Hi,

Attached is the updated placemat on the candidates, using the 120 that have been nominated. Nominations close on Thursday so we'll see if they get to 124 by then. If you've noticed anything worth flagging on the candidates themselves for your areas, can you include that in your email tomorrow?

Also attached is my first cut at trying to bundle commitments. I based it on the same way the PC team was doing theirs – trying to theme the commitments by policy or expense and then sectors. On the sheet called “commitments” that is pulled from the tracker so has the 328, I then added the columns at the end and tried to say whether it was a policy item or an expense and then what general sector/area. Using that, you can then create a new table that pulls it together (which is the first sheet called “bundles”).

Could you take a look and let me know if you think this captures those commitments relatively well? Of note, I have flagged for the tracking team in CO that they are missing in the tracker those commitments the Liberals included in their northern platform so that would add another “northern” section I think.

Comments welcome and don't hold back!

Thanks!
martha
