To all, This is the next one in the series about Hydro One and uses the OEB's Yearbook of Distributors posting for the 2016 year. I have done my best to try and analyze some of the Yearbook info comparing it to Hydro One's 2016 financials and guess what---too many twists and turns to get things to balance.

I have done what I can to note some of the differences and to try to get answers from the two parties without success. The answers (when provided) indicate the complexity that the Wynne led government have created in the energy portfolio much like the AG noted they have done with the Fair Hydro Act.

Later today a short article will highlight what last weekend did in respect to producing surplus generation and its related costs. That one should be posted shortly after 3 PM.
