Greg. Further to our meeting today, the first attachment is the research work that our summer student conducted on "hours of operation" for similar ARL services, including the Canada Line in Vancouver. The information on Nirit Express is questionable, as the English website was difficult to understand. The pattern appears to be that service starts, on average, at 05:00HRS and terminates at 01:00HRS. There are variances to Off-Peak in some cases.
