WIECan is hosting a Lunch- and Learn on the Fair Hydro Plan on June 8th from 12-2pm at RBC's offices at 155 Wellington near Simcoe and we would absolutely love it if you might consider joining us as a panel member and speaking alongside Lubna Ladak from OPG. We will of course work with you to nail down the details of the presentation, but wanted to first canvass your interest and availability.

As you may be aware, part of WIECan's mission statement is to serve as a forum within the energy sector to acknowledge and highlight achievements of women working in this sector. As a member of the Lunch and Learn subcommittee for the WIECan steering committee, we chose the Fair Hydro Plan as a timely topic of interest for our members and an opportunity to highlight the significant contributions women in the sector have made to work with government and help facilitate the FHP. Most of our current members are women in mid to senior roles in the financial and electricity sectors, and would be both aware of the development of the FHP and interested in better understanding the financial structure of the plan – the latter of which we think you could provide a particularly interesting and insightful perspective.

By way of broader context, we recently hosted a Lunch and Learn on the Electrification of Transportation with panel speakers Cara Clariman of Plug n' Drive and Heather Ferguson of OPG. Our next Lunch and Learn will be in Q3.
