May have – Jeanette said she will look into it to make sure that was the case or not, but so much has gone out she just wants to see what is there.

Since it is in her area....I wanted to leave it with them.

Hi Jeannette,

Could you provide Keegan at OPG, the request below for the historical consumption broken down by Class A and Class B. This is a data request for the OFHP assessment by the bankers.

If there is any issues please let me know.

Thanks,

Joyce

Thanks Joyce. Does the IESO have historic actual consumption broken down by Class A and Class B?

Thanks,
Keegan

Hi Keegan,

The data you are looking at are all at the generator level, net of conservation and include Tx and Dx losses so they are all consistent.

Cheers,
Joyce

Thanks Joyce! So if I am looking at forecast consumption from these sources:

- IPSP I - Figure 7 - Annual Energy Demand Net of Reference Conservation
- IPSP II - G-1-2 Att 4 METHODOLOGY AND ASSUMPTIONS: CUSTOMER BILL/RATE IMPACTS - Table 2 - Domestic Load
- LTEP 2013 OPG Banker Request.xls – Consumption Vol tab – Row 5 - Domestic Load

And actual consumption here:

- Cost, Demand & HOEP.xlsx – Annual Dollars tab – Row 21 – Ontario Demand at the Generator (includes embedded and losses)

Am I making an apples to apples comparison?

Thanks for your again for your help.
Keegan

Hi Keegan,

Please find attached the data file you are requesting for Figure 7, from our load forecasting group.

Thanks,
Joyce

Joyce,

Are you able to provide the data behind figure 7 from IPSP I to assist the bankers working on FHP?

Thanks!
Keegan
