Dear Mr. Barber,

The legal clinic system in Ontario is important to me and to my community. Please listen to the clinics who are calling on the Standing Committee on Justice Policy to protect this system by improving the text of Bill 161.

As a law student, I have learned how essential legal clinics are for solving access to justice issues in Ontario communities. Do not undermine their ability to do essential work.

Bill 161 must be changed so that the Legal Aid Services Act maintains its identification of legal clinics as the foundation for the provision clinic law services. Legal clinics must have the same Ontario-wide accessibility and clear definition and purpose that they do today. Legal clinics must be governed by the communities they serve and must not be impeded in providing access to justice for low-income and marginalized people.

This requires the following changes to be made to the draft bill:

Reinstate “access to justice” for low-income and disadvantaged communities to the Purpose of the legislation. Community legal clinics must be recognized as the foundation for the provision of clinic law services.

Reinstate obligations to provide legal aid services across Ontario.

Define community legal clinics as:

“community legal clinic” means a community legal organization structured as an independent corporation without share capital:

- (a) whose board of directors are members of the community or communities served, or who have a substantial association or interest in the community or communities served;
- (b) that provides legal aid services for the community it serves on a basis other than fee for service; and,
- (c) that determines the legal needs of the individuals and communities served by the community legal clinic.

Sincerely,
Nathalie Chaar
