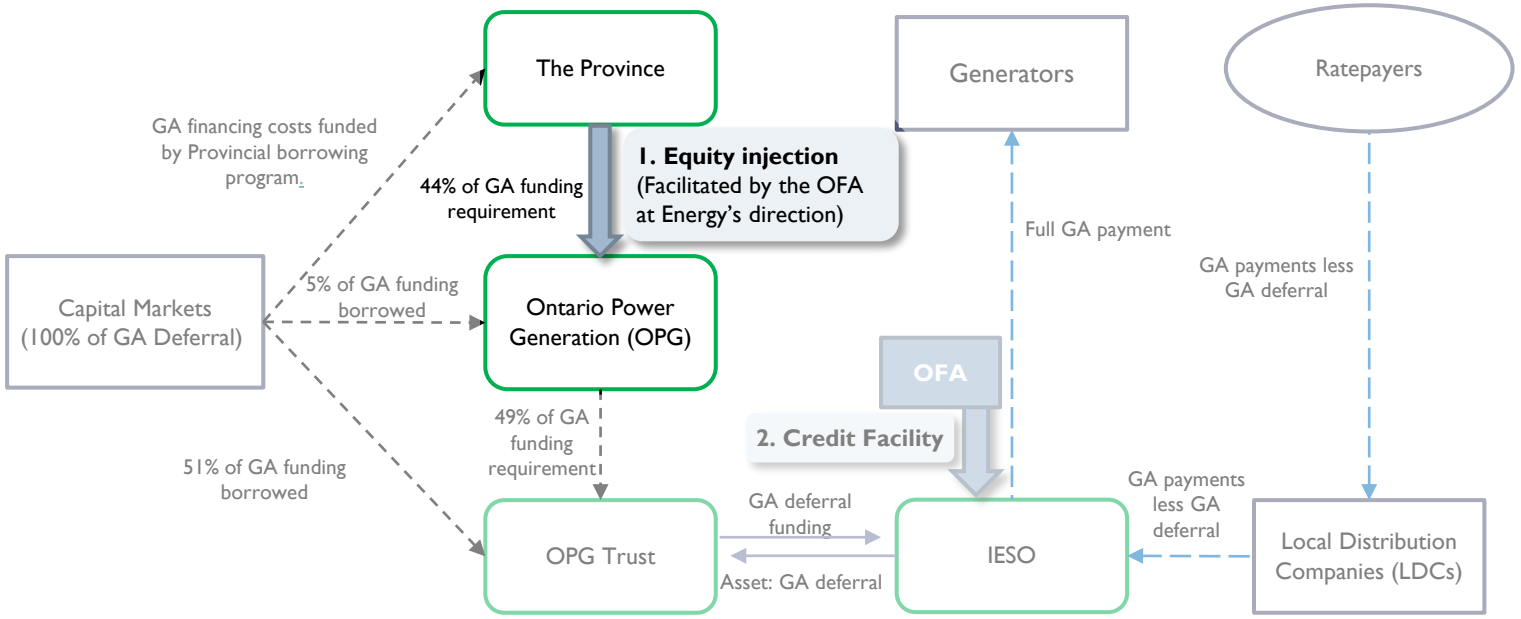
OFA Involvement with FHP Implementation

- Two aspects of the GA Financing:
  1. Facilitating the mechanism for equity injections into Ontario Power Generation. Ministry of Energy as shareholder has received an appropriation through the Treasury Board process for an operating asset expenditure to acquire the equity.
     - OFA would be borrowing to support the equity injection.
  2. Implementing a credit facility for the IESO
- The OFA's borrowing is also affected by the shift from funding the social programs from the rate base to being government-funded.



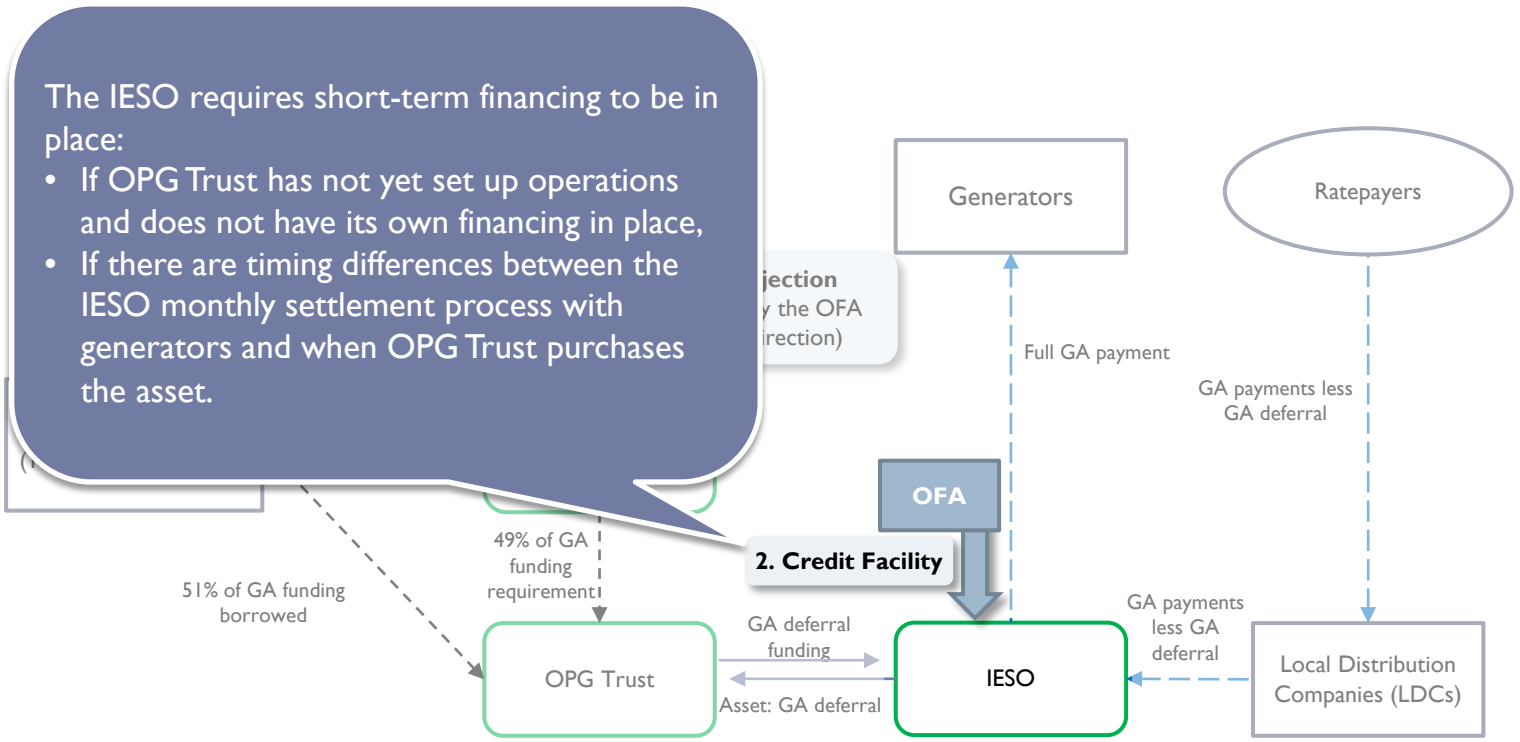
1. Equity Injection

- The 2017 Budget includes in the Ministry of Energy Estimates an investment operating asset of $1.1B related to the Province's equity injection to OPG. OPG would provide financing to the Trust through sub-ordinated debt, as part of the OPG Trust financing to regularly purchase IESO's regulatory asset through 2017-18.
- The structure would
  - increase gross debt of the Province (to finance the equity injection in OPG),
  - increase net investment in OPG (so no net debt impact),
  - increase interest on debt related to that external debt, which would be
  - offset by increased earnings of OPG from sub-debt interest revenue.



2. OFA/IESO Credit Facility

- The Fair Hydro Act, 2017 allows the IESO to sell the right to recover those deferred amounts of the global adjustment from specified consumers in the future (the "regulatory asset").
- It is anticipated that the regulatory asset would be purchased by the financing entity to be established by OPG ("OPG Trust"). The cash received would be used by the IESO to fund the current Global Adjustment shortfall.



Risks

Global Adjustment Refinancing Model Assumptions

- Projected Global Adjustment Refinancing costs are affected by actual system costs and consumption, and actual interest rates.
- Variances from these key assumptions could affect actual refinancing costs, etc.

- Interest rates
  - Higher/lower Interest rates would lead to higher/lower refinancing costs
  - For example, a 1.5 percentage point lower interest rate assumption, compared to an illustrative 5% case used by the Ministry of Energy, would halve projected accumulated interest costs, from about $25 bn to $12.7 bn.

- Electricity demand
  - Lower/higher electricity demand due to fewer consumers or lower/higher consumption among some consumers would increase/decrease Clean Energy Adjustment costs for remaining consumers.

Hi Ron

As a result of discussions at the April ARMC meeting, Bonnie Lysyk suggested that the Board consider obtaining a briefing on the Fair Hydro Plan. Angela Holtham, ARMC Chair, raised it at the April Board meeting and they agreed that they would benefit from a briefing, preferably, at the June 16th meeting. Dear Minister:

Re: Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO")
IESO Treasury Policy (version June 14, 2017)

Ontario Regulation 280/14 (the "Regulation"), as amended, prescribes requirements for the IESO regarding its treasury activities. The Regulation requires the IESO to adopt a statement setting out the IESO's investment, borrowing, and financial management policies and procedures (known herein as the "IESO Treasury Policy").

The IESO's Board of Directors approved the attached revised (black-lined to highlight the changes made) IESO Treasury Policy on June 14, 2017.

As required by the Regulation, the IESO submits the attached revised IESO Treasury Policy for your review and requests your approval of the same.

Please contact me (905.403.6944), Kimberly Marshall, IESO Chief Financial Officer (416.969.6232), or John Rattray, IESO General Counsel (416.506.2856) for any questions you or your staff may have regarding this request.

MINISTER OF FINANCE APPROVAL OF IESO'S UPDATED TREASURY POLICY

ISSUE

As prescribed under Ontario Regulation 280/14 ("Regulation") under the Electricity Act, 1998, the IESO has submitted an updated IESO Treasury Policy ("Treasury Policy") for the Minister of Finance's approval.

- Under the Regulation, the IESO is required to maintain investment, borrowing and financial management policies and procedures.
- The Treasury Policy was last approved by the Minister of Finance in 2015.
- Under the Regulation, the Minister of Finance may approve the proposed statement or refer it back to the IESO for further consideration. If the Minister of Finance does not approve the proposed statement and does not refer it back to the IESO for further consideration within 60 days, the Minister shall be deemed to have approved the IESO's proposed Treasury Policy.

RECOMMENDATION

OFA staff have reviewed the changes proposed to the Treasury Policy and recommend that it be approved.

- The changes proposed would permit IESO borrowing facilities to be used to ensure funding of any amounts resulting from or required under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act").
- No fiscal costs to the government are anticipated from the approval of the proposed updated policy as the IESO will continue its operations and cost recovery under the OFHP Act and from the Ontario Energy Board.

KEY CHANGES IN THE TREASURY POLICY

The revised Treasury Policy incorporates the following two changes:

1. Permit borrowings to ensure funding of any amounts resulting from or required under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.
    - This change is a result of the recent passing of the OFHP Act.
2. Increase counterparty exposure to Schedule A Canadian Banks from the current $420million to $500 million, an increase of $80 million exposure per counterparty.
    - This ensures that the IESO has flexibility to efficiently manage its cash accounts as evolving business requires IESO to manage increased levels of cash flows and seek appropriate short-term investments.

CONSIDERATIONS

- On May 31, 2017, the government passed the OFHP Act to enable the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan, which will lower electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible residential customers. Eligible farms and small businesses will also receive benefits (essentially for those eligible for the Regulated Price Plan).
- Under the OFHP Act, in the early years of the plan a portion of the Global Adjustment charge to ratepayers will be deferred for recovery to the future and the IESO will incur a monthly funding shortfall.

- The IESO under the OFHP Act has a right to recover the deferred charges (or "regulatory asset"), which is expected to be sold by IESO to a financing entity established by OPG.
- Although IESO will not need long-term borrowing for its role in this process, it is expected to need short-term financing.
    - There is expected to be initial and ongoing IESO cash flow requirement timing differences.
        - The OPG SPV is not anticipated to be established and able to borrow to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset from the IESO until later in 2017 (planned for later in summer 2017; however, exact timing is subject to actual implementation).
        - Even once the SPV is set up to borrow, there is expected to be timing differences between the IESO's monthly settlement process when it has to pay generators and when the SPV purchases the asset from IESO.
        - Also, under the legislation, OPG's SPV is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset.
    - The IESO is expected to enter into a revolving credit agreement with the Ontario Financing Authority to manage these cash flow timing differences.
- Furthermore, the IESO, as a settlement agency, collects funds from electricity users and makes payments to generators, transmitters and conservation programs. These balances are deposited in accounts for a period ranging from a few days to a few months. Interest revenue is earned by the IESO.
    - IESO has stated that since the market price of electricity has increased since 2014 by 16%-19%, it has resulted in IESO managing increased levels of cash flows. This larger limit allows IESO to better manage these increasing cash flows.

BACKGROUND

- The IESO and the former Ontario Power Authority (OPA) merged on January 1, 2015, into an amalgamated entity, also called the IESO.
- Prior to the amalgamation, the IESO was not subject to any regulations pertaining to its borrowing and investment activities. However, the former OPA was subject to Ontario Regulation 423/04 which provided oversight on the OPA's investment and borrowing activities and required that the OPA submit to the Minister of Finance its Treasury Policy, and any subsequent changes, for approval.
- In December 2014, Ontario Regulation 423/04 was repealed and replaced in December 2014 with Ontario Regulation 280/14 which outlines the specific parameters governing the IESO's investment and borrowing activities.
- On June 15, 2015, LRC and Cabinet approved amendments to Ontario Regulation 280/14 to allow the IESO to continue its normal business operations including continued investment in securities that have been issued or guaranteed by the federal US government, manage foreign exchange risk, and continue managing its pension plans as it has in the past without any additional restrictions.
- Given that the IESO's financial results are fully consolidated on the books of the Province, and that the IESO has credit facilities with the Province (through OEFC and OFA), the regulation is intended to provide the Minister of Finance with oversight over the financial investment and borrowing plans of the amalgamated entity.

- The regulation also allows the IESO to borrow for general corporate purposes (which includes borrowing for pension contributions, capital expenditures, etc.), consistent with the terms of its credit facility with the Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC).

MEMORANDUM TO: Scott Thompson
Deputy Minister of Finance

FROM: Gadi Mayman
Chief Executive Officer

SUBJECT: Minister's Approval of IESO's Treasury Policy

Attached for your review and consideration is a memo to the Minister of Finance recommending the Minister of Finance to approve the Independent Electricity System Operator's (IESO) Treasury Policy.

As prescribed under Ontario Regulation 280/14 ("Regulation") under the Electricity Act, 1998, the IESO has submitted an updated IESO Treasury Policy ("Treasury Policy") for the Minister of Finance's approval.

Under the Regulation, the Minister of Finance may approve the proposed statement or refer it back to the IESO for further consideration. If the Minister of Finance does not approve the proposed statement and does not refer it back to the IESO for further consideration within 60 days, the Minister shall be deemed to have approved the IESO's proposed Treasury Policy.

The revised Treasury Policy incorporates the following two changes:

1. Permit borrowings to ensure funding of any amounts resulting from or required under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.
    - This change is a result of the recent passing of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

    - This ensures that the IESO has flexibility to efficiently manage its cash accounts as evolving business and increasing electricity prices in recent years requires IESO to manage increased levels of cash flows and seek appropriate short-term investments.

No fiscal costs to the government are anticipated from the approval of the policy as the IESO will continue its operations and cost recovery from the Ontario Energy Board as usual.

Attached is a briefing note for your consideration, as well as an approval letter for the Minister's signature. OFA staff are available should you require a further briefing or have any questions.

Hi Ron,

Please find attached the final package of the Minister's Directive for IESO credit facility.

Regards,

IESO FAIR HYDRO PLAN CREDIT FACILITY
MINISTER OF FINANCE LENDING DIRECTIVE

The Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) has requested a revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion from the Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA") to support its role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act"). To accommodate this request, the OFA requires a Lending Directive from the Minister of Finance.

- The IESO is requesting the credit facility be in place by July 1, 2017, with an initial term of 5-years plus a contingency of three months (effectively expiring on September 30, 2022).

RECOMMENDATION

- OFA staff recommend the Minister sign the Lending Directive allowing the OFA to lend to the IESO.
  - This will help the IESO to fulfil the commitments under the OFHP Act as the IESO will have to finance short to medium term funding shortfalls in the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

MINISTER'S DIRECTIVE

Minister of Finance's Lending Directive would authorize the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion with a maturity date of September 30, 2022. The Lending Directive will also include the following conditions:

- The interest rate charged to IESO on all advances will be based on the Province's cost of funds plus a twenty-five basis point (0.25%) spread, consistent with the spread for current and past OFA credit facilities for the IESO.
- The credit facility agreement shall be subject to such other terms as the OFA deems appropriate from time to time.

FISCAL IMPACT

- There would be a relatively small but positive fiscal impact for the Province as a result of this credit facility.
  - The Province receives a small fiscal benefit by adding 25 basis points (i.e., 0.25%) to the Province's cost of funds provided to the IESO under the facility, which should more than offset any administrative cost impact on the OFA and Province.
  - The actual amount is expected to be small, as the IESO is expected to make draws for short periods to bridge brief timing differences in cash flows.
- Both the IESO and OFA are consolidated with the Province on a line by line basis. For the OFA and the Province, costs associated with the credit facility are recovered from the IESO. For the IESO, principal and interest associated with the credit facility are ultimately recovered from electricity ratepayers.
  - Notwithstanding this, recovery from electricity ratepayers is determined by the Ontario Energy Board. If IESO cannot sell the regulatory asset created under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, to a financing entity as per the Act, the IESO will have this revolving debt that can only begin to be repaid once ratepayers begin to pay down the deferred Global Adjustment amount.

DETAILS AND ANALYSIS

- On May 31, 2017, the government passed the OFHP Act to enable the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan, which will lower electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible residential customers. Eligible farms and small businesses will also receive benefits (essentially for those eligible for the Regulated Price Plan).

- Under the OFHP Act, the IESO will incur a monthly funding shortfall in the early years of the plan, as a portion of the Global Adjustment ("GA") charge to ratepayers will be deferred to the future.
- During this period, GA amounts collected from ratepayers will, therefore, be insufficient to fund the IESO's contractual obligations to electricity producers and service providers.
- The OFHP Act gives the IESO the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future (the "regulatory asset") and the ability to sell the regulatory asset (i.e., the right to recover the deferred amounts in the future) to a financing entity.
  - It is anticipated that the regulatory asset will be purchased by the financing entity to be established by OPG ("OPG SPV", an OPG special purpose vehicle or trust).
  - The cash received from selling the regulatory asset will be used by the IESO to fund the incurred GA shortfall.
- IESO is expected to need short-term financing to manage initial and ongoing monthly IESO cash flow requirement timing differences.
  - The OPG SPV is not anticipated to be established and able to borrow to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset from the IESO until later in 2017 (planned for later in summer 2017; however, exact timing is subject to actual implementation).
  - Even once the SPV is set up to borrow, there is expected to be timing differences between the IESO's monthly settlement process when it has to pay generators and when the SPV purchases the asset from IESO.
  - Also, under the legislation, OPG's SPV is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset, which could result in longer than planned IESO draws on the credit facility.

Current Status

- An existing credit facility between the IESO and the OFA is currently available for $975 million, which includes support for the current Regulated Price Plan (RPP) program. The IESO has proposed that a separate and additional credit facility be provided to support only the FHP credit needs. A separate facility for the FHP is preferable to ensure operational efficiency and tracking of related interest costs.
- As a result, the IESO has proposed to reduce the current $975 million credit facility by $500 million and create a new FHP facility in the amount of $2 billion.
  - The $500 million reduction in the current OFA facility is to eliminate duplicate credit needs and reflects that the FHP prices for eligible consumers is being implemented through the setting of prices under the RPP.
  - Specific terms of the agreement are being negotiated between the IESO and OFA.

	Existing OFA-IESO Facility	New Proposed OFA-IESO FHP Facility
Current Credit Facilities	$975 million	-
Reduction due to FHP	($500 million)	-
Increase due to FHP	$ -	$2,000 million
Total Credit Facilities	$475 million	$2,000 million

BACKGROUND

- The IESO is a not-for-profit corporate entity established in 1998 by the Electricity Act, 1998. It is governed by an independent Board of Directors and its Chair and Directors are appointed by the Province.
- The IESO has full statute-based authority for establishing, monitoring and enforcing reliability standards in the province. All the companies that make up the power system in Ontario must meet the IESO's standards.
- Its fees and licences to operate are set by the Ontario Energy Board and it operates independently of all other participants in the electricity market.

- As a result, the IESO has proposed to reduce the current $975 million credit facility by $500 million and create a new FHP facility in the amount of $2 billion.
- The $500 million reduction in the current OFA facility is to eliminate duplicate credit needs and reflects that the FHP prices for eligible consumers is being implemented through the setting of prices under the RPP.

Attached is a briefing note for your consideration, as well as a Lending Directive for the your signature that would direct OFA to provide a $2 billion revolving credit facility to the IESO, with a maturity date of September 30, 2022, an interest rate of Province's cost of funds plus a twenty-five basis point spread which is consistent with the spread for current and past OFA credit facilities for the IESO, and any other terms the OFA deems appropriate.

Should a briefing be required, staff would be pleased to discuss this matter at your convenience.

DIRECTIVE

MINISTER OF FINANCE

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR CREDIT FACILITY

To: Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA")

Whereas:

Under the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), the OFA provides financing to public bodies as directed by the Minister of Finance.

The Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"), a public body for the purposes of CIPA, has requested funding from the OFA to support the IESO's role in the implementation and administration of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP").

In order to fulfil the Province's commitments under the OFHP, it is desirable for the Minister of Finance to provide direction to the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility for the purposes of providing short to medium term financing related to the OFHP.

Therefore:

Pursuant to sub-section 16(2) of CIPA, the OFA is directed to lend to the IESO under a revolving credit facility (the "Line of Credit") for the purpose of short to medium term financing related to the IESO's implementation of the OFHP, an aggregate principal amount of up to CAD $2 billion.

The Line of Credit shall be subject to the following terms:

- The Line of Credit shall be evidenced by an agreement between the IESO and the OFA containing terms and conditions consistent with this Directive (the "Credit Agreement").

- Interest on the Line of Credit shall be payable at a rate equal to the Province's cost of funds based on the terms of the Credit Agreement, and as determined by the Chief Executive Officer of the OFA or the Assistant Deputy Minister, Corporate and Electricity Finance Division, OFA, or a person designated by either of them, plus a twenty-five (25) basis point spread.

- All amounts outstanding under the Line of Credit shall be repaid in full on or before the date no later than September 30, 2022.

- The Line of Credit shall be subject to such other terms as the OFA deems appropriate from time to time.

MINISTER OF ENERGY REQUEST FOR SECTION 28 APPROVAL FOR INDEMNITY AGREEMENTS IN FAVOUR OF OPG AND IESO FOR THEIR PARTICIPATION UNDER THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN ACT

ISSUE

The Minister of Energy is requesting approval from the Minister of Finance, pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") to enter into Indemnity Agreements ("Agreements"), on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG"), and its subsidiaries (excluding a subsidiary that is a financing entity) and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") with respect to their roles in carrying out the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan ("OFHP") under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act"). The indemnities would extend to the directors, officers and employees of these entities, and, directors, officers, trustees and/or employees of a financing entity, if he or she is also a director, officer or employee of OPG or one of its subsidiaries.

Section 28 of the FAA requires that all ministries and public entities request the prior written approval of the Minister of Finance or the President of the Treasury Board for any transaction or commitment that would directly or indirectly increase the indebtedness or contingent liabilities of Ontario.

RECOMMENDATION

- It is recommended that the Minister of Finance approve, pursuant to Section 28 of the FAA, the Ministry of Energy's request to provide indemnities and waivers, on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation (OPG) and the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) in the forms requested (the "Indemnity Agreements" and individually an "Indemnity Agreement".
- Both IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan.
- In order to support the successful implementation of the OFHP Act, it is recommended by the Minister of Energy that the Minister of Finance approve this request.

WHAT IS THE MINISTER BEING ASKED TO SIGN?

The Minister is being asked to sign the section 28 approval forms and the transmittal letter to Glenn Thibeault, Minister of Energy.

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED INDEMNITIES

This summary of the OPG/IESO Indemnity Agreement sets out why indemnities are being sought, who is being indemnified, for what, and also addresses the proposed waiver of claims, whereby the Province agrees not to bring certain claims against the indemnified parties.

Why are indemnities being sought?

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the OFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the OFHP.

Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandates. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith" (see Appendix A for details on potential risks and Appendix B for details on limitations to existing protections to IESO, OPG and directors, officers and employees).

Who the Indemnity Applies to

The indemnity is being given in favour of "Protected Persons" which comprises IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries (excluding the financing entity) as well as their respective directors, officers and employees.

In the case of directors, officers and employees of OPG and its subsidiaries, they could also be indemnified for activities undertaken on behalf of an entity that is not included in the definition of Protected Persons where they are doing so in the implementation of the OFHP or for OPG's role as Financial Services Manager of a financing entity, for example, signing documents on behalf of a financing entity that is a trust at the request of OPG or acting as directors, officers or employees of entities that are carved out of the Indemnity Agreement, where they are doing so in the implementation of the OFHP and are also a director, officer or employee of OPG or any of OPG's subsidiaries.

What Indemnities are being provided?

Protected Persons are being indemnified against all losses, costs, damages and other expenses for any amount for which they incur damages in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim that relates to any act or omission that the Protected Person undertakes in relationship to the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Protected Persons are indemnified for regular and punitive as well as a broad range of other types of damages that are not always included in an indemnity, such as consequential damages and economic losses. The indemnity also covers costs and expenses for the Protected Persons in defending themselves against a claim. These indemnities are for any act or omission and activity that relates to the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Indemnity Agreements provide that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnities contained therein to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity. The indemnities provided in the Indemnity Agreements also apply where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.

The indemnities do not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or wilful misconduct of the Protected Person. It is also explicitly carved out of this exception that a failure to conduct reasonable due diligence investigation will not in itself constitute gross negligence or wilful misconduct, which narrows the exception in the context of disclosure and activities relating to issuing securities in public markets such that failing to conduct due diligence will not necessarily invalidate the Indemnity.

Scope of liability in the indemnities

The Indemnity Agreement provides that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnities contained therein to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity (though to the extent that the Protected Person makes a claim on an indemnity that creates a loss for another Protected Person, such as OPG and its subsidiaries and the IESO, such other Protected Person may make a claim under an Indemnity Agreement). The indemnities provided in the Indemnity Agreement also apply where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.

The indemnities contained in the Indemnity Agreement do not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or wilful misconduct of the Protected Person. It is also explicitly carved out of this exception that a failure to conduct reasonable due diligence investigation will not in itself constitute gross negligence or wilful misconduct, which narrows the exception in the context of disclosure and activities relating to issuing securities in public markets such that failing to conduct due diligence will not necessarily invalidate the Indemnity.

Waiver of claim provision

The waiver of claims provision provides that the Province will not make a claim against a Protected Person who is an individual (i.e., does not apply to OPG/IESO or subsidiaries) relating to any activities associated with the Fair Hydro Plan.

The waiver of claims provision does not apply to claims for wilful misconduct, dishonesty or gross negligence.

Notification of Claims

The Indemnity Agreement sets out how the Protected Person should notify the Province of any claims, and how any proceedings should be dealt with amongst the parties, as well as how any expenses and amounts should be paid during the determination of the claim.

Provincial Warranty

The Indemnity Agreement includes a warranty section given by the Province. In this section the Province Warrants that it has the authority and capacity, and has taken all necessary steps to enter into the Indemnity Agreement.

- This is an unusual provision, but likely relates to the fact that the Province is not the employer of the indemnified party, or the officers and directors are not the officers and directors of the Province.

KEY CONSIDERATIONS AND RISKS

The Indemnity Agreements give an indemnity for a broader range of actions than those that are usually given to indemnitees of the Province, specifically by giving an indemnity for actions that are not in the best interest of the corporation and may not be in good faith;

The Indemnity Agreements extend to the OPG and the IESO as corporations, beyond the more normal practice of indemnifying directors, officers and employees; and also extends to subsidiaries of the OPG, excluding financing entities under the OFHP Act.

The Indemnity Agreements include a waiver of claims with respect to indemnitees who are individuals by the Province as shareholder, meaning that except for gross negligence, dishonesty and wilful misconduct, the Province cannot bring an action against an indemnified individual.

Potential Fiscal Impact

The Ministry of Energy states that the risk of the Province providing the Indemnity Agreements is undeterminable and unquantifiable at this time, due to uncertainty around possible claims under the Indemnities. The Ministry of Energy notes, however, the risk is mitigated by the existence of statutory immunities under the Electricity Act, 1998, for IESO, and under the OFHP Act, for OPG, (see further discussion below), pre-existing protection for director and officers under insurance and the limitation of indemnity to claims arising from IESO's and OPG's respective roles in implementing the OFHP.

Because the Indemnity Agreements are not capped the Provincial exposure is not limited and will extend to the extent of any claim that is covered by the Indemnity Agreements.

The Ministry of Energy notes that in the event that an indemnity claim does arise and a payment is required, the Ministry would be unlikely to be able to support these payments and would need to return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation.

Accounting Treatment

There is a risk associated with the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA Financing portion of the OFHP. With the Province providing guarantee agreements, financial support through credit facilities and the proposed agreements to indemnify the IESO and OPG, the case for the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA structure could be weakened.

OPCD has confirmed that OPG has received advice that the accounting treatment will be consistent with the GA Financing Structure. IESO is expected to also confirm the same.

The Minister of Energy had initially considered limiting the indemnities to directors and officers. However, IESO and OPG both have indicated that they require their respective indemnity cover their corporations as well (and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries) given the nature of the risks they face.

Previous Direction on Indemnity for IESO and OPG

There is no existing specific Cabinet direction for the Ministry of Energy to provide the requested Indemnities to IESO and OPG.

Insofar as IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, providing the requested indemnities will support implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Treasury Board Assessment Note of June 13, 2017, included reference to the indemnities required by OPG and IESO.

Other protections and assurances are currently being discussed under a Provincial Support Agreement that would include indemnities for the Financing Entity against claims from creditors as a result of government amending or repealing the Act or court rulings adversely affecting the rights and interest of the Financing Entity and performance assurances from the Province for the IESO and electricity vendors.

DESCRIPTION OF RISK AND RISK MITIGATION

The ONFHP is a novel program, and as a financing structure it is the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG (and OPG's subsidiaries where applicable) and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporations face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments (see further details on risks in Appendix A).

The exact nature and scope of the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but the risk of liability for the Province arising may be low, with respect to directors, officers and employees, as any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

- In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but does not eliminate such risk.
- In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Act may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but does not eliminate such risk.
- The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in relation to implementing the ONFHP.
- The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided under insurance, to the extent already paid under such insurance.
- The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

Although there is a provision in the Indemnity Agreements that provides that a claim relating to the OFHP should initially be made on any indemnity that is already in place from the IESO or OPG for the benefit of their respective directors, officers or employees before making a claim on the Province's indemnity, if the IESO or OPG suffer a loss because they have indemnified such director, officer or employee they would be able to make a claim under an Indemnity Agreement. Thus, the Province would, to the extent such a claim was not covered by an insurance policy, be liable for such a loss of the IESO or OPG.

With respect to the corporations themselves (and in the case of OPG, its Subsidiaries as well) the risk may be higher, but is undeterminable at this time. The likelihood of risk to the Province is characterized as medium, given that OPG and IESO have not identified any insurance or indemnities that would cover the corporations themselves (or in the case of OPG, the Subsidiaries themselves) in the event that such liability arises, nor is statutory protection provided for the corporations themselves.

BACKGROUND

On March 2, 2017, the government announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "OFHP"), under which the government will take steps to lower electricity bills [on an after-tax basis] by 25 per cent on average for a typical residential customer, starting July 1, 2017, relative to what the bills would otherwise have been without the OFHP.

Changes to refinance a portion of the Global Adjustment ("GA") are a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the OFHP. This includes roles for both IESO and OPG:

IESO – legislation imposes certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities to implement the OFHP such as the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to deferred costs and the GA financing component of the OFHP, the conveyance of that asset to a financing entity (expected to be established by OPG) and providing a servicing role in recovering the financing entity's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO.

OPG – OPG is expected to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset, related to deferred costs, through a financing entity that OPG creates. OPG considers risks associated with these OFHP-related activities to be beyond OPG's usual business/operations. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.

The 25 per cent rate relief also includes the rebate amount equivalent to the 8 per cent Provincial portion of the HST that has been in effect since January 1, 2017 under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016, and the expected savings from the shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to being funded by the Province.

APPENDIX A

Potential Risks Related to OPG/IESO Roles in Implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Electricity Act, 1998 ("EA") has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the ONFHP. This amendment was designed to ensure that OPG could participate in the ONFHP. OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA will be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity as defined in the Act) is expected to finance.

In carrying out this role, OPG will be carrying out activities that fall outside of its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation. As a result, OPG, its directors, officers, and employees may be faced with increased risk of liability. Examples of such risks related to financing, include without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

OPG and its Subsidiaries, and their respective directors, officers, employees may also be faced with risk of liability to:

- underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities
- the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets)
- counterparties to agreements (e.g. the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust or IESO)
- other stakeholders (the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees) of OPG if OPG (or any Subsidiary of it) is liable for any claim or obligation and cannot meet its obligations to these stakeholders as a result of such claims.
- Regulators (e.g. the Ontario Securities Commission)

- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its Subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate OPG and OPG's Subsidiaries in undertaking their role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Act also imposes certain obligations and requirements on the IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entities and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. The IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entities. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. The IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Other examples of sources/activities giving rise to increased risk of liability for the IESO, its directors, officers and employees include the following:

- Investors in any ONFHP investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors, as well as any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and/or IESO being involved;
- OPG (or the financing entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of the regulatory asset and servicing of the investment asset, and related activities;
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity (e.g. short pay);
- Taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities;
- Securities commissions regulators (U.S./Canada); and
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Province in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

APPENDIX B

Why Indemnities are being sought and limitations to protection under statutory protections and/or Insurance

Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities is required in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

Even if the corporate mandates of OPG and the IESO were updated to include their role in implementing the ONFHP, this may not eliminate the risk of the types of liabilities outlined above completely, particularly due to the novelty of the ONFHP and the types of roles that OPG and IESO will be taking on. For example, persons could still challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG or the IESO as a party to such challenge.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith". Generally speaking the Indemnities are intended to provide the Protected Persons with indemnification for losses/liabilities, including those for potentially "bad faith acts", unless any such acts arise as a result of the Protected Persons' dishonesty, gross negligence, or wilful misconduct. As described below in subsection (ii), the statutory protections also do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. The statutory protections also do not extend to the corporations themselves.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(1) of the Act, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under the Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Act provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO's and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors, or officers so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the Protected Persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

Insurance and indemnities that the IESO and OPG currently provide to its directors, officers and employees may not fully cover risk

OPG –Insurance and Indemnities

Currently, OPG has indicated that it maintains Directors and Officers liability insurance ("D&O Insurance") with limits of USD $110 Million. The D&O Insurance includes persona coverage (side A) and corporate reimbursement coverage (side B). Under the side A coverage, OPG has advised that the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the insured person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such insured person. The full $110 Million limit is available for side A coverage.

Under side B coverage, OPG has advised that the policy reimburses the organization for losses incurred to indemnify an insured person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500,000.

OPG has advised that directors and officers have priority of payments over the organization for the entire $110M limit.

While this insurance provides coverage for directors and officers of OPG, there is no similar coverage provided for OPG's employees. Further, any liability stated over the maximum amounts would not be covered by the insurance policy. Pursuant to section 2(a) of the IESO Indemnity and section 3(a) of the OPG Indemnity, a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

OPG has indicated that they provide their directors an indemnity but not to their directors or employees. OPG has not provided information about the scope of this indemnity. However, the Indemnities provide that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified. This language is meant to ensure that the covered losses under the Indemnities will be covered by other applicable indemnities first, before being covered by this indemnity.

OPG has not provided any information about insurance coverage and indemnities that its subsidiaries provide to their directors, officers and employees.

IESO – Insurance and Indemnities

The IESO has informed that it carries Directors & Officers insurance providing a maximum $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are also included in the definition of Individual Insureds. The IESO also carries Professional liability insurance providing a maximum $75 million limit.

Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has informed that it has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

Existing Indemnities to OPG and IESO from the Province

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. We are not aware of any indemnities provided to the IESO by the Province.

MEMORANDUM TO: Scott Thompson
Deputy Minister of Finance

FROM: Gadi Mayman
Chief Executive Officer

SUBJECT: Section 28 Approval for Indemnity Agreements In Favour of OPG and IESO

Attached for your review and consideration is a memo to the Minister of Finance recommending that the Minister approve, pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (FAA), the Ministry of Energy's request to provide indemnities in favour of Ontario Power Generation (OPG) and the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) to support their participation in the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act").

In implementing the OFHP, OPG and the IESO expect to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandates. They believe this could subject them to the risk of claims that they are not acting in the best interest of the corporation or in "good faith" with respect to their obligations to their respective corporations.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the OFHP Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith"). The Indemnity Agreements requested under this request would ensure that if a claim is brought against OPG, OPG's subsidiaries (except for a financing entity), the IESO or their respective directors, officers and employees as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc., subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnity Agreements.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan.

Ministry of Energy states that the risk of the Province providing the indemnities is undeterminable and unquantifiable at this time, due to uncertainty around possible claims under the Indemnities. However, the risk is mitigated by the existence of statutory immunities under the Electricity Act, 1998, for IESO, and under the OFHP Act, for OPG, pre-existing protection for director, officers and employees under insurance and the limitation of indemnity to claims arising from IESO's and OPG's respective roles in implementing the OFHP.

Ministry of Energy also notes that in the event that an indemnity claim does arise and a payment is required, they would be unlikely to be able to support these payments and would need to return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation.

Below is a brief summary of the indemnities:

- The indemnity is being given in favour of "Protected Persons" which comprises IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries (excluding the financing entity) as well as their respective directors, officers and employees.
- In the case of directors, officers and employees of OPG and its subsidiaries, they could also be indemnified for activities undertaken on behalf of an entity that is not included in the definition of Protected Persons where they are doing so in the implementation of the OFHP or for OPG's role as Financial Services Manager of a financing entity.
- The Indemnity Agreement provides that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnities to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity.
- The indemnity also applies where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.
- The indemnity does not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or wilful misconduct of the Protected Person.
- The Indemnity Agreement includes a waiver of claim provision. This additionally provides that the Province will not make a claim against a Protected Person who is an individual (i.e., does not apply to OPG/IESO or subsidiaries) relating to any activities associated with the Fair Hydro Plan.

MEMORANDUM TO: The Honourable Charles Sousa
Minister of Finance

FROM: Scott Thompson
Deputy Minister

SUBJECT: Section 28 Approval for Indemnity Agreements in Favour of OPG and IESO

Attached for your review and consideration is a memo to the Minister of Finance recommending that the Minister approve, pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (FAA), the Ministry of Energy's request to provide indemnities in favour of Ontario Power Generation (OPG) and the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) to support their participation in the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act").

In implementing the OFHP, OPG and the IESO expect to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandates. They believe this could subject them to the risk of claims that they are not acting in the best interest of the corporation or in "good faith" with respect to their obligations to their respective corporations.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the OFHP Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith"). The Indemnity Agreements requested under this request would ensure that if a claim is brought against OPG, OPG's subsidiaries (except for a financing entity), the IESO or their respective directors, officers and employees as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc., subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnity Agreements.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan.

Ministry of Energy states that the risk of the Province providing the indemnities is undeterminable and unquantifiable at this time, due to uncertainty around possible claims under the Indemnities. However, the risk is mitigated by the existence of statutory immunities under the Electricity Act, 1998, for IESO, and under the OFHP Act, for OPG, pre-existing protection for director, officers and employees under insurance and the limitation of indemnity to claims arising from IESO's and OPG's respective roles in implementing the OFHP.

Ministry of Energy also notes that in the event that an indemnity claim does arise and a payment is required, they would be unlikely to be able to support these payments and would need to return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation.

Below is a brief summary of the indemnities:

- The indemnity is being given in favour of "Protected Persons" which comprises IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries (excluding the financing entity) as well as their respective directors, officers and employees.
- In the case of directors, officers and employees of OPG and its subsidiaries, they could also be indemnified for activities undertaken on behalf of an entity that is not included in the definition of Protected Persons where they are doing so in the implementation of the OFHP or for OPG's role as Financial Services Manager of a financing entity.
- The Indemnity Agreement provides that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnities to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity.
- The indemnity also applies where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.
- The indemnity does not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or wilful misconduct of the Protected Person.
- The Indemnity Agreement includes a waiver of claim provision. This additionally provides that the Province will not make a claim against a Protected Person who is an individual (i.e., does not apply to OPG/IESO or subsidiaries) relating to any activities associated with the Fair Hydro Plan.

Dear Minister Thibeault,

Thank you for your letter requesting approval under section 28 of the Financial Administration Act of the Indemnity Agreements in favour of the IESO, its directors, officers, and employees, and in favour of OPG, OPG's subsidiaries (other than any financing entities as defined in the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017) and their respective directors, officers, and employees.

In response to your request, I am attaching the approval, under section 28 of the Financial Administration Act, of the Indemnity Agreements for OPG and the IESO in order to allow them to comprehensively participate in the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,

Charles Sousa

EXECUTION VERSION

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this 1st day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan");

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability arising as a result of their respective activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries (except for any such subsidiary that is a financing entity as defined in the Act) and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, fines, penalties, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including, without limitation, any direct, special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), as a result of any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of each Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. For greater clarity, "Corporation's subsidiaries" as used in this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), whether such financing entities are actually a subsidiary of the Corporation or not; and the terms "Protected Persons" or "Protected Persons" under this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), being a subsidiary of the Corporation or otherwise, provided that, for clarity, any such financing entities' respective directors, officers, trustees, and/or employees shall be considered "Protected Persons" if he or she is also a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or any of the Corporation's subsidiaries.

3. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to such Protected Person to the extent that such Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that such Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 3(c) or otherwise disentitle such Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, to the extent such action or proceeding arises from circumstances in which such Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that such Protected Person's conduct was lawful.

4. Each Protected Person shall:

(a) Upon becoming aware of a Claim(s) for which such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder, as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim(s);

(b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claim(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Person or another Protected Person to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to the same);

(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim(s); and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage, to the fullest extent possible, under insurance policies and/or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, as referred to in subsections 3(a) and (b) above.

A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 4 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person hereunder except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 4 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

5. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person(s). Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends.

6. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

7. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall apply only to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee of the Corporation and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation; and with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation's subsidiaries, this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of a subsidiary of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee of that subsidiary of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director, officer, employee of that particular subsidiary of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of that subsidiary of the Corporation

8. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including, without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ninety (90) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested, so long as the Protected Person is carrying out its obligations under section 4 of this agreement. A Protected Person shall promptly repay to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

9. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to any claims of dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct against a Protected Person who is an individual.

10. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to the application of equitable principles and that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

11. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Persons that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Persons.

12. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

13. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

[Signature Page Follows]

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity agreement effective as of the day and year first written above.

EXECUTION VERSION

INDEMNITY

THIS INDEMNITY effective as of this 1st day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: The Independent Electricity System Operator
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province"),

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and/or employees, may, or in certain circumstances are or will be required to carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act; and/or (iii) any agreements relating to the implementation of the Act or regulations, including with any financing entity (as defined in the Act), (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively referred to as the "Fair Hydro Plan");

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and/or employees may face risk of liability arising as a result of their respective activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. to indemnify, defend, and save harmless the Corporation and its directors, officers, and employees or a member of a committee or panel established by the directors of the Corporation (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, fines, penalties, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), as a result of any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation

(formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan.

2. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of such Protected Person's Losses, or a portion thereof:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) that are a result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws, or any information provided to a financing entity in relation thereto, contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

    (d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing, and/or was reckless as to their belief, that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. Each Protected Person shall:

(a) upon becoming aware of a Claim for which such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder, as soon as practicable deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim(s);

(b) upon written request of the Province, acting reasonably, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information that relates to the Claim(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to the same);

(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies or claims funds, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s) and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim(s) without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s), the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends.

5. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

6. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

8. The Province hereby waives any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to claims of gross negligence, dishonesty, or willful misconduct against a Protected Person who is an individual.

9. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction; section 11.3 of the Financial

Administration Act (Ontario); and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

10. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Persons that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants and obligations on behalf of such Protected Persons.

11. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

12. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants and obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

MEMORANDUM TO: Charles Sousa
Minister of Finance

FROM: Glenn Thibeault
Minister of Energy

RE: Request for section 28 approval of indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and respective directors, officers, and employees in relation to the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan

---

I am writing to request approval under section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") the forms of indemnity for the IESO, its directors, officers, and employees; and OPG, OPG's subsidiaries (other than any financing entities as defined in the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act")) and their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons"). Ministry of Finance and Ministry of Energy staff have worked together to review OPG's and IESO's indemnity requests and finalize materials.

OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their activities in carrying out the implementation of the Plan. OPG has also requested this form of indemnity for its subsidiaries (other than any financing entities as defined under the Act) ("Subsidiaries") and respective directors, officers and employees. The Ministry of Energy has committed to providing these indemnities. The Minister of Energy ("Minister") has been briefed and supports this request for approval.

The Act enables the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan (the "Plan"). Under the Plan, the government has proposed to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the Plan. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure will be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the Plan.

The Plan is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the Plan will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations and their directors, officers, and employees may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the Plan. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the Plan.

My recommendation to provide this approval is based on the attached submission prepared by staff. The attached submission includes a description of the contingent liabilities. The cost or estimated cost of the contingent liabilities cannot be quantified. Should the payment be required, the Ministry will return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation.

Approval of these indemnities is requested by June 30, 2017. Failure to obtain approval could jeopardize the implementation of the Plan.

Thank you for your consideration of this request for section 28 approval. Please contact the Ministry of Energy should you have any questions pertaining to the request.

Sincerely,

Glenn Thibeault
Minister

Enclosures

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure will be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On June 1, 2017, Bill 132 received royal assent, which marked the coming into force of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"). The Act enables the implementation of the ONFHP. The implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective activities in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP. OPG is also seeking an indemnity for its subsidiaries (not including any financing entities as defined in the Act) ("Subsidiaries") and their respective directors, officers and employees.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to OPG and the IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 30, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act (came into force on June 1, 2017).

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO effective as of the date upon which the Act was passed (June 1, 2017).

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Electricity Act, 1998 ("EA") has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the ONFHP. This amendment was designed to ensure that OPG could participate in the ONFHP. OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA will be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity as defined in the Act) is expected to finance.

In carrying out this role, OPG will be carrying out activities that fall outside of its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation. As a result, OPG, its directors, officers, and employees may be faced with increased risk of liability. Examples of such risks related to financing, include without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

OPG and its Subsidiaries, and their respective directors, officers, employees may also be faced with risk of liability to:

- underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities
- the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets)
- counterparties to agreements (e.g. the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust or IESO)
- other stakeholders (the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees) of OPG if OPG (or any Subsidiary of it) is liable for any claim or obligation and cannot meet its obligations to these stakeholders as a result of such claims.
- Regulators (e.g. the Ontario Securities Commission)
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its Subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate OPG and OPG's Subsidiaries in undertaking their role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Act also imposes certain obligations and requirements on the IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entities and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. The IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entities. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. The IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Other examples of sources/activities giving rise to increased risk of liability for the IESO, its directors, officers and employees include the following:

- Investors in any ONFHP investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors, as well as any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and/or IESO being involved;
- OPG (or the financing entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of the regulatory asset and servicing of the investment asset, and related activities;
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity (e.g. short pay);
- Taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities;
- Securities commissions regulators (U.S./Canada); and
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Province in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities is required in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

Even if the corporate mandates of OPG and the IESO were updated to include their role in implementing the ONFHP, this may not eliminate the risk of the types of liabilities outlined above completely, particularly due to the novelty of the ONFHP and the types of roles that OPG and IESO will be taking on. For example, persons could still challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG or the IESO as a party to such challenge.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith".

Generally speaking the Indemnities are intended to provide the Protected Persons with indemnification for losses/liabilities, including those for potentially "bad faith acts", unless any such acts arise as a result of the Protected Persons' dishonesty, gross negligence, or wilful misconduct. As described below in subsection (ii), the statutory protections also do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. The statutory protections also do not extend to the corporations themselves.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(1) of the Act, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under the Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO's and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors, or officers so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the Protected Persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(iii) Insurance and indemnities that the IESO and OPG currently provide to its directors, officers and employees may not fully cover risk

OPG –Insurance and Indemnities

Currently, OPG has indicated that it maintains Directors and Officers liability insurance ("D&O Insurance") with limits of USD $110 Million. The D&O Insurance includes persona coverage (side A) and corporate reimbursement coverage (side B). Under the side A coverage, OPG has advised that the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the insured person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such insured person. The full $110 Million limit is available for side A coverage.

Under side B coverage, OPG has advised that the policy reimburses the organization for losses incurred to indemnify an insured person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500,000.

OPG has advised that directors and officers have priority of payments over the organization for the entire $110M limit.

While this insurance provides coverage for directors and officers of OPG, there is no similar coverage provided for OPG's employees. Further, any liability stated over the maximum amounts would not be covered by the insurance policy. Pursuant to section 2(a) of the IESO Indemnity and section 3(a) of the OPG Indemnity, a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

OPG has indicated that they provide their directors an indemnity but not to their directors or employees. OPG has not provided information about the scope of this indemnity. However, the Indemnities provide that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified. This language is meant to ensure that the covered losses under the Indemnities will be covered by other applicable indemnities first, before being covered by this indemnity.

OPG has not provided any information about insurance coverage and indemnities that its subsidiaries provide to their directors, officers and employees.

IESO – Insurance and Indemnities

The IESO has informed that it carries Directors & Officers insurance providing a maximum $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are also included in the definition of Individual Insureds. The IESO also carries Professional liability insurance providing a maximum $75 million limit.
Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has informed that it has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

Existing Indemnities to OPG and IESO from the Province

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. We are not aware of any indemnities provided to the IESO by the Province.

(b) Description of Risk and any Risk Mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG (and OPG's subsidiaries where applicable) and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporations face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments as described in section 3 above.

The exact nature and scope of the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but the risk of liability for the Province arising may be low, with respect to directors, officers and employees, as any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Act may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in relation to implementing the ONFHP.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided under insurance or another indemnity, to the extent already paid under such insurance, or so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.

5) The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

With respect to the corporations themselves (and in the case of OPG, its Subsidiaries as well) the risk may be higher, but is undeterminable at this time. The likelihood of risk to the Province is characterized as medium, given that OPG and IESO have not identified any insurance or indemnities that would cover the corporations themselves (or in the case of OPG, the Subsidiaries themselves) in the event that such liability arises, nor is statutory protection provided for the corporations themselves.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C".

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the Protected Person as a result of their roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

Under the Indemnities, a Protected Person would not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund;

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities;

(c) that are the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing was reckless as to their belief that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Other Substantial Variances from the Province's Indemnity Template

The other substantial variances in the Indemnities includes a waiver provision whereby the Province waives its right to bring any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual relating in any way to the Protected Persons' activities in the implementation, or otherwise relating to the ONFHP (including where a Protected Person is acting at the request of the corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation – e.g. for example, where a financing entity is a trust, OPG's directors/officers/employees may need to sign the securities offering documents, but not in the capacity as OPG's directors/officers/employees, as the offering documents will not be the offering documents of OPG. The directors/officers/employees will be performing these functions as a result of OPG acting as a Financial Services Manager of the financing entity).

However, this waiver does not apply to gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct claims that may be brought by the province against the applicable Protected Persons. The risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is consistent with the gross negligence carve out provided for in the Indemnity Agreements (section 2(c) in the IESO Indemnity and section 3(c) in the OPG Indemnity) and because the Province is unlikely to bring a claim against a Protected Person for Losses they have agreed to indemnify them for.

OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors, officers, employees do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.

The Indemnities also include a representations and warranties section (section 8 in the IESO Indemnity and section 9 in the OPG Indemnity), which includes general representations and warranties with respect to the Province's authority to enter into these agreements and confirming that they have obtained the appropriate FAA approvals. We do not believe this variance poses a significant risk to the Province.

(e) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries and IESO's (including their respective directors, officers and employees') willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP. This may potentially jeopardize the successful implementation of this plan. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would allow OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

The maximum financial exposure, therefore, would likely be linked to the amount of OPG special purpose entities debt offerings.	The risk is theoretical and cannot be quanitified.	The Indemnity is limited specifically to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan under the Act, its respective regulation, and/or any agreements relating to the implementation of the Act or regulations, including with any financing entity (as defined in the Act). The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses to the extent which coverage is paid under insurance, to the extent which indemnification is already provided under any other indemnity or is brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Persons.	Could jeopordize the successful implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan.

See attached draft letter we hope to issue this week – for your comments (will appreciate by Thursday this week if any).

I did speak with Moody's on April 28 to obtain their feedback.

Call me @ 905.403.6944 to discuss (…Ken can we discuss the interest exp/income flows when you have a moment).

As mentioned the current $975M supports the RPP today which will be transitioned to the new FH going forward – for this draft as discussed with my CFO I have left the $975M as is but will seek to use for FH too.

Re: IESO Credit Requirements for the 2017 Fair Hydro Program

Dear Mr. Mayman,

As you are aware the Ontario government has announced its intension to implement the Fair Hydro program (FHP) to reduce electricity prices for consumers in the province. Legislation is expected to be introduced this month for the program. The Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) is preparing to implement the FHP and has determined that to support the IESO's role in implementation it will need greater credit liquidity than currently exists.

The existing credit facility between the IESO and the Ontario Financing Authority's (OFA) is $975 million. The IESO proposes that an additional facility/commitment be provided in the amount of $1,500 million. This would enable the IESO to provide interim financing for the FHP's global adjustment smoothing for a period of several months if needed.

We suggest the OFA's current $975 million agreement and the new separate (or co-mingled) FHP agreement consider the following key provisions:

- FHP: 5 year term to align with the FHP's deferral of electricity prices period plus a few months of contingency (i.e. September 30, 2022);
- FHP: interest charge to be Province's cost of funds for borrowing with a similar term as determined by OFA plus 0.25 percent per annum;
- FHP: drawings to be based on minimum of 7 days to a maximum of 95 days, to minimize interest costs and permit efficient FHP asset transfers;
- $975 million: draws to permit for FHP purposes; and
- $975 million: a reduction in the 28 days minimum draw for the existing facility to a minimum of 7 days to a maximum of 95 days;

Should the IESO find that there is consistent usage of these facilities we will contact the OFA for further arrangements.

Upon your reply to this letter, the IESO will seek any necessary IESO Board of Directors' approval for the above credit facility(ies) and we will provide such evidence for the OFA's records.

We appreciate the OFA's continue support and look forward to working with you. Please contact me should you need anything further.

Sincerely,

Hi Ron – please see responses to your comments. Appreciate the input. Mark

Accounting for Ontario's Reduction in Current Electricity Prices

In May 2017, the government passed the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the Act).

The components of the plan to reduce current electricity prices include both aspects of the plan provided for in the Act as well as other policy decisions, as follows:

1. The Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers~~A rebate~~ (OREC) in the amount equivalent to the~~of~~ 8% provincial portion of the Harmonised Sales Tax (HST) ~~of~~on electricity bills ~~for~~of eligible residential, small business and farm consumers, commencing January 2017, funded by the ~~tax base~~government;
2. Increases to the Ontario Electricity Support Program, and transfer of the funding of this program from the electricity rate base to the ~~tax base~~government;
3. Reductions, existing and expanded for certain rural electricity consumers, funded by the ~~tax base~~government instead of the rate base;
4. Reduction equivalent to the delivery charge for First Nations residential consumers living on reserve, funded by the ~~tax base~~government;
5. A fund established to provide free, energy efficient devices and products to qualified individuals and organizations, funded by the ~~tax base~~government; and
6. An additional reduction in current electricity bills for eligible residential, small business and farm customers, commencing July 1, 2017, such that the impact of this reduction combined with the impact of items 1 to 3 above resulted in an average reduction of 25% for residential customers (with differential benefits for other eligible customers), which, unlike items 1 to 5 above, was to be funded by the electricity rate base. This reduction was to be recovered from electricity ratepayers in future years. This aspect of the plan is referred to as the Global Adjustment Refinancing.

The impact of Items 1 through 5 noted above– all funded by the ~~tax base~~government– are recognized as an expense in the consolidated financial statements as incurred.

Item 6, the Global Adjustment Refinancing, was to be funded by the electricity rate base, and to be recovered from electricity ratepayers in future years.

In September 2018, Cabinet ratified a decision to make a change to the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act to cancel the Global Adjustment Refinancing component as designed, including reducing the cost ~~amount~~ of the current electricity price reduction to be borne by future ratepayers, and by making any recovery from future ratepayers optional. This decision changes the estimated recovery from future ratepayers, and does not support the use of rate-regulated accounting.

The entities that recorded transactions in the year related to the Global Adjustment Refinancing are as follows:

Commented [RK1]: "tax base" seems an internal colloquialism, not an official publication, vs being funded by general government (or "provincial") revenues (current or future, if borrowed for now).

Commented [DM(2]: I think the intent was to clarify the distinction within the OFHPA between taxpayer and ratepayer w.r.t. its impact on the accounting - to maintain this distinction, could we say "funded by the government from tax revenue"?

Commented [RK3]: Is this part being Minuted now? Is this what ENDM is to return and report back on? Does / could this be reworded to reflect that this refers to reducing the cost, by having it be government borrowing?

Commented [DM(4]: The borrowing aspect doesn't impact the accounting (this is a FS note disclosure). "reducing the cost" I believe is more associated with less than 100% recovery of the GA refinancing Commented [RK5]: Is this in the other or revised Minute? Can we review that Minute too?

Commented [DM(6]: This will be part of the minute – still being drafted by Operating Expenditure Management Division

DRAFT

- The Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) is a consolidated government organization and reports its financial results in accordance with Public Sector Accounting Standards. The IESO is an entity regulated by the Ontario Energy Board.
- Ontario Power Generation (OPG), an entity wholly-owned by the Province, was appointed the Financial Services Manager under the Act and in December 2017 established the Fair Hydro Trust (the Trust), a wholly-owned subsidiary of OPG, as the financing entity contemplated by the Act.

In connection with the Global Adjustment Refinancing (item 6), in the initial years as originally designed, the IESO incurred a cash shortfall for the difference between the amounts collected from the electricity consumers and the contracted price paid to the power generators. The amount of the shortfall for the year ended March 31, 2018 was $1,789 million.

During the year, the IESO under the authority permitted under the Act, transferred $1,639 million of the shortfall to the Trust in exchange for an irrevocable right to the recovery of the transferred balance and financing and other costs to be received from specified consumers in the future. The remaining shortfall recorded by the IESO as a rate regulated asset as of March 31, 2018 was $150 million.

As a result of the decision made on September 12, 2018, the government has determined that the rate-regulated asset that IESO had recorded as of March 31, 2018 ($150 million) no longer meets the criteria to be recorded as an asset, as the decision significantly reduces the likelihood of recoverability. Accordingly, the government has written down the value of this asset to NIL in the consolidated financial statements of the Province.

The Trust recorded an intangible asset in connection with the payment made to IESO for the acquisition an irrevocable right to the recovery of the transferred balance and financing and other costs to be received from specified consumers in the future (the shortfall). The Trust funded the acquisition of the cash shortfall from the IESO during the year ($1,639 million) with subordinated debt from Ontario Power Generation to a maximum of 49% of the Trust's total outstanding debt, and the balance from third party lenders. Of the amount lent to the Trust from OPG, approximately 90% of that amount ($721 million) was funded by equity injections from the Province, and 10% was funded by debt borrowed by OPG from third party lenders. As of March 31, 2018, the Trust owed $803 million to OPG and $836 million to third party lenders.

As a result of the decision made on September 12, 2018, the government has determined that the intangible asset recorded by the Trust is impaired. Accordingly, the government has written down the value of this asset to NIL in the consolidated financial statements of the Province.

Commented [RK7]: The term used elsewhere seemed to be "investment asset" – or is that legislative "jargon" vs accounting jargon – with the latter using "intangible asset"?

Commented [DM(8]: Intangible is an accounting concept.

DRAFT

In connection with all of the debt issued by the Trust, the Province issued a limited guarantee to fund all future obligations associated with debt issued and outstanding at the time that the guarantee is invoked. These conditions are limited to the repealing or significant change to the Act, its regulations or other legislation, or any significant change to the structure of Ontario's electricity market which impacts the components of the plan.

As a result of the decision made on September 12, 2018, the government expects that ~~the~~ one of the conditions of the limited guarantee will be met, and as a result, the government will fund all future obligations issues and outstanding as of the date the guarantee is invoked. As of March 31, 2018, the amount of the obligations that the government expects to fund to the Trust is $1,639 million, resulting in a recovery to be recorded by the Trust (leaving the Trust whole) and an expense recorded by the Ministry of Energy of 1,639 million. The total expense recorded in the 2017-18 consolidated financial statements as a result of this decision is $1,789 million.

As a wholly-owned subsidiary of Ontario Power Generation, the assets and liabilities of the Trust are recorded as part of the Investment in Government Business Enterprises in the consolidated statement of financial position, and disclosed as part of Ontario Power Generation in Schedule 9 to these consolidated financial statements.

DRAFT

In summary, the impact on expenses and assets of the consolidated financial statements of the components of the plan to reduce current electricity rates, taking into consideration the decision of the government on September 12, 2018 is as follows:

Component	Funding source	Amount recognized as an expense (in millions)	Amount recognized as a rate regulated asset (in millions)
1 – ~~8% rebate~~OREC	~~Tax base~~Government	$810	NIL
2 – OESP	Government~~Tax base~~	$20	NIL
3 – Rural rate reduction	Government~~Tax base~~	$325	NIL
4 – First Nations delivery credit	Government~~Tax base~~	$15	NIL
5 – Affordability Fund (amount expensed in 2016–17)	Government~~Tax base~~	NIL	NIL
6 – Global Adjustment refinancing	Electricity Rate Base	$1,789	NIL

Commented [RK9]: Seems low – is this just the incremental amount? Or does this reflect that the prior ratepayer "surplus" recovery in OESP had to be worked off first, so only a very small amount was government-funded in 17-18?

Commented [DM(10]: Numbers provided by Energy

Any debt incurred to fund items 1 to 5 is part of general borrowing of the Province and recorded as Debt on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Debt incurred to fund item 6 is recorded based on the source of the financing:

Source of financing	Amount of debt at March 31, 2018 (in millions)	Where recognized in the consolidated statement of financial position
1 – Equity injection from Province to OPG	$721	Debt
2 – Debt borrowed by OPG from third party lenders and lent to the Trust	$82	Investment in Government Business Enterprises, the details of which are disclosed in Schedule 9
3 – Debt borrowed by Fair Hydro Trust from third party lenders	$836	Investment in Government Business Enterprises, the details of which are disclosed in Schedule 9

Hi Scott,

Were you planning on doing a FHP status update briefing for the Minister? Any targeted timing?

We've been asked to do a briefing on the OIC to enable OFA to have enough borrowing room for the IESO credit facility request. And, at some point, we will need to brief on the indemnity request -- and on the Provincial guarantee too.

Hi,

I think in the 3rd paragraph it should say the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct rather than the OFA. If in fact there are some transfer payments to the IESO for the programs mentioned (although there shouldn't be a deduction because they are for the benefit of some others) maybe the whereas in the directive should be modified a bit.

OFA -- IESO CREDIT FACILITY ~~IES~~MINISTER OF FINANCE DIRECTIVE TO EXEMPT THE INTERCEPT PROVISION ("INTERCEPT EXEMPTION DIRECTIVE") REQUIRED UNDER THE OFA'S LENDING POLICY

BACKGROUND

The Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") requested a revolving credit facility ("the credit facility") in an amount of up to $2 billion from the Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA") to support its role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act"). ~~In the same request, the IESO had requested a reduction to its existing credit facility from the current $975 million to $475 million.~~

On June 29, 2017, the OFA received ~~a l~~Lending ~~d~~Directive from the Minister of Finance to accommodate the IESO's request and provide a revolving credit facility to the IESO in an amount of up to $2 billion (the "OFHP Credit Facility").

Pursuant to the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA is required to include an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis, unless otherwise directed by the Minister [or Treasury Board or Cabinet]. In accordance with section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), the intercept provision allows the OFA to deduct amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay to the OFA under a loan agreement from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body.

Per the requirements of the OFA's Lending Policy, the OFA is returning to request a Minister's direction to exempt the requirement to include an ~~from the i~~Intercept p~~P~~rovision ~~both~~ in its OFHP Credit Facility agreement with the IESO~~the new $2 billion credit facility to support the IESO's role in the Fair Hydro Plan and the reduced $475 million credit facility~~.

- ~~Note: The Intercept Provision under the OFA's Lending Policy for unsecured lending to a public body requires that, unless exempted by the Minister of Finance [or Treasury Board or Cabinet], the OFA put in place a provision whereby the OFA is entitled to deduct amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay to the OFA under the loan, from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body.~~

- OFA staff recommend the Minister sign the attached Intercept Exemption Directive allowing the OFA to provide the~~ese~~ requested credit facility~~ies~~ to the IESO without the inclusion of an ~~an I~~intercept provision in the loan agreement~~under the OFA Lending Policy~~.

CONSIDERATIONS

- ~~This~~ The OFHP Credit Facility will enable the IESO to fulfil its commitments under the OFHP Act as the IESO will have to finance for a short or medium term period the funding shortfalls in the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

- ~~Under~~ T~~t~~he OFA Lending Policy provides the following requirement for unsecured loans to public bodies under CIPA~~, the following is provided for~~:

  ~~"~~Except where otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet, and prior to the OFA making any loan to a public body, the OFA will [e]nsure that it has an appropriate intercept in place for the loan.~~"~~

- The ~~intercept in the~~ OFA Lending Policy also includes the following requirements in relation to the intercept provision:

  - The public body and its responsible ministry are to agree that the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts that the public body fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under its loan agreement with the OFA.
  - ~~o~~

RATIONALE FOR EXEMPTION

- ~~An~~ Including an i~~I~~ntercept p~~P~~rovision in the new OFHP Credit Facility agreement with the IESO would have no practical usefulness in the case of the IESO as it receives no operational funding from the Province of Ontario. While the IESO settlements system for the electricity sector may facilitate the flow of appropriations of the Ministry of Energy for energy-related programs such as the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers (OREC), the Rural or Remote Rate Protection Program (RRRP), the Ontario Electricity Support Program (OESP) etc., these payments are for the benefit of various electricity consumers. Intercepting these program specific payments, under which the IESO may only be providing a conduit to local distribution companies under the IESO settlement system to provide benefits to ratepayers, in order to recover loan payments would not be in alignment of the intent of the OFA's Lending Policy.

MINISTER'S DIRECTIVE

- The Minister of Finance's Intercept Exemption Directive would authorize the OFA to exempt the new ~~two revolving~~ credit facility~~ies~~ agreement with ~~to~~ the IESO [per the Minister's Directive signed on June 29, 2017] from inclusion of an intercept provision, as required by the OFA Lending Policy. ~~Intercept provision under the OFA Lending Policy.~~
- ~~[The Intercept Exemption Directive would also exempt any lending to the IESO from the OFA, previously authorized and/or subsequently amended, to be exempt from the Intercept Provision.]~~

FISCAL IMPACT

- There is no expected incremental fiscal impact for the Province from providing an exemption from the intercept provision requirement of the OFA Lending Policy.
  - [The IESO is an entity consolidated to the Province and if there were any amounts to intercept, there would be no incremental fiscal impact of not having an intercept provision.]

BACKGROUND

The IESO

- The IESO is a not-for-profit corporate entity established in 1998 by the Electricity Act, 1998. It is governed by an independent Board of Directors and its Chair and Directors are appointed by the Province.
- The IESO has full statute-based authority for establishing, monitoring and enforcing reliability standards in the province. All the companies that make up the power system in Ontario must meet the IESO's standards.
- Its fees and licences to operate are set by the Ontario Energy Board and it operates independently of all other participants in the electricity market.
- The IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA.

Hi,

I think in the 3rd paragraph it should say the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct rather than the OFA. If in fact there are some transfer payments to the IESO for the programs mentioned (although there shouldn't be a deduction because they are for the benefit of some others) maybe the whereas in the directive should be modified a bit.

OFA -- IESO CREDIT FACILITY ~~IES~~MINISTER OF FINANCE DIRECTIVE TO EXEMPT THE INTERCEPT PROVISION ("INTERCEPT EXEMPTION DIRECTIVE") REQUIRED UNDER THE OFA'S LENDING POLICY

BACKGROUND

Pursuant to directives dated December 22nd 2004, October 3rd, 2005, July 28th, 2006, October 14th, 2010, and December 18th, 2013, the Minister of Finance ("Minister") approved and directed the Ontario Fiancing Authority ("OFA") to make loans (the "Advances") to the Ontario Power Authority (the "OPA") from time to time in an aggregate amount not to exceed $975 million at any time, as considered necessary by the OPA to meets its purposes.

Effective January 1, 2015, the OPA and the Independent Electricity System Operator amalgamated and continued as a corporation without share capital under Part II of the Electricity Act, 1998 (the "Amalgamation") with the name Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO").

Pursuant to the Amalgamation the obligations of the OPA became obligations of the IESO.

The terms and conditions governing the Advances are set out in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the OPA dated January 1, 2005, as subsequently amended by amending agreements dated February 14, 2005, October 11, 20015, September 27, 2006, July 13, 2007, November 9, 2010, December 20, 2013, December 19, 2014 and November 30, 2016 (as so amended, the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

~~The Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO)~~The IESO had requested a new revolving credit facility ~~("the credit facility")~~ in an amount of up to $2 billion from the ~~Ontario Financing Authority ("~~OFA~~")~~ to support its role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act"). In the same request, the IESO had requested a reduction to its existing credit facility from the current $975 million to $475 million.

On June 29, 2017, the OFA received ~~a Lending d~~Directive from the Minister ~~of Finance~~ to accommodate the IESO's request and provide a revolving credit facility to the IESO in an amount of up to $2 billion (the "OFHP Credit Facility").

Pursuant to the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA is required to include an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis, unless otherwise directed by the Minister [or Treasury Board or Cabinet]. In accordance with section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), the intercept provision allows the ~~OFA~~Minister ~~of Finance~~to deduct amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay to the OFA under a loan agreement from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body.

Per the requirements of the OFA's Lending Policy, the OFA is returning to request a Minister's direction to exempt the requirement to include an ~~from the i~~Intercept p~~P~~rovision ~~both~~ in ~~its OFHP Credit Facility~~ the OFHP Ceredit F~~f~~acility agreement with the IESO, as well as ~~and~~ the ~~reduced $475 million credit facilit~~Original ~~y~~Credit Facility Agreement, both of which may be amended from time to time~~.the new $2 billion credit facility to support the IESO's role in the Fair Hydro Plan and the reduced $475 million credit facility~~. ~~[The existing $975 million credit facility is requested to be reduced to $475 million, in connection with the newly requested $2 billion credit facility.]~~

Commented [LS2]: After discussion with Ken Russell, we think the directive should be limited to the new credit facility agreement.

Commented [SK83]: I understand we are deciding to ensure both credit facilities are covered the Intercept Exemption Directive. Will revert language back accordingly.

Commented [JK4]: A business decision – which I am sure ADM/CEO would support

Formatted: Font: 12 pt

- ~~Note: The Intercept Provision under the OFA's Lending Policy for unsecured lending to a public body requires that, unless exempted by the Minister of Finance [or Treasury Board or Cabinet], the OFA put in place a provision whereby the OFA is entitled to deduct amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay to the OFA under the loan, from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body.~~

RECOMMENDATION

- OFA staff recommend the Minister sign the attached Intercept Exemption Directive allowing the OFA to ~~provide~~ exclude intercept provisions from the OFHP Credit Facility Agreement, as well as the Original Credit Facility Agreement~~these credit facilitiesies to the IESO without an Intercept provision~~, both of which may be amended from time to time~~under the OFA Lending Policy~~.

- The requested Intercept Exemption Directive would only apply to the two specified IESO credit facilities.

CONSIDERATIONS

- ~~This The OFHP Credit Facility~~This Intercept Exemption Directive will enable the IESO to fulfil its commitments under the OFHP Act as the IESO will have to finance for a short or medium term period the funding shortfalls in the implementation of the ~~Fair Hydro Plan~~OFHP Act, as well as the continued implementation of the market support function for the IESO through the $475 million facility [to be amended from the current $975 million facility].

- ~~Under T~~the OFA Lending Policy provides the following requirement for unsecured loans to public bodies under CIPA~~, the following is provided for~~:

  ~~"~~Except where otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet, and prior to the OFA making any loan to a public body, the OFA will [e]nsure that it has an appropriate intercept in place for the loan.~~"~~

- The ~~intercept in the~~ OFA Lending Policy also includes the following requirements in relation to the intercept provision:

  > The public body and its responsible ministry are to agree that the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts that the public body fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under its loan agreement with the OFA.

RATIONALE FOR EXEMPTION

- ~~An~~ Including an i~~I~~ntercept p~~P~~rovision in the ~~new OFHP Credit Facility~~ credit facility agreements ~~credit facilities~~ with the IESO would have no practical usefulness ~~in the case of the IESO~~ as the IESO ~~it~~ receives no operational funding from the Province of Ontario.

Commented [LS5]: This is not a defined term.

- While the IESO settlements system for the electricity sector may facilitate the flow of appropriations of the Ministry of Energy for energy-related programs such as the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers (OREC), the Rural or Remote Rate Protection Program (RRRP), the Ontario Electricity Support Program (OESP) etc., these payments are for the benefit of various electricity consumers.

- Intercepting these program specific payments, under which the IESO may only be providing a conduit to local distribution companies under the IESO settlement system to provide benefits to ratepayers, in order to recover loan payments would not be in alignment of the intent of the OFA's Lending Policy.

MINISTER'S DIRECTIVE

- The Minister of Finance's Intercept Exemption Directive would authorize the OFA to exempt the ~~two~~ ~~two revolving credit facilitiesies~~ Original Credit Facility Agreement and the OFHP Credit Facility agreement, both as amended from time to time, ~~agreement~~ ~~to the IESO [per the Minister's Directive signed on June 29, 2017]~~ from the OFA Lending Policy requirement to include an intercept provision~~the. Intercept provision under the OFA Lending Policy.~~

- ~~[The Intercept Exemption Directive would also exempt any lending to the IESO from the OFA, previously authorized and/or subsequently amended, to be exempt from the Intercept Provision.]~~

FISCAL IMPACT

- There is no expected incremental fiscal impact for the Province from providing an exemption from the intercept provision requirement of the OFA Lending Policy.
  - [The IESO is an entity consolidated to the Province and if there were any amounts to intercept, there would be no incremental fiscal impact of ~~not~~ having ~~an~~the ~~i~~Intercept Exemption ~~p~~Provision.]

BACKGROUND

The IESO

- The IESO is a not-for-profit corporate entity established in 1998 by the Electricity Act, 1998. It is governed by an independent Board of Directors and its Chair and Directors are appointed by the Province.
- The IESO has full statute-based authority for establishing, monitoring and enforcing reliability standards in the province. All the companies that make up the power system in Ontario must meet the IESO's standards.
- Its fees and licences to operate are set by the Ontario Energy Board and it operates independently of all other participants in the electricity market.
- The IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA.

Commented [LS6]: Is this even a possibility? I thought there were no funds to intercept.

Commented [SK87]: There are payments (appropriated to Energy from the legislature) made to the IESO to carry out price mitigation programs (eg. electricity support programs).

Just want to explain here the intent of the policy isn't to claw back/intercept payments specifically designed to assist electricity ratepayers for which the IESO is a conduit.

Commented [JK8]: To Lisa's question - I don't believe that is the intent of requiring an intercept provision.

Commented [SK89]: This is to ensure both the 2B and 475M credit facilities are covered.

Commented [LS10]: See earlier comment

Commented [SK811]: Bullet above modified to include both facilities.

Commented [JK12]: To proceed with the Intercept Exemption Directive for the two facilities only.

Commented [RK13]: What about saying that as IESO is a consolidated entity, and if there were any amounts to intercept, there would be no incremental fiscal impact of not having an intercept provision?

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On June 1, 2017, Bill 132, received royal assent, which marked the coming into force of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act). The Act enables the implementation of the ONFHP. The implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), and respective directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 13, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act.

Commented [VC(1]: To confirm the date requirement

2. RECOMMENDATION

Commented [VC(2]: Message sent to John M – to discuss with Kim

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO effective as of the date upon which the Act was passed.

Commented [VC(3]: Why as of this date?

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (ONFHP)

OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance. Risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. Examples of these risks include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the US market. IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

Commented [VC(4]: Alignment with business purpose?

Commented [VC(5]: Should be clear that this is a sale

Draft

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and each of their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate which existing indemnities would address. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". In addition the statutory protections do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. This is further described in section (ii) below. Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include without limitation,

- liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and the IESO's willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be paid under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG and IESO to any of its subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), Commented [VC(6]: Who has reviewed existing indemnities?

Commented [VC(7]: What does this mean?

Commented [VC(8]: OPG is being compensated for taking on this role – how does that factor into the indemnity?

Commented [VC(9]: What role is expected?

Commented [VC(10]: Why it is not clear?

agents (in the case of the IESO), directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Commented [VC(11]: Why is this only for employees – the one above is for directors, officers, employees and agents

Subsection 39(2) of the Act provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

Commented [VC(12]: Does this indemnity do that?

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, or each of its subsidiaries, their directors, officers, or employees so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the protected persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to IESO and OPG's respective roles in relation to implementing the

Draft

ONFHP.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided and to the extent already paid under such insurance, or other indemnification is provided, to the extent the individual is so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.

5) The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C".

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

Under the OPG and IESO Indemnities, a Protected Person would not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) that are the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a

Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing was reckless as to their belief that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Other Substantial Variances from the Province's Indemnity Template

The other substantial variance in the Indemnities includes a waiver provision (section 8 of the Indemnities) whereby the Province waives its right to bring any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual relating in any way to the OPG/IESO's or such Protected Person's activities in the implementation, or otherwise relating to the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting at the request of the corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation). However, this waiver does not apply to gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct claims that may be brought by the province against the applicable Protected Persons. The risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is consistent with the gross negligence carve out provided for in the Indemnity Agreements (section 2(c)) and because the Province is unlikely to bring a claim against a Protected Person for Losses they have agreed to indemnify them for.

Commented [VC(13]: What is its purpose?

OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors and officers do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.

The Indemnities also include a representations and warranties section (section 9), which includes general representations and warranties with respect to the Province's authority to enter into these agreements and confirming that they have obtained the appropriate FAA approvals. We do not believe this variance poses a significant risk to the Province.

Commented [VC(14]: Who has done this analysis? TBS legal?

(e) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would allow OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

Hi Ron,

I believe all the other components are fine but I've updated the Directive version to make it Minister of Finance to sign.

Thanks,

John

HI John,

I see that "Minister of Finance" is in there twice now. I would say remove the first time it is mentioned and leave it below the Minister's name.

Hi Malle,

Is the modified signing section appropriate?

We had it as the alternate signing as the Minister was away.

Thanks,

John

DIRECTIVE

LOANS TO THE INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR

To: Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA")

Whereas:

Under the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), the OFA provides financing to public bodies as directed by the Minister of Finance ("Minister").

Effective January 1, 2015, the Ontario Power Authority (the "OPA") and the Independent Electricity System Operator amalgamated and continued as a corporation without share capital under Part II of the Electricity Act, 1998 (the "Amalgamation") with the name Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO").

Pursuant to directives dated December 22nd, 2004, October 3rd, 2005, July 28th, 2006, October 14th, 2010, December 18th, 2013, and November 28th, 2016, the Minister approved and directed the OFA to make loans (the "Advances") to the OPA and the IESO after the Amalgamation from time to time in an aggregate amount not to exceed $975 million at any time, as considered necessary by the OPA and IESO after the Amalgamation to meets its purposes.

Pursuant to the Amalgamation the obligations of the OPA became obligations of the IESO.

The terms and conditions governing the Advances are set out in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the OPA dated January 1, 2005, as subsequently amended by amending agreements dated February 14, 2005, October 11, 2015, September 27, 2006, July 13, 2007, November 9, 2010, December 20, 2013, December 19, 2014 and November 30, 2016 (as so amended, the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

The IESO had requested a new revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion from the OFA to support the IESO's role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act"). In the same request, the IESO had requested a reduction to its existing credit facility from the current $975 million to $475 million.

Pursuant to a directive from the Minister dated June 29, 2017 (the "2017 Directive"), the OFA was directed to provide a new revolving credit facility of up to $2 billion to the IESO for the purposes of providing short to medium term financing related to the IESO's role in the implementation of the OFHP Act (the "OFHP Credit Facility").

Pursuant to the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA is required to include an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis, unless otherwise directed by the Minister, Treasury Board or Cabinet. The intercept provision applies to money appropriated by the Legislature for a public body.

The IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA.

As there is no operational funding appropriated by the Legislature for the IESO, the intercept provision has no application for OFA loans to the IESO.

Therefore:

The OFA is not required to include an intercept provision in the following two credit facility agreements with the IESO:

a) the Original Credit Facility Agreement, as may be amended from time to time; and,
b) the OFHP Credit Facility agreement, as may be amended from time to time.

(together, the "IESO Credit Facility Agreements")

The IESO Credit Facility Agreements shall remain subject to all other terms and conditions as set out in the applicable directives.

Hi John,

FYI. I added in "mid" in the last bullet too.

When do you think you'll hear back from Legal on their comfort on timing? I'd like to get back to Marianne.

Hi Scott,

How about the following?

Ron

· In reviewing the information and draft indemnity agreements, there were some concerns raised regarding the scope of the requested indemnities and interaction with existing statutory protections and indemnities. As a result, CEFD submitted a number of questions seeking more information and clarification to Ministry of Energy Legal on June 8th . We understand that Ministry of Energy Legal has passed some of these questions on to OPG and IESO as well.

· CEFD/MoF Legal are currently awaiting the response to questions before being able to move forward with the section 28 request.

· MOF and Energy Legal have also been working on the draft of the indemnities requested. Energy Legal would also be consulting with OPG and IESO on the revised drafts.

· CEFD will finalize its briefing note as soon as possible after receiving the responses. CEFD expect that if Energy responds this week, and subsequently submits a signed s.28 approval request early/mid next week, that staff would be on track to bring forward a s.28 approval package to the Minister by the end of June.

Hi John,

I think Toby will review but I am wondering why the wording of the questions that we have posed is so much shorter and different from the document that actually went over. I assume that it is a summary of what we have asked but I think it might be missing some important points, like the Fair Plan Act immunity is for OPG employees, not for OPG.

Hi John

See draft bullets on what's going on with s28. Wondering if we share with MoF Legal?

CEFD has prepared draft material related to the s28 request related to IES and OPG Indemnities. CEFD has been consulting with MoF Legal on this request. There were some concerns raised primarily around clarifying the scope of the requested indemnities and with respect to existing protection, for example under the Electricity Act (IESO) and Fair Hydro Act (OPG). CEFD submitted a number of questions in this regard to Ministry of Energy Legal on June 8. Ministry of Energy Legal noted that they would review and respond. CEFD shared a draft briefing note with Ministry of Energy Legal on June 12 and some follow-up questions. In response to a question from Ministry of Energy Legal, it was confirmed that CEFD/MoF Legal were waiting for a response to questions before being able to move forward with the s28 request. Ministry of Energy Legal noted that responses would be sent back as soon as they heard from IESO and OPG. CEFD will finalize as soon as possible after this.

Good Morning Liz:

Was communicating with Ali (via Berlin) and he suggested I contact you.

I have an Ontario Fair Hydro Plan related item I could use your help with.

Wonder if you have 5-7 mins for a quick chat, later today, please?

Carys can confirm but I think that I have windows @ 11.30 am or 4pm today, if that works for your book?

Many thanks, in advance.

Hi Marianne,

Some bullets, as requested.

- CEFD has prepared a draft briefing note related to the s28 request related to IESO and OPG Indemnities based on information received from Energy Legal and has been consulting with MoF Legal on this request.

- In reviewing the information and draft indemnity agreements, there were some concerns raised regarding the scope of the requested indemnities and interaction with existing statutory protections and indemnities. As a result, CEFD submitted a number of questions seeking more information and clarification to Ministry of Energy Legal on June 8th . We understand that Ministry of Energy Legal has passed some of these questions on to OPG and IESO as well.

- CEFD/MoF Legal are currently awaiting the response to questions before being able to move forward with the section 28 request.

- MOF and Energy Legal have also been working on the draft of the indemnities requested. Energy Legal would also be consulting with OPG and IESO on the revised drafts.

- CEFD will finalize its briefing note as soon as possible after receiving the responses. CEFD expect that if Energy responds this week, and subsequently submits a signed s.28 approval request early/mid next week, that staff would be on track to bring forward a s.28 approval package to the Minister by the end of June.

Hi John

See draft bullets on what's going on with s28. Wondering if we share with MoF Legal?

CEFD has prepared draft material related to the s28 request related to IES and OPG Indemnities. CEFD has been consulting with MoF Legal on this request. There were some concerns raised primarily around clarifying the scope of the requested indemnities and with respect to existing protection, for example under the Electricity Act (IESO) and Fair Hydro Act (OPG). CEFD submitted a number of questions in this regard to Ministry of Energy Legal on June 8. Ministry of Energy Legal noted that they would review and respond. CEFD shared a draft briefing note with Ministry of Energy Legal on June 12 and some follow-up questions. In response to a question from Ministry of Energy Legal, it was confirmed that CEFD/MoF Legal were waiting for a response to questions before being able to move forward with the s28 request. Ministry of Energy Legal noted that responses would be sent back as soon as they heard from IESO and OPG. CEFD will finalize as soon as possible after this.

DRAFT

There are a number of outstanding business issues related to the Ministry of Energy's (Energy) Section 28 request under Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (OFHP) that are under discussion between the Ministry of Finance (Finance) staff and Energy staff. Main outstanding issues include:

1. MOF staff are looking for concerns/scenarios for which OPG/IESO or its directors, officers and employees may become liable and for which indemnities are required.
    a. Most of the examples provided or discussed are financing related activities. Are there other types of activities?
    b. Most likely entities/organizations to sue OPG/IESO and members listed above.
    c. What are the situations where someone who might not be acting in good faith and still warrant being covered under the indemnity? [Some wording in the draft materials have raised concerns among MOF staff.]
        i. Electricity Act, 1998 already protects IESO's directors, officers, employees or agents against civil proceedings if they act in good faith.
        ii. Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 does provide similar protection for OPG.
2. OPG and IESO's corporate mandates will be updated to reflect their participation and role in OFHP. Given that OFHP activities will be reflected in such corporate documents, Energy's submission needs to include narrative on why the indemnities are required especially around the "acting in good faith" issue and where it is argued that the IESO and OPG's participation in OFHP is outside of their corporate responsibilities.
3. As currently proposed, indemnities are to be exactly the same for the IESO and OPG. Should the indemnities be tailored to specific circumstances of the IESO and OPG?
4. Are there any other arrangements, e.g. insurance policies that the IESO and OPG have, that cover these risks?
    a. MOF staff are looking for any other examples of indemnities provided by the IESO and OPG on behalf of members listed above that would be called upon first before the indemnities are called.
    b.
5. MOF staff have requested consistency between the draft materials, i.e. between the business case and the contingent liability table.
6. MOF staff have requested clarity in Energy's communication that any payments under the indemnities would be made from Energy's allocations.

Hi Lisa and everyone,

Along with comments from Ken over the weekend, just circling everyone in on the latest information from TBS. Pls. advise if your assessment changes but to me, TBS appears to be advising that Green ON Fund is not IESO's operation expense/allocation but allocation from MOECC to Green ON Fund.

Also, IESO staff have thus far signalled positively on the letter agreement. We are potentially looking about 2 days to conclude the process.

One caveat is that OPG is requesting that the trust be given first priority/security over all IESO assets. While the issue is still being discussed, if this is to proceed, the IESO will have to amend its current facilities. I would consider this almost as a separate issue in that if the scenario plays out, then we would need to look at and potentially open up all existing facilities.

Sorry for the delay, had to dig in the email archives.

There is no IESO allocation in Printed Estimates. There is an OREC transfer payment. In the 17-18 PRRT workbook for OREC is the following:

- Electricity utilities are reimbursed by submitting and receiving claims which are netted against their other monthly transactions from the IESO, and the IESO submits and receives one monthly amount from the Ontario Financing Authority on behalf of the Ministry of Energy – this process is streamlined and leverages an already existing reimbursement process, thereby minimizing costs.

The second attachment, email, contains the consolidation worksheet from OPCD. For IESO, I don't see any Transfer Payment flows in from the Province.

Hi John

Based on a conversation with Gadi, any solution that continues with the intercept provision will most likely be unacceptable from OPG's perspective. They are concerned that despite the intercept being toothless on a practical basis it may send the wrong message to DBRS as it assess the credit-worthiness of the OFHP debt.

It appears that the only solution is have the Minister sign an exemption and we should focus on getting that in place.

Thanks

Hi James,

The Green ON Fund…am I correct to think that this is also not part of IESO's operating expense/allocation? As for the items below (for Energy), it is a program expense facilitated through the IESO?

Thanks,

John

From the start, the exemption had been the advocated path. I will keep this interception option open until the decision is made to pursue Minister's directive or when we have that directive signed. We can always walk away from this option.

Hi John

Based on a conversation with Gadi, any solution that continues with the intercept provision will most likely be unacceptable from OPG's perspective. They are concerned that despite the intercept being toothless on a practical basis it may send the wrong message to DBRS as it assess the credit-worthiness of the OFHP debt.

It appears that the only solution is have the Minister sign an exemption and we should focus on getting that in place.

Thanks

Hi Lisa and everyone,

Along with comments from Ken over the weekend, just circling everyone in on the latest information from TBS. Pls. advise if your assessment changes but to me, TBS appears to be advising that Green ON Fund is not IESO's operation expense/allocation but allocation from MOECC to Green ON Fund.

Also, IESO staff have thus far signalled positively on the letter agreement. We are potentially looking about 2 days to conclude the process.

One caveat is that OPG is requesting that the trust be given first priority/security over all IESO assets. While the issue is still being discussed, if this is to proceed, the IESO will have to amend its current facilities. I would consider this almost as a separate issue in that if the scenario plays out, then we would need to look at and potentially open up all existing facilities.

Hi Sarah,

I agree that we should aim for a policy level call tomorrow.

In my call with IESO staff, they expressed that they understood the rationale behind the approach, along the lines of no substantive issue as there is no appropriation here. At least the IESO staff fully understood that point. They do want this facility in place asap so it would not surprise me if they expressed frustration around the proposed approach and the delay.

As mentioned in my earlier email, this will be brought up potentially at tomorrow's meeting.

Thanks,

John

Hi John –

Toby from MOF Legal just called Lisa. Tom McKinley, counsel from MOE reached out to him in response to your memo to find out what the rationale was for the memo, apparently IESO reached out to Energy and expressed concern about what was going on.

I think it may be prudent to arrange for a policy level call tomorrow to provide reassurance that there is no substantive issue here, but in the absence of a directive we require inclusion of the intercept provisions. Notwithstanding that there are currently no appropriations. Once this is done the loan agreement can be finalized without further delay.

I've copied Anna given your earlier heads up to her. Please let me know how you would like to proceed.

  - Provincial Guarantees
- Outstanding Issues

Overview of the Fair Hydro Plan

- On May 31, 2017, the Government passed the Fair Hydro Act, 2017, that will lower electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible residential customers.
- The measures that make up the 25 per cent average reduction include:
  - Refinancing a portion of the Global Adjustment (GA) to spread the cost of Ontario's electricity investments over the expected lifecycle of the generation infrastructure assets.
  - The eight per cent rebate equal to the provincial portion of the HST that took effect on January 1, 2017.
  - Shifting funding of the Ontario Electricity Support Program (OESP) and Rural or Remote Rate Protection (RRRP) program from electricity ratepayers to the province.
- The OFA staff in various divisions have been involved in the implementation of the GA financing mechanism.

Overview of the Fair Hydro Plan (cont'd)

- Other measures that make up the Fair Hydro Plan include:
  - Expanding the Industrial Conservation Initiative (ICI) to include electricity consumers in the manufacturing and greenhouse sectors with an average monthly peak demand of greater than 500 kW and less than 1 MW.
  - Expanding the OESP, by providing 50 per cent more support in the form of monthly credits for people with low incomes and increasing eligibility, effective May 1, 2017.
  - Establishing an Affordability Fund that will be accessible to LDCs for customers who do not qualify for low-income conservation programs and who are unable to undertake energy efficiency improvements without financial assistance.
  - Providing on-reserve First Nations households with a 100 per cent credit of the delivery line on their monthly electricity bills.
  - Enhancing the Rural or Remote Rate Protection (RRRP) program to provide distribution charge relief to about 800,000 customers and shift costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. This would include customers served by local distribution companies (LDCs) with the highest rates.
  - improve energy sector efficiency and modernize the province's electricity market, building on the collaboration of the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) and the Ontario Energy Board (OEB).

Global Adjustment Financing

- The purpose of the Global Adjustment refinancing is to
  - To ensure that clean energy costs and clean energy benefits are fairly allocated among present and future specified consumers
  - To recognize that clean energy benefits have accrued and will accrue over time and will continue to benefit present and future electricity consumers in the Province, and
  - To align clean energy costs with clean energy benefits, in order to provide fairness for specified consumers over time.

Considerations for GA Financial Structure

- Government's desire for GA refinancing to be consistent with current policy whereby electricity costs are recovered through ratepayers
- A financing structure was developed whereby OPG would administer GA deferral financing, through a financing entity with the potential ability to consolidate the activity and accounting within OPG
- The Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) would sell the 'right to collect' deferred future revenue from ratepayers to the financing entity in return for cash proceeds.
- The financing entity funding would be raised from capital markets, directly by the financing entity and indirectly from OPG and the Province (OFA)
- Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation is not involved based on its traditional focus on providing financing for historic debt.

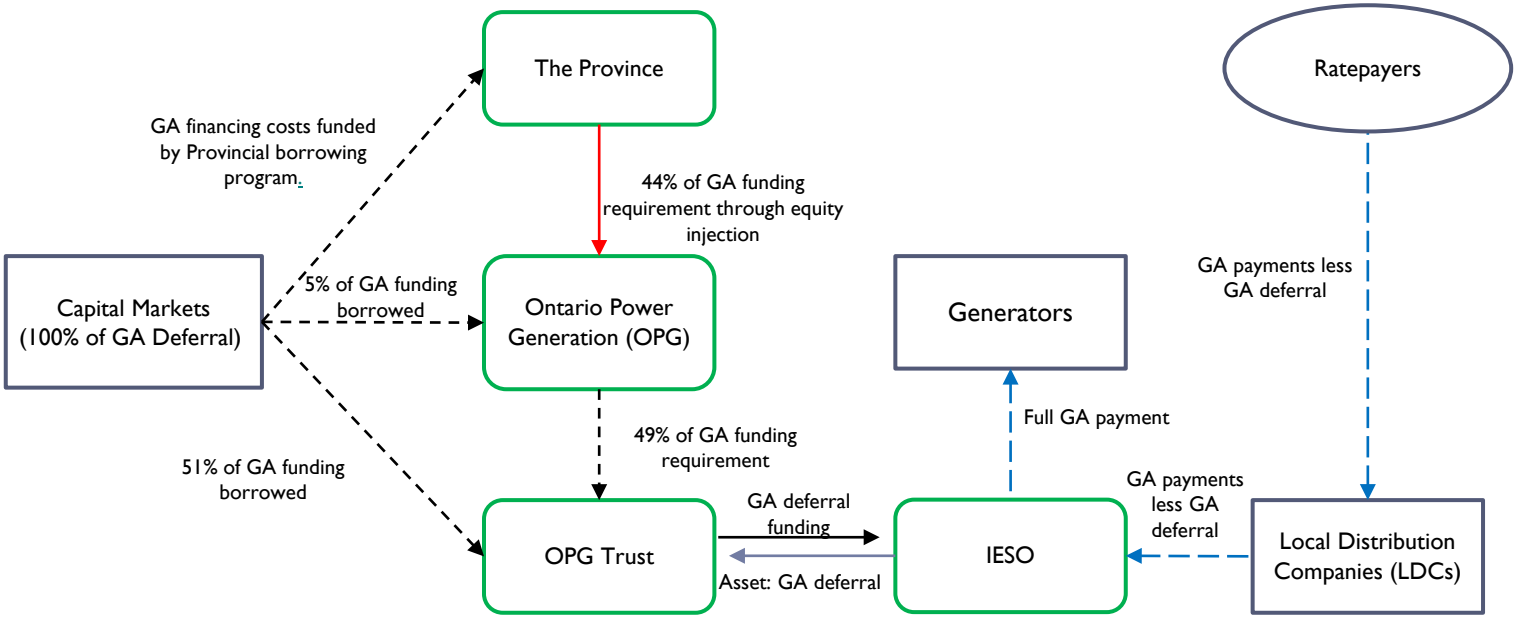
Financing Structure Requires Key Financing and Accounting Objectives to be Achieved to be Successful

- Ability to Finance the GA deferral
- Ability to Consolidate the financing entity into OPG
- OPG to maintain its status a government business enterprise including
- Financing entity ability to recognize "right to collect" as an intangible asset.
- OPG to maintain its status a government business enterprise

GA Financing Structure

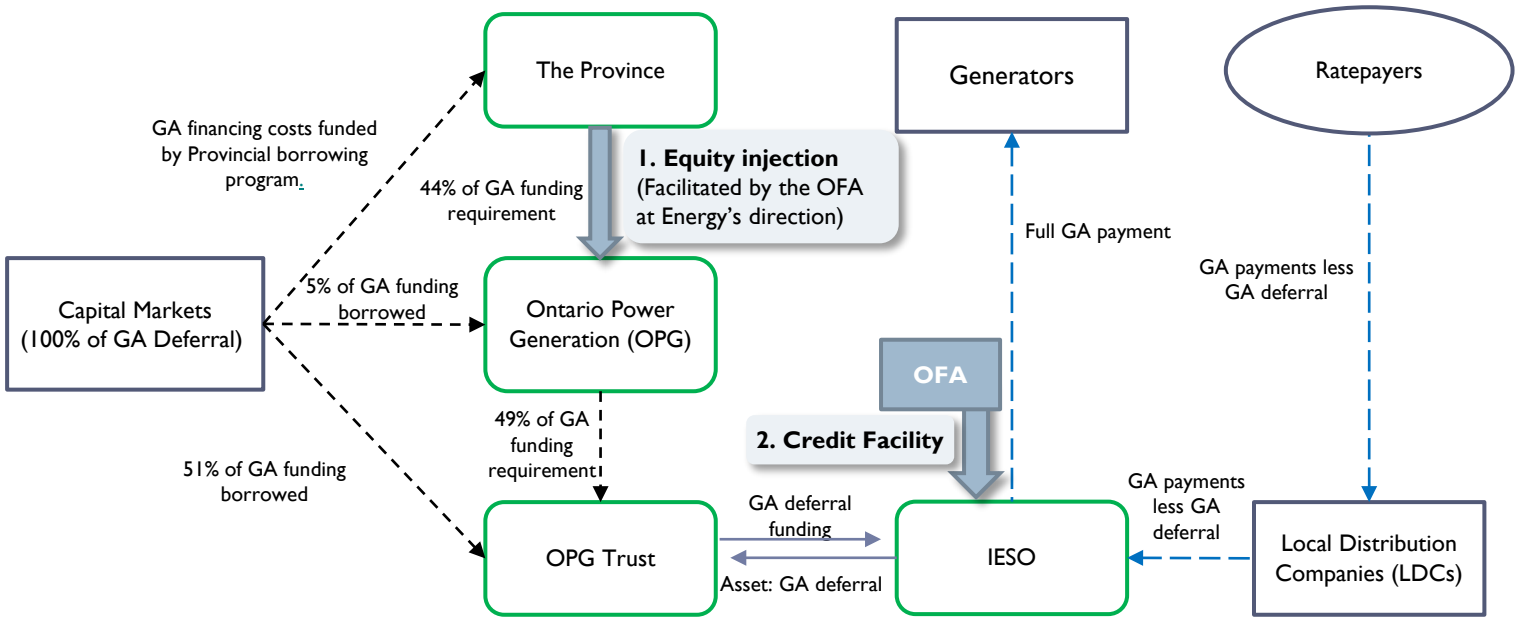
The diagram below outlines how the refinancing of GA would be implemented:

- OPG administers GA deferral financing, through a financing entity (OPG Trust)
- The Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) would sell the 'right to collect' deferred future revenue from ratepayers to the financing entity in return for cash proceeds.
- IESO uses these cash proceeds plus GA payments from ratepayers to pay Generators.
- The financing entity funding would be raised from capital markets directly and through OPG. OPG in turn raises funding directly through capital markets and through an equity injection from Province.



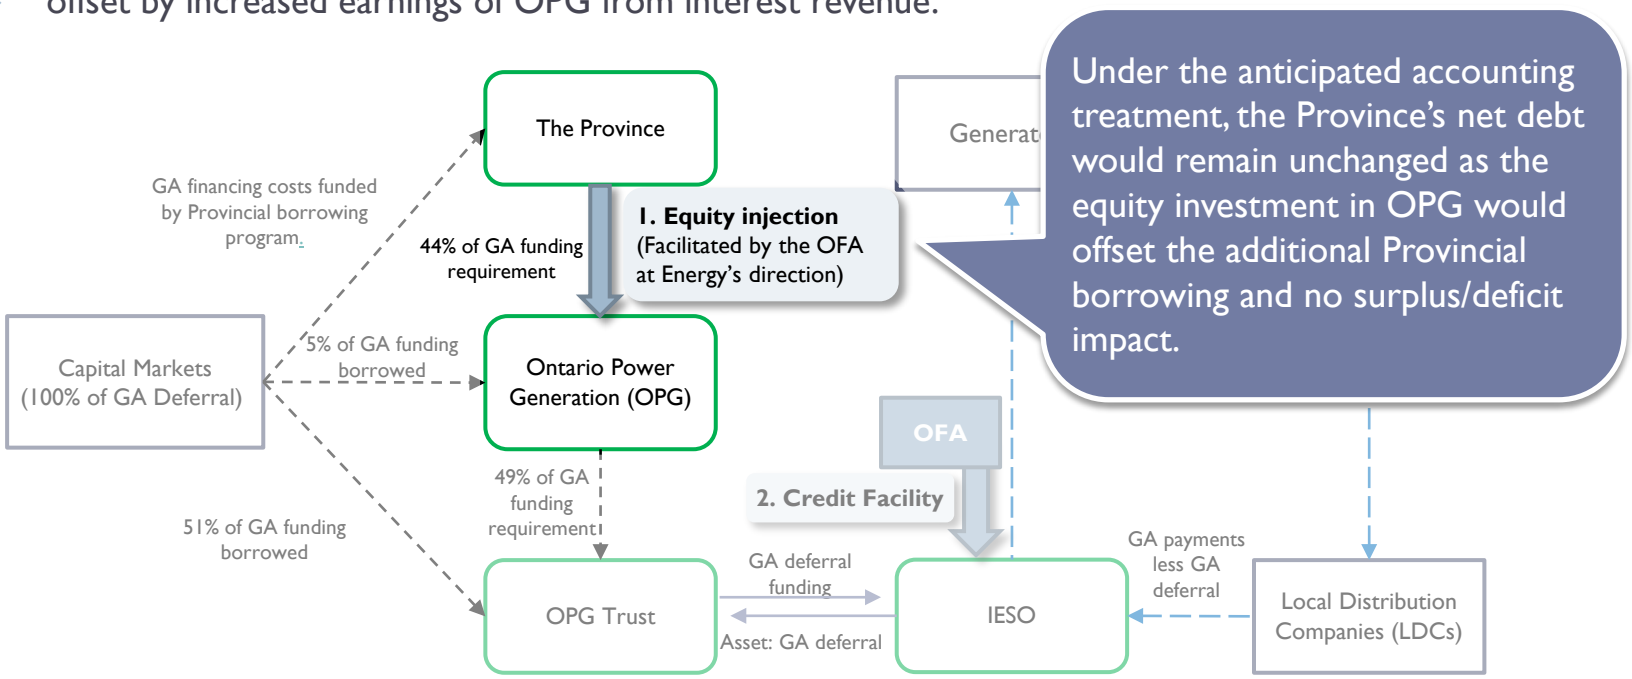
OFA Involvement with FHP Implementation

- The Ontario Financing Authority has been involved in two aspects of the GA Financing:
  1. Facilitating the mechanism for equity injections into Ontario Power Generation at the direction of the Ministry of Energy
  2. Implementing the short term credit facility for the IESO



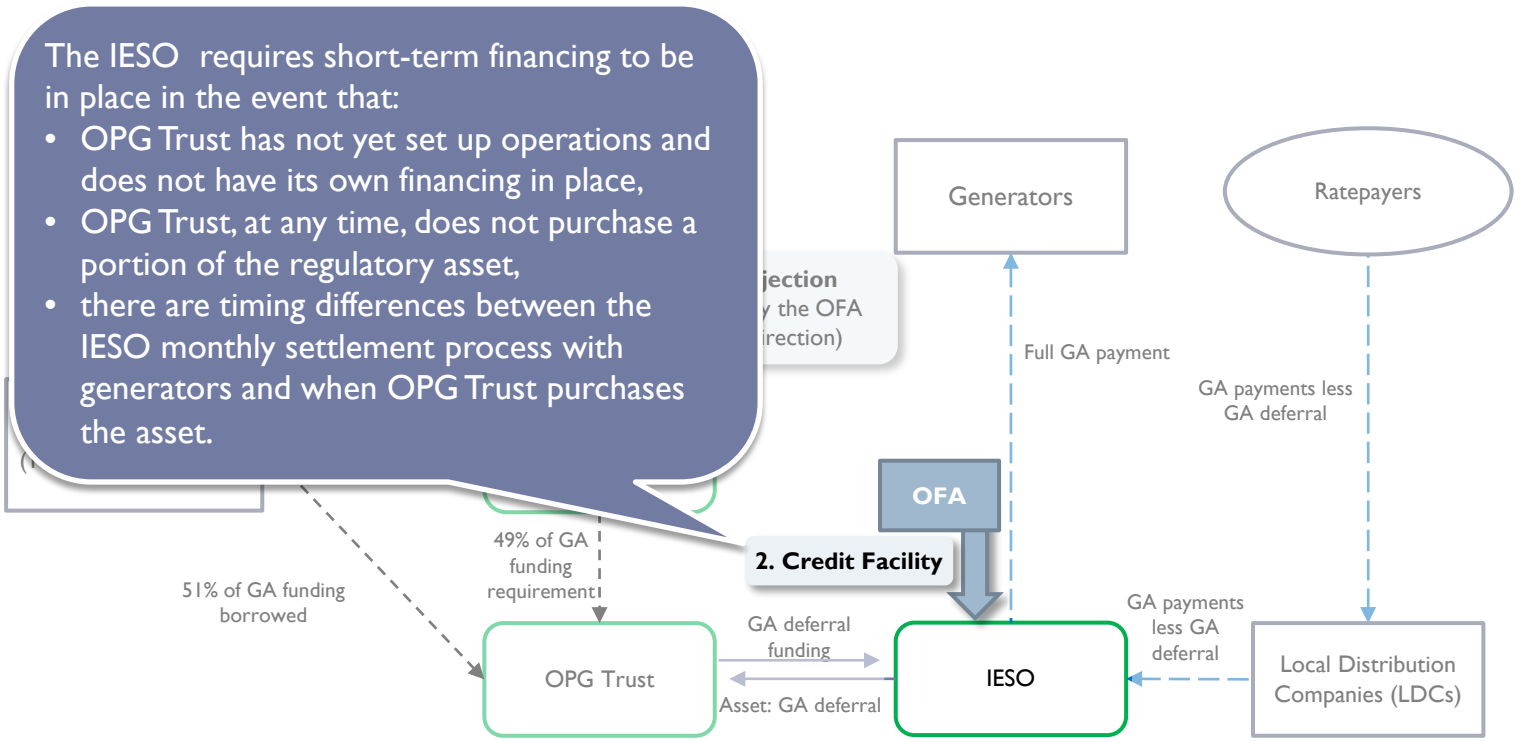
1. Equity Injection

- The 2017 Budget includes an investment operating asset of $1.1B related to the Province's equity injection to OPG, enabling the OPG Trust to regularly purchase IESO's regulatory asset through 2017-18.
- The structure would:
  - increase gross debt of the Province (to finance the equity injection in OPG),
  - increase net investment in OPG (so no net debt impact),
  - increase interest on debt related to that external debt which would be
  - offset by increased earnings of OPG from interest revenue.



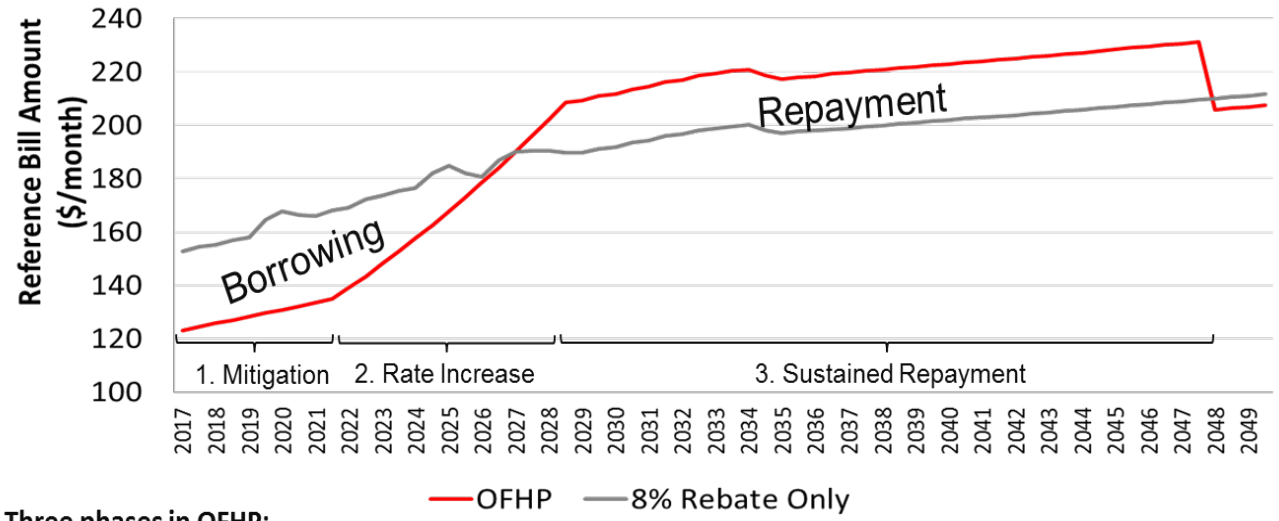
2. OFA/IESO Credit Facility

- The Fair Hydro Act, 2017 allows the IESO to sell the right to recover those deferred amounts of the global adjustment from specified consumers in the future (the "regulatory asset").
- It is anticipated that the regulatory asset would be purchased by the financing entity to be established by OPG ("OPG Trust"). The cash received would be used by the IESO to fund the current Global Adjustment shortfall.



Global Adjustment Financing

- GA Financing structure and bill impacts can be thought of as having three phases (see chart below)



Three phases in OFHP:

Phase 1: Mitigation

- 2017 bill set 25% lower than original projection (that did not include 8% HST rebate)
- Increase in bill capped to 2% per year until 2021

Phase 2: Rate Increase

- Bill increases 6.3% each year to avoid exceeding borrowing limit of $28B
- Planned increases end in 2028 when sustained repayment starts

Phase 3: Sustained Repayment

- Bill remains 10.4% higher than projected with 8% rebate until 2047
- Difference represents financing repayment
- Total interest paid: $26.2B

Risks

Global Adjustment Refinancing Model Assumptions

- Projected Global Adjustment Refinancing costs are based on a model incorporating key assumptions including interest rates and consumer electricity demand.
- Variances from these key assumptions could affect refinancing costs, the refinancing period, peak interest costs etc.

- Interest rates
  - Higher/lower Interest rates would lead to higher/lower refinancing costs
  - CEFD estimates, for example that a 1.5 percentage point lower interest rate assumption would halve projected accumulated interest costs

- Electricity demand
  - Lower/higher electricity demand due to fewer consumers or lower/higher consumption among some consumers would increase/decrease Clean Energy Adjustment costs for remaining consumers

Risks (cont'd)

Accounting Risk Around Proposed Financial Structure

- Under the proposed financing structure, GA refinancing transactions would have no impacts on either the Province's net debt or on surplus/deficit positions
- The proposed legislation was conditionally supported by accounting advisers to government agencies
- The Auditor General of Ontario has raised concerns regarding the appropriateness of reporting rate regulated assets on the IESO's books under public sector accounting standards, which may lead to a qualified audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements of the Province.
- If the proposed financial structure and accounting treatment is not implemented, there would be a negative fiscal impact reflecting the GA deferral costs including interest. The fiscal impact could be up to a projected $2.5B in 2017-18 and rising over the subsequent three years.

Market Risks around OPG financing entity borrowing:

- Credit rating agencies may perceive OPG SPV borrowing as debt supported by Province, impacting Province's ratings and cost of borrowing.

- The proposed financing structure will be reviewed by credit agencies with respect to OPG SPV borrowing in capital markets. Depending on assessment, there may be an impact
  - on interest rates for OPG borrowing
  - the amount of equity/funding the province may need to provide
  - and level of provincial assurances (e.g. provincial guarantee)
  - OPG SPV ability to finance.
    - If the Trust can't raise the full funding requirements, additional cash injections would be required.
    - If the borrowing cap of $28B is reached sooner than forecast, the province may have to provide incremental funding to float the program to 2047.

Extended use of IESO credit facility:

- It is still possible that the full value of the regulatory asset may not be purchased. In such cases, the IESO may be able to retain the unsold amounts recorded in its variance account for a short period of time.

- Providing a credit facility for the IESO to manage while GA deferrals are pending sale, could result in fiscal plan implications if GA deferrals remain on the IESO's books at the Province's fiscal year-end.
  - The IESO is consolidated onto the Province's books.

Risks (cont'd)

Constitutional Risks

- There is a constitutional risk related to the matching of clean energy costs and benefits over time.
  - If the proposed financing plan encumber future consumers with a premium payment to cover the GA financing in order to subsidize current ratepayers, then there would be a moderately high constitutional risk that the proposed Clean Energy Adjustments would be deemed unconstitutional taxation.

- To mitigate this risk, the legislation requires the Minister of Energy to estimate a "fair allocation amount" by estimating clean energy costs attributable to each reference period in a way that takes into account the need to align those costs with the estimated clean energy benefits attributable to the same period.

- This may present a challenge, especially from 2018 to 2021, where annual increases in bills are subject to caps. Additional borrowing/ provincial funding may be required.

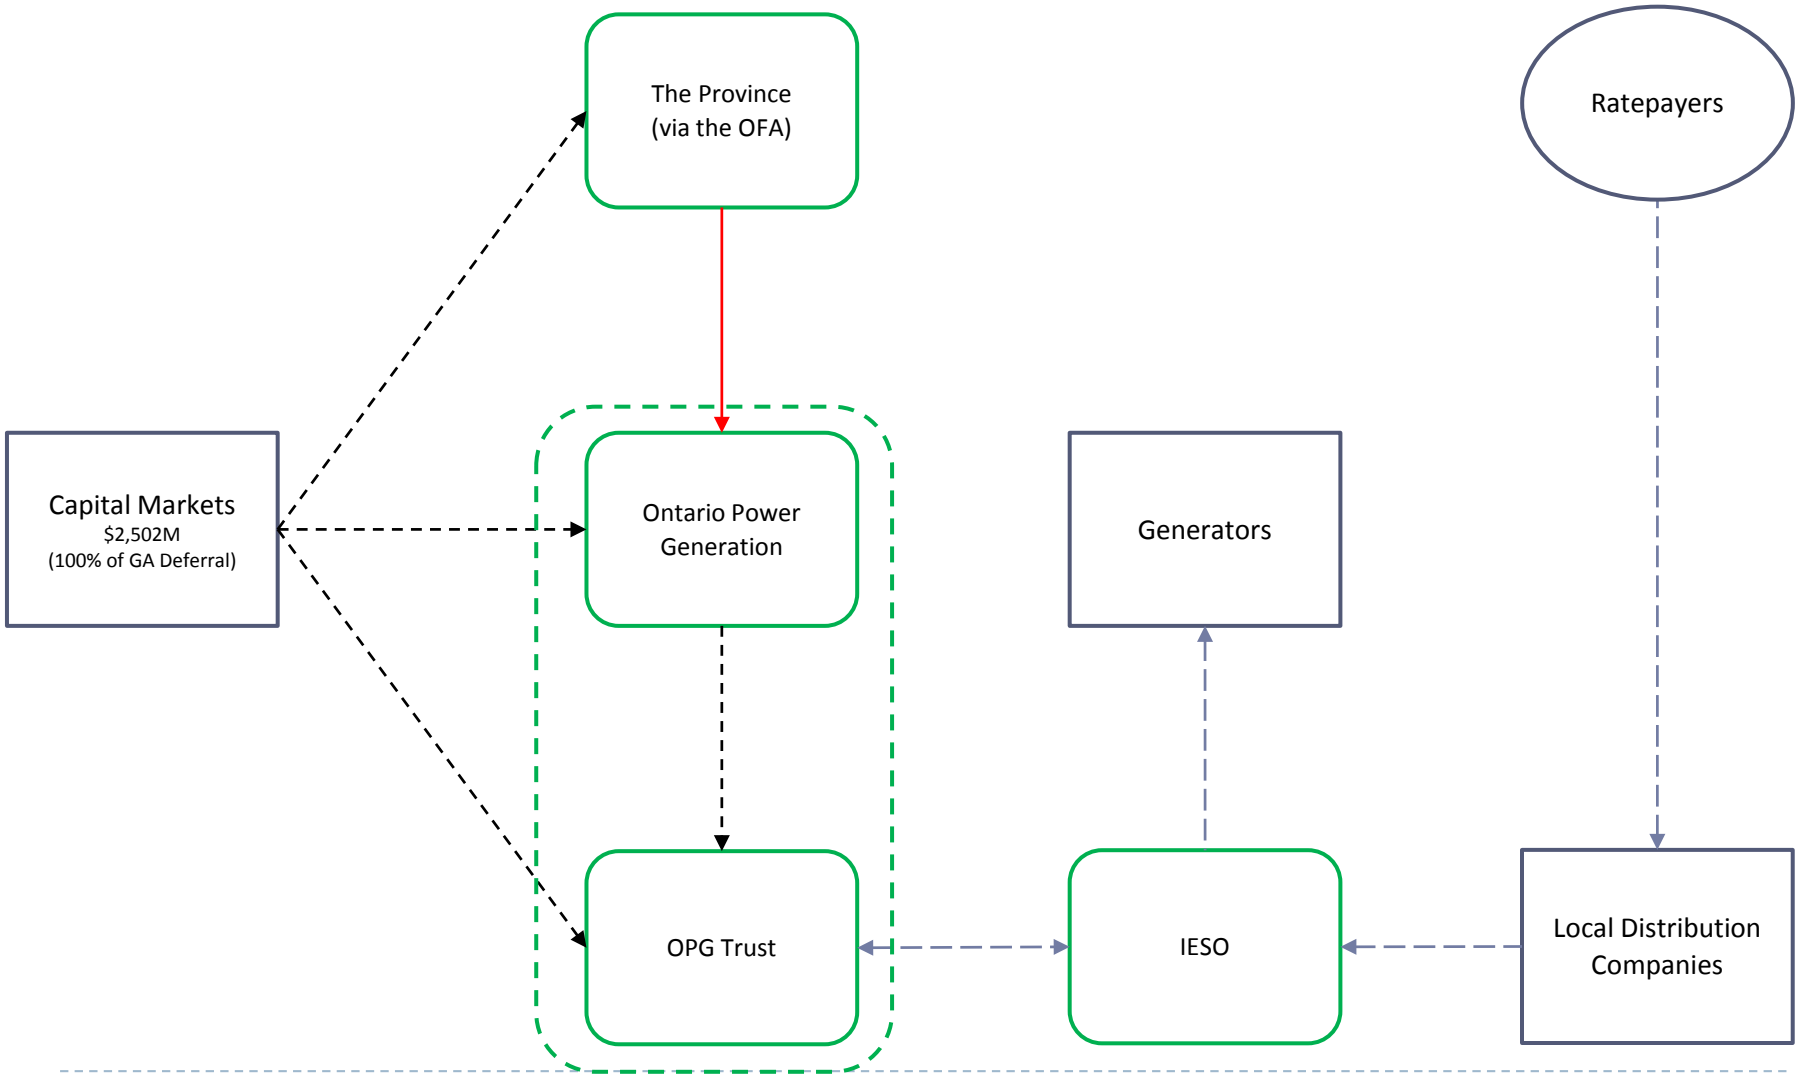
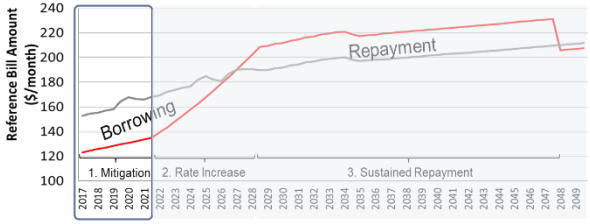
GA Financing Parties Involved



DRAFT

FHP Fund Flows - Mitigation Phase



Funding OPG Trust

A. The Province borrows 44% of the deferred GA from the market.

B. The Province funnels this amount to OPG through an equity injection.

C. OPG borrows 5% of the deferred GA from the market.

D. OPG lends an amount equal to the 5% and 44% from the market and the Province, respectively, to OPG Trust.

E. OPG Trust borrows 51% of the deferred GA from the market, ending up with 100% of the total deferred GA in cash.

Deferral Mechanism

F. Ratepayers pay their portion of the GA to LDCs.

G. The LDCs remit this amount to the IESO …

H. …In exchange, the IESO is allowed to recognize a regulatory asset – the right to collect the deferred amount of $2,500M from ratepayers. It then sells this asset for cash to OPG Trust.

I. IESO uses the proceeds from the sale of the regulatory asset and the collection amount from LDCs to pay the full amount of the GA to Generators.

Ratepayers

A. 1,100 M (44%)

The Province (via the OFA)

B. $1,100M (44%)

Generators

F. $9,500M (estimated required payment to achieve 25% ratepayer savings per FHP)

C. $125 M (5%)

Ontario Power Generation

D. $1,225M (49%)

I. $12,000M

Capital Markets
$2,500 M
(100% of GA Deferral)

E. $1,275 M (51%)

OPG Trust

H. $2,500M (100%)

IESO

G. $9,500 M

Local Distribution Companies

Outstanding Business Issues

1. Provincial Support Agreement
2. Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILs) Exemption
3. Fair Hydro Plan – Master Subscription Agreement Term Sheet (Equity Injection Process)
4. Management Fees
5. Subordinated Debt Loan Agreement
6. IESO – Increased OFA Credit Facilities

Hi Scott,

Good idea on the briefing.

Timing depends on a couple things. I was a little surprised on the MO request for a briefing on the credit facility, as it's quite straightforward, but that submission needs to be signed by Thursday (CO has the ADM-approved version, but we need a DM and Minister signed version for LRC). If we can get Marianne comfortable with just doing that through a Minister's signing meeting, that would provide more timing flexibility.

Timing could also depend on when the indemnity is actually needed too.

Hi Scott,

Were you planning on doing a FHP status update briefing for the Minister? Any targeted timing?

We've been asked to do a briefing on the OIC to enable OFA to have enough borrowing room for the IESO credit facility request. And, at some point, we will need to brief on the indemnity request -- and on the Provincial guarantee too.

A reminder that Cabinet binders will go out Thursday afternoon.

This means our target is for all ministry mtrls to be here in ECO by end of day Wednesday.

Then CBNs can wait until after the SoC briefing; if lucky then no changes after SoC and you can print (or for those with confidence, print in ahead in expectation your note will sail), or lightning changes after SoC in time to get CBNs to us by 130 Thursday.

AND, a reminder that we now send most POCO binders digitally, so every entry in mosaic needs to have the right ministry deck uploaded by the ministry, and the right CBN in the system. If for osme reason you haven't got your mosaic entry sorted out correctly, you need to email Jason and my folks the digital copies of your documents. But rerally, they have to be in mosaic in the long run anyway, so why not put them there now?

Rob,

Since the next Cabinet is on a Tuesday, I hope to move up binder distribution to Thursday afternoon.

That would allow the SoC briefing to occur, and then immediately afterwards binders could be put together and distributed.

This moves the deadline for materials to be end of day Wednesday/first thing Thursday, with the CBNs immediately after SoC.

Of course if an item or items need more time given the SoC briefing, we could hold them for a follow up mailing.

Proposed Items for Review

1. Approval of Order in Council ("OIC") under section 22 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), authorizing the Minister of Finance to make a loan to the Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA").

Deputy Minister — 2017/06/16 — Date

Minister — 2017/06/20 — Date

s. 1 Proposal and Context

- Approval is being sought for an OIC under section 22 of Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), which will authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loan(s) to the Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA") in an amount of up to $2.0 billion. Under the proposed OIC, repayment of advances made under the loan plus accrued interest may be made in whole or in part at any time provided that the loan plus any accrued interest shall be fully repaid by December 31, 2047.

- Subsection 22(1) of CIPA authorizes the Minister of Finance to make loans to the OFA in the amounts, times and on the terms and conditions authorized by Lieutenant Governor in Council ("LGIC"). Subsection 22(2) provides a statutory appropriation for loans made by the Minister to the OFA under subsection 22(1).

- Existing OICs authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loans to the OFA, and in turn the OFA has provided loans and credit facilities to colleges, school boards and other public bodies such as Infrastructure Ontario, IESO, Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation and Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

- This proposed OIC is required to increase the authority of the Minister of Finance to lend to the OFA which will provide the OFA with the capacity to provide additional loans to the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO").
    - This will help the IESO to fulfil the commitments under the Fair Hydro Act, 2017 as the IESO will have to finance short to medium term funding shortfalls in the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.
    - The timing of this OIC is critical to ensure that borrowing authority for the OFA is available to provide the IESO its requested financing arrangements under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

s. 2 Approach and Intended Outcomes

- Under CIPA, the OFA provides financing to public bodies as directed by the Minister of Finance. The OFA obtains the funds it needs for its lending program by borrowing from the Province. This OIC would authorize the Minister of Finance under section 22 of CIPA to provide additional loans to the OFA.

- As per subsection 3(1) of CIPA, the Minister of Finance is responsible for the administration of CIPA with respect to the OFA.

- This proposed OIC is required to assist in fulfilling the commitments under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

- It is expected that as part of the implementation, the Minister of Finance will direct the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility for short term financing related to the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. In particular, the OFA would be directed to provide a credit facility to the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"). The IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA.

- Under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, the IESO will incur a monthly funding shortfall in the early years of the plan, as a portion of the Global Adjustment charge to ratepayers will be deferred to the future. During this period, Global Adjustment amounts collected from ratepayers will, therefore, be insufficient to fund the IESO's contractual obligations to electricity producers and service providers.

- The Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 gives the IESO the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future (the "regulatory asset") and the ability to sell the regulatory asset to a financing entity.
    - It is anticipated that the regulatory asset will be purchased by the financing entity to be established by OPG ("OPG SPV", an OPG special purpose vehicle or trust).
    - The cash received from selling the regulatory asset will be used by the IESO to fund the current Global Adjustment shortfall.

- There is expected to be initial and potential ongoing IESO cash flow requirement timing differences. The OPG SPV is not anticipated to be established and able to borrow to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset from the IESO until later in 2017 (planned for later in summer 2017; however, exact timing is subject to actual implementation). Even once the SPV is set up to borrow, there is expected to be timing differences between the IESO's monthly settlement process when it has to pay generators and when the SPV purchases the asset from IESO. Also, under the legislation, OPG's SPV is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset.

- As a result, IESO requires short-term financing to be in place for initial and expected monthly timing differences, or in the event that the OPG SPV, at any time, does not purchase a portion of the regulatory asset.

- IESO has requested that the OFA provide a revolving credit facility of $2.0 billion to support its role in the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

- It is proposed that the OIC authorizes the OFA to borrow an additional $2.0 billion, which would be in addition to existing authority for the Minister of Finance to provide loans to the OFA, to ensure that there is sufficient borrowing authority in place for the OFA to meet the IESO requested requirements.

- If approved, the Minister of Finance will subsequently provide a Directive to the OFA to direct it to provide credit facilities to the IESO.
    - The OFA currently provides a credit facility to the IESO of $975 million.
    - The IESO has requested that the existing credit facility be reduced to $475 million, and a new credit facility be provided of $2.0 billion, for a total amount of $2.475 billion.

s. 3 Direction and Urgency

- The Province passed legislation on May 31, 2017 to implement the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, which will reduce electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible households.
- The ability for the OFA to have the requisite borrowing and lending capacity is instrumental in supporting implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.
- Ministry of Energy proposed regulations under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 are expected to track for Cabinet approval by end of June 2017. It is expected that this OIC also be submitted for approval concurrently as it supports a crucial component of the successfully implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.
- A related Cabinet Minute from the Ministry of Energy is tracking for June 27, 2017 date.

s. 4 Impact Assessment and Costs

- With this OIC, the Minister of Finance will be authorized to lend an additional amount of $2.0 billion to the OFA. Subject to the terms and conditions of a Directive from the Minister of Finance, loans from the Minister of Finance to the OFA are expected to be at the Province's cost of funds.

- Loans advanced will result in increased borrowing in the debt markets by the Province.
- Loans are expected to be repaid and, therefore, no fiscal impact is expected.

s. 5 Implementation

- If the OIC is approved and signed, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA. A Directive from the Minister may provide direction to the OFA on how it can use the proceeds of the loan.

s. 6 Delivery and Results Tracking

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and is required to ensure the timely implementation and support for the success of the Fair Hydro Plan. Upon approval, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA with a directive on how the loan can be used.

s.7 Stakeholder Consultations

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. The related Cabinet note for the initiative should be referred to.

Décret

On the recommendation of the undersigned, the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, by and with the advice and concurrence of the Executive Council of Ontario, orders that:

Sur la recommandation de la personne soussignée, la lieutenante-gouverneure de l'Ontario, sur l'avis et avec le consentement du Conseil exécutif de l'Ontario, décrète ce qui suit :

WHEREAS pursuant to subsection 22(1) of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the "Act"), the Minister of Finance may purchase securities of or make loans to corporations established under subsection 2(1) of the Act in such amounts, at such times and on such terms and conditions as the Lieutenant Governor in Council considers expedient;

AND WHEREAS the Ontario Financing Authority (the "OFA") is a corporation established under subsection 2(1) of the Act;

AND WHEREAS pursuant to subsection 6(3) of the Act, the power of a corporation established under subsection 2(1) of the Act to borrow and issue securities, among other things, may only be exercised under the authority of a by-law that has been approved by the Minister of Finance;

AND WHEREAS the OFA wishes to borrow up to Two Billion Dollars in lawful money of Canada from the Minister of Finance and has been authorized to do so by a borrowing by-law approved in accordance with the Act;

THEREFORE:

Pursuant to subsection 22 (1) of the Act, the Minister of Finance is authorized to lend a maximum of Two Billion Dollars in lawful money of Canada to the OFA on the following terms and conditions:

(a) the loan may be advanced in such amounts and at such time or times as required by the OFA;

(b) repayment of advances made under the loan plus accrued interest may be made in whole or in part at any time provided that the loan plus any accrued interest shall be fully repaid by December 31, 2047;

(c) each advance (an "Advance") made under the loan hereby authorized shall bear interest at a rate which is determined as follows:

(i) from the date of the Advance to (but excluding) the date of repayment the Advance shall bear interest at a per annum rate equivalent to the yield earned on ninety day Province of Ontario treasury bills on the date before the Advance Date as determined by the Province, provided that if an Advance is outstanding for longer than ninety days, the interest rate shall be reset on the last day of each ninety day period (the "Reset Date") to the yield earned on ninety day Province of Ontario treasury bills immediately preceding the Reset Date for such ninety day period as determined by the Province;

(ii) in the event that moneys included in an Advance are used by the OFA for the purpose of funding loans to third parties (a "Third Party Loan"), the rate of interest payable by the OFA to the Province on the portion of the Advance so used shall be adjusted effective as of the date that the portion of the Advance is used to fund the Third Party Loan so that the per annum rate of interest payable by the OFA on such moneys is equivalent to the per annum rate of interest payable to the OFA under the Third Party Loan less an amount as may be determined by the Minister of Finance in respect of such Third Party Loan or a class of such Third Party Loans, until but excluding the date on which the Third Party Loan is repaid, at which time the interest rate set out in subparagraph (i) shall again be applicable to that portion of the Advance; and

(iii) in the event that moneys described in subparagraph (ii), once repaid, are subsequently used to fund loans to third parties, subparagraph (ii) shall again be applicable in determining the interest rate payable to the Province on that portion of the Advance used to fund such loan, and so on, until the Advance shall be repaid to the Province in full;

(iv) despite subparagraphs (ii) and (iii), in the event that no interest is payable to the OFA under a Third Party Loan, no interest shall be payable by the OFA on the portion of the Advance so used and to the extent that the terms of a Third Party Loan provide for the deferral of the payment of accrued interest for a period, the interest payment terms of an Advance or portion thereof shall also be deferred for a similar period.

(d) interest for any period of less than one year shall be payable for the actual number of days included in such period, computed on the basis of a 365-day year;

(e) despite paragraph (b) of this Order, interest on any portion of an Advance made to the OFA under the loan that is used by the OFA to fund a Third Party Loan shall accrue on the basis stated above but shall become payable only to the extent the OFA receives payment of interest under the relevant Third Party Loan;

(f) despite paragraph (b) of this Order, any portion of the principal of an Advance made to the OFA under the loan that is used by the OFA to fund a Third Party Loan shall become payable only to the extent the OFA receives repayment of principal under the relevant Third Party Loan; and

(g) the loan hereby authorized shall be evidenced by a promissory note.

ATTENDU QUE le ministre des Finances peut, en vertu du paragraphe 22 (1) de la Loi de 1993 sur le plan d'investissement (la « Loi »), acheter des valeurs mobilières des personnes morales créées en vertu du paragraphe 2 (1) de la Loi ou leur consentir des prêts selon les montants, aux moments et aux conditions que le lieutenant-gouverneur en conseil estime opportuns;

ATTENDU QUE l'Office ontarien de financement (l'« OOF ») est une personne morale créée en vertu du paragraphe 2 (1) de la Loi;

ATTENDU QUE, conformément au paragraphe 6 (3) de la Loi, le pouvoir qu'ont les personnes morales créées en vertu du paragraphe 2 (1) de la Loi de contracter des emprunts et d'émettre des valeurs mobilières, entre autres, ne peut être exercé qu'aux termes d'un règlement administratif approuvé par le ministre des Finances;

ATTENDU QUE l'OOF souhaite emprunter jusqu'à concurrence de deux milliards de dollars en monnaie légale du Canada du ministre des Finances et qu'il a été autorisé à le faire par un règlement administratif d'emprunt approuvé conformément à la Loi;

PAR CONSÉQUENT :

en vertu du paragraphe 22 (1) de la Loi, le ministre des Finances est autorisé à prêter un montant maximal de deux milliards de dollars en monnaie légale du Canada à l'OOF, aux conditions suivantes :

a) le prêt peut être consenti selon les montants et aux moments qui conviennent à l'OOF;

b) le remboursement des avances consenties au titre du prêt, plus les intérêts courus, peut à tout moment être effectué en totalité ou en partie, pourvu que le prêt et les intérêts courus soient entièrement remboursés au plus tard le 31 décembre 2047;

c) chaque avance (« avance ») faite au titre du prêt autorisé par les présentes portera intérêt au taux est fixé comme suit :

(i) de la date où elle a été faite jusqu'à la date (non comprise) de son remboursement, l'avance portera intérêt à un taux annuel équivalant au rendement gagné sur des bons du Trésor de la province de l'Ontario de quatre-vingt-dix jours à la date précédant la date de l'avance fixée par la province, pourvu que ce taux d'intérêt soit rajusté le dernier jour de chaque période de quatre-vingt-dix jours (« date de rajustement ») selon le rendement gagné sur de tels bons du Trésor immédiatement avant la date de rajustement pour une période de quatre-vingt-dix jours décidée par la province, si l'avance est impayée pendant plus de quatre-vingt-dix jours;

(ii) dans l'éventualité où l'OOF se servirait de sommes comprises dans une avance pour financer des prêts à des tiers, le taux d'intérêt à payer par l'OOF à la province sur la partie de l'avance ainsi utilisée sera rajusté à la date à laquelle la partie de l'avance sera utilisée pour le financement du prêt à un tiers de façon que le taux d'intérêt annuel à payer par l'OOF sur de telles sommes soit équivalent à ce dernier taux moins un montant que pourra fixer le ministre des Finances à l'égard d'un tel prêt ou d'une telle catégorie de prêt, jusqu'à la date (non comprise) à laquelle le prêt à un tiers sera remboursé, date à laquelle le taux d'intérêt établi au sous-alinéa (i) s'appliquera de nouveau à cette partie de l'avance;

(iii) dans l'éventualité où les sommes décrites au sous-alinéa (ii), une fois remboursées, seraient ultérieurement utilisées pour le financement de prêts à des tiers, le sous-alinéa (ii) s'appliquera de nouveau dans l'établissement du taux d'intérêt à payer à la province sur la partie de l'avance utilisée à cette fin, et ainsi de suite, jusqu'à ce que l'avance ait été remboursée intégralement à la province;

(iv) malgré les sous-alinéas (ii) et (iii), dans l'éventualité où aucun intérêt ne serait payable à l'OOF au titre d'un prêt à un tiers, aucun intérêt ne sera à payer par l'OOF sur la partie de l'avance ainsi utilisée et dans la mesure où les conditions du prêt à un tiers prévoient le report du paiement d'intérêts courus pour une période, le paiement d'intérêts au titre d'une avance ou d'une partie d'une avance sera également reporté pour une période d'égale durée;

d) l'intérêt payable relativement à toute période de moins d'un an sera calculé en fonction du nombre de jours réellement compris dans cette période, par rapport à une année comptant 365 jours;

e) par dérogation à l'alinéa a) ci-dessus, l'intérêt sur toute partie d'une avance consentie à l'OOF dans le cadre du prêt que cette dernière utilise pour financer un prêt à un tiers est calculé comme il est indiqué ci-dessus, mais cet intérêt devient payable uniquement dans la mesure où l'OOF reçoit un paiement d'intérêts au titre du prêt à un tiers;

f) par dérogation à l'alinéa b) ci-dessus, toute partie du capital d'une avance consentie à l'OOF dans le cadre du prêt que cette dernière utilise pour financer un prêt à un tiers devient payable uniquement dans la mesure où l'OOF reçoit un remboursement du capital au titre du prêt à un tiers

g) le prêt autorisé en vertu des présentes sera attesté par un billet à ordre.

Hi John/Bruno,

The OIC for IESO has been approved by the Minister.

Please note that Energy is still working on the regulations and probably won't be ready until Monday, so it will be tracking directly to Cabinet (DTC) and not through LRC.

DMO will share a copy of Energy Regs with us once available.

Regards,
Gavin He

Hi Ron,

Hope all is well!

ECO has bundled the MOF and Energy's Fair Hydro items - now tracking DTC although originally scheduled for the June 27 LRC.

Energy Regs won't be ready until Monday. Our item was approved yesterday late afternoon. Attached for your records.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Cheers,
Jonathan

Hi.

Want to make sure you are aware that ECO has bundled MOF and Energy's Fair Hydro items - now tracking DTC although originally schedule for the June 27 LRC.

I'm told that the energy regs won't be ready until Monday, unfortunately. Could you confirm the status of the MOF fair hydro item (apologies that I have not been tracking it very closely since Gen has been our point person on that item).

Thx. Nancy

A reminder that Cabinet binders will go out Thursday afternoon.

This means our target is for all ministry mtrls to be here in ECO by end of day Wednesday.

Then CBNs can wait until after the SoC briefing; if lucky then no changes after SoC and you can print (or for those with confidence, print in ahead in expectation your note will sail), or lightning changes after SoC in time to get CBNs to us by 130 Thursday.

AND, a reminder that we now send most POCO binders digitally, so every entry in mosaic needs to have the right ministry deck uploaded by the ministry, and the right CBN in the system. If for osme reason you haven't got your mosaic entry sorted out correctly, you need to email Jason and my folks the digital copies of your documents. But rerally, they have to be in mosaic in the long run anyway, so why not put them there now?

And as usual, if there are items still under consideration, we need to review what we send the POCO folks in draft form (but ministers get nothing until final).

s. 1 Proposal and Context

- Approval is being sought for an OIC under section 22 of Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), which will authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loan(s) to the Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA") in an amount of up to $2.0 billion. Under the proposed OIC, repayment of advances made under the loan plus accrued interest may be made in whole or in part at any time provided that the loan plus any accrued interest shall be fully repaid by December 31, 2047.

- Subsection 22(1) of CIPA authorizes the Minister of Finance to make loans to the OFA in the amounts, times and on the terms and conditions authorized by Lieutenant Governor in Council ("LGIC"). Also, under the legislation, OPG's SPV is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset.

- As a result, IESO requires short-term financing to be in place for initial and expected monthly timing differences, or in the event that the OPG SPV, at any time, does not purchase a portion of the regulatory asset.

- IESO has requested that the OFA provide a revolving credit facility of $2.0 billion to support its role in the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

- It is proposed that the OIC authorizes the OFA to borrow an additional $2.0 billion, which would be in addition to existing authority for the Minister of Finance to provide loans to the OFA, to ensure that there is sufficient borrowing authority in place for the OFA to meet the IESO requested requirements.

- If approved, the Minister of Finance will subsequently provide a Directive to the OFA to direct it to provide credit facilities to the IESO.
    - The OFA currently provides a credit facility to the IESO of $975 million.
    - The IESO has requested that the existing credit facility be reduced to $475 million, and a new credit facility be provided of $2.0 billion, for a total amount of $2.475 billion.

s. 3 Direction and Urgency

- The Province passed legislation on May 31, 2017 to implement the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, which will reduce electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible households.
- The ability for the OFA to have the requisite borrowing and lending capacity is instrumental in supporting implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.
- Ministry of Energy proposed regulations under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 are expected to track for Cabinet approval by end of June 2017. It is expected that this OIC also be submitted for approval concurrently as it supports a crucial component of the successfully implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.
- A related Cabinet Minute from the Ministry of Energy is tracking for June 27, 2017 date.

s. 4 Impact Assessment and Costs

- With this OIC, the Minister of Finance will be authorized to lend an additional amount of $2.0 billion to the OFA. Subject to the terms and conditions of a Directive from the Minister of Finance, loans from the Minister of Finance to the OFA are expected to be at the Province's cost of funds.

- Loans advanced will result in increased borrowing in the debt markets by the Province.
- Loans are expected to be repaid and, therefore, no fiscal impact is expected.

s. 5 Implementation

- If the OIC is approved and signed, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA. A Directive from the Minister may provide direction to the OFA on how it can use the proceeds of the loan.

s. 6 Delivery and Results Tracking

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and is required to ensure the timely implementation and support for the success of the Fair Hydro Plan. Upon approval, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA with a directive on how the loan can be used.

s.7 Stakeholder Consultations

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. The related Cabinet note for the initiative should be referred to.

Order in Council
Décret

On the recommendation of the undersigned, the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, by and with the advice and concurrence of the Executive Council of Ontario, orders that:

Sur la recommandation de la personne soussignée, la lieutenante-gouverneure de l'Ontario, sur l'avis et avec le consentement du Conseil exécutif de l'Ontario, décrète ce qui suit :

WHEREAS pursuant to subsection 22(1) of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the "Act"), the Minister of Finance may purchase securities of or make loans to corporations established under subsection 2(1) of the Act in such amounts, at such times and on such terms and conditions as the Lieutenant Governor in Council considers expedient;

AND WHEREAS the Ontario Financing Authority (the "OFA") is a corporation established under subsection 2(1) of the Act;

AND WHEREAS pursuant to subsection 6(3) of the Act, the power of a corporation established under subsection 2(1) of the Act to borrow and issue securities, among other things, may only be exercised under the authority of a by-law that has been approved by the Minister of Finance;

AND WHEREAS the OFA wishes to borrow up to Two Billion Dollars in lawful money of Canada from the Minister of Finance and has been authorized to do so by a borrowing by-law approved in accordance with the Act;

THEREFORE:

Pursuant to subsection 22 (1) of the Act, the Minister of Finance is authorized to lend a maximum of Two Billion Dollars in lawful money of Canada to the OFA on the following terms and conditions:

(a) the loan may be advanced in such amounts and at such time or times as required by the OFA;

(b) repayment of advances made under the loan plus accrued interest may be made in whole or in part at any time provided that the loan plus any accrued interest shall be fully repaid by December 31, 2047;

(c) each advance (an "Advance") made under the loan hereby authorized shall bear interest at a rate which is determined as follows:

(i) from the date of the Advance to (but excluding) the date of repayment the Advance shall bear interest at a per annum rate equivalent to the yield earned on ninety day Province of Ontario treasury bills on the date before the Advance Date as determined by the Province, provided that if an Advance is outstanding for longer than ninety days, the interest rate shall be reset on the last day of each ninety day period (the "Reset Date") to the yield earned on ninety day Province of Ontario treasury bills immediately preceding the Reset Date for such ninety day period as determined by the Province;

(ii) in the event that moneys included in an Advance are used by the OFA for the purpose of funding loans to third parties (a "Third Party Loan"), the rate of interest payable by the OFA to the Province on the portion of the Advance so used shall be adjusted effective as of the date that the portion of the Advance is used to fund the Third Party Loan so that the per annum rate of interest payable by the OFA on such moneys is equivalent to the per annum rate of interest payable to the OFA under the Third Party Loan less an amount as may be determined by the Minister of Finance in respect of such Third Party Loan or a class of such Third Party Loans, until but excluding the date on which the Third Party Loan is repaid, at which time the interest rate set out in subparagraph (i) shall again be applicable to that portion of the Advance; and

(iii) in the event that moneys described in subparagraph (ii), once repaid, are subsequently used to fund loans to third parties, subparagraph (ii) shall again be applicable in determining the interest rate payable to the Province on that portion of the Advance used to fund such loan, and so on, until the Advance shall be repaid to the Province in full;

(iv) despite subparagraphs (ii) and (iii), in the event that no interest is payable to the OFA under a Third Party Loan, no interest shall be payable by the OFA on the portion of the Advance so used and to the extent that the terms of a Third Party Loan provide for the deferral of the payment of accrued interest for a period, the interest payment terms of an Advance or portion thereof shall also be deferred for a similar period.

(d) interest for any period of less than one year shall be payable for the actual number of days included in such period, computed on the basis of a 365-day year;

(e) despite paragraph (b) of this Order, interest on any portion of an Advance made to the OFA under the loan that is used by the OFA to fund a Third Party Loan shall accrue on the basis stated above but shall become payable only to the extent the OFA receives payment of interest under the relevant Third Party Loan;

(f) despite paragraph (b) of this Order, any portion of the principal of an Advance made to the OFA under the loan that is used by the OFA to fund a Third Party Loan shall become payable only to the extent the OFA receives repayment of principal under the relevant Third Party Loan; and

(g) the loan hereby authorized shall be evidenced by a promissory note.

ATTENDU QUE le ministre des Finances peut, en vertu du paragraphe 22 (1) de la Loi de 1993 sur le plan d'investissement (la « Loi »), acheter des valeurs mobilières des personnes morales créées en vertu du paragraphe 2 (1) de la Loi ou leur consentir des prêts selon les montants, aux moments et aux conditions que le lieutenant-gouverneur en conseil estime opportuns;

ATTENDU QUE l'Office ontarien de financement (l'« OOF ») est une personne morale créée en vertu du paragraphe 2 (1) de la Loi;

ATTENDU QUE, conformément au paragraphe 6 (3) de la Loi, le pouvoir qu'ont les personnes morales créées en vertu du paragraphe 2 (1) de la Loi de contracter des emprunts et d'émettre des valeurs mobilières, entre autres, ne peut être exercé qu'aux termes d'un règlement administratif approuvé par le ministre des Finances;

ATTENDU QUE l'OOF souhaite emprunter jusqu'à concurrence de deux milliards de dollars en monnaie légale du Canada du ministre des Finances et qu'il a été autorisé à le faire par un règlement administratif d'emprunt approuvé conformément à la Loi;

PAR CONSÉQUENT :

en vertu du paragraphe 22 (1) de la Loi, le ministre des Finances est autorisé à prêter un montant maximal de deux milliards de dollars en monnaie légale du Canada à l'OOF, aux conditions suivantes :

a) le prêt peut être consenti selon les montants et aux moments qui conviennent à l'OOF;

b) le remboursement des avances consenties au titre du prêt, plus les intérêts courus, peut à tout moment être effectué en totalité ou en partie, pourvu que le prêt et les intérêts courus soient entièrement remboursés au plus tard le 31 décembre 2047;

c) chaque avance (« avance ») faite au titre du prêt autorisé par les présentes portera intérêt au taux est fixé comme suit :

(i) de la date où elle a été faite jusqu'à la date (non comprise) de son remboursement, l'avance portera intérêt à un taux annuel équivalant au rendement gagné sur des bons du Trésor de la province de l'Ontario de quatre-vingt-dix jours à la date précédant la date de l'avance fixée par la province, pourvu que ce taux d'intérêt soit rajusté le dernier jour de chaque période de quatre-vingt-dix jours (« date de rajustement ») selon le rendement gagné sur de tels bons du Trésor immédiatement avant la date de rajustement pour une période de quatre-vingt-dix jours décidée par la province, si l'avance est impayée pendant plus de quatre-vingt-dix jours;

(ii) dans l'éventualité où l'OOF se servirait de sommes comprises dans une avance pour financer des prêts à des tiers, le taux d'intérêt à payer par l'OOF à la province sur la partie de l'avance ainsi utilisée sera rajusté à la date à laquelle la partie de l'avance sera utilisée pour le financement du prêt à un tiers de façon que le taux d'intérêt annuel à payer par l'OOF sur de telles sommes soit équivalent à ce dernier taux moins un montant que pourra fixer le ministre des Finances à l'égard d'un tel prêt ou d'une telle catégorie de prêt, jusqu'à la date (non comprise) à laquelle le prêt à un tiers sera remboursé, date à laquelle le taux d'intérêt établi au sous-alinéa (i) s'appliquera de nouveau à cette partie de l'avance;

(iii) dans l'éventualité où les sommes décrites au sous-alinéa (ii), une fois remboursées, seraient ultérieurement utilisées pour le financement de prêts à des tiers, le sous-alinéa (ii) s'appliquera de nouveau dans l'établissement du taux d'intérêt à payer à la province sur la partie de l'avance utilisée à cette fin, et ainsi de suite, jusqu'à ce que l'avance ait été remboursée intégralement à la province;

(iv) malgré les sous-alinéas (ii) et (iii), dans l'éventualité où aucun intérêt ne serait payable à l'OOF au titre d'un prêt à un tiers, aucun intérêt ne sera à payer par l'OOF sur la partie de l'avance ainsi utilisée et dans la mesure où les conditions du prêt à un tiers prévoient le report du paiement d'intérêts courus pour une période, le paiement d'intérêts au titre d'une avance ou d'une partie d'une avance sera également reporté pour une période d'égale durée;

d) l'intérêt payable relativement à toute période de moins d'un an sera calculé en fonction du nombre de jours réellement compris dans cette période, par rapport à une année comptant 365 jours;

e) par dérogation à l'alinéa a) ci-dessus, l'intérêt sur toute partie d'une avance consentie à l'OOF dans le cadre du prêt que cette dernière utilise pour financer un prêt à un tiers est calculé comme il est indiqué ci-dessus, mais cet intérêt devient payable uniquement dans la mesure où l'OOF reçoit un paiement d'intérêts au titre du prêt à un tiers;

f) par dérogation à l'alinéa b) ci-dessus, toute partie du capital d'une avance consentie à l'OOF dans le cadre du prêt que cette dernière utilise pour financer un prêt à un tiers devient payable uniquement dans la mesure où l'OOF reçoit un remboursement du capital au titre du prêt à un tiers

g) le prêt autorisé en vertu des présentes sera attesté par un billet à ordre.

Victor's comments seem reasonable to me. They are indicating that the discussion between OPG Trust and IESO has not settled. I do think about any risks that could result from continuing to go down this path and not sure I can come up with any. I wouldn't mind a reiteration from Legal back to Victor on the due process and approvals required on any future amendments to the credit facility or facilities in place [when the discussion between OPG Trust and IESO conclude].

Please keep Gadi in the loop on this. I will keep Ron in the loop.

Subject: Finalization of OFA-IESO Credit Agreements

Hi John. We have had internal discussions following your and my conversation yesterday afternoon regarding the finalization of the two OFA/IESO credit agreements (Amending Agreement #10 to the existing credit agreement; and the new $2 billion credit agreement for implementing the Fair Hydro Plan).

As discussed, we need urgently to finalize these credit agreements in order to avoid a funding shortfall for IESO in November relating to implementing the FHP. There will not be sufficient room under the existing OFA credit agreement – with its commitment of $975 million – to fund the amounts required by IESO in this regard.

Given this urgent funding need, we propose that OFA and IESO finalize the current drafts of the credit agreements and have them executed by both parties no later than Wednesday, November 1 in order to ensure that funds will be available for drawing by IESO in November.

We recognize that the on-going discussions with the OPG Trust about a possible grant of security over IESO's assets in connection with implementing the Fair Hydro Plan may result in the need for further amendments to the OFA-IESO credit agreements. However, we propose to amend the agreements as needed once we actually know what, if anything, is required in this regard.

We would appreciate it is OFA could let us know if it agrees with the above approach by Thursday this week in order that we may each proceed to take the steps required to finalize and execute the agreements, and maintain the timely funding of IESO's needs.

Regards,
Victor

Hi Victor,

With timely execution of the letter agreement by all parties, we will move to conclude the FHP credit facility agreement and amending agreement #10 by November 1st. Also, future amendments to these agreements would have to be considered when known at the time. The OFA will not make any assurances or representations to the IESO that such amendments would be made as a matter of right.

Let's aim to get the letter agreement done well before the end of this week.

Thanks,

John

MEMORANDUM TO: Charles Sousa
Minister of Finance

FROM: Glenn Thibeault
Minister of Energy

RE: Request for section 28 approval of indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and respective directors, officers, and employees in relation to the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan

---

I am writing to request approval under section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") the forms of indemnity for the IESO, its directors, officers, and employees; and OPG, OPG's subsidiaries (other than any financing entities as defined in the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act")) and their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons"). Ministry of Finance and Ministry of Energy staff have worked together to review OPG's and IESO's indemnity requests and finalize materials.

OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their activities in carrying out the implementation of the Plan. OPG has also requested this form of indemnity for its subsidiaries (other than any financing entities as defined under the Act) ("Subsidiaries") and respective directors, officers and employees. The Ministry of Energy has committed to providing these indemnities. The Minister of Energy ("Minister") has been briefed and supports this request for approval.

The Act enables the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan (the "Plan"). Under the Plan, the government has proposed to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the Plan. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure will be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the Plan.

The Plan is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the Plan will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations and their directors, officers, and employees may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the Plan. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the Plan.

My recommendation to provide this approval is based on the attached submission prepared by staff. The attached submission includes a description of the contingent liabilities. The cost or estimated cost of the contingent liabilities cannot be quantified. Should the payment be required, the Ministry will return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation.

Approval of these indemnities is requested by June 30, 2017. Failure to obtain approval could jeopardize the implementation of the Plan.

Thank you for your consideration of this request for section 28 approval. Please contact the Ministry of Energy should you have any questions pertaining to the request.

Sincerely,

Glenn Thibeault
Minister

Enclosures

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure will be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On June 1, 2017, Bill 132 received royal assent, which marked the coming into force of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"). The Act enables the implementation of the ONFHP. The implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective activities in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP. OPG is also seeking an indemnity for its subsidiaries (not including any financing entities as defined in the Act) ("Subsidiaries") and their respective directors, officers and employees.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to OPG and the IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 30, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act (came into force on June 1, 2017).

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO effective as of the date upon which the Act was passed (June 1, 2017).

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Electricity Act, 1998 ("EA") has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the ONFHP. This amendment was designed to ensure that OPG could participate in the ONFHP. OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA will be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity as defined in the Act) is expected to finance.

In carrying out this role, OPG will be carrying out activities that fall outside of its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation. As a result, OPG, its directors, officers, and employees may be faced with increased risk of liability. Examples of such risks related to financing, include without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

OPG and its Subsidiaries, and their respective directors, officers, employees may also be faced with risk of liability to:

- underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities
- the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets)
- counterparties to agreements (e.g. the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust or IESO)
- other stakeholders (the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees) of OPG if OPG (or any Subsidiary of it) is liable for any claim or obligation and cannot meet its obligations to these stakeholders as a result of such claims.
- Regulators (e.g. the Ontario Securities Commission)
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its Subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate OPG and OPG's Subsidiaries in undertaking their role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Act also imposes certain obligations and requirements on the IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entities and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. The IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entities. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. The IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Other examples of sources/activities giving rise to increased risk of liability for the IESO, its directors, officers and employees include the following:

- Investors in any ONFHP investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors, as well as any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and/or IESO being involved;
- OPG (or the financing entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of the regulatory asset and servicing of the investment asset, and related activities;
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity (e.g. short pay);
- Taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities;
- Securities commissions regulators (U.S./Canada); and
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Province in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities is required in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

Even if the corporate mandates of OPG and the IESO were updated to include their role in implementing the ONFHP, this may not eliminate the risk of the types of liabilities outlined above completely, particularly due to the novelty of the ONFHP and the types of roles that OPG and IESO will be taking on. For example, persons could still challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG or the IESO as a party to such challenge.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith".

Generally speaking the Indemnities are intended to provide the Protected Persons with indemnification for losses/liabilities, including those for potentially "bad faith acts", unless any such acts arise as a result of the Protected Persons' dishonesty, gross negligence, or wilful misconduct. As described below in subsection (ii), the statutory protections also do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. The statutory protections also do not extend to the corporations themselves.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(1) of the Act, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under the Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO's and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors, or officers so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the Protected Persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(iii) Insurance and indemnities that the IESO and OPG currently provide to its directors, officers and employees may not fully cover risk

OPG –Insurance and Indemnities

Currently, OPG has indicated that it maintains Directors and Officers liability insurance ("D&O Insurance") with limits of USD $110 Million. The D&O Insurance includes persona coverage (side A) and corporate reimbursement coverage (side B). Under the side A coverage, OPG has advised that the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the insured person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such insured person. The full $110 Million limit is available for side A coverage.

Under side B coverage, OPG has advised that the policy reimburses the organization for losses incurred to indemnify an insured person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500,000.

OPG has advised that directors and officers have priority of payments over the organization for the entire $110M limit.

While this insurance provides coverage for directors and officers of OPG, there is no similar coverage provided for OPG's employees. Further, any liability stated over the maximum amounts would not be covered by the insurance policy. Pursuant to section 2(a) of the IESO Indemnity and section 3(a) of the OPG Indemnity, a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

OPG has indicated that they provide their directors an indemnity but not to their directors or employees. OPG has not provided information about the scope of this indemnity. However, the Indemnities provide that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified. This language is meant to ensure that the covered losses under the Indemnities will be covered by other applicable indemnities first, before being covered by this indemnity.

OPG has not provided any information about insurance coverage and indemnities that its subsidiaries provide to their directors, officers and employees.

IESO – Insurance and Indemnities

The IESO has informed that it carries Directors & Officers insurance providing a maximum $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are also included in the definition of Individual Insureds. The IESO also carries Professional liability insurance providing a maximum $75 million limit.
Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has informed that it has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

Existing Indemnities to OPG and IESO from the Province

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. We are not aware of any indemnities provided to the IESO by the Province.

(b) Description of Risk and any Risk Mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG (and OPG's subsidiaries where applicable) and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporations face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments as described in section 3 above.

The exact nature and scope of the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but the risk of liability for the Province arising may be low, with respect to directors, officers and employees, as any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Act may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in relation to implementing the ONFHP.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided under insurance or another indemnity, to the extent already paid under such insurance, or so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.

5) The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

With respect to the corporations themselves (and in the case of OPG, its Subsidiaries as well) the risk may be higher, but is undeterminable at this time. The likelihood of risk to the Province is characterized as medium, given that OPG and IESO have not identified any insurance or indemnities that would cover the corporations themselves (or in the case of OPG, the Subsidiaries themselves) in the event that such liability arises, nor is statutory protection provided for the corporations themselves.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C".

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the Protected Person as a result of their roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

Under the Indemnities, a Protected Person would not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund;

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities;

(c) that are the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing was reckless as to their belief that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Other Substantial Variances from the Province's Indemnity Template

The other substantial variances in the Indemnities includes a waiver provision whereby the Province waives its right to bring any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual relating in any way to the Protected Persons' activities in the implementation, or otherwise relating to the ONFHP (including where a Protected Person is acting at the request of the corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation – e.g. for example, where a financing entity is a trust, OPG's directors/officers/employees may need to sign the securities offering documents, but not in the capacity as OPG's directors/officers/employees, as the offering documents will not be the offering documents of OPG. The directors/officers/employees will be performing these functions as a result of OPG acting as a Financial Services Manager of the financing entity).

However, this waiver does not apply to gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct claims that may be brought by the province against the applicable Protected Persons. The risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is consistent with the gross negligence carve out provided for in the Indemnity Agreements (section 2(c) in the IESO Indemnity and section 3(c) in the OPG Indemnity) and because the Province is unlikely to bring a claim against a Protected Person for Losses they have agreed to indemnify them for.

OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors, officers, employees do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.

The Indemnities also include a representations and warranties section (section 8 in the IESO Indemnity and section 9 in the OPG Indemnity), which includes general representations and warranties with respect to the Province's authority to enter into these agreements and confirming that they have obtained the appropriate FAA approvals. We do not believe this variance poses a significant risk to the Province.

(e) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries and IESO's (including their respective directors, officers and employees') willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP. This may potentially jeopardize the successful implementation of this plan. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would allow OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

EXECUTION VERSION

INDEMNITY

THIS INDEMNITY effective as of this 1st day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: The Independent Electricity System Operator
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province"),

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and/or employees, may, or in certain circumstances are or will be required to carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act; and/or (iii) any agreements relating to the implementation of the Act or regulations, including with any financing entity (as defined in the Act), (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively referred to as the "Fair Hydro Plan");

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and/or employees may face risk of liability arising as a result of their respective activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. to indemnify, defend, and save harmless the Corporation and its directors, officers, and employees or a member of a committee or panel established by the directors of the Corporation (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, fines, penalties, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), as a result of any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation

(formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan.

2. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of such Protected Person's Losses, or a portion thereof:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) that are a result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws, or any information provided to a financing entity in relation thereto, contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

    (d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing, and/or was reckless as to their belief, that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. Each Protected Person shall:

(a) upon becoming aware of a Claim for which such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder, as soon as practicable deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim(s);

(b) upon written request of the Province, acting reasonably, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information that relates to the Claim(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to the same);

(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies or claims funds, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s) and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim(s) without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s), the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends.

5. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

6. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

8. The Province hereby waives any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to claims of gross negligence, dishonesty, or willful misconduct against a Protected Person who is an individual.

9. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction; section 11.3 of the Financial

Administration Act (Ontario); and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

10. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Persons that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants and obligations on behalf of such Protected Persons.

11. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

12. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants and obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, AS REPRESENTED BY THE MINISTER OF ENERGY

By: _____

Glenn Thibeault
Minister of Energy

EXECUTION VERSION

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this 1st day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan");

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability arising as a result of their respective activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries (except for any such subsidiary that is a financing entity as defined in the Act) and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, fines, penalties, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including, without limitation, any direct, special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), as a result of any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of each Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. For greater clarity, "Corporation's subsidiaries" as used in this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), whether such financing entities are actually a subsidiary of the Corporation or not; and the terms "Protected Persons" or "Protected Persons" under this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), being a subsidiary of the Corporation or otherwise, provided that, for clarity, any such financing entities' respective directors, officers, trustees, and/or employees shall be considered "Protected Persons" if he or she is also a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or any of the Corporation's subsidiaries.

3. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to such Protected Person to the extent that such Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that such Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 3(c) or otherwise disentitle such Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, to the extent such action or proceeding arises from circumstances in which such Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that such Protected Person's conduct was lawful.

4. Each Protected Person shall:

(a) Upon becoming aware of a Claim(s) for which such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder, as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim(s);

(b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claim(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Person or another Protected Person to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to the same);

(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim(s); and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage, to the fullest extent possible, under insurance policies and/or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, as referred to in subsections 3(a) and (b) above.

A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 4 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person hereunder except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 4 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

5. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person(s). Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends.

6. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

7. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall apply only to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee of the Corporation and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation; and with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation's subsidiaries, this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of a subsidiary of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee of that subsidiary of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director, officer, employee of that particular subsidiary of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of that subsidiary of the Corporation

9. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to any claims of dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct against a Protected Person who is an individual.

10. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to the application of equitable principles and that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

11. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Persons that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Persons.

12. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

13. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

Hi Ron,

FYI – CMD has approved the attached version (with markup) revised by the IESO and is planning to move forward with the execution if IESO has no further edits.

Please note that the IESO requested a couple more edits to both agreements, in addition to amending the definition of "permitted lien", and CMD are good with those requested changes.

Gavin He

Hi Ryan – thanks for the drafts. Please see attached markups that include our comments – I haven't had an opportunity to discuss these changes/comments internally but thought I should forward these asap given the time pressure.

The main adders that I have included track the language in the recently executed FHP Credit Facility.

Regarding the deletion of s.3.7 in the Note Agreement ("Other Indebtedness"), this is duplicative of s.3.8 ("Negative Pledge") but also conflicts with it in certain respects so may cause confusion and I believe the easiest way to deal with it is to delete it since I don't think it adds anything. (You will note that a similar clause is not included in the Revolving Credit Agreement.)

We may have more comments after we have a chance to discuss your draft and my comments internally tomorrow.

Regards,
Victor

Ryan,

As discussed with Will today, I understand you will be co-ordinating the proposed 2 amendments to the existing IESO-OEFC credit facilities.

For starters, there are no expected changes being asked to the existing agreement's key business content (e.g. amounts, dates, interest, notices etc.), rather given that IESO-OFA have just finished two new agreements pertaining to the new fair hydro program, ….I suggest we just copy and paste the salient sections from these agreements that would now be relevant to the OEFC agreements for fair hydro namely;

1.DRAFT
The definition of "Permitted Liens" is amended by deleting the word "and" at the end of subsection (xx); replacing the "." at the end of subsection (xx) and replacing it with "; and" ; and adding the following subsection (xx):
"(xx) any Lien arising from the IESO's role and obligations under the OFHP, including with respect to any amount received or receivable by the IESO (such as, without limitation, amounts received or receivable in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment), or any other lien, whether arising from the action or inaction of IESO, that is created in connection with the OFHP."

2.DRAFT
The OFA agreements had required an intercept provision, …..not sure if the same applies to OEFC if yes:

“Section 5.7 Intercept
(a) The IESO hereby acknowledges that, in accordance with the terms of the letter agreement of November 6th , 2017 herewith entered between the Ministry of Energy, the IESO and the OFA made pursuant to Section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the “Intercept Letter”), the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct only from those monies appropriated by the Legislature for payment through the Ministry of Energy to the IESO (“Appropriated Funds”), amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement. On the occurrence of an Event of Default relating to a failure by IESO to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder, subject to the OFA’s compliance with any relevant provisions hereof and as set out in the Intercept Letter, the Minister of Finance is irrevocably authorized to deduct from the Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement and to pay such amounts directly to the OFA (“Intercept”).
(b) If, after following the process specified in the Intercept Letter (including, without limitation, allowing for a reasonable cure period on the terms specified therein), the OFA determines that it is necessary to request the Minister of Finance to exercise the Intercept, the OFA will give written notice to the Minister of Finance, with a copy to the Ministry of Energy, detailing the IESO’s failure to pay when due any amounts owing hereunder and requesting the deduction from the Appropriated Funds of amounts equal to the amounts that the IESO has failed to pay to the OFA under this Agreement.
(c) The IESO agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to this section 5.7 (Intercept) may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance and, upon receipt of such notice, an amount equal to the amount that the IESO has failed to pay when due to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this Agreement shall be deducted from the Appropriated Funds and paid to the OFA.
(d) For further certainty, the OFA acknowledges and agrees that the Intercept as provided for herein and in the Intercept Letter shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than the Ministry of Energy or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.
The parties agree that, with respect to the exercise of the Intercept generally, the terms of this section 5.7 shall be applied consistently with the terms set out in the Intercept Letter which shall apply in full. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a conflict or inconsistency between the terms and conditions of the Intercept Letter and the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement, the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement shall prevail.”

If any… other relevant updates that make sense to do now……I do not anticipate any material ones.

We need your support to expedite the above in order to avoid delays in the Fair Hydro implementation.
Regards.

limitation, amounts received or receivable in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment), or any other lien, whether arising from the action or inaction of IESO, that is created in connection with the OFHP.

3. Subsection 2.2(2) of the Agreement is deleted and replaced by the following:

(2) The Note shall at all times rank pari passu with all other unsecured Senior Debt of the IESO, subject to the existence of any Liens that secure Indebtedness as permitted by subsections 3.8 (a) through (f) hereof.

4. Delete the paragraph following the heading "Section 3.7 Other Indebtedness" and replace with the words "Intentionally Left Blank".

IN ALL OTHER RESPECTS, the Agreement is confirmed by the parties.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties have executed and delivered this Amending Agreement as of the date first written above.

Thx. I will need a hard stop (final) on these OEFC docs no later than Nov 30 – the IESO intends to sign all agreements for the FH program including the security agreement by this date (at least this is what I know today).
If you cannot meet Nov 30, can we talk about some sort of OEFC to issue a waiver letter to not put the IESO offside on the existing OEFC credit facilities otherwise I may have a cross-default issue with TD bank.

Regards.

John – the TD credit facility has "permitted lien" clause language similar to the OFA facilities' clauses specific for the fair hydro program.

John,

As discussed yesterday, it likely is best to add to the definition of "Permitted Liens" in the two OEFC facilities to address a) IESO granting security to the OPG Trust during the first 4 years of fair hydro program and b) the possibility that the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by IESO might be considered to be subject to a lien. The IESO does not want to be inadvertently in default.

Happy to discuss further. I am out of the office most of this week on IESO business matters but available by cell 289-795-9426, or if necessary you may connect with Victor.

ONTARIO REGULATION

made under the

ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN ACT, 2017

Amending O. Reg. 206/17

(GENERAL)

1. (1) Subsection 1 (1) of Ontario Regulation 206/17 is amended by adding the following definition:

"acceleration of a funding obligation" means,

(a) a portion of the principal amount owing in respect of the funding obligation has become due and payable by a financing entity before the scheduled payment date, maturity date or redemption date, or

(b) a party to a derivative agreement in respect of the funding obligation has elected to close-out or terminate the agreement, resulting in an obligation on a financing entity to pay a termination amount, close-out amount or similar amount;

(2) Paragraph 2 of the definition of "readjustment amount" in subsection 1 (2) of the Regulation is amended by striking out "exceeds the fair allocation amount" and substituting "exceeds the absolute value of the fair allocation amount".

2. (1) Subsection 5 (1) of the Regulation is amended by adding "and section 6.1" after "subsection (2)" in the portion before paragraph 1.

(2) Subparagraph 2 ii of subsection 5 (1) of the Regulation is revoked and the following substituted:

ii. For any period before May 1, 2021, amounts received during the period in respect of funding rebates and carrying costs.

ii.1 For any period on and after May 1, 2021, amounts received during the period in respect of funding rebates.

3. Subsection 6 (3) of the Regulation is amended by adding "Subject to section 6.1" at the beginning.

4. The Regulation is amended by adding the following section:

Acceleration

6.1 (1) Despite the acceleration of a funding obligation at any time, the Financial Services Manager shall, for the purposes of determining the clean energy adjustment and the true up amount under section 15 of the Act, determine the estimated finance amount and the true up amount as if no acceleration had occurred.

(2) If the application of subsection (1) results in the estimated finance amount being less than what it would have otherwise been, the Financial Services Manager shall add an additional amount to the estimated finance amount determined under subsection (1), which additional amount shall be calculated as follows:

1. Estimate the sum of amounts that constitute the clean energy adjustment for each month during the reference period, determined in accordance with subsection (1).

2. Estimate the sum of amounts that would have, in the absence of subsection (1), constituted the clean energy adjustment for each month during the reference period.

3. Determine the lesser amount of the following:

    i. The sum estimated under paragraph 2.

    ii. The fair allocation amount for the reference period.

4. Determine the amount, if any, by which the amount determined under paragraph 3 exceeds the sum estimated under paragraph 1.

5. (1) Subsection 14 (2) of the Regulation is amended by adding the following paragraph:

3. Subject to subsection (2.1), if the fair allocation amount in respect of the reference period is either a negative amount or an amount that is less than the carrying costs of financing entities during the reference period, the Financial Services Manager may include all or a portion of the carrying costs in clean energy adjustments to be collected from specified consumers for the reference period.

(2) Section 14 of the Regulation is amended by adding the following subsection:

(2.1) Paragraph 3 of subsection (2) does not apply in respect of the carrying costs of financing entities that are paid by the IESO under section 9.1.

Commencement

6. This Regulation comes into force on the day it is filed.

Draft Date: November 7, 2017

SECURITY AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of the ____ day of _____, 2017,

BETWEEN:

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR, a statutory corporation without share capital established by the Electricity Act, 1998, SO, 1998,

(hereinafter referred to as the "Grantor"),

IN FAVOUR OF:

[FINANCING ENTITY], a trust formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario,

(hereinafter referred to as the "Secured Party"),

WHEREAS under Regulation 206/17 made under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Regulation"), the Grantor is required to pay to the Secured Party the Carrying Costs of the Secured Party during the period beginning on April 1, 2017 and ending on June 30, 2021 (the "Statutory Obligation");

AND WHEREAS the Grantor (together with the Secured Party, collectively referred to as the "Parties") has agreed to enter into a security agreement in favour of the Secured Party to secure payment of the Statutory Obligation;

NOW THEREFORE THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSES that, for and in consideration of the premises, mutual covenants and conditions herein contained and such other lawful and valuable consideration the receipt of sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties hereby agree as follows:

1. INTERPRETATION

1.1 Defined Terms

In this Agreement, unless there is something in the context or subject matter inconsistent therewith,

(a) "Account" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the PPSA;

(b) "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday or a Sunday on which banks generally are open for business in Toronto, Ontario;

(c) "Carrying Costs" shall have the meaning attributed to the term "carrying costs" in the Regulation;

(d) "Collateral" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in Section 2.1;

(e) "Electricity Vendor" shall mean a licensed distributor and a licensed retailer, each as defined in the Ontario Fair Hydro Act.

(f) "Money" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the PPSA;

(g) "Permitted Liens" means liens approved in writing by the Secured Party;

(h) "PPSA" means the Personal Property Security Act (Ontario), as amended from time to time, and any regulations thereto;

(i) "Proceeds" means "proceeds", as defined in the PPSA, of the Collateral;

(j) "Receiver" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in Section 6.2 of this Agreement;

(k) "Regulation" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the recitals hereto;

(l) "Statutory Obligation" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the recitals hereto.

1.2 Other Usages

References to "this Agreement", "hereof", "herein", "hereto" and like references refer to this Security Agreement and not to any particular Article, Section or other subdivision of this Agreement.

1.3 Plural and Singular

Where the context so requires, the words importing the singular number shall include the plural and vice versa.

1.4 Headings

The division of this Agreement into Articles and Sections and the insertion of headings in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

1.5 Applicable Law

This Agreement and all documents delivered pursuant hereto shall be governed by and construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the laws of Canada applicable therein and the Parties do hereby attorn to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Ontario.

1.6 Prohibited Provisions

In the event that any provision or any part of any provision hereof is deemed to be invalid by reason of the operation of any law or by reason of the interpretation placed thereon by a court, this Agreement shall be construed as not containing such provision or such part of such provision and the invalidity of such provision or such part shall not affect the validity of any other provision or the remainder of such provision hereof, and all other provisions hereof which are otherwise lawful and valid shall remain in full force and effect.

1.7 Time of the Essence

Time shall in all respects be of the essence of this Agreement.

1.8 Recitals and Schedules

Each and every one of the recitals and schedules which are referred to in this Agreement and attached to this Agreement shall form an integral part of this Agreement.

2. SECURITY INTEREST

2.1 Grant of Security Interest

As general and continuing security for the payment of the Statutory Obligation, the Grantor hereby grants a security interest to the Secured Party in the following (collectively, the "Collateral"):

(a) all Accounts, which are now due, owing or accruing or growing due to, or which may hereafter become due, owing or accruing or growing due, to the Grantor by an Electricity Vendor;

(b) all Proceeds and renewals of the foregoing, in whatever form, together with all substitutions therefore.

Whenever used elsewhere in this Agreement, the expression "security interest" refers to the security interest created in this Section 2.1.

2.2 Attachment of Security Interest

The Grantor acknowledges and agrees that (i) value has been given, (ii) the Grantor has rights in such of the Collateral as constitutes present property of the Grantor, and (iii) the security interest shall attach to existing Collateral upon execution of this Agreement by the Grantor and to each item of after-acquired Collateral at the time that the Grantor acquires any rights therein.

3. COVENANTS OF THE GRANTOR

3.1 Covenants

The Grantor hereby covenants and agrees with the Secured Party as follows:

(a) To promptly pay all taxes, assessments, rates, levies, payroll deductions, vacation pay, workers' compensation assessments, and any other charges which could result in the creation of a statutory lien or deemed trust in respect of the Collateral.

(b) To defend the Collateral against the claims and demands of all other persons claiming the same or an interest therein and to promptly notify the Secured Party of any such claim or demand.

(c) To do, make, execute and deliver such further and other assignments, transfers, deeds, agreements and other documents as may be required by the Secured Party to establish in favour of the Secured Party the security interest intended to be created hereby.

3.2 Performance of Covenants by the Secured Party

The Secured Party may, in its sole discretion and upon notice to and at the expense of the Grantor, perform any covenant of the Grantor under this Agreement that the Grantor fails to perform and that the Secured Party is capable of performing, provided that the Secured Party will not be obligated to perform any such covenant on behalf of the Grantor and no such performance by the Secured Party will require the Secured Party further to perform the Grantor's covenants nor operate as a derogation of the rights and remedies of the Secured Party under this Agreement.

4. DEALING WITH COLLATERAL

4.1 Grantor's Rights

Until the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2, the Grantor shall be entitled to deal with the Collateral in the ordinary course of business, provided however, that no such action shall be taken which would impair the effectiveness of the security interests created hereby, the provisions of this Agreement or any other written agreement between the Secured Party and the Grantor.

4.2 General Restrictions

The Grantor shall not, without the prior written consent of the Secured Party:

(a) sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Collateral or any part thereof except in the ordinary course of business; or

(b) enter into or grant, create, assume or suffer to exist any mortgage, charge, hypothec, assignment, pledge, lien or other security interest or encumbrance affecting any of the Collateral except the Permitted Liens.

4.3 Release by the Secured Party

The Secured Party may, at its discretion, at any time release from the security interest created by this Agreement any part or parts of the Collateral or any other security or any surety for the Statutory Obligation either with or without sufficient consideration therefor without thereby releasing any other part of the Collateral or any person from this Agreement.

5. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

5.1 Representations and Warranties

The Grantor hereby represents and warrants to the Secured Party, the matters set out below:

(a) Incorporation and Qualifications – The Grantor is a statutory corporation amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, with requisite power and authority to own its properties, to conduct its business as such properties are currently owned and such business is presently conducted by it, and to execute, deliver and carry out the terms of this Agreement.

(b) Corporate Authority and Power – The Grantor has the requisite power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to carry out its terms. The execution, delivery and performance of all obligations under this Agreement have been duly authorized by all necessary action on the part of the Grantor under all applicable laws.

(c) Non-Conflict – Neither the execution nor the performance of this Agreement requires the approval of any regulatory agency having jurisdiction over the Grantor nor is this Agreement in contravention of or in conflict with the by-laws or resolutions of the directors or shareholders of the Grantor or of the provisions of any agreement to which the Grantor is a party or by which any of its property may be bound or of any statute, regulation, by-law, ordinance or other law, or to the best of its knowledge of any judgement, decree, award, ruling or order to which the Grantor or any of its property may be subject, other than approvals that have been obtained.

(d) Ownership of Collateral Free of Liens – The Grantor is the owner of or has rights in the existing Collateral free and clear of any liens other than Permitted Liens.

(e) Grantor Information – Schedule A sets forth (a) the Grantor's jurisdiction of incorporation, (b) the location of the Grantor's registered office and business operations and records, and (c) the Grantor's exact legal name (in English and French).

(f) Enforceability – This Agreement constitutes a valid and legally binding obligation of the Grantor enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to general equitable principles, including the fact that the availability of equitable remedies, such as injunctive relief and specific performance, is in the discretion of the court.

5.2 Reliance and Survival

All representations and warranties of the Grantor made in this Agreement shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and shall continue in full force and effect without time limit. The Secured Party shall be deemed to have relied upon each such representation and warranty notwithstanding any investigation made by or on behalf of the Secured Party at any time.

6. ENFORCEMENT

6.1 Enforceability of Security

The security hereby constituted shall become enforceable only upon the failure of the Grantor to pay the Statutory Obligations when due, and then only to the extent of the Statutory Obligations not then paid when due. The Grantor acknowledges that it has no right in any circumstance to accelerate payment of the Statutory Obligations, to apply proceeds of Collateral on account of Statutory Obligations not yet due, or to reserve or hold proceeds of Collateral on account of Statutory Obligations not yet due.

6.2 Remedies

At any time that the security hereby constituted shall have become enforceable, the Secured Party may give notice of its intention to its exercise rights and remedies hereunder. At any time ten Business Days following the giving of such notice, and unless the amounts due and owing on account of the carrying Costs at the time of the Notice have been paid, the Secured Party shall have the following rights, powers and remedies:

(a) to appoint any person to be an agent or any person to be a receiver, manager or receiver and manager (herein called the "Receiver") of the Collateral and to remove any Receiver so appointed and to appoint another if the Secured Party so desires; it being agreed that any Receiver appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement shall have all of the powers of the Secured Party hereunder;

(b) to make payments to parties having prior charges or encumbrances on the Collateral;

(c) to preserve, protect and maintain the Collateral;

(d) to enjoy and exercise all powers necessary or incidental to the performance of all functions provided for in this Agreement;

(e) to sell or dispose of all or any part of the Collateral whether by public or private sale or otherwise and on any terms so long as every aspect of the disposition is commercially reasonable, including without limitation, terms that provide time for payment on credit;

(f) to enjoy and exercise in respect of the Collateral all of the rights and remedies of a secured party under the PPSA;

(g) to notify the account debtors or obligors under any Accounts which constitute part of the Collateral of the assignment of such Accounts to the Secured Party and to direct such account debtors or obligors to make payment of all amounts due or to become due to the Grantor thereunder directly to the Secured Party and to give valid and binding receipts and discharges therefor and in respect thereof and,

upon such notification and at the expense of the Grantor, to enforce collection of any such Accounts, and to adjust, settle or compromise the amount or payment thereof, in the same manner and to the same extent as the Grantor might have done; and

(h) to commence, continue or defend proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction in the name of the Secured Party, the Receiver or the Grantor for the purpose of exercising any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Section, including the institution of proceedings for the appointment of a receiver, manager or receiver and manager of the Collateral.

6.3 Special Rules re Accounts

At any time that the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2,

(a) all Money or other form of payment received by the Grantor in respect of the Collateral shall be received in trust for the benefit of the Secured Party hereunder, shall be segregated from other funds of the Grantor and shall be forthwith paid over to the Secured Party in the same form as so received (with any necessary endorsement) to be held as cash collateral and applied as provided by Section 6.8; and

(b) the Grantor shall not adjust, settle or compromise the amount or payment of any Collateral.

6.4 Receiver as Agent

The Receiver shall be deemed to be the agent of the Grantor for the purpose of establishing liability for the acts or omissions of the Receiver and the Secured Party shall not be liable for such acts or omissions and, without restricting the generality of the foregoing, the Grantor hereby irrevocably authorizes the Secured Party to give instructions to the Receiver relating to the performance of its duties as set out herein.

6.5 Expenses of Enforcement

The Grantor shall pay to the Receiver the remuneration of the Receiver and all costs and expenses (including, without limitation, legal fees and disbursements on a full indemnity basis) properly incurred by the Receiver pursuant to its appointment and the exercise of its powers hereunder, and shall pay to the Secured Party and the Receiver as required all amounts of Money (including interest thereon) borrowed or advanced by either of them pursuant to the powers set out herein, and the obligations of the Grantor to the Secured Party and the Receiver pursuant to this Section 6.5 shall be payable on demand.

6.6 Indulgences and Releases

Either the Secured Party or the Receiver may grant extensions of time and other indulgences, take and give up securities, accept compositions, grant releases and discharges, release any part of the Collateral to third parties and otherwise deal with the Grantor, debtors of the Grantor, sureties and others and with the Collateral and other security as the Secured Party or the Receiver may see fit without prejudice to the right of the Secured Party and the Receiver to repossess, hold, collect and realize the Collateral.

6.7 No Liability for Failure to Exercise Remedies

The Secured Party and the Receiver shall not be liable or accountable to the Grantor or to any other person for any failure to exercise any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Agreement, and shall not be bound to commence, continue or defend proceedings for the purpose of preserving or protecting any rights of the Secured Party, the Receiver, the Grantor or any other party in respect of the same.

6.8 Proceeds of Disposition

All Moneys received by the Secured Party or by the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 shall be promptly applied as follows:

(a) first, in payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the Secured Party in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement and in payment of all of the remuneration of the Receiver and all costs and expenses properly incurred by the Receiver in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement, including, without limitation, the remuneration, costs and expenses referred to in Section 6.5;

(b) second, in payment of all amounts of Money borrowed or advanced by either of the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to the powers set out in this Agreement and any interest thereon;

(c) third, in payment of the Statutory Obligation, provided that if there are not sufficient Moneys to fully pay and perform the Statutory Obligation, the Secured Party may apply the Moneys available to such part or parts thereof as the Secured Party, in its sole discretion, may determine; and

(d) fourth, in payment of any surplus in accordance with applicable law.

6.9 Grantor Liable for Deficiency

If the Moneys received by the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 are not sufficient to pay the claims set out in Section 6.8, the Grantor shall immediately pay the Secured Party the amount of such deficiency.

6.10 Restriction on Grantor

Upon notification of the account debtors or obligors under any Accounts which constitute part of the Collateral of the assignment of such Accounts to the Secured Party or the appointment of a Receiver in respect of the Collateral, all the powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor with respect to the Collateral shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be suspended unless specifically continued by the written consent of the Secured Party; however, all other powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor shall be unaffected by such events.

6.11 Rights Cumulative

All rights and remedies of the Secured Party set out in this Agreement shall be cumulative and no right or remedy contained herein is intended to be exclusive but each shall be in addition to every other right or remedy contained herein or in any existing or future security document or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or by statute.

7. GENERAL

7.1 Waiver

Any default by the Grantor in the observance or performance of any covenant or condition required to be observed or performed by the Grantor hereunder, may only be waived by the Secured Party in writing, provided that no such waiver by the Secured Party shall extend to or be taken in any manner to affect any subsequent breach or default or the rights resulting therefrom.

7.2 The Secured Party as Attorney

At any time that the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2, the Grantor hereby irrevocably appoints the Secured Party and any person further designated by the Secured Party to be the attorney of the Grantor for and in the name of the Grantor to execute and do any deeds, documents, transfers, demands, assignments, assurances, consents and things which the Grantor is obliged to sign, execute or do hereunder and, to commence, continue and defend any proceedings authorized to be taken hereunder and generally to use the name of the Grantor in the exercise of all or any of the powers hereby conferred on the Secured Party. These powers are coupled with an interest, have been given for valuable consideration (the receipt and adequacy of which is acknowledged), survive, and do not terminate upon, the bankruptcy, dissolution, winding up or insolvency of the Grantor, and are irrevocable until the Statutory Obligation has been satisfied in full and this Agreement is terminated and the security interest created herein has been released. This power of attorney extends to and is binding upon the Grantor's successors and permitted assigns. The Grantor authorizes the Secured Party to delegate in writing to another person any power and authority of the Secured Party under this power of attorney as may be necessary or desirable in the opinion of the Secured Party, and to revoke or suspend such delegation.

7.3 Further Assurances

The Grantor shall do, execute, acknowledge and deliver or cause to be done, executed, acknowledged and delivered, such further acts, deeds, mortgages, transfers and assurances as the Secured Party shall reasonably require for the better assuring, charging, assigning and conferring unto the Secured Party a security interest in the Collateral, or which the Grantor may hereafter become bound to charge in favour of the Secured Party, for the purpose of accomplishing and effecting the intention of this Agreement.

7.4 Amalgamation of the Grantor

The Grantor acknowledges and agrees that in the event that it amalgamates with any other persons, then (i) the Collateral and the security interest shall extend to and include all of the property and undertaking that any of the amalgamating corporations then owns, all of the property and undertaking that the amalgamated corporation thereafter acquires, all of the property and undertaking in which any of the amalgamating corporations then has any interest, and all of the property and undertaking in which the amalgamated corporation thereafter acquires any interest, and (ii) all references herein to the Grantor shall extend to and include the amalgamated corporation.

7.5 Continuing Security

The security interest constituted hereby shall be deemed to be a continuing security for the Statutory Obligation until the Statutory Obligation is paid and performed in full.

7.6 Notices

All notices and other communications provided for herein shall be in writing and shall be personally delivered to an officer or other responsible employee of the addressee or sent by facsimile, charges prepaid, at or to the applicable address or facsimile number, as the case may be, of the party set opposite its name below or at or to such other address or addresses or facsimile number or numbers as either party may from time to time designate to the other party in such manner. Any communication which is personally delivered as aforesaid shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the date of such delivery if such date is a Business Day and such delivery was made during normal business hours of the recipient; otherwise, it shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the Business Day next following such date of delivery. Any communication which is transmitted by facsimile as aforesaid shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the date of transmission if such date is a Business Day and such transmission was made during normal business hours of the recipient; otherwise, it shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the Business Day next following such date of transmission.

7.7 Assignment

The Secured Party may from time to time upon notice to, but without the consent of the Grantor, assign or transfer this Agreement to any other person. The Grantor shall not be entitled to assign or transfer this Agreement or any of the Grantor's rights, duties or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of the Secured Party.

7.8 Successors and Assigns

This Agreement shall enure to the benefit of the Secured Party and its successors and assigns and shall be binding upon the Grantor and its successors and permitted assigns.

7.9 Amendments

This Agreement may not be amended or otherwise modified except by an instrument in writing executed by the Parties.

7.10 Entire Agreement

This Agreement and the agreements referred to herein and any document, agreement or instrument delivered pursuant to such agreements constitute the entire agreement between the Parties and supersede any prior agreements, undertakings, declarations, representations and undertakings, both written and verbal, in respect of the subject matter hereof.

Yes – it's approved.

The agreement is to be signed on Friday this week – as a few minor edits are still being finalized. The Board has delegated its authority ensuring it's signed on Friday.

Since we have not yet seen the OEFC docs, I may ask for an interim waiver by OEFC so no default occurs.

What was the outcome of the November 22nd Board meeting? Did your Board approve the security agreement?

Hi Anthony,

We are almost there. Last little bit of decision is still pending but I believe our senior folks are onside. So you should start working with our Documentation folks on the drafting.

Thanks,

Thx. I will need a hard stop (final) on these OEFC docs no later than Nov 30 – the IESO intends to sign all agreements for the FH program including the security agreement by this date (at least this is what I know today).
If you cannot meet Nov 30, can we talk about some sort of OEFC to issue a waiver letter to not put the IESO offside on the existing OEFC credit facilities otherwise I may have a cross-default issue with TD bank.

Regards.

John – the TD credit facility has "permitted lien" clause language similar to the OFA facilities' clauses specific for the fair hydro program.

John,

As discussed yesterday, it likely is best to add to the definition of "Permitted Liens" in the two OEFC facilities to address a) IESO granting security to the OPG Trust during the first 4 years of fair hydro program and b) the possibility that the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by IESO might be considered to be subject to a lien. The IESO does not want to be inadvertently in default.

Happy to discuss further. I am out of the office most of this week on IESO business matters but available by cell 289-795-9426, or if necessary you may connect with Victor.

Ronald/John,

Based on verbal feedback thus far, OPG has not raised a material concern with the proposed intercept letter. The IESO has raised the point that this intercept letter may extend to non-Min of Energy monies (e.g. MOECC) which I still have to land/discuss with my in-house legal. I hope to final this letter soon.

A few items as FYI for the proposed fair hydro structure:

DRAFT - IESO is expected to post a letter of credit (or maybe a letter of guarantee solely written by IESO) in favour of the Trust for any non-credit rated LDCs defaults risk during the period 2021 to 2047. The amount has not been finalized but may be up to $75 million.

2.
DRAFT - The Trust is looking for the IESO to give a 1st priority/security over all IESO assets including accounts receivables in favour of the Trust. This item is being discussed amongst all parties. If this proceeds, the IESO will have to amend/restructure its current credit facilities with TD Bank, OFA, and OEFC as all are unsecured pari-passu.

Hi Ken, Ron,

I spoke to Gadi and it sounds like the Deputy's preference would be to add the intercept provision to the agreement with IESO (explaining to them that it is required under our Lending Policy, but would not actually apply in this case) and therefore not have to seek an exemption from the Minister nor have to involve the Board in a change to our Lending Policy.

Would IESO be amenable to this?

Gadi – in a separate email chain, Ken provided his concurrence: that not obtaining the Minister's exemption should have no impact on IESO's accounting; however it would be inconsistent with a requirement in the OFA's Lending Policy.

Ron/Ken, could you circle back with Legal and make the suggestion of an amendment to the OFA Lending Policy?

Thanks, Anna

Subject: Re: IESO Credit Facility and Intercept Provision Exemption

Hi Anna,

The intercept issue is not an IESO accounting issue, but an OFA lending policy interpretation issue.

As such, I would think of the first step is more an internal to the OFA one, on getting approval/direction to move forward to provide a facility to the IESO without the "security" of an intercept clause envisaged in a plain reading of the OFA lending policy. I think if the Chair and CEO are fine with seeing the OFA lending policy as at most a wording issue and not a non-compliance issue -- i.e., that in effect an intercept is only required when there is an amount to intercept -- then we can move forward on providing a credit facility without an intercept on that basis.

We'd need to respond that way to Legal, as it has been Legal's advice on the issue of compliance with the policy that has led to the exemption request and not have to check a non-compliance box in the quarterly compliance checklist.

If we move forward on that basis, the next time the lending policy is amended, the wording could then be clarified that an intercept is required only where applicable. The Board may ask about the "security" issue too, at that time.

If IESO has the credit facility, then it can finance the GA deferrals until OPG's financing entity purchases the regulatory asset, which I would think is the key accounting issue for the IESO. Whether it needs the larger facility right now is more of a timing issue. This monthly settlement, they are likely to take their total draw so far to over $600 million of the existing $975 facility, so could draw for another month or so before running out of room.

If we did not seek an exemption, would there be any impact to IESO's accounting?

Subject: IESO Credit Facility and Intercept Provision Exemption

Hi Gadi,

Just a heads up, in case you had not heard, that the Deputy is, understandably, raising questions on getting a Minister's exemption from the OFA's public bodies lending policy requiring an intercept provision for the IESO facility, since there is no transfer amount to intercept in this case.

You may recall that OFA Legal had identified this issue in the summer, after the Minister's directive was provided on the IESO facility. It was identified as Legal was drawing up the credit facility documents, and they raised the issue on compliance with the lending policy, and in the context of attestations and scrutiny on compliance issues.

While it was raised at the time that an intercept provision would be moot in this case, we moved forward to seek a Minister's exemption from that part of the lending policy, as provided for under the policy.

Just as a reminder, attached are the related materials.

Happy to discuss.

Hi Ron,

The Deputy spoke to Gadi this morning about the intercept, and he remains uncomfortable seeking the Minister's exemption for something that is ultimately moot.

If we did not seek an exemption, would there be any impact to IESO's accounting?

Hi Anna,

We'll look into this. Note that it would not be just IESO's agreement required.

The OFA lending policy on intercepts also involves the oversight ministry of an agency:

> …prior to any loan agreement entered into between the OFA and a public body, such public body and its responsible ministry are to agree that the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts that the public body fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under its loan agreement with the OFA. In addition, the public body is to agree that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to pay under its loan agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

In that context of going forward and including an intercept provision in the credit facility, Energy would need to provide such agreement (this is from last month`s discussions by staff with OFA Legal). Note that we have not discussed this with Energy at this point. There may be some challenges to expeditiously have Energy provide written agreement in this regard, noting that IESO will be wanting the facility in place soon.

As an aside, we had asked TBS staff in August to confirm our understanding that at this point there are no such moneys appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO, but we'd want to confirm that more formally under this option of proceeding.

Perhaps an option could be that Energy might simply confirm that there are no such amounts appropriated (currently, though the question of the future could arise), or come to an internal agreement that since there are no amounts to intercept, that Energy does not need to agree to an intercept -- and see if folks are comfortable moving forward on that basis – to include an intercept provision now, which would have no practical effect, and move forward in the near term with a general amendment to the OFA lending policy that would provide for no intercept clause in the case of loans / credit facilities to public bodies that have no appropriated amounts to intercept.

Hi Ken, Ron,

I spoke to Gadi and it sounds like the Deputy's preference would be to add the intercept provision to the agreement with IESO (explaining to them that it is required under our Lending Policy, but would not actually apply in this case) and therefore not have to seek an exemption from the Minister nor have to involve the Board in a change to our Lending Policy.

Would IESO be amenable to this?

Gadi – in a separate email chain, Ken provided his concurrence: that not obtaining the Minister's exemption should have no impact on IESO's accounting; however it would be inconsistent with a requirement in the OFA's Lending Policy.

Ron/Ken, could you circle back with Legal and make the suggestion of an amendment to the OFA Lending Policy?

Thanks, Anna

Hi Anna,

The intercept issue is not an IESO accounting issue, but an OFA lending policy interpretation issue.

As such, I would think of the first step is more an internal to the OFA one, on getting approval/direction to move forward to provide a facility to the IESO without the "security" of an intercept clause envisaged in a plain reading of the OFA lending policy. I think if the Chair and CEO are fine with seeing the OFA lending policy as at most a wording issue and not a non-compliance issue -- i.e., that in effect an intercept is only required when there is an amount to intercept -- then we can move forward on providing a credit facility without an intercept on that basis.

We'd need to respond that way to Legal, as it has been Legal's advice on the issue of compliance with the policy that has led to the exemption request and not have to check a non-compliance box in the quarterly compliance checklist.

If we move forward on that basis, the next time the lending policy is amended, the wording could then be clarified that an intercept is required only where applicable. The Board may ask about the "security" issue too, at that time.

If IESO has the credit facility, then it can finance the GA deferrals until OPG's financing entity purchases the regulatory asset, which I would think is the key accounting issue for the IESO. Whether it needs the larger facility right now is more of a timing issue. This monthly settlement, they are likely to take their total draw so far to over $600 million of the existing $975 facility, so could draw for another month or so before running out of room.

Would the Minister be available over the next few days to approve such an exception? The IOESO has expressed some urgency to get the new facility in place.

Hi Jonathan,

Hope you are doing well!

I am not sure if you were made aware of IESO's borrowing requirement for the Fair Hydro Plan from OFA. IESO staff have noted that IESO may need to cover clean energy costs if for some reason the OPG Trust chooses not to purchase a portion of the deferred Global Adjustment amounts under the proposed Fair Hydro Act. The legislation does not compel the Trust to purchase 100% of the regulatory asset at any given time. As the OFA currently provides a $975 million credit facility to the IESO for other purposes, it is proposed that the OFA provide a new credit facility to the IESO to support the financing need under Fair Hydro Act.

In order for this to happen, an Order-in-Council (OIC) will be required to borrow money from the Province. CEFD staff is currently working on the OIC and it's tracking towards the June 27th LRC date, as part of Energy's LRC submission. We are still working with Energy on the timeline as the OIC might proceed with the FHP Leg and Regs.

I would like to give you a heads-up on this as it will require approval from the Deputy and our Minister's approval as well, in order to move the LRC submission forward. I will keep you posted on the development on this.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Gavin He

I did check the draft versions of the Security Agreement. The latest is attached here.

I don't believe it impacts the intercept that has not yet hit the IESO. The Covenant section that existed prior, that excluded appropriations, is not there. That said, Energy and IESO signed the intercept letter agreement / MOU after having checked with OPG.

SECURITY AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of the ____ day of _____, 2017,

BETWEEN:

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR, a statutory corporation without share capital established by the Electricity Act, 1998, SO, 1998,

(hereinafter referred to as the "Grantor"),

IN FAVOUR OF:

[FINANCING ENTITY], a trust formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario,

(hereinafter referred to as the "Secured Party"),

WHEREAS under Regulation 206/17 made under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Regulation"), the Grantor is required to pay to the Secured Party the Carrying Costs of the Secured Party during the period beginning on April 1, 2017 and ending on June 30, 2021 (the "Statutory Obligation");

AND WHEREAS the Grantor (together with the Secured Party, collectively referred to as the "Parties") has agreed to enter into a security agreement in favour of the Secured Party to secure payment of the Statutory Obligation;

NOW THEREFORE THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSES that, for and in consideration of the premises, mutual covenants and conditions herein contained and such other lawful and valuable consideration the receipt of sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties hereby agree as follows:

1. INTERPRETATION

1.1 Defined Terms

In this Agreement, unless there is something in the context or subject matter inconsistent therewith,

(a) "Account" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the PPSA;

(b) "Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday or a Sunday on which banks generally are open for business in Toronto, Ontario;

(c) "Carrying Costs" shall have the meaning attributed to the term "carrying costs" in the Regulation;

(d) "Collateral" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in Section 2.1;

(e) "Electricity Vendor" shall mean a licensed distributor and a licensed retailer, each as defined in the Ontario Fair Hydro Act.

(f) "Money" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the PPSA;

(g) "Permitted Liens" means liens approved in writing by the Secured Party;

(h) "PPSA" means the Personal Property Security Act (Ontario), as amended from time to time, and any regulations thereto;

(i) "Proceeds" means "proceeds", as defined in the PPSA, of the Collateral;

(j) "Receiver" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in Section 6.2 of this Agreement;

(k) "Regulation" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the recitals hereto;

(l) "Statutory Obligation" shall have the meaning attributed to such term in the recitals hereto.

1.2 Other Usages

References to "this Agreement", "hereof", "herein", "hereto" and like references refer to this Security Agreement and not to any particular Article, Section or other subdivision of this Agreement.

1.3 Plural and Singular

Where the context so requires, the words importing the singular number shall include the plural and vice versa.

1.4 Headings

The division of this Agreement into Articles and Sections and the insertion of headings in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

1.5 Applicable Law

This Agreement and all documents delivered pursuant hereto shall be governed by and construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the laws of Canada applicable therein and the Parties do hereby attorn to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Ontario.

1.6 Prohibited Provisions

In the event that any provision or any part of any provision hereof is deemed to be invalid by reason of the operation of any law or by reason of the interpretation placed thereon by a court, this Agreement shall be construed as not containing such provision or such part of such provision and the invalidity of such provision or such part shall not affect the validity of any other provision or the remainder of such provision hereof, and all other provisions hereof which are otherwise lawful and valid shall remain in full force and effect.

1.7 Time of the Essence

Time shall in all respects be of the essence of this Agreement.

1.8 Recitals and Schedules

Each and every one of the recitals and schedules which are referred to in this Agreement and attached to this Agreement shall form an integral part of this Agreement.

2. SECURITY INTEREST

2.1 Grant of Security Interest

As general and continuing security for the payment of the Statutory Obligation, the Grantor hereby grants a security interest to the Secured Party in the following (collectively, the "Collateral"):

(a) all Accounts, which are now due, owing or accruing or growing due to, or which may hereafter become due, owing or accruing or growing due, to the Grantor by an Electricity Vendor;

(b) all Proceeds and renewals of the foregoing, in whatever form, together with all substitutions therefore.

Whenever used elsewhere in this Agreement, the expression "security interest" refers to the security interest created in this Section 2.1.

2.2 Attachment of Security Interest

The Grantor acknowledges and agrees that (i) value has been given, (ii) the Grantor has rights in such of the Collateral as constitutes present property of the Grantor, and (iii) the security interest shall attach to existing Collateral upon execution of this Agreement by the Grantor and to each item of after-acquired Collateral at the time that the Grantor acquires any rights therein.

3. COVENANTS OF THE GRANTOR

3.1 Covenants

The Grantor hereby covenants and agrees with the Secured Party as follows:

(a) To promptly pay all taxes, assessments, rates, levies, payroll deductions, vacation pay, workers' compensation assessments, and any other charges which could result in the creation of a statutory lien or deemed trust in respect of the Collateral.

(b) To defend the Collateral against the claims and demands of all other persons claiming the same or an interest therein and to promptly notify the Secured Party of any such claim or demand.

(c) To do, make, execute and deliver such further and other assignments, transfers, deeds, agreements and other documents as may be required by the Secured Party to establish in favour of the Secured Party the security interest intended to be created hereby.

3.2 Performance of Covenants by the Secured Party

The Secured Party may, in its sole discretion and upon notice to and at the expense of the Grantor, perform any covenant of the Grantor under this Agreement that the Grantor fails to perform and that the Secured Party is capable of performing, provided that the Secured Party will not be obligated to perform any such covenant on behalf of the Grantor and no such performance by the Secured Party will require the Secured Party further to perform the Grantor's covenants nor operate as a derogation of the rights and remedies of the Secured Party under this Agreement.

4. DEALING WITH COLLATERAL

4.1 Grantor's Rights

Until the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2, the Grantor shall be entitled to deal with the Collateral in the ordinary course of business, provided however, that no such action shall be taken which would impair the effectiveness of the security interests created hereby, the provisions of this Agreement or any other written agreement between the Secured Party and the Grantor.

4.2 General Restrictions

The Grantor shall not, without the prior written consent of the Secured Party:

(a) sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Collateral or any part thereof except in the ordinary course of business; or

(b) enter into or grant, create, assume or suffer to exist any mortgage, charge, hypothec, assignment, pledge, lien or other security interest or encumbrance affecting any of the Collateral except the Permitted Liens.

4.3 Release by the Secured Party

The Secured Party may, at its discretion, at any time release from the security interest created by this Agreement any part or parts of the Collateral or any other security or any surety for the Statutory Obligation either with or without sufficient consideration therefor without thereby releasing any other part of the Collateral or any person from this Agreement.

5. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

5.1 Representations and Warranties

The Grantor hereby represents and warrants to the Secured Party, the matters set out below:

(a) Incorporation and Qualifications – The Grantor is a statutory corporation amalgamated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, with requisite power and authority to own its properties, to conduct its business as such properties are currently owned and such business is presently conducted by it, and to execute, deliver and carry out the terms of this Agreement.

(b) Corporate Authority and Power – The Grantor has the requisite power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to carry out its terms. The execution, delivery and performance of all obligations under this Agreement have been duly authorized by all necessary action on the part of the Grantor under all applicable laws.

(c) Non-Conflict – Neither the execution nor the performance of this Agreement requires the approval of any regulatory agency having jurisdiction over the Grantor nor is this Agreement in contravention of or in conflict with the by-laws or resolutions of the directors or shareholders of the Grantor or of the provisions of any agreement to which the Grantor is a party or by which any of its property may be bound or of any statute, regulation, by-law, ordinance or other law, or to the best of its knowledge of any judgement, decree, award, ruling or order to which the Grantor or any of its property may be subject, other than approvals that have been obtained.

(d) Ownership of Collateral Free of Liens – The Grantor is the owner of or has rights in the existing Collateral free and clear of any liens other than Permitted Liens.

(e) Grantor Information – Schedule A sets forth (a) the Grantor's jurisdiction of incorporation, (b) the location of the Grantor's registered office and business operations and records, and (c) the Grantor's exact legal name (in English and French).

(f) Enforceability – This Agreement constitutes a valid and legally binding obligation of the Grantor enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to general equitable principles, including the fact that the availability of equitable remedies, such as injunctive relief and specific performance, is in the discretion of the court.

5.2 Reliance and Survival

All representations and warranties of the Grantor made in this Agreement shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and shall continue in full force and effect without time limit. The Secured Party shall be deemed to have relied upon each such representation and warranty notwithstanding any investigation made by or on behalf of the Secured Party at any time.

6. ENFORCEMENT

6.1 Enforceability of Security

The security hereby constituted shall become enforceable only upon the failure of the Grantor to pay the Statutory Obligations when due, and then only to the extent of the Statutory Obligations not then paid when due. The Grantor acknowledges that it has no right in any circumstance to accelerate payment of the Statutory Obligations, to apply proceeds of Collateral on account of Statutory Obligations not yet due, or to reserve or hold proceeds of Collateral on account of Statutory Obligations not yet due.

6.2 Remedies

At any time that the security hereby constituted shall have become enforceable, the Secured Party may give notice of its intention to its exercise rights and remedies hereunder. At any time ten Business Days following the giving of such notice, and unless the amounts due and owing on account of the carrying Costs at the time of the Notice have been paid, the Secured Party shall have the following rights, powers and remedies:

(a) to appoint any person to be an agent or any person to be a receiver, manager or receiver and manager (herein called the "Receiver") of the Collateral and to remove any Receiver so appointed and to appoint another if the Secured Party so desires; it being agreed that any Receiver appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement shall have all of the powers of the Secured Party hereunder;

(b) to make payments to parties having prior charges or encumbrances on the Collateral;

(c) to preserve, protect and maintain the Collateral;

(d) to enjoy and exercise all powers necessary or incidental to the performance of all functions provided for in this Agreement;

(e) to sell or dispose of all or any part of the Collateral whether by public or private sale or otherwise and on any terms so long as every aspect of the disposition is commercially reasonable, including without limitation, terms that provide time for payment on credit;

(f) to enjoy and exercise in respect of the Collateral all of the rights and remedies of a secured party under the PPSA;

(g) to notify the account debtors or obligors under any Accounts which constitute part of the Collateral of the assignment of such Accounts to the Secured Party and to direct such account debtors or obligors to make payment of all amounts due or to become due to the Grantor thereunder directly to the Secured Party and to give valid and binding receipts and discharges therefor and in respect thereof and,

upon such notification and at the expense of the Grantor, to enforce collection of any such Accounts, and to adjust, settle or compromise the amount or payment thereof, in the same manner and to the same extent as the Grantor might have done; and

(h) to commence, continue or defend proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction in the name of the Secured Party, the Receiver or the Grantor for the purpose of exercising any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Section, including the institution of proceedings for the appointment of a receiver, manager or receiver and manager of the Collateral.

6.3 Special Rules re Accounts

At any time that the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2,

(a) all Money or other form of payment received by the Grantor in respect of the Collateral shall be received in trust for the benefit of the Secured Party hereunder, shall be segregated from other funds of the Grantor and shall be forthwith paid over to the Secured Party in the same form as so received (with any necessary endorsement) to be held as cash collateral and applied as provided by Section 6.8; and

(b) the Grantor shall not adjust, settle or compromise the amount or payment of any Collateral.

6.4 Receiver as Agent

The Receiver shall be deemed to be the agent of the Grantor for the purpose of establishing liability for the acts or omissions of the Receiver and the Secured Party shall not be liable for such acts or omissions and, without restricting the generality of the foregoing, the Grantor hereby irrevocably authorizes the Secured Party to give instructions to the Receiver relating to the performance of its duties as set out herein.

6.5 Expenses of Enforcement

The Grantor shall pay to the Receiver the remuneration of the Receiver and all costs and expenses (including, without limitation, legal fees and disbursements on a full indemnity basis) properly incurred by the Receiver pursuant to its appointment and the exercise of its powers hereunder, and shall pay to the Secured Party and the Receiver as required all amounts of Money (including interest thereon) borrowed or advanced by either of them pursuant to the powers set out herein, and the obligations of the Grantor to the Secured Party and the Receiver pursuant to this Section 6.5 shall be payable on demand.

6.6 Indulgences and Releases

Either the Secured Party or the Receiver may grant extensions of time and other indulgences, take and give up securities, accept compositions, grant releases and discharges, release any part of the Collateral to third parties and otherwise deal with the Grantor, debtors of the Grantor, sureties and others and with the Collateral and other security as the Secured Party or the Receiver may see fit without prejudice to the right of the Secured Party and the Receiver to repossess, hold, collect and realize the Collateral.

6.7 No Liability for Failure to Exercise Remedies

The Secured Party and the Receiver shall not be liable or accountable to the Grantor or to any other person for any failure to exercise any of the rights, powers and remedies set out in this Agreement, and shall not be bound to commence, continue or defend proceedings for the purpose of preserving or protecting any rights of the Secured Party, the Receiver, the Grantor or any other party in respect of the same.

6.8 Proceeds of Disposition

All Moneys received by the Secured Party or by the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 shall be promptly applied as follows:

(a) first, in payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the Secured Party in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement and in payment of all of the remuneration of the Receiver and all costs and expenses properly incurred by the Receiver in the exercise of all or any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement, including, without limitation, the remuneration, costs and expenses referred to in Section 6.5;

(b) second, in payment of all amounts of Money borrowed or advanced by either of the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to the powers set out in this Agreement and any interest thereon;

(c) third, in payment of the Statutory Obligation, provided that if there are not sufficient Moneys to fully pay and perform the Statutory Obligation, the Secured Party may apply the Moneys available to such part or parts thereof as the Secured Party, in its sole discretion, may determine; and

(d) fourth, in payment of any surplus in accordance with applicable law.

6.9 Grantor Liable for Deficiency

If the Moneys received by the Secured Party or the Receiver pursuant to Section 6.2 are not sufficient to pay the claims set out in Section 6.8, the Grantor shall immediately pay the Secured Party the amount of such deficiency.

6.10 Restriction on Grantor

Upon notification of the account debtors or obligors under any Accounts which constitute part of the Collateral of the assignment of such Accounts to the Secured Party or the appointment of a Receiver in respect of the Collateral, all the powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor with respect to the Collateral shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be suspended unless specifically continued by the written consent of the Secured Party; however, all other powers, functions, rights and privileges of the Grantor or any officer, director, servant or agent of the Grantor shall be unaffected by such events.

6.11 Rights Cumulative

All rights and remedies of the Secured Party set out in this Agreement shall be cumulative and no right or remedy contained herein is intended to be exclusive but each shall be in addition to every other right or remedy contained herein or in any existing or future security document or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or by statute.

7. GENERAL

7.1 Waiver

Any default by the Grantor in the observance or performance of any covenant or condition required to be observed or performed by the Grantor hereunder, may only be waived by the Secured Party in writing, provided that no such waiver by the Secured Party shall extend to or be taken in any manner to affect any subsequent breach or default or the rights resulting therefrom.

7.2 The Secured Party as Attorney

At any time that the Secured Party is entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under Section 6.2, the Grantor hereby irrevocably appoints the Secured Party and any person further designated by the Secured Party to be the attorney of the Grantor for and in the name of the Grantor to execute and do any deeds, documents, transfers, demands, assignments, assurances, consents and things which the Grantor is obliged to sign, execute or do hereunder and, to commence, continue and defend any proceedings authorized to be taken hereunder and generally to use the name of the Grantor in the exercise of all or any of the powers hereby conferred on the Secured Party. These powers are coupled with an interest, have been given for valuable consideration (the receipt and adequacy of which is acknowledged), survive, and do not terminate upon, the bankruptcy, dissolution, winding up or insolvency of the Grantor, and are irrevocable until the Statutory Obligation has been satisfied in full and this Agreement is terminated and the security interest created herein has been released. This power of attorney extends to and is binding upon the Grantor's successors and permitted assigns. The Grantor authorizes the Secured Party to delegate in writing to another person any power and authority of the Secured Party under this power of attorney as may be necessary or desirable in the opinion of the Secured Party, and to revoke or suspend such delegation.

7.3 Further Assurances

The Grantor shall do, execute, acknowledge and deliver or cause to be done, executed, acknowledged and delivered, such further acts, deeds, mortgages, transfers and assurances as the Secured Party shall reasonably require for the better assuring, charging, assigning and conferring unto the Secured Party a security interest in the Collateral, or which the Grantor may hereafter become bound to charge in favour of the Secured Party, for the purpose of accomplishing and effecting the intention of this Agreement.

7.4 Amalgamation of the Grantor

The Grantor acknowledges and agrees that in the event that it amalgamates with any other persons, then (i) the Collateral and the security interest shall extend to and include all of the property and undertaking that any of the amalgamating corporations then owns, all of the property and undertaking that the amalgamated corporation thereafter acquires, all of the property and undertaking in which any of the amalgamating corporations then has any interest, and all of the property and undertaking in which the amalgamated corporation thereafter acquires any interest, and (ii) all references herein to the Grantor shall extend to and include the amalgamated corporation.

7.5 Continuing Security

The security interest constituted hereby shall be deemed to be a continuing security for the Statutory Obligation until the Statutory Obligation is paid and performed in full.

7.6 Notices

All notices and other communications provided for herein shall be in writing and shall be personally delivered to an officer or other responsible employee of the addressee or sent by facsimile, charges prepaid, at or to the applicable address or facsimile number, as the case may be, of the party set opposite its name below or at or to such other address or addresses or facsimile number or numbers as either party may from time to time designate to the other party in such manner. Any communication which is personally delivered as aforesaid shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the date of such delivery if such date is a Business Day and such delivery was made during normal business hours of the recipient; otherwise, it shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the Business Day next following such date of delivery. Any communication which is transmitted by facsimile as aforesaid shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the date of transmission if such date is a Business Day and such transmission was made during normal business hours of the recipient; otherwise, it shall be deemed to have been validly and effectively given on the Business Day next following such date of transmission.

Subject: IESO Security Agreement

John and Opal,

We have reviewed the Nov. 7 draft of the Security Agreement, and I have discussed the issues with our outside counsel.

The Nov. 7 draft updated the terms of the Security Agreement such that they have a broader application than the earlier draft that we had based our previous discussions on. The earlier draft had carved out appropriations from the collateral.

However, in both instances the collateral includes all accounts of the IESO (other than the Appropriations amounts in the earlier draft), all cash and proceeds from LDCs.

To the extent that the amounts owed by the IESO to the Financing Entity are matched by actual proceeds to the IESO from ratepayers that flow through the LDCs on account of a Clean Energy Adjustment, the security interest would only give the Financing Entity an ability to attach to an amount of collateral that would be equal to that cash that is available from the amounts that the LDCs have charged to ratepayers.

However, there is a risk that the Clean Energy Adjustments would not be sufficient to pay the amount owing by the IESO to the Financing Entity in general or in any one period. In such an instance, the security interest would give the Financing Entity a priority in the IESO's assets that would put them ahead of unsecured creditors, including the OFA and the OEFC. We are not sure what the extent of this risk is because we have not seen the final draft of the regulations that determine how much is payable in each period, and how that relates to the obligations to the Financing Entity.

I have not spoken to Energy Legal on this point, but have asked for their input. They may not have been involved with these discussions, though, so I am not sure if they will have anything to add.

Please let me know if you would like to discuss further.

Hi Ron

Attached is the IESO Treasury Policy required annually. See Anthony's email below for two key changes from last year. IESO had requested feedback for end-of-day as they are preparing for Board meetings June 13/14 (I think tomorrow will do). Salman shared this note this morning for comment, with Ken and Mike Manning. We have not yet heard back. Please let us now if you have any concerns or comments.

Salman,

Attached is a preliminary draft of the Treasury Policy and Sch A for your review.

Two changes have been made:

1. Permitting Fair Hydro program borrowings – self explanatory rationale; and
2. Increase from $420 million to $500 million in Sch A's Cdn Banks max limit per counter party.

The key rationale for the requested increase from $420 million to $500 million per counterparty is as follows:

• The market price of electricity has increased between 2014 to 2016 by approximately 16%-19% which has continued to result in the IESO managing higher and higher cash-flows and therefore seeking risk appropriate investments in accordance with the Treasury Policy – a large limit will allow the IESO to have more flexibility while being efficient with its cash;

• Over the past few years and relevant today, the availability of short-term (generally 1 day to 7 days which is used a lot by the IESO, and including less than 30 days investment) products such as Treasury Bills, BAs and Term Deposits have been irregular and not reliable for the IESO to find. The IESO generally deals in large amounts (several hundreds of millions) and given the lack of short term products at the size the IESO needs, the Sch 1 banks have been generally offering Term Deposits for the IESO at very low interest rates because the Banks do not need the IESO monies. In fact, a few banks offer the IESO less than 10bps for Term Deposits – which is significantly lower than Bank of Canada overnight rate and BAs rates. Therefore, a Term Deposit with very low interest yield does not align with a resulting lower counterparty risk for the IESO; and

• The IESO's Transmission Rights balances have in general remained higher than $100 million on average over the last few years despite an IESO target of $20 million. This has resulted in the IESO managing higher cash-flows

- While the Fair Hydro program is likely to not impact the IESO's overall net cash balances (borrow / sell should generally align), the timing of these cash flows may be different at times and the IESO may hold more cash (short term basis) for a few days. The sales/service agreement with OPG Trust has not been completed, and I am just listing this as a contingency in case for some reason IESO holds larger cash balances before paying back the Fair Hydro loans.

Regards.

We are working on obtaining approvals to ensure the facility can be put in place. I assume we will follow the same process as for the $975m facility – I will touch base with our documentation team and get back to you – that being said, our priority at the moment is to secure certain approvals.

Hi Anthony,

I wanted to circle back with you on this email, particularly regarding possibly updating the IESO's Treasury Policy. Since it does require the Minister of Finance's approval, the OFA would be involved in obtaining that approval from the Minister. When you do have a markup, please do share it with us. Any details on what the changes would be accomplishing etc would also be helpful.

Salman,

As part of the Fair Hydro initiative, the IESO plans to ask government to permit FHP debt in an update to the O. Reg. 280/14.

In addition, IESO is likely to update its treasury policy (see attached – as approved by IESO Board and Min of Fin in 2015) to permit for the FHP draws/initiative.

I likely may also ask to increase the short term Cdn Sch I banks limits from $420million to $500million.

As part of the treasury policy update I wanted to give you/OFA a fyi and determine if you/OFA wish to comment back to me before I undertake the above changes.

Call me to discuss if easier.

• The market price of electricity has increased between 2014 to 2016 by approximately 16%-19% which has continued to result in the IESO managing higher and higher cash-flows and therefore seeking risk appropriate investments in accordance with the Treasury Policy – a large limit will allow the IESO to have more flexibility while being efficient with its cash;

• Over the past few years and relevant today, the availability of short-term (generally 1 day to 7 days which is used a lot by the IESO, and including less than 30 days investment) products such as Treasury Bills, BAs and Term Deposits have been irregular and not reliable for the IESO to find. The IESO generally deals in large amounts (several hundreds of millions) and given the lack of short term products at the size the IESO needs, the Sch 1 banks have been generally offering Term Deposits for the IESO at very low interest rates because the Banks do not need the IESO monies. In fact, a few banks offer the IESO less than 10bps for Term Deposits – which is significantly lower than Bank of Canada overnight rate and BAs rates. Therefore, a Term Deposit with very low interest yield does not align with a resulting lower counterparty risk for the IESO; and

• The IESO's Transmission Rights balances have in general remained higher than $100 million on average over the last few years despite an IESO target of $20 million. This has resulted in the IESO managing higher cash-flows

- While the Fair Hydro program is likely to not impact the IESO's overall net cash balances (borrow / sell should generally align), the timing of these cash flows may be different at times and the IESO may hold more cash (short term basis) for a few days. The sales/service agreement with OPG Trust has not been completed, and I am just listing this as a contingency in case for some reason IESO holds larger cash balances before paying back the Fair Hydro loans.

Regards.

Thanks Anthony.

We are working on obtaining approvals to ensure the facility can be put in place. I assume we will follow the same process as for the $975m facility – I will touch base with our documentation team and get back to you – that being said, our priority at the moment is to secure certain approvals.

Will do – trying for this week.
Can you update me on whether the IESO's $2B Fair Hydro credit facility is a go or no go – and if OFA will prepare the legal docs to start the process?

Hi Anthony,

I wanted to circle back with you on this email, particularly regarding possibly updating the IESO's Treasury Policy. Since it does require the Minister of Finance's approval, the OFA would be involved in obtaining that approval from the Minister. When you do have a markup, please do share it with us. Any details on what the changes would be accomplishing etc would also be helpful.

Regards,
Salman

Salman,

As part of the Fair Hydro initiative, the IESO plans to ask government to permit FHP debt in an update to the O. Reg. 280/14.

In addition, IESO is likely to update its treasury policy (see attached – as approved by IESO Board and Min of Fin in 2015) to permit for the FHP draws/initiative.

I likely may also ask to increase the short term Cdn Sch I banks limits from $420million to $500million.

As part of the treasury policy update I wanted to give you/OFA a fyi and determine if you/OFA wish to comment back to me before I undertake the above changes.

Call me to discuss if easier.

Regards.

Hi Marianne,

Just a heads up. The IESO is amending its treasury policy to accommodate what it needs to do under the Fair Hydro Plan.

We had received a draft a couple weeks ago, and the proposed revision was just approved by the IESO Board.

The IESO is required under regulation to seek the Minister of Finance's approval of its treasury policy, so a request should be forthcoming soon.

Salman,

Attached is a preliminary draft of the Treasury Policy and Sch A for your review.

Two changes have been made:

1. Permitting Fair Hydro program borrowings – self explanatory rationale; and
2. Increase from $420 million to $500 million in Sch A's Cdn Banks max limit per counter party.

The key rationale for the requested increase from $420 million to $500 million per counterparty is as follows:

• The market price of electricity has increased between 2014 to 2016 by approximately 16%-19% which has continued to result in the IESO managing higher and higher cash-flows and therefore seeking risk appropriate investments in accordance with the Treasury Policy – a large limit will allow the IESO to have more flexibility while being efficient with its cash;

• Over the past few years and relevant today, the availability of short-term (generally 1 day to 7 days which is used a lot by the IESO, and including less than 30 days investment) products such as Treasury Bills, BAs and Term Deposits have been irregular and not reliable for the IESO to find. The IESO generally deals in large amounts (several hundreds of millions) and given the lack of short term products at the size the IESO needs, the Sch 1 banks have been generally offering Term Deposits for the IESO at very low interest rates because the Banks do not need the IESO monies. In fact, a few banks offer the IESO less than 10bps for Term Deposits – which is significantly lower than Bank of Canada overnight rate and BAs rates. Therefore, a Term Deposit with very low interest yield does not align with a resulting lower counterparty risk for the IESO; and

• The IESO's Transmission Rights balances have in general remained higher than $100 million on average over the last few years despite an IESO target of $20 million. This has resulted in the IESO managing higher cash-flows

- While the Fair Hydro program is likely to not impact the IESO's overall net cash balances (borrow / sell should generally align), the timing of these cash flows may be different at times and the IESO may hold more cash (short term basis) for a few days. The sales/service agreement with OPG Trust has not been completed, and I am just listing this as a contingency in case for some reason IESO holds larger cash balances before paying back the Fair Hydro loans.

Dear Minister:

Re: Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO")
IESO Treasury Policy (version June 14, 2017)

Ontario Regulation 280/14 (the "Regulation"), as amended, prescribes requirements for the IESO regarding its treasury activities. The Regulation requires the IESO to adopt a statement setting out the IESO's investment, borrowing, and financial management policies and procedures (known herein as the "IESO Treasury Policy").

The IESO's Board of Directors approved the attached revised (black-lined to highlight the changes made) IESO Treasury Policy on June 14, 2017.

As required by the Regulation, the IESO submits the attached revised IESO Treasury Policy for your review and requests your approval of the same.

Please contact me (905.403.6944), Kimberly Marshall, IESO Chief Financial Officer (416.969.6232), or John Rattray, IESO General Counsel (416.506.2856) for any questions you or your staff may have regarding this request.

Sincerely,

Anthony Martinello
Director, Treasury and Pension Operations

Moody's (Gavin MacFarlane) has verbally raised their concern to me that the new $2B facility should be in place this month – main concern is that the IESO may/is rapidly burning through the $975M capacity at about $200M-$250M/month. Also, the first sale to Financing Entity is not expected until October(ish).
I am currently at about $405M utilized.
Also, both the IESO Board of Directors and Moody's were expecting these new facilities to be in place this month – and so, any delay would need to be explained.
Appreciate your efforts to co-ordinate a timely approval.

Call me to discuss if needed.

Hi Anthony,

I am currently working on your request for the two facilities with the OFA.

I understand your main concern is your interactions with the ratings agencies, Moody's specifically. Is there a particular timeline that you have to meet? My estimation is that the required approvals can be obtained in the early part of next week or the week after. I know the week after is spilling into September.

I am happy to keep pushing for early next week but let me know if the first week of September works. I am confirming as some extraordinary steps are involved.

Thanks,

John

I am writing in relation to the Independent Electricity System Operator's (IESO) request to the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) for a new revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion (the "New Credit Facility") to support the IESO's role in the implementation of and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

Under the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA requires an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis. In general, an~~The~~ intercept provision allows the Minister of Finance to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay the OFA under a loan agreement.

The ~~OFA,~~ IESO and the Ministry of Energy ("ENERGY confirm and the OFA acknowledges ~~and confirm~~ that at this time there are no amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO [Energy to confirm] by ENERGY and the intent of such intercept~~-~~ provision is that it would~~-~~ apply if and when amounts were to be appropriated for payment by ENERGY to the IESO in the future.

Commented [ESP1]: Defer to Corporate?

Prior to entering into a loan agreement with the IESO for the New Credit Facility (the "OFHP Credit Facility Agreement")~~,~~ on an unsecured basis, the OFA requires ~~the Ministry of Energy ("~~ENERGY~~")~~ and the IESO to agree to the terms and conditions set out below in relation to the above OFA Lending Policy intercept provision requirement.

These terms and conditions shall also apply to the IESO's existing [$975 million] credit facility, established in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the Ontario Power Authority dated January 1, 2005, as amended (the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

- The OFA, the IESO, and ENERGY agree as follows in respect of any advances made by the OFA to the IESO pursuant to the OFHP Credit Facility Agreement or the Original Credit Facility Agreement (each a "Loan Agreement"; together, the "Loan Agreements"):
    - Pursuant to section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993, the IESO and ENERGY agree that, in the event that the Legislature appropriates any funds for payment by ENERGY to the IESO for any purpose ("Appropriated Funds"), the Minister of Finance would be entitled to deduct from such Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under a Loan Agreement (the "intercept provision"). Terms relating to the intercept provision shall also be separately included in the Loan Agreements.
    - If~~Under~~ the intercept provision is exercised, ~~which shall be included in the Loan Agreements,~~ the IESO ~~also~~ agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to make a payment that is due under a Loan Agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

DRAFT

- Prior to recommending to the Minister of Finance that the intercept provision be exercised, the OFA will raise the issue with ENERGY and seek ENERGY's support in getting the IESO to pay the amounts owing to OFA within a reasonable cure period.

- Upon receipt of notice from the OFA that the IESO has failed to make one or more payments owing to it in accordance with the provisions of a Loan Agreement, ENERGY will provide the OFA with all information requested by the OFA respecting amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payments to the IESO by ENERGY, including the intended purpose and expected timing of such payments to be made by ENERGY. Upon request, ENERGY will provide similar information to the Minister of Finance.

- ENERGY acknowledges and agrees that, upon receipt of a direction from the Minister of Finance that an amount is to be deducted from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment by ENERGY to the IESO, ENERGY will take all necessary action required by it in order to effect such deduction and payment to the OFA in accordance with the Minister of Finance's direction.

- For further certainty, the OFA and ENERGY acknowledge and agree that the intercept provision as provided for herein, and this letter agreement generally, shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY or through any other agencies, bodies or other means.

Hi Ron,

Could we chat on this pls?

I would advise letting this go for no other reason than the highlighted. I don't necessarily agree with the other parts of the paragraph but not sure if I want to delay further.

Thanks,

John

Hi John,

I've discussed with Sarah N., and we think Ron's edits to the third paragraph of the letter agreement should be deleted and reverted back to the original language. The purpose of that paragraph is for all three parties to acknowledge the current situation, and to change the language for the OFA to "acknowledge" and the other parties to "confirm" the same details will create confusion and possibly further delay this matter.

Also, I recommend deleting the following language added by the IESO – "or through any other agencies, bodies or other means" in the last sentence of the second last paragraph.

Thank you,

Lisa

I am writing in relation to the Independent Electricity System Operator's (IESO) request to the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) for a new revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion (the "New Credit Facility") to support the IESO's role in the implementation of and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

Under the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA requires an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis. In general, an~~The~~ intercept provision allows the Minister of Finance to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay the OFA under a loan agreement.

The OFA, IESO and the Ministry of Energy ("ENERGY") acknowledge and confirm that at this time there are no amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO [Energy to confirm] by ENERGY and the intent of such intercept~~-~~ provision is that it would~~-~~ apply if and when amounts were to be appropriated for payment by ENERGY to the IESO in the future.

Prior to entering into a loan agreement with the IESO for the New Credit Facility (the "OFHP Credit Facility Agreement")~~,~~ on an unsecured basis, the OFA requires ~~the Ministry of Energy ("~~ENERGY~~")~~ and the IESO to agree to the terms and conditions set out below in relation to the above OFA Lending Policy intercept provision requirement.

These terms and conditions shall also apply to the IESO's existing [$975 million] credit facility, established in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the Ontario Power Authority dated January 1, 2005, as amended (the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

Thank you.

I am writing in relation to the Independent Electricity System Operator's (IESO) request to the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) for a new revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion (the "New Credit Facility") to support the IESO's role in the implementation of and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

Under the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA requires an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis. In general, an~~The~~ intercept provision allows the Minister of Finance to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay the OFA under a loan agreement.

The OFA, IESO and the Ministry of Energy ("ENERGY") acknowledge and confirm that at this time there are no amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO [Energy to confirm] by ENERGY and the intent of such intercept~~-~~ provision is that it would~~-~~ apply if and when amounts were to be appropriated for payment by ENERGY to the IESO in the future.

Commented [ESP1]: Defer to Corporate?

Prior to entering into a loan agreement with the IESO for the New Credit Facility (the "OFHP Credit Facility Agreement")~~,~~ on an unsecured basis, the OFA requires ~~the Ministry of Energy ("~~ENERGY~~")~~ and the IESO to agree to the terms and conditions set out below in relation to the above OFA Lending Policy intercept provision requirement.

These terms and conditions shall also apply to the IESO's existing [$975 million] credit facility, established in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the Ontario Power Authority dated January 1, 2005, as amended (the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

- The OFA, the IESO, and ENERGY agree as follows in respect of any advances made by the OFA to the IESO pursuant to the OFHP Credit Facility Agreement or the Original Credit Facility Agreement (each a "Loan Agreement"; together, the "Loan Agreements"):
    - Pursuant to section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993, the IESO and ENERGY agree that, in the event that the Legislature appropriates any funds for payment by ENERGY to the IESO for any purpose ("Appropriated Funds"), the Minister of Finance would be entitled to deduct from such Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under a Loan Agreement (the "intercept provision"). Terms relating to the intercept provision shall also be separately included in the Loan Agreements.
    - If~~Under~~ the intercept provision is exercised, ~~which shall be included in the Loan Agreements,~~ the IESO ~~also~~ agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to make a payment that is due under a Loan Agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

DRAFT

- Prior to recommending to the Minister of Finance that the intercept provision be exercised, the OFA will raise the issue with ENERGY and seek ENERGY's support in getting the IESO to pay the amounts owing to OFA within a reasonable cure period.

- Upon receipt of notice from the OFA that the IESO has failed to make one or more payments owing to it in accordance with the provisions of a Loan Agreement, ENERGY will provide the OFA with all information requested by the OFA respecting amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payments to the IESO by ENERGY, including the intended purpose and expected timing of such payments to be made by ENERGY. Upon request, ENERGY will provide similar information to the Minister of Finance.

- ENERGY acknowledges and agrees that, upon receipt of a direction from the Minister of Finance that an amount is to be deducted from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment by ENERGY to the IESO, ENERGY will take all necessary action required by it in order to effect such deduction and payment to the OFA in accordance with the Minister of Finance's direction.

- For further certainty, the OFA and ENERGY acknowledge and agree that the intercept provision as provided for herein, and this letter agreement generally, shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY ~~or through any other agencies, bodies or other means~~.

Formatted: List Paragraph, No bullets or numbering

This letter agreement may be executed in counterparts. Therefore, if you are in agreement with the above terms and conditions in relation to the Loan Agreements, kindly sign this letter agreement below in triplicate and send back two copies to my attention.

On p. 3, item #6 under "Conditions Precedent", the OFA Lending Policy provides that the OFA must ensure that it has an "appropriate" intercept in place. While the intercept wording in the Policy itself does not provide flexibility (as noted by Toby), perhaps this provision allows for 'carve-outs' in situations where the operation of the intercept would not be appropriate (such as those outlined by John below)?

Hi,

I'm happy to organize a call among us, if there is a need for it.

In an earlier note when we were seeking the Intercept Exemption Directive, we had the following bullets as part of the rationale section:

- While the IESO settlements system for the electricity sector may facilitate the flow of appropriations of the Ministry of Energy for energy-related programs such as the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers (OREC), the Rural or Remote Rate Protection Program (RRRP), the Ontario Electricity Support Program (OESP) etc., these payments are for the benefit of various electricity consumers.

- Intercepting these program specific payments, which are appropriated by the Legislature for the Ministry of Energy, under which the IESO may only be providing a conduit to local distribution companies under the IESO settlement system to provide benefits to ratepayers, in order to recover loan payments would not be in alignment with the wording or intent of the OFA's Lending Policy.

Would these not relate to the carve-outs that Toby is referring to? Let me know pls. if I am mis-interpreting things.

Hi –

I just spoke with Toby (I've copied him as an FYI) and he flagged that he doesn't know why IESO would need to share this with OPG in the first instance. The only issue/reason we could identify was that it may have something to do with the purchase by OPG of the "asset" (I'm using quotation marks because I don't know anything about this transaction or its structure other than how it is referred) from IESO and making sure that the "asset" is free of encumbrances. IESO may have reps or warranties in its dealings with OPG to this effect, and, I am guessing, but this may have been part of the rationale with respect to concerns that IESO had in earlier versions of the drafting in regard to definitions of "permitted liens" and ranking of debt. Our advice is to reach out to IESO and try to ascertain the reason for the request (John, as Anthony called you, perhaps you could call him back with this request?)

I understand that we have been treating this loan as confidential, and OFA can waive confidentiality and allow disclosure to OPG (if this route is agree to I would recommend that disclosure be made by IESO on a confidential basis) but the risk/caution is that adding more layers outside of the immediate parties to the intercept (which now includes MOE), will add further delay and complexity in what is essentially an administrative issue and as noted we are not plugged into the broader discussions going on between the other parties with respect to other components of the FHP process.

Hi John,

Off the top of my head I don't see any legal issues from the OFA perspective, but I defer to Lisa because she is closer to the documentation than I am so will ask her to weigh in.

We should also consider giving Toby a heads up because I think MOF Legal's been more involved in the OPG side of things, I don't know where things stand on the other various moving parts that are not directly within the mandate of the OFA. I will give him a quick call.

Moody's (Gavin MacFarlane) has verbally raised their concern to me that the new $2B facility should be in place this month – main concern is that the IESO may/is rapidly burning through the $975M capacity at about $200M-$250M/month. Also, the first sale to Financing Entity is not expected until October(ish).
I am currently at about $405M utilized.
Also, both the IESO Board of Directors and Moody's were expecting these new facilities to be in place this month – and so, any delay would need to be explained.
Appreciate your efforts to co-ordinate a timely approval.

Call me to discuss if needed.

Hi Anthony,

I am currently working on your request for the two facilities with the OFA.

I understand your main concern is your interactions with the ratings agencies, Moody's specifically. Is there a particular timeline that you have to meet? My estimation is that the required approvals can be obtained in the early part of next week or the week after. I know the week after is spilling into September.

I am happy to keep pushing for early next week but let me know if the first week of September works. I am confirming as some extraordinary steps are involved.

Thanks,

Hi Lisa, Toby,

I want to clarify that based on the approach we are moving forward with, the understanding of the OFA Lending Policy should be such that where there are no appropriation by Legislature, there is nothing contemplated by the OFA Lending Policy to intercept. Some of us in CEFD are a bit concerned about the wording 'carve-outs' and 'perhaps' below. I think Toby referred to 'carve-outs' to refer to exceptions to what is subject to the intercept. With the draft letter agreement, we are taking a position that there is nothing to intercept and that we are agreeing to put the intercept clause in as in the future there could be appropriations by Legislature for the IESO at which point, it would become necessary in the future which would be a prudent thing to have.

I was getting Ron in the loop as potentially ready to manage the process with OPG.

Let me know pls. if I am off base on any of the above.

Hi John,

Off the top of my head I don't see any legal issues from the OFA perspective, but I defer to Lisa because she is closer to the documentation than I am so will ask her to weigh in.

We should also consider giving Toby a heads up because I think MOF Legal's been more involved in the OPG side of things, I don't know where things stand on the other various moving parts that are not directly within the mandate of the OFA. I will give him a quick call.

Moody's (Gavin MacFarlane) has verbally raised their concern to me that the new $2B facility should be in place this month – main concern is that the IESO may/is rapidly burning through the $975M capacity at about $200M-$250M/month. Also, the first sale to Financing Entity is not expected until October(ish).
I am currently at about $405M utilized.
Also, both the IESO Board of Directors and Moody's were expecting these new facilities to be in place this month – and so, any delay would need to be explained.
Appreciate your efforts to co-ordinate a timely approval.
Call me to discuss if needed.

Hi Anthony,

I am currently working on your request for the two facilities with the OFA.

I understand your main concern is your interactions with the ratings agencies, Moody's specifically. Is there a particular timeline that you have to meet? My estimation is that the required approvals can be obtained in the early part of next week or the week after. I know the week after is spilling into September.

I am happy to keep pushing for early next week but let me know if the first week of September works. I am confirming as some extraordinary steps are involved.

OEFC -- IESO CREDIT FACILITY AGREEMENT & THE PERMITTED LIENS

ISSUE

The Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") has requested that OEFC amend the existing credit facility agreements between OEFC and IESO (for $160M and $120M) to address the additional obligations IESO is taking on under Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan. IESO has indicated that OEFC credit facilities will not be used for Ontario Fair Hydro Plan (FHP) purposes.

CONTEXT - IESO'S REQUEST

- The FHP requires the IESO and Ontario Power Generation (OPG) to work together to refinance Ontario's clean energy investments over a longer period of time. IESO and OPG are in a discussion to grant a security/priority interest on IESO's assets to OPG Trust for the period of the first 4 years of the GA deferral.

- The IESO is planning to seek its Board's approval on Nov 22, 2017 for the security agreement. Without amending the existing OEFC $160M and $120M credit facility agreements (the "OEFC Agreements"), IESO could potentially be considered to be in default of the terms of the agreements. IESO staff wrote:

  > "…it likely is best to add to the definition of "Permitted Liens" in the two OEFC facilities to address a) IESO granting security to the OPG Trust during the first 4 years of fair hydro program and b) the possibility that the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by IESO might be considered to be subject to a lien. The IESO does not want to be inadvertently in default."

- In order to address this issue, the IESO has requested to amend the definition of the "permitted liens" in both existing OEFC Agreements to include any liens related to the FHP. Specifically, adding a clause in the existing OEFC Agreements that any lien related to OFHP will not be viewed as negative pledge by OEFC, so those liens can be used to secure the performance of IESO's obligations to OPG under the FHP. This would allow IESO to grant security to the OPG Trust during the first 4 years of implementing the GA deferral and also avoid of breaching the terms of existing agreements.

- To support IESO's role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act") in July 2017, the IESO had requested the OFA to make the same request to the credit facility agreements with OFA in October.
  - On November 6, 2017, the OFA amended the $475M facility to amend the definition of the "permitted liens" and also included same for the new $2B credit facility agreement between OFA and the IESO , as requested by the IESO.

CONSIDERATIONS

- OFA'S Capital Markets – Operations staff have commented that the legislation governing OEFC, the Electricity Act, 1998, may provide differing context from the OFA's objects and mandate under the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993.

- With the new security agreement between OPG Trust and IESO, OPG Trust would have a priority claim against potentially the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by or flown-through the IESO, the OEFC could find itself unable to collect payments due from the IESO. The likelihood of this scenario could be assessed as low and IESO is an agency of the government consolidated line-by-line in the Province's accounts. [This was a bullet inserted by CMD – Operations.]

- The OFA included the requested changes in the OFA credit facilities, providing a precedent of having considered the changes/inclusion of the same request. Treating the current request differently by Commented [GH1]: We mentioned the security agreement in the above paragraph already, so we don't think we need to mention this again here.

Commented [JK2]: Unless Documentation can provide specific differences that are significant, I suggest we delete.

Commented [GH3]: Would you be able to list out some key differences related to this scenario?

seeking either a Minister's directive or not granting the IESO its request would mean having to take steps on the OFA credit facilities which were either signed recently or amended recently.

RECOMMENDATIONS

- In order to remain consistent with the language recently incorporated in existing IESO-OFA agreements, OFA staff are of the view that the exisiting OEFC Agreements can be amended to include liens related to FHP under the definition of the "permitted liens".

BACKGROUND

- In order to support IESO's role with the implementation of the OFHP Act, OFA staff made similar changes to the definition of 'permitted liens" in existing OFA-IESO credit facility agreements on November 6, 2017.

- Currently, under the existing credit facility agreements between OEFC and the IESO, the definition of "permitted liens" does not include any lien arising from the IESO's role and obligations under the OFHP, including with respect to any amount received or receivable by the IESO (such as, without limitation, amounts received or receivable in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment), or any other lien, whether arising from the action or inaction of IESO, that is created in connection with the OFHP.

OEFC -- IESO CREDIT FACILITY AGREEMENT & THE PERMITTED LIENS

The Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") has requested that OEFC amend the existing credit facility agreements between OEFC and IESO (for $160M and $120M) to address the additional obligations IESO is taking on under Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan. IESO has indicated that OEFC credit facilities will not be used for Ontario Fair Hydro Plan (FHP) purposes.

IESO'S REQUEST

- Under the FHP, the IESO and Ontario Power Generation (OPG) are interacting to refinance a portion of the Global Adjustment over a longer period of time.

- IESO and OPG are in a discussion to grant a security/priority interest on IESO's assets to OPG Trust for the period of the first 4 years of the GA deferral.

- The IESO is planning to seek its Board's approval on Nov 22, 2017 to enter into a security agreement with OPG Trust. The security agreement is currently in draft form. Without amending the existing OEFC $160M and $120M credit facility agreements (the "OEFC Agreements"), IESO could potentially be considered to be in default of the terms of the various agreements. IESO staff wrote:

  "…it likely is best to add to the definition of "Permitted Liens" in the two OEFC facilities to address a) IESO granting security to the OPG Trust during the first 4 years of fair hydro program and b) the possibility that the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by IESO might be considered to be subject to a lien. The IESO does not want to be inadvertently in default."

- The IESO provided a draft Security Agreement, dated November 7th, 2017, between them and the OPG Trust to OFA. According to the draft Security Agreement, in the unlikely event that the IESO runs into ~~a~~ financial difficulty, the IESO would give OPG Trust a priority in the IESO's assets, including all accounts of the IESO and all cash and proceeds from LDCs, that would put OPG Trust ahead of unsecured creditors, including the OFA and the OEFC.
  - The security agreement is not limited to the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by the IESO only.

Commented [JK1]: Opal, pls. confirm that this is the purpose of the "Permitted Liens" section of the credit agreement. This is more Documentation expertise.

- In order to address this issue, the IESO has requested to amend the definition of the "permitted liens" in both existing OEFC Agreements to include any liens related to the FHP. Specifically, adding a clause in the existing OEFC Agreements that any lien related to OFHP will not be viewed as negative pledge by OEFC, so those liens can be used to secure the performance of IESO's obligations to OPG under the FHP. This would allow IESO to grant security to the OPG Trust during the first 4 years of implementing the GA deferral and also avoid breaching the terms of the existing agreements with OEFC.

- To support IESO's role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act"), in July 2017 the IESO had requested that the OFA make similar changes to the credit facility agreements with OFA in October.
  - On November 6, 2017, the OFA amended the $475M facility to amend the definition of "permitted liens" and also included same for the new $2B credit facility agreement between OFA and the IESO , as requested by the IESO.

CONSIDERATIONS

- -With the proposed new security agreement between OPG Trust and the IESO, OPG Trust would have a priority claim against ~~potentially the Clean Energy Adjustment funds collected by or flowing through~~ the IESO's assets, the OEFC could find itself unable to collect payments due from the IESO. The likelihood of this scenario could be assessed as low.

- The extent of this risk is uncertain at this time, given that the regulations that determine the Fair Allocation Amount payable in each period, and how that relates to the obligations to the Financing Entity are still under development.

- IESO is an agency of the government consolidated line-by-line in the Province's accounts.

- The OFA agreed to IESO's requested changes to the OFA credit facilities.

- OFA'S Capital Markets Operations staff have commented that the legislation governing OEFC, the Electricity Act, 1998, may provide differing context from the OFA's objects and mandate under the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993~~.~~ and any changes to the OEFC agreements should take this into account.

- According to the Minister's Directives associated with the OEFC Agreements, ~~it states that~~ the loan and the credit facilities~~y~~ are "subject to such other terms as OEFC deams appropriate~~the terms set out in the OEFC Agreements.~~ Therefore, this is not seen as a change to the directives, and new directives from the Minister of Finance are not deemed necessary. This was consistent with the approach when amending the existing OFA-IESO credit facility agreements on November 6, 2017.

Commented [JK2]: I believe amending the OFA agreements were done under this view. Pls. correct if not the case.

RECOMMENDATIONS

- In order to support IESO's request in relation to its obligation with respect to FHP, OFA staff are of the view that the exisiting OEFC Agreements can be amended to include liens related to FHP under the definition of the "permitted liens".

BACKGROUND

- In order to support IESO's role with the implementation of the OFHP Act, OFA staff made similar changes to the definition of 'permitted liens" in existing OFA-IESO credit facility agreements on November 6, 2017.

- Currently, under the existing credit facility agreements between OEFC and the IESO, the definition of "permitted liens" does not include any lien arising from the IESO's role and obligations under the OFHP, including with respect to any amount received or receivable by the IESO (such as, without limitation, amounts received or receivable in respect of the Clean Energy Adjustment), or any other lien, whether arising from the action or inaction of IESO, that is created in connection with the OFHP.

TD Bank has asked to review the $2B Fair Hydro credit facility executed between IESO and OFA.

TD wants to gain comfort (themselves) that the credit facility is going to support the IESO's fair hydro transactions during the next 4 years.

I have verbally assured them of the above, but they wish to review themselves.

Let me know if I may share and TD will treat the document as confidential.

Re: IESO Credit Requirements for the 2017 Fair Hydro Plan

Dear Mr. Mayman,

As you are aware the Ontario government has announced its intension to implement the proposed Fair Hydro Plan (FHP) to reduce electricity prices for eligible consumers in the province. Proposed legislation was introduced this month for the FHP. The Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) is preparing to implement the FHP and has determined that in order to support the IESO's role in FHP implementation it will need greater credit liquidity than currently exists.

An existing credit facility between the IESO and the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) is currently available for $975 million which includes support for the current Regulated Price Plan (RPP) program. The IESO proposes that a separate and additional credit facility be provided by either the OFA or Ontario Electricity Financial Corporation (OEFC) to support only the FHP credit needs. A separate facility for the FHP is preferable to ensure operational efficiency and interest tracking.

IESO's FHP Credit Requirements and Rationale

Below we have outlined the IESO's expected credit needs including the current OFA facility as follows:

	OFA:IESO Facility	New FHP facility
Current credit facilities	$975 million	$ -
Reduction due to FHP	($500 million)	$ -
Increase due to FHP	$ -	$2,000 million
Totals Credit Facilities	$475 million	$2,000 million

The above $500 million reduction in the current OFA facility is to eliminate duplicate credit needs and reflect the replacement of the current RPP by the new FHP. In addition, the IESO has had recent discussions with OFA staff to explain the rationale to support the overall $2,000 million FHP commitment.

We suggest the new FHP credit facility consider the following key provisions:

- 5 year term - to align with the FHP's initial period of deferral of electricity prices plus a contingency period (i.e. to September 30, 2022);
- interest charge - to be Province's cost of funds for borrowing with a similar term as determined by OFA / OEFC plus 0.25 percent per annum;
- Draws - to be based on minimum of 7 days to a maximum of 95 days, to minimize interest costs and permit efficient FHP asset transfers; and
- Existing $975 million OFA facility : draws to permit for FHP purposes until a new separate credit agreement for FHP purposes has been made available;

Upon your reply to this letter, the IESO will seek any necessary IESO Board of Directors' approval for the above credit facilities and we will provide such evidence for your records.

We appreciate your continued support and look forward to working with you. Please contact me should you need anything further.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Marshall

John,
We are not able to comment on the accounting implications of the indemnity request. Do you have anything from OPG Finance regarding accounting considerations? We would just be planning to consolidate OPG on a modified equity basis, assuming that the Trust is controlled by it for accounting purposes. It is our expectation that OPG and its auditors are assessing potential implications of the indemnity to the accounting treatment of the Trust (i.e. controlled by OPG v. controlled by the Province).
I will review the note and provide comments to Bruno.
Thanks.

Subject: FW: Indemnity Draft Briefing Note

Hi

Attached for your information is a draft briefing note on Ministry of Energy's s. 28 (FAA) request for approval of indemnities for OPG and IESO. A number of clarifications have been requested from OPG/IESO mainly related to the scope of the indemnity request.

This draft note is also intended to facilitate coordination as necessary in various ongoing discussions such as IESO/OPG indemnities, provincial guarantees, PiLs exemption. I'm not sure if the indemnity may also have implications for accounting treatment.

Comments welcome.

ISSUE

The Minister of Energy is requesting approval from the Minister of Finance, pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") to enter into Indemnity Agreements ("Agreements"), on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG"),and its subsidiaries and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") with respect to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan ("OFHP") under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act"). The indemnities would extend to the directors, officers and employees of these entities as well as the agents of the IESO.

Section 28 of the FAA requires that all ministries and public entities request the prior written approval of the Minister of Finance or the President of the Treasury Board for any transaction or commitment that would directly or indirectly increase the indebtedness or contingent liabilities of Ontario.

- The Minister of Energy would sign an Indemnity Agreement in favour of OPG and in favour of IESO.
- The Ministry of Energy indicates both OPG and the IESO expect to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their pre-OFHP typical business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (pre-existing statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts").
- In addition, statutory protections do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim.

Commented [A1]: Would Energy think it fair to add this wording to its business case?

RECOMMENDATION

- IESO and OPG have stated that these indemnities are required for their participation in the implementation of the OFHP Act.
- In order for the OFHP Act to be successful, it is recommended by the Minister of Energy that the Minister of Finance approve this request.
- [The requirement for indemnities was referenced in the recent Cabinet Submission by Minister of Energy, dated _____.]

Commented [A2]: This is placeholder language. TBD/TBC

WHAT IS THE MINISTER BEING ASKED TO SIGN?

- The Minister is being asked to sign the section 28 approval forms and the transmittal letter to Minister Thibeault.

FISCAL IMPACT

- The fiscal impact of a future indemnity claim is unknown. Ministry of Energy ("MENE") states that the likelihood of this indemnity being called upon is low and that the fiscal exposure is unquantifiable at this time.
- An line item or an appropriation for the contingent liability is not required by the Ministry of Energy at this time.
- An approval would be required for a voted appropriation for the Ministry of Energy to make payments if indemnity was called upon.
- MENE has confirmed in its [draft] request letter that it bears responsibility for funding, within its approved allocation, for payments associated with the indemnities provided under the Agreements.

Commented [A3]: Is this statement in the business case? P. 5 says "The risk to the Province of giving the indemnities is undeterminable at this time." Whereas the contingent liability table says it is low.
Can we have MENE to put this right up front. Need a bit of a narrative – what we [Energy] believe and why.

Commented [BA4]: We need to make clear what this means. Is it meaningful to claim to be responsible for funding if amount is unknown? And bullets above note ministry would need an approval for an appropriation. (This could include no approval and instruction to manage).

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED INDEMNITIES

This summary of the OPG/IESO Indemnity Agreement sets out who is being indemnified, for what, and also addresses the proposed waiver of claims, whereby the Province agrees not to bring certain claims against the indemnified parties.

Who the Indemnity Applies to

- The indemnity is being given in favour of "Protected Persons" which comprises OPG, each of OPG's subsidiaries [NTD: We have not received confirmation of whether the financing entity is a subsidiary of OPG] and each of their respective directors, officers and employees.

- Protected Persons are being indemnified against all losses, costs, damages and other expenses for any amount for which they incur damages in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, including a broad range of types of damages. This also includes punitive and a broad range of types of damages that are not always included in an indemnity, such as consequential damages and economic losses. The indemnity also covers costs and expenses for defending themselves. These indemnities are for any act or omission and activity that relates to the Fair Hydro Plan.

What indemnities are being provided?

- The Indemnity Agreement provides that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnity to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity.
- The indemnity also does not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person. It is also explicitly carved out of this exception that a failure to conduct reasonable due diligence investigation will not in itself constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct, which narrows the exception in the context of disclosure and activities relating to issuing securities in public markets such that failing to conduct due diligence will not necessarily invalidate the Indemnity.
- The indemnity also applies where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.

- The Indemnity Agreement sets out how the Protected Person should notify the Province of any claims, and how any proceedings should be dealt with amongst the parties, as well as how any expenses and amounts should be paid during the determination of the claim.

The Indemnity Agreement includes a waiver of claim provision, which is not a normal provision for an indemnity agreement.

- This additionally provides that the Province will not make a claim against a Protected Person who is an individual (i.e., does not apply to OPG/IESO or subsidiaries) relating to any activities associated with the Fair Hydro Plan. This does not apply to claims for willful misconduct, dishonesty or gross negligence.

The Indemnity Agreement includes a warranty section given by the Province. In this section the Province Warrants that it has the authority and capacity, and has taken all necessary steps to enter into the Indemnity Agreement.

- This is an unusual provision, but likely relates to the fact that the Province is not the employer of the indemnified party, or the officers and directors are not the officers and directors of the Province.

ANALYSIS

Commented [A5]: s.28 notes usually talk about mitigation, as does the contingent liability table. Anything we can add here?

Scope of liability from Indemnities

The IESO and OPG are asking the Province to agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the IESO (and its agents) and OPG (and its subsidiaries), as well as their respective directors, officers and employees, from all claims, liabilities, costs, losses, taxes, fines, penalties judgments (including indirect and consequential damages/loss of profits, economic loss/loss of opportunity) that might, directly or indirectly, be incurred by any of the indemnified entities and individuals in relation to any civil, criminal administrative investigative or other claims or proceedings arising directly or indirectly as a result of the entities or individual's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of or otherwise relating to the OFHP (including where an individual is acting at the request of OPG or IESO in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of OPG or a subsidiary).

- The indemnity would also include coverage for the financing entity (SPV), created by OPG, (as a subsidiary of OPG) to facilitate the purchase of the deferred assets ("regulatory assets") under the Global Adjustment ("GA").

Commented [A6]: Has the scope of this indemnity been compared to the proposed Provincial guarantee related to the financing? Is there overlap or duplication?

Commented [A7R6]: Comments from MOF Legal:

Even if Board has indemnities from OPG, wouldn't be able to cover as is not in the best interest of corporation.

MOF Legal: up to Energy to tell us. OPG must have given Board members the normal indemnities.

Bruce Lease one covers the not in the best interest of corporation.

OBCA indemnity: immunity from suit. May indemnity corp. directors and officers. Limited to indemnity in good faith. Other specific provisions exist in EA and FHA.

IESO covers quite a bit. Including Board, directors, employees.

MENE states that the OFHP Act activities of both OPG and the IESO would otherwise fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandates. According to MENE, this creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation, thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability.

Commented [A8]: Fair to insert?

Commented [A9]: Would Energy change this to "historical" in its business case?

Commented [A10R9]: MOF Legal: OPG Board appears to be concerned some would say not in good faith despite objects being changed.

Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation,

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws),
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws,
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus), and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include, without limitation, liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity, which may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, ENE indicates that this could affect OPG and IESO's willingness to undertake such activities, jeopardizing the successful implementation of the OFHP Act. Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the OFHP Act.

Commented [A11]: Can we know this in advance, or is this only to be known if tested in the courts?

Commented [A12R11]: IESO is indirectly involved. Not clear EA 19(1) for IESO. Unclear whether it'd protect from US suit. OFA Board also raised. MOF Legal: this is a valid point.

Commented [A13]: The business case is somewhat inconsistent on specifically citing directors, or being broader. Which is it?

Key Comments:

In providing the approval under Section 28 of the FAA, it is important to flag the following key items that arise from the Indemnity Agreements that the Minister of Energy is proposing to sign [subject to finalising drafting – TBC].

1. Acting in "Good Faith"

Without duplication of the coverage for liabilities that could arise for OPG and IESO, both are requesting to be indemnified for their activities that may be found to have not been conducted in "good faith" and/or in the best interests for their respective corporations.

Since IESO and OPG are expected to carry out activities under the OFHP that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate to date, management in IESO and OPG are of the view that this creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO and their directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

- The concern seems to be that carrying out activities to implement the OFHP Act, even if in some cases required by the Act would not be considered to be in the best interest of the respective corporation.

  - Is there a difference between acting in good faith in the best interests of the corporation versus acting in good faith in the exercise or performance of powers or duties under the Act?
- Statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts as set out below for IESO directors, officers, employees and agents and for OPG employees".
  - Since OPG is falls under Ontario's Business Corporations Act (OBCA), directors and officers of OPG are subject to the standard set out in that Act which includes a limitation on indemnities from corporations, whereby indemnities can only be given to the extent that the directors and officers carried out their activities in good faith and in the best interest of the corporation. The proposed Provincial indemnity, however, would not be restricted to that standard.
  - The standard applicable to directors of IESO is set out in s. 12 of the Electricity Act, 1988, i.e., to act honestly and in good faith in the best interests of the IESO and exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances.
  - So the standard is similar for both OPG and IESO directors.

Both the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, provide coverages for such liabilities as long as those activities are done in "good faith".

- Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 already provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

  "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

- Subsection 39(1) of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 also provides similar protection from liability for OPG:

  "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Commented [A14]: There is no statutory protection for directors and officers of OPG. Most likely OPG has provided them with a typical indemnity consistent with OBCA provisions

Commented [BA15]: Does this mean
- employee of the Province or employee of OPG, or
- employee of the Province or OPG (i.e., the corporation itself)?

2. Potential for Fiscal Exposure of the OFHP Act

In addition to the potential fiscal impact due to a call on the indemnity, there may be a risk associated with the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA Financing portion of the OFHP. With the Province providing guarantee agreements, financial support through credit facilities and the proposed agreements to indemnify the IESO and OPG, the case for the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA structure could be weakened.

Commented [A16]: Whether to include or not, or how to position it, we should see what OPG and E&Y say on the impact on the accounting opinion.

Commented [A17]: Need to get an update from OPCD on whether the proposed indemnities would have a significant impact on this analysis.

BACKGROUND

- On March 2, 2017, the government announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "OFHP"), under which the government will take steps to lower electricity bills [on an after-tax basis] by 25 per cent on average for a typical residential customer, starting July 1, 2017, relative to what the bills would otherwise have been without the OFHP.
- Changes to refinance a portion of the Global Adjustment ("GA") are a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the OFHP. This includes roles for both IESO and OPG:
  - IESO – legislation imposes certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities to implement the OFHP such as the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to deferred costs and the GA financing component of the OFHP, the conveyance of that asset to a financing entity (expected to be established by OPG) and providing a servicing role in recovering the financing entity's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO.
  - OPG – OPG is expected to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset, related to deferred costs, through a financing entity that OPG creates. OPG considers risks associated with these OFHP-related activities to be beyond OPG's usual business/operations. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.
- The 25 per cent rate relief also includes the rebate amount equivalent to the 8 per cent Provincial portion of the HST that has been in effect since January 1, 2017 under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016, and the expected savings from the shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to being funded by the Province.
- The government introduced legislation, passed on May 31, 2017 and received Royal Ascent on June 1, 2017, to enable the implementation of the OFHP Act.

We can push back saying – we are already saying payments that are not appropriations of Energy is already ruled out. But then there is a risk of delay. If we are specifically ruling out this Ontario Climate Change solutions Deployment Corp. that is a known exemption, is it a problem to include?

Hi John.

1. The changes made are acceptable except for those made to the penultimate paragraph – please amend this para to read as follows:

> For further certainty, the OFA and ENERGY acknowledge and agree that the intercept provision as provided for herein, and this letter agreement generally, shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.

2. Re the "[Energy to confirm]" comment, we are ok with the sentence as written and don't need to confirm anything further.

3. Kimberly Marshall would sign the Intercept Letter on behalf of IESO.

Ms. Kimberly Marshall
Vice-President, Corporate Services and Chief Financial Officer, IESO

Toronto, ON M5H 1T1

Dear Mr. Steen Hume and Ms. Kimberly Marshall:

I am writing in relation to the Independent Electricity System Operator's (IESO) request to the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) for a new revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion (the "New Credit Facility") to support the IESO's role in the implementation of and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. Under the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA requires an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis. In general, an intercept provision allows the Minister of Finance to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay the OFA under a loan agreement.

For further certainty, the OFA and the Ministry of Energy ("ENERGY") acknowledge and agree that the intercept provision as provided for herein, and this letter agreement generally, shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.

Prior to entering into a loan agreement with the IESO for the New Credit Facility (the "OFHP Credit Facility Agreement") on an unsecured basis, the OFA requires ENERGY and the IESO to agree to the terms and conditions set out below in relation to the above OFA Lending Policy intercept provision requirement.
These terms and conditions shall also apply to the IESO's existing [$975 million] credit facility, established in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the Ontario Power Authority dated January 1, 2005, as amended (the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

- The OFA, the IESO, and ENERGY agree as follows in respect of any advances made by the OFA to the IESO pursuant to the OFHP Credit Facility Agreement or

the Original Credit Facility Agreement (each a “Loan Agreement”; together, the “Loan Agreements”):

- Pursuant to section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993, the IESO and ENERGY agree that, in the event that the Legislature appropriates any funds for payment by ENERGY to the IESO for any purpose (“Appropriated Funds”), the Minister of Finance would be entitled to deduct from such Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under a Loan Agreement (the “intercept provision”). Terms relating to the intercept provision shall also be separately included in the Loan Agreements.

- If the intercept provision is exercised, the IESO agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to make a payment that is due under a Loan Agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

- Prior to recommending to the Minister of Finance that the intercept provision be exercised, the OFA will raise the issue with ENERGY and seek ENERGY’s support in getting the IESO to pay the amounts owing to OFA within a reasonable cure period.

- Upon receipt of notice from the OFA that the IESO has failed to make one or more payments owing to it in accordance with the provisions of a Loan Agreement, ENERGY will provide the OFA with all information requested by the OFA respecting amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payments to the IESO by ENERGY, including the intended purpose and expected timing of such payments to be made by ENERGY. Upon request, ENERGY will provide similar information to the Minister of Finance.

- ENERGY acknowledges and agrees that, upon receipt of a direction from the Minister of Finance that an amount is to be deducted from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment by ENERGY to the IESO, ENERGY will take all necessary action required by it in order to effect such deduction and payment to the OFA in accordance with the Minister of Finance’s direction.

- For further certainty, the OFA and ENERGY acknowledge and agree that the intercept provision as provided for herein, and this letter agreement generally, shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY.

This letter agreement may be executed in counterparts. Therefore, if you are in agreement with the above terms and conditions in relation to the Loan Agreements, kindly sign this letter agreement below in triplicate and send back two copies to my attention.

Ms. Kimberly Marshall
Vice-President, Corporate Services and Chief Financial Officer, IESO
120 Adelaide St W #1600
Toronto, ON M5H 1T1

Dear Mr. Steen Hume and Ms. Kimberly Marshall:

I am writing in relation to the Independent Electricity System Operator's (IESO) request to the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) for a new revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion (the "New Credit Facility") to support the IESO's role in the implementation of and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. Under the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA requires an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis. In general, an intercept provision allows the Minister of Finance to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay the OFA under a loan agreement.

For further certainty, the OFA and the Ministry of Energy ("ENERGY") acknowledge and agree that the intercept provision as provided for herein, and this letter agreement generally, shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.

Prior to entering into a loan agreement with the IESO for the New Credit Facility (the "OFHP Credit Facility Agreement") on an unsecured basis, the OFA requires ENERGY and the IESO to agree to the terms and conditions set out below in relation to the above OFA Lending Policy intercept provision requirement.
These terms and conditions shall also apply to the IESO's existing [$975 million] credit facility, established in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the Ontario Power Authority dated January 1, 2005, as amended (the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

- The OFA, the IESO, and ENERGY agree as follows in respect of any advances made by the OFA to the IESO pursuant to the OFHP Credit Facility Agreement or

the Original Credit Facility Agreement (each a “Loan Agreement”; together, the “Loan Agreements”):

- Pursuant to section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993, the IESO and ENERGY agree that, in the event that the Legislature appropriates any funds for payment by ENERGY to the IESO for any purpose (“Appropriated Funds”), the Minister of Finance would be entitled to deduct from such Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under a Loan Agreement (the “intercept provision”). Terms relating to the intercept provision shall also be separately included in the Loan Agreements.

- If the intercept provision is exercised, the IESO agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to make a payment that is due under a Loan Agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

- Prior to recommending to the Minister of Finance that the intercept provision be exercised, the OFA will raise the issue with ENERGY and seek ENERGY’s support in getting the IESO to pay the amounts owing to OFA within a reasonable cure period.

- Upon receipt of notice from the OFA that the IESO has failed to make one or more payments owing to it in accordance with the provisions of a Loan Agreement, ENERGY will provide the OFA with all information requested by the OFA respecting amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payments to the IESO by ENERGY, including the intended purpose and expected timing of such payments to be made by ENERGY. Upon request, ENERGY will provide similar information to the Minister of Finance.

- ENERGY acknowledges and agrees that, upon receipt of a direction from the Minister of Finance that an amount is to be deducted from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment by ENERGY to the IESO, ENERGY will take all necessary action required by it in order to effect such deduction and payment to the OFA in accordance with the Minister of Finance’s direction.

- For further certainty, the OFA and ENERGY acknowledge and agree that the intercept provision as provided for herein, and this letter agreement generally, shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY.

This letter agreement may be executed in counterparts. Therefore, if you are in agreement with the above terms and conditions in relation to the Loan Agreements, kindly sign this letter agreement below in triplicate and send back two copies to my attention.

Hi John – tweaked the acknowledgement to make it mutual as between all and to narrow the reference to appropriations so that it is clear it is not any MOE appropriation but only that destined for the IESO.

Sarah

I am writing in relation to the Independent Electricity System Operator's (IESO)~~'s~~ request to the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) for a new revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion ~~from the OFA~~ (the "New Credit Facility") to support ~~its~~the IESO's role in the implementation of and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

~~Pursuant to~~Under the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA ~~is~~ required ~~to include~~ an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis. The intercept provision allows the Minister of Finance to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay the OFA under a loan agreement ~~from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body~~. The OFA, IESO and the Ministry of Energy ("MOE") ~~I~~ acknowledge and confirm that at this time there are no amounts appropriated by the Legislature for the IESO [Energy to confirm] and the intent of such intercept ~~a~~ provision is that it would ~~e~~ apply if and when amounts were to be appropriated for payment to the IESO in the future.

Prior to entering into a loan agreement with the IESO for the New Credit Facility (the "OFHP Credit Facility Agreement"), on an unsecured basis, the OFA requires the Ministry of Energy ("MOE") and the IESO to agree to the terms and conditions set out below in relation to the above OFA Lending Policy intercept provision requirement.

These terms and conditions shall also apply to the IESO's existing $975 million credit facility, established in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the Ontario Power Authority dated January 1, 2005, as amended (the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

- ~~As such, t~~The OFA, the IESO, and MOE agree as follows in respect of any advances made by the OFA to the IESO pursuant to the OFHP Credit Facility Agreement or the Original Credit Facility Agreement (each a "Loan Agreement"; together, the "Loan Agreements"):
  - Pursuant to section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993, the IESO and MOE agree that in the event that the Legislature appropriates any funds for payment to the IESO for any purpose ("Appropriated Funds"), the Minister of Finance ~~is~~ would be entitled to deduct from such Appropriated Funds amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under a Loan Agreement (the "intercept provision").
  - Under the intercept provision, which shall be included in the Loan Agreements, the IESO also agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to pay under a Loan Agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

Commented [RK1]: I had thought the earlier discussion contemplated an acknowledgement / confirmation that at this time there are currently no amounts appropriated by the Legislature for the IESO and that these provisions would apply if amounts were appropriated in the future.

Has there been an update to that thinking?

Hi John,

The "confirm" paragraph was dropped altogether, and the new IESO bullet that was at the end was moved up to that part of the letter instead? I likely missed the flag on that change. Is Legal okay with that?

We can push back saying – we are already saying payments that are not appropriations of Energy is already ruled out. But then there is a risk of delay. If we are specifically ruling out this Ontario Climate Change solutions Deployment Corp. that is a known exemption, is it a problem to include?

Hi John.

1. The changes made are acceptable except for those made to the penultimate paragraph – please amend this para to read as follows:

> For further certainty, the OFA and ENERGY acknowledge and agree that the intercept provision as provided for herein, and this letter agreement generally, shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.

2. Re the "[Energy to confirm]" comment, we are ok with the sentence as written and don't need to confirm anything further.

3. Kimberly Marshall would sign the Intercept Letter on behalf of IESO.

Commented [ESP1]: Defer to Corporate?

Prior to entering into a loan agreement with the IESO for the New Credit Facility (the "OFHP Credit Facility Agreement") on an unsecured basis, the OFA requires ENERGY and the IESO to agree to the terms and conditions set out below in relation to the above OFA Lending Policy intercept provision requirement.

These terms and conditions shall also apply to the IESO's existing ~~[~~$975 million~~]~~ credit facility, established in a credit agreement entered into between the OFA and the Ontario Power Authority dated January 1, 2005, as amended (the "Original Credit Facility Agreement").

Terms relating to the intercept provision shall also be separately included in the Loan Agreements.

    - If the intercept provision is exercised, the IESO agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to make a payment that is due under a Loan Agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

    - Prior to recommending to the Minister of Finance that the intercept provision be exercised, the OFA will raise the issue with ENERGY and seek ENERGY's support in getting the IESO to pay the amounts owing to OFA within a reasonable cure period.

    - Upon receipt of notice from the OFA that the IESO has failed to make one or more payments owing to it in accordance with the provisions of a Loan Agreement, ENERGY will provide the OFA with all information requested by the OFA respecting amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payments to the IESO by ENERGY, including the intended purpose and expected timing of such payments to be made by ENERGY.     - If the intercept provision is exercised, the IESO agrees that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to make a payment that is due under a Loan Agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

    - Prior to recommending to the Minister of Finance that the intercept provision be exercised, the OFA will raise the issue with ENERGY and seek ENERGY's support in getting the IESO to pay the amounts owing to OFA within a reasonable cure period.

    - Upon receipt of notice from the OFA that the IESO has failed to make one or more payments owing to it in accordance with the provisions of a Loan Agreement, ENERGY will provide the OFA with all information requested by the OFA respecting amounts appropriated by the Legislature for payments to the IESO by ENERGY, including the intended purpose and expected timing of such payments to be made by ENERGY. Upon request, ENERGY will provide similar information to the Minister of Finance.

    - ENERGY acknowledges and agrees that, upon receipt of a direction from the Minister of Finance that an amount is to be deducted from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment by ENERGY to the IESO, ENERGY will take all necessary action required by it in order to effect such deduction and payment to the OFA in accordance with the Minister of Finance's direction.

    - For further certainty, the OFA and ENERGY acknowledge and agree that the intercept provision as provided for herein, and this letter agreement generally, shall not apply with respect to any funds appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO through ministries other than ENERGY or through Ontario Climate Change Solutions Deployment Corporation.

This letter agreement may be executed in counterparts. Therefore, if you are in agreement with the above terms and conditions in relation to the Loan Agreements, kindly sign this letter agreement below in triplicate and send back two copies to my attention.

Sincerely,

BACKGROUND NOTE
OFA -- IESO CREDIT FACILITY & THE INTERCEPT PROVISION REQUIRED UNDER THE OFA'S LENDING POLICY

The IESO had requested a new revolving credit facility in an amount of up to $2 billion from the OFA to support its role in the implementation and participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 ("OFHP Act").

On June 29, 2017, the OFA received a directive from the Minister to accommodate the IESO's request and provide a revolving credit facility to the IESO in an amount of up to $2 billion (the "OFHP Credit Facility").

Pursuant to the OFA Lending Policy, the OFA is required to include an intercept provision in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies on an unsecured basis, unless otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance [or Treasury Board or Cabinet].

In accordance with section 23 of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), the intercept provision allows the Minister of Finance to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body, amounts equal to any amounts the public body fails to pay to the OFA under a loan agreement.

Per the requirements of the OFA's Lending Policy, the OFA has reached out to the Ministry of Energy and IESO to fulfill the requirement to include an intercept provision in credit facility agreements with the IESO.

- The OFA Lending Policy, as approved by the OFA Board, provides the following requirement for unsecured loans to public bodies under CIPA:

  > Except where otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet, and prior to the OFA making any loan to a public body, the OFA will [e]nsure that it has an appropriate intercept in place for the loan.

- The OFA Lending Policy also includes the following intercept provision requirement:

  > The public body and its responsible ministry are to agree that the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts that the public body fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under its loan agreement with the OFA.

- The new FHP credit facility, with the required intercept clause, will enable the IESO to fulfil its commitments under the OFHP Act as the IESO will have to finance for a short or medium term period the funding shortfalls in the implementation of the OFHP Act, as well as the continued implementation of the market support function for the IESO through the $475 million facility (to be amended from the current $975 million facility) which will also require the intercept clause to be added.

- Including an intercept provision in the credit facility agreements with the IESO is expected to have no practical impact as the IESO receives no appropriations from the Province of Ontario [Energy to confirm], but would bring the lending facilities onside with the requirements of the OFA Lending Policy and be consistent with CIPA.

Subject: RE: Intercept provision

Hi John,

If I understand your question correctly, the answer is that the Ministry of Environment and Climate Change (MOECCC) is not required to be a party to the FHP credit facility intercept MOU/letter agreement. The letter agreement is intended to be between the "responsible ministry" (in this case Ministry of Energy (MOE)) and the public body (in this case IESO).

The intercept would apply to money appropriated by the Legislature for "payment to the public body". Therefore, money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to a different ministry, a different public body, or to MOE (or an agency of MOE, etc.) for a program unrelated to the IESO, would not be caught by the intercept.

I've included an excerpt below which should be helpful in this regard. Please let me know if you would like to discuss further.

Lisa

Excerpt from OFA Lending Policy (emphasis added):

Pursuant to section 23 of the Capital investment Plan Act and prior to any loan agreement entered into between the OFA and a public body, such public body and its responsible ministry are to agree that the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the public body amounts equal to any amounts that the public body fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under its loan agreement with the OFA. In addition, the public body is to agree that any notice from the OFA to the Minister of Finance in relation to its failure to pay under its loan agreement may be relied upon by the Minister of Finance without further inquiry or verification by the Minister of Finance.

Subject: Intercept provision

Hi Sarah, Lisa,

I have a request for a legal interpretation of the OFA Lending Policy.

The OFA Lending Policy as we currently have it, does it provide for a requirement [of the MOU/the letter agreement we have drafted] other than one ministry responsible for the public body? The way I read the policy, I believe there should be one Ministry that provides oversight of the public body.

This morning, at a meeting, IESO representative raised the issue of their managing the government's implementation of Green ON Fund (?). I am presuming that the same type of arrangement applies for this program as the Energy's program, i.e. no appropriation for IESO's operation, and this is TBD but would like to know how implementation of such a program funded by another ministry would factor into what we are looking to do.

The purpose of the question is to entertain whether the MOU/the letter agreement needs to include MOECC or not. I don't think so but would appreciate your assessment.

Thanks,

John

Hi Deena,

Attached, for Ron's review and any comment, is the latest draft of the Minister's Directive that will direct the OFA to provide the $2 billion revolving credit facility to the IESO for its role under the ONFHP. OFA legal and Documentation have reviewed this and we're preparing an approval package. We just wanted to get this on Ron's radar and for any additional feedback he may have.

DIRECTIVE

MINISTER OF FINANCE

INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR CREDIT FACILITY

To: Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA")

Whereas:

Under the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), the OFA provides financing to public bodies as directed by the Minister of Finance.

The Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"), a public body for the purposes of CIPA, has requested funding from the OFA to support the IESO's role in the implementation and administration of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP").

In order to fulfil the Province's commitments under the OFHP, it is desirable for the Minister of Finance to provide direction to the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility for the purposes of providing short to medium term financing related to the OFHP.

[The OFA will be borrowing funds for this requested credit facility under the authority of OIC ###, pursuant to which the Minister of Finance is authorized to lend a maximum of $2 billion.]

Commented [SQ21]: Based on discussions with OFA legal (including Ken Russell), this can be deleted as it is administrative in nature. Suggest deleting.

Therefore:

Pursuant to sub-section 16(2) of CIPA, the OFA is directed to lend to the IESO under a revolving credit facility (the "Line of Credit") for the purpose of short to medium term financing related to the IESO's implementation of the OFHP, an aggregate principal amount of up to CAD $2 billion.

The Line of Credit shall be subject to the following terms:

- The Line of Credit shall be evidenced by an agreement between the IESO and the OFA containing terms and conditions consistent with this Directive (the "Credit Agreement").

- Interest on the Line of Credit shall be payable at a rate equal to the Province's cost of funds based on the terms of the Credit Agreement, and as determined by the Chief Executive Officer of the OFA or the Assistant Deputy Minister, Corporate and Electricity Finance Division, OFA, or a person designated by either of them, plus a twenty-five (25) basis point spread.

DRAFT

- All amounts outstanding under the Line of Credit shall be repaid in full on or before the date no later than September 30, 2022.
- The Line of Credit shall be subject to such other terms as the OFA deems appropriate from time to time.

MINISTER OF ENERGY REQUEST FOR SECTION 28 APPROVAL FOR INDEMNITY AGREEMENTS IN FAVOUR OF OPG AND IESO FOR THEIR PARTICIPATION UNDER THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN ACT

ISSUE

The Minister of Energy is requesting approval from the Minister of Finance, pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") to enter into Indemnity Agreements ("Agreements") in favour of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") with respect to their participation under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act").

- This Minister of Energy would sign an Indemnity Agreement in favour of OPG and in favour of IESO.

RECOMMENDATION

- IESO and OPG have stated that the requirement of these indemnities is required for their participation in the OFHP Act. In order for the OFHP Act to be successful, it is recommended by the Minister of Energy that the Minister of Finance approve this request.
- The requirement for indemnities was referenced in the recent Cabinet Submission by Minister of Energy, dated _____.

WHAT IS THE MINISTER BEING ASKED TO SIGN?

- The Minister is being asked to sign the section 28 approval forms and the transmittal letter to Minister Thibeault.

FISCAL IMPACT

- Ministry of Energy ("MOE") states that the likelihood of this indemnity being called upon is low and should it be called, the fiscal exposure is unquantifiable.
- MOE has confirmed in its request letter that it bears responsibility for funding, within its approved allocation, for payments associated with the indemnities provided under the Agreements.

ANALYSIS

Scope of liability from Indemnities

The IESO and OPG are asking the Province to agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG (and its subsidiaries) as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their direct roles in carrying out the activities related to the OFHP Act.

- The indemnity would also include coverage for the financing entity (SPV), created by OPG, to facilitate the sale of the deferred assets under the Global Adjustment ("GA") structure.

MOE states that both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the OFHP Act. Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the OFHP Act.

Key Comments:

In providing the approval under Section 28 of the FAA, it is important to flag the following key items that arise from the Agreements the Minister of Energy is anticipated to sign.

1. Acting in "Good Faith"

Without duplication of the coverage for liabilities that could arise for OPG and IESO, both are essentially requesting to be indemnified for their activities that may not be seen to be conducted in "good faith" for their respective corporations.

Since IESO and OPG are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate, management in IESO and OPG are of the view that this creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts".

Both the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, provide coverages for such liabilities as long as those activities are done in "good faith".

- Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 already provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

- Subsection 39(1) of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 also provides similar protection from liability for OPG:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

2. Potential for Fiscal Exposure of the OFHP Act

On May 24, 2017, the Ontario Auditor General ("AG") provided remarks to The Standing Committee on Justice Policy on the then proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. The AG commented that the GA structure that does not impact the Province's net debt or annual deficit is legislated accounting and not in accordance with Canadian Public-Sector Accounting Standards.

With the Province providing guarantee agreements, financial support through credit facilities and these agreements to indemnify the IESO and OPG, this could weaken the case that the Province is relying that underpins the GA structure.

BACKGROUND

- On March 2, 2017, the government announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "OFHP"), under which the government will to take steps to lower electricity bills [on an after-tax basis] by 25 per cent on average for a typical residential customer relative to what the bills would otherwise have been without the OFHP.
- The proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure include the 8 per cent rebate that has been in effect since January 1, 2017 under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to being funded by the Province.
- Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the OFHP.
- The Government introduced legislation, passed on May 31, 2017 and received Royal Ascent on June 1, 2017, to enable the implementation of the OFHP Act.
- The implementation of the OFHP Act will involve the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities.

MINISTER OF ENERGY REQUEST FOR SECTION 28 APPROVAL FOR INDEMNITY AGREEMENTS IN FAVOUR OF OPG AND IESO FOR THEIR PARTICIPATION UNDER THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN ACT

ISSUE

The Minister of Energy is requesting approval from the Minister of Finance, pursuant to Section 28 of the *Financial Administration Act ("FAA")* to enter into Indemnity Agreements ("Agreements"), on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG"),and its subsidiaries –and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") with respect to their respective roles in carrying out the ~~participation~~implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan ("ONFHP") under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act"). The indemnities would extend to the directors, officers and employees of these entities as well as the agents of the IESO.

- The~~is~~ Minister of Energy would sign an Indemnity Agreement in favour of OPG and in favour of IESO.

RECOMMENDATION

- IESO and OPG have stated that ~~the requirement of~~ these indemnities are~~is~~ required for their participation in the implementation of the OFHP Act.
- In order for the OFHP Act to be successful, it is recommended by the Minister of Energy that the Minister of Finance approve this request.
- [The requirement for indemnities was referenced in the recent Cabinet Submission by Minister of Energy, dated _____.]

Commented [A1]: Is this expected, and when? Do we have a draft?

WHAT IS THE MINISTER BEING ASKED TO SIGN?

- The Minister is being asked to sign the section 28 approval forms and the transmittal letter to Minister Thibeault.

FISCAL IMPACT

- Ministry of Energy ("M~~O~~EENE") states that the likelihood of this indemnity being called upon is low and ~~should it be called,~~ the fiscal exposure is unquantifiable at this time, should it be called.
- M~~O~~ENE has confirmed in its [draft] request letter that it bears responsibility for funding, within its approved allocation, for payments associated with the indemnities provided under the Agreements.

Commented [A2]: Is this statement in the business case? P. 5 says "The risk to the Province of giving the indemnities is undeterminable at this time." Where does it say that the likelihood of indemnity being called upon is low?

Commented [A3]: Is TBS okay with this?

Commented [A4]: Where does it say this?

ANALYSIS

Scope of liability from Indemnities

The IESO and OPG are asking the Province to agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the IESO (and its agents) and OPG (and its subsidiaries), as well as their respective directors, officers and employees, from ~~any~~ all claims, liabilities, costs, ~~or~~ losses, taxes, fines, penalties judgments (including indirect and consequential damages/loss of profits, economic loss/loss of opportunity) that might, directly or indirectly, be incurred by any of the indemnified entities and individuals ~~arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively)~~ in relation ~~of~~to any civil, criminal administrative investigative or other claims or proceedings arising directly or indirectly as a result of the entities or individual's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of or otherwise relating to the Fair Hydro Plan (including where an individual is acting at the request of OPG or IESO in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of OPG or ~~s~~a subsidiary). ~~as a result of their direct roles in carrying out the activities related to the OFHP Act~~.

- The indemnity would also include coverage for the financing entity (SPV), created by OPG, (as a subsidiary of OPG) to facilitate the purchase~~sale~~ of the deferred assets under the Global Adjustment ("GA") structure ("regulatory assets").

M~~O~~ENE states that ~~both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out~~the OFHP Act activities of both OPG and the IESO ~~that~~ would otherwise fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandates. According to ENE, ~~T~~this creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation, thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability.

Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation,

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws),
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws,
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus), and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include, without limitation, liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity, which may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, ENE indicates that this could ~~impa~~affect ~~the~~ OPG and IESO ~~directors~~'s willingness to undertake such activities, jeopardizing the successful implementation Commented [A5]: It doesn't say "direct".

Commented [A6]: Has the scope of this indemnity been compared to the proposed Provincial guarantee related to the financing? Is there overlap or duplication?

Commented [A7]: Fair to insert?

Commented [A8]: Would Energy change this to "historical" in its business case?

Commented [A9]: Can we know this in advance, or is this only to be known if tested in the courts?

Commented [A10]: The business case is somewhat inconsistent on specifically citing directors, or being broader. Which is it?

of the OFHP Act. Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the OFHP Act.

Key Comments:

In providing the approval under Section 28 of the FAA, it is important to flag the following key items that arise from the Indemnity Agreements the Minister of Energy is ~~anticipated~~proposing to sign [subject to finalising drafting – TBC].

1. Acting in "Good Faith"

Without duplication of the coverage for liabilities that could arise for OPG and IESO, both are ~~essentially~~ requesting to be indemnified for their activities that may be found to have not be~~en seen to be~~ conducted in "good faith" and/or in the best interests for their respective corporations.

Since IESO and OPG are anticipated to carry out activities in the implementation of the OFHP Act that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate to date, management in IESO and OPG are of the view that this creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO and their directors, officers and employees to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts as set out below for IESO directors, officers, employees and agents and for OPG employees"). Since OPG is an OBCA corporation, directors and officers of OPG are subject to the standard set out in that Act ~~which is….~~[NTD: Should this reference the OBCA standard?]. The standard applicable to directors of IESO is set out in s. 12 of the Electricity Act, i.e. to act honestly and in good faith in the best interests of the IESO and exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. So the standard is similar for both OPG and IESO directors. The concern seems to be that carrying out activities to implement the OFHP Act, even if in some cases required by the Act would not be considered to be in the best interest of the respective corporation. Is there a difference between acting in good faith in the best interests of the corporation versus acting in good faith in the exercise or performance of powers or duties under the Act?

Both the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, provide coverages for such liabilities as long as those activities are done in "good faith".

- Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 already provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence,

Commented [A11]: I think we need to include a subsection on existing indemnities, and when the proposed indemnities would not apply.

And lead this sub-section with the protections under statute, and why they may not be considered sufficient – claims on "good faith" as a question of fact to be considered by a court if a claim is brought forward.

And we should mention the waiver too.

Commented [A12]: There is no statutory protection for directors and officers of OPG. Most likely OPG has provided them with a typical indemnity consistent with OBCA provisions the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

- Subsection 39(1) of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 also provides similar protection from liability for OPG:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

2. Potential for Fiscal Exposure of the OFHP Act

~~On May 24, 2017, the Ontario Auditor General ("AG") provided remarks to The Standing Committee on Justice Policy on the then proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. The AG commented that the GA structure that does not impact the Province's net debt or annual deficit is legislated accounting and not in accordance with Canadian Public Sector Accounting Standards.~~

With the Province providing guarantee agreements, financial support through credit facilities and these agreements to indemnify the IESO and OPG, this could weaken the case for the anticipated accounting treatment ~~that the Province is relying that underpins~~of the GA structure.

Commented [A13]: Whether to include or not, or how to position it, we should see what OPG and E&Y say on the impact on the accounting opinion.

[NTD: Should include a section that is more descriptive of the content of the proposed indemnity agreement too including exceptions for dishonesty, gross negligence and wilful misconduct, the issue re: due diligence as well as the waiver and the broad scope of the types of damages covered.

BACKGROUND

- On March 2, 2017, the government announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "OFHP"), under which the government will to take steps to lower electricity bills [on an after-tax basis] by 25 per cent on average for a typical residential customer relative to what the bills would otherwise have been without the OFHP.
- The proposed 25 per cent rate relief ~~measure~~ includes the ~~8 per cent~~ rebate amount equivalent to the 8 per cent Provincial portion of the HST that has been in effect since January 1, 2017 under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016, and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to being funded by the Province.
- Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are ~~proposed to be~~ a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the OFHP.

- The ~~G~~government introduced legislation, passed on May 31, 2017 and received Royal Ascent on June 1, 2017, to enable the implementation of the OFHP Act.
- ~~The implementation of the OFHP Act will involve the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities.~~

DRAFT: Confidential and Commercially Sensitive Advice to the Minister

MINISTER OF ENERGY REQUEST FOR SECTION 28 APPROVAL FOR INDEMNITY AGREEMENTS IN FAVOUR OF OPG AND IESO FOR THEIR PARTICIPATION UNDER THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN ACT

ISSUE

The Minister of Energy is requesting approval from the Minister of Finance, pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") to enter into Indemnity Agreements ("Agreements"), on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG"), and its subsidiaries and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") with respect to their respective roles in carrying out the participation implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan ("ONFHP") under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act"). The indemnities would extend to the directors, officers and employees of these entities as well as the agents of the IESO.

- The is Minister of Energy would sign an Indemnity Agreement in favour of OPG and in favour of IESO.

RECOMMENDATION

- IESO and OPG have stated that the requirement of these indemnities are is required for their participation in the implementation of the OFHP Act.
- In order for the OFHP Act to be successful, it is recommended by the Minister of Energy that the Minister of Finance approve this request.
- [The requirement for indemnities was referenced in the recent Cabinet Submission by Minister of Energy, dated _____.]

WHAT IS THE MINISTER BEING ASKED TO SIGN?

- The Minister is being asked to sign the section 28 approval forms and the transmittal letter to Minister Thibeault.

FISCAL IMPACT

- Ministry of Energy ("MOEENE") states that the likelihood of this indemnity being called upon is low and should it be called, that the fiscal exposure is unquantifiable at this time, should it be called.
- MOENE has confirmed in its [draft] request letter that it bears responsibility for funding, within its approved allocation, for payments associated with the indemnities provided under the Agreements.

ANALYSIS

Scope of liability from Indemnities

Commented [A1]: Is this expected, and when? Do we have a draft?

Commented [A2]: Is this statement in the business case? P. 5 says "The risk to the Province of giving the indemnities is undeterminable at this time." Where does it say that the likelihood of indemnity being called upon is low?

Commented [A3]: Is TBS okay with this?

Commented [A4]: Where does it say this?

The IESO and OPG are asking the Province to agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the IESO (and its agents) and OPG (and its subsidiaries), as well as their respective directors, officers and employees, from ~~any~~ all claims, liabilities, costs, ~~or~~ losses, taxes, fines, penalties judgments (including indirect and consequential damages/loss of profits, economic loss/loss of opportunity) that might, directly or indirectly, be incurred by any of the indemnified entities and individuals ~~arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively)~~ in relation ~~of~~to any civil, criminal administrative investigative or other claims or proceedings arising directly or indirectly as a result of the entities or individual's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of or otherwise relating to the OFHP~~Fair Hydro Plan~~ (including where an individual is acting at the request of OPG or IESO in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of OPG or ~~s~~a subsidiary). ~~as a result of their direct roles in carrying out the activities related to the OFHP Act~~.

- The indemnity would also include coverage for the financing entity (SPV), created by OPG, (as a subsidiary of OPG) to facilitate the purchase~~sale~~ of the deferred assets under the Global Adjustment ("GA") structure ("regulatory assets").

M~~O~~ENE states that ~~both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out~~the OFHP Act activities of both OPG and the IESO ~~that~~ would otherwise fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandates. According to MENE, ~~T~~this creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation, thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability.

Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation,

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws),
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws,
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus), and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include, without limitation, liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity, which may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

Commented [A9]: Would Energy change this to "historical" in its business case?

Commented [A10]: Can we know this in advance, or is this only to be known if tested in the courts?

Hi Steen,

As you'll recall, we are moving forward with OIC to expand the OFA's borrowing authority to facilitate the IESO's request for a credit facility from the OFA.

Attached is a draft approval form, which discusses this in reference to the FHP. Any comments you might have would be welcome.

As noted last week, the OIC itself is just on expanding the Province's ability to lend to the OFA (so that the OFA has the borrowing room to provide the facility), and the FHP is not mentioned in the OIC.

s. 1 Proposal and Context

- Approval is being sought for an OIC under section 22 of Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), which will authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loan(s) to the Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA") in an amount of up to $2.0 billion. Under the proposed OIC, repayment of advances made under the loan plus accrued interest may be made in whole or in part at any time provided that the loan plus any accrued interest shall be fully repaid by December 31, 2047.

- Subsection 22(1) of CIPA authorizes the Minister of Finance to make loans to the OFA in the amounts, times and on the terms and conditions authorized by Lieutenant Governor in Council ("LGIC"). Subsection 22(2) provides a statutory appropriation for loans made by the Minister to the OFA under subsection 22(1).

- Existing OICs authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loans to the OFA, and in turn the OFA has provided loans and credit facilities to colleges, school boards and other public bodies such as Infrastructure Ontario, IESO, Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation and Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

- This proposed OIC is required to increase the authority of the Minister of Finance to lend to the OFA which will provide the OFA with the capacity to provide additional loans to the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO").
    - This will help the IESO to fulfil the commitments under the Fair Hydro Act, 2017 as the IESO will have to finance short to medium term funding shortfalls in the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.
    - The timing of this OIC is critical to ensure that borrowing authority for the OFA is available to provide the IESO its requested financing arrangements under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

s. 2 Approach and Intended Outcomes

- Under CIPA, the OFA provides financing to public bodies as directed by the Minister of Finance. The OFA obtains the funds it needs for its lending program by borrowing from the Province. This OIC would authorize the Minister of Finance under section 22 of CIPA to provide additional loans to the OFA.

- As per subsection 3(1) of CIPA, the Minister of Finance is responsible for the administration of CIPA with respect to the OFA.

- This proposed OIC is required to assist in fulfilling the commitments under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

- It is expected that as part of the implementation, the Minister of Finance will direct the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility for short term financing related to the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. In particular, the OFA would be directed to provide a credit facility to the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"). The IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA.

- Under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, the IESO will incur a monthly funding shortfall in the early years of the plan, as a portion of the Global Adjustment charge to ratepayers will be deferred to the future. During this period, Global Adjustment amounts collected from ratepayers will, therefore, be insufficient to fund the IESO's contractual obligations to electricity producers and service providers.

- The Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 gives the IESO the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future (the "regulatory asset") and the ability to sell the regulatory asset to a financing entity.
    - It is anticipated that the regulatory asset will be purchased by the financing entity to be established by OPG ("OPG SPV", an OPG special purpose vehicle or trust).
    - The cash received from selling the regulatory asset will be used by the IESO to fund the current Global Adjustment shortfall.

- There is expected to be initial and potential ongoing IESO cash flow requirement timing differences. The OPG SPV is not anticipated to be established and able to borrow to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset from the IESO until later in 2017 (planned for later in summer 2017; however, exact timing is subject to actual implementation). Even once the SPV is set up to borrow, there is expected to be timing differences between the IESO's monthly settlement process when it has to pay generators and when the SPV purchases the asset from IESO. Also, under the legislation, OPG's SPV is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset.

- As a result, IESO requires short-term financing to be in place for initial and expected monthly timing differences, or in the event that the OPG SPV, at any time, does not purchase a portion of the regulatory asset.

- IESO has requested that the OFA provide a revolving credit facility of $2.0 billion to support its role in the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

- It is proposed that the OIC authorizes the OFA to borrow an additional $2.0 billion, which would be in addition to existing authority for the Minister of Finance to provide loans to the OFA, to ensure that there is sufficient borrowing authority in place for the OFA to meet the IESO requested requirements.

- If approved, the Minister of Finance will subsequently provide a Directive to the OFA to direct it to provide credit facilities to the IESO.
    - The OFA currently provides a credit facility to the IESO of $975 million.
    - The IESO has requested that the existing credit facility be reduced to $475 million, and a new credit facility be provided of $2.0 billion, for a total amount of $2.475 billion.

s. 3 Direction and Urgency

- The Province passed legislation on May 31, 2017 to implement the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, which will reduce electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible households.
- The ability for the OFA to have the requisite borrowing and lending capacity is instrumental in supporting implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.
- Ministry of Energy proposed regulations under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 are expected to track for Cabinet approval by end of June 2017. It is expected that this OIC also be submitted for approval concurrently as it supports a crucial component of the successfully implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.
- A related Cabinet Minute from the Ministry of Energy is tracking for June 27, 2017 date.

s. 4 Impact Assessment and Costs

- With this OIC, the Minister of Finance will be authorized to lend an additional amount of $2.0 billion to the OFA. Subject to the terms and conditions of a Directive from the Minister of Finance, loans from the Minister of Finance to the OFA are expected to be at the Province's cost of funds.

- Loans advanced will result in increased borrowing in the debt markets by the Province.
- Loans are expected to be repaid and, therefore, no fiscal impact is expected.

s. 5 Implementation

- If the OIC is approved and signed, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA. A Directive from the Minister may provide direction to the OFA on how it can use the proceeds of the loan.

s. 6 Delivery and Results Tracking

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and is required to ensure the timely implementation and support for the success of the Fair Hydro Plan. Upon approval, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA with a directive on how the loan can be used.

s.7 Stakeholder Consultations

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. The related Cabinet note for the initiative should be referred to.

Order in Council
Décret

On the recommendation of the undersigned, the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, by and with the advice and concurrence of the Executive Council of Ontario, orders that:

Sur la recommandation de la personne soussignée, la lieutenante-gouverneure de l'Ontario, sur l'avis et avec le consentement du Conseil exécutif de l'Ontario, décrète ce qui suit :

WHEREAS pursuant to subsection 22(1) of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the "Act"), the Minister of Finance may purchase securities of or make loans to corporations established under subsection 2(1) of the Act in such amounts, at such times and on such terms and conditions as the Lieutenant Governor in Council considers expedient;

AND WHEREAS the Ontario Financing Authority (the "OFA") is a corporation established under subsection 2(1) of the Act;

AND WHEREAS pursuant to subsection 6(3) of the Act, the power of a corporation established under subsection 2(1) of the Act to borrow and issue securities, among other things, may only be exercised under the authority of a by-law that has been approved by the Minister of Finance;

AND WHEREAS the OFA wishes to borrow up to Two Billion Dollars in lawful money of Canada from the Minister of Finance and has been authorized to do so by a borrowing by-law approved in accordance with the Act;

THEREFORE:

Pursuant to subsection 22 (1) of the Act, the Minister of Finance is authorized to lend a maximum of Two Billion Dollars in lawful money of Canada to the OFA on the following terms and conditions:

(a) the loan may be advanced in such amounts and at such time or times as required by the OFA;

(b) repayment of advances made under the loan plus accrued interest may be made in whole or in part at any time provided that the loan plus any accrued interest shall be fully repaid by December 31, 2047;

(c) each advance (an “Advance”) made under the loan hereby authorized shall bear interest at a rate which is determined as follows:

(i) from the date of the Advance to (but excluding) the date of repayment the Advance shall bear interest at a per annum rate equivalent to the yield earned on ninety day Province of Ontario treasury bills on the date before the Advance Date as determined by the Province, provided that if an Advance is outstanding for longer than ninety days, the interest rate shall be reset on the last day of each ninety day period (the “Reset Date”) to the yield earned on ninety day Province of Ontario treasury bills immediately preceding the Reset Date for such ninety day period as determined by the Province;

(ii) in the event that moneys included in an Advance are used by the OFA for the purpose of funding loans to third parties (a “Third Party Loan”), the rate of interest payable by the OFA to the Province on the portion of the Advance so used shall be adjusted effective as of the date that the portion of the Advance is used to fund the Third Party Loan so that the per annum rate of interest payable by the OFA on such moneys is equivalent to the per annum rate of interest payable to the OFA under the Third Party Loan less an amount as may be determined by the Minister of Finance in respect of such Third Party Loan or a class of such Third Party Loans, until but excluding the date on which the Third Party Loan is repaid, at which time the interest rate set out in subparagraph (i) shall again be applicable to that portion of the Advance; and

(iii) in the event that moneys described in subparagraph (ii), once repaid, are subsequently used to fund loans to third parties, subparagraph (ii) shall again be applicable in determining the interest rate payable to the Province on that portion of the Advance used to fund such loan, and so on, until the Advance shall be repaid to the Province in full;

(iv) despite subparagraphs (ii) and (iii), in the event that no interest is payable to the OFA under a Third Party Loan, no interest shall be payable by the OFA on the portion of the Advance so used and to the extent that the terms of a Third Party Loan provide for the deferral of the payment of accrued interest for a period, the interest payment terms of an Advance or portion thereof shall also be deferred for a similar period.

(d) interest for any period of less than one year shall be payable for the actual number of days included in such period, computed on the basis of a 365-day year;

(e) despite paragraph (b) of this Order, interest on any portion of an Advance made to the OFA under the loan that is used by the OFA to fund a Third Party Loan shall accrue on the basis stated above but shall become payable only to the extent the OFA receives payment of interest under the relevant Third Party Loan;

(f) despite paragraph (b) of this Order, any portion of the principal of an Advance made to the OFA under the loan that is used by the OFA to fund a Third Party Loan shall become payable only to the extent the OFA receives repayment of principal under the relevant Third Party Loan; and

(g) the loan hereby authorized shall be evidenced by a promissory note.

ATTENDU QUE le ministre des Finances peut, en vertu du paragraphe 22 (1) de la Loi de 1993 sur le plan d'investissement (la « Loi »), acheter des valeurs mobilières des personnes morales créées en vertu du paragraphe 2 (1) de la Loi ou leur consentir des prêts selon les montants, aux moments et aux conditions que le lieutenant-gouverneur en conseil estime opportuns;

ATTENDU QUE l'Office ontarien de financement (l'« OOF ») est une personne morale créée en vertu du paragraphe 2 (1) de la Loi;

ATTENDU QUE, conformément au paragraphe 6 (3) de la Loi, le pouvoir qu'ont les personnes morales créées en vertu du paragraphe 2 (1) de la Loi de contracter des emprunts et d'émettre des valeurs mobilières, entre autres, ne peut être exercé qu'aux termes d'un règlement administratif approuvé par le ministre des Finances;

ATTENDU QUE l'OOF souhaite emprunter jusqu'à concurrence de deux milliards de dollars en monnaie légale du Canada du ministre des Finances et qu'il a été autorisé à le faire par un règlement administratif d'emprunt approuvé conformément à la Loi;

PAR CONSÉQUENT :

en vertu du paragraphe 22 (1) de la Loi, le ministre des Finances est autorisé à prêter un montant maximal de deux milliards de dollars en monnaie légale du Canada à l'OOF, aux conditions suivantes :

a) le prêt peut être consenti selon les montants et aux moments qui conviennent à l'OOF;

b) le remboursement des avances consenties au titre du prêt, plus les intérêts courus, peut à tout moment être effectué en totalité ou en partie, pourvu que le prêt et les intérêts courus soient entièrement remboursés au plus tard le 31 décembre 2047;

c) chaque avance (« avance ») faite au titre du prêt autorisé par les présentes portera intérêt au taux est fixé comme suit :

(i) de la date où elle a été faite jusqu'à la date (non comprise) de son remboursement, l'avance portera intérêt à un taux annuel équivalant au rendement gagné sur des bons du Trésor de la province de l'Ontario de quatre-vingt-dix jours à la date précédant la date de l'avance fixée par la province, pourvu que ce taux d'intérêt soit rajusté le dernier jour de chaque période de quatre-vingt-dix jours (« date de rajustement ») selon le rendement gagné sur de tels bons du Trésor immédiatement avant la date de rajustement pour une période de quatre-vingt-dix jours décidée par la province, si l'avance est impayée pendant plus de quatre-vingt-dix jours;

(ii) dans l'éventualité où l'OOF se servirait de sommes comprises dans une avance pour financer des prêts à des tiers, le taux d'intérêt à payer par l'OOF à la province sur la partie de l'avance ainsi utilisée sera rajusté à la date à laquelle la partie de l'avance sera utilisée pour le financement du prêt à un tiers de façon que le taux d'intérêt annuel à payer par l'OOF sur de telles sommes soit équivalent à ce dernier taux moins un montant que pourra fixer le ministre des Finances à l'égard d'un tel prêt ou d'une telle catégorie de prêt, jusqu'à la date (non comprise) à laquelle le prêt à un tiers sera remboursé, date à laquelle le taux d'intérêt établi au sous-alinéa (i) s'appliquera de nouveau à cette partie de l'avance;

(iii) dans l'éventualité où les sommes décrites au sous-alinéa (ii), une fois remboursées, seraient ultérieurement utilisées pour le financement de prêts à des tiers, le sous-alinéa (ii) s'appliquera de nouveau dans l'établissement du taux d'intérêt à payer à la province sur la partie de l'avance utilisée à cette fin, et ainsi de suite, jusqu'à ce que l'avance ait été remboursée intégralement à la province;

(iv) malgré les sous-alinéas (ii) et (iii), dans l'éventualité où aucun intérêt ne serait payable à l'OOF au titre d'un prêt à un tiers, aucun intérêt ne sera à payer par l'OOF sur la partie de l'avance ainsi utilisée et dans la mesure où les conditions du prêt à un tiers prévoient le report du paiement d'intérêts courus pour une période, le paiement d'intérêts au titre d'une avance ou d'une partie d'une avance sera également reporté pour une période d'égale durée;

d) l'intérêt payable relativement à toute période de moins d'un an sera calculé en fonction du nombre de jours réellement compris dans cette période, par rapport à une année comptant 365 jours;

e) par dérogation à l'alinéa a) ci-dessus, l'intérêt sur toute partie d'une avance consentie à l'OOF dans le cadre du prêt que cette dernière utilise pour financer un prêt à un tiers est calculé comme il est indiqué ci-dessus, mais cet intérêt devient payable uniquement dans la mesure où l'OOF reçoit un paiement d'intérêts au titre du prêt à un tiers;

f) par dérogation à l'alinéa b) ci-dessus, toute partie du capital d'une avance consentie à l'OOF dans le cadre du prêt que cette dernière utilise pour financer un prêt à un tiers devient payable uniquement dans la mesure où l'OOF reçoit un remboursement du capital au titre du prêt à un tiers

g) le prêt autorisé en vertu des présentes sera attesté par un billet à ordre.

Hi Gadi,

Just an FYI. It's a work in progress, but the DMO wanted to see a draft for today, which we will try to do.

I'm inclined to just have the amount as $2 bn, to meet the IESO request for the FHP-specific facility, unless there are other reasons/needs to expand the authority for other OFA purposes that you are aware of.

Subject: OIC s22 CIPA - OFA-IESO - LRC package

Hi Ron,

Please find attached the LRC package for an OIC authorizing the Minister of Finance to lend to the OFA. In order for the OFA to lend to the IESO as part of the proposed Fair Hydro Plan Act, the OFA borrows from the Province (Minister of Finance). The OIC is being obtained under section 22 of the Capital Investment Plan Act.

The package is getting sign-off from MOF legal at the moment, and it's aiming to get yours and Gadi's sign off today in order to get this to DMO to make sure this will be on June 27th LRC date. MOF legal has already reviewed the package, so I do not expect any further changes from them. I will provide you the hard copy of the package once Legal signed off on that.

s. 1 Proposal and Context

- Approval is being sought for an OIC under section 22 of Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), which will authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loan(s) to the Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA") in an amount of up to $3.5 billion. Under the proposed OIC, loan(s) could be advanced during the period between the effective date of the OIC and June 30, 2053.

- Subsection 22(1) of CIPA authorizes the Minister of Finance to make loans to the OFA in the amounts, times and on the terms and conditions authorized by Lieutenant Governor in Council ("LGIC"). Subsection 22(2) provides a statutory appropriation for loans made by the Minister to the OFA under subsection 22(1).

- Existing OICs authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loans to the OFA of up to $x, under which the OFA has provided loans and credit facilities to …

- This proposed OIC is required to expand the overall Minister of Finance lending authority to the OFA to allow the OFA to provide loans ["including"?] under credit facilities requested by the Independent Electricity System Operator (~~to the~~ ("IESO"). This ~~and~~ will help the IESO to fulfil the commitments under the proposed Fair Hydro Act, 2017, under anticipated and potential timing differences in the implementation of the proposed Fair Hydro Plan. The timing of this OIC is critical to ensure borrowing authority for the OFA is available ~~as it will be required~~ to provide the IESO its requested financing arrangements upon the enactment of the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

Commented [RK1]: Why this amount? Unless we can provide a reason beyond the FHP, I'd rather not go so high.

Commented [RK2]: Why this date? Tied to what?

Formatted: Indent: Left: 0.25", No bullets or numbering

Commented [RK3]: Include IESO in the list.

s. 2 Approach and Intended Outcomes

- Under CIPA, the OFA provides financing to public bodies as directed by the Minister of Finance. The OFA obtains the funds it needs for its lending program by borrowing from the Province. This OIC would authorize the Minister of Finance under section 22 of CIPA to provide additional loans to the OFA.

- As per subsection 3(1) of CIPA, the Minister of Finance is responsible for the administration of CIPA with respect to the OFA.

- This proposed OIC is required to assist in fulfilling the commitments under the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

- It is expected that as part of the implementation of the proposed arrangements, the Minister of Finance will direct the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility for short term financing related to the on-going Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. In particular, the OFA would be directed to provide a credit facility~~will be lending~~ to the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"). The IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA.

- Under the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, the IESO would incur a monthly funding shortfall in the early years of the plan, as a portion of the Global Adjustment charge to ratepayers will be deferred to the future. Global Adjustment amounts initially collected will, therefore, be insufficient to fund the IESO's contractual obligations to electricity producers and service providers.
- The proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 allows the IESO ~~to sell~~ the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future (the "regulatory asset") and the ability~~.~~ to sell that asset.
    - It is anticipated that the regulatory asset would be purchased by the financing entity to be established by OPG ("OPG SPV", an OPG special purpose vehicle or trust).
    - The cash received would be used by the IESO to fund the current Global Adjustment shortfall.
- However, there is expected to be initial and potential timing differences. The OPG SPV is not anticipated to be established and able to borrow to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset from the IESO until later in 2017. Even once the SPV is set up to borrow, there may be timing differences between the IESO's monthly settlement process when it has to pay generators and when the SPV purchases the asset from IESO. Also, under ~~T~~the proposed legislation, ~~however, does not require the~~ OPG's SPV is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset.
- As a result, IESO requires short-term financing to be in place for initial and potential monthly timing differences, or in the event that the OPG SPV, at any time, does not purchase a portion of the regulatory asset. ~~This short-term financing may also be required before the OPG SPV is operating and before it has its own financing in place to purchase the regulatory asset.~~

- IESO has requested that the OFA provide a revolving credit facility of up to $2 billion to support its role in the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. The $2 billion request from IESO is based on current data and assumptions which could change.

Formatted: Font: 11 pt, Font color: Auto, English (United States)

- ~~, therefore, i~~It is proposed that the OIC authorization be $3.5 billion [to ensure that there is sufficient ~~contingency~~borrowing authority in place for the OFA to meet the IESO and other requirements ~~once the implementation begins~~].

- For the OFA to accommodate this request, the OFA requires additional borrowing authority from the Minister of Finance to ensure that it has sufficient funds to lend, hence the current request for an OIC.

- If approved, t~~T~~he Minister of Finance will subsequently ~~be required to~~ provide a Directive to the OFA to direct it to provide credit facilities ~~make loans~~ to the IESO in an amount not to exceed $~~3~~2.5 billion.
  - The OFA currently provides a credit facility to the IESO of $975 million.
  - The IESO has requested that the existing credit facility be reduced to $475 million, and a new credit facility be provided of $2 billion, for a total amount of $2.475 million.

Commented [RK4]: $2bn, unless there is an identifiable other reason OFA needs more borrowing authority.

Commented [RK5]: Add in only if this is justifiable.

s. 3 Direction and Urgency

- As announced on March 2, 2017, and highlighted as a commitment in Budget 2017, the Province intends to implement the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, which would reduce electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible households.
- The ability for the OFA to have the requisite borrowing and lending capacity is instrumental in supporting implementation~~ing~~ of the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.
- Ministry of Energy proposed ~~R~~regulations under the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 are expected to track for Cabinet approval by end of June 2017. It is expected that this OIC also be submitted for approval~~ed~~ concurrently as it ~~is~~supports a crucial component of the successfully implementation~~ing~~ of the Fair Hydro Plan.
- A related Cabinet Minute from the Ministry of Energy is tracking for June 27, 2017 date.

s. 4 Impact Assessment and Costs

- With this OIC, the Minister of Finance will be authorized to lend an additional amount of $x billion to the OFA. Subject to the terms and conditions of a Directive from the Minister of Finance, loans from the Minister of Finance to the OFA are expected to be at the Province's cost of funds.

- Loans advanced will result in increased borrowing in the debt markets by the Province.
- Loans are expected to be repaid and, therefore, no fiscal impact is expected.

s. 5 Implementation

- If the OIC is approved and signed, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA. A Directive from the Minister will be required that will provide direction to the OFA on how ~~the OFA~~it can use the proceeds of the loan.

s. 6 Delivery and Results Tracking

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and is required to ensure the timely implementation and support for the success of the Fair Hydro Plan.

s.7 Stakeholder Consultations

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's proposed Fair Hydro Plan. The related Cabinet note for the initiative should be referred to.

Order in Council
Décret

On the recommendation of the undersigned, the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, by and with the advice and concurrence of the Executive Council of Ontario, orders that:

Sur la recommandation de la personne soussignée, la lieutenante-gouverneure de l'Ontario, sur l'avis et avec le consentement du Conseil exécutif de l'Ontario, décrète ce qui suit :

WHEREAS pursuant to subsection 22(1) of the Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 (the "Act"), the Minister of Finance may purchase securities of or make loans to corporations established under subsection 2(1) of the Act in such amounts, at such times and on such terms and conditions as the Lieutenant Governor in Council considers expedient;

AND WHEREAS the Ontario Financing Authority (the "OFA") is a corporation established under subsection 2(1) of the Act;

AND WHEREAS pursuant to subsection 6(3) of the Act, the power of a corporation established under subsection 2(1) of the Act to borrow and issue securities, among other things, may only be exercised under the authority of a by-law that has been approved by the Minister of Finance;

AND WHEREAS the OFA wishes to borrow up to Three Billion Five Hundred Million Dollars in lawful money of Canada from the Minister of Finance and has been authorized to do so by a borrowing by-law approved in accordance with the Act;

Commented [RK1]: Why this amount? Unless we can provide a reason beyond the FHP, I'd rather not go so high.

THEREFORE:

Pursuant to subsection 22 (1) of the Act, the Minister of Finance is authorized to lend a maximum of Three Billion Five Hundred Million Dollars in lawful money of Canada to the OFA on the following terms and conditions:

(a) the loan may be advanced in such amounts and at such time or times as required by the OFA;

(b) repayment of advances made under the loan plus accrued interest may be made in whole or in part at any time provided that the loan plus any accrued interest shall be fully repaid by June 30, 2053;

(c) each advance (an “Advance”) made under the loan hereby authorized shall bear interest at a rate which is determined as follows:

(i) from the date of the Advance to (but excluding) the date of repayment the Advance shall bear interest at a per annum rate equivalent to the yield earned on ninety day Province of Ontario treasury bills on the date before the Advance Date as determined by the Province, provided that if an Advance is outstanding for longer than ninety days, the interest rate shall be reset on the last day of each ninety day period (the “Reset Date”) to the yield earned on ninety day Province of Ontario treasury bills immediately preceding the Reset Date for such ninety day period as determined by the Province;

(ii) in the event that moneys included in an Advance are used by the OFA for the purpose of funding loans to third parties (a “Third Party Loan”), the rate of interest payable by the OFA to the Province on the portion of the Advance so used shall be adjusted effective as of the date that the portion of the Advance is used to fund the Third Party Loan so that the per annum rate of interest payable by the OFA on such moneys is equivalent to the per annum rate of interest payable to the OFA under the Third Party Loan less an amount as may be determined by the Minister of Finance in respect of such Third Party Loan or a class of such Third Party Loans, until but excluding the date on which the Third Party Loan is repaid, at which time the interest rate set out in subparagraph (i) shall again be applicable to that portion of the Advance; and

(iii) in the event that moneys described in subparagraph (ii), once repaid, are subsequently used to fund loans to third parties, subparagraph (ii) shall again be applicable in determining the interest rate payable to the Province on that portion of the Advance used to fund such loan, and so on, until the Advance shall be repaid to the Province in full;

(iv) despite subparagraphs (ii) and (iii), in the event that no interest is payable to the OFA under a Third Party Loan, no interest shall be payable by the OFA on the portion of the Advance so used and to the extent that the terms of a Third Party Loan provide for the deferral of the payment of accrued interest for a period, the interest payment terms of an Advance or portion thereof shall also be deferred for a similar period.

(d) interest for any period of less than one year shall be payable for the actual number of days included in such period, computed on the basis of a 365-day year;

(e) despite paragraph (b) of this Order, interest on any portion of an Advance made to the OFA under the loan that is used by the OFA to fund a Third Party Loan shall accrue on the basis stated above but shall become payable only to the extent the OFA receives payment of interest under the relevant Third Party Loan;

(f) despite paragraph (b) of this Order, any portion of the principal of an Advance made to the OFA under the loan that is used by the OFA to fund a Third Party Loan shall become payable only to the extent the OFA receives repayment of principal under the relevant Third Party Loan; and

(g) the loan hereby authorized shall be evidenced by a promissory note.

Hi Gadi,

Just an FYI. It's a work in progress, but the DMO wanted to see a draft for today, which we will try to do.

I'm inclined to just have the amount as $2 bn, to meet the IESO request for the FHP-specific facility, unless there are other reasons/needs to expand the authority for other OFA purposes that you are aware of.

Subject: OIC s22 CIPA - OFA-IESO - LRC package

Hi Ron,

Please find attached the LRC package for an OIC authorizing the Minister of Finance to lend to the OFA. In order for the OFA to lend to the IESO as part of the proposed Fair Hydro Plan Act, the OFA borrows from the Province (Minister of Finance). The OIC is being obtained under section 22 of the Capital Investment Plan Act.

The package is getting sign-off from MOF legal at the moment, and it's aiming to get yours and Gadi's sign off today in order to get this to DMO to make sure this will be on June 27th LRC date. MOF legal has already reviewed the package, so I do not expect any further changes from them. I will provide you the hard copy of the package once Legal signed off on that.

The documents are also saved here:

s. 1 Proposal and Context

- Approval is being sought for an OIC under section 22 of Capital Investment Plan Act, 1993 ("CIPA"), which will authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loan(s) to the Ontario Financing Authority ("OFA") in an amount of up to $2.0 billion. Under the proposed OIC, loan(s) could be advanced during the period between the effective date of the OIC and [December 31, 2047.

- Subsection 22(1) of CIPA authorizes the Minister of Finance to make loans to the OFA in the amounts, times and on the terms and conditions authorized by Lieutenant Governor in Council ("LGIC"). Subsection 22(2) provides a statutory appropriation for loans made by the Minister to the OFA under subsection 22(1).

- Existing OICs authorize the Minister of Finance to provide loans to the OFA under which the OFA has provided loans and credit facilities to colleges, school boards and other public agencies such as Infrastructure Ontario, IESO, Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation and Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

- This proposed OIC is required to expand the overall Minister of Finance lending authority to the OFA to allow the OFA to provide loans ["including"?] under credit facilities requested by the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"). This will help the IESO to fulfil the commitments under the proposed Fair Hydro Act, 2017, under anticipated and potential timing differences in the implementation of the proposed Fair Hydro Plan. The timing of this OIC is critical to ensure borrowing authority for the OFA is available to provide the IESO its requested financing arrangements upon the enactment of the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

s. 2 Approach and Intended Outcomes

- Under CIPA, the OFA provides financing to public bodies as directed by the Minister of Finance. The OFA obtains the funds it needs for its lending program by borrowing from the Province. This OIC would authorize the Minister of Finance under section 22 of CIPA to provide additional loans to the OFA.

- As per subsection 3(1) of CIPA, the Minister of Finance is responsible for the administration of CIPA with respect to the OFA.

- This proposed OIC is required to assist in fulfilling the commitments under the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.

- It is expected that as part of the implementation of the proposed arrangements, the Minister of Finance will direct the OFA to provide a revolving credit facility for short term financing related to the on-going Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. In particular, the OFA would be directed to provide a credit facility to the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO"). The IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA.

- Under the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, the IESO would incur a monthly funding shortfall in the early years of the plan, as a portion of the Global Adjustment charge to ratepayers will be deferred to the future. Global Adjustment amounts initially collected will, therefore, be insufficient to fund the IESO's contractual obligations to electricity producers and service providers.
- The proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 allows the IESO the right to recover those deferred amounts from specified consumers in the future (the "regulatory asset") and the ability to sell that asset.
    - It is anticipated that the regulatory asset would be purchased by the financing entity to be established by OPG ("OPG SPV", an OPG special purpose vehicle or trust).
    - The cash received would be used by the IESO to fund the current Global Adjustment shortfall.
- However, there is expected to be initial and potential ongoing timing differences. The OPG SPV is not anticipated to be established and able to borrow to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset from the IESO until later in 2017. Even once the SPV is set up to borrow, there may be timing differences between the IESO's monthly settlement process when it has to pay generators and when the SPV purchases the asset from IESO. Also, under the proposed legislation, OPG's SPV is not required to purchase any portion of the regulatory asset.
- As a result, IESO requires short-term financing to be in place for initial and potential monthly timing differences, or in the event that the OPG SPV, at any time, does not purchase a portion of the regulatory asset.

- IESO has requested that the OFA provide a revolving credit facility of up to $2 billion to support its role in the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017. The $2 billion request from IESO is based on current data and assumptions which could change.

- It is proposed that the OIC authorization be $2.0 billion [to ensure that there is sufficient borrowing authority in place for the OFA to meet the IESO requirements.

- For the OFA to accommodate this request, the OFA requires additional borrowing authority from the Minister of Finance to ensure that it has sufficient funds to lend, hence the current request for an OIC.

- If approved, the Minister of Finance will subsequently provide a Directive to the OFA to direct it to provide credit facilities to the IESO in an amount not to exceed $2.5 billion.
    - The OFA currently provides a credit facility to the IESO of $975 million.
    - The IESO has requested that the existing credit facility be reduced to $475 million, and a new credit facility be provided of $2 billion, for a total amount of $2.475 million.

s. 3 Direction and Urgency

- As announced on March 2, 2017, and highlighted as a commitment in Budget 2017, the Province intends to implement the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, which would reduce electricity bills by 25 per cent on average for eligible households.
- The ability for the OFA to have the requisite borrowing and lending capacity is instrumental in supporting implementation of the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017.
- Ministry of Energy proposed regulations under the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 are expected to track for Cabinet approval by end of June 2017. It is expected that this OIC also be submitted for approval concurrently as it supports a crucial component of the successfully implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.
- A related Cabinet Minute from the Ministry of Energy is tracking for June 27, 2017 date.

s. 4 Impact Assessment and Costs

- With this OIC, the Minister of Finance will be authorized to lend an additional amount of $x billion to the OFA. Subject to the terms and conditions of a Directive from the Minister of Finance, loans from the Minister of Finance to the OFA are expected to be at the Province's cost of funds.

- Loans advanced will result in increased borrowing in the debt markets by the Province.
- Loans are expected to be repaid and, therefore, no fiscal impact is expected.

s. 5 Implementation

- If the OIC is approved and signed, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA. A Directive from the Minister will be required that will provide direction to the OFA on how it can use the proceeds of the loan.

s. 6 Delivery and Results Tracking

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 and is required to ensure the timely implementation and support for the success of the Fair Hydro Plan.

s.7 Stakeholder Consultations

- As described in section 2 above, the requirement for this OIC is a result of the Province's proposed Fair Hydro Plan. The related Cabinet note for the initiative should be referred to.

DRAFT IESO's borrowing requirement for the Fair Hydro Plan

Policy Approval: May 31, 2017 (Fair Hydro Act)	TB/MBC: May (Fair Hydro)	LRC Date: June 27, 2017	Cabinet Date: June 27, 2017	Effective Date:

Summary of Proposal

This proposal does not contain any variances from current government direction.

Context for Decision:

The Ministry of Finance (MOF) is seeking an Order in Council (OIC) to authorize the Minister to provide loan(s) to the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) in an amount of up to $2B, which will provide the OFA with the capacity to provide additional loans to the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) in order to fulfil the commitments under the Fair Hydro Act, 2017.

The IESO is responsible for financing short to medium term funding shortfalls in the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Capital Investment Plan Act (CIPA) authorizes the Minister of Finance to make loans to the OFA in the amounts, times and on the terms and conditions authorized by Lieutenant Governor in Council ("LGIC").

Why does Ontario need these changes? Why now?

The proposed OIC is needed to ensure borrowing authority for the OFA is available to provide the IESO necessary resources to implement the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017, which was passed on May 31, 2017.

The Ministry of Energy (Energy) is expected to propose regulations under the Fair Hydro Plan Act for Cabinet approval by the end of June 2017. The proposed OIC should be considered for approval concurrently as it supports a crucial component for the successfully implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

How will this proposal impact Ontario?

This proposed OIC is required to assist in fulfilling the commitments under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act.

The OFA currently provides a credit facility to the IESO of $975M. The IESO has requested that the existing credit facility be reduced to $475M, and a new credit facility be provided of $2B, for a total amount of $2.475B.

[place holder for Fair Hydro cross reference]

What is the expected cost to government?

With this OIC, the Minister of Finance will be authorized to lend an additional amount of $2B to the OFA. Loans advanced will result in increased borrowing in the debt markets by the Province. Loans are expected to be repaid and, therefore, no fiscal impact is expected.

What are the key steps to deliver this proposal?

If the OIC is approved and signed, the Minister of Finance will have authorization to provide a loan to the OFA. A Directive from the Minister may provide direction to the OFA on how it can use the proceeds of the loan.

How will the changes be communicated?

MOF is not proposing any communications in relation to the proposed OIC.

Cabinet Office Analysis

Introduction:

Under other OICs, the Minister of Finance is authorized to provide loans to the OFA, and in turn the OFA has provided loans and credit facilities to colleges, school boards and other public bodies such as Infrastructure Ontario, IESO, Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation and Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

Linkages:

The proposed OIC is required is to ensure the timely implementation and support for the success of the Fair Hydro Plan.

Hi Ron

Sorry, here is latest. There was a small change yesterday in indemnity coverage, where OPG also wanted covered director, officers, employees of a financing entity (but not the financing entity itself), if they are also employees of the corporation or its subsidiaries.

There is also still some back and forth this morning between MoF Legal and Energy legal to clarify some things.

MEMORANDUM TO: Charles Sousa
Minister of Finance

FROM: Glenn Thibeault
Minister of Energy

RE: Request for section 28 approval of indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and respective directors, officers, and employees in relation to the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan

---

I am writing to request approval under section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") the forms of indemnity for the IESO, its directors, officers, and employees; and OPG, OPG's subsidiaries (other than any financing entities as defined in the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act")) and their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons"). Ministry of Finance and Ministry of Energy staff have worked together to review OPG's and IESO's indemnity requests and finalize materials.

OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their activities in carrying out the implementation of the Plan. OPG has also requested this form of indemnity for its subsidiaries (other than any financing entities as defined under the Act) ("Subsidiaries") and respective directors, officers and employees. The Ministry of Energy has committed to providing these indemnities. The Minister of Energy ("Minister") has been briefed and supports this request for approval.

The Act enables the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan (the "Plan"). Under the Plan, the government has proposed to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the Plan. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure will be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the Plan.

The Plan is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the Plan will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations and their directors, officers, and employees may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the Plan. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the Plan.

My recommendation to provide this approval is based on the attached submission prepared by staff. The attached submission includes a description of the contingent liabilities. The cost or estimated cost of the contingent liabilities cannot be quantified. Should the payment be required, the Ministry will return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation.

Approval of these indemnities is requested by June 30, 2017. Failure to obtain approval could jeopardize the implementation of the Plan.

Thank you for your consideration of this request for section 28 approval. Please contact the Ministry of Energy should you have any questions pertaining to the request.

Sincerely,

Glenn Thibeault
Minister

EXECUTION VERSION

INDEMNITY

THIS INDEMNITY effective as of this 1st day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: The Independent Electricity System Operator
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province"),

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and/or employees, may, or in certain circumstances are or will be required to carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act; and/or (iii) any agreements relating to the implementation of the Act or regulations, including with any financing entity (as defined in the Act), (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively referred to as the "Fair Hydro Plan");

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and/or employees may face risk of liability arising as a result of their respective activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. to indemnify, defend, and save harmless the Corporation and its directors, officers, and employees or a member of a committee or panel established by the directors of the Corporation (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, fines, penalties, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), as a result of any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation

(formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan.

2. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of such Protected Person's Losses, or a portion thereof:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) that are a result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws, or any information provided to a financing entity in relation thereto, contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

    (d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing, and/or was reckless as to their belief, that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. Each Protected Person shall:

(a) upon becoming aware of a Claim for which such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder, as soon as practicable deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim(s);

(b) upon written request of the Province, acting reasonably, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information that relates to the Claim(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to the same);

(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies or claims funds, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s) and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim(s) without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s), the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends.

5. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

6. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

7. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with a Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ninety (90) days of the Protected Person completing all steps outlined in paragraph 3 of this indemnity agreement. The Protected Person shall promptly repay forthwith to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

8. The Province hereby waives any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to claims of gross negligence, dishonesty, or willful misconduct against a Protected Person who is an individual.

9. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction; section 11.3 of the Financial

Administration Act (Ontario); and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

10. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Persons that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants and obligations on behalf of such Protected Persons.

11. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

12. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants and obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

[Signature Page Follows]

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity agreement effective as of the day and year first above written.

THE INDEPENDENT ELECTRICITY SYSTEM OPERATOR

By: _____

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, AS REPRESENTED BY THE MINISTER OF ENERGY

By: _____

Glenn Thibeault
Minister of Energy

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure will be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On June 1, 2017, Bill 132 received royal assent, which marked the coming into force of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"). The Act enables the implementation of the ONFHP. The implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective activities in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP. OPG is also seeking an indemnity for its subsidiaries (not including any financing entities as defined in the Act) ("Subsidiaries") and their respective directors, officers and employees.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to OPG and the IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 30, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act (came into force on June 1, 2017).

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO effective as of the date upon which the Act was passed (June 1, 2017).

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Electricity Act, 1998 ("EA") has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the ONFHP. This amendment was designed to ensure that OPG could participate in the ONFHP. OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA will be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity as defined in the Act) is expected to finance.

In carrying out this role, OPG will be carrying out activities that fall outside of its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation. As a result, OPG, its directors, officers, and employees may be faced with increased risk of liability. Examples of such risks related to financing, include without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

OPG and its Subsidiaries, and their respective directors, officers, employees may also be faced with risk of liability to:

- underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities
- the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets)
- counterparties to agreements (e.g. the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust or IESO)
- other stakeholders (the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees) of OPG if OPG (or any Subsidiary of it) is liable for any claim or obligation and cannot meet its obligations to these stakeholders as a result of such claims.
- Regulators (e.g. the Ontario Securities Commission)
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its Subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate OPG and OPG's Subsidiaries in undertaking their role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Act also imposes certain obligations and requirements on the IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entities and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. The IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entities. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. The IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Other examples of sources/activities giving rise to increased risk of liability for the IESO, its directors, officers and employees include the following:

- Investors in any ONFHP investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors, as well as any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and/or IESO being involved;
- OPG (or the financing entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of the regulatory asset and servicing of the investment asset, and related activities;
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity (e.g. short pay);
- Taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities;
- Securities commissions regulators (U.S./Canada); and
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Province in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities is required in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

Even if the corporate mandates of OPG and the IESO were updated to include their role in implementing the ONFHP, this may not eliminate the risk of the types of liabilities outlined above completely, particularly due to the novelty of the ONFHP and the types of roles that OPG and IESO will be taking on. For example, persons could still challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG or the IESO as a party to such challenge.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith".

Generally speaking the Indemnities are intended to provide the Protected Persons with indemnification for losses/liabilities, including those for potentially "bad faith acts", unless any such acts arise as a result of the Protected Persons' dishonesty, gross negligence, or wilful misconduct. As described below in subsection (ii), the statutory protections also do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. The statutory protections also do not extend to the corporations themselves.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(1) of the Act, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under the Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO's and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors, or officers so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the Protected Persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(iii) Insurance and indemnities that the IESO and OPG currently provide to its directors, officers and employees may not fully cover risk

OPG –Insurance and Indemnities

Currently, OPG has indicated that it maintains Directors and Officers liability insurance ("D&O Insurance") with limits of USD $110 Million. The D&O Insurance includes persona coverage (side A) and corporate reimbursement coverage (side B). Under the side A coverage, OPG has advised that the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the insured person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such insured person. The full $110 Million limit is available for side A coverage.

Under side B coverage, OPG has advised that the policy reimburses the organization for losses incurred to indemnify an insured person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500,000.

OPG has advised that directors and officers have priority of payments over the organization for the entire $110M limit.

While this insurance provides coverage for directors and officers of OPG, there is no similar coverage provided for OPG's employees. Further, any liability stated over the maximum amounts would not be covered by the insurance policy. Pursuant to section 2(a) of the IESO Indemnity and section 3(a) of the OPG Indemnity, a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

OPG has indicated that they provide their directors an indemnity but not to their directors or employees. OPG has not provided information about the scope of this indemnity. However, the Indemnities provide that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified. This language is meant to ensure that the covered losses under the Indemnities will be covered by other applicable indemnities first, before being covered by this indemnity.

OPG has not provided any information about insurance coverage and indemnities that its subsidiaries provide to their directors, officers and employees.

IESO – Insurance and Indemnities

The IESO has informed that it carries Directors & Officers insurance providing a maximum $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are also included in the definition of Individual Insureds. The IESO also carries Professional liability insurance providing a maximum $75 million limit.
Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has informed that it has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

Existing Indemnities to OPG and IESO from the Province

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. We are not aware of any indemnities provided to the IESO by the Province.

(b) Description of Risk and any Risk Mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG (and OPG's subsidiaries where applicable) and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporations face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments as described in section 3 above.

The exact nature and scope of the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but the risk of liability for the Province arising may be low, with respect to directors, officers and employees, as any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Act may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in relation to implementing the ONFHP.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided under insurance or another indemnity, to the extent already paid under such insurance, or so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.

5) The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

With respect to the corporations themselves (and in the case of OPG, its Subsidiaries as well) the risk may be higher, but is undeterminable at this time. The likelihood of risk to the Province is characterized as medium, given that OPG and IESO have not identified any insurance or indemnities that would cover the corporations themselves (or in the case of OPG, the Subsidiaries themselves) in the event that such liability arises, nor is statutory protection provided for the corporations themselves.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C".

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the Protected Person as a result of their roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

Under the Indemnities, a Protected Person would not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund;

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities;

(c) that are the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing was reckless as to their belief that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Other Substantial Variances from the Province's Indemnity Template

The other substantial variances in the Indemnities includes a waiver provision whereby the Province waives its right to bring any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual relating in any way to the Protected Persons' activities in the implementation, or otherwise relating to the ONFHP (including where a Protected Person is acting at the request of the corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation – e.g. for example, where a financing entity is a trust, OPG's directors/officers/employees may need to sign the securities offering documents, but not in the capacity as OPG's directors/officers/employees, as the offering documents will not be the offering documents of OPG. The directors/officers/employees will be performing these functions as a result of OPG acting as a Financial Services Manager of the financing entity).

However, this waiver does not apply to gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct claims that may be brought by the province against the applicable Protected Persons. The risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is consistent with the gross negligence carve out provided for in the Indemnity Agreements (section 2(c) in the IESO Indemnity and section 3(c) in the OPG Indemnity) and because the Province is unlikely to bring a claim against a Protected Person for Losses they have agreed to indemnify them for.

OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors, officers, employees do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.

The Indemnities also include a representations and warranties section (section 8 in the IESO Indemnity and section 9 in the OPG Indemnity), which includes general representations and warranties with respect to the Province's authority to enter into these agreements and confirming that they have obtained the appropriate FAA approvals. We do not believe this variance poses a significant risk to the Province.

(e) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries and IESO's (including their respective directors, officers and employees') willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP. This may potentially jeopardize the successful implementation of this plan. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would allow OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

EXECUTION VERSION

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this 1st day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan");

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability arising as a result of their respective activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries (except for any such subsidiary that is a financing entity as defined in the Act) and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, fines, penalties, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including, without limitation, any direct, special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), as a result of any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of each Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. For greater clarity, "Corporation's subsidiaries" as used in this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), whether such financing entities are actually a subsidiary of the Corporation or not; and the terms "Protected Persons" or "Protected Persons" under this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), being a subsidiary of the Corporation or otherwise, provided that, for clarity, any such financing entities' respective directors, officers, trustees, and/or employees shall be considered "Protected Persons" if he or she is also a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or any of the Corporation's subsidiaries.

3. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to such Protected Person to the extent that such Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that such Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 3(c) or otherwise disentitle such Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, to the extent such action or proceeding arises from circumstances in which such Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that such Protected Person's conduct was lawful.

4. Each Protected Person shall:

(a) Upon becoming aware of a Claim(s) for which such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder, as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim(s);

(b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claim(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Person or another Protected Person to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to the same);

(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim(s); and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage, to the fullest extent possible, under insurance policies and/or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, as referred to in subsections 3(a) and (b) above.

A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 4 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person hereunder except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 4 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

5. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person(s). Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends.

6. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

7. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall apply only to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee of the Corporation and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation; and with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation's subsidiaries, this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of a subsidiary of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee of that subsidiary of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director, officer, employee of that particular subsidiary of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of that subsidiary of the Corporation

8. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including, without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ninety (90) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested, so long as the Protected Person is carrying out its obligations under section 4 of this agreement. A Protected Person shall promptly repay to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

9. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to any claims of dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct against a Protected Person who is an individual.

10. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to the application of equitable principles and that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

11. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Persons that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Persons.

12. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

13. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity agreement effective as of the day and year first written above.

Hi Ron,

Energy is preparing a s28 FAA approval request related to OPG and IESO requests for indemnities related to their roles in implementing Ontario Fair Hydro Plan.

I've attached a draft note that is based on the draft materials provided in the second email. The third email indicates a further request to broaden coverage of indemnities that Energy is working on.

Since this is related to global adjustment refinancing, including market offerings, the OFA should be providing advice, but not sure exactly who would be providing that advice regarding a s28 request.

I'm also recommending that should there be a decision to provide the indemnities, it be done under Section 22 of the FAA.

Hi Paul,

As discussed, I've attached our draft s.28 approval materials as well as the indemnity agreements for the IESO and OPG. We are also consulting further with OPG and IESO on providing input on the risks to them if the indemnities are not provided so there may be further changes to these materials based on comments from OPG/IESO. These materials are drafts for TBS legal/policy review and input before we finalize. Once we've addressed TBS' comments we will submit the finalized documents for formal s.28 approval.

As mentioned, we require the section 28 approval by June 1, 2017, so if there is anything we can do to assist with speeding things up, please let us know as we recognize these are tight timelines.

Also, I understand that this is to go to TBS for approval (this goes back to our conversation earlier, whether Finance or TBS needs to approve). Please let us know if you hear otherwise.

If you require anything else from us please let us know. I've copied our program area clients on this email as well.

Many thanks,

Harkamal

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

The Government is proposing to introduce legislation to enable the implementation of the ONFHP (the "Proposed Legislation"). If the Proposed Legislation is passed, the implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP if the Proposed Legislation is passed.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 1, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Proposed Legislation, if passed.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO on the condition that such Indemnities shall only come into effect at the date upon which the proposed legislation is passed.

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP.

Draft

As part of ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that OPG is expected to fund from a special purpose entity that OPG creates (i.e. a financing entity). It is likely that risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO. IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

Commented [HM1]: OPG/IESO input required on this regarding the specific risks they are concerned about.

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG and their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". This is further described in section (ii) below). If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP. Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP.

Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG or IESO to their directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Proposed Legislation prohibits/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals in the even the Proposed Legislation is passed.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against OPG or IESO's directors, officers, and employees as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided or that will be provided if the Proposed Legislation is passed), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity

under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities is limited specifically to claims arising in relation to IESO and OPG's respective role in implementing the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to claims for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, for which indemnity is already provided and paid to the OPG or IESO or its respective directors, officers or employees, or is brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the director.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C"

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their direct roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to claims:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that the protected person is actually so indemnified or covered under such policy or fund; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to the protected person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified by such indemnities;

(c) brought about or contributed to by a Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or

(d) arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to claims for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, or which are covered by another indemnity already provided, for claims brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the persons protected under the Indemnities, or for claims arising from circumstances where the corporation, director, officer or employee did not have grounds for believing that their conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan in the event the Proposed Legislation is passed. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would give OPG and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

Contingent Liabilities

Request for Approval Pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

Contingent Liability	Description/ Explanation	Justification	Risk Trigger	Within Area of Control (Yes/No)	Probability of Liability (High/Medium/ Low)	Duration of Liability (Include End Date)	Maximum Estimated Financial Exposure	If Exposure Not Quantified, Why?	Risk Mitigants (Mitigation Strategy)	Impact of Non-Approval
Indemnity to the OPG, its directors, officers and employees (the "Protected Persons") against all losses, costs, charges, expenses, claims, demands and liabilities directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by the Protected Persons arising specifically as a result of the Protected Persons' direct role in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the Plan.	The Government is proposing to introduce legislation to enable the implementation of the ONFHP (the "Proposed Legislation"). If the Proposed Legislation is passed, the implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG"). OPG has requested an indemnity covering their respective corporation, directors, officers and employees against any claims that may arise in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP if the Proposed Legislation is passed.	Providing this indemnity will facilitate OPG in carrying out its role in implementing the ONFHP.	Claim, loss or costs incurred by the OPG, its directors, officers or employees in carrying out its roles with respect to implementing the ONFHP.	No	Low	No specified end date.	Financial Exposure will be linked to the OPG special purpose entity's debt offerings.	The risk is theoretical and cannot be quanitified.	The Indemnities are limited specifically to claims arising in relation to OPG's respective role in implementing the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. The Indemnities do not apply with respect to claims for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, for which indemnity is already provided and paid to the OPG or its respective directors, officers or employees, or is brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of these entities or persons.	Could jeopordize the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

INDEMNITY

THIS INDEMNITY effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: The Independent Electricity System Operator
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province"),

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation is required to carry out certain activities with respect to the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act (the "Act").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability which extends beyond the typical operations risk of the Corporation and which may arise solely due to the Corporation's role in the implementation of the Act.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. to indemnify and save harmless the Corporation and each of its directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, charges, expenses, claims, demands and liabilities directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by the Protected Persons arising specifically as a result of the Protected Persons' direct role in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the Act (collectively, "Claims" and individually, a "Claim"),

2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to Claims:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that a Protected Person is actually so indemnified or covered under such policy or fund; or

DRAFT

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified by such indemnities;

(c) brought about or contributed to by a Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or

(d) arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any notice of a Claim that the Protected Person receives, the Protected Person must:

(a) immediately and without delay deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim(s);
(b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information that relates to the Claims(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person;
(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim(s); and
(d) promptly take all necessary steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies or claims funds, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity, and only to the extent that, as a result of such failure, the party which was entitled to receive such notice was actually prejudiced.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s) and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim(s) without the prior written consent of the Province. If the Province elects to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s), the Protected Person shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and the Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing the Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be costs to which this indemnity extends.

5. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

6. This indemnity shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

7. The provisions of this agreement and the benefit of all covenants herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

MEMORANDUM TO: Helen Angus
Deputy Minister, Treasury Board Secretariat

FROM: Serge Imbrogno
Deputy Minister

RE: Request for section 28 approval of indemnities to Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG"), Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO) and its respective directors, officers and employees related to their role in carrying out the implementation of the proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Act, (the "Act"), if passed.

I am writing to request approval under section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") to provide indemnities to OPG, the IESO and their respective directors, officers and employees in relation to their roles in carrying out the implementation of the Act, if passed.

The indemnity relates to the roles these entities and their respective directors, officers and employees will play in the implementation of the Act, which was introducted in the legislature on May 11, 2017, if passed and enacted as legislation.The Minister of Energy (Minister) has been briefed and supports this request for approval.

My recommendation to provide this approval is based on the attached submission prepared by staff. The attached submission includes a description of the contingent liabilities. The cost or estimated cost of the contingent liabilities cannot be quantified at this time.

Approval of these indemnities is requested by June 1, 2017. Failure to obtain approval could jeopardize the implementation of the Act and Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan.

Thank you for your consideration of this request for section 28 approval. Please contact the Ministry of Energy should you have any questions pertaining to the request.

Attachment 1: 20170515-s.28 business case - IESO and OPG Indemnity OFHP -DRAFT FINALPK.docx

James, FYI I got a call from energy legal on this – apparently OPG has asked for a significant increase to the scope of the proposed indemnity agreement, so that it would (a) cover OPG's subsidiaries as well and (b) activities that are more generally related to the implementation of the global adjustment (not just activity that is directly related to the implementation of the legislation). Energy isn't sure if they support this change in scope, but they are considering it and might send us revised materials. I told them that the argument that OPG and IESO are being asked to take on new lines of work that they aren't familiar with might not be as strong of a justification in connection with subsidiaries that are established for the express purpose of issuing securities, so that might require a discussion or at least an enhanced business case.

It also sounds like they are anxious to know if this will go to MOF instead of us (I told them direction is still pending) and for confirmation that we can get them an approval by June 1 if it stays with us (I told them that would depend on the availability of senior decision-makers and their willingness to sign off on this, but that it wouldn't fail for lack of effort at the staff level on your end or mine). I tried to reassure them that these requests can move quickly when they need to.

I didn't mention the potential section 22 option since we haven't talked to MOF about it.

Thanks very much Paul – we've asked OPG/IESO to provide us with specifics on the risks as they would be in the best position to advise on these. I am hoping to receive their input by tomorrow and will send to you accordingly.

On the timing of the security offerings, I am assuming you are asking about the security offerings to be made to the investors with respect to the special purpose entity. We don't have a certain date but generally I believe we are looking at some time in Fall 2017 (Tim/Kaitlin, please correct me if I am wrong on this).

If you have further questions, please let us know.

Hi Harkamal – we're still reviewing whether this might go to MOF instead of TBS, but in the interim had some questions from the information set out in the business case:

Can some examples of the risks associated with securities offerings (generally, typically)be provided, and on how Energy might mitigate those risks risk?

Also, can Energy provide info on timing of securities offerings (when expecting to be in the market)?

I'll have some more technical feedback that I'll likely get to you tomorrow.

Thanks,

Subject: OPG/IESO Indemnities - Section 28 Approvals

Hi Paul,

As discussed, I've attached our draft s.28 approval materials as well as the indemnity agreements for the IESO and OPG. We are also consulting further with OPG and IESO on providing input on the risks to them if the indemnities are not provided so there may be further changes to these materials based on comments from OPG/IESO. These materials are drafts for TBS legal/policy review and input before we finalize. Once we've addressed TBS' comments we will submit the finalized documents for formal s.28 approval.

As mentioned, we require the section 28 approval by June 1, 2017, so if there is anything we can do to assist with speeding things up, please let us know as we recognize these are tight timelines.

Also, I understand that this is to go to TBS for approval (this goes back to our conversation earlier, whether Finance or TBS needs to approve). Please let us know if you hear otherwise.

If you require anything else from us please let us know. I've copied our program area clients on this email as well.

Many thanks,

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

The Government is proposing to introduce legislation to enable the implementation of the ONFHP (the "Proposed Legislation"). If the Proposed Legislation is passed, the implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP if the Proposed Legislation is passed.

Commented [PMK1]: This seems out of date now.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 1, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Proposed Legislation, if passed.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO on the condition that such Indemnities shall only come into effect at the date upon which the proposed legislation is passed.

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP.

Draft

As part of ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that OPG is expected to fund from a special purpose entity that OPG creates (i.e. a financing entity). It is likely that risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO. IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

Commented [HM2]: OPG/IESO input required on this regarding the specific risks they are concerned about.

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG and their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". This is further described in section (ii) below). If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP. Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP.

Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG or IESO to their directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Proposed Legislation prohibits/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals in the even the Proposed Legislation is passed.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against OPG or IESO's directors, officers, and employees as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided or that will be provided if the Proposed Legislation is passed), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity

Draft

under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities is limited specifically to claims arising in relation to IESO and OPG's respective role in implementing the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to claims for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, for which indemnity is already provided and paid to the OPG or IESO or its respective directors, officers or employees, or is brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the director.

Commented [PMK3]: Why is the carve out limited to 'gross' negligence vs just negligence?

Commented [PMK4]: Small point, but I think this should say 'protected person' since people other than directors would be covered.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C"

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their direct roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to claims:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that the protected person is actually so indemnified or covered under such policy or fund; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to the protected person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified by such indemnities;

(c) brought about or contributed to by a Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or

(d) arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to claims for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, or which are covered by another indemnity already provided, for claims brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the persons protected under the Indemnities, or for claims arising from circumstances where the corporation, director, officer or employee did not have grounds for believing that their conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan in the event the Proposed Legislation is passed. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would give OPG and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

Indemnities to OPG/IESO – Implementing Proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Act (if passed)

ISSUE

OPG and IESO are asking for indemnities to the IESO, OPG (the entities) and their respective directors, officers and employees in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan (OFHP).

The Ministry indicates both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (pre-existing statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts").

May 18 update from TBS Legal – Energy decision pending on revised ask from OPG/IESO - a significant increase to the scope of the proposed indemnity agreement, so that it would (a) cover OPG's subsidiaries as well and (b) activities that are more generally related to the implementation of the global adjustment (not just activity that is directly related to the implementation of the legislation).

MOF RECOMMENDATION

Based on materials provided by ENERGY, TBS staff are deferring judgment based on the information provided in the transmittal letter from the DM, Energy and the supporting business case provided.

BACKGROUND

Blurb on OFHP….

The Ministry indicates for:

- OPG – GA refinancing would result in a deferred GA amount that OPG is expected to fund from a special purpose entity that OPG creates (i.e. a financing entity) and that associated risks are beyond OPG's usual business/operations. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.
- IESO – proposed legislation would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the OFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the OFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

The Ministry's submission there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The Ministry indicates the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time (cannot be quantified), but that the exposure will be linked to the OPG special purpose entity's debt offerings" of accumulated deferred Global Adjustment costs.

From the latest TB/MBC submission, in 2017-18 deferred global adjustment is forecasted to be about $2.5B, of which 51% is to be financed directly in capital markets, and $49%, about $1.1B, in an equity injection to OPG from the Province, with additional OPG shares being given to the province as OPG's sole shareholder.

With the planned approach capping rate increases at 2% till 2020, total accumulated debt to be refinanced reaches a peak of $24.2B by 2027, financed by on-going Provincial equity injections and debt offerings into the market with subsequent collection of deferred amounts from ratepayers out to 2047 (See Appendix A). The Ministry indicates tentative timing for debt offerings to commence is Fall 2017.

The nature of the indemnities suggests ….. for example negative credit rating impact arising from OFHP.

Although the Minsitry indicates the risk associatied with providing the indemnities are undeterminable, the amount of accumulated debt is quite significant. This raises a question about whether the Ministry has sufficient appropriations in place for 2017-18 to enter into the agreement to provide the indemnities. Section xxx.x. of the FAA indicates

Currently there are no explicit appropriations for GA refinancing other than the $1.1B investment asset for the projected OPG equity injection requirements in 2017-18. There is about $500M in Transfer payments related for the Electricity Social Programs, having moved to being funded from voted appropriations starting in 2017-18.

An alternate approach may be to have, under Section 22.1 of the FAA, the LGIC authorize the Minister of Finance to agree to guarantee or indemnify the debts, obligations, securities or undertakings of any person. Should claim be made, a payment of any amount could be made under Section 12 of the FAA, paid by the Minister of Finance from the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Section 11

BUSINESS CASE

Why is the section 28 approval needed?

The Province is being asked to agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their direct roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

How has potential Crown liability been limited by the proposed indemnity?

The indemnities would not apply with respect to claims:

- Where coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent a protected person is covered by a policy or fund.
- Where other indemnities already exist for protected persons.
- Brought about or contributed to by a protected person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct
- Arising from circumstances where the corporation, director, officer or employee did not have grounds for believing that their conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty

Measures to mitigate risk with securities:

- OPG has a great deal of experience managing the risks associated with borrowing through its experience developing capital-intensive generation projects as well as their management of Nuclear Funds.
    - Equity injections are necessary to support OPG as the owner and manager of GA refinancing. The equity injections allow OPG to strengthen the capital structure of the Trust in order to secure financing at a reasonable cost.
    - OPG will seek to achieve the highest possible credit rating (i.e., AAA is possible) in order to reduce borrowing costs and attract a wide investor base.

What are the possible consequences if section 28 approval is not given?

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and IESO directors' willingness to undertake activities that would fall outside of the scope of typical business activities and mandate, due to the risk of liability, and consequently jeopardizing the successful implementation of the planned approach to GA refinancing component of the ONFHP.

Hi again – the TBS DM has agreed with the staff recommendation here that it would be best if this request went to the Minister of Finance rather than the President of TB, since it primarily covers financing activities and since it fits in with/overlaps with some of the other activities that MOF and the OFA are more directly involved in.

I know this is coming somewhat late so wanted to check in with you both to make sure you're comfortable with that approach before I suggest to Harkamal that she and her clients direct their request to MOF. Happy to stay involved or help out, or discuss if you have concerns.

Thanks,

Paul

James, I spoke to counsel at Energy about the proposed revisions to the boilerplate indemnity agreements. I told her that some minor clarifications to the existing text likely wouldn't raise concerns here, but that even minor changes might add some time to the approvals process on our end.

The changes that OPG is proposing are more substantive in nature and in a number of cases seem like they would result in the province assuming more than a reasonable amount of risk. Energy legal agrees with this and it sounds like energy is going to push back pretty hard with OPG. They also understand that we'll need them to provide a rationale for any substantive deviations from the original draft agreements.

It sounds like Energy is hoping to finalize the agreements today or tomorrow and proceed with approvals on their end. They hope to get us a minister-signed request by early next week, but will share the materials that they send up the line in the interim.

I also flagged the appropriations issue and they are going to consider it further. I didn't note the section 22 option because, as discussed, it's not clear if MOF would be comfortable with it. Our branch is going to discuss this file with MOF legal today, and we understand they are also talking to the OFA today.

Thanks for this Paul.

We received comments back from OPG and IESO on the Business case as well as on the indemnity agreements. I've attached the updated business case that includes changes to reflect your comments as well as OPG and IESO's comments. Please let us know if you have any further concerns.

On the indemnity agreements, we are working through the proposed changes that both IESO and OPG have proposed to them. The IESO indemnity agreement changes that the IESO has proposed appear to be okay, and I've just made some further edits/comments that I am in the process of clarifying with IESO. Could you please take a look at the attached and let us know if there are any concerns from your end on the changes?

The OPG changes to its indemnity agreement are much more substantial and we are working through them still, however, I am wondering whether you can take a look and let us know if you or your policy clients have any significant concerns as well in the interests of time. The changes seem to be more for clarity, but given that they differ from the standard template language just wanted to make sure TBS is comfortable. Both clean and tracked versions of the OPG indemnity agreement are attached.

If it is easier and would be quicker to have a call to discuss, I would be happy to set something up.

Thanks very much Paul – we've asked OPG/IESO to provide us with specifics on the risks as they would be in the best position to advise on these. I am hoping to receive their input by tomorrow and will send to you accordingly.

On the timing of the security offerings, I am assuming you are asking about the security offerings to be made to the investors with respect to the special purpose entity. We don't have a certain date but generally I believe we are looking at some time in Fall 2017 (Tim/Kaitlin, please correct me if I am wrong on this).

Hi Harkamal – we're still reviewing whether this might go to MOF instead of TBS, but in the interim had some questions from the information set out in the business case:

Can some examples of the risks associated with securities offerings (generally, typically)be provided, and on how Energy might mitigate those risks risk?

Also, can Energy provide info on timing of securities offerings (when expecting to be in the market)?

I'll have some more technical feedback that I'll likely get to you tomorrow.

Hi Paul,

As discussed, I've attached our draft s.28 approval materials as well as the indemnity agreements for the IESO and OPG. We are also consulting further with OPG and IESO on providing input on the risks to them if the indemnities are not provided so there may be further changes to these materials based on comments from OPG/IESO. These materials are drafts for TBS legal/policy review and input before we finalize. Once we've addressed TBS' comments we will submit the finalized documents for formal s.28 approval.

As mentioned, we require the section 28 approval by June 1, 2017, so if there is anything we can do to assist with speeding things up, please let us know as we recognize these are tight timelines.

Also, I understand that this is to go to TBS for approval (this goes back to our conversation earlier, whether Finance or TBS needs to approve). Please let us know if you hear otherwise.

If you require anything else from us please let us know. I've copied our program area clients on this email as well.

Many thanks,

(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability due to or as a result of the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, taxes, fines, penalties, statutory payments, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to Losses of a Protected Person:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy for those Losses; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity; for greater certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d), the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder; or

    (d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any Losses, the Protected Person shall:

    (a) as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of any Claim;

    (b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claims that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to same);

DRAFT

(c) take all reasonable steps, at the expense of the Province, necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity unless and only to the extent that such failure to provide such prompt notice has actually prejudiced the Province.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be fully indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has fully indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

5. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within thirty (30) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested. The Protected Person shall repay forthwith any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

DRAFT

6. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

7. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with any and all of its activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation):

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement and the performance of its obligations hereunder, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement and perform its obligations hereunder;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws now or hereinafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally, to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, to section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and to section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

8. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Parties that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Parties.

9. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

DRAFT

10. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")~~,~~

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation ~~is~~and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to ~~the implementation of~~(i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act ~~(the "Act~~, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability ~~which extends beyond the typical operations risk of the Corporation and which may arise solely due to the Corporation's role in the implementation~~due to or as a result of the ~~Act.~~Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. ~~to~~To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries and each of ~~its~~their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, ~~claims,~~ demands ~~and~~, liabilities, taxes, fines, penalties, statutory payments, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by ~~the Protected Persons arising specifically~~any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected ~~Persons' direct role in carrying out~~Person's activities ~~related to~~, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the ~~Act (collectively, "Claims" and individually, a "Claim"),~~ Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to ~~Claims~~Losses of a Protected Person:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy ~~or claims fund~~but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually ~~so indemnified or covered~~paid under such insurance policy ~~or fund~~for those Losses; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by a Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or~~if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity; for greater certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d), the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder; or

(d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any ~~notice of a Claim that the Protected Person receives~~Losses, the Protected Person ~~must~~shall:

   (a) ~~immediately and without delay~~as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of ~~the~~any Claim~~(s)~~;

   (b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claims~~(s)~~ that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to same);

   (c) take all reasonable steps, at the expense of the Province, necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim~~(s)~~; and

   (d) promptly take all ~~necessary~~reasonable steps to obtain indemnification ~~or coverage~~ to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies ~~or claims funds~~, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

   A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity~~,~~ unless and only to the extent that~~, as a result of~~ such failure~~, the party which was entitled to receive~~ to provide such prompt notice ~~was~~has actually prejudiced the Province.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be fully indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim~~(s)~~ and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim~~(s)~~ without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim~~(s)~~, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and ~~the~~each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing ~~the~~a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be ~~costs~~Losses to which this indemnity extends. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has fully indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

5. ~~For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.~~ The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within thirty (30) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested. The Protected Person shall repay forthwith any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

6. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

7. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with any and all of its activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation):

   (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

   (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement and the performance of its obligations hereunder, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement and perform its obligations hereunder;

(c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws now or hereinafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally, to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, to section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and to section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

8. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Parties that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Parties.

9. ~~6.~~ This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

10. ~~7.~~ The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On May 11, 2017 t~~T~~he Government introduced Bill 132, which, if passed would ~~is proposing to enact introduce~~ legislation to enable the implementation of the ONFHP (the "Proposed Legislation"). If the Proposed Legislation is passed, the implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of IESO), directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP if the Proposed Legislation is passed.

Commented [PMK1]: This seems out of date now.

Commented [HM2]: I've updated

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 1, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Proposed Legislation, if passed.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO on the condition that such Indemnities shall only come into effect at the date upon which the proposed legislation is passed.

3. BACKGROUND

~~OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP~~

OPG – Role in Implementation of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (ONFHP)

OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance. Risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. Examples of these risks include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

~~The OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP.~~

~~As part of ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that OPG is expected to fund from a special purpose entity that OPG creates (i.e. a financing entity). It is likely that risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.~~

Draft

~~Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.~~

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the US market.~~.~~ IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

Commented [HM3]: OPG/IESO input required on this regarding the specific risks they are concerned about.

~~The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG and their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". This is further described in section (ii) below). If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP. Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP.~~

~~Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.~~

~~To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG or IESO to their directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.~~

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and each of their respective directors, officers and employees, as well as IESO's agents is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate which existing indemnities would address. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". In addition the statutory protections do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. This is further described in section (ii) below). Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include without limitation,

- liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and the IESO's willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG and IESO to any of its subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of the IESO), directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Proposed Legislation prohibits/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, or each of its subsidiaries, their directors, officers, or employees so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals in the even the Proposed Legislation is passed.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against ~~OPG or IESO's directors, officers, and employees~~the protected persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided or that will be provided if the Proposed Legislation is passed), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities is limited ~~specifically~~ to claims arising in relation to IESO and OPG's respective role in implementing the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed.

Draft

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to claims for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, for which indemnity is already provided and paid to the OPG or IESO or its respective directors, officers or employees, or is brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the ~~director~~protected persons.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C"

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their direct roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to ~~c~~lossesl~~aim~~s:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy ~~or claims fund~~ to the extent that the protected person is actually s~~o indemnified or covered~~paid under such policy ~~or fund~~for those losses; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to the protected person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those losses by such indemnities;

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by~~is the result of the~~a~~ Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only such ~~if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was~~ dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part ~~which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated~~has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person;~~;~~ or

(d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

Commented [PMK4]: Why is the carve out limited to 'gross' negligence vs just negligence?

Commented [HM5]: Gross negligence is used to be consistent with the OBCA requirement.

Commented [PMK6]: Small point, but I think this should say 'protected person' since people other than directors would be covered.

Commented [HM7]: I've changed the reference accordingly.

Draft

OPG's indemnity, with respect to clause (c) above, further provides that the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct a reasonable investigation with respect to advising the OPG about misrepresentations in any prospectus, registration statement or other securities/offering document, shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for this purposes of clause (c) above and does not disentitle the protected person from the Indemnity. This language has been included at the request of OPG in order to provide additional clarity to limit the OPG's liability with respect to carrying out any investigation of securities/offering documents.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to ~~claims~~ losses for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, or which are covered by another indemnity~~-~~under which the protected person is already so indemnified~~already provided~~;~~,~~ for claims brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the persons protected under the Indemnities;~~,~~ or for claims arising from circumstances where the ~~corporation, director, officer or employee~~protected persons did not have grounds for believing that their conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan in the event the Proposed Legislation is passed. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would give OPG and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY

THIS INDEMNITY effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: The Independent Electricity System Operator
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province"),

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation is required to carry out certain activities with respect to the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act (the "Act").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and employees, may, as a result of the Corporation's role in the implementation of the Act, face ~~risk~~risks of liability which ~~extends~~extend beyond the typical operations risk of the Corporation ~~and which may arise solely due to the Corporation's role in the implementation of the Act~~.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. to indemnify and save harmless the Corporation and each of its directors, officers, ~~and employees~~employees or agents of the Corporation or a member of a committee or panel established by the directors of the Corporation (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, charges, expenses, claims, demands and liabilities directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by ~~the~~a Protected ~~Persons~~Person arising ~~specifically~~ as a result of, or in connection with, the ~~Protected Persons' direct~~IESO's role in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the Act (collectively, "Claims" and individually, a "Claim"), [IESO note: we request that the indemnity not be limited to actions arising specifically as a result of a Persons' "direct" role. We request that the indemnity be broad enough to include actions that arise due to the IESO's role in implementing the Act. We prefer to not have to argue, if the indemnity is ever called on, whether something was "specifically" as a result of, or related to a "direct" role.]

~~2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to Claims:~~

2. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of a Claim, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that ~~a~~ payment has been made thereunder to such Protected Person~~ is actually so indemnified or covered under such policy;~~ or~~ fund; or~~

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that ~~the~~ payment has been made to such Protected Person ~~is actually so indemnified by~~under such indemnities; or

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by a~~is the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if ~~a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was~~such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person.

(d) To the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

Commented [A1]: I've re-inserted this provision. This provision is part of the standard Indemnity Template that we typically use. We would like to include in order to ensure consistency with the OPG indemnity.

3. Each Protected Person shall:

~~(a)~~ upon becoming aware of a Claim for which ~~was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or~~

~~4. In order to be entitled to~~ such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder~~ in respect of any notice of a Claim that the Protected Person receives, the Protected Person must:~~

~~(f)~~(a) ~~immediately and without delay~~, as soon as practicable deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim~~(s)~~;

Commented [A2]: Change made to be consistent with OPG edits to its indemnity.

~~(g)~~(b) upon written request of the Province, acting reasonably, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information that relates to the Claims~~(s)~~ that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person;

~~(h)~~(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

~~(i)~~(d) promptly take all ~~necessary~~ reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies or claims funds, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure ~~to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations~~on the part of a Protected Person to take any ~~party to this indemnity, and only~~of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, ~~the party which was entitled to receive such notice~~~~Ontario~~ the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s) and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim(s) without the prior written consent of the Province. If the Province elects to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s), ~~the~~each Protected Person shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and ~~the~~each Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing ~~the~~such Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing the Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be costs to which this indemnity extends.

5. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation~~, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.~~.

6. This indemnity shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

7. The provisions of this agreement and the benefit of all covenants herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

Formatted: Font color: Green

Commented [A3]: Again – this is standard language we include in our indemnities. Please advise what the risk to IESO is with including this provision.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

Hi again – the TBS DM has agreed with the staff recommendation here that it would be best if this request went to the Minister of Finance rather than the President of TB, since it primarily covers financing activities and since it fits in with/overlaps with some of the other activities that MOF and the OFA are more directly involved in.

I know this is coming somewhat late so wanted to check in with you both to make sure you're comfortable with that approach before I suggest to Harkamal that she and her clients direct their request to MOF. Happy to stay involved or help out, or discuss if you have concerns.

Thanks,

Paul

James, I spoke to counsel at Energy about the proposed revisions to the boilerplate indemnity agreements. I told her that some minor clarifications to the existing text likely wouldn't raise concerns here, but that even minor changes might add some time to the approvals process on our end.

The changes that OPG is proposing are more substantive in nature and in a number of cases seem like they would result in the province assuming more than a reasonable amount of risk. Energy legal agrees with this and it sounds like energy is going to push back pretty hard with OPG. They also understand that we'll need them to provide a rationale for any substantive deviations from the original draft agreements.

It sounds like Energy is hoping to finalize the agreements today or tomorrow and proceed with approvals on their end. They hope to get us a minister-signed request by early next week, but will share the materials that they send up the line in the interim.

I also flagged the appropriations issue and they are going to consider it further. I didn't note the section 22 option because, as discussed, it's not clear if MOF would be comfortable with it. Our branch is going to discuss this file with MOF legal today, and we understand they are also talking to the OFA today.

Thanks for this Paul.

We received comments back from OPG and IESO on the Business case as well as on the indemnity agreements. I've attached the updated business case that includes changes to reflect your comments as well as OPG and IESO's comments. Please let us know if you have any further concerns.

On the indemnity agreements, we are working through the proposed changes that both IESO and OPG have proposed to them. The IESO indemnity agreement changes that the IESO has proposed appear to be okay, and I've just made some further edits/comments that I am in the process of clarifying with IESO. Could you please take a look at the attached and let us know if there are any concerns from your end on the changes?

The OPG changes to its indemnity agreement are much more substantial and we are working through them still, however, I am wondering whether you can take a look and let us know if you or your policy clients have any significant concerns as well in the interests of time. The changes seem to be more for clarity, but given that they differ from the standard template language just wanted to make sure TBS is comfortable. Both clean and tracked versions of the OPG indemnity agreement are attached.

If it is easier and would be quicker to have a call to discuss, I would be happy to set something up.

Thanks very much Paul – we've asked OPG/IESO to provide us with specifics on the risks as they would be in the best position to advise on these. I am hoping to receive their input by tomorrow and will send to you accordingly.

On the timing of the security offerings, I am assuming you are asking about the security offerings to be made to the investors with respect to the special purpose entity. We don't have a certain date but generally I believe we are looking at some time in Fall 2017 (Tim/Kaitlin, please correct me if I am wrong on this).

If you have further questions, please let us know.

Hi Harkamal – we're still reviewing whether this might go to MOF instead of TBS, but in the interim had some questions from the information set out in the business case:

Can some examples of the risks associated with securities offerings (generally, typically)be provided, and on how Energy might mitigate those risks risk?

Also, can Energy provide info on timing of securities offerings (when expecting to be in the market)?

I'll have some more technical feedback that I'll likely get to you tomorrow.

Hi Paul,

As discussed, I've attached our draft s.28 approval materials as well as the indemnity agreements for the IESO and OPG. We are also consulting further with OPG and IESO on providing input on the risks to them if the indemnities are not provided so there may be further changes to these materials based on comments from OPG/IESO. These materials are drafts for TBS legal/policy review and input before we finalize. Once we've addressed TBS' comments we will submit the finalized documents for formal s.28 approval.

As mentioned, we require the section 28 approval by June 1, 2017, so if there is anything we can do to assist with speeding things up, please let us know as we recognize these are tight timelines.

Also, I understand that this is to go to TBS for approval (this goes back to our conversation earlier, whether Finance or TBS needs to approve). Please let us know if you hear otherwise.

If you require anything else from us please let us know. I've copied our program area clients on this email as well.

Many thanks,

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability due to or as a result of the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, taxes, fines, penalties, statutory payments, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to Losses of a Protected Person:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy for those Losses; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity; for greater certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d), the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder; or

    (d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any Losses, the Protected Person shall:

    (a) as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of any Claim;

    (b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claims that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to same);

DRAFT

(c) take all reasonable steps, at the expense of the Province, necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity unless and only to the extent that such failure to provide such prompt notice has actually prejudiced the Province.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be fully indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has fully indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

5. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within thirty (30) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested. The Protected Person shall repay forthwith any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

DRAFT

6. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

7. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with any and all of its activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation):

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement and the performance of its obligations hereunder, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement and perform its obligations hereunder;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws now or hereinafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally, to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, to section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and to section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

8. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Parties that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Parties.

9. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

DRAFT

10. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")~~,~~

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation ~~is~~and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to ~~the implementation of~~(i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act ~~(the "Act~~, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability ~~which extends beyond the typical operations risk of the Corporation and which may arise solely due to the Corporation's role in the implementation~~due to or as a result of the ~~Act.~~Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. ~~to~~To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries and each of ~~its~~their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, ~~claims,~~ demands ~~and~~, liabilities, taxes, fines, penalties, statutory payments, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by ~~the Protected Persons arising specifically~~any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected ~~Persons' direct role in carrying out~~Person's activities ~~related to~~, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the ~~Act (collectively, "Claims" and individually, a "Claim"),~~ Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to ~~Claims~~Losses of a Protected Person:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy ~~or claims fund~~but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually ~~so indemnified or covered~~paid under such insurance policy ~~or fund~~for those Losses; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by a Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or~~if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity; for greater certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d), the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder; or

(d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any ~~notice of a Claim that the Protected Person receives~~Losses, the Protected Person ~~must~~shall:

   (a) ~~immediately and without delay~~as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of ~~the~~any Claim~~(s)~~;

   (b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claims~~(s)~~ that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to same);

   (c) take all reasonable steps, at the expense of the Province, necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim~~(s)~~; and

   (d) promptly take all ~~necessary~~reasonable steps to obtain indemnification ~~or coverage~~ to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies ~~or claims funds~~, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

   A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity~~,~~ unless and only to the extent that~~, as a result of~~ such failure~~, the party which was entitled to receive~~ to provide such prompt notice ~~was~~has actually prejudiced the Province.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be fully indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim~~(s)~~ and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim~~(s)~~ without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim~~(s)~~, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and ~~the~~each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing ~~the~~a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be ~~costs~~Losses to which this indemnity extends. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has fully indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

5. ~~For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.~~ The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within thirty (30) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested. The Protected Person shall repay forthwith any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

6. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

7. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with any and all of its activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation):

   (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

   (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement and the performance of its obligations hereunder, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement and perform its obligations hereunder;

(c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws now or hereinafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally, to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, to section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and to section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

8. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Parties that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Parties.

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On May 11, 2017 t~~T~~he Government introduced Bill 132, which, if passed would ~~is proposing to enact introduce~~ legislation to enable the implementation of the ONFHP (the "Proposed Legislation"). If the Proposed Legislation is passed, the implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of IESO), directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP if the Proposed Legislation is passed.

Commented [PMK1]: This seems out of date now.

Commented [HM2]: I've updated

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 1, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Proposed Legislation, if passed.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO on the condition that such Indemnities shall only come into effect at the date upon which the proposed legislation is passed.

3. BACKGROUND

~~OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP~~

OPG – Role in Implementation of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (ONFHP)

OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance. Risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. Examples of these risks include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

~~The OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP.~~

~~As part of ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that OPG is expected to fund from a special purpose entity that OPG creates (i.e. a financing entity). It is likely that risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.~~

Draft

~~Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.~~

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the US market.~~.~~ IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

Commented [HM3]: OPG/IESO input required on this regarding the specific risks they are concerned about.

~~The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG and their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". This is further described in section (ii) below). If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP. Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP.~~

~~Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.~~

~~To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG or IESO to their directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.~~

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and each of their respective directors, officers and employees, as well as IESO's agents is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate which existing indemnities would address. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". In addition the statutory protections do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. This is further described in section (ii) below). Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Formatted: List Paragraph,Bullet List 1,Heading 4 test,Unordered List Level 1,Indented Paragraph, Bulleted + Level: 1 + Aligned at: 0.25" + Indent at: 0.5"

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include without limitation,

- liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and the IESO's willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG and IESO to any of its subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of the IESO), directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Proposed Legislation prohibits/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, or each of its subsidiaries, their directors, officers, or employees so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals in the even the Proposed Legislation is passed.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against ~~OPG or IESO's directors, officers, and employees~~the protected persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided or that will be provided if the Proposed Legislation is passed), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities is limited ~~specifically~~ to claims arising in relation to IESO and OPG's respective role in implementing the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed.

Draft

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to claims for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, for which indemnity is already provided and paid to the OPG or IESO or its respective directors, officers or employees, or is brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the ~~director~~protected persons.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C"

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their direct roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to ~~c~~lossesl~~aim~~s:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy ~~or claims fund~~ to the extent that the protected person is actually s~~o indemnified or covered~~paid under such policy ~~or fund~~for those losses; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to the protected person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those losses by such indemnities;

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by~~is the result of the~~a~~ Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only such ~~if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was~~ dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part ~~which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated~~has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person;~~;~~ or

(d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

Commented [PMK4]: Why is the carve out limited to 'gross' negligence vs just negligence?

Commented [HM5]: Gross negligence is used to be consistent with the OBCA requirement.

Commented [PMK6]: Small point, but I think this should say 'protected person' since people other than directors would be covered.

Commented [HM7]: I've changed the reference accordingly.

Draft

OPG's indemnity, with respect to clause (c) above, further provides that the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct a reasonable investigation with respect to advising the OPG about misrepresentations in any prospectus, registration statement or other securities/offering document, shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for this purposes of clause (c) above and does not disentitle the protected person from the Indemnity. This language has been included at the request of OPG in order to provide additional clarity to limit the OPG's liability with respect to carrying out any investigation of securities/offering documents.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to ~~claims~~ losses for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, or which are covered by another indemnity~~-~~under which the protected person is already so indemnified~~already provided~~;~~,~~ for claims brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the persons protected under the Indemnities;~~,~~ or for claims arising from circumstances where the ~~corporation, director, officer or employee~~protected persons did not have grounds for believing that their conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan in the event the Proposed Legislation is passed. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would give OPG and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY

THIS INDEMNITY effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: The Independent Electricity System Operator
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province"),

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation is required to carry out certain activities with respect to the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act (the "Act").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and employees, may, as a result of the Corporation's role in the implementation of the Act, face ~~risk~~risks of liability which ~~extends~~extend beyond the typical operations risk of the Corporation ~~and which may arise solely due to the Corporation's role in the implementation of the Act~~.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. to indemnify and save harmless the Corporation and each of its directors, officers, ~~and employees~~employees or agents of the Corporation or a member of a committee or panel established by the directors of the Corporation (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, charges, expenses, claims, demands and liabilities directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by ~~the~~a Protected ~~Persons~~Person arising ~~specifically~~ as a result of, or in connection with, the ~~Protected Persons' direct~~IESO's role in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the Act (collectively, "Claims" and individually, a "Claim"), [IESO note: we request that the indemnity not be limited to actions arising specifically as a result of a Persons' "direct" role. We request that the indemnity be broad enough to include actions that arise due to the IESO's role in implementing the Act. We prefer to not have to argue, if the indemnity is ever called on, whether something was "specifically" as a result of, or related to a "direct" role.]

~~2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to Claims:~~

2. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of a Claim, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that ~~a~~ payment has been made thereunder to such Protected Person~~ is actually so indemnified or covered under such policy;~~ or~~ fund; or~~

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that ~~the~~ payment has been made to such Protected Person ~~is actually so indemnified by~~under such indemnities; or

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by a~~is the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if ~~a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was~~such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person.

(d) To the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

Commented [A1]: I've re-inserted this provision. This provision is part of the standard Indemnity Template that we typically use. We would like to include in order to ensure consistency with the OPG indemnity.

3. Each Protected Person shall:

~~(a)~~ upon becoming aware of a Claim for which ~~was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or~~

~~4. In order to be entitled to~~ such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder~~ in respect of any notice of a Claim that the Protected Person receives, the Protected Person must:~~

~~(f)~~(a) ~~immediately and without delay~~, as soon as practicable deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim~~(s)~~;

Commented [A2]: Change made to be consistent with OPG edits to its indemnity.

~~(g)~~(b) upon written request of the Province, acting reasonably, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information that relates to the Claims~~(s)~~ that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person;

~~(h)~~(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

~~(i)~~(d) promptly take all ~~necessary~~ reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies or claims funds, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure ~~to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations~~on the part of a Protected Person to take any ~~party to this indemnity, and only~~of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, ~~the party which was entitled to receive such notice~~~~Ontario~~ the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s) and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim(s) without the prior written consent of the Province. If the Province elects to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s), ~~the~~each Protected Person shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and ~~the~~each Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing ~~the~~such Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing the Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be costs to which this indemnity extends.

5. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation~~, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.~~.

6. This indemnity shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

7. The provisions of this agreement and the benefit of all covenants herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

Commented [A3]: Again – this is standard language we include in our indemnities. Please advise what the risk to IESO is with including this provision.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

James, I spoke to counsel at Energy about the proposed revisions to the boilerplate indemnity agreements. I told her that some minor clarifications to the existing text likely wouldn't raise concerns here, but that even minor changes might add some time to the approvals process on our end.

The changes that OPG is proposing are more substantive in nature and in a number of cases seem like they would result in the province assuming more than a reasonable amount of risk. Energy legal agrees with this and it sounds like energy is going to push back pretty hard with OPG. They also understand that we'll need them to provide a rationale for any substantive deviations from the original draft agreements.

It sounds like Energy is hoping to finalize the agreements today or tomorrow and proceed with approvals on their end. They hope to get us a minister-signed request by early next week, but will share the materials that they send up the line in the interim.

I also flagged the appropriations issue and they are going to consider it further. I didn't note the section 22 option because, as discussed, it's not clear if MOF would be comfortable with it. Our branch is going to discuss this file with MOF legal today, and we understand they are also talking to the OFA today.

Thanks for this Paul.

We received comments back from OPG and IESO on the Business case as well as on the indemnity agreements. I've attached the updated business case that includes changes to reflect your comments as well as OPG and IESO's comments. Please let us know if you have any further concerns.

On the indemnity agreements, we are working through the proposed changes that both IESO and OPG have proposed to them. The IESO indemnity agreement changes that the IESO has proposed appear to be okay, and I've just made some further edits/comments that I am in the process of clarifying with IESO. Could you please take a look at the attached and let us know if there are any concerns from your end on the changes?

The OPG changes to its indemnity agreement are much more substantial and we are working through them still, however, I am wondering whether you can take a look and let us know if you or your policy clients have any significant concerns as well in the interests of time. The changes seem to be more for clarity, but given that they differ from the standard template language just wanted to make sure TBS is comfortable. Both clean and tracked versions of the OPG indemnity agreement are attached.

If it is easier and would be quicker to have a call to discuss, I would be happy to set something up.

Thanks very much Paul – we've asked OPG/IESO to provide us with specifics on the risks as they would be in the best position to advise on these. I am hoping to receive their input by tomorrow and will send to you accordingly.

On the timing of the security offerings, I am assuming you are asking about the security offerings to be made to the investors with respect to the special purpose entity. We don't have a certain date but generally I believe we are looking at some time in Fall 2017 (Tim/Kaitlin, please correct me if I am wrong on this).

If you have further questions, please let us know.

Hi Harkamal – we're still reviewing whether this might go to MOF instead of TBS, but in the interim had some questions from the information set out in the business case:

Can some examples of the risks associated with securities offerings (generally, typically)be provided, and on how Energy might mitigate those risks risk?

Also, can Energy provide info on timing of securities offerings (when expecting to be in the market)?

I'll have some more technical feedback that I'll likely get to you tomorrow.

Thanks,

Paul

Subject: OPG/IESO Indemnities - Section 28 Approvals

Hi Paul,

As discussed, I've attached our draft s.28 approval materials as well as the indemnity agreements for the IESO and OPG. We are also consulting further with OPG and IESO on providing input on the risks to them if the indemnities are not provided so there may be further changes to these materials based on comments from OPG/IESO. These materials are drafts for TBS legal/policy review and input before we finalize. Once we've addressed TBS' comments we will submit the finalized documents for formal s.28 approval.

As mentioned, we require the section 28 approval by June 1, 2017, so if there is anything we can do to assist with speeding things up, please let us know as we recognize these are tight timelines.

Also, I understand that this is to go to TBS for approval (this goes back to our conversation earlier, whether Finance or TBS needs to approve). Please let us know if you hear otherwise.

If you require anything else from us please let us know. I've copied our program area clients on this email as well.

Many thanks,

Harkamal

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability due to or as a result of the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, taxes, fines, penalties, statutory payments, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to Losses of a Protected Person:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy for those Losses; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity; for greater certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d), the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder; or

    (d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any Losses, the Protected Person shall:

    (a) as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of any Claim;

    (b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claims that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to same);

DRAFT

(c) take all reasonable steps, at the expense of the Province, necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity unless and only to the extent that such failure to provide such prompt notice has actually prejudiced the Province.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be fully indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has fully indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

5. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within thirty (30) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested. The Protected Person shall repay forthwith any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

6. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

7. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with any and all of its activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation):

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement and the performance of its obligations hereunder, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement and perform its obligations hereunder;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws now or hereinafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally, to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, to section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and to section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

8. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Parties that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Parties.

9. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

DRAFT

10. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")~~,~~

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation ~~is~~and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to ~~the implementation of~~(i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act ~~(the "Act~~, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability ~~which extends beyond the typical operations risk of the Corporation and which may arise solely due to the Corporation's role in the implementation~~due to or as a result of the ~~Act.~~Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. ~~to~~To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries and each of ~~its~~their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, ~~claims,~~ demands ~~and~~, liabilities, taxes, fines, penalties, statutory payments, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by ~~the Protected Persons arising specifically~~any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected ~~Persons' direct role in carrying out~~Person's activities ~~related to~~, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the ~~Act (collectively, "Claims" and individually, a "Claim"),~~ Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to ~~Claims~~Losses of a Protected Person:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy ~~or claims fund~~but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually ~~so indemnified or covered~~paid under such insurance policy ~~or fund~~for those Losses; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by a Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or~~if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity; for greater certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d), the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder; or

(d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any ~~notice of a Claim that the Protected Person receives~~Losses, the Protected Person ~~must~~shall:

   (a) ~~immediately and without delay~~as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of ~~the~~any Claim~~(s)~~;

   (b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claims~~(s)~~ that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to same);

   (c) take all reasonable steps, at the expense of the Province, necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim~~(s)~~; and

   (d) promptly take all ~~necessary~~reasonable steps to obtain indemnification ~~or coverage~~ to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies ~~or claims funds~~, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

   A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity~~,~~ unless and only to the extent that~~, as a result of~~ such failure~~, the party which was entitled to receive~~ to provide such prompt notice ~~was~~has actually prejudiced the Province.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be fully indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim~~(s)~~ and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim~~(s)~~ without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim~~(s)~~, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and ~~the~~each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing ~~the~~a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be ~~costs~~Losses to which this indemnity extends. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has fully indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

5. ~~For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.~~ The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within thirty (30) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested. The Protected Person shall repay forthwith any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

6. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

7. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with any and all of its activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation):

   (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

   (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement and the performance of its obligations hereunder, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement and perform its obligations hereunder;

(c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws now or hereinafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally, to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, to section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and to section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

8. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Parties that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Parties.

9. ~~6.~~ This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

10. ~~7.~~ The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On May 11, 2017 t~~T~~he Government introduced Bill 132, which, if passed would ~~is proposing to enact introduce~~ legislation to enable the implementation of the ONFHP (the "Proposed Legislation"). If the Proposed Legislation is passed, the implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of IESO), directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP if the Proposed Legislation is passed.

Commented [PMK1]: This seems out of date now.

Commented [HM2]: I've updated

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 1, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Proposed Legislation, if passed.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO on the condition that such Indemnities shall only come into effect at the date upon which the proposed legislation is passed.

3. BACKGROUND

~~OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP~~

OPG – Role in Implementation of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (ONFHP)

OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance. Risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. Examples of these risks include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

~~The OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP.~~

~~As part of ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that OPG is expected to fund from a special purpose entity that OPG creates (i.e. a financing entity). It is likely that risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.~~

Draft

~~Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.~~

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the US market.~~.~~ IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

Commented [HM3]: OPG/IESO input required on this regarding the specific risks they are concerned about.

~~The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG and their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". This is further described in section (ii) below). If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP. Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP.~~

~~Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.~~

~~To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG or IESO to their directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.~~

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and each of their respective directors, officers and employees, as well as IESO's agents is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate which existing indemnities would address. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". In addition the statutory protections do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. This is further described in section (ii) below). Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Formatted: List Paragraph,Bullet List 1,Heading 4 test,Unordered List Level 1,Indented Paragraph, Bulleted + Level: 1 + Aligned at: 0.25" + Indent at: 0.5"

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include without limitation,

- liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and the IESO's willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG and IESO to any of its subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of the IESO), directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

Formatted: Normal, None

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Proposed Legislation prohibits/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, or each of its subsidiaries, their directors, officers, or employees so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals in the even the Proposed Legislation is passed.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against ~~OPG or IESO's directors, officers, and employees~~the protected persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided or that will be provided if the Proposed Legislation is passed), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities is limited ~~specifically~~ to claims arising in relation to IESO and OPG's respective role in implementing the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed.

Draft

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to claims for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, for which indemnity is already provided and paid to the OPG or IESO or its respective directors, officers or employees, or is brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the ~~director~~protected persons.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C"

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their direct roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to ~~c~~lossesl~~aim~~s:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy ~~or claims fund~~ to the extent that the protected person is actually s~~o indemnified or covered~~paid under such policy ~~or fund~~for those losses; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to the protected person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those losses by such indemnities;

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by~~is the result of the~~a~~ Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only such ~~if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was~~ dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part ~~which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated~~has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person;~~;~~ or

(d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

Commented [PMK4]: Why is the carve out limited to 'gross' negligence vs just negligence?

Commented [HM5]: Gross negligence is used to be consistent with the OBCA requirement.

Commented [PMK6]: Small point, but I think this should say 'protected person' since people other than directors would be covered.

Commented [HM7]: I've changed the reference accordingly.

Draft

OPG's indemnity, with respect to clause (c) above, further provides that the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct a reasonable investigation with respect to advising the OPG about misrepresentations in any prospectus, registration statement or other securities/offering document, shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for this purposes of clause (c) above and does not disentitle the protected person from the Indemnity. This language has been included at the request of OPG in order to provide additional clarity to limit the OPG's liability with respect to carrying out any investigation of securities/offering documents.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to ~~claims~~ losses for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, or which are covered by another indemnity~~-~~under which the protected person is already so indemnified~~already provided~~;~~,~~ for claims brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the persons protected under the Indemnities;~~,~~ or for claims arising from circumstances where the ~~corporation, director, officer or employee~~protected persons did not have grounds for believing that their conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan in the event the Proposed Legislation is passed. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would give OPG and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY

THIS INDEMNITY effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: The Independent Electricity System Operator
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province"),

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation is required to carry out certain activities with respect to the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act (the "Act").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and employees, may, as a result of the Corporation's role in the implementation of the Act, face ~~risk~~risks of liability which ~~extends~~extend beyond the typical operations risk of the Corporation ~~and which may arise solely due to the Corporation's role in the implementation of the Act~~.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. to indemnify and save harmless the Corporation and each of its directors, officers, ~~and employees~~employees or agents of the Corporation or a member of a committee or panel established by the directors of the Corporation (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, charges, expenses, claims, demands and liabilities directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by ~~the~~a Protected ~~Persons~~Person arising ~~specifically~~ as a result of, or in connection with, the ~~Protected Persons' direct~~IESO's role in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the Act (collectively, "Claims" and individually, a "Claim"), [IESO note: we request that the indemnity not be limited to actions arising specifically as a result of a Persons' "direct" role. We request that the indemnity be broad enough to include actions that arise due to the IESO's role in implementing the Act. We prefer to not have to argue, if the indemnity is ever called on, whether something was "specifically" as a result of, or related to a "direct" role.]

~~2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to Claims:~~

2. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of a Claim, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that ~~a~~ payment has been made thereunder to such Protected Person~~ is actually so indemnified or covered under such policy;~~ or~~ fund; or~~

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that ~~the~~ payment has been made to such Protected Person ~~is actually so indemnified by~~under such indemnities; or

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by a~~is the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if ~~a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was~~such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person.

(d) To the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

Commented [A1]: I've re-inserted this provision. This provision is part of the standard Indemnity Template that we typically use. We would like to include in order to ensure consistency with the OPG indemnity.

3. Each Protected Person shall:

~~(a)~~ upon becoming aware of a Claim for which ~~was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or~~

~~4. In order to be entitled to~~ such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder~~ in respect of any notice of a Claim that the Protected Person receives, the Protected Person must:~~

~~(f)~~(a) ~~immediately and without delay~~, as soon as practicable deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the Claim~~(s)~~;

Commented [A2]: Change made to be consistent with OPG edits to its indemnity.

~~(g)~~(b) upon written request of the Province, acting reasonably, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information that relates to the Claims~~(s)~~ that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person;

~~(h)~~(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

~~(i)~~(d) promptly take all ~~necessary~~ reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies or claims funds, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure ~~to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations~~on the part of a Protected Person to take any ~~party to this indemnity, and only~~of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, ~~the party which was entitled to receive such notice~~~~Ontario~~ the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s) and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim(s) without the prior written consent of the Province. If the Province elects to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s), ~~the~~each Protected Person shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and ~~the~~each Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing ~~the~~such Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing the Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be costs to which this indemnity extends.

5. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation~~, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.~~.

6. This indemnity shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

7. The provisions of this agreement and the benefit of all covenants herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

Formatted: Font color: Green

Commented [A3]: Again – this is standard language we include in our indemnities. Please advise what the risk to IESO is with including this provision.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

Hi – as discussed with Malle just now, attached are the latest materials that we received through energy legal, and a note to the TBS client that summarizes a discussion I had this morning with Harkamal about this.

James, I spoke to counsel at Energy about the proposed revisions to the boilerplate indemnity agreements. I told her that some minor clarifications to the existing text likely wouldn't raise concerns here, but that even minor changes might add some time to the approvals process on our end.

The changes that OPG is proposing are more substantive in nature and in a number of cases seem like they would result in the province assuming more than a reasonable amount of risk. Energy legal agrees with this and it sounds like energy is going to push back pretty hard with OPG. They also understand that we'll need them to provide a rationale for any substantive deviations from the original draft agreements.

It sounds like Energy is hoping to finalize the agreements today or tomorrow and proceed with approvals on their end. They hope to get us a minister-signed request by early next week, but will share the materials that they send up the line in the interim.

I also flagged the appropriations issue and they are going to consider it further. I didn't note the section 22 option because, as discussed, it's not clear if MOF would be comfortable with it. Our branch is going to discuss this file with MOF legal today, and we understand they are also talking to the OFA today.

Thanks for this Paul.

We received comments back from OPG and IESO on the Business case as well as on the indemnity agreements. I've attached the updated business case that includes changes to reflect your comments as well as OPG and IESO's comments. Please let us know if you have any further concerns.

On the indemnity agreements, we are working through the proposed changes that both IESO and OPG have proposed to them. The IESO indemnity agreement changes that the IESO has proposed appear to be okay, and I've just made some further edits/comments that I am in the process of clarifying with IESO. Could you please take a look at the attached and let us know if there are any concerns from your end on the changes?

The OPG changes to its indemnity agreement are much more substantial and we are working through them still, however, I am wondering whether you can take a look and let us know if you or your policy clients have any significant concerns as well in the interests of time. The changes seem to be more for clarity, but given that they differ from the standard template language just wanted to make sure TBS is comfortable. Both clean and tracked versions of the OPG indemnity agreement are attached.

If it is easier and would be quicker to have a call to discuss, I would be happy to set something up.

Thank you,

Thanks very much Paul – we've asked OPG/IESO to provide us with specifics on the risks as they would be in the best position to advise on these. I am hoping to receive their input by tomorrow and will send to you accordingly.

On the timing of the security offerings, I am assuming you are asking about the security offerings to be made to the investors with respect to the special purpose entity. We don't have a certain date but generally I believe we are looking at some time in Fall 2017 (Tim/Kaitlin, please correct me if I am wrong on this).

If you have further questions, please let us know.

Hi Harkamal – we're still reviewing whether this might go to MOF instead of TBS, but in the interim had some questions from the information set out in the business case:

Can some examples of the risks associated with securities offerings (generally, typically)be provided, and on how Energy might mitigate those risks risk?

Also, can Energy provide info on timing of securities offerings (when expecting to be in the market)?

I'll have some more technical feedback that I'll likely get to you tomorrow.

Subject: OPG/IESO Indemnities - Section 28 Approvals

Hi Paul,

As discussed, I've attached our draft s.28 approval materials as well as the indemnity agreements for the IESO and OPG. We are also consulting further with OPG and IESO on providing input on the risks to them if the indemnities are not provided so there may be further changes to these materials based on comments from OPG/IESO. These materials are drafts for TBS legal/policy review and input before we finalize. Once we've addressed TBS' comments we will submit the finalized documents for formal s.28 approval.

As mentioned, we require the section 28 approval by June 1, 2017, so if there is anything we can do to assist with speeding things up, please let us know as we recognize these are tight timelines.

Also, I understand that this is to go to TBS for approval (this goes back to our conversation earlier, whether Finance or TBS needs to approve). Please let us know if you hear otherwise.

If you require anything else from us please let us know. I've copied our program area clients on this email as well.

Many thanks,

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability due to or as a result of the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, taxes, fines, penalties, statutory payments, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to Losses of a Protected Person:

    (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy for those Losses; or

    (b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

    (c) if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity; for greater certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d), the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder; or

    (d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any Losses, the Protected Person shall:

    (a) as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of any Claim;

    (b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claims that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to same);

DRAFT

(c) take all reasonable steps, at the expense of the Province, necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity unless and only to the extent that such failure to provide such prompt notice has actually prejudiced the Province.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be fully indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has fully indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

5. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within thirty (30) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested. The Protected Person shall repay forthwith any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

6. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

7. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with any and all of its activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation):

    (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

    (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement and the performance of its obligations hereunder, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement and perform its obligations hereunder;

    (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws now or hereinafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally, to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, to section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and to section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

8. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Parties that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Parties.

9. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

DRAFT

10. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")~~,~~

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation ~~is~~and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to ~~the implementation of~~(i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act ~~(the "Act~~, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability ~~which extends beyond the typical operations risk of the Corporation and which may arise solely due to the Corporation's role in the implementation~~due to or as a result of the ~~Act.~~Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. ~~to~~To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries and each of ~~its~~their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, ~~claims,~~ demands ~~and~~, liabilities, taxes, fines, penalties, statutory payments, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by ~~the Protected Persons arising specifically~~any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected ~~Persons' direct role in carrying out~~Person's activities ~~related to~~, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the ~~Act (collectively, "Claims" and individually, a "Claim"),~~ Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to ~~Claims~~Losses of a Protected Person:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy ~~or claims fund~~but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually ~~so indemnified or covered~~paid under such insurance policy ~~or fund~~for those Losses; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by a Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or~~if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity; for greater certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d), the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder; or

(d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

3. In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any ~~notice of a Claim that the Protected Person receives~~Losses, the Protected Person ~~must~~shall:

   (a) ~~immediately and without delay~~as soon as practicable, deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of ~~the~~any Claim~~(s)~~;

   (b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claims~~(s)~~ that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to same);

   (c) take all reasonable steps, at the expense of the Province, necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim~~(s)~~; and

   (d) promptly take all ~~necessary~~reasonable steps to obtain indemnification ~~or coverage~~ to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies ~~or claims funds~~, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

   A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity~~,~~ unless and only to the extent that~~, as a result of~~ such failure~~, the party which was entitled to receive~~ to provide such prompt notice ~~was~~has actually prejudiced the Province.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that all Losses in respect of a Claim will be fully indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim~~(s)~~ and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim~~(s)~~ without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim~~(s)~~, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and ~~the~~each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing ~~the~~a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be ~~costs~~Losses to which this indemnity extends. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has fully indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

5. ~~For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.~~ The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within thirty (30) days of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested. The Protected Person shall repay forthwith any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

6. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

7. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with any and all of its activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation):

   (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

   (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement and the performance of its obligations hereunder, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) (including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement and perform its obligations hereunder;

(c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws now or hereinafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally, to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, to section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) and to section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

8. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Parties that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected Parties.

9. ~~6.~~ This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

10. ~~7.~~ The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On May 11, 2017 t~~T~~he Government introduced Bill 132, which, if passed would ~~is proposing to enact introduce~~ legislation to enable the implementation of the ONFHP (the "Proposed Legislation"). If the Proposed Legislation is passed, the implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of IESO), directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP if the Proposed Legislation is passed.

Commented [PMK1]: This seems out of date now.

Commented [HM2]: I've updated

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 1, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Proposed Legislation, if passed.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO on the condition that such Indemnities shall only come into effect at the date upon which the proposed legislation is passed.

3. BACKGROUND

~~OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP~~

OPG – Role in Implementation of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (ONFHP)

OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance. Risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. Examples of these risks include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

~~The OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP.~~

~~As part of ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that OPG is expected to fund from a special purpose entity that OPG creates (i.e. a financing entity). It is likely that risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.~~

Draft

~~Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.~~

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the US market.~~.~~ IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

Commented [HM3]: OPG/IESO input required on this regarding the specific risks they are concerned about.

~~The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG and their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". This is further described in section (ii) below). If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP. Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP.~~

~~Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.~~

~~To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG or IESO to their directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.~~

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and each of their respective directors, officers and employees, as well as IESO's agents is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate which existing indemnities would address. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". In addition the statutory protections do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. This is further described in section (ii) below). Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Formatted: List Paragraph,Bullet List 1,Heading 4 test,Unordered List Level 1,Indented Paragraph, Bulleted + Level: 1 + Aligned at: 0.25" + Indent at: 0.5"

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include without limitation,

- liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and the IESO's willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be covered under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG and IESO to any of its subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of the IESO), directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

Formatted: Normal, None

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Proposed Legislation prohibits/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, or each of its subsidiaries, their directors, officers, or employees so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals in the even the Proposed Legislation is passed.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against ~~OPG or IESO's directors, officers, and employees~~the protected persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided or that will be provided if the Proposed Legislation is passed), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

to IESO and OPG's respective role in implementing the ONFHP in the event that the Proposed Legislation is passed.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to claims for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, for which indemnity is already provided and paid to the OPG or IESO or its respective directors, officers or employees, or is brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the ~~director~~protected persons.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C"

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their direct roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to ~~c~~lossesl~~aim~~s:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy ~~or claims fund~~ to the extent that the protected person is actually s~~o indemnified or covered~~paid under such policy ~~or fund~~for those losses; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to the protected person but only to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those losses by such indemnities;

(c) ~~brought about or contributed to by~~is the result of the~~a~~ Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only such ~~if a judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person establishes that there was~~ dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part ~~which was material to the cause of action as adjudicated~~has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person;~~;~~ or

(d) to the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

Commented [PMK4]: Why is the carve out limited to 'gross' negligence vs just negligence?

Commented [HM5]: Gross negligence is used to be consistent with the OBCA requirement.

Commented [PMK6]: Small point, but I think this should say 'protected person' since people other than directors would be covered.

Commented [HM7]: I've changed the reference accordingly.

Draft

OPG's indemnity, with respect to clause (c) above, further provides that the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct a reasonable investigation with respect to advising the OPG about misrepresentations in any prospectus, registration statement or other securities/offering document, shall constitute "gross negligence" or "wilful misconduct" for this purposes of clause (c) above and does not disentitle the protected person from the Indemnity. This language has been included at the request of OPG in order to provide additional clarity to limit the OPG's liability with respect to carrying out any investigation of securities/offering documents.

The Indemnities would not apply with respect to ~~claims~~ losses for which coverage is provided and paid under insurance, or which are covered by another indemnity~~-~~under which the protected person is already so indemnified~~already provided~~;~~,~~ for claims brought about by the dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct of the persons protected under the Indemnities;~~,~~ or for claims arising from circumstances where the ~~corporation, director, officer or employee~~protected persons did not have grounds for believing that their conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan in the event the Proposed Legislation is passed. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would give OPG and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

INDEMNITY

THIS INDEMNITY effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: The Independent Electricity System Operator
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province"),

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation is required to carry out certain activities with respect to the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act (the "Act").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, and its directors, officers and employees, may, as a result of the Corporation's role in the implementation of the Act, face ~~risk~~risks of liability which ~~extends~~extend beyond the typical operations risk of the Corporation ~~and which may arise solely due to the Corporation's role in the implementation of the Act~~.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. to indemnify and save harmless the Corporation and each of its directors, officers, ~~and employees~~employees or agents of the Corporation or a member of a committee or panel established by the directors of the Corporation (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, charges, expenses, claims, demands and liabilities directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by ~~the~~a Protected ~~Persons~~Person arising ~~specifically~~ as a result of, or in connection with, the ~~Protected Persons' direct~~IESO's role in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the Act (collectively, "Claims" and individually, a "Claim"), [IESO note: we request that the indemnity not be limited to actions arising specifically as a result of a Persons' "direct" role. (d) To the extent arising from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

Commented [A1]: I've re-inserted this provision. This provision is part of the standard Indemnity Template that we typically use. We would like to include in order to ensure consistency with the OPG indemnity.

3. Each Protected Person shall:

~~(a)~~ upon becoming aware of a Claim for which ~~was material to the cause of action as adjudicated; or~~

~~4. In order to be entitled to~~ such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder~~ in respect of any notice of a Claim that the Protected Person receives, the Protected Person must:~~

Commented [A2]: Change made to be consistent with OPG edits to its indemnity.

~~(g)~~(b) upon written request of the Province, acting reasonably, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information that relates to the Claims~~(s)~~ that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person;

~~(h)~~(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim; and

~~(i)~~(d) promptly take all ~~necessary~~ reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies or claims funds, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure ~~to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations~~on the part of a Protected Person to take any ~~party to this indemnity, and only~~of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, ~~the party which was entitled to receive such notice~~~~Ontario~~ the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s) and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim(s) without the prior written consent of the Province. If the Province elects to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s), ~~the~~each Protected Person shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and ~~the~~each Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing ~~the~~such Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing the Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be costs to which this indemnity extends.

5. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation~~, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.~~.

6. This indemnity shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

7. The provisions of this agreement and the benefit of all covenants herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

Commented [A3]: Again – this is standard language we include in our indemnities. Please advise what the risk to IESO is with including this provision.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

Subject: OPG/IESO Indemnities - Section 28 Approvals

Hi Ron,

Energy is preparing a s28 FAA approval request related to OPG and IESO requests for indemnities related to their roles in implementing Ontario Fair Hydro Plan.

I've attached a draft note that is based on the draft materials provided in the second email. The third email indicates a further request to broaden coverage of indemnities that Energy is working on.

Since this is related to global adjustment refinancing, including market offerings, the OFA should be providing advice, but not sure exactly who would be providing that advice regarding a s28 request.

I'm also recommending that should there be a decision to provide the indemnities, it be done under Section 22 of the FAA.

James

Indemnities to OPG/IESO – Implementing Proposed Ontario Fair Hydro Act (if passed)

ISSUE

OPG and IESO are specifically asking for indemnities to the IESO, OPG (the entities) and their respective directors, officers and employees in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan (OFHP), primarily Global Adjustment refinancing.

The Ministry indicates both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (pre-existing statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts").

Pending – May 18 update from TBS Legal – Energy decision pending on revised ask from OPG/IESO - a significant increase to the scope of the proposed indemnity agreement, so that it would (a) cover OPG's subsidiaries as well and (b) activities that are more generally related to the implementation of the global adjustment (not just activity that is directly related to the implementation of the legislation).

MOF RECOMMENDATION

Based on materials provided by ENERGY, TBS staff are recommending that the Ministry pursue providing the requested indemnities under Section 22(1) of the FAA – that the Lieutenant Governor in Council may by order authorize the Minister of Finance, on behalf of Ontario, to agree to guarantee or indemnify the debts, obligations, securities or undertakings of any person.

Should there be in the future a payment of an indemnity, it could be made under Section 12 of the FAA – Any amount required to be paid by or on behalf of the Crown by the terms of a guarantee or indemnity given pursuant to this or any other Act may be paid by the Minister of Finance from the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

BACKGROUND

On March 2, 2017, the government announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (OFHP), which will lower bills by 25% for a typical residential consumer, starting in the summer of 2017. About half a million small businesses and farms are also expected to benefit. Major components include:

- Refinancing the Global Adjustment (GA)
- Electricity Social Programs moving to being funded from voted appropriations

- Extending the Industrial Conservation Initiative
- Improving Sector Efficiency
- Modernizing Ontario's Electricity Market

It was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system).

Refinancing a portion of GA provides significant and immediate rate relief, about 17% in 2017-18, by spreading the cost of electricity investments over the expected lifecycle of the infrastructure that has been built.

Implementation of OFHP is on-going. On May 9 and 10, 2017, the Ministry brought proposed legislation forward to TB/MBC and LRC, with the bill being introduced in the Legislature on May 11, 2017. In June 2017, the Ministry is bringing forward regulations to further facilitate implementation.

Both IESO and OPG have specifically asked for indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP.

Regarding roles, the Ministry indicates for:

- OPG – GA refinancing would result in a deferred GA amount that OPG is expected to fund from a special purpose entity that OPG creates (i.e. a financing entity) and that associated risks are beyond OPG's usual business/operations. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.

- IESO – proposed legislation would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the OFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the OFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

The Ministry's submission indicates there is a risk that these corporations and key persons may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the OFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The Ministry indicates the risk to the Province of giving the indemnities is undeterminable at this time (cannot be quantified), but that the exposure will be linked to the OPG special purpose entity's debt offerings" of accumulated deferred Global Adjustment costs.

From the latest TB/MBC submission, in 2017-18 deferred global adjustment is forecasted to be about $2.5B, of which 51% is to be financed directly in capital markets, and $49%, about $1.1B, in an equity injection to OPG from the Province, with additional OPG shares being given to the province as OPG's sole shareholder.

With the planned approach capping electricity rate increases at 2% till 2020, total accumulated debt to be refinanced reaches a peak of $24.2B by 2027, financed by on-going Provincial equity injections and debt offerings into the market with subsequent collection of deferred amounts from ratepayers out to 2047 (See Appendix A). The Ministry indicates tentative timing for debt offerings to commence is Fall 2017.

Liabilities due to roles with the OFHP

In addition to the IESO and OPG roles outlined under Background, the nature of the indemnities, providing protection due to risk of increased liability specifically due to their roles with the OFHP, suggests that it could possible that if OPG and IESO suffered a loss because of, for example, higher borrowing costs elsewhere that could be shown to be attributable to the OFHP activities, those costs could be within the scope of the proposed indemnities.

Voted Appropriations

Although the Ministry indicates the risk associated with providing the indemnities are undeterminable, the amount of accumulated debt is quite significant. This raises a question about whether the Ministry has sufficient, if any, appropriations in place for 2017-18 to enter into the agreement to provide the indemnities.

- Sections 11.3(1) of the FAA indicates no agreement or undertaking shall be entered into in a fiscal year that would result in a charge to an appropriation for that fiscal year in excess of the amount available under that appropriation.

- Section 11.2(1) indicates no appropriation shall be charged with an amount that is for a purpose other than that for which the appropriation was provided.

Currently there are no explicit appropriations for GA refinancing other than the $1.1B investment asset for the projected OPG equity injection requirements in 2017-18. There is about $500M in Transfer Payments related for the Electricity Social Programs, that are to be funded from voted appropriations starting in 2017-18 should enabling legislation pass.

Appropriations – Alternate Approach

An alternate approach may be to have, under Section 22.1 of the FAA, the LGIC authorize the Minister of Finance to agree to guarantee or indemnify the debts, obligations, securities or undertakings of any person. Should claim be made, a payment of any amount could be made under Section 12 of the FAA, paid by the Minister of Finance from the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

- Section 22. (1) indicates the Lieutenant Governor in Council may by order authorize the Minister of Finance, on behalf of Ontario, to agree to guarantee or indemnify the debts, obligations, securities or undertakings of any person.

- Section 12 indicates any amount required to be paid by or on behalf of the Crown by the terms of a guarantee or indemnity given pursuant to this or any other Act may be paid by the Minister of Finance from the Consolidated Revenue Fund. .

BUSINESS CASE

Why is the section 28 approval needed?

The Province is being asked to agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their direct roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

How has potential Crown liability been limited by the proposed indemnity?

The indemnities would not apply with respect to claims:

- Where coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent a protected person is covered by a policy or fund.
- Where other indemnities already exist for protected persons.
- Brought about or contributed to by a protected person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct
- Arising from circumstances where the corporation, director, officer or employee did not have grounds for believing that their conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty

Measures to mitigate risk with securities:

- The Ministry has been worked closely with the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) and TD Securities (TD), as the Province's external financial advisor, on the financing structure (i.e., legislation, provincial guarantees, OPG's equity injections and IESO's enhanced credit facilities).

- The proposed legislation enables a structure that OFA and TD believe will enable financing at a reasonable cost. Key elements that support this financing structure include:
    - OPG issuances of subordinated debt to the SPV/Trust representing up to 49% of total borrowing; and
    - Conditional (springing) guarantees by the Province to provide a backstop in the event of specific and limited events (e.g., changes to legislation that harm investor interests).
- The Ministry indicates OPG has a great deal of experience managing the risks associated with borrowing through its experience developing capital-intensive generation projects as well as their management of Nuclear Funds.
    - Equity injections are necessary to support OPG as the owner and manager of GA refinancing. The equity injections allow OPG to strengthen the capital structure of the Trust in order to secure financing at a reasonable cost.
    - OPG will seek to achieve the highest possible credit rating (i.e., AAA is possible) in order to reduce borrowing costs and attract a wide investor base.
- The proposed legislation provides for provincial assurances, guarantees and a statutory cause of action.
    - Provincial assurance provision focuses on limiting possible actions by the executive branch of government that might undermine the value of the proposed securities (including regulation-making).
    - Guarantee provisions are intended to backstop the provincial assurance provision and provide that:
        - The Minister of Energy and Minister of Finance may, with LGIC approval, enter into agreements regarding the performance of IESO or electricity vendors; and
        - The Minister of Energy and Minister of Finance may, pursuant to LGIC order, agree to guarantee and indemnify any debt, obligation, security or undertaking associated with an investment interest.
    - Statutory cause of action – pending, check with legal?

What are the possible consequences if section 28 approval is not given?

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and IESO directors' willingness to undertake activities that would fall outside of the scope of typical business activities and mandate, due to the risk of liability, and consequently jeopardizing the successful implementation of the planned approach to GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. This could result in the planned approach to GA refinancing having to be funded from voted appropriations.

Notes: Assumes 30 year financing period and a nominal interest rate of 5% (compounded monthly). Ratepayer GA payments increase annually beyond 2020 such that the average monthly residential electricity bill increases by 6.3% per year to a maximum of $2.2 billion above the true cost of GA in any given year to cap repayment charges at around 10% of total bill. IESO forecast is based on IESO's revised OPO forecast as of February 2017. Includes the cancellation of LRP II and EFW, expansion of ICI. Does not include smoothed OPG rates. Above residential bill is based on a 750 kWh per month Toronto Hydro customer. Data shown above is by RPP period. Assumes RPP prices are adjusted in July 2021 instead of May 2021 to coincide with the end of the inflation cap. Fair allocation amounts subject to third party review.

Appendix B – Commentary from the Ministry's May 9, 2017 TB/MBC Submission

OPG Financing / OPG Equity Financing

The ability to engage in the fair distribution of clean energy costs requires financing during periods where the collection of the clean energy costs is deferred to later years. The proposed legislation outlines mechanisms that are required to enable the financing and meet requirements for rating agencies and investors.

IESO will have a funding gap resulting from the reduction in amounts collected over four years. The legislation enables IESO to record the under-collection of GA in a variance account, and deems this under-collected amount to be a "Regulatory Asset".

- OEB would determine rates to allow IESO to recover under-collection recorded in its variance account.
- IESO is authorized to sell all or a portion to the OPG Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV)/Trust under the Financing Plan.

As part of supporting the financing and administration of the GA refinancing mechanism, it is expected that OPG would purchase the right to future cash flows from IESO on an ongoing basis.

The sale of the regulatory asset from IESO to the OPG Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV)/Trust creates an "Investment Asset".

- The Investment Asset allows for the recovery of the under-collected GA as the Investment Asset may in turn be sold to other investors or group of investors.

The Ministry has worked closely with third-party financial advisors in advance of and throughout the drafting process to help to ensure that the proposed legislation enables refinancing of the GA.

These purchases would be financed in part by capital infusions from the Province to OPG for the purposes of stabilizing OPG's capital structure:

- OPG would require monthly "equity injections" from the Province which would be fiscally neutral as OPG would issue new shares to the Province in exchange;
- Funds from the Province would flow from the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA); and
- The Ministry, OFA and OPG are working through the specific mechanisms, timelines and share features.
- It is anticipated that the initial equity injection would take place as early as June 2017.

Through PRRT, the Ministry of Energy received approval for the creation of an operating asset "OPG Share Purchase" and expenditure increase of $1.1billion in 2017-18 within Vote 2905-5, which is based on the latest estimates by IESO, and provides flexibility to account for forecasting uncertainty. This approval is pending passage of the proposed legislation.

OPG will provide a two year forecast of its equity requirements to the Ministry on annual basis, as part of OPG's business plan process. Note: While included in the business plan, equity requirements will not form part of the Ministry of Energy's concurrence process.

For future funding requirements, the Ministry will seek appropriation through the PRRT process.

OPG will seek to achieve the highest possible credit rating (i.e., AAA is possible) in order to reduce borrowing costs and attract a wide investor base. Credit ratings will depend on provisions in legislation, regulation and agreements as well as the capital structure of the SPV / Trust. Despite these factors, rating agencies may see the Province's rating forming a ceiling given the contingent guarantees that the Province will provide (described above).

In addition, given the long term nature of this program (i.e., approximately thirty-years), the calculations related to refinancing of the GA set out in the proposed legislation will be subject to fluctuations in Ontario electricity demand, GA and interest rates in the medium to long-term.

- Should electricity demand be higher than forecast as a result of greater electrification, the cost of paying off the debt will be spread over a greater pool of consumption and decreasing future costs for individual ratepayers. Note: The reverse is also true in regards to decreasing demand.
- Should interest costs increase from the assumed 5%, total borrowing costs would rise. Given that this is a unique offering, managing investor confidence will be key to ensure borrowing costs don't rise. Note: The reverse is also true in regards to interest rates being lower than assumed.

IESO's Credit Facilities

IESO is in discussions with the Ontario Financing Authority (OFA) regarding an increase to its current "line of credit" with the OFA and OEFC (i.e., credit facilities). The increases are in response to IESO role in the delivery of OFHP and to provide a necessary buffer to fund short periods where OPG SPV/Trust does not fund a shortfall.

IESO advises that this is important not only for IESO solvency, but also to maintain its credit rating (i.e., IESO's contracted suppliers' credit arrangements are often based on IESO maintaining a certain rating).

IESO would require financing to compensate generators should it be required to hold any portion of the unpurchased Regulatory Asset beyond each monthly settlement period. OPG Trust is not expected to access public capital markets monthly, nor is it required to purchase the regulatory asset. Therefore, IESO will need a credit facility for interim financing. IESO may also require longer-term financing to maintain the deferral financing plan, should the OPG Trust not be able to access debt markets on a timely basis for purchase of some or all of the regulatory asset.

that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

7. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with a Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ninety (90) days of the Protected Person completing all steps outlined in paragraph 3 of this indemnity agreement. The Protected Person shall promptly repay forthwith to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

8. The Province hereby waives any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to claims of gross negligence, dishonesty, or willful misconduct of that Protected Person who is an individual in the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

9. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

   (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

   (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

   (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction; section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario); and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

DRAFT

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On June 1, 2017, Bill 132, received royal assent, which marked the coming into force of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act). The Act enables the implementation of the ONFHP. The implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), and respective directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 13, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO effective as of the date upon which the Act was passed.

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (ONFHP)

OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance. Risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. Examples of these risks include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the US market. IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and each of their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate which existing indemnities would address. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". In addition the statutory protections do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. This is further described in section (ii) below. Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include without limitation,

- liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and the IESO's willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be paid under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG and IESO to any of its subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of the IESO), directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Act provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, or each of its subsidiaries, their directors, officers, or employees so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the protected persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to IESO and OPG's respective roles in relation to implementing the

ONFHP.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided and to the extent already paid under such insurance, or other indemnification is provided, to the extent the individual is so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.

5) The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C".

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

Under the OPG and IESO Indemnities, a Protected Person would not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) that are the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a

Draft

Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing was reckless as to their belief that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Other Substantial Variances from the Province's Indemnity Template

The other substantial variance in the Indemnities includes a waiver provision (section 8 of the Indemnities) whereby the Province waives its right to bring any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual relating in any way to the OPG/IESO's or such Protected Person's activities in the implementation, or otherwise relating to the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting at the request of the corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation). However, this waiver does not apply to gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct claims that may be brought by the province against the applicable Protected Persons. The risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is consistent with the gross negligence carve out provided for in the Indemnity Agreements (section 2(c)) and because the Province is unlikely to bring a claim against a Protected Person for Losses they have agreed to indemnify them for.

OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors and officers do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.

The Indemnities also include a representations and warranties section (section 9), which includes general representations and warranties with respect to the Province's authority to enter into these agreements and confirming that they have obtained the appropriate FAA approvals. We do not believe this variance poses a significant risk to the Province.

(e) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would allow OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

7. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with a Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ninety (90) days of the Protected Person completing all steps outlined in paragraph 3 of this indemnity agreement. The Protected Person shall promptly repay forthwith to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

8. The Province hereby waives any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to claims of gross negligence, dishonesty, or willful misconduct of that Protected Person who is an individual in the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

9. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

   (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

   (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

   (c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction; section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario); and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")

OF THE SECOND PART

DRAFT

WHEREAS the Corporation and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan").

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability due to or as a result of the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, taxes, fines, penalties, statutory payments, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses~~This indemnity does not apply with respect to Losses~~, or a portion thereof ~~of a Protected Person~~:

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure would be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On June 1, 2017, Bill 132, received royal assent, which marked the coming into force of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act). The Act enables the implementation of the ONFHP. The implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), and respective directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 13, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO effective as of the date upon which the Act was passed.

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (ONFHP)

OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance. Risks associated with carrying out this role would fall outside of the scope of OPG's usual business/operations risks and would arise solely due to the OPG's role in implementation of the ONFHP. Examples of these risks include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity to OPG would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP

The Proposed Legislation, if passed would impose certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entity and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the US market. IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

Draft

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities to the IESO, OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and each of their respective directors, officers and employees is required in order to facilitate the carrying out of implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are anticipated to carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate which existing indemnities would address. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability (statutory protections from liability only extend to "good faith acts". In addition the statutory protections do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. This is further described in section (ii) below. Examples of specific risks to OPG include, without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability that the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Examples of specific risks to the IESO include without limitation,

- liability for its role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. It is not clear whether the statutory protections would apply federally or in the U.S. context. If they would not extend to a U.S. claim, for example, it would support the need for a separate indemnity for the IESO.

If the indemnities are not provided, this could impact OPG and the IESO's willingness to undertake such activities jeopardizing the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing OPG and the IESO with the requested Indemnities will provide them with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

To the extent that a claim would be paid under any other indemnity provided to OPG or IESO by the Province, or provided by OPG and IESO to any of its subsidiaries (in the case of OPG), agents (in the case of the IESO), directors, officers and employees, these Indemnities would not apply. Language to address any possible duplication is included in the attached Indemnities.

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(2) of the Proposed Legislation, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under [the Proposed Legislation], the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Act provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit/would prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated protected persons under the respective provisions for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. Nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors or officers, or each of its subsidiaries, their directors, officers, or employees so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the protected persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP (despite the statutory immunities provided), they are protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments.

The risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to IESO and OPG's respective roles in relation to implementing the

ONFHP.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided and to the extent already paid under such insurance, or other indemnification is provided, to the extent the individual is so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.

5) The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C".

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the corporation, him or her (respectively) as a result of their roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

Under the OPG and IESO Indemnities, a Protected Person would not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) that are the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a

Draft

Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing was reckless as to their belief that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Other Substantial Variances from the Province's Indemnity Template

The other substantial variance in the Indemnities includes a waiver provision (section 8 of the Indemnities) whereby the Province waives its right to bring any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual relating in any way to the OPG/IESO's or such Protected Person's activities in the implementation, or otherwise relating to the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting at the request of the corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation). However, this waiver does not apply to gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct claims that may be brought by the province against the applicable Protected Persons. The risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is consistent with the gross negligence carve out provided for in the Indemnity Agreements (section 2(c)) and because the Province is unlikely to bring a claim against a Protected Person for Losses they have agreed to indemnify them for.

OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors and officers do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.

The Indemnities also include a representations and warranties section (section 9), which includes general representations and warranties with respect to the Province's authority to enter into these agreements and confirming that they have obtained the appropriate FAA approvals. We do not believe this variance poses a significant risk to the Province.

(e) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would allow OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

Subject: RE: OPG/IESO indemnity Responses to OFA Questions

Hi Toby,

As discussed – the intention is that the Ministry would provide the IESO/OPG (as corporations) with coverage for any losses the corporation's themselves suffer as a result of Fair Hydro Plan activities the Protected Persons undertake. Thus your interpretation is correct. If a director/officer/employee of OPG or IESO made a claim on the OPG/IESO indemnities, OPG/IESO would potentially be able to make a claim on the Province's indemnity for this out-of-pocket expense (if not covered by an insurance policy).

For greater clarity, the Indemnity Agreement would still prevent a director, officer, or employee from double-dipping (i.e. getting indemnified from the Province and OPG/IESO for the same losses).

I hope this clarifies matters. I understand that OFA will update their materials to provide this further clarity, but if you require anything else or have further questions please me know.

Many thanks,

Harkamal,

It has occurred to me that even though we require the use of existing indemnities before calling on the Provincial indemnity, if a director/officer/employee of OPG or IESO made a claim on the OPG/IESO indemnities, that would allow the OPG/IESO to make a claim on the Province's indemnity (if not covered by an insurance policy).

Is this a correct interpretation and has this possibility been discussed?

Hi Toby – as discussed – OPG revised section 2 (see highlighted language) so that any directors, officers, employees of a financing entity are still included in the definition of "Protected Person" where he/she is a director, officer, employee of OPG or OPG's Subs.

Other than this, their changes for the most part were more word smithing. I've highlighted in yellow the changes OPG agreed to stand down on.

Thanks very much again,

Hi Bruno,

As discussed Friday, here is the cover memo. Could you please review and let me know if you have any comments on this by this afternoon? I've tried to address all of the items OFA had requested be addressed in this.

I am hoping to send you an updated draft of the entire s.28 package later this afternoon.

Hi Bruno,

Attached is the updated business case and Contingent Liabilities Table. The Cover memo will follow shortly. I have tried to address all of the comments you had previously sent as well as incorporate the information from OPG and IESO's responses to your questions.

If you could please review and let me know if you have any further comments by end of day today it would much appreciated so that I can make any further edits necessary and get you a revised copy on Monday.

I know people have been encountering issues with their emails, so if you cannot access these documents, please let me know and I will try to resend.

As requested, I am also re-sending you the draft Indemnity agreements.

Hi John,

Apologies - for some reason, your email only popped up in my email inbox at 5:01pm (I note the time stamp below states 11:50am).

I did speak to Toby earlier and flagged that I will be sending updated drafts (pending further changes based on any comments you may have on the actual indemnity agreements) of the business case, exhibit A and memo tomorrow morning based on the information from OPG and IESO.

On our end I will need to get the indemnity agreements back to OPG/IESO early tomorrow to give them time to consider the further changes. Once the agreements have been finalized, we can further update the draft s.28 materials as needed on Monday/Tuesday next week and have our Minister send over the finalized package.

Please let me know if these next steps work for you.

Hi Harkamal,

Further to this, could you give us a sense of when the updated draft package could be sent to us for review? Correct me if I am not mapping the next steps, etc. right but based on the information provided by OPG, Energy would be pulling together the updated business case, the contingent liability table and draft submission memo. We are still reviewing the answers included in the attached file but wanted to get a sense of the path forward and the timeline.

Bruno,

Please find attached a markup of the note. I have made some changes to the organization and tried to streamline the note. We think there should also be a section on mitigation measures, and perhaps that can incorporate some of the existing note, plus anything that can be added from Energy's materials. There is still some work to do on the analysis part, but I wanted to make sure you had a head start on what I have done so far.

I have also reviewed the note and have some suggestions to assist with make it shorter and more concise.

I don't think that we need to mention s. 5 because it doesn't apply to this indemnity. S. 5 requires a joint agreement by the 2 Ministers which is not the case here so I suggest we delete the references to this.

Can we remove the watermark as it makes it hard to read. It's still marked as a draft.

Maybe it would be helpful to accept all the font changes and remove the comments that are no longer required and then we can work from that version.

Thanks.

Thanks for comments and edits.

I'm wondering about language that I had added in the "Previous Direction on Indemnity for IESO and OPG" section. In that part, I note that language in s.5 (2) of the Act around Protection and Assurances might be general direction covering these indemnities. On re-reading I'm wondering if any of the language in s.5 can be seen as providing general direction/coverage for the current indemnity agreement.

The "including" statement in s.5(2) is clearly about the IESO and vendor performance, but 5(2) is not limited to that. However, s.5(2) language says ["Minister and Minister of Finance may together enter into Agreements....with]" . The Agreement in question is just Minister of Energy and the parties. I'm not sure that s.28 approval satisfies the "together" part.

Also S.5(3) is about indemnifications, but my read was this was indemnifying debt rather than persons.

Thanks
Bruno

Please see attached my comments up to this point on the indemnity note. I have started to work on the analysis part of the note, as I think with the many changes in the note we have some duplication and could tighten that part up, so note that this markup does not reflect any changes to that part.

Our comment is mainly to respond to their question back to us about inconsistencies between the contingent liability table and the approval request note. In particular, the Liability table stated the probability of liability as low while the business case noted risk indeterminable (albeit with some mitigating factors). As well the table noted maximum financial exposure will be linked to the OPG financing entity's debt offerings. It isn't clear from the note that potential claims are limited to debt offerings or indeed if the claims would necessarily directly related to debt offerings.

DRAFT: Confidential and Commercially Sensitive Advice to the Minister

MINISTER OF ENERGY REQUEST FOR SECTION 28 APPROVAL FOR INDEMNITY AGREEMENTS IN FAVOUR OF OPG AND IESO FOR THEIR PARTICIPATION UNDER THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN ACT

ISSUE

The Minister of Energy is requesting approval from the Minister of Finance, pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") to enter into Indemnity Agreements ("Agreements"), on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG"),and its subsidiaries (excluding a subsidiary that is a financing entity) and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") with respect to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan ("OFHP") under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act"). The indemnities would extend to the directors, officers and employees of these entities, and agents of the IESO and, directors, officers, trustees and/or employees of a financing entity, if he or she is also a director, officer or employee of the corporation or one of its subsidiaries.

Section 28 of the FAA requires that all ministries and public entities request the prior written approval of the Minister of Finance or the President of the Treasury Board for any transaction or commitment that would directly or indirectly increase the indebtedness or contingent liabilities of Ontario.

~~The Minister of Energy is expecting to sign an Indemnity Agreement in favour of OPG and in favour of IESO.~~

~~The Ministry of Energy notes in its Request for Approval that under the OFHP both OPG and the IESO would carry out activities that fall outside the scope of their existing business activities and corporate mandate. This creates the risk that such activities could be perceived as not being carried out in the best interest of the corporation or in "good faith" with respect to their corporate obligations thereby exposing OPG and/or the IESO to increased liability.~~

~~OPG and IESO state that existing statutory protections do not preclude a party from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against the corporations, or its directors, officers or employees, which may cause additional risk and expenses to defend such claims.~~

~~TIMING~~

~~Approval is sought by June 30, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act (came into force on June 1, 2017).~~

RECOMMENDATION

- It is recommended that the Minister of Finance approve, pursuant to Section 28 of the FAA, the Ministry of Energy's request to provide indemnities and waivers, on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation (OPG) and the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) in the forms requested (the "Indemnity Agreements" and individually an "Indemnity Agreement".
- IESO and OPG have stated that without these indemnities and waivers they will not be able to participate in the implementation of the OFHP Act.
- In order for the OFHP Act to be successful, it is recommended by the Minister of Energy that the Minister of Finance approve this request.
- ~~It is recommended that the Minister of Finance approve, pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (FAA), the Ministry of Energy's request to provide indemnities and waivers, on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation (OPG) and the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) per the forms attached as Appendix "C" and Appendix "D" (the "Indemnity Agreements" and individually an "Indemnity Agreement".~~

- ~~IESO and OPG have stated that If the requested Indemnities and waivers are not provided, this could impact their willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP. This may potentially jeopardize the successful implementation of this plan~~

- ~~In order for the OFHP Act to be successful, it is recommended by the Minister of Energy that the Minister of Finance approve this request.~~

WHAT IS THE MINISTER BEING ASKED TO SIGN?

The Minister is being asked to sign the section 28 approval forms and the transmittal letter to Glenn Thibeault, Minister of Energy.

~~KEY CONSIDERATIONS AND RISKS~~

~~The Indemnity Agreements give an indemnity for a broader range of actions than those that are usually given to indemnitees of the Province, specifically by giving an indemnity for actions that are not in the best interest of the corporation and may not be in good faith;~~

~~The Indemnity Agreements extend to the OPG and the IESO as corporations, beyond the more normal practice of indemnifying directors, officers and employees; and also extends to subsidiaries of the OPG, excluding financing entities under the OFHP Act.~~

~~The Indemnity Agreements include a waiver of claims with respect to indemnitees who are individuals by the Province as shareholder, meaning that except for gross negligence, dishonesty and wilful misconduct, the Province cannot bring an action against an indemnified individual.~~

~~Potential Fiscal Impact~~

The Ministry of Energy states that the risk of the Province providing the Indemnity Agreements is undeterminable and unquantifiable at this time, due to uncertainty around possible claims under the Indemnities. The Ministry of Energy notes, however, the risk is mitigated by the existence of statutory immunities under the Electricity Act, 1998, for IESO, and under the OFHP Act, for OPG, (see further discussion below), pre-existing protection for director and officers' under insurance and the limitation of indemnity to claims arising from IESO's and OPG's respective roles in implementing the OFHP.

Because the Indemnity Agreements are not capped the Provincial exposure is not limited and will extend to the extent of any claim that is covered by the Indemnity Agreements.

The Ministry of Energy notes that in the event that an indemnity claim does arise and a payment is required, the Ministry would be unlikely to be able to support these payments and would need to return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation.

Accounting Treatment

There is a risk associated with the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA Financing portion of the OFHP. With the Province providing guarantee agreements, financial support through credit facilities and the proposed agreements to indemnify the IESO and OPG, the case for the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA structure could be weakened.

OPCD has confirmed that OPG has received advice that the accounting treatment will be consistent with the GA Financing Structure. IESO is expected to also confirm the same.

Commented [A1]: Need to get an update from OPCD on whether the proposed indemnities would have a significant impact on this analysis.

MENE had initially considered limiting the indemnities to directors and officers. However, IESO and OPG both have indicated that they require their respective indemnity cover their corporations as well (and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries) given the nature of the risks they face.

Previous Direction on Indemnity for IESO and OPG

There is no existing Cabinet direction for the Ministry of Energy to provide the requested Indemnities to IESO and OPG.

Insofar as the IESO and OPG state that without these indemnities and waivers they will not be able to participate in the implementation of the Ontario fair Hydro Act, 2017, providing the requested indemnities will support implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Treasury Board Assessment Note of June 13, 2017, included reference to the indemnities required by OPG and IESO.

Other protections and assurances are current being discussed under a Provincial Support Agreement that would include indemnities for the Financing Entity against claims from creditors as a result of government amending or repealing the Act or court rulings adversely affecting the ~~rights and interest of the Financing Entity and performance assurances from the Province for the IESO and electricity vendors.~~

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED INDEMNITIES

This summary of the OPG/IESO Indemnity Agreement sets out why indemnities are being sought, who is being indemnified, for what, and also addresses the proposed waiver of claims, whereby the Province agrees not to bring certain claims against the indemnified parties.

Why are indemnities being sought?

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the OFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the OFHP.

Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith" (see Appendix A for details on potential risks and Appendix B for details on limitations to existing protections to IESO, OPG and directors, officers and employees).

Who the Indemnity Applies to

The indemnity is being given in favour of "Protected Persons" which comprises IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries (excluding the financing entity) as well as their respective directors, officers and employees, and agents of the IESO and directors, officers, trustees and/or employees of a financing entity if he or she is also a director, officers or employee of the corporation or one of its subsidiaries.

What Indemnities are being provided?

Protected Persons are being indemnified against all losses, costs, damages and other expenses for any amount for which they incur damages in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim that relates to any act or omission that the Protected Person undertakes in relationship to the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Protected Persons are indemnified for regular and punitive as well as a broad range of other types of damages that are not always included in an indemnity, such as consequential damages and economic losses. The indemnity also covers costs and expenses for the Protected

Persons in defending themselves against a claim. These indemnities are for any act or omission and activity that relates to the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Indemnity Agreements provide that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnities contained therein to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity. The indemnities provided in the Indemnity Agreements also apply where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.

The indemnities do not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person. It is also explicitly carved out of this exception that a failure to conduct reasonable due diligence investigation will not in itself constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct, which narrows the exception in the context of disclosure and activities relating to issuing securities in public markets such that failing to conduct due diligence will not necessarily invalidate the Indemnity.

Commented [TPW2]: This might mean that if there is a claim against a director, officer or employee that is covered by a corporate indemnity, the Province will be subject to an indemnity claim by the corporation.

The waiver of claims provision provides that the Province will not make a claim against a Protected Person who is an individual (i.e., does not apply to OPG/IESO or subsidiaries) relating to any activities associated with the Fair Hydro Plan.

The waiver of claims provision does not apply to claims for willful misconduct, dishonesty or gross negligence.

~~The Indemnity Agreement includes a waiver of claim provision, which is not a normal provision for an indemnity agreement.~~

~~This additionally provides that the Province will not make a claim against a Protected Person who is an individual (i.e., does not apply to OPG/IESO or subsidiaries) relating to any activities associated with the Fair Hydro Plan. OPG has specifically requested the waiver as they are carrying out the Fair Hydro Plan activities at the request of the Province, so they should be given this waiver in the indemnity. This does not apply to claims for willful misconduct, dishonesty or gross negligence.~~

~~OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors, officers, employees do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.~~

~~MENE believes the risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is unlikely that the Province would bring a claim against a Protected Person for acts they would be providing an indemnity to the Protected Person for.~~

Notification of Claims

The Indemnity Agreement sets out how the Protected Person should notify the Province of any claims, and how any proceedings should be dealt with amongst the parties, as well as how any expenses and amounts should be paid during the determination of the claim.

Provincial Warranty

The Indemnity Agreement includes a warranty section given by the Province. In this section the Province Warrants that it has the authority and capacity, and has taken all necessary steps to enter into the Indemnity Agreement.

- This is an unusual provision, but likely relates to the fact that the Province is not the employer of the indemnified party, or the officers and directors are not the officers and directors of the Province.

DESCRIPTION OF RISK AND ANY RISK MITIGANTS

Formatted: Font: Bold

~~Description of Risk and any Risk Mitigants~~

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG (and OPG's subsidiaries where applicable) and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporations face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments (see further details on risks in Appendix A).

The exact nature and scope of the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but the risk of liability for the Province arising may be low, with respect to directors, officers and employees, as any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

- In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but does not eliminate such risk.
- In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Act may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but does not eliminate such risk.
- The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in relation to implementing the ONFHP.

- The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided under insurance or another indemnity, to the extent already paid under such insurance, or so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.
- The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

With respect to the corporations themselves (and in the case of OPG, its Subsidiaries as well) the risk may be higher, but is undeterminable at this time. The likelihood of risk to the Province is characterized as medium, given that OPG and IESO have not identified any insurance or indemnities that would cover the corporations themselves (or in the case of OPG, the Subsidiaries themselves) in the event that such liability arises, nor is statutory protection provided for the corporations themselves.

BACKGROUND

On March 2, 2017, the government announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "OFHP"), under which the government will take steps to lower electricity bills [on an after-tax basis] by 25 per cent on average for a typical residential customer, starting July 1, 2017, relative to what the bills would otherwise have been without the OFHP.

Changes to refinance a portion of the Global Adjustment ("GA") are a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the OFHP. This includes roles for both IESO and OPG:

IESO – legislation imposes certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities to implement the OFHP such as the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to deferred costs and the GA financing component of the OFHP, the conveyance of that asset to a financing entity (expected to be established by OPG) and providing a servicing role in recovering the financing entity's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO.

OPG – OPG is expected to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset, related to deferred costs, through a financing entity that OPG creates. OPG considers risks associated with these OFHP-related activities to be beyond OPG's usual business/operations. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.

The 25 per cent rate relief also includes the rebate amount equivalent to the 8 per cent Provincial portion of the HST that has been in effect since January 1, 2017 under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016, and the expected savings from the shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to being funded by the Province.

APPENDIX A

Potential Risks Related to OPG/IESO Roles in Implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Electricity Act, 1998 ("EA") has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the ONFHP. This amendment was designed to ensure that OPG could participate in the ONFHP. OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA will be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity as defined in the Act) is expected to finance.

In carrying out this role, OPG will be carrying out activities that fall outside of its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation. As a result, OPG, its directors, officers, and employees may be faced with increased risk of liability. Examples of such risks related to financing, include without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

OPG and its Subsidiaries, and their respective directors, officers, employees may also be faced with risk of liability to:

- underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities
- the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets)
- counterparties to agreements (e.g. the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust or IESO)
- other stakeholders (the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees) of OPG if OPG (or any Subsidiary of it) is liable for any claim or obligation and cannot meet its obligations to these stakeholders as a result of such claims.
- Regulators (e.g. the Ontario Securities Commission)

- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its Subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate OPG and OPG's Subsidiaries in undertaking their role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Act also imposes certain obligations and requirements on the IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entities and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. The IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entities. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. The IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Other examples of sources/activities giving rise to increased risk of liability for the IESO, its directors, officers and employees include the following:

- Investors in any ONFHP investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors, as well as any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and/or IESO being involved;
- OPG (or the financing entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of the regulatory asset and servicing of the investment asset, and related activities;
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity (e.g. short pay);
- Taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities;
- Securities commissions regulators (U.S./Canada); and
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Province in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

APPENDIX B

Why Indemnities are being sought and limitations to protection under statutory protections and/or Insurance

Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities is required in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

Even if the corporate mandates of OPG and the IESO were updated to include their role in implementing the ONFHP, this may not eliminate the risk of the types of liabilities outlined above completely, particularly due to the novelty of the ONFHP and the types of roles that OPG and IESO will be taking on. For example, persons could still challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG or the IESO as a party to such challenge.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith". Generally speaking the Indemnities are intended to provide the Protected Persons with indemnification for losses/liabilities, including those for potentially "bad faith acts", unless any such acts arise as a result of the Protected Persons' dishonesty, gross negligence, or wilful misconduct. As described below in subsection (ii), the statutory protections also do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. The statutory protections also do not extend to the corporations themselves.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(1) of the Act, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under the Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Act provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO's and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors, or officers so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the Protected Persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

Insurance and indemnities that the IESO and OPG currently provide to its directors, officers and employees may not fully cover risk

Formatted: Left

OPG –Insurance and Indemnities

Currently, OPG has indicated that it maintains Directors and Officers liability insurance ("D&O Insurance") with limits of USD $110 Million. The D&O Insurance includes persona coverage (side A) and corporate reimbursement coverage (side B). Under the side A coverage, OPG has advised that the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the insured person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such insured person. The full $110 Million limit is available for side A coverage.

Under side B coverage, OPG has advised that the policy reimburses the organization for losses incurred to indemnify an insured person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500,000.

OPG has advised that directors and officers have priority of payments over the organization for the entire $110M limit.

While this insurance provides coverage for directors and officers of OPG, there is no similar coverage provided for OPG's employees. Further, any liability stated over the maximum amounts would not be covered by the insurance policy. Pursuant to section 2(a) of the IESO Indemnity and section 3(a) of the OPG Indemnity, a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

OPG has indicated that they provide their directors an indemnity but not to their directors or employees. OPG has not provided information about the scope of this indemnity. However, the Indemnities provide that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified. This language is meant to ensure that the covered losses under the Indemnities will be covered by other applicable indemnities first, before being covered by this indemnity.

OPG has not provided any information about insurance coverage and indemnities that its subsidiaries provide to their directors, officers and employees.

IESO – Insurance and Indemnities

The IESO has informed that it carries Directors & Officers insurance providing a maximum $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are also included in the definition of Individual Insureds. The IESO also carries Professional liability insurance providing a maximum $75 million limit.

Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has informed that it has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

Existing Indemnities to OPG and IESO from the Province

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. We are not aware of any indemnities provided to the IESO by the Province.

DRAFT: Confidential and Commercially Sensitive Advice to the Minister

MINISTER OF ENERGY REQUEST FOR SECTION 28 APPROVAL FOR INDEMNITY AGREEMENTS IN FAVOUR OF OPG AND IESO FOR THEIR PARTICIPATION UNDER THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN ACT

ISSUE

The Minister of Energy is requesting approval from the Minister of Finance, pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") to enter into Indemnity Agreements ("Agreements"), on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG"),and its subsidiaries (excluding a subsidiary that is a financing entity) and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") with respect to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan ("OFHP") under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act"). The indemnities would extend to the directors, officers and employees of these entities, and agents of the IESO and, directors, officers, trustees and/or employees of a financing entity, if he or she is also a director, officer or employee of the corporation or one of its subsidiaries.

Section 28 of the FAA requires that all ministries and public entities request the prior written approval of the Minister of Finance or the President of the Treasury Board for any transaction or commitment that would directly or indirectly increase the indebtedness or contingent liabilities of Ontario.

RECOMMENDATION

- It is recommended that the Minister of Finance approve, pursuant to Section 28 of the FAA, the Ministry of Energy's request to provide indemnities and waivers, on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation (OPG) and the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) in the forms requested (the "Indemnity Agreements" and individually an "Indemnity Agreement".
- IESO and OPG have stated that without these indemnities and waivers they will not be able to participate in the implementation of the OFHP Act.
- In order for the OFHP Act to be successful, it is recommended by the Minister of Energy that the Minister of Finance approve this request.

WHAT IS THE MINISTER BEING ASKED TO SIGN?

The Minister is being asked to sign the section 28 approval forms and the transmittal letter to Glenn Thibeault, Minister of Energy.

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED INDEMNITIES

This summary of the OPG/IESO Indemnity Agreement sets out why indemnities are being sought, who is being indemnified, for what, and also addresses the proposed waiver of claims, whereby the Province agrees not to bring certain claims against the indemnified parties.

Why are indemnities being sought?

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the OFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the OFHP.

Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith" (see Appendix A for details on potential risks and Appendix B for details on limitations to existing protections to IESO, OPG and directors, officers and employees).

Who the Indemnity Applies to

The indemnity is being given in favour of "Protected Persons" which comprises IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries (excluding the financing entity) as well as their respective directors, officers and employees, and agents of the IESO and directors, officers, trustees and/or employees of a financing entity if he or she is also a director, officers or employee of the corporation or one of its subsidiaries.

What Indemnities are being provided?

Protected Persons are being indemnified against all losses, costs, damages and other expenses for any amount for which they incur damages in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim that relates to any act or omission that the Protected Person undertakes in relationship to the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Protected Persons are indemnified for regular and punitive as well as a broad range of other types of damages that are not always included in an indemnity, such as consequential damages and economic losses. The indemnity also covers costs and expenses for the Protected Persons in defending themselves against a claim. These indemnities are for any act or omission and activity that relates to the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Indemnity Agreements provide that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnities contained therein to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity. The indemnities provided in the Indemnity Agreements also apply where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.

The indemnities do not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person. It is also explicitly carved out of this exception that a failure to conduct reasonable due diligence investigation will not in itself constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct, which narrows the exception in the context of disclosure and activities relating to issuing securities in public markets such that failing to conduct due diligence will not necessarily invalidate the Indemnity.

Scope of liability in the indemnities

The Indemnity Agreement provides that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnities contained therein to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity. The indemnities provided in the Indemnity Agreement also apply where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.

Commented [TPW1]: This might mean that if there is a claim against a director, officer or employee that is covered by a corporate indemnity, the Province will be subject to an indemnity claim by the corporation.

The indemnities contained in the Indemnity Agreement do not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person. It is also explicitly carved out of this exception that a failure to conduct reasonable due diligence investigation will not in itself constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct, which narrows the exception in the context of disclosure and activities relating to issuing securities in public markets such that failing to conduct due diligence will not necessarily invalidate the Indemnity.

Waiver of claim provision

The waiver of claims provision provides that the Province will not make a claim against a Protected Person who is an individual (i.e., does not apply to OPG/IESO or subsidiaries) relating to any activities associated with the Fair Hydro Plan.

The waiver of claims provision does not apply to claims for willful misconduct, dishonesty or gross negligence.

Notification of Claims

The Indemnity Agreement sets out how the Protected Person should notify the Province of any claims, and how any proceedings should be dealt with amongst the parties, as well as how any expenses and amounts should be paid during the determination of the claim.

Provincial Warranty

The Indemnity Agreement includes a warranty section given by the Province. In this section the Province Warrants that it has the authority and capacity, and has taken all necessary steps to enter into the Indemnity Agreement.

- This is an unusual provision, but likely relates to the fact that the Province is not the employer of the indemnified party, or the officers and directors are not the officers and directors of the Province.

KEY CONSIDERATIONS AND RISKS

The Indemnity Agreements give an indemnity for a broader range of actions than those that are usually given to indemnitees of the Province, specifically by giving an indemnity for actions that are not in the best interest of the corporation and may not be in good faith;

The Indemnity Agreements extend to the OPG and the IESO as corporations, beyond the more normal practice of indemnifying directors, officers and employees; and also extends to subsidiaries of the OPG, excluding financing entities under the OFHP Act.

The Indemnity Agreements include a waiver of claims with respect to indemnitees who are individuals by the Province as shareholder, meaning that except for gross negligence, dishonesty and wilful misconduct, the Province cannot bring an action against an indemnified individual.

Potential Fiscal Impact

The Ministry of Energy states that the risk of the Province providing the Indemnity Agreements is undeterminable and unquantifiable at this time, due to uncertainty around possible claims under the Indemnities. The Ministry of Energy notes, however, the risk is mitigated by the existence of statutory immunities under the Electricity Act, 1998, for IESO, and under the OFHP Act, for OPG, (see further discussion below), pre-existing protection for director and officers under insurance and the limitation of indemnity to claims arising from IESO's and OPG's respective roles in implementing the OFHP.

Because the Indemnity Agreements are not capped the Provincial exposure is not limited and will extend to the extent of any claim that is covered by the Indemnity Agreements.

The Ministry of Energy notes that in the event that an indemnity claim does arise and a payment is required, the Ministry would be unlikely to be able to support these payments and would need to return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation.

Accounting Treatment

There is a risk associated with the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA Financing portion of the OFHP. With the Province providing guarantee agreements, financial support through credit facilities and the proposed agreements to indemnify the IESO and OPG, the case for the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA structure could be weakened.

OPCD has confirmed that OPG has received advice that the accounting treatment will be consistent with the GA Financing Structure. IESO is expected to also confirm the same.

Commented [A2]: Need to get an update from OPCD on whether the proposed indemnities would have a significant impact on this analysis.

MENE had initially considered limiting the indemnities to directors and officers. However, IESO and OPG both have indicated that they require their respective indemnity cover their corporations as well (and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries) given the nature of the risks they face.

Previous Direction on Indemnity for IESO and OPG

There is no existing Cabinet direction for the Ministry of Energy to provide the requested Indemnities to IESO and OPG.

Insofar as the IESO and OPG state that without these indemnities and waivers they will not be able to participate in the implementation of the Ontario fair Hydro Act, 2017, providing the requested indemnities will support implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Treasury Board Assessment Note of June 13, 2017, included reference to the indemnities required by OPG and IESO.

Other protections and assurances are current being discussed under a Provincial Support Agreement that would include indemnities for the Financing Entity against claims from creditors as a result of government amending or repealing the Act or court rulings adversely affecting the rights and interest of the Financing Entity and performance assurances from the Province for the IESO and electricity vendors.

DESCRIPTION OF RISK AND ANY RISK MITIGANTS

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG (and OPG's subsidiaries where applicable) and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporations face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments (see further details on risks in Appendix A).

The exact nature and scope of the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but the risk of liability for the Province arising may be low, with respect to directors, officers and employees, as any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

- In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but does not eliminate such risk.
- In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Act may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but does not eliminate such risk.
- The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in relation to implementing the ONFHP.
- The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided under insurance or another indemnity, to the extent already paid under such insurance, or so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.
- The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

With respect to the corporations themselves (and in the case of OPG, its Subsidiaries as well) the risk may be higher, but is undeterminable at this time. The likelihood of risk to the Province is characterized as medium, given that OPG and IESO have not identified any insurance or indemnities that would cover the corporations themselves (or in the case of OPG, the Subsidiaries themselves) in the event that such liability arises, nor is statutory protection provided for the corporations themselves.

BACKGROUND

On March 2, 2017, the government announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "OFHP"), under which the government will take steps to lower electricity bills [on an after-tax basis] by 25 per cent on average for a typical residential customer, starting July 1, 2017, relative to what the bills would otherwise have been without the OFHP.

Changes to refinance a portion of the Global Adjustment ("GA") are a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the OFHP. This includes roles for both IESO and OPG:

IESO – legislation imposes certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities to implement the OFHP such as the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to deferred costs and the GA financing component of the OFHP, the conveyance of that asset to a financing entity (expected to be established by OPG) and providing a servicing role in recovering the financing entity's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO.

OPG – OPG is expected to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset, related to deferred costs, through a financing entity that OPG creates. OPG considers risks associated with these OFHP-related activities to be beyond OPG's usual business/operations. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.

The 25 per cent rate relief also includes the rebate amount equivalent to the 8 per cent Provincial portion of the HST that has been in effect since January 1, 2017 under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016, and the expected savings from the shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to being funded by the Province.

APPENDIX A

Potential Risks Related to OPG/IESO Roles in Implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Electricity Act, 1998 ("EA") has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the ONFHP. This amendment was designed to ensure that OPG could participate in the ONFHP. OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA will be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity as defined in the Act) is expected to finance.

In carrying out this role, OPG will be carrying out activities that fall outside of its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation. As a result, OPG, its directors, officers, and employees may be faced with increased risk of liability. Examples of such risks related to financing, include without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

OPG and its Subsidiaries, and their respective directors, officers, employees may also be faced with risk of liability to:

- underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities
- the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets)
- counterparties to agreements (e.g. the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust or IESO)
- other stakeholders (the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees) of OPG if OPG (or any Subsidiary of it) is liable for any claim or obligation and cannot meet its obligations to these stakeholders as a result of such claims.
- Regulators (e.g. the Ontario Securities Commission)

- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its Subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate OPG and OPG's Subsidiaries in undertaking their role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Act also imposes certain obligations and requirements on the IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entities and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. The IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entities. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. The IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Other examples of sources/activities giving rise to increased risk of liability for the IESO, its directors, officers and employees include the following:

- Investors in any ONFHP investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors, as well as any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and/or IESO being involved;
- OPG (or the financing entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of the regulatory asset and servicing of the investment asset, and related activities;
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity (e.g. short pay);
- Taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities;
- Securities commissions regulators (U.S./Canada); and
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Province in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

APPENDIX B

Why Indemnities are being sought and limitations to protection under statutory protections and/or Insurance

Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities is required in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

Even if the corporate mandates of OPG and the IESO were updated to include their role in implementing the ONFHP, this may not eliminate the risk of the types of liabilities outlined above completely, particularly due to the novelty of the ONFHP and the types of roles that OPG and IESO will be taking on. For example, persons could still challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG or the IESO as a party to such challenge.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith". Generally speaking the Indemnities are intended to provide the Protected Persons with indemnification for losses/liabilities, including those for potentially "bad faith acts", unless any such acts arise as a result of the Protected Persons' dishonesty, gross negligence, or wilful misconduct. As described below in subsection (ii), the statutory protections also do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. The statutory protections also do not extend to the corporations themselves.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(1) of the Act, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under the Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Act provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO's and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors, or officers so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the Protected Persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

Insurance and indemnities that the IESO and OPG currently provide to its directors, officers and employees may not fully cover risk

OPG –Insurance and Indemnities

Currently, OPG has indicated that it maintains Directors and Officers liability insurance ("D&O Insurance") with limits of USD $110 Million. The D&O Insurance includes persona coverage (side A) and corporate reimbursement coverage (side B). Under the side A coverage, OPG has advised that the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the insured person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such insured person. The full $110 Million limit is available for side A coverage.

Under side B coverage, OPG has advised that the policy reimburses the organization for losses incurred to indemnify an insured person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500,000.

OPG has advised that directors and officers have priority of payments over the organization for the entire $110M limit.

While this insurance provides coverage for directors and officers of OPG, there is no similar coverage provided for OPG's employees. Further, any liability stated over the maximum amounts would not be covered by the insurance policy. Pursuant to section 2(a) of the IESO Indemnity and section 3(a) of the OPG Indemnity, a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

OPG has indicated that they provide their directors an indemnity but not to their directors or employees. OPG has not provided information about the scope of this indemnity. However, the Indemnities provide that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified. This language is meant to ensure that the covered losses under the Indemnities will be covered by other applicable indemnities first, before being covered by this indemnity.

OPG has not provided any information about insurance coverage and indemnities that its subsidiaries provide to their directors, officers and employees.

IESO – Insurance and Indemnities

The IESO has informed that it carries Directors & Officers insurance providing a maximum $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are also included in the definition of Individual Insureds. The IESO also carries Professional liability insurance providing a maximum $75 million limit.

Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has informed that it has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

Existing Indemnities to OPG and IESO from the Province

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. We are not aware of any indemnities provided to the IESO by the Province.

Sorry for the multiple emails – there was one correction noted to the IESO indemnity (the version I sent below removed the corporation from the indemnity by error). I've attached a revised version with the corporation re-inserted into the indemnity.

Will let you know if there are further comments.

Apologies again.

Hi Toby,

Attached is what I am sending over to OPG/IESO. I've included the carve out in the OPG indemnity as per your comments (see section 2 of the OPG indemnity attached). This carve would not apply to the IESO indemnity because we are only covering the IESO and its directors, officers and employees.

I hope the added language addresses your concerns. I have also made the minor change you flagged below to both. If the added language does not address your concerns, please let me know.

Thank you,

Harkamal,

In addition to our comment regarding the exclusion of the financing entities, we also note that in section 2(d) of the indemnity agreements there is something not quite right with the wording. There may be an "or" missing between "did not have reasonable grounds for believing" and "was reckless as to their belief", although you may have intended something else so I will let you advise.

We have no further comments on those drafts, and would be happy to take another look after the next turn.

Hi John,

Apologies - for some reason, your email only popped up in my email inbox at 5:01pm (I note the time stamp below states 11:50am).

I did speak to Toby earlier and flagged that I will be sending updated drafts (pending further changes based on any comments you may have on the actual indemnity agreements) of the business case, exhibit A and memo tomorrow morning based on the information from OPG and IESO.

On our end I will need to get the indemnity agreements back to OPG/IESO early tomorrow to give them time to consider the further changes. Once the agreements have been finalized, we can further update the draft s.28 materials as needed on Monday/Tuesday next week and have our Minister send over the finalized package.

Please let me know if these next steps work for you.

Thank you,

Harkamal

Hi Harkamal,

Further to this, could you give us a sense of when the updated draft package could be sent to us for review? Correct me if I am not mapping the next steps, etc. right but based on the information provided by OPG, Energy would be pulling together the updated business case, the contingent liability table and draft submission memo. We are still reviewing the answers included in the attached file but wanted to get a sense of the path forward and the timeline.

Thanks,

(b) upon written request of the Province, acting reasonably, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information that relates to the ~~Claims~~Claim(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person~~; and~~ (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to the same);

(c) take all reasonable steps necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim~~.~~; and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies or claims funds, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, ~~Ontario~~ the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s) and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim(s) without the prior written consent of the Province~~.~~, such consent not to be reasonably withheld or delayed. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim(s), ~~each~~the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing ~~such~~the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing ~~the~~a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be ~~costs~~Losses to which this indemnity extends.

Formatted: Highlight

5. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

~~5.~~6. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation~~.~~, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

7. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with a Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ninety (90) days of the Protected Person completing all steps outlined in paragraph 3 of this indemnity agreement. The Protected Person shall promptly repay forthwith to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

8. The Province hereby waives any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to claims of gross negligence, dishonesty, or willful misconduct against a Protected Person who is an individual.

9. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

   (a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

   (b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

(c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction; section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario); and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

10. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Persons that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants and obligations on behalf of such Protected Persons.

~~6.~~11. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

~~7.~~12. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants and obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

I hope the added language addresses your concerns. I have also made the minor change you flagged below to both. If the added language does not address your concerns, please let me know.

Subject: RE: OPG/IESO indemnity Responses to OFA Questions

Harkamal,

In addition to our comment regarding the exclusion of the financing entities, we also note that in section 2(d) of the indemnity agreements there is something not quite right with the wording. There may be an "or" missing between "did not have reasonable grounds for believing" and "was reckless as to their belief", although you may have intended something else so I will let you advise.

We have no further comments on those drafts, and would be happy to take another look after the next turn.

Thanks

Hi John,

Apologies - for some reason, your email only popped up in my email inbox at 5:01pm (I note the time stamp below states 11:50am).

I did speak to Toby earlier and flagged that I will be sending updated drafts (pending further changes based on any comments you may have on the actual indemnity agreements) of the business case, exhibit A and memo tomorrow morning based on the information from OPG and IESO.

On our end I will need to get the indemnity agreements back to OPG/IESO early tomorrow to give them time to consider the further changes. Once the agreements have been finalized, we can further update the draft s.28 materials as needed on Monday/Tuesday next week and have our Minister send over the finalized package.

Please let me know if these next steps work for you.

Thank you,

Harkamal

Hi Harkamal,

Further to this, could you give us a sense of when the updated draft package could be sent to us for review? Correct me if I am not mapping the next steps, etc. right but based on the information provided by OPG, Energy would be pulling together the updated business case, the contingent liability table and draft submission memo. We are still reviewing the answers included in the attached file but wanted to get a sense of the path forward and the timeline.

Thanks,

John

Hi Bruno,

We have finally received all responses from OPG and IESO. Please find attached the consolidated set of responses to your questions.

These questions are in draft form and pending approval but wanted to get them to you in the interests of time.

Please let me know once you have completed your review and whether you have any further comments.

I will let you know once these have been approved on our end and whether there are any further changes.

Thanks,

Harkamal

CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT

INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNITY AGREEMENT effective as of this 1st day of June, 2017.

BETWEEN: Ontario Power Generation Inc.
(hereinafter the "Corporation")

OF THE FIRST PART,

Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario as Represented by the Minister of Energy

(hereinafter called the "Province")

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS the Corporation and/or one or more of its subsidiaries may or, in certain circumstances is or will be required to, carry out certain activities with respect to (i) the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"), (ii) the regulations made pursuant to the Act, and/or (iii) the agreements (A) relating to any financing entity (as defined in the Act) and/or any debt issued by any such financing entity and/or (B) to which any such financing entity is a party (the Act, such regulations and agreements, collectively the "Fair Hydro Plan~~")."~~);

AND WHEREAS the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees may face risk of liability ~~due to or as a result of~~arising as a result of their respective activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation, each of the Corporation's subsidiaries (except for any financing entities as defined in the Act) and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, ~~taxes,~~ fines, penalties~~, statutory payments~~, judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), ~~in relation to~~as a result of any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the ~~Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other~~ Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

~~2. This indemnity does not apply with respect to Losses of a Protected Person:~~

2. For greater clarity, "Corporation's subsidiaries" as used in this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), whether such financing entities are actually a subsidiary of the Corporation or not; and the terms "Protected Persons" or "Protected Persons" under this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), being a subsidiary of the Corporation or otherwise, or such financing entities' respective directors, officers, and/or employees.

3. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy ~~but only~~or claims fund to the extent that ~~a~~such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy ~~for those Losses~~or claims fund; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person ~~but only~~ to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) ~~if and to the extent~~ that are a ~~court~~result of ~~competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with~~ such ~~Losses resulted from the~~ Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct ~~of the Protected~~, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person ~~claiming such indemnity~~; for greater ~~certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d),~~clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that ~~it does not intend that~~ any ~~failure by~~finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "~~wilful~~willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) ~~to~~in the ~~extent arising~~case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing, and/or was reckless as to their belief, that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

4. ~~In order to be entitled to~~ Each Protected Person shall:

4. Upon becoming aware of a Claim(s) for which such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder ~~in respect of any Losses, the Protected Person shall:~~

(a) , as soon as practicable~~,~~ deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of ~~any~~the Claim~~:~~(s);

(b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the ~~Claims~~Claim(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to the same);

(c) take all reasonable steps~~, at the expense of the Province,~~ necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim~~:~~(s); and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage, to the fullest extent possible, under insurance policies~~,~~ and/or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, ~~that are~~as referred to in subsections ~~2~~3(a) ~~or~~and (b) above.

A failure on the part of a Protected Person to ~~give prompt notice as~~take any of the actions provided in this section ~~3~~4 shall not affect the rights ~~or obligations of any party to this indemnity unless and only~~of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure ~~to provide such prompt notice has~~, the Province was actually prejudiced ~~the Province~~. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 4 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

5. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that ~~all~~anyl Losses in respect of a Claim will be ~~fully~~ indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld~~,~~ or delayed ~~or conditioned.~~. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends.

5.6. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has ~~fully~~ indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, ~~all~~ Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

7. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee of the Corporation and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation; and with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation's subsidiaries, this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of a subsidiary of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee of that subsidiary of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director, officer, employee of that particular subsidiary of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of that subsidiary of the Corporation

6.8. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ~~thirty (30~~ninety (90) days of ~~any request in writing by a~~ the Protected Person ~~to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect~~completing all steps outlined in section 4 of ~~which such reimbursement or advance is requested.~~this indemnity agreement. The Protected Person shall promptly repay forthwith to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

7.9. The Province hereby waives any claim it, as the shareholder of the Corporation, could otherwise make against a Protected Person, who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such ~~other~~ Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation~~)~~), provided that this waiver shall not apply to any claims of gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct agianst a Protected Person who is an individual..

~~8.~~10. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with ~~any and all of its activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation);~~this indemnity agreement:

(a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

(b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement~~ and the performance of its obligations hereunder~~, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) ~~(including approval of the Minister of Finance pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)) and under the Act~~ required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement~~ and perform its obligations hereunder~~;

(c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), ~~subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws now or hereinafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally,~~ to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction~~, to~~; section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario~~)~~); and ~~to~~ section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

~~9.~~11. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected ~~Parties~~Persons that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants, representations, warranties and obligations on behalf of such Protected ~~Parties~~Persons.

~~10.~~12. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

~~11.~~13. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants, waivers, representations, warranties and other obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

5. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, all Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

~~5.~~6. For greater clarity, with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation~~.~~, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

7. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with a Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ninety (90) days of the Protected Person completing all steps outlined in paragraph 3 of this indemnity agreement. The Protected Person shall promptly repay forthwith to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

8. The Province hereby waives any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to claims of gross negligence, dishonesty, or willful misconduct against a Protected Person who is an individual.

9. The Province represents and warrants to each Protected Person as follows and acknowledges that each Protected Person is relying on the following representations and warranties in connection with this indemnity agreement:

(a) the Province has all necessary power, authority and capacity to enter into this indemnity agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder;

(b) all necessary actions have been taken by the Province or on the Province's part to authorize its execution and delivery of this indemnity agreement, and without limiting the foregoing, the Province has received all necessary approvals under the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) required for it to enter into this indemnity agreement;

(c) this indemnity agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Province and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of it enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as that enforcement may be limited by the provisions of the Proceedings Against the Crown Act (Ontario), to the application of equitable principles and except that equitable remedies may be granted only in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction; section 11.3 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario); and section 43 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario).

10. It is the intention of the Province to constitute the Corporation as trustee for the Protected Persons that are not party to this indemnity agreement of the covenants and obligations of the Province under this indemnity agreement and the Corporation agrees to accept such trust and to hold and enforce such covenants and obligations on behalf of such Protected Persons.

~~6.~~11. This indemnity agreement shall be interpreted and governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

~~7.~~12. The provisions of this indemnity agreement and the benefit of all covenants and obligations herein contained shall enure to the benefit of the Protected Persons and the Protected Persons' heirs, administrators, executors and assigns as applicable.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties have executed this indemnity as of the day and year first above written.

Hi Ron

Some of my thoughts below fyi. As noted, at this point we are waiting for MoF Legal to respond to our latest draft note.

Hi Salman, Gavin

I didn't have any major concerns. I notice the corporations have been removed from the indemnity coverage. I know MoF Legal requested that the Financing Entity not be included I wasn't aware that corporations were being removed. But it narrows the scope, I'm fine with that.

The have addressed the one contingency table issue re "low probability" . They modified the language and it is now also in business case. I still have a nitpicking comments about the maximum exposure language in the liability chart (see attached).

I think the business case note is improved. We may want to cut and paste, but probably best to wait for comments on our BN from MoF Legal.

Hi Bruno,

Attached is the updated business case and Contingent Liabilities Table. The Cover memo will follow shortly. I have tried to address all of the comments you had previously sent as well as incorporate the information from OPG and IESO's responses to your questions.

If you could please review and let me know if you have any further comments by end of day today it would much appreciated so that I can make any further edits necessary and get you a revised copy on Monday.

I know people have been encountering issues with their emails, so if you cannot access these documents, please let me know and I will try to resend.

As requested, I am also re-sending you the draft Indemnity agreements.

Thank you,

Harkamal

Hi John,

Apologies - for some reason, your email only popped up in my email inbox at 5:01pm (I note the time stamp below states 11:50am).

I did speak to Toby earlier and flagged that I will be sending updated drafts (pending further changes based on any comments you may have on the actual indemnity agreements) of the business case, exhibit A and memo tomorrow morning based on the information from OPG and IESO.

On our end I will need to get the indemnity agreements back to OPG/IESO early tomorrow to give them time to consider the further changes. Once the agreements have been finalized, we can further update the draft s.28 materials as needed on Monday/Tuesday next week and have our Minister send over the finalized package.

Please let me know if these next steps work for you.

Thank you,

Harkamal

Hi Harkamal,

Further to this, could you give us a sense of when the updated draft package could be sent to us for review? Correct me if I am not mapping the next steps, etc. right but based on the information provided by OPG, Energy would be pulling together the updated business case, the contingent liability table and draft submission memo. We are still reviewing the answers included in the attached file but wanted to get a sense of the path forward and the timeline.

Thanks,

June 23, 2017 Ministry of Finance Comments

Contingent Liability Chart

Maximum Estimated Financial Exposure: The Contingent Liability Chart indicates that the Province's financial exposure will be linked to the OPG special purposes entity's debt offerings.

Most examples provided, with respect to potential risk of liability, involve potential claims by parties directly or indirectly involved with OPG SPV's debt offerings. It is not clear however that all claims would be tied directly to losses of debt security holders. E.g., potential claims for expenses incurred by a promoter under Canadian securities law. It appears possible that the indemnity may also cover claims for losses unrelated to OPG SPV's debt offerings. E.g., a claim by a commercial entity that believes the OFHP has resulted in business losses (off-grid systems supplier). The statement also appears to be inconsistent with the statement that the risk cannot be quantified.

Suggested wording

Maximum financial exposure is uncertain as there various sources and types of potential claims. It is expected, however, that the largest liability risks would be related to potential losses related to OPG special purpose entity's debt offerings. The maximum financial exposure, therefore, would likely be linked to the amount of OPG special purpose entities debt offerings.

7. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with a Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ninety (90) days of the Protected Person completing all steps outlined in paragraph 3 of this indemnity agreement. The Protected Person shall promptly repay forthwith to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

8. The Province hereby waives any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual, whether now or in the future, relating in any way to the Corporation's and/or any such Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person who is an individual is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation), provided that this waiver shall not apply to claims of gross negligence, dishonesty, or willful misconduct of that Protected Person who is an individual in the implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation's and~~,~~ each of the Corporation's subsidiaries' ~~and each of their~~ respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, ~~taxes,~~ fines, penalties, ~~statutory payments,~~ judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), ~~in relation to~~as a result of any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the ~~Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other~~ Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses~~This indemnity does not apply with respect to Losses~~, or a portion thereof ~~of a Protected Person~~:

   (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected P~~p~~erson is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund~~but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy for those Losses~~; or

   ~~(c) is the~~that are a result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person;~~if and to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity;~~ for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; ~~for greater certainty, and notwithstanding Section 2(d),~~

   ~~(d)~~(c) ~~the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or~~

3. ~~In order to be entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any Losses, the~~Each Protected Person shall:

(a) Upon becoming aware of a Claim(s) for which such Protected Person may seek indemnification hereunder, as soon as practicable~~,~~ deliver to the Province (through the Director of the Legal Services Branch of the Ministry of Energy) a notice setting forth in reasonable detail the particulars of the~~any~~ Claim(s);

(b) upon written request of the Province, furnish to the Province copies of any document, or provide to the Province any information, that relates to the Claim(s) that is in the possession or under the control of the Protected Person (except to the extent that provision of same would cause the Protected Party to lose its entitlement to claim privilege with respect to the same);

(c) take all reasonable steps ~~, at the expense of the Province,~~ necessary to secure and preserve the rights of the Protected Person in respect of the Claim(s); and

(d) promptly take all reasonable steps to obtain indemnification or coverage to the fullest extent possible under insurance policies, or under indemnities provided by the Corporation, that are referred to in subsections 2(a) or (b) above.

A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of such Protected Person except to the extent that, as a result of such failure, the Province was actually prejudiced. A failure on the part of a Protected Person to take any of the actions provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights of any other Protected Person.

~~A failure to give prompt notice as provided in this section 3 shall not affect the rights or obligations of any party to this indemnity unless and only to the extent that such failure to provide such prompt notice has actually prejudiced the Province.~~

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that any~~all~~ Losses in respect of a Claim will be ~~fully~~ indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or~~,~~ delayed~~, or conditioned~~. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends.

~~4.~~5. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has ~~fully~~ indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, ~~all~~ Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

6. For greater clarity, ~~with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation~~ this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

Commented [A3]: Re-inserted as discussed.

~~5.~~7. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ~~thirty~~ ninety (9~~3~~0) days ~~of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested~~of the Protected Person completing all steps outlined in paragraph 3 of this indemnity agreement. The Protected Person shall promptly repay forthwith to the Province any advances that are ultimately in excess of amounts necessary for payment of any such Losses or for which it is judicially determined that the Protected Person is not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

~~6.~~8. DRAFT

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure will be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On June 1, 2017, Bill 132 received royal assent, which marked the coming into force of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"). The Act enables the implementation of the ONFHP. The implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP. OPG is also seeking an indemnity for its subsidiaries (other than financing entities as defined in the Act) and their respective directors, officers and employees.

Commented [HM1]: May come out depending on comments from OFA

Commented [HM2]: May come out depending on comments from OFA.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 30, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO effective as of the date upon which the Act was passed.

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Electricity Act, 1998 ("EA") has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the ONFHP. This amendment was designed to ensure that OPG could, if it chose to, participate in the ONFHP. OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance.

In carrying out this role, OPG will be carrying out activities that fall outside of its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation. As a result, OPG, its directors, officers, and employees may be faced with increased risk of liability. Examples of such risks related to financing, include without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Commented [HM3]: Same comment as above – reference to the actual corporations may be removed depending on comments from OFA

OPG may also be faced with risk of liability to:

- underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities
- the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets)
- counterparties to agreements (e.g. the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust or IESO)
- other stakeholders (the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees) of OPG if OPG (or any subsidiary of it) is liable for any claim or obligation and cannot meet its obligations to these stakeholders as a result of such claims.
- Regulators (e.g. the Ontario Securities Commission)
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Act also imposes certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entities and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entities. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Other examples of sources/activities giving rise to increased risk of liability for IESO, its directors, officers and employees include the following:

- Investors in any ONFHP investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors, as well as any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and/or IESO being involved
- OPG (or the financing entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of the regulatory asset and servicing of the investment asset, and related activities
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity (e.g. short pay)
- Taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities
- Securities commissions regulators (U.S./Canada)
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Commented [HM4]: May need to be updated.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities is required in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and IESO's directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

Commented [HM5]: TBC

Even if the corporate mandates of OPG and the IESO were updated to include their role in implementing the ONFHP, this may not eliminate the risk of the types of liabilities outlined above completely, particularly due to the novelty of this element. For example, persons could still challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG or the IESO as a party to such challenge.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith". Generally speaking the Indemnities are intended to provide the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) with indemnification for losses/liabilities, including those for potentially "bad faith acts", unless any such acts arise as a result of the Protected Persons' dishonesty, gross negligence, or wilful misconduct. As described below in subsection (ii), the statutory protections also do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, IESO and their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(1) of the Act, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under the Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Act provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO's and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors, or officers so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the Protected Persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(iii) Current insurance and indemnities both IESO and OPG provide to its directors, officers and employees may not fully cover risk

OPG –Insurance and Indemnities

Currently OPG maintains Directors and Officers liability insurance ("D&O Insurance") with limits of USD $110 Million. The D&O Insurance includes persona coverage (side A) and corporate reimbursement coverage (side B). Under the side A coverage, OPG has advised that the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the insured person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such insured person. The full $110 Million limit is available for side A coverage.

Under side B coverage, OPG has advised that the policy reimburses the organization for losses incurred to indemnify an insured person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500,000.

OPG has advised that directors and officers have priority of payments over the organization for the entire $110M limit.

While this insurance provides coverage for directors and officers of OPG, there is no similar coverage provided for OPG's employees. Further, any liability stated over the maximum amounts would not be covered by the insurance policy. Pursuant to Section 2(a) of the Indemnity, a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

OPG has indicated that they provide their directors an indemnity but not to their directors or employees. OPG has not provided information about the scope of this indemnity is not clear. However, the OPG Indemnity indicates that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified. This language ensures that the covered losses under the Indemnities will be covered by other applicable indemnities first, before being covered by this indemnity.

IESO – Insurance and Indemnities

IESO carries Directors & Officers insurance providing a maximum $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are also included in the definition of Individual Insureds. IESO also carries Professional liability insurance providing a maximum $75 million limit.
Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has informed that it has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

Existing Indemnities to OPG and IESO from the Province

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments as described in section 3 above.

The exact nature and scope of the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but the risk of liability for the Province arising may be low, with respect to directors, officers and employees, as any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in relation to implementing the ONFHP.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided under insurance or another indemnity, to the extent already paid under such insurance, or so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.

5) The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

With respect to the corporations themselves (and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries, other than the financing entities themselves) the risk may be higher, but is undeterminable at this time. The likelihood of risk to the Province is characterized as medium, given that OPG and IESO have not identified any insurance or indemnities that would cover the corporations themselves in the event that such liability arises, nor is statutory protection provided for the corporations themselves.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C".

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the Protected Person as a result of their roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

Commented [h6]: TBC

Under the Indemnities, a Protected Person would not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) that are the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a

Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing was reckless as to their belief that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Other Substantial Variances from the Province's Indemnity Template

The other substantial variance in the Indemnities includes a waiver provision (section 8 of the Indemnities) whereby the Province waives its right to bring any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual relating in any way to the OPG/IESO's or such Protected Person's activities in the implementation, or otherwise relating to the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting at the request of the corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation – e.g. for example, where a financing entity is a trust, OPG's directors/officers/employees may need to sign the securities offering documents, but not in the capacity of OPG's directors/officers/employees as the offering documents will not be the offering documents of OPG. The directors/officers/employees will be performing these functions as a result of OPG acting as a Financial Services Manager of the financing entity). However, this waiver does not apply to gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct claims that may be brought by the province against the applicable Protected Persons. The risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is consistent with the gross negligence carve out provided for in the Indemnity Agreements (section 2(c)) and because the Province is unlikely to bring a claim against a Protected Person for Losses they have agreed to indemnify them for.

OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors, officers, employees do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.

The Indemnities also include a representations and warranties section (section 9), which includes general representations and warranties with respect to the Province's authority to enter into these agreements and confirming that they have obtained the appropriate FAA approvals. We do not believe this variance poses a significant risk to the Province.

(e) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would allow OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

Hi Bruno,

Attached is the updated business case and Contingent Liabilities Table. The Cover memo will follow shortly. I have tried to address all of the comments you had previously sent as well as incorporate the information from OPG and IESO's responses to your questions.

If you could please review and let me know if you have any further comments by end of day today it would much appreciated so that I can make any further edits necessary and get you a revised copy on Monday.

I know people have been encountering issues with their emails, so if you cannot access these documents, please let me know and I will try to resend.

As requested, I am also re-sending you the draft Indemnity agreements.

Thank you,

Harkamal

Hi John,

Apologies - for some reason, your email only popped up in my email inbox at 5:01pm (I note the time stamp below states 11:50am).

I did speak to Toby earlier and flagged that I will be sending updated drafts (pending further changes based on any comments you may have on the actual indemnity agreements) of the business case, exhibit A and memo tomorrow morning based on the information from OPG and IESO.

On our end I will need to get the indemnity agreements back to OPG/IESO early tomorrow to give them time to consider the further changes. Once the agreements have been finalized, we can further update the draft s.28 materials as needed on Monday/Tuesday next week and have our Minister send over the finalized package.

Please let me know if these next steps work for you.

Thank you,

Harkamal

Hi Harkamal,

Further to this, could you give us a sense of when the updated draft package could be sent to us for review? Correct me if I am not mapping the next steps, etc. right but based on the information provided by OPG, Energy would be pulling together the updated business case, the contingent liability table and draft submission memo. We are still reviewing the answers included in the attached file but wanted to get a sense of the path forward and the timeline.

Thanks,

John

Hi Bruno,

We have finally received all responses from OPG and IESO. Please find attached the consolidated set of responses to your questions.

These questions are in draft form and pending approval but wanted to get them to you in the interests of time.

Please let me know once you have completed your review and whether you have any further comments.

I will let you know once these have been approved on our end and whether there are any further changes.

AND WHEREAS ~~the Corporation, its subsidiaries and each of~~Corporation's and/or its subsidiaries' respective directors, officers and/or employees ~~their respective directors, officers and employees~~ may face risk of liability due to or as a result of the Fair Hydro Plan.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of $1.00 now paid by the Corporation to the Province and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), the Province hereby agrees:

1. To indemnify, defend and save harmless the Corporation's and~~,~~ each of the Corporation's subsidiaries' ~~and each of their~~ respective directors, officers, and employees (collectively the "Protected Persons" and individually, a "Protected Person") from and against all losses, costs, damages, charges, expenses, demands, liabilities, ~~taxes,~~ fines, penalties, ~~statutory payments,~~ judgments and/or settlement amounts directly or indirectly suffered, sustained or incurred by any Protected Person, including any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary and/or consequential damages and/or loss of profits and damages in respect of economic loss and/or loss of opportunity, and all legal and other professional fees and out-of-pocket expenses (collectively, "Losses"), ~~in relation to~~as a result of any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim, demand, action, suit, application, litigation, charge, complaint, prosecution, assessment, reassessment, investigation (formal or informal), hearing and/or other proceeding of any nature or kind whatsoever (any of the foregoing being a "Claim") arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the ~~Corporation's, any of the Corporation's subsidiaries and/or any such other~~ Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan (including, without limitation, where a Protected Person is acting, at the request of the Corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or a subsidiary of the Corporation).

2. A Protected Person shall not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses~~This indemnity does not apply with respect to Losses~~, or a portion thereof ~~of a Protected Person~~:

   (a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected P~~p~~erson is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund~~but only to the extent that a Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy for those Losses~~; or

   ~~(d)~~(c) ~~the Province agrees that it does not intend that any failure by a Protected Person to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or~~

4. The Province shall have the right to participate in or, where the Province has confirmed in writing to the applicable Protected Person(s) that any~~all~~ Losses in respect of a Claim will be ~~fully~~ indemnified under this indemnity agreement, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim and in no event shall a Protected Person negotiate, settle, compromise or pay the Claim without the prior written consent of the Province, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or~~,~~ delayed~~, or conditioned~~. If the Province elects to so participate in or assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence of the Claim, the applicable Protected Person(s) shall co-operate fully with the Province in connection with the same, and each applicable Protected Person shall agree to be represented by legal counsel chosen by the Province, unless, in the opinion of such legal counsel, there would arise a conflict of interest preventing such legal counsel from representing the applicable Protected Person. Where it is such legal counsel's opinion that a conflict of interest prevents that legal counsel representing a Protected Person, the Protected Person will be entitled, after consultation with the Province and acting reasonably, to obtain legal counsel of the Protected Person's choice, and the fees and expenses of the Protected Person's counsel incurred in the Protected Person's representation shall be Losses to which this indemnity extends.

~~4.~~5. The Province shall not agree to any settlement of a Claim on behalf of a Protected Person without the Protected Person's written consent unless (i) the terms of such settlement require only the payment of money (by persons or entities other than the Protected Person) and include an unconditional, full release of the Protected Person, and do not require a Protected Person to admit any wrongdoing or take or refrain from taking any action and (ii) the Province has ~~fully~~ indemnified the Protected Person with respect to, and held the Protected Person harmless from and against, ~~all~~ Losses incurred by or on behalf of the Protected Person in connection with the Claim.

6. For greater clarity, ~~with respect to directors, officers and employees of the Corporation~~ this indemnity shall only apply to Claim(s) that are referable to the period during which a director, officer or employee of the Corporation is actually a director, officer or employee (respectively) of the Corporation, and of which notice is received by the Province either during the period of time that the director, officer, or employee is a director officer, employee of the Corporation or after he or she ceases to be a director, officer, employee of the Corporation.

Commented [A3]: Re-inserted as discussed.

~~5.~~7. The Province shall reimburse or advance the funds necessary for the payment of Losses incurred in connection with any Claim, including without limitation, the investigation, monitoring, defence and appeal thereof, in advance of the final disposition of such Claim, within ~~thirty~~ ninety (9~~3~~0) days ~~of any request in writing by a Protected Person to the Province for such reimbursement or advance, accompanied by reasonable details and supporting documentation with respect to the Losses in respect of which such reimbursement or advance is requested~~of the Protected Person completing all steps outlined in paragraph 3 of this indemnity agreement. DRAFT

Request for Approval
Pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario)

1. MINISTRY REQUEST

On March 2, 2017, the Premier announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "ONFHP"), under which the government proposes to take steps to lower electricity bills on an after-tax basis by 25 per cent for a typical residential customer relative to what those bills would otherwise have been without the ONFHP. This proposed 25 per cent rate relief measure will be inclusive of the 8 per cent rebate that is already in effect under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016 and the savings that are anticipated to result from the proposed shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to provincial revenues. Changes to the Global Adjustment ("GA") are also proposed to be a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the ONFHP.

On June 1, 2017, Bill 132 received royal assent, which marked the coming into force of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "Act"). The Act enables the implementation of the ONFHP. The implementation of the ONFHP will require the participation of the Ontario Power Generation ("OPG") and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") among other government entities. Both the OPG and the IESO have each requested an indemnity covering their respective corporations, directors, officers and employees in relation to their respective roles in carrying out the implementation of the ONFHP. OPG is also seeking an indemnity for its subsidiaries (other than financing entities as defined in the Act) and their respective directors, officers and employees.

Commented [HM1]: May come out depending on comments from OFA

Commented [HM2]: May come out depending on comments from OFA.

The Ministry is seeking the approval pursuant to section 28 of the Financial Administration Act (Ontario) to provide these indemnities, in the forms attached as Appendix "A" and Appendix "B" (collectively the "Indemnities" and individually the "Indemnity"), on behalf of the Crown to the OPG and IESO, respectively.

Timing:

Approval is sought by June 30, 2017. The Indemnities are required in conjunction with the coming into force of the Act.

2. RECOMMENDATION

Approve the giving of the Indemnities to OPG and IESO effective as of the date upon which the Act was passed.

3. BACKGROUND

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Electricity Act, 1998 ("EA") has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the ONFHP. This amendment was designed to ensure that OPG could, if it chose to, participate in the ONFHP. OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA would be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity) is expected to finance.

In carrying out this role, OPG will be carrying out activities that fall outside of its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation. As a result, OPG, its directors, officers, and employees may be faced with increased risk of liability. Examples of such risks related to financing, include without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

Commented [HM3]: Same comment as above – reference to the actual corporations may be removed depending on comments from OFA

OPG may also be faced with risk of liability to:

- underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities
- the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets)
- counterparties to agreements (e.g. the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust or IESO)
- other stakeholders (the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees) of OPG if OPG (or any subsidiary of it) is liable for any claim or obligation and cannot meet its obligations to these stakeholders as a result of such claims.
- Regulators (e.g. the Ontario Securities Commission)
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate OPG undertaking its role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Act also imposes certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entities and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entities. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Other examples of sources/activities giving rise to increased risk of liability for IESO, its directors, officers and employees include the following:

- Investors in any ONFHP investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors, as well as any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and/or IESO being involved
- OPG (or the financing entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of the regulatory asset and servicing of the investment asset, and related activities
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity (e.g. short pay)
- Taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities
- Securities commissions regulators (U.S./Canada)
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Commented [HM4]: May need to be updated.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Minister in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

4. ANALYSIS SUPPORTING RECOMMENDATION

(a) Why the Indemnities are being sought?

(i) Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities is required in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG and IESO's directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

Commented [HM5]: TBC

Even if the corporate mandates of OPG and the IESO were updated to include their role in implementing the ONFHP, this may not eliminate the risk of the types of liabilities outlined above completely, particularly due to the novelty of this element. For example, persons could still challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG or the IESO as a party to such challenge.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith". Generally speaking the Indemnities are intended to provide the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) with indemnification for losses/liabilities, including those for potentially "bad faith acts", unless any such acts arise as a result of the Protected Persons' dishonesty, gross negligence, or wilful misconduct. As described below in subsection (ii), the statutory protections also do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, IESO and their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

(ii) Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(1) of the Act, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

> "No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under the Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Act provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO's and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors, or officers so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the Protected Persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

(iii) Current insurance and indemnities both IESO and OPG provide to its directors, officers and employees may not fully cover risk

OPG –Insurance and Indemnities

Currently OPG maintains Directors and Officers liability insurance ("D&O Insurance") with limits of USD $110 Million. The D&O Insurance includes persona coverage (side A) and corporate reimbursement coverage (side B). Under the side A coverage, OPG has advised that the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the insured person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such insured person. The full $110 Million limit is available for side A coverage.

Under side B coverage, OPG has advised that the policy reimburses the organization for losses incurred to indemnify an insured person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500,000.

OPG has advised that directors and officers have priority of payments over the organization for the entire $110M limit.

While this insurance provides coverage for directors and officers of OPG, there is no similar coverage provided for OPG's employees. Further, any liability stated over the maximum amounts would not be covered by the insurance policy. Pursuant to Section 2(a) of the Indemnity, a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

OPG has indicated that they provide their directors an indemnity but not to their directors or employees. OPG has not provided information about the scope of this indemnity is not clear. However, the OPG Indemnity indicates that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified. This language ensures that the covered losses under the Indemnities will be covered by other applicable indemnities first, before being covered by this indemnity.

IESO – Insurance and Indemnities

IESO carries Directors & Officers insurance providing a maximum $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are also included in the definition of Individual Insureds. IESO also carries Professional liability insurance providing a maximum $75 million limit.
Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has informed that it has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

Existing Indemnities to OPG and IESO from the Province

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. The IESO does not have any other indemnity from the Province.

(b) Description of the risk and any risk mitigants.

The ONFHP is a novel program, the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporation's face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments as described in section 3 above.

The exact nature and scope of the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but the risk of liability for the Province arising may be low, with respect to directors, officers and employees, as any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

1) In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

2) In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Proposed Legislation may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but as mentioned, does not eliminate such risk.

3) The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in relation to implementing the ONFHP.

4) The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided under insurance or another indemnity, to the extent already paid under such insurance, or so indemnified under such indemnification in relation to the claims.

5) The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

With respect to the corporations themselves (and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries, other than the financing entities themselves) the risk may be higher, but is undeterminable at this time. The likelihood of risk to the Province is characterized as medium, given that OPG and IESO have not identified any insurance or indemnities that would cover the corporations themselves in the event that such liability arises, nor is statutory protection provided for the corporations themselves.

A contingent liability table is attached as Appendix "C".

(c) Scope of liability in the Indemnities

The Province would agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries as well as their respective directors, officers and employees from any claims, liabilities, costs or losses that might arise to the Protected Person as a result of their roles in carrying out activities related to the implementation of the ONFHP.

Commented [h6]: TBC

Under the Indemnities, a Protected Person would not be entitled to be indemnified in respect of Losses, or a portion thereof:

(a) for which coverage is provided under an insurance policy or claims fund to the extent that such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy or claims fund; or

(b) for which other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified for those Losses by such indemnities; or

(c) that are the result of such Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct, but only if such dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct on the Protected Person's part has been established by a final and non-appealable judgment or other final adjudication adverse to the Protected Person; for greater clarity the Province acknowledges and agrees that any finding that a Protected Person failed to conduct such reasonable investigation as necessary to provide the Corporation, a subsidiary of the Corporation or a financing entity, as applicable, with reasonable grounds for believing any prospectus, registration statement, offering document or any other document filed by, or on behalf of, a financing entity under applicable securities laws contained no misrepresentation shall not in and of itself constitute "gross negligence" or "willful misconduct" for purposes of this Section 2(c) or otherwise disentitle a

Protected Person from indemnification hereunder unless a court of competent jurisdiction in a final, non-appealable judgment determines that the Claim associated with such Losses resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person claiming such indemnity, and in such circumstances, the Protected Person shall be disentitled from indemnification hereunder as a result of such Protected Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct; or

(d) in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty, if such action or proceeding arises from any circumstances in which a Protected Person did not have reasonable grounds for believing was reckless as to their belief that the Protected Person's conduct was lawful in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that enforces a monetary penalty.

(d) Other Substantial Variances from the Province's Indemnity Template

The other substantial variance in the Indemnities includes a waiver provision (section 8 of the Indemnities) whereby the Province waives its right to bring any claim it could otherwise make against a Protected Person who is an individual relating in any way to the OPG/IESO's or such Protected Person's activities in the implementation, or otherwise relating to the Fair Hydro Plan (including where a Protected Person is acting at the request of the corporation, in a different capacity than as a director, officer or employee of the Corporation – e.g. for example, where a financing entity is a trust, OPG's directors/officers/employees may need to sign the securities offering documents, but not in the capacity of OPG's directors/officers/employees as the offering documents will not be the offering documents of OPG. The directors/officers/employees will be performing these functions as a result of OPG acting as a Financial Services Manager of the financing entity). However, this waiver does not apply to gross negligence, dishonesty or willful misconduct claims that may be brought by the province against the applicable Protected Persons. The risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is consistent with the gross negligence carve out provided for in the Indemnity Agreements (section 2(c)) and because the Province is unlikely to bring a claim against a Protected Person for Losses they have agreed to indemnify them for.

OPG has indicated that the inclusion of this waiver is very important to their Board given that its directors and officers are undertaking the ONFHP activities at the request of the Province. Accordingly, the directors, officers, employees do not want to take on liability towards the Province, as shareholder of OPG. The Indemnity is being provided to the IESO for consistency.

The Indemnities also include a representations and warranties section (section 9), which includes general representations and warranties with respect to the Province's authority to enter into these agreements and confirming that they have obtained the appropriate FAA approvals. We do not believe this variance poses a significant risk to the Province.

(e) Effect of failure to obtain section 28 approval

If the requested Indemnities are not provided, this could impact the OPG and IESO directors' willingness to fully undertake their roles in implementing the ONFHP thereby jeopardizing the successful implementation of this plan. For example, IESO directors may not be willing to carry out certain activities that would fall outside of the scope of its typical business activities and mandate if they view these as creating a risk of liability. Providing the Indemnities, would allow OPG, OPG's subsidiaries, and IESO, along with their directors, officers and employees to more confidently carry out their role in implementing the ONFHP.

Hi Scott,

I thought you said that you had received this morning a draft package of the Energy s.28 submission request materials, is that right? Would you be able to send those to me? (E.g., revised indemnities, contingent liabilities table, business case, submission covering letter reflecting the responses as appropriate.)

What I received, through staff, was just the draft responses, as attached.

Thanks,
Ron

Hi Bruno,

We have finally received all responses from OPG and IESO. Please find attached the consolidated set of responses to your questions.

These questions are in draft form and pending approval but wanted to get them to you in the interests of time.

Please let me know once you have completed your review and whether you have any further comments.

I will let you know once these have been approved on our end and whether there are any further changes.

IESO/OPG Indemnities

Ministry of Finance Questions

1. Could you please provide specific concerns/scenarios for which OPG/IESO or its directors, officers and employees may become liable and which the indemnity is intended to cover?
    - You have provided the examples which are related to financing mostly. Are there any other activities? Who would be most likely to sue: investors, what about other groups?

OPG's Response: The Protected Persons could potentially be liable in several circumstances relating to the Fair Hydro Plan, including potential liability to:

(i) the underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities;

(ii) the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both the initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets);

(iii) counterparties to agreements (e.g., the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust, the IESO);

(iv) other stakeholders of OPG if OPG (or any subsidiary thereof) is liable for any claim or obligation; these stakeholders could include, for example, the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees; and

(v) regulators (e.g., OSC).

This is not an exhaustive list of all potential liability. It has been included for illustrative purposes only.

IESO's Response: Some examples of activities giving rise to liability include the following:

- Investors in any Fair Hydro investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors: any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and / or IESO being involved
- OPG (or Financing Entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of regulatory asset and servicing of investment asset, and related activities
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity – e.g. short pay
- taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities
- securities commissions regulators (US/Canada)
- parties who may challenge Fair Hydro Plan Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge

- in the case of an insolvency, Directors have statutory liability for payroll and taxes.

Are there situations where someone might not be acting in good faith and still warrant being covered under the indemnity? In that case, it would seem that the indemnity covers acting in bad faith. Should the indemnity cover actions "in good faith" to carry out the plan?

ENERGY's Response: The purpose of the indemnity is to provide coverage to the Protected Persons for Losses other than those arising out of gross negligence, dishonesty, or willful misconduct. Also, while a Protected Person may have been acting in good faith, this does not stop an individual/entity from bringing a claim against that Protected Person on the grounds that they did not "act in good faith" The Indemnity is to cover an expenses/losses etc. associated with defending against any such claims (coverage to be provided before a judgment is made).

i. Request for Approval points out that Electricity Act, 1998 already protects IESO's directors, officers, employees or agents against civil proceedings if they act in good faith in the exercise or performance of powers or duties under the Act, etc. or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty. The Fair Hydro Plan has similar language for OPG s. 39(1), but only for employees of OPG (and the Province). Why doesn't the statutory provision also cover OPG's directors and officers of OPG and those of its subs?

ENERGY's Response: Section 39(1) was the result of ongoing discussions with OPG and the wording is what was agreed to by the Ministry and OPG. Further, the Ministry has made a commitment to OPG to provide an indemnity to its directors and officers.

ii. Has consideration been given to providing an indemnity to directors, officers and employees but not to the corporate entities themselves (IESO, OPG and its subs)

ENERGY's Response: This is the scope of the indemnity that has been requested by OPG/IESO (respectively). We are waiting to hear back from OPCD to determine whether there are accounting grounds to push back on having the Indemnities cover the Corporations, and in the case of OPG, also the Corporation's subsidiaries.

- Currently, IESO collects payments from ratepayers via LDCs, so are there any new processes required as a result of implementing FHP? If so, what are new processes need to be in place that will increase IESO's business risk?

IESO's Response:

- Additional processes are required to segregate the Fair Hydro flows (new charge types, new bank segregations, new input forms, new payment processing schedules).
- IESO may need to implement a separate process to receive and remit clean energy adjustments
- IESO will enter into commercial arrangements with the financing entity relating to the transfer of the regulatory asset, and to servicing arrangements relating to recovery of the clean energy adjustment.
- It is unclear at the moment what additional requirements OPG or the banks / underwriters may request.

2. Should indemnity agreements be tailored to specific circumstances of each company? Currently they appear to be drafted identically.

ENERGY's Response: Yes, the scope of the work and who is covered under the indemnity will further be tailored to the specific circumstances of IESO/OPG. However, the general provisions making up most of the Indemnity would be the same for both as we would want to be providing OPG/IESO with similar type of rights under the Indemnity.

3. Indemnity would cover "loss of profits" and "loss of opportunity" – Is this too broad?

ENERGY's Response: No, we do not think that this is too broad. The Province has previously provided OPG directors indemnities (s.28 approval granted) that indemnified directors "from and against any and all losses" – this wording would be broad enough to cover both loss of profits and loss of opportunity.

4. Please provide more detail on the type of insurance that OPG and IESO have to cover these risks? i.e. directors and officers insurance?

OPG's Response: OPG maintains Directors & Officers (D & O) Liability insurance with limits of USD $110M. The D&O liability insurance includes Personal Coverage (Side A) and Corporate Reimbursement Coverage (Side B) as follows:

Personal Coverage (Side A)

Under Personal Coverage (Side A), the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the Insured Person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such Insured Person. The full $110M limit is available for Side A coverage.

Corporate Reimbursement Coverage (Side B)

Under the Corporate Reimbursement Coverage (Side B), the policy reimburses the Company for losses incurred to indemnify an Insured Person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500K.

Directors and Officers have priority of payments over the Company for the entire $110M limit.

In addition, we note that pursuant to Section 2(a) of the draft Indemnity Agreement that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

IESO Response: IESO carries:

- Directors & Officers insurance: max $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are included in the definition of Individual Insureds.
- Professional liability: max $75 million limit.

5. Has OPG given a standard indemnity to its directors and officers that would be called upon first before the indemnity from the Province?

OPG's Response: OPG has provided its directors (but not its officers or employees) with an indemnity.

IESO's Response: Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

6. What is the standard that is applied to conducting a reasonable investigation for "due diligence" defence? Is it possible to fail to meet that standard without gross negligence or wilful misconduct?

OPG's Response: The test under the Securities Act (Ontario) is a reasonableness test. It is therefore certainly possible for a Protected Person to fail to meet the standard for the due diligence defence while not also committing gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

7. What is the purpose of the provincial waiver of claims – as distinct from the protection provided by the indemnity?

ENERGY's Response: The purpose of the indemnity is to provide indemnification to the Protected Persons (cover Persons to the extent of their losses that are covered under the indemnity (indemnity excludes losses related to the Protected Persons' gross negligence, wrongful misconduct, or dishonesty). The purpose of the waiver is to restrict the province's ability to bring any claims (other than those arising out of gross negligence and wilful misconduct) against the Protected Persons. OPG has specifically requested the waiver. They believe that because they are carrying out the Fair Hydro Plan activities at the request of the Province, they should be given this waiver in the indemnity. We believe the risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is unlikely that the Province would bring a claim against a Protected Person for acts they would be providing an indemnity to the Protected Person for.

8. In what situations would a director, officer or employee be acting in a different capacity at the request of the company?

OPG's Response: One example arises if a financing entity is a trust. OPG directors/officers/employees will need to sign the prospectus/offering documents, but not in their capacities as those directors/officers/employees of OPG as the offering documents will not be offering documents of OPG. The directors/officers/employees will be performing these functions as a result of OPG acting as the Financial Services Manager of the financing entity.

9. Does the indemnity for OPG and its subsidiaries also include SPV (financing entity) and its directors, officers and employees?
    - What impact does this have on the SPV being treated as a separate entity to the OPG from an accounting perspective?
    - Or does SPV require an indemnity as well and why?
    - How does an indemnity for the SPV interact or overlap with the request for a guarantee from the Province in connection with the proposed financing transaction?

OPG's Response: OPG has clarified that it is not OPG's intention that the financing entities themselves be covered by this Indemnity Agreement. The Protected Persons would include

OPG and its subsidiaries that are not financing entities. Separate arrangements with the Province are being negotiated for the financing entities.

- Has consideration been given to limiting the indemnity to directors, officers and employees and not indemnifying the corporations, OPG, IESO, its subs? What are the implications?

ENERGY's Response: We had initially considered limiting the indemnities to directors and officers. However, IESO and OPG both have indicated that they require their respective indemnity cover their respective corporation as well (and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries) given the nature of the risks they face.

OPCD is being consulted on whether there are accounting implications on extending the Indemnities to the Corporations and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries. If there are accounting implications, ENERGY can take this back to OPG/IESO for further negotiation (i.e. to limit the indemnity to directors, officers and employees).

OPG's Response: OPG has indicated that they require an indemnity for the corporation and its subsidiaries for the following reason: as noted above in Question #1, OPG (and its subsidiaries) have potential liability to many stakeholders, including, for example, its pensioners. In approving OPG's participation in the Fair Hydro Plan, the OPG directors will want to know that these stakeholders are protected in the event that OPG or any of its subsidiaries is liable for a claim in relation to the Fair Hydro Plan. For example, if there is a large claim against OPG which could affect OPG's ability to make its pension contributions, the OPG directors will want to know that the indemnity agreement will protect OPG in this regard and allow OPG to make its pension contributions.

 A response from IESO on this is pending. We will send to you once we receive it.*

10. Have previous Cabinet or TB submissions made reference to the requirement for indemnity agreements for IESO and OPG?

ENERGY's Response: No, the Cabinet decks and TB submissions in March did not reference the need for indemnity.

In the draft June TB submission, the document states that legislation includes… "scope of provincial undertaking and enabling the Province to provide guarantees and indemnities to back stop that undertaking."

11. It is mentioned that IESO and OPG management view their participation under the OFHP Act as "…outside their typical business activities and corporate mandate". However, the legislation is specifically adding these activities as objects and activities of the companies? Wouldn't their other corporate documents be updated to reflect their role in OFHP? Can't the Minister of Energy provide an updated mandate to OPG and IESO? However, would this potentially affect accounting?

OPG's Response: OPG acknowledges that the Electricity Act has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the Fair Hydro Plan. This was a technical amendment designed to ensure that OPG could, if it chose to, participate in the Fair Hydro Plan. However, the role that the Province has requested OPG carry out in connection with the Fair Hydro Plan is outside its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation and therefore OPG's directors will need the indemnity agreement in order to approve OPG's participation in the Fair Hydro Plan. The accounting criteria that enable OPG to consolidate the financing entity is based on the relevant activities of the financing entity, and who has the power to control those activities. It is not dependent on the legal form of the structure, as accounting looks beyond legal form to the 'substance' of the transaction.

IESO's Response: The Fair Hydro Plan is a new element of IESO's mandate that it is being asked to implement, and one that may create material risk to the IESO, and potentially its directors, officers and employees.

Generally, the IESO currently administers a net zero market where money in equals money out within the normal monthly cycle (in the case of the current RPP program, the cash flows are expected to net to zero every six months). The Fair Hydro program(s) provides where the IESO will be responsible to settle and potentially carry very large amounts over many years and the IESO may be embroiled with investors' responsibilities as OPG Trust sells to investors.

12. The latest draft of the OPG Indemnity Agreement, second recital, now states that the indemnity is for "…risk of liability due to or as a result of the Fair Hydro Plan.". Previously, the indemnity only covered its role in the Fair Hydro Plan. Are there any concerns with this broader language?

OPG's Response: The Protected Persons need to be fully protected as a result of any claim connected to the Fair Hydro Plan. Having regard to this general principle, OPG would be happy to consider other drafting for this recital if desired by the Province.

ENERGY's Response: We note that the actual text of the indemnities state that indemnification would be triggered for certain losses/claims arising "as a result of the Corporation's, [any of the Corporation's subsidiaries in the case of OPG] and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan. In this way the indemnity is restricted to acts/omissions of a Protected Person in the implementation or relating to the Fair Hydro Plan rather than claims due to or resulting from the Fair Hydro Plan in and of itself. However, we are happy to re-draft this provision to address OFA/MOF's concerns.

13. 9(c) – Should this also reference that certain remedies such as specific performance etc. not available against the Crown? Suggest reviewing against representations given in other agreements, etc.

ENERGY's Response: We are open to putting this into the current draft before sending back to OPG/IESO for final review.

14. Contingent Liability chart may need to be made more consistent with business case.

ENERGY's Response: we can make those changes – could you please further specify what changes you are referring to?

15. Assume any payments under the indemnity would be made by the Ministry of Energy from its allocations.

ENERGY's Response: ENERGY's allocation will not be able to support payments under the indemnity in the event that the contingent liability materialises. Should the payment be required, the Ministry will need to return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation. This would be under Vote/Item 2905 - 01.

As background, ENERGY only has control of about 2% of its allocation to deliver on its mandate and commitments (i.e., payroll, ODOEs and ad hoc transfer payments). The largest component of ENERGY's allocation is for the rate mitigation programs that are demand-driven entitlement programs. Spending is non-discretionary and the Ministry does not have control over this allocation.

- IESO will enter into commercial arrangements with the financing entity relating to the transfer of the regulatory asset, and to servicing arrangements relating to recovery of the clean energy adjustment.
- It is unclear at the moment what additional requirements OPG or the banks / underwriters may request.

2. Should indemnity agreements be tailored to specific circumstances of each company? Currently they appear to be drafted identically.

ENERGY's Response: Yes, the scope of the work and who is covered under the indemnity will further be tailored to the specific circumstances of IESO/OPG. However, the general provisions making up most of the Indemnity would be the same for both as we would want to be providing OPG/IESO with similar type of rights under the Indemnity.

3. Indemnity would cover "loss of profits" and "loss of opportunity" – Is this too broad?

ENERGY's Response: No, we do not think that this is too broad. The Province has previously provided OPG directors indemnities (s.28 approval granted) that indemnified directors "from and against any and all losses" – this wording would be broad enough to cover both loss of profits and loss of opportunity.

4. Please provide more detail on the type of insurance that OPG and IESO have to cover these risks? i.e. directors and officers insurance?

OPG's Response: OPG maintains Directors & Officers (D & O) Liability insurance with limits of USD $110M. The D&O liability insurance includes Personal Coverage (Side A) and Corporate Reimbursement Coverage (Side B) as follows:

Personal Coverage (Side A)

Under Personal Coverage (Side A), the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the Insured Person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such Insured Person. The full $110M limit is available for Side A coverage.

Corporate Reimbursement Coverage (Side B)

Under the Corporate Reimbursement Coverage (Side B), the policy reimburses the Company for losses incurred to indemnify an Insured Person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500K.

Directors and Officers have priority of payments over the Company for the entire $110M limit.

In addition, we note that pursuant to Section 2(a) of the draft Indemnity Agreement that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

IESO Response: IESO carries:

- Directors & Officers insurance: max $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are included in the definition of Individual Insureds.
- Professional liability: max $75 million limit.

5. Has OPG given a standard indemnity to its directors and officers that would be called upon first before the indemnity from the Province?

OPG's Response: OPG has provided its directors (but not its officers or employees) with an indemnity.

IESO's Response: Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

6. What is the standard that is applied to conducting a reasonable investigation for "due diligence" defence? Is it possible to fail to meet that standard without gross negligence or wilful misconduct?

OPG's Response: The test under the Securities Act (Ontario) is a reasonableness test. It is therefore certainly possible for a Protected Person to fail to meet the standard for the due diligence defence while not also committing gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

7. What is the purpose of the provincial waiver of claims – as distinct from the protection provided by the indemnity?

ENERGY's Response: The purpose of the indemnity is to provide indemnification to the Protected Persons (cover Persons to the extent of their losses that are covered under the indemnity (indemnity excludes losses related to the Protected Persons' gross negligence, wrongful misconduct, or dishonesty). The purpose of the waiver is to restrict the province's ability to bring any claims (other than those arising out of gross negligence and wilful misconduct) against the Protected Persons. OPG has specifically requested the waiver. They believe that because they are carrying out the Fair Hydro Plan activities at the request of the Province, they should be given this waiver in the indemnity. We believe the risk associated with providing this waiver is likely low given that it is unlikely that the Province would bring a claim against a Protected Person for acts they would be providing an indemnity to the Protected Person for.

8. In what situations would a director, officer or employee be acting in a different capacity at the request of the company?

OPG's Response: One example arises if a financing entity is a trust. OPG directors/officers/employees will need to sign the prospectus/offering documents, but not in their capacities as those directors/officers/employees of OPG as the offering documents will not be offering documents of OPG. The directors/officers/employees will be performing these functions as a result of OPG acting as the Financial Services Manager of the financing entity.

9. Does the indemnity for OPG and its subsidiaries also include SPV (financing entity) and its directors, officers and employees?
    - What impact does this have on the SPV being treated as a separate entity to the OPG from an accounting perspective?
    - Or does SPV require an indemnity as well and why?
    - How does an indemnity for the SPV interact or overlap with the request for a guarantee from the Province in connection with the proposed financing transaction?

OPG's Response: OPG has clarified that it is not OPG's intention that the financing entities themselves be covered by this Indemnity Agreement. The Protected Persons would include

OPG and its subsidiaries that are not financing entities. Separate arrangements with the Province are being negotiated for the financing entities.

- Has consideration been given to limiting the indemnity to directors, officers and employees and not indemnifying the corporations, OPG, IESO, its subs? What are the implications?

ENERGY's Response: We had initially considered limiting the indemnities to directors and officers. However, IESO and OPG both have indicated that they require their respective indemnity cover their respective corporation as well (and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries) given the nature of the risks they face.

OPCD is being consulted on whether there are accounting implications on extending the Indemnities to the Corporations and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries. If there are accounting implications, ENERGY can take this back to OPG/IESO for further negotiation (i.e. to limit the indemnity to directors, officers and employees).

OPG's Response: OPG has indicated that they require an indemnity for the corporation and its subsidiaries for the following reason: as noted above in Question #1, OPG (and its subsidiaries) have potential liability to many stakeholders, including, for example, its pensioners. In approving OPG's participation in the Fair Hydro Plan, the OPG directors will want to know that these stakeholders are protected in the event that OPG or any of its subsidiaries is liable for a claim in relation to the Fair Hydro Plan. For example, if there is a large claim against OPG which could affect OPG's ability to make its pension contributions, the OPG directors will want to know that the indemnity agreement will protect OPG in this regard and allow OPG to make its pension contributions.

 A response from IESO on this is pending. We will send to you once we receive it.*

10. Have previous Cabinet or TB submissions made reference to the requirement for indemnity agreements for IESO and OPG?

ENERGY's Response: No, the Cabinet decks and TB submissions in March did not reference the need for indemnity.

In the draft June TB submission, the document states that legislation includes… "scope of provincial undertaking and enabling the Province to provide guarantees and indemnities to back stop that undertaking."

11. It is mentioned that IESO and OPG management view their participation under the OFHP Act as "…outside their typical business activities and corporate mandate". However, the legislation is specifically adding these activities as objects and activities of the companies? Wouldn't their other corporate documents be updated to reflect their role in OFHP? Can't the Minister of Energy provide an updated mandate to OPG and IESO? However, would this potentially affect accounting?

OPG's Response: OPG acknowledges that the Electricity Act has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the Fair Hydro Plan. This was a technical amendment designed to ensure that OPG could, if it chose to, participate in the Fair Hydro Plan. However, the role that the Province has requested OPG carry out in connection with the Fair Hydro Plan is outside its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation and therefore OPG's directors will need the indemnity agreement in order to approve OPG's participation in the Fair Hydro Plan. The accounting criteria that enable OPG to consolidate the financing entity is based on the relevant activities of the financing entity, and who has the power to control those activities. It is not dependent on the legal form of the structure, as accounting looks beyond legal form to the 'substance' of the transaction.

IESO's Response: The Fair Hydro Plan is a new element of IESO's mandate that it is being asked to implement, and one that may create material risk to the IESO, and potentially its directors, officers and employees.

Generally, the IESO currently administers a net zero market where money in equals money out within the normal monthly cycle (in the case of the current RPP program, the cash flows are expected to net to zero every six months). The Fair Hydro program(s) provides where the IESO will be responsible to settle and potentially carry very large amounts over many years and the IESO may be embroiled with investors' responsibilities as OPG Trust sells to investors.

12. The latest draft of the OPG Indemnity Agreement, second recital, now states that the indemnity is for "…risk of liability due to or as a result of the Fair Hydro Plan.". Previously, the indemnity only covered its role in the Fair Hydro Plan. Are there any concerns with this broader language?

OPG's Response: The Protected Persons need to be fully protected as a result of any claim connected to the Fair Hydro Plan. Having regard to this general principle, OPG would be happy to consider other drafting for this recital if desired by the Province.

ENERGY's Response: We note that the actual text of the indemnities state that indemnification would be triggered for certain losses/claims arising "as a result of the Corporation's, [any of the Corporation's subsidiaries in the case of OPG] and/or any such other Protected Person's activities, acts and/or omissions in the implementation of, or otherwise relating to, the Fair Hydro Plan. In this way the indemnity is restricted to acts/omissions of a Protected Person in the implementation or relating to the Fair Hydro Plan rather than claims due to or resulting from the Fair Hydro Plan in and of itself. However, we are happy to re-draft this provision to address OFA/MOF's concerns.

13. 9(c) – Should this also reference that certain remedies such as specific performance etc. not available against the Crown? Suggest reviewing against representations given in other agreements, etc.

ENERGY's Response: We are open to putting this into the current draft before sending back to OPG/IESO for final review.

14. Contingent Liability chart may need to be made more consistent with business case.

ENERGY's Response: we can make those changes – could you please further specify what changes you are referring to?

15. Assume any payments under the indemnity would be made by the Ministry of Energy from its allocations.

ENERGY's Response: ENERGY's allocation will not be able to support payments under the indemnity in the event that the contingent liability materialises. Should the payment be required, the Ministry will need to return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation. This would be under Vote/Item 2905 - 01.

As background, ENERGY only has control of about 2% of its allocation to deliver on its mandate and commitments (i.e., payroll, ODOEs and ad hoc transfer payments). The largest component of ENERGY's allocation is for the rate mitigation programs that are demand-driven entitlement programs. Spending is non-discretionary and the Ministry does not have control over this allocation.

Hi Malle,

That paragraph was my attempt to summarize paragraphs 1 and 2 from the OPG Agreement. In particular 2 below. But I wasn't providing any value-added in terms of interpreting paragraph 2, and I wasn't making the connection to the waiver. I'm happy to take your advice on the wording.

> 2. For greater clarity, "Corporation's subsidiaries" as used in this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), whether such financing entities are actually a subsidiary of the Corporation or not; and the terms "Protected Persons" or "Protected Persons" under this indemnity agreement do not include any financing entities (as defined in the Act), being a subsidiary of the Corporation or otherwise, provided that, for clarity, any such financing entities' respective directors, officers, trustees, and/or employees shall be considered "Protected Persons" if he or she is also a director, officer or employee of the Corporation or any of the Corporation's subsidiaries.

Thanks

Subject: RE: OPG/IESO indemnity Responses to OFA Questions

Hi Bruno,

I reviewed the briefing note and have a question regarding the description of scope of indemnity in the first paragraph and on p. 2 – who the indemnity applies to. The complication is the activities of the OPG directors, officers and employees when they at the request of OPG undertake another activity in the implementation of the OFHP and in particular respecting OPG's role as Financial Services manager on behalf of the financing entity if it's a trust. This is explained on p. 8 of Energy's business case and of course is mentioned expressly in the OPG indemnity. It doesn't really seem that these individuals would be appointed as directors, officers and employees of the financing entity trust but it's possible. Maybe the language in these 2 paragraphs has been carefully written to cover these potential roles as it does mention "trustee" so that these individuals might be acting as a trustee of the financing entity in that case.

I wrote the below wording based on p. 8 so just send it for your consideration. I'm not sure if it's better or if you have specifically considered this point. I didn't mark up the note.
The indemnity is being given in favour of "Protected Persons" which comprises IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries (excluding the financing entity) as well as their respective directors, officers and employees. In the case of directors, officers and employees of OPG and its subsidiaries this could include where at the request of OPG, they undertake activities in another capacity in the implementation of the OFHP or OPG's role as Financial Services Manager of the financing entity, for example, signing documents on behalf of a financing entity that is a trust.

Also on p. 5 under Accounting Treatment, change MENE to Ministry of Energy.

Thank you.

Bruno,

Please find attached a markup of the note. I have made some changes to the organization and tried to streamline the note. We think there should also be a section on mitigation measures, and perhaps that can incorporate some of the existing note, plus anything that can be added from Energy's materials. There is still some work to do on the analysis part, but I wanted to make sure you had a head start on what I have done so far.

I have also reviewed the note and have some suggestions to assist with make it shorter and more concise.

I don't think that we need to mention s. 5 because it doesn't apply to this indemnity. S. 5 requires a joint agreement by the 2 Ministers which is not the case here so I suggest we delete the references to this.

Can we remove the watermark as it makes it hard to read. It's still marked as a draft.

Maybe it would be helpful to accept all the font changes and remove the comments that are no longer required and then we can work from that version.

Thanks.

Thanks for comments and edits.

I'm wondering about language that I had added in the "Previous Direction on Indemnity for IESO and OPG" section. In that part, I note that language in s.5 (2) of the Act around Protection and Assurances might be general direction covering these indemnities. On re-reading I'm wondering if any of the language in s.5 can be seen as providing general direction/coverage for the current indemnity agreement.

The "including" statement in s.5(2) is clearly about the IESO and vendor performance, but 5(2) is not limited to that. However, s.5(2) language says ["Minister and Minister of Finance may together enter into Agreements....with]" . The Agreement in question is just Minister of Energy and the parties. I'm not sure that s.28 approval satisfies the "together" part.

Also S.5(3) is about indemnifications, but my read was this was indemnifying debt rather than persons.

Thanks
Bruno

Please see attached my comments up to this point on the indemnity note. I have started to work on the analysis part of the note, as I think with the many changes in the note we have some duplication and could tighten that part up, so note that this markup does not reflect any changes to that part.

Our comment is mainly to respond to their question back to us about inconsistencies between the contingent liability table and the approval request note. In particular, the Liability table stated the probability of liability as low while the business case noted risk indeterminable (albeit with some mitigating factors). As well the table noted maximum financial exposure will be linked to the OPG financing entity's debt offerings. It isn't clear from the note that potential claims are limited to debt offerings or indeed if the claims would necessarily directly related to debt offerings.

DRAFT: Confidential and Commercially Sensitive Advice to the Minister

MINISTER OF ENERGY REQUEST FOR SECTION 28 APPROVAL FOR INDEMNITY AGREEMENTS IN FAVOUR OF OPG AND IESO FOR THEIR PARTICIPATION UNDER THE ONTARIO FAIR HYDRO PLAN ACT

ISSUE

The Minister of Energy is requesting approval from the Minister of Finance, pursuant to Section 28 of the Financial Administration Act ("FAA") to enter into Indemnity Agreements ("Agreements"), on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation ("OPG"),and its subsidiaries (excluding a subsidiary that is a financing entity) and the Independent Electricity System Operator ("IESO") with respect to their ~~respective~~ roles in carrying out the implementation of the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan ("OFHP") under the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Act, 2017 (the "OFHP Act"). The indemnities would extend to the directors, officers and employees of these entities, and, directors, officers, trustees and/or employees of a financing entity, if he or she is also a director, officer or employee of OPG~~of the corporation~~ or one of its subsidiaries.

Section 28 of the FAA requires that all ministries and public entities request the prior written approval of the Minister of Finance or the President of the Treasury Board for any transaction or commitment that would directly or indirectly increase the indebtedness or contingent liabilities of Ontario.

RECOMMENDATION

- It is recommended that the Minister of Finance approve, pursuant to Section 28 of the FAA, the Ministry of Energy's request to provide indemnities and waivers, on behalf of the Crown, in favour of Ontario Power Generation (OPG) and the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO) in the forms requested (the "Indemnity Agreements" and individually an "Indemnity Agreement".
- IESO and OPG have stated that without these indemnities and waivers they will not be able to participate in the implementation of the OFHP Act.
- In order for the OFHP Act to be successful, it is recommended by the Minister of Energy that the Minister of Finance approve this request.

WHAT IS THE MINISTER BEING ASKED TO SIGN?

The Minister is being asked to sign the section 28 approval forms and the transmittal letter to Glenn Thibeault, Minister of Energy.

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED INDEMNITIES

This summary of the OPG/IESO Indemnity Agreement sets out why indemnities are being sought, who is being indemnified, for what, and also addresses the proposed waiver of claims, whereby the Province agrees not to bring certain claims against the indemnified parties.

Why are indemnities being sought?

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the OFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the OFHP.

Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith" (see Appendix A for details on potential risks and Appendix B for details on limitations to existing protections to IESO, OPG and directors, officers and employees).

Who the Indemnity Applies to

The indemnity is being given in favour of "Protected Persons" which comprises IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries (excluding the financing entity) as well as their respective directors, officers and employees.

In the case of directors, officers and employees of OPG and its subsidiaries, they could also be indemnified for activities undertaken on behalf of an entity that is not included in the definition of Protected Persons where they are doing so in the implementation of the OFHP or for OPG's role as Financial Services Manager of a financing entity, for example, signing documents on behalf of a financing entity that is a trust at the request of OPG or acting as directors, officers or employees of entities that are carved out of the Indemnity Agreement, where they are doing so in the implementation of the OFHP and are also a director, officer or employee of OPG or any of OPG's subsidiaries. ~~The indemnity is being given in favour of "Protected Persons" which comprises IESO and OPG, and OPG's subsidiaries (excluding the financing entity) as well as their respective directors, officers and employees, and directors, officers, trustees and/or employees of a financing entity if he or she is also a director, officers or employee of the corporation or one of its subsidiaries.~~

What Indemnities are being provided?

Protected Persons are being indemnified against all losses, costs, damages and other expenses for any amount for which they incur damages in relation to any civil, criminal, administrative, investigative and/or other claim that relates to any act or omission that the Protected Person undertakes in relationship to the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Protected Persons are indemnified for regular and punitive as well as a broad range of other types of damages that are not always included in an indemnity, such as consequential damages and economic losses. The indemnity also covers costs and expenses for the Protected Persons in defending themselves against a claim. These indemnities are for any act or omission and activity that relates to the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Indemnity Agreements provide that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnities contained therein to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity. The indemnities provided in the Indemnity Agreements also apply where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.

The indemnities do not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person. It is also explicitly carved out of this exception that a failure to conduct reasonable due diligence investigation will not in itself constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct, which narrows the exception in the context of disclosure and activities relating to issuing securities in public markets such that failing to conduct due diligence will not necessarily invalidate the Indemnity.

Scope of liability in the indemnities

The Indemnity Agreement provides that the Protected Person shall not benefit from the indemnities contained therein to the extent that the losses are already covered by an insurance policy or another indemnity (though to the extent that the Protected Person makes a claim on an indemnity that creates a loss for another Protected Person, such as OPG and its subsidiaries and the IESO, such other Protected Person may make a claim under an Indemnity Agreement). The indemnities provided in the Indemnity Agreement also apply where, in the case of a criminal or administrative proceeding, the Protected Person had a reasonable belief that their conduct was lawful.

The indemnities contained in the Indemnity Agreement do not apply where the loss relates to the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Protected Person. It is also explicitly carved out of this exception that a failure to conduct reasonable due diligence investigation will not in itself constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct, which narrows the exception in the context of disclosure and activities relating to issuing securities in public markets such that failing to conduct due diligence will not necessarily invalidate the Indemnity.

Waiver of claim provision

The waiver of claims provision provides that the Province will not make a claim against a Protected Person who is an individual (i.e., does not apply to OPG/IESO or subsidiaries) relating to any activities associated with the Fair Hydro Plan.

The waiver of claims provision does not apply to claims for willful misconduct, dishonesty or gross negligence.

Notification of Claims

The Indemnity Agreement sets out how the Protected Person should notify the Province of any claims, and how any proceedings should be dealt with amongst the parties, as well as how any expenses and amounts should be paid during the determination of the claim.

Provincial Warranty

The Indemnity Agreement includes a warranty section given by the Province. In this section the Province Warrants that it has the authority and capacity, and has taken all necessary steps to enter into the Indemnity Agreement.

- This is an unusual provision, but likely relates to the fact that the Province is not the employer of the indemnified party, or the officers and directors are not the officers and directors of the Province.

KEY CONSIDERATIONS AND RISKS

The Indemnity Agreements give an indemnity for a broader range of actions than those that are usually given to indemnitees of the Province, specifically by giving an indemnity for actions that are not in the best interest of the corporation and may not be in good faith;

The Indemnity Agreements extend to the OPG and the IESO as corporations, beyond the more normal practice of indemnifying directors, officers and employees; and also extends to subsidiaries of the OPG, excluding financing entities under the OFHP Act.

The Indemnity Agreements include a waiver of claims with respect to indemnitees who are individuals by the Province as shareholder, meaning that except for gross negligence, dishonesty and wilful misconduct, the Province cannot bring an action against an indemnified individual.

Potential Fiscal Impact

The Ministry of Energy states that the risk of the Province providing the Indemnity Agreements is undeterminable and unquantifiable at this time, due to uncertainty around possible claims under the Indemnities. The Ministry of Energy notes, however, the risk is mitigated by the existence of statutory immunities under the Electricity Act, 1998, for IESO, and under the OFHP Act, for OPG, (see further discussion below), pre-existing protection for director and officers under insurance and the limitation of indemnity to claims arising from IESO's and OPG's respective roles in implementing the OFHP.

Because the Indemnity Agreements are not capped the Provincial exposure is not limited and will extend to the extent of any claim that is covered by the Indemnity Agreements.

The Ministry of Energy notes that in the event that an indemnity claim does arise and a payment is required, the Ministry would be unlikely to be able to support these payments and would need to return to TB/MBC for an increase in its allocation.

Accounting Treatment

There is a risk associated with the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA Financing portion of the OFHP. With the Province providing guarantee agreements, financial support through credit facilities and the proposed agreements to indemnify the IESO and OPG, the case for the anticipated accounting treatment of the GA structure could be weakened.

OPCD has confirmed that OPG has received advice that the accounting treatment will be consistent with the GA Financing Structure. IESO is expected to also confirm the same.

~~MENE~~ The Minister of Energy had initially considered limiting the indemnities to directors and officers. However, IESO and OPG both have indicated that they require their respective indemnity cover their corporations as well (and in the case of OPG, its subsidiaries) given the nature of the risks they face.

Previous Direction on Indemnity for IESO and OPG

There is no existing Cabinet direction for the Ministry of Energy to provide the requested Indemnities to IESO and OPG.

Insofar as IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, providing the requested indemnities will support implementation of the Fair Hydro Plan.

The Treasury Board Assessment Note of June 13, 2017, included reference to the indemnities required by OPG and IESO.

Other protections and assurances are current being discussed under a Provincial Support Agreement that would include indemnities for the Financing Entity against claims from creditors as a result of government amending or repealing the Act or court rulings adversely affecting the rights and interest of the Financing Entity and performance assurances from the Province for the IESO and electricity vendors.

DESCRIPTION OF RISK AND RISK MITIGATION

The ONFHP is a novel program, and as a financing structure it is the first of its kind in Canada. Because the work to be undertaken by OPG (and OPG's subsidiaries where applicable) and IESO in carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP will fall outside of the usual operations/business risk that these corporations face, there is a risk that these corporations may be subject to increased liability specifically due to their roles with the ONFHP. This risk arises in part because of the kind of market that OPG, and IESO indirectly, are to participate in, and the steps that investors could take to protect their investments (see further details on risks in Appendix A).

The exact nature and scope of the risk to the Province of giving the Indemnities is undeterminable at this time, but the risk of liability for the Province arising may be low, with respect to directors, officers and employees, as any such risk may be mitigated by the following factors:

- In the case of the IESO, the existence of a statutory immunity under subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 may mitigate against a liability arising against its directors, officers and employees, but does not eliminate such risk.
- In the case of OPG, the proposed statutory immunity under subsection 39(1) of the Act may mitigate against a liability arising against its employees, but does not eliminate such risk.
- The Indemnities are limited to claims arising in relation to the Protected Persons' respective roles in relation to implementing the ONFHP.
- The Indemnities do not apply with respect to Losses for which coverage is provided under insurance, to the extent already paid under such insurance.
- The Indemnities do not apply to Losses that are a result of the Protected Person's dishonesty, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

Although there is a provision in the Indemnity Agreements that provides that a claim relating to the OFHP should initially be made on any indemnity that is already in place ~~by~~from the IESO or OPG for the benefit of their respective directors, officers or employees before making a claim on the Province's indemnity, if the IESO or OPG suffer a loss because they have indemnified such director, officer or employee they would ~~likely~~ be ~~eligible~~able to make a claim under an Indemnity Agreement. Thus, the Province would, to the extent such a claim was not covered by an insurance policy, be liable for such a loss of the IESO or OPG.

With respect to the corporations themselves (and in the case of OPG, its Subsidiaries as well) the risk may be higher, but is undeterminable at this time. The likelihood of risk to the Province is characterized as medium, given that OPG and IESO have not identified any insurance or indemnities that would cover the corporations themselves (or in the case of OPG, the Subsidiaries themselves) in the event that such liability arises, nor is statutory protection provided for the corporations themselves.

BACKGROUND

On March 2, 2017, the government announced Ontario's Fair Hydro Plan (the "OFHP"), under which the government will take steps to lower electricity bills [on an after-tax basis] by 25 per cent on average for a typical residential customer, starting July 1, 2017, relative to what the bills would otherwise have been without the OFHP.

Changes to refinance a portion of the Global Adjustment ("GA") are a component of the 25 per cent rate relief under the OFHP. This includes roles for both IESO and OPG:

IESO – legislation imposes certain obligations and requirements on IESO to carry out various activities to implement the OFHP such as the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to deferred costs and the GA financing component of the OFHP, the conveyance of that asset to a financing entity (expected to be established by OPG) and providing a servicing role in recovering the financing entity's funding costs from future ratepayers. IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. This may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO.

OPG – OPG is expected to finance the purchase of the regulatory asset, related to deferred costs, through a financing entity that OPG creates. OPG considers risks associated with these OFHP-related activities to be beyond OPG's usual business/operations. This is particularly true with respect to any securities offerings of OPG's financing entity. Products are expected to be offered into the Canadian and U.S. Markets. As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its directors, officers and employees.

The 25 per cent rate relief also includes the rebate amount equivalent to the 8 per cent Provincial portion of the HST that has been in effect since January 1, 2017 under the Ontario Rebate for Electricity Consumers Act, 2016, and the expected savings from the shifting of the Ontario Electricity Support Program ("OESP") and the Rural or Remote Rate Protection program ("RRRP") costs from ratepayers to being funded by the Province.

APPENDIX A

Potential Risks Related to OPG/IESO Roles in Implementing the Ontario Fair Hydro Plan

OPG – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Electricity Act, 1998 ("EA") has been amended to contemplate that OPG's objects include those related to the ONFHP. This amendment was designed to ensure that OPG could participate in the ONFHP. OPG will play a central role in the implementation of the ONFHP, particularly with respect to the implementation of the GA refinancing component of the ONFHP. As part of the ONFHP, it was announced that a portion of the GA will be refinanced in order to fairly allocate costs across present and future generations of electricity consumers with respect to investments made to decarbonize (i.e., phase-out coal) and modernize Ontario's electricity system (i.e., build and maintain a reliable electricity system). This would result in a deferred GA amount that a special purpose entity created by OPG (i.e. a financing entity as defined in the Act) is expected to finance.

In carrying out this role, OPG will be carrying out activities that fall outside of its typical business activities and corporate mandate relating to power generation. As a result, OPG, its directors, officers, and employees may be faced with increased risk of liability. Examples of such risks related to financing, include without limitation:

- liability as a promoter under Canadian securities laws (or the equivalent, if any, under other applicable securities laws);
- secondary market liability under Canadian and/or other applicable securities laws;
- liability the signatories to the prospectuses will have (i.e., the individuals signing the prospectus); and
- liability of OPG as the Financial Services Manager under any of the transaction agreements (e.g., the Financial Services Management Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the MSSA, the Master Trust Indenture and any Supplemental Indentures).

OPG and its Subsidiaries, and their respective directors, officers, employees may also be faced with risk of liability to:

- underwriters/agents selling debt securities of the financing entities
- the purchasers of debt securities of the financing entities (both initial purchasers and subsequent purchasers of the debt securities in the secondary markets)
- counterparties to agreements (e.g. the trustee of a financing entity that is a trust or IESO)
- other stakeholders (the Province, as shareholder of OPG, pensioners, and employees) of OPG if OPG (or any Subsidiary of it) is liable for any claim or obligation and cannot meet its obligations to these stakeholders as a result of such claims.
- Regulators (e.g. the Ontario Securities Commission)

- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect OPG, its Subsidiaries and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate OPG and OPG's Subsidiaries in undertaking their role with respect to the implementation of the ONFHP.

IESO – Role in Implementation of ONFHP and Associated Risks

The Act also imposes certain obligations and requirements on the IESO to carry out various activities in relation to the implementation of the ONFHP such as the deferral of costs related to the GA, the creation of a regulatory asset in relation to the GA financing component of the ONFHP, the conveyance of that asset to OPG's financing entities and providing a servicing role in recovering OPG's funding costs from future ratepayers. The IESO may also be required to play a role in potential securities offerings of OPG's financing entities. If so, this may come with heightened exposure to liability for the IESO, particularly for offerings into the U.S. market. The IESO has expressed concern that all of this drives an increased risk of liability to the IESO, its directors, officers and employees, which is over and above typical operations risks and arises solely due to the ONFHP.

Other examples of sources/activities giving rise to increased risk of liability for the IESO, its directors, officers and employees include the following:

- Investors in any ONFHP investments or underwriters and banks regarding the offering of the investment asset to investors, as well as any securities prospectus or underwriting arrangements, with the IESO named and/or IESO being involved;
- OPG (or the financing entity) in relation to the commercial arrangements regarding transfer of the regulatory asset and servicing of the investment asset, and related activities;
- Market participants, program participants for issues in liquidity (e.g. short pay);
- Taxation authorities where prior approval of IESO's treatment is not approved by taxation authorities;
- Securities commissions regulators (U.S./Canada); and
- Parties who may challenge the Act or any component of it and include the IESO as a party to such challenge.

As a result, pre-existing indemnities and protections do not adequately protect IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees as explained further below.

Providing the requested Indemnity would help facilitate the IESO's undertaking of the activities requested by the Province in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP.

APPENDIX B

Why Indemnities are being sought and limitations to protection under statutory protections and/or Insurance

Indemnities are required to facilitate IESO and OPG in carrying out their respective roles in implementing the ONFHP

The provision of the Indemnities is required in order to facilitate the implementation of the ONFHP. Both OPG and the IESO are required to carry out activities that may fall outside the scope of their typical business activities and corporate mandate. As a result, these activities could be perceived as not being carried out in "good faith" or in the best interest of the corporation thereby exposing OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, IESO, and their respective directors, officers and employees to increased liability.

Even if the corporate mandates of OPG and the IESO were updated to include their role in implementing the ONFHP, this may not eliminate the risk of the types of liabilities outlined above completely, particularly due to the novelty of the ONFHP and the types of roles that OPG and IESO will be taking on. For example, persons could still challenge the Act or any component of it and include OPG or the IESO as a party to such challenge.

While statutory protection from liability is provided to IESO's directors, officers and employees, and to OPG's employees these protections are limited to "good faith acts". Therefore, the statutory protections do not preclude persons from bringing a claim against the Protected Persons (as defined in the Indemnities) in relation to these activities on the grounds of "bad faith". Generally speaking the Indemnities are intended to provide the Protected Persons with indemnification for losses/liabilities, including those for potentially "bad faith acts", unless any such acts arise as a result of the Protected Persons' dishonesty, gross negligence, or wilful misconduct. As described below in subsection (ii), the statutory protections also do not indemnify for costs relating to defending a claim. The statutory protections also do not extend to the corporations themselves.

Both the IESO and OPG have specifically asked for these Indemnities in order to allow them to carry out their roles in implementing the ONFHP. Providing the requested Indemnities will provide OPG, OPG's Subsidiaries, the IESO and each of their respective directors, officers and employees with assurance against liability in order to allow them to comprehensively carry out their respective roles in the successful implementation of the ONFHP.

Statutory Immunity does not preclude a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding

Subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998 provides IESO directors, officers and employees with the following protection from liability:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against a director, officer, employee or agent of the IESO or a member of a committee or panel established by the board of directors of the IESO for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under any Act, the regulations under any Act, the IESO's licence, the IESO's by-laws or the market rules, or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

The Electricity Act, 1998 does not contain a similar statutory immunity for OPG's directors, officers, employees or agents. However, under subsection 39(1) of the Act, a statutory immunity is provided to the OPG's employees. This provision states:

"No action or other civil proceeding shall be commenced against any employee of the Province or Ontario Power Generation Inc. for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or the intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under the Act, the regulations or for any alleged neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty."

Subsection 39(2) of the Act provides that nothing in subsection 39(1) limits the effect of subsection 19(1) of the Electricity Act, 1998.

The statutory immunities provided under the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Act prohibit an action or other civil proceeding from being commenced against the enumerated persons for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance of their duties. However, nothing precludes a person from bringing an action or other civil proceeding against these persons causing them to incur costs in defending the claim (for example, arguing that the act was not carried out in "good faith").

The immunity from suit provisions outlined above, are qualified by the words "for any act done in good faith in the exercise or performance or intended exercise or performance of a power or duty under this Act…" This is a question of fact that needs to be considered by a court of competent jurisdiction. As such, statutory immunity would not necessarily be a bar to litigation and does not ensure that the IESO's and OPG's employees, officer or directors (as applicable) would not become embroiled in litigation.

In the case of OPG, there is no similar statutory immunity explicitly provided for its directors, or officers so the risk of litigation is greater for these individuals.

For the reasons mentioned above, the Indemnities requested under this application would ensure that if a claim is brought against the Protected Persons as a result of carrying out their roles in implementing the ONFHP, they are fully protected for any costs, losses etc. subject to the limitations provided for in the Indemnities.

Insurance and indemnities that the IESO and OPG currently provide to its directors, officers and employees may not fully cover risk

OPG –Insurance and Indemnities

Currently, OPG has indicated that it maintains Directors and Officers liability insurance ("D&O Insurance") with limits of USD $110 Million. The D&O Insurance includes persona coverage (side A) and corporate reimbursement coverage (side B). Under the side A coverage, OPG has advised that the policy pays losses where the organization is either not permitted by law or unable due to insolvency to indemnify the insured person under the policy (includes directors, officers and designated executives). This includes losses arising from a claim made during the policy period for a wrongful act (e.g. breach of duty, neglect, error, misstatement or omission) of such insured person. The full $110 Million limit is available for side A coverage.

Under side B coverage, OPG has advised that the policy reimburses the organization for losses incurred to indemnify an insured person under a D&O claim. The coverage is up to a maximum of USD $75 million, less the corporate deductible of $500,000.

OPG has advised that directors and officers have priority of payments over the organization for the entire $110M limit.

While this insurance provides coverage for directors and officers of OPG, there is no similar coverage provided for OPG's employees. Further, any liability stated over the maximum amounts would not be covered by the insurance policy. Pursuant to section 2(a) of the IESO Indemnity and section 3(a) of the OPG Indemnity, a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that coverage is provided under an insurance policy and such Protected Person is actually paid under such insurance policy.

OPG has indicated that they provide their directors an indemnity but not to their directors or employees. OPG has not provided information about the scope of this indemnity. However, the Indemnities provide that a Protected Person shall not be entitled to indemnification to the extent that other indemnities are already provided to a Protected Person to the extent that the Protected Person is actually so indemnified. This language is meant to ensure that the covered losses under the Indemnities will be covered by other applicable indemnities first, before being covered by this indemnity.

OPG has not provided any information about insurance coverage and indemnities that its subsidiaries provide to their directors, officers and employees.

IESO – Insurance and Indemnities

The IESO has informed that it carries Directors & Officers insurance providing a maximum $15 million limit and $200,000 retention per claim. Employees are also included in the definition of Individual Insureds. The IESO also carries Professional liability insurance providing a maximum $75 million limit.

Aside from indemnification arising by operation of common law for employees acting within the scope of their employment, the IESO has informed that it has provided formal indemnity as follows:

- IESO has provided an indemnity to its board members.
- There is an indemnity provided to members of the Society of Energy Professionals pursuant to their collective agreement, whose members form a subset of all employees at the IESO.

Existing Indemnities to OPG and IESO from the Province

Existing indemnities previously provided by the Province to OPG have been limited to specific directives provided to OPG by the Province (e.g., in connection with the Bruce Lease). Accordingly, the scope of the existing indemnities provided by the Province would not cover the ONFHP. We are not aware of any indemnities provided to the IESO by the Province.

Hi John,

I believe that the board meets on the 14th. I will double check, but I think the significance is to have the approval so the board can formally approve/confirm the agreement for execution on that date. We would want to execute the IESO and OPG indemnities at the same time.

Since we still need to get the final okay from OPG/IESO on the indemnities with the edits I sent to you, I am wondering whether in the interests of time you can confirm if you have any significant and substantive concerns with the revised indemnity provisions (specifically the clause 2(c) and 8 – as I do not think there were outstanding concerns with the other provisions). Wondering if we can send over the indemnity agreements to IESO and OPG for their final okay while you complete your review).

Please let me know.

Thanks,

Hi Toby, Ronald and John,

I understand that, Ronald and John, you were looking for the indemnity agreements and s.28 business case and exhibit A. I've attached those here for your review.

Please note that the indemnity agreements are pending OPG and IESO final confirmation. I was hoping to send the edits in the attached back to them once MOF had confirmed they have no further issues with provisions 2(c) and 8 in the attached agreements. These edits are based on ongoing discussions with OPG. The IESO indemnity has been revised to reflect the language of the OPG indemnity. Could you please let me know at your earliest whether there are any outstanding issues with the indemnities on your end so that I can send these back to OPG and IESO for their final review and confirmation? We will need their approval of the form of the agreements before we submit for s.28 approval.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

IESO/OPG Indemnities

Ministry of Finance Questions

1. Could you please provide specific concerns/scenarios for which OPG/IESO or its directors, officers and employees may become liable and which the indemnity is intended to cover?
    - You have provided the examples which are related to financing mostly. Are there any other activities? Who would be most likely to sue: investors, what about other groups? Are there situations where someone might not be acting in good faith and still warrant being covered under the indemnity? In that case, it would seem that the indemnity covers acting in bad faith. Should the indemnity cover actions "in good faith" to carry out the plan?
        i. Request for Approval points out that Electricity Act, 1998 already protects IESO's directors, officers, employees or agents against civil proceedings if they act in good faith in the exercise or performance of powers or duties under the Act, etc. or for any neglect or default in the exercise or performance in good faith of such a power or duty. The Fair Hydro Plan has similar language for OPG s. 39(1), but only for employees of OPG (and the Province). Why doesn't the statutory provision also cover OPG's directors and officers of OPG and those of its subs?
        ii. Has consideration been given to providing an indemnity to directors, officers and employees but not to the corporate entities themselves (IESO, OPG and its subs)
    - Currently, IESO collects payments from ratepayers via LDCs, so are there any new processes required as a result of implementing FHP? If so, what are new processes need to be in place that will increase IESO's business risk?

2. Should indemnity agreements be tailored to specific circumstances of each company? Currently they appear to be drafted identically.

3. Indemnity would cover "loss of profits" and "loss of opportunity" – Is this too broad?

4. Please provide more detail on the type of insurance that OPG and IESO have to cover these risks? i.e. directors and officers insurance?

5. Has OPG given a standard indemnity to its directors and officers that would be called upon first before the indemnity from the Province?

6. What is the standard that is applied to conducting a reasonable investigation for "due diligence" defence? Is it possible to fail to meet that standard without gross negligence or wilful misconduct?

7. What is the purpose of the provincial waiver of claims – as distinct from the protection provided by the indemnity?

8. In what situations would a director, officer or employee be acting in a different capacity at the request of the company?

9. Does the indemnity for OPG and its subsidiaries also include SPV (financing entity) and its directors, officers and employees?
    - What impact does this have on the SPV being treated as a separate entity to the OPG from an accounting perspective?
    - Or does SPV require an indemnity as well and why?
    - How does an indemnity for the SPV interact or overlap with the request for a guarantee from the Province in connection with the proposed financing transaction?
    - Has consideration been given to limiting the indemnity to directors, officers and employees and not indemnifying the corporations, OPG, IESO, its subs? What are the implications?

10. Have previous Cabinet or TB submissions made reference to the requirement for indemnity agreements for IESO and OPG?

11. It is mentioned that IESO and OPG management view their participation under the OFHP Act as "…outside their typical business activities and corporate mandate". However, the legislation is specifically adding these activities as objects and activities of the companies? Wouldn't their other corporate documents be updated to reflect their role in OFHP? Can't the Minister of Energy provide an updated mandate to OPG and IESO? However, would this potentially affect accounting?

12. The latest draft of the OPG Indemnity Agreement, second recital, now states that the indemnity is for "…risk of liability due to or as a result of the Fair Hydro Plan.". Previously, the indemnity only covered its role in the Fair Hydro Plan. Are there any concerns with this broader language?
13. 9(c) – Should this also reference that certain remedies such as specific performance etc not available against the Crown? Suggest reviewing against representations given in other agreements, etc.

14. Contingent Liability chart may need to be made more consistent with business case.

15. Assume any payments under the indemnity would be made by the Ministry of Energy from its allocations.

Hi Chris

Thanks, that's helpful. But in regard to the question you raise, I'm not sure how the ministry can have a voted allocation to cover the potential expense or demonstrate any specific mitigation strategy when they say the potential amount in unquantifiable. Do you know if TBS has dealt with these situations previously to see how this is handled?

Hi Bruno – It is not a requirement for ENERGY to have a separate/specific line related to the indemnity payment, although ENERGY could choose to create a line (the token placeholder you've referenced) which would require a TB/MBC minute if that is the approach they would like to take.

The broader issue is that ENERGY does not have the voted allocation to cover the indemnity should it occur. So the question to the ministry is how will it be covered and what are the mitigation strategies?

In addition, the ministry did receive voted appropriation for the Fair Hydro Plan but this allocation is under executive control (e.g. cannot be used for other purposes than originally specified) and if ENERGY were to try to use attempt to use some of this $ in the event that an indemnity payment occurred they would also require a TB minute.

Let me know if this has helped or if you'd like to discuss.

Hi Chris,

We are working with Energy to process the IESO/OPG indemnity agreements. We were advised by MoF Legal that this should be under S.28 of the FAA. Based on this we will work that through with Energy. The one question that we do have is whether Energy will need a line item for a potential future indemnity payment. E.g., one of those lines with a token $1,000 placeholder. If they do not already have an appropriate line, I presume this would need TBC approval. I'm trying to figure out the answer to this. If you have any insight that would be welcome. In the meantime, fyi, I've attached some questions we have sent to Energy with respect to the draft indemnity agreements.

Hi Harkamal,

Thanks….will get back to you tomorrow on your Qs. Some of the comments we have, I'd characterize, as significant but that's my interpretation.

Hi John,

I believe that the board meets on the 14th. I will double check, but I think the significance is to have the approval so the board can formally approve/confirm the agreement for execution on that date. We would want to execute the IESO and OPG indemnities at the same time.

Since we still need to get the final okay from OPG/IESO on the indemnities with the edits I sent to you, I am wondering whether in the interests of time you can confirm if you have any significant and substantive concerns with the revised indemnity provisions (specifically the clause 2(c) and 8 – as I do not think there were outstanding concerns with the other provisions). Wondering if we can send over the indemnity agreements to IESO and OPG for their final okay while you complete your review).

Please let me know.

Thanks,

Harkamal

Hi Harkamal,

Just to update you, we have reached out to your clients on the request to connect at policy level today. In terms of the questions and comments, we are still working to pull together a list. Hopefully soon and we hope to share it with you and clients together.

I have a question regarding your requested timeline of June 13. I know there was a mention of board meetings scheduled but what are the factors driving the timeline? Is the timeline the same for both OPG and IESO?

Thanks,

John

Hi Toby, Ronald and John,

I understand that, Ronald and John, you were looking for the indemnity agreements and s.28 business case and exhibit A. I've attached those here for your review.

Please note that the indemnity agreements are pending OPG and IESO final confirmation. I was hoping to send the edits in the attached back to them once MOF had confirmed they have no further issues with provisions 2(c) and 8 in the attached agreements. These edits are based on ongoing discussions with OPG. The IESO indemnity has been revised to reflect the language of the OPG indemnity. Could you please let me know at your earliest whether there are any outstanding issues with the indemnities on your end so that I can send these back to OPG and IESO for their final review and confirmation? We will need their approval of the form of the agreements before we submit for s.28 approval.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Thanks,

Harkamal

Subject: Outstanding Business Issues Ontario Fair Hydro Plan

Fyi – here is a document that we have pulled together for Thursday's discussion. I think Kaitlin has also shared with colleagues at OFA for review. I shared with John at OPG and he asked that we include a few bullets on the sub debt term sheet in development between OPG and OFA. We plan to add that in.

Outstanding Business Issues – Ontario Fair Hydro Plan Briefing Note

PURPOSE
Provide an overview of a few of the key remaining outstanding business issues that OPG and the Province are working through

BUSINESS ISSUES

1. Service and Performance Guarantees
   - As part of the OFHP, the IESO will create and sell a regulatory asset to the OPG financing entity
   - In order to provide assurances to those with claims against the Financing Entity (eg. Holders of debt), and support credit ratings, the Province is providing both a Service Guarantee and a Performance Guarantee to ensure that the obligations of the IESO are carried out including obligations related to collecting and remitting clean energy adjustments.
   - Next Steps:
     - OPG and OFA and working towards the development of a term sheet
     - Timing: Guarantees are required to support rating agency review which is expected by the end of July

2. Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILs) Exemption
   - The Province would like to minimize to the extent possible , the PILs payable by the OPG financing vehicle, as those costs will be recovered from ratepayers
   - The Province is considering regulation changes to exempt the income arising as a consequence of the Fair Hydro Plan from PILs
   - As part of the OFHP, the financing entity will raise debt and acquire "investment assets" from the IESO. Given the unique nature of the investment assets, there are no specific rules which govern the manner which investment assets should be treated for tax purposes, and further analysis is required to ensure the cost of the investment assets are appropriately recognized as a deduction or offset in computing the income of the financing entity
   - Next Steps:
     - The Ministries of Finance, OFA and OPG are working together to determine required regulation changes
     - Timing: [TBD]

3. Equity Injection Process
   - OPG will require equity injections on a monthly basis in order to maintain its capital structure, and will require flexibility in order to issue shares as needed by the Province

- The Ministry of Energy received appropriation for $1.1B through PRRT to support equity injections for the 2017-18 period, and will continue to provide multi-year forecasts each year through PRRT
- Next Steps:
    - The Ministry of Energy, OFA and OPG are working through the short term mechanics of this process which will ultimately feed into a Master Subscription Agreement. A draft term sheet is underway.
    - Timing: OPG will require the ability to issue equity in July, so mechanics and agreements should be finalized in June

4. Management Fees

- OPG will be providing all required services to the Trust as part of the OFHP, including planning, strategy, financing, deal execution etc.
- The legislation allows OPG to establish and charge a management fee for those services in accordance with the regulations which are currently in development
- OPG and OEB are currently working together on a management fee structure that balances the interests of minimizing costs and satisfying accounting consolidation requirements
- There are two components to the model proposed by OPG:
    - Cost recovery: the structure will also allow for recovery of costs, subject to OEB's prudence review. OEB and OPG are in discussions in order to develop a model that is consistent with OEB's processes.
    - Performance management fee: OPG has the ability to over-earn or lose depending on its cost of funds for sr. debt relative to a benchmark. Any savings / costs would be shared equally between ratepayers and OPG to +/-$1M. Above or below $1M, all savings / costs flow to ratepayers.
- Next Steps:
    - OPG and OEB will bring forward a recommended framework for developing management fees
    - Timing: For incorporation into regulations being brought forward in June

Subject: Policy question re OFHP Credit Facility Agreement
Importance: High

Hi Bruno and John,

I have some additional information pertaining to the structure of the OFA loan to IESO re: OFHP. While this information adds context, it doesn't address the policy question of whether an unsecured loan is appropriate (based on the extent of the insolvency risk) for this regulatory asset.

The current draft FHP Credit Facility Agreement is consistent with the OFA Lending Policy (last revised and approved April 16, 2010 – status TBC), which provides that except where otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board or Cabinet, the OFA will generally lend on an unsecured basis (apart from the intercept provision) in respect of loans made by the OFA to public bodies (IESO is a public body for the purposes of CIPA). As such, the structure of this loan is consistent with the Policy (subject to my note below re: intercept provision). In my review of the supporting policy documentation, including the LRC minute, I didn't see any reference to a secured lending structure and I don't believe that there is any direction requiring this to be a secured loan. That being said, I query whether OFA CEFD staff are comfortable with this approach (see below).

In terms of the intercept provisions, which are required pursuant to s. 23 of CIPA, I have asked Toby from MOF Legal if they are aware of any agreement between the Ministry of Energy and the IESO agreeing that the Minister of Finance is entitled to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the IESO amounts equal to any amounts that the IESO fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under this loan agreement (as required by CIPA)? Are you aware of any such agreement? However, even if there were such an agreement in place, it is unclear to whether adding intercept provisions to the credit facility agreement, will provide further comfort. I plan to discuss this matter further with MOF Legal.

Based on the foregoing (and pending any additional information that Toby may obtain from his discussions with the Ministry of Energy), I defer the following question to CEFD staff:

> Are you comfortable with the current structure of this loan as an unsecured loan (and the risk that this may entail)? This decision ultimately needs to be made by business/policy people.
> - If yes, the next draft of the agreement will be available in the next day or so to send to IESO for review. I will work with MOF Legal to draft/leverage intercept provisions to mitigate this risk (as far as possible, based on the foregoing). We are also working on the permitted liens, pari passu and negative pledge provisions of the draft agreement, as previously discussed.
> - If no, additional Ministerial/TB direction, and a new legal agreement (likely with the assistance of external legal counsel) will be required. This will take additional time.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you would like to discuss further.

Thank you,

Lisa

Hi Ron, John

I met with OFA Legal and Documentation on these ongoing discussions regarding the IESO/OFA credit facility. At this point in order to move this forward, a directive is required from the Minister exempting the intercept provision with respect to the $2B facility. This is because the OFA lending policy requires that unsecured loans have an intercept provision, which allows the Minister to deduct from a public bodies appropriation owing amounts. There is no appropriation for IESO, so this provision, is not required. They are looking to EFB to draft the directive and supporting briefing note. We are a bit short on resources, but I can assign someone to this next week, and I'm sure we can get input from both documentation and OFA Legal on this.

The Minister is away until September. Documentation will communicate with IESO on timing and process issues. Until September IESO will use the $975M facility. It is expected that by September there will be another draw taking IESO draw from $250M to $503M. There will need to be a process to move the draw from one facility to another. I don't think we are involved in that.

Bruno

Hi Ken,

Thanks for clarifying the approach on this matter.

Based on this, we will not be seeking a security interest in the Regulatory Asset and will be seeking a directive ASAP for an exemption from inclusion of the intercept provision in the $2B FHP facility. We will inform IESO that current $975 million facility will be used for funding draws until such time as we are able execute the new $2B FHP facility.

Thanks,

Hi Sarah

Thanks for clear detailed email with good questions, however, instead of responding to each of the questions, I am going back to my earlier premise that none of the loans currently on the OFA loan book have any kind of security attached to them. A good example is the current line of credit extended to the IESO for $975 million. Given this I am very reluctant to impose a security requirement the proposed $2 billion facility to the IESO from the Province.

I understand that the security requirement which is part of the OFA lending policy can waived with ministerial approval, I suggest that it be obtained as soon as possible. If there are delays in obtaining this approval, especially since the minister will be on vacation from the end of this week onwards, I also suggest, if possible the previous facility of $975 million continue until the new facility is in place. This will allow IESO to fund any regulatory assets created in the intervening period.

I have discussed my proposed approach with Gadi, who is supportive.

Thanks

Subject: RE: Policy questions re OFHP Credit Facility Agreement

Hi Ken,

Yesterday we held an internal meeting to discuss issues identified by Lisa and Toby regarding inclusion of an intercept provision in the new $2B FHP Credit Facility, as well the factors that the OFA needs to consider on whether or not to seek a security interest in the Regulatory Asset. We will need to obtain further information from IESO to inform the OFA's final determination on these matters, and also require your input on certain items below.

Security Interest - Background

In reference to Bruno's comments and your comments below, if the OFA were to take a security interest in the Regulatory Asset, any security interest would only be applicable while the IESO was the holder of the asset, and only while it is being held by the IESO with money borrowed from the OFA.

The steps of the transaction would be:

1 – The IESO makes payments to electricity producers at the contracted rate, but charges consumers a rate that is set by the FHP, which leaves a shortfall that must be made up;
2 – The IESO borrows money from the OFA to finance the shortfall – it is at this stage that the OFA would consider taking a security interest in the asset, up to the amount that the OFA lends to the IESO;
3 – The IESO bundles the right to charge consumers for the shortfall in the future through the GA into the Regulatory Asset, which is sold to the OPG SPV, which sale can be of the asset free and clear of any security interest;
4 – The IESO repays the OFA for the loan.

Steps 3 and 4 can happen simultaneously. If it is deemed to be something that the OFA would like to do, the security interest would only apply while the IESO holds the assets that it creates using the OFA loan to finance the purchase of electricity that it does not charge for. Once the asset is sold to the OPG SPV, the loan can be repaid and the security interest that the OFA had in the asset can be discharged.

Intercept Provision - Background

Regarding the inclusion of the intercept provision, the OFA Lending Policy (attached, see p. 4 "Security" section), stipulates the OFA must include an intercept provision, unless the OFA either receives an exemption from the OFA Board OR receives direction from the Minister, Cabinet or Treasury Board.

The intercept provision provides that in the event of non-payment by IESO to the OFA under the Credit Facility, the Minister may take funds appropriated by the Legislature for IESO, and may instead use the funds to repay the OFA (in the amount that IESO has defaulted under the facility).

Question for Ken: Are you aware of how we might determine if the Legislature has appropriated funds for IESO? If the amounts are minimal, there would seem token benefit to include the intercept provision in the new FHP credit facility agreement

Draft E-mail to IESO

We would like to ensure that we obtain from IESO all the information that would be required to make a risk assessment as to whether an intercept provision and/or a security interest by the OFA in the Regulatory Asset would be required.

Request for Ken: We are drafting an e-mail to send to IESO today (below) to request information that is pertinent for an analysis regarding these matters. We would appreciate if you could please review the draft and amend it to include all key questions that would be required to make a risk assessment.

> "Dear Anthony,
> My apologies for the delay in providing the next turn of the FHP Credit Facility Agreement. We became aware of a potential requirement under the OFA's lending policy which needs to be considered internally for inclusion in the agreement, for which we require additional information. Would you kindly provide answers to the following questions?
> - Does IESO have other financial obligations (such as but not limited to swap agreements, other financial obligations etc.) that could become due and adversely impact IESO's ability to pay its debts when they become due?
> - Does IESO have any other financial obligations or security interests that could attach to the Regulator Asset/Special Purpose Vehicle?
> - [Include additional questions]
> I also want to make you aware that due to the internal assessment that must be made in respect of the OFA's lending policy, we will likely not be able to execute the new FHP facility prior to IESO's next funding request (for which IESO will be providing notice on August 17th, for funding on August 21st). Accordingly, the August FHP draw will be made under the existing $975 million credit facility. At the time we execute the new $2B facility, we would be able to transfer (by incorporating into the agreements the required provisions or by another agreed mechanism) any amount of loans exceeding $475 million (being the reduced facility limit under the draft amending agreement) under the existing facility to the new facility.
> Best regards,"

In reference to the last sentence above in the draft e-mail to IESO, the intended financing structure for IESO credit facilities is to (i) execute a new $2B FHP facility and (ii) simultaneously reduce the existing $975 million facility by $500 million to $475 million. This would create a total aggregated limit of $2.475 billion. Ideally these 2 agreements would have been executed simultaneously prior to the August draw from IESO (since IESO's August draw will likely bring the balance of the existing credit facility to approx. $500M, exceeding the intended revised limit of $475 million).

Question for Ken: When we do execute both agreements, are there any obstacles from an operational perspective (settlement, cash, accounting, risk) with transferring any 'excess loan amount' from the existing credit facility to the new FHP credit facility? We would be looking to re-allocate certain loans from the existing facility to the new facility, without any cash flow impact. From a legal perspective we expect this should be fine, as we can work out the legal particulars with IESO.

General Note re: Timing Impact of Intercept Provision

Regardless of whether the OFA decides to include or exclude the intercept provision, the execution of the FHP facility will take longer than expected, likely taking an additional number of weeks.

If the decision is made not to include the intercept provision, a directive will need to be obtained from the Minister to this effect, potentially taking a few weeks.

If it is a determined an intercept provision is required, then this will likely even take longer than getting a directive from the Minister. In this case, the OFA would need to go back to the Ministry of Energy to effect the following: (I)Ministry of Energy will need to agree with IESO on acceptance of the inclusion of intercept provision in the FHP credit facility agreement and (ii) the OFA and Ministry of Energy will require an MOU whereby the parties agree on the inclusion of a the intercept provision in the FHP credit facility agreement.

Thanks
Sarah

Totally agree with Bruno, the province should not be taking a security intent in the reg asset, that would make the sale to the SPV or trust rather difficult.

It would also create issues in terms of the SPV's ability to obtain an appropriate credit rating as well as issue debt in the capital markets.

Hi Sarah

Apologies for delay. I perceive differing levels of comfort with the issue of security so I'm OK with discussing the questions raised this afternoon. I am concerned whether we have people on the call that can answer all the questions.

But I have a basic question with respect to the issue of the Province taking a security interest in the asset and differences with this loan from others. Under the OFHP, the sale of the asset ultimately allows for payments to electricity generators. If the Province has a security interest in the asset, can we envisage a potential situation wherein the IESO would be repaying the OFA loan rather than paying generators, which would be problematic for OFHP?

I had discussed with Ron. In regard to Toby's last question, Ron was wondering if there might be a provision on use of proceeds from IESO's sale of the regulatory asset.
Ron had also asked whether OPCD had opined on any accounting issues, and whether OIC or Minister's directive gave any particular direction on this issue. In regard to the latter, I have checked. Minister's directive and OIC were fairly high level noting specific terms and conditions to be set out in the Agreement.

Thank you Sarah. I should add that under the OFA Lending Policy, the intercept provision (and accompanying MOU, etc.) must be included in OFA loan agreements except where otherwise directed by the Minister of Finance, Treasury Board, or Cabinet. As such, if it is determined that the intercept provisions are not required/relevant in this case, Ministerial direction will be required. We can discuss further this afternoon.

Hello Bruno and John,

In advance of our internal call this afternoon, Lisa and Toby have prepared the following e-mail below to consider whether the OFA should consider taking a security interest in the Regulatory Asset as security for $2B credit facility, as well as the inclusion of the intercept provision. Ken Kandeepan expressed the following view yesterday:

> "…[the $2B Facility] is unsecured but so is every loan issued by the OFA to a public body so not sure why the risk associated with this loan is greater or for that matter lower than the loans currently in the OFA's loan book.
> As such, this should be treated exactly like all the other loans. Note that the IESO is fully consolidated with that of the Province so loans issued by the OFA to IESO will be a wash upon consolidation."

In light of this, could you please advise if there are there any additional considerations regarding the FHP structure that would could necessitate the inclusion of an intercept provision in the $2B facility and/or the OFA taking a security interest in the Regulatory Asset?

I am including Ken and Mike Manning in this e-mail, should they have any additional input or insight on this matter.

Thank you,
Sarah

Subject: Policy questions re OFHP Credit Facility Agreement
Importance: High

Hi Sarah H. and Will,

Based on the e-mails to date, I understand that OFA staff held a conference call yesterday and based the OFA Lending Policy and past practices, may have concluded that it is appropriate for the loan to the IESO in relation to the OFHP to be unsecured, as per other OFA loans to public bodies. However, as neither Toby (from MOF Legal) nor I were part of the aforementioned call, we wanted to clarify that this loan is NOT necessarily the same as other OFA unsecured loans to public bodies, and as such, the protection provided by the "intercept" provisions of the standard OFA loan agreements have limited application in this particular case (which is likely the reason why these provisions were not included in the original drafts). Our understanding is that, although the intercept provisions are intended to allow the Minister of Finance to deduct from money appropriated by the Legislature for payment to the Borrower amounts equal to any amounts that a Borrower fails to pay to the OFA on account of indebtedness under the loan agreement, in the case of the IESO as Borrower, these amounts are likely to be minimal.

Before proceeding, we would like to ensure that the nature of the loan, the impact of intercept provisions, and the insolvency and operational risks, have all been considered. Toby has succinctly summarized the questions which still need to be addressed during our call this afternoon in the e-mail which I have forwarded below.

Subject: RE: Policy question re OFHP Credit Facility Agreement

Lisa,

I have attempted to summarize my questions/issues in the below. Let me know if you have anything to add or have any edits.

The concerns I have with the IESO loan, and that should be considered are related to what could happen to the Regulatory Asset (the "Asset") if there are any credit or liquidity issues at the IESO. Because the Asset is something that it is possible to take security in, and that is an intangible that may be subject to a floating charge (ie, as a result of a GSA or from a financing agreement) I thought it would be prudent to consider whether the OFA should take a security interest in the Asset as security for the loan.

I am not familiar with the types of financial arrangements or other obligations that the IESO may be a party to, either as a result of its market operations or otherwise, but it may be possible that the IESO has entered into such arrangements, such as swaps or other derivatives agreements, loans or other financing arrangements for which security could be given.

I am not aware of what financial guarantees or other arrangements may be in place such that the Province may have guaranteed the IESO's obligations, but I don't believe that there are any. My understanding is that the IESO is consolidated with the Province's books, but that the IESO is not a crown agent, and the Province is not liable for the IESO's obligations to third parties. However, I am not sure about the underlying facts without more input from ENERGY and the IESO.

In light of these questions it may be worthwhile to consider some related issues:

- How does the proposed IESO loan compare to other OFA loans made to public bodies, such that it is appropriate to use the same requirements?
    - Size of loan – it is my understanding that there are not many loans that approach the size of the $2 billion loan that is proposed to the IESO.
    - Are the obligations of the IESO the obligations of the Province, and how does this compare to other public body loans?
    - What other financial obligations could the IESO have (such as swap agreements, other financial obligations) that could become due or create credit risk?
    - If in many public body loans, there is an intercept and an MOU with the appropriate ministry to create some security, does that make sense in this context? Are there significant transfers to the IESO?
    - Note that the OFA loan to the ROM was secured by pledges and an intercept, and that other Provincial loans to public bodies or other groups may be secured.
- Does the Province/OFA understand the financial obligations of the IESO such that it is confident that no other security interest could attach to the Asset?
- Given that the debt is specifically for the purpose of creating the Asset which will be "warehoused" at the IESO, once the Asset is sold to the financing entity, how will the Province ensure that the proceeds can only be used to repay the loan?

Hi Ken,

Thanks for clarifying the approach on this matter.

Based on this, we will not be seeking a security interest in the Regulatory Asset and will be seeking a directive ASAP for an exemption from inclusion of the intercept provision in the $2B FHP facility. We will inform IESO that current $975 million facility will be used for funding draws until such time as we are able execute the new $2B FHP facility.

Thanks,
Sarah

Hi Sarah

Thanks for clear detailed email with good questions, however, instead of responding to each of the questions, I am going back to my earlier premise that none of the loans currently on the OFA loan book have any kind of security attached to them. A good example is the current line of credit extended to the IESO for $975 million. Given this I am very reluctant to impose a security requirement the proposed $2 billion facility to the IESO from the Province.

I understand that the security requirement which is part of the OFA lending policy can waived with ministerial approval, I suggest that it be obtained as soon as possible. If there are delays in obtaining this approval, especially since the minister will be on vacation from the end of this week onwards, I also suggest, if possible the previous facility of $975 million continue until the new facility is in place. This will allow IESO to fund any regulatory assets created in the intervening period.

I have discussed my proposed approach with Gadi, who is supportive.

Thanks

Ken k

Subject: RE: Policy questions re OFHP Credit Facility Agreement

Hi Ken,

Yesterday we held an internal meeting to discuss issues identified by Lisa and Toby regarding inclusion of an intercept provision in the new $2B FHP Credit Facility, as well the factors that the OFA needs to consider on whether or not to seek a security interest in the Regulatory Asset. We will need to obtain further information from IESO to inform the OFA's final determination on these matters, and also require your input on certain items below.

Security Interest - Background

In reference to Bruno's comments and your comments below, if the OFA were to take a security interest in the Regulatory Asset, any security interest would only be applicable while the IESO was the holder of the asset, and only while it is being held by the IESO with money borrowed from the OFA.

> The steps of the transaction would be:
> 1 – The IESO makes payments to electricity producers at the contracted rate, but charges consumers a rate that is set by the FHP, which leaves a shortfall that must be made up;
> 2 – The IESO borrows money from the OFA to finance the shortfall – it is at this stage that the OFA would consider taking a security interest in the asset, up to the amount that the OFA lends to the IESO;

3 – The IESO bundles the right to charge consumers for the shortfall in the future through the GA into the Regulatory Asset, which is sold to the OPG SPV, which sale can be of the asset free and clear of any security interest;
4 – The IESO repays the OFA for the loan.

Steps 3 and 4 can happen simultaneously. If it is deemed to be something that the OFA would like to do, the security interest would only apply while the IESO holds the assets that it creates using the OFA loan to finance the purchase of electricity that it does not charge for. Once the asset is sold to the OPG SPV, the loan can be repaid and the security interest that the OFA had in the asset can be discharged.

Intercept Provision - Background

Regarding the inclusion of the intercept provision, the OFA Lending Policy (attached, see p. 4 "Security" section), stipulates the OFA must include an intercept provision, unless the OFA either receives an exemption from the OFA Board OR receives direction from the Minister, Cabinet or Treasury Board.

The intercept provision provides that in the event of non-payment by IESO to the OFA under the Credit Facility, the Minister may take funds appropriated by the Legislature for IESO, and may instead use the funds to repay the OFA (in the amount that IESO has defaulted under the facility).

Question for Ken: Are you aware of how we might determine if the Legislature has appropriated funds for IESO? If the amounts are minimal, there would seem token benefit to include the intercept provision in the new FHP credit facility agreement

We would like to ensure that we obtain from IESO all the information that would be required to make a risk assessment as to whether an intercept provision and/or a security interest by the OFA in the Regulatory Asset would be required.

Request for Ken: We are drafting an e-mail to send to IESO today (below) to request information that is pertinent for an analysis regarding these matters. We would appreciate if you could please review the draft and amend it to include all key questions that would be required to make a risk assessment.

"Dear Anthony,

My apologies for the delay in providing the next turn of the FHP Credit Facility Agreement. We became aware of a potential requirement under the OFA's lending policy which needs to be considered internally for inclusion in the agreement, for which we require additional information. Would you kindly provide answers to the following questions?

- Does IESO have other financial obligations (such as but not limited to swap agreements, other financial obligations etc.) that could become due and adversely impact IESO's ability to pay its debts when they become due?
- Does IESO have any other financial obligations or security interests that could attach to the Regulator Asset/Special Purpose Vehicle?
- [Include additional questions]

I also want to make you aware that due to the internal assessment that must be made in respect of the OFA's lending policy, we will likely not be able to execute the new FHP facility prior to IESO's next funding request (for which IESO will be providing notice on August 17th, for funding on August 21st). Accordingly, the August FHP draw will be made under the existing $975 million credit facility. At the time we execute the new $2B facility, we would be able to transfer (by incorporating into the agreements the required provisions or by another agreed mechanism) any amount of loans exceeding $475 million (being the reduced facility limit under the draft amending agreement) under the existing facility to the new facility.

Best regards,"

In reference to the last sentence above in the draft e-mail to IESO, the intended financing structure for IESO credit facilities is to (i) execute a new $2B FHP facility and (ii) simultaneously reduce the existing $975 million facility by $500 million to $475 million. This would create a total aggregated limit of $2.475 billion. Ideally these 2 agreements would have been executed simultaneously prior to the August draw from IESO (since IESO's August draw will likely bring the balance of the existing credit facility to approx. $500M, exceeding the intended revised limit of $475 million).

Question for Ken: When we do execute both agreements, are there any obstacles from an operational perspective (settlement, cash, accounting, risk) with transferring any 'excess loan amount' from the existing credit facility to the new FHP credit facility? We would be looking to re-allocate certain loans from the existing facility to the new facility, without any cash flow impact. From a legal perspective we expect this should be fine, as we can work out the legal particulars with IESO.

General Note re: Timing Impact of Intercept Provision

Regardless of whether the OFA decides to include or exclude the intercept provision, the execution of the FHP facility will take longer than expected, likely taking an additional number of weeks.

If the decision is made not to include the intercept provision, a directive will need to be obtained from the Minister to this effect, potentially taking a few weeks.

If it is a determined an intercept provision is required, then this will likely even take longer than getting a directive from the Minister. In this case, the OFA would need to go back to the Ministry of Energy to effect the following: (I)Ministry of Energy will need to agree with IESO on acceptance of the inclusion of intercept provision in the FHP credit facility agreement and (ii) the OFA and Ministry of Energy will require an MOU whereby the parties agree on the inclusion of a the intercept provision in the FHP credit facility agreement.

Thanks
Sarah

Totally agree with Bruno, the province should not be taking a security intent in the reg asset, that would make the sale to the SPV or trust rather difficult.

It would also create issues in terms of the SPV's ability to obtain an appropriate credit rating as well as issue debt in the capital markets.

Thanks

Under the OFHP, the sale of the asset ultimately allows for payments to electricity generators. If the Province has a security interest in the asset, can we envisage a potential situation wherein the IESO would be repaying the OFA loan rather than paying generators, which would be problematic for OFHP?
