Subject: People are talking

Friend --

These days, whether you're picking up the kids at school, in line at the grocery store or down at the coffee shop - you can't avoid hearing stories about the tough choices people are being forced to make because of hydro bills. People are at their wits end - and no one seems willing to do anything about it.

Until now.

Andrea Horwath's plan to reduce hydro rates by 30% and restore public ownership of Hydro One has struck a chord with people who are struggling to make ends meet. Now it's up to us to make sure we can turn the plan into action:

Friend - will you make a quick donation of $5 or more now to help fix Ontario's broken hydro system once and for all?

We can count on Andrea and our team of exceptional MPPs to keep up the fight in the legislature, pushing the government to do more in the short term to help address hydro rates. But to bring about real, lasting change in our electricity system, we need to change the government itself.

Here's how you can help:

Give $25 >>> (You'll get back $18.75 in tax credits)

Give $50 >>> (You'll get back $37.50 in tax credits)

Give $200 >>> (You'll get back $150.00 in tax credits)

An amount of your choice >>> (use our tax credit calculator)

Say you're ready for a fair hydro system by making a contribution right now to power our election-readiness efforts:

Thanks for your support,
