Quiet day. Everybody is working away on FHP and regular work. Mary Anne said the meeting this morning went well.

The only thing to come my way is a request to brief the Minister on April 11 on RPP pilots. Forwarding to Mary Anne and Ceiran.

And just in case you missed Toronto....

Special weather statement in effect for:

City of Toronto

Rain-snow mix changing to rain then winding down Friday night.

Precipitation associated with an approaching weather system is expected to reach the Toronto - Barrie corridor later this afternoon. It will likely begin as some snow mixed with rain, then change over to rain by this evening. Periods of rain will then continue through much of Friday before tapering off Friday night. Total rainfall amounts in the 15 to 25 mm range are possible by Friday night.
