Ok... is the idea that we go through our stuff... and as part of that we will end up touching on their stuff... so for example as part of mandate and activities... we would be talking about RRFE and the things that are in the EDA deck

As part of Blue Print... we would be touching on disruption and innovation

As part of Stakeholder innovation we will touch on Consumer Engagement Framework ?

And then we go to their 3 in turn and see if there is anything else they need/ want to discuss at this point?

One thing we should add to agenda as last item is Future meetings oeb and panel

One of their themes is Disruption and Innovation . I thought that was going to be one of the 3 we speak to... and as part of that we can touch on blue print and our panel

We could add innovation panel to the follow up from last meeting and add the blueprint as a topic under that

I thought we said we would talk about innovation? And maybe not specifically relationship with govt... although we did go back and forth ... but I thought we agreed that was important and that's the connect to blue print
