Good afternoon.

At today's meeting, we agreed to identify those LDCs that would have a total bill on May 1, 2018 that is higher than the respective bill on July 1, 2017 by more than 1.6% (i.e., the increase required for the specified customer's bill). As discussed, because it is more likely that increases greater than inflation would take place as a result of a much broader cost-based application (either cost of service or custom incentive rate-setting), we agreed to provide the list of those LDC impacts. We have also provided the average for all remaining LDCs that were on the more mechanistic IRM (incentive rate-setting mechanism) process. However, there are LDCs on IRM that have increases of more than 1.6% due to requests for such matters as an incremental capital module, or deferral and variance accounts that contain high balances that will be recovered from customers commencing May 1. We will provide you with that list tomorrow morning.

If you have any further questions, please let us know.

Thank you,
Andrew
