Ford says plans to deregulate Chinese herbs in Ontario are intended to address the language barrier

This News headline sums up one of the big question marks around Doug Ford's motives for tacking an initiative to eliminate a Health Profession (and to de-legitimize Herbal Medicine) onto the bottom of a "workers" bill.

In recent years Doug Ford has sided with companies opposing Pharmacare, an initiative that would save Canadians Millions but cost Pharmaceutical Companies.

Now he wants to eliminate a Health Profession that prescribes herbal medicine (rather than pharmaceuticals) and equate that health profession to ear piercers and tattoo artists? While addressing a language barrier issue?

Would you like to add any other information?

Can someone with the power to protect Canadians against injustice (and harmful medical policies) please shine a light on this? Thank you
