Non-cumulative and rather each # is the estimated annual maximum.

The actual amount each year will depend on a) the interest rate on the bonds, b) bond's duration/term, and c) whether the bonds pay interest in the year (which is normal, although some unique bonds are not paid interest annually).

Regards.

The numbers aren't cumulative right? It is a function of the debt increasing year over year and the interest costs increasing due to the principal amount increasing.

Michael, that's a good note.
Are the numbers in the chart cumulative?

Peter and Kim,

Attached is a draft memo responding to the discussion about the Fair Hydro security at the special board meeting. I know it is a busy day but wanted to provide you an opportunity for review prior to uploading to the audit committee and board materials.

Michael
