And, why is it important for the OEB to "certify" monthly – this adds to the complexity? The OEB is already setting the RPP every six month and a simple overlay of the new RPP reduction as a rate.

Looking at the OPG's email, note that it is LDCs doing this not ISOs. They would be closer to the meter data and participate classes. I see this separation of knowing the data and being dependent on 70 LDCs as a significant risk to accuracy of the Asset.

Hi Michael,

We are not having Torys on the call. At this stage, we'd like to focus on the business issues first before bringing them in. We will however have our internal counsel (Les) on the call if there are broader legal issues that need to be discussed.

Just to clarify, I assume this is a conference call. If it's not any trouble, would you be able to setup a conference line? If not, we'd be happy to set one up as well.

Attached is a proposed process for funding the GA deferral. It is based on the IESO's monthly process, based on our understanding of it. We are also working on a second option, where the difference would be the OEB would certify the GA deferral as part of their RPP rate update process (not monthly). I will send that out tomorrow.

Thanks,
Matt

Hi Matt,

That works for us, thank you. Would you like us to host? We will include Jim Harbell and Peter Hamilton from Stikeman Elliott.

Who from Torys will be attending?

Regards,

Michael

We think it would be helpful to get together with our respective external counsel to discuss what is being proposed regarding creation of a regulatory asset, sale and securitization.

We have retained Stikeman Elliott and would invite Peter Hamilton, Jim Harbell and Glenn Zacher. From the IESO we would likely include Kim Marshall, Anthony Martinello and Jeannette Briggs.

Can you please let us know if you have availability Tuesday or Wednesday of next week?

Regards,

Michael

Below is information on the 2 precedent transactions we looked at – Duke and Long Island Power. I would suggest starting with the summary note below and then the pre-sale reports from Moody's for these transactions as it captures the important elements of the transaction. Then if you want more detail look at the prospectuses.
