My name is Li, TingTing. I am a student of Acupuncture in Ontario. I am learning acupuncture in Ontario almost 14 months.

I am very love acupuncture job and Chinese medicine help me to have health of body. I can also help more people in the future. This requires very professional learning. I was so shocked by the news of revoking Traditional Chinese Medicine Act 2006 and moving TCM into public domain. This is a huge threat to public health.

TCM is strictly regulated in China, and the TCM doctors typically go through five years' training. In unskilled hands, acupuncture can cause life-threatening injuries like pneumothorax and even death. The introducing of TCM Act 2006 was definitely on the right track to keep TCM safe and public safe.

I would request that you take a serious consideration and remove section 5 from Bill 88, 2022 for the goodness and wellbeing of all ontarians. Please find attached letter and petition for more detailed expression on this matter.
