Hi Kim,

I assume this is based on advice from KPMG, do you want to say this in the deck? Do you want to indicate KPMG will be asked to provide an opinion on these accounting considerations? I think I will add this yes

In the last paragraph of the response section of item 1, it is not clear what is needed during the recovery period for there to be a regulatory asset. Does the OEB need a role in defining this? Yes, the third party regulator has to set the rates for that period as well

For item 2, IESO will have a role to play in collecting amounts from ratepayers and will likely be obligated to collect such amounts from consumers. In the first bullet where it indicates IESO must not have obligations, does that mean the IESO cannot have liability for the deferred amount? I might not have said it that way but yes

Also item 2, it says IESO is not to have a future economic benefit. Can KPMG provide some guidance around what is and isn't a future economic benefit? Will ask
