Dear Mr. Barber,

The legal clinic system in Ontario is important to me and to my community. Please listen to the clinics who are calling on the Standing Committee on Justice Policy to protect this system by improving the text of Bill 161.

Bill 161 must be changed so that the Legal Aid Services Act maintains its identification of legal clinics as the foundation for the provision clinic law services. Legal clinics must have the same Ontario-wide accessibility and clear definition and purpose that they do today. Legal clinics must be governed by the communities they serve and must not be impeded in providing access to justice for low-income and marginalized people.

Sincerely,
Alex McGillivray

Dear Mr. Barber,

The legal clinic system in Ontario is important to me and to my community. Please listen to the clinics who are calling on the Standing Committee on Justice Policy to protect this system by improving the text of Bill 161.

Bill 161 must be changed so that the Legal Aid Services Act maintains its identification of legal clinics as the foundation for the provision clinic law services. Legal clinics must have the same Ontario-wide accessibility and clear definition and purpose that they do today. Legal clinics must be governed by the communities they serve and must not be impeded in providing access to justice for low-income and marginalized people.

Dear Mr. Barber,

The legal clinic system in Ontario is important to me. One of my friends has worked at a women's legal clinic for a few years; through her, I have learned how important these institutions are. Please listen to them and improve the text of Bill 161.

Bill 161 must be changed so that the Legal Aid Services Act maintains its identification of legal clinics as the foundation for the provision of clinic law services. They must have the same Ontario-wide accessibility and clear definition and purpose that they do today. I know that my friend's clinic has literally saved the lives of some of the women it serves. With our justice system disproportionately favouring the wealthy, it is extremely important that these clinics continue to provide access to justice for low-income and marginalized people.

Sincerely,
Martha Hunter

Would you like to add any other information?

as a student in law this is unacceptable; we need to stop criminalizing poverty. Everyone should have access to these resources and legal aid; I truly believe doing this will benefit the economy and community of Toronto as a whole. An inclusive community where individuals are AWARE and have access to legal help and resources is essential in mobilizing and helping them. Do what's right please, Toronto is watching this there has been an increase in interest online. Do not silence this.
