Hi Rose,

Agreed. The list seems to have grown again. Many of the staff at the bottom are involved, but I will discuss with Sylvia and we will pare it down. Thanks.

Hey Kristi. I was just looking at this and the distribution list caught my eye . (I know... your thinking... Really...and I know you have more important stuff to focus on right now. So park this to review at some point or to hand over to Sylvia to review.

I thought at some point we had talked about scaling back who is on these cty meeting distribution lists. (and maybe we have). It should only be those who are involved in oversight or delivery of some kind now that this is not a project but standard business.

I'm not sure that Julie or Brian or Chris or Martine and I'm sure others are needed on the list.

Although perhaps this list is because it's HONI or FHP or some other reason.

Anyway all that to say ... maybe you, Ted and Sylvia can review and scale back as appropriate and establish a standard list that we can sign off as being the required distribution. (obviously can add to it in unusual circ).

Thanks

Ps good luck in Napanee tonite. Sorry I won't be there but I think it's best given the attendee list. Don't be intimidated by appearance of politicians . Remember for them it's all about politics. For us it's about getting factual info out to customers. And you've got your presentation and info down . So stick to the script and you'll be fine.

Subject: Napanee - Pre-meeting overview

Good evening.

Attached is the pre-meeting overview for the OEB Community Meeting tomorrow evening in Napanee.

As in Leamington, the local PC MPP Todd Smith (who is also the energy critic) is planning to make a presentation. Two other consumers, one of whom is a farmer, have also registered to present. Our approach is to ensure consumers have their say first.

We are hoping this meeting goes as well as Leamington did.

Will be sending the overview for Rockland tomorrow morning, and for Owen Sound and Ancaster on Tuesday.

Thank you.
