Hi Janice,

Please see attached with our most recent changes...

There is one outstanding item...a reference to additional service. I don't know that we are intending additional service at this time or in the immediate future.

Thanks,
Trina

Any word on the products yet? I really need to keep them moving in approvals. Let me know. Thanks.

Hi Janice,

Attached are the versions I have with my various teams for response. The information is coming from a few different sources, so I should have it back to you with everything filled in tomorrow.

Also, we have a draft press release that we'd like to issue related just to the service starting and the free train ride. We'd want to share that in advance of Sunday in the hopes that we can gather more people to the event. The information about the service is already live on our website and in the newspaper ads. Any new information on whether or not we can go public with the free train?

Thanks,
Trina
