Tim,

This is the full set of communications materials that was shared yesterday evening. This has all changed, but it should give you a sense of what is taking place. I would note that the Minister is likely to do the announcement now, not the premier, so you can disregard that aspect.

Cheers,

Jordan

Good evening,

Please find attached the materials for discussion at tomorrow morning's meeting.

Ministry has asked that we limit circulation to those essential for review and attending the meeting, so looping in Terry and Chuck regarding the communications materials.

I think there may be some benefit to meeting in the morning to discuss these products in advance of the meeting. We may need to consider whether our initial analysis and recommendations have been accurately reflected.

Regards,

-Jordan
